BDR 32-691 relates to taxation and revises provisions relating to tax exemptions and the application and submission process of veterans exemption for surviving spouses through the county assessors, and expands the exemptions available for property taxes and the governmental services tax (GST). The application must be filed with the county assessor by the surviving spouse of the veteran. The surviving spouse must meet specific criteria to be eligible for the surviving spouse exemption. This bill would become effective on October 1, 2023.

The Department has reviewed this bill and determined that the impact cannot be determined. These exemption amounts are calculated by the county assessors and issued to customers who then claim them at DMV. The DMV system already has the surviving spouse exemption capability and the procedures in place to apply the exemptions to vehicle registrations.
