Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

Existing law makes it unlawful for a person to drive or operate a vehicle of any kind at certain speeds in certain conditions and, in any event, at a rate of speed greater than 75 miles per hour. (NRS 484B.600) Existing law also allows the Department of Transportation to establish a speed limit on the highways it constructs or maintains of not more than 75 miles per hour. (NRS 484B.613)

Sections 1 and 2 of this bill increase the maximum speed at which a person may drive or operate a vehicle from 75 miles per hour to 80 miles per hour, subject to the existing limitations.

Existing law provides further for the imposition of a limited $25 fine for certain speeding violations that are within certain incremental parameters. (NRS 484B.617)

Section 3 of this bill expands the incremental parameters up to 85 miles per hour.
