

These mandatory experimental injections (as this is not yet a vaccine) for COVID-19 is unconstitutional. People should have the choice if they want to partake in an experimental drug. I have known people who chose to take an experimental drug or injection and that was their choice , God bless them. However, to force someone to inject a solution into their body in which they do not feel comfortable with is abuse it is - criminal. At this point in time there are therapeutics that are available but not being allowed to be used this also is criminal. there is nothing wrong with natural immunity in fact it is a highly better for one's body.

Hey have we forgotten about what they did at Tuskegee? That was criminal by our government. Also we still don't know the effects that agent orange has on our Vietnam veterans and their offspring that is still being uncovered. So that being said we really don't know at this point in time what are going to be the effects on these people who are forced to take the injection and especially the young people younger people. Like agent orange it could be up to 30 4050 years before we find out what we have done by forcing this if someone chooses to partake in the experiment that is their choice but pushing this on people who do not choose to Beyond any comprehension.

Viruses always mutate it's a known fact whether they are natural viruses or man-made, they mutate. Is this going to be an injection a week a day - what are we doing to our immune systems??? The only people benefiting from these injections are pharmaceutical companies and those who have invested in them. This is a total crime against humanity!

This insanity and criminal abuse needs to end!

Respectfully,

Janet Butcher

These mandatory experimental injections (as this is not yet a true vaccine) for COVID-19 is unconstitutional. People should have the choice if they want to partake in an experimental drug. I have known people who chose to take an experimental drug or injection and that was their choice God bless them. However, to force someone to inject a solution into their body in which they do not feel comfortable with is abuse and it is criminal. At this point in time there are therapeutics that are available but not being allowed to be used this also is criminal. there is nothing wrong with natural immunity in fact it is a highly better for one's body.

Have we forgotten about what they did at Tuskegee? That was criminal by our government. Also we still don't know the effects that agent orange has on our Vietnam veterans and their offspring – those effects are still being uncovered. So that being said we really don't know at this point in time what are going to be the effects on these people who are forced to take the injection and especially the young people younger people. Like agent orange it could be up to 30, 40 or 50 years before we find out what we have done by forcing this. If someone chooses to partake in the experiment that is their choice but pushing this on people who do not choose to is Beyond any humane comprehension.

Viruses always mutate it's a known fact whether they are natural viruses or man-made, they mutate. Is this going to be an injection a week or a day - what are we doing to our immune systems??? The only people benefiting from these injections are pharmaceutical companies and those who have invested in them. This is a total crime against humanity!

This insanity and criminal abuse needs to end!

Respectfully,

Janet Butcher