ASSEMBLYMEMBER JAUREGUI:

I rise today with the distinct honor of nominating Assemblymember Steve Yeager for Speaker of the Nevada State Assembly. Assemblymember Yeager has served as the Nevada Assembly representative for District 9 since 2016 and has demonstrated a strong commitment to his constituents and our state throughout his tenure.

We know him as Speaker, Assemblymember, and friend, but Assemblymember Yeager is also a born Midwesterner turned passionate Nevadan who embodies the spirit of the Silver State. He is a lover of music and a self-described foodie, who shares his culinary adventures with us through his Instagram—which I greatly appreciate.

As an adventurer, he loves exploring the beauty of our state's public lands and I have been lucky enough to join him on a few that have taken us to the depths of the Grand Canyon and to the heights of over 13,000 feet above sea level, including Nevada's own Boundary Peak. This blend of experience and passion help shape the leader we admire and respect, but at the heart of his leadership is his wife, the Honorable Bita Yeager, a remarkable woman in her own right. Together, they exemplify the best of public service and community dedication.

I am so proud to have the honor to nominate him on this day, to continue to serve as the 65th Speaker of the Nevada State Assembly.

Assemblymember Hafen seconded the motion.

Assemblymember Marzola moved that nominations be closed.

Remarks by Assemblymembers Jauregui, Hafen, and Mr. Speaker.

Assemblymember Jauregui requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMEMBER JAUREGUI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. And thank you once again for the honor and privilege of serving as your Majority Leader. This institution holds a special place in my heart and I am deeply committed to the values of collaboration and service that define our work here. I would also like to congratulate my colleague from Assembly District 36 on his ascension to Minority Leader. To my colleagues on both sides of the aisle, congratulations on your election and your dedication to public service, I am honored to work alongside each of you. And let us not forget to acknowledge the families and loved ones who support us in this endeavor. Their sacrifices often go unrecognized, but we could not do this important work without their unwavering encouragement and most of all, understanding. Please join me in recognizing their contributions.

In 2023, I stood before you and spoke about the importance of leaving partisanship on the campaign trail. Although we had our heated moments, spirited debates, and some decisions we ultimately could not see eye to eye on, I am proud to say that we delivered on the promise by working together to address some of the toughest challenges facing our state. From passing a historic education budget—including much needed raises to teachers, raises for state employees, and building a healthy rainy day fund. All of that work was done by is legislators, in this very building, and in just 120 days—well, 120-ish days, if we count special sessions, but who is counting, right?

This year, we must rededicate ourselves to that spirit of bipartisanship. The people of Nevada are counting on us to rise above division and focus on the issues that truly matter—issues like providing economic relief for hardworking families, improving access to affordable healthcare, affordable housing, and ensuring that every child in our state has the opportunity to succeed. We know the road ahead will not be easy. The challenges we face are complex and, at times, deeply personal. But I am confident that, together, we can forge solutions that reflect the best of who we are as Nevadans. As we embark on this legislative session, let us remember why we chose to serve. Together, we can continue to uphold the values that make this body, and our state, so extraordinary. Nevada is counting on us.

ASSEMBLYMEMBER HAFEN:

Good afternoon, everyone. It is a tremendous honor to be here, and I want to thank all of you for your commitment to serving the great people of Nevada. This state—our state—is truly a remarkable place. From the glittering lights of Las Vegas to the rugged beauty of rural Nevada, there is no place like it in the world. The people of Nevada are some of the hardest-working, patriotic individuals you will ever meet. They deserve leaders who put them first. Leaders who stand up for families, small businesses, for workers, and for the values that make this state so great. That is what this session is all about—fighting for the people who make Nevada the incredible state it is.

Now, let us talk about the challenges we face. Families are feeling it—inflation is hitting their wallets, businesses are navigating unnecessary red tape, and too many kids are not getting the quality education they deserve. But here is the good news: we have the opportunity, right here, right now, to turn things around. We can unleash Nevada's full potential. We can do it by putting Nevada first. As representatives, we know what works—less government, more freedom, and lower taxes. We need to push policies that grow our economy, protect our communities, and defend our rights. To my friends on the other side of the aisle, I am ready to work with you. We may not always agree, but we share a common goal—to leave Nevada better than we found it. Let us commit to vigorous debate, respecting different perspectives, and a shared focus on results. We can get big things done if we put the people first.

