OF THE

ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

SEVENTIETH SESSION

THE FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 1, 1999

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and Statutes, the Assembly was called to order by Secretary of State Dean Heller at 12 noon.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Thomas Wright.

In the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, Yahweh, Lord of the desert, Ruler of the pine covered hills, He who blesses the fertile ground. We are here today to begin the business of the people of the State of Nevada. To do this, we will need wisdom, patience, mutual forbearance and good will. Keep our minds on the whole state and not just the part we come from. Help us to overcome the temptation to play power games. We must realize that all our power comes ultimately from You through the people of Nevada. We ask this in Your name. AMEN.

Presentation of Colors by the Clark County Fire Department Honor Guard.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Musical rendition of The National Anthem presented by Mrs. Sheryl Seaman.

Mr. Secretary of State requested Ms. Jacqueline Sneddon to serve as temporary Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Roll called.

Present: Assemblymen Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Brower, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Evans, Freeman, Gibbons, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Assemblyman Perkins nominated Assemblyman Dini for Speaker.

Remarks by Assemblyman Perkins.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Mr. Secretary of State. It is indeed my privilege, and one I consider my greatest honor, to place in the nomination to be Speaker of the Assembly for the 70th Session of the Nevada Legislature, continuing his historic and record-setting eighth occasion as Speaker, a gentleman whom I have had the privilege to serve with for four terms. This eighth occasion continues an accomplishment that shall never be equaled. When you look at the long and distinguished history of this institution, you will find no one who has served with a higher degree of distinction; no one who has represented this body in a finer fashion. He is a man with a wry smile, quick wit, unmatched humility, and undying love for this great state and its people. Mr. Secretary of State, I place in the nomination to be Speaker of the Assembly, my friend, Mr. Speaker, the Honorable Joseph E. Dini, Jr. of Yerington.

Assemblywoman Evans moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Secretary of State declared Assemblyman Dini to be Speaker of the Assembly.

Mr. Secretary of State appointed Assemblymen Perkins and Anderson as a committee to escort the Speaker to the rostrum.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Assemblywoman Chowning moved that Secretary of State Heller be given a unanimous vote of thanks for his services to the Assembly.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Manendo and Cegavske as a committee to escort the Secretary of State to the bar of the Assembly.

The appointed committee escorted Secretary of State Heller to the bar of the Assembly.

Remarks by Mr. Speaker.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

MR. SPEAKER:

Thank you. Welcome class of '99, Nevada State Assembly. What a moment. Think of it—it is opening day at the Legislature—today really happened—you are here. Pinch yourself, enjoy this moment. You Assemblymen and Assemblywomen have worked hard to get here and are joined by your family and friends. You are entitled to enjoy everything about this moment. Congratulations.

As we embark on the path of making Nevada an even better state, remember how you feel this very instant. Stow it away forever. I think one pretty good way of describing this moment can be found in the title of a rock ballad authored a few years ago by songwriter Mary Chapin Carpenter entitled, "I Feel Lucky." Without a doubt, we each have many reasons to feel lucky today. Very possibly one reason which is foremost in your mind is that you are no longer working to get elected, you are elected.

For one, I feel lucky to be an American—lucky to be a Nevadan—lucky to have earned the confidence of my constituents—lucky to be here today. My parents were immigrants to this great country. When I reflect back on my own citizenship, truly I feel lucky to have learned first hand the achievability of reaching the American Dream—so too would you.

It is no small accomplishment that today you begin or continue your journey as a lawmaker of this state. And in part that's because despite whatever measure of luck each of us may have had in getting here, I am reminded of the time tested saying that people tend to make their own luck in the form of hard work, as I'm sure was the case in your election. But that election phase is past and a new chapter is opened with your swearing in.

For as the campaign success you experienced vanishing in the rear view mirror, looming straight ahead is the challenge of Super Highway Two Thousand, a multi-billion dollar budget, countless needs, and limited resources. And whether we are chosen to return here two years from now will depend in good part on how well that challenge is met.

As a small business owner, I view today as the first day on the job under a new work contract each of us has been given by our employer. Our employers are the people of our district and in a larger sense the people of Nevada. And last November third, our employer added a new stipulation for employees—our work must be completed within 120 days. Although that may sound like a long time, I sense you will find it isn't. With the additional challenges Nevada faces, the charge is clear—do more in less time.

On this wonderful, festive day we can easily lose sight of the fact that soon, very soon, you will be sitting in on committee hearing after committee hearing and floor session after floor session, from early morning to late afternoon, and I suspect, fairly soon, evenings and weekends. This house will be meeting and dealing with reams and reams of bills, amendments, and resolutions. And here I'd better advise you, that regardless of how early you start or how late you finish, don't plan on sending me any overtime pay requests because I don't think that ballot question provided for overtime pay. I think it said a 120-day session, but you only get sixty days pay.

On a more serious note, for a moment I would like to share with you a little research I did on us. We are a diverse group. The backgrounds of the 42 people here are really interesting. Collectively, we come from many fields including: small business; ranching; education; computer science; real estate; nursing; investments; construction; nuclear physics; and law enforcement to name a few. That last one may come in handy in the event of any uprisings that might occur in the Assembly. Personally, I am thankful that our members are so diverse. The nearly fifteen hundred bill drafts which have already been requested cover numerous topics.

The pathway to success involves several elements. As you recall from your government classes, there are three branches of government: the Executive Branch, which approves or rejects laws, is headed in Nevada by newly elected Governor Kenny Guinn; the Judicial Branch interprets (and sometimes makes new laws) the legality of laws and is comprised of several new members from the State Supreme Court to district courts and justice courts; and the Legislative Branch, which originates laws, is made up of the State Senate and this Assembly. The approval of both houses is essential to the passage of bills—neither one can do so without the other. And do not forget that. And there is a good deal of law potentially under consideration—in all, there is eighteen thousand-plus pages of Nevada Revised Statutes. Some people say 50 percent of them should be repealed.

For a moment, I would like to talk about this Assembly. Because all my legislative service has been in this house, I have gained a pretty good feel for this half of the Legislature. Some people call this the lower house, but personally I view this Assembly as the "People's House."

There are twice as many assemblymen and assemblywomen as there are senators. Ours really is a melting pot of experience and backgrounds. The state needs that diversity and the very best personal individual attention all 42 of us have to get the job done. In the process of acting on the proposals before us, I expect our deliberations to be thoughtful, careful, and yes, even a little spirited from time to time. In those deliberations, consider the matters before you carefully. Do your homework. Failing to do so leaves you with the choice of sticking you with a bad position on a bill because you did not do your homework or flip-flopping and changing your position because it is not the right position. Neither position will help you at all.

And I encourage you to use all the tools at your disposal. A few sessions back, there was some kind of kidding about teaching veteran lawmakers how to use conventional computers and laptops. Now, I must confess that I am not exactly among the vanguard of technology—I can promise you that. I have been working at home and in hidden places trying to get up to speed with the computer so I can do the budget. I must take lessons from Minority Floor Leader Hettrick.

Shifting gears a little, it has been my experience that on balance there has been a bipartisan cooperation in this chamber on the bills affecting our great state. I would expect that to be the case again in 1999, especially in light of the 120-day limitation on legislative sessions.

That is not to say that there should not be legitimate differences of opinion—there should be. However, I think we can take a lesson from some of our legislative colleagues on the foggy banks of the Potomac as far as how it should not be done. The acrimony at that level should be avoided whenever possible. The people of Nevada deserve better than that from us.

It really should come down to accomplishments for the state. In the past few sessions of this legislature a great deal has been accomplished for Nevada. Those of you who have served here before can be proud of that record. By rolling up your sleeves and getting down to work, in recent years you have helped put this state at the front of the pack in several areas. They include: reducing our welfare rolls; enacting a patient bill of rights; and initiating class size reduction to name just a few. Those of you who are here for the first time in 1999 will also be able to look back two years from now and see a better Nevada for your efforts here today.

The time for resting on laurels is down the road. There will not be much time for that in the next 120 days. The budget shortfall is a grim reminder that Nevada will struggle to keep pace with the demands of our rapidly growing state during the duration of this legislative session. We will need to dedicate ourselves to our work to be sure that our tax dollars are spent wisely and that we cut waste and duplication. At the same time we need to examine how to raise money to address the structural problems now, while our economy is booming and unemployment is down. A lot is at stake here, including the very future of our state economy which, almost without exception, has been so reliable in recent times.

As a grandfather and great-grandfather, I am particularly concerned about our children. As an aside, you would be concerned too if you had the task of chasing a pair of three-year-old twin great-grandkids around the house. Actually, with their dynamics, fear is a more accurate word in our relationship. Seriously, though, the quality of the next generation's future is something we as lawmakers need to consider today. After all, they will be the leaders of this state and nation in the not too distant future.

For one, I believe we must give our schools and our teachers the tools they need to help every child compete in the world they will inherit. We must take steps to ensure that effective student discipline codes exist so our schools are safe. And we need to do all we can to be certain each young person has the opportunity to hold a good job. The Schools to Career program is an excellent way of getting young people into meaningful careers.

On a personal note, I am honored by your confidence in electing me Speaker of the Assembly. I believe we have an excellent leadership team in this house, including Assembly Minority Floor Leader Lynn Hettrick, who shares my belief that we can function in a bipartisan fashion, as does Assembly Majority Floor Leader Rich Perkins. Lynn, Rich, I appreciate your efforts to this end.

I am also appreciative for the efforts of all the other leadership members, including my committee chairmen. I can not say enough about Chief Clerk Jacque Sneddon and her entire staff. They make it possible for all of us to do our jobs. Please join me in giving Jacque and her staff a big hand.

I would like to thank each and every assemblywoman and assemblyman here. I'm impressed with this group. It should be a great team. Savor this moment. Share it with your family and friends. I applaud you and look forward to working with you.

In closing, as I said at the outset, I truly do feel lucky today—lucky to be alive in this country and this state and this time—lucky to be able to share this moment with my family and friends—lucky to be able to serve my state. As the 42 members of this body go about the task of leading the way through the legislative brambles we will face, I would like to leave you with a quote that goes beyond leadership. It is from a French philosopher, Albert Camus, and it was first spoken in this Assembly in 1987 or 1989 by a good friend of mine who is no longer with us, Dr. Marvin Sedway. Camus said, "Don't walk behind me for I may not lead. Do not walk in front of me for I may not follow. Just walk beside me and be my friend." Friends, on this wonderful day, this message of friendship seems appropriate. I look forward to walking side by side with you as we work for a better, brighter Nevada. Thank you so much for reelecting me Speaker.

Mr. Speaker declared that nominations were in order for Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblywoman Buckley nominated Assemblywoman Evans for Speaker pro Tempore.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Buckley.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Assemblywoman Jan Evans has ably represented Assembly District 30 for six sessions and now is with us to represent that district for her seventh. She is thoughtful, articulate, and hard working: on our budget; on education; School to Work; health; to name a few. We are all proud to have her as our colleague. I feel privileged to nominate Assemblywoman Jan Evans to be Speaker Pro Tempore.

Assemblyman Goldwater moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker declared Assemblywoman Jan Evans to be Speaker pro Tempore of the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker declared that nominations were in order for Chief Clerk.

Assemblyman Perkins nominated Ms. Jacqueline Sneddon to be Chief Clerk.

Assemblyman Hettrick moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker declared Ms. Jacqueline Sneddon to be Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

A committee from the Senate composed of Senators Amodei, O'Donnell and Schneider appeared before the bar of the Assembly and announced that the Senate was organized and ready for business.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Giunchigliani, Arberry and Marvel as a committee to inform the Senate that the Assembly was organized and ready for business.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Perkins, Neighbors and Nolan as a committee to inform the Governor that the Assembly was organized and ready for business.

Mr. Speaker announced that if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

CARSON CITY, NEVADA , February 1, 1999

THE HONORABLE SENATOR WILLIAM J. RAGGIO, THE HONORABLE JOSEPH E. DINI, JR., Nevada Legislature, Legislative Building, Carson City, Nevada 89701

DEAR MAJORITY LEADER RAGGIO AND SPEAKER DINI:

Attached herewith is my message to the 70th Session of the Nevada Legislature, as required by Article 5, Section 10, of the Nevada Constitution. As you know, I delivered the message earlier to a gathering of your colleagues and other guests on January 18, 1999, in the Assembly Chambers in Carson City.

Allow me to extend my sincere wishes for a productive legislative session. My staff and I look forward to working with all of you.

Respectfully,
KENNY C. GUINN
Governor of Nevada

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the Governor's State of the State Address of January 18, 1999 be entered in the Journal.

Good evening, Mr. Speaker; Madame Lieutenant Governor; members of the Senate and Assembly; honorable Justices of the Supreme Court; distinguished guests; and my fellow Nevadans.

Thank you to our young friends for that inspirational reading. Thank you also to Assemblyman Wendell Williams for arranging tonight's recognition of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

I think it's appropriate on a day we honor Dr. King to begin with his words. He said: "The time is always right to do what is right."

For Nevada, now is the time to do what's right, by tackling head-on the challenges created by our state's enormous growth. . . .and in some areas, lack of growth.

Let's begin with the budget.

Ladies and Gentlemen, citizens of Nevada—the budget is balanced.

I wish I could say to you tonight that I am proud to present you with a balanced budget. But I can't. Because I'm not proud of what we had to do.

Anyone can balance a budget—you make the cuts, reduce the wish list, and just say no. During long hours over the past few weeks we have made tough, painful choices. But they had to be made.

So, yes, the budget is balanced. That is our responsibility. But I think we also have an obligation to show you how we did it, and why we made the choices we did.

A few days ago, my grandson mentioned to me that I was a lucky man. He said that all I had to do was live one year, and I'd go down in Nevada history as the first Governor of the new millennium.

He's right, of course, from his perspective. But I didn't spend the last 2 and one-half years campaigning just to say that I sat in the Governor's chair on January first of the year 2000. And I didn't do it just to be able to tell you we have a balanced budget

I ran for Governor because I believe in this state and its people, and I believe in working for my family and my community. Nevada is my community.

Fellow Nevadans, the next ten years are not going to be easy. Our federally-mandated social spending is going to reach incredibly high levels at the same time we need new schools and more prison beds. We're growing at a tremendous rate, but our tourist-based industries, which drive our economy, are susceptible to downturns.

I knew things were going to be tight.

But when I began meeting with our Budget Director, Perry Comeaux, to discuss Nevada's financial situation, I was even more concerned. And in December when the Economic Forum made its revenue forecasts, it was clear we needed to find another notch on the state's belt.

In fact, Perry commented that if the news got any worse—he was going to ask for a recount.

Yes, the past few weeks have been difficult, but this experience has shown me the need for fundamental change. In order to effect real change, we must embark on a road seldom traveled. We will have to ask tough questions, make difficult decisions, and rethink all that we know and believe about state government.

Ladies and gentleman, it will not be easy, but let me assure you, I am up to the task. Tonight, to paraphrase Dr. King, is the time to do what is right for Nevada.

TIME FOR CHANGE

The same election in which you elected me your Governor, the voters of Nevada approved a change in the way we do business in this building.

By limiting the legislative session to 120 days, the people of Nevada sent a message to their government—that it is time for change. I take that message to heart, and am prepared to make change a cornerstone of my administration.

A new era is upon us. New limits will govern the work of the Legislature. Mine will be a new administration, bringing with it a new approach to dealing with long-term issues.

We bring new ideas to government. New ideas, but they're founded on plain old common sense.

Common sense in government is simple:

First, respect the people's money—the taxes, fees, and other revenues paid by the hard-working citizens of the state must be treated as what they are - the sweat of their labor.

Second, demand personal integrity and honesty from those around you as you demand it from yourself.

Third, work hard...work very hard. Public service is not, and never should be, a place you go when you want to feel more important than your neighbor. It is definitely not the place to earn more money. And it absolutely should not be the place where you expect to have it easier than those in the private sector.

Public service should always be hard work, given willingly and honestly.

So there you have it—call them the three pillars of the Guinn administration if you like, but to me they are just common sense: Be careful with the money, be honest, and work harder than you've ever worked before.

As we consider the state of our state today, I ask that we keep in mind these simple rules for common sense in government. They have guided my life in the public and private sectors, they have guided my life with family and friends, and they will govern my new administration.

CHANGING THE BUDGET PROCESS

As we resolve to change state government, we must also acknowledge that we are living in changing times. It is up to us, through our actions and through our creativity, to meet these times with steadfast will, to make the decisions that will lead to a more stable and prosperous Nevada—in short, to do what is right…not what is politically correct.

You see, I come from the private sector. I've never run for public office in my life. So I can only give you an outsider's view, and in the last few weeks I have come to many conclusions about government: What it does right, what it does wrong, what it can do better.

In state government, we have some very dedicated people who want very much to serve and protect our citizens. They sit at old desks, on squeaky chairs, work in poorly heated buildings with outdated equipment. But they get the job done.

I believe we make our state employees' work much more difficult by not providing them with adequate resources. We are too eager to add a new program rather than fix an old one, and too quick to add new people instead of paying our existing employees appropriate wages and raises based on performance.

In the private sector, when we see a problem, we fix it. If something is costing us money, we stop it, we fix it, we eliminate it, or we replace it. In state government, we don't have that flexibility.

As the CEO of a corporation, I could authorize funds to buy a new computer or a new boiler. I could change operational processes at any time if I thought that change would improve our bottom line.

In state government we can't do that. Imagine working for a company that can only adopt new ideas and improvements to the system once every two years.

As a businessman, I am not surprised that our state faces these problems when government fails to plan more than 24 months ahead. Blame it on economic ups and downs if you want, but I can tell you any major corporation that cannot plan more than 2 years down the road is destined to fail. We can, and must, do better.

That includes our budgeting process.

Ladies and gentleman of the Legislature, the current budget process must be changed.

Before I was elected, the state budget process was already well underway. And before I arrived in Carson City, the budget director and his staff had reduced agency requests by almost a billion dollars.

This is not a reflection of greedy state agencies. These agencies truly have only one goal: To better serve the public and to request the funds they feel they need to accomplish that goal.

However, that billion dollar difference demonstrates how far apart the budgetary process is from the realities of our revenues.

In preparation for our next budget, to be presented in January of 2001, this administration will engage in the most comprehensive review of state government in our state's history.

I will direct my chief of staff and budget director to conduct a financial and operational review of every state agency, from top to bottom. Every agency, every program, every position, every dollar.

We must ask ourselves: What is the proper role of government? What services must we provide? What's the most efficient way to provide those services? And what's the best way to pay for them?

These are the questions we have to ask—and we will ask—as we complete this review.

This is no small undertaking. It will take us many months. Asking our agencies to examine themselves and justify their existence will be painful. But having just completed this budget process, I know it is necessary.

This year our base budget ate up 95 percent of our total revenues before we had the opportunity to even consider new programs. Essentially, 95 percent of the budget was pre-determined, pre-approved, before we could begin to look at other needs.

That leaves five percent for maintenance and enhancement. Historically, it is this five percent that has been the focus of our budget process. We cannot go on this way.

Through fundamental review of our base budget, through technological advances, through more efficient use of our people, there is a better way to serve the people of Nevada.

What hangs in the balance is the future success of state government and its commitment to our citizens. This is a time for creativity, innovation, and accountability in state government. We must meet today's needs today and plan for tomorrow's needs not tomorrow, but today. We must focus on planning, not on responding. We must evaluate not only where we are, but where we want to be.

To that end, this administration will promote personal responsibility. We will give our cabinet the freedom and flexibility to manage state government as efficiently as possible. But at the same time, I will insist upon accountability at all levels.

When you're a small business, you do everything—you're the shipping department, receiving, sales, and production. But as your business grows, you either work yourself to death, or you hire good people and give them the resources and the authority to do the job.

And in the private sector, the board of directors doesn't micromanage a business the size of the State of Nevada.

I pledge to you that my department heads will work hard and deliver results. They will be accountable to me, and I will be accountable to you.

What I ask in return from this Legislature, our state's board of directors, is the flexibility and authority we need to perform the tasks of the executive branch. In return, I promise you a better managed state government.

At the same time, I am asking every state employee, at every level, to share with me their ideas.

I do not have a monopoly on good ideas, but I recognize one when I see it. You, our state employees, are in the trenches. I am asking for your ideas on how to improve state government. If we try to micromanage every detail of your work, we only stifle your creativity.

But I am also putting those of you who work for the people of Nevada on notice—if you want to be a part of this administration, be careful with the money, continue to be honest, and keep on working hard.

THE BUDGET (FY 99)

Now, ladies and gentlemen, let's discuss the budget. As you know, before we can begin to talk about the next two years, we still have five-and-a-half months of this fiscal year to finish. This is where the painful and difficult decisions began.

Our current revenues are up, but they have not nearly attained the levels our financial experts projected. In order to finish in the black this coming July, we had to make up a $110 million shortfall.

It pains me every time I look at the list we have generated. To me, they are not simply numbers on a page. These programs have faces. They affect people. There is no question in my mind that my actions will have an impact. But the fact is, we had no choice.

These steps had to be taken now so that we can ensure our prosperity in coming years.

Specifically, I have directed state agencies to revert funds from almost 300 work programs totaling $95 million.

I have also directed the Department of Personnel to extend the state hiring freeze, saving an additional $12 million.

Further, I am recommending reversion of two endowments totaling $7.5 million from the National Judicial College and the National College of Juvenile and Family Law and return of a $5 million loan for the V&T Railroad.

Finally, I am ordering reversions from 35 Public Works projects, the most significant being a $9.5 million reversion from the new inpatient mental health facility in Sparks. This project is not being canceled, but delayed. I have included full funding for the facility as a Capital Improvement Project in the coming biennium.

I would like to say to those legislators who worked so hard on the funding of these projects—particularly, Assembly Speaker Joe Dini and Senator Randolph Townsend—that I am truly sorry we had to take this action. But I promise to do my best to see that funding is restored for these projects.

The most important message behind these details, the most lasting message, is something that experienced legislators have already realized. By utilizing reversions from this fiscal year, we will not have the large beginning fund balance that we have enjoyed in previous years—meaning these lean times which are upon us now are ahead of us as well.

THE NEW BUDGET (FY 1999-2001)

Now, I would like to present the new Executive Budget.

Tonight, my budget for Fiscal Years 2000 and 2001 is not only balanced, but it should also serve as a wake-up call for all Nevadans.

Let's get something straight right from the start. Much has been written about the budget situation and impending budget cuts.

Where I come from in the business world, cuts mean you have to make do this year with less money than you had last year. Under that definition, Nevada is experiencing no "cuts." In fact, Nevada is expected to have some $238 million more in the next biennium than it did in the current one.

So it is imperative that all of you understand why, with a new $238 million, we find ourselves in this situation.

Under the current budget process, everything in last year's General Fund budget for on-going programs is included in this year's budget. This is called the base, and for whatever reason—tradition, politics, or simplicity's sake--it is largely untouchable.

Now, certain programs experience caseload growth because of Nevada's increasing population. The element of the budget that addresses growth is called "maintenance." It's what you need to continue the programs that are included in the base.

Nevada law requires us to use the forecasts of the State Economic Forum in crafting the budget. Taking our actual revenues for Fiscal Year 1998 and the forum's forecasts for 1999, 2000, and 2001, we see that in the current biennium we expect to have general fund revenues of $2.885 billion.

For the next biennium, the economic forum has forecast General Fund revenues of 3.123 billion dollars. That leaves us with a new $238 million for the coming biennium.

From this figure, we must first subtract the state's obligation to K through 12 education. Our schools are some of the fastest growing in the nation, and the General Fund's share of that growth is $130 million.

So, $238 million quickly becomes $108 million.

Next, we all know that a good college education is important to succeed. In addition, an educated workforce enables Nevada to attract new, diverse businesses. Therefore, we must dedicate $50 million to the Nevada university system just to keep up with enrollment growth.

One hundred eight million dollars becomes $58 million.

As you can see, education is taken care of—minimally. I pledged over a month ago to keep education whole. These expenditures, however, only cover existing programs such as class-size reduction, special education, and enrollment growth. No new programs. There's not even enough money to cover inflation. But it's the best we could do at this time.

Next, we must ensure public safety. To allow our judges to hand down appropriate sentences, to build a new juvenile facility, to improve our parole-caseload ratios, we need $56 million.

Just to keep up with education and public safety, we are down to less than $2 million.

Two million dollars, and we still need to fund the new veterans' home, make up the shortfall in the state employees health plan, and pay for caseload growth in Medicaid, child and family services, and mental health. Not to mention federal mandates, inflation, or required ending fund balances.

The result is that we're $141 million in the hole.

And as a friend of mine once said, the first rule of the hole is to stop digging.

That is why we stopped spending, made the cuts, reduced the wish list, and just said no. As I said earlier, I'm not proud of what we had to do. But as your Governor, it is my responsibility.

It is also my responsibility to look you in the eye and say: When $238 million in new revenue becomes a $141-million shortfall, we have to change the way we do business.

During my campaign, I promised I would be fiscally responsible and that I would not raise your taxes. I reaffirm that commitment today, and present to you a budget that includes no new taxes.

But ladies and gentleman, let's all understand what we had to do in the past 45 days in order to live within our state's means. Let's understand that it means people, good people, with families to feed and mortgages to pay, will lose their jobs. Let us also understand that this must never happen again.

THE BUDGET CUTS

In the billion dollars we could not afford to spend, or in the $141 million of other reductions, you will find decisions that don't affect you—but they all affect someone. Perhaps your child, perhaps your friend, or your neighbor, but each reduction represents services we can no longer afford to provide.

I ask you to view these reduced services with the same compassion that I do, and to understand what this means to our citizens. Do not think of it as money we saved; but as money we could not afford to spend.

So, in order to balance the Executive Budget, I propose the following:

First, I am ordering a continuation and expansion of the state hiring freeze.

Further, we are eliminating nearly 1000 positions from existing or requested programs.

We will fund university enrollment growth at 2 percent—rather than the 6 percent requested.

We will lower excess Medicaid reserves, and we will reduce the projected scope of Nevada Check Up and the Family-to-Family program to more realistic caseloads.

Does this mean we won't be providing essential services? Absolutely not. No child eligible for Nevada Check Up will be turned down, and no Nevadan in need of Medicaid services will go without; our reserves, though reduced, are adequate to meet our needs.

What we have done is budget as closely as possible to our expected needs.

Some of the changes we made to the budget saved us money in other ways rather than simply cutting spending.

When I make the case for more flexibility in state government, for more creative leadership and new thinking, it may be hard to grasp why this is so important to the administration I plan to run. So let me give you an example of the type of innovation and initiative I am seeking.

Shortly after the election, my transition team and I dove into the budget process. We knew we would have many decisions to make to balance the budget, and we knew we would have to try things that had never been tried before.

We were smart enough to know that we did not have all the answers…That we would have to rely on the people who knew this system better.

Well, before we had the chance to ask, one department head came looking for us. He had an idea he thought would save the state $10 million. His idea would also create a new revenue stream for the state and not cost Nevada residents a single cent.

I would like to ask Mr. Bob Bayer to stand. Bob is the Director of Nevada's Department of Prisons, and he has dedicated many years to public service.

In the budget I am presenting to you this evening you will find his proposal to accelerate completion of the new Cold Creek prison near Indian Springs, move existing prisoners from the Southern Nevada Correctional Center in Jean, and then lease out the Jean facility to other states. This idea not only saves money, it also helps turn a liability into an asset. Thank you, Bob.

I am also proposing another cost-saving idea for Nevada's prison system. It is the natural extension of a program that has already proven its effectiveness and ability to save money while still getting the job done.

I propose to privatize medical services in our entire prison system.

Nevada prison inmates average $3,387 a year in medical costs. That is the eighth highest among prison systems around the nation, and costs us over $30 million a year. Privatizing the entire prison medical care system will save the state $4.5 million over the next two years, while still providing adequate care.

The state can also save money by eliminating duplicate services—for example, the state's Center for Business Advocacy, which duplicates the efforts of the business centers at UNR and UNLV. You will find we have eliminated many duplicate services in this budget.

And we have more ideas—ideas we did not have time to complete before the budget closed, but that we are dedicated to achieving in the coming months.

For example, I will propose consolidating the state's seven payroll systems into one streamlined, efficient payroll system. I will also propose the consolidation of the Department of Public Safety and the Department of Prisons into one manageable Department of Corrections. And I believe it is time to privatize—completely privatize—our state industrial insurance system.

To this point this evening, we have only discussed what we had to do to balance this budget. But balancing the budget was actually the easy part. The more important question is: How can we create a better system of budgeting state revenues?

Let me tell you my plan.

ZERO-BASED BUDGETING AND FUNDAMENTAL REVIEW

As we discussed earlier, one billion dollars has been trimmed from the agency requests for new programs, program enhancements, and ongoing projects. We've streamlined, consolidated, and reallocated. But for all our efforts, we barely scratched the surface of the base budgets that consume over 95 percent of our state revenues.

That is why, over the next two years, I will conduct a fundamental review of all our state agencies. This review will ask these hard questions: What are the essential services that state government must provide? How can we provide those services more efficiently and cost effectively? And how will we ensure a stable source of funding for those services?

And I promise all of you that, by the year 2001, I will deliver to this Legislature the most comprehensive review of state government in our history and a budget that reflects those findings...a zero-based budget.

Fundamental reviews are the first step in the process of zero-based budgeting. Think of it as a system of priorities: Along with each state agency, we will determine our priorities, our minimal level of essential services, and build our budget from there.

You and your family live within your budget—government should be no different. During the next biennium, if we want new programs, we will either learn how to run existing programs more efficiently, eliminate old programs, or simply do without.

I believe in leading by example and practicing what I preach, and I expect no less from those of you in this building.

When I was superintendent at Clark County School District, there were several years in which I cut my own office's budget --one year by nearly ten percent—because I believed money should go to classrooms, not offices. I bring that same philosophy to state government.

As Governor, I will cut my own office budget by at least five percent.

That is not all. I cannot expect administrators and legislators to give up their own proposals for new programs while keeping my own. Thus, I am postponing two campaign proposals that were and are very important to me—education boot camps and expansion of the senior citizen property tax rebate.

I don't intend to give up these ideas; I will instead, in the next months, look for more efficiencies to pay for them. I challenge legislators and administrators to do the same, to fund their own priorities and programs.

So far tonight we have focused on what we cannot do; now let me tell you what we can do, and will do.

ETHICS

It is the goal of this administration to safeguard the public's faith in government, and that will begin at my front door. I demand the highest integrity from myself and from those with whom I work. And I will expect no less from anyone in state government, or from any other elected official in Nevada.

Therefore, I will propose stronger ethics laws that are easy to understand, easy to follow, and tough on those who breach the public trust.

I look forward to working with Senator Ann O'Connell, who has proposed a similar bill, modeled after some of the strongest laws in the country.

Specifically, I propose to require all public officers to sign the code of ethics—to stipulate that they have read it, understand it, and will adhere to it. Ignorance, in the face of the people's trust, cannot be an excuse.

Certain offenses in our ethics code will become felonies, and conviction will result in automatic removal from office.

Our ethics reform must also serve to protect the many good, honest elected officials serving our state. We must require that complaints be adjudicated swiftly and in a reasonable manner to deter those who would abuse the system to harm honest, hard working public servants.

Complaints should be investigated thoroughly, decided in a timely fashion, and announced in plain English.

From start to finish, the work of the ethics commission should take no more than 60 days. I will also seek increased penalties for other ethics violations—fines up to $25,000 for grievous offenses, paid from personal assets, not by campaign contributions or special interests.

I pledge to you that Nevada will have stronger ethics laws—enforced by a dedicated ethics commission.

JUVENILE DETENTION

As I told you, I came to this budget process with less than 60 days to balance and close it. Much of what we did had to happen quickly, but that does not mean I did not have time to set some priorities and make some things happen. Such is the case with the construction of the new juvenile detention facility in Southern Nevada.

Though we needed to postpone education boot camps because of lack of funding, I insisted we find the money to build the new juvenile detention facility, which otherwise would have been cut. We will use this facility to begin a pilot program of rigorous academic education.

In addition, I will work with the Juvenile Justice Commission, law enforcement officials, members of the Legislature, parents, and school districts to establish a system of graduated sanctions and more intermediate level detention facilities.

Many of these ideas were discussed by the interim legislative committee, led by Assemblywoman Jan Evans, which studied juvenile justice in Nevada. I'd like to acknowledge them for all their hard work.

I give you my word that this administration will make every effort to make Nevada a model for juvenile justice.

STATE EMPLOYEE PAY RAISES

In the same breath that I mention our struggle to fit important programs into or out of the budget, I must also admit there were things we just could not make work. Their sheer size made it impossible for us to include them in the budget.

If you haven't already read it in the newspaper, most of you will have read between the lines of my message tonight and know what I must say: There are no raises for state employees in this Governor's budget.

I realize the conflicting message this sends to our employees. I am asking them to work harder and smarter, yet without compensation for their increased productivity.

But while we were able to find smaller amounts of funding for projects like the juvenile detention facility, we were unable to squeeze out the millions of dollars necessary to provide a decent raise for our state workers.

State employee salaries are approximately 17 percent lower than the average salary for comparable positions in Clark and Washoe Counties. As a result, many of our best and brightest leave state service.

My philosophy is this: People who work hard and produce results should be compensated fairly. This May, when the state's economic forecast is revised, if there are adequate funds available I will respectfully ask this body to give our employees a much deserved raise.

SPENDING PRIORITIES

I have compiled a complete list of the Executive Department's priorities for spending should the Economic Forum revise its forecast in May, which is included in my letter transmitting the budget.

The list includes state employee pay raises; expansion of the tax rebate for low income senior citizens; education boot camps; and funding for a Family Commission, which would provide a single source of contact for victims of domestic violence, child abuse, and elder abuse, and those in need of other support services for their families.

I respectfully remind our legislators that I consider these priorities part of my budget. If the Economic Forum revises its forecasts, that money should not be seen as a pot of gold, but rather, as much needed revenues for worthy programs we weren't able to commit to now.

THANKS TO BUDGET OFFICE

I think it appropriate at this point to take a moment to express my gratitude to the men and women in the state budget office. Given all the changes I've made, all the answers I've asked for, and the deadlines we've been working under—I have nothing but the highest respect for our state budget professionals, led by Director Perry Comeaux and Deputy Director Don Hataway.

Perry, Don and the rest of the Budget Division—thank you. You've done a fine job. Please take a much deserved rest until tomorrow morning, when the finance committees start meeting.

GROWTH AND PLANNING

Nevada is one of the fastest growing states in the nation—and has been for many years. I've already talked about the growth in our school enrollment, prison population, and social service caseloads. But that doesn't tell the entire story of the financial impact that growth has on our state.

Let me give you an example. Recently, Clark County voters approved a $3 billion school bond measure. The county will save money and avoid disarray by planning its schoolroom needs for the next decade, rather than asking voters for a new bond issue every couple years.

If our school districts fulfill their obligation to build these schools, the state must meet its obligation to fund their operation. This could mean an increase in the state's obligation of over $400 million per year.

If counties can plan for their future, so must the state. Therefore, before my next State of the State address, I will present this body with a comprehensive plan to address our long-term needs in public school funding.

And we should not overlook another major element of growth—planning for its possible slowdown, as well. Madame Lieutenant Governor, I issue you a friendly but nonetheless serious challenge: As you begin your new job, help us find ways to diversify our economy with the same enthusiasm with which we promote tourism.

And I will commit to you the funds for the most aggressive economic development program in this state's history.

In a larger and more general perspective, Senator Dina Titus put the growth issue on the agenda last session with her "Ring around the Valley" proposal. While I may not agree with her solution, I respect her courage in raising this issue. As she once said—you can kill the messenger this year, but pretty soon there will be just too many messengers.

We have to face this issue.

I cannot talk about growth without recognizing the consensus-building work of Senator Jon Porter and the Southern Nevada Strategic Planning Authority.

For the past 18 months, local elected officials and private sector leaders representing many interests, from development to the environment, have come together to discuss the future of Southern Nevada. This group has spent literally thousands of hours evaluating Clark County's challenges and opportunities.

We at the state level should support and become a part of this unprecedented level of cooperation in every way we can.

In fact, given this spirit of cooperation from our local governments with regard to meeting their own challenges, I will not sign any legislation that alters local or regional government and planning in Clark County unless that legislation has been approved by the Southern Nevada Strategic Planning Authority or Regional Planning Coalition.

YUCCA MOUNTAIN

Let's talk about Yucca Mountain.

For the past 20 years, the U.S. Department of Energy has spent billions of dollars trying to invent science which will make a mountain in our desert suit their needs for storage of the nation's nuclear garbage.

Nevada's right to fair treatment on this issue has been trampled by a disingenuous process that has bowed repeatedly to political and economic pressures from all corners.

It is my intent to join with our Congressional delegation and our State Attorney General to continue Nevada's fight on this issue. We cannot afford to relax for one moment or for one day.

And until such time as the Federal Government sees fit to comply with its own laws, I ask you to approve funding for the Nevada Nuclear Projects Office, so it can continue its oversight of DOE activities at Yucca Mountain.

EDUCATION - THE GUINN PLAN

Many of you know that education is the hallmark of my life. My father was a poor farm worker, who could not read or write, and my mother had only a second grade education. They couldn't give us much, but they worked day and night to make sure that we had the educational opportunities they never had.

As a result, I went on to college, became a teacher, and later the Superintendent of the Clark County School District. Even as recently as a few years ago, I served as interim president of UNLV for one year. In all, I've spent some 40 years either getting an education or helping others to get one.

So it shouldn't come as any surprise that, some weeks ago, when I first mentioned our revenue shortfall, I promised that I would preserve K through 12 funding.

Education is the single largest item in our state budget - more than 55 percent. Some people think we should cut education. I disagree. It's true that education costs money—but so does ignorance. I believe the people of Nevada would rather spend the money now, on our children's education, than spend it later on unemployment, substance abuse counseling, or prison.

So I've made no cuts in K through 12 spending. In fact, this budget represents the highest percentage of education spending in the past 10 years.

I promise Nevada parents and taxpayers, however, that I will see that every dollar spent in education is spent wisely. I am asking the Legislature to pass my education accountability plan to give me that authority.

My education accountability plan means a rededication in our elementary schools to the basics of reading, writing, and arithmetic. We must prepare our children for new expectations and higher standards. Accountability to me goes way beyond dollars. It is measured in results.

Can our children read and write better? Are they more proficient in math? If we are going to spend more money in our schools, I will demand that the answers to these questions are a resounding "yes."

But this isn't new. All of us, parents, taxpayers, and public officials, want to increase standards and see results. But the fact is we cannot raise the bar if we don't teach our children to jump higher. That is why I am dedicating $12 million in this budget to remediation programs for schools that fall behind.

I would like to recognize the work on this issue by those who came before me. Specifically, Governor Bob Miller and Majority Leader Bill Raggio.

Senator, as a former educator, I admire your commitment to Nevada's children, and I look forward to working with you this session to further our mutual goals of raising standards and increasing accountability, and providing our children with a quality education.

CHARTER SCHOOLS

I believe in educational choices. I believe in competition, and I believe in charter schools.

Charter schools, if done right, can provide the creative spark we need to produce innovation in education—ultimately, improvement of education and expansion of choice in schooling.

As you know, Nevada passed a charter school bill last session, with no small amount of effort by Senator Maurice Washington. Last session's bill was a good first step, but I believe we can go further to promote diversity and choice in our public school system.

Among other things, I propose removing the cap on the number of charter schools that may be formed. Further, we must simplify the process to form charter schools.

Senator, I look forward to working with you on this issue.

HIGHER EDUCATION

As important as K through 12 education is, we all know that education doesn't stop in high school.

Over the past two bienniums, Nevada has led the nation in increases in higher education spending. Unfortunately, we cannot continue those rates of increase at our current levels of revenue.

But we have a problem.

Currently, only 40 percent of Nevada's high school students go on to college—compared to a national average of 65 percent. Nevada ranks near the bottom of all fifty states.

What's more, Nevada's dropout rate is over 10 percent annually—once again, at the bottom of the nation.

How then, do we promote higher education, without increasing our general fund expenditures for the university system?

Tonight, I am proposing a bold new program that I believe can provide Nevada children with new hope and an unprecedented opportunity to get a college education.

But first a little background.

No single issue has triggered more arguments or discussions than that of how we intend to use the millions of dollars we expect from the national tobacco settlement. We ourselves agonized over the right thing to do with the incredible opportunity this money presented. The result is the formation of a program that I believe will be as historic as the settlement itself.

But before I announce the program, I would like to acknowledge our Attorney General, Frankie Sue Del Papa, who, along with her staff, worked many long hours to ensure that Nevada got its share. Her efforts made this program possible.

We expect over $48 million in the next fiscal year from this settlement and over $40 million per year for many years to come. It is important to note, however, that these revenues are not guaranteed, and in my opinion it would be foolish to use these funds in our general budget or for ongoing programs.

I believe this money can give us a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to provide Nevada's children with the means to advance their education in a way never thought possible.

It is an idea whose effects transcend party lines, regional differences, and social class. An idea that places at our door, this evening, the chance for all of us to do something truly heroic. To write a great and indelible chapter in the history of our state and in the lives of our children.

So it is with great pride that I propose to you tonight the establishment of the Millennium Scholarship.

These scholarships will allow every Nevada high school graduate, with a B average or better, to get an education at a Nevada university or community college.

We will start with the class of 2000, and we will offer these "Millennium scholarships" in the fall of that year. I believe every Nevada student who studies hard and makes good grades should be able to continue his or her education—regardless of financial status. The Millennium Scholarship will make that possible.

Each scholarship will provide up to $2,500 annually for four years for a university student and $1,250 annually for two years for a community college student.

This program is estimated to cost $7.5 million in the first year and up to $25 million in subsequent years.

Accordingly, I propose that the Legislature dedicate at least one half of the settlement monies to this endeavor. By using only half of the settlement for the Millennium Scholarship we will, in turn, leave millions of dollars for worthy and innovative health care programs to preserve the integrity of the settlement and educate our children on the risks associated with smoking.

Using 50 percent of the settlement money to fund these scholarships, and reverting the unused portion of the initial years to an endowment fund, will enable us to fund these scholarships in perpetuity. Without an increase in taxes.

In the coming days we will describe this program in great detail, so that all Nevada families will understand the great opportunity we have before us. And we look forward to working with this Legislature to ensure a brighter future for Nevada's children by making the Millennium Scholarship a reality.

CLOSE

As a former New York Governor once said, you campaign in poetry; you govern in prose. But I'm a plain man, a businessman, a father, and an educator. I campaigned in prose, and I'll govern in plain speaking.

I'm sure this sometimes makes my staff wince, but I don't know any other way. I'll always be up-front with you, even when it would be easier to resort to rhetoric. And at the end of the next four years, I may not be the most popular Governor in Nevada history. But you can count on me to always do what I think is right. Being Governor is about leadership, not popularity.

During the next four years, as your Governor, I will ask difficult questions, demand straight answers, and be accountable to you, the people of Nevada.

I believe in personal responsibility, equality of opportunity, and individual rights. I believe that government exists to allow each of us to exercise those rights, enjoy that opportunity, and fulfill that responsibility.

I also believe that government should intrude as little as possible in our personal lives, but I recognize that we have a duty to—and, I hope, compassion for—our fellow men and women, senior citizens, and children.

Government belongs at the balancing point between our rights and our responsibilities. And we will only find that place through innovation, compassion, and hard work. The hard work of each and everyone of us—the Governor, the Legislature, state employees, and the citizens of Nevada.

Finally, I would like to thank my wife, Dema, and my family for all of the support you have given me. And to all the people who worked countless hours on my behalf—I say thank you. I say thank you for the opportunity to stand before you this evening and be called your Governor.

Thank you and good night.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Perkins moved that vetoed Assembly Bill Nos. 512 and 596 of the 69th Session be made a Special Order of Business for Thursday, February 4, 1999 at 11:15 a.m.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Price, Giunchigliani, Carpenter, Goldwater, Lambert, Sandoval, Manendo, Arberry, Mortenson, Lee, Segerblom, Evans, Freeman, Bache, Krenzer, Chowning, Nolan, Koivisto, Anderson, Buckley, Ohrenschall, Amodei, Close, Herrera, Parks, Cegavske, Williams, Berman, de Braga, Neighbors, Tiffany, Ernaut and Dini:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 5 of the 69th Session—Proposing to amend the Nevada constitution to provide for limited annual legislative sessions.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section be added to article 4, and sections 2 and 33 of article 4 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read respectively as follows:

Sec. 29A. The Legislature shall adjourn sine die each:

1. Regular session in an:

(a) Odd-numbered year not later than midnight in the Pacific standard time zone 120 calendar days following its commencement. Any legislative action taken in a regular session in an odd-numbered year after midnight in the Pacific standard time zone on the 120th calendar day is void.

(b) Even-numbered year not later than midnight in the Pacific standard time zone 45 calendar days following its commencement. Any legislative action taken in a regular session in an even-numbered year after midnight in the Pacific standard time zone on the 45th calendar day is void.

2. Special session not later than midnight in the Pacific standard time zone 20 calendar days following its commencement. Any legislative action taken in a special session after midnight in the Pacific standard time zone on the 20th calendar day is void.

Sec. 2. [The]

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the sessions of the Legislature shall be [biennial,] annual, and shall commence on the [3rd Monday of January next ensuing the election of members of the Assembly, unless the Governor of the State shall, in the interim, convene the Legislature by proclamation.] first Monday of March.

2. The Governor, by proclamation:

(a) May convene the Legislature for a special session not to exceed 20 calendar days in accordance with section 9 of article 5 of this constitution.

(b) Shall convene the Legislature for a special session not to exceed 20 calendar days not later than 45 calendar days after receipt of a petition by two-thirds of the members elected to each House calling for a special session and setting forth the topics for consideration during the special session. If the Legislature is convened for a special session pursuant to this paragraph, the Governor may add to the list of topics to be considered by the Legislature during that special session.

3. The Governor shall submit:

(a) In odd-numbered years, the proposed executive budget; and

(b) In even-numbered years, any proposed appropriations or proposed revisions to the executive budget, to the Legislature not later than 30 calendar days before the commencement of the regular session.

[Sec:] Sec. 33. The members of the Legislature shall receive for their services, a compensation to be fixed by law and paid out of the public treasury, for not to exceed 60 days during any regular session of the legislature and not to exceed 20 days during any special session ; [convened by the governor;] but no increase of such compensation shall take effect during the term for which the members of either house shall have been elected Provided, that an appropriation may be made for the payment of such actual expenses as members of the Legislature may incur for postage, express charges, newspapers and stationery not exceeding the sum of Sixty dollars for any general or special session to each member; and Furthermore Provided, that the Speaker of the Assembly, and Lieutenant Governor, as President of the Senate, shall each, during the time of their actual attendance as such presiding officers receive an additional allowance of two dollars per diem.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That section 9 of article 5 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

[Sec:] Sec. 9. The Governor may on extraordinary occasions, convene the Legislature by Proclamation for a special session not to exceed 20 calendar days and shall state to both houses when organized, the purpose for which they have been convened, and the Legislature shall transact no legislative business, except that for which they were specially convened, or such other legislative business as the Governor may call to the attention of the Legislature while in Session.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That section 2 of article 19 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1 of article 4 of this constitution, but subject to the limitations of section 6 of this article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes , [and] amendments to statutes and amendments to this constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition shall be in the form required by section 3 of this article and shall be proposed by a number of registered voters equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in not less than 75 percent of the counties in the state, but the total number of registered voters signing the initiative petition shall be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire state at the last preceding general election.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the secretary of state before beginning circulation and not earlier than [January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the legislature is held.] 1 year before the date on which the Legislature to which the petition will be transmitted commences its regular session. After its circulation, it shall be filed with the secretary of state not less than 30 days prior to any regular session of the legislature. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the secretary of state or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The secretary of state shall transmit such petition to the legislature as soon as the legislature convenes and organizes. The petition shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby shall be enacted or rejected by the legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the legislature and approved by the governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, such statute or amendment to a statute shall become law, but shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in section 1 of this article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the secretary of state shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of such statute or amendment to a statute, it shall become law and take effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the supreme court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If the legislature rejects such proposed statute or amendment, the governor may recommend to the legislature and the legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after such different measure has been approved by the governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure shall be submitted by the secretary of state to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters are both approved by a majority of the voters voting on such measures, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes shall thereupon become law.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the constitution, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the secretary of state before beginning circulation and not earlier than September 1 of the year before the year in which the election is to be held. After its circulation it shall be filed with the secretary of state not less than 90 days before any regular general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire state. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the secretary of state or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The secretary of state shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the state, together with any explanatory matter which shall be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on the petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, the secretary of state shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as such question was originally submitted. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, it shall become a part of this constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the supreme court.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That the explanation prepared pursuant to NRS 218.443 for this constitutional amendment must include a statement that, if the qualified electors of this state approve the constitutional amendment proposed by this resolution, legislators would then be entitled to receive, during each regular, annual session, compensation for each calendar day of service up to a maximum of 60 calendar days.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That section 12 of article 17 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be repealed.

PREFILED CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, and Ethics

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 1—Adopting the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly for the 70th session of the Legislature.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly as amended by the 69th session are adopted, with the following changes, as the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly for the 70th session of the Legislature:

~~[COMMITTEES OF]~~ CONFERENCE COMMITTEES

Rule No. 1. ~~[To Be Appointed by One House at Request of the Other.]~~ Procedure Concerning.

In every case of an amendment of a bill, or joint or concurrent resolution, agreed to in one House, dissented from in the other, and not receded from by the one making the amendment, each House shall appoint a committee to confer with a like committee to be appointed by the other; and the committee so appointed shall meet publicly at a convenient hour to be agreed upon by their respective chairmen and announced publicly, and shall confer upon the differences between the two Houses as indicated by the amendments made in one and rejected in the other and report as early as convenient the result of their conference to their respective Houses. The report shall be made available to all members of both Houses. The whole subject matter embraced in the bill or resolution shall be considered by the committee, and it may recommend recession by either House, new amendments, new bills or resolutions, or other changes as it sees fit. New bills or resolutions so reported shall be treated as amendments unless the bills or resolutions are composed entirely of original matter, in which case they shall receive the treatment required in the respective Houses for original bills, or resolutions, as the case may be.

The report of a conference committee may be adopted by acclamation, and such action may be considered equivalent to the adoption of amendments embodied therein. The report is not subject to amendment. If either House refuses to adopt the report, or if the first conference committee has so recommended, a second conference committee may be appointed. No member who served on the first committee may be appointed to the second.

There shall be but two ~~[committees of]~~ conference committees on any bill or resolution. A majority of the members of a ~~[committee of]~~ conference committee from each House must be members who voted for the passage of the bill or resolution.

MESSAGES

Rule No. 2. Procedure Concerning.

Proclamations by the Governor convening the Legislature in extra session shall, by direction of the presiding officer of each House, be read immediately after the convening thereof, filed and entered in full upon the Journal of proceedings.

Whenever a message from the Governor is received, the Sergeant at Arms will announce: "Mr. President, or Mr. Speaker, the Secretary of the Governor is at the bar." The secretary will, upon being recognized by the presiding officer, announce: "Mr. President, or Mr. Speaker, a message from His Excellency, the Governor of Nevada, to the Honorable, the Senate or Assembly," and hand same to the Sergeant at Arms for delivery to the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the Assembly. The presiding officer will direct the biennial message of the Governor to be received and read, and all special messages to be received, read and entered in full upon the Journal of proceedings.

Messages from the Senate to the Assembly shall be delivered by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary, and messages from the Assembly to the Senate shall be delivered by the Chief Clerk or Assistant Chief Clerk . ~~[, who shall be announced by the doorkeeper, enter within the bar, announce and deliver his message.]~~

~~[BILLS]~~ NOTICE OF FINAL ACTION

Rule No. 3. Communications.

Each House shall communicate its final action on any bill or resolution, or matter in which the other may be interested, ~~[in writing, signed by the Secretary or Clerk of the House from which such notice is sent.]~~ by written notice. Each such notice sent by the Senate must be signed by the Secretary of the Senate, or a person designated by the Secretary. Each such notice sent by the Assembly must be signed by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly, or a person designated by the Chief Clerk.

BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

Rule No. 4. Signature.

Each enrolled bill or joint resolution shall be presented to the presiding officers of both Houses for signature. They shall, after an announcement ~~[is made]~~ of their intention to do so ~~[, sign it]~~ is made in open session , sign the bill or joint resolution and their signatures shall be followed by those of the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Rule No. 5. ~~[Reserved.]~~ Joint Sponsorship.

1. A bill or resolution introduced by a standing committee of the Senate or Assembly may, at the direction of the chairman of the committee, set forth the name of a standing committee of the other House as a joint sponsor, if a majority of all members appointed to the committee of the other House votes in favor of becoming a joint sponsor of the bill or resolution. The name of the committee joint sponsor must be set forth on the face of the bill or resolution immediately below the date on which the bill or resolution is introduced.

2. A bill or resolution introduced by one or more legislators elected to one House may, at the direction of the legislator who brings the bill or resolution forward for introduction, set forth the names of one or more legislators who are members elected to the other House and who wish to be primary joint sponsors or non-primary joint sponsors of the bill or resolution. The number of primary joint sponsors must not exceed five per bill or resolution. The names of each primary joint sponsor and non-primary joint sponsor must be set forth on the face of the bill or resolution in the following order immediately below the date on which the bill or resolution is introduced:

(a) The name of each primary joint sponsor, in the order indicated on the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution; and

(b) The name of each non-primary joint sponsor, in alphabetical order.

3. The Legislative Counsel shall not cause to be printed the name of a standing committee as a joint sponsor on the face of a bill or resolution unless the chairman of the committee has signed his name next to the name of the committee on the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution that was submitted to the front desk of the House of origin or the statement required by subsection 5. The Legislative Counsel shall not cause to be printed the name of a legislator as a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor on the face of a bill or resolution unless the legislator has signed the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution that was submitted to the front desk of the House of origin or the statement required by subsection 5.

4. Upon introduction, any bill or resolution that sets forth the names of primary joint sponsors or non-primary joint sponsors, or both, must be numbered in the same numerical sequence as other bills and resolutions of the same House of origin are numbered.

5. Once a bill or resolution has been introduced, a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor may only be added or removed by amendment of the bill or resolution. An amendment which proposes to add or remove a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor must not be considered by the House of origin of the amendment unless a statement requesting the addition or removal is attached to the copy of the amendment submitted to the front desk of the House of origin of the amendment. If the amendment proposes to add or remove a legislator as a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor, the statement must be signed by that legislator. If the amendment proposes to add or remove a standing committee as a joint sponsor, the statement must be signed by the chairman of the committee. A copy of the statement must be transmitted to the Legislative Counsel if the amendment is adopted.

6. An amendment that proposes to add or remove a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor may include additional proposals to change the substantive provisions of the bill or resolution or may be limited only to the proposal to add or remove a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor.

PRINTING

Rule No. 6. Ordering and Distribution.

Each House may order the printing of bills introduced, reports of its own committees, and other matter pertaining to that House only; but no other printing may be ordered except by a concurrent resolution passed by both Houses. Each Senator is entitled to the free distribution of four copies of each bill introduced in each House, and each Assemblyman to such a distribution of two copies. Additional copies of such bills may be distributed at a charge to the person to whom they are addressed. The amount charged for distribution of the additional copies must be determined by the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau to approximate the cost of handling and postage for the entire session.

RESOLUTIONS

Rule No. 7. Types, Usage and Approval.

1. A joint resolution must be used to:

(a) Propose an amendment to the Nevada constitution.

(b) Ratify a proposed amendment to the United States Constitution.

(c) Address the President of the United States, Congress, either House or any committee or member of Congress, any department or agency of the Federal Government, or any other state of the Union.

2. A concurrent resolution must be used to:

(a) Amend these joint rules.

(b) Request the return from the Governor of an enrolled bill for further consideration.

(c) Resolve that the return of a bill from one House to the other House is necessary and appropriate.

(d) Express facts, principles, opinion and purposes of the Senate and Assembly.

(e) Establish a joint committee of the two Houses.

(f) Direct the Legislative Commission to conduct an interim study.

3. A concurrent resolution or a resolution of one House may be used to:

(a) Memorialize a former member of the Legislature or other notable or distinguished person upon his death.

(b) Congratulate or commend any person or organization for a significant and meritorious accomplishment, but any request for drafting the resolution must be approved by the Senate Committee on Legislative Affairs and Operations or the Assembly Committee on Elections , ~~[and]~~ Procedures , and Ethics before submission to the Legislative Counsel.

VETOES

Rule No. 8. Special Order.

Bills which have passed a previous Legislature, and which are transmitted to the Legislature next sitting, accompanied by a message or statement of the Governor's disapproval, or veto of the same, shall become the subject of a special order; and when the special order for their consideration is reached and called, the said message or statement shall be read, together with the bill or bills so disposed or vetoed; and the message and bill shall be read in the Senate by the Secretary of the Senate and in the Assembly by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly, without interruption, consecutively, one following the other, and not upon separate occasions; and no such bill or message shall be referred to any committee, or otherwise acted upon, save as provided by law and custom; that is to say, that immediately following such reading the only question (except as hereinafter stated) which shall be put by the Chair is, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" It shall not be in order, at any time, to vote upon such vetoed bill without the same shall have first been read, from the first word of its title to and including the last word of its final section; and no motion shall be entertained after the Chair has stated the question save a motion for "The previous question," but the merits of the bill itself may be debated.

ADJOURNMENT

Rule No. 9. Limitations and Calculation of Duration.

1. In calculating the permissible duration of an adjournment for 3 days or less, the day of adjournment must not be counted but the day of the next meeting must be counted, and Sunday must not be counted.

2. The Legislature may adjourn for more than 3 days by concurrent resolution. One or more such adjournments, for a total of not more than 20 days during any regular session, may be taken to permit standing committees, select committees or the Legislative Counsel Bureau to prepare the matters respectively entrusted to them for the consideration of the Legislature as a whole.

EXPENDITURES FROM THE LEGISLATIVE FUND

Rule No. 10. Routine Expenses or Concurrent Resolution.

Except for routine salary, travel, equipment and operating expenses, no expenditures shall be made from the Legislative Fund without the authority of a Concurrent Resolution regularly adopted by the Senate and Assembly.

LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION

Rule No. 11. Membership and Organization.

1. When members of the minority party in the Senate or in the Assembly comprise less than 34 percent of the total number elected to that House, minority party membership for that House on the Legislative Commission must be:

(a) One, if such membership is less than 21 percent.

