

THE FORTIETH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), March 15, 2013

Senate called to order at 11:29 a.m.

President Krolicki presiding.

Roll called.

All present except for Senator Denis, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Bob Chambers.

Almighty God, we pause at the beginning of this Session to acknowledge You as the source of wisdom and understanding. We acknowledge that You have created us in Your image and given us gifts and talents with which we can use to serve each other. We thank You again for these who have chosen to live lives of service. I pray that they will feel the reward that comes by serving, especially in the affairs of government.

We think today of Senator Denis and his family and ask for Your grace to be extended to them.

In the days ahead, many important bills will be considered and voted upon here. I pray that You will give wisdom from above, and may each member have the courage to vote according to their own values. I pray that the laws enacted will benefit the people of this great state.

In the Name of Him who gives us wisdom and courage.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Senator Jones requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

SENATOR JONES:

Thank you, Mr. President. I rise today to alert my colleagues to an important issue that recently came to my attention while touring Southwest Career and Technical Academy in my district. Technical education is a critical part of our education system.

Currently more than 51,000 students in Nevada take career and technical education courses. In addition, we have ten academies dedicated to career and technical education. In addition to my district, these excellent academies are located in the districts of my colleagues: Districts 2, 4, 7, 8, 9, 13, 18 and 21.

Many like Southwest Career and Technical Academy are dedicated to educating our students in the areas specified in the Brookings Report as future jobs of this State including health care, technology and hospitality. These bright students will walk out of these academies ready to start a career in the fields we most need them in right now, or go on to further training in college. For example, at Southwest Career and Technical Academy, a graduate can walk out ready for a career as a certified nursing assistant, respiratory therapist assistant, web designer or video game designer.

Important federal funding under the Perkins Grant Program is currently threatened as a result of sequestration. Because of a quirk in the Perkins Grant Enabling Law, funding for career and technical education in Nevada would not be cut by five percent like other programs; rather Nevada will suffer a 40 percent cut. Needless to say, this will be devastating to career and technical education in this State.

We will fall further behind in preparing our students for the jobs of the future. Immediate federal action to address this issue is critical. Our career and technical educators traveled to Washington recently to urge our delegation to take action.

I respectfully ask my colleagues to join me in calling upon our Congressional delegation to act quickly to remedy this dire issue for the sake of the more than 51,000 career and technical education students in Nevada.

SENATOR SMITH:

Thank you, Mr. President. I have the mothers and a godmother of the dancers of the Truckee River Dance Company, who just performed, sitting with me on the Floor today for a bird's eye view of the terrific performance we just enjoyed. We thank the young ladies who danced for us this morning and recognize their wonderful support system.
