Ellen Crecelius is the Deputy Director of Fiscal for the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS). She is responsible for the Department’s fiscal services and information technology. Ellen leads the Fiscal Administrative Services Team and provides oversight of DHHS’s five divisions and the Public Defender’s Office on budget development; budget management; contracting; and other fiscal issues. She also supervises the analysis, fiscal, research units in the Director’s office. Ellen was formerly the Management Analyst and Econometrician in the Director’s office Research and Analysis units. Prior to joining DHHS, she conducted economic and policy analysis for the State of Oregon as a Tax Economist at the Oregon Department of Revenue and Senior Economist at the Oregon Department of Transportation. Ellen holds a Ph.D. in economics from the University of Connecticut with a concentration in health economics and public finance. She also holds a bachelor’s degree from the University of California, Davis with majors in economics and Russian.

Steve Fisher is the Administrator for the Nevada Division of Welfare and Supportive Services for DHHS. He is the lead for the 2015 Supported State Based Marketplace Affordable Care Act open enrollment project. Steve also oversees the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families Program (TANF); Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP); Child Support Enforcement Program; Child Care Assistance Program; Employment and Training Programs for TANF and SNAP recipients; Energy Assistance Program; and eligibility for Nevada’s Medicaid Program. He has a strong program and health care knowledge and received a bachelor degree from the University of Nevada, Reno.

Bruce Gilbert is the Executive Director of the Silver State Health Insurance Exchange, appointed in August 2014. Prior to his appointment, he practiced law and managed regional operations, at an executive level, for a Fortune 100 healthcare company. Bruce has senior executive and former litigation experience in legal; business; and insurance environments. He also served as Benefits Administrator for the State of Ohio, managing the operations of the State’s five self-funded health plans. Bruce is a graduate of Dickinson College and the Duquesne University School of Law.
Romaine Gilliland serves as the Director of DHHS. He is responsible for the oversight of the largest department in State government, with approximately 5,400 employees and an annual operating budget of over $7.4 billion (nearly one third of the entire state budget). Prior to his appointment as Director, Romaine served as an officer on the Public Employees Retirement Board, and as Director for the Nevada Public Health Foundation. He retired from state service in 2012 as the Administrator of the Division of Welfare and Supportive Services. Prior to that, he served as Chief Financial Officer for the Nevada Department of Employment, Training, and Rehabilitation. He has held a variety of senior management positions in private sector multi-national manufacturing companies and operated a public accounting firm. Romaine received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Nevada, Reno and is a licensed Certified Public Accountant (CPA).

Jane Gruner is the Administrator of the Aging and Disability Services Division of DHHS. She oversees programs and services that provide leadership and advocacy in the planning, development and delivery of a high quality, comprehensive support service system. Jane’s division helps all of Nevada’s elders, adults and children with disabilities or special health care needs live independent, meaningful, and dignified lives in the most integrated setting appropriate to their needs. Prior to her appointment as Administrator, she served as Deputy Director of Programs for DHHS and former Deputy Administrator for DHHS’s Mental Health and Developmental Services Division, where she worked to integrate programs serving individuals with intellectual disabilities and related conditions. She has served Nevadan’s through DHHS since 1978. Jane is a licensed Marriage and Family Therapist and has a master’s degree in counseling and personnel services from the University of Nevada, Reno. She holds a bachelor degree in special education from the University of Wisconsin.