To the people of Nevada, this is your Legislature, we are here because of you. We are here for you. Whether you are a small business owner in Henderson, a teacher from Reno, or a dairy farmer in Fallon, know this, we are going to work every single day to make Nevada a better place to live, work, and raise a family. This session, let us make history. Let us deliver results. Let us fight for the Nevada that we love and make sure it remains a shining example of what is possible when we embrace freedom, opportunity, and hard work.

Thank you, God bless you, and God bless the great state of Nevada.

MR. SPEAKER:

It is nice to be back here with all of you and a sincere thank you to each of you for voting for me to lead the Assembly as Speaker this session. I am truly grateful, and I am looking forward to the work ahead of us. I do want to thank my wife Bita—without your love, support, and encouragement I could not and would not serve in the Legislature, let alone be Speaker. So, thank you and also a thank you to my mother, Sally who is watching online—so, hi mom—she is a constant support of mine, as well and I want to thank her for that. Congratulations to my counterpart in the Senate, Senator Cannizzaro on, again, being elected Senate Majority Leader and congratulations to our own Assemblymember Hafen, as well as Senator Titus, on their new leadership roles. I look forward to working together to ensure that Nevada continues to prosper.

Now, this session, we have eleven new legislators. I am going to list them out and once I list you, I want you to stand up. If you could hold your applause until they are all standing up. They are Assemblymembers Cole, Dalia, Edgeworth, Flanagan, Goulding, Hunt, Jackson, Karris, Moore, Nadeem, and Roth. Please give them a round of applause for stepping up to serve. Congratulations and welcome—you may be seated. And to the incumbents who decided to run again: what in the world were you thinking? But in all seriousness, thank you for running for reelection and coming back to the Legislature. Your experience will be invaluable in ensuring that we are successful this session. Some advice to our new legislators and our incumbents: drink more water, exercise whenever you can, take the stairs, try to get a good night's sleep, get to know people, ask a lot of questions, have fun every now and again, and be kind to one another. You just never know what another person is going through and there is nothing as sweet as the sound of Amazing Grace. So liberally give grace to others in this building, at all times.

Now, if we are being honest, running a campaign and serving in the Legislature is a sacrifice. It certainly takes a toll on all of us, but it also takes a toll on your family and your loved ones. They too make sacrifices so that you can campaign, win your seat, and serve. Now, you are all going to have a chance to introduce your guests later, but for now, legislators, I would like you to give a round of applause to all who supported you up to this moment and who will continue to support you over the course of this session. And a sincere thank you to everyone who braved challenging weather as it always is before the beginning of session to be here. You know, our respective campaigns are mercifully behind us and that is where we should leave them—in the rearview mirror. Because we must now govern, and Nevadans of all political stripes are counting on us to govern to the best of our ability. They do not want to be part of petty political squabbles.

They want to be the beneficiaries of a government that works for them. That requires us to communicate with one another and to collaborate whenever possible.

To the members, I want you each to take a look at the chair that you are sitting on. Although you are one person sitting on that chair, the chair itself represents approximately 74,000 Nevadans. And by way of reminder, you are here to represent all 74,000 of them to the best of your ability, even the ones who did not vote for you, even the ones who will never vote for you because all are your constituents, and all are Nevadans. Now, of the three branches of state government we, the Legislative Branch, are the closest to the people—in whom the real power is vested. So, let us ensure that we are protectors of the Legislature from outside influences and those who would like to weaken us so that we cannot do good work for the people. We are far weaker than our other two branches of government because of our part time status, there is no reason to give what little authority we have away. Now, we have the benefit of living in the best system of government the world has ever known, representative democracy, but there is no guarantee that it survives. We must fiercely protect it at all times or risk losing it forever. Speaking of that, I would like to ask every veteran or active military member in this chamber to stand up and be recognized for your commitment to protecting this great nation of ours whatever the cost. We thank you for your service, we appreciate you, and we will support you in any way we can.

Now, America continues to be the envy of the world and everybody's eyes light up when you tell them, like I am, that I am from Las Vegas. Whether you are overseas or right here in the United States, there is something special about the American spirit and there is something special about the Southwest, and there is certainly something special about Nevada. This is a place where things get done. This is a place where we do not take no for an answer. There is simply no place I would rather call home. Indeed, we live in an amazing state.

