- Making it unlawful for any person to provide compensation for registering voters that is based on the number or party of those registered;
- Providing for the color-coding and dating of ballots by election;
- Changing the period for candidate filing from early January through mid-May to early March through early June;
- Prohibiting the use of a candidate's nickname on the ballot if the name indicates political, economic, social, or religious views or is the name of any well-known person, living or dead;
- Expanding and clarifying the provisions for the challenge of a voter;
- Prohibiting the fraudulent request for an absentee ballot in the name of another person;
- Providing for the issuance of voter identification cards and for duplicate copies of a certificate of registration;
- Prohibiting the use of a business address when registering to vote, unless the person actually resides there;
- Requiring a mail-in registrant to appear in person for the first election after his registration is effective unless he requests an absent ballot in person in the county clerk's office or makes a written request for an absent ballot and his signature on that request is notarized.
- Providing additional safeguards to ensure the integrity of Nevada's programs for voter registration by mail, registration at an office of the Department of Motor Vehicles and Public Safety, and voting by absent ballot;
- Easing the requirements for access to the ballot by minor political parties;
- Establishing felony penalties and additional civil penalties for various actions which constitute election or voter fraud;

- Establishing provisions which authorize early voting up to 17 days before an election at temporary or permanent polling places throughout a county;

- Requiring election officers to post alphabetical listings of voters at each precinct on election day, to identify the name of each voter who voted during the previous hour and to prohibit the examination of pollbooks by political party representatives and others during the course of an election;

- Providing for the separate reporting of election returns by precinct for absent and early voting;

- Requiring the county clerks of all counties to have an alphabetical listing of all registered voters published in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation in the county before both primary and general elections;

- Allowing the offices of a county clerk to remain open for the purpose of voter registration on the Nevada Day legal holiday in even-numbered years;

- Requiring that mechanical voting systems used in the State comply with Federal Election Commission standards; and

2. A person who violates any provision of this section is guilty of a felony.

Sec. 5. *If a county clerk accepts any petition for the verification of signatures or a petition for filing for office, he shall issue a receipt to the person submitting the petition which indicates the number of documents and pages and the person's statement of the number of signatures contained in the petition. Sec. 21. NRS 293.010 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.010 As used in this Title, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 293.013 to 293.121, inclusive, and sections 2 and 3 of this act, have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 22. NRS 293.1276 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.1276 1. Within [5] 2 days excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after the submission of a petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to the provisions of NRS 293.128, [293.1715,] 293.172, 293.200, 295.056, 298.109 or 306.035, the county clerk shall determine the total number of signatures affixed to the documents and [shall transmit] forward that information to the secretary of state.

2. If the secretary of state finds that the total number of signatures filed with all the county clerks is less than 100 percent of the required number of registered voters, he shall so notify the person who submitted the petition and the county clerks and no further action may be taken in regard to the petition. If the petition is a petition to recall a county, district or municipal officer, the secretary of state shall also notify the officer with whom the petition is to be filed.

Sec. 23. NRS 293.1277 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.1277 1. If the secretary of state finds that the total number of signatures submitted to all the county clerks is 100 percent or more of the number of registered voters needed to declare the petition sufficient, he shall immediately so notify the county clerks. Within [15] 7 days after such a notification, each of the county clerks shall determine the number of registered voters who have signed the documents submitted in his county.

2. If more than 500 names have been signed on the documents submitted to him, a county clerk shall examine the signatures by sampling them at random for verification. The random sample of signatures to be verified must be drawn in such a manner that every signature which has been submitted to the county clerk is given an equal opportunity to be included in the sample. The sample must include an examination of at least 500 or 5 percent of the signatures, whichever is greater.

3. In determining from the records of registration what number of registered voters have signed the documents, the county clerk may use the file of affidavits of registered voters or facsimiles of the voters' signatures. If the county clerk uses that file, he must ensure that every affidavit in the file is examined. The county clerk may rely only on the appearance of the signature and the address and date included with each signature in making his determination.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, upon completing the examination, the county clerk shall immediately attach to the documents a certificate properly dated, showing the result of his examination and [transmit] forward the documents with the certificate to the secretary of state. A copy of this certificate must be filed in the clerk's office.

5. For any petition [other than a petition] containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to the provisions of NRS [293.128, 293.1715, 293.200, 295.056 or 298.109, or a petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to NRS 306.035 for any statewide office or district office comprising more than] 293.200 or 306.035 for any municipal, county or district office wholly within one county, the county clerk shall not [transmit] forward to the secretary of state the documents containing the signatures of the registered voters.

6. The secretary of state may by regulation establish further procedures for carrying out the [purposes] provisions of this section.

Sec. 24. NRS 293.1278 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.1278 1. If the certificates received by the secretary of state from all the county clerks establish that the number of valid signatures is less than 90 percent of the required number of registered voters, the petition shall be deemed to have failed to qualify, and the secretary of state shall immediately so notify the petitioners and the county clerks. If the petition is a petition to recall a county, district or municipal officer, the secretary of state shall also notify the officer with whom the petition is to be filed.

2. If those certificates establish that the petitioners have more than [110] 100 percent of the number of registered voters needed to make the petition sufficient, the petition shall be deemed to qualify as of the date of receipt by the secretary of state of certificates showing the petition to have reached [110] 100 percent, and the secretary of state shall immediately so notify the petitioners and the county clerks. If the petition is a petition to recall a county, district or municipal officer, the secretary of state shall also notify the officer with whom the petition is to be filed.

Sec. 25. NRS 293.1279 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.1279 1. If the statistical sampling shows that the number of valid signatures filed is 90 percent or more but less than [110] 100 percent of the number of signatures of registered voters needed to declare the petition sufficient, the secretary of state shall order the county clerks to examine [every signature] the signatures for verification. The county clerks must examine the signatures for verification until it is determined that 100 percent of the number of signatures of registered voters needed to declare the petition sufficient are valid.

2. If the statistical sampling shows that the number of valid signatures filed in any county is 90 percent or more but less than [110] 100 percent of the number of signatures of registered voters needed to constitute 10 percent of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in that county, the secretary of state may order the county clerk in that county to examine every signature for verification.

3. Within [30] 15 days after receipt of such an order, the county clerk shall determine from the records of registration what number of registered voters have signed the petition. If necessary, the board of county commissioners shall allow the county clerk additional assistants for examining the signatures and provide for their compensation. In determining from the records of registration what number of registered voters have signed the petition, the county clerk may use any file or list of registered voters maintained by his office or facsimiles of voters' signatures. The county clerk may rely only on the appearance of the signature and the address and date included with each signature in determining what number of registered voters have signed the petition.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, upon completing the examination, the county clerk shall immediately attach to the documents of the petition an amended certificate properly dated, showing the result of the examination and shall immediately [transmit] forward the documents with the amended certificate to the secretary of state. A copy of the amended certificate must be filed in the county clerk's office.

5. For any petition [other than a petition] containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to the provisions of NRS [293.128, 293.1715, 293.200, 295.056 or 298.109, or a petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to NRS 306.035 for any statewide office or district office comprising more than] 293.200 or 306.035 for any municipal, county or district office wholly within one county, the county clerk shall not [transmit] forward to the secretary of state the documents containing the signatures of the registered voters.

6. Except for a petition to recall a county, district or municipal officer, the petition shall be deemed filed with the secretary of state as of the date on which he receives certificates from the county clerks showing the petition to be signed by the requisite number of voters of the state.

7. If the amended certificates received from all county clerks by the secretary of state establish that the petition is still insufficient, he shall immediately so notify the petitioners and the county clerks. If the petition is a petition to recall a county, district or municipal officer, the secretary of state shall also notify the officer with whom the petition is to be filed.

Sec. 26. NRS 293.130 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(b) In all other counties, those offices must be open during the last 5 days before registration closes.

3. Except for a special election held pursuant to chapter 350 of NRS:

(a) The county clerk of each county shall cause a notice signed by him to be published in a newspaper having a general circulation in the county indicating the day that registration will be closed. If no such newspaper is published in the county, [then] the publication may be made in a newspaper of general circulation published in the nearest county in this state.

(b) The notice must be published once each week for 4 consecutive weeks next preceding the close of registration for any election.

Sec. 69. NRS 293.800 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.800 1. Any person who, either for himself or another, willfully gives a false answer or answers to questions propounded to him by the registrar or deputy registrar of voters relating to the information called for by the affidavit of registration, or who willfully falsifies his [registration] affidavit of registration in any particular, or who violates any of the provisions of the election laws of this state, or knowingly encourages another to violate such laws is guilty of a [gross misdemeanor.] felony.

2. Any public officer or other person, upon whom any duty is imposed by this Title, who willfully neglects such duty, or willfully performs it in such a way as to hinder the objects and purposes of the election laws of this state, is, except where some other penalty is provided, guilty of a [gross misdemeanor.] felony.

3. If such person is a public officer, his office is forfeited upon conviction of any offense provided for in subsection 2.

4. 5. It is unlawful for a person to forge a signature on a petition circulated in accordance with the provisions of this Title or to threaten or coerce another person to forge or sign such a petition. A person who violates the provisions of this subsection is guilty of a felony.

Sec. 73. NRS 293B.130 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293B.130 1. Before any election where a mechanical voting system is to be used, the county or city clerk shall prepare or cause to be prepared a computer program on cards, tape or other material suitable for use with the computer or counting device to be employed for counting the votes cast. The program must cause the computer or counting device to operate in the following manner:

[1.] (a) All lawful votes cast by each voter must be counted.

[2.] (b) All unlawful votes, including but not limited to overvotes or, in a primary election, votes cast for a candidate of a major political party other than the party, if any, of the voter's registration, must not be counted.

[3.] (c) If the election is:

[(a)] (1) A primary election held in an even-numbered year, other than a presidential preference primary; or the total votes, other than absentee votes and votes in a mailing precinct, must be accumulated by precinct.

[(b)] (2) A general election,

[4.] (d) The computer or counting device must halt or indicate by appropriate signal if a ballot is encountered which lacks a code identifying the precinct in which it was voted and, in a primary election, identifying the major political party of the voter.

2. The program must be prepared under the supervision of the accuracy certification board appointed pursuant to the provisions of NRS 293B.140.

3. The county clerk shall take such measures as he deems necessary to protect the program from being altered or damaged.

Sec. 74. NRS 293B.140 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293B.140 Before conducting the test required [under] pursuant to the provisions of NRS 293B.150, the county or city clerk shall appoint [two] three persons who are not of the same political party to serve as an accuracy certification board. At least one of the persons appointed to the board must be selected by a random drawing from the names of the candidates appearing on the ballot for which the test is made.

Sec. 75. NRS 295.056 is hereby amended to read as follows:

295.056 1. Before a petition for initiative or referendum is filed with the secretary of state, the petitioners must submit to each county clerk for verification the document or documents which were circulated for signature within his county. The clerks shall give the person submitting a document or documents a receipt stating the number of documents and pages and the person's statement of the number of signatures contained therein.

2. If a petition for initiative proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the document or documents must be submitted not less than [95] 70 days before the next regular session of the legislature.

3. If a petition for initiative proposes an amendment to the constitution, the document or documents must be submitted not less than [155] 130 days before the date of the next succeeding general election.

4. If the petition is for referendum, the document or documents must be submitted not less than [185] 160 days before the date of the next succeeding general election.

5. All documents which are submitted to a county clerk for verification must be submitted at the same time.

Sec. 76. NRS 298.109 is hereby amended to read as follows:

298.109 1. A person who desires to be an independent candidate for the office of President of the United States must, not later than 5 p.m. on the second Friday in August in each year in which a presidential election is to be held, pay a filing fee of $250 and file with the secretary of state a declaration of candidacy and a petition of candidacy, in which he [may] must also designate his nominee for Vice President. The petition must be signed by [the candidate for President, his nominee for Vice President if designated, and by] a number of registered voters equal to not less than 3 percent of the total number of votes cast at the last preceding general election for candidates for the office of Representative in Congress and must request that the names of the proposed candidates be placed on the ballot at the general election that year. The candidate shall file a copy of the petition he intends to circulate for signatures with the secretary of state.

2. The petition may consist of more than one document. Each document must bear the name of a county and only registered voters of that county may sign the document. The documents which are circulated for signature in a county must be submitted to that county clerk for verification in the manner prescribed in NRS 293.1276 to 293.1279, inclusive, not later than [65] 40 days before filing the petition of candidacy with the secretary of state. Each person signing shall add to his signature the address of the place at which he resides, the date on which he signs and the name of the county wherein he is registered to vote. Each document of the petition must also contain the [affirmation of at least one of the signers] affidavit of the person who circulated the document that all signatures thereon are genuine to the best of his knowledge and belief and were signed in his presence by persons registered to vote in that county.

3. Each independent candidate so nominated for the office of President shall at the time of filing his petition as provided in subsection 1, or within 10 days thereafter, file with the secretary of state his written designation of the names of the number of presidential electors then authorized by law, whom the independent candidate desires to act as his electors, all of whom must then be registered voters. Immediately following receipt of each candidate's written designation of his nominees for electors, the secretary of state shall record them in his office as the nominees for presidential electors of that independent candidate.

4. If the candidacy of any person who seeks to qualify pursuant to this section is challenged, all affidavits and documents in support of the challenge must be filed with the first judicial district court not later than 5 p.m. on the third Friday in August. Any judicial proceeding relating to the challenge must be set for hearing not later than 5 days after the third Friday in August.

5. The failure of a voter to comply with the requirements for signing a petition will not result in the disqualification of a signature if the signature is of a registered voter of the county named on the document.

6. It is unlawful for a person to alter or deface a signature after it has been affixed to a petition by a registered voter.

Sec. 77. NRS 482.215 is hereby amended to read as follows:

The department shall mail to each holder of a valid certificate of registration an application for renewal of registration for the following period of registration. The applications must be mailed by the department in sufficient time to allow all applicants to mail the applications to the department and to receive new certificates of registration and license plates, stickers, tabs or other suitable devices by mail before the expiration of their registrations. Chairman O'Connell opened the meeting on election reform. Senator Brown was asked to join the committee by a vote from the chair. Cheryl Lau, Secretary of State, addressed the committee on this issue. Ms. Lau read from prepared testimony, see Exhibit C.

Ms. Lau explained to the committee she would like to go through this Bill Draft Request (BDR) 24-542. Ms. Lau presented the committee with a shorter summary of this BDR (Exhibit D).

BILL DRAFT REQUEST 24-542: (S.B. 250) Makes various changes concerning elections.

Ms. Lau continued to explain Exhibit C and Exhibit D with the committee.

Dale Erquiaga, Elections Deputy, Office of Secretary of State, spoke in support of BDR 24-542.

Judy Dubois, concerned citizen, told Mr. Eriquiaga the current law reads that no political subdivision of the state may change district boundaries in any year in which a general election is held. She stated there were precinct changes, precinct splits and precincts vacated during the height of the general and the primary election. She asked if the new proposed law would include stopping precinct splits as well as districts.

Mr. Erquiaga stated section 14 of BDR 24-542 would preclude a school board or a county commission board or in the rural counties, a hospital board from altering its districts. He added, by law, registrars do alter precincts during an election year. He explained what this section of the BDR will seek to do is correct one of the problems which occurred in the rural counties where, after candidate filing had closed, the board altered the line and removed a candidate from the district in which she had filed. Mr. Erquiaga stated once candidate filing has started they should not be allowed to move boundaries after that fact, which is currently allowable under the law. He explained this would not address the precinct problems Mrs. Dubois is referring to.

John Dubois, concerned citizen, told the committee there were three individuals who contested their elections this year in Nevada. He explained it was primarily an investigation of what happened in the election. He stated he and the two other individuals who contested their elections had no illusions of overturning the election results because the present election system makes that practically impossible. He continued saying:

> Nor did we, in our investigation, come up with anything, nor did we intend to, concerning our opponents. Concerning any fraud or misconduct that might have been perpetrated actually by them. In our little informal ad hoc committee and in Senate District 8, my particular district, we spent, our little task force spent around 500 hours at the election department, 2,500 telephone calls were made to voters, election department workers, poll watchers and county officials. First class postcard mailing was mailed out to 3,725 absentee voters as a post-check and about 120 voter rosters were checked page-by-page and many had discrepancies found and they were xeroxed. At, I might add, at $1.00 per copy, which is what the election department charges. So we spent $400 or $500 dollars just in xerox. With all of this we were able to cover only about 1/5 of our district and we have tons of evidence which had been carted to Carson City for the January 18 meeting, which has never been viewed. We have copies of election documents, tapes, sworn statements, affidavits, again, it has never been viewed. That is the background for two or three or four recommendations that I would like to make and the first concern is the auditing of ballots. This I believe, and would recommend should be done by an outside CPA (certified public accountant) firm and done immediately after the final count. As you know, Commissioner Hayes requested that an audit be made and the request came about a month or so after the election and the audit was issued. This is an audit which is 3-1/2 pages of nothing. I showed this to my CPA firm and he said if he had spent 6, 7, 8, 10 or 12 weeks doing an audit and presented this to one of his clients he would wind up eventually with no clients. So, we consider this kind of a whitewash. Let me read one paragraph in this and it says here, and they are talking about the scope of it and the procedure that is to be followed, 'These agreed upon procedures are substantially less in scope than in examination. The objective of which is the expression of an opinion on financial statements or, in this case, the outcome of any particular election was affected by tampering or interference with the election process. Accordingly we do not express such an opinion.' So after all the work, naturally there is no opinion. Another problem with this audit, and I don't mean to sit here and knock it, I am sure there have got to be some good things about it somewhere, buried, but another aspect of it is that it was conducted in conjunction or in cooperation with the Clark County D.A.'s (district attorney) office and the Clark County Internal Audit Department so we have a case of the foxes looking after the hens. Now we have, as you know, problems that keep recurring throughout our electoral process and there absolutely is no oversight. This is an example of it. There is no consumer protection, the consumer in this case being the voter and as a result of > this whole thing, everything that has been going on for over a decade now, the consumer confidence in the whole system is rapidly eroding.

Senator O'Connell stated it seemed strange to her that the election was certified before the audit even though the audit might not have been what it should have been. She asked, "Do we specify that it is a performance type audit and what would be your feelings since I know you have been so involved about the timing of the certification of the election?" She explained right now she felt it was pretty much a rubber stamp and that there is not a certain procedure that has gone through in order for it to be certified.

Mr. Dubois answered in addition to a quantitative analysis, he stated it should be a performance audit. He explained there are many laws which are good, but are not followed.

Senator O'Connell asked if Mr. Dubois were talking about a long period-of-time to do a performance audit, and is that something that could be done within a weeks time to certify the election. Mr. Dubois stated the performance audits usually are very detailed and take quite some time, but he stated perhaps there could be some stipulation that an individual candidate could contest his election and then allow a specific time for the audit to be made public.

Senator O'Connell asked if the criteria for the certification of an election be spelled out in the law. Mr. Dubois stated he felt it should even if it necessitates delaying certification of the election.

Mr. Dubois addressed the committee saying:

> This whole thing of certification is really sort of a farce, if I may use that term. What happens is, you have the election department and they come out with an abstract, computer printout and that is it. They then present that to the Clark County Commission, they look over the numbers and they have no way of challenging anything so they accept those numbers, they virtually have to. What happened in the last election is that some of us went down there to object before they canvassed the election, before they approved it, but they approved it before they allowed us to speak. So, they did not allow any public input. So the Clark County Commission within 5 days, by law, virtually automatically approves the election. What they really are doing is approving a part of county government over which they have control. And they are not going to go against it, that is not human nature. Then those figures go up to 17 county election districts. They go to the secretary of state, she has no choice but to look over the numbers and > approve them. She has no oversight capabilities. The next farce is it goes to the supreme court, the Nevada Supreme Court and I am not stating that the supreme court members are farcical in any manner, it is just the system. They sit there and they read off the numbers supplied to them for the 17 counties and then they agree upon it and certify the whole election. So it comes back to where? The election department and the numbers they originally come out with in their abstract and there is no challenge to that. And that is a basic problem in our whole system. If a legislator or candidate for legislative office wants to challenge his seat, he then waits until the opening of either body that he is running for, senate or assembly, and they must present his material and we all know what happens in those cases. So there is no really redress and something should be done on that.

Senator Hickey asked if Mr. Dubois is proposing an outside CPA firm be used and an audit of system performance be done. Mr. Dubois stated he is proposing an audit of both the numbers and the performance. Senator Hickey asked when the performance audit would be used. Mr. Dubois stated he visualizes they commence within 24 hours after every election. Senator Hickey asked who would pay for that audit. Mr. Dubois suggested each individual county. He added this may be cheaper than paying $115,000 for a report that apparently was never used.

Mr. Dubois stated Nevada Revised Statute (NRS) 293.391, section 1, states that all materials must be deposited in the vaults of the county clerk and preserved for 22 months and then destroyed. He added they are very well preserved and no one can get into them. Mr. Dubois further explained NRS 293.391, section 3, states that a contestant may inspect all material except the ballots. He stated he feels this is like allowing the police to inspect all aspects of a murder except the murder weapon. Mr. Dubois feels this should be changed and there should be some sort of access.

Senator Nevin asked Mr. Dubois if the ballots in Clark County are numbered. Mr. Dubois stated the stub is numbered, but the ballot is blank or it would be possible to match up the stub with the ballot and therefore know how an individual voted.

Jan MacEachern, concerned citizen, stated the bottom section of the ballot is identified. She explained it does not have a number on it but one of the holes at the bottom tells you what precinct it is being voted in and another hole describes the district.

Mr. Dubois stated Senator O'Connell had a bill in a prior session which covered a whole trail of ballot auditing. This was Senate Bill 241 of the Sixty-fifth Session.

SENATE BILL 241 OF THE SIXTY-FIFTH SESSION: Provides additional remedy for misrepresenting or concealing material fact to obtain industrial insurance benefits.

Mr. Dubois used a voter Mail-In Registration Application to show the committee the areas where fraud are easily implemented (Exhibit E). Mr. Dubois stated the mail-in applications cause fraud and therefore need to be dealt with in NRS 293.272 to close the loophole.

Mr. Dubois stated since 1991 it has been law that each absentee voter must vote in person for their first election. Mr. Dubois explained this did not happen. He stated in his investigation of the election of 1992 there were hundreds of voters who did not comply with this law.
Mr. Dubois told the committee the absentee-voting became so loose the state is losing its integrity of the absentee voting system.

In closing his statement, Mr. Dubois told the committee the perception of the majority of voters feel is the 1992 election was fraught with discrepancies, irregularities, cover-ups, deception, misconduct, misfeasance, malfeasance and potential problems.

Jim VanDell, Nevada Car Owners Association, Southern Region, spoke to the committee on election reform. He stated it was unfortunate, an injured candidate through potential election fraud, has to plead his whole case right here. He stated the whole case should have been heard in Carson City on January 18 and 19.

He explained the whole concept of the Clark County District Attorney's Office or the Clark County existing grand jury investigating the allegations of election fraud and an election ballot audit, was not done properly, at least by normal business standards.

Mr. VanDell stated he would like to see the legislature spend $50,000 and initiate an actual independent investigation of election fraud in Clark County. He further explained this should include the registrar of voters, the individuals who work under this individual and then to pull the whole thing together, get it into an actual grand jury investigation. Mr. VanDell stated he felt the Metropolitan Police Department has not been able to do this effectively nor could it. He also stated he felt the county commission has not been fair and proper in the beginning when they certified the election in the face of a challenge.

Mr. VanDell told the committee he felt the election reform was very commendable and the secretary of state's bill draft contains many of the issues he feels needs to be done in the future, but he stated the State of Nevada cannot afford to allow reform for the future until they find out what did happen in the 1992 election.

Mr. VanDell asked the committee how an election department could misplace 1,500 ballots for 2 days. He stated something is wrong.

Mr. VanDell stated he would like to discuss Assembly Bill (A.B.) 106.

ASSEMBLY BILL 106: Allows high school pupils in certain counties to act as trainees for position of election board officer.

Senator O'Connell told Mr. VanDell A.B. 106 is an assembly bill and had not reached this committee thus far, therefore, she suggested they save that discussion for another time.

Mr. VanDell spoke to the committee about Assembly Joint Resolution (A.J.R.) 6.

Assembly Joint Resolution 6: Proposes to amend Nevada constitution to require that petition for recall of public officer contain signatures of certain number of registered voters.

Mr. VanDell stated he hoped the recall petition drive is being upheld and would ultimately result in a recall election. He said he had a strong opposition to the rule that an individual must wait 6 months after the election of a public servant before a recall petition could even be initiated. Mr. VanDell stated the recall effort should be allowed immediately after the election or no longer than 30 days afterwards. Mr. VanDell thanked the committee for their time.

Alfred J. Ravell, Trustee, Air Force Sergeant's Association, spoke on election reform. He stated:

> I am not a long-winded politician and I am not a business man, I am retired. And for the past 10 years I have been a deputy voter registrar and an election board officer. I am getting tired of hearing people throwing dirt at the registrars and the election board officers. Back in the election in [19] 90 when they had all the difficulty, the reason they tried to put the blame on the registrars, or the election board officers rather, and what it was, there was approximately 30,000 sample ballots that were never sent out. One of them that did not get her sample ballot was my wife and she is also an election board officer.

They tried to blame us because we had thousands of people coming into the polling places asking us, 'Where do I vote?.' They had no idea where they voted or who they were voting for. That blame they tried to place on the rest of us. They said, 'Oh, we didn't have any experience.' I had already had about 6 years experience doing that and so did everybody else that I knew of. The next thing is what Mr. Dubois brought up about the trouble he had. He got information given to him at the polling places. Either he was given the wrong information or he is fabricating stories. I have worked three different polling places and I have never, not once had any trouble with poll watchers or anybody else. The last election, I do right now. I work at the O.K. Adcock School, I am the coordinator there. We had two people come as poll watchers, they looked like the party had gone on skid row and picked them up and that is exactly what they looked like. They sat over on the steps of the stage for the whole time, they didn't do anything, they didn't keep records or nothing, they just sat there. The other thing, the one thing that started this problem was in the [19] 91 legislative session, whey they passed that bill allowing people to register by mail, they opened the state, county and city, wide open to fraud. I would venture to say that you have as many people voting this year that are in the graveyard. We have become another Chicago. How many votes do you want for this precinct? I can get them for you. When they had that vote-by-mail, that opened it up because there is absolutely no proof of who signs these. That should be the first agenda on your legislative session, repeal that law immediately and make everybody that wants to register to vote present a valid Nevada driver's license. The other thing is, I have done it many a time, voted for the republic party and the registrars office. I have been called, this was before they came out with that form, the mail-in form. I have been called an ass and I know a lot of other registrars have been. Please go to such and such a person's home. They are incapacitated, they want to register to vote and I have done it. We get a lousy 10 cents apiece for the affidavits and it is not a hell of a lot and I am satisfied with it because we do this as a community service. I ran voter registrations for 6 years at the Meadows Mall. A lot of people have seen me there and a lot have seen the people that work for me there. We do it under the banner of the Air Force Sergeant's Association, a nonprofit organization. And we do it as a community service. We don't expect to get paid for it and I understand Myrna Williams is proposing we get $85 per week for doing this. I have already had six people tell me, who have worked for me before, they said if they want > to put us on the books, pay us and everything, they can forget it, we will not work. So, kill that vote-by-mail and you will eliminate 90 percent of your problems right there. And the coordinator that they have at each polling place, he is responsible, he or she is responsible for the conduct of your poll watchers and they have the right and they have been told they have the right. If one of those poll watchers steps out of line, there is the door, get lost. And I threatened one one time with just that action. But, I have never had to do it since and I am not afraid to do either. Because all we have to do, we have the cellular phone there now, with the county worker that works with us, and I'm telling you that is the best thing they have ever done. My hats off to the county for doing that. That is all I have to say, thank you.

