Predominance mapping shows which category is greater in number out of all possible categories, and by how much, for a geographical area. This map shows which census block groups have a predominantly Hispanic or Latino population and which do not have a population that is predominantly Hispanic or Latino. Darker colors indicate a higher relative strength of predominance for the majority ethnicity, while lighter colors indicate the majority ethnicity has just a slightly higher population than the other.

Notes: The population database is derived from the 2020 Census Public Law 94-171 Redistricting Data as provided by the U.S. Census Bureau and validated by the Legislative Counsel Bureau. Ethnicity data is based on self-identification. A person of Hispanic or Latino Origin is of Cuban, Mexican, Puerto Rican, South or Central American, or other Spanish culture or origin regardless of race.
