OF THE

ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

SIXTY-THIRD SESSION

THE FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), January 21, 1985

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and Statutes, the Assembly was called to order by Secretary of State Wm. D. Swackhamer at 12 noon.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman-elect Chuck Horne.

Our Father in Heaven as we gather together to convene this 63rd Session of the Assembly of the State of Nevada we are mindful and grateful for the heritage which we have which has brought us together under a system of laws and order of government that Thou has blessed us with. We are mindful of those that have gone before. We pray that Thy blessings and spirit will be upon all of those here assembled, those that have stewardship as representatives of the citizens of this great state. We seek Thy direction and guidance recognizing that we come from a diversity of philosophy and upbringing but with Thy blessings we can mold together in good order a session that will be of benefit to the growth and prosperity of this great state. We are again so very grateful for the blessings that we have. May we conduct ourselves in such a manner as to warrant Thy further benevolence. We do so in the name of Jesus Christ. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Mr. Secretary of State requested Mrs. Mouryne B. Landing to serve as temporary Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

The appointed committee escorted Secretary of State Swackhamer to the bar of the Assembly.

Remarks by Mr. Speaker.

Assemblyman Francis requested that Mr. Speaker's remarks be entered in the Journal.

This is probably one of the most nervous moments of my life. My remarks will be brief. I am very pleased to see the Chief Justice of the Nevada Supreme Court not only administer the oath but explain the oath—to go behind the mere words. If each of us in this chamber takes that oath of office to heart then we will serve the people of the State of Nevada well. It is popular these days, I guess, to blame many of the ills of the world on government and certainly members who serve in government are not too well regarded. I know that this assembled body has the capability and the individuals within it have the capability to make the 63rd Session of the Nevada Assembly restore some of that confidence the public has lost. I would say to each of you, and I pledge to you, that I will work hard and hope that you will work hard. If each of us keeps in mind that the only special interest that really counts in the State of Nevada are the people of the State of Nevada, then we will have done what we elected to do. Thank you very much.

Mr. Speaker declared that nominations were in order for Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblyman Bergevin nominated Assemblyman Joerg for Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblyman Beyer moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker declared Assemblyman Joerg to be Speaker pro Tempore of the Assembly.

Remarks by Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

Mr. Speaker declared that nominations were in order for Chief Clerk.

Assemblyman Bogaert nominated Mrs. Mouryne B. Landing to be Chief Clerk.

Assemblyman Banner moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker declared Mrs. Mouryne B. Landing to be the Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Nicholas, Humke and Dini as a committee to inform the Senate that the Assembly was organized and ready for business.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Joerg, Stone and Collins as a committee to inform the Governor that the Assembly was organized and ready for business.

Remarks by Assemblymen Coffin, Francis and Dini.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Joerg moved that the Standing Rules of the Senate and Assembly of the Sixty-second Session, as amended, be adopted by the Assembly of the Sixty-third Session.

Motion carried unanimously.

By the Committee on Judiciary:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 16 of the 62nd Session—Proposing to amend section 21 of article 6 of the constitution of the State of Nevada, relating to the judicial department, by limiting the circumstances under which the records and proceedings of the commission on judicial discipline are confidential, limiting the appointment of justices and judges to the commission, and extending the commission's jurisdiction over judges of lower courts.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 21 of article 6 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 21. 1. A justice of the supreme court , [or a] district judge, justice of the peace or municipal or police judge may, in addition to the [provision] provisions of article 7 for impeachment [,] and removal, be censured, retired or removed by the commission on judicial discipline. A justice or judge may appeal from the action of the commission to the supreme court, which may reverse such action or take any alternative action provided in this subsection.

2. The commission is composed of:

(a) Two [justices or] district judges , no more than one of whom may be from any one judicial district, or one justice of the supreme court and one district judge, appointed by the supreme court;

(b) Two members of the State Bar of Nevada, a public corporation created by statute, appointed by its board of governors; and

(c) Three persons, not members of the legal profession, appointed by the governor.

The commission shall elect a chairman from among its three lay members.

3. If at any time the State Bar of Nevada ceases to exist as a public corporation or ceases to include all attorneys admitted to practice before the courts of this state, the legislature shall provide by law, or if it fails to do so the supreme court shall provide by rule, for the appointment of attorneys at law to the positions designated in this section to be occupied by members of the State Bar of Nevada.

4. The term of office of each appointive member of the commission, except the first members, is 4 years. Each appointing authority shall appoint one of the members first appointed for a term of 2 years. If a vacancy occurs, the appointing authority shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. An appointing authority shall not appoint more than one resident of any county. The governor shall not appoint more than two members of the same political party. No member may be a member of a commission on judicial selection.

5. The [supreme court] commission shall make appropriate rules for [:

(a) The confidentiality of all proceedings before the commission, except a decision to censure, retire or remove a justice or judge.

(b) The grounds of censure.

(c) The] the conduct of investigations and hearings.

[6.] The supreme court shall make appropriate rules defining the grounds of censure.

6. Before adopting, amending or repealing any such rule, the commission or court shall hold a public hearing, upon 30 days' notice published in one or more newspapers whose combined circulation is general throughout the state. The adoption, amendment or repeal becomes effective 30 days after the commission takes action or the entry of the court's order embodying its action.

7. No justice or judge may by virtue of this section be:

(a) Removed except for willful misconduct, willful or persistent failure to perform the duties of his office or habitual intemperance; or

(b) Retired except for advanced age which interferes with the proper performance of his judicial duties, or for mental or physical disability which prevents the proper performance of his judicial duties and which is likely to be permanent in nature.

[7.] 8. Any person may bring to the attention of the commission any matter relating to the fitness of a justice or judge. The commission shall, after preliminary investigation, dismiss the matter or order a hearing to be held before it. If a hearing is ordered, a statement of the matter [shall] must be served upon the justice or judge against whom the proceeding is brought. The commission in its discretion may suspend a justice or judge from the exercise of his office pending the determination of the proceedings before the commission. Any justice or judge whose removal is sought is liable to indictment and punishment according to law. A justice or judge retired for disability in accordance with this section is entitled thereafter to receive such compensation as the legislature may provide.

[8.] 9. If a proceeding is brought against a justice of the supreme court, no justice may sit on the commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a district judge, no judge from the same judicial district may sit on the commission for that proceeding. If an appeal is taken from an action of the commission to the supreme court, any justice who sat on the commission for that proceeding is disqualified from participating in the consideration or decision of the appeal. When any member of the commission is disqualified by this subsection, the supreme court shall appoint a substitute from among the eligible judges.

[9.] 10. The commission may:

(a) Designate for each hearing an attorney or attorneys at law to act as counsel to conduct the proceeding;

(b) Summon witnesses to appear and testify under oath and compel the production of books, papers, documents and records;

(c) Grant immunity from prosecution or punishment when the commission deems it necessary and proper in order to compel the giving of testimony under oath and the production of books, papers, documents and records; and

(d) Exercise such further powers as the legislature may from time to time confer upon it.

11. The existence and records of an investigation of the fitness of a justice or judge by the commission are confidential unless and until the contents are revealed in a hearing. The hearing and the records made during the hearing are open to the public. The deliberations of the commission are confidential but the decision of the commission made after the public hearing must be made public. The commission shall provide by rule for preserving the confidentiality of records and proceedings when required by this subsection and for permitting attendance at hearings and the inspection of records when required by this subsection.

THE SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), January 22, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:04 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Sam Caldwell.

Almighty God, we give You thanks for the privilege of being here to serve the people of this beautiful part of Your creation—our beloved State of Nevada. Help us always to make decisions that are moral, just and equitable to all those who we have been elected to serve. Help us always to do those things which are in accordance with Your divine law. Help us always to be the masters of ourselves so that we can be servants to others. Finally, we pray that You keep us mindful that we are here, not to be served, but to serve those who have entrusted us with great responsibility. We ask this in the name of Him who gave us the example of true servanthood, Jesus Christ, our Lord. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

The Governor delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA SIXTY-THIRD SESSION, 1985

January 23, 1985

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Distinguished Members of the Legislature, My Fellow Nevadans:

Tonight marks a departure from the usual "State of the State" speech. Like any Governor, and especially as a former colleague of yours, I am deeply honored to be here with you.

I am not, however, going to take a lot of your time this evening reciting all of the accomplishments of my administration, although I am proud of what we, together, have helped Nevada achieve in economic development, tourism, and in restoring the State's sound financial condition.

Instead, tonight I'm going to concentrate on the goals which we together must attain in order to fulfill our commitment to future generations of Nevadans.

At the outset I want to set the stage by stating my view of our relationship and how I view our respective roles.

My job is to be Governor, to manage the Executive Branch of state government, to run its day-to-day affairs, to make recommendations to you, and to ask you to enact necessary legislation.

I realize that's elementary, but I think it needs restating if only to clarify what it is not. As Governor, I cannot pass laws, set tax rates or make appropriations. Those are your jobs.

However, I strongly believe that the proposals I present this evening are in the best interests of our State.

The budget I submit is the product of long, hard, painful hours of work. I pledge to work with you as you deliberate upon it.

In the heat of debate, the respect we have for each other and our roles in the legislative process may be obscured. The right to disagree is, of course, a fundamental part of our job.

And it's also part of the job of lobbyists and the press. Each may be critical of us and each other. Special interests will ask for more, more than they can hope to get and more than the State can give.

All those charges and counter-charges will be duly and appropriately reported, but what Nevadans really care about are the results.

I've weighed very carefully, as every Governor must, what we can and should do. I am determined to achieve all we can.

Let me then turn to my first priority—our children, their protection, and their education.

PROTECTING OUR CHILDREN

Nevada's future can only be as bright as its children's future. And these hopes for a bright future must not be dimmed by the alarming increase of child abuse and neglect.

Since 1976 Nevada has experienced an increase of more than 400 percent in reports of the maltreatment of children.

Under existing law the definitions of child abuse and neglect are vague and court hearings are frequently delayed.

I am proposing a comprehensive child protection act. This proposal has been carefully developed over the past 18 months by my administration in cooperation with other professionals in the field of child abuse and neglect. This legislation strikes a balance between the legitimate rights of parents and the protection of children.

It will for the first time consolidate in one agency the responsibility for coordinating and monitoring child protection services throughout the State. It also streamlines the judicial process to require a hearing within 72 hours after a child is placed in protective custody.

In addition, I am proposing the establishment of a statewide, toll-free, twenty-four hour a day hotline to receive reports of child abuse and neglect.

1985 is the International Year of the Child. Let Nevada's response be the enactment of this vital legislation to protect our families.

EDUCATING OUR CHILDREN

If we fail to prepare our children for the growing challenges of an increasingly complex world, we will be unable to sustain our present level of prosperity or to fully enjoy the benefits of the new technology of the future.

The competition that today's students will face in their adult careers is international in scope. Our educational system in Nevada, good as it is, must be capable of responding to this new challenge.

It is for that reason I commend to your attention the report of the Governor's Commission on Educational Excellence. Included among its recommendations are increased graduation requirements for students, competency testing for new teachers and to ensure that our tax dollars are being spent wisely, a performance report card for each school in Nevada.

Nevada is fortunate to have outstanding teachers—for it is in the classroom where the spark of learning is ignited. I am recommending that Nevada's teachers receive an 11 percent salary increase in the first year biennium and an additional 4 percent in the second year. And for the first time in history, the budget which I am submitting will make these salary increases retroactive to January 1, 1985. For the average teacher this will mean a one-time check of aproximately $1,250.

Important as these increases are they are but the first step in a long-range plan to make the salaries for Nevada's teachers rank in the top 10 in the Nation. As a further step I urge your support once again for the Estate Tax Credit Amendment to our Constitution introduced by Senator Mello. If approved by you and a vote of our citizens, it will provide additional long-term funding for education.

My budget also includes a $10 million appropriation to upgrade local school district's equipment, including the purchase of computers and vocational equipment, and $6 million in each year of the biennium for program development. These funds could be used to increase graduation requirements, purchase textbooks, or reduce student teacher ratios.

In recognizing the State's responsibility to provide financial support for the educational needs of Nevada's special children, those with learning disabilities, the physically handicapped, the mentally retarded, and the academically talented I am recommending a 23.9 percent increase in funding for special education, the largest percentage in nearly 10 years and the largest dollar increase since the program was established.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA SYSTEM

We all share a common aspiration in providing a secure economic future for ourselves and our families. Broadening our economic base and diversifying our economy are public policy imperatives which this administration is committed to pursue. Linked inextricably to this goal is our University System, our two University campuses—the community college system and the Desert Research Institute.

Our success in claiming for Nevada a fair share of this new technology will be dependent upon how we assign our priorities within the University System.

Tonight, I ask your support for the funding of a $15 million new school of engineering at UNLV.

To strengthen existing engineering programs in the University System, I am submitting for your approval the entire University system-wide request for engineering and technical education—including $7 million for new equipment and reduced student faculty ratios which directly influence the quality of education.

By your approval of these requests you help to send a powerful message that Nevada is committed to achieving excellence in engineering education and in satisfying all accreditation requirements.

In addition, I am requesting that salaries for all University System personnel be increased by 11 percent in the first year of the biennium and 4 percent in the second. In another historic first I am recommending that these salary increases be made retroactive until January 1, 1985. I have also included merit salary increases for faculty members for the first time.

Recognizing the vital role commmunity colleges play in Nevada's educational future, I am recommending construction of major additions at Truckee Meadows Community College in Reno and the Northern Nevada Community College in Elko.

I also propose funding of $493,136 for the Desert Research Institute to monitor urban air pollution and maintain weather modification equipment.

These recommendations, important as they are, constitute but a single step in our educational journey. Continued improvement in our student-faculty ratios and enhanced faculty compensation are important elements of our educational plan for the decades ahead.

Nevada schools, elementary, secondary, and higher education, represent our single largest investment of public funds. In 1984 we allocated 54 percent of the general fund to support all levels of education. I am recommending an additional $114.4 million over the next two years. The result is a 25 percent increase over existing funding levels. Of the new general fund money contained in this budget, 75 cents of each one dollar is invested in education.

This budget dedicates nearly 59 percent of all general fund expenditures to education, clearly reflecting my priority.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

One of the remarkable success stories over the past two years, which I would like to share with you, has been our achievements in economic diversification. It is a goal which has galvanized Nevada's support—north and south, east and west, rural and urban, Democrat, Republican and Independent alike.

Your response to my recommendation for restructuring our Economic Development agency, including a broad statutory mandate and significant new funding, has played a key role. Local economic development authorities, working in concert with the newly reorganized Economic Development Commission, have enjoyed the most successful year in Nevada history—66 new or expanded industries which will generate more than 8,000 new jobs for Nevada's workers with an annual payroll of over $100 million. These primary jobs will account for another 20,000 new jobs throughout the State's economy.

Nowhere has the public-private partnership in our quest for new business been better exemplified than in the 1984 special session to change Nevada's banking law. In less than a year from the date of your legislative action, Citicorp will have completed the first phase of its capital construction program and will have made substantial progress on its commitment of 1,000 new jobs for our economy.

In Northern Nevada, internationally recognized companies such as Porsche and Salomon Ski have relocated in the Truckee Meadows, attracted here in part by their faith in the working relationship forged by men and women in the public and private sectors who share a common vision for the future of our State.

Rural Nevada's efforts to attract new industry have been strengthened by the assistance of the professional staff of the Economic Development Commission, providing technical assistance to local communities, and by the infusion of $207,000 in grants, a 430 percent increase over the previous biennium!

One of our biggest successes in economic development has been the promotion of motion picture and television productions in Nevada. We have grown from $5.6 million in production dollars spent in Nevada in 1983 to more than $20 million already spent in the current fiscal year. This month, there are five productions on location in Nevada. We look for continued growth and the opening of actual production facilities in Nevada.

Our efforts at the State level to attract new industry are not part of an isolated effort. Rather they are part of a coordinated effort—conducted through the Interagency Coordinating Council. I am much in your debt for your passage of this carefully crafted piece of legislation in 1983. As a testament to its effectiveness I cite the experience of the past year.

Opportunities abound for us in Nevada and, as Senator Laxalt recently advised, a state office in our Nation's Capital would greatly enhance Nevada's prospects for capturing millions of dollars in government grants and contracts, as well as providing access to key defense industries and the international business community. Heeding the experience of our Senior Senator, and believing as he does that such an office will assist us in bringing our economic development message to the East Coast, I am recommending the establishment of a Nevada state office in Washington, D.C.

Nevada has yet to realize the full potential of our Nation's expanding trade ties with countries in the Pacific Rim. As an incentive to encourage Nevada firms to enter export markets, I ask your support for an Export Finance Bill sponsored by Senator Wilson which would enable the State to issue bonds to finance exports by Nevada companies, thereby enabling many smaller companies to enter this growing area.

To pave the way for new business or old business which must make large purchases of capital equipment I am recommending an extended interest free sales and use tax payment schedule for large purchases of capital equipment. This will reduce the startup cost to businesses without appreciably reducing state or local revenues from sales taxes.

Last year the State issued $200 million in state housing bonds making affordable single family housing a reality for 2,600 Nevada families. The bonding authority must be enlarged in order for this program to continue.

GAMING CONTROL

Gaming continues to be Nevada's primary industry. It accounts for 44 percent of the money needed to provide the essential services of state government and employs directly or indirectly 239,000 of our citizens. Its stringent regulation must be of paramount concern for all Nevadans.

We have made great strides in the past two years, both in gaining the trust and confidence of other law enforcement agencies and in taking bold and decisive action in revoking the gaming licenses of those who violate our regulations and bring discredit to our principal industry and our State. I applaud those actions.

Tonight I renew my proposal of the last session calling for a cooling off period for state gaming regulators. This concept was first advocated by Governor O'Callaghan more than a decade ago, when I, like you, sat as a member of this legislative chamber. It is long overdue.

This measure would prevent members of the Gaming Control Board and Gaming Commission from securing employment in the gaming industry for a period of one year from the expiration of their term of office. Its enactment would eliminate any appearance of impropriety and would protect other law enforcement agencies from the possibility that sensitive information be the subject of private disclosure.

Our support for strong gaming control must be more than rhetoric; it must be backed by action. In order for the Gaming Control Board to effectively do its job, it must have an adequate staff. I am proposing 57 new positions devoted to enforcement, investigation and audit. In order to finance these additional positions, I propose a modest administrative fee to be levied on gaming licensees. This is a minimal burden for the industry to bear in order to protect and to ensure the future health of gaming regulation.

Experience over the past year has revealed a serious defect in our regulatory scheme that must be corrected. Under present law, a gaming licensee whose license has been revoked and a state supervisor appointed continues to receive all of the profits from the casino operation until the casino is sold or otherwise closed by the Gaming Commission.

To allow a revoked licensee whose conduct has been so egregious as to justify the ultimate sanction of the Gaming Commission—the revocation of the gaming license—to continue to receive the profits of the casino operation is to permit an unjust enrichment for the gaming violator. Those profits should and must be forfeited, and a statute is needed to ensure that violators will not share in the profits of the casino operation.

TOURISM

As the Vice Chairman of the National Governor's Association Committee on Tourism, I am pleased to report to you that the effort we began in 1983 to enhance our tourism industry is paying dramatic dividends. Visitor travel is up. Sales, gaming and room tax collections are strong.

When I assumed office two years ago, Nevada spent less than any state in the nation promoting tourism. With your support, today we spend $1 million annually—money generated from room tax collections, not Nevada taxpayers.

A new statewide campaign is effectively telling the story of "Gaming and So Much More." Through the creation of five state promotional regions, we are reaching history buffs, skiers, fisherman, hunters and outdoor enthusiasts. Since the campaign began, inquiries by travelers interested in visiting Nevada have increased by more than 400 percent.

To continue our assistance to rural tourism markets, I am proposing an increase in tourism grant funds to $300,000 in each year of the biennium. These funds have supported special local events and played a vital role in securing new Nevada attractions such as the National High School Rodeo Finals in Winnemucca.

To preserve a special part of our Nevada heritage for future generations to enjoy, I am recommending $265,000 for track installation and restoration of railcars and other improvements at the V & T Museum in Carson City.

A year-long celebration commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Division of State Parks promises special events in each of our 21 state parks this year. I am recommending $3.3 million in park improvements for the biennium. I would like to invite all Nevadans to visit our parks in 1985 and take advantage of the scenic beauty and recreation that Nevada has to offer.

TAHOE REGIONAL PLANNING AGENCY

We are stewards of a national treasure—Lake Tahoe, and our stewardship may again be challenged in 1985.

The Tahoe Regional Planning Agency continues to be fraught with controversy and frustrated by litigation. Nevada and California made an initial commitment to preserving Lake Tahoe's splendor by endorsing the original bi-state compact under the leadership of Governor Laxalt and Governor Reagan. I intend to fulfill that commitment. I will oppose any efforts to withdraw Nevada from the compact.

Lake Tahoe must be protected for future generations, and Nevadans should lead the way. It contributes significantly to our tourism industry and provides unparalleled recreational opportunities for Nevada families.

In our commitment to preserve Lake Tahoe for generations to come, we must not be unmindful of those who own property in environmentally sensitive areas no longer capable of development. Basic fairness dictates that these property owners should be compensated. I urge you to again support the issuance of bonds for the purchase of environmentally sensitive lands in the Lake Tahoe Basin.

HEALTH CARE COST CONTAINMENT

Every Nevadan, young or old, rich or poor, should have access to quality health care at a reasonable cost. Today, the threat of financial ruin because of rising medical costs has become as frightening as the specter of serious illness itself. The need for a coordinated approach to the health care crisis led me to direct a Cost Containment Team to identify programs and develop specific proposals to moderate health care costs.

Tonight, I am proposing neither a band-aid approach nor a cure-all, but a definitive program to control health care costs. These proposals are designed to foster competitive incentives to reduce costs while retaining essential regulatory control and assuring quality health care.

Highlights of this program include:

—Consolidating containment efforts into a single state program;

—Changing the method of payment for health care to reward efficient providers;

—Prohibiting health care providers from obtaining patient referrals by improper financial inducements;

—Assisting employers to effectively use cost containment measures;

—Expanding fraud control efforts; and,

—Requiring all insurance companies to include cost containment practices in their policies.

I also suggest the 1985 legislature evaluate recommendations to contain the cost of medical malpractice insurance.

I believe this program will help contain health care costs in Nevada. In order to ensure that result, I propose that the health planning responsibilities of the State Health Coordinating Council be expanded to include a key role in containing medical costs.

If the private sector initiatives fail, the State Health Coordinating Council will have the authority to activate a hospital rate setting commission no later than July 1, 1987, which would have broad authority to review and approve hospital charges.

The challenge has now been sounded. If the forces of the free market are effective in containing hospital costs, additional regulatory control can be avoided. Should the free marketplace fail in this commitment, a rate setting commission will come into existence to protect all Nevadans, especially those most vulnerable, Nevada's seniors.

BUDGET OVERVIEW

On the occasion of our meeting together two years ago our State was reeling from the effects of a recession. Revenues were plunging and as we struggled together in the early months of the session, our overriding concern was, "will the State be able to meet its financial obligations?"

Happily those days are behind us. The state of the State is good. The budget I submit this evening I believe is the right budget for our State; it is fair and it is balanced. We are in better financial shape today for two reasons: The national economic recovery and because we curtailed state agency's spending, doing more with less. The last point merits additional comment. Without the dedication and cooperation of our state employees, these savings would not have been realized. The men and women in state government—administrators and rank and file employees alike—are owed a debt of gratitude by all of us for their efforts. Now it is time to reward those efforts. I am recommending a retroactive salary increase of 11 percent for state employees, and an additional 4 percent cost of living adjustment, in the second year of the biennium.

The budget also includes:

—$436,320 for a state criminal history repository;

—$25,000 to establish an anti-racketeering revolving fund in the Attorney General's Office;

—A $25,000 grant for each year of the biennium for the artists in residence program;

—A thirty-two bed psychiatric unit in southern Nevada;

—A $160,000 in flow-through funding to maintain deaf resource centers in Reno and Las Vegas, plus establishment of a deaf resources coordinator position in the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation;

—An increase in funding for ADC;

—A $250,000 one time appropriation dedicated to the renovation and furnishing of senior citizens centers in the State;

—An expanded state planning function;

—Funding for additional correctional facilities and equipment;

—An endowment of $2.5 million for the National Judicial College;

—$80,000 for initial development of a veterans cemetery in southern Nevada;

—$350,000 for the biennium for local library grants, a 22 percent increase, emphasizing rural service needs and public access to academic libraries.

I propose no increases in our general fund tax levy. In order to meet our obligation to education and other essential state services it will be necessary, however, for you to maintain each of the revenue measures which are scheduled to sunset at the end of the fiscal year. Failure to do so will mean a loss of revenue to the general fund over the biennium of over $62 million.

Because we live in a time of economic uncertainty we must proceed with prudence and restraint. The fiscally responsible course is to maintain an unappropriated cash reserve in excess of $46 million. I urge you to do so.

NUCLEAR WASTE

We are approaching a critical time in the Federal Government's efforts to locate a high-level radioactive waste repository in our State. Just last month, the Department of Energy named Yucca Mountain in southern Nevada as one of the three top choices for a nuclear dump. Almost simultaneously, the Department of Energy took steps to block Nevada's efforts to collect the independent information we need to test the validity of the Federal Government's conclusions about the safety of this unprecedented undertaking.

Should Nevada be designated as the repository for these lethal wastes, shipments will stream into Nevada from every point on the compass. Apart from the obvious public health and safety concerns, the impact of a high level nuclear waste dump on our State's economy, particularly our tourist industry, is uncertain at best. It could prove disastrous. It makes little sense to commit millions of dollars to promote our State as a tourist destination and location for new businesses if, at the same time, we allow these efforts to be compromised by the Federal Government's drive to brand Nevada as the country's nuclear wasteland.

If Nevada is to avoid this nuclear stigma we must unite in our opposition to it. Tonight, I reaffirm my opposition to a nuclear dump in our State and call upon those in positions of leadership who have taken a contrary view to reconsider their position in the best interest of the health, safety, and economic well being of all Nevadans. The position we take today has the potential to affect Nevadans for centuries.

CONCLUSION

We have assembled tonight in Carson City for a common purpose, to act with foresight and with the best interest of all Nevadans guiding our thoughts and actions. I have presented to you a balanced and responsible budget.

However, as Governor I have broader obligations to our State than merely presenting specific proposals. I have an obligation to provide leadership and direction in good times and in times of crisis. The greatest obligation is perhaps the hardest to define. It is derived not so much from the office I am honored to occupy as it is from my great love of the State in which you and I are privileged to live. Permit me a few concluding moments to share that obligation with you.

It is an obligation to articulate the hopes and aspirations I have for Nevada's future so that the promise of Nevada today—becomes the reality of tomorrow.

True to our heritage, Nevadans are pioneering people, less concerned with boundaries which are limits, than with frontiers which are stepping-stones to the future. The legacy you and I inherited from the great Nevadans who preceded us must be enhanced by us for the Nevadans who will follow. I seek your counsel and offer you an open-minded spirit of cooperation. I wish you well as you face the arduous task of the coming months.

The past two years have been challenging for our State. They have been successful years. We have triumphed over economic and natural adversities. We have strengthened our economy. The Nevadans I meet throughout our State are proud and confident in their futures.

Nevada is a unique state. We can preserve our tradition while we embrace and welcome the opportunities of the future for our children. To do that:

We must ensure an excellent education for all Nevada's youth.

We must ensure our senior citizens dignity and security in their golden years.

We must protect our clean environment and the scenic grandeur Nevadans of the past have enjoyed.

And finally, we must ensure hope and opportunity for all Nevadans.

These are simple but powerful dreams that I have for our State's future. Together, we must strive to achieve them.

Thank you very much.

Senator Bilbray moved that the Senate and Assembly in Joint Session extend a vote of thanks to the Governor for his timely, able and constructive message.

Vetoed Assembly Bill No. 86 of the Sixty-second Session.

Bill read.

Governor's message stating his objections read.

STATE OF NEVADA
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER

CARSON CITY, NEVADA, June 2, 1983

THE HONORABLE WM. D. SWACKHAMER, Secretary of State, State Capitol, Carson City, Nevada 89710

DEAR MR. SWACKHAMER:

I am hereby forwarding to your office for filing within the constitutional time limit, and without my approval, Assembly Bill 86 entitled:

"An act relating to the Tahoe regional planning agency; creating a legislative committee to oversee the agency; and providing other matters properly relating thereto."

Assembly Bill 86 would create a new legislative body to review the performance of the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency. Although legislative oversight of state agencies in general provides a necessary and beneficial contribution to the functioning of state government, the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency is not a typical administrative agency, and after careful consideration I have elected to exercise my right of veto over this legislation.

The TRPA and the regional compact which created it represent the product of long negotiations between California and Nevada, acted upon by each state's legislature, and finally ratified by the United States Congress. The nature of the agency mandates that it must function through consideration of regional concerns, directed toward preserving the national treasure of Lake Tahoe. I am not convinced that a legislative committee, by nature considering only one state's interest, would necessarily assist the agency in achieving its laudable goal.

I do not perceive that the compact contemplates direct legislative oversight by a member state, and the bi-state nature of the agency indicates that such unilateral action may be inconsistent with its structure and purpose. I am also concerned that the precedent this legislation sets may be inappropriate. Nevada is a participant in various multi-state compacts, including the Western Interstate Corrections Compact, the Columbia Interstate Compact, and the Western Regional Higher Education Compact. None of these are monitored by a permanent legislative committee.

The philosophy which underlies the creation of multi-state compacts reflects a recognition that the several states need to address certain regional concerns through regional administrative structures. Because any substantive changes ultimately proposed in an interstate compact would require not only action by our legislature, but by other party states and the U.S. Congress as well, a permanent legislative oversight committee appears inappropriate when applied to the compacts in which Nevada participates as a member state.

Other aspects of Assembly Bill 86 also cause me concern. The proposed legislative review is not in the customary form of an interim study which analyzes an issue or an agency and reports its findings to the following legislature. Rather, it creates a standing legislative oversight committee of indefinite duration. This, in effect, creates an additional permanent layer of government at a time when existing fiscal resources are extremely limited. I am not convinced such an action is in the taxpayer's best interest as it may create duplicative responsibilities.

The statutory structure of the Nevada delegation to TRPA provides for adequate representation of the interests of Nevada citizens. Members are chosen by the Board of County Commissioners of Washoe and Douglas Counties, and the Board of Supervisors of Carson City. The Secretary of State or his designee is a permanent member as is the Director of the State Department of Conservation and Natural Resources or his designee. The Governor also appoints one member. These six representatives then choose the final Nevada member. It appears that this carefully crafted structure assures an appropriate variety of representative Nevada viewpoints, and assures adequate opportunity for public input. I believe that the creation of an additional governmental structure could add little substance to the diversity of viewpoints already represented.

For these reasons, I have concluded that Assembly Bill 86 is not in the best interest of the citizens of Nevada and I have elected to exercise my power to veto over the legislation.

Sincerely,

RICHARD H. BRYAN
Governor of Nevada

The question was put: "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Remarks by Assemblymen Nicholas, Dini, Bergevin, Sedway, DuBois, Roberts, Getto, Humke, Price, Stone, and Craddock.

The roll was called, and the Assembly sustained the veto of the Governor by the following vote:

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Mr. Speaker requested that Assemblyman Dini's remarks be entered in the Journal.

WHO WOULD DO IT

"Once upon a time there were four people named Everybody, Somebody, Nobody and Anybody.

"When there was an important job to be done, Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it.

"Anybody could have done it, but Nobody did it.

"When Nobody did it, Everybody got angry because it was Everybody's job. Everybody thought that Somebody would do it, but Nobody realized that Nobody would do it.

"So it ended up that Everybody blamed Somebody when Nobody did what Anybody could have done in the first place." Author Unknown

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, January 31, 1985

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed Senate Bills Nos. 2, 3.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Price, Zimmer, Francis and Schofield:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 2—Proposing to amend section 2 of article 9 of the constitution of the State of Nevada, relating to finance and state debt, to prohibit the legislature from levying an ad valorem tax on property for the benefit of the state general fund and prohibiting the use of revenue derived from an ad valorem tax on property to replace money which would otherwise be appropriated from the state general fund.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 2 of article 9 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. The legislature shall provide by law for [an annual tax] taxes sufficient to defray the estimated expenses of the state for each fiscal year; and whenever the expenses of any year shall exceed the income, the legislature shall provide for [levying a tax] taxes sufficient, with other sources of income, to pay the deficiency, as well as the estimated expenses of such ensuing year or two years. The legislature shall not levy an ad valorem tax on property for the benefit of the state general fund or provide for the use of revenue derived from an ad valorem tax on property to replace money which would otherwise be appropriated from the state general fund. Any moneys paid for the purpose of providing compensation for industrial accidents and occupational diseases, and for administrative expenses incidental thereto, and for the purpose of funding and administering a public employees' retirement system, shall be segregated in proper accounts in the state treasury, and such moneys shall never be used for any other purposes, and they are hereby declared to be trust funds for the uses and purposes herein specified.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Bogaert's remarks be entered in the Journal.

On February 8, 1910, following a visit to England where he met Sir Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the scouting movement, William D. Boyce, a Chicago Publisher, founded the Boy Scouts of America; and the Boy Scouts of America have designated February 4, 1985, as Boy Scout Day in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America.

Today representative boy scouts are visiting the offices of all branches of government of the State of Nevada. The scouting movement in America has long infused in the souls of young men the high ideals and principles of integrity and good character inherent in the boy scout law. Therefore, February 4, 1985, is declared to be Nevada Boy Scout Day, and we heartily commend the Boy Scouts of America for their interest in our government.

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman O'Donnell's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Mr. Speaker, I would like the State of Nevada and this body to recognize and commend Stephenie Cranson for her heroic efforts in saving her brother's life. She recently jumped into a swimming pool with her arm in a cast and saved her brother's life. This act should be an example to other children and members of the community. Stephenie, I would like to commend you for your courage.

THE SIXTEENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), February 5, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Jerry Hanley.

Our Father, there was time when the mountains around us seldom heard a human voice. Since the beginning, many have come and gone; power has faded and been reborn and the sheer emptiness of it has been shown from generation to generation. What has lasted in the end was love and integrity. Let us remember that we, too, will pass by this way and face You someday. Let us be remembered for how we understood, listened, forgave and cared for life, for how we laid down our life for Your values for each other, for how we built on the best of those before us and how we forgave and learned from the worst. Bless this Assembly, their families, their words and their actions, that Your will be done through them and that we will be better throughout this beautiful state because they have been here. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

IN JOINT SESSION

At 11:10 a.m.

President pro Tempore of the Senate presiding.

The Secretary of the Senate called the Senate roll.

All present.

The Chief Clerk of the Assembly called the Assembly roll.

All present.

The President pro Tempore of the Senate appointed a Committee on Escort consisting of Senator Redelsperger and Assemblyman Kerns to wait upon Representative Vucanovich and escort her to the Assembly Chamber.

The Committee on Escort in company with The Honorable Barbara Vucanovich, United States Representative for Nevada, appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Representative to the rostrum.

The Speaker of the Assembly welcomed the Representative and invited her to deliver her message.

The Representative delivered her message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SIXTY-THIRD SESSION, 1985

Thank you. I think it is very fitting that I have a soap box. I'm delighted. You may not know, but I am standing on a box back here. It's good to be back, and it's good to be home, and it is good to speak to such a distinguished audience. I must say that it is nice to speak to an audience at all, distinguished or otherwise, because it's very different in our House. The Chambers are usually empty unless we have a vote. I have heard people say that it is a place where a Congressman gets up to speak, says nothing, nobody listens, and then everybody disagrees. It's delightful and that's what happens.

You know, so much of what we do in Washington has such a direct impact on state and local government that I would like to share with you a little bit of what I hear, what's being said, and what's possibly going to be done back there. I know that I don't need to tell you that more and more members of Congress are considering sponsoring and voting for legislation which will ultimately mean reduced Federal Government spending and involvement in local affairs.

You know, two years ago I came here after my first election to the House, and at that time I talked about the problems facing our country. I talked about the federal budget, the deficit problem, and getting the economy moving again, about entitlements, and the troubles we were facing with the Social Security system. A lot has changed in the past two years, but unfortunately some things remain the same. The budget is still a problem, although we are seeing that Congress is really ready to get serious about spending restraint. The deficit is still there, but the trend is now toward smaller, not larger deficits. The growth in entitlement spending has been contained, but not without a lot of wrangling. The Social Security system has been rescued by a presidential commission. But, the real bright spot is the economy. While we've dealt with a lot of other problems successfully, nothing can outshine the economic performance this nation has turned in over the past two years. But, you all know that—you all know the State Treasury is in better shape now than it was awhile ago—and that unemployment is down and growth is up.

So, why is it the federal deficit still remains so large? Why can't we, in Washington, make the tough decisions necessary to get a handle on spending, just as you have here in Nevada?

Well, the answer has to do with a couple of other things that I talked about two years ago: Special interests and demographics. Stated simply, demographic changes in the population of this nation, combined with the openended approach Congress has taken with respect to entitlement programs, have created a tremendous amount of legislated and institutionalized pressure to increase spending regularly.

That's really quite a mouthful, but that is the problem. All the wrangling that's now taking place in Washington over how to control the budget centers about the simple fact that laws are written so that spending increases are automatic. That's why cutting the budget is so difficult because it doesn't take any legislation to spend more but it takes an act of Congress to cut. I think that's the wrong way to approach the whole question of budget management, and that's one big reason why I really admire President Reagan for having the courage to send a spending freeze budget proposal to Congress this year. But, I can tell you it's very easy to be a statesman and to talk about the real need to cut spending in very broad and general terms. Nobody gets hurt when you talk about holding overall spending for 1986 to 1985 levels.

And, for us here in Nevada, there are some easy targets for spending cuts when we get specific in our discussions. I can easily vote for elimination of things like tobacco subsidies, or putting a moratorium on filling the strategic petroleum reserve, or even terminating the job corps. And, it doesn't hurt at all when I consider voting to end Amtrak subsidies, or funding for the Appalachian Regional Commission, or reducing funding for urban mass transit assistance. And, I can even vote for some marginal things like reducing postal subsidies, limiting the growth in Medicaid, eliminating direct loans for the export/import bank, and possibly raising recreation area user fees, and reforming administrative practices in agencies.

But, all that statesmanship and rhetoric can carry me only so far, because included in that same budget freezing proposal are a few things that I don't want to see cut. Things like eliminating general revenue sharing, terminating urban development action grants, reducing community development loan guarantees and the EDA; or how about closing down the Small Business Administration; or ending subsidies that allow small towns to keep at least minimal air carrier services; or significantly cutting back the REA. I can tell you I would have a very difficult time voting to cut or eliminate some of these programs, because I know how valuable they are to our state and our communities. And, you know, that's part of the reason we're having so much difficulty getting this budget under control, because for every item I'm willing to cut, somebody else will oppose me just as actively as I will oppose cuts to some of the programs I mentioned. I know that sounds a lot like the tradeoffs you make here, in the Nevada State Legislature.

Well, I have to tell you something. I know cutting back things like urban development action grants and revenue sharing will cause serious financial repercussions in our state, and I assure you that I won't support those kinds of cuts. But, my opposition can't guarantee that they won't be passed. Because you see, all the little concerns can't match the seriousness of the one, major, overriding concern that is the federal deficit.

As an illustration, the report of the President's Council of Economic Advisors warned that failure to reduce federal deficits would undermine our economy, and they recommended either more cuts or higher taxes to combat the red ink. That's why this budget is likely to be a very, very lean one; one that will impact every sector of our economy and all of the corresponding interest groups, whether individual members of Congress like it or not.

And, that is also why this budget will work towards returning power to state and local governments. You see, we're going to make you work; we're going to tap your expertise as we go about this process of reversing the trend of higher spending that is so firmly established in Washington. Getting that job done will cost everyone something, but in the long term, the return of authority to state and local lawmakers and the realization that government simply cannot be everything to everyone will create a sustained prosperity for Nevadans and everyone else in our country. I think that's something to look forward to and it's a goal worth working towards. And, as long as we all know it's coming, I'm sure we can prepare for it, and succeed.

Before I wrap this up, I'd like to talk about something that is a little bit closer to home. Something that has a lot of people very agitated and very angry. I'm talking about Nevada's selection as one of the three possible sites for a high level nuclear waste repository.

I am sure that you are all aware that the Governor and I have a fundamental difference of opinion on this subject. It really doesn't involve my position on whether or not we should support the site being in Nevada. Personally, I haven't made up my mind what position to take on this issue. Our difference of opinion has to do with the process of selection. You see, I support the process that is now taking place to determine whether Yucca Mountain is an acceptable site, and whether or not Nevadans want it to be located here.

I know the Governor and many others in our state do not share my interest in assessing the views of Nevada's citizens. Many people have already decided what we think before we've had the opportunity to air our concerns and engage in public discussion. Nevadans may eventually tell us that the site should be opposed, but the only way we're going to clearly understand the wishes of all our people is to reserve judgment until the hearing process has been completed, and Nevadans have had an opportunity to evaluate available data and tell their elected officials how they feel. There's a very important reason for taking these hearings seriously and using the information that we gain to make our final decision—and, frankly it has to do with politics. More accurately, it has to do with keeping this important decision out of the political arena until the facts are known. By stating positions now, we are potentially distorting not only the hearing process, but the results of that process. We need clear, honest facts presented to Nevada's citizens without interference from politicians and, frankly from groups from other parts of the country.

Right now, we're not getting that. So, what I'd like to do for a very few minutes is to talk in unemotional and non-political terms about the realities of this whole situation and about the decision we are being asked to make. You know, frankly, Nevada is no stranger to nuclear energy. Since 1950, when President Truman selected the Nevada test site as America's nuclear proving ground, 630 nuclear tests have taken place there. In addition to the test site, just a few miles up the road is Nevada's other major nuclear client: The low level radioactive waste management facility. At this facility, we have some eight million cubic feet of waste stored in trenches. But these two places don't hold a candle to the high level repository project now being considered, either in terms of the controversy it generates or the potential impact it may have on our state and the citizens of Amargosa Valley. There are certainly downsides to this project, and we absolutely should not minimize them or fail to consider them in making a final decision on whether or not to oppose this project.

The draft environmental assessment produced by the U.S. Department of Energy lists several potential problem areas associated with construction and operation of the facility. Local air quality may suffer due to dust and dirt kicked up in the construction process, and yes, we'll disturb 900 acres of vegetation and wildlife habitat. In addition, there could be archeological sites in the area that would be damaged by the operation, and we would lose the use of that land. There would be an impact on local government as well. Traffic would increase, schools might become crowded, and other government services might be hard pressed, at least temporarily, to meet demands. But, none of these problems seems terribly difficult to deal with.

Essentially, we're talking about problems that accompany growth and the construction of new industrial facilities. In almost any other context, we would consider these kinds of problems minimal, and we certainly would not consider them significant enough to derail a major project. I have heard some politicians claiming that the repository would be harmful to tourism in the state. Maybe so, but I personally have to believe that since nuclear testing has been going on at the test site for the past thirty-five years or so, as I said 630 tests, I am more inclined to think that gaming in Atlantic City and not nuclear testing and storing have had and will continue to have the greater impact.

Nevada was selected for site characterization because we meet the criteria, we have the labor force available, and our state has in the past demonstrated a willingness to work with the Federal Government on any number of issues. I know there's a good reason for that. You see, we know firsthand that government installations, like any major industry, represent a two way street. We might not always like to see factories going up or new installations being built on our countryside, but we know that an economic and social benefit will result.

Maybe that's what's missing in this whole discussion. Rather than dwell on things we don't like about this project, let's think for a moment about the benefit to Nevada from having the site located here. Just think for a minute what 8500 jobs during the construction phase would mean to Southern Nevada. And, think what 5900 long term jobs would mean during the operation of the site. If that's not enough, think about what a peak annual payroll of somewhere between $131 and $157 million per year would do to help small businesses, and retailers, and local government revenues.

These figures and these jobs would go largely to labor from Southern Nevada. Relatively few people would be imported to run this site, and all kinds of local firms would be used for subcontracting and purchasing. That means new businesses, bigger businesses, and even more jobs.

More than anything else, this project represents a decision that will impact a local area, not our entire state, and accordingly we should pay attention to what the citizens of Lathrop Wells, Beatty, and the entire valley have to say. I've talked with them, I get letters from them, and I listen to them; and what most of the locals say doesn't seem to sound very much like what I hear from people in other parts of Nevada.

Now, the information I have just presented is by no means complete. But, it does give you an overview of just how big a decision this is and how much information is involved. As I said earlier, I don't even have a position on the site coming here. That's because all the data isn't in yet, and because I don't really think Nevadans have rendered their decision yet. We need this hearing process, we need to have our citizens come to a decision, and we need to pay extra attention to all of those people who live in Amargosa Valley. But, what we don't need is to hear only the voices of politicians and their press secretaries, and to this point, that's mainly what we've heard.

There have been some editorials written in the state's newspapers raising issues of concern. That's as it should be. The more questions asked, and the more the press is able to keep our citizens apprised of the facts, the more we can have control over the selection process. You and I, as legislators, should share in this examination phase, and if we try and short circuit the process, we may miss an opportunity to protect our state.

I've talked a long time. But, I want to leave you with one thought. I'd like you to consider what I'm saying: Keep an open mind with regard to the repository until all the information is in and the hearing process is complete. If we decide we don't want this facility, then we as a state can issue a notice of disapproval. If we do that, I'll do everything in my power to assure that Congress does not override that notice. But, until then, let's keep our powder dry, let's listen, learn, and then take up a position.

Thank you for the opportunity to share my thoughts with you today.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 25.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 13.

Amend sec. 5, page 3, line 30, by inserting after "published" the words "and supplemented".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 6 and 7 as sections 7 and 8 and adding a new section designated section 6, following section 5, to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. NRS 616.605 is hereby amended to read as follows:

616.605 1. Every employee, in the employ of an employer within the provisions of this chapter, who is injured by an accident arising out of and in the course of employment is entitled to receive the compensation provided for permanent partial disability. As used in this section "disability" and "impairment of the whole man" are equivalent terms.

2. The insurer shall select a physician from a group of rating physicians designated by the administrator, to determine the percentage of disability in accordance with the American Medical [Association publication, "Guides] Association's Guides to the Evaluation of Permanent [Impairment," as it exists on the date most recently specified by regulation of the department.] Impairment in the form most recently published and supplemented before

January 1, 1985. The department may supplement this publication by adopting regulations for a supplemental guide.

3. No factors other than the degree of physical impairment of the whole man may be considered in calculating the entitlement to compensation for a permanent partial disability.

4. Each 1 percent of impairment of the whole man must be compensated by a monthly payment of 0.5 percent of the claimant's average monthly wage for injuries sustained before July 1, 1981, and 0.6 percent for injuries sustained on or after July 1, 1981. Compensation must commence on the date of the injury or the day following the termination of temporary disability compensation, if any, whichever is later, and must continue on a monthly basis for 5 years or:

(a) On or after July 1, 1983, and before July 1, 1984, until the claimant is 66 years of age;

(b) On or after July 1, 1984, and before July 1, 1985, until the claimant is 67 years of age;

(c) On or after July 1, 1985, and before July 1, 1986, until the claimant is 68 years of age;

(d) On or after July 1, 1986, and before July 1, 1987, until the claimant is 69 years of age; or

(e) On or after July 1, [1986,] 1987, until the claimant is 70 years of age, whichever is later.

5. Compensation benefits may be paid annually to claimants who will be receiving less than $100 a month.

6. Where there is a previous disability, as the loss of one eye, one hand, one foot, or any other previous permanent disability, the percentage of disability for a subsequent injury must be determined by computing the percentage of the entire disability and deducting therefrom the percentage of the previous disability as it existed at the time of the subsequent injury.

7. The department may adopt schedules for rating permanent disabilities resulting from injuries sustained before July 1, 1973, and reasonable regulations to carry out the provisions of this section.

8. The increase in compensation and benefits effected by the amendment of this section is not retroactive for accidents which occurred before July 1, 1973.

9. This section does not entitle any person to double payments for the death of a workman and a continuation of payments for a permanent partial disability, or to a greater sum in the aggregate than if the injury had been fatal.''.

Assemblyman Sader moved the adoption of the amendment.

Assemblyman Collins moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Collins.

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Collins' remarks be entered in the Journal.

The history of Black persons in Nevada is both long and interesting. The first Blacks to travel through Nevada probably accompanied the expeditions of two early white explorers, Jedediah Smith and John C. Fremont. These expeditions spanned the period of 1826 to 1846, and included several Blacks: John Peter Ranne, Polette Labross, Saunders

Jackson, James Duff, Tamas Towns and Jacob Dodson. In his book, "Good Times Coming?"—Black Nevadans in the Nineteenth Century, author Elmer R. Rusco provides the following account of Jacob Dodson: "Fremont saw and named Pyramid Lake on his 1843-1844 expedition. In reporting the members of this expedition, he listed Jacob Dodson, a free young colored man of Washington city, who volunteered to accompany the expedition, and performed his duty manfully throughout the voyage. Dodson was eighteen and, according to Allan Nevins, 'devoted to the Benton family'. Fremont was the son-in-law of Missouri Senator Thomas Hart Benton, and it is probable that Dodson had been a servant in the Benton family before he joined Fremont. In describing the writing of the report of this expedition at home in Washington, D.C., Fremont reported that 'Jacob kept up the camp habit and very early brought me coffee'. However, Dodson was not just a personal servant; he participated fully in the work of the expedition. According to Fremont, he was chosen from the main party for various side trips, such as the canoe trips from the Dalles on the Columbia River to Vancouver and back. During the difficult winter crossing of the Sierra Nevada range, Dodson rescued a member of the party who had become delirious. Fremont did not mention Jacob Dodson in describing his return to the United States on the second expedition and did not give a list of the members of the third expedition (in 1864) when he and his men participated in the conquest of California; however, Dodson probably was with Fremont on these trips. If not, he must have stayed in California after the first trip because he was one of the two men who rode with Fremont on a daring ride from Los Angeles to Monterey and back in 1847; the three men managed to ride more than eight hundred miles in a little more than eight days.Western historian Hubert Howe Bancroft justly speaks of Dodson as a 'skillful vaquero' ".

