A REGULATION relating to Oriental medicine; revising the qualifications for licensure to practice Oriental medicine; revising provisions relating to continuing education; revising certain fees; repealing the requirements for the issuance of a temporary certificate for lecturing or educational seminars; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

Existing law authorizes the State Board of Oriental Medicine to issue a license to practice as a doctor of Oriental medicine to an applicant who, among other requirements: (1) has successfully completed a 4-year program of study, or its equivalent, in Oriental medicine at a school or college of Oriental medicine that is approved by the Board; and (2) has lawfully practiced Oriental medicine in another state or foreign country for at least 4 years. (NRS 634A.140) Existing regulations provide for the approval of a school or college only if the school or college is: (1) accredited by the Accreditation Commission for Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine or its successor organization; or (2) in pre-accreditation status with that organization. (NAC 634A.080) Section 2 of this regulation additionally authorizes the Board to approve a school or college that is approved by a licensing agency that regulates the practice of Oriental medicine in another state, if the applicant is currently licensed in that state. Sections 1 and 2 of this regulation revise the name of the Accreditation Commission to the “Accreditation Commission for Acupuncture and Herbal Medicine” to reflect the current name of that organization.

Existing regulations set forth the requirements for a program of study in Oriental medicine, including training or instruction in certain subjects. (NAC 634A.080) Section 2 removes the subject of chemistry or biochemistry from the requirements for a program of study.

Existing regulations require the holder of a license to practice Oriental medicine to complete at least 10 hours of continuing education each calendar year. Existing regulations authorize a licensee to carry forward up to 10 hours of excess credit and apply such credit to the educational requirements for the next calendar year. (NAC 634A.135) Section 3 of this regulation revises those time periods from a calendar year to the 365 days immediately preceding the submission of an application for annual renewal of a license.

Existing law authorizes the Board to adopt regulations for the issuance of temporary certificates to persons not licensed under chapter 634A of NRS in order to conduct lecturing or educational seminars. (NRS 634A.165) Existing regulations set forth the requirements for obtaining such a temporary certificate. (NAC 634A.125) Section 6 of this regulation repeals the requirements for the issuance of such a certificate, thereby eliminating such certificates. Section 5 of this regulation makes a conforming change by eliminating the fee for the issuance of such a temporary certificate.

Existing law authorizes the Board to charge and collect certain fees. (NRS 634A.070, 634A.110, 634A.165, 634A.167) Section 5: (1) reduces the fees charged for an original application for licensure as a doctor of Oriental medicine, renewal of an active license submitted before February 1 and the state examination; (2) establishes a separate, reduced fee for renewal of a license for certain military members, veterans and their spouses submitted before February 1; and (3) eliminates the fees charged for the replacement of a pocket license, copies of chapter 634A of NRS and chapter 634A NAC and certain other copies. Section 4 of this regulation makes a conforming change to eliminate a reference to the fee for the replacement of a pocket license.