Senator O'Connell asked if there were anybody else to testify.

James Sohns, President, Nevada Car Owners Association, addressed the committee on election reform. He stated he has lived in Las Vegas for 7 years and is proud to be here except for the last election which he stated made him ill. He told the committee he could not believe there was a $2 bounty being paid for signatures.

Mr. Sohns stated he used to live in Honolulu, Hawaii and they have an open primary which he feels works very well. He explained he has volunteered his services as he is retired and nobody has taken him up on his offer. He stated that was all of his comments.

Gary Walker, Concerned Citizen, spoke on election reform. He stated he was a candidate for the senate in the 1992 elections. He explained it was the first time he ran for a political office in his life as he is a retired military officer. He told the committee he did not contest his election, but given the circumstances, if he were a candidate again he would contest the election. he stated the reason for this is at this point, it is impossible to determine what would be a frivolous contest or not since the information is not available to base any kind of an investigation as to whether there was fraud in an election.

Mr. Walker stated while working on the informal task force after the election, he did become familiar with some of the computers. He stated this technology is approximately 30 years old and these were designed to accurately tabulate votes and not designed to safeguard against fraud. He explained the software that is involved with that computer system is proprietary to the company which is rather unusual inasmuch as it is a very standard kind of software that any computer-literate high school student could come up with.

Mr. Walker stated the last four columns on the ballot identify the precinct, election and that sort of thing. He did state one of the things that was not addressed, but he believes needs to be addressed is with regard to the secondary coding which is done to the software after it reaches Clark County and with respect to the specific election. He explained the elections are not built from the ground level each time. He did state over a period of years there has been the authority being removed from the precinct level from workers who actually used to do the counting of the ballots and the reporting of the ballots and then reported them to whoever was in charge, possibly the county clerk. He pointed out we have fewer and fewer people with more and more authority, but we have the same county commissioners who are the same people they were 30 years ago.

He explained there are some specific items he feels need to be covered. The first is either administratively or through statute that the coding of the ballots ought to be done by more than one individual. He stated it is imminently possible for a literate computer programmer to set those cards and to mark any ballot, which could completely change the election results.

Mr. Walker told the committee another thing he would like changed is the names on the ballots. He explained, the placement of the candidates names, they are alphabetical and in virtually every other state and any other political jurisdiction outside Nevada, they do not appear alphabetically year after year. He stated the last item he is concerned about is the layout of the ballots. He pointed out some of the ballots have no blanks to select a candidate out of each race.

Mr. Walker told the committee he felt volunteers are the heart of the system and he would like to see them given some kind of recognition for what they do.

Senator Nevin stated he understood Mr. Walker's point, but he stated Clark County has had problems in the last two elections and he added Northern Nevada does not have the same problem. Therefore, he stated he felt the problem was internal and within the management of the elections. Senator Nevin iterated he felt it was a shame the legislature has to pass a state law to help solve a problem within a county.

Tamara Clark, State Chairman, I CARE-Libertarian Party, spoke on election reform. She stated she is a candidate and a citizen who has spent over $30,000 since November 3, 1992, to investigate the elections in Clark County. Mrs. Clark stated the majority of problems exist within the election department.

Mrs. Clark stated the problem was dramatic in the absentee ballots and in the mail-in registration. She stated the laws are in existence today, but the election department and district attorney's office chose to ignore those laws. She pointed out writing more laws is not going to make a difference if the citizens are not willing to uphold the laws. Mrs. Clark iterated this did not only happen on a county level, it happened when she went to the state senate and asked them to hear the laws that were violated and she stated she was told the committee was too tired to hear what she had to say.

Mrs. Clark told the committee they need to throw out the circulator qualification for petition. She states this is one of the biggest problems. She explained if a citizen signs a petition and their signature matches their photo registration, then that citizen intentionally put that name on the petition. And regardless of who circulated the petition, the citizen signed it and wanted his name to be there and counted. Therefore, she stated the circulator is a terrible problem which caused most of the petitions in this state to fail this year. Mrs. Clark stated in going back and looking at the different situations, the failure was due to either the election department not knowing their correct numbers and giving false information and the petition person then being told, "We apologize that they gave you the wrong information, but you are tough out of luck." She told the committee that is wrong. She urged if an elected official makes a mistake they are accountable, not the citizens that are suffering for it.

Mrs. Clark stated there have been problems with poll watchers beyond a shadow of a doubt. She explained poll watchers were originally put at the polls to say whether or not someone is who they say when they are voting in certain districts. She would like to see the poll watchers become legitimate again.

Mrs. Clark stated one of the big problems in Clark County's Election Department was keeping track of ballots. She explained they had talked to hundreds and hundreds of poll workers, citizens, voters and transfer workers who felt the system was set up this year to safeguard the ballots, so individuals working the election polls were inconvenienced as little as possible. She stated she felt they should do away with the transfer stations and just have one station, such as Cashman Field, where they drop off their ballots so they are not passing through so many hands before being counted.

Mrs. Clark stated she went to the Clark County Commission to tell them prior to certifying the election there were problems, but they certified the election and then asked if there was anybody who wanted to say anything to them regarding the election issue.

Mrs. Clark stated the secretary of state's proposal has a section in it which is very important to her. She states the secretary of state has put forward, a minor party candidate must file for candidacy by the second week of February and the other political parties must file theirs by March. She explained the minor party candidates do not know if they have ballot access until August, plus they have to hold a convention to nominate the candidates, which means they must hold the convention in November, a year before the election to choose the candidates at least 3 months before anybody else has to file. She did state she realizes this is being done because individuals were angry that minor party candidates got to come in and file after everybody else. She stated this was not their choice, it is because the law constitutes they must have a convention, which has to be done in a particular matter because they do not hold primaries. Now, she states, this proposal is asking the minor parties to have their candidates ready a year before election.

Senator O'Connell stated she has asked for legislation which will treat every party the same.

Senator Nevin stated he checked on this also and he told her he felt she would not be able to do anything about it because it is a United States Supreme Court decision and state government cannot overturn U.S. Supreme Court decisions. He stated they could pass the legislation but it would not be constitutional. Mrs. Clark stated the minor parties will be held to it and she guarantees they will be the ones who will have to take it to court to say it is unconstitutional.

Mrs. Clark stated she had no objections to file candidacy at the same times the other parties do, she would be happy with that.

Mrs. Clark stated she could not be at the meeting last week when the committee discussed Senate Bill 94.

SENATE BILL 94: Requests that grand jury investigate allegations of misconduct related to general election of 1992 in Clark County.

She told the committee had she been here she would have told them the Clark County District Attorney's Office has shown an extreme interest in not bringing this forward as have the Clark County Police Department. She added not one of them has ever bothered to speak to the citizens who are investigating this.

Mrs. Clark emphasized the election department is wrong and the individuals working in the election department were wrong, but she states they have an attitude they are superior to the citizens they are there to help. She added they would not be there long and that her organization will start at the top and will work their way down even though they know it will take some time. Mrs. Clark asked the committee for help as they have the power to help.

Mona Snape, Concerned Citizen, spoke on the election reform. She state:

> There are currently 16 statutes on the book giving the secretary of state authority to regulate our elections. Our elections are not simply little things that are done by counties or cities. We have a good strong election code that needs to be enforced. For example, one of the most maddening things I can think of is the stand-in. I can't go over this enough. we have a law, we have stated the law. Since last July, the Citizen's Coalition Groups of different members have been before everyone saying this is it and lets do it right. It has been absolutely ridiculous. But, the secretary of state again, and her proposals, for some odd reason does not seem to be able to determine the difference between statutory law or constitutional laws regarding the time frames that she proposes on initiative and referendum petition. The problems that have gone on with initiative and referendum and recall petitions around this county is horrendous. The attitude that we receive from the election department when we walk in there, when one walks in to the Secretary of State's Office to file a petition, they can't get the information. When they do receive the handbook, the handbooks are legally in error and legally flawed. They have regulations which far exceed any statutory or constitutional requirements. This is all in the petition package that went forward to a lot of the senators and a lot of the assemblymen and the Secretary of State's Office. Again, these groups have harped and harped, added volume as to the problem and no one has listened.

Mrs. Snape then referred to her handout and went over the material with the committee (Exhibit F, the original is on file in the research library.

Mel Clark, First Vice Chairman, Libertarian Party, spoke on election reform. He stated essentially what the committee needs to do is enforce the existing laws. He explained the committee needs to get within the election department, find out how the process was done and correct it from there.

Mr. Clark stated he would like to see some changes in the existing rules such as the rule that minor parties cannot work bowling alleys and he states that is a discrimination because democrats and republicans are allowed to do so. He did suggest to the committee the people who spoke at this meeting probably have firsthand information and you can pretty much believe what they are saying. He did say, however, they need to look at both sides to come to a fair conclusion.

Richard Puckett, Chairman, Libertarian Party, Clark County, spoke to the committee on election reform. He told the committee he appreciated them coming down to Las Vegas to hear them.

Mr. Puckett stated after all of the testimony today they still do not have an idea of how many absentee requests were made and how many absentees actually voted on a precinct breakdown basis. Mr. Puckett stated he would like the numbers to analyze the information and determine if there was an unusual amount. He stated, as was mentioned before, one of the laws that needs to be changed or enforced is the reconciliation between the poll books and the official abstracts. He told the committee he helped with the computer analysis investigation and in his investigation he noticed they counted up the individuals who voted in the poll books. He stated that includes those who walked in, went to the election department, voted by mail and voted by absentee. He said comparing that to the official computer abstracts which were approved by the county commission and the supreme court, there was a discrepancy. Mr. Puckett stated he looked through the computer log which shows the activity that happened with the election computer, every vote that was counted on election night and he stated that number was off. Mr. Puckett pointed out the abstract supposedly was generated from the computer and yet the numbers were different between the abstract and the computer count. He stated he would like to know how many votes were cast in each precinct.

Mr. Puckett expressed to the committee his desire to have a change in Nevada Revised Statutes 293.410 2-D where it states "That the election board, in conducting the election or in canvassing the returns, made errors sufficient to change the result of the election as to any person who has been declared elected." He stated when he went before the senate he had massive evidence of malfeasance on the part of the election department which was their case and that was grounds to bring our case forward. It was decided by the credentials committee the only valid grounds were to prove a certain number of votes went to a different candidate than it should have. He explained this is a very difficult standard to contest the election, but he did state what would be a fair solution would be if a contestant could prove sufficiently there was a flawed election, there should be a new election for the individual who contested it.

Senator Hickey stated the election loser can contest the election by formal contest or he can take it into court. He explained the system may be cumbersome or not, but to bring it directly into the state senate is awkward, so he suggests there is some way a system can allow an election to be contested.

Mr. Puckett suggested if the secretary of state was given enough investigative and enforcement powers and an individual could prove the county department made sufficient errors, the secretary of state may have the ability to declare the election bad and run a new election.

Senator Hickey asked Mr. Puckett if he would feel more comfortable having the secretary of state as an arbitrary. Mr. Puckett stated he felt the secretary of state is far enough removed from the county and has no vested interest in the county elections and therefore would be fair in looking at the evidence.

Mr. Puckett concluded by telling the committee 87,655 ballots were counted after the canvassers were sent home at 1:00 a.m. and he stated whether there was a law against that or not, there should be a law stating no ballots will be counted if canvassers are not there to make sure everything is done fairly.

Joseph Maviglia, President, H&E Training Schools, spoke to the committee regarding election reform. Mr. Maviglia stated he was addressing Senator Lowden because she was a new member of the state senate. He told her she would see lobbyists sell their souls for votes and he stated he felt we were losing our country. He said as a citizen to come forward and complain about the injustices in our government, they are shouted down, arrested, handcuffed, intimidated and abused even when the complaints are legitimate. Mr. Maviglia stated sometimes the complaints are idiotic out of frustration. He explained sometimes individuals come forward to learn how to present themselves so our representatives will pay attention to us and our concerns. He stated sometimes individuals must jump in the face of the elected officials so they will respond, but through that response they have been able to bring forward their complaints and have them looked at in a justifiable manner. Mr. Maviglia stated he is an ex-convict. When he was younger he was frustrated with his lack of education so he went the opposite way of the law. Now, he explains he is trying to become an honest, law abiding citizen and he is chastised for his past by officials because they cannot stand the truth. Mr. Maviglia stated there is no accusation nor aspersions against these committee members. He told the committee they will go away from here and maybe they will remember Joe Maviglia or maybe they will not, but he stated he will not let them forget him.

Mr. Maviglia stated the 1990 and 1992 ballots were the same color and that should have been enough probable cause for the district attorney or secretary of state rule the election invalid. He asked the committee to help reform these election laws.

Senator O'Connell asked Mr. Maviglia if he would support an administrative court. Mr. Maviglia stated he would support an administrative court if it was not stacked.

Lucille Lusk, Chairman, Nevada Coalition of Conservative Citizens, spoke to the committee on election reform. She made reference to Exhibit D. On page 1 she suggested they insert what is acceptable identification as required in this section. Also, on page 3 under the primary elections she commented open primaries have worked very well in many states and she asked that the committee seriously consider this recommendation. She stated she had extreme concern with the last paragraph on page 3 where it states the verification of signatures on petitions may be witnessed by the person who submits the petition or by the public officer who is the subject of the recall. She explained it seemed obvious to her if the public officer who is subject to the recall is allowed to be the person who witnesses the verification of signatures on the recall, particularly against a county commissioner who oversees election department employees, it is absolutely ripe for fraud. She continued telling the committee under no circumstances should the individual being considered for recall be the witness for verification.

Mrs. Lusk stated on page 4 of Exhibit D, with regard to "None of these candidates", there is a tremendous interest in having this an available option in many races. However, she stated the solution being offered in this exhibit does not respond to the public's desire. She explained if "none of these candidates" receives more votes than any other candidate then the options for seating a person are not acceptable.

Senator Lowden told Mrs. Lusk the proposal for "none of these candidates" and the resolution to the problem came out of a town meeting held by Secretary of State, Cheryl Lau.

Bill Parker, Clark County Election Board Officer, spoke to the committee on election reform. He addressed the issue of addresses. Senator Nevin had said nobody lives at a post office box and that is true, but Mr. Parker stated for security reasons he receives his registration materials at a post office box, but he resides within a house. He stated the registration forms have provisions on them so you can have a mailing address and a physical address. He explained the physical address is what should be checked to make sure the person lives at that address.

Mr. Parker explained he had programmed computers for 10 years and he feels it is not beyond the realm of possibility that an individual could tamper with machines. He stated he did not have a problem with a second person verifying a code that goes into the machine.

Mr. Parker told the committee on election day he was coordinator at Woodbury Junior High polling place which encompassed Paradise 6, Paradise 12, Desert Hills 4 and a few other precincts along the way.

He explained his day started at 5:00 a.m. that morning and by the time he got done, it was 9:15 p.m. He stated the provision to move the satellite receiving centers will not solve the problems.

Mr. Parker told the committee any time you have human beings as part of the process, errors are going to occur. He iterated there were two types of errors, deliberate and unintentional. He stated the missing 1500 ballots was, in his opinion, simply human error. He remarked how much responsibility the voters should have and how much responsibility state government and the elections department have. He surmised it becomes easy to complain about the process, but nobody can offer permanent fixes or good solutions to problems, then it becomes more of a problem.

Senator Hickey stated it had been suggested by someone that the coding of the ballots be done by more than one person and he asked Mr. Parker what he thought of that idea. Mr. Parker explained he has no problem with marking the ballots with the date specifying the year and he recommends that strongly.

Mr. Puckett again came up to the microphone to help answer Senator Hickey's question regarding the coding of ballots and specific software for the computers. Mr. Puckett suggested no computer modem lines should be connected to the computer on election night. His understanding was there were several terminals connected to the computer that did the counting on election night and he stated that can lead to potential for abuse.

Mr. Parker explained what Mr. Puckett is referring to is the fact that basically computers talk to one another in remote locations over telephone lines. This is basically known as telecommunications. He stated what Mr. Puckett is concerned about someone tampering with the data as it is being transmitted and he stated this has happened in the past.

Mike DeFloria, Concerned Citizen, spoke to the committee on election reform. Mr. DeFloria stated he has been a resident of Las Vegas for 30 years and he has seen it go from bad to worse to disastrous. He told the committee election boards are too lax and nobody cares. He stated his opinion was the election reform problems are not going to be solved.

Tom McGowan, Concerned Citizen, testified on election reform. He stated he represented no organization and he is here as a loyal American citizen and he told the committee his purpose is to achieve a massive fundamental reform of society and government in the State of Nevada, inclusively in the broad-based public interest of the people of Nevada and the United States of America. He stated he had no other purpose at this meeting, personal or otherwise.

Mr. McGowan stated Deputy Registrar Doug Leavitt is recognized as an expert professional in his field, yet he fails to expertly inform recall petitioners of accurate data requisite to their position. Mr. McGowan stated this was either grossly incompetent or deliberately remiss and adverse to the public interest and therefore, he should summarily be terminated and permanently prohibited from further service in public government.

Mr. McGowan stated the following:

> I hereby formally request that you immediately initiate and diligently expedite a formal legislative demand for an independent federal investigation of each and all elections, pertinent elements of government in the State of Nevada and Clark County inclusively. Said investigation to be maintained as separate and distinct from and secure from any persuasive influence by any and all entities in the public government and the private sectors of the State of Nevada inclusively. There is a very good reason for that. I no longer, personally, speaking for myself, trust anybody in this state, public or private. My frank opinion is this is one of the most unsophisticated societies I have ever encountered in my short life of sixty-some years. I am appalled. If this is reiterated nationwide, we don't have a nation and I don't want to pursue that further, but I will say there is still a window of hope that springs eternal, from the words of Sam Irvin. It is a matter of individual responsibility regardless of what level we are at. That includes everybody. When the legislature could fail to comply with this public request for an independent government investigation, I would request that you either resign immediately or stand fully liable to recall on the basis of your failure to exercise the mandate of responsible government to the broad-based public interest. There is very little else to say. There is nothing mistaken about what takes place in the state day-to-day, night-to-night, nothing. You've had 61 years plus as a legalized gaming state to become, not the solemn State of Nevada but the casino gaming industries State of Nevada. You need to change that. If you think you can't do it, think twice. You're overdependent upon a single industry, that is probably the crux issue and basis for all of these problems, all of these problems, specifically election reform. If you can't create and maintain a responsible government in a rational society, go home, bother somebody else. And that is inclusive of everybody in this state. Thank you for your time.

Jan MacEachern, Concerned Citizen, addressed the committee on election reform. She stated she is against paying registrars for signing up voters. She suggested the committee take all of the suggestions and the bill drafts and put them together to introduce one bill. She also suggested the state leave primaries open. Another complaint she had was regarding poll watchers. She explained the poll watchers are suppose to stay 6 feet away from the voting table and they were not to interfere. She thanked the committee for coming to Las Vegas and hearing this testimony.

Alta Bybee, Election Coordinator, spoke to the committee on election reform. She stated she has lived in Nevada for better than 60 years and she has been a resident of Las Vegas for 15 years. She pointed out since politicians running for office would not admit what party they were running for, then she asked, why should she have to claim a political party when she registers to vote.

Senator Hickey stated the law allows any individual to register as an independent and not claim a political party. Mrs. Bybee said she felt it was manipulated by particular political parties.

Mrs. Bybee pointed out most of the volunteers at the polls are elderly people who have to drive downtown late at night. She suggested they try to use the satellites to prevent some of this late night traveling. Mrs. Bybee told the committee Clark County is having this election problem because of their large population boom. She thanked the committee for their time.

Sigrid Macey, Concerned Citizen, addressed the committee on election reform. She stated she was concerned about post-adolescents are the ones who will decide if signatures are valid or not. She added only a graphologist would be qualified to do that. She agrees with Mrs. Bybee with regard to eliminating party affiliations when an individual registers to vote.

Steve Billigmeier, Concerned Citizen, spoke to the committee on election reform. He asked the committee to schedule another day for hearing this issue. He also suggested the committee go to a Clark County Commissioners meeting and see how they act.

Mr. Maviglia came forward and stated:

> Senator, I would just like to bring something to your attention. I was threatened during the times prior to my coming forward by ex-Senator [Assemblyman] Dubois. He handed me a note and he said, 'Be careful what you say or we will have you handcuffed and thrown into the street.'

Senator O'Connell told Mr. Maviglia stated Mr. Dubois did not mean it. Mr. Maviglia stated he did not know how Mr. Dubois meant it, but the fact that he did give him the note upset him and he would like it on the record.

There being no further business, Chairman O'Connell closed the meeting at 6:17 p.m.

Overview of the Secretary of State's Election Package
February 9, 1993

Throughout the 1992 elections, and especially in their aftermath, I was aware that we needed to fix our election laws. As you all know by now, I launched a series of meetings in November and December to gather ideas. Those meetings resulted in the package you have before you.

First, I met with the county election officials to see how they felt we could improve the process. These men and women conduct our elections, and I strongly urge you to consult them whenever you consider a change in the law. They will tell you what works and what does not.

Second, I met with the majority and minority leaders of both houses of the Legislature -- because I wanted them to be aware of the problems we face, and the solutions I would propose. I did this, not to exclude anyone who does not sit in the Legislature, but to build a consensus among the people who must actually vote on reform bills. For after all, the Secretary of State does not have a vote on this issue. I can only propose -- you dispose.

Third, I held town hall meetings in Reno, Las Vegas, Tonopah and Elko. I heard directly from the voters how frustrated they were. I got plenty of ideas for change. I must tell you that these meetings were one of the most instructive things I have ever done in public life. Here in Las Vegas, especially, voters know what they want.

And so, I made a promise ninety days ago: to bring as many ideas as I could before the Legislature. The bill draft which I want to discuss with you today does just that. It contains 81 sections on 56 legal size pages! And even it may not be complete. You will have your own ideas, and you will hear more ideas from the public during testimony. In addition, I have noticed a few drafting errors in reading through the document this weekend -- for I only saw the finished copy on Friday myself. We still have a little work to do. But I wanted to keep my promise and give you the best possible working document that my office could deliver. With that in mind, let me run through the bill draft. I will only highlight a few sections in my testimony, but a written document has been filed with the committee secretary.

Sections 1 through 20 would add entirely new language to the statutes. A summary of their impact is as follows:

Section 2 -- clarifies the word "document" as it pertains to petition circulation. We found this to be necessary, particular is it relates to where a circulator must affix his affidavit.

Section 3 -- defines "state officer" because the term is used throughout the statutes, but nowhere is there a definitive list.

Section 4 -- outlaws the bounty for voter registration. We know there is almost unanimous consensus that this practice must be prohibited. The one thing which is lacking from this section is a penalty. We would suggest it be considered a felony.

Sections 5 through 10 -- these are critical additions to the statutes. We found in 1992 that the petition process and signature verification does not always work as intended, so this language would provide for better control and an appeals process. We hope this would avoid costly and disruptive lawsuits, such as the one we experienced in 1992.

Section 11 -- Nowhere in current law is the issue of choosing and classifying party affiliations codified. This section corrects that omission.

Sections 12 and 13 -- will help us avoid the kinds of problems experienced in Clark County with the destruction of old ballots. This language should restore confidence, since the public will be able to tell what is going on.

Section 14 -- closes a loophole in current law which might allow a board to change its district lines after candidate filing has begun, or even after the election is underway.

Section 15 -- this is a technical correction to keep pace with the times.

Section 16 -- this particular language was inserted at the request of the Federal Voting Assistance Program, which seeks to protect the rights of our Armed Forces personnel.

Section 17 -- again, this closes a loop hole by establishing some procedure for special elections.

Section 18 -- Nevada has a large population of "snow birds" who find themselves disenfranchised when they only want to vote for president. This section is for them.

Section 19 -- ensures that all affidavits will be examined, which is particularly important for petitioners.

Section 20 -- This section, together with other changes later on in the bill draft, seek to address the problem with absent ballot accountability.

Section 21 is technical language inserted by the bill drafters for the purpose of keeping the NRS clean and readable. Beginning with section 22, I am proposing changes to existing statutes.

Sections 22 through 25 -- shorten the time for signature verification from 65 days to 30 days. This will help Nevada comply with federal requirement on the submission date of petitions by taking the county clerks and registrars out of the business of determining legal sufficiency of a petition. We want to avoid throwing out signatures on technicalities. I am aware that this language needs a little work, so we will address that, but the intent is to protect people's right to petition by cutting through the red tape.

Section 26 -- is really for the parties in large counties. Current law requires that every precinct be listed with its number of delegates, before any party convention. This can be an expensive and cumbersome task when our large counties have so many precincts.

Section 27 -- I want to call the committee's attention to this section because I need to have staff do some more work on the dates, if we are going to change Nevada's primary date as I propose elsewhere in this document. However, the intent is to provide a means for filling vacancies in nonpartisan elections -- none currently exists.

Sections 28 through 30 -- deal with minor political parties. In short, I am proposing we make it simpler for minor parties to qualify by reducing the signature formula from 3 percent to 1 percent. We are also trying to clarify the petition requirements so our citizens don't need a lawyer to wade through this process. The courts are clear: Nevada can no longer penalize so-called splinter groups. We must change our laws in some way. I look forward to hearing other ideas for this process, and will be more than willing to work with the committee if someone else has ideas.

