PROPOSED TEMPORARY REGULATION OF THE BOARD OF MEDICAL EXAMINERS

Explanation – Matter in italics is new; matter in brackets ~~[omitted material]~~ is material to be omitted.

AUTHORITY: NRS 630.130

NAC 630.____ is hereby added to read as follows:

NAC 630.____ Physicians with conceded eminence. (NRS 630.130, 630.160, 630.263, 630.1605)

The Board may issue a special restricted license to an applicant who is foreign medical doctor by virtue of the applicant's conceded eminence and authority in the applicant's specialty, in certain circumstances, where:

(a) "Conceded eminence and authority in the applicant's specialty," as used in this section, means recognized prominence, preeminence and leadership in a specialty or subspecialty of medicine, as demonstrated by academic training, as well as teaching, specialty certificate, professional awards and honors, and authorship of published scholarly articles and papers, or comparable equivalents.

(b) "Center of international renown," as used in this section, means a tax-exempt facility that is recognized internationally as a cutting edge research and traditional treatment center for one or more serious mental or physical human health-related conditions, or those approved by the Governor, and the University of Nevada Medical School.

(c) The applicant for a conceded eminence special restricted license shows that he/she meets the requirements set forth in NRS 630.160, or NRS 630.1605, or the academic equivalent of those requirements.

(d) The applicant must be recommended to the Board, in writing, by the dean, president or director of a tax exempt research center of international renown in Nevada or the University of Nevada Medical School, that intends to hire the applicant, and the proposed appointment to the staff of the Center or the University of Nevada Medical School, must be detailed as to position description, duties, length of appointment, etc., and any other information that would be helpful to the Board in making its licensing decision.

(e) The primary emphasis of the applicant's anticipated position must be on medical research in association with a recognized research facility, or the University of Nevada Medical School.

(f) The applicant is expected to receive an appointment to the institution or program making the recommendation under section (c), above.

(g) The applicant has not failed an international or national licensing examination that would prevent licensure in this state.

(h) The applicant has passed a Nevada medical jurisprudence examination as required by Board rule.

(i) The applicant is of good professional character and is not subject to denial of a license under any other jurisdiction's laws or regulations for misconduct or disciplinary reasons, and whose license has not been denied, nor has he been disciplined, by another jurisdiction.

(j) The applicant has been licensed to practice medicine, and is currently so licensed in good standing, either nationally or internationally, and he is not under investigation by any licensing board.

(k) The applicant has satisfactorily completed identifiable and substantial training in the applicant's specialty area of medicine. "Identifiable" means that the scope, content, and durations of the training may be verified by Board staff. "Substantial" means at least three years in a residency training program, or the academic equivalent, and at least two years in a fellowship training program, or the academic equivalent.

(l) The applicant has received at least one professional award for excellence in his or her specialty or subspecialty by a statewide, national or international professional organization with a membership of at least 500.

(m) The applicant has held at least one academic or research appointment at a university, medical center or a research center.

(n) The applicant has been the author or co-author of at least five articles or papers, dealing with subjects related to his or her specialty or subspecialty, that have been printed in recognized professional periodicals that are:

(1) sponsored by a statewide, national or international professional organization; and

(2) require peer review of the articles published.

(o) The holder of a conceded eminence special restricted license shall be limited to the practice of only a specialty of medicine for which the license holder is board certified, or its academic equivalent. The license holder is further limited to practice within the setting of the institution or program whose official representative recommended the license holder under section (c) of this section, and the primary thrust of such practice will be research with clinical application related to research.

(p) The applicant must appear personally before the Board upon application for licensure, accompanied by his sponsor, who is the individual who recommended his or her licensure to the Board.