Probably the most famous of the early Blacks who traveled through Nevada was James P. Beckwourth. Beckwourth was a "mountain man" and explorer in the early west who probably spent a considerable amount of time in the area now known as Nevada.

Resolution adopted.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Dini, Getto, Bergevin, Marvel and Bilyeu:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 10—Memorializing the late Fred Fulstone.

WHEREAS, On January 8, 1985, the people of the State of Nevada lost a man who gave unselfishly of himself throughout his life; and

WHEREAS, Fred Fulstone was born on May 4, 1889, in Genoa and had lived in Smith Valley since 1902; and

WHEREAS, Fred Fulstone was a farmer and a rancher and a charter member of the Smith Valley Rotary Club; and

WHEREAS, Fred Fulstone was cofounder and past director of the Walker River Irrigation District and served on numerous agricultural and livestock boards during his life; and

WHEREAS, Fred Fulstone married Mary Ruth Hill, known to friends as "Dr. Mary," on July 16, 1919, and the couple had been married 65 years; and

WHEREAS, He is survived by his wife; sons Fred Jr. and Richard, of Smith Valley and David of Yerington; daughters Eleanor Killebrew of South Lake Tahoe and Jeanne Corfee of California; 12 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the legislative body express their sincere condolences to the family of the late Fred Fulstone; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be prepared and transmitted forthwith by the legislative counsel to Mary Fulstone.

Assemblyman Dini moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Dini and Getto.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

I don't think words can express the great loss we had when Fred Fulstone passed away. He was a real pioneer in western Nevada. He was born in Genoa in the late 1800's. He had vast holdings in Nevada and California. He was in the sheep and cattle business and general farming. He built a tremendous empire. He controlled thousands of acres of land under the forest service, BLM and land he personally owned through his corporation. His family is a legend in Lyon County in the Smith Valley area. His wife is known as the doctor that delivered more babies in the state's history than any other doctor. She just quit practicing about four years ago in her 80's. It's a deep loss to many of us in the Chamber that signed this resolution and I know that others would like to express themselves.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

I would like to say very briefly that I knew Fred Fulstone and his family. I think it is fitting today that we pay honor and respect to a man that I would consider one of the great men. He was born in this state in its early beginning and developed vast holdings. The family that he raised is a tremendous contribution to this state. I recall Fred's two daughters were twins and were one of the first "Toni" twins—they received national recognition. A few years ago I had the privilege of talking to both Fred and Mary and I realized at that time the tremendous health and vigor these people had. Fred was in his 90's and Dr. Mary in her late 80's and they were both clear-minded and were of strong character. I thought what a blessing to have a long life and good health. I think this resolution is very fitting.

Resolution adopted.

THE TWENTY-FIFTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), February 14, 1985

Assembly called to order at 10:50 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Roy Parker.

Our Father of Heaven and Earth. It is with deep gratification and thankfulness that we come to You this morning. You have been so good to this nation, and to each of us. Truly You do love us even better than we love ourselves. Help us to show that love to someone else today. We recognize our dependency upon You, Lord, for Your Word tells us that we can do nothing without Your help, but with Your help we can do whatever we put our hand to. We, therefore, ask that Your guidance be upon this body of lawmakers this day, and that their decisions will be pleasing to You and beneficial to all of us.

Help us to recognize You and exalt You in the way that we should. A government that does not look to You for help is one that invites calamity, turmoil, and indecision; but one that does look to You is one that is blessed with proper answers and right choices. Thank You for Your help.

Your Word states that those that rule a people must be just and fair and rule in the fear and respect of God. When this is done, the results are like a spring day. May our request be granted as we have stated in the Name of Jesus Christ our Lord and Saviour.

AMEN.

All present.

The President of the Senate appointed a Committee on Escort consisting of Senator Raggio and Assemblyman Joerg to wait upon Senator Laxalt and escort him to the Assembly Chamber.

The Committee on Escort in company with The Honorable Paul Laxalt, United States Senator for Nevada, appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Senator to the rostrum.

The Speaker of the Assembly welcomed the Senator and invited him to deliver his message.

The Senator delivered his message as follows:

SIXTY-THIRD SESSION, 1985

Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. It gives me great joy to have you introduce me as speaker. Mr. President, Senator Wilson, members of the Court, my colleagues and my fellow Nevadans.

I couldn't help but think driving down from Tahoe today—a huge wave of nostalgia hit me—driving past the Ormsby House, the Sacramento Bee's favorite hotel, on down the street to this beautiful Chamber, the old capitol building, the Court House, and my law office. I thought how much of my life has been invested within a few hundred yards of this place. I couldn't help but reflect, either, that my first appearance as a direct participant in this type of Joint Session was back in 1962. I look over this Chamber at all these various colleagues and I rather imagine there weren't too many of us around then. I must say they have been good years and I couldn't help but reflect when that wave hit me that perhaps somebody is trying to tell me something.

I'm going to speak briefly about what is going on in the national scene and then I'm going to turn to our problems here. As far as Washington is concerned, it is business much the same. We face much of the same basic problems that you do; budget problems, huge budget problems. We face a tax bill and we face serious international problems.

I have a suspicion that Congress is going to have a very successful session. It is principally because we have a President who had a very successful election. If there is anything that Washington or any political environment respects, it is political clout derived from a massive victory. I couldn't help but think today again of the significance of that; not only in Washington and throughout the country but throughout the world.

When we were in Taiwan shortly after the election, I had occasion to visit with the President of Taiwan. When I concluded the business I had to take care of on behalf of our President, I prepared to leave (you don't take the time of heads of state disparagingly). He asked me if I would mind staying on for a moment or two longer. I said "Of course not, Mr. President." He said he would like to discuss this election with me. I said, "Of course." Do you know what his first question was? "Why didn't you pump more money into Minnesota?" It leads me to believe that political junkies are the same the world over.

We are going to have a significant budget victory. I don't know what form it is going to take. It is going to come not only from the enormous mandate that this President has but also because of a bipartisan recognition that we had better do something and do it quickly. We can't suffer these gigantic budget deficits much longer. We are going to end up with a package this year, I hope, that will result in at least a $50 billion decrease from our present levels with trend lines going down to 88 or 89 where we are going to achieve a 2 percent of GNP level which is enough. I think that is good news for the Republic.

You are going to get a tax bill as well. What form it will take I don't know either. There is a blueprint out there that scared the daylights out of our constituents everywhere and certainly here in this state. But it is only that—it is only a proposal and it is being heard and discussed throughout the country. I imagine within the next few weeks that we will have a final version that the President himself will embrace and will consider. I think as Americans that it is good because it is generational in character. It is the first time, literally in a generation, that we have addressed the difficulties in our tax code, gearing principally to complexity and fairness. No one would seriously contend that over a long period of time, in both Democrat and Republican administrations, we have added and added to that tax code to the point now that it is almost incomprehensible. You need a battery of accountants and lawyers to try to tell you what it is all about. They guess a lot, also. It is plainly apparent that there are huge disparagements equity-wise within the code. We will attempt to address this whole approach so that eventually we will have a fair code. Eventually we are going to have a lowered rate for individuals. I think that is as it should be. If we have learned one thing these last four years with this President and his California hand at the helm, it is the fact that if you leave the people alone and let them do their own thing—take that tax and regulation straight jacket away—that they can do it far better than the Federal Government or anybody else. Nevada has done well under the new budget considering it's budget slashing time. You are not going to do well, if my estimation is correct, on revenue sharing. Because very frankly we don't have any revenue to share in Washington, D.C. and we haven't in a long while. When you look at the facts and figures throughout the country, most states and local subdivisions are far better off financially than we are. That represents in our picture around $5 billion and I suspect it is going off. I hope it doesn't go off in this current year, though. Because having been here on a state level I know how difficult that would be to adjust. But for those of you who are doing the planning, fiscally for this state, I think you can plan fairly reasonably that revenue sharing will not be forthcoming after this fiscal year. We did very well in terms of additional money for Nellis. I noticed in the Las Vegas paper this morning there was a headline, I think trying to castigate me for appropriating funds through a subcommittee for the Pentagon on a secret project named "Stealth". Yes, I can't give you the details because it is classified, but that is the case—we have activity there and we should be proud of it. In addition to that we are going to have several million dollars in Nellis for capital construction. We have done very well in connection with the test site. We have done very well with the Colorado River in respect to the additional facilities there. We are going to do very well in connection with Fallon. I think overall we have done significantly well.

There is one little item in that budget that I hope we can hold. It is probably more significant than all the rest. We have $750,000 in that budget principally through the efforts of Bob Broadbent, "Mr. Water" himself, to do undergound studies on deep aquifers in central Nevada. During the MX period we had a lot of work done and many of you are familiar with that, indicating that we may have a huge repository of literally millions of acres of feet of water in central Nevada. We have never had the kind of prospecting done until the MX period to look into that. We are going to do that. I can't imagine what that would do for this state. It would make the Comstock Lode appear inconsequential. It truly would. I think that is a most exciting prospect. All of us who have traveled this land and seen that little patch of 15 or 20 acres (and have some industrious person drawing up that water) and see that oasis out there know the prospect that this can have for our state. Once we become a garden state, believe me, a lot of our economic problems will quickly disappear. We also have been able to save the money for FEMA and Stewart. That has not been all that easy because there has been a lot of Eastern pressure to have that facility totally in Pennsylvania where they have the Eastern facility now. We were able to accomplish that as a unified delegation with a lot of help and cooperation from the people here. I was somewhat chagrined to say the least when our budget man, Dave Stockman, appeared to be deleting it this year. I didn't mind fighting the battle on the House side but to have it come from Dave, I thought was a bit much. In any case, we were finally able to tell him of the merits of this project and he finally consented to put it in and deleted the line item. That is of enormous consequence to this state and to this part of the state. It is the type of Federal activity we should have more of. We are going to have millions of dollars in capital construction and we are going to have a huge operating payroll. In addition to that, we are going to be doing some mighty fine work in terms of educating people in these emergency areas. So budget-wise we have done exceedingly well and I'm pleased and proud that it has gone that well.

Internationally, the name of game as all of you know are the "talks". I'm upbeat about those talks. I share the President's optimism. I'm sure that all of you do as well. All of us hope and pray that something comes. But let us not be unrealistic about the difficulty of the task. I was concerned about the euphoria that the media depicted after Geneva making it appear that all we would need is a couple of meetings and pretty quickly we would have an agreement. It just doesn't work that way with the Soviets. It is going to be long and hard and difficult and we are going to have patience like we have never exercised before. The Soviets in previous negotiations have always depended upon our impatience. They are constantly sitting at that table, more often than not, stonewalling us and nothing happens. We get disturbed when we see one part of a serial and have to wait until the following evening to see the rest. That is the psychology of American people in connection with life generally and it applies pretty much to our negotiators. But it is going to happen. We are going to have an agreement. I'm convinced of that. We are going to have an agreement principally because the Soviets have finally concluded that it is to their interest to have an agreement. They know we are serious now in our defense buildup; they know we want an agreement; they know that we want to remove that terrible nuclear cloud from all of civilization; they know our allies are in place and respect us now; and more importantly than all of that, they know the American people are solidly behind this whole effort. Ironically enough they came back to the table because of SDI. That is why they came back. We are now in the process of reshaping our whole defense doctrine. As you know it has been for many years mutually assured destruction, that an exchange nuclear-wise was so horrible that no one would think in terms of a first strike. We are changing that now and we are examining the prospect of defending ourselves.

That was roundly debated, if you will remember, in the ABM debates and defeated in the Senate by one lousy vote. Since that time our strategic doctrine has been simply that. Now a strategic defense initiative is introduced whereby a concept and technology to intercept that first strike and be successful at it. I have a hunch that it terrorized our Soviet friends beyond belief. They recognize above all else that we have enormous technological capabilities. I think it is very refreshing to know they came back to the table—they came back in their own self interest. That combined with our resolve from here will result, I hope, before too long and hopefully before the Reagan administration concludes, in a meaningful agreement. Let's all pray that that happens.

Let's talk about some local matters for a moment or two. I have been admonished by more people than I care to know not to talk about them but I'm going to anyhow. For instance, a noncontroversial subject like the TRPA. I understand you had a hearing on TRPA this morning. Anybody looking for a new scheduler? For me to be scheduled here on the heels of a TRPA hearing—I'm not going to intrude on your prerogatives; I've been there. I know that is your call. But I'm going to give you a little historical background about Tahoe and TRPA. Shortly after Ron Reagan and I were elected governors we had a number of people come to us and indicate we had very serious problems in connection with Tahoe. We examined it and had several meetings. We finally came to the fateful conclusion as conservatives that we should have a bistate compact. That wasn't easy for us because, believe me, that wasn't one of the favorite positions of the John Birch Society—metropolitan type government. But we finally came to the conclusion that we needed that. We had to save Tahoe and have these multiple sets of governments up there lend themselves to that type of cooperation. That was not an easy call for me either. I felt that in terms of what was happening to Tahoe and in terms of the potential that it be forever contaminated that Nevada was fairly clean on the issue. We had preserved our side pretty well. It wasn't due to any steadfast governmental policy. I can remember practicing law around here and even as Lieutenant Governor you didn't give that kind of thought to Tahoe. It was due principally to the fact that we had large landowners up there who were real preservationists; like the Bliss family at Glenbrook and George Whittell. George held most of the Nevada side in his personal title until we finally set off (and I represented him at the time) the Incline development, which is probably one of the finer developments anywhere. As I say, we were fairly clean on the issue and California with all its "breast beating" at the time, pointing fingers at Nevada, I thought was the height of hypocrisy. In any case, we went ahead and did the drill. The concept basically was this. Yes, we would form a bistate compact that would sit over the top of everything. That agency would be entrusted with basic policy and guidelines. Those guidelines would be interpreted and implemented on a local level so that we would have a healthy balance between an umbrella advisory group on top and doing the job on a local level pursuant to the needs and philosophy of the local level. We thought that was a reasonable balance. Now I have watched each succeeding year that concept being chipped away. Yes, one of our avowed goals I must say in the late 1960's was that Tahoe was not going to be raped. But I'll tell you another avowed goal was that thousands of private landowners at Tahoe weren't going to be raped either. So here we are many many years later and as I read it now a virtual moratorium at Tahoe. Nothing is happening. I suppose that gives great joy to some. But it is not fair and it is not balanced. I would suggest that eighteen years of trying to arrive at a decent solution is long enough. I'm not trying to impose any kind of resolution; I'm not trying to give you any kind of veiled threat about eventual Federal Government takeover, which could happen; I'm just simply saying that we certainly have to have in both of these states enough reasonable good-willed people to put a package together that will serve the interests of Tahoe in the future and also serve the individual landowner. Certainly that is within our grasp and capability. I hope that you address yourselves very seriously to that problem. We need to get off this stalemate which doesn't serve anybody well and get the job done.

Lastly, let me talk to you briefly about the nuclear waste problem.You know, this kind of emotional issue lends itself too often to political posturing and "knee jerk" reaction. That isn't the way to address problems. It's okay for the media but we don't have that kind of pleasure. I have found over the years that today's quick fix headline may well be tomorrow's political epitaph. Think about that. I can remember when MX came and it was first considered. We had a lot of people in this state embrace it politically. It was motherhood. I thought to myself that a lot of people might regret that call. A lot of people did. They didn't know what the ball game was about. They had no conception what MX meant to Nevada. They were thinking purely in terms of dollars and cents. Greed surfaced. They didn't think in terms of gutting the whole central part of the state for a project that strategically in the national interest made no sense. Finally, after the process was completed those were the decisions that were made. I was proud to have played a part in killing that project for Nevada.

So now we have the nuclear problem. I hear from various quarters it will discourage tourism. I don't buy that at all. I can remember the early days of above-ground testing when tourists in Las Vegas were fighting their way to go out and watch those explosions. No one can tell me that tourists in Nevada are not going to come to Las Vegas because we're depositing and storing nuclear waste at Yucca Mountain or anywhere else. That just doesn't sell. Talk about contamination of ground water—believe me if they are talking about contamination of ground water you can be assured if there is any evidence at all that ground water is being contaminated, we are going to be there opposing it ourselves. Howard Hughes used to bug me all the time about the testing there. He said you are going to foul up the ground water for generations to come. He would make me run to my experts to dispel that. The fact of the matter is that this is an explosive, complex and very sophisticated problem. There is a strong economic argument to be made. I think Barbara Vucanovich made it clear the other day. There is some downside admittedly, but there is also an enormous upside representing billions of dollars to the economy. Now, I for one would never make that kind of tradeoff in the face of a showing that environmentally we might be hurt. All I'm telling you is this—keep your powder dry. If you are not publicly committed, wait for this thing to unravel. Don't come out in opposition to a plan which has not been advanced yet. That is essentially where we are. I had the DOE people in just before I came out. Most of the people who are doing the hard work are the residents of Las Vegas. Are they going to come out with a plan that is going to threaten their lives or the lives of their families or friends? Certainly not. They are looking for answers. I think we finally have to decide if it comes here—if we get that kind of honor—and if we are finally selected on a rifle shot basis, we have to weigh the response as to whether or not we are going to object to it and then the governor at the time could veto it. Under the law, he has the right to veto and the Congress can override that veto by a two-thirds vote. We have to weigh that. We have to weigh all the considerations—economic, environmental and, yes, the national interest. You know we can't, on the one hand, as we are now doing, push strongly to have space reactors tested at the test site, which is live activity, and on the other hand, say no under any conditions that we are not going to store. That is a little inconsistent. You can't have your cake and eat it, too. Nevada cannot be postured, for any reason, as an outlaw state. We have too many problems along that line already. Historically, we have done a tremendous job from the standpoint of sheer patriotism in being part of the Federal family. These are the considerations that will bring to bear in those closing several weeks or months and that is way out; it is not imminent.

There is all kinds of work that has to be done before a final determination can be made. I say stay cool. If you have gone public I guess you have had it one way or the other. But for the rest of you, stay cool. I think it is the responsible thing to do. This represents pretty much what we are finding around this state. Let me tell you this. When I reflect on the many years I have been in this position, either sitting in Bob Cashell's chair, being governor of your state, or participating in the many special sessions or joint sessions of this type, I think we are all fortunate. We really are fortunate in serving this state. When I watch the pain and anguish in a lot of states I travel to, in terms of local legislators and people in the Congress, it's tough duty. We have a spirit in this state—we have our divisions—but we are tolerant and fair.

I'm very proud as your senator to serve with you. Thank you for your kind attention. You've been great. I've enjoyed this thoroughly. God bless.

THE TWENTY-SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), February 15, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:01 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Collins and Fairchild, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Roy Parker.

Father of Heaven and earth, we invoke Your guidance and blessings upon this, the Nevada State Assembly, to guide them in the decisions that they face here today. When the righteous rule over a people, they are blessed. The power that our rulers have comes from You, for Your Word tells us that there is no power but of God; we ask that it be used in a way that would please You and benefit us. No man is an island unto himself. No man sins unto himself. Anything that any one of us might do affects someone else. So Lord, we ask that as one nation under God, we seek Your wisdom in arriving at a proper solution that ends uncertainty or dispute concerning these important matters that this body of lawmakers face here today. Thank You for the freedom that we enjoy and allow us to remain free and give us the resistance that we need to dispel any force that would strip us of any part of our freedom. Cause us to look to You and depend upon You as our source of help, and for all of these favors and others, we thank You in the name of Your Son, Jesus our Lord and Saviour. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 18.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Taxation:

Amendment No. 33.

Amend section 1, page 1, line 4, by deleting the period and inserting: ", but not less than 15 cents for each package.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 2, 3 and 4 as sections 3, 4 and 5 respectively and inserting a new section designated section 2, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. NRS 370.165 is hereby amended to read as follows:

370.165 There is hereby levied a tax upon the purchase or possession of cigarettes by a consumer in the State of Nevada at the rate of [7.5] 5 mills per cigarette but not less than [15] 10 cents for each package. The tax may be represented and precollected by the affixing of a revenue stamp or other approved evidence of payment to each package, packet or container in which cigarettes are sold. The tax must be precollected by the wholesale or retail dealer, and must be recovered from the consumer by adding the amount of the tax to the selling price. Each person who sells cigarettes at retail shall prominently display on his premises a notice that the tax is included in the selling price and is payable under the provisions of this chapter.".

Amend sec. 3, page 2, line 28, by inserting after "cigarette" the phrase: ", but not less than 5 cents for each package,".

Amend sec. 4, page 3, line 26, by deleting the period and inserting: ", but not less than 15 cents for each package,".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 5 as section 7 and inserting a new section designated section 6, following section 5 (as renumbered), to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. NRS 370.350 is hereby amended to read as follows:

370.350 1. Except as provided in subsection 3, a tax is hereby levied and imposed upon the use of cigarettes in this state.

2. The amount of the use tax is [7.5] 5 mills per cigarette, but not less than [15] 10 cents for each package.

3. The use tax does not apply where:

(a) Nevada cigarette revenue stamps have been affixed to cigarette packages as required by law.

(b) Tax exemption is provided for in this chapter.".

Amend sec. 5, page 3, line 31, by deleting "14.3, 14.5" and inserting "14.3".

Amend sec. 5, page 3, line 32, by deleting "1948, 1949" and inserting "1948".

Amend sec. 6, page 3, by deleting lines 34 and 35 and inserting:

"Sec. 8. 1. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval to authorize the department of taxation to prepare to collect the tax at the rates authorized.

2. Sections 1, 3, 4 and 5 of this act become effective for all other purposes 90 days after passage and approval or on June 30, 1985, whichever is earlier.

3. Sections 2 and 6 of this act become effective for all other purposes on July 1, 1985.

4. This section and section 7 of this act become effective for all other purposes upon passage and approval.".

Amend the title of the bill, second line, by deleting: "retaining the existing rate;".

Amend the summary of the bill to read: "Changes method of taxing cigarettes.".

Remarks by Assemblyman Joerg.

Amendment adopted.

(d) Been refused a license under this chapter or had a license".

Amend the title of the bill, third line, after "license;" by inserting: "removing mere reputation as a ground for refusal;".

Assemblyman DuBois moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblyman DuBois.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING OF LEGISLATION

By Assemblyman Humke (by request):

Assembly Bill No. 198—An Act relating to the National Guard; making the Nevada Code of Military Justice conform, where applicable, to the Federal Uniform Code of Military Justice; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

By Assemblymen Humke, Stone, Coffin, Zimmer, Rader, Williams, Ham, Swain, Tebbs, Roberts, Beyer, DuBois, Price, Thomas, Nevin, Getto, Jeffrey, Dini, Thompson, Nicholas, Collins, Bergevin, Sedway, Marvel, Malone, Bogaert, McGaughey, Kerns, Francis, Lambert, Banner, Fairchild, Horne and Arberry:

Assembly Bill No. 199—An Act relating to children; revising provisions for protection from abuse or neglect; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Sedway requested that Assemblyman Thomas' remarks be entered in the Journal.

First of all I would like to thank my distinguished colleagues for that marvelous rendition and Mr. O'Donnell; that was just super. I thought it was awfully nice of Senator Paul to come to my birthday party. However, I do have one minor complaint to register against the speaker. He has been spreading the rumor around for some time that I participated in the Revolutionary War. I want you to know for a fact that George Washington was slightly before my time. However, I did know Abe fairly well. As I look at the picture of Abe up there, it kind of reminds me of Marvin Sedway with hair. On second thought, maybe Abe's name was Abraham Lincolnberg.

GUESTS EXTENDED PRIVILEGE OF ASSEMBLY FLOOR

On request of Assemblyman McGaughey, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Ms. Karen Hayes and Mr. Jimmy McGaughey.

THE TWENTY-NINTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 18, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Dini, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Gene Gentry.

Lord God, You have chosen the leaders of the State of Nevada. I thank you for each one with their differing views on various issues. As they struggle today and throughout the week with various decisions, enable each member present to express clearly relevant information and perspectives. Enable each member present to listen with openness and willingness to consider options which can lead to the best decisions for this state, this nation and this world. Give each man and woman who is participating in the decision-making process today a clear mind so that workable solutions can be found and implemented. Once those decisions are arrived at, give the courage and strength to carry out the implementation even though those who have selfish interests put on pressure to hinder that implementation. We pray that Your spirit will guide throughout the debates, discussions and votes of the day. May all that which is decided today be in the best interest of the majority of Your people. We ask all of this in the name of Jesus, the Christ. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 91.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Government Affairs:

Amendment No. 39.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 1 as section 2 and adding a new section designated section 1, preceding section 1, to read as follows:

"Section 1. NRS 418.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

418.030 [1. If any employer fails or refuses to comply with the provisions of subsections 2 and 3 of NRS 418.010, the district court of the judicial district where the employer maintains a place of business, shall have power, upon the filing of a motion, petition or other appropriate pleading by the person entitled to the benefits of the provisions of this chapter:

(a) Specifically, to require the employer to comply with the provisions; and

(b) As an incident thereto, to compensate the person for any loss of wages or benefits suffered by reason of the employer's unlawful action.

2. The court shall order a speedy hearing in the case and shall advance it on the calendar.

3. Upon application to] A person who claims to be entitled to the benefits of the provisions of 38 U.S.C. §§ 2021 to 2026, inclusive, may apply for the assistance of the district attorney for the county in which the claimant's employer maintains a place of business . [, by any person claiming to be entitled to the benefits of the provisions of this chapter, the] The district attorney, if reasonably satisfied that the person applying is entitled to [such] the benefits, shall appear and act as attorney for that person in the amicable adjustment of the claim, or in the [filing] :

1. Filing of any motion, petition or other appropriate pleading [, and the prosecution] ; and

2. Prosecution thereof to require specific compliance by the employer with the provisions of [this chapter.

4. No fees or court costs shall be taxed against the person so applying for such benefits.] 38 U.S.C. §§ 2021 to 2026, inclusive.".

Amend section 1, page 1, line 1, by deleting "418.030,".

Amend the title of the bill, line 2, by deleting the semicolon and inserting: "which are superseded by federal statutes; requiring district attorneys to assist in the prosecution of certain related claims;".

Assemblyman Bergevin moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblyman Bergevin.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Representative to the rostrum.

The Speaker of the Assembly welcomed the Representative and invited him to deliver his message.

The Representative delivered his message as follows:

SIXTY-THIRD SESSION, 1985

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, my fellow legislators, friends and guests.

At about 8 o'clock on a very cold Russian night in mid-January of this year I left the United States Embassy. The purpose of my departure was to visit a family in Moscow, the capital of the Soviet Union. Now, if anyone today made that announcement here in Carson City or in Washington, D.C., saying that you are going to visit a family that lives in the capital, it would be so routine as to be meaningless. However, my decision to make such a visit to the Soviet Union is worthy of discussion today. I traveled to the Soviet Union on a fact-finding trip with other members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. I remember when we first left our Embassy. We made every effort to give the impression that we were returning to our hotel. However, we were detected immediately by the KGB agents. This is easy to do in Russia since the intersections are frequented by the military whose main job is to keep the limousines of high Soviet officials moving and to use their sophisticated electronics to spy on whomever they are told to observe.

After arriving at our destination, the driver stopped our car. In front of us was a car that had stopped first to drop off a man who then proceeded to do what looked like window shopping to the casual observer. This was rather odd, however, considering the 15 degree below zero temperatures and the fact that there were no stores open at this time of night. I'll always remember in my mind's eye, just as it would occur in the movies, a KGB agent stood watching us from across the street as we entered this apartment complex. Our every move was being monitored. At that moment and today, I recall some of the Soviet's security reminders we were briefed about before we went into the country—all telephone calls are monitored by the Soviets, assume that all rooms have electronic eavesdropping devices and that all conversations will be monitored, assume that all rooms are being monitored by electronic photography, even in the dark, everything left in your room will be searched in your absence. These are a few of the precautionary statements we were given.

One family I visited was living in a very small apartment. We sat at their table to share a most unusual meal. The food was meager and bland but there was no doubt it was fixed with great love. While in Russia, I met with three families of Refuseniks, Christian and Jew. You see, in the Soviet Union they treat any religion, Christian or Jew, equally . . . very badly. These families were trying to leave the Soviet Union. They wanted to exercise their God-given rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. For their desire to live and practice their religion, they had been physically, emotionally and economically abused.

Having experienced this exchange, I realize how fortunate I am to be able to address the Nevada State Legislature. I need not worry about the rights of citizens to assemble, or to practice their religion or to speak out, to criticize. These are rights we take for granted and we shouldn't. Today I can criticize, compliment, advise and argue without fear of governmental harassment. For this I declare my happiness and testify as to my gratefulness for those who have made sacrifices to guarantee that our country remains the bastion of liberty that it is. We must recognize their sacrifice as a guarantee that our governmental process be preserved.

I have fond memories of the Nevada Legislature. When I served in the Assembly, we met in the Capitol. As President of the Senate, I had the good fortune to preside the year this building was opened. We in Nevada have great opportunity. We have a good tax base, sparse population, good climate with hearty people who are not afraid to work. Two years ago when I spoke before you our state was economically in the throes of a real disaster. Fires at two major resorts, general economic stagnation at the federal level, labor strife, Atlantic City and over-building were just a few of the obstacles that we have overcome to have a state now brimming with economic potential. We who serve the people as their elected representatives have a solemn obligation to assure that our governmental programs and laws advance this great state toward the realization of that potential.

I would like to discuss a few ways, I feel, can help us move closer to that goal. In 1971 and 1973 Governor O'Callaghan and I stressed the need for a "cooling off" period for gaming regulators. The legislature failed to adopt our suggested law. While I was chairman of the Gaming Commission, Governor O'Callaghan and I made this same proposal to the State Gaming Policy Committee...a proposal that gaming regulators wait a minimum of one year before going to work in the gaming industry. The Gaming Policy Committee agreed. In all these years neither the State Legislature nor the Gaming Commission has acted affirmatively on this proposal. This lack of action has been detrimental to our state. It is clearer than ever before that we must not only do away with what is bad but what appears to be bad. Throughout the nation, at all levels of government...whether it be in the halls of Congress or the state legislatures or the thousands of city halls, people talk adversely about Nevada regulators; found to be enforcing the law one day and working for those they have been enforcing the next. As one Nevada newspaper columnist put it recently, "the gaming agency has become a training school for casino executives." All of this has caused the present regulatory mechanism in our state to be held up to unnecessary ridicule. To maintain the integrity of our gaming enforcement apparatus you must put a stop to this practice. To do less is to sell Nevada cheaply.

While still talking about gaming, I think it would be well for the state to have a long-range plan about the future of gaming. As an example, you might want to look at the future of restricted licenses. At least this deserves some careful, deliberate consideration, either through a legislative interim study or perhaps through an analytical process of the Gaming Policy Committee.

In addition to preserving the integrity of our state's number one industry, we must all be committed to greater diversification of our economic base. I've enjoyed these past two years with the State Economic Development Commission. Also the Nevada Development Authority has been heavily involved in Washington. Two years ago I recommended to Nevada state officials and to Nevada Development Authority representatives that the state should have full-time personnel in Washington to represent the state's interest in the nation's capitol. Therefore, I was delighted to see that Governor Bryan in his state-of-the-state address has recommended a State of Nevada office in Washington, D.C. This will give the state greater presence and allow Carson City to work more closely with the Nevada congressional delegation, thus enhancing Nevada's prospects for acquiring its share of the government grants and contracts that are available. As a member of the Committee on Science and Technology, I am impressed with Nevada's great potential for high-tech development. Last year I brought to Nevada that committee's chairman, Don Fuqua from Florida. He was impressed with the potential for development existing in our state. He stressed that we would be a top contender for economic progress diversification, namely in the high-tech areas, when we establish a first-rate engineering school at UNLV. Do not let this vital ingredient to Nevada's future get lost. The presence of this engineering school would mean an accelerated growth rate for the entire state. It would create a broader tax base for years to come. I applaud and congratulate those legislators from outside Clark County for the non-regional support for this facility. It is similar to the 1969 approval of the University of Nevada Medical School in Reno which was only accomplished by the help of the southern Nevada legislators.

As you know, I was one of the first to speak out against the high level nuclear waste depository. My feelings have not changed. Nuclear waste is not compatible with tourism.

This is not a partisian issue. We should spend our time on those federal projects that would be good for Nevada—the super conducting super collider—$3 billion worth of construction, 3,000 men during the construction phase and 3,000 during the maintenance stage. In fact, there is a Las Vegas based company on the site selection process for that facility. Let's direct our attention toward this. Or, maybe even the SP100—or, of course, both. The space reactor, a multi-billion dollar project—already now in place we have $300 million worth of equipment that could be converted to use in this project.

I agree with Senator Laxalt on the need to advocate, push, lobby and fight for the $750,000 to study deep aquifers. With more water Nevada would be unstoppable. Senator Laxalt and I also agree on the necessity of the Federal Emergency Management Facility at Stewart. It was a team effort to get it. I'm proud of our teamwork. It took us both.

The discussion going on in the country today and specifically in Nevada that addresses education is essential. The debate between Assemblyman Sedway and Senator Ryan has done a great deal to focus attention on this vital issue. I especially salute the governor for his pursuit of education excellence. I hope that this state's most important resource, our children, are given a chance to be as good as they can be by providing for them the best education possible. We can start by providing our teachers with the proper tools. We all know that a teacher's working condition is a child's learning condition. I might add, teachers should be adequately paid for the service they render. None has played a more vital role in the lives of my own children than their teachers. Nevada's outstanding teachers deserve the best and we should provide for that. Each of you knows the importance of a single vote.

This past November many elections were decided, as several here know, by a handful of votes. The importance of a single vote cannot be overstressed. Aristotle and even the founders of our nation believed that liberty and equality will be best obtained when all persons share in the government to the utmost.

One way of doing this is by removing the impediments to voter registration. We have too many preconditions to voter registration. There are many possibilities. One, sponsored by Senator Foley, would allow for registration at the time a person applied for a driver's license. The National Census Bureau reports that in the November 1984 election, Nevada had the lowest voter registration and consequently the lowest voter turnout of any state in the nation. This is embarrassing. Is it fair to make the ability to vote so difficult? No. To claim we govern by the will of the people is perhaps not accurate. Remember, we are the last, we are the bottom in registration. In our sister state of California, post-card registration is used and it works. It favors no political party which is evidenced by the election of a Republican governor in a predominently Democratic state. There are other alternatives. Whatever method is chosen it is clear it must provide easier opportunities to register to vote. Without this first step in the voting process, we cannot hope to guarantee more active voter participation and thus election day turnout.

In another important area we must make a concerted effort to pass an estate tax that will bring into Nevada coffers money that is now going needlessly to the Federal Government. We have to make it perfectly clear that this is not a new or additional tax. Senator Bilbray has worked hard to make this point clear. It would only tax the states to the extent the Federal Government allows credit for taxes paid to the state. Simply stated, if it doesn't come to Carson City, it goes to Washington.

Thank you for allowing me to offer some advice. I have offered it based on privilege, the privilege of one with past service in both houses of this legislature. I am fortunate that in 1982 the opportunity to represent Nevada at the federal level was extended to me. As your congressman, I've worked and supported legislation that I consider beneficial for the state and this nation. During my first term I cosponsored several bills that are critical to Nevada and the nation—the pay-as-you-go budget deficit reduction proposal; the Fair Tax Act, to bring equity back into the tax system; the Defense Department's Spare Parts Procurement Act; and the Missing Children Act.

I returned to Washington just a few weeks ago determined to resolve some of the lingering problems with the budget, taxes, excessive and wasteful defense department spending and so much more. I have already introduced the Taxpayers Bill of Rights, to define more clearly the Internal Revenue Service procedures in order to protect taxpayers against IRS abuses. Rest assured there are abuses. We have about 25,000 dealers in Clark County alone. These dealers are literally being treated as second-class citizens. Whether we agree or disagree with whether they should have paid their taxes is no longer the issue. The issue is, they owe the money so let's not be mercenary in how that tax is collected. People are losing their homes and jobs. I think we have to look very closely at how the IRS is treating the dealers because after the dealers, it's you and me.

My bill, the Taxpayer's Bill of Rights, would do a number of things. First of all, it would put the taxpayer on even par with the tax collector. It would do some things such as allow no promotions in the Internal Revenue Service based on how much money a tax collector collects. It would provide an office of an ombudsman. It would demand that as soon as the tax collector meets the taxpayer that a discussion and, in effect, a "Miranda" type civil warning is given to these people so they understand what is going on. All conversations between the taxpayer and tax collector would be recorded. Now you know if you win, you lose. You can't afford to appeal a tax case because if you win you still have to pay your accountant's fees and tax fees. Most people pay even if they feel they don't owe the money. My bill would allow the awarding of attorney's fees and accountant's fees to the prevailing party, that is against the IRS.

I've reintroduced a bill to provide money for southern Nevada flood control so that life-stealing floods do not continue to batter southern Nevada. My effort in Washington will be greatly enhanced by the legislative action being proposed to you by Assemblymen Jim McGaughey and Danny Thompson. I congratulate you for introducing a comprehensive flood control plan. One that provides for both a master plan and the necessary funding mechanism to pay for it.

I've introduced a congressional resolution to prevent Canada from imposing burdensome taxes on travel literature coming from the United States and from Nevada. This policy directly impairs the free-flow of travel and tourism information to Canadian tourists who come to this country more than any other foreign travelers.

I'm also working to introduce a wilderness bill that is compatible with the concerns of the general public, as well as those of special interest groups that have voiced concern over this issue. We are the last of the 50 states to have a wilderness bill. We will have one whether we participate in it or not. We cannot let outsiders do this for us. We must be involved in creating a wilderness bill for the State of Nevada.

You can rest assured that I'm watching very closely the Bureau of Land Management Forest Service Exchange. I will proceed with caution and not haste. I'm testifying in Washington this week on this issue.

We are working for the release of more highway funds. While protecting the formula that has governed the disbursement of these monies for many years, the eastern states are trying to take away the so-called "three-r" formula. This change, in effect, would base money given to the states on population, not mileage; which, of course, would be very detrimental to Nevada.

In terms of federal spending, I think it is important to realize that we spend more than $1 million each year on rent for federal buildings in southern Nevada alone. I plan to introduce legislation to build a new federal complex in southern Nevada thus saving money and providing streamlined efficiency for federal operations in this state.

My Science and Technology Subcommittee on Transportation, Aviation and Materials will hold hearings this week starting on Wednesday dealing with the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit. We are the first committee to hold hearings on all the bills. We will decide and recommend whether the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit should be modified. Senator Hecht and Congresswoman Vucanovich will testify before me during these hearings.

Just as I did last session, I will continue to protect Nevada when it comes to military overstepping. We have learned the hard way that the military has a very large appetite. Area 51 and the controversial 90,000 acres that aroused so much concern last year, the Fallon Air Naval corridor, the supersonic range in northeast Nevada—all of these have the same features, taking without asking. The law now is that the military cannot take more than 10,000 acres of land without congressional approval. But, what about more than 10,000 acres of air space? That is what they have been trying and doing in many instances. That is why I am preparing a bill to prevent the military from doing so without authority.

Still remaining are the problems with and the need for tax reform. We need to develop legislation for tax simplification. I spoke about this before I went to Washington and I haven't stopped. I'm happy that President Reagan now agrees and said so in his State of the Union Address. The climate has never been better for tax reform and tax simplification. Hand in hand we must continue a fair deficit reduction solution. You as legislators should be aware that the money problems in Washington are not the fault of Congress alone. Let me illustrate. The President, during the past two weeks, has given us a budget that is $200 billion in the red. During the four years that President Reagan has been president, the Congress of the United States has appropriated less than two-tenths of one percent more than he has asked. In fact, last year Congress appropriated approximately $15 billion less than he asked. As an example, on my Foreign Affairs Committee the administration asked for $14 billion—we gave him $12 billion. It is good to understand, as I've mentioned, that the sole problem of the money situation in Washington is not the Congress.

Being aware of this, I'm reminded as I remind you that you cannot try to do too much. Because, in so doing you favor the following verse: "I'm the legislative draftsman, I compose the country's laws, and of half the litigation, I'm undoubtedly the cause. I employ a kind of english much is hard to understand. Though the purists do not like, all the lawyers think it's grand."

I have great confidence in the legislative process. I feel assured that each of you will do your best to guide Nevada through this most interesting time. Nevada's citizens deserve the best. They have a great heritage. This heritage must be protected and built upon. Today is George Washington's birthday. We celebrate it as his birthday. As George Washington said almost 200 years ago: "If, in the opinion of the people, the distribution or modification of powers be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way the law and constitution designates. But, let there be no change by usurpation for though this, in one instance, may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed." The philosophy, my friends, of the George Washingtons, our forefathers of this great country, separates us from the atheistic, communistic nonlegislative leaders of the Soviet Union. We have great power conferred upon us by the people. We must use this power wisely.

THE THIRTIETH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), February 19, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Gene Gentry.

Lord, we thank You for this day when we can consider business which will influence the future of this state and this world in which we live. Much of that business these days is being done in small committees. As the members of this legislative body go about the task which they have been called to do, we ask that Your will gives them clear and open minds. We pray that they will share openly the information they have so that the best legislation possible can be formed. Help us not to be too influenced by selfish interests as we consider that which is best for the majority. As we listen to Mr. Bacon this morning, help us to gain insights which will make us better persons as we walk the paths of life. These things we ask in Jesus' Name. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 18.

Bill read third time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Taxation:

Amendment No. 52.

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a new section designated section 4.5, following section 4, to read as follows:

"Sec. 4.5. NRS 370.260 is hereby amended to read as follows:

370.260 1. All taxes and license fees imposed by the provisions of NRS 370.001 to 370.430, inclusive, less any refunds granted as provided by law, must be paid to the department in the form of remittances payable to the department.

2. The department shall:

(a) As compensation to the state for the costs of collecting the taxes and license fees, transmit each month such sum as the legislature specifies from the remittances made to it pursuant to subsection 1 during the preceding month to the state treasurer for deposit to the credit of the department. The deposited money must be expended by the department in accordance with its work program.

(b) [From the remittances made to it pursuant to subsection 1 during the preceding month, less the amount transmitted pursuant to paragraph (a), transmit each month the portion of the tax which is equivalent to 2.5 mills per cigarette, but not less than 5 cents for each package, to the state treasurer for deposit to the credit of the account for the tax on cigarettes in the state general fund.

(c)] Transmit the balance of the payments each month to the state treasurer for deposit to the credit of the cigarette tax account in the intergovernmental trust fund.

[(d)] (c) Report to the state controller monthly the amount of collections.

3. The money in the cigarette tax account is hereby appropriated to Carson City and to each of the counties in proportion to their respective populations. The amount in the account which was collected during the preceding month must be apportioned by the department and distributed by the state controller as follows:

(a) In counties having a population of 5,000 or more:

(1) If there are no incorporated cities within the county, the entire amount must go into the county treasury.

(2) If there is one incorporated city within the county the money must be apportioned between the city and the county on the basis of the population of the city and the population of the county excluding the population of the city.

(3) If there are two or more incorporated cities within the county, the entire amount must be apportioned among the cities in proportion to their respective populations.

(b) In counties having a population of less than 5,000:

(1) If there are no incorporated cities or unincorporated towns within the county, the entire amount must go into the county treasury.

(2) If there is one incorporated city or one unincorporated town within the county the money must be apportioned between the city or town and the county on the basis of the population of the city or town and the population of the county excluding the population of the city or town.

(3) If there are two or more incorporated cities or unincorporated towns or an incorporated city and an unincorporated town within the county, the entire amount must be apportioned among the cities or towns in proportion to their respective populations.

(c) In Carson City the entire amount must go into the city treasury.

4. For the purposes of this section, "unincorporated town" means only those towns governed by town boards organized pursuant to NRS 269.016 to 269.019, inclusive.".

Amend sec. 7, page 4, line 7, by deleting "14.3" and inserting "14.3, 14.5".

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Resolution No. 5.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Dini's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Nevada, my Nevada, a desert and a sky. A thousand miles of sagebrush upon a field of gold. A thousand miles of silence, a charm that's never old. Nevada, my Nevada, an endless inland sea of alkali and sagebrush and winds forever free. Out of thy desert vastness, out of thy deathly dust, there comes a lure that grips the heart and kills the wanderlust. A lure of lengthening shadows of sunsets in the west, of winds forever sighing, that soothe the soul to rest.

GUESTS EXTENDED PRIVILEGE OF ASSEMBLY FLOOR

THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), February 20, 1985

Assembly called to order at 10:33 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman James Schofield.

Our Heavenly Father, we come before Thee at the opening of this session on the brink of preparing to go into a recess to allow a few days rest and meetings that are necessary in the work we are doing. We ask Thee to guide and watch over each of us as we go through the business at hand this morning, then to our homes and to those that are traveling to Washington. Guide and watch over each and every one of us so that we may return on Monday and continue the work that You have guided us in doing. We ask these many blessings in the name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

A duplicate of [such receipt shall] this receipt must be immediately delivered to the appropriate county auditor, county recorder or county comptroller.

2. In criminal cases, [where] if witnesses are subpenaed from without the county, or, being residents of another state, voluntarily appear as witnesses [,] at the request of the district attorney and the board of county commissioners of the county in which the court is held, they [shall] must be allowed [their] the actual and necessary [traveling] expenses for traveling incurred by them in going to and returning from the place where the court is held, and such sum per diem, not exceeding $3, as may be fixed by the district judge, who shall certify the [same] amount to the county clerk in cases in the district court, or by the justice of the peace, who shall certify the [same] amount to the deputy clerk of the justice's court , if one is appointed, in cases in the justice's court, for entry upon the payroll [hereinbefore required.] described in subsection 1.

Sec. 5. NRS 178.544 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.544 1. Whenever a person is admitted to bail in a justice's court and the bail is put in by a written undertaking, [the justice of the peace admitting that person to bail, or] the deputy clerk of the justice's court [if there is one,] shall record:

(a) The name of the defendant;

(b) The names of the sureties;

(c) The amount of the bond;

(d) The name of the court;

(e) The [case number;] number of the case; and

(f) Such other information as is reasonably necessary to complete the record.

2. When the bond is exonerated or forfeited, [the justice of the peace declaring the exoneration or forfeiture, or] the deputy clerk of the justice's court [if there is one,] shall record:

(a) The date of the exoneration or forfeiture;

(b) The book and page of the minute order declaring the exoneration or forfeiture; and

(c) The date of notice to the district attorney of any forfeiture of the bond.

Sec. 6. NRS 178.548 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.548 The county clerk, [the justice of the peace or] the deputy clerk of the justice's court, [if there is one,] or the clerk of the supreme court shall notify the district attorney of the appropriate county, in writing , promptly upon the receipt of information indicating that a bail bond has been forfeited.

Sec. 7. NRS 178.606 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.606 A docket [shall] must be kept by [the justice, or by] the deputy clerk of the justice's court, [if there be one,] in which he shall enter each action, and the minutes of the proceedings of the court therein.

Sec. 8. NRS 239.110 is hereby amended to read as follows:

239.110 1. The clerk of the supreme court, a county clerk, deputy clerk of a justice's court or clerk of a municipal court may destroy all documents, records, instruments, books, papers, depositions and transcripts in any action or proceeding in the supreme court, district court, justice's court or municipal court, respectively, or otherwise filed in his office pursuant to law, including transcripts of coroners' inquests and depositions, if the records of the clerk do not show that the action or proceeding is pending on appeal or review in any court, except that:

(a) [When] If the written consent of the district attorney is first obtained, transcripts of preliminary hearings may be destroyed as provided in this section; and

(b) Minutes of the supreme court, district court, justice's court or municipal court, affidavits supporting applications for marriage licenses, after [such] those licenses have been issued, and certificates of fictitious names of businesses may be destroyed immediately subject to the provisions of subsections 2 and 3.

2. The clerk shall maintain for the use of the public a microphotographic film print or copy of each document, record, instrument, book, paper, deposition or transcript so destroyed, if the print or copy is placed and kept in a sealed container under certificate of the clerk and properly indexed. This print or copy shall be deemed to be the original.

3. The clerk shall promptly seal and store at least one original negative of each microphotographic film in such manner and place as may reasonably [to] ensure its preservation indefinitely against loss, theft, defacement or destruction.

4. The supreme court may provide by rule for the destruction, without prior microfilming, of such other documents of the several courts of this state as are held in the offices of the clerks but which:

(a) No longer serve any legal, financial or administrative purpose; and

(b) Do not have any historical value.

5. The court administrator may request the division to advise and assist the supreme court in its establishment of the rules.

Sec. 9. NRS 354.170 is hereby amended to read as follows:

354.170 Except as provided in NRS 50.235 [,] or 6.160, in every case in which the district court or district judge is authorized by law to order any money to be paid out of the county treasury, [such order shall] this order must be first presented to the county auditor, who shall number and register the [same, and he shall] order and issue his warrant on any fund in the county treasury not otherwise specially appropriated or set apart.".

THE THIRTY-SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 25, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Bruce Murray.

Our Heavenly Father, we come to You today in the name of Your Son and our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We thank You, Father, for the privilege of addressing our needs to You and we are confident that You will hear us and grant us the petitions we request. We ask first of all that You will grant wisdom and understanding to those who are in positions of authority. We pray for the President and our country, that You will protect him and give him wisdom and strength to fulfill his duty as our leader. We pray that You will surround him with advisors and counselors who will give him Godly counsel and that the decisions he makes will be upright in Your sight. We pray for the governor of our state, our senators, our assemblymen and for those in positions of authority. I ask that You will grant unto them wisdom and discretion and knowledge to fulfill the task of governing the people of this state. Your word says that the heart of the king is in the hand of the Lord and You turn it whichever way You desire. I believe that the heart of each of these leaders are in Your hand and that their decisions are divinely directed of the Lord. Grant these requests I pray in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. AMEN.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Horne's remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Our notable today, Mr. Speaker, is Benjamin Franklin. I dare say by the tenor of his remarks I suspect that it was made in a circumstance where they were about to vote on such things as the helmet law, seat belts and cooling off periods and other matters relating thereto. He happens to say: "They that can give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety deserve neither liberty nor safety".

