EXPLANATION – Matter in bolded italics is new; matter between brackets ~~omitted material~~ is material to be omitted.

AN ACT relating to industrial insurance; revising the circumstances in which certain employees are authorized to receive compensation under industrial insurance for certain stress-related claims; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel’s Digest:

1 Under existing law, with certain exceptions, an injury or disease sustained by 2 an employee caused by stress is compensable under industrial insurance only if the 3 employee can prove by clear and convincing medical or psychiatric evidence that:
4 (1) the employee has a mental injury caused by extreme stress in time of danger; (2)
5 the primary cause of the injury was an event that arose out of and during the course 6 of his or her employment; and (3) the stress was not caused by a layoff, termination 7 or disciplinary action. Existing law provides that a first responder may prove by 8 clear and convincing medical or psychiatric evidence that the mental injury was 9 primarily caused by the first responder witnessing an event of a certain specified 10 type during the course of his or her employment. Under existing law, an ailment or 11 disorder caused by any gradual mental stimulus or any death or disability ensuing 12 therefrom is not compensable under industrial insurance. (NRS 616C.180)

13 Section 1 of this bill expands the stress-related injuries that may be 14 compensable under industrial insurance under certain circumstances to include a 15 mental injury which afflicts a first responder and which is caused by extreme stress 16 for which the primary cause was witnessing an event or series of events that arose

17 out of and during the course of employment and involved: (1) the death, or 18 aftermath of the death, of a person as a result of a violent event; or (2) an injury, or 19 the aftermath of an injury, that involves grievous bodily harm of a nature that 20 shocks the conscience.
