

Good afternoon,

I do not believe as law abiding citizens that have followed the letter of the law to obtain a CCW , that we should have to notify any employer that we are carrying. If the employer does not want us to carry they can post signs as demanded by the law or put it in the employee handbook.

Please don't tread on the rights of the people that have done the right thing.

Sincerely ,
Randy O'Donnell