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), February 26, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:03 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Bruce Murray.

Father, in Jesus' name, I give thanks for our country and its government. I hold up in prayer before You the men and women who are in positions of authority. I pray and intercede for the president, the congressmen, the senators and the judges of our land, as well as those here in our state; the policemen, as well as the governors and mayors, and for all the school teachers and administrators across our land, in both public and private schools and for all those who are in authority over us in any way. Father, I ask You to protect these men and women to make their hearts and ears attentive to Godly counsel so that they may do that which is right in Your sight. I also pray that integrity and honesty will surround them so that the decisions they make will benefit those of us who follow their leadership. Your Word declares that "blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord". I thank You that we are one nation under God with liberty and justice for all. It is written in Your Word that the heart of the king is in the hand of the Lord and You turn it whichever way You desire. I pray that the hearts of each of these leaders will be in Your hand, and that their decisions will be divinely directed. Thank You, Father, for hearing our prayer. Assembly Joint Resolution No. 9—Proposing to amend the Nevada constitution to allow the use of interest earned on penal fines for compensation for victims of crime.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 3 of article 11 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. 1. All lands, including the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections in any township donated for the benefit of public schools in the act of the Thirty-eighth Congress, to enable the people of Nevada Territory to form a state government, the thirty thousand acres of public lands granted by an act of Congress, approved July second, A.D. eighteen hundred and sixty-two, for each senator and representative in Congress, and all proceeds of lands that have been or may hereafter be granted or appropriated by the United States to this state, and also the five hundred thousand acres of land granted to the new states under the act of Congress distributing the proceeds of the public lands among the several states of the union, approved A.D. eighteen hundred and forty-one; provided, that Congress make provision for or authorize such diversion to be made for the purpose herein contained; all estates that may escheat to the state; all of such per centum as may be granted by Congress on the sale of lands; [all fines collected under the penal laws of the state;] all property given or bequeathed to the state for educational purposes, and all proceeds derived from any or all of said sources shall be and the same are hereby solemnly pledged for educational purposes, and shall not be transferred to any other funds for other uses; and the interest thereon shall, from time to time, be apportioned among the several counties as the legislature may provide by law; and the legislature shall provide for the sale of floating land warrants to cover the aforesaid lands, and for the investment of all proceeds derived from any of the above-mentioned sources; provided, that the interest only of the aforesaid proceeds shall be used for educational purposes, and any surplus interest shall be added to the principal sum; and provided further, that such portion of said interest as may be necessary may be appropriated for the support of the state university.

2. All fines collected under the penal laws of this state are hereby solemnly pledged for the purposes of education and compensation of victims of crime. The interest only on such fines may be used in accordance with a formula established by the legislature for dividing the interest between the authorized purposes. The legislature shall apportion the interest used for education among the several counties.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 5.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Stone, Schofield, Nicholas, Coffin, DuBois and Nevin.

Assemblyman Nicholas requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

You know, Mr. Stone, when we are dealing with school zones and we are dealing with my district we are also dealing with the old problem of Highway 395 and the Brown School. I assume that this particular bill would not impact on that situation where a major highway goes right by a school and therefore speed restrictions would cause a slowdown in a major highway traffic.

ASSEMBLYMAN STONE:

That is covered, Mr. Nicholas, in the section where it states "unless it is not safe to designate that as a school zone". The situation which you have described is an example of an area that would not be safely designated as a school zone. They don't have to designate any area as a school zone where it would be unsafe.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

It would appear to alleviate the situation. Is it possible for me, Mr. Stone, to request an intent from the committee in terms of that particular location. That would assuage the feelings of many of my constituents.

ASSEMBLYMAN STONE:

It was not the committee's nor my intent, not only in your area, but in other areas in the state where major highways do go by schools to have speed zones of 15 miles per hour—it would not be a safe thing to do. It is specifically addressed in the bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

May I then, Mr. Speaker, simply request that the remarks of Mr. Stone and myself be placed in the record today if only to represent a record involving that situation.

Assembly Bill No. 85.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Stone, Getto and Ham.

Assemblyman Francis requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HAM:

I speak in opposition of A.B. 85. The intent of this bill is in the event that a person with a violent habitual criminal background is arrested and convicted of a felony drunk driving offense, that person shall be placed in a medium security prison. I agree with the intent of this bill and I agree that some felony drunk driving offenders may also be violent criminals. However, when we passed the drunk driving bill in 1983, it was clearly our intent not to place drunk driving offenders in medium and maximum security prisons where they would be in danger from the hard core criminals. I am not saying that a felony drunk driving offense is not the worst kind of crime judging from the damage done to the innocent victim. But the drunk driver is not a criminal in the ordinary sense of the word, such as a murderer, rapist or a robber. He does not intend to do harm. A repeat drunk driving offender is most likely an alcoholic—a sick person in need of treatment. I am not aware of any state operated alcoholic treatment facility that is available for sentencing of these offenders. In any case, our law says that convicted drunk drivers must be sent to a prison; but, where practicable, to a minimum security prison. This bill allows only one previous felony drunk driving conviction. It serves no purpose to place a felony drunk driver in prison. They receive no treatment for alcohol dependency there. They are not able to repay their victims. When they return to society, if they survive the prison experience, they will still be alcoholics and will probably be alcoholic criminals having learned to survive in the prison environment. I know of what I speak because my son was convicted of a felony drunk driving offense. He spent nine weeks at the Southern Desert Correctional Center at Indian Springs before he was sent to the Honor Camp at Pioche. While he was at Indian Springs, I know of at least one death of a prisoner. You have all read of the recent riots at that facility in which several prisoners were injured. You can all say "so what, they are criminals and deserve whatever they get." But all criminals, no matter what the crime, are wards of the state and we are responsible for their safety. That is why we wrote into the drunk driving law that drunk driving offenders are to be segregated from the hard core prisoners. Since this bill was not amended to exempt the offender with no criminal background, other than felony drunk driving, I will vote no.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

I, too, have some concerns with this bill; especially after sitting through a Ways and Means meeting this morning and listening to the testimony of the officials from the Nevada State Prison. I was made aware that the category of inmates even in the medium security prisons will change drastically within the next three or four years. As we screen the nonviolent type inmates and put them in honor camps and restitution centers, we will have more hard core inmates in the medium security prisons. I agree with Assemblyman Jane Ham that even a third time felony drunk driver is not a criminal but a sick person. I also agree that it was not the intent of the legislation last session to make criminals out of these people. I guarantee you that if you place one of these people in a prison and keep him there for three or four years, he will come out a criminal.

Assemblyman Getto moved that Assembly Bill No. 85 be taken from the General File and placed on the Chief Clerk's desk.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 6.

Resolution read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Bogaert, Coffin, Nicholas, DuBois, Collins, Horne, Sedway, Sader and Jeffrey.

Assemblyman Arberry requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN BOGAERT:

I think most of you are aware of this resolution from the literature and the fact that General Graham was here on Monday to testify. As an elected body representing the people of the State of Nevada this resolution encourages Congress to pursue the concept of High Frontier, or as it has been known, "Star Wars". In all my adult life I have been faced with the idea that the only recourse we have in the event of a nuclear war is that we, as well as the enemy, will suffer. That has been uneasy to live with. I am excited and enthusiastic about the fact that we finally have a proposed defensive system that appears workable. The system proposes use of a non-nuclear defense system that would diffuse incoming nuclear bombs with less radiation than is currently in the earth's atmosphere. Finally, we have a way to approach this that will once and for all give us a little peace of mind and a defensive system that will cause us to decrease our stockpile of nuclear bombs that could destroy us many times over. I'm very excited about this concept. In commmittee, we heard interesting testimony and only one member opposed it. After our congressional delegation went on record supporting this, I received a personal letter from Chic Hecht and I quote in part, "It is vitally important that we aggressively pursue this new concept that moves us from the archaic mutually assured destruction position to that of mutually assured survival".

ASSEMBLYMAN COFFIN:

I rise in opposition to A.J.R. 6. I do it for reasons that would be appropriate to call in the question of any measure which has a cost, as we do in this body when we look at our bills that contain an expense or fiscal note. So do our representatives of the Congress of the United States. I think it is reckless to call upon our representatives in Congress to support a specific proposal such as this. We typically memorialize them to pass upon something of a moral or philosophical nature. No one knows how much this proposed High Frontier system will actually cost. General Graham said it would cost $30 billion. Analysts for the House of Representatives say it could cost as much as $400 to $800 billion. I really think it is irresponsible for us to ask Congress to spend money on programs which really have the potential for driving us toward future bankruptcy. The defense establishment will love this. I don't mean our Armed Forces—I mean the contractors that make the money off these projects. I would rather see the money go for people in the Armed Forces. We should have learned this lesson in Vietnam. All the $20 million fighters with their very expensive consoles could not replace a battalion of motivated men on the ground. I think we are losing our desire for close combat preferring push-button warfare on computer consoles. Many of you here today have served in our Armed Forces and know what I mean by that. Mr. Speaker, you were a Marine. In fact, 19 of the 42 people in this body have served in the Armed Forces, 10 in war time. What is more important from your own personal experience?

I believe in going on with the research in High Frontier. Let's continue to explore all these possibilities for the future. Even in space, without qualified people, the machines won't work. We hear reports of our fleets suffering shortages of men and materials. Our Air Force has fighter planes which are not combat ready. Our Army buys "Star Wars" type tanks that do not shoot straight. Mr. Speaker, we have heard a lot of talk about our country falling to Communism. I submit to you that our country will fall to Communism first from bankruptcy before invasion from outer space.

In the past, this Assembly has memorialized Congress on a number of things. One of them in particular is balancing our federal budget. In fact, in the last four sessions, seven measures have been introduced in the Assembly and Senate requiring Congress to balance the budget. Many of the people here in this room who have signed on this measure have also signed or voted for measures to require Congress to balance its budget—just as we do in the state. I don't think in good conscience that we could send a message to Congress which calls for them to pass what, in my opinion and the opinion of many others, is a budget-busting measure. Right now Congress is studying budget proposals which will jeopardize school nutrition programs and increase defense spending. I suggest we leave Congress alone to do its job. There are those that would tell Congress how to do their job. Maybe they ought to run for it themselves.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

I, too, am concerned involving the costs of anything that we are involved with on the national level regarding defense. However, I would suggest to you that I would hope that good judgment would be displayed here in the utilization of funds in order to implement these directions. Perhaps more importantly, as one of the ten veterans in this body that has served during war time, I would suggest to you that I seldom find a better way of communicating a message to those who would perhaps not be our friends in the future than this methodology which costs little blood and, with some thought, perhaps will not cost too much money. It would represent a deterrent that we very badly need. I would like to suggest that we, despite the fact that we have to have some compunctions involving expenditures, substantially support this issue.

ASSEMBLYMAN DUBOIS:

In response to Mr. Coffin's remarks, all I can say is I would rather be bankrupt than dead.

ASSEMBLYMAN COLLINS:

I rise in support of this bill for many reasons. I would hate to think that this body could look at one another and put a price tag on our lives. I would hope the day would never come when we put materialistic value before an individual's life. I would like to know how many mothers can rest at night knowing that we are not concerned about defending ourselves against an attack from another nation.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

I would like to say to Mr. Coffin, under his own definition, that this resolution certainly meets the criteria. It represents a significant change in philosophy. We are urging a change from a very "mad" philosophy to one which extends hope to all of humanity.

ASSEMBLYMAN SEDWAY:

I rise to speak against this resolution in support of Assemblyman Coffin with a quote from Benjamin Franklin who said, "What is popular may not be right and what is right may not be popular".

ASSEMBLYMAN BOGAERT:

In answer to Mr. Coffin, it is estimated that this project would cost about one and one-half percent of our national defense budget per year through the implementation of the program. This is not our total national budget—only our national defense budget. As far as costs, as we all know, if the federal government says it will cost a certain amount it wouldn't mean anything anyway. They always run higher than predicted. Concerning tanks, I agree with Mr. Coffin. That was a "donnybrook". But our space program, on the other hand, has been an almost total success. The side benefits we have derived from our space program have been immense. We are going to spend money on defense anyway and so are our enemies so I suggest we get on with it.

ASSEMBLYMAN SADER:

Mr. Speaker, you need to catch a plane and we need to do other things in the Nevada Legislature which precisely illustrates why we should not have these kinds of resolutions in the first place. We are not ministers of foreign affairs here. We should be dealing with the affairs of the Nevada Legislature.

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

I, too, rise in opposition. I have no problem with the concept of "Star Wars" but there is no question in my mind that there are a great number of details that need to be worked out, especially the funding. What kind of programs are going to suffer if this project is implemented. I don't think a one page resolution answers any of those questions.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 59.

Bill read third time.

The following amendment was proposed by Assemblyman Schofield:

Amendment No. 103.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 2 through 4 as sections

5 through 7 and adding new sections designated sections 2 through 4, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. Chapter 278 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

The agency may enter into such agreements as it considers necessary for the coordination of planning and enforcement of the regional plan with the agency of the State of California having comparable authority in California's portion of the Tahoe Basin.

Sec. 3. NRS 278.782 is hereby amended to read as follows:

278.782 As used in NRS 278.780 to 278.828, inclusive, and section 1 of this act, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 278.784 to 278.791, inclusive, have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 4. NRS 278.810 is hereby amended to read as follows:

278.810 1. The governing body may determine the qualifications of and appoint an executive officer for the agency and may, within the limits of available funds, fix the salary of the executive officer. The governing body may also, within the limits of available funds, employ such other staff as may be necessary to execute the powers and functions provided for under NRS 278.780 to 278.828, inclusive, or in accordance with any intergovernmental contracts or agreements which the agency may be responsible for administering.

2. The agency is a public employer for the purposes of chapter 286 of NRS, and a public agency for the purposes of chapter 287 of NRS.

3. The attorney general [may, upon request,] shall act as the attorney for the agency.".

Amend sec. 3, page 2, line 5, by deleting "effective" and inserting: ", following the effective date of subsection 1,".

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a new section designated section 8, following section 4, to read as follows:

"Sec. 8. 1. This section and sections 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7 of this act become effective upon passage and approval.

2. Sections 1 and 6 of this act become effective on April 17, 1987.".

Assemblyman Schofield moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblymen Schofield, Bergevin, Price and Nicholas.

ASSEMBLYMAN SCHOFIELD:

Amendment No. 103 is a very extensive amendment. I ask the Speaker and the rest of the body to refer back to the bill as I go through the amendment. This amendment repeals and renumbers sections 2 through 4 which become sections 5 through 7. The purpose of this particular amendment sets up and puts into position the NTRPA upon passage and approval. Section 1 of this act would be placed within the scope of the initial bill. Page two contains a trigger mechanism whereby the attorney general shall act as the attorney for the NTRPA agency. The purpose of this amendment is to approach an alternative that, I think, is a responsible move for this legislature on behalf of the problems at Lake Tahoe.

The bill would totally dissolve the compact. The amendment will dissolve the compact, also, but the addition of section 8 allows for the dissolution to be effective on April 17, 1987. The purpose of this is to allow the long planning effort on the part of the TRPA an opportunity to be able to place that plan in operation. The Government Affairs Committee heard extensive testimony and the committee voted 9 to 4 in favor. On the floor, I am requesting that each of you at least keep an open mind to the TRPA, the NTRPA and this proposed amendment. I urge each and every one of you to search your mind in regards to this amendment. It will provide an alternative. It has taken 15 years to get to this point and I would hate not to have a mechanism like this in place.

Further, I have requested an Assembly joint resolution that would, in fact, set up a study committee over the next two years which would take some of the problems we face and report back to the 1987 session. This will also put into position a trigger mechanism that will tell the TRPA and California that we are concerned over what happens over the next two years. In 1983 there was a trigger mechanism that self destructed. However, the 1983 session straightened that out. This will give us an opportunity in the 1987 session to properly determine whether the TRPA worked and did what they should for the property owners who have been suppressed and also the environmentalists who seek to preserve the beauty of Lake Tahoe.

We each of us here have that responsibility by legislation as was noted in the 1980 special session. We have a two pronged issue here. The lake belongs to all people, not just the people who live around it. I think it is very important that we allow the TRPA some additional time with, I hate to use the word oversight, but some overseeing. I realize this is a complex issue. I'm just asking you to have an open mind in regards to this amendment. I think it could be very effective and have a tremendous impact. I urge you to pass out of this house an amended bill that could be workable.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

I rise in opposition to Amendment No. 103. This would do no more than prolong for another two years the tyranny at Lake Tahoe in regards to about 12,000 property owners that are currently unable to build. There is nothing in this bill that guarantees that the legislature two years down the road will not repeal this whole act. A bill has already been introduced to cause the attorney general to be the attorney for the NTRPA. This amendment is unnecessary in this respect.

The language in Section 2, "the agency may enter agreements and consider necessary . . ." is the exact wording I have in the bill on the NTRPA on my desk which I have felt was not necessary until A.B. 59 was concluded. I urge that we roundly defeat this amendment.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

I want to speak specifically to your timeframe because in my opinion that is the most important aspect of the proposed amendment. It is difficult to speak on the amendment without relating to the regional pact itself. During the six terms that I have been here I've served on various committees that held hearings on the TRPA.

It has been an obvious problem and a controversial subject since its inception. The TRPA was started because of a problem. We heard that from Senator Laxalt. Before the TRPA there was a problem and that is why it was conceived. It was changed in the 1980 special session. There was, as we will hear later, a deadline proposed whereby a plan was to be developed in 18 months. Actually, it took a couple of years. At no time, to my knowledge, since 1977 did we, in fact, threaten to pull out of the TRPA.

Today I think if we are going to act responsibly, and even though it has been 18 years and has worn on our patience, we should set a deadline. This amendment provides for the deadline to be the third Friday in April two years from now. I support the interim study committee to take a look at the operation during the next two years. If that committee's recommendation would be for us to pull out of the TRPA, I would support their suggestion. I don't think we should pull out without saying we want you to shape up and we want to see some measured improvements, some measured benefits. Of which, by the way, I think there have been some benefits. I think that would be the proper way to go about this. It is uncertain what would happen. Even Senator Laxalt talked about the possibility of the Federal Government coming in. Because of the two year period and the notice that will be given I favor the amendment and the bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

I wish to reserve the majority of my remarks for the bill. I would like to suggest to you now that the central theme of this amendment, which may have been laudible several years ago, is less laudible today. One of the histories that we have found in following the gyrations of the TRPA is essentially the history of "put off, bury, put aside, forget". I really believe for this issue now is the time to discuss it. I do not suggest that all the things incorporated in the amendment are not worthy of consideration. However, there will be other covers that will cover the directions to be taken. At this point I would call for action on this amendment and then full debate on the issue itself.

Amendment lost.

Assemblyman Coffin requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

We've heard a lot of talk here in trying to adopt an amendment that really addressed the bill. I think we have to find that 15 years of tyranny at Lake Tahoe is probably enough for anyone to stand. I would challenge any member of this Assembly to show me one positive thing that the TRPA has done for Lake Tahoe since its existence. If we had depended on the TRPA to sewer Lake Tahoe, I dare say you would not let your kids swim in Lake Tahoe because it would have never been accomplished. This was accomplished by private enterprise and the county governments surrounding Lake Tahoe. TRPA had absolutely nothing to do with it. As Mr. Nicholas said, they have taken everything out of context as to the wishes of this legislature.

I quote article 5 of NRS 277.200, "Within 18 months after the effective date of the amendment of this compact the agency shall adopt environmental threshold carrying capacities for the region". This was not done in the proper amount of time. I find it rather humorous that we were to say they shall pay taxes by a certain date, I'm sure the government would have been down on their head with every ounce of energy they have. But when we say they shall do something with TRPA, nobody seems to have the guts to get up and do what is right.

I would also like to read you comments from the special session when I asked Senator Wilson what would happen if we did not adopt these amendments on the dates we specified in the legislation, "Lou, the bottom line is the two state delegations cannot get an agreement on the functional provisions of the compact including, not just the thresholds, but the regional plan an ordinance. I think, then, that we recognize that the bi-state experiment is a failure and consider liquidating it". Obviously, it has been a tremendous failure. We are at the present in the throes of a lawsuit by the attorney general of the state of California; whom I believe should have been suing in the Supreme Court and the League to Save Lake Tahoe. You have on your desk this morning a letter from the League to Save Lake Tahoe. One of the paragraphs states, "In the view of the 3,000 member League to Save Lake Tahoe there is only one issue, the best kind of government for Lake Tahoe". I would submit that probably 60 to 80 percent of those members own a home at Lake Tahoe already and do not want their privacy invaded by anyone else building a home.

I would also call your attention to the fact that there are 12,000 lots at Lake Tahoe in approved subdivisions whose owners are paying taxes and sewer fees on those lots but unable to build. This is tyranny of the worst kind. I urge the adoption of this bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Introduction

Lake Tahoe is the magnificent body of water which Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) proclaimed "the fairest picture the whole earth affords." It straddles the state line between Nevada and California like a shining jewel. But I do not need to revisit the beauties of Lake Tahoe and the Tahoe Basin for you. Anyone sitting in this body who has not experienced the beauty of Lake Tahoe shouldn't be considering a vote on the measure before us today.

Precisely because Lake Tahoe straddles the state boundary, governing development in the area has presented some unique challenges. The same water flows in both states. The same air exists in both states—air is not a respecter of political boundaries. The same traffic flows in both states. And thus, what people do to the air and water quality and traffic in one state directly affects the corresponding factors in the other political jurisdiction.

When I entered the Nevada Legislature in 1967, the body was seeking a solution to the bistate nature of the issues at Lake Tahoe. I guess I am the only one remaining in this body, outside of possibly Virgil Getto, who worked on the beginning of this program.

The point I make is that some of us have a number of years invested in this activity. I personally am not ready to "throw in the towel," "call it quits," and start with a new approach.

History and Intent

I want to give you some background about the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, the TRPA. And please bear with me. I have a few very important points to make.

After our deliberations in the mid-1960's, the Bi-State Compact establishing the TRPA was ratified in 1969. The intent then, as it still is today, was to create a body which would preserve the environmental qualities at the lake and still protect private property rights. This is no small mandate and there has been pushing and shoving on both sides of this effort from the beginning.

Under the 1969 compact, the TRPA developed plans and ordinances, and the agency undertook the responsibility of project review. However, several provisions within the compact fostered contention between the two states. In the mid-1970's, California began to finance the California-TRPA to do planning and project review on its side of the basin. California's financial support and participation in the bistate agency were curtailed. In effect they tried to go it alone with their own in-state regional body—just like we are being asked to do here today. And it did not work.

Attempts to Revise the Compact

Between 1975 and 1979, each state unilaterally attempted to prepare compact revisions which would be acceptable. Nevada enacted a proposal in 1975, California developed amendments in 1976, and Nevada proposed a different set of amendments in 1977. In each case, these proposals were rejected.

Between 1977 and 1979, representatives of Nevada, Governor O'Callaghan and California Governor Brown began working on draft proposals to revise the Tahoe Regional Planning Compact. Prior to the 1979 Nevada Legislative Session, a special committee of 13 Nevada legislators was appointed to work with their counterparts in California in preparing revisions to the compact. The governors' draft proposal formed the starting point for the legislative negotiations. This was the first real attempt by legislators from both sides of the state line to come together and jointly work out a product.

Nevada's special legislative committee was no small-time body. I, as the outgoing speaker of the assembly, had the privilege (and sometimes the despair) of chairing the group. The incoming speaker, Paul May, was a member. Senator Jim Gibson, the Senate Majority Leader, served on the committee, as did Senator "Spike" Wilson, the Assistant Majority Leader. Senator Keith Ashworth, another ex-speaker, served along with the ranking minority senator from the area, Senator Jacobsen. Senator Joe Neal, the Chairman of the Natural Resources Committee which would process the bill from that house, was joined on the committee by Assembly Minority Leader Bob Weise, Assemblyman Sue Wagner, and Assemblyman Don Mello, who was chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means and also chairman of the Legislative Commission at the time.

The members of the special committee "rolled up their sleeves" and really worked at the problem.

During the 1979 Legislative Session, the committee met 18 times for a total of 58 hours on this one subject. The Nevada committee met with California legislators for negotiations on eight additional occasions. Thirteen redrafts of different portions of the compact exchanged sides of the state line during this 4-month period. And, the proposal was also processed through hearings before committees of both houses.

As Nevada's Legislative Session pressed toward adjournment, several substantive points had not attained final agreement. On the closing day of the Session in 1979, Nevada enacted Assembly Bill 503 without having obtained California's agreement on these points. The California Legislature rejected the Nevada bill. The frustrations and disappointment of long hours of negotiations without reward were great.

Revision of the Bi-State Compact in 1980

However, in late 1979, after some of the emotions surrounding the situation had subsided, a sentiment developed for seeing if the investments of time and energy made during the past year could be preserved.

The paramount need to develop a workable bistate compact for the Tahoe Basin remained, and the fact that significant strides had been made in that direction was evident. Senator Wilson and I began meeting with California Senator John Garamendi and Assemblyman Victor Calvo. The initial sessions were tentative in character, simply trying to decide whether additional discussions would be productive and the most positive format for future efforts.

Nevada Governor List was kept apprised of our activities from this early point. As part of the initial decision to reopen negotiations, Governor List took a position that he would call a special legislative session for revision of the compact under three conditions. He agreed that he would call the special session if the legislators from both states reached agreement, the California legislators passed the measure, and California Governor Brown signed the bill.

When it appeared that the discussions might be productive, "Spike" and I explained our activities to the Legislative Commission and received sanction to continue in an unofficial capacity. Drafts of the revisions being considered by the negotiators were distributed to all 60 Nevada legislators on two occasions for their review and comments. The Governor and his staff also reviewed the proposals and lent their support on a continuing basis.

The legislators and their support staffs met seven times and communicated in three "conference calls" during this 1980 period. Nevada representatives participated in nine "in-house meetings" with people who could provide information and recommendations. Three major work sessions for staff from the two states were also held. Fifteen different drafts of language exchanged hands during this process. I also went to Washington with Governor List and met with 13 representatives of Federal agencies involved.

In August of 1980, the California Legislature enacted the revisions to the Tahoe Regional Planning Compact. Governor Brown signed the bill, and Governor List called a Special Session of the Nevada Legislature to consider the measure. On September 12, 1980, an all-day hearing was held before the entire Nevada Legislature sitting as a special committee of the Legislative Commission. The following day, the Nevada Legislature enacted the revisions to the compact, and the bill was signed by the Governor.

Congress subsequently passed a bill to ratify the amended compact, and the President signed the measure on December 19, 1980.

The point I make again is that we Nevadans have a great investment in the Tahoe Regional Planning Compact. Its provisions were developed through years of hard work. It is not just a little law to set aside lightly.

Major Issues Through the Years

We have been faced with a large number of seemingly "unsolvable" issues as we have worked on the Tahoe situation through the years. Several components of the original 1969 compact resulted in serious controversy.

First was the dual majority voting rule—the compact required a majority vote of the board members from each state in order to take action on a matter. If the agency did not take an action within 60 days, the proposal under consideration was "deemed approved." In effect, if either state's representatives did not vote to stop a given project, it was "deemed approved" after a 60-day waiting period.

Second, the structure of the governing body proved extremely controversial.

A third major issue was location and control of gaming—gaming was a permitted use in some areas, and the dual majority voting rule ensured that three Nevada representatives could allow increased gaming without the agreement of the other Nevada members or the California representatives. Procedures were also established for reviewing major expansion of gaming floorspace within casinos.

The major point I want to make here is that a great number of seemingly "unsolvable" issues have been resolved through the years of hard work and negotiation.

Major Activities of TRPA Since 1980

So, what has happened with the TRPA since the compact was redrafted in 1980?

I would submit to you that a tremendous amount of work has been undertaken since 1980. And, I would make the understatement that this work has been surrounded by just a bit of controversy.

Just try to get a 14-member board representing diverse interests and backgrounds to agree on anything! And add to this situation pressure from state agencies, Federal mandates and interest groups from both sides of every issue. When we completed revision of the compact, we acknowledged that the governing board had the unenviable task of making it work in the real world. And, they have had their work cut out for them.

Let me briefly outline the major actions since 1980.

One of the initial tasks was revision of the regional "208" water quality management plan. The two states had employed different approaches to water quality management in the past, and these differences had to be reconciled. Revision of the "208" plan was the first time that restrictions on construction of single-family residences really became a major issue.

The Bi-State Compact also called for adoption of environmental threshold carrying capacities. The standards were to define the carrying capacities of the basin and form the basis for future planning. After a great deal of debate, the record indicates that the environmental threshold carrying capacities were adopted on August 26, 1982.

The TRPA then began working on revision of the master plan for the region. Any of you who have worked around local governments know the amount of effort and dispute that are associated with revision of a local master plan. Well, multiply that by 10 or 20 times, and you will see the magnitude of the effort on a regional basis in an area like the Tahoe Basin.

The process of attempting to develop a concensus of support for the new regional plan was tremendously controversial. The deadline came and went. A lawsuit was filed against the agency for missing the deadline. Another lawsuit claimed violation of the open meeting law when some members of the board were discussing ways to try to overcome the obstacles. The major issue again was construction of single-family residences in "high hazard" and "stream environment" zones.

However, after much debate, on April 16, 1984, the Board unanimously voted to approve a new regional plan. I personally was not pleased with the restrictions placed upon single-family residences. But the conclusion remains that the Board did fight through the obstacles and adopt the new plan unanimously. An independent assessment of the TRPA'S program was recently commissioned by the local governments in the Basin. The nationally renowned "Urban Land Institute" was retained to perform the analysis. They concluded that the TRPA should be retained as the best approach for managing the Basin.

The point I want to make with this discussion is that the TRPA has worked hard and has functioned since 1980. The Agency has resolved another batch of the "unsolvable" issues. It is the "best game in town."

Recent Litigation

On the same day that the new regional plan was adopted, the California Attorney General and the League to Save Lake Tahoe filed suit against the TRPA claiming that the plan and its associated ordinances do not adequately protect the environment within the Basin. Their major concern is construction of single-family residences in "high hazard" and "stream environment" zones.

Soon afterward, the Tahoe-Sierra Preservation Council filed suits against the TRPA and the states of California and Nevada in Federal District Courts in the two states. These suits, listing 779 Tahoe property owners as plaintiffs, contend that the regional plan's limitations on development are unduly severe and that the review process restricts the property owners' right to appeal TRPA decisions.

So, after the new plan was adopted, lawsuits challenging its adequacy were filed by people who contend it does not sufficiently protect the environment and by property owners who contend that it unduly restricts their development opportunities.

Let me say that it appalls me to see the State of California suing itself. And it bothers me to see that both sides of the issue feel it necessary to enter litigation against a plan that the large Board adopted unanimously.

But, let's cut through to the heart of this thing. Both sides are primarily concerned about one issue—construction of single-family residences. Neither one is arguing too much about transportation planning, air quality, multi-family structures, gaming expansion or even commercial development. The basics of these issues have been resolved for the most part. We are left with one single major "unsolvable" issue at Lake Tahoe. That is the quantity and location of future single-family residences in the Basin. It is a major issue, and I do not mean to minimize its significance—both to the lot owners and to the conservationists. But it is only one issue!

Through the years we have resolved 20 or 30 major "unsolvable" issues ranging from voting structure to gaming control to transportation districts. I cannot believe we are considering abolishing the program when we are down to one final major obstacle.

The Urban Land Institute acknowledged this as a major issue. But, rather than recommending abolishment of the Agency, they conclude that "this problem could and should be solved."

And steps are being taken to work toward this resolution.

The Federal Santini-Burton Law has provided many lot owners in sensitive areas a way of recovering their money. The $85 million California bond program for purchase of sensitive lands is also scheduled to become active this year.

The TRPA Board has also been working to settle the court cases. The goal is to reach a settlement which retains the basic structure of the adopted regional plan and allows building during the upcoming construction season. Tentative proposals would allow virtually the same number of single-family residences to be built over the next 5 years as are provided for in the regional plan. Applications which are already within the process would receive first priority. And, a proposal is being discussed which would allow owners of lots in sensitive areas to trade for developable lots on a two for one basis. In order to keep the lot values in sensitive areas up, the owner could trade his development right on a site for the rights to develop two lots in a nonsensitive area. Again, the Urban Land Institute endorsed this approach as part of the way to resolve the issue.

But, what is the major point here? The major point is that we have reached the position where we are down to a single, but "unsolvable" issue. We have resolved the other "unsolvables," and this single issue can also be solved.

Ramifications of Abolishing TRPA

I want to take just another minute to talk about what happens if we pull out of the bistate compact.

I will not give you "hard-and-fast" horror stories about what will happen if we pull out of the bistate effort. However, there are a magnitude of uncertainties involved. First of all, the Nevada TRPA would have to staff up before they could do any planning, change any ordinances or review any projects. Putting together the relatively large staff which would be necessary would take a considerable time.

By Nevada Law, the adopted plan and the previous ordinances of the TRPA would become effective for the Nevada TRPA. The status of the current litigation is uncertain. But, it is relatively assured that suits would be filed against the NTRPA immediately, and injunctions would be issued stopping all activity at the Lake until the new body "gets its act together." The new agency would immediately be in the same or worse court problems than the bistate agency has.

There is also a reasonably good chance that California would file suit against the new agency based upon the interstate nature of the environmental issues. They would seek original jurisdiction in the United States Supreme Court, and we would be tied up with absolutely no activity in the Basin for years while the Supreme Court tries to find time to resolve the turmoil.

The status of Federally approved plans like the "208" Water Quality Plan would be uncertain, and the courts would immediately be asked to determine if their earlier rulings concerning the bistate agency apply to the Nevada regional body.

I am not suggesting that the world would cave in if we pull out of the bistate compact, but there are tremendous uncertainties. And one thing appears clear to me, a pullout would lengthen the whole process greatly, and we would have to fight many of the old battles all over again, whether in court or in the legislative halls.

We have reached a point where the issues have come to a joining. The resolution is as eminent as it is ever going to get. Pulling out of the bistate effort and starting over will only take us backward. We will give up the gains that have brought us over a 20-year period to the point of resolving the final major issue facing the Tahoe Basin.

Excerpt from letter from Senator Laxalt—"I have long felt that the bi-state cooperative approach to preserving scenic resources of the Lake Tahoe Basin was the most effective and appropriate approach to this very difficult problem. I am not convinced than an alternative to the bi-state approach would be any more effective or acceptable and could involve much more restrictive federal involvement."

Recap of Major Points and Conclusion

Let me recap my major points for you in a concise manner.

First, we have a lot invested in the Tahoe Regional Planning Compact. It has not come easily, but through years of hard work and negotiation.

Second, a great number of seemingly "unsolvable" issues have been resolved through the years.

Third, the TRPA itself has made significant planning strides in the face of constant controversy.

Fourth, and possibly most significant, we are down to the point of having only one major, apparently "unsolvable" issue left to tackle, and this single issue can also be solved.

If we pull out of the bi-state compact, we will move back into the maze and confusion. We have resolved too many issues to admit defeat and let our inability to "hang in there" cause us to lose the chance to overcome this last major obstacle.

During the 1980 Special Session, the senior Republican Senator and Statesman, Carl Dodge, made a couple of statements which are relevant here as well. He pointed out that the senior legislators had been working on Tahoe questions every session since their original elections. He outlined in some depth how that even the senior legislators from outside Northern Nevada knew the history and the issues like a familiar story.

I, too, as a senior legislator, want you exceptionally bright and dedicated younger representatives to be aware of what has gone on before you.

The Bi-State TRPA Compact is not just another little law to set aside lightly.

Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, my compliments to the distinguished minority leader for his bibliographic description of the high jinx that have taken place up in our Tahoe Basin, as he told us about the creation of the complex machine known as the TRPA. You know, often you need to watch a machine try to work before you decide whether it is doing its job and when it works badly, I believe it is time to seek other alternatives. Anyone traveling through the Tahoe Basin can tell the difference between most of California and most of Nevada. It's not just the border locations that tell you that. Nevada construction is newer, and generally of higher quality,with more architectural controls in evidence. Nevada's basin residents are fewer and often higher socioeconomic groups. Nevada's side of the Lake contains a higher proportion of lands open to the public; Nevada's runoff problems are fewer; more mitigation is in evidence. Suits directed against the TRPA, with only a few exceptions, deal with mostly California problems, and the opinions of California judges impact on the whole basin, regardless of whether the problems lie strictly in California. It is time now to distrust, discuss and address the problem of those areas that both California and Nevada need to address, but it is also necessary to address those areas that are the property of the individual states, and to look at those problems that are strictly the area of influence of local government. TRPA, on the other hand rides roughshod over municipal, county, and state borders in most areas of influence without being representative of those areas. This bill, for almost the first time, addresses those differences. We need to bring these issues into the open and to frankly address them. Now what is being done under the TRPA guise, saving the Lake, something all basic residents in the basin wish to do, with almost no exceptions, has not been fair and may not even be totally constitutional. Now we need to seek actively a more equitable way. A.B. 59 is just such a way. It may be an end product, but I judge it to be only a beginning, an approach to the problem of giving equal consideration to both Lake Tahoe and to the people living in and visiting the Tahoe Basin. Thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYMAN SCHOFIELD:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. I just want to say that I think that many of the comments that Mr. Nicholas made are factual. There is a large problem up there. My problem with passing a bill out like this is totally dissolving yourself from a compact and not having something in its place or a direction to go; or questions answered concerning the litigations that are involved, questions like the one that came up this morning for instance. I am not sure what the answer is, but can, in fact, the State of Nevada unilaterally pull out of this compact. There are two particular facets of legal opinions on this, I'm sure, and would this, in fact, take us back into a court problem; would it, in fact, have to go back to be ratified by Congress. These questions are the ones that bother me concerning this particular problem. I think the fact that we do not have a direction to go in pulling out of this is a problem. I have always been a firm believer that you could sit down and negotiate or discuss something if you have two people that have problems, and somehow or another, maybe it won't be the best of both worlds for each of you, but it might be something that can be acceptable to each of you that you can live with. The TRPA, in my opinion again, is on the brink of being able to make that kind of approach. So I rise in total opposition, as far as Assembly Bill 59 is concerned, to pulling out of the compact without having any other direction. I urge every one of you to search your mind and come up with the vote that you feel is most appropriate to take care of the people and their particular product, which is Lake Tahoe.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you Mr. Speaker, distinguished colleagues. We have heard considerable rhetoric with regard to the subject before us. We have heard about acting responsibly; we have heard from one of our senior colleagues about what he feels is the major issue at hand. I would like to suggest to all of us and bring pointedly to our minds the major issue, the primary issue that confronts us here. And I would like to do that, if I may, by bringing to us some counsel from John Adams, one of our founders, who had a message for each of us: "Posterity, you will never know how much it cost the present generation to preserve your freedom. I hope you will make good use of it. If you do not, I shall repent it in Heaven that I ever took half the pains to preserve it." Ladies and gentlemen, we received a preponderance of testimony in the Government Affairs Committee with regard to the realities of what has taken place over the past fifteen or so years, in an effort to and under the guise of saving a national treasure. That testimony and its ramifications indicated to me and many of my colleagues that, in fact, we have had over that period of time, a situation of undisputed demagoguery and despotism. We never received one bit of testimony from a member of that board, the TRPA, nor to my knowledge did any of them even attend those hearings to tell us how they were going to improve. But we received great evidences of misuse of authority, of restraint, of guaranteed rights and privileges. The issue before us is not whether or not we want to save Lake Tahoe. I don't think there is anyone here that does not desire that end. The real issue is, can we continue to allow the perpetration of that despotism upon the citizens of our state, whom we are sworn to uphold and protect. Each of us stood in these Chambers and took an oath of office. We swore on that oath that we uphold the principles of the Constitution of this great country and the Constitution of this great state. May I suggest to you that a vote against A.B. 59 on this day flies in the face of that oath. On this rationale, it is a vote to continue that tyranny. It is a vote to allow that board that has continued over the past years that type of approach to our citizenry and has made absolutely no indication of change or desired improvement. So, my colleagues, will you consider, as you ponder in your heart, the real issue that we have before us, and in all good conscience make your vote in that perspective. For if you don't, you have disenfranchised your constituents and the citizens of this state. Thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

Mr. Speaker, I have served in six regular sessions and one special session of this legislature that has dealt with issues concerning TRPA. In fact, I look forward to the session when we are not dealing with TRPA, when the compact is working as it should be and when the local people that should be making those decisions are making them, and we are not trying to do it for them in this body. As an individual, I too am concerned about property rights, and as a construction worker, I would like to see development at the Lake or anywhere else in the state. I think that this is one time that I have to come down on the side of the environmentalists over the developers. The problem that I see, the overall concern is that, whether any of us like it or not, Lake Tahoe is viewed as a national treasure. I am much more concerned about the possible Federal intervention than I am the disputes that have been going on within TRPA though the years that I have been here, and through, hopefully, not much more time to come. The first session or two that I heard this issue, I was like some others that I won't name, but I think I shared the same sentiment. I felt that this was an issue that those of us in Clark County were probably better left out of. In fact, I was a member of the committee that Mr. Price talked about that passed a bill out of committee to abolish the TRPA. That was short-lived. I bought the argument that the overriding concern was the individual property rights, and I still feel that way. But I think we need to consider what may happen if we do pull out. First of all, I am not sure that we can; I have a tendency to agree with Mr. Schofield on that point. But if the Feds do intervene at the Lake, I am concerned what will happen to the people that have an investment there at the present time. If you believe that the Feds are going to be fair with the property owners at Lake Tahoe, you might talk to some of the people in Las Vegas that have been recently displaced by the freeway and learn some of the condemnation procedures that take place. I am also concerned about gaming interests, jobs and revenue that may be displaced in Northern Nevada and in the state as a whole. I know of one case in Clark County years ago, where there was one piece of property on Lake Mead that was in private ownership. The Feds took care of that in pretty short order, to see to it that there could be no gambling in that national reservation. I don't think that there's going to be much appetite for gambling in a national park. In my view the compact makes sense. It provides for orderly development and, I think, it is incumbent upon us to do what we can to see that the compact does work the way it was drafted.

ASSEMBLYMAN MCGAUGHEY:

Thank you Mr. Speaker pro Tem and to my colleagues. The Tahoe Regional Planning Agency has been used as a tool by the few that live there, and it has trampled and ignored the property rights of the many. Property rights are fundamental to the fabric of our nation and the citizens of Nevada. The Tahoe Regional Planning Agency hasn't worked since its inception eighteen years ago; it is not working today, and I don't believe that it will ever work. The citizens of the State of Nevada are fully capable of managing the land in the State of Nevada and preserving the beauty of Lake Tahoe. We have heard today that if we pull out of the TRPA, all these great terrible things are going to happen to us, and I don't believe that. If I am reading what has been said, we are implying that the people of Nevada are unable to take care of our own state, our own property, and that the State of Nevada is not concerned with the beauty of Lake Tahoe, and I don't agree with that. I think that the people who live there, the people who own land there, and the rest of us are concerned about preserving Lake Tahoe, and the people of this state can well take care of it. We don't need California filing suits or other interested people filing suits to keep us from moving forward. I think it is time, or past the time, to get rid of an agency that is absolutely dictatorial in the way it treats the people, and if it can't work in eighteen years, when is it ever going to work. If you had a business that was losing money for eighteen years, wouldn't you close the doors and shut it down? Anything that is unproductive, it is time, today, to do something about it, and to delay the decision to a future legislature, I think, is trying to pass our responsibilities on to the future. What is wrong with us standing today and doing something in the best interest of our state and the Tahoe Basin? Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN CRADDOCK:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. I am, too, acutely sensitive to the rights of the property owners in the Tahoe Basin. Over the years, right or wrong, I have been convinced that, if left to operate alone, local government could and likely would create an ecological imbalance in the basin. If that should happen, the property owners could not possibly enjoy what they had envisioned when they bought their property. We should be thankful today that we have an equal but separate partner on this monumental problem of resolving the issues at Lake Tahoe; that's the judicial branch. Before we can justifiably say that property rights have been denied, we must first consider the fact that due process is also a constitutional requirement that has not been met, that is also a constitutional right in my understanding. If we can get by that hurdle to where we feel that due process has in fact been met, then I will recognize that possibly property rights have been transgressed upon, but I feel that is prerequisite to recognizing any violation of property rights. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN FRANCIS:

Thank you Mr. Speaker pro Tem. I will make my remarks brief. Before the session began, I had an open mind on the TRPA. I, like everyone else in this Chamber, received literature from The League to Save Lake Tahoe, and I came to Carson City with an open mind; I wanted to find out more about the situation. Through the proceedings of A.B. 59, I found out what was going on. I listened objectively with interest as an observer in the committee hearings; I've listened to many of my colleagues' pros and cons. And what I found out is, yes, there is another side to this issue. One group of that side that calls itself The League to Steal Lake Tahoe for themselves. It has become clear to me that what has happened to the property owners at Lake Tahoe is a real American tragedy. Ideals and values that are so fundamental to our country, and rights of property ownership have been foresaken here for some reason. It is more than obvious to me that the TRPA has overstepped its authority. For a state like Nevada and its citizens, which are so proud of their independence and lifestyle, to allow this agency in California to abuse our citizens, is wrong; I think it's immoral and it is time to stop it. I think we need to support the constitutional rights of the citizens of our state and support this measure. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON:

Thank you Mr. Speaker pro Tem. As a member of Government Affairs, I too, along with Mr. Horne, listened to lengthy discussions on this issue. It is unfortunate that the bond issue failed last time and that these people's property couldn't have been bought out, but I think that the bottom line of the whole thing is the preservation of Lake Tahoe. I think that none of the property owners there would purposely do anything to harm the lake; however, I think overdevelopment would. I am for property rights; I think that's one of the dearest things to most people here. I certainly don't, and I don't think anyone in this building knows the answer to the problem at the lake, and I think that is a big part of this bill. If we pull out today and at some point in the future we decide that the only way we can restore the preservation of the lake is to come back into a bi-state compact, then what are we going to come back to. I would agree with Mr. Schofield's idea of an interim study committee on this matter. There have been problems at the lake and I can sympathize with Mr. Bergevin and Mr. Nicholas. I think they have been honest in their endeavors to do something about the problem, but I personally don't feel the pullout is right at this time. I would favor a study committee to see if there is something we can do with California. I don't think there is any doubt that Nevada has done a better job of managing the lake, but I just don't think the pullout is the answer at this time.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to this body, I rise to speak in favor of A.B. 59. When the TRPA was functioning, it usually did so in an arbitrary and capricious manner, but the TRPA is an agency which is no longer functioning as a governmental entity under a bi-state agreement. Instead, the federal courts effectively control that basin. Mr. Dini and others have outlined through a long history, a long history of cooperation, where Nevada has usually gone the extra mile. The time has come for the State of Nevada to pay attention to its own citizens from the basin, to allow those citizens in this state to move forward in the responsible way that I know they will move. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. I agree with Mr. Thompson's comment that the purpose of the TRPA, and we are both on the same side by the way, was not only to save Lake Tahoe, but it was also to protect the rights and the value of the property of the people around Lake Tahoe; to keep it from becoming some type of a future ghetto that was overbuilt, with air that you could not breathe and water you could not drink. Over the years I have listened to both sides, and I have to admit, like Mr. Jeffrey, I tended to feel that it was a northern problem even though I recognized that the lake is one of the most beautiful and certainly a treasure, as it has been called. In the final analysis, when we come together meeting as a state legislature, we do try and represent the best interests of our state and not just of, in my case, North Las Vegas or Clark County, or whatever. So occasionally we are forced into making decisions with impacts that are much larger than just the area we represent. Yesterday I spoke with the executive director of the Keep Lake Tahoe Blue organization, who are the people who filed the lawsuit immediately following the adoption of the plan, and their intentions, I am sure, are good, but it gets exasperating for the TRPA, but so did the other side file a lawsuit. I said, could you outline for me some things that would be positive that the compact has done. I believe the positive accomplishments that are listed here are probably over the last four years; I am not sure that it goes all the way back to fifteen years, because you have to remember that the whole ballgame changed in 1980 when we reorganized the whole thing. They have developed a plan that was adopted, even though it was not within the eighteen months that we set by statute, that set environmental thresholds. They have spent some $15 million in erosion control projects on Kingsbury Grade, Aspen Valley, Fairview Drive, Spooner erosion, etc. The list indicates that there has been $10 million of matching local money to state funding, etc. over the years, and they have quite a list of accomplishments. On the back page, if this says what I think it says, in my opinion it gives me reason to think about what might happen if there is a pull-out and if somehow development does go unrestricted. It says here "reduced Lake Tahoe's build up from 800,000 homes and commercial businesses, under the then local zoning, to 150,000 projects." I am not sure what I think that lake would look like if we had 800,000 commercial and residential properties, in addition to what is already there, but it would give me some concern. There has been a lot of talk about property rights, and I, like Jack, as most of you know, am an electrician who has spent my entire life working in construction, except for the last two or three years, since I started trying to sell real estate. As a realtor I have a great interest in property rights and in people's rights, and as a legislator, I try to look at both sides of an issue fairly. Now anyone, builder or otherwise, that tries to lead us to believe that simply because you own a piece of property you can do anything you want to with it, and if you can't, your constitutional rights are being denied, is way off base. You could not go to Second and Fremont in downtown Las Vegas and put up a little house, because building, planning and zoning will not allow you to do it. You can holler about your rights as a property owner all the way to the Supreme Court of the United States, but you are not going to build a little house in downtown Las Vegas. For those of you that are from Las Vegas, in that area you may remember that it is pretty hard to build a psychiatric hospital next to a grade school. Those people that wanted to build that psychiatric hospital had a lot more going for them than some of us. An individual or a corporation or a developer or, unfortunately, sometimes just some of the plain ordinary people buy or inherit a piece of property that they can develop (I've heard some real horror stories up at Lake Tahoe, and I really feel for those people). But, just because you own that piece of property, does not necessarily guarantee that you will make a profit by selling it later on, or that you will be able to put your child through school by selling it, or in some cases even, you can build just a summertime home. Now another thing, although I don't think that we need to wait to resolve this problem until every last lawsuit is resolved, the truth is, there have been no lawsuits that have followed the due process through the courts all the way to the final resolve, which unfortunately sometimes may be a Supreme Court somewhere. But we are being asked to come into the middle of some of these lawsuits, while I don't really mind if I have to, but I would prefer the type of limits talked about in the amendment that is behind us. I think that if we have this machine that we have had for eighteen years that we completely overhauled four years ago, if that machine is not working to the capacity that it should be, but if it has been working, then perhaps we should take it in and have it repaired rather than throwing it away. With all of those millions of dollars and all of those millions of hours that people have put in trying to make this unique pact work, maybe, just maybe, we should take it in for an overhaul.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Yes, Mr. Speaker. I will be brief too, because we have all been sitting a long time. I am one of the legislators that sat with Mr. Dini over the years, through the trials and tribulations of the problems of Lake Tahoe. I sat here at the Special Session in 1980, and I am sure Mr. Dini recalls the letter of intent. We were all concerned at that, about the property rights of the individual lot owners, which was one of the prime concerns of that special session. Many of us voted reluctantly to go into a bi-state compact having feared to build and enjoy that lot and now finding themselves hopelessly entangled in the problems of the TRPA. Assemblyman Price made the statement that if it doesn't work, let's repair it. Mr. Price, you can't repair it. It's a bi-state compact and we would have to go back to square one to repair it. What we have we have to live with or pull out. I firmly believe that that is the route to go. I would also like to state that I have a possible conflict of interest in this bill. But I'm going to vote for it anyway because I'm going to vote for the other 11,999 people up there.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

I, too, rise in support of AB 59. As I listen to this dialogue today I can't help but be somewhat amused by how roles somehow get reversed. My Democratic colleagues, generally speaking, don't fear federal intervention in most areas. A lot of federal programs that have been instigated in the last 25 years have certainly been instigated by Democratic administrations. We Republicans, on the other hand, traditionally resist every possible encroachment of the "feds". If the Federal Government does intervene in Lake Tahoe, what is the first thing they will likely do? They will probably either allow people to develop their land or they would probably buy those lots. If they bought the lots, they would probably pay a more fair price than has been offered to date. The second thing they would probably do is lower the level of the lake about 3 feet which would produce about 300,000 acre feet of water which would go down the Truckee. I don't think that would make the Paiute Indians too unhappy. I don't think it would make our agricultural interests too unhappy. I think even Carson City might be eligible for a little bit of that water because we are after all a lakeside community. Lowering the lake would produce hundreds of feet of beach all around the lake. That beach would be open to the public and I can't think of any of my Democratic colleagues in here who would be opposed to having all that public beach. I guess I'm confused, Mr. Speaker, where does an alien go to register?

ASSEMBLYMAN ROBERTS:

Mr. Price, I would like you to know that in Las Vegas it is zoned and you can build on it. We did have an opportunity to have an oversight committee. As a matter of fact, it was the first thing we voted on. It obviously failed. If we had the oversight committee, I don't think we would be in the position we are in now. The TRPA hasn't provided any tax relief. They haven't provided any fair compensation for property owners. This is not just big developers, it is "mom and pop" who have invested in a country home or someplace to retire. They don't have that opportunity at this time. It has definitely hurt the construction industry, the union members, and the casino employees who cannot live in the area because of lack of housing. We also have to remember that the folks from Clark County defeated a $20 million bond for TRPA. So far as I'm concerned Clark County has spoken and I ask this body to support AB 59.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

My colleague, Mr. Price, spoke of a type of restriction. None of us is naive enough to think that those are the types of restrictions that are being perpetrated at Lake Tahoe. His comment to me after visting Elk Point was that he could see no reason why those people were being restricted from building at that particular site. I have a message for Mr. Price and Mr. Craddock from Thomas Jefferson: "It is very dangerous doctrine to consider the judges as the ultimate arbiters of all constitutional questions. It is one which would place us under the despotism of an oligarchy".

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

I would like to comment on Mr. Price's comparison of building a house in downtown Las Vegas versus Lake Tahoe. The places we are talking about in Lake Tahoe are approved subdivisions by an elected body of county government which approved these lots for construction many years ago. These people are presently paying sewer and utility fees and taxes on the full cash value of those properties as dictated by the county assessor. Still TRPA tells them they cannnot build. There is not any realm of looking at one versus the other. Secondly, there has been a question raised as to the legality of the NTRPA. Mr. Daykin has assured me that we are on absolute legally sound ground in what we are doing.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

My point was this. Obviously, I recognize the difference between a planning commission and a zone change. But the point is beyond that. If this legislature creates an agency who has the power to determine when and to what level of standards you must meet to build, and they exercise that power, it is not necessarily unconstitutional. Those before us purposely created that power because we perceived that there was a problem at the lake. The final result is the same. You do, in fact, have to meet certain criteria before you can build. That is further complicated by the litigation that has been filed. The TRPA has been working on that litigation.

Last week I took one of my days off and sat in on six hours of hearings on negotiations betweeen the attorneys representing California and the League to Save Lake Tahoe and the TRPA. I found it extremely interesting. I could see there were a lot of people there trying their best, as we are trying to do our best, to do the job as they see it. In the case of TRPA, I believe their general understanding is that they are supposed to try and preserve that lake as an excellent environment to live in along with protecting to a high degree the rights of the people who own property and the developers. I know that is a tough position to be in.

I rose because I was mentioned twice and I wanted you to recognize that I know the difference between a zoning and a planning commission in a city or county. My point was that we can create agencies who have broad powers over our ability to build on the property that we own.

ASSEMBLYMAN SWAIN:

I am informed that I have a technical conflict because I do own property at Lake Tahoe. I would just like to tell you that I do own property and will be voting against this bill and it would not benefit me in any way.

Conflicts of interest declared by Assemblymen Getto and Swain.

Remarks by Assemblymen Jeffrey, Arberry, Thomas, DuBois, O'Donnell, Collins, and Rader.

Assemblyman Sedway requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

S.B. 58 adds the African Development Bank to a list of 12 other investments that are possible investments for insurance companies doing business in the state as well as SIIS. The foreign banks on the list are the Asian Development Bank and the Inter-American Development Bank. The African Development Bank is the leading international financial institution on the continent of Africa. They finance infrastructure projects, industrial and agricultural projects. Each government that has a loan engages its full faith and credit to repay the loan. In 1983, the United States, along with 21 other nations, also joined the African Development Bank as a member. The bank is composed of all African countries excluding South Africa. The United States, Japan and nearly every other industrial country in Europe, excluding most Communist countries, are members. The reason the United States joined was because we have $11 billion in goods that we sell in Africa every year thus increasing the opportunities for American businessmen in Africa.

There has never been a default, rescheduling or rollover of a loan made by this bank. The bank sells bonds at approximately one point above the market rate. They have been successful over the years as far as their investments are concerned. In the various states where they have had legislation introduced, each state has approved insurance companies to do business with this bank. There are some other states that were not approached.

I think the statement made in the Assembly Commerce Committee was one of the overriding concerns that I had and the major reason for the United States to become a member of the African Development Bank was that it was the only financial institution that was driving African countries to a free market economy.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

I have three reasons why we should be in favor of this bill. First, the bill would allow, but in no instance require, an institution to purchase securities from the bank. In other words, the bank's securities would be evaluated in the same way that other investment opportunities would be evaluated; based on the bank's performance, security yields, and credit and worthiness of the institution. This is the basis for which insurance companies or the State Industrial Insurance System must make their decision.

Secondly, authorities to invest in the obligation of the World Bank, Inter-American Development Bank and the Asian Development Bank already exist for insurance companies. The same authorities also exist for the State Industrial Insurance System regarding the World Bank and the Inter-American Development Bank.

Thirdly, the bank, like any other authority investments which were listed in this bill, would assess the insurance companies in the state system based on performance. If the American Development Bank ever stopped being attractive, investment of this bill would not restrict any divestiture.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

I rise in opposition of this bill. I think we ought to call attention to the fact that this bill passed a 13 member committee by one vote. Now, it's true the bill does not require anybody to invest in the African Development Bank. It does, however, legitimatize this bank to the extent that SIIS and other insurance companies in the State of Nevada can, for the first time, invest in this bank.

My problem is the fact that members of this bank include Ethiopia, who seems to be more interested in aerobics than feeding their people; Chad, Angola and even our good friend, Colonel Khadafy from Lybia. Somehow I just can't back any kind of legislation that puts us in partnership with people who have persecuted their own people, Jews and anybody else to a greater extent than anyone else has. That is why I am in opposition to this bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN DUBOIS:

It is true that this passed the committee by the minimum of seven votes but there were two absent during that vote. I rise in support of the bill because in addition to what we export to Africa we also import approximately $27 billion in goods and in minerals, many of which are precious metals that are absolutely necessary for the national security of this country. I think it is a little narrow-minded and parochial on our part to exclude one particular part of the world, this being the only development banking institution that we have not recognized in this state. I think we need to recognize the tremendous need we have, particularly in developing free trade and in developing what we believe in this country, which is a free market system of doing business.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

I would like to point out that the United States is the largest backer of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund. We have loaned money through these agencies to African nations, with the possible exception of Lybia. I don't think we can be called parochial.

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

I don't claim to be an expert in foreign affairs but I would like to say that the United States is already a partner in the African Development Bank. I have found over the years that the people that are the easiest prey to Communism are those people without hope. This bank finances infrastructure development and agriculture development that these developing countries need in order to provide food and employment for their people. I see no reason why the State of Nevada should not follow suit with the United States Government in becoming a partner in this operation.

ASSEMBLYMAN O'DONNELL:

We have had some altercations with some of our financial institutions in the past here in the state. I would like to ask if this particular bank is federally insured or is the money that SIIS would invest going to be federally insured?

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

I really can't answer that question. I doubt that an African Development Bank would fall under the FDIC in this country. However, the bonds are sold at one point over the market rate and, as I stated previously, they have never had a default. I think in this case, investors are very sophisticated—not "widows and orphans" or individual people investing in a bank. These are insurance companies and other banks that are doing business with the World Bank. They weigh the speculativeness of those investments as they are being made.

ASSEMBLYMAN COLLINS:

I voiced my opposition to this bill in the committee hearing. I am adamantly opposed to this bill because I find it very difficult for us to have "pros and cons" of a bill with less magnitude than the bill to make Martin Luther King, Jr.'s birthday a holiday.

How can we do business with foreign countries, like Lybia, that kill our young men? I refer to the statement Mr. Khadafy made a few days ago to our young men in the Armed Forces, "Desert the Armed Forces and turn on America". I find it very difficult that we should debate the validity of this bill. There are those of us who wish to go on record in support of this and those of us who wish to go on record in opposition. It's difficult to return to our constituents and say, "I voted in favor of the State Industrial Insurance System to loan money to foreign banks that will buy artillery to shoot our young men". On the other hand, if there are those of us who think we will not be judged by our actions, let our actions speak the way in which we vote.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

I am standing on behalf of the African Bank. I would like to make the statement that since this bank's inception in 1963 there has never been a default on any loan nor has it rescheduled a rollover of any loan. The bank's bond rating is triple A.

ASSEMBLYMAN RADER:

I speak against this bill using the argument my colleague used against the bill proposing the "high frontier" defense system that our business is to address the needs of the state and not to get involved with international banking issues.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

Mr. Arberry's statement was correct that the African Bank has never had a default and has an excellent credit rating. I would also like to point out that all of these loans are guaranteed by the United States Government.

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

I would like to point out again that the United States Government is already a partner in this bank.

ASSEMBLYMAN DUBOIS:

I fully agree with Mr. Collins in regard to Khadafy and Lybia. However, if in some small way adding the African Development Bank to our list of investments will help all the other nations in Africa in a free market and trade situation, then that will certainly help to contain people like Khadafy which feed upon weak countries.

ASSEMBLYMAN COLLINS:

I ask the question, "What will this bill do for the constituents of the country?" The answer that we receive is not the answer I was seeking. If the bill is not going to do anything for the country and the individuals residing there, passing this bill would not do one thing that cannot be done now.

Assemblymen Roberts, Craddock and DuBois moved the previous question.

Motion carried.

Assemblyman Dini moved that Senate Bill No. 63 be taken from the Chief Clerk's desk and placed on the General File for the next legislative day.

Motion carried.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Bilyeu's remarks be entered in the Journal.

MOBILE/MANUFACTURED HOUSING WEEK

Mobile/manufactured housing has developed as a major source of housing in Nevada and the Nation, and one-third of all new homes sold in the United States last year were manufactured.

Many millions of American citizens now live in manufactured homes, and in Nevada a significant portion of the dwelling units are manufactured homes.

Nevada ranks fourth highest among all states in the percentage of manufactured homes. Modern production materials and techniques are producing manufactured homes that are visually compatible with site built homes.

As we enter an era of greatly expanded economic growth and development, it is appropriate that we encourage a housing mode that is becoming more and more necessary to supply the needs of our citizens. Manufactured housing has made great strides in creating this alternative to other forms of housing.

The Nevada Legislature, recognizing the importance of manufactured homes in Nevada, has authorized the temporary installation of a demonstration manufactured home on its legislative mall.

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Horne's remarks be entered in the Journal.

We do have some possibly significant words from Thomas Payne: "A thing moderately good is not so good as it ought to be. Moderation in temper is always a virtue, but moderation in principle is always a vice."

THE FORTY-FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), March 5, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Gene Collins.

Father, God, once again we would like to thank You for allowing us to assemble in these halls today, for we know without Your blessing we would not be able to attend this session. Once again, we would like Your blessings as we debate one another, knowing we are trying to do the best job possible—the job we were sent here to do by our different constituents throughout the state. We know that if Your arms are not around us, we will not be able to do this. We ask these blessings in Your Name. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 2 as section 3 and adding a new section designated section 2, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. NRS 534.050 is hereby amended to read as follows:

534.050 1. Except as provided in subsection 2, every person desiring to sink or bore a well in any basin or portion therein in the state designated by the state engineer, as provided for in this chapter shall first make application to and obtain from the state engineer a permit to appropriate the water, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 533 of NRS relating to the appropriation of the public waters, before performing any work in connection with the boring or sinking of the well.

2. Upon written application and a showing of good cause, the state engineer may issue a written waiver of the requirements of subsection 1 for exploratory wells to be drilled to determine the availability of water or the quality of available water [.] , and may allow temporary use of the water in constructing a highway or in drilling a well to explore for oil, gas, hot water or minerals.

3. In other basins or portions of basins which have not been designated by the state engineer no application or permit to appropriate water is necessary until after the well is sunk or bored and water developed. Before any diversion of water may be made from the well, the appropriator must make application to and obtain from the state engineer, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 533 of NRS, a permit to appropriate the water.

4. Upon written application and a showing of good cause, the state engineer may issue a written waiver of the requirements of subsection 3, to allow use of water in constructing a highway or in drilling a well for gas, oil or hot water.

5. Any person using water after a permit has been withdrawn, denied, canceled, revoked or forfeited is guilty of a misdemeanor. Each day of violation of this subsection constitutes a separate offense and is separately punishable.".

"Section 1. NRS 482.377 is hereby amended to read as follows:

482.377 1. A person who qualifies under this section may register one passenger car or light commercial vehicle having a manufacturer's rated carrying capacity of one ton or less, for his own personal use. A veteran of the Armed Forces of the United States who, as a result of his service:

(a) Has suffered a [100-percent service-connected] total disability and who receives compensation from the United States for his disability, is entitled to a specially designed license plate inscribed with the words DISABLED VETERAN and three or four consecutive numbers.

(b) Has been captured and held prisoner by a military force of a foreign nation, is entitled to a specially designed license plate inscribed with the words ex-PRISONER OF WAR and three or four consecutive numbers.

2. The department shall issue a specially designed license plate for persons qualified under this section who submit an application on a form prescribed by the department and evidence of disability or former imprisonment required by the department.

3. A vehicle on which license plates issued by the department under the provisions of this section are displayed is exempt from the payment of any parking fees, including those collected through parking meters, charged by the state or any political subdivision or other public body within the state, other than the United States.

4. If during a registration year, the holder of a special plate issued under the provisions of this section disposes of the vehicle to which the plates are affixed, he shall retain the plates and:

(a) Affix them to another vehicle which meets the requirements of this section and report the change to the department in accordance with the procedure set forth for other transfers; or

(b) Within 30 days after removing the plates from the vehicle, return them to the department.

5. If the special plates provided for under this section are lost, stolen or mutilated, the owner of the vehicle may secure a set of replacement license plates from the department for a fee of $2.".

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 134.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 through 5 and inserting:

"Section 1. NRS 380.110 is hereby amended to read as follows:

380.110 1. [Any] Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, any ordinance of a board of county commissioners establishing a law library under the provisions of this chapter must require that, from the fees received by the county clerk pursuant to chapter 19 of NRS, a sum established by the ordinance, not exceeding $30 in any case, must be allocated by the county clerk to a fund designated as the law library fund. These allocations may be made from the fees collected by the county clerk for the commencement in or removal to the district court of the county of any civil action, proceeding or appeal, on filing the first paper therein, or from the fees collected by the county clerk for the appearance of any defendant, or any number of defendants, answering jointly or separately, or from both of these sources as may be determined by the ordinance.

2. All money so set aside must be paid by the county clerk to the county treasurer, who shall keep it separate in the law library fund.

3. The board of county commissioners may transfer from the county general fund to the law library fund such amounts as it determines are necessary for purposes of the law library.

4. Money in the law library fund must be:

(a) Expended for the purchase of law books, journals, periodicals and other publications.

(b) Expended for the establishment and maintenance of the law library.

(c) Drawn therefrom and used and applied only as provided in this chapter.

5. In a county whose population is 250,000 or more, the sum established by the ordinance must be no less than $15 nor more than $30 in any case.".

Amend the title of the bill, first line, by deleting: "for special fees in civil actions" and inserting: "a minimum allocation".

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Senate Bills Nos. 24, 74, 76, 77.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Humke's remarks be entered in the Journal.

We have with us today a number of retailers from around the state. They are here to observe sessions of both houses . . . to sit in on committee hearings and to meet legislators on a one-to-one basis. "Retail Day" was first observed in 1983 and so today's event will mark the second such observance sponsored by the Nevada Retail Association.

The Legislature, I am sure, realizes the importance of a strong retail economy in Nevada if this state is to continue to attract new business and industry. There probably are more people employed in the retail industry in Nevada than in any other industry. I feel visits such as that being made to the Legislature today by retailers of the state are very worthwhile. It's important for retailers to become better acquainted with the legislative process as it affects the future of retail economy.

As one who has worked in the retail community, I would like to commend those people here today, looking us over. I would like to commend retailers of the state who continue to promote and develop Nevada's economy.

THE FORTY-SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), March 7, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:01 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Joseph E. Dini, Jr.

Dear Heavenly Father and great architect of the universe, please bring to us this day happiness and may those ailing and ill return to good health. O, Lord, people matter; especially when we stand in the grandeur of individual integrity for value on which their future hinges. Society hangs on a thread called integrity and it surges with power and vitality when there is moral quality in the people. Lord, the people; not thrones, not crowns but men who dare to be honest and forthright. Give us the grace to love by these principles. In the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 8, 1985

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed, as amended, Assembly Bill No. 235, and respectfully requests your honorable body to concur in said amendment.

MARY JO MONGELLI

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

Assembly Bill No. 235.

The following Senate amendment was read:

Amendment No. 171.

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a new section designated section 2, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval.".

Assemblyman Dini moved that the Assembly concur in the Senate amendment to Assembly Bill No. 235.

Remarks by Assemblyman Dini.

Motion carried.

Bill ordered reprinted, re-engrossed and enrolled.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Schofield's remarks be entered in the Journal.

"Sometime, when you're feeling important,
Sometime, when your ego's in bloom,
Sometime, when you take it for granted,
You're the best qualified in the room.
Sometime, when you feel that your going
Would leave an unfillable hole, then
Just follow this simple instruction
And see how it humbles your soul.
Take a bucket and fill it with water;
Put your hand in it up to your wrist;
Pull it out, and the hole that's remaining
Is a measure of just how you'll be missed.
You may splash all you please when you enter;
You can stir up the water galore;
But stop, and you'll find in a minute
That it looks quite the same as before.
The moral in this quaint example
Is to do just the best that you can.
Be proud of yourself, but remember,
There is no indispensable man."

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Terry Tebbs.

Our Father in Heaven, we come before Thee today to give thanks for the many blessings that we enjoy. We are grateful for the opportunity we have to live in this great state and nation and for the freedoms that we enjoy—freedoms which allow groups such as this to assemble. We are grateful for the opportunity we have as members of this assembly to serve the citizens of Nevada and help us Father to always be mindful that we are here to serve. Bless us with the wisdom to carry out our duties in a responsible manner, always remembering the impact our decisions will have. Father, bless each member of this body with the insight and understanding necessary to bring our many diverse backgrounds and thoughts together in a constructive way, always seeking that which is best for the citizens of Nevada as a whole. AMEN.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed, as amended, Senate Bill No. 156.

MARY JO MONGELLI

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Thompson, Schofield, Fairchild, Rader, Lambert, O'Donnell, Williams, McGaughey, Banner, Bogaert, Getto, Kerns, Francis, Dini, Ham, Jeffrey, Thomas, Horne, Zimmer, Sader, Arberry, Nevin, Swain, Spriggs, Coffin, Tebbs, Craddock, Roberts, Humke, Nicholas, Beyer, Stone, Collins, DuBois, Price, Bergevin, Malone, Sedway, Marvel, Joerg and Bilyeu:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 17—Commending parent-teacher associations and designating March 11, 1985, as Nevada PTA Day.

WHEREAS, Education of the youth of our nation is of primary importance and is a concern of the citizens of Nevada and the United States; and

WHEREAS, One national organization has rendered significant service to the cause of education and enhancement of family unity by bringing together the nation's primary and secondary educators and the parents of the children and young people whom they teach; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Parent-Teacher Association is a strong link in the chain of state associations which have been a positive force in the development of the American educational system; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Parent-Teacher Association has been a recognized organization since 1941 and has a current membership of 23,259 people; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Parent-Teacher Association is a group which is becoming more aggressive in its support of legislation promoting the welfare and education of youth; and

WHEREAS, A date has been reserved honoring the Nevada Parent-Teacher Association for the past four sessions of the Nevada legislature; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the legislature declares March 11, 1985, to be PTA Day in Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the people of Nevada and their elected representatives in the legislature commend the national PTA, the Nevada PTA and each parent-teacher association in the State of Nevada upon their outstanding contributions to education in the State of Nevada and the United States of America.

Assemblyman Thompson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Thompson.

Resolution adopted.

By Assemblymen Thomas and Joerg:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 18—Designating March 11, 1985, as the Day of Recognition for the Virginia & Truckee Railroad Museum.

WHEREAS, The Virginia & Truckee Railroad was the first short-line railway in Nevada and carried the commerce of the silver state for 80 years; and

WHEREAS, The Virginia & Truckee Railroad became the most famous mining railway in America and has been celebrated in many history books; and

WHEREAS, Many of the vintage steam locomotives and antique passenger and freight cars of the Virginia & Truckee Railroad were sold to various Hollywood movie studios and won immortality on the silver screen; and

WHEREAS, The Southern Pacific Railroad and the Union Pacific Railroad, two of the original transcontinental railroads built across the western states, have donated valuable railroad equipment to the Virginia & Truckee Railroad Museum; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the legislature of the State of Nevada hereby expresses its gratitude to the Union Pacific Railroad and to the Southern Pacific Railroad for their assistance in the continued expansion of the Virginia & Truckee Railroad Museum; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Monday, March 11 be designated as a Day of Recognition for the Virginia & Truckee Railroad Museum; and be it further

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be transmitted by the legislative counsel to the chief executive officer of the Union Pacific Railroad and the chief executive officer of the Southern Pacific Transportation Company.

Assemblyman Thomas moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Thomas.

Resolution adopted.

THE FIFTY-FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), March 12, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:05 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman John DuBois.

Our Father in Heaven, we stand before Thee at this place and at this hour as chosen representatives of all the people of this state. Each of us sought this responsibility and each of us now holds the trust of these people. It is a sacred trust. We are here as a family of lawmakers, each individually striving to do what is right but working as a family. We ask, Oh Lord, that You nourish our hearts and minds with divine guidance for we are mere humans; fraught with all the frailties, pathos and emotions of the human race. In the days ahead this family will be tested as we grind and grope our way through the maze of human issues—all of our human passions will be laid bare. Guide us, Lord, through this journey. Give us the wisdom to understand the views of our colleagues and the compassion to see our differences. Lift us from our egocentric ways and bind us together as family for no man is an island, entire of itself. We ask for Your guidance, in the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

THE FIFTY-SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), March 13, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Art Rader.

Heavenly Father, we bow our heads in prayer to ask Your help. You created this valley ages ago. You were here when Native Americans flourished in harmony with nature. You were here when our pioneer fathers settled, prospered and built a capital city. Please be with us today, Heavenly Father, as You were for the first meeting of this body a century and twenty-five years ago and as You will be when our posterity meets in this same valley, perhaps in this same chamber a century and twenty-five years hence. Many lawmakers have passed before us—many more will follow. We ask You, giver of all law, to grant us the wisdom to know that our time must also pass and that You would have us use our time not to plot among ourselves but to work for the betterment of our brothers and sisters in this valley and in our great state beyond. Help us, Heavenly Father. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Amendment No. 176.

Amend section 1, page 1, line 17, by deleting "one" and inserting "two".

Amend section 1, page 2, line 1, by deleting "property, and" and inserting: "property. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 244.288, the board".

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a new section, designated section 2.5, following section 2, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2.5. NRS 244.288 is hereby amended to read as follows:

244.288 1. The board of county commissioners of a county whose population is less than [9,000,] 18,000, upon making a finding pursuant to a public hearing that a county industrial park is necessary to meet the needs of the county, and that no private enterprise has presented an acceptable proposal for industrial development, may develop a plan and establish requirements for the:

(a) Acquisition, sale or lease of real property by the county for industrial development; and

(b) Design, engineering and construction of industrial developments.

2. The board shall:

(a) Give notice of its intention by publication at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county, or if there is no such newspaper then in a newspaper of general circulation in the county published in the state; and

(b) Hold its public hearing not less than 10 nor more than 20 days after the date of publication of the notice.

3. The board may grant an option to purchase property designated for industrial development. The duration of the option must not exceed 3 years, but afterward the board may extend it year by year. Any attempted assignment of such an option, whether contractual or effected by operation of law, is void. Upon its execution, the option must immediately be recorded by the board with the county recorder.

4. After review by the planning commission, a member of the board or the purchaser or lessee of the property shall present the proposed plan for an industrial development to the board.

5. The board shall, after a public hearing, approve or reject the proposed plan.

6. The board may sell or lease the property for an amount which is less than the appraised value, if the price:

(a) Is established during the development of the plan;

(b) Will cover the repayment of any outstanding obligation of the county on the property; and

(c) Will also cover the reimbursement of the county for any amount of revenue derived from local taxes which was spent to purchase or improve the property.".

Amend sec. 6, page 3, line 25 after "county" by inserting a comma.

Amend sec. 6, page 3, line 28, after "for" by inserting "substantially".

Assembly Bill No. 171.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Swain, Malone, Collins, Thomas, DuBois, Stone, Dini, Jeffrey, Zimmer and Thompson.

Assemblyman Malone requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

I would like to submit that the concept of this bill is good. The reading of it leaves a little to be desired. On page 2, line 35 "speak to a voter on the subject of marking his ballot". In areas, a multitude of them, such as senior citizen centers, this is going directly against your senior citizen centers where a senior citizen is allowed to go with another senior citizen, or as a matter of fact anyone is allowed to go with another senior citizen down to the voting booth and converse on which person they want to vote for so that person can vote or push the button or poke the hole for the one that is incapacitated. This is done all the time. On line 39 of the same page, "or immediately before or after he registers the elector". Common sense must prevail. However, at times it doesn't. When you put "immediately" in there, immediately could mean now, it could mean five minutes from now, it could mean an hour from now. I know the definition that Mr. Daykin has given. However, not too many people call Mr. Daykin for an opinion when it comes to this, especially around election time. The dictionary does not give the same definition as Mr. Daykin, unfortunately.

Assemblymen Francis, Thompson and Getto moved the previous question.

Motion carried.

The question being on the passage of Assembly Bill No. 171.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 171:

YEAS—32.

THE FIFTY-FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), March 15, 1985

Assembly called to order at 10:06 a.m.
Mr. Speaker presiding.
Roll called.
All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Erik Beyer.

Our Father in Heaven, grateful we are this day to assemble here in this Legislature to be about the business of our state. Father, we are grateful for our pioneer forefathers who came and carved out of the desert this land which we call home, that is Nevada. Grateful, Father, for the snowclad mountains, for the broad valleys, for the ribbons of water that wind their ways through the valleys to feed our fertile lands. Grateful, Father, we are to have come here to this Assembly to provide legislation that would improve the way of life for our citizens of this great state. As we meet together this day, Father, may our minds be clear to understand the issues. May we be grateful for the precious right of debate. Father, may defeat on this floor be turned to victory in building character and personality and strengthen our individual lives. We ask You to bless those that are not with us today who are traveling to Las Vegas for the committee meetings that they may do so in safety, that we may all convene here again on Monday morning. Be with us now, Father, we ask in the name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Mr. Speaker announced that if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair for the purpose of hearing an Irish ballad sung by Mr. William Marks.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Economic Development and Tourism:

Amendment No. 191.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 1 as section 2 and adding a new section designated section 1, preceding section 1, to read as follows:

"Section 1. NRS 366.220 is hereby amended to read as follows:

366.220 1. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, it is unlawful for any special fuel dealer or special fuel user to sell or use special fuel within this state unless the special fuel dealer or special fuel user is the holder of a special fuel dealer's or special fuel user's license issued to him by the department.

2. Any owner or operator of a motor vehicle coming within the provisions of this chapter may apply for a temporary special fuel license which must be purchased from the first available vendor. The fee for [such] the license is $20 for each motor vehicle. Such a license satisfies the requirements of this chapter and , except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, authorizes the operation of the motor vehicle or combination of vehicles upon the highways of this state for a period of 48 consecutive hours. Such a license allows the purchase of special fuel tax free from a licensed special fuel dealer. Upon request, the department may allow credit for such licenses purchased, if the applicant is licensed as a special fuel user. The application [must be considered] shall be deemed received on the date shown by the [post office cancellation mark] postmark stamped on the envelope containing [such] an application properly addressed to the department.

3. The department may issue, to the owner or operator of a common motor carrier of passengers as defined in NRS 706.041, a temporary license which authorizes operation for a period of not more than 120 consecutive hours.

4. The department may adopt regulations relating to the issuance of any special fuel dealer's or special fuel user's license and the collection of fees therefor.".

Amend section 1, page 1, line 17, by deleting: "Operators of motor vehicles" and inserting: "Private motor carriers of property as defined in NRS 706.111 which are".

Amend section 1, pages 1 and 2, by deleting line 19 on page 1 and lines 1 and 2 on page 2 and inserting "ity.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 2 as section 4 and adding a new section designated section 3, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 3. NRS 706.521 is hereby amended to read as follows:

706.521 1. Except as provided in subsection 5, any person has the option, in lieu of causing a motor vehicle to be licensed under NRS 706.011 to 706.791, inclusive, of applying for a [48-hour] temporary license to be issued forthwith upon payment of a fee equal to 10 percent of the license fee provided in NRS 706.506, rounded off to the nearest dollar. The fee for the [48-hour] temporary license may not be less than $6 per motor vehicle nor more than $60.

2. [A 48-hour] Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, a temporary license authorizes operation over the highways of this state for a period of not more than 48 consecutive hours.

3. Any person who has elected to pay license fees exclusively under this section and who has complied with the provisions of NRS 706.266 [shall,] is entitled, upon application to the department in such form and detail as the department may require, to be issued a proper identifying device. The fee for each device is $4.

4. Upon request, the department may allow credit for the period for which the licenses were purchased if the applicant is licensed under the provisions of NRS 706.506 to 706.516, inclusive.

5. The provisions of this section do not apply to operators of driveaway-towaway convoy vehicles.

6. The department may issue, to the owner or operator of a common motor carrier of passengers, a temporary license which authorizes operation for a period of not more than 120 consecutive hours.".

Amend sec. 2, page 2, by deleting line 19 and inserting: "other than as provided in paragraph (e), or to".

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 31, by deleting "motor vehicle" and inserting: "private motor carrier of property which is".

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 32, by deleting: "activity as a dis-" and inserting "activity.".

Amend sec. 2, page 2, by deleting lines 33 through 35.

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a new section designated section 5, following section 2, to read as follows:

"Sec. 5. NRS 706.856 is hereby amended to read as follows:

706.856 1. The owner or operator of a motor vehicle coming within the provisions of NRS 706.801 to 706.861, inclusive, may, in lieu of registering it pursuant to the provisions of NRS 706.836 to 706.851, inclusive, apply for and obtain a [48-hour] temporary registration upon payment of a fee of $6, which fee is in lieu of all other fees and service charges due pursuant to the provisions of NRS 706.801 to 706.861, inclusive.

2. [A 48-hour] Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, a temporary registration authorizes operation over the highways of this state for a period of not more than 48 consecutive hours.

3. Any person exercising this option shall purchase the license at the first available vendor in the State of Nevada. The operator of a motor vehicle obtaining a [48-hour] temporary registration from a vendor elects this option by virtue of the purchase. Any 48-hour period [of time] for which a [48-hour] temporary registration was not purchased must be billed for 48-hour temporary registration on an audit until the vehicle is licensed under NRS 706.836 to 706.851, inclusive.

4. Every person electing to pay fees on a [48-hour temporary registration] temporary basis shall keep a written record of every trip made into or through this state and each [48-hour] temporary registration so purchased . [, which] The record must be open to inspection by any agent or employee of the commission or the department. The commission and the department may require any person to submit such periodic reports and supporting data as they may deem necessary with respect to trips made into or through this state.

5. Upon request, the department may allow credit for the period for which temporary registrations were purchased if the applicant applies and prorates his vehicle registration.

6. The department may issue, to the owner or operator of a common motor carrier of passengers, a temporary license which authorizes operation for a period of not more than 120 consecutive hours.

7. As a condition for exercising the privilege of reciprocity under the provisions of NRS 482.390, the department may:

(a) Require the operator of motor vehicles eligible for reciprocity to file annually an application listing the motor vehicles to be operated in this state;

(b) Issue [identification] identifying devices for motor vehicles so listed;

(c) Collect an administrative fee of $4 per motor vehicle identified; and

(d) Collect the [48-hour] fee for temporary registration [fee] from the owner or operator of motor vehicles not so identified.".

Amend the title of the bill, third line, after "carriers;", by inserting: "authorizing extended temporary licenses for common motor carriers of passengers;".

THE FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), March 18, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Bob Thomas.

Oh good and gracious Lord, we ask You for special blessings during this legislative session. Why? Because I'm sure at some time during this session each of us has asked ourselves, "If we had any brains would we be here." Although I'm sure we have, be that as it may, what we may lack in that department, Lord, we more than make up for in loyalty and service to our fellow Nevadans. I think, Oh Lord, even You will agree that an ounce of loyalty and dedication is worth a pound of cleverness. Now we know that what we try to do in this body will not always come out the way we would like it. So, therefore, the most important guidance You could give us is to make sure that when things don't come out exactly the way we would like them that we would not inadvertently hurt anybody. We ask this in the name of Yahweh the Father, Jesus Christ the Lord, AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 6 as section 7 and adding a new section designated section 6, following section 5, to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. NRS 678.260 is hereby amended to read as follows:

678.260 The administrator shall:

1. Adopt a regulation establishing the minimum surety bond required of credit unions in relation to the amount of property under their control.

2. Maintain the original application of every credit union in a permanent file.

3. Maintain for at least 6 years, every report filed by a credit union with the division of financial institutions.

4. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 678.800 and 678.810, deposit all fees, charges for expenses, assessments and other money which is collected pursuant to the provisions of this chapter or any regulation [promulgated] adopted thereunder, in the state treasury . [to the credit of the appropriate account within the state general fund for the use of the division of financial institutions of the department of commerce. At the end of a fiscal year the unused balance of any amounts collected pursuant to this chapter does not revert to the state general fund.]

5. Prepare copies of articles of incorporation and bylaws consistent with the provisions of this chapter which may be used by persons interested in organizing a credit union.".

Amend the title of the bill, second line, after "assets;" by inserting:

"removing the restriction on the use of certain money deposited in the state general fund;".

Amend the summary of the bill, first line, by deleting "union" and inserting "unions".

Assembly Bill No. 22.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Marvel and Dini.

Assemblyman Joerg requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

A.B. 22 was sponsored by every member of this Assembly. A.B. 22 was passed unanimously from the Ways and Means Committee with a Do Pass recommmendation. The bill is phase two of the South Fork State Park project begun in the 1983 Legislature. In 1983, all 42 Assemblymen and all 21 Senators voted for the project to create the first major water development in the State of Nevada since 1941. The project has received wide-spread support throughout the state. Governor Bryan has publicly praised the project. Roland Westergard, Conservation and Natural Resource Director has said, "South Fork Dam and Park project is the most exciting thing the department is involved in." The project has been hailed as an example of cost sharing between state and local governments.

To start the project, the Elko community contributed $1.2 million. Beginning in 1986 they will pay $250,000 per annum to the State of Nevada as their share of the project. In the 1983 session, authorization was given to acquire the land, do the environmental assessment, and the engineering for construction. The land has been acquired by the State of Nevada, the environmental work has been completed and the engineering and design has been completed. Now all that awaits is the authorization to proceed with the project.

Both the Las Vegas Sun and the Reno Gazette Journal have endorsed the project. To quote the Gazette Journal, "Lawmakers should push ahead with the commitment they made during the 1983 session. Recreational opportunities such as South Fork don't come along very often. When they do, the state has an obligation to take advantage of them . . . this is a project that makes a lot of sense . . . It fits nicely with the state's long range recreational goals and is a solid investment for Nevadans."

In addition to the Gazette Journal, the project has won endorsement from the greater

Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce. The project has won endorsement from the Commission on Economic Development, the State Department of Wildlife, and various other groups, commissions, committees and individuals. The Las Vegas Sun, in an editorial on January 24, 1985 set forth various reasons why the project should go forward. Some of the reasons are:

1. Hunting and fishing enthusiasts, water sport lovers, campers and hikers . . . either driving through the state or with South Fork as their destination . . . would be attracted to the Silver State's 22nd state park.
2. Creation of a 1,675 acre lake with 11 miles of shoreline would add to the natural appeal of Nevada and might lure other businesses to contribute to the state's diversification efforts by moving here.
3. Development of South Fork would take pressure off the precariously balanced environment of the Ruby Marshes.
4. The state will control the water rights. Waterflow to river users downstream would be assured as would control of excess flow in the event of flooding.

The Sun editorial concludes, "The opportunity for the state to provide water based recreation for future generations may never come again."

As this state diversifies its economy . . . as we diversify our tourism base . . . as we move into the possibility of hi-tech economy in Nevada . . . our recreational opportunities, already stretched to the limits must be expanded. I therefore recommend a unanimous Do Pass on this bill, sponsored by all of the members of this Assembly and unanimously recommended by your Committee on Ways and Means.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

I certainly rise in support of this project. I guess my interest in water in Nevada has been for a good number of years and my involvement in the last two years on the Western States Water Council. As you see the water resources development in other states, we see how we lack here in the State of Nevada in developing our water resources, and how important it is for us now to act and develop this water resource . . . whether it be for tourism, agriculture or domestic use for the future generations of this state. Nevada is a very dry state and short on water. We are going to have to wake up and develop every water resource we have available in this state.

You people living in Clark County do not realize what is involved in this issue. You have Hoover Dam which provides some 300,000 acre feet of water to Clark County. Most of us in Nevada would like to see 300,000 acre feet of water in our district. This is just the beginning of developing our water resources throughout the State of Nevada, including a couple of dams I would like to have in my district. I think the important thing we are doing today is for the future of Nevada and developing this very important resource. I certainly stand 100 percent behind the sponsors.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Zimmer moved that the Assembly declare March 18, 1985, as the recognition day for the Nevada members of the National Assistance League.

Remarks by Assemblyman Zimmer.

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Zimmer's remarks be entered in the Journal.

WHEREAS, the National Assistance League founded in Los Angeles in 1919 is the first nonprofit, nonpolitical, nonsectarian organization of women to recognize the potential of volunteers helping those less fortunate to a better more meaningful life; and

WHEREAS, their purpose is to act as a friend at any and all times to men, women and children in need of care, guidance, and assistance, spiritually, materially and physically; and

WHEREAS, their first services were pioneering philosophic projects that have been emulated by public and private agencies alike; and

WHEREAS, there are 71 chapters of Assistance Leagues in the United States and,

WHEREAS, two of these chapters are located in Nevada, one serving the Reno-Sparks area and one serving the Las Vegas area; and

WHEREAS, their philanthropic projects include cultural enrichments such as the children's theatre; family programs such as day care assistance; hearing, vision and speech centers; senior programs such as group activities, home and hospital visits and assistance; and youth programs such as teachers' assistance and clothing needy students, I HEREBY request that the Assembly declare March 18, 1985, as the recognition day for the Nevada members of the National Assistance League.

I would also like to add that since I was a co-founder of this organization in Las Vegas and a charter member, it is a very dear organization to me.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Senate Bill No. 111.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Francis requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Mr. Lincoln does have a few words to say with regard to our focus of responsibility. He says, "I am a firm believer in the people . . . if given the truth they can be depended upon to meet any crisis. The great point is to bring them the real facts."

ASSEMBLYMAN COFFIN:

There is a man who wrote a great book. We know it as The Tales of Don Quixote, Miguel Cervantes, who lived three centuries ago. He said, "I do not say a proverb is amiss, when aptly and reasonably applied, but to be forever discharging them, right or wrong, hit or miss, renders conversation insipid and vulgar." But frankly, I've always loved the one from Ralph Waldo Emerson, one of our countrymen, which he stated upon his death bed, "I hate quotations."

THE FIFTY-EIGHTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), March 19, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Bergevin and Dini, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman John DuBois.

In the beginning man stood before the elements, frail and fragile, fighting for survival against nature in the raw. Man looked beyond his earthly existence. He looked beyond to the Heavens and to God for divine guidance. Today, man stands before the elements, frail and fragile, fighting for survival. Not against nature in the raw, but against the crush and burden of his own civilization. We ask, Oh Lord, that You clear our minds, show us the way back to the natural laws of Your universe. We ask for Your direction as elected officials to do for the community of people whatever needs to be done but cannot be done in their separate and individual capacities. Help us find this balance that is right and just for all. We ask this blessing in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

By Assemblymen DuBois, Coffin, Dini, Stone, Collins, Thomas, Tebbs, Getto, Nicholas, Spriggs, Lambert, Rader, Beyer, Zimmer, Roberts, Malone and Bogaert:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 12—Proposing to amend section 2 of article 19 of the constitution of the State of Nevada, relating to the procedure for enacting or amending statutes and amending the constitution by initiative petition, by requiring that constitutional amendments be submitted to the legislature.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 2 of article 19 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1 of article 4 of this constitution, but subject to the limitations of section 6 of this article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes and amendments to statutes and amendments to this constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition [shall] must be in the form required by section 3 of this article and [shall] must be proposed by a number of registered voters equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in not less than 75 percent of the counties in the state, but the total number of registered voters signing the initiative petition [shall] must be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire state at the last preceding general election.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, it [shall] must be filed with the secretary of state not less than 30 days [prior to] before any regular session of the legislature. The secretary of state shall transmit [such] the petition to the legislature as soon as the legislature convenes and organizes. The petition [shall take] takes precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby [shall] must be enacted or rejected by the legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the legislature and approved by the governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, [such] the statute or amendment to a statute [shall become] becomes law, but [shall be] is subject to referendum petition as provided in section 1 of this article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the secretary of state shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of [such] the statute or amendment to a statute, it [shall become] becomes law and [take] takes effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the supreme court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters [shall] may not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of [such] the statute or amendment to a statute, no further action [shall] may be taken on [such] the petition. If the legislature [reject such] rejects the proposed statute or amendment, the governor may recommend to the legislature and the legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after [such] the different measure has been approved by the governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure [shall] must be submitted by the secretary of state to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters are both approved by a majority of the voters voting on [such] the measures, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes [shall thereupon become] becomes law.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the constitution, it [shall] must be filed with the secretary of state not less than [90] 30 days before any regular [general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire state. The secretary of state shall cause to be published] session of the legislature. The secretary of state shall transmit the petition to the legislature as soon as the legislature convenes and organizes. The petition takes precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the petition must be acted upon by the legislature within 40 days after it convenes. The legislature may:

(a) Approve the proposed amendment without change except for those changes necessary to conform the proposed amendment with other amendments previously approved;

(b) Return the proposed amendment to the petitioners with its objections;

(c) Reject the proposed amendment and submit its own amendment; or

(d) Take no action on the proposed amendment.

5. If the legislature takes no action on a proposed amendment to the constitution within 40 days, the secretary of state shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of the amendment to the voters at the next succeeding general election. He shall publish in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the state, together with any explanatory matter which [shall] must be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. If a majority of the voters voting on [such] the question at [such] the election votes disapproval of [such] the amendment, no further action [shall] may be taken on the petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of [such] the amendment, the secretary of state shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as [such] the question was originally submitted. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of [such] the amendment, no further action [shall] may be taken on [such] the petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of [such] the amendment, it [shall become] becomes a part of this constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the supreme court. If the legislature rejects the proposed amendment and submits its own amendment, the secretary of state shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of each amendment to the voters in the same manner as if the legislature had taken no action. If both of the conflicting amendments submitted to the voters are approved by a majority of the voters voting on the amendments, the amendment which receives the largest number of affirmative votes becomes a part of this constitution.

6. If the legislature approves the proposed amendment to the constitution or the petitioners consent to a modification which meets the objections of the legislature, the secretary of state shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of the amendment to the voters at the next succeeding general election. He shall publish the amendment at the same times and in the same manner prescribed for amendments in subsection 5 of this section. If a majority of the voters voting at that general election approve the amendment, it becomes a part of this constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the supreme court.

By Assemblymen Thomas and Rader:

Assembly Bill No. 390—An Act relating to motor vehicles; repealing those provisions complying with the national speed limit; increasing the maximum speed limit on highways in Nevada to 70 miles per hour; providing a temporary tax to replace any money withheld by the Federal Government; requiring the attorney general to bring an action challenging any such withholding; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

By Assemblymen Nevin, Stone, Swain and Thomas:

Assembly Bill No. 391—An Act relating to motor vehicles; limiting the tinting of windows; allowing display of material in the corner of the driver's side of a windshield; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Francis requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN WILLIAMS:

A resolution recognizing the role of elected women and designating March 19, 1985, as Nevada Elected Women's Day.

WHEREAS, American women have played an important role in the formation of our Nation, displaying strength of character throughout America's history; and

WHEREAS, Since 1914, when women in Nevada were given the right to participate in the political process, involvement of women in politics has increased significantly; and

WHEREAS, In 1918, Sadie D. Hurst became the first woman elected to the Nevada legislature and there are now 10 women members of the legislature, the greatest number in the history of the state; and

WHEREAS, Nationally, there are over 17,000 women currently holding an elective office with 22 women in the United States House of Representatives, two women in the United States Senate, two women who serve as state governor and 40 women holding other top statewide elective office; and

WHEREAS, There are now 1,067 women elected to the various state legislatures around the country, up from a total of 991 women legislators in 1983 and now comprising 14.4 percent of all state legislators; and

WHEREAS, Throughout Nevada there are approximately 150 women who are serving in state, county and local elective offices, many of whom have gathered in Carson City today for meetings of the Nevada State School Boards Association and the Nevada Elected Women's Network; and

WHEREAS, The President of the United States and Congress recently designated the week of March 3 through 9, 1985, as National Women's History Week; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That March 19, 1985, be designated as Nevada Elected Women's Day; and be it further

RESOLVED, That women in Nevada be commended on their contributions as elected officials of the State of Nevada and be encouraged to continue this participation with the competence, enthusiasm and dedication they have exhibited in the past.

ASSEMBLYMAN SWAIN:

We have today amongst our assembled representatives more women than at any other time in the history of Nevada. That makes us feel pretty good. But it should not satisfy us. In fact, if we were to pause and reflect upon the fact that women represent over 53 percent of the voting public of this state we should be embarrassed to have less than 6 percent representation in this body. When I consider this dilemma, I have to ask myself these questions. Is it because women are less qualified? To that I would have to answer a resounding "no". Because who amongst us could say that any sex or any race could do less well than we have already done. Is it because there are fewer of us? No. Any second grader could answer the arithmetic computations on that one. Is it because there are fewer of us that feel capable? Probably yes. But if I answer yes, I would have to turn my back on Jenny Weir who better documented the history of Nevada than any man; and the suffragettes of Nevada who made this proud state one of the first to demand their right to vote; and the women of the Comstock who proved that this state could not exist without the strength and determination of its women.

If I did not believe that women were capable of holding public office in Nevada, I wouldn't be here myself. Nor would I believe that the state itself is capable of existence. I know the contrary to be true and I urge the women of Nevada to reassess their capabilities and their priorities to assess the endeavors of their predecessors and to join us here in this legislative body.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Dini, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Gary Lee Roberts.

Almighty Everlasting God, Creator of the Heaven, Earth and Universe. Help us legislators to be, to think and to act what is right because it is right. Make legislators truthful, honest and honorable in all things. Make legislators intellectually honest for the sake of the right and honor without thought of reward to legislators. Give legislators the ability to be charitable, forgiving and patient with their fellow man. Help legislators to understand their motives, their shortcomings, even though understanding is mine. Amen, Amen, AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Schofield requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

NORM CROSBY:

Ladies and gentlemen, I know you are very busy. I looked at the agenda and there are certainly more interesting things for you to contemplate this morning than listening to visitors. I just wanted to come up and some hello and tell you that it is perspiring, really, to be sitting here with this extinct group. I mean that. It is a very suspicious gathering. For somebody who comes to your state as often as I do—for years now I have been working in Las Vegas for half of the year. I have a home in Las Vegas so I am a semi-residual in Nevada. I work Reno and Tahoe also.