You know, I was on the Las Vegas Strip sitting at a bar during the recent Consumer Electronics Show—drinking an old fashioned made with Frey Ranch bourbon, the best bourbon in the world. I was amazed at the number of languages I heard being spoken. At that moment, Las Vegas was as multicultural as any place in the world. People love to visit here and tourism continues to play an outsized role in our economy and in our collective future. But Nevada cannot just be a place that is welcoming for visitors. It must be a place where we, the residents, can prosper. Where the American Dream and home ownership is still within our grasp. And that vision must continue to be our north star, as it was in the last legislative session. As America approaches its 250th anniversary, we are distinctly aware that America itself was a startup nation. Everything was new and risky. Yet, we came out of those challenges as the strongest and most powerful nation on earth. To help initiate a renewal of ingenuity and creativity that made America the envy of the world—right here in Nevada—last legislative session, we established the first-in-the-nation, Office of Entrepreneurship, to make it easier for Nevadans to start their own businesses and realize their own American Dream. Because every Nevadan should have the right to start their own business and improve the community they live in.

The work we did in the last legislative session made a real difference in the lives of Nevadans and that started with our investment in public education and educators. It was a long time coming to get our public schools back on track, and there is still work to do. You all know that. But every journey starts with a single step, or in our case, a giant leap. We did not stop there, however, we passed legislation to alleviate the burdens on everyday Nevada families. Such as, lowering the price of prescription drugs, making housing more affordable, while ensuring renters have the most basic of protections. Some of that legislation was vetoed, but we will be back at it. Always mindful of our north star: making life more affordable for those whom we serve. And to that end, we will be fast tracking legislation to lower food prices for Nevadans, specifically eggs. And you can expect to see action on this in the first two weeks of the legislative session. We are not here to repeat political talking points. We are here to get things done.

At this moment, there are a number of challenges that we are facing—sometimes they can seem insurmountable. We are in a housing crisis, homes are out of reach, we do not have enough medical providers, and health care is too expensive. Our economy continues to suffer from a lack of diversification—subjecting us to the ebbs and flows of the global economy. Inflation is too damn high. Things cost too damn much. Yes, these challenges can seem insurmountable, but that must not deter us from trying our level best to find solutions to these challenges because we are not here simply to manage the trains. We are here to identify problems that outrage us, then to solve them together.

It reminds me of that scene and quote from the Lord of the Rings between Frodo, the hobbit, and Gandalf, the wizard. If you have not seen it, you got to watch it. Frodo is lamenting about the harrowing trials that he and the entire world are facing and he says, "I wish it need not have happened in my time." "So do I," said Gandalf, "and so do all who live to see such times. But that is not for them to decide. All we have to decide is what we do with the time that is given us."

My sincere hope is that all of you have come to this building with a servant's heart because this job at its core is about the people, not about anybody's political future ambitions or how many likes some post gets on social media. The good news is that if you did not come here with that attitude, you can always change. Every day is an opportunity to start anew, to do things differently, to be better, to be your best. What sets us as human beings apart from other living beings, is that we are conscious of our place in this world. We comprehend the historical context of the time in which we are living. We understand what has come before. We realize that our actions affect people, either for good or for bad. We have an innate sense of what is right and what is wrong. Now, that does not mean life is easy. Sometimes it is very, very hard indeed. But once you realize that we are all connected and all have a vested interest in making our world a better place, there is nothing, nothing we cannot accomplish as long as we set out to accomplish it together. Really, is that not what drives us all—to make the world a better place? So, my challenge to you, the elected members of the 83rd session of the Nevada Legislature, is indeed the same challenge I issued last legislative session: open your eyes and see Nevada as it is today, as it is right now in this very moment, on February 3rd, 2025, with all of its successes and all of its challenges; but, also have the vision to see Nevada as you wish it to be long after you leave legislative service. Do not fear the future because we are not here merely to endure it, we are here to shape it—and for the better. We must work together to ensure that all Nevadans have a right to self-determination, to chart their own path forward. That indeed was the promise of America. No more kings, no more dictators, but a right of the people who are governed to have a say in their government and their future. We must never forget that the federal government is nothing more than a collection of these 50 United States, Nevada and her 49 sister states. So, when we can work with the federal government for the benefit of Nevadans, we will. When we cannot, we will push back and stand up for all Nevadans. That should be a bipartisan effort because when it comes to the wellbeing of Nevadans, there are no political parties, there are only shared priorities. Colleagues, our work starts now. So let us get to work. God bless all of you and God bless the great state of Nevada.