Amber Howell has been the Administrator of the Division of Child and Family Services (DCFS) for DHHS since 2012. She is responsible for child protective and welfare service delivery in rural Nevada and oversight of urban county-operated child protective and welfare services, children’s mental/behavioral health treatment and residential services in urban Nevada; and statewide juvenile justice services including state-operated youth training centers and youth parole. Previously, she was the Deputy Administrator over Child Welfare programs. Amber has worked as a substance abuse counselor and a drug court coordinator. She has actively worked in various mental health programs and case management. Amber is a member of the National Association of Child Welfare, Task Force on the Prevention of Sexual Abuse of Children, Nevada Children’s Behavioral Health Consortium, and the Commission on Statewide Juvenile Justice Reform. She is a native Nevadan and a graduate of the University of Nevada, Reno, with a degree in psychology.
Karin Kreizenbeck is the Nevada State Public Defender appointed by Governor Brian Sandoval in 2013. She is responsible for providing indigent criminal defense for various rural counties throughout the State of Nevada. Prior to her appointment, she served as the Deputy State Public Defender in Carson City in 1998 and promoted to Chief Deputy. Karin has dedicated her career to ensuring that all citizens of Nevada have equal access to justice, regardless of economic status. She is a member of the Nevada Supreme Court Indigent Defense Commission and serves on its rural subcommittee. She is a member of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers and the National Association of Drug Court Professionals. Karin received a bachelor of art degree in economics from the University of California, San Diego with a minor in Spanish and law and society. She received her Juris Doctor from Santa Clara University School of Law.

Kareen Masters serves as the Deputy Director of Administration for DHHS. She provides oversight and coordination of human resources and legislative liaison activities across the divisions of DHHS and supervises the public information unit in the Director’s Office. Prior to her appointment as the Deputy Director, she was the human resources manager for DHHS and worked for the State Personnel Department in the areas of classification, compensation, and policy development. Prior to joining the State, she served as a human resources manager in the banking industry. Kareen received her bachelor of science degree from the University of Nevada, Reno.

Dena Schmidt serves as the Deputy Director of Programs for DHHS. She manages the Director’s Office to include the grants management unit, IDEA part C office, tribal liaison office, office of consumer health assistance, office of minority health, and 211. In addition, she serves as a liaison for the Governor’s Council on Developmental Disabilities. Previously she served as the Medicaid specialist for the Division of Welfare and Supportive Services and before that was the Chief of Supportive Services for the Aging and Disability Services Division. Dena has extensive experience in research, policy development, and system design relating to public assistance programs in addition to 12 years’ experience with the Nevada Medicaid Program. She holds a bachelor degree from the University of Nevada, Reno.

Laurie Squartsoff is the Administrator of the Division of Health Care Financing and Policy for DHHS. She oversees the Nevada Medicaid program. Laurie started her healthcare career as a pharmacist working in retail pharmacy in a state hospital before transitioning to Nevada Medicaid. With her training as a healthcare professional and work experience, Laurie brings a focus on developing collaborative efforts to improve the health of Nevadans. In addition, she has served as an account executive for Eli Lilly and Company and as a consultant with Professional Provider Services. She balances her time with service on community and professional committees including the City of Sparks Charter Committee and the Committee for the Nevada Board of Pharmacy.
Richard Whitley has served as the Administrator of the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of DHHS. He oversees a public and private network of programs involving mental health, substance abuse, and developmental disabilities, as well as, operating the Rawson-Neal and Dini-Townsend psychiatric hospitals, and the Lake’s Crossing Center forensic facility. Richard is responsible for promoting and protecting the health of all Nevadans and visitors to the state through proactive leadership in public health initiatives, coupled with enforcement of the public health laws and regulations. He began state service as the senior psychologist for the Women’s Correctional Facility in 1986. Richard holds a bachelor degree from Willamette University, Oregon and a master of science degree in counseling psychology from Western Oregon University.

Marsheilah D. Lyons is a Supervising Principal Research Analyst and has been with the Research Division of the Legislative Counsel Bureau (LCB) since 2000. Prior to working at the LCB, she worked in social service organizations and local and state government. Marsheilah earned her master of arts degree in Christian education from the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary with an emphasis in social work and her bachelor degree in occupational education with a minor in criminal justice from Wayland Baptist University. She most recently provided staff support to the Senate Committee on Health and Human Services and the Legislative Committee on Health Care.

Megan Comlossy is a Senior Research Analyst with the Research Division of the LCB. Prior to joining the LCB, Megan worked a policy specialist at the National Conference of State Legislatures, where she specialized in health policy. Megan holds a bachelor degree in international studies-political science from the University of California, San Diego, and a master degree in public policy from the University of Denver.