The new language in Section 1 may result in the adoption of new curriculum for mental health and thus we cannot determine the impact. Approved by: Paul Johnson, Chief Financial Officer

Comment: The sections pertaining to educational requirements for licensure would be incurred by the teacher and would not be a cost to the school district. The provisions with respect to professional development would create a fiscal impact. We would use a non-instructional, professional development day to provide professional development in a conference setting and pay for certified and trained professional to travel to the school district and provide services for all instructional staff. We would anticipate a two-day training initially that could be reduced to one day subsequently depending on demand and requirements.