4. In addition to other prohibited conduct, a complaint may be brought pursuant to this Rule for engaging in conduct prohibited by Joint Standing Rule No. 37 when the prohibited conduct is based on or because of the gender or other protected category of the person.

5. Retaliation against a person for engaging in protected activity is prohibited. Retaliation occurs when an adverse action is taken against a person which is reasonably likely to deter the person from engaging in the protected activity. Protected activity includes, without limitation:

(a) Opposing conduct that the person reasonably believes constitutes sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment;

(b) Filing a complaint about the conduct; or

(c) Testifying, assisting or participating in any manner in an investigation or other proceeding related to a complaint of sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment.

8. If the investigation reveals that sexual harassment, other unlawful harassment, retaliation or other conduct in violation of this policy has occurred, appropriate disciplinary or remedial action, or both, will be taken. The appropriate persons will be informed when any such action is taken. The Legislature will also take any action necessary to deter any future harassment.

9. The Legislature encourages a Legislator to report any incident of sexual harassment, other unlawful harassment, retaliation or other conduct inconsistent with this policy immediately so that the complaint can be quickly and fairly resolved.

10. All Legislators are responsible for adhering to the provisions of this policy. The prohibitions against engaging in sexual harassment and other unlawful harassment which are set forth in this Rule also apply to employees, Legislators, lobbyists, vendors, contractors, customers and any other visitors to the Legislature.

11. The Legislative Counsel Bureau shall establish a reporting system which allows a person to submit a complaint of a violation of this Rule with or without identifying himself or herself. Such a complaint must provide enough details of the incident or incidents alleged, the names of the persons involved and the names of any witnesses to allow an appropriate inquiry to occur.

12. This policy does not create any private right of action or enforceable legal rights in any person.

1. A lobbyist shall not engage in any conduct with a Legislator or any other person working in the Legislature which is prohibited by a Legislator under Joint Standing Rule No. 20. Each lobbyist is responsible to conduct himself or herself in a manner which will ensure that others who work in the Legislature are able to work in an environment free from sexual harassment and other unlawful harassment.

2. Each lobbyist must exercise his or her own good judgment to avoid engaging in conduct that may be perceived by others as sexual harassment as described in Joint Standing Rule No. 20.

3. A lobbyist who encounters conduct that he or she believes is sexual harassment, other unlawful harassment, retaliation or otherwise inconsistent with this policy may file a written complaint with:

(a) The Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau; or

(b) The reporting system established pursuant to subsection 11 of Joint Standing Rule No. 20.

➥ Such a complaint must include the details of the incident or incidents alleged, the names of the persons involved and the names of any witnesses. Unless the Legislative Counsel is the subject of the complaint, the Legislative Counsel must be informed upon receipt of a complaint.

the person may file a complaint in the manner listed in subsection 3, or may submit a complaint in accordance with the reporting system established pursuant to subsection 11 of Joint Standing Rule No. 20.

5. If a complaint made against a lobbyist pursuant to this Rule is substantiated, appropriate disciplinary action may be brought against the lobbyist which may include, without limitation, having his or her registration as a lobbyist suspended.

3. The Legislative Code of Ethical Standards is intended to supplement all other ethical standards recognized by rules and laws governing ethics and does not limit the application of such other ethical standards but is cumulative thereto, so that the application or attempted application of any one of the ethical standards does not bar the application or attempted application of any other, except in circumstances where Section 6 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution invests each House with plenary and exclusive constitutional powers.

4. The Legislative Code of Ethical Standards does not create any private right of action or enforceable legal rights in any person.

Rule No. 31. Purpose and Construction.

1. The purpose of the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards is to:

(a) Establish the highest standards of ethical behavior founded upon principles of dignity, decorum, civility and respect;

Rule No. 32. Definitions.