Section 31 -- this section moves the primary from September to June. This idea came from my town hall meetings. The county clerks and registrars support this idea, since it gives them more time to administer an election. We learned in 1992 that late changes to the ballot can really complicate an election. I disagree with those who say a June primary will lengthen the election. Candidates begin campaign in January already, and an earlier primary would actually reduce the number of candidates and signs we are faced with throughout the summer months. It would also allow us to create a presidential primary in time for the 1996 election.

Section 32 -- changes the dates for candidate filing to accommodate a June primary. It also takes steps to eliminate the possibility of another "God Almighty" filing for office in Nevada. I urge you to adopt this language.

Section 33 -- corrects a current form so that it complies with another chapter of NRS.

Section 34 -- again, a date change for the June primary.

Section 35 -- enumerates state offices for filing. I believe there is a drafting error here, in that State Board of Education does not pay a filing fee.

Section 36 -- clarifies petition language for independent candidates. I would appreciate the committee's feedback on whether we should also make it easier for these candidates by lowering this percentage requirement as we did for minor parties.

Section 37 -- takes steps so that Secretary of State has authority to fix absent ballot crises in times of emergency, such as we saw in 1992. It also clarifies outdated language pertaining to what information my office actually sends the counties.

Section 38 -- would allow a voter whose registration was lost to actually vote at the polling place if, for example, he possessed a receipt. There would be much less hassle.

Section 39 -- This section is necessary if we move the primary date but leave the minor party filing date late in the year, as required by federal courts. Currently, minor party candidates trigger a primary race if, say, two Republicans and one Independent American file. With the change of primary dates, such a primary would be unfair because we might not know if the minor party candidate qualified for the ballot until well after the primary.

Section 40 -- county nonpartisan races need to be listed in this statute as a clean-up measure.

Section 41 -- is something which came from my town hall meetings. If we are going the have the "none of these candidates" option on the ballot, we should have it for more than statewide races and it should mean something. I am proposing that this option be allowed to win the race if voters are truly dissatisfied with their choices.

Section 42 -- this would clear the air about parakeet mail-in registrants being able to vote absentee. Please enact the so-called "stand in" requirement and help prevent even the hint of fraud.

Section 43 -- I am proposing we require identification from persons at the polls.

Section 44 -- clarifies terms.

Section 45 -- both clarifies terms and requires that a person challenged because of residency show proof that he lives where he says he does.

Section 46 -- the amendment to subsection (2)(d) is needed because not all officers for whom all voters in a county vote are county officers. District judges, and in most counties members of Congress, are also elected at large.

Sections 47 through 52 -- deal with absent ballots and reflect my effort to simplify the process for voters, while ensuring fraud cannot occur. In short, I want to restrict the availability of absent ballot requests so we do not have mass mailings, and I want to protect voters' right to take care of their own ballot.

Section 53 -- the people of Clark County in particular want accountability for unused ballots, as I learned at my meetings here. I am proposing an audit for voter confidence.

Section 54 -- makes some clean-up changes to voter lists, but will also make the information available to all our political parties. This, too, comes from my meetings.

Section 55 -- mail-in registration is a wonderful new program which can tremendously benefit voter participation. It is also a financial burden for our counties when the political parties mass mail thousand of government forms. I want to see the parties help defray the cost of voter outreach, so this section would allow the counties to charge for mail-in forms requested in bulk. This is a special request from the county clerks.

Sections 56 and 57 -- these, too, are for the clerks, It clarifies rights and responsibilities of local governments submitting ballot questions.

Section 58 -- brings our laws into line with federal requirements.

Sections 59 through 63 -- are a direct result of my meetings around the state. Simply put, we need better accountability of deputy registrars, mail-in registrations, and county election officers. I am proposing a point-of-registration receipt, improved forms, stricter penalties, and improved control. Again, please enact this language.

Section 64 -- updates our technological capabilities.

Section 65 -- subsection 5 takes care of those people who want to change parties to vote for a particular person in a primary, something I heard a great deal about. Subsection 10 allows a cancellation of duplicate registrations.

Section 66 -- a date change for the primary

Section 67 -- newspaper publications by precinct number are too hard to read. We need an alpha listing so voters can find their own names.

Section 68 --we must have a standard close of registration date throughout our state, and that date should remain at the 30-day-mark before an election.

Section 69 -- again, I am a firm believer in strict penalties as a fraud prevention measure. If someone infringes on your right to vote, he should face the possibility of losing his own rights.

Sections 70 through 74 -- let us have more accountability, better standards, and public input into the vote tabulation process. I heard this message loud and clear at my meetings.

Sections 75 and 76 -- change dates for petition submission to meet the new signature verification timeline. I am also proposing more clarification of our cumbersome petition rules.

Section 77 and 78 -- deal with motor voter. I am proposing we remove the motor voter program vehicle registration because we find too many duplicate registrations from the drivers' license division program, which works wonders.

Section 79 -- repeal the bounty even as it is hinted at for counties.

Section 80 -- let us restore fairness to the system by allowing the four parties which qualified in 1992 ballot access in 1994, since we are asking you to change the rules by which they qualify.

Section 81 -- these are the effective dates as established by the bill drafters.

This concludes my section-by-section overview of the bill draft. I hope that the committee and the audience understands the amount of work which went into this bill, which is perhaps the most comprehensive package ever prepared by my office. Again, there are a few technical corrections to be made before the bill is introduced in Carson City, but on the whole you can understand where my ideas are coming from.

I want to leave you with these words of warning from President Woodrow Wilson: "If you want to make enemies, try to change something." I am not trying to make enemies, and I know you are not. What we all want to accomplish is reforming the process and restoring voter confidence. I pledge to work closely with the Legislature. I know there are other ideas for reform on the table. Let us serve the public well by working together and including as many ideas as we can. Thank you.

SUMMARY OF SELECTED PROVISIONS IN BILL DRAFT REQUEST NO. 24-542 RELATING TO ELECTION REFORM

(Each related BDR section is noted in parentheses.)

VIOLATING ELECTION LAWS

- Certain penalties for violating election laws in this state have been increased to a felony. (48, 52, 59, 62, 69)

VOTER REGISTRATION

- It is unlawful to provide compensation for registering voters based on the total number of voters a person registers or the total number of voters a person registers in a particular political party. (4, 79)

- At the time a person registers to vote, he must indicate whether or not he has a party affiliation. If no affiliation is indicated, he will be listed "nonpartisan." If the party indicated has not filed a certificate of existence with the Secretary of State, the person will be listed "other party." (11)

- A person who registers to vote by mail must vote in person at the first election in which he votes in the county following such registration. This requirement is to be noted on the mail-in voter registration form. (42) Identification will be required at the polling place for all voters. (43)

- Affidavits of registration must include a receipt which notes, among other things, the name, address, signature and party affiliation of the voter and the telephone number and signature of any person assisting the voter in completing the form. The affidavit of registration form must include any identification number assigned to the newly registered voter by the Department of Motor Vehicles and Public Safety and a notice that a business address may not be used unless the voter resides there. (60)

- In counties with a population less than 100,000, an alphabetical list of registered voters must be published. In larger counties, the list may be published. Current law specifies that the list be segregated by precinct. (67)

- In all counties, registration is closed on the 5th Saturday before an election regardless of whether a county uses a computer to register voters and keep records of voters. (68)

ABSENT BALLOTS

- County clerks must prepare a list of all persons who have requested absent ballots, and make the list available to the public. Current law allows only candidates or their designated representatives to have access to applications for absent voter ballots. (20)

- A person who wishes to have his name excluded from the list of persons who have requested absent ballots must indicate that fact on his application for an absent ballot. (49)

- Sufficient written notice for requesting an absent ballot may be: a written request; a form prescribed by the Secretary of State marked with an unique control number; or a form provided by the Federal Government. (48)

- A person who receives an absent ballot, but chooses to vote in person, must surrender the absent ballot and provide satisfactory identification before being permitted to vote at the polling place. The absent ballot must be collected and marked "spoiled." A penalty is provided if a person other than the voter who requested an absent ballot returns the absent ballot. (52)

CHALLENGES TO VOTERS

- An election board is prohibited from issuing a ballot to a voter who has been challenged on grounds of residency until the voter executes an oath or affirmation and provides proof of residence. (45)

BALLOT SECURITY

- Ballots must be dated and marked to indicate the election for which they are valid. The Secretary of State must designate a color for each statewide election, and make certain that no color is used more than once every 3 years. (12, 13)

- Following each election, county clerks must audit all election materials and seal them in a vault for no less than 22 months. A notice must be published at least 2 weeks before their destruction. Within 5 days of the election, the clerk must verify the number of ballots collected against the number of ballots prepared for the election. This audit must be completed before witnesses, including both successful and unsuccessful candidates in the election. (53)

PRIMARY ELECTIONS

- The nomination of a minor political party candidate or the filing by an independent candidate has no effect on whether a primary election is held. (39)

- If candidates from only one major political party file for an office and there are only two candidates for a vacant position, there will be no primary election even if there are one or more minor party or independent candidates in the race. (39)

MINOR POLITICAL PARTIES

- The names of the candidates of a minor political party must be placed on the general election ballot if the party filed a certificate of existence and a list of candidates with the Secretary of State, and, at the last general election, the party received for its candidates at least 1 percent of the total number of votes cast for the office of petition signed by a number of registered voters equal to at least 1 percent of the total votes. Current law requires at least 3 percent of the votes. (2)

PETITIONS FOR INITIATIVE OR REFERENDUM, QUALIFICATION OF POLITICAL PARTY OR RECALL OF PUBLIC OFFICER

- A receipt indicating the number of documents and pages accepted and the person's statement of the number of signatures contained in the petition will be issued when a county clerk accepts certain petitions. (5)

- The verification of signatures on certain petitions may be witnessed by the person who submits the petition or the public officer who is the subject of a recall. (6)

- A petition for the placement of a minor political party's candidates on the ballot must: include the name of the county in which it is circulated; be accompanied by an affidavit of the person circulating the document which verifies that the signatures are valid; and be submitted not later than 40 days before the 2nd Friday in August. (29)

- Signatures must be accompanied by the signers' residence address, the date on which the petition was signed, and the name of the county in which the signer is registered to vote. (29)

- A petition's failure to qualify may be contested by filing an appeal within 5 working days which includes the reason for the appeal and the number of signatures deemed invalid that are being contested. The final decision on such an appeal may be appealed to the First Judicial Court. (7, 10).

NONE OF THESE CANDIDATES

- Ballots must offer "None of these candidates" as an option in all state or judicial races, including: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, State Controller, Attorney General, Supreme Court Justice, State Senator, State Assemblyman, University of Nevada Regent, member of the State Board of Education, and District Judge. If "None of these candidates" receives the highest number of votes, the office is declared vacant and, depending on the office, may be filled by the candidate receiving the next highest number of votes, appointed by the Governor from a group nominated by the Commission on Judicial Selection, or appointed following a vote by one or more boards of county commissioners. (41)

COMPUTER USE

- If voter registrations are performed by computer, a facsimile of a voter's signature may be used for verification or comparison purposes. (15)

- If an election board register is kept by computer, it must include all the information in the original affidavits of registration. (19)

DATE CHANGES

- The primary election must be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June rather than in September. (31)

- No name may be printed on a primary election ballot unless the person has filed an acceptance or declaration of candidacy and paid the required fee between January 1 and the first Tuesday in March. The current deadline for filing is the second Tuesday in May. (32)

- An independent candidate for partisan office must file a declaration of candidacy between January 1 and the 2nd Tuesday in March. Current law specifies the 1st Wednesday in July as the deadline. (36)

- A minor political party which desires to place its candidates on the general election ballot must file with the Secretary of State between January 1 and the last Friday in February. Currently, such filing is accepted until the end of June. Each candidate must file his declaration of candidacy and pay the required fee after the party's list is filed, but not later than the first Tuesday in March. A minor political party's candidates for President and Vice President must be nominated not later than the first Tuesday in September. (30)

- Certain petitions of candidacy must be submitted for signature verification not less than 40 days before the 2nd Friday in August. Currently, county clerks have 65 days to verify these signatures. (29, 36, 76)

- Within 2 days after certain petitions are submitted for verification, the county clerk must forward a determination of the total number of signatures to the Secretary of State. Current law provides 5 days for this process. On notification from the Secretary of State that the number is sufficient, the clerks have 7 days to verify the number of persons whose signatures appear on the document who are registered in his county. Current law provides 15 days. Within 15 days (formerly 30 days) of receipt of an order to examine and verify every signature on a petition, the county clerk must report back to the Secretary of State. (22, 23, 25)

- An initiative petition which proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute must be submitted at least 70 days before the next legislative session. Current law states 95 days. If the petition proposes an amendment to the constitution, 130 rather than 155 days before the next general election are noted. If it is for a referendum, the documents must be submitted not less than 160 days (currently 185 days) before the next general election. (75)

- For special elections, the filing deadlines are to be prescribed by the Secretary of State. (17)

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

- No political subdivision of the state may change district boundaries in any year in which a general election is held. (14)

- A person who does not maintain a residence in Nevada may register to vote for President and Vice President of the United States if he files a sworn statement that he is not registered to vote anywhere else and proves that he maintains a bank account, has registered his motor vehicle or has a domicile in the state. (18)

- Any mechanical voting systems used in the state must meet or exceed the standards set by the Federal Election Commission. (72 - effective 10/94)

ELECTION REFORM PROPOSALS

SUBMITTED BY:

MONA L. SNAPE, ESQ.

FEBRUARY 8, 1993

original in Research Library

EXHIBIT F

Senator Raggio stated he would like his opposition noted to the exemption from the statutory cap which is included in the bill.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 307 and opened the hearing on Senate Bill (S.B.) 250.

S.B. 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

Cheryl Lau, Secretary of State, State of Nevada, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. She submitted to the committee a summary and overview of this bill (Exhibit K). She went through the summary section by section with the committee.

Tamara Clark, Libertarian Party, spoke on S.B. 250. She told the committee she does not take election procedures lightly. She stated a lot of S.B. 250 is good, but it does need some improvements. She wanted to remind the committee of the reason this bill is before them. She stated:

> Your constituents were not very comfortable with how the elections in Clark County were run and I am speaking strictly on Clark County, because that is where I come from. Hundreds of people showed up at both Cheryl Lau's meeting and other meetings to talk about it. And there has always been this lack of trust between your constituents and their legislators for they feel their voices are never heard and no matter what we say you are going to come back and do the opposite of what we want. Senate Bill 250 has a lot of that in it and I think we need to use Senate Bill 250 as a bill that your constituents become comfortable with and that they feel their voices were finally heard and not a bill that addresses election reform, but never addresses election reform. I think you need to remember also that ballot access is so important in our country. Many of you who are republicans would not be here today if the ballot access laws that exist today existed when the republican party started. One of the greatest presidents in this country, Abraham Lincoln, came from a minor party representing an idea that was considered crazy, abolishing slavery. And if he had to deal with the access laws that I deal with today, he would have never been president. And we need to remember that great thought through politics comes from many ideas and never eliminating anybody's ability to access the ballot. What I would like to do is go through some of the areas. I am going to talk about those things I > have a problem with. I will leave the things alone that are good, I don't want to waste anybody's time here, but the things we have a problem with. I am going to start with section 6 through section 10 which is an appeal process by the secretary of state. One of the things that brought this about was petitioners in this state had no avenue to readdress grievance if we had a problem with our petition and the secretary of state had no ability to override the county clerks or the county registrars. At the beginning this is very good. It now gives Cheryl Lau the ability to say, 'Hey, I'm the final say on this and if there is a problem I can take care of it.' But in going through here, as you read through this appeal process, the bottom line is Cheryl Lau is the final decision, we put in writing an appeal to her and then she is the decision again. When I go to court, I do not appeal to the same judge that I originally heard. I think what we were looking for was something a little more along the line of some type of a panel that included both some representatives of Cheryl Lau, some constituents, possibly some people here in the legislature and a couple of lawyers, but something a little more expansive than just the secretary of state. We did not want the same person that was going to make the first decision to make the final decision.

Senator Hickey asked if other states were using this process Ms. Clark was describing. Ms. Clark stated no other state, that she was aware of, was using this process, but she added, they do not have the situation that Nevada had whereby the secretary of state did not have a final say.

Ms. Clark told the committee in section 13, item 2 addresses the issue of colors of ballots. She said she would like to see the colors rotated for at least a 4-year period due to the elections which are run on a 4-year cycle.

Ms. Clark stated in section 20 with regard to the absentee ballots which was mentioned by Cheryl Lau. She told the committee in section 49 it states a person who wishes his name be excluded from a list prepared persuant to provisions of section 20 of this must indicate so on his application. She explained this specifically says your name will be excluded from the list being made available to the candidates and other individuals and she stated she has a problem with this language. She told the committee in Clark County they had a real problem with absentee ballots this year and accountability which really takes the teeth out of accountability. She explained there were hundreds of citizens who got to the polls on election day and found that absentee ballots were cast in their name and yet they did not request one. Ms. Clark stated section 49, item 3 undoes any security.

Ms. Clark told the committee section 29, items A and B were a problem for her. She explained when the citizens came before Cheryl Lau and requested they lessen the requirements for petitioning. She feels the affidavit and circulator requirement are archaic and not needed, because the final verification of a petition does go to the county registrar and they do check to make sure each person is a registered voter. She stated they do not need tougher circulator requirements as long as all of the signatures are checked by the registrar.

Senator Nevin stated this requirement helps control the ballots and who acquired the signatures in case there are problems. Ms. Clark stated they do not need to add language to this section, they need to delete some. She told the committee they do not need a circulator requirement not do they need an affidavit requirement. She explained when a petition is circulated the registrar of voters is the final check and balance because they check to see the signatures on the petition are registered voters and if the signature does not match that of a registered voter it is thrown out.

Senator Hickey asked her what she would delete from section 29. She told him she would delete lines A and B.

Ms. Clark went on to section 36, item B, which gives minor parties 1 percent access and independent candidates 3 percent, but she feels it should be 1 percent overall. She feels more numbers makes it more difficult so she would change it to 1 percent for all parties.
Ms. Clark told the committee in section 39, item 3 makes this the most restrictive ballot access law in the history of the United States. She was told this by numerous federal judges and attorneys from all over the country and she stated this law would violate the equal protection clause and this will cause a court case. She suggested they leave the bill as it was and omit this item from the bill.

Ms. Clark told the committee section 49 which is None of these candidates, should be made to mean something. She explained if None of these Candidates wins, another election should be held and the citizens should be able to pick new candidates.

Ms. Clark stated in section 53, items 4 and 5, she would like to change this to include the voted ballots in contesting and not have to go through a judge to include these ballots.

Ms. Clark explained the next section she has a problem with is section 62, item 10 on page 29, line 38 which states, "a person who by mail registers to vote pursuant to this section may be assisted in completing an application for registration by any other person. The application must include the telephone number, signature of a person who assisted the applicant. Failure to provide this information required by this subsection will not result in the application being deemed incomplete." She told the committee there was a big problem in Clark County with people who were filling out mail-in registrations for other people and they were altering their political parties and sending in registrations for individuals who did not want them. She explained this will not solve anything. She suggested on the application in bold, red writing it should state, "Anybody helping to fill this out should include their name and address," so the voter knows if someone is helping them the individual who is helping them should have to write their name and address on the application also. Senator Hickey stated there is a problem with this kind of system because, for example, what if the voter is blind and cannot see that on the top of the application. Ms. Clark stated this section, as is, does not address the problem and she asked the committee not to pass bills which have no substance.

Ms. Clark then went on to section 76, line 29 which is another problem with circulator requirements. She stated we are making requirements more difficult rather than easier. She urged the committee to listen to what the citizens are saying because nobody else has listened.

Senator Nevin asked Ms. Clark if she would have any objection if he amended the bill to apply to a population of 400,000 or more. Ms. Clark stated she did object to that amendment. Senator Nevin told her the north part of the state does not have the problem the south has with this issue and Ms. Clark stated they may not now, but they could in the future.

Richard Puckett, Libertarian Party of Clark County, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. He told the committee some of the provisions in this bill are very helpful and address some serious problems, but he also thinks there are some provisions which make it unreasonably difficult for minor parties. He stated one of the provisions is in section 30, lines 18 and 19 which states minor political parties must file candidacy by the last Friday in February whereas other candidates have to file by the first Tuesday in March and he feels this is very restrictive.

Mr. Puckett stated in section 39, item 3 which has to do with minor parties not forcing a primary. He said he does not agree with this because minor parties do not force primaries.

Senator Hickey asked Mr. Puckett if he wanted to eliminate the language in section 39, item 3 and Mr. Puckett stated he did in fact want this eliminated.

Mr. Puckett told the committee there were several sections of this bill proposed by Cheryl Lau to be very good, as in section 4 which eliminates the bounty for registering voters. He stated he also supports section 12 which improves security with regard to the date of the ballots. Mr. Puckett did suggest the ballots be printed with the date covering the entire ballot. He told the committee section 53, item 2 was a big improvement over the previous process which puts into place an audit process which would increase the confidence in the election. Mr. Puckett also liked section 54, item 4 which allows the lists to be made available on diskettes. He iterated the voter registration lists and the absentee ballot requests need to be accurate to make sure these are real voters. Chairman O'Connell asked Mr. Puckett if he was aware of the federal law coming down which prohibits purging of any voter lists. He stated he was not aware of that and would like to see a copy of that letter sent to Chairman O'Connell. He went through various other sections with the committee which he agreed with.

K.R. "Sandy" Harmon, Vice Chairman, Libertarian Party of Nevada, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. Mr. Harmon read from prepared testimony, see Exhibit L. He told the committee section 28, subsection 2(a) does not clear up the ambiguity as to the exact requirement for continued qualification of a minor party.

Dale Erquiaga, Elections Deputy, State of Nevada, addressed the committee to try and clear up Mr. Harmon's questions. He stated it is the understanding of the secretary of state's administration that they have applied this law as have previous secretaries of state. He told the committee the way the formula is applied for the offices of representative in Congress in District 1 and District 2, the total votes cast there are added together and 3 percent is taken, but now it would be 1 percent.

James Frye, Secretary, Libertarian Party of Nevada, spoke on S.B. 250. He told the committee he had two problems with this bill and one suggestion for improvement, but otherwise he thinks it is a very good bill. The first problem he has is section 39 which deals with the minor party not forcing a primary run off if a major party has two candidates. He stated he was not going to elaborate on whether this is fair or just, but pragmatically if this is passed, somebody will sue the state and probably win and he believes it would be better not to have it in there. Mr. Frye stated the second section he has problems with is section 30. He stated if you look closely and think about it, the minor party candidates will actually have to file before the major party candidates, because the minor party candidates filing with the secretary of state is like declaring candidacy. He suggests this section be rewritten to say the list of candidates be filed at the same time as the deadline for major party candidate filing and then given a week or two after that for each individual candidate to actually pay his filing fee. Mr. Frye stated he has a personal suggestion for section 28, paragraph a. He suggested instead of comparing the number of votes to a total in the representative in Congress, base it on 5 percent in two or three partisan elections.

Marlene Henderson, Registrar of Voters, Washoe County, spoke on S.B. 250. She stated she wanted to just submit her notes to Secretary of State, Cheryl Lau and then testify before the committee on Wednesday.

Lois Avery, Natural Law Party, testified on S.B. 250. She told the committee she attended the meeting in Reno in which Cheryl Lau took testimony and she stated she was impressed. She stated she liked section 24, line 30 where they change the percentage of the petitions from 110 percent to 100 percent. She explained this would save the State of Nevada a lot of money because the random count will be used in many more cases and they will not have to count every signature. She further stated she liked section 28 where they have changed it to 1 percent. She explained this makes it a lot more possible to achieve, though it does not quite address the issue the previous speaker brought up for the small elections. Ms. Avery stated she also liked section 29, subsection 4, where it explains what makes a signature valid. She told the committee of several other sections with which she liked and agreed. She did tell the committee she had one complaint which was in section 30, subsection 1(a), which lists the deadline for the list of candidates. She suggested the deadline be 2 months before the primary and maybe having the primary at the end of June or the beginning of July.

Chairman O'Connell asked for any further testifiers on S.B. 250. She closed the hearing on S.B. 250. There being no further business, she adjourned the meeting at 6:50 p.m.

SB 250: summary and overview

Senate Bill 250 is the product of town hall meetings with Nevada voters, as well as working sessions with county election officials and members of the Legislature. As Secretary of State, I felt it was important to bring forth as many ideas as possible -- even those with which I might not agree completely. The goal was to give legislators a working document which will lead to meaningful reforms, especially in the areas of fraud prevention and ballot access.

Sections 1 through 20 would add entirely new language to the statutes. A summary of their impact is as follows:

Section 2 -- clarifies the word "document" as it pertains to petition circulation. We found this to be necessary, particularly as it relates to where a circulator must affix his affidavit.

Section 3 -- defines "state officer" because the term is used throughout the statutes, but nowhere is there a definitive list.

Section 4 -- outlaws the bounty for voter registration. We know there is almost unanimous consensus that this practice must be prohibited.

Sections 5 through 10 -- provides for better control of petition signature verification and establishes an appeals process.

Section 11 -- clarifies how an elector may designate party affiliation.

Section 12 -- requires that all ballots be date-stamped

Section 13 -- requires the secretary of state to prescribe colors for ballot card stock and rotate the colors to avoid confusion.

Section 14 -- closes a loophole in current law which might allow a local government board to change its district lines after the election is underway.

EXHIBIT K

Section 15 -- confirms that facsimile signatures can be used for verification purposes in counties which have on-line registration.

Section 16 -- at the request of the Federal Voting Assistance Program, provides for the late registration of Armed Forces personnel who are discharged close to election day.

Section 17 -- if Nevada required a special election to fill a vacancy for the office of Representative in Congress, there is currently no means to establish dates.

Section 18 -- allows "snow birds" to register to vote for the office of President/Vice President in compliance with federal requirements.

Section 19 -- ensures that all available information on a voter will be available for signature verification or challenges.

Section 20 -- requires the compilation of a list of those persons who have requested absent ballots so that it is available for the press or other persons concerned about election fraud.

Section 21 -- technical language inserted by the bill drafters for the purpose of identifying the two new terms defined by this bill.

Sections 22 through 25 -- shorten the time for signature verification from 65 days to 30 days in order to comply with federal requirement on the submission date of petitions. Also takes the counties out of the business of determining legal sufficiency of a petition.

Section 26 -- allows the notices of party conventions to be shortened by providing a summary of precinct information rather than a complete list.

Section 27 -- provides a means for filling vacancies in nonpartisan elections if the vacancy occurs between close of filing and the primary.

