Remarks by Assemblywoman Jauregui.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN JAUREGUI:

I rise today with the distinct honor of nominating my friend and colleague, Assemblyman Steve Yeager, for Speaker of the Nevada State Assembly.

While he may be popularly known for his marathons and his donut wall, Assemblyman Steve Yeager and his family have spent their lives defending the Constitution and the principal rights that define freedom. Public service runs in the Yeager family. One of his brothers serves and protects his community as a law enforcement officer; another brother, a 25-year officer in the Marine Corps, defending our Constitution at home and abroad; and a superstar of a wife, Judge Bita Yeager, who serves our state in the Eighth Judicial District, protecting our communities, our rights, and our families. Assemblyman Steve Yeager keeps good company with the people who think freedom, the Constitution, and liberty and justice for all are not talking points but a way of life, and that shows in how Steve has lived his life, defending those who need help the most.

As a wise justice once said, "Where you see wrong or inequality or injustice, speak out, because this is your country. This is your democracy. Make it. Protect it. Pass it on." Assemblyman

Yeager has done just that as a member of this Chamber and beyond its walls, and it is why I am so proud to nominate him on this day as the 65th Speaker of the Nevada State Assembly.

Assemblyman O'Neill seconded the motion.

Assemblywoman Cohen moved that nominations be closed.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Jauregui, Assemblyman O'Neill, and Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN JAUREGUI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, and thank you for the honor and privilege of serving as your Majority Floor Leader. This is a surreal moment for me, as I am sure it is for many in this Chamber. To my sister from District 1, I cannot say enough how delighted I am to enter our fourth session together and how proud I am to see you elected as Speaker pro Tempore and rise as the first African-American Chair of Ways and Means. I want to congratulate my colleague, the Assemblyman from District 40, on his ascension as Minority Floor Leader. And I want to congratulate each and every one of my colleagues for winning their election to join this esteemed body.

But the real recognition deserves to be given to the family members and friends who stand by us each and every day. They are the unsung heroes of the work that we do on the campaign trail and during the legislative session. Supporting us in this work is not easy. It means knowing we will miss birthdays, anniversaries, and important milestones. It often means loving us from afar, as many of us spend more time on the campaign trail than at home. It means knowing that, for 120 days, our thoughts, focus, and energy are on serving the people of the great state of Nevada. Our families sacrifice so much for us to be able to serve as members of this great body. Please join me in recognizing that sacrifice.

We are a trailblazing institution, with the largest female majority and one of the most diverse bodies in the nation, representing communities that truly stretch the gamut of what makes Nevada and America so wonderful. The work we do in this body is important to this state, to our community, and to the families we were elected to represent. Many of us have served through some of the most difficult times this state has ever seen, and we have had some heated debate and, at times, raw emotions. But I will tell you this: Unlike in Washington, the vast majority of our work has been, and will be, friendly and done with compassion and compromise at the heart of it. In this body, we leave politics on the campaign trail because true leadership cannot exist where partisanship lives.

During the next 120 days, we must dig deep to find the courage to make the right decisions for our state. We have an intense but rewarding time ahead of us. So, whether you are from the communities of Elko or Ely or east Las Vegas, it is time to saddle up. Our state is counting on us to get this work done.

ASSEMBLYMAN O'NEILL:

I would first like to begin by thanking and congratulating our Majority Floor Leader, the honorable Assemblywoman from District 41, on her election today. I would also like to welcome the families and guests of my colleagues. All of you with us here today, thank you for joining us. To you, Mr. Speaker, good morning—good afternoon, I apologize. We are running late, as usual. I bet you this will not be the first time. Seriously, Mr. Speaker, good morning to you, and good morning to all of us on the start of the 82nd Session of the Nevada Legislature.

I would like to congratulate our new Speaker, the honorable Assemblyman from the ninth district, on his new role as Speaker of this body of lawmakers. Mr. Speaker, last November, your constituents showed their support for you as their representative in this body for the fourth time. Now, as the legislative session begins, your colleagues from your own party, and from mine, have demonstrated their unanimous support for you as Speaker. Congratulations.

I know that we will agree on many issues. I hope that when we disagree, our debates will be fruitful. I have faith that together we will make good policy for our great state. As the great president Ronald Reagan once said, "There are no limits to what a man can do or where he can go if he does not mind who gets the credit." In that spirit of aphorism, I hope to work with you in cooperative effort to make good policy for our people, for our constituents, for Nevada, doing it the Nevada way.

MR. SPEAKER:

I want to thank each and every one of you for putting your trust and confidence in me to lead the Assembly this session as Nevada's 65th Speaker. It means more to me than words can express, and I am most thankful it did not take 15 rounds of voting for this legislative Chamber to choose its leaders. I am most thankful for that. Thank you to my family members who are here. Many of my immediate family members are here: my wife, my mother, both of my brothers, and my mother-in-law, all of whom I will formally introduce later. I would not be standing here without their support. It is a special day to have them here with me, as they have been with me through both the good and the bad, through both the thick and the thin. For that, I am grateful.

Congratulations to my counterpart in the Senate, Senator Cannizzaro, on once again being elected Senate Majority Leader. And congratulations to our own Assemblyman O'Neill as well as Senator Gansert on their new leadership roles. Of course, congratulations to Governor Lombardo, who is now the Governor for all Nevadans. I look forward to working with all of them because, you know what? We are Nevadans first and foremost. Nevada is, and always has been, a place that is big enough for both Democrats and Republicans.

A special thank you to my predecessor, Speaker Jason Frierson, who led this Assembly with dignity and class for the last three regular sessions and the last three special sessions. He was, and continues to be, the embodiment of a true statesman. He is also my mentor and friend. I would not be here without his support and encouragement. For that, I am grateful.

So, here we are. We have finally arrived at the first day of the 82nd Session of the Nevada Legislature. This session, we have 14 new members, representing one-third of our total membership. Our new members are Assemblyman Carter, Assemblyman DeLong, Assemblyman D'Silva, Assemblywoman Gallant, Assemblyman Gray, Assemblyman Gurr, Assemblyman Hibbetts, Assemblyman Koenig, Assemblywoman La Rue Hatch, Assemblywoman Mosca, Assemblywoman Newby, Assemblyman Nguyen, Assemblywoman Taylor, and Assemblyman Yurek, who finally moved me up a spot in the alphabetical list of Assembly members. I would like to invite the 14 of you to stand up and be recognized. Congratulations and welcome.

I also want to take a moment to highlight our members who were first elected or appointed in 2020, campaigning and winning in the midst of the global COVID-19 pandemic. These ten members are Assemblywoman Anderson, Assemblywoman Brown-May, Assemblywoman Considine, Assemblywoman González, Assemblywoman Kasama, Assemblywoman Marzola, Assemblyman Miller, Assemblyman Orentlicher, Assemblywoman Summers-Armstrong, and Assemblywoman Thomas. We were not able to have guests on this floor when we were sworn in two years ago, so I would like to ask those ten members to stand up and receive the recognition you deserve.

If you were counting, we have recognized 24 members who are either beginning their first or second session of service. In truth, there are 25 such members, as Assemblywoman Backus is beginning her second session. She was first elected in 2018, then took a session off, as some of us do on occasion, before rejoining us. That makes 25 of the 42 of our members who are starting their first or second legislative session today. Collectively, the 42 members of this Assembly have 108 years of legislative service, which averages 2.6 years per member. To put that in context, the four most senior members of this Assembly from our last session who are not returning—Assemblywoman Carlton, Assemblywoman Benitez-Thompson, Assemblyman Ellison, and Speaker Frierson—collectively had 58 years of legislative experience, more than half of what the 42 of us collectively have. Though we may be young in experience, I know the wisdom of those who occupied these seats before us will permeate this Chamber and will guide us. I am confident that, together, we are going to get things done this session. We might only number 42, but we are a mighty 42.

Each one of your seats in this Chamber represents an average of 74,000 people in your district, some of whom love you and voted for you—those are probably the ones sitting behind you—and some of whom do not care for you very much at all and probably will never vote for you, and some who have no idea who you are and will never know who you are. But all of them are deserving of representation because you are their representative and they are your constituents, and there is no greater purpose in life than serving others. In the words of Speaker Hambrick in 2015, "we do not own these seats, we only occupy them." "[W]e are here for one purpose and one purpose only—to serve the people of this great state." And my challenge to all of you is the same challenge that Speaker Frierson offered in 2021: "This session I call on all of us to leave behind partisan rhetoric, to leave behind old playbooks, to leave behind business as usual."

Collaboration and cooperation is what the Battle Born state has always been about. From the glittering lights of Las Vegas to the glittering shores of Lake Tahoe, from Jarbidge to Scotty's Junction, Battle Mountain to Boulder City, Ely to Elko to Eureka, Carson City to Carlin to Caliente, Reno to Ruth, and everywhere in between, that is what Nevadans want and deserve from us: collaboration and cooperation.

Above me is a portrait of President Abraham Lincoln, under whose presidency Nevada became a state. He was once asked by a reporter how he felt about one of his political rivals. Here is how he responded: "I do not like that man. I must get to know him better." Let it be the same for us with our colleagues in this Chamber, our colleagues across the hallway in the Senate, and across the Capitol Mall, for we all know winning can be easy; governing is a heck of a lot harder.

You may have heard the phrase "work across the aisle." Well, in this Chamber, this aisle in front of me does not separate political parties. In this Chamber, we are all Nevadans doing the people's work. As I have said before, agree on everything, we will not. Agree on many things, we will. Work hard on finding those areas of agreement, we must. Let us all, then, endeavor to solve more problems than we create. Let us not fall into the trap of being keyboard warriors, saying things on social media we would never say to one another's faces. We need fewer keyboard warriors and more actual warriors who will fight to save the best system of government this world has ever known: representative democracy. There is no guarantee that it survives—we must fiercely protect it at all times or risk losing it.

Speaking of that, I would like to ask every veteran or active military member in this Chamber to stand up and be recognized for your commitment to protect this great nation of ours, whatever the cost. We thank you for your service, we appreciate you, and we will support you in any way that we can.

In 2013, Speaker Kirkpatrick asked, "Will we be a state that continues to apply nickel-size solutions to dollar-size problems?" I am confident we will not be because, in the words of Speaker Oceguera in 2011, "it is better to be criticized for doing our job than criticized for failure to act." I, for one, am confident that we will not be criticized for failure to act. When we are criticized—and we will be—it will be for doing our job. In this time of abundance, let us heed the cautionary words of Speaker Buckley in 2009: "in good times, we spend a little bit of money on a lot of things and get good at nothing." Let us, the 42 of us and the state, instead get good at a great many things this session.

In 2003, Speaker Perkins observed, "Today's challenges are no greater than any we have faced in our long history. They only seem bigger because they are so close." Yes, the challenges we face loom large because they are close. But I am ready. You all are ready. We are ready, just as we have been ready over the past few sessions, which have been some of the most challenging in this state's nearly 159-year history. But the sun always rises in the morning, no matter how cold and dark the night.

Despite the coldness and darkness of the global pandemic that brought the entire world to a standstill, the sun did rise on Nevada, forever Battle Born and resilient. We increased access to democracy; made historic investments in education; protected a woman's right to choose; tackled climate change head-on; put Nevada on a path to a future that is both carbon-free and more reliant on renewable energy; enacted smart-on-crime criminal justice measures; made health care and prescriptions drugs more affordable and accessible; increased the availability of quality, affordable child care; provided historic funding to help our small businesses keep their doors open; adopted commonsense gun safety measures; and ensured our public lands remain in public hands, all the while doing what was necessary to save lives and put Nevada's economy back on track. I will tell you, the work that we did in this body made a real difference in the lives of Nevadans. And you know what? That was just the beginning.

This session, thanks to the Pupil-Centered Funding Plan adopted by the Legislature in 2019, we will be allocating an additional $2 billion to our K through 12 education budget. But we are not going to stop at $2 billion. We will also invest an additional $250 million to give our hardworking and dedicated teachers and support staff a pay raise. They deserve it. Let us give a hand to everybody who works tirelessly to educate Nevada's future leaders.

Nevada's state employees, for far too long, have been asked to do more with less, especially our public safety employees. They have stuck it out through thick and thin. This session, we are going to give them a much-needed pay raise as well.

I am not proud to say it, but Nevada has missed the mark when it comes to mental health, both for youth and adults. For far too long, there has been a large gap between the investments Nevadans needed and the investments that were made, and people were left behind. This session, we will be able to close that gap and provide so many Nevadans with the help that they need.

As we embark on this legislative session, let us not turn a blind eye to skyrocketing rents or the looming eviction crisis threatening so many in our state. Rising housing costs are a real burden for so many Nevada families. We must dedicate time and resources to provide access to stable and affordable housing to keep Nevadans in their homes so that home can truly mean Nevada for everyone in this state.

So, then, what is my challenge to you, the Assembly members of this 82nd Session of the Nevada Legislature? My challenge to you is this: With clear eyes, see Nevada as it is today, with all of its successes and all of its challenges, but also have the vision to see Nevada as you wish it to be long after you leave this Chamber and, indeed, leave this earth. And then work hard each and every day to make that vision a reality, because all of us in here still have miles left on our shoes.

The question I leave you with is this: How will we, this Assembly, be remembered when history sets its eyes on us? Well, that is up to all of you, that is up to me, that is up to us. Let us get to work.

God bless all of you, and God bless the great state of Nevada.

Assemblywoman Jauregui moved that the Governor's State of the State Address as presented to the Legislative Commission's Special Committee to Receive the Governor's State of the State Address of January 23, 2023, be entered in the Journal.

GOVERNOR JOE LOMBARDO:

Speaker Yeager, thank you. Majority Leader Cannizzaro and baby, Lieutenant Governor Anthony, members of the Senate and Assembly, honorable justices of the Supreme Court, constitutional officers, Congressman Amodei, distinguished guests, my fellow Nevadans, good evening.

Before I go any further, we all know that families are the bedrock of our society, and I want to recognize my family: First Lady Donna Lombardo and our daughters, Morgan and Lacey. Unfortunately, Morgan could not be here tonight, but I would like to introduce you to my one-year-old grandson, Teddy. To my family, without your support, none of this would have been possible. Please give them a warm welcome. I would like to acknowledge each of your families. We all understand the sacrifices they make so that we can be here. Their service to our state is no less significant than ours. My sincerest thanks to your families.

We are here tonight to begin building upon the stewardship of those elected officials who came before us. I would like to pause to remember some Nevada leaders who have gifted us their legacy: Congressman and State Senator Jim Bilbray; Supreme Court Justice and Lieutenant Governor Bob Rose; Assemblyman and County Commissioner David Humke; Assemblywoman Jane Ham; Assemblywoman and County Commissioner Myrna Williams; and State Senator Spike Wilson. And special remembrance of a Nevadan who served in the Assembly 54 years ago, albeit for only one term, but a man who, whether you agreed with him or not, never stopped fighting for Nevada all the way to the top: U.S. Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid. Join me for a moment of reflection as we extend our thoughts and prayers to the Reid family and the families of those whose generous contributions to our state will be remembered.

As a military veteran, I want to salute the men and women serving in our military around the globe. We should all be proud of the fact that Nevada has National Guard members stationed in numerous foreign countries. As we sit here this evening, our Adjutant General, Ondra Berry, is in Romania visiting the Nevada Army National Guard 137th Military Police Detachment. Our military families serve our nation. Tonight, we honor them, and we honor their spouses and children whose sacrifices help to keep us safe. On behalf of a profoundly grateful state, we appreciate all they do to defend our liberties. Our veterans deserve nothing less than our best efforts. I would like to recognize a veteran serving in my administration: my budget director, Amy Stephenson. Amy is a disabled U.S. Navy veteran who has worked for Nevada for more than 20 years in numerous departments. Please help me thank Amy for her service to the state and to the nation. Thank you, Amy.

Uh-oh, it looks like it is Teddy's bedtime. That is disappointing. Earlier this month, I said in my inaugural address, our Nevada history teaches us to persevere while others settle for less. Time and again, we have gathered our resolve and doubled our determination when others have told us it cannot be done or should not be tried. We instinctively do the opposite. As Governor, I am filled with hope and optimism for what we can accomplish if we simply summon the will to work together. It is my intention to work side by side with all of you to write another chapter of Nevada history that will record that we did it the Nevada way—never give up, and never stop dreaming.

I am here to say to you tonight, the state of our state is growing stronger every day. The pandemic laid bare just how vulnerable our economy is. In an unexpected twist of fate, the pandemic also created, for the first time in many years, an unprecedented budget surplus. With this in mind, my remarks will be candid. On one hand, we have exciting opportunities within our grasp. On the other, we must not allow ourselves to give way to the temptation to overspend. We must remain dedicated to the twin propositions of saving for, and guarding against, the next unexpected event that shakes our economy and rattles our livelihoods. As a former Nevadan named Samuel Clemens, better known by the pen name Mark Twain, once wrote, "The secret of getting ahead is getting started." My fellow Nevadans, let us get started.

My executive budget not only lowers the tax burden on working families and businesses, but it also reserves more than $1 in savings for every new dollar in General Fund spending. It bears repeating: We will reserve more than $1 in savings for every new dollar in General Fund spending. The executive budget reverses cuts to some programs made during the pandemic and addresses long-overdue investments in people, programs, and facilities, but it does so responsibly. Not a penny of the state's one-time surplus will be used to fund any recurring programs. For example, by using one-time money to fund $412 million in deferred maintenance and planning costs, taxpayers get safer, more efficient, and more functional state buildings. My budget also saves taxpayers over $260 million in interest payments on bonds, enabling us to, among other things, create more construction jobs in future years. In simple economic terms, we are buying with cash instead of credit.

Today, the government has more money than we can responsibly spend. Households and businesses most certainly do not. Look around. Everything is more expensive these days—groceries, supplies, and services. Nowhere is this more evident than at the pump. The price of gasoline in Nevada has averaged more than $4 per gallon in the past year, nearly $1 higher than the national average. I am proud to announce, my executive budget suspends the state motor vehicle fuel tax for the next 12 months, immediately reducing the price of gasoline and saving consumers and businesses approximately $250 million. In terms of a family of four, that translates to hundreds of dollars a year in savings. Working with local gas station operators, the petroleum industry, and the Attorney General's consumer affairs division, we will make certain that these savings exclusively benefit taxpayers. Using our budget surplus to provide tax relief will not negatively affect our fuel tax-funded road and construction program or impair bonds.

We must always remain mindful that our financial surplus comes from the pockets of our constituents. As such, we will not stop searching for additional ways to return money to the taxpayers. In that same spirit, my budget lowers the modified business tax rate by 15 percent, to 1.17 percent. Furthermore, my budget raises the exemption for businesses subject to the commerce tax by 50 percent, from $4 million to $6 million. This represents the first time ever that the commerce tax exemption has been adjusted in favor of the taxpayers. These tax reductions ensure that rising prices do not create increased burdens for Nevada businesses. No sunsets, no court decisions, no gimmicks—just plain old-fashioned tax cuts that allow Nevadans to keep more of what they earn.

To brace ourselves during the pandemic, we drained the Rainy Day Fund almost immediately. Reserves were not deep enough to stave off cuts to education, health care, public safety, and other critical public services. I regret to say it, but Nevada will likely face additional periods of instability. We will not be able to, nor should we, rely on federal bailouts to fund government. To protect us in the future, my executive budget increases savings in the Rainy Day Fund from 20 percent to 30 percent and fully funds that account. In other words, we will place another $630 million in the Rainy Day Fund to be used when dark clouds again gather on the horizon.

As I said before, fiscal responsibility is the backbone of my budget, and I mean it. Overall, my budget sets aside more than $2 billion in total savings to safeguard against cuts to education and critical programs in the years to come. Two billion dollars, folks. Two billion. Included in those savings is $315 million for the Nevada Way Fund, a new subaccount to be used for transformational economic development projects and critical infrastructure needs in areas such as emerging markets in the north and south ends of the Las Vegas Valley as well as other emerging markets in Nevada. Approval of the Nevada Way funds will be authorized by the newly formed Nevada Way Leadership Committee, made up of the Governor and the bipartisan leadership of the Nevada Legislature. The Nevada Way Fund simply reaffirms that we never stop dreaming and that we are fully prepared to act in those times when market opportunity and new capital merge.

In matters of our children's education, I think the best politics is no politics. Let us agree to set aside politics and turf guarding to deal with the stubborn facts regarding public education in Nevada. Nevada's public schools have been historically underfunded and have historically underperformed for our children. Both of those facts must change. Tonight, I am proposing the single largest investment in K through 12 education and raising the bar on expectations and accountability to the level not yet seen in Nevada. My budget contains $2 billion in new funding for our students. That is an increase of more than 22 percent from what was appropriated in the current biennium. That is two billion new dollars for literacy and instruction for our children.

Perhaps most groundbreaking is the commitment to equity. When the Pupil-Centered Funding Plan was created, equity was built into the formula through the weights for English language learners, at-risk students, and gifted and talented learners. I am extremely proud to announce that my budget fully funds the targeted weights in the Pupil-Centered Funding Plan, streamlining those dollars to the classrooms and students who need it most.

When all is said and done, my budget proposes spending more than $2,000 per student more next year. After years of celebrating $100 here and there, this investment is truly historic. Here is the tough part: Along with this funding, I expect results. I will not accept the lack of funding as an excuse for underperformance. I will be working with the State Superintendent to ensure our systems of accountability and transparency are robust and enforced. If we do not begin seeing results, I will be standing here in two years calling for a systematic change in the governance and leadership in K through 12 education.

Every Nevada child has the right to a quality education and should be college- or career-ready by the time they graduate high school. Traditional public schools are not, and should not, be the only option. Private schools, magnet schools, charter schools, microschools, virtual schools, and home schooling are all viable alternatives that can increase the potential for student success. My goal, after we finish this legislative session, is to give Nevada parents significantly more choice to make about their child's education.

I will be submitting legislation to create the Office of School Choice, within the Department of Education, to ensure students and their parents have the information they need to evaluate every available option and that all education providers are held to similar standards. Nevada's Pupil-Centered Funding Plan is built on the idea that education dollars should consider the needs of students and should follow them no matter what school they attend. For the first time, parents will have an advocate inside government promoting the expansion of school choice in Nevada. I look forward to working with Senator Heidi Gansert on expanding Opportunity Scholarships. She has been a strong and effective voice on this central component of school choice. Due to her leadership and others, I fully expect Opportunity Scholarships to receive a record amount of funding this session. In total, my executive budget puts more money in public K through 12 schools and introduces more student and parental choices than any budget in Nevada history.

Teachers deserve a safe and stable educational environment where they can teach and students can learn. For the first time in Nevada history, we will allocate over $730 million to the Education Stabilization Account, which is a rainy day fund solely dedicated to K through 12. Interest from this account will be innovatively used to provide scholarships to Nevada high school graduates who attend Nevada colleges or universities and who are willing to teach in Nevada schools for at least five years. Additionally, career and technical academies, signature academies, and career and technical education programs should be used to increase the pipeline of qualified teachers. To further address the immediate shortage, we should allow retired educators to draw both their retirement and a salary with no strings attached and no unnecessary administrative hurdles to clear. To help keep the teacher pipeline full, my budget includes funding for the Teach Nevada Scholarship Program, which provides $30 million in stipends and tuition for student teachers. That is a big deal.

Children who do not learn or read proficiently in elementary school have a lower chance of graduating high school and a much higher chance of facing difficult life circumstances and creating a cost burden to the state. Governor Sandoval championed Nevada's Read by Three law in 2015. The law was amended in 2019 and removed a requirement that students failing to meet proficiency standards in the third grade be held back until those standards are met. We need to reinstate adequate accountability. Therefore, I will be imposing a new five-year rule. Schools have five years to improve literacy scores and to ensure that students who are not proficient in reading do not advance beyond the third grade until they are brought up to grade level.

There is a second issue affecting our students' literacy scores. Far too many students are already behind before they ever attend their first day of kindergarten. My budget appropriates $60 million to continue and expand pre-K opportunities. The Department of Education will be charged with implementing core pre-K programs, measuring results, and providing policy recommendations for a long-term strategy to ensure more students are ready for school when they get to school.

In 2019, the Legislature passed A.B. 168, commonly referred to as the public school restorative justice law. While well-intended, this law has led to instances of disruptive and dangerous situations in schools across the state. It handcuffs schoolteachers and administrators, leaving them powerless to address habitually misbehaving and all too often violent students. This is unacceptable on several levels, most notably by creating an unsafe environment for teachers and other students in the classroom. To be clear, every child should be given the opportunity to stay in school. But there are objective limits, and there should be no issue with the temporary removal of a disruptive student, resulting in an immediate meeting with parents or guardians. If classroom disruptions continue, the student will be expelled.

We have two Nevada educators, from Las Vegas and Sparks, among us who both recently experienced physical assault in their classrooms. They are here tonight in an act of advocacy for their fellow educators and to help emphasize the need for new safety and security protections in our school system. These teachers, and other teachers just like them, deserve our trust and admiration. To those of us in this room and to those listening and watching, let us show these teachers how much respect and support we have for them. Thank you. We do not need any more examples of school violence. We have seen enough. It is time to act and repeal the most onerous sections of this law and, in their place, create a structure that works for educators, parents, and students.

Higher education plays such an important role in the economic health of our state. Among the stiffest barriers to attracting new businesses and retaining existing businesses is having a workforce that meets the needs of business. To overcome this challenge, my budget restores NSHE's [Nevada System of Higher Education's] operating budget to pre-pandemic levels and sets aside $5 million to pay for a study of the higher education funding formula. Part of that funding study will require increased transparency and accountability for higher education institutions, including their self-supported budgets. It has been more than a decade since this formula was updated, and it is time for a new formula to reflect the current state of our system.

We will also increase funding for workforce innovation to better respond to the needs of various organizations for workforce training; invest $75 million for the long-term stability of the state's Millennium Scholarship program; invest $65 million in deferred maintenance for aging buildings; put $20 million more in graduate student stipends and to support research at our system institutions; add $9 million to build up the faculty at the UNLV [University of Nevada, Las Vegas] medical school so that we can accommodate more medical students; and appropriate $6 million to continue state support for Promise Scholarships for Nevada high school graduates attending our community colleges.

There may be no more dysfunctional part of state government than in the services provided to our workforce. Delays, fraud, and system failures have become commonplace. To fix it, I am proposing that we consolidate these services under a single Office of Workforce. The office will develop and execute an integrated plan and will oversee the 17 revenue streams sourced to the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act. Right now, we have five state agencies, the university system, and local governments administering over 200 million workforce dollars. They are not aligned, much less coordinated. Right now, we largely ignore the vital connections between our workforce programs, our public schools, and our colleges and universities. They must function as a single, integrated system.

Right now, we have a state workforce plan that ignores the diversity of regional economies. We have duplication of efforts between nonprofits and state agencies. We do not make it easy to access programs to help would-be workers with transportation or child care because those are in a different department. Right now, we are wasting money. More importantly, we are wasting time in getting all Nevadans the job opportunities they deserve. The Office of Workforce can be the solution to this dysfunction.

As a lifetime crime fighter, I can say, there is arguably nothing more important to the 3.2 million Nevadans in our state than public safety. Assembly Bill 236, from the 2019 Legislature, introduced sweeping reforms to our criminal justice system. At the time, I agreed with some changes and not others. In the spirit of compromise, I did not oppose the bill. Three years have gone by, and we can clearly see that some of those changes did not produce the outcomes some were predicting. In fact, they made things worse. To correct these problem areas, I will be introducing legislation that makes it harder, not easier, to commit a crime in the state of Nevada. My bill will include holding career criminals accountable by strengthening the habitual enhancement for those offenders who repeatedly victimize the community; strengthening the definition of domestic battery by strangulation; protecting businesses by lowering the felony theft threshold; empowering judges and probation officers to impose tougher sanctions for parole violators; disallowing diversion for crimes against children and the elderly; strengthening drug laws by reducing weights for possession and trafficking while increasing penalties; and fighting the fentanyl epidemic. Fentanyl possession, in any amount, should be a category B felony. Addressing these problem areas will have an immediate effect on reducing crime and help ensure the effectiveness of our public safety and criminal justice systems.

If we look a little closer, there are clear disparities in Nevada's public safety compensation structure, and it is unfair. To address this, we should make every effort to retain our public safety personnel. Therefore, I am proposing a two-grade increase for all public safety employees above what is recommended for all public employees to help bring them closer to parity with local agencies and to ensure we are no longer the training ground for local government police forces.

We all know too well that crime is often the result of poor decisions and circumstances. Incarceration should be the last resort. However, jails and prisons are all too often places where we house those we have failed to educate, failed to treat, or otherwise failed to get them the help they need. We are seeing the effect of this in our streets in the form of increased homelessness. We are seeing it in our schools, where young people without access to treatment are acting out. We are seeing it in our economy, where the safety of our employees and customers is paramount.

We will make sure government does its part by increasing reimbursement rates in the area of acute need, especially in mental health services. My budget includes an enhancement in Medicaid to expand community behavioral health centers. This $17 million expansion will add up to six clinics across the state in underserved areas, including northern and rural Nevada, ensuring more mental health services are available to anyone in need, regardless of their ability to pay. The need for forensic mental health services is also critical. It is an area that has been neglected. My budget includes funding to convert a portion of the City of Las Vegas jail into a forensic hospital to build out a pod at the Rawson-Neal hospital for forensic services and money for a brand-new, ground-up forensic hospital in southern Nevada. I look forward to working with the Legislature to fund these projects.

Let us talk about another issue that we must deal with candidly. The right to vote is one of the most fundamental rights in American society. It is not only important that the process itself has integrity, but also that the people of Nevada have confidence that the process is free and fair. With that said, there are certain election reforms that are just common sense. Most notably, all mail-in ballots should be received by the time polls close on Election Day, as opposed to 5 p.m. four days following an election. This puts Nevada back in line with national norms and ensures our election reporting does not drag on for days when the balance of the nation has moved on.

Second, Nevada created universal mail-in ballots as a response to COVID-19. With the pandemic behind us, this expensive process is simply unnecessary. Anyone who wants or needs a mail-in ballot should have every right to request and receive one. However, sending ballots to more than 1.9 million registered voters is inefficient and unnecessary, not to mention it is estimated to cost nearly $7 million in this budget and will increase to over $11 million in future budgets.

Third, it is important to verify the identity of voters. Signature verification is a time-intensive and cumbersome process. We require people to have a valid form of identification to get on a plane, to operate a motor vehicle, or to purchase alcohol and cigarettes, et cetera, but not to cast a vote in an election. This is illogical.

Fourth, unregulated ballot harvesting needs to be addressed. To be clear, harvesting ballots was a felony prior to the pandemic. Now, it is a common campaign practice. If we are going to allow someone other than the voter or an immediate family member to cast their vote in an election, that person should be clearly identified and have some reasonable limitations and reporting requirements imposed upon them.

