

THE ONE HUNDRED AND THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), May 17, 2013

Senate called to order at 12:46 p.m.

President Krolicki presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by former Senator Valerie Wiener.

Good afternoon, Mr. President and members of the Nevada Senate. It is a privilege to be before you in this capacity. If we would all find comfort in that standing place we are, and close our eyes. Take in a very deep breath, and expel it. As we breathe in and breathe out, this is the very life force known as God.

The center and source of itself and all that it creates: God. The beginning, the now and the always, forever present; all that is known and unknown. And as that one creator of all that is, each person who is present right now, wherever that presence is, is a unique and divine expression of God—One of a kind, unique in every way.

In the experience of the legislative process—for all that has led up to this day and this moment, and all that is yet to be—God is ever-present, expressing as each individual participating in this process. And for those who are elected to be there, those who have chosen to be there and those who serve in other capacities, each is a divine expression—moment to moment—with ideas, thoughts, exchanges, actions and reactions, that are forever divine just as they are.

How grateful I am that as you go forward, with this day and all of those that follow, each person shows up as only he or she can. What a gift that is to all of us. For each person involved in this process, has said yes to public service, yes to the needs and interests of the State of Nevada. This shows up in all ways, moment to moment. Yes, I am grateful for this, for all who are present and those who are not—for who they are, who we are and how we express in our unique ways. For all of this is God, divine direction and love in action. For this I am so grateful.

And so it is.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

The President announced that under previous order, the reading of the Journal is waived for the remainder of the 77th Legislative Session and the President and Secretary are authorized to make any necessary corrections and additions.