As used in the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in Joint Standing Rules Nos. 33 to 36, inclusive, have the meanings ascribed to them in those rules.

Rule No. 33. "Legislative Committee" Defined.

(e) Any other agency, body, office, organization or unit of the Legislative Branch.

Rule No. 37. Ethical Standards; Prohibited Conduct.

1. The people of the State of Nevada have the right to expect and demand that each Legislator, member of legislative staff or lobbyist adheres to the highest standards of ethical behavior founded upon principles of dignity, decorum, civility and respect because such ethical standards are essential to ensure and enhance the people's faith, trust and confidence in the integrity of the legislative process.

2. Each Legislator, member of legislative staff or lobbyist has a solemn and unerring responsibility and duty to do everything in his or her power to:

(a) Behave properly, appropriately and honorably with each other and with members of the public who participate in the legislative process; and

(b) Encourage, promote and secure an atmosphere in which ethical behavior is the highest priority and is practiced unceasingly and without fail.

3. Each Legislator, member of legislative staff or lobbyist shall not engage in or attempt, offer, or agree to engage in, or assist or induce another person to engage in:

(a) Any conduct that creates the appearance of impropriety; or

Rule No. 38. Complaints.

1. A person may file a complaint alleging a breach of the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in accordance with the Standing Rules of each House, except that a person may not file a complaint alleging the same or substantially similar conduct with more than one House.

2. If the complaint alleges an ethical breach by or against a Legislator or the ethical breach otherwise involves a particular Legislator, the complaint must be filed with the Legislator's House, even if the complaint also alleges an ethical breach by or against a member of legislative staff or a lobbyist.

Rule No. 39. Authority of Senate and Assembly to Adopt Ethical Standards, Require Training and Prohibit and Sanction Ethical Breaches.

1. The Senate and Assembly hereby find and declare that:

(a) Section 6 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution invests each House with plenary and exclusive constitutional powers to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management, expressly providing that: "Each House shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its own members, choose its own officers (except the President of the Senate), determine the rules of its proceedings and may punish its members for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two thirds of all the members elected, expel a member." (Heller v. Legislature, 120 Nev. 456 (2004); Commission on Ethics v. Hardy, 125 Nev. 285 (2009); Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure §§ 2-3 and 560-564 (2010) (Mason's Manual))

(b) Section 7 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution invests each House with plenary and exclusive constitutional powers to govern, control and regulate any person who is not a member but who is guilty of disrespect to the House by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence, and each House also has inherent powers, according to the common parliamentary law, to prohibit and sanction all offensive behavior committed against it by any person who is not a member. (Mason's Manual §§ 805-806; Luther S. Cushing, Elements of the Law & Practice of Legislative Assemblies §§ 690-695 (1856) (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies))

(c) In addition to its other powers, each House possesses certain inherent powers of institutional self-protection and self-preservation to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management. (In re Chapman, 166 U.S. 661, 668 (1897); Mason's Manual § 2; Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 533)

(d) The inherent powers of each House are considered "so essential to the authority of a legislative assembly, that it cannot well exist without them; and they are consequently entitled to be regarded as belonging to every such assembly as a necessary incident." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 533)

(e) The inherent powers of each House authorize it to take all necessary and proper institutional actions that are "recognized by the common parliamentary law." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 684)

(f) Thus, it is well established that each House is "vested with all the powers and privileges which are necessary and incidental to a free and unobstructed exercise of its appropriate functions. These powers and privileges are derived not from the Constitution; on the contrary, they arise from the very creation of a legislative body, and are founded upon the principle of self-preservation." (Ex parte McCarthy, 29 Cal. 395, 403 (1866))

2. The Senate and Assembly hereby exercise their constitutional and inherent powers and privileges and adopt the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules to:

(a) Establish ethical standards to regulate the behavior and conduct of persons who participate in the legislative process; and

(b) Prohibit and sanction ethical breaches.

3. The Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly, respectively, may require Legislators to attend training relating to the ethical standards required, and the behaviors prohibited, by the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards and sanction a Legislator for failure to attend such a training.

CONTINUATION OF RULES

Rule No. 40. Continuation of Joint Standing Rules During the Interim Between Regular Sessions.

The Joