Explanation

(Use Additional Sheets of Attachments, if required)

At this time 50 out of the 549 registered companies have products that include the proposed class of chemicals, who can be reasonably notified by existing staff on the modified labeling and retail requirements (RUP status). With that, we believe our existing staff can verify that RUPs have been removed from non-RUP retailer shelves through existing inspection services. The education and outreach required to inform industry is not anticipated to be an extensive cost to the department. NDA doesn't believe there would be a significant added cost to the department to enforce the proposed statutes.