Finally, Nevada needs to end partisan redistricting. Nevada voters should have the right to select our elected leaders, not the other way around. We need an independent, nonpartisan commission that is subject to the Open Meeting Law to redraw districts every ten years. It is time we do this. Mark my words: If the Legislature cannot make meaningful progress in this critical area, these reforms should be placed before the voters during the next election.

Turning our attention to our state employees, we have prided ourselves on having a small and efficient state government. In fact, the most recent U.S. Census of Governments ranks Nevada second to last in terms of state employees per 1,000 residents. The sole purpose of state government is to serve the people of Nevada. But this cannot be done effectively when we have state job vacancy above 20 percent, a remote and disconnected workforce, and outdated computer systems, which is why one of the first things I did upon taking my oath was to issue an executive order requiring all state employees to return to pre-pandemic office hours by July 1.

The truth is, we ask our state employees to do their jobs, but we are not paying fair wages for a fair day's work. They deserve better. My budget includes an 8 percent increase for all state workers next year and an additional 4 percent increase the year after. The last time state employees received even a 5 percent increase was in 1995, and the last time they received anything in excess of 5 percent was in 1985. The increases included in my budget are a major first step on a sustainable pathway to increasing state employee pay to where it deserves to be.

Moreover, retention of our existing employees is also critical. As such, my budget includes $2,000 annual bonuses for every Executive Branch state employee, to be paid quarterly. They should not have to wait until July 1, though. I have included money to pay out those $500 quarterly bonuses starting this fiscal year. I am asking the Legislature to pass the supplemental appropriation as one of its first bills to fund these bonuses, starting at the end of March.

State employees also deserve a safe and pleasant working environment. Of the last three major state office buildings constructed, one has been torn down, the other is getting a roof replaced, and the Grant Sawyer Building needs major rehabilitation. My capital improvement budget includes funding for refurbishment of existing buildings and money for three new state office buildings so our employees can provide services to our constituents in a safe and stable work space.

A top priority of my administration will be to restore Nevada's reputation as a pro-business, pro-development state. I think we can all agree, Nevada should be the most entrepreneurial-friendly state in the nation. Unfortunately, we have lost ground in this area, and it is our job to inform the world that Nevada has reopened for business. Our best opportunities for economic growth are providing a pro-business environment for the 350,000 businesses that currently call Nevada home and offering a pro-development invitation for the expansion of new businesses and industry. Whether it is closing the lithium loop, unlocking innovation and investments in logistics, entertainment, science and technology, or embracing entrepreneurship, the message is that Nevada is ready to partner. Case in point, I am looking forward to joining Elon Musk and the team of Tesla tomorrow when they unveil plans to build a brand-new $3.5 billion advanced manufacturing facility in northern Nevada for the company's all-electric semitrucks.

Economic development matters. I am proud to declare that Nevada is back open for business, effective immediately. With that said, proceeds from our economic investments must be responsibly reinvested, and we must ensure they are used to address the transportation, education, housing, and public safety demands created by our continued growth. Tax dollars should rightly follow the demand for services, regardless of political boundaries. I am asking the Legislature to work with me to ensure that as expiring tax abatements become new tax dollars, those incremental funds are directed to the communities most impacted by our state's growth.

Finally, we all know southern Nevada has long been the entertainment capital of the world and has become the mecca for professional sports. This November, we welcome yet another spectacular international event from Formula One racing: the inaugural Las Vegas Grand Prix. Please make welcome Stefano Domenicali, the CEO [Chief Executive Officer] of Formula One who traveled from Italy to be with us tonight—I am looking to see if he will let me drive one of those things—and Renee Wilm, the CEO and President of the Las Vegas Grand Prix. We are excited to have you with us in Carson City and to have the race of races take place in Las Vegas, Nevada. Thank you.

Speaking of hospitality and gaming, concerns have surfaced related to a lack of balance between the gold standard of our gaming regulations and the time required to gain approval for new product from the Gaming Control Board lab. The result is that new products are likely being introduced with more speed outside of Nevada, which directly affects the competitive position of Nevada's gaming operators. We need to work with the Control Board to ensure the logjam is cleared.

Another issue of concern to our number one industry is S.B. 4 of the 2020 Special Session. That law imposed mandatory COVID-19 daily cleaning and time-off requirements that are no longer relevant in our hotels. Personal time-off and daily cleaning requirements add to the labor shortages and exceed current CDC [Centers for Disease Control and Prevention] guidance. Clearly, much more is known today about the transmission of the virus than what existed when the legislation was passed in 2020. Yet our hotel operators' hands are tied by this burdensome legacy law, and it should be repealed. Let us make it one of the first bipartisan things we get done this session.

One more issue from last session that warrants straight talk—the public option was passed in 2021 but will not be implemented until 2026. I have said it before: Passing laws that do not have any practical effect is political theater. Serious questions remain about the rushed implementation of the public option, agency amendments to the statute, and lack of transparency. Getting Nevadans insured is the goal. At a minimum, this law needs to be substantially revised or, better yet, repealed so we can refocus on the real problem, which is getting eligible but uninsured Nevadans the coverage they need.

I will call your attention to another area of challenge and opportunity: energy. California does not have enough electric generation within its own state to meet its electricity needs and is now relying on the broader western electric market to import energy. With California retiring its units and changing its transmission rules, we have no choice but to reduce our reliance on the market and seek independence for all Nevadans. To address this, I will issue an executive order that allows electric providers to develop dedicated in-state generation resources to ensure that we are no longer forced to rely on the broader electric market. Our energy independence will spur economic development, lead to job creation, and drive lower-cost energy for all Nevadans.

Our greatest challenge over the next decade may very well be water. Dealing with it will require partnership and leadership. The Colorado River is in the midst of a 22-year drought, and Lake Mead is at its lowest level since 1937. Southern Nevada's unique ability to capture, treat, and return water to the Colorado River is a clear competitive advantage, but our future is dependent upon our ability to conserve and prioritize our use of water. It is also dependent upon our ability to work with the seven basin states and Mexico to deal with the short- and long-term water resource solutions. Nevada must lead by example and demonstrate our firm resolve to achieve a new balance on the river. Going forward, I will be more involved, along with Nevada's best water experts, in future negotiations with other states, purveyors, and users to bring about necessary change.

At the same time, we must apply the same diligence and resolve to protecting Lake Tahoe so that future generations of Nevadans can enjoy it as much as we have. There is no simple solution to these complicated water challenges, but we must be assured that our neighbors share the same commitment that we ask of ourselves.

Another issue that requires action is the timely release of public lands. Currently, BLM [Bureau of Land Management] management has jurisdiction of over 48 million acres in Nevada. I would like to see us, in coordination with our congressional delegation, promote a more predictable approach to the timely release of federal lands. The disposition of federally managed lands within, and adjacent to, city and county boundaries is a critical component to economic development and affordable housing.

It has been said that the soul of Nevada can be found in the people and places that make up our rural counties. Staying connected to towns like Carlin and Caliente, Gabs and Gerlach, and Wells and Wadsworth is a top priority of my administration. To make this a reality, I am very proud to announce tonight that we will be making a $400 million investment in broadband to accelerate statewide connectivity. In addition, it is critical that the Governor's office be knowledgeable about rural affairs as well as the management of natural resources and land management policies. To help with this, I have designated a staff person in my office, Tim Robb, to work with Department of Agriculture Director J.J. Goicoechea and Department of Conservation and Natural Resources Director James Settelmeyer to coordinate with Nevada's rural communities so that our rural needs in Nevada are not overlooked.

Understanding rural Nevada goes hand in hand with understanding Nevada's mining industry. For most of the last century, the mining industry has enjoyed a productive partnership with most of Nevada's state agencies. Recently, there has been a sense that the relationship has migrated away from that. My office will make sure that the five key state agencies with jurisdiction over mining issues are working in cooperation with the industry. That needs to be a priority.

All of us were sent to Carson City to carry out the people's business. It is the purpose of our oath. It remains our duty to keep. The budget priorities I laid out before you tonight are predicated upon a combination of common sense, fiscal discipline, and high-level engagement. In summary, my budget does not raise one dime of new taxes—in fact, we cut taxes for households and businesses. It pays down debt; saves $1 for every new dollars spent in the General Fund; invests millions in the Nevada Way account; pays state employees a fairer wage; offers more school choice; gives more funding for schools and teachers with stricter accountability; provides for safer schools; directs more funding to higher education and workforce development; reenergizes economic development; returns to sensible criminal justice reform; builds more capacity in mental health services; and restores faith in Nevada elections. These various programs are in keeping with the needs and aspirations I heard from countless Nevadans over the past two years. The urgency in their voices was unforgettable to me. I promised them that their concerns would not be lost when I got to Carson City. I know we will not let them down.

President Dwight Eisenhower said, "The supreme quality of leadership is…integrity." Above all else, my administration will govern with transparency, candor, and integrity. That is my solemn commitment to you. As I have said before, I believe the best of our history lies before us. Our capacity to achieve great deeds will never be in question because we will follow the Nevada way—never give up, never give in, and never stop dreaming.

Ladies and gentlemen, I have learned over my lifetime that there is no substitute for disciplined hard work. There just is not. I do not fear what lies ahead. Instead, I look forward to the future with great hope and anticipation. I trust that you do as well.

In closing, as I think of my one-year-old grandson, Teddy, and the thousands of new young Nevadans his age in our state, I recall the simple but meaningful words that underscore the significance of the task that lies before us: Let us plant the trees that some of us may never see. God bless you all, God bless Nevada, and God bless America.

I understand the pressure and time constraints that come with every session, but my hope is that, while you are here, you get the opportunity to enjoy all that Carson City has to offer. There are many new and improved dining, shopping, recreation, and entertainment opportunities to experience. Recently several improvements have been completed to our parks and trails, including the Kings Canyon Trailhead in addition to the 6,958 acres of open space that Carson City has for the enjoyment of the public. The City has also completed several street improvement projects which include beautiful landscaping, walking and bicycle paths, and improved business access. It is my hope that you can also join us on April 21st to the 23rd for the first annual Mark Twain Days to celebrate our rich history and one of Nevada's most famous former residents.

I wish you all a productive and rewarding legislative session. As Mayor of Carson City and President of the Nevada League of Cities and Municipalities, my door is always open as we work together to build an even brighter future for Nevada. Again, I welcome you to Carson City and want to express my sincere gratitude for your work on behalf of our State.

Sincerely,
LORI BAGWELL
Mayor of Carson City

ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

Rule No. 20. Maintenance of Working Environment; Procedure for Filing, Investigating and Taking Remedial Action on Complaints.

1. The Legislature hereby declares that it is the policy of the Legislature to prohibit any conduct, whether intentional or unintentional, which results in sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment based upon any other protected category. The Legislature intends to maintain a working environment which is free from sexual harassment and other unlawful harassment. Each Legislator is responsible to conduct himself or herself in a manner which will ensure that others are able to work in such an environment.

2. In accordance with Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. §§ 2000e et seq., for the purposes of this Rule, "sexual harassment" means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal, visual or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

(a) Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of a person's employment;

(b) Submission to or rejection of such conduct by a person is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the person; or

(c) Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with a person's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

3. Each Legislator must exercise his or her own good judgment to avoid engaging in conduct that may be perceived by others as sexual harassment. The following noninclusive list provides illustrations of conduct that the Legislature deems to be inappropriate:

(a) Verbal conduct such as epithets, derogatory comments, slurs or unwanted sexual advances, invitations or comments;

(b) Visual conduct such as derogatory posters, photography, cartoons, drawings or gestures;

(c) Physical conduct such as unwanted touching, blocking normal movement or interfering with the work directed at a person because of his or her sex; and

(d) Threats and demands to submit to sexual requests to keep a person's job or avoid some other loss, and offers of employment benefits in return for sexual favors.

4. In addition to other prohibited conduct, a complaint may be brought pursuant to this Rule for engaging in conduct prohibited by Joint Standing Rule No. 37 when the prohibited conduct is based on or because of the gender or other protected category of the person.

5. Retaliation against a person for engaging in protected activity is prohibited. Retaliation occurs when an adverse action is taken against a person which is reasonably likely to deter the person from engaging in the protected activity. Protected activity includes, without limitation:

(a) Opposing conduct that the person reasonably believes constitutes sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment;

(b) Filing a complaint about the conduct; or

(c) Testifying, assisting or participating in any manner in an investigation or other proceeding related to a complaint of sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment.

(a) The Speaker of the Assembly;

(b) The Majority Leader of the Senate;

(c) The Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, if the complaint involves the conduct of the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate; or

(d) The reporting system established pursuant to subsection 11.

➥ The complaint must include the details of the incident or incidents, the names of the persons involved and the names of any witnesses. Unless the Legislative Counsel is the subject of the complaint, the Legislative Counsel must be informed upon receipt of a complaint.

7. The Speaker of the Assembly, the Majority Leader of the Senate or the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, as appropriate, shall cause a discreet and impartial investigation to be conducted and may, when deemed necessary and appropriate, assign the complaint to a committee consisting of Legislators of the appropriate House.

8. If the investigation reveals that sexual harassment, other unlawful harassment, retaliation or other conduct in violation of this policy has occurred, appropriate disciplinary or remedial action, or both, will be taken. The appropriate persons will be informed when any such action is taken. The Legislature will also take any action necessary to deter any future harassment.

9. The Legislature encourages a Legislator to report any incident of sexual harassment, other unlawful harassment, retaliation or other conduct inconsistent with this policy immediately so that the complaint can be quickly and fairly resolved.

10. All Legislators are responsible for adhering to the provisions of this policy. The prohibitions against engaging in sexual harassment and other unlawful harassment which are set forth in this Rule also apply to employees, Legislators, lobbyists, vendors, contractors, customers and any other visitors to the Legislature.

11. The Legislative Counsel Bureau shall establish a reporting system which allows a person to submit a complaint of a violation of this Rule with or without identifying himself or herself. Such a complaint must provide enough details of the incident or incidents alleged, the names of the persons involved and the names of any witnesses to allow an appropriate inquiry to occur.

12. This policy does not create any private right of action or enforceable legal rights in any person.

2. Each lobbyist must exercise his or her own good judgment to avoid engaging in conduct that may be perceived by others as sexual harassment as described in Joint Standing Rule No. 20.

(a) The Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau; or

(b) The reporting system established pursuant to subsection 11 of Joint Standing Rule No. 20.

➥ Such a complaint must include the details of the incident or incidents alleged, the names of the persons involved and the names of any witnesses. Unless the Legislative Counsel is the subject of the complaint, the Legislative Counsel must be informed upon receipt of a complaint.

4. If a person encounters conduct by a lobbyist which he or she believes is sexual harassment, or other unlawful harassment, retaliation or otherwise inconsistent with this policy, the person may file a complaint in the manner listed in subsection 3, or may submit a complaint in accordance with the reporting system established pursuant to subsection 11 of Joint Standing Rule No. 20.

5. If a complaint made against a lobbyist pursuant to this Rule is substantiated, appropriate disciplinary action may be brought against the lobbyist which may include, without limitation, having his or her registration as a lobbyist suspended.

6. The provisions of this policy are not intended to address conduct between lobbyists and must not be used for that purpose. This policy does not create any private right of action or enforceable legal rights in any person.

2. Each Legislator, member of legislative staff or lobbyist has a solemn and unerring responsibility and duty to do everything in his or her power to:

2. If the complaint alleges an ethical breach by or against a Legislator or the ethical breach otherwise involves a particular Legislator, the complaint must be filed with the Legislator's House, even if the complaint also alleges an ethical breach by or against a member of legislative staff or a lobbyist.

Rule No. 39. Authority of Senate and Assembly to Adopt Ethical Standards and Prohibit and Sanction Ethical Breaches.

1. The Senate and Assembly hereby find and declare that:

(a) Section 6 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution invests each House with plenary and exclusive constitutional powers to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management, expressly providing that: "Each House shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its own members, choose its own officers (except the President of the Senate), determine the rules of its proceedings and may punish its members for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two thirds of all the members elected, expel a member." (Heller v. Legislature, 120 Nev. 456 (2004); Commission on Ethics v. Hardy, 125 Nev. 285 (2009); Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure §§ 2-3 and 560-564 (2010) (Mason's Manual))

(b) Section 7 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution invests each House with plenary and exclusive constitutional powers to govern, control and regulate any person who is not a member but who is guilty of disrespect to the House by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence, and each House also has inherent powers, according to the common parliamentary law, to prohibit and sanction all offensive behavior committed against it by any person who is not a member. (Mason's Manual §§ 805-806; Luther S. Cushing, Elements of the Law & Practice of Legislative Assemblies §§ 690-695 (1856) (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies))

(c) In addition to its other powers, each House possesses certain inherent powers of institutional self-protection and self-preservation to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management. (In re Chapman, 166 U.S. 661, 668 (1897); Mason's Manual § 2; Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 533)

(d) The inherent powers of each House are considered "so essential to the authority of a legislative assembly, that it cannot well exist without them; and they are consequently entitled to be regarded as belonging to every such assembly as a necessary incident." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 533)

(e) The inherent powers of each House authorize it to take all necessary and proper institutional actions that are "recognized by the common parliamentary law." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 684)

(f) Thus, it is well established that each House is "vested with all the powers and privileges which are necessary and incidental to a free and unobstructed exercise of its appropriate functions. These powers and privileges are derived not from the Constitution; on the contrary, they arise from the very creation of a legislative body, and are founded upon the principle of self-preservation." (Ex parte McCarthy, 29 Cal. 395, 403 (1866))

2. The Senate and Assembly hereby exercise their constitutional and inherent powers and privileges and adopt the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules to:

(a) Two members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker from the majority political party;

(b) One member of the Assembly appointed by the Minority Leader from the minority political party; and

(c) Three qualified electors of the State, two of whom are appointed by the Speaker and one who is appointed by the Minority Leader, and none of whom is a present member of the Legislature or employed by the State of Nevada.

2. The Speaker shall appoint the Chair and Vice Chair of the Committee. The Vice Chair shall serve as the acting Chair if the Chair is unable to serve for any reason during the consideration of a specific question.

3. The Speaker shall appoint an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (a) of subsection 1 and an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1. The Minority Leader shall appoint an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (b) of subsection 1 and an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1. If a member of the Committee is unable to serve for any reason during the consideration of a specific question, the alternate appointed with the qualifications from the same paragraph in subsection 1 shall serve as a member of the Committee during the consideration of the specific question.

4. A member of the Committee is disqualified to serve during the consideration of a specific question if:

(a) The member is the requester of advice concerning the question of ethics or conflict of interest, or the member is the subject of the complaint concerning the specific question; or

(b) A reasonable person in the member's situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.

5. The members of the Committee shall perform any duty required in the period between the time of their appointment after the general election and the organization of the next succeeding regular session, or until the Speaker or the Speaker Designate or the Minority Leader or Minority Leader Designate appoint new members to the Committee, whichever occurs first.

6. The tenure of the members of the Committee shall extend during the interim between regular sessions of the Legislature.

7. The Committee:

(a) May hear requests brought by members of the Assembly for advice on specific questions of potential breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest; and

(b) Shall hear complaints brought by members of the Assembly and others on specific questions of alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest, including, without limitation, alleged breaches of the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules.

8. All proceedings held by the Committee to consider the character, alleged misconduct, professional competence or physical or mental health of any person on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest and all materials related to those proceedings are confidential, unless the person who is the subject of the proceedings requests a public hearing or discloses the content of the proceedings or materials.

9. An individual may file a complaint which alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest, including, without limitation, an alleged breach of the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules. If the alleged breach of ethics or conflict of interest involves the conduct of more than one person, separate complaints must be filed regarding each person. A complaint must be:

(a) Made in writing on a form provided by the Legislative Counsel;

(b) Signed and verified under penalty of perjury by the individual making the allegation; and

(c) Filed with the Legislative Counsel who shall review the complaint and any other relevant information and consult with the Chair of the Committee or, if the Chair is the subject of the complaint, with the Vice Chair, to evaluate whether the Committee has jurisdiction and whether an investigation is warranted in the matter. If it is determined that the Committee:

(1) Does not have jurisdiction or that an investigation is not warranted in the matter, the Legislative Counsel shall send written notice of the determination to the individual who filed the complaint.

(2) Has jurisdiction and an investigation is warranted in the matter, the Legislative Counsel shall send written notice of the determination and a copy of the complaint to the person who is the subject of the complaint.

10. Each Legislator is subject, at all times, to the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules and, in addition, must determine whether he or she has a conflict of interest upon any matter in question before the Legislator. In determining whether the Legislator has such a conflict of interest, the Legislator should consider whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his or her situation upon the matter in question would be materially affected by the Legislator's:

(a) Acceptance of a gift or loan;

(b) Private economic interest; or

(c) Commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family.

➥ In interpreting and applying the provisions of this subsection, it must be presumed that the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in the Legislator's situation would not be materially affected by the Legislator's private economic interest or the Legislator's commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family where the resulting benefit or detriment accruing to the Legislator, or if the Legislator has a commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family, accruing to those other persons, is not greater than that accruing to any other member of the general business, profession, occupation or group that is affected by the matter.

11. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 12, if a Legislator knows he or she has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10, the Legislator shall make a general disclosure of the conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Assembly, as applicable. Such a disclosure must be entered:

(a) If the Legislator makes the disclosure in a meeting of a committee, in the minutes for that meeting.

(b) If the Legislator makes the disclosure on the floor of the Assembly, in the Journal.

12. If, on one or more prior occasions during the current session of the Legislature, a Legislator has made a general disclosure of a conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Assembly, the Legislator is not required to make that general disclosure at length again regarding the same conflict of interest if, when the matter in question arises on subsequent occasions, the Legislator makes a reference on the record to the previous disclosure.

13. In determining whether to abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which a Legislator has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10, the Legislator should consider whether:

(a) The conflict impedes his or her independence of judgment; and

(b) His or her interest is greater than the interests of an entire class of persons similarly situated.

14. The provisions of this Rule do not under any circumstances and regardless of any conflict of interest:

(a) Prohibit a Legislator from requesting or introducing a legislative measure; or

(b) Require a Legislator to take any particular action before or while requesting or introducing a legislative measure.

15. If a Legislator who is a member of a committee declares on the record when a vote is to be taken by the committee that he or she will abstain from voting because of the requirements of this Rule, the necessary quorum to act upon and the number of votes necessary to act upon the matter is reduced as though the Legislator abstaining were not a member of the committee.

16. The standards and procedures set forth in this Rule which govern whether and to what extent a member of the Assembly has a conflict of interest, should disclose a conflict of interest or should abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which the member has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10:

(a) Are exclusive and are the only standards and procedures that apply to members of the Assembly with regard to such matters; and

(b) Supersede and preempt all other standards and procedures with regard to such matters,
➥ except that this subsection does not exempt any members of the Assembly from the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules.

17. For purposes of this Rule, "immediate family" means a person who is related to the Legislator by blood, adoption or marriage within the first degree of consanguinity or affinity.

The next rule is 30.

2. The presiding officer shall call for yeas and nays by a division or by a roll call, either electronic or oral.

3. When taking the yeas and nays on any proposal, the electronic roll call system may be used, and when so used shall have the force and effect of any roll call under these rules.

4. All amendments proposed by the Committee:

(a) Must first be approved by the Committee.

(b) Must be reported by the Chair to the Assembly.

6. A quorum of the Committee of the Whole is the same as a quorum of the House, and in case a quorum is not present or other defect is observed, the Committee can take no other action than to rise.

7. It is permissible to limit debate to a certain length of time, to close at a time certain, to limit the length of speeches, or to otherwise limit debate.

If the Secretary of State delivers a statement of contest of the general election for the legislative office of any member pursuant to NRS 293.427, the Speaker shall appoint a committee to review the contest and designate the chair and vice chair of the committee. The committee must consist of three members who are not parties to the contest.

2. The parties to the contest must be designated as the contestant and the defendant, and the parties may be represented in the contest by attorneys who are licensed to practice law in this State.

3. The chair may take, direct or require any reasonable actions to facilitate or carry out the contest, including, without limitation, issuing and enforcing any orders or other directives to the parties and any attorneys representing the parties.

4. The committee shall not review the merits of the contest unless the committee first determines that the contestant complied with all requirements to bring and maintain the contest. To assist the committee in making its determination, the chair shall take, direct or require any reasonable actions to provide the parties with notice and an opportunity to submit written arguments to the committee limited to the issue of whether the contestant complied with all requirements to bring and maintain the contest.

5. If the committee determines that the contestant complied with all requirements to bring and maintain the contest, the committee shall review the merits of the contest pursuant to this rule. If the committee determines that the contestant did not comply with all requirements to bring and maintain the contest, the committee shall report to the Assembly its recommendation that the Assembly should not take further action on the contest and that the Assembly should dismiss the contest with prejudice. As soon as practicable after receiving the committee's report, the Assembly shall vote on whether to accept or reject the committee's recommendation without amendment. If the Assembly accepts the committee's recommendation, the Speaker shall declare that the Assembly shall not take further action on the contest and that the Assembly dismisses the contest with prejudice. If the Assembly rejects the committee's recommendation, the Speaker shall declare that the Assembly returns the contest to the committee with directions to review the merits of the contest pursuant to this rule.

6. If the committee reviews the merits of the contest pursuant to this rule, the committee may conduct any reasonable hearings or other proceedings to receive any evidence and arguments from the parties regarding the merits of the contest. The committee shall keep written minutes of any hearings that are conducted.

7. To the extent possible, the merits of the contest must be presented and submitted to the committee upon depositions and any written or oral arguments as the chair may order. If, at any hearings or other proceedings, any oral statements are made that purport to establish matters of fact, the statements must be made under oath. Strict rules of evidence do not apply in any hearings or other proceedings, but the chair may admit or exclude any evidence based on the rules of evidence.

8. A party may take the deposition of any witness at any time after the statement of contest is filed with the Secretary of State, but the chair may establish reasonable limitations and deadlines regarding any depositions. Before taking a deposition, a party must provide at least 5 days' notice to the prospective deponent and the other party.

9. To prevail on the merits of the contest, the contestant has the burden of proving that, based on one or more of the grounds set forth in NRS 293.410, there were sufficient irregularities in the election of such a substantial nature as to establish that the result of the election was changed thereby.

10. If the committee reviews the merits of the contest pursuant to this rule, the committee shall report to the Assembly its findings and its recommendation on which party should be declared elected, unless the committee declines to make such a recommendation in its report. As soon as practicable after receiving the committee's report, the Assembly shall vote on whether to accept or reject the committee's recommendation without amendment, if such a recommendation is made. If the Assembly accepts the committee's recommendation, the Speaker shall declare the recommended party elected. Rule No. 123. Reserved.

Rule No. 124. Reserved.

Rule No. 125. Reserved.

Rule No. 126. Authorized Use of Remote-Technology Systems in Exceptional Circumstances.

1. As used in this Rule, "remote-technology system" means any system or other means of communication that is:

(a) Approved by the Speaker and uses any electronic, digital or other similar technology to enable a member of the Assembly from a remote location to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings of the Assembly or the Committee of the Whole even though the member is not physically present within the Assembly Chambers or at a meeting of the Committee of the Whole.

(b) Approved by the chair of a committee, other than the Committee of the Whole, and uses any electronic, digital or other similar technology to enable a member of the Assembly from a remote location to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings of the committee even though the member is not physically present at a meeting of the committee.

2. Upon request by a member of the Assembly:

(a) The Speaker may authorize the member to use a remote-technology system to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings of the Assembly or the Committee of the Whole if the Speaker determines that exceptional circumstances warrant such use by the member. If the Speaker grants such authorization, it must be entered in the Journal of the Assembly.

(b) The chair of a committee, other than the Committee of the Whole, with the approval of the Speaker, may authorize the member to use a remote-technology system to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings of the committee if the chair and the Speaker determine that exceptional circumstances warrant such use by the member. If the chair grants such authorization, it must be entered in the records of the committee.

3. If a member of the Assembly uses a remote-technology system to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings pursuant to this Rule, the member shall be deemed to be present and in attendance at the proceedings for all purposes.

4. For the purposes of voting in proceedings of:

(a) The Assembly or the Committee of the Whole, the Chief Clerk of the Assembly, or an authorized assistant, shall call the roll of each member who is authorized to use a remote-technology system for the proceedings and, in accordance with the procedures of the Assembly, cause the member's vote to be entered into the record for the purposes of the Journal of the Assembly or the records of the Committee of the Whole, as applicable.

(b) A committee, other than the Committee of the Whole, the committee secretary shall call the roll of each member who is authorized to use a remote-technology system for the proceedings and, in accordance with the procedures of the committee, cause the member's vote to be entered into the record for the purposes of the records of the committee.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7 of Assembly Standing Rule No. 55, this Rule supersedes, takes precedence and controls over any other rule, provision or principle of law to the extent of any conflict with this Rule.

6. The Assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) The Nevada Constitution invests each House of the Legislature with certain plenary and exclusive constitutional powers which may be exercised only by that House and which cannot be usurped, infringed or impaired by the other House or by any other branch of Nevada's State Government. (Heller v. Legislature, 120 Nev. 456 (2004); Commission on Ethics v. Hardy, 125 Nev. 285 (2009); Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure §§ 2-3 & 560-564 (2010) (Mason's Manual))

(b) Section 6 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution invests each House with plenary and exclusive constitutional powers to determine the rules of its proceedings and to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management, expressly providing that: "Each House shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its own members, choose its own officers (except the President of the Senate), determine the rules of its proceedings and may punish its members for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two thirds of all the members elected, expel a member."

(c) In addition to its plenary and exclusive constitutional powers, each House possesses certain inherent powers of institutional self-protection and self-preservation to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management. (In re Chapman, 166 U.S. 661, 668 (1897); Mason's Manual § 2; Luther S. Cushing, Elements of the Law & Practice of Legislative Assemblies § 533 (1856) (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies))

(d) The inherent powers of each House are considered "so essential to the authority of a legislative assembly, that it cannot well exist without them; and they are consequently entitled to be regarded as belonging to every such assembly as a necessary incident." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 533)

(e) The inherent powers of each House authorize it to take all necessary and proper institutional actions that are "recognized by the common parliamentary law." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 684)

(f) Thus, it is well established that each House is "vested with all the powers and privileges which are necessary and incidental to a free and unobstructed exercise of its appropriate functions. These powers and privileges are derived not from the Constitution; on the contrary, they arise from the very creation of a legislative body, and are founded upon the principle of self-preservation." (Ex parte McCarthy, 29 Cal. 395, 403 (1866))

(g) Under the Nevada Constitution, there are no constitutional provisions establishing a particular method for determining whether a member of either House is present at legislative proceedings.