I appreciate your efforts and the example you set for young people who come here to look down on you. I mean that. You cannot imagine the aura, the dignity that I feel sitting in this room. I've been here before. I was here last when Paul Laxalt was governor. I want you to know something. Just sitting here this morning listening to you there is a special feeling. There is a dignity, an aura of reek in this building that has got to come from you—it wasn't here last time I was here. It makes you proud. It makes you realize that with all the sophistication and the modern computers, the elevators and everything up-to-the-moment, you still have tradition. You can walk four blocks away from all of the busy downtown and be out in the desert and the mountains. It makes you appreciate more our forefathers and foremothers who gave us all this. You can look up into infinity, you can look into space and appreciate pioneer people crawling through the desert and sliding through the mountain passes and scratching themselves on the arroyos and tearing their jeans on the crotchy crevices carrying chandeliers, escalators, elevators and computers so we can have all this stuff today. I mean if you think about it, that's the way those people went. They should be your inspiritation—the pioneer people. They rode wagon trains and buckboards through the mountain passes to come here because they were idiots. They didn't know the expressway comes right from the airport.

I make jokes because I'm a humidor—that is what I do for a living. But I really do appreciate your efforts. I understand what is going on. I have occasion once in a while to visit legislative bodies. I was talking to Lieutenant Governor Cashell just a little while ago through an interpreter. I know we are incohesion on certain points. I think that it is important that you understand what is going on in the world. Not just in Nevada but everywhere. The Supreme Court two days ago—I'm sure you read about it—reversed an incision of a minor court that if a person of a segregated sect now wishes to go to an accredited university that has a bilateral quotient, unless his own ducks are into the first credenza of his division, they won't give him a locker. I mean that is stupid.

Crime is rampant. Len showed me a book of bills that deals with legislation that is coming up before you. You do as much as you can do, all of you. But so what. There are limits. You catch crooks, criminals are caught, apprehended in criminal activity and the judges let them go because they don't have the circumcising evidence. That's dumb. A pickpocket in Los Angeles was caught at the airport; a famous pickpocket—One Finger Louie. That's his name, he only has one finger on his right hand. He only steals bagels and doughnuts. They caught him red-handed but had to let him go because they couldn't put the finger on him. Do you realize, friends, when you go to court in front of jury that you are putting your fate in the hands of 12 people who weren't smart enough to get out of jury duty. That makes you think.

Democracy, the system that you practice, should be an inspiritation to young people. I love young people. I identify with young people—I have a chenille bedspread. I care about the kids. I go to different youth clubs all over the United States and I speak to different youths. I say, "different youths"—you have to say that otherwise they don't listen to you.

I'm not used to being up at this hour. I'm a night person and I appreciate how you sit here everyday and go through these sessions and handle things with such expertise and gentility and complete disconcern. I really mean that. It is a tribute to you. I think Democracy has become so prevalent. Even now all over the world you don't realize how the little waves that you start circulate and spread and become universal. For the first time in the history of the Vatican a democractic step has been taken. For the first time in history a repair job had to be taken care of and they put it up for bids rather than just designating a contracting company to come in and do the work. They are starting to believe in Democracy and free enterprise. Naturally because of the Pope's affiniation, the first contractor had to be a Polish contractor. He came and looked at the job and he told the Pope he could do the job for $900. The Pope asked him to break that down. He said that $300 went for labor, $300 for material and $300 for me. The Pope said that was very fair and we'll get back to you. Because of the location being in Rome, they had to call, of course, an Italian contractor. He came in and looked at the job and said he could do it for $1,800. The Pope asked him where he got that number. He said that $600 goes for labor, $600 for material and $600 for me. The Pope told him they would get back to him. Because they set an example of fairness and Democracy and caring they called New York and flew over a New York contractor, who was formerly from Nevada. The Pope told him that it was only fair to let him know that they already received two bids—a bid of $900 from a Polish contractor and a bid of $1,800 from an Italian contractor. The man from New York said, "I don't even have to see the job, I can do it for $2,700". The Pope asked him to break down the costs. He said, "Certainly, $900 for me, $900 for you and we'll let the Polish guy do it". Thank you very much.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 117.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Government Affairs:

Amendment No. 225.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting section 1, and renumbering section 2 as section 1.

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 17, by deleting "April 1" and inserting "January 1".

Amend the title of the bill, second and third lines, by deleting: "allowing local governments to exempt themselves from such a holiday;".

Amend the summary of the bill, by deleting "Limits application" and inserting: "Requires advance notice by governor".

Assemblyman Bergevin moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblyman Bergevin.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

Assembly Bill No. 1.

The following Senate amendment was read:

Amendment No. 81.

Amend the bill as a whole by adding new sections designated sections 2 through 9, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 5 of the above entitled act, being chapter 458, Statutes of Nevada 1983, at page 1209, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. 1. The authority must be governed by a board of trustees composed of seven persons who are residents of the designated district.

2. After the initial terms, the [members] trustees must be elected for terms of 4 years. The office of trustee is nonpartisan.

3. Within 60 days after the effective date of this act:

(a) The board of county commissioners of Lander County shall appoint from the designated district four trustees to initial terms which expire when their successors are elected and qualified at the general election held in November of 1986.

(b) The Lander County Fair and Recreation Board shall appoint from the designated [area] district two trustees to initial terms which expire when their successors are elected and qualified in the general election held in November of 1984.

(c) The Lander County School District shall appoint from the designated [area] district one trustee to an initial term which expires when his successor is elected and qualified in the general election held in November of 1984.

4. If the office of any trustee becomes vacant, the authority which appointed his initial predecessor shall appoint his successor for the unexpired term.

Sec. 3. Section 8 of the above entitled act, being chapter 458, Statutes of Nevada 1983, at page 1210, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. 1. The board shall meet regularly at a time and in a place to be designated by the board. Special meetings may be held as often as the needs of the board require, on notice to each board member.

2. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum at any meeting. Every motion and resolution of the board must be adopted by at least a majority of the members present and constituting the quorum at such meeting.

3. If any member is absent from three consecutive regular meetings of the board, without good cause as determined by the board, his office thereupon becomes vacant.

4. The board shall adopt a seal.

Sec. 4. Section 12 of the above entitled act, being chapter 458, Statutes of Nevada 1983, at page 1212, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 12. In addition to the other means for providing revenue for the authority, the board [, subject to the approval of] may require the board of county commissioners of Lander County [, has power] to levy and collect general (ad valorem) taxes on and against all taxable property within the geographical boundaries of the authority . [, such levy and collection to be made by the board in conjunction with the county and its officers as set forth in this act.]

Sec. 5. Section 13 of the above entitled act, being chapter 458, Statutes of Nevada 1983, at page 1212, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 13. 1. [To levy and collect taxes, the] The board of trustees shall determine, in each year, the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation, taking into consideration other sources of revenue of the authority, and shall [, subject to the approval of the board of county commissioners of Lander County,] fix a rate of levy which, when levied upon every dollar of assessed valuation of taxable property within the geographical boundaries of the authority, and together with other revenues, will raise the amount required by the authority annually to pay the costs of acquiring, operating and maintaining the airport of the authority, to extend and better it if appropriate, and promptly to pay in full, when due, all interest on and principal of general obligation bonds and other general obligations of the authority. In the event of accruing defaults or deficiencies, an additional levy may be made as provided in section 14 of this act.

2. The board shall certify to the board of county commissioners of Lander County, at the same time as fixed by law for certifying thereto tax levies, the rate so fixed with directions that at the time and in the manner required by law for levying taxes for county purposes the board of county commissioners shall levy such tax upon the assessed valuation of all taxable property within the geographical boundaries of the authority, in addition to such other taxes as may be levied by the board of county commissioners at the rate so fixed and determined.

Sec. 6. Section 14 of the above entitled act, being chapter 458, Statutes of Nevada 1983, at page 1212, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 14. 1. The board, in certifying annual levies, shall take into account the maturing general obligation indebtedness for the ensuing year as provided in its contracts, maturing general obligation bonds and interest on such bonds, and deficiencies and defaults of prior years, and shall make ample provision for the payment thereof.

2. If the money produced from these levies, together with other revenues of the authority, are not sufficient punctually to pay the annual installments on such obligations, and interest thereon, and to pay defaults and deficiencies, the board shall [make, with the approval of the board of county commissioners of Lander County,] require such additional levies of taxes to be made as may be necessary for such purposes, and, notwithstanding any limitations, the taxes must be made and continue to be levied until the general obligation indebtedness of the authority is fully paid.

Sec. 7. Section 15 of the above entitled act, being chapter 458, Statutes of Nevada 1983, at page 1213, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15. 1. [The body having authority to levy taxes within each county shall levy the taxes provided in this act.

2.] All officials charged with the duty of collecting taxes shall collect the taxes at the time and in the same form and manner, and with like interest and penalties, as other taxes are collected and when collected shall pay the same to the authority. The payment of such collections must be made monthly to the treasurer of the authority and paid into the depository thereof to the credit of the authority.

[3.] 2. All taxes levied under this act, together with interest thereon and penalties for default in payment thereof, and all costs of collecting such taxes, interest and penalties constitute, until paid, a perpetual lien on and against the property taxed; and the lien is on a parity with the tax lien of other general taxes.

Sec. 8. Sections 17 and 28 of the above entitled act, being chapter 458, Statutes of Nevada 1983, at pages 1213 and 1216 respectively, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 9. The title of the above entitled act, being chapter 458, Statutes of Nevada 1983, at page 1208, is hereby amended to read as follows:

An Act creating the Airport Authority of Lander County; [making legislative findings and declarations; defining certain words and terms;] providing for the appointment, election, removal, number, terms, compensation, duties and powers of a board of trustees; specifying the powers of the authority, including the power to levy and collect general (ad valorem) taxes, borrow money and issue securities to evidence such borrowing; requiring the transfer of airport properties, functions and outstanding obligations of Lander County to the authority; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

Amend the title of the bill after the first "An Act" by inserting: "to amend the title of and".

THE SIXTY-FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), March 22, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Arberry, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman James W. Schofield.

Dear Heavenly Father, we come before Thee today to ask again for Your blessings to guide us through our deliberations. Give us the wisdom and knowledge to make the right decisions in those deliberations; to be just and benevolent to all the people affected by our actions. We ask You to bless the Dini family in their loss of mother and grandmother and give them a special strength and comfort during this time to lighten their hearts. Please watch over each of us during these times so important to everyone. We ask these blessings in the Name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

THE SIXTY-FIFTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), March 26, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:06 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Bob Coffin.

Dear Lord, in the past month Your servants here in this house have composed prayers for You which are thoughtful and reverent. They have been as diverse as the backgrounds of the men and women who have composed them. Lord, I do not know if any one of those prayers has pleased You more than any other. But I pray that You have heard them. There is raging in our country a debate, Lord, over whether our children should pray openly to You when they start their school day or whether they should pray and meditate silently as they do in our state now. Lord, I ask that You give us the wisdom to decide which way is most pleasing to You. We will now pray silently to You for Your guidance, just as our children have done this morning. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

THE SIXTY-SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), March 27, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Bruce R. Bogaert.

Let us pray that strength and courage abundant be given to all who work for a world of reason and understanding. That the good that lies in each of our hearts may day by day be magnified that we will come to see more clearly not that which divides us, but that which unites us. That each hour may bring us closer to understanding of ourselves over our own evils and weaknesses. That the true spirit of cooperation abide with us during this session. That a hope for an abiding faith in a greater Nevada may live among all of us at all times. That all sections of Nevada shall build and grow in harmony and peace. That we show sympathy and forbearance with each of our various problems. That we plan for the future of Nevada with confidence and good judgment. These things we ask in Your Name, Oh Lord. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Assembly called to order at 11:05 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Courtenay C. Swain.

Heavenly Father, we ask Your blessing upon all of us this morning. Grant that we may be guided through this day and all the days of this session by Your firm but gentle hand. Keep us ever mindful of what our true priorities are and give us the humility and sense of service to You and to the people we represent to do our duties well. Grant to us the clarity of mind and farsightedness to do what is truly in the best interest of the people of this great state. Give us the courage of our convictions to stand firm in what we truly believe is right; while at the same time keeping our minds open enough to listen to the beliefs of others. Guide us, Oh Lord, in our efforts today and every day of our lives. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

Assembly Bill No. 32.

The following Senate amendment was read:

Amendment No. 254.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 2 as section 3 and adding a new section designated section 2, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. Section 4 of chapter 11, Statutes of Nevada 1985, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. NRS 115.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

115.060 1. If the property declared upon as a homestead is community property, the husband and wife shall be deemed to hold the homestead as community property with a right of survivorship. Upon the death of either spouse:

(a) The exemption of the homestead from execution continues, without further filing, as to any debt or liability existing against the spouses, or either of them, until the death of the survivor and thereafter as to any debt or liability existing against the survivor at the time of his death.

(b) The property vests absolutely in the survivor.

2. If the property declared upon as a homestead is the separate property of either spouse, the husband and wife shall be deemed to hold the right to exemption of the homestead from execution jointly while both spouses are living. If the property retains its character as separate property until the death of one or the other of the spouses:

(a) If it is the separate property of the survivor, the exemption of the homestead continues.

(b) If it was the separate property of the decedent, the exemption of the homestead from execution continues as to any debt or liability existing against the spouses, or either of them, at the time of death of the decedent but ceases as to any subsequent debt or liability of the survivor.

(c) The property belongs to the person (or his heirs) to whom it belonged when filed upon as a homestead.

3. If the property declared upon as a homestead is the property of a single person , [who is the head of a family,] upon his death:

(a) The exemption of the homestead from execution continues, without further filing, as to any debt or liability existing against him at the time of his death and as to any subsequent debt or liability against a [member of his family] person who was living in his house [and under his care and maintenance] at the time of his death, if that [member of the family] person continues to reside on the homestead property and is [his minor child, minor brother or sister, minor nephew or niece or his parent or grandparent.] related to him by consanguinity or affinity, even if the person through whom the relation by affinity was created predeceased the declarant.

(b) The right of enjoyment of the property belongs to each [member of the family] person described in paragraph (a) until that [member] person no longer qualifies under that paragraph.

4. If [the property declared upon as a homestead is the property of a single person who is not the head of a family, upon his death the exemption of the homestead from execution continues as to any debt or liability existing against him at the time of his death.] two or more persons who are not related by consanguinity or affinity have claimed as a homestead their respective undivided interests in a single parcel of land or a mobile home, upon the death of one the exemption of the entire property from execution continues as to any debt or liability of the decedent and the other declarants until the death of the last declarant to die, but only for the benefit of a declarant who continues to reside on or in the property.".

THE SEVENTY-FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), April 1, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:05 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Virgil M. Getto.

Heavenly Father, Designer of the Universe, Author of the Beginnings, guide us now as we undertake our tasks on this beautiful first day of April, and the first day of another weekly gathering of this Assembly. You have blessed us this day with a group of dedicated hard-working legislators and we ask that You continue to bless us in this manner. There are times when we are petty and selfish and harbor grudges. Help us instead to be unselfish and forgiving. Keep us from being ruled by pride and egotism; instead, to treat others with respect. Help us to acknowledge that their opinions are as valid as our own and have a right to be heard. We legislators bear an awesome responsibility to represent the people of our beloved state to the best of our ability. Help us to approach our duties with honesty, sincerity and humility. Recognizing that our diverse talents come from You and are not from our own creation. Keep us always mindful of our role, that we are the servants of the citizens of Nevada and not here to benefit personally or to satisfy our own fragile egos. In President Lincoln's second annual message to Congress in the 1860's he said, "If there ever could be a proper time for mere catch arguments, that time surely is not now. In times like the present, men should utter nothing for which they would not willingly be responsible through time and in eternity." It is appropriate for us to recall these words as we ask you, Lord, to bestow Your blessings on President Reagan and our nation's representatives in their arms control negotiations with the Soviet Union. All these things we ask through Christ, our Lord, AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Amend the bill as a whole by adding new sections designated sections 6 through 14, following section 5, to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. Chapter 244A of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 7, 8 and 9 of this act.

Sec. 7. "Historic structure" means a building, facility or other structure which is eligible for listing in the state register of historic places under NRS 383.085.

Sec. 8. 1. Each county is vested with all the powers necessary to accomplish the purposes set forth in NRS 244A.695, but these powers must be exercised for the health, safety and welfare of the inhabitants of this state.

2. NRS 244A.669 to 244A.763, inclusive, and sections 7, 8 and 9 of this act must be liberally construed in conformity with the purposes set forth in NRS 244A.695.

Sec. 9. A county may not, under NRS 244A.669 to 244A.763 inclusive, and sections 7, 8 and 9 of this act:

1. Operate any manufacturing, industrial or warehousing enterprise or an organization for research and development to which it provided assistance; or

2. Assist any manufacturing, industrial or warehousing enterprise or organization for research and development to locate in the county, except for health and care facilities and supplemental facilities for health and care facilities, which would compete substantially with an enterprise or organization already established in that county for substantially the same intrastate markets.

Sec. 10. NRS 244A.671 is hereby amended to read as follows:

244A.671 Whenever used in NRS 244A.669 to 244A.763, inclusive, and sections 7, 8 and 9 of this act, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context, the words and terms defined in NRS 244A.673 to 244A.693, inclusive, and section 7 of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 11. NRS 244A.689 is hereby amended to read as follows:

244A.689 "Project" means:

1. Any land, building or other improvement and all real and personal properties necessary in connection therewith, whether or not in existence, suitable for a manufacturing, industrial [, warehousing or] or warehousing enterprise or an organization for research and development , [enterprise,] a health and care facility or a supplemental facility for a health and care facility.

2. The refinancing of any land, building or other improvement and any real and personal property necessary for a health and care facility or a supplemental facility for a health and care facility.

3. Any land, building, structure, facility, system, fixture, improvement, appurtenance, machinery, equipment, or any combination thereof or any interest therein, used by any natural person, partnership, firm, company, corporation (including a public utility), association, trust, estate, political subdivision, state agency or any other legal entity, or its legal representative, agent or assigns:

(a) For the reduction, abatement or prevention of pollution or for the removal or treatment of any substance in a processed material which otherwise would cause pollution when such material is used.

(b) In connection with the furnishing of water if available on reasonable demand to members of the general public.

(c) In connection with the furnishing of energy or gas.

4. Any real or personal property appropriate for addition to a hotel, motel, apartment building, casino or office building to protect it or its occupants from fire.

5. Any undertaking by a public utility, in addition to that allowed by subsections 2 and 3, which is solely for the purpose of making capital improvements to property, whether or not in existence, of a public utility.

6. In addition to the kinds of property described in subsections 2 and 3, if the project is for the generation and transmission of electricity, any other property necessary or useful for that purpose, including without limitation any leases and any rights to take water or fuel.

7. The preservation of any historic structure or its restoration for its original or another use, if the plan has been approved by the division of historic preservation and archaeology of the state department of conservation and natural resources.

Sec. 12. NRS 244A.695 is hereby amended to read as follows:

244A.695 [1.] It is the intent of the legislature to authorize counties to finance, acquire, own, lease, improve and dispose of properties to [the end that the counties may be able to promote industry and develop trade by inducing manufacturing, industrial, warehousing and research and development enterprises to locate in, remain or expand in this state, in order to assist in relieving the serious threat of extensive unemployment in parts of this state, in securing and maintaining a balanced and stable economy in all parts of this state and in furthering the use of its agricultural products and natural resources, and to enhance public safety by protecting hotels, motels, apartment buildings, casinos, office buildings and their occupants from fire. It is, therefore, the intention of the legislature to vest the counties with all powers that may be necessary to enable them to accomplish those purposes. The powers must in all respects be exercised for the benefit of the inhabitants of this state for the promotion of their safety, welfare, convenience and prosperity.

2. It is also the intent of the legislature to authorize counties to finance, acquire, own, lease or sell projects or interests therein for the purpose of:

(a) Reducing, abating or preventing pollution or removing or treating any substance in processed material which otherwise would cause pollution when such material is used, to protect and promote the health, welfare and safety of the citizens of this state and to retain and promote private industry and commerce with the resultant higher level of employment and economic activity and stability.

(b) Promoting the furnishing of energy and gas, and of water if available on reasonable demand to members of the general public, in order to protect and promote the health, welfare and safety of the citizens of this state and to retain and promote private industry and commerce with the resultant higher level of employment and economic activity and stability. This purpose includes the furnishing of electricity and the provision of facilities to transmit electricity for sale outside the state if its generation promotes industry, commerce or employment within the state.

3. It is also the intent of the legislature to authorize counties to finance, acquire, own, lease, improve and dispose of property so that health and care facilities and supplemental facilities for health and care facilities may be acquired, developed, expanded and maintained by enterprisers who will provide health care of high quality at reasonable rates for the benefit of the residents of the county.

4. It is not intended that any county itself be authorized to operate any such manufacturing, industrial, warehousing or research and development enterprise.

5. No county may by virtue of NRS 244A.669 to 244A.763, inclusive, assist any manufacturing, industrial, warehousing or research and development enterprise to locate in the county which would offer substantial competition to an existing enterprise within the county whose intrastate markets are substantially the same. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to health and care facilities or to supplemental facilities for health and care facilities.

6. NRS 244A.669 to 244A.763, inclusive, must be liberally construed in conformity with this declaration of purpose.] :

1. Promote industry and employment and develop trade by inducing manufacturing, industrial and warehousing enterprises and organizations for research and development to locate in, remain or expand in this state to further prosperity throughout the state and to further the use of the agricultural products and the natural resources of this state.

2. Enhance public safety by protecting hotels, motels, apartment buildings, casinos, office buildings and their occupants from fire.

3. Protect the health, safety and welfare of the public and promote private industry, commerce and employment in this state by:

(a) Reducing, abating or preventing pollution or removing or treating any substance in processed material which would cause pollution; and

(b) Furnishing energy, including electricity to the public, if available on reasonable demand, and providing facilities to transmit electricity for sale outside the state.

4. Promote the health of residents of the county by enabling a private enterprise to acquire, develop, expand and maintain health and care facilities and supplemental facilities for health and care facilities which will provide services of high quality to those residents at reasonable rates.

5. Promote the educational, cultural, economic and general welfare of the public by financing the preservation of historic structures in the county, or their restoration for the original or another use, in order to preserve structures of historic interest.

Sec. 13. NRS 244A.711 is hereby amended to read as follows:

244A.711 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 244A.703, after holding the required public hearing, the board of county commissioners shall proceed no further unless or until it:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, determines by resolution the total amount of money necessary to be provided by the county for the acquisition, improvement and equipment of the project;

(b) Receives a 5-year operating history from the contemplated lessee, purchaser or other obligor, or from a parent or other enterprise which guarantees principal and interest payments on any bonds issued;

(c) Receives evidence that the contemplated lessee, purchaser, other obligor or other enterprise which guarantees principal and interest payments, has received within the 12 months preceding the date of the public hearing, or then has in effect, a rating within one of the top four rating categories of either Moody's Investor Service, Inc. or Standard and Poor's Corporation, except that a municipal or other public supplier of electricity in this state, a public utility regulated by the public service commission of Nevada, the owner of a historic structure, a health and care facility or a supplemental facility for a health and care facility is not required to furnish that evidence;

(d) Determines by resolution that the contemplated lessee, purchaser or other obligor has sufficient financial resources to place the project in operation and to continue its operation, meeting the obligations of the lease, purchase contract or financing agreement; and

(e) If the project is for the generation and transmission of electricity, determines by resolution that the project will serve one or more of the purposes set forth in NRS 244A.695 and specifies in the resolution its findings supporting that determination.

2. If the project is for the generation and transmission of electricity, the board may estimate the total amount of money necessary for its completion, and the total amount of money which may be provided by the county in connection with the project may exceed the estimate, without the requirement for any further public hearings to be held in connection therewith, to the extent that the excess is required to complete the project or to finance any improvements to or replacements in the project and the county has previously determined to finance the remaining costs of acquiring, improving and equipping the project.

3. The board may refuse to adopt such a resolution with respect to any project even if all the criteria of subsection 1 are satisfied. If the board desires to adopt such a resolution with respect to any project where any criterion of subsection 1 is not satisfied, it may do so only with the approval of the state board of finance. In requesting this approval, the board of county commissioners shall transmit to the state board of finance all evidence received pursuant to subsection 1.

4. If any part of the project or improvements is to be constructed by a lessee or his designee, a purchaser or his designee or an obligor or his designee, the board shall provide, or determine that there are provided, sufficient safeguards to assure that all money provided by the county will be expended solely for the purposes of the project.

Sec. 14. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval."

Amend the title of the bill, second line, after "structure;", by inserting: "enlarging the uses of certain county revenue bonds to include the restoration or preservation of a historic structure;".

Assemblyman Bergevin moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblyman Bergevin.

Amendment adopted.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Price, Nevin, Williams and Little:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 15—Proposing to amend article 10 of the constitution of the State of Nevada, relating to taxation, to authorize the legislature to establish an exemption for property on which a declaration of homestead has been recorded from the property tax.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 1 of article 10 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. 1. The legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims, when not patented, the proceeds alone of which shall be assessed and taxed, and when patented, each patented mine shall be assessed at not less than five hundred dollars ($500), except when one hundred dollars ($100) in labor has been actually performed on such patented mine during the year, in addition to the tax upon the net proceeds . [; shares]

2. Shares of stock (except shares of stock in banking corporations), bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The legislature may constitute agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used, as a separate class for taxation purposes and may provide a separate uniform plan for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such plan is provided, the legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

7. No inheritance or estate tax shall ever be levied . [, and there shall also be excepted such property as may be exempted by law]

8. The legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

9. The legislature may exempt by law property or any portion of the value of property on which a declaration of homestead has been recorded.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 16—Proposing to amend the Nevada constitution to provide for limited, annual sessions of the legislature and restrict the times for calling a special session.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That sections 2, 15 and 33 of article 4 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended, article 4 be further amended by adding thereto a new section to be designated section 29, and section 9 of article 5 be amended to read respectively as follows:

Sec. 2. [The sessions of the Legislature shall be biennial, and shall commence on the 3rd Monday of January next ensuing the election of members of the Assembly, unless the Governor of the State shall, in the interim, convene the Legislature by proclamation.] The legislature shall meet in regular session annually, beginning on the second Monday in March of 1989, and continuing on that date for every odd-numbered year thereafter. The session in even-numbered years must begin on the second Monday in January.

[Sec:] Sec. 15. The doors of each House shall be kept open during its session, except the Senate while sitting in executive session, and neither shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three consecutive calendar days nor to any other place than that in which they may be holding their sessions.

Sec. 29. The regular session of the legislature must not exceed 50 legislative days and those sessions must not end later than midnight on the 50th legislative day. A special session convened by the governor must not exceed 20 legislative days.

[Sec:] Sec. 33. The members of the Legislature shall receive for their services, a compensation to be fixed by law and paid out of the public treasury, for not to exceed [60] 50 legislative days during any regular session of the legislature and not to exceed 20 legislative days during any special session convened by the governor; but no increase of such compensation shall take effect during the term for which the members of either house shall have been elected Provided, that an appropriation may be made for the payment of such actual expenses as members of the Legislature may incur for postage, express charges, newspapers and stationery not exceeding the sum of Sixty dollars for any general or special session to each member; and Furthermore Provided, that the Speaker of the Assembly, and Lieutenant Governor, as President of the Senate, shall each, during the time of their actual attendance as such presiding officers receive an additional allowance of two dollars per diem.

[Sec:] Sec. 9. 1. The Governor may on extraordinary occasions, convene the Legislature by Proclamation and shall state to both houses when organized, the purpose for which they have been convened, and the Legislature shall transact no legislative business, except that for which they were specially convened, or such other legislative business as the Governor may call to the attention of the Legislature while in Session.

2. The governor shall not convene such a special session within 30 days after the end of a regular session except in the case of an emergency such as:

(a) A disaster which substantially affects the state;

(b) A request by the President or Congress of the United States; or

(c) A violation of the constitution of the State of Nevada which threatens the well-being of the state.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, April 4, 1985

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 29.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 29.

Assemblyman Bogaert moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Bogaert, Dini, Thompson, Getto, Nicholas and Price.

Assemblyman Joerg requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN BOGAERT:

I would just like to briefly say that I had the privilege of serving one term with Art Palmer. He is a legendary figure and it was a pleasure that one term.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

It has certainly been my honor to have served all these years with Mr. Palmer. We had a few things in common; we both graduated from UNR and we were both members of Block "N" Athletic Society at the University of Nevada. When I came here in 1967, of course, we did not have the elaborate building or staff we have now. We had a one man research staff and Art Palmer was the voice of the entire Research Department of the Counsel Bureau at that time. He grew with our agency and today we have a fine efficient staff because of his dedication.

He was a very kind man and a very hard working man. You didn't realize how much work he did because he was behind the scenes taking care of business. He ran things with an iron hand and I was very proud of the job he did here as director since 1972. I think that we can say he was a hard working dedicated Nevadan and worked for the best interest of the legislative process. He never let politics into the halls and made sure the staff understood that. It was a nonpartisan, bipartisan effort here among our professional people in this building. Because of his dedication, we now have the fine staff in the Research, audit and all the other divisions of the Counsel Bureau.

He was well respected in the Western Conference of State Legislatures and whatever national organizations he belonged to as our representative. In fact, I believe he was chairman of one of those organizations recently. I think it is a sad day for us to see him leave our organization, but it is a happy day for him and his wife to be able to travel and go all over the country. We wish him well from the bottom of our hearts.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON:

As a member of the National Conference to Security and Services, Mr. Palmer and I attended a conference in Austin, Texas this last year. They gave him a retirement party there. I can tell you he is very well respected all over the United States. An interesting fact about Mr. Palmer that not too many people know is that he has been in every county in the United States. That is a lot of traveling. He recalled some of his adventures he had in reaching some of these counties, particularly in Alaska where he had to be flown in by bush pilots. He has documented all of his experiences.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

When I came to the legislature, one of the first people I met was Mr. Palmer. He was a man that you could communicate with very easily. As Mr. Dini stated, he grew with the Counsel Bureau. Being a one man operation to begin with, a great deal of growth had been reached when he retired. Art had a great deal of influence on my learning about the legislature and about dealing with people. His real expertise was in dealing with people. He had a very leveling effect. He was a very kind man and a real humanitarian. He was able to keep people working for the Counsel Bureau at a smooth pace. That was a "hot seat" he sat in and he did it very well over the years.

I think we can also give him credit for some of the advances that we have made. For instance, he was a real leader in keeping up with all the modern technology. He encouraged legislators to get involved. I think many times the reason legislators have gone to conferences to upgrade themselves was because of the encouragement of Art Palmer. I certainly wish him well in his retirement years and I hope they will be filled with enjoyment.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

I wish to briefly acknowledge the need for everyone of us in the Assembly to look back at Mr. Palmer as one of our founding fathers. I suggest that we thank him for those things he has done for us. I personally would thank him and his wife for being good friends of my wife and myself.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

I, too, would take a moment to give one other small fact about Mr. Palmer. He, by the way, was a guidance of mine and all legislators that entered into the process during the years that he was here. He was a member of the staff of the first classes from UNLV and also taught at Las Vegas High School. He taught several legislators, including the Governor and Mr. Bremner. He has been around this state a long time and is certainly a credit to our state.

Resolution adopted.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:
Amendment No. 342.
Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 to 40, inclusive, and adding new sections designated sections 1 to 60, respectively, to read as follows:
"Section 1. Title 38 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new chapter to consist of the provisions set forth as sections 2 to 60, inclusive, of this act.
Sec. 2. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in sections 3 to 13, inclusive, of this act, have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.
Sec. 3. 1. "Abuse or neglect of a child" means:
(a) Physical or mental injury of a nonaccidental nature;
(b) Sexual abuse or sexual exploitation; or
(c) Negligent treatment or maltreatment as set forth in section 16 of this act, of a child caused or allowed by a person responsible for his welfare under circumstances which indicate that the child's health or welfare is harmed or threatened with harm.
2. A child is not abused or neglected, nor is his health or welfare harmed or threatened for the sole reason that his parent or guardian, in good faith, selects and depends upon nonmedical remedial treatment for such child, if such treatment is recognized and permitted under the laws of this state in lieu of medical treatment. This subsection does not limit the court in ensuring that a child receive a medical examination and treatment pursuant to NRS 62.231.
3. As used in this section, "allow" means to do nothing to prevent or stop the abuse or neglect of a child in circumstances where the person knows or has reason to know that a child is abused or neglected.
Sec. 4. "Agency which provides protective services" means:
1. The local office of the welfare division; or
2. An agency of a county authorized by the court to receive and investigate reports of abuse or neglect, which provides or arranges for necessary services.
Sec. 5. "Child" means a person under the age of 18 years.
Sec. 6. "Court" means the juvenile division of the district court.

Sec. 7. "Custodian" means a person or a governmental organization, other than a parent or legal guardian, who has been awarded legal custody of a child.

Sec. 8. "Mental injury" means an injury to the intellectual or psychological capacity or the emotional condition of a child as evidenced by an observable and substantial impairment of his ability to function within his normal range of performance or behavior.

Sec. 9. "Parent" means a natural or adoptive parent whose parental rights have not been terminated.

Sec. 10. "Physical injury" means:

1. Permanent or temporary disfigurement; or
2. Impairment of any bodily function or organ of the body.

Sec. 11. "Sexual abuse" includes acts upon a child constituting:

1. Incest under NRS 201.180;
2. Lewdness with a child under NRS 201.230;
3. Annoyance or molestation of a child under NRS 207.260;
4. Sado-masochistic abuse under NRS 201.262;
5. Sexual assault under NRS 200.366; and
6. Statutory sexual seduction under NRS 200.368.

Sec. 12. "Sexual exploitation" includes forcing, allowing or encouraging a child:

1. To solicit for or engage in prostitution;
2. To view a pornographic film or literature; and
3. To engage in:

(a) Filming, photographing or recording on video tape; or

(b) Posing, modeling, depiction or a live performance before an audience, which involves the exhibition of a child's genitals or any sexual conduct with a child, as defined in NRS 200.700.

Sec. 13. "Welfare division" means the welfare division of the department of human resources.

Sec. 14. Excessive corporal punishment may result in physical or mental injury constituting abuse or neglect of a child under the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 15. A person is responsible for a child's welfare under the provisions of this chapter if he is the child's parent, guardian or foster parent, a stepparent with whom the child lives, an adult person continually or regularly found in the same household as the child, or a person directly responsible or serving as a volunteer for or employed in a public or private home, institution or facility where the child actually resides.

Sec. 16. Negligent treatment or maltreatment of a child occurs if a child has been abandoned, is without proper care, control and supervision or lacks the subsistence, education, shelter, medical care or other care necessary for the well-being of the child because of the faults or habits of the person responsible for his welfare or his neglect or refusal to provide them when able to do so.

Sec. 17. The welfare division shall:

1. Administer any money granted to the state by the Federal Government under 42 U.S.C. § 5103;

2. Plan, coordinate and evaluate all protective services provided throughout the state;

3. Provide directly or arrange for other persons or governmental organizations to provide protective services;

4. Coordinate its activities with and assist the efforts of any law enforcement agency, a court of competent jurisdiction and any public or private organization which provides social services for the prevention, identification and treatment of abuse or neglect of children; and

5. Involve communities in the improvement of protective services.

Sec. 18. The welfare division shall adopt regulations establishing reasonable and uniform standards for:

1. Protective services provided in this state;

2. Programs for the prevention of abuse or neglect of a child;

3. Development of local councils involving public and private organizations;

4. Reports of abuse or neglect, records of these reports and the response to these reports;

5. Management and assessment of reported cases of abuse or neglect;

6. Protection of the legal rights of parents and children;

7. Emergency shelter for a child; and

8. The prevention, identification and correction of abuse or neglect of a child in residential institutions.

Sec. 19. The welfare division shall establish and maintain a center with a toll-free telephone number to receive reports of abuse or neglect of a child in this state 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Any reports made to this center must be promptly transmitted to the agency providing protective services in the community where the child is located.

Sec. 20. 1. A child is in need of protection if:

(a) He has been abandoned by a person responsible for his welfare;

(b) He is suffering from congenital drug addiction or the fetal alcohol syndrome, because of the faults or habits of a person responsible for his welfare;

(c) He has been subjected to abuse or neglect by a person responsible for his welfare;

(d) He is in the care of a person responsible for his welfare and another child has died as a result of abuse or neglect by that person; or

(e) He has been placed for care or adoption in violation of law.

2. A child may be in need of protection if the person responsible for his welfare:

(a) Is unable to discharge his responsibilities to and for the child because of incarceration, hospitalization or other physical or mental incapacity;

(b) Fails, although he is financially able to do so or has been offered financial or other means to do so, to provide for the following needs of the child:

(1) Food, clothing or shelter necessary for the child's health or safety;

(2) Education as required by law; or

(3) Adequate medical care.

Sec. 21. 1. A report must be made immediately to an agency which provides protective services or to a law enforcement agency when there is reason to believe that a child has been abused or neglected. If the report of abuse or neglect of a child involves the acts or omissions of an agency which provides protective services or a law enforcement agency, the report must be made to and the investigation made by an agency other than the one alleged to have committed the acts or omissions.

2. Reports must be made by the following persons who, in their professional or occupational capacities, know or have reason to believe that a child has been abused or neglected:

(a) A physician, dentist, chiropractor, optometrist, podiatrist, medical examiner, resident, intern, professional or practical nurse, physician's assistant, psychiatrist, psychologist, marriage and family counselor, alcohol or drug abuse counselor, advanced emergency medical technician-ambulance or other person providing medical services licensed or certified in this state;

(b) Any personnel of a hospital or similar institution engaged in the admission, examination, care or treatment of persons or an administrator, manager or other person in charge of a hospital or similar institution upon notification of suspected abuse or neglect of a child by a member of the staff of the hospital;

(c) A coroner;

(d) A clergyman, practitioner of Christian Science or religious healer, unless he has acquired the knowledge of the abuse or neglect from the offender during a confession;

(e) A social worker and an administrator, teacher, librarian or counselor of a school;

(f) Any person who maintains or is employed by a facility or establishment that provides care for children, children's camp or other public or private facility, institution or agency furnishing care to a child;

(g) Any person licensed to conduct a foster home;

(h) Any officer or employee of a law enforcement agency or an adult or juvenile probation officer; and

(i) Any person who maintains, is employed by or serves as a volunteer for an agency or service which advises persons regarding abuse or neglect of a child and refers them to persons and agencies where their requests and needs can be met.

3. A report may be made by any other person.

4. Any person required to report under this section who has reasonable cause to believe that a child has died as a result of abuse or neglect shall report this belief to the appropriate medical examiner or coroner, who shall investigate the report and submit to an agency which provides protective services his written findings, which must include the information required under the provisions of subsection 2 of section 22 of this act.

Sec. 22. 1. The report required under the provisions of subsection 1 of section 21 of this act may be made verbally, by telephone or otherwise.

2. The report must contain the following information, if obtainable:

(a) The name, address, age and sex of the child;

(b) The name and address of the child's parents or other person responsible for his care;

(c) The nature and extent of the abuse or neglect of the child;

(d) Any evidence of previously known or suspected abuse or neglect of the child or the child's siblings;

(e) The name, address and relationship, if known, of the person who is alleged to have abused or neglected the child; and

(f) Any other information known to the person making the report that the agency which provides protective services considers necessary.

Sec. 23. Any person who knowingly and willfully violates the provisions of section 21 of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 24. 1. Upon receipt of a report concerning the possible abuse or neglect of a child, an agency which provides protective services or a law enforcement agency shall, within 3 working days, initiate an investigation. A law enforcement agency shall promptly notify an agency which provides protective services of any report it receives, unless the law enforcement agency finds during the course of the investigation that the report is unsubstantiated.

2. An agency which provides protective services and a law enforcement agency shall cooperate in the investigation, if any, of a report of abuse or neglect of a child.

Sec. 25. 1. A designee of an agency investigating a report of abuse or neglect of a child may, without the consent of and outside the presence of any person responsible for the child's welfare, interview a child concerning any possible abuse or neglect. The child may be interviewed at any place where he is found. The designee shall, immediately after the conclusion of the interview, if reasonably possible, notify a person responsible for the child's welfare that the child was interviewed, unless the designee determines that such notification would endanger the child.

2. A designee of an agency investigating a report of abuse or neglect of a child may, without the consent of the person responsible for a child's welfare:

(a) Take or cause to be taken photographs of the child's body, including the areas of trauma; and

(b) If indicated after consultation with a physician, cause X-rays or medical tests to be performed on a child.

3. Upon the taking of any photographs, X-rays or medical tests pursuant to subsection 2, the person responsible for the child's welfare must be notified immediately if reasonably possible, unless the designee determines such notification would endanger the child. The reasonable cost of these photographs, X-rays or medical tests must be paid by the agency providing protective services if money is not otherwise available.

4. Any photographs or X-rays taken pursuant to subsection 2, or copies thereof, must be sent to the agency providing protective services and to the law enforcement agency participating in the investigation of the report. The photograph or X-ray:

(a) Must be accompanied by a statement indicating the name of the child, the name and address of the person taking the photograph or X-ray and the date the photograph or X-ray was taken;

(b) Is admissible in any proceeding relating to abuse or neglect of the child; and

(c) May be given to the child's parent or guardian if he pays the cost of duplicating them.

Sec. 26. 1. Reports made pursuant to this chapter, as well as all records concerning these reports and investigations thereof, are confidential.

2. Any person, law enforcement agency or public agency, institution or facility who willfully releases data or information concerning such reports and investigations, except:

(a) Pursuant to a criminal prosecution relating to abuse or neglect of a child; and

(b) To persons or agencies enumerated in section 27 of this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 27. 1. Data or information concerning reports and investigations thereof made pursuant to this chapter may be made available only to:

(a) A physician who has before him a child who he reasonably believes may have been abused or neglected;

(b) A person authorized to place a child in protective custody if he has before him a child who he reasonably believes may have been abused or neglected and he requires the information to determine whether to place the child in protective custody;

(c) An agency, including an agency in another jursidiction, responsible for or authorized to undertake the care, treatment or supervision of:

(1) The child; or

(2) The person responsible for the child's welfare;

(d) A district attorney or other law enforcement officer who requires the information in connection with an investigation or prosecution of abuse or neglect of a child;

(e) Any court, for in camera inspection only, unless the court determines that public disclosure of the information is necessary for the determination of an issue before it;

(f) A person engaged in bona fide research or an audit, but any information identifying the subjects of a report must not be made available to him;

(g) The child's guardian ad litem;

(h) A grand jury upon its determination that access to these records is necessary in the conduct of its official business;

(i) An agency which provides protective services or which is authorized to receive, investigate and evaluate reports of abuse or neglect of a child;

(j) A team organized for the protection of a child pursuant to section 32 of this act;

(k) A parent or legal guardian of the child, if the identity of the person responsible for reporting the alleged abuse or neglect of the child to a public agency is kept confidential;

(l) The person named in the report as allegedly being abused or neglected, if he is not a minor or otherwise legally incompetent;

(m) An agency which is authorized by law to license foster homes or facilities for children or to investigate persons applying for approval to adopt a child, if the agency has before it an application for that license or is investigating an applicant to adopt a child; or

(n) Upon written consent of the parent, any state or local officer or legislator authorized to investigate the activities or programs of an agency which provides protective services if:

(1) The identity of the person making the report is kept confidential; and

(2) the officer, legislator or a member of his family is not the person alleged to have committed the abuse or neglect.

2. Any person, except for the subject of a report or a district attorney or other law enforcement officer initiating legal proceedings, who is given access, pursuant to subsection 1, to information identifying the subjects of a report who makes this information public is guilty of a misdemeanor.

3. The welfare division shall adopt regulations to carry out the provisions of this section.

Sec. 28. Each agency which provides protective services shall investigate each report of abuse or neglect received or referred to it to determine:

1. The composition of the family, household or facility, including the name, address, age, sex and race of each child named in the report, any siblings or other children in the same place or under the care of the same person, the persons responsible for the children's welfare and any other adult living or working in the same household or facility;

2. Whether there is reasonable cause to believe any child is abused or neglected or threatened with abuse or neglect, the nature and extent of existing or previous injuries, abuse or neglect and any evidence thereof, and the person apparently responsible;

3. If there is reasonable cause to believe that a child is abused or neglected, the immediate and long-term risk to the child if he remains in the same environment; and

4. The treatment and services which appear necessary to help prevent further abuse or neglect and to improve his environment and the ability of the person responsible for the child's welfare to care adequately for him.

Sec. 29. The agency investigating a report of abuse or neglect of a child shall, upon completing the investigation, report to the central registry:

1. Identifying and demographic information on the child alleged to be abused or neglected, his parents, any other person responsible for his welfare and the person allegedly responsible for the abuse or neglect;

2. The facts of the alleged abuse or neglect, including the date and type of alleged abuse or neglect, the manner in which the abuse was inflicted and the severity of the injuries; and

3. The disposition of the case.

Sec. 30. 1. An agency which provides protective services may waive a full investigation of a report of abuse or neglect of a child made by another agency or a person if, after assessing the circumstances, it is satisfied that:

(a) The person or other agency who made the report can provide services to meet the needs of the child and the family, and this person or agency agrees to do so; and

(b) The person or other agency agrees in writing to report periodically on the child and to report immediately any threat or harm to the child's welfare.

2. The agency which provides protective services shall supervise for a reasonable period the services provided by the person or other agency pursuant to subsection 1.

Sec. 31. 1. If the agency which provides protective services determines that a child needs protection, but is not in imminent danger from abuse or neglect, it may:

(a) Offer to the parents or guardian a plan for services and inform him that the agency has no legal authority to compel him to accept the plan but that it has the authority to petition the court pursuant to section 49 of this act or to refer the case to the district attorney or a law enforcement agency; or

(b) File a petition pursuant to section 49 of this act and, if a child is adjudicated in need of protection, request that the child be removed from the custody of his parents or guardian or that he remain at home with or without the supervision of the court or of any person or agency designated by the court.

2. If the parent or guardian accepts the conditions of the plan offered by the agency pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection 1, the agency may elect not to file a petition and may arrange for appropriate services, including medical care, care of the child during the day, management of the home or supervision of the child, his parents or guardian.

Sec. 32. An agency which provides protective service may organize one or more teams for protection of a child to assist the agency in the evaluation and investigation of reports of abuse or neglect of a child, diagnosis and treatment of abuse or neglect and the coordination of responsibilities. Members of the team serve at the invitation of the agency and must include representatives of other organizations concerned with education, law enforcement or physical or mental health.

Sec. 33. 1. A parent or guardian of a child who is in need of protection may place the child with a public agency authorized to care for children or a private institution or agency licensed by the department of human resources to care for such children if:

(a) Efforts to keep the child in his own home have failed; and

(b) The parents or guardian and the agency or institution voluntarily sign a written agreement for placement of the child which sets forth the rights and responsibilities of each of the parties to the agreement.

2. If a child is placed with an agency or institution pursuant to subsection 1, the parent or guardian shall:

(a) If able, contribute to the support of the child during his temporary placement;

(b) Inform the agency or institution of any change in his address or circumstances; and

(c) Meet with a representative of the agency or institution and participate in developing and carrying out a plan for the possible return of the child to his custody, the placement of the child with a relative or the eventual adoption of the child.

3. A parent or guardian who voluntarily agrees to place a child with an agency or institution pursuant to subsection 1 is entitled to have the child returned to his physical custody within 48 hours of a written request to that agency or institution. If that agency or institution determines that it would be detrimental to the best interests of the child to return him to the custody of his parent or guardian, it shall cause a petition to be filed pursuant to section 49 of this act.

4. If the child has remained in temporary placement for 6 consecutive months, the agency or institution shall:

(a) Immediately return the child to the physical custody of his parent or guardian; or

(b) Cause a petition to be filed pursuant to section 49 of this act.

5. The welfare division shall adopt regulations to carry out the provisions of this section.

Sec. 34. If an agency which provides protective services determines that there is no reasonable cause to believe that a child is in need of protection, it shall proceed no further in that matter.

Sec. 35. If the agency which provides protective services determines that further action is necessary to protect a child who is in need of protection, as well as any other child under the same care who may be in need of protection, it may refer the case to the district attorney for criminal prosecution and may recommend the filing of a petition pursuant to section 49 of this act.

Sec. 36. 1. An agent or officer of a law enforcement agency, an officer of the juvenile probation department or a designee of an agency which provides protective services may place a child in protective custody without the consent of the person responsible for the child's welfare if he has reasonable cause to believe that immediate action is necessary to protect the child from injury, abuse or neglect. An agency which provides protective services shall request the assistance of a law enforcement agency in the removal of the child if it has reasonable cause to believe that the child or the person placing the child in protective custody may be threatened with harm.

2. A child placed in protective custody pending an investigation and a hearing held pursuant to section 47 of this act must be placed in a hospital, if the child needs hospitalization, or in a shelter, which may include a foster home or other home or facility which provides care for such children, but the child shall not be placed in a jail or other place for detention, incarceration or residential care of persons convicted of a crime or children charged with delinquent acts.

3. Any person placing a child in protective custody shall immediately:

(a) Take steps to protect any other child remaining in the home or facility, if necessary;

(b) Make a reasonable effort to inform the person responsible for the child's welfare that the child has been placed in protective custody; and

(c) As soon as practicable, inform the agency which provides protective services and the appropriate law enforcement agency.

Sec. 37. A physician treating a child or a person in charge of a hospital or similar institution may hold a child for no more than 24 hours if there is reasonable cause to believe that the child has been abused or neglected and that he is in danger of further harm if released. The physician or other person shall immediately notify a law enforcement agency or an agency which provides protective services that he is holding the child.

