AUTHORITY: §§ 1-5, NRS 391.019.

A REGULATION relating to education; revising the qualifications for an endorsement to teach certain pupils who have speech and language impairments; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

Existing law requires the Commission on Professional Standards in Education to adopt regulations identifying fields of specialization in teaching which require the specialized training of teachers. Existing law also requires the Commission to adopt regulations setting forth the requirements a teacher must satisfy to qualify for an endorsement in each field of specialization. (NRS 391.019) Existing regulations require an applicant for an endorsement to teach pupils, ages 3 to 21, inclusive, who have speech and language impairments to: (1) complete a certain program of preparation; (2) submit a transcript which indicates the person holds a master’s degree or more advanced degree in an area of concentration in speech and language impairments conferred by a regionally accredited college or university and hold either a certificate of clinical competence in speech from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association or equivalent license from the Speech-Language Pathology, Audiology and Hearing Aid Dispensing Board; (3) hold a license or certification issued by another state, with an endorsement to teach pupils who have speech and language impairments; (4) hold a bachelor’s or master’s degree in combination with certain experience; or (5) have completed a bachelor’s or master’s degree and complete certain coursework. (NAC 391.370)

Section 3 of this regulation: (1) removes the option to obtain an endorsement to teach pupils who have speech and language impairments by completing a certain program of preparation; (2) revises the required fields of study for a master’s degree or more advanced degree by a person who holds either a certificate of clinical competence in speech-language pathology from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association or a standard or provisional license from the Speech-Language Pathology, Audiology and Hearing Aid Dispensing Board; and (3) exempts a person who holds only a license to teach special education with an endorsement to teach pupils who have speech and language impairments from existing regulations which require a test of competency and certain requirements for renewing the license. (NAC 391.036, 391.065) Sections 1 and 2 of this regulation make conforming changes relating to such exemptions.

Effective October 1, 2026, section 4 of this regulation removes the option to obtain an endorsement to teach pupils who have speech and language impairments by holding a bachelor's or master's degree in combination with certain experience or completing a bachelor's or master's degree and certain coursework. Section 4 also: (1) allows a person who holds only a license to teach special education with an endorsement to teach pupils who have speech and language impairments issued on or before October 1, 2026, on the basis of such qualifications, to continue to hold the endorsement; and (2) requires such a person to comply with existing regulations which contain certain requirements for renewing a license as of October 1, 2026. (NAC 391.065)
