Re: LCB File No. R093-20 - Clean Cars Nevada

Chair Yeager and Members of the Legislative Commission:

The Nevada Clean Cars \(NCC\) coalition appreciates this opportunity to provide comments in support of Adopted Regulation R093-20, or Clean Cars Nevada, which was passed unanimously by the State Environmental Commission and is now headed to the Legislative Commission for final approval. Our coalition consists of more than 80 diverse organizations including businesses, conservation groups, science and public health advocates, labor unions, local governments, and consumer advocates who came together last year in support of clean car standards and the benefits they bring to Nevada. Our partners have actively participated throughout the stakeholder engagement process for this regulation.

Members of the NCC coalition engaged collaboratively with a diverse group of stakeholders including the automobile industry to reach consensus on the regulation before you today, which will result in more electric vehicles delivered to Nevada. In fact, the proposed regulation received unanimous support from stakeholders at both NDEP's public workshop as well as the State Environmental Commission, and should serve as an example for other states to follow.

As one of the recommendations in Nevada's State Climate Strategy, the Clean Cars Nevada initiative is critical for reducing greenhouse gas emissions from the transportation sector - Nevada's number one source of these pollutants. It is also critical for reducing ground level ozone and other air pollution that has been linked to a range of respiratory and other health issues. And clean car standards are proven to increase electric vehicle choices for consumers on dealer lots, expanding access to the fuel and maintenance cost savings these vehicles provide.

This initiative is also supported by everyday Nevadans. We have collected, and are providing as an attachment to this letter, more than 1,000 signatures in support of the Clean Cars Nevada Initiative. We strongly urge you to approve the regulation.

Sincerely,

Members of the NCC Coalition

We know transportation is the #1 source of air pollution in Nevada, & it's endangering our human health. This is why we demand to have cleaner cars, because sadly, most of those aren't being sold to dealerships in Nevada & the the big automakers like Ford & GM are planning to introduce electric models within the next few years, which should be good for our environment. This is why we need to take action & that Nevada join the 17 other states that need to adapt those clean air standards that should reduce CO2 emission for future generations.

			If we're going to have a livable future for us and our children, we're going to have to make a rapid and complete switch to green energy sources, and our transportation will have to be part of this. Everything we can do to reduce pollution and carbon emissions from our transportation infrastructure will aid in this. Please improve Nevada's transportation
Nick	Christenson	89135	emissions standards.

I have driven a plug-in electric vehicle or pure electric vehicle since 2014. It was so easy to drive an EV in California, where I moved from in early 2020. It is harder here because of an immature charging infrastructure. I know of dozens of people who have switched to electric vehicles; I don't know of one who would ever go back to gasoline-powered cars. EVs are clean, quiet, and nearly maintenance free. They will dramatically help our air quality and help with the average fuel efficiency across the state. Please support clean air standards and a charging infrastructure for electric vehicles.

Our planet is dying! We need to take action immediately.

Growing up, I had childhood asthma. I remember being on the soccer field, not being able to breath. What a scary feeling. I've tried to make choices that reduce those risk for kids today, taking mass transit when I could before I moved to Nevada. Since moving to Washoe Valley, I've driven a hybrid to reduce my impact on air quality. Let's keep moving in this direction for everyone's health and the overall quality of life.

My house in Reno is located where a black line of smog used to lay on the hills back in the bad old days of the 1970s - before the Lake Tahoe bi-state agreements. We need to keep up that work, clean up the air, clean up the water, and do whatever we can to bring back winters and the snow pack. Clean vehicle standards would go a long way to helping.

			I bought a used 2019 Toyota Avalon hybrid to help reduce emissions & to update to the latest safety standards. I was shocked when the DMV charged me $650 to renew my license. Does this HUGE charge really amount to an incentive? Huge disparity between incentive & punishment. I voted for you thinking you would be more progressive than this. Thanks.

Kathleen Sweeney 89511 Thank you for leading our state through the pandemic by listening to science and doing the right thing. I know you will continue to believe the climate scientists and do everything you can to move our state to lead the way with pro-climate actions including the one.

Grace	Caldwell	89423	Having owned a first generation Prius purchased back in 2001, I feel that the technology for clean cars is already here and that now is the time to enact much tighter emissions standards throughout the state. Fyi, my Prius made it to 266,000 miles and the battery was still fine.
Derek	Gendvil	89117	Look, we know that we're under pressure now that we're in a new Presidential Administration, but the consequences of the Trump Administration had a devastating impact to our environment. That's why we need to pressure the Nevada Legislature to sign California's clean car standards that will likely reduce the amount of emissions that we're breathing in our air. Nevada is one of the worst states for bad quality, but we need Gov. Sisolak that does the right thing to sign these standards into law.

Anita	Sutton	89503	Nevada received a rating of 'F' for air quality in 2020 and we were experiencing a pandemic then and most businesses were shut down. Needless to say, there was only about 10% in traffic and we still got an 'F'. Let's move forward at a more rapid rate to correct this rating. Think of the children. Also, I had the privilege of working with California Energy Commission in 1980 to address emissions. I know it works.

			Clean air transportation is not simply a nice thought, it?s science proven, and healthier for all.
			I have two, 3 year old granddaughters living in Las Vegas. I want them to be able to breathe when going outside. I see all the pollution hanging over the valley when I make the trip into Vegas to see them. As I get through the pass in the Spring Mountains and first see the Vegas Valley it looks like a greenish black layer covering the whole area. I remember as a kid visiting California and having to deal with smog every morning, til about noon when the sun would finally peek through, on recent visits, their air is pretty clear all the time. I definitely believe their efforts to cut emissions has made a Hugh difference.