Sections 28 through 30 -- lowers the percentage required for minor political party qualification by reducing the signature formula from 3 percent to 1 percent. Clarifies petition requirements. Requires that minor party candidate file for office at the same time as Republicans and Democrats, except in the case of presidential elections.

Section 31 -- moves the primary from September to June.

Section 32 -- changes the dates for candidate filing to accommodate a June primary. Takes steps to eliminate the possibility of another "God Almighty" filing for office in Nevada.

Section 33 -- corrects a current form used by legislative candidates so that it complies with another chapter of NRS.

Section 34 -- date change for the June primary.

Section 35 -- enumerates state offices for filing purposes. University regents are not listed because they do not pay a filing fee, since they receive no compensation.

Section 36 -- clarifies petition language for independent candidates and changes time for candidate filing. NOTE: page 14, line 42 should read "the first Tuesday in March"

Section 37 -- gives the secretary of state authority to fix absent ballot crises in times of emergency, such as we saw in 1992. Clarifies outdated language pertaining to what information my office actually sends the counties.

Section 38 -- would allow a voter whose registration was lost to actually vote at the polling place if, for example, he possessed a receipt.

Section 39 -- would prevent the triggering of a primary when a minor party or independent candidate files in a race with, for example, two Democrats and no Republican

Section 40 -- county nonpartisan races need to be listed in this statute as a clean-up measure.

Section 41 -- extends "none of these candidates" to all state races and allows it to win a primary or general. The office would be declared vacant and filled by appointment. NOTE: there are several suggested amendments for this section.

Section 42 -- clarifies legislative intent that all mail-in registrants must vote in person the first time.

Section 43 -- requires identification before voting at the polls.

Section 44 -- clarifies terms.

Section 45 -- clarifies terms and requires that a person challenged because of residency show proof that he lives where he says he does.

Section 46 -- the amendment to subsection (2)(d) is needed because not all officers for whom all voters in a county vote are county officers. District judges, and in most counties members of Congress, are also elected at large.

Sections 47 through 52 -- deal with absent ballots. Provide better control of absent ballot requests, establish penalties for falsely requesting an absent ballot, establish the list of absent ballot voters, allow the voter to withhold his name from this list if he chooses, brings statutes into compliance with federal law, and allow a voter to surrender his absent ballot at the polls and vote in person. There is a fiscal impact of approximately $4,000 over the biennium because this makes the secretary of state a distribution point for absent ballot request forms.

Section 53 -- requires an audit of unused ballots and public notice when old supplies are destroyed.

Section 54 -- makes some clean-up changes to availability of voter lists, but will also make the information available to all our political parties.

Section 55 -- allows the counties to recover costs for mail-in registration forms distributed in large quantities by the political parties.

Sections 56 & 57 -- clarifies responsibilities of local governments submitting ballot questions.

Section 58 -- brings our laws into line with federal requirements for overseas registrants.

Sections 59 through 63 -- provide accountability for deputy registrars, mail-in registrations, and county election officers. Requires a point-of-registration receipt, improved forms, and stricter penalties for fraud Clarifies that a voter may not register with a business address..

Section 64 -- updates the statutes to reflect technological capabilities of on-line registration.

Section 65 -- allows individuals to change parties to vote for a particular person in a primary, up until the time registration closes. Allows a cancellation of duplicate registrations.

Section 66 -- a date change for the June primary.

Section 67 -- newspaper publications by precinct number are too hard to read. We need an alpha listing so voters can find their own names.

Section 68 --we must have a standard close of registration date throughout our state, and that date should remain at the 30-day-mark before an election.

Section 69 -- establishes certain felony penalties.

Sections 70 through 74 -- require that all voting systems meet FEC standards; require that computer tabulation programs be prepared before a public committee; change the make-up of the accuracy certification board to ensure broader representation.

Sections 75 -- changes dates for initiative and referendum petition submission to meet new signature verification timeline.

Section 76 -- change dates for independent candidate for president's petition submission to meet the new signature verification timeline; clarifies rules.

Section 77 and 78 -- removes the motor voter program from vehicle registration because we find too many duplicate registrations from the drivers' license division program.

Section 79 -- repeal the bounty even as it is hinted at in this process used by some counties.

Section 80 -- allows the four minor parties which qualified in 1992 ballot access in 1994.

Section 81 -- these are the effective dates as established by the bill drafters.

Testimony before the Senate Committee on Government Affairs
Monday, March 22nd 1993

Madam Chairman, honorable Committee members; I thank you for the opportunity to speak before you today about Senate Bill 250, a bill of importance to all voters and political parties in our great state. For the record, my name is Kirt Harmon, commonly known as Sandy and am a resident of Tonopah, queen of the silver camps. I am the vice-chair of the Libertarian Party of Nevada and a former member of the Tonopah Town Board.

When I was a boy I shared the common American dream of growing up to become president in a country where any citizen could vote or even run for office and help run this great land of ours. Having lived in California when Jerry Brown was Governor I lowered my expectations accordingly and would today be quite content to be an Assemblyman, an office that I once ran for and would like to be able to run for once again some day as a minor party candidate.

I have a great deal of respect and admiration for Secretary of State Lau and am impressed with what she has done in order to put together this bill draft and address the many problems that have occurred for a number of years in certain areas of the state, problems that we in Nye county have not experienced. I also have a great respect for you honorable Senators for your dealing with this difficult situation. Those involved in putting this bill together should be commended as this document, for the most part, is an excellent piece of work.

Having said these complimentary things I must now point out a problem or two that I see in the bill draft:

Section 28, sub 2(a) does not clear up the ambiguity as to the exact requirement for continued qualification of a minor party. In the past we always understood that our continued existence depended on any one candidate polling 3% of a congressional district vote. Last election we did better than that in more than one race but were told that we no longer have ballot access due to a different interpretation. While I applaud the change from 3% to 1%, could you please specify in this bill whether we must poll a percentage of one congressional race or both congressional races? I lost my re-election by 19 votes last year. A large number of local citizens have expressed disappointment in my loss and want me to run again which I am not allowed to do as things stand right now. This is not fair to either myself or the voters.

Section 39, sub 3 displays an inherent unfairness towards minor party candidates. If 2 democrats wish to run against 1 Republican then the Democrats must run off in a primary yet if those two democrats face a lone Libertarian, Populist or whatever then they turn the general election into a three way contest. Now honestly, philosophical differences aside, what's the difference between that lone Republican and myself in this hypothetical election? Are you saying that a minor party candidate is not to be taken seriously? Or is there some Dick Tuck style dirty tricks going on here as a reaction to the gains of my particular party in 1992? I have been active in both the Republican and Democratic parties and I find such reactionary actions reminiscent of back room shenanigans that I observed during those years.

Of the many positive suggested changes that I see in this bill draft, I would like to heartily endorse section 41. While voters have been able to express their feelings in the past with the non-binding "none of the above" option in certain races, this clearly and effectively states to one and all that we in Nevada have the option of saying "NO" with a note of finality to it. I'm not going to spend more of your time going into some of the other areas of this bill that is of concern to many of us as I am sure that I'd be repeating what many others have said or are about to say.

While I am here before you as an officer of the Libertarian Party of Nevada, I also speak as a Nevadan of nearly 16 years residence in this great state who is concerned that no one ever be disenfranchised nor ever lose his or her opportunity to the great American dream of running for political office.

I am also concerned that if this body is not careful in changing various provisions of the election code that we may once again endure the effect of the Federal government violating our state's rights by directing duly elected officials in how our elections will be run. The confusion created by the lawsuit of last year is nothing compared to what may well happen in the near future with so many federal judgeships to be appointed by the current administration. As a student of history I know well that history repeats itself and I'm afraid that history will indeed repeat itself when it comes to interventionist activities by an activist federal administration of so-called "liberal" persuasion and agenda and that "enlightened" federal judges will be running many state and local elections. One Supreme Court seat will soon be filled by the new administration and I am sure that it is just the start of major changes that are not necessarily all for the better. I hope that such a scenario scares you half as much as it does me. I hope that you will work to make our election laws fair to every Nevadan and not just those in power.

I thank you again for your time and patience and hope that in the spirit of fair play you will consider making some changes in the draft before you and that together we can all work for a better Nevada.

> Nevada case law on it. There are cases even applying strict scrutiny that have upheld 1-year residency requirements. Briefly, I would also like to address the issue Senator Hickey raised about the annexed territory. I was concerned that amending this charter may cause problems...

Senator Raggio asked Mr. Malkiewich if he had stated he found precedence that specifically indicated a 1-year residence requirement would be inappropriate. Mr. Malkiewich stated he believed there are cases holding a 1-year residency requirement both appropriate and inappropriate. He explained checking the different state courts and the different circuit courts reveal there will be precedence, as far as 1-year is concerned, on both sides.

Mr. Malkiewich stated he checked into Senator Hickey's questions regarding a person running for office if the area he lives in was annexed within 11 months of the election date. He told the committee he found under the language of the Henderson City Charter, he does not think they could run for office, because it states you must have been a resident of the city for 12 months. Mr. Malkiewich was concerned all of the city charters might be worded that way, but he found they were not. He explained the Las Vegas City Charter provides an individual "must have resided within the territory defined by the boundaries of the city" for a certain period. He told the committee the intention of that language was to address that type of situation with regard to annexation.

Chairman O'Connell asked Mr. Malkiewich to repeat the California precedent. He stated there were a few cases, but the primary case was Johnson vs Hamilton which holds that any durational residents requirement for candidates for local office in excess of 30 days is a violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the 14th Amendment. He explained the California Supreme Court has taken a very hard line on the durational residency requirement.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 302 and opened the hearing on Senate Bill (S.B.) 250.

S.B. 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

Cheryl Lau, Secretary of State, State of Nevada, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. She thanked the committee for allowing her to answer the questions the public posed for her at the previous meeting on this bill.

She started with section 6 through 10 where there was a concern of the appeal process for signature verification. She stated it was suggested the legislature create a panel instead of allowing the secretary of state to hear the appeal and issue a final ruling. Secretary Lau stated Senator Hickey had asked about model legislation and whether there was such a piece of legislation, but she could find none. However, there are a few states that have a state election board and that board is comprised of people who are appointed either by the secretary of state or the governor and they include equal representation from the political parties. She told the committee this is an alternative they may want to consider.

Secretary of State Lau directed the committee's attention to section 11. This section states, "indication of party affiliations." She told the committee she got two suggestions from the Washoe County Registrar as to this section and pertaining to her computerized records. Secretary of State Lau stated she is incorporating these ideas into her suggested amendments for the committee during their work session.

Secretary of State Lau went to section 13, which suggests a 3-year rotational color coding for the ballots. Secretary of State Lau stated there was a suggestion for a 4-year rotation in color coding, but she does not feel this is necessary. She explained all ballots are shredded after 22 months and that means there is no overlap during a 3-year period, but she added she will leave it up to the committee.

She addressed section 14, changes in political boundaries. She told the committee a lobbyist came up to her and asked if this section prohibits annexation and she told him it was not intended to do so. She explained this section prohibits a board from changing lines after candidate filing has begun, in an attempt to redistrict an opponent out of a particular race. She stated she is offering new language in amendments to the committee to make this clear.

Secretary of State Lau went to sections 20 and 49 which address the give and take away concern. She explained section 20 establishes a public list of absentee voters and section 49 allows a voter to withhold his name from the list. She told the committee this exemption is in response to the complaints from many senior citizens who do not want their name on another public list. She explained, by withholding the name from the list, does not mean the name is withheld from the file of requests and the candidates or designee can still look at the file of requests, but the name can be withheld from a public list.

She explained section 28. The concern was using the office of representative in congress for petitions. She told the committee she offered an explanation which she hopes will clarify this language. She explained the intent is still to add the total votes cast in both congressional districts and then take 1 percent of that figure, not 3 percent.

Secretary of State Lau drew attention to section 29, section 36 and Section 76. These sections deal with circulator requirements. She stated for the record:

> This is not a new requirement. It clarifies existing practice in this way. The current law reads one of the signers must complete the affidavit, but the last three secretaries of state standardized the petition requirement through our power to prescribe petitions. So on the form prescribed by my office, which has been used by the other secretaries of state, we require the circulator to sign box one and complete the affidavit. We have done this for a very good reason, a reason pointed out by Senator Nevin. It is important to know who carried a petition in case signatures were forged or in case voters were not told what they were being asked to sign. You see, in 1992, last year's case dealing with term limit petitions, the Nevada Supreme Court agreed, calling some out-of-state circulators mercenaries, who had misrepresented a cause to the voters and at my town meetings I was told that this was too difficult. How come you have rules here in a law, then you have rules on a petition? Let's get together and have a place where all the rules are in one place and this is what we are doing. That is sections 29, 36 and 76. We are consolidating what has been used for many, many years. There is nothing new here. The only thing new here is to take the clerks out of the business of determining legal sufficiency. Let's not do that. Let's leave that to a court of law. Let's have those clerks check the signature to make sure they match. Let's have them check the name, address and date. But then if the circulator signs a little bit out of that box or if the notary is not quite right, don't leave that to the county clerks. It makes it too difficult. They throw out a whole list of names and maybe it was just one technical insufficiency that did it. That is the change I have in [sections] 29, 36 and 76. Circulator requirements? Not new.

Secretary Lau then continued with section 30, subsection 1(b), minor candidate lists. She stated this bill standardizes filing dates for all candidates and in doing so they work with the existing framework of what they had to deal with. She explained this minor party lists arrive on one date and the candidates file on another date.

Senator Lowden asked if this amendment would mean all candidates would file on the same date. Secretary of State Lau stated this was correct. All candidates would indeed file on the same date.

Secretary of State Lau referred again to section 36 and section 76, which refers to percentage requirements for independent candidates. She stated she agrees with the testimony given. The percentage should be lowered from 3 percent to 1 percent. She stated this was a drafting error.

Senator Rhoads asked why there should be a percentage at all if the party is recognized. Secretary of State Lau explained they have looked at that and it goes back to the research which was done by the majority of the states, but she stated they are also looking at that aspect to see what else can be done. She iterated historically 3 percent was used and her office is recommending going down to 1 percent, but perhaps if they are on the ballot they would not be required 14,000 signatures, only 4,000.

Dale Erquiaga, Elections Deputy, State of Nevada, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. He added some states only require 500 or 1,000 signatures.

Secretary of State Lau went to section 39 which is the minor political party candidates having no effect on a major party primary. She explained this is only necessary if the primary date is moved to an earlier date. She iterated this is necessary. She told the committee if on the last day to file there are two democrats running for the same state assembly seat and on that same day there is a new minor party candidate in the same race, because of the federal ruling, the minor party has until July to bring forth their petition. She continued, telling the committee this would force a primary between the two democrats and when one wins and advances to the general election they must face the new party candidate, but what would happen if the new party candidate does not get the number of signatures necessary to fulfill the petition requirement. If this happens then the state has held an election without reason, because there is no longer a minor party candidate in the race. She explained she is not looking for any penalty for anyone, she is looking at logic. She asked how the state force a primary when they do not know who all the players are. She stated if there is a late filing date there should be equity all around and she said it is only true if the primary is moved to an earlier time, such as June.

Secretary of State Lau explained section 31 with the committee. She stated this section proposes Nevada move its primary from the first Tuesday in September to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June. She told the committee she was not the first secretary of state to try this. She explained this was tried for one election cycle many years ago. Secretary of State Lau stated at the town hall meetings which she held, constituents stated they wanted to be a part of presidential primaries and to participate more. They felt having a late primary does not give them a chance to get to know who their candidates are. She told the committee the county clerks and registrars feel administratively, this late primary is better and will allow the clerks and the registrars more time to administer an election. Secretary of State Lau stated this may reduce the precinct walkers and the lawn signs during the summer months. She explained there is one caveat in that there may be a bigger cost to candidates due to an earlier primary which may cause them to spend more money.

Senator Raggio told Secretary of State Lau she is proposing an issue which was done previously. He explained they formerly held the primary in June. He stressed they changed the primary back to September for the same reasons Secretary of State Lau is explaining, are not problems. He iterated telling the committee the length of the election was so long, 5 months, that quite frankly, the voting public was irritated by the process. He stated this will lengthen the time for the general election and it did not prove to be very thrifty in the past. He said his opinion was elections cost an inordinate amount of money as it is and he would not like to see individuals have to put more money into campaigns as well. He explained that is why the compelling reason to change even though other states remained in June, but Nevada went to September for that reason.

Secretary of State Lau told the committee the length of the general election is something she is very concerned about and that is why she left this until last. She stated it is not just expensive financially, but personally as well and she wanted the committee to be aware of that.
She agreed with Senator Raggio in that elections are way too costly even in minor political positions. She stressed to the committee this proposal was what she heard from the public in town hall meetings and she felt it extremely important she bring this up before the committee and the public so she could give them the pros and cons, but she stated she did promise she would put this proposal in the bill.

Secretary of State Lau went on to explain section 41 which addresses, "None of these Candidates." She stated this was another concern brought up by the public. She explained the most common concern expressed was this section would allow the Governor or the county commissioner to appoint a candidate who lost to "None of these Candidates." Secretary of State Lau stated Chairman O'Connell very graciously pointed out this oversight prior to the hearings and she added this was going to be contained in her amendments. She told the committee she will prepare an appropriate amendment which would say the Governor and the county commissioner cannot appoint a candidate who lost to"None of these Candidates." Unfortunately, she stated it may in fact be unconstitutional to have "None of these Candidates" win an election. She explained the constitution talks in terms of a person who is elected and "None of the Above" is not a person. She stated the decision would be up to the committee, but she suggested the staff attorneys take a good look at this to see if this is indeed constitutional or not.

Secretary of State Lau then explained section 53 to the committee. She stated this is the audit of unused ballots. She stated the unused ballots are sealed so this section must be amended to allow them to be opened before the audit can occur. She stressed it was also suggested that the judge is not the best person to decide whether there is due cause to inspect voted ballots. She stated she disagrees. She stressed a judge is the only person who should render this decision and she does not believe voted ballots should be subject to inspection except under a court order.

Secretary of State Lau explained section 62, subsection 10, requires the identification of any person who assists with a mail-in registration. She stated this section provides a voter may be assisted by someone else when completing a mail-in registration and it requires this person provide his or her name and phone number. It also states failure to provide this additional information will not result in the application being deemed incomplete. She explained this last sentence does not take the meat out of the provision, but it is model legislation in other states which have been using mail-in registration successfully since the 1970s. She told the committee this provides an accurate trail so they can track down someone who alters a form or misrepresents a voters intention. She iterated the forms would be printed with appropriate instructions.

Secretary of State Lau told the committee her bill contains strict penalties for election fraud and she pointed out in most instances she proposed election crimes be considered a felony. She stated she believes if an individual tampers with another individual's right to vote, that criminal should face the possibility of losing his or her right to vote. She told the committee she understands their concerns with prison overcrowding when she added the felonies. She stated they could look at fines if that is what they prefer to do.

Mr. Erquiaga addressed the committee on the problem of motor voter fraud. He stated there are two measures moving through the United States Congress, S. 460 and H.R. 2, which are commonly referred to as the Federal Motor Voter Act, although they have more wide ranging effect than just motor voter. He stated:

> Briefly, what the bill does is mandate motor voter programs which Nevada already has, mandates mail-in registration programs which Nevada already has and mandates what is called agency based registration which Nevada does not have. It will require that mail-in registration forms be provided at state agencies of public assistance, welfare, employment security, those offices. That is one of the areas that is being worked out in conference committee. The [United States] senate bill allows the state's chief election officer to pick which agencies will have agency-based registration. Whether that was all agencies of public assistance or just certain agencies, that would be a state option. The [United States] house bill mandates all state agencies of public assistance. That is one of the points they need to work out. One of the other major provisions which indirectly affects what you are doing in the area of election reform, although it doesn't specifically affect S.B. 250, is the change in the way voter registration lists are maintained and updated and you mentioned this on Monday, Madame Chairman. Currently, Nevada purges its list for failure to vote after a presidential election. You'll recall we used to purge after every general election and in the last session the secretary of state proposed and the legislature agreed that that purge occur only after presidential years. A purge for failure to vote will now be outlawed throughout the United States. What will happen, the names will remain on the lists for two federal elections, are you with me, and you must send the voter a notice that he has failed to vote, so if you send him a notice that he has failed to vote and his name stays on the list for two federal elections, then you put him in inactive status, you don't take him off the list. You simply move the voter to an inactive status. This, the Federal Election Commission will have to prescribe regulations for, because it is very unclear in the bill and even the information Secretary of State Lau received yesterday from the Federal Election Commission is still unclear as to what the intent will be. They are saying there may be two poll books at the polling places. An active poll book and an inactive poll book. If a voter appears 6 years down the line and he is still in the inactive poll book, he has to be allowed to vote. That is a fairly dramatic change for us and we will have to work out the way we purge our lists. That will have to be removed from our statutes and we will have to adjust. There are also provisions that will require the manner in which you update addresses. It was suggested on Monday that we could send a first class postcard and if that was returned, then you could purge, you can't. You can send a first class postcard and if the voter proactively returns it to you, you being the Clark County Registrar of Voters or the Esmerelda County Clerk, the voter returns that card saying, 'yah you're right, I moved,' then you may change his or her address. If the voter does not return his card you can't change his address. So, the counties will have new responsibilities for automatically updating lists if people move within their jurisdiction and trying to send postcards to people to get them to respond back. That, again, will be tried by the Federal Election Commission [FEC]. It will result in much larger voter registration lists and they may not be what is termed clean, they may actually have voters who have moved. One of the suggestions is, and it also does not directly affect this bill, but it might be something you consider, it has been discussed. This bill does deal with challenged ballots in some sections. What has been suggested at the federal level is you allow voters to vote a provisional ballot. Currently in Nevada if you are a challenged voter at the polls, take an oath, if you are challenged on the basis of residency, if you are challenged on the basis of identity, you take an oath, you sign the oath and you vote and then you go on, your ballot is cast. A provisional ballot requires that your ballot be sealed separate from the rest of the ballots and only counted after your eligibility is determined after the fact. So if the committee is concerned that the lists are going to be out-of-date and the people will be voting in districts where, in fact, they no longer live, you may want to request some information on provisional ballots and we can provide that to you as the federal election commission provides that to us. As I say, currently it is not provided for in S.B. 250, but the challenge section is already in the bill so you could amend it further to comply with that federal law. The secretary of state sent this information to bill drafters and I believe the chairman has asked for an emergency bill draft to be prepared whenever they sign this bill finally so we can clean this up, as a trailer, perhaps, to S.B. 250. One of the things that bill drafters have asked the secretary of state's office about is election day registration. The way the first house bill is written, that is your only way not to comply with the federal laws as you move to election day registration. There are no lists, there is no 30-day close, you walk in on election day and say I am here to register to vote and you are allowed to vote. Only one state currently does that, the state is completely computerized so they can check to make sure you are not voting in 17 counties on the same day. Nevada, as you know, is not computerized at that level. The senate bill has taken steps to prevent states from exercising the election day registration escape hatch so the bill drafters have asked me if that is a possibility and I have told them > the secretary [of state] opposes election day registration and it is no longer an option. The escape hatch has been taken away from you anyway. Even if you now suddenly change to election day registration, it would not be grandfathered in under the federal law. One of the most common misperceptions of the bill is that it requires automatic voter registration at DMV [Division of Motor Vehicles and Public Safety] rather than simultaneous registration. It requires only simultaneous. When you appear at DMV and are filling out the forms for your drivers license, if you say I also want this to serve as a voter registration, they will print out a form at that time, but you have to say either I want this to be a registration or I don't want this to be a registration. There is still the voter having to take some action. It is not just automatically going to register everybody. It will be very similar to the Nevada system. Our DMV has a very clean system that relies on voter choice. The difference with the FEC is whether or not it is a positive question or a negative question, whether the voter has to say yes or whether the voter has to say no. That is still being worked out in committee.

Chairman O'Connell asked if an individual was registering their vehicle and did not want to be registered to vote, will it be on the form. Mr. Erquiaga stated it would be indicated on the vehicle registration form.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 250 and opened the hearing on Senate Bill (S.B.) 302.

SENATE BILL 302: Revises charter of City of Henderson to change residency requirement for candidates for certain public offices.

Chairman O'Connell asked for a motion on this bill.

Senator Raggio stated when the committee last heard this bill it was his suggestion to obtain an opinion from legal counsel on the constitutionality of the proposed change which was recommended by the Henderson City Council. He surmised the legal counsel indicated there was a difference of opinion in various states in precedents which are limited. He explained some of the precedents state 1-year may be unconstitutional and others state it may be constitutional. He further explained in the last meeting on this bill, a good number of the cities in this state have a 30-day requirement for candidate qualification, but there were others with longer periods. He told the Senator Lowden suggested another amendment.

SENATOR LOWDEN MOVED TO FURTHER AMEND S.B. 302 TO CHANGE 1-YEAR RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT TO 30-DAY RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT.

SENATOR CALLISTER SECONDED THE MOTION.

THE MOTION TO FURTHER AMEND S.B. 302 FAILED. (SENATORS RAGGIO, RHOADS, HICKEY, NEVIN AND CALLISTER VOTED NO.)

Chairman O'Connell called for a vote on the original motion to amend and do pass S.B. 302 by adding to line 14, "territory defined by the boundaries of the."

THE MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 302 and opened the hearing on Senate Bill (S.B.) 250.

Dan Hansen, State Chairman, Independent American Party of Nevada, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. He read from prepared testimony see Exhibit C.

Senator Hickey asked if a standard petition form developed by the secretary of state be acceptable in the petition process. Mr. Hansen said yes and no. He explained his group amended their petitions to comply with the basic requirements, but he stated they did not use the exact form that was printed because they found it cumbersome. He told the committee he would not use a standard petition unless they could make it better than the existing one.

Lynn Tynan, Concerned Citizen, Las Vegas, spoke on S.B. 250. She told the committee she was concerned about her constitutional right to vote. She commended Cheryl Lau on S.B. 250 and for coming to the aid of the public and trying to make a better system. She stated, the public needs to be represented by the public officials and not by the big money special interest groups which she feels presently run this state.

Daniel Braisted, Concerned Citizen, Las Vegas, told the committee he appreciated the time the committee was putting in on election reform, but he voiced his displeasure that the meeting did not start on time today.

Marlene Henderson, Registrar of Voters, Washoe County, spoke on S.B. 250. She presented the committee with a copy of her likes and dislikes on this bill (Exhibit D) and a copy of a letter to all interested persons with regard to the testing of the computer equipment in Washoe County. She also gave the committee members a copy of her yearly calendar of events (Exhibit E).