Sec. 38. Immunity from civil or criminal liability extends to every person who in good faith:

1. Makes a report pursuant to the provisions of section 21 of this act;

2. Conducts an interview or allows an interview to be taken pursuant to section 25 of this act;

3. Allows or takes photographs or X-rays pursuant to section 25 of this act;

4. Holds a child pursuant to section 37 of this act or places a child in protective custody;

5. Refers a case or recommends the filing of a petition pursuant to section 35 of this act; or

6. Participates in a judicial proceeding resulting from a referral or recommendation.

Sec. 39. Any person required to report under section 21 of this act may not invoke any of the privileges granted under chapter 49 of NRS:

1. For his failure to report as required under section 21 of this act; or

2. In cooperating with an agency which provides protective services or a guardian ad litem for a child; or

3. In any proceeding held pursuant to sections 42 to 60, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 40. Nothing in the provisions of NRS 432.100 to 432.130, inclusive, and sections 2 to 60, inclusive, of this act, prohibits an agency which provides protective services from sharing information with other state or local agencies if:

1. The purpose for sharing the information is for the development of a plan for the care, treatment or supervision of a child who has been abused or neglected or of a person responsible for the child's welfare;

2. The other agency has standards for confidentiality equivalent to those of the agency which provides protective services; and

3. Proper safeguards are taken to ensure the confidentiality of the information.

Sec. 41. An agency which provides protective services must receive from the state, any of its political subdivisions or any agency of either, any cooperation, assistance and information it requests in order to fulfill its responsibilities under NRS 432.100 to 432.130, inclusive, and sections 2 to 60, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 42. 1. The court has exclusive original jurisdiction in proceedings concerning any child living or found within the county who is a child in need of protection or may be a child in need of protection.

2. Action taken by the juvenile court because of the abuse or neglect of a child does not preclude the prosecution and conviction of any person for violation of NRS 200.508 based on the same facts.

Sec. 43. After a petition is filed that a child is in need of protection pursuant to section 49 of this act, the court shall appoint a representative of an agency which provides protective services, a juvenile probation officer, an officer of the court or a volunteer as a guardian ad litem to represent and protect the best interests of the child. A parent or other person responsible for the child's welfare may not be so appointed. No compensation may be allowed a person serving as guardian ad litem.

Sec. 44. 1. A parent or other person responsible for the child's welfare who is alleged to have abused or neglected a child may be represented by an attorney at all stages of any proceedings under sections 42 to 60, inclusive, of this act. If this person is indigent, the court may appoint an attorney to represent him. The court may, if it finds it appropriate, appoint an attorney to represent the child.

2. Each attorney, other than a public defender, if appointed under the provisions of subsection 1, is entitled to the same compensation and payment for expenses from the county as provided in NRS 7.125 for an attorney appointed to represent a person charged with a crime. An attorney appointed to represent a child may also be appointed as guardian ad litem for the child pursuant to section 43 of this act, unless the attorney requests the appointment of a separate guardian ad litem. He may not receive any compensation for his services as a guardian ad litem.

Sec. 45. Only those persons having a direct interest in the case, as ordered by the judge or master, may be admitted to any proceeding held pursuant to sections 42 to 60, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 46. In any civil proceeding had pursuant to sections 42 to 60, inclusive, of this act, a physician's testimony that a physical or mental injury of a child would ordinarily not be sustained or a condition not exist without either negligence or a deliberate but unreasonable act or failure to act by the person responsible for his welfare is prima facie a ground, unless rebutted, that the child is in need of protection.

Sec. 47. 1. A child taken into protective custody pursuant to section 36 of this act must be given a hearing, conducted by a judge, master or special master appointed by the judge for that particular hearing, within 72 hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after being taken into custody, to determine whether the child should remain in protective custody pending further action by the court.

2. Notice of the time and place of the hearing must be given to a parent or other person responsible for the child's welfare:

(a) By personal service of a written notice;

(b) Verbally; or

(c) If the parent or other person responsible for the child's welfare cannot be located after a reasonable effort, by posting a written notice on the door of his residence.

3. If notice is given by means of paragraph (b) or (c) of subsection 2, a copy of the notice must be mailed to the person at his last known address within 24 hours after the child is placed in protective custody.

Sec. 48. 1. At the commencement of the hearing on protective custody, the court shall advise the parties of their right to be represented by an attorney and of their right to present evidence.

2. If the court finds, as a result of the hearing that there is reasonable cause to believe:

(a) That the child may be harmed if released from protective custody; or

(b) A parent or other person responsible for the child's welfare is not available to care for the child, the court shall issue an order keeping the child in protective custody pending a disposition by the court.

3. If the court finds that the best interests of the child do not require that the child remain in protective custody, the court shall order his immediate release.

Sec. 49. 1. An agency which provides protective services:

(a) Shall, within 10 days after the hearing on protective custody, unless good cause exists, initiate a proceeding in court by filing a petition which meets the requirements set forth in section 50 of this act or recommend against any further action in court; or

(b) If a child is not placed in protective custody, may, after an investigation is made under sections 2 to 41, inclusive, of this act, file a petition which meets the requirements set forth in section 50 of this act.

2. If the agency recommends against further action, the court may, on its own motion, initiate proceedings when it finds that it is in the best interests of the child.

3. If a child has been placed in protective custody and if further action in court is taken, an agency which provides protective services shall make recommendations to the court concerning whether the child should be returned to the person responsible for his welfare pending further action in court.

Sec. 50. 1. A petition alleging that a child is in need of protection may be signed only by:

(a) A representative of an agency which provides protective services;

(b) A law enforcement officer or probation officer; or

(c) The district attorney.

2. The district attorney shall countersign every petition alleging need of protection, and shall represent the petitioner in all proceedings. If the district attorney fails or refuses to countersign the petition, the petitioner may seek a review by the attorney general. If the attorney general determines that a petition should be filed, he shall countersign the petition and shall represent the petitioner in all subsequent proceedings.

3. Every petition must be entitled, "In the Matter of....., a child," and must be verified by the person who signs it.

4. Every petition must set forth specifically:

(a) The facts which bring the child within the jurisdiction of the court as indicated in section 42 of this act;

(b) The name, date of birth and address of the residence of the child;

(c) The names and addresses of the residences of his parents and any other person responsible for the child's welfare, and spouse if any. If his parents or other person responsible for his welfare do not reside in this state or cannot be found within the state, or if their addresses are unknown, the petition must state the name of any known adult relative residing within the state, or if there is none, the known adult relative residing nearest to the court; and

(d) Whether the child is in protective custody, and if so, the agency responsible for placing the child in protective custody and the reasons therefor.

5. When any of the facts required by subsection 4 are not known, the petition must so state.

Sec. 51. 1. After a petition has been filed, the court shall direct the clerk to issue a summons requiring the person who has custody or control of the child to appear personally and bring the child before the court at a time and place stated in the summons. The summons must advise the parties of their rights to counsel at the adjudicatory hearing. A copy of the petition must be attached to each summons.

2. If the person so summoned is other than a parent or guardian of the child, then the parent or guardian, or both, must also be notified by a similar summons of the pendency of the hearing and of the time and place appointed.

3. Summons may be issued requiring the appearance of any other person whose presence, in the opinion of the court, is necessary.

4. If it appears that the child is in such condition or surroundings that his welfare requires that his custody be immediately assumed by the court, the court may order, by endorsement upon the summons, that the person serving it shall at once deliver the child to an agency which provides protective services in whose custody the child must remain until the further order of the court.

5. If the person summoned resides in this state, the summons must be served personally. If the person summoned cannot be found within this state or does not reside in this state, the summons must be mailed by registered or certified mail to his last known address.

Sec. 52. 1. An adjudicatory hearing must be held within 30 days after the filing of the petition, unless good cause is shown.

2. At the hearing, the court shall inform the parties of the specific allegations in the petition and give them an opportunity to admit or deny them. If the allegations are denied, the court shall hear evidence on the petition.

3. In adjudicatory hearings all relevant and material evidence helpful in determining the questions presented, including oral and written reports, may be received by the court and may be relied upon to the extent of its probative value. The parties or their attorney must be afforded an opportunity to examine and controvert written reports so received and to cross-examine individuals making reports when reasonably available.

4. The court may require the child to be present in court at the hearing.

5. If the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is in need of protection, it shall record its findings of fact and may proceed immediately or at another hearing held within 15 working days, to make a proper disposition of the case. If the court finds that the allegations in the petition have not been established, it shall dismiss the petition and, if the child is in protective custody, order the immediate release of the child.

Sec. 53. 1. If the court finds that the allegations of the petition are true, it shall order that a report be made in writing by an agency which provides protective services, concerning the conditions in the child's place of residence, the child's record in school, the mental, physical and social background of his family, its financial situation and other matters relevant to the case.

2. If the agency believes that it is necessary to remove the child from the physical custody of his parents, it must submit with the report a plan designed to achieve a placement of the child in a setting as near to the residence of his parent as is consistent with the best interests and special needs of the child. The plan must include:

(a) A description of the type and appropriateness of the home or institution in which the child could be placed, a plan for assuring that he would receive proper care and a description of his needs;

(b) A description of the services to be provided to the child and to a parent to facilitate the return of the child to the custody of his parent or to assure his permanent placement;

(c) The appropriateness of the services to be provided under the plan; and

(d) A description of how the order of the court will be carried out.

Sec. 54. 1. If the court finds that the child is in need of protection, it shall determine if reasonable efforts were made by the agency which provides protective services to prevent or eliminate the need for his removal from his home and to facilitate his return to his home. The court may, by its order, after receipt and review of the report from the agency which provides protective services:

(a) Permit the child to remain in the custody of his parents or guardian with or without supervision by the court or a person or agency designated by the court, upon such conditions as the court may prescribe;

(b) Place him in the temporary custody of a relative who the court finds suitable to receive and care for him with or without supervision, upon such conditions as the court may prescribe;

(c) Place him in the temporary custody of a public agency or institution authorized to care for children, the local juvenile probation department or a private agency or institution licensed by the department of human resources to care for such a child; or

(d) Commit him to the custody of the superintendent of the northern Nevada children's home or the superintendent of the southern Nevada children's home, in accordance with chapter 423 of NRS.

2. If, pursuant to subsection 1, a child is placed other than with a parent, the parent retains the right to consent to adoption, to determine the child's religious affiliation and to reasonable visitation, unless restricted by the court. If the custodian of the child interferes with these rights, the parent may petition the court for enforcement of his rights.

3. A copy of the report prepared for the court by the agency which provides protective services must be sent to the custodian and the parent or legal guardian.

Sec. 55. The court may also order:

1. The child, a parent or the guardian to undergo such medical, psychiatric, psychologic or other care or treatment as the court considers to be in the best interests of the child.

2. A parent or guardian to:

(a) Refrain from any harmful or offensive conduct toward the child, the other parent, the custodian of the child or person given physical custody of the child;

(b) Refrain from visiting the child if the court determines that the visitation is not in the best interest of the child; and

(c) Pay to the custodian the reasonable cost of the child's care, including food, shelter, clothing, medical care and education.

Sec. 56. 1. A motion for revocation or modification of an order issued pursuant to sections 54 and 55 of this act may be filed by the custodian of the child, the governmental organization or person responsible for supervising the care of the child, the guardian ad litem of the child or a parent or guardian. Notice of this motion must be given by registered or certified mail to all parties of the adjudicatory hearing, the custodian and the governmental organization or person responsible for supervising the care of the child.

2. The court shall hold a hearing on the motion and may dismiss the motion or revoke or modify any order as it determines is in the best interest of the child.

Sec. 57. 1. If a child is placed pursuant to section 54 of this act other than with a parent, the placement must be reviewed by the court at least semiannually.

2. The custodian shall, before any hearing for review of the placement of a child, submit a report to the court which includes an evaluation of the progress of the child and his family and any recommendations for further supervision, treatment or rehabilitation. A copy of the report must be given to the parents, the guardian ad litem and the attorney, if any, representing the parent or the child.

3. The court shall hold a hearing to review the placement, unless the parent, guardian or the custodian files a motion to dispense with the hearing. If the motion is granted, the court may make its determination from any report, statement or other information submitted to the court.

4. Notice of the hearing must be given by registered or certified mail to all parties of any of the prior proceedings, except a parent whose rights have been terminated pursuant to chapter 128 of NRS or who has voluntarily relinquished the child for adoption pursuant to NRS 127.040.

5. The court may require the presence of the child at the hearing.

6. The court shall review:

(a) The continuing necessity for and appropriateness of the placement;

(b) The extent of compliance with the plan submitted pursuant to subsection 2 of section 53 of this act;

(c) Any progress which has been made in alleviating the problem which resulted in the placement of the child; and

(d) The date the child may be returned to his home or placed for adoption or under a legal guardianship.

Sec. 58. 1. The court shall hold a hearing 18 months after the hearing on the disposition held pursuant to subsection 5 of section 52 of this act and annually thereafter. Notice of this hearing must be given by registered or certified mail to all parties of the dispositional proceeding, except a parent whose rights have been terminated pursuant to chapter 128 of NRS or who has voluntarily relinquished the child for adoption pursuant to NRS 127.040.

2. The court may require the presence of the child at the hearing.

3. At the hearing the court shall determine whether:

(a) The child should be returned to his parents or other relatives;

(b) The child's placement in the foster home or other similar institution should be continued; or

(c) In the best interests of the child, proceedings to terminate parental rights pursuant to chapter 128 of NRS or to establish a guardianship pursuant to chapter 159 of NRS should be initiated.

4. This hearing may take the place of the hearing for review required under section 57 of this act.

Sec. 59. The agency which provides protective services shall assist the court during all stages of any proceeding in accordance with sections 42 to 60, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 60. This chapter does not deprive other courts of the right to determine the custody of children upon writs of habeas corpus, or to determine the custody or guardianship of children in cases involving divorce or problems of domestic relations.".

THE SEVENTY-NINTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), April 9, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:01 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Bill Eardensohn.

Our Father, today we rejoice in the glory of Your re-creation—the season of springtime. We thank You for the warm sunshine, the budding flowers and the snow-capped mountains. We also thank You for the privilege of leadership. Help us to recognize the awesomeness of that responsibility. In our deliberations and decisions of this day, Our Lord, remind us of Your Word which says, "If any lacks wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all men generously and without reproach." (James 1:5) In Thy Holy Name we pray, AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Joerg moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Bills Nos. 154, 214, 215; Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 21.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Jeffrey requested that Assemblyman Schofield's remarks be entered in the Journal.

I have a few remarks concerning A.B. 11. I have Amendment No. 415 that has just been passed out on your desk. I found out many times in this body (I have brought it up a time or two myself, not only in committee but also on the floor of this assembly) that placing a particular bill on the desk for a possible amendment is appropriate and a courtesy to one concerned about the bill. The amendment consideration is as we heard the bill in committee. The first reprint that we voted on Thursday, dealt with, and the main thrust of A.B. 11 happens to be removing some archaic 1911 mining laws that really deal with nothing but location notices, voiding location records, and recording of location. These are repealed under NRS 517.020, 517.060, 517.310, 517.320 and 517.340.

However, in NRS 608, I don't think that many of us, some did, realized exactly what we did in that particular bill. This creates a problem on the working hours. In the first reprint the working hours were changed from 8 to 10 hours. There was evidently a concession made that the people working underground should not work over 8 hours because of the impact this might have on them for their health and safety and people working around them. However, I charge you all to look at those repealers. Sometimes we vote to repeal and don't realize what we are doing. In this case, it's taking out the smelters and mills from NRS 608.210. The working hours shall not exceed 8 hours except under an emergency or voluntarily by the individual. Those four sections of law were passed in 1911. They have evidently held well. Within the collective bargaining unit these could be changed. Under collective bargaining, these can be changed as far as the people are concerned.

I had to mention this because I don't think we realize what we are doing to some of the working men of this state. This is a right-to-work state. They do have their collective bargaining units and I think that for us to remove that type of methodology and mechanism would be doing a disservice to every working person in this state, whether they belong to a union or association. I am asking that we take a look at the reconsideration to at least consider the amendment that is before you.

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Horne's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Our notable today, Mr. Speaker, is commonly referred to by our more colloquial members as "Mr. T", and he says, "In matters of principle, stand like a rock. In matters of taste, swim with the current."

THE EIGHTIETH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), April 10, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:15 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplains, The Reverend Bill Eardensohn and Rabbi Myra Soiffer.

As we approach this day, that week set aside by federal and state statute for remembrance of the tragedy and horror of the Holocaust, we invoke the image and the presence in the august chamber of that ultimate source of goodness and equity as we recall the six million Jewish victims of Nazi genocide. We recommit ourselves to the passionate pursuit of a perfect justice that makes no distinction among persons on the arbitrary grounds of race, gender, age, religious creed or economic status. As we recall the one million children among those who perished in the death camps, may we recommit ourselves to a special concern for the protection of those innocent in our society who are the most vulnerable and least protected. As we recall the victims of the Holocaust, let us not forget those five million non-Jews who perished as well. Many among them gave their lives in the ultimate defense of justice and right. May God grant us but some small measure of the courage of conscience which their lives and deaths embodied. Above all, Oh God, may our souls ever be chilled by the realization that those who perpetrated the Nazi Holocaust were no less human than are we. May our quest for a world free from bigotry and hatred begin within our own hearts and minds. May we scrutinize our every action in light of its potential for either boundless evil or endless good. May the vivid memory of both victim and victimizer be with these lawmakers of our state and with us all from this day forward and forever. Guide us, Oh God, with wisdom, courage and strength. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 11:48 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Quorum present.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Williams requested that Dr. Hubert Locke's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Mr. Speaker, honorable members of the Assembly of the great State of Nevada, ladies and gentlemen:

I wish, first and foremost, to express my gratitude and sincere appreciation to this distinguished body for pausing in your busy and demanding responsibilities to mark Yom Hashoah or the Day of Remembrance. As the dean of a graduate school which prepares young men and women for the public service, I have a particular appreciation for the tasks which you as elected representatives of the citizens of this great state must try to fulfill. I suspect, in fact, you are wrestling with the same dilemmas that your colleagues in my state confront—how to respond to increasing public service needs in your state with declining revenues. As a matter of fact, until I read the morning paper in Reno, I was prepared to ask this honorable Assembly to consider making a low interest loan to my state which is wrestling with a $60 million shortfall in revenues for the remainder of this biennium. But I see by the morning press you have problems enough of your own.

You may find it a bit odd, ladies and gentlemen, that the speaker for this Yom Hashoah observance is a Black American. Yom Hashoah calls to remembrance one of the most unspeakable chapters in modern history—the virtual destruction of the Jewish populace of Europe who perished in the death camps and the gas chambers of Auschwitz, Sohibor, Treblinka, Belzac and the other killing centers of Eastern Europe between the summer of 1941 and April, 1945. This horror is of obvious supreme importance to Jewish citizens everywhere today. It should be a matter of ultimate concern to every human being. But why, I am often asked, is the destruction of European Jewry a matter of such consummate personal interest to me.

I grew up in Detroit—then known as the "arsenal of democracy". I was 11 years old when the war ended. I can recall only a vague sense of the war years and it was some years later when I came to have a larger sense of the horror that was the Holocaust. Ever since, much of my waking moments, my writing and reflection time has been consumed by the attempt to try and understand what happened in Germany between 1933 and 1945. How it happened, and why it should happen that one of most modern Western ostensibly civilized God-fearing, technologically renowned nations should stoop to what stands as the most barbarous episode in the annals of humankind.

After more than 20 years of reading the documents and the record of that awful era, of listening to the assessments of scholars and of those who, as German citizens, lived through the period of the Third Reich, I must say to you that I have yet no answers to these questions. This is the first and perhaps the most important reason why this Day of Remembrance is important. We dare not stop the search for answers to this human tragedy because the quest itself may tell us something not only about Germany in the 1930's and 40's but about our own time, about our and other nations and, most of all, about ourselves. About the threats to human decency and social order that surge just beneath the surface of our and every civilized society.

For if, ladies and gentlemen, there are no answers, there are lessons from the Nazi era and the destruction of European Jewry that speak to our age and speak to future generations. Let me briefly recount for you what I have come deeply to believe some of those lessons are.

First and painfully, we have to take note of the fact that Nazism was not simply the work of a bunch of fanatics, operating outside of the law and the formal political processes of German society. Nazism may have begun that way in the beer halls of Munich in the 1920's, but by 1931 Nazism had become a political party capable of competing for the votes of German electorate and capable of securing some 35 percent of the popular vote in the last free election which was held in that year. The success of Nazism in the political arena suggests the awesome potential that ideological extremism has for making itself "respectable" and capable of widespread appeal and even support in a democratic society.

Second, Nazism gained such political strength because it appealed to a society in the midst of the deep economic and cultural crisis offering easy simplistic answers to that nation's troubles. It made the Jewish citizens of Germany, a tiny minority in Germany's populace, the scapegoats for Germany's woes and thus set the stage, once it had come to power, for the terrible tragedy that was to follow. It reminds us of the always precarious status of minority groups in our or any society and of the depths to which one Western society sank when it allowed political extremism to pose answers to the presence of minorities in its midst.

Third, and to me the most tragic lesson of all—the horror that was Nazi Germany, the Third Reich and the Holocaust came about because of the collapse of the professions. The gradual wearing away and ultimately the disappearance of any of the formal restraints that might have held Nazism in check. Within the first few months of coming to power, the Nazis banned any political opposition; then they silenced the trade unions and the newspapers. But the civil servants, the judiciary, the school teachers, the university professors, the medical and legal professions unfortunately did not need to be silenced. These, too easily, became the tools and the implementors of Nazi ideology, so that by 1941, when the first of the death camps became operational, those who should have stood in the way of the machinery of death became instead its implementors, providing the scientific know-how for executing millions of human beings in the most efficient and effective manner possible, offering an allegiance that was blind to any questions about the ends to which their efforts were being directed and presenting a rationale for it all that placed "following orders" above any of the elemental demands of human conscience.

Honorable members of this Assembly, we must remember because we dare not to forget that the destruction of Europe's Jewish populace was an act carried out as the official policy of a government in power. And, again I wish to note that it was not the government of some primitive tribe deep in the recesses of some remote jungle, but a government of one of the world's great Western nations. We must remember because we dare not overlook the fact that Nazism presented itself to a nation and a people troubled by many unsettling circumstances in its midst. A nation and a people who are in a state of turmoil face the ever-present temptation to seek easy answers to their dilemmas and to search for scapegoats on whom they can place the blame for a nation's social ills. And it seems to me when we look at the tragedy of Germany during the Third Reich that we must especially remind ourselves, because again we dare not forget that the democratic experience which we so highly prize in our beloved nation is at best a very fragile commodity. There is nothing which guarantees its permanence or insulates it against those forces which would subvert our freedoms and our commitments to civil rights and human equality except the vigilance of our people and especially of our elected representatives.

Yours, therefore, is a sacred trust which you exercise on behalf of all the people of this good state, conservatives and liberals, the poor and the wealthy, citizens of all races and religious beliefs. Not simply a tolerance for this diversity, but the recognition that it is this essentially pluralistic character of American society that is one of its greatest strengths. It is this that makes American democracy a crowning achievement in the realm of human, social and political experience.

The distinguished American statesman, George F. Kennan, who has served our nation in so many outstanding posts of diplomatic responsibility has given us what I belive to be best understanding of what went wrong in Germany and what it is that has produced the totalitarian impulse in so many other societies in our century. In a brilliant essay published more than 30 years ago, Kenna describes totalitarianism as "a source of sorrow and suffering in the human race which is overshadowed every other source of human woe in our times . . .". He offers in his analysis of Germany under Nazi rule and of Russia under Communism, powerful examples of the totalitarian threat and of the lessons to be learned from those illnesses of human society in the 20th century. But he also includes in his analysis a poignant warning to democratic nations. I quote it for you: "I suspect that a neurotic sense of tidiness in political arrangements can be a great danger to any society. Too great an urge for symmetry and order, too strong an insistence on uniformity and conformity, too little tolerance for the atypical and minority phenomenon. These are all the things that can grease the path by which nations slide into totalitarianism. Diversity, in all the glorious disorder of nature, is the best defense of healthy societies."

I stated at the outset that I have been frequently asked why, as a Black American, this matter of the destruction of European Jewry should be of such consummate interest to me. Let me conclude by telling you why. I can best do so by relating a story which Reinhold Niebuhr, one of our nation's most renowned theologians, told many years ago. Niebuhr recounts that on one occasion, he asked a close Jewish friend of his why it was that the American Jewish community has historically shown such deep interest and been so deeply involved in all the issues of civil rights and civil liberties in our country. His Jewish friend responded as follows: "We Jews have always had a very deep interest in the health of any nation or society in which we find ourselves because we know from our own experience as a people that if a society becomes sick it may become hysterical, and as a minority we do not feel safe in any hysterical society."

In brief, ladies and gentlemen, we find in the history of the German nation and its people reflected both the best and the worst of human conduct and human experience. In the history of the Third Reich and the Holocaust, the worst of that experience has been telescoped into a short 12-year period which virtually defies human comprehension or understanding. No nation or society is cut off from the possibility of Germany at its best or immune from the threat which the German experience at its worst reflects. Every thinking human being, therefore, is obliged to remember that experience and to initiate or renew a personal effort to insure that it is never repeated again. If one is a minority, and I respectfully submit to you in this great nation of ours, that a minority in some sense is a status which all of us share, then this obligation takes on an especial and unrelenting urgency.

Thank you very much.

The President of the Senate, the President pro Tempore of the Senate and Members of the Senate appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker invited the President and President pro Tempore of the Senate to the Speaker's rostrum.

Mr. Speaker invited the Members of the Senate to chairs in the Assembly.

IN JOINT SESSION

At 11:14 a.m.
President of the Senate presiding.

The Secretary of the Senate called the Senate roll.
All present.

The Chief Clerk of the Assembly called the Assembly roll.
All present.

The President of the Senate appointed a Committee on Escort consisting of Senator O'Connell and Assemblyman Lambert to wait upon Senator Hecht and escort him to the Assembly Chamber.

The Committee on Escort in company with The Honorable Chic Hecht, United States Senator for Nevada, appeared before the bar of the Assembly.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Senator to the rostrum.

The Senator delivered his message as follows:

SIXTY-THIRD SESSION, 1985

My colleagues and my fellow Nevadans. It's good to be back here today—back where I used to serve. Whoever ordered this wonderful weather, I say thank you very much. Yesterday it was snowing in Washington. Thank you ladies and gentlemen. Thank you for inviting me to speak to you today. It's an honor and privilege. I'd like to take this moment to compliment you on what has turned out to be a tight and business-like session. It appears you have tried to work together in a strong bipartisan effort to find solutions to the many difficult problems encountered by our rapidly growing state.

The issues confronting you are varied and complex. Many have national implications. Wilderness, federal land swaps, the so-called "Star Wars" research and development which is the SP 100 program, and the question of high-level nuclear waste storage.

In addition to these critical national questions, you are also confronting issues which could have far-reaching effects on our state. These issues include proposed interstate banking among Western states and proposals to develop programs for international trade.

As you know, in Washington as well as in Carson city, most of the real work is done in committees. I've been fortunate to have been given two additional committee assignments this year which are of importance to Nevada. While maintaining membership on the Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee, I've also been assigned to the Senate Select committee on Intelligence. And I was pleased to have been named chairman of the important Senate Housing and Urban Affairs Subcommittee.

I'm only glad Senator Garn didn't wait to make the appointment until after he returns from his space shuttle mission. I can see the newspaper headline: "Garn returns from outer space—appoints Hecht chairman."

Because 87 percent of Nevada is owned by the Federal Government, it's important for me to serve on the energy committee which oversees all federal land. And through the intelligence committee, I've already learned that the banks own the other 13 percent.

Right now our top priority in Congress is to get the budget deficit under control. We are looking for ways to run the Federal Government more efficiently. The proposed land interchange between the U.S. Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management is based on that premise. The general accounting office, for example, predicted that this land swap would save taxpayers $25 to $30 million per year. While I remain firmly committed to saving tax dollars, I want to make certain that cost savings are not achieved at the expense of good management and without input from the people of our state. We will monitor this proposal closely.

Senator Laxalt is correct in telling you the Federal Government has no revenue to share. We will have to eliminate some programs or shift them to the state or local governments. I would even prefer that as much as possible be turned over to the private sector.

My housing subcommittee is currently facing some very hard options. All housing subsidy programs including public housing, rehabilitation loans, all FHA mortgage insurance programs, community development block grants . . . are up for reauthorization over the next two years. As chairman I am already conducting hearings on ways to streamline these programs. We will move with compassion, however. I want to make sure all the cuts don't adversely impact America's truly needy and homeless. In addition to hearings on the homeless issue, the subcommittee will also be investigating mortgage interest rates and tax simplification.

The current mood in Congress is conservative. The day of pork barrel subsidies is gone. Private enterprise has demonstrated time and again its ability to perform many responsibilities of the Federal Government. The private sector will do it better, more efficiently and at a savings to taxpayers. In that regard, I would like to compliment the citizens of Elko and Lander counties for their private sector initiative in South Fork and Rock Creek Dams.

In addition to the land swap, another issue of interest to you this year is a wilderness bill. We have no choice. A wilderness bill is mandated by law. Our goal is to try to achieve a balance between protecting the environment and protecting our mining and ranching industries.

We are also excited about the prospects this year of modifying the 55 MPH speed limit. My bill now has about 15 co-sponsors from both sides of the aisle and is continuing to pick up support because we've made it a state's rights issue. This bill gives you the power to raise highway speeds in rural areas where it would be safe. I urge you to let others in Congress know how motorists in the wide-open spaces feel about the speed limit issue.

Last year, Senator Laxalt and I were pleased to have hammered out a Hoover Dam bill which will keep our electric rates from going through the roof. Now, we must continue to encourage the development of our vast geothermal energy reserves here in Northern Nevada.

Looking over the past two years, I feel we're making progress in streamlining the Federal Government. The Reagan administration has already taken steps to implement 1,148 of the Grace Commission's 2,478 recommendations to run the government more efficiently. Those steps are estimated to produce $56 billion in savings in the 1986 budget and $112 billion over the next three years. At least it's a start.

I'd like to turn now to a highly charged emotional issue which has been fanned by those who try to play on unfounded fears rather than on documented facts. I began this year by taking a position that "a decision at this time to oppose a high-level nuclear repository in Nevada is premature. All the facts simply are not in and no definite decision as to a location will be made until 1991." In the weeks that followed, I probably received more headlines and press coverage than I did in my first two years in office. You know what? I enjoyed every minute of it. I accomplished what I wanted to accomplish; to bring to the people of Nevada both sides of an issue. Previously, we have only been exposed to one side of the argument. I might be naive, but I believe that getting the facts and stimulating public debate are important functions for a United States Senator and I plan to continue that role whether it's popular in the polls or not.

Let's review for a moment the events leading up to this controversial stance. Looming in the background, but not yet announced was the SP 100 program, which is the first phase of our new venture into space. Essentially, SP 100 will help develop the research needed to fuel the President's strategic defensive initiative . . . better known as "Star Wars" . . . using nuclear reactors. This totally "defensive" system could make nuclear war obsolete. Senator Laxalt and I have been closely involved with the Secretary of Energy on the SP 100 program for two years. Much of the program remains highly classified. But we were led to believe that our state was still in the running for the initial stage and follow-up on the multi-million dollar program.

In the 1960's, we successfully tested nuclear reactors for space propulsion at the Nevada test site's E-Mad facility. In 1973, the program was shut down. However, Russia continued to test nuclear reactors in space and is still doing so. Obviously, they have an advantage.

This program—the SP 100—is the backbone of our future space program which is our best hope for a world free from nuclear weapons. We have gone about as far in space as we can with our present solar panels. In order for America to have the defensive capability to safely withstand a Soviet nuclear attack, we must have defensive weapons in space. Our future and the future of mankind depends on it.

Some months ago, President Reagan—acting on the advice of our leading scientists, both civilian and military—made a decision to officially begin research and development into this nuclear reactor program. I want to emphasize in the strongest of terms, that it was only when the administration stood by the decision to enter space, that the Russians couldn't get to the Geneva peace talks fast enough. Even an official state funeral couldn't slow them down. Six words I told you two years ago still ring true today. War through weakness—peace through strength.

Let me recount history for those too young to remember. Germany invaded Poland in 1939 to begin World War II. The Polish army fought back bravely. The Polish army was on horseback, the German army in tanks. Within a few hours Poland was subdued. For the United States not to have the advantage in space, not to be able to pinpoint and attack incoming Soviet nuclear warheads, would put us in the same position as Poland in 1939.

That is why I am a strong supporter of the Reagan space plan. I realize it will be costly, but if we shift the cost from the current "offensive weapons" to the "defensive weapons" we can afford Star Wars. We cannot afford to face tanks on horseback.

A month before I made my January statement, I learned we had lost out on a $12 million project at the Nevada test site. The project went out-of-state on the heels of a strongly worded, anti-nuclear letter from Governor Bryan to then Energy Secretary Hodel. In the letter which was dated June 15, 1984, the Governor also expressed strong opposition to any future proposal to utilize any portion of Nevada to conduct research programs with nuclear or radioactive materials. Not only did the Department of Energy move the $12 million project to another state, but the Nevada Test Site was directed to draw up plans to dismantle the E-Mad facility based on its cost effectiveness. Remember, E-Mad is the existing facility for nuclear reactor assembly which is under review for SP 100. Here we have the existing facilities. We have remoteness to populated areas. We have the personnel resources and we have the waste-handling capabilities.

E-Mad is currently valued at $94.4 million. SP 100 research could well mean an additional $500 million for the economy of Southern Nevada and thousands of employees over the next decade. This program is a prelude to a $1 trillion project as reported by the Washington Post. However, the strong anti-nuclear position taken by Governor Bryan really hurt us. Essentially, Nevada was out of the running for the space program last December. Idaho, Washington, California and New Mexico were all in hot contention. Nevada was out of it because the Governor was against anything nuclear. The 100 percent endorsement of our Southern labor leader, the media's favorable coverage of the "other side of the argument" and the personal time Senator Laxalt and I spent with top officials have all helped bring us back into consideration.

I'd also like to mention that parts of Northern Nevada are competing to get the superconducting super collider. This advanced project could also mean thousands of new jobs and billions of dollars to our economy.

Every time the Governor proclaims "we've already done enough" his words are a slap in the face in efforts to expand the economic base of this state. We must ask ourselves does it make sense to appropriate millions of dollars for an engineering school at UNLV and at the same time discourage high tech programs at the Nevada test site. UNLV President, Robert Maxson, is correct in stating that higher education is an investment in this state. We need to do our part to make sure that investment takes hold and flourishes.

Let's talk facts for a moment; keeping an open mind on the nuclear waste issue allows consideration of a number of other options which have been blurred under the hysterical rhetoric. It is possible, for example, that spent nuclear fuel rods might not have to be buried for long periods of time because the energy value that remains can be extracted by a chemical separation process commonly known as reprocessing. It is already technically possible and may someday be economically feasible to recycle or breed nuclear residue. In fact, reprocessing of nuclear waste is an option currently actively pursued by France, Great Britain and Japan.

To those cities who fear that the word nuclear might hurt tourism and business 90 miles away, let me remind them that some of the most valuable property in California today is located within 50 miles of a nuclear power plant which is built on an earthquake fault line.

I'd also like to say a few words about our military presence here in Nevada. In February, I traveled throughout the state visiting with constituents and making Lincoln Day speeches. Everywhere, I found strong support for our military establishments, not only because of their economic value, but mainly because they are an important link in our overall defense system.

We, as Nevadans, should be proud, not critical, of the fact that we are contributing to the defense and security of America.

Not long ago, I was at a special meeting in Senator Goldwater's office, the Chairman of the Armed Services Committee, with Secretary Weinberger and nine other senators. Senator Goldwater said in no uncertain terms . . . and in language too salty to repeat here, that we have over 200 military installations in the Continental United States that we do not need. He was especially critical of bases in areas where the public is anti-military.

It has taken considerable effort in Washington by our Congressional delegation to counter the remark by Nevada's Chief Executive, "Nevada is a playground for the military."

I wish he would accompany a chaplain to break the news to the family of a brave young pilot who has crashed testing or training so that this great nation can survive.

You know, all other issues pale when compared to our security and freedom. Perhaps freedom wasn't everything to our founding fathers, but they believed deeply that without freedom all else was nothing . . . and so do I!

We cannot say we want the world's finest air force and navy and condemn Nellis and Fallon.We cannot say we want nuclear submarines and nuclear missiles in Europe to protect the free world . . . then support one kind of nuclear program but not another. We cannot say we want the best ammunition for our fighting men and women and condemn the Hawthorne Ammunition Depot.

We are embarking on mankind's greatest experience—living and working in outer space. The message our elected public officials send out will determine whether Nevada plays an important role in America's next frontier.

It was over a century ago when Nevada joined the Union. We united behind Abraham Lincoln to preserve the Union, emancipate the slaves and to protest man's inhumanity to man. Through our rich silver mines, Nevada played a major role in that humanitarian effort. Nevada prospered and the Union was saved.

America's entry into space will also serve to protect the free world against other inhumanity as in Lebanon, Afghanistan, Cuba and many other countries.

In Nevada we have the free world's largest laboratory. We have pioneered nuclear research . . . we are the experts. We have benefitted economically while contributing to the defense, national security and strength of our country.

For the life of me, I cannot understand the rationale of those who go on record wanting a nuclear reactor space program with nuclear fuel and residue at our test site, but object to storing nuclear fuel and residue . . . safely. Tests yet to be conducted will determine which of the three proposed sites is the safest and no elected official . . . including me . . . will support the Yucca Mountain site if it is not shown to be the safest location. Rest your fears.

I urge you to retain an open mind and be consistent. Otherwise it's about as illogical as favoring cobalt and radiation treatment to cure cancer, while supporting a nuclear freeze and a ban on transportation of anything radioactive on our rails or highways.

I want to thank you for the opportunity of speaking frankly and candidly about the future of Nevada. Let's examine this issue carefully and base our position on the best information available. If we oppose a nuclear waste repository now based on hysteria, we have lost all credibility in Congress.

The key word here is credibility. When all the test results are in and when all the technology has been refined, the Congress will weigh the facts and consider the credible arguments.

In the meantime, we must look beyond today into the potential of tomorrow.

The rocket genius, Dr. Robert Goddard may have put it best when he said: "It is difficult to say what is impossible, for the dream of yesterday is the hope of today and the reality of tomorrow."

Thank you all and God bless you.

Senator Rawson moved that the Senate and Assembly in Joint Session extend a vote of thanks to the Senator for his timely, able and constructive message.

Motion carried.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Senator to the bar of the Assembly.

Assemblyman Horne moved that the Joint Session be dissolved.

Motion carried.

Joint Session dissolved at 11:47 a.m.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 387.

Amend section 1, page 1, line 2, by deleting "60," and inserting "66,".

Amend sec. 3, page 2, line 34, by deleting the period and inserting: ", unless the corporation or limited partnership already bearing that name files with the secretary of state its written consent to the use of the same or a similar name by the limited partnership whose certificate is offered for filing.".

Amend sec. 5, page 3, lines 17 and 18, by deleting: "which agent must be an individual" and inserting: "who must be a natural person".

Amend sec. 20, page 8, line 24, by deleting the period and inserting: "by executing and filing in the office of the secretary of state a certificate declaring withdrawal under this section.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 61 through 63 as sections 67 through 69 and adding new sections designated sections 61 through 66, following section 60, to read as follows:

"Sec. 61. The secretary of state may microfilm any document which is filed in his office by or relating to a limited partnership pursuant to this chapter and may return the original document to the filer.

Sec. 62. 1. Each limited partnership organized under the laws of this state shall, on or before the last day of the month in which the anniversary date of the filing of its certificate of limited partnership occurs in each year, file with the secretary of state a list of its general partners and a designation of its agent in this state for service of process, certified by a general partner of the limited partnership. The list must, after the name of each general partner listed thereon, set forth his post office box or street address.

2. If addresses are not thus stated for all listed partners on any list offered for filing, the secretary of state may refuse to file it, and the limited partnership for which the list has been offered for filing is subject to all the provisions relating to failure to file such a list within or at the times specified, unless such a list is subsequently submitted for filing conformably to the provisions of section 63 of this act.

3. The secretary of state shall, 60 days before the last day for filing the list required by subsection 1, cause to be mailed to each limited partnership required to comply with the provisions of this section which has not become delinquent the blank forms to be completed and filed with the secretary of state. Failure of any limited partnership to receive the forms does not excuse it from the penalty imposed by section 63 of this act.

Sec. 63. 1. When the annual fee for filing the list has been paid, the canceled check received by the limited partnership constitutes a certificate authorizing it to transact its business within this state until the anniversary date of the filing of its certificate of limited partnership in the next succeeding calendar year. If the limited partnership desires a formal certificate upon its payment of the annual fee, its payment must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

2. Each limited partnership which refuses or neglects to file the list and pay the fee within the time provided is in default.

3. For default there must be added to the amount of the fee a penalty of $10, and unless the filings are made and the fee and penalty are paid on or before the 1st day of the 9th month following the month in which filing was required, the defaulting limited partnership, by reason of its default, forfeits:

(a) The amount of the fee and penalty to the State of Nevada; and

(b) Its right to transact any business within this state.

Sec. 64. 1. On or before the 15th day of the 3rd month following the month in which filing was required, the secretary of state shall compile a complete list of all defaulting limited partnerships, together with the amount of the filing fee, penalties and costs remaining unpaid.

2. Immediateldy after the 1st day of the 9th month following the month in which filing was required, the secretary of state shall compile a complete list containing the names of all limited partnerships whose right to do business has been forfeited. The secretary of state shall notify each limited partnership of the forfeiture of its certificate.

3. In case of forfeiture of the certificate and of the right to transact business thereunder, all the property and assets of the defaulting domestic limited partnership are held in trust by the general partners, and the same proceedings may be had with respect thereto as for the judicial dissolution of a limited partnership. Any person interested may institute proceedings at any time after a forfeiture has been declared, but if the secretary of state reinstates the limited partnership the proceedings must at once be dismissed and all property restored to the general partners.

Sec. 65. 1. Subject to the provisions of subsection 3, the secretary of state may:

(a) Reinstate any limited partnership which has forfeited its right to transact business; and

(b) Restore to the limited partnership its right to carry on business in this state, and to exercise its privileges and immunities, upon the filing with the secretary of state of an affidavit stating the reason for the revocation of its certificate, and upon payment to the secretary of state of all filing fees, licenses, penalties, costs and expenses due and in arrears at the time of the revocation, and also all filing fees, licenses and penalties which have accrued since the revocation.

2. When payment is made and the secretary of state reinstates the limited partnership to its former rights he shall:

(a) Immediately issue and deliver to the limited partnership a certificate of reinstatement authorizing it to transact business as if the filing fee had been paid when due; and

(b) Upon demand, issue to the limited partnership one or more certified copies of the certificate of reinstatement.

3. The secretary of state shall not order a reinstatement unless all delinquent fees, penalties and costs have been paid, and the revocation occurred only by reason of failure to pay the fees, penalties and costs.

Sec. 66. The secretary of state, for services relating to his official duties and the records of his office, shall charge and collect the following fees:

1. For filing a certificate of limited partnership, $75.

2. For filing a certificate of amendment of limited partnership, $50.

3. For filing a reinstated certificate of limited partnership, $75.

4. For filing the annual list of general partners and designation of resident agent, $30.

5. For certifying a certificate of limited partnership, an amendment to the certificate, or a certificate as amended where a copy is provided, $5.

6. For certifying an authorized printed copy of the limited partnership law, $5.

7. For certifying the reservation of a limited partnership name, $5.

8. For executing any other certificate, $10.

9. For comparing any document or paper submitted for certification, with the record thereof, to ascertain whether any corrections are required to be made before certifying, 20 cents for each folio of 100 words of each document or paper compared.

10. For copies made at the office of the secretary of state from microfiche, $1 per page.".

Amend sec. 63, page 17, line 32, after "or", by inserting "chapter".

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 64 through 66 and adding new sections designated sections 70 through 72, following section 63, to read as follows:

"Sec. 70. NRS 88.020 to 88.290, inclusive, are hereby repealed.".

Sec. 71. 1. All county recorders shall submit by September 1, 1986, to the secretary of state a complete list of all foreign and domestic limited partnerships on file, containing:

(a) The name; and

(b) The address of principal place of business, and a similar list on October 1, November 1, December 1 and January 1 for the preceding month.

2. The secretary of state shall reserve the names of all limited partnerships on the recorders' lists until July 1, 1987, when the reservation expires unless an application is filed under section 4, or a certificate is filed under section 8, of this act.

3. On or before January 31, 1987, the secretary of state shall mail a notice to all limited partnerships on the recorders' lists at their principal places of business that each must comply with the provisions of this act by July 1, 1987. Failure so to comply bars such a limited partnership from maintaining any action, suit or proceeding in any court of this state until it has complied.

Sec. 72. 1. This section and section 71 of this act become effective on July 1, 1985, to require the secretary of state to prepare for his duties under the act and the respective county recorders to perform their duties under section 71.

2. Except as provided in subsection 3, sections 1 to 70, inclusive, of this act become effective on January 1, 1987.

3. Sections 1 to 70, inclusive, of this act become effective on July 1, 1987, with respect to each limited partnership whose name appears on one of the lists submitted pursuant to section 70.".

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING OF LEGISLATION

By Assemblymen Thomas, Jeffrey, Tebbs, Sedway, Dini, Beyer, Nicholas, Humke, Getto, DuBois, Coffin and Nevin:

Assembly Bill No. 515—An Act relating to the casino entertainment tax; allocating a portion of the tax for concerts and other cultural activities under the administration of the Nevada state council of the arts; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

Assembly Bill No. 57.

The following Senate amendments were read:

Amendment No. 301.

Amend sec. 12, page 5, line 19, by deleting "$40" and inserting "$60".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 199 and 200 as sections 203 and 204 and adding new sections designated sections 199 to 202, following section 198, to read as follows:

"Sec. 199. Section 8 of Assembly Bill No. 176 of this session is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. NRS 218.6825 is hereby amended to read as follows:

218.6825 1. There is hereby created in the legislative counsel bureau an interim finance committee composed of the members of the assembly standing committee on ways and means and the senate standing committee on finance during the current or immediately preceding session of the legislature. The immediate past chairman of the senate standing committee on finance is the chairman of the interim finance committee for the period ending with the convening of each even-numbered regular session of the legislature. The immediate past chairman of the assembly standing committee on ways and means is the chairman of the interim finance committee during the next legislative interim, and the chairmanship alternates between the houses of the legislature according to this pattern.

2. If any regular member of the committee informs the secretary that he will be unable to attend a particular meeting, the secretary shall notify the speaker of the assembly or the majority leader of the senate, as the case may be, to appoint an alternate for that meeting from the same house and political party as the absent member.

3. The interim finance committee, except as provided in subsection 4, may exercise the powers conferred upon it by law only when the legislature is not in regular or special session. The membership of any member who does not become a candidate for reelection or who is defeated for reelection continues until the next session of the legislature is convened.

4. During a regular session the interim finance committee may also perform the duties imposed on it by [paragraph (a) of subsection 4 of NRS 341.150,] subsection 1 of section 3 of this act, and by NRS 353.220, 353.224 and 353.335 and chapter 621, Statutes of Nevada 1979. In performing those duties, the senate standing committee on finance and the assembly standing committee on ways and means may meet separately and transmit the results of their respective votes to the chairman of the interim finance committee to determine the action of the interim finance committee as a whole.

5. The director of the legislative counsel bureau shall act as the secretary of the interim finance committee.

6. A majority of the members of the assembly standing committee on ways and means and a majority of the members of the senate standing committee on finance, jointly, may call a meeting of the interim finance committee if the chairman does not do so.

7. In all matters requiring action by the interim finance committee, the vote of the assembly and senate members must be taken separately. An action must not be taken unless it receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the assembly members and a majority of the senate members.

8. Except during a regular or special session of the legislature, each member of the interim finance committee and appointed alternate is entitled to receive the compensation provided for a majority of the members of the legislature during the first 60 days of the preceding regular session for each day or portion of a day during which he attends a committee meeting or is otherwise engaged in committee work plus the per diem allowance and travel expenses provided for state officers and employees generally. All such compensation must be paid from the contingency fund in the state treasury.

Sec. 200. Section 15 of Senate Bill No. 151 of this session is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15. NRS 380A.071 is hereby amended to read as follows:

380A.071 1. The council may meet regularly at least twice each year and, within the limits of legislative appropriations, may hold additional meetings upon the call of the chairman.

2. Each member of the council is entitled to receive a salary of $60 for each day's attendance at a meeting of the council.

3. Payments must be made upon itemized and verified claims approved by the state librarian from money appropriated to the [Nevada] state library [.] and archives.

Sec. 201. Section 38 of Senate Bill No. 116 of this session is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 38. NRS 381.002 is hereby amended to read as follows:

381.002 1. The [joint] board of museums and history, consisting of eleven members appointed by the governor, is hereby created.

2. The governor shall appoint as members of the [joint] board:

(a) [Five persons who are members of the Nevada state museum; one of whom must be familiar with the Lost City museum;

(b) Five persons who are members of the Nevada historical society; and

(c)] Ten persons, each of whom must be a member of one of the institutions of the department who is familiar with that institution; and

(b) One other person.

3. The governor shall designate the chairman of the [joint] board from among its members.

4. The [joint board may] board shall meet regularly at least [quarterly] six times each year and may meet at other times upon the call of its chairman.

5. The [joint] board shall establish nonadministrative policies for the department . [of museums and history, the Nevada state museum and the Nevada historical society.]

Sec. 202. Section 40 of Senate Bill No. 116 of this session is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 40. NRS 381.005 is hereby amended to read as follows:

381.005 1. The administrator [of the department of museums and history] is appointed by the governor and serves at his pleasure. The governor shall consult with the [joint board of museums and history] board before making the appointment.

2. To be qualified for appointment, the administrator must have training and experience in public administration.

3. The administrator is in the unclassified service of the state.

4. The administrator shall not engage in any other gainful employment or occupation.

5. The administrator may employ, within the limits of legislative appropriations, such staff as is necessary to the performance of his duties.".

Amendment No. 388.

Amend sec. 173, page 54, line 42, by deleting: "[shall be] is" and inserting "is".

Amend sec. 173, page 54, line 44, by deleting "[Compensation".

Amend sec. 173, page 54, by deleting lines 45 and 46.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 203 and 204 as sections 204 and 205 and adding a new section designated section 203, following section 202, to read as follows:

"Sec. 203. Section 4 of Assembly Bill No. 168 of this session is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 4. NRS 477.180 is hereby amended to read as follows:

477.180 1. The board of fire safety, consisting of eleven members appointed by the governor, is hereby created.

2. The governor shall appoint:

(a) A licensed architect;

(b) Three chiefs of or fire marshals from local fire departments, at least one of whom must be from a fire department in a county having a population of less than 100,000;

(c) A building [official] officer of a local government which is or is within each county having a population of 100,000 or more;

(d) A licensed general contractor;

(e) A professional engineer;

(f) Two representatives of gaming and lodging enterprises; and

(g) The state fire marshal, to the board.

3. The board shall select a chairman from among its members to serve for 1 year. The state fire marshal shall serve as secretary of the board.

4. The board [may meet regularly approximately once each month, at least eight times a year or] shall meet on the call of the chairman, the state fire marshal or [a majority] at the request of any three of the members.

5. The members of the board, except those who are, in another capacity, public officers or employees, are entitled to receive a salary of $80 for each day's attendance at a meeting of the board or a committee of the board. The state fire marshal shall provide in the budget of his office for sufficient money to pay salaries and allowances for members and other expenses of the board.''.

CARSON CITY (Monday), April 15, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:03 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Craddock, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Roy Parker.

Our Father of Heaven and earth, we are grateful for Your bountiful blessings and Your great mercy toward us. Help us here today to live by Your Holy Word and to show kindness to others, as well as love. To express joy on our own countenance, to do good to those that would even do evil to us, and have patience and show peace to others. We understand that what we extend to our fellowman is exactly what we can expect in return. Guide each of these lawmakers here today to rule over us with Your understanding and wisdom. Cause them to be able to reach a good solution to all of the items on their agenda. For all of these favors and blessings, we say thank You. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 137.

Bill read second time, ordered engrossed and to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 194.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Taxation:

Amendment No. 420.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 1 as section 2 and adding a new section designated section 1, preceding section 1, to read as follows:

"Section 1. NRS 361.221 is hereby amended to read as follows:

361.221 1. A person shall not perform the duties of an appraiser for purposes of the taxation of property as an employee of or as an independent contractor for the state or any of its political subdivisions unless he holds a valid appraiser's certificate issued by the department.

2. There is established an appraiser certification board consisting of six members, three of whom must be chosen by majority vote of the several county assessors from persons who hold a valid appraiser's certificate issued by the department and three of whom must be appointed by the Nevada tax commission. This board shall:

(a) Advise the department on any matter pertaining to the certification and continuing education of appraisers who are subject to the provisions of this section; and

(b) Perform such other duties as are provided by law.

3. Each member of the board is entitled to the per diem allowance and travel expenses provided for state officers and employees while attending meetings of the board.

4. The department may contract for the development and administration of the appropriate examinations. Except as provided in this subsection, an appraiser's certificate must be issued to an applicant only if he has passed the appropriate examination. The department may charge each examinee a reasonable examination fee to recover the cost of the examination. An applicant who has a professional designation or certification recognized by the board may, with the approval of the board, be issued an appraiser's certificate without examination.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 2 through 4 as sections 7 through 9 and adding new sections designated sections 3 through 6, preceding section 2, to read as follows:

"Sec. 3. NRS 361.295 is hereby amended to read as follows:

361.295 [1.] When real property is assessed by the county assessors of two counties on territory claimed by both, the [owner of the real estate assessed is authorized to pay the taxes in either county that he may select.

2. In case of suit being brought for the nonpayment of the taxes in the county in which the suit may be brought, the production of a tax receipt for the current year on the property, signed by the proper officer, although in an adjoining county claiming jurisdiction, of a date prior to the commencement of the action, shall entitle the taxpayer to a dismissal of the suit, free of cost.] department of taxation shall examine the property and determine the county to which the taxes must be paid.

Sec. 4. NRS 361.360 is hereby amended to read as follows:

361.360 1. Any taxpayer aggrieved at the action of the county board of equalization in equalizing, or failing to equalize, the value of his property, or property of others, or a county assessor, may file an appeal with the state board of equalization no later than the 4th Monday of February and present to the state board of equalization the matters complained of at one of its sessions.

2. All such appeals must be presented upon the same facts and evidence as were submitted to the county board of equalization in the first instance, unless there is discovered new evidence pertaining to the matter which could not, by due diligence, have been discovered before the final adjournment of the county board of equalization. The new evidence must be submitted in writing to the state board of equalization and served upon all the other parties to the action not less than 7 days before the hearing.

3. Any taxpayer whose real or personal property placed on the unsecured tax roll was assessed after December 15 but before or on the following April 30 may likewise protest to the state board of equalization, which shall meet before May 31 to hear these protests. Every such appeal must be filed on or before May 15.

4. If the state board of equalization determines that the record of a case on appeal from the county board of equalization is inadequate because of an act or omission of the county assessor, the district attorney or the county board of equalization, the state board of equalization may remand the case to the county board of equalization with directions to develop an adequate record within 30 days after the remand. The directions must indicate specifically the inadequacies to be remedied. If the state board of equalization determines that the record returned from the county board of equalization after remand is still inadequate, the state board of equalization may hold a hearing anew on the appellant's complaint or it may, if necessary, contract with an appropriate person to hear the matter, develop an adequate record in the case and submit recommendations to the state board. The cost of the contract and all costs, including attorney's fees, to the state or the appellant necessary to remedy the inadequate record on appeal are a charge against the county.

Sec. 5. NRS 361.510 is hereby amended to read as follows:

361.510 [The] 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, before June 1 of each year, the board of county commissioners of each county shall prepare suitable blank receipts that are sequentially numbered to be issued by the respective county assessors on the payment to them in cash of the taxes on movable personal property. [Such] The blank tax receipts [shall] must be countersigned by the county auditor [.] and delivered to the county assessor who shall give his receipt to the board for the quantity delivered.

2. The provisions of this section do not apply in a county which provides receipts for such payments in cash which are produced by a computer.

Sec. 6. NRS 361.5643 is hereby amended to read as follows:

361.5643 1. Except as provided in subsection 2, upon compliance by the purchaser or repossessor of a slide-in camper or the purchaser or repossessor of a mobile home with the provisions of NRS 361.562, 361.563 or 361.5642 the county assessor shall:

(a) Deliver forthwith to the purchaser or repossessor of a mobile home, as well as annually thereafter upon payment of the tax, a sticker which must be of a design and affixed in such manner as is prescribed by the department . [;]

(b) Deliver forthwith to the purchaser or repossessor of a slide-in camper, as well as annually thereafter upon payment of the tax, a tax plate or a sticker which must be of a design and affixed in such manner as is prescribed by the department.

2. Upon payment of a quarterly installment, the county assessor shall issue the appropriate decal.

[3. The county assessor shall issue each year to the owner of a camper-shell not subject to taxation under the provisions of this chapter a tax plate or sticker similar to that provided in paragraph (b) of subsection 1, which the owner shall affix to the camper-shell in the manner prescribed by the department.]".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 5 as section 11 and adding a new section designated section 10, preceding section 5, to read as follows:

"Sec. 10. NRS 482.545 is hereby amended to read as follows:

482.545 It is unlawful for any person to commit any of the following acts:

1. To operate, or for the owner thereof knowingly to permit the operation of, upon a highway any motor vehicle, trailer or semitrailer which is not registered or which does not have attached thereto and displayed thereon the number of plate or plates assigned thereto by the department for the current period of registration or calendar year, subject to the exemption allowed in NRS 482.320 to 482.363, inclusive, 482.385 to 482.396, inclusive, and 482.420.

2. To move upon a highway any slide-in camper [or camper-shell] that does not have affixed on it the tax plate or sticker provided in NRS 361.5643, when the movement is by a vehicle not subject to the exemption allowed in NRS 482.320 to 482.363, inclusive, 482.385 to 482.396, inclusive, and 482.420.

3. To display, cause or permit to be displayed or to have in possession any certificate of registration, license plate, certificate of ownership or other document of title knowing it to be fictitious or to have been canceled, revoked, suspended or altered.

4. To lend to or knowingly permit the use of by one not entitled thereto any registration card or plate issued to the person so lending or permitting the use thereof.

5. To fail or to refuse to surrender to the department, upon demand, any registration card or plate which has been suspended, canceled or revoked as provided in this chapter.

6. To use a false or fictitious name or address in any application for the registration of any vehicle or for any renewal or duplicate thereof, or knowingly to make a false statement or knowingly to conceal a material fact or otherwise commit a fraud in any such application. A violation of this subsection is a gross misdemeanor.

7. Knowingly to operate a vehicle which has an altered vehicle identification number, serial number, motor number, other distinguishing number or identification mark required for registration.".

Amend sec. 5, page 5, line 17, by deleting "The" and inserting: "If the land surveyed is described in terms of area, the".

THE EIGHTY-SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), April 16, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Roy Parker.

Oh Father of Heaven and earth, we hallow Your Name today. We come into Your presence with thankfulness and gratitude. You are so good to each one of us and have shown us favor even when we were undeserving of it. All of these men and women are gathered here today in this Assembly to be an extension of Your rulership and authority. Give them the knowledge that is needed in each situation that they find themselves. Your Word tells us that no power is visible anywhere except that it came from You. Help them to use that power wisely so that their decisions are pleasing to You, Oh Lord, and beneficial to us, Your creation. Thank you in the name of our Lord Jesus. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

THE EIGHTY-SEVENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), April 17, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Roy Parker.

To the one and only God we address this morning with our petitions and thankfulness. You are a gracious Father and care for our every need. Our main need today is You in Your fullness. We recognize that You are our sufficiency and our dependence is totally in You. Today we need You to help these men and women assembled here to carry out the task of man that You have given us and that is to govern ourselves. Cause them to do this wisely and honestly, as one having to answer to You for any decision made. Thank you for Your wisdom and guidance to them today as our elected officials. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a new section designated section 24.5, following section 24, to read as follows:

"Sec. 24.5. NRS 608.200 is hereby amended to read as follows:

608.200 1. [The] Except as provided in subsections 2, 3 and 4, the period of employment for all persons who are employed, occupied or engaged in work or labor of any kind or nature in underground mines or underground workings in search for or in extraction of minerals, whether base or precious, metallic or nonmetallic, or who are engaged in such underground mines or underground workings, or who are employed, engaged or occupied in other underground workings of any kind or nature for the purpose of tunneling, making excavations or to accomplish any other purpose or design [shall] must not exceed 8 hours within any 24 hours, and the 8 hours [shall] must include the time employed, occupied or consumed from the time of entering the collar of the shaft or portal of the tunnel of any underground mine until returning to the surface from the underground mine, or the time employed, occupied or consumed in leaving the surface of any tunnel, open cut or open pit workings for the point or place of work therein, and returning thereto from such place or point of work.

2. In cases of emergency where life or property is in danger, the period may be prolonged during the continuance of such emergency. A majority of the employees may voluntarily agree in any case to work 10 hours per day for a work week of 40 hours.

3. Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to prevent change in the hours of employment from one part of the day to another at stated periods, nor to prevent the employment of any of the persons mentioned in this section for more than 8 hours during the day in which a change is made; but such change in the hours of employment shall not occur more than once in any 2 weeks.

4. Nothing contained in this section shall preclude a repair or maintenance crew from completing any repair or maintenance work upon which it is engaged at the end of an 8-hour period; nor shall an employee be precluded from working a subsequent shift or period thereof in the same 24 hours if no qualified employee is available for relief.

5. Any person who violates this section, or any person, corporation, employer, or his or its agent who hires, contracts with, or causes any person to work in an underground mine or other underground workings for a period of time longer than 8 hours during 1 day, unless life and property shall be in imminent danger, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.''.

THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), April 18, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:05 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Roy Parker.

Oh Lord our God, our memories go back into Your Word and remember some kingdoms that were blessed because they believed in and gave allegiance to You as God of the universe. We thank You for a President that does the same. As a result we expect Your blessings upon this nation the same as You did to kingdoms such as King David, King Hezekiah and King Jehoshaphat. There are many more that could be stated. When King Jehoshaphat urged the people to seek the God of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and our God as well, the armies of three nations were destroyed without even having to fight. You fought the battle for them. Because we seek You also we expect You to fight our battles, too, and work out every problem that should face us. Thank you in the name of Jesus, Your Son, and our Saviour. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Assembly called to order at 10:36 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Roy Parker.

Oh Lord of Heaven and earth, King David was a man after Your own heart as stated in Your Word. He at times pleased You and once in a while made mistakes. You forgave him of those mistakes and we are grateful that You do the same for us. But it is when we please You that You pour Your blessings out upon us. We enjoy those blessings and thank You for them and entreat You to continue to do so. We need Your guidance here today and we trust that every man or woman here will rely upon the strength and help that You offer to all of us. As this, another week closes and soon another will begin, thank You for having patience with us but instructing us as a mother would her child. Keep each one of these elected persons safe to come back next week to continue Your business and ours. Thank You for this and much more. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

THE NINETY-SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), April 22, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Doctor Gregg Townsley.

Eternal Father, our Father, we stand this day in prayer in recognition that You are the God of all power. In You our governments rise and fall. Through You all things exist, though You entrust to us a certain responsibility for those things. Direct our hearts and minds this day so that our responsibilities may be fulfilled. Forgive us for wanting to go our own way. Teach us that the right use of our power is to build, in word and deed, Your world. So may we be sensitive to issues of human need. May we look beyond greed and selfish ambition to view what is right or good for all concerned. Father, may the Spirit who comes to us in faith help us to play our part this day in Your grand scheme of things. We pray in the name of our Lord. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Amend the resolution as a whole, pages 1 and 2, by deleting lines 1 through 22 on page 1 and lines 1 through 10 on page 2 and inserting:

"WHEREAS, The citizens of the State of Nevada have a tremendous respect for its lands and strongly support the wise use and conservation of its natural resources; and

WHEREAS, Nearly 87 percent of the land in this state is controlled by various agencies of the Federal Government and, therefore, the state is particularly vulnerable to decisions regarding the use of land which are made by federal agencies and not the people or elected officers of the state; and

WHEREAS, The economic well-being of this state, particularly some of its more rural communities, is heavily dependent on access to, and use of, the federal public lands for mining and ranching; and

WHEREAS, The future of mining in this state is dependent upon the availability of federal lands and the loss of areas with potential for the production of minerals would be harmful to this state and the nation; and

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States now is reviewing proposed legislation, as introduced by Nevada's Senators Paul Laxalt and Chic Hecht and Congressman Barbara Vucanovich, which would designate as wilderness approximately 136,900 acres in this state, including portions of Mount Charleston, Mount Moriah, Boundary Peak and additions to the existing Jarbidge wilderness area; and

WHEREAS, In addition to these areas, there is general support in this state for the designation of an additional 1,322,900 acres as wilderness in the Desert National Wildlife Range; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That this legislature urges the Congress of the United States to designate as wilderness portions of Mount Charleston, Mount Moriah, Boundary Peak, and the Jarbidge area, as identified in federal legislation now pending in Congress; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Congress of the United States also is urged to designate as wilderness those portions of the Desert National Wildlife Range which have been recommended for designation as wilderness by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service; and be it further".

Amend the resolution as a whole, page 2, line 15, after "delegation,", by inserting: "the Secretary of Agriculture, the Secretary of the Interior, the chairman of the Subcommittee on Public Lands and National Parks of the United States House of Representatives, the chairman of the Subcommittee on Public Lands and Reserved Water of the United States Senate,".

Amend the title of the resolution to read as follows:

"ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION—Urging the Congress to enact legislation designating additional land in Nevada as wilderness.".

Amend the summary of the resolution to read as follows:

"SUMMARY—Urges Congress to enact legislation designating additional areas as wilderness. (BDR 246)

FISCAL NOTE: Effect on Local Government: No.
Effect on the State or on Industrial Insurance: No.".

Assemblyman Getto moved the adoption of the amendment.

THE NINETY-THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), April 23, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Doctor Gregg Townsley.

Our Heavenly Father, we come to You this day in worship having noticed the Springtime "finery" that You have created around us. For beautiful trees and warm sunshine we give thanks. For flowered meadows and April's rushing mountain water we offer our gratitude. Enable us this day to be grateful for other things as well, for the work that You have given us to do and the co-workers You have given us to strive with. We are not alone and we are not unable to fulfill our responsibilities because You have gifted us with such support. As we walk and work in Your world this day, walk and work with us so that we may perform our duties with gratitude. For the beauty of the earth, we thank You. And for the beauty of Your ways, we thank You. In the name of the Lord, we pray.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, April 23, 1985

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 32.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 32.

Assemblyman Banner moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Banner and Getto.

Assemblyman Francis requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN BANNER:

I've known about Mr. Bunker, either personally or through my family, for years. My dad used to tell many stories about Vernon Bunker. One in particular, was a time when Vernon Bunker was a little boy living in St. Thomas and my dad went there to build a school. He recalled that the kids in the area would rob his tent of the raisins and peanuts. I remember a lot of stories from my father. But the first time I met Mr. Bunker was when I was 12 years old. My dad sent me from Bunkerville to Las Vegas to cash a $5 check. I hitchhiked and when I got there Vernon Bunker was the clerk in the bank and I was able to cash the check. That was the first I had ever seen a check and the first time I had ever been in a bank so I remember Vernon Bunker from the days when I was 12 years old. I've also known him through the legislative sessions that he has worked here. I've had occasion to have contact with him through the years when he served in the Assembly and the Senate and he was very helpful. In fact, he was instrumental in the passage of the law which provided employer paid insurance for public employees. If you are a public employee you have him to thank for that. He also happens to be one of my special friends that I see before 7:00 a.m. every morning. He helps me out and gives me the "lay of the land for the Senate". Vernon Bunker happens to be a very special friend of my family and the stories my dad tells about him will always be in my memory.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

I guess I'm the only legislator in this room that has served with and had a close affiliation with Vernon Bunker. I truly appreciated Mr. Bunker being there, as my colleague has stated "every morning before 7:00 a.m.". I guess that habit of early rising goes back to his early beginnings on the farm. He still has a warm place in his heart for a farm—he lives on a small farm in Southern Nevada. I admire him for his strong character and also his tremendous example for living a good healthy life. I think that if we could all live as healthful a life as Mr. Bunker has done, we could also serve our community and country better. I certainly do support this resolution.

Resolution adopted.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore announced that if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Assembly in recess at 11:24 a.m.

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), April 24, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:03 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Mr. Monte Fast.

Eternal God, our Father, it is fitting that we turn to You in prayer at this beginning of another day. As children of God, we need Your guidance. We confess that we do not communicate with You, our Father, as faithfully and dependently as we ought. When we are about to make decisions, help us to remember that we can listen to Your voice. When we are about to speak, help us to remember that You want us to speak from Your point of view. When we are about to act, help us to remember that our actions are gifts of thanksgiving to You. In a moment of silence, may we hear You. If this is the last time we speak or listen to You today, we are sorry. Please break through into our lives. Be our guide. Through Jesus the Christ, Your Son. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Assemblyman Stone requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN COLLINS:

This is the bill that will make Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday a state holiday. As you know, the President saw fit to make the day a holiday and the Governor has declared it as one of his holiday days. The bill passed out of Government Affairs unanimously and I would ask for a favorable vote.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

I wanted to say a few words about Dr. Martin Luther King himself, as a man. He was more than just a great man, he was a great American. He was also an inspirational leader. He was a man of God and of peace. He was a man who preached love among all people and his spirit lives with us today as a symbol to Black and White Americans. I would like to conclude by saying that all good things of this world are worth striving for and even dying for.

ASSEMBLYMAN BILYEU:

Martin Luther King was a great man who had a profound impact upon our country and upon our public consciousness in this country. He was the spiritual and temporal leader of the civil rights movement of the 1960's. Dr. King argued eloquently and well for principles upon which our country was founded, that is equality and justice under the law.

One could argue about the propriety perhaps of naming a holiday after an individual. Certainly, Dr. King during his lifetime, and even after his tragic death, was a controversial figure. There are those that would argue that rather than naming a holiday after this slain civil rights leader that we perhaps should have a holiday to celebrate civil rights itself. There is merit to that contention. But I think it does overlook an important basic point. And that is the statement that has become I think important to minorities, and particularly to our Black community, that Dr. King was, in fact, the symbol of the civil rights movement of the 1960's. He was a great symbol, indeed, because of the profound impact he had on public consciousness, public perception and how we treat one another. We are, after all, brothers and sisters. For that reason I rise to add my small voice in support of this bill.

THE NINETY-FIFTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), April 25, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:08 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Doctor Gregg Townsley.

Heavenly Father, we are honored this day that You allow us to participate in the government of this fine land of ours. You have touched us, some of us in the middle of our lives, and seen that we have been elected to an office of high honor and responsibility.

We pray this day that You will grant us strength to fulfill the responsibilities You have given us. Enable us to see clearly, to love dearly, and to produce, most nearly, the work that You would have us do.

Where there are issues of Justice, help us to judge with a sense of right and wrong that approximates Your own. Where there are problems which present human hurt, help us to respond in love. Where there are decisions that demand insight or vision, enable us to see with Divine eyes.

Bless the work we do this day, and bless those for whom we work. In the name of our Lord. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

By Assemblymen Thompson, Schofield, Banner, Tebbs, Kerns, Roberts, Ham, Rader, Fairchild, Lambert, O'Donnell, Getto, Dini, Beyer, Collins, Thomas, Zimmer, Swain, Bogaert, McGaughey, Price, Bergevin, Marvel, Malone, Sedway, DuBois, Stone, Nicholas, Humke, Craddock, Coffin, Spriggs, Sader, Arberry, Horne, Francis, Little, Jeffrey, Bilyeu, Nevin, Williams and Joerg:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 24—Memorializing the late assemblyman Harley Heber Leavitt.

WHEREAS, The members of the legislature have learned with great sorrow of the death of their former colleague Harley Heber Leavitt of Mesquite, Nevada; and

WHEREAS, Harley Leavitt was born on November 24, 1920, to Heber and Mildred

Leavitt of Mesquite, was educated in the public schools of Clark County and married the former Willverna Pulsipher on October 5, 1939, at St. George, Utah; and

WHEREAS, He served in the Navy and in 1946 purchased and thereafter operated a garage in Mesquite; and

WHEREAS, He was active in many civic affairs in both Mesquite and Clark County and represented the Moapa and Virgin valleys as their assemblyman for 8 years between 1951 and 1966, serving at various times as the chairman of the assembly committee on public health and public morals and the committee on roads, transportation and aviation; and

WHEREAS, He is survived by his wife, his sons Terry H. of Logandale and Hal of Mesquite, daughters Janet Marshall of Logandale and Ava Peterson of Las Vegas, two brothers LaMar and Lindsay of Las Vegas and three sisters Eloise Leavitt, Etta Cheeney and Noma Clark, all of St. George, Utah, and 17 grandchildren; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the legislature express their condolences to the family of the late Harley Heber Leavitt; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be prepared and transmitted forthwith by the legislative counsel to Willverna Leavitt.

Assemblyman Thompson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Thompson, Banner and Jeffrey.

Assemblyman Coffin requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON:

I came to know Mr. Leavitt through politics as a constituent of mine. I met both Mr. Leavitt and his family. He was a well-known businessman from Mesquite. Probably not too many people here today served with Mr. Leavitt in the legislature. His philosophy and mine run parallel. I think his voting record reflects one of a very caring person for the working men and women of Nevada. He represented his district very fairly.

ASSEMBLYMAN BANNER:

I think it was fitting for Assemblyman Thompson to initiate this resolution to recognize and honor a native Nevadan who once served as a legislator. While the resolution offered here today is beautifully written, I feel it is incumbent upon myself to add a few personal remarks. I had the pleasure of knowing Harley Leavitt for over half a century. I'm that old. It was 52 years ago in the spring that my mother took her small brood back to the valley of her birth and enrolled me in the sixth grade in a school in Mesquite, Nevada. I remember on the first day of school Harley welcomed me and helped this "new kid on the block" to adjust to a new environment, a new way of life and a new school. The friendship and kindness extended to me that day will cause me to be forever grateful. It is something that I will always remember for some young boy to start in a new school and to be treated the way he did me that day. During the years that followed, our paths have transversed occasionally; we've stayed in touch and we did remain very good friends. Harley was born, raised, worked, had a business and passed away in a radius of about five miles in a peaceful spot located by the banks of the Virgin River.

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

I had the pleasure of coming to know Harley Leavitt during my first campaign. In those days Mesquite was in my district. Since then, Mr. Thompson represents that area. Harley was, as Mr. Banner said, a very friendly person who gave me a lot of good advice and kept me in tune with that part of the district. It was a great help to me because Mesquite is a long way from Henderson. He became a very good friend of mine.

Resolution adopted.

Assembly Bill No. 118.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Government Affairs:

Amendment No. 592.

Amend section 1, page 1, by deleting line 3, and inserting: "body from [holding a closed meeting to] closing a meeting:".

Amend section 1, page 1, line 7, by deleting "or imminent".

Amend section 1, page 1, line 8, by deleting the period and inserting: "of which written notice has been given or received by the public body.".

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a new section, designated section 2, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. NRS 241.035 is hereby amended to read as follows:

241.035 1. Each public body shall keep written minutes of each of its meetings, including:

(a) The date, time and place of the meeting.

(b) Those members of the body who were present and those who were absent.

(c) The substance of all matters proposed, discussed or decided and, at the request of any member, a record of each member's vote on any matter decided by vote.

(d) Any other information which any member of the body requests to be included or reflected in the minutes.

2. Minutes of public meetings are public records and [shall] must be made available for inspection by the public within a reasonable time after the adjournment of the meeting at which taken. Minutes of meetings closed pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection 1 of NRS 241.030 become public records when the body determines that the matters discussed no longer require confidentiality and the person whose character, conduct, competence or health was discussed has consented to their disclosure. That person is entitled to a copy of the minutes upon request whether or not they become public records. Minutes of meetings closed pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection 1 of NRS 241.030 become public records when the litigation is completed.

3. All or part of any meeting of a public body may be recorded on audiotape or any other means of sound reproduction if it is a public meeting so long as this in no way interferes with the conduct of the meeting.

4. If a public body closes a meeting to confer with its attorney regarding pending litigation, a separate set of written minutes must be prepared for each case so discussed. These minutes must be independent of any other minutes prepared for the meeting.''.

"(d) Used to reimburse a municipality pursuant to the provisions of section 9 of this act.".

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 21 through 23, renumbering section 24 as section 15, and adding new sections designated sections 13 and 14, following section 20, to read as follows:

"Sec. 13. NRS 349.400 is hereby amended to read as follows:

349.400 As used in NRS 349.400 to 349.670, inclusive, and sections 2 to 12, inclusive, of this act, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 349.410 to 349.540, inclusive, and sections 11, 12 and 13 of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 14. NRS 349.580 is hereby amended to read as follows:

349.580 The director shall not finance a project unless, before financing:

1. The director finds that:

(a) The project to be financed has been approved for financing pursuant to the requirements of NRS 244A.669 to 244A.763, inclusive, or 268.512 to 268.568, inclusive; and

(b) There has been a request by a city or county to have the director issue bonds to finance the project; [or]

2. The director finds and both the state board of finance and the governing body of the city or county where the project is to be located approve the findings of the director that:

(a) The project consists of any land, building or other improvement and all real and personal properties necessary in connection therewith, excluding inventories, raw materials and working capital, whether or not in existence, suitable for new construction, improvement, rehabilitation or redevelopment for manufacturing, industrial, warehousing, commercial or research and development enterprises or for a health and care facility or a supplemental facility for a health and care facility, or of real or personal property appropriate for addition to a hotel, motel, apartment building, casino or office building to protect it or its occupants from fire;

(b) The project will provide a public benefit;

(c) The contemplated lessee, purchaser or other obligor has sufficient financial resources to place the project in operation and to continue its operation, meeting the obligations of the lease, purchase contract or financing agreement;

(d) There are sufficient safeguards to assure that all money provided by the department will be expended solely for the purposes of the project;

(e) There are existing and projected needs for the project and the project would alleviate an existing shortage of facilities or services in the state;

(f) The project would be compatible with existing facilities in the area adjacent to the location of the project;

(g) The purpose of the financing of the project is not solely to provide tax-free financing to the lessee, purchaser or other obligor;

(h) Through advice of counsel or other reliable source that the project has received all approvals by the local, state and federal governments which may be necessary to proceed with construction, improvement, rehabilitation or redevelopment of the project; and

(i) There has been a request by a city, county, lessee, purchaser, other obligor or other enterprise to have the director issue industrial development revenue bonds to finance the project [.] ; or

3. If it is a water project, it has been finally approved by the board for financing water projects.".

THE NINETY-SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), April 26, 1985

Assembly called to order at 10 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Doctor Gregg Townsley.

Heavenly Father, our Father, we stand this morning in worship of the power that forms such a beautiful world around us. You make air that is clear to breathe, water that is clean to touch and sunshine that warms us. Speak to us this day of such simple things. In the bills and other work before us, help us to see the Divine design. Help us to view our work in simple terms as the people who place their trust in us do. Heavenly Father, Eternal Father, we pray this morning not for Your presence, but for Your power to enable us to see more clearly, to love more dearly, to live and work out our lives in a manner pleasing to You. We pray in the name of our Lord. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Assemblyman Coffin requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

A.B. 474 is a bill that appropriates $70,200 to the White Pine County School District. This bill is a result of a problem with the Lund School in the White Pine County School District. The White Pine County School District had voted to close the Lund School. The parents of the children who attended the Lund School organized and put forth a tremendous effort to keep that school open. They got the attention of not only the White Pine County School District, the State Board of Education but also the Nevada State Legislature. I would like to commend all those different entities that worked and met with an open mind, especially the Chairman and members of the Education Committee, our Speaker, the Ways and Means Committee, the residents of Lund and the White Pine County School District. This bill will not only resolve the problem in Lund, but I think it is a very wonderful forward step to perhaps a new method of providing an equal opportunity for education for the small schools; not only in the rural counties but the small schools in the larger counties. The mandates of the bill will also require that after this study or experiment is carried out in Lund that a report be made back to the next session of the legislature. It will allow for the Lund School to be accredited with less teachers than is currently allowed under our state accrediting system. Possibly an education can be provided to those students with two teachers and an aide instead of the five teachers that are currently required. This bill was heard in both the Education and Ways and Means Committees and the Committee on Ways and Means gave it unanimous support.

ASSEMBLYMAN CRADDOCK:

I've had considerable interest in this project for some time and watched the developments in Lund. One of the things that interested me the most about this is the fact that we have what appears to be a very conscientious group of parents in Lund who have supported education for a number of years. I think the potential that the project holds relating to telecommunicating and programs that can be put together by the television satellite approach may very well be helpful to the rest of the state in that we could at least get a handle on what is available. I didn't know what was available through satellite communications, but the amazing part was that I soon learned that no one else knew what was available either. It seems like a good spot to put together a program that can be evaluated as to what programs are available through satellite which may be of help throughout the State of Nevada, not just limited to rural areas.

ASSEMBLYMAN RADER:

I represent an urban area and a concern in the urban areas is neighborhood schools. The Lund School is just a "neighborhood school" and it is difficult for us in a big city to realize the importance of the schools in the small towns. It is a community center. If we can't take the time and find the money to help a rural area like this, then we've reached a sorry point in this state.

Conflict of interest declared by Mr. Speaker.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Speaker:

Your Committee on Taxation, to which was referred Assembly Bill No. 97, has had the same under consideration, and begs leave to report the same back with the recommendation: Amend, and re-refer to the Committee on Taxation.

CHARLES W. JOERG, Chairman

By the Committee on Taxation:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 22—Proposing to amend the constitution of the State of Nevada to authorize the taxation of estates only to the extent of the credit allowable for the tax against the federal estate tax.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section be added to article 10, and section 1 of article 10 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read respectively as follows:

Sec. 4. The legislature may provide by law for the taxation of estates taxed by the United States, but only to the extent of any credit allowed by federal law for the payment of the state tax. The combined amount of these federal and state taxes may not exceed the estate tax which would be imposed by federal law alone. If another state of the United States imposes and collects death taxes against an estate which is taxable by the State of Nevada under this section, the amount of estate tax to be collected by the State of Nevada must be reduced by the amount of the death taxes collected by the other state. Any lien for the estate tax attaches no sooner than the time when the tax is due, and no restriction on possession or use of a decedent's property may be imposed by law before the time when the tax is due. The State of Nevada shall:

1. Accept the determination of the United States of the amount of the taxable estate without further audit.

2. Accept payment of the tax in installments proportionate to any which may be permitted under federal law.

3. Impose no penalty for such a deferred payment.

4. Not charge interest on a deferred or belated payment at any rate higher than may be provided in similar circumstances by federal law.

Section 1. 1. The legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims, when not patented, the proceeds alone of which shall be assessed and taxed, and when patented, each patented mine shall be assessed at not less than five hundred dollars ($500), except when one hundred dollars ($100) in labor has been actually performed on such patented mine during the year, in addition to the tax upon the net proceeds . [; shares]

2. Shares of stock (except shares of stock in banking corporations), bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The legislature may constitute agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used, as a separate class for taxation purposes and may provide a separate uniform plan for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such plan is provided, the legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

7. No inheritance [or estate] tax shall ever be levied . [, and there shall also be excepted such property as may be exempted by law]

8. The legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

INTRODUCTION AND FIRST READING OF LEGISLATION

By Assemblymen Getto, Bergevin, Dini, Spriggs, Marvel and Bilyeu:

Assembly Bill No. 601—An Act relating to economic development; requiring that one member of the commission on economic development and of the commission on tourism be a resident of a county whose population is 17,000 or less; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill No. 97.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Taxation:

Amendment No. 627.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 through 19 and inserting:

"Section 1. NRS 361.091 is hereby amended to read as follows:

361.091 1. An actual bona fide resident of the State of Nevada who has incurred a permanent service-connected disability and has been honorably discharged from the Armed Forces of the United States, or his surviving spouse, is entitled to a disabled veteran's exemption.

2. The amount of exemption is based on the total percentage of permanent service-connected disability. The maximum allowable exemption for total permanent disability is the first $10,000 assessed valuation. A person with a permanent service- connected disability of:

(a) Eighty to 99 percent, inclusive, is entitled to an exemption of $7,500 assessed value.

(b) Sixty to 79 percent, inclusive, is entitled to an exemption of $5,000 assessed value.

For the purposes of this section, any property in which an applicant has any interest is deemed to be the property of the applicant.

3. The exemption may be allowed only to a claimant who has made an affidavit annually, on or before August 1 of the year preceding the year for which the tax is levied, for the purpose of being exempt on the tax roll; but the affidavit may be made at any time by a person claiming exemption from taxation on personal property.

4. The affidavit must be made before the county assessor or a notary public and be submitted to the county assessor. It must be to the effect that the affiant is an actual bona fide resident of the State of Nevada, that he meets all the other requirements of subsection 1, and that he does not claim the exemption in any other county within this state.

5. Before allowing any exemption pursuant to the provisions of this section, the county assessor shall require proof of the applicant's status, and for that purpose shall require him to produce an original or certified copy of:

(a) An honorable discharge or other document of honorable separation from the Armed Forces of the United States which indicates the total percentage of his permanent service-connected disability;

(b) A certificate of satisfactory service which indicates the total percentage of his permanent service-connected disability; or

(c) A certificate from the Veterans' Administration or any other military document which shows that he has incurred a permanent service-connected disability and which indicates the total percentage of that disability, together with a certificate of honorable discharge or satisfactory service.

6. A surviving spouse claiming an exemption pursuant to this section must file with the county assessor an affidavit declaring that:

(a) The surviving spouse was married to and living with the disabled veteran for the 5 years preceding his death;

(b) The disabled veteran was eligible for the exemption at the time of his death; and

(c) The surviving spouse has not remarried.

The affidavit required by this subsection is in addition to the certification required pursuant to subsections 4 and 5.

7. If a tax exemption is allowed under this section, the claimant is not entitled to an exemption under NRS 361.090.

8. If any person makes a false affidavit or produces false proof to the county assessor or a notary public, and as a result of the false affidavit or false proof, the person is allowed a tax exemption to which he is not entitled, he is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

Sec. 2. NRS 375.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

375.090 The tax imposed by NRS 375.020 does not apply to:

1. Any transaction wherein an interest in real property is encumbered for the purposes of securing a debt.

2. A transfer of title to or from the United States, any territory or state or any agency, department, instrumentality or political subdivision thereof.

3. A transfer of title recognizing the true status of ownership of the real property.

4. A transfer of title without consideration from one joint tenant or tenant in common to one or more remaining joint tenants or tenants in common.

5. A transfer of title to community property without consideration when held in the name of one spouse to both spouses as joint tenants or tenants in common, or as community property.

6. A transfer of title between spouses, including gifts.

7. A transfer of title between spouses to effect a property settlement agreement or between former spouses in compliance with a decree of divorce.

8. A transfer of title by spouses without consideration to an inter vivos trust.

9. Transfers, assignments or conveyances of unpatented mines or mining claims.

10. The making, delivery or filing of conveyances of real property to make effective any plan of reorganization or adjustment:

(a) Confirmed under the Bankruptcy Act, as amended, 11 U.S.C.;

(b) Approved in an equity receivership proceeding involving a railroad corporation, as defined in section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act, 11 U.S.C. § 205;

(c) Approved in an equity receivership proceeding involving a corporation, as defined in section 106 of the Bankruptcy Act, 11 U.S.C. § 506; or

(d) Whereby a mere change in identity, form or place of organization is effected, such as a transfer involving a parent, subsidiary or affiliate of a corporation, if the making, delivery or filing of instruments of transfer or conveyance occurs within 5 years [from] after the date of [such] the confirmation, approval or change.

11. The making or delivery of conveyances of real property to make effective any order of the Securities and Exchange Commission if:

(a) The order of the Securities and Exchange Commission in obedience to which [such] the transfer or conveyance is made recites that [such] the transfer or conveyance is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, 15 U.S.C. § 79k;

(b) [Such] The order specifies and itemizes the property which is ordered to be transferred or conveyed; and

(c) [Such] The transfer or conveyance is made in obedience to [such] the order.".

Amend the title of the bill to read:

"An Act relating to taxation; expanding the acceptable documentation of eligibility for a disabled veteran's exemption; clarifying an exemption from the real property transfer tax regarding corporate transfers; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

Amend the summary of the bill to read as follows: "Makes various changes regarding exemptions from property tax and real property transfer tax. (BDR 32-230)".

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 98.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce:

Amendment No. 623.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 through 18 and inserting:

"Section 1. Chapter 598 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 and 3 of this act.

Sec. 2. 1. Whenever the attorney general is requested in writing by the commissioner or the director to represent him in instituting a legal proceeding against a person who has engaged or is engaging in a deceptive trade practice, the attorney general may bring an action in the name of the State of Nevada against that person on behalf of the commissioner or director.

2. The attorney general may institute criminal proceedings to enforce the provisions of NRS 598.360 to 598.640, inclusive. The attorney general is not required to obtain leave of the court before instituting criminal proceedings pursuant to this subsection.

3. If the attorney general has reason to believe that a person has engaged or is engaging in a deceptive trade practice, the attorney general may give written notice to the commissioner or director that the attorney general will institute a legal proceeding pursuant to this subsection if appropriate action is not taken within 30 days. If, within 30 days after the commissioner or director receives the notice, no action, administrative proceeding or other disposition is completed, and the attorney general has not been requested in writing to institute a legal proceeding on behalf of the commissioner or director, the attorney general may bring an action in the name of the State of Nevada against that person to obtain a temporary restraining order, a preliminary or permanent injunction, or other appropriate relief.

Sec. 3. 1. Within the limits of legislative appropriation and the availability of personnel, the commissioner or director shall provide investigative assistance, including the identification and use of relevant evidence in his possession, necessary for litigation referred to the attorney general pursuant to NRS 598.540 or section 2 of this act. The attorney general shall provide legal advice and guidance to the commissioner or director in carrying out his powers and duties pursuant to NRS 598.360 to 598.640, inclusive, including the investigation of any alleged violation of those sections and the preparation for litigation.

2. Upon written request by the attorney general, the commissioner or director may provide any investigative assistance, including evidence and information in his possession, for use in any action brought by the attorney general pursuant to subsection 3 of section 2 of this act. No request for assistance may be unreasonably denied.

Sec. 4. NRS 598.360 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.360 As used in NRS 598.360 to 598.640, inclusive, and sections 2 and 3 of this act, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 598.370 to 598.480, inclusive, have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 5. NRS 598.540 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.540 1. Notwithstanding the requirement of knowledge as an element of any practice enumerated in NRS 598.410 as a deceptive trade practice, when the commissioner or director has cause to believe that a person has engaged or is engaging in any of the practices enumerated in NRS 598.410, knowingly or otherwise, he may [apply] request in writing that the attorney general represent him in instituting an appropriate legal proceeding, including, without limitation, an application for an injunction or temporary restraining order, as provided in N.R.C.P. 65, prohibiting the person from continuing such practices. The court may make orders or judgments necessary to prevent the use by the person of any such deceptive trade practice or to restore to any other person any money or property which may have been acquired by the deceptive trade [practices.] practice.

2. Where the commissioner or director has the authority to institute a civil action or other proceeding, in lieu thereof or as a part thereof, he may accept an assurance of discontinuance of any deceptive trade practice. This assurance may include a stipulation for the voluntary payment by the alleged violator of the costs of investigation and the costs of instituting the action or proceeding and for the voluntary restitution of any money or property acquired by any deceptive trade [practices.] practice. Except as provided in this subsection, any assurance of discontinuance accepted by the commissioner or director and any stipulation filed with the court is confidential to the parties to the action or proceeding and to the court and its employees. Upon final judgment by the court that an injunction or a temporary restraining order, issued as provided in subsection 1 of this section, has been violated, an assurance of discontinuance has been violated or a person has engaged in the same deceptive trade practice as had previously been enjoined, the assurance of discontinuance or stipulation becomes a public record. Proof by a preponderance of evidence of a violation of an assurance constitutes prima facie evidence of a deceptive trade practice for the purpose of any civil action or proceeding brought thereafter by the commissioner or director, whether a new action or a subsequent motion or petition in any pending action or proceeding.

Sec. 6. NRS 598.550 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.550 1. NRS 598.360 to 598.640, inclusive, do not prohibit the commissioner or director from disclosing to the attorney general, any district attorney or any law enforcement officer the fact that a crime has been committed by any person, if this fact has become known as a result of any investigation conducted pursuant to the provisions of NRS 598.360 to 598.640, inclusive.

2. Subject to the provisions of subsection 2 of NRS 598.540, the commissioner or director may not make public the name of any person alleged to have committed a deceptive trade practice. This subsection does not prevent the commissioner or director from issuing public statements describing or warning of any course of conduct which constitutes a deceptive trade practice.

Sec. 7. NRS 598.560 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.560 1. Before instituting any action pursuant to NRS 598.570 to 598.630, inclusive, the district attorney shall ascertain whether or not the action in question is subject to the regulatory authority of any state agency, board, official or other authority established by virtue of the Nevada Revised Statutes except the regulatory or administrative authority provided to the commissioner , [or] director or attorney general by NRS 598.360 to 598.640, inclusive [.] , and sections 2 and 3 of this act.

2. If the action is subject to such regulatory authority or any regulation adopted or any statutes administered by any state regulatory agency, board, official or other authority as provided in subsection 1, the district attorney shall not institute any proceeding under NRS 598.570 to 598.630, inclusive, until the state agency, board, official or other state regulatory authority has had reasonable time to investigate or take any appropriate action with respect to the alleged facts.

3. For the purposes of this section, a reasonable time has elapsed if no final action or other disposition is made of any matter otherwise falling within the provisions of NRS 598.360 to 598.640, inclusive, within 30 days after the matter is referred to or brought to the attention of any state agency, board, official or other regulatory authority except the commissioner [or director.] , director or attorney general.

4. This section does not prohibit the district attorney of any county from filing an action pursuant to the provisions of NRS 598.570 to 598.600, inclusive, if the referral of any matters subject to the provisions of NRS 598.360 to 598.640, inclusive, to any state agency, board, official or other regulatory authority would cause immediate harm to the public of this state or endanger the public health, safety or welfare, and such facts are shown by affidavit or by verified complaint.

Sec. 8. NRS 598.590 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.590 Any action brought pursuant to NRS 598.540 [or 598.570] to 598.600, inclusive, or section 2 of this act may be brought:

1. In a district court in the county in which the defendant resides or has his principal place of business;

2. In the district court in Carson City if the parties consent thereto; or

3. In the district court in any county where a deceptive trade practice has occurred.

Any court in which an action is brought pursuant to [NRS 598.540 or 598.570] those sections may issue any temporary or permanent injunction in accordance with the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure to restrain and prevent any violation of any provisions of NRS 598.360 to 598.640, inclusive, and such injunctions [shall] must be issued without bond.

Sec. 9. NRS 598.600 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.600 Whenever the district attorney or the attorney general has reason to believe that the delay caused by complying with the notice requirement of NRS 598.580 or the requirements of subsection 3 of section 2 of this act would cause immediate harm to the public of this state or endanger the public welfare, he may immediately institute [a suit] an action for injunctive relief, including a request for a temporary restraining order, upon proof of specific facts shown by affidavit or by verified complaint or otherwise that such immediate harm will be or is likely to be caused by [such] the delay. The attorney general shall give written notice of the filing by him of such an action to the commissioner or director. The Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure pertaining to the issuance of temporary restraining orders govern all actions instituted pursuant to this section.

Sec. 10. NRS 598.620 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.620 1. In proceeding pursuant to NRS 598.580 to 598.620, inclusive, or subsection 3 of section 2 of this act, the district attorney or attorney general may accept an assurance of discontinuance with respect to any method, act or practice deemed to be a deceptive trade practice [enumerated in NRS 598.410] from any person who is engaged or is about to engage in such a method, act or practice by following the procedures set forth in subsection 2 of NRS 598.540.

2. Any assurance made pursuant to subsection 1 [shall] must be in writing and [shall] must be filed with and subject to the approval of the district court in the county in which the alleged violator resides or has his principal place of business, or the district court in any county where any deceptive trade practice has occurred or is about to occur or the district court agreed to by the parties.

3. An assurance of discontinuance made pursuant to subsections 1 and 2 [shall not be considered] is not an admission of violation for any purpose, but is subject to the terms, limitations, and conditions of NRS 598.540.

Sec. 11. NRS 598.640 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.640 1. Any person who violates any court order or injunction issued pursuant to NRS 598.360 to 598.630, inclusive, upon a complaint brought by the commissioner, the director , [or] the district attorney of any county of this state or the attorney general shall forfeit and pay to the state general fund a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for each violation. For the purpose of this section, the court issuing any such order or injunction [shall retain] retains jurisdiction over the action or proceeding. Such civil penalties are in addition to any other penalty or remedy available for the enforcement of the provisions of NRS 598.360 to 598.630, inclusive.

2. In any action brought pursuant to NRS 598.540 [and NRS 598.570] to 598.600, inclusive, and section 2 of this act, if the court finds that any person has willfully engaged in a deceptive trade practice , [enumerated in NRS 598.410,] the commissioner, the director , [or] the district attorney of any county in this state or the attorney general bringing [such] the action may recover a civil penalty not to exceed $2,500 for each violation.

3. Any natural person, firm, or any officer or managing agent of any corporation or association who knowingly and willfully engages in a deceptive trade practice : [enumerated in NRS 598.410 shall be punished:]

(a) For the first [or second offense, for] offense, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) For the [third offense and all subsequent offenses, for] second offense, is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

(c) For the third and all subsequent offenses, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than 1 year nor more than 6 years, or by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by both fine and imprisonment.

4. As used in this section the term "violation" includes a repetitive or continuous violation arising out of the same act.".

By the Committee on Commerce:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 24—Proposing to amend section 3 of article 9 of the constitution of the State of Nevada, relating to taxation, to exclude the purchase of local securities from the application of the limit placed on the state's debt.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 3 of article 9 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 3. The state may contract public debts; but such debts shall never, in the aggregate, exclusive of interest, exceed the sum of one per cent of the assessed valuation of the state, as shown by the reports of the county assessors to the state controller, except for the purpose of defraying extraordinary expenses, as hereinafter mentioned. Every such debt shall be authorized by law for some purpose or purposes, to be distinctly specified therein; and every such law shall provide for levying an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest semiannually, and the principal within twenty years from the passage of such law, and shall specially appropriate the proceeds of said taxes to the payment of said principal and interest; and such appropriation shall not be repealed nor the taxes postponed or diminished until the principal and interest of said debts shall have been wholly paid. Every contract of indebtedness entered into or assumed by or on behalf of the state, when all its debts and liabilities amount to said sum before mentioned, shall be void and of no effect, except in cases of money borrowed to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the state in time of war, or, if hostilities be threatened, provide for the public defense.

The state, notwithstanding the foregoing limitations, may, pursuant to authority of the legislature [, make] :

(a) Make and enter into any and all contracts necessary, expedient or advisable for the protection and preservation of any of its property or natural resources, or for the purposes of obtaining the benefits thereof, however arising and whether arising by or through any undertaking or project of the United States or by or through any treaty or compact between the states, or otherwise [.] ; and

(b) Incur any obligation to finance the purchase of securities issued by any county, city, town, school district, general improvement district or other district, including an irrigation district, of this state.

The legislature may from time to time make such appropriations as may be necessary to carry out the obligations of the state under such contracts, and shall levy such tax as may be necessary to pay the same or carry them into effect.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), May 6, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:04 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Mr. Monte Fast.

