School District: White Pine County School District Approved by: Paul Johnson, CFO Comment: This legislation would likely have a modest fiscal impact on the White Pine County School District. By allowing JROTC-certified military members and veterans to obtain teaching licenses through an alternative route, the district could potentially reduce recruitment costs and time for filling certain positions. However, there may be some initial expenses for policy updates, staff training, and possible supplementary training for these new hires. The overall financial effect is expected to be relatively small, with potential long-term savings in recruitment offset by short-term administrative and training costs. The actual impact would depend on the district's specific needs and the number of JROTC-certified individuals seeking employment in the area.
