AGENDA ITEM IV—SELECTION OF A MEMBER OF THE NEVADA YOUTH LEGISLATURE TO CONSULT WITH THE NEVADA ASSOCIATION OF STUDENT COUNCILS CONCERNING THE NOMINATION OF A STUDENT MEMBER TO THE STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION PURSUANT TO NEVADA REVISED STATUTES 385.021

Chair Song:

Next is (Agenda Item IV), which is the selection of a member of the Nevada Youth Legislature to consult with the Nevada Association of Student Councils concerning the nomination of a student member to the State Board of Education. The law requires the student member of the State Board of Education be nominated by the Nevada Association of Student Councils in consultation with the Nevada Youth Legislature, the NASC Board meeting and the selection of nominees for the student member of the State Board of Education will probably take place at the state conference in Carson City, Nevada, in April, 2026.

We will now appoint a member to consult with the NASC on our behalf, either in-person or remotely. Of the members present, we have seven Youth Legislators who have not expressed interest in serving as youth delegates for the Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education. Please raise your hand if you would also like to be considered for this volunteer position. These Youth Legislators are Youth Legislators Barzoni, Boulware, Kiely, Meza Ocampo, Ogawa, Sullivan, and me.

Would any of you like to serve as a Youth Legislator to consult with the Nevada Association of Student Councils concerning the nomination of a student member to the State Board of Education?

I would entertain a motion to appoint Youth Legislator Barzoni as a Youth Legislator who will consult with the NASC to make a nomination for the student member of the State Board of Education.

YOUTH LEGISLATOR NOLL MOVED TO APPOINT YOUTH LEGISLATOR BARZONI AS A YOUTH LEGISLATOR WHO WILL CONSULT WITH THE NEVADA ASSOCIATION OF STUDENT COUNCILS TO MAKE A NOMINATION FOR THE STUDENT MEMBER OF THE STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

THE MOTION PASSED UNANIMOUSLY.

Chair Song:

Youth Legislator Barzoni is appointed as a Youth Legislator who will consult with the NASC to make a nomination for the student member of the State Board of Education.

AGENDA ITEM V—SELECTION OF THREE DELEGATES FROM MEMBERS OF THE NEVADA YOUTH LEGISLATURE TO SERVE AS NONVOTING YOUTH REPRESENTATIVES FOR THE NEVADA COMMISSION ON INNOVATION AND EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION

Chair Song:

We are moving to Agenda Item V, the selection of three delegates from members of the Nevada Youth Legislature to serve as nonvoting youth representatives for the Nevada Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education.

Senate Bill 425 was passed in the 2023 Legislative Session. (Agenda Item V B) This bill set up a Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education. The Commission does not call for student representation, but the members of the Commission have requested student representation in a nonvoting capacity. Most of the meetings will be virtual, but some of them will be in Las Vegas. Your participation as a student representative for the Commission includes active participation, focused listening, and inclusionary communication and connection. Some considerations that are important to these positions are listed on the document titled "Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education." (Agenda Item V A) Youth Legislators Aguirre, Carmenaty-Martinez, Grimmett, Hart, Kim, Kristosik, Lee, Lin, Parikh, Noll, Rios, Sharma, and Wagoner have expressed an interest in serving as youth delegates for the Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education. Please raise your hand if you are interested in serving as a youth delegate for the Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education.

Ms. Ashdown:

Please add Youth Legislator Boulware to the list.

Chair Song:

Youth Legislators Aguirre, Carmenaty-Martinez, Grimmett, Hart, Kim, Kristosik, Lee, Lin, Parikh, Noll, Rios, Sharma, Wagoner, and Boulware would like to be the youth delegates for the Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education. I will open it up for comments.

Ms. Ashdown:

Chair Song, Youth Legislator Boulware has withdrawn her name.

Chair Song:

All right; I will open it up for comments from our candidates. We will start with Youth Legislator Aguirre. Please share your thoughts about serving in this capacity.

Ms. Ashdown:

Please make it one minute or less. We were unprepared for 13 candidates.

Youth Legislator Aguirre:

I want to serve as a nonvoting youth delegate for the Nevada Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education, because I believe that students do have a voice. Yes, they have the voice, and I want people to—I want to express myself and say that what is going on in this country is very—It is not going well, and I want—I am so sorry. Can I start over? No? Okay. Oh my gosh, I was not ready. I just want to say that—Never mind. I withdraw, sorry.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Aguirre. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Carmenaty-Martinez.

Youth Legislator Aguirre:

I would like to—Youth Legislator Aguirre wants to withdraw.

Youth Legislator Carmenaty-Martinez:

Good afternoon, everyone. My name is Melany Carmenaty-Martinez, and the reason I wanted to become a Youth Legislator in the first place, and why I am running to serve as a youth representative on the Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education is because I believe education is the foundation of how we evolve as a state and as a society. As a student in Nevada's public education system, I see every day how policy decisions shape classrooms, learning opportunities, and help prepare students feel for the future.