Tamara Clark, Libertarian Party, spoke on S.B. 250. She stated she was in agreement of most of what Cheryl Lau proposed in this bill. She did wonder about the political parties which are already on the ballot by qualifying the 1 percent or 3 percent. She explained these individuals should be considered candidates and should not be discriminated against. Ms. Clark told the committee she attended all of the town hall meetings held by Secretary of State Lau and she explained she did not hear any testimony from the citizens encouraging an earlier primary.

Jeanine Hansen, President, Nevada Eagle Forum, testified on S.B. 250. She stated her organization is an all-volunteer organization and during elections they get involved in surveying the candidates and distributing the information. She told the committee moving the primary would make it difficult to sustain a volunteer effort of individuals, because they have families and other commitments they are involved in and therefore it would be a great burden to extend the campaign period for several more months. She also expressed concern at the extra cost it would be to sustain a campaign for several more months. She encouraged the committee not to move the primary date. She is also concerned with the area of petitioners and feels young people who are not registered voters should be able to help gather signatures on petitions to help involve them in the political process. She encouraged the committee not to require an individual be a registered voter in order to gather signatures.

Russ Driver, KLAV Radio, Las Vegas, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. He told the committee he sees nothing in this bill which refers to recalls. He suggested forms and documentation be made available so an individual does not have to guess as to what form is going to be accepted by the registrar of voters. He also stated the recall time element should be extended and it should be made easier for the public to recall public officials, not harder.

Chairman O'Connell told Mr. Driver the concerns he has are already being looked at by the committee. She explained they have gotten forms from all over the country to incorporate these ideas into one form to make it easier for the petitioners.

Mr. Driver asked Secretary of State Lau if the public is allowed to recall state officials or if it is an impeachment process. Secretary of State Lau told Mr. Driver the public could indeed recall state officials. She asked Mr. Driver to remember that recall was such an important issue it is presented in a separate bill and not in S.B. 250. She explained her office wants to make sure they have streamlined and wide ranging reforms.

He then asked Secretary of State Lau about the penalties. He stated there are already penalties on the law books, but he feels these have not been enforced and asked what she is going to do regarding this process. Secretary of State Lau stated she provided Chairman O'Connell with some information regarding enforcement which she feels is very important. She stated the prisons are burgeoned and suggests there might be a series of fines which can be installed, however, she explained that is up to the committee. She did say she concurred with Mr. Driver that the penalties should be strong.

Mr. Driver also expressed concern regarding the change of date for the primary. He stated he attended the town hall meetings and never heard anyone suggest the date be changed. Secretary of State Lau told him after the meetings were over individuals told her the primary should be changed so they could participate more. She also stated she got the suggestion from letters and phone calls to her office. She explained she held three other town hall meetings and she is bringing forth all of the concerns that were brought to her attention.

Mr. Driver was concerned with regard to page 4, line 12 where it states, "the county clerk may charge a reasonable fee for providing mailing labels." He stated this fee should be spelled out. He also expressed concern regarding page 5 of the bill where it states, "the secretary of state, by regulation, establish further procedures for carrying out the provisions of this section." He stated this was an ambiguous statement, because there are no set procedures and these should be locked into the bill. Mr. Diver stated on page 6, line 29, 30, 31 and 32 it states, "except for a provision to recall a county, district or municipal officer, the petition shall be deemed filed with the secretary of state as of the date on which he receives certificates from the county clerk showing the petition to be signed by the requisite number of voters of the state" and his asked why state officer is left out of the list. Another concern he had was on page 8, lines 33, 34, 35 and 36 where it states, "include the affidavit of the person who circulated the document verifying that the signers are registered voters in the state according to his best information and belief that the signatures are genuine and were signed in his presence." He asked how the individual would know the signature was correct without a copy of their signature.

Mr. Driver told the committee he has problems with the provision on page 17, line 39, 40, 41, 42 and 43 which states, "a person registered to vote pursuant to the provisions of NRS [Nevada Revised Statutes] 293.5235, shall for the first election in which he votes, at which [time] that registration is valid, vote in person unless he has previously voted in" and he stated they bracketed out "precinct" and replaced it with "county." He pointed out if a person is not registered in the precinct he is supposed to be voting in, it leaves it wide open to have individuals voting in precincts where they do not live. He suggested they take county out and replace it with precinct. He stated another concern he has is registration by mail. He believes when the voter goes to the polls to vote, he should present picture identification before voting.

Mr. Driver also expressed concern about shredding the ballots. He told the committee the date should be all over the back of the ballot so if it is shredded you could still see the date. He also stated he was against a 30-day residency requirement. He told the committee candidates for office should be a resident of the state or district for 6 months or 1-year.

Bonnie Reynolds, County Chairman, United We Stand America of Washoe County, spoke on S.B. 250. She gave the committee copies of a letter sent to Secretary of State Lau (Exhibit F). She read from this exhibit.

Dan Williams, Concerned Citizen, Las Vegas, testified on S.B. 250. He stated he would like to see the voting process opened up for an entire week. He also expressed concern over the candidates not filing financial disclosures on the due date. Another issue he mentioned which concerned him was the 6-month waiting period for recall of a public official.

Senator Lowden asked what Mr. Williams would suggest as penalty for the candidates who did not win their election, but did not file their financial disclosure on time. Mr. Williams stated everyone who wants to be part of the process should obey the laws of the State of Nevada and the current laws should apply to the losers as well as the winners.

James Dan, Northern Regional Representative, Libertarian Party of Nevada, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. Due to the lateness of the hour Mr. Dan suggested he leave his written testimony (Exhibit G), for the committee members to review at their convenience and he stated he would return on Friday's meeting to answer any questions they might have.

Steven Dempsey, Concerned Citizen, Las Vegas testified on S.B. 250. He stated he had some concern on the recall. He explained he felt most of the concern on this issue is due to the past election and the alleged fraud that occurred. Another problem he wanted to deal with was the residency requirement. He also stated he does not like the idea of a 30-day residency requirement. Another problem he sees with a transient state like Nevada, an individual moves into the state and because they watch a little bit of television and see the campaign commercials, they feel they are fully informed on that individual in the campaign and that is not always the case. He explained candidates with a lot of money can swing the election in their favor with expensive commercials that another candidate may not be able to afford.

James Frye, Secretary, Libertarian Party of Nevada, spoke on S.B. 250. He stated if the format of the circulation petition is changed and the individual who did the circulation had their name, address and phone number on the back of the petition and then had it notarized, he feels it would prevent a lot of problems. Another problem he heard and had a suggestion for was the filing dates. He explained with the dates the secretary of state recommends there is still a problem of weather. He pointed out we can have very bad weather here at times which might prevent a potential candidate from filing on the last day. The last problem he noted was with the primary. He stated all of the problems in this section come from the desire to put the primary in June, and he feels the major motivation for moving the primary to June is so Nevadans can have an effective voice in the primary. He suggested holding a separate presidential primary in June every 4 years and keeping the primary for the rest of the elections in September.

Steve Bellingar, Concerned Citizen, Las Vegas, testified on S.B. 250. He stated he was here to support his fellow citizens of Las Vegas who have already spoken on this bill.

Richard Puckett, Libertarian Party of Nevada, spoke on S.B. 250. He stated it is important for us to change to the 1 percent requirement for ballot access. He told the committee the State of Nevada currently has the third most restrictive law on ballot access.

Mr. Puckett asked Secretary of State Lau about the candidates being able to see the deleted names from the registration lists although it would not be available to the public. He stated this would be a great compromise, but he does not see it in this particular bill and wanted to know if there was another NRS code that would allow the secretary to make that interpretation. Secretary of State Lau told him it was in section 49 of S.B. 250.

Mr. Puckett addressed section 69 regarding public officials. He asked for an definition of a public official. Secretary of State Lau told him the complete definition is in the Ethic Statute as far as what is a public person. Mr. Puckett asked if that includes the employees at the Department of Motor Vehicles and Public Safety when they are registering voters. She stated she thought this definition included these individuals.

Mr. Puckett asked for clarification on the requirements of picture identification. He stated he had a chance to look at the Federal Motor Voter legislation which will substantially change this, but from what he understands, they will still require picture identification if a particular voter is challenged as to their identity and residency. Secretary of State Lau stated that was correct.

Mr. Puckett stated he was very impressed by the computerized system Washoe County has and he asked if it would be possible for the secretary of state to find out what cost would be involved to implement that statewide or at least in Las Vegas. Secretary of State Lau told him that is why she got all of the registrars together for a meeting to discuss this, but money is a problem. She stressed they are working toward linking all of Nevada together in the future.

There being no further business, Chairman O'Connell adjourned the meeting at 6:45 p.m.

THE PRINCIPLES OF THE INDEPENDENT AMERICAN PARTY OF NEVADA ARE

1. We affirm our allegiance to the Great State of Nevada and to the Republic of the United States of America.
2. We believe that governments are sanctioned by Almighty God for the benefit of man. However, in the words of George Washington, "government is like fire a dangerous servant and a fearful master." Therefore we believe in the Check and Balance System and the Constitutional principle of States' Rights.
3. We believe in the Free Enterprise system and oppose Facism, Socialism, Communism, and all forms of totalitarian government which deprive men of life, liberty and property. We champion the rights and dignity of the individual and believe in less government, more individual responsibility and a better world under God.
4. We believe that both the Republican and Democratic Parties have deserted the principles and traditions of the Founding Fathers. We contend that they have become the proponents of Big Government, of crushing taxation, of bureaucratic edicts, of foreign aid to our enemies, and authoritarian regimentation of the citizens of this Republic. We charge that our Government which is controlled by these twin parties is out of the control of the people it was designed to serve.
5. The Independent American Party of Nevada hereby pledges a return to Constitutional limited government.

ELECTION LAWS
Re: S.B. 250

March 24, 1993

Honorable Senators:

I am Daniel Hansen, a native Nevadan. I am a father and a grandfather of many children most of whom continue to reside in Nevada. I own businesses and property in Nevada. I love Nevada and have a great interest in the government of Nevada. I am here today addressing your committee on Government Affairs representing the Independent American Party of Nevada as State Chairman with specific regard to Senate Bill No. 250.

Secretary of State, Cheryl Lau, has presented what she terms a working document that considers over 81 changes in our current election laws. It is good to consider change. It is good to review.

However, history and common sense remind us that once order and law is established it should not be changed for light or transient reasons. It is difficult and perhaps impossible for the wisest and most experienced citizen or legislator to foresee all the implications and perhaps even radical changes in the social order that one or more changes in the current law may lead to.

I therefore suggest caution in making any changes. I suggest that the burden of proof for change belongs to those that advocate change. That each point in the 81 proposed changes should have thorough consideration and compelling need and reason for change. If there is any doubt or lack of understanding regarding each proposed change, the law should remain as it is until such doubt or lack of understanding, as to the short and long term consequences, is clearly understood.

SECTION 31

Our major concern is the radical change proposed in Section 31 which changes the long established and successful primary election from our traditional month of September to the month of June. This will disrupt the established social order and procedures that have been eminently successful in Nevada in the past. What is the compelling reason to make this radical change? We see none.

Have the people petitioned for the change?

Do the people want what will amount to nearly year round political campaigns?

Do the people want political signs posted on every street corner and vacant lot year round?

Will this further disenfranchise the average citizen who is involved with family, or business, or job because of the increased cost to him or her in terms of time, finance and emotional energy to conduct a protracted and more expensive campaign?

How will this affect volunteers, homemakers and other public spirited citizens who now find it difficult to join committees and campaigns?

Will our people suffer further political burnout and cynicism?

A June primary will create numerous obstacles to citizen participation in the election process and further insure dominance in the political arena by professional politicians, bureaucrats, the super rich, affluent special interest groups, and other privileged classes such as government subsidized parasites.

SECTION 30

A June primary will also have other negative results. Section 30 will then require a minor political party to file a list of its candidates in February instead of June.

We all know that politics is the art of the possible and that timing is everything. Issues and campaigns build throughout the year particularly in a presidential year.

Minor parties are made up of citizen volunteers. We naturally respond to unfolding events. We build and recruit on issues and national candidates. I for example decided to run for office in order to support our presidential candidate.

Often times presidential candidates are not even determined until August or September.

This requirement of filing a list of candidates in February is not only burdensome to minor parties, in my opinion it will be ruinous! Besides this, the requirement is ridiculous. Minor parties do not have primaries. Why should we be required to submit our list of candidates prior to the primary elections of the major parties which use the primaries to determine their candidates for the general elections?

And then to add insult to injury, it is proposed to change the law to require that our candidate list be filed in February, nearly one year before the general election and further specifies said list cannot be amended.

We Independent Americans facing time constraints and financial difficulties had one state meeting in Tonopah in 1992 to recruit and certify our volunteer candidates. Due to technicalities, amended personal considerations and political reality, it became imperative that a few changes were made in our list ... in plenty of time for the public officials to easily deal with these changes, I might add.

Of course, we need the opportunity to amend such lists. Even The Constitution of the United States is subject to amendment.

A $500 or $100 declaration fee may not be any problem for a professional politician, but, for several of our candidates it was a personal sacrifice which had to be budgeted. This proposed change would have minor party candidates who will not appear on the ballot until the November general election, pay their fees in March, seven months prior to the elections.

This radical change to a June primary with all its attendant changes would be ruinous to a new and emerging political party. Not only would the timing make recruitment extremely difficult, it appears that the list of minor party candidates would even have to be filed at least six months prior to the time at which a party could qualify for the ballot by petition as proposed in Section 28, Article 2c.

SECTION 29

Section 29 proposes that a petition must, as per Article 1a, bear the name of the county in which it is circulated.

We Independent Americans listed the county on each petition.

When you are circulating a petition and collecting thousands of signatures, each little step is significant in time, effort, space on the petition and can and does cause confusion.

Section 29, Article 3 requires a signer to also list the county. This is redundant. If the petition lists the county, all that is needed is for the signer to list his street and city address.

Section 29 needs further consideration. Article 2 requires that a circulator of the petition must be a registered voter of that county.

This is burdensome and unnecessary.

We are trying to build a statewide party with volunteers. We may have no members in a county. There may be a state fair or a parade or other event in a county at which our state organization could circulate a petition to meet and mingle with the local citizens.

We collected signatures at the Washoe County Fair. Citizens from all over the state came to our booth. We could not collect signatures from residents of other counties even though they desired to sign. This inhibits freedom and citizen participation. It also infringes on the God given Constitutional Right to Petition.

I was a statewide candidate for Representative to Congress. Why could I not collect signatures of Nevada citizens in another county. This prohibition is unnecessarily restrictive.

I have gone to other states to collect signatures for party qualification of of our national party. Why should a Presidential Candidate who will be allowed to solicit our votes not be allowed to solicit our signatures. An American citizen should be able to collect signatures. At the least a Nevada citizen should be able to collect signatures in any county of Nevada.

With reference to Section 29, Article 1b:

I am a licensed contractor in the state of Nevada. The principle of delegation and supervision is well known to our people. I sign the contract and accept responsibility for the ensuring actions.

I collected over 4,000 signatures to qualify our Independent American Party for the ballot in Nevada. I have family, including competant teenagers who I am anxious to involve in the political process, so that they may become responsible and capable citizens. Because of this restrictive statute, I could not engage their help to collect signatures.

I was forced to take time away from my business because I could not employ competent citizens to gather signatures on my behalf because of some technicality. As long as I sign the petition and accept responsibility for the document, I should be able to delegate or employ others to assist me in this enterprise.

For that matter, there are no requirements other than citizenship for an individual to exercise his constitutional rights of speech, religion, petition, etc. The needs of the law and of order and common sense should be satisfied as long as the gatherer is a citizen of the United States of America and is identified as the person who collected the signatures.

With regard to Section 29, Article 1c:

This proposal would change the time from 65 days prior to the second Friday in August to 40 days prior to the second Friday in August, allowing more time for a minor party to qualify by petition.

We support this change because it encourages instead of inhibits citizen participation and creates greater opportunity for the Right of Petition to be empolyed successfully.

With regard to Section 28, Article 1(a):

Our Independent American attorney, Joel Hansen, has written a letter to Secretary Lau challenging her interpretation of "office of Representative." This letter has been forwarded to the Attorney General. Copies of these letters have been presented to your committee along with a copy of this testimony.

The Independent American position is that the word "office" and the word "Representative" are in the singular. It does not say offices or Representatives in the plural.

The Secretary of State has ruled that the Independent American Party did not qualify with 3% of the vote cast because she tallied the votes from both congressional districts. I received over 5% of the vote in my race for the office of Representative. This point evidently needs legislative clarification.

Also if you will read our counsel's letter to Secretary of State Lau, you will be able to consider many other facets of information and other direct and implied considerations and concerns regarding the changes in our election laws.

You will see for example that the courts have applied the "Significant Modicum of Support" doctrine to party qualification in the states.

Perhaps other opportunities for party qualification should be considered such as viability and support in local races. We Independent Americans may have wanted to focus our limited resources exclusively on local races where we may have a greater opportunity for success than to be forced to run on a statewide basis in campaigns that cost millions of dollars. Local government and grass roots building of political support are part of our American heritage and should be strongly considered if we are to amend our election laws.

With regard to Section 28, Article 1a:

I believe the change from 3% to 1% would not be necessary

if the existing statute were properly interpreted in the singular.

As the law stands now however, not one of the many minor parties qualified despite receiving far more than a "modicum" of support from the people.

Regarding Section 32, Article 2(a):

The declaration of candidacy is burdensome and unfair to minor parties.

The Democrats and Republicans have a monopoly over the voters due to our restrictive primaries. A citizen will be effectively disenfranchised from voting in the primaries if he or she is not registered in one of the monopoly parties.

That monopoly situation coupled with the requirement of the declaration of candidacy to wit: "...That I have not changed the designation of my political party affiliation on an official affidavit of registration in any state since September 1 before the closing filing date for this election:" seriously inhibits the ability of a new party to recruit responsible citizens.

We agree that a person should re-register in a party before becoming a candidate of that party, however, a Declaration of Candidacy should be drawn up for minor parties deleting this objectionable requirement as it unduly and unfairly restricts our ability to recruit. We also recognize that the current law governing minor parties protects us from party hopping by submittal of an approved list of candidates by the particular party.

SECTION 39

We Independent Americans believe that competition and fair play are essential to freedom and prosperity. We oppose all forms of government sanctioned monopolies and unfair advantages.

No political party, major or minor should have more than one candidate for each designated office in the general election. If no other party puts up a candidate or if no independent citizen qualified for a general election, leaving a single candidate unopposed in the general, then the candidate should run unopposed as is often the case with judges. To allow one party to sponsor all candidates encourages monopoly and a one party system like was operative in the Deep South a few years back and in the Soviet Union where token voters could choose between socialist party candidates A or B. The opportunity by vacancy on the ballot should be kept available to attract opposition and competition and discourage monopoly and tyranny by a single or dominate party.

SECTION 54

Regarding Section 54, Article 1:

Again we see unfair advantage and monopoly power accorded to the major parties.

The voter list, if made available to the dominate and rich major parties free of charge, should also be made available to the minor parties free of charge.

SUMMARY

1. We should change our election laws with great caution.

2. We oppose the radical change of the primary election from September to June and oppose other changes in filings and other election date requirements to facilitate this radical change. We see no compelling reasons for change to a June primary and foresee many negative disruptions in the established order and tranquillity of the people.

3. We support minor changes which will facilitate and encourage freedom, competition, and citizen participation in the election process.

Thank you for your consideration,

WASHOE COUNTY IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

March 24, 1993
SB 250

Section 4 - (bill in Assembly AB 145)

I agree with this section; however, NRS 293.457 should be repealed. Payment to deputy registrars is not in AB 145. I disagree with the County having to pay volunteer deputy registrars and not being able to track how many hours they work a day.

Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 (Constitutional amendment AJR 6) = ?

I agree with these sections, but it is my understanding that the League of Counties is submitting a bill on recall petitions. The only thing that this law is actually changing is the dates required for us to do signature verification, which could cost the County extra money due to the fact we would have to hire extra people just to do the petitions during an election year.

Section 11

There is no way that we know if an elector has indicated to anyone about his party affiliation.

I have no problem with Section 11. If we receive an affidavit of registration from the Department of Motor Vehicles or a mail-in registration and there is no political party on the affidavits, we would send them a card on missing information. However, suppose we do not receive the card back or the information back, do we register this person as a nonpartisan or, because of missing information, will we not process the affidavit according to NRS 293.5235 on mail-in registrations?

Section 12

In checking with the people who print the ballots, there will be no extra charge for putting a date on any location on the stub and on the ballot part. There should be a standard place for the date. I support this section.

Section 13. I support this section.

LEGISBILLS/p50

Section 14

This is great for some people, but I have received a few phone calls from different entities within Washoe County stating that they can not wait a year to annex property, issue licenses for water and garbage, etc. In the interests of other departments, I will not support this section. I have spoken with Sparks and the general improvement districts and they are not in favor of Section 14.

Section 15. I support this section.

Section 16

People in the military can vote easier than anyone else--one paper serves as registration and absentee ballot. The government is accommodating those who have left the service and not established a residence yet. They should not be allowed the extra opportunity. We have no way of verifying when this person has left the military. There are federal laws stating we have to mail out our absentee ballots to the military at least 45 days before the election day. They can request up to 30 days before the election.

Section 17. I support this section.

Section 18

Attached to this packet you will find two forms. One is for a person who has no fixed residence and the other is foreign overseas. Each one of the forms asks questions. Maybe we would like to make sure they ask the same questions. I do support this section.

Section 19

We do maintain on the online computer system the voter's name, party, address, and affidavit number. I believe the only thing that is not encoded into the system is the birthplace and the Social Security number. However, when we scan the affidavit of registration it will show all the information on the affidavit of registration and the facimile of the signature, but do you really want printouts with Social Security numbers on them?

March 24, 1993

Section 20

In checking AB 368, which is a bill regarding charges for copies of public records not to exceed cost, maybe we should have in this bill in Chapter 41 of the NRS "what is a domicile?" This is a bill on the county clerks, but there are no set fees for the Registrar of Voters' office to charge for maps, copies of affidavits, abstracts, diskettes, etc. So maybe section 20 will cover the sale of items in the Registrar of Voters' office.

Section 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25

I agree with these sections, but is is my understanding that the League of Counties is submitting a bill on recall petitions. The only thing that this law is actually changing is the dates required for us to do signature verification, which could cost the County extra money due to the fact we would have to hire extra people just to do the petitions during an election year.

Section 26. I support this section.

Section 27

This was brought about due to the fact that a constable in Washoe County passed away after the close of filing. This section is fine assuming that the primary will be moved to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, and this could be placed on the general ballot.

Sections 28, 29 and 30

This is an attempt to clarify the language in these sections.

LEGISBILSL/p52

March 24, 1993
SB 250

Section 31

In section 31, by having the primary in June I would support this section. However, in AB 39 we are talking about temporary employees and how many months a temporary can work without benefits. I would have to hire my election help prior to June and keep them through the November election, which would be longer than the six-month period.

Section 32 (AB 256). I support this section.

Section 33

This is cleaning up language in this section. I support this section.

Section 34. I support this section.

Section 35

I support the changes made in this section. However, I did run into one difficulty in 1992. When a candidate files for office and pays the filing fee, half of it goes to the state. If you have to return the money, you return half and the state returns half. Candidates whose money is to be returned did not like having to go to two entities to receive Their money. Page 13, lines 36, 37 and 38, starting with "the county treasurer shall deposit half the money to the credit of the general fund of the county and transfer the remainder to the state treasurer for deposit in the state fund..." should be deleted.

Section 36. I support this section.

Section 37

This is allowing the chairmen to issue Certificates of Error. I support this section.

LEGISBILLS/p53

March 24, 1993
SB 250

Section 38

There is not enough time period the day before an election to mail the Certificate of Error to the election board. If there is a Certificate of Error the day before the election, it would mean that my staff would have to deliver the letters to the polling places.

Section 39. I support this section.

Section 40. I support this section.

Section 41. I have no objections to this section.

Section 42

On the mail-in registrations, if a student picks up a mail-in registration in another county and registers to vote by mail, I don't feel we can ask that person to vote in person when they are away at college. I know there would probably be other cases besides this one.

Section 43

The new law in section 43, number 4, is putting a lot of responsibility on the election board officers, but I am sure the majority of the people have some sort of idea on them. I feel that we will be going to court if we do not allow a person to vote.

Section 44. I support this section.

Section 45

Also in section 45, page 9, number 7, lines 30, 31 and 32 maybe here we should also mention what a domicile is, that is in chapter 41 of the NRS.

Section 46. I support this section.

Section 47. I support this section.

Section 48, page 21, line 13, number 5

This will be an extra cost to the County. If a candidate wants to do a mailing, they cannot unless we (Registrar of Voters) furnish them copies with control numbers.

If we have to do this, have the candidates buy the forms and the money could go back into the Registrar of Voters' account to have more printed.

Section 49, number 3

To exclude a voter from the list of absent voters will not work for Washoe County since we are online registration. You can't exclude them and still have them get a ballot or do our audit.

Section 50

Washoe County receives federal forms for registration and absentee ballot requests from all military bases. They usually state what party, but the write-in states all you hve to do is write in the name and party you wish to vote for, no matter if it is Democrat, Republican, etc.

Section 51. I support this section.

SECTION 26 clarifies language regarding party conventions
SECTION 27 outlines the process for filling a vacancy in a non-partisan race which becomes vacant after the close of filing and before the primary election.
SECTION 28 changes the percentage of signatures needed on a petition for a minor political party to qualify for the ballot from 3 percent to 1 percent of the total votes cast for the offices of Representative in Congress.

SECTION 44 bill drafting clean-up language
SECTION 45 bill drafting clean-up language
SECTION 46 bill drafting clean-up language
SECTION 47 bill drafting clean-up language

The section also requires the secretary of state to print and distribute numbered absent ballot request forms. Additionally, this section eliminates "batches" of absent ballot requests leaving and arriving at county clerks' offices. All requests must be made in person or by mail, and all absent ballots must be received in person or by mail.

SECTION 49 allows persons authorized to inspect applications for absent ballots to copy information from the applications.

SECTION 50 brings Nevada into compliance with certain Federal standards for overseas and military voting.

