Remarks by Assemblymen Tiffany, Goldwater, Carpenter, Mortenson, Perkins and Williams.

Assemblyman Goldwater requested that Assemblyman Perkins' remarks be entered in the Journal.

I rise in opposition to Amendment 339 to Assembly Bill 291. Mr. Speaker, we talk about disenfranchising our voters. In the municipal elections that just occurred, on the high end, we had a 20-percent turnout. That tells me that, for the most part, the people that we represent are not being heard. Mr. Speaker, I've got a fairly lengthy statement that speaks fairly directly to the amendment, but with your indulgence, I'd like to move to Order of Business 15.

It should be no surprise that I rise in support of AB 291. AB 291 began as a state-imposed one-quarter-cent-sales tax increase in Clark County to help fund the construction of the water delivery system in the Las Vegas area. As originally written, I would not support it; however, as amended, this bill is a potential tool for all Nevada counties to address their particular infrastructure needs. It is no longer state imposed. It was appropriately amended to allow all counties to take critical infrastructure issues back to our constituents and make funding decisions based upon those hearings—hearings in which the citizens we all represent will have a better opportunity to participate. Again, this bill does not raise a single tax. It provides the counties the ability to consider this revenue in a forum where all our constituents can better voice their opinions, those that vote and those that do not.

Most of the controversy has been about the Clark County portion of the bill, whether or not the funding is needed; whether or not the sales tax should be made available to Clark County as a part of that funding, and now to the rest of the state; whether or not we are advocating runaway growth; whether or not this is for special interests; and whether or not this is the right thing to do.

Ladies and gentlemen, let us lower ourselves from our ascension to arrogance back to our rightful place as humble public servants. Let us not forget how the original proposal ended up in Carson City. We hold the purse strings and won't let them go. A 24-person citizens' committee which included seniors, business people, a representative from the Nevada Taxpayers Association, labor, environmental representatives and many more, studied this issue for two years and determined this revenue source to be the best for that particular project. It continues with Nevada's philosophy that tourists who visit our state should help pay our bills. Let me emphasize that this proposal is supported by working men and women; business people, including the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce; Seniors United; the Nevada Taxpayers Association; and many more. Ask yourselves this: When is the last time you saw the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce and the Nevada Taxpayers Association advocate the ability for a county to levy a tax?

We are not debating whether or not to build this water system or better manage growth. Those are local decisions. Yes, we can provide some leadership in the growth arena, and I believe that we will before this session is over. But again, we are not debating building this system, just how it should be funded. If not the sales tax, then what? The alternatives appear to be water rates and water connection fees for new homes. The sales tax would mean an additional 12 cents on a $50 restaurant bill or $100 on a $40,000 car, neither of which are likely purchases for those low- or fixed-income people that we all need to look out for.

In our state, rent, mortgage payments, food and prescriptions are exempt from the sales tax, yet everyone—the rich and the poor have to pay their water bills. Most of us tend to look out for seniors, as we very well should. Let us not forget, however, about those new families just starting out. The two youngest of my five children are nine and 10 years old. Their youth and innocence is something I will always cherish. But I worry that 15 or 20 years from now, when they decide to have a family and want to buy a home—one of the most coveted moments in a young family's life—the price of a home will be $30,000 higher because this body did not have the courage or the leadership to make good public policy for years to come. Let me repeat that. Fifteen or 20 years from now when our children and, for some of us, our grandchildren, want to start a family and buy that first home, they won't be able to because this legislature did not have the foresight, the leadership and conviction to create the appropriate public policy.

I don't know about you, but I know my children have a lot of faith in me to come here and do the right thing. I remember when I sat down with my family, as I always do before a campaign, to decide if we were going to again run for office. As you all know, this is a "we" decision as it affects the entire family. I asked them, "Do we want to do this again?" You know, my 10-year-old daughter turned to me and she said, "Daddy, if you don't do it, who will?" I'll never forget that moment, ladies and gentlemen, and I often remember her trust when I have difficult decisions to make. How could anyone possibly look their loved ones in the eyes in 20 years and explain to them how they couldn't do the right thing, and that's why you cannot afford that new home. Mr. Speaker, you said it best last session when you said that the reason we are elected is to make the difficult decisions.

You know, Mr. Speaker, I truly respect those in this body who have an honest difference of opinion on this and other issues. This is not a partisan issue, and I applaud the Assistant Minority Leader and others on both sides of the aisle for their work on this bill. But when some elected members of this body only think ahead to the next election cycle or purposefully just make themselves an aggravation for superfluous political gain, we all are painted with the same brush, and this honorable institution is tarnished.

I hope for the sake of our state and its citizens, including seniors, children, grandchildren, and everyone in between, and for the sake of this institution that, believe me, ladies and gentlemen, will be here long after we are gone, that courage and leadership will prevail today. I urge you to defeat this amendment and support the bill when it comes back up. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that Assemblywoman Buckley's remarks be entered in the Journal.

AB 156 is patient-protection legislation for patients enrolled in managed care. It arises from a need to ensure that care is not denied to patients when needed and that quality of care is not sacrificed in our haste to cut rising medical costs. It aiso outlaws certain abusive practices that have been implemented by some managed care organizations. The major provisions are these:

First, in section 11, the bill sets forth when covered care can be denied. It provides that coverage can only be denied once recommended by the treating physician if a Nevada physician makes the decision and has the relevant training and expertise to make the denial. This is to ensure that doctors, and not clerks, are making denial decisions.

Sections 12 and 13 require that each managed care organization establish written policies and procedures setting forth the manner in which it determines when to deny coverage or treatment and how it conducts utilization review. It requires that this criteria be prepared with the assistance of providers, be updated annually, and be open for inspection. This is to ensure that protocols on length of stay and other treatment is not used to deny care, even when it is needed, just because a protocol sets the time when a patient can stay in the hospital.

Sections 14 and 15 require an MCO to set up a quality assurance program and a quality improvement committee. This is to ensure that quality of care gets the attention it deserves.

Section 16 prohibits a managed care organization from restricting or interfering with discussions between a provider and a patient. This ends the practice of allowing gag clauses to be imposed upon providers.

Section 17 prohibits a managed care organization from retaliating against providers if the provider advocates or assists a patient.

Section 18 prohibits a managed care organization from paying financial incentives or bonuses to providers for denying or withholding medically necessary care to a patient. This is to combat a practice where physicians may feel they have to deny or delay necessary tests in order to earn payment from the managed care organization.

Section 19 reforms emergency room treatment payment denial abuses. It prohibits an MCO from requiring prior authorization for emergency care treatment. It requires that emergency room treatment be paid for if the patient, acting as a prudent person—an average, everyday person—believes that their situation required immediate treatment or their health will be placed in jeopardy. This reform will ensure that people will seek care when they believe they need it and not be discouraged from doing so because of fear that payment will be turned down.

Section 20 requires that each MCO have a Nevada physician serve as its medical director.

Lastly, sections 23, 24, and 25 require that each MCO establish a grievance procedure with a review board consisting primarily of patients insured by the company. It requires that all decisions be made within 30 days or 72 hours in emergency cases. It requires that all notices of denial be made in clear and comprehensible language.

These patient protections will help many Nevadans and have received the support of patients, providers and the MCOs who have worked very hard to create balanced reforms in this area. It received unanimous support from your Committee on Commerce, and I urge your support.

Assembly Bill No. 156 having received a constitutional majority, Mr. Speaker declared it passed, as amended.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

Assembly Bill No. 291.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Lee, Mortenson, Goldwater, de Braga, Tiffany, Segerblom, Ernaut, Manendo, Gustavson, Von Tobel and Price.

Assemblyman Price requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN LEE:

Assembly Bill 291 authorizes the board of county commissioners in each county to impose by ordinance a sales tax of not more than one-quarter of one percent to be used to finance infrastructure projects. An ordinance to impose or make other changes to the tax must be approved by a two-thirds majority of the board at the public hearing for which at least two weeks' notice was given. In a county with a population of 400,000 or more in which the water authority exists, revenues from the tax must be used for the water and wastewater facilities. Cities and towns that are not served by the water authority must be allocated a share of the tax revenue based upon the assessed valuation. The bill requires such a county to report annually to the legislative or interim finance committee concerning the collection, distribution and use of tax revenues. The measure requires the board to review the necessity of the tax within 10 years. In any county with a population less than 400,000, the tax may not be imposed until a plan for the expenditure of revenues has been approved by the board after a public meeting. In a county with a population of 100,000 or more, but less than 400,000, tax revenues must be used for flood control facilities, railroad grade separation projects, public safety facilities or any combination of those uses.

Finally, in a county with a population of less than 100,000, revenues must be used for water, wastewater facilities, flood control facilities, solid waste disposal facilities or a combination of these projects. This measure becomes effective upon passage and approval. Mr. Speaker, your Committee on Infrastructure overwhelmingly passed this bill out of committee, and I would urge the Assembly's support. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to my colleagues in the Assembly. A few days ago, I sent a little report—an exercise in basic arithmetic with pie charts on it—to you, and then subsequently you got a couple more of those. I have absolutely no arguments with the two that followed mine, but I do think that, in trying to calculate how much someone spends and how much of that is taxable and so on, that's the hard way to do it. The easy way is to look at the pie charts of the water district or the water authority. The water authority is the one who is going to spend the money, and they have said that 30 percent of the cost of this project will be paid through the sales tax. I maintain that 30 percent of a $2 billion or $3 billion project is not chicken feed. It is a lot of money, and 70-some percent of that will be paid by your constituents and you.

In the beginning of this project the water authorities' blue ribbon panel, after two years of consideration, made a decision. They said that growth should pay for growth, and 79 percent of the cost of this project should be borne by connection fees. They said that residents, essentially, our constituents and you and I, benefit by a little bit of reliability and therefore should pay 21 percent of the cost of the project. I think that was a very good decision, and I think it was very fair. But suddenly, when the sales tax entered the calculation, everything changed drastically. We're told that the sales tax is good because it pays a portion of the project, and that is true. It essentially pays 8.7 percent of the project. That's the little slice of the sales tax that tourists pay. The problem is, the real crime here is, that your constituents and you will pay the balance of that 30 percent, and that turns out to be 21.3 percent. Now, if you add that 21.3 percent to the 13 that is marked for surcharges on the water authority's chart, you are now paying 35 percent, whereas, the blue ribbon panel, earlier in their wisdom said, "You should only pay 21 percent."

Also, remember that that 21 percent—the original 21 percent—includes all of the draconian surcharges that you've been threatened with. If the 21 percent contains all the draconian service charges, then 35 percent—that's draconian squared. Not exactly, but it's bad. If you and your constituents are getting the shaft with this increase in price, who is benefiting? The benefit goes to the housing. It has dropped now from 79 percent down to 52 percent, and you might conclude by this that you are subsidizing the housing.

How did this happen and are you going to let it happen today when you vote? First of all, there has been criticism that connection fees will go up and our children will not be able to buy houses and so on. If the connection fee should go to $30,000 in 25 years, inflation in 25 years will drop it down to half of that, $15,000. I do not believe that $15,000 will ever occur because the water authority has calculated their formulas using an incredibly low rate of growth in the valley. Their demographer is lower than the state's demographers, and both demographers have a past history of underestimating the growth in the valley. If the growth in the valley occurs as it has at a very constant rate of six percent for the last 35 years, then the water district is going to be swimming in money, if you'll pardon the pun. In just a few years, the water district just has not proven that they need this sales tax.

This is a really bad bill for you and your constituents. When you press the button in a few minutes, I hope you will think and do the right thing for your constituents.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOLDWATER:

I almost hesitate to rise today, given the extremely eloquent remarks that were made by our Floor Leader and Majority Leader the other day, but I feel I have to rise in support of this bill and to counter some of the arguments that were given by my colleague from southern Nevada.

Let's simplify the argument. Let's bring it down to real common sense. This bill will keep more money in the pockets of Nevada residents, than without this bill, than the current financing system is doing. What we are doing is not building a water system; we are changing the financing mix, or frankly, we're enabling the county government to change the financing mix. We're doing this from the state government as, to quote the Majority Leader, we are holding the purse strings. We are changing the financing mix. We are adding a new element.

We are adding sales tax. Why? To take the pressure off connection fees and water rates. The distinguished gentleman referenced the connection fees and population growth figures. An analysis by the Southern Nevada Water Authority and also by independent Hobbs Ong and Associates calculated that, should the distinguished gentleman's population figures be correct, an additional 300,000 to 400,000 connections would need to be made in order to provide the revenue that he has said would be needed. That's 400,000 in addition to what the Southern Nevada Water Authority already is projecting. Should that occur, we would need another water system equal to the size of the one that is currently being built that will cost an additional $1.7 billion in today's dollars.

Now let's talk about water rates. Water rates are paid 100 percent by Nevada residents—100 percent. You get that bill in the mail, you've got to pay that bill. Sales tax—there is a great deal of discretion when it comes to paying the sales tax. If you don't want to pay the sales tax, you don't have to. You don't have to buy a new car, you don't have to buy new clothes, you don't have to. The things that you have to buy we don't tax—food, rent, medicine, things like that.

I submit to you that we need to take the pressure off water rates. We need to take the pressure off connection fees. Lastly, in summation, we need to represent our constituents. Who are our constituents? Are we the only ones who represent them? No, they are represented at the local level where this tax will be invoked. Additionally, the people we represent are members of a myriad of organizations in town. Let me read to you just a few that support and have articulated support for Assembly Bill 291: developers, taxpayers' association, medical community, culinary union, local union, Nevada Resort Association, home builders, chambers of commerce, building trades, environmentalists, and the list grows. These are our constituents. These are the same people who vote for us. They have decided, not in an arbitrary way, after two years of study out of a citizens' advisory committee in a very public way by some of the most brilliant minds in finance, that this is the optimal financing mix for this water system that takes the most pressure off of Nevada taxpayers. Assembly Bill 291 lets southern Nevadans keep more money in their pockets. That's why I'm in support of it.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DE BRAGA:

During the testimony on AB 291, the Southern Nevada Water Authority stated that with this project, their efforts are targeting expansion of a water delivery system that will bring water to Las Vegas from the Colorado River. It was asked and clearly stated by the Southern Nevada Water Authority, that it is not their intent to use funds generated from the sales tax increase to apply toward efforts to bring groundwater from central Nevada into the Las Vegas Valley. For the comfort of my colleague from District 36 and myself, I hereby repeat this statement to confirm legislative intent of this bill is not to fund the water project commonly known as the Cooperative Water Agreement.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TIFFANY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to this body. I stand in opposition of AB 291 because it allows each county commission to increase the sales tax by a quarter percent without requiring the vote of the people. When asked what he thought about the views of the people, an absolute French king dismissed the question by saying, "I am the people." I was surprised to hear a similar attitude voiced yesterday in this Chamber when one of our colleagues who is against this requirement for the vote of the public says, "We are the vote of the people." Americans, and especially Nevadans, do not give absolute power to their part-time elected representatives. That's why we have an initiative and a referendum in this state, and that's why the people enacted the Gibbons tax restraint initiative to curb the power of the legislature.

The French overthrew their arrogant monarchy, and the Americans overthrew an arrogant British king under the banner of "no taxation without representation." It's ironic that AB 291 imposes on Nevadans taxation with representation, but it's the representation of every major special interest group. AB 291 is representation for everyone except the people. That's why I vote "no" on AB 291 today.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SEGERBLOM:

I will vote "yes" for the bill, but I have an understanding that in the Senate there will be an amendment to remove Boulder City from the bill because they have not taken a stand—the city council did not take a stand. Also, there will be an amendment to remove Mesquite. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ERNAUT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to my esteemed colleagues. When this session started, and throughout our campaigns in this last session, there was one word that kept coming to the top, the most important need of this state, and that word was infrastructure—that we had needs all across this state, whether in the metropolitan areas of Clark county, or the hospital needs in Elko County, or flood control in Washoe and Lyon and Douglas Counties. We had big, serious needs, and it was our job to solve that. And here we are today with Assembly Bill 291. I've been here three terms and two terms before that working in the hallways and sitting behind this screen and watching as the legislature deliberated issues such as this. In my career, I have never seen a more absurd set of circumstances surrounding this bill—more demagoguery, more misinformation, and more flat-out lies about a measure that is so important to the people of the State of Nevada.

My father told me a long time ago that a Basco should never argue with a nuclear physicist, so today, I am not about to argue Xs and Os and pie charts with any of my colleagues. It seems to me that we've discussed everything that this bill is not. We've discussed every nuance, every amendment, but we've never sat down and said, "What exactly does this bill do?" Well, I'm going to tell you exactly what this bill does and I'm going to speak very slowly so all the people in the media can write this correctly. This bill enables—enables—the county commissions—all 17 of them—in this state to impose a quarter-cent sales tax for very specific infrastructure needs. It doesn't in any way prohibit a popular vote of the people. It doesn't in any way prohibit a popular vote of the people. A tax increase is never an easy thing to do. I'm a Republican. It goes against my very grain. So when I'm going to discuss a tax increase, however enabling, I think there are four major barometers that you must look at before you make that very difficult and judicious choice.

The first is need. Let's discuss need for a moment. In all 17 counties, we have a lot of need. In Clark County, we have a water system that is so antiquated that it can't even deliver the present allotment in the Colorado River. It can only deliver 72 percent. It can't even be shut down for maintenance. It is the only straw. It is the only water lifeline of that community—the fastest growing community in the state of Nevada, the fastest growing community in the United States. Three times last summer, the Clark County water system nearly shut down, ending water supply to all of Las Vegas. That is a critical need. In Washoe County and in many of the northern counties, we were hit by the most catastrophic flood that this state has ever seen. Let me just read to you some of the dollar totals: Carson City, $6.4 million; Storey County, $3 million; Lyon County, $19.5 million; Douglas County, $55 million; Washoe County, $540 million in damage. Clark County bit the bullet some years ago and imposed their quarter-cent for flood control; the northern counties have not, and it's time that we do that and this is the mechanism. This isn't a game. This isn't about headlines. This is about people's lives and businesses and families being protected. This is a very tough decision, but one each and every one of you has to make. Every decision amongst us that comes before us is not for the Silver State fanfare being designated as the state march. Sometimes there are very difficult decisions, and before you today is one of them.

If we agree on need, secondly, we have to look at support, support of the community. As the chairman of Infrastructure said to each of us, an unprecedented amount of support across this state—citizens' groups, business and seniors, getting together and studying this issue in Clark County for two years and in Washoe County for a year and a half—prioritizing the essential needs of those communities. The rural counties have mandates from the federal government to fix their landfills. Where is it that you think they're going to get the money? They don't have that kind of money. They look to us to make those tough decisions.

If we agree on need and we agree upon the support, then we have to look at the most legitimate and appropriate funding source. There are only two, ladies and gentlemen, there are only two. For us to be able to bond for this kind of money for these massive projects, there are only two. You can bond property tax or you can bond sales tax. Clark County, obviously has another thing in the mix with water rates. The rest of the state does not. In Washoe County alone, if we were to take this to a bonding of the property tax, it would increase property tax by 17 cents, putting us over the statutory cap. We've heard the discussion about sales tax. We've heard this discussion about sales tax starting as early as 1981 when we determined our entire tax base for the state of Nevada on sales tax, and that means that we see that the tourists should pay for a major portion of our tax, taking the burden off the residents. So it wasn't overly aggressive, we exempted things like rent and medicine and groceries so that those on fixed incomes weren't bearing the brunt of the sales tax. I contend to you that this is the most appropriate funding source: sales tax.

Fourth, once we've agreed upon need, and once we've agreed upon support, and once we've agreed upon the most appropriate funding source, we come to the question of accountability. Again, I'm going to read slow so that everybody gets this down. We have seven unprecedented measures of accountability in AB 291. We have a mandatory two-thirds vote of each county commission. In every county outside of Clark, we have a mandatory facilities plan that specifically itemizes each project and all the costs incurred. We have mandatory public meetings with mandatory two-week notifications. In Washoe County we have mandatory oversight by the regional planning commission, which is a citizen advisory board. In all counties, we have mandatory separate accounting, mandatory annual reporting, and a sunset option once the projects come to fruition. So then we agree upon accountability.

This is the fastest growing state in the nation, and it has serious needs. And it takes serious people to address those needs. I'm proud of AB 291. It wasn't easy, but it was right. Leadership is not defined in what is popular; it's defined by your hard work and your perseverance as what is right, and by that action, making it popular. Mr. Speaker, thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MANENDO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to this honorable body. For the record, I've had several concerns regarding this issue. If AB 291 as enabling legislation is not passed, what would be the cost of escalating water rates to the seniors in my district in the near future? How would the young families be able to afford their first home, or if you will, their "dream homes?" How would this affect current and future jobs and how would a slowdown of our vibrant economy impact our local and state budgets?

The other concern has always been with the wastewater part of the bill. My constituents, in particular, our Southeast Valley Coalition for Odor Control, which consists of members representing the Whitney Town Board, manufactured home parks, housing developments, townhouses, apartments and area businesses, need assurances that their concerns and the concerns of surrounding assembly districts about odor control would be addressed when it came to passing this bill and paying for additional wastewater projects.

The amended bill responds to these concerns. It now includes "odor control" under the definition of wastewater facilities, meaning a portion of this funding of the wastewater agencies will be spent on just that.

I recently received a letter and other information from the Clark County and the City of Las Vegas Sanitation districts detailing their plans to seeing the odor problem resolved; including, at the Clark County facility: odor scrubbing equipment, a trickling filter bypass structure, sediment removal from sludge ponds, intermediate pumping station odor control, central plant VOC abatement projects, Whitney interceptor and Whitney lift station, and collection system odor control; at the City of Las Vegas facility, consolidation of grit handling facilities, odor control facilities at headworks, primary clarifiers, thickeners at the solids dewatering facility, and finally, reducing odors at the WPCF including odor control gates for the sludge hoppers, modifying trickling filters for odor control and sludge loading bay. Total estimated expenditures of $8.6 million goes directly to solving the odor problem in Assembly District 18 and the surrounding districts; in addition, with the plant expansions, expenditures of roughly

$6 million to $10 million in odor control facilities are estimated. With this amendment and commitment in hand, I can now support this bill. The amendment puts the odor issue on the same level as everything else and gives the wastewater agencies monies to solve the problems.

