

Restructured States and their Renewable Portfolio Standards, for AB 206

5/24/2017

Dylan Sullivan, Natural Resources Defense Council, dsullivan@nrdc.org, (312) 953-2533

List of All Restructured States and Renewable Portfolio Standards¹

State	RPS	Renewable Portfolio Standard and Context
CT	Y	Established in tandem with restructuring (1998) , applies to utilities and retail suppliers; 27% by 2020; updated in 2011 to require utilities enter long-term contracts (15 years) for RE facilities
DE	Y	Established in 2005, applies to utilities and retail suppliers; 25% by 2025
IL	Y	Established in "re-regulation" bill that created the Illinois Power Agency (IPA) which procures power for default service; 25% by 2025 for both utilities and retail suppliers
ME	Y	Established as part of restructuring legislation ; 40% by 2017, applied to both utilities and retail suppliers
MD	Y	Established in 2005; 25% by 2020, applied to all utilities and retail suppliers
MA	Y	Established as part of restructuring legislation ; 15% by 2020, with 1% each year thereafter, applied to both utilities and retail suppliers
NH	Y	Established in 2007; 24.8% by 2025, applied to both utilities and retail suppliers
NJ	Y	Established in tandem with restructuring (1999) ; 20% by 2002 + 4% solar by 2027, applied to both utilities and retail suppliers
NY	Y	Established 2004; revised Dec. 2016 to 50% RE by 2030, applied to all utilities and retail suppliers
OH	Y	Established in 2008 as part of broad restructuring legislation ; 12.5% by 2026, applied to both utilities and retail suppliers
PA	Y	Established in 2004; 18% alternative energy, applied to both utilities and retail suppliers
RI	Y	Established in 2004; 38.5% by 2035, applied to both utilities and retail suppliers
TX	Y	Established during restructuring transition (1999) ; 10 GW of RE capacity by 2025 (reached in 2009)
DC	Y	Established in 2005; 50% by 2032, applied to both utilities and retail suppliers

¹ RPS info from the DSIRE database, available at <http://www.dsireusa.org/>.