(h) The United States Supreme Court has held that when there are no constitutional provisions establishing a particular method for determining whether a member of a legislative house is present at legislative proceedings, "it is therefore within the competency of the house to prescribe any method which shall be reasonably certain to ascertain the fact." (United States v. Ballin, 144 U.S. 1, 6 (1892))

(i) The United States Supreme Court has also held that when a legislative house adopts a rule establishing a reasonable method for determining whether a member is present at legislative proceedings, that rule must be given great deference by the courts because:

Neither do the advantages or disadvantages, the wisdom or folly, of such a rule present any matters for judicial consideration. With the courts the question is only one of power. The constitution empowers each house to determine its rules of proceedings. It may not by its rules ignore constitutional restraints or violate fundamental rights, and there should be a reasonable relation between the mode or method of proceeding established by the rule and the result which is sought to be attained. But within these limitations all matters of method are open to the determination of the house, and it is no impeachment of the rule to say that some other way would be better, more accurate, or even more just. It is no objection to the validity of a rule that a different one has been prescribed and in force for a length of time. The power to make rules is not one which once exercised is exhausted. It is a continuous power, always subject to be exercised by the house, and, within the limitations suggested, absolute and beyond the challenge of any other body or tribunal.

(United States v. Ballin, 144 U.S. 1, 5 (1892))

7. The Assembly hereby exercises its constitutional and inherent powers and privileges and adopts this Rule to:

(a) Govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management;

(b) Ensure its institutional self-protection and self-preservation; and

(c) Establish a reasonable method for determining whether a member of the Assembly is present at legislative proceedings during exceptional circumstances.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR STEVE SISOLAK

June 11, 2021

THE HONORABLE BARBARA K. CEGAVSKE, SECRETARY OF STATE, 101 N. Carson Street, Suite 3, Carson City, Nevada 89701

RE: Assembly Bill 65 of the 81st Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY CEGAVSKE:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 65 (AB 65), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to ethics in government; making various changes relating to the provisions governing ethics in government; enacting the Nevada Legislative Ethics Law; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

I want to be very clear that I support the majority of the sections of this bill, many of which relate to streamlining the Ethics Commission's processes and clarifying its powers and duties. However, near the conclusion of the 81st Legislative Session, Amendment 777 was adopted, which effectively converted AB 65 from a mostly housekeeping measure into a significant policy change: creating new legislative ethics commissions within the legislative branch.

I understand and respect that, under the Nevada Constitution, each House of the Legislature has exclusive authority to discipline its members for conduct related to core legislative functions. See Nev. Const. Art. 4 § 6. However, as the Nevada Supreme Court has held, the Ethics Commission can (and it currently does) exercise jurisdiction over legislators with respect to conduct that is not related to core legislative functions. Comm'n on Ethics v. Hardy, 125 Nev. 285, 296, 212 P.3d 1098, 1106 (2009). Examples of such conduct include the use of governmental time or property for personal purposes, bidding on or entering into governmental contracts, or accepting an honorarium. Id. at n. 9.

AB 65, as amended by Amendment 777, would create three new ethics commissions within the legislative branch: one for the Senate, one for the Assembly, and a joint commission to address ethics complaints against legislative staff. These commissions would investigate, hear, and decide ethics issues arising from complaints against their colleagues in their respective houses, and also complaints against staff.

The Ethics Commission, an existing independent body, is already funded and has the responsibility to address complaints of these types against public officials and employees. Having a single body handle these issues helps ensure uniformity and fairness in the application of the State's ethics laws. Nevada previously had separate ethics commissions for the legislative and executive branches. However, these separate commissions were abolished in 1985 and consolidated into the existing Ethics Commission. See Senate Bill 345 of the Sixty-Third Session (1985). One of the reasons for doing so was that the commissions had not been adequately funded and had taken only "negligible" action. See Minutes of the Senate Committee on Finance, May 20, 1985.

Nevadans hold their public officials to high ethical standards, and they rightly expect that those standards will be effectively and efficiently enforced. Particularly in light of the fact that the separate legislative and executive ethics commissions were consolidated more than thirty years ago, I firmly believe that a more robust examination of the costs and benefits of returning to that structure should be conducted.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it without my signature or approval.

Respectfully submitted,
GOVERNOR STEVE SISOLAK
State of Nevada

Assemblywoman Jauregui moved no further consideration of Assembly Bill No. 65 of the 81st Session.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

June 10, 2021

THE HONORABLE BARBARA K. CEGAVSKE, SECRETARY OF STATE, 101 N. Carson Street, Suite 3, Carson City, Nevada 89701

RE: Assembly Bill 368 of the 81st Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY CEGAVSKE:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 368 (AB 368), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to improvement districts; revising the projects authorized to be financed within a tourism improvement district; eliminating the authority to create a tourism improvement district in certain smaller counties; revising the reporting requirements for the Department of Taxation related to tourism improvement districts; eliminating the authority to pledge certain proceeds to finance certain projects for the promotion of economic development and tourism in a local improvement district; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

AB 368 would require additional reporting on taxes collected from businesses within tourism improve districts. Improved reporting is a laudable goal, which I wholly support. However, AB 368 would also prohibit all cities and counties outside of Clark County from creating tourism improvement districts after July 1, 2021.

Tourism improvement districts ("TIDs") are currently used to help these smaller counties and municipalities finance projects suitable for retail, tourism, or entertainment. These projects include infrastructure and improvements such as flood control, streets, parking, utilities like electrical and natural gas, and fire protection. See NRS 271A.050. These projects are designed and intended to attract more businesses to Nevada and in tum create more jobs for our residents.

Nevada was hit especially hard by the COVID-19 pandemic, resulting in business closures and thousands of people losing their jobs. My office and all members of the Legislature have worked very hard to build Nevada back up and get people back to work.

However, AB 368 is contrary to the goals of restarting our economy, improving our infrastructure, and creating jobs. When many Nevadans are still struggling, now is not the time to remove any of the tools that local governments can use to encourage and generate economic development.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it without my signature or approval.

Respectfully submitted,
GOVERNOR STEVE SISOLAK
State of Nevada

Assemblywoman Jauregui moved no further consideration of Assembly Bill No. 368 of the 81st Session.

Motion carried.

THE FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), February 9, 2023

Assembly called to order at 11:40 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblywoman Hardy, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Thomas Babu.

Almighty and eternal Light of the World, You are the Prince of Peace. You love justice. You made it self-evident to us that all human beings are created equal. Through Your goodness, open our eyes to see the dignity, beauty, and worth of every human being. Open our minds to understand that all your children are brothers and sisters in the same human family. Open our hearts to repent of racist attitudes, behaviors, and speech which demean others. Open our ears to hear the cries of those wounded by racial discrimination, and their passionate appeals for change. We pray for all who fight for justice and equality, who give voice to the voiceless and hope to the hopeless.

As for the leaders of this great state, help them to be just leaders. Fill them with courage to make choices that·are right and just. Help them to heal wounds, build bridges, and establish peace and equality for all in our communities. God, You are our refuge and our strength, a very present help in times of trouble. We offer our prayers today asking that You provide the people of Turkey and Syria, who are in the throes of the unfathomable devastation of the recent earthquake, refuge from this disaster and strength to endure its indiscriminate destruction.

We ask the Blessing In the Holy Name of our creator, we pray.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblywoman Jauregui moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN ANDERSON:

Today, I would like to recognize the Nevada Milken Educator Awards winners. The awards honor top educators around the country who are early- to mid-career education professionals. According to the Milken Educator Awards website, recipients are recognized by "their already impressive achievements and, more significantly, for the promise of what they will accomplish in the future" and are "individuals whose contributions to education are largely unheralded yet worthy of the spotlight."

Of the 30 educators honored this year, 3—10 percent—are from our beautiful state of Nevada. All three are elementary school teachers, and two of the teachers teach in schools in Assembly District 30. Liz Barnum, a third-grade teacher at Katherine Dunn, a school just two blocks away from where I live, is creating engaging lessons that challenge the class and spur a love of learning, not only for her students but also through the mentoring of her peers and others in the field of education. Jason Murray, a third- and fourth-grade teacher at Florence Drake—my elementary school alma mater—designs interactive, engaging lessons and, again, mentors other teachers.

Both educators' enthusiasm, love of learning, and dedication to our students are something we should recognize, admire, and be inspired by. The third educator is actually from my colleague's district, Assembly District 33, and I believe he will recognize her momentarily, so I do not wish to take away that thunder.

Thank you for allowing us this moment to recognize just three of the amazing educators in our state.

ASSEMBLYMAN GURR:

Thank you to my colleague from District 30. These teachers all received $25,000 checks that they did not even know were coming, so it is a great thing.

The third winner is Rejily Soriano, a kindergarten teacher at West Wendover Elementary School. She holds high expectations for her kindergarteners at Nevada's West Wendover Elementary. Soriano makes strong connections with her young learners, supporting them as they acquire new skills and grow, both academically and socially, throughout the year.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I think this recognition is really warranted for these three teachers.

Spirit of love, who moves with creation, drawing the threads to color and design, life into life, You knit together this nation: Come, work with us, and weave us into one.

Though we have frayed the fabric of Your making, tearing away from all that You intend, yet to be whole, humanity is aching: Come, work with us, and weave us into one.

Great loom of God, where history is woven, You are the frame that holds us to truth, love is the theme, the pattern You have given: Come, work with us, and weave us into one.

Thank You for these elected officials who have answered the call to serve the people of Nevada. Give them a good dose of wisdom, charity, justice, and hope as they serve faithfully and promote the common good.

THE ELEVENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), February 16, 2023

Assembly called to order at 11:37 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Kelcey West.

Let us bow to the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob and to the God whom David praised and Daniel promoted, for Your grace that is sufficient and for Your mercy that endures forever. We seek with a revived spirit of expectation and restored spirit of hope that we are moving closer to that day when we will all be free.

As we also gather to celebrate history, we thank You for allowing us, throughout the dispensations of time, to successfully walk across systemic seas on dry land and to survive nights spent in dense field with lawless lions. We thank You, Lord, because we are standing and serving in Carson City. We thank You for raising up this assembly of leaders, like You raised up that assembly of judges for such a time as this.

Master, we ask that You would give this Assembly the strength to move the mountains that our ancestors had to climb. Give them the ability to do that which is needed again for such a time as this. And, Master, we will be careful—not if but when victory is won—to give You all the praise, the honor, and the glory.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 15, 2023

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed, as amended, Senate Bill No. 124.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 10 of the 81st Session.

Remarks by Assemblyman Watts.

ASSEMBLYMAN WATTS:

Assembly Joint Resolution 10 of the 81st Session proposes to amend both the Ordinance of the Nevada Constitution and the Nevada Constitution itself to remove language authorizing the use of slavery and involuntary servitude as a criminal punishment. The resolution was approved by the 81st Session of the Legislature in 2021. If approved in identical form during the 2023 Legislative Session, the proposal will be submitted to the voters for final approval or disapproval in the 2024 General Election.

It is an honor today to be gathered here and to be surrounded in the halls and in the Chamber by so many who are gathered to celebrate the rich culture and accomplishments of Black Americans. I am wearing a pin from the Moulin Rouge, the historic establishment in Las Vegas that is just one part of that amazing history. I think it is also important to note that for many of us here today, history begins on slave ships. The Spanish brought African slaves to St. Augustine, Florida, in 1565. The English ship known as the White Lion initiated the Black slave trade in America in 1619, when about 20 Africans were sold on the shores of Virginia.

We were not the only ones to face these horrors. This resolution was heard just a couple of days ago, on Nevada Tribes Legislative Day. Indigenous people were also enslaved by English colonizers. But it is important to understand that most of the Black people in this Chamber and in the halls today are descendants of slaves, myself included. Ours is a history of resistance and resilience in the face of generations of trauma so intense that it is hard to truly fathom. Today, we say no more. We say never again.

May the passage of this resolution, and the unequivocal rejection of slavery and involuntary servitude in this state, be one more step forward in a journey toward justice and joy for all. Today, let us make history together.

Roll call on Assembly Joint Resolution No. 10 of the 81st Session:

NAYS—None.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 10 of the 81st Session having received a constitutional majority, Mr. Speaker declared it passed.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Mr. Speaker requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SUMMERS-ARMSTRONG:

"History" is derived from the ancient Greek word "historia." It means "inquiry; knowledge acquired by investigation." It is the systematic study and documentation of human activity. Today marks the 16th day of Black History Month, an idea conceived in 1926 by Carter G. Woodson. Its purpose is to note the contributions of Black Americans which, during his time, were basically ignored in history books. The importance of this month is to recognize the accomplishments of people of African descent, from Ghana, Botswana, Senegal, Cameroon, Congo, and all of those faraway places in Africa where they came from as enslaved people, but who embraced the hope, freedom, and justice that this country has promised and all the contributions that they often gave their lives for—for a dream to be realized.

Today, we are hosting many special guests. They will be acknowledged later, but at this time, I am going to acknowledge Torrey Russell, who is the Director of Broadway in the Hood. They will be giving a performance today during our Black History Month luncheon. Please join us immediately after floor in Room 3100. We will have exhibits, we will have this incredible artistic performance, and we will have amazing food honoring the deep and rich history of Black culinary excellence in America.

ASSEMBLYMAN C.H. MILLER:

In this very special month, on this day, we have special guests in the house. It is important that, while we talk about Black history and serving in this female-majority Legislature, we acknowledge that women in leadership, especially Black women in leadership, is a normal thing in Nevada.

I want to first introduce a few people, then we are going to present a brief proclamation. I have one of perhaps less than 20 Black chiefs of staff in our federal House sitting with me today. I have beside me Congressman Steven Horsford's Chief of Staff, Asha Jones. Sitting beside her is Qiava Martinez, Chief Sales Officer for the Las Vegas Raiders, and also Piper Overstreet-White, Vice President of Government Affairs for the Las Vegas Raiders.

Sitting with the first African-American woman to serve in a leadership role in the Nevada Assembly and the first Black woman to be Speaker Pro Tempore, Assemblywoman Daniele Monroe-Moreno, we have our first championship professional sports team. We have Ms. Natalie Williams, General Manager of the Las Vegas Aces, and Assistant Coach Charlene Thomas-Swinson of the Las Vegas Aces. We are excited and honored to have you here.

We have a proclamation that I am going to read. It says:

> WHEREAS, Nevada is the epicenter to many guest treasures but one of the things it is becoming quickly recognized for is its ceiling-breaking hiring and forward thinking in the arena of sports; and
> WHEREAS, In 2018, the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA)'s Las Vegas Aces played their inaugural season in Las Vegas, achieving mild success, but it was not until 2021 when the Aces named Yolanda Nicole "Nikki" Fargas team president that the franchise began to flourish by winning the WNBA championship in 2022, making them the first Nevada based sports team to win a major professional championship; and
> WHEREAS, In 2020, only a few years after the Aces moved to southern Nevada, the National Football League (NFL)'s Las Vegas Raiders played their inaugural season at Allegiant Stadium and named Sandra Douglass Morgan president in 2022—becoming the first Black woman to be named president of a NFL team; and
> WHEREAS, These two landmark hires are emblematic of the important progress and transformative growth organizations are realizing that can lead to success in our great State; and
> WHEREAS, Nevada is made up of a diverse citizenry with a unique sports fanbase, it is incumbent upon industry leaders to continue to ensure that opportunities are available for all residents and equality in hiring is reflected at all levels and sectors of business; and

WHEREAS, The Las Vegas Raiders and Las Vegas Aces have made historic strides in areas of diversity, equity, and inclusion, in addition to, providing combined team outreach efforts to local schools and community groups; now, therefore, be it

PROCLAIMED, That Nevadans are encouraged to join us in recognizing the history making accomplishments of the Las Vegas Raiders and the Las Vegas Aces, as we celebrate the 3rd biannual Nevada Black Legislative Caucus Black History Summit; and be it further PROCLAIMED, With the ascension of Black women to prominent leadership roles, the Las Vegas Raiders and the Las Vegas Aces have cemented a permanent place in Nevada's history.

DATED this 16th day of February, 2023.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BRITTNEY MILLER:

I would like to acknowledge our Black northern Nevadan leaders who are here with us today on the floor. First, we have Judge Ken Howard, who is the first African American to serve as a judge in northern Nevada and also the first African American to serve as student body president in a northern Nevadan high school.

We have Marilynn Howard, one of the first African-American women to teach in the Washoe County School District. She also held a zero period—I want you to understand, when we say "zero period," that often means before school, after school, unpaid, and completely voluntary—cooking class to make sure that low-income students could start the day with a meal.

Mr. Lonnie Feemster, our past president of the NAACP [National Association for the Advancement of Colored People] in the north and a longtime civil rights advocate and community activist.

We also have Ms. Coni Taylor, cofounder of the Northern Nevada Black Cultural Awareness Society and cofounder of ACCEPT [Access for Community and Cultural Education Programs and Trainings], the first agency in northern Nevada to provide HIV/AIDS education and support for African Americans.

We also have Ms. Shirley Ann Thomas, the first African-American woman to teach and coach middle school in the Washoe County School District. She spent her career at the most diverse school in the district, becoming a mentor and role model for the young African-American students there.

We have Ms. Mary Cooper on behalf of Reverend Onie Cooper. Reverend Cooper was the state cochair of the Martin Luther King, Jr. Commission, which worked to get the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. holiday recognized in Nevada. He was a leader in the fight for civil rights in northern Nevada as early as the 1960s.

Please acknowledge our Black northern Nevadan leaders. We have many friends, family, community organizers, and supporters here today on the floor. If you are here today to celebrate Black history—and I say Black history, but Black history is continuing to be made—by partaking in our Black history summit, please stand up and be recognized today.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 152.

Bill read second time and ordered to third reading.

Senate Bill No. 124.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Ways and Means:

Amendment No. 2.

SHORT FORM AMENDMENT

Section 2.3 of this act is the only section affected by this amendment.

The Title of Senate Bill No. 124 First Reprint is hereby amended as follows:

AN ACT relating to taxation; revising the manner by which a portion of the revenue generated by the tax upon the net proceeds of minerals and royalties of mining operations is distributed to the State Education Fund; revising provisions relating to the transfer of money to the Education Stabilization Account in the State Education Fund; clarifying the treatment of the proceeds of such a tax within a county school district fund; clarifying the status of the money contained in such a fund on a certain date; providing for the early expiration of certain requirements regarding the imposition and advance payment of a portion of the tax upon the net proceeds of minerals and royalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

If this amendment is adopted, the Legislative Counsel's Digest will be changed as follows:

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law imposes a tax upon the net proceeds of minerals extracted in this State and mineral royalties. (NRS 362.100-362.240) A portion of the revenue generated by the tax upon the net proceeds of minerals and mineral royalties is appropriated to the county in which the mining operation is located for apportionment by the county treasurer to each local government or other local taxing entity in that county in an amount equal to the property tax rate for local purposes in that jurisdiction multiplied by the net proceeds extracted from and royalties paid by extractive operations in that jurisdiction, plus a pro rata share of any penalties and interest collected by the Department of Taxation for any late payment of the tax. (NRS 362.170) Existing law requires the portion of the revenue apportioned by the county treasurer to a county school district for any purpose other than capital projects or debt service for the county school district to be paid by the county treasurer to the State Treasurer for deposit in the State Education Fund. The county treasurer is authorized to retain a commission of 5 percent from this amount. (NRS 362.170) Section 1 of this bill removes the appropriation to the county, and apportionment by the county treasurer of, the portion of the revenue that would otherwise be apportioned to a county school district for any purpose other than capital projects or debt service for the county school district. Instead, section 1 requires the Department to deposit this revenue directly in the State Education Fund, which also has the effect of removing the retention by the county treasurer of a commission of 5 percent of the revenue and requiring the entire amount to be deposited in the State Education Fund. Section 2 of this bill makes a conforming change to reflect that this revenue will be transferred to the State Education Fund by the Department.

Existing law requires, with certain exceptions, that each county school district annually transfer from the county school district fund to the Education Stabilization Account in the State Education Fund any amount by which the budgeted ending fund balance of the county school district fund exceeds 16.6 percent of the total budgeted expenditures for the fund. (NRS 387.1213) Section 2.3 of this bill revises this requirement to be based on the actual, rather than budgeted, ending fund balance of a county school district fund and the total actual, rather than budgeted, expenditures for the fund. Section 2.3 also clarifies that certain proceeds of the tax upon the net proceeds of minerals and mineral royalties that are received by a county school district are excluded from the ~~[budgeted]~~ actual ending fund balance of a county school district fund for the purpose of the transfer to the Education Stabilization Account required by existing law and, thus, are not subject to such a transfer.

If a county school district maintained an ending fund balance in its county school district fund which exceeded 16.6 percent of the total budgeted expenditures for the fund on June 30, 2020, existing law allows the county school district to maintain an ending fund balance which does not exceed that higher amount, rather than 16.6 percent, before being required to transfer money to the Education Stabilization Account. (Section 77 of chapter 624, Statutes of Nevada 2019, at page 4252) Section 5.5 of this bill repeals that provision, and section 2.3 instead provides that any money which was deposited in a county school district fund on or before June 30, 2020, is excluded from the ~~[budgeted]~~ actual ending fund balance of a county school district fund for the purpose of the transfer to the Education Stabilization Account required by existing law and, thus, is not subject to such a transfer. Section 1.5 of this bill makes a conforming change to remove a reference to the repealed provision.

Existing law provides that the portion of the revenue generated by the tax upon the net proceeds of minerals and mineral royalties which is appropriated to a county school district pursuant to the Pupil-Centered Funding Plan is deemed to be the first money appropriated to the county school district pursuant to the Plan. (NRS 387.1214) Section 2.5 of this bill clarifies that such money is also deemed to be the first money spent by a county school district from the county school district fund each fiscal year. Section 4.5 of this bill provides that sections 2.3 and 2.5 do not apply to or affect the obligation of any entity to repay any amount of money to which the entity was not entitled.

Existing law requires a person extracting any mineral in this State to file a statement which shows the estimated gross yield and estimated net proceeds from each operation for the current calendar year and an estimate of all royalties that will be paid during the current calendar year. (NRS 362.115) Existing law temporarily requires advance payment of the portion of the tax that is distributed to the State General Fund, based upon the estimated net proceeds and royalties for the current calendar year. (NRS 362.115) This advance payment requirement expires on June 30, 2023. (Chapter 4, Statutes of Nevada 2020, 31st Special Session, at page 32) Section 4 of this bill advances the date on which the advance payment requirement expires to June 30, 2022. Section 3 of this bill revises provisions governing certain duties of the Department relating to the expiration of the advance payment requirement to provide for the carrying out of those duties in Fiscal Year 2022-2023, rather than Fiscal Year 2023-2024.

Section 2.3 of Senate Bill No. 124 First Reprint is hereby amended as follows:

Sec. 2.3. NRS 387.1213 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.1213 1. The Education Stabilization Account is hereby created in the State Education Fund. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 3 , ~~[and]~~ 4 ~~[,]~~ and 5, each year after the close of the previous fiscal year and before the issuance of the State Controller's annual report, each county school district shall transfer from the county school district fund to the Education Stabilization Account any amount by which the ~~[budgeted]~~ actual ending fund balance of the county school district fund exceeds 16.6 percent of the total ~~[budgeted]~~ actual expenditures for the fund. The interest and income earned on the money in the Account, after deducting any applicable charges, must be credited to the Account.

2. Money transferred pursuant to subsection 1 to the Education Stabilization Account is a continuing appropriation solely for the purpose of authorizing the expenditure of the transferred money for the purposes set forth in this section.

3. The balance in the Education Stabilization Account must not exceed 15 percent of the total of all appropriations and authorizations from the State Education Fund, excluding the Education Stabilization Account, for the immediately preceding fiscal year. Any money transferred to the Education Stabilization Account which exceeds this amount must instead be transferred to the State Education Fund.

4. If the Interim Finance Committee finds that:

(a) Upon submission of a request from the Department, the actual enrollment growth for a fiscal year exceeds the projected enrollment growth by an amount that the Interim Finance Committee determines would make a transfer of money to the State Education Fund necessary to fund the excess enrollment; or

(b) The collection of revenue in any fiscal year will result in the State Education Fund receiving 97 percent or less of the money authorized for expenditure from the State Education Fund,

➥ the Committee shall by resolution establish an amount of money to transfer from the Education Stabilization Account to the State Education Fund and direct the State Controller to transfer that amount to the State Education Fund. The State Controller shall thereupon make the transfer.

5. When determining the ~~[budgeted]~~ actual ending fund balance for the purposes of subsection 1, each county school district shall exclude:

(a) Any money deposited in the county school district fund on or before June 30, 2020;

(b) Any money apportioned to the county school district for capital projects or debt service pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 362.170 and deposited in the county school district fund when authorized by law; and

(c) Any money transferred to the county school district and authorized for expenditure as a continuing appropriation pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection 6 of NRS 387.1214.

6. The balance remaining in the State Education Fund, excluding the balance remaining in the Education Stabilization Account, that has not been committed for expenditure on or before June 30 of an odd-numbered fiscal year must be transferred to the Education Stabilization Account to the extent that such a transfer would not cause the balance in the Education Stabilization Account to exceed the limit established in subsection 3.

Assemblywoman Monroe-Moreno moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Monroe-Moreno.

Amendment No. 3.

SHORT FORM AMENDMENT

Section 1.5 of this act is the only section affected by this amendment.

If this amendment is adopted, the Legislative Counsel's Digest will be changed as follows:

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law imposes a tax upon the net proceeds of minerals extracted in this State and mineral royalties. (NRS 362.100-362.240) A portion of the revenue generated by the tax upon the net proceeds of minerals and mineral royalties is appropriated to the county in which the mining operation is located for apportionment by the county treasurer to each local government or other local taxing entity in that county in an amount equal to the property tax rate for local purposes in that jurisdiction multiplied by the net proceeds extracted from and royalties paid by extractive operations in that jurisdiction, plus a pro rata share of any penalties and interest collected by the Department of Taxation for any late payment of the tax. (NRS 362.170) Existing law requires the portion of the revenue apportioned by the county treasurer to a county school district for any purpose other than capital projects or debt service for the county school district to be paid by the county treasurer to the State Treasurer for deposit in the State Education Fund. The county treasurer is authorized to retain a commission of 5 percent from this amount. (NRS 362.170) Section 1 of this bill removes the appropriation to the county, and apportionment by the county treasurer of, the portion of the revenue that would otherwise be apportioned to a county school district for any purpose other than capital projects or debt service for the county school district. Instead, section 1 requires the Department to deposit this revenue directly in the State Education Fund, which also has the effect of removing the retention by the county treasurer of a commission of 5 percent of the revenue and requiring the entire amount to be deposited in the State Education Fund. Section 2 of this bill makes a conforming change to reflect that this revenue will be transferred to the State Education Fund by the Department.

Existing law requires, with certain exceptions, that each county school district annually transfer from the county school district fund to the Education Stabilization Account in the State Education Fund any amount by which the budgeted ending fund balance of the county school district fund exceeds 16.6 percent of the total budgeted expenditures for the fund. (NRS 387.1213) Section 2.3 of this bill revises this requirement to be based on the actual, rather than budgeted, ending fund balance of a county school district fund and the total actual, rather than budgeted, expenditures for the fund. Section 2.3 also clarifies that certain proceeds of the tax upon the net proceeds of minerals and mineral royalties that are received by a county school district are excluded from the actual ending fund balance of a county school district fund for the purpose of the transfer to the Education Stabilization Account required by existing law and, thus, are not subject to such a transfer. Section 1.5 of this bill makes a conforming change relating to the use of actual, rather than budgeted, ending fund balances and expenditures.

If a county school district maintained an ending fund balance in its county school district fund which exceeded 16.6 percent of the total budgeted expenditures for the fund on June 30, 2020, existing law allows the county school district to maintain an ending fund balance which does not exceed that higher amount, rather than 16.6 percent, before being required to transfer money to the Education Stabilization Account. (Section 77 of chapter 624, Statutes of Nevada 2019, at page 4252) Section 5.5 of this bill repeals that provision, and section 2.3 instead provides that any money which was deposited in a county school district fund on or before June 30, 2020, is excluded from the actual ending fund balance of a county school district fund for the purpose of the transfer to the Education Stabilization Account required by existing law and, thus, is not subject to such a transfer. ~~[Section 1.5 of this bill makes a conforming change to remove a reference to the repealed provision.]~~

Existing law provides that the portion of the revenue generated by the tax upon the net proceeds of minerals and mineral royalties which is appropriated to a county school district pursuant to the Pupil-Centered Funding Plan is deemed to be the first money appropriated to the county school district pursuant to the Plan. (NRS 387.1214) Section 2.5 of this bill clarifies that such money is also deemed to be the first money spent by a county school district from the county school district fund each fiscal year. Section 4.5 of this bill provides that sections 2.3 and 2.5 do not apply to or affect the obligation of any entity to repay any amount of money to which the entity was not entitled.

Existing law requires a person extracting any mineral in this State to file a statement which shows the estimated gross yield and estimated net proceeds from each operation for the current calendar year and an estimate of all royalties that will be paid during the current calendar year. REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Gray requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRAY:

I would like to say a few words about a recent local tragedy. A week ago today, late on Friday evening, air ambulance flight call sign November 273 Sierra Mike (N273SM), operated by our own Care Flight, was departing from Reno and heading for Salt Lake City. While en route, it broke apart in midair above the town of Stagecoach in Lyon County. The five people on the flight—Scott Walton, the pilot; Ed Pricola, the flight nurse; Ryan Watson, the flight paramedic; Mark Rand, the patient; and Mark's wife, Terri—were all tragically lost.

The flight had taken off while a storm warning was in effect—winds howled at 20 to 30 miles per hour. But this is a risk that air ambulance crews willingly take to help their patients. At the time, no one could have predicted this disaster.

Not long after the takeoff from Reno, residents of Stagecoach heard the single engine of the Pilatus PC-12 howl as the craft rapidly descended and sections of the aircraft struck the snow-covered ground. Due to the whiteout conditions and the cold winds, it took first responders and local volunteers two hours to locate the pieces of the aircraft, which were strewn up to three quarters of a mile apart from each other. The Lyon County Sheriff's Office then confirmed that nobody on board survived the crash.

As a former flight medic in the Air Force, I know the risk these crews take to help save lives. We must honor their memory. The crash site was only several miles from my own home. I know it will take time for my own community to recover and for the families of those we lost that day to grieve and begin to put the pieces of their lives back together. I thank God that nobody on the ground was hurt.

As of now, we do not have enough information regarding why this tragedy happened to make a well-informed call to action. It is unclear why the aircraft failed. Even with the storm warning, it was not, at the time, a risky decision to allow the plane to make the flight from Reno to Salt Lake City. For now, all we can do is grieve, assist those who lost loved ones to begin to pick up the pieces of their lives, and be grateful to those who risk their lives to help keep us safe.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to request that we take a moment of silence to remember the victims of this horrific tragedy and adjourn today's meeting in their honor and memory.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BILBRAY-AXELROD:

This week is Social and Emotional Learning Week. The first thing any educator will tell you is that teaching is not just a job, it is a calling, and not just to teach reading, math, or science but, most importantly, to ensure that students are successful in life. I call it coping skills. Social and emotional learning prepares our children for reality. It teaches them how to handle difficult situations, how to cope with struggles of everyday life, and how to build successful relationships with their peers. Social-emotional learning is a process that helps our children develop the skills necessary to manage their emotions and make responsible decisions that establish a positive future. By teaching these kids—our children—we can help them lead a more fulfilling and meaningful life. Thank you, teachers, for doing everything we ask of you and even more.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BRITTNEY MILLER:

As an educator myself, I would like to say that I see firsthand the benefits of social and emotional learning. As an educator myself, I will say what many people in this room do not want to hear, which is that, for our children, academics come second to social and emotional learning. Children cannot learn academics until their social and emotional needs are met.

This is the week where we are going to focus on social and emotional learning. It is necessary for them to thrive, not just academically, but socially, emotionally, civically, as well as professionally, as they one day enter adult life. It helps them learn to cope with stress, anxiety, and other negative feelings and emotions and helps people bond together, create relationships, build trust, and function as productive, giving, and engaging citizens of society. It is essential that we continue to keep social and emotional learning and safe and positive learning environments available for our students because they are the future leaders. We need to make sure they are prepared and equipped to thrive in every way that humans can thrive.

As we highlight this week, I also want to make sure we acknowledge that we also need to extend the same respect, safety, and support to our hardworking and ever-sacrificing teachers as well as all of our school staff here in Nevada.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TORRES:

This week, we recognize and celebrate the importance of social-emotional learning. As a high school English teacher, this could not be more important to me. The comprehensive approach to education empowers our students to achieve their full potential by teaching them the skills that are needed for them to navigate an increasingly complicated world. Social-emotional learning encourages professionals, like myself, to recognize that our students are people first. Students are part of a broader community that is interconnected. The world is bigger than themselves or our school building. This better positions them to adapt to the challenges in the workplace and gets them college- and career-ready. I look forward to continuing to support legislation that promotes social-emotional learning in our classrooms.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN ANDERSON:

Today, we celebrate International Women's Day, a day where we honor the achievements and contributions of women who have helped make the world a more just, equitable, and inclusive place. Today, let us take a moment to celebrate the women whose shoulders we stand upon, those who shattered the glass ceilings, broke down barriers, and recognized the importance of helping those who would follow in their footsteps.

Just a few of these trailblazing legislators are Representative Patsy Mink, the first Asian-American woman to be elected to Congress; Representative Shirley Chisholm, the first African-American woman elected to Congress; and Representative Edith Green, who convened congressional hearings about sex discrimination in the early 1970s. It is because of these three women—and others—that we were able to get Title IX passed in 1972.

It is easy to forget the importance of Title IX. Before it, a college student could be told, "The science majors are really only for males, Ms. Putman. Maybe you should go for a more genteel major," which was told to my grandmother in the 1930s. Or an individual who was starting to show their pregnancy could be told, "You are a wonderful teacher, Ms. Anderson, but today will be your last day, as you are beginning to show," which happened to my mother as well as her peers in the 1960s. Or a high schooler could be told, "Sports—those are only for boys." Title IX was created to stop these actions from happening. The process was slow but steady. In fact, one of our colleagues here today was denied access to a car mechanics class, as "those are only for boys."

Looking around this room at a female-majority Legislature—the third session where this is true—I know many of us learned our leadership skills from the push into higher-level classes and participating in high school, middle school, and even elementary school sports. But, more importantly, we learned from our mothers and grandmothers, who not only shattered the ceilings, but refused to be pigeonholed.

Today, let us celebrate the incredible strength, resilience, and courage of women around the world. Let us honor the women who have come before us and, more importantly, the women who will follow in our footsteps. In closing, let us commit ourselves to continuing the fight for gender equality and setting a strong example for women everywhere.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MONROE-MORENO:

Today, on International Women's Day, I am honored to have with me one of Nevada's history-makers. Seated with me is the mayor of the City of North Las Vegas, Mayor Pamela Goynes-Brown. She is the first Black woman to be elected to a mayorship in the state of Nevada. Please welcome her to our Chamber.

Faithful God, let something essential and joyful happen in us now, something like the bloom of faith and hope, like a grateful heart, like a surging awareness of how precious this moment is; that now, not next time, is the occasion to speak a tender word one to another like "thank you," or "you are a wonder," or "let's make fools of ourselves for the common good."

We give thanks for the staff who serve the Assembly, and we invoke blessing and protection upon this Assembly, upon all who work herein.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN D'SILVA:

I am thrilled today to stand in front of the Assembly and celebrate the importance of social-emotional learning this week. As so many of my fellow educators have noted, our job as teachers is not just to ensure our students learn academic subjects, but also life skills. In an increasingly complicated world, social-emotional learning prepares our students. It ensures they are college- and career-ready. I will say that in this post-pandemic era that we are in the midst of, the social and emotional needs of our students are paramount. I hope that we make this a priority this session.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN ANDERSON:

I also will be joining my colleagues and fellow educators in celebrating social and emotional learning, but I am going to take it a little bit differently. I am going to give a little bit of a history lesson. I would like to present probably the strongest example of SEL [social and emotional learning] in our history. That is the individual who looks over us on a daily basis, President Lincoln.

President Lincoln was aware of the needs and feelings of others. He was aware that different opinions were incredibly important, and he encouraged them. If you look at his cabinet, he made a decision to surround himself with people of different opinions. He celebrated and encouraged those different opinions, and he listened to what they had to say. He was able to manage his emotions. There are numerous stories about letters that he would write when he was angry—and then he would let them sit. He would look at the letter later and decide whether to tear it up or send it to the person and let them know how he felt. But he did not keep those emotions bottled inside. Finally—and probably most importantly—he listened. He allowed for differences to come out, and he considered them. He could easily have made comments that would have embarrassed others, and he chose not to.

Today, let us celebrate SEL, not only in our classrooms, not only in our history books, but in our Chamber. We do this daily as well. We exhibit respect to each other. We encourage questions, and then we listen to what each other has to say. As educators, it is easy for us to throw around letters—SEL, IEPs [individualized education plans], ASAP [as soon as possible]. Many times, we assume others will understand what it is. Our body is SEL in action, and the body that neighbors ours is SEL in action. Let us continue to respect each other, be aware of differences, encourage those, and talk with each other. Too often, people think of SEL as simply being kind. It is actually making decisions that will help others and encouraging others to succeed to be their best.

Thank you for this opportunity to celebrate these incredible skills. They are actually employability skills, they are leadership skills and, quite frankly, they are the skills of life. They are not something you test over.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LA RUE HATCH:

I would also like to stand as an educator and speak about social and emotional learning and talk a little bit about what it is and what it is not. It is not a canned curriculum. It is not a YouTube video. It is not a simple handshake at the door and you have completed it. Social-emotional learning is recognizing the humanity of our students and encouraging them to recognize the humanity in each other, then leveraging that to learn together.

I start every year with a speech to my students about respect and what respect means. It does not mean, I stand up here and I am the teacher; therefore, you respect me. It means, I respect you first by putting in time to plan lessons that are meaningful for you, by listening to your needs, by making sure you are learning the skills you need, and then you show respect, in turn, by engaging in the lessons, respecting yourself enough to want to learn, and respecting each other enough to help each other in that learning. That is social-emotional learning. It does not have to be more complicated than that, but it is critical, and it needs to be part of everything we are doing in education.

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), March 14, 2023

Assembly called to order at 11:41 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Reverend Karen Foster.

May we take this opportunity to open our hearts to prayer.

Spirit of love and life, we give thanks for this day. We give thanks for the rain that is nurturing the ground and all of life. We give thanks for these mountains and our desert lands, and above all, we give thanks for the people of Nevada. We give thanks for the opportunity to make life better and relieve suffering for Nevadans.

May we allow our hearts to be engaged and moved by our neighbors who are hungry, by those who have no homes, who struggle with mental illness, who have health issues, who continue to struggle with losses and ramifications due to COVID, other illnesses, addiction, or economic challenges. For we have been entrusted with our fellow human beings' welfare. It is they who call us to our best and highest selves.

May we gather our strength and our courage and accomplish together that which we could never do alone. May our care and compassion guide us. In the many Names of the holy we pray.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section, designated Section 5A, be added to Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 5A. 1. There is hereby created within the Legislative Department of the State Government the Independent Redistricting Commission. It shall be the duty of the Commission in the year 2031, and after each subsequent decennial census of the United States, to apportion the number of Senators and members of the Assembly among legislative districts established by the Commission and to apportion the number of representatives in the United States House of Representatives among congressional districts established by the Commission.

(g) Related within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity to any person disqualified under paragraphs (a) to (f), inclusive.

5. The term of office of each commissioner expires once the Commission has completed its obligations for a census cycle, but not before any judicial review of the redistricting plan is complete, or upon the release of the subsequent decennial census of the United States, whichever is earliest.

6. All meetings of the Commission shall be open to the public. The Commission shall ensure that the public has opportunities to view, present testimony and participate in hearings before the Commission. All Commission materials are public records.

(b) Districts have an approximately equal number of inhabitants.

(d) Districts are not drawn with the intent or result of denying or abridging the equal opportunity of racial or language minorities to participate in the political process or elect representatives of their choice, whether by themselves or voting in concert with other persons.

(e) Districts do not unduly advantage or disadvantage a political party, when considered on a statewide basis.

2. Not later than July 1, 2031, and not later than 180 days after each subsequent decennial census of the United States, the Commission shall approve a redistricting plan for the Nevada State Senate, the Nevada State Assembly and all congressional districts in this State, after providing public notice of each proposed final plan and allowing sufficient time for public review and comment. The Commission may only approve a final plan with at least five affirmative votes, including at least one from a commissioner registered with the largest political party, one from a commissioner registered with the second largest political party and one from a commissioner not registered or affiliated with the largest or second largest political party, according to voter registration data published by the Secretary of State as of January 1 of the redistricting year.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
EIGHTY-SECOND SESSION, 2023

Lieutenant Governor Anthony, Speaker Yeager, Majority Leader Cannizzaro, Majority Leader Jauregui, Attorney General Ford, distinguished members of the Senate and the Assembly, honorable constitutional officers, and honored guests, thank you for the opportunity to speak to the Nevada Legislature on behalf of our state's judicial system. My name is Lidia Stiglich, and I am the Chief Justice of the Nevada Supreme Court. I have had the privilege of serving in the Judiciary since 2012 and have worked alongside my colleagues to uphold the principles of fairness, impartiality, and justice for all Nevadans. I am honored to have this opportunity to share with you the progress we have made and the challenges we face as we work to strengthen the Judicial Branch of our state government.

I would like to acknowledge my colleagues on the Nevada Supreme Court: Associate Chief Justice Elissa Cadish, Justice Kristina Pickering, Justice Linda Bell, Justice Ron Parraguirre, Justice Douglas Herndon, and Justice Patty Lee. It is my privilege to serve with these distinguished jurists, and I am honored that they have selected me as their Chief. From the Nevada Court of Appeals, I would like to acknowledge Chief Judge Michael Gibbons, who is here with us tonight; Judge Bonnie Bulla; and Judge Deborah Westbrook. I would like to acknowledge retired Justice James Hardesty, who is also with us today. I would like to recognize and thank the Clerk of the Supreme Court, Elizabeth Brown; our legal counsel, Phaedra Kalicki; the Supreme Court's extraordinary legal staff; the Director of the Administrative Office of the Courts, Katherine Stocks; Assistant Court Administrator John McCormick, as well as all of the dedicated and hardworking staff of the Supreme Court and the AOC [Administrative Office of the Courts]. I would also like to extend my personal appreciation to Chief Clerk Susan Furlong and her incredible team for their warm and gracious welcome today.

Our mission of service to the residents of the Silver State is to provide timely access to impartial justice—in fact, it is our fundamental purpose. We are privileged to be charged with this duty. The pandemic had a tremendous impact on our society as a whole, including, of course, the Judiciary. As a branch, we can be slow to change, and we are often too busy adjudicating disputes to comprehensively examine our processes. The pandemic, though, compelled us to reflect on why and how we serve the people of Nevada. We took a critical look at our institutions, and we identified where we can improve our delivery of timely access to impartial justice. Tonight, I ask you to join me in looking forward and focusing on the who, why, and how of the Nevada Judiciary.

Who are we and who do we serve? I am privileged to appear on behalf of our 7 Supreme Court justices, 3 court of appeals judges, 90 district court judges, 68 justices of the peace, 31 municipal court judges, and the nearly 2,000 judicial employees throughout the state of Nevada. In the appellate courts, we are served by a staff of highly skilled attorneys and subject matter experts, responsible for managing the business of the courts and supporting the business of the trial courts to promote timely access to impartial resolution of all the cases filed. We proudly serve every Nevadan, along with those who visit our great state. We serve those with civil disputes, criminal charges, and administrative matters.

According to a report by The Pew Charitable Trusts, 47 percent of households had at least one civil legal issue that involved a court in a 12-month period. When traffic is added, that number jumps to 56 percent of households that had an interaction with a court. More than half of all households have some sort of civil matter that is going to come before a court in any given year. Broadly published estimates indicate that about a third of the adult population has been involved in some fashion in the criminal justice system. We serve litigants whether they choose to use our system or are required to participate. But, regardless of how someone gets to our courts, it is our responsibility to ensure that they are treated fairly.

So, why do we serve? For each of us, there are unique motivations to become public servants, yet all of us are here to do just that—to serve. Some of us came to the Judiciary because of a positive experience and a desire to pay that service forward. There are others among us that came to the Judiciary with a motivation to improve a system that they felt may have fallen short. For most, it is both, but we serve because it is both our duty and our distinct privilege to provide an impartial forum for the resolution of disputes and to ensure access to the courts for all.

So, we ask: How do we serve and how will we serve? To answer this question, we started with a survey of the entire Nevada Judiciary in the form of a strategic planning process. By engaging with statewide stakeholders, we identified existing innovations that are scalable to improve service delivery across Nevada: guided interviews for self-represented litigants, self-help forms, and improved websites as well. We also identified areas where improvements are needed—training for court staff and a living wage for our employees.

Ultimately, the "how" for the Supreme Court became Senate Bill 58, the Nevada Judicial Branch budget reform act, which is before you now. Senate Bill 58 and its corresponding reforms offer long-term improvements in the administration of Nevada's Judiciary. These reforms are essential to ensuring that the Judiciary meets its core constitutional functions. Senate Bill 58 brings stability and consistency to our budget as well as ensures that the Court will be able to be responsible to the needs of our branch and have that flexibility to ensure our business processes meet the needs of those that we serve and the priorities set here by the Legislature.

Time is of the essence to implement these long-overdue improvements to the systems and structures of the Supreme Court. Our current strategic plan, as supported by S.B. 58 and our proposed budget, is guided by three primary strategies: stability, flexibility, and responsiveness. Those are designed to improve the way the Judiciary provides fair, timely, equal, and universal access to justice. We are duty bound to simplify and improve public access to the courts, and we need to do that while we continue to ensure that all parties are treated fairly.

Through the use of American Rescue Plan Act funds, we embarked on improvements in access to justice in response to the needs of those that we serve. As an example, three projects are either months away from completion or are already in deployment. Our statewide online temporary protection order portal will allow a victim of abuse or stalking to be able to file a petition for a temporary restraining order online, from anywhere in the state of Nevada. States that have already deployed this option see at least 50 percent of petitions completed through that platform.

A statewide self-help portal utilizes guided interviews to create court pleadings and provides resources in written and video formats. There are currently three iterations of self-help websites in Nevada, and we are combining the three together in one place for court users. We are thankful to be partnering with Legal Aid Center of Southern Nevada to ensure the initial and ongoing success of this critical resource for access to justice.

Our family case management—as a follow-up to a recent study of Nevada's family courts, we are utilizing federal funds to bring differentiated case management for family law cases. Our trial courts will have access to an evidence-based tool that places a case into tracks of complexity. Each case will still receive individual attention; however, a court is able to dedicate necessary internal resources to cases of higher complexity. This project is coming out of the initial research phase. We are excited about it, and pilot courts are being recruited.

Alongside these particular projects, we have worked to develop methods for Nevada courts to be supported by sustainable, appropriate funding of judicial and personnel resources, as well as technological improvements and systems at all levels of the branch. For this biennium, we took a two-tier approach that works together to stabilize the Supreme Court's current and future operations. We are seeking to reduce reliance on administrative assessments through statutory and budget request changes. Administrative assessments revenues peaked in 2010, have dropped steadily since, and have dropped 50 percent in the last few years. These revenues are not showing signs of recovering, and even with a reduced AA [administrative assessments] budget request, we are 30 percent below the budget for this biennium.

We have submitted a budget that includes a living wage salary based upon the cost of living in Nevada. That is for a household with two children and two working adults and establishes operations, professional, and managerial career paths for our employees. Our classification and compensation schedule reflects the court's commitment to recruiting and retaining a diverse workforce that is paid a living wage. A factor in stabilizing turnover and being an employer of choice is the ability for our employees to have only one job. We demand a special set of skills for our employees, and those employees deserve to be compensated appropriately. All of our employees are required to have legal knowledge, an understanding of the Judiciary, and familiarity with the Nevada Revised Statutes and court rules.

Once we determined an appropriate minimum living wage, we overhauled our classification and compensation schedule. Thank you to the team from the AOC that spent months scouring vacancy announcements, pay tables, and wage and labor data in order to establish and validate the revised system that is based on the specific skill set required to effectuate our duty to the people of Nevada. We are, in effect, a midsize law firm, and we rely heavily on both our attorneys and subject matter experts to help us do the work of the appellate courts and support the 74 trial courts in the state of Nevada.

I have personally received some feedback that our requests may have created some confusion. I would like to take this opportunity to clarify our intent. Senate Bill 58 and our budget request are designed to work in tandem, and they reflect our operating needs. Specifically, S.B. 58 creates the Judicial Fund that allows the court to retain appropriations across the biennium. This fund is subject to legislative oversight, and we do not seek to change that. The court's proposals in S.B. 58 and our budget are designed to provide the flexibility the court needs to effectuate the Legislature's priorities and fulfill our constitutional purpose. Our specialty courts are an example of this current predicament, and it is a predicament which hinders our ability to provide critical resources to treatment courts when AA revenues fall short. Currently, because they are funded in part with administrative assessments, we must cut funding to our specialty court programs even when there are funds available in another Supreme Court account. That is what S.B. 58 does—it gives the court the flexibility to meet those needs as they arise.

Speaking of specialty courts, which are near and dear to my heart, I would like to highlight the success of our programming here in Nevada. The Nevada specialty court's transition to virtual and remote hearings exemplifies the resiliency of our Judiciary and our participants. As a result of the pandemic, online status checks, telehealth counseling, virtual 12-step meetings, GPS-enabled breathalyzers, and drug patches allowed treatment courts to continue to monitor sobriety while providing necessary treatment and access. This contributed to a significant decrease in arrests and criminal filings across the state. Moreover, the recidivism rates for people in the specialty court programs, even those individuals who do not complete the programs, are lower than those who do not receive the intervention. I am proud to report that 91.8 percent of the people who graduated from a Nevada specialty court program in 2018 have not had a new conviction within three years, and 81 percent of the people who did not successfully complete a program have not reoffended as well. Some treatment is better than no treatment, and our treatment is excellent.

Looking forward, with the assistance of the AOC, the specialty court program is exploring utilizing drug testing equipment at a fixed rate, which could leverage statewide collaboration to lower testing costs, streamline testing, and ensure consistency across the state. This will dovetail with the peer review program, as the AOC endeavors to connect the courts and grow those programs that we already have in place. We have many achievements that received a push from the adversity of the last few years that are worth celebrating. We have identified areas for improvement, and we are actively addressing them. With your help, the future is encouraging.

In closing, I would like to take a moment to remember some of the distinguished members of our Nevada Judiciary family who passed away. We mourn the loss of Justice Robert Rose; Judge Brent Adams; Judge Mathew Harter; Justice of the Peace Melanie Tobiasson; Justice of the Peace Kent Jasperson; Justice of the Peace Cassandra Jones; Justice of the Peace Juanita Colvin; treasured court employee Lilliette Brooks, who we lost just a week ago; and, of course, the incomparable Ben Graham. These individuals dedicated their careers to serving our communities and upholding the principles of justice and fairness. Their contributions to the Judiciary will not be forgotten, and we extend our deepest sympathies to their families and their loved ones. As we move forward, let us continue to honor their legacy by upholding the values and ideals that they held dear.

Thank you for allowing me to provide you this summary of the courts and our 2023 legislative agenda. I am excited to work with you—we all are—to continue to improve and expand timely access to impartial justice for every Nevadan. And thank you, legislators, for your service. We ask a lot of our public servants in Nevada, but especially of our legislators. God bless you and your families, who are going at it alone for these 120 days—hopefully, just 120 days—and may God bless the great State of Nevada.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Jerome Washington.

Almighty God, as we come before You today, we give You thanks for the many blessings You have bestowed upon this great state.

As we gather here today in peace and harmony, we ask that You look over our Legislators and we pray they seek You to be their guiding light, giving them wisdom and knowledge as they speak for and make sound decisions. Give them clarity of thought and vision as they address the matters of our state and allow them to work peaceably with one another under one common bond to meet the needs of and to serve Your people.

As we come together for this Veterans and Military Day at the Legislature, we thank You for those who have served and continue to serve our great and powerful nation. We thank You and honor them, for it is because of their selfless service and sacrifice we can be the land of the free because of the brave. Because of them, we are able to continue to enjoy the freedoms that You have graciously bestowed upon us. We ask that You continue to look over those who even now guard the gates of freedom both in peace and at war.

Please continue to be a comforter to those families whose loved ones have paid the ultimate sacrifice and laid their lives down for ours, as they heard their final call of duty. Let us not forget their service as You have welcomed them home.

As I close, may we have a moment of silence and prayer in our respective tongues for those departed comrades, those missing in action, those held prisoners of war. These and all other blessings we ask in Your Name.

THE THIRTY-NINTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), March 16, 2023

Assembly called to order at 11:48 a.m.
Mr. Speaker presiding.
Roll called.
All present.
Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Gavin Jarvis.
Lord God, in the book of Proverbs it says this:

> The Lord gives wisdom; from his mouth come knowledge and understanding; he stores up sound wisdom for the upright; he is a shield to those who walk in integrity, guarding the paths of justice and watching over the way of his saints.

Lord, as the Assembly convenes this morning, I pray for them. You made humanity with wisdom and reason and gave the ability to govern, and you put on the hearts of all here to lead on behalf of the people in our state. You say that you have placed all of us in the times and places that we live, and it is ultimately you who have placed these people in our time and in our state, with the capacity and calling to lead.

Therefore, Father, grant our leaders vision, wisdom, and discernment so they will continue to be strong and effective leaders.

Everyone here knows the gravity of the decisions that they make and their impact on all of Nevada; and I pray that you would give them wisdom. You are not a God of confusion but a God of order and of peace, and I pray that in every action taken here, there would be clarity and understanding that would lead to decisions that lead to the thriving of Nevada. Help them to lead and govern through the remainder of this session with integrity, and may that high commitment to integrity guide them in their decisions and actions today.

I ask that you protect their health, keep them safe, and for those who are away from home, I pray you would grant them rest, as they are away from loved ones and familiar places.

You say that all who come to You may ask You for wisdom and You will give without reproach, and so we lay this before You. To You be the glory and honor forever.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblywoman Jauregui moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 15, 2023

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed Assembly Bill No. 165.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1.

Remarks by Assemblymen McArthur, Bilbray-Axelrod, and O'Neill.

ASSEMBLYMAN MCARTHUR:

Assembly Joint Resolution 1 urges the United States Department of Veterans Affairs to study the effectiveness and use of hyperbaric oxygen therapy for veterans and share the results with the state of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BILBRAY-AXELROD:

I was wondering if the Assemblyman could explain hyperbaric oxygen therapy.

ASSEMBLYMAN MCARTHUR:

Hyperbaric oxygen therapy is basically putting a lot of oxygen into your system. You basically have to have a mask so that you can stay pressurized. It pushes the oxygen at a pressure about three times your normal amount. It helps out the blood and your flexibility. You actually have to have about 20 sessions before it really has an effect.

ASSEMBLYMAN O'NEILL:

In support of our Assemblyman's resolution and to give additional information, there is preliminary information indicating that the therapy assists greatly with both PTSD [post-traumatic stress disorder] treatments and burn treatments—scars. Some of you may be familiar with Jay Leno. He suffered a serious burn while working on a Stanley Steamer vehicle several weeks ago. He was in and out of the hospital within three days, mainly because he received HBOT [hyperbaric oxygen therapy] treatment, at his own expense, during that time. It has proven worthy. I will ask all my membership in this body to vote in favor of it.

Roll call on Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1:

Prayer by the Chaplain Craig Swope.

Let us pray.

Father on this day, we remember Your servant Patrick, who brought faith and hope to an entire country. May his example of humility, resolve, and service continue to shine for us today.

His forgiveness to his captors, his desire to elevate the lives of all men and women, young and old, and his legacy to do right in the most extreme of circumstances has endured for centuries. The legacy of others inspires us – the teacher who believed in us, the parent who sacrificed for us, the good friend who encouraged and comforted us.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen C.H. Miller and Monroe-Moreno:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 5—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to revise provisions relating to lotteries and the sale of lottery tickets.

WHEREAS, From our Nation's early colonial period until the mid-1800s, the proceeds from lotteries were used in America to fund and build infrastructure, to establish and endow universities like Harvard and Yale and to help finance the American battle for independence during the Revolutionary War; and

WHEREAS, In some states during this period, state legislatures would enact legislation which granted special charters to organizations, institutions, corporations or other entities authorizing them to operate lotteries and sell lottery tickets to the public for a period of years, but the state governments overseeing such chartered lotteries generally were not involved in the actual operation or regulation of the lotteries; and

WHEREAS, Because there was inadequate government oversight and regulation of such chartered lotteries, some of them were plagued by fraud, corruption, mismanagement and abuse which resulted in several well-known and scandalous cases of wrongdoing by chartered lotteries, including an infamous case in New York that "involved not only individuals of the state in ruin, but was the occasion of serious embarrassment to the state government itself." (State ex rel. Murphy v. Overton, 16 Nev. 136, 147 (1881) (quoting Report of the Debates in the Convention of California on the Formation of the State Constitution of 1849, at 92 (J. Ross Browne off. rep. 1850) (statement of Delegate H. W. Halleck)); and

WHEREAS, As a result of the well-known and scandalous cases of wrongdoing by chartered lotteries, there was a nationwide backlash against such lotteries and, by 1860, a majority of states had adopted constitutional provisions prohibiting the authorization of lotteries and the sale of lottery tickets, including provisions in the California Constitution of 1849, which stated that "[n]o lottery shall be authorized by this State, nor shall the sale of lottery tickets be allowed." (Cal. Const. Art. IV, § 27 (1849)); and

WHEREAS, Because the California Constitution of 1849 served as the model for the Nevada Constitution, the delegates to the Nevada State Constitutional Convention of 1864 adopted California's constitutional provisions regarding lotteries, without additional discussion or debate, so that the Nevada Constitution, as ratified in 1864, stated that "[n]o lottery shall be authorized by this State, nor shall the sale of lottery tickets be allowed." (Nev. Const. Art. 4, § 24 (1864); State ex rel. Murphy v. Overton, 16 Nev. 136, 146-47 (1881)); and

WHEREAS, Courts have recognized that constitutional provisions regarding lotteries are intended to protect the public from the harm caused by past chartered lotteries which were prevalent in our Nation's early history and which were plagued by fraud, corruption, mismanagement and abuse because they were largely unregulated by state governments (Stone v. Mississippi, 101 U.S. 814, 818 (1879); State ex rel. Murphy v. Overton, 16 Nev. 136, 146-52 (1881); Ex parte Pierotti, 43 Nev. 243, 247-52 (1919); Poppen v. Walker, 520 N.W.2d 238, 243 (S.D. 1994) ("These lotteries were the principal evil which led to their prohibition in state constitutions."), superseded on other grounds by constitutional amendments to S.D. Const. Art. III, § 25 (1994)); and

WHEREAS, At the general election in 1990, Nevada's voters approved constitutional amendments allowing the Legislature to provide by law for the operation and regulation of charitable lotteries, with certain restrictions, conducted by charitable or nonprofit organizations in the form of raffles or drawings on their own behalf, and the Legislature has enacted laws providing for comprehensive regulation of charitable lotteries to ensure that those lotteries are operated honestly and free from criminal and corruptive elements and that the proceeds of those lotteries are expended to benefit the activities of charitable or nonprofit organizations in this State (Nev. Const. Art. 4, § 24; chapter 462 of NRS); and

WHEREAS, The comprehensive regulation of modern lotteries ensures that the public is protected from the harm caused by past chartered lotteries which were prevalent in our Nation's early history and which were plagued by fraud, corruption, mismanagement and abuse because they were largely unregulated by state governments; and

WHEREAS, Amending the Nevada Constitution to prohibit the Legislature from enacting laws which grant a special charter or similar organizational or governing document to any person or other entity to operate lotteries or sell lottery tickets will continue to protect the public from the harm caused by past chartered lotteries; and

WHEREAS, Amending the Nevada Constitution to allow the Legislature to provide by law for the operation and regulation of modern lotteries, in addition to charitable lotteries, will ensure that such modern lotteries are operated honestly and free from criminal and corruptive elements and that the proceeds of those lotteries are expended to benefit the general welfare of the residents of this State; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 24 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec: 24. 1. Except as otherwise provided in ~~[~~subsection 2,~~]~~ this section, no lottery may be authorized by this State, nor may lottery tickets be sold.

2. The ~~[~~State and the~~]~~ Legislature may provide by law for the operation and regulation of lotteries, including, without limitation, authorizing lottery tickets to be sold, except that:

(a) The Legislature shall not pass any laws which grant a special charter or similar organizational or governing document to any person or other entity to operate a lottery or sell lottery tickets or which otherwise authorize the exercise of such powers under a special charter or similar organizational or governing document.

(b) The political subdivisions ~~[~~thereof~~]~~ of this State shall not operate a lottery ~~[~~.~~]~~ or sell lottery tickets.

(c) The operation of lotteries by persons engaged in charitable activities or activities not for profit must comply with the provisions of subsection 3.

3. The Legislature may authorize persons engaged in charitable activities or activities not for profit to operate a lottery in the form of a raffle or drawing on their own behalf. All proceeds of the lottery, less expenses directly related to the operation of the lottery, must be used only to benefit charitable or nonprofit activities in this State. A charitable or nonprofit organization shall not employ or otherwise engage any person to organize or operate its lottery for compensation. The Legislature may provide by law for the regulation of such lotteries.

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Jauregui requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN O'NEILL:

I want to wish all of you a very happy St. Patrick's Day, particularly our students from Coral Academy. They know how to dress on this magnificent day—I think you do that every day, so congratulations.