(b) Two, if such membership is between 21 percent and 33 percent. If the members of the minority party in the Senate or in the Assembly comprise more than 33 percent of the total number elected to that House, minority party membership for that House on the Commission must be three, being equal to the membership of the majority party.

2. Each House shall select one or more alternate members for each member from that House, designating them according to party or according to the individual member whom the alternate would replace.

3. A vacancy in the regular Senate or Assembly membership created by death or by resignation or by the Legislator's ceasing to be a member of the Legislature shall be filled by the proper alternate member as designated by that House. If there is no proper alternate member, the Legislative Commission shall fill the vacancy by appointing a Senator or Assemblyman of the same party.

4. If for any reason a member is or will be absent from a meeting and there are no alternates available, the chairman of the commission may appoint a member of the same House and political party to attend the meeting as an alternate.

5. The members shall serve until their successors are appointed by resolution as provided in NRS 218.660, notwithstanding that their terms of office may have expired, except that the membership of any member who does not become a candidate for reelection or who is defeated for reelection shall terminate on the day next after the election and the vacancy shall be filled as provided in this rule.

6. The chairman shall be selected at the first meeting of the newly formed Legislative Commission and shall serve until his successor is appointed following the formation of the next Legislative Commission.

[~~RECORDING~~] RECORDS OF COMMITTEE PROCEEDINGS [~~ON AUDIO TAPE~~]

Rule No. 12. Duties of Secretary of Committee and Director.

1. Each standing committee of the Legislature shall cause a record [~~on audio tape~~] to be made of the proceedings of its meetings.

2. The secretary of a standing committee shall:

(a) Label each [~~tape~~] record with the date, time and place of the meeting and also indicate on the label the numerical sequence in which the [~~tape was recorded;~~] record was made;

(b) Keep the [~~tapes~~] records in chronological order; and

(c) Deposit the [~~tapes~~] records immediately following the final adjournment of any regular or special session of the Legislature with the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau.

3. The Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau shall:

(a) Index the [~~tapes;~~] records;

(b) Make the [~~tapes~~] records available for [~~listening~~] accessing by any person during office hours under such reasonable conditions as he may deem necessary;

(c) Maintain a log as a public record containing the date, time, name and address of any person [~~listening to any tapes~~] accessing any of the records and identifying the [~~tapes listened to;~~] records accessed; and

(d) Retain the [~~tapes~~] records for two bienniums and at the end of that period [~~dispose of the tapes~~] keep some form or copy of the record in any manner he deems reasonable [~~.~~] to ensure access to the record in the foreseeable future.

REAPPORTIONMENT

Rule No. 13. Responsibility for Measures and Approval of Research Requests.

The Committee on Government Affairs of the Senate and the Committee on Elections , [~~and~~] Procedures , and Ethics of the Assembly are respectively responsible for measures which primarily affect the designation of the districts from which members are elected to the Legislature. Any request for research concerning the population of proposed districts must be submitted to the Research Division of the Legislative Counsel Bureau through one of these committees.

LIMITATIONS ON INTRODUCTION AND REQUESTS FOR DRAFTING OF LEGISLATIVE MEASURES

Rule No. 14. Limitations on Drafting and Requirements for Introduction; Duplicative Measures; [~~Suspension of Rule.~~] Indication of Requester on Committee Introductions.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection [~~2, any request submitted, after a regular legislative session has convened, to the Legislative Counsel for the drafting of a bill or resolution will not be honored by the Legislative Counsel unless the request is approved by:~~

~~(a) A two-thirds vote of the members present in the House where it is to be introduced; or~~

~~(b) A standing committee of that House if the request was approved by two-thirds of all of the members of the committee before the request was submitted to the Legislative Counsel. A standing committee may only request the drafting of a bill or resolution or introduce a bill or resolution that is within the jurisdiction of the standing committee.~~

~~2. After~~ 5 and Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14.4, 14.5 and 14.6, after a regular legislative session has convened, the Legislative Counsel shall honor , if submitted before 5 p.m. on the 8th calendar day of the legislative session, not more than ~~[5]~~ :

(a) Two requests from each Assemblyman ~~[and not more than 10]~~ ; and

(b) Four requests from each Senator , for the drafting of a bill or resolution . ~~[which has not received the approval required by subsection 1.~~

~~3. After the first 10 calendar days of a regular legislative session, bills and joint resolutions may be introduced by:~~

~~(a) Standing committees without consent.]~~

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 4 and 5 and Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14.4, 14.5 and 14.6, after a regular legislative session has convened, the Legislative Counsel shall honor, if submitted before 5 p.m. on the 22nd calendar day of the legislative session, not more than 50 requests, in total, from the standing committees of each house. The Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly shall, not later than the 1st calendar day of the legislative session, determine and provide the Legislative Counsel with a written list of the number of requests for the drafting of a bill or resolution that may be submitted by each standing committee of their respective houses, within the limit provided by this subsection. The lists may be revised any time before the 22nd day of the legislative session to reallocate any unused requests or requests which were withdrawn before drafting began on the request.

3. A request for the drafting of a bill or resolution that is submitted by a standing committee pursuant to this section must be approved by a majority of all of the members appointed to the committee before the request is submitted to the Legislative Counsel.

4. A standing committee may only request the drafting of a bill or resolution or introduce a bill or resolution that is within the jurisdiction of the standing committee.

5. The Legislative Counsel shall not honor a request for the drafting of a bill or resolution submitted by a member or standing committee of the Senate or Assembly unless such information as is required to draft the measure is submitted to the Legislative Counsel with the request.

6. A measure introduced by a standing committee at the request of a legislator or organization must indicate the legislator or organization at whose request the measure was drafted.

~~[(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, a member who had requested the drafting of the bill or resolution by the Legislative Counsel before the 16th calendar day of the legislative session.~~

~~4.~~] 7. The following measures must be introduced by a standing committee:

(a) Measures drafted at the request of agencies and officers of the executive branch of state government, local governments, the courts and other authorized nonlegislative requesters.

(b) Measures requested by interim legislative studies.

(c) Bills and joint resolutions requested by a standing committee, or by persons designated to request measures on behalf of a standing committee during the interim. Bills and joint resolutions requested by or on behalf of a standing committee must be introduced by that committee.

~~[5.]~~ 8. Simple and concurrent resolutions requested by or on behalf of a standing committee may be introduced by an individual member.

~~[6.]~~ 9. If two or more measures are being considered in the same house which are substantively duplicative, only the measure which has been assigned the lowest number for the purpose of establishing its priority in drafting may be considered, unless the measure with the lowest number is not introduced within 5 days after introduction of a measure with a higher number.

~~[7.]~~ 10. A legislator may not change the subject matter of a request for a legislative measure after it has been submitted for drafting.

~~[8. Consent to suspend this rule may be given only by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to the House where it is to be introduced, which must be entered in its Journal for that day, and the consent may apply to no more than one bill or resolution or request for drafting.]~~

Rule No. 14.2. Limitations on Time for Introduction of Legislation.

1. Except as otherwise provided in Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14.4, 14.5 and 14.6:

(a) Unless the provisions of paragraph (b) or (c) are applicable, a bill or resolution may only be introduced on or before:

(1) The 10th calendar day following delivery of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution; or

(2) The last day for introduction of the bill or resolution as required by paragraph (d), whichever is earlier.

(b) If a bill or resolution requires revision after the introductory copy has been delivered, such information as is required to draft the revision must be submitted to the Legislative Counsel before the 10th calendar day following delivery of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution. The revised bill or resolution may only be introduced on or before:

(1) The 15th calendar day following delivery of the original introductory copy of the bill or resolution; or

(2) The last day for introduction of the bill or resolution as required by paragraph (d), whichever is earlier.

(c) If the bill or resolution requires a second or subsequent revision, such information as is required to draft the revision must be submitted to the Legislative Counsel before the 15th calendar day following delivery of the original introductory copy of the bill or resolution. A bill or resolution revised pursuant to this subsection may only be introduced on or before:

(1) The 20th calendar day following delivery of the original introductory copy of the bill or resolution; or

(2) The last day for introduction of the bill or resolution as required by paragraph (d), whichever is earlier.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, the last day for introduction of a bill or resolution that was requested by:

(1) A legislator is the 43rd calendar day of the legislative session.

(2) A standing or interim committee or other requester is the 50th calendar day of the legislative session.

2. The Legislative Counsel shall indicate on the face of the introductory copy of each bill and resolution the final date on which the bill or resolution may be introduced.

3. If the final date on which the bill or resolution may be introduced falls upon a day on which the House in which the bill or resolution is to be introduced is not in session, the bill or resolution may be introduced on the next day that the House is in session.

SCHEDULE FOR ENACTMENT OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Rule No. 14.3. Final Dates for Action by Standing Committees and Houses; Final Date for Requesting Drafting of Reports for Conference Committees.

Except as otherwise provided in Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14.4, 14.5 and 14.6:

1. The final standing committee to which a bill or resolution is referred in its House of origin may only take action on the bill or resolution on or before the 68th calendar day of the legislative session. 5. Requests for the drafting of reports for Conference Committees must be submitted to the Legislative Counsel on or before the 118th calendar day of the legislative session.

Rule No. 14.4. Emergency Requests.

1. After a legislative session has convened:

(a) The Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly may each submit to the Legislative Counsel, on his own behalf or on the behalf of another legislator or a standing committee of the Senate or Assembly, not more than five requests for the drafting of a bill or resolution.

(b) The Minority Leader of the Senate and the Minority Leader of the Assembly may each submit to the Legislative Counsel, on his own behalf or on the behalf of another legislator or a standing committee of the Senate or Assembly, not more than two requests for the drafting of a bill or resolution.

2. A request submitted pursuant to subsection 1:

(a) May be submitted at any time during the legislative session and is not subject to any of the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14, subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.2 and Joint Standing Rule No. 14.3.

(b) Is in addition to, and not in lieu of, any other requests for the drafting of a bill or resolution that are authorized to be submitted to the Legislative Counsel by the Majority Leader of the Senate, Speaker of the Assembly, Minority Leader of the Senate or Minority Leader of the Assembly.

3. The list of requests for the preparation of legislative measures prepared pursuant to NRS 218.2475 must include the phrase "EMERGENCY REQUEST OF" and state the title of the person who requested the bill or resolution for each bill or resolution requested pursuant to this rule. If the request was made on behalf of another legislator or a standing committee, the list must also include the name of the legislator or standing committee on whose behalf the bill or resolution was requested.

4. The Legislative Counsel shall cause to be printed on the face of the introductory copy of all reprints of each bill or resolution requested pursuant to this rule the phrase "EMERGENCY REQUEST OF" and state the title of the person who requested the bill or resolution.

Rule No. 14.5. Waivers.

1. At the request of a legislator or a standing committee of the Senate or Assembly, subsection 1 or 2 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14, subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.2 or any of the provisions of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.3, or any combination thereof, may be waived by the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly, acting jointly, at any time during a legislative session. A request for a waiver submitted by a standing committee must be approved by a majority of all members appointed to the committee before the request is submitted to the Majority Leader and the Speaker.

2. A waiver granted pursuant to subsection 1:

(a) Must be in writing, executed on a form provided by the Legislative Counsel, and signed by the Majority Leader and the Speaker.

(b) Must indicate the date on which the waiver is granted.

(c) Must indicate the legislator or standing committee on whose behalf the waiver is being granted.

(d) Must include the bill or resolution number for which the waiver is granted or indicate that the Legislative Counsel is authorized to accept and honor a request for a new bill or resolution.

(e) Must indicate the provisions to which the waiver applies.

(f) May include the conditions under which the bill or resolution for which the waiver is being granted must be introduced and processed.

3. The Legislative Counsel shall not honor a request for the drafting of a new bill or resolution for which a waiver is granted pursuant to this rule unless such information as is required to draft the bill or resolution is submitted to the Legislative Counsel within 2 calendar days after the date on which the waiver is granted.

4. Upon the receipt of a written waiver granted pursuant to this rule, the Legislative Counsel shall transmit a copy of the waiver to the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly. The notice that a waiver has been granted for an existing bill or resolution must be read on the floor and entered in the journal, and a notation that the waiver was granted must be included as a part of the history of the bill or resolution on the next practicable legislative day. A notation that a waiver was granted authorizing a new bill or resolution must be included as a part of the history of the bill or resolution after introduction.

5. The Legislative Counsel shall secure the original copy of the waiver to the official cover of the bill or resolution.

Rule No. 14.6. Exemptions.

1. Upon request of the draft by or referral to the Senate Finance Committee or the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means, a bill or resolution which has been determined by the Fiscal Analysis Division to:

(a) Contain an appropriation;

(b) Authorize the expenditure by a state agency of sums not appropriated from the state general fund or the state highway fund;

(c) Create or increase any significant fiscal liability of the state; or

(d) Significantly decrease any revenue of the state, is exempt from the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14, subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.2 and Joint Standing Rule No. 14.3. The Fiscal Analysis Division shall give notice to the Legislative Counsel to cause to be printed on the face of the bill or resolution the term "exempt" for any bills and resolutions requested by the Senate Finance Committee or Assembly Committee on Ways and Means that have been determined to be exempt and shall give written notice to the Legislative Counsel, Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly of any bill or resolution which is determined to be exempt after it is printed. A notation of each exemption granted after the bill or resolution was printed must be included as a part of the history of the bill or resolution on the next practicable legislative day. The term "exempt" must be printed on the face of all subsequent reprints of the bill or resolution.

2. All of the provisions of Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14, 14.2 and 14.3 apply to a bill or resolution until it is determined to be exempt pursuant to subsection 1. A bill or resolution determined to be exempt does not lose the exemption regardless of subsequent actions taken by the Legislature.

3. A cumulative list of all bills and resolutions determined to be exempt after being printed must be maintained and printed in the back of the list of requests for the preparation of legislative measures prepared pursuant to NRS 218.2475.

4. The provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14, subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.2 and Joint Standing Rule No. 14.3 do not apply to:

(a) A bill or resolution required to carry out the business of the Legislature.

(b) A resolution requiring an interim study.

(c) A resolution to memorialize a former member of the Legislature or other notable or distinguished person.

(d) A resolution to congratulate or commend any person or organization for a significant and meritorious accomplishment.

Rule No. 14.7. Amendments.

1. The Legislative Counsel shall not honor a request for the drafting of an amendment to a bill or resolution if the subject matter of the amendment is independent of, and not specifically related and properly connected to, the subject that is expressed in the title of the bill or resolution.

2. For the purposes of this Rule, an amendment is independent of, and not specifically related and properly connected to, the subject that is expressed in the title of a bill or resolution if the amendment relates only to the general, single subject that is expressed in that Title and not to the specific whole subject matter embraced in the bill or resolution.

3. This Rule must be narrowly construed to carry out the purposes for which it was adopted which is to ensure the effectiveness of the limitations set forth in Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14, 14.2 and 14.3.

CONTINUATION OF LEADERSHIP OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY DURING THE INTERIM BETWEEN SESSIONS

CRITERIA FOR REVIEWING BILLS THAT REQUIRE POLICIES OF HEALTH INSURANCE TO PROVIDE COVERAGE FOR CERTAIN TREATMENT OR SERVICES

Rule No. 18. Topics of Consideration.

Any standing committee of the Senate or Assembly to which a bill is referred requiring a policy of health insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state to provide coverage for any treatment or service shall review the bill giving consideration to:

1. The level of public demand for the treatment or service for which coverage is required and the extent to which such coverage is needed in this state;

2. The extent to which coverage for the treatment or service is currently available;

3. The extent to which the required coverage may increase or decrease the cost of the treatment or service;

4. The effect the required coverage will have on the cost of obtaining policies of health insurance in this state;

5. The effect the required coverage will have on the cost of health care provided in this state; and

6. Such other considerations as are necessary to determine the fiscal and social impact of requiring coverage for the treatment or service.

INTERIM FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEES

Rule No. 19. Date for Reporting.

Each legislative committee that adopted any findings or recommendations during the interim since the last regular session of the Legislature shall, no later than the 14th calendar day of the regular session, inform interested members of the Senate and Assembly of those findings and recommendations.

POLICY AND PROCEDURES REGARDING SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Rule No. 20. Maintenance of Working Environment; Procedure for Filing, Investigating and Taking Remedial Action on Complaints.

1. The Legislature hereby declares its intention to maintain a working environment which is free from sexual harassment. This policy applies to all legislators ~~[, lobbyists, legislative interns and employees of the Legislature, including supervisors and coworkers.]~~ and lobbyists. Each member ~~[, lobbyist, legislative intern and employee of the Legislature]~~ and lobbyist is responsible to conduct himself or herself in a manner which will ensure that others are able to work in such an environment.

2. ~~[For]~~ In accordance with Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, for the purposes of this rule, "sexual harassment" means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature ~~[, including, but not limited to:]~~ when:

(a) Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of a person's employment;

(b) Submission to or rejection of such conduct by a person is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the person; or

(c) Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with a person's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

3. Each person subject to these rules must exercise his own good judgment to avoid engaging in conduct that may be perceived by others as sexual harassment. The following noninclusive list provides illustrations of conduct that the Legislature deems to be inappropriate:

(a) Verbal conduct such as epithets, derogatory comments, slurs or unwanted sexual advances, invitations or comments;

(b) Visual conduct such as derogatory posters, photography, cartoons, drawings or gestures;

(c) Physical conduct such as unwanted touching, blocking normal movement or interfering with the work directed at a person because of his sex;

(d) Threats and demands to submit to sexual requests to keep a person's job or avoid some other loss, and offers of employment benefits in return for sexual favors; and

(e) Retaliation for opposing, reporting or threatening to report sexual harassment, or for participating in an investigation, proceeding or hearing conducted by the Legislature or the Nevada Equal Rights Commission or the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, when submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of a person's employment or submission to or rejection of such conduct by a person is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the person or such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with a person's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

~~[3.]~~ 4. A person may have a claim of sexual harassment even if he has not lost a job or some other economic benefit. Conduct that impairs a person's ability to work or his emotional well-being at work constitutes sexual harassment.

~~[4. If a person]~~

5. If a legislator believes he is being sexually harassed on the job, he may file a written complaint with:

(a) The Speaker of the Assembly ; ~~[, if the complaint involves the conduct of a member, legislative intern or employee of the Assembly or a lobbyist;]~~

(b) The Majority Leader of the Senate ; ~~[, if the complaint involves the conduct of a member, legislative intern or employee of the Senate or a lobbyist;]~~ or

(c) The Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, if the complaint involves the conduct of the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate.

The complaint must include the details of the incident or incidents, the names of the persons involved and the names of any witnesses.

~~[5.]~~ 6. Except as otherwise provided in subsection ~~[6,]~~ 7, the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate, as appropriate, shall refer a complaint ~~[against a member, legislative intern or employee of a certain House]~~ received pursuant to subsection 5 to a committee consisting of legislators of the same House. A complaint against a lobbyist may be referred to a committee in either House.

~~[6.]~~ 7. If the complaint involves the conduct of the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate, the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau shall refer the complaint to the Committee on Elections , ~~[and]~~ Procedures , and Ethics of the Assembly or the Committee on Legislative Affairs and Operations of the Senate, as appropriate. If the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate is a member of one of these committees, the Speaker or the Majority Leader, as the case may be, shall not participate in the investigation and resolution of the complaint.

~~[7.]~~ 8. The committee to which the complaint is referred shall immediately conduct a confidential and discreet investigation of the complaint. As a part of the investigation, the committee shall notify the accused of the allegations. The committee shall facilitate a meeting between the complainant and the accused to allow a discussion of the matter, if both agree. If the parties do not agree to such a meeting, the committee shall request statements regarding the complaint from each of the parties. Either party may request a hearing before the committee. The committee shall make its determination and inform the complainant and the accused of its determination as soon as practicable after it has completed its investigation.

~~[8.]~~ 9. If the investigation reveals that sexual harassment has occurred, the Legislature will take appropriate disciplinary or remedial action ~~[against the member, lobbyist, legislative intern or employee which is commensurate with the severity of the offense.]~~ , or both. The committee shall inform the complainant of any action taken . ~~[against the member, lobbyist, legislative intern or employee.]~~ The Legislature will also take any action necessary to deter any future harassment.

~~[9.]~~ 10. The Legislature will not retaliate against a person who files a complaint and will not knowingly permit any retaliation by the person's supervisors or coworkers.

~~[10.]~~ 11. The Legislature encourages a person to report any incident of sexual harassment immediately so that the complaint can be quickly and fairly resolved.

~~[11.]~~ 12. Action taken by a complainant pursuant to this rule does not prohibit the complainant from also filing a complaint of sexual harassment with the Nevada Equal Rights Commission or the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

13. All legislators and lobbyists are responsible for adhering to the provisions of this policy. The prohibitions against engaging in sexual harassment and the protections against becoming a victim of sexual harassment set forth in this policy apply to employees, legislators, lobbyists, vendors, contractors, customers and visitors to the Legislature.

14. This policy does not create any enforceable legal rights in any person.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That the Assembly Standing Rules as amended by the 69th session are adopted, with the following changes, as the Standing Rules of the Assembly for the 70th session of the Legislature:

I. OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

DUTIES OF OFFICERS

Rule No. 1. Speaker of the Assembly.

1. All officers of the Assembly are subordinate to the Speaker in all that relates to the prompt, efficient and correct discharge of their official duties under the Speaker's supervision.

2. Possessing the powers and performing the duties described in this rule, the Speaker shall:

(a) Take the chair at the hour to which the Assembly stands adjourned, call the members to order, and upon the appearance of a quorum, proceed to business.

(b) Preserve order and decorum and have general direction of the chamber of the Assembly and the approaches thereto . ~~[, and in]~~ In the event of any disturbance or disorderly conduct therein, order the same to be cleared.

(c) Decide all questions of order, subject to a member's right to appeal to the Assembly. On appeal from such decisions, the Speaker has the right, in the Speaker's place, to assign the reason for the decision.

(d) Have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the chair, but such substitution ~~[shall]~~ must not extend beyond one legislative day.

(e) When the Assembly resolves itself into Committee of the Whole, name a chairman to preside thereover and call him to the chair.

(f) Have the power to accredit the persons who act as representatives of the ~~[press, radio and television,]~~ news media and assign them seats.

(g) Sign all bills and resolutions passed by the Legislature as provided by law.

(h) Sign all subpoenas issued by the Assembly or any committee thereof.

(i) Receive all messages and communications from other departments of the government and announce them to the Assembly.

(j) Represent the Assembly, declare its will and in all things obey its commands.

(k) Vote on final passage of a bill or resolution, but the Speaker shall not be required to vote in ordinary legislative proceedings except where the Speaker's vote would be decisive. In all ~~[aye and no]~~ yea and nay votes, the Speaker's name ~~[shall]~~ must be called last.

3. If a vacancy occurs in the office of Speaker, through death, resignation or disability of the Speaker, the Speaker pro Tempore shall temporarily and for the period of vacancy or disability conduct the necessary business of the Assembly.

4. If a permanent vacancy occurs in the office of Speaker, the Assembly shall select a new Speaker.

Rule No. 2. Reserved.

Rule No. 3. Reserved.

Rule No. 4. Reserved.

Rule No. 5. Reserved.

Rule No. 6. Reserved.

The next rule is 10.

II. SESSIONS AND MEETINGS

Rule No. 10. Time of Meeting.

The Assembly shall meet each day at 11 a.m., unless the Assembly adjourns to some other hour.

Rule No. 11. Open Meetings.

All meetings of the Assembly and its standing committees ~~[shall]~~ must be open to the public.

Rule No. 12. Reserved.

The next rule is 20.

III. DECORUM AND DEBATE

Rule No. 20. Points of Order.

If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the Assembly, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain; and if called to order by a member, such member shall immediately state the point of order. If the point of order be sustained by the presiding officer, the member shall not be allowed to proceed; but if it be not sustained, then he shall be permitted to go on. Every such decision from the presiding officer shall be subject to an appeal to the House; but no discussion of the question of order shall be allowed unless an appeal be taken from the decision of the presiding officer.

Rule No. 21. Reserved.

Rule No. 22. Reserved.

Rule No. 23. Committee on Ethics; Legislative Ethics.

1. The Committee on Ethics consists of:

(a) Two members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker from the majority political party;

(b) One member of the Assembly appointed by the Minority Leader from the minority political party; and

(c) Two qualified electors of the state chosen by the members of the committee who are appointed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b), neither of whom is a present or former member of the Legislature or employed by the State of Nevada.

2. The Speaker shall appoint two members of the Assembly, one from the majority political party and one from the minority political party to serve as alternate members of the committee. If a member is disqualified, the alternate appointed from the same political party shall serve as a member of the committee during the consideration of a specific question.

3. A member is disqualified if he is the requester of advice concerning a question of ethics or conflict of interest, or if the advice is requested by another member of the Assembly and a reasonable person in his situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.

4. The committee shall hear complaints on alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest, brought by Legislators and others, and it may advise Legislators on questions of breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest. All proceedings held to consider the character, alleged misconduct, professional competence or physical or mental health of any person by the committee on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest are confidential unless a Legislator:

(a) Against whom a complaint is brought requests a public hearing;

(b) Discloses the opinion of the committee at any time after his hearing; or

(c) Discloses the content of an advisory opinion issued to him by the committee.

5. A complaint which alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest must be in writing and signed by the person making the allegation. The complaint must be filed with the chairman. The chairman shall send a copy of the complaint, within 24 hours after receiving it, to the Legislator against whom the complaint is brought.

6. The criterion to be applied by the committee in determining whether a Legislator has a conflict of interest is whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his position upon the matter in question would be materially affected by:

(a) His acceptance of a gift or loan; or

(b) His private economic interest.

7. A Legislator who determines that he has a conflict of interest may vote upon, advocate or oppose any measure as to which a potential conflict exists if he makes a general disclosure of the conflict. In determining whether to vote upon, advocate or oppose the measure, the Legislator should consider whether:

(a) The conflict impedes his independence of judgment;

(b) His participation will produce a negative effect on the public's confidence in the integrity of the Legislature;

(c) His participation is likely to have any significant effect on the disposition of the measure; and

(d) His interest is greater than the interests of an entire class of persons similarly situated.

The next rule is 30.

IV. QUORUM, VOTING, ELECTIONS

Rule No. 30. Manner of Voting.

1. The presiding officer shall declare all votes, but the ~~[ayes and noes shall]~~ yeas and nays must be taken when called for by three members present, and the names of those calling for the ~~[ayes and noes shall]~~ yeas and nays must be entered in the Journal by the Chief Clerk.

2. The presiding officer shall call for ~~[ayes and noes]~~ yeas and nays by a division or by a roll call, either electronic or oral.

3. When taking the ~~[ayes and noes]~~ yeas and nays on any question, the electronic roll call system may be used, and when so used shall have the force and effect of any roll call under these rules.

4. When taking the ~~[ayes and noes]~~ yeas and nays by oral roll call, the Chief Clerk shall take the names of members alphabetically , except that the ~~[Speaker shall]~~ Speaker's name must be called last.

5. The electronic roll call system may be used to determine the presence of a quorum.

6. The ~~[ayes and noes shall]~~ yeas and nays must not be taken with the electronic roll call system until all members present are at their desks. The presiding officer may vote at the rostrum.

7. Only a member, certified by the Committee on Credentials or special committee of the Assembly, may cast a vote in the Assembly. A member shall not vote for another member on any roll call, either electronic or oral. Any member who votes for another member may be punished in any manner deemed appropriate by the Assembly.

Rule No. 31. Reserved.

Rule No. 32. Announcement of the Vote.

1. A member may change his vote at any time before the announcement of the vote if the voting is by voice, or at any time before the votes are electronically recorded if the voting is conducted electronically.

2. The announcement of the result of any vote shall not be postponed.

Rule No. 33. Voting by Division.

Upon a division and count of the Assembly on any question, no person without the bar shall be counted.

The next rule is 40.

V. LEGISLATIVE BODIES

Rule No. 40. Standing Committees.

The standing committees of the Assembly are as follows:

1. Ways and Means, ~~[fifteen]~~ fourteen members.
2. Judiciary, fourteen members.
3. Taxation, ~~[eleven]~~ thirteen members.
4. Education, ~~[thirteen]~~ twelve members.
5. Elections, Procedures, and Ethics, nine members.
6. Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Mining, ~~[eleven]~~ thirteen members.
7. ~~[Labor and Management, nine members.~~

~~8.]~~ Transportation, ~~[nine]~~ thirteen members.

~~[9.]~~ 8. Commerce ~~[, eleven]~~ and Labor, fourteen members.

~~[10.]~~ 9. Health and Human Services, ~~[ten]~~ twelve members.

~~[11.]~~ 10. Government Affairs, fourteen members.

~~[12. Infrastructure, eleven members.]~~

11. Constitutional Amendments, seven members.

Rule No. 41. Appointment of Committees.

1. Except as otherwise provided in Assembly Standing Rule No. 23, all committees must be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise directed by the Assembly. The Speaker shall designate the chairman and vice chairman of each committee.

2. To facilitate the full participation of the members during an adjournment called pursuant to NRS 218.115, the Speaker may temporarily appoint a member to a standing committee that is scheduled to meet during the adjournment if none of the committees to which the member is regularly assigned will be meeting during the adjournment.

Rule No. 42. Committee Action.

1. The committee shall have regular meetings scheduled by the Assembly leadership. A quorum of the committee is a majority of its members and may transact business except as limited by this rule.

2. Motions may be moved, seconded and passed by voice vote by a simple majority of those present.

3. Definite action on a bill or resolution will require a majority of the entire committee.

4. A two-thirds majority of all the committee is required to reconsider action on a bill or resolution.

5. Committee introduction of legislative measures which are not prefiled requires concurrence of two-thirds of the committee and does not imply commitment to support final passage.

6. The chairman shall vote on all final action regarding bills or resolutions.

7. No member of the committee may vote by proxy under any circumstances.

Rule No. 43. Subcommittees.

Subcommittees made up of committee members may be appointed by the chairman to consider and report back on specific subjects or bills.

Rule No. 44. Committee on Elections, Procedures, and Ethics.

The Committee on Elections, Procedures, and Ethics has jurisdiction over matters relating to personnel. It shall recommend by resolution the appointment of all attachés and employees of the Assembly not otherwise provided for by law. It may suspend or remove any such attaché or employee for incompetency or dereliction of duty. It shall function as the Committee on Rules and as the Committee on Credentials of the Assembly.

Rule No. 45. Procedure for Election Contests.

1. Upon receipt of a statement of contest from the Secretary of State pursuant to NRS 293.427, the Speaker shall, as soon as practicable, appoint a special committee to hear the contest or refer the contest to the Standing Committee on Elections, Procedures, and Ethics. The committee shall conduct a hearing to consider the contest. The committee shall keep written minutes of the hearing. The contestant has the burden of proving that any irregularities shown were of such a nature as to establish that the result of the election was changed thereby.

2. The contest must be submitted so far as may be possible upon depositions or by written or oral arguments as the Assembly may order. Any party to a contest may take the deposition of any witness at any time after the statement of contest is filed with the Secretary of State and before the contest is finally decided. At least 3 days' notice must be given to the prospective deponent and to the other party. If oral statements are made at any hearing before the Assembly or a committee thereof which purport to establish matters of fact, they must be made under oath. Strict rules of evidence do not apply.

3. The committee shall, not later than 5 calendar days after the contest was referred to the committee, report to the Assembly its findings on whether the contestant has met the burden of proving that any irregularities shown were of such a nature as to establish that the result of the election was changed thereby. The committee shall then report to the Assembly its recommendation on which person should be declared elected or report that it has no recommendation. The Assembly shall, as soon as practicable thereafter but not later than 7 calendar days after the Speaker received the statement of contest, vote whether to accept or reject the committee's recommendation without amendment, if a recommendation is made. If the recommendation is accepted, the Speaker shall declare the recommended person elected. If the recommendation is rejected or the committee did not make a recommendation, the Assembly shall consider immediately which person should be declared elected. The Speaker shall not adjourn the Assembly until it has declared a person to be elected.

4. The Speaker shall inform the Governor of the identity of the person declared to be elected by the Assembly.

Rule No. 46. Committee Action on Reports.

Committee reports ~~[shall]~~ must be adopted at a committee session actually assembled and meeting as a committee with a quorum present. Every committee vote on a matter pertaining to a bill or resolution ~~[shall]~~ must be recorded. The vote may be taken by roll call at the discretion of the chairman.

Rule No. 47. Committee Records.

The chairman of each committee shall keep, or cause to be kept, a complete record of the committee proceedings in which there ~~[shall]~~ must be entered:

1. The time and place of each meeting;

2. The attendance and absence of members;

3. The names of all persons appearing before the committee, with the names of persons, firms, corporations or associations in whose behalf such appearance is made; and

4. The subjects or measures considered and action taken.

Rule No. 48. Disposition of Committee Records.

All minutes, records and documents in the possession of committees and their chairmen ~~[shall]~~ must be filed in the offices of the Legislative Counsel Bureau upon adjournment sine die.

Rule No. 49. Committee Hearings.

~~[A public hearing must be held on each bill and resolution which is referred to committee.]~~ The presence of a quorum of the committee is desirable but not required ~~[.]~~ to conduct a public hearing. Public hearings are opened by the chairman who announces the subject under consideration and provides for those wishing to address the committee to be heard. These persons shall rise in an order determined by the chairman, address the chair and furnish their names, addresses and firms or other organizations represented. Committee members may address the chairman for permission to question the witness. When all persons present have been heard, the chairman may declare closed the portion of the meeting wherein the committee will accept public testimony on the matter before proceeding to other matters.

Rule No. 50. Reserved.

Rule No. 51. Reserved.

Rule No. 52. Concurrent Referrals.

When a bill or resolution is referred to two committees , the bill or resolution must go to the first committee named. If the first committee votes to amend the bill or resolution, it must be reprinted with amendments and then returned to the first committee or sent immediately to the next committee. If there is no amendment proposed by the first committee, or if the first committee acts upon the bill or resolution after amendment, the bill or resolution must be sent with the committee recommendation immediately to the second committee.

The next rule is 60.

VI. RULES GOVERNING MOTIONS

Rule No. 60. Entertaining.

No motion ~~[shall be debated until the same be]~~ may be debated until it is distinctly announced by the presiding officer . ~~[; and it shall be reduced to writing, if]~~ If desired by the presiding officer or any member, the motion must be reduced to writing and be read by the Chief Clerk before the ~~[same shall be]~~ motion is debated. A motion may be withdrawn by the maker at any time before amendment or before the motion is put to vote.

Rule No. 61. Reserved.

Rule No. 62. Reserved.

Particular Motions

Rule No. 63. Reserved.

Rule No. 64. Reserved.

Rule No. 65. Indefinite Postponement.

When a question is postponed indefinitely, the same ~~[shall]~~ question must not be considered again during the session and the question ~~[shall not be]~~ is not subject to a motion for reconsideration.

Rule No. 66. To Strike Enacting Clause.

A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill or resolution ~~[shall]~~ does not take precedence over any other subsidiary motion. If the motion is carried, it shall be considered equivalent to the rejection of such bill or resolution.

Rule No. 67. Division of Question.

Any member may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided, if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Assembly. A motion to strike out being lost shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible.

Rule No. 68. To Reconsider—Precedence of.

A motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn, or to fix the time to which to adjourn; and when the Assembly adjourns, while a motion to reconsider is pending, or before passing the order of business of Motions ~~[and Resolutions,]~~ , Resolutions and Notices, the right to move a reconsideration shall continue to the next day of sitting. No notice of reconsideration of any final vote shall be in order on the day preceding the last day of the session.

The next rule is 80.

Rule No. 80. Speaking on Question.

No member shall speak more than twice during the consideration of any one question, on the same day, and at the same stage of proceedings, without leave. Members who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) to the exclusion of others who have not spoken.

Rule No. 81. Previous Question.

The previous question shall be put only when demanded by three members. The previous question shall not be moved by the member last speaking on the question.

The next rule is 90.

VIII. CONDUCT OF BUSINESS

A. Rules and Procedure

Rule No. 90. Mason's Manual.

The rules of parliamentary practice contained in Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure shall govern the Assembly in all cases in which they are applicable and in which they are not inconsistent with the Standing Rules and orders of the Assembly, and the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly.

Rule No. 91. Suspension of Rule.

No standing rule or order of the Assembly shall be rescinded or changed without a vote of two-thirds of the members elected, and one day's notice being given of the motion therefor; but a rule or order may be suspended temporarily by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

Rule No. 92. Notices of Bills, Topics and Public Hearings.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 ~~[:~~

~~(a) All]~~ , all committees shall provide adequate notice of public hearings on bills, resolutions or other topics ~~[of high public importance at least 5 calendar days before such hearings.~~

~~(b) Notice for public hearings on bills, resolutions and topics not deemed by the chairmen to be of high public importance must be provided at least 24 hours before such hearings.~~

~~(c) Notice shall also be provided for all other committee meetings at least 24 hours in advance of such meetings.~~

~~Notices in all cases shall]~~ which are to come before the committees. The notice must include the date, time, place and agenda to be covered . ~~[and shall]~~ The notice must be posted conspicuously in the legislative building, appear in the daily history and be made available to the ~~[press.]~~ news media. The daily history must include the most current version of the notice that is available at the time the daily history is created and an informational statement informing the public where more current information, if any, regarding such notices may be found.

2. The noticing requirements of this rule may be suspended for emergency situations but only after approval by a two-thirds vote of a committee.

3. Subsection 1 does not apply to:

(a) Committee meetings held on the floor of the Assembly during a recess; or

(b) Conference committee meetings.

Rule No. 93. Reserved.

Rule No. 94. Privilege of the Floor and Lobbying.

No person, except Senators, former Assemblymen and state officers, may be admitted at the bar of the Assembly, except by special invitation on the part of some member; but a majority may authorize the Speaker to have the Assembly cleared of all such persons. No person may do any lobbying upon the floor of the Assembly at any time, and it is the duty of the Sergeant at Arms to remove any person violating any of the provisions of this rule.

Rule No. 95. Material Placed on Legislators' Desks.

All papers, letters, notes, pamphlets and other written material placed upon an Assemblyman's desk shall contain the signature of the Legislator requesting the placement of such material on the desk or shall contain a designation of the origin of such material. This rule does not apply to books containing the legislative bills and resolutions, the legislative daily histories, the legislative daily journals or Legislative Counsel Bureau material.

Rule No. 96. Peddling, Begging and Soliciting.

Peddling, begging and soliciting are strictly forbidden in the Assembly Chamber, and in the lobby, gallery and halls adjacent thereto. ~~[, and no]~~ No part of said chamber or halls ~~[shall]~~ may be used for, or occupied by signs or other devices for any kind of advertising.

Rule No. 97. Petitions and Memorials.

Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the Assembly, shall be presented by the Speaker, or by a member in the Speaker's place. A brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made by the introducer. They shall not be debated on the day of their being presented, but shall be on the table, or be referred, as the Assembly shall determine.

Rule No. 98. Request of Purpose.

A member may request the purpose of a bill or joint resolution upon its introduction.

Rule No. 99. Remarks.

It shall be in order for members to make remarks and to have such remarks entered in the Journal.

Rule No. 100. Precedence of Parliamentary Authority.

The precedence of parliamentary authority in the Assembly ~~[shall be as follows:]~~ is:

1. The Constitution of the State of Nevada.
2. The Statutes of the State of Nevada.
3. The Standing Rules of the Assembly and the Joint Standing Rules of the Senate and Assembly.
4. Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure.

Rule No. 102. Reserved.

Rule No. 103. Reserved.

B. Bills

Rule No. 104. Reserved.

Rule No. 105. Substitute Bills.

A substitute bill shall be deemed and held to be an amendment, and treated in all respects as such. However, a substitute bill may be amended after its adoption, in the same manner as if it were an original bill.

Rule No. 106. Skeleton Bills.

The introduction of skeleton bills is authorized ~~[after the beginning of a session]~~ when, in the opinion of the sponsor and the Legislative Counsel, the full drafting of the bill would entail extensive research or be of considerable length. A skeleton bill will be provided for purposes of introduction and committee referral. Such a bill will be a presentation of ideas or statements of purpose, sufficient in style and expression to enable the Legislature and the committee to which the bill may be referred to consider the substantive merits of the legislation proposed. ~~[The committee, if it treats the skeleton bill favorably, shall then request the draft of a completed bill in such detail as would afford the committee the opportunity of considering the legislative ideas proposed in context with all their necessary ramifications.]~~

Rule No. 107. Reserved.

Rule No. 108. Reserved.

Rule No. 109. Reading of Bills.

The presiding officer shall announce at each reading of a bill whether it be the first, second or third reading. The first reading of a bill shall be for information. If there is objection, the question shall be, "Shall the bill be rejected?" If the question to reject fails to receive a majority vote by the members present, or if there is no objection, the bill shall take the proper course. No bill shall be referred to a committee until after the first reading, nor amended until after the second reading.

Rule No. 110. Second Reading and Amendment of Bills.

1. All bills ~~[shall]~~ must be read the second time on the first legislative day after which they are reported by committee, unless a different day is designated by motion. Upon second reading, Assembly bills reported without amendments shall be placed on the General File and Senate bills reported without amendments shall be placed on the General File. Committee amendments reported with bills shall be considered upon their second reading, and such amendments may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present. Any amendment which is numbered, copied and made available to all members ~~[shall]~~ must be moved and voted upon by number unless any member moves that it be read in full. Assembly bills so amended ~~[shall]~~ must be reprinted, engrossed, and placed on the General File . ~~[, and]~~ Senate bills so amended ~~[shall]~~ must be reprinted, then engrossed or reengrossed, as applicable, and placed on the General File.

2. Any member may move to amend a bill during its second or third reading, and such a motion to amend may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present. Bills so amended on second reading ~~[shall]~~ must be treated the same as bills with committee amendments. Any bill so amended upon the General File ~~[shall]~~ must be reprinted and then engrossed or reengrossed, as applicable.

3. The reprinting of amended bills may be dispensed with only in accordance with the provisions of law.

Rule No. 111. Consent Calendar.

1. ~~[On or before the 80th calendar day of a regular session, a]~~ A standing committee may by unanimous vote of the members present report a bill with the recommendation that it be placed on the consent calendar. The question of recommending a bill for the consent calendar may be voted upon in committee only after the bill has been recommended for passage and only if no amendment is recommended.

2. The Chief Clerk shall maintain a list of bills recommended for the consent calendar. The list must be printed in the daily history and must include the summary of each bill, and the date the bill is scheduled for consideration on final passage.

3. ~~[Unless postponed by motion, the consent calendar must be considered on Monday and Thursday. A bill reported on Friday to Monday, inclusive, is eligible to be considered on the following Thursday; a bill reported on Tuesday to Thursday, inclusive, is eligible to be considered on the following Monday.~~

~~4.]~~ At any time before the presiding officer calls for a vote on the passage of the consent calendar, a member may give written notice to the Chief Clerk or state orally from the floor of the Assembly in session that he objects to the inclusion of a particular bill on the consent calendar. If a member so objects, the Chief Clerk shall remove the bill from the consent calendar and transfer it to the second reading file. A bill removed from the consent calendar may not be restored to that calendar.

~~[5.]~~ 4. During floor consideration of the consent calendar, members may ask questions and offer explanations relating to the respective bills.

~~[6.]~~ 5. When the consent calendar is brought to a vote, the bills remaining on the consent calendar must be read by number and summary and the vote must be taken on their final passage as a group.

Rule No. 112. Reserved.

Rule No. 113. General File.

All bills reported to the Assembly, by either standing or special committees, after receiving their second readings ~~[shall]~~ must be placed upon a General File, to be kept by the Chief Clerk. No bill shall be considered by the Assembly until the regular order of business shall have been gone through. Then bills shall be taken from the General File and acted upon in the order in which they were reported, unless otherwise specially ordered by the Assembly. But engrossed bills shall be placed at the head of the file, in the order in which they are received. The Chief Clerk shall post, in a conspicuous place in the chamber, a daily statement of the bills on the General File, setting forth the order in which they are filed, and specifying the alterations arising from the disposal of business each day. The Chief Clerk shall likewise post notices of special orders as made.

Rule No. 114. Reserved.

Rule No. 115. Reconsideration of Vote on Bill.

On the first legislative day that the Assembly is in session succeeding that on which a final vote on any bill or resolution has been taken, a vote may be reconsidered on the motion of any member. Notice of intention to move such reconsideration ~~[shall]~~ must be given on the day on which ~~[such]~~ the final vote was taken by a member voting with the prevailing party. It ~~[shall not be]~~ is not in order for any member to move a reconsideration on the day on which ~~[such]~~ the final vote was taken, except by unanimous consent. ~~[But there shall]~~ There may be no reconsideration of a vote on a motion to indefinitely postpone. Motions to reconsider a vote upon amendments to any pending question may be made at once.

Rule No. 116. Reserved.

Rule No. 117. Reserved.

C. Resolutions

Rule No. 118. Treated as Bills—Joint Resolutions.

The procedure of enacting joint resolutions ~~[shall]~~ must be identical to that of enacting bills. However, joint resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution ~~[shall]~~ must be entered in the Journal in their entirety.

Rule No. 119. Reserved.

Rule No. 120. Order of Business.

The Order of Business must be as follows:

14. Special Orders of the Day.
15. Remarks from the Floor, limited to 10 minutes.

Rule No. 121. Reserved.

Rule No. 122. Privileged Questions.

Privileged questions ~~[shall]~~ have precedence of all others in the following order:

1. Motions to fix the time to which the Assembly shall adjourn.
2. Motions to adjourn.
3. Questions relating to the rights and privileges of the Assembly or any of its members.
4. A call of the House.
5. Motions for special orders.

Rule No. 123. Privilege of Closing Debate.

The author of a bill, resolution or a main question shall have the privilege of closing the debate, unless the previous question has been sustained.

Rule No. 124. Reserved.

Rule No. 125. Reserved.

Rule No. 126. Vetoed Bills.

Bills which have passed both Houses of the Legislature and are transmitted to the Assembly accompanied by a message or statement of the Governor's disapproval or veto of the same, ~~[shall]~~ must be taken up and considered immediately upon the coming in of the message transmitting the same, or ~~[shall]~~ become the subject of a special order . ~~[; and when]~~ When the message is received, or (if made a special order) when the special order is called, the said message or statement ~~[shall]~~ must be read together with the bill or bills so disapproved or vetoed . ~~[; and the]~~ The message and bill ~~[shall]~~ must be read by the Chief Clerk without interruption, consecutively, one following the other, and not upon separate occasions . ~~[; and no]~~ No such bill or message ~~[shall]~~ may be referred to any committee, or otherwise acted upon save as provided by law and custom; that is to say, that immediately following such reading the only question (except as hereinafter stated) which ~~[shall]~~ may be put by the Speaker is, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" It shall not be in order, at any time, to vote upon such a vetoed bill unless the same shall first have been read, from the first word of its title to and including the last word of its final section . ~~[; and no motion shall]~~ No motion may be entertained after the Speaker has stated the question, save a motion to adjourn or a motion for the previous question, but the merits of the bill itself may be debated. The message or statement containing the objections of the Governor to the bill ~~[shall]~~ must be entered upon the Journal of the Assembly. The consideration of a vetoed bill, and the objections of the Governor thereto, shall be a privileged question, and shall take precedence over all others.

THE FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday) February 4, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:03 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Ken Haskins.

Our Heavenly Father, yesterday was the 40th anniversary of what has become to be known as the day the music died. Buddy Holly, Richie Valens, J.P. "The Big Bopper" Richardson, and the young pilot, Roger Peterson, died in the plane crash near Clear Lake, Iowa. The musicians died but their music lives. For those of us who loved it then, we appreciate it all the more now. Father, for these servants in this Assembly, bless them as they use their god given talents to promote and to make a positive contribution to the lives of many for many years to come. In the name of our Lord Jesus, I pray. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that the Assembly recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Motion carried.

Assembly in recess at 11:07 a.m.

Vetoed Assembly Bill No. 512 of the 69th Session.

Governor's message stating his objections read.

STATE OF NEVADA
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER

CARSON CITY, NEVADA, 89701 July 17, 1997

THE HONORABLE JOSEPH E. DINI, Speaker, Nevada State Assembly, Legislative Building, Carson City, NV 89710

DEAR SPEAKER DINI:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the Constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 512, entitled:

AN ACT relating to contractors, providing for the regulation of contracts for the construction of residential swimming pools and spas; prohibiting certain acts and omissions by contractors regarding the construction of residential swimming pools and spas; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Instead of helping Nevada's consumers, A.B. 512 may reduce the number of pool and spa contractors, thereby reducing consumer choice and undermining healthy competition. The installment payment plan mandated by this legislation places onerous financial demands on pool and spa contractors that could threaten their viability by forcing them to assume an unreasonable level of financial risk.

I am against overregulation at a time when government at all levels has recognized the problems attendant to the overregulation of commerce which, in the long run, only increases the costs to the consumer. This legislation has been represented as reflecting the legitimate needs and interests of both consumers and pool and spa contractors. However, it has become clear that, in fact, the contractors have not been consulted nor afforded an opportunity to present evidence as to the financial implications of such drastic legislation on their ability to remain in business.

Sincerely,
BOB MILLER
Governor

Bill read.

The question was put: "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN LEE:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to this esteemed body. As you know, the first duty given to each legislator in this session is to bring back to our constituents a balanced budget or a budget which continues to operate effectively and efficiently. While this is being debated, we try to craft good legislation that allows every citizen in the State of Nevada a better quality of life.

The 69th Session, to us here, was a consumer's session. In my panorama, my chair-mate from District 8 championed HMO legislation. Behind me, from District 6, Charter Schools were brought forth. In my forefront, District 10, renter and landlord rights were discussed.

In southern Nevada, pool contractors were bilking residents out of hundreds of thousands of dollars by overcharging on deposit-down payments, defective work and timely work construction. The Senate and Assembly took this to task and crafted legislation that you can all take pride in. You did a good job for the consumers. It gave the consumer more rights and protection than they previously had.

The Governor at that time had different ideas about this legislation and vetoed it in the last days after we had left session. Later, in better vision, he saw the wisdom and intelligence of this bill and had the major provisions of this bill placed in state regulations. This allowed the contractors board to have the tools they needed to do the much needed work that had to happen.

Mr. Speaker, at this time, I will not redraft AB 512. I do reserve the right to revisit this issue if it becomes a topic of concern again. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Vetoed Assembly Bill No. 596 of the 69th Session. Governor's message stating his objections read.

STATE OF NEVADA
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER

CARSON CITY, NEVADA, 89701 July 16, 1997

THE HONORABLE JOSEPH E. DINI, Speaker, Nevada State Assembly, Legislative Building, Carson City, NV 89710

DEAR SPEAKER DINI:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit, and without my approval. Assembly Bill 596, entitled:

AN ACT relating to public schools; creating the Incline Village school district; defining "county school district" for purposes of the Nevada Revised Statutes as including the Incline Village School district; and providing other matter properly relating thereto.

After a careful analysis of the issues pertaining to AB 596, it is clear that much of the motivation behind this legislation stems from the belief of many Incline Village residents that the Washoe County School district has failed to adequately address their educational needs. The Governor's Office has received numerous phone calls, faxes and correspondence from constituents in Incline Village expressing their dissatisfaction with the board and administrators of the Washoe County School District.

The most commonly stated complaint is that many residents of Incline Village feel they do not have substantial representation at the school district level. Incline Village accounts for only 3 percent of the student enrollment in Washoe County, but pays 11% of the property taxes that fund schools throughout Washoe County. For this reason, many Incline Village residents have complained that their request for a new elementary school in Incline Village was unfairly denied by the Washoe County School Board in lieu of capital projects in other areas of the district.

I sincerely believe that the support for AB 596 is based on the desire of parents, business leaders and citizens-at-large in Incline Village to provide their children the best education possible. I commend this noble objective, but AB 596 does not serve the best interest of education. I therefore must veto AB 596.

There are several reasons I must veto this bill, and in the interest of clarity, I am detailing them below:

Fiscal Impacts:

My primary concern is that AB 596 would have an adverse fiscal impact on the children of Incline Village. Section 6 states "in a county in which more that one school district exists, the county treasurer shall separately account in the county school district fund for all money received for each school district in the proportion that the average daily attendance of pupils most recently calculated for each school district pursuant to NRS 387.123 bears to the total average daily attendance of pupils who are enrolled in public schools in the county."

According to the Nevada Department of Education, if this bill had been in effect in FY 1996, Incline village's proportion of the average daily attendance would be 2.88% of the total enrollment in Washoe County. The total revenue for the Washoe County School District in FY 1996 for the General Fund and the Special Education fund was $200,505,473. 2.88% of the revenue is $5,774,558. The expenditures attributed to the Incline Village schools in those two funds for FY 1996 totaled $7, 251,920. Therefore, the funding formula in Section 6 would have resulted in a shortfall for Incline Village of $1,469,266 in FY 1996—a $1,114 reduction per student. The projections for fiscal years 1997 and 1998 show that Incline Village would continue to be faced with a shortfall of $1,369,874 and $1,333,732 respectively.

Additionally, the cost per student is greater in smaller schools that larger ones. The high school and middle school at Incline Village are both smaller than the average school for those grades in Washoe County. As a result, the Washoe County School District is currently spending $1,417 more per student for Incline High school and $1,207 more per student for the middle school Under AB596 Incline Village would no longer benefit from the economy of scale that is provided by the Washoe County School District.

Precedence:

Section 2,3C of Assembly Bill 596 states: "The creation of an Incline Village school district will allow the legislature and all other interested parties to consider the desirability of creating school districts in other geographically isolated portions of this state.""

This statement clearly means that one of the purposes of AB 596 is to establish a criterion and a precedent for changing the consolidated county school district system in Nevada. The 1995 Nevada Legislature established the SCR 30 Subcommittee to Study Reconfiguring the Structure of School District. This subcommittee included in its recommendations a method to evaluate proposals for the reconfiguration of school districts that included a comprehensive fiscal review of such proposals and a process for public input. AB 596 was drafted without any formal fiscal review by the Legislative Council Bureau, the Department of Administration or the Nevada Department of Education. Additionally, AB 596 does not allow for any public review of school district reconfiguration proposals.

The SCR 30 subcommittee outlined several factors that should be given careful consideration when reviewing proposals for the reconfiguration of school districts. AB 596 focuses on only one of these factors, geographic isolation. AB 596 establishes a precedent of changing a school district boundary based solely on geographic isolation, but fails to clearly define how this can be measured. Geographic isolation, as the sole consideration set forth in this bill, does not constitute a sufficient rational for de-constructing a consolidated school district system.

Process:

Given the momentous policy consequences of AB 596, it is unacceptable that testimony related to this legislation was heard only in the Assembly Committee on government Affairs, and heard only briefly during the rush to adjournment of the legislative session. I believe the sweeping importance of this bill dictates its thorough hearing before the legislative committees that deal with finance, education, taxation and government.

Conclusion:

I commend the citizens or Incline Village for seeking greater involvement in the education of the community's children, and I encourage them to pursue vigorously every opportunity available to them through existing statute. For example, the Washoe County School District is one of the few districts that has adopted a "shared decision-making" program that provides greater authority and responsibility at the school site, rather than at the central administration or school board level. The elementary school in Incline Village has already been designated as a "shared decision-making" site, and I emphasize this program should be expanded to include the middle school and high school.

Additionally, the 1997 Nevada Legislature passed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8, which encourages the board of trustees of each county school district to create a community advisory board. I urge the Washoe County School District to create a community advisory board in Incline Village to enable this community to have a stronger standing in the decision making process to improve the quality of education for the young people of Incline Village.

Sincerely,
Bob Miller
Governor

Bill Read.

The question was put: "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Remarks by Assemblyman Humke.

The roll was called, and the Assembly sustained the veto of the Governor by the following vote:

YEAS--Gibbons and Brower--2

NAYS-Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Evans, Freeman, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Price, Segerblom, Thomas, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams--40.

Assemblyman Hettrick requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I voted for AB 596 of the 69th Session. I did so because of the conditions which existed at the time in 1997, in Washoe County. I was informed, having not served on the appropriate committee that heard the bill, that the Washoe County School District Board of Education, as well as administrators, were not addressing the concerns of all citizens in all areas of the Washoe County School District. I voted for the bill even though it was not perfect. In large part due to the fact that, as I understood it, the Washoe County School District did not fully participate in the legislative process here in Carson City.

I would say parenthetically that the veto message by the now former chief executive of the state was very well reasoned. Most of the conditions that the former Governor has pointed out in the Washoe County District have changed for the positive. The new superintendent is open and marvelously dynamic. He is a big hit in the business community in Washoe County. He is also a big hit with parents and with students.

The Washoe County Board of Education is, in my opinion, now far more open to the concerns of all persons in the Washoe County community. The administrators similarly are far more open.

In short, the conditions are not perfect in the Washoe County School District but they are at least 100 percent better. I will vote to sustain the veto, and, similar to the last issue, we can always revisit this issue if need be. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Speaker:

Your Committee on Judiciary, to which was referred Assembly Bill No. 72, has had the same under consideration, and begs leave to report the same back with the recommendation: Re-refer to Committee on Commerce and Labor.

THE FIFTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), February 5, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:21 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Goldwater, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Ken Haskins.

Loving Heavenly Father, we commemorate and celebrate Girls and Women in Sports Day, here in the Nevada Legislature. We are reminded of the great lessons that sport teaches each of us: that excellence is worth pursuing and that we would succeed if we would give our all. We pray for these representatives here who have given themselves completely to making this state a better place for everyone to live and for improving the quality of life for we citizens. So bless their efforts today. We pray in the name of our Lord. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 1:23 p.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Quorum present.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Senate Joint Resolution No. 4.

The following amendment was proposed by Assemblyman Dini:

Amendment No. 10

Amend the bill as a whole by adding the following assemblymen as joint sponsors:

Assemblymen Arberry, Beers, Brower, Dini, Goldwater, Leslie, Marvel, Nolan and Parnell.

Assemblyman Perkins moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblymen Perkins, Giunchigliani, Mortenson and Anderson.

Amendment adopted.

Resolution ordered reprinted, engrossed, and to third reading.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that reprinting of Senate Joint Resolution No. 4 be dispensed with and it be placed on the General File.

Motion carried.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 4.

Resolution read.

