OF THE

ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

SIXTY-FOURTH SESSION

THE FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), January 19, 1987

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and Statutes, the Assembly was called to order by Secretary of State Frankie Sue Del Papa at 12 noon.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Joe Anthony.

With your permission Mr. Speaker, I begin my invocation with a portion of a speech given by a great American, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

"I have the audacity to believe that peoples everywhere can have three meals a day for their bodies, education and culture for their minds, and dignity, equality and freedom for their spirits. I believe that what self-centered men have torn down other-centered men can build up. I still believe that one day mankind will bow before the altars of God and be crowned triumphant over war and bloodshed, and non-violent redemptive good will proclaim the rule of the land. And the lion and the lamb shall lie down together and every man shall sit under his own vine and fig tree and none shall be afraid. I still believe that we shall overcome . . ."

Lord our God, on this day in which we honor a great champion of freedom and liberty, we ask You to look with love on your people gathered here in this Assembly. Keep them safe, secure and righteous in your service. Guide the Members of this Assembly and help them to serve the needs of the people of Nevada with honesty of heart, integrity of purpose and openness to the demands of office. Bless their plans and deliberations and help them to work together for the good of all . . .

Father, we praise your Name forever and ever . . . AMEN.

Remarks by Mr. Speaker.

Assemblyman Jeffrey requested that Mr. Speaker's remarks be entered in the Journal.

I am honored to stand before you and accept the position of Speaker of the Assembly to which you have just elected me.

Each of us has an equal responsibility in these distinguished chambers to conduct ourselves in the best interest of the State of Nevada. We were each elected in a partisan election to represent an Assembly district of Nevada. That was in November. Now I call upon each of you, in the spirit of cooperation, to work together in harmony not only for your respective districts, but for all Nevada citizens. It is my hope that each of us can forget sectionalism and remember that Nevada is one sound and unified state.

As we begin our deliberations, I can tell you from experience that the decisions you will be called upon to make will be difficult and complex. As citizen legislators we depend on our research, legal, fiscal and audit divisions, and public testimony to provide us with the facts necessary to make informed decisions. With that in mind, it is with gratitude that I thank the Legislative Counsel Bureau for their professionalism and commitment to excellence through the years and for their resources which will become indispensible to each of you over the next several months.

Additionally, we are fortunate to have with us Mouryne Landing, our Chief Clerk, whose talents and dedicated service have been an integral part of the success of the Nevada Assembly. Mouryne, we thank you and your staff for being with us once again to provide continuity and excellence in these Chambers.

Finally, I would like to extend my personal thanks to my family. During my many campaigns their assistance has enabled me to serve the State of Nevada. And while the session is convened, they take care of business at home so that I can participate in what each of us is dedicated to . . . public service.

Although you have extended me this honor as Speaker, I am only one of 42 members of a team. We will each have a different approach to solving the State's problems, and we may disagree on the solutions, but solve them we will. We are each a leader of this Assembly team and the citizens of Nevada will be the victors through our efforts.

Mr. Speaker declared that nominations were in order for Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblyman Price nominated Assemblyman Schofield for Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblyman Spinello moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker declared Assemblyman Schofield to be Speaker pro Tempore of the Assembly.

Remarks by Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblyman Jeffrey requested that Mr. Speaker pro Tempore's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to express my gratitude for having the honor of serving as Speaker pro Tempore under a Speaker such as Mr. Dini. The words that he expressed in the responsibility placed in us by the people of the State of Nevada is so important and vast. We are going to be faced with trying to accomplish this work in the coming months. The State is sitting in a position at this particular time of having a fair economy and we are going to be making some judgments that will not be very popular; nor will they be judgments that are easy to make as individuals or in a team effort as expressed by our Speaker.

I served in 1977 with Mr. Dini and have a lot of faith in him. The State of Nevada should be proud to have a person of his caliber leading this Assembly. I want to challenge each of you on an individual basis with the responsibilities that you owe in your district as well as to the citizens of the State of Nevada. We need to get behind our Speaker and cooperate as we face problems—confrontations between us because of our philosophical ideals and because of our feelings and promises we made to our constituents. I truly feel the challenge is upon us in the 1987 Session, and we can face that challenge and come out with a successful solving of the problems we are faced with today. And Mr. Speaker, I pledge to you my full cooperation as your Speaker pro Tempore. It is a privilege to serve in this position in this 1987 Session.

Mr. Speaker declared that nominations were in order for Chief Clerk.

Assemblyman Thompson nominated Mouryne B. Landing to be Chief Clerk.

Assemblyman Wendell Williams moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker declared Mrs. Mouryne B. Landing to be the Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Schofield, Freeman and Kerns as a committee to inform the Senate that the Assembly was organized and ready for business.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Jeffrey, Garner and Getto as a committee to inform the Governor that the Assembly was organized and ready for business.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That the Assembly Standing Rules as amended by the 63rd session are adopted, with the following changes, as the Standing Rules of the Assembly for the 64th session of the legislature:

1. Rule 23 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Committee on Ethics.

1. The Committee on Ethics consists of:

(a) Two members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker from the majority political party;

(b) One member of the Assembly appointed by the Minority Leader from the minority political party; and

(c) Two qualified electors of the state [,] chosen by the members of the committee who are appointed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b), neither of whom is a present or former member of the legislature or employed by the State of Nevada.

2. The speaker shall appoint two members of the Assembly, one from the majority political party and one from the minority political party to serve as alternate members of the committee. If a member is disqualified, the alternate appointed from the same political party shall serve as a member of the committee during the consideration of a specific question.

3. A member is disqualified if he is the requester of advice concerning a question of ethics or conflict of interest, or if the advice is requested by another member of the Assembly and a reasonable person in his situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.

4. The committee shall hear complaints on alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest, brought by legislators and others, and it may advise legislators on questions of breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest. All proceedings by the committee on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest are confidential unless a legislator:

(a) Against whom a complaint is brought requests a public hearing;

(b) Discloses the opinion of the committee at any time after his hearing; or

(c) Discloses the content of an advisory opinion issued to him by the committee.

5. A complaint which alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest [shall] must be in writing and signed by the person making the allegation. The complaint [shall] must be filed with the chairman and he shall send a copy of the complaint, within 24 hours after receiving it, to the legislator against whom the complaint is brought.

6. The criterion to be applied by the committee in determining whether a legislator has a conflict of interest is whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his position upon the matter in question would be materially affected by:

(a) His acceptance of a gift or loan; or

(b) His private economic interest.

7. A legislator who determines that he has a conflict of interest may vote upon, advocate or oppose any measure as to which a potential conflict exists if he makes a general disclosure of [such] the conflict.

By the Committee on Taxation:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 22 of the 63rd Session—Proposing to amend the constitution of the State of Nevada to authorize the taxation of estates only to the extent of the credit allowable for the tax against the federal estate tax.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section be added to article 10, and section 1 of article 10 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read respectively as follows:

Sec. 4. The legislature may provide by law for the taxation of estates taxed by the United States, but only to the extent of any credit allowed by federal law for the payment of the state tax. The combined amount of these federal and state taxes may not exceed the estate tax which would be imposed by federal law alone. If another state of the United States imposes and collects death taxes against an estate which is taxable by the State of Nevada under this section, the amount of estate tax to be collected by the State of Nevada must be reduced by the amount of the death taxes collected by the other state. Any lien for the estate tax attaches no sooner than the time when the tax is due, and no restriction on possession or use of a decedent's property may be imposed by law before the time when the tax is due. The State of Nevada shall:

1. Accept the determination of the United States of the amount of the taxable estate without further audit.

2. Accept payment of the tax in installments proportionate to any which may be permitted under federal law.

3. Impose no penalty for such a deferred payment.

4. Not charge interest on a deferred or belated payment at any rate higher than may be provided in similar circumstances by federal law.

Section 1. 1. The legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims, when not patented, the proceeds alone of which shall be assessed and taxed, and when patented, each patented mine shall be assessed at not less than five hundred dollars ($500), except when one hundred dollars ($100) in labor has been actually performed on such patented mine during the year, in addition to the tax upon the net proceeds . [; shares]

2. Shares of stock (except shares of stock in banking corporations), bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The legislature may constitute agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used, as a separate class for taxation purposes and may provide a separate uniform plan for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such plan is provided, the legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

7. No inheritance [or estate] tax shall ever be levied . [, and there shall also be excepted such property as may be exempted by law]

8. The legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

Assemblyman Jeffrey moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Taxation.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Nicholas, Bergevin and Humke:

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Fay requested that Assemblyman Price's remarks be entered in the Journal.

For the next 12 months Nevadans, like all Americans, will observe and celebrate the bicentennial of our beloved Constitution of the United States of America. That marvelous, aged, but not out-of-date, document of inspiration and genius, so broad and farsighted that its provisions remain vitally relevant to our lives two centuries later, drafted by those 55 Americans of destiny, 200 years ago during that warm, sweltering summer of 1787 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

This year is a time to reaffirm our commitment to the principles of individual freedom and democratic government, and to express our gratitude for the wisdom of the Founding Fathers, with determination that their work will endure for countless future generations. As Martin Luther King, Jr., whose birthday we are remembering today, once said, "The time is always right to do what is right."

The bicentennial celebration is truly the right time for Americans to reflect upon those principles which have nobly governed our nation and served as a beacon for free people throughout the world.

In 1986, I was honored to be appointed by Governor Bryan to Nevada's Committee on the Bicentennial of the Constitution of the United States.

During this 64th Session, with the permission of the Speaker and this honorable body, under the title "Constitutional Moment," I will daily enter into the Assembly Minutes, various items of interest and significance to the development of the U.S. Constitution as well as our Nevada Constitution and history.

The new year, 1787, began on a Monday and it was warm and humid in Philadelphia. Congress was to have convened in New York City on November 6, 1786; however, 57 days later they were still lacking a quorum. During the next few days Daniel Jones announced in the Pennsylvania Gazette that he planned to open a school for the "instruction of young ladies in the useful branches of female education, particularly the act of reading." Noah Webster was in Philadelphia getting his spelling book republished. William Samuel Johnson, later to be a delegate from Connecticut to the Constitutional Convention, visited friends in New York and paid one pound, five shillings, and six pence for having his clothes washed. On Wednesday, January 17, 73 days after its scheduled meeting, Congress finally had a quorum. Ben Franklin turned 81 and suffered from gout and kidney stones. Fortunately, there was no national TV to inform the public of his maladies. Two hundred years ago today, George Washington went to French's and marked the fields by stakes and General Horatio Gate, whom Washington despised, wrote to congratulate him on his appointment as a delegate to the convention and to invite Washington to attend a May 2nd meeting of the Society of Cincinnati.

Sixty-eight years later on January 19, 1855, 130 years ago today, Governor Brigham Young and the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah passed a resolution entitling Carson County (encompassing what is now all of Carson City, Douglas, Lyon, Churchill, Pershing, Storey, and Washoe counties, as well as parts of Esmeralda, Mineral and Nye counties) to a representative in the Legislative Assembly. Enoch Reese occupied that seat when the Legislature convened on December 11, 1855.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Triggs requested that Assemblyman Price's remarks be entered in the Journal.

On this date in 1783, four years before the birth of the Constitution, the American Colonies and Britain signed a prelimimary "cessation of hostilities" agreement. This led to the Treaties of Paris and Versailles on September 3, 1783, which ended the American Revolutionary War.

Two hundred years ago on Saturday, January 20, 1787, Noah Webster went to the State House to hear Attorney General William Bradford argue a case, and "was pleased with him." Quaker housewife Ann Warder spent the morning mending stockings, and Connecticut's William Johnson, while waiting in New York to attend Congress, paid 12 shillings and four pence for daily expenses. The Maryland Legislature failed to reach agreement on whether or not they would participate in the Constitutional Convention.

During this week, 131 years ago in 1856, special acts were approved by the Utah Territorial Legislature for Carson County one of which appropriated $1,200 "for mileage and payment of six guards from Carson County, to guard the representative from said county, and back again." And to think our main obstacle to travel today is catching the 6:05 flight. One year later during this week in 1857, an act was approved which attached Carson County to Great Salt Lake County for "election, revenue and judicial purposes." This attachment was a particularly unacceptable situation in view of the fact the two counties did not form a contiguous territory. This required residents of Carson Valley to travel over 500 miles to inspect the official county records.

GUESTS EXTENDED PRIVILEGE OF ASSEMBLY FLOOR

On request of Assemblyman Jeffrey, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Mr. Craig Burkett.

The Governor delivered his message as follows:

STATE OF THE STATE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, distinguished members of the Legislature, distinguished Justices of the Supreme Court, and my fellow Nevadans:

Four years ago, I stood before you for the first time to share my hopes for Nevada's future. Tonight, I stand here proud of what we Nevadans have accomplished to fulfill that future.

We have created opportunity for ourselves and our children. We have built a better educational system. We have protected our Nevada way of life.

All of this was made possible because of the bond we Nevadans forged to work together toward common goals.

This year marks the 200th anniversary of another bond. In May of 1787, at the Pennsylvania State House, 55 delegates from competing states took the bold step of devising a new form of government. They drafted the United States Constitution, binding together the diverse interests of 13 states into a common union.

That document gave birth to a nation that has produced abundance and achievements unparalleled in human history.

The genius of our Constitution is that it carefully divides the powers of government among the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches, reserving to the states all powers not expressly delegated to the federal government. And that is where you and I, with our respective responsibilities—yours to legislate and mine to run the affairs of state—have the opportunity to shape the destiny of our great state.

This year we enter the third century of the American experience, a century that holds all the promise of the last two. Our goal must be to create a state that is prepared for the changes of the next century.

That means preparing our children for the new kinds of jobs that an increasingly complex society will require.

That means ensuring our economic development programs are fashioned to capture for Nevada a fair share of the new technologies that will emerge.

And that means preserving our quality of life—protecting our environment and caring for those among us who require the helping hand of government: the young, the poor, the handicapped, the aged.

We have made a good beginning. We only need to look at how far we have come in the last four years to realize how far we can go.

In 1982, we were locked in the grip of a recession that took a heavy toll on the personal lives of Nevadans and the finances of state government.

In 1983, with your help, we restored stability to state government and implemented an innovative strategy to revive and broaden Nevada's economy.

From 1984 to 1986, Nevada regained its economic vitality, created a record number of new jobs and new businesses, and invested more of our resources in education than ever before.

BUDGET

The challenge we face in 1987 is to meet the demands of Nevada's population growth—the third fastest in the nation. Because of this growth, we have more children to educate, more prople seeking higher education, more families needing social services and more convicted felons to house.

School enrollments increased by an unanticipated 4,300 students this year and will grow by another 11,000 over the next two years.

This year alone, local school districts will need an additional $17.5 million to cover the costs of this unexpected enrollment. I urge your prompt approval of this appropriation.

Similar growth is occurring in the University of Nevada system. Total enrollment is projected to rise by 1,400 students by 1989.

In both cases, that means more teachers to be hired and more classrooms to be built.

When last I prepared the budget, Nevada's Aid to Dependent Children caseload was 13,275. Today, it exceeds 17,000 and is expected to reach 18,700 by 1989.

These are real needs that we cannot ignore.

The budget I submit tonight addresses these needs. It is fair and it is balanced. At a time when many states are drastically cutting services, this budget will allow us to serve Nevadans who need our help.

Above all, this budget maintains the progress we have made and keeps us on course with our goals.

I recommend we spend $91 million more for education than was approved by you for the current biennium, a 16.2 percent increase. Fifty-seven cents of every state tax dollar will continue to be devoted to education, reflecting my commitment to keep education our top budget priority.

To keep pace with Nevada's population growth, I have allocated $48 million in new revenue for mental health, child protection and other human services, and $27 million in new funding for public safety, primarily for prisons.

To support these additional appropriations for education and other essential state services, it will be necessary to increase the tax on gross gaming revenues one-quarter percent with another one-quarter percent increase in 1989. This will generate $17.5 million in the next biennium.

I also recommend that the 3 percent insurance premium tax, due to expire this year, be retained. This will add another $14.5 million to the general fund.

There were some hard choices to make. We cannot do everything we want to do. The new demands are just too great.

As the budget was prepared during the late summer and fall, it became evident that state revenues were not growing sufficiently to meet both school enrollment and caseload increases, and still provide cost-of-living adjustments for teachers, university faculty and state employees.

Sales tax collections for April, May, and June of last year increased only 3.5 percent and July posted a modest 1.7 percent gain. Gaming tax collections through October rose only 3.2 percent.

During the late fall, however, sales tax collections improved considerably. The most recent collection figures, received only last week, indicate that for the month of November sales tax collections increased more than 14 percent and gaming tax revenues by 18 percent.

Some economists attribute the current strength in sales tax collections to recent automobile financing incentives and federal tax law changes. They also indicate the November increase in gaming collections may be skewed by its comparison with November 1985, when bad weather reduced business volume in Northern Nevada.

However, the improved revenue collections may reflect the underlying strength of the Nevada economy. I am, therefore, offering a "trigger" salary increase mechanism unlike any ever proposed. As this Legislature meets, additional sales and gaming revenue data will become available for the first quarter of calendar year 1987 and, possibly, for the month of April.

If these numbers continue to increase, and if the Legislature does not exceed the expenditure recommendations which I am making this evening, we can provide salary increases to school teachers, university faculty and state workers effective July 1 of this year. I also propose a more traditional "trigger" to permit additional salary increases, to the extent of available revenues, on July 1, 1988.

Nearly three decades have elapsed since the Legislature last commissioned an overview of the state's financial structure. In recent years, revenues collected from the gaming industry—which account for 45 percent of the state's general fund—have not enjoyed the rate of growth experienced in the years following World War II. Our state is at a crossroads, and it is time once again to examine the state's revenue system to determine its adequacy to meet our demands. This study could be conducted during the interim and its recommendations made to the 1989 Legislature.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Four years ago 393,000 Nevadans were working. Today 475,000 Nevadans have jobs.

Four years ago, our unemployment rate was 11.1 percent—today it is 5.7 percent.

And in 1986, Nevada ranked third in new jobs created and in growth of personal income.

And last year more people visited Nevada than ever before—more than 26 million.

Those are impressive numbers. They show we have, indeed, come a long way.

Last year we extended the frontier of our economic development effort with Nevada's first trade mission to Japan. Twenty-six states now have offices or representatives in Japan. I believe the potential exists to generate new jobs and business opportunities for Nevadans by developing closer economic ties with Japan.

For that reason, I recommend Nevada representation in Tokyo.

We also have more opportunities closer to home.

Early last year, we started the Procurement Outreach Program, aimed at helping Nevada businesses win federal government contracts.

So far, this program has helped Nevada businesses obtain nearly $280,000 in federal contracts, including one Nevada company, in business for 31 years, that received its first federal contract. The Nevada office in Washington, D.C., also has played a key role in ensuring we receive a full share of federal grants. In addition, it promotes Nevada with the international business community, raising its awareness of what we have to offer.

The Tokyo office, the Procurement Outreach Program and the Washington, D.C. office will be our calling cards as the nation and the world recognize Nevada's potential. Our economic development strategies have yielded solid results for Nevadans, and I recommend a 22.6 percent increase in appropriations for these efforts. To strengthen our economic development capability at the local level, we have provided technical assistance and distributed over $2.1 million in grants over the past four years to local government facilities—more than 30 percent to rural Nevada. I recommend that these grants be continued.

Our Motion Picture Division will attract $40 million in movie and television production this year—up from $5.6 million in 1982, before the division was created. I recommend an expansion of this program to include additional film service specialists.

More than 80 percent of Nevada's businesses are small businesses. For that reason, I ask you to approve a new appropriation of $200,000 to assist Nevada's small businesses. I also will establish a Governor's Small Business Advisory Council, headed by Lt. Governor Bob Miller, to give those businesses a strong voice at the highest level of state government.

ENVIRONMENT

The specter of a high-level nuclear waste dump continues to hold our future hostage. Events of the past year have revealed what Nevadans have known all along—that we are targeted for the nuclear dump not on the basis of scientific merit, but because of political expediency in Washington, D.C.

I ask you this evening to join me once again in sending a strong message to Washington: Nevadans do not want our state to become the nation's nuclear graveyard.

LAKE TAHOE

In November, Nevada voters approved $31 million in bonds to purchase environmentally sensitive land in the Tahoe Basin, a fair solution to long-standing concerns of Tahoe property owners who cannot build.

While state money is now available, unfortunate action at the federal level withholding $14 million jeopardizes a final resolution.

Nevadans have made a commitment to protect the remarkable scenic and recreational resources of Lake Tahoe. The bi-state compact continues to be the most effective vehicle to preserve Lake Tahoe's splendor. I will oppose any attempt to withdraw Nevada from the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency and veto any measure reaching my desk which seeks to accomplish that result.

INSURANCE

Nevada's businesses, along with state and local governments, have experienced extraordinary increases in the cost of liability insurance. In some cases, insurance coverage was unavailable regardless of price. Insurers were notifying customers that policies would be cancelled or rates increased in the middle of the policy period. To help alleviate this problem, I issued an executive order forcing insurance companies to justify policy cancellations.

Fortunately, we now have an opportunity for a full evaluation of the causes of the liability crisis. The joint and several liability—or "deep pockets"—doctrine, along with laws requiring insurers to prove they have appropriately calculated their rates, should be examined. The jury is still out on whether tort reform and insurance regulation changes have reduced insurance costs in other states. I commend Attorney General McKay, Chairman of the Coalition for Available/Affordable Liability Insurance, for his efforts, and encourage you to carefully review the coalition's and the National Association of Attorneys General's final recommendations.

The bottom line—regardless of what various interest groups advocate—is that Nevadans should be able to obtain insurance at a fair price.

PRISONS

Since I first took office, the prison population has nearly doubled, and we will need to house an additional 650 convicted felons by 1990. Although we spend less per inmate than any western state, prisons are expensive. Because it costs about one-fifth as much to house an inmate in an honor camp as it does in a maximum security prison, I recommend the construction of one additional honor camp, which will bring to nine the number of such camps in Nevada.

I also recommend a $45 million bond issue to construct a new maximum security prison in Ely. This bond issue will also provide for engineering and design work for a new medium security prison near Lovelock.

It is with some reluctance that I make these recommendations. My preference would be to allocate these resources elsewhere, but the dramatic growth of our prison population and the overriding considerations of public safety leave us no alternative.

DRUGS

Here in Nevada, as throughout the nation, we are under siege by the deadliest of foes, a parasite that drains the very life from our young people, and exacts a merciless and heavy toll in destroyed dreams and lost human potential.

Illegal drugs are everywhere—on our streets, in our schools, in the workplace.

Law enforcement has identified Nevada as a distribution point for drug trafficking. In the last two years, drugs valued at more than $55 million have been seized by the State Investigations Division with help from other law enforcement agencies.

Clearly, we must do all within our power to eliminate this scourge.

Recent federal legislation will give Nevada more than $6.5 million in the next two years to battle drug and alcohol abuse. From those funds and other state funds, I am recommending:

—Local School Districts receive $1.8 million for intensive anti-drug awareness programs.

—The Bureau of Alcohol and Drug Abuse receive more than $1.3 million for county-level prevention and rehabilitation services for "at risk youth."

—More than $3.2 million for state and local law enforcement agencies to use in combating drug traffickers in Nevada.

And for the first time, I recommend benefits under our Victim of Crime Compensation Program be extended to the victims of drunken drivers.

EDUCATION

In late 1984, the Governor's Commission on Educational Excellence set a number of goals to better our educational system. These goals have been achieved: high school graduation requirements have been strengthened; citizens, who pay for our schools, have received a new measure of accountability through the first "report card" on how well our schools are doing; teacher salaries have been increased; first-year teacher competency tests are being developed; and teacher recertification requirements are being updated.

These steps are only a beginning. Our schools, and particularly our teachers, are facing new, heretofore unknown challenges. By 1991, one-half of our students—at some time during their schooling—will come from single-parent families and one of four will live in poverty. Students will come from more diverse backgrounds, with less support from home.

While the demographics have changed, the fundamental job of the teacher hasn't. "A teacher affects eternity," said historian Henry Adams. "He can never tell where his influence stops."

Yet too often we are unmindful of who our teachers are, what they do, and why they should be singled out for the positive and important role they play in society.

Almost all of us can fondly recall a teacher who struck a responsive chord, who sparked an intellectual curiosity, and who dared us to read, speak, write and think. As students, we cared for them because they cared for us.

It is no different today. Teachers continue to care about their students. But they also care about the professional environment of their schools. We must recognize teachers as professionals.

I will establish a new Governor's Commission on Educational Excellence, which will evaluate:

—The policy recommendations of several national education studies.

—How students can benefit and achievement levels improve with increased involvement by teachers in the school decision-making process.

—The merits of a national board of professional teacher standards.

—And whether an adequate portion of the education budget is being spent in the classroom.

Our success in improving our education system is not merely an academic exercise. Our ability to stand up to the competitive forces that have been unleashed by a global economy will hinge upon it.

One out of three Nevadans in high school today will fail to graduate. Without the skills necessary to be successful in our workforce, many of these young men and women appear on our welfare rolls, in our unemployment lines, or in our criminal justice system.

An estimated 90,000 Nevadans lack the basic skill to read, write and compute at the sixth-grade level.

Functional illiterates constitute 75 percent of our unemployed. As the requirements of the job market become more sophisticated, they will be unable to respond to the needs of Nevada employers and new businesses moving into our state.

I have directed the State Job Training Office to set aside more than $1 million to attack the dropout and illiteracy problems in Nevada.

Last fall Nevadans wisely approved Question 5, which allows the state to pick up its share of federal estate taxes.

That measure is expected to generate $10 million over the next two years—all of which goes directly to education.

I am proposing that we divide that money equally between the public schools and the University System.

The $5 million for public schools will be allocated to local school districts for program improvements—with one exception.

I ask that $195,000 be set aside to establish 180 scholarships over the next four years. These scholarships will be used to attract the best and brightest of our high school graduates into the field of education. This will proclaim to our fellow Nevadans the importance we attach to careers in education.

Out of higher education's share of the Question 5 funds, and state funds, I recommend:

—$900,000 at UNLV for a bachelor's degree program in Architecture and a doctoral program in Environmental Biology.

—$1 million for needed support positions as identified by the Higher Education Funding Committee.

—$900,000 to UNR for core faculty at the Mackay School of Mines.

—$900,000 for vocational programs and equipment at our community colleges.

—$400,000 for university library acquisitions.

—$1.2 million to match an equal amount in federal funds under the EPSCOR program, a prestigious National Science Foundation grant.

EPSCOR will help create nationally prominent research centers in Nevada and strengthen the link between our economic development efforts and the University System. This program has the potential to attract new scientific and engineering companies to Nevada.

All of these education initiatives take time and money. But as Derek Bok, the president of Harvard, once said, "If you think education is expensive, try ignorance."

HUMAN RESOURCES

The welfare caseload in Nevada has grown at an astonishing rate—25 percent in the last two years.

It will continue to expand and drain our resources unless we act to break the cycle of poverty.

To accomplish this I am proposing a new program in the State Welfare Division.

This program will screen food stamp and Aid to Dependent Children recipients to determine each person's ability to become self-sufficient. Remedial education, classroom training, counseling and on-the-job training will be provided as needed.

For those ADC recipients who have no work experience, jobs will be developed in state and local government agencies and in non-profit organizations so these individuals can learn marketable skills. They will receive ADC benefits in exchange for their community work.

Another imposing social challenge is to provide for the growing numbers of Nevadans requiring mental health services. Our facilities are overburdened and understaffed.

I recommend:

—A 47 percent increase in the amount we spend for mental health services, from $38.5 million to $56.8 million.

—53 new positions at the Las Vegas Mental Health Center and 41 positions at the Northern Nevada Mental Health Institute.

—$762,000 for a 20-bed expansion of the Las Vegas Mental Health Center and another $168,000 to upgrade the existing facility.

YOUTH INITIATIVE

The enactment of the Child Protection Act in 1985 laid the foundation for what must now follow.

For those children who need protection either through foster care, placement in a children's home or adoption.

—I recommend we double our expenditures for the care of these children to $10.5 million.

SENIOR INITIATIVE

Nowhere is Nevada's growth more dramatic than with our seniors. In the past decade, Nevada's 65 and over population increased 112 percent, the highest rate in the country, and four times the national average. And by the year 2000, it is projected to increase another 285 percent.

Between now and then Nevadans can expect to spend almost $1 billion in expanded nursing home care unless we develop less costly options.

In 1985, I proposed a Senior Initiatives program to offer alternatives to older Nevadans.

Tonight I reaffirm our commitment to maintaining the independence of older Nevadans by dedicating $1.5 million to a broad spectrum of community based services which will give seniors the choice to remain at home. More than 700 Nevadans, who might otherwise be forced into nursing homes, will instead be provided services in their homes.

This initiative will offer affordable cost alternatives to nursing homes. More importantly, it recognizes that older Nevadans want to remain independent, and in their own homes.

HEALTH CARE COST CONTAINMENT

As we are all acutely aware, Nevada, a land of so much promise, also harbors the highest hospital charges and profits in the nation.

The most recent information available to us indicates Nevadans paid out $1.6 billion annually for health care. That amounts to $1,700 a year for every man, woman and child in this state. That amount will double within a decade unless drastic changes are made. For those who suffer the misfortune of major illness, the threat of financial ruin from rising hospital costs is all too real.

The impact of Nevada's exorbitant hospital pricing is not limited to those among us who require hospitalization. It is seen in the shrinking profit margins of our business community. It is found in diminished health insurance coverage for vast numbers of employees and their dependents. It surfaces in the high costs Nevadans pay for the medical portion of their automobile insurance. And it is felt by those most vulnerable, our senior citizens, through ever-increasing co-payments for health services.

In 1984, I created a task force to identify potential solutions to these high hospital costs. Data compiled by that task force pointed up two basic approaches—strategies to enhance competition vs. regulatory control.

Last session, I submitted a two-part cost containment program. That program placed initial emphasis on competitive forces in the free market to reduce hospital costs. In the event those market forces did not work, I included provisions for a standby rate setting commission. As you are well aware, that commission came under severe attack by the hospital industry.

The industry contended that competitive forces were working. Repeatedly we were told the new numbers would show reduced hospital costs. "Just wait for the 1984 data" was the refrain.

In the absence of hard data to counter these claims, the Legislature was persuaded not to adopt any regulatory control on hospital costs.

As we all know, the 1984 hospital costs were no cause for celebration. Hospital bills were up. Profits were up. What did go down was the number of in-patients served. Fewer patients, bigger profits. How many other businesses can increase profits while losing customers?

The industry response: "Competitive forces are beating down our prices and our profit margins. Just wait for the 1985 numbers."

If the 1984 numbers were no cause for celebration, the 1985 numbers were a cause for despair and anger. Average hospital rates climbed from $910 a day to $972 a day, resulting in Nevada hospital costs 70 percent higher than the national average. One hospital chain's 1985 annual report boasted that more profit was made from its Las Vegas hospital than from its 41 other hospitals combined.

And again, we heard the echoing refrain of the private hospital industry, "Wait till next year."

And now we've learned that the average hospital bill in Nevada surpasses $1,000 per day.

Abraham Lincoln said it best: "You can fool some of the people all of the time and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

But that doesn't mean the industry won't try. Already one hospital administrator has characterized an industry public relations scheme as a "farce to fool the people." Nevadans won't be fooled again. Next year is here, and the time for action is now.

The facts of Nevada's high hospital costs are not debatable. As Senator Rawson's committee on hospital costs concluded, "Nevada's hospitals rank first in the nation for charges per in-patient day and per admission. They also rank first in revenue generated and profits."

Aggressive new solutions are needed. The program I offer:

—Will not require a supporting bureaucratic structure.

—Will not prohibit the private sector from negotiating improved rates.

—Will place strict controls on cost shifting and billing practices.

—And will, most importantly reduce the costs Nevadans pay for hospitalization, without sacrificing quality of care.

The linkage between Nevada's high hospital costs and the large number of for-profit hospitals can no longer be ignored.

Nevada's major for-profit hospitals have expenses and provide services comparable to non-profit hospitals, yet charge rates 50 percent higher. A study by the prestigious National Academy of Sciences confirms this point. Dramatic price increases occur wherever for-profit hospitals dominate the market.

In Clark County investor-owned hospitals account for 74 percent of all hospital beds, compared to the national average of only 13 percent.

Let me now address the significant points of my cost containment program:

First, I propose to cap the maximum amount billed to any person hospitalized in facilities exceeding 200 beds. This cap would be based on amounts hospitals are allowed to collect under the Federal Medicare DRG Reimbursement System. It would provide protection against the extremely high bills all too often tendered to persons not protected by a negotiated rate.

In this session, much will be heard about the benefits of negotiated rates with hospitals. At the outset, Nevadans need to remember that the average negotiated rate in Nevada is still $263 a day higher than the average hospital bill in the rest of the country.

The industry has offered to extend these preferred rates—but only to people without health insurance. This, they contend, is all that is needed to reduce hospital costs. Don't be fooled. Close scrutiny will disclose this is an offer without substance. How does a reduced bill to people unable to pay much, if anything, bring about lower costs to the paying customer?

If the industry was serious about reducing hospital bills, this preferred rate would be offered to all customers. If, for example, this rate was offered to the State Industrial Insurance System, the lowered bills would reduce premiums paid by Nevada's employers. Enactment of my proposed cap would reduce those premiums, as well as insurance premiums paid by individuals and Nevada businesses.

The use of caps is not new to Nevadans. They have already effectively controlled the state Medicaid budget, property taxes and local government spending.

Secondly, I propose to force hospitals making excessive profits to reduce their per patient revenues by an assigned amount. Failure to meet the targeted amount will subject these hospitals to an even more costly financial penalty. This measure provides a disincentive for hospitals to increase profits by reducing quality care.

The program being proposed also contains a rate control commission. The duties of that commission are not complex, but are critical to the achievement of desired cost reductions. This commission would set the cap on hospital charges and the revenue reduction target for hospitals having excessive profits.

A major advantage of tying the "cap on charges" to the federal Medicare program is that it is already in operation with the administrative structure necessary to ensure fair, but controlled, hospital charges. We need not duplicate it. The workload of this commission will, therefore, be small and can adequately be performed by our existing Public Service Commission.

The "dumping" of most indigent care onto public hospitals drives costs up at those hospitals, while permitting the for-profit hospital to skim the cream of the health care dollar off the top. Here we share a common goal with the legislative subcommittee. But I believe our alternative can better solve this problem.

I propose that private hospitals be required to serve indigents so the burden does not fall so heavily on public hospitals. Failure to meet this requirement would again result in a severe fine. Either way, county government indigent care costs will be reduced. This plan involves no significant administrative expense, is not dependent upon federal regulations and allows funds to be targeted exclusively to hospital care.

In addition, changes to Nevada's certificate of need law and prohibitions against financial inducements that direct patients to specific hospitals are recommended.

Enactment of this program will not come easily. Hospital industry representatives have publicly stated they will spend "whatever it takes" to defeat controls on their prices and profits.

A century ago Nevadans faced a similar confrontation with another powerful, entrenched, and well-financed industry: the railroads, which by one estimate overcharged Nevadans more than $30 million in 10 years.

Victimized by a rapacious industry unregulated and unencumbered by any sense of conscience, Nevada legislators had the opportunity to remedy this injustice to our fellow Nevadans in the 19th century.

Today, millions of dollars are being extracted from the pockets of working Nevadans and funneled into the coffers of eastern health care giants. Nevada legislators have the same opportunity to right an injustice in the 20th century.

This call to action does not come solely from this Governor. Rather, it is the will of Nevadans. We must not let them down.

CONCLUSION

We have much to preserve in Nevada. We have a quality of life that is second to no other.

We have a tradition that recognizes the worth of the individual and a way of life that gives each of us the freedom and opportunity to make our dreams and ambitions real.

That is what Nevada is all about. It is people and communities writing their own success stories.

What we have learned in the last four years is how successful we can be when we pool our individual talents and energies for the good of all.

That is our legacy, as individuals and as a state. And now we enter a new era—a time as rich in promise as any in our history, a time of economic change and social challenge.

And sometime in the next century, when this new era enters our children's and our grandchildren's history books, let them record this—that by building on their traditions of opportunity and common purpose, once again, the people of Nevada led the way.

A companion measure approved on the same date, assigned the Honorable John Cradlebaugh, Associate Justice, to the Second District. Another act of the same date reinstated a representative from Carson City in the Utah Territorial Legislature. Humboldt and St. Mary received no direct representation at any time, since at one time or another, for governmental purposes, they were attached either to Carson or Great Salt Lake counties. (St. Mary's county included most of northeastern Nevada.)

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Fay requested that Assemblyman Price's remarks be entered in the Journal.

On January 23, 1787, the Georgia legislature refused to elect delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

During this week in 1866, the germ of the Fifteenth Amendment came out of a meeting of the Joint Committee on Reconstruction. Nevada's Senator William Stewart became responsible for the final draft of the amendment to the Constitution. One year later on January 20, 1867, the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution was passed by Congress. This amendment provided for the protection of citizenship rights, defined citizen, appropriated representatives and set up causes for loss of political privileges.

On this date in 1933, the Twentieth Amendment, which sets down the term of office for the President and Vice President, along with the time for Congress to assemble and the succession method upon the death of the President, was ratified. Thirty-one years later, on January 23, 1964, the Twenty-Fourth Amendment was ratified. This amendment abolished the poll tax qualification in federal elections.

On a final note, 100 years ago, one would be surprised to learn how many ex-members of the legislature were confined in the Lunatic Asylum at Reno. It would seem that the excitement of lawmaking tends to unset the reason as at that time no less than 28 members of past legislatures were in the asylum.

Assemblyman Jeffrey moved that the Assembly adjourn until Monday, January 26, 1987 at 11 a.m.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Legislative Functions:

Assembly Resolution No. 4—Amending Assembly Standing Rule 23 to provide ethical principles for consideration by Assemblymen when a conflict of interest exists.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That Rule 23 of the Standing Rules of the Assembly is hereby amended to read as follows:

Committee on Ethics [.] ; Legislative Ethics.

1. The Committee on Ethics consists of:

(a) Two members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker from the majority political party;

(b) One member of the Assembly appointed by the Minority Leader from the minority political party; and

(c) Two qualified electors of the state chosen by the members of the committee who are appointed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b), neither of whom is a present or former member of the legislature or employed by the State of Nevada.

2. The Speaker shall appoint two members of the Assembly, one from the majority political party and one from the minority political party to serve as alternate members of the committee. If a member is disqualified, the alternate appointed from the same political party shall serve as a member of the committee during the consideration of a specific question.

3. A member is disqualified if he is the requester of advice concerning a question of ethics or conflict of interest, or if the advice is requested by another member of the Assembly and a reasonable person in his situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.

4. The committee shall hear complaints on alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest, brought by legislators and others, and it may advise legislators on questions of breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest. All proceedings by the committee on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest are confidential unless a legislator:

(a) Against whom a complaint is brought requests a public hearing;

(b) Discloses the opinion of the committee at any time after his hearing; or

(c) Discloses the content of an advisory opinion issued to him by the committee.

5. A complaint which alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest must be in writing and signed by the person making the allegation. The complaint must be filed with the chairman and he shall send a copy of the complaint, within 24 hours after receiving it, to the legislator against whom the complaint is brought.

6. The criterion to be applied by the committee in determining whether a legislator has a conflict of interest is whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his position upon the matter in question would be materially affected by:

(a) His acceptance of a gift or loan; or

(b) His private economic interest.

7. A legislator who determines that he has a conflict of interest may vote upon, advocate or oppose any measure as to which a potential conflict exists if he makes a general disclosure of the conflict. In determining whether to vote upon, advocate or oppose the measure, the legislator should consider whether:

(a) The conflict impedes his independence of judgment;

(b) His participation will produce a negative effect on the public's confidence in the integrity of the legislature;

(c) His participation is likely to have any significant effect on the disposition of the measure; and

(d) His interest is greater than the interests of an entire class of persons similarly situated.

Assemblyman Myrna Williams moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Legislative Functions.

Motion carried.

STATE OF NEVADA
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER
CARSON CITY, NEVADA 89710, June 7, 1985

THE HONORABLE WILLIAM SWACKHAMER, Secretary of State, Capitol Building, Carson City, Nevada 89710

DEAR MR. SWACKHAMER:

I am hereby forwarding to your office, for filing within the Constitutional time limit, and without my approval, Assembly Bill 96, entitled:

> An Act relating to property tax, requiring centrally assessed property under construction to be valued by the Nevada Tax Commission, and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Since receiving Assembly Bill 96, I have reviewed the impact of this legislation and believe that public policy would not be well served by approving this measure. Assembly Bill 96 would require centrally assessed property under construction to be valued by the Nevada Tax Commission and added to the secured tax roll. An initial concern is created whether the value could later be revised and equalized by the State Board of Equalization.

The practical effect of this legislation is that utility company's construction in progress which is begun between January 1 and June 30 will not appear on the tax rolls whose collection begins in July. This enables utilities to avoid paying property tax on construction work in progress which is currently placed on the unsecured roll.

I am not convinced that approval of this tax relief for utility companies would be in the best interest of all Nevada's taxpayers. I believe it appropriate to treat all taxpayers equitably. If Assembly Bill 96 is approved, utility companies would not be taxed for six months of construction work in progress, yet other taxpayers, including other businesses and homeowners, are currently liable for taxes immediately on any construction, and they would not benefit from this statutory change because they are locally, rather than centrally assessed.

It appears there would be no way for county assessors to tax the six months of construction work in progress since authority to do so by adding it to the unsecured role is eliminated by other provisions of the legislation. The potential loss of revenue would negatively impact the financial condition of the local governments at a time when revenues to local governments are critical.

For these reasons, I believe that fairness demands all Nevada's taxpayers receive the same benefits under the law. I am convinced that Assembly Bill 96 does not improve the current statutes. This bill would not only take away authority the assessors now have to properly assess this property on the unsecured roll, but also may cause confusion over the State Board of Equalization's ability to hear appeals on the valuation of construction work in progress. For these reasons I am exercising my Constitutional right of veto over Assembly Bill 96.

Sincerely,

RICHARD H. BRYAN
Governor

The question was put: "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Remarks by Assemblyman Bergevin.

The roll was called, and the Assembly sustained the veto of the Governor by the following vote:

YEAS—1.

STATE OF NEVADA

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER

CARSON CITY, NEVADA 89710, June 14, 1985

THE HONORABLE WILLIAM SWACKHAMER, Secretary of State, Capitol Building, Carson City, Nevada 89710

DEAR MR. SWACKHAMER:

I am hereby forwarding to your office, for filing within the Constitutional time limit, and without my approval, Assembly Bill 374, entitled:

> An Act relating to industrial insurance; providing for industrial insurance by private insurers; providing for state supervision of rates and advisory organizations; exempting the state industrial insurance system from administrative requirements applicable to executive agencies generally; providing penalties, and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill 374 would allow Nevada employers to purchase industrial insurance coverage from private providers of insurance in addition to the current provisions which allow employers to elect self insurance or state industrial insurance system coverage. This would create a workmen's compensation insurance system referred to as "three-way."

I vetoed Senate Bill 136 of the 1983 session which also provided for three-way coverage. I conducted at that time an extensive study of the policy implications of three-way industrial insurance. I examined a number of formal studies regarding the economic and social effects of private industrial insurance; I reviewed the findings of the Interim Legislative Study Committee on Providing Worker's Compensation Through Private Insurers; I met with individuals and groups both favoring and opposing the legislation, and finally I consulted with chief executives of other states which have enacted similar legislation.

The public policy question—is how to provide Nevada's workers with the best possible compensation for industrial accidents and occupational diseases at the lowest possible cost to Nevada's employers. I believe our current system is protecting Nevada's working citizens at a reasonable cost to Nevada's employers. I have not been convinced during the last two years that the policy of our state should change, or that a change would benefit Nevada's economy.

I do not believe the record demonstrates that a three-way system of industrial insurance coverage will uniformly protect Nevada's workers at the same cost or lower cost to Nevada employers. Also, I am not persuaded that a three-way system of industrial insurance coverage would provide improvement in the processing of industrial insurance claims. Although SB 136 of the 1983 session and AB 374 are not identical, a comparison of their substantive provisions causes me to conclude that both bills would be very similar in operation and effect.

For these reasons, I feel that it is not in the best interest of either Nevada's employers or Nevada's working men and women to approve three-way industrial insurance. I believe the best industrial insurance benefits available for Nevada's workers at the lowest possible cost to Nevada's employers is through the current, non-profit, State Industrial Insurance System, and the available option of self-insurnce for employers. It is not in the public interest to substitute a new industrial insurance option for a current system that works efficiently and economically. I am, therefore, exercising my Constitutional authority to veto Assembly Bill 374.

Sincerely,

RICHARD H. BRYAN
Governor

Remarks by Assemblymen Jeffrey and Banner.

Assemblyman Schofield requested that Assemblyman Banner's remarks be entered in the Journal.

I think I will have to make a few remarks since I have been in this battle for the last 20 years or so. When the Governor wrote this message, he said, "I met with individuals and groups both favoring and opposing this legislation." Well, he didn't meet with me. I say that because the interest that I have had in workman's compensation started back in 1963 when I was a commissioner on the Nevada Industrial Commission under Grant Sawyer for four years. I have had considerable experience representing claimants at the hearing level and following through at the appeals level with the now State Industrial Systems office. I really know what the trenches are like—in the last few years there has been more blood right here on this floor at this seat than in any other place in this hall.

I would like to remind some of the people that this is not something new. In the 1977 Session, the Legislative Commission directed us to review the whole workman's compensation problem. As you know, Mr. Speaker, you were chairman of that committee so you know all the nuts and bolts of what happened. One of the recommendations at that time from the subcommittee was the need to provide the employers of this state with alternate methods of coverage, but it is not the opinion that the entry of private carriers into the field of workman's compensation insurance at this time is in the best interest of those concerned. When we followed through and did all the bills, we ended up with what they call self-insurance or the two-way system. Following that, the unrest in dealing with that department, which is a monopoly, still exists. As the department gets bigger, it gets colder and harder to touch. That is the problem.

In 1982 there was a study directed by the 1981 Session which brought about a bill in 1983 that was vetoed by the Governor, and he has now vetoed this bill. Believe me, the problem is still around, and for any of you that have constituents who are claimants that try to get through this system and talk to SIIS people, you are aware of the problem.

I don't think that anyone can criticize me for being a person who has done anything against the worker in this state since 1939 when I first belonged to the carpenter's unions. I don't want that to happen here because I have been pressured by the labor unions for a position. My position has been that the state system needs more competition to make them more responsive to the Nevada worker. I am not interested in the Nevada employer on that point. It is his problem to get the lowest cost, and I could probably show him how because of the interest that I have had in insurance.

I just wanted to let some of these folks know where I stood in this matter. I am going to sustain the veto because it's all over, the ball game is over. Let's get on with it and let the next Governor worry about it.

The roll was called, and the Assembly sustained the veto of the Governor by the following vote:

YEAS—None.

NAYS—Adler, Arberry, Banner, Bergevin, Brookman, Callister, Carpenter, Craddock, DuBois, Evans, Fay, Freeman, Garner, Gaston, Getto, Haller, Humke, Jeffrey, Kerns, Kissam, Lambert, McGaughey, Marvel, May, Nevin, Nicholas, Porter, Price, Sader, Schofield, Sedway, Spinello, Spriggs, Tebbs, Thomas, Thompson, Triggs, Myrna Williams, Wendell Williams, Wisdom, Mr. Speaker—41.

STATE OF NEVADA

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER

CARSON CITY, NEVADA 89710, June 7, 1985

THE HONORABLE WILLIAM SWACKHAMER, Secretary of State, Capitol Building, Carson City, Nevada 89710

DEAR MR. SWACKHAMER:

I am hereby forwarding to your office, for filing within the constitutional time limit, and without my approval, Assembly Bill 387, entitled:

> An Act relating to the commission on mineral resources; requiring that the members of the commission have 10 years' experience in various fields; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

This measure would impose a new restriction on appointments to the commission on mineral resources. Currently six of the seven members must be familiar with various aspects of the minerals industry—large scale mining (two members), production of oil and gas (one member), exploration and development (one member), small scale mining and prospecting (one member), and the development of geothermal resources (one member).

Under AB 387 the criteria for appointments would be further specified by imposing a 10-year experience requirement in each of the above noted categories. This limitation, although well intended, is arbitrary and would too severely limit a governor's ability to choose qualified persons willing to serve on this important commission—a result contrary to the measure's intent.

In a specialized field such as geothermal development the number of resident Nevadans with 10 years experience is small. Indeed, extensive geothermal development in Nevada is still an emerging industry. The general criteria of being familiar with the development of geothermal resources adequately insures that qualified individuals are eligible to serve, and will provide for consideration of a larger number of suitable candidates for appointment.

I do not feel the restrictions of Assembly Bill 387 would be in the best interests of the citizens of Nevada or our minerals industry. Therefore, I am exercising my Constitutional right of veto over this legislation.

Sincerely,

RICHARD H. BRYAN

STATE OF NEVADA
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER
CARSON CITY, NEVADA 89710, June 12, 1985

THE HONORABLE WILLIAM SWACKHAMER, Secretary of State, Capitol Building, Carson City, Nevada 89710

DEAR MR. SWACKHAMER:

I am hereby forwarding to your office, for filing within the Constitutional time limit, and without my approval, Assembly Bill 605, entitled:

> An Act relating to wildlife, requiring the issuance of special tags for hunting certain deer; increasing the penalty for violating the provisions governing guides; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill 605 provides for the Department of Wildlife to issue special tags for hunting deer which would authorize the holder to take one buck while guided by a licensed master guide. The special tags would be available for a $200 fee and would comprise one percent of the total allocation of deer tags.

I believe this legislation sets an unwarranted precedent. Since Nevada adopted a deer tag quota system, nearly a decade ago, every qualified citizen and hunter has enjoyed an equal opportunity to participate in the enjoyment of Nevada's wildlife resources. Under this legislation, if approved, those willing and able to pay $200 for a tag and to employ a licensed master guide would much more readily be able to obtain the opportunity to take a buck. I believe this departs from the Nevada tradition of utilizing our wildlife resources equitably for all Nevada sportsmen.

Additionally, this legislation specifically allows Nevada hunters and out-of-state hunters to compete equally for the special tags. Under current policy, out-of-state tags comprise 10 percent of those issued. With our limited wildlife resources, I believe we should continue to give Nevada's hunters preference for obtaining tags.

I do not believe the opportunity to hunt deer in Nevada should be determined by the potential hunter's ability to pay for the privilege. All qualified Nevadans should have an equal chance to obtain a deer tag. Approval of this measure would also increase the likelihood for other groups to seek from future legislative sessions similar specialized provisions. I believe the public policy of the state is well served by maintaining a quota system whereby all who qualify enjoy an equal chance to utilize our wildlife resources.

For these reasons, I am hereby exercising my Constitutional right to veto Assembly Bill 605.

Sincerely,

RICHARD H. BRYAN

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 1.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman May requested that Assemblyman Price's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Birthdays during this week include: Thomas Paine in 1737; Douglas MacArthur in 1880; Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the 32nd President, in 1882; and William McKinley, our 25th President (assassinated September 6, 1901), born in 1843.

On this date in 1787, John George Washington Hancock, the son of John Hancock, died at the age of nine.

During this week in 1787, Congress was still waiting for quorum. Alexander Hamilton addressed the New York legislature on regulating elections and Benjamin Franklin paid George Sheed 3 pounds, 3 shillings and 5 pence for horsehair, an ingredient in 18th century plaster. It seems to have worked—most of the plaster you see on the walls of Congress Hall hasn't been touched since it was put on nearly 200 years ago.

We can see that history repeats itself as American captives were being held in the Barbary States during this week in 1787. John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, commissioners for negotiating a treaty with Morocco, wrote Congress enclosing the treaty, reporting a lack of information on the status of the treaty with Portugal, and noting that money was so scarce they would spend no more on the Barbary business, not even to ransom American seamen, without further orders.

In Nevada in 1865, on the 25th day of the Assembly, G. W. Walton made these remarks:

> Mr. Speaker: Your committee on Public Morals, to whom was referred Assembly Bill No. 91, An Act to prevent unlicensed gaming and to provide for the issuance of licenses for gaming, have had the same under consideration and recommend that it do not pass.

Nevada ratified the 18th Amendment on Prohibition, on this date in 1919. Due to statewide vote, prohibition had already been in effect in Nevada since November 5, 1918.

Thirty-eight years ago on this date in 1949, Assemblyman Don Crawford (D-Washoe) introduced a resolution to change to a unicameral (one house) legislature. The resolution was defeated 1-41 on February 4, 1949. Other members of the Assembly at that time were Chet Christensen, Bill Embry, Harley Harmon, Harry Claiborne and Bill Swackhamer.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, January 28, 1987

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 4.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 11.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 1 and 2 as sections 2 and 3 and adding a new section designated section 1, preceding section 1, to read as follows:

"Section 1. The legislature declares that:

1. The combined effect of the laws governing incorporation of municipalities and the laws restricting the revenue received by local governments appears to be to allow large portions of assessed valuation to be withdrawn permanently from a county without a commensurate reduction in the level of basic services provided by that county.

2. In counties with larger populations, such a reduction in revenue without a corresponding reduction in expenses would result in serious financial difficulties which were not anticipated by the legislature at the time these laws were enacted.

3. It would be contrary to public interest to permit the imposition of additional levies of local government in counties with larger populations until these laws have been re-examined.

4. The incorporation of several cities in counties with smaller populations are currently pending and these proposed incorporations are not anticipated to have a detrimental effect on the financial stability of the counties.

5. Therefore, a temporary moratorium on incorporation of cities in counties with larger populations is necessary to protect the public interest.".

Amend section 1, page 1, line 1, by deleting "250,000" and inserting "50,000".

Remarks by Assemblyman Thompson.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

Remarks by Assemblymen Myrna Williams and Banner.

Assemblyman Jeffrey requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN MYRNA WILLIAMS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

To you and through you to the members of this honorable body. I had the great privilege of being acquainted with the Dondero family for well over 20 years. I worked with Mr. Dondero in many civic organizations. His dedication, his concern, his caring for children is without equal. This is a family that was totally involved in service to our state and particularly to their community. Our lives in Clark County have been enriched by the Dondero family. We express our deep and sincere condolences. We miss him greatly and I am very pleased to have County Commissioner Thalia Dondero with us today. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN BANNER:

I couldn't let this pass without making some comment. There was an instant kindness in Harvey Dondero. He did something in my life that I have remembered the day, the moment and the things that happened. It happened over 50 years ago last September. I was a little kid coming from a place called Bunkerville to a great big school in Las Vegas. I entered a room. This place had electric lights and indoor plumbing. I was sitting there and didn't know what to do. Harvey came over. He knew that some kid was lost. He asked me if he could help me and I told him that I had to register. In Bunkerville they put you in a seat and told you to sit down and shut up and they told you what classes you were going to take. But in Las Vegas we had a choice—we had a menu. My dad told me to be sure and ask them if I could take drafting. He said in those big schools you could get drafting.

Harvey helped me get into the drafting class. This actually changed my life. This is the story of what happened to my life. Harvey, at that moment, did something that affected my life.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblyman May moved that Assembly Bill No. 3 be placed on the Second Reading File.

Remarks by Assemblyman May.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Fay requested that Assemblyman Price's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Notable birthdays for this week include two Founding Fathers, Robert Morris (1734) and Governor Morris (1752), both delegates from Maryland to the Constitutional Convention. Others are William Harrison, our 9th President and the first to die in office. He caught pneumonia during his inauguration. Also born during this week were Aaron Burr in 1801, Ronald Reagan in 1911, and that great American baseball star Babe Ruth in 1895.

Two hundred years ago this week, the Philadelphia Directors were considering a proper location for the new library building and a reward of eight pounds was offered for a red roan horse stolen out of a subscriber's stables near the three-mile run on the Germantown road. James Gibson visited Benjamin Franklin, who was playing cribbage with his daughter, Mrs. Bache. The Continental Congress finally convened in New York and elected Arthur St. Clair of Pennsylvania as the seventh President of the U.S. Congress assembled. John Hanson, elected in 1781, was the first President of the United States under the Articles of Confederation, while George Washington was the first under the Constitution.

In the deja vu area, letters from Secretary of Foreign Affairs John Jay, who later became the first Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, were read to Congress. Among other matters they dealt with the South American upheavals and negotiations with Algiers (North Africa) for the release of 300 American hostages.

Even in 1787, the cost of education was of major concern. Hush Williams wrote to John Gray Blount complaining that, "In this town the scarcity of hogs and hominy this year prevents people from being able to even pay for the schooling of their children." In 1788, Massachusetts became the 6th state to ratify the Constitution by a vote of 187 to 168. The first electors voted to elect George Washington as President on February 4, 1790. Congress ratified the 15th Amendment in 1870 and the 16th Amendment in 1930. On this week in 1920, Governor Emmett Boyle called a special session of the Nevada Legislature to consider the 19th Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Seventy-six years ago, in 1911, Governor Tasker Oddie signed the bill creating Mineral County. State Senator Fred Balzar of Mina, received threats for his part in dividing Mineral from Esmeralda County. His brother was assaulted in Mina and his brother-in-law's saloon was burned to the ground. He received a letter threatening to kill his family and blow up his house when he returned from Carson City. Fortunately, he survived these problems to be elected Nevada's 16th Governor.

During this week, Nevada has ratified several Amendments to the U.S. Constitution. On February 8, 1911, the 16th Amendment was ratified. The 16th Amendment allows Congress to lay and collect taxes on income. On February 7, 1920, the 19th Amendment, which gives citizens the right to vote regardless of sex, was ratified. The 23rd Amendment, which gave the District of Columbia the same rights as a state for election purposes, was ratified February 2, 1961.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Brookman requested that her remarks be entered in the Journal.

I want to recognize an important event in international sport competition. Early today, the United States yacht, Stars and Stripes, sailed to victory in the America's Cup Yacht Races off the coast of Fremantle, Australia. Stars and Stripes won its fourth straight race to sweep the series (4 to 0) over Australia's Kookaburra (KKB) III.

This is a proud occasion for all Americans. Stars and Stripes, under Skipper Dennis Conner of San Diego, retook the America's Cup trophy which was lost to Australia in 1983. Prior to that date, America had held possession of the trophy for 132 consecutive years, since the competition began in 1851.

This is an impressive win for Mr. Connor and his crew. As you may know, Dennis Connor was the Captain of the Liberty which lost (4 to 3) to Australia II in 1983.

Mr. Speaker, Members, please join me in a round of applause for Mr. Connor and his crew of the Stars and Stripes.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Getto requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

Mr. Speaker, I feel that inasmuch as A.B. No. 161 has a fee for mining this abrogates the system of the legislature where all revenue measures should be going to Taxation Committee. I feel that at least we ought to have a concurrent referral on A.B. 161 inasmuch as it is a substantial revenue measure. You can call it a fee, you can call it a tax, whatever it is, a fee is a tax and this bill is going into the wrong committee to be looked at as far as a revenue measure and it totally abrogates what the legislative system is all about.

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

Mr. Speaker, I have to disagree with the Minority Leader. It is not unusual for bills containing fees to go to various committees depending on where the regulatory process lies. The fees generated do not go to the Department of Taxation, but to the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources. I believe the referral is proper.

ASSEMBLYMAN FAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In support of the Majority Leader, we get many bills on taxes on transportation when it deals with transportation.

ASSEMBLYMAN DUBOIS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I agree with Mr. Bergevin that the bill should be concurrently referred to the Natural Resources, Agriculture and Tourism Committee and the Taxation Committee. I think it is a slap in the face to Mr. May, Chairman of Taxation, and the members of his committee to skirt that committee for what seems to me to be political purposes. It is not a fee. We are talking about a lot of money, millions of dollars. Mr. Sedway, himself, has declared that this is, "A jim-dandy tax," and that is what it is. It should go to the Taxation Committee.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As one of the people who signed on this bill I certainly want to have it heard and its merits judged. I do think, however, to qualify as a fee you must have something specific in return for that fee. I do think, perhaps, it's a tax and it probably ought to be heard by both committees.

ASSEMBLYMAN MCGAUGHEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As a co-sponsor of A.B. No. 161, I feel the legislative intent is being abused. We have committees in this house that are charged with carrying bills regarding different types of legislation and A.B. No. 161 is a revenue-producing legislation and I feel that at least it should be held concurrently by both committees. I agree, too, that we are indicating a lack of faith in the Taxation Committee to give a full and fair hearing to this bill. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MAY:

Mr. Speaker, I am deeply grateful for those concerns voiced by the members of the minority party with regard to my position in this. I would like to simply state for the benefit of the membership of the Assembly, speaking only for myself, I support the referral as it is made.

ASSEMBLYMAN SCHOFIELD:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Back in 1981, there were some bills referred that had to do with fees that were revenue-generating measures that were not referred to any committee but the Natural Resources, Agriculture and Mining Committee. At that time, there was a $25 fee being assessed against the hazardous materials going to the Beatty area. There were a number of measures in that particular year that dealt with these fees and I think it is very appropriate, because of the mere fact that this is the mining committee and it is a fee, that it should be heard in the Natural Resources, Agriculture and Mining Committee.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Having heard this argument many times over the years, and thinking back to last Monday, I'm opposed to concurrent referrals.

Senator Hecht delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA

SIXTY-FOURTH SESSION, 1987

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, honorable members of the Nevada State Legislature, ladies and gentlemen. And I also want to make a special note we have some young people in the audience. I am very happy to see you come and take part in government. I want to thank your teachers and the school for allowing this to happen. I'm sure among you in the future there will be some members in the Nevada Legislature, perhaps Governor or Members of Congress. In this great country, whatever you wish to achieve is obtainable. It's always refreshing to come home during the Congressional recess to remind myself what life is like in the "real world."

We've been having a little snow back in Washington and they can't cope with snow back in Washington like we can here. So what do they do? They just close down government. But don't worry, that's not so bad because when government is shut down, we can't raise your taxes. On the TV in the morning and on all of the radio shows during the tremendous snow storm they said, "Only essential government employees need to report to work." No one in Washington understood what the word "essential" meant, so no one showed up to work.

Thank you for inviting me. I believe the tradition of having members of the Congressional delegation come here without subpeona may be unusual, but it certainly helps maintain the lines of communication between Washington and Carson City.

Last time I stood here, I discussed nuclear waste and its repercussions. I warned that unrestrained political outrage expressed before scientific data has been compiled would be premature and cost us pending nuclear-related contracts like the $26 billion SP-100 space reactor research project.

I also discussed the military presence in our state, wilderness, the 55-MPH speed limit, land swaps, and other vital issues of the moment.

Now, two years later, I find most of them are still on our plate.

Although the Republicans lost control of the Senate last November, I was fortunate enough to keep a seat on the Energy and Natural Resources Committee, which handles so many vital Nevada issues.

And while we're all going to miss Senator Laxalt, I'm looking forward to working together closely with our new slate: Senator Harry Reid, Harry and I served in the Nevada Legislature together 20 years ago; Congressman Jim Bilbray; and, of course, our beloved Barbara Vucanovich. As your senior Senator, I pledge to maintain a spirit of bipartisan cooperation as we try to solve the issues critical to our state. Nevada must and Nevada will always come first!

Nuclear waste will be an issue facing Nevada for some time. It cannot be "wished away." Last year's decision by the Department of Energy to "postpone," indefinitely, plans to seek a suitable repository in the East was clearly wrong and, in my view, violated both the Nuclear Waste Policy Act and the intent of Congress. Nuclear waste is a national problem. It requires a national solution. In order to participate in the selection process, Nevada must maintain a position of responsibility. Otherwise, we lose all credibility, especially with Congress, the court of last resort.

The bottom line has to be safety, whether it's ours or our neighbor's. We can't put politics above the safety of the American people. That is why I am basing my position on facts and sound scientific evidence.

Within the next few months, I will be appointing a blue-ribbon panel of the best scientists available, to conduct an independent study of any possible correlation between the earthquake fault that runs through Yucca Mountain and the man-made earthquakes generated at the nearby test site.

During the Energy Committee hearings last year, I was shocked to learn that according to the Department of Energy, no earthquake study had ever been conducted. Nuclear waste opposition based on scientific fact will ultimately bear much more weight in the final decision than hysteria and political rhetoric. The panel will report its finding to the Senate possibly within two years. Last week Governor Grant Sawyer testified before a Senate Energy Committee and he made an excellent presentation. In that presentation he also brought out that we must deal in facts.

Looking ahead to the many other challenges facing us, it is appropriate to reflect on our historical past, if only for perspective. We should recall some of the important principles our Founding Fathers had in mind when they created the Constitution, that masterful blueprint for democracy, 200 years ago. Under the Articles, Congress was not so much a legislative body, as a diplomatic assembly—something akin to the United Nations of today. Still, the Articles of Confederation provided the foundation of the Constitution and the framework for the Constitutional Convention of 1787.

Probably not one of the signers would agree with everything in the Constitution. Yet that document has turned out to be a miracle pilot for self-government.

It is that Constitution that has enabled both native-born and immigrant to build America into the greatest land on earth and to keep us free.

The Constitution is the United States of America. This year on September 17th, we pay it special tribute. Underlying every phrase is a determination to achieve freedom—especially from government. The people of the new nation were so apprehensive of the kind of oppression they'd experienced in England and Europe, that every compromise still rejected any danger of overpowering central authority.

Perhaps freedom wasn't everything to them, but they believed deeply that without it, all else was nothing.

Because of the ideals expressed in our great Constitution, this nation quickly became the hallmark of freedom around the world. Today, it still is.

One of the most important rights guaranteed by this document is states' rights. That's why I feel so strongly that our people should not fall victim to dictatorial eastern Congressmen who want to selfishly destroy the concept of multiple use of public lands, a people-oriented concept which has served us well for more than 100 years.

As you know, nearly 87 percent of Nevada's land is controlled by the Federal Government. One of the more significant Federal land debates last year centered on wilderness and land withdrawals.

Wilderness is an extremely restrictive land designation. The current debate over Forest Service wilderness is only the first of a number of times Nevadans will be asked by a Federal agency to lock up pieces of Nevada for eternal preservation.

Most of us agree that some land should be preserved as is for future generations. The controversy hinges on the amount of land that would be deemed off limits to mining and, practically speaking, off limits to ranching, both so vital to Nevada—especially rural Nevada. But the issue is broader than economics, because wilderness designation would exclude many youngsters, older people and the handicapped.

Wilderness can even exclude the young and vigorous from recreational activities. For many years, the annual Western States Endurance Run and the Western States Trail Ride have taken place on the California side of Lake Tahoe. The Endurance Run began in 1974, while the Trail Ride dates back to 1955.

A part of the course goes through an area that was designated wilderness in 1984. At the time of the wilderness designation, the Forest Service promised to allow the events to continue. But, now they have changed their minds, and decided the events are incompatible with wilderness designation.

All Nevadans who like to jog, or who enjoy riding horses, ought to be wondering whether wilderness in Nevada might eventually lead to similar restrictions in Nevada's National Forests. Clearly, there is no question that a lockup of public lands is a lockout of the public.

I've always believed that it is the people who should govern, and that government which is closest to the people serves them best. So, last year I tried to practice what I preach. I brought a little of the Congress to Nevada. I conducted five Senate committee hearings throughout the state on the question of "How Much Wilderness?"

Most Nevadans who live and work in our rural counties where most of the proposed wilderness lies, told the committee they want no wilderness at all, but if they have to take a wilderness bill, they want the smaller of the two Congressional bills introduced.

The Nevada Legislature in 1985, by a vote of 60 to 3, supported this smaller wilderness bill. Sixteen of the seventeen boards of county commissioners also supported this bill.

But despite this strong backing, our Congressional delegation still could not reach agreement.

So, what is my position today?

I am going to listen closely to the wishes of rural Nevadans who work and live on these lands. But listening also means an open ear and mind for residents of our urban areas. Some have expressed a strong desire for additional wilderness near our two main urban centers and those desires deserve every consideration.

And I am extremely cognizant of a recent district court decision which raises a serious challenge to state water rights once wilderness areas are designated. Our own Attorney General expressed his concern on this matter when he testified before me during the wilderness hearings. There are a number of us in Congress who firmly believe that no additional wilderness legislation should be passed until the question of state versus Federal control of water is settled.

And listening to Nevadans who testified before my subcommittee made me aware that excessive wilderness can injure future funding for our state's school system.

Our counties presently receive revenues from net proceeds in the production of minerals in Nevada. A large portion of that money goes to support schools. In addition, the Federal Government collects rental fees and royalties from production of oil, gas, geothermal and other leasable minerals in Nevada. Last year this totalled $21 million. About half of that wound up in the state's distributive school fund.

I can only say to you that the legislation I introduced seems to best represent the needs and wants of Nevada. Consequently, I plan to reintroduce legislation similar to what I sponsored last year. However, I will give every consideration to adding additional acreage for wilderness designation near our two main population centers. This is in keeping with my belief that local governments and citizens know best what is good or bad for them.

I also tell you now that I will do everything within my power in Washington, as a member of the Senate Energy Committee which oversees these matters, to prevent politicians from outside our state from imposing their will on the people of Nevada.

Wilderness is not the only states' rights issue this year. As you may know, my pet project has been legislation to give you and other state lawmakers the authority to raise the 55-MPH speed limit on rural highways where you deem it safe. Last year, Senator Symms and I presented our case to the White House and President Reagan agreed: this is just another area in which the Federal Government should not be involved.

Some of what we will be doing in Washington will, undoubtedly, make things tough for you. But it is a part of the price we have to pay if Uncle Sam is to ever get a handle on our number one national problem: the budget deficit. As I warned you last time, programs like revenue sharing are being phased out simply because the government has no revenue to share.

Congress continues to spend money like they had it. We need to further cut these unnecessary spending programs and not try to balance the budget on the backs of our taxpayers.

We made a good first step last year with the Tax Reform Bill. They are still having farewell parties on Capitol Hill for Tip O'Neill and already the new Speaker is talking about raising taxes. I hope we're not about to return to the old days when the big spenders try to be all things to all people.

Another major national issue also affecting most Nevadans is the liability insurance crisis. Last August during my "Chat with Chic" tour, I conducted several public hearings and heard some shocking testimony. Many Nevada cities and counties are totally without liability insurance. Health care costs, an issue you are now confronting, are rising in part because physicians order many unnecessary medical tests for patients in order to protect themselves from potential liability. Here are some other horror stories:

—School districts using funds intended for instruction to meet insurance costs.

—Church groups and Boy Scouts having to pay $900 for a two-hour insurance policy before they may use a public park.

—Doctors in rural Nevada refusing to deliver babies because they fear lawsuits.

One suggestion I repeatedly heard was that we need some type of Federal regulation of the insurance industry if states are incapable. The McCarran/Ferguson Act established the system whereby insurance regulation rests within the province of state authorities. While I most certainly appreciate the hardships created by the crisis, I emphasize that none of the insurance-related legislation I co-sponsored last year would have encouraged Federal intervention.

I am convinced that for the most part, the various tort and insurance reform initiatives which have been proposed, should be considered by you and other state legislatures, rather than on Capitol Hill.

During the last Congress, I did support legislation which would help businesses, associations and governmental entities form interstate self-insurance and collective insurance-purchasing groups.

In addition, Federal Civil Rights laws must be fine-tuned because they impact premiums paid by municipalities.

As a result of my hearings, I co-sponsored two intitatives seeking to lower the exposure of local governments by placing restrictions on litigation sought in Federal court. These bills did not pass last year but I am pushing for their consideration again this year.

While the states' rights provisions of the Constitution are vitally important, I'm even more concerned about another which guarantees our freedom. Without freedom, the debate over states' rights is meaningless.

The military presence in our state is critical to America and to freedom.

Last year, the operations budget for the Department of Energy in Nevada was a total of $981.2 million, which includes $333.6 million for weapons testing. The DOE budget reflects a positive trend, increasing steadily over the past five years.

Payroll for this Fiscal Year is $334 million, with 7,800 employed. The economic impact of Nellis Air Force Base in Southern Nevada is estimated at $1.2 billion, up from one billion dollars in 1985. In the North, the Fallon Naval Air Station hosts 950 military and 440 civilian personnel. Its economic impact is nearly $46 million. The Hawthorne Army Ammunition Plant currently employs 597 people with an annual budget of $22 million.

These facts are important when we hear politicians talking about instigating a nuclear test freeze. Given the Soviet appetite for aggression, a freeze would only "freeze" us at a distinct disadvantage, both militarily and economically.

In Moscow the faces may change, but the script remains the same.

Under our Constitution, Senators are elected for six years and Congressmen for two years. The difference explained by our Founding Fathers was that Senators were responsible for foreign treaties, foreign trade and alliances.

One does not have to venture far past our border to discover Nicaragua is 1,000 miles closer to Nevada than Washington, D.C., is to Nevada. If we do not help the people of Nicaragua to fight and secure democracy in their country, as we did so effectively in El Salvador, we will end up with a Marxist government in Nicaragua taking orders from Moscow. For a country with a population of between 2.1 to 2.5 million people to have a far better equipped army than Mexico with a population of 80 million is not logical. Ortega and Castro have plans to expand communism to El Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica, and the big prize, Mexico. This will create a flow of refugees in the tens of millions.

What does all of this mean to all of you people sitting in front of me? We in Nevada have approximately one million people. Just think that over a six-month period this flow of refugees could double our population. If you think you have trouble meeting our state's needs and the budget now, what would you do with an additional one million people, without a home, without clothes, without a job and without food. Communism must be stopped in Central America.

It would be hypocritical to defend our military in Nevada without giving equal time to our veterans. Existing law says that state government must provide part of the funding for setting up a cemetery in Nevada. You were not able to appropriate the necessary funds to accomplish this last session, so I've been working to help the state acquire some BLM property near Las Vegas which could be used for such a purpose.

Just before Congress called it quits last year, a law was passed which might be helpful. H.R. 5299 authorizes the Veterans Administration to establish a national cemetery in states that don't have one, and also authorizes the acquisition of land, possibly at VA expense. Meantime, I'm proceeding with plans to introduce a bill that provides BLM land for the cemetery at no cost.

Too many important bills failed to survive as Congress rushed to adjourn last November. One would have transferred some 500,000 acres of Nevada land now administered by the BLM to the Forest Service. It failed because of last minute insistence by the House that water rights be under Federal instead of state jurisdiction as they should.

Another disappointment was defeat of legislation that would have exchanged Federal land in Nevada for property the Aerojet General Corporation owns in Florida. Aerojet has been working on technology for the super-secret plane known as the "Orient Express." It could fly from New York to Tokyo in two hours. It could even go into orbit like the space shuttle, but much more safely, and have a large bay.

The space program President Kennedy wisely launched nearly a quarter of a century ago must continue toward new frontiers. It is not a question of if, but how fast. And, Nevada needs to do everything possible to attract these new high-tech companies if we are to be on the cutting edge of the future.

The time has come to reassess our strategy and pledge an open mind to the challenges of tomorrow.

We need to tell the world Nevada is much more than gaming and tourism. We need to continue working hard to diversify our economy, to attract more Aerojets and to increase trade with other nations.

I'm extremely optimistic that my recent visit with leaders of China will result in increased activity for some of Nevada's industries, including our all-important mining and geothermal energy industries. We must all work together to create a climate that will attract new industry and jobs. We are an attractive state. We possess vast natural and human resources. We are a nation of vision and spirit. We are a people of remarkable courage and determination.

As we remember our great Constitution, let us not forget the Founding Fathers of our state. Our country was in a bitter Civil War, pitting brother against brother. On February 24, 1866, the Nevada Legislature approved a law to legally create the state seal and motto, "All for our Country."

Let me quote from the Las Vegas Sun of January 2, 1987, and I might add I don't quote from the Las Vegas Sun too often. Marc Fenster wrote that the majority of 566 high school students at the Sun Youth Forum recognized that we are Americans first, and the nation's best interest should remain at the forefront of our minds.

With youth like this, we will realize Abraham Lincoln's dream come true, "This great nation under God will live forever."

Senator Reid delivered his message as follows:

SIXTY-FOURTH SESSION, 1987

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Senators, Assemblymen and Guests.

Many authors throughout literary history have written about coming home again, but, I can honestly say that no one could creatively capture how I feel whenever I'm able to return to Carson City and the Legislature.

I survey this body with nostalgia. Richard Bryan and I served in the last legislative session held in the capitol. We were the only two freshmen in 1969. I presided here in this great facility during the first O'Callaghan term. My experience here was the foundation for much of what I know about our State.

Secondly, I have come before you today to share problems of mutual concern; to seek your viewpoints and also to ask you to communicate your own ideas and concerns to me on a continuing basis.

As I see it, my job is to act as your voice on Nevada's unique problems in Washington. Your job is to finish the work started in Washington.

On the Great Seal of the State of Nevada are the words, "All For Our Country." Sometimes I think the folks in Washington would like to add the words "And nothing for our State." Dealing with them as a Member of Congress for nearly five years has certainly given me a strong idea of the problems facing all of us as Nevada Legislators.

This will be the third time I have had the opportunity to report to you as a Member of Nevada's Congressional Delegation. I'd like to discuss with you now, some of the problems facing each representative of the people of Nevada.

We in this chamber all recognize the importance of nuclear testing, not only to the economy of Nevada, but also to the continued defense of our nation and really of the free world.

I think all of us would agree that if nuclear weapons could be effectively banned from the face of the earth, and peace assured against totalitarian aggression, we would support the total elimination of these weapons. That dream is not now possible. It is a goal worth achieving. It is a continuing responsibility that I feel—and will do all I can do to reduce the threat of a nuclear holocaust.

In the meantime, and while they exist, the weapons, and defenses against them, must be continually tested; because the problem is not testing, the problem is the existence and possible use of nuclear weapons. Until the time of nuclear peace I will continue to fight against any comprehensive nuclear test ban.

But there is a quid pro quo for our service as the nation's nuclear testing ground. We refuse to serve as this country's nuclear garbage can.

I am pleased to tell you that the seeds we have sown with our letter to the President, and the mobilization led by Governor Bryan and me have borne early fruit.

By reducing funds to the Department of Energy, we have forced it to substantially lengthen the time within which it proposes to choose a nuclear waste disposal site. I attribute the broad support for that fund reduction, in large part, to the outcry raised in Nevada over the unfair, and biased selection process used by the Department of Energy. A different attitude has arisen in the nation's capitol—one more understanding of the concerns of Nevada, Texas and Washington.

We must continue to fight together against the expressed desire of those in Washington to dump radioactive waste in our State. It is only through unified and concerted effort that we can defend Nevada against the potential pollution of nuclear poisons.

Washington has heard our voice on nuclear waste, and Washington has listened. But sometimes when Washington listens the results can be less than pleasant. For years you and others have called for less government from Washington, D.C. You wanted in effect to allow state and local government to be more active.

For many years, this Legislature and others across the country have called upon the Federal Government to reduce the huge Federal deficit. During these past six years the deficits have been staggering, I agree the Federal deficit is terrifying; it must be slashed before it literally destroys the financial fibre of our country.

The deficit affects each of us; interest rates paid by individuals and businesses, business investments, exchange rates and the balance of trade, is to name only a few of the negative consequences of this deficit.

But now, we in Washington have begun to make progress, slow but real, in reducing the level of Federal involvement and spending. You here on the front lines in Nevada are immediately beginning to feel one result.

Federal revenue sharing funds to the State and her counties and cities has been eliminated. We can expect those reductions to go forth and multiply in other areas. You on the state level must heed the call of Governor Bryan and face the problem squarely. Otherwise, state deficits will beget county deficits which will beget municipal deficits unto the sewer district and even water districts.

It has been said charity begins at home. Now, Federal taxes will no longer make up state shortfalls. Not only must frugality now begin at home, but what charity remains will also be paid for at home.

There are many problems, however, we must face together—as national legislators and as state legislators. Unemployment is a scourge. We have come to accept seven or eight percent unemployment without question. These raw figures exclude many—many who, statistically, are, for various reasons, left off the unemployment rolls. The problems that flow from chronic unemployment are many.

Let me visit with you about one of the problems that unemployment aggravates.

This past Monday night—just three nights ago—I, in disguise, spent a night (without being identified) in a shelter for the homeless. It was, to say the least, a unique experience. During the 13 hours I spent on the street, I had the opportunity to speak to many.

Saint Vincent's, Reno-Sparks Gospel Mission, the Salvation Army, which I learned on the street is called "Sallies," the Las Vegas Rescue Mission and Martin Luther King Hall—I now better appreciate these facilities. We must remember, the homeless have grown more than 30 percent per year since 1983. One-third are families.

Where I slept and where I walked, the main topic of conversation was work, food and shelter.

I am happy to see that the Governor and members of this Legislature are moving toward programs of workfare.

On a national level we need to make our unemployment programs, programs of dignity, not of the dole. It can be done. It has been done. The Works Progress Administration, the Civilian Conservation Corps—all welfare programs—programs, though, of dignity.

Another challenge facing us all is not a new one, but, it is one that is imposing itself on every facet of our lives more and more each day. The problem is catastrophic illness. The illness may come in the form of cancer, Alzheimer's, AIDS or one of dozens of other maladies.

These diseases do not discriminate. They rob the young, the old, the rich, the poor, the educated and the unskilled. Any one of us can be isolated from, and deprived of, our mental, physical and emotional resources.

Unfortunately, too, these devastating disorders also drain the victims and their loved ones of their financial resources—often their life savings garnered for special dreams and special goals—only to be lost to the sieve of high hospital and health care expenses.

Nationally and statewide, these diseases require extended health care and, therefore, directly influence the escalation of health care costs in the nation.

On the Federal level, I have worked toward the creation of catastrophic health care insurance for more than four years. As a Congressman—and member of the Select Committee on Aging—I co-sponsored legislation to provide protection for victims of catastrophic illness. As a U.S. Senator—and member of the Special Committee on Aging—I have already begun work on this problem.

We cannot deny the need to resolve this growing dilemma at all levels of government. That's why I'm happy to see Governor Bryan and many of you drafting your own solutions and remedies to the staggering cost of our health care delivery system.

I am aware that you as legislators, and the people of Nevada, recognize the winds of change blowing from Washington. That change requires diversification of Nevada's economy, as well, of course, as protecting her vital gaming and tourism industry; that effort to diversify has already had good beginnings.

Our State's economy is built upon attracting tourists. That is one reason I was such a strong proponent of the Great Basin National Park. With the help of the State Department of Tourism and the National Park Service we are planning a party—a party to dedicate our new park, the first park dedication in this country in almost 20 years. It should be a great event.

I firmly believe once people see the true beauty of Nevada, they will return again and again. They will visit not only our vibrant and exciting cities, but also the peaceful solitude surrounding our rural towns. And when they get there those visitors will pump money into the rural economies like Lincoln and White Pine counties and, thereafter, visit the metropolitan areas. All of Nevada will benefit.

I have worked with representatives of gaming to protect the industry against unnecessary Federal regulation.

Protection of what we have, however, is not enough. We must work together to attract new industry. The last four years have been difficult. The Federal Government has made significant inroads; that encroachment must stop. The Internal Revenue Service practice of withholding of nonresident aliens' winnings is nothing more than harrassment.

I look forward to a day when Nevada, with her attractive tax structure, excellent weather, productive work force, and a university system with a growing reputation for excellence, acts as a magnet to new industry. Evidence that this is possible is clear as we see Porsche, Ford-Aerospace, and others bring their name and jobs to Nevada.

It is up to you, however, to make the investments necessary to continue the growth of educational excellence we have seen over the past years, both at the university and high school and elementary levels. Think of those funds as an investment in Nevada's future; an investment which will bear dividends not only in a skilled work force, but in production of new jobs, and new taxpayers.

We have another battle brewing in Washington that relates to our teachers and public employees. It will be difficult to win because the revenue-short administration and the money-hungry tax committees in Congress are on the move. This is the battle that relates to the attempt to bring public employees, including teachers, into the Social Security System. It will do little to eliminate the Federal deficit, but will do much to damage the State Retirement System.

At the same time, I urge you to continue the fight we began at the Federal level against drugs. If you have one law enforcement priority, it should be to support police officials in their fight against narcotics. Again, I urge you to think of that expenditure not as a spending program, but really as bread cast upon the waters. It will return dividends in the future of our youth, and in the creation of an environment attractive to business and attractive to industry.

It is through such creative action at the state level, and through continuation of sound Federal programs that the economic problems facing our State will be lessened.

Nevada's economy cannot grow, however, indeed our State cannot survive without water from Federally-funded programs. Easterners do not understand the dependence of the West on Federal water projects for our very survival. We Western legislators in the House and Senate have had to stand together on that issue, regardless of party, for the survival of our region.

Water is not a problem of Nevada ranchers only, it is not a problem that relates to our mining interests only, but rather it is a problem that is fixed on every citizen in Nevada. It is a problem of the cities as well as the towns. From Reno to Gerlach, from Las Vegas to Beatty, from Tonopah to Wells, water is the watchword.

I want you to know that as long as the need exists, I will continue to fight for solutions to our continuing water problems, and for equitable distribution of the West's most precious natural resource. Lake Tahoe, the Truckee, the Colorado, and Lakes Mead, Mojave, Walker and Pyramid must be protected and preserved, both as a resource and as areas of natural beauty attractive to tourists.

As you know, I am pleased to have gained a seat on the Military Construction subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee. At this moment my staff is on tour of Nevada's military installations. The military structure is helpful to Nevada's economy. Nellis, Fallon, and Hawthorne are good, strong, stable employers and assets to our communities. In addition, they are vitally important to our national security, and we are proud to have those men and women in uniform live among us.

Together, we can work to make those bases even stronger, and to enhance their vital contribution to our nation's defense.

I also hope to see a replacement constructed for the outmoded and inefficient Foley Federal Building in Las Vegas. As things now stand, numerous Federal offices must rent outside space at high market rates because that building is simply too small. That wasteful use of Federal resources must cease.

There is another resource we must never neglect. I refer to the wisdom and knowledge of Nevada's senior citizens.

I have often said that a society is judged by the way it treats its citizens in their golden years. We cannot abandon those who are unable to care for themselves after a lifetime of contribution to our society.

Lower medical costs, available long-term health care benefits and social services are all necessary for a decent life for our citizens who have earned those rights. They are not simply taking. Those services enable seniors to continue to give their valuable input to society.

One way seniors continue to contribute and participate is through the electoral process. I urge you to take action to make that participation easier and more comprehensive. I am speaking of so-called postcard registration.

The Nevada Legislature has repeatedly had before it legislation to enable voter registration by mail. Such programs have been used successfully in other states. They encourage widespread voter participation and make our government even more representative of all the people.

It should never be the interest of a legislature to eliminate legitimate voters from the polls and certainly not from the rolls and have them purged as this takes place—or to discourage participation in the process. Ours is a society founded on the concept that legitimate power is derived from the people. Easier and more effective registration helps make that ideal a reality.

I wanted to let you know that we are continuing to push the Taxpayers' Bill of Rights—and that its future really looks promising. A number of Senators and Representatives have indicated their support for the bill's provisions curbing abuses by the Internal Revenue Service—and making this country's taxation system fairer and more realistic.

Senator Hecht and I have co-sponsored a bill to transfer Bureau of Land Management land to the Forest Service. This bill enjoys wide support, since it will promote tourism and increase the efficiency of management.

You can expect to see wilderness legislation introduced in the near future, and I hope to enact that bill into law before the end of the 100th Congress.

Finally, I have come with some good news. In what can only be described as a victory for the wide open spaces of the West, the Senate has voted to allow state legislatures to increase the unpopular and unrealistic 55 mile per hour speed limit. I know our members of the House from Nevada will work very hard to see the conference adopt the 65 mile per hour speed limit.