On March 17, 2023, during this annual celebration of the feast of St. Patrick, Irish Americans join with men, women, and children of all ethnic origins for one day to become Irish and celebrate St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland. This year, we also rejoice and give thanks for 25 years of relative peace under the terms of the Good Friday Agreement. The Good Friday Agreement provided Ireland a political framework to address the future rights of people from different political traditions to pursue their goals of remaining part of the United Kingdom or of Irish unity, demonstrating democracy and peaceful means of solving their differences.

To that end, I have a proclamation signed by the Speaker and myself regarding this 25th anniversary of the Good Friday Agreement and the lasting relationship that we have between our two countries, the United States and Ireland. Additionally, draped over the Speaker's desk is the national flag of Ireland. This flag has been flown from 33 The Mall, the building in Waterford, Ireland, from which Thomas F. Meagher first flew the Irish flag on March 7, 1848. The flag is the embodiment of the strong and enduring links between the United States and Ireland. The colors of the national flag are green, for Irish nationalism; orange, for the Protestant minority and the Orange Order; and white, for the lasting peace between these two beliefs.

So, why do I mention Thomas F. Meagher in our celebration and our proclamation for the 175th anniversary of the flying of the Irish flag? He was a man born in Ireland who embodied the links between Ireland and the United States of America. In one lifetime, Thomas F. Meagher ran for election to the city council of Waterford, Ireland, and led the rebellion for freedom from British rule in Ireland in 1848. He was sentenced to death for his actions; however, his death sentence was commuted, and he was transferred to Australia for a term of life imprisonment. Being the individual that he was, with the strong will of the Irish behind him, he figured out how to escape and went to America. There, he became a brigadier general in the 69th Regiment of the famous Fighting Irish Brigade; befriended U.S. President Abraham Lincoln; and, lastly, became the acting governor of the Territory of Montana.

In conclusion, this proclamation is to recognize the British and the Irish governments' ongoing support and implementation of the Good Friday Agreement, which is the result of a long, determined negotiation process. May this celebration be a beacon for lasting peace in Northern Ireland.

I would also like to refer to the Roman Catholics and say that the Bishop of the Diocese of Reno has granted dispensation on this Friday to celebrate St. Patrick and enjoy the corned beef. We do not have to abstain. Thank you, Lord. To all: I wish you a very happy St. Patrick's Day.

I will make my best attempt to say, Lá fhéile Pádraig sona duit, which is, Happy St. Patrick's Day.

THE FORTY-THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), March 20, 2023

Assembly called to order at 11:45 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Orentlicher, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Bishop Daniel Mueggenborg.

God of Heaven and Earth, we pray that You will send the Spirit of Wisdom upon those entrusted with civic responsibilities. We remember especially our President that his administration may be filled with righteousness and integrity.

We pray, too, for the deliberations of Congress that they be guided by Your inspiration. Under their national leadership, may all who live in our country grow in peace, natural happiness, increase of industry, useful knowledge, respect and understanding, and freedom with responsibility.

In particular, we ask for blessing upon Governor Lombardo and the members of our Nevada Assembly who now gather to fulfill their elected duty. May they discharge the responsibilities of their offices with honesty and truth.

May all the leaders of our world always see others as brothers and sisters without prejudice or preference; may they resolve their differences in peaceful ways; may they seek to alleviate human suffering and never to increase it; and may they protect and promote all human life especially the most vulnerable in our midst.

Remember in Your mercy those who suffer injustice or neglect of any kind — the destitute, the poor, the marginalized, the voiceless, the immigrant, and the maligned. Protect in Your mercy those who suffer illness and distress.

Grant us a true spirit of friendship that cares for the needs of others, overcomes our differences, and fosters the life of virtue in everyone.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblywoman Jauregui moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Watts, Bilbray-Axelrod, Brittney Miller, Anderson, Backus, Brown-May, Carter, Cohen, D'Silva, Duran, González, La Rue Hatch, C.H. Miller, Monroe-Moreno, Newby, Peters, Summers-Armstrong, Taylor, Thomas, Torres and Yeager; Senators Harris, Lange, Ohrenschall, Daly, Doñate and Flores:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 6—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to adopt the National Popular Vote Compact.

WHEREAS, The candidate for the Presidency of the United States receiving the most popular votes across the country should become President; and

WHEREAS, The United States Constitution empowers each state to choose the manner of selecting its members of the Electoral College; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section, designated Section 14A, be added to Article 15 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 14A. The National Popular Vote Compact is hereby enacted into law and entered into with all jurisdictions legally joining the Compact, in substantially the form set forth in this section:

1. Membership

Any State of the United States and the District of Columbia may become a member of this compact by enacting this compact.

2. Right of the People in Member States to Vote for President and Vice President

Each member state shall conduct a statewide popular election for President and Vice President of the United States.

3. Manner of Appointing Presidential Electors in Member States

Prior to the time set by law for the meeting and voting by the presidential electors, the chief election official of each member state shall determine the number of votes for each presidential slate in each State of the United States and in the District of Columbia in which votes have been cast in a statewide popular election and shall add such votes together to produce a "national popular vote total" for each presidential slate.

The chief election official of each member state shall designate the presidential slate with the largest national popular vote total as the "national popular vote winner."

The presidential elector certifying official of each member state shall certify the appointment in that official's own state of the elector slate nominated in that state in association with the national popular vote winner.

At least six days before the day fixed by law for the meeting and voting by the presidential electors, each member state shall make a final determination of the number of popular votes cast in the state for each presidential slate and shall communicate an official statement of such determination within 24 hours to the chief election official of each other member state.

The chief election official of each member state shall treat as conclusive an official statement containing the number of popular votes in a state for each presidential slate made by the day established by federal law for making a state's final determination conclusive as to the counting of electoral votes by Congress.

In event of a tie for the national popular vote winner, the presidential elector certifying official of each member state shall certify the appointment of the elector slate nominated in association with the presidential slate receiving the largest number of popular votes within that official's own state.

If, for any reason, the number of presidential electors nominated in a member state in association with the national popular vote winner is less than or greater than that state's number of electoral votes, the presidential candidate on the presidential slate that has been designated as the national popular vote winner shall have the power to nominate the presidential electors for that state and that state's presidential elector certifying official shall certify the appointment of such nominees.

The chief election official of each member state shall immediately release to the public all vote counts or statements of votes as they are determined or obtained.

This article shall govern the appointment of presidential electors in each member state in any year in which this compact is, on July 20, in effect in states cumulatively possessing a majority of the electoral votes.

4. Other Provisions

This compact shall take effect when states cumulatively possessing a majority of the electoral votes have enacted this compact in substantially the same form and the enactments by such states have taken effect in each state.

Any member state may withdraw from this compact, except that a withdrawal occurring six months or less before the end of a President's term shall not become effective until a President or Vice President shall have been qualified to serve the next term.

The chief executive of each member state shall promptly notify the chief executive of all other states of when this compact has been enacted and has taken effect in that official's state, when the state has withdrawn from this compact, and when this compact takes effect generally.

This compact shall terminate if the electoral college is abolished.

If any provision of this compact is held invalid, the remaining provisions shall not be affected.

5. Definitions

For purposes of this compact,
"chief executive" shall mean the Governor of a State of the United States or the Mayor of the District of Columbia;

"elector slate" shall mean a slate of candidates who have been nominated in a state for the position of presidential elector in association with a presidential slate;

"state" shall mean a State of the United States and the District of Columbia; and

"statewide popular election" shall mean a general election in which votes are cast for presidential slates by individual voters and counted on a statewide basis.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That a new section, designated Section 14B, be added to Article 15 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 14B. 1. When the National Popular Vote Compact governs a presidential election, each presidential elector in Nevada shall cast his or her vote in the Electoral College for the presidential slate nominated by the political party or organization that nominated the elector.

CARSON CITY (Friday), March 24, 2023

Assembly called to order at 11:39 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblywoman González, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain Craig Swope.

Let us pray.

Father, this has been a deadline week. There will be many others to come this session. Deadlines are everywhere. We get to drive our car for another month, or we can live in our house for another month, because deadlines are met. Structure and order can exist because of deadlines.

But it's in between the deadlines that the clay is molded. It's between the deadlines that the meal is prepared. It is in those times that we are grateful for Your love that transcends deadlines and all time. With You, there are no deadlines. Your heart is always open. There is never a closed sign on any door when we bring our requests to You.

Today, let us remember that You are a God of order. And where there is disorder in our lives or with our neighbors, there is no deadline on reconciliation and restoration.

We ask this is in the Name of Your Son.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

THE FIFTIETH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), March 27, 2023

Assembly called to order at 12 noon.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Gavin Jarvis.

God Most High, please hear this prayer based on the book of Psalms: May God be gracious to this Assembly and bless them, and make His face to shine upon them, that Your way may be known on earth, Your saving power among all nations, and to our state. Let the peoples praise You, O God; let all the peoples praise You! Let the nations be glad and sing for joy, for You judge the peoples with fairness and guide our leaders upon the earth. The earth has yielded its increase; may God bless us; let all the ends of the earth fear him.

God, based on Your words, I pray that You would be gracious to each Assembly member here. In this session, in their voting and committee meetings, and in all the hard work that is in front of them, I pray that their way would go smoothly as they make and amend laws for our state. As they continue in their capacity and responsibilities, please grant them health, strength, endurance, intelligent minds, and clear communication with one another. As You do this, may the results of this 82nd Session lead many to celebrate the fair and equitable laws passed this year.

Ultimately, I pray that their work would never be in vain but would cause every resident of our state to enjoy the fruits of their labor. And may our Assembly members find joy in the work set before them.

Please extend this blessing and Your presence to all of their staffers as well, that they would thrive in their positions. And bless their families, relieving the pressures that arise from the work at hand, giving peace to every household.

You are the God who is over all and who rules with fairness and equity. May You be gracious to us now and make Your face to shine on this Assembly.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblywoman Jauregui moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblywomen Anderson and Considine:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 7—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to revise provisions relating to the assessment and taxation of property which is sold or transferred and to require the Legislature to enact a program to provide property tax assistance to senior citizens and persons with disabilities.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 1 of Article 10 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. 1. The Legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims, which shall be assessed and taxed only as provided in Section 5 of this Article.

2. Shares of stock, bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The Legislature may constitute agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used, as a separate class for taxation purposes and may provide a separate uniform plan for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such plan is provided, the Legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The Legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this Section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The Legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The Legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

7. No inheritance tax shall ever be levied.

8. The Legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

9. No income tax shall be levied upon the wages or personal income of natural persons. Notwithstanding the foregoing provision, and except as otherwise provided in subsection 1 of this Section, taxes may be levied upon the income or revenue of any business in whatever form it may be conducted for profit in the State.

10. The Legislature may provide by law for an abatement of the tax upon or an exemption of part of the assessed value of a single-family residence occupied by the owner to the extent necessary to avoid severe economic hardship to the owner of the residence.

11. For the purposes of assessment and taxation of property:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, for the first fiscal year after the sale or transfer of real property, the real property sold or transferred shall not be eligible for any adjustment provided by the Legislature by law based on the age of improvements to the real property, any abatement of the tax upon the real property provided by the Legislature by law pursuant to subsection 8 or any abatement or exemption provided by the Legislature by law pursuant to subsection 10. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to real property for which the Legislature has provided by law for an exemption of the tax on property.

(b) For any fiscal year following the first fiscal year after the sale or transfer of real property to which the provisions of paragraph (a) apply, any adjustment provided by the Legislature by law based on the age of improvements to the real property must be determined as if the improvements were new improvements on the date of the sale or transfer.

➥ The Legislature shall provide by law for definitions of the terms "sale" and "transfer" as necessary to carry out the provisions of this subsection.

12. The Legislature shall provide by law for a program to provide for the payment of refunds of the taxes imposed on the primary residence of a person domiciled in this State who is 62 years of age or older or a person with a disability. If such a person rents his or her primary residence, the amount of the refund for which the person is eligible must not exceed the portion of the rent which is deemed to constitute accrued property tax. The Legislature shall establish by law:

(a) The criteria which a person must satisfy to be eligible for such a refund; and

(b) The amount of the refund to be paid to a person eligible for such a refund, which may consist of a graduated refund based on the household income of such a person.

And be it further

THE FIFTY-SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), March 29, 2023

Assembly called to order at 12 noon.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblywoman Bilbray-Axelrod, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Kathy Morris.

God of many Names, make us channels of Your disturbance. Where there is apathy, let us provoke. Where there is silence, may we be a voice. Where there is too much comfort and too little action, grant disruption. Where there are doors closed and hearts locked, grant us the willingness to listen. When laws dictate and pain is overlooked, grant us the willingness to shine a light on human suffering. When tradition speaks louder than need, grant us the willingness to discern.

Disturb us, O God, teach us to persevere. Grant that we may seek rather to do justice than to talk about it; to be with the poor as well as the wealthy; to love the unlovable as well as the lovely; to accept the responsibility to be agents of mercy and compassion. God, make us channels of Your disturbance. It is in the many Names of the Holy that we pray.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

THE FIFTY-THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), March 30, 2023

Assembly called to order at 11:41 a.m. in the old Assembly Chamber in the historic Capitol Building.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblywoman Newby, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain Craig Swope.

Father, we thank You for those who were path makers. Over a half-century ago, our brightest lights along that path were working for the common good in these halls. They discovered meaning in their service. Across cultures, belief systems, and economic and political systems, people have found through history that the components present when we discover a meaningful life are:

Belonging—a place where we connect and interact with others with a common interest. An opportunity to care and be cared for. We find meaning.

Purpose—it is in that belonging that we find purpose. A unique skill, ability, or perspective only we can provide. We find meaning.

Transcendence—when we become aware and realize the joy of being part of something bigger than ourselves, we find meaning.

Help us to remember those three components as we work for the common good of all. We ask this in Your Son's Name.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblywoman Jauregui moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

At the direction of Mr. Speaker, the following remarks were entered in the Journal:

FORMER ASSEMBLY MEDIA CLERK MICHELE BURKE:

I would like to thank Mr. Speaker and the Chief Clerk for inviting me to talk to you today. It is my privilege to share some research I compiled as the Media Clerk here several sessions ago.

Before this building was completed in 1871, the State Legislature met on the second floor of the first Ormsby County Courthouse–which was formerly Abe Curry's Great Basin Hotel- just across Carson Street. I would like to share with you about one of the members who met there.

When you enter the front doors of the Nevada Legislative building, on the wall lining the right side of the foyer are the photos of those who have held the position of Speaker of the Nevada Assembly dating back to our first State Legislature in 1864. The one exception is James A. Banks who was the Speaker of the Assembly in 1866, our second Legislative Session. He is represented by a framed silhouette. As soon as I noticed this I began researching, trying to find a picture to fill that frame. I quickly found a picture of his father, as well as one of his brother. The more I searched for his picture the more I became caught up in his remarkable achievements.

James Andrew Banks was born in Pennsylvania on January 17, 1828. He was the oldest son of David Banks and Jane McAllister Banks who were affluent estate owners. James' maternal grandfather helped George Washington rally the disheartened troops in the Revolutionary War. One of his brothers became a doctor, one a lawyer and the youngest remained to help his father run the estate. With a desire to make his own way in the world, Mr. Banks left home at the age of 21, and after living for a short period in New York in various places teaching school, and learning carpentering, he caught gold fever and headed for California. An early California newspaper reported:

> The excitement which followed the discovery of gold in California found him among the early immigrants to these shores. Upon landing here he engaged in business at his trade which he followed for several years until he won the confidence not only of his fellow mechanics but of his fellow citizens.

From 1848 to 1849, the San Francisco population went from 1,000 to 25,000 and continued to grow rapidly throughout the 1850s. Recognizing a need among his fellow tradesmen, in 1854 Mr. Banks helped to found the Mechanics Institute of San Francisco to serve the educational and social needs of mechanics, artisans, craftsmen, and inventors and their families. While not still solely dedicated to mechanical arts, this institute is still in existence today. For this achievement: no pictures of our Mr. Banks.

While in San Francisco, he continued membership in the Presbyterian Church and was elected president of the Young Men's Christian Association [YMCA] in 1858. Accounts of the time report that during his tenure he did much to bring the society to notice and put the group on firm financial ground. None of the accounts have a picture of Mr. Banks.

> Mr. Banks was elected a member of the [California] State Legislature … in which he distinguished himself by a strict adherence to the interest of his constituents and the honest discharge of his duty.

While in the California legislature he was known as a strong advocate of education and helped draft legislation establishing a California University. A great story of his dedication to his job can be found in the legislative report from The Sacramento Daily Union April 27, 1861. After a particularly heated debate during a floor session over an appropriation for the Reform School, "some expressions were used in consequence of which a member was ordered under arrest by the chair."

Some witness accounts say that Mr. Banks had stopped at the Chief Clerk's desk at the end of the floor session and was intently studying something when Mr. Hahn came from behind and struck him severely over the head with his cane. This account was countered with the argument that the bruising on Mr. Bank's forehead clearly demonstrated the blow was leveled from the front when he was in deep concentration and didn't see it coming. While Mr. Banks' supporters called for Mr. Hahn's expulsion from the Assembly, they were overridden citing precedence of a similar occurrence in the United States Congress which resulted in all charges dropped.

For his four sessions in the California Assembly and one in the California Senate, still no picture of Mr. Banks.

Shortly after this incident Mr. Banks left California joining friends mining ventures in Paradise Valley, Humboldt County, Nevada.

He was elected to be a delegate for the second Constitutional Convention in 1864. Delegates ranged in age from 26 to 64 years of age. Three were foreign born, eleven were lawyers, thirty-three had come to Nevada from California and all but one were registered as Unionists. The president of the convention was J. Neely Johnson, a former Governor of California and future justice of the Nevada Supreme Court. The 1863 constitution which was turned down by voters, provided for taxation of mines and mining claims, whether producing or not. Mr. Banks, who was a mine superintendent in Humboldt County, helped write the change in the 1864 document which specified that only the proceeds of mines and claims could be taxed. With the modifications the proposed constitution passed, was sent by telegraph to Washington, D.C., and President Lincoln declared Nevada a state on October 31, 1864.

Mr. Banks returned to his mining career in Humboldt County and was highly regarded in his field. He was known as a young man of irreproachable character, great industry, and full of enthusiasm. There was a large influx of settlers in the region and the Native American population who at first had been tolerant of the newcomers was beginning to fight against the widespread takeover of their lands. Mr. Banks was highly critical in letters to the governor of how the military was handling the situation. He felt their handling of the conflicts were escalating the situation rather than calming it down. His constant advocacy on behalf of the citizens of Humboldt County gained him the reputation as a leader and he was elected to represent them in the second session of the Nevada Legislature, where he was elected Speaker.

The June 1866 edition of the Harrisburg Telegraph reported that Mr. Banks was going to run against Senator James Nye for the United States Senate seat. This was a dream that never was given a chance.

In August of 1867 Mr. Banks met some friends who were staying at Camp Winfield Scott, the camp of whose commander he had been so critical in letters to the Governor. The Marysville Daily Appeal reported:

> Banks and two others were fishing about one mile from Camp Winfield Scott. Banks started up the creek and as he did not return search was made for him. He was found about three hundred yards above the fishing grounds, with a bullet hole through his breast and his bowels cut out.

His body was taken back to camp and buried in the cemetery there.

Marysville Daily Appeal September 1867:

> The Sacramento Union of August 31 contains a series of resolutions adopted by the citizens of Unionville, Humboldt County Nevada calling upon the civil and military authorities … to avenge the death of James A. Banks who it is said was shot by an Indian… There is the possibility that James A. Banks was not shot by an Indian, as it is quite common for robberies and murders to be committed by [others] dressed as Indians for which Indians have been butchered wholesale . . .

Who actually killed Mr. Banks was never determined or further investigated. In 1869 the Young Men's Christian Association took his body back to San Francisco and buried him in the Masonic Cemetery where they erected a monument to honor him. At his funeral his dear friend Judge Sawyer said, "In the workshop he was a gentleman, in the parlor a companion and in the legislative halls he was more than a politician."

The story of Mr. Banks was not quite over. In 1901 the growing city of San Francisco needed more land. The City passed an ordinance outlawing cemeteries inside city limits and the bodies from the Masonic Cemetery who were not claimed by their families were moved and buried in a mass grave in a cemetery in Colma, California. The tombstones and monuments were ground up and used as fill on the approaches of the Golden Gate Bridge.

James Andrew Banks was 39 years old when he died. For all of his accomplishments we have yet to locate a portrait of him, but I hope from my story today you will have a better picture of who he was.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
EIGHTY-SECOND SESSION, 2023

Hello, everyone. It is cold, but it is good to be here. It is good to see all of you, and it is always good to be home in Nevada with friends, family, neighbors, and everyone who cares so much about our state. I want to start by thanking Majority Leader Cannizzaro and Speaker Yeager for the opportunity to address all of you in the Nevada Legislature today. I want to thank everyone who is in attendance: Governor Lombardo, thank you so much for being here; Lieutenant Governor Anthony, I see you behind me; Minority Leaders Seevers Gansert and O'Neill, thank you; members of the Legislature; all of our constitutional officers, I see you here; and Justices of the Nevada Supreme Court, thank you. I would be remiss if I did not thank the amazing staff who serve Nevadans day in and day out working at the Legislature. Thank you for all that you do.

For the last six years, it has truly been my honor to represent our great state, and I am grateful to be here in person to tell you about all the work I have been doing in Washington on behalf of all of us who call Nevada home. Since I last addressed the Nevada Legislature, a lot has changed, starting with the voices in this room. We have the first female-majority legislature, and we continue to make gains. I am so proud that we now have the largest majority of women legislators of any state nationwide. We can applaud that. Session after session, our Legislature's membership becomes more and more diverse and representative of our great state. We have incredible leaders, including Assemblywoman Daniele Monroe-Moreno, leading the Black Legislative Caucus; Senator Fabian Doñate, leading the Latino Legislative Caucus; Assemblywoman Erica Mosca, leading the AANHPI [Asian American, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander] Caucus; and Senator Dallas Harris, leading the LGBTQ+ [lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer/questioning, plus] Caucus. Each and every one of you is helping lead the way for a more inclusive Nevada.

We know that when our state is open and welcoming, we foster an environment where Nevadans are best able to live, work, and raise a family. It is where our economy can grow and thrive. Tonight, I would like to take some time to give you an update on a couple of things. First, I want to share with you what we have accomplished in Congress over the past two years, which were some of the most productive ever. So much of our work—my work—was bipartisan. As a result, we have gotten real, meaningful, historic things done for Nevada.

We took action to jump-start economic growth and prepare our workers for great jobs. I took a leading role in helping to write and pass the bipartisan infrastructure law. As a result, we are now making a once-in-a-generation investment in our country. Thanks to our work, we are bringing millions of dollars to Nevada to rebuild, revamp, and expand our airports, our roads, and our bridges and improve our broadband access, all while creating good-paying jobs.

As we create more jobs, we must make sure our workforce has the training needed to take advantage of these new opportunities. I led a bipartisan initiative included in the CHIPS [Creating Helpful Incentives to Produce Semiconductors] and Science law. This initiative is to support workforce development for advanced manufacturing. This initiative is going to make sure workers have the skills that they need as we grow our domestic manufacturing industry. The CHIPS and Science law will also make historic investments in STEM [science, technology, engineering, and mathematics] education in our rural communities. This will make sure that we are training the workforce of the future in every single part of our state.

While we are on the subject of historic investments, I am proud to report that we made history by investing record amounts toward renewable energy thanks to the Inflation Reduction Act. Nevada is home to more solar jobs per capita in the nation, and we are a national leader in geothermal energy as well. This law is now making critical investments in our state and across the country to support all those clean energy jobs, lower energy costs, and combat climate change. It provides $4 billion to tackle the extreme drought that we are facing here in the West. That is an historic investment.

I am very proud that we also took action to support our men and women in uniform. I had the great honor of helping to pass a bipartisan law that will provide benefits and health care access to all veterans who were exposed to toxins while serving our country and who are now, unfortunately, suffering from illness. I believe we must always protect those who protected us, so it was about time that we got that done.

We took action to make communities safer. I do not have to tell any of you here how much gun violence has affected our communities and our state. For the first time in more than 30 years, Congress took action in a bipartisan way to address the epidemic of gun violence and make historic investments in school safety and mental health. I am very proud of that. Mental health for our kids really matters.

We took action to help make health care more affordable and accessible for families. Through the Inflation Reduction Act, as I mentioned earlier, we are lowering health care premiums through a key provision that I pushed to include. This law also takes significant steps to reduce the outrageously high cost of prescription drugs. After years of obstruction, Medicare can finally negotiate lower prescription drug costs for our seniors. We capped the cost of insulin for those on Medicare to just $35 a month. As a result, private companies are taking notice and are now lowering the cost for everyone else. We made a difference. We broke through that critical barrier, and I am ready to do even more to bring down those health care costs.

As we work to lower the costs, we must also take action to make care more accessible, especially when some Nevadans, particularly those in our rural areas, cannot even see a doctor. That is why I introduced and passed my MOBILE [Maximizing Outcomes through Better Investments in Lifesaving Equipment] health law. This law will make it easier for mobile health units to bring care directly into communities in need, wherever they are, up and down our state. It is going to keep people healthy.

We took action to support Nevada. One of the pieces of legislation that I am most proud of is my comprehensive, bipartisan travel and tourism legislative package. Signed into law at the end of last year, it creates, for the first time ever, a federal position focused solely on what is best for America's travel and tourism industry. This federal position is tasked with developing and implementing a national tourism strategy. This is a major victory for a state like ours. I serve as Chair of the Subcommittee on Tourism, Trade, and Export Promotion, so I am going to work to see that the person who fills this role understands the specific needs of our communities—for our urban communities and for our rural communities, for our dark skies in the center of the state, where you can see those great stars. You can also see the stars going up and down the Las Vegas Strip. We have to protect it all, and I am going to make sure that they understand that. We know that we have a few more exciting things coming to southern Nevada: Formula One and, of course, the Super Bowl.

I have also worked to bring resources and funding to help enact specific projects that our local governments and communities actually need. The federal funding that I worked on with Senator Cortez Masto over the past two years is going toward projects that support our local law enforcement, increase affordable housing access, deliver clean drinking water, make medical care more accessible, invest in our workforce development, and so much more.

In all, more than 90 percent of the legislation I introduced last Congress was bipartisan, and many of those bills were signed into law. Despite only being in my first term, I have been ranked as one of the top ten most bipartisan Senators and one of the top ten most effective Democrats in the Senate, getting things done by working across the aisle. I am proud of these ratings because it reflects, as I said, that I worked across the aisle to find commonsense, bipartisan solutions that get things done for the people of Nevada. As we work to implement these laws, I will keep working in Washington to make sure that Nevada gets its fair share of funding so all of you here can put it to good use for our hardworking families. For their kids, for their parents, and for our small business owners, it makes a difference. Last session was truly historic. We got a lot done, but significant work still remains.

That brings me to my second point. We are still facing so many challenges, and I promise that I will spend every single day over the next two years working diligently for our state. I am going to keep up the fight for working families. Number one, what do we have to do? We have to fight inflation. Middle-class families are feeling the squeeze at the gas pump, at the grocery store, and when paying their monthly rent. It is real—you know it, and I know it. We need to work on it. We must keep lowering costs, whether it is the cost of housing, health care, or higher education. We have to continue creating jobs and supporting our workers. That means strengthening unions and their right to organize their workplaces for better working conditions. That is why I support the PRO [Protecting the Right to Organize] Act.

The next generation, our kids, are our hope and our future, so we must support our schools, our educators, and our students. That is the future of Nevada. It is exciting when we do that. I look at former Governor Sandoval—I know you are doing that every day. It means giving our teachers a raise. It means investing in our schools to make sure that the students and educators have the resources and supplies they need to excite the kids, teach them, and get them to learn and take on those challenges and opportunities they are going to face when they grow up. That is our job. We need to invest in them like someone invested in us. I know that Speaker Yeager and Majority Leader Cannizzaro have a funding bill that will accomplish just this, so thank you.

For the Nevadans who raised us—our parents, our grandparents, our seniors—we must keep our sacred promise by protecting Social Security and Medicare from harmful cuts. They worked hard. They earned their benefits. We need to take care of them.

Another group we need to take care of is small business, so I am going to keep up the fight for small business. I am a member of the Senate Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship. One thing I am working on is creating a centralized online hub, making it easier for small businesses to access the resources they need to grow and thrive. I know that we help small businesses when they get the tools they need to get up and running, when we help cut through some of that bureaucratic red tape, and when we invest in their success. They are the job creators. I am leading the efforts to open up federal loans and SBA [Small Business Administration] resources to other businesses as well, like our state-legal cannabis small businesses. They are big job creators in our state and in a growing number of states around the country.

I want to talk about safer communities. I am going to keep up the fight for safer communities with all of you because rising crime is a concern for our families. That is why I am working to support local law enforcement across the state with the funding, the tools, and the resources they need to keep our communities safe, including from dangerous drugs like fentanyl. I am glad to see bills like the one from the Attorney General to help stop fentanyl trafficking. Thank you. It is very important.

We are going to keep fighting for more accessible health care. We have to tackle Nevada's dire shortage of doctors and medical professionals. I introduced a package of bipartisan bills to incentivize doctors to complete their residencies here, stay here, and practice in communities in our state that desperately need them. We need solutions at the state level, too, such as the bipartisan bill introduced by all four leaders to help expand Nevada's health care pipeline.

On that note, we have to continue to improve health care for Nevada's veterans. It is why I successfully pushed President Biden to include a new veterans hospital in Reno as part of his latest budget. I want you to know, I am not going to stop until this new hospital is done and it has opened its doors to Nevada's veterans. Speaking of veterans, I am also a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, so I am going to continue to support our service members and Nevada's defense installations. In fact, that is what we are working on right now—passing our next national defense package. Nevada is really critical to the country's safety and security, and I am going to ensure we have the resources we need to keep our country safe and our world safe.

I am going to keep up the fight to make sure that every person in our state and in our nation is treated with dignity. We can never stop fighting for our rights. I do not have to tell many of you here, but we have to keep working to pass comprehensive, bipartisan immigration reform that treats people with respect, gives Dreamers a pathway to citizenship, supports our state's TPS [Temporary Protected Status] recipients, and ensures our borders are secure and protected. We have a lot of other rights we have to fight for. We have to keep defending the rights of our LGBTQ+ Nevadans, which is why I am going to continue to support and work to pass the Equality Act into law.

Last, but certainly not least, we must keep up the fight to restore and protect reproductive rights. The voters of Nevada care deeply about this, and they agree across party lines—decisions about a woman's body belong to that woman, not to politicians. That is why I strongly support Majority Leader Cannizzaro's efforts to make sure we enshrine reproductive freedom in our state's Constitution. I will always be a partner for reproductive freedom at the federal level.

