Remarks by Senator Woodhouse:

This resolution has come forward from a number of business owners and friends of businesses that have struggled with individuals coming in to shop their showrooms, only to depart the store and purchase their items online, thus avoiding the payment of sales tax.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Senator Settlemeyer requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

A long time ago, much to my chagrin, it was decided to no longer refer to the Future Farmers of America as such, but simply to say FFA. One of my colleagues had a good idea to call the organization the Future Federation of Agriculturalists, but that did not catch on. What I have always appreciated about the FFA is that it is very structured and rigorous, much like us here in the Senate. For instance, one particular teacher of mine, if you did not have your jacket zipped up, she would ask you to leave the room. It was simple, zip it up or take it off, as the expression goes.