Remarks by Assemblymen Perkins, Gibbons and Bache.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is a resolution, as you can read, that urges Congress not to enact the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1999. That particular act sites the interim storage here in Nevada and it also revokes all the suitability measures that have been in place for Yucca Mountain, thus far. So, any of the environmental impacts or other scientific reasons that Yucca Mountain may not be a suitable site are thus taken away by the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1999. This resolution will just further proclaim Nevada's opposition to that storage in our state. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. House Bill 45, the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1999, causes me, and many of you, a lot of grief here in Nevada, particularly our children and our families. I think it is important that people in Washington realize that we are people and that we care about the future of our state and the future of our children. With 109 reactors around the country, storage sites that will be transferred to Nevada are such a great risk for other states. Also, with the possibility of us being in a high earthquake area, it is important that we get those "pencil-necked geeks" up there to figure it out and not come here and light up our kids at night. And that's all I have to say. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN BACHE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Senate Joint Resolution No. 4 is consistent with what we did in the 1995 Legislative Session when we adopted Assembly Joint Resolution No. 26, I believe, where we urged Congress not to place nuclear waste either on an interim or long term storage basis in Nevada. We encourage them to kill this act so that they can retain storage at the current facilities. Thank you.

Roll call on Senate Joint Resolution No. 4:

YEAS—41.

NAYS—None.

Excused—Marvel.

THE ELEVENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), February 11, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:13 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Arberry, Carpenter, Collins and Marvel, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Lt. John Van Cleef.

Direct, O Lord, this Assembly, in all of its doings, with Thy gracious hand. And further its members with Thy continual help; that in all works begun, continued and finished, they might know Your wisdom and will for the people of this great state. As they serve the people of Nevada, Lord, may Your hand of health be upon them and their families. We think of Mr. Marvel and his wife as we ask You to restore those who are now ill; sustain those who are struggling with illness; and keep those who are well. We ask You to accomplish this through our Great Physician. AMEN.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 10, 1999

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10:

Assemblyman Williams moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks By Assemblyman Williams.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN WILLIAMS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Carter G. Wilson initiated African-American history week in 1926. As we approach the millennium, it is important for us in Nevada to utilize this time, not so much to acknowledge and celebrate the deeds and accomplishments of African-Americans throughout history, which is long and rich, but more importantly to do all we can to include everybody in our state; to get along; to acknowledge the value of all people – women, children, African-Americans, Latinos, and others; and to make Nevada the great state that we all know it is.

I would urge my colleagues to adopt this resolution and I encourage them to use our legislative agenda to forward the circumstances of all people.

Resolution adopted.

Resolution ordered transmitted to the Senate.

Assembly called to order at 11:06 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Arberry, Collins, and Marvel, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Lt. John Van Cleef.

All Mighty God, giver of all good things, we thank You for the natural majesty and beauty of this land. We thank You for the resources of this great state. We thank You for the men and women who have made and continue to make this state strong. We thank You for the torch of liberty which has been lit in this land. We thank You for the faith we have inherited in all of its rich glory. Therefore, help us Lord, to finish the good work begun. Strengthen our efforts to blot out ignorance and prejudice, and to abolish poverty and crime. And we do continue to lift up, too, those who are absent and ill. We lift up, too, again, Mr. Marvel and pray Your hand will be upon him and that You will bring healing and wholeness to his body. And that You will comfort his wife. We pray for Mr. Collins and ask that You will give him rest and relief as he recovers. We pray for the families of those represented here that they will be strengthened in their loved ones absence. We pray these things in the name of Your Son. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Remarks by Assemblyman Hettrick.
Assemblyman Dini requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:
Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As you know, our colleague Mr. Marvel is in a local hospital, gravely ill. In fact, Mr. Speaker, he had major surgery less than 24 hours ago. One week ago, Mr. Marvel uttered an ethnic slur during a committee hearing in this building. A few minutes later, he publicly indicated that he did not intend to offend anyone with his unfortunate choice of words. Today, a group has gathered in Reno to protest our colleague's use of that ethnic slur and in support of the Hispanic community.

Mr. Speaker, you and I have known John Marvel for many years. We know him to be honest and fair. He is a man of integrity who has worked in these halls for every Nevadan—regardless of their ethnic background. We also know him to be human—capable, as we all are, of making mistakes.

John Marvel is a man of character, willing to take responsibility for his actions and willing to make amends. Until he is well enough to do that, in John's behalf, I would offer a sincere personal apology and deepest regrets for a very unfortunate incident.

In closing, I would ask my colleagues and all Nevadans to pray for John's complete recovery and quick return to this chamber.

Assemblyman Price requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to express my appreciation and I would like to see our body express an appreciation, by sending a letter to the Elko Daily Free Press, for furnishing us with newspapers every day. I think in a state as large as ours, where we are dealing with issues that affect every corner of the state, some 450 miles away, it is commendable that a newspaper actually takes the time and the expense to furnish us with a copy of the paper so we can see what is going on in their area and get their opinions. I think the Elko Daily Free Press should be recognized and I would suggest we show our appreciation for them.

GUESTS EXTENDED PRIVILEGE OF ASSEMBLY FLOOR

On request of Assemblywoman Angle, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Nan Nasbitt and Kelvin Probasco.

On request of Assemblyman Dini, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Sarah LaFrance, Leonard LaFrance and Richard Gomez.

Chief Clerk of the Assembly

THE FIFTEENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 15, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:05 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Marvel, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Bruce Henderson.

On this President's Day of 1999, I choose to read words from President George Washington's first inaugural address and President Abraham Lincoln's Fast Day Proclamation.

First, George Washington: "We ought to be persuaded that the smiles of Heaven can never be expected on a nation that disregards the eternal rules of order and right, which Heaven itself has ordained".

From Abraham Lincoln: "We have grown in numbers, wealth, and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. It behooves us, then, to humble ourselves, to confess our national sins, and to pray for clemency and forgiveness".

Shall we pray. Heavenly Father, as we honor these presidents today, we also take this moment to honor You—their God and ours. Thank You in the name of our Lord. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 12, 1999

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed, as amended, Senate Bills Nos. 18, 19, 63.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Government Affairs:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 7—Proposing to amend the Constitution of the State of Nevada to increase the limitation on the state indebtedness solely to pay the costs of the construction and renovation of school facilities.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 3 of article 9 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. 1. The state may contract public debts; but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exclusive of interest, exceed the sum of two per cent of the assessed valuation of the state, as shown by the reports of the county assessors to the state controller, except for the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenses, as hereinafter mentioned. Every such debt shall be authorized by law for some purpose or purposes, to be distinctly specified therein; and every such law shall provide for levying an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest semiannually, and the principal within twenty years from the passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of said taxes to the payment of said principal and interest; and such appropriation shall not be repealed nor the taxes postponed or diminished until the principal and interest of said debts shall have been wholly paid. Every contract of indebtedness entered into or assumed by or on behalf of the state, when all its debts and liabilities amount to said sum before mentioned, shall be void and of no effect, except in cases of money borrowed to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the state in time of war, or, if hostilities be threatened, provide for the public defense.

2. The state, notwithstanding the foregoing limitations, may, pursuant to authority of the legislature, make and enter into any and all contracts necessary, expedient or advisable for ~~[the]~~ :

(a) The protection and preservation of any of its property or natural resources, or for the purposes of obtaining the benefits thereof ~~[,]~~; and

(b) The improvement, acquisition and construction of facilities for schools, however arising and whether arising by or through any undertaking or project of the United States or by or through any treaty or compact between the states, or otherwise.

The legislature may from time to time make such appropriations as may be necessary to carry out the obligations of the state under such contracts, and shall levy such tax as may be necessary to pay the same or carry them into effect.

Assemblyman Bache moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 42.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 13.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 through 11 and the text of repealed sections and adding new sections designated sections 1 and 2, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. 1. The Legislative Commission shall appoint a subcommittee of legislators to conduct an interim study concerning misdemeanors.

2. The study must include an analysis of:

(a) The existing statutes concerning misdemeanors to determine whether it is feasible to categorize misdemeanors and provide penalties commensurate with the categorization;

(b) Whether it is beneficial to amend the Nevada Revised Statutes to categorize misdemeanors in such a manner;

(c) The effect that categorizing misdemeanors in such a manner would have on the courts of this state, including, without limitation, any increase in the volume of cases handled by the courts and any necessary changes to the jurisdiction of the lower courts; and

(d) Any other matter related to misdemeanors, as deemed necessary by the subcommittee.

3. The Legislative Commission shall submit a report of the results of the study and any recommendations for legislation to the 71st session of the Nevada Legislature.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval.".

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a preamble, immediately preceding the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"WHEREAS, During the 1995 Legislative Session, legislation was enacted to provide categories for felonies; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Revised Statutes currently has only two categories of misdemeanors that are designated as misdemeanors and gross misdemeanors; and

WHEREAS, A study needs to be conducted to determine whether providing categories for misdemeanors and penalties commensurate with those categories would provide more consistency in the criminal statutory scheme; now, therefore,".

Amend the title of the bill to read as follows:

"AN ACT relating to crimes; directing the Legislative Commission to conduct an interim study concerning misdemeanors; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

Amend the summary of the bill to read as follows:

"SUMMARY—Directs Legislative Commission to conduct interim study concerning misdemeanors. (BDR S-173)".

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the amendment.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Senator to the rostrum.

The Speaker of the Assembly welcomed Senator Reid and invited him to deliver his message.

United States Senator Harry Reid delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTIETH SESSION, 1999

Lieutenant Governor Hunt, Speaker Dini, Leader Raggio, members of the Legislature, and guests:

It was 100 years ago that a man by the name of Reinhold Sadler was elected Governor of the state of Nevada. He was the tenth governor of Nevada. He won the election by 63 votes. That sounds like a small number of votes, but really, my election was by a smaller percentage than his 63 votes. History seems to repeat itself. Governor Sadler's election was contested and we this year, when the contest was filed, used the precedent set in the Sadler election to resolve the issue in my election.

I am a student of history. I believe that the lessons that we have learned over the last century can help us find our way through the next century. In addition, when I see how far we have come in the last 100 years, it inspires me to think how far we can go in the next 100—if we only have the courage, the will, and really, the imagination.

In the twentieth century, we saw the United States rise to become the most powerful nation in the history of the world.

During this same century, we saw Nevada grow from a collection of mining camps in a world dominated by the railroad and the telegraph, to the tourism and gaming capital of a world dominated by the microchip and the satellite.

In 1899, only 42,000 people lived in the entire state of Nevada, and most of those people around the Reno, Carson City area. Southern Nevada, even Searchlight, was virtually undeveloped then, and uninhabited. Today, our population is approaching two million people; and southern Nevada is the fastest-growing region, in the fastest-growing state, in our rapidly growing nation.

One hundred years ago, Nevada's population was not only growing but becoming more diverse. The mines beckoned to the people of Europe—the Slavs, the Irish, Italians, and the Greeks. Today, in 1999, our population is more diverse than ever, and a new generation of Nevadans hails from more far-flung corners of the globe, more so than ever before.

Although today's new arrivals have skin of a different color than they did a century ago, they are, underneath that skin, no different.

Where the immigrants who contributed to the legacy and heritage of the 20th century were named Laxalt, Dini, Raggio, Del Papa, and Giunchigliani; in the next century they will be named Sandoval, Herrera, Martinez, Wong, and Tran. But, whatever their names—and whether their families have lived in Nevada 100 years, or 100 days—they share the same dreams and aspirations in common with all Americans.

One hundred years ago, Governor Sadler's first state of the state address reflected discouragement with a state debt of more than $563,000. The Governor despaired that the state would not be able to provide services to its citizens. History does repeat itself.

Our predecessors, a hundred years ago, overcame their doubts for the future and made this century one of the greatest in world history. If anything, we are better positioned for the next century than they were for this one. Therefore, I look forward to working with our new Governor, Kenny Guinn, and this new legislature to help solve problems of the next century. Both the Governor, with his impressive résumé as a school superintendent, corporate executive in both the banking and the utilities field, and as a university president; and an experienced middle-of-the-road legislature, are ingredients for success.

The national economy is undergoing the longest peacetime economic expansion in our history. The federal budget is balanced for the first time in more than 30 years. Violent crime rates are at their lowest rate in 25 years. Unemployment and inflation are at their lowest peacetime rates since I graduated high school. Nevada has been the fastest growing state in the nation for six straight years. No great crisis threatens the nation's security.

This prosperity on the federal level gives us the opportunity to embark in a new era of partnership between all levels of government—one in which our state and federal officials work together, as partners, to share their resources and combine their visions, to address Nevada's problems. This model partnership is based on something I announced two years ago when I addressed this legislature at the Lake Tahoe Summit.

The Lake Tahoe Summit defined a new paradigm for this nation, a new model of partnership, and a new approach to solving the challenges dealing with improving our quality of life. This summit, convened on the shores of beautiful Lake Tahoe, featured the President, the Vice President, five Cabinet Officers—and these five cabinet officers had met with over 1000 people on the ground: two governors of two different parties, four United States Senators, multiple Congressmen and women, two state legislatures, scientists from two University systems, members of the business community, developers, environmentalists, and property rights activists. In his concluding remarks, the President said the concept of working together across state lines, party lines, and ideological lines to preserve the environment and promote economic growth was a model he could apply in Northern Ireland, in the Middle East, and in situations across our country.

Here in Nevada, almost two years after the summit occurred, we are continuing to live by and legislate by this concept of partnership. Today I am proud to announce my plan to join with my friends, Congressman Jim Gibbons, Speaker Joe Dini, and Senator Dean Rhoads, to enact a public lands bill for northern Nevada. Congressman Gibbons, Speaker Dini, Senator Rhodes, will you please stand. And speaking of the benefits of partnership, Jim will you please ask your lovely wife, partner, and Assemblywoman, Dawn Gibbons to stand as well. This body will benefit from her energy and her dedication to public service.

Congressman Gibbons and I will introduce a bill in both the House and the Senate that will allow BLM land in northern Nevada to be sold at auction, with the proceeds to be used to help improve rural areas of the state. It is based on the Southern Nevada Lands Bill we passed last year and we are now in the process of meeting with state, counties, outdoors community, miners, and environmentalists to gain input for this legislation. I have already acknowledged the help of Dean Rhodes, but this is something he has worked on for years. I personally appreciate the interest he has shown. We are going to do something on a national level to meet the demands rural Nevada has.

I ask each of you, especially those of you from Clark County, to work with us to implement this program and help Senator Rhodes and the Speaker on the state level. If we succeed in this endeavor, we will show the people of Nevada—and really the nation—a new framework for cooperation, not only between the two governments, but also between two political parties.

Let us call this unified approach the "Nevada Model." It is a model I want to use on both the national and the Nevada level to improve our quality of life. I used it in my new position as the Assistant Senate Minority Leader when we crafted our agenda this year. One of the cornerstones of this agenda is a bill based directly on The Patients' Bill of Rights, drafted in Carson City by Assemblywoman Barbara Buckley. Assemblywoman Buckley, please stand so we can recognize you for your good work.

Our national Patients' Bill of Rights, modeled on Assemblywoman Buckley's bill, ensures that patients receive the care they have been promised and paid for. It makes doctors directly responsible for care, not bureaucrats and bean counters, and seeks to address all those consumers who are in ERISA plans and thusly not eligible for the benefits in state bills like Assemblywoman Buckley's. It is the only Patients' Rights Bill out there with teeth because it gives patients the right to sue HMOs. Do you know there are only two groups of people who can't be sued in this country—HMOs and foreign diplomats? This enforcement mechanism will not raise costs but it will raise service for millions of Americans.

I will continue to lead efforts to pass the Patients' Bill of Rights this Congressional session and make Assemblywoman Buckley and her health care coalition proud. In addition, speaking of partnerships, this bill is supported by over 200 organizations and also doctors, lawyers, nurses, and patients. Why hasn't it been passed? Because one organization opposes it, the healthcare industry. We will see what will happen when the 200 go up against the one. Maybe we will come out ahead this time.

We based our Patients' Bill of Rights on a Nevada bill, but today here in the Assembly and the Senate, two hearings were held on bills which are based on my national Contraceptive Coverage bill.

Each year there are more than 3.6 million unintended pregnancies in this country, close to half of these end up in abortion. Insurance companies and HMOs cover abortions, vasectomies, and tubal ligations, but a majority of them will not cover contraception.

My federal bill, also known as the Snowe-Reid Bill, requires insurance companies or HMOs who cover prescription drugs to cover the cost of prescription contraceptives as well. Last year, after a tough fight, we passed a smaller version of this bill for federal employees. Today, my wife Landra testified in support of a state bill in the Senate supported by Minority Leader Dina Titus and a bill in the Assembly written by our own Assemblywoman Chris Giunchigliani. It is an incredible honor to have two such skilled legislators working on contraceptive coverage here in Nevada. I ask them to stand and be recognized for their work for equity in prescription coverage. We must make health care equally accessible and affordable for men and women.

We tend to bash health care delivery organizations and insurance companies and most of the time they deserve it, but it's only fair to point out that Sierra Health, a Nevada based company, has extended contraceptive coverage to all their enrollees and we should applaud that.

Another piece of national legislation which is receiving a lot of attention from the White House and members of Congress on both sides of the aisle is my bill establishing a system to conduct background checks for employees of nursing homes. This bill, called the Patient Abuse Prevention Act is modeled on a Nevada law passed last session, thanks to Assemblywoman Vivian Freeman and former Assemblyman Jack Close. Assemblywoman Freeman, please stand.

Nursing home safety is an issue which touches us all, because 43 percent of all Americans will spend some time in a nursing facility sometime in their life. A national system of background checks will help both patients and facility managers keep workers with abusive or criminal records out of long-term care facilities. As the fastest growing senior state in the nation, Nevada is facing the challenges of an aging population earlier than almost anywhere else in this country. By the year 2030, more than 34,000 Nevadans will be over the age of 85. They and their families deserve safe facilities.

And speaking of facilities—thanks in large part to the efforts of Bill Raggio, Lawrence Jacobsen, Governor Miller, Assemblyman Mark Manendo, and many others in this room; plus Nevada's veterans' groups, and the assistance of the federal government, we will finally break ground this year on Nevada's first Veterans' Home. I look forward to working with all of you and Governor Guinn on a second Veterans' Home in northern Nevada. This partnership on all levels of government helped move us to the top of the VA's list for homes last year. This year

Senator Bryan and I look forward to working with Representatives Berkley and Gibbons who both were placed on the Veterans Committee in the House. This is good for Nevada's 250,000 deserving veterans.

Partnership is not only important for our aging population and our veterans but it is also an important concept to be used for the challenges facing our youth. Every day in America, 3,000 children drop out of high school—3,000 a day; not a month or a week, but a day. Nevada, I am sorry to say, has the highest teen dropout rate in the country.

Last year New Mexico Senator Jeff Bingaman and I introduced a bill, which passed the Senate with 74 votes, creating a $150 million national grant program to take local programs, which are working to reduce dropouts, and expand them into districts which need them most. We here in Nevada have experimented with some of these kinds of programs that seem to be working.

One of these local efforts is the "Hola Carson City" program, which encourages Hispanic students to stay in school until they graduate through the creation of a locally produced television show. I have been appearing on "Hola Carson City" for the past four years and I am proud to say that tonight's speech is being taped by these talented young people. Let us give them a round of applause. Nevada has an exemplary program that started here in Carson City on a wish and a prayer and now will be nationally known.

Keeping our children in high school is just the first step. We must also do more to increase the number of Nevadans going to college. Nevada has one of the lowest rates of students attending college in the nation. Only 38 percent of all Nevada students attend college and only 17 percent of them ever graduate. Ideas like the Governor's "Millennium Scholarships" are good starts although questions about how they are funded and who is covered by them need to be worked out here at the state level. The State of Nevada does need a program and I think you have to take a close look at the program the Governor has proposed. With the Governor's experience in education, which I have talked about, we need to take a closer look.

I have been a strong proponent of a similar program on the federal level called "Hope Scholarships," which have been helping Nevada students of every age and economic group attend university, community college, or technical training programs with a $1500 yearly tax break.

My other chief education initiative which is directly based on local, state, and federal partnerships is our school construction bill. This bill will help fund new schools and renovate schools across the country as well as here in Nevada. We have all kinds of problems in Nevada. Take little Lincoln County. They have no economic base. They have schools there which need to be renovated and replaced, but they have no way to do it. If you go to the other extreme with Clark County—it is a rapidly growing community, the eighth or ninth largest school district in Nevada. We need to pass this legislation on a national level. It would pay the interest on bonds taken out by local school districts. The decision where to build schools and when to renovate schools would remain in local hands. The federal government's role would be to free up resources to help fast growing communities and those that do not grow so fast, to keep up with student populations. School construction is the other side of the coin for class size reduction. Our bill could bring more than $70 million to Nevada each year for school construction. Superintendents like Brian Cram are spending more time supervising construction than supervising education.

When it all comes down to it, this "Nevada Model" is really about communities making choices. What kind of Nevada do we want to leave for our children? Last session I ended my speech talking about the importance of saving Lake Tahoe, as Mark Twain said, "the fairest place on all the Earth." The summit not only allowed us to begin the work to preserve this jewel of the Sierras but it gave birth to a process and an idea—the notion of livable communities—the notion that communities can come together and work in partnership with all levels of government and with the private sector to set their own directions for growth and improvement.

One group who has come together in such a manner, has done so to save Walker Lake and the Walker River. In addition, they understand this idea. They have two challenges: to preserve Nevada's agricultural greenbelt and save a lake of which there are only 22 like it left in the entire world. Interior Secretary Babbitt has recently visited Walker Lake and pledged federal resources and assistance. He has also pledged to honor the Lake Tahoe model that we have set up and to work with all interested parties.

I ask each of you to support these efforts to save Walker Lake. But I have to comment: each of you speak of the importance of states rights; why then is it necessary for the federal government to save Walker Lake? Shouldn't that be the responsibility of the state? The federal government is here because the state has defaulted on its responsibilities.

In southern Nevada, we are presented with a perfect opportunity to put the concept of "livable communities" to the test. As Las Vegas, Henderson, North Las Vegas, and their suburbs break records for growth, I want to make sure that growth doesn't break us. To protect our nation's quality of life, we need to advance smart growth and livable community policies that are driven by state governments in partnership with the federal government—that's you and I. I encourage each of you to make these issues your top priority. If we manage our growth responsibly, we will manage our future responsibly.

Proper regional planning combined with financial incentives and prioritizing of funds must be employed to ensure that our roads, highways, mass transit systems, waterways, and schools can keep pace with growth. In doing so, we will connect and protect our communities into the next century and have Nevada continue to be the envy of the world.

I have secured a commitment from Republican Senator John Chaffee of Rhode Island, the chair of the Environment and Public Works Committee, to hold a field hearing in Las Vegas this spring on "livable communities" and the specific legislative proposals we will be pushing through Congress. Vice President Gore has also committed to coming to southern Nevada in May to meet with local and state officials on strategies for dealing with urban sprawl and ways to promote livable communities on the national agenda.

A few weeks ago, Governor Guinn stated that we must ask ourselves what the proper role of our government is going to be. I could not agree more. We need to decide what our priorities are.

Will ours be a state that fulfills its commitments to its people—to our children, to our seniors, to our veterans, and most of all, to those ordinary, everyday citizens who work hard, play by the rules, sacrifice for their families, and who form the backbone of this state? Or will ours be a government of auditors and accountants, focused only on a bottom line that may measure the costs of modern society but which ignores the very things that make life in that society worth living?

As a former lieutenant governor, and a former assemblyman, a county board member, and a city attorney, I know that this Legislature and our new Governor can meet virtually any challenge. However, in doing so, we cannot sacrifice the very things that make our state livable and valuable.

One hundred years ago, our predecessors were drawn to Nevada by the lure of precious metals. We still have a booming mining industry; but today, even more people are drawn to the state by the lure of something far more precious, and more elusive: a sense of security, of community; a better way of life. Let us, today, resolve together to make the attainment of that better life our legacy for the next century. Thank you.

THE SIXTEENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), February 16, 1999

Assembly called to order at 4:23 p.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Marvel, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Bruce Henderson.

Father, we began this week with a day to celebrate love. Love, an odd thing to mention in state government. Allow me today, Lord, to request a spirit of love, joy, and peace in these chambers as we go about our daily business. Thank You. I pray in the Name of the One who taught us, "Love one another as I have loved you." AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Collins and Williams as a committee to invite the Senate to meet in Joint Session with the Assembly to hear an address by United States Senator Richard Bryan.

The members of the Senate appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker invited the members of the Senate to chairs in the Assembly.

IN JOINT SESSION

At 4:53 p.m.

President of the Senate presiding.

The Secretary of the Senate called the Senate roll.

All present.

The Chief Clerk of the Assembly called the Assembly roll.

All present except Assemblyman Marvel, who was excused.

The President of the Senate appointed a Committee on Escort consisting of Senator Titus and Assemblywoman Segerblom to wait upon Senator Bryan and escort him to the Assembly Chamber.

The Committee on Escort in company with The Honorable Richard Bryan, United States Senator from Nevada, appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Senator to the rostrum.

Mr. Speaker welcomed Senator Bryan and invited him to deliver his message.

United States Senator Richard Bryan delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTIETH SESSION, 1999

Her honor, the Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker, Majority Leader Raggio, members of the Legislature, guests and my fellow Nevadans. This will be the last legislative session of the century. A new millenium awaits us with different challenges; but pausing to reflect for a moment, if one goes back a century ago, one sees how different the challenges were that our state faced at that time.

No state in the Union has been more dramatically transformed in the past century than Nevada. A century ago, Nevada was struggling to maintain a population which was barely reaching 40,000 people. The fabled riches of the Comstock Lode had faded from view and they were tough times indeed. How different is the twentieth century and the twenty-first century that we are about to embark upon.

In 1899, it was the Nineteenth Session of the Nevada Legislature, there were 15 senators and 30 members of the Assembly. May I assure you, my friends, that not all wisdom is a product of the twentieth century. They were able to complete their endeavors in 54 days and enact 102 pieces of legislation. Perhaps this is an instructive message for all of us who are part of the legislative process.

These are extraordinary times for the nation's economy. We are amidst the ninety-fifth consecutive month of economic expansion—the largest peacetime expansion in the nation's history. If ten years ago, when I left for Washington, D.C., I had said there would be a budget surplus at the national level ten years later, I believe a fellow with a net and white jacket would have been sent to promptly dispatch me. It is something none of us foresaw. A decade ago we were talking about budget deficits of $292 billion annually. Today our budget surplus is $70 billion, sort of.

I have been privileged to serve as your governor. I understand that the politics of surplus may be even more daunting than the politics of shortfall. Now there is a great hue and cry in the nation's capitol as to how we should spend the money. To the right of center, there is a great ground swell building to give tax cuts across the board. That has enormous political appeal. All of us in this chamber who hold elective office understand that none of us is penalized when we say, "Look, elect me. I want to reduce your taxes." That has a favorable reaction. We are also not unaware that there are unmet needs in our state as there are in the nation. There are many programs that may be advanced and others which can be enriched; it is an enormous temptation. I would hope that we could resist that temptation. We do not know how long the economic expansion may continue. There is no short-term prospect for any economic turn down; but the reality is, the business cycle has not been repealed.

We have an opportunity. That opportunity can profoundly affect each of you. Social security, Medicare and Medicaid programs consume a vast percentage of the federal budget. Because of longer longevity and because of the advent of 76 million Americans born between the years 1946 and 1964—the so call "baby boom generation"—social security will be under enormous pressure. In the year 2032, if we do nothing, social security benefits will have to be reduced by 25 percent. Medicare, upon which 40 million Americans depend for their health coverage, faces an even shorter-term prospect of running into financial problems. Medicaid, in which you participate with us, and which has an enormous impact on your budget, has problems as well.

We have an opportunity—it seems to me, having emerged from the travails of the past month which have engulfed us in the Senate and the nation— to work together in a bipartisan way; Democrats and Republicans, the White House, and the Congress, to sustain and preserve the financial integrity of social security and to restore the solvency of Medicare. If we respond to that challenge and exercise a little financial discipline, the challenges that await you with Medicaid and other health related expenditures will be eased considerably.

Looming out on the horizon are some issues that have a federal genesis that I want to talk with you about—issues which pose some challenges for us. The National Gambling Study Commission is a commission that did not have its genesis by request from state legislatures such as ours in Nevada. It was not requested by any municipal governments. It was not requested by any outpouring of local or state leadership. It was a proposal which was generated by those who define gambling as a moral issue. The commission will be reporting to the Congress this year. I do not know what the report's contents may be, but gaming looms large on the economic horizon in America.

Having left the confines of Nevada, 48 states now have gaming in some form or another. Only Hawaii and Utah do not. The report of the National Gambling Impact Study Commission could have a significant impact on our economy.

No one is this chamber is unmindful of Proposition 5 and what its impact may be upon us. California is the largest source of tourism for both northern and southern Nevada. Indian gaming is proliferating. There has been a misguided attempt by the Secretary of Interior to suggest that he has the power, under the law, to supersede a state's governor in his negotiations with a gaming tribe—that he can define what the terms of that compact may be. Nothing could be more potentially dangerous for us. Nothing represents a more unsound policy.

The 1988 Indian Gaming Regulatory Act was enacted with the premise that Native Americans should have the same opportunity as any other American to participate in gaming ventures, so as along as it was consistent with the law of the state. Utah and Hawaii, states without gaming, should have no tribe able to negotiate any kind of gaming activity. We were successful in the last session of the Congress to add such an amendment to the appropriation bill. I will do so again in this session of the Congress. It is of critical importance to us.

Let us talk for a moment about air service. One of the critical arteries of commerce for our state is tourism revenue with the millions of tourists coming to Nevada. At a meeting this morning at the Reno airport, I talked about some of the challenges that are faced in northern Nevada. The acquisition of Reno Air by American Airlines has put into question whether or not the only air service that we have in northern Nevada from Chicago to Reno, currently provided by Reno Air, will continue. I indicated as a follow up to a meeting in Dallas, that American Airlines has reassured us that they will maintain and continue that service. That is extremely important for the economy of northern Nevada.

In southern Nevada, the challenge has also been to generate additional air traffic. At a time when the economic expansion has made it more economic, in terms of dollar alignment and budgets, to use air service for business travel rather than for recreation, we need every plane that can to fly into our airports in Nevada.

The so-called "perimeter rule" which was a creation of the Congress in 1986, prevents an airplane from departing Washington National and traveling further than 1250 miles. Conversely, this rule prevents an aircraft which originates beyond the perimeter of 1250 miles from departing and arriving at Washington National. This was a creation of the Congress we need to repeal. Senator John McCain chairs the Commerce Committee on which I serve as a member of the Aviation Subcommittee. This past week, legislation was passed out of the Commerce Committee that will amend the perimeter rule. It will permit direct flight service from Washington, D.C., to Las Vegas' McCarran International Airport. That is something which is going to be critically important to help fill those thousands of new hotel rooms that are coming on line in southern Nevada.

We all know—those of us who travel frequently by air, and all of you do— what the congestion at the nation's airports has meant in terms of providing basic creature comforts for travel. More frequently, passengers are being bumped; airline schedules have been delayed; and there is difficulty in getting fare information or understanding how your frequent-flyer miles are going to be handled. Last week I introduced what a number of colleagues and the Commerce Committee are calling, a "Passenger Bill of Rights." It states that the nation's airlines must inform you if you are being booked on a flight which is overbooked, and your baggage must be delivered 24 hours after your arrival. This does not seem unreasonable to me. They must fully provide you information about fare structures and what options are available to you as a traveler. They must also tell you how they are going to deal with your frequent-flyer miles. This legislation is a must, in my judgment.

Let me say a word about education that is a priority of Governor Guinn and this legislature. It is a priority of the Congress of the United States and of the President. In order to sustain this remarkable economic expansion that I have discussed earlier, we will need an educated work force—a work force that will be able to do the kinds of things that a generation ago were the kind of things you read about in a science fiction magazine. For the great majority of Nevadans and great majority of Americans, that means attention to the public school systems of our state and of our nation.

I am a cosponsor of legislation which in no way seeks to preempt the primacy of state and local school district autonomy, but would do three things. It would help provide an additional 100,000 teachers which, as the demographics indicates to us, will be needed. It would also assist in class-size reduction, something that has been a long time goal shared in this chamber. It would also provide a funding mechanism for new construction. In some parts of our state, as well some parts of the nation, it is not new construction that we need, but the rehabilitation and renovation of an aging school infrastructure. This piece of legislation should enjoy bipartisan support which, I hope, we are able to have.

This morning, under the Governor's leadership, we convened a "Nuclear Summit." As you know, for 17 years I have been in the arena; I know firsthand about the fight; and I have had countless meetings. It is the first time we have ever had the entire delegation—the Governor, the constitutional officers, and key legislative leaders—to design and work on a common strategy. My friends, the nuclear express is moving down the tracks again. Its name is HR 45. It would attempt to situate, as its predecessors did, an interim storage facility at the Nevada Test Site for the storage of high-level nuclear waste. If we lose that fight, the site becomes the de facto permanent waste dump for America.

This in an issue that I am sad to report has nothing to do with science. It was not science which selected us as the only site in the nation to be considered. The science is beginning to come home for us, however; seismic activity seemed like something out of the geologic past but last month there were six significant earthquakes. There have been more than 200 in the last 20 years. More evidence continues to abound that the seismic activity may continue to grow. It is an area which is the third most active earthquake region in the nation. That is the site the nuclear industry has chosen.

Volcanic activity has also been indicated. Current scientific reports indicate volcanic activity much more recently than previously contemplated. There is also news that plutonium, as well as water, has migrated through the geologic formations. This should frighten us all, in terms of the health and safety of future generations of Nevadans.

If science were the only criteria, this would be a contest which would be a winner without any serious heavy lifting. Unfortunately, it is politics that we deal with. The political deck, to some extent, is stacked against us. That is why this summit convened this morning was so terribly important. We need your help in working with your congressional delegation to fund Bob Loux's office, to make sure that scientific work can continue and that we are not out-gunned and out-fought by the nuclear utilities and the Department of Energy, which seem to have endless resources available. Not to provide those resources is to, in effect, unilaterally disarm us. This is not a partisan issue in Nevada. I know of no issue, in the more than 35 years of public service that I have rendered in this state, that has galvanized and unified Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives, rural and urban Nevadans. This is an issue that we can win.

This morning, which has frequently happened, the nuclear utilities and their skeptics planted seeds of doubt. Will the President veto this legislation? I know he said that last year. Well, we got on the phone and here is a letter from the White House; "Dear Dick, I am with you again." I will make a copy of this letter available for everyone. The President's veto commitment is the bedrock upon which our strategy is predicated. There is also encouraging news that Congressmen Gibbons and Berkeley shared with us—they are within striking distance of getting 147 votes, enough to sustain the President's veto. We need your help. I hope that we can count upon you for that support.

Let me move to another issue that was one of our major accomplishments in the last Congress. I introduced in the Senate, and Congressman Ensign carried it in the House, the Southern Nevada Public Lands bill. That bill has the potential of being the most important environmental legislation, Nevada specific, in decades. As many of you know, it involves the sale of BLM lands in the metropolitan Las Vegas area. The proceeds from those sales have been estimated to be at as much as $500 million. Every cent remains right here in Nevada. Five percent will go to help finance the public school system in our state and 85 percent will be used to either acquire additional environmentally sensitive lands, or in southern Nevada to improve facilities heavily impacted by our own growth and millions of visitors each year. Some of these facilities, such as Lake Mead National Recreational Area, the Spring Mountain National Recreational Area, the Desert Wildlife Refuge, the Red Rock National Conservation Area, need to be improved.

And Lake Tahoe, the crown jewel of the Sierra—within its boundaries lies land under the old Santini-Burton Act, which many of you will recall from the early 1980s. The sale of land which occurs in that area—which is smaller than the entire BLM land that is to be sold—will represent approximately $50 million which will go into the Santini-Burton Fund to help fund Lake Tahoe environmental projects.

To use the Jack Nicholson line, "Is that as good as it gets?" No. In the 11 years that I have been in the United States Senate I have devoted most of my time during the summer traveling to rural Nevada with my wife Bonnie and our staff. I understand that in rural Nevada there is a challenge of how to generate economic growth. There is also the prospect that in some counties, where 99 percent of the land in the rural community is owned by the federal government, there can be a limitation on that growth. The Southern Nevada Public Lands bill can be the model to help us move the concept aimed at southern Nevada to rural Nevada. It would provide rural Nevadans with the opportunity to experience the growth that they need and yet, at the same time, receive benefits from the sales of that land. I have asked the Bureau of Land Management, via meetings earlier this year and over the recess period, to look into that and I believe it is going to be possible for us to work out some kind of bipartisan approach which would allow that to occur.

This leads me to the Rural Lands Initiative in Douglas County. How do Nevadans preserve the lifestyle that we all love? The open space? Douglas County is challenged with enormous growth. The Rural Lands Initiative will make it possible for lands to be sold in Lincoln County to acquire a conservation easement in which the ownership of the property is retained by the private sector, but the land is retained in open status. It strikes me as the best of both worlds, and I am committed to work on that as well.

Coming into Washoe Valley every day, as you look to the left and right of Highway 395, you see some of the loveliest scenery in Nevada. It is a part of the Casey Estate. This afternoon we had a meeting with the executor of the estate, the lawyers, and others on how can we acquire it and retain it for public usage. We are working on that challenge, either through legislation to provide some estate tax credit because of the estate's liability, or by some other means. Obviously, sales from the BLM lands under the Southern Nevada Public Lands Management Act would assist us as well.

Let me just say something about my wife, Bonnie, and her involvement in a project that is near and dear and a source of pride to all of us as Nevadans: our national park. As Nevada's First Lady, she was the one who was the honorary chairman and presided over the dedication of those facilities over a decade ago. She is leading a nonpartisan private sector group to help the Great Basin National Park, which needs so many more amenities that are not acquired through the appropriation stream in Washington, D.C. Bonnie, I salute your efforts, even if it means you are not home preparing our dinner each evening. Thank you very much.

Tom Brokaw has a bestseller, The Great Generation. If you haven't read it, get it. It is an extraordinary book. It is a testament to the amazing men and women who were part of World War II and their experience in America. In a sense, it is even a greater testimonial to the veterans of all wars and all times. We have a special obligation to those who have fought and served in the nation's armed services.

Eleven years ago, we did not have a veterans' hospital in southern Nevada and one was not even on the drawing board. We did not have an adequate outpatient clinic. The Ioannis Lougaris Federal Hospital in Reno was very crowded and obsolete. Although I had signed a bill as governor to provide for veterans' cemeteries in Nevada, they were not yet completed—they were still in the construction process. Now, a new wing will be completed later this year at Ioannis Lougaris. We have a federal hospital in southern Nevada and a new outpatient clinic. In Pahrump, a new outpatient clinic is opening. Plans also move forward with a veterans' home, through a joint federal/state partnership. Later this year, we hope to see a ground breaking for a multidenominational chapel at the Southern Nevada Veterans' Cemetery. We need all of you to work together as we try to build a northern Nevada veterans' home that would do honor and justice to northern Nevada veterans. It is a partnership. We will do our share. I hope that we can count on you doing your share for our nation's veterans.

In 1452, Johan Guttenburg perfected movable type. It transformed his time. It hastened the end of a thousand years, from the fall of the Roman Empire, that history records as the Dark Ages. It made it possible for books, education, and learning to spread not only to those who were part of the affluent in society, but to ordinary citizens as well. The Internet is for our time like movable type was in the fifteenth century.

There are enormous educational opportunities—tremendous opportunities in terms of growth. Ten million Americans were on the Internet in 1995; today there are 140 million. The Internet will redefine the way in which we acquire knowledge and the way in which we conduct our business. It is a way of doing things that could not have been dreamed of just a decade ago.

A couple of issues, however, warrant our consideration and I want to share them with you. In the twilight days of the last session of the Congress I was able to put together a piece of legislation working with the online providers, aimed at the various Web sites. There are commercial Web sites, the content of which as parents we would approve, but they target our children for various kinds of products. More significantly, in a survey we found 95 percent of those Web sites were asking children under the age of 12 about family bank accounts, stock accounts, where they spend their time on vacation, and what kind of automobile they owned. The point I am making is that the right of privacy as we have known it in America is today at risk.

It is at risk because computers make it possible to collect, store, and transmit volumes of information at an unprecedented level. So too, it is possible to compile this kind of data that I have discussed with you. We were successful with legislation, the Child Online Privacy Act. Under this legislation, commercial Web sites that target children and children's audiences will be required to get permission from the parents prior to asking the kinds of very personal and invasive family questions that I just discussed.

Two other issues concern us: the theft of identification and privacy. We have an enormous challenge to make sure information that is collected about us is not simply transmitted into cyberspace for anybody to acquire. Under the current law it is legally possible for your bank, your stock broker, and your insurance agent to share all of the financial information about you: when your certificate of deposit is due; what kind of insurance coverage you have; or what is in your stock portfolio. That information has enormous commercial value. Imagine the kinds of vendors that would want certain kinds of profiles, indicating more affluent people who might be receptive to various products which are being sold.

We are doing a financial restructuring act in this Congress, I hope. I will not belabor the time to talk about it at length; but, suffice it to say, the right of privacy needs to be protected. We need to make sure that information you share with the expectation that it remains confidential does so.

Theft of identification is possible. Someone can steal and appropriate your name. A young man in Carson City had the experience where his name, literally, was stolen. The young man who stole this identity married, went into the Army, and ran up a whole lot of debts. The individual whose name was stolen could not get that straightened out. Fraudulent appropriation of an individual's name is part of protecting our privacy, as well. Those will be a couple of priorities I will be working on with a number of my colleagues in a bipartisan way in this coming session of Congress.

Let me conclude by acknowledging—as I have each time that I have appeared before you—how privileged we are to serve. In the history of our state, there have been 1956 state legislators. For the first time in the state's history, all four members of our congressional delegation have had legislative experience. They have sat here, as you have, in this chamber and struggled firsthand with the problems that confront our state.

It is fair to say you represent different parts of our state, different political parties, and different political philosophies. Thirty years ago, when I first became a member of the state legislature, was one of the happiest days of my life. I respect very much the challenges that confront each of you. They are not easy. I would hope that we might, as was the case a generation ago, help instill in the young people of our state that public service, as you and I have chosen, is an honorable undertaking; that what you do each and every day of this legislative session and throughout the year, is to try as best you can to represent the constituents that elect you and to serve the public good. Somehow, we have lost that a little bit, in America. We see a generation of cynics that think unkindly of all, irrespective of party or political persuasion. Discourse and disagreement is what the legislative process is all about, but we ought to respect each other's opinions where we differ.

You have all done a much, much better job than we have done at the federal level. The public elected us, not to quarrel in a partisan sense, not to see us divided in a regional sense, but in a bipartisan way to work in the best interests of the state of Nevada. Those of us who are privileged to represent you in the Congress of the United States receive a similar charge.

I pledge today that we will try to put the divisiveness of this past year behind us. We will work together in a bipartisan way to represent the best interests of our state, to defend it when it's under attack, to advance its cause, and to work in the best interest of America. I know that you, too, will be working in the best interest of the state of Nevada.

Thank you again for the opportunity to address you.

THE SEVENTEENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), February 17, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:05 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Humke and Marvel, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Bruce Henderson.

Lord, In ancient days some of Your people would show remorse and sorrow by wearing sackcloth and ashes. Today, on this particular Wednesday, some of Your children are also wearing those ashes. Whether we wear them or not, please see our sincerity and our repentance. We are sorrowful for our sins, but because of Your love and forgiveness, see our joy and gratitude too. Please bless us in our tasks this day. We thank You in the Name of the One who makes it all possible. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

The President of the Senate appointed a Committee on Escort consisting of Senator James and Assemblywoman Gibbons to wait upon Representative Gibbons and escort him to the Assembly Chamber.

The Committee on Escort in company with The Honorable Jim Gibbons, United States Representative from Nevada, appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Representative to the rostrum.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore welcomed Representative Gibbons and invited him to deliver his message.

United States Representative Jim Gibbons delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTIETH SESSION, 1999

Thank you very much.

Speaker Pro Tempore Evans, Lieutenant Governor Hunt, Governor Guinn, Senator Raggio, Senator Titus, Assemblyman Perkins and Assemblyman Hettrick, members of the Legislature, justices of the Supreme Court, constitutional officers, fellow Nevadans, and friends.

Let me first say that it is an honor for me to be here tonight. As you can imagine, this is a special night for me because my wife, Dawn, is here in the audience as your colleague, to share this moment with me. I am very proud of Dawn and the strong commitment she has made to her constituents and the citizens she represents.

And to all of you friends, legislators and dedicated public servants, Nevada is so very honored and fortunate to have your dedication and commitment as well. No one here doubts that public service is very demanding, time consuming, and often devoid of the thanks from the public you serve. So, we have a good idea about what kind of lives we all lead. That is, unless your spouse is also in politics and then it seems that your life is being directed by Alfred Hitchcock.

You may not believe this, but so far, my legislative career has been a blessing—a blessing mostly because of you, the people who I have had the distinct pleasure and honor of working for and serving with. Many of you are here tonight, and I thank you.

Whether you are a radio station owner from Fallon, a rancher from Elko, a teacher from Las Vegas, or, in the case of our Speaker, a casino owner in Yerington, our political careers may have taken each of us on different paths; but we all share a common bond. Each man and woman in this chamber— no matter how long we may serve in the legislature, no matter how long we may serve in Congress, no matter how long we live on earth—we have just one obligation, and that is to make a difference. And how we make that difference will most likely be affected, either directly or indirectly, by the challenges we each face, whether here in Carson City or in Washington D.C.

Without a doubt, our Nevada congressional delegation faces some tough battles this session, and because there are enormous challenges for our bipartisan delegation, we must all pull together and fight for our state.

For the sake of Nevada's hard working families, we must continue to pull together and work on a common agenda—fighting on issues like nuclear waste, gaming, mining, ranching, farming, education, social security, health care, national defense, and veterans' issues. Trust me, I am not going to talk about all of those tonight. You will be making it home sometime before midnight.

I last addressed the Nevada Legislature in 1997, and I began my speech by discussing one of our most important issues, education.

One of the greatest recent debates that has taken place in Washington D.C. concerns our education dollars and how they can be most effectively and efficiently spent.

Should your money be left in the pockets of Washington bureaucrats? Or should your money come back here directly to Nevada, to classrooms to help our children and their teachers? Should every important decision be left to the red-tape bureaucrats in Washington to develop the plan to educate our children in our schools in Nevada? Or should our parents, our teachers, and our local school board—and you, ladies and gentleman—develop that plan? Let me tell you a brief, personal story about education because I can tell you firsthand that a vast majority of our schools here in Nevada are doing a great job and should be commended.

Two years ago, Dawn and I decided to take our youngest son, Jimmy, to Washington and place him in a local school. He was zoned into a magnet school with 1000 other kids. They spoke 66 different languages in this school and when they posted a notice on a school bulletin board it was in 29 different languages. We found ourselves spending four to six hours every evening with our son, trying to keep him up to speed with the academic level he had when he left Nevada. They had no tests, no homework, and the teachers were unable to communicate to all these children. They did not have a great education like Jimmy had in Nevada. It was because of the great schools we have in Nevada that the decision to bring Jimmy and Dawn back here became our number one decision. Let me say to the good schools we left here Nevada: thank you and we are back home. So, in my opinion.—and unarguably, the biggest and best investment we can make as a nation— is in the proper education of our children.

I was honored and pleased to have been at the Governor's State of the State. Governor, thank you. I believe the Governor got it, and was exactly on point, when he said that the education of our children, today, will determine our nation's place in the world, tomorrow. I applaud your vision of the "Millennium Scholarships" and your continued dedication and commitment to Nevada's young people.

I do envision a national goal on education—a goal that offers every child the best education in the world. A goal that puts you in the driver's seat, a program that lets you— the parents, teachers, schools, and communities in Nevada—accomplish that goal by reaching a higher standard of learning on your own terms!

The legislative specialists in education are right here, this evening, in this room. We have the guidance of leaders like Senator Bill Raggio, Senator Ray Rawson, and Assemblymen Bernie Anderson and Wendell Williams. There are other people here in this audience, as well, who offer and provide their leadership and guidance on our local school boards and in our classrooms. On behalf of my children and all Nevada children, thank you for your strong commitment to provide Nevada's children with a great system of education. And let me say thanks to Nevada's teachers, who are on the educational front-lines every day, who are caught between federal government mandates and tight budget restraints, and yet manage to give our kids a great education.

Just a couple of weeks ago, I had the great opportunity and privilege of visiting some of our teachers and students at several of our schools in Dayton, Reno, Incline Village, and Sparks, to discuss the issues that are important to them. I met with many students and talked to them personally about their desires and their ambitions after graduation. Every one of them was reaching for that star—and after reflecting back on each of those wonderful kids, I thought that it is not a disaster to reach for that star and come up short; but it is a disaster not to have a star to reach for. Our schools and our teachers are helping to put those stars out there for our kids. We should listen closely to their concerns and suggestions. Their concerns were overwhelmingly consistent: we need more resources, money, and more control. And I couldn't agree more. Whether it's a new roof, new books, more teachers, more classrooms, or even more chalk, we must ensure that these determinations are made in our classrooms, not 2600 miles away in Washington, D.C., by somebody who refers to us as "Ne-vah-dans." If we can say that the education of our children is the saving grace for our state, then I think it's safe to say that a proposal to ship high-level nuclear waste to Nevada is our clear and present danger.

You all know the story.

There are 49 states who want to place the most dangerous, toxic substance known to man, in our back yard. It is an area that is clearly not scientifically suited for such a purpose.

The occurrence of several earthquakes near the proposed storage area last month strengthened our scientific arguments that there are numerous inherent dangers in storing nuclear waste in southern Nevada.

Let me take this opportunity to commend Governor Guinn and my colleagues in our bipartisan congressional delegation and all the leaders here in this room for their hard work and leadership in the fight against nuclear waste.

This is an issue that we have vowed to oppose with all our strength. And thank all of you, especially Senator James and Assemblyman Perkins, for the overwhelming vote to send that recent joint resolution to us on nuclear waste. It gave a clear message to Congress that none of us are going to stand idly by while they try to cram this thing down our throats. No, we—and I mean all of us in this room—will not be silenced. We will continue to fight until they get the message.

Just two days ago, the Governor held a critical, bipartisan Nuclear Waste Summit demonstrating our unity and our common desire to work together at all levels of government, to stop the threat of nuclear waste shipments, not just through our communities in Nevada but nationwide. I believe when one of these communities nationwide has an accident with nuclear waste and someone gets hurt, they will realize it is not just Nevada which is at risk.

For a state that boasts the beauty of Lake Tahoe, the Red Rock Canyon, the Toiyabe National Forest, and the Ruby Mountains, we must never toast the beast of a nuclear waste dump.

I have a message for the powerful nuclear industry lobbyist in Washington, D.C.: Nevada will never give in and we will never back down in our opposition to nuclear waste.

I have been talking quite a bit about nuclear waste and how we as Nevadans share common concerns about our safety, our environment, and our economy. Let's look for a moment at the topic of our economy.

Nevadans are very fortunate to have someone like Lieutenant Governor Lorraine Hunt leading our state's economic development and tourism efforts. She has the vision, the energy, the leadership, the charm, and the innovation necessary to meet Governor Guinn's challenge of a stronger commitment to economic development and diversification in Nevada.

As we all know, one of the best ways to attract business to Nevada is to keep government intervention to a minimum. I am proud of our leaders in Nevada, like Senator Randolph Townsend and Assemblywoman Barbara Buckley, who are taking the lead on issues to make Nevada a better place to do business. I know Barbara Buckley isn't here, but I want to thank her for what she's done to protect Nevadans' health care. We're looking in Congress to use her model as a reform for the nation's health care problems. Also, I want to further congratulate her and her husband on their recent announcement of a new child to be arriving later this year. Her efforts here as a legislator, wife, and soon-to-be mother give other young working moms a great role model to follow. Women—they can do so much and so many wonderful things, all at the same time. Our legislature is becoming, I think, closer to the make-up of our population. We are now only second to Washington State in total numbers of women legislators. Guys, the writing is on the wall. The days of the good ol' boys are gone.

During my second term in Washington our efforts will be to protect Nevada's primary industries such as ranching, mining and gaming; and it will also consist of keeping a close eye on the federally-appointed National Gambling Impact Study Commission. As many of you know, this controversial commission will be wrapping up its two-year study on the nation's gaming industry. For the better part of those two years, we have closely monitored every meeting and hearing they have held around our nation. Now, in June, the federal commission will issue its findings and report to the President and Congress. I'm sure you'll agree that any decisions about our gaming that are to be made should be made by Nevadans and Nevada's own Gaming Commission with common sense people like former state Senator Sue Wagner and Brian Sandoval, and not, as I've heard, some "pencil-neck geek" in Washington.

It is my hope that the full commission will not fall victim to those who would paint a negative image of our successful gaming/entertainment industry. Nevadans are very fortunate to have two highly respected members on this commission—great Nevadans like Bill Bible and Terry Lanni. They have done an outstanding job on this commission, and their distinguished service will help ensure that this report is not biased against the gaming industry. No one doubts that there are some politicians in Washington who would try to use this report against the industry. I want to assure you I will forcefully fight any attempts to tax or regulate the gaming industry on the federal level. That is a state issue.

Let me say that same enthusiasm goes for our mining industry as well. Along with Senators Harry Reid and Richard Bryan, we have fought diligently and stood steadfast in our commitment to the mining industry and its support services. With mining being the second largest industry in our state, it becomes imperative that we work together to defeat the Administration's proposals, such as repealing the percentage depletion tax allowance, or the creation of unnecessary and burdensome regulations, or new tax legislation that would essentially end mining in Nevada as we know it.

In an effort to generate across-the-board support for these important mining issues, I have reinstituted the bipartisan Congressional Mining Caucus, which was originally started by my predecessor, Barbara Vucanovich. The Congressional Mining Caucus was established to educate members on regulatory and legislative ideas and how they impact the mining industry. We want to establish a strong presence for mining in Congress, one that not only supports the mining industry, but also suppliers, mining equipment manufacturers, and support services members. This caucus will serve as an educational and informational resource center for all the members of Congress, and it will provide a much-needed forum to address the present and future needs of the U.S. mining industry.

And, our final goal is to promote policies that balance our economic, political and environmental concerns. We must care for the public resources and we must care for the public lands that make up our great state.

Last Monday evening you heard Senator Reid share with you our joints efforts to create the Nevada Lands bill. This legislation will change the landscape on how Nevada deals with federal bureaucracies on public lands issues. For the first time our rural communities will be allowed to identify and make available for sale, specific lands needed by northern Nevada cities and towns for growth and economic development. Cities like Wendover, Elko, Winnemucca and Tonopah.

These cities today and many other rural Nevada communities are suffering, because they do not have the land to grow, nor do they have the tax base from private property to adequately fund their schools, their police and fire protection, judicial system, roads or even basic health care services. Well, that is all about to change; with your help we will forever change the landscape of Nevada.

I want to take just a minute or two to talk about our armed forces this evening. As we look to protect our state's economic interest, we must also pay attention to protecting our country's national security. You all know of my commitment to strengthening our national defense has never been higher. Providing our young men and women in the military with the very best training and equipment is paramount on all our minds. When they are called upon, we can all be assured they can do their job, and more importantly, return home safely. I have the distinct experience and distinct privilege of seeing both sides of the coin. Having served in the military and now in Congress, I know firsthand the real commitment that it takes to defend our nation. As a member of both the House Armed Services and Intelligence Committees, I see firsthand the rings and flaming hoops that we must jump through to find the necessary funding for our military men and women, so that our servicemen and women at Nellis, Fallon, and Hawthorne have the resources to do their jobs.

One national security issue that hits home is terrorism. According to a recent press report, Hoover Dam is the third most likely strategic target in a nuclear or biological attack. Ladies and gentlemen, if you haven't thought of it before, that puts Nevada's largest and most populated community, Las Vegas, right at the center of the "bulls-eye." I am committed to protecting that "bulls-eye" from whatever threat may arise. As a member of the Intelligence Committee, I will work to see that our intelligence agencies have the resources to identify any hostile military or terrorist intentions, and to prevent any such event from ever occurring.

Nevada's contribution to this nation's defense and military strength also includes the research and fine work developed at the Nevada Test Site. Let me also point out my appreciation to Secretary Bill Richardson and the Department of Energy, for their plans to maintain the Nevada Test Site in a state of readiness. It is imperative that we preserve our nation's role as a world leader—with the solid commitment to the stockpile stewardship and the testing program at the Nevada Test Site, we can be assured this nation will remain the number one leader in the world.

We live in a wonderful state, in many ways in a wonderful time, with many great people who have given and sacrificed a great deal so that we may have brighter future. Let me take a moment to tell you about a friend named Ron Garside, who has made many sacrifices to make our lives worth living.

You see, my friend joined the army when he was 21. He joined the Rangers and was immediately sent off to fight in Vietnam. While there, he was wounded three times by enemy grenades and mortar shells. After recovering from his wounds, and undaunted by the experience, he returned to Vietnam three years later for his second tour of duty. Shortly after his return, he was again wounded when one of his fellow soldiers stepped on a land mine. Six months later, back on the line, he was wounded again during a nighttime attack by the Viet Cong. Sadly, rather than receiving a hero's welcome when Ron Garside returned home he was greeted by angry crowds of antiwar demonstrators. Despite his physical injuries, Ron continued to serve the public for another 17 years as a law enforcement officer with the Department of Prisons. He has done far more that just serve his country, his state, and family; he has helped build a better future for you, for me and for all our children. So tonight, I ask you to join me, to give hero's welcome to a brave Nevadan. A man of distinction and a distinguished legend of valor with five Purple Hearts, Two Bronze Stars, Two Air Medals, the Combat Infantry Badge and the Vietnam Gallantry Cross, Mr. Ron Garside.

Like Ron, and many others in this room who have served this county, our nation's veterans deserve more than just our recognition. They have earned the care and attention that our nation promised them. As a newly-appointed member of the House Veterans' Affairs Committee, I will work hard to protect the benefits that my fellow veterans have justly earned and deserve. Our nation's servicemen and women deserve the highest quality of health care. No veteran should have to wait six months just to see a doctor. No veteran should be denied medical care for any health problems that arise out of their service. Furthermore, we must change the law to permit, rather than deny, career military veterans the right to receive disability compensation and military retired pay without an offset. Many of you here tonight, like Senators Jon Porter and, of course, Lawrence Jacobsen, have fought to locate a veterans' home in southern Nevada, and it is my hope that someday soon we will be able to provide a similar home to our northern Nevadan veterans as well.

