AN ACT relating to massage therapy; exempting a nail technologist from the requirement to be licensed as a massage therapist when performing certain activities; revising certain testing requirements for applicants for a license to practice massage therapy; limiting the period during which an inactive or expired license may be restored or renewed; deleting certain grounds for refusal to issue a license or initiate disciplinary action against licensees; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

Existing law exempts certain persons from the requirement to be licensed as a massage therapist. (NRS 640C.100) Section 1 of this bill adds licensed nail technologists to this list of exempt persons if the nail technologist is massaging the hands, feet, forearms or lower legs of a person within the permissible scope of practice for a nail technologist.

Existing law requires an applicant for a license to practice massage therapy to pass a written examination administered by a board that is accredited by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA) or certain other examinations. (NRS 640C.400) Section 2 of this bill deletes the requirement that the written examination be administered by a board accredited by the NCCA, and instead requires only that the examination be administered by an accredited board.

Existing law allows a massage therapist whose license has expired or been placed on inactive status to restore or renew his or her license by paying certain fees and meeting certain requirements. (NRS 640C.500, 640C.510) Sections 3 and 4 of this bill limit to 2 years the period during which an expired or inactive license may be restored or renewed.

Existing law authorizes the Board of Massage Therapists to refuse to issue a license to an applicant or initiate disciplinary action against the holder of a license for certain reasons, including a conviction for any crime involving moral turpitude

20 within the immediately preceding 10 years. (NRS 640C.700) Section 5 of this bill
21 deletes the conviction for such a crime as grounds for disciplinary action or denial
22 of a license, leaving convictions for crimes involving sex, violence, prostitution,
23 theft or drugs, or crimes related to massage therapy as grounds for such disciplinary
24 action or denial of a license. Section 5 also adds the failure to report to the Board
25 any unethical or unprofessional conduct of the holder of a license or other person
26 relating to massage therapy as grounds for such disciplinary action or denial of a 27 license.