SECTION 73 requires the clerk to protect the integrity of computer programs and directs the accuracy certification board to oversee the counting of votes.
SECTION 74 increases the accuracy certification board to three members, up to two of whom may be employees of the county.
SECTION 75 deleted (petitions measure)

Chairman O'Connell opened the hearing by introducing Assemblyman Dean A. Heller, Assembly District No. 40 to speak on Assembly Joint Resolution (A.J.R.) 23.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION 23: Urges Congress to establish uniform hours for polls across nation in election for national officers. (BDR R-1158)

Mr. Heller testified A.J.R. 23 is an attempt to address complaints from voters in the west about hearing winners of national elections announced oftentimes before they have even voted. Mr. Heller indicated that having the election polls open and close at the same time across the country would assure voters in the west, that their vote still counts. He said many people vote after work between 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. and possibly are discouraged from doing so, when the national election results are announced on news broadcasts.

Mr. Heller noted results of studies conducted by major television networks, that claim the system used (national staggered voting reporting system) only impacts the national vote by 1 percent.

According to Mr. Heller the resolution would also open the possibility of weekend voting. He indicated many persons are of the opinion that a system with fewer restrictions and more options would encourage more people to get involved in the process.

There was no further testimony on A.J.R. 23. Chairman O'Connell opened the hearing to the next order of business A.J.R. 16.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION 16: Urges Congress to pass legislation prohibiting states from imposing income tax on income from pension of nonresidents. (BDR R-1495)

Assemblywoman Kathy M. Augustine, Assembly District No. 12, explained A.J.R. 16 if passed, would directly affect the many retirees that now reside in Nevada. Ms. Augustine submitted for the record a letter of support from Representative Barbara Vucanovich, dated April 1, 1993, referenced as Exhibit C.

SENATOR NEVIN MOVED TO DO PASS A.J.R. 23 AND A.J.R. 16.

SENATOR LOWDEN SECONDED THE MOTION.

Senator Hickey referred to page 10 of Exhibit H, and questioned if item 1 was included in his motion. Senator Callister clarified his motion incorporates all the amendments proposed in Exhibit H, except the maximum standard.

THE MOTION CARRIED. (SENATOR RAGGIO ABSTAINED FROM THE VOTE. SENATOR NEVIN WAS ABSENT FOR THE VOTE.)

* * * * *

Chairman O'Connell requested Senator Callister to take charge of requesting the appropriate amendments for S.B. 154.

The chairman stated the next order of business would be S.B. 250.

SENATE BILL 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections. (BDR 24-542)

Cheryl Lau, Secretary of State, indicated full agreement with the recommendations made by the subcommittee on election reform. Continuing, Ms. Lau offered her sincere thanks to the committee for their taking the time they have on the election bill. She commented that S.B. 250 is responsive to the problems that have occurred, particularly in Clark County.

Senator Hickey expressed concern with language addressing the issue of absentee ballots. He brought attention to the fact that originally absentee ballots were designed to accommodate people who were unable to get to the polls. Senator Hickey stated he wanted assurance that citizens would not be disenfranchised by the language in S.B. 250. Senator Hickey asked if the workers at the Nevada test site had been considered in the recommendations to the bill from the subcommittee.

Ms. Lau indicated that the language states any person may be absent from their place of employment for up to 3 hours in order to vote.

Senator Hickey indicated that in his opinion the bill is too restrictive regarding the absentee ballot and the design of S.B. 250 does appear to disenfranchise some voters. He wanted assurance from Ms. Lau that, even if there was a nominal charge for transportation, voters will be accommodated.

Ms. Lau gave Senator Hickey assurance that the absentee voters will be attended to in each county. She reminded him that the county clerks and registrars were in attendance at the hearings, when this topic was addressed.

Senator Callister questioned whether or not the younger voter, the 18 year old voters, were considered. He mentioned young persons that may be going out-of-state to college, or those that may be entering the military or those fulfilling a missionary obligation to their church.

Ms. Lau answered Senator Callister's concerns by saying that everyone has a responsibility that they must uphold on the right to vote.

Dale A.R. Erquiaga, Deputy Secretary for Elections, Office of the Secretary of State, explained that voting rights of military personnel or citizens residing overseas are assured by the Uniformed and Overseas Citizens Absentee Voting Act, Title 42, Unites States (U.S.) Code 1973. This act specifically defines the guidelines to be followed that will guarantee the rights of these absentee voters. Mr. Erquiaga indicated they are allowed to register with the Federal Postcard Application for Registration and Absent Ballot Request.

Mr. Erquiaga stated section 42 refers only to Nevada Revised Statutes (NRS) 293.5235, which is the Nevada mail-in registration program. He indicated students attending out-of-state schools are protected under this Nevada statute. This allows for a person age 17 years old, who will be 18 years of age in time for the next election, to register at any time at the age of 17 years. Mr. Erquiaga said the law presumes that the students will take responsibility and affirmative duty to register.

Chairman O'Connell stated:

> If we generated a letter from the committee to the teachers' union or perhaps to the...State Department of Education, asking that in government classes...students are aware...of this opportunity of registering prior to being 18 [years old]...and we have a letter of encouragement that everyone is aware...

Senator Callister commented:

> I appreciate that, I think we should do this...there is a lot...in this bill that is long overdue and worthy of our support...I am still quite troubled...in these two instances, for the senior [citizen] and the student, you are making it tougher, not easier to vote...what we ought to be doing...we really ought to be making it easier for everyone to participate...we ought to be making it more convenient and not less so...

Ms. Lau told Senator Callister that actually the voting process has been made easier for senior citizens. She indicated that a deputy registrar will go to the home of senior citizens, all they need to do is call the county registrar's office if they are unable to get out.

Mr. Erquiaga clarified that anyone who is unable to get out and vote must actively take the initiative to phone the registrar's office and request a mail-in application in order to register. Mail-in applications are not just mailed to every home, the person has to make the first phone call. Mr. Erquiaga also pointed out that S.B. 250 does not outlaw field deputy registrars, they will still be available. He also noted there are over 800 in Clark County and 600 in Washoe County.

Chairman O'Connell asked Ms. Lau if she is comfortable with the removal of the petition section from S.B. 250.

Ms. Lau told Chairman O'Connell since the petition portion is a complicated issue in itself, and she feels it is better addressed by itself.

SENATOR LOWDEN MOVED AMEND AND DO PASS S.B. 250.

SENATOR RAGGIO SECONDED THE MOTION.

Senator Raggio clarified the amendment to be the adopted Election Subcommittee Report.

Chairman O'Connell indicated yes and asked if there was any further discussion.

THE MOTION THE MOTION CARRIED. (SENATOR CALLISTER VOTED NO. SENATOR NEVIN WAS ABSENT FOR THE VOTE.)

* * * * *

The chairman indicated the next order of business would be S.B. 51.

SENATE BILL 51: Provides for incorporation of City of Moapa Valley by charter upon approval of qualified electors. (BDR S-161)

Chairman O'Connell reminded the committee the measure that would incorporate the City of Moapa was originally heard in February in Las Vegas. She had requested information from the residents on any progress and has not heard from either the proponents or the opposition.

SENATOR LOWDEN MOVED TO INDEFINITELY POSTPONE S.B. 51.

SENATOR HICKEY SECONDED THE MOTION.

Section 52

I do not support this section.

If a voter turns in his absentee ballot at the polls, whether voted or not, we will lose control and will not be able to do an audit because all spoiled or cancelled ballots are sealed and put away for 22 months.

A challenged absentee ballot could be issued and the voter is mad. He could go to the polls and surrender the challenged absentee ballot and vote a regular ballot.

Number 3 of section 52 does not allow another person to return the absentee ballot for another person. What happens if you are sick at home or in the hospital?

Section 53

Within five working days we would have to audit voted, rejected, spoiled and unused ballots. It would be impossible to verify the count against number ordered for that election. All unused ballots are in sealed boxes. If the ballots are sealed, how are we going to count and audit them?

The only way to audit unused ballots is by using the reconciliations of ballot statements as the audit. Also, in one of the sections you are allowing absentee voters to take their ballots to the polls. This is where we would lose control.

Question: What do we do to comply with this?

This says you SHALL have two successful candidates and to unsuccessful candidates.

We cannot open Envelope No. 2 (spoiled). Unless they change the law to allow us to get into the sealed envelopes, we cannot balance.

We cannot account for every ballot. People walk away from the polls with them, etc. We now account for as much as we can prior to the canvass of the vote.

No problem with notice of destruction--just another cost to the County.

I do not think the audit can be done in five days. Also, you are putting ballots that need to be audited in sealed envelopes. I feel this law or section should be worked through by the registrars and county clerks so that it can be done administratively and with time allowed.

Section 54

#1. I feel that the fee of one cent per name has to be changed due to the fact that the paper products are going up.

#4. Diskettes or tapes with voters' names. There should be two different kinds of fees. One on tapes a charge for the tape and multiplied by the amount for the names. Another for the cost of the diskettes and multiplied by the amount for the names. Also, a reasonable fee for the person having to sit in front of the computor to change the diskettes when one gets full. It will take around 52 diskettes for the list of voters in Washoe County.

I cannot justify this by charging for the diskettes and number of voters. We are taking this person away from her job just to sit and wait to change a diskette.

Section 55

#4. I can see giving the 50 free then charging anyone no matter who it is (and have the money put back into the account to purchase more forms). The only exception would be someone working out of this office as a duputy registrar for a job this office recommends.

Section 56. Changing dates. I support this section.

Section 57. Advisory questions.

There is only one law pertaining to advisor questions. What if someone wanted to pun an advisory question, what would the rules be? I support this section.

Section 58. This is a good law. I support this section.

Section 59

Section 60

I think all our laws should be the same, regardless. Mail-in form have no duplicate. Why should the others?

Parts of section 60 are good.

Section 61. I have no objection to this section.

Section 62

A person could mail a form on Saturday (close of registration) and we may not get it until Thursday. I do not feel we could wait that long.

Page 29, line 46, number 12

If at the last minute we (Registrar of Voters' office) get the voter on the phone and he gives us the correct or missing information, I feel that this office should be able to change the affidavit of registration without being guilty of a felony. Otherwise, we cannot let the person vote. We do make a lot of changes, such as a change of address letter from a voter.

*NOTE: These individuals may only vote for President/Vice-President.

Attention Dale and Election Reform Committee:

Nevada needs election law reform to combat electronic voter fraud and subsequent allegations of same. The citizens of this state must feel that the ballot they marked is the one that actually gets counted.

The following suggestions are submitted for your consideration and actions on behalf of all Nevada citizens.

1. Pass a simple law that states that all ballots, both used and unused, MUST be date stamped for each election and an audit trail MUST be maintained in order to verify where each ballot went. Number sequencing on both portions of ballot will fulfill this safeguard. Should this become an issue, relative to voter secrecy, number sequencing could be separate and different for each portion of the card.

In addition, each ballot must have printed on it the full names and the office sought of each candidate. This would allow each voter to check his ballot immediately upon completion of vote to assure himself that he voted as he wished. If the card does not now fit precisely into the slot provided, voters can punch the wrong number.

After the elections, ALL used and unused ballots must be available at a specified location during business hours for public inspection. Presently, Nevada law "exempts" the ballots from scrutiny, the very information needed to effectively challenge an election. Neither the used, the unused or the damaged ballots are available to inspection by the public.

I suggest that you do away with the pre-scored punch cards. Anytime anyone handles these present cards, a fingernail, a pen, or fanning the cards, could result in an over vote causing the card to be rejected in the computer counting process.

According to Howard Strauss,(member of election research staff, Prinston University), Nevada's voting system is very vulnerable to election fraud. A common computer subterfuge is in the software itself. Computer "viruses" can be introduced and can attack voting machines. Nevada has no listed procedures to protect against an introduction of a "Virus." Mr. Strauss maintains that this problem is inexpensive to correct.

2. Police in Las Vegas are now investigating charges of voter fraud. Many people, thinking themselves registered, went to vote and were unable to do so. Procedures must be simplified and uniform. No absentee ballots should be mailed to anyone not actually outside the state other than shut in's. No one should be allowed to return a "shut in" ballot. These ballots must be mailed in by the voters themselves, and not handed over to a union representative or a friend to bring in.

3. In Nevada, apx. 95,000 citizens are registered to vote as non-partisan. Our closed primary status disenfranchises these Nevadans. Therefore, I respectfully suggest you use your influence with state legislators to secure an open primary system for ALL Nevadan's.

4. Nevada is among the few states in the nation without provisions for primary runoffs. We should make such a provision in our election law reform. When a candidate is elected, it must be with a clear majority vote. Our winner "take all" concept should be looked at carefully in order to guarantee a clear majority vote and give Nevadans a truly democratic process.

5. In Clark County today, the County Commissioners have decided that two private citizens will serve on the election committee for the counting and inspection of the ballots. This should be a state mandate.

6. I would urge the state legislature to consider Mr. Perot's suggestion that all elections be held on Saturday and Sunday. Too many Nevadans are unable to get to the polls from their job locations. This process would allow ample time for ALL people to vote. This process would also prohibit the "exit" polls from influncing voters by declaring a winner long before the polls actually close.

Respectfully submitted,

Jan Hunt

RE: SB 250 - Comments and Proposed Changes

We commend the Secretary of State for her efforts at election procedural reform embodied in SB250 and find much of SB250 to be positive. However, there are many areas that we do find objectionable. The following are some suggested changes.

1. Allowing two major party candidates from the same major party to advance to the general election when a minor party candidate files for the office is unfair, violates the equal protection clause of the US Constitution, and will result in litigation if passed unamended.

   We understand the Secretary of State's reason for doing this (The fact that SB250 moves the primary election from September to June, and the fact that minor party qualification for the ballot may not have been completed by June), but we find it peculiar that the Secretary of State sees no problem in requiring minor parties to file their lists of candidates at the end of February, three months before the proposed new primary date and seven months before they know whether they even qualified for the ballot.

   Possible remedies:

   A. Leave the primary election date alone (IE: In September) so that minor party ballot status will be known by the time of the primary.

   B. Force the two major party candidates to run in the primary if a minor party candidate files, regardless of that minor party's ballot status. If the minor party then fails to qualify for the ballot by the time of the general election, ignore the result of that primary race and advance both major party candidates to the general. This solution is admittedly awkward and costly to both the candidates and the State, but we cannot go back three months in time to June and run a primary after a minor party qualifies for the ballot in late August.

   C. Remedy B to item 2 below will eliminate this problem entirely.

   Remedy C, A, B is the order of preference.

2. Requiring minor parties to file their lists of candidates in February and allowing only four or five days for the individual minor party candidates to file their declarations of candidacy puts minor parties and their candidates at a distinct disadvantage with respect to the major parties.

Current law gives minor parties more time to file their candidates than major parties. We agree that this practice is not fair and should be changed, but the solution is not to give major parties more time to file.

Possible remedies:

A. Require the minor parties to file their lists of candidates by the same deadline as the major party candidates. Then allow a 30 day period for the individual candidates on the list to file their declarations. The fairness issue is addressed by the fact that the names of the minor party candidates are known at the same time as the major party candidates.

   A possible objection to the 30 day window may be one of fairness to the major parties, but we see that as a non-issue since any candidate may withdraw from the race at any time after filing. A minor party candidate whose name appears on the party's list but who does not file his declaration is tantamount to a candidate who files but withdraws 30 days later.

B. Require individual minor party candidates to file their declarations of candidacy by the same deadline as major party candidates. Allow more than one minor party candidate from the same minor party to file for the same office, to be consistent with the practice for major party candidates. Then require each minor party to hold a nominating convention, in lieu of a primary election, to select no more than one candidate for each office. The minor party may, through its nominating convention, reject all candidates for any particular office(s) and select no candidate that office. Each minor party must then file its list of candidates no later than 30 days prior to the day of the primary election. The candidates on that list must have already filed their individual declarations by the candidate filing deadline.

   The intent here is to align minor party procedure as closely to that of the major parties as possible without incurring the expense to the State of running minor party primaries. The fairness issue is addressed by requiring the same filing deadline for all candidates, regardless of party. Allowing more than one minor party candidate from the same minor party to file for the same office makes minor party procedure identical to major party procedure. While that triggers a primary in the major party case, in the minor party case, the nominating convention sorts out the candidates.

Remedy B is very attractive because it aligns minor party procedure more closely with major party procedure without incurring undue expense and makes the procedures easier to understand.

3. Current law provides for a 3% standard to qualify a minor party for the ballot. The minor party, in any one race, must attain 3% of the total votes cast for Representative in Congress, or submit a petition signed by that number of registered voters in order to maintain or achieve ballot status.

   Current law also provides that independent candidates must submit a petition signed by 3% of the registered voters eligible to vote for candidates for the office sought.

   SB250 lowers the standard to 1% for minor party qualification but leaves it at 3% for independent candidates. We believe the standard should be 1% for independent candidates as well.

4. Further amend minor party ballot status provisions by adding minor party PERMANENT BALLOT STATUS. A minor party would achieve permanent ballot status by having attained ballot status over FIVE consecutive general elections. A minor party would lose permanent ballot status immediately following any one general election in which that party places no candidates on the ballot for any office.

   If this provision were to be enacted in the 1993 legislature, then a minor party that has maintained ballot status for the 1984, 1986, 1988, 1990, and 1992 general elections would achieve permanent ballot status immediately upon enactment. It would lose permanent ballot status if it ran no candidates for any office in the 1994 general election.

5. New language proposed in SB250 adds undue burden to the petioning process. In particular, the circulator provisions serve no purpose other than to obstruct. It is the signatures of registered voters that are germain, not the circulator's.

   It has been argued that the absense of such circulator requirements would cause a loss of control over the petition. We see that argument as irrelevant and nonsensical. Since there is a signature verification procedure in place, it is superfluous to require a circulator to be a registered voter in the county in which he circulates a petition, and to require the circulator to sign an affidavit attesting to the validity of the signatures on the document(s) he circulates. It serves only to make petioning more difficult.

   Remedy: Drop all circulator requirements.

6. Current practice calls for petitions to be filed with the Secretary of State's office prior to circulation but does not prescibe an exact form to be used. A petitoner creates a form in accordance with his best interpretation of the requirements and files it with the Secretary of State's office. It is possible for the petiton to be rejected when the signatures are submitted on the technicality of format of the petition.

   Remedy: Require the Secretary of State to prescribe a standard form for all petitions, OR require that once a petition has been accepted for filing by the Secretary of State's office, it cannot later be rejected on the basis of format.

7. SB250 provides for a list of absentee ballot requests to be made available to the public but then negates itself by allowing any such requestor to ask that his name be left off the list. We agree with the Secretary of State's reasoning for this: That such a list might be put to nefarious use by unscrupulous individuals.

   Remedy: Provide for TWO sets of lists of absentee ballot requestors. The first is available to the public as proposed in SB250 and from which any absentee ballot requestor may ask to have his name excluded. The second would include the names and addresses of ALL absentee ballot requestors, without exception. The second list will be made available ONLY to candidates running for an office in which the absentee voter may cast a ballot. The list will be given to the candidate, in paper or magnetic form, upon his certification that it will be used only for election purposes and that any name on that list not also appearing on the public list shall remain confidential for a period of time not to exceed thirty (30) days after the election unless written permission is obtained from named individual.

8. SB250 provides for different color ballots to be used from one election to another, with no color repeating in any three year period. We believe four or five years would be more secure, since offices other than State Assembly and US Senate follow a four year cycle.

9. Mail-in registrations have been a source of controversy and lack of confidence. There have been many allegations that such registrations have been falsified after leaving the voters' hands.

   Remedy: Require the registering voter to certify that he completed the form without assistance, or, if assisted, require the person who assisted to affix his name and address to the form in a space provided.

10. Current law provides that a person who registered to vote by mail must vote in person in the first election following such registration. But the law is sufficiently ambiguous that an "informal" Attorney General's opinion allowed Clark County election officials to waive that requirement. The potential abuse should be obvious. I could register my two cats, Cassie and Larry, to vote by mail and then request absentee ballots for them. No one would ever know.

    Remedy: Clarify the law so that this provision is unambiguous. Also provide for a Deputy Field Registrar to go to the home of a disabled or handicapped person, upon request, to register that person to vote, and provide for an election official, upon request, to go to the home of such a person to deliver and retrieve a ballot on election day. The name of the individual who goes to the home of a disabled or handicapped voter in such a manner would be recorded on the registration form or ballot to provide an audit trail.

11. Assemblyman Bob Price has a wonderful sense of humor. He suggested, during a hearing af AB145, that a person accused of violating certain provisions of election law might be able to plea bargain it down to second degree murder, given the proposed escalation of offense and penalty.

    While the provisions of SB250 that escalate certain offenses from gross misdemeanor to felony are commendable as to intent, in practice, they are actually self-defeating. What jury would return a guilty verdict on election fraud if they feel that the penalties are out of line? What DA would even prosecute? Indeed, the problem here is not the lack of severity of penalty, but rather, the reluctance to investigate and prosecute.

    Remedy: We have no solution to the problem of reluctance to investigate and prosecute, but do recommend that the proposal to escalate gross misdemeanor to felony be dropped. We also believe that Senator Hickey has some good ideas regarding this area and would like to discuss this further with him.

12. SB250 attempts to give greater effectiveness to "None of these Candidates" on the ballot. Unfortunately, it allows the Governor to fill by appointment any office in which "None of these Candidates" wins.

    Remedy: Require a special election within three months with a completely new slate of candidates for those offices in which "None of these Candidates" won. For certain offices such as State Senate and State Assembly, because of the short duration of the session, that would effectively leave that particular electorate unrepresented, but they knew that when they voted for "Non ..."

We would prefer leaving leaving current law as is rather than allowing the Governor to fill by appointment.

SENATE BILL 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

Sam Hiliard, Detective, Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department, Criminal Intelligence Section, temporarily assigned to the Elections Fraud Task Force, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. He stated:

> Basically the Elections Fraud Task Force was formed by Sheriff John Moran after numerous allegations had basically filtered into the police department concerning election fraud. This is somewhat new territory for the police department. We have not investigated very many instances of election fraud in the past. What happened was, our investigation since November of 1992 centered mostly on deputy field registrars. We are looking at over a dozen deputy field registrars that are going to be charged with multiple felony counts. Some of those felony counts are detailed as filing a false document, forgery and some of those deputy registrars turned out to be felons, which are persons not even eligible to vote let alone register other people to vote. What happened was, there is no specific law or statute that we were able to uncover. There is federally, however, but as far as the state level we didn't come up with a specific law for some of the instances that we found concerning these registrars, so we had to research the law and find the correct charge to charge these persons with. Let me give you an example of some of the things we had. We had a group of registrars, numerous subjects that were all residing in a downtown apartment complex. They had discovered that the democratic party was paying a $2 bounty for every democrat registered, in addition to the 10 cents that is paid per statute for every person registered. When they discovered that there was $2 they could obtain for every person they registered, they got together and some of them went out and diligently registered democrats. I mean legitimately registered people to vote. Some of the other group got together and found a way that they would go out and register people to vote such as at grocery stores, DMV (Department of Motor Vehicles and Public Safety), our own METRO sheriff's card office, etc. and when they would register these people to vote...let me just give you an example of what would happen. They would come up to you as a perspective voter and they would say, "Would you like to register to vote?" and of course you would say yes and they would say, "Okay, lets go ahead. I will fill this information out for you." They would fill in the name, the date of birth, social security number and whatever is required on the registration affidavit and then they would sometimes ask what party affiliation would you like me to mark for the party affiliations. They would just simply say, "What are you, a republican, democrat, independent, what?" An example of some of the crimes we found were the person would reply to the registrar they would like to be a republican and they would say no problem and then go ahead and fill out the form then turn it over and have the person sign, however, they would either cover the box that marks the affiliation or just leave it blank, have the voter sign the affidavit then they would say thank you and turn around and mark democrat on there as the person walked away or later mark democrat then turn that in and collect the $2 bounty for that party affiliation. On those particular persons, which is mostly what we found, we are charging each one of those persons with filing a false document because we consider and the D.A.'s office considers that voter registration affidavit to be an official document. So, when they altered that document is now not an accurate portrayal of what the person wanted to be so we are charging them with filing a false document which is a felony crime. The other crimes we found which were several were a group of these deputy registrars got together...let me back up just a minute. When a perspective deputy registrar goes down and gets appointed by the election department they take an oath of office. On that oath it says they will uphold the rules and regulations and they will not try and persuade people to be a particular party, they are not laboring under a felony conviction, they will return all of their affidavits within a certain amount of time, etc. They take the oath then they are assigned a group of blank affidavits that are numbered that are specifically categorized and numbered so that the election department can keep track of those affidavits. However, one of the problems that we discovered through talking to some of these suspects and through our investigation was that they were also given by the democratic party and by some other parties and had access to were group stacks of mail-in registration forms that are not categorized, logged, nothing. No track is kept of these mail-in registration forms and in addition, on the mail-in registration forms it only requires the signature of the person registering to vote. It does not require a signature of an official person such as a deputy registrar or Clark County official, or anybody, it just requires the signature of the person registering to vote. So, what happened was, this group of deputy registrars got together in this particular apartment complex, sat down and they took the Centel First Source phone book, opened it up and started randomly registering people to vote and then forging their name on that registration form. They did this with maybe several hundred, we are not sure exactly and the reason we cannot pin down exactly how many they did is because in the beginning of this...the democratic party, by the way, if I can say this particular facet of the democratic party was very cooperative with us in our investigation and they themselves had discovered that there may have been some wrongdoing on the part of these registrars and try to circumvent and I will explain that. What would happen is they would take these forged mail-in registration forms, take them to the democratic party, get paid their $2 bounty for every democrat and of course they were all democrats, the democratic party would log the affidavit number and who actually got paid for that. That is the only record we had and the only way we were able to obtain this information. Then in the beginning, before the democratic party was able to catch onto what was going on, they entrusted the deputy field registrar to take those mail-in registration forms, the completed ones and turn them in to the election department. What happened was, in the beginning of this those deputy registrars, because their own names were not on those forms, they trashed them, simply threw them away and discarded them. However, through our investigation we found that some of them had actually made it to the election department and we were able to uncover maybe 10 or 12 that were actual forgeries that we are charging a couple of the deputy field registrars with actually forging these persons names. The information contained on the mail-in registration form contained the correct name, the correct address because that is what is in the phone book and the correct phone number, however, the date of birth, social security number and signature were all fabricated. That is mainly the crux of what our investigation centered on. We had some other allegations that had come in pertaining to persons who had voted twice and those turned out to be very minor. They turned out to be not criminal intent, no wrongdoing on their part. One in particular, I will give you an example, is actually a United States senator's mother, not naming any names, she is an elderly woman and she wanted to vote absentee so she received an absentee ballot in the mail and she went ahead and filled it out and mailed it in. But then she started watching on TV (television) and on the news media that they were having problems with the absentee ballots and so she got scared and panicked and at the time of the actual election she thought, well if they are having all of these problems my absentee ballot isn't going to count so she went down and voted. So we took that and just investigated it, but of course we are not going to charge in an incident like that because it was simply an error on the voters part. The other part of our investigation centered on the picking up of absentee ballots which is a gross misdemeanor. The one of them was a particular individual that has been charged that was working for a particular person running for county commission and this person went out and was actually picking up absentee ballots which again is a gross misdemeanor and a violation. I can tell you just in summary that one of the main things that we saw where there is lack of control or problems is first off, as I mentioned in the beginning, some of these deputy field registrars turned out to be ex-felons which they are actually convicted persons. One of them, I won't specifically identify him, he is a convicted person for forgery and counterfeiting which goes right along with what he is accused of doing now. Another individual which has been in the media down here lately is a person who is a convicted felon who was taking persons who he had registered to vote, who matched his physical description somewhat and writing down their name, date of birth, social security number, address and telephone number and when he was getting stopped by the police here he was using that persons name as an alias and he, in fact, received four traffic tickets under this alias name and they had actually gone to warrant because, of course, they were not paid and had we not discovered this in the timely manner that we did, this individual's name he was using, that person would have been arrested for those traffic warrants and of course it would have been a terrible miscarriage there that that person would have been arrested. So, that is pretty much it for right now. Like I said in summary, the mail-in registration forms, the lack of controls on those caused these individuals to have a lot of freedom to do what they wanted with those mail-ins. We did not find any blatant forgeries on the actual registration affidavits that they were entrusted with because, according to them, by their own admission, those were accountable documents and they felt they would get caught if they forged those, that is why they just > forged the mail-ins. Later on, as I had stated earlier, the democratic party...after they found out or started to suspect that there were some problems, they no longer entrusted the deputy field registrars with turning in their own registration forms. They would go ahead and turn them in to the election department. I will take any questions now.