The issues I have addressed with you tonight are important to us all as Nevadans. Of course, accomplishing these goals will require courage; yet, it is our duty to demonstrate our grit and our fortitude and just get the job done. Nevadans have a lot to be proud of, and I am certainly proud to be a Nevadan. And I am even more thankful that I am part of this extraordinary and unique state that has so much to offer. I ask that you join with me in working toward our common goals—not just as politicians and legislators, but as colleagues, and neighbors, and most importantly as Nevadans.

I would like to close my remarks tonight in honor and tribute to two wonderful people who have spent a lifetime in service to this nation and to this state, Richard and Bonnie Bryan. Both Richard and Bonnie have been leading the way on important issues in this state for decades, whether here in the Assembly, or as the attorney general, or governor, or as a U.S. senator. This state and all of us owe them a great deal of gratitude and thanks for their service. I look forward to working with him in the next two years on even greater and bigger things, making Nevada a brighter place to live.

And finally, I would like to thank you for giving me the opportunity to be here tonight. I wish each of you well in this, the 70th Legislative Session of Nevada. Remember, together, we can make a difference. Thank you and God bless each and every one of you as you work to build a better and brighter future for all Nevadans.

Senator O'Connell moved that the Senate and Assembly in Joint Session extend a vote of thanks to Representative Gibbons for his timely, able and constructive message.

THE NINETEENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), February 19, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:30 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Humke, Marvel and Williams, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Bruce Henderson.

I once asked my then school-aged daughters their favorite day of the week. Expecting them to say it was Saturday, I was surprised when they told me that their favorite day was Friday. I believe they responded that way because of the idea of expectation, promise and hope for great things to come on the weekend. So, God, here we are, and it is Friday. On this our nineteenth day here, we still have hope and expectations. May it not diminish as the time wears on, and may this weekend offer us rest and resuscitation. For after all, You took a day of rest too.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1.

Resolution read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Bache, Von Tobel, Carpenter, Goldwater, Beers, Leslie, Neighbors, Gibbons, Hettrick and Anderson.

Assemblyman Neighbors requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

I rise in support of Assembly Joint Resolution No 1. For the past three years, I have been working on the Nellis Air Force Base lease renewals and as a member of the Nevada Standing Public Lands Committee, these leases were discussed on two different occasions; with officials in Washington, D.C. and during committee hearings in Reno. I have discussed this issue with our congressional delegation on two occasions and have met with Senator Reid. I believe that a time limit of 15 years, not 25 years—as requested by the Air Force, pursuant to the 1986 Military Withdrawal Act—is sufficient. Eighty-seven percent of Nevada's land is controlled or under management of the federal government. I think to extend the lease to 25 years or beyond, to an indefinite withdrawal of millions of acres, is an unconscionable disregard to the citizens of this state.

Just last week we heard The Honorable Congressman Gibbons, on the Floor, indicating that our many rural areas are landlocked; they have no tax base. He would be working in Washington, D.C. to free some of that land, not take it indefinitely off the rolls.

There is no question that the training on the range plays an important roll in the national defense. Bomb impact areas—hot areas—will always be off limits to the public. My efforts of the past three years have been to urge the Secretary of Defense to release to the Department of Interior the western portion of the Talichi Mining District. This is 50,000 acres about 10 miles north of Beatty, Nevada. The University of Nevada was commissioned by the Air Force to do a geologic study of that area. It took three years and the results were very, very positive. The Talichi Mining District got its start around the turn of the century. It has never been drilled. It's about three miles off the fringe. It generated $1 million at that time based on the price of gold in 1820. Silver was 20 cents an ounce. I think it's a highly mineralized area, as are other areas of the Test Site.

I remind this honorable body that during the 1995 Legislative Session, Senate Joint Resolution 25 was sent to Washington, D.C., supporting release of land in this district—not total and indefinite taking it off the rolls.

Finally, Nye and Lincoln County commissioners, through an oversight I'm sure, were never contacted regarding the proposed indefinite withdrawal of the land. I would hope that in the future the local governments would be contacted and involved in the decision making process that affects local areas. Thank you. I urge your support on Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. You know, when you spend two or three days in the hospital, the first two or three days you are covered with a little decorum; but after four or five days you lose just about all your dignity. Your body is like an open book—I found mine not to be very interesting reading. When you are lying in the hospital you think of all the support you've had from people, like you that are here, the Legislative Counsel Bureau, and the general public. I would like to think of something really profound and deep to say describing how much gratitude that I have in my heart, for the interest, love, and friendship people have shared with me and Willie. I think when it comes right down to it, all I can say, sincerely, to each and every one of you, is thank you from the bottom of my heart.

Thank you again, Mr. Speaker. Apparently, I was guilty, maybe somewhat, of an indiscretion. I did not really mean for it to be taken that way. I sincerely would like to apologize to anyone that I may have slurred. It was not done intentionally. I think around these halls, every once in a while, we need to lighten up a bit. This was, in all good faith, what I was attempting to do. It certainly was not to hurt anyone's feelings. I feel very, very strongly that I have been raised a gentleman. I shall die a gentleman. I never in my life intentionally try to hurt another's feelings. Thank you.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that the Assembly recess until 4:45 p.m.
Motion carried.

The President pro Tempore of the Senate and members of the Senate appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker invited the President pro Tempore of the Senate to the Speaker's rostrum.

Mr. Speaker invited the members of the Senate to chairs in the Assembly.

IN JOINT SESSION

At 5:04 p.m.

President pro Tempore of the Senate presiding.

The Secretary of the Senate called the Senate roll.

All present except Senators Coffin, James and Townsend, who were excused.

The Chief Clerk of the Assembly called the Assembly roll.

All present except Assemblymen Angle, Gibbons and Marvel, who were excused.

The President pro Tempore of the Senate appointed a Committee on Escort consisting of Senator McGinness and Assemblywoman Ohrenschall to wait upon The Honorable Robert Rose, Chief Justice of the Nevada Supreme Court, and escort him to the Assembly Chamber.

The Committee on Escort in company with The Honorable Robert Rose, Chief Justice of the Nevada Supreme Court, appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Chief Justice to the rostrum.

The Speaker welcomed Chief Justice Rose and invited him to deliver his message.

Chief Justice Rose delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTIETH SESSION, 1999

Senator Raggio, Speaker Dini, senators, assemblymen and assemblywomen, my old friend Lawrence Jacobsen, our special guests, and ladies and gentlemen.

Tonight, it is my pleasure to report on the state of the Judiciary for the state of Nevada, a branch of the government that receives less than one percent of the state's General Fund budget. When we are important, we are very, very important. I am happy to say that the picture I am to paint is positive, from top to bottom. That is not to say that the courts of Nevada do not have their problems, especially with the problems presented by the unprecedented population growth we have experienced. But it is not the problems that you have in life, but rather how you deal with those problems that really counts; and your Nevada courts are handling the problems very well.

Before I proceed further, I would like to introduce to all of you my colleagues who have come today to share with me the State of the Judiciary. First is Justice Cliff Young and his wife Jane, second is Justice Bill Maupin, third is Justice Miriam Shearing, next Justice Deborah Agosti, then Justice Myron Leavitt, and finally Justice Nancy Becker, and my wife Joline.

Myron and I were each Lieutenant Governor and have served in state service a number of times for over 20 years. We finally arrived today. I'm glad I have an opportunity to give the State of the Judiciary; I hope Myron gets to give this address in the coming years of the Supreme Court.

I would also like to remind you of the reception we are holding in your honor immediately following this special session.

The mission of the judiciary is to provide the public with a system for dispute resolution—a system that decides each dispute with the appropriate result in a fair, user-friendly process, and in a reasonable amount of time. However, our judicial system has some features that were in it from the beginning that now present some challenges.

The judicial system in America was developed from the English model that was adversarial in nature; dependent on attorneys and judges to resolve cases; and placed great reliance on judgment by one's peers, the use of juries—a wonderful, but cumbersome process. It probably is the best system of justice in the world, but also one of the most time-consuming and expensive ever devised.

As we review the state of the Judiciary, we see our courts attempting to make the system more user-friendly, less expensive to the parties and taxpayers, and more expeditious. The two tools our courts are using are mediation and arbitration, to resolve controversies, and technology in the operation of the courts.

Mediation, and to a lesser degree, arbitration, have many benefits over confrontational litigation. First, it is the parties exploring a settlement with a neutral third party—a more friendly process that often achieves good results. Second, the cost is almost always much less than litigation with attorneys. Third, the time taken to mediate is much less than having your case heard on a busy court calendar. Fourth, since both parties must agree to the settlement, there is usually much less anger or disappointment than when a court declares a winner and a loser.

We have seen mediation used effectively as an adjunct settlement process to our justice and municipal courts which are the courts that handle all traffic and misdemeanor violations and small claims up to $7500. The mediation process assisting these courts is called the Neighborhood Justice Center in Clark County. The initial funding was provided by the 1991 Legislature. The center provides community mediation in all its forms, and people who seem destined for small claims court are informed of this process. Lower court judges also refer certain cases to the center. This program is a welcome addition to the dispute resolution process, helping relieve the case load in our lower courts, and hopefully it will spread to a process throughout the State of Nevada.

In the family court division of district court, the services of social workers and family counselors have long been used to evaluate children and their parents and make recommendations to the family court about child custody and visitation. The family courts in Washoe and Clark counties have now instituted a mandatory mediation program that resolves child custody cases in an attempt to resolve the disputes through mediation. This was mandated by your legislation in 1997 and implemented by court rules. Since beginning in October 1997, 1435 families have been referred to the service in Clark County and 1133, or 70 percent, have resulted in mediated custody agreements. This program is working.

In many family law disputes, one or both of the adult parties are not represented by an attorney. In Clark County, 44 percent of the parties who appear in family court do not have legal representation. This means that one or both parties are disadvantaged because they do not have assistance of an attorney or know the law or the court procedures to follow. By having a process that informs people who cannot afford an attorney of their legal rights and procedures, the parties and the family court are better served. This process exists in the Washoe County family court. On average, this program assists 380 pro per litigants each month.

The same type of program is planned for family court in Clark County and will be called the Self Help Center. Part of the staffing will be provided by students at the Nevada Boyd School of Law. This is a good example of the legal profession's effort to help those who cannot afford an attorney and to make the court system as user-friendly as possible. It is interesting to note that this project has had the full support of the state bar association, the family court, and legal aid organizations. This is in stark contrast to some states where this proposal has been vigorously opposed by the legal profession on the grounds that it could amount to the illegal practice of law or be in direct competition with attorneys.

At the district court, there is a mandatory arbitration process that you have set forth in law and we have mandated by rule for all civil disputes having a reasonable settlement value of under $40,000. This process has the parties appear before an experienced attorney and present the facts and claimed damages in a hearing. The arbitrator makes his decision and either party can request a jury trial before a district court judge, but face penalties if not bettering their position. The attorney-arbitrator is paid on an hourly basis up to $500 per case. In Clark County, about 65 percent of the civil, non-family-law, cases are diverted to this program and only 15 to 20 percent go on to a full district court trial. This means that 50 percent of the civil cases before the general jurisdiction courts in Clark County are settled by this program. Similar results are reported from Washoe County. This court-annexed arbitration program is a major settlement tool and one reason why neither Clark nor Washoe counties will be asking for additional general jurisdiction district court judges this session. There is no doubt that mediation and arbitration has helped the Nevada court system resolve controversies and is now an integral part of our justice court system.

The second trend we see in the Nevada courts is the use of court technology in processing cases and producing reliable court records as a by-product. This is the coupling of technology with modern court management principles. It is usually done by developing a system of computers and software that tracks the process of each case through the court system. These systems are usually called "case management systems," and when designed and installed, help the court to more effectively process its case load and keep reliable records. Most of the larger court systems have their own case management system. Boulder City Municipal Court just installed such a system, and the family court in Clark County is presently designing its own system and hopes it will be operative next year. We are taking every step to ensure that the technology installed is compatible throughout the state.

I reported to the Senate Finance and Assembly Ways and Means Committees earlier last month, the Nevada Supreme Court finally signed off on its own fully operational case management system which we began eight years ago. We have entered the twentieth century in regards to technology just in time. I would like to thank our Court Clerk, Janette Bloom, for spearheading this project, and sticking with it for eight long years. This demonstrates that the courts at all levels are committed to use technology and court management practices in their operation, and that their funding agencies see the wisdom in such use of technology. But, the fact that each court keeps its own records with the use of technology does not mean we have a uniform statewide system for keeping judicial records. We have had a hodgepodge of judicial record keeping. Some courts keep them, some do not. Some courts keep statistics one way, others another way. Some send their statistics to the Administrative Office of the Courts, some do not. In 1995, your legislative auditors, in dismay, lamented in an audit report concerning the Court that a system for collecting uniform, reliable court records was nonexistent and would probably not be achieved. It stated as follows:

> "Because the AOC has not properly planned the development and implementation of the uniform system for judicial records, little uniformity exists, accurate and reliable information cannot be easily assembled, and there is no assurance that a uniform system will ever be achieved. "

However, the situation was not quite as bleak as your auditors might have thought, and the push for reliable court records now amounts to a quiet revolution in the Nevada court system. In 1993 the Urban Court Workload Assessment Commission was formed to study the operation of the courts in Clark and Washoe counties. Since I had pushed this idea when I was chief justice, I served as chairman, and the commission took on the shorthand name of the "Rose Commission." One of the major concerns of the commission was that reliable court records were not kept on a statewide basis. The commission was made up of mostly lay people from throughout the state and was a group of 50. There was great input throughout the state and mostly from those who were not lawyers. The commission report recommended that the Nevada Supreme Court create the Division of Planning and Analysis to develop a system for collecting reliable court statistics and use modern court administration practices and technology to plan for the future. You responded to our request by creating the division with three positions.

Some people might ask why the emphasis on reliable court statistics. To them I give three reasons. Reliable court records are an excellent management tool. Can you imagine a grocery store or a restaurant not keeping track of its inventory or not knowing what was sold on any given day? The courts must know the number and type of pending cases, the degree of difficulty presented, the need for expeditious handling, and the probable length of time to disposition. All those facts help a judge or court administrator handle the case load in the most efficient way. Reliable court records give a judge or court system the ability to evaluate its performance from year to year and compare it with other states and national standards. It is an excellent tool for self-evaluation. It is a tool for public accountability by the courts. Reliable court statistics show what the courts have been doing—the work that has been accomplished with the taxpayers' money. I know this legislative body looks to performance indicators to evaluate the operation of an entity, and you have many times asked us for certain statistics about our operation or that of other courts. Some we could provide you—a lot we could not. We hope to have all that information in the future.

When Karen Kavanau came aboard last year, the Court and Karen made the establishment of a Uniform System of Judicial Records a priority for the Administrative Office of the Courts. To establish such a statewide system, you have to do four things: determine the technology and know-how that each of the 91 Nevada court systems presently have; establish a uniform method for keeping court records and statistics, an example is the counting of each case; provide all courts with the minimum technology and training needed to keep reliable records; and collect those records from throughout the state and publish them each year.

The first step has been accomplished. The AOC has evaluated the equipment and technical competence of the staff of every court in Nevada. The second step has almost been accomplished. Meetings have been held throughout the state with judges, court administrators, and court clerks; and general agreement has been reached on what statistics should be kept and how they should be counted. The final draft has been prepared and sent to all the courts in the state for comment. It is expected that the Nevada Supreme Court will approve this agreement later this year.

The third phase, providing the necessary technology and training to our courts, will be the longest and most difficult part of the process. This is why we have asked for two additional technical positions for the Planning and Analysis Division. Many courts have adequate technology as is evidenced by the courts that already have case management systems. The additional necessary technology will be funded by local entities and the use of administrative assessment fees. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars of these AA fees that go to the Supreme Court every year are earmarked for this technology and training, but it will not be nearly enough money to do the project statewide in five years without substantial additional local funding. This is why we guard this account jealously and resist the suggestion to spend this money for other purposes.

The fourth phase is the collection and publication of these statistics. Within five years, we should have a complete set of statistics on the operation of all court systems in the state of Nevada; and by doing this, we will go from the state having the worst statewide court statistics to one of the very best—thanks to all the courts' good efforts and your help. This is real progress and very exciting. As an aside, you know you are in your middle years when you think judicial records are really exciting.

By emphasizing reliable court records collected in a uniform manner and management by the numbers, I do not mean to say that they are the end all and be all of the justice system. That still takes a competent judge having sufficient time to hear and consider the parties' claims. But good records help the judge get that time and use it most effectively so that he or she can reach the appropriate result in a reasonable amount of time. Good court management and good records enhance justice rather than detract from it.

At the Nevada Supreme Court, the obvious change is from five to seven justices and the fact that we are breaking into panels to decide the vast majority of cases. We had our first full court hearings two weeks ago, and some of you stopped in to see this historic event. The seven-justice Court will hear only the major cases and do that two or three times a year. The panels will rotate every six months on a random basis and the two panels have now swung into full action and will continue for six months. This will give us the first indication of the number of cases a panel can dispose of in a six-month period. Although you will probably be out of session in July when the first panels end, we will send each of you the results of their operation.

But, even before the Court expansion, we took steps to keep up with our ever-increasing case load. We began two programs with your help during the last few years that have been very successful. The first is the fast track criminal case program, which attempts to resolve most of our criminal cases within six months of appeal to our Court. The rules require an abbreviated record and ten-page briefs by the defendant and the state. The four-person fast track team analyzes the case and proposes a speedy disposition for about 80 percent of the cases. The remaining 20 percent of the cases go on to a full briefing. This program makes a quick disposition of most criminal cases and prevents them from becoming part of the backlog. The second program is the civil settlement program which requires all civil cases, except the termination of parental rights, to go to an experienced attorney who acts as a settlement judge. Shortly after the appeal of a civil case, the parties are required to write a five-page settlement statement and meet with the settlement judge in an attempt to settle the case. When Justice Cliff Young was encouraging us to come to you and ask to implement this program, we all thought that if we could settle 25 to 30 percent of our civil cases, it would be worthwhile. However, we are settling anywhere from 55 to 60 percent of our cases. Last year, 372 were settled. The program is a roaring success and is helping us stay even with the case load. In fact, last year was the first time in 10 years that we have decided more cases than were filed. Both programs are excellent and will continue under the newly expanded Court and the cases will be processed by the panels when settled.

What does the future hold? In a few weeks, the Buckley Report on family courts and its recommendations will be enacted into law. I applaud Barbara Buckley and her committee and this legislature in their willingness to address a serious problem and for being willing to go where judicial angels feared to tread. We at the Court will review the legislation and issue the necessary orders and rules to effectuate the purpose of the report and legislation. This should prevent any problem concerning the issue of separation of powers that might arise. One of the recommendations of the Buckley Report and the proposed legislation is that a strong chief judge be created in family court, and that she, or he, have sufficient authority to see that all judges are pulling their load and to coordinate the operation of family court. The problem arises in multi-judge districts when some judges leave early, take excessive vacation time, do not take overflow trials from other departments, or when judges do not cooperate to run the court system in the most effective manner. It is simply not fair to most of the hard-working judges when one or two judges are not putting in the same work hours or effort as the others. Without a chief judge, the situation goes on without a remedy.

The Buckley Report is not the first time this concept has surfaced. In the Rose Commission Report of 1994, one major section was entitled, "Who's In Charge," and the commission went on to conclude that in the Washoe and Clark County district courts, no one was. The recommendation was that a strong chief judge be selected for a four-year period with sufficient authority to ensure that all judges were working full time and the court's rules and policies for processing cases were enforced.

How can this be accomplished? In two ways, a majority of the judges in a district can amend their court rules to provide for a strong chief judge and ask the Supreme Court to approve it, or the Supreme Court can order that a chief judge be installed in all multi-judge districts of three or more. We have never exercised this authority before, but I have little doubt that the Nevada Constitution gave the Court that authority when it provided in Article 6, Section 19, that "The chief justice is the administrative head of the court system." You, the legislature, and the legislative auditors, have had no doubt that the Supreme Court is the administrative head of the Nevada court system. Just read the laws and audit reports that require us to discharge that role. A clear majority on the Court believes that we are the administrative head of the court system and we have the authority to issue appropriate and necessary orders to the lower court system. What is stopping us from acting? The answer is nothing, except judicial deference to the district courts. But the failure to use properly vested authority is just as bad, and sometimes worse, than the misuse of power.

Therefore, I predict that a strong chief judge system will be enacted where needed, throughout the state, one way or the other. This will ensure that the full measure of judicial firepower is being used to serve the people, that the taxpayers are getting the most bang for their buck, and the most efficient methods are used by all judges to process the cases.

Too often, a death penalty has been unnecessarily delayed by a glitch in the system or mixup in court calendaring. We have a vested interest to see that all cases move expeditiously through the court system, and that certainly includes major cases like death penalty cases. To do that, the Nevada Supreme Court has begun to track all death penalty cases from the time the death sentence is pronounced until the case leaves the state court system. Our new rules provide that the district court clerk notify us when a death penalty verdict is returned. Once we receive this notice, we will track the case through the state court system to conclusion. We believe that this will prevent glitches or unnecessary delays in these important cases.

Legal aid and attorney pro bono programs—these programs will continue to assist those in our society who need legal services but cannot afford them. In 1998, 9374 cases were closed statewide by legal aid, and pro bono attorneys closed 13,425 cases, for a combined total of 22,799. As impressive as this legal effort is, the Nevada Legal Services estimates that only 20 percent of the citizens who could not afford help but had requested it, got it. This need for legal services will continue to go unmet in the future, and communities and the legal profession must redouble their efforts to try to ensure that all Nevadans have the necessary legal services and access to our court system.

Drug court was begun in Clark County in 1992 and established in Reno a few years later. Their sole mission is to break the cycle of crime, violence, and child abuse caused by drug addiction. I will share some statistics on the drug court in Clark County because it is the longest running. The drug court celebrated its 1000th graduate in December 1998. To date, the recidivism rate for all graduates is 14 percent. That is amazing and means that 86 percent of the graduates have gone on to live law abiding, drug-free lives. Thirty-one drug-free babies were born to participants of the program. If a child is born to a drug-addicted mother, care for the infant usually runs around $81,000 a year for three years. By any measure the drug courts in Las Vegas and Reno are a great success, and must continue.

Last legislative session, we asked you to pass the first leg of the joint resolution to establish an intermediate appellate court in Nevada. This was done in conjunction with expanding our court to seven members. Our concern has been that our case load has expanded at an alarming rate and may overwhelm us. Ten years ago, the number of appeals to this Court was just under 1000; today our case load is just under 2000. That is a 100 percent increase in 10 years. In 1996, the cases appealed to our court jumped more than 650. If this trend continues, this means that our case load will double in 10 years to 4000. At that time, I doubt that the present court of seven justices could possibly handle that workload.

However, since we have embarked on the seven-justice court and are sitting in panels to decide most of the cases, we should give this system a chance to operate before submitting the question to the voters. Accordingly, our Court has requested that the joint resolution passed in 1997 be jettisoned and the amendment process for an intermediate appellate court begin anew. This will mean that there will be two full years of panel operation before you consider the second leg of the amendment process in 2001. If we need it, we can proceed. It not, we can proceed no further. But I can tell you, if these six judicial sharpshooters cannot gun down the backlog and the incoming cases, we will know that there is no alternative than to give us more firepower. I think this is a prudent, cost-conscious way for us to proceed and I hope you will agree.

As you see the Nevada Supreme Court before you, it is an enthusiastic group that is working well together both in panels and as a full court. I would be amazed if you see any public bickering or criticism similar to what unfortunately happened in the past. We at the Court have struggled for years in a "winter of discontent." But this grim period has given way to today—a spring of hope and promise—and I truly believe that this optimistic time will give way to a summer of fulfillment and achievement. It may be difficult for some to believe that solid accomplishment can be had on the heels of such dissension on the Supreme Court; but in years to come I believe people will come to understand that, during this period, the Court enacted innovative programs to meet the booming case load, expanded the Court to decide more cases, and took the necessary steps to provide uniform, reliable records showing the operation of every court in the State of Nevada. In the end, when people look back at the judiciary during this period of time, they will say that these were very good years for the Nevada Supreme Court.

Senator Washington moved that the Senate and Assembly in Joint Session extend a vote of thanks to Chief Justice Rose for his timely, able and constructive message.

Seconded by Assemblywoman Tiffany.

Motion carried unanimously.

Chief Clerk of the Assembly

THE TWENTY-FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), February 24, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Angle and Parnell, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Minister Tom Rahme.

Dear Heavenly Father, in the Book of Hebrews we read that the land drinks in the rain that often falls upon it. It produces a useful crop to those who have farmed it and a blessing from God. The land that produces thorn and thistle is worthless and in danger of being cursed and, in the end, is burned. Lord, I would ask a blessing upon this Assembly, that through their efforts they may produce a crop that is not only useful but also meaningful. Above all Lord, a crop that is keeping with your commands. We ask this in Our Lord and Savior's Name. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

THE TWENTY-NINTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), March 1, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:11 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Marvel, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

Our Father, when we long for life without trials and work without difficulties, remind us that oaks grow strong in contrary winds and diamonds are made under pressure. With stout hearts may we see in every calamity an opportunity, and not give way to the pessimism that sees in every opportunity a calamity.

Bless these women and men of this house to show themselves to be good workmen, who need not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth. This we ask in Your Name. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

prevail over the general provisions of this chapter.

4. The provisions of NRS 233B.122, 233B.124, 233B.125 and 233B.126 do not apply to the department of human resources in the adjudication of contested cases involving the issuance of letters of approval for health facilities and agencies.

5. The provisions of this chapter do not apply to:

(a) Any order for immediate action, including, but not limited to, quarantine and the treatment or cleansing of infected or infested animals, objects or premises, made under the authority of the state board of agriculture, the state board of health, the state board of sheep commissioners or any other agency of this state in the discharge of a responsibility for the preservation of human or animal health or for insect or pest control; or

(b) An extraordinary regulation of the state board of pharmacy adopted pursuant to NRS 453.2184.

6. The state board of parole commissioners is subject to the provisions of this chapter for the purpose of adopting regulations but not with respect to any contested case.

Sec. 4. NRS 590.830 is hereby amended to read as follows:

590.830 1. The fund for cleaning up discharges of petroleum is hereby created as a special revenue fund in the state treasury. The division shall administer the fund for the purposes prescribed in NRS 590.700 to 590.920, inclusive, and the board shall adopt appropriate regulations for the investigation and payment of claims against the fund. The board shall review each claim presented and authorize payment to the extent warranted by the facts of the case.

2. The expenses incurred by the division in performing its duties pursuant to NRS 590.700 to 590.920, inclusive, are a charge against the fund. The interest earned on money in the fund must be credited to the fund.

3. The board shall transmit a copy of any resolution that the board has adopted in carrying out its duties pursuant to this section to the legislative counsel within 5 working days after the adoption of the resolution for inclusion in the register of administrative regulations published pursuant to NRS 233B.0653.

Sec. 5. Chapter 618 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

The division shall submit a written report quarterly to the advisory council of the division which lists each citation issued by the division for a violation of NRS 618.375 during that quarter and the circumstances for which the citation was issued. Within 5 working days after submission of such a report to the advisory council, the division shall transmit the report to the legislative counsel for inclusion in the register of administrative regulations published pursuant to NRS 233B.0653.".

Amend sec. 4, page 2, line 35, by deleting "1" and inserting "2".

THE THIRTIETH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), March 2, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:13 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Marvel, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Bruce Henderson.

Lord, they say that time flies when you're having fun. And I guess we are, for I even see the Cat in the Hat here today. Here we are with one quarter of our legislative time already past! Where has the time gone? I pray today the words of Your great prophet Moses, "So teach us to number our days that we may present to Thee a heart of wisdom." And Lord as a father helps his children, we ask You to be with our Mr. Marvel. In our Lord's Name. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Bache moved that Assembly Bill No. 100 be taken from the Chief Clerk's desk and placed on the General File.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Brower, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Evans, Freeman, Gibbons, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Price, Segerblom, Thomas, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 22—Recognizing March 2, 1999, as "Read Across America" Day in Nevada in commemoration of Dr. Seuss's birthday.

WHEREAS, Theodor Seuss Geisel was born on March 2, 1904, in Springfield, Massachusetts; and

WHEREAS, Theodor Seuss Geisel graduated from Dartmouth College in 1925 and began writing humorous articles and creating cartoons for various magazines; and

WHEREAS, His first children's book, And to Think That I Saw It on Mulberry Street, was rejected by 43 publishers until, in 1937, a friend published the book for him; and

WHEREAS, In May of 1954, Life magazine published a report concerning illiteracy among school children, stating that, among other things, children were having trouble learning to read because the books were boring; and

WHEREAS, This comment inspired Theodor Seuss Geisel's publisher, Bennett Cerf, to compile a list of 400 words that he felt were important, asking Mr. Geisel to cut the list to 250 words, the amount of words a first grader could absorb, and using only those words to write a book that would excite children; and

WHEREAS, Nine months later, Mr. Geisel, using 220 of the words given to him, published The Cat in the Hat, which became an instant success; and

WHEREAS, Later in 1960, Bennett Cerf bet Mr. Geisel $50 that he couldn't write an entire book using only 50 words and from that challenge came the famous children's book, Green Eggs and Ham, which also became an instant success; and

WHEREAS, From that point on, Theodor Seuss Geisel became known as "Dr. Seuss," and children became enthused about reading every Dr. Seuss book available; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Seuss died on September 24, 1991, but his legacy of children's books will live forever as an inspiration to children everywhere to learn to read and to share in the laughter, enjoyment and knowledge that a book can provide; and

WHEREAS, In honor of Dr. Seuss and the joy of reading, the National Education Association has designated March 2, 1999, as "Read Across America" day and has called upon every child to read with a caring adult on this day in honor of what would have been Dr. Seuss's 95th birthday; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That March 2, 1999, is hereby recognized as "Read Across America" Day in Nevada in commemoration of Dr. Seuss's birthday; and be it further

RESOLVED, That children and adults are encouraged to read a favorite book together on this date to share the joy of reading; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Elaine Lancaster, President of the Nevada State Education Association, and Ken Lange, Executive Director of the Nevada State Education Association.

THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), March 3, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:09 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Marvel, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

O Lord, our God, even at this moment as we come blundering into Your presence in prayer, we are haunted by memories of duties unperformed, promptings disobeyed, and beckonings ignored. Opportunities to be kind knocked on the door of our hearts and went weeping away. We are ashamed, O Lord, and tired of failure. As we come close to You at this moment, draw close to us, come nearer still, till selfishness is burned out within us and our wills lose all their weakness in union with Your own. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Assembly Bill No. 299.
Bill read second time and ordered to third reading.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 2.
Resolution read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Mining:

Amendment No. 52.

Amend the resolution, page 2, by deleting lines 33 through 36 and inserting: "Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture to establish the necessary regulations and procedures whereby horses and burros in excess of the appropriate management levels are gathered in a timely fashion, and unadoptable horses and burros are made available for sale at open market; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Nevada Legislature urges Congress to include provisions in the Wild Free-Roaming Horses and Burros Act directing that the proceeds of sales of unadoptable horses and burros be granted to the state director of the federal land management agency responsible for the horses and burros which were gathered off public lands, prior to sale, and that these proceeds be used to augment wild horse and burro management programs in the state; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the establishment of the appropriate management levels should be based on sound scientific and locally-collected resource information that incorporates and fully acknowledges other existing multiple uses of the land, such as the needs of other wildlife and livestock living on the land; and be it further

THE THIRTY-SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), March 4, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:10 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Marvel, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

Today we are reminded of the frailty of our lives. Our friend and coworker John Marvel, needs Your continued touch of healing. Many in this chamber are suffering other illnesses. We ask Your touch of healing and added strength as these men and women struggle with the pressures of deadlines this session. Then Father, You who has promised to lead us into all truth, prepare our hearts and minds for the business of this day, that we may behave with true courtesy and honor. Compel us to be just and honest in our dealings. Let our motives be above suspicion. Let our word be our bond. Save us from the fallacy of depending upon our personality, or ingenuity, or position to solve our problems.

Since You have answers, make us willing to listen to You, that we may vote on God's side, and that God's will may be done in us. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 4, 1999

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 18.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 18.

Assemblyman Price moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Price, Collins, Evans, Anderson, Carpenter, Chowning, Ohrenschall, Perkins, Humke, Cegavske and Mr. Speaker.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is with great honor—but with great sadness—that I speak to the Assembly today in favor of Senate Concurrent Resolution 18. Jack was a good friend of mine. As we read about all that Jack was a part of, it is amazing to find that anyone could have done so much: he was involved in the community; worked on the behalf of friends and citizens; and he helped many organizations.

Those of us who lived near him in southern Nevada were amazed at the number of people he knew. It was just incredible. He was the one guy who could potentially pass Senator Richard Bryan in knowing everyone in the whole state and all over the country.

Those of us who were able to attend the ceremonies on his behalf after his death were able to feel the love coming from everyone, directed at him. One part of the ceremony involved people getting up and relating different events which had occurred in their life, which involved Jack. It went on for a long while. You could see how much interaction he had with people and how much he was loved.

One interesting thing at the ceremony was that Rosemary had all of Jack's ties at the funeral. His friends were invited to take whichever one they wished. The tie that binds you to Jack. I am wearing one of Jack's ties today.

You could see his involvement with the Thunderbirds and I have a Thunderbird pin on today. The Thunderbirds are in Assembly District 17.

Jack was loved by everyone in this building. You can talk to any of the staff or the people who have been with us here at the Legislative Counsel Bureau over the years, and they will tell you how loved Jack was. He had such sensitivity to citizens and to those he worked with and those who worked for him.

The thing I always remember—not to make light—was the wonderful jukebox at Jack's home. It had a lot of country music in it.

I have great, adoring, but sad memories because he is not with us. But we know he is happy up there. We certainly want to be in favor of and to help with anything we can to carry on his legacy and show our love and respect.

ASSEMBLYMAN COLLINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this resolution memorializing Jack Regan. He was in the Assembly my first term here; he helped me in a morning committee and helped me in an afternoon committee, in so many ways. Even when we disagreed, he was informed and had a very logical answer, backed up with evidence.

Frequently, concerning North Las Vegas, when issues came up he and I would discuss them, and he would say, "I am with you 100 percent." When we would go to a council meeting, whether it be with the friends of Kyle Ranch, the city council, an issue with zoning, or a neighborhood situation, he was always supportive of the folks he represented, as well as the folks in the entire community. So, I strongly support this. I am very grateful we are able to take this time to recognize such a good, fine man.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN EVANS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I too rise in support of SCR 18. It is always difficult to say goodbye to our friends and colleagues. I will always remember Jack for his quick wit and his snappy one-liners. On the Interim Finance Committee, Jack could be quite a relentless interrogator. If he asked a question and did not get the answer he wanted, that person needed to look out; they were going to get a lot of heat from Jack. As we say goodbye to Jack, Rosemary, please know that you are very special to us and we will keep you in our thoughts and prayers.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of SCR 18. It is pretty hard to capsulate, in words, the kind of person Jack Regan was to all of us. I knew, having served with him on a couple of committees, about his caring attitude and his true love of beauty. I think it is appropriate that we do this on a day the arts are here, because he did appreciate those things of beauty.

He sought out every member to find out what their particular concerns were and what were their interests and hobbies. In a short while, he would demonstrate in some way his understanding for their concerns. Being that this is Reading Week, I am particularly mindful of his concern regarding illiteracy in the prison population.

Jack pursued programs for people who sometimes seemed to be ignored by society. He looked for the downtrodden, to give them a spark of life every day, to give them hope for the future. That for me means who Jack Regan was. There is a hollow place in my heart; one I have hollowed out so that when I look about and see things are not looking good, I can ask myself, "I wonder what Jack Regan would do here?" This gives me strength. And I am sure it gives Rosemary strength, also. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of SCR 18. Jack Regan became one of my best friends during our service here in the Legislature. Jack had a great understanding of our state, from the north to the south. I always admired him for standing up for what he believed in. I found him to be a hard but compassionate man. When the Suzy Q first came here, Jack attained my captain's hat for me. I want to extend my love and condolences to his wife, and my friend, Rosemary.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 18. Jack Regan used to say 'The President is Reagan, I am Regan." For those of you who knew him, you know how he paid close attention to detail.

We had the privilege of being elected at the same time, defeated at the same time, and came back again at the same time. We were the "comeback kids." Our districts were adjacent to each other and I never knew Jack very well before I had the privilege of serving with him. Believe you me, since I served with him, I came to know him very, very well. There wasn't anyone who worked harder than he did with constituents, trying to solve problems. It didn't matter if they were rich or poor, or large or small, Jack was always there. I will miss him greatly. He was a dignified gentleman. Totally.

He fought for affordable housing and helped bring "Habitat for Humanity" to Nevada, one of the very first ones. He fought for those issues before they were popular. Thank you. I would like to honor his memory.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I wish to join the others in extending my condolences to Rosemary. What can I say about Jack? He had boundless energy and ability. He always had time for people, including less senior legislators. This was very important. He did much for many, but he did his good deeds in a quiet way. He did not ask for publicity to surround what he did. His word was always his bond. He was always there for many of us younger people in the Legislature. Rosemary was there with him; to help with our professional and our personal needs. Thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of SCR 18. All the things we have heard today, I think, are as much a tribute to Rosemary as they are to Jack. You could never see Jack without seeing Rosemary in close proximity. It was very wonderful to see that.

In 1993, when I was first elected, I sat in the back row, second seat from the end. On one side was Dean Heller, and on the other, Jack Regan. If you don't think that was culture shock.

The one thing which started our legislative session was Jack turning to me and saying, "How old are you?" When I told him, he said, "I've got boots older than you are." From that point forward, I knew where Jack stood and he pretty much told me where I stood. That was just the kind of guy he was. You never misunderstood where he was coming from. He was always able to articulate that in fine fashion. I too want to share in our body's support with the resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 18, as well, and second the remarks of the majority leader as to Jack's wife, Rosemary. Our thoughts and prayers are with you today, also. I would just like to say that there is no end to the things that can be said about a man like this. You simply look for something different to say.

As an aside, I have a couple of personal anecdotes. I was once on an airplane bound for Las Vegas, where I was going to be for three or four days on business. To say that Jack's word was good was an understatement. He always went the extra mile. He learned what the nature of my business was and said, "You will use my car. You will not rent a car." He would take no answer other than "yes." That was the type of man he was. Saying that he was the type of man that would give you the shirt off his back would be an understatement.

The one other tribute I would pay to him, was one that came up just this morning. I said to a seatmate, "Was Jack a Democrat or Republican?" I meant this as a tribute. He was truly an individual. Truly as nonpartisan as anyone ever has been in this body. I can think of no higher tribute to anyone with whom I have served.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 18. Being the new kid on the block last session, I had the pleasure of serving on the Interim Finance Committee with Jack Regan. It was a pleasure to get to know him. I also was able to travel with him to some of the national committees we were on, and Jack always made sure that the freshmen legislators were taken care of, that we didn't get into any trouble, but also that nothing happened to us. I always appreciated that about him.

The one thing I did tell Jack was that he needed to get new "blond jokes." He had more "blond jokes" than anybody I had ever met. He said he was safe to tell them because his wife wasn't a blond. He also shared something else with me. My heritage is Norwegian and Jack loved the festivities of the Norwegians. As a matter of fact, Rosemary, that flag is in my office and we need to talk about that. I wanted to thank him for allowing me to have that flag in my office.

I echo everything that has been said. I won't repeat it all. I want to thank you, Rosemary, for sharing Jack with us.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Rosemary, we extend our condolences to you and all the family. Jack will be sadly missed. Jack was a real conservative. If you wanted to define conservatism, you looked at Jack Regan and his record, and the things that he did in these chambers. What I did, in working with him over the years, was develop a real strong relationship with Jack. He would take an interest in the rural areas, or Clark County, or Washoe County. It did not make any difference where it was. He put his philosophy to work, statewide. That is one of the real tributes that we have.

Jack, of course, had a little controversy when he went down to the Senate. If he had stayed here in the Assembly, he probably would have been all right. That's what happens to you over there. We do appreciate all the years of service he gave us here and extend our deepest regards to Rosemary and the family. Thank you.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

THE THIRTY-THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), March 5, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:16 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Collins and Marvel, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

Hear, O God, the earnest supplications of the members of this body, gathered for this sacred moment of prayer and deepened feelings of unity and fellowship as we pray with them and for them. Give us wisdom to see that no good life comes without right discipline. Give us the grace to impose it upon ourselves, lest others do it for us. Help us to discipline our speech, that we may seek clarity rather than cleverness and sincerity instead of sarcasm. Help us to discipline our thinking and our actions, that in this place people may see democracy at its best and us at our best for democracy and for You to see us. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 13—Proposing to amend the Constitution of the State of Nevada to revise the term of office of a justice of the supreme court or judge of a district court who is appointed to fill a vacancy.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 20 of article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 20. 1. When a vacancy occurs before the expiration of any term of office in the supreme court or among the district judges, the governor shall appoint a justice or judge from among three nominees selected for such individual vacancy by the commission on judicial selection.

~~[2. The]~~ Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the term of office of any justice or judge so appointed expires on the first Monday of January following the ~~[next]~~ first general election ~~[.]~~ that is held at least 12 calendar months after the date on which the appointment was made. At that general election, a justice or judge must be elected to fill the remainder of the term.

2. If the date on which the appointment was made is within the 12 calendar months immediately preceding the expiration of the term of the vacated office, the term of office of the justice or judge appointed pursuant to subsection 1 is the remainder of the unexpired term of office.

3. Each nomination for the supreme court shall be made by the permanent commission, composed of:

(a) The chief justice or an associate justice designated by him;

(b) Three members of the State Bar of Nevada, a public corporation created by statute, appointed by its board of governors; and

(c) Three persons, not members of the legal profession, appointed by the governor.

4. Each nomination for the district court shall be made by a temporary commission composed of:

(a) The permanent commission;

(b) A member of the State Bar of Nevada resident in the judicial district in which the vacancy occurs, appointed by the board of governors of the State Bar of Nevada; and

(c) A resident of such judicial district, not a member of the legal profession, appointed by the governor.

5. If at any time the State Bar of Nevada ceases to exist as a public corporation or ceases to include all attorneys admitted to practice before the courts of this state, the legislature shall provide by law, or if it fails to do so the court shall provide by rule, for the appointment of attorneys at law to the positions designated in this section to be occupied by members of the State Bar of Nevada.

6. The term of office of each appointive member of the permanent commission, except the first members, is 4 years. Each appointing authority shall appoint one of the members first appointed for a term of 2 years. If a vacancy occurs, the appointing authority shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. The additional members of a temporary commission shall be appointed when a vacancy occurs, and their terms shall expire when the nominations for such vacancy have been transmitted to the governor.

7. An appointing authority shall not appoint to the permanent commission more than:

(a) One resident of any county.

(b) Two members of the same political party.

No member of the permanent commission may be a member of a commission on judicial discipline.

8. After the expiration of 30 days from the date on which the commission on judicial selection has delivered to him its list of nominees for any vacancy, if the governor has not made the appointment required by this section, he shall make no other appointment to any public office until he has appointed a justice or judge from the list submitted.

If a commission on judicial selection is established by another section of this constitution to nominate persons to fill vacancies on the supreme court, such commission shall serve as the permanent commission established by subsection 3 of this section.

Assemblyman Price moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried

Assemblyman Price moved that Assembly Joint Resolution No. 17 of the 69th Session be re-referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Remarks by Assemblyman Price.

Sec. 2. 1. A person licensed as a real estate salesman may use the term "real estate salesman," "real estate saleswoman" or "real estate salesperson" in the course of doing business.

2. A person licensed as a real estate broker-salesman may use the term "real estate broker-salesman," "real estate broker-saleswoman" or "real estate broker-salesperson" in the course of doing business.

Sec. 3. 1. In any advertisement through which a licensee offers to perform services for which a license is required pursuant to this chapter, the licensee shall:

(a) If he is a real estate broker, disclose the name of the licensed brokerage under which he does business; or

(b) If he is a real estate broker-salesman or real estate salesman, disclose the name of the broker with whom he is associated.

2. A real estate broker-salesman or real estate salesman shall not advertise solely under his own name when acting in the capacity as a broker-salesman or salesman. All such advertising must be under the direct supervision of and in the name of the broker with whom the broker-salesman or salesman is associated.".

Amend the title of the bill to read as follows:

"AN ACT relating to the sale of real estate; authorizing licensed real estate broker-salesmen and real estate salesmen to use additional terms to refer to their licensed status; requiring certain information to be included in advertisements by licensees; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

Amend the summary of the bill to read as follows:

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Speaker:

Your Committee of the Whole has met and considered Assembly Bill No. 363.

BERNARD ANDERSON, Chairman

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks made during the Committee of the Whole be entered in the Journal.

MR. LEWIS:

Thank you, Mr. Anderson. Good morning, ladies and gentleman. I sincerely appreciate the fact that the good Speaker and Sheila Leslie arranged for me to be here today. I think that before I get to AB 363, I would tell you that a comedian always knows when it's just the time to attempt to lighten things up. I have never in my life seen a better time.

So God calls Jesus Christ and says, "We need a martyr. It's imperative that we have a martyr." And Jesus Christ said, "I'll do whatever you say." God said, "You are going to have to make a choice. You are going to be a martyr either on a crucifix or with killer bees." And Jesus Christ said, "In other words, I have a choice." And God said, "That's right." Jesus Christ said, "

I think I would like to go with the crucifix." Because of that decision, for hundreds and hundreds of years, Catholics have been in church on Sunday, crossing themselves, rather than swatting and yelling.

Coming up on Reno Air, the captain tells us that we are at a certain altitude, and then we hear him say, "Take this. I'm going back in the cabin to get a cup of coffee and jump on that new stewardess." We all reacted with shock. We knew he didn't know the microphone was on. Well, the stewardess started to run to the flight deck to tell him that the microphone was on and she slipped in the aisle, falling on her back. A woman leaned over to her and said, "What's your hurry, sweetheart? He's going to have coffee first."

Comedy and tragedy have been synonymous through the ages, as far back as ancient Greece. Comedy and tragedy play a game together when it's productive and when it is meaningful. Tragedy is something we hope never happens to those we care for or to ourselves, for that matter. Assembly Bill 363 is probably the most important bill, I think, ever passed by this body. And I say that because of the following.

Stalking is not unlike Alzheimer's, ALS, and cancer. In fact, stalking is little different. It doesn't let you know when—and you never know how long you've got. Stalking, for the last nine months, has turned my life and that of my seven-year-old, upside down, inside out; into tourniquet like blood-flushing pain and emotions. There is a wacko out there who went before the judge the first time and the judge sent him to a "country club" for six months. He escaped, then came to my house with a gun and threatened my housekeeper. He took the same gun to my office and threatened my staff. He told me on the phone he was going to kill me and my daughter. He was put away for a six-year sentence, but given five months of probation. The judge, no matter who it is, can't read everything that is there. He can't read everything on the docket. The justice system is such that he can't read the details of every case.

Any judge with any sense of what was happening would hardly put this man on probation. While on probation, he held up a bank in San Diego. I guess he figured it was a nice day to break out, lay back, and then hold up a bank. Then they sent him to another "country club," where they gave him medicine and his schizophrenia was dealt with, by drugs. He came up before the same judge for the third time. The judge told him he was going to have to serve the six years, but "we are going to give you the credit for the 1200 days you have already served." So they put him in for three years. He gets out in 140 days.

Is the justice system smart? No. But it is the only system we've got. I have heard that already. I heard that as far back as Franklin Delano Roosevelt; "It's the only thing we've got." How come we have amendments? You need to tell me that everything Thomas Jefferson wrote was perfect? If so, we wouldn't have a First Amendment. Amendment means, I think, "fix."

There is only one way we can beat stalking and it is the way Steven Speilberg beat it in California. They put the guy away for 25 years. Now, when you talk about deterrents, we are talking about something that is a little scary. The maximum in my state, where I live, is six years. Why? Because it got lost in the cracks somewhere. Because some big shot with a billion dollars wants to build a hotel and we have to be sure the water coming from the men's room doesn't get in the way of the other hotels. What kind of legislation is that? We've got stuff that is life threatening.

I brought a psychiatrist from Louisville, Kentucky; one of the most preeminent in the field of wackos and crazy people. He came to my home and he said, "Jerry, after reading three hours of this brief on this stalker, I'm telling you now: the day they let him out, he is coming to kill you and your daughter. And that's irrevocable. He's coming to kill you and your daughter."

Now let me tell you, ladies and gentleman of the Assembly, I have spent $180,000 in a six-week period, keeping my daughter safe. Sending her to school—she's in the first grade—with security. My home looked like Beirut. We had SWAT teams when he escaped. We had helicopters. We had the FBI and Metro. I was praying for him to come to my house. It would have been over.

I am a man who cares so desperately about the human condition that for the last 50 years I have been helping humanity because I think it is something which should be done. Where's my payback? I don't do it to get anything back; I do it out of the love of my heart, for children in trouble. But now, I am in this trouble, and they threaten my seven-year-old daughter, and someone is going to come and kill her? I don't think so.

And what is this? Why is John F. Kennedy killed, this good man? Why is Bobby killed, this good man? Why is Martin Luther King killed, this good man? Well, Jerry Lewis raises a $1,600,000,000 to help children and adults with neuro-muscular disease; let's kill him, too.

So I say to you, ladies and gentlemen, this State of Nevada that I am as proud of as any one of you are, has a maximum sentence of six years for stalking. It must be 25 years. Do we wait until my daughter is dead? Do I come to this Assembly and say, 'Well, he hit her first and I got away." I plead with you as passionately and as unashamedly as I can. Please make Assembly Bill 363 happen, at a 25-year maximum.

I promise if you do this I will find out where you live and I'll come over and do 20 minutes. You can invite some friends to the house; we'll sit around. We will have obsequious drills; we'll do anything you want.

Now, if you think playing these two roles is easy, you're crazy. It is not easy. But when you are conferring with an audience about something as important as this, you can't allow their mind to drift to such a degree that the person they are listening to is another picture in back of their mind. I have grown up with all of you. You have grown up with me. It is you who have given me the joy that I have in my theatrical life. I could have done it without you, but? The passion that I bring here is not something you can call on, it's either there or it isn't. I respect this body, infinitely. I asked, please, to come here and get this done; I am not talking about the end of September sometime. I'm talking about now. Now. Do it. I'll send you Nikes. Do it. You can't imagine the good you will be doing for the people down the street, you, or your children.

The fear, the horror, the terror. My seven year old heard the alarm go off in the house because one of the security officers checked the door. And it's loud. And it's frightening. And she ran and I held her in my arms and I said, "It's alright sweetheart, we have this just in case there is an intruder." And now for five or six weeks, she's had sleepless nights. She's frightened. A child of six or seven is frightened anyhow. They were in that womb for nine months, with warm water, doing nothing but laying around. And then bang, they pull them out of there into a cold room and smack them on the ass. What do you expect? They have fear in their hearts.

I want to bring home to my wife and daughter a sense that there is a chance. I don't think that if you give us AB 363, its going to help my position at all. I would be everything other than what I've always proclaimed if I did not stand here passionately for someone else, coming along and having to face this heinous crime. If I may, I would like to quote John Walsh, who wrote the following: "If another man's child is threatened, and you move not to protect it, then all the children of the world are in jeopardy and you stand as guilty as those who threaten."

CHAIRMAN ANDERSON:

Are there any questions from the members of the body, since we are in a Committee of the Whole? I would ask if there are any questions from the members of the body.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. Not Mr. Speaker, but Mr. Chairman. First of all, I would like to say that I am totally in support of Assembly Bill 363. I too have had a child that has been the victim of a stalker, both before the stalker going into prison and afterwards. I totally identify with and support you entirely. My question regards the changes to the bill on page 2, line 23, and previously in line 16, "the maximum term to be not more that six" is changed to 15 years.

MR. LEWIS:

That is correct. That is what Assembly Bill 363 reads currently. I think it is wrong. I ask the good Ms. Leslie if I could make the number I think it should be, which is 25.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Mr. Chairman, my question to you is, the bill we have before us makes it a maximum of 15 years rather than 25 years.

CHAIRMAN ANDERSON:

Ms. Chowning let me respond for Mr. Lewis. What Mr. Lewis would be requesting of the committee is to move it from a "B" category felony to an "A" category felony, thus increasing the statutory limit, which would further amend the bill at line 15, in the third part. This would be his recommendation to the full committee. And we would take that under consideration.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:
This isn't a question, but a comment. In section 2, on line 3, I do think this is a significant addition to this bill. It requires the initial training that a peace officer takes must include the ramifications and problems of stalking. I think this is an additional improvement and I would like to urge everyone to vote positively for Assembly Bill 363. Thank you Mr. Chairman.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:
Mr. Lewis, in my paying life, I am a law enforcement officer in an adjacent community to where you live. My question would be, and I tread somewhat lightly, because you aren't supposed to ask questions you don't already have at least an idea of what the answer is. But the bill does change the initial training for peace officers. My question would be, in your experience, primarily with the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department, did you see any inadequacies there. Were there things that needed to be corrected?

MR. LEWIS:
Mr. Perkins, I can tell you that my experience with Metro, SWAT, the Sheriff's Office, and all of the people who work law enforcement in Las Vegas, is impeccable. They are, and have been, as far as I am concerned, impeccable in their work; their work ethic; the way they handle things; and their pride in what they do. I am sure there is a bad apple here and there, but we could be talking about the corporate structure at ITT or Xerox. You are always going to have the apple that's choking the growth. We have a tremendous force of men, including the local FBI men, who were all there for me. It wasn't because it was me, it was because it was a man and his daughter in trouble. I don't think that they need any pumping up. They are pretty damn good.

ASSEMBLYMAN DE BRAGA:
Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I too rise in support of this bill. There is absolutely no crime more hideous, even murder, than one that leaves a person in constant fear. My question is, were you notified sufficiently each time this person was released from prison?

MR. LEWIS:
Yes, ma'am. The parole board was very, very strong in their feelings that I should be made aware of everything, which was happening. So, from the time he was put in the first "country club", I was told where he was. When he was moved from that facility to another, we were made aware of that. When he escaped, we were made aware of that. Metro and all the law enforcement officers in Las Vegas were there at my home to be sure we were protected. They always tell us where he is. And I know where he is now. And I know where he is going to be in 151 days. I have two guys in Chicago who would fix this in about 15 minutes—wonderful dreaming.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FREEMAN:
Thank you, Mr. Chair. I really appreciate this hearing on this particular bill, today. I wanted to ask Mr. Lewis, in his research on this particular issue, if he is satisfied with the way the justice system has handled these kinds of cases, particularly in California.

MR. LEWIS:
I can only tell you that my experience with this kind of problem was my personal relationship with Steven Speilberg. I had known about this and how devastating it had been for him, for only 11 months. The maximum in California is what they gave him, which was 25 years. I know nothing more, other than that.

CHAIRMAN ANDERSON:
Mr. Lewis, I want to thank you again for coming to testify in front of the committee. Again, the committee will continue deliberation on this and other issues in front of us. It is only through concerned citizens, such as yourself, that we do this. Although a Committee of the Whole is an unusual process, I want you to understand, and others, that the reason we took this bill in such a serious fashion, is because we felt it was necessary for the full membership, rather than just one morning committee, to hear your testimony. We have tried to work with this particular issue in the past. I know you might find it hard to believe we had a very difficult time even getting a stalking law into position. I was here when we first did that. I appreciate you coming forward. It always takes a great deal of courage, I think, to change society from where it is, to where it needs to be and to move it forward. So, we take your warning and advice to heart. I hope we will be able to process the bill. I would indicate to other members of the body that we will take up the bill, with the full committee, tomorrow. Thank you very much, Mr. Lewis.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 85.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 through 3 and adding new sections designated sections 1 through 4, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. Chapter 179A of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 and 3 of this act.

Sec. 2. 1. The revolving account to investigate the background of volunteers who work with children is hereby created in the state general fund.

2. The director of the department shall administer the account to investigate the background of volunteers who work with children. The money in the account must be expended only to pay the costs of the central repository to process requests from nonprofit agencies to determine whether a volunteer of a nonprofit agency who works directly with children or a prospective volunteer of the nonprofit agency who will work directly with children has committed a sexual offense. The existence of the account to investigate the background of volunteers who work with children does not create a right in any person to receive money from the account.

3. Any money appropriated by the legislature for the cost of investigating the background of volunteers who work with children, any money remaining in the budget account of the director of the department from fees charged by the central repository for criminal investigations at the end of each fiscal year, and gifts, donations, bequests or other sources of money received by the director of the department pursuant to subsection 4, must be deposited in the account.

4. The director of the department may apply for and accept any gift, donation, bequest, grant or other source of money and any money so received is hereby authorized for expenditure in the same manner as other money in the account to investigate the background of volunteers who work with children.

5. The interest and income earned on the money in the account to investigate the background of volunteers who work with children, after deducting any applicable charges, must be credited to the account. Money in the account remaining at the end of the fiscal year does not revert to the state general fund, and the balance in the account must be carried forward to the next fiscal year.

6. The director of the department shall adopt regulations to carry out the provisions of this section. The regulations must include, without limitation:

(a) The procedure by which a person may apply for a grant of money from the account to investigate the background of volunteers who work with children;

(b) The criteria that the department will consider in determining whether to award such a grant of money from the account; and

(c) Procedures to distribute the money in the account in a fair and equitable manner.

Sec. 3. A state or local governmental agency:

1. May establish forms and procedures for a person to donate money to the account to investigate the background of volunteers who work with children while the person is transacting business with the state or local governmental agency; and

2. Shall deposit any money received for the account to investigate the background of volunteers who work with children with the state treasurer for credit to the account.

Sec. 4. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval.".

Amend the title of the bill to read as follows:

"AN ACT relating to the central repository for Nevada records of criminal history; creating a revolving account to pay the costs of the central repository to process requests from nonprofit agencies to determine whether a volunteer of a nonprofit agency who works directly with children or a prospective volunteer of the nonprofit agency who will work directly with children has committed a sexual offense; authorizing state and local governmental agencies to establish forms and procedures for persons to make donations to the account while they are transacting business with the governmental agency; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

Amend the summary of the bill to read as follows:

"SUMMARY—Makes various changes concerning background checks of certain persons who work or have applied to work directly with children. (BDR 14-61)".

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Price, Ohrenschall, Manendo, Collins, Parks, Claborn, Mortenson, de Braga, Chowning, Neighbors, Carpenter, Segerblom, Leslie, Tiffany, Nolan, Gibbons and Berman:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 16—Proposing to amend the Constitution of the State of Nevada to authorize the Legislature to establish a fee to be collected from each person who is convicted of a crime in this state and to authorize the Legislature to establish a formula for the distribution of the money collected from the fee among the community colleges in this state.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 3 of article 11 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. 1. All lands granted by Congress to this state for educational purposes, all estates that escheat to the state, all property given or bequeathed to the state for educational purposes, and the proceeds derived from these sources, together with that percentage of the proceeds from the sale of federal lands which has been granted by Congress to this state without restriction or for educational purposes and all fines collected under the penal laws of the state are hereby pledged for educational purposes and the money therefrom must not be transferred to other funds for other uses. ~~[The]~~

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, the interest only earned on the money derived from these sources must be apportioned by the legislature among the several counties for educational purposes, and, if necessary, a portion of that interest may be appropriated for the support of the state university, but any of that interest which is unexpended at the end of any year must be added to the principal sum pledged for educational purposes.

3. The legislature may impose a fee upon each person who is convicted of a crime in this state for the benefit of the community colleges of this state. If the legislature imposes such a fee, it must establish a formula for the distribution of the money collected from the fee among the community colleges of this state in the proportion that the amount of money collected from the fee imposed in the area served by a community college bears to the total amount of money collected from the fee in this state.

Assemblyman Price moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

THE FORTY-THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), March 15, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:17 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Price and Lee, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Al Fry.

Eternal and Creator God, we pause at this time to acknowledge Your presence with us. You have created us uniquely and specially. Help us to stay more in touch with and live from our strengths than our weaknesses. As these men and women ponder the issues confronting the people of this state may they know that You are the source for their wisdom; that You give them the courage to stand on their convictions; that You give them the love to accept each others differences. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed Assembly Bills Nos. 125, 126, 177; Senate Bills Nos. 215, 217, 238, 250, 278.

Also, I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 17.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblywoman Freeman moved that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 12 be taken from the Resolution File and re-referred to the Committee on Health and Human Services.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Gustavson, Gibbons, Beers, Nolan, Brower, Berman, Von Tobel, Claborn, Mortenson, Humke, Angle and Price; Senator Washington:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 17—Proposing to amend the Constitution of the State of Nevada to limit the total amount of tax ad valorem on real property and to permit the retention of taxable value on real property until the ownership of the property is transferred.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 1 of article 10 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended, and that article 10 be amended by adding thereto a new section, designated section 6, to read respectively as follows:

Section 1. 1. ~~[The]~~ Except as otherwise provided in section 6 of this article, the legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims, which shall be assessed and taxed only as provided in section 5 of this article.

2. Shares of stock, bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The legislature may constitute agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used, as a separate class for taxation purposes and may provide a separate uniform plan for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such plan is provided, the legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

7. No inheritance tax shall ever be levied.

8. The legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

9. No income tax shall be levied upon the wages or personal income of natural persons. Notwithstanding the foregoing provision, and except as otherwise provided in subsection 1 of this section, taxes may be levied upon the income or revenue of any business in whatever form it may be conducted for profit in the state.

Sec. 6. 1. The maximum amount of tax ad valorem that may be levied on real property is 1 percent of the taxable value of the property. This limit does not apply to taxes ad valorem levied to pay the interest and principal of any indebtedness incurred before this section became effective or approved thereafter by two-thirds of the votes cast by voters voting on the question in the taxing district to which it applies.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 3 and 4, the taxable value of real property is 90 percent of the taxable value from which the assessed value for the fiscal year 1995-1996 was calculated but, if the property was not appraised or reappraised for that fiscal year, the taxable value determined by appraisal or reappraisal for a subsequent fiscal year may be appropriately adjusted to determine the taxable value as of the fiscal year 1995-1996.

3. If the ownership of real property is transferred to the extent of one-half or more of the total interest in the property, except a transfer to or between spouses, to or from a separate legal entity of which the transferor is the beneficial owner, or to a child or grandchild of the transferor, the taxable value of the property must be redetermined as of the date of transfer of the property. If new improvements to real property are constructed, except to replace existing improvements destroyed by natural disaster or other casualty, or existing improvements are materially enhanced, the taxable value of the property must be increased by the full cash value of the new improvement or enhancement. If real property is converted to another use, the taxable value of the property must be redetermined after the conversion by appraisal at its full cash value in accordance with the new use of the property.

4. The taxable value of real property must be increased from year to year by the lesser of:

(a) The percent of increase in the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers compiled by the federal Bureau of Labor Statistics for the preceding calendar year, if that index increases; or

(b) Two percent.

The taxable value must be decreased from year to year by the percent of decrease in the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers compiled by the federal Bureau of Labor Statistics for the preceding calendar year, if that index decreases. The legislature shall provide by law for another appropriate method of determining a percentage of increase or decrease in the average annual cost of living if the index specified in this section ceases to be compiled.

5. The legislature may provide by law the circumstances under which:

(a) An owner domiciled in this state who has attained the age of 62 years may replace his principal residence with another of comparable value and transfer to the new residence the taxable value of the old residence for the purpose of limiting the ad valorem tax on the property.

(b) A new improvement may be constructed, or an existing improvement enhanced, without change in the taxable value of real property if the construction or enhancement is appropriate to protect the safety of the occupants or improve accessibility to the disabled.

(c) An owner whose real property is taken by the exercise of eminent domain may replace that property with property of comparable value and transfer to the new property the taxable value of the old property for the purpose of limiting the ad valorem tax on the property.

6. No tax may be imposed on the sale or other transfer of real property which did not exist on the date this section becomes effective.

By the Committee on Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 18—Proposing to amend the Constitution of the State of Nevada to authorize the legislature to provide by law for staggered terms for district judges and to provide that a person who is appointed to fill a vacancy in an office for district judge or supreme court justice serves for the remainder of the unexpired term of his predecessor.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 5 of article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. 1. The state is hereby divided into Nine Judicial Districts of which the county of Storey ~~[shall constitute]~~ is the First; The county of Ormsby the Second; the county of Lyon the Third; The county of Washoe the Fourth; The counties of Nye and Churchill the Fifth; The county of Humboldt the Sixth; The county of Lander the Seventh; The county of Douglas the Eighth; and the county of Esmeralda the Ninth. The county of Roop shall be attached to the county of Washoe for judicial purposes until otherwise provided by law. The Legislature may, however, provide by law for an alteration in the boundaries or divisions of the Districts herein prescribed, and also for increasing or diminishing the number of the Judicial Districts and Judges therein. But no such change shall take effect, except in case of a vacancy, or the expiration of the term of an incumbent of the Office. At the first general election under this Constitution there shall be elected in each of the respective Districts (except as in this Section hereafter otherwise provided) One District Judge, who shall hold Office from and including the first Monday of December AD. Eighteen hundred and Sixty four and until the first Monday of January in the year Eighteen hundred and Sixty seven. After the said first election, there shall be elected at the General election which immediately precedes the expiration of the term of his predecessor, One District Judge in each of the respective Judicial Districts (except in the First District as in this Section hereinafter provided.) The District Judges shall be elected by the qualified electors of their respective districts, and shall , except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, hold office for the term of 6 years (excepting those elected at said first election) from and including the first Monday of January, next succeeding their election and qualification; Provided, that the First Judicial District shall be entitled to, and shall have Three District Judges, who shall possess co-extensive and concurrent jurisdiction, and who shall be elected at the same times, in the same manner, and shall hold office for the like terms as herein prescribed, in relation to the Judges in other Judicial Districts, any one of said Judges may preside on the empanneling [empaneling] of Grand Juries and the presentment and trial on indictments, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by law.

2. The Legislature shall provide by law for the arrangement of the terms of the District Judges so that an equal number of terms, as nearly as may be, expire every 2 years.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Ohrenschall, Gibbons, Price, Williams and Manendo:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 30—Amending the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly for the 70th legislative session to require final action and a recorded vote be taken on each legislative measure heard by a standing committee.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the Joint Standing Rules of the Senate and Assembly as adopted by the 70th session of the Legislature are amended by the following addition:

The Chief Clerk of the Assembly called the Assembly roll.
All present except Assemblyman Lee, who was excused.

The President of the Senate appointed a Committee on Escort consisting of Senator Coffin and Assemblywoman Evans to wait upon Representative Berkley and escort her to the Assembly Chamber.

The Committee on Escort in company with The Honorable Shelley Berkley, United States Representative from Nevada, appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Representative to the rostrum.

The Speaker welcomed Representative Berkley and invited her to deliver her message.

Shelley Berkley, United States Representative, delivered her message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTIETH SESSION, 1999

Thank you, very much, Mr. Speaker. Actually, I had planned to speak about a month ago. I called up to tell the Speaker what day I wished to speak and I got a call back telling me that I could not speak on that day because there was a pecking order. Since I am fourth in Nevada's congressional delegation, I got to come and speak fourth. So, I am very mindful of the fact that everything that needs to be said has been said; just not by everyone that has to say it.

Mr. Speaker, members of the Assembly and Senate, colleagues, guests, and friends, thank you for giving me the opportunity to address you this afternoon. It is a pleasure for me to be with you today to share my vast experience as your representative in Washington—after nine weeks of serving.

When I called a number of you to ask what you would like me to speak about, the issues you suggested were quite diverse, but the one thing you all agreed on was to keep it short. The shorter the speech, the greater the acclaim. I love acclaim, so I promise to keep it short.

I represent an incredible congressional district; there is no other like it in congress. Nevada's Congressional District 1 is the fastest-growing congressional district in the nation. Because of our phenomenal growth, I represent almost twice as many people as anyone else serving in Congress. Congressional District 1 has the fastest-growing school age population, the fastest-growing senior population, the fastest-growing veterans' population in the United States. The demographics of my district determine what issues I concentrate on, what issues are important. The district has a strong economy. It is fueled in large part by one major industry. Our unemployment rate is below the national average of 3.8 percent. We have a service-oriented economy. Our population is booming because of an abundance of jobs. People move to southern Nevada for the same reason my parents moved to southern Nevada: they can obtain employment and support their families. Seniors are pouring into southern Nevada. The easy lifestyle, good climate and relatively low cost of living all converge to make Nevada an attractive place to retire. We have a large percentage of single and divorced working women who have children to raise and care for. We have the highest high school dropout rate in the country and our minority populations are increasing with every passing year.

With the fastest-growing school age population—and the highest dropout rate—education is a major priority. Building more schools and modernizing existing ones is critical. I support federal loan guarantees that would help pay the interest on school bonds issued by local school districts. I am co-sponsoring a bill that would provide $2 billion in federal loan guarantees to build and renovate schools in this country—$78 million has been earmarked for Nevada. With our remarkable school construction program, support for this legislation is critical.

The last Congress allocated resources to hire 30,000 of the 100,000 new teachers needed to lower class size in this country. Southern Nevada received resources to hire over 100 of these new teachers. The Clark County School District will be approximately 700 teachers short for the next school year, so I support allocating the resources needed to hire the additional 70,000 teachers nationwide. Over 200 of those will come to Nevada.

I am co-sponsoring legislation to expand opportunities for school children to participate in after school and summer school programs to give them additional learning time and keep them safe. If we are demanding increased accountability and higher performance standards we had better make sure that we give our schools and our teachers the additional tools to realize these necessary goals. Frequently, it is the very students who need the additional hours of learning after school and during the summer that can least afford to pay for it. If we are serious about ending promotion for the sake of promotion we should be preparing those students who need additional learning so that they can advance legitimately.

Congress just passed an Ed-Flex bill, giving more control of federal dollars to the local schools. I supported this legislation, but what I did before I voted on the bill was call Clark County Superintendent of Schools Brian Cram and brief him on the issues. It is important for me to reach out to those affected by legislation to find out what the impact of federal laws will be on those directly affected by it. I am never more proud of the State of Nevada than when I am discussing education issues with my colleagues in the House. We are the envy of the nation. Nevada is light years ahead of most states because of the vision and commitment of our governors, our legislators, and our citizens. Collectively, the people of Nevada have made education a priority. Congress is first discussing school construction and renovation, improved technology in the classroom, and smaller class size. Nevada addressed these issues a decade ago. We are the shining example my colleagues cite when discussing these essential education needs.

Congressional District 1 has the fastest-growing senior population in the United States, so senior issues are very important to me—issues like social security, medicare and long-term care tax credits. In years to come, we will have a great need for long-term care in this state; therefore, I support a tax credit for families who have long-term care needs.

In December, the President appointed me to the Social Security Commission. There are 50 members on this commission, one-half Republican, one-half Democrat, one-half from the Senate, and one-half from the House. I am one of four freshmen Democrats appointed to help solve our social security crisis.

The social security system is the single most successful social program in history. Its success is what is killing it. When the social security system was created, the average age of mortality in the country was 67, the retirement age was pegged at 65. There were 15 workers for every 1 retiree. Now, the age of mortality is 77, ten years higher, and there are only three workers for every one retiree. Our population is aging. By the year 2010, the first of the baby boomers, my generation, are going to be reaching retirement age. By the year 2032, the Social Security Trust Fund will be unable to meet its obligations. For the last several years, when this country was running huge budget deficits, our government was borrowing from the Social Security Trust Fund. Now that we are running budget surpluses, I believe we must pay back the money we have borrowed. I am supporting a proposal to dedicate 77 percent of our budget surpluses over the next 15 years estimated at over $4 trillion to protecting social security and medicare. This will have the additional benefit of paying down the national debt from 14 cents of every dollar to 2 cents on the dollar.

Congressional District 1 has the fastest-growing veterans' population in the United States. The needs of our veterans are overwhelming. We have a beautiful new VA clinic, a new hospital, state of the art medical equipment, and a new cemetery. Let me tell you what we do not have—we don't have enough doctors. There are incidences of veterans having to wait up to five months to get a prostate biopsy. We don't have enough nurses, enough medical technicians, and counselors to help those veterans suffering from drug addiction, alcoholism, and homelessness. We don't even have enough equipment and personnel to bury our dead veterans in the cemetery. The White House's flat line budget was an insult to our veterans. I sit on the Veterans' Affairs Committee. Last week I joined with some of my colleagues to call for a $3 billion increase in our veterans' budget but was out voted by those supporting an increase of $1.9 billion. This will hardly make a dent in serving the needs of our southern Nevada vets. What I did was invite the secretary of the Veterans' Administration to come to Nevada and listen to the concerns of our veterans. He will be joining me at a town hall meeting on April 7, 1999.

Congressional District 1 is a district comprised of working families, so issues that affect families are important to me. I am an original co-sponsor of the Patients' Bill of Rights. I support a Patients' Bill of Rights that contains a range of protections, including: access to specialists; access to emergency room services; access to a meaningful, independent and external appeals process; and the right to be compensated when a health plan's decision harms the patient.

Strong, successful families are the backbone of this country and of our great state. In a country as prosperous as ours with the unprecedented economic expansion we enjoy, for us not to share that success with the working families that help make that extraordinary boom possible would be a disgrace, so I support increasing the minimum wage. I also favor strengthening families through tax credits for child care for individual families, for corporations who provide child care for their employees. I also support the elimination of the marriage tax penalty.

Women's issues are very important to me. Again, the demographics of the district determine my priorities in Congress. We have an ever-increasing number of single women, heads of household who work and have children. I am one of 58 women serving in Congress. This session, we will work together to pass a pay equity bill. It is unconscionable to me that nine months before the new millennium we are still discussing the fact that women do not get equal pay for equal work.

Women's health issues are important to me. Early detection and prevention can save thousands of lives each year, ease the pain of hundreds of thousands of older women and save billions of taxpayer dollars. During my campaign I highlighted osteoporosis. It can be prevented with education programs and it can be reversed with early detection. I am co-sponsoring a piece of legislation that I believe will help reverse the ravages of this disease.

As the population of southern Nevada grows, so must its infrastructure. I fought for a seat on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee. With our phenomenal growth and our chronic need for additional transportation infrastructure in the Las Vegas Valley, the committee assignment was a gem. I sit on the Surface Transportation Subcommittee. All legislation for highways, roads, interstate highways, rail and monorail systems comes before this subcommittee. I also sit on the Oversight Subcommittee which allows me to monitor the funding earmarked for Nevada from last session's TEA 21 legislation. Nevada's nemesis, Congressman Frank Wolf of Virginia, has made noises that he wants to block the funding for the I-15 improvements between California and Las Vegas. Why? Because he claims the only reason anyone would drive that highway would be to come to Las Vegas to gamble. Well? I am in the ideal position to ensure that his meddling does not become a reality.

The Transportation Committee will be taking up the aviation bill this session. With 30 million visitors coming to southern Nevada every year, the continued enhancement of McCarran Airport is essential to our economic growth and well-being. I will insure southern Nevada gets the necessary legislative language to continue to prosper. My office is in constant contact with McCarran's Aviation Director, Randy Walker, to guarantee that all parties are in the loop when it comes to this important legislation.

There are two issues that are unique to Nevadans—nuclear waste and gaming. I would like to discuss both of them with you now. Nuclear waste—let me talk about the good and the not so good. President Clinton and Vice President Gore have reiterated their position that the administration will veto any legislation that would locate the interim dump at the Nevada Test Site. Two weeks ago, Secretary of Energy, Bill Richardson testified before the Senate Energy Committee that the waste should be stored on site at the nuclear reactor until a permanent solution is developed for its disposal. Congressman Gephardt, the leader of the Democratic Party in the House, wrote a letter to me last week reiterating his opposition to locating the dump in Nevada and offering to support my efforts to derail the nuclear industry's attempts. These are two major victories for Nevada.

The not so good news. HR 45 is scheduled for hearing early next month. The Speaker of the House and the Chairman of the House Commerce Committee are the nuclear industry's primary cheerleaders for shipping the 77,000 tons of waste across 43 states to the Nevada Test Site, hoping I am sure, that Yucca Mountain will be designated the nation's permanent repository for nuclear waste. I have worked very closely with the freshman Democrats and the women in Congress to defeat this bill. But one-on-one conversations and "Dear Colleague" letters cannot compare to the nuclear industry's relentless push for this legislation. I come home every weekend, and I cannot recall a time when a number of my colleagues were not on the plane with me as guests of the nuclear industry. They come to Las Vegas and after a great evening they are helicoptered out to Yucca Mountain. When Nevadans think of Yucca Mountain, we think of groundwater contamination, fault lines, and volcanic activity. I assure you that when this endless parade of pro nuclear congressmen fly over Yucca Mountain, they think of it as nothing more than a desolate donnicker where they can discard their waste. I cannot urge you strongly enough to allocate sufficient state money to immediately begin fighting this public relations battle. Nevada currently does nothing to persuade the men and women of the House and Senate that Nevada should not be the dumping ground for the nations failed nuclear waste policy.

Gaming—the National Gambling Impact Study Commission will complete its two-year-long study in June. Early word is that the commission's report will not be targeting gaming in Nevada. However, we must be ever vigilant to keep the federal government from regulating or taxing the gaming industry. I am constantly educating my colleagues that gaming is an industry like any other. Gaming is to Nevada like cars are to Detroit, oranges are to Florida, and Boeing is to Washington. We are constantly battling with those on the far right who wish to abolish gaming. It is a fight, and it is serious because the economy of Nevada depends on tourist dollars and depends on the success of the gaming industry. The future economic growth of this state will be inhibited if the federal government interferes with the gaming and tourism industry. Gaming in Nevada is well regulated and taxed on the local and state levels; and that is where it should remain.

In my fight to protect casino workers from a tax on their meals at work, I recently held a town hall meeting where Congressman Charles Rangel of New York reiterated that he supports Nevada's position on the meals tax issue. His support will go far in protecting casino employees from this intrusive tax.

I don't have time to talk about Sheriff Keller's need for state-of-the-art technology to help him fight crime or General Moorehead's needs at Nellis Air Force Base for increases in the defense budget. I am working with both of them as well.

I know I have spoken far too long already, but please permit me to touch on two brief issues. One is the higher education budget of this state. There is a disparity in the funding between the southern Nevada campuses and the northern Nevada campuses. As a student at UNLV 30 years ago I knew it; as a member of the UNLV Alumni Association, I lobbied for equity; and as a regent I fought for it. The time has come—actually the time is long passed—for the regents and the legislature to work together to correct this serious discrepancy in funding. I would urge and welcome anyone to take the lead on this issue. If we succeed in correcting the disparity, there will be plenty of accolades to go around. If we fail to correct this inequity, I promise you there will be ample blame to go around. Quality education is not, and should not be, a partisan issue. Our childrens' future depends on it, and the future of our state depends on our children.

Finally, I would be remiss if I did not say a few words about Richard Bryan and his decision to leave the U.S. Senate. When Dick called to inform me that he would not be running, my response was the same felt by many of you. I told him that as a Nevadan I was heartsick to hear it. He was and is a magnificent public servant, and the state of Nevada will be losing one of its finest. As his friend, I was very happy for him. I told him that I believed he was entitled to a life and that he had made, what I believe is, the right decision for him and his family. He has worked his hardest, done his best, and will retire at the top of his game. He can hold his head high, having earned the respect of his colleagues and his constituents. I applaud Senator Bryan—one of Nevada's finest—and wish him God speed in his decision.

It is a great honor for me to represent southern Nevada in Congress. I am mindful of the responsibility that I have, to work on behalf of all the citizens of Nevada and especially Congressional District 1. I am mindful of the unique opportunity that I have to make a difference in the lives of millions of people across our great nation. I relish the idea of representing my home town in our nation's capital and I endeavor to do my best every day to fulfill my obligation to my constituents. I want to thank you for allowing me the opportunity to speak with you and share this moment with you. I look forward to working with all of you for many years in the future on behalf of the people of Nevada. Thank you all very much.

THE FORTY-FIFTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), March 17, 1999

Assembly called to order at 10:43 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Al Fry.

Be generous in prosperity, be thankful in adversity. Be fair in judgment and guarded in your speech. Be a lamp unto those who walk in darkness and a home to a stranger. Be eyes to the blind and a guiding light unto the feet of the erring. Be a breath of life to the body of humankind, a dew to the soil of the human heart, and a fruit upon the tree of humility. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Assembly Bill 340 repeals obsolete statutory provisions relating to married women. The bill repeals unnecessary provisions especially related to married women concerning the conveyance of real property, wills, disposition of property, execution of wills, and administration of estates. This measure is effective upon passage and approval. I appreciate your support.

ASSEMBLYMAN DE BRAGA:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of AB 340. This bill seeks to bring state law into the twentieth century by removing the term "married women" from several areas of statute. At one time in our history it was a commonly held belief that women were incapable of taking care of, or thinking for themselves. Legally, they had the same civil rights as celery.

Sometime in the mid-1980s women began to assert themselves intellectually. This caused the legislature—either through guilt or bewilderment—to attempt to define under Nevada law the few circumstances under which married women might be capable of managing their own affairs. Though well intentioned at the time, these laws make no sense today. There is absolutely no reason to single out one class of people to apply the laws to. We owe a great debt of gratitude to our colleague from District 5 for bringing these inequities to our attention.

In addition to repealing the unnecessary language in sections 111.110, 111.245 and 133.030, we also object to the use of the demeaning suffix "trix." This is in reference to people who execute or administrate, and also happen to be females. Theoretically, "trix," as used in law, does mean female. We prefer the generic suffix "tor," which does not mean anything and therefore will not offend anyone.

It has been said, Mr. Speaker, that women who seek to be equal with men lack ambition. That may be so, but we, and that means all the women of the 70th Session of the Nevada Legislature, are willing to settle for equality—this time. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FREEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have a constituent who will be very happy to hear this bill. She sent me an e-mail the other day stating she and her husband belonged to a managed care corporation. She and her husband are real partners in their marriage: they both work, take care of the kids, etcetera. Recently, they received notice that the insurance company would be taking her name off the policy, leaving her husband's on, because he would be the more responsible party. So, this sort of thing does still occur. I will call her this afternoon and tell her the bill passed. Thank you.

All present except Assemblyman Arberry, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Al Fry.

Come, let us go up to the mountains of the Lord, that we may walk the paths of the Most High. And we shall beat our swords into plowshares, and our spears into pruning hooks. Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. And none shall be afraid for the mouth of the Lord of Hosts has spoken. Give us the wisdom to teach our children to love, to respect, and to be kind to each other, so that they may grow with peace of mind. Let us learn to share all good things that You provide for us on the Earth. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 33—Memorializing former Assemblyman Louis W. Bergevin.

WHEREAS, Nevadans were deeply grieved to learn of the death of Louis W. Bergevin on February 19, 1998; and

WHEREAS, Lou Bergevin was born on June 22, 1922, in the old brick hospital on Main Street in Gardnerville and remained a life-long Douglas County resident; and

WHEREAS, After attending Gardnerville Grammar School and Douglas County High School, Lou Bergevin studied mechanical engineering at the University of Nevada, Reno; and

WHEREAS, Lou Bergevin served in the United States Army Air Force ordnance department for 6 years from 1941 to 1946 and was overseas for 3 1/2 years; and

WHEREAS, During his esteemed career in public service, Lou Bergevin served as a member and past President of the Douglas County School Board, as a member of the Nevada State Board of Education for 11 years presiding as President from 1961 to 1970 and as a member of the Nevada Tax Commission from 1970 to 1974; and

WHEREAS, Lou Bergevin received the Cattleman of the Year award in 1971 and was President of the Nevada Cattleman's Association from 1978 to 1979; and

WHEREAS, Lou Bergevin served for 14 years as an Assemblyman from 1979 to 1992, participating in seven regular and three special sessions; and

WHEREAS, During his tenure as an Assemblyman, Lou Bergevin was a member of the Taxation Committee, Chairman of the Committee on Government Affairs in 1985, Chairman of the Legislative Commission in 1985 and 1986, served as Minority Floor Leader for the 1987 and 1989 legislative sessions and Minority Whip for the 1991 legislative session; and

WHEREAS, While serving the State of Nevada as an Assemblyman, Lou Bergevin wrote and helped develop tax measures that protected veterans and senior citizens and urged the passage of a law that required residential construction taxes to be used in the neighborhoods where they were collected; and

WHEREAS, After his years as an Assemblyman, Lou Bergevin and his wife, Luetta Dressler Bergevin, worked together managing the Fred Dressler Ranch, one of Nevada's largest ranching operations owned by the Dressler family; and

WHEREAS, Assemblyman Lou Bergevin is survived by his wife, Luetta, son, Lee Bergevin of Sparks, daughter, Jeanne Russell of Carson City, sister, Lillian, five grandchildren, three step-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 70th session of the Nevada Legislature offer their sincere condolences and heartfelt sympathy to the family and friends of Louis W. Bergevin; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Lou Bergevin will long be remembered by his friends in the Nevada Legislature for his wisdom and leadership ability as he helped guide this legislative body through major changes in the Nevada tax system; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Lou Bergevin's beloved wife, Luetta, and to his children, Lee Bergevin and Jeanne Russell.

Assemblyman Marvel moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Marvel, Hettrick, Carpenter, Dini, Humke, Anderson, Bache, Brower, Price and Gibbons.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker and members of this Assembly. Today, we are here with a resolution where we will remember perhaps one of the greatest legislators that I have ever had the opportunity to work with. Lou was a great leader, a very candid person, and I think, perhaps, he was a person who had no agenda for himself.

You can tell from the resolution that Lou was truly a public servant. He did not worry about how popular he was and certainly did not win any popularity contests. Lou was the kind of person, who, if he had something to say, said it. I and Lou used to kid about him, because he was so candid, blunt, and straight to the point. He would be happy to expound on a subject until finally you would say, "Lou, how do you really feel about this?"

We truly miss Lou. We are going to miss his counseling. And I think you can tell what a great family he has raised. I really appreciate the fact that I had an opportunity to know Lou and to serve with him. As a matter of fact, we were both president of the Cattlemen's Association and we served together on the Tax Commission. We were also elected in the same year, in 1978.

I wish to again express my condolences to the family. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of this resolution. I really didn't know Lou very well. He served before me and preceded me in this seat, but the one thing I learned about Lou very quickly—and I think the one thing everyone who knew him would agree on—was that if you could say one word that truly described him it would be "respect." Everyone I know that ever dealt with Lou Bergevin respected him. They respected him for the candid way he expressed himself, the knowledge he had—he was an expert in taxation and tax issues—and for being a successful rancher and family man. The list goes on and on. Every single time I think of Lou Bergevin, I think of "respect."

I want to let the family members know that this chair here beside me was for Mr. Ernaut. All of you know him. He served with Lou, served under him as the caucus director when Lou was in charge of it. Pete wanted to be here very, very much, because he so respected Lou. Unfortunately, he had a conflict today and couldn't make it.

Anyone who knew Lou Bergevin might not agree with him every time, he might have made you mad, but there was no doubt when it was all said and done, you had respect for him and he for you. He wouldn't hesitate to tell you where he stood.

I just think of the world "respect." He was a great guy and a great man who will be missed. My condolences to the family. I'm glad we are doing this to recognize Lou.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of ACR 33. I think that Lou was kind of my mentor here in the Assembly. I had known him for many years as a leader of our livestock industry. He was a great leader. I will always remember that he stood up for rural Nevada and the livestock industry.

When I came to the Assembly, because we had a bond before, he guided me through many rough waters. I always respected him for that. Lou was a power here. If Lou Bergevin did not agree with it, you probably weren't going to get it through the Assembly. I learned that very early on. What I remember about him the most was that he was a great gentleman and his word was absolutely his bond. I, too, want to express my condolences to his family and thank them for letting Lou serve with us.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I certainly rise in support of the resolution we have before us today. I had the privilege of serving with Lou. Those were mighty years that we were here in the 80s and 90s, trying to develop policies and work on matters. He is most remembered, in my opinion, because of his efforts on taxation and water law. You didn't want to argue water one inch, because he would get you. He knew the stuff backwards and forwards. I think he was responsible for us being able to go through the 80s and 90s in a responsible manner on taxation because of his wisdom. He gained that wisdom by serving with the Tax Commission, the State Board of Education, the school board. He knew local government. He knew the problems that we had throughout the state.

He was a rancher and a businessman. You have to go a long way to find a man of that character in our state. He and I had a bond in the Masonic fraternity that was very strong. We didn't go to lodge together but he understood the principles that we're based on and he lived his life based on those principles, every day. He was a straight shooter. I remember having problems when he was Minority Leader and I was Speaker. We went to the office and talked it over and worked it out. And that is the way we did business. We did business with a handshake. You didn't have to have a letter of understanding or a memorandum and all the stuff you do nowadays—just a handshake and work it out.

I want to relay my condolences again to the family. I was very honored that they asked me to do his eulogy at his services. I am honored to have served with Lou and to know the family. We wish you all the best. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of ACR 33 as well. My respects and condolences to his family members who I see present. It is not difficult to find additional words to express. I will just try to emphasize some of the words that have already been spoken. When the Minority Leader said that Mr. Bergevin commanded respect, it was because of the nature of the person that he was. He commanded respect through his substance and every fiber of his being.

I would like to elaborate on the remarks of the Speaker. The substance of this man was just incredible. It has been spoken to about his knowledge of taxation, education, agriculture—specifically the livestock industry—the government affairs process, and water issues. All are broad, huge topics. I will try to illustrate the extent of Lou's knowledge for the newer members. If you think of the 10 legislators around here with the greatest expertise in water, for example, and then you look around the process and find the 10 or 20 lobbyists with the greatest knowledge and expertise in water, and then you look around the executive branch of state government and the private sector and find the 10 best experts there, you would have Lou Bergevin. That was the depth of his knowledge and expertise.

It was difficult to match him in any of those subjects that others have named here. I also need to say some words about the fact of his warmth, something that Mr. Ernaut referred to and has seen. Certainly, Lou's family members saw this. You might go through a period of 10, 20 or 30 years before you might really get to know him. He appeared to have a gruff exterior, and he would always tell you candidly what he thought of you, your ideas, your necktie, whatever. Once we got to know him, though, he was a father to many of us. That is the man I respect and do miss. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I would feel bad to sit idly by here and not have the opportunity to speak to the manner of man Lou Bergevin was, having had the opportunity to serve with him. Always having heard the legend of Mr. Bergevin long before arriving here, my expectations were met and exceeded. Most importantly, not unlike my colleague from Assembly District 33, the quality of the man rested in the number one concern—what is good for the people of the State of Nevada. You knew when Lou spoke that that was what was going to be the final outcome—not what was good for me, but what was good for everybody. So, recognizing that as the bottom line, he cared about kids, and anyone who cares about kids can't be all bad. Thank you, very much, Madam Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN BACHE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of ACR 33. Like my colleague from Sparks, I only had the 1991 session where I was able to serve with Mr. Bergevin. It was a pleasure serving with him. I learned a great deal from him in the Assembly Government Affairs Committee and enjoyed it quite often when, in Government Affairs, to the great consternation of the chairman at that time, he would engage in a three-cornered argument with former Assemblyman McGaughey and the late Bob Kerns. It was always a pleasure listening to those debates and discussions on issues.

One of the things I remember most is that when Lou felt passionately about an issue, you knew it on the floor. The one issue that stuck in my mind is one that still comes up occasionally. He would address the issue of one-party consent wiretaps, something he was adamantly against because he had some personal experience with that. I appreciated how he addressed those issues on the floor. He will be missed.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROWER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker Pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of ACR 33. I never met Lou Bergevin. I simply rise to note that amongst all the great things and accomplishments listed in the resolution, is the fact that Mr. Bergevin was a veteran of World War II. We are losing the men and women who served this country and this world during that great war, every day. Fortunately, we are lucky to have a couple of them with us in this body. Those men and women are my heroes, they always will be. We must never forget the sacrifices they made for this country and the world at large. I would simply urge this body to remember that fact of Mr. Bergevin's life, along with all the other great things that have been mentioned today. Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. It is certainly my honor and pleasure to have been able to serve with Lou Bergevin during his 14 years here with us at the legislature. Everything that has been said this morning was so true about Lou. He was the ultimate in what we describe in our body as a "citizen's legislator." He was a man whose heart was strong, and he always did the right things. You could discuss and argue matters beyond separate sides. That is what we are all about, and that is what Lou was about. He always was there for the good of this state, the good of his industry, and the good of the people.

I was fortunate that in the very first year that I began on the Taxation Committee, Lou and I started together. That is where I got the education that I have today. He was so extremely knowledgeable in all of those areas. Like many Nevadans and folks from other areas, I was certainly saddened to lose Lou and felt for his family—who are joining us here today. He was a fine Nevadan and a fine legislator. His passing is a loss to our state, but it is to our gain, many times over, to have had Lou Bergevin serving in this body for those 14 years that he did.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Madam Chair. I rise in support of this resolution honoring a great man, Mr. Bergevin. I served with Mr. Bergevin in 1991 for about three months; my husband served with him for several terms. We had a great respect and admiration for him. In 1991, when I was appointed to serve in Jim's seat, during the war, I guess the Republicans were worried about me; they didn't really know what I was going to do down here. A bill would come up and Mr. Bergevin would give a thumbs up or down sign to me. I have noticed that Mr. Marvel has taken over Mr. Bergevin's old spot. I don't ask for help and I still get thumbs up or down signals. That is what I will always remember about Mr. Bergevin. He really was a great guy and made me laugh a lot, also. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. A couple of lighter issues come across my mind. When we had a new Democratic governor, who was inaugurated here and gave the State of the State, I saw Lou walking out towards the Governor's Mansion. I won't mention this governor's name but he is in the United States Senate today. Lou said, "I have to go over there and straighten this guy out. This young whippersnapper doesn't know a thing about taxes in this state." That is just a little bit on the light side.

If you remember last week, I brought the cowbell from home. Lou used to make those in his shop. If you were a friend of his, he would give you one of those. That was the kind of friendship we had together. If you noticed today, when you were called down to the floor, we were ringing the cowbell. We will remember him for a long time around here.

THE FORTY-SEVENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), March 19, 1999

Assembly called to order at 11:08 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Gibbons, Koivisto and Price, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Al Fry.

Lord, make me an instrument of Your peace. Where there is hatred—let me show love. Where there is injury—pardon. Where there is doubt—faith. Where there is darkness—light. Where there is sadness—joy. O Divine Master, grant that I may not seek so much to be consoled as to console, to be understood as to understand, to be loved as to love. For it is in giving that we receive, it is in pardoning that we are pardoned, it is in dying that we are born to eternal life. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 24.

Assemblyman Carpenter moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Carpenter.

Assemblyman Carpenter requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Although it is certainly not in vogue as part of the current environmental movement to even remotely suggest that any of man's activities might be of benefit to wildlife, the records clearly document that agricultural development in Nevada beginning in about 1860, and continuing through the present day, resulted in a greater abundance and diversity of wildlife in Nevada than was ever known before. Ranching and farming continue to provide very important habitat components that are critical to the future survival of many individual animal species, in addition to maintaining a diversity of wildlife to which many of us have become accustomed. Wildlife in the state has not increased in spite of farming and ranching, it has increased because of these activities.

Resolution adopted.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 22, 1999

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 24.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 24.

Assemblywoman Giunchigliani moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Giunchigliani.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

By the Committee on Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 22—Proposing to amend the Constitution of the State of Nevada to create an intermediate appellate court.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section be added to article 6 and sections 1, 4, 7, 8, 11, 15, 20 and 21 of article 6 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read respectively as follows:

Sec. 3A. 1. The court of appeals consists of three judges or such greater number as the legislature may provide by law. If the number of judges is so increased, the supreme court shall provide by rule for the assignment of each appeal to a panel of three judges for decision.

2. After the initial terms, each judge of the court of appeals must be elected by the qualified electors of this state at the general election for a term of 6 years beginning on the first Monday of January next after the election. The initial judges must be elected by the qualified electors of this state at the first general election following the enactment of this section. The initial terms of the judges must be staggered so that at least one judge serves for an initial term of 2 years, at least one for 4 years and at least one for 6 years. The initial judges shall meet as soon as practicable after their election to determine by lot the term of office that each judge will fill. If there is an increase in the number of judges, each additional judge must be elected by the qualified electors of this state at the first general election following the increase for a term beginning on the first Monday of January next after the election. The legislature shall provide for an initial term of 6 or fewer years for each additional judge so that one-third of the total number of judges, as nearly as may be, is elected every 2 years. If the number of judges is increased by more than one, the additional judges shall meet as soon as practicable after their election to determine by lot the term of office that each judge will fill.

3. The chief justice of the supreme court shall appoint one of the judges of the court of appeals to be chief judge. The chief judge serves a term of 4 years and may succeed himself. The chief judge may resign his position as chief judge without resigning from the court of appeals.

4. The supreme court shall provide by rule for the assignment of one or more judges of the court of appeals to devote a part of their time to serve as supplemental district judges, where needed.

Section 1. The Judicial power of this State ~~[shall be]~~ is vested in a court system, comprising a Supreme Court, a Court of Appeals, District Courts ~~[,]~~ and Justices of the Peace. The Legislature may also establish, as part of the system, Courts for municipal purposes only in incorporated cities and towns.

Sec. 4. 1. The supreme court ~~[shall]~~ and the court of appeals have appellate jurisdiction in all civil cases arising in district courts, and also on questions of law alone in all criminal cases in which the offense charged is within the original jurisdiction of the district courts. The legislature shall fix the jurisdiction of the court of appeals and, where appropriate, provide for the review by the supreme court of appeals decided by the court of appeals. The supreme court ~~[shall]~~ and the court of appeals also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warranto ~~[,]~~ and habeas corpus and also all writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of ~~[its appellate]~~ their jurisdiction. Each ~~[of the justices shall have power to]~~ justice of the supreme court and judge of the court of appeals may issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the state, upon petition by, or on behalf of, any person held in actual custody ~~[,]~~ in this state and may make such writs returnable ~~[, before himself]~~ before the issuing justice or judge or the ~~[supreme court,]~~ court of which the justice or judge is a member, or before any district court in ~~[the]~~ this state or ~~[before]~~ any judge of ~~[said courts.]~~ a district court.

2. In case of the disability or disqualification, for any cause, of ~~[the chief justice or one of the associate justices]~~ a justice of the supreme court, ~~[or any two of them,]~~ the governor ~~[is authorized and empowered to designate any]~~ may designate a judge of the court of appeals or a district judge ~~[or judges]~~ to sit in the place ~~[or places of such]~~ of the disqualified or disabled justice . ~~[or justices, and said judge or judges so designated shall receive their]~~ The judge designated by the governor is entitled to receive his actual expense of travel and otherwise while sitting in the supreme court.

3. In case of the disability or disqualification of a judge of the court of appeals, for any cause, the governor may designate a district judge to sit in the place of the disabled or disqualified judge. The judge that the governor designates is entitled to receive his actual expense of travel and otherwise while sitting in the court of appeals.

Sec. 7. The times of holding the Supreme Court , the Court of Appeals and District Courts ~~[shall]~~ must be as fixed by law. The terms of the Supreme Court ~~[shall]~~ must be held at the seat of Government unless the Legislature otherwise provides by law, except that the Supreme Court may hear oral argument at other places in ~~[the]~~ this state. The terms of the Court of Appeals must be held at the place provided by law. The terms of the District Courts ~~[shall]~~ must be held at the County seats of their respective counties unless the Legislature otherwise provides by law.

Sec. 8. 1. The Legislature shall determine the number of Justices of the Peace to be elected in each city and township of the State ~~[,]~~ of Nevada and shall fix by law their qualifications, their terms of office and the limits of their civil and criminal jurisdiction, according to the amount in controversy, the nature of the case, the penalty provided ~~[,]~~ or any combination of these.

2. The provisions of this section affecting the number, qualifications, terms of office and jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace become effective on the first Monday of January, 1979.

3. The Legislature shall also prescribe by law the manner, and determine the cases in which appeals may be taken from Justices and other courts. The Supreme Court, the Court of Appeals, the District Courts ~~[,]~~ and such other Courts ~~[,]~~ as the Legislature shall designate ~~[, shall be]~~ are Courts of Record.

Sec. 11. The justices of the supreme court , the judges of the court of appeals and the district judges ~~[shall be]~~ are ineligible to any office, other than a judicial office, during the term for which they ~~[shall]~~ have been elected or appointed; and all elections or appointments of any such judges by the people, legislature ~~[,]~~ or otherwise ~~[,]~~ during said period ~~[,]~~ to any office other than judicial ~~[, shall be]~~ are void.

~~[Sec:]~~ Sec. 15. The Justices of the Supreme Court , the Judges of the Court of Appeals and the District Judges ~~[shall]~~ are each entitled to receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law and paid in the manner provided by law, which ~~[shall]~~ must not be increased or diminished during the term for which they ~~[shall]~~ have been elected, unless a Vacancy occurs, in which case the successor of the former incumbent ~~[shall]~~ is entitled to receive only such salary as may be provided by law at the time of his election or appointment; and provision ~~[shall]~~ must be made by law for setting apart from each year's revenue a sufficient amount of Money, to pay such compensation.

Sec. 20. 1. When a vacancy occurs before the expiration of any term of office in the supreme court , the court of appeals or among the district judges, the governor shall appoint a justice or judge from among three nominees selected for such individual vacancy by the commission on judicial selection.

~~[2. The]~~ Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the term of office of any justice or judge so appointed expires on the first Monday of January following the ~~[next]~~ first general election ~~[,]~~ that is held at least 12 calendar months after the date on which the appointment was made. At that general election, a justice or judge must be elected to fill the remainder of the term.

2. If the date on which the appointment was made is within the 12 calendar months immediately preceding the expiration of the term of the vacated office, the term of office of the justice or judge appointed pursuant to subsection 1 is the remainder of the unexpired term of office.

3. Each nomination for the supreme court ~~[shall]~~ or the court of appeals must be made by the permanent commission, composed of:

(a) The chief justice or an associate justice designated by him;

(b) Three members of the State Bar of Nevada, a public corporation created by statute, appointed by its board of governors; and

(c) Three persons, not members of the legal profession, appointed by the governor.

4. Each nomination for the district court ~~[shall]~~ must be made by a temporary commission composed of:

(a) The permanent commission;

(b) A member of the State Bar of Nevada resident in the judicial district in which the vacancy occurs, appointed by the board of governors of the State Bar of Nevada; and

(c) A resident of such judicial district, not a member of the legal profession, appointed by the governor.

5. If at any time the State Bar of Nevada ceases to exist as a public corporation or ceases to include all attorneys admitted to practice before the courts of this state, the legislature shall provide by law, or , if it fails to do so , the supreme court shall provide by rule, for the appointment of attorneys at law to the positions designated in this section to be occupied by members of the State Bar of Nevada.

6. The term of office of each appointive member of the permanent commission, except the first members, is 4 years. Each appointing authority shall appoint one of the members first appointed for a term of 2 years. If a vacancy occurs, the appointing authority shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. The additional members of a temporary commission ~~[shall]~~ must be appointed when a vacancy occurs, and their terms ~~[shall]~~ expire when the nominations for such vacancy have been transmitted to the governor.

7. An appointing authority shall not appoint to the permanent commission more than:

(a) One resident of any county.

(b) Two members of the same political party.

No member of the permanent commission may be a member of a commission on judicial discipline.

8. After the expiration of 30 days from the date on which the commission on judicial selection has delivered to him its list of nominees for any vacancy, if the governor has not made the appointment required by this section, he shall make no other appointment to any public office until he has appointed a justice or judge from the list submitted.

~~[If a commission on judicial selection is established by another section of this constitution to nominate persons to fill vacancies on the supreme court, such commission shall serve as the permanent commission established by subsection 3 of this section.]~~

Sec. 21. 1. A justice of the supreme court, a judge of the court of appeals, a district judge, a justice of the peace or a municipal judge may, in addition to the provision of article 7 for impeachment, be censured, retired, removed or otherwise disciplined by the commission on judicial discipline. Pursuant to rules governing appeals adopted by the supreme court, a justice or judge may appeal from the action of the commission to the supreme court, which may reverse such action or take any alternative action provided in this subsection.

2. The commission is composed of:

(a) Two justices or judges appointed by the supreme court;

(b) Two members of the State Bar of Nevada, a public corporation created by statute, appointed by its board of governors; and

(c) Three persons, not members of the legal profession, appointed by the governor.

The commission shall elect a chairman from among its three lay members.

3. If at any time the State Bar of Nevada ceases to exist as a public corporation or ceases to include all attorneys admitted to practice before the courts of this state, the legislature shall provide by law, or , if it fails to do so , the supreme court shall provide by rule, for the appointment of attorneys at law to the positions designated in this section to be occupied by members of the State Bar of Nevada.

4. The term of office of each appointive member of the commission, except the first members, is 4 years. Each appointing authority shall appoint one of the members first appointed for a term of 2 years. If a vacancy occurs, the appointing authority shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. An appointing authority shall not appoint more than one resident of any county. The governor shall not appoint more than two members of the same political party. No member may be a member of a commission on judicial selection.

5. The legislature shall establish:

(a) In addition to censure, retirement and removal, the other forms of disciplinary action that the commission may impose;

(b) The grounds for censure and other disciplinary action that the commission may impose, including, but not limited to, violations of the provisions of the code of judicial conduct;

(c) The standards for the investigation of matters relating to the fitness of a justice or judge; and

(d) The confidentiality or nonconfidentiality, as appropriate, of proceedings before the commission, except that, in any event, a decision to censure, retire or remove a justice or judge must be made public.

6. The supreme court shall adopt a code of judicial conduct.

7. The commission shall adopt rules of procedure for the conduct of its hearings and any other procedural rules it deems necessary to carry out its duties.

8. No justice or judge may by virtue of this section be:

(a) Removed except for willful misconduct, willful or persistent failure to perform the duties of his office or habitual intemperance; or

(b) Retired except for advanced age which interferes with the proper performance of his judicial duties, or for mental or physical disability which prevents the proper performance of his judicial duties and which is likely to be permanent in nature.

9. Any matter relating to the fitness of a justice or judge may be brought to the attention of the commission by any person or on the motion of the commission. The commission shall, after preliminary investigation, dismiss the matter or order a hearing to be held before it. If a hearing is ordered, a statement of the matter ~~[shall]~~ must be served upon the justice or judge against whom the proceeding is brought. The commission in its discretion may suspend a justice or judge from the exercise of his office pending the determination of the proceedings before the commission. Any justice or judge whose removal is sought is liable to indictment and punishment according to law. A justice or judge retired for disability in accordance with this section is entitled thereafter to receive such compensation as the legislature may provide.

10. If a proceeding is brought against a justice of the supreme court, no justice of the supreme court may sit on the commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a judge of the court of appeals, no judge of the court of appeals may sit on the commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a district judge, no district judge from the same judicial district may sit on the commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a justice of the peace, no justice of the peace from the same township may sit on the commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a municipal judge, no municipal judge from the same city may sit on the commission for that proceeding. If an appeal is taken from an action of the commission to the supreme court, any justice who sat on the commission for that proceeding is disqualified from participating in the consideration or decision of the appeal. When any member of the commission is disqualified by this subsection, the supreme court shall appoint a substitute from among the eligible judges.

11. The commission may:

(a) Designate for each hearing an attorney or attorneys at law to act as counsel to conduct the proceeding;

(b) Summon witnesses to appear and testify under oath and compel the production of books, papers, documents and records;

(c) Grant immunity from prosecution or punishment when the commission deems it necessary and proper in order to compel the giving of testimony under oath and the production of books, papers, documents and records; and

(d) Exercise such further powers as the legislature may from time to time confer upon it.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That section 3 of article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

~~[Sec.]~~ Sec. 3. MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Parks, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Brower, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Evans, Freeman, Gibbons, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Perkins, Price, Segerblom, Thomas, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams; Senators Titus, Amodei, Care, Carlton, Coffin, Jacobsen, James, Mathews, McGinness, Neal, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Porter, Raggio, Rawson, Rhoads, Schneider, Shaffer, Townsend, Washington and Wiener:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 39—Designating March 24, 1999, as HIV/AIDS Awareness Day in the State of Nevada.

WHEREAS, The residents of the State of Nevada are its most precious resource, and all Nevadans are an integral part of the communities of this state and make a valuable contribution to society as a whole; and

WHEREAS, Nevada ranks 17th in the nation in reported cases of acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS); and

WHEREAS, Young persons under the age of 25 years represent one-half of all new infections from exposure to the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) in the United States; and

WHEREAS, The future of this state lies in its young residents, and the benefit of having young Nevadans continue in the work force with additional years of earning potential and other sociological contributions is incalculable; and

WHEREAS, Among persons between the ages of 25 and 44 years, HIV/AIDS is the second leading cause of death; and

WHEREAS, In 1997, there were 8,086 children under the age of 13 years infected; and

WHEREAS, Women now account for 16 percent of all cases of AIDS; and

WHEREAS, Female adolescents and young women under the age of 25 years are at an even higher risk for HIV infection; and

WHEREAS, At the end of 1997, Nevada had the highest incidence of AIDS in the western states for both men and women, even higher than the rate of incidence in California; and

WHEREAS, In 1997 and 1998, deaths in Nevada attributed to AIDS declined primarily because of the heroic efforts of scientists, health care professionals and persons living with HIV/AIDS; and

WHEREAS, Patients respond best to therapy early in the course of their HIV infection when they are still healthy and able to work; and

WHEREAS, Research related to AIDS has resulted in new treatments that are prolonging the lives of many Nevadans living with the disease, and although the cost of such drug therapy is high, these dollars are more than compensated for by shorter hospital stays and decreased outpatient care costs; and

WHEREAS, The AIDS epidemic is far from over, with new infections in Nevada every year, and in the absence of a cure or vaccine, education is the only defense against this disease; and

WHEREAS, The observance of HIV/AIDS Awareness Day is an opportunity to enhance tolerance, increase compassion and promote understanding of persons infected with HIV/AIDS while communicating information about the prevention of this epidemic; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 70th session of the Nevada Legislature do hereby designate March 24, 1999, as HIV/AIDS Awareness Day in the State of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Nevada Legislature recognizes the debilitating effects of HIV/AIDS on the residents of Nevada and their families and supports the efforts of those local, state and community-based agencies that are endeavoring to reduce the occurrences of HIV/AIDS among Nevadans.

Assemblyman Parks moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Parks, Evans, Goldwater, Cegavske, Giunchigliani and Chowning.

Mr. Speaker announced that if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess for the purpose of hearing an address by Michael Dowling.

Assembly in recess at 11:29 a.m.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 11:31 a.m.
Mr. Speaker presiding.
Quorum present.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support of ACR 39. I have two young men with me here today. If you remember, last session, for those of you who were here, Michael Dowling wrote me a letter and asked me to read it on the floor. This year Michael asked if he could come and read his own letter. I've know Michael for several years, as well as his mother and sister. I think Michael can say it all without me adding any more. Next to him is his good friend Tyree Kelly. He wanted me to let you know that his mother and sister have HIV/AIDS and he almost lost his mom—he wanted you to be aware of that. My son, who is now 18 years old, did a report in fourth grade on AIDS and Ryan White. He asked me today to remember Ryan.

MICHAEL DOWLING:

Mr. Speaker and members of the Nevada State Legislature:

My name is Michael Dowling and I was born in Las Vegas. I was born HIV positive. My mom was told that I'd probably die by the time I was three years old. I am now 11 years old and I'm living with AIDS.

I go to the National Institute of Health. The doctors and nurses there are the people that have kept me alive. If not for them I would be dead. I go back there every two months. I am on a med called IL2. IL2 has done a lot for me. I get two shots a day for a week.

I plan to grow up and be a doctor. I do not plan to be disabled and live off of welfare and have Medicaid pay my doctor's bills.

People living with AIDS need good jobs and insurance to pay their medical bills. The State of Nevada needs to help us reach our goals.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblyman Parks moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 39 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 24, 1999

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 25.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 25.

Assemblyman Perkins moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Perkins, Evans, Gibbons and Humke.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 11.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman Bache.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 11:

YEAS—31.

NAYS—Angle, Beers, Brower, Cegavske, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Marvel, Nolan, Tiffany, Von Tobel—11.

Assembly Bill No. 11 having received a constitutional majority, Mr. Speaker declared it passed.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

Assembly Bill No. 144.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblywomen Parnell and Cegavske.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PARNELL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Assembly Bill 144 changes the requirements for patriotic exercises in public schools. The bill amends NRS 389.040 to require each public school in the state to set aside time at the beginning of each school day for pupils to pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States. Schools may also set aside appropriate time for additional patriotic exercises.

The bill provides Nevada's school children the same opportunity that we, as legislators, enjoy every day. We walk into this grand chamber and take time to show respect for our Flag and all that it symbolizes. We do this, not as Democrats or Republicans, not as conservatives or liberals, not as men or women, but simply as Americans. Please join me in support of Assembly Bill 144. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support of AB 144. I have handed out a reading from the late comedian, Red Skelton. I will not read it in its entirety because it would take too long—I will only read the last paragraph. "Since I was a small boy, two states have been added to our country and two words have been added to the Pledge of the Allegiance: "under God." Wouldn't it be a pity if someone said that this is a prayer and that it should be eliminated from schools, too." Please take the time to read this. I think it is a very moving reading and I feel that it illustrates the importance of the Pledge of Allegiance.

This was recorded by Red Skelton through Tropicana Topics and was published in his honor and memory. July 18, 1913—Sept. 17, 1997.

I	me, and individual, a committee of one
PLEDGE	dedicate all of my worldly good to give without self pity
ALLEGIANCE	my love and devotion
TO THE FLAG	or standard, Old Glory, a symbol of freedom, wherever she waves there's respect because your loyalty has given her the dignity that shouts freedom is everybody's job
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA	that means we have all come together individual communities that have united into 48 great states—48 individual communities with pride and dignity and purpose, all divided with imaginary boundaries yet united to a common purpose—and that's love for country.
AND TO THE REPUBLIC	Republic—a state in which sovereign power is invested in representatives chosen by the people to govern, and government is the people, and it's from the people to the leaders, not from the leaders to the people.
FOR WHICH IT STANDS	One nation meaning so blessed by God
ONE NATION INDIVISIBLE	Incapable of being divided
WITH LIBERTY	Which is freedom, the right of power to live one's own life without threats, fear, or some sort of retaliation

AND JUSTICE	The principles or qualities of dealing fairly with others
FOR ALL	For all, which means boys and girls, it's as much your country as mine

I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Jeff Paul.

Gracious God, looking back on our history we see Your boundless love and humor; look upon all who serve this great state, especially those who have gone before us, whom we love but see no longer. We give thanks for the life and witness of Linda Alden. Multiply the manifold blessings of Your love in Linda, that the good work which You began in her may be made manifest in us. May her legacy encourage us to promote the well being and dignity of all people. In Your Name we pray. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 10:49 a.m.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Quorum present.

By Assemblymen Dini, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Brower, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Evans, Freeman, Gibbons, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Price, Segerblom, Thomas, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams; Senators Amodei, Care, Carlton, Coffin, Jacobsen, James, Mathews, McGinness, Neal, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Porter, Raggio, Rawson, Rhoads, Schneider, Shaffer, Titus, Townsend, Washington and Wiener:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 40—Memorializing the former Chief Clerk of the Nevada Assembly, Linda B. Alden.

