- Hello Chair Neal and committee members, my name is Brian Harris for the record and I am here to testify in support of SB394 on behalf of my organization Battle Born Progress. We feel that Education is a fundamental right, and providing access to quality education is crucial for the development and success of individuals and society as a whole. Public schools are designed to provide education to all children, regardless of their socio-economic status, race, or ethnicity, and property taxes are used to ensure that all children have access to quality education.

Support Testimony SB428, Brian Harris, Battle Born Progress 4.11.23

- Hello Chair Neal and committee members, my name is Brian Harris for the record and I am here to testify in support of SB428 on behalf of my organization Battle Born Progress. The sale of diapers is necessary for families with infants or young children; therefore it should be exempt from sales tax. As a father of a toddler, I know from experience that diapers I had to buy for just one child, so I can only imagine how expensive it can be for a family with more than one child and they have to buy diapers in bulk. Diapers are not a luxury item, but a basic necessity for the health and hygiene of infants and young children.