A strong economy, safe communities, opportunity, and respect for all—these are bedrock values for Nevadans, for all of us, for everyone here. I know that. By focusing on the issues that matter, I believe we can take action that makes a real, meaningful difference in people's lives. All of us in this Chamber have the distinct honor of serving this great state and the privilege of helping Nevadans every single day. I do believe that we can find that common ground, that we can achieve great things together when we work together and talk to each other—Republicans and Democrats at the federal and state levels worrying about what makes Nevada's communities successful. That is where we will thrive, and that is where we will do good work. Tonight, I commit to work with all of you to make sure the next chapter of Nevada's story is a bright one. Thank you all for what you do every day. It was my honor to address you tonight.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 13.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 36.

AN ACT relating to governmental administration; revising provisions governing the protections against reprisal or retaliatory action provided for a state officer or employee who discloses certain governmental action; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law encourages state officers and employees to disclose improper action and protects the rights of a state officer or employee who makes such a disclosure, commonly known as a whistleblower. (NRS 281.611, 281.621, 281.631, 281.641, 281.651, 281.661, 281.671) Existing law further: (1) requires a state officer or employee to use his or her official authority or influence to remedy any reprisal or retaliatory action of which the officer or employee becomes aware; and (2) prohibits a state officer or employee from using or attempting to use his or her official authority or influence to intimidate, threaten, coerce, command or influence another state officer or employee in an effort to interfere with or prevent the disclosure of information concerning improper governmental action. (NRS 281.631) If any violation of these requirements or prohibitions occur or any alleged reprisal or retaliatory action is taken against a state officer or employee who discloses information concerning improper action within 2 years after the information is disclosed, existing law authorizes the state officer or employee to file a written appeal with a hearing officer of the Personnel Commission of the Division of Human Resource Management of the Department of Administration. (NRS 281.641) This bill requires that any such written appeal be filed not later than ~~[10]~~ 60 working days after the date on which the alleged violation or reprisal or retaliatory action occurred.

Existing law authorizes a hearing officer who hears an appeal relating to alleged reprisal or retaliatory action against a state officer or employee for disclosing improper governmental action, upon determining that certain violations occurred or an action taken was a reprisal or retaliatory action to: (1) issue an order directing the proper person to desist and refrain from engaging in such a violation or action; or (2) terminate the employment of the proper person. (NRS 281.641) This bill eliminates the authority of a hearing officer to order the termination of employment of the proper person.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 281.641 is hereby amended to read as follows:

281.641 1. If any alleged violation of NRS 281.631 occurs or any alleged reprisal or retaliatory action is taken against a state officer or employee who discloses information concerning improper governmental action within 2 years after the information is disclosed, the state officer or employee may file a written appeal , not later than ~~[10]~~ 60 working days after the date on which the alleged violation or reprisal or retaliatory action occurred, with a hearing officer of the Personnel Commission for a determination of whether a violation of NRS 281.631 occurred or the action taken was a reprisal or retaliatory action, as applicable. The written appeal must be accompanied by a statement that sets forth with particularity, as applicable:

(a) The facts and circumstances relating to the alleged violation of NRS 281.631; or

(b) The facts and circumstances under which the disclosure of improper governmental action was made and the reprisal or retaliatory action that is alleged to have been taken against the state officer or employee.

➥ The hearing must be conducted in accordance with the procedures set forth in NRS 284.390 to 284.405, inclusive, and the procedures adopted by the Personnel Commission pursuant to subsection 5.

2. If the hearing officer determines that a violation of NRS 281.631 occurred or the action taken was a reprisal or retaliatory action, the hearing officer may issue an order directing ~~[~~:

~~(a) The~~] the proper person to desist and refrain from engaging in such a violation or action . ~~[~~; or

~~(b) The termination of the employment of the proper person.~~]

3. The hearing officer shall file a copy of the decision with the Governor or any other elected state officer who is responsible for the actions of that person.

4. The hearing officer may not rule against the state officer or employee based on the person or persons to whom the improper governmental action was disclosed.

5. The Personnel Commission may adopt rules of procedure for conducting a hearing pursuant to this section that are not inconsistent with the procedures set forth in NRS 284.390 to 284.405, inclusive.

6. As used in this section, "Personnel Commission" means the Personnel Commission created by NRS 284.030.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2023.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Torres.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 22.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 39.

AN ACT relating to contractors; revising provisions governing the actions that the State Contractors' Board is authorized or required to take after the issuance of a cease and desist order for unlicensed activity; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the State Contractors' Board to issue a cease and desist order to a person for acting as a contractor or submitting a bid on a job in this State without a license as a contractor and sets forth the actions that the Board is authorized or required to take after the issuance of the order. If the Board determines that the person to whom the cease and desist order was issued has not complied with the order, existing law requires the Board to: (1) for a first violation for which the value of the unlicensed work is $50,000 or less, issue a written administrative citation, conditioned upon the submission by the person of an application for a license as a contractor; and (2) for a second or subsequent violation, or a first violation for which the value of the unlicensed work exceeds $50,000, report the violation for possible criminal prosecution. If the Board determines that the person has complied with the cease and desist order, existing law: (1) requires the Board to issue an administrative citation and impose an administrative fine; and (2) authorizes the Board to require the person to submit an application for a license as a contractor. (NRS 624.212)

This bill replaces the separate procedures in existing law that the Board is required to follow after the issuance of a cease and desist order, depending upon whether the person to whom the order was issued complied with the order. Under the ~~[single procedure]~~ procedures set forth in this bill, the Board, regardless of the person's compliance with the order, is required to issue an administrative citation and impose an administrative fine for a first violation which does not involve theft or fraud. For a second or subsequent violation, or for any first violation involving theft or fraud, this bill requires the Board to either: (1) issue an administrative citation and impose an administrative fine; or (2) report the violation for possible criminal prosecution. This bill retains the authority of the Board in existing law to, after the issuance of a cease and desist order: (1) require the person to submit an application for a license as a contractor; and (2) apply for injunctive relief. ~~[This bill also eliminates distinctions in the procedures in existing law which are based on the number of previous violations and the value of the unlicensed work.]~~

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 624.212 is hereby amended to read as follows:

624.212 1. The Executive Officer, on behalf of the Board, shall issue an order to cease and desist to any person:

(a) Acting as a contractor, including, without limitation, commencing work as a contractor; or

(b) Submitting a bid on a job situated in this State,

➥ without a valid license issued pursuant to this chapter. The order must be served personally or by certified mail and is effective upon receipt. For the purposes of this section, a person shall be deemed to have a valid license if the person has an active license and is performing work in conformity with the requirements of subsection 4 of NRS 624.220.

2. After confirming that the cease and desist order has been received by the person to whom it was issued, the Board shall return to the job site or take any other action required to confirm that the terms of the cease and desist order have been complied with. The person to whom the cease and desist order was issued may, while in the course of stopping work on the job, take any necessary action within 48 hours after receiving the cease and desist order to protect the public, the project, any other contractors, laborers and equipment on the site and to limit the loss of any perishable goods.

3. ~~[If the Board determines that any term of a cease and desist order has not been complied with and no exception applies:~~

~~(a) The person to whom the cease and desist order was issued shall be deemed noncompliant with the cease and desist order and the person may not~~

~~complete the project, except for taking any necessary action to protect the public, the project, any other contractors, laborers and equipment and to limit the loss of any perishable goods.~~

~~(b) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c), for a first violation, the Board shall issue a written administrative citation pursuant to NRS 624.341, which may include any reasonable investigatory fees and costs, conditioned upon the submission by the person of a bona fide application for the issuance of a license pursuant to this chapter within a reasonable period established by the Board.~~

~~(c) For a second or subsequent violation, or for any first violation for which the reasonable value of the unlicensed work exceeds $50,000, the Board shall:~~

~~(1) Report the violation of the cease and desist order to the appropriate district attorney for possible criminal prosecution pursuant to NRS 624.700; and~~

~~(2) Provide any reasonable assistance in the prosecution.~~

~~(d) The Board may apply for injunctive relief pursuant to the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure to enjoin the person to whom the cease and desist order was issued from continuing to violate the cease and desist order in any county in which the person may be found. If such an action is filed, irreparable injury is presumed and the likelihood of success on the merits may be established by a showing that, on the date the cease and desist order was issued, the person did not hold a valid license issued pursuant to this chapter and had bid for or undertaken work for which such a license is required.~~

~~4. If the Board determines that the person to whom the~~ After issuing a cease and desist order , ~~was issued has complied with the order,~~ the Board ~~:~~ shall:

(a) ~~Shall~~ For a first violation which does not involve theft or fraud, issue ~~Issue~~ an administrative citation pursuant to NRS 624.341 and impose an administrative fine against the person in accordance with NRS 624.710, in addition to any reasonable investigatory fees and costs . ~~; and or~~

(b) ~~May require~~ For a second or subsequent violation, or for any first violation involving theft or fraud, either:

(1) Issue an administrative citation pursuant to NRS 624.341 and impose an administrative fine against the person in accordance with NRS 624.710, in addition to any reasonable investigatory fees and costs; or

(2) Report the violation of the provisions of this chapter for possible criminal prosecution pursuant to NRS 624.700. If the violation is prosecuted, the Board shall provide any reasonable assistance in the prosecution.

4. After issuing a cease and desist order, in addition to the actions required by subsection 3, the Board may:

(a) Require the person to submit a bona fide application for the issuance of a license pursuant to this chapter within a reasonable period established by the Board.

(b) If the Board determines that any term of the cease and desist order has not been complied with and no exception applies, apply for injunctive relief pursuant to the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure to enjoin the person to whom the cease and desist order was issued from continuing to violate the cease and desist order in any county in which the person may be found. If such an action is filed, irreparable injury is presumed and the likelihood of success on the merits may be established by a showing that, on the date the cease and desist order was issued, the person did not hold a valid license issued pursuant to this chapter and had bid for or undertaken work for which such a license is required.

5. When assessing an administrative fine pursuant to this section, the Board may:

(a) Require the person to whom the cease and desist order was issued to remedy any loss or damage caused by the unlicensed activity for which the order was issued, including, without limitation, the disgorgement of any amount of money collected from the owner of the project that was not for material delivered to the job site and that has not been damaged or altered by the person;

(b) Reduce or stay any administrative fine imposed pursuant to subsection ~~[4]~~ 3 pending completion by the person of a program of training or an examination required by the Board; or

(c) Reduce or stay any administrative fine imposed pursuant to subsection ~~[4]~~ 3 if the person obtains a valid license issued pursuant to this chapter.

(NRS 396.900) Under existing law, the University of Nevada School of Medicine may authorize the Nevada Health Service Corps to administer a program under which money for loans is repaid on behalf of a practitioner for each year he or she practices in an area of Nevada in which a shortage of that type of practitioner exists. In order to be eligible for the program, section 8 requires a provider of behavioral health care who practices in a hospital, other inpatient setting or outpatient setting or provides crisis management services to: (1) accept certain forms of payment commonly used by elderly or economically disadvantaged patients; and (2) provide services to all patients, regardless of their ability to pay. Sections 3 and 4 of this bill define certain relevant terms, and sections 2 and 5 of this bill make changes necessary to apply those definitions to provisions governing the Nevada Health Service Corps. Sections 6 and 7 of this bill expand the purposes of the Nevada Health Service Corps to include certain purposes relating to the duties prescribed by section 8, as those duties apply to providers of behavioral health care. Section 9 of this bill makes an appropriation from the State General Fund for allocation to the Nevada Health Service Corps to repay loans on behalf of providers of behavioral health care in accordance with section 8.

(NRS 450B.200) Section 1 of this bill extends the length of the permit from 1 year to ~~[5]~~ 2 years, and requires operators to notify the permitting health authority about any change in ownership or control within 90 days after the change. Section 2 of this bill clarifies that any permit that is issued on or before October 1, 2023, expires on July 1, 2024, and any renewal of such a permit expires ~~[5]~~ 2 years following the date of renewal.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

2. Each permit must be evidenced by a card issued to the holder of the permit.

3. No permit may be issued unless the applicant is qualified pursuant to the regulations of the board.

4. An application for a permit must be made upon forms prescribed by the board and in accordance with procedures established by the board, and must contain the following:

(a) The name and address of the owner of the ambulance or air ambulance or of the fire-fighting agency;

(b) The name under which the applicant is doing business or proposes to do business, if applicable;

(c) A description of each ambulance, air ambulance or vehicle of a fire-fighting agency, including the make, year of manufacture and chassis number, and the color scheme, insigne, name, monogram or other distinguishing characteristics to be used to designate the applicant's ambulance, air ambulance or vehicle;

6. All permits expire ~~[on July 1 5]~~ 2 years following the date of issue, and are renewable ~~[annually each fifth year]~~ biennially thereafter upon payment of the fee required by subsection 5 at least 30 days before the expiration date.

7. If a change in ownership or control occurs, or if operations change beyond the scope of the permit, the operator shall notify the health authority not later than 90 days after the change occurs.

~~[8.]~~ 9. The health authority may suspend a permit if the holder is using an ambulance, air ambulance or vehicle of a fire-fighting agency which does not meet the minimum requirements for equipment as established by the board pursuant to this chapter.

~~[11.]~~ 12. A permit issued pursuant to this section is valid throughout the State, whether issued by the Division or a district board of health. An ambulance, air ambulance or vehicle of a fire-fighting agency which has received a permit from the district board of health in a county whose population is 700,000 or more is not required to obtain a permit from the Division, even if the ambulance, air ambulance or vehicle of a fire-fighting agency has routine operations outside the county.

~~[13.]~~ 14. The board shall adopt such regulations as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

Remarks by Assemblyman Nguyen.

ASSEMBLYMAN NGUYEN:

As a strong advocate for financial literacy and readiness, I am proud to voice strong support for Senate Concurrent Resolution 2. This concurrent resolution declares April 2023 as Financial Literacy Month in the state of Nevada. Similarly, the United States Senate passed a resolution in 2003 officially designating April as Financial Literacy Month.

As many of you may recall, this body has a long history of commitment to making financial literacy in the classroom a reality for Nevada's schoolchildren. It is our duty as legislators to set up our young people for financial prosperity so that they can go on to lead healthy and successful lives. In 2019, this body passed Senate Bill 314 of the 80th Session which, among other things, required Nevada's Department of Education to establish a financial literacy month. The Department then established programs during the month related to saving and spending, employability skills, applying to college, applying for financial aid, and retirement and investments.

From health care costs to housing and transportation, young Nevadans today are forced to face many requirements and decisions all at once when they become adults. These financial challenges often force young people starting out to select among a sometimes-confusing mix of prices and fees. Financial literacy has been proven to have a positive impact in the financial health of individuals, families, and the citizens of this state. It is also critical to begin thinking about and developing financial skills as early in life as possible.

According to a 2018 Prosperity Now Scorecard, which ranks each state's health in various issues, including family financial health, Nevada ranked 48th overall for the prosperity of its residents and 43rd in the financial assets and income category. A 2023 update to the Prosperity Now Scorecard shows that Nevada has not seen a significant change in household net worth in the past five years.

The time to increase financial literacy awareness is now. Similar resolutions to the one before you today have been adopted with strong bipartisan support in many other states. I feel strongly and passionately that it is our job as elected leaders of this great state to do anything and everything we can to help increase awareness about the need for financial literacy in Nevada—not only for today, but for future generations of Nevadans. I encourage all of my colleagues to join me today and support the adoption of SCR 2.

Assembly Bill No. 23.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 40.

AN ACT relating to contractors; authorizing a person who is issued a written administrative citation by the State Contractors' Board to request an informal citation conference before the Executive Officer of the Board; establishing requirements and procedures for such an informal citation conference; ~~[establishing]~~ revising procedures by which a person is authorized to contest a citation ; ~~[which has been affirmed or modified following such an informal conference;]~~ providing that the failure of a person to comply with the terms of a citation which has been affirmed or modified within a certain period of time constitutes cause for disciplinary action; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the State Contractors' Board to issue or authorize the issuance of a written administrative citation to a person if the Board has reason to believe the person: (1) acted as a contractor without an active license of the proper classification; or (2) has violated provisions of existing law governing contractors or regulations of the Board. (NRS 624.341) Existing law authorizes a person who is issued such a citation to contest the citation within 15 business days after the date on which the citation was served and requires the Board to conduct a hearing on the matter. (NRS 624.345, 624.351) If a person does not contest a citation within that period and the Board does not extend that period, the citation is deemed a final order of the Board and not subject to review by any court or agency. (NRS 624.345) Section 4 of this bill revises the requirement for the Board to hold a hearing concerning a contested citation to require: (1) a person who wishes to contest a citation to submit to the Board written notice of his or her intent to contest the citation; and (2) the Board to hold the hearing on the matter within 90 calendar days after receipt of the written notice.

Section 1 of this bill creates an additional, informal process for the resolution of an administrative citation issued by the Board. Section 1 authorizes a person who is issued such a citation to submit to the Executive Officer of the Board, within 15 business days after the date on which the citation is served on the person, a written request for an informal citation conference. Under section 1, the Executive Officer is required to conduct an informal citation conference within 60 business days after receiving such a request. At the conclusion of the conference, section 1 requires the Executive Officer to affirm, modify or dismiss the citation and, if the citation is affirmed or modified, serve the affirmed or modified citation on the person or his or her attorney. Sections 1 and 3 of this bill authorize a person who wishes to contest a citation which has been affirmed or modified following an informal citation conference to contest the citation within 15 business days after the date on which the affirmed or modified citation is served on the person. If the person ~~[contests]~~ submits to the Board written notice of his or her intent to contest the affirmed or modified citation within that period, or if that period is extended by the Board, section 4 ~~[of this bill]~~ requires the Board to hold a hearing on the matter. If the person fails to contest the affirmed or modified citation within that period and that period is not extended by the Board, section 3 of this bill deems the affirmed or modified citation a final order of the Board and not subject to review by any court or agency.

Existing law provides that the failure of a person to comply with a citation issued by the Board within the period permitted for compliance set forth in the citation or, if a hearing is held, within 15 business days after the hearing, constitutes cause for disciplinary action by the Board. (NRS 624.302)

Section 2 of this bill provides that the failure of a person to comply with a citation that has been affirmed or modified following an informal citation conference within the time permitted for compliance or, if a hearing is held on the affirmed or modified citation, within 15 business days after the hearing, also constitutes cause for disciplinary action by the Board.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 624 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. A person who is issued a written citation pursuant to NRS 624.341 may, within 15 business days after the date on which the citation is served on the person, submit to the Executive Officer or his or her designee a written request for an informal citation conference.

2. The Executive Officer or his or her designee shall, within 60 business days after the date on which a written request for an informal citation conference is received, conduct an informal citation conference with the person who submitted the request. The person may be represented by legal counsel at the conference.

3. An informal citation conference may be conducted in an informal manner and is not required to be conducted in accordance with the requirements for the conduct of a hearing set forth in NRS 233B.121 to 233B.150, inclusive.

4. At the conclusion of an informal citation conference, the Executive Officer or his or her designee shall affirm, modify or dismiss the citation.

5. If the Executive Officer or his or her designee affirms or modifies a citation pursuant to subsection 4:

(a) The original citation issued pursuant to NRS 624.341 shall be considered withdrawn and replaced by the affirmed or modified citation; and

(b) The Executive Officer or his or her designee shall, within 15 business days after the date on which the informal citation conference is concluded, serve on the person and his or her counsel, if applicable, the affirmed or modified citation and a written statement of the reasons for the decision to affirm or modify the citation.

6. A person whose citation was affirmed or modified pursuant to this section:

(a) May contest the affirmed or modified citation in accordance with the procedures set forth in NRS 624.345.

Sec. 2. NRS 624.302 is hereby amended to read as follows:

➥ whichever occurs later.

4. The suspension, revocation or other disciplinary action taken by another state against a contractor based on a license issued by that state if the contractor is licensed in this State or applies for a license in this State. A certified copy of the suspension, revocation or other disciplinary action taken by another state against a contractor based on a license issued by that state is conclusive evidence of that action.

5. Failure or refusal to respond to a written request from the Board or its designee to cooperate in the investigation of a complaint.

6. Failure or refusal to comply with a written request by the Board or its designee for information or records, or obstructing or delaying the providing of such information or records.

Amendment No. 41.

AN ACT relating to contractors; requiring a general building contractor who provides management and counseling services on a construction project to have an active license in ~~[each classification or subclassification]~~ the same classifications and subclassifications that are required to be held by the prime contractor for the construction project; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

With certain exceptions, existing law provides that a contractor whose principal contracting business is in connection with the construction or remodeling of certain types of buildings or structures is considered to be a general building contractor. (NRS 624.215) Existing law authorizes a general building contractor to provide management and counseling services on a construction project for a professional fee. (NRS 624.215) This bill requires a general building contractor who provides such services to have an active license in ~~[each classification or subclassification]~~ the same classifications and subclassifications that ~~[is]~~ are required to be held by the prime contractor for the construction project.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 624.215 is hereby amended to read as follows:

624.215 1. For the purpose of classification, the contracting business includes the following branches:

(a) General engineering contracting.

(b) General building contracting.

(c) Specialty contracting.

➥ General engineering contracting and general building contracting are mutually exclusive branches.

2. A general engineering contractor is a contractor whose principal contracting business is in connection with fixed works, including irrigation, drainage, water supply, water power, flood control, harbors, railroads, highways, tunnels, airports and airways, sewers and sewage disposal systems, bridges, inland waterways, pipelines for transmission of petroleum and other liquid or gaseous substances, refineries, chemical plants and industrial plants requiring a specialized engineering knowledge and skill, power plants, piers and foundations and structures or work incidental thereto.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 5 and 6, a general building contractor is a contractor whose principal contracting business is in connection with the construction or remodeling of buildings or structures for the support, shelter and enclosure of persons, animals, chattels or movable property of any kind, requiring in their construction the use of more than two unrelated building trades or crafts, upon which he or she is a prime contractor and where the construction or remodeling of a building is the primary purpose. Unless he or she holds the appropriate specialty license, a general building contractor may only contract to perform specialty contracting if he or she is a prime contractor on a project. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4 of NRS 624.220, a general building contractor shall not perform specialty contracting in plumbing, electrical, refrigeration and air-conditioning or fire protection without a license for the specialty. A person who is licensed pursuant to chapter 489 of NRS and who exclusively constructs or repairs mobile homes, manufactured homes or commercial coaches is not a general building contractor.

4. A specialty contractor is a contractor whose operations as such are the performance of construction work requiring special skill and whose principal contracting business involves the use of specialized building trades or crafts.

5. A general engineering contractor, when acting as a prime contractor, may hire not more than one general building contractor to provide any work, materials or equipment as specified in subsection 3 on a single construction project.

6. A general building contractor may contract to provide management and counseling services on a construction project for a professional fee. A general building contractor who has contracted to provide management and counseling services ~~[may]~~ ***:

(a) Must have an active license in ~~[each classification or subclassification]~~ the same classifications and subclassifications that ~~[is]~~ are required to be held by the prime contractor on the project.

(b) May hire not more than one general building contractor to provide any work, materials or equipment as specified in subsection 3 on a single construction project.

7. A single construction project must be limited to not more than one general building contractor who provides management and counseling services for a professional fee and not more than one general building contractor who provides any work, materials or equipment as specified in subsection 3.

8. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, each construction project must have one, but not more than one, prime contractor who is a licensed contractor and is responsible for the work, materials and equipment for the construction project. A construction project is not required to have a prime contractor if the work for the construction project or the person providing the work for the construction project is exempt pursuant to NRS 624.031.

9. This section does not prevent the Board from establishing, broadening, limiting or otherwise effectuating classifications in a manner consistent with established custom, usage and procedure found in the building trades. The Board is specifically prohibited from establishing classifications in such a manner as to determine or limit craft jurisdictions.

10. As used in this section, "prime contractor" means:

(a) A general engineering contractor who enters into an oral or written agreement with an owner of a construction project or an agent of an owner to provide any work, materials or equipment for which the general engineering contractor is licensed;

(b) A general building contractor who enters into an oral or written agreement with an owner of a construction project or an agent of an owner to provide any work, materials or equipment for which the general building contractor is licensed;

(c) A general engineering contractor and general building contractor who enter into an oral or written agreement with an owner of a construction project or an agent of an owner to provide any work, materials or equipment for which the general engineering contractor and general building contractor are licensed; or

(d) A specialty contractor who enters into an oral or written agreement with an owner of a construction project or an agent of an owner to provide:

(1) Any work, materials or equipment for which the specialty contractor is licensed; and

(2) Any other work which is incidental and supplemental thereto.

Sec. 2. The amendatory provisions of section 1 of this act do not apply to a contract entered into before the effective date of this act, but do apply to any renewal or extension of such a contract.

Sec. 3. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval.

Amendment No. 43.

AN ACT relating to contractors; authorizing the State Contractors' Board to adopt regulations establishing mandatory elements to be included in contracts for work concerning certain residential improvements; establishing certain requirements for such contracts and for residential contractors who enter into such contracts; making the failure to comply with those requirements a cause for disciplinary action; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law sets forth certain requirements pertaining to contracts used by a contractor and the owner of a single-family residence for work concerning a residential photovoltaic system used to produce electricity or work concerning a residential pool or spa. (NRS 624.875, 624.940) Section 1 of this bill imposes similar requirements pertaining to a contract used by a residential contractor and the owner of a completed single-family residence who occupies the single-family residence for any construction, remodeling, repair or improvement performed by a residential contractor to the single-family residence or any activity for the supervision of such work. Section 1 authorizes the State Contractors' Board to adopt regulations establishing mandatory elements to be included in such a contract. Section 1 also sets forth certain information that is required to be included in such a contract. Section 1 further requires a residential contractor to: (1) furnish to the owner with whom the residential contractor has contracted for work concerning a residential improvement a copy of all documents signed and a receipt for any money paid to the residential contractor; and (2) apply for and obtain all necessary permits. If a contract entered into between a residential contractor and the owner for work concerning a residential improvement does not comply with the provisions of section 1 and any applicable regulations adopted by the Board, section 1 provides that the contract is voidable by the owner.

Existing law sets forth certain acts and omissions that constitute cause for disciplinary action against a contractor by the Board, including , without limitation, failure to comply with requirements for contracts for work concerning residential pools and spas and for work concerning residential photovoltaic systems used to produce electricity. (NRS 624.3016) Section 2 of this bill makes a contractor's failure to comply with requirements for contracts for work concerning a residential improvement or regulations adopted by the Board governing such contracts cause for such disciplinary action. Section 3 of this bill makes a conforming change as a result of this additional cause for disciplinary action.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 624 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. The Board may adopt by regulation mandatory elements to be included in all contracts to be used by residential contractors for work concerning a residential improvement. Such mandatory elements must not be waived or limited by contract or in any other manner. On and after October 1, 2023, any contract entered into between a residential contractor and the owner of a single-family residence who occupies the single-family residence for work concerning a residential improvement must comply with the provisions of this section and all applicable regulations adopted by the Board. A contract that does not comply with the provisions of this section and all applicable regulations adopted by the Board is voidable by the owner of the single-family residence.

2. Any contract for work concerning a residential improvement must contain in writing at least the following information:

(a) The name of the residential contractor, his or her address and contractor's license number and the monetary limit on that license.

(b) The name and mailing address of the owner of the single-family residence on which the work is being performed and the address or legal description of the property.

(c) The date of execution of the contract.

(d) The estimated date of completion of all work to be performed under the contract.

(e) A description of the work to be performed under the contract.

(f) The total amount to be paid to the residential contractor by the owner for all work to be performed under the contract, including all applicable taxes.

(g) The amount, not to exceed $1,000 or 10 percent of the aggregate contract price, whichever is less, of any initial down payment or deposit paid or promised to be paid to the residential contractor by the owner before the start of the work. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply if the residential contractor has filed with the Board a bond solely for the protection of consumers in the amount of $100,000.

(h) A statement that the residential contractor has provided the owner with the notice and informational form required by NRS 624.520 and 624.600.

(i) A statement that any change in the scope or price of the work to be performed under the contract must be agreed to in writing by the parties and incorporated into the original contract as a change order. A change order is not enforceable against the owner who is contracting for work concerning a residential improvement unless the change order sets forth all changes in the scope and price of the work and is accepted by the owner.

(j) For a project of new work concerning a residential improvement, a plan and scale drawing showing the shape, size and dimensions of and the specifications for the construction and equipment for the work specified in the contract, and a description of the work to be done, the materials to be used and the equipment to be installed, and the agreed consideration for the work. For projects which consist exclusively of repairs to existing work concerning a residential improvement, plans, scale drawings, equipment specifications and lists of materials and equipment are not required to be contained in or included with the contract.

(k) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the dollar amount of any progress payment and the stage of construction at which the residential contractor will be entitled to collect progress payments from the owner during the course of construction under a contract for work concerning a residential improvement. The schedule of payments must show the amount of each payment as a sum in dollars and cents. The schedule of payments must not provide for the residential contractor to receive, nor may the residential contractor actually receive, payments in excess of 100 percent of the value of the work performed on the project at any time, excluding finance charges, except for an initial down payment or deposit. With respect to a contract executed before October 1, 2023, if any schedule of payments set forth in the contract does not comply with the provisions of this chapter or any regulations adopted pursuant thereto:

(1) The obligation of the owner to make payments in accordance with the payment schedule is voidable; and

(2) The lender, if any, may not initiate proceedings to enforce the payment of any applicable loan unless and until the contract is reformed or otherwise amended to comply with those provisions of law.

➥ The provisions of this paragraph do not apply if the residential contractor has furnished a bond for payment and performance covering full performance and completion of the contract and the cost of the bond is included in the price of the project.

(l) If the contract provides for payment of a commission to a salesperson out of the contract price, a statement that the payment must be made on a pro rata basis in proportion to the schedule of payments made to the residential contractor by the disbursing party in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (k).

➥ Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, the contract may contain such other conditions, stipulations or provisions to which the parties may agree.

3. The contract must contain:

(a) A method whereby the owner may initial provisions of the contract, thereby indicating that those provisions have been read and are understood.

(b) In close proximity to the signatures of the owner and the residential contractor, a notice stating that the owner:

(1) May contact the Board if assistance is needed to clarify any of the provisions of the contract that the owner does not fully understand;

(2) Has the right to request a bond for payment and performance if such a bond is not otherwise required pursuant to NRS 624.270;

(3) May contact an attorney for an explanation of the rights of the owner under the contract; and

(4) May, if the contract was explained in a language other than the language in which the contract is written, ask for a contract that is written in the language in which the contract was explained.

4. At the time the owner signs the contract, the residential contractor shall furnish to the owner a legible copy of all documents signed and a written and signed receipt for any money paid to the residential contractor by the owner. All written information provided in the contract must be printed in at least 10-point bold type. The contract, receipt and other documents referenced in this subsection may be delivered by electronic means.

5. A condition, stipulation or provision in a contract that requires a person to waive any right provided by this chapter or any regulations adopted pursuant thereto or relieves a person of an obligation or liability imposed by this chapter or those regulations is void. Failure to comply with the requirements of this section renders a contract voidable by the owner.