I appreciate the opportunity Speaker Dini has given me to address this 64th Session of the Nevada State Legislature. As lawmakers, we each work in our own ways to make this State and our country a better place.

Governor Bryan closed his State of the State address this year with the call to Nevadans to look forward to Nevada in the 21st Century.

I join in this call—that we, as public servants, look to the future—that we may help fulfill the destiny that is Nevada.

Assemblyman Jeffrey moved that the bill be referred to the Committee on Commerce.

Motion carried.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Fay requested that Assemblyman Price's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Birthdays during this week include: William Henry Harrison, our 9th President, in 1773; Lewis Rice Bradley, Nevada's 3rd Governor, in 1805; Abraham Lincoln, 16th President, in 1809 and Thomas Alva Edison, genius and inventor, in 1847. Mr. Edison is credited with saying "Genius is one percent inspiration and 99 percent perspiration."

During this week in 1787, The Society for Political Inquiries was founded and usually met at the home of Benjamin Franklin, signer of the Constitution. Patrick Henry wrote Virginia Governor Edmund Randolph declining his appointment as delegate from Virginia to the Philadelphia Constitutional Convention. The Boston Independent Chronicle reported a movement to create three separate nations from the 13 states and called for "a new and stronger union." Georgia elected Abraham Baldwin (minister, lawyer, legislator who later introduced plans for an educational system), William Few (judge, legislator, bank director and president), William Houstoun (lawyer, "a gentleman of family, amiable and sweet-tempered, and of good and honorable principles"), and William Pierce (left Convention before signing Constitution, major in Revolutionary War) to serve as delegates to the Philadelphia Constitutional Convention.

In 1635, the first public school opened in Boston and in 1741 the first magazine in America, "The American Magazine" was published just three days ahead of Benjamin Franklin's magazine, the "General Magazine."

In Nevada, in 1889, our citizens voted on 14 proposed amendments to the Nevada Constitution at a special election. Twelve of these measures were voted on at the General Election but the Supreme Court ruled the election invalid because of failure to follow state law regarding publication of the questions. Another election was held. Subject matter of the amendments included: Legislative session to start on the third Monday in January, legislators shall not pass special laws fixing their compensation, consolidation of offices in less populous counties, and special school tax. A question authorizing state lottery failed by 852 votes. In 1863, a meeting was held in Virginia City for the purpose of organizing a state Democratic party—effort has continued for 124 years. In 1967, Nevada ratified the 25th Amendment, which detailed presidential succession in the event of the presidential vacancy, disability or inability to carry out the duties of the office.

On a final note, today February 13, is "Blame Someone Else Day." The purpose is to share the responsibility and the guilt for the mess we're in. It is observed the first Friday the 13th of each year.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Representative to the rostrum.

The President of the Senate welcomed the Representative and invited him to deliver his message.

Representative Bilbray delivered his message as follows:

SIXTY-FOURTH SESSION, 1987

Good morning, it's good to be back here. I look out where I used to sit and remember what it's like to have to sit through all these speeches by the Congressional delegation. I really appreciate your time.

The first time I served in the Legislature I didn't know roll was taken and I missed the first one. I was the only one who missed roll call, and this fact was brought to my attention. I didn't miss any after that.

I was a proud member of this body for many years, as you well know, and I enjoyed serving in the Nevada Legislature. I must tell you that it really isn't that much different in Washington, D.C., except for the fact that where you are used to working with 21 or 42 members, you must now work with 435 members. If you think committees are bad here, especially with maybe 15 or 13 members, when you get back there and have 40 or 50 members on one committee and start the roll call to ask questions, it goes from the most senior down to the freshmen members. About two weeks ago we were questioning Secretary of State Schultz, and from the beginning to the time it was my turn to ask a question it took two and a half hours. I was the last person to question Secretary Schultz and he was about ready to leave at that point. I finally was able to ask my questions. They are really sophisticated back there. When you ask a person like Secretary Schultz a question, you have four minutes total time for the question and the answer. If you go beyond the four minutes, a red light comes on and they stop it and proceed on to the next person. Of course I was the last person and Schultz is a master—you ask him a 30-second question thinking you may have time for a second question and he uses the whole four minutes to answer the question because he does not want to have to answer another question. For someone from Nevada, it is really an interesting situation.

The training you receive in the Nevada Legislature is remarkable. I liken it to AAA ball in the major leagues. It is very similar except that those batters hit a little harder and they pitch a little faster. But the training here is needed. Anyone who represents Nevada in Congress, whether it is in the United States Senate or U.S. House of Representatives, should come out of this body because they need this training. You are at such a disadvantage to go to Washington and not have the training you get in the Legislature.

When I served here last session, Ann O'Connell was a brand-new Senator. After the session was over she said she was going to go back to the district and tell everyone how hard the Legislature worked and the hours worked and that it wasn't all fun and games. When she first came to Carson City she heard all these stories about everyone partying and enjoying themselves but she found out how hard it really was to work up here. I told Ann they would never believe her. I never asked Ann afterwards if they believed her. I hope they did believe a little about the work that you do because legislators get a bad reputation because people think it is all fun and games—they think the same thing about Washington. Our schedule back there is really grueling—you start at 8:00 a.m. usually with breakfast meetings. They don't just have a breakfast meeting that is immaterial. They meet with someone like Tambo, the head of the African National Conference, for breakfast, or Secretary Schultz, and they are all working meetings. Then you go on to a committee meeting and then you go all afternoon and into the early evening and you keep going. Then there are receptions. It is really compelling that you attend these because they have big charts outlining where each state's representatives will be standing—Maryland, Nevada and so forth. In the southwest corner is one group, the New Yorkers are in another group, the Californians are in a third, and you must go to these receptions because they are attended by Nevadans who have come to see you and they are waiting. Being the freshman representative, I go to all those and I am usually the only one from Nevada to show up. They are glad to see their one representative. These receptions last until late evening. You must be up and going the next day very early to start the agenda again. It is hard work and it is as hard here for you. It is very important that everyone understands that Nevada Legislators work hard and they do a great job. I think the Federal Congress works hard and I hope they do a good job; we're never quite sure, you know.

When I went to Congress I recognized that I made some promises. A lot of us made promises. I tried to keep my powder dry in many areas, though. I learned that here. For instance, people ask me about Contra aid and I tell them I haven't made up my mind about Contra aid. I haven't heard all the evidence. I've read what is in Time, I've read what's in Newsweek, but I don't really know what are the true facts. I'm hearing the true facts now in secret testimony before the Foreign Affairs Committee, and I'm hearing what is going on down there and I will be able to make an intelligent decision based on the facts, not on commitments made earlier. That is something especially the freshmen must learn here—don't agree too early when you don't have the facts. It is so important. I'll make an intelligent judgment on Contra aid based on the facts that are presented, not on emotion, not on campaign rhetoric. I think that is important advice for all of you.

Back in Washington we hear a lot of messages from this Legislature. One of your freshmen asked me last night about the resolutions that are constantly being sent to the Members of Congress. He asked if we really see them and if we really react to them—what happens to these resolutions? In most cases, those resolutions go to staff and the Senator, the Congressman or the chairman of the committee virtually does not see that resolution. Very rarely does that resolution get to that particular person. Like I told the Senate Commerce Committee this morning, when you need help, when you have a resolution that is important, call me. I'll be your person to deliver that resolution to whomever you want. Now, don't send me a hundred resolutions every session. Put a big red star on the important ones—let me know what is important, because, believe me, you can inundate these people and then they'll say, "Here comes those Nevadans again—here comes Congressman Bilbray again—with another resolution from the Nevada Legislature." If they are important, I'll carry them over—I'll speak to the chairman of the committee—I'll go talk to the members of the committee for you. Because I really feel I'm still part of you. I just came out of this body, most of you are my old friends, most of the freshmen I know very well. I will help you—Republican, Democrat, Northern Nevadan, cow-county man, Southern Nevadan—I'll help you. But again, choose very carefully. Find the things you want—just don't shotgun everything because if you send a thousand resolutions back to Congress, no one is going to pay attention to any of them.

Another area that I think is so important is the fight for our Nevada land. We have been fighting to get our Nevada land back for years—or at least a good portion of it. I was with 50 new freshmen Members of Congress who were at Harvard for a seminar and they were trying to teach us about all the issues. I had the Legislative Counsel Bureau send me maps outlining all the Federally-owned land in Nevada—the big map with all the black and the little tiny bit of white. I showed the freshmen that map and I showed them our problem and they were appalled over the fact that Nevada has so little land. I explained to them that we do not have a tax base and we need Federal land back into private ownership in this state so we can increase the base for our taxes. I got some support, but I'm an advocate. Nevada sends the Public Lands Committee back to Washington once every two years and they break into a red team and a blue team and they run around. For 15 minutes they meet with different Members of Congress here and then they go meet another group for another 15 minutes. You are wasting your money if you continue to do things that way. If you really want your Federal land back, that committee must go to Washington more often. You must spend a few more dollars and send that committee back to Washington to get the job effectively done. I'll help you—I'll set up your meetings, I'll be your right arm in Washington, D.C., that I'll promise you.

You have a problem with health care in this state. No matter which side of this issue you are on, you recognize we have a problem. We have a problem in Washington, D.C., also. We are going to be working on that problem in Washington, D.C. We are going to have the President's proposal and we are going to have the House version. Hopefully, we'll be able to come together with a version to help catastrophic illness in this country. You must do the same. The biggest issue that people discuss with me (next to the pay raise) is health costs. Health costs are very, very important to the senior citizens; but they are also very important to the young couple that is just starting out. I know that many of you have been approached by both sides—you have been lobbied intensely, you have been supported intensely—but you must address this issue. I told my good friend Senator Rawson that this Legislature must get this problem under control, we've got to win this issue, we've got to get these costs under control. We are going to try to get them under control at the national level. We are going to try to protect these people who are being wiped out. The Democrats are going to go beyond the President's proposal—they are going to reach out and try to help people who are at home nursing their wife or their husband or other family member—so that people can stay in the dignity of their own home and receive care. There are some smaller issues that we are looking at; for instance, Medicare at present will not pay for influenza inoculations. Chairman Pepper has a bill that I co-sponsored that allows for senior citizens on Medicare to get influenza shots. Did you know that 90 percent of the deaths from influenza in this country are senior citizens? It is estimated that by giving them inoculations we can save $6.6 million in Medicare costs alone. We must be creative, we must find ways to protect our seniors, we must find ways to help the people in Nevada. I'll help you. As I said in my campaign, I am not adverse to Nevada taking Federal money. I am not adverse and I will help you get that money. Federal Congressmen are very courageous—we will cut and cut and we want you to continue the programs. What we ask you to do is raise taxes here so that those programs can be continued. That's not fair, you guys take the heat, you pass the bills, you raise the taxes, you continue the programs that the Federal Government has brought to you that are good programs and then you go home and face the electorate in two or four years and try to explain why you raised their taxes. We in Washington are going to have to take the same courageous stands. If we want programs, we're going to have to pay for those programs— we're going to have to find methods. Either we are going to have to cut or we'll have to find creative methods of finding the funds—that's another way of saying a tax increase in our jargon back there. You know, we never say tax increase, it's "creative methods of financing."

One of the things that has bothered me, I alluded to it earlier, is the pay raise. In Nevada I voted for every pay raise that was proposed in this body. But in Nevada we let the members of the Legislature face the voters between these pay raises. In 1985, the Federal Congress decided on a new creative way of getting the pay raises—they created a Presidential Commission, the Presidential Commission voted on a pay raise, recommended that to the President, and the President then readjusts it and sends it to Congress and if it is not voted down in 30 days, then it becomes law. This is not a very honorable way of handling this matter. We as freshmen, of course, had very little say-so in it, but no one believes that. The leadership orchestrates everything in our body. Whether you are a Republican, or a new member of the Congress, you don't really have very much say-so when something is voted on or what is voted on. Leadership back there really controls things. You think you have a little authoritarian government here in the Nevada Legislature, you haven't seen anything like the way things are handled in Washington, D.C.—those people control, seniority rules, and believe me, when you are on the bottom of the heap, they make you understand you are on the bottom of the heap. They set this system up because they know that freshmen are not very courageous and probably not one of us would vote for a pay raise. On the other hand, we think that pay raise went through. But I have joined with Congressman Vucanovich and sponsored a bill which would provide that pay raises would not take effect until the following Congress—which means you must stand before the voters and answer to them regarding a pay raise. I personally don't feel I am entitled to a pay raise. There are many Congressmen there who are entitled to a pay raise. They have been there for years and have certainly earned their wages. I have just been elected. I certainly have not proved myself to the Nevada voters or the voters of this country and I don't feel I am entitled to a pay raise. I think it was accomplished wrong in our body in the Federal Congress and I feel the way it is done in Nevada is proper—it's up front, you vote on it and you put it before the next voters and I think that is very, very important.

Another area I want to talk about is voter registration. You have heard a lot about voter registration in this state. We have the lowest percentage of registered voters in the entire country. When I tell people the total vote in my district by which I was elected, most of them are appalled. Most every other district has a much larger turnout—they have 50 percent of their registered voters turn out, we have 68 percent in my district and yet we have 30 percent less voters than they have in theirs because they get their people registered and, of course, they turn out at about the same percentage, 50-60 percent, but they get them registered. In the Federal Congress they are concerned about voter registration. Let me tell you that you need to do something here because the attitude back in Congress is that the Federal Government can do it better. If you don't get voter registration worked out here, I think you will see within the next couple of years a Federal voter registration law which will provide registration for Federal candidates. This may not affect your state candidates, but once you have the people registered for Federal candidates, can you see the nightmare of determining who votes for what office—you have people registered under a post card from the Federal Government and you have people registered the normal way for state candidates. You must do something about this problem or you will see pressure on the national scene if you don't do something about it. I think it is something you have to look at. I still believe in state's rights—I've only been gone from here for a short time—I still believe the state can do it better. I really believe you can control your own destiny.

The last issue I want to discuss is an issue that many of us are working on and working on very hard—the veterans' cemetery. That is a big issue in this state. We don't have a veterans' cemetery. The money is in Washington for that veterans' cemetery. There is over $7 million for matching funds for veterans' cemeteries in the states. In October, $5 million of that money goes back to the Federal general fund. If we don't get our share by October, we are not going to get it—it will be very difficult. We've been working, the Federal law is very clear, we have the right to that money. One thing you must look at—I know there is a little sectionalism raising its head—the Federal rules which have been researched by my staff is the fact that the veterans' cemetery must be located in an area where the majority of the veterans are—they do it largely on population. There are two sites being looked at in this state for this veterans' cemetery. That veterans' cemetery virtually must go to Clark County because that is where the majority of the veterans are. We need your help. Twenty-one Senators have co-sponsored a bill to build a veterans' cemetery. You must act hastily on this. It is very important that this be done because if you don't we will lose that money. These veterans deserve this cemetery. They have gone off to war for us. I served in the military. I was one of those six-monthers—you remember that program way back when. I remember sleeping out in fox holes in Fort Ord when it was rainy and misty and dirty and I was grimy and I hated it. Then I thought to myself that these guys were laying out in fox holes and someone was trying to kill them while they were laying in those fox holes. They got very little pay, they gave up years of their lives and all they are asking right now is to give them a veterans' cemetery so that they can be buried in Nevada—the state they love. I am asking all of you to put the differences between north, south, east, and west apart. Let's get together, let's get a veterans' cemetery built. We'll get you the money in Washington—we'll match the money and the land can be part of those matching funds. The people in the south are working on this. We are contacting veterans every day. Believe me, gentlemen, if you ever had a group who will vote for you, they'll love you for this one and they mean it, they need it, they want it, and if you don't give it to them you will have to answer to them, because I'm not going to.

In closing, I pledge to work with you. I think I will work with you more than any representative you ever had because I'm a Nevadan—I'm a Nevadan first, last and always. I love this state. I love the UNLV Rebels. That's my only big problem being back there, I can't come back and see those games. In fact the other day I was scheduled for three things and was not able to go to the game the other night. I can only get to one out of every five.

I will be your arm in Washington, I will fight for you and I won't forget my roots, my roots are right here. I'm here for you. I need your help and if you need me we can work together to get some things done. We will get some of that Federal land back. I will help you and work with you and all I need is to have you tell me what to do. Please, like I said before, don't send me a hundred resolutions—send me your five-star resolutions, the things you really need, whether it's a problem with Tahoe, or it's a problem with public lands, or education, which is a top priority with me, the veterans' cemetery, whatever.

I'll be available around the halls today. Grab me in the corner, tell me your pet projects and I'll put you in touch with my staff and we'll handle it. I need your help. If you need me, I'll be there. God bless all of you. Thank you.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA

SIXTY-FOURTH SESSION, 1987

Thank you for inviting me to join you today. Although this is the third time I have stood at this podium, it is always a very unique opportunity. In fact, I regard this as my most important official appearance in Nevada that I make during each session of Congress. I'm not sure whether it is good or bad to be the last of the four of the Congressional Delegation to address you. I hope we don't get a report card when it's over.

This morning let me talk about Congress as I see it as your Representative of Nevada's Second Congressional District. My job in Congress is to represent many of you personally, and all of you legislatively in matters that affect our state at the Federal level.

The separation of powers is something which is fundamental to the rights of all Nevadans to determine their future, and there are those of us who are waging a hard and continuing battle in Congress to expand the rights of states to govern and regulate themselves. My philosophy in Washington is to evaluate each new bill and each policy question based upon which level of government is in the best position to meet the needs of the people.

Invariably, the answer is: the State of Nevada, the people of this great state, and the citizens in these chambers, elected by other Nevadans to represent them here in Carson City. Unfortunately there are many of my colleagues on Capitol Hill who don't agree with me.

There are many members of Congress who would prefer to see the power of government consolidated in Washington, by using the power of the Federal purse strings. There are many of my colleagues who would prefer to see the Federal Government involved in everything from setting the speed limit to deciding that a secretary's job is comparable to a trucker's, and mandating that they both be paid accordingly.

This is why it's vital that Nevada's representatives in Washington truly reflect the independence and Western values of a majority of our constituents. We are a conservative state in the truest sense of the word. We are a state that prizes our personal freedom, and puts great store in hard work and initiative. We are a new state, and we take pride in the fact that a man or woman can succeed here based on who they are and what they're capable of, not on who they know or who their parents were.

For a state like ours, the last person we need representing us in Congress is someone who gets caught up in the dazzle of power, or walks lock-step along with eastern party leadership and then comes back here to give you or the voters your marching orders from Washington.

As a Westerner, it is particularly important to develop realistic and effective strategies. Among 435 members of the House of Representatives, there are only two of us from Nevada. Jim was here yesterday. Generally, Westerners are in a minority on committees and subcommittees as well. Nothing can be accomplished singlehandedly, so it is necessary to forge alliances, preferably bipartisan alliances, to get bills passed or funding directed at important Nevada projects.

Bipartisan cooperation is essential in our two-party system, not just in Carson City, but in Washington as well. It is never advisable to allow personal disagreements to develop out of legislative disagreements. You never know whether the Congressman from Manhattan who was the biggest stumbling block to an effective wild horse program on public lands might end up being the crucial committee vote on nuclear waste policy.

So, with those thoughts in mind, here's how I see the agenda before us in the 100th Congress.

First, we must find a way to reduce the Federal deficit, without hurting those who have contributed so much to the freedom and the high standard of living that we enjoy today. Our older Nevadans have earned the right to live without the spectre of bankruptcy looming over them. Many have saved for their retirement, and now their savings are threatened by medical emergencies or long-term medical care. It is my personal commitment this session of Congress to work on solutions to the financial as well as emotional crisis of catastrophic illness, particularly for our older citizens who may not carry full insurance and who depend on fixed incomes. We are literally reaching times where the soaring costs of medical technology have put people in a life or death dilemma. This dilemma is caused by uncertainty about whether or not they can afford the cost of treating their illness. Some have opted for death rather than forcing their spouse or family into financial collapse. These, ladies and gentlemen, are not choices anyone should have to make.

Solutions for the catastrophic health care crisis are something which must be approached on a national scale, since there is no state exempt from this problem. As you know, the President has proposed the catastrophic health care plan just last week. Before it's over I can assure you there is going to be a lot of debate in the halls of Congress about what is covered and what isn't covered and how we're going to pay for it. I'm very supportive of this plan. In addition to this proposed legislation, there are other measures we can take to assure that others avoid this crisis before it occurs.

I am co-sponsoring legislation which will allow taxpayers to set up a health-care I.R.A., as a buffer against future medical expenses. I am also co-sponsoring legislation which would allow older Americans who have paid for their homes to receive home equity payments even though they continue to live in their homes. Many of the older residents of the state are so proud and independent that they would rather die than ask for welfare. I am detemined to help them avoid having to make that choice by working in Congress to find solutions to their problems.

Congress must learn to run the Federal Government like you run the state government—in the black. In order to do that we can't just hold the line on Federal programs. We have to continue to reassess the ones that don't work and streamline the ones that do.

Along that line, we can do a lasting service to our needy citizens in this country by overhauling the Federal welfare system. Nevada's system stands out as one of the most successful in the country, so perhaps the problems are less dramatic here. But, on a national scale, I feel that we have failed to provide any incentive for families to stay together during periods of financial crisis. In fact, we have done almost the opposite by rewarding single parent situations disproportionately, and virtually encouraging fathers to abandon their responsibilities.

Administering welfare programs has become too cumbersome and somewhere in all that paperwork we have lost our focus. The purpose of the welfare system was to provide a stopgap source of essentials for those who cannot find work. Instead, it's become a self-perpetuating trap.

The vast majority of welfare recipients would rather be self-supporting if child care and job training resources were more readily available. However, welfare has become such a volatile and emotional subject that any statement about improving or redesigning the system is immediately decried as devastating to the poor or casting the homeless out to starve on the streets. We need to find solutions to these problems.

Another priority in this Congress must be balancing the budget. Sometimes, to balance the budget we must make cuts in Federal programs. One place to look is Defense. Pentagon waste must be scrutinized and eliminated, and I think there can be some cuts in the Defense budget. On the other hand, I am strongly opposed to making cuts in the Defense budget when it eliminates the entire tactical air wing at Nellis Air Force Base. There are other ways. Any of us who have served in Congress, or as you have served here, know that there are plenty of ways. I am protesting the decision that was made about the 474th Air Wing, and I have written a strong letter to the Secretary of the Air Force as well as working with my colleagues on the House Armed Services Committee.

I have to remind our friends in Washington that being good neighbors doesn't mean that we have to be doormats or patsies for the Department of Defense, or the Department of Energy.

It is wrong to plan expansions of restricted military airspace and then notify us about it later. The first time I heard about this was from a television station. And, it's wrong to lend our airspace to the Oregon National Guard. I have told the Air Force and the Navy that Nevadans deserve to be informed, to take part in the decisions before they are reached and to be treated fairly. I hope they are listening.

The same arguments sum up many of my objections to the nuclear waste dump, too. I wasn't serving in Congress when the Nuclear Waste Policy Act was passed in 1982. However, by studying the Act and talking with my colleagues, I am convinced that the Department of Energy has not followed the letter or the spirit of the law and Nevada is getting the short end of the stick.

The Nuclear Waste Policy Act was a fragile compromise put together by Congress in light of projected amounts of high-level waste that would reach health hazard proportions in surface pools of power plants by the late 1980s. Now, conveniently, the Department of Energy is telling us that the projected volumes have changed and that they have taken it upon themselves to reinterpret the law so that only one repository will be identified and built "in the foreseeable future." Well, if in fact that is the case, then it's time for Congress to take the whole issue back to the drawing board and start over with the timetables, the siting criteria and the guidelines.

If the Department of Energy is correct in their new projections, and we need only one repository, then that repository should involve a full-scale national screening for the safest site, as well as a consideration of other things such as sub-seabed disposal and other possibilities. I think that we should consider that we may not have yet developed the technology to ensure a permanent repository for high-level waste. So, instead of sealing off shafts, we should perhaps be considering a more modest series of monitored retrievable storage sites, close to or perhaps on power plant sites themselves so that we don't have the transportation risks.

We need to force Congress to take back the entire nuclear waste program. Go back to the drawing board and start over with the knowledge that DOE has made mistakes and they need to learn from those mistakes.

I plan to oppose the present course of action; I plan to oppose the Department of Energy doing any further site-specific work in the State of Nevada, and I will push forward my legislation, H.R. 266, to repeal part of the Nuclear Waste Policy Act and send it back to Congress for reconsideration. This issue is much too important to play politics with scientific technology, or to write guidelines with their minds made up already to put it in Nevada. I told Secretary Herrington my feelings on this subject at a hearing on DOE's budget last Tuesday. I don't plan to sit by and allow Nevada to be targeted as the waste dump for political objectives.

On the other hand, I think it is very short-sighted to view the Department of Energy or the Department of Defense as the enemy. There has been an impression created in Washington that Nevada is unequivocally opposed to any activities by the military or the Department of Energy. These attitudes are creating a tremendous roadblock for Nevada being considered for high-tech projects, such as the Supercollider.

Personally, I'm very enthusiastic about the emphasis in the President's budget on scientific research, and I would like to see the Department of Energy turn its funds and attention into siting the Supercollider Project in Nevada. In fact, I am considering a proposal that if we are still in the final selection process for a scientifically safe, and I emphasize safe, waste dump that has met the full range of selection criteria mandated by the law, we must be given first crack at the Supercollider.

I'm convinced that if it's possible to write guidelines that indicate that Nevada is the best site for a waste dump, then I think DOE should be writing guidelines that favor Nevada as the perfect location for the Supercollider. I'm suggesting that DOE do something popular for a change! Nye County has to deal with the movie star protestors and TV cameras from all over the world focusing on protestors at the test site. I believe we deserve the Supercollider, and I'm going to fight for it, as well as other research projects.

If we are given some of the high-tech projects that are an offshoot of the Strategic Defense Initiative (Star Wars), or energy research, then it will prove our ability to provide well-trained workers, and will provide further incentive to the private sector research companies evaluating Nevada as a potential location. The Department of Defense and the Department of Energy can contribute in positive ways to Nevada's program for economic diversification. A word of caution: Washington is hearing the constant chorus of "No, no, no" sung by some of our state's leaders. Those of you who want to join that chorus are doing Nevada a disservice, and costing Nevadans the chance to be on the cutting edge of scientific research and development.

This will cost our state billions of dollars, and deprive Nevadans of the opportunity for thousands of jobs. We don't want to have the reputation of being the state that says "No" in advance of the facts, and that is the reputation we are getting. The key is to remain unbiased, and look at each project on a case-by-case basis.

Let me talk just a minute about wilderness. I believe we must take a balanced and realistic approach on the number of acres in Nevada that we want to contribute to the National Wilderness Preservation System. Wilderness is becoming more scarce in this country, and almost anyone who loves our wide-open spaces appreciates the need to preserve some wilderness for future generations.

Decisions must be made, however, not just on the 400,000 acres suggested by the Forest Service, but on several million acres under study by the BLM, by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and by the National Park Service. If a pattern is continued of introducing legislation with more acres than each agency suggests, that is going to mean that over seven million acres of the State of Nevada will be eternally locked up in wilderness, to the exclusion of most forms of recreation and all other forms of multiple use. Is that what we want? I don't think so.

I have talked to hundreds of men and women around the state who raise their families by the use of our public lands. They don't want more Federal restrictions.

With that in mind, I have continued to take a conservative approach. I have reintroduced my wilderness bill in the 100th Congress and I hope you will support it as you did during your last session. I understand Congressman Bilbray feels that I am very naive about getting my bill passed. Let's hope we can work together to do what is right for Nevadans.

This past year I have served as a member on the President's Commission on American Outdoors. I believe that my understanding of multiple use was one of the reasons that the President appointed me to the Commission, and I am honored by his faith in my abilities. I was one of only two members of the House of Representatives—Mo Udall from Arizona was the other member—and two Senators—Senator Malcolm Wallop and Senator Bennett Johnston—who were appointed by the President to this Commission.

The purpose of the Commission was to review outdoor recreation in the United States and make a report with recommendations to the President on the recreational needs of our country in the year 2000. As you would expect, the report has only recently been completed, and is already quite controversial.

I believe that my input to the Commission was beneficial, and I enjoyed the opportunity to serve, both because I enjoy outdoor recreation and because it was vital to have a strong advocate for multiple use in the group. Senator Wallop and I suggested a number of important changes on the final report, particularly in the section on Federal land use. Our presence served as a counterpoint to those members of the Commission who wanted a whole new Federal agency set up to receive millions more of dollars every year, and those who favored condemning private property for a network of cross-country hiking trails.

The goals set out by the Commission for future recreational needs are lofty ones, and ones which, on the whole, I approve of. The thrust for recreational development will be from the grass roots level, rather than Federal initiatives. They call this plan, "The Prairie Fire," with the idea that there needs to be a groundswell of enthusiasm from the local level—the cities, counties and states—not from the Federal level.

The Commission was also concerned with preserving and adding to outdoor recreational resources where they are most acutely needed, which is in the urban areas. There the need may be as small as getting the weeds off a basketball court, or providing a bike path. In populated areas, recreational opportunities may tip the scales for a child away from a life of crime or drug dependence to the pursuit of healthy athletic skills.

Expanding our recreational resources will take a commitment from state and local governments as well as a partnership with the private sector. Unfortunately, the era of being able to count on 100 percent Federal participation in most local projects is over.

As much as I love the outdoors—and would love to see everyone in the country have the opportunities that most of us in Nevada take for granted—I argued to remove many instances of recreation being developed by Executive Order by the President, from the final report.

Until the government is able to rein in spending and produce surpluses, it is irresponsible to create new agencies or new spending programs. I believe that it is immoral to permit the deficit to grow, and to pass this burden along to the next generation of America's leaders. It is our duty in Congress to find solutions to the problems that we have created, and these must be identified, and then acted upon.

By refusing to deal with the tough problems of cutting the deficit, Congress looks to the nation like a bunch of dieters talking endlessly about our program, while helping themselves to a plateful of hot fudge sundaes.

We must concentrate our priorities in Congress on the things that have true lasting merit of importance. I am encouraged to see Congress and the administration taking another hard look at the education of young Americans and comparisons being made to excellence in education in Japan.

If there are some useful lessons we can take from our neighbors in the free world, then so much the better. If we are to remain on the forefront of scientific research and new technology and to remain strong contributors to the arts, then our greatest hope is in our young people. Their best education should be our goal and our willing investment, because they are our hope for the future. I would like to leave the next generation with optimism about their future and a rich and bountiful land to raise their families.

There are things that all of us can do and that we can all do together to bring that about. If we divide our energies by emphasizing our differences it will never happen.

In closing, I would like to say, let's work together for our state and for its future. If we strive for this common goal, Nevada will be better for all of us being here and we can look back with pride on our accomplishments while serving the people who put us here to represent them.

Thank you for this opportunity to join you today.

Assemblyman Thompson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Thompson, Jeffrey, Thomas, Nicholas, Callister, Getto and Fay.

Assemblyman Gaston requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON:

Mr. Speaker, a number of the members of the house served with Mr. Kovacs. I know in my first two sessions, I went heads up with him on a couple of different issues; but nonetheless, Ed is a good friend and he was a good legislator. He is very critically ill at this point at University Medical Center in Las Vegas. We would like to pass this resolution and read it to him later today.

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

Mr. Speaker, I have known Ed Kovacs for quite some time. We go back to when we were both young Democrats and that's been a while. I had the pleasure of serving the two terms when Ed was here and we have worked together on many projects. We've had some differences, but Ed was always a gentleman who paid great attention to detail and was a credit to this body.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As a member of the opposite party, when I came in here as a freshman, Ed Kovacs really went out of his way to give me as much help as any human being could give another. He is one of the finest men I have ever served with in this great body. I send out my prayers to him.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Many of us were disturbed to hear that there were problems in Eddie's life. He, of course, was a classmate of a number of us including the first speaker to this subject. On behalf of the opposition party at that time, let me express my concern and our concern for him and send him our best wishes.

ASSEMBLYMAN CALLISTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Kovacs, Eddie, is a constituent of mine, and is a good friend and was of great assistance during my campaign. He was, to a large degree, sort of a mentor, taking an interest in me and he tried to convince me, for better or worse, to run for this body. I appreciate all of his efforts and those of his fine family. I wish to express my concurrence with what has been mentioned here today.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to say, too, that I certainly appreciated Mr.

Kovacs' service as a legislator. I came to know Ed, his wife and son quite well when they spent a weekend at the ranch. I always remember how much enjoyment Ed got out of chasing some cattle. We were not moving cattle in the western fashion, we were moving them afoot and Ed soon ran out of breath. We really had a big laugh about it. I certainly feel that he is a real friend and wish him the best.

ASSEMBLYMAN FAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It would be remiss of me at this time not to speak of Eddie Kovacs. He is my personal friend of 20 years and was a great politician and he is a good politician. I wish him the best.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA

SIXTY-FOURTH SESSION, 1987

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Nevada Legislature, ladies and gentlemen. I want to say a special hello to the students of Hunter Lake School who, I understand, are here today. I am pleased at your interest in our form of government and I hope that not too many years from now some of you will be sitting or standing here in the service of your State and your Nation.

I appreciate very much the opportunity to speak with you today about the bicentennial of the United States Constitution. It is an occasion which does me honor. More importantly, it provides you and me the opportunity to pay honor to that document, rivaled perhaps only by our Declaration of Independence in providing wise guideposts to the people of a Nation who are determined forever to be free men and women.

It has been said that ours is a "living Constitution." The phrase all too often is used to justify departure from the principles, values and ideals of our Founders. Some courts and commentators seem to think that, by invoking the idea that our Constitution "is living," they, for example, can countenance exercise by the Federal Government of powers and controls over our daily lives not contemplated in 1787—all in the name of "keeping up with the times." Believe me, I use the expression "our living Constitution" in an entirely different sense.

I speak of our "living Constitution" from the point of view that its principles are just as relevant and sound today as they were two centuries ago. The ideas expressed in that document about limited government, about checks and balances, and about the integral role of the states in our Federal system are, or certainly should be, just as alive today as when they were laid down by Madison, Franklin and 53 others so many years ago. Our Constitution must never be thought of as being just four pages of parchment to be viewed with curiosity when one visits the National Archives in Washington, D.C.

Instead, every day of our lives each person fortunate enough to call himself or herself an American should be both cognizant of, and grateful for, the unique blessing made possible by our Constitution. Its approach to government, and the adherence to that approach by our leaders for the better part of 200 years, have enabled the United States, as a nation, to distinguish itself from other nations which obtained freedom as we did by means of revolution against a tyrant. Consider, if you will, the blessed contrast between our experience and that of people elsewhere who by force of arms gained their freedom from the heel of one despot, only to find that the successor regime was at least as bad as, if not worse than, the one they had overturned.

What is it that accounts for the fact that Americans, who revolted against the oppression of King George III, have retained freedoms nowhere in evidence in the land whose people revolted against Czar Nicholas II? Why is it that we, who inherited our Nation from the common people of the Colonies, who were revolutionaries, never have known the terror that is all too familiar to the common people of Castro's Cuba? Is it just historical accident that the clergy and press of Nicaragua who courageously urged the downfall of dictator Somoza found, in less than two years following their victory, that they can only dream in Sandinista jail cells of the freedoms to worship and to speak, upon which freedoms we Americans have thrived for over 200 years?

In the first place, I submit, the answers to these questions are found in the body of the Constitution itself. Nowhere is this more evident than in that remarkable system of what we call "checks and balances." We were provided with a tripartite division of power among executive, legislative and judicial branches which, at one and the same time, enables each to exercise the powers necessary to what Hamilton called the performance of its role with "energy," while assuring the citizens of the Republic against abuse of these separately vested powers.

If only the courts in the Soviet Union were possessed of the powers and genuine independence enjoyed by our courts. Perhaps, then, the citizens of that land would not have to worry as they do now about a knock on the door by the KGB in the middle of the night, or about being confined indefinitely in mental hospitals because they dared to complain about their essential lack of freedoms. If only the members of the National Assembly of Nicaragua were freely elected by the people of that country in honest elections, and if only the National Assembly were possessed of the independent power and authority enjoyed by our Congress. Perhaps, then, the people of Nicaragua would not have to worry as they do now about the excesses of their Presidente.

But if one believes, as I do, that wisdom was necessary to devise the all-important system of checks and balances within our central government, then it was nothing short of genius which enabled our Founding Fathers to come up with the concept of federalism. Federalism, that approach to government in America which permits the strength in the central government and the unity of our Nation's 240 million people so necessary to enable the United States of America to be the most powerful nation on earth. Federalism, that approach to government in America which permits each individual state the freedom to deal with a whole range of issues which touch the daily lives of its citizens in a manner which takes into account the particular needs and values of those citizens even though they may differ remarkably from the needs and values of Americans who live in other states. Federalism, that approach to government in America which concurrently enables both the central and the state governments to survive and to thrive.

To appreciate more fully the significance of what I called the genius of our system of federalism, please reflect with me on the circumstances which faced the Constitutional Convention in 1787. As former Chief Justice Burger has noted, the language of the original Articles of Confederation revealed how jealous the 13 states were about their individual sovereignty. Their reluctance to create anything like a strong central government was made manifest by the statement of their objective: to "enter into a firm league of friendship with each other." Well, that approach may have been good enough for a treaty of mutual defense among sovereigns, but it hardly was the basis for birth of a nation.

Prior to adoption of the Constitution whose bicentennial we celebrate this year, the Continental Congress lacked power to levy taxes or raise an army. Each of the 13 states was free to set up trade barriers against its neighbors, and to issue its own currency. Washington, Hamilton and Madison understood that more had to be done lest the expression "the United States of America" be nothing more than an oxymoron.

But, by no means was there agreement among the patriots who gave us the Declaration of Independence. Patrick Henry railed against even calling a Constitutional Convention—he said he "smelled a rat"—and, along with Jefferson, he refused to attend. Their concerns were understandable, given that, only nine years earlier, they had begun a revolution to shed the shackles of a distant, strong and insensitive central government in London.

Somehow, notwithstanding such concerns and the jealous near-worship of state sovereignty to which I alluded earlier, that small band of farmers, merchants and lawyers who met in Philadelphia achieved consensus. Given the great odds against their success, what explains their having forged the document we celebrate today? Scholars of the Constitution have various explanations, but I personally am struck by the comment of James Madison, who, after the close of the Constitutional Convention, was moved to say: "It is impossible for the man of pious reflection not to perceive in (the creation of the Constitution) a finger of that Almighty Hand, which has been so frequently . . . extended to our relief in the critical stages of the revolution."

Two hundred years of history suggest that Madison was right. We all should be grateful to God for having inspired the words of a Constitution which have enabled the people of this Nation to prosper materially, intellectually and spiritually—and, above all, to remain free. But our gratitude to God must be far more than that. I am convinced that words alone, Divinely inspired or not, would be insufficient by themselves to explain the blessings we have enjoyed under the Constitution of the United States. Rather, it is because, over the years, we have been blessed by leaders and a people who by and large have been committed to the philosophies and principles which underlie the Constitution.

Central to the philosophy of our Constitution are two beliefs. The first is that the freedoms of our people were given to us, not by the government, but by God. As Jefferson said in words eternally etched in the memorial which honors him in the Nation's capital, "God, who gave us life, gave us liberty." And he posed this all important question: "Can the liberties of a nation be secure when we have removed the conviction that those liberties are a gift from God?" I am convinced the answer is "no."

The second basic belief central to our constitutional philosophy is that the powers of the government have been conferred upon it by the people of this land. The preamble of the Constitution expresses this thought by saying, "We, the people of the United States . . . do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America." We, the people.

It is that simple, three-word phrase which is what really distinguishes our system of government from that of others whose citizens or subjects do not know what freedom really means. The words of any nation's constitution can be living and vibrant, as they are here, or they can be devoid of any meaning at all. It all depends upon the ongoing commitment of the leadership and of the people of the nation to those words and to the principles which caused them to become part of the charter document in the first place.

The constitution of the Soviet Union is brimming with platitudes about the rights of individuals. Who within the hearing of my voice, or any free man or woman in any land, would trade places with anyone whose life, or liberty, or chance to succeed depends on the assurances of the Soviet constitution? Or, consider what they call the "constitution" of Nicaragua, unveiled with pomp and ceremony by Mr. Ortega a few weeks ago. Not even the American apologists for the Sandinista regime dared to attempt to persuade us that that phony document provided meaningful guarantees of liberty to the people.

A constitution "lives" because the people and the leaders of the nation governed by that constitution are committed to its life, to its vitality. And a living, vital constitution is capable of dealing with all sorts of situations which, while not specifically contemplated during the drafting of the charter document, nevertheless are amenable to the basic propositions concerning the fundamental relationships between government and citizens—and, in the case of the United States, that fundamental relationship between the national and state governments—upon which the Constitution is based.

A major Supreme Court case concerning the State of Nevada illustrates the point that, under our Constitution, we have a process for resolving conflicts between state and Federal powers in a manner consistent with the basic principles articulated in the Constitution. Crandall v. Nevada was decided some 120 years ago. Apparently, seeking sources of revenue in those days was as important as in these. So, your predecessor legislators decided to impose a per capita tax on each person traveling through or out of the state. That, however, was not much to the liking of Mr. Crandall, who operated the Pioneer Stage Coach Company out of headquarters just down the street from here, at the Pony Express Hotel. In the ensuing lawsuit, the U. S. Supreme Court was faced with the fact that no specific provision of the Federal Constitution spoke directly to the issue raised by Mr. Crandall. But the tax was struck down by resort to consideration of the fundamental fact that ours is a single nation, albeit one in which the several states play a vital role. Mr. Justice Miller explained it this way:

"Living as we do under a common government, charged with the great concerns of the whole Union, every citizen of the United States from the most remote States or territories, is entitled to free access, not only to the principal departments established at Washington, but also to its judicial tribunals and public offices in every State in the Union . . . For all the great purposes for which the Federal Government was formed, we are one people, with one common country. We are all citizens of the United States, and as members of the same community must have the right to pass and repass through every part of it without interruption, as freely as in our own States."

One beauty of our system of government, of course, is illustrated by that case. Our Constitution established an independent judiciary to resolve peaceably and under law disputes such as those in Crandall v. Nevada. On occasion, we may not like the results, but the alternatives for dispute resolution are much worse.

But let me suggest to you a concept which is even more important. I do not believe that, just because a law passed by Congress or an act of the Executive Branch can pass constitutional muster, it necessarily means that the law or that act is in furtherance of wise government. Constitutionality and sound public policy are not always the same thing. Certainly, when it comes to dealing with issues that touch upon that integral component of our Constitution which we call "federalism," I do not believe we can afford to stop after asking merely the sterile question of whether or not a particular action by the Federal Government is constitutional. Rather, the further question must be: if constitutional, is the proposed act of the Federal Government consistent with the Constitution's principles—its original philosophy—of federalism?

That philosophy was well articulated by Hamilton, who, in defense of the newly proposed Constitution, assured his fellow citizens that: "The powers reserved to the several States will extend to all the objects which, in the ordinary course of affairs, concern the lives, liberties, and properties of the people, and the internal order, improvement, and prosperity of the State."

Nevertheless, over the years there has been an erosion of the role of the states. And, under the rubric of ours being a "living Constitution," the courts have allowed to pass to the Federal Government many of those powers which Hamilton had explained were within the province of the states. It is for that reason I say we cannot content ourselves by focusing alone on the question of what is constitutional; instead, we must address also the issue of what, given the genius of our constitutional system of federalism, is right.

I submit that that is precisely the issue presented to us by the continuation of the federally mandated speed limits on our Nation's highways. Surely, it is constitutional for the Federal Government to set speed limits on highways funded in whole or in part by Federal dollars and to withhold funds where those speed limits are not obeyed. But, in my view, the Federal Government simply has no business setting traffic laws!

I have written about the error of Federally mandated traffic laws and often have raised the subject in speeches throughout the country. I say that in order to make plain that I don't just say that when I am here in the West where it is a popular point of view. To me this is a matter of principle—the principle of federalism. But if principle is not sufficient reason for some for getting the Federal Government out of the driver's seat, then let's deal with the proponents of Federal speed laws head-on. Let's point out to the rest of America that the alleged need for continuing Federal traffic laws clearly presupposes the belief that Federal bureaucrats care more about the lives and safety of people than do governors and state legislators. That's just not so!

I should point out, also, that, when there is genuine commitment to our system of Federalism, the Federal Government often can accommodate the legitimate interests of the states, even when the conflicting Federal interest also is legitimate. Allow me to give you a recent example of how this Administration worked in concert with the National Association of State Attorneys General to solve a problem of particular interest to the West.

As you know, in many instances there is uncertainty over the exact boundaries between Federal lands in the West and state-owned lands because of the interspersed or checkerboard pattern of ownership. Often, the states are not able, or have had no particular reason, to monitor the activities on the Federally held lands which would give notice of Federal ownership claims. Yet, under the previously existing law, there was a rigid rule which said that, if a state wanted to bring suit against the Federal Government to establish the state's claim to a parcel of land, it had to do so within 12 years after they should have known of the Federal claim to the land. Failure to do so meant the state's claim would be barred forever.

Some of us felt that was not right. After all, when this Administration came into office, we pledged to be good neighbors to the states. We believed that if, in fact, a state is entitled under law to own a parcel of land, it should be able, subject to reasonable—not artibrary—rules, to let a court decide its claim when the Federal Government disputes title.

Thanks to a cooperative effort with the states' attorneys general, amendments eliminating the unfair rigidities were adopted and signed into law by President Reagan last November.

The key to maintaining the vitality of our Constitutional Federal system, as I mentioned earlier, is the commitment of the Nation's leaders and of our people to the basic principles upon which the Constitution was based, including, but by no means limited, to the integral role of the states in our Federal system. Some of our leaders bring to office a strong commitment to these principles, they fully understand the vital role of the states. They believe, as I do, that the phrase "our living Constitution" means, among other things, that the Tenth Amendment is not dead. They believe, as I do, in the wisdom and the vitality of that portion of our Bill of Rights which says that "the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution or prohibited by it to the States are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Others of our leaders do not share those beliefs. They seem to believe that most all wisdom is confined within that small portion of America bounded on three sides by Maryland and on the fourth by the Potomac River. It is that narrowness becoming arrogance which led to those obnoxious Federal land management practices in the West which gave rise to the Sagebrush Rebellion. That rebellion now is dormant, but it better not be dead. It better be ready to spring back to life if the Federal Government ever again fails to understand and to honor its obligation to be a good neighbor to the states and to their people—especially those ranchers, farmers, miners and entrepreneurs who helped make America the great Nation that it is.

I have some hope, though, even with respect to those leaders who do not share our beliefs about the nature of our constitutional form of government. They are, after all, political beings, and, like it or not, they periodically are held accountable by the American people. And that is why it is so absolutely essential that the people of America—your fellow citizens and mine—understand both the words and principles so well articulated by Madison, Hamilton, Franklin and the others whose signal accomplishment we celebrate 200 years later.

It is in this context that I was shocked to learn from the results of a nationwide poll released just this week which indicated how woefully ill-informed so many Americans are about the context and meaning of our Constitution. The survey revealed more than lack of knowledge about what we might call the technical aspects of the Constitution, like the provision requiring Senate confirmation of presidential nominations to the Supreme Court. What astounded me was that nearly half of those polled believed that the Constitution of the United States of America contained the declaration, central to Marxist orthodoxy, "from each according to his ability, to each according to his need."

Obviously, we as leaders, as parents and as educators have not done the job we could and should have done.

But we still have a chance. We can use the occasion of the bicentennial of our Constitution not merely to celebrate its longevity. We can take the time and make the effort—and, where appropriate, spend the funds—to see to it that the words and principles of our Constitution become alive in the hearts and minds of all Americans, young and old. That's right—a "living Constitution." We can join with former Chief Justice Burger and his Bicentennial Commission. Or we can join with the numerous state and local civic groups, which seek to explain how our Constitution came into being. They seek to tell what its objectives were and remain to this day, and how America is the bastion of freedom for all mankind because of our Constitution and our adherence to its values and principles.

Every one of us in elective or appointive position in this chamber took an oath of office which obliged us to defend the Constitution of the United States. I say we can do more. We can seize the opportunity to remind our fellow countrymen and women how truly blessed we are—and why—that we live in a Nation which, as Madison told us, has a Constitution crafted by the finger of the Almighty Hand.

Thank you for allowing me to be with you today. God bless you. God bless our Constitution. And God bless America.

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Fay requested that Assemblyman Price's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Birthdays this week include: William Prescott, Revolutionary soldier who ordered "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes" at the Battle of Bunker Hill, born in 1775; Wendell Wilkie, lawyer, politician, 1940 Republican Presidential Candidate, born in 1892; and on Sunday, George Washington, our first President, the "Father of Our Country," in 1732.

During this week in 1787, in The Continental Congress, a motion to suspend recruiting for the army, due to funds of the United States being embarrassedly low, was defeated, with only five states voting in favor of it. George Washington, responding to an inquiry from Thomas Stone of Maryland regarding the issuance of paper money, stated, "The wisdom of man cannot at this time devise a plan, by which the credit of paper money would be long supported." James Madison wrote to Thomas Jefferson reporting on his first days in the legislature in Virginia, "The attempts to reduce former taxes were baffled and sundry new taxes added." The New York legislature instructed its congressional delegates to move for a Constitutional Convention, and Congress formally called for a convention to revise Articles of Confederation.

Having put down "Shay's Rebellion," an uprising of destitute farmers led by Daniel Shay attempting to halt foreclosure efforts in Massachusetts, Massachusetts passed legislation in 1787 barring Shayites from serving as jurors, school masters, innkeepers, retailers of spirituous liquors or from holding public office.

In 1861 during this week, Jefferson Davis was inaugurated as a President of the Confederate States. In 1945, the Battle of Iwo Jima began and lasted until March 17. John Glen became the first man to orbit the earth in the space capsule, Friendship 7, three orbits in 1962.

Nevada ratified its First Amendment to the U. S. Constitution as a state—the 13th Amendment which abolished slavery—in 1865. In 1913, the 17th Amendment, providing for the election of members of the Senate by "The People" was ratified in Nevada. And in 1871, after three futile attempts, Reno residents were successful in getting the 1871 Legislature to move the Washoe County seat from Washoe City to Reno.

Senate Bill No. 63.

Remarks by Assemblymen Schofield, Jeffrey, Banner, Brookman, Getto and Craddock.

Assemblyman Nevin requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN SCHOFIELD:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of Senate Bill No. 63. We heard it in the Legislative Functions Committee and it happens to be very close to me. There are a number of legislators who have passed through these halls both in this house and in the Senate who have attended Las Vegas High School. I'm going to stray a bit from the bill if I may, Mr. Speaker. This bill creates a situation that will not allow the school board to sell the two particular buildings that we are talking about which are already on the Historical Register. In 1946, if I may refer to my colleagues by name, Assemblyman Sedway graduated from Las Vegas High School. In 1947, Assemblyman May graduated from Las Vegas High School. In 1939, Assemblyman Banner graduated from Las Vegas High School. Our Governor graduated from Las Vegas High School in 1955, along with former Assemblyman Roger Bremner. In 1949, I was fortunate enough to serve as the student body president of Las Vegas High School. Assemblyman Coffin did not attend Las Vegas High School, but he sponsored this bill. It is a good bill. Assemblyman Jeffrey, who graduated from Basic High School, did bring up a valid point in the Legislative Functions Committee meeting that will actually take care of any problems or questions that anyone has. In support of this bill, what we are doing is setting it up so that Las Vegas High School building which was built in the early 20s, burned down in the 30s, and was reconstructed in the 30s, cannot be sold by the school board. Las Vegas High School is a very fine educational institution, part of the Clark County School District. I would certainly appreciate any support that any of you would give to this particular bill. Las Vegas High School building isn't too old, but it does have some value—historically, as well as for the future. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN JEFFREY:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Schofield is right, I did graduate from that little better high school to the south of Las Vegas High School. I rise in support of this bill, but I think there are a couple of points that need to be raised—points that were raised in committee. Under the language of the bill, the school district is basically stuck with the maintenance of the buildings. The bill generally would make the property impossible to sell should the school district decide to do so. The reason I support the bill is because I think it is important to preserve these buildings, but as far as the other points are concerned, the school district has no plans in the immediate future to sell the buildings or the grounds. It will probably be ten years or longer before they would phase this school out and we will have subsequent sessions to take care of these problems. Mr. Humke made the point in committee, and I agree wholeheartedly, that if the general resident of the State of Nevada is to benefit from the actions we are taking here today, then they should be the ones to pay for it—either through state appropriation or some kind of trust set up by the county, or whatever. The school district should not be liable for this kind of activity under their budget.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROOKMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to the members of this august body, Las Vegas High School is in my district. I was not fortunate enough to graduate from there, but my children did, and a few of my grandchildren did. It is unfortunate that we lost our first grammar school. The people in my district would urge your support of this bill and they would like to preserve Las Vegas High School. It was our one and only for many, many years and we graduated a lot of people who served in high capacities in this state. We would like to see it preserved as an historical place. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I wonder by the passage of this bill if we are not going to set a precedent. I can foresee that great, wonderful high school in Ely being preserved and that wonderful high school that I graduated from in Fallon which was built in 1903. I can foresee passing a bill down the road to preserve these. I'm just kidding, of course, I will vote for the bill. But, I'm wondering if we're going to set a precedent.

PETITIONING THE GOVERNMENT IN NEVADA

In the United States the right to petition was recognized during the American Revolution and formalized in the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. It came into the American system of government from Great Britain where the right to petition the crown was indirectly recognized by the Magna Carta in 1215 and reaffirmed in the British Bill of Rights in 1689.

In Nevada early settlers first petitioned the U.S. Congress to be removed from the jurisdiction of Utah Territory and for an independent territory in 1859. During Nevada's territorial period and early statehood, citizens would petition the legislature for consideration of laws and the governor for political appointments or the removal of public officials. But Nevada's Constitution did not have any provision regarding initiative, referendum and recall until much later. "The Constitution was amended in 1904 to add the amendments for referendum; amendments in 1912, in 1958, and in 1962 established the initiative and conditions for its use. The recall was added to the Constitution in 1911 and amended in 1970." (Bushnell, The Nevada Constitution, page 74). The 1958 and 1962 amendments made the requirements to intitiate and carry through an initiative petition more strict. Nevada and 13 other states can amend their constitutions by petition. Nevada is also among 21 states where citizens can petition to originate statewide legislation.

The following are examples of Nevada's initiative and referendum petitions:

1918, Petition for Amendment to Prohibit Alcoholic Beverages.
1920, Petition for the Candidacy of Anne Martin.
1926, Referendum Petition for a Constitutional Amendment to Repeal Prohibition.
1948, Petition to Allow Progressive Party on Election Ballot.
1954, Petition to Repeal Right to Work Law.
1956, Petition to Repeal Right to Work Law.
1956, Referendum Petition on Sales Tax.
1958, Petition for Annual Sessions of the Legislature.
1960, Petition for Biennial Session of the Legislature.
1966, Petition for State Lottery.
1968, Petition for State Lottery.
1974, Petition to allow Independent American Party on Election Ballot.
1987, Petition to form a new City of Lake Tahoe, Nevada?

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 81.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Lambert, Banner, Porter and Thompson.

Assemblyman Nevin requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN LAMBERT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, I rise in support of this bill.

Assembly Bill No. 81 relates to the purchasing procedures which the statutes mandate for local governments. It adds two elements to the list of types of purchases which are exempt from the requirement for competitive bidding. The bill specifically provides that computer software and books, library materials and subscriptions are not subject to the competitive bidding procedures. Testimony before the committee indicated that both types of purchases are typically single-source products, and thus are not adaptable to competitive bidding. In the case of computer software, the local governments already have their basic equipment and know the type of software that is most compatible. They expressed a desire to protect their investment in personnel training and are wary of unstable providers who cannot provide products and services at future dates. The repeal of NRS 332.125 deletes the conflict provision which relates to advertising for bids in the purchase of books, library materials and subscriptions. Testimony was received in support of Assembly Bill No. 81 from the Northern Nevada Commission to Study Governmental Purchasing, which is established under NRS 332.215, to review practices and laws effecting governmental purchasing as well as the Clark County and Washoe County School Districts. There was no opposing testimony.

ASSEMBLYMAN BANNER:

I would like to speak in opposition to the bill. I believe there should not even be an exemption for insurance, having had some experience in that area. I was always critical of that, so to add something to that section of the law didn't please me. I am going to be opposed to the bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN PORTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, I rise in opposition to Assembly Bill No. 81. I do so because the language on line 12 specifically deletes insurance contracts from the competitive bidding requirements of NRS Chapter 332. I am adamantly opposed to that. I believe insurance should be the subject of competitive bidding on the state level and so I rise in opposition.

ASSEMBLYMAN LAMBERT:

Mr. Speaker, if I might respond to my colleague. If you look on line 11, you will see that insurance is already existing language in the statutes. Voting "No" on this bill will not change that provision in the NRS.

ASSEMBLYMAN PORTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am aware that it is old language, but it doesn't make it right. As long as the statute is currently in committee and being amended, I am of the position that insurance should be deleted and be the subject of competitive bidding.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON:

Mr. Speaker. This was a concern that was raised in committee and we discussed it. Mrs. Lambert is correct, it is existing language, that is the way it has been. Most local governments, if not all of them, can't buy insurance as it is. If you can't buy it, most of them are self-insured now and they are not doing that anyway. I really don't think it is a problem.

Assemblyman Price requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Birthdays: Charles Coatsworth Pinckney of South Carolina in 1746. Mr. Pinckney was one of the signers of the Constitution.

During this week in 1787, George Washington, in reply to Yale College President Ezra Stiles' comment on Shay's Rebellion, wrote "It must afford the greatest pleasure and satisfaction to every humane and feeling mind that there has been so little blood spilt in a contest which a few weeks ago threatened to drench the State of Massachusetts." On Thursday of that week, Congress, attended by only six states, adjourned until the next for want of a quorum. The next day, Friday, as with the previous day, only six states were in attendance and Congress again adjourned.

Secretary of War Henry Knox wrote to a friend in Boston, James Sullivan, "The late approbation of Congress of a Convention to be held at Philadelphia in May next will, it is presumed, remove all objections as to its legality. If men of truly great minds should compose the majority of the convention, something of importance may be affected. But, if a number of trifling characters get together, we shall only be deluded instead of being benefitted."

Thomas Jefferson wrote in a letter to Abigail Adams, "The spirit of resistance to government is so valuable on occasions, that I wish it to be always kept alive. It will often be exercised when wrong, but better so than not to be exercised at all. I like a little rebellion now and then. It is like a storm in the atmosphere."

In 1803, during this week, the U.S. Supreme Court, in the case of Marburry vs. Madison, declared an Act of Congress unconstitutional, for the first time.

The Twenty-second Amendment to the U.S. Constitution was ratified in 1951. This Amendment limits a person to two terms as President of the United States.

In 1933, the U.S.S. Ranger, our first aircraft carrier, was launched at Newport News, Virginia.

In Nevada, in 1869, an act to provide for the erection of a state capitol building in Carson City, was signed into law by Governor Henry Blasdel. Construction began on April 2, 1870 and the building was considered complete on May 1, 1871. The stone for the capital was supplied to the contractor by the state at no charge and was quarried at the Nevada State Prison.

Assemblyman Nevin requested that Assemblyman Getto's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members of the Assembly, four of us presently here in this Assembly served with Dr. Homer two sessions in the old building and then the first session in this building. Dr. Homer was a very warm, real gentleman. A man who was considerate and worked hard for the endeavors he believed in. I remember his strong support for the V & T Railroad. He tried to get a large (at that time) appropriation for the V & T. It was a very timely resolution, but as always, we were short of money and had to consider the priorities so we did not fund his appropriation bill. We did finally fund part of it, but it was a very small amount compared to what was needed to buy the rolling stock and even to save the track. Dr. Homer had a tremendous foresight in that area. I remember he was a very quiet, but yet aggressive, person. It is my understanding that Dr. Homer is quite critically ill. His son lives at Lake Tahoe, but I do not know where Dr. Homer is at the present time. We certainly wish him the best.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

"7.155 [The] Except as otherwise provided in NRS 354.5988, the compensation and expenses of an attorney appointed to represent a defendant [shall] must be paid from the county treasury unless the proceedings are based upon a".

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 5 through 7 and renumbering sections 8 and 9 as sections 4 and 5.

Amend sec. 8, page 5, line 39, by deleting "pursuant to" and inserting: "in the manner provided for in".

Amend sec. 9, page 6, by deleting lines 7 and 8 and inserting: "the examination [shall] must be paid as a claim against the county in the manner provided in NRS 7.125.".

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 10 and 11 and adding a new section designated sec. 6, following sec. 9, to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. NRS 354.5988 is hereby amended to read as follows:

354.5988 1. If actual receipts from the supplemental city-county relief tax for any fiscal year exceed the estimate previously made by the executive director of the department of taxation, the excess receipts must be deposited in the reserve fund for the supplemental city-county relief tax which is hereby created in the state treasury. If the amount of the supplemental city-county relief tax otherwise distributable to a local government exceeds the combined amount allowable to it from the supplemental city-county relief tax and taxes ad valorem, the excess must be distributed to the other local governments in the county in the proportion that the maximum allowable revenue of each local government in that county bears to the total maximum allowable revenue of all local governments in that county excluding those governments whose share of the proceeds of the tax exceeded their maximum allowable revenue. If the proceeds of the tax exceed the maximum allowable revenue for all local governments within a county, the excess must be deposited in the reserve fund for the supplemental city-county relief tax. Money in this fund must not be used for any purpose other than distribution to local governments pursuant to this section. The interest earned upon the money in the fund must be added to the principal of the fund.

2. The money in this fund must be used to increase the distribution to local governments when the actual receipts from the supplemental city-county relief tax are less than the estimates previously made by the director of the department of taxation. Whenever the sum of the money in the fund at the beginning of any fiscal year and any money which will accrue to the fund from revenues of the preceding fiscal year exceeds $12,500,000, this excess must be distributed to local governments in the following fiscal year in the same proportion as current receipts are distributed for that fiscal year, except that the distribution to each local government must be so limited that it does not receive from this distribution, from distributions pursuant to NRS 377.057 and from taxes ad valorem a total amount greater than its maximum allowable combined revenue. This distribution must be included in the executive director's estimate of money to be received by each local government from the supplemental city-county relief tax.

3. The interim finance committee may direct the state controller to make a special distribution from the fund if it determines that unforeseen or uncontrollable conditions, existing or imminent, substantially impair the financial capacity of a local government to provide the basic services for which it was created, but:

(a) Until the balance in the fund reaches $10,000,000 no such distribution may be made; and

(b) The next $2,500,000 transferred into the fund is available for distribution pursuant to this subsection.

In making such a determination, the committee shall consider the recommendation of the executive director of the department of taxation. The executive director and the committee shall consider, without limitation, the effect of a sudden and unusual decrease in population served, a decrease in total revenue of at least 5 percent, a substantial increase in the normal obligations of the counties pursuant to NRS 7.125, 7.135, 62.085, 128.100, 174.195 and 432B.420 and natural disasters. The committee shall consider the general economic condition of the community and of the state and the effect of each proposal on the taxpayer, and make written findings of the facts supporting the distribution. The total amount which may be distributed pursuant to this subsection must not exceed 25 percent of the amount in the fund at the beginning of that fiscal year.''.

Amend the title of the bill, first and second lines, by deleting: ''creating the account for court-appointed attorneys in the state general fund;'' and inserting: ''authorizing under certain circumstances the use of money from the reserve fund for the supplemental city-county relief tax for the compensation and expenses of appointed defense attorneys in criminal proceedings;''.

Assembly Bill No. 116.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Arberry, Callister, Wendell Williams, Carpenter, Swain and Gaston.

Assemblyman Nevin requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Assembly Bill No. 116 makes the third Monday of January, along with the Federal guidelines, a state holiday honoring Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. This bill will also eliminate one of the Governor's discretionary holidays, allowing him only one per year. This bill includes the state, cities and all the counties. Your passage of this bill would be greatly appreciated.

I would also like to say a few words about Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Dr. King, from his perspective, has played a tremendous part in everyone's life—whether black, white, young or old. Dr. King was hated by some but loved by many. Most people associate Dr. King with only the black race, but he fought for equality for all—for whites as well as blacks. Dr. King was not just a hero for blacks, he was a hero for all mankind. He was not only a civil rights leader, he was a Christian as well. I just want to say your approval of this bill would be greatly appreciated. Hopefully we can all honor Dr. King and reflect on what he stood for by celebrating his holiday each year.

ASSEMBLYMAN CALLISTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have been asked to read into the record a few remarks by my colleague, Mrs. Brookman.

Dr. Martin Luther King was born in Atlanta, Georgia, on January 15, 1929, one of three children of Martin Luther King, Sr., pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist Church. At an early age, he showed extraordinary intellectual gifts. At age 15, he was admitted to Morehouse College, receiving a bachelor of arts degree four years later. He then enrolled in Crozer Theological Seminary in Chester, Pennsylvania, where he was awarded a Bachelor of Divinity degree and was recognized as the most outstanding student of his graduating class. He later studied at the University of Pennsylvania, Harvard University and Boston University. He was awarded a Ph.D. degree in Systematic Theology from Boston University in 1955.

After completing his education, Dr. King moved to Montgomery, Alabama, where he became active in the Civil Rights movement. December 1, 1955, an historic date for the Civil Rights movement, was also a turning point in Dr. King's career. On that day, Mrs. Rose Parks, a Negro seamstress with tired feet, refused to yield her seat on a bus to a white person. Her arrest sparked a citywide Negro boycott of buses which lasted 382 days. The boycott was organized and directed by the Montgomery Improvement Association of which Dr. King was the president.

During the Montgomery bus boycott, Dr. King was harassed and threatened, his house was bombed, and he was thrown into jail. Still he suffered patiently, restraining his followers with pleas to forget bitterness and to forgive their enemies.

It was during the Montgomery bus boycott that Dr. King first put into practice the policy of nonviolent protest which was to become the dominant force in the Civil Rights struggle during the next decade.

Many years later, as he accepted the Nobel Peace Prize, Dr. King said:

"Nonviolence is the answer to the crucial political and moral questions of our time; the need for man to overcome oppression and violence without resorting to oppression and violence.

Man must evolve for all human conflict a method which rejects revenge, aggression and retaliation. The foundation of such a method is love."

These teachings of love, forgiveness and reconciliation have earned Dr. King a permanent place of honor in the history of this country. I urge the members of the body to join the nation in honoring a great man and a great American—Dr. Martin Luther King.

I would note that Mrs. Brookman has indicated to me that she was a personal friend and acquaintance of Dr. King and that she appreciates your taking the time to listen to these remarks and hopes that you will give them consideration.

ASSEMBLYMAN WENDELL WILLIAMS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of Assembly Bill No. 116, not only from the moral and spiritual right that the bill presents to us, but also from a political posture. It is good for our state to support this bill. In looking at Las Vegas alone, currently there are 56,900 hotel rooms in Las Vegas. During the past two years here in Nevada where we celebrate Dr. King's birthday through executive order from Governor Bryan, each of the hotels have raised their room rates $10 per night, which is commonly known as "holiday rates." In Las Vegas alone, we are making $564,000 per night from this holiday. So, we are already making money from the past two years' celebration of this holiday. I think that people who are considering the financial impact of the holiday, if they would look at the issue a little closer, would understand that we are making money already during this holiday weekend the last two years, in celebration of Dr. King's birthday, from the hotel rooms alone in Las Vegas. And this is not accounting for areas in the North who benefit from the holiday already being celebrated in California, allowing a large number of people from that state to come to Nevada to spend money here. Three nights in Las Vegas alone on just the $10 extra per night, earns Nevada $1,694,820 from hotel rooms. As we know there is a seven percent tax on each one of those hotel rooms; three percent of that money goes into the Las Vegas Convention Authority to promote tourism to our state and the remaining percentage of that money goes into our general fund, which we disseminate for all of the projects which we are concerned about. So, with that alone, we stand to make money. We also have been the recipient of hosting the second National Conference on the King Holiday which will be taking place April 9-11 in Las Vegas. So, not only in January is this holiday generating money, but we are also looking at other ways to make money.

In addition to these arguments, Mr. Speaker, and to this body, we are only one of eight states which has not adhered to the Federal guidelines establishing the holiday in our state which was mandated back in 1983 by our President. Nevada must move on, we must progress, but we must maintain peripheral vision and show that we are the type of state that is ready to move on to greater heights as most people have already shown that we are.

Along with the other remarks which have been made in reference to Dr. King and the holiday, I support the bill. I think we should also take a little bit of time to really clear up the misconception concerning the holiday. We are not honoring the man, per se, as much as we are the principles and things Dr. King stood for which can serve us as a society to increase our awareness and increase our knowledge and dedication to committing ourselves to getting along with each other, not only as individuals, but as communities and as nations. That is the main thing we should look at concerning this holiday. Of the ten holidays we celebrate, this is the only one which causes us to reflect on peace and getting along with each other, opposed to going out and socializing and having a good time in the parks and having picnics. I strongly urge we look at these things when considering this holiday. If we cannot rise above our own individual concerns and on to the broader concerns of all humanity, we are not doing very much as legislators. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I realize this to be a sensitive issue, an issue of profound significance and high emotion. After much soul searching I feel compelled to speak on this subject. I have spoken to my colleague from District 7 in Las Vegas, so he understands where I am coming from. It is my sincere belief that more would be accomplished if this day were not named for one man. We have pretty much moved away from the idea of honoring one person on a given holiday. We honor all our Presidents, all great labor leaders and all the founders of our country. Perhaps more good would be accomplished if we were to dedicate a day of brotherhood or a day of equality among men. This, I believe, would give the incentive to each community to work on its own particular problems of prejudice or misunderstanding. There have been many persons, both black and white, who have diligently and eloquently pursued understanding and peace among all people. Black History Month has provided many examples to us here in Nevada. In our area, those who promoted peace and good will between the warring sheep and cattlemen were no less crusaders than were other ministers of good will in other parts of this nation. Equality for all without violence applies to many. Whether we be black or white, American-Indian or Mexican-American, Catholic or Protestant, our quest for equality is genuine. A day of special meaning, to be observed as each community sees fit, a day to work toward this goal of eliminating a particular prejudice would, I believe, be more meaningful and productive. I hope these remarks will be taken in the context that they were given, and that is to promote equality, understanding and good will. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN SWAIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I served proudly as a member of the Governor's Commission on the Martin Luther King holiday and I think that as I look around the room now that the school children have gone from the balcony I can safely say that most of us in this room were alive when Martin Luther King was working. We saw the energy and the vitality that he put into his efforts. No matter whether we agreed with him or not, we saw that he accomplished so much in his lifetime that was for the betterment of mankind. I think that one of the primary aspects of a holiday like this is the education of our children. We all know what Martin Luther King stood for, but the children who are growing up in this great state today do not necessarily know what he stood for. They don't necessarily understand how hard he fought for the principles of brotherhood and peace and nonviolence and how he showed that those principles really can bring us into a true sense of unity, world unity. It is those things that concern me. It is those things that are so important in terms of putting this holiday into place in our great state. I see how the children who have been given these programs in the past two years have come to respect this great man who accomplished so much in his lifetime. For that reason, I urge your support for this bill because I want those qualities to carry on. I want there to be children out there who will come to respect and know that they can do exactly the same things. I want them to go out into the world and make sure that those qualities of brotherhood and peace and nonviolence are carried forward. Because as far as I'm concerned that's the only way we're really going to get anywhere as a country, or as a world.

ASSEMBLYMAN GASTON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In a society that demeaned one race by laws restricting voting rights, transportation rights, education rights, rights to shop, the right to enter an eating establishment of your choice, even restaurant rights, Dr. King stood out for a reasonable, rational, nonviolent approach to righteous reform. He was criticized by a white population that resisted these moral changes. But I think most of us remember that he was also criticized by many of his own race. They used terms as "Uncle Tom" and criticized him because he wasn't willing to take a violent reaction to achieve a needed purpose. As we look back retrospectively, Dr. King was right, his opponents were wrong. Dr. King was and is the embodiment of civil rights for all of us regardless of race. Dr. King's holiday is indeed a brotherhood day that we can all rejoice in and I encourage your support.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Craddock, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Mr. Monte Fast.

Eternal God, our Creator, You made the world, all it contains, and finally as the crown of creation, humankind. You declared this to be good. As humankind has exercised judgment independent of You, we have spoiled Your creation and ourselves, and have become less than good. In revealing Yourself to us through lawgiver, prophet and apostle, You have given us opportunity to return to You, find Your perfect judgments, declare our dependence upon You and dress, till, and replenish the earth and creation. In humility we ask Your guidance, in this place, to these ends. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Judge Jack Lamberti was one of the most compassionate and gentle men I have ever had the honor of knowing. He brought tremendous devotion and dedication to his job and he served the people of Sparks and Washoe County tirelessly. His many friends and associates throughout the State of Nevada have praised him for his extraordinary contributions both on and off the bench and for his enthusiasm for life. Judge Lamberti was wise and fair and possessed a fine sense of humor; those qualities were evident in the courtroom as well as his many community activities.

My fondest memory of Jack will always remain that he married Cindy and me back in 1983. He touched so many of our lives and left us having contributed much more than he ever sought to receive.

Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to this honorable body, it is with great honor that I introduce you to my friends, the family of Judge Jack Lamberti.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Gaston requested that Assemblyman Brookman's remarks be entered in the Journal.

'Twas an hour before session and all through the halls committees were raging with scuffles and brawls.

The mail was flung
in the boxes with care, and the bill books grew weighty for Pages to bear.

Hoping their bills would pass without trouble they craved for a drink—
make it a double!

The Assemblymen settled into their chairs frantically ripping out all of their hairs.

Weary and ready to throw in the towel they spied on their desks
a wise, orange owl.

He winked his eye and sang in a tune,
"Don't worry my friends,
it soon will be June."

Poem compliments of the Sergeant at Arms Staff.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 25.

Resolution read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Price, May, Thomas and Gaston.

Assemblyman Fay requested that Assemblyman Price's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will try to keep it brief since we have a relatively long General File. I would point out that on the desks of my colleagues I have distributed some papers and a kit—one is a resolution from the V.F.W. supporting the withdrawal as they are opposed to a constitutional convention; one contains papers quoting the President of the United States and outlines the potential problems of having a Constitutional Convention; a paper that was Friday's opinion editorial from the Nevada Appeal supporting AJR 25; and we have had support also from the Las Vegas Sun, which is not enclosed. I know it will be some time before you have an opportunity to look through this packet, but there are about two or three things I would like to point out that you may find interesting.

On the front, you will see reductions of various articles that are inside the packet that talk about the potential constitutional crisis if we were to have a Constitutional Convention. They come from numerous areas. They are only a small portion as obviously the volume would be much thicker if we had everything available on the subject matter. On what would be page one, it is pointed out that the urgency for this resolution is because the Constitution requires that 34 states send forth a resolution asking for a Constitutional Convention of which 32 states have already done—including Nevada. I might add for those of you who were not here, I supported that resolution in 1979, but I have found that in the years since then there have been many things happen to change my mind on that. Potentially the main thing being that the weight of thought has come way down on the side that a Constitutional Convention could not be limited to one subject matter. That was a key discussion back in 1977 and 1979 when we considered this.

Let me tell you a little bit about Nevada's status. On page one there is a question, "Can a state petition be withdrawn?" Then on the back around page 34, I have an Attorney General's opinion from Nevada that says, "Yes." We have a Legislative Counsel's opinion that says, "Yes." We have a number of other states' Attorneys' General opinions that say, "Yes." And I assure you that I have volumes of further documentation by people who feel that there is no problem withdrawing a petition up until the time that you have 34 states.

The question about a Constitutional Convention being limited to a single issue is discussed in many of these articles if you have time to read them. This packet contains the question, "Who wants a Constitutional Convention and what changes do they want?" This is a report by a very distinguished panel with many famous names—James MacGregor Burns, Patrick Daniel Moynihan, Lowell Wicker, and Douglas Dillon, former Secretary of the Treasury. This is called the Committee on the Constitutional System and they were one of the first committees that raised some question as to the advisability of having a Constitutional Convention. They have recommended some 15 changes to our Constitution—all are listed in this document. On page three, I have listed four of them. They are asking or suggesting that we go to a Parliamentary European style of government, they are suggesting that the national political parties should appoint one-sixth of the Congressmen and Senators of the United States Congress. They are suggesting that we permit and give the Federal Government the regulatory power over cities which, under our Constitution and to this point in time is the right of the states, and many more things.

Another organization which is quoted in this document is the Center for the Democratic Institutions located in Santa Barbara. They have proposed after many years of study and 40 different revisions a Constitution of the New States, which, among many other things, would eliminate the 50 states of the United States and would divide us into some ten regional areas, each area subservient to a bureaucratic division of the Federal Government. Which sounds somewhat like what happened on the television series, Amerika.

Obviously I have picked out some of what I consider to be radical suggestions by various groups. I think most of the legislators who were elected prior to this session were sent a copy of this book. One of the things that I find most objectionable is called, "Amendment to the Constitution" by James O. Pace. There is an organization that is working very hard for a Constitutional Convention, and here is how they want to amend the Constitution: First they want to repeal the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments; then they would like to add this section: No person shall be a citizen of the United States unless he is non-Hispanic, White, of the European race, in whom there is no ascertainable trace of Negro blood, nor more than one-eighth Mongolian, Asian, Asia Minor, middle-Eastern, Semetic, near-Eastern, American Indian, Malayan, or other non-European or non-White blood. Provided, however—they do have some exceptions—that anyone with an Hispanic ancestor may be a citizen if, in addition to meeting the aforesaid ascertainable traits and percentage tests, they are in appearance indistinguishable from Americans, whose ancestral home is in the British Isles of northwestern Europe. They go on further to say that only citizens shall have the right to reside permanently in the United States. They have a plan for exporting everyone who does not meet those tests. I would like to read just one line in the back of this book giving you some thought as to their idea of a Constitutional Convention. They say, and I quote, "There are advantages to proposing an amendment through a Constitutional Convention. The most important one is that it can be achieved without Congress' consent or support." On the next page of this document, I have listed some distinguished Americans who are opposed to a Constitutional Convention and are concerned. If you look through that list, you will see that it spans political parties, there are distinguished Republicans and Democrats, and that it transcends political ideologies of the far left and far right, liberal and conservative. We have the Chairman of the Conservative Caucus, the Chairman of the National Conservative Union, the former Chairman of the Right to Work Committee, and on the other end of it we have the Honorable Tom Bradley, the Honorable Former President Jimmy Carter, Lane Kirkland of the AFL-CIO—all these people are opposed to a Constitutional Convention and talk about the problems.

Many of us have used Black's Law Book when we are doing our research—he opposes. Some of us may have used Gerald Gunther's Constitutional Law, he is in opposition. The only discernible bond that I can see among the people who are opposed to a Constitutional Convention is their love of America and their fear of the attack on our Constitution.

Around page five I have the veto message of former Governor Mike O'Callaghan. In 1977, a resolution was passed calling for a Constitutional Convention and Mike vetoed it and his message tells all the story; perhaps we should have listened better the next year.

Around page 13 is an enlargement, if anyone is interested, of the new States' Constitution asking to break us in to some ten states or areas and around page 27, enlarges again on the 15 recommendations of the committee on the constitutional system.

In conclusion, I would like to say that our United States Constitution has guaranteed our political and spiritual freedom; our economic opportunity; state diversity and national growth and its principles and practicalities have worked well for two centuries. I would like to quote Paul Harvey from an article last year and I think he says it all right here, "The Constitution is a living, breathing document that needs to be embraced and respected and we should stand beside it and protect it against anyone who would punch holes in it or set fire to it."

In this year, 1987, our bicentennial celebration of the Constitution, it should be a time of celebration and not a time of political crisis. I think that Mr. Donald Hodel when he spoke to us about two weeks ago on the Constitution celebration said it all in closing his talk when he said, "God bless Nevada, God bless America, and God bless our Constitution, let's protect it."

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Senate Bill No. 114; Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 11.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Humke requested that Assemblyman Dini's remarks be entered in the Journal.

I would like to apologize to Mr. Nicholas today. We rushed into a reconsideration of Senate Bill No. 5 yesterday because we wanted to get it on its way, and he has lost his 100 percent voting record. There is no way I can correct that, Mr. Nicholas, or I would. We did that hastily and I did not realize that you were out of the building.

Assemblyman Fay requested that Assemblyman Nicholas's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I appreciate your courtesy of bringing up the matter at your desk. It was a situation which only comes up once every several sessions where bills are rolled, and then, assuming that they will stay rolled, a member leaves the floor as I did yesterday. It is always a disappointment to have a decent record flawed in one way, but I'll suggest that there are occasions in which that will happen, perhaps, to all of us. Thank you for recognizing this situation. I regret that it happened, but it can and if there were a piece of advice that I would respectfully pass along to my colleagues it would be: No matter what action has been taken on the floor, never assume it is over until it is over. And, if you have a friend sitting near you and you need to leave the floor for any reason make sure that someone knows where you are.

Amendment No. 168.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 1 and 2 as sections 2 and 3 and adding a new section designated section 1, following the enacting clause to read as follows:

"Section 1. NRS 354.59805 is hereby amended to read as follows:

354.59805 Except as otherwise provided in NRS 354.59816, the maximum amount of money which a local government, except a school district, a district to provide a telephone number for emergencies, or a redevelopment agency, is permitted to receive from taxes ad valorem, other than those levied on the net proceeds of mines or for the payment of bonded indebtedness and interest thereon incurred as a general or short-term obligation of the issuer, or for the payment of obligations under a capital lease executed before April 30, 1981, must be calculated by:

1. First multiplying the tax rate certified for that local government for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1981, by its assessed valuation as equalized for the collection of taxes during the fiscal year beginning on July 1, 1981. For the purposes of this subsection:

(a) A county whose actual tax rate, for purposes other than debt service, for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1981, was less than 50 cents per $100 of assessed valuation is entitled to the use of a rate not greater than 80 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

(b) A fire district in such a county whose tax rate was more than 50 cents per $100 of assessed valuation is entitled to the use of a rate not greater than $1.10 per $100 of assessed valuation.

2. Then subtracting the estimated amount to be received by that local government from the supplemental city-county relief tax for the fiscal year for which the tax ad valorem is to be levied. For the fiscal years beginning on and after July 1, 1982, the executive director of the department of taxation shall provide this estimate to the local government on or before February 15 preceding the fiscal year to which it applies. A local government may, on or before March 1 preceding the fiscal year to which the estimate applies, appeal in writing to the Nevada tax commission, which may increase or decrease the estimate as it finds the facts warrant.

3. Then reducing the amount resulting from subsections 1 and 2 if necessary to bring it within any applicable limit provided in NRS 354.59811 or 354.59816.".

Amend section 1, page 1, lines 8 and 9, by deleting: ", excluding net proceeds of mines,".

Amend section 1, page 1, line 12, by deleting: "year [.] to determine the" and inserting "year.".

Amend section 1, page 1, by deleting line 13.

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 21, by deleting: "[maximum allowable from" and inserting: "maximum allowable [from".

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 23, by deleting "was based".

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 27, after "certified." by inserting: "On or before January 1 of each year, each county treasurer shall submit a report of the excess ad valorem receipts for the prior year to the department of taxation, in the manner prescribed by the department. The executive director of the department of taxation shall withhold all revenue from the supplemental city-county relief tax otherwise payable to the county until an accurate and complete report is submitted.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sec. 3 as sec. 6 and adding new sections designated secs. 4 and 5, following sec. 2, to read as follows:

"Sec. 4. NRS 377.057 is hereby amended to read as follows:

377.057 1. The state controller, acting upon the relevant information furnished by the department, shall monthly from the fees, taxes, interest and penalties which derive from the supplemental city-county relief tax collected in all counties and from out-of-state businesses during the preceding month, after making any distributions required by NRS 377.053:

(a) Distribute the amount specified in this paragraph among the following local governments in the following percentages:

Political Subdivision	Percentage
Churchill County	3.23
City of North Las Vegas	46.52
City of Carlin	2.72
Esmeralda County	.20
Eureka County	.71
City of Winnemucca	5.56
City of Caliente	.46
City of Yerington	4.77
Mineral County	9.96

Political Subdivision	Percentage
City of Gabbs	4.31
Pershing County	2.52
City of Lovelock	5.77
White Pine County	5.37
City of Ely	7.90

For the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1981, the monthly amount is $71,110. For each succeeding fiscal year, this amount must be reduced by $7,111 from the preceding year.

(b) Distribute to each local government the amount calculated for it by the department of taxation pursuant to subsection 2.

2. The maximum amounts distributable under paragraph (b) of subsection 1 must be estimated for each fiscal year. The percentage of maximum allowable revenue, as determined pursuant to NRS 354.59805, to be derived from the supplemental city-county relief tax must be as nearly equal among the several counties as possible. The amount apportioned to each county must then be apportioned among the several local governments therein, including the county and excluding the school district, any district to provide a telephone number for emergencies, any district created under chapter 318 of NRS to furnish emergency medical services, any redevelopment agency, and any other local government excluded by specific statute, in the proportion which each local government's basic ad valorem revenue bears to the total basic ad valorem revenue of all these local governments except that no local government may receive more than the amount to which it is entitled pursuant to NRS 354.59811 and 354.59816. When any local government has received the maximum supplemental city-county relief tax calculated to be distributed to it, any remaining money otherwise distributable to it must be deposited in the reserve fund for the supplemental city-county relief tax.

3. As used in this section, the "basic ad valorem revenue":

(a) Of each local government is its assessed valuation , excluding net proceeds of mines, for the year of distribution, multiplied by the rate levied on its behalf for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1981, for purposes other than paying the interest on and principal of its general obligations. For the purposes of this paragraph:

(1) A county whose actual tax rate, for purposes other than debt service, for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 1981, was less than 50 cents per $100 of assessed valuation is entitled to the use of a rate not greater than 80 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

(2) A fire district in such a county whose tax rate was more than 50 cents per $100 of assessed valuation is entitled to the use of a rate not greater than $1.10 per $100 of assessed valuation.

(b) Of the county for the distribution under subsection 1 is the sum of its individual basic ad valorem revenue and those of the other local governments within it, excluding the school district and any district created under chapter 318 of NRS to furnish emergency medical services.

4. For the purposes of this section, a fire protection district organized pursuant to chapter 473 of NRS is a local government.

Sec. 5. 1. A local government which suffers a financial hardship as a direct result of the amendatory provisions of this act may apply to the department of taxation for an increase in its tax rate or a special distribution from the reserve fund for the supplemental city-county relief tax.

2. If the executive director of the department of taxation finds that the local government has suffered such a financial hardship, he shall allow the local government to increase its tax rate to recover only the amount lost as a result of the amendatory provisions of this act or recommend to the interim finance committee that a special distribution from the reserve fund for the supplemental city-county relief tax be made in the amount lost, if money is available for distribution from that fund pursuant to NRS 354.5988.

3. The interim finance committee shall consider any such recommendation made by the executive director and may direct the state controller to make the special distribution for the purposes stated in this section.".

Amend the title of the bill by deleting the second line and inserting: "basis for the maximum allowable combined revenue; requiring the department of taxation to withhold revenue under certain circumstances;".

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Bill No. 122; Senate Joint Resolution No. 13.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Price requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

During this week in 1787, John Adams wrote Thomas Jefferson to say that he is anxious to return to the United States. "For a man who has been thirty years rolling like a stone never in the same place," he wrote, "it is my resolution of quitting Europe—if it lay in my power, I would take a vow to retire to my little turnip yard and never quit it again."

For nearly three months now, Governor Edmund Randolph and James Madison had been trying to convince Patrick Henry and George Washington to attend the upcoming Constitutional Convention. They were not having success with either. On March 1, 1787, the Governor wrote James Madison that Henry "is peremptory in refusing—likewise," Randolph continued, "General Washington will be pressed again and again, but I fear ineffectually."

Sessions of the Congress had been sporadic for the past week, for lack of a quorum. They decided Sunday was a good excuse for not meeting.

George Washington recorded in his diary that Reverend Mason Weems was an overnight guest. Rev. Weems would later become famous as a book seller and biographer of notable Americans. His highly fictional and entertaining "Life & Memorable Actions of George Washington" was a best seller that went through numerous editions. The fifth edition immortalized the hatchet and cherry tree story and although this incident was perhaps the most familiar to most Americans, it almost certainly never happened.

John Armstrong, a former Revolutionary War Officer and secretary to the Supreme Executive Council of Pennsylvania, wrote a long epistle on the state of the nation to George Washington. He, like many others, through the political affairs of the nation were a "ground of serious concern to every worthy American." Congress had become "but a council of advice" whose influence daily grew less. Armstrong believed that an economical reformation of Congress and the government as a whole was necessary.

In 1789 during this week, the first Congress meeting in New York obtained a quorum and had an organizational meeting.

On March 4, 1861, Abraham Lincoln was inaugurated our sixteenth President.

In Nevada, in 1869, the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution was ratified. This Amendment guarantees the right to vote regardless of race or color.

In 1861, an act to organize the Territory of Nevada was approved by President James Buchanan. A census taken in July of that year showed a population of 16,347—not including Indians.

Finally, in 1863, a statehood bill for Nevada was introduced in Congress and passed by the Senate by a vote of 24 to 16. However, the thirty-seventh Congress expired at midnight and this statehood bill was lost in the House of Representatives when a motion to suspend the rules and take up the bills to admit Colorado and Nevada failed to obtain the necessary two-thirds majority.

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Bills Nos. 125, 174; Senate Bill No. 6.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Price requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

On March 10, 1790, Pennsylvania became the seventh state to ratify the Bill of Rights. Enough state delegations were present in Congress to constitute a quorum and the major issue before the body was whether or not the United States should establish a consulate in Lisbon, Portugal. After some discussion Congress passed a resolution to do so.

The Postmaster General, on March 15, 1787, sent a resolution to Congress asking to decrease postal rates to be effective January 1, 1788.

During this same period, Walnut Street Prison in Philadelphia reported it had foiled an escape plan but provided few details.

On St. Paddy's day in 1787, the friendly sons of St. Patrick invited Ben Franklin to be their special guest for dinner at City Tavern in Philadelphia to celebrate St. Patrick's Day.

An interesting note on another Constitution—On March 11, 1861, the Confederate States of America adopted its Constitution.

In 1933, President Franklin D. Roosevelt made the first of his Sunday evening fireside chats. Speaking from the White House, he reported on the economic problems of the country and on his actions to deal with them.

The first "Uncle Sam" cartoon was published in 1852 by Frank Bellew. The Uncle Sam character was modeled after Samuel Wilson of New Hampshire.

In Nevada, on March 17, 1879, the first Nevada Homestead Act was enacted. This act exempted property up to $5,000.

On that same date, in the Nevada Legislature $30,000 was appropriated for a state asylum for the poor and maimed.

NEVADA ASSEMBLY, Carson City, Nevada 89710

To thank you for your kindness and sympathy at a time when it was deeply appreciated. Words cannot express my gratitude for your tribute to our husband and father.

THE KOVACS FAMILY

By the Committee on Taxation:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 31—Proposing to amend section 1 of article 10 of the constitution of the State of Nevada to authorize an exemption from taxation for improvements made to certain real property for the reduction of noise near airports.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 1 of article 10 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. 1. The legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims, when not patented, the proceeds alone of which shall be assessed and taxed, and when patented, each patented mine shall be assessed at not less than five hundred dollars ($500), except when one hundred dollars ($100) in labor has been actually performed on such patented mine during the year, in addition to the tax upon the net proceeds.

2. Shares of stock, bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The legislature may constitute agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used, as a separate class for taxation purposes and may provide a separate uniform plan for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such plan is provided, the legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

7. No inheritance tax shall ever be levied.

8. The legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

9. The legislature may exempt by law improvements to real property in the vicinity of a municipal or military airport made for the purpose of reducing the level of noise in the interior of a structure generated by the operation of the airport. The legislature may provide by law the criteria under which an improvement qualifies for the exemption, including:

(a) The distance of the real property from the boundary of the airport;

(b) Compliance with local building codes; and

(c) The level of noise, measured in decibels, in the interior of the structure that must be achieved by the improvement.

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a new section designated sec. 2, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. This act expires by limitation on July 1, 1989.".

Amend the title of the bill, first line, after "Magazine;" by inserting "temporarily".

Assemblyman Price moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblyman Price.

Amendment adopted.

Amendment No. 207.

Amend section 1, page 1, line 11, by deleting "others" and inserting "airlines".

Amend the title of the bill, second line, by deleting "others" and inserting "airlines".

Assemblyman Tebbs moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblymen Tebbs, Price, Nicholas, Bergevin, Spinello, Humke, Nevin, Swain, Thomas, Fay, DuBois, May and Gaston.

Assemblyman Triggs requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN TEBBS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Amendment 207 to Assembly Bill No. 128 will limit the use of trading advertising space in the Nevada Magazine for airline tickets only. In the testimony we heard, we were told that the Commission on Tourism, when they were approached with the idea of trading advertising space, was told by the Executive Director that the trade would be for airline tickets to try to sell more ads back in New York, California and Las Vegas. The Commission was also warned of the potential abuse of this type policy and that tight controls would need to be set up. Although trading ads is a common practice in the publishing business, this practice should not be taken lightly. The ultimate objective in selling an ad is to bring in cash. Once Nevada Magazine begins trading with a particular business, it will be very hard, if not impossible, to convert that ad into cash payments. I strongly feel that if we do not impose our own limits as to what Nevada Magazine may trade advertising space for, we will soon find restaurants, hotels and other businesses trading, rather than paying cash. After this occurs, the beneficiaries will not be the financial well-being of the publication, but its employees and special clients. Given the fact that we supplement Nevada Magazine with almost $600,000 a biennium with tax dollars, we urge your approval of this amendment to guarantee trade will be limited to airline tickets only. I might add that is the purpose of the bill and they testified to that. All the amendment does is clarify the fact that they can use it for airline travel only. It does not conflict with the amendment spoken to earlier.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would rise in opposition to Amendment No. 207 to Assembly Bill No. 128. During the hearings, which actually were over a period of two different days on this particular subject matter, the committee listened to the testimony and we had the staff of Nevada Magazine actually bring in the recommendation from the Committee on Economic Development. The language that is in this amendment is exactly what they recommended with the exception that we considered the possibility of limiting their trading only to airlines and it was rejected by the Committee by a five to five vote—we had one member absent. After that we decided that the sunset provision plus the checks and balances that were already in the law—they have to go through three committees and you have several agencies overlooking this—that there were sufficient safeguards there so the committee rejected it. I would stand in opposition to this particular amendment.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, having had many years of experience in the advertising business and in media, I'm reasonably familiar with the trade-out methodologies utilized in those businesses. I do not think that they apply to government work and government employees. It is not intended that an employee of an organization subsidized by our Legislature and a part of state government would be in a position to exercise the trade-out methodologies that are a normal part of the industry—exchange of meals and other favors. I tend to wish to restrict this and believe that this amendment does, indeed, exercise some restriction and therefore would vote for it. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

Mr. Speaker, I also rise in support of Amendment No. 207. Even though we do have a one-year sunset, it would seem to me that we ought to restrict the capability of the magazine for trade-outs even during that one-year period to see if there was any abuse that was contingent with it. I would certainly say, inasmuch as we are putting in $600,000 of state money to subsidize this magazine which in my estimation should be self-paying, that this amendment makes eminently good sense.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPINELLO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Two points to bring out—first, it has been difficult for the magazine to attract airline advertisements because of their inability to do trading which is commonplace within that particular industry. The second portion in terms of the checks and balances, the amount, $10,000, that is allowed for a trade-out is contained in the travel line item in the budget. This means they can only not use ten percent of that before going to the Interim Finance Committee for approval of use other than for travel. That, it seems to me, does give this an adequate check and balance that they would have to come before a body of this Legislature before they could use ten percent or up to only $1,000 of the total amount allocated here. So I think there are sufficient safeguards with that, with the line item, and with the fact that the commission itself has required of them that those funds can only be used for travel. I think the safeguards are there, I think to put in more restrictions is doing exactly what we always say we don't want to do—we claim we want to make government operate as efficiently as business can and when we give them the opportunity when they ask for the opportunity we then inflict so many restrictions on them that they are not able to do it.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of Amendment No. 207 to Assembly Bill No. 128. Based on the remarks of previous speakers, the proposer of this amendment did some research and found that the original intent of the executive branch Commission on Tourism was exactly to limit this to airline usage only. I think we are just staying with their intent. I feel that the bill was probably drafted somewhat in error to not provide for the restriction and I think this is just being prudent to amend it to restrict it to this extent. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN NEVIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to Amendment No. 207 to Assembly Bill No. 128. I think it is pretty well handled in the amendment we just voted on, Amendment No. 189 to Assembly Bill No. 128. We have a sunset clause in there and if this appears to be a problem, I think it is something to be considered at that time. There has been no indication brought up on the floor that this has been a problem and has been abused. I stand in opposition to this amendment.

ASSEMBLYMAN SWAIN:

Mr. Speaker, I, too, rise in opposition to Amendment No. 207 to Assembly Bill No. 128. I feel that we discussed this issue in committee ad nauseam, and we voted on this amendment in committee and the amendment went down and then we decided that we would put a sunset on it. I feel very strongly that the sunset gives us the opportunity to review the situation two years from now and I feel very strongly that the people who came before us requesting this bill in the beginning had no intentions of using it for any other purposes than airline travel.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the amendment. I voted that way in committee and I shall vote that way today. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN FAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Admittedly I was not a member of that committee. But on the face of this, I rise in support of Amendment No. 207 to Assembly Bill No. 128 for this reason: Unlike my colleague, Mr. Nicholas, I am not familiar with publishing and the people in my district are not familiar with the publishing business. The perception of this is that in my estimation we are wheeling and dealing with taxpayers' money. Therefore, I do rise in support of Amendment No. 207.

ASSEMBLYMAN DUBOIS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of Amendment No. 207 to Assembly Bill No. 128. As it has been stated in this body this morning, the intention is only for airline travel; therefore, based upon what those who would oppose the amendment say, I see no reason not to favor the amendment if they agree with what the amendment says. Having also been in the advertising business for a number of years, trade-outs are common, but they are common in the private sector. In most cases they are used for trade-outs with restaurants, hotels, and this sort of thing and are used to entertain their clients to get more business. I can see in this bill without the amendment a lot of abuse going on by state employees.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to clear up what I perceive to be a bit of a misconception by at least a couple of speakers. With regard to the intent, and again I would like to make it very clear that the commission that controls this magazine approved the language at their commission meeting and we were furnished with the minutes and there was no doubt about that. I think that where there may have been some confusion, initially at least, when the director appeared before our committee is that he did use the word that they were primarily thinking of airline exchanges. But, they did not prohibit nor did that preclude the use of other types of trade-outs. Now, I've never been directly in advertising, but I was at least one step removed and have used trade-outs myself. It is not, as my one colleague suggested, subsidizing a state employee. What it is is an item against the budget. Any trade-out would be reflected within their budget year and it is an exchange of services as opposed to an exchange of dollars. I sometimes wonder about my colleagues who talk about government being more efficient like private enterprise and then when we try to do something, get up and talk on the floor against becoming more efficient and against more like becoming private enterprise. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MAY:

Mr. Speaker, thank you. As a member not on the committee, but yet as a devotee of Nevada Magazine, in the first few days of the session, Mr. Speaker, I called the editor of that magazine and asked them to furnish some information as to what it would cost this body in appropriations to place on selected flights out of Nevada or coming into Nevada extra copies of that magazine. I have subscribed to it for years and find it a valuable tool. As I read this language, it is broad enough as written without the amendment to allow them to do some trading with selected airlines and perhaps smaller numbers on an experimental basis only to provide outflying customers or incoming customers into Nevada to a free copy of that magazine to take home with them thereby spreading the glory of the great State of Nevada to those people who might not otherwise have a chance to avail themselves of it. I stand in opposition to the amendment.

ASSEMBLYMAN TEBBS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Although those remarks from my colleague to my right did not have anything to do with the amendment, I will not address those. However, there were a few other remarks that were made that I would like to shed a little light on. It was stated that the commission did not intend to limit this particular bill to airline travel only. A close review of the minutes of that commission hearing, you will see by reading them, that was in fact the topic of discussion and just because they did not specifically limit it in the bill. If you read the minutes, you will see that is what they were talking about. Also, a point that people who have not been in the business may not understand about trades, unless that is controlled, there is a real possibility that you may be adding to the expense of the magazine. When you print a magazine, you do not print one page at a time, you print eight or 16 pages at a time. If you happen to get enough trade-out ads in that publication that you need to add one page, you are going to add probably 16 pages in Nevada Magazine. Therefore, your expense is going to go up tremendously each month. I think that is something the committee really needs to consider and just ask yourself the question, "Are we here to be responsible?" I feel limiting this would not in any way do anything different than what the Commission on Tourism intended to do. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GASTON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to the amendment. I think that this body should realize the purpose of the entire bill. They came to us indicating that we do have an efficiently run operation and I think that was very evident in all of the proceedings that we have had in that committee up to this point. But they need to run it more efficiently. One way they need to run it more efficiently is to have access to the southern part of the state. They don't have access as frequently to the southern part of the state because of the expense involved. So they have proposed a trade-out whereby they can trade out advertising space for airline tickets so they could have access and become more efficiently operative and represent the entire State of Nevada. That is the real purpose of this initially, for the airline travel which was impacting on them. They did indicate this and we had a serious conversation and discussion regarding opening it up a little broader than just the airline tickets. There are other things that come up that may require a trade-out in order for them to do their job best. If, for example, they are travelling down south into southern Nevada on a weekly basis on behalf of the magazine and they need a place to reside while there, this may also be part of the trade-out. So, they are not trying to live in the lap of luxury or be on a gravy train in any stretch of the imagination. They are wanting to make the magazine much more efficient like they have all the other areas of economic development and tourism. We would strongly urge your opposition to this amendment and let them do their job.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPINELLO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Just to clarify when I rose earlier it was in opposition to this amendment. A couple of people have asked me so I must not have been lucid enough when I rose. I rise again in opposition to the amendment. Again, the committee rejected this amendment when it was brought before the committee. It was debated there thoroughly. All the points that were listed today were debated thoroughly, and it was rejected. I think, too, though, what should be considered is that this amendment attacks the magazine, the use of that $10,000, but I think it is in the overall context of whether or not that magazine should exist. That is not the issue. The issue is, can they use $10,000 worth of a travel budget to trade. It is a line item by our rules. They can only use up to ten percent of that for another use—that's $1,000. We are arguing here about the use of $1,000. There are sufficient procedures, there are three bodies, including our own that govern the use of this money. There are sufficient safeguards. We are being responsible with the people's money in this case. We are giving the magazine room to operate and I urge your defeat of the amendment.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 28.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Getto, Sedway, Dini, Fay, Nevin, Adler, Spinello, Marvel, Craddock, Callister and DuBois.

Assemblyman Triggs requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Mr. Speaker pro Tem, I am not an advocate of long explanations of bills, but I think since we are proposing to obligate to the taxpayer about $45 million, it does deserve a complete explanation. Assembly Bill No. 28 provides for issuance of general obligation bonds for construction of a prison at Ely and the design of a prison at Lovelock. As amended, it provides for the State Board of Examiners to issue general obligation bonds of the State of Nevada for the funding necessary for the construction of the Maximum Security Prison at Ely in the amount of $35,900,000 and for the architectural design and development of the site for the Medium Security Prison at Lovelock in the amount of $9,660,000. Senate Bill No. 446, as approved by the 1985 Legislature established a committee to select sites for new prisons and provided for the advanced plan and design of those prisons. This committee held numerous hearings and received public testimony surrounding the selection of the site for these new prisons. Two sites were selected—one in Ely for the Maximum Security Prison and the other site in Lovelock for the Medium Security Prison. The selection of these sites was approved by the Interim Finance Committee at their December meeting. The initial phase of the construction of the Ely prison will provide for 484 inmates inside the fence, a minimum security dormitory for 16 inmates outside the fence and internal supporting facilities to serve as a core to serve 500 inmates. Phase two of the construction at some future date will provide for an additional 500 inmates for a total of 1,000 inmates at that prison.

The design and construction schedule as supplied by the architects of the projects indicates that if the bidding is completed by May 13, 1987, that construction could begin as early as June 11, 1987. It is critical that the construction of the Ely prison be started before the winter season begins so as not to delay the construction for another entire year. The amount included in this legislation for the Lovelock prison will provide for the completion of the design and the site development only for the eventual construction of a Medium Security Prison in Lovelock. It is anticipated that the balance of the construction costs will be funded by the 1989 Legislature which will provide for construction of phase one. It will provide for 500 inmates in medium security custody and a 16-inmate medium security dormitory outside the secure perimeter. Phase two of the project would then ultimately provide for an additional 500 inmates at some future date for a total of 1,000 inmates there. The executive budget recommends the issuance of bonds for the Lovelock facility in the amount of $9,660,000 in June 1987, and the issuance of bonds for $35,900,000 in April 1987 for the Ely maximum security prison.

I want to strongly stress the urgency of this bill. We have lost a month of construction already because it takes at least a month to sell the bonds. It takes another month of bidding and then by the time the company moves in a good part of the summer will be gone. I strongly urge you to support this bill and get the facility on its way.

ASSEMBLYMAN SEDWAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tem. I cannot stress to my colleagues the gravity of the situation as outlined by Assemblyman Getto. As you know, our prisons are loaded to the maximum. As a matter of fact, in testimony before the Ways and Means Committee, we know that we are a substantial number—between 600, 700 or whatever number is given to us today—over what is called, "Critical Occupancy." They are reaching the stage that is called, "Emergency Level."

I am totally opposed to the building of the Lovelock prison. However, I am practical enough to understand the actions of the Federal court which may come to take place on the State of Nevada in the near future unless we make a very strong effort to build a facility to house the prisoners that we have in the State of Nevada. I know that the Federal courts will fine us at some level approaching what they fined the State of Texas which amounts to $30 million a month for overcrowding of prisons. Nobody likes to appropriate money to build prisons—nobody. We would all rather spend the money for educational facilities or for social programs that we find are necessary. I can only tell you, my colleagues, that the original bill, if you will look at it, calls for the construction of a prison in Ely, Nevada, which has my name on it. The bill was amended to include the Lovelock prison for the simple reason that our friends at the opposite end of the building have insisted that we include the Lovelock prison.

Assemblyman Getto outlined for you the gravity of the building situation with the short building period that they have in White Pine County because of weather, and I can assure you that unless we act in a positive manner to start construction on the Ely prison we will be under not only a cloud of suspicion from the Federal courts, but direct action.

I will never, ever again vote to put a prison in a rural area for many reasons. The most important of which is that it is not sound chronology to separate prisoners from their families. This was told to us by the Director of the State Prisons. But, I feel constrained to tell you that I feel a gun at my head from the Federal court which will act unless we do and without our consent they will turn prisoners loose as they do in Texas. They will take felons and turn them into the street because we cannot house them. If we make a good faith effort to meet the mandates of Federal courts throughout this country, we will not operate in that manner. If we do not, then we have only ourselves to blame.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tem, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, I rise in support of Assembly Bill No. 28. We have gone through an evolution in the Nevada Legislature for the past ten years on getting tough on crime. We have the toughest laws in the United States. We incarcerate prisoners for longer periods of time, our parole board does not let them off as fast as they used to and we have caused a jam-up in the prison system that has been readily apparent now for four or five years. We have the prisoners, we have the obligation to put them in there and keep them there, we have to start the process of building some jails. We can no longer go with putting it off until next session, doing another study and playing games. We have done everything we can with honor camps, restitution centers and we must have a Maximum Security Prison built immediately.

This is only the beginning of what we are going to propose at this session. There will be a lot of other things come through this House costing many millions of dollars for the prison system to get us in compliance. The Ely prison will take a couple of years to build and we want to do the next phase of Lovelock. I think we have made a commitment to the people in Lovelock. The committee that studied this for two years made the commitment that they were going to go there. I think it is the implied commitment.

We also had a real feeling at the last session from the people in Clark County that they did not want any more prisons in Clark County and that is pretty well documented by the committee that went out all over the state looking for sites. They came out with two rural communities that were willing to accept the prison. Not every community would. If you went to my home town of Yerington, I'm afraid they would not approve a prison there. They don't even want the honor camp and there has been some discussion about that.

This is an important thing for the future of our state. We must get on with the business of state, and we must pass this bill and get on with our business because we are going to be here all session and talking about prisons from now until the end of the session on how to bring Nevada into compliance and take care of this overload of prisoners.

ASSEMBLYMAN FAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tem. I do echo the sentiments of Speaker Dini and Assemblyman Marvin Sedway, but I must admonish my colleagues that in the future if there is a problem with construction in the north that on major projects like this we should maybe look more to the southern part of the state. Not necessarily Clark County, but somewhere down south where construction is feasible on a 12-month-a-year basis.

ASSEMBLYMAN NEVIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tem. I stand up in favor of Assembly Bill No. 28, I sat on Ways and Means last session, Interim Finance, and received reports on the interim study of this prison. They did travel all over the state and there were communities who flat said, "We don't want a prison here." The people of Lovelock and the people of Ely said, "We'll take it," and they invested a lot of money into this. We made a commitment to these people, they have an investment in our state and I think with everything that has been done with this study and all the work that has been done, I am in full support of this bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN ADLER:

I'd like to speak in favor of this. Part of my background is that I represented the Department of Prisons for some six years. If we don't approve these two institutions, it is clear to me that we will have the Federal courts releasing prisoners. It is not because the Federal court judges in Nevada are malicious, they are just going to look at the numbers and see that we are over capacity.

As to Mr. Sedway's comments about good faith, that will have nothing to do with it. They are just going to look at our prisons and see that they have too many inmates in them and at that point, they are compelled under the Constitution of the United States to reduce the population of those prisoners either through a fining system or through direct releases. However, I have some reservations about this because I think this may have gone too far already. I believe it is quite possible that we can approve these prisons and still have a Federal court order requiring a reduction of population before these get on line. I think that we are way into the critical capacity areas right now and that is serious—given the numbers I have seen in the increased population of prisoners. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPINELLO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tem. I, too, rise in support of Assembly Bill No. 28. I do so because of the emergency we are operating under. I do so with a certain sadness knowing that the money that we put in, the prisons would seem to be one of our fastest growing industries. It is money that comes from education, the very life blood and future of the state. Be that as it may, the necessity is there and we have to build it. I also am aware that we must undertake that process of looking at alternatives to our system of incarceration in Nevada, to our rate of incarceration in Nevada and to our program for parole in Nevada. I would hope that all of us as we vote for or against this bill do so knowing in the back of our minds that we must begin that process and look to that day when we don't have to sit here and as an emergency measure build another prison. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tem. I would like to just point out by some remarks made by my good fellow, the chairman of our committee, that the site selection committee adopted a criteria for the selection of a prison and the criteria was adopted with expertise in the area and with the sanction of the members who were on the committee. The prime number one criteria for the selection of the prison was the community's desire for a prison. A notice was sent to every county and none of the urban areas requested or even asked for a chance to be heard. They were not interested in a prison. I truly believe that my good friend is sincere in what he says about the prisoners being close to their families and I am sure that we all feel that way. But if the community does not want a prison, and they push it away like they have down south, it becomes an eternal problem. We are facing it today. We have a bill in, we had it last session, we have it this session, and it will cost us a million dollars each biennium just in transportation.

Now the areas that we did consider are willing to place the prisons within a short distance from the community which does not have a need for transportation or additional costs. Those are the facts that we have to face, so I want to remind you that the urban areas did not want a prison located near them—they haven't before and they do not now. The prisoners were put down there and we had to push them away from the communities.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tem. I chaired the Site Selection Committee and I will probably repeat much of what Speaker Dini and Assemblyman Getto said. We did set forth some rather rigid criteria in our site selection. I think one of the major ingredients in our site selection was public acceptance. Of course, the other criteria were considered such as schools, hospitals, court systems and several others. I have to agree with Chairman of Ways and Means, Mr. Sedway, it is sad that we have to spend money on prisons. I must agree with Mr. Spinello, we are going to have to look at some of our own statutes. It would be rather difficult to have to vote for something where we could be spending the money for the children of the State of Nevada. I will support Assembly Bill No. 28.

ASSEMBLYMAN CRADDOCK:

Mr. Speaker pro Tem, it gives me considerable pain, too, to stand up in support of this bill. There is a tremendous volume of statistical data available which indicates clearly that a better educated public produces less penal population. Somewhere along the way the State of Nevada will turn the corner and decide that we are going to do whatever needs to be done by way of education in order to preclude this problem from recurring on an on-going basis. The sooner we do that, the sooner the State of Nevada will get on the track of avoiding the type of problem that actually grieves us all to face. With that thought in mind, let's think in terms of what we are going to be looking at by way of educational funding on down the road. Because, our failure to do so will result in more of the same.

ASSEMBLYMAN CALLISTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tem. I had originally intended to oppose this measure, and it is only after some deep soul searching and after having listened to those who are more knowledgeable than I am as it pertains to the pending Federal action that we are faced with, that I will support this measure. But, I hope that the sentiments that I am hearing expressed here today pertaining to searching for alternatives towards addressing in a more creative fashion the critical needs of this state and in particular how we deal with crime and how we deal with the criminal justice system, I hope that is not mere lip service. I would suggest to the members of this esteemed body that there is a new wind blowing in this state and the essence of that new breeze would be that our good constituents look towards these programs and ask us much as the way they would analyze a business proposition, "Are we getting what we paid for?" We are spending enormous sums of money. Money that comes directly from education, needs that go screaming and unheeded and we continue to legislate laws that put more and more people behind bars.

In a recent tour of the prison, the Director of the Department of Prisons turned to me—and I'm sure you've all met that gentleman and he is certainly no raving liberal—and when a gentleman of that stature would suggest to me that 45 percent of the individuals behind prison bars in this state ought not be there and would not be there in many other states because they are first-time offenders and non-violent offenders and that it is our fault, I think that we need to address that issue. I think that if we are going to be considered good representatives of the public and representatives of the public purse strings, then we need to focus our minds and efforts on some creative new solutions. You begin to wonder who we are punishing with the state's prison system. Are we punishing those individuals we put behind bars, or are we punishing the future and the children of the State of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYMAN DUBOIS:

Mr. Speaker pro Tem, I fully support this bill. I think it answers the will of the people, although I do agree with statements made concerning alternative means of penalizing criminals. My only regret is that for the first time that I know of, the State of Nevada is required, because of our financial State of the State, to go into bonding for a prison. Prior to this, they have all been built out of surplus tax so this will really require a double payment for the same thing that we are getting from our money. That is our only regret.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Jeffrey, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Robert Schwartz.

The snow has come back as a surprise, Lord. For some, it has been received as a nuisance, just some more trouble to contend with. For others, it has been greeted as a blanket of beauty, bedecking our valley as a winter wonderland. The same reality, yet two far different reactions. Lord, in all the realities that confront us, help us to have the eyes of appreciation and a mind that seizes upon challenges and opportunities rather than eyes that see no further than faults and minds that shut down in the face of difficulties. You are the sensitizing spirit within us, Lord. Let us ever respond to You. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assembly Bill No. 12.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce:

Amendment No. 120.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 through 9 and inserting:

"Section 1. NRS 675.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

675.030 The legislature finds as facts and determines that:

1. There exists in this state a widespread demand for loans repayable in installments, which loans may or may not be made on substantial security. This demand has been steadily increased by many social and economic factors.

2. The expenses of making and collecting installment loans are necessarily high in relation to the amounts lent.

3. [The need of legislation is especially apparent in the area of loans of $10,000 or less.

4.] It is the purpose of this chapter to:

(a) Bring under public supervision those engaged in the business of making loans ; [of $10,000 or less;]

(b) Attract adequate commercial capital to the business, so that the demand for such loans may be satisfied; and

(c) Ensure the availability in this state of adequate, efficient and competitive financial services.

Sec. 2. NRS 675.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

675.060 1. No person may engage in the business of lending [in amounts of $10,000 or less, except as authorized by this chapter,] without first having obtained a license from the administrator.

2. [For the purpose of this section a loan shall be deemed to be in the amount of $10,000 or less if the net amount or value advanced to or on behalf of the borrower, after deducting all payments for interest, principal, expenses and charges of any nature taken substantially contemporaneously with the making of the loan, does not exceed $10,000.

3.] For the purpose of this section, a person engages in the business of lending if he solicits loans [of $10,000 or less] in this state and, in connection therewith, makes loans to persons in this state, unless these are isolated, incidental or occasional transactions.

Sec. 3. NRS 675.120 is hereby amended to read as follows:

675.120 If the administrator finds:

1. That the financial responsibility, experience, character and general fitness of the applicant are such as to command the confidence of the public and to warrant belief that the business will be operated lawfully, honestly, fairly and efficiently, within the purposes of this chapter;

2. That allowing the applicant to engage in business will promote the convenience and advantage of the community in which the licensed office is to be located; and

3. That the applicant , unless he will function solely as a loan broker, has available for the operation of the business at the specified location liquid assets of at least $50,000, he shall thereupon enter an order granting the application, and file his findings of fact together with the transcript of any hearing held under this chapter, and forthwith issue and deliver a license to the applicant.

Sec. 4. NRS 675.280 is hereby amended to read as follows:

675.280 [No licensee shall] A licensee shall not advertise or permit to be advertised in any manner whatsoever any false, misleading or deceptive statement or representation with regard to the rates, terms or conditions for loans . [in the amount or of the value of $10,000 or less.]

Sec. 5. NRS 675.330 is hereby amended to read as follows:

675.330 The payment of [$10,000 or less in] money, credit, goods or things in action, as consideration for any sale, assignment or order for the payment of wages, salary, commissions or other compensation for services earned or to be earned, shall , for the purposes of regulation under this chapter , be deemed a loan of money secured by [such] the sale, assignment or order. The amount by which [such] the compensation so sold, assigned or ordered paid exceeds the amount of [such] the consideration actually paid shall , for the purposes of regulation under this chapter , be deemed interest or charges on [such] the loan from the date of [such] the payment to the date [such] the compensation is payable. GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 128.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Price, Humke, DuBois, Nevin, Spinello and Adler.

Assemblyman May requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Assembly Bill No. 128, a meritorious proposal, is like a fresh breath of air. It is unique in that it allows a department of state government to emulate the private sector by operating more efficiently and more like a private business, if you will. Something that we have all heard our constituents advocate many times and something that many of our distinguished colleagues, especially those from the other side of the aisle, have often advocated themselves.

Assembly Bill No. 128 authorizes the Nevada Magazine to trade advertising for services of comparable value that it needs. Its primary benefit is to allow the magazine to provide advertising to airlines in exchange for plane tickets. It also allows them to do similar exchanges with other businesses; but particularly in the case of the airlines, it is envisioned that it would enable the editorial staff to better cover stories in southern Nevada.

The majority of your committee felt that this was a meritorious piece of legislation and we hope that we will all support it. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be voting "no" on the bill for technical reasons. We discussed some of these reasons at the amendment process on second reading. I would like to attempt to counter the argument as to the efficiency that is found in the business world and trying to transfer that to the world of government.

With regard to trades, typically there are two reasons why people barter or trade in the business world. I am not making this as an accusation of what would happen here; but one of those reasons, very frequently, is to avoid taxes; and another effect of trading is that values are inflated on both sides of the trade. I feel that most people who have engaged in trading would stipulate that this is probably true—that values do get inflated. I feel that this counters the efficiency argument. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN DUBOIS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to the bill from the other side of the aisle.

My problem with this bill is that it opens the door for any kind of trade-out. It says trade and services, and that could include restaurants, ski resorts—a whole gamut of activities, anything that would involve any particular advertising that they would advertise in the magazine. In looking through the magazine, there is quite a variety of advertising.

The supporters have stipulated that their primary aim is for travel and yet they are not willing to put the words "for travel" in the bill to limit that.

So, I have some serious qualms about the bill.

Let me point out in looking at the budget, for fiscal 1987, combining both in-state and out-of-state travel, they had a work program of $11,000. They actually spent, through March 6, only $2,490. So, they are not even coming close to what their work program is.

Now I notice in the budget that for the biennium 1987-89, they are requesting in their budget $63,400, just for in-state and out-of-state travel. In addition to that, they want a trade-out so they can go anywhere in the world, literally. The bill has no safeguards in it whatsoever and in a trade-out you can simply trade-out—there is no cash that exchanges, you simply have a credit.

Also, if they were to get the $63,400 (which I doubt they will), they could add another $100,000 and go all over the world. They could go to the best restaurants and use the trade-out with the best restaurants in New York and Nevada and California. I just see this as wide open with no safeguards and I can see no need for the bill.

Furthermore, I think the bill should go through Ways and Means. Those are my objections to it.

ASSEMBLYMAN NEVIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in favor of Assembly Bill No. 128. The Nevada Magazine contributes a great deal towards tourism and economic development. If we get the word out with this magazine, we let people in other states know what a fine state the State of Nevada is.

I have to disagree with the last speaker's remarks. If you look on page two, it says that the State Board of Examiners must approve the trade. This doesn't mean that they would be running rampant and making all kinds of fast deals and trades and everything because it states right here it must be approved by the Board of Examiners. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPINELLO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of Assembly Bill No. 128. Again, the use of this trade is to help stimulate sales, and in so doing, to help stimulate tourism for the State of Nevada and all the benefits that would imply.

The amounts they anticipate trading represent $4,000 in in-state travel, $6,000 in out-of-state travel and those are line items. They can only use the discretionary amount in another area of up to ten percent in any line item amount without coming before the Interim Finance Committee. That is one of the places where this is regulated, which seems to be the concern. The second body that would regulate them would be the Commission. The third body is the Board of Examiners. There is an ample amount of protection for this particular line item within the bill and I think that we are again arguing over a matter where, in order to offer government the ability to act as efficiently and effectively as business, we want to overly stipulate how they can do it. I think we have argued it to death. Thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYMAN ADLER:

Mr. Speaker, I did not vote on the motion because I thought I had a possible conflict, but I checked that out and I really don't so I will be voting on Assembly Bill No. 128.

As to my position on this bill I would say that Nevada was founded by miners as well as horse traders and this, perhaps, returns us to our original historical roots.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Doctor Gregg Townsley.

Heavenly Father, our Father. We stand this day in prayer in recognition that You are the Lord of our world. The earth is Yours. The nations are Yours. And though we may sometimes live with our own agendas, selfish and often filled with pride, we know that You are the Lord of our agendas, and the great "influencer" of our lives. For clouded mountains, for fields and woodland, for desert and running streams we thank You. For towns and cities where men and women may talk and work together, for planners and statesmen, for those who speak out and for those who are silently faithful, we give thanks. Give us vision this day, as we seek the greater purposes hidden in our day's agenda. We pray in the name of our Lord. AMEN.

Our Heavenly Father. We come to You this day in worship, having noticed the Springtime "finery" that you have created around us. For beautiful trees and warm sunshine we give thanks. For flowered meadows and rushing mountain water we offer our gratitude. Enable us this day to be grateful for other things as well: for the work that You have given us to do and the co-workers You have given us to strive with. We are not alone, and we are not unable to fulfill our responsibilities, because You have gifted us with such support. As we walk and work in Your world this day, walk and work with us, so that we may perform our duties with gratitude. For the beauty of the earth we thank You. And for the beauty of Your ways, we thank You. In the name of the Lord, we pray. AMEN.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 25—Memorializing Mary Gojack, former state legislator.

WHEREAS, This Legislature notes with sorrow the untimely death of former legislator, Mary Gojack, on November 12, 1985; and

WHEREAS, Mary L. Gojack was born in Hillsboro, Iowa, on February 19, 1936;

WHEREAS, Throughout Mary Gojack's life she was always ready to stand up to a challenge; and

WHEREAS, Elected to the Assembly in 1972, Mary began her illustrious legislative career serving one term in the Assembly followed by two terms in the Senate; and

WHEREAS, Mary Gojack gained the recognition and respect of Nevadans because she spoke up for what she believed in; and

WHEREAS, Mary was deeply involved in helping her community and throughout the years she had been a member of the Nevada Opera Guild, Washoe County Council on Alcoholism, American Legion Auxiliary, American Association of University Women, Reno Branch, the Business and Professional Women, Washoe County Democratic Women and the Democratic Central Committee; and

WHEREAS, Mary Gojack represented many things to many people, but to her children, Patricia and John Hixson she was first and foremost their mother; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 64th session of the Legislature of the State of Nevada extend their heartfelt sympathy to Mary's children Patricia and John and to Mary's supportive and devoted husband, Robert Gorrell; and be it further

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be transmitted forthwith by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly to Mary's children, Patricia and John Hixson and to her husband Robert Gorrell.

Assemblyman Haller moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Haller, Nicholas, Brookman, Swain, Craddock, Myrna Williams, Getto, May, Freeman and Price.

Assemblyman Brookman requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HALLER:

Mr. Speaker, Mary was a dear friend, not only to me and my family, but to all of us here. They say the good die young. Mary did so many things that I cannot even begin to enumerate them. I would say that in her short life—shorter than mine, by the way—she struck out at all kinds of injustice. She never hesitated to speak out for those things she believed in and against those things she was against. It is with deep regret that I move this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, we are speaking now of a constituent who was one of the most illustrious in my district who held the seat for District No. 23 some years ago, who was an extremely respected and well-spoken lady, and who richly deserves this recognition. I'm very pleased to see this happening today. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROOKMAN:

Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to the members of the house, I had the great honor of serving with Mary and all I can tell you is that she was one hell of a woman. She fought for the little people, she did many good deeds, and it saddened my heart to learn of her death. I and everyone else who served with her knew she was a woman of her convictions and she never backed down. I urge the adoption. We shall all miss you, Mary.

ASSEMBLYMAN SWAIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mary was also a personal friend of mine and I really feel like I owe her a lot because when I first decided to run for public office, she took me under her wing. One of the first things she did for me was to take me back to Washington, D.C. with her to a Democratic national training session. She took me everywhere with her, and introduced me to all kinds of people and she watched over my shoulder to make sure that I was attending the right functions and meeting the right people and learning the right things. She gave me a good start in being where I am today and I owe her a great deal. She was a good friend. She was a gutsy lady and I really admired her for that.

ASSEMBLYMAN CRADDOCK:

Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to the members. Mary and I worked together on the development of the legislation which led up to the development of geothermal energy in the State of Nevada. Because of Mary, the State of Nevada is a better place to live. As I think back over the many things, it is hard to single out only one thing that Mary was outstanding in. I would conclude my remarks by saying that I am pleased to stand and announce that she was among my friends.

ASSEMBLYMAN MYRNA WILLIAMS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mary was a close, personal friend of mine also. But more than that I think it is important to know that Mary Gojack was admired not just in the north, but statewide. She was a mentor to many of us and her loss has been significant.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I could not let this pass without saying something since I served when Mary first came to the Legislature. Although we had differing philosophies, I had a very high respect for Mary Gojack. She was an intelligent, courageous, marvelous lady. I think she will go down in history as one of our leading ladies in the State of Nevada. Mary had the courage to walk where others feared to tread and I will always remember that. Even with our differences in philosophy, we many times joined on issues that we thought were the best for Nevada. As my colleagues said, she truly represented the little people.

ASSEMBLYMAN MAY:

Mr. Speaker, in memory of Mary Gojack, and as one of her cohorts, if that is the proper word, speaking for all of them, I know some of us truly loved her, others simply admired her and all of us will miss her.

ASSEMBLYMAN FREEMAN:

I would only echo the remarks of all the previous speakers and to add, simply, that she was a friend and that we miss her.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, I, too, had the pleasure of serving with Mary and echo all the accolades that have been said. But, in addition, to being a fine legislator, I remember something, which I believe was the last basketball game that the Assembly played against the Senate, and I believe the Senate won because of Mary's high scoring. So she was an excellent basketball player, too.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 26—Memorializing a former Justice of the Supreme Court, Jon Collins.

WHEREAS, This legislature is deeply grieved by the passing of Jon Collins, a resident of Nevada whose distinguished career brought him national attention and admiration; and

WHEREAS, Jon Collins was born in Ely on May 7, 1923; and

WHEREAS, The former justice was educated at George Washington University, Harvard, and the University of Pennsylvania, and received his law degree from Georgetown University; and

WHEREAS, Jon Collins was an active, knowledgeable and respected Nevadan who participated in numerous political, social and community activities; and

WHEREAS, He was in charge of the presidential campaign in Nevada for Jimmy Carter and was later appointed by President Carter to a board which recommended future judges for appointment to the U.S. Ninth Circuit; and

WHEREAS, Jon Collins was appointed to the Supreme Court on May 5, 1966, to fill a vacancy created by the death of Justice Milton B. Badt; and

WHEREAS, Jon Collins distinguished himself as one of Nevada's most respected attorneys as senior partner in the largest law firm in the State of Nevada, Lionel, Sawyer and Collins; and

WHEREAS, Former Justice Collins was dedicated to his family and his passing will be felt deeply by his wife Rita, and their five daughters, Candace Olson, Melissa Collins, Pamela Collins and Kelly Collins of Las Vegas, and Jona Wallace of Ohio; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted forthwith by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly to Rita Collins, his widow, and to each of his five daughters.

Assemblyman Getto moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Getto, Nicholas, Porter, Sader, Schofield, Fay and Carpenter.

Assemblyman McGaughey requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Mr. Speaker, I believe it is only fitting that I make some remarks since Judge Collins was born in the small town of Ely. He was certainly a distinguished scholar in that community and as the resolution states, he went on to George Washington and to Harvard and the University of Pennsylvania.

My association with Judge Collins was in the area of the province of our youth. When I was first elected to the Legislature, we used to spend several hours discussing our youth. He had a very sincere interest in the welfare of our young people and we used to discuss the juvenile problems and juvenile probation areas and I learned a lot from Judge Collins.

I think I became a pretty good friend of his. We had not seen each other in several years but I always respected him very highly and felt a sincere friendship with him. I certainly want to extend our heartfelt sympathy to his family. We in the state will all miss him very much. The State of Nevada will experience a great loss with his passing.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, the Justice was a multi-faceted gem, whose accomplishments were not limited to the directions taken by the prior speaker on this subject matter. He was an expert in areas of health care regulation. The guest at my desk today, Bob Lyle, and I served in a function that often brought us in close proximity to the Justice in his legal days down in Las Vegas some ten or more years ago. I learned more from that man involving what I do today than from almost any other human being. And, he did it so well! We will honestly miss him. He was a great guy. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PORTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I had the pleasure of going to high school with the Judge's daughter, Melissa. Judge Collins was also the man who was assigned to interview me to approve my application to take the bar exam for admission to the Bar of the State of Nevada. He helped me through that exam. I had a discussion with him when I decided to run for office and he was nothing but supportive. He told me that it would be a tough fight, but he was there and would counsel me all the way through.

On behalf of the Collins family, I urge unanimous adoption of this resolution. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN SADER:

Mr. Speaker, I would be remiss if I did not say a few words about Judge Collins' contribution to the legal profession. When he was a Supreme Court Justice he, of course, authored many opinions that those of us in the legal profession have to interpret and abide by today. He has left a fine legacy of scholarship for all of us who practice.

In his business, he was one of the founding partners of the largest firm in the state and proved, both as a businessman and as a lawyer in private practice, that he was as adept in private law and practice as he was in his career as a jurist.

ASSEMBLYMAN SCHOFIELD:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I became acquainted with Justice Collins about ten years ago. Oftentimes, as some of my colleagues have indicated, there are people whose lives touch our own. The accomplishments that this man has made through the history of the State of Nevada will long live and long be remembered by many of us and by many of the people that go behind us.

I just wanted to say that we really will miss him. All of his virtues and accomplishments will certainly be living in our memories from now on. He was a tremendous Nevadan, a tremendous person, very soft-spoken, and had attributes about him, as you've heard in some of the remarks already made. I really admired this man. I think he has left a legacy on the State of Nevada's history that will long be remembered and long remain.

ASSEMBLYMAN FAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I never knew Jon Collins on a professional basis, only on a personal basis. You never heard of his accomplishments from him; he was totally unassuming and he was a good fellow lawman.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

I grew up in the Ely area with Jon Collins. He was a year or two older than I am. Through the years we would come in contact with each other and he always acknowledged me. I think this is important because he became what I think to be one of the most well-known, respected men to come out of the Ely area.

I just want to echo the sentiments that have been said here today.

By Assemblymen Brookman, Dini, Getto, May, Banner, Craddock, Jeffrey, Price, Bergevin, Marvel, Schofield, DuBois, Nicholas, Sader, Thompson, Humke, Kerns, Nevin, Sedway, Swain, Thomas, Arberry, Lambert, McGaughey, Spriggs, Tebbs, Myrna Williams, Fay, Kissam, Adler, Callister, Carpenter, Evans, Freeman, Garner, Gaston, Haller, Porter, Spinello, Triggs, Wendell Williams and Wisdom:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 27—Commending Mike O'Callaghan for his public service and declaring March 26, 1987, as Mike O'Callaghan Day.

WHEREAS, The State of Nevada is proud to recognize one of its most respected residents, former Governor Mike O'Callaghan; and

WHEREAS, Elected to the office of Governor in 1970, Mike O'Callaghan provided strong leadership for the State of Nevada for 8 years; and

WHEREAS, While serving as Governor, Mike O'Callaghan placed emphasis on upgrading and expanding services to mentally retarded and mentally ill persons; and

WHEREAS, Today, as a journalist, Mike O'Callaghan continues to strive for improvements in the services provided for those persons; and

WHEREAS, Mike O'Callaghan's contributions to the State of Nevada, his strength of character and his continued dedication to the people of this state have secured for him a place in the hearts of all Nevadans; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That March 26, 1987, is hereby declared Mike O'Callaghan Day in honor of a man who personifies dignity, honesty, integrity and public service; and be it further RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be prepared and transmitted forthwith by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly to Mike O'Callaghan.

Assemblyman Brookman moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Brookman, Callister, Thompson, Nicholas, Getto, Myrna Williams, Kissam, Haller, Gaston, Price, Thomas and May.

Assemblyman Brookman requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROOKMAN:

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Assembly, it was my distinct honor to serve under Governor O'Callaghan together with a few of us who now serve in this house. Not only is he a great man, he did so much for the little people in the State of Nevada, and I think that is what he is being remembered for. He did all good things for all people.

He is one of my constituents. I have to straighten up my act with him around my neighborhood.

I appreciate everyone signing this resolution. There is not much more I can say about this man, he is just one of God's gifts to all of us in the State of Nevada. We should be proud.

ASSEMBLYMAN CALLISTER:

Thank you. I just want to join with Assemblyman Brookman in her comments. I think that it is important for us to recognize the significant impact that Governor O'Callaghan has had especially in the area of rural mental health, which, of course, we will be honoring him in regard to later on this week. I just wanted to additionally urge all my colleagues to support this resolution.

I also wanted to commend my colleague to the right for her representation on behalf of the little people.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON:

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this resolution. Governor O'Callaghan was a great influence on my getting into politics eight years ago, and he has always been very supportive of me.

He is probably the most outspoken and colorful man I've ever met in my life. I think those members in the house who served when he was Governor would remember when he called you at three o'clock in the morning and told you what he thought of you and everything you owned and your dog. I think that's what I really like about the man, you always know where you stand with him. He does not pull any punches with anybody.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The gentleman sitting at my desk and I years ago used to work for this guy, this subject of our resolution today. We both had tremendous respect for him. Also, if we didn't verbally acknowledge this situation, he would probably call us up at 5:30 in the morning as has happened over the years. It's a fine honor for a fine man and I'm pleased to endorse it. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Yes, Mr. Speaker. I feel compelled to say something. Governor O'Callaghan had a tremendous impact on my life. I respect him very highly even though we spent several hours at different times arguing about bills. We had different philosophies in a lot of areas, but he is a person who is direct and I really admire his strength—he is truly a worker.

Mike was usually in his office at 6:00 a.m. or sometimes before. I recall one time when I had a couple of students from Australia who were visiting Nevada and they didn't have too much time. I called Governor O'Callaghan and asked if he would spend a little time with them. Although I didn't give him much advance notice (they only had a day or so), he indicated that if we could get to his office by quarter to six in the morning he would spend a little time with them. He spent over an hour with these two youths from Australia. You can be sure it left a tremendous impression on these young people.

He did the same with many of our own youth. I recall a youth in Fallon who lost a leg and was very depressed in a hospital. Lo and behold, one morning that youth, at six o'clock in the morning, got a call from the Governor of the State of Nevada. That certainly improved the morale of that young man.

These are some of the qualities that Governor Mike has. I also both respect and admire his memory. This man could remember a person whom he met only once. That certainly impresses people who have only met the Governor once and on their second meeting he calls them by name. That's something.

ASSEMBLYMAN MYRNA WILLIAMS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is a privilege to rise in support of a resolution honoring our former Governor Mike O'Callaghan. Mike O'Callaghan has had a major influence on me and on my political life. I think that the most important thing that I admire about Mike is his strength, and yet his ability to be gentle and caring. Anybody who has any kind of problem, whether it is in politics, or whether it is just somebody who lives in our area, can pick up the phone and call Mike at any time and he is always there for you. So, it is a privilege to honor former Governor O'Callaghan.

ASSEMBLYMAN KISSAM:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I had the pleasure of serving in this Chamber ten years ago when Mike was Governor, and I was the recipient of one of those late in the session midnight calls two days before we were supposed to adjourn sine die. He told me that his office caught a mistake that the Legislative Counsel Bureau had overlooked, we overlooked, the Senate overlooked and that he was going to have to veto one of my major pieces of legislation that I was very much in favor of—as were we here and in the Senate. Luckily, with his help, after he vetoed my bill, he helped me with the rewording of it to where, in the last two days, we rushed it through and all of the adopted children in this state were the beneficiaries. That was my personal experience, along with a lot of other minor ones, with Mike. He is a great man.

ASSEMBLYMAN HALLER:

Mr. Speaker, I, too, have been chewed out by Mike. I have also been praised on occasion and I have met with him at six o'clock in the morning. I do, however, have one reservation about this. I can't understand how Assemblyman Brookman missed it, but I didn't hear anything about Carolyn in this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN GASTON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. On behalf of the class of little people, of which I am a member, I join in with the commendation of Governor O'Callaghan. I can only say that I must not have been home at two o'clock in the morning recently for one of his telephone calls. I wish I had. Unfortunately he had to communicate with me through his column in the newspaper. Notwithstanding that, Mike O'Callaghan has been a great man and a great leader for all of us and for the people of the state. I think that this is a very small thing that we can do, but it is certainly for a great man and I would certainly join in the support.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is also my pleasure to rise in support of this resolution, having had the pleasure of serving with Governor O'Callaghan in the first years. He used to roam these halls from time to time as we recall, twisting a few arms.

I also have been the recipient of some barbs and front page headlines about my ability in thinking, but then he turned around and endorsed me and supported me over the years. He is the epitome of a person who is fair and just.

The characteristic I respect the most about Governor O'Callaghan is, when the chips were down, you could always be assured that he would be on the side of the people of Nevada and the little person.

I think it is a fine thing that we are doing here today.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Fifteen years ago next month when we first moved to Carson City, Mike O'Callaghan hadn't been Governor very long. I remember when he ran for his second term I took out a full-page newspaper advertisement in the Nevada Appeal, in fact I took it out three days running, probably vilifying him worse than he has probably been taken apart by anybody before. You have to remember, when I came from California in those days from the heart of Orange County, I was somewhat to the right of Ghengis Khan. It is a miracle that I am still here today to talk about it.

Some years later when I ran for the Assembly the first time, I think that was in 1978, in the last two days of the campaign the polls had me leading by some two to three percent. Mike jumped in and interceded for my opponent and I lost by, I think, 95 votes or so. I sent him a little note saying, "We're even." This isn't exactly a public apology, perhaps it should be. I guess it really should be because I think Mike O'Callaghan will go down in history as one of the greatest Governors in the State of Nevada. And that just goes to show you how wrong I can be. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I too had the great pleasure to serve with Iron Mike during his eight years of tenure in the State House of Nevada. In reflection, Nevada over the years since its admittance to the Union in 1864, has had some excellent Governors, some average Governors and some even less than that. Certainly Mike falls in one of those categories.

To serve with Iron Mike was indeed a pleasure. As has been reiterated here already, you knew always every moment where he was with regard to whatever position you were advocating. He would do his best to swing you to his point of view. His convictions were firm and rock-solid and I learned a great deal from the man. I respect him, I admire him, and I am happy he is with us today.

Our Heavenly Father. We stand in prayer this morning and at the beginning of this weekend, recognizing that You are a God who is available to us. As You were present to Moses, and as You were present to Jesus' early disciples, so You are near to us. Present Yourself to us this day, we pray. In the work of our committees, in the actions of this Assembly, in the words of our fellow representatives and friends, and in the brief silences or rests the weekend brings. Encourage us to be the people You mean for us to be. And in the family or personal times this weekend, help us to relax. We pray in the name of our Lord. AMEN.

Remarks by Assemblyman Dini.

Assemblyman Brookman requested that Assemblyman Dini's remarks be entered in the Journal.

Mr. Speaker pro Tem. Through you and to you to the members of the house, it is my deep pleasure to present this resolution to you.

It is not too often that you get two championship teams in the same season for the same sport—boys and girls. We are very highly honored that these teams are continuing the tradition of championship athletics in the Yerington High School era.

Yerington goes back in history, many, many years ago, in football when we defeated Las Vegas. That was when everybody played in the same category. There was only one league then—there were no A, B, C, or anything else—and the Las Vegas boys came to Yerington and met their downfall by a bunch of farmers out in Yerington. There was a Dini on that team, his name was Mario Dini.

We continued our tradition in the old days with John Polish, a former member of this house, who was a three-star athlete in our community. He established a tradition which has never been excelled in the history of our school system. He was in football, basketball and track. For many years Yerington was the champion in track in all divisions in the state. Mr. Polish set many records.

Then there was a fellow named Angelo Aiazzi, whose record in the shot put withstood in this state for some 45 years before it was broken by the schools we have today.

In wrestling, we had the Mike Lowry era of championship wrestling in the Yerington schools.

This is the first time, I believe, in the history of the school, that we ever had a boys' championship basketball team. So we are doubly honored to have both teams here today representing the Yerington school. I hope you concur with me in adopting this resolution, and once we adopt the resolution, I would like to introduce to you the members of the team. Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tem.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblyman Dini moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 28 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Brookman requested that Assemblyman Dini's remarks be entered in the Journal.

I would like to present an engrossed copy of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 28 to both the coach of the Yerington Boys' Team and the coach of the Yerington Girls' Team. Individual copies of this resolution will be presented to all members of the team afterwards.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Bergevin, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Tim Jantos.

Our gracious Heavenly Father, we thank You for the privilege of being here today. And, Father, we thank You as well for Your divine presence here among us. Father, give us a sense of that presence as we go about the tasks to which You have called us this day. May this not be simply "another day," but rather may it be a day of new insight, fresh vision and renewed commitment as we seek to better serve the people who have placed their trust in us, and ultimately, as we seek to better serve You. And Father, may we not forget those areas of our personal lives that so often overflow into our public lives and affect them for better or for worse. May we not neglect those characteristics of personal integrity, forgiveness, mercy, patience, self-control, joy and love. May our hearts be joyful, our consciences clear, our motives pure, our expectations high. In other words, Lord, give us Your divine perspective upon everything we do and say today, for we pray these things in Your great and powerful name. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Remarks by Assemblymen Lambert, Nevin, Haller, Sader, Sedway, May, Swain, Adler, Getto and Gaston.

Assemblyman Haller requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN LAMBERT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in reluctant support of Senate Bill No. 123, which would allow the Washoe County Commission to raise the ad valorem taxes in Washoe County to pay for the increased operating costs of the new consolidated jail. The override would increase the tax rate about seven and a half cents in 1987 and 1988, and then up to about ten cents each subsequent year. That translates into around $26 the first year and $34 each year thereafter on a $100,000 house. This is in addition to what we are now paying—about $21 a year to pay off the construction bonds on a $100,000 house.

I say I stand in reluctant support of the bill because the whole issue was handled poorly in 1984 when the bond issued to build the jail was on the ballot. We were told in 1984 that we had to build a new jail to meet Federal court standards and that this proposed jail would be cheaper and more efficient to operate. Instead, the operating costs are over $8 million a year—almost double the cost of the four existing facilities. This dramatic increase comes as an unpleasant surprise to the people of Washoe County now. Voters should have been told in 1984 that upon completion of the jail the county would have to ask for a tax override for increased operating costs due to the Federal court standards we have to meet.

People should feel that they can trust their government to be up front with them if they are going to have a good relationship between government and the people it serves. Situations like this erode that trust and are very discouraging. It falls to us to pick up the pieces and move forward. Now the county is facing a Federal court consent decree to improve jail conditions and an almost completed jail will meet those conditions, but only if the county can add almost $4 million to its budget to properly staff the jail. While none of us like to see taxes increase, especially to fund jail operations, we find ourselves with little or no choice in this instance but to meet the Federal court standards—and they are expensive.

Your Taxation Committee urges your support. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN NEVIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also echo the sentiments of Assemblyman Lambert. I had problems with this also. This went to a bond issue before the people and the thing that disturbs me the most is the feeling that I get that they knew the cost was higher than the bond issue and they broke ground and started anyway. Then they said they were in a spot and had to come before us and ask us for additional money.

I also will vote for this bill because if we don't build it, the government will tell us we have to anyway. I just don't like the approach that was made and I think the voters will be unhappy with our commissioners the way this was approached. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HALLER:

Mr. Speaker, I also am very reluctantly voting for this bill. I do want it on the record, and I haven't seen it in writing anywhere, that both the City of Sparks and the City of Reno are committed to help support this jail when it is built. Therefore, I would request that our remarks be entered on the record.

ASSEMBLYMAN SADER:

I have just one question of the Committee, and it is really tangential to the passage of this bill. With the problems of prison construction and financing that we are facing, and now with Washoe County facing problems with expanding their jail and having to pay for it through property taxes, I wonder if we shouldn't be requiring that the property taxes that citizens pay for prison facilities and jail facilities be listed separately on their property tax bills so that the citizen starts to see that the citizen is paying for the increasing population of prisoners we are having in this state. It is my thought that if that fiscal problem is brought to the attention of the taxpayer, that we might start to address prison reform in the issues of expanding our prison population.

ASSEMBLYMAN SEDWAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to echo the comments of my colleague from Washoe County. In the Ways and Means Committee we discussed this same issue as put forth by the previous speaker and it is our recommendation that in the future some effort be made to put on your property tax bills that you get a line item that says "Prison Construction Bonds" with the exact number that it will cost the people of the state.

ASSEMBLYMAN MAY:

Mr. Speaker, although not within the context of the bill in response to the two previous speakers, your Committee on Taxation will certainly undertake a measure to do exactly as proposed. And, to the members of the Washoe delegation, not a member of Taxation, there is a small consolation involved—you are not levying this tax by enactment of this measure, you are simply granting your Board of Commissioners in Washoe County in their wisdom the authority, if they find it necessary, to oppose it.

ASSEMBLYMAN SWAIN:

Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Washoe delegation I merely want to go on record as echoing the sentiments of my fellow Washoe County delegation members and also the recommendation of our Chairman of Judiciary on this particular issue. I feel very reluctant, myself, in having to vote for this, but I recognize it is a necessity.

ASSEMBLYMAN ADLER:

I would just like to say as Vice-Chairman of Taxation that perhaps the only reason we approved this bill was the fact that we would end up with a new jail without staffing. So, that is the reality we were faced with in approving this bill, so I would say all of us reluctantly voted for the bill and only did so because we didn't want to have a brand-new jail with no one to operate it.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Mr. Speaker, since you have allowed other members to stray from the bill a little bit, may I stray also? Thank you.

Having served on prison subcommittees over three interims, I have been concerned about the costs of prisons and, of course, we have been pushed by a wave of public sentiment. But the statements that were made about putting the costs of prisons on tax statements, that is just the tip of the iceberg because that is only going to deal with the prisons in the local area. The costs of prisons statewide is a big ticket item that the taxpayer never sees.

This money comes out of the General Fund which is gaming tax revenues and sales tax revenues and some other small revenues. If the public had to pay for that ticket, it would be a big one and if they could see it, I think we might have some change in the philosophy in how long we keep prisoners in prison.

ASSEMBLYMAN GASTON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to echo the comments and sentiments of my colleagues from Washoe County. We were all saddened, to be honest with you, and very disturbed at the testimony that we heard because it appeared that there was either a neglectful or very intentional failure to disclose the true picture. If it was intentional, I think it was unconscionable and this act really set the citizenry back a long way as far as trusting the governmental body. I kind of felt like we were being held hostage because we have a jail here that we have to maintain. You have to do this because what are we going to do with this white elephant of a jail if we don't have the funds to maintain it? I feel annoyed by that and all the members of the Committee also felt annoyed and I think the people, the citizens of Washoe County, were duped. I'd like to encourage this body to look at possible laws regarding disclosure so that this kind of thing doesn't happen again, that we are not put in a position that we are this time, and that the citizens are not led astray. I would like to see us look at disclosure laws and if they don't fully disclose, this type of referendum would not be legal.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Government Affairs:

Amendment No. 256.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 2 and 3 as sections 15 and 16 and adding new sections designated sections 2 through 14, following section 1, to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. NRS 328.450 is hereby amended to read as follows:

328.450 1. The state treasurer shall deposit in the state distributive school account in the state general fund money received in each fiscal year pursuant to 30 U.S.C. § 191 in an amount not to exceed $10,000,000.

2. Any amount received in a fiscal year by the state treasurer pursuant to 30 U.S.C. § 191 in excess of $10,000,000 must be deposited in the account for revenue from the lease of federal lands, which is hereby created.

3. The interest and income earned on the money in the account, after deducting any applicable charges, must be credited to the account.

Sec. 3. NRS 328.460 is hereby amended to read as follows:

328.460 The state controller shall apportion money in the account for revenue from the lease of federal lands as follows:

1. Twenty-five percent to the state distributive school account in the state general fund.

2. Fifty percent to the counties from which the fuels, minerals and geothermal resources are extracted. Of the amount received by each county, one-fourth must be distributed to the school district in that county.

3. Twenty-five percent to the office of community services for distribution as grants to agencies and political subdivisions of the state.

Sec. 4. NRS 328.480 is hereby amended to read as follows:

328.480 1. Money received by the office of community services pursuant to NRS 328.460 must be distributed to agencies and political subdivisions of the state as grants for:

(a) Projects to demonstrate uses for geothermal and solar energy and other alternative sources of energy;

(b) Research to stimulate the use and production of energy from alternative sources;

(c) Projects to assess potential alternative sources of energy;

(d) Projects to increase available supplies of fossil and synthetic fuels and electricity and to increase the stability of those supplies;

(e) Studies of the possible social, economic and environmental effects of the use of alternative sources of energy and means of mitigating those effects;

(f) State and local plans for the development and use of alternative sources of energy;

(g) Projects to convert existing public facilities to the use of alternative sources of energy; and

(h) Establishing a program to provide loans, at low interest or that may be forgiven, to encourage the use of alternative sources of energy.

2. The governing body of any political subdivision may apply to the office of community services for a grant pursuant to this section.

3. The director of the office of community services shall review all applications for grants and forward his recommendations to the interim finance committee for its approval. The distribution of such grants must be made without regard to whether fuels, minerals or geothermal resources were extracted from the county in which the political subdivision applying for the grant is located. No money may be committed pursuant to this section until the grant is approved by the interim finance committee.

4. A political subdivision which receives such a grant shall maintain an account for that money separate from other accounts or funds.

5. Any money received by the office of community services from the state treasurer pursuant to NRS 328.460 which has not been granted to a political subdivision within 1 year after the date on which that money from the lease of federal lands is received must be returned to the state treasurer and deposited in the state distributive school account in the state general fund.

Sec. 5. NRS 353.225 is hereby amended to read as follows:

353.225 1. In order to provide some degree of flexibility to meet emergencies arising during each fiscal year in the expenditures for the state distributive school account in the state general fund and for operation and maintenance of the various departments, institutions and agencies of the executive department of the state government, the chief, with the approval in writing of the governor, may require the state controller or the head of each such department, institution or agency to set aside a reserve in such amount as the chief may determine, out of the total amount appropriated or out of other funds available from any source whatever to the department, institution or agency.

2. At any time during the fiscal year this reserve or any portion of it may be returned to the appropriation or other fund to which it belongs and may be added to any one or more of the allotments, if the chief so orders in writing.

Sec. 6. NRS 353.268 is hereby amended to read as follows:

353.268 1. When any state agency or officer, at a time when the legislature is not in session, finds that circumstances for which the legislature has made no other provision require an expenditure during the biennium of money in excess of the amount appropriated by the legislature for the biennium for the support of that agency or officer, or for any program, including the state distributive school account in the state general fund, the agency or officer shall submit a request to the state board of examiners for an allocation by the interim finance committee from the contingency fund.

2. The state board of examiners shall consider the request, may require from the requester such additional information as they deem appropriate, and shall, if [they find] it finds that an allocation should be made, recommend the amount of [such] the allocation to the interim finance committee for its independent evaluation and action. The interim finance committee is not bound to follow the recommendation of the state board of examiners.

Sec. 7. NRS 374.015 is hereby amended to read as follows:

374.015 The legislature, having carefully considered the needs of the public school system and the financial resources of the State of Nevada, and its several classes of local governments, finds and declares:

1. That sound principles of government require an increased contribution by the local district, which controls its schools, to their support.

2. That such an increase equitably should not and economically cannot be provided through an increase in the tax upon property.

3. That there is no other object of taxation, except retail sales, which is so generally distributed among the several school districts in proportion to their respective population and wealth as to be suitable for the imposition of a tax in each school district for the support of its local schools.

4. That it is therefore necessary to impose, in addition to the sales and use taxes enacted in 1955 to provide revenue for the State of Nevada, a separate tax upon the privilege of selling tangible personal property at retail in each county to provide revenue for the school district comprising such county.

5. That in order to avoid imposing unfair competitive hardships upon merchants in the several counties, it is necessary that such additional tax be imposed:

(a) At the same rate in each county; and

(b) Upon tangible personal property purchased outside this state for use within the state.

6. That the imposition of such a tax at a mandatory and uniform rate throughout the counties of the state makes such tax a fair counterpart to the mandatory property tax levy which it is designed to supplement.

7. That the tax collected upon property purchased outside the state, which cannot for this reason be returned to its county of origin, can best serve its purpose of supporting local schools if it is channeled to the several school districts through the state distributive school account in the state general fund.

8. That the convenience of the public and of retail merchants will best be served by imposing the local school support tax upon exactly the same transactions, requiring the same reports and making such tax parallel in all respects to the sales and use taxes.

Sec. 8. NRS 374.785 is hereby amended to read as follows:

374.785 1. All fees, taxes, interest and penalties imposed and all amounts of tax required to be paid to counties under this chapter must be paid to the department in the form of remittances payable to the department.

2. The department shall deposit the payments in the state treasury to the credit of the sales and use tax account in the state general fund.

3. The state controller, acting upon the collection data furnished by the department, shall, each month, from the sales and use tax account in the state general fund:

(a) Transfer one-half of 1 percent of all fees, taxes, interest and penalties collected in each county during the preceding month to the appropriate account in the state general fund as compensation to the state for the costs of collecting the tax for the counties.

(b) Determine the amount of money equal to the taxes and any fees, interest and penalties which relate to the operation of each project for the generation, transmission or distribution of electricity, or to any other electrical facilities, whose construction is commenced on or after January 1, 1982. For the purposes of this paragraph, "commencement of construction" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 704.840. This amount must be apportioned:

(1) Ten percent to the county in which the project is located; and

(2) The remainder among all counties of the state in proportion to their respective populations.

The legislature finds and declares that the consumption of electricity is roughly proportionate to population and that this apportionment fairly distributes revenues arising from this consumption, and takes fair account of the effect of the generation of power on the natural resources of the state as a whole.

(c) Determine for each county the amount of money equal to the fees, taxes, interest and penalties collected in the county pursuant to this chapter during the preceding month less the amount transferred pursuant to paragraph (a) of this subsection and the sum of any amounts determined pursuant to paragraph (b).

(d) Transfer the total amount of taxes collected pursuant to this chapter during the preceding month from out-of-state businesses not maintaining a fixed place of business within this state to the state distributive school account in the state general fund.

(e) Transfer the amount owed to each county to the intergovernmental trust fund and remit the money to the credit of the county school district fund.

4. For the purpose of the distribution required by this section, the occasional sale of a vehicle shall be deemed to take place in the county to which the privilege tax payable by the buyer upon that vehicle is distributed.

Sec. 9. NRS 385.190 is hereby amended to read as follows:

385.190 1. The superintendent of public instruction or a staff member designated by him shall:

(a) Convene teachers' conferences in the various sections of the state in such places and at such times as he deems advisable.

(b) Engage such conference lecturers and leaders as he deems advisable.

(c) Preside over and regulate the programs of all teachers' conferences.

2. No teachers' conference may continue more than 5 days.

3. The superintendent of public instruction or his designated staff member shall convene, in such places and at such times as he may designate, conferences of school administrators.

4. The expenses of holding teachers' and administrators' conferences [shall] must be paid from the state distributive school account in the state general fund, but the amount [shall] must not exceed $8,400 in any one biennium. The state controller shall draw his warrants for such expenses upon the order of the superintendent of public instruction.

Sec. 10. NRS 387.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.030 All money derived from interest on the state permanent school fund, together with all money derived from other sources provided by law, [shall:] must:

1. Be placed in the state distributive school [fund] account which is hereby created [as an agency fund;] in the state general fund; and

2. Be apportioned among the several school districts of the state at the times and in the manner provided by law.

Sec. 11. NRS 387.122 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.122 For making the apportionments of the state distributive school account in the state general fund required by the provisions of this Title, the basic support guarantee per pupil for each school district and the basic support guarantee for each special education program unit maintained and operated during at least 9 months of a school year are established by law for each school year.

Sec. 12. NRS 387.124 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.124 1. On or before August 1, November 1, February 1 and May 1 of each year, the state controller shall render to the superintendent of public instruction a statement of the money in the state treasury subject to distribution to the several school districts of the state as provided in this section.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, immediately after the state controller has made his quarterly report, the superintendent shall apportion the state distributive school account in the state general fund among the several county school districts in amounts approximating one-fourth of their respective yearly apportionments less any amount set aside as a reserve. Apportionment computed on a yearly basis equals the difference between the basic support and the local funds available or 10 percent of basic support, whichever is greater.

3. If the state controller finds that such an action is needed to maintain the balance in the state general fund at a level sufficient to pay the other appropriations from it, he may pay out the apportionments monthly, each approximately one-twelfth of the yearly apportionment less any amount set aside as a reserve.

Sec. 13. NRS 387.1243 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.1243 1. The first apportionment based on an estimated number of pupils and special education program units and succeeding apportionments are subject to adjustment from time to time as the need therefor may appear.

2. A final apportionment [shall] must be computed as soon as practicable following the close of the school year, but not later than August 1. The final computation [shall] must be based upon the actual counts of pupils required to be made for the computation of basic support and the limits upon the support of special education programs, except that for any year when the total enrollment of pupils and children described in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of subsection 1 of NRS 387.123 is greater on the last day of any school month after the second school month and [such] the increase in enrollment shows at least:

(a) A 3 percent gain, basic support as computed from first month enrollment [shall] must be increased by 2 percent.

(b) A 6 percent gain, basic support as computed from first month enrollment [shall] must be increased by an additional 2 percent.

3. If the final computation of apportionment for any school district exceeds the actual amount paid to [such] the school district during the school year, the additional amount due [shall] must be paid before September 1. If the final computation of apportionment for any school district is less than the actual amount paid to [such] the school district during the school year, the amount of overpayment [shall] must be deducted from the next apportionment payable to [such] the school district. If the amount of overpayment is greater than the next apportionment payable, the difference [shall] must be repaid to the state distributive school account in the state general fund by the school district before September 1.

Sec. 14. NRS 387.1245 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.1245 1. The board of trustees of any school district in this state whose estimated receipts from all sources provided by this chapter and chapter 374 of NRS are less than the total estimated receipts from these sources in the final approved budget for the fiscal year, and which cannot therefore provide a minimum program of education and meet its contract obligations, may apply for emergency financial assistance from the state distributive school account in the state general fund.

2. The application must be made to the state board of education in the form prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction, and in accordance with guidelines for evaluating needs for emergency financial assistance as established by the state board of education.

3. Before acting on any such application, the state board of education and state board of examiners, jointly, shall determine the difference between the total amount of money appropriated and authorized for expenditure during the current biennium from the state distributive school account in the state general fund and the total amount of money estimated to be payable from that fund during the biennium, and shall make no distribution in excess of that difference.

4. The state board of education shall review each application and shall by resolution find the least amount of additional money, if any, which it deems necessary to enable the board of trustees of the applying school district to provide a minimum educational program and meet its irreducible contract obligations. In making this determination, the state board of education shall consider also the amount available in the state distributive school account in the state general fund and the anticipated amount of future applications, so that no deserving school district will be wholly denied relief. Any money allocated by the state board of education under this section may not exceed, when added to all other estimated resources, the total estimated receipts in the final approved budget of the applying school district for the fiscal year.

5. If the state board of education finds that emergency assistance should be granted to an applying school district, it shall transmit its resolution finding [such] the amount to the state board of examiners, along with a report of its then current estimate of the total requirements to be paid from the state distributive school account in the state general fund during the then current fiscal year.

6. The state board of examiners shall independently review each resolution so transmitted by the state board of education, may require the submission of such additional justification as it deems necessary, and shall find by resolution the amount of emergency assistance, if any, to be granted. The board may defer, and subsequently grant or deny, any part of a request. Any emergency assistance granted by the state board of examiners may not exceed, when added to all other estimated resources, the total estimated receipts in the final approved budget of the applying school district for the fiscal year.

7. The state board of examiners shall transmit one copy of its finding to the state board of education and one copy to the state controller. A claim pursuant to a grant of emergency assistance must be paid from the state distributive school account in the state general fund as other claims against the state are paid.

8. Money received by a school district pursuant to a grant of relief may be expended only in accordance with the approved budget of that school district for the fiscal year for which the grant is made. No formal action to incorporate the money so received in the approved budget is required, but the receipts must be reported as other receipts are reported and explained in a footnote as short-term financing is explained.

9. The state board of education shall transmit to the legislature a report of each grant of emergency assistance paid pursuant to this section.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 4 through 6 as sections 18 through 20 and adding a new section designated sec. 17, following sec. 3, to read as follows:

"Sec. 17. NRS 463.385 is hereby amended to read as follows:

463.385 1. In addition to any other license fees and taxes imposed by this chapter, there is hereby imposed upon each slot machine operated in this state an annual tax of $250. If a slot machine is replaced by another, the replacement is not considered a different slot machine for the purpose of imposing this tax.

2. The commission shall:

(a) Collect the tax annually on or before June 20, as a condition precedent to the issuance of a state gaming license to operate any slot machine for the ensuing fiscal year beginning July 1, from a licensee whose operation is continuing.

(b) Collect the tax in advance from a licensee who begins operation or puts additional slot machines into play during the fiscal year, prorated monthly after July 31.

(c) Include the proceeds of the tax in its reports of state gaming taxes collected.

3. The commission shall pay over the tax as collected to the state treasurer to be deposited to the credit of the state distributive school account in the state general fund, the capital construction fund for higher education and the special capital construction fund for higher education, hereby created in the state treasury, in the amounts and to be expended only for the purposes specified in this section.

4. During each fiscal year the state treasurer shall deposit the tax paid over to him by the commission as follows:

(a) The first $5,000,000 of the tax in the capital construction fund for higher education;

(b) Twenty percent of the tax in the special capital construction fund for higher education; and

(c) The remainder of the tax in the state distributive school account in the state general fund.

5. There is hereby appropriated from the balance in the special capital construction fund for higher education on July 31 of each year the amount necessary to pay the principal and interest due in that fiscal year on the bonds issued pursuant to section 5 of chapter 679, Statutes of Nevada 1979, as amended by chapter 585, Statutes of Nevada 1981, at page 1251. If in any year the balance in that fund is not sufficient for this purpose, the remainder necessary is hereby appropriated on July 31 from the capital construction fund for higher education. The balance remaining unappropriated in the capital construction fund for higher education on August 1 of each year and all amounts received thereafter during the fiscal year must be transferred to the state general fund for the support of higher education. If those bonds are refunded and if the amount required to pay the principal of and interest on the refunding bonds in any fiscal year during the term of the bonds is less than the amount that would have been required in the same fiscal year to pay the principal of and the interest on the refunded bonds if they had not been refunded, there is appropriated to the University of Nevada an amount sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the refunded bonds, as if they had not been refunded. The amount required to pay the principal of and interest on the refunding bonds must be used for that purpose from the amount appropriated, and the amount equal to the saving realized in that fiscal year from the refunding must be used by the University of Nevada to defray wholly or in part the expenses of operation and maintenance of the facilities acquired in part with the proceeds of the refunded bonds.

6. After the requirements of subsection 5 for each fiscal year, when specific projects are authorized by the legislature, money in the capital construction fund for higher education and the special capital construction fund for higher education must be transferred by the state controller and the state treasurer to the state public works board for the construction of capital improvement projects for the University of Nevada System, including but not limited to capital improvement projects for the community colleges of the University of Nevada System. As used in this subsection, "construction" includes but is not limited to planning, design, acquiring and developing a site, construction, reconstruction, furnishing, equipping, replacing, repairing, rehabilitating, expanding and remodeling. Any money remaining in either fund at the end of a fiscal year does not revert to the general fund in the state treasury but remains in those funds for authorized expenditure.

7. The money deposited in the state distributive school account in the state general fund under this section must be apportioned as provided in NRS 387.030 among the several school districts of the state at the times and in the manner provided by law.

8. The board of regents of the University of Nevada may use any money in the capital construction fund for higher education and the special capital construction fund for higher education for the payment of interest and amortization of principal on bonds and other securities, whether issued before, on or after July 1, 1979, to defray in whole or in part the costs of any capital project authorized by the legislature.".

Amend the bill as a whole by adding a new section designated section 21, following sec. 6, to read as follows:

"Sec. 21. The legislative counsel, in preparing the supplement to the Nevada Revised Statutes, with respect to any section which is not amended by this act or is enacted or further amended by another act, shall appropriately correct, in a manner consistent with this act, any reference to the state distributive school fund.".

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 72.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Marvel and Adler.

Assemblyman Spriggs requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Assembly Bill No. 72 revises the method of calculating the maximum allowable revenue from taxes ad valorem for local governments. Assembly Bill No. 72, as amended, completely removes net proceeds from the ad valorem limitations on local governments. This will allow certain governments to use the volatile net proceeds revenue to rebuild the infrastructure, rather than to finance on-going operations. This may greatly enhance economic development efforts of many of our areas and furthermore, these governments will no longer be penalized because of unforeseen net proceeds revenue received in the prior year. This bill will cause some minor redistribution of the SCCRT revenues within each county—generally from the county to other local governments of that county. But for those cities, towns and special districts capped at the four and a half percent ad valorem limit, this will mean extra resources for each year. Also, any entity which may lose revenue because of the SCCRT redistribution, it is protected by a provision that allows an increase in the ad valorem rate or a special distribution from the SCCRT reserve fund. Assembly Bill No. 72 has been endorsed by NACO, by the League of Cities, by our Department of Taxation, and by your Committee on Taxation.

ASSEMBLYMAN ADLER:

I would just like to say I sat on Taxation and I think this is an extremely fair bill. The way we had the law before actually penalized many of the rural counties for actually having a mine because of the unpredictability of predicting what a net proceed would be in any given year.

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Bills Nos. 2, 229; Senate Bills Nos. 54, 123, 147, 210.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Price requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Congress devoted a great deal of time to reviewing reports from John Jay, the Secretary of Foreign Affairs. Jay had recommended that Congress accept the credentials of Phineas Bond as his Britannic Majesty's consul, regardless of the fact that the United States did not have a commerce treaty with England. Further, he suggested that Congress consider appointing consuls for London, Bristol, Dublin and Cork until a treaty was negotiated with England. Jay reasoned that American representatives would help trade in these port cities and perhaps speed negotiations for a more permanent treaty.

Neither George Washington nor Ben Franklin made significant contributions as delegates to the Constitutional Convention, but the mere fact that both attended and signed the final document gave a legitimacy to the Constitution that made it acceptable to many who would have otherwise been skeptical. Many scholars over the years have argued that the Constitution might well have not been ratified if these two men had not attended.

On March 31, 1870, Thomas Peterson-Menday, of Perth Amboy, New Jersey, became the first black man to vote under the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

Congress established the first United States Mint at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on April 2, 1792. The Carson City Mint was established on November 1, 1869.

Nevada's first special session of the legislature ended on April 3, 1867. Governor Henry Blasdell called the special session for the purpose of providing necessary state revenue.

The Pennsylvania Assembly today passed a bill giving John Fitch an exclusive right for 14 years to make and sell steamboats. Fitch apparently was very successful in designing, building and operating steam powered vessels, but could not seem to finance or market them, leaving the way open for Robert Fulton who came along much later.

Congress convened today with eight states fully represented. A committee resolution was introduced to address "the present deranged condition of the national revenues and numerous demands of the federal treasury." The resolution concluded, recommending the reduction of salaries of civil servants. Congress voted unanimously to adopt the report.

Today, Rufus King, who would soon represent Massachusetts in the Constitutional Convention, celebrated his 32nd birthday.

There had been a number of suggestions to strengthen the Articles of Confederation over the past few months. Today, a writer under the name of "B. Reason," offered yet another plan. In a letter to the New York Advertiser, he wrote "instead of attempting to amend the present Articles of Confederation with a view to retaining them as the form of government, would it not be preferable to distribute the states into three republics, who should enter into a perpetual league or alliance for mutual defense."

Meeting in its room on the first floor of the state house, the Pennsylvania Legislature prepared to correct an embarrassing oversight. The act of December 30 appointing delegates to the proposed federal convention had not included Benjamin Franklin, President of the Supreme Executive Council and by far the state's most eminent citizen. Today, the Assembly read for a second time and ordered printed an amendment adding Franklin to the state's delegation.

On March 23, 1961, the Twenty-third Amendment to the United States Constitution was ratified. The amendment gave the citizens of the District of Columbia the same voting rights as the rest of the citizens of the United States.

Assemblymen Thomas, Adler and Thompson moved the previous question.

Motion carried.

The question being on the passage of Assembly Bill No. 89.

Mr. Speaker requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON:

Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to the members of the house. For the freshmen, this bill has been around and a lot of us have gone down in flames on this in the past. To a lot of the older members, this will be a common argument—they've heard it all before.

We passed this bill out of the Labor and Management Committee last week with one "No" vote. I think the bill is pretty clear in what it says—it prohibits a requirement that would prohibit the use of a lie detector examination—a polygraph examination—in employment. If I may, Mr. Speaker, speak to some of the points of polygraph in general. We heard testimony in the committee that the validity of the machine is really in question. The American Medical Association, some of the best medical minds in the world, not only in the United States, but in the world, place its accuracy at between 75 and 95 percent. The Congressional Committee on Technology Assessments, which did a comprehensive study of this issue, places it between 64 and 98 percent. Oftentimes in employment, the polygraph examination is used as a sole determination of the facts. In that setting, to use that as the sole determination of the facts is wrong. I think that if you look at the study done by the Public Affairs Review prior to this session, they asked that question of people in the state and an overwhelming number of people—anywhere from 64 to 75 percent—said that polygraph examinations in employment should be banned. So, it's not just an issue that has been around these halls for a long time. I think it is now an issue that a lot of people have been hurt by.

When the polygraph is used as the sole determination of the facts, there are a couple of things that come into play. These examinations are not for free. An employer has to pay for these examinations. If a person fails the first test, it is not always economically feasible for the employer to pay for another test to clear that person. In that vein, a person is, in effect, blackballed from his job. We had people come to our committee and testify that they had been fired for money that was missing and had failed a lie detector test and now they cannot get another job. In one particular case, a young man from Reno who had worked at a local supermarket chain had gone from boxboy to manager. Some money was discovered missing and he took the test and failed it and was subsequently fired as a result of that test. He could prove that he wasn't even in the State of Nevada when the issue came up. The money was later found, but he was not reemployed. Since that time, he has not been considered for another job because he has to tell people where he has been for the past 14 years. It tends to follow you.

Nineteen states have banned the use of polygraphs in employment. New Jersey doesn't use it. There are a number of gamers in Las Vegas who don't use it and they have gotten along just fine.

Another big question with this is the constitutionality of the examination itself. I think it violates a person's constitutional rights in that the Fifth Amendment says that you don't have to self-incriminate yourself. Under the way a polygraph examination is used, you are forced to incriminate yourself. It takes away your Sixth Amendment right to confront your accusers and your right of privacy.

There is a section in the law that didn't come up until we had the subcommittee hearing on this bill that no one had really thought about. In 1981, I introduced the bill originally and it was a one-paragraph bill—as a matter of fact, it was the identical bill. It passed out 11 pages, and I think for the veterans here, they will remember the fiery time we had with that bill. It passed out as 11 pages and you can currently find those 11 pages in NRS 648 under Investigators and Related Occupations which is where polygraph examinations are regulated. Under NRS 648.189, as the law is currently written, it says, "A polygraph examination must not be conducted for" several things. One of those things, under number 2, "unless the person examined consents to it in writing." The consent to that polygraph examination in writing is a consent to waive your constitutional rights and that you are agreeing to hold the people who examine you harmless, your employer harmless, and, in effect, you have signed your rights away. A lot of the waivers say that you understand that if you refuse to sign the waiver that you lose your job—that it is a basis for termination. So, under that section of law, there is no choice, you either sign it and take the test, or you don't sign it and lose your job. If you sign it, you are signing away your constitutional rights. I personally think that the State of Nevada does not have the authority to do away with someone's constitutional rights—especially on an issue like this.

This bill came out of committee with one dissenting vote and the person who voted against it indicated that they were going to vote for the bill on the floor. I would urge its passage because there have been so many people hurt from this machine as it is used in employment. I cannot begin to tell you the people who have called me, not only from the lower end of the scale, but executives, who said that their lives have been ruined and they are suspect even though they may not have lost their job, they are now a suspect for everything that happens. So I would urge, Mr. Speaker, a "do pass."

ASSEMBLYMAN TEBBS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Since the previous speaker brought up the fact that there was a "No" vote and that that person probably would vote for the bill on the floor, I felt that perhaps I should stand up and explain that.

In the hearings on the bill we received testimony from the police department in Las Vegas that they have been using the polygraph as a tool to try and weed out the potential bad applicants. They also gave testimony that the fact that a person who has a desire to apply for a job in the police department knows that they have to take a polygraph test, it stops potential bad officers from applying. However, I also made the statement in committee on the day that we voted on the bill that that was my only concern with the bill. I have had enough personal experience with the polygraph in my own family to know the undue pressure that one is put under when they are mandated by an employer to take the test.

Even though I did vote against the bill in committee, I intend to vote for the bill here. The fact that we were not able to amend the bill to allow the Police Department to continue to use the polygraph, it will not stop me from voting for the bill. I would encourage the other members to vote for it also.

ASSEMBLYMAN BANNER:

Mr. Speaker. I have been in the legislature for a while and I feel it incumbent on me to speak on this bill.

Assemblyman Thompson has outlined this bill very well about three times in Room 131, and he has done a really good job. He's done all the research and I think I should back him up having been the chairman of that committee at those times the polygraph bill has been considered.

Since the 1981 session, I feel that I have heard and read about everything relative to this polygraph issue. The people who testify in favor of the use of this contraption always acknowledge they are not 100 percent accurate. They acknowledge that. They do not even seem to be concerned about any harm done to those innocent or wrongly accused people. Those people who may, in fact, be telling the truth. That concerns me—that someone may be falsely accused when they are innocent.

The proponents of the polygraph use said they believed that the tests were maybe 90 percent accurate—not accurate. They said this without taking a polygraph test themselves. The question I had as chairman of the committee is, "Were they telling the truth?", because I wasn't subjecting them to the polygraph—and maybe I should.

As legislators we are required to listen to those people who make statements and determine who is telling the truth. That is our skill—that is what we are supposed to do. And, if you are hiring someone, you should be skilled in that. If you are a personnel officer, you should be skilled or you shouldn't have the job. We do research, we investigate and we make decisions of great importance and we do it without the polygraph. Should we use the polygraph for those people who testify before us? I was thinking about that in our last hearing. Decisions concerning the merits of our bills could be done by machines, not legislators. If we make a mistake, we'll take the attitude they had, "So what?" We could say, "Maybe we made a mistake, sorry the polygraph is just a tool."

ASSEMBLYMAN SPINELLO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of Assembly Bill No. 89. One of the most pressing and troubling dilemmas we face as legislators in the modern world is reconciling our principles and our technology. It should not be that troubling. The most basic tenet of our system is that there are certain inviolate rights to which every individual is entitled. These rights are not granted by the government, and certainly not by the employer. They are simply a right of birth.

Assembly Bill No. 89 speaks to one of the most fundamental of these rights. For certainly if we have the right to be secure in our homes, then we have the right to be secure in our person. Passage of this bill will end a practice that has become far too widespread to the detriment of the individual. This is not liberal, this is not conservative; it is not Democrat or Republican, it is simply a right and it is high time. I urge passage.

ASSEMBLYMAN NEVIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to this body, I rise in support of Assembly Bill No. 89. As a retired police officer of 23 years, I have seen the polygraph used and misused for different investigations. I have always felt that the polygraph should never be used for background investigation of police officers. They should have that expertise and find out that information by contacting other people. But, it goes a lot deeper than that. It goes to a person's right. I don't think anyone should be put in a position where they have a job and the employer walks up and says, "Today it is your turn to take the polygraph because we want you to take it. We have no reason, we just think it is a good idea today." I am opposed to that and I don't think anyone should have to work under those conditions. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN DUBOIS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I support the bill. I have been wrestling with this subject since the Assemblyman from Henderson introduced it in 1981. I have studied quite a bit on it over the years and I have drawn the conclusion that it is not accurate as a tool if it is only anywhere from 40 to 80 percent accurate depending on what research you look at. If I had any kind of assurance that this would only be used as a tool for hiring and firing, that would be another matter, but we have no assurance that it will only be used as a tool, and because of that there are obviously many injustices which occur. I urge support of this bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In a time-honored tradition of seven terms now, I rise again as we have done almost every year to support this bill and this concept against a polygraph.

I guess since the beginning of time, depending on which philosophy you subscribe to, man has been searching for some means to determine the truth of another man's statement. Adam and Eve, or the aborigines who had a method of determining the truth where they brewed up some type of a concoction and a person would put their hand into it and if the fingers fell off, they were not telling the truth. It was all in the mind, but it was something that they actually ascribed and did. Lovers have always attempted to find the truth from the other; parents from children; legislators are constantly attempting to learn the truth from lobbyists.

I was appalled to read the transcript of a Gaming Control Board hearing earlier—I say earlier, but I mean in 1986—where one of our Gaming Control Board members attempted to badger an applicant from New Jersey, who was attempting to be, and at this time is, licenced here—badgered him because that applicant did not intend to use the polygraph as an employer tool in Nevada first of all because it was against his principles, and secondly because they did not use, and did not need it, in their New Jersey operations.

With all due respect to the police officers, and any other employee, the threat of a polygraph may, in fact, for all I know, turn away some employee who might not be a good employee. But I would suggest that it also turns away potential good employees who, on principle, would not subject themselves to the indignity of a polygraph test as part of an employer-employee relationship. By the way, I have no objection to using the polygraph as a tool as part of a criminal investigation. And that is all it is ever used as—it is not admissible in and of itself in our state in court, only upon the consent of the accused, and even then it is not always admitted.

I can think of at least one property on the strip that has become so paranoid in the repeated use of the polygraph that I had one of their employees report to me about three months ago that a person whose job it was to schedule what shift you were on was actually subjected to a polygraph test because someone said that they had been scheduled on the wrong shift because the scheduler didn't like them—that sort of thing. We are not talking about stealing, we are not talking about dishonesty, we are talking about scheduling your work shift—and I find that ridiculous. At any rate, again, I rise in support of this legislation and I hope that this year we can get it all the way through.

ASSEMBLYMAN ADLER:

I rise in reluctant support of this bill because I would like there to be a law enforcement exception. I think there has been some misconception as to how law enforcement agencies use the polygraph. I have been involved in a number of internal investigations when I worked for the state and essentially we only used it to clear someone's name and if someone was to be terminated or disciplined, then there had to be independent evidence and the polygraph could not be introduced as evidence to show that someone was guilty of an offense. So, I think that the law enforcement contacts have been fairly used at least by the State of Nevada. I do agree with many of the other comments made by the other speakers, so I will be supporting Assembly Bill No. 89.

ASSEMBLYMAN WISDOM:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, to this most honorable body. I rise in support of this bill, Assembly Bill No. 89. I worked within the hotel and gaming industry. Many of my constituents who work in that industry also are without work at this very moment. They have been out of work for anywhere from 18 months to three years due to the effects of this polygraph. It is not very valid and therefore I rise in support of this bill. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

Mr. Speaker, I supported this bill in committee and I support it on the floor.

Mr. Speaker pro Tem and members of the Assembly. It is certainly my privilege today to have Mrs. Johnson here with me. We have been friends since I first started to serve in the Assembly.

I became acquainted with Leo in my first session here in the legislature in 1967. His wife was already here as a long-time employee of the legislature and she still remains with us.

After I got elected in the Comstock in 1972, we became very closely acquainted and enjoyed many good talks about the development of Gold Hill and Silver City and Virginia City as well as all of western Nevada.

Leo was a brother of mine in Lodge and in Eastern Star as well as in other areas. He was a highly respected man in Virginia City and had the high respect of all the business people in that community and on the hill.

We want to extend our sympathy to Lavelle who has been with us all these years. On behalf of the Assembly we want to present this resolution in memory of Mr. Johnson for the family to have.

Lavelle, we extend our sympathy to you and it is certainly great to have you with us.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 327.

Bill read third time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Ways and Means:

Amendment No. 333.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 1 and 2 as sections 2 and 3 and adding a new section designated section 1, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. NRS 120A.160 is hereby amended to read as follows:

120A.160 The following property held or owing by a banking or financial organization or by a business association is presumed abandoned:

1. Any demand, savings or matured time deposit or other certificate of deposit with a banking organization, together with any interest or dividend thereon, excluding any charges that may lawfully be withheld, including a deposit that is automatically renewable, and any money paid toward the purchase of a share, a mutual investment certificate or any other interest in a banking or financial organization, unless the owner has within 5 years:

(a) In the case of a deposit, increased or decreased the amount of the deposit, or presented the passbook or other similar evidence of the deposit for the crediting of interest;

(b) Communicated in writing with the banking organization concerning the property;

(c) Otherwise indicated an interest in the property as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the banking or financial organization;

(d) Owned other property to which paragraph (a), (b) or (c) applies and if the banking or financial organization communicates in writing with the owner with regard to the property that would otherwise be presumed abandoned under this subsection at the address to which communications regarding the other property regularly are sent; or

(e) Had another relationship with the banking or financial organization concerning which the owner has:

(1) Communicated in writing with the banking or financial organization; or

(2) Otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the banking or financial organization and if the banking or financial organization communicates in writing with the owner with regard to the property that would otherwise be abandoned under this subsection at the address to which communications regarding the other relationship regularly are sent.

For the purposes of this subsection, "property" includes interest and dividends.

2. Any property described in subsection 1 that is automatically renewable is matured for purposes of subsection 1 upon the expiration of its initial time period, but in the case of any renewal to which the owner consents at or about the time of renewal by communicating in writing with the banking or financial organization or otherwise indicating consent as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the organization, the property is matured upon the expiration of the last time period for which consent was given. If, at the time provided for delivery in NRS 120A.320, a penalty or forfeiture in the payment of interest would result from the delivery of the property, the time for delivery is extended until the time when no penalty or forfeiture would result.

3. Any sum payable on a check certified in this state or on a written instrument issued in this state on which a banking or financial organization or business association is directly liable, including any draft or [money order,] cashier's check, which has been outstanding for more than [7 years from] 5 years after the date it was payable, or [from] after the date of its issuance if payable on demand, or any sum payable on a money order which has been outstanding for more than 7 years after its issuance, or any sum payable on a traveler's check which has been outstanding for more than 15 years [from] after the date of its issuance, unless the owner has within the specified period corresponded in writing with the banking or financial organization or business association concerning it, or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the banking or financial organization or business association.

4. Any money or other personal property, tangible or intangible, removed from a safe-deposit box or any other safekeeping repository on which the lease or rental period has expired because of nonpayment of rental charges or other reason, or any surplus amounts arising from the sale thereof pursuant to law, that have been unclaimed by the owner for more than 5 years from the date on which the lease or rental period expired. A safe-deposit box for which no rent is charged or which is provided to the user because of a specific amount deposited with a banking or financial organization or business association is presumed abandoned at the same time as the account for which it was given.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 3 through 12 as sections 5 through 14 and adding a new section designated sec. 4, following sec. 2, to read as follows:

"Sec. 4. NRS 120A.220 is hereby amended to read as follows:

120A.220 All intangible personal property held for the owner by any court, public corporation, public authority or public officer [of this state,] , an appointee thereof, a federal or state governmental entity or a political subdivision thereof, that has remained unclaimed by the owner for more than [7 years is presumed abandoned.] 5 years after it became payable or distributable is presumed abandoned and subject to the provisions of this chapter if:

1. The last known address or residence of the owner of the property is in this state; or

2. The property is otherwise abandoned in this state.

This section does not apply to refunds held by the public service commission of Nevada pursuant to NRS 703.374.".

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Bill No. 333; Senate Bills Nos. 113, 211.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Fay requested that Assemblyman Price's remarks be entered in the Journal.

During this week in 1787, the Board of Treasury reported to Congress on the plan for selling western lands (western, in those days meant Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Kentucky). Of 657,000 acres surveyed, one-seventh was reserved for veterans of the late war. The land was to be advertised four months in advance and was to be sold for not less than $1 per acre.

James Robertson of Nashville, Tennessee, wrote to William Blount, North Carolina member of Congress: "On my return to this country, I find it involved in a war with the Chickamaguas which seems to threaten the most disagreeable consequences and without some timely assistance I fear will be productive of the ruin of the settlement. I beg you will use all your influence with the Governor to forward out some immediate assistance as I have no hopes of getting peace by any other means than by carrying the war into the Indian country."

In June 1784, North Carolina ceded its western lands to the United States. Residents of the area, comprising the present counties of Green, Sullivan and Washington in Tennessee, met and erected a new state. At a meeting in Greenville, John Sevier was elected Governor, courts were established, taxes levied, laws enacted and a constitution adopted. The citizens named their new state after the venerable Benjamin Franklin. Applying to Congress for recognition and admission to the Confederation, the citizens were shocked to learn the Confederation was not interested. The State of Franklin passed out of existence in 1788. The land reverted to North Carolina jurisdiction and became a part of Tennessee when that state was established.

The Seventeenth Amendment was ratified on April 8, 1913, allowing for popular election of United States Senators. As more people became eligible to vote, the idea of electing senators in the same way as representatives gained support, prompting the call for this amendment.

April 6, 1917, the United States declared war on Germany. President Woodrow Wilson had been elected on a platform of "He kept us out of war," but three months after his election, German submarines began sinking American merchant ships. Almost two million men volunteered for service, and approximately three million men were drafted. World War I ended in an Allied victory with an Armistice signed on November 11, 1918.

By Assemblymen Bergevin, Sedway, Dini, Carpenter, Marvel, Getto, Spriggs, Humke and Nicholas:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 39—Proposing to amend the Nevada constitution to establish a tax on the net proceeds of minerals extracted at rates separate from the tax on property.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 1 of article 10 be amended and a new section be added to article 10 of the constitution of the State of Nevada to read respectively as follows:

Section 1. 1. The legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims, [when not patented, the proceeds alone of] which shall be assessed and taxed [, and when patented, each patented mine shall be assessed at not less than five hundred dollars ($500), except when one hundred dollars ($100) in labor has been actually performed on such patented mine during the year, in addition to the tax upon the net proceeds.] only as provided in section 5 of this article.

2. Shares of stock, bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The legislature may constitute agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used, as a separate class for taxation purposes and may provide a separate uniform plan for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such plan is provided, the legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

7. No inheritance tax shall ever be levied.

8. The legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

Sec. 5. 1. As used in this section:

(a) "Gross proceeds" means the total revenue received from the sale of a mineral or the equivalent value if the mineral, in a form ready for sale, is otherwise used by its extracter. In the case of a geothermal resource, it means the value of the energy produced plus any byproduct.

(b) "Net proceeds" means the gross proceeds minus the cost of extracting the mineral and preparing it for sale. In the case of a geothermal resource, the deductions to be allowed include the cost of generating any energy sold or otherwise used by the producer.

2. The legislature shall levy a tax upon the net proceeds of all minerals, including oil, gas and other hydrocarbons, and all geothermal resources, extracted in this state, at the rates provided in this section. No other tax may be imposed upon a mineral or geothermal resource so taxed until its identity as such is lost.

3. The rate of tax depends upon the ratio of the net proceeds to the gross proceeds resulting from each geographically separate extractive or geothermal operation as a whole, according to the following table:

Net proceeds as percentage of gross proceeds	Rate of tax as percentage of net proceeds
Less than 10	2
10 or more but less than 13.5	2.25
13.5 or more but less than 17	2.5
17 or more but less than 20.5	2.75
20.5 or more but less than 24	3
24 or more but less than 27.5	3.25
2.75 or more but less than 31	3.5
31 or more but less than 34.5	3.75
34.5 or more but less than 38	4
38 or more but less than 42	4.25
42 or more but less than 46	4.5
46 or more but less than 50	4.75
50 or more	5

4. The legislature shall appropriate to each county that sum which would be produced by levying a tax upon the entire amount of the net proceeds taxed in each taxing district in the county at the rate levied in that district upon the assessed valuation of real property. The total amount so appropriated to each county must be apportioned among the respective governmental units and districts within it, including the county itself and the school district, in the same proportion as they share in the total taxes collected on property according to value.

5. Each patented mining claim must be assessed and taxed as other real property is assessed and taxed, except that no value may be attributed to any mineral or geothermal resource known or believed to underlie it, and no value may be attributed to the surface if one hundred dollars' worth of labor has been actually performed on the claim during the year preceding the assessment.

Assemblyman Bergevin moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Taxation.

Motion carried.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Adler requested that Assemblyman Wisdom's remarks be entered in the Journal.

As most of you who were here from the last session will recall, my predecessor was a great quoter of Thomas Jefferson. Today marks his 244th birthday and he was truly a great American.

Thomas Jefferson was born on this day at Chadwell, Virginia. His adult home at Monticello was not far removed from his birthplace. Jefferson is remembered in many ways: author of the Declaration of Independence, scholar, political philosopher, scientist, inventor, foreign ambassador, Secretary of State, Vice President and third President of these United States.

Mr. Jefferson also is remembered as the first President to actively promote the western expansion of the United States through both the Louisiana Purchase and the Lewis and Clark expeditions.

And, I want to tell you that that is the last you'll hear about Thomas Jefferson this session from me.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Natural Resources, Agriculture and Mining:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 40—Proposing to amend section 1 of article 10 of the Nevada Constitution to allow the proceeds of mines to be exempted from general taxation ad valorem if a separate tax ad valorem is imposed.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 1 of article 10 of the constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. 1. The legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except [mines and mining claims, when not patented, the proceeds alone of which shall be assessed and taxed, and when patented, each] the proceeds of mines which may be taxed as provided in subsection 6. Each patented mine shall be assessed at not less than five hundred dollars ($500), except when one hundred dollars ($100) in labor has been actually performed on such patented mine during the year, in addition to the tax upon the [net] proceeds.

2. Shares of stock, bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The legislature may constitute agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used, as a separate class for taxation purposes and may provide a separate uniform plan for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such plan is provided, the legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The legislature may exempt the proceeds of mines from the tax required by this section, and in lieu thereof shall provide for a tax ad valorem upon the proceeds so exempted. The amount of the tax so imposed must not exceed five cents on each dollar of the assessed valuation of the mineral or ore extracted.

7. The legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

[7.] 8. No inheritance tax shall ever be levied.

[8.] 9. The legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As you all know, this is Kiwanis Day at the legislature and it is my privilege and pleasure as a Kiwanian to just briefly tell you that it is without question one of the finest service organizations in the whole world.

The Kiwanis Club here in Carson City is an extremely active service club—one of many active service clubs. But, the Kiwanis Club is probably the most active. I think it is safe to say that of the many projects the Kiwanis Club of Carson City does, that the Senior Citizens Center here would probably still be a figment of someone's imagination if it were not for the Kiwanis Club.

Assemblyman Carpenter moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Carpenter, Nicholas, Haller, Brookman and Getto.

Assemblyman Nevin requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. "Snowy" served three terms in the Assembly and eight terms in the Senate. Those of us who knew Snowy appreciated his accomplishments for Nevada and especially Elko County. Those of you who didn't know him, I think, would have appreciated his candor and his humor.

There really isn't much more that can be said about Snowy, except that he was a great person and a great friend to all of us. I urge your support for this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. About a week and a half before Senator Monroe died, our Natural Resources Committee met in Elko and had a dinner there and I sat next to him. I had talked to him fairly often in the past, and although we weren't friends, I had an awful lot of respect for the man.

I recall his closing words after an excellent conversation with him over the period of the evening. He was obviously tiring slightly and he said, "Let's stop the bull, it's time to go home." He was a fine man.

ASSEMBLYMAN HALLER:

Mr. Speaker, Snowy Monroe was also a great Democrat. I can remember many instances over the past 20 years when we would be hot and heavy about something and Snowy would stand up as the senior and be the guy who put the cap on problems by saying something that would calm down the hot spirits. It happened more than once. The last time I had a lot of business with him we ran the Democratic Convention in Elko. He was co-chairman. It was one of the best Democratic Conventions we have ever had.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROOKMAN:

Yes, Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to the members of the Assembly. I had the pleasure of serving with Snowy. Although our philosophy differed many times, he was a great man. I, too, got to see Snowy on our Agriculture and Mining trip. It was good to see him. I gave him regards from all the old ones like May, Dini, Getto, and the others who had the pleasure of serving with him. He appreciated that. I appreciated him and I think the state will have a great loss.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, knew Snowy for many years and I also saw him when the Natural Resources, Agriculture and Mining Committee was in Elko. I saw him very briefly and I didn't get to talk to him when we were in Elko.

Snowy was a great man. He represented his district very capably. He was outspoken; he was a newsman. I remember some of his comments. One of Snowy's characteristics was that he didn't like to waste a lot of time on the highway. He thought that was a pure waste, so the faster he could get from Elko to Carson City, the better he liked it. He was usually a streak through some of the rural communities. I don't think he got caught too many times—he was able to outrun them.

Another comment that I think will be remembered for many years was when one of our colleagues who is still down at the other end of this building couldn't make up his mind which way to vote over a very controversial issue, Senator Snowy Monroe told him, "Will you quit straddling the fence or you'll get some splinters in your ass."

Mr. Speaker, I am happy to rise in support of the resolution. It was indeed a flag day for Nevada when UNLV hit the road to New Orleans. Unfortunately they didn't spend too much time there, but the road that put them there was a thrill and a treat for all of us, particularly those of us from southern Nevada who are devotees of this great team. They will be back next year bigger and better than ever. This time we are going to go all the way. We ask your support.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 21.

Assemblyman Jeffrey moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Carpenter, Getto, Brookman, Craddock and May.

Assemblyman Nevin requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It looks like today is memory day for Elko County. Roy Young truly exemplified the roll of a cowboy legislator. He was always willing to look at all issues. He always recognized that there are always two sides to every story.

Roy was my neighbor in Elko. Our ranches adjoined. He was one of the first persons in Elko who encouraged me to get into politics. He was a real dear friend and we are all going to miss him.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Mr. Speaker, I, too, served with Roy. He was one of my mentors. I remember Roy's faith and strength. You never found Roy feeling weak about anything. He was very outspoken and as my colleague stated, he always viewed both sides.

Roy served as chairman of Ways and Means more than once. He was truly a true western cowboy, a rancher, a fellow who made his own way in this world and he leaves a great legacy. We are going to miss him.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROOKMAN:

Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to the members of this Assembly. I, too, had the pleasure in the old building of sitting next to Roy, Fransway, all of our old buddies who sat in the back—which we called "Tortilla Flats"—good old boys as they were. But, they included me in their group with Papa Viani, Mr. Speaker and Getto.

It is sad to stand here today and have memorializing for two old, good buddies. They were great guys and I will miss them as will the state.

ASSEMBLYMAN CRADDOCK:

Mr. Speaker, to you and to the members. In Mr. Young's concluding remarks before he left these halls for his final time, he characterized several members of the Assembly and he compared them with predecessors. In concluding, the very last words that he said were, "I leave the State in good hands." I truly know he felt that to be the way it was. He expressed a great deal of confidence in the process and I think it would currently behoove us all to recognize that he felt that way about us and see to it that his tradition carries through as long as we are here.

ASSEMBLYMAN MAY:

Mr. Speaker, as I stand today in memory of Roy Young, it is perhaps indicative of the change that is occurring throughout Nevada. Today we are paying tribute to two of our former legislators, one from each house, both from Elko County, who added in their own distinct ways a great deal to the history that is now a part of Nevada. The state is changing, but I guess the question remains, "Is it changed for the better?", because those gentlemen both served, as it's difficult to serve today.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 289.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Arberry, Sedway, Nevin, Porter, Lambert, Nicholas, Banner, May, Wisdom, Humke, Haller, Brookman, Marvel, Price, Garner, Bergevin, Gaston, Adler, Getto, Thomas, Sader and Spinello.

Assemblyman Brookman requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The purpose of Assembly Bill No. 289 is stated quite clearly in the bill itself in Section 19. First and foremost, it is intended to promote equal access to quality medical care in Nevada at an affordable cost. This is the basic goal all of the programs established in the bill are trying to achieve. The bill proposes to reach this goal by controlling excessive revenues and profits at some hospitals in the state and by implementing the programs necessary to ensure that the competition will finally have a chance to work in the hospital industry.

The first major component of Assembly Bill No. 289 is the maximum bill charge program. In simple terms, this program will place a limit on the amount that hospitals can charge to those patients who are not covered by some form of a negotiable discount or contractual allowance. The hospital industry argued against this provision by saying over and over again that between 80 to 85 percent of all hospital patients don't pay full bill charges, which, they are admitting, are very high. In other words, Assembly Bill No. 289 will provide cost containment relief to the 15 to 20 percent of Nevada hospital patients who, according to the industry, are currently paying full bill charges. It will provide that relief by placing a cap on the bill charges for those patients who need it the most.

The second major component of this bill is a revenue reduction program. This program is based on an assumption that the hospital profits which exceed 30 percent of operating expenses are intolerable when Nevadans are paying the highest hospital costs in the nation. Under this program, those hospitals who are making such outrageous profits will be required to reduce the monies that they are collecting from each patient by five percent in the first year. If, and only if, these hospitals fail to reduce their revenues by this amount, they will be required to pay a penalty. This is the only program on the table which will result in actual reduction in the amount paid in some hospitals by patients and payers.

The third major component of Assembly Bill No. 289 deals with the indigent care issues and requires each large hospital in our urban areas to provide some indigent care free of charge. It establishes a uniform definition of medical indigency and a uniform payment schedule for indigent care which will assure equal access to the needy medical care for all Nevadans without regard to their financial status.

Assembly Bill No. 289 also prohibits such anti-competitive practices as the provision of a kick-back for patient referrals and the use of intercooperative relationships to high profits and expenses. The bill gives corporate state agencies authority to collect the information needed to monitor all aspects of the bill and to examine the records of the hospitals to ensure compliance.

This bill accomplishes all of this without adding a new layer of state bureaucracy. It uses existing county level administration programs as a key component of the indigent care program. It uses the existing Public Service Commission with its high degree of expertise in addressing economic issues to establish the financial rates required by the bill. It is, in fact, extremely well thought out, a well designed innovative approach to health care cost containment. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN SEDWAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Assembly Bill No. 289 is an abomination. It should not be presented to this body. Its drafting is mediocre. The author of this bill is certainly unskilled in knowledge of what is necessary to provide adequate health care at a reasonable cost to the people of the State of Nevada.

During the last campaign and a few years previous, we have all had conversations with citizens and constituents who have complained about the health care costs in the State of Nevada. We are number one. We are not proud of that, but this bill presented before you does not adequately address the issue.

I was originally going to go through this bill one line at a time to point out to you the deficiencies and inadequacies in Assembly Bill No. 289. I'm not going to do that for the simple reason that there is no sense wasting your time on it when we know the outcome. But, I must take the time to point out some deficiencies as I see them and give you a perspective going back over two years.

At the end of the 1985 session, I was appointed to a committee chaired by my colleague from Clark County, Senator Ray Rawson, and composed of members of this body as well as State Senators. My good friend of Incline Village, my friend from Washoe County and others served on the committee. We spent 18 months addressing the issue of high health care costs in the State of Nevada. We went into it in great depth. We held 18 meetings and took testimony all over the state—in the urban and in the rural areas as well. Out of that committee came a report and 51 recommendations incorporated into 32 bill drafts, some of which have been presented in this house and some in the State Senate. Very little attention has been paid to these recommendations. We know that we must do something to reduce health care costs which are exorbitant and hit that portion of the population which can least afford it. But, Assembly Bill No. 289 does not do that. It is a piece of vindictive legislation which is addressed more towards hurting those same people than helping them.

My good friend, the Chairman of the Health and Welfare Committee, made comments about that 15 to 20 percent of the people who are uninsured and uncovered at this time. This bill is not going to help them—it is not going to help them one bit. It will, in some form, hurt those 80 to 85 percent of the people who are now covered by negotiated rates. Look out, look out for what this bill will do to those people who have coverage under a negotiated plan because it will damage those severely. Those 80 to 85 percent of the people who are now covered will be hurt drastically. If you listen to the comments of those people who are involved in health plans under negotiated rates, they express real considerable doubt about what is going to happen to them.

This plan does not address the indigent. It does not do what we did. The institutions which are now under attack will actually have to go out and advertise—advertise—to get the indigent to come to their institution. Extend that—what is an owner of an institution which has a negotiated rate going to say when he sees "Hospital X" advertising to bring the indigent into his institution when he is paying the health care costs of his employees? "Please come into my institution so that I can meet the quota that has been assigned to me at no cost." And you are sitting in your office and you have a thousand people working for you and you say, "I'm paying them 'X' number of dollars and they are trying to bring people in at no cost." Think about that one.

Until the amendment offered by my colleague from Washoe County, the Speaker and my majority leader, nothing in that plan addressed the need of the senior citizen—nothing. The package of bills that came out of our interim committee addressed the issue of the senior citizen. This one at this last moment barely addresses it.

If any of you had the opportunity to read Sunday's Gazette-Journal, you would have read the story of a family doctor in Blackfoot, Idaho, who told about the changes in medicine that have gone on in the last 54 years from the time his father practiced medicine and he practiced medicine. He told about the miracles that have occurred—of people who went blind from cataracts because there was no technique or technology or instrumentation which could deal with it at that time. There were no CAT scans. There were no MRIs. There was no sophisticated laser techniques. These things come from capital investment. These things bring modern medicine and health care to our community—and they are not cheap! The average cost of new technology runs between two and five million dollars per technique or instrument. Where is this going to come from? It is not going to be there because you have to take the chance to put that money in. Is it better to spend $5,000 for a cataract operation that takes 45 minutes and allows you to go home and resume your normal daily activities without any interruption, any hospitalization or any inconvenience as opposed to what happened 25 years ago where you may have paid $400 and laid in a bed with your head between two sand bags for two weeks and then spent the rest of your life wearing corrective lenses which look like the proverbial Coke bottle which limited your ability to operate in our society? The money is insignificant when you think of the life that you lead.

The things that are in Assembly Bill No. 289 will not—will not—take care of our rising health care costs and its attendant problems. I resent the fact that we are going to send the State Senate a piece of legislation which is terrible, which is flawed, and hope that they will clean it up! I'm not going to vote for this bill. Nobody wants health care costs to come down more than I do. There is nobody in this room—nobody—who would say that the hospitals in this state have not made exorbitant profits and that their profits must come down. There is nobody in this state who would not act in some way to do that. But, this is not the piece of legislation which will do it! The author of this bill should be ashamed of the way he did this. They tell you it has no fiscal impact and I tell you that it is an out-and-out bald-faced lie! In the budget of the health care cost containment department they have taken a fee which is $45,000 in each of the last two years and increased it ten-fold to $450,000 for each year of the biennium or almost one million dollars—the cost of which is borne by the premium payers of health insurance. Now, they are going to say that is in the budget. I don't care if it is in the budget, it's still one million dollars that the people in the State of Nevada are paying for health care insurance that they are paying for to take care of the cost of this bill! Maybe one million dollars isn't much to some people, but we are paying for it out of our budget.

The Public Service Commission is not adequately staffed nor are they able to make considerate decisions in the area of health care without the expenditure of more money. You put a price tag of $22,000 for that process and that is ridiculous! My friend, the Chairman of the Public Service Commission is a very bright, intelligent, learned person, but he has no knowledge of how health care is provided. The portion of this bill which deals with setting of the rates using the diagnostic related groups applies to the elderly. It is set up by the Federal government to set their Medicare rates. There are 472 different diagnostic-related groups. Each institution in this state must be judged on the basis of a set of criteria applied to each of those 472 BRGs, and that is going to cost nothing? It's going to cost something. It's going to cost $10, $500 or $5,000 per institution.

There are other portions of this bill which I find offensive. I could go through them one line at a time, but it is not going to do one bit of good. All I can tell you is that I know that this bill is going to pass this house and we should be ashamed to pass it out of here to try to put the burden to clean this up on someone else. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN NEVIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to the Chairman of Health and Welfare, I have a question. On HMOs, these were originally designed to keep the costs of health care down by negotiating with hospitals before they have the people ending up in the hospital without insurance or improper insurance. Was any HMO taken into consideration as a rate base to encourage HMOs to give possible rewards to those people who do that?

ASSEMBLYMAN PORTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The bill specifically on page five, lines 11 through 13 addresses this issue. That was the amendment that allowed HMOs and people to negotiate a different rate, if I understand Mr. Nevin's question.

ASSEMBLYMAN LAMBERT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have a question to the Chairman of Health and Welfare or someone on the committee.

On page four, line 15 of section 22, sub three—what types of services are specifically exempted from Medicare and how will patients be billed for those services under this bill?

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

To you, Mr. Speaker, and through you to Mrs. Lambert. That is a very good question.

ASSEMBLYMAN PORTER:

I think she is referring to psychiatric and rehabilitation services—those are the two that aren't covered.

ASSEMBLYMAN LAMBERT:

How will the patients be billed for those services under this system?

ASSEMBLYMAN PORTER:

It is my understanding that the Public Service Commission would themselves determine that kind of a rate. Those are the two areas that were not covered under the Medicare BRG system. So that is the area they are going to have to look at and establish. To be truthful with you I don't know if it will be based on what other states are charging or if they will just look at what is happening within the state. Those are the two areas that you can't take a Medicare BRG rate and base it upon. That is why those two were taken out and that was said to be addressed in the amendments.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. My prime industry, the Nevada Health Care Association, nursing homes here in the state, is only mildly affected by this particular bill so I'll not spend any time talking about that particular subject matter. I will suggest, however, that over the years I have been involved in a business that does have something to do with other providers of health care and, very frankly, the passage of this particular bill through both houses and signature on the part of the Executive Branch would probably double my business. It would allow me to be involved in various areas that don't exist today. And, as a specialist in regulatory directions in health care, I can very easily see that I am going to have to hire some new personnel if this passes. The economic impact may, perhaps, not be seen directly on the governmental end, but I guarantee it will be seen in the delivery of health care.

Let me suggest to you that there are some good parts in this particular bill. I am very supportive of most of the portions having to do with 439A. There are, however, certain provisions in this bill that are the most restrictive that I have ever seen in the State of Nevada. Having been a specialist in this area for many years, having been sent by this state back in the seventies to survey the regulatory equipment in such states as Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey and Maryland, I have some knowledge in this particular field and I believe that we eclipsed them all. What I plan to do on this particular bill is to vote on it. I do not wish to send the message that this bill, alone, will do the job. A job needs to be done, but this bill won't do it and therefore I do not suggest that you vote for it. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN BANNER:

Mr. Speaker, I am not a member of the Health and Welfare Committee, so I really didn't hear all of the testimony, yet I did serve on an Interim Study Committee that had to do with the Certificate of Need. During that time we did meet with a legislative committee that was assigned two years ago to study the cost of hospitalization. When this committee, during that time, sent me a considerable amount of materials I was really impressed on the amount of work that they did. Remember this is one of our legislative committees that did a study on this particular issue and spent about a year to a year and a half and did a considerable amount of work. Being a believer in the three branches of government, I am really attached to those people who get out there and dedicated people who do all that work. I'm one of these senior citizens—I happen to be one of these guys on Medicare—so I have a concern about me and my health and my family—my wife's on Medicare—and the people that I represent as I have a lot of people who are on Medicare. These people are really concerned about these diagnostic related groups—these DGRs that they keep bringing to us. There are many problems with these things. I'm not really happy about trying to impose these provisions on the entire population.

What I am really concerned with is what everyone is talking about—prices. I have had some medical problems and I'm at that age where in a few years I won't be around—I'm fading off into the sunset. I'm concerned about the quality of care. If I was right now faced with open-heart surgery, I would go to one of these hospitals that you are trying to cut up. That is where I would go to get the best treatment, because I would want the best possible technology and the best possible care. That is what I care about. So, this particular bill doesn't do anything for me or doesn't do anything for many of the people I represent. That is, if I want to live another 20 years.

ASSEMBLYMAN MAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the measure. I intend to vote for it in its present form. I have only one question I would like to direct to the chairman or a member of the committee which reviewed the bill.

The bill is very careful, for instance on page three, section 21, line 32, to refer to counties with a population of over 100,000. Page 17, section 41, line 26 and those with less than 100,000. That also refers to counties with hospitals subject to provisions of sections 26 through 30 of the measure. All of which I can certainly agree with; however, on page 22, the last two lines of the bill use the language on 39 and 40, "in Washoe County and Clark County."

I recall once, not too many years ago, we lost a very important bill by judicial review because of those very two words—or one of them at least—which was contained in that measure. There is a constitutional prohibition, I'm sure you are aware, in Article Four of the State Constitution about passing special legislation and I would only ask if the committee had given any thought to the use of those two counties by specific names as opposed to a population reference?

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, through you to my colleague from North Las Vegas. Yes, there was some consideration during the testimony at the hearing on this bill and the reason why is because of the population dealing with Washoe County and Clark County and we didn't want to single out the small counties so that they wouldn't get caught up in the bed rating for Washoe and Clark County. That is why we distinctively set them aside.

ASSEMBLYMAN WISDOM:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to my colleagues, I rise in support of Assembly Bill No. 289. I listened through many hours of testimony along with the rest of the committee. Even though the hospitals had a very good arguing point, I felt that they did not satisfy my question as to why we were paying more than any other state in the nation. They said it was quality. When I asked if they could guarantee that we had better quality than anyone else for the rate they said, "No, but we have good quality." Well, many other states have good quality and they aren't paying near the rates that we are and I ask your support in passing this.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. There are a number of things wrong with this bill. I will only highlight one of them and that is the DRG system of controlling rates.

DRGs are a known major cost-shifting mechanism which was designed by the Federal government to control their costs. Many former Federal workers are now amused by the fact that they helped to design the DRG system because it shifted the costs to the states and to other non-Medicare patients. It is a flawed system. It happens to be, however, very well-known and theoretically is easily adaptable to a bill such as this.

There are numerous things, as I said, wrong with this bill as outlined by two previous speakers who served on the Interim Hospital Health Care Cost Containment Committee. That committee and the Health and Welfare Committee. There was a tendency this session with regard to this bill to say, "Let's let the Senate take care of the things that are wrong with this bill. Let's let them fix it."

This bill, it seems to me, is part of a major negotiation program. Right now those negotiations have broken down. I know that they will be taken up again and that this problem will be solved. But it is not right for me to vote for this bill in its present form. I will vote today on the basis that this bill will come back to us in a form that will be more positive and more effective. I will vote for such a bill and some of the other 32 measures mentioned by my Las Vegas colleague.

Finally to my colleagues I say, if you vote for this bill, fine, just so you understand it. If you do not understand this most complicated bill, and you vote for it, I feel very sorry for you. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HALLER:

Mr. Speaker, after hearing hour after hour of expert testimony on Assembly Bill No. 289, I came to a kind of conclusion that there is an awful lot of opinion and not an awful lot of facts. This session I have heard a lot more opinion and not too many facts. In fact one of my colleagues said that the author was unskilled. I feel this is one of the most skilled pieces of work I've seen for a long while. I do understand it and have read it, but I think some of the people who spoke didn't read it, nor do they understand it. It is not vindictive legislation—it is legislation that is trying to keep people from going to the poor house after they go to the hospital. It would certainly help the 15 percent who are uninsured and I'm not so sure it will particularly hurt those who have negotiated a rate. I'm part of a negotiated rate agreement and I don't want to go where they negotiated me. I think that some statement was made that it doesn't address the indigents. Right after the statement was made, it was said, "And it says here about the indigents." So, I'm kind of wondering how much thought went into that. Its fiscal impact supposedly carries a lot of hidden costs in the budget. I'm not so sure there aren't a lot of things hidden in the budget including billions of dollars in fees that I just became aware of for the Highway Department. The Public Service Commission is not adequately staffed—I don't know, I think they are about as good a group as I can think of to run this and to say that the PSC chair has no knowledge, that one is really a statement of fact that has some question to it. I would remind you, too, that DRGs are the basic beginning, not the rate set. That is perhaps one-tenth of the rate in some cases and maybe it will be 90 percent in others. I question one of my colleagues who said he is going to make a lot of money if this thing passes—I kind of hope he doesn't vote because there is some problem with that. There have been some comments about how great the committees are and all the great work that they have done. I sure wish they would have shown up with their amendments when we were considering this thing. There were a lot of amendments that I think people were presented here, but I haven't really heard much that wasn't just opinion. Again, we didn't set out to cut up the hospitals, I certainly didn't. I think the Washoe and Clark reference in the bill is, perhaps a problem, but I would submit to you that it seems to me to be somewhat transparent when we use that 100,000, 250,000 business anyway. I'm not so sure that we are here to decide what is constitutional and what isn't. I don't believe the Senate is going to fix this thing; they may try to fix it, but I hope they don't because I know many, many voters who have sent me letters who are for this thing as it stands. I urge you to support the bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROOKMAN:

Mr. Speaker, members of the Assembly. I rise in support of the bill. I am on the bill. I campaigned for this kind of legislation. I am a senior citizen and I am on Medicare and I have no qualms about voting on this. One of the main things I want to bring out to the members of this body that did not sit on our committee. As Mrs. Wisdom and many of the others said we sat on this committee week after week and day after day and hour after hour, but in the twelfth hour the hospital people came in with some amendments. We asked during all of the committee hearings for them to come forward earlier if they had a problem with the bill.

I might add that these amendments that are on this bill were worked out with the hospital people and our Division of Health and Welfare, anyone who campaigned to help seniors. I might add that on this one bill, besides the mining, this cost containment bill, I got hundreds and hundreds of letters—I don't know about you, but I certainly did—and they all urged a "Do Pass." I think it is incumbent on us to help them in their plight. Why should we be 36 percent higher than any other hospital in the United States? Are we getting better care? Everybody else has 12 percent and I think that is a good earning. Are they rushing here because we are 36 percent higher for better care? No. Our people are going out of state because other states are 12 percent. When you go into a hospital here, you know that you are paying higher than any place in the United States. This may not be the best vehicle, but it is the vehicle that is before us, and I urge a "Do Pass."

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm not against health cost containment, but, I think being the senior member on Ways and Means I am always a little bit suspect when you see a new program brought before you. I do feel there is, perhaps, a very significant fiscal impact in this bill and it hasn't been proven to me satisfactorily yet what the full impact will be.

I would like to address this to the chairman: Section 21 calls for the appointment or contract for a public hearings officer. I would like to know, in your estimation, what this is going to cost?

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to my colleague from the cow counties, I don't have a direct figure for what you are asking—for that, but that will be presented with the audit and everything will be taken care of through the hospitals.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Mr. Chairman, I would like to know what the cost would be now, before I vote on the bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

To you, Mr. Speaker, and through you to my colleague. At this point in time, there isn't any cost.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be rising in support of the bill; however, I am not sure that Mr. May's question was adequately answered; I was quickly trying to find it in our Nevada Constitution. If I can restate it, in the past there have been a number of times and I can think of one specific time when we attempted consolidation of a city and county where when the county was mentioned specifically or in that case even where population figures had been used and later amended, the amendment process indicated that the bill treated different counties differently for the same purpose and that concerns me a little bit. I'm not sure that Mr. May's question was answered properly. Was there, for example, an opinion by our Legislative Counsel on that particular point? Other than that, my only fear is having the Senate fix anything of ours because I haven't had much luck with those guys even with good bills this year.

ASSEMBLYMAN GARNER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I want to rise in support of Assembly Bill No. 289. I hold in my hand a piece of correspondence that members of the committee have received. I am not going to say what company it is from, but I just want to read to you what it says and I want to say something about the DRGs; I have some information in front of me. This company has stated through the years that they have been paying their own medical benefits for injured employees and they have seen health care costs escalate far too rapidly. Therefore, as one of the largest employers in the state, they wish to support legislation which has the potential for containing health care costs. They then specifically say Assembly Bill No. 289 is an example of such legislation. Authors of this bill, and this is not Val Garner speaking, it is from this letter, "Authors of this bill are to be congratulated in putting together a legislative bill directed at containing hospital costs. The health care expense which consumes the most of our health care dollars."

We have heard a lot about DRGs—diagnostic related groups—and we heard during testimony that it would be difficult for hospitals to make a profit and yet I have in front of me an article that gives this kind of information: In a recent study of 236 hospitals the man who did the study found that a 1,008 bed facility in Ohio made $30.3 million on a $98.7 million dollar Medicare revenue. To make a long story short, their profits were 43 percent. Now the very system that was put in place by the Federal government to help control high health care costs isn't working and there is a great debate on the national level as to what to do about that. That same system is in place today.

I want to say a word or two about the 80 to 85 percent of the people who are covered under Medicare—which leaves 15 percent that are not. I want to submit to you that those 15 percent are only those who show up at the hospital for help. And when I asked the question, "Do we know how many people are out there that don't show up at the hospital who are not covered by any kind of Medicare or negotiated break?" And, of course, we didn't get an answer to that. We have no idea how many people are out there who are not covered by a negotiated rate or are covered under Medicare. I want to submit to you that I know a lot of people leave this state to get hospital care elsewhere because they cannot afford it in this state. I urge passage of Assembly Bill No. 289.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, am committed to supporting a health care cost containment bill. This bill is not the one that I can support. I have made a commitment to my people that when a good bill came before this legislative body to adequately help with the hospital bills of the elderly people who need it the very worst that I would support it. Under testimony that was given in the committee which I have been reading about and have been privy to, it is obvious that some of the very people that we intend to help are not going to be helped. I, too, have received those hundreds of letters from old people. This body was accused by one of the former speakers that we hadn't even read the bill and didn't understand it. I wonder how many of those people writing those letters to us understood what this bill says. I seriously doubt if any of them have ever read this bill. I intend when we get a bill before this body that is an honorable bill and one that actually does help contain the cost to the people of the State of Nevada that I will suppport that.

I have a couple of questions that I would like to ask anybody on the committee.

Under this bill, we cap hospital profits at ten percent before taxes. The only other industry in the State of Nevada we restrict profits are those regulated by the Public Service Commission where we guarantee a rate of return of 15 percent. My question is two-fold: Why are utilities allowed 15 percent for their investors while hospitals are only allowed ten? And, secondly, by imposing the ceiling, aren't we actually imposing a floor?

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to Mr. Bergevin. That ten percent is not a cap. That ten percent is just a starting point for the hospitals to work with, but there isn't a cap at ten percent—that is the misnomenclature of the bill. It appears that everyone feels we are putting a cap on the hospitals and the bill doesn't say we are capping the hospitals at ten percent.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

What does the bill say, Mr. Arberry?

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

The bill states that the ten percent is exactly a level that will be reached and then from that point on the hospital will have a level to be able to work with the PSC and also the hospital will have a level to work with that ten percent—it is not a cap.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

Fine. I have one more question and then another comment. To avoid making more than the allowable profit, what is to prevent a hospital to simply overstate their expenses. I think there is a real incentive for inefficency in the hospital industry here.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to Mr. Bergevin. You say, overstating their profits?

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

Their expenses.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Their expenses? Well I have to give it to you straight, Mr. Bergevin. In the audit it should show all the expenses that the hospital has disbursed.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

What do you propose to carry the audits on with; what people will carry the audits and will they not cost a considerable amount of money?

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Through you, Mr. Speaker, to Mr. Bergevin. The audits are already being done and implemented through the Human Resources Division. The audits have to be provided to the Human Resources Division as it stands right now. This is something that they will continue to do once this bill is passed.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

One more comment, Mr. Speaker. This bill is a tremendously good bill for the indigents, but it is not a very good bill for the elderly people of this state.

ASSEMBLYMAN GASTON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this bill. Referring to some comments made by my good friend and colleague of the Ways and Means Committee who used such terms as "vindictive," "abomination," "terribly flawed," "offensive," the author should be ashamed. I would submit to this body that what is an abomination and what is offensive and where the shame should lie is in the unscrupulous and unconscionable charges and profits made by our hospitals. The time for change, the time for an action is now. Two years ago, the hospital industry told us that competition would contain costs. It is strange, but that is the same argument we are getting today. And, our hospital costs and rates are still outrageous.

Under this bill, true competition in which hospitals will compete for a market share of patients on the basis of price and quality will finally be given a chance to work in this state.

The hospital industry says that we don't need A.B. 289. The industry says there are other ways to control hospital costs, although the only alternative it proposed was to use state money to establish a statewide insurance pool for people not currently covered by a negotiated rate. This is the same industry that said two years ago, "Give us a chance, let us prove ourselves, competition will contain the costs." Well, I would respectfully submit to this body that it's obvious that the hospital people don't want this legislature to do anything to prohibit fee raking of unconscionable profits from our sick, elderly and disabled.

If competition really works in lowering hospital costs, why do hospital costs and profits keep going up when they are losing customers.

Nevada hospital costs have gotten so far out of proportion to other states that employers are sending their employees out-of-state for non-emergency surgery. The costs are lower, the trip is cheaper than our hospitals.

If competition works, how come Washoe County hospital costs went up when a new hospital was built (Sparks) and took business away from Washoe Medical Center and Saint Mary's.

In 1984, Nevada's three major for-profit hospitals made $41,000,000 in profit. They said, "Let competition work and these profits will come down." In 1985, these profits increased to $54,000,000. In 1986, the profits jumped to $64,500,000. And now we have an independent audit report which shows one of these for-profit hospitals hid another $15,000,000 in profits by transferring revenues to a sister corporation.

A.B. 289 is overwhelmingly supported by the citizens of this state. Those of you that went door to door and talked to your constituents know that. A University of Nevada statewide survey shows 89 percent of Nevadans not only want but demand regulatory controls on Nevada's hospital costs.

We must listen to our citizens—we must protect them against the unconscionable costs of hospital care. We must pass A.B. 289 today. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ADLER:

I would just like to say that being a co-sponsor of this bill I didn't do it with a vindictive motive, I did it to help reduce hospital costs. When I was going door-to-door through this community I received the same response that everyone else did. I ran into old people who were afraid they were going to lose their house if they were hospitalized. I ran into many people that were just terrified over the possibility of a sickness and what it could do to their family life. Those situations need to be addressed by this legislature. I believe A.B. 289 does that.

One of my colleagues from the Las Vegas area commented that he is afraid of a reduction of quality care. I had that same question and I asked it of the Department of Health and Human Resources and I compared the hospital with the lowest price per day in Nevada which is Carson-Tahoe with one of the private hospitals that has the highest costs per day—almost double that of Carson-Tahoe—and guess which hospital had the most nurses on duty at any given time? Carson-Tahoe, not the private hospital. So, I don't believe quality of care will go down if hospitals are allowed a fair profit and not an exorbitant profit. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I have one question with regard to the fact that the commission must set up guidelines and rates and so forth for a county of 100,000 or more. It states that it only applies to hospitals of over 200 beds. There is one private hospital in the state that has another hospital in a smaller county with less than 200 beds. This bill, as I understand it, would not regulate the prices of that smaller branch hospital. In other words, the rates could be pushed up to help make more profits for the main hospital. Is that a possibility?

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to Mr. Getto. That is true. Only a 200 bed facility—there will be no penalties to any hospital that is less than 200 beds.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you. So that could be a very real possibility for the county that I live in because it is owned by a private hospital in a larger county and is the only hospital in the other county which does not have any competition.

I am going to vote against this bill, not because I don't support reducing costs of medical care, but mainly because of the same reasons that my colleague from Las Vegas, the Chairman of Ways and Means does. It is the fact that there were other options that were offered to this committee which have not been offered to the members of this Assembly. I'm not sure that this is the best piece of legislation that could be offered to the public. The other point is that we did hear from many people, not only senior citizens, but middle class and working people about the high costs of medical care. That is true. Many of them wrote that they supported A.B. 289. I would like to reiterate that these people, I wonder if they have really read the bill and have compared the two bills and did they know whether A.B. 289 was really the best bill or whether the other option a better bill or if they had a choice which one would they support. These are the questions that I have. I certainly would like to vote intelligently on this measure. I can't because we have not been afforded the privilege of the other bills. So we will have to rely on the other house to make this decision. I would rather send a good bill out of this house.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMAS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in opposition to A.B. 289 somewhat reluctantly. I would like to vote for something that would really do something to lower medical costs. We have been admonished to listen to our constituents, that 89 percent of our constituents are in favor of A.B. 289. But when I am asked by my constituents how do I feel about representing them and do I really, in truth, do what they want me to do? I always answer them by saying that I will always do in this body what I think you would do if you had the information that I have. I don't think my constituents have the information that I have. I don't think they have this bill, I don't think they have read this bill. So I do not feel compelled to follow what my constituents think they want when I don't think they know what the bill says.

The problem with A.B. 289 is that it doesn't go far enough. It is more window dressing; it's another Band-Aid and sometimes I think we as a body make more Band-Aids than Johnson and Johnson.

The bill doesn't go far enough because the bill doesn't address the major cause which causes competition to fail in the medical industry because there is no competition in the medical industry. The medical associations in this country control the supply of doctors, they control the price of doctors. When you control the supply and the demand, there is no competition. We have never had any competition from the medical society in this country.

If, in truth, we want to control medical costs in the United States and Nevada, we are going to have to break that monopoly, that anti-trust monopoly, which is just as serious as any monopoly as we have seen in this country. Just as serious as the insurance companies and perhaps even more so. We are going to have to go into competition with the private sector. We are going to have to be willing to establish a public medical sector which will compete with the private sector and give it the first competition it has ever had. If we are willing to do that, then and only then, are we going to have a chance to get these costs under control and offer good medical service with the lowest possible costs.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thank you, very much, Mr. Speaker. Just very briefly, to make it abundantly clear to my colleagues, it is not my intent to follow my economic direction of voting for this bill. There is no gain for me to vote against it or abstaining. I will take one of those two and probably vote against it depending on the rest of this debate. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN SADER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will rise first to answer a technical question. There was a question relating to the last page of the bill in differentiating Washoe County and Clark County. Mr. Speaker, that is really a legal issue and in the past there have been questions about the equal protection under laws when you differentiate one county from another. In this particular case, it is precisely that concern that is leading to the differentiation because what you see on page 22 is a reflection of the percentage of indigents in Washoe County and the percentage of indigents in Clark County and therefore there is an expression of what the hospitals in those respective counties will have to pick up in the actual revenue that they have and what they are going to have to expend for indigent care. If you didn't do that you would have an equal protection argument. So that is an aspect of the bill that enhances its legal standing in standing unchallenged and does not take away from it.

We have heard a lot of talk about what this bill does and what this bill doesn't do. The thing that has distressed me in the whole discussion of health care cost containment in this legislature and in the interim study is the fact that the solutions are very difficult and complex to get at and they are not easy and that the interim study committee although they came up with many good suggestions, which I am sure we are going to adopt to a large extent when we finally get to it, that committee really did not deal with the basic issue which is controlling hospital costs. It provided absolutely no real solution to that and nothing that really addresses that issue in a substantive way. I think that is what has led to this bill more than anything else. This bill has a substantive serious solution to address the problem which is a cap on rates and a way to control hospital costs. This bill has provisions for excess profits which is clearly a problem in this state. This bill has provisions for indigent care; this bill has provisions specifically for senior citizens as amended. This is a good bill. This is the kind of strong measure that this state needs and we ought to pass it right now.

ASSEMBLYMAN SEDWAY:

Mr. Speaker, I must take issue with my colleague from Washoe County. The interim study did deal with the issue of controlling costs and capping costs and that was under what we had characterized as the Nevada plan in which we capped the daily rates that anybody could be charged on the basis of an average of all negotiated rates offered in the State of Nevada in the communities in which they are offered and I can assure you that if you took that in comparison with what we now know as bill charges, you will see that there would be a drastic and dramatic difference and I can use myself as an example. When I had my heart attack two years ago, if I had been covered by a plan that we characterize as a Nevada plan, instead of paying $15,000 for five days of care, my bill would have been $6,000 maximum and that is included in there, so please don't say that we did not address that issue because we did it in a very positive manner.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPINELLO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Early on in the campaign it was my feeling then as one who has been in business for some time that regulation was not the way to go. However, in talking to a number of people and looking at the results of this industry, in seeing that patient counts go down and profits go up; in seeing that there are some goods and services—police and fire, schools, utilities—for which the market does not supply adequate service at a fair price, I came very slowly, but very surely and now very solidly to the conclusion that regulation is not only necessary, but appropriate. And so, I support this bill very fully. Is it perfect? Perfect ain't been invented yet. It is a start and it is a step and I believe it is a step, in lieu of the comments of my friend Mr. Thomas, we must take on that long journey to finally controlling and finally asserting the fact that health care for all individuals regardless of circumstance is a right and not a privilege based on means.

Assemblyman May requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN SCHOFIELD:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. Assembly Bill 161 has been a somewhat controversial measure in this House, in the committee meetings, throughout the halls and various other places. Assembly Bill 161 as amended imposes a fee of $11 per troy ounce on all gold mined in Nevada. Ten dollars of this fee are to be deposited in the General Fund, the remaining one dollar is to be deposited in a special fund used for the reclamation of land damaged by mining. This fee may not be deducted from the gross receipts to compute taxable net proceeds. The fee imposed by Assembly Bill 161 will expire when and if the constitutional amendment is adopted allowing net proceeds of mines to be taxed at a different rate than other property. Regarding some of the history, this bill has been known as the "Jim Dandy" tax fee, the gold fee bill, Sedway's bill, the fee bill, his bill, that guy's bill, and every other name that I'm sure has been tacked on that I can't repeat. But I'm here to tell you that when this bill was introduced on February 6, 1987, the concept of this was in truth I believe directed for the purposes of generating revenue in this state. In tracking the bill after the introduction, in the first go-around it was considered that this might perhaps be a tax and should be referred to Taxation. It was not by a vote of this House. It was referred to Natural Resources, Agriculture and Mining because of the concern of a number of people. However, that it should go to Natural Resources and Mining because what is being extracted from the State of Nevada is a natural resource of this state.

Back in 1864 when the constitutional convention and the state became a state there was a considerable amount of mining, and the mining people certainly had their say because it was in fact the industry of the State of Nevada. It still is number two. It's often been said that because of the constitution and the way the net proceeds was jockeyed around concerning the constitution that there was a question regarding whether the legislature should in fact take it upon itself to make the determination as to how these proceeds should be taxed or how monies should be derived revenues from the extraction of natural resources.

We had many meetings and hearings on this bill. We had a committee tour where all but two of the members of the committee went on a tour of two of the mining areas and certainly the industry should be commended for what they are doing and how they are doing it.

On the 16th of March we held a hearing on this bill starting at 1:30 in the afternoon. Enough of the committee members stayed until approximately 5:45; then we came back in at 7:00 p.m. and went until 10:30 p.m. We thought we were maybe in a mini tort reform hearing considering the hours that they spent. The 23rd of March we also held another hearing. On April 8th we held a special type of hearing where there were three proponents and three opponents of this measure who gave testimony to the committee. At no time during those three hearings did any of the opponents of this measure or anyone for that matter offer any amendment, any alternative, any approach that we might possibly address, on this important measure, on this controversial measure. Then on April 13th the committee decided to take action. Up until that time there was no alternative approach offered by any committee member or anyone to these bills with the exception of the four alternatives that we talked about then, two of them very highly controversial, meritorious however, because that would have been the fair way. But in using a value tax or a value judgment could not even be considered that because of the constitution.

There have been questions concerning this particular bill regarding the constitutionality. There were opinions handed down by a legal representative of the mining association to the committee members. There was also legal opinion by our own legal counsel and of course that's what we must follow. We must at least abide by it or feel that we should go ahead on a proposition that some of us felt at that time very constitutional. There were other questions that came into the committee along with hundreds and hundreds of letters. All the committee members, I'm sure many of you who did not serve on the committee have received constant correspondence mostly from the rural county areas where the mines are located, understandably so, because the monies derived in those counties out of the mining industry are fantastic. This bill is not designed to nor will it hinder that collection in any manner whatsoever.

If I may, Mr. Speaker, just stray just a little bit regarding the resolutions because the bill is actually tied to those two resolutions. There was a resolution put in this House on the morning of the hearing when the committee took action. Assembly Joint Resolution 39 which would be a constitutional amendment. At the same time that day a recommended resolution was offered the committee. An Assembly Joint Resolution, another constitutional amendment which proposed, if passed in this session of the legislature, passed in the 1989 session of the legislature, passed by a vote of the people whether in a special election or a regular general election, then this gold fee proposition before us today as Assembly Bill 161 would sunset upon the approval and certification of the Supreme Court justices. Trying to put in effect a way that this particular measure could be addressed in this House and that's what we have before us today. There was a question concerning a clause in the amendment which dealt with "land damaged by mining." This clause was left intact and the bill passed, as amended, with a vote of six ayes, one abstention and four nays. I submit to you that this is a gold fee, it is a fee, it's not a tax. Both resolutions would actually be triggered by the stopping of the sunsetting of this bill if in fact it were voted on by the people, would be and is at this present time in Taxation.

I also submit to you that you should consider this type of a fee. There are other fees that have been levied concerning the low-level Beatty dump site the fee for bringing in various hazardous materials. There's also a fee under the new Compact on and I'm referring to the bill because it is a fee. It's classified as a fee in the title of the bill, it's classified as a fee in the summary of the bill. It is not a tax. It is a fee. You know legislation is nothing but a means of an idea, you have proponents and opponents of those ideas and it's the art of compromise and coming to an agreement, reaching agreement that everybody can live with. This is the only agreement that we have had thus far on A.B. 161 and I certainly as the committee chairman and as a member of this assembly body urge you to cast an aye vote in the direction of applying this fee. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. Members of the Assembly. As a member of the Natural Resources Committee, I too sat and listened for many, many hours about this gold fee. I think I've said everything on the floor and in committee concerning my objections to this measure. First of all, I have stated that I truly believe it is unconstitutional and we have had expert opinions on the constitutionality of this bill.

Secondly, I think it's irresponsible then for this legislative body to budget and this is a revenue measure regardless if it's a fee. It's going to end up in the general fund, and of course the intent of this is to be in the general fund so it can be budgeted for other uses in the state. Now it's irresponsible for us to budget an amount of money that could be up to $20 million and to face the great possiblity and almost the reality of the fact that we will be challenged in court and could be tied up for a year or two. If that should happen we could possibly come back to a special session to fund that void and I think that's a very real possibility and I want to remind you of that real possibility.

I think it's a measure that singles out an industry. That is destructive and it certainly will have an impact on the rural counties. I truly believe that the responsible way to address this is the way that the Taxation committee or the Natural Resources, both, have offered a resolution that will go to the vote of the people. I'm sure that this time with the amount of publicity this has had the people will vote for those resolutions positively and then it can be in a proper manner and revenues can be used in our budgets in the future. I still have a real problem with a word in the bill. I have a problem with the whole bill but especially one word and that is it states gold that is extracted and that's on page 1, in the previous month. Now we've had testimony that the mining industry will be paying taxes on gold that they will not be selling. In other words there is not a procedure that they can recoup 100 percent on that gold that's in the ore. That's almost an impossibility. So they will be paying tax on a product that will return back to the earth and will not be a benefit to the industry. Another comment that we've heard many, many times about this particular revenue and about the industry itself is the fact that the industry has not come forth, they have not been willing to pay their fair share of taxes. They've been raping the state and all the other comments that we've heard in the past. I would like to again remind you of the fact that the mining industry did come forth in 1983, I think it was, and they supported, now remember, they supported an issue that went to the people. It was not their fault that the people didn't pass that resolution. I don't think they knew or had any idea any more than we did when we left this body that the people would turn that resolution down and I think that if we had had an idea and the mining industry had had an idea then we could have gone out and pushed it like we did Question 5 and I'm sure it would have passed.

For all these reasons, I will be voting against this resolution, I will support the one or two resolutions being offered and again I would like to reiterate the fact that I know and I understand the rule of 22 and that many times works in this House but it doesn't mean that it's right. The right place for this bill should have been concurrently referred to Natural Resources with the proper hearings we had and then referred to Taxation so it could be considered with all the other revenue issues.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. I would like to compare this debate today with the one that went on here yesterday in regard to the nuclear waste repository. My constituents in the rural area affected by the gold fee view this problem with the same magnitude that our constituents view the situation of a nuclear dump. It's really a question of "What if." What if we have a disaster at a nuclear dump? It's going to be a holocaust. On the other hand, what if the price of gold goes down and our areas are put back economically? We have unemployment; we are not allowed to advance the way we have in the last year or two. We in the rural areas detest unemployment and having to be dependent upon someone else. Many areas are just getting back on their feet and are fearful of returning to economic stagnation.

There has been talk of one area or another of our state supporting the rest of the state. I submit to you that this is a problem of the tax shift and the various formulas that we're required to operate under. We in the rural areas want to stand on our own and we will stand on our own. If some of our neighbors through various circumstances need help, we will be very glad to help them. Elko County is an exporter of wealth and we feel if we were helping our people in White Pine or some other area, that was our responsibility as Nevadans. And I want to emphasize to you that the rural areas want to stand on their own. They want to have the right to be in the mainstream also. They don't want to be out there having to ask for handouts. And if the mining can continue like it has been, we can be right up there with the best of them. Mining being a volatile industry needs the protection that is presently afforded under our constitution.

I ask you not to take our mining taxation out of the constitution and make it the whim of the legislature. I believe that A.J.R. 40 does that. It makes it a tax on gross proceeds, it takes it out of the constitution so that anyone can change it.

I would ask that you oppose A.B. 161, work to pass A.J.R. 39 which will change the constitution in a manner we can all live with—our mines can prosper and we can all be a part of the great Nevada we want to be. Our mines have really from the beginning made it such that we are the great state we are. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN TEBBS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think one would find very few members of this body who do not feel that the budget presented to this legislature is deficient in vital areas. I also feel most members of this body are looking for additional revenue to meet the shortages in the executive budget in the areas of education, child behavorial services and unfortunately our prison system.

A.B. 161 is no doubt an effort to raise a portion of those needed dollars. A.B. 161 is also an attempt to make a certain portion of an industry pay, what many feel, would be their "fair share." These two issues, additional revenue and fair share are concerns I feel are legitimate and must be addressed this session. However, to try and meet the fiscal needs of Nevada and to try and make others pay their fair share by the method prescribed in A.B. 161 would be inappropriate and unsuccessful.

Inappropriate because this bill will single out only a portion of the mining industry. Inappropriate because A.B. 161 will no doubt be challenged in court over the issue of constitutionality, costing the state time and money in its defense.

A.B. 161 will prove unsuccessful in solving any fiscal problems in Nevada for the next biennium as this bill, if passed, will be tied up in court thus tying up any collected dollars for an unspecified amount of time. The revenue A.B. 161 would raise could not be budgeted appropriately.

As I mentioned earlier, A.B. 161 is an attempt to raise revenue and make others pay their share. I applaud the effort, but not the method.

I will vote "no" on this bill and look to other legislation to raise revenue we can budget appropriately. I will look to other legislation which will change the Nevada Constitution which will mandate that all pay their fair share without causing a lengthy and costly court battle.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPRIGGS:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to the members. It has been stated that no amendment or no option was offered and I submit to you that the mining company very responsibly submitted their proposal to the Taxation Committee where it belongs. I would like to say that we sat through so many hours of hearings and everyone that spoke about the bill was against it except the author and two other people and I submit to you that we have never in this body passed a bill where everyone that came in to testify was against it. We had testimony from other states that those that had tried a severance tax lost their industries or severely curtailed them. Our economic life in rural Nevada is dependent on mining and I'm pleading with you from the heart on this one, don't destroy our economy. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN NICHOLAS:

Thanks Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, I was very willing to be a sponsor of this particular bill and I'm listening to an awful lot of hours of dialogue on it. I abstained in discussion on the voting situation, abstained in the vote in terms of the last meeting. I would like to suggest to you, that I think the industry as a whole, the gold industry, has an abnormally low tax base. I think too that it is just as unfair as the situation involving a gross fee and I think we need a net tax. Let me talk for just a second about conflict of interest. I abstained because I have some shares in a small Canadian company that is indeed prospecting for gold. I went to some trouble to contact that company after this particular vote was taken a week or so ago, and I found out that they've got holdings in three provinces in Canada, that they are attempting to prospect in Ecuador, and that they are going into software for the handicapped. They do not do any, repeat any, business in the State of Nevada, and therefore, because that is the case, and because I have heard also that it is up to me to make a decision on what to do, I choose to vote on this issue and I am going to vote against it. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. I'm one of those country bumpkins that's opposed to A.B. 161. I won't say the bill is flawed. I won't say it's mediocre. I won't say the author should be ashamed of himself. But I will say we have experienced what has happened to the demise of the copper industry and to the barite industry and the effects are horrendous. So let's not hasten the demise of the gold mining industry. I will also second what some of my colleagues have said previously, I feel A.B. 161 is unconstitutional. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, a number of previous speakers have talked about the possible unconstitutionality of this bill under the Nevada Constitution. There has also been a great deal of talk about the unfairness to the mining industry, our second largest industry, under this bill.

Regardless of whether this is a fee or a tax, it is a revenue bill. We have needs that have been discussed earlier regarding the current executive budget and other needs that other members of this body see for spending that may not be present in that budget. Specifically, for economic development and quality, we need to pay university faculty more. There is a need for quality to pay public school teachers more. And, there is a need for equity to pay state employees more.

The main point is that this is a revenue bill. I do not feel that it is a fair bill. If we need additional revenue for the purposes stated, I will vote for those additional revenues, but I cannot vote for this bill. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN BERGEVIN:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. I would like to also say that I own some gold mining stocks. I have been advised by the legal counsel of this legislature that it does not constitute a holding large enough to not vote on this bill so I will be voting. The original speaker for this bill said that the mining industry is presently the number two industry in the State of Nevada. I would submit to this body that it has probably been the idea for the last year that it's been number two. During a good number of years the mining industry has been severely depressed in the State of Nevada and was really not putting forth any revenue whatsoever. I think it's ironic that we compare this fee to the fees of the low-level nuclear waste facility and what-not. Fees are historically used to take care of an expense that something creates, low-level waste. This fee is being used as a general major revenue source of the State of Nevada. I would call your attention to Article 9 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada which provides for the monies for the operation of the State of Nevada. It states that a tax shall be levied for the operation of the State of Nevada and if that tax is not sufficient an additional tax shall be levied for the operation of the State of Nevada. It is absolutely not a fee for the general obligations of the State of Nevada. Inasmuch as it was a major revenue measure it should have gone to Taxation and I think the bill started wrong and hopefully somewhere in the legislative process it will end wrong. It was also stated that this particular bill will not hinder the revenues of the present counties. I submit to you that if this bill prevails and puts a good number of mining companies out of business it certainly will have a tremendous impact on the rural counties in the State of Nevada. This bill is what it originally started out to be and I agree with the author of this bill, it is a Jim Dandy tax and it ought to find its demise in this house of the legislature. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN CALLISTER:

Thank you Mr. Speaker pro Tem. I rise in support of A.B. 161. I've appreciated hearing the comments here today. I think all of them were salient points, however, I disagree substantially. I recognize that all of us in the end represent our districts first and then the state. That's an unfortunate political reality. I think that the voters that elected me, indeed elected the vast majority of my colleagues, require that we support this bill for a number of reasons. The first reason is because it has had a full and fair hearing and I've been there each and every step of that hearing and I can verify that. Secondly, I would suggest that the bill in its form before us today constitutes the compromise that was necessary, constitutes a fair and just evaluation of where we should be in terms of how we tax or place a fee on gold, whatever terminology you choose to use. The original bill called for $16.50 after examination of what other states were doing in principle, the other major gold production states. After consideration of what the norm was throughout the world we developed an amendment that would reduce the fee to $11.50. I think that's an appropriate reduction. I think the bill in its present form represents a more than adequate compromise. Finally, I just want to speak for a moment in regards to the comments some of my colleagues have made here today in regards to the budgetary problems and constraints that the state faces. I think I too recognize, as do most of us here, that there isn't quite enough money to go around or so it would appear at this point. And I think that all of us here have what I would refer to in the law unfortunately as a fiduciary obligation. An obligation to our constituents to do the proper thing in a financial context. We have the obligation to fund the state. We may have before us yet this session the obligation to raise the taxes of your constituents. Not corporate constituents, individual constituents. I hope that isn't the case but it may be the case and I for one cannot return to my district and ask that the individual constituents of my district concur or accept a property tax increase or a sales tax increase unless I can in good faith and in compliance with my fiduciary obligation let them know that I have done all that is within my power as their representative to search out and to find those instances in which there is an inadequate and yes an unfair share under present law being paid by any industry, whether it's gaming or gold mining or copper mining or you name it. I think that's our obligation, I think this bill satisfies that obligation and I will be voting in favor of it. Incidentally, I would note that today's Las Vegas Review Journal indicates that gold went up $9.25 yesterday.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPINELLO:

Thank you Mr. Speaker pro Tem. The three issues are fairness, protection, and privilege. Those of us who have studied the history of the state know that the only reason we even talk about the constitutionality of this measure is because of the way that constitution was originated and changed in order to protect, actually insulate, an industry. There is a boom and bust cycle to most businesses. Some are longer than others. But it is rare in the business world that one has an absolute lifetime. The mine does. There is only so much ore, it can only be mined so long and then it's gone and that is the privilege. A nonrenewable resource taken from the state, the very wealth of the state and all of the infrastructure and everything that is necessary to support taking that resource, everything that has to be built up and then left behind. This state is fairly riddled with ghost towns. You can drive to Virginia City and you can see the deserted leftovers of what was there and is no more. They've had the protection and they've had the privilege, it's now time to call to task the fairness. We've heard that we are singling out an industry. What bill in this state would we pay today if we didn't single out an industry. And we all know what that industry is. And we all know how dangerous it is to base the state's revenue on a single industry to the extent that we do. We are attempting to diversify our revenue base here and we're doing it with a fee based on the privilege of removing that nonrenewable resource from this state forever. I submit to you that is essential fairness, not just north and south, not just rural and urban that is the essential fairness, the price of doing business in that way.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you Mr. Speaker pro Tem, Members of the Assembly. I rise in opposition of Assembly Bill 161. You know I come from an area, legislative district, which uses the Comstock as the reason we are a state in this nation. President Lincoln brought us into the Union because of the gold and silver we produced and we helped win the Civil War. You will remember that in the history of our state. Needless to say that Mark Twain and Dan DeQuille would probably turn over in their graves if they saw this bill before this assembly at this time. But you know there's two things that I want to emphasize. One is that the mining industry when it makes money it makes money but it also puts money back into development of future mines. You know Anaconda went down in Yerington many years ago but I'll bet you we had $20 million spent in that area after they went down to try to develop additional mines out there, to discover any kind of minerals. Unfortunately, that area is copper and iron. There is no gold. But the technology that the mining companies have developed allowed them to go back to these mines that were down a few years ago and produce gold on them again. Because they have the modern technology, they spent millions and millons of dollars to develop that technology. A gross tax such as this does not allow them the privilege of doing the spending that they did in the past. You know our communities survive with a hundred drillers operating in a town like Yerington. Years ago, we had a hundred drillers drilling at one time in every corner of the valley for copper when copper was hot. No drillers drill there anymore because there's nothing to drill for, they know the copper's there, they know the iron's there, the biggest iron deposit in the world is there, no use fooling with it, you can't make any money at it. I think we see in this legislature that we're interested in economic development and the future of our state. I think that one of the worst things we can do is to penalize the mining industry. Here we have an industry that is making a revival because the price of gold is high. If it wasn't for that they'd all be closed down again. What can happen is we're going to hurt some marginal producers that are not going to go ahead in the production of gold and our production will go down. Unless you're a big company with a big resource going for you, you're not going to make it in this industry. I would urge you to really seriously consider the consequences of imposing this gross tax on the mining industry through this bill. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to make just a few points and one of them is a point that Assemblyman Dini hit on the fact that mining is a peculiar industry—it is the nature of the beast—and that is why it was placed in the constitution that the tax on mining shall be a net tax. The mining industry spends millions and millions of dollars before they ever turn a cent of profit. I would like to make that point. It is not like the gaming industry and it is not like any other industry and that is why it has a special place in our constitution.

While they are exploring and not making a single cent, they are spending millions building our economy. If you go out to the rural areas, you will note that there is all kinds of activity in the mining industry and yet they are not making a single cent of profit. It is when they make a profit that we tax them.

Again, I would like to point out that it is not their fault that the net tax rate that they pay is not higher than it presently is. And, when we talk about our fiduciary obligation, I would say that it is our fiduciary obligation, yes, to meet the demands of this state; but if we are courageous, we will put an across-the-board tax that everybody will help pay and it will hit the mining industry twice, not once, but twice.

I would like to point out, too, that we are sending another message. Here we have an industry that is the leading one in the United States right now and we are spending millions of dollars in economic development in telling industry, "Come to Nevada. We love you. Come over here, we'll treat you real fair. Come to Nevada and bring your money and employ the people here." Here we have an industry that is producing—the top one in the United States—and what are we telling them? "You know, now that you are making some money, now that you are in a period that you're probably flush, we're going to zap you." What kind of a message is that going to send to the other industries that we are trying to induce into our great State of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYMAN SCHOFIELD:

Thank you, for a second time, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to make a few comments concerning the speaking of assumptions. You know, in this legislative action we have to do a lot of assuming—assuming this may occur, assuming that may occur. We have to assume that if we don't put some revenue together concerning an assumption, that we might have a particular situation. Assumptions, assumptions, assumptions that a suit will be filed under the unconstitutionality of the bill. Assumptions that the rural areas will go down if this bill were to be passed. All these are assumptions. We deal in assumptions every day. We deal in the pressure of those assumptions. This is not a popular thing that we are approaching to do. It is certainly not. But, I am going to reiterate one thing I did say. There were some alternatives that were brought up in the committee that could have been approached by the opponents of this bill to even be discussed. Thinking about unconstitutionalities, and that becoming a reality, is, again, an assumption. And, I think that we had better take a long, hard look at the methodology of the way that we are doing this because I think it is fair and I certainly echo the remarks of my two colleagues from the Clark County area who spoke just previously. I believe that this bill handles fairness, protection, and it also approaches the privilege.

Everybody talks about gaming being a privilege. Everybody talks about other areas being a privilege and I think it is a privilege for anyone. I realize that there is an awful lot of money pumped into exploration. But, I'm here to tell you they wouldn't be here if they were not pulling it out. And, I think that is the important thing that we have to evaluate here—the extraction of that resource that will never be again.

ASSEMBLYMAN SEDWAY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to respond to some of the comments—specifically from my colleague from Mineral County and my colleague and friend from Fallon, Battle Mountain, Elko and Gardnerville.

My colleague from Mineral County made note of the fact that during testimony there were only three people who spoke in support of the bill, myself and two others. What she doesn't understand is that I represent an army of 600,000 people from my county—600,000 people whose very lives would be impacted by the effects of A.B. 161. I don't need people from industry who have a vested interest behind them to speak behind me. I represent 600,000 people who will be served by the passage of A.B. 161, as well as the other 400,000 or 500,000 people in the State of Nevada whose lives would be affected by A.B. 161.

In spite of the remarks, I can assure you that in testimony before that same committee, these opponents of my bill said that they would not leave, that they would take the gold, they would stay until the gold is gone. Maybe they would leave in ten years instead of eleven. The impending disaster and doom that they forecast for us is inevitable in these areas as soon as the resource is gone, as my distinguished colleague from Clark County made mention of.

All I can tell you is that we have been here for three months and it is about time that I won one. Thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYMAN NEVIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, I originally signed on A.B. 161 thinking it would be a good source of revenue, but the thing that keyed me on the original, if you look on page two of the original, we were giving money back—$1.50 would go back to the County Treasurer to go into the county fund. But, if you look at the first reprint, that is gone. We have taken a tax from the county and we are not giving anything back for their fund. The original plan really appealed to me because I thought, "Well, if we are going to tax them, we can give them something back." This has been removed and I don't think that was the proper approach and I will be voting in opposition to A.B. 161.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPINELLO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would just like to remark on a couple of comments made.

First of all, this doesn't affect the net proceeds as the counties are able to tax the mines presently. To get into more about whether or not the industry is going to pick up and leave. In the examples that we were given of states that had imposed various taxes and now were having problems related to copper, related to coal, I would submit to you there are no places in this world where copper and coal are popular to mine right now because the price is so severely depressed. The same market function that can bring a price down can also bring it up even higher as it has done recently. There is considerable room in the numbers that we were given. The price would have to go substantially below where it is now. It would have to go down so far I would hazard a guess, that the whole economy would be in bad shape if the price of gold were to fall to that floor. So I would submit that the scare tactics used—and that is what they were—and I can understand that the people are frightened, I can't imagine anyone facing any kind of fee or tax being happy about it or thinking that the world wouldn't end, but it won't. And so, Mr. Nevin, to satisfy your concern on the bill, it still doesn't affect what the counties are able to raise in the way of revenue.

ASSEMBLYMAN ADLER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, I sat on this committee and in many ways I have to concur with much of what has been said by both sides. I don't think that my colleague from Fallon's remarks were all out of line. There are some serious problems with this bill being a gross tax. However, my colleague from Las Vegas is correct and, I believe the mining industry concurred in some of what he said in that this industry is, at this point, not paying what they could possibly pay. I have some reservations about this bill the way it is structured. In many ways it, at best, serves as perhaps a vehicle for further compromise and I think that it is unfortunate, indeed, that our committee was not able to reach a compromise with the people who are paying this fee and the persons who need the additional revenues. I think that if there isn't some consensus I don't think that in essence we will be able to use this revenue for another two years. I would, in essence, support further compromise on these types of measures. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for a second time. I think that I would like to propose this to my colleagues here. I think we have here the situation that a lot of us do not understand what is happening in the various corners of our state. Let's take the scenario that if gambling was only in one area and it didn't affect all of our areas. I think that all of us understand the gaming situation. I think all of us do not understand the mining situation.

If you understood the mining situation like you understand the gaming situation, I don't think that we would have this problem. In our rural areas, our people look on this as their savings. This is one thing that is going to save them from the economic situation that they have had to face. I would hope that you would put yourself in the place of someone you thought was trying to not only tax gaming out but to make the environment hostile toward gaming. Put yourself in that situation. This is where I think we are in the rural areas with our mining. I ask you to consider this matter with the utmost conscience and please do not let our rural areas fall back into the situation that many of them have just gotten out of.

ASSEMBLYMAN SCHOFIELD:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for a third time. I realize the debate on this particular issue has gone on.

I need to rise again to speak on the comments of my colleague from Elko regarding the possibility of not realizing or not knowing anything about mining.

In 1937, my grandfather and my father started in Lincoln County and pumped money after money after money in a mountain up there that really was detrimental to the family and all the relations until finally, at such a time when tungsten was at a nice rate, we happened to work out a situation that worked out to our benefit. A particular firm pumped $40 million into that area into a computerized mill until the Federal government decided to import tungsten and then the bottom fell right out of tungsten. It created quite a problem and I have been involved in that, having nothing to do with gold. I do know mining—I know a lot about mining and I know a lot about the rural areas of the State of Nevada.

Back to the fairness, I also know that back in 1966, when we had one senator representing southern Nevada and four assemblyman, that it took a suit by a young lady in this house by the name Duncan that filed against Governor Sawyer—Duncan v. Sawyer—that actually reapportioned us to where the representation that we have here in the people from southern Nevada and the people from northern Nevada from the larger counties, etc., believe me, consider everything that my colleague from Elko said on many issues. I did like what he said about the rural areas standing on their own. Hopefully, this is going to help them also stand on their own—directly and indirectly. I move for support of this bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN CRADDOCK:

Mr. Speaker, the point in this bill which appeals to me the most is the sunset provision which allows that it will discontinue should a constitutional amendment be passed which would allow the legislature to tax net proceeds at a different rate to ad valorem. We heard earlier that the public rejected this idea and I would submit to you that if the constitutional amendment which was proposed had received about half the publicity and concern that this bill has, chances are that we wouldn't be arguing the point today.

There is another point in the whole process of taxing or fees or whatever you would like to call them that I think that we best recognize and deal with somewhere along the way and this is the fact that our net proceeds of mines are affected by the tax package that we put together in the State of Nevada a number of years ago. And, if we hadn't made special provisions, there is at least one county in the State of Nevada that would have been down to about 17 cents ad valorem this time around. As a matter of fact, last time around I think they paid about 29, if memory serves me correct. And, the sad part of the whole thing is the purpose which is supposed to be performed by the gold taxes, in fact not being performed in the manner that it was forethought out by our predecessors and that is that the proceeds from mining was to provide police protection for the rowdy miners, if you will, and education for their youngsters. That is not the situation in the State of Nevada today. It's not happening that way. As a matter of fact, we have one county in the state which is paying the highest per capita debt service to schools of any county in the state, and we have an adjacent county which is taking probably $700 per year in net proceeds from mines into their coffers while the other county is providing the services. We have a disproportionate thing that is happening here. And it is not actually happening as much between northern and southern Nevada as some of us may be led to believe. If we'll take a look at what is happening we will really find that our entire tax structure is part of the problem that is bringing about the difficulties we see today and that is the disproportionately small amount of revenue that is being generated by the mining industry. That is a big part, because of the tax package that we set up in 1981. I'm going to make a further manifestation on some of these things in a relatively short period of time. I frankly don't know whether it would be a good idea to support A.B. 161 or not. If I felt that the people who are interested in keeping it from becoming law would support a constitutional amendment next time around, I would probably vote against A.B. 161.

ASSEMBLYMAN MYRNA WILLIAMS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of A.B. 161. I had not intended to speak but after listening to the comments of my colleague from Elko, I felt that I needed to respond because those of us who live in the urban areas are well aware of what kind of devastation unemployment can create within a community. I would submit to you that we have another industry that is highly taxed and if we continue to tax that industry, the closure of one hotel—one, a major hotel—could create as much unemployment as the entire closure of mining. So, we are mindful of that. We don't believe that will happen; I don't believe that will happen. You cannot pick up a mine and move it to another state. You can move a hotel to another state, you can move to Atlantic City, you can't move a gold mine. I will be supporting A.B. 161.

ASSEMBLYMAN MAY:

Mr. Speaker, thank you. With the permission of the Chair I would like to address only the rebuttal, perhaps, only the discussion so far concerning the use of the word "fee." In Chapter 463, Licensing and Control of Gaming, 463.370 the famous "Quarter-quarter" you heard, the title of that reads, "Monthly fee for state license based upon gross revenue." In 463.373, "Quarterly fee for state license for restricted operation." In 463.375, "Quarterly fee for state license for nonrestricted operation." In 380, "Annual fee . . ", etc. In 383, "Quarterly fee . . ." The word "fee" runs throughout the chapter as the revenue source gaming provides us with. I do not think it is unusual that the word "fee" be used. I do not think the measure should have gone to the Assembly Taxation Committee. I think it was handled exceptionally well and presented quite well by the chairman of the committee to which it was referred. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN GETTO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just have a couple of questions. Number one, my question has not yet been answered. I guess maybe I did not state it as a question. What are we going to do as a body if this issue was taken to court and we leave a $20 million unfunded deficit in our budget? What is the solution? That's number one.

The second question is, the committee did address the problem of taxing, or to use their terminology, "extracting," and in fairness does this body feel that it is fair to tax a commodity that the entity does not receive? In other words, a hundred percent of the gold that is extracted out of the ore is not received by the industry. That is the second question, Mr. Chairman.

MR. SPEAKER:

This is not in the budget, Mr. Getto. I'll answer that, it's not in the budget.

ASSEMBLYMAN SCHOFIELD:

I might just draw your attention, my colleague from Fallon, to line six that talks about the troy ounce or portion thereof of gold and I think the trigger word in here, as we discussed it in committee, is "recovered."

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This was one bill I had not intended to speak on; however, listening to the comments of my colleagues from around our fair state, I would suggest to you that those of us who do live in fact in the urban areas do care about and love and have concern for our state as a whole. Now, I can remember early on when I first came to this body when times were good when we, through the act of changing the depreciation schedules specifically for mining, were able to infuse money into that industry by making them pay less taxes or allowing them to pay less taxes. I would submit to you today, serving on the money committee as well as the taxation committee, that we are faced with the real problem of how to raise the funds and to continue to have funds coming into our state to meet our necessary needs. When times were good, we gave a break. Today times are tough and we are going to have to ask everybody to carry their load. Now we depend a great deal on the committee system of operation of our legislature. We cannot all sit in and listen to all the hearings on every bill, so I assume, and I hope properly, that it has generally borne out that when we have committee hearings, particularly on a subject as volatile, of the high profile as this, that the majority of that committee has made a decision on the constitutionality of the matter; that they have made a committee majority decision that the compromise fee will not destroy the industry and as has been talked about here today, there may be more room for compromise, I do not know. I do know that the time has come that everyone must carry their load. And, I would say that, like with gaming, we are not out to try and kill the golden goose, we just want to pluck a few more feathers to keep it going.

ASSEMBLYMAN SEDWAY:

My distinguished colleague and good friend, the Speaker, told me when he first came to this house twenty-some years ago that he had a colleague who sat next to him who had been there for some time and used to remark when it came to speak and vote, he would say, "This is a good-a bill." This is a good-a bill. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.