With rapid changes in technology and workplace expectations, especially in our current timeline, students need an education system that keeps up and prepares us to lead. The Commission's work to study high-performing students and build a future-ready framework is strongest when student perspectives are part of that process. We bring insight into how policies actually affect learning access and student engagement because we have personally experienced it. If selected, I will listen carefully, communicate clearly, and responsibly represent the Nevada students so the Commission's recommendations reflect real classrooms. Thank you for your consideration.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Carmenaty-Martinez. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Grimmett.

Youth Legislator Grimmett:

Hello, everybody. I hope you are all having a wonderful day today and enjoying this wonderful springtime weather—at least here down in Vegas. I feel bad for you guys up North. But getting to it, education is a very relevant and influential policy issue for me, mostly because I see the effects of our education system on a day-to-day basis because after all, I am a high school student who goes to school here. And because I have lived through that system for several decades—not several decades, a decade—I believe I have the unique ability to testify on it, and how effective it is.

Now, unfortunately for the State of Nevada, our education system is not the best. In fact, it ranks as one of the worst in the nation. Nevada ranks 46th in overall education according to the NEE Casey Foundation's Kids Count Report—even fourth worst in K through 12 education per the U.S. News and World report. Now, why is this the case? You could point to a million things—the students, the teachers, the administration, or the bureaucracy that runs it all. But that is not why we are here today. We are here to pick a person for this job—a person that can represent the Nevada students' opinion on a Board to reform our education system.

Ms. Ashdown:

Time.

Youth Legislator Grimmett:

That is it?

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Grimmett. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Hart.

Vice Chair Hart:

I believe I am best for this. I believe I am best for this role because of my dedication to fairness and improvement in education, which is the founding reason for the Nevada Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education. With my striving focus in the NYL being to improve the education system, I am especially eager to put my all into this role in the event that I am elected for it. Additionally, I believe I would be able to provide valuable insight in this position considering that I have attended both top-scoring and underfunded schools, and witnessed the gaps in education and their consequences. Having seen this and learned what Nevadan schools are missing, I believe I could be of much use to the Commission. Thank you.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Hart. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Kim.

Youth Legislator Kim:

Good afternoon. I would be honored to serve as a nonvoting youth representative on the Nevada Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education. As a Youth Legislator, nonprofit founder, and student who has worked directly at the intersection of education policy and lived experience, I bring ground-level perspective. Through my work with my nonprofit, the Wellness Box Foundation, I have seen how barriers like period poverty and lack of basic resources directly affect students' ability to learn, especially those who are already marginalized. I worked alongside state lawmakers and collaborated with youth and educators across Nevada. That experience has taught me how to translate student voices into actionable policy recommendations. I would bring diligence, empathy, and a strong policy lens to this role, and I would be committed to representing Nevada students with clarity and purpose. Thank you.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Kim. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Kristosik.

Youth Legislator Kristosik:

Hello, everyone. I am running to be one of your three nonvoting youth representatives for the Nevada Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education. I will break the speech down into two simple parts—the first being my qualifications and the second being on what

I plan to do. First, in regard to my qualifications, there are two pretty simple things. The first is that I am involved in speech and debate, especially taking part in activities like World Schools Debate that focus on more international issues. Thus, I have experience with policymaking, especially being allowed to contribute in regard to an international perspective, and I think this will help a lot. The second thing is that I come from a charter school, so I think I can offer unique perspectives, especially given the fact that the Board has no one that represents from a charter school.

Now, in regard to what I plan to do, I specifically want to lift up those that are entering early elementary school, especially given that things like the COVID-19 pandemic affected those students the most. So again, I would be honored for you to vote for me. Thank you.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Kristosik. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Lee.

Youth Legislator Lee:

Decision makers can study education systems, but only students live inside them. I want to start by saying this: everyone in this room and over there are very qualified, more than qualified, but I believe that this role is not just about credentials; it is whether student experiences can actually be translated into real policy impact because policymakers cannot speak as students, only students can. For years, I committed more than 600 hours of service to the same senior-living community to use focused listening, real human interaction, and individual research to create real long-term impacts to issues I was actually strongly passionate about and that are unknown—like education. Through that work, especially using music to support cognitive health, I learned how real- and raw-lived experiences reveal gaps that policy often overlooks, and that is a mindset of how I would serve on this Commission—bridging lived experience and policies so recommendations do not just sound good, but would actually work. Thank you.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Lee. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Lin.

Youth Legislator Lin:

Hello, everyone. I am running to serve as a youth delegate to the Nevada Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education because I simply want to better serve and represent Nevada's education system. Now, me personally, I have had experience in medical outreach, debate, and co-leading a volunteering organization, so I really understand how important it is to receive an education that is centered around career exploration and skill development. I want to advocate and recommend more policies that improve in these areas, and I want to make sure that everyone has access to these learning opportunities in our state like I did for myself. If I am in this role, I will be committed to action. I will listen to what especially high school students and their perspectives have to say. I would work collaboratively with the other two representatives in the Nevada Board of Education. I will actively support an education system that definitely needs improvement, and I will be someone who could represent every student in the state. I would be truly honored to represent and serve as a delegate for the CIEE. Thank you, representatives, for your consideration.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Lin. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Parikh.

Youth Legislator Parikh:

Hello, everybody. Today, I seek your vote as the NYL representative on the Nevada Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education, because I believe that I am a good fit based on my past work and my future interests. To begin, last school year, I sat down with my school principal to have a conversation about the use of AI [artificial intelligence] in classrooms. I had this conversation because I truly believe that I had an input on what helps students, what creates problems, and what rules schools can realistically implement. During this, I had to listen carefully, explain student concerns clearly, and respond to pushback without getting defensive. That experience is exactly what I plan to bring to this Commission. If selected, I would come to meetings prepared and curious. I would listen closely, ask questions when something is not clear, and contribute when I have something meaningful to add. I want to learn from the adults in the room and make sure that student perspectives are part of the serious conversations which occur. Thank you so much for your time and consideration.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Parikh. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Noll.

Youth Legislator Noll:

Good evening, colleagues and fellow Legislators. I am proud to announce that I am running for this position. Specifically, over the past five months, I have worked with my Henderson City Council on the Blue Ribbon Commission, where we have advocated for educational policy change—which is essentially the same as I would be doing on this Commission—and we are also planning a citywide job fair to provide students more access to careers—like this Commission aims to do, or as they did in their last annual report. Additionally, I have served in over three different focus groups as a youth representative for the Nevada State Public Charter School Authority, where I provided input that helped create the safe transition from MAP [Measures of Academic Progress] testing to CERT [College Equipped Readiness Tool] testing for over three charter schools throughout the state. This experience, coupled with my ability to empathize and be able to understand the needs of students not just in charter schools, but around the entire state, from Las Vegas to Reno, I have known what educational struggles students face and have actually acted on them. Thank you for your consideration.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Noll. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Rios.

Youth Legislator Rios:

Hello, fellow Youth Legislators. I am here representing Senate District 18. As my school's Student Council President over all middle school recreational programs, high school Chair of our Junior Student Council, President of our National Honor Society Chapter, President of the Speech and Debate Club, and President of the Financial Literacy and Stock Market Game Club, I have experienced working with teachers and students who live all over the State of Nevada and have been in the education system myself for years alongside you all. From these positions, I have learned the value of feedback, improving, and how to work through barriers to achieve the program's goal. Collaboration is the key to any leadership position. It is my hope to bring this collaborative experience to the Commission and improve its work on finding the best solutions to our education problems in the state. Nevada is not known for its education, but I hope to do work in this Commission to change that. Thank you.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Rios. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Sharma.

Youth Legislator Sharma:

Hello, everyone. So, one of the biggest reasons I joined the NYL was so I could make an impact on the education system here in the state, and it is because in a sense, I believe that I was really raised by the schooling system here. It is where I grew the most; it is where I struggled the most; and it is where I succeeded the most, but I think most importantly, it is where I found my voice and found who I am today. I think this position is an opportunity for me to help improve the same system that has affected my life in a beneficial way, but also millions of other lives. As a member of my school's organizational team, I already know what it means like to communicate with officials and administration to actually lead to policy changes that affect students. I know the struggles, as well as the strengths that individual students face, but I also see the potential that our whole schooling system has as a whole, and as a student from a Title I school, I really believe I have a unique perspective. I brought up issues. For example, just yesterday, I had a call with my principal and with other admin members from my school about the new budgeting issue, and we had to approve a new budget within our school. And just like this, I have always worked across the school to try to make change. Thank you.

Ms. Ashdown:

Time.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Sharma. Next, we will hear from Youth Legislator Wagoner.

Youth Legislator Wagoner:

Good afternoon, Youth Legislators. I would like to take a moment to explain why I am a strong fit for the Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education. First, as a Youth Legislator from a rural district, I can bring firsthand experience about the challenges rural schools face, including limited funding; transportation barriers; and reduced access to services like mental health supports. Next, I can offer insight on how policies may actually impact students from day to day, not just how they would look on paper. Many high-performing education systems rely on resources and infrastructure that rural Nevada schools may not have. I can help the Commission understand and implement plans that can be equitable for smaller districts with limited resources.

Education policy is ultimately about students. I look forward to being a voice for the youth in Nevada as policies are possibly created and implemented. Thank you.

Chair Song:

Thank you, Youth Legislator Wagoner. Does any Youth Legislator have any comments or questions before we take a vote? Let us take a vote on who should be appointed as the first of the youth delegates for the Commission on Innovation and Excellence in Education.
