Carson City Taxable Sales: Monthly

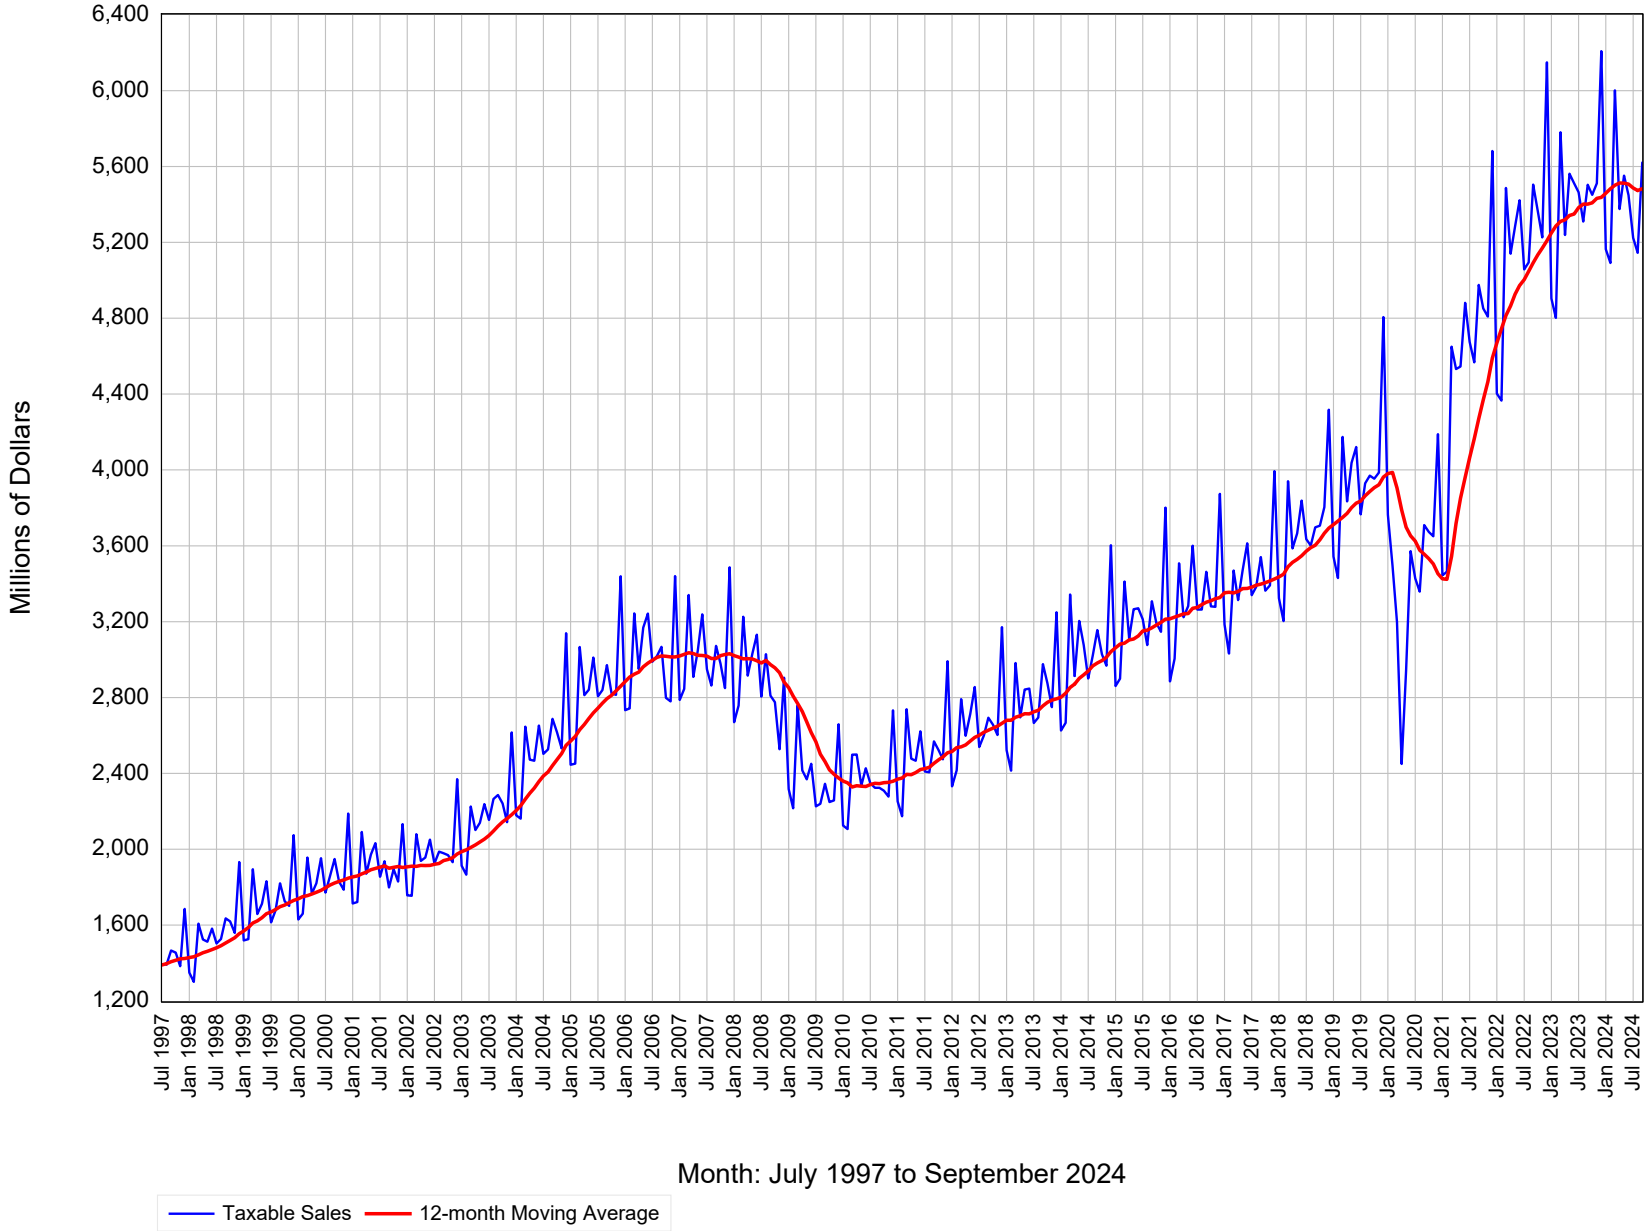

The chart displays the US Treasury's debt held by the public in millions of dollars from July 1997 to July 2024. The blue line represents the actual debt, which is highly volatile, while the red line represents the smoothed debt, showing a more stable trend. The debt starts at approximately 17 million dollars in 1997 and generally increases over the years, with a significant spike to over 60 million dollars in late 2018. Following this peak, the debt fluctuates, with a sharp drop to around 30 million dollars in early 2020, followed by a recovery and stabilization between 30 and 45 million dollars through 2024.
