AN ACT relating to records of criminal history; revising provisions governing requirements for the submission of information to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History; reducing the period in which the Central Repository may not charge a fee for providing certain information relating to an applicant for professional licensure; revising provisions relating to the Revolving Account to Investigate the Background of Volunteers Who Work With Children; revising the information which must be included within the record of the Repository for Information Concerning Crimes Against Older Persons; revising and repealing certain provisions regarding the dissemination of certain information from the Central Repository; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:
Existing law establishes the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History for the collection and maintenance of certain information relating to records of criminal history. Under existing law, the General Services Division of the Department of Public Safety is authorized to request of and receive from the Federal Bureau of Investigation the background and personal history of a person by submitting to the Federal Bureau of Investigation a complete set of fingerprints of the person which was received by the Central Repository. (NRS 179A.075) Section 4 of this bill revises the definition of the term “record of criminal history” to include “biometric identifiers,” which is defined in section 2 of this bill as a fingerprint, palm print, scar, bodily mark, tattoo, voiceprint, facial image, retina image or iris image of a person.
Existing law requires each agency of criminal justice and any other agency dealing with crime or delinquency of children to collect, maintain and submit certain information to the Central Repository. (NRS 179A.075) Section 5 of this bill eliminates those duties as they pertain to agencies dealing with delinquency of children and establishes certain reporting requirements for compliance with the policies, procedures and definitions prescribed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the submission of information to the Uniform Crime Reporting Program. [Footnote relating to the use of force by law enforcement]

Existing law sets forth a list of persons and governmental entities to whom records of criminal history must be disseminated by an agency of criminal justice upon request. (NRS 179A.100) Section 8 of this bill removes certain persons and governmental entities from that list, as provisions governing dissemination of records to those persons and entities are included in other state and federal laws and regulations. It adds to that list a county coroner or medical examiner, as needed to conduct an investigation of the death of a person.

Existing law prohibits the Central Repository from charging a fee for information relating to records of criminal history relating to a person regarding whom the Central Repository provided a similar report within the immediately preceding 6 months in conjunction with an application by the person for professional licensure. (NRS 179A.140) Section 10 of this bill reduces the period in which the fee may not be charged to 90 days.

Existing law establishes the Revolving Account to Investigate the Background of Volunteers Who Work With Children. Money in the Account is to be used to pay the costs to process requests from nonprofit agencies to determine whether a volunteer or prospective volunteer of such an agency who works, or will work, directly with children has committed certain offenses. (NRS 179A.310) Section 12 of this bill: (1) clarifies that the Central Repository processes requests from the agencies for information on the background of such volunteers; and (2) changes the name of the Account to the Revolving Account to Process Requests for Information on the Background of Volunteers Who Work With Children.

Existing law establishes the Repository for Information Concerning Crimes Against Older Persons within the Central Repository. (NRS 179A.450) Section 14 of this bill revises the information which must be included within the record of the Repository for Information Concerning Crimes Against Older Persons.

Existing law governs the dissemination of information relating to certain offenses as that information relates to persons who work with children. (NRS 179A.180-179A.240) Section 21 of this bill repeals those provisions, as provisions governing dissemination of that information are included in federal laws and regulations.