6. The residential contractor shall apply for and obtain all necessary permits.

7. As used in this section:

(a) "Contract" means any contract or agreement in which a residential contractor agrees to perform work concerning a residential improvement.

(b) "Residential contractor" means a contractor who is licensed pursuant to this chapter and who contracts with the owner of a single-family residence to perform work concerning a residential improvement.

(c) "Single-family residence" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 624.455.

Amendment No. 8.

~~[CONTAINS UNFUNDED MANDATE (§ 1)~~
~~(Not Requested by Affected Local Government)]~~

AN ACT relating to historical preservation; revising provisions relating to the responsibility for the installation, interpretation, maintenance and protection of historical markers; ~~[making various other changes related to the State Historical Marker Registry; providing a penalty;]~~ and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the Administrator of the Office of Historic Preservation of the State Department of Conservation and Natural Resources to: (1) establish the qualifications and standards for a historical markers program, designate and make an inventory of qualified sites on both public and privately owned lands and place and maintain historical markers on all public lands and all private lands when the owner consents; (2) establish a state historical marker registry system; and (3) install, maintain and protect, with certain exceptions, all registered historical markers. (NRS 383.091)

Section 1 of this bill eliminates the requirement for the Administrator to place and maintain historical markers on all public lands and private lands.

Existing law authorizes the Administrator to contract with, or cooperate with, public or private agencies for suitable markers and directional signs, including signs on highways and roads, at the site of, or on the approaches to, registered historical markers. (NRS 383.091) Section 1 eliminates such authority. ~~[and]~~

Section 4.5 of this bill requires ~~[instead]~~ that the ~~[state agency or political subdivision on whose property a historical marker is located]~~ Administrator of the Division of State Parks of the State Department of Conservation and Natural Resources be responsible for the installation, interpretation, maintenance and protection of ~~[the]~~ all registered historical ~~[marker and all directional signs at the site of, or on the approaches to, such markers. Section 1 further requires, to the extent that money is available and authorized to be used for the purpose, that the Administrator reimburse the eligible costs of a local government, nonprofit organization or private landowner to install, maintain or protect registered historical]~~ markers.

Existing law requires the Administrator of the Office of Historic Preservation to consult with the Nevada Historical Society to determine the content of the legend on all historical markers and grants the Nevada Historical Society final authority to determine the content of any legend. (NRS 383.091) Section 1 eliminates the granting of such authority to the Nevada Historical Society and instead requires the Administrator to prepare the legend for any new marker identified in the inventory of qualified sites, upon request by any state agency or political subdivision.

~~[Existing law requires the Administrator of the State Public Works Division of the Department of Administration to direct the making of all repairs and improvements on certain buildings, grounds and properties. (NRS 331.070) Section 2 of this bill requires the Administrator to also direct the making of all repairs and maintenance of historical markers that are on such buildings, grounds and properties and are registered in the State Historical Marker Registry.~~

~~Existing law requires the Department of Transportation to cause to be put up, and to be kept up thereafter, certain road markers, highway signs and informative signs. (NRS 408.417) Section 3 of this bill requires the Department to also cause to be put up, and to be kept up thereafter, historical markers that are registered in the State Historical Marker Registry and located in the highway right of way, in consultation with the Office of Historic Preservation.]~~

Amendment No. 20.

AN ACT relating to public safety; revising the period for the mandatory arrest of a person suspected of committing certain crimes against certain persons; ~~[revising the list of acts that constitute domestic violence when committed against certain persons; authorizing a court to include in certain orders for protection a provision authorizing the recording of certain communications;]~~ revising the penalties for the commission of certain crimes in violation of certain orders for protection; prohibiting a court from granting probation to or suspending the sentence of a person charged with committing a battery which constitutes domestic violence under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

With certain exceptions, existing law requires a peace officer to arrest a person when the peace officer has probable cause to believe that the person to be arrested has, within the preceding 24 hours, committed a battery which constitutes domestic violence. (NRS 171.137) Existing law also requires a peace officer investigating an act of domestic violence to provide a person suspected of being the victim of an act of domestic violence with a written statement setting forth the circumstances under which the peace officer is required to arrest the person suspected of committing the act of domestic violence. (NRS 171.1225) Section 2 of this bill ~~[extends the period during which]~~ requires a peace officer ~~[is required]~~ to arrest a person suspected of committing a battery which constitutes domestic violence ~~[from]~~ : (1) if the peace officer encountered the person while responding to the initial request for assistance relating to the battery, within 24 hours after the alleged battery [~~to within 14~~] ; or (2) if the peace officer did not not encounter the person while responding to the initial request for assistance relating to the battery, within 7 days after the alleged battery. Section 1 of this bill makes a conforming change to the written statement a peace officer must provide to a suspected victim of domestic violence.

Existing law authorizes a peace officer, whether or not a warrant has been issued, to arrest a person when the peace officer has probable cause to believe that the person to be arrested has, within the preceding 24 hours, committed a battery upon a person with whom he or she is actually residing or upon a sibling or cousin, if the person is not the custodian or guardian of the sibling or cousin. (NRS 171.1375) Section 3 of this bill [~~extends that~~] revises the period for such a discretionary arrest [~~from~~] to be: (1) if the peace officer encountered the person while responding to the initial request for assistance relating to the battery, within 24 hours after the alleged battery [~~to within 14~~] ; or (2) if the peace officer did not encounter the person to be arrested while responding to the initial request for assistance relating to the battery, within 7 days after the alleged battery.

~~[Existing law sets forth a list of certain unlawful acts that constitute domestic violence when committed against or upon certain persons. (NRS 33.018) Section 5 of this bill expands the list of acts that constitute domestic violence to include an attempt to commit any of those acts. Sections 4, 9-13, 19 and 20 of this bill make a conforming change to include in the definition of domestic violence an attempt to commit any of those acts.~~

~~Existing law authorizes a court to issue a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence if it appears to the satisfaction of the court that an act of domestic violence has occurred or there exists a threat of domestic violence. (NRS 33.020, 33.030) Existing law also makes it unlawful, with certain exceptions, for a person to record his or her own telephone call without the consent of the other person on the call. (NRS 200.620; Lane v. Allstate Ins. Co., 114 Nev. 1176 (1998), cited, McLellan v. State, 124 Nev. 263 (2008)) Section 6 of this bill provides that a court issuing a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence may, after considering certain factors, include a provision in the order authorizing the person who applied for the order to record any communication with the adverse party for the purpose of obtaining evidence reasonably believed to relate to a violation of the order. Sections 7, 8, 15 and 17 of this bill provide that a court may make a similar authorization regarding the recording of communications for a person who applies for a temporary or extended order: (1) for protection against harassment in the workplace; (2) for the protection of a child; (3) to restrict the conduct of a person who may have committed sexual assault; or (4) to restrict the conduct of a person who may have committed the crime of stalking,~~

~~aggravated stalking or harassment. Section 18 of this bill makes a conforming change to provide an exception to the general prohibition on intercepting or attempting to intercept a wire communication if such an interception has been authorized by a court in its order pursuant to section 6, 8, 15 or 17.]~~

Existing law provides that a person who commits a crime that is punishable as a felony in violation of certain orders for protection must, in addition to the term of imprisonment for the underlying crime, be punished by imprisonment for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 20 years. However, if the underlying crime is punishable as a category A or B felony, the person must be additionally punished by imprisonment for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 5 years. (NRS 193.166) Section 14 of this bill provides instead that if the underlying crime is punishable as a category A or B felony, the additional period of imprisonment must be for a maximum term of not more than 20 years, but if the underlying crime is not punishable as a category A or B felony, the additional period of imprisonment must be for a maximum term of not more than 5 years.

Existing law provides that a court may not grant probation to or suspend the sentence of a person who is charged with committing a battery which constitutes domestic violence that is punishable as a misdemeanor, except that: (1) a justice court or municipal court may suspend the sentence of such a person under certain circumstances; and (2) a court may suspend the sentence of such a person to assign the person to a program for the treatment of veterans and members of the military. Existing law does not expressly prohibit a court from granting probation to or suspending the sentence of a person who is charged with committing a battery which constitutes domestic violence that is punishable as a gross misdemeanor or felony. (NRS 200.485) Section 16 of this bill ~~[maintains such existing law with respect to a person who is charged with committing a battery which constitutes domestic violence that is punishable as a misdemeanor, but]~~ prohibits ~~[the]~~ a court from granting ~~[of]~~ probation to or ~~[suspension of]~~ suspending the sentence of a person who is charged with committing a battery which constitutes domestic violence that is punishable as a ~~[gross misdemeanor or]~~ felony.

2. The failure of a peace officer to carry out the requirements set forth in subsection 1 is not a defense in a criminal prosecution for the commission of an act of domestic violence, nor may such an omission be considered as negligence or as causation in any civil action against the peace officer or the officer's employer.

3. As used in this section:

(a) "Act of domestic violence" means any of the following acts committed by a person against his or her spouse, former spouse, any other person to whom he or she is related by blood or marriage, a person with whom he or she has had or is having a dating relationship, a person with whom he or she has a child in common, the minor child of any of those persons or his or her minor child:

If the peace officer determines that one of the persons who allegedly committed a battery was the primary physical aggressor involved in the incident, the peace officer is not required to arrest any other person believed to have committed a battery during the incident. In determining whether a person is a primary physical aggressor for the purposes of this subsection, the peace officer shall consider:

(d) Whether one of the alleged batteries was committed in self-defense; and

(e) Any other factor that may help the peace officer decide which person was the primary physical aggressor.

3. A peace officer shall not base a decision regarding whether to arrest a person pursuant to this section on the peace officer's perception of the willingness of a victim or a witness to the incident to testify or otherwise participate in related judicial proceedings.

4. Nothing in this section shall be construed to impose liability upon a peace officer or his or her employer for a determination made in good faith by the peace officer not to arrest a person pursuant to this section.

5. The provisions of this section do not apply to:

(a) Siblings, except those siblings who are in a custodial or guardianship relationship with each other; or

(b) Cousins, except those cousins who are in a custodial or guardianship relationship with each other.

If it appears to the court that joint physical custody would be in the best interest of the child, the court may grant physical custody to the parties jointly.~~

~~2. Preference must not be given to either parent for the sole reason that the parent is the mother or the father of the child.~~

~~3. The court shall award physical custody in the following order of preference unless in a particular case the best interest of the child requires otherwise:~~

~~(a) To both parents jointly pursuant to NRS 125C.0025 or to either parent pursuant to NRS 125C.003. If the court does not enter an order awarding joint physical custody of a child after either parent has applied for joint physical custody, the court shall state in its decision the reason for its denial of the parent's application.~~

~~(b) To a person or persons in whose home the child has been living and where the child has had a wholesome and stable environment.~~

~~(c) To any person related within the fifth degree of consanguinity to the child whom the court finds suitable and able to provide proper care and guidance for the child, regardless of whether the relative resides within this State.~~

~~(d) To any other person or persons whom the court finds suitable and able to provide proper care and guidance for the child.~~

~~4. In determining the best interest of the child, the court shall consider and set forth its specific findings concerning, among other things:~~

~~(a) The wishes of the child if the child is of sufficient age and capacity to form an intelligent preference as to his or her physical custody.~~

~~(b) Any nomination of a guardian for the child by a parent.~~

~~(c) Which parent is more likely to allow the child to have frequent associations and a continuing relationship with the noncustodial parent.~~

~~(d) The level of conflict between the parents.~~

~~(e) The ability of the parents to cooperate to meet the needs of the child.~~

~~(f) The mental and physical health of the parents.~~

~~(g) The physical, developmental and emotional needs of the child.~~

~~(h) The nature of the relationship of the child with each parent.~~

~~(i) The ability of the child to maintain a relationship with any sibling.~~

~~(j) Any history of parental abuse or neglect of the child or a sibling of the child.~~

~~(k) Whether either parent or any other person seeking physical custody has engaged in an act of domestic violence against the child, a parent of the child or any other person residing with the child.~~

~~(l) Whether either parent or any other person seeking physical custody has committed any act of abduction against the child or any other child.~~

~~5. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6 or NRS 125C.210, a determination by the court after an evidentiary hearing and finding by clear and convincing evidence that either parent or any other person seeking physical custody has engaged in one or more acts of domestic violence against the child, a parent of the child or any other person residing with the child creates a rebuttable presumption that sole or joint physical custody of the child by the perpetrator of the domestic violence is not in the best interest of the child. Upon making such a determination, the court shall set forth:~~

~~(a) Findings of fact that support the determination that one or more acts of domestic violence occurred; and~~

~~(b) Findings that the custody or visitation arrangement ordered by the court adequately protects the child and the parent or other victim of domestic violence who resided with the child.~~

~~6. If after an evidentiary hearing held pursuant to subsection 5 the court determines that each party has engaged in acts of domestic violence, it shall, if possible, then determine which person was the primary physical aggressor. In determining which party was the primary physical aggressor for the purposes of this section, the court shall consider:~~

~~(a) All prior acts of domestic violence involving either party;~~

~~(b) The relative severity of the injuries, if any, inflicted upon the persons involved in those prior acts of domestic violence;~~

~~(d) Whether, during the prior acts, one of the parties acted in self-defense; and~~

~~In such a case, if it is not possible for the court to determine which party is the primary physical aggressor, the presumption created pursuant to subsection 5 applies to both parties. If it is possible for the court to determine which party is the primary physical aggressor, the presumption created pursuant to subsection 5 applies only to the party determined by the court to be the primary physical aggressor.~~

~~7. A determination by the court after an evidentiary hearing and finding by clear and convincing evidence that either parent or any other person seeking physical custody has committed any act of abduction against the child or any other child creates a rebuttable presumption that sole or joint physical custody or unsupervised visitation of the child by the perpetrator of the abduction is not in the best interest of the child. If the parent or other person seeking physical custody does not rebut the presumption, the court shall not enter an order for sole or joint physical custody or unsupervised visitation of the child by the perpetrator and the court shall set forth:~~

~~(a) Findings of fact that support the determination that one or more acts of abduction occurred; and~~

~~(b) Findings that the custody or visitation arrangement ordered by the court adequately protects the child and the parent or other person from whom the child was abducted.~~

~~8. For the purposes of subsection 7, any of the following acts constitute conclusive evidence that an act of abduction occurred:~~

~~(a) A conviction of the defendant of any violation of NRS 200.310 to 200.340, inclusive, or 200.359 or a law of any other jurisdiction that prohibits the same or similar conduct;~~

~~(b) A plea of guilty or nolo contendere by the defendant to any violation of NRS 200.310 to 200.340, inclusive, or 200.359 or a law of any other jurisdiction that prohibits the same or similar conduct; or~~

~~(c) An admission by the defendant to the court of the facts contained in the charging document alleging a violation of NRS 200.310 to 200.340, inclusive, or 200.359 or a law of any other jurisdiction that prohibits the same or similar conduct.~~

~~9. If, after a court enters a final order concerning physical custody of the child, a magistrate determines there is probable cause to believe that an act of abduction has been committed against the child or any other child and that a person who has been awarded sole or joint physical custody or unsupervised visitation of the child has committed the act, the court shall, upon a motion to modify the order concerning physical custody, reconsider the previous order concerning physical custody pursuant to subsections 7 and 8.~~

~~(a) "Abduction" means the commission of an act described in NRS 200.310 to 200.340, inclusive, or 200.359 or a law of any other jurisdiction that prohibits the same or similar conduct.~~

Upon making such a determination, the court shall set forth:~~

~~(a) Findings of fact that support the determination that one or more acts of domestic violence occurred; and~~

~~(b) Findings that the custody or visitation arrangement ordered by the court adequately protects the child and the parent or other victim of domestic violence who resided with the child.~~

~~2. If after an evidentiary hearing held pursuant to subsection 1 the court determines that more than one party has engaged in acts of domestic violence, it shall, if possible, determine which person was the primary physical aggressor. In determining which party was the primary physical aggressor for the purposes of this section, the court shall consider:~~

~~(a) All prior acts of domestic violence involving any of the parties;~~

~~(b) The relative severity of the injuries, if any, inflicted upon the persons involved in those prior acts of domestic violence;~~

~~(c) The likelihood of future injury;~~

~~(d) Whether, during the prior acts, one of the parties acted in self-defense; and~~

~~In such a case, if it is not possible for the court to determine which party is the primary physical aggressor, the presumption created pursuant to subsection 1 applies to each of the parties. If it is possible for the court to determine which party is the primary physical aggressor, the presumption created pursuant to subsection 1 applies only to the party determined by the court to be the primary physical aggressor.~~

AN ACT relating to vehicles; authorizing certain vehicles to drive on the paved shoulder of a highway under certain circumstances; revising provisions governing the acts required of a driver of a vehicle upon the immediate approach of certain emergency or official vehicles; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law sets forth the limited conditions under which the driver of a vehicle may overtake and pass upon the right of another vehicle. (NRS 484B.210) Section 1 of this bill allows authorized emergency vehicles, vehicles which have been issued permits as authorized emergency vehicles, traffic incident management vehicles of the Department of Transportation, tow cars , coroner vehicles and buses of public transit systems to drive on the paved ~~[right]~~ shoulder of a highway where lawfully placed signage allows such vehicles to use the shoulder in that manner.

Existing law requires a driver of a vehicle, upon the approach of an authorized emergency vehicle or official vehicle of a regulatory agency making use of certain flashing lights, to yield the right-of-way, drive to a position parallel to, and as close as possible to, the right-hand edge or curb of a highway and stop. (NRS 484B.267) Section 2 of this bill prohibits a driver from driving to and stopping in a position on a paved ~~[right]~~ shoulder of a highway where lawfully placed signage allows certain vehicles described in section 1 to drive on the shoulder.

(NRS 484B.587) Section 3 of this bill authorizes certain vehicles described in section 1 to drive on the paved shoulder of a controlled-access highway where lawfully placed signage allows such vehicles to use the shoulder in that manner.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 57.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 11.

AN ACT relating to motor vehicles; revising provisions relating to a lien on a motor vehicle; revising the date by which the Director of the Department of ~~[Public Safety]~~ Motor Vehicles is required to submit certain reports concerning garages, garage operators and body shops; repealing provisions relating to special license plates issued to honorary consuls of foreign countries; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, certain persons who store, maintain, keep, repair or furnish facilities or services for certain vehicles have a lien on such vehicles.

(NRS 108.265-108.367) Existing law authorizes a person who has such a lien to satisfy the lien by selling the vehicle at an auction held at or near the place where the lien was acquired. Section 1 of this bill ~~[additionally authorizes]~~ provides that, if a person who has such a lien ~~[to]~~ is unable to sell the vehicle at a public auction for the fair market value of the vehicle, the person may satisfy the lien by selling the vehicle by private sale directly to a third-party purchaser in an arm's length transaction . ~~[under certain circumstances. Section 1 requires every aspect of a sale held to satisfy a lien to be commercially reasonable, regardless of whether the sale is held by public auction or by private sale.~~

~~Existing law requires an advertisement for the sale of a vehicle for purposes of satisfying a lien to be published in a newspaper that is published in the place where the sale is to be held. (NRS 108.310) Section 1 also authorizes such an advertisement of a sale to be published in a publication of a nationally recognized media outlet made available on the Internet.]~~ Section 1 also removes the requirement that a sale must be held at or near the place where the lien was acquired.

On November 16, 2021, the United States Department of State issued a notice indicating that it is the preference of the Office of Foreign Missions of the United States Department of State that states cease issuing special license plates to honorary consular officers. (United States Department of State, "Cessation of Honorary Consul License Plates," November 16, 2021) In accordance with that notice, section 7 of this bill repeals provisions of existing law which provide for the issuance of special license plates to a person appointed as an honorary consul of a foreign country, thereby terminating the production and distribution of such plates. (NRS 482.3675) Sections 2 and 3 of this bill make conforming changes by eliminating references to the repealed section.

Existing law requires the Director of the Department of ~~[Public Safety]~~ Motor Vehicles to prepare and submit an annual report concerning garages, garage operators and body shops to the Legislative Commission or Legislature, as appropriate, on or before January 1 of each year. (NRS 487.557) Section 4 of this bill instead requires the Director to submit this report on or before February 1 of each year. Section 4 also updates references to the standing committees to whom the report will be transmitted.

In general, the Act prohibits a person from engaging in certain deceptive acts, practices or courses of business in connection with the offer, sale or purchase of a security. (NRS 90.570-90.610) The Act also authorizes certain sanctions against a person who violates these prohibitions, including civil penalties, criminal fines and payment of restitution. (NRS 90.630, 90.640, 90.650) The Nevada Constitution entitles a victim of a crime to full and timely restitution and requires all monetary payments, money and property collected from any person ordered to make restitution be first applied to pay the amounts ordered as restitution to the victim. (Nev. Const. Art. 1, § 8A)

Section 6 of this bill creates the Fund for the Compensation of Victims of Securities Fraud and requires that the money in the Fund be used for the compensation of certain victims to whom restitution is owed. Section 2 of this bill defines the term "Fund" to mean the Fund for the Compensation of Victims of Securities Fraud. Section 3 of this bill: (1) establishes the process by which certain persons to whom a court orders restitution may apply for and receive compensation from the Fund; (2) authorizes an applicant to appeal a determination made concerning an award of compensation from the Fund; and (3) makes confidential certain information and documentation submitted in connection with such an application. Section 9 of this bill makes a conforming change relating to the information made confidential pursuant to section 3.

Existing law requires all money received by the Division or the Administrator pursuant to the Act to be deposited in the State General Fund. (NRS 90.630, 90.650, 90.710) Section 8 of this bill requires all money received by the Administrator as a result of an enforcement action relating to securities to be deposited with the State Treasurer for credit to the Fund.

Amendment No. 21.

AN ACT relating to criminal procedure; requiring each office of a prosecuting attorney to maintain certain records relating to certain informants; requiring a prosecuting attorney to make certain disclosures to the defendant relating to informants; requiring a court to instruct jurors to consider certain information relating to informants; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law imposes a duty upon a prosecuting attorney and a defendant to disclose certain information before and during a ~~[hearing or]~~ trial, including, without limitation, information relating to witnesses and evidence. (NRS 174.233-174.295) Section 7 of this bill provides that if a prosecuting attorney intends to use testimony ~~[or information]~~ provided by an informant in a ~~[hearing or]~~ trial, the prosecuting attorney is required to disclose the following information or materials to the defendant: (1) a summary of the criminal history of the informant; (2) a copy of any cooperation agreement; (3) any benefit that has been ~~[requested by, offered or provided to]~~ or ~~[may]~~ will be provided to the informant in exchange for his or her testimony ; ~~[or information;]~~ (4) the substance and, if known, the time and place of any statement made by the defendant to the informant that is relevant to the ~~[hearing or]~~ trial and any statement implicating the defendant that was made by the informant to a law enforcement officer; (5) details relating to any occasion on which the informant recanted his or her testimony; and (6) any other case known to the prosecuting attorney in which the informant testified in exchange for a benefit and the benefit offered or provided . ~~[or the informant offered to provide testimony in exchange for a benefit but did not testify in the case.]~~ Section 7 requires such disclosures to be made as soon as is practicable before a trial, but not later than 30 days before the ~~[hearing or]~~ trial , unless the court revises the deadline for making the disclosures or the court continues the ~~[hearing or]~~ trial.

Section 7 also provides that if a court finds that making the disclosures may result in substantial bodily harm to the informant, the court may order the disclosures to only be made to the attorney for the defendant, and not to the defendant or any other party. Finally, section 7 requires a court to instruct the jury to consider certain information in assessing the credibility of an informant.

Section 6 of this bill requires each office of a prosecuting attorney to maintain complete and systematic records of cases prosecuted by the office in which testimony ~~[or information]~~ is provided by an informant pursuant to a cooperation agreement. Sections 6 and 8 of this bill provide that such records are confidential and not considered public books or records.

Sections 3-5 of this bill define the terms "benefit," "cooperation agreement" and "informant," respectively, for the purposes of this bill. Section 2 of this bill makes a conforming change related to the definitions.

Amendment No. 55.

AN ACT relating to counties; authorizing, under certain circumstances, a board of county commissioners to convey without consideration real property acquired directly from the Federal Government for purposes of clearing title to certain persons; exempting such transfers from the real property transfer tax; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law sets forth certain procedures for a board of county commissioners to transfer or sell real property. (NRS 244.2795-244.296) Section 1 of this bill authorizes a board of county commissioners to convey, without consideration and without complying with certain requirements in existing law, real property that the county acquired directly from the Federal Government for the purpose of clearing title to the property. (NRS 244.281) The real property must be conveyed to the person or persons, as applicable, who have an interest in the property. To convey such real property, section 1 requires the board of county commissioners to execute and record a deed, which is effective upon recordation. Section 1 further requires the board of county commissioners, upon recordation of the deed, to send actual notice by certified mail to the person or persons to whom the property was conveyed. The notice must include, without limitation, a copy of the recorded deed and information on how the person may disclaim the interest in the property.

Section 5.5 of this bill provides that if a board of county commissioners conveys any real property pursuant to section 1 between October 1, 2023, and June 30, 2024, the county recorder of the county shall report to the Joint Interim Standing Committee on Government Affairs the number of such conveyances initiated or completed.

Sections 2 and 3 of this bill make conforming changes to exempt such conveyances from the provisions that generally apply to the sale or lease of property by a board of county commissioners.

Section 5 of this bill exempts conveyances executed pursuant to section 1 from the real property transfer tax.

Section 4 of this bill indicates the proper placement of section 1 in the Nevada Revised Statutes.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 244 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

(a) The real property was acquired by the county directly from the Federal Government for the purpose of clearing title to the real property; and

(b) The board of county commissioners conveys the real property to the person or persons, as applicable, who have an interest in the real property.

2. If the board of county commissioners conveys real property pursuant to subsection 1, the board must execute and record a deed, which shall be effective upon recordation. 5. If real property is sold or leased in violation of the provisions of this section:

(a) The sale or lease is void; and

(b) Any change to an ordinance or law governing the zoning or use of the real property is void if the change takes place within 5 years after the date of the void sale or lease.

Sec. 3. NRS 244.281 is hereby amended to read as follows:

704.020, to be used for a public purpose and except for the sale or lease of real property larger than 1 acre which is approved by the voters at a primary or general election or special election:

(a) When a board of county commissioners has determined by resolution that the sale or lease of any real property owned by the county will be for purposes other than to establish, align, realign, change, vacate or otherwise adjust any street, alley, avenue or other thoroughfare, or portion thereof, or flood control facility within the county and will be in the best interest of the county, it may:

(1) Sell the real property in the manner prescribed for the sale of real property in NRS 244.282.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph and paragraph (h), if the board of county commissioners by its resolution further finds that the real property to be sold or leased is worth more than $1,000, the board shall select two or more disinterested, competent real estate appraisers pursuant to NRS 244.2795 to appraise the real property. If the board of county commissioners holds a public hearing on the matter of the fair market value of the property, one disinterested, competent appraisal of the real property is sufficient before selling or leasing it. Except for real property acquired pursuant to NRS 371.047, the board of county commissioners shall not sell or lease it for less than:

(1) If two independent appraisals were obtained, the average of the appraisals of the real property.

(2) If only one independent appraisal was obtained, the appraised value of the real property.

(e) A board of county commissioners may sell or lease any real property owned by the county without complying with the provisions of NRS 244.282 or 244.283 to:

(1) A person who owns real property located adjacent to the real property to be sold or leased if the board has determined by resolution that the sale will be in the best interest of the county and the real property is a:

(III) Parcel which is subject to a deed restriction prohibiting the use of the real property by anyone other than the person who owns real property adjacent to the real property for sale or lease.

(2) The State or another governmental entity if:

(I) The sale or lease restricts the use of the real property to a public use; and

(II) The board adopts a resolution finding that the sale or lease will be in the best interest of the county.

(f) A board of county commissioners that disposes of real property pursuant to paragraph (d) is not required to offer to reconvey the real property to the person from whom the real property was received or acquired by donation or dedication.

(g) If real property that is offered for sale or lease pursuant to this section is not sold or leased at the initial offering of the contract for the sale or lease of the real property, the board of county commissioners may offer the real property for sale or lease a second time pursuant to this section. The board of county commissioners must obtain a new appraisal or appraisals, as applicable, of the real property pursuant to the provisions of NRS 244.2795 before offering the real property for sale or lease a second time if:

(1) There is a material change relating to the title, the zoning or an ordinance governing the use of the real property; or

(h) If real property that is offered for sale or lease pursuant to this section is not sold or leased at the second offering of the contract for the sale or lease of the real property, the board of county commissioners may list the real property for sale or lease at the appraised value or average of the appraised value if two or more appraisals were obtained, as applicable, with a licensed real estate broker, provided that the broker or a person related to the broker within the first degree of consanguinity or affinity does not have an interest in the real property or an adjoining property. If the appraisal or appraisals, as applicable, were prepared more than 6 months before the date on which the real property is listed with a licensed real estate broker, the board of county commissioners must obtain one new appraisal of the real property pursuant to the provisions of NRS 244.2795 before listing the real property for sale or lease at the new appraised value.

2. If real property is sold or leased in violation of the provisions of this section:

(a) The sale or lease is void; and

(b) Any change to an ordinance or law governing the zoning or use of the real property is void if the change takes place within 5 years after the date of the void sale or lease.

3. As used in this section, "flood control facility" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 244.276.

Assembly Bill No. 145.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 45.

AN ACT relating to crimes; increasing the penalties for a customer who unlawfully engages in prostitution or solicitation therefor; ~~[removing a~~

~~duplicative provision in existing law relating to prostitution;~~ requiring a peace officer to make an arrest with or without a warrant under certain circumstances; revising requirements for the automatic sealing of records in certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law ~~: (1)~~ prohibits a customer from engaging in prostitution or solicitation for prostitution except in a licensed house of prostitution . ~~; and (2)~~ Existing law provides that a customer who violates such a prohibition ~~,~~ : (1) for a first offense that involves an adult, is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 6 months and by a fine of not less than $400 but not more than $1,000 ~~,~~ ; (2) for a subsequent offense that involves an adult, is guilty of a gross misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 364 days and by certain minimum fines; and (3) for any offense, is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $200 per offense. Additionally, existing law provides for the automatic sealing of records if a person is discharged and the proceedings against the person are dismissed upon the fulfillment of the terms and conditions of a court-ordered program for the treatment of persons who solicit prostitution. (NRS 201.354) ~~Section 1 of this~~

This bill : (1) requires a peace officer to arrest a person if the peace officer has probable cause to believe that the person has violated such a prohibition; (2) increases the ~~penalties~~ minimum fine for ~~such~~ a first offense ~~from~~ to ~~a misdemeanor to a gross misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 364 days and by a fine of~~ not less than $800 ~~but not more than $2,000. Sections 5 and 6 of this bill make conforming changes to reflect the fact that the change in section 1, which~~ ; (3) increases the civil penalty for ~~such an~~ any offense ~~from a misdemeanor to a gross misdemeanor, removes the offense from the jurisdiction of the justice courts and municipal courts.~~

~~Existing law also contains a duplicative criminal provision prohibiting~~ to $600; and (4) authorizes a person ~~from offering or agreeing to engage in, engaging in or aiding and abetting any act of prostitution. (NRS 207.030) Section 4 of this bill removes this duplicative criminal provision, and sections 2, 3 and 7 of this bill make conforming changes~~ to ~~remove or replace references to the duplicative criminal provision that is removed by section 4.~~ petition the court 2 years after the person is discharged and the proceedings against the person are dismissed for the sealing of all records relating to the discharge and dismissal.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 201.354 is hereby amended to read as follows:

201.354 1. It is unlawful for a customer to engage in prostitution or solicitation therefor, except in a licensed house of prostitution. Whether or not a warrant has been issued, a peace officer shall arrest a person if the peace officer has probable cause to believe that the person to be arrested has violated this section.

~~(b)]~~ For a third or subsequent offense, is guilty of a gross misdemeanor and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.140, ~~[by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 364 days]~~ and by a fine of not less than $1,300. ~~[but not more than $2,000.]~~

4. In addition to any other penalty imposed, the court shall order a person who violates subsection 1 to pay a civil penalty of not less than ~~[$200]~~ $600 per offense. The civil penalty must be paid to the district attorney or city attorney of the jurisdiction in which the violation occurred. If the civil penalty imposed pursuant to this subsection:

(a) Is not within the person's present ability to pay, in lieu of paying the penalty, the court may allow the person to perform community service for a reasonable number of hours, the value of which would be commensurate with the civil penalty.

(b) Is not entirely within the person's present ability to pay, in lieu of paying the entire civil penalty, the court may allow the person to perform community service for a reasonable number of hours, the value of which would be commensurate with the amount of the reduction of the civil penalty.

5. A person who violates this section by soliciting a child for prostitution:

(a) For a first offense, is guilty of a category D felony and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130, and by a fine of not more than $5,000.

further punished by a fine of not more than $15,000. The court shall not grant probation to or suspend the sentence of a person punished pursuant to this paragraph.

6. Any civil penalty collected by a district attorney or city attorney pursuant to subsection 4 must be deposited in the county or city treasury , as applicable, to be used for:

(a) The enforcement of this section; and

7. If a person who violates subsection 1 is ordered pursuant to NRS 4.373 or 5.055 to participate in a program for the treatment of persons who solicit prostitution, upon fulfillment of the terms and conditions of the program, the court may discharge the person and dismiss the proceedings against the person. If the court discharges the person and dismisses the proceedings against the person, a nonpublic record of the discharge and dismissal must be transmitted to and retained by the Division of Parole and Probation of the Department of Public Safety solely for the use of the courts in determining whether, in later proceedings, the person qualifies under this section for participation in a program of treatment for persons who solicit prostitution. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, discharge and dismissal under this subsection is without adjudication of guilt and is not a conviction for purposes of employment, civil rights or any statute or regulation or license or questionnaire or for any other public or private purpose, but is a conviction for the purpose of additional penalties imposed for a second or subsequent conviction or the setting of bail. Discharge and dismissal restores the person discharged, in the contemplation of the law, to the status occupied before the proceedings. The person may not be held thereafter under any law to be guilty of perjury or otherwise giving a false statement by reason of failure to recite or acknowledge the proceedings in response to an inquiry made of the person for any purpose. Discharge and dismissal under this subsection may occur only once with respect to any person. A professional licensing board may consider a proceeding under this subsection in determining suitability for a license or liability to discipline for misconduct. Such a board is entitled for those purposes to a truthful answer from the applicant or licensee concerning any such proceeding with respect to the applicant or licensee.

8. Except as limited by subsection 9, if a person is discharged and the proceedings against the person are dismissed pursuant to subsection 7, ~~[the court shall, without a hearing,]~~ the person may petition the court for the sealing of all records relating to the discharge and dismissal 2 years after the date of the dismissal. The court may order sealed all documents, papers and exhibits in that person's record, minute book entries and entries on dockets, and other documents relating to the case in the custody of such other agencies and officers as are named in the court's order. The court shall cause a copy of the order to be sent to each agency or officer named in the order. Each such agency or officer shall notify the court in writing of its compliance with the order.

9. A professional licensing board is entitled, for the purpose of determining suitability for a license or liability to discipline for misconduct, to inspect and to copy from a record sealed pursuant to this section.

Existing law requires a local facility for the detention of children, a regional facility for the treatment and rehabilitation of children and a state facility for the detention of children to screen each child who is committed to, or placed under the custody of, the facility to determine whether the child is in need of mental health services or has a substance use disorder. (NRS 62C.035, 62E.513) ~~[Sections]~~ With certain exceptions, sections 2 and 3 of this bill additionally require such facilities to screen each child to determine whether the child is a victim of commercial sexual exploitation. Sections 2 and 3 also: (1) require such facilities to report the commercial sexual exploitation of the child to an agency which provides child welfare services if the results of the screening indicate that the child is a victim of commercial sexual exploitation; and (2) deem such a report to be a report of commercial sexual exploitation for purposes of certain mandatory requirements and procedures for reporting abuse, neglect or exploitation of a child. Section 1 of this bill makes a conforming change by removing certain requirements relating to the reporting of commercial sexual exploitation of a child that are now addressed by section 2. Section 6 of this bill requires an agency which provides child welfare services to take certain actions to protect the safety of the child and meet the other needs of the child upon receipt of a report submitted pursuant to sections 2 and 3.

Existing law prescribes certain requirements relating to the method of screening used by a local facility for the detention of children to comply with certain statutory requirements relating to the screening of a child in its custody. (NRS 62E.516) Section 4 of this bill additionally requires the method of screening to be reliable and valid for identifying a child who is a victim of commercial sexual exploitation.

~~[Section]~~ With certain exceptions, section 5 of this bill requires an agency which provides child welfare services to screen each child in its custody to determine whether the child is a victim of commercial sexual exploitation. Section 5 also: (1) prescribes requirements relating to the method used by an agency which provides child welfare services to conduct the screening; and (2) requires the agency to take the actions required by section 6 if the results of the screening indicate that the child is a victim of commercial sexual exploitation.

SUMMARY—Revises provisions governing certain fees for drivers' licenses [.] and identification cards. (BDR 43-636)

AN ACT relating to [~~motor vehicles;~~] offenders; requiring the Department of Motor Vehicles to waive the fee for the administration of the examination required for the issuance of a noncommercial driver's license for certain persons released from prison; requiring the Department to waive any fee that would otherwise be imposed against a person for the late renewal of a driver's license if the late renewal resulted from the person being incarcerated; requiring the Department to reinstate free of charge a driver's license or to provide an original or renewal driver's license or an original or renewal identification card to certain persons released from prison in certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides for the waiver of: (1) certain fees for furnishing a duplicate driver's license or a duplicate identification card to a person who was released from prison, a county, city or town jail or a detention facility within the 90 days immediately preceding the person's application for the driver's license [,] or identification card; and (2) the cost of producing a photograph for a driver's license [.] or an identification card. The person must reimburse the Department of Motor Vehicles for certain portions of the fee if the vendor who produces the photograph of the person for the license or identification card does not waive the cost it charges the Department to produce the photograph. (NRS 483.417 [)] , 483.825) Section 3 of this bill requires the Department to waive the fees for: (1) furnishing an original or renewal driver's license; (2) reinstating a driver's license; and (3) producing a photograph for a driver's license, including any reimbursement, if a person submits documentation verifying the person was released from prison within the year immediately preceding the person's application for a driver's license. Section 3.5 of this bill requires the Department to waive the fees for: (1) furnishing an original identification card or for renewing an identification card; and (2) producing a photograph for an identification card, including any reimbursement, if a person submits documentation verifying the person was released from prison within the year immediately preceding the person's application for an identification card.

Existing law authorizes the Department to require applicants for a driver's license to submit to an examination. (NRS 483.330) The fee for administration of the examination for a noncommercial driver's license is $25. (NRS 483.410) Section 1 of this bill requires the Department to waive the fee for the examination not more than one time for a person who submits documentation verifying the person was released from prison within the immediately preceding year.

Under existing law, if the holder of a Nevada driver's license allows the license to expire for a period of 30 days or more, the person is required to pay a penalty of $10 when renewing the license. (NRS 483.386, 483.410) Existing law provides an exception to this penalty to a person whose license expires during a period of suspension, but only if the person completes a renewal application within 30 days after the date of eligibility for renewal. (NRS 483.386) Section 2 of this bill provides an additional exception to the penalty for any person whose license expires during a period of incarceration, if the person submits documentation verifying the person was released from prison within the immediately preceding year and the person completes a renewal application within 1 year after his or her release.

AN ACT relating to motor vehicles; authorizing the combination of personalized prestige license plates and certain special license plates; exempting from the payment of certain parking fees vehicles with certain specially designed license plates associated with military service; exempting from the payment of certain parking fees vehicles with certain specially designed license plates for family members of persons killed in the line of duty or who died of injuries sustained while on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States; providing a penalty for persons who make certain false statements or submit false, fraudulent or misleading evidence in connection with an application for certain specially designed license plates; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the Department of Motor Vehicles to issue personalized prestige license plates and certain special license plates associated with military or public service. (NRS 482.3667, 482.3757-482.3787) Sections 1-7 of this bill provide that a person may request personalized prestige license plates be combined with certain special license plates associated with military or public service.

Existing law provides an exemption from the payment of any parking fees, including, without limitation, those collected through parking meters, charged by the State or any political subdivision or other public body within the State, other than the United States, to a vehicle that displays certain special license plates associated with military service that are issued to a person who has suffered a qualifying service-connected disability and receives compensation from the United States for the disability. (NRS 482.3765, 482.3775, 482.378, 482.3783) Sections 3 and 5-7 of this bill expand this exemption to any vehicle that displays such special license plates, regardless of whether the person to whom the plates were issued has suffered a qualifying service-connected disability.

Under existing law: (1) each family member of a person killed in the line of duty while on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States is entitled to specially designed license plates which indicate that the person is a family member of a person killed in the line of duty while on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States; and (2) each family member of a person who died as a result of injuries sustained while on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States is entitled to specially designed license plates which indicate that the person is a family member of a person who died as a result of injuries sustained while on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States. (NRS 482.3785, 482.3787) Sections 8 and 10 of this bill provide that a vehicle on which such specially designed license plates are displayed is exempt from the payment of any parking fees, including, without limitation, those collected through parking meters, charged by the State or any political subdivision or other public body within the State, other than the United States. This is consistent with provisions that exempt from the payment of parking fees certain veterans with certain specially designed license plates. (NRS 482.3765-482.3783)

Sections 1, 9 and 11 of this bill also impose a criminal penalty against a person who: (1) makes a false statement on an application for certain specially designed license plates that he or she is a family member of a person killed in the line of duty or who died as a result of injuries sustained while on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States or was killed in the line of duty while serving as a peace officer and awarded posthumously the Medal of Honor, or equivalent thereof; or (2) submits false, fraudulent or misleading evidence in connection with such an application.

AN ACT relating to adoption; revising provisions governing financial assistance to the adoptive family of a child with special needs; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes an agency which provides child welfare services to provide financial assistance to a family that adopts a child with special needs until the child attains majority, becomes self-sustaining, is emancipated or dies. (NRS 127.186) If such a child is still enrolled in school, this bill authorizes an agency which provides child welfare services to provide financial assistance until the child graduates high school or reaches 19 years of age, whichever comes first.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 127.186 is hereby amended to read as follows:

127.186 1. The agency which provides child welfare services or a child-placing agency licensed by the Division pursuant to this chapter may consent to the adoption of a child under 18 years of age with special needs due to race, age or physical or mental problems who is in the custody of the agency which provides child welfare services or the licensed agency by proposed adoptive parents when, in the judgment of the agency which provides child welfare services or the child-placing agency, it would be in the best interests of the child to be placed in that adoptive home.

3. The agency which provides child welfare services may grant financial assistance for attorney's fees in the adoption proceeding, for maintenance and for preexisting physical or mental conditions to the adoptive parents of a child with special needs out of money provided for that purpose if the head of the agency which provides child welfare services or his or her designee has reviewed and approved in writing the grant of financial assistance.

4. The grant of financial assistance must be limited, both as to amount and duration, by agreement in writing between the agency which provides child welfare services and the adoptive parents. Such an agreement must not become effective before the entry of the order of adoption.

5. Any grant of financial assistance must be reviewed and evaluated at least once annually by the agency which provides child welfare services. The evaluation must be presented for approval to the head of the agency which provides child welfare services or his or her designee. Financial assistance must be discontinued immediately upon written notification to the adoptive parents by the agency which provides child welfare services that continued assistance is denied.

6. All financial assistance provided under this section ceases immediately when the child ~~[attains majority, becomes]~~ ***:

(a) Reaches 18 years of age, if the child is not enrolled in school, or 19 years of age, if the child is enrolled in school;

7. Neither a grant of financial assistance pursuant to this section nor any discontinuance of such assistance affects the legal status or respective obligations of any party to the adoption.

Assembly Bill No. 277.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

ASSEMBLYMEN KOENIG, YUREK, GRAY, GURR; DELONG, DICKMAN, D'SILVA, GONZÁLEZ, GORELOW, HAFEN, HANSEN, HARDY, HIBBETTS, NGUYEN, ORENTLICHER, PETERS, TAYLOR , THOMAS AND TORRES

AN ACT relating to health care; establishing a rural emergency hospital as a type of medical facility licensed in this State; authorizing a rural emergency hospital that meets certain requirements to receive an endorsement as a crisis stabilization center; requiring the Department of Health and Human Services to take certain measures to increase reimbursement under Medicaid for certain services provided by rural emergency hospitals; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing federal law establishes the Medicare program, which is a public health insurance program for persons 65 years of age and older and specified persons with disabilities who are under 65 years of age. (42 U.S.C. §§ 1395 et seq.) Existing federal law establishes a rural emergency hospital as a Medicare provider type and defines the term "rural emergency hospital" to mean, in general, a facility: (1) in a rural area with less than 50 beds; (2) with an emergency department that is staffed 24 hours per day, 7 days per week; (3) that generally does not provide acute care inpatient services; and (4) has a transfer agreement with a level I or level II trauma center. (42 U.S.C. § 1395x(kkk)) Section 1 of this bill defines the term "rural emergency hospital" to be consistent with federal law. Section 2 of this bill makes a conforming change to indicate the proper placement of section 1 in the Nevada Revised Statutes.

Section 3 of this bill establishes a rural emergency hospital as a unique type of medical facility licensed and regulated by the State Board of Health and the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services. Section 4 of this bill requires the Board to adopt regulations for the licensure of rural emergency hospitals, which take into consideration the unique problems of operating such a facility in a rural area.

Existing law authorizes the Division to issue an endorsement as a crisis stabilization center to certain medical facilities that provide behavioral health services designed to de-escalate or stabilize a behavioral crisis. (NRS 449.0915) Section 5 of this bill authorizes the Division to issue such an endorsement to a rural emergency hospital if the rural emergency hospital meets certain requirements.

Existing law requires the Director of the Department to develop and adopt a State Plan for Medicaid which includes, without limitation, a list of specific medical services required to be provided to Medicaid recipients. (NRS 422.063, 422.270-422.27495) Existing law authorizes the Director, under certain circumstances, to seek a waiver of certain provisions of federal law governing Medicaid to enable the State to receive federal funding for certain Medicaid coverage. (NRS 422.270-422.27495) Section 7 of this bill authorizes the Department to apply to the United States Secretary of Health and Human Services for such a waiver or an amendment to the State Plan for Medicaid that authorizes the Department to receive federal funding to increase rates of reimbursement under the State Plan for rural emergency hospital services provided by a rural emergency hospital. Section 6 of this bill makes a conforming change to indicate that the provisions of section 7 will be administered in the same manner as the provisions of existing law governing the State Plan.

United States Senator Catherine Cortez Masto delivered her message as follows:

EIGHTY-SECOND SESSION, 2023

First, let me just say, it is such a pleasure to be here at home with all of you. Thank you for inviting me. Governor, thank you so much for being here. To our constitutional officers, thank you as well. To our Speaker and Majority Leader, thank you so much for the invitation. To all of our members of the Assembly and Senate, thank you. Thank you for the work that you do, and thank you for the opportunity to continue to work with all of you every single day.

I am going to be brief. There are certain things I want to focus on. I want to touch on one of them today, and that is what I am going to talk about. I know you have a busy legislative session. We are going to have plenty of time to talk about some of the issues we need to address to make sure we are doing everything for our businesses and our working families. There is one thing I want to touch on with your indulgence. We are going to get right into it.

I think most of you know, I love everything about this state. I always travel all over the state. I try to get out as much as I possibly can, and I have heard from everyone. I am so proud of the work we have done together to not only bring our economy back from the brink—which we all know we have addressed—but to look to the future. In our future, Nevada is at the forefront of leading in the 21st century innovation economy. I call Nevada the Innovation State because we have the workforce, we have the companies, we have the universities, the colleges, the institutes—thanks to DRI [Desert Research Institute]—and the labs that are incubating ideas and pioneering the technologies and the jobs of the future.

Let me start with the clean energy economy. Ask anyone in the country what they see when they think of Nevada. They will tell you: the sun. That is what we have here. We have certainly capitalized on our solar economy. But what most people do not know is that Nevada is the center of this country's clean energy and critical mineral future. It is the only state in the U.S. that encompasses nearly every facet of the critical mineral and advanced battery technology—from extraction; to research and development; to processing, refining, and manufacturing; to recycling operations. Nevada is primed to lead the rest of the country into the clean energy future, and we need to take advantage of this important opportunity to grow our economy, create good-paying jobs—union jobs, by the way—and support Nevada families.

Here in Nevada, we have seen the clean energy revolution coming for a long time. You all know this. When I got to the Senate, I saw a unique opportunity to make Nevada the center of our nation's clean energy economy. That is why I launched the Innovation State Initiative—to promote everything we can do right here in Nevada.

You all know that Nevada is the perfect state for solar. You have worked so hard to promote its economy. You continue to do so, and I thank you for that. That is why I led the fight for a solar tax credit that kept new companies and new jobs coming to Nevada. I got this tax credit extended and signed into law under President Trump and then expanded under President Biden. Businesses are continuing to invest in solar production and jobs, and now we have the number one solar economy in the country thanks to all of the work we are doing. We know that it cuts costs for families, and it supports our workforce. Just a few months ago, I spent some time with IBEW [International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers] at the Gemini solar project, one of the new solar arrays in southern Nevada. These are good-paying jobs for our workers.

While our solar industry is booming, Nevada has the critical minerals to power the world. I cannot stress that enough. But for too long, they have been extracted and shipped overseas for processing and manufacturing. We should be developing Nevada's minerals. We should be developing that lithium in Nevada, whether it is through extraction or recycling. That is why I ensured the bipartisan infrastructure law included legislation to boost our critical mineral supply chain while at the same time investing in battery manufacturing and recycling projects right here at home. I have been talking about this so much on the floor of the U.S. Senate that they are sick and tired of hearing me talk about it. But this is Nevada's future, and this is our opportunity.

I was one of the first Senators to introduce and pass legislation to boost electric vehicles, develop our national strategy, and create a really critical mineral supply chain. That was crucial for all of us here in Nevada. It already has delivered millions to companies like Lilac Solutions in Fernley and American Battery Technology Company's project in Tonopah. Just a few years ago, these jobs did not exist, and now they are supporting thousands of families across our state.

Yesterday, I was at TRIC [Tahoe-Reno Industrial Center] visiting Aqua Metals. Aqua Metals has pioneered a process to recycle lithium-ion batteries and recover the valuable metals and lithium hydroxide, creating a circular supply of critical minerals for domestic battery manufacturing. Why is that important? Because the lithium hydroxide they produce can be recycled to support companies like Dragonfly Energy, which recycles and manufactures batteries right here in northern Nevada. Aqua Metals is a key piece, but there are so many others we are benefiting from.

Aqua Metals, by the way, benefited from the tax credits we passed in the Inflation Reduction Act. As they grow, they are looking to hire more workers right here in northern Nevada. We have it all here, and we have the potential to make the most of it—as long as we are working together.

Last summer, I was just a few miles down the road from the TRIC at a company called Fulcrum BioEnergy. Fulcrum BioEnergy is literally taking municipal waste out of our landfills and turning it into clean-burning jet fuel right here in Nevada. I know Fulcrum because I like to travel around the state and get out to talk to everybody. When I first toured their facility, they were having challenges at the federal level with getting support to move forward with their production. They were having challenges with the EPA [Environmental Protection Agency]. I worked at the federal level, talking with the folks in the administration about where we needed to go. From the work that I have done—working with all of you—to allow these companies to come here, Fulcrum is fully operational. The plant is supporting more than 1,000 connected jobs across Nevada, and it is a perfect example of the innovation economy growing right here in our state. A key piece of that innovation economy is smarter, more efficient technology that will make a big difference for Nevada families.

Thanks to the bipartisan legislation we all passed, we are investing in Nevada's infrastructure—and not just for airports, roads, and broadband. Let us talk about wildfires. We see them in the north. We see the drought in the south of this state. Every Nevadan is feeling one of the impacts of this climate crisis. That is why the bipartisan infrastructure package we passed included legislation that I fought for to support our firefighters and make sure we have the state-of-the-art technology we need to take on the wildfire season. It is why in the Senate I worked with Representative Susie Lee in the House to support large-scale water recycling facilities in the infrastructure law and then personally negotiated for $4 billion for drought funding in the Inflation Reduction Act.

That is essential to making sure we are doing everything we can to address these needs while also looking to our future. That is why we have to continue to work together—to ensure that Nevada leans into this 21st century and takes advantage of the investments coming our way at the federal level. These are once-in-a-lifetime investments. These do not come around quite often. They are going to be there for the next five to ten years. There is so much money that is coming to the state—from the CARES [Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security] Act to ARPA [American Rescue Plan Act]—but let us just talk about the bipartisan infrastructure law, the CHIPS [Creating Helpful Incentives to Produce Semiconductors] and Science Act, and the Inflation Reduction Act. Just those three combined will invest more than $135 billion to build America's electric vehicle future, including critical minerals sourcing and processing and battery manufacturing. I am here to tell you, if we do not go after it, some other state will. That is why we need to be at the forefront of this.

I have spent the last several years in the Senate working with my colleagues in a bipartisan way to pass some of this legislation and lay the groundwork to support Nevada's innovation economy. But you all are my partners in this effort. I cannot do this without all of you. That includes ensuring Nevada is in a position not only to go after these funds but also to use them in a timely manner so we do not lose them. That is what this is about for all of us. This is not a partisan issue. I have had conversations with so many of you. We are all on the same page. I am asking you to join me in supporting Nevada families and businesses by advancing pragmatic, responsible investments in innovation and infrastructure to grow our economy and, at the end of the day, create good-paying jobs for our families and businesses.

Where do you want Nevada to be in five to ten years? I hope you all are thinking about that, because I am. I know that when we look forward and lean into this 21st century, we want to lead and pioneer beyond the cutting edge of this innovation economy, which is going to take our families and businesses in this state into a future that is bright for all of us. I know you all feel the same way. I am looking for that opportunity to continue to partner with all of you. I am going to challenge you like I hope you challenge me. At the end of the day—I know the Governor feels this way; we just had this conversation—this is about Nevada first and all of our family businesses.

Thank you all for the opportunity to talk with you today. I wish you the best this session. Thank you.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Peggy Locke.

The Bible tells us in Lamentations 3:21-25, Yet this I call to mind and therefore I have hope: Because of the Lord's great love we are not consumed, for His compassions never fail. They are new every morning; great is Your faithfulness. I say to myself, The Lord is my portion; therefore I will wait for Him. The Lord is good to those whose hope is in Him, to the one who seeks Him.

Assembly Bill No. 54.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Education:

Amendment No. 52.

AN ACT relating to education; revising provisions governing the compulsory school attendance of certain children; revising the contents required in certain annual reports of accountability of schools and school districts; revising provisions governing the reimbursement of certain hospitals and other facilities for providing educational services to children in their care; revising provisions governing the counting of pupils for purposes of calculating apportionment; ~~[requiring written evidence by a qualified physician, mental health professional or behavioral health professional to excuse a child from enrollment in or attendance at school under certain circumstances;]~~ requiring a child who has taken a high school equivalency assessment to attend school until receipt of notice of successful completion of the assessment; requiring a county advisory board to review school attendance to reflect the ethnic and geographic diversity of the county; revising provisions governing the absences of pupils; revising provisions governing habitual truancy; authorizing certain written notices and other documents to be made electronically; requiring a school to take certain actions relating to a truant pupil; imposing certain duties relating to chronic absenteeism on the board of trustees of a school district and the Department of Education; repealing certain provisions excusing attendance for certain children; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires each school district, each school in the school district and each charter school sponsored by the school district to prepare an annual report of accountability which includes information concerning pupils who are eligible for and receive free or reduced-price breakfasts and lunches. (NRS 385A.270) Section 2 of this bill eliminates the requirement to include in such a report information concerning pupils who ~~[are eligible for]~~ receive free or reduced-price breakfasts and lunches.

Under existing law, certain hospitals and other facilities that provide residential treatment to children and also operate a licensed private school or an accredited educational program approved by the Department of Education are authorized to request reimbursement from the Department for the cost of providing educational services to a child who is verified to be a patient or resident of the hospital or facility, attends the private school or educational program for more than 7 school days and meets certain other requirements. Upon receiving such a request, the Department is required to determine the amount of reimbursement as a percentage of the adjusted base per pupil funding for the school district which the child would otherwise attend if the child were not in the hospital or facility or the statewide base per pupil funding amount for the charter school which the pupil would otherwise attend. (NRS 387.1225) Section 4 of this bill authorizes the hospital or facility to request reimbursement from the school district or charter school in which the child is enrolled and revises the requirements to request such reimbursement. Section 4 also revises the method of calculating the amount of reimbursement to base the reimbursement upon a daily rate of the adjusted base per pupil funding for the school district or a daily rate of the statewide base per pupil funding amount or adjusted base per pupil funding for the charter school, as applicable.

Existing law requires the State Board of Education to adopt regulations for counting enrollment and calculating the average daily attendance of pupils for apportionment purposes. (NRS 387.123) Section 5 of this bill requires, instead, the use of the average daily enrollment of pupils for such purposes.

Existing law requires, with certain exceptions, each parent, custodial parent, guardian or other person in this State having control or charge of any child between the ages of 7 and 18 years to send the child to a public school during all the time the school is in session. (NRS 392.040) Section 13 of this bill: (1) clarifies that such a child must also be enrolled in a public school; (2) requires that the child be sent to school for the full school day during all the time the school is in session; ~~[and]~~ (3) requires the parent or legal guardian of the child to sign a statement or acknowledge via registration on an Internet website maintained by the school district that the parent or legal guardian and the child understand the district's policy concerning attendance ~~[.]~~ ; and (4) provides that a pupil who receives certain services outside of a public school shall be deemed to be in attendance at the public school and in compliance with the requirements for attendance during the time the pupil is receiving the services and is being transported to and from the school to receive those services. Sections 1, 3, 6-10, 12, 15, 16, 22, 27, 29, 30, 31 and 34-45 of this bill revise various provisions as they relate to compulsory school attendance to conform with the additional requirements of school enrollment established in section 13.

~~[Existing law requires that a child be excused from attending public school when satisfactory written evidence is presented to the board of trustees of the school district in which the child resides that the physical or mental condition or behavioral health of the child prevents or renders inadvisable the child's attendance at school. (NRS 392.050) Section 14 of this bill requires the written evidence to be from a qualified physician, mental health professional or behavioral health professional acting within his or her authorized scope of practice.]~~

Existing law provides that compulsory attendance at public school must be excused if a child has obtained permission to take the high school equivalency assessment. (NRS 392.075) Section 17 of this bill provides that after the child has taken the assessment, school attendance is required until the child receives notification of the successful completion of the assessment.

Existing law requires the board of trustees of a school district to prescribe a minimum number of days that a pupil must be in attendance to obtain credit or be promoted to the next higher grade. (NRS 392.122) Section 18 of this bill authorizes a board of trustees of a school district to adopt a policy prescribing the circumstances under which a pupil will be considered chronically absent. Section 18 also: (1) eliminates provisions requiring, under certain circumstances, days on which a pupil's absence is approved by a teacher or principal to be credited towards the required days of attendance; (2) revises the process by which, upon request by the pupil and the parent or legal guardian of a pupil, a principal or principal's designee is required to review and recalculate the number of the pupil's absences for the purposes of determining whether the pupil may obtain credit or be promoted to the next higher grade; and (3) eliminates provisions authorizing the board of trustees of a school district to adopt a policy to exempt pupils who are physically or mentally unable to attend school from certain limitations on absences and certain conditions required in such a policy.

Existing law creates in each county at least one advisory board to review school attendance. (NRS 392.126) Section 19 of this bill requires the membership of each such board to reflect, to the greatest extent possible, the ethnic and geographic diversity of the county.

Existing law requires a teacher or principal to give written approval for a pupil to be absent if an emergency exists or upon the request of a parent or legal guardian of the pupil. (NRS 392.130) Section 20 of this bill: (1) revises this provision to authorize a teacher or principal to give such approval upon the request of a parent or legal guardian, made during the absence or within the 3 days immediately preceding or the 3 days immediately following the requested absence for an emergency; (2) prohibits the approval of absences for more than 10 percent of the number of school days in the school year; (3) requires all approved and unapproved absences to be counted for the purposes of determining whether a pupil is chronically absent; and (4) requires the board of trustees of each school district and the governing body of each charter school and university school for profoundly gifted pupils to communicate its policy on truancy and the Department's definition of chronic absenteeism to parents and legal guardians in a language they can understand and provide a parent or legal guardian notice when a pupil is approaching the 10 percent limit in the number of absences that may be approved.

Sections 20, 23-26 and 29 of this bill authorize certain notices, consents, referrals, agreements, reports and other documentation which must be in writing to be made electronically.

Section 21 of this bill revises the circumstances under which a child may be declared a habitual truant and provides an exception for a child who is physically or mentally unable to attend school.

Existing law requires a school in which a pupil is enrolled to take reasonable actions designed to encourage, enable or convince the pupil to attend school if the pupil has one or more unapproved absences. (NRS 392.144) Section 23 of this bill requires the school to take such actions if the pupil has been truant from school.

Section 28 of this bill requires the board of trustees of each school district to: (1) establish procedures to monitor and report chronic absenteeism of pupils; and (2) determine chronic absenteeism of pupils at each school within the district. Section 28 also requires: (1) the Department to adopt by regulation a definition of the term "chronic absenteeism"; and (2) the board of trustees of each school district to ensure that the actions taken pursuant to that section are consistent with the definition adopted by the Department.

Section 46 of this bill repeals provisions excusing attendance for children: (1) who reside a certain distance from the nearest public school; and (2) between 15 and 18 years of age who have completed the first eight grades to enter employment or apprenticeship.
