AUTHORITY: §§ 1-5 and 10, NRS 656.130; § 6, NRS 622.085 and 656.130; §§ 7 and 8, NRS 656.130, 656.187 and 656.200; § 9, NRS 656.130 and 656.250.

A REGULATION relating to court reporting; requiring a court reporting firm to sever itself from a designated representative of the firm under certain circumstances; requiring court reporters and firms to offer or provide services or products to each party to a proceeding or the attorney of each party in a timely manner; requiring court reporters and firms to provide certain transcripts and recordings of such transcripts to third-parties under certain circumstances; authorizing the Certified Court Reporters' Board of Nevada to consider and admit into evidence certain mitigating and aggravating circumstances in disciplinary proceedings; making various changes relating to the provision of transcripts to parties; requiring each court reporter and designated representative of a court reporting firm to complete at least 15 credits of continuing education every 2 years; making other changes relating to continuing education; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes the Certified Court Reporters' Board of Nevada to adopt regulations concerning the profession of court reporting and to deny, suspend or revoke a certificate of a court reporter or a license of a court reporting firm under certain circumstances. (NRS 656.130, 656.240, 656.250, 656.253) Section 2 of this regulation prohibits a firm from conducting business if the certificate of the designated representative of the firm has been suspended or revoked or the license of the firm has been suspended or revoked due to the acts or omissions of a non-certified designated representative of the firm, unless the firm has severed itself from the designated representative. Section 2, however, authorizes the designated representative of the firm to resume his or her connection and activities with the firm, or otherwise be reengaged with the firm, upon the reinstatement of the suspended or revoked certificate or license, as applicable.

Existing regulations require, in general, each court reporter and firm to deliver: (1) the original transcript of a deposition to the party who orders the original; and (2) a copy of the transcript to each party who orders a copy. (NAC 656.370) Section 9 of this regulation expands the requirements to include transcripts of all proceedings. Section 4 of this regulation authorizes a person who is not a party to a proceeding to request a copy of a transcript of a proceeding from a court reporter or firm with possession of the transcript. Upon receipt of such a request, section 4 requires: (1) the court reporter or firm to notify the parties to the proceeding or their attorneys of the request; and (2) the notification to contain certain information. Finally, if the provision of the copy of the transcript is not otherwise prohibited by court order, section 4 requires the court reporter or firm to provide to the third-party requestor, not later than 60 days after providing notice of the request and upon receipt of a reasonable fee prescribed by the court reporter or firm, a copy of the transcript.

Additionally, existing regulations require a court reporter, under certain circumstances, to provide a transcript of a proceeding if: (1) the certificate of the court reporter is suspended or revoked; (2) the court reporter has not prepared a transcript of a proceeding in which the court reporter provided such services before the certificate was suspended or revoked; and (3) a person has requested a transcript of the proceeding. (NAC 656.375) Section 10 of this regulation repeals such provisions. Instead, section 9 requires a court reporter whose certificate has been suspended or revoked, or a firm whose license has been suspended or revoked, to deliver: (1) the original transcript of a proceeding that was not transcribed before the suspension or revocation to the party who ordered the original; and (2) a copy of the transcript of any proceeding that was not transcribed before the suspension or revocation to each party who ordered a copy.

Section 9 also provides that regardless of whether the certificate or license of a court reporter or firm has been suspended or revoked, the court reporter or firm is: (1) prohibited from preparing more than one original transcript of a proceeding; and (2) required to take reasonable steps to notify each party or the attorney of each party of a request for a transcript of a proceeding.

Section 3 of this regulation provides that if a court reporter or firm offers or provides a service or product to a party to a proceeding or the attorney of the party, the court reporter or firm must offer or provide such services or products to the other parties to the proceeding or their attorneys in a timely manner.

The Nevada Supreme Court set forth various aggravating and mitigating circumstances that may be considered by a court when deciding what sanction to impose upon an attorney, and authorizes the court to admit such aggravating and mitigating circumstances into evidence at a disciplinary hearing. (S.C.R. 102.5) Section 5 of this regulation establishes similar aggravating and mitigating circumstances that may be considered and admitted into evidence by the Board in a disciplinary proceeding against a holder of a certificate or license.

Existing law requires regulatory bodies to develop and implement a process by which a person with a criminal history can petition the regulatory body to determine if the criminal history of the petitioner will disqualify the petitioner from being licensed by the regulatory body. (NRS 622.085) Section 6 of this regulation establishes the process for: (1) a person to file such a petition with the Board to determine whether he or she may be certified as a court reporter; and (2) the Board to review any such petition.

Existing law requires each court reporter and designated representative of a court reporting firm to satisfy continuing education requirements. (NRS 656.187, 656.200) Existing regulations require, with certain exceptions, each court reporter and designated representative of a court reporting firm to complete at least 15 hours of continuing education every 2 years. (NAC 656.210) Existing regulations also authorize the Board to determine the number of hours of credit each participant is entitled to receive for attending or participating in a continuing education program or course of study. (NAC 656.240) Section 7 of this regulation instead requires each court reporter or designated representative of a court reporting firm to complete at least 15 credits of continuing education every 2 years. Similarly, section 8 of this regulation authorizes the Board to determine the number of credits each participant is entitled to receive for attending or participating in a continuing education program or course of study.

Section 1. Chapter 656 of NAC is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 to 6, inclusive, of this regulation.

2. A designated representative of a court reporting firm who caused a certificate or license to be suspended or revoked as described in subsection 1 may resume his or her connection and activities with, or otherwise be reengaged by, the firm upon the reinstatement of the certificate of the designated representative of the court reporting firm or license of the firm, as applicable.