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature and the Legislative Counsel Bureau were deeply saddened with the untimely passing of Linda B. Alden on October 10, 1998; and

WHEREAS, Linda was born in Sheridan, Wyoming, on January 1, 1945, to Mark and Hariett McManus; and

WHEREAS, After graduation from Sheridan High School in 1963, Linda attended the University of Wyoming in Laramie, Wyoming; and

WHEREAS, In 1964, Linda returned to Sheridan and began working for the County Assessor's Office which was the beginning of her career in public service; and

WHEREAS, Many persons in this legislative body first met Linda during the 1983 legislative session when she was hired by the Assembly as Secretary to Speaker John Vergiels; and

WHEREAS, During that session, Linda impressed everyone with her professional demeanor and outstanding work ethic and was offered and accepted the position as Administrative Assistant to Chief Clerk Mouryne Landing and Secretary of the Senate Janice Thomas; and

WHEREAS, Linda continued to work for the Nevada Legislature and the Legislative Counsel Bureau in various capacities including Minute Clerk and Journal Clerk for the Senate Front Desk, and Receptionist and Lobbyist Registration Clerk for the Legislative Counsel Bureau; and

WHEREAS, Because of her excellent organizational skills, Linda was recruited to assist in the coordination of the annual meeting of the National Conference of State Legislatures that was hosted by Nevada in Reno in 1988; and

WHEREAS, Linda later moved to Denver, Colorado, where she worked for the National Conference of State Legislatures for the record-breaking period of 1 week, when she was reunited with her high school sweetheart and moved from Denver to join him in Wyoming, thus leading to a cherished moment in Linda's life, her marriage to Bruce Alden on December 12, 1990; and

WHEREAS, After their marriage, Linda and Bruce lived together in Wyoming for a short while before returning to Carson City in December 1992, when Linda became the Assembly Journal Clerk, a position she held during the 1993 and 1995 legislative sessions; and

WHEREAS, During the interim between the 1993 and 1995 session, Linda was hired as an Administrative Assistant for the late Jerry Kenney, Chief of the Legislative Police; and

WHEREAS, On September 8, 1995, Linda's professional dream became a reality when she was appointed to be the Chief Clerk of the Assembly upon the retirement of former Chief Clerk, Mouryne Landing; and

WHEREAS, In November 1995, Linda was initially diagnosed with ovarian cancer; and

WHEREAS, Many of her friends shared in the grief Linda experienced upon learning that her son, Richie Ruff, had been killed on May 27, 1996, by a drunk driver; and

WHEREAS, During the 1997 legislative session, Linda focused all of her energy on the demands of her new position and continued to keep the members of the Assembly on track as she successfully filled the shoes of her role model and dear friend, Mouryne; and

WHEREAS, Linda treasured the friendship she shared with Joe and Mouryne Dini, whose caring support was invaluable in helping Linda to attain her professional goals and, more importantly, to face the personal challenges in her life; and

WHEREAS, Of the many ways that Linda exhibited her natural wit and true spirit, the finest example, not evident to the general public, was that she often wore Mickey Mouse slippers while conducting business in the Assembly Chambers; and

WHEREAS, With all of this said and done, the quintessential memory that will be forever etched in the annuls of legislative history is that in the Assembly Chambers, on the occasion of Speaker Dini's 68th birthday in 1997, Linda B. Alden successfully transformed her front desk staff and the Sergeant at Arms' staff into Macarena dancers, led by none other than, the former Chief Clerk, Mouryne Landing Dini; and

WHEREAS, On October 10, 1998, Linda lost her courageous battle with this deadly disease after years of fighting and, with her passing, Nevada lost a friend whose bright smile and warm personality will forever be missed by the members of this Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Linda is survived by her husband Bruce Alden, mother Hariett McManus of Sheridan, Wyoming, sister Norma Dean of Lakewood, Colorado, brother Jim McManus of Worland, Wyoming, daughter Nicki Aaker of Dayton, Nevada, sons Marc Alden of Casper, Wyoming, and Scott Alden of Billings, Montana, and six grandchildren; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 70th legislative session offer their sincere condolences and heartfelt sympathy to the family and many friends of Linda B. Alden, a gracious, spirited, fun-loving lady who lived her life with dignity and courage; and be it further

RESOLVED, That it is with the utmost respect that this legislative body offers its condolences and appreciation to Bruce Alden for his devotion and the encouragement that he graciously offered to Linda throughout her battle; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Linda's beloved husband Bruce Alden and to her mother Hariett McManus.

Assemblyman Dini moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Dini, Hettrick, Perkins, Giunchigliani, Marvel, Manendo, Chowning, Cegavske, Bache, Price, Ohrenschall, Anderson, Carpenter, Goldwater and Thomas.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. As you can tell, it's probably going to be an emotional morning. I remember when Linda first came to work for us in the 1983 session as Speaker Vergiels' secretary. After that, she worked for both the Chief Clerk and Secretary of the Senate. She was the first secretary for the Chief Clerk and Secretary for which we ever allocated funds. Previously, the Chief Clerk and Secretary of the Senate had to do their own typing if they wanted to send a letter. Now, we have a secretary for each house, which is even better. I guess that is progress.

When she took over as Chief Clerk, it was a major occurrence for former co-Speaker Hettrick and me. We had to make a decision about the 1997 session and the hiring of Linda to be the Chief Clerk. Her career was well-rounded out. She worked in both houses; she had served here, on our front desk; she had been with the legislative police; and she had been the interim secretary. So she knew the process. That is the thing we weighed: that she had the best rounded-out background to serve as our Chief Clerk. She certainly didn't disappoint us in the 1997 session. She did a beautiful job and she put together an excellent staff. We had a great front desk, just as we have this year. It seems that when people come to the Assembly they do their best and they know they are doing the people's work.

Linda knew the process well. She was known for her warm, friendly smile and her caring concern for other people. Within a few short years she had suffered the loss of her father, the loss of her only son and dealt with two bouts of cancer. She never really lost her smile or her concern for others, however. She was a real fighter. Linda was also a family person. She found so much happiness in her marriage to Bruce and the new family she acquired. She loved being a grandmother.

About a week before her death, she said to my wife, "I don't think I'm afraid to die. But I don't want to. I still have a lot to offer." She did still have a lot to offer. Hers was a premature death and she will be long remembered and missed by all of us in this chamber. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I'm not as capable of talking through my emotions as the Speaker is. I'll simply say she's truly missed. Bruce and the family know how I feel about Linda.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. The Chief Clerk of the Assembly is certainly a very, very important person to this body and to this institution. It's also a person that keeps the Speaker on track, keeps the Majority Leader on track, and keeps the entire process moving. Linda did that so well. I'm convinced that her battle through that disease was as successful as it was only because of her energy, her attitude, and what she brought to life itself. I do recall many of the comments made by Father Jeff Paul during her services and I echo all of them, to be restated today with as much enthusiasm.

The one thing that sticks out for me in a personal way, with Linda, was after my son's bout with cancer in 1993, she was one of the people that was so encouraging and so uplifting. She made our family able to cope with that. Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN GIUNCHIGLIANI:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I too rise in support of ACR 40. Linda, I guess we could sum her up with her sense of humor—yes, her Mickey Mouse slippers—but I think she also always had a bright smile on her face. That's how we will always remember her. She also had a great deal of class. So even when she was joking around, she always carried that class. What I want to share with you is similar to what Mr. Perkins remarked about. Mr. Bache, Mr. Anderson and I share a very dear friend, Steve Kazign, who is known by many of you. Unfortunately, he has the same disease. When I found out Linda had cancer, I had her and Steve talk with each other. She called me back to thank me, which was Linda's way. They gave each other a great deal of encouragement, which was helpful, because Steve was able to explain to her the surgery that she was going to go through. This gave her some comfort. But she gave him a great deal of comfort also and I don't think he will ever forget that.

I would just sum up by saying that she was a wonderful person to know. She touched many of our lives. Her caring and courage will never be forgotten. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I also rise in support of ACR 40. I would like to thank Mouryne at this time for having done such a wonderful job in training Linda. I was spoiled having been around here since 1979. I didn't think anyone would ever replace Mouryne. But, she did such a beautiful job in training Linda, that Linda became kind of like part of our family. She was such a gracious person, so understanding of everyone else's problems, even though she had problems herself. In the times I called her, she always had that glimmer of hope. I think it shocked all of us when Jacque called to let us know of her passing. It was like losing a daughter, to me. I certainly wish to express my condolences to Bruce and certainly to Linda's family because we have lost one tremendous friend. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MANENDO:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I am honored to rise and stand in support of ACR 40. Ms. Alden had a particular interest in DUI legislation and we spent many hours in her office talking about her son, Richie, and what a tragic occurrence took place on May 27, 1996. The chairman of the Judiciary Committee allowed her the opportunity to come and testify on a piece of legislation. She was really honored to be able to do that. That was just another example of her dedication to her causes and the great State of Nevada. After she had the opportunity to speak on the legislation, we had a chance to sit down and talk. Testifying was something I think she needed to do, for herself. It was very courageous to get up and tell the Judiciary Committee about her story. We were all touched by that and I will never forget her for her participation in that process. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, am honored to speak in support of this resolution. I want to thank Linda for her friendship and how she reached out to me when I was a freshman. I used to say, "I guess if you're a freshman, you ought to be called "freshwoman." She thought that was pretty cool. I just wanted to remind everyone that in Spanish the word Linda is pronounced "Leen-da," which means "beautiful." I think she was very appropriately named, because she was not only beautiful outside. Everyone complimented her because her fashion was impeccable, right down to her pink shoes, but she was beautiful inside as well. Everyone here today, who knew her, is so grateful to have had her beautiful friendship. Her spirit of beauty is with us here today and will always remain with us. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of ACR 40 and I want to say, as a freshman last session, Linda was there for me. The very first day she had that smile. She was there to do anything that we needed, help us in any way and show us the ropes, making it look like we knew what we were doing. I really appreciated her. As Speaker Dini and others have talked about her smile, I can envision that every time I close my eyes and think of her, I see her smile that she shared. Her heart was as big as the state of Nevada. I just want to say thank you to Bruce and the family for sharing Linda with us. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN BACHE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I too, rise in support of ACR 40. In my role as chairman of Government Affairs, Linda provided the necessary support to me to make me look good; to make my job easier so I could do what I needed to do here on the floor. Also, this is a great loss to my wife because my wife knew Linda back before her legislative service, before 1983. They were colleagues and friends when she worked in Clark County. In 1995 and 1997, when my wife was up here on occasion during the session, it was a great enjoyment to her to be able to talk again, and spend time with Linda. We miss her greatly. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I also rise in favor of ACR 40. Like all of us who truly felt like family, we are saddened at the occasion we are remembering today. Linda and I, as we first got to know and meet each other and talk, discovered we both came to Nevada from Wyoming. I happened to have come to Nevada from Cheyenne. So we felt we had a little something in common just getting started from that aspect. I have to tell you, as Linda went on to become our Chief Clerk, I personally thought no one would be able to come close to our prior clerk, Mouryne. Linda certainly did, though. She worked hard and she was helped by Mouryne and became, as we all are, part of a large family. We loved her. She is sorely missed.

When I ended up in the hospital she came to visit and contacted me. I sit here, as all of us do with tears in our eyes today, thinking of her beautiful memory and wishing her well up there.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in favor of ACR 40. Linda was the epitome of professionalism. I'll never forget in our last session, when I lost my mother, and the world seemed to have crashed around me, Linda made sure to take many, many opportunities to grieve with me, privately, until she felt sure that I had come to terms with the grieving process. This was while she was carrying on all the heavy burdens of the legislature. She helped me a great deal. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. Most of the statements about the loving family that we all are, here in this body, have been said. I had the opportunity to work with Linda on several different fronts. One of them was the computer system which we have here. She played a vital role. If you had been here in the last session when this place was in a physical upheaval, recognize that she was here every day, making sure that every stick of furniture which you now see, and the comfort we stand in, was put in place. This was her chamber; it was her chamber in a very real way. The computer system which we work with is much modeled by the input that she had, in making sure that it met the needs of the front desk and the many needs of the people of the state.

When I walked into the chamber today and I saw the lovely bunting and balloons, I looked on the desk and saw the resolution. At first, I thought, "Gee, how strange." Then I thought, "How appropriate. How very appropriate." Because it was that humor, that continuous sense of humor that was Linda, that made us all love her; made us part of a family. She made everyone feel and made me feel that each one of us was the most important person here. And treated each of us as if, indeed, we were the Speaker. That was Linda. And that is the reason why we love her.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, want to rise in support ACR 40. Linda was a great friend to all of us, especially to this cowboy. I just want to say, "Amen" to everything that has been said here.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOLDWATER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. It is ironic that we are most somber, grieving the loss of somebody who had such a smile in her heart. The Assemblyman from Sparks said it best. This is a family around here. We all learn something from our family. The Chief Clerk is a wonderful matriarch of that family. Linda was fantastic. As a member of that family, you think about what you get from the other members of the family. You think no matter how physically strong you are, no matter how cunning, coy, or wise, it's observing a life and reflecting on a life like Linda's that reminds you how real strength is manifested. It reminds you how small we all are and how much we have to learn. And what real greatness is. What real wisdom is. What real strength is. That is what I took from Linda. The smile that is in my heart came from Linda and will always be there.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, want to rise in support of ACR 40. While I did not know Linda, I just wanted to offer a perception to this body that my son offered me when he was only four. It seems very appropriate and fitting at this moment.

We were driving east during sunset and so we had the horizon laid out before us. My son took his hand and pointed across the horizon and said "Daddy, what is this?"

"I don't know," I said. "Are you talking about the trees? Or the rooftops? Or the streetlights? The horizon? What are you talking about?"

"No, Daddy. Just, all of this. Is this just one big story?"

I was really taken aback by that. I had to slow down. When I pulled up into the driveway, I thought about it for a minute. Finally, I said, "You know, you're right. It is just one big story. But it is a very important story. And if you do a good job at it, perhaps they will write a book about it;" or in this case, a solution. So, I just wanted to say that I am sad to have missed Linda's story. Thank you.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblyman Dini moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 40 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore announced that if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Bills Nos. 22, 24, 79; Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 24.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DE BRAGA:

ROASTALUTION

WHEREAS, on March 28, 1929 Joseph Dini was born to Elvira and Giuseppe Dini in the sleepy little hamlet of Yerington, Nevada; and

WHEREAS, there was a family conference committee following Joe's birth and only the absence of a quorum prevented him from being switched in the hospital nursery; and

WHEREAS, his less than impressive youth made it abundantly clear to everyone—except possibly Elvira and Giuseppe—that Joe was one of those who would probably have to wait for greatness to be thrust upon him; and

WHEREAS, the early indications were that if greatness should be so thrust, it would probably come in the political arena, a presumption substantiated by reports that he repeatedly asked his grade school teachers for five minute recesses and annually pleaded with them to "do pass"; and

WHEREAS, his academic record at the University of Nevada was so sterling that he actually had it sealed by a court; and

WHEREAS, his meteoric rise from complete obscurity to mediocrity as an appointed member of the swimming pool board is still pointed to by the locals as an example to be emulated by all those who wish to make something—without being too specific—of themselves; and

WHEREAS, Joe's own cherished dream to someday run away and join the circus became a reality in 1966, when he finally got his big chance, and surprised everyone by actually being elected to the Nevada Assembly; and

WHEREAS, he has now served in that circus for 33 years—many times as ringmaster—with wit and wisdom and more than a modicum of understanding of life which he has so often summed up with his inspiring philosophical observation, "Manure happens," and

WHEREAS, throughout his career, his clever application of the political process sometimes referred to as "the game" is legend—not only because he understands it, but because he invented it; and

WHEREAS, his amazing sense of humor has helped him bridge the gap between his dignified role as Speaker of the Nevada Assembly for a record 16 years and his unseemly membership in the Royal Order of Jesters and E Clampis Whatsis, and

WHEREAS, Joe is widely recognized as the person who discovered dirt, his opinions on farming and ranching are sought out by urban and rural legislators, alike. His now internationally acclaimed "You Can Lead a Horse to Water, But if You Can Teach Him to Float on His Back You've Really Done Something" speech has motivated and encouraged literally thousands; and

WHEREAS, for proof of his stature as a great statesman and humanitarian, one has but to look at his courageous stand (or would that be courageous sit?) on outhouses; his steadfast belief that inside every good Republican there is a practically adequate Democrat struggling to get out; and the fact that—against the most insurmountable odds—he will fight to the death if need be, for equality for garlic and onions; and

WHEREAS, no one knows how many awards and accolades he has received, the first ones having been bestowed before records were kept, and

WHEREAS, in the year 2047:

Joe Dini will knock at the pearly gates
His face will be scarred and old
He'll caucus with St. Peter
For admission to the Fold
When Joe gets in, God will be wise
To hold back His new boarder
Or in a blink, Joe will, I think
Be calling Heaven to order.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that in recognition of both Joe and the legislature having reached their 70th birthdays—which as everyone knows is 140 in government years; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we join his wife Mouryne and his family in wishing him a happy birthday and many, many, many, many more of the same; and

BE IT MOREOVER ALSO ADDITIONALLY RESOLVED that we, the honorable and obviously not above sucking-up members of the Nevada Legislature, do hereby proclaim March 28 as Joe Dini Day throughout the state, nation and planet.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, Mr. Speaker!

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 26, 1999

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed Assembly Bills Nos. 113, 127, 128; Senate Bill No. 480; Senate Joint Resolution No. 12 of the 69th Session.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Joint Resolution No. 12 of the 69th Session.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Evans, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Brower, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Freeman, Gibbons, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Price, Segerblom, Thomas, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams; Senators Raggio, Rawson, Amodei, Care, Carlton, Coffin, Jacobsen, James, Mathews, McGinness, Neal, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Porter, Rhoads, Schneider, Shaffer, Titus, Townsend, Washington and Wiener:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 41—Congratulating the University of Nevada School of Medicine on its 30th Anniversary and commending Dean Robert M. Daugherty, Jr. for the leadership and guidance he has provided to its students.

WHEREAS, Through the recommendation of the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada and the encouragement, vision and generosity of the late Howard R. Hughes, and other friends such as Dr. Fred Anderson and H. Edward Manville, the University of Nevada School of Medicine was established by the Nevada Legislature in 1969; and

WHEREAS, The University of Nevada School of Medicine has become a medical school for the entire state, with training programs in Las Vegas, Reno, Henderson, Elko, North Las Vegas, Carson City and Sparks, using the assistance of six community hospitals and more than 900 community physicians throughout Nevada to provide patient care in person and via telemedicine; and

WHEREAS, Every year approximately 208 students from Nevada are given the opportunity to pursue a medical education, and, today, more than 1,000 students trained in Nevada have graduated from the University of Nevada School of Medicine, including 900 resident physicians who have been trained in family practice, internal medicine, pediatrics, psychiatry, surgery, and obstetrics and gynecology; and

WHEREAS, The University of Nevada School of Medicine strives to improve the delivery of health care to rural areas by placing physicians in nearly every rural community within this state and staffing Area Health Education Centers with qualified and knowledgeable professionals in health care to make the latest information on health care available to persons living in rural areas; and

WHEREAS, Regardless of a patient's ability to pay, the physicians from the University of Nevada School of Medicine continue to deliver quality health care to any person in need of health care; and

WHEREAS, In addition to the University of Nevada School of Medicine's delivery of health care, vital research is conducted by researchers from the School of Medicine in such important medical subjects as cancer, heart disease, gastrointestinal disorders, nutrition, diabetes and women's health issues, bringing more than $9 million in research funding to the State of Nevada each year; and

WHEREAS, Dean Robert M. Daugherty, Jr., M.D., Ph.D., has served as Dean of the University of Nevada School of Medicine for 18 years, the second longest tenure of all current deans, during which he has built a program that is respected not only in Nevada, but also nationally because of the caliber of its faculty, students and programs; and

WHEREAS, Dean Daugherty has brought recognition to the State of Nevada through his leadership roles in the American Medical Association and the Association of American Medical Colleges as an advocate for all physicians to preserve the doctor/patient relationship and create leadership role models for physicians; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 70th session of the Nevada Legislature congratulate the University of Nevada School of Medicine on its 30th Anniversary and commend the school for the vital service it provides to the people of the State of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this legislative body pays special tribute, to Dean Robert M. Daugherty, Jr., M.D., Ph.D., on the occasion of being named Dean Emeritus, for his 18 years of service and leadership; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the University of Nevada School of Medicine and Dean Robert M. Daugherty, Jr.

Assemblywoman Evans moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Evans, Marvel, Carpenter, Mortenson, Freeman and Mr. Speaker.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN EVANS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In 1969 only a handful of Nevada students were admitted to out-of-state medical schools. Most rural communities were without a doctor. When the School of Medicine was established by the legislature in 1969, the state's population was 482,000. The legislature was still meeting in the Capitol Building and Speaker Dini was learning the ropes of lawmaking. Times have changed. Today, the School of Medicine's enrollment exceeds 200 students. Working with hospitals and clinics, the school has been at the forefront of change and innovation in health care delivery. Although medical education is the chief mission of the school, in truth, it does much more than just train the next generation of physicians.

The school's bio-medical research program has achieved international recognition and competes successfully for federal and private grants. In clinical practice faculty, students, and residents can be found in offices, clinics, and hospitals at numerous sites across the state. In addition to the activities mentioned in the resolution, the School of Medicine has fostered development of the Health Services Corp and the Area Health Education Centers in Las Vegas, Elko, and Reno. They assist the public and train many types of health professionals.

Under faculty guidance, the students run a free clinic for the indigent. They also volunteer their time to work with students in our public schools and anti-smoking and anti-drug campaigns. Additionally, the medical school operates a special summer science program for northern and southern public school teachers, along with a unique outreach program for minority high school students.

From pediatrics to geriatrics; from organ transplants to the reattachment of severed limbs; Nevada's medical school has taken a leadership role. On the subject of leadership, the school has succeeded, in large part, because it has had quality leadership. Dean Robert Daugherty has been at the helm since 1981, guiding the school through many stages of growth and development. Especially the expansion of the school's southern campus. He has been a bold and visionary dean—determined and courageous, diligent, tough-minded and tender-hearted. Does he have an Achilles heel? Yes. Students. He is very student oriented. He quickly learns the name of each student and his door is always open to their concerns.

I've long been struck by the message that he consistently gives to medical students. It goes something like this: "The medical school can provide you with knowledge, skill and the experiences needed to become a highly trained physician. You must study hard to learn the science of medicine. But in the art of healing you must give an equal amount of time and effort to become a caring physician. You must listen to your patients and hear what they are saying. Be sensitive and touch them. Be tender and responsive to their needs and to the needs of their families. You will not only be caring for your patients, you must care about them."

Two years ago, Dr. Daugherty was chosen by his peers to a high, national office: chair of the Council of Deans for the Association of American Medical Colleges. Recently, Dr. Jordan Cohen, president of that association, said, "Bob Daugherty is really a mentor to mentors. He is a man of vision and that rare sort of leader who has his feet firmly planted in the present, but his eyes always on the future and how we are going to get there. I've known Bob for many years and I sometimes wonder if he has found the magic formula for getting 25 hours out of every 24."

Dean Daugherty, Nevada thanks you for your hard work and commitment to making our medical school a source of pride. As you step down from being the dean, we know that someone will fill your position. No one will ever fill your shoes.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is with great pride that I rise in support of ACR 41. You know, the School of Medicine has survived for 30 years and I congratulate it for doing so. It hasn't been a bed of roses. I do think the School of Medicine has really touched all of us in the State of Nevada. We should all be proud that we have such a school of national and rural recognition.

Rural Nevada—and I do represent rural areas—had a difficult time in placing professionals and doctors. Because of the presence of our school, we now feel that we do have adequate, though maybe not enough, medical and professional coverage. Personally, I am involved. My own family physician is a graduate of the University of Nevada's School of Medicine. I have a plate in my arm which was placed there by another school graduate. We do have and excel at professionalism.

I would like to commend Dr. Daugherty for his 18 years of patience and perseverance. I used to kid the dean about when you shake hands with him, make sure you have your hand on your wallet. Dr. Daugherty, we are proud you have reached "emeritus" status. I think I am the only person here, in this Assembly, who was on Ways and Means in 1981 when the good doctor made his first budget presentation. He was from Indiana. He was asked by one legislator, "I hope you haven't sold your home in Indiana." Another one said, "I hope you haven't bought a home in Reno." After 18 years, here he is, without the albatross around his neck.

May I say, Doctor, we are very proud of your accomplishments. One of the things I am particularly proud of, which has helped my area so much, has been the AHEC program. This was a forerunner to Distance Education. He implemented a program where, from the School of Medicine, we could actually instruct our professionals in the hospitals. I think the pilot area was in Elko. Since then, it has been recognized throughout the state. It has been a tremendous help to all of us in the State of Nevada, particularly in rural areas. You should be commended Dr. Daugherty for your time and dedication to the School of Medicine. Thank you for being one of us.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 41. Health care in rural Nevada has made great strides because of our College of Medicine. Many of the physicians in rural Nevada have helped to train future doctors and many times, after they became doctors, they came back to rural Nevada and stayed. This is certainly true in my hometown of Elko. I want to give my thanks to Dr. Daugherty for really helping rural Nevada. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Thank you. I certainly rise in support of ACR 41. I think I am the only one in this room who was in the legislature in 1969 when we approved the medical school. I think it is one of the finest votes I ever made in my life. I am very proud of the institution and proud of what we did for the people in this state. It was a difficult battle to approve the medical school. It did not pass by many votes. It was our first test of "north versus south." It was after reapportionment in 1966. There were some elements in southern Nevada who did not want us to have a medical school. They felt we couldn't afford it and should turn it down.

The battle continued for months. I remember a senator from Washoe County came to me, to get me to commit to the vote for the school. Virgil Ghetto and I were a team—he's formerly from Churchill County. That year he was chairman of Agriculture and I was the vice-chairman. The previous year, it had been the other way around. They wanted a medical school and we needed some votes for the ice cream, butterfat content bill, which was in the Agriculture Committee. I remember we made a deal with the senator from Washoe County. He said, "I'll vote for your bill and you vote for mine." We were going to vote for the medical school anyway, so it didn't make any difference. At that time, the 14 percent butterfat for ice cream was a big issue. In the rural areas, such as Churchill and Lyon Counties, there were major dairy herds. I think there were 17 Grade A barns in Lyon County and probably 40 in Churchill, at that time. They were discussing using less cream, which would cut into the dairy business. We thought it was a real issue to die for. We voted for the medical school and the senator from Washoe County did not vote for the ice cream bill.

I have been privileged to watch this institution grow. Especially since Dean Daugherty came on the scene in 1981. He made some great friendships here with Marvin Sedway, Jack Jeffrey—people from southern Nevada who certainly supported the institution and gave it an opportunity to go forward. It is expensive. It turned out to be expensive and more money was needed. I have to say something about the dean. He has a knack. When he comes to my office for a fireside chat, he usually has one piece of paper. He extends that piece of paper to me and says, "Look this program over, will you Joe?" As soon as I acknowledge that I might be interested in that program, he reaches into the other pocket and says, "Do you mind taking a look at this one?" Before he's done, I have a stack of papers a foot high, on ten different programs he wants. Then I get accused by the Senate of being the whipping boy for the dean of the medical school. I'm going to miss that.

The school has done a great job for our state. We have a physician in our area—Lyon County paid for her education—who graduated a good number of years ago. She is an outstanding physician in our community. I think we say that about every community. I had the pleasure of going on an airplane ride with the Dean a few years ago. We went around with the AHEC program, the Health Service Corp Program, where we had checks to give the doctors in little communities, to help pay their debt for their education. We went to Eureka, which was a lot of fun because we were in a jet and there was only a dirt runway. Then we went to Elko, Winnemucca, and Fallon. We met some real fine doctors that were doing a great job in the rural areas.

We certainly appreciate all the efforts that the Medical School has done for us. I want to commend Dean Daugherty for the beautiful job he has done. He will certainly be remembered by both Houses of the Legislature for his outstanding contributions to the good health and well being of the citizens of our state. With that, I wish you years of happiness as Dean Emeritus.

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In 1969, or maybe earlier, I was working at the Test Site with Los Alamos Scientific Labs. I hired a new graduate nuclear engineer from the University of North Carolina to work in my group. In 1969, when he found that there was going to be a medical school in Reno, he deserted his career as a nuclear engineer and came up here and passed through the first medical school. He is now a doctor here in Carson City and his name is Edmund Pierczynski. I wish I could have had him here beside me today. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FREEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 41. After the wonderful stories which have been told by Speaker Dini and the rest, I won't try to top that. I simply want to congratulate the School of Medicine and the Dean as well, on the school's anniversary and his retirement. Enjoy your retirement.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 51.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 90.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 1 through 4 as sections 2 through 5 and adding a new section designated section 1, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. NRS 1.360 is hereby amended to read as follows:

1.360 Under the direction of the supreme court, the court administrator shall:

1. Examine the administrative procedures employed in the offices of the judges, clerks, court reporters and employees of all courts of this state and make recommendations, through the chief justice, for the improvement of those procedures;

2. Examine the condition of the dockets of the courts and determine the need for assistance by any court;

3. Make recommendations to and carry out the directions of the chief justice relating to the assignment of district judges where district courts are in need of assistance;

4. Develop a uniform system for collecting and compiling statistics and other data regarding the operation of the state court system and transmit that information to the supreme court so that proper action may be taken in respect thereto;

5. Prepare and submit a budget of state appropriations necessary for the maintenance and operation of the state court system and make recommendations in respect thereto;

6. Develop procedures for accounting, internal auditing, procurement and disbursement for the state court system;

7. Collect statistical and other data and make reports relating to the expenditure of all public money for the maintenance and operation of the state court system and the offices connected therewith;

8. Compile statistics from the information required to be maintained by the clerks of the district courts pursuant to NRS 3.275 and make reports as to the cases filed in the district courts;

9. Formulate and submit to the supreme court recommendations of policies or proposed legislation for the improvement of the state court system; ~~[and]~~

10. On or before January 1 of each year, submit to the director of the legislative counsel bureau a written report compiling the information submitted to the court administrator pursuant to sections 6, 9 and 10 of this act during the immediately preceding fiscal year; and

11. Attend to such other matters as may be assigned by the supreme court or prescribed by law.".

Amend section 1, page 1, line 2, by deleting:

"2, 3 and 4" and inserting:

"3 to 6, inclusive,".

Amend sec. 2, page 1, line 4, by deleting:"3 and 4" and inserting:

"4 and 5".

Amend sec. 4, page 1, line 8, by deleting:

"and "family division" mean" and inserting "means".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 5 and 6 as sections 7 and 8 and adding a new section designated sec. 6, following sec. 4, to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. In the time and manner prescribed by the supreme court, the chief judge of the judicial district or, if the district has no chief judge, a district judge designated by mutual consent of the district judges of that district, shall submit to the court administrator a report of the statistical information required pursuant to this section and such other statistical information as prescribed by the supreme court. The report must include, without limitation, statistical information concerning:

1. Those cases which are pending and undecided and the judge to whom each case has been assigned;

2. The type and number of cases each judge considered during the preceding month;

3. The number of cases submitted to each judge during the preceding month;

4. The number of cases decided by each judge during the preceding month; and

5. The number of full judicial days in which each judge appeared in court or in chambers in performance of his duties during the preceding month.".

Amend sec. 6, pages 2 and 3, by deleting lines 27 through 41 on page 2 and lines 1 through 3 on page 3, and inserting:

"~~judge of the district shall submit a written report to the clerk of the supreme court each month, showing:~~

~~(a) Those cases which are pending and undecided and to which judge the cases have been assigned;~~

~~(b) The type and number of cases each judge considered during the preceding month;~~

~~(c) The number of cases submitted to each judge during the preceding month;~~

~~(d) The number of cases decided by each judge during the preceding month; and~~

~~(e) The number of full judicial days in which each judge appeared in court or in chambers in performance of his duties during the preceding month.~~] ;

and

(d) Perform all other duties of the chief judge or of a presiding judge that are set forth in this chapter and any other provision of NRS.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sec. 7 as sec. 11 and adding new sections designated sections 9 and 10, following sec. 6, to read as follows:

"Sec. 9. Chapter 4 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

In the time and manner prescribed by the supreme court, the justice of the peace of a township or, if there is more than one justice of the peace of a township, a justice of the peace designated by mutual consent of the other justices of the peace of that township, shall submit to the court administrator a written report of the statistical information required pursuant to this section and such other statistical information as prescribed by the supreme court. The report must include, without limitation, statistical information concerning:

1. Those cases which are pending and undecided and the justice of the peace to whom each case has been assigned;

2. The type and number of cases each justice of the peace considered during the preceding month;

3. The number of cases submitted to each justice of the peace during the preceding month;

4. The number of cases decided by each justice of the peace during the preceding month; and

5. The number of full judicial days in which each justice of the peace appeared in court or in chambers in performance of his duties during the preceding month.

Sec. 10. Chapter 5 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

In the time and manner prescribed by the supreme court, the municipal judge of a city or, if there is more than one municipal judge for a city, a municipal judge designated by mutual consent of the other municipal judges of that city, shall submit to the court administrator a written report of the statistical information required pursuant to this section and such other statistical information as prescribed by the supreme court. The report must include, without limitation, statistical information concerning:

1. Those cases which are pending and undecided and the municipal judge to whom each case has been assigned;

2. The type and number of cases each municipal judge considered during the preceding month;

3. The number of cases submitted to each municipal judge during the preceding month;

4. The number of cases decided by each municipal judge during the preceding month; and

5. The number of full judicial days in which each municipal judge appeared in court or in chambers in performance of his duties during the preceding month.".

Amend the title of the bill to read as follows:

"AN ACT relating to the court system; requiring the district courts, justices' courts and municipal courts to submit certain statistical information to the court administrator; requiring the court administrator to compile such information and submit an annual report concerning the information to the director of the legislative counsel bureau; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

Amend the summary of the bill to read as follows:

"SUMMARY—Makes various changes concerning reporting of certain statistical information to court administrator by district courts, justices' courts and municipal courts. (BDR 1-377)".

THE SIXTIETH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), April 1, 1999

Assembly called to order at 10:47 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblywoman de Braga, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Lt. John Van Cleef.

Almighty God, on this day of Passover, our hearts and minds quickly turn toward thoughts of deliverance, redemption and freedom. It is upon these divinely inspired ideals that this nation was built, and upon which this government rests. May the men and women of this great Assembly be inspired by these ideals. May they be guided by Thy hand to enact laws that support them, and empowered by Thy Spirit to embody them. This prayer we offer in Thy Holy Name. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 42—Memorializing former Chief of the Legislative Police Jerry A. Kenney.

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature note with profound sorrow the passing of former Chief of the Legislative Police, Jerry A. Kenney, on December 27, 1997; and

WHEREAS, Jerry Kenney was born January 18, 1936, to Patrick and Florence Keegan Kenney of LeMars, Iowa; and

WHEREAS, While employed by the Los Angeles Police Department from 1959 to 1979, Jerry Kenney received an honorable discharge from the United States Marine Corps in 1962, and, in 1976, he earned an Associate of Arts degree from Moorpark Junior College in Moorpark, California; and

WHEREAS, After retiring as a detective from the Los Angeles Police Department, Jerry and his family moved to Carson City; and

WHEREAS, Jerry Kenney was hired as an officer with the Legislative Police on March 3, 1985, because of his knowledge and experience in law enforcement, and was promoted to Lieutenant of the Legislative Police on July 1, 1987; and

WHEREAS, On September 8, 1992, Jerry Kenney was promoted to Chief of the Legislative Police and continued in this capacity until his untimely death; and

WHEREAS, This avid fan of the Los Angeles Dodgers was named an "Outstanding Dad" by the team on July 20, 1991, and was always prepared to help any willing listener understand just how great the Dodgers were; and

WHEREAS, Jerry Kenney served as regional Chairman and Vice Chairman of the National Legislative Services and Security Association, a group of state legislative officers and sergeants-at-arms, and held numerous professional certificates which he had received throughout his career in law enforcement; and

WHEREAS, Following his death, flags at the Nevada Legislature were flown at half-mast for several days to pay tribute to this highly regarded officer; and

WHEREAS, Jerry Kenney is survived by his beloved wife, Gay Swetman Kenney of Carson City, his son, Jim of Ventura, California, daughter, Kathleen Hughes of Reno, brothers, Tom Letsche of Remsen, Iowa, and Patrick Kenney of Rapid City, South Dakota, and 10 grandchildren; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 70th session of the Nevada Legislature express their heartfelt condolences to Jerry's wife, Gay, and the rest of his beloved family; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Jerry Kenney will long be remembered because of his easy-going nature, his loyalty to the L.A. Dodgers and his dedication to the Nevada Legislature and law enforcement; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Jerry's loving wife, Gay.

Assemblyman Perkins moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Perkins, Anderson, Marvel, Price, and Mr. Speaker.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is with heavy heart and yet with great memories that I stand in support of ACR 42. Many in this body probably never got to meet Jerry Kenney. Many of you that did probably never got to know him very well. That was Chief Kenney's style. He was a man of few words—but a man with a purpose.

As you can see, our Legislative Police are here in attendance today in Chief Kenney's honor. You can tell by the resolution that he served over 20 years in law enforcement with the Los Angeles Police Department, before retiring and coming here in 1985. His ascension through the ranks in this body, in our legislative police force, was quite rapid. I wanted to share with the body a few thoughts, which had been shared with me by some of his colleagues.

It was put to me that he was unique in that he had a photographic memory. There were things he just didn't forget. He did not necessarily write them down. We had thousands of keys for this building and he knew the number of the key for every place, without having to have a list. That didn't work for everybody—they had to make a list. He was a real manager. He managed the functions so well. He was a no-nonsense manager. When he put his foot down, though, that was the end of the discussion. He did it in a way that made those that worked for him feel good about themselves and good about the operation.

As the resolution mentioned, he was quite the Dodger fan; often watching games on satellite which were not on local feed or taping games. He was quite an architect in his own right, as well; drawing plans for offices and that sort of thing. I remember working with him on the Legislative Security Subcommittee on the placement of the cameras in the building, to make sure we had all our bases covered, and to provide the security for this building. He spearheaded the change of the name from "Legislative Security" to "Legislative Police." They are a full-fledged police force. They have those authorities and they have quite a number of skills. That is a credit to Chief Kenney. He was the one who really assembled the core of what we have today.

There were a number of accomplishments. You can't say enough about what a family man he was. He always talked about his bride, Gay. His family was first and foremost to him. There were a number of things that bothered other people in the building and they would say, "Doesn't that bother you, Chief?" And he would say, "No. That's nothing." His family was first on his priority list. So, all these things which were big problems to other people were really little things to Jerry because of the priorities that he had in his life.

He was the kind of man you could take a handshake commitment from and take it to the bank. He never went back on his word. I know that his family, Mr. Speaker, feels a great loss. They have great memories but they did suffer a great loss. I have to tell you, however, that the people in this building suffered a great loss as well. He managed so brilliantly. He was detail oriented and got things done so well. Few of the people who knew him probably really knew him because he did everything with no fanfare. He didn't want recognition for what he did—he just wanted to get the job done.

I know you see that all our officers are here in their blue uniforms. I have to tell you, as someone who has spent their entire adult life in law enforcement, we have a force that does a function that is nearly impossible. They have 63 "prima donnas" to work for. They have to provide security for not only us but to all the citizens who come to this building. You never see them. You never know they are there. They do it inconspicuously, so as not to be a threatening presence to the public. You will never know the things that happen behind the scenes; the people they talk to and making sure they aren't a threat to us or others; and the people that are a threat or deemed to be a threat who are moved along. You never hear about those things. That's the way Chief Kenny implemented the process.

On a final note, Mr. Speaker, it's always tough to lose a colleague in law enforcement. If there is anything as close to you as your own family, it is the family in law enforcement. When we lose an officer, anywhere, it's felt by each and every one of us. I know it has affected our officers. Anyone who went to the funeral saw people from all agencies paying their respects. It truly is something that's felt throughout the law enforcement family. In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, I again want to offer my support for this resolution. Chief Kenney is somebody we will never, ever replace. His shoes can never be filled. We have a different chief now, who has a different style. One that is very good as well. However, we will all remember Chief Kenney for the accomplishments that he has put forward here; for the family environment he enjoyed; and for the security that benefits you and me. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the resolution. I think there is very little that I, not being a law enforcement officer, could add to the description of the services that Chief Kenney provided. I had the opportunity to come to know him and rely on him for several different reasons, not the least of which was, of course, his love of the Dodgers—the only true baseball team.

I think it is really important for us to look at the men and women who are standing there on our left and realize that they are a reflection of Mr. Kenney and his attitudes. Our current chief continues that. The way they have been selected is a reflection of Mr. Kenney's attitude and his care for people, who should come first. When we deal with law enforcement, at least in my committee, on a regular basis, it is the high standards of people that we deal with every day that makes us realize the importance of their work. Therefore, I think our police force as selected by Chief Kenney, and now carried on, are good representatives of the law enforcement agencies as a whole. This is because of the practical experience. They bring with them that additional sensitivity which is needed. So, when I see our force, I think of Chief Kenney and the other members who have served the people of this state. I thank him and his family for allowing his memory to continue on with this resolution. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also support ACR 42. I think we were all saddened by his sudden demise, particularly those of us who had been around here a while, because we had known Jerry for so many years. I think we can paraphrase Jerry by this: he epitomized excellence in law enforcement. That can be seen when you look at the fine people we have here in blue. By assembling these people, we knew that Jerry understood law enforcement.

Jerry and I got fairly close. I happened to be a Dodger fan, too. One time, when he and Jimmy were back in Pittsburgh, or someplace, they attended a Dodger game. They brought back a baseball that was autographed by Tommy Lasorda, who at the time was manager of the Dodger team. We haven't done too well since then, but I know Jerry is probably praying for them up there as I pray for them down here.

The last time I saw Jerry, he presented me with this legislative pin. That will always be a reminder of Jerry to me. What a fine gentleman and fine officer he was. Certainly our condolences to Gay and the family. He is going to be sorely missed. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise with sadness, but in pride with honoring someone who was one of our family—the family of 63. Talking about the Dodgers—I'm not exactly a sports fan—but one of the few ballgames—and I remember talking to him about that—that I'd actually gone to, when I was a kid, was a Dodger game when they were actually playing back in New York. Anyhow, we had talked about that.

I recall that there was some incident that occurred in another legislature somewhere in the United States. This caused Jerry to be more concerned with our security and to develop this room and the room over in the Senate, as well as some of the procedures to enhance our safety. He was certainly a dedicated professional and, as I say, one of the family to us. I always felt a little spoiled, and suppose that we all did, in the wonderful treatment that we got from Jerry and his colleagues that worked with him. I certainly extend my best wishes today, to the family, to let you know that he was certainly loved in this body and that we miss him dearly.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

With the permission of the House, I would just like to say and give my condolences to the family. Mouryne Landing, who is sitting next to me, is a former Chief Clerk. She and Jerry had a long standing game they played between each other, sending each other mystery packages and notes. I'm trying to get Mouryne to write down a couple of those stories, just to show you his humor and his relationship to other people on the staff. When we worked together, he would come to my office if there was a problem. The Chief had a handle on it all the time. There were no problems because he took care of them. He gave us tremendous security, just knowing that Jerry was here.

Whenever Mouryne came in late, Jerry would announce on the PA, which went all over the building, "Glad you could make it, Mrs. Landing." She baked a birthday cake for him, tore it apart when she frosted it and then set it out, calling it "best effort" when she gave it to him. Between the two of them, they had a warm relationship. I think, of all the people in this room, she probably misses him more than anybody.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 43—Commending Carol Van Wagoner for her outstanding watercolor paintings of the state symbols of Nevada.

WHEREAS, Carol Ann Jeffery was born in the little farming community of Delta, Utah; and

WHEREAS, Carol began developing her artistic talent as a young child by drawing during her spare time; and

WHEREAS, Carol's artistic talents were officially recognized in her second year of college when she won the "Painting of the Year" while attending Dixie College; and

WHEREAS, After graduation from Brigham Young University with a Bachelor of Arts degree, Carol went on to teach school for 1 year before marrying David Van Wagoner and starting her new career of motherhood, raising their six children; and

WHEREAS, When the Van Wagoners' youngest child entered school, Carol returned to teaching in the Clark County School District where she has spent 6 out of 10 years as a teacher at the R. Guild Gray Elementary School; and

WHEREAS, This innovative school recently unveiled their "Nevada Wall," an exhibit that includes copies of historical documents, a copy of the state seal, a state flag that had flown over Carson City, a copy of the Nevada Constitution and materials from the Carson City Mint; and

WHEREAS, One of the biggest challenges in completing the "Nevada Wall" was to find renderings of the state symbols of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, When none were found, Carol Van Wagoner, R. Guild Gray's art teacher, offered to paint watercolors of every state symbol; and

WHEREAS, Within 3 months, using her imagination and the most vivid colors, Carol painted every state symbol with such color and clarity that their addition to the "Nevada Wall" captured the true feeling of the state symbols of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, During this 70th legislative session, these magnificent watercolor paintings have been proudly displayed on the third floor of the Legislative Building; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That Carol Van Wagoner is hereby commended for her contributions to this state through her dynamic watercolor paintings of the state symbols of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this legislative body is most appreciative to have been given the opportunity to observe and admire these true works of art that portray patriotism and pride for the State of Nevada through the artistic expression of Carol Van Wagoner; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Carol Van Wagoner.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 5.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 76.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 and 2 and adding new sections designated sections 1 through 9, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. Chapter 422 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 and 3 of this act.

Sec. 2. "Children's health insurance program" means the program established pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §§ 1397aa to 1397jj, inclusive, to provide health insurance to uninsured children from low-income families in this state.

Sec. 3. 1. The administrator shall include in the state plan for Medicaid, to the extent authorized by federal law, presumptive eligibility for women who are pregnant and for persons who are less than 19 years of age.

2. The administrator shall include in the children's health insurance program, to the extent authorized by federal law, a benefit similar to presumptive eligibility for persons who are less than 19 years of age.

Sec. 4. NRS 422.001 is hereby amended to read as follows:

422.001 As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 422.005 to 422.055, inclusive, and section 2 of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 5. NRS 422.050 is hereby amended to read as follows:

422.050 1. "Public assistance" includes:

~~[1.]~~ (a) State supplementary assistance;

~~[2.]~~ (b) Temporary assistance for needy families;

~~[3.]~~ (c) Medicaid;

~~[4.]~~ (d) Food stamp assistance;

~~[5.]~~ (e) Low-income home energy assistance;

~~[6.]~~ (f) The program for child care and development; and

~~[7.]~~ (g) Benefits provided pursuant to any other public welfare program administered by the welfare division pursuant to such additional federal legislation as is not inconsistent with the purposes of this chapter.

2. The term does not include the children's health insurance program.

Sec. 6. NRS 422.222 is hereby amended to read as follows:

422.222 1. The administrator may adopt such regulations as are necessary for the administration of NRS 422.070 to 422.410, inclusive, and section 3 of this act and any program of the welfare division.

2. A regulation adopted by the administrator becomes effective upon adoption or such other date as the administrator specifies in the regulation.

Sec. 7. NRS 422.270 is hereby amended to read as follows:

422.270 The department, through the welfare division, shall:

1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 432.010 to 432.085, inclusive, administer all public welfare programs of this state, including:

(a) State supplementary assistance;

(b) Temporary assistance for needy families;

(c) Medicaid;

(d) Food stamp assistance;

(e) Low-income home energy assistance;

(f) The program for child care and development;

(g) The program for the enforcement of child support; ~~[and]~~

(h) The children's health insurance program; and

(i) Other welfare activities and services provided for by the laws of this state.

2. Act as the single state agency of the State of Nevada and its political subdivisions in the administration of any federal money granted to the ~~[state]~~ State of Nevada to aid in the furtherance of any of the services and activities set forth in subsection 1.

3. Cooperate with the Federal Government in adopting state plans, in all matters of mutual concern, including adoption of methods of administration found by the Federal Government to be necessary for the efficient operation of welfare programs, and in increasing the efficiency of welfare programs by prompt and judicious use of new federal grants which will assist the welfare division in carrying out the provisions of NRS 422.070 to 422.410, inclusive ~~[.]~~ , and section 3 of this act.

4. Observe and study the changing nature and extent of welfare needs and develop through tests and demonstrations effective ways of meeting those needs and employ or contract for personnel and services supported by legislative appropriations from the state general fund or money from federal or other sources.

5. Enter into reciprocal agreements with other states relative to public assistance, welfare services and institutional care, when deemed necessary or convenient by the administrator.

6. Make such agreements with the Federal Government as may be necessary to carry out the supplemental security income program.

Sec. 8. NRS 232.320 is hereby amended to read as follows:

232.320 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the director:

(a) Shall appoint, with the consent of the governor, chiefs of the divisions of the department, who are respectively designated as follows:

(1) The administrator of the aging services division;

(2) The administrator of the health division;

(3) The state welfare administrator; and

(4) The administrator of the division of child and family services.

(b) Shall administer, through the divisions of the department, the provisions of ~~[chapters 210,]~~ NRS 127.220 to 127.310, inclusive, chapter 210 of NRS, NRS 422.001 to 422.410, inclusive, and section 3 of this act, NRS 422.580, chapters 423, 424, 425 ~~[, 427A,]~~ and 427A of NRS, NRS 432.010 to 432.139, inclusive, chapters 432A to 442, inclusive, of NRS, NRS 444.003 to 444.430, inclusive, and 445A.010 to 445A.050, inclusive, and chapters 446, 447, 449 and 450 of NRS, ~~[NRS 127.220 to 127.310, inclusive, 422.070 to 422.410, inclusive, 432.010 to 432.139, inclusive, 444.003 to 444.430, inclusive, and 445A.010 to 445A.050, inclusive,]~~ and all other provisions of law relating to the functions of the divisions of the department, but is not responsible for the clinical activities of the health division or the professional line activities of the other divisions.

(c) Shall, after considering advice from agencies of local governments and nonprofit organizations which provide social services, adopt a master plan for the provision of human services in this state. The director shall revise the plan biennially and deliver a copy of the plan to the governor and the legislature at the beginning of each regular session. The plan must:

(1) Identify and assess the plans and programs of the department for the provision of human services, and any duplication of those services by federal, state and local agencies;

(2) Set forth priorities for the provision of those services;

(3) Provide for communication and the coordination of those services among nonprofit organizations, agencies of local government, the state and the Federal Government;

(4) Identify the sources of funding for services provided by the department and the allocation of that funding;

(5) Set forth sufficient information to assist the department in providing those services and in the planning and budgeting for the future provision of those services; and

(6) Contain any other information necessary for the department to communicate effectively with the Federal Government concerning demographic trends, formulas for the distribution of federal money and any need for the modification of programs administered by the department.

(d) May, by regulation, require nonprofit organizations and state and local governmental agencies to provide information to him regarding the programs of those organizations and agencies, excluding detailed information relating to their budgets and payrolls, which he deems necessary for his performance of the duties imposed upon him pursuant to this section.

(e) Has such other powers and duties as are provided by law.

2. The governor shall appoint the administrator of the mental hygiene and mental retardation division.

Sec. 9. 1. This section and sections 1, 2 and 3 of this act become effective on July 1, 1999.

2. Sections 4 to 8, inclusive, of this act become effective at 12:01 a.m. on July 1, 1999.".

Amend the title of the bill to read as follows:

"AN ACT relating to public welfare; requiring the department of human resources to include presumptive eligibility for pregnant women and persons who are less than 19 years of age in the state plan for Medicaid; requiring the department of human resources to include a similar benefit in the children's health insurance program to the extent authorized by federal law; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 121.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 through 3 and adding new sections designated sections 1 and 2, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. 1. The Legislative Commission shall appoint a subcommittee to conduct an interim study concerning the statutory limitation on damages that may be awarded to a person in a tort action against the State of Nevada or any of its political subdivisions, or a present or former officer or employee of this state or any political subdivision, or an immune contractor or state legislator arising out of an act or omission within the scope of his public duties or employment.

2. In addition to legislators, the Legislative Commission shall appoint an advisory committee to assist the subcommittee. The advisory committee must include, without limitation:

(a) One representative from the Office of the Attorney General;

(b) One representative from the Division of Insurance of the Department of Business and Industry;

(c) One representative from the League of Cities;

(d) One representative from the League of Counties;

(e) One representative from the Nevada Association of Counties;

(f) One representative from the Nevada Trial Lawyers' Association;

(g) One resident of Clark County;

(h) One resident of Washoe County; and

(i) One resident of a rural county of this state.

3. The study must include, without limitation, an analysis of whether it is appropriate to change the current statutory limitation on damages set forth in NRS 41.035 with consideration to the potential effects of changing the limitation, including, without limitation, the potential fiscal impact of any such change and the potential effect that such a change would have on injured plaintiffs.

4. Any recommended legislation proposed by the subcommittee must be approved by a majority of the members of the Senate and a majority of the members of the Assembly appointed to the subcommittee.

5. The Legislative Commission shall submit a report of the results of the study and any recommendations for legislation to the 71st session of the Nevada Legislature.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval.".

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a preamble, immediately preceding the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"WHEREAS, The State of Nevada, by waiving its sovereign immunity, allows monetary damages to be awarded to a person in a tort action against the State of Nevada or any of its political subdivisions, or a present or former officer or employee of the State of Nevada or any political subdivision, or an immune contractor or state legislator arising out of an act or omission within the scope of his public duties or employment; and

WHEREAS, The current statutory limit on the amount of damages that may be awarded to a plaintiff in such a tort action has not been increased since 1979; and

WHEREAS, Persons injured in this state may not be adequately compensated for injuries caused to them by the State of Nevada or its political subdivisions because of the current limitation on damages; and

WHEREAS, Before changing the statutory limit on the amount of damages that may be awarded in such cases, it is also necessary to consider the fiscal impact on the State of Nevada and its political subdivisions; now, therefore,".

Amend the title of the bill to read as follows:

"AN ACT relating to sovereign immunity; directing the Legislative Commission to conduct an interim study concerning the statutory limitation on damages that may be awarded to a person in a tort action against the State of Nevada, its political subdivisions or certain other persons; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

Amendment No. 229.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 6 through 10 as sections 7 through 11 and adding a new section designated sec. 6, following sec. 5, to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. NRS 286.520 is hereby amended to read as follows:

286.520 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 4, 5 and 6 and NRS 286.525, the consequences of the employment of a retired employee are:

(a) A retired employee who accepts employment or an independent contract with a public employer under this system is disqualified from receiving any allowances under this system for the duration of that employment or contract if:

(1) He accepted the employment or contract within 90 calendar days after the effective date of his retirement; or

(2) He is employed in a position which is eligible to participate in this system.

(b) If a retired employee accepts employment or an independent contract with a public employer under this system more than 90 calendar days after the effective date of his retirement in a position which is not eligible to participate in this system his allowance under this system terminates upon his earning an amount equal to one-half of the average salary for participating public employees who are not police officers or firemen in any fiscal year, for the duration of that employment or contract.

(c) If a retired employee accepts employment with an employer who is not a public employer under this system, the employee is entitled to the same allowances as a retired employee who has no employment.

2. The retired employee and the public employer shall notify the system:

(a) Within 10 days after the first day of an employment or contract governed by paragraph (a);

(b) Within 30 days after the first day of an employment or contract governed by paragraph (b); and

(c) Within 10 days after a retired employee earns more than one-half of the average salary for participating public employees who are not police officers or firemen in any fiscal year from an employment or contract governed by paragraph (b), of subsection 1.

3. For the purposes of this section, the average salary for participating public employees who are not police officers or firemen must be computed on the basis of the most recent actuarial valuation of the system.

4. If a retired employee is chosen by election or appointment to fill an elective public office, he is entitled to the same allowances as a retired employee who has no employment, unless he is serving in the same office in which he served and for which he received service credit as a member. A public employer may pay contributions on behalf of such a retired employee to a retirement fund which is not a part of the system in an amount not to exceed the amount of the contributions that the public employer would pay to the system on behalf of a participating public employee who serves in the same office.

5. The system may waive for one period of 30 days or less a retired employee's disqualification under this section if the public employer certifies in writing, in advance, that the retired employee is recalled to meet an emergency and that no other qualified person is immediately available.

6. A person who accepts employment or an independent contract with either house of the legislature or by the legislative counsel bureau is exempt from the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 for the duration of that employment or contract.".

Amend sec. 6, page 5, line 24, after "NRS" by inserting "286.470,".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 11 through 13 as sections 13 through 15 and adding a new section designated sec. 12, following sec. 10, to read as follows:

"Sec. 12. NRS 286.677 is hereby amended to read as follows:

286.677 If payments or refunds are not made under the provisions of NRS 286.673, 286.674 or 286.676 , the dependent parent of a deceased member is entitled to receive a cumulative benefit of at least ~~[$350]~~ $400 per month, and if there are two dependent parents each is entitled to receive a cumulative benefit of at least ~~[$350]~~ $400 per month. Payments to any parent under this section must cease upon the death or remarriage of that parent.".

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 64.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce and Labor:

Amendment No. 283.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 through 65 and adding new sections designated sections 1 through 137, and the text of the repealed sections, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. Title 54 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new chapter to consist of the provisions set forth as sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 2. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in sections 3 to 8, inclusive, of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 3. "Applicant" means a person who applies for licensure as a mortgage company pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 4. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of financial institutions.

Sec. 5. "Depository financial institution" means a bank, savings and loan association, thrift company or credit union.

Sec. 6. "Division" means the division of financial institutions of the department of business and industry.

Sec. 7. "Licensee" means a person who is licensed as a mortgage company pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 8. 1. "Mortgage company" means any person who, directly or indirectly:

(a) Holds himself out as being able to:

(1) Buy or sell notes secured by liens on real property; or

(2) Make loans secured by liens on real property using his own money; and

(b) Does not engage in any other act or transaction described in the definition of "mortgage broker," as set forth in section 57 of this act, unless the person is also licensed as a mortgage broker pursuant to chapter 645B of NRS.

2. For the purposes of this section, a person does not make a loan secured by a lien on real property using his own money if any portion of the money that is used to make the loan is provided by another person who acquires ownership of or a beneficial interest in the loan.

Sec. 9. The provisions of this chapter do not:

1. Limit any statutory or common law right of a person to bring a civil action against a mortgage company for any act or omission involved in the transaction of business by or on behalf of the mortgage company;

2. Limit the right of the state to punish a person for the violation of any law, ordinance or regulation; or

3. Establish a basis for a person to bring a civil action against the state or its officers or employees for any act or omission in carrying out the provisions of this chapter, including, without limitation, any act or omission relating to the disclosure of information or the failure to disclose information pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 10. Except as otherwise provided in section 11 of this act, the provisions of this chapter do not apply to:

1. Any person doing business under the laws of this state, any other state or the United States relating to banks, savings banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, consumer finance companies, industrial loan companies, credit unions, thrift companies or insurance companies, unless the business conducted in this state is not subject to supervision by the regulatory authority of the other jurisdiction, in which case licensing pursuant to this chapter is required.

2. A real estate investment trust, as defined in 26 U.S.C. § 856, unless the business conducted in this state is not subject to supervision by the regulatory authority of the other jurisdiction, in which case licensing pursuant to this chapter is required.

3. An employee benefit plan, as defined in 29 U.S.C. § 1002(3), if the loan is made directly from money in the plan by the plan's trustee.

4. An attorney at law rendering services in the performance of his duties as an attorney at law.

5. A real estate broker rendering services in the performance of his duties as a real estate broker.

6. Any firm or corporation:

(a) Whose principal purpose or activity is lending money on real property which is secured by a mortgage;

(b) Approved by the Federal National Mortgage Association as a seller and servicer; and

(c) Approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Department of Veterans Affairs.

7. Any person doing any act under an order of any court.

8. Any one natural person, or husband and wife, who provides money for investment in loans secured by a lien on real property, on his own account, unless such a person makes a loan secured by a lien on real property using his own money and assigns all or a part of his interest in the loan to another person, other than his spouse or child, within 5 years after the date on which the loan is made or the deed of trust is recorded, whichever occurs later.

