Senate called to order at 11:11 a.m.
President Krolicki presiding.
Roll called.
All present.

Let us pray. Almighty God, Benevolent Creator, in Your loving plan, You created the world and all in it. With your care, You protect and guide all life in its journey through history and to its fullness. We graciously pray that those who have the responsibility in governing and protecting with just and prudent laws, foster a sense of well-being among the people in Nevada.

May this Body legislate with sensitivity for the welfare and true needs of our people. Always influenced by a keen thirst for justice and rightness, may they appreciate the dignity and uniqueness of every person. May they have confidence in what is good and fitting, an eagerness and ability to work together in harmony even through honest disagreement. Strengthened by their collaboration and bonded by their camaraderie, may they support one another in the arduous and challenging moments of decision.

Through Your gift of love, may they gain personal peace in their lives and joy in their tasks.
We ask this in His Name.

AMEN.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

SENATOR SMITH:
Thank you, Mr. President. During each Nevada Legislative Session since 1991, hundreds of individuals from the state have gathered in Carson City for two days of training, networking, lobbying, discussion and inspiration. Participants learn the ins and outs of being grassroots lobbyists so they can successfully raise their voices on behalf of Nevada’s women and children. Sponsored by the Nevada Women’s Lobby in conjunction with their partners, each Grassroots Lobby Day includes the opportunity to unite with like-minded people, gain in-depth insights on timely issues and meet with Legislators. This year there are nearly 100 participants from across the State. I had the privilege of speaking with them yesterday while they were working at The Plaza in Carson City. Some traveled all night by bus to be here today and talk with their representatives. We appreciate their efforts.