Finally there are no more excuses for not getting it fixed, and for this reason, I do stand in support of AB 291 today and ask that my colleagues do the same.

ASSEMBLYMAN GUSTAVSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you to this body. I will be a little brief, as I usually am. I rise in opposition to this tax increase. I realize there are many needs out there. We all know this. I realize that this is also enabling tax legislation to the county commissioners, but that's only upon their choice and their decision. As ordinary citizens, we make decisions every day, decisions that affect our everyday lives as well as others. In my opinion, Mr. Speaker, taking away the people's right to vote on this tax increase themselves is poor public policy. If I'm going to protect my rights, I must first protect the rights of the voting public, and for that reason, Mr. Speaker, I will be voting "no" on AB 291. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN VON TOBEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This has been a very difficult bill for me, and I think for everybody in this body. I will be voting for AB 291. I have been assured by Senator Porter that he will be able to tweak it to help the outlying areas in my district as my colleague from Boulder City mentioned. I also have learned that it's easy to vote for taxes, but very difficult to lower taxes or take away a tax. I hope that this body will look at any of the measures we have before us, after this passes, for the rest of the session and look for a tax that we can possibly lower to help the burden on the taxpayers.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. As I sat here and listened to the remarks of my colleagues, it has reminded me, and I might be paraphrasing, the words of another great Nevadan who came before us, Mark Twain, who said something like, "Whiskey is for drinking, and water is for fighting over."

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I pushed that button in case there might be something that I wanted to rebut, but there was nothing said that I need to rebut. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Ernaut, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor W. Duane Geyer.

Our Father, and our God, we come with anticipation to You today because Your word clearly teaches us that "whosoever will, may come." Teach us to be observant of all that is around us, so that our hearts will overflow with gratefulness for the many blessings we enjoy every day. Father, may we be mindful of how powerful our encouragement and support to each other can be. Help us be like the little boy who was asked what loving kindness was, who said, "Well, if I was hungry and someone gave me a piece of bread, that would be kindness. But if they put a little jam on it, that would be loving kindness!" Help us add a little sweetness to those we deal with today...a smile, a little respect, a kind response, is an excellent investment in others, that will net a wonderful return. May we be empowered to do this in Your strong and Holy Name. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Hallelujah Lord, it is Friday and another week is about to become history. Father, we would ask as we bring closure to this week that You would bless the people in this room with a season of rest and renewal. Help us to leave footprints on the sands of time that are more than just the marks of a heel. Guard our hearts Lord, as we carry out our responsibilities of leadership, to remember that greatness does not lie in "Being strong, but in the right use of strength." We will remember Lord, that the mightiest oak was once a little nut that held its ground. So help us walk carefully, stand tall, and hold on! In Your excellent and exalted Name, we pray.

AMEN.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Mining:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 13—Urging certain managers of public land to survey, control and promote the control of noxious weeds.

WHEREAS, Noxious weeds have a negative effect upon the environment, impacting all residents of the State of Nevada and affecting the land used for grazing by domestic and wild animals, farmland, native habitat, open spaces and urban areas; and

WHEREAS, Noxious weeds compete with native plants and spread rapidly, replacing diverse plant communities with unproductive monocultures that severely impact the environment; and

WHEREAS, Once a noxious weed is introduced into an area, it becomes established, reproduces and disperses its seeds in such a manner that has often been described as "an explosion in slow motion"; and

WHEREAS, Since control or management of noxious weeds is most effective and least costly during the introduction and establishment phases, and extremely difficult upon dispersal, identification of potential infestations at the early stages is essential; and

WHEREAS, Problems with noxious weeds in the State of Nevada have not been as severe as in other western states, but recent floods have contributed to a potentially threatening dispersal of these destructive weeds; and

WHEREAS, Economic losses from noxious weeds can reach major proportions, if ignored, when such weeds become established on lands used for grazing, and environmentally there is evidence that they reduce considerably the conservation of soil and water; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That the members of the Nevada Legislature do hereby urge the Forest Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Defense, U.S. Department of Energy and the Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Reclamation, Fish and Wildlife Service and National Park Service of the U.S. Department of Interior to:

1. Survey for, monitor and control existing noxious weed infestations;
2. Participate actively and in cooperation with state agencies to eradicate newly introduced and not yet established noxious weeds; and
3. Educate the managers of public land in the State of Nevada concerning the potential for loss of productive land if noxious weeds are allowed to proliferate; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Forest Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Defense, U.S. Department of Energy and the Bureau of Land Management, Bureau of Reclamation, Fish and Wildlife Service and National Park Service of the U.S. Department of Interior and each member of the Nevada Congressional Delegation; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this resolution becomes effective upon passage and approval.

(b) Fails to give notice to other successors as required by subsection 2, any money or property he receives is held by him in trust for all other successors who have an interest in the property.

4. A person who receives an affidavit containing the information required by subsection 2 is entitled to rely upon such information, and if he relies in good faith, he is immune from civil liability for actions based on that reliance.

5. Upon receiving proof of the death of the decedent and an affidavit containing the information required by this section:

(a) A transfer agent of any security shall change the registered ownership of the security claimed from the decedent to the person claiming to succeed to ownership of that security.

(b) A governmental agency required to issue certificates of ownership or registration to personal property shall issue a new certificate of ownership or registration to the person claiming to succeed to ownership of the property.

6. If any property of the estate not exceeding [$10,000] $20,000 is located in a state which requires an order of a court for the transfer of the property, or if it consists of stocks or bonds which must be transferred by an agent outside this state, any person qualified under the provisions of subsection 1 to have the stocks or bonds or other property transferred to him may do so by obtaining a court order directing the transfer. The person desiring the transfer must file a verified petition in a court of competent jurisdiction containing:

(a) A specific description of all of the property of the decedent.

(b) A list of all the liens and encumbrances of record at the date of the decedent's death.

(c) An estimate of the value of the property of the decedent.

Sec. 11. Chapter 147 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. On petition of any person who appears to have an interest in the estate, the court by temporary order may restrain a personal representative from performing specified acts of administration, disbursement or distribution, or exercising any powers or discharging any duties of his office, or make any other order to secure proper performance of his duty, if it appears to the court that the personal representative otherwise may take some action that would jeopardize unreasonably the interest of the petitioner or of some other interested person. A person with whom the personal representative may transact business may be made a party.

2. The matter must be set for hearing within 10 days unless the parties otherwise agree. Notice as the court directs must be given to the personal representative and his attorney of record, if any, and to any other party named defendant in the petition.

3. As used in this section:

(a) "Person" includes, without limitation, a government, governmental agency or political subdivision of a government.

(b) "Personal representative" includes, without limitation, an executor, an administrator, a successor personal representative, a special administrator and persons who perform substantially the same function under the law governing their status.

Sec. 12. NRS 147.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

147.090 1. No statute of limitations running on a cause of action belonging to a decedent which had not been barred as of the date of his death bars a cause of action surviving the death of the decedent sooner than 4 months after the death. A cause of action which, but for this section, would have been barred less than 4 months after death, is barred after 4 months, unless tolled.

2. A claim which is barred by the statute of limitations [shall] must not be allowed or approved by the executor or administrator, or by the judge. When a claim is presented to a judge for his allowance or approval, he may, in his discretion, examine the claimant and others on oath and hear any legal evidence touching the validity of the claim. No claim, which has been allowed, is affected by the statute of limitations, pending the administration of the estate.

Sec. 13. NRS 148.200 is hereby amended to read as follows:

148.200 [1.] Personal property may be sold for cash, or upon a credit.

[2. If a sale is made upon a credit, not less than 25 percent of the purchase price shall be paid in cash at the time of sale. The executor or administrator shall take the note of the purchaser for the balance of the purchase money, with a pledge or chattel mortgage of the personal property sold, to secure the payment of the balance, or shall enter into a conditional sale contract under which title is retained until such balance is paid, the terms of the note and pledge or chattel mortgage or contract to be approved by the court at the time of confirmation of sale.]

Sec. 14. NRS 150.230 is hereby amended to read as follows:

150.230 1. The executor or administrator shall, as soon as he has sufficient funds in his hands, upon receipt of a sworn statement of the amount due and without any formal action upon creditors' claims, pay the funeral expenses, the expenses of the last sickness, the allowance made to the family of the deceased, money owed to the department of human resources as a result of payment of benefits for assistance to the medically indigent and wage claims to the extent of $600 of each employee of the decedent for work done or personal services rendered within 3 months before the death of the employer , [;] but he may retain in his hands the necessary expenses of administration.

2. He is not obliged to pay any other debt or any legacy until the payment is ordered by the court.

3. He may, before court approval or order, pay any of the decedent's debts amounting to [$100] $500 or less if:

(a) Claims for payment thereof are properly filed in the proceedings;

(b) The debts are justly due; and

(c) The estate is solvent.

In settling the account of the estate, the court shall allow any such payment if the conditions of paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) have been met . [; otherwise,] Otherwise, the executor or administrator is personally liable to any person sustaining loss or damage as a result of such payment.

4. Funeral expenses and expenses of a last sickness are debts payable out of the estate of the deceased spouse and must not be charged to the community share of a surviving spouse, whether or not the surviving spouse is financially able to pay such expenses and whether or not the surviving spouse or any other person is also liable therefor.

Sec. 15. Chapter 151 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. Subject to the rights of creditors and taxing authorities, competent successors may agree among themselves to alter the interests, shares or amounts to which they are entitled under the terms of the will of the decedent, or under the laws of intestacy, in any way that they provide in a written contract executed by all who are affected by its provisions. The personal representative shall abide by the terms of the contract subject to his obligation to administer the estate for the benefit of creditors, to pay all taxes and costs of administration, and to carry out the responsibilities of his office for the benefit of any successors of the decedent who are not parties. Personal representatives of the estate of decedents are not required to see to the performance of trusts if the trustee thereof is another person who is willing to accept the trust. Accordingly, trustees of a testamentary trust are successors for the purposes of this section. This section does not relieve trustees of any duties owed to beneficiaries of trusts.

2. As used in this section:

(a) "Personal representative" includes, without limitation, an executor, an administrator, a successor personal representative, a special administrator and persons who perform substantially the same function under the law governing their status.

(b) "Successors" means persons, other than creditors, who are entitled to property of a decedent under the terms of his will or pursuant to this Title.

Sec. 16. NRS 151.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

151.090 1. When a petition for final distribution is filed, the petitioner shall give notice of the hearing of the petition [by mail] to all persons individually entitled to notice as provided in NRS 155.010.

2. The court may order such further notice as it may deem proper.

Sec. 17. Chapter 153 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, or in the will or trust, a trustee or executor may distribute property and money:

(a) In divided or undivided interests; and

(b) On a pro rata or nonpro rata basis.

2. Each beneficiary must agree before any property or money is distributed on a pro rata basis.

Sec. 18. NRS 153.040 is hereby amended to read as follows:

153.040 1. The trustee or other fiduciary may petition the court, from time to time, for instructions as to the administration of the trust.

2. Upon the filing thereof, together with a verified statement of the trustee giving the names and post office addresses, if known, of the beneficiaries and any other persons interested in the granting of the petition, the clerk shall set the hearing by the court, and shall give notice thereof for the period and in the manner required by NRS 155.010.

3. The trustee shall cause notice of the hearing to be mailed to the beneficiaries [at their last known addresses,] and to all other persons interested in the granting of the petition, if any, as provided in NRS 155.010, whether they have requested special notice or given notice of appearance or not.

[4. If there be any beneficiaries or other persons interested in the granting of the petition whose post office addresses are unknown, the notice of the hearing on the petition shall be published in a daily newspaper on at least 2 different days before the hearing and at least 5 days must elapse between the last publication and the time set for hearing the petition.]

Sec. 19. NRS 155.010 is hereby amended to read as follows:

155.010 1. [Unless] Except as otherwise provided in a specific statute relating to the kind of notice required or otherwise ordered by the court in a particular instance, [every notice required by this Title shall be given by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, at least 10 days prior to the date set for hearing or other action by the court. 2. Notice shall be given to each executor, administrator or trustee who is not a party to the filing and to any person who has requested notice as provided for in this chapter or who is otherwise entitled to individual notice pursuant to this Title.] a petitioner shall cause notice of the time and place of the hearing of a petition to be given to any interested person or his attorney if he has appeared by attorney or requested that notice be sent to his attorney. Notice must be given:

(a) By mailing a copy thereof at least 14 days before the time set for the hearing by certified, registered or ordinary first-class mail addressed to the person being notified at the post office address given in his demand for notice, if any, or at his office or place of residence, if known;

(b) By personally delivering a copy thereof to the person being notified at least 14 days before the time set for the hearing; or

(c) If the address or identity of the person is not known and cannot be ascertained with reasonable diligence, by publishing at least once a week for 3 consecutive weeks a copy thereof in a newspaper having general circulation in the county where the hearing is to be held, the last publication of which must be at least 10 days before the date set for the hearing.

2. The court, for good cause shown, may provide for a different method or time of giving notice for any hearing.

3. Proof of the giving of notice [shall] must be made [at] on or before the hearing [; and if it appears to the satisfaction of the court that the notice has been regularly given the court shall so find in its order, and the order, when it becomes final, is conclusive upon all persons.] and filed in the proceeding.

4. As used in this section, "interested person" includes, without limitation, an heir, devisee, child, spouse, creditor, beneficiary and any other person having a property right in or claim against a trust estate or the estate of a decedent. The term includes, without limitation, a person having priority for appointment as personal representative and other fiduciaries representing interested persons. The meaning as it relates to particular persons must be determined according to the particular purposes of, and matter involved in, a proceeding.

Sec. 20. NRS 155.020 is hereby amended to read as follows:

155.020 1. Notice of a petition for the probate of a will and the issuance of letters testamentary or for letters of administration and the notice to creditors must be given to:

(a) The persons respectively entitled thereto, including the state welfare administrator , [of the welfare division of the department of human resources, by mail] as provided in NRS 155.010; and

(b) The public, including creditors whose names and addresses are not readily ascertainable, by publication on three dates of publication before the hearing, and if the newspaper is published more than once each week there must be at least 10 days from the first to last dates of publication, including both the first and last days.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 14—Urging Congress to amend the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 to allow discretion in determining whether a person is a citizen of the United States before providing a voter registration application form.

WHEREAS, The National Voter Registration Act of 1993 was enacted by Congress and on May 20, 1993, signed into law by President Clinton; and

WHEREAS, The major purpose of the National Voter Registration Act is to enhance the voter registration system by increasing the number of eligible citizens who register to vote and by augmenting the participation of eligible citizens as voters; and

WHEREAS, Through effective and efficient means, the National Voter Registration Act ensures that virtually all citizens have a convenient opportunity to exercise their right to register to vote; and

WHEREAS, The National Voter Registration Act requires that each state establish procedures to register voters by providing simultaneous application for a driver's license and voter registration, by providing for application by mail to register to vote and by providing for application in person at designated public agencies, including public assistance agencies; and

WHEREAS, The United States Department of Justice has expressed the opinion that the National Voter Registration Act requires that all aliens, as well as citizens, be offered a voter registration application form, and that it is the responsibility of each individual person to whom an application form is presented to determine whether the requirements for voting can be met; and

WHEREAS, The privilege of voting in this country is reserved for persons who are citizens of the United States, and to attempt fraudulent or fictitious registration as a voter is a federal felony; and

WHEREAS, When governmental employees offer the opportunity to register to vote to a person who they know is an alien, no legitimate purpose is served and such an offer could be construed as entrapment or aiding in the commission of a felony; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That the Nevada Legislature urges the members of the Nevada Congressional Delegation to introduce and support legislation to amend the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 to permit the use of discretion in determining whether a person is a citizen of the United States before providing a voter registration application form; and be it further

Assemblywoman Evans moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Evans, Ernaut, Close, Carpenter, Price, Ohrenschall, Segerblom, Perkins, Dini, Mortenson and Anderson.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN EVANS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In the firmament of Nevada's chief executives, no star shines with more radiance than that of Governor Grant Sawyer.

Each Governor leaves with us his own unique legacy. Grant Sawyer will be remembered for a lot of reasons, but especially for two very significant achievements. First, many believe that his greatest contribution was in demanding forceful gaming regulation. Remember that organized crime had its tentacles in Nevada, but the tax revenue from legalized gaming made state government solvent, and many in elected office found it convenient and prudent to look the other way. Reform began under Governor Russell with the establishment of the Gaming Control Board, but it was Governor Sawyer who created the State Gaming Commission with what amounted to autonomous powers in the granting and denying of gaming licenses.

Still, the specter of mob influence hung over Nevada. When Governor Sawyer learned that a raid on Nevada casinos was being planned by the U.S. Department of Justice, he went to Washington and complained to then Attorney General Robert Kennedy. Getting no satisfaction, he took his case to the President, and the raid was never staged. Governor Sawyer believed that Nevada should take responsibility for its problems and not fall under federal authority.

At the same time, Governor Sawyer saw that gaming regulation provided a key tool in his battle against racial discrimination. We all know that there was a time when Nevada was called the "Mississippi of the West," and that the state was regularly embarrassed by hotel and casino policies that disallowed star performers like Nat King Cole and Sammy Davis, Jr. from being served or staying in the hotels where they performed. When the legislature failed to respond, Governor Sawyer jawboned major casino operators and told them that state policy opposed discrimination in public accommodation and that their operations and licenses would be examined to see if they were in compliance. It marked the beginning of the end of the old system of segregation in Nevada's leading industry.

Tough gaming regulation and new civil rights measures are but two of Governor Sawyer's many accomplishments. I know that others wish to speak about this great Nevadan whose loss we mourn and whose legacy we cherish. Today we honor and celebrate his life and leadership. He saw the future and rushed to meet it. Thank you, Grant Sawyer, for helping to make our state a place of which we can all be proud. We shall never forget you. Rest in peace. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ERNAUT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. About five years ago, in my first term, I was playing golf at the Las Vegas Country Club, and I walked into the Men's Grill on the first floor to get a sandwich. Sitting alone at a table, very unassuming, was Governor Sawyer. I didn't notice him when I first walked in. He had on a hat and really wasn't talking with anyone. I sat at the table just a couple of feet away. The next thing I heard was, "Mr. Ernaut?" I turned, and seeing Governor Sawyer, went over to him. I was extremely flattered that he actually knew who I was.

Governor Sawyer took the time to give me a lot of advice, not just that day, but on other occasions. I had an opportunity to talk with him near the day that he passed, and I asked him why he had put his arm around me, so to speak, and he said, "You know, us Elko guys have got to stick together." He was a great man. He was one of the icons of this state. The Laxalts, the O'Callaghans, the Sawyers, the Russells—these were the people that made the really tough decisions. They fought forces that none of us have had to in our tenure.

I hope history treats Governor Sawyer with due respect because he was a giant, and he was somebody who shaped this state and should be remembered by each and every one of us and by all of our children.

ASSEMBLYMAN CLOSE:

I rise in support of ACR 29. With my 47-year history as a resident of the State of Nevada, I've had the opportunity to meet many fine individuals, and I would classify Governor Sawyer as being one of those individuals who is a true Nevadan. He had great foresight, probably greater than anyone that I knew, for looking to the future to what Nevada needed to do to become what we are today. He was committed to the state.

Governor Sawyer was very concerned about the welfare of others. He was much more concerned about them than he was for himself. He was a great and very accomplished politician. In his lifetime, he probably forgot more about politics than I even know and maybe many in this body know.

Governor Sawyer was a great campaigner. I had a great opportunity to relish that when my father was his opponent in the Democratic primary back in 1963. He killed my father's campaign, only because he was a great campaigner. Through it all, he was a gentleman. He was very concerned about the campaign. He even contacted my father during the campaign and asked him how he was doing. That was the type of man that he was. Even though my father lost, he had a great respect for Governor Sawyer, and they were friends up until the time my father passed away.

I think Governor Sawyer is a true representative of the state of Nevada, and I surely concur with the accolades which he is receiving this day. I'm sorry he's not here to see it, but I hope he's looking down upon us today to hear what we're saying about him. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 29. As the resolution mentions, Governor Sawyer was born in Twin Falls, Idaho, which is just across the line from Elko, and he served as our district attorney.

The thing that I remember most about Governor Sawyer is that he never forgot his roots in rural Nevada. You could call him and ask him for advice or help, and he would always call you back.

I just want to add my support to this resolution. I know that Elko County is a better county because Grant Sawyer was our district attorney and helped us many, many times with the tough problems that we have in rural Nevada.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 29. The most difficult thing about speaking to a resolution that honors somebody such as Governor Sawyer is trying to reach down inside and feel worthy to even speak to it.

I, too, can share a story much like that of the Assistant Minority Leader. I met Governor Sawyer early in my political career and spent some time with him and received his advice and counsel. I was truly humbled by his great accomplishments and his sage advice. Governor Sawyer was a great visionary. He saw things that other people just didn't see. He was very passionate about the things he believed in and pursued them with great vigor. His mentoring can't go unstated either. I'm certain there are many people in this body that feel that they are better people and have better approaches to the public policies in our state because of their contacts with Governor Sawyer.

I have the ability to look across the valley from my home in Henderson, and every time I do, I can see Governor Sawyer in that valley. He had a great impact on Las Vegas and on Elko, and I think it's very true to say that Nevada, Elko, Las Vegas, and everywhere in between, are better places to live because of his efforts.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Many years ago when I was living at McCarran Ranch, I made the decision to accept a job in Las Vegas. Sister Margaret McCarran was appropriately aghast that I was planning to go to "Sin City," a young graduate fresh out of law school who obviously didn't know anything of the world. She told me there was only one thing I could do that would please her. She told me, "I want you to go and see my friend Grant Sawyer. He can look out for you and make sure you're all right."

I followed Sister Margaret's advice. Grant Sawyer gave me an interview, and through the years, he was always there when I needed advice. That's the sort of person he was. He could look at the great issues of the day and yet also at all the little people and what they needed. I urge adoption of this resolution.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SEGERBLOM:

I rise in support of ACR 29. Grant Sawyer and I were friends from college days. He spent a lot of time at the home of my neighbors, Ralph and Sarah Denton, and we had many good times laughing and joking and talking politics. He was a great friend, and he was a great supporter of the Democratic party, which, of course, I'm beholden to. We also spent time with Bob and Linda Faiss, who live in Boulder City.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 29. Grant had already served his term as Governor before I actually met him, but like many Nevadans in those days, I had watched his activities and his great accomplishments. Primarily through Democratic party activities over the years, I was fortunate to have an opportunity to become friends with Grant and to receive his advice.

Grant also will stand in the history books as breaking a record that no other governor has accomplished thus far in the history of our state. In 1960, he served through the only annual session that this state ever had, so during his two terms as Governor, he worked with five legislatures. He really enjoyed it.

Grant was very good at selecting the people that he worked with. I think it would be appropriate to mention his chief of staff who is with us today, Dick Ham. We've worked together on many things over the years, and I'm glad that we're doing this today.

A few years ago I was serving on one of our state committees, the State Health Coordinating Council. The council reviewed and made recommendations on the applications of hospitals to purchase materials or equipment. I don't remember the specifics, but we had an application before us that was quite controversial. On the day of the hearing, the attorney representing one side was Harry Reid and the attorney representing the other side was Grant Sawyer. As I sat there and listened to their arguments, it occurred to me that it was something of a historical thing to have such fine Nevadans on each side.

I would like to read into the record a fax that I received from the office of Nevada Senator Harry Reid.

> It is with great honor that I speak of Grant Sawyer. Upon his death last year, Nevada lost a true pioneer, but his legacy will continue to live on for years to come.
> Grant Sawyer was able to look past conventional wisdom when it came to race relations in the Silver State. During his term, he was a champion for equal rights, advocating equal opportunity for all. His victories pushed Nevada into the future and paved the way for the growth and success we can boast about today.
> Grant Sawyer was also a pioneer for the Democratic Party in Nevada. He led the party to numerous victories and his service and innovative leadership on the Democratic National Committee was admirable.
> Grant Sawyer set a standard for successful leadership in Nevada, but his visions and ideas will endure. His accomplishments truly exemplify the unique spirit of the Silver State and we are better for his service.

I also received a copy of a certificate of special congressional recognition for Grant Sawyer from the office of Congressman Jim Gibbons. The original will be mailed to his family.

Anyone who has worked and has served in Nevada certainly knows the wonderful accomplishments of Grant, and I'm fully in support of ACR 29. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I certainly must rise in support of this resolution. Before I ever ran for public office, I served as chairman of a Chamber of Commerce committee in Yerington to repave the road from Schurz through Yerington to Fernley. We came over to Carson City about once a week and haunted Grant; he finally got the highway people to take a look at the project and they agreed to do it. This was my break into politics, and Grant and I developed a friendship that lasted many years.

Grant was always good counsel, and he knew what was going on in this state to his last days. He was a man of impeccable integrity. He worked hard to protect the state from federal intrusion into our gaming industry. I wish he was still alive today so he could help us in that effort again, because I think it's one of the most important things that can happen in the history of our state.

Grant was a man who worked hard. In 1966, before we had a constitutional prohibition against serving more than two terms as governor, Grant ran for a third term and was defeated by Governor Laxalt. That was the first election that I won. We talked about it afterward and he said, "Well, you got elected, and I got beat." And that was it.

Grant was always willing to take care of the problems in this state. He was a great man, and he'll be remembered for many years.

I have a letter to read into the record.

SUPREME COURT OF NEVADA
MIRIAM SHEARING, CHIEF JUSTICE
CAPITOL COMPLEX
CARSON CITY, NEVADA 89710

May 28, 1997

PRESIDENT LAWRENCE E. JACOBSEN, Nevada Senate, Carson City, NV 89710
SPEAKER JOSEPH E. DINI, JR., Nevada Assembly, Carson City, NV 89710
DEAR PRESIDENT JACOBSEN AND SPEAKER DINI:

The Supreme Court of Nevada endorses the resolution honoring former Governor Grant Sawyer, one of the greatest statesmen in the history of Nevada and a champion of the rights of all Nevadans.

Yours truly,
MIRIAM SHEARING
Chief Justice
Supreme Court of Nevada

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

I knew Grant Sawyer as a private lawyer rather than politician. In 1969, I and two others who worked at the Nevada Test Site knew that we were going to get the ax because Lyndon Johnson had cancelled our program. We "ivory tower" types decided to go out into the big, bad world of business and buy a franchise. Since we were going to buy a franchise, we needed somebody to negotiate on our behalf, so I suggested this new law firm of Lionel Sawyer and Collins. I went to the law firm as the representative of this new organization, and lo and behold, Grant Sawyer, the former Governor, was talking to me. I pled poverty and said that we had to stay here in Nevada and open a business. We were neophytes. Grant Sawyer negotiated a contract for us with the franchise, and it was amazing. He had apparently studied this thing very, very thoroughly, and he negotiated unbelievable advantages for us from the franchise seller. I guess he took the poverty part to heart, too, because with all the work he did, I think he charged us a total of $200. For years afterwards, I'd pick up the phone and call him with problems, and he never turned the clock on. He would listen to my problems, give me good advice and I'd never get a bill from him.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Although it's not part of this resolution, we have another issue here on the floor today that I think deserves recognition from this body. Mr. Faiss, who is sitting with Ms. Evans, has just been recognized nationally as among the 100 most distinguished attorneys in the United States for his expertise on gaming matters.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblywoman Evans moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 29 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Remarks by Assemblywoman de Braga.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that Assemblywoman de Braga's remarks be entered in the Journal.

The fact that Josie Alma Woods was one of a very few legislators never memorialized by this body was brought to my attention by LCB Researcher Dana Bennett. She made the discovery while working on a women's history project.

Josie was bitten by the political bug in 1940, and she filed as an Independent candidate for commissioner in Eureka County. She did no advertising, very little campaigning and received only 25 percent of the vote. Undaunted and learning much from her first campaign, Josie ran for the Assembly in 1942. She received more than 60 percent of the vote and was the first woman elected to represent Eureka County. She was also the only woman elected to represent Eureka County, until I came along 50 years later. She was reelected in 1944, achieving another milestone by being, at that time, the first woman ever to win reelection to the legislature.

During her short term, gaming was legalized in Nevada. She voted for it, stating, "They're doing it anyway, and life is a gamble."

Josie lost her re-election bid in 1946 to a man who had just returned from the war. She had intended to run for the Senate but was promised by Senate candidate Jack Murray that if she didn't run against him, he would get her the support necessary to be reelected to the Assembly. Her opponent, however, took out a full-page ad reminding voters that he had fought for them in the war, and he defeated her.

Another disappointment occurred when Josie, who had written her own story of her life, enlisted the aid of a professional writer to edit it. The ghostwriter sold her story to "some outfit in Hollywood" and the movie, "The Ballad of Josie," starring Doris Day, resulted. Josie never received a penny for her story. She was, however, eternally optimistic and good-natured. Of her years in the legislature she wrote, "All the members of the legislature were grand to me, and some of our smartest men would come to me and ask my opinion. I loved every minute I was in the legislature." She also stated in a letter that she had serious concerns about the high cost of putting a bill through to make it law and indicated that it was a terrible waste because "hundreds of them are never used."

Josie's indomitable spirit endured for 93 years and yet her accomplishments in ranching, community affairs and politics were never properly acknowledged. Through this resolution we will correct a great oversight that was made, and through her family, commend the remarkable Josie Alma Woods for her years of service to the State of Nevada.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblywoman de Braga moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 30 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

(b) That the matter be compromised by an agreement among the alleged father, the mother and the child, in which the father and child relationship is not determined but in which a defined economic obligation, fully secured by payment or otherwise, is undertaken by the alleged father in favor of the child and, if appropriate, in favor of the mother, subject to approval by the judge, master or referee conducting the hearing. In reviewing the obligation undertaken by the alleged father in a compromise agreement, the judge, master or referee conducting the hearing shall consider the best interest of the child, discounted by the improbability, as it appears to him, of establishing the alleged father's paternity or nonpaternity of the child in a trial of the action. In the best interest of the child, the court may order that the alleged father's identity be kept confidential. In that case, the court may designate a person or agency to receive from the alleged father and disburse on behalf of the child all amounts paid by the alleged father in fulfillment of obligations imposed on him.

(c) That the alleged father voluntarily acknowledge his paternity of the child.

In that case, the court may designate a person or agency to receive from the alleged father and disburse on behalf of the child all amounts paid by the alleged father in fulfillment of obligations imposed on him.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, May 29, 1997

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolutions Nos. 44, 45.

MARY JO MONGELLI
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 44.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Buckley, Collins, Price, Chowning and Lee.

Assemblyman Price requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is my pleasure to speak in support of this resolution today. I think Commissioner Jay Bingham really needs no introduction. He served with distinction on the Clark County Commission and was its chair for two terms. I guess I would point to Jay Bingham's integrity to support this resolution. As we sat here speaking today, we commented upon how we may not always agree on substantive issues. No one can ever doubt that Jay is motivated by what he believes is right, not by what other people think. He kept that integrity and legacy throughout his entire term in public service.

As we see fewer and fewer people going into public service, I think one thing that we can point out to them, in order to encourage them to serve, is that you can serve with honesty, distinction and integrity because we have examples like Jay Bingham.

ASSEMBLYMAN COLLINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of Senate Concurrent Resolution 44. I want to emphasize what an outstanding job Jay did, both as a city councilman in North Las Vegas and as a Clark County Commissioner. Above all, you could count on Jay's honesty. Jay also helped Clark County and the Regional Transportation Commission to fairly prioritize the road work.

I've known Jay a long time, and I'm very proud to be able to support this resolution. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. To you and through you, it is my honor to rise in support of Senate Concurrent Resolution 44. Jay served as commissioner and as city councilman in my home city of North Las Vegas for a number of years. He always did a wonderful job and was honest and hard working. Jay served on the county commission, and he was my county commissioner for a few years before we re-districted. Again, he served with distinction.

I think that we in Nevada are fortunate to have public servants who have worked as hard and as diligently as Jay has, and I'm very pleased to support this resolution this morning. It's good to see you, Jay.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of SCR 44 commending Jay Bingham. He never, ever forgot North Las Vegas even though he went on to become a county commissioner. During the Gulf War, he implemented and fought hard for support of the families of the soldiers who were there. A lot of people are proud that he represented them.

ASSEMBLYMAN LEE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to rise in support of SCR 44. Jay Bingham has been a good man for a lot of years. I knew him during the Rancho High School era of his life. I've watched him grow. He became a "hometown boy done good." Not only did he "do good" for us in the hometown, but for the whole community. Through his service in politics and church, his life has been one of service to his fellow man, and I'd like to commend him on how he has dedicated his life to other people. Thank you, Jay.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just thought it important to note, since we just finished commending Jay Bingham for his many accomplishments, to note a further accomplishment of his. Jay was able to get $20 from Senator Raggio. There are not many of us who are able to achieve that task, and I thought it should be noted for today's record.

Resolution adopted.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 45.

Assemblyman Lee moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Lee, Dini, Segerblom, Price, Krenzer, Chowning, Braunlin and Buckley.

Assemblyman Price requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN LEE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. In this political world we live in, we're really probably not supposed to have favorites, but Paul Christensen has been a favorite of mine for many years, and I've enjoyed knowing him. Paul also has a life outside of this place. He was a pilot in the Air Force; he has been married for 44 years; he has four children and eight grandchildren; and he has been a very good family man throughout his years of public service.

His father, M. J. Christensen, served in the Assembly for 12 years and in the Senate for four years. I believe his father also served with you, Mr. Dini, during the last meetings held in the Capitol Building when the money was appropriated for this new building. It's my honor to present to you Paul Christensen, a great native Nevadan.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I can't let this go by without saying something about Paul. I remember when he was a city councilman and we had the big fights about annexation. Then he became a county commissioner, and he had the same fight on the other side. I think he changed direction there somewhere in between. I remember his father was a great man, a great Nevadan, and Paul is too. We appreciate all your public service.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SEGERBLOM:

Thank you, Mr. Chairman. I rise in support of SCR 45. I served on the Las Vegas Convention Board with Paul Christensen, representing Boulder City, of course. Paul made it as much fun as the Speaker makes for us here on the Assembly floor.

I think we should also recognize Paul's wife, Norma, because Norma and I steered him around London one time and he would have gotten lost without us. He doesn't know directions too well. We were there, by the way, as guests of someone else, not at the expense of the Convention Authority or the State of Nevada. We were hosted.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, take great pleasure and honor in rising in support of SCR 45. I, like many others here, have been friends with and have known Paul and watched his service to our community and our state for many, many years. He has always served his electorate and our state in the finest manner. He has always been very approachable. Paul is easily accessible to everyone.

Paul has been a wonderful servant of Nevada, and I'm so pleased that we're recognizing him today.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KRENZER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of Senate Concurrent Resolution 45. While words like "kind" and "gentle" describe former Commissioner Bingham, "gruff" is a term that's been referred to in connection with Commissioner Christensen. He did not suffer fools. When people came to him with ideas, he would let them know if the idea wasn't acceptable. Commissioners Christensen and Bingham will be remembered best for serving during the time of the greatest growth in our county's history. Not only did they serve during that time, they both created the stable, consistent leadership that fostered and encouraged this growth. I'm very grateful to former Commissioner Christensen, and thank you to Commissioner Bingham.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of SCR 45. I got to know Commissioner Christensen before he was a commissioner, while I was teaching two of his nephews. They listened to their Uncle Paul, and if they didn't toe the line, then he made sure that they knew about it. That is the attitude that he had with everyone. I think it's just great to have a reputation as a "straight-shooter," and while he might not have agreed with your position, you never had to worry about where you stood. We appreciate his tenure of service to Nevada.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BRAUNLIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of Senate Concurrent Resolution 45. Since I've been in office, I've had the pleasure of working with Paul Christensen, and I can honestly say that it has been a delight. There have been some very challenging times, but please know that I greatly appreciate all that you've done on behalf of southern Nevada and the entire state. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think it only appropriate, as we're paying tribute to Commissioner Christensen and Commissioner Bingham, that we also recognize Pat Shalmy, who is joining us today and who is in the audience. His vision, working with the commissioners, made Clark County what it is today, and I think it's only appropriate that we welcome him to our Chambers.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 178.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce:

Amendment No. 480.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 1 through 4 and adding new sections designated sections 1 through 14, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. Chapter 597 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 to 12, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 2. As used in sections 2 to 12, inclusive, of this act, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in sections 3, 4 and 5 of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 3. "Drivetrain" means those components and systems within a motor vehicle that transfer power from the engine of the vehicle to the wheels of the vehicle, including, without limitation, a transmission, driveshaft, torque converter, differential, universal joint and constant velocity joint.

Sec. 4. "Used vehicle" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 482.132.

Sec. 5. "Used vehicle dealer" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 482.133.

Sec. 6. Before a used vehicle dealer may sell a used vehicle to a retail customer, the used vehicle dealer must first conduct a reasonably thorough inspection of that vehicle, inspecting for soundness and safety the components and systems of the vehicle's engine and drivetrain.

Sec. 7. 1. Except as otherwise provided in section 8 of this act, a used vehicle dealer who sells to a retail customer a used vehicle, the odometer of which registers 75,000 miles or more, shall issue to that retail customer an express written warranty which complies with the requirements set forth in subsection 2 and is valid for the period set forth in the schedule of warranties created pursuant to section 9 of this act.

2. An express written warranty required pursuant to subsection 1 must contain a statement that, in the event the operation of the used vehicle becomes impaired as a result of a defect in a component or system of the vehicle's engine or drivetrain, the used vehicle dealer shall, with reasonable promptness, correct the defect or cause the defect to be corrected. A used vehicle dealer who is required to correct a defect or cause a defect to be corrected pursuant to a warranty issued pursuant to subsection 1 shall correct the defect or cause the defect to be corrected at a charge to the retail customer who purchased the used vehicle not to exceed $25.

Sec. 8. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 7 of this act, a used vehicle dealer may sell to a retail customer a used vehicle, the odometer of which registers 75,000 miles or more, without an express written warranty if before completing the sale, the used vehicle dealer discloses to the retail customer in writing any defects in the components and systems of the vehicle's engine and drivetrain of which the used vehicle dealer knows or reasonably should know after conducting the inspection required pursuant to section 6 of this act.

Sec. 9. If an express written warranty is required for a used vehicle pursuant to section 7 of this act, the duration of such a warranty must be determined pursuant to this section. If, on the date the vehicle was purchased from the used vehicle dealer, the odometer in the used vehicle registered:

1. At least 75,000 but less than 80,001 miles, the warranty is valid for a period of 30 days therefrom or until the odometer in the vehicle registers 1,000 miles more than on the date the vehicle was purchased from the used vehicle dealer, whichever occurs earlier.

2. At least 80,001 but less than 85,001 miles, the warranty is valid for a period of 20 days therefrom or until the odometer in the vehicle registers 600 miles more than on the date the vehicle was purchased from the used vehicle dealer, whichever occurs earlier.

3. At least 85,001 but less than 90,001 miles, the warranty is valid for a period of 10 days therefrom or until the odometer in the vehicle registers 300 miles more than on the date the vehicle was purchased from the used vehicle dealer, whichever occurs earlier.

4. At least 90,001 but less than 100,001 miles, the warranty is valid for a period of 5 days therefrom or until the odometer in the vehicle registers 150 miles more than on the date the vehicle was purchased from the used vehicle dealer, whichever occurs earlier.

5. At least 100,001 miles, the warranty is valid for a period of 2 days therefrom or until the odometer in the vehicle registers 100 miles more than on the date the vehicle was purchased from the used vehicle dealer, whichever occurs earlier.

The period for which a warranty is valid pursuant to this section must be tolled during any period in which the operation of the vehicle is impaired as a result of a defect in a component or system of the vehicle's engine or drivetrain.

Sec. 10. 1. Before a natural person who is not a vehicle dealer or used vehicle dealer may sell a used vehicle to another natural person, the seller shall first disclose in writing to the prospective purchaser those defects in the systems and components of the vehicle's engine and drivetrain known to the seller.

2. The duty of disclosure set forth in subsection 1 does not expressly or impliedly require a natural person who sells a used vehicle to conduct an inspection in connection therewith.

Sec. 11. 1. The department of motor vehicles and public safety may impose an administrative fine, not to exceed $2,500, for a violation of sections 6 to 9, inclusive, of this act, or any regulation adopted pursuant thereto. The department shall afford to any person so fined an opportunity for a hearing pursuant to the provisions of NRS 233B.121.

2. All administrative fines collected by the department pursuant to subsection 1 must be deposited with the state treasurer to the credit of the account for regulation of used vehicle dealers, which is hereby created in the state highway fund. Money in the account may be used only for the administration of NRS 481.048 and sections 6 to 9, inclusive, of this act.

3. In addition to any other remedy provided by law, the department may compel compliance with sections 6 to 9, inclusive, of this act, and any regulation adopted pursuant thereto, by injunction or other appropriate remedy and the department may institute and maintain in the name of the State of Nevada any such enforcement proceedings.

Sec. 12. The department of motor vehicles and public safety may adopt regulations to carry out the provisions of sections 2 to 11, inclusive, of this act.

[(c)] (d) A deceptive trade practice as defined in NRS 598.0915 to 598.0925, inclusive.

3. If the claimant is the prevailing party, the court shall award any damages that he has sustained.

4. Any action brought pursuant to this section is not an action upon any contract underlying the original transaction.

Sec. 14. NRS 481.048 is hereby amended to read as follows:

481.048 1. There is hereby created, within the registration division of the department, the bureau of enforcement.

2. The director shall appoint, within the limits of legislative appropriations, investigators in the bureau of enforcement of the registration division of the department.

3. The duties of the investigators are to travel the state and:

(a) Act as investigators in the enforcement of the provisions of chapters 482 , [and] 487 and 597 of NRS, NRS 108.265 to 108.360, inclusive, and 108.440 to 108.500, inclusive, as those sections pertain to motor vehicles, trailers, motorcycles, recreational vehicles and semitrailers, as defined in chapter 482 of NRS.

(b) Act as adviser to dealers in connection with any problems arising under the provisions of that chapter.

(c) Cooperate with personnel of the Nevada highway patrol in the enforcement of the motor vehicle laws as they pertain to dealers.

(d) Perform such other duties as may be imposed by the director.".

Amend the title of the bill to read as follows: "An Act relating to motor vehicles; requiring a used vehicle dealer to conduct certain inspections on each used vehicle that he sells to a retail customer; requiring a used vehicle dealer to provide certain warranties for certain used vehicles that he sells to retail customers or alternatively to disclose certain defects in those vehicles; requiring a natural person to disclose known defects in a vehicle that he sells to another natural person; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.".

Amend the summary of the bill to read as follows: "Summary—Revises provisions relating to sale of certain used vehicles. (BDR 52-745)".

Assemblywoman Buckley moved the adoption of the amendment.

Amend sec. 2, page 1, line 8, after "years." by inserting: "A landlord shall inform such persons about the availability of such long-term rental agreements.".

Amend sec. 2, pages 1 and 2, by deleting lines 9 through 16 on page 1 and lines 1 through 6 on page 2 and inserting:

"2. A rental agreement entered into pursuant to subsection 1:

(a) Must be written in clear and concise language that is set forth in at least 10-point type or handwritten legibly on a form approved by the division.

(c) Must contain the provisions required pursuant to subsection 3.

3. A rental agreement entered into pursuant to subsection 1 must contain a provision that authorizes:

(b) The tenant to, in accordance with subsection 4:

(1) Assign his rights under an existing rental agreement to a person who purchases the mobile home of the tenant.

(2) Sublease the site on which his mobile home is located.

(c) The landlord to increase the rent:

(1) Not more often than once every 12 months by a percentage which is not more than the percentage of the increase in the Consumer Price Index (All Items) for the preceding calendar year;

(2) To pay for an improvement to the mobile home park which is required by a governmental entity or for the maintenance of such an improvement; and

4. Before a tenant may execute an assignment or sublease pursuant to a provision of a rental agreement required by paragraph (b) of subsection 3, the tenant must notify the landlord of that intent. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, a landlord may disapprove such an assignment or sublease only if:

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, and Ethics:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 15—Expressing the State of Nevada's continued opposition to a Constitutional Convention of the States.

WHEREAS, For two centuries, the Constitution of the United States has served the citizens of this country well while preserving individual liberties; and

WHEREAS, The Constitution of the United States provides the framework for the American people to make legislative changes needed to protect the abundant freedoms which it guarantees; and

WHEREAS, All 27 amendments now in the Constitution were adopted by the traditional method of passage by a majority vote of two-thirds of the members in each House of Congress followed by ratification by three-fourths of the states; and

WHEREAS, There is no pressing need or reason to hold a Constitutional Convention of the States that could threaten vital traditions and imperil important governmental operations; and

WHEREAS, The Congressional Term Limits Act of 1996, which appeared as Ballot Question No. 17 on the State of Nevada's General Election Ballot on November 5, 1996, as the result of an initiative petition, requires a Constitutional Convention of the States if the act is passed by two-thirds of the states; and

WHEREAS, The voters of the State of Nevada will be considering Ballot Question No. 17 in the 1998 General Election for the second and final time; and

WHEREAS, Nine states have already supported a Constitutional Convention of the States by passing the Congressional Term Limits Act of 1996, thus threatening the integrity of the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, A Constitutional Convention of the States could jeopardize the Constitution of the United States by considering issues which are in addition to congressional term limits, thus leaving the Constitution open to sweeping and unnecessary revision; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That the Legislature of the State of Nevada continues to oppose to the Constitutional Convention of the States; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the desire of the American people to impose term limits for the members of the United States House of Representatives and Senate can be equally accomplished through the traditional method available to amend the Constitution of the United States; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Vice President of the United States as the presiding officer of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and each member of the Nevada Congressional Delegation; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this resolution becomes effective upon passage and approval.

Assemblywoman Giunchigliani moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, and Ethics.

Motion carried.

6. The board shall at the time specified in the notice, or at the time or times to which the hearing may be adjourned, proceed to hear the request and all written objections presented to show cause why the request should not be granted. The failure of any person interested to show cause in writing must be considered an approval by that person of the inclusion in or the exclusion from the district of the lands as requested.

7. Upon conclusion of the hearing the board by resolution shall approve the request, subject to ratification by the board of county commissioners of the county in which the lands are situated if the request is for the inclusion of lands, or deny the request. In the case of proceedings initiated pursuant to subsection 3, the board may approve the inclusion in the district of the described lands only if it determines that the lands contain weeds that are harmful to owners of land in the district. The board may defer adoption of the resolution to a special meeting or its first regular meeting after conclusion of the hearing, whichever is sooner.

8. A copy of the resolution, adopted pursuant to subsection 7, must be filed with the board of county commissioners of each county in which all or a part of the district is located.

9. No action of the board of directors approving the inclusion of lands within the district becomes effective unless it is ratified by the board of county commissioners of the county in which the lands are situated. The board of county commissioners may ratify the action at any time after the filing of the resolution, but if the board has neither ratified the action nor denied ratification within 90 days after the date the resolution was filed pursuant to subsection 8, the action of the board of directors shall be deemed ratified.

Sec. 11. NRS 308.020 is hereby amended to read as follows:

308.020 1. The Special District Control Law applies to:

(a) Any special district whose formation is initiated by a board of county commissioners; and

(b) Any petition for the formation of any proposed special district filed with any board of county commissioners.

2. As used in this chapter "special district" means any water district, sanitation district, water and sanitation district, municipal power district, mosquito abatement district, public cemetery district, swimming pool district, television maintenance district, weed control district, general improvement district, or any other quasi-municipal corporation organized under the local improvement and service district laws of this state as enumerated in Title 25 of NRS, but excludes:

Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a person who is convicted of a violation of a speed limit in an area designated as a temporary traffic control zone in which construction, maintenance or repair of a highway is conducted shall be punished by imprisonment or by a fine, or both, for a term or an amount equal to and in addition to the term of imprisonment or amount of the fine, or both, that the court imposes for the primary offense. After the initial terms, each judge of the court of appeals must be elected by the qualified electors of this state at the general election for a term of 6 years beginning on the first Monday of January next after the election. The initial three judges must be elected by the qualified electors of this state at the first general election following the enactment of this section. The initial terms of the judges must be staggered so that one judge serves for an initial term of 2 years, one for 4 years and one for 6 years. The initial judges shall meet as soon as practicable after their election to determine by lot the term of office that each judge will fill. If there is an increase in the number of judges, each additional judge must be elected by the qualified electors of this state at the first general election following the increase for a term beginning on the first Monday of January next after the election. The legislature shall provide for an initial term of 6 or fewer years for each additional judge so that one-third of the total number of judges, as nearly as may be, is elected every 2 years. If the number of judges is increased by more than one, the additional judges shall meet as soon as practicable after their election to determine by lot the term of office that each judge will fill.*".

Amend sec. 11, page 2, by deleting lines 19 through 22 and inserting:

Amend sec. 12, pages 2 and 3, by deleting lines 23 through 43 on page 2 and lines 1 through 25 on page 3, and inserting:

"Sec. 12. 1. The date upon which customers may begin obtaining generation, aggregation and any other potentially competitive service from an alternative seller must be no later than July 1, 2001, unless the commission determines that a different date is necessary to protect the public interest. If the commission has not authorized customers to begin obtaining any potentially competitive service from an alternative seller by February 1, 2001, the commission shall provide a report to the legislature on that date which:

(a) Explains the reason that the commission has not granted such an authorization; and

(b) States whether the commission will grant such an authorization by July 1, 2001.

2. The commission may:

(a) Establish different dates for the provision of different services by alternative sellers in different geographic areas; and

(b) Authorize, in gradual phases, the right to buy from alternative sellers.

3. The commission shall determine that an electric service is a potentially competitive service if provision of the service by alternative sellers:

(a) Will not harm any class of customers;

(b) Will decrease the cost of providing the service to customers in this state or increase the quality or innovation of the service to customers in this state;

(c) Is a service for which effective competition in the market is likely to develop;

(d) Will advance the competitive position of this state relative to surrounding states; and

(e) Will not otherwise jeopardize the safety and reliability of the electric service in this state.

4. If the commission determines that a market for a potentially competitive service does not have effective competition, the commission shall, by regulation, establish the method for determining prices for the service and the terms and conditions for providing the service. The regulations must ensure that the pricing method, terms and conditions are just and reasonable and not unduly discriminatory. The regulations may include pricing alternatives which authorize the seller to reduce prices below maximum pricing levels specified by the commission or any other form of alternative pricing which the commission determines to be consistent with the provisions of this subsection. In determining whether a market for a potentially competitive service does not have effective competition pursuant to this subsection, the commission shall:

(a) Identify the relevant market;

(b) Identify, where feasible, the alternative sellers that participate in the relevant market; and

(c) Calculate, where feasible, the share of each participant in the market and evaluate the significance of each share.

The commission may reconsider any determination made pursuant to this subsection upon its own motion or upon a showing of good cause by a party requesting a reconsideration. Upon a finding by the commission that the market for a service previously found not to have effective competition has become effectively competitive, the commission shall repeal the regulations which established the pricing method for that service and the terms and conditions for providing that service.

5. Commencing on the date on which customers are authorized to obtain a potentially competitive service from alternative sellers, an electric utility shall not provide the potentially competitive service except through an affiliate licensed pursuant to section 13 of this act.

6. The commission shall design, conduct and evaluate at least one pilot project regarding retail competition, which must commence not later than July 1, 1998. The commission shall design the project in such a manner that the project:

(a) Provides useful information to the commission, consumers and sellers of electricity regarding the carrying out of competition to provide potentially competitive services;

(b) Prevents any unfair advantage to a seller of a potentially competitive service;

(c) Ensures substantial participation by residential, commercial and industrial customers; and

(d) Prevents any unnecessary delay in the date on which customers may obtain potentially competitive services from alternative sellers.

With respect to a pilot project, the commission possesses all of the relevant powers and duties set forth in sections 2 to 23, inclusive, of this act. The commission shall treat any costs incurred by an electric utility before July 1, 1998, on behalf of customers who participate in a pilot project in the manner set forth in section 19 of this act.".

Amend sec. 13, page 3, by deleting lines 39 through 42 and inserting:

"3. The commission may deny the application of a prospective alternative seller for a license, or may limit, suspend or revoke a license issued to an alternative seller, if the action is necessary to protect the interests of the public or to enforce the provisions of sections 2 to 23, inclusive, of this act or of a regulation of the commission. In determining whether to take any of those actions, the commission may consider whether the applicant for or holder of such a license, or any affiliate thereof, has engaged in activities which are inconsistent with effective competition.

4. A city, county or other local governmental entity or a public utility, or any affiliate thereof, which is authorized to provide electric service within the State of Nevada on or before July 1, 1997, and which has an annual operating revenue of less than $250,000,000, is subject to the provisions of sections 2 to 23, inclusive, of this act and any regulations adopted by the commission that are in effect on the date on which the city, county or other local governmental entity or public utility, or an affiliate thereof:

(a) Applies to obtain a license as an alternative seller; or

(b) Directly or indirectly attempts to provide, or act on behalf of an alternative seller in the provision of, electric service in the territory served by another city, county or other local governmental entity or public utility, or an affiliate thereof.".

Amend sec. 15, pages 4 and 5, by deleting lines 7 through 44 on page 4 and lines 1 through 5 on page 5, and inserting:

Shareholders of the electric utility must be compensated fully for all such costs determined by the commission. In determining the costs, the commission shall take into account:*

(b) The extent to which the market value of the assets and obligations of the utility relating to the provision of potentially competitive services exceeds the costs for the assets and obligations;

(c) The effectiveness of the efforts of the electric utility to increase and realize the market value of any assets and obligations associated with the provision of potentially competitive services;

(d) The extent to which the rates previously established by the commission have compensated shareholders for the risk of not recovering the costs for the assets and obligations;

(e) The effects of the difference between the market value and the costs for the assets and obligations, including, but not limited to, tax considerations; and

(h) Include a description of the facilities needed to meet future requirements.

(i) Evaluate the extent to which electric service is subject to competition and the actions necessary to accommodate or facilitate competition in the provision of electric services.

2. If the commission determines that sufficient capacity will not be available to customers at a reasonable price, the commission may establish equitable obligations for customers, electric utilities or alternative sellers to ensure that sufficient capacity is made available. Any obligation that discriminates against or unduly burdens an electric utility, an alternative seller or a customer is not reasonable and may not be imposed by the commission. The commission may adopt regulations that specify the method or procedures which will be used to ensure the requirements for capacity are satisfied. The methods or procedures may include competitive solicitations to fill the requirements or any other procedures or methods deemed appropriate and necessary by the commission.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 39—Designating June 5, 1997, as "Baby Your Baby Day" in the State of Nevada.

WHEREAS, In 1990, many women in the State of Nevada were not accessing prenatal care early and the infant mortality rate was 9 deaths per 1,000 live births; and

WHEREAS, Prevention in the form of information and education promoting early and continuous prenatal care has been proven to improve the outcome of pregnancy; and

WHEREAS, In 1991, Sunbelt Communications, Washoe Health System, Sunrise Children's Hospital and Sierra Health Services joined with the Health Division and Welfare Division of the Department of Human Resources to form a public/private partnership to improve the outcome of pregnancy in the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The "Baby Your Baby" program, a multi-media public service campaign which includes a toll-free information and referral line, was developed and implemented to promote early and continuous prenatal care, has directly assisted over 20,000 pregnant women and their partners in accessing prenatal care and other related health services; and

WHEREAS, Since the implementation of the "Baby Your Baby" program in 1992:

1. The infant mortality rate of the State of Nevada is now one of the best in the nation, decreasing from 9 deaths per 1,000 live births in 1991, to 5.7 deaths per 1,000 live births in 1996;

2. The percentage of women in this state receiving prenatal care in the first trimester increased from 68 percent in 1991 to 79 percent in 1996;

3. Since 1993, participants in the "Baby Your Baby" program have delivered fewer premature babies than nonparticipants, the low and very low birth-weight rates have remained stable and the infant mortality rate has decreased even though the number of births increased; and

4. The "Baby Your Baby" program has successfully reached pregnant women who are at a high risk for poor outcomes at birth, including African-Americans, whose infant mortality rate diminished by one-half from 1988 to 1995 and whose low birth-weight rate decreased from 16 percent to 14.6 percent over the same period; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the Nevada Legislature do hereby designate June 5, 1997, as "Baby Your Baby Day" in the State of Nevada in recognition of the success of the "Baby Your Baby" program, the importance of early and continuous prenatal health care and the fact that "prevention pays"; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the "Baby Your Baby" campaign and other prenatal programs, such as the Medicaid "MOMS" program, are excellent examples of governmental agencies and the private sector working together to have a significant impact on communities by enabling residents of the State of Nevada access to prenatal health services; and be it further

RESOLVED, That families, communities and governmental agencies are hereby encouraged to emphasize and support public awareness of the importance of early and continuous prenatal care for all pregnant women; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Yvonne Sylva, Administrator of the Health Division of the Department of Human Resources and Myla Florence, Administrator of the Welfare Division of the Department of Human Resources.

"Sec. 157.5. NRS 125.510 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.510 1. In determining the custody of a minor child in an action brought pursuant to this chapter, the court may, except as otherwise provided in this section and [28 U.S.C. § 1738B:] chapter 130 of NRS:

(a) During the pendency of the action, at the final hearing or at any time thereafter during the minority of any of the children of the marriage, make such an order for the custody, care, education, maintenance and support of the minor children as appears in their best interest; and

(b) At any time modify or vacate its order, even if the divorce was obtained by default without an appearance in the action by one of the parties. The party seeking such an order shall submit to the jurisdiction of the court for the purposes of this subsection. The court may make such an order upon the application of one of the parties or the legal guardian of the minor.

2. Any order for joint custody may be modified or terminated by the court upon the petition of one or both parents or on the court's own motion if it is shown that the best interest of the child requires the modification or termination. The court shall state in its decision the reasons for the order of modification or termination if either parent opposes it.

3. Any order for custody of a minor child or children of a marriage entered by a court of another state may, subject to the jurisdictional requirements in chapter 125A of NRS, be modified at any time to an order of joint custody.

4. A party may proceed pursuant to this section without counsel.

5. Any order awarding a party a limited right of custody to a child must define that right with sufficient particularity to ensure that the rights of the parties can be properly enforced and that the best interest of the child is achieved. The order must include all specific times and other terms of the limited right of custody. As used in this subsection, "sufficient particularity" means a statement of the rights in absolute terms and not by the use of the term "reasonable" or other similar term which is susceptible to different interpretations by the parties.

6. All orders authorized by this section must be made in accordance with the provisions of chapter 125A of NRS and must contain the following language:

> PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF ORDER: THE ABDUCTION, CONCEALMENT OR DETENTION OF A CHILD IN VIOLATION OF THIS ORDER IS PUNISHABLE AS A CATEGORY D FELONY AS PROVIDED IN NRS 193.130. NRS 200.359 provides that every person having a limited right of custody to a child or any parent having no right of custody to the child who willfully detains, conceals or removes the child from a parent, guardian or other person having lawful custody or a right of visitation of the child in violation of an order of this court, or removes the child from the jurisdiction of the court without the consent of either the court or all persons who have the right to custody or visitation is subject to being punished for a category D felony as provided in NRS 193.130.

7. In addition to the language required pursuant to subsection 6, all orders authorized by this section must specify that the terms of the Hague Convention of October 25, 1980, adopted by the 14th Session of the Hague Conference on Private International Law, apply if a parent abducts or wrongfully retains a child in a foreign country.

8. If a parent of the child lives in a foreign country or has significant commitments in a foreign country:

(a) The parties may agree, and the court shall include in the order for custody of the child, that the United States is the country of habitual residence of the child for the purposes of applying the terms of the Hague Convention as set forth in subsection 7.

(b) Upon motion of one of the parties, the court may order the parent to post a bond if the court determines that the parent poses an imminent risk of wrongfully removing or concealing the child outside the country of habitual residence. The bond must be in an amount determined by the court and may be used only to pay for the cost of locating the child and returning him to his habitual residence if the child is wrongfully removed from or concealed outside the country of habitual residence. The fact that a parent has significant commitments in a foreign country does not create a presumption that the parent poses an imminent risk of wrongfully removing or concealing the child.

9. Except where a contract providing otherwise has been executed pursuant to NRS 123.080, the obligation for care, education, maintenance and support of any minor child created by any order entered pursuant to this section ceases:

(a) Upon the death of the person to whom the order was directed; or

(b) When the child reaches 18 years of age if he is no longer enrolled in high school, otherwise, when he reaches 19 years of age.

10. As used in this section, a parent has "significant commitments in a foreign country" if he:

(a) Is a citizen of a foreign country;

(b) Possesses a passport in his name from a foreign country;

(c) Became a citizen of the United States after marrying the other parent of the child; or

(d) Frequently travels to a foreign country.".

(1) Interest upon the arrearages at a rate established pursuant to NRS 99.040, from the time each amount became due; and

(2) A reasonable attorney's fee for the proceeding, unless the court finds that the responsible parent would experience an undue hardship if required to pay such amounts. Interest continues to accrue on the amount ordered until it is paid, and additional attorney's fees must be allowed if required for collection.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 11.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 508.

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sections 2 through 4 and adding new sections designated sections 2 through 4, following section 1 to read as follows:

"Sec. 2. As used in this section and sections 3 and 4 of this act, "older patient" means a patient who is 60 years of age or older.

Sec. 3. 1. Except as otherwise provided in section 4 of this act, each facility for intermediate care, facility for skilled nursing, residential facility for groups and agency to provide nursing in the home shall, when applying for a license or renewing a license, file with the administrator of the aging services division of the department of human resources a surety bond:

(a) If the facility or agency employs less than 7 employees, in the amount of $10,000;

(b) If the facility or agency employs at least 7 but not more than 25 employees, in the amount of $50,000; or

(c) If the facility or agency employs more than 25 employees, in the amount of $100,000.

2. A bond filed pursuant to this section must be executed by the facility or agency as principal and by a surety company as surety. The bond must be payable to the aging services division of the department of human resources and must be conditioned to provide indemnification to an older patient who the specialist for the rights of elderly persons determines has suffered property damage as a result of any act or failure to act by the facility or agency to protect the property of the older patient.

3. Except when a surety is released, the surety bond must cover the period of the initial license to operate or the period of the renewal, as appropriate.

4. A surety on any bond filed pursuant to this section may be released after the surety gives 30 days' written notice to the administrator of the aging services division of the department of human resources, but the release does not discharge or otherwise affect any claim filed by an older patient for property damaged as a result of any act or failure to act by the facility or agency to protect the property of the older patient alleged to have occurred while the bond was in effect.

5. A license is suspended by operation of law when the facility or agency is no longer covered by a surety bond as required by this section or by a substitute for the surety bond pursuant to section 4 of this act. The administrator of the aging services division of the department of human resources shall give the facility or agency at least 20 days' written notice before the release of the surety or the substitute for the surety, to the effect that the license will be suspended by operation of law until another surety bond or substitute for the surety bond is filed in the same manner and amount as the bond or substitute being terminated.

Sec. 4. 1. As a substitute for the surety bond required pursuant to section 3 of this act, a facility for intermediate care, a facility for skilled nursing, a residential facility for groups and an agency to provide nursing in the home may deposit with any bank or trust company authorized to do business in this state, upon approval from the administrator of the aging services division of the department of human resources:

(a) An obligation of a bank, savings and loan association, thrift company or credit union licensed to do business in this state;

(b) Bills, bonds, notes, debentures or other obligations of the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or guaranteed by the United States; or

(c) Any obligation of this state or any city, county, town, township, school district or other instrumentality of this state, or guaranteed by this state, in an aggregate amount, based upon principal amount or market value, whichever is lower.

2. The obligations of a bank, savings and loan association, thrift company or credit union must be held to secure the same obligation as would the surety bond required by section 3 of this act. With the approval of the administrator of the aging services division, the depositor may substitute other suitable obligations for those deposited, which must be assigned to the aging services division of the department of human resources and are negotiable only upon approval by the administrator of the aging services division.

3. Any interest or dividends earned on the deposit accrue to the account of the depositor.

4. The deposit must be an amount at least equal to the surety bond required by section 3 of this act and must state that the amount may not be withdrawn except by direct and sole order of the administrator of the aging services division.".

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sec. 6 and adding new sections designated sections 6 and 7, following sec. 5, to read as follows:

"Sec. 6. Chapter 427A of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

Within 1 year after an older patient sustains damage to his property as a result of any act or failure to act by a facility for intermediate care, a facility for skilled nursing, a residential facility for groups or an agency to provide nursing in the home in protecting the property, the older patient may file a verified complaint with the division setting forth the details of the damage.

2. Upon receiving a verified complaint pursuant to subsection 1, the administrator shall investigate the complaint and attempt to settle the matter through arbitration, mediation or negotiation.

3. If a settlement is not reached pursuant to subsection 2, the facility, agency or older patient may request a hearing before the specialist for the rights of elderly persons. If requested, the specialist for the rights of elderly persons shall conduct a hearing to determine whether the facility or agency is liable for damages to the patient. If the specialist for the rights of elderly persons determines that the facility or agency is liable for damages to the patient, he shall order the amount of the surety bond pursuant to section 3 of this act or the substitute for the surety bond necessary to pay for the damages pursuant to section 4 of this act to be released to the division. The division shall pay any such amount to the older patient or the estate of the older patient.

4. The division shall create a separate account for money to be collected and distributed pursuant to this section.

5. As used in this section:

(a) "Agency to provide nursing in the home" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 449.0015;

(b) "Facility for intermediate care" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 449.0038;

Assemblywoman Von Tobel moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Von Tobel, Chowning, Cegavske and Price.

Assemblywoman Von Tobel requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN VON TOBEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Assembly Concurrent Resolution 40 honors UNLV Tennis Coach Larry Easley and men's tennis members Luke Smith and Tim Blenkiron. The two tennis championships are only the fifth and sixth NCAA titles for UNLV.

Luke Smith obtained a rare double crown. In the last 20 years of the NCAA Championships, the same player has claimed the singles and doubles titles in the same year only once.

This was Tim Blenkiron's first appearance ever in the NCAA Tournament. Tim, a three-year, all-conference performer, entered his senior year at UNLV with the most career single victories—48—on the team.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 40. These young men and the coach are a source of pride for UNLV. When I was a student—just a couple years ago—UNLV was Nevada's southern university. That was in the early days of the tennis team, so they've come a long way, and I'd like to offer my congratulations.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 40, and I want to congratulate Luke, Tim and Coach Easley for a job well done. You are the pride of Nevada, and I want to thank you very much. Tennis is one of my favorite sports, and I wish I could have been there to watch you. Congratulations and thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is with great pleasure that I also rise in support of the resolution. I'm sure all of you realize that not only we in the legislature, but all of Nevada, is very, very proud of your accomplishments, and we thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN VON TOBEL:

I'd like to introduce and present the certificates and tell you a little bit about the players. Luke Smith was born October 25, 1976. He graduated from Adelaide High School in Australia. He is the son of Peter and Bronwyn Smith. His parents are both teachers. His father is also a tennis coach and was a mentor of Aussie great, John Fitzgerald. Luke spent summers in Sweden playing tournaments. He majored in fine arts. Luke had set a goal to reach the NCAA in both singles and doubles.

Tim Blenkiron was born November 26, 1975, in Woodside, Australia. The son of Kingsley and Mary-Anne Blenkiron, he has one brother, and both of his parents are teachers. He is majoring in hotel administration, and he has spent his summers in Sweden. He set a goal to help win the WAC title this season.

It shows when young men set their sights high what they can do.

Coach Larry Easley was born in Bakersfield, California. He has coached for 31 years and coached number-one ranked Pete Sampras from the time he was eight until he was 15 years old. He has coached five National Juniors. With a very long distance phone call, Coach Larry Easley laid the groundwork for UNLV to win its first NCAA Tennis Championship, Australian-style.

Could you join me in congratulating them?

Resolution adopted.

Assemblywoman Von Tobel moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 40 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 12:40 p.m.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Quorum present.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Dini requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I have a matter of serious importance to this body that we need to discuss—our upcoming softball game with our colleagues down the hall.

I was reading the Senate Journal about two weeks ago in which the Majority Leader put in the Journal his statement concerning the game. I would request that my statement concerning the game be placed in our Journal. I was dismayed to read that the distinguished Majority Leader of that body was casting aspersions on this House. As you know, our biennial softball game is soon to be upon us, and we will have the opportunity to correct that horrific inequity from last session in which we were robbed of our trophy. We were robbed of the trophy on more than one occasion, as you may recall. You may also recall, as even the distinguished Majority Leader was forced to do, that the real hero of the 1995 trophy wars was our then-chief clerk, now retired and happily married, who repaired the trophy and showed the good judgment to return it to its rightful owners. Thank you, Mouryne.

Let's look ahead now to this year's game. Contrary to the geriatric delusions of the Majority Leader, the other House does not have a prayer this year. One only has to look around this Chamber to see that our players are younger, stronger, more physically and mentally fit, and better looking, and for those reasons, we will prevail over our aged colleagues down the hall.

As you may remember—and as the Senate Majority Leader has likely by now forgotten, but mentioned in his inane remarks—some time ago, in what I consider a shameful lack of decorum, the senators stole our trophy and left in its place a dead chicken. This august body would certainly never stoop to such a low tactic. However, I do believe the senators may have arrived this morning to find a subtle reminder of what they will be after the game—dead ducks. Now, we would never stoop to their level and hang in their Chambers a rubber fowl. The dead duck presented to the senators today is fuzzy and purple and very hip—but he is still very dead. Very dead. Hanging by his neck from a bright orange scarf. And if this was not enough to give them the idea of what they are about to become, this definition was attached:

> Dead duck—a noun—A Nevada senator who is foolish enough to participate in a game of softball against the younger, more vigorous, infinitely more attractive, members of the Nevada Assembly.

Ladies and gentlemen, I hope they get the message. If they don't, I'm sure they will on June 16 when they are annihilated on the ball field. Good luck to all of you who are playing for all of us, and the rest of us will be rooting for you from the sidelines.

Quack.

Your Fair-Feathered Friend in the Real Legislative House.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Our Chief Clerk reminds us today that love does seem to be in the air. Over the weekend, we had two marriage proposals: Becky Lawson, of the Sergeant-at-Arms office, and Brian Harris, and Becky's response to the proposal was "yes;" further, Bonnie Borda, our Journal Clerk, and Craig Hoffecker, of the Legal Division, and Bonnie's answer was "yes."

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), June 11, 1997

Assembly called to order at 11:16 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Al Fry.

There is a church in the middle of London that has a unique title. It is located in the midst of all the inner city noise. It is called an Isle of Silence in a Sea of Noise. We preachers and politicians need to learn the value of moments of silence. We need to learn how to be quiet. Moments of quietness help us to know and experience our value, worth, dignity and spirituality. We lead very hectic lives and sometimes the noise of life overwhelms us. We need moments to withdraw and be still. To assist us in this process, let us enjoy a minute of quietness. Center in on your own self-worth. Feel your own power and strength. Make contact with your spirituality and the presence of your Creator. May one minute of silence help you to experience your Isle of Silence in a Sea of Noise. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

WHEREAS, This dedicated teacher has taught pupils from the China Spring Youth Camp after his regular day of teaching at Douglas High School and has also been a part-time instructor at the Western Nevada Community College since 1988; and

WHEREAS, In 1991, Wayne Moore was recognized for his excellence as an instructor at Western Nevada Community College when he was named the "Part-Time Instructor of the Year"; and

WHEREAS, Since 1984, the pupils at Douglas High School who have enrolled in Wayne Moore's class in automotive technology have competed in the Ford/AAA Student Auto Skills Competition every year except one, an honor that requires participants to be in one of the top 10 designated classes in automotive technology in the State of Nevada; and

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 69th Session of the Nevada Legislature do hereby commend Wayne Moore for his heroic effort to save the life of Robert Bugajski, who sadly passed away on May 29; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Wayne Moore.

Assemblyman Hettrick moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Hettrick, Gustavson, Cegavske and Perkins.

Assemblyman Hettrick requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is truly a privilege for me to rise in support of ACR 42. As you can see from this resolution, Wayne Moore would be an exceptional human being just on the basis of his accomplishments as a teacher and his efforts within his community. He is a role model for all of the young people, and I have to say, adults as well, in Douglas County and the State of Nevada.

I put copies of an article on your desks, and I'd encourage you to take a look at that. Quite frankly, Mr. Speaker, if I tried to describe all this, I couldn't do it. Wayne Moore's actions are just incredible.

We often recognize people who do wonderful things but don't put their lives at risk at the spur of the moment for someone they don't know, and I just thought it was well worth our time and effort today, Mr. Speaker, to recognize Wayne Moore. It is a privilege for me to rise and recognize a man I consider to be a hero.

ASSEMBLYMAN GUSTAVSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of this resolution. I have known the Moore family for many years, and his actions did not surprise me. He is always more than willing to help anyone without any compensation. In fact, years ago, he helped me rebuild the motor in my pickup truck.

Thank you for bringing this resolution to us, Mr. Hettrick.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of ACR 42. As the mother of two teenage boys, I want to thank Mr. Moore for what you did that day. It's nice to know that there are people out there who will help our children if they're in need, and I urge your support also. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 42. In the law enforcement industry, you see a lot of devastation in people's lives. A lot of things occur where people do take action, like Mr. Moore has. If not for citizens of this caliber, our society would be one that would be unlivable. It is truly an honor to have somebody of this caliber in our Chambers today, and I think that our entire state owes him a debt of gratitude. Without persons like Mr. Moore, we literally would not have the ability to have the quality of life that we have in our state. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Hettrick moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 42 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Assemblyman Williams moved that Assembly Bill No. 468 be taken from the Chief Clerk's desk and placed on the General File.

Motion carried.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), June 12, 1997

Assembly called to order at 11:05 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Rabbi Myra Soifer.

From the Jewish tradition, a prayer for an assembly convened for the benefit of the community: Baruch ata Adonai Eloheiny melech HaOlam asher kideshany b'mitzovotaz v'tzivanu la-a-soke b'divrei tzibur. We praise You, Eternal God, Sovereign of the universe, who sanctifies us with divine commandments and commands us to attend to the needs of the community.

It is taught of our greatest prophet Moses that "Everyone who appeals for the needs of the community, it is as if he is endowed with a special force." May you, the members of our state Assembly, perform your duties with a true sense of reverence for the power that indeed is yours. May you weld that poser gently and for only the good. Guided by truths of divine and human greatness, may you indeed "Love your neighbor as yourself." "Love the stranger," and ever be led by the mandate "Justice, justice shalt thou pursue." May your lives and your labors make political reality of the spiritual truth that every citizen of this state and ever constituent of your districts is created in the image of God, is equally beloved by God, and is equally deserving of respect and caring from us: Baruch ata Adonai Eloheiny melech HaOlam asher kideshany b'mitzovotaz v'tzivanu la-a-soke b'divrei tzibur. Praised indeed is the One we call by many names, who commands us to attend to the needs of the community.

May the work of your hands and your hearts be both blessed and a blessing. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, and Ethics:

Assembly Resolution No. 13—Recognizing the work and contributions of Harold Bradford, whose art work has been exhibited in the Legislative Building.

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature are especially appreciative to have had the opportunity to enjoy the art work created by Harold Bradford that has been on display in the Legislative Building during this legislative session; and

WHEREAS, Harold Bradford was born and raised in New Orleans, Louisiana, but has called the State of Nevada his home for over 20 years; and

WHEREAS, The paintings created by Harold Bradford that have been on display in the Legislative Building feature the Buffalo Soldier and depict the contributions that African-Americans made to the early West; and

WHEREAS, Harold Bradford's goal is to educate his fellow man through his art work by documenting the culture and history of African-Americans in the early West; and

WHEREAS, For this past year, Harold Bradford has been part of the adjunct faculty for the Clark County Community College, where he instructs students in advanced illustration; and

WHEREAS, Harold Bradford has participated in many solo and group exhibitions from exhibits at the Stella Vones Gallery in New Orleans, Louisiana, to the Left Center Art Gallery and Studio in Las Vegas, where he currently has an exhibit of his paintings; and

WHEREAS, Art is a universal medium through which the culture of a nation may be expressed while enriching the lives of those who observe it, and Harold Bradford's works of art exemplify these qualities and foster the excellence and vitality of the fine arts; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That the members of the 69th session of the Nevada Legislature do hereby express their sincere gratitude and appreciation to Harold Bradford for his generosity in loaning his beautiful works of art for display in the Legislative Building during this legislative session; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Nevada Legislature has enjoyed viewing Harold Bradford's unique art work and wishes Mr. Bradford continued success in the fine arts; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Mr. Harold Bradford.

Assemblyman Lee moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Lee and Williams.

Assemblyman Lee requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN LEE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Harold Bradford has lived in Las Vegas for 20 years. He was born and raised in New Orleans. He's found a home in Las Vegas, and he has spent many, many years in the art industry. He works for Young Electric Sign Company. His art has been displayed all over southern Nevada. His paintings are a tribute to history. You'll see today that there is a display of what he's done. I was very taken. He lives in my district, and I had to have this gentleman come down to be recognized for this beautiful art.

In most cases when you look at art, you can't really figure out what it is saying, but in Mr. Bradford's case, you become a part of the art as you view it.

Mr. Speaker, thank you very much for honoring Mr. Bradford today.

ASSEMBLYMAN WILLIAMS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of Assembly Resolution 13. Mr. Bradford and I both came from the same state and moved to Las Vegas at the same time, so we've known each other for some time.

The work that we've seen in our legislative halls depicts some of the contributions, exploits and deeds of African-Americans throughout the West. It is just a small indication of the wide variety of work Mr. Bradford has done throughout his life on many subjects and in many areas. I've told him how much I've appreciated some of his work and tried to hint that maybe he could donate or give one of his paintings to me, but it's been 20 years now, and I still haven't gotten one. But I'll keep trying.

I think we should take advantage of every available opportunity to recognize and acknowledge the work of Nevadans who contribute to the betterment of our state. This is a worthwhile resolution, and I urge my colleagues to adopt it. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN LEE:

I am indeed grateful to have Mr. Bradford here with me today. We share a lot—we're both tall, sensitive, Renaissance men, and we've bonded quite well together. He is quite a big athlete and played football at Washington State. Mr. Bradford has just returned from Portland, where he took part in graduation ceremonies.

I'd like to present this resolution to Mr. Bradford and thank him for putting together, in his rough world, something of the beauty that makes us stop for a minute, smile, and realize that the world is still a pretty place to be. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson, Ernaut, Humke, Dini and Segerblom.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This resolution speaks softly of a man of great wit and power whose eloquent writings have thrown a long shadow over the lives of many people.

Well over 40 years ago, my brother was a string writer for the Nevada State Journal, a morning newspaper in our area for which Mr. Cobb was the sports editor. As a young man, I sometimes accompanied my brother when he covered news stories, and that is how I first met Mr. Cobb. I again met Ty Cobb as a young freshman at the University, when I pledged to the same fraternity of which his son, Ty Cobb, Jr., was the president, or eminent commander.

My association with Mr. Cobb over the last 35 years revealed to me a person who cared not only for the athletes of our community, but for all mankind, regardless of their station in life. His commonality of touch clearly shows through his writing; it is the essence of Ty Cobb that reaches and touches all our hearts.

In this resolution, we do well to honor such a man.

Mr. Cobb's father served in this body in the 1930s and subsequently served in the Senate. The Cobb family has left a lasting mark upon the history of this state, and Ty Cobb's two sons and daughter are continuing to carry on that tradition. Tyrus, Jr. was for many years a part of the national administration in terms of security work and is a recognized expert in Russian and Soviet Union relations; he is currently involved in environmental work in Yosemite and the Sierra Crest. Bill Cobb is equally impressive in his legal work.

We do well to honor a man such as Ty Cobb, and this resolution goes only a short way to express my feelings about a man who is such an important part our history.

ASSEMBLYMAN ERNAUT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I feel very flattered and fortunate that I had the chance to know Ty Cobb and to interact with him in many different areas. He was truly a philanthropic man who cared very deeply about his community. As the chairman of the Committee on Judiciary stated, we had a common bond, and that was at the Sigma Nu fraternity house located at the University of Nevada. The Sigma Nu fraternity had a long-standing tradition called the Crumley dinner. Many of you may know the name Crumley from Newt Crumley. It was a tradition that the Crumley family would cook turkeys and bring them to the fraternity house so all the kids who couldn't go home for Thanksgiving would still have Thanksgiving dinner. As the years waned on, there were times when that tradition was beginning to be lost, and it was men like Ty Cobb who saved it, made it whole again, and became a standard fixture for all us young guys who would come each year around December and honor our fraternity and the Crumley family. It was that clash of generations that made it such a neat event.

As I said, Ty Cobb was very much a community leader. He was involved in many different things. He touched my life in a lot of ways. I was able to benefit from a lot of his hard work, from Golden Gloves boxing as a young man, boxing at the University of Nevada in the national tournament that he had created, and playing Babe Ruth in my teens. All of those things were products of Ty's hard work.

As a leader, he certainly used his column at times to chastise the community leaders and talk about things that should be done. The other day I was driving up Skyline Boulevard at the intersection of McCarran and Skyline, which, as my colleague from District 25 knows very well, is probably the most dangerous intersection in Reno. The intersection abuts both of our districts. To the day that he passed, Ty railed on this community to provide a light there before someone was killed. I had to make a stop and give a smile because I looked up and saw workers taking the wrappers off this new traffic light that Ty was instrumental in providing for this community.

Ty was a great man, and I know I speak for many of the people in this Chamber and in the community of Reno when I say that he will be greatly missed.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

I rise to support SCR 49. My knowledge of Mr. Cobb was through his writing. I did not know him personally, but I would like to say a few words about how his column moved me. He did a neat thing—he listed unusual personalized license plates that he saw around town and that citizens would forward to him. I think he even had a source inside DMV that he would contact to find out the true meaning. You know, those license plates drive you crazy when you see six or seven letters and numbers and you can't tell exactly what they're trying to say. He would interpret those, and that was not a petty, but a worthwhile service for the Truckee Meadows area.

It was said of Mr. Cobb that as the Truckee Meadows grew, his column still retained the small-town flavor, and I thought that was a very important factor for persons such as myself who came to the Truckee Meadows later in life. I was able to gain the flavor of what small-town Reno was like. The editor of the Black Rock Press, which is about to publish a collection of Mr. Cobb's columns and other writings, said simply of him, "He was such a nice man." Life-long friend and fellow Reno Gazette-Journal columnist, Rollan Melton, said simply, "His last written words followed the pattern he had used as a Comstock high school boy. He wrote of people's achievements. This from the most noble achiever, Ty Cobb."

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

With the permission of the House, I'd like to say a few words. I met Ty Cobb in 1946 when I was manager of the UNR basketball team. Ty Cobb and Jake Lawlor grew up together and then came off the hill and served in Reno. They were a team and were legends in the Comstock. Speaking on behalf of the people of the Comstock, and especially Virginia City, Ty's death is a great loss. We want to express our appreciation to the family for the fine things their dad did and extend our sympathy to the family.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SEGERBLOM:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 49. My husband went to college with Ty Cobb and they were good friends. I felt honored to be mentioned by Ty several times in his column, which I'm sure a lot of you have been, sometimes humorously and sometimes not so humorously. He was certainly a great man.

Ty and my brother belonged to the same fraternity, Sigma Nu. My husband was an ATO, though. Thank you.

Resolution adopted.

(b) Any adjustment on account of change in coverage or change in the characteristics of the small employer as determined from the carrier's rate manual for the class of business.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Perkins requested that Assemblyman Williams' remarks be entered in the Journal.

Mr. Speaker, I want to apologize to you for not being here when we went back to General File after the recess. When I walked down to the Senate during our break, I was astonished and shocked to hear a discussion on the Senate floor regarding a newspaper article that appeared in today's paper concerning a school board meeting that took place in Clark County last night.

Last night, my colleague from Assembly District 5 and I went down to address the Clark County School Board in a manner that was intended to be informative. We did not intend to sway the board on any position or any bill that the legislature is considering. However, we felt that the best interests of education and the children of this state made it imperative that we go down and at least give the school board the parameters of two issues, school discipline and Senate Bill No. 220, the charter school bill.

When I got up last night to make my presentation, the first thing I said to the board was that I would not give my personal philosophy, beliefs or feelings about the bill and that we would not ask them to take a position on the bill. However, after talking and discussing some items that they thought were of concern, they asked us questions about the bill; subsequently, the board took action on charter schools in reference to their support. The board voted 7-0 opposing charter schools.

Throughout the presentation, at least four times I mentioned that our appearance was not a request for a position, even though the board ultimately did take a position. However, when I walked into the Senate Chamber today, that article was being discussed, and I was shocked to learn that members of the Senate were admonishing our actions of the previous night—specifically, my actions in addressing the Clark County School Board.

I was very disappointed by the lack of understanding of the legislative process displayed by some of the senators who spoke today. However, the immature attitude displayed by my Senate colleague from District 2 does not delay, disrupt, or discourage my will and intent to be calculated and academic in my deliberations on educational issues.

Mr. Speaker, the confidence that you have shown in appointing me to chair the Committee on Education for this House will not be compromised, nor will that confidence be reduced because somebody down the hall is operating under a cloud of political suspicion. In this state, there are small, large, urban and rural schools. We should have one goal in mind for all of these schools, regardless of where they are located—be it north, south, or the rurals. We should have one particular goal in mind, and that is to do our best to enact laws that further the best interests of the children of this state. Does this mean missing a grant deadline and passing a bad bill? Or does this mean passing a better bill and doing better things for the children of our state?

I would suggest to my colleagues down the hall that everything political may not be right, but everything right will someday be political. It is unfortunate that they've chosen to admonish our efforts to obtain information so that we can come up with the best and most solid decision for this particular issue.

From the beginning of this session, we've seen many educational issues surface to the point that the governor of our state has proclaimed this the "education session." All of us know that a chairperson has the right, whether we agree with it or not, to put a bill in the drawer and not even have a hearing on it. It has been the philosophy of your Committee on Education this session, that education is so important to this state that we're going to listen to every single proposal that comes before us, whether we believe in it or not. We cannot afford to put education bills in our drawer; the crisis and turmoil in our schools are so great that we need to listen to every issue. We will maintain that philosophy throughout the remainder of the session.

It is unfortunate, and again, disappointing, that a Senator would stand up and take that position. Whether school districts throughout the state oppose this bill or not has nothing to do with whether our Committee on Education will hear the bill and give it its full attention. Mr. Speaker, we still plan to do that and my message to those down the hall is this: We will continue to function in a manner that puts the best interests of children in the State of Nevada first.

I've been under a lot of pressure to hear this bill and pass it because of a June 30 deadline for a grant proposal for charter schools. For some time, we've been sitting with an unused million-dollar grant for breast and cervical cancer because we don't have the tools and equipment to go out into the rural areas. Does that mean we rush to do things because grant money is laying around or grant money can probably be obtained? I don't think so. Not in this committee. We will continue to function in the best interests of the children of Nevada, and I hope that this message is extremely clear.

WHEREAS, On March 2, 1997, the State of Nevada was saddened by the passing of Chester S. Christensen, a man whose service in state government spanned four decades; and

WHEREAS, Chet Christensen was born in April of 1916 to James and Mary Estella Rawson of Ogden, Utah; and

WHEREAS, After attending Weber College on a music scholarship, Chet Christensen moved to northern Nevada where he was a member of the Reno Lions Club Quartet, performed as a singer in nightclubs and on radio, worked as a fireman for the Southern Pacific Railroad out of Sparks and was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Truckee Lodge 19; and

WHEREAS, Chet Christensen became Assemblyman Christensen in 1949, serving seven terms, including one term, 1955, as Speaker Pro Tempore and two terms, 1959 and 1961, as Speaker of the Assembly, and retiring on June 12, 1963, to take up the post of Mayor of the City of Sparks, whose residents knew him as the "Singing Mayor"; and

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson, Dini and Price.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Chet Christensen and his wife always opened their home to the people of our community and clearly showed how much they cared about us. My mother told the story of when she first moved to Sparks of going into Reno and listening to Chet sing at the Townhouse where he played at the piano bar.

When I was a young lad growing up in Sparks, Chet Christensen was working with my father on the railroad and was someone that I had the opportunity to speak with. When he became the mayor of the City of Sparks, he served as a role model to people of how someone in public service should behave.

When I decided to run for public office, I would walk my district and come to their home and would always know that I would be received warmly and hospitably. Chet told me there were two principal ideas that assemblymen should keep in mind when the bills became dreadfully long and overly complicated; first, to recognize who would be hurt if we passed this legislation, and second, who would financially move ahead if we passed this legislation. He said that sometimes legislation becomes difficult to deal with, but if you kept those two things in mind, you always made the right choice. Knowing those two things are essential to being a good legislator.

Chet Christensen was the kind of person who wanted to make sure his community was warm. He loved music more than the railroad. He loved life, and he lived it to its fullest. He was a deeply committed religious man and followed the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. I know he always looked on that as his primary source of power and strength. In honoring Chet Christensen with this resolution, I think we recognize the best among the best of the people in our society. Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Madam Speaker pro Tempore, members of the Assembly. I had the distinct honor of serving with Chet in the 1975 session. He had been in the legislature in the late 1950s, early 1960s, and had made quite a reputation for himself. He was a very dedicated legislator. He was very strong for the working man. He was a railroader and on this floor stood up and expressed his views concerning the working men and women in this state. The fact is I was the Majority Leader, I think in 1975, and Chet knew a lot about operating procedures. In fact, he guided me quite a bit in my performance of my duties. He came from the old school when a man's word was his word. I really enjoyed serving with Chet. Unfortunately, he decided not to come back; he just came back for one session.

He was certainly helpful in these chambers. On Saint Patrick's Day, he sang some awfully nice songs right on the floor. We have some fond memories of him, and we extend our sympathies to the family. I know it has been a tough year for you. Please accept our sympathy and deepest desire for you to continue to have your happy families. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, had the pleasure and the honor of serving with Chet. In 1975 when I first started, Chet was here and would sing those beautiful songs. To some degree, Chet was responsible for me learning about Nevada outside of Las Vegas. Chet was supported very strongly by labor, and most of you know that I came from a union into this position. That year, Chet was vying to become Speaker of the Assembly. The unions were supporting him, and so I supported Chet. Chet was not appointed, but as a result, I was appointed to the Agriculture Committee, which was a very important committee to North Las Vegas, and I had an opportunity to travel around the state and learn about our state's rural areas.

Chet was a wonderful legislator, a fine person, and I am sorry he is not with us any longer, but I am so happy that we are remembering him as he should be remembered.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

On behalf of the Assembly, I would like to present Chet's two sons, Richard and Jim, who are here with me today, and their wives, Linda and Linda, the resolution. We thank you and feel with you a great loss to the people of the State of Nevada. If you will please recognize the Christensens.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 11 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 51.

Assemblyman Amodei moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Amodei, Ernaut, Anderson, Dini, Marvel, Krenzer, Segerblom and Carpenter.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN AMODEI:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. It is a pleasure for me to rise in support of this resolution today. Miss Guild, as she was first known to a member of my family, which was my mother, was my mother's first-grade teacher in the Gold Hill School. To let you know that some things don't change, my mother had her as a teacher because they needed one more student to keep the school open; they were playing with the distributive school account even then. As I grew up, my mom began to clue me in on what was going on here and I met some of her Marjorie's sons, who we'll talk about a little bit later. Mom had nothing but glowing things to say about the then-Miss Guild before she hooked up with that nefarious newspaper guy from Ely who finally got her squared away and brought her back to Carson for the rest of her life. I hope that you support the resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN ERNAUT:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I stand in support of SCR 51. I had the occasion to meet Marjorie during my first campaign. Only about 15 percent of my district is in Carson City. Although I'd been here quite a long time, I was pretty unfamiliar with the inner workings and the ancestral web of Carson City; as a community, it is very close knit. A very sage piece of advice was given to me and that was to go see Marjorie Russell. I called her a couple of weeks in advance, and I went over on a Saturday. She had this beautiful porch in the back of her house. She was attending to her rose bushes and had a big glass of ice tea. She "kicked the tires on me" for about two hours before I passed the muster of her being able to say that she supported me. That always meant a lot to me. She was one of the nicest people around. I would check in with her and give her a call now and again to update her on my progress. She was a truly beautiful soul; never had a bad thing to say about anybody; and I certainly think she'll be missed. I know I miss her personally.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of the resolution. Although I'm more familiar with her sons, since we went to college together, I am mindful of making a presentation to a group of elementary students several years ago on the inner workings of the electoral college. A young lady approached me, I believe David's daughter, and indicated that she was a Russell, and asked if I knew her grandmother. I recognized that the grandchild, although impressed by having a governor in the family, really knew that the power rested with the grandmother. That was what the young lady was more concerned about; so clearly, if the grandchild knows where the real power is, this resolution clearly speaks to it too.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I certainly want to rise in support of the resolution. I guess my association with the Guild family is from a long, long time ago. In fact, my son still owns the house that Judge Guild had in Yerington, so this is a rather historical moment. I knew Mrs. Russell casually. Most of my knowledge has been with Clark Guild, Jr., who has been around these halls for many, many years.

Mrs. Russell needs to be remembered for her efforts in the State Museum. We would not have the State Museum here in Carson City had it not been for her hard work. She served 22 years on the board of trustees of the Museum. I must commend the fine family that she raised; they're all outstanding people, and we're very proud of that name. Her husband, Governor Russell, was a fine, down-to-earth man. I remember him coming to Yerington when he was governor to give the trophies at the hard-top races one afternoon—my car won, of course. He took the day off and came out there and presented trophies.

We are proud of the heritage and the memories that the Guild family and the Russell family bring to all of us. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of SCR 51. When you get to be one of the oldtimers, even older than Speaker Dini, I think you've known the Russell and the Guild families practically all of your life. There have been many, many pleasant associations, but what you can say about the mother and the aunt of these fine young gentlemen back there is that she was a gracious lady and a most gracious First Lady, and I think we all owe a debt of gratitude to both the Guild families and the Russell families for all they have done, what they are doing now, and I'm sure, what their progeny will do in the future.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KRENZER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. In my family history, the Guild family also plays a role. In 1924, my grandmother had a birthday party for my Uncle Ray, and the Guild home was kitty-corner to our home. She spoke often of the beautiful Guild children and what a fine family and what a beautiful mother Marjorie's mother was and her father, Judge Guild, and what an honor it was for our family to have them at my uncle's birthday party. I rise in support of SCR 51 in memory of a fine, beautiful woman and a great family.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SEGERBLOM:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. My father and Judge Guild were great friends and belonged to the same lodge and spent a lot of time touring this area taking part in that lodge. My father memorized every position in the lodge in case anyone was absent, and they had a great time. Marjorie was a wonderful person. I served on the Nevada Museum Board with her before I was elected. Of course, I went to college with her brother, and I know her nephew Joe very well. Wonderful family, the Russells and the Guilds. Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I stand in support of SCR 51. As the resolution mentions, the Russell family represented White Pine County for many years. I remember when I was growing up in White Pine County, my uncles always spoke very highly of the Russell family and how well White Pine County was represented in the Assembly and the Senate.

After the "family" became governor, I think it's all right to say that rural Nevada was always very well represented by the Russell family, and I just want to add my support to the resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN AMODEI:

In true Russell fashion, they've already been over to the Senate to get the actual resolution, taking care of business that way. Let me introduce the folks here from the family. First, Marjorie Russell's nephew, who you all know as the crusader for truth and justice in county formation in Nevada, Mr. Joe Guild. Next, if I might, Madam Speaker pro Tempore, if you'll look through the resolution you'll see that there were five Russell children. I think probably the two best are the ones who got the heck away from the three that are here with me today. Virginia and Craig went to Dallas and New York, which is probably far enough away, because with me I have the icon of understanding for wanna-be political types in Carson. The oldest son, Clark, is the one who coined a famous phrase when I decided to run for public office. When we were at a dinner one night he said, "I didn't ask you to run and I'm not giving you any money." Next to him is David, one of the twins who will always have a soft spot in my heart because even though he golfs right handed, he makes me look like a good left-handed golfer. Last, but not least is, I hope not one of my former law partners, but one of my present law partners, Todd, who I believe set the record for worst driving record by a child of the governor while Governor Russell was in office. Would you please make them all welcome.

Resolution adopted.

By the Committee on Taxation:

Assemblyman Price moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Price and Goldwater.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you. As those of you who have been here a few years will recall, we take the occasion when we have been in session this long to recognize the anniversary of the Magna Carta, which, of course, was kind of the beginning of democracy as we know it and as it has developed today. While yesterday was actually the 782nd anniversary of the signing of that document, we are here today, and I hope we'll recognize its importance after these many years.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOLDWATER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in very strong support of ACR 46. I think the 782nd anniversary of anything is important.

(b) It is essential in the public interest to minimize any adverse effect upon the environment and upon the quality of life of the people of the state which such new facilities might cause.

(c) Present laws and practices relating to the location of such utility facilities should be strengthened to protect environmental values and to take into account the total cost to society of such facilities.

(d) Existing provisions of law may not provide adequate opportunity for natural persons, groups interested in conservation and the protection of the environment, state and regional agencies, local governments and other public bodies to participate in [any and all proceedings before the public service commission of Nevada] proceedings regarding the location and construction of major facilities.

2. If the offer is declined, the applicant may export the capacity of the project. If less than 50 percent of the capacity of such a project sold during its first 156 months of commercial operation is sold to public utilities in this state, the applicant shall reoffer the capacity of the project to all public utilities in this state. This reoffer must provide an opportunity to purchase energy or capacity at fair market value and ensure that 50 percent of the total capacity of the project is available to public utilities in this state. Any purchase of energy or capacity as a result of the reoffer is effective 84 months after the execution of the contracts of purchase.

Sec. 9. NRS 704.891 is hereby amended to read as follows:

The following amendment was proposed by Assemblymen Perkins, Buckley, Anderson, Ernaut and Hettrick:

Amendment No. 696.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 1 and 2 as sections 16 and 17 and adding new sections designated sections 1 through 15, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. Chapter 164 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 to 15, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 2. Sections 2 to 15, inclusive, of this act may be cited as the Uniform Management-of-Institutional-Funds Act.

Sec. 3. As used in sections 2 to 15, inclusive, of this act, the words and terms defined in sections 4 to 9, inclusive, of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 4. "Donative instrument" means a will, deed, grant, conveyance, agreement, memorandum, writing or other governing document, including the terms of any institutional solicitations from which an institutional fund resulted, under which property is transferred to or held by an institution as an institutional fund.

Sec. 5. "Endowment fund" means an institutional fund, or any part of the fund, not wholly expendable by the institution currently under the terms of the applicable donative instrument.

Sec. 6. "Governing board" means the body responsible for the management of an institution or institutional fund.

Sec. 7. "Historical monetary value" means the aggregate fair value in money of an endowment fund at the time it became an endowment fund, each subsequent donation to the fund at the time it is made, or each accumulation made pursuant to a direction in the applicable donative instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund.

Sec. 8. "Institution" means an organization, whether or not incorporated, organized and operated exclusively for educational, religious, charitable or other eleemosynary purposes, or a governmental organization to the extent that it holds funds exclusively for any of these purposes.

Sec. 9. "Institutional fund" means a fund held by an institution for its exclusive use, benefit or purposes, but does not include a fund held for an institution by a trustee that is not an institution or a fund in which a beneficiary that is not an institution has an interest other than possible rights that could arise upon violation or failure of the purposes of the fund.

Sec. 10. 1. A governing board may appropriate for expenditure for the uses and purposes for which an endowment fund is established so much of the net appreciation, realized and unrealized, in the fair value of the assets of the fund over the historical monetary value of the fund as is prudent under the standard established by section 14 of this act. This section does not limit the authority of the governing board to expend funds as permitted under other law, the terms of the applicable donative instrument or the charter of the institution.

2. A determination of historical monetary value made in good faith by the institution is conclusive.

Sec. 11. 1. Section 10 of this act does not apply if the applicable donative instrument indicates the donor's intention that net appreciation may not be expended. A restriction upon the expenditure of net appreciation may not be implied from a designation of a gift as an endowment, or from a direction or authorization in the applicable donative instrument to use only "income," "interest," "dividends," or "rents, issues or profits," or "to preserve the principal intact," or a direction that contains other words of similar import.

2. This rule of construction applies to donative instruments executed or in effect before, on or after October 1, 1997.

Sec. 12. In addition to an investment otherwise authorized by law or by the applicable donative instrument, and without restriction to investments a fiduciary may make, a governing board, subject to any specific limitations set forth in the applicable donative instrument or in the applicable law other than law relating to investments by a fiduciary, may:

1. Invest and reinvest an institutional fund in any real or personal property deemed advisable by the governing board, whether or not it produces a current return, including mortgages, stocks, bonds, debentures and other securities of profit or nonprofit corporations, shares in or obligations of associations, partnerships or natural persons, and obligations of any government or governmental subdivision or instrumentality;

2. Retain property contributed by a donor to an institutional fund for as long as the governing board deems advisable;

3. Include all or any part of an institutional fund in any pooled or common fund maintained by the institution; and

4. Invest all or part of an institutional fund in any other pooled or common fund available for investment, including shares or interests in regulated investment companies, mutual funds, common trust funds, investment partnerships, real estate investment trusts or similar organizations in which funds are commingled and investments are determined by persons other than the governing board.

Sec. 13. Except as otherwise provided by the applicable donative instrument or by applicable law relating to governmental institutions or funds, a governing board may:

1. Delegate to its committees, officers or employees of the institution or the fund, or agents, including investment counsel, the authority to act in place of the board in investment and reinvestment of institutional funds;

2. Contract with independent investment advisers, investment counsel or managers, banks, or trust companies, so to act; and

3. Authorize the payment of compensation for advisory or managerial services.

Sec. 14. 1. In the administration of the powers to appropriate appreciation, to make and retain investments, and to delegate management of the investment of institutional funds or of property held as an investment, members of a governing board shall exercise ordinary care and prudence, appropriate to the character of the institution, under the facts and circumstances prevailing at the time of the action or decision. In so doing, they shall consider present and future needs of the institution in carrying out its educational, religious, charitable or other eleemosynary purposes, present and anticipated financial requirements, expected total return on its investments, price level trends and general economic conditions.

2. Each investment must be considered in its relation to other investments made or contemplated.

Sec. 15. 1. With the written consent of the donor, a governing board may release, in whole or in part, a restriction imposed by the applicable donative instrument on the use or investment of an institutional fund.

2. If the written consent of a donor cannot be obtained by reason of his death, disability, unavailability or impossibility of identification, the governing board may apply in the name of the institution to the district court for release of a restriction imposed by the applicable donative instrument on the use or investment of an institutional fund. The attorney general must be notified of the application and given an opportunity to be heard. If the court finds that the restriction is obsolete, inappropriate or impracticable, it may by order release the restriction in whole or in part. A release under this subsection may not change an endowment fund to a fund that is not an endowment fund.

3. A release under this section may not allow a fund to be used for purposes other than the educational, religious, charitable or other eleemosynary purposes of the institution affected.

4. This section does not limit the application of the doctrine of applying a charitable gift as nearly as possible in conformity with the intention of the donor.".

Amend the title of the bill, first line, by deleting "education;" and inserting: "financial administration; providing standards for the investment and management of money for eleemosynary purposes;".

6. The governing body of a county or city shall not:

(a) Require a special use permit for a residential facility for groups; or

(b) Permit the operators of a residential facility for groups to allow persons other than those specified in subsection 2 to reside at the facility.

7. As used in this section:

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce:

Amendment No. 716.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering section 1 as sec. 4 and adding new sections designated sections 1 through 3, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

"Section 1. NRS 118B.095 is hereby amended to read as follows:

118B.095 1. The landlord shall authorize each manager and assistant manager to make repairs himself or enter into a contract with a third party for the repairs.

2. [The] Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, the manager shall contract with a third party to provide emergency repairs for the tenants on the occasions when the manager and assistant manager are not physically present in the park. The manager shall notify each tenant of the telephone number of the third party who will make the repairs, and direct the tenants to call him when an emergency repair is needed and the manager and assistant manager are not physically present in the park. The telephone number so provided must be that of the third party directly. The provision of the telephone number of an answering service does not fulfill this requirement. If the manager or assistant manager [are] is present in the park, any request for repairs must be made to him and not the third party.

3. The provisions of subsection 2 do not apply to a mobile home park that is owned by:

(a) A nonprofit organization; or

(b) A housing authority,

if the nonprofit organization or housing authority has established an alternative method to provide emergency repairs for tenants in a timely manner.

4. As used in this section, "repairs" means only repairs to the property of the owner of the mobile home park.

Sec. 2. NRS 118B.150 is hereby amended to read as follows:

118B.150 The landlord or his agent or employee shall not:

1. Increase rent or additional charges unless:

(a) The rental increase is the same for mobile homes of the same size or lots of the same size or of a similar location or classification within the park, except that a discount may be selectively given to persons who are handicapped or who are 62 years of age or older, and any increase in additional charges for special services is the same amount for each tenant using the special service; and

(b) Written notice advising a tenant of the increase is received by the tenant 90 days in advance of the first payment to be increased and written notice of the increase is given to prospective tenants before commencement of their tenancy.

2. Require a tenant to pay for an improvement to the common area of a mobile home park unless the landlord is required to make the improvement pursuant to an ordinance of a local government.

3. Require a tenant to pay for a capital improvement to the mobile home park unless the tenant has notice of the requirement at the time he enters into the rental agreement. A tenant may not be required to pay for a capital improvement after the tenant enters into the rental agreement unless the tenant consents to it in writing or is given 60 days' notice of the requirement in writing. The landlord may not establish such a requirement unless a meeting of the tenants is held to discuss the proposal and the landlord provides each tenant with notice of the proposal and the date, time and place of the meeting not less than 60 days before the meeting. The notice must include a copy of the proposal. A notice in a periodic publication of the park does not constitute notice for the purposes of this subsection.

4. Require a tenant to pay his rent by check or money order.

5. Require a tenant who pays his rent in cash to apply any change to which he is entitled to the next periodic payment that is due. The landlord or his agent or employee shall have an adequate amount of money available to provide change to such a tenant.

6. Prohibit or require fees or deposits for any meetings held in the park's community or recreational facility by the tenants or occupants of any mobile home or recreational vehicle in the park to discuss the park's affairs, or any political or social meeting sponsored by a tenant, if the meetings are held at reasonable hours and when the facility is not otherwise in use, or prohibit the distribution of notices of those meetings.

7. Interrupt, with the intent to terminate occupancy, any utility service furnished the tenant except for nonpayment of utility charges when due. Any landlord who violates this subsection is liable to the tenant for actual damages.

8. Prohibit a tenant from having guests, but he may require the tenant to register the guest within 48 hours after his arrival, Sundays and holidays excluded, and if the park is a secured park, a guest may be required to register upon entering and leaving.

9. Charge a fee for a guest who does not stay with the tenant for more than a total of 60 days in a calendar year. The tenant of a mobile home lot who is living alone may allow one other person to live in his home without paying [any] an additional charge or fee [.] , unless such a living arrangement constitutes a violation of chapter 315 of NRS. No agreement between a tenant and his guest alters or varies the terms of the rental contract between the tenant and the landlord and the guest is subject to the rules and regulations of the landlord.

10. Prohibit a tenant from erecting a fence along the perimeter of the tenant's lot if the fence complies with any standards for fences established by the landlord, including limitations established for the height of fences, the materials used for fences and the manner in which fences are to be constructed.

11. Prohibit any tenant from soliciting membership in any association which is formed by the tenants who live in the park. As used in this subsection, "solicit" means to make an oral or written request for membership or the payment of dues or to distribute, circulate or post a notice for payment of those dues.

12. Prohibit a public officer or candidate for public office from walking through the park to talk with the tenants.

Sec. 3. NRS 118B.200 is hereby amended to read as follows:

118B.200 Notwithstanding the expiration of a period of a tenancy, the rental agreement described in NRS 118B.190 may not be terminated except for:

2. Failure of the tenant to correct any noncompliance with a law, ordinance or governmental regulation pertaining to mobile homes or recreational vehicles or a valid rule or regulation established pursuant to NRS 118B.100 or to cure any violation of the rental agreement within a reasonable time after receiving written notification of noncompliance or violation;

3. Conduct of the tenant in the mobile home park which constitutes an annoyance to other tenants;

4. Violation of valid rules of conduct, occupancy or use of park facilities after written notice of the violation is served upon the tenant in the manner provided in NRS 40.280;

5. A change in the use of the land by the landlord pursuant to NRS 118B.180; or

6. Conduct of the tenant which constitutes a nuisance as defined in NRS 40.140 or which violates a state law or local ordinance.

7. In a mobile home park that is owned by a nonprofit organization or housing authority, failure of the tenant to meet qualifications relating to age or income which:

(a) Are set forth in the lease signed by the tenant; and

(b) Comply with federal, state and local law.".

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sec. 2 as sec. 6 and adding a new section designated sec. 5, following section 1, to read as follows:

(e) Not have assets whose value is more than $10,000, excluding the value of the mobile home which is subject to the tenancy, the contents of that mobile home and one motor vehicle.