9. Agencies of the United States and of this state and its political subdivisions, including the public employees' retirement system.

10. A seller of real property who offers credit secured by a mortgage of the property sold.

Sec. 11. 1. A person who claims an exemption from the provisions of this chapter pursuant to subsection 1 or 6 of section 10 of this act must:

(a) File a written application for a certificate of exemption with the office of the commissioner;

(b) Pay the fee required pursuant to section 14 of this act; and

(c) Include with the written application satisfactory proof that the person meets the requirements of subsection 1 or 6 of section 10 of this act.

2. The commissioner may require a person who claims an exemption from the provisions of this chapter pursuant to subsections 2 to 5, inclusive, or 7 to 10, inclusive, of section 10 of this act to:

(a) File a written application for a certificate of exemption with the office of the commissioner;

(b) Pay the fee required pursuant to section 14 of this act; and

(c) Include with the written application satisfactory proof that the person meets the requirements of at least one of those exemptions.

3. A certificate of exemption expires automatically if, at any time, the person who claims the exemption no longer meets the requirements of at least one exemption set forth in the provisions of section 10 of this act.

4. If a certificate of exemption expires automatically pursuant to this section, the person shall not provide any of the services of a mortgage company or otherwise engage in, carry on or hold himself out as engaging in or carrying on the business of a mortgage company, unless the person applies for and is issued:

(a) A license as a mortgage company pursuant to this chapter; or

(b) Another certificate of exemption.

5. The commissioner may impose upon a person who is required to apply for a certificate of exemption or who holds a certificate of exemption an administrative fine of not more than $10,000 for each violation that he commits, if the person:

(a) Has knowingly made or caused to be made to the commissioner any false representation of material fact;

(b) Has suppressed or withheld from the commissioner any information which the person possesses and which, if submitted by him, would have rendered the person ineligible to hold a certificate of exemption; or

(c) Has violated any provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner that applies to a person who is required to apply for a certificate of exemption or who holds a certificate of exemption.

Sec. 12. 1. A person may apply to the commissioner for an exemption from the provisions of this chapter governing the making of a loan of money.

2. The commissioner may grant the exemption if he finds that:

(a) The making of the loan would not be detrimental to the financial condition of the lender or the debtor;

(b) The lender or the debtor has established a record of sound performance, efficient management, financial responsibility and integrity;

(c) The making of the loan is likely to increase the availability of capital for a sector of the state economy; and

(d) The making of the loan is not detrimental to the public interest.

3. The commissioner:

(a) May revoke an exemption unless the loan for which the exemption was granted has been made; and

(b) Shall issue a written statement setting forth the reasons for his decision to grant, deny or revoke an exemption.

Sec. 13. 1. A person who wishes to be licensed as a mortgage company must file a written application for a license with the office of the commissioner and pay the fee required pursuant to section 14 of this act. An application for a license as a mortgage company must:

(a) Be verified.

(b) State the name, residence address and business address of the applicant and the location of each principal office and branch office at which the mortgage company will conduct business within this state.

(c) State the name under which the applicant will conduct business as a mortgage company.

(d) If the applicant is not a natural person, list the name, residence address and business address of each person who will have an interest in the mortgage company as a principal, partner, officer, director or trustee, specifying the capacity and title of each such person.

(e) Indicate the general plan and character of the business.

(f) State the length of time the applicant has been engaged in the business of a mortgage company.

(g) Include a financial statement of the applicant.

(h) Include any other information required pursuant to the regulations adopted by the commissioner or an order of the commissioner.

2. If a mortgage company will conduct business at one or more branch offices within this state, the mortgage company must apply for a license for each such branch office.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the commissioner shall issue a license to an applicant as a mortgage company if:

(a) The application complies with the requirements of this chapter; and

(b) The applicant and each general partner, officer or director of the applicant, if the applicant is a partnership, corporation or unincorporated association:

(1) Has a good reputation for honesty, trustworthiness and integrity and displays competence to transact the business of a mortgage company in a manner which safeguards the interests of the general public. The applicant must submit satisfactory proof of these qualifications to the commissioner.

(2) Has not been convicted of, or entered a plea of nolo contendere to, a felony or any crime involving fraud, misrepresentation or moral turpitude.

(3) Has not made a false statement of material fact on his application.

(4) Has not had a license that was issued pursuant to the provisions of this chapter or chapter 645B of NRS suspended or revoked within the 10 years immediately preceding the date of his application.

(5) Has not had a license that was issued in any other state, district or territory of the United States or any foreign country suspended or revoked within the 10 years immediately preceding the date of his application.

(6) Has not violated any provision of this chapter or chapter 645B of NRS, a regulation adopted pursuant thereto or an order of the commissioner.

4. If an applicant is a partnership, corporation or unincorporated association, the commissioner may refuse to issue a license to the applicant if any member of the partnership or any officer or director of the corporation or unincorporated association has committed any act or omission that would be cause for refusing to issue a license to a natural person.

Sec. 14. 1. A license issued to a mortgage company pursuant to this chapter expires each year on December 31, unless it is renewed. To renew a license, the licensee must submit to the commissioner on or before December 31 of each year:

(a) An application for renewal that complies with the requirements of this chapter; and

(b) The fee required to renew the license pursuant to this section.

2. If the licensee fails to submit any item required pursuant to subsection 1 to the commissioner on or before December 31 of any year, the license is canceled. The commissioner may reinstate a canceled license if the licensee submits to the commissioner:

(a) An application for renewal that complies with the requirements of this chapter;

(b) The fee required to renew the license pursuant to this section; and

(c) A reinstatement fee of $200.

3. Except as otherwise provided in section 11 of this act, a certificate of exemption issued pursuant to this chapter expires each year on December 31, unless it is renewed. To renew a certificate of exemption, a person must submit to the commissioner on or before December 31 of each year:

(a) An application for renewal that complies with the requirements of this chapter; and

(b) The fee required to renew the certificate of exemption.

4. If the person fails to submit any item required pursuant to subsection 3 to the commissioner on or before December 31 of any year, the certificate of exemption is canceled. Except as otherwise provided in section 11 of this act, the commissioner may reinstate a canceled certificate of exemption if the person submits to the commissioner:

(a) An application for renewal that complies with the requirements of this chapter;

(b) The fee required to renew the certificate of exemption; and

(c) A reinstatement fee of $100.

5. A person must pay the following fees to apply for, to be issued or to renew a license as a mortgage company pursuant to this chapter:

(a) To file an original application for a license, $1,500 for the principal office and $40 for each branch office. The person must also pay such additional expenses incurred in the process of investigation as the commissioner deems necessary. All money received by the commissioner pursuant to this paragraph must be placed in the investigative account created by NRS 232.545.

(b) To be issued a license, $1,000 for the principal office and $60 for each branch office.

(c) To renew a license, $500 for the principal office and $100 for each branch office.

6. A person must pay the following fees to apply for or to renew a certificate of exemption pursuant to this chapter:

(a) To file an application for a certificate of exemption, $200.

(b) To renew a certificate of exemption, $100.

7. To be issued a duplicate copy of any license or certificate of exemption, a person must make a satisfactory showing of its loss and pay a fee of $10.

8. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, all fees received pursuant to this chapter must be deposited in the state treasury for credit to the state general fund.

Sec. 15. 1. In addition to the requirements set forth in sections 13 and 14 of this act, a natural person who applies for the issuance or renewal of a license as a mortgage company shall submit to the commissioner:

(a) In any application for issuance of a license, the social security number of the applicant and the statement prescribed by the welfare division of the department of human resources pursuant to NRS 425.520. The statement must be completed and signed by the applicant.

(b) In any application for renewal of a license, the statement prescribed by the welfare division of the department of human resources pursuant to NRS 425.520. The statement must be completed and signed by the applicant.

2. The commissioner shall include the statement required pursuant to subsection 1 in:

(a) The application or any other forms that must be submitted for the issuance or renewal of the license; or

(b) A separate form prescribed by the commissioner.

3. The commissioner shall not issue or renew a license as a mortgage company if the applicant is a natural person who:

(a) Fails to submit the statement required pursuant to subsection 1; or

(b) Indicates on the statement submitted pursuant to subsection 1 that he is subject to a court order for the support of a child and is not in compliance with the order or a plan approved by the district attorney or other public agency enforcing the order for the repayment of the amount owed pursuant to the order.

4. If an applicant indicates on the statement submitted pursuant to subsection 1 that he is subject to a court order for the support of a child and is not in compliance with the order or a plan approved by the district attorney or other public agency enforcing the order for the repayment of the amount owed pursuant to the order, the commissioner shall advise the applicant to contact the district attorney or other public agency enforcing the order to determine the actions that the applicant may take to satisfy the arrearage.

Sec. 16. 1. A license entitles a licensee to engage only in the activities authorized by this chapter.

2. The provisions of this chapter do not prohibit a licensee from:

(a) Holding a license as a mortgage broker pursuant to chapter 645B of NRS; or

(b) Conducting the business of a mortgage company and the business of a mortgage broker in the same office or place of business.

Sec. 17. 1. A mortgage company shall post each license in a conspicuous place in the office for which the license has been issued.

2. A mortgage company may not transfer or assign a license to another person, unless the commissioner gives his written approval.

Sec. 18. 1. The commissioner must be notified of a transfer of 5 percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of a mortgage company and must approve a transfer of voting stock of a mortgage company which constitutes a change of control.

2. The person who acquires stock resulting in a change of control of the mortgage company shall apply to the commissioner for approval of the transfer. The application must contain information which shows that the requirements of this chapter for obtaining a license will be satisfied after the change of control. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, the commissioner shall conduct an investigation to determine whether those requirements will be satisfied. If, after the investigation, the commissioner denies the application, he may forbid the applicant from participating in the business of the mortgage company.

3. A mortgage company may submit a written request to the commissioner to waive an investigation pursuant to subsection 2. The commissioner may grant a waiver if the applicant has undergone a similar investigation by a state or federal agency in connection with the licensing of or his employment with a financial institution.

4. As used in this section, "change of control" means:

(a) A transfer of voting stock which results in giving a person, directly or indirectly, the power to direct the management and policy of a mortgage company; or

(b) A transfer of at least 25 percent of the outstanding voting stock of a mortgage company.

Sec. 19. 1. Subject to the administrative control of the director of the department of business and industry, the commissioner shall exercise general supervision and control over mortgage companies doing business in this state.

2. In addition to the other duties imposed upon him by law, the commissioner shall:

(a) Adopt any regulations that are necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter, except as to loan fees.

(b) Conduct such investigations as may be necessary to determine whether any person has violated any provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner.

(c) Conduct an annual examination of each mortgage company doing business in this state.

(d) Conduct such other examinations, periodic or special audits, investigations and hearings as may be necessary and proper for the efficient administration of the laws of this state regarding mortgage companies.

(e) Classify as confidential certain records and information obtained by the division when those matters are obtained from a governmental agency upon the express condition that they remain confidential. This paragraph does not limit examination by the legislative auditor.

(f) Conduct such examinations and investigations as are necessary to ensure that mortgage companies meet the requirements of this chapter for obtaining a license, both at the time of the application for a license and thereafter on a continuing basis.

3. For each special audit, investigation or examination, a mortgage company shall pay a fee based on the rate established pursuant to NRS 658.101.

Sec. 20. Each mortgage company shall pay the assessment levied pursuant to NRS 658.055 and cooperate fully with the audits and examinations performed pursuant thereto.

Sec. 21. 1. In the conduct of any examination, periodic or special audit, investigation or hearing, the commissioner may:

(a) Compel the attendance of any person by subpoena.

(b) Administer oaths.

(c) Examine any person under oath concerning the business and conduct of affairs of any person subject to the provisions of this chapter and in connection therewith require the production of any books, records or papers relevant to the inquiry.

2. Any person subpoenaed under the provisions of this section who willfully refuses or willfully neglects to appear at the time and place named in the subpoena or to produce books, records or papers required by the commissioner, or who refuses to be sworn or answer as a witness, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

3. The commissioner may assess against and collect from a person all costs, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees, that are attributable to any examination, periodic or special audit, investigation or hearing that is conducted to examine or investigate the conduct, activities or business of the person pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 22. 1. Each mortgage company shall keep and maintain at all times at each location where the mortgage company conducts business in this state complete and suitable records of all mortgage transactions made by the mortgage company at that location. Each mortgage company shall also keep and maintain at all times at each such location all original books, papers and data, or copies thereof, clearly reflecting the financial condition of the business of the mortgage company.

2. Each mortgage company shall submit to the commissioner each month a report of the mortgage company's activity for the previous month. The report must:

(a) Specify the volume of loans made by the mortgage company for the month or state that no loans were made in that month;

(b) Include any information required pursuant to the regulations adopted by the commissioner; and

(c) Be submitted to the commissioner by the 15th day of the month following the month for which the report is made.

3. The commissioner may adopt regulations prescribing accounting procedures for mortgage companies handling trust accounts and the requirements for keeping records relating to such accounts.

Sec. 23. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, not later than 60 days after the last day of each fiscal year for a mortgage company, the mortgage company shall submit to the commissioner a financial statement that:

(a) Is dated not earlier than the last day of the fiscal year; and

(b) Has been prepared from the books and records of the mortgage company by an independent public accountant who holds a permit to engage in the practice of public accounting in this state that has not been revoked or suspended.

2. The commissioner may grant a reasonable extension for the submission of a financial statement pursuant to this section if a mortgage company requests such an extension before the date on which the financial statement is due.

3. If a mortgage company maintains any accounts described in section 26 of this act, the financial statement submitted pursuant to this section must be audited. The public accountant who prepares the report of an audit shall submit a copy of the report to the commissioner at the same time that he submits the report to the mortgage company.

4. The commissioner shall adopt regulations prescribing the scope of an audit conducted pursuant to subsection 3.

Sec. 24. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section or by specific statute, all papers, documents, reports and other written instruments filed with the commissioner pursuant to this chapter are open to public inspection.

2. The commissioner may withhold from public inspection or refuse to disclose to a person, for such time as the commissioner considers necessary, any information that, in his judgment, would:

(a) Impede or otherwise interfere with an investigation that is currently pending against a mortgage company; or

(b) Have an undesirable effect on the welfare of the public or the welfare of any mortgage company.

Sec. 25. 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, the amount of any advance fee, salary, deposit or money paid to any mortgage company or other person to obtain a loan secured by a lien on real property must be placed in escrow pending completion of the loan or a commitment for the loan.

2. The amount held in escrow pursuant to subsection 1 must be released:

(a) Upon completion of the loan or commitment for the loan, to the mortgage company or other person to whom the advance fee, salary, deposit or money was paid.

(b) If the loan or commitment for the loan fails, to the person who made the payment.

3. Advance payments to cover reasonably estimated costs paid to third persons are excluded from the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 if the person making them first signs a written agreement which specifies the estimated costs by item and the estimated aggregate cost, and which recites that money advanced for costs will not be refunded. If an itemized service is not performed and the estimated cost thereof is not refunded, the recipient of the advance payment is subject to the penalties provided in section 39 of this act.

Sec. 26. 1. All money paid to a mortgage company for payment of taxes or insurance premiums on real property which secures any loan made by the mortgage company must be deposited in an insured depository financial institution and kept separate, distinct and apart from money belonging to the mortgage company. Such money, when deposited, is to be designated as an "impound trust account" or under some other appropriate name indicating that the accounts are not the money of the mortgage company.

2. The mortgage company has a fiduciary duty to each debtor with respect to the money in an impound trust account.

3. The mortgage company shall, upon reasonable notice, account to any debtor whose real property secures a loan made by the mortgage company for any money which that person has paid to the mortgage company for the payment of taxes or insurance premiums on the real property.

4. The mortgage company shall, upon reasonable notice, account to the commissioner for all money in an impound trust account.

5. A mortgage company shall:

(a) Require contributions to an impound trust account in an amount reasonably necessary to pay the obligations as they become due.

(b) Within 30 days after the completion of the annual review of an impound trust account, notify the debtor:

(1) Of the amount by which the contributions exceed the amount reasonably necessary to pay the annual obligations due from the account; and

(2) That the debtor may specify the disposition of the excess money within 20 days after receipt of the notice. If the debtor fails to specify such a disposition within that time, the mortgage company shall maintain the excess money in the account.

This subsection does not prohibit a mortgage company from requiring additional amounts to be paid into an impound trust account to recover a deficiency that exists in the account.

6. A mortgage company shall not make payments from an impound trust account in a manner that causes a policy of insurance to be canceled or causes property taxes or similar payments to become delinquent.

Sec. 27. 1. Money in an impound trust account is not subject to execution or attachment on any claim against the mortgage company.

2. It is unlawful for a mortgage company knowingly to keep or cause to be kept any money in a depository financial institution under the heading of "impound trust account" or any other name designating such money as belonging to the debtors of the mortgage company, unless the money has been paid to the mortgage company by a debtor pursuant to section 26 of this act and is being held in trust by the mortgage company pursuant to the provisions of that section.

Sec. 28. 1. If a person is required to make a payment to a mortgage company pursuant to the terms of a loan secured by a lien on real property, the mortgage company may not charge the person a late fee, an additional amount of interest or any other penalty in connection with that payment if the payment is delivered to the mortgage company before 5 p.m. on:

(a) The day that the payment is due pursuant to the terms of the loan, if an office of the mortgage company is open to customers until 5 p.m. on that day; or

(b) The next day that an office of the mortgage company is open to customers until 5 p.m., if the provisions of paragraph (a) do not otherwise apply.

2. A person and a mortgage company may not agree to alter or waive the provisions of this section by contract or other agreement, and any such contract or agreement is void and must not be given effect to the extent that it violates the provisions of this section.

Sec. 29. 1. Whether or not a complaint has been filed, the commissioner may investigate a mortgage company or other person if, for any reason, it appears that:

(a) The mortgage company is conducting business in an unsafe and injurious manner or in violation of any provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner;

(b) The person is offering or providing any of the services of a mortgage company or otherwise engaging in, carrying on or holding himself out as engaging in or carrying on the business of a mortgage company without being licensed or exempt from licensing pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; or

(c) The person is violating any other provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner.

2. If, upon investigation, the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that the mortgage company or other person has engaged in any conduct or committed any violation described in subsection 1, the commissioner may:

(a) Advise the district attorney of the county in which the conduct or violation occurred, and the district attorney shall cause the appropriate legal action to be taken against the mortgage company or other person to enjoin the conduct or the operation of the business or prosecute the violation; and

(b) Bring a civil action to:

(1) Enjoin the mortgage company or other person from engaging in the conduct, operating the business or committing the violation; and

(2) Enjoin any other person who has encouraged, facilitated, aided or participated in the conduct, the operation of the business or the commission of the violation, or who is likely to engage in such acts, from engaging in or continuing to engage in such acts.

3. If the commissioner brings a civil action pursuant to subsection 2, the district court of any county of this state is hereby vested with the jurisdiction in equity to enjoin the conduct, the operation of the business or the commission of the violation and may grant any injunctions that are necessary to prevent and restrain the conduct, the operation of the business or the commission of the violation. During the pendency of the proceedings before the district court:

(a) The court may issue any temporary restraining orders as may appear to be just and proper;

(b) The findings of the commissioner shall be deemed to be prima facie evidence and sufficient grounds, in the discretion of the court, for the ex parte issuance of a temporary restraining order; and

(c) The commissioner may apply for and on due showing is entitled to have issued the court's subpoena requiring forthwith the appearance of any person to:

(1) Produce any documents, books and records as may appear necessary for the hearing of the petition; and

(2) Testify and give evidence concerning the conduct complained of in the petition.

Sec. 30. 1. In addition to any other action that is permitted pursuant to this chapter, if the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that:

(a) The assets or capital of a mortgage company are impaired; or

(b) A mortgage company is conducting business in an unsafe and injurious manner that may result in danger to the public, the commissioner may immediately take possession of all the property, business and assets of the mortgage company that are located in this state and retain possession of them pending further proceedings provided for in this chapter.

2. If the licensee, the board of directors or any officer or person in charge of the offices of the mortgage company refuses to permit the commissioner to take possession of the property of the mortgage company pursuant to subsection 1:

(a) The commissioner shall notify the attorney general; and

(b) The attorney general shall immediately bring such proceedings as may be necessary to place the commissioner in immediate possession of the property of the mortgage company.

3. If the commissioner takes possession of the property of the mortgage company, the commissioner shall:

(a) Make or have made an inventory of the assets and known liabilities of the mortgage company; and

(b) File one copy of the inventory in his office and one copy in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county in which the principal office of the mortgage company is located and shall mail one copy to each stockholder, partner, officer, director or associate of the mortgage company at his last known address.

4. The clerk of the court with which the copy of the inventory is filed shall file it as any other case or proceeding pending in the court and shall give it a docket number.

Sec. 31. 1. If the commissioner takes possession of the property of a mortgage company pursuant to section 30 of this act, the licensee, officers, directors, partners, associates or stockholders of the mortgage company may, within 60 days after the date on which the commissioner takes possession of the property, make good any deficit in the assets or capital of the mortgage company or remedy any unsafe and injurious conditions or practices of the mortgage company.

2. At the expiration of the 60-day period, if the deficiency in assets or capital has not been made good or the unsafe and injurious conditions or practices remedied, the commissioner may apply to the court to be appointed receiver and proceed to liquidate the assets of the mortgage company which are located in this state in the same manner as now provided by law for liquidation of a private corporation in receivership.

3. No other person may be appointed receiver by any court without first giving the commissioner ample notice of his application.

4. The inventory made by the commissioner and all claims filed by creditors are open at all reasonable times for inspection, and any action taken by the receiver upon any of the claims is subject to the approval of the court before which the cause is pending.

5. The expenses of the receiver and compensation of counsel, as well as all expenditures required in the liquidation proceedings, must be fixed by the commissioner subject to the approval of the court and, upon certification of the commissioner, must be paid out of the money in his hands as the receiver.

Sec. 32. 1. For each violation committed by an applicant, whether or not he is issued a license, the commissioner may impose upon the applicant an administrative fine of not more than $10,000, if the applicant:

(a) Has knowingly made or caused to be made to the commissioner any false representation of material fact;

(b) Has suppressed or withheld from the commissioner any information which the applicant possesses and which, if submitted by him, would have rendered the applicant ineligible to be licensed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; or

(c) Has violated any provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner in completing and filing his application for a license or during the course of the investigation of his application for a license.

2. For each violation committed by a licensee, the commissioner may impose upon the licensee an administrative fine of not more than $10,000, may suspend, revoke or place conditions upon his license, or may do both, if the licensee, whether or not acting as such:

(a) Is insolvent;

(b) Is grossly negligent or incompetent in performing any act for which he is required to be licensed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter;

(c) Does not conduct his business in accordance with law or has violated any provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner;

(d) Is in such financial condition that he cannot continue in business with safety to his customers;

(e) Has made a material misrepresentation in connection with any transaction governed by this chapter;

(f) Has suppressed or withheld from a client any material facts, data or other information relating to any transaction governed by the provisions of this chapter which the licensee knew or, by the exercise of reasonable diligence, should have known;

(g) Has knowingly made or caused to be made to the commissioner any false representation of material fact or has suppressed or withheld from the commissioner any information which the licensee possesses and which, if submitted by him, would have rendered the licensee ineligible to be licensed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter;

(h) Has failed to account to persons interested for all money received for a trust account;

(i) Has refused to permit an examination by the commissioner of his books and affairs or has refused or failed, within a reasonable time, to furnish any information or make any report that may be required by the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of this chapter or a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter;

(j) Has been convicted of, or entered a plea of nolo contendere to, a felony or any crime involving fraud, misrepresentation or moral turpitude;

(k) Has refused or failed to pay, within a reasonable time, any fees, assessments, costs or expenses that the licensee is required to pay pursuant to this chapter or a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter;

(l) Has failed to satisfy a claim made by a client which has been reduced to judgment;

(m) Has failed to account for or to remit any money of a client within a reasonable time after a request for an accounting or remittal;

(n) Has commingled the money or other property of a client with his own or has converted the money or property of others to his own use; or

(o) Has engaged in any other conduct constituting a deceitful, fraudulent or dishonest business practice.

Sec. 33. 1. If the commissioner receives a copy of a court order issued pursuant to NRS 425.540 that provides for the suspension of all professional, occupational and recreational licenses, certificates and permits issued to a person who is the holder of a license as a mortgage company, the commissioner shall deem the license issued to that person to be suspended at the end of the 30th day after the date on which the court order was issued unless the commissioner receives a letter issued to the holder of the license by the district attorney or other public agency pursuant to NRS 425.550 stating that the holder of the license has complied with the subpoena or warrant or has satisfied the arrearage pursuant to NRS 425.560.

2. The commissioner shall reinstate a license as a mortgage company that has been suspended by a district court pursuant to NRS 425.540 if the commissioner receives a letter issued by the district attorney or other public agency pursuant to NRS 425.550 to the person whose license was suspended stating that the person whose license was suspended has complied with the subpoena or warrant or has satisfied the arrearage pursuant to NRS 425.560.

Sec. 34. If a person is a partnership, corporation or unincorporated association, the commissioner may take any disciplinary action set forth in this chapter against the person if any member of the partnership or any officer or director of the corporation or unincorporated association has committed any act or omission that would be cause for taking such disciplinary action against a natural person.

Sec. 35. 1. If the commissioner enters an order taking any disciplinary action against a person or denying a person's application for a license, the commissioner shall cause written notice of the order to be served personally or sent by certified mail or telegraph to the person.

2. Unless a hearing has already been conducted concerning the matter, the person, upon application, is entitled to a hearing. If the person does not make such an application within 20 days after the date of the initial order, the commissioner shall enter a final order concerning the matter.

3. A person may appeal a final order of the commissioner in accordance with the provisions of chapter 233B of NRS that apply to a contested case.

Sec. 36. It is unlawful for any person to offer or provide any of the services of a mortgage company or otherwise to engage in, carry on or hold himself out as engaging in or carrying on the business of a mortgage company without first obtaining a license as a mortgage company pursuant to this chapter, unless the person:

1. Is exempt from the provisions of this chapter; and

2. Complies with the requirements for that exemption.

Sec. 37. It is unlawful for any foreign corporation, association or business trust to conduct any business as a mortgage company within this state, unless it:

1. Qualifies under chapter 80 of NRS; and

2. Complies with the provisions of this chapter or, if it claims an exemption from the provisions of this chapter, complies with the requirements for that exemption.

Sec. 38. Except as otherwise provided in section 39 of this act, a person, or any general partner, director, officer, agent or employee of a person, who violates any provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 39. A person, or any general partner, director, officer, agent or employee of a person, who violates any provision of section 25, 26 or 27 of this act is guilty of:

1. A misdemeanor if the amount involved is less than $250;

2. A gross misdemeanor if the amount involved is $250 or more but less than $1,000; or

3. A category D felony if the amount involved is $1,000 or more, and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130.

Sec. 40. Chapter 627 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. As a substitute for the surety bond required by NRS 627.180, a construction control may, in accordance with the provisions of this section, deposit with any bank or trust company authorized to do business in this state, in a form approved by the state contractors' board:

(a) An obligation of a bank, savings and loan association, thrift company or credit union licensed to do business in this state;

(b) Bills, bonds, notes, debentures or other obligations of the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or guaranteed by the United States; or

(c) Any obligation of this state or any city, county, town, township, school district or other instrumentality of this state, or guaranteed by this state.

2. The obligations of a bank, savings and loan association, thrift company or credit union must be held to secure the same obligation as would the surety bond. With the approval of the state contractors' board, the depositor may substitute other suitable obligations for those deposited which must be assigned to the State of Nevada and are negotiable only upon approval by the state contractors' board.

3. Any interest or dividends earned on the deposit accrue to the account of the depositor.

4. The deposit must be in an amount at least equal to the required surety bond and must state that the amount may not be withdrawn except by direct and sole order of the state contractors' board. The value of any item deposited pursuant to this section must be based upon principal amount or market value, whichever is lower.

Sec. 41. NRS 627.180 is hereby amended to read as follows:

627.180 1. ~~[Except for savings]~~ The provisions of this section do not apply to:

(a) Savings and loan associations, state banks and national banking associations ~~[,]~~ licensed to do business in the State of Nevada, under the laws of the State of Nevada or under the laws of the United States . ~~[, title]~~

(b) Title insurers or underwritten title insurance companies authorized to do business in the State of Nevada . ~~[, or lenders]~~

(c) Lenders of construction loan money for dwelling units who are approved by the Federal Housing Administration or Department of Veterans Affairs and who have been licensed and authorized to do business in the State of Nevada . ~~[,]~~

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 1 and section 40 of this act, every construction control , before doing business in the State of Nevada , shall ~~[, within 30 days immediately following July 1, 1965,]~~ file with the state contractors' board a surety bond, executed by some corporation authorized to issue surety bonds in this state, in ~~[a penal sum equal to 1 1/4 times]~~ the amount of ~~[capital in the business but in no event less than $20,000, and such]~~ $250,000. The surety bond must be kept in full force and effect or replaced by a like surety bond or a substitute form of security authorized by section 40 of this act as a condition to continuing to do business as a construction control in the State of Nevada.

~~[2.]~~ 3. The form of the surety bond required is as follows:

BOND NO.

CONSTRUCTION CONTROL BOND

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS:

That I, ..., having a principal place of business in ....., Nevada, as principal, and ....., a corporation licensed to execute surety bonds under the provisions of the Nevada Insurance Code, as surety, are held and firmly bound to the State of Nevada, for the use of any person by whom funds are entrusted to the principal or to whom funds are payable by the principal, in the sum of ..... Dollars, lawful money of the United States of America, to be paid to the State of Nevada, for which payment well and truly to be made we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors and successors, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents:

THE CONDITION OF THE ABOVE OBLIGATION IS SUCH THAT:

WHEREAS, Under the Construction Control Law, certain duties, obligations and requirements are imposed upon all persons, copartnerships, associations or corporations acting as construction controls;

NOW, THEREFORE, If the principal and its agents and employees shall faithfully and in all respects conduct business as a construction control in accordance with the provisions of the Construction Control Law, this obligation shall be void, otherwise to remain in full force and effect;

PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the surety or sureties may cancel this bond and be relieved of further liability hereunder by delivering 30 days' written notice of cancellation to the principal; however, such cancellation shall not affect any liability incurred or accrued hereunder prior to the termination of such 30-day period;

PROVIDED FURTHER, That the total aggregate liability of the surety or sureties herein for all claims which may arise under this bond shall be limited to the payment of ..... Dollars.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, The principal and surety have hereunto set their hands this ..... day of ....., 19...

Sec. 42. NRS 645A.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645A.030 1. Except as otherwise ~~[authorized by]~~ provided in NRS 645A.031, ~~[at the time of filing an application for a license as]~~ an escrow agency ~~[, the applicant]~~ shall deposit with the commissioner a corporate surety bond payable to the State of Nevada, in the amount of ~~[$50,000,]~~ $250,000, which is executed by a corporate surety satisfactory to the commissioner ~~[, and naming]~~ and which names as principals the ~~[applicant]~~ escrow agency and all escrow agents employed by or associated with the ~~[applicant.]~~ escrow agency.

2. At the time of filing an application for a license as an escrow agent, the applicant shall file with the commissioner proof that the applicant is named as a principal on the corporate surety bond deposited with the commissioner by the escrow agency with whom he is associated or employed.

3. The bond must be in substantially the following form:

Know All Men by These Presents, that ....., as principal, and ....., as surety, are held and firmly bound unto the State of Nevada for the use and benefit of any person who suffers damages because of a violation of any of the provisions of chapter 645A of NRS, in the sum of ....., lawful money of the United States, to be paid to the State of Nevada for such use and benefit, for which payment well and truly to be made, and that we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

The condition of that obligation is such that: Whereas, the principal has ~~[made an application to]~~ been issued a license as an escrow agency or escrow agent by the commissioner of financial institutions of the department of business and industry of the State of Nevada ~~[for a license as an escrow agent or agency]~~ and is required to furnish a bond in the amount of ~~[$50,000]~~ $250,000 conditioned as set forth in this bond:

Now, therefore, if the principal, his agents and employees, strictly, honestly and faithfully comply with the provisions of chapter 645A of NRS, and pay all damages suffered by any person because of a violation of any of the provisions of chapter 645A of NRS, or by reason of any fraud, dishonesty, misrepresentation or concealment of material facts growing out of any transaction governed by the provisions of chapter 645A of NRS, then this obligation is void; otherwise it remains in full force.

This bond becomes effective on the ..... day of ....., 19..., and remains in force until the surety is released from liability by the commissioner of financial institutions or until this bond is canceled by the surety. The surety may cancel this bond and be relieved of further liability hereunder by giving 60 days' written notice to the principal and to the commissioner of financial institutions of the department of business and industry of the State of Nevada.

In Witness Whereof, the seal and signature of the principal hereto is affixed, and the corporate seal and the name of the surety hereto is affixed and attested by its authorized officers at ....., Nevada, this ..... day of ....., 19...

Sec. 43. NRS 645A.031 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645A.031 1. As a substitute for the surety bond required by NRS 645A.030, ~~[an applicant for a license as]~~ an escrow agency may , in accordance with the provisions of this section, deposit with any bank or trust company authorized to do business in this state, in a form approved by the commissioner:

(a) An obligation of a bank, savings and loan association, thrift company or credit union licensed to do business in this state;

(b) Bills, bonds, notes, debentures or other obligations of the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or guaranteed by the United States; or

(c) Any obligation of this state or any city, county, town, township, school district or other instrumentality of this state , or guaranteed by this state . ~~[, in an aggregate amount, based upon principal amount or market value, whichever is lower.]~~

2. The obligations of a bank, savings and loan association, thrift company or credit union must be held to secure the same obligation as would the surety bond. With the approval of the commissioner, the depositor may substitute other suitable obligations for those deposited which must be assigned to the State of Nevada and are negotiable only upon approval by the commissioner.

3. Any interest or dividends earned on the deposit accrue to the account of the depositor.

4. The deposit must be in an amount at least equal to the required surety bond and must state that the amount may not be withdrawn except by direct and sole order of the commissioner. The value of any item deposited pursuant to this section must be based upon principal amount or market value, whichever is lower.

Sec. 44. NRS 645A.037 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645A.037 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, ~~[no]~~ a licensee may not conduct the business of administering escrows for compensation within any office, suite, room or place of business in which any other business is solicited or engaged in, except a notary public, or in association or conjunction with any other business, unless authority to do so is given by the commissioner.

2. A licensee may conduct the business of administering escrows pursuant to this chapter in the same office or place of business as a mortgage company if:

(a) The licensee and the mortgage company:

(1) Operate as separate legal entities;

(2) Maintain separate accounts, books and records;

(3) Are subsidiaries of the same parent corporation; and

(4) Maintain separate licenses; and

(b) The mortgage company ~~[is]~~ :

(1) Is licensed by this state pursuant to sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act; and ~~[does not receive money to acquire or repay loans or maintain trust accounts as provided by NRS 645B.175.]~~

(2) Does not conduct any business as a mortgage broker licensed pursuant to chapter 645B of NRS in the office or place of business.

Sec. 45. Chapter 645B of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 46 to 83, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 46. "Applicant" means a person who applies for licensure as a mortgage broker or mortgage agent pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 51. "Escrow agency" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 645A.010.

Sec. 52. "Escrow agent" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 645A.010.

Sec. 53. "Escrow officer" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 692A.028.

Sec. 54. "Investor" means a person who wants to acquire or who acquires ownership of or a beneficial interest in a loan secured by a lien on real property.

Sec. 55. "Licensee" means a person who is licensed as a mortgage broker or mortgage agent pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 56. 1. "Mortgage agent" means a natural person who:

(a) Is an employee or independent contractor of a mortgage broker who is required to be licensed pursuant to this chapter; and

(b) Is authorized by the mortgage broker to engage in, on behalf of the mortgage broker, any activity that would require the person, if he were not an employee or independent contractor of the mortgage broker, to be licensed as a mortgage broker pursuant to this chapter.

2. The term does not include a person who:

(a) Is licensed as a mortgage broker;

(b) Is a general partner, officer or director of a mortgage broker; or

(c) Performs only clerical or ministerial tasks for a mortgage broker.

Sec. 57. 1. "Mortgage broker" means any person who, directly or indirectly:

(a) Holds himself out for hire to serve as an agent for any person in an attempt to obtain a loan which will be secured by a lien on real property;

(b) Holds himself out for hire to serve as an agent for any person who has money to lend, if the loan is or will be secured by a lien on real property;

Sec. 62. Except as otherwise provided in section 78 of this act:

1. A person who claims an exemption from the provisions of this chapter pursuant to subsection 1 or 6 of NRS 645B.015 must:

(a) File a written application for a certificate of exemption with the office of the commissioner;

(b) Pay the fee required pursuant to NRS 645B.050; and

(c) Include with the written application satisfactory proof that the person meets the requirements of subsection 1 or 6 of NRS 645B.015.

2. The commissioner may require a person who claims an exemption from the provisions of this chapter pursuant to subsections 2 to 5, inclusive, or 7 to 10, inclusive, of NRS 645B.015 to:

(a) File a written application for a certificate of exemption with the office of the commissioner;

(b) Pay the fee required pursuant to NRS 645B.050; and

(c) Include with the written application satisfactory proof that the person meets the requirements of at least one of those exemptions.

3. A certificate of exemption expires automatically if, at any time, the person who claims the exemption no longer meets the requirements of at least one exemption set forth in the provisions of NRS 645B.015.

4. If a certificate of exemption expires automatically pursuant to this section, the person shall not provide any of the services of a mortgage broker or mortgage agent or otherwise engage in, carry on or hold himself out as engaging in or carrying on the business of a mortgage broker or mortgage agent, unless the person applies for and is issued:

(a) A license as a mortgage broker or mortgage agent pursuant to this chapter; or

(b) Another certificate of exemption.

5. The commissioner may impose upon a person who is required to apply for a certificate of exemption or who holds a certificate of exemption an administrative fine of not more than $10,000 for each violation that he commits, if the person:

(a) Has knowingly made or caused to be made to the commissioner any false representation of material fact;

(b) Has suppressed or withheld from the commissioner any information which the person possesses and which, if submitted by him, would have rendered the person ineligible to hold a certificate of exemption; or

(c) Has violated any provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner that applies to a person who is required to apply for a certificate of exemption or who holds a certificate of exemption.

Sec. 63. If a person is a partnership, corporation or unincorporated association, the person:

1. May not be licensed as a mortgage agent; and

2. Shall not engage in any act or transaction that would require the person, if it were a natural person, to be licensed as a mortgage agent pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 64. 1. If an applicant is a natural person, the commissioner may refuse to issue a license to the applicant if the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that the applicant would be subject to control by a relative who would be ineligible to be licensed pursuant to this chapter.

2. If an applicant is a partnership, corporation or unincorporated association, the commissioner may refuse to issue a license to the applicant if:

(a) Any member of the partnership or any officer or director of the corporation or unincorporated association has committed any act or omission that would be cause for refusing to issue a license to a natural person; or

(b) The commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that any member of the partnership or any officer or director of the corporation or unincorporated association would be subject to control by a relative who would be ineligible to be licensed pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 65. A mortgage broker shall:

1. Teach his mortgage agents the fundamentals of mortgage lending and the ethics of the profession; and

2. Supervise the activities of his mortgage agents and the operation of his business.

Sec. 66. 1. If a mortgage agent terminates his association or employment with a mortgage broker for any reason, the mortgage broker shall, not later than the end of the next business day following the date of termination:

(a) Deliver to the mortgage agent or send by certified mail to the last known residence address of the mortgage agent a written statement which advises him that his license is being delivered or mailed to the division; and

(b) Deliver or send by certified mail to the division:

(1) The license of the mortgage agent;

(2) A written statement of the circumstances surrounding the termination; and

(3) A copy of the written statement that the mortgage broker delivers or mails to the mortgage agent pursuant to paragraph (a).

2. A mortgage agent who terminates his association or employment with a mortgage broker shall not, on or after the date on which the division receives his license from the mortgage broker, engage in any activity, directly or indirectly, for which a license as a mortgage agent is required pursuant to this chapter, unless the mortgage agent is specifically authorized by the commissioner to transfer his license to another mortgage broker or he otherwise obtains a new license pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 67. 1. A license entitles a licensee to engage only in the activities authorized by this chapter.

2. The provisions of this chapter do not prohibit a licensee who is licensed as a mortgage broker from:

(a) Holding a license as a mortgage company pursuant to sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act; or

(b) Conducting the business of a mortgage company and the business of a mortgage broker in the same office or place of business.

Sec. 68. 1. If a licensee or a relative of the licensee is licensed as, conducts business as or holds a controlling interest or position in:

(a) A construction control;

(b) An escrow agency or escrow agent; or

(c) A title agent, a title insurer or an escrow officer of a title agent or title insurer, the licensee shall not act as, transact business with or use the services of the construction control, escrow agency, escrow agent, title agent, title insurer or escrow officer with respect to any act or transaction that involves, directly or indirectly, any money of an investor who owns a beneficial interest in a loan secured by a lien on real property that was arranged by the licensee.

2. For the purposes of this section, a person shall be deemed to hold a controlling interest or position if the person:

(a) Owns or controls a majority of the voting stock or holds any other controlling interest, directly or indirectly, that gives him the power to direct management or determine policy; or

(b) Is a partner, officer, director or trustee.

3. As used in this section, "licensee" means:

(a) A person who is licensed as a mortgage broker pursuant to this chapter;

(b) Any general partner, officer or director of such a person; and

(c) Any mortgage agent associated with or employed by such a person.

Sec. 69. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, if a mortgage broker:

(a) Is required to maintain any accounts described in NRS 645B.175, the mortgage broker and his mortgage agents shall not engage in any activity that is authorized pursuant to this chapter, unless the mortgage broker maintains continuously a net worth of at least $250,000.

(b) Is not required to maintain any accounts described in NRS 645B.175, the mortgage broker and his mortgage agents shall not engage in any activity that is authorized pursuant to this chapter, unless the mortgage broker maintains continuously:

(1) Beginning on October 1, 1999, through September 30, 2000, inclusive, a net worth of at least $25,000;

(2) Beginning on October 1, 2000, through September 30, 2001, inclusive, a net worth of at least $50,000;

(3) Beginning on October 1, 2001, through September 30, 2002, inclusive, a net worth of at least $75,000; and

(4) On or after October 1, 2002, a net worth of at least $100,000.

2. If a mortgage broker cannot maintain continuously the net worth required pursuant to subsection 1, the commissioner may allow the mortgage broker and his mortgage agents to engage in activities that are authorized pursuant to this chapter if the mortgage broker remedies the deficiency in his net worth by depositing with the commissioner cash, a corporate surety bond or an irrevocable letter of credit, or any combination thereof, in an aggregate amount that is equal to or exceeds the deficiency in the net worth of the mortgage broker.

3. If requested by the commissioner, a mortgage broker and his mortgage agents shall submit to the commissioner or allow the commissioner to examine any documentation or other evidence that is related to determining the net worth of the mortgage broker.

4. The commissioner:

(a) Shall adopt regulations prescribing standards for determining the net worth of a mortgage broker; and

(b) May adopt any other regulations that are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

Sec. 70. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, not later than 60 days after the last day of each fiscal year for a mortgage broker, the mortgage broker shall submit to the commissioner a financial statement that:

(a) Is dated not earlier than the last day of the fiscal year; and

(b) Has been prepared from the books and records of the mortgage broker by an independent public accountant who holds a permit to engage in the practice of public accounting in this state that has not been revoked or suspended.

2. The commissioner may grant a reasonable extension for the submission of a financial statement pursuant to this section if a mortgage broker requests such an extension before the date on which the financial statement is due.

3. If a mortgage broker maintains any accounts described in subsection 1 of NRS 645B.175, the financial statement submitted pursuant to this section must be audited. If a mortgage broker maintains any accounts described in subsection 4 of NRS 645B.175, those accounts must be audited. The public accountant who prepares the report of an audit shall submit a copy of the report to the commissioner at the same time that he submits the report to the mortgage broker.

4. The commissioner shall adopt regulations prescribing the scope of an audit conducted pursuant to subsection 3.

Sec. 71. 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, a mortgage broker or mortgage agent shall not accept money from an investor to acquire ownership of or a beneficial interest in a loan secured by a lien on real property, unless the mortgage broker has obtained a written appraisal of the real property securing the loan.

2. The written appraisal of the real property:

(a) Must be performed by an appraiser who is authorized to perform appraisals in this state; and

(b) Must not be performed by the mortgage broker or a mortgage agent, unless the mortgage broker or mortgage agent is certified or licensed to perform such an appraisal pursuant to chapter 645C of NRS.

3. A copy of the written appraisal of the real property must be:

(a) Maintained at each office of the mortgage broker where money is accepted from an investor to acquire ownership of or a beneficial interest in a loan secured by a lien on the real property; and

(b) Made available during normal business hours for inspection by each such investor and the commissioner.

4. A mortgage broker is not required to obtain a written appraisal of the real property pursuant to this section if the mortgage broker obtains a written waiver of the appraisal from each investor who acquires ownership of or a beneficial interest in a loan secured by a lien on the real property. A mortgage broker or mortgage agent shall not act as the attorney in fact or the agent of an investor with respect to the giving of a written waiver pursuant to this subsection.

5. As used in this section, "appraisal" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 645C.030.

Sec. 72. 1. If money from an investor is released to a debtor or his designee pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 645B.175 upon completion of a loan secured by a lien on real property, the mortgage broker that arranged the loan shall, not later than 3 business days after the date on which the mortgage broker receives a copy of the recorded deed of trust, mail to the last known address of each investor who owns a beneficial interest in the loan a copy of the recorded deed of trust.

2. If a deed of trust is recorded in connection with a loan that has been funded, in whole or in part, by money from an investor, the mortgage broker that arranged the loan and his mortgage agents shall not engage in any act or transaction that subordinates the priority of the deed of trust, as recorded, unless the mortgage broker, before such an act or transaction:

(a) Obtains written approval for the subordination from each investor who owns a beneficial interest in the loan; and

(b) Submits a copy of each such written approval to the commissioner.

3. A mortgage broker or mortgage agent shall not act as the attorney in fact or the agent of an investor with respect to the giving of written approval pursuant to subsection 2. An investor and a mortgage broker or mortgage agent may not agree to alter or waive the provisions of subsection 2 by contract or other agreement. Any such contract or agreement is void and must not be given effect to the extent that it violates the provisions of subsection 2.

Sec. 73. If a mortgage broker maintains any accounts described in subsection 4 of NRS 645B.175 in which the mortgage broker deposits payments from a debtor on a loan secured by a lien on real property and, on the last day of any month, the debtor has failed to make two or more consecutive payments in accordance with the terms of the loan, the mortgage broker shall:

1. Include in the report that the mortgage broker submits to the commissioner pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 645B.080:

(a) The name, address and telephone number of the debtor;

(b) The total number of months and days that the debtor has failed to make a payment;

(c) The outstanding balance of the loan and any accrued interest on the last day of the month for which the report is submitted;

(d) A statement of whether the loan has been declared to be in default and, if so, the nature of any actions that have been taken because of the default; and

(e) Any other information required pursuant to the regulations adopted by the commissioner;

2. Not later than 15 days after the last day of each such month, mail a notice containing the information set forth in subsection 1 to the last known address of each investor who owns a beneficial interest in the loan; and

3. Comply with the provisions of this section each month on a continuing basis until:

(a) The debtor or his designee remedies the delinquency in payments and any default; or

(b) The lien securing the loan is extinguished.

Sec. 74. 1. If a person is required to make a payment to a mortgage broker pursuant to the terms of a loan secured by a lien on real property, the mortgage broker may not charge the person a late fee, an additional amount of interest or any other penalty in connection with that payment if the payment is delivered to the mortgage broker before 5 p.m. on:

(a) The day that the payment is due pursuant to the terms of the loan, if an office of the mortgage broker is open to customers until 5 p.m. on that day; or

(b) The next day that an office of the mortgage broker is open to customers until 5 p.m., if the provisions of paragraph (a) do not otherwise apply.

2. A person and a mortgage broker or mortgage agent may not agree to alter or waive the provisions of this section by contract or other agreement, and any such contract or agreement is void and must not be given effect to the extent that it violates the provisions of this section.

Sec. 75. 1. A mortgage broker or mortgage agent shall not engage in any act or transaction on behalf of an investor pursuant to a power of attorney unless:

(a) The power of attorney is executed for the sole purpose of providing services for not more than one loan in which the investor owns a beneficial interest; and

(b) The provisions of the power of attorney:

(1) Have been approved by the commissioner; and

(2) Expressly prohibit the mortgage broker and his mortgage agents from using or releasing any money in which the investor owns a beneficial interest with regard to that loan for a purpose that is not directly related to providing services for the loan or in any manner that violates the provisions of NRS 645B.175.

2. A power of attorney which designates a mortgage broker or mortgage agent as the attorney in fact or the agent of an investor and which violates the provisions of this section is void and must not be given effect with regard to any act or transaction that occurs on or after October 1, 1999, whether or not the power of attorney is or has been executed by the investor before, on or after October 1, 1999.

Sec. 76. 1. A person may, in accordance with the regulations adopted pursuant to subsection 2, file a complaint with the commissioner, alleging that another person has violated a provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner.

2. The commissioner shall adopt regulations prescribing:

(a) The form that such a complaint must take;

(b) The information that must be included in such a complaint; and

(c) The procedures that a person must follow to file such a complaint.

Sec. 77. 1. If a person properly files a complaint with the commissioner pursuant to section 76 of this act, the commissioner shall investigate each violation alleged in the complaint, unless the commissioner has previously investigated the alleged violation.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 of NRS 645B.090, if the commissioner does not conduct an investigation of an alleged violation pursuant to subsection 1 because he previously has investigated the alleged violation, the commissioner shall provide to the person who filed the complaint a written summary of the previous investigation and the nature of any disciplinary action that was taken as a result of the previous investigation.

3. If the commissioner conducts an investigation of an alleged violation pursuant to subsection 1, the commissioner shall determine from the investigation whether there is reasonable cause to believe that the person committed the alleged violation.

4. If, upon investigation, the commissioner determines that there is not reasonable cause to believe that the person committed the alleged violation, the commissioner shall provide the reason for his determination, in writing, to the person who filed the complaint and to the person alleged to have committed the violation.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, if, upon investigation, the commissioner determines that there is reasonable cause to believe that the person committed the alleged violation, the commissioner shall:

(a) Schedule a hearing concerning the alleged violation;

(b) Mail to the last known address of the person who filed the complaint written notice that must include, without limitation:

(1) The date, time and place of the hearing; and

(2) A statement of each alleged violation that will be considered at the hearing; and

(c) By personal service in accordance with the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure and any applicable provision of NRS, serve written notice of the hearing to the person alleged to have committed the violation. The written notice that is served pursuant to this paragraph must include, without limitation:

(1) The date, time and place of the hearing;

(2) A copy of the complaint and a statement of each alleged violation that will be considered at the hearing; and

(3) A statement informing the person that, pursuant to section 81 of this act, if he fails to appear, without reasonable cause, at the hearing:

(I) He is guilty of a misdemeanor; and

(II) The commissioner is authorized to conduct the hearing in his absence, draw any conclusions that the commissioner deems appropriate from his failure to appear and render a decision concerning each alleged violation.

6. The commissioner is not required to schedule or conduct a hearing concerning an alleged violation pursuant to subsection 5 if the commissioner and the person alleged to have committed the violation enter into a written consent agreement settling or resolving the alleged violation. If such a written consent agreement is executed, the commissioner shall provide a copy of the written consent agreement to the person who filed the complaint.

7. The commissioner may:

(a) Investigate and conduct a hearing concerning any alleged violation, whether or not a complaint has been filed.

(b) Hear and consider more than one alleged violation against a person at the same hearing.

Sec. 78. 1. If a person offers or provides any of the services of a mortgage broker or mortgage agent or otherwise engages in, carries on or holds himself out as engaging in or carrying on the business of a mortgage broker or mortgage agent and, at the time:

(a) The person was required to have a license pursuant to this chapter and the person did not have such a license; or

(b) The person's license was suspended or revoked pursuant to this chapter, the commissioner shall impose upon the person an administrative fine of not more than $10,000 for each violation and, if the person has a license, the commissioner shall revoke it.

2. If a person is exempt from the provisions of this chapter pursuant to subsection 6 of NRS 645B.015 and the person, while exempt, maintains, offers to maintain or holds himself out as maintaining any accounts described in subsection 1 of NRS 645B.175 or otherwise engages in, offers to engage in or holds himself out as engaging in any activity that would remove the person from the exemption set forth in subsection 6 of NRS 645B.015, the commissioner shall impose upon the person an administrative fine of not more than $10,000 for each violation and the commissioner shall revoke the person's exemption. If the commissioner revokes an exemption pursuant to this subsection, the person may not again be granted the same or a similar exemption from the provisions of this chapter. The person may apply for a license pursuant to this chapter unless otherwise prohibited by specific statute.

3. If a mortgage broker or mortgage agent violates any provision of NRS 645B.175, the commissioner shall impose upon the mortgage broker or mortgage agent, or both, an administrative fine of not more than $10,000 for each violation and, in addition, the commissioner may suspend, revoke or place conditions upon the license of the mortgage broker or mortgage agent, or both.

4. If a mortgage broker or mortgage agent violates any provision of subsection 1 of NRS 645B.080 and the mortgage broker or mortgage agent fails, without reasonable cause, to remedy the violation within 10 days after being ordered by the commissioner to do so, or if the commissioner orders a mortgage broker or mortgage agent to provide information, make a report or permit an examination of his books or affairs pursuant to this chapter and the mortgage broker or mortgage agent fails, without reasonable cause, to comply with the order within 10 days:

(a) The commissioner shall impose upon the mortgage broker or mortgage agent, or both, an administrative fine of not more than $10,000 for each violation and the commissioner shall suspend or revoke the license of the mortgage broker or mortgage agent, or both; and

(b) If the violation is committed by a mortgage broker, the mortgage broker shall be deemed to be conducting business in an unsafe and injurious manner that may result in danger to the public, and the commissioner shall immediately take possession of the property of the mortgage broker pursuant to NRS 645B.150.

5. For each violation that may be committed by a person pursuant to this chapter or the regulations adopted pursuant to this chapter, other than a violation described in this section, the commissioner shall adopt regulations:

(a) Categorizing the violation as a major violation or a minor violation; and

(b) Specifying the disciplinary action that will be taken by the commissioner pursuant to this chapter against a person who commits:

(1) A major violation. The disciplinary action taken by the commissioner for a major violation must include, without limitation, suspension or revocation of the person's license.

(2) More than two minor violations. The commissioner may establish graduated sanctions for a person who commits more than two minor violations based upon the number, the frequency and the severity of the minor violations and whether the person previously has committed any major violations.

Sec. 79. If a person is a partnership, corporation or unincorporated association, the commissioner shall take the disciplinary action set forth in section 78 of this act and may take any other disciplinary action set forth in this chapter against the person if any member of the partnership or any officer or director of the corporation or unincorporated association has committed any act or omission that would be cause for taking such disciplinary action against a natural person.

Sec. 80. Before conducting a hearing, the commissioner may, to the fullest extent permitted by the Constitution of the United States and the constitution of this state:

1. Order a summary suspension of a license pursuant to subsection 3 of NRS 233B.127; and

2. Take any other action against a licensee or other person that is necessary to protect the health, safety or welfare of the public.

Sec. 81. If a person is alleged to have engaged in any conduct or committed any violation that is described in NRS 645B.100, 645B.120 or 645B.150 or section 78 of this act or is alleged to have committed a violation of any other provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner, and the person fails to appear, without reasonable cause, at a hearing before the commissioner concerning the alleged conduct or violation:

1. The commissioner shall notify the attorney general that the person failed to appear;

2. The person is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in NRS 645B.230; and

3. The commissioner may conduct the hearing in the person's absence, draw any conclusions that the commissioner deems appropriate from his failure to appear and render a decision concerning the alleged conduct or violation.

Sec. 82. 1. The attorney general has primary jurisdiction for the enforcement of this chapter. The attorney general shall, if appropriate, investigate and prosecute a person who violates:

(a) Any provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner, including, without limitation, a violation of any provision of NRS 645B.100 or 645B.120 or section 78 of this act; or

(b) Any other law or regulation if the violation is committed by the person in the course of committing a violation described in paragraph (a).

2. The attorney general shall, if appropriate, investigate and prosecute a person who is alleged to have committed a violation described in subsection 1 whether or not:

(a) The commissioner notifies the attorney general of the alleged violation;

(b) The commissioner takes any disciplinary action against the person alleged to have committed the violation;

(c) Any other person files a complaint against the person alleged to have committed the violation; or

(d) A civil action is commenced against the person alleged to have committed the violation.

3. When acting pursuant to this section, the attorney general may commence his investigation and file a criminal action without leave of court, and the attorney general has exclusive charge of the conduct of the prosecution.

4. Except as otherwise provided by the Constitution of the United States, the constitution of this state or a specific statute, a person shall, if requested, provide the attorney general with information that would assist in the prosecution of any other person who is alleged to have committed a violation described in subsection 1. If a person fails, without reasonable cause, to provide the attorney general with such information upon request, the person is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in NRS 645B.230.

Sec. 83. 1. The attorney general may bring any appropriate civil action against a person to enforce any provision of this chapter, a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner, including, without limitation, an order of the commissioner:

(a) Imposing an administrative fine; or

(b) Suspending, revoking or placing conditions upon a license.

2. If the attorney general prevails in any civil action brought pursuant to this chapter, the court shall order the person against whom the civil action was brought to pay:

(a) Court costs; and

(b) Reasonable costs of the investigation and prosecution of the civil action.

3. Whether or not the attorney general brings a civil action against a person pursuant to this chapter, the attorney general may prosecute the person for a criminal violation pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 87. NRS 645B.023 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.023 1. A natural person who applies for the issuance or renewal of a license as a mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker or mortgage agent shall submit to the commissioner the statement prescribed by the welfare division of the department of human resources pursuant to NRS 425.520. The statement must be completed and signed by the applicant.

2. The commissioner shall include the statement required pursuant to subsection 1 in:

(a) The application or any other forms that must be submitted for the issuance or renewal of the license; or

(b) A separate form prescribed by the commissioner.

3. A license as a mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker or mortgage agent may not be issued or renewed by the commissioner if the applicant is a natural person who:

(a) Fails to submit the statement required pursuant to subsection 1; or

(b) Indicates on the statement submitted pursuant to subsection 1 that he is subject to a court order for the support of a child and is not in compliance with the order or a plan approved by the district attorney or other public agency enforcing the order for the repayment of the amount owed pursuant to the order.

4. If an applicant indicates on the statement submitted pursuant to subsection 1 that he is subject to a court order for the support of a child and is not in compliance with the order or a plan approved by the district attorney or other public agency enforcing the order for the repayment of the amount owed pursuant to the order, the commissioner shall advise the applicant to contact the district attorney or other public agency enforcing the order to determine the actions that the applicant may take to satisfy the arrearage.

Sec. 88. NRS 645B.025 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.025 1. A ~~[licensee]~~ mortgage agent may not be associated with or employed by more than one mortgage broker at the same time.

2. A mortgage broker shall not employ or pay for the services of a mortgage agent, unless the mortgage agent is licensed pursuant to this chapter and is not associated with or employed by another mortgage broker.

3. The license of a mortgage agent must be delivered or mailed to the mortgage broker with whom he is associated or employed and kept in the custody and control of the mortgage broker.

4. The license of a mortgage broker or mortgage agent must:

(a) Show the name of the licensee, the address of the office for which the license has been issued and, if the licensee is a mortgage agent, the name of the mortgage broker with whom he is associated or employed;

(b) Be imprinted with the seal of the division; and

(c) Include any other information required pursuant to the regulations adopted by the commissioner or an order of the commissioner.

5. A mortgage broker shall post each license and the license of each of his mortgage agents in a conspicuous place in the office ~~[to which it pertains.~~

~~2. A license]~~ for which each license has been issued.

6. A mortgage broker may not ~~[be transferred or assigned]~~ transfer or assign a license to another person, unless the commissioner gives his written approval.

7. A mortgage agent may not change the mortgage broker with whom he is associated or employed, unless the commissioner gives his written approval and the mortgage agent pays the fee required pursuant to NRS 645B.050.

Sec. 89. NRS 645B.050 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.050 1. A ~~[mortgage company's]~~ license issued pursuant to this chapter expires each year on June 30 ~~[next after the date of issuance if it is not renewed. A license may be renewed by filing an]~~ , unless it is renewed. To renew a license, the licensee must submit to the commissioner on or before June 30 of each year:

(c) Give any mortgage broker a competitive advantage over any other mortgage broker.

Sec. 94. NRS 645B.095 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.095 1. As used in this section, "change of control" means:

(a) A transfer of voting stock which results in giving a person, directly or indirectly, the power to direct the management and policy of a mortgage ~~[company;]~~ broker; or

(b) A transfer of at least 25 percent of the outstanding voting stock of a mortgage ~~[company.]~~ broker.

2. The commissioner must be notified of a transfer of 5 percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of a mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker and must approve a transfer of voting stock of a mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker which constitutes a change of control.

3. The person who acquires stock resulting in a change of control of the mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker shall apply to the commissioner for approval of the transfer. The application must contain information which shows that the requirements of this chapter for obtaining a license will be satisfied after the change of control. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, the commissioner shall conduct an investigation to determine whether those requirements will be satisfied. If, after the investigation, the commissioner denies the application, he may forbid the applicant from participating in the business of the mortgage ~~[company.]~~ broker.

4. A mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker may submit a written request to the commissioner to waive an investigation pursuant to subsection 3. The commissioner may grant a waiver if the applicant has undergone a similar investigation by a state or federal agency in connection with the licensing of or his employment with a financial institution.

Sec. 95. NRS 645B.100 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.100 ~~[1.]~~ Except as otherwise provided in section 78 of this act:

1. For each violation committed by an applicant, whether or not he is issued a license, the commissioner may impose upon the applicant an administrative fine of not more than $10,000, if the applicant:

3. No other person may be appointed receiver by any court without first giving the commissioner ample notice of his application.

4. The inventory made by the commissioner and all claims filed by creditors are open at all reasonable times for inspection , and any action taken by the receiver upon any of the claims is subject to the approval of the court before which the cause is pending.

5. The expenses of the receiver and compensation of counsel, as well as all expenditures required in the liquidation proceedings, must be fixed by the commissioner subject to the approval of the court ~~[,]~~ and, upon certification of the commissioner, must be paid out of the money in his hands as the receiver.

Sec. 101. NRS 645B.165 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.165 1. ~~[The]~~ Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, the amount of any advance fee, salary, deposit or money paid to any mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker, mortgage agent or other person to obtain a loan which will be secured by a lien on real property must be placed in escrow pending completion of the loan or a commitment for the loan.

2. The amount held in escrow pursuant to subsection 1 must be released:

(a) Upon completion of the loan or commitment for the loan, to the mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker or other person to whom the advance fee, salary, deposit or money was paid.

(b) If the loan or commitment for the loan fails, to the person who made the payment.

3. Advance payments to cover reasonably estimated costs paid to third persons are excluded from the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 if the person making them first signs a written agreement which specifies the estimated costs by item and the estimated aggregate cost, and which recites that money advanced for costs will not be refunded. If an itemized service is not performed and the estimated cost thereof is not refunded, the recipient of the advance payment is subject to the penalties provided in ~~[subsection 4.~~

~~4. A person who violates the provisions of subsection 1:~~

~~(a) Is guilty of a misdemeanor if the amount is less than $250;~~

~~(b) Is guilty of a gross misdemeanor if the amount is $250 or more but less than $1000; or~~

~~(c) Is guilty of a category D felony if the amount is $1,000 or more, and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130.]~~ NRS 645B.225.

Sec. 102. NRS 645B.170 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.170 1. All money paid to the mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker for payment of taxes or insurance premiums on real property which secures any loan ~~[made]~~ arranged by the mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker must be deposited in ~~[a bank]~~ an insured depository financial institution and kept separate, distinct and apart from money belonging to the mortgage ~~[company.]~~ broker. Such money, when deposited, is to be designated as an "impound trust account" or under some other appropriate name indicating that the accounts are not the money of the mortgage ~~[company.]~~ broker.

2. The mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker has a fiduciary duty to ~~[its debtors]~~ each debtor with respect to the money in ~~[its]~~ an impound trust account.

3. The mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker shall, upon reasonable notice, account to any debtor whose real property secures a loan ~~[made]~~ arranged by the mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker for any money which that person has paid to the mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker for the payment of taxes or insurance premiums on the real property . ~~[in question.]~~

4. The mortgage [~~company~~] broker shall, upon reasonable notice, account to the commissioner for all money in [~~the company's~~] an impound trust account.

5. A mortgage [~~company~~] broker shall:

(a) Require contributions to an impound trust account in an amount reasonably necessary to pay the obligations as they become due.

(b) Within 30 days after the completion of [~~its~~] the annual review of an impound trust account, notify the debtor:

(1) Of the amount by which the contributions exceed the amount reasonably necessary to pay the annual obligations due from the account; and

(2) That [~~he~~] the debtor may specify the disposition of the excess money within 20 days after receipt of the notice. If the debtor fails to specify such a disposition within that time, the mortgage [~~company~~] broker shall maintain the excess money in the account.

This subsection does not prohibit a mortgage [~~company~~] broker from requiring additional amounts to be paid into an impound trust account to recover a deficiency that exists in the account.

6. A mortgage [~~company~~] broker shall not make payments from an impound trust account in a manner that causes a policy of insurance to be canceled or causes property taxes or similar payments to become delinquent.

Sec. 103. NRS 645B.175 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.175 1. [~~All~~] Except as otherwise provided in this section, all money received by a mortgage [~~company from a person~~] broker and his mortgage agents from an investor to acquire ownership of or a beneficial interest in a loan secured by a lien on real property [~~,~~] must:

(a) Be deposited in:

(1) An insured depository financial institution; or

(2) An escrow account which is controlled by a person who is independent of the parties and subject to instructions regarding the account which are approved by the parties.

(b) Be kept separate from money:

(1) Belonging to the mortgage [~~company~~] broker in an account appropriately named to indicate that the money does not belong to the mortgage [~~company.~~] broker.

(2) Received pursuant to subsection [~~3.~~

~~2. The~~] 4.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the amount held in trust pursuant to subsection 1 must be released:

(a) Upon completion of the loan, including proper recordation of the respective interests or release, or upon completion of the transfer of the ownership or beneficial interest therein, to the debtor or his designee less [~~that~~] the amount due the mortgage [~~company~~] broker for the payment of any fee or service charge;

(b) If the loan or the transfer thereof is not consummated, to [~~the person~~] each investor who furnished the money held in trust; or

(c) Pursuant to any instructions regarding the escrow account.

3. ~~[All]~~ The amount held in trust pursuant to subsection 1 must not be released to the debtor or his designee unless:

(a) The amount released is equal to the total amount of money which is being loaned to the debtor for that loan, less the amount due the mortgage broker for the payment of any fee or service charge; and

(b) The mortgage broker has provided a written instruction to a title agent or title insurer requiring that a lender's policy of title insurance or appropriate title endorsement, which names as an insured each investor who owns a beneficial interest in the loan, be issued for the real property securing the loan.

4. Except as otherwise provided in this section, all money paid to a mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker and his mortgage agents by a person in full or in partial payment of a loan secured by a lien on real property, must:

(a) Be deposited in:

(1) An insured depository financial institution; or

(2) An escrow account which is controlled by a person who is subject to instructions regarding the account which are approved by the parties.

(b) Be kept separate from money:

(1) Belonging to the mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker in an account appropriately named to indicate that it does not belong to the mortgage ~~[company.]~~ broker.

(2) Received pursuant to subsection 1.

~~[4. The]~~

5. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the amount held in trust pursuant to subsection ~~[3 must]~~ 4:

(a) Must be released, upon the deduction and payment of any ~~[fees]~~ fee or service charge due the mortgage ~~[company, to the owner of or the person having the]~~ broker, to each investor who owns a beneficial interest in the ~~[note.~~

~~5.]~~ loan in exact proportion to the beneficial interest that he owns in the loan; and

(b) Must not be released, in any proportion, to an investor who owns a beneficial interest in the loan, unless the amount described in paragraph (a) is also released to every other investor who owns a beneficial interest in the loan.

6. An investor may waive, in writing, the right to receive one or more payments, or portions thereof, that are released to other investors in the manner set forth in subsection 5. A mortgage broker or mortgage agent shall not act as the attorney in fact or the agent of an investor with respect to the giving of a written waiver pursuant to this subsection. Any such written waiver applies only to the payment or payments, or portions thereof, that are included in the written waiver and does not affect the right of the investor to:

(a) Receive the waived payment or payments, or portions thereof, at a later date; or

(b) Receive all other payments in full and in accordance with the provisions of subsection 5.

7. Upon reasonable notice, any mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker described in this section shall:

(a) Account to any investor or debtor ~~[or creditor upon whose behalf money has been]~~ who has paid to the mortgage ~~[company and]~~ broker or his mortgage agents money that is required to be deposited in ~~[the trust accounts as set forth in]~~ a trust account pursuant to this section; and

(b) Account to the commissioner for all money ~~[in]~~ which the mortgage ~~[company's loan proceeds or loan payments]~~ broker and his mortgage agents have received from each investor or debtor and which the mortgage broker is required to deposit in a trust account ~~[.~~

~~6.]~~ pursuant to this section.

8. Money received by a mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker and his mortgage agents pursuant to this section from a person who is not associated with the ~~[company]~~ mortgage broker may be held in trust for ~~[no]~~ not more than 45 days before an escrow account must be opened in connection with the loan. If, within this 45-day period, the loan or the transfer therefor is not consummated, the money must be returned within 24 hours. If the money is so returned, it may not be reinvested with the mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker for at least 15 days.

9. If a mortgage broker or a mortgage agent receives any money pursuant to this section, the mortgage broker or mortgage agent, after the deduction and payment of any fee or service charge due the mortgage broker, shall not release the money to:

(a) Any person who does not have a contractual or legal right to receive the money; or

(b) Any person who has a contractual right to receive the money if the mortgage broker or mortgage agent knows or, in light of all the surrounding facts and circumstances, reasonably should know that the person's contractual right to receive the money violates any provision of this chapter or a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter.

Sec. 104. NRS 645B.180 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.180 1. Money in an impound trust account is not subject to execution or attachment on any claim against the mortgage ~~[company.]~~ broker or his mortgage agents.

2. It is unlawful for ~~[any mortgage company]~~ a mortgage broker or his mortgage agents knowingly to keep or cause to be kept any money in ~~[any bank]~~ a depository financial institution under the heading of "impound trust account" or any other name designating such money as belonging to the investors or debtors of the mortgage ~~[company, except]~~ broker, unless the money has been paid to the mortgage ~~[company for the payment of taxes and insurance premiums on property securing loans made by the company, and money]~~ broker or his mortgage agents by an investor or debtor and is being held in trust by the mortgage broker pursuant to NRS 645B.170 or 645B.175.

Sec. 105. NRS 645B.185 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.185 1. ~~[Before a person invests money through a mortgage company licensed pursuant to this chapter, he must sign a written statement received from the company, acknowledging that:~~

~~(a) The company has explained to him the nature and risks of investing through the company, including the possibility of default in payment, the fact that payments are not guaranteed, the resulting foreclosure and the losses that may result; and~~

~~(b) He is aware that the company is not a depository financial institution.~~

~~2. The investor must sign such a statement upon his initial investment only, and not before each subsequent investment.~~

~~3. The statement must be made on a form prescribed by the commissioner.]~~ A mortgage broker or mortgage agent shall not accept money from an investor to acquire ownership of or a beneficial interest in a loan secured by a lien on real property unless:

(a) The investor and the mortgage broker or mortgage agent sign and date a disclosure form that complies with the provisions of subsection 5; and

(b) The mortgage broker or mortgage agent gives the investor the original disclosure form that has been signed and dated.

2. An investor and a mortgage broker or mortgage agent must sign and date a separate disclosure form pursuant to subsection 1 for each loan in which the investor invests his money. A mortgage broker or mortgage agent shall not act as the attorney in fact or the agent of an investor with respect to the signing or dating of any disclosure form.

3. An investor and a mortgage broker or mortgage agent may not agree to alter or waive the provisions of this section by contract or other agreement. Any such contract or agreement is void and must not be given effect to the extent that it violates the provisions of this section.

4. A mortgage broker shall retain a copy of each disclosure form that is signed and dated pursuant to subsection 1 for the period that is prescribed in the regulations adopted by the commissioner.

5. The standard provisions for each such disclosure form must include, without limitation, statements:

(a) Explaining the risks of investing through the mortgage broker, including, without limitation:

(1) The possibility that the debtor may default on the loan;

(2) The nature of the losses that may result through foreclosure;

(3) The fact that payments of principal and interest are not guaranteed and that the investor may lose the entire amount of principal that he has invested;

(4) The fact that the mortgage broker is not a depository financial institution and that the investment is not insured by any depository insurance and is not otherwise insured or guaranteed by the federal or state government; and

(5) Any other information required pursuant to the regulations adopted by the commissioner; and

(b) Disclosing to the investor the following information if the information is known or, in light of all the surrounding facts and circumstances, reasonably should be known to the mortgage broker:

(1) Whether the real property that will secure the loan is encumbered by any other liens and, if so, the priority of each such lien, the amount of debt secured by each such lien and the current status of that debt, including, without limitation, whether the debt is being paid or is in default;

(2) Whether the mortgage broker or any general partner, officer, director or mortgage agent of the mortgage broker has any direct or indirect interest in the debtor;

(3) Whether any disciplinary action has been taken by the commissioner against the mortgage broker or any general partner, officer, director or mortgage agent of the mortgage broker within the preceding 12 months, and the nature of any such disciplinary action;

(4) Whether the mortgage broker or any general partner, officer, director or mortgage agent of the mortgage broker has been convicted within the preceding 12 months for violating any law, ordinance or regulation that involves fraud, misrepresentation or a deceitful, fraudulent or dishonest business practice; and

(5) Any other information required pursuant to the regulations adopted by the commissioner.

6. Whether or not a mortgage broker is required to disclose any information to investors through a disclosure form that complies with the provisions of subsection 5, the commissioner may order the mortgage broker to disclose to investors or to the general public any information concerning the mortgage broker, any general partner, officer, director or mortgage agent of the mortgage broker or any loan in which the mortgage broker is or has been involved, if the commissioner, in his judgment, believes that the information:

(a) Would be of material interest to a reasonable investor who is deciding whether to invest money with the mortgage broker; or

(b) Is necessary to protect the welfare of the public.

7. In carrying out the provisions of subsection 6, the commissioner may, without limitation, order a mortgage broker to include statements of disclosure prescribed by the commissioner:

(a) In the disclosure form that must be given to investors pursuant to subsection 1;

(b) In additional disclosure forms that must be given to investors before or after they have invested money through the mortgage broker; or

(c) In any advertisement that the mortgage broker uses in carrying on his business.

8. The commissioner:

(a) Shall adopt regulations prescribing the period for which a mortgage broker must retain a copy of each disclosure form that is given to investors; and

(b) May adopt any other regulations that are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, including, without limitation, regulations specifying the size of print and any required formatting or typesetting that a mortgage broker must use in any disclosure form that is given to investors.

Sec. 106. NRS 645B.187 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.187 1. If a mortgage broker or mortgage agent solicits or receives money from an investor, the mortgage broker or mortgage agent shall not:

(a) In any advertisement; or

(b) Before, during or after solicitation or receipt of money from the investor, make, or cause or encourage to be made, any explicit or implicit statement, representation or promise, oral or written, which a reasonable person would construe as a guarantee that the investor will be repaid the principal amount of money he invests or will earn a specific rate of return or a specific rate of interest on the principal amount of money he invests.

2. If a mortgage broker offers to pay or pays premium interest ~~[is paid by a mortgage company]~~ on money ~~[it]~~ that the mortgage broker receives from a person to acquire ownership of or a beneficial interest in a loan secured by a lien on real property or in full or partial payment of such a loan ~~[, that]~~ :

(a) The premium interest must be paid from the assets or income of the mortgage ~~[company and may not be guaranteed.~~

~~2. For the purposes of]~~ broker; and

(b) The mortgage broker or a mortgage agent shall not:

(1) In any advertisement; or

(2) Before, during or after receipt of money from such a person,

make, or cause or encourage to be made, any explicit or implicit statement, representation or promise, oral or written, which a reasonable person would construe as a guarantee that the mortgage broker will pay the premium interest.

3. A person who violates any provision of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in NRS 645B.230.

4. As used in this section, "premium interest" means that amount of interest a mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker pays to a person which exceeds the amount which is being obtained from the insured depository financial institution.

Sec. 107. NRS 645B.188 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.188 Each mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker shall pay the assessment levied pursuant to NRS 658.055 . ~~[and]~~ Each mortgage broker and mortgage agent shall cooperate fully with the audits and examinations performed pursuant thereto.

Sec. 108. NRS 645B.189 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.189 1. Each mortgage broker shall include in each advertisement that the mortgage broker uses in carrying on his business:

(a) A statement of disclosure in substantially the following form:

Money invested through a mortgage broker is not insured or guaranteed by the federal or state government. An investor is not guaranteed to recover or to be repaid any of the money he invests. An investor is not guaranteed to earn or to be paid any interest or other return on the money he invests. An investor may lose some or all of the money he invests.

(b) Any other statements of disclosure required pursuant to the regulations adopted by the commissioner or required pursuant to an order of the commissioner entered in accordance with subsections 6 and 7 of NRS 645B.185.

2. Each mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker shall submit any proposed advertisement ~~[it]~~ that the mortgage broker intends to use in carrying on his business to the commissioner for approval. ~~[The commissioner shall, within 5 working days after receiving the advertisement, approve or disapprove its use and notify the company of that decision.]~~ If the mortgage broker is required to include any statements of disclosure in such an advertisement pursuant to subsection 1 and the statements of disclosure will be displayed in printed form:

(a) The size of the print must be approved by the commissioner; and

(b) If displayed on television or any other video screen, monitor or device, the length of time that the statements are displayed must be approved by the commissioner.

3. In addition to the requirements set forth in this chapter, each advertisement that a mortgage broker uses in carrying on his business must comply with the requirements of:

(a) NRS 598.0903 to 598.0999, inclusive, concerning deceptive trade practices; and

(b) Any applicable federal statute or regulation concerning deceptive advertising and the advertising of interest rates.

4. The commissioner may adopt any regulations that are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

Sec. 109. NRS 645B.191 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.191 Except pursuant to a contract for the collection or servicing of a loan which is governed by the requirements established by the Government National Mortgage Association, Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation or Federal National Mortgage Association, ~~[no mortgage company may]~~ a mortgage broker or mortgage agent shall not advance payments to an investor on behalf of a person who has obtained a loan secured by a lien on real property and who has defaulted in his payments.

Sec. 110. NRS 645B.193 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.193 A mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker shall not assign all or a part of ~~[its]~~ his interest in a ~~[mortgage]~~ loan secured by a lien on real property, unless the ~~[company:]~~ mortgage broker:

1. Obtains a policy of title insurance for the ~~[mortgaged]~~ real property; and

2. Records the assignment in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the real property is located.

Sec. 111. NRS 645B.197 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.197 1. A person may apply to the commissioner for an exemption from the provisions of this chapter governing the making of a loan of money.

2. The commissioner may grant the exemption if he finds that:

(a) The making of the loan would not be detrimental to the financial condition of the lender, ~~[borrower]~~ the debtor or the person who is providing the money for the loan;

(b) The lender, ~~[borrower]~~ the debtor or the person who is providing the money for the loan has established a record of sound performance, efficient management, financial responsibility and integrity;

(c) The making of the loan is likely to increase the availability of capital for a sector of the state economy; and

(d) The making of the loan is not detrimental to the public interest.

3. The commissioner:

(a) May revoke an exemption unless the loan for which the exemption was granted has been made; and

(b) Shall issue a written statement setting forth the reasons for his decision to grant, deny or revoke an exemption.

Sec. 112. NRS 645B.200 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.200 ~~[This chapter does not limit]~~ The provisions of this chapter do not:

1. Limit any statutory or common law right of ~~[any]~~ a person to bring ~~[an action in any court]~~ a civil action against a mortgage broker or mortgage agent for any act or omission involved in the transaction of business by or on behalf of the mortgage ~~[company business or the]~~ broker or mortgage agent;

2. Limit the right of the state to punish ~~[any]~~ a person for ~~[any]~~ the violation of any law ~~[.]~~ , ordinance or regulation; or

3. Establish a basis for a person to bring a civil action against the state or its officers or employees for any act or omission in carrying out the provisions of this chapter, including, without limitation, any act or omission relating to the disclosure of information or the failure to disclose information pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 113. NRS 645B.210 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.210 It is unlawful for any person to offer or provide any of the services of a mortgage ~~[company, unless he is exempted under NRS 645B.015,]~~ broker or mortgage agent or otherwise to engage in , ~~[or]~~ carry on ~~[,]~~ or hold himself out as engaging in or carrying on ~~[,]~~ the business of a mortgage ~~[company]~~ broker or mortgage agent without first obtaining a license as a mortgage ~~[company.]~~ broker or mortgage agent pursuant to this chapter, unless the person:

1. Is exempt from the provisions of this chapter; and

2. Complies with the requirements for that exemption.

Sec. 114. NRS 645B.220 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.220 It is unlawful for any foreign corporation, association or business trust to ~~[transact any mortgage business in]~~ conduct any business as a mortgage broker within this state , unless it:

1. Qualifies under chapter 80 of NRS; and

2. Complies with the provisions of this chapter ~~[unless exempted by NRS 645B.015.]~~ or, if it claims an exemption from the provisions of this chapter, complies with the requirements for that exemption.

Sec. 115. NRS 645B.225 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.225 1. A person , or any general partner, director, officer, agent or employee of a person, who violates any provision of NRS ~~[645B.170, 645B.175 or 645B.180:~~

~~1. Is~~] 645B.165 to 645B.180, inclusive, is guilty of ~~[a]~~ :

(a) A misdemeanor if the amount involved is less than $250;

~~[2. Is guilty of a]~~

(b) A gross misdemeanor if the amount involved is $250 or more but less than $1,000; or

~~[3. Is guilty of a]~~

(c) A category D felony if the amount involved is $1,000 or more, and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130.

2. In addition to any other penalty, if a person is convicted of or enters a plea of nolo contendere to a violation described in subsection 1, the court shall order the person to pay:

(a) Court costs; and

(b) Reasonable costs of the investigation and prosecution of the violation.

Sec. 116. NRS 645B.230 is hereby amended to read as follows:

645B.230 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 645B.225, ~~[any]~~ a person, or any general partner, director, officer, agent or employee of a person, who violates any ~~[of the provisions]~~ provision of this chapter , a regulation adopted pursuant to this chapter or an order of the commissioner is guilty of a misdemeanor.

2. In addition to any other penalty, if a person is convicted of or enters a plea of nolo contendere to a violation described in subsection 1, the court shall order the person to pay:

(a) Court costs; and

(b) Reasonable costs of the investigation and prosecution of the violation.

Sec. 117. NRS 40.750 is hereby amended to read as follows:

40.750 1. As used in this section, "financial institution" means a bank, mortgage broker, mortgage company, credit union, thrift company or savings and loan association, or any subsidiary or affiliate of a bank, mortgage broker, mortgage company, credit union, thrift company or savings and loan association, which is authorized to transact business in this state and which makes or acquires, in whole or in part, any loan of the kind described in subsection 2.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, a person who, for the purpose of obtaining a loan secured by a lien on real property, knowingly conceals a material fact, or makes a false statement concerning a material fact knowing that the statement is false, is liable to any financial institution which relied upon the absence of that concealed fact or on that false statement for any damages it sustains because of the fraud.

3. In addition to its actual damages, a financial institution may recover exemplary or punitive damages in an amount not to exceed 50 percent of the actual damages awarded.

4. The cause of action provided by this section:

(a) Is not, for the purposes of NRS 40.430, an action for the recovery of any debt or an action for the enforcement of any right secured by mortgage or lien upon real estate.

(b) Is in addition to and not in substitution for any right of foreclosure existing in favor of the financial institution. Any recovery pursuant to this section does not limit the amount of a judgment awarded pursuant to NRS 40.459, but the financial institution is not entitled to recover actual damages more than once for the same loss.

5. The provisions of this section do not apply to any loan which is secured by a lien on real property used for residential purposes if:

(a) The residence is a single-family dwelling occupied by the person obtaining the loan, as represented by him in connection with his application for the loan; and

(b) The loan is for the principal amount of $150,000 or less.

Sec. 118. NRS 80.015 is hereby amended to read as follows:

80.015 1. For the purposes of this chapter, the following activities do not constitute doing business in this state:

(a) Maintaining, defending or settling any proceeding;

(b) Holding meetings of the board of directors or stockholders or carrying on other activities concerning internal corporate affairs;

(c) Maintaining bank accounts;

(d) Maintaining offices or agencies for the transfer, exchange and registration of the corporation's own securities or maintaining trustees or depositaries with respect to those securities;

(e) Making sales through independent contractors;

(f) Soliciting or receiving orders outside of this state through or in response to letters, circulars, catalogs or other forms of advertising, accepting those orders outside of this state and filling them by shipping goods into this state;

(g) Creating or acquiring indebtedness, mortgages and security interests in real or personal property;

(h) Securing or collecting debts or enforcing mortgages and security interests in property securing the debts;

(i) Owning, without more, real or personal property;

(j) Isolated transactions completed within 30 days and not a part of a series of similar transactions;

(k) The production of motion pictures as defined in NRS 231.020;

(l) Transacting business as an out-of-state depository institution pursuant to the provisions of Title 55 of NRS; and

(m) Transacting business in interstate commerce.

2. The list of activities in subsection 1 is not exhaustive.

3. A person who is not doing business in this state within the meaning of this section need not qualify or comply with any provision of NRS 80.010 to 80.270, inclusive, chapter 645A or 645B of NRS , sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act or Title 55 or 56 of NRS unless he:

(a) Maintains an office in this state for the transaction of business; or

(b) Solicits or accepts deposits in the state, except pursuant to the provisions of chapter 666 or 666A of NRS.

Sec. 119. NRS 90.530 is hereby amended to read as follows:

90.530 The following transactions are exempt from NRS 90.460 and 90.560:

1. An isolated nonissuer transaction, whether or not effected through a broker-dealer.

2. A nonissuer transaction in an outstanding security if the issuer of the security has a class of securities subject to registration under section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 , 15 U.S.C. § 78l, and has been subject to the reporting requirements of section 13 or ~~[15(d)]~~ 15(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 , 15 U.S.C. §§ 78m and 78o(d), for not less than 90 days next preceding the transaction, or has filed and maintained with the administrator for not less than 90 days preceding the transaction information, in such form as the administrator, by regulation, specifies, substantially comparable to the information the issuer would be required to file under section 12(b) or 12(g) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 , 15 U.S.C. §§ 78l(b) and 78l(g), were the issuer to have a class of its securities registered under section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 , 15 U.S.C. § 78l, and paid a fee with the filing of $150.

3. A nonissuer transaction by a sales representative licensed in this state, in an outstanding security if:

(a) The security is sold at a price reasonably related to the current market price of the security at the time of the transaction;

(b) The security does not constitute all or part of an unsold allotment to, or subscription or participation by, a broker-dealer as an underwriter of the security;

(c) At the time of the transaction, a recognized securities manual designated by the administrator by regulation or order contains the names of the issuer's officers and directors, a statement of the financial condition of the issuer as of a date within the preceding 18 months, and a statement of income or operations for each of the last 2 years next preceding the date of the statement of financial condition, or for the period as of the date of the statement of financial condition if the period of existence is less than 2 years;

(d) The issuer of the security has not undergone a major reorganization, merger or acquisition within the preceding 30 days which is not reflected in the information contained in the manual; and

(e) At the time of the transaction, the issuer of the security has a class of equity security listed on the New York Stock Exchange, American Stock Exchange or other exchange designated by the administrator, or on the National Market System of the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation System. The requirements of this paragraph do not apply if:

(1) The security has been outstanding for at least 180 days;

(2) The issuer of the security is actually engaged in business and is not developing his business, in bankruptcy or in receivership; and

(3) The issuer of the security has been in continuous operation for at least 5 years.

4. A nonissuer transaction in a security that has a fixed maturity or a fixed interest or dividend provision if there has been no default during the current fiscal year or within the 3 preceding years, or during the existence of the issuer, and any predecessors if less than 3 years, in the payment of principal, interest or dividends on the security.

5. A nonissuer transaction effected by or through a registered broker-dealer pursuant to an unsolicited order or offer to purchase.

6. A transaction between the issuer or other person on whose behalf the offering of a security is made and an underwriter, or a transaction among underwriters.

7. A transaction in a bond or other evidence of indebtedness secured by a real estate mortgage, deed of trust, personal property security agreement, or by an agreement for the sale of real estate or personal property, if the entire mortgage, deed of trust or agreement, together with all the bonds or other evidences of indebtedness secured thereby, is offered and sold as a unit.

8. A transaction by an executor, administrator, sheriff, marshal, receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, guardian or conservator.

9. A transaction executed by a bona fide secured party without the purpose of evading this chapter.

10. An offer to sell or sale of a security to a financial or institutional investor or to a broker-dealer.

11. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, a transaction pursuant to an offer to sell securities of an issuer if:

(a) The transaction is part of an issue in which there are ~~[no]~~ not more than 25 purchasers in this state, other than those designated in subsection 10, during any 12 consecutive months;

(b) No general solicitation or general advertising is used in connection with the offer to sell or sale of the securities;

(c) No commission or other similar compensation is paid or given, directly or indirectly, to a person, other than a broker-dealer licensed or not required to be licensed under this chapter, for soliciting a prospective purchaser in this state; and

(d) One of the following conditions is satisfied:

(1) The seller reasonably believes that all the purchasers in this state, other than those designated in subsection 10, are purchasing for investment; or

(2) Immediately before and immediately after the transaction, the issuer reasonably believes that the securities of the issuer are held by 50 or fewer beneficial owners, other than those designated in subsection 10, and the transaction is part of an aggregate offering that does not exceed $500,000 during any 12 consecutive months.

The administrator by rule or order as to a security or transaction or a type of security or transaction, may withdraw or further condition the exemption set forth in this subsection or waive one or more of the conditions of the exemption.

12. An offer to sell or sale of a preorganization certificate or subscription if:

(a) No commission or other similar compensation is paid or given, directly or indirectly, for soliciting a prospective subscriber;

(b) No public advertising or general solicitation is used in connection with the offer to sell or sale;

(c) The number of offers does not exceed 50;

(d) The number of subscribers does not exceed 10; and

(e) No payment is made by a subscriber.

13. An offer to sell or sale of a preorganization certificate or subscription issued in connection with the organization of a depository institution if that organization is under the supervision of an official or agency of a state or of the United States which has and exercises the authority to regulate and supervise the organization of the depository institution. For the purpose of this subsection, [~~"supervision of the organization by~~] "under the supervision of an official or agency" means that the official or agency by law has authority to require disclosures to prospective investors similar to those required under NRS 90.490, impound proceeds from the sale of a preorganization certificate or subscription until organization of the depository institution is completed, and require refund to investors if the depository institution does not obtain a grant of authority from the appropriate official or agency.

14. A transaction pursuant to an offer to sell to existing security holders of the issuer, including persons who at the time of the transaction are holders of transferable warrants exercisable within not more than 90 days after their issuance, convertible securities or nontransferable warrants, if:

(a) No commission or other similar compensation other than a standby commission, is paid or given, directly or indirectly, for soliciting a security holder in this state; or

(b) The issuer first files a notice specifying the terms of the offer to sell, together with a nonrefundable fee of $150, and the administrator does not by order disallow the exemption within the next 5 full business days.

15. A transaction involving an offer to sell, but not a sale, of a security not exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933 , 15 U.S.C. §§ 77a et seq., if:

(a) A registration or offering statement or similar document as required under the Securities Act of 1933 , 15 U.S.C. §§ 77a et seq., has been filed, but is not effective;

(b) A registration statement, if required, has been filed under this chapter, but is not effective; and

(c) No order denying, suspending or revoking the effectiveness of registration, of which the offeror is aware, has been entered by the administrator or the Securities and Exchange Commission, and no examination or public proceeding that may culminate in that kind of order is known by the offeror to be pending.

16. A transaction involving an offer to sell, but not a sale, of a security exempt from registration under the Securities Act of 1933 , 15 U.S.C. §§ 77a et seq., if:

(a) A registration statement has been filed under this chapter, but is not effective; and

(b) No order denying, suspending or revoking the effectiveness of registration, of which the offeror is aware, has been entered by the administrator and no examination or public proceeding that may culminate in that kind of order is known by the offeror to be pending.

17. A transaction involving the distribution of the securities of an issuer to the security holders of another person in connection with a merger, consolidation, exchange of securities, sale of assets or other reorganization to which the issuer, or its parent or subsidiary, and the other person, or its parent or subsidiary, are parties, if:

(a) The securities to be distributed are registered under the Securities Act of 1933 , 15 U.S.C. §§ 77a et seq., before the consummation of the transaction; or

(b) The securities to be distributed are not required to be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. §§ 77a et seq., written notice of the transaction and a copy of the materials, if any, by which approval of the transaction will be solicited, together with a nonrefundable fee of $150, are given to the administrator at least 10 days before the consummation of the transaction and the administrator does not, by order, disallow the exemption within the next 10 days.

18. A transaction involving the offer to sell or sale of one or more promissory notes each of which is directly secured by a first lien on a single parcel of real estate, or a transaction involving the offer to sell or sale of participation interests in the notes if the notes and participation interests are originated by a depository institution and are offered and sold subject to the following conditions:

(a) The minimum aggregate sales price paid by each purchaser may not be less than $250,000;

(b) Each purchaser must pay cash either at the time of the sale or within 60 days after the sale; and

(c) Each purchaser may buy for his own account only.

19. A transaction involving the offer to sell or sale of one or more promissory notes directly secured by a first lien on a single parcel of real estate or participating interests in the notes, if the notes and interests are originated by a mortgagee approved by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development under sections 203 and 211 of the National Housing Act , 12 U.S.C. §§ 1709 and 1715b, and are offered or sold, subject to the conditions specified in subsection 18, to a depository institution or insurance company, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, the Federal National Mortgage Association or the Government National Mortgage Association.

20. A transaction between any of the persons described in subsection 19 involving a nonassignable contract to buy or sell the securities described in subsection 18 if the contract is to be completed within 2 years and if:

(a) The seller of the securities pursuant to the contract is one of the parties described in subsection 18 or 19 who may originate securities;

(b) The purchaser of securities pursuant to a contract is any other person described in subsection 19; and

(c) The conditions described in subsection 18 are fulfilled.

21. A transaction involving one or more promissory notes secured by a lien on real estate, or participating interests in those notes, by ~~[a]~~ :

(a) A mortgage company licensed pursuant to sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act to engage in those transactions; or

(b) A mortgage broker licensed pursuant to chapter 645B of NRS to engage in those transactions.

Sec. 120. NRS 232.545 is hereby amended to read as follows:

232.545 1. An investigative account for financial institutions is hereby created in the state general fund. The account consists of money which is:

(a) Received by the department of business and industry in connection with the licensing of financial institutions and persons associated with those institutions; and

(b) Required by law to be placed therein.

2. The director of the department of business and industry or his designee may authorize expenditures from the investigative account to pay the expenses incurred ~~[in]~~ :

(a) In investigating applications for licensing of financial institutions and ~~[in]~~ persons associated with those institutions;

(b) In conducting special investigations relating to ~~[those institutions, and expenses incurred in]~~ financial institutions and persons associated with those institutions; and

(c) In connection with mergers, consolidations, conversions, receiverships and liquidations ~~[.]~~ of financial institutions.

3. As used in this section, "financial institution" means an institution for which licensing is required by the provisions of Titles 55 and 56 and chapters 645B and 649 of NRS ~~[.]~~ and sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 121. NRS 604.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

604.090 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, it is unlawful to operate a check-cashing or deferred deposit service without being registered with the commissioner.

2. The provisions of this chapter do not apply to:

(a) A person doing business pursuant to the authority of any law of this state or of the United States relating to banks, savings banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, credit unions, development corporations, mortgage brokers, mortgage companies, thrift companies, pawnbrokers or insurance companies.

(b) A person licensed to make installment loans pursuant to chapter 675 of NRS.

(c) A person who is primarily engaged in the retail sale of goods or services who:

(1) As an incident to or independently of a retail sale or service from time to time cashes checks for a fee or other consideration of not more than $2; and

(2) Does not hold himself out as a check-cashing service.

(d) A person while performing any act authorized by a license issued pursuant to chapter 671 of NRS.

(e) A person who holds a nonrestricted gaming license issued pursuant to chapter 463 of NRS while performing any act in the course of that licensed operation.

(f) A person who is exclusively engaged in a check-cashing service relating to out-of-state checks.

(g) A corporation organized pursuant to the laws of this state that has been continuously and exclusively engaged in a check-cashing service in this state since July 1, 1973.

Sec. 122. NRS 657.120 is hereby amended to read as follows:

657.120 1. A financial institution may impose and collect a fee or charge, not to exceed an amount specified in or limited by specific statute, for any service it provides to a customer, if the fee or charge is clearly and conspicuously disclosed in writing to the customer before the customer receives the service. A financial institution must provide a customer with written notice of any increase in the fee or charge at least 10 days before the increase becomes effective.

2. A fee or charge for the presentation for payment, on a single business day, of multiple checks drawn by a customer on an account for which there is an insufficient balance to pay all ~~[of]~~ the checks, must be determined as if the checks drawn in a single series or class were presented in order of ascending amounts, the check for the smallest sum being presented first.

3. As used in this section, "financial institution" means an institution licensed pursuant to the provisions of Title 55 or 56 or chapter 645B or 649 of NRS ~~[,]~~ or sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act, or a similar institution chartered or licensed pursuant to federal law.

Sec. 123. NRS 657.130 is hereby amended to read as follows:

657.130 1. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Committee to review compliance" means one or more persons assigned or engaged by a financial institution to test, review or evaluate its conduct, transactions or potential transactions, policies or procedures for the purpose of monitoring and improving or enforcing compliance with state and federal statutes and regulations requiring safe, sound and fair lending practices, including, without limitation, acts concerning equal credit opportunity, fair housing, fair lending, flood zone protection, housing and financial discrimination, truth in lending and financial reporting to federal or state regulatory agencies.

(b) "Financial institution" means an institution licensed pursuant to the provisions of this Title or Title 56 or chapter 645B of NRS ~~[,]~~ or sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act, or a similar institution chartered or licensed pursuant to federal law . ~~[and]~~ The term includes , without limitation, a holding company, affiliate or subsidiary of such an institution.

2. Except as otherwise voluntarily authorized by the financial institution:

(a) A document prepared for or created by a committee to review compliance is confidential and privileged, and is not subject to discovery or admissible in evidence in a civil action of this state, even if it has been submitted to a governmental or regulatory agency of this state, the United States or a foreign government.

(b) A member of a committee to review compliance or a person who acted under the direction of the committee cannot be required to testify in a civil action concerning the contents of a document described in paragraph (a) or concerning the discussions or conclusions of, or the actions taken by, the committee.

Sec. 124. NRS 675.040 is hereby amended to read as follows:

675.040 This chapter does not apply to:

1. A person doing business under the authority of any law of this state or of the United States relating to banks, savings banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, credit unions, development corporations, mortgage brokers, mortgage companies, thrift companies, pawnbrokers or insurance companies.

2. A real estate investment trust, as defined in 26 U.S.C. § 856.

3. An employee benefit plan, as defined in 29 U.S.C. § 1002(3), if the loan is made directly from money in the plan by the plan's trustee.

4. An attorney at law rendering services in the performance of his duties as an attorney at law if the loan is secured by real property.

5. A real estate broker rendering services in the performance of his duties as a real estate broker if the loan is secured by real property.

6. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, any firm or corporation:

(a) Whose principal purpose or activity is lending money on real property which is secured by a mortgage;

(b) Approved by the Federal National Mortgage Association as a seller or servicer; and

(c) Approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the Department of Veterans Affairs.

7. A person who provides money for investment in loans secured by a lien on real property, on his own account.

8. A seller of real property who offers credit secured by a mortgage of the property sold.

9. A person holding a nonrestricted state gaming license issued pursuant to the provisions of chapter 463 of NRS.

Sec. 125. NRS 675.230 is hereby amended to read as follows:

675.230 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, ~~[no]~~ a licensee may not conduct the business of making loans under this chapter within any office, suite, room or place of business in which any other business is solicited or engaged in, except an insurance agency or notary public, or in association or conjunction with any other business, unless authority to do so is given by the commissioner.

2. A licensee may conduct the business of making loans pursuant to this chapter in the same office or place of business as a mortgage company if:

(a) The licensee and the mortgage company:

(1) Operate as separate legal entities;

(2) Maintain separate accounts, books and records;

(3) Are subsidiaries of the same parent corporation; and

(4) Maintain separate licenses; and

(b) The mortgage company ~~[is]~~ :

(1) Is licensed by this state pursuant to sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act; and ~~[does not receive money to acquire or repay loans or maintain trust accounts as provided by NRS 645B.175.]~~

(2) Does not conduct any business as a mortgage broker licensed pursuant to chapter 645B of NRS in the office or place of business.

Sec. 126. Chapter 692A of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 127 to 130, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 127. 1. In addition to all other requirements set forth in this Title and except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 and section 128 of this act, a title agent or title insurer shall deposit with the commissioner a corporate surety bond payable to the State of Nevada, in the amount of $250,000, which is executed by a corporate surety satisfactory to the commissioner and which names as principals the title agency or title insurer and all escrow officers employed by or associated with the title agent or title insurer.

2. The bond must be in substantially the following form:

Know All Men by These Presents, that ....., as principal, and ....., as surety, are held and firmly bound unto the State of Nevada for the use and benefit of any person who suffers damages because of a violation of any of the provisions of chapter 692A of NRS, in the sum of ....., lawful money of the United States, to be paid to the State of Nevada for such use and benefit, for which payment well and truly to be made, and that we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

The condition of that obligation is such that: Whereas, the commissioner of insurance of the department of business and industry of the State of Nevada has issued the principal a license or certificate of authority as a title agent or title insurer, and the principal is required to furnish a bond, in the amount of $250,000, which is conditioned as set forth in this bond:

Now, therefore, if the principal, his agents and employees, strictly, honestly and faithfully comply with the provisions of chapter 692A of NRS, and pay all damages suffered by any person because of a violation of any of the provisions of chapter 692A of NRS, or by reason of any fraud, dishonesty, misrepresentation or concealment of material facts growing out of any transaction governed by the provisions of chapter 692A of NRS, then this obligation is void; otherwise it remains in full force.

This bond becomes effective on the .....(day) of .....(month) of...(year), and remains in force until the surety is released from liability by the commissioner of insurance or until this bond is canceled by the surety. The surety may cancel this bond and be relieved of further liability hereunder by giving 60 days' written notice to the principal and to the commissioner of insurance of the department of business and industry of the State of Nevada.

In Witness Whereof, the seal and signature of the principal hereto is affixed, and the corporate seal and the name of the surety hereto is affixed and attested by its authorized officers at ....., Nevada, this .....(day) of .....(month) of ...(year).

3. A title agent or title insurer may offset or reduce the amount of the surety bond that the title agent or title insurer is required to deposit with the commissioner pursuant to this section by the amount of any of the following:

(a) Cash or securities deposited with the commissioner pursuant to NRS 680A.140.

(b) Reserves against unpaid losses and loss expenses maintained pursuant to NRS 692A.150 or 692A.170.

(c) Unearned premium reserves maintained pursuant to NRS 692A.160 or 692A.170.

(d) Fidelity bonds maintained by the title agent or title insurer.

(e) Policies of insurance maintained by the title agent or title insurer covering liability for errors or omissions.

(f) Other bonds or policies of insurance maintained by the title agent or title insurer covering liability for economic losses to customers caused by the title agent or title insurer.

Sec. 128. 1. As a substitute for the surety bond required by section 127 of this act, a title agent or title insurer may, in accordance with the provisions of this section, deposit with any bank or trust company authorized to do business in this state, in a form approved by the commissioner:

(a) An obligation of a bank, savings and loan association, thrift company or credit union licensed to do business in this state;

(b) Bills, bonds, notes, debentures or other obligations of the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or guaranteed by the United States; or

(c) Any obligation of this state or any city, county, town, township, school district or other instrumentality of this state, or guaranteed by this state.

2. The obligations of a bank, savings and loan association, thrift company or credit union must be held to secure the same obligation as would the surety bond. With the approval of the commissioner, the depositor may substitute other suitable obligations for those deposited which must be assigned to the State of Nevada and are negotiable only upon approval by the commissioner.

3. Any interest or dividends earned on the deposit accrue to the account of the depositor.

4. The deposit must be in an amount at least equal to the required surety bond and must state that the amount may not be withdrawn except by direct and sole order of the commissioner. The value of any item deposited pursuant to this section must be based upon principal amount or market value, whichever is lower.

Sec. 129. 1. The surety may cancel a bond upon giving 60 days' notice to the commissioner by certified mail. Upon receipt by the commissioner of such a notice, the commissioner immediately shall notify the title agent or title insurer who is the principal on the bond of the effective date of cancellation of the bond, and that his license or certificate of authority will be revoked unless he furnishes an equivalent bond or a substitute form of security authorized by section 128 of this act before the effective date of the cancellation. The notice must be sent to the title agent or title insurer by certified mail to his last address of record filed in the office of the division.

2. If the title agent or title insurer does not comply with the requirements set out in the notice from the commissioner, his license or certificate of authority must be revoked on the date the bond is canceled.

Sec. 130. 1. Any person claiming against a bond may bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction on the bond for damages to the extent covered by the bond. A person who brings an action on a bond shall notify the commissioner in writing upon filing the action. An action may not be commenced after the expiration of 3 years following the commission of the act on which the action is based.

2. Upon receiving a request from a person for whose benefit a bond is required, the commissioner shall notify him:

(a) That a bond is in effect and the amount of the bond; and

(b) If there is an action against the bond, the title, court and case number of the action and the amount sought by the plaintiff.

3. If a surety wishes to make payment without awaiting action by a court, the amount of the bond must be reduced to the extent of any payment made by the surety in good faith under the bond. Any payment must be based on written claims received by the surety before any action is taken by a court.

4. The surety may bring an action for interpleader against all claimants upon the bond. If it does so, it shall publish notice of the action at least once each week for 2 weeks in every issue of a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the title agent or title insurer has its principal place of business. The surety may deduct its costs of the action, including attorney's fees and publication, from its liability under the bond.

5. Claims against a bond have equal priority, and if the bond is insufficient to pay all claims in full, they must be paid on a pro rata basis. Partial payment of claims is not full payment, and any claimant may bring an action against the title agent or title insurer for the unpaid balance.

Sec. 131. NRS 645B.130 and 645B.140 are hereby repealed.

Sec. 132. The amendatory provisions of sections 28 and 74 of this act do not apply to a written contract or agreement that is executed before October 1, 1999, if the contract or agreement includes a provision that expressly establishes a specific time before which a payment must be delivered to the mortgage company or mortgage broker on the day that it is due to avoid being charged a late fee, an additional amount of interest or any other penalty.

Sec. 133. The amendatory provisions of this act do not apply to offenses that were committed before October 1, 1999.

Sec. 134. 1. If, on October 1, 1999, a person:

(a) Holds a valid license that was issued by the commissioner of financial institutions pursuant to chapter 645B of NRS before October 1, 1999; and

(b) Meets the definition of a "mortgage company," as set forth in the amendatory provisions of section 8 of this act, the person shall be deemed to be licensed as a mortgage company pursuant to the amendatory provisions of sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act and the person's license as a mortgage company expires on December 31, 1999, unless it is renewed in accordance with the amendatory provisions of section 14 of this act.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1 and the amendatory provisions of section 14 of this act, for each person described in subsection 1, the commissioner shall reduce the fee that the person is required to pay to renew his license as a mortgage company on or before December 31, 1999, by an amount equal to one-half the fee that the person paid to renew his license as a mortgage company on or before June 30, 1999.

3. The provisions of this section do not prohibit a person described in subsection 1 from applying for a license as a mortgage broker on or after October 1, 1999, in accordance with the amendatory provisions of sections 46 to 116, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 135. 1. If, on October 1, 1999, a person:

(a) Holds a valid license that was issued by the commissioner of financial institutions pursuant to chapter 645B of NRS before October 1, 1999; and

(b) Meets the definition of a "mortgage broker," as set forth in the amendatory provisions of section 57 of this act, the person shall be deemed to be licensed as a mortgage broker pursuant to the amendatory provisions of sections 46 to 116, inclusive, of this act and the person's license as a mortgage broker expires on June 30, 2000, unless it is renewed in accordance with the amendatory provisions of section 89 of this act.

2. The provisions of this section do not prohibit a person described in subsection 1 from applying for a license as a mortgage company on or after October 1, 1999, in accordance with the amendatory provisions of sections 2 to 39, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 136. A person who, on or after October 1, 1999, offers or provides any of the services of a mortgage agent or otherwise engages in, carries on or holds himself out as engaging in or carrying on the business of a mortgage agent:

1. Is not required to be licensed before July 1, 2000, notwithstanding the amendatory provisions of section 113 of this act; and

2. Is subject to all other amendatory provisions of sections 46 to 116, inclusive, of this act, whether or not he is licensed before July 1, 2000.

Sec. 137. 1. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval for the purpose of adopting any regulations necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and on October 1, 1999, for all other purposes.

2. Sections 15 and 33 of this act expire by limitation on the date on which the provisions of 42 U.S.C. § 666 requiring each state to establish procedures under which the state has authority to withhold or suspend, or to restrict the use of professional, occupational and recreational licenses of persons who:

(a) Have failed to comply with a subpoena or warrant relating to a procedure to determine the paternity of a child or to establish or enforce an obligation for the support of a child; or

(b) Are in arrears in the payment for the support of one or more children, are repealed by the Congress of the United States.

TEXT OF REPEALED SECTIONS

645B.130 Procedure for appeal of final orders.

1. An appeal may be taken by any person interested from any final decision of the commissioner to the district court in the county in which the party adversely affected by the decision resides or has his place of business by serving upon the commissioner within 10 days after notice of the entry of the order a written notice of the appeal, stating the grounds upon which a reversal of the final order is sought and accompanied by a demand in writing for a certified transcript of the record and of all papers on file in the office of the commissioner affecting or relating to the decision, and all the evidence taken on the hearing, and paying not more than 25 cents for each folio of the transcript and $1 for the certification thereof. The commissioner shall within 30 days make and certify the transcript.

2. The appellant shall, within 5 days after receiving the transcript, file with the clerk of the court:

(a) The transcript and the notice of appeal; and

(b) A petition for review of the commissioner's decision, setting forth in specific detail the grounds for the appeal, including any errors which the appellant contends were made by the commissioner at the administrative hearing.

3. An appeal from an order of the commissioner must be treated as a proceeding in equity. In the proceeding before the court, the appellant has the burden of proof.

4. Any order of the commissioner which finally limits or adversely determines the rights of any interested person is a final administrative decision as to that person.

645B.140 Procedures following decision on appeal.

1. If the order of the commissioner is reversed, the court shall by its mandate specifically direct the commissioner as to his further action in the matter including the making and entering of any order in connection therewith and the conditions, limitations or restrictions to be therein contained; but the commissioner is not thereby barred from thereafter revoking or altering the order for any proper cause which may thereafter accrue or be discovered.

2. If the order is affirmed, the appellant is not barred after 30 days from filing a new application if the application is not otherwise barred or limited.

3. The appeal does not suspend the operation of the order appealed from during the pendency of the appeal except upon proper order of the court.

4. An appeal may be taken from the judgment of the district court on the same terms and conditions as an appeal is taken in civil actions.".

THE SIXTY-FIFTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), April 6, 1999

Assembly called to order at 1:12 p.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Mortenson, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Minister Tom Rahme.

Dear Heavenly Father, last weekend most of us celebrated the resurrection of Your Son and through that resurrection were reminded of a renewed hope—a hope of life; a hope of renewed freedom; and a hope for peace. Lord, I pray today that Your presence would be with the leaders of our great nation and also with this Assembly as they prepare to represent its citizens. Lord, we ask that You would be with them and that You would guide them and that their decisions would be acceptable in Your sight. We pray this in Your Son's Most Precious Name. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

SPECIAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

The hour of 1:15 p.m. having arrived, vetoed Assembly Bill No. 105 of the 70th Session was considered.

Vetoed Assembly Bill No. 105 of the 70th Session.

Governor's message stating his objections was read.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

CARSON CITY, NEVADA , March 30, 1999

THE HONORABLE JOSEPH E. DINI, JR., SPEAKER OF THE ASSEMBLY, Nevada Legislature, Legislative Building, Carson City, Nevada 89701

DEAR SPEAKER DINI:

Attached herewith is Assembly Bill 105 of the 1999 legislative session, which I am returning to you within the five-day limit without my signature and without approval. I am vetoing the bill because it violates an earlier pledge I made to Nevada voters.

On January 18, 1999 during the State of the State, I promised the people of Nevada that this state, under my administration, would live within its means and that I would present a balanced budget that includes no new taxes. Assembly Bill 105 authorizes the Real Estate Division to impose two fees, each in the amount of $50, for accreditation of certain courses of real estate education. There is also a separate fee authorized for examinations of sales agents. These fees go to the general fund for support of state government. Although the amount of these fees may seem inconsequential, I believe it violates my pledge to the people of Nevada. Because this bill was introduced by an executive branch agency, I bear responsibility for its content, making it even more critical that this bill not become law.

To reiterate my position, I will not approve new taxes that inure to the benefit of the general fund or support the general government to the state. It is the sense of responsibility I feel to the people of Nevada to respect my pledge that leaves me no choice but to veto this bill.

Sincerely,
Kenny C. Guinn
Governor

Bill read.

The question was put: "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Remarks by Assemblywoman Buckley.

The roll was called, and the Assembly sustained the veto of the Governor by the following vote:

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Gustavson, Angle, Anderson, Humke, Brower, Leslie, Freeman, Gibbons, Evans, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Hettrick, Koivisto, Lee, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Price, Segerblom, Thomas, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams; Senators Townsend, Washington, Jacobsen, Raggio, Mathews, Amodei, Care, Carlton, Coffin, James, McGinness, Neal, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Porter, Rawson, Rhoads, Schneider, Shaffer, Titus and Wiener:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 44—Commending Sheriff Richard Kirkland and the employees of the Washoe County Consolidated Jail for the innovative management philosophy applied at the Washoe County Consolidated Jail.

WHEREAS, In January 1995, Richard Kirkland was sworn into office as the new Sheriff of Washoe County and thereupon assumed the responsibility for the operation of the Washoe County Consolidated Jail; and

WHEREAS, At the time Sheriff Kirkland began his term of office, the management and operation of the Washoe County Consolidated Jail reflected a nationwide management philosophy that adopted a soft approach to the treatment of criminal offenders based on appeasing inmates with high levels of benefits; and

WHEREAS, Sheriff Kirkland envisioned a radical departure from the flawed national philosophy and quickly undertook to overhaul the system of managing the inmates of the Jail; and

WHEREAS, Sheriff Kirkland's bold new philosophy was premised on the belief that inmates should be held accountable for their actions, experience meaningful punishment and repay their debts to society; and

WHEREAS, Sheriff Kirkland enlisted the support of the employees of the Jail by outlining the basic approach of the innovative plan and allowing the employees to help establish the details and methods for carrying out the plan; and

WHEREAS, The result of these consolidated efforts on the part of Sheriff Kirkland and the employees of the Jail was an Inmate Management Plan, the basic premise of which is that inmates should be treated humanely and fairly while being held accountable for their actions; and

WHEREAS, As part of the Inmate Management Plan, an inmate enters the system with the lowest level of benefits and rights that is constitutionally permissible such as two visitors per month, no television time, limits on time spent outside of the cell per day and consumption of meals in the cell; and

WHEREAS, The inmate is soon given the option to participate in the Plan by voluntarily agreeing to adhere strictly to all rules and regulations of the Jail and to work on various community service projects, such as cleaning roads, painting schools and maintaining the Jail facility; and

WHEREAS, Those inmates who volunteer to participate in the Plan earn such additional privileges as two visitors per week, selected time to watch television, increased out-of-cell time, consumption of meals in the group's dayroom with other inmates, access to counseling and other self-improvement programs; and