Senator Hickey asked about the federal law with regard to election fraud. Detective Hiliard told the committee his department made an agreement with the United States (U.S.) Attorney's Office, which handles the prosecution of federal crimes. This agreement was they would go ahead and conduct the investigation on a state level and if they ran into a problem with the state courts concerning prosecution they would then turn the investigation results over to the U.S. Attorney's Office and they would then consider prosecuting on a federal level. He pointed out it is not necessary to do both, it is only necessary to prosecute on one level.

Senator Lowden told Detective Hiliard the committee has heard testimony that some citizens have tried to present evidence to METRO and METRO has not wanted to see it. Detective Hiliard stated he made personal contact with the individuals who have conducted their own investigations into some of the allegations of election fraud. He explained some of the allegations may warrant follow-up. He told the committee he asked these people to bring in all of the evidence they have and they were a little hesitant about having this evidence seized from them. He explained to these people he would make Xerox copies and return their originals to them. He told the committee they are planning to meet within 2 weeks and they are going to bring in the material they have.

Van Graham, District Attorney's Office, Clark County, spoke to the committee regarding S.B. 250. He stated as Detective Hiliard testified there are a number of matters currently awaiting action. He told the committee he spoke with Chief Deputy Eric Jorgensen this morning and he is awaiting some additional information from the task force. He pointed out they are trying to correct some of the procedural and potential criminal problems which occurred in the last registration process. He stated the penalties for cheating in the election process will have to come from the legislature. Mr. Graham stated they will be presenting their evidence to the grand jury within the next several weeks.

Jan Gilbert, Nevada League of Women Voters, spoke to the committee on S.B. 250. She explained she wanted to address one section of the bill. She stated section 42 which clarifies the legislative intent that all mail-in registrants must vote in person the first time. She said she has a personalized view of this because the Nevada League of Women Voters was asked to participate in a rock the vote event at the local high school. Ms. Gilbert recruited a couple of registrars who were Carson City residents because she is not. She explained they went to the high school to register first-time voters at the high school. She explained there is a problem with the restrictions on mail-in voting because of military personnel, retired individuals and students going off to college.

Senator Raggio explained to Ms. Gilbert that the committee has heard testimony regarding nonexistent individuals or dead individuals being registered under the mail-in registration process. He stated that is the reason section 42 was placed in the law. This will ensure the individual will show up at some point to be identified.

Ms. Gilbert told the committee she feels this law disenfranchises the young voters. She agreed these people should make the effort to go and register to vote, but they do not and therefore it helps to go to the schools and register these young people.

Senator Callister stated his district is full of mobile home parks and senior facilities which are filling on a daily basis with people new to Southern Nevada. He explained many of these individuals are house bound routinely and he stated this is not a small number of people. He maintained he has a concern regarding section 42 in this bill because he did not hear of the types of fraud Senator Raggio was referring to and he feels this section will disenfranchise a significant number of seniors.

Chairman O'Connell told Senator Callister the committee had heard quite a bit of testimony regarding fraud with mail-in registration.

Senator Lowden stated in her district there were individuals she talked to who had no idea they had been registered to vote and some of them were not even citizens.

Senator Callister explained he feels the fraud they need to be most concerned about are individuals who are illegitimately registered and then they vote. He explained if someone was just illegitimately registered it is certainly fraud on the party or group paying the bounty for those individuals, but he is not sure it resulted in fraud on the system.

Senator Hickey stated this committee should look at this bill very carefully, but he added the point is well taken and he understands the concerns of Senator Callister and Ms. Gilbert. He suggested the subcommittee look at this section and perhaps another step could be taken.

Senator Raggio stated if somebody wanted to send in a bunch of registrations and then send in applications for absentee ballots, those people could never exist and nobody would ever know about. That is why this law was implemented. The individuals only have to show up the first time they vote.

Senator Callister told Senator Raggio his explanation made sense. But, he stated the evidence he is looking for is evidence not that people abuse the registration process, but that they registered illegally and then voted.

Chairman O'Connell shared with the committee information she had received on absentee ballots. She explained some individuals had gotten the plans for a housing development which only had foundations at that time. These individuals then found out the addresses from the planning department and they used those addresses and fictitious names and voted by mail.

Marlene Henderson, Registrar of Voters, Washoe County, gave the committee members her written suggestion of amendments to S.B. 250, (Exhibit C). She told the committee there is also a list of the cost of her software in this exhibit. Ms. Henderson brought with her one of her votomatics to demonstrate to the committee how difficult it is to punch the wrong holes.

James Dan, Northern Regional Representative, Libertarian Party of Nevada, told the committee he had already submitted his testimony in writing during the meeting last Wednesday. He made suggestions to the committee regarding voter registration. He suggested students in high school be allowed to register to vote during a civics class. He drew attention to the fact that in apartment buildings the managers could become registrars and help register the elderly. Mr. Dan pointed out how easy it would be to commit fraud with the register-by-mail process and then they could vote by absentee ballot.

Richard Puckett, Chairman, Libertarian Party of Clark County, spoke on S.B. 250. He suggested individuals who were home-bound call the registrar's office to have someone come to their home to register them in person. Mr. Puckett stated mail-in registration was the biggest area for potential problems where individuals would submit fake names for registration and then vote fake names. He also voiced his concern that only a registered democrat or a registered republican are able to work at the election polls on election day and he feels this is an unfair requirement.

Chairman O'Connell stated she did not feel this was still a requirement to work at the election polls or that possibly it was a misunderstanding. She asked Dale Erquiaga to address this concern.

Dale Erquiaga, Elections Deputy, Nevada Secretary of State, addressed the question posed by Mr. Puckett. He pointed out the law states that the registered voters appointed as election board officers for any precinct or district must not be all of the same political party. He iterated there is no reference made to major or minor political party, they simply cannot all be of the same political party.

Mr. Puckett told the committee another concern he has is allowing the election computer to be hooked up by phone so any computer could call into the election department computer on election night. He stated there needs to be safeguards as far as this computer is concerned. He asked the computer not be hooked up by phone link because people familiar with computers can get past the security and create problems.

Mr. Puckett also expressed concern with section 53. He suggested adding to this section the requirement to reconcile the poll book numbers to the abstract numbers. Another problem he sees is that poll watchers should be allowed at the transfer points, but as it currently stands, no private citizen is allowed to be at transfer points and he does not see the need for that. Mr. Puckett also suggests a requirement in the law that ballots be canvassed. He would like to see a picture identification be presented at the time of voting.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 250 and opened the hearing on Bill Draft Request (BDR) 25-604.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 154, until Senator Callister returns to the meeting. She opened the hearing on Senate Bill (S.B.) 250.

SENATE BILL 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

Senator Lowden chaired the subcommittee on election reform and presented the committee with proposed amendments from that subcommittee (Exhibit C). She stated the subcommittee met for a total of 10 hours on this subject for a total of 40 hours with committee meetings. She explained each section of Exhibit C to the committee.

Senator Hickey had a question on section 62. He pointed out during public testimony on S.B. 250, some individuals in law enforcement stated they could not use their address and they therefore used post office boxes. He asked how section 62 will affect these people.

Mr. Erquiaga stated any voter registration document would require a residence address, but unless the voter gives a physical address they cannot be precincted. He pointed out this is a problem for law enforcement personnel and members of judiciary, but unless they have a physical address they cannot be placed in a precinct.

Senator Hickey asked if there was a way to set up a voter box in each of the counties for these individuals.

Mr. Erquiaga stated that would be possible, but he added they would have to vote in person in the clerk's office which can be done at any time, as provided by law.

Senator Hickey suggested looking at this by regulation for special circumstances. Mr. Erquiaga stated he would look into this and report back to Senator Hickey.

Senator Lowden continued explaining the proposed amendments to S.B. 250 (Exhibit C).

James Dan, Northern Regional Representative, Libertarian Party of Nevada, congratulated the subcommittee on the work done on S.B. 250 which he feels overall is a very good bill.

Lois Avery, Member, Natural Law Party, spoke in favor of S.B. 250. She told the committee they did a great job and took a lot of testimony. She added she is very pleased with the results of this bill.

Barbara Reed, Clerk/Treasurer, Douglas County, spoke to the committee in favor of S.B. 250. She stated she does have a little bit of concern with section 42 which requires if a person uses a mail-in registration form, the person has to vote in person. She explained her primary concern is the administration of that provision and also concern with students using mail-in forms. She requested the committee consider treating students as they do the military.

Senator Hickey stated the workers at the Nevada Test Site also have a hard time getting to the polls to vote. He iterated the first-time registered voters would not be able to vote because of their job. He concluded he has a real problem with the provision in section 42 due to the previously stated problems which can affect registered voters.

Chairman O'Connell asked Mrs. Reed to share with the committee some of the problems she sees as far as the mechanics she expressed concern over.

Mrs. Reed stated they will have to change their computer program so they can indicate if it was a mail-in affidavit. She noted in turn that information has to be generated to the election polls where trained individuals would know how to check to see if the voter had mailed in their registration.

Marlene Henderson, Registrar, Washoe County, spoke on S.B. 250. She stated she still has a few problems with it. She explained, in section 42, line 41 and 42 it states the people vote in person unless they have previously voted in the county. She told the committee her office personnel do not have the time for that kind of research on election day. She stated she agreed with Senator Hickey in regard to people who work out-of-town and cannot get back into town to the polls to vote. She explained they need to be able to vote an absentee ballot in these special cases.

Senator Lowden stated if the individuals are first-time voters and they have a mail-in registration form it states on the form if people think they are not going to be able to show up in person to call a deputy of registrar to register them at home or at their place of business. She declared she feels this will enable those individuals to be able to register and vote.

Mrs. Henderson stated in section 43, line 19 it states an identification card will be issued by the Department of Motor Vehicle and Public Safety (DMV). She pointed out the registrars would not know if the affidavit is correct. She explained the identification cards should not come out of any office except the clerks' or registrars' office.

Senator Hickey stated he felt Mrs. Henderson's complaint was valid due to the fact when he has written checks in the past and the checker asks for his driver's license. He explained the checker will ask him if his address is correct on the license and therefore this seems to be a problem with the DMV having the correct address for each individual. He concluded the identification should come from the registrars' office.

Senator Rhoads asked how this bill will affect absentee ballots. He explained in his county they vote at the school house except for all of the little precincts located way out in the country when people vote by absentee ballots. He inquired as to how the first-time voters in these precincts would vote in person, because they do not have any precincts where they can vote.

Mr. Erquiaga stated the mail-in precincts are at the call of the clerk, based on certain statutory requirements. He explained Senator Rhoads' constituents would have to be exempted due to the lack of having a precinct election poll.

There being no further business Chairman O'Connell adjourned the meeting at 3:50 p.m.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 525 and opened the hearing on Senate Bill (S.B.) 539.

SENATE BILL 539: Makes various changes to election laws to comply with National Voter Registration Act of 1993.

Dale Erquiaga, Chief Deputy, Office of the Secretary of State, State of Nevada, explained to the committee this bill is not a proposal by the secretary of state's office. He stated this is a bill written by the legal division of the Legislative Counsel Bureau to comply with the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 in which compliance is mandatory and there is no option. He gave the committee copies of the amendments which are Exhibit E.

Marlene Henderson, Registrar of Voters, Washoe County, told the committee she has read S.B. 539 and also the federal bill signed by the President. She stated she concurs that the amendments to this bill will bring us into compliance with federal law.

Mr. Erquiaga explained to the committee the language changes which had to be made in S.B. 539 and are contained on Exhibit E. There was some discussion from the committee members.

Ms. Henderson stated there is nothing Nevada can do about complying with federal law, but she suggested the State of Nevada increase the efficiency in which they check for felons. She told the committee she would like to be able to access a compatible list for the computer system which contains a list of felons which can then be compared with the registered voter list.

Senator Nevin stated he agreed with the concept Ms. Henderson is suggesting. He feels this system would help enhance the already existing federal law.

Mr. Erquiaga stated a central registry for felons has been discussed for a number of years in this state. He explained it would require the legislature to require the clerks of the state district court to notify the secretary of state of a conviction.

Caren Jenkins, Principal Research Analyst, Legislative Counsel Bureau, stated Senator Raggio asked before the description of the bill began and she wanted it noted for the record:

> The only area in the measure which overlaps with current law or duplicates a portion of the bill that is before the senate currently is in section 30, that removal of voter registration when you register your motor vehicle. That is the only section that overlaps current law or Senate Bill 250...I wanted to be > certain that with Dale's statement...this bill doesn't do anything that we don't have to do that the feds [federal government] have mandated, that the changes from may to shall and shall to may [within the bill] that are proposed by the secretary of state to current law are mandated by the federal law and not just a method of making implementation easier.

SENATE BILL 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

Chairman O'Connell suggested Mr. Erquiaga and Ms. Henderson get together and come to an agreement on the amendments to S.B. 539.

Senator Nevin asked Chairman O'Connell to consider the felon request which Washoe County suggested. He explained he feels it is a good approach and with this everything will be covered at one time rather than duplicating work.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 539 and opened the hearing on Senate Bill (S.B.) 250.

SENATE BILL 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

Chairman O'Connell stated Senator Ernest Adler brought up a point on the senate floor on Tuesday on section 43 of the bill. She explained Senator Adler's concern is somebody might be disenfranchised because they left their identification at home and would not be allowed to vote without identification.

Senator Hickey stated he feels that is a real issue and questioned whether or not it is constitutional to prevent an individual from voting who did not present identification.

Chairman O'Connell stated she spoke with the secretary of state and the secretary of state is asking the committee to make a committee amendment to delete that section of the bill. She also stated Senator Joseph Neal is requesting an amendment to provide a challenge box at every polling district so nobody would be disenfranchised if they came to vote. They would be allowed to vote and their vote would go into a challenge box. At the end of the day the challenge box would be gone through and the registrars would decide the validity to each of the challenges.

Chairman O'Connell stated if the request for an amendment dealing with the challenge boxes has not been made, the committee should make it part of their amendment which is Exhibit F.

SENATOR HICKEY MOVED FOR A COMMITTEE AMENDMENT TO DELETE SECTION 43, PAGE 12 OF S.B. 250 AND THEN REQUEST THE INFORMATION IF NOT ALREADY REQUESTED BY SENATOR JOSEPH NEAL.

SENATOR RHOADS SECONDED THE MOTION.

THE MOTION CARRIED. (SENATOR LOWDEN WAS ABSENT FOR THE VOTE.)

Senator Brown requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

SENATOR TITUS:

In reference to the section I was discussing yesterday that closes the window of time a person has for filing to run for office. The bill closed that window which was from January to June down to May to June, to just be one month. This amendment opens that window back up to three months, from March to June. I can understand there are good arguments for making the election season shorter. It makes it less expensive. It is less of a burden on the public to have to read campaign signs for such a long period of time. But, I think one month is just too short. Such a restricted filing period favors incumbents and does not give people a real opportunity to check out their options and get involved. I repeat, this amendment would open that window back up to three months as opposed to just one.

SENATOR RAGGIO:

Thank you, Madam President. I serve as a member of the committee which processed this bill. In this particular situation, I can understand some arguments on both sides. But, I would oppose the amendment. The present situation is unique to this state. We have an inordinate amount of time between when the opportunity to actually file as a candidate occurs and when you close that filing. I think that the shorter that is serves the public interest and I can't see this as something favoring an incumbent and I certainly respectfully would disagree with the minority leader. This would allow, in the bill which is before us, a 30-day period in which to formally file a candidacy. People can make all kinds of decisions for many, many months prior to this. They can have all kinds of leaks and all kinds of press statements and all kinds of disclosures that they are considering running. I think that the public is entitled to a shorter period of time within which people actually go down and file for candidacy. In most states, of which I am aware, most legislators are amazed that we allow this length of time in order to formally go down and file your candidacy. In the cities, as I recall in this state, I think it is a very short period. I think we only allow ten days in Reno in which to make your formal filing. You have all the time you want to think about this. But, I think the public is entitled in a short period of time, comparatively short, to determine officially whether you are going to be a candidate. I don't think this is a main argument. This is not a disagreement that is going to rock the world whether the minority leader and I disagree on this. However, I think the committee looked at this long and hard and determined that we should shorten this period to something manageable where we know who the actual candidates are going to be. I believe one month is far more than the ten days we allow in local government elections and that the public is entitled to a shorter period of time to determine who is actually officially going to be a candidate. I would oppose the amendment and I think the committee's action in allowing a one-month period is not only appropriate but very, very adequate. Also, insofar as candidates are concerned, candidates ought to have a shorter period of time in which to know who is going to be the opponent, who is going to be involved in these elections and start being able to manage their campaigns a little more appropriately. From the public standpoint, one month is certainly a reasonable period of time.

SENATOR COFFIN:

According to the majority leader, short is best. I disagree. I was thinking about the city time limits. I am glad the majority leader brought them up. I think that is a crime. In political time, a week is just like the snap of the finger. It is absolutely unconscionable that we really allow the cities to get along with that. I guess they do it through the charters that we approve. But one week, when the person might be ill or perhaps not have a moment to reconsider and then can't file loses a tremendous opportunity. I think it is a heck of a disadvantage. Frankly, when the minority leader proposed even increasing it to two months, I did not like the idea. I think that longer is better. I think it gives the opportunity for the public to focus more and I think that is good. I don't think the length of time is the important thing. I think it is the quality of the candidate. The quality of the candidate can be enhanced by people having a chance, not only to be thinking about running for office, but to actually be recruited to run for office. Both parties have a hard enough time finding candidates to run for office as it is, especially people who are qualified and willing to leave their businesses and their homes and their families. They need to talk to people, like you and I. I think the only way that they can possibly reach an intelligent decision is to have a long period of time to do it. It certainly isn't something that you should do overnight. The ten days we allow in the cities, at least in your estimation, is apparently too short, so somewhere along the line, somewhere in between four months and a week is okay. I've got to support the amendment because there is no question that the amendment at least takes this purported election reform bill and tries to give it a little bit of meat. Thank you.

SENATOR CALLISTER:

Very briefly, I think that arguments have been touched upon. I also serve on the committee that processed this legislation. I have listened to the arguments there and here with some interest. I think it is arguments that sometimes we as part-time professional politicians, understand perhaps better than the unsophisticated folks who are thinking about getting involved in a political process. In the end, I have to come down in favor of this amendment. It is all too easy for us to develop a "beltway mentality." In an era when the public has demanded greater access to participatory democracy, greater opportunities to be involved, we have to structurally accommodate such demands. I tend to agree with the majority leader that six months or five months, as under the present law, was, perhaps, too long. But, I think that one month is far too short. I think the compromise proposed by the minority leader is an appropriate one. It accommodates both the concern that we make certain that the general public understand and have an opportunity to consider their involvement on a very personal level; making tough decisions about whether they should get involved in the election process and the campaign process are not decisions made overnight. I would urge all of your support on behalf of those who are less well versed in the mechanics of the system than we are. I think the compromise is an appropriate one and I urge your positive support for this amendment.

SENATOR BROWN:

Thank you, Madam President. I rise in support of this amendment. What we do here on election reform is a delicate balance between making sure that things work efficiently and also with absolute legitimacy. In that balance, we must not close people out of the system. As my colleague just mentioned, this probably wouldn't affect any of us who are in the loop and know what these dates are. For the outsiders, I think it helps to give them more time within which to make these decisions and find out about these things.

SENATOR RAGGIO:

Thank you, Madam President. In listening to the arguments, I don't see anything in the bill that reaches the concerns that have been expressed here with the amendment or without it. There is nothing in the language of the amendment or the bill that refers to or limits the length of time within which people may recruit candidates or within which candidates may determine whether or not they want to be a viable candidate. But what we are saying is that you have a month in which to go down and formally file. I think we have imposed upon the public long enough with this long inordinate time in which people can go down, file or not. I think that one month is a pretty accommodating period of time and is more in line with the practice throughout this country than otherwise. So, I don't see any of these concerns or dangers inherent in whether or not we adopt this amendment.

SENATOR TITUS:

Thank you, Madam President. It just occurred to me that there are two additional arguments that I don't believe have been mentioned that I think would favor allowing a longer window than just one month. One of those is that sometimes people get into the political process and file as a candidate and then something comes up causing them to change their minds, something occurs in their family or their job or their economic situation or maybe they decide to run for another office and want to withdraw their original filing and file for something else. Regardless of the reason, if you narrow the filing period to just one month, then you don't give people much of an opportunity to change their minds.

The second, and, I think, the most important reason is that this goes hand in glove with campaign finance reform. If you are not a declared candidate, then you are not held accountable for collecting contributions. Narrowing the window to just one month gives nondeclared candidates a much longer period of time during which they can be involved in fund raising and other political activities that are not included in any public reports. Narrowing the window to only one month thereby decreases accountability and public access to important campaign finance dates.

SENATOR JAMES:

Thank you, Madam President. Listening to the dates, I have to say that I am confused by the arguments for this amendment. The way I understand it, what we are doing is extending the time closer to the election that you can file. It is now the first part of May; under the bill it will be the first part of June. We are not moving it this way; but it is going the other way. If anyone makes a decision to file in April to run for office, it doesn't prevent them from making that decision. They just have to walk down when the time is opened and file. What we are doing here is making it closer to the election giving one more time to make that decision and decide whether to run. We are extending the deadline for filing, which is the cutoff period at which time you cannot become a candidate—moving it toward the election. That gives more people the opportunity to decide, and as the election approaches and things heat up and people decide on becoming candidates and newspaper articles are coming out, then they decide to file. Under the old law, you had to go right out and file because the time to file was cut off in May. Under the bill, it is going to be cut off in July. Under the amendment, which pushes the opening back to March, the only people remotely affected are those people who decide in March or April that they want to run for office. They cannot immediately go down and file. But they can go down and file as soon as filing opens in May or June if they choose because the time is being extended. We are not closing the time. I cannot really understand why there is any opposition to that, so I am opposed to the amendment.

SENATOR NEAL:

In reference to this amendment, I would like to quote an old friend of mine and probably some of the others, Howard Cannon. When he was faced with an issue of this sort, he said, "some of my friends are against it and some of my friends are for it and I will be voting with my friends."

SENATOR COFFIN:

To the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, that was an amazing piece of legal sophistry if I ever heard of it from a true practitioner of the arts. What he just said is six inches is a foot. To me, it is still a half a foot. It is like saying to the great unwashed masses out there, give them an inch and they will take a mile. I say, give them a mile.

Senators Raggio, Jacobsen and Coffin requested a roll call on Senator Titus's motion.

Roll call on Senator Titus's motion:

YEAS—11.

NAYS—Jacobsen, James, McGinness, Neal, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Raggio, Rawson, Rhoads, Townsend—10.

The motion having received a majority, Madam President declared it carried.

Amendment adopted.

The following amendment was proposed by Senator Lowden:

Amendment No. 946.

Amend sec. 42, page 11, by deleting lines 44 through 48 and inserting:

"2. The provisions of subsection 1 do not apply to a person who [is entitled to vote:

(a) In] :

(a) Is entitled to vote in the manner prescribed in NRS 293.343 to 293.355, inclusive; [or

(b) An]

(b) Is entitled to vote an absent ballot pursuant to federal law or [any other state law.] NRS 293.316; or

(c) Has received an absent ballot by submitting a written request therefor signed by the registered voter before a notary public or other person authorized to administer an oath.".

Senator Lowden moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Senator Lowden.

Senator Brown requested that Senator Lowden's remarks be entered in the Journal.

This amendment will make it possible for Nevadans who register by mail to request and receive an absentee ballot. The request must be signed before a notary public to be valid. This would be good for college students, religious missionaries, business people who work on the road and other people who travel extensively, such as retired persons. Of course, persons outside the United States already have access to absentee ballots under federal law.

Amendment adopted.

The following amendment was proposed by Senator Neal:

Amendment No. 923.

Amend sec. 46, page 14, by deleting lines 6 through 34 and inserting:

"293.304 1. If a person is successfully challenged on the ground set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 2 of NRS 293.303, the election board shall issue a [statement] prepared envelope to the person [on] in a form provided by the secretary of state which contains [:] on the outside of the envelope:

(a) The name of the voter;

(b) The address which appears on the record of voter registration;

(c) The address at which the voter actually resides;

(d) The signatures of the members of the election board who issued the [statement;] prepared envelope; and

(e) Other information which the secretary of state deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

2. The [county clerk of each county shall maintain a special polling place in his office and in each polling location during each primary or general election. The ballots for the special polling place must contain provisions for voting for any of the following offices and questions if an election is being held for the offices and questions, and no others:

(a) President and Vice President of the United States;

(b) United States Senator;

(c) All state officers for whom all voters in the state may vote;

(d) All county officers for whom all voters in the county may vote; and

(e) Questions which have been submitted to all of the voters of the county or state.

