EXPLANATION – Matter in bolded italics is new; matter between brackets ~~omitted material~~ is material to be omitted.

AN ACT relating to cremation; authorizing the use of alkaline hydrolysis for cremation; exempting a crematory that uses only alkaline hydrolysis from certain limitations on the location of a crematory; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

1 Existing law regulates the cremation of human remains and the operation of 2 facilities for cremation. (NRS 451.600-451.715, chapter 642 of NRS) For the 3 purposes of those provisions, sections 3 and 10 of this bill expand the current 4 definition of cremation to include “alkaline hydrolysis,” which is a water-based 5 process for reducing human remains to bone fragments through the use of alkaline
6 chemicals and agitation. A result of this change is to make certain fee and penalty 7 provisions applicable to this type of cremation. In certain cities and towns, existing 8 law limits the location of a crematory to an area that is zoned for mixed, 9 commercial or industrial use and at least 1,500 feet from any parcel zoned for 10 residential use. (NRS 451.635) Section 5 of this bill exempts from those limitations
11 a crematory that uses only alkaline hydrolysis. Sections 7 and 8 of this bill make 12 conforming changes to account for differences between cremation by incineration 13 and cremation by alkaline hydrolysis.