Eternal God, our Father, today we thank You for men and women of peace. While we often have feelings of frustration, wishing that peace and security could once and for all be accomplished, we know that liberty is a way of life that will always call for sacrifice and effort. In Your knowledge You made it that way. Help us learn from the lessons of forty years, but also, help us learn from the lesson of today. Through our disagreements over the best way to bring peace, help us recognize that all persons of good will sincerely seek peace. In prayer we echo the words of our President, "Never again will mankind scar Your creation by the horror of holocaust". To whatever may we, meeting together in this place, be instruments of Your peace, we dedicate this day. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

The director of the department of prisons shall accept the gift of $2,169 offered by Vinyl Products Manufacturing, Inc., of Carson City, Nevada, whether or not acceptance is approved by the governor or his delegate pursuant to the general provisions of subsection 5 of NRS 353.335, and shall use this money to meet the deficit in the prison grants account resulting from overexpenditure for the salaries of certain teachers and to meet the related payroll assessment. The legislature finds that the offer of this gift under these circumstances is a situation to which a general law cannot be made applicable.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 2 as section 3 and adding a new section designated section 2, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. There is hereby appropriated from the state general fund to the department of prisons for the fiscal year 1984-85:

1. The sum of $503,031 to be used by the office of director;
2. The sum of $55,000 to be used by the northern Nevada restitution center;
3. The sum of $40,000 to be used by the southern Nevada restitution center; and
4. The sum of $89,452 to be used by the southern desert correctional center, for medical care and the cost of keeping offenders. These appropriations are supplemental to those made by section 33 of chapter 453, Statutes of Nevada 1983, at page 1182.".

Amend the title of the bill by deleting the first and second lines and inserting:

"An Act directing the acceptance of a gift offered to the department of prisons to meet an unpaid assessment and an overexpenditure; making supplemental appropriations to the department for medical care and the cost of keeping offenders; and providing other matters prop-".

Amend the summary of the bill, first line, by deleting: "Makes supplemental appropriation" and inserting: "Directs acceptance of gift by and makes appropriations".

Amendment No. 698.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 1 as section 2 and adding a new section designated section 1, preceding section 1, to read as follows:

"Section 1. Chapter 171 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. Whether or not a warrant has been issued, a peace officer shall, unless mitigating circumstances exist, arrest a person when he has probable cause to believe that the person to be arrested has, within the preceding 4 hours, committed a battery upon his spouse or former spouse.

2. When a peace officer investigates such a battery, whether or not an arrest is made, he shall prepare and submit a written report of the alleged battery to his supervisor or other person designated by his employer to receive reports regarding similar allegations. He shall include any mitigating circumstances in his report which prevented him from making an arrest pursuant to subsection 1.".

Amend section 1, page 1, line 17, before "(f)" by inserting an open bracket.

Amend section 1, page 1, line 18, by deleting the bracket.

Amend section 1, pages 1 and 2, by deleting line 20 on page 1 and lines 1 and 2 on page 2.

Amend the bill as a whole by adding new sections designated sections 3 and 4, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 3. NRS 178.484 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.484 1. A person arrested for an offense other than murder of the first degree [shall] must be admitted to bail.

2. A person arrested for murder of the first degree may be admitted to bail unless the proof is evident or the presumption great by any competent court or magistrate authorized by law to do so in the exercise of discretion, giving due weight to the evidence and to the nature and circumstances of the offense.

3. A person arrested for a battery upon his spouse or former spouse must not be admitted to bail sooner than 12 hours after his arrest.

Sec. 4. NRS 200.481 is hereby amended to read as follows:

200.481 1. As used in this section:

(a) "Battery" means any willful and unlawful use of force or violence upon the person of another.

(b) "Child" means a person less than 18 years of age.

(c) "Officer" means:

(1) A peace officer as defined in NRS 169.125;

(2) A person employed in a full-time salaried occupation of firefighting for the benefit or safety of the public;

(3) A member of a volunteer fire department; or

(4) A jailer, guard, matron or other correctional officer of a city or county jail.

2. Any person convicted of a battery, other than a battery committed by an adult upon a child which constitutes child abuse, shall be punished:

(a) If the battery is not committed with a deadly weapon, and no substantial bodily harm to the victim results, except under circumstances where a greater penalty is provided in NRS 197.090, for a misdemeanor. If the battery is committed upon his spouse or former spouse, the court shall not grant probation to or suspend the sentence of the person unless he completes a program of counseling to prevent abuse of his family. Upon completion of such a program, the court shall sentence him to imprisonment for not less than 1 day or to perform 24 hours of work for the communty.

(b) If the battery is not committed with a deadly weapon, and substantial bodily harm to the victim results, for a gross misdemeanor.

(c) If the battery is committed upon an officer and:

(1) The officer was performing his duty;

(2) The officer suffers substantial bodily harm; and

(3) The person charged knew or should have known that the victim was an officer, by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than 1 year nor more than 6 years, or by a fine of not more than $5,000, or by both fine and imprisonment.

(d) If the battery is committed with the use of a deadly weapon, by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than 2 years nor more than 10 years and may be further punished by a fine of not more than $10,000.

(e) If the battery is committed by a prisoner who is in lawful custody or confinement, without the use of a deadly weapon, whether or not substantial bodily harm results, by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than 1 year nor more than 6 years.

(f) If the battery is committed by a prisoner who is in lawful custody or confinement with the use of a deadly weapon, whether or not substantial bodily harm results, by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than 2 years nor more than 20 years.".

Amend the title of the bill, first and second lines, by deleting: "allowing a peace officer to make an arrest without a warrant;" and inserting: "requiring arrest by a peace officer for certain batteries; delaying the release on bail of a person arrested for a battery upon his spouse or former spouse; prohibiting the suspension of a sentence under certain circumstances;".

THE ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), May 7, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:02 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Mr. Monte Fast.

Eternal Father, most of us were children then, but we remember the big black headlines proclaiming V–E Day. The sawmill whistle blowing for a full five minutes . . . our school teacher explaining the war in Germany was over and the principal leading the salute for our whole grade school . . . mother crying because she knew the guns were silent, and our loved one would not die that day. We pause on this day, forty years later, forty years older, and reflect and humbly thank You. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Getto moved that Assembly Bill No. 405 be taken from the Chief Clerk's desk and placed on the General File for the next legislative day.

Motion carried.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Bills Nos. 5, 137, 287, 334, 397, 446; Senate Bill No. 228; Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 7.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Francis requested that Assemblyman Beyer's remarks be entered in the Journal.

I would like to say a word or two in reference to the invocation this morning referring to this day being the 40th anniversary of the surrender of Germany. For one who lived for five years under the German occupation, I would like to express my personal feelings about this day which is very special to me. It was on this day that Germany finally surrendered after having spent some five years in the war. On May 5th, two days and forty years hence was the day the allied troops finally liberated Denmark. Tomorrow, May 8th, is the day when the surrender was finally signed as a peace treaty. I stand here today because of the commitment that the Americans made to the war effort. Some sixteen million people from this country took part in that effort. Some one million casualties of the United States forces occurred during that war. Some 292,000 lives were given in the defense of Europe. So I appreciate personally the efforts of this country on behalf of those of us who lived under that German occupation for so many years. I know many of you here were personally affected by that war through the loss of husbands, brothers, uncles or cousins. To you and to all who helped in that effort I am eternally grateful and stand before you this day to express that gratitude.

Assemblyman Coffin requested that Assemblyman Rader's remarks be entered in the Journal.

In response to Mr. Beyer's speech, it is important to note that the Danes were very courageous during the war. They were overrun by the Germans and the Germans came into Denmark and tried to liquidate the Jews. They ordered the Jews to wear the Star of David. The King of Denmark went into the streets wearing the Star of David to protect his Jewish subjects. The Danes, alone, of all countries in Western Europe, at great personal risk to themselves, spirited almost every Jew out of their country to safety in Sweden. It is fitting to note Mr. Beyer's remarks regarding his gratitude to the United States for what they did for Denmark. It is also fitting to acknowledge what the Danes did for themselves and for the Jews.

GUESTS EXTENDED PRIVILEGE OF ASSEMBLY FLOOR

On request of Assemblyman Dini, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Mr. Enrico Sacchini and Mrs. Dace Sacchini.

On request of Assemblyman Fairchild, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Ms. Ann Mason and Delores DeGolyer.

Assemblyman Francis moved that the Assembly adjourn until Wednesday, May 8, 1985 at 11 a.m.

Motion carried.

Assembly adjourned at 12:44 p.m.

Approved: BYRON L. BILYEU
Speaker of the Assembly

Attest: MOURYNE B. LANDING
Chief Clerk of the Assembly

THE ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), May 8, 1985

Assembly called to order at 11:03 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Mr. Monte Fast.

Eternal Father, sometimes we wish you would walk into this room and tell us exactly what is on Your mind. But You have not. Instead You tell us to think, to listen, to speak, to create beauty, to choose, to make mistakes, and to correct them. Alone in creation, above all other species, You have given us the ability to do these things. It is a lonely responsibility. Only the arrogant among us do not admit to some fear. We are Your children, created in Your image. Help us to use Your gifts in ways pleasing to You.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Francis moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 195.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 738.

Amend section 1, pages 1 and 2, by deleting lines 1 through 19 on page 1 and lines 1 through 11 on page 2 and inserting:

"Section 1. NRS 484.389 is hereby amended to read as follows:

484.389 1. If a person refuses to submit to a required chemical test provided for in NRS 484.382 or 484.383, evidence of that refusal is admissible in any criminal or administrative action arising out of acts alleged to have been committed while he was driving a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance.

2. Except as provided in subsection 4 of NRS 484.382, a court or hearing officer may not exclude evidence of a required test or failure to submit to such a test if the police officer or other person substantially complied with the provisions of NRS 484.382 to 484.393, inclusive.

3. If a person submits to such a test, full information concerning that test must be made available, upon his request, to him or his attorney.

4. Evidence of a required test is not admissible in a criminal or administrative proceeding unless it is shown by documentary or other evidence that the law enforcement agency calibrated the testing device and otherwise maintained it as required by the regulations of the committee on testing for intoxication.

5. The results of a test administered at the direction of a police officer pursuant to NRS 484.383 are not inadmissible in a criminal or administrative proceeding solely because the police officer erred in directing or denying a particular type of evidentiary test.".

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting section 2.

Amend the title of the bill to read as follows:

"An Act relating to driving while intoxicated; providing for the admissibility of the results of certain evidentiary tests; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

Amend the summary of the bill to read as follows: "Provides for admissibility of certain evidentiary tests relating to driving while intoxicated. (BDR 43-790)".

Amendment adopted.

Assemblyman Sader moved that Assembly Bill No. 195 be re-referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Motion carried.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to the Committee on Judiciary.

Assembly Bill No. 363.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce:

Amendment No. 699.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 and 2 and renumbering section 3 as section 1.

Amend sec. 3, page 4, line 41, by deleting the bracket.

Amend sec. 3, page 4, line 42, by deleting "$50" and inserting "[$50,] $100,".

Amend sec. 3, page 5, line 4, by deleting the bracket.

Amend the bill by adding new sections designated sections 2 and 3, following section 3, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. NRS 484.263 is hereby amended to read as follows:

484.263 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, a person shall not:

(a) Operate a motor vehicle registered or required to be registered in this state without having security covering the vehicle as required by NRS 485.185.

(b) Operate or knowingly permit the operation of a motor vehicle without having evidence of current insurance in the vehicle.

(c) Fail or refuse to surrender, upon demand, to a peace officer or to an authorized representative of the department proof of security.

2. Except as provided in subsection 3, any person who violates subsection 1 shall be fined not less than [$100] $300 nor more than $500.

3. A person may not be fined if he presents evidence to the court that the security required by NRS 485.185 was in effect at the time demand was made for it.

4. Failure to deposit security if so required by the provisions of NRS 485.190 is prima facie evidence of violation of the provisions of this section.

5. The provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection 1 do not apply if the motor vehicle in question displays a valid permit issued by the department of motor vehicles pursuant to NRS 482.3212, 482.396, 482.423 or 482.424 authorizing the movement or operation of that vehicle within the state for a limited [period of] time.

Sec. 3. NRS 485.383 is hereby amended to read as follows:

485.383 1. The department shall annually select [, on a random sample basis,] not less than 10 percent of the motor vehicles registered in this state on which the security is a contract of insurance for a verification of motor vehicle insurance.

2. The department shall send a [verification] form to the owner of each vehicle selected for [an insurance] verification. The owner shall complete the form with all the information which is requested by the department and return the form and evidence of the insurance within 15 days.

3. When the department receives a completed [verification] form it shall send the form to the named insurer.

4. Upon receipt of an insurance [verification] form from the department, the insurer shall verify the information on the form and return it to the department only if the insurer does not have a current contract of insurance covering the vehicle.

5. The department shall suspend the [vehicle] vehicle's registration and require the return to the department of the license plates of any vehicle for which [a verification] the form is not returned to the department by the owner within 15 days or for which the [verification] form is returned by the insurer with a denial of coverage.

6. Except as provided in subsection 10, the department shall reinstate the registration of a vehicle and reissue the license plates only upon filing by the owner of proof of financial responsibility for a period of 3 years.

7. A denial of coverage, signed by an officer or agent of an insurer, is prima facie evidence of a false certification.

8. If the department believes a person has violated the provisions of NRS 485.185, it shall notify the district attorney of the county in which the person resides.

9. An insurer, its agents, the department and its employees who act pursuant to this section in good faith and without gross negligence are immune from civil liability for those acts.

10. If an owner proves to the satisfaction of the department that his vehicle was not used in this state for a 30-day period, including the date on which the sample was taken, the department shall not require him to file proof of financial responsibility as a prerequisite to reinstating his registration and reissuing his license plates.".

Amend sec. 4, page 5, by deleting lines 10 through 13 and inserting: "insurance to the insured on a form [provided] approved by the commissioner. The evidence of insurance must show:".

Amend sec. 4, page 5, line 19, by deleting "insurer" and inserting "insuring agent".

Amend sec. 4, page 5, line 20, by deleting "48 hours" and inserting "20 days".

Amend sec. 4, page 5, line 21, by deleting: "pursuant to subsection 1." and inserting: "unless he has issued a contract of similar insurance to the insured.".

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting section 5.

Amend the title of the bill to read as follows:

"An Act relating to motor vehicles; increasing certain fees and fines relating to required security; removing the requirement for a random selection of vehicles whose insurance coverage is to be verified; requiring each insuring agent to notify the department of motor vehicles upon the termination of coverage; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

"Section 1. NRS 277.200 is hereby amended to read as follows:

277.200 The Tahoe Regional Planning Compact is as follows:

Tahoe Regional Planning Compact

ARTICLE I. Findings and Declarations of Policy

(a) It is found and declared that:

(1) The waters of Lake Tahoe and other resources of the region are threatened with deterioration or degeneration, which endangers the natural beauty and economic productivity of the region.

(2) The public and private interests and investments in the region are substantial.

(3) The region exhibits unique environmental and ecological values which are irreplaceable.

(4) By virtue of the special conditions and circumstances of the region's natural ecology, developmental pattern, population distribution and human needs, the region is experiencing problems of resource use and deficiencies of environmental control.

(5) Increasing urbanization is threatening the ecological values of the region and threatening the public opportunities for use of the public lands.

(6) Maintenance of the social and economic health of the region depends on maintaining the significant scenic, recreational, educational, scientific, natural and public health values provided by the Lake Tahoe Basin.

(7) There is a public interest in protecting, preserving and enhancing these values for the residents of the region and for visitors to the region.

(8) Responsibilities for providing recreational and scientific opportunities, preserving scenic and natural areas, and safeguarding the public who live, work and play in or visit the region are divided among local governments, regional agencies, the states of California and Nevada, and the Federal Government.

(9) In recognition of the public investment and multistate and national significance of the recreational values, the Federal Government has an interest in the acquisition of recreational property and the management of resources in the region to preserve environmental and recreational values, and the Federal Government should assist the states in fulfilling their responsibilities.

(10) In order to preserve the scenic beauty and outdoor recreational opportunities of the region, there is a need to insure an equilibrium between the region's natural endowment and its man-made environment.

(b) In order to enhance the efficiency and governmental effectiveness of the region, it is imperative that there be established a Tahoe Regional Planning Agency with the powers conferred by this compact including the power to establish environmental threshold carrying capacities and to adopt and enforce a regional plan and implementing ordinances which will achieve and maintain such capacities while providing opportunities for orderly growth and development consistent with such capacities.

(c) The Tahoe Regional Planning Agency shall interpret and administer its plans, ordinances, rules and regulations in accordance with the provisions of this compact.

ARTICLE II. Definitions

As used in this compact:

(a) "Region," includes Lake Tahoe, the adjacent parts of Douglas and Washoe counties and Carson City, which for the purposes of this compact shall be deemed a county, lying within the Tahoe Basin in the State of Nevada, and the adjacent parts of the Counties of Placer and El Dorado lying within the Tahoe Basin in the State of California, and that additional and adjacent part of the County of Placer outside of the Tahoe Basin in the State of California which lies southward and eastward of a line starting at the intersection of the basin crestline and the north boundary of Section 1, thence west to the northwest corner of Section 3, thence south to the intersection of the basin crestline and the west boundary of Section 10; all sections referring to Township 15 North, Range 16 East, M.D.B. & M. The region defined and described herein shall be as precisely delineated on official maps of the agency.

(b) "Agency" means the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency.

(c) "Governing body" means the governing board of the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency.

(d) "Regional plan" means the long-term general plan for the development of the region.

(e) "Planning commission" means the advisory planning commission appointed pursuant to subdivision (h) of Article III.

(f) "Gaming" means to deal, operate, carry on, conduct, maintain or expose for play any banking or percentage game played with cards, dice or any mechanical device or machine for money, property, checks, credit or any representative of value, including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, faro, monte, roulette, keno, bingo, fan-tan, twenty-one, blackjack, seven-and-a-half, big injun, klondike, craps, stud poker, draw poker or slot machine, but does not include social games played solely for drinks, or cigars or cigarettes served individually, games played in private homes or residences for prizes or games operated by charitable or educational organizations, to the extent excluded by applicable state law.

(g) "Restricted gaming license" means a license to operate not more than 15 slot machines on which a quarterly fee is charged pursuant to NRS 463.373 and no other games.

(h) "Project" means an activity undertaken by any person, including any public agency, if the activity may substantially affect the land, water, air, space or any other natural resources of the region.

(i) "Environmental threshold carrying capacity" means an environmental standard necessary to maintain a significant scenic, recreational, educational, scientific or natural value of the region or to maintain public health and safety within the region. Such standards shall include but not be limited to standards for air quality, water quality, soil conservation, vegetation preservation and noise.

(j) "Feasible" means capable of being accomplished in a successful manner within a reasonable period of time, taking into account economic, environmental, social and technological factors.

(k) "Areas open to public use" means all of the areas within a structure housing gaming under a nonrestricted license except areas devoted to the private use of guests.

(l) "Areas devoted to private use of guests" means hotel rooms and hallways to serve hotel room areas, and any parking areas. A hallway serves hotel room areas if more than 50 percent of the areas on each side of the hallway are hotel rooms.

(m) "Nonrestricted license" means a gaming license which is not a restricted gaming license.

ARTICLE III. Organization

(a) There is created the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency as a separate legal entity.

The governing body of the agency shall be constituted as follows:

(1) California delegation:

(A) One member appointed by each of the County Boards of Supervisors of the Counties of El Dorado and Placer and one member appointed by the City Council of the City of South Lake Tahoe. Any such member may be a member of the county board of supervisors or city council, respectively, and shall reside in the territorial jurisdiction of the governmental body making the appointment.

(B) Two members appointed by the Governor of California, one member appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly of California and one member appointed by the Senate Rules Committee of the State of California. The members appointed pursuant to this subparagraph shall not be residents of the region and shall represent the public at large within the State of California.

(2) Nevada delegation:

(A) One member appointed by each of the boards of county commissioners of Douglas and Washoe counties and one member appointed by the board of supervisors of Carson City. Any such member may be a member of the board of county commissioners or board of supervisors, respectively, and [shall] must reside in the territorial jurisdiction of the governmental body making the appointment.

(B) [One member] Two members appointed by the governor of Nevada . [, the secretary of state of Nevada or his designee, and the director of the state department of conservation and natural resources of Nevada or his designee.

Except for the secretary of state and the director of the state department of conservation and natural resources, the members or designees appointed pursuant to this subparagraph shall not be residents of the region. All members appointed pursuant to this subparagraph shall represent the public at large within the State of Nevada.]

(C) One member appointed [for a 1-year term by the six other members of the Nevada delegation. If at least four members of the Nevada delegation are unable to agree upon the selection of a seventh member within 60 days after the effective date of the amendments to this compact or the occurrence of a vacancy on the governing body for that state the governor of the State of Nevada shall make such an appointment. The member appointed pursuant to this subparagraph may, but is not required to, be a resident of the region within the State of Nevada.] by the speaker of the assembly and one member appointed by the majority leader of the Nevada senate.

(3) If any appointing authority under paragraph (1)(A), (1)(B), (2)(A) , [or] (2)(B) or 2(C) fails to make such an appointment within 60 days after the effective date of the amendments to this compact or the occurrence of a vacancy on the governing body, the governor of the state in which the appointing authority is located shall make the appointment. The term of any member so appointed shall be 1 year.

(4) The position of any member of the governing body shall be deemed vacant if such a member is absent from three consecutive meetings of the governing body in any calendar year.

(5) Each member and employee of the agency shall disclose his economic interests in the region within 10 days after taking his seat on the governing board or being employed by the agency and shall thereafter disclose any further economic interest which he acquires, as soon as feasible after he acquires it. As used in this paragraph, "economic interests" means:

(A) Any business entity operating in the region in which the member or employee has a direct or indirect investment worth more than $1,000.

(B) Any real property located in the region in which the member or employee has a direct or indirect interest worth more than $1,000.

(C) Any source of income attributable to activities in the region, other than loans by or deposits with a commercial lending institution in the regular course of business, aggregating $250 or more in value received by or promised to the member within the preceding 12 months; or

(D) Any business entity operating in the region in which the member or employee is a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee or holds any position of management.

No member or employee of the agency shall make, or attempt to influence, an agency decision in which he knows or has reason to know he has an economic interest. Members and employees of the agency must disqualify themselves from making or participating in the making of any decision of the agency when it is reasonably foreseeable that the decision will have a material financial effect, distinguishable from its effect on the public generally, on the economic interests of the member or employee.

(b) The members of the agency shall serve without compensation, but the expenses of each member shall be met by the body which he represents in accordance with the law of that body. All other expenses incurred by the governing body in the course of exercising the powers conferred upon it by this compact unless met in some other manner specifically provided, shall be paid by the agency out of its own funds.

(c) [Except for the secretary of state and director of the state department of conservation and natural resources of Nevada and the member appointed pursuant to subdivision (a)(2)(C), the] The members of the governing body serve at the pleasure of the appointing authority in each case, but each appointment shall be reviewed no less often than every 4 years. Members may be reappointed.

(d) The governing body of the agency shall meet at least monthly. All meetings shall be open to the public to the extent required by the law of the State of California or the State of Nevada, whichever imposes the greater requirement, applicable to local governments at the time such meeting is held. The governing body shall fix a date for its regular monthly meeting in such terms as "the first Monday of each month," and shall not change such date more often than once in any calendar year. Notice of the date so fixed shall be given by publication at least once in a newspaper or combination of newspapers whose circulation is general throughout the region and in each county a portion of whose territory lies within the region. Notice of any special meeting, except an emergency meeting, shall be given by so publishing the date and place and posting an agenda at least 5 days prior to the meeting.

(e) The position of a member of the governing body shall be considered vacated upon his loss of any of the qualifications required for his appointment and in such event the appointing authority shall appoint a successor.

(f) The governing body shall elect from its own members a chairman and vice chairman, whose terms of office shall be 2 years, and who may be reelected. If a vacancy occurs in either office, the governing body may fill such vacancy for the unexpired term.

(g) Four of the members of the governing body from each state constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the agency. The voting procedures shall be as follows:

(1) For adopting, amending or repealing environmental threshold carrying capacities, the regional plan, and ordinances, rules and regulations, and for granting variances from the ordinances, rules and regulations, the vote of at least four of the members of each state agreeing with the vote of at least four members of the other state shall be required to take action. If there is no vote of at least four of the members from one state agreeing with the vote of at least four of the members of the other state on the actions specified in this paragraph, an action of rejection shall be deemed to have been taken.

(2) For approving a project, the affirmative vote of at least five members from the state in which the project is located and the affirmative vote of at least nine members of the governing body are required. If at least five members of the governing body from the state in which the project is located and at least nine members of the entire governing body do not vote in favor of the project, upon a motion for approval, an action of rejection shall be deemed to have been taken. A decision by the agency to approve a project shall be supported by a statement of findings, adopted by the agency, which indicates that the project complies with the regional plan and with applicable ordinances, rules and regulations of the agency.

(3) For routine business and for directing the agency's staff on litigation and enforcement actions, at least eight members of the governing body must agree to take action. If at least eight votes in favor of such action are not cast, an action of rejection shall be deemed to have been taken.

Whenever under the provisions of this compact or any ordinance, rule, regulation or policy adopted pursuant thereto, the agency is required to review or approve any project, public or private, the agency shall take final action by vote, whether to approve, to require modification or to reject such project, within 180 days after the application for such project is accepted as complete by the agency in compliance with the agency's rules and regulations governing such delivery unless the applicant has agreed to an extension of this time limit. If a final action by vote does not take place within 180 days, the applicant may bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction to compel a vote unless he has agreed to an extension. This provision does not limit the right of any person to obtain judicial review of agency action under subdivision [(j)] (i) of Article VI. The vote of each member of the governing body shall be individually recorded. The governing body shall adopt its own rules, regulations and procedures.

(h) An advisory planning commission shall be appointed by the agency. The commission shall include: the chief planning officers of Placer County, El Dorado County, and the City of South Lake Tahoe in California and of Douglas County, Washoe County and Carson City in Nevada, the executive officer of the Lahontan Regional Water Quality Control Board of the State of California, the executive officer of the Air Resources Board of the State of California, the director of the state department of conservation and natural resources of the State of Nevada, the administrator of the division of environmental protection in the state department of conservation and natural resources of the State of Nevada, the administrator of the Lake Tahoe Management Unit of the United States Forest Service, and at least four lay members with an equal number from each state, at least half of whom shall be residents of the region. Any official member may designate an alternate.

The term of office of each lay member of the advisory planning commission shall be 2 years. Members may be reappointed.

The position of each member of the advisory planning commission shall be considered vacated upon loss of any of the qualifications required for appointment, and in such an event the appointing authority shall appoint a successor.

The advisory planning commission shall elect from its own members a chairman and a vice chairman, whose terms of office shall be 2 years and who may be reelected. If a vacancy occurs in either office, the advisory planning commission shall fill such vacancy for the unexpired term.

A majority of the members of the advisory planning commission constitutes a quorum for the transaction of the business of the commission. A majority vote of the quorum present shall be required to take action with respect to any matter.

(i) The agency shall establish and maintain an office within the region, and for this purpose the agency may rent or own property and equipment. Every plan, ordinance and other record of the agency which is of such nature as to constitute a public record under the law of either the State of California or the State of Nevada shall be open to inspection and copying during regular office hours.

(j) Each authority charged under this compact or by the law of either state with the duty of appointing a member of the governing body of the agency shall by certified copy of its resolution or other action notify the Secretary of State of its own state of the action taken.

ARTICLE IV. Personnel

(a) The governing body shall determine the qualification of, and it shall appoint and fix the salary of, the executive officer of the agency, and shall employ such other staff and legal counsel as may be necessary to execute the powers and functions provided for under this compact or in accordance with any intergovernmental contracts or agreements the agency may be responsible for administering.

(b) Agency personnel standards and regulations shall conform insofar as possible to the regulations and procedures of the civil service of the State of California or the State of Nevada, as may be determined by the governing body of the agency; and shall be regional and bistate in application and effect; provided that the governing body may, for administrative convenience and at its discretion, assign the administration of designated personnel arrangements to an agency of either state, and provided that administratively convenient adjustments be made in the standards and regulations governing personnel assigned under intergovernmental agreements.

(c) The agency may establish and maintain or participate in such additional programs of employee benefits as may be appropriate to afford employees of the agency terms and conditions of employment similar to those enjoyed by employees of California and Nevada generally.

ARTICLE V. Planning

(a) In preparing each of the plans required by this article and each amendment thereto, if any, subsequent to its adoption, the planning commission after due notice shall hold at least one public hearing which may be continued from time to time, and shall review the testimony and any written recommendations presented at such hearing before recommending the plan or amendment. The notice required by this subdivision shall be given at least 20 days prior to the public hearing by publication at least once in a newspaper or combination of newspapers whose circulation is general throughout the region and in each county a portion of whose territory lies within the region.

The planning commission shall then recommend such plan or amendment to the governing body for adoption by ordinance. The governing body may adopt, modify or reject the proposed plan or amendment, or may initiate and adopt a plan or amendment without referring it to the planning commission. If the governing body initiates or substantially modifies a plan or amendment, it shall hold at least one public hearing thereon after due notice as required in this subdivision.

If a request is made for the amendment of the regional plan by:

(1) A political subdivision a part of whose territory would be affected by such amendment; or

(2) The owner or lessee of real property which would be affected by such amendment, the governing body shall complete its action on such amendment within 180 days after such request is accepted as complete according to standards which must be prescribed by ordinance of the agency.

(b) The agency shall develop, in cooperation with the states of California and Nevada, environmental threshold carrying capacities for the region. The agency should request the President's Council on Environmental Quality, the United States Forest Service and other appropriate agencies to assist in developing such environmental threshold carrying capacities. Within 18 months after the effective date of the amendments to this compact, the agency shall adopt environmental threshold carrying capacities for the region.

(c) Within 1 year after the adoption of the environmental threshold carrying capacities for the region, the agency shall amend the regional plan so that, at a minimum, the plan and all of its elements, as implemented through agency ordinances, rules and regulations, achieves and maintains the adopted environmental threshold carrying capacities. Each element of the plan shall contain implementation provisions and time schedules for such implementation by ordinance. The planning commission and governing body shall continuously review and maintain the regional plan. The regional plan shall consist of a diagram, or diagrams, and text, or texts setting forth the projects and proposals for implementation of the regional plan, a description of the needs and goals of the region and a statement of the policies, standards and elements of the regional plan.

The regional plan shall be a single enforceable plan and includes all of the following correlated elements:

(1) A land-use plan for the integrated arrangement and general location and extent of, and the criteria and standards for, the uses of land, water, air, space and other natural resources within the region, including but not limited to an indication or allocation of maximum population densities and permitted uses.

(2) A transportation plan for the integrated development of a regional system of transportation, including but not limited to parkways, highways, transportation facilities, transit routes, waterways, navigation facilities, public transportation facilities, bicycle facilities, and appurtenant terminals and facilities for the movement of people and goods within the region. The goal of transportation planning shall be:

(A) To reduce dependency on the automobile by making more effective use of existing transportation modes and of public transit to move people and goods within the region; and

(B) To reduce to the extent feasible air pollution which is caused by motor vehicles.

Where increases in capacity are required, the agency shall give preference to providing such capacity through public transportation and public programs and projects related to transportation. The agency shall review and consider all existing transportation plans in preparing its regional transportation plan pursuant to this paragraph.

The plan shall provide for an appropriate transit system for the region.

The plan shall give consideration to:

(A) Completion of the Loop Road in the states of Nevada and California;

(B) Utilization of a light rail mass transit system in the South Shore area; and

(C) Utilization of a transit terminal in the Kingsbury Grade area.

Until the regional plan is revised, or a new transportation plan is adopted in accordance with this paragraph, the agency has no effective transportation plan.

(3) A conservation plan for the preservation, development, utilization, and management of the scenic and other natural resources within the basin, including but not limited to, soils, shoreline and submerged lands, scenic corridors along transportation routes, open spaces, recreational and historical facilities.

(4) A recreation plan for the development, utilization, and management of the recreational resources of the region, including but not limited to, wilderness and forested lands, parks and parkways, riding and hiking trails, beaches and playgrounds, marinas, areas for skiing and other recreational facilities.

(5) A public services and facilities plan for the general location, scale and provision of public services and facilities, which, by the nature of their function, size, extent and other characteristics are necessary or appropriate for inclusion in the regional plan.

In formulating and maintaining the regional plan, the planning commission and governing body shall take account of and shall seek to harmonize the needs of the region as a whole, the plans of the counties and cities within the region, the plans and planning activities of the state, federal and other public agencies and nongovernmental agencies and organizations which affect or are concerned with planning and development within the region.

(d) The regional plan shall provide for attaining and maintaining federal, state, or local air and water quality standards, whichever are strictest, in the respective portions of the region for which the standards are applicable.

The agency may, however, adopt air or water quality standards or control measures more stringent than the applicable state implementation plan or the applicable federal, state, or local standards for the region, if it finds that such additional standards or control measures are necessary to achieve the purposes of this compact. Each element of the regional plan, where applicable, shall, by ordinance, identify the means and time schedule by which air and water quality standards will be attained.

(e) Except for the Regional Transportation Plan of the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, the regional plan, ordinances, rules and regulations adopted by the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency in effect on July 1, 1980, shall be the regional plan, ordinances, rules and regulations of the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency for that portion of the Tahoe region located in the State of California. Such plan, ordinance, rule or regulation may be amended or repealed by the governing body of the agency. The plans, ordinances, rules and regulations of the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency that do not conflict with, or are not addressed by, the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency's plans, ordinances, rules and regulations referred to in this subdivision shall continue to be applicable unless amended or repealed by the governing body of the agency. No provision of the regional plan, ordinances, rules and regulations of the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency referred to in this subdivision shall apply to that portion of the region within the State of Nevada, unless such provision is adopted for the Nevada portion of the region by the governing body of the agency.

(f) The regional plan, ordinances, rules and regulations of the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency apply to that portion of the region within the State of Nevada.

(g) The agency shall adopt ordinances prescribing specific written findings that the agency must make prior to approving any project in the region. These findings shall relate to environmental protection and shall insure that the project under review will not adversely affect implementation of the regional plan and will not cause the adopted environmental threshold carrying capacities of the region to be exceeded.

(h) The agency shall maintain the data, maps and other information developed in the course of formulating and administering the regional plan, in a form suitable to assure a consistent view of developmental trends and other relevant information for the availability of and use by other agencies of government and by private organizations and individuals concerned.

(i) Where necessary for the realization of the regional plan, the agency may engage in collaborative planning with local governmental jurisdictions located outside the region, but contiguous to its boundaries. In formulating and implementing the regional plan, the agency shall seek the cooperation and consider the recommendations of counties and cities and other agencies of local government, of state and federal agencies, of educational institutions and research organizations, whether public or private, and of civic groups and private persons.

ARTICLE VI. Agency's Powers

(a) The governing body shall adopt all necessary ordinances, rules, and regulations to effectuate the adopted regional plan. Except as otherwise provided in this compact, every such ordinance, rule or regulation shall establish a minimum standard applicable throughout the region. Any political subdivision or public agency may adopt and enforce an equal or higher requirement applicable to the same subject of regulation in its territory. The regulations of the agency shall contain standards including but not limited to the following: water purity and clarity; subdivision; zoning; tree removal; solid waste disposal; sewage disposal; land fills, excavations, cuts and grading; piers, harbors, breakwaters or channels and other shoreline developments; waste disposal in shoreline areas; waste disposal from boats; mobile-home parks; house relocation; outdoor advertising; flood plain protection; soil and sedimentation control; air pollution; and watershed protection. Whenever possible without diminishing the effectiveness of the regional plan, the ordinances, rules, regulations and policies shall be confined to matters which are general and regional in application, leaving to the jurisdiction of the respective states, counties and cities the enactment of specific and local ordinances, rules, regulations and policies which conform to the regional plan.

The agency shall prescribe by ordinance those activities which it has determined will not have substantial effect on the land, water, air, space or any other natural resources in the region and therefore will be exempt from its review and approval.

Every ordinance adopted by the agency shall be published at least once by title in a newspaper or combination of newspapers whose circulation is general throughout the region. Except an ordinance adopting or amending the regional plan, no ordinance shall become effective until 60 days after its adoption. Immediately after its adoption, a copy of each ordinance shall be transmitted to the governing body of each political subdivision having territory within the region.

(b) No project other than those to be reviewed and approved under the special provisions of subdivisions (c), (d), (e) [, (f) and (g)] and (f) may be developed in the region without obtaining the review and approval of the agency and no project may be approved unless it is found to comply with the regional plan and with the ordinances, rules and regulations enacted pursuant to subdivision (a) to effectuate that plan. The agency may approve a project in the region only after making the written findings required by this subdivision or subdivision (g) of Article V. Such findings shall be based on substantial evidence in the record.

Before adoption by the agency of the ordinances required in subdivision (g) of Article V, the agency may approve a project in the region only after making written findings on the basis of substantial evidence in the record that the project is consistent with the regional plan then in effect and with applicable plans, ordinances, regulations, and standards of federal and state agencies relating to the protection, maintenance and enhancement of environmental quality in the region.

(c) [The legislatures of the states of California and Nevada find that in order to make effective the regional plan as revised by the agency, it is necessary to halt temporarily works of development in the region which might otherwise absorb the entire capability of the region for further development or direct it out of harmony with the ultimate plan. Subject to the limitation provided in this subdivision, from the effective date of the amendments to this compact until the regional plan is amended pursuant to subdivision (c) of Article V, or until May 1, 1983, whichever is earlier:

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, no new subdivision, planned unit development, or condominium project may be approved unless a complete tentative map or plan has been approved before the effective date of the amendments to this compact by all agencies having jurisdiction. The subdivision of land owned by a general improvement district, which existed and owned the land before the effective date of the amendments to this compact, may be approved if subdivision of the land is necessary to avoid insolvency of the district.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (3), no apartment building may be erected unless the required permits for such building have been secured from all agencies having jurisdiction, prior to the effective date of the amendments to this compact.

(3) During each of the calendar years 1980, 1981 and 1982, no city or county may issue building permits which authorize the construction of a greater number of new residential units within the region than were authorized within the region by building permits issued by that city or county during the calendar year 1978. For the period of January through April, 1983, building permits authorizing the construction of no more than one-third of that number may be issued by each such city or county. For purposes of this paragraph a "residential unit" means either a single family residence or an individual residential unit within a larger building, such as an apartment building, a duplex or a condominium.

The legislatures find the respective numbers of residential units authorized within the region during the calendar year 1978 to be as follows:

1. City of South Lake Tahoe and El Dorado County (combined)..... 252
2. Placer County..... 278
3. Carson City..... –0–
4. Douglas County..... 339
5. Washoe County..... 739

(4) During each of the calendar years 1980, 1981 and 1982, no city or county may issue building permits which authorize construction of a greater square footage of new commercial buildings within the region than were authorized within the region by building permits for commercial purposes issued by that city or county during the calendar year 1978. For the period of January through April, 1983, building permits authorizing the construction of no more than one-third the amount of that square footage may be issued by each such city or county. The legislatures find the respective square footages of commercial buildings authorized within the region during calendar year 1978 to be as follows:

1. City of South Lake Tahoe and El Dorado County (combined) 64,324
2. Placer County 23,000
3. Carson City ..... -0-
4. Douglas County 57,354
5. Washoe County 50,600

(5) No structure may be erected to house gaming under a nonrestricted license.

(6) No facility for the treatment of sewage may be constructed or enlarged except:

(A) To comply, as ordered by the appropriate state agency for the control of water pollution, with existing limitations of effluent under the Clean Water Act, 33 U.S.C. § 1251 et seq., and the applicable state law for control of water pollution;

(B) To accommodate development which is not prohibited or limited by this subdivision; or

(C) In the case of Douglas County Sewer District # 1, to modify or otherwise alter sewage treatment facilities existing on the effective date of the amendments to this compact so that such facilities will be able to treat the total volume of effluent for which they were originally designed, which is 3.0 million gallons per day. Such modification or alteration is not a "project"; is not subject to the requirements of Article VII; and does not require a permit from the agency. Before commencing such modification or alteration, however, the district shall submit to the agency its report identifying any significant soil erosion problems which may be caused by such modifications or alterations and the measures which the district proposes to take to mitigate or avoid such problems.

The moratorium imposed by this subdivision does not apply to work done pursuant to a right vested before the effective date of the amendments to this compact. Notwithstanding the expiration date of the moratorium imposed by this subdivision, no new highway may be built or existing highway widened to accommodate additional continuous lanes for automobiles until the regional transportation plan is revised and adopted.

The moratorium imposed by this subdivision does not apply to the construction of any parking garage which has been approved by the agency prior to May 4, 1979, whether that approval was affirmative or by default. The provisions of this paragraph are not an expression of legislative intent that any such parking garage, the approval of which is the subject of litigation which was pending on the effective date of the amendments to this compact, should or should not be constructed. The provisions of this paragraph are intended solely to permit construction of such a parking garage if a judgment sustaining the agency's approval to construct that parking garage has become final and no appeal is pending or may lawfully be taken to a higher court.

(d)] Subject to the final order of any court of competent jurisdiction entered in litigation contesting the validity of an approval by the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, whether that approval was affirmative or by default, if that litigation was pending on May 4, 1979, the agency and the states of California and Nevada shall recognize as a permitted and conforming use:

(1) Every structure housing gaming under a nonrestricted license which existed as a licensed gaming establishment on May 4, 1979, or whose construction was approved by the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency affirmatively or deemed approved before that date. The construction or use of any structure to house gaming under a nonrestricted license not so existing or approved, or the enlargement in cubic volume of any such existing or approved structure is prohibited.

(2) Every other nonrestricted gaming establishment whose use was seasonal and whose license was issued before May 4, 1979, for the same season and for the number and type of games and slot machines on which taxes or fees were paid in the calendar year 1978.

(3) Gaming conducted pursuant to a restricted gaming license issued before May 4, 1979, to the extent permitted by that license on that date.

The area within any structure housing gaming under a nonrestricted license which may be open to public use (as distinct from that devoted to the private use of guests and exclusive of any parking area) is limited to the area existing or approved for public use on May 4, 1979. Within these limits, any external modification of the structure which requires a permit from a local government also requires approval from the agency. The agency shall not permit restaurants, convention facilities, showrooms or other public areas to be constructed elsewhere in the region outside the structure in order to replace areas existing or approved for public use on May 4, 1979.

[(e)] (d) Any structure housing licensed gaming may be rebuilt or replaced to a size not to exceed the cubic volume, height and land coverage existing or approved on May 4, 1979, without the review or approval of the agency or any planning or regulatory authority of the State of Nevada whose review or approval would be required for a new structure.

[(f)] (e) The following provisions apply to any internal or external modification, remodeling, change in use, or repair of a structure housing gaming under a nonrestricted license which is not prohibited by [Article VI (d):] subdivision (c):

(1) The agency's review of an external modification of the structure which requires a permit from a local government is limited to determining whether the external modification will do any of the following:

(A) Enlarge the cubic volume of the structure;

(B) Increase the total square footage of area open to or approved for public use on May 4, 1979;

(C) Convert an area devoted to the private use of guests to an area open to public use;

(D) Increase the public area open to public use which is used for gaming beyond the limits contained in paragraph (3); and

(E) Conflict with or be subject to the provisions of any of the agency's ordinances that are generally applicable throughout the region.

The agency shall make this determination within 60 days after the proposal is delivered to the agency in compliance with the agency's rules or regulations governing such delivery unless the applicant has agreed to an extension of this time limit. If an external modification is determined to have any of the effects enumerated in subparagraphs (A) through (C), it is prohibited. If an external modification is determined to have any of the effects enumerated in subparagraphs (D) or (E), it is subject to the applicable provisions of this compact. If an external modification is determined to have no such effect, it is not subject to the provisions of this compact.

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (3), internal modification, remodeling, change in use or repair of a structure housing gaming under a nonrestricted license is not a project and does not require the review or approval of the agency.

(3) Internal modification, remodeling, change in use or repair of areas open to public use within a structure housing gaming under a nonrestricted license which alone or in combination with any other such modification, remodeling, change in use or repair will increase the total portion of those areas which is actually used for gaming by more than the product of the total base area, as defined below, in square feet existing on or approved before August 4, 1980, multiplied by 15 percent constitutes a project and is subject to all of the provisions of this compact relating to projects. For purposes of this paragraph and the determination required by [Article VI (g),] subdivision (f), base area means all of the area within a structure housing gaming under a nonrestricted license which may be open to public use, whether or not gaming is actually conducted or carried on in that area, except retail stores, convention centers and meeting rooms, administrative offices, kitchens, maintenance and storage areas, rest rooms, engineering and mechanical rooms, accounting rooms and counting rooms.

[(g)] (f) In order to administer and enforce the provisions of [paragraphs (d), (e) and (f),] subdivisions (c), (d) and (e) the State of Nevada, through its appropriate planning or regulatory agency, shall require the owner or licensee of a structure housing gaming under a nonrestricted license to provide:

(1) Documents containing sufficient information for the Nevada agency to establish the following relative to the structure:

(A) The location of its external walls;

(B) Its total cubic volume;

(C) Within its external walls, the area in square feet open or approved for public use and the area in square feet devoted to or approved for the private use of guests on May 4, 1979;

(D) The amount of surface area of land under the structure; and

(E) The base area as defined in paragraph (f)(3) in square feet existing on or approved before August 4, 1980.

(2) An informational report whenever any internal modification, remodeling, change in use, or repair will increase the total portion of the areas open to public use which is used for gaming.

The Nevada agency shall transmit this information to the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency.

[(h)] (g) Gaming conducted pursuant to a restricted gaming license is exempt from review by the agency if it is incidental to the primary use of the premises.

[(i)] (h) The provisions of subdivisions (c) and (d) [and (e)] are intended only to limit gaming and related activities as conducted within a gaming establishment, or construction designed to permit the enlargement of such activities, and not to limit any other use of property zoned for commercial use or the accommodation of tourists, as approved by the agency.

[(j)] (i) Legal actions arising out of or alleging a violation of the provisions of this compact, of the regional plan or of an ordinance or regulation of the agency or of a permit or a condition of a permit issued by the agency are governed by the following provisions;

(1) This subdivision applies to:

(A) Actions arising out of activities directly undertaken by the agency.

(B) Actions arising out of the issuance to a person of a lease, permit, license or other entitlement for use by the agency.

(C) Actions arising out of any other act or failure to act by any person or public agency.

Such legal actions may be filed and the provisions of this subdivision apply equally in the appropriate courts of California and Nevada and of the United States.

(2) Venue lies:

(A) If a civil or criminal action challenges an activity by the agency or any person which is undertaken or to be undertaken upon a parcel of real property, in the state or federal judicial district where the real property is situated.

(B) If an action challenges an activity which does not involve a specific parcel of land (such as an action challenging an ordinance of the agency), in any state or federal court having jurisdiction within the region.

(3) Any aggrieved person may file an action in an appropriate court of the State of California or Nevada or of the United States alleging noncompliance with the provisions of this compact or with an ordinance or regulation of the agency. In the case of governmental agencies, "aggrieved person" means the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency or any state, federal or local agency. In the case of any person other than a governmental agency who challenges an action of the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, "aggrieved person" means any person who has appeared, either in person, through an authorized representative, or in writing, before the agency at an appropriate administrative hearing to register objection to the action which is being challenged, or who had good cause for not making such an appearance.

(4) A legal action arising out of the adoption or amendment of the regional plan or of any ordinance or regulation of the agency, or out of the granting or denial of any permit, shall be commenced within 60 days after final action by the agency. All other legal actions shall be commenced within 65 days after discovery of the cause of action.

(5) In any legal action filed pursuant to this subdivision which challenges an adjudicatory act or decision of the agency to approve or disapprove a project, the scope of judicial inquiry shall extend only to whether there was prejudicial abuse of discretion. Prejudicial abuse of discretion is established if the agency has not proceeded in a manner required by law or if the act or decision of the agency was not supported by substantial evidence in light of the whole record. In making such a determination the court shall not exercise its independent judgment on evidence but shall only determine whether the act or decision was supported by substantial evidence in light of the whole record. In any legal action filed pursuant to this subdivision which challenges a legislative act or decision of the agency (such as the adoption of the regional plan and the enactment of implementing ordinances), the scope of the judicial inquiry shall extend only to the questions of whether the act or decision has been arbitrary, capricious or lacking substantial evidentiary support or whether the agency has failed to proceed in a manner required by law.

(6) The provisions of this subdivision do not apply to any legal proceeding pending on the date when this subdivision becomes effective. Any such legal proceeding shall be conducted and concluded under the provisions of law which were applicable prior to the effective date of this subdivision.

(7) The security required for the issuance of a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction based upon an alleged violation of this compact or any ordinance, plan, rule or regulation adopted pursuant thereto is governed by the rule or statute applicable to the court in which the action is brought, unless the action is brought by a public agency or political subdivision to enforce its own rules, regulations and ordinances in which case no security shall be required.

[(k)] (j) The agency shall monitor activities in the region and may bring enforcement actions in the region to ensure compliance with the regional plan and adopted ordinances, rules, regulations and policies. If it is found that the regional plan, or ordinances, rules, regulations and policies are not being enforced by a local jurisdiction, the agency may bring action in a court of competent jurisdiction to ensure compliance.

[(l)] (k) Any person who violates any provision of this compact or of any ordinance or regulation of the agency or of any condition of approval imposed by the agency is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $5,000.

Any such person is subject to an additional civil penalty not to exceed $5,000 per day, for each day on which such a violation persists. In imposing the penalties authorized by this subdivision, the court shall consider the nature of the violation and shall impose a greater penalty if it was willful or resulted from gross negligence than if it resulted from inadvertence or simple negligence.

[(m)] (l) The agency is hereby empowered to initiate, negotiate and participate in contracts and agreements among the local governmental authorities of the region, or any other intergovernmental contracts or agreements authorized by state or federal law.

[(n)] (m) Each intergovernmental contract or agreement shall provide for its own funding and staffing, but this shall not preclude financial contributions from the local authorities concerned or from supplementary sources.

[(o)] (n) Every record of the agency, whether public or not, shall be open for examination to the Legislature and Controller of the State of California and the legislative auditor of the State of Nevada.