A person who has been a tenant of a mobile home park in this state for at least 1 year, but has not been a tenant of the mobile home park in which he resides at the time he applies for assistance for at least 1 year, is eligible for assistance from the fund if he moved to the mobile home park in which he resides at the time of his application because he was unable to pay the rent at the mobile home park from which he moved or because that park was closed.

Assembled here are good women and good men. Not perfect, but essentially good. Good citizens of this state have chosen them as their representatives. Partisan philosophies were the definers that guided the choice of Nevada voters, but when the selection process completed, all citizens wanted good women and good men to do the representative work that was needed. Let us renew our commitment to do that good work, for those of all philosophies, for those who desperately need help and change. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

"Section 1. Chapter 392 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. In addition to the provisions of NRS 202.265, it is unlawful for a pupil to possess or carry a dangerous knife while on the property of a private or public school or while in a vehicle of a private or public school, unless the pupil has written permission from the principal of the school to carry or possess the knife.

2. A person who violates the provisions of this section is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

3. As used in this section, "dangerous knife" means a knife having a blade that is fixed or may be locked and which is 2 1/2 inches or more in length when measured from the tip of the knife which is customarily sharpened to the unsharpened extension of the blade which forms the hinge connecting the blade to the handle. The term includes, without limitation, a butterfly knife.

Sec. 2. NRS 392.466 is hereby amended to read as follows:

392.466 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, any pupil who commits a battery which results in the bodily injury of an employee of the school, sells or distributes any controlled substance or is found in possession of a dangerous weapon, while on the premises of any public school, at an activity sponsored by a public school or on any school bus must, for the first occurrence, be suspended or expelled from that school, although he may be placed in another kind of school, for at least a period equal to one semester for that school. For a second occurrence, he must be permanently expelled from that school, but he may be required to attend another kind of school.

For a second occurrence, he must be permanently expelled from the school, but he may be required to attend another kind of school. The superintendent of schools of a school district may, in a particular case in that school district, allow an exception to the expulsion requirement of this subsection.

3. This section does not prohibit a pupil from having in his possession a knife or firearm with the approval of the principal of the school. A principal may grant such approval only in accordance with the policies or regulations adopted by the board of trustees of the school district.

4. Any pupil in grades 1 to 6, inclusive, except a pupil who has been found to have possessed a firearm in violation of subsection 2, may be suspended from school or permanently expelled from school pursuant to this section only after the board of trustees of the school district has reviewed the circumstances and approved this action in accordance with the procedural policy adopted by the board for such issues.

(c) "Firearm" includes, without limitation, any pistol, revolver, shotgun, explosive substance or device, and any other item included within the definition of a "firearm" in 18 U.S.C. § 921, as that section existed on July 1, 1995.

Sec. 3. NRS 393.410 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 52.

Assemblywoman Evans moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Evans, Humke, Anderson and Ernaut.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN EVANS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Members of the Assembly, it is truly an honor and privilege for me to speak on behalf of the resolution for Dr. Meyers. Dean Meyers has had a long and distinguished career as an educator, teacher, guidance counselor, and university professor, and since 1983, we at the University of Nevada, Reno have been fortunate to have him in the top position of leadership for our very fine College of Education.

I think it is fitting and appropriate that as Dean Meyers marks the beginning of his retirement, he leaves behind a legacy not only in terms of service to his community, the university, and the young people of Nevada, but also with a magnificent new edifice rising on the hill at the Reno campus. The building is the new College of Education, and I dare say that without the effort, determination and leadership of Dean Meyers, that building would not be a reality today. It has been a combined public-private partnership. Although the state has put money into that fine building, Dean Meyers himself has taken a leading role in asking members of the community—individuals, businesses, foundations—to contribute a very substantial sum that has made that building possible.

When we say goodbye to someone of Dean Meyers' stature, we have mixed emotions. We wish him well and Godspeed in the future. I, of course, am personally exceedingly jealous that he's retiring instead of me. However, the loss is great in terms of his many contributions, and we will miss him. As the saying goes, one may have a successor, someone may come and take his position, but they will have a very difficult job filling his shoes. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of SCR 52. I've known Frank Meyers for many years. He is a stalwart in the education community of this country, and I am very thankful that he came off the plains of North Dakota and came west to this beautiful land of Nevada to lend his assistance to this state, to serve as dean, to assist us in our educational crisis, and to educate educators in a rapid-growth state that is in constant need of excellent teachers. His major contribution has been to supply the schools in our state with excellent teachers, and for that we thank him.

I would suggest that the previous speaker is not correct to say good-bye. I think it's more appropriate to say simply, "Thank you."

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of SCR 52. Dr. Meyers is an unusual man, to say the least, a visionary. Indeed, sometimes I think we overuse the term "visionary," and I don't want to do that in this case, but clearly, to have a vision, you have to be well-founded in the basics; you have to know both what you stand for and where you want to go; you have to be a risk-taker; you have to be willing to expose the needs of society and face them and not lose track of where you stand to get you to where you want to be. Frank Meyers has always been the kind of visionary who clearly knew that children were the ultimate goal and that a college of education should be clearly focused on doing what is best for children. He promoted that atmosphere in the College of Education. His concerns have always been clearly focused; that teachers who come out of the University of Nevada's School of Education know that children come first. He has promoted that atmosphere within his teaching staff. He has transmitted it to his students, who then become teachers, who then promote it in the classrooms in which they teach. Frank Meyers is a visionary person I believe we are all going to miss, and indeed, I wish to add my thanks to the great strides that he has brought in education in this state.

ASSEMBLYMAN ERNAUT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, stand in support of Senate Concurrent Resolution 52. I think anybody who is familiar with my long career at the University of Nevada would not be surprised to learn that the dean of the Education College and I never actually met, but I certainly have heard a tremendous amount about his accomplishments. I want to take a moment today to introduce to the body two people who know Dr. Meyers very well, and two people that you know very well, former Lieutenant Governor Bob Cashell and his wife, Nancy.

Amend sec. 26, page 19, line 1, after "shall " by inserting: ", in consultation with all governing bodies of cities within the county, if any,".

Amend the bill as a whole by deleting sec. 27 and inserting a new section designated sec. 27, following sec. 26, to read as follows:

"Sec. 27. Sections 1 and 4 of Senate Bill No. 277 of this session are hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. NRS 62.211 is hereby amended to read as follows:

62.211 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 62.212 and section 1 of Assembly Bill No. 39 of this session, if the court finds that a child is within the purview of this chapter, it shall so decree and may:

(a) Place the child under supervision in his own home or in the custody of a suitable person elsewhere, upon such conditions as the court may determine. A program of supervision in the home may include electronic surveillance of the child. The legislature declares that a program of supervision that includes electronic surveillance is intended as an alternative to commitment and not as an alternative to probation, informal supervision or a supervision and consent decree.

(b) Commit the child to the custody of a public or private institution or agency authorized to care for children, or place him in a home with a family. In committing a child to a private institution or agency, the court shall select one that is required to be licensed by the department of human resources to care for such children, or, if the institution or agency is in another state, by the analogous department of that state. The court shall not commit a female child to a private institution without prior approval of the superintendent of the Caliente youth center, and shall not commit a male child to a private institution without prior approval of the superintendent of the Nevada youth training center.

(c) Order such medical, psychiatric, psychological or other care and treatment as the court deems to be for the best interests of the child, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(d) Order the parent, guardian, custodian or any other person to refrain from continuing the conduct which, in the opinion of the court, has caused or tended to cause the child to come within or remain under the provisions of this chapter.

(e) If the child is less than 18 years of age, order:

(1) The parent, guardian or custodian of the child; and

(2) Any brother, sister or other person who is living in the same household as the child over whom the court has jurisdiction, to attend or participate in counseling, with or without the child, including, but not limited to, counseling regarding parenting skills, alcohol or substance abuse, or techniques of dispute resolution. The court may use the money in the account established pursuant to subsection 2 to pay for any counseling ordered by the court pursuant to this paragraph if a parent, guardian or custodian of a child demonstrates to the satisfaction of the court that he needs financial assistance to pay for the care and treatment.

(f) Order the parent or guardian of the child to participate in a program designed to provide restitution to the victim of an act committed by the child or to perform public service.

(g) Order the parent or guardian of the child to pay all or part of the cost of the proceedings, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorney's fees, any costs incurred by the court and any costs incurred in the investigation of an act committed by the child and the taking into custody of the child.

(h) Order the suspension of the child's driver's license for not more than 2 years. If the child does not possess a driver's license, the court may prohibit the child from applying for a driver's license for not more than 2 years:

(1) Immediately following the date of the order, if the child is eligible to apply for a driver's license.

(2) After the date he becomes eligible to apply for a driver's license, if the child is not eligible to apply for a license on the date of the order.

If the court issues an order suspending the driver's license of a child pursuant to this paragraph, the judge shall require the child to surrender to the court all driver's licenses then held by the child. The court shall, within 5 days after issuing the order, forward to the department of motor vehicles and public safety the licenses, together with a copy of the order. If, pursuant to this paragraph, the court issues an order delaying the ability of a child to apply for a driver's license, the court shall, within 5 days after issuing the order, forward to the department of motor vehicles and public safety a copy of the order. The department of motor vehicles and public safety shall report a suspension pursuant to this paragraph to an insurance company or its agent inquiring about the child's driving record, but such a suspension must not be considered for the purpose of rating or underwriting. The department of motor vehicles and public safety shall not require the child to submit to the tests and other requirements which are adopted by regulation pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 483.495 as a condition of reinstatement or reissuance after a suspension of his license pursuant to this paragraph, unless the suspension resulted from his poor performance as a driver.

(i) Place the child, when he is not in school, under the supervision of:

(1) A public organization to work on public projects;

(2) A public agency to work on projects to eradicate graffiti; or

(3) A private nonprofit organization to perform other public service.

The person under whose supervision the child is placed shall keep the child busy and well supervised and shall make such reports to the court as it may require. As a condition of such a placement, the court may require the child or his parent or guardian to deposit with the court a reasonable sum of money to pay for the cost of policies of insurance against liability for personal injury and damage to property or for industrial insurance, or both, during those periods in which he performs the work, unless, in the case of industrial insurance, it is provided by the organization or agency for which he performs the work.

(j) Permit the child to reside in a residence without the immediate supervision of an adult, or exempt the child from mandatory attendance at school so that the child may be employed full time, or both, if the child is at least 16 years of age, has demonstrated the capacity to benefit from this placement or exemption and is under the strict supervision of the juvenile division.

(k) Require the child to provide restitution to the victim of the crime which the child has committed.

(l) Impose a fine on the child. If a fine is imposed, the court shall impose an administrative assessment pursuant to NRS 62.223.

(m) If the child has not previously been found to be within the purview of this chapter and if the act for which the child is found to be within the purview of this chapter did not involve the use or threatened use of force or violence, order the child to participate in a publicly or privately operated program of sports or physical fitness. If the court orders the child to participate in such a program, the court may order any or all of the following, in the following order of priority if practicable:

(1) The parent or guardian of the child, to the extent of his financial ability, to pay the costs associated with the participation of the child in the program, including, but not limited to, a reasonable sum of money to pay for the cost of policies of insurance against liability for personal injury and damage to property during those periods in which the child participates in the program;

(2) The child to work on projects or perform public service pursuant to paragraph (i) for a period that reflects the costs associated with the participation of the child in the program; or

(3) The county in which the petition alleging the child to be delinquent or in need of supervision is filed to pay the costs associated with the participation of the child in the program.

2. If the court finds that a child is a habitual truant and imposes a fine pursuant to paragraph (l), the money collected from the fine must be paid by the clerk of the court to the county treasurer on or before the fifth day of each month for the preceding month. The county treasurer shall, on or before the 15th day of that month, deposit the money in the county general fund for credit to a separate account to support programs to reduce the rate of truancy in the public schools of the county and for use by the court pursuant to paragraph (e) of subsection 1.

3. If the court places a child in need of supervision under formal supervision and the child violates a condition of that formal supervision, the court may detain the child for not more than 30 days.

4. If the court finds that a child who is less than 17 years of age has committed a delinquent act, the court may order the parent or guardian of the child to pay any fines and penalties imposed for the delinquent act. If the parent or guardian is unable to pay the fines and penalties imposed because of financial hardship, the court may require the parent or guardian to perform community service.

5. In determining the appropriate disposition of a case concerning a child found to be within the purview of this chapter, the court shall consider whether the act committed by the child involved the use of a firearm or the use or threatened use of force or violence against the victim of the act and whether the child is a serious or chronic offender. If the court finds that the act committed by the child involved the use of a firearm or the use or threatened use of force or violence against the victim or that the child is a serious or chronic offender, the court shall include the finding in its order and may, in addition to the options set forth in subsections 1 and 2 of this section and NRS 62.213:

(a) Commit the child for confinement in a secure facility, including a facility which is secured by its staff.

(b) Impose any other punitive measures the court determines to be in the best interests of the public or the child.

6. Except as otherwise provided in section 7 of Senate Bill No. 102 of this session, at any time either on its own volition or for good cause shown, the court may terminate its jurisdiction concerning the child.

7. Whenever the court commits a child to any institution or agency pursuant to this section or NRS 62.213, it shall transmit a summary of its information concerning the child and order the administrator of the school that the child last attended to transmit a copy of the child's educational records to the institution or agency. The institution or agency shall give to the court any information concerning the child that the court may require.

8. In determining whether to place a child pursuant to this section in the custody of a person other than his parent, guardian or custodian, preference must be given to any person related within the third degree of consanguinity to the child whom the court finds suitable and able to provide proper care and guidance for the child.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 29 and 30 as sections 31 and 32 and inserting new sections designated sections 29 and 30, following sec. 28, to read as follows:

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Mining:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 20—Expressing the strenuous objection of the Nevada Legislature to the recent decision of the United States Bureau of Reclamation regarding the spreading of water from the Carson River.

WHEREAS, To avoid flood damage during certain periods of high water since 1986, the Truckee-Carson Irrigation District has performed precautionary releases of water from the Lahontan Reservoir and disposed of the water for beneficial use; and

WHEREAS, During these periods, the district has delivered excess water to any and all lands without concern for charging for the delivery of the water to a person possessing a valid and existing water right, a practice that is known as spreading; and

WHEREAS, In 1995 and 1996, the district spread water, under criteria approved by the Bureau of Reclamation of the United States Department of the Interior, when Lahontan Reservoir exceeded target storage levels; and

WHEREAS, On April 29, 1997, the Bureau of Reclamation again authorized the district to spread water; and

WHEREAS, On May 19, 1997, the Bureau of Reclamation rescinded the order that allowed the district to spread water during periods of excess flow without charging for the delivery of the water to persons holding a valid and existing water right because, according to the Bureau of Reclamation, the spreading of water may constitute a violation of the Orr Ditch and Alpine decrees, which govern rights to water from the Truckee and Carson rivers, respectively; and

WHEREAS, The district initially complied with the letter of the Bureau of Reclamation of May 19, 1997, and allowed excess water to flow into the Carson Sink, where it evaporated; and

WHEREAS, On May 23, 1997, Chief Judge Lloyd D. George, United States District Court, District of Nevada, saying that an emergency existed, overruled the order of the Bureau of Reclamation, allowed the spreading of water from the Lahontan Reservoir to resume and ordered the Bureau of Reclamation to develop criteria for future spreading; and

WHEREAS, Despite the intervention of the United States District Court, the rescission of the Bureau of Reclamation of the authority of the Truckee-Carson Irrigation District to spread water reduced the water available for irrigation, could have caused flooding and clearly wasted water that could have been put to beneficial use; and

WHEREAS, The district has filed a motion in federal district court three times since 1986 to gain the authority to spread water; and

WHEREAS, Common sense and the laws of this state dictate that the Bureau of Reclamation should put excess water to beneficial use in this state; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That the Nevada Legislature hereby expresses its strenuous objection to the decision of May 19, 1997, of the Bureau of Reclamation of the United States Department of the Interior which rescinded its approval of the spreading of water from the Lahontan Reservoir; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Nevada Legislature hereby urges the Bureau of Reclamation of the United States Department of the Interior to give its fullest consideration to the needs and recommendations of the Truckee-Carson Irrigation District in the development of criteria for future spreading of water from the Lahontan Reservoir; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the United States Bureau of Reclamation and each member of the Nevada Congressional Delegation; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this resolution becomes effective upon passage and approval.

Assemblywoman de Braga moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Mining.

Motion carried.

"Section 1. Chapter 209 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 to 14, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 2. As used in sections 2 to 14, inclusive, of this act, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in sections 3 to 7, inclusive, of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 3. "Chemical compound" means levonorgestrel or another compound that is pharmacologically similar to levonorgestrel and has the same or similar physiological effects as levonorgestrel.

Sec. 4. "Program" means the program established by the director pursuant to sections 2 to 14, inclusive, of this act that allows a sex offender, with the approval of the director or his designee, to participate voluntarily in treatment with a chemical compound.

Sec. 8. 1. The director shall establish a program that allows a sex offender, with the approval of the director or his designee, to participate voluntarily in treatment with a chemical compound.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the program must include at least 15 but not more than 25 sex offenders at any one time. If less than 15 sex offenders are available for the program at any one time, the director shall continue the program with less than 15 sex offenders until additional sex offenders are available for the program.

Sec. 9. 1. The director shall adopt regulations governing the operation of the program. The regulations must include, but are not limited to, the procedures set forth in this section.

2. The director or his designee shall ensure that a psychological profile is developed to identify those sex offenders who are most likely to benefit from treatment with a chemical compound. The department shall recruit volunteers for the program based upon the psychological profile.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, the program must be carried out in two phases for each sex offender who participates in the program. The first phase of the program must include, but is not limited to:

(a) Regular physiological examinations to determine whether treatment with a chemical compound is reducing the level of testosterone in the blood of the sex offender to 200 nanograms or less of testosterone per deciliter of blood; and

(b) Regular psychological evaluations to determine whether the propensity of the sex offender for violence or deviant sexual behavior is being affected by treatment with a chemical compound.

6. If the director or his designee determines that the first phase of the program has been beneficial to the sex offender, the sex offender must be allowed to participate in the second phase of the program. The second phase of the program must include, but is not limited to:

(b) An assessment of the side effects of treatment with a chemical compound over an extended period, including, but not limited to, an assessment of any side effects that were previously unknown.

7. To the extent practicable, the first and second phases of the program must include psychological counseling in addition to treatment with a chemical compound.

2. The director or his designee may terminate participation by a sex offender in the program for any lawful reason or purpose.

3. The provisions of sections 2 to 14, inclusive, of this act do not create a right on behalf of a sex offender to participate in the program and do not establish a basis for any cause of action against the state or its officers or employees for denial of the ability to participate in or for removal from the program.

Sec. 12. *The director shall establish a system to study the effects of the program. The study must include, but is not limited to, the information that is obtained from the first and second phases of the program pursuant to section 9 of this act. Amendment No. 617.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sec. 18 as sec. 22 and adding new sections designated sections 18 through 21, following sec. 17, to read as follows:

"Sec. 18. Section 1 of Senate Bill No. 207 of this session is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. NRS 62.211 is hereby amended to read as follows:

62.211 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 62.212 and section 1 of [this act] Assembly Bill No. 39 of this session, if the court finds that a child is within the purview of this chapter it shall so decree and may:

(a) Place the child under supervision in his own home or in the custody of a suitable person elsewhere, upon such conditions as the court may determine. A program of supervision in the home may include electronic surveillance of the child. The legislature declares that a program of supervision that includes electronic surveillance is intended as an alternative to commitment and not as an alternative to probation, informal supervision or a supervision and consent decree.

(b) Commit the child to the custody of a public or private institution or agency authorized to care for children, or place him in a home with a family. In committing a child to a private institution or agency the court shall select one that is required to be licensed by the department of human resources to care for such children, or, if the institution or agency is in another state, by the analogous department of that state. The court shall not commit a female child to a private institution without prior approval of the superintendent of the Caliente youth center, and shall not commit a male child to a private institution without prior approval of the superintendent of the Nevada youth training center.

(c) Order such medical, psychiatric, psychological or other care and treatment as the court deems to be for the best interests of the child, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(d) Order the parent, guardian, custodian or any other person to refrain from continuing the conduct which, in the opinion of the court, has caused or tended to cause the child to come within or remain under the provisions of this chapter.

(e) If the child is less than [17] 18 years of age, order [the] :

(1) The parent, guardian or custodian of the child [, and any brothers, sisters] ; and

(2) Any brother, sister or other [persons] person who is living in the same household as the child over whom the court has jurisdiction , to attend or participate in counseling, [alone or together] with or without the child, including, but not limited to, counseling regarding parenting skills, alcohol or substance abuse , or techniques of dispute resolution.

(f) Order the parent or guardian of the child to participate in a program designed to provide restitution to the victim of an act committed by the child or to perform public service.

(g) Order the parent or guardian of the child to pay all or part of the cost of the proceedings, including, but not limited to, reasonable attorney's fees, any costs incurred by the court and any costs incurred in the investigation of an act committed by the child and the taking into custody of the child.

(h) Order the suspension of the child's driver's license for at least 90 days but not more than 2 years. If the child does not possess a driver's license, the court may prohibit the child from receiving a driver's license for at least 90 days but not more than 2 years:

(1) Immediately following the date of the order, if the child is eligible to receive a driver's license.

(2) After the date he becomes eligible to apply for a driver's license, if the child is not eligible to receive a license on the date of the order.

If the court issues an order suspending the driver's license of a child pursuant to this paragraph, the judge shall require the child to surrender to the court all driver's licenses then held by the child. The court shall, within 5 days after issuing the order, forward to the department of motor vehicles and public safety the licenses, together with a copy of the order. If, pursuant to this paragraph, the court issues an order delaying the ability of a child to receive a driver's license, the court shall, within 5 days after issuing the order, forward to the department of motor vehicles and public safety a copy of the order. The department of motor vehicles and public safety shall report a suspension pursuant to this paragraph to an insurance company or its agent inquiring about the child's driving record, but such a suspension must not be considered for the purpose of rating or underwriting. The department of motor vehicles and public safety shall not require the child to submit to the tests and other requirements which are adopted by regulation pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 483.495 as a condition of reinstatement or reissuance after a suspension of his license pursuant to this paragraph, unless the suspension resulted from his poor performance as a driver.