3. If a person comes to the special polling place and presents a properly prepared statement issued pursuant to subsection 1, the county clerk shall permit him to vote at the special polling place, using the special ballot prepared pursuant to subsection 2.] election board officers shall issue to the challenged voter a ballot to vote. The ballot must be voted at that polling place. The voted ballot must be placed in an envelope and that envelope must be placed and sealed in the prepared envelope issued pursuant to subsection 1. The ballot must be kept separate from the ballots of voters who have not been so challenged in a special ballot box for such ballots.

3. The votes contained on ballots that have been placed in the special ballot box must be counted for the following offices and questions in the same manner as the ballots of voters who have not been challenged on the ground set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 2 of NRS 293.303:

(a) President and Vice President of the United States;

(b) United States Senator;

(c) All state officers for whom all voters in the state may vote;

(d) All officers for whom all voters in the county may vote; and

(e) Questions which have been submitted to all voters of the county or state.

The remaining votes on the ballot must not be counted until the county clerk determines that the address at which the voter actually resides, as indicated on the outside of the prepared envelope, is the address listed for the voter in the election board register. Such a determination must be made within 3 days after the election.

4. The secretary of state shall provide by regulation for:

(a) [Forms for statements;] The form of prepared envelopes; and

(b) The counting and security of ballots voted [at a special polling place.] pursuant to this section.".

Senator Neal moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Senator Neal.

Senator Brown requested that Senator Neal's remarks be entered in the Journal.

This amendment came about in a discussion that I had with the senator from District Five. We were discussing this matter and I did not know that the amendment was going to come out with my name on it but since I proposed the question, the amendment itself would allow those individuals within districts to vote in a challenged ballot. That challenged ballot would have to be separated from the rest of the ballots and then counted separately to see whether or not it would have any effect upon the election. Before then, they have to determine whether or not the person who actually was being challenged successfully really met the qualifications of the law in order to vote in a district election. So this is essentially what this would do. This would allow the secretary of state to institute a method by which an envelope would be prepared for that person to challenge, then they would take that ballot and put that ballot into an envelope and then into another envelope with the name of the person on it and put it into a challenge box and those ballots would be counted when the absentee ballots are counted in any particular election.

Also, if they found that those ballots were valid, they would be counted. If not, they would be thrown out.

Amendment adopted.

Senator Brown requested that her remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Madam President. I believe it is a major step for us to be looking at election reform today. It is essential to the democratic process that we ensure the absolute integrity of every vote without closing out any voters. There are two parts of this bill which I have expressed my opinions on to people in the Assembly. I have been assured that they will be handled in that house. In lieu of the time lines we are working on, I plan to vote for this bill, but on the record, I would like to express that I have asked that they look at the felonies in here. I understand that, for people who are willing to abuse the democratic process in these felonious ways, that misdemeanors do not always deter them. I understand why they become felonies, but I have asked that they look at additionally imposing fines. So, if the state is paying more money on jail time, at least we can also be bringing money in if people are committing these crimes.

Additionally, in Section 49, subsection 2, immunity from liability is given for people who give out the names of someone to someone other than one who is authorized to ask for them. I've asked that that immunity not be extended to knowing, willful acts. I think there is no problem with taking this into consideration in the other house. I feel comfortable in voting for the bill.

> I think we can note in our record, Madame Chairman, enacting the resolution expresses the intent, it is a concurrent resolution and we urge the policies to be adopted. Obviously we understand this does not create a cause of action and certainly that should suffice. We can live with one grammatical error.

Chairman O'Connell asked if there was any opposition from the committee members in having the record reflect the intention of the amendment suggested by the Attorney General's Office. She noted there was none.

Senator Hickey noted for the record he would not be voting on this measure.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.C.R. 50 and opened the hearing on Senate Bill (S.B.) 552.

SENATE BILL 552: Urges adoption of policies to avoid takings by governmental entities.

Caren Jenkins, Principal Research Analyst, Legislative Counsel Bureau, explained this bill to the committee. She explained she met with Senator Lowden, Senator O'Connell, Dale Erquiaga from the Secretary of State's office and Cheryl Lau, Secretary of State to go over some proposed amendments to Senate Bill (S.B.) 250.

SENATE BILL 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

She told the committee it became pretty clear to the committee that the petition's concept was quite convoluted and the secondary topic of fortifying the public's perception about the election process is also an area that needed some work, but it was the desire of the chairman to continue with S.B. 250 and come back to these two issues at a later time. She explained S.B. 552 is the outcome of those desires and in her estimation it does two things which are addressing the sections of S.B. 250 which were deleted prior to its passage and adds what comes from a very long and complex discussion of the senator's intent regarding investigating any impropriety or fraudulent practices or any such perception of such things in the election process.

Chairman O'Connell stated for the record:

> I think it would be good to state for the record that although the secretary of state has been given the responsibility for elections she has never been given any enforcement power. This was a very big concern especially after the election in Clark County where people did not have a source that they could make any complaints to except the election department itself and they were very concerned about that. So the focus of the first part of the bill was to put in place a commission which would have some authority for the public to make complaints to and they would be able to bypass the county in which the violations, or alleged violations took place. So this is something that is set up in order to allow the public access to somebody to review any perceived violations of an election.

Senator Hickey asked who would be the members of the commission.

Chairman O'Connell stated the commission would be appointed by the secretary of state.

Ms. Jenkins stated for the record that she works for the Legislative Counsel Bureau and as a result she is not here to support or oppose any measure, but simply to clarify any questions anyone may have. She also stated Mr. Erquiaga may be able to clarify some issues regarding the petitions. She explained the commission is a totally new concept that was developed.

Senator Hickey asked what this newly formed commission means as they view it.

Dale Erquiaga, Chief Deputy, Nevada Secretary of State, explained the commission that is proposed in S.B. 552 is a local commission which replaces an accuracy certification board that is in existence under current law.

Senator Hickey asked who has control of the accuracy certification board.

Mr. Erquiaga stated it is appointed by the county registrar or county clerk.

Chairman O'Connell opened the hearing with discussion of Amendment No. 1190 to Senate Bill 250.

SENATE BILL 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections. (BDR 24-542)

Dale A. R. Erquiaga, Deputy Secretary for Elections, Office of the Secretary of State, briefly outlined the amendments incorporated into S.B. 250 by the assembly.

Mr. Erquiaga explained the major changes serve to establish a program for early voting, which allows for Saturday and evening hour voting. A provision was added to allow voting at alternative polling places within a county. He explained the portion referring to alternative polling places is permissive language and therefore left to the option of the individual counties. However, Mr. Erquiaga stated that sections 20 through 20.65 of the amendment would make the early voting program mandatory.

The next election provision included in Amendment No. 1190 explained by Mr. Erquiaga would require county clerks to maintain an alphabetical listing of registered voters, and to have it published in local a newspaper.

Mr. Erquiaga explained that current law requires the smaller counties to publish a registered voter list; Clark and Washoe Counties have been exempt. As amended the bill would require Clark and Washoe Counties to maintain and publish the list also.

Senator Lowden questioned if the financial impact on the larger counties was discussed during the assembly hearings.

Mr. Erquiaga pointed out that representatives from both counties were present for the Assembly Committee on Elections and Procedures hearings and voiced no objection. He noted this applies to section 67 of S.B. 250.

Senator Raggio asked Mr. Erquiaga if an estimated cost was given during assembly hearings. Secondly, he asked if Mr. Erquiaga had some idea of the cost to publish lists of that size.

Responding, Mr. Erquiaga said Clark County estimated the cost to be approximately $100,000, and in Washoe County the estimated cost would be $60,000.

Robert Hadfield, Lobbyist, Nevada Association of Counties, (NACO) responding to comments from the committee, agreed that 15 of the counties in the state are already required to publish the voter lists. He was under the impression that the mandate language reads, "if the funding is available," and therefore would not represent a problem. Mr. Hadfield did not wish to speak for the county representatives as to whether or not the county funding was available.

The chairman asked Mr. Erquiaga if the language was permissive.

Mr. Erquiaga replied no, that if passed as amended publishing would be required, just as it is mandated in the other 15 counties. During assembly hearings the cost of publishing was justified as providing an important notice to voters who may think they are registered but are not, he explained.

Ande Engleman, Lobbyist, Nevada Press Association, told the committee that publishing the list of registered voters in the rural counties has prevented fraud and is very popular with the voters. Ms. Engleman said it has proved to be a successful method to notify the voters.

Ms. Engleman informed the committee that the charge to publish the registered voter list is set by statute and the fee has not been changed in 20 years. The fee is 10 cents a name for 7-point type and 15 cents a name for 8-point type. She commented that every newspaper in the state looses money in publishing the list, but they view it as a public service.

Senator Lowden questioned Mr. Erquiaga if the registrars from Clark and Washoe counties testified during assembly hearings. Secondly, she asked if they addressed the issue or if they currently have funding to cover the cost of publishing.

Mr. Erquiaga said representatives of the registrars' offices from both counties testified the cost would be included in the budgets they submit to the county commissioners.

Several of the committee members expressed concern with mandating a cost of this magnitude to the counties.

Mr. Erquiaga concluded his outline of the remaining changes contained in Amendment No. 1190. The provisions removed from S.B. 250 were the numbered absent ballot request form, and the receipt for voter registration. The condensed list of absentee ballots was changed to a full list of absentee voters, including names and addresses. Mr. Erquiaga commented the Office of the Secretary of State views this as a better bill as amended.

Several members of the committee expressed concern with the provision that mandates publishing the registered voter list.

SB 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

Secretary of State Cheryl Lau introduced Mr. Dale Erquiaga, Chief Deputy, Secretary of State's office, and gave the genesis of SB 250. She stressed the need for the SB 250 changes and stated she had held meetings with county election officials and members of both houses and also town hall meetings. She discussed conflict with AB 145, and further stated she and Chairman Williams were working on the amendments for committee review. SB 250 reflected their concerns for more open and fraud-free elections, she declared.

Mr. Dale Erquiaga called to committee's attention that certain sections had been deleted by amendment. Those sections dealt with petition requirements, and they were taken out by the Senate committee on government affairs and placed into Senate Bill 552 as opposed to Assembly Bill 552 which dealt with recall. He reiterated Senate bill 552 would address the petition requirements.

Next, Mr. Erquiaga recapped each section of SB 250 and resolved questions from the committee regarding amendments with assistance from Secretary of State Lau and Chairman Williams.

Mr. Porter expressed concern regarding mail-in registrations which used an address not identifiable as a post office box. Discussion ensued between Mr. Porter, Mrs. Williams, Mr. Petrak, Mr. Humke and Mr. Erquiaga regarding address registration. Mrs. Williams asked Mr. Porter to assist with language which would address the problem, and Secretary of State Lau said an amendment would be done.

Ms. Jan Hunt, representing United We Stand America, testified in favor of SB 250 which she thought was an excellent bill. Ms. Hunt asked for the actual name of the candidate to appear on the ballot and not have a prepunched ballot. She also requested a three-man team to check voter registration, one of which should be adept at debugging software to assure the computer had no virus. Ms. Hunt also informed the committee 15,000 absentee ballots were requested from people who worked in casinos. The people filled out the absentee ballots and gave them to the union's bosses to take in for them. She requested committee address recount of a close election since the ballots were not there for the recount and the ballot recount was done by machine. In the event something was wrong with the software, the recount would not help. She asked that ballots be maintained under supervised conditions which, she said, was addressed in SB 250 as 22 months. However, the public did not have access. If ballots were numbered, an audit trail would exist for every ballot requested.

Ms. Hunt said Nevada had voter registrations for 95,000 citizens who were neither Democrats nor Republicans and who had other party affiliation. The 95,000 citizens were not allowed to vote in the primary which was disenfranchising 95,000 Nevada voters, and Ms. Hunt felt the 95,000 citizens should also be allowed to vote in the primary.

Ms. Hunt referenced petitions which would be covered in another bill and had been deleted from SB 250. Her concern was no definition existed as to a general election. Mrs. Williams requested her comments be limited to SB 250.

Mr. Price reflected Ms. Hunt was suggesting the use of paper type ballots used before computer ballots. Mr. Price then asked Ms. Hunt her logic for requesting an open primary. Responding to Mr. Price's question, Ms. Hunt communicated twenty million people in the United States had decided they did not want to be one party or the other party, and, in the democratic process, very few people voted the straight party line. Especially in the state of Nevada, people voted for the person in the general election and in the primary. At present, in the primary a voter could only vote for a Democrat if the voter was a Democrat, and a voter could only vote for a Republican if the voter was a Republican. If a voter was anything else, he/she could not vote for anyone.

Mr. Petrak pointed out people could vote on the issues, and if the people had a candidate, they could vote.

Mr. Price discussed a number of states did not have primaries in the manner of Nevada where citizens voted for the Democratic or Republican candidate. Those decisions would be made at each party's state convention where it would be decided among themselves who would be the Assembly District 17 democratic candidate, for example. That system would not prohibit any other person living in Assembly District 17 from running for office in the primary, but it would prohibit another person from using the word Democrat to the extent it would appear the individual was the democratic candidate. Mr. Price felt it would be improper to have a say-so about who the leaders of United We Stand would be unless the person wanted to join the organization and be a part of it.

Discussion continued between Ms. Hunt and Mr. Price regarding open primaries. Ms. Hunt felt a voter should have the right to vote for a Democrat, a Republican or a Libertarian, and Mr. Price disagreed.

Ms. Marlene Henderson, Registrar of Voters, Washoe County, testified she supported the majority of SB 250. A few sections of the bill would be costly to the county such as printing of names of all registered voters in the newspaper. The cost of printing tax roles in Washoe County was $45,000, she added. She discussed Section 52, Section 62 and Section 74. Mr. Erquiaga clarified the sections at the request of Mrs. Williams and stated the ballot processing and packaging board was a separate board appointed by the clerk or registrar, and the person on that board must be qualified in the use of data processing equipment.

Ms. Henderson referenced Section 62 stating Washoe County flagged all addresses with mail drops so the addresses could be clarified for mail drop and actual residence. Mrs. Williams discussed Section 62 and reiterated she and Secretary of State Lau would address concerns.

Ms. Janine Hansen, representing Nevada Eagle Forum, testified in favor of SB 250. She expressed concerns and asked for clarification of language which Mr. Humke and Mrs. Williams provided.

Mrs. Lambert questioned the deputy registrar system since post-cards were used. Mrs. Williams pointed out not everyone wanted to register to vote by mail.

Not everyone had the ability to go to a DMV office to register to vote, Mr. Dini added, and from a rural standpoint, he thought deputy registrars worked well. He also felt the position was too politicized as the clerk appointed his/her particular party which had an affect on how people were registered.

Concluding her testimony, Ms. Hansen expressed her appreciation for the work of the Secretary of State's office on SB 250 and hoped the bill could proceed rapidly.

Mr. James Dan, Northern Regional Representative for the Libertarian Party of Nevada, spoke in favor of SB 250 and emphasized his agreement with Mr. Price's remarks regarding the primary procedure. Referring to Mrs. Lambert's question regarding both the keeping of the deputy registrar system and having the mail-in registration, he reminded a requirement was made in SB 250 that a person who registered by mail for the first time must use a different procedure in voting. The person who registered by mail had to send in a notarized request for an absentee ballot.

Mr. Dan stated the Libertarian party supported SB 250 in its present form. He thought some small items could be improved as testimony from others indicated. However, he preferred not to impede progress of the bill, and added the items could be addressed next session, if necessary.

He addressed easing of the ballot access requirements for minor political parties which was the dropping of three percent requirement to one percent. If the number was dropped, the number of signatures which must be verified by each county clerk would be lessened and would ease the burden on the clerks.

Ms. Jan Gilbert, representing the League of Women Voters of Nevada, testified in support of SB 250. She discussed Section 42 and stated having the notary request done every time a person who registered by mail wanted to vote by mail would be extreme. She acknowledged Mr. Erquiaga had said there would be some negotiations on Section 42.

Mrs. Williams closed the hearing on SB 250.

There being no further business to come before committee, the meeting was adjourned at 5:25 p.m.

Secretary of State Cheryl Lau
Chief Deputy Dale Erquiaga, office of Secretary of State

SB 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

Assemblyman Myrna Williams, District No. 10, and Chairman of Elections and Procedures Committee, assumed the testimonial table along with Secretary of State Cheryl Lau. She announced SB 250 was the refinement of election reform legislation. Mrs. Williams and Secretary of State Lau hoped to take elements of AB 145 and AB 577 and amend them into SB 250 to strengthen and further clarify election procedures in the State of Nevada.

Mrs. Williams told the committee Secretary of State Cheryl Lau and Chief Deputy Dale Erquiaga would explain SB 250, and at this time Mrs. Williams assumed the chair.

Secretary of State Lau introduced Chief Deputy Dale Erquiaga, and asked committee to follow Amendment No. 1070 (Exhibit C). Mr. Rob Elliott, office of Registrar of Voters, Clark County, was expected to arrive from Las Vegas during the meeting to discuss Sections 20 through 20.9 which was the early voting program suggested by Kathryn Ferguson, Registrar of Voters, Clark County.

Secretary of State Lau then began a recap of each section of the amendment (Exhibit C) with questions and suggestions from members of the committee.

Mrs. Williams wished to expand language under Section 20.8, and Mr. Sader suggested the words "illness, disability or other good cause shown."

Secretary of State Lau continued with the recap of Exhibit C.

Chief Deputy Dale Erquiaga explained Section 42.5 of Exhibit C had been moved to SB 250 from AB 145.

Concerning language on Page 11 of Exhibit C, Mrs. Williams and committee expressed concerns regarding type of marking, and Secretary of State Lau suggested excluding the words on Page 11, "with a pen or indelible pencil on the alphabetical listing a line through" thereby leaving up to the counties the decision of how Voter Registrars would mark the name of each voter who voted during the previous hour. Mr. Sader further suggested changing the word mark to the word identify.

Chief Deputy Dale Erquiaga continued recap of Exhibit C with questions and suggestions from committee.

After committee discussion among Mr. Humke, Mr. Sader and Mrs. Williams, Secretary of State Lau suggested omission in the second reprint of SB 250, Page 15, Section 48, subsection 5, lines 42 through 45, and the corresponding section Page 16, lines 1 and 2, suggested by Mrs. Williams.

Referring to Page 17 of Exhibit C, which would require issuance of a voter registration card suggested by the Registrar of Voters, Clark County, Mr. Dini questioned if local governments would pay for registration cards, and Mr. Erquiaga replied the cost would be borne by the county. Responding to Mr. Dini's question of fiscal impact to the county, Mrs. Williams understood cards would be issued to people who were new voters or who changed addresses, and a blanket issuance would not occur thereby negating a large expenditure.

Because voter registration card issuance was being inserted into existing statute, Mr. Erquiaga declared back issuance of cards would not be required. If a voter changed his/her name or address, the voter would be issued a new card unless the county chose to issue a registration card.

Secretary of State Lau stated voter registration cards were an excellent control factor.

In response to questions by Mrs. Lambert, Mr. Erquiaga informed no requirement was added that a voter produce the voter registration card at the polls.

Committee discussion ensued after Mrs. Lambert's suggestion of using may instead of shall on Page 17, section 6, of Exhibit C. Mrs. Williams declared if a challenge occurred, the challenge would go back to the Registrar's office for address check which was the method used by other states and was the best way to ensure the integrity of voters.

Mr. Dini suggested leaving the word shall on Page 17 for at least two years.

Chief Deputy Dale Erquiaga continued with recap of Exhibit C on Page 17, Section 62.

Secretary of State Lau pointed out Sections 76 and 36 from SB 250 dealt with independent candidates petition. The petition part was deleted, she told committee, and placed into a separate bill, SB 552. The bill drafters thought this would avoid conflict notices. The petition part of SB 552 was very important, she advised committee.

Mrs. Williams stated committee did not yet have SB 552, and Secretary of State Lau stated her intention was merely to give committee a background and to notify committee of the importance of the petition.

Chief Deputy Dale Erquiaga concluded recap of Exhibit C with Pages 21, 22 and 23.

Mrs. Lambert questioned how the charges would be determined and the rationale (Page 17, Section 56, lines 39 through 42.)

Responding to Mrs. Lambert's question, Mr. Erquiaga stated the legislature was charged not for the space taken on the ballot, but for the ballot card stock purchased by the state. The state also paid for the printing of its ballot questions in the newspapers. Counties were required to print all questions which appeared on the ballot in the newspaper, and the state reimbursed the counties for that portion which dealt with state questions. Citizens were not charged for initiative and referenda as this was their right under the Constitution. County school boards and general improvement districts were charged by the counties, he conveyed.

Mrs. Lambert then questioned cost of early voting which would start three weeks before the election just after registration closed.

In response, Mr. Erquiaga communicated in-office voting began about three weeks before the election which would not change under the amendment to SB 250 from AB 577. The difference in in-office voting would be the hours it was available. In-office voting was not changed from existing law; it was made more accessible to the public.

Mr. Dini added county clerks had the option of shifting staff to avoid overtime.

Agreeing with Mr. Dini, Secretary of State Lau described Kathryn Ferguson, Registrar of Voters, Clark County, had talked with the other county clerks who would have discretion to determine how they would work on the permissive program.

Mr. Sader referred to Exhibit C, Section 20.25, publication requirement for early voting, and suggested the words prior to to replace the word during. Mr. Erquiaga agreed.

Mr. Petrak raised the point cost savings on abolition of special elections would more than offset the cost of printing a card for every registered voter.

Mr. Sader questioned Mr. Rob Elliott's portion, Section 20, since Mr. Elliott was not in attendance at the meeting. Mrs. Williams declared Mr. Elliott had no proposed changes, and his attendance was not vital if the committee had no questions regarding Section 20.

Mrs. Williams then asked for further committee discussion. There being none, Mrs. Williams asked for a motion.

> ASSEMBLYMAN DINI MOVED TO AMEND AND DO PASS SB 250 AS DEFINED IN THE MEETING.
> ASSEMBLYMAN PORTER SECONDED THE MOTION.
> THE MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY BY THOSE PRESENT. ASSEMBLYMAN GARNER WAS ABSENT FOR THE VOTE.

Mrs. Williams asked Mr. Erickson if he had minor changes in language to SB 250 requested by committee in a previous meeting. Mr. Erickson did have the changes and stated he would meet with Mr. Erquiaga.

AB 404: Clarifies and expands authority of legislative commission and its subcommittees to conduct studies and investigations.

Mr. Price testified he had served on Assemblyman McGaughey's subcommittee on U.N.L.V. where, near the end of the hearings, Mr. McGaughey issued subpoenas which everyone except Dennis Finfrock answered. Mr. Finfrock's attorney prepared a brief (Exhibit D), and Mr. Finfrock did not appear. The basis of the brief was subcommittees of the Legislative Commission did not have subpoena power. The brief also indicated the Legislative Commission was a subbody to the Legislative Counsel Bureau which was just the reverse of how the structure was set up. Legislative Commission was not subservient to the Legislative Counsel Bureau, and AB 404 was drafted to correct that situation.

Sec. 20.6. 1. The returns for early voting must be reported separately from the regular votes of the precinct, unless reporting the returns separately would violate the secrecy of a voter's ballot.

2. The county clerk shall develop a procedure to ensure that each ballot is kept secret.

Sec. 20.65. 1. During the time a polling place for early voting is open for voting, a person may not electioneer for or against any candidate, measure or political party in or within 30 feet from the entrance to the voting area.

Senator Raggio told Ms. Wilcox he understood what she was saying, but he asked her if she thought dealing with the homeless problem in Reno is something of value to the state as a whole and that this particular case is warranted.

Ms. Wilcox stated it is the committee's decision and not hers, but according to all rules that bind her she must tell them that land is an asset of the state which has value. She told the committee her organization has tried very hard to help the city in providing land for the homeless shelter, but not to the point of giving it away for free.

THE MOTION CARRIED. (SENATOR CALLISTER WAS ABSENT FOR THE VOTE.)

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 573 and opened the hearing on Senate Bill (S.B.) 250.

SENATE BILL 250: Makes various changes to provisions governing elections.

Senator Lowden stated she chaired the subcommittee on this bill and she had asked the secretary of state to give the committee some assurances from the counties that this mandate for Washoe County is something with which the counties could live. She turned the meeting over to the secretary of state.

Cheryl Lau, Secretary of State, State of Nevada, spoke on S.B. 250. She told the committee their concerns were very well taken the day before on section 67 of S.B. 250 which is the publication of the registered voters list. She explained she spoke to the county manager of Clark County and Washoe County. She told the committee they are not excited about the publication costs, however, they do accept them and they told her to deliver that message to the committee. She explained the reason they accept this is, because there are other parts of S.B. 250 which are important to them and the cost of publication will help defray the costs of some of the other provisions in this bill. She told the committee if there is a concurrence with S.B. 250 she vowed she will work with the papers to reduce the costs for this publication.

Senator Hickey asked about the timeliness of the names. He stated the lists should be current and timely and not 1 or 2 months old. He requested the lists not be more than 1 month old.

Secretary Lau stated he could have that stipulation.

SENATOR RAGGIO MOVED TO DO CONCUR ON ASSEMBLY AMENDMENTS ON S.B. 250.

SENATOR LOWDEN SECONDED THE MOTION.

THE MOTION CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY.

Chairman O'Connell closed the hearing on S.B. 250 and opened the hearing on Assembly Bill (A.B.) 552 and Assembly Joint Resolution (A.J.R.) 6.

ASSEMBLY BILL 552: Makes various changes relating to recall of public officers.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION 6: Proposes to amend Nevada constitution to require that petition for recall of public officer contain signatures of certain number of registered voters.

Nancy Howard, Lobbyist, Nevada League of Cities, spoke on A.B. 552 and A.J.R. 6. She stated they are two companion bills dealing with recall of public officials.

Michelle Buro, Lobbyist, Nevada Association of Counties (NACO), told the committee A.B. 552 was brought about when the counties, cities and secretary of state decided they needed to look at the recall/election procedure and help clarify it. She stated there has been a lot of confusion as to what exactly needs to take place. She told the committee they originally started A.B. 552 with taking out some of the provisions about having a petition, which does not have a valid number of signatures, having to go to district court. She explained when NACO began that process the secretary of state got some good input from the citizens of the State of Nevada as to how they felt the recall procedure could be streamlined. She pointed out in section 3 and 4 of the bill a section was added which states, "the secretary of state shall prepare an informational pamphlet describing the requirements of the recall procedure." She stated this will help assist individuals on what the rules and regulations are when they go to initiate a recall. She explained by setting up that provision the rest of the recall procedure was looked at and currently every recall petition has to be heard in district court which is a very time-consuming and very costly procedure. Ms. Buro stated the individuals