(i) Place the child, when he is not in school, under the supervision of:

(1) A public organization to work on public projects;

(2) A public agency to work on projects to eradicate graffiti; or

(3) A private nonprofit organization to perform other public service.

The person under whose supervision the child is placed shall keep the child busy and well supervised and shall make such reports to the court as it may require. As a condition of such a placement, the court may require the child or his parent or guardian to deposit with the court a reasonable sum of money to pay for the cost of policies of insurance against liability for personal injury and damage to property or for industrial insurance, or both, during those periods in which he performs the work, unless, in the case of industrial insurance, it is provided by the organization or agency for which he performs the work.

(j) Permit the child to reside in a residence without the immediate supervision of an adult, or exempt the child from mandatory attendance at school so that the child may be employed full time, or both, if the child is at least 16 years of age, has demonstrated the capacity to benefit from this placement or exemption and is under the strict supervision of the juvenile division.

(k) Require the child to provide restitution to the victim of the crime which the child has committed.

(l) Impose a fine on the child. If a fine is imposed, the court shall impose an administrative assessment pursuant to NRS 62.223.

2. If the court finds that a child who is less than 17 years of age has committed a delinquent act, the court may order the parent or guardian of the child to pay any fines and penalties imposed for the delinquent act. If the parent or guardian is unable to pay the fines and penalties imposed because of financial hardship, the court may require the parent or guardian to perform community service.

3. In determining the appropriate disposition of a case concerning a child found to be within the purview of this chapter, the court shall consider whether the act committed by the child involved the use of a firearm or the use or threatened use of force or violence against the victim of the act and whether the child is a serious or chronic offender. If the court finds that the act committed by the child involved the use of a firearm or the use or threatened use of force or violence against the victim or that the child is a serious or chronic offender, the court shall include the finding in its order and may, in addition to the options set forth in subsections 1 and 2 of this section and NRS 62.213:

(a) Commit the child for confinement in a secure facility, including a facility which is secured by its staff.

(b) Impose any other punitive measures the court determines to be in the best interests of the public or the child.

4. At any time, either on its own volition or for good cause shown, the court may terminate its jurisdiction concerning the child.

5. Whenever the court commits a child to any institution or agency pursuant to this section or NRS 62.213, it shall transmit a summary of its information concerning the child and order the administrator of the school that the child last attended to transmit a copy of the child's educational records to the institution or agency. The institution or agency shall give to the court any information concerning the child that the court may require.

6. In determining whether to place a child pursuant to this section in the custody of a person other than his parent, guardian or custodian, preference must be given to any person related within the third degree of consanguinity to the child whom the court finds suitable and able to provide proper care and guidance for the child.

Sec. 19. Section 11 of Senate Bill No. 102 of this session is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. NRS 62.211 is hereby amended to read as follows:

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEES

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Koivisto, Herrera and Sandoval as a first Committee on Conference to meet with a like committee of the Senate for the further consideration of Senate Bill No. 80.

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 47; Senate Bills Nos. 335, 366, 369, 370, 407, 408; Senate Joint Resolution No. 14; Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 52.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Anderson requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

I would like to present to the legislature today a quilt that was created during the last session. It is called "In Bed With The Legislature," and I want you all to know that these ladies did not create the name for this.

The quilt was made by the Carson City Family and Community Education Group and has all the signatures of the 68th session legislators and the executive branch. It was made as a fund raiser for the group's educational programs and was raffled off on Nevada Day in 1995. Irene Davis, Assemblyman Brian Sandoval's secretary, was the lucky winner. She's the lovely lady on my right. You may remember having signed the quilt—I know I surely do.

The quilters who made this great work of Nevada history are Jasmine Shackley, the lovely lady on the left, who is Assemblywoman Sandi Krenzer's secretary; Carol Payne; Elsie Dupree; Barbara Nelis; Jean Pici; Pauline Ebersold; Susan Morning; and Kay Vaughn. The quilt has been displayed at quilt shows in Nevada and California, and the group has raised a little over $500 with it.

This quilt will be on display for the remainder of the session in my office, Room 3127, on the third floor. We want to make sure that everyone has an opportunity to see it. The quilt will be displayed in such a fashion that you should be able to find your name on it. Please join me in thanking these lovely ladies for allowing me to display the quilt and for the construction of the quilt.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), June 25, 1997

Assembly called to order at 11:31 a.m.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, The Reverend Bruce Henderson.

Our Lord God, as this makes our ninety-fifth Legislative day, some of our legislators seem to be praying the words of King David. My soul is greatly dismayed; but Thou, O Lord - how long? Help us to be encouraged by the prophet Isaiah. Though youths grow weary and tired, and vigorous young men stumble badly, yet those who wait for the Lord will gain new strength; They will mount us with wings like eagles; They will run and not get tired; They will walk and not become weary. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Judiciary:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 21—Expressing to Congress the displeasure of the Nevada Legislature with certain provisions of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996.

WHEREAS, During this, the 69th session of the Nevada Legislature, the elected representatives of the residents of the State of Nevada have worked diligently to enact legislation that will conform state laws to the provisions of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Legislature has addressed welfare reform in a number of legislative measures this session, most comprehensively in Assembly Bill No. 401, and has listened to testimony by the many persons who will be affected by these reforms; and

WHEREAS, The federal welfare reform law may impede the ability of the states to use their "maintenance of effort" dollars to provide the programs necessary to meet the unique needs of those people being affected by reform of the welfare system; and

WHEREAS, There will be critical consequences to the efforts by states to implement and maintain the mandated welfare reforms in the event of a sharp and unexpected downturn in the economic health of the nation or of individual states; and

WHEREAS, There are many technical errors in the federal welfare reform act which will impede the efforts of the states in carrying out the mandates regarding welfare reform; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Legislature has serious concerns about many specific provisions of the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, including:

1. The lack of exceptions in the work participation requirements and the child care provisions for a single parent or custodial parent of a disabled child who is over the age of 6 years;

2. The issue of the right to a jury trial in paternity cases which has been viewed by many as an encroachment by the Federal Government on the due process rights of its citizens;

3. The infringement of states' rights by the Federal Government by enacting laws that appear to require the State of Nevada to amend its constitution to comply with such laws;

4. The requirement of personal identification by social security number for purposes unrelated to programs of the Social Security Administration;

5. That certain requirements in the welfare reform act may violate the 5th, 7th, 9th and 10th amendments to the United States Constitution; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That the Nevada Legislature urges Congress to ensure that states have the broadest possible guidelines for expenditures of "maintenance of effort" dollars to create successful programs that will meet the unique needs of the most vulnerable families, reduce welfare dependency and increase self-sufficiency, while remaining consistent with the economy of each state; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Congress is encouraged to support restoration of the $2 billion contingency fund to the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, by inclusion in the Welfare Reform Technical Corrections Act of 1997, pursuant to the bipartisan agreement reached in 1996 that both the federal and state governments should share the cost of meeting increased needs during periods of economic downturn and hardship and allow states access to the fund during those times; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Congress is urged to pass the Welfare Reform Technical Corrections Act of 1997 as soon as possible to prevent any impediment to the efforts of the Nevada Legislature to carry out the federal mandates to the states regarding welfare reform; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Federal Government recognize and honor the rights retained by the states and the individual rights of her citizens as guaranteed by the United States Constitution.

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Vice President of the United States as presiding officer of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services and each member of the Nevada Congressional Delegation; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this resolution becomes effective upon passage and approval.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Motion carried.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 50—Urging the Clark County School District to name a school after former Legislator Marvin M. Sedway.

WHEREAS, Marvin M. Sedway, a highly respected and sagacious former member of the Nevada Legislature, believed that a decent society is obligated to provide a superior education for its children; and

WHEREAS, Marvin Sedway carried an unshakable belief in the power of education and fought to make the education of children a top priority of our government; and

WHEREAS, The poster displayed in Marvin Sedway's office, which read "It will be a great day when our schools get all the money they need and the Air Force has to hold a bake sale to buy a bomber," illustrated his commitment to education; and

WHEREAS, Marvin Sedway's unflagging efforts to help the poor, the homeless, the elderly and all those with little power in our society gained him broad respect in the Legislature and throughout the state; and

WHEREAS, Marvin Sedway was a man of uncommon distinction who made certain he made a difference in the lives of the people of the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The people of the State of Nevada will long remember Marvin Sedway for his compassion, drive and valuable public service; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 69th session of the Nevada Legislature do respectfully urge the Clark County School District to honor a distinguished Nevadan, Marvin M. Sedway, by naming a school after him; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to each member of the Board of Trustees of the Clark County School District.

Assemblywoman Giunchigliani moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Giunchigliani, Anderson, Dini, Bache, Price, Arberry, Evans, Carpenter, Freeman and Marvel.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIUNCHIGLIANI:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. For those of you who never had the experience of meeting Marvin, you don't know what you were missing. Marvin was not only my friend, but my hero because he believed in trying to make a difference in the lives of the elderly, children, and families. I believe all of us ran for office to do that type of thing, but it is rare that you have an individual who is capable of articulating it in such a manner as Marvin did, not only through his commitment as Ways and Means chair, but sometimes with vivid imagination. He once threw a nickel across the floor saying, "All the property tax that goes to children is a lousy nickel." He had the capability of emphasizing his words with action that many of us don't always have the opportunity to do.

This resolution does nothing more than ask the Clark County School District to recognize an individual who for years gave of himself from his profession. It's not something that he "hyped." He voluntarily paid for all eye exams not only for the children that were housed at the Helen J. Stewart facility, but for any child that needed it within the southern Nevada area, and not because someone told him to do so. This is not something you would have read on his resumé. That was the type of individual that Marvin was.

We are naming schools right and left after many individuals that are very well deserving, but there are very few that have demonstrated not only commitment and public service, but have also actually done something within their community, and Marvin did. The purpose of this resolution is to ask the Clark County School District to at least entertain this type of recognition.

I would like to introduce Kim Sedway, Marv's best friend and wife, and thank her for being here today. I'm sure many of you will have other stories to share with us about Marvin.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I wish to rise in support of ACR 50. The naming of schools after individuals is a controversial topic in my county, but I think that there is a really strong reason to do so. It demonstrates to children that the average person makes a difference. A person like Marvin Sedway in no way can be classified as average, other than that he cared for the average men, women and children of this state.

For all of us who knew and loved Marvin Sedway, he is not going to go away. We'll always remember the humor of Marvin sitting here in the chamber and accidentally setting his beard on fire; listening to him passionately advocate on behalf of the children that he believed should come first. Occasionally, I had the opportunity to disagree with Marvin, and it's probably in disagreement with a person that you find their true mettle. You knew what he stood for and that he was never going to give an inch on the thing first in his heart, the kids of this state.

I think that having a school named for Marvin is very appropriate, much more so even than the legislative building that stands across the street, which is another monument to Marvin's efforts to change our state and provide us with a vision for the future.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I must rise in support of this resolution. Marvin and I became great friends. In 1987, I made Marvin chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, and we developed a great friendship. As I recollect, a bunch of people came up to me afterwards and said, "How could you appoint him to be chairman of Ways and Means? You're extreme opposites." Marvin was progressive and stood for a lot of things that weren't popular in a rural county, such as mining, but he was interested in taking care of the state's problems. It didn't make any difference if it was Elko, Yerington, or Las Vegas.

When it came to efforts to help the kids of our state, Marvin was behind them one hundred percent, I think it would be very fitting that the Clark County School District name a school after him.

ASSEMBLYMAN BACHE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of this resolution. I got to know Marvin around 1982 through his various campaigns. I worked for Marvin on a number of his campaigns and found Marvin to be truly one of the most compassionate, dedicated human beings that I've had the pleasure to know. Because of Marvin's untimely passing, I did not have the pleasure of serving with him in this body. It would have been a truly wonderful experience.

I look forward to seeing a Clark County school named after Marvin, and hopefully I, as a teacher, will be able to work there at some point in time.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, had the pleasure of serving with Marvin. In addition to his passionate care for the children and people of this state, he was an excellent chairman and an excellent legislator.

Marvin and I used to park next to each other. I had my antique Ford and he had his old Rolls Royce. One day the press had been taking pictures of our automobiles, and they thought they would get on Marvin about driving an old Rolls Royce. Marvin said to them, "Well, I had it when I came here, not after I got here, so you better talk to some other people."

Up until Marvin came here, mining had not been very active in the legislature other than business regarding regular mining operations and net proceeds of mines. Marvin thought that they should participate a little more in state activities, so he introduced a bill which could have been—if my memory serves me correct—a constitutional amendment to revise the Net

Proceeds of Mines Bill. Up to that year, I knew of only one gentleman, who is not with us any longer, who represented mining at the legislature. I was unaware of any mining involvement in the communities. By the time we got through that session, the mining operations had started giving monies to schools and participating in public events. Of course, we know now that the mining industry is very active with the legislature. I think one of the very good things that Marvin did was to send a wake-up call to a major industry in our state. The mining companies have become excellent community partners, and I think that is one thing that some of us will remember Marvin for, and I certainly strongly support ACR 50.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of ACR 50.

I'm honored to be the chair of the Committee on Ways and Means. I used to sit right next to Marvin when he was serving. Marvin would call us into his office and give us our marching orders—myself, Mrs. Evans, and some of our former colleagues, Councilman Callister and Judge Porter.

I would like to share a story with this body. One day Marvin gave me some marching orders. Since my name is Arberry, whenever we voteed in Ways and Means, I was the lead vote. Well, Marvin wanted all of us to vote against Mr. Marvel's South Fork Dam. He wanted to take the South Fork Dam and use the money toward education. I said, "No, I'm going to hang with Mr. Marvel this time." Well, low and behold, I didn't realize that when I voted "no," everyone else thought mine was the lead vote, so everyone else voted "no" too. There was an instant caucus in Dr. Sedway's office. Mr. Marvel got his South Fork Dam and we lost some other items.

Whenever I was in need or I was down, I knew I could go to the Sedway household. Mrs. Sedway was always there, along with Marvin, and I can tell you that he was a great guy. Marvin will be missed, and this resolution is something that really, truly needs to be fulfilled because he did care about kids and education.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I, too, rise in support of the resolution. When I first ran for office in 1986, I talked to Marvin and I said, "Marvin, if you chair Ways and Means, I would like to be on that committee," knowing that it is not easy to get on Ways and Means. He responded, "If you make it through the election, I guarantee you that you will be on the committee." Jim Spinello and I were the two freshman that year.

I, too, recall, what my chairman just said about the South Fork incident, and I was one of those "taken to the wood shed." I had to take my lumps for voting incorrectly. Marvin always let you know where he stood. I will always remember him as my mentor and my rabbi.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. When I came here, I was a real novice to this process. I had a little experience in county government, but I didn't know much about the legislative process. Marvin was a great teacher to me, and I learned a lot of things from him.

I think that Marvin wanted to shut down our houses of prostitution out in the rural counties. It looked like this was going to pass, so I had to get up and each member of the legislature had to have a position running each one of these houses of prostitution. It was kind of funny. I remember that we were talking about the chairman of Ways and Means, and when you're running a house of prostitution, there are a lot of "ways" and not too much "means," and I think that Mr. Arberry, was the keeper of the gate. Everybody had a role in the running of this particular house of prostitution. I'll never forget that, and if it hadn't been for Marvin, I would not have had the opportunity to do that. He really brought a new perspective to a cowboy from Elko of the problems that do exist in other parts of this state. One thing I remember, he was a straight-up guy, and you could talk to him, and that is what I appreciated. Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FREEMAN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I also rise in support of ACR 50. Certainly the naming of a school is an appropriate tribute to Marvin. I was interested in Mr. Price's comments about Marvin's involvement with mining. In 1989, we had the reclamation bill that we have talked about previously in this body, and I was rather surprised to learn that Mr. Sedway, who was from Las Vegas, was a big supporter of the concept. He helped me a great deal through the process. It was wonderful to make his acquaintance, and I just think this is something that should be done.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I think if any legislator goes down in history as being the "education legislator," it certainly should be Marvin Sedway. This resolution is most appropriate, and it is so nice to have Kim with us again. We miss her being around here and we certainly wish you well, Kim. You're missed.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIUNCHIGLIANI:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. On behalf of the Assembly, I would like to present a copy of the parchment to Kim. We will also transmit something to the school district. In addition, I have petitions that were signed by everyone in this house that we will submit also to the Clark County School Board. Kim, this is just a small token to you.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore, if I may, after hearing my colleague from Assembly District 17, I would like to share two short, very quick stories. Marvin's timing was sometimes unbelievable. I believe the Assembly was debating the original DUI bill, and it happened to be a Jewish holiday, so Marvin had bottles of Mogan David wine on every desk in this house. The press came in and said, "Wait a minute, what's going on? What's the double message?" It really just happened to be serendipitous.

I have another story of Marvin and his Rolls Royce. Marvin had finished his first term, and my husband was running Marvin's campaign. Marvin had driven up in this beautiful, blue Rolls Royce to do an interview with senior citizens at a mobile home park. He came down to do his interview with the teachers later on, and he said, "I just couldn't believe it. They were very upset and indignant that I had dared to drive up in a Rolls Royce to get their endorsement. I had to tell them, 'Hey, what the hell. At least you know that I'm going up there with the thing, and not coming back with it after having served." That story embodies the flavor, honesty and humor that Marvin brought to these halls. I thank all of you for your comments today, and I know that Kim does as well.

Thank you very much, Madam Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblywoman Evans moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Evans, Anderson, Perkins and Humke.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN EVANS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Today we remember one of Nevada's finest, Franklin J. Minnie, Sr., who was a deputy with the Washoe County Sheriff's Department. Frank Minnie served Nevada and her citizens for 16 years in a profession that is often misunderstood and lost his life serving each of us. He was responding to a call from a resident regarding a suspected trespasser. He was doing the job he loved.

Frank Minnie was awarded many commendations throughout his distinguished career. One of the most recent came as a result of his efforts to save the life of a young child. As we lose our friends, our wonderful public servants, we also share in the grief felt by their families and their loved ones, and to Mr. Minnie's family, we offer our prayers and our best wishes.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

I rise in support of ACR 51. I am ever mindful of this body's responsibility to send law enforcement personnel into harm's way, which we do on a regular basis in the committee that I chair, often without recognizing their tireless devotion to duty. Officer Minnie demonstrated the kind of sacrifice that we expect of our law enforcement personnel and the kind of sacrifice that they are willing to give so that this society might live free. I extend my personal condolences to the Minnie family.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I did not know Franklin Jay Minnie, but I feel a distinct kinship with him. Mr. Speaker, we in Nevada are comparatively lucky as it relates to losing law enforcement officers to societal ills. During my relatively short law enforcement career, I have lost colleagues, and I know, without a doubt, we will unfortunately lose many more. This should be disturbing to all of us.

To borrow a thought from another, Deputy Minnie and others are the ones who stand on that wall and provide the blanket of security that protects all of us. Can you imagine what our communities would be like without men and women like Deputy Minnie to stand on that wall?

You know, Mr. Speaker, we must never forget the men and women we have lost, and particularly Franklin Jay Minnie. Let me describe to you the feelings of family, friends, and even the officers and deputies themselves while this security is being provided. Knowing that their chosen career potentially puts them in contact every day with violent persons who could seriously harm or kill them, these men and women in law enforcement put themselves in harm's way for us. Worry, anxiety and prayer are a daily vigil. I know in my heart that Deputy Minnie's family, my family, and the families of the rest of the law enforcement community worry constantly about whether their loved ones will come home safely after a day of making our communities safer and more secure.

Can you imagine living every day not knowing whether your loved one will come home or if you will get that dreaded visit? If you can put yourself in their shoes and experience the emotions I've just described, then it becomes painfully obvious how important it is to honorably remember Deputy Franklin Jay Minnie.

Let us thank his family for their ultimate sacrifice, a sacrifice no family should have to endure. It is only the support of families like the Minnies that allow the law enforcement community to provide the order and security I have talked about previously.

On behalf of the Assembly and the law enforcement community in our state, I wish to extend our thanks and our sympathies to the family and friends of Franklin Jay Minnie. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to support ACR 51. I am sorry to say that I didn't know Deputy Minnie, but from the information that I have gained about this man's life, it certainly appears that he was somewhat ordinary. He was a "squared-away cop." I can think of no greater compliment, except to say that he was also a great family man. That makes him ordinary among police. I chose not to believe what I read in the newspapers and magazines and see on TV about officers that go bad, regardless of what agency, federal, state, or local. That is the extreme exception.

Deputy Minnie was so ordinary because he was so good and worked so hard to protect all of us. If I could distill the thoughts of the previous speaker, I think he would have said that every officer bleeds when a fellow officer goes down. I think every citizen does, as well, because we know that that security is being threatened. My condolences to his family.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY-EIGHTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), June 26, 1997

Assembly called to order at 11:15 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by Cleric Michael Berg, Eckankar.

In the Name of the Creator. We are gathered here today in the solemn hall of the Assembly to transact the important business of this state. We invite God's grace into our deliberations and seek that place within each of us that contains pure and unlimited wisdom and love. By keeping our attention on a higher source, we turn our actions, thoughts and life over to the Divine Spirit. In ECKANKAR, to show our gratitude to God, we have the word "HU", a most beautiful prayer. HU is an ancient Name for God, it is a love song to God. It does not direct God to do anything, but rather says, "Thy will be done." You may close your eyes, if you wish, and silently sing the "HU" or you may pick a word that you like, that is sacred to you and fills your heart with love, or put your attention on your own spiritual guide. This becomes a non-directed prayer, which means that we are willing to let the Holy Spirit take care of the affairs in our life according to the Divine Plan. We will now have a moment of silence. We thank You, God, for Your guidance this day. May the Blessing Be. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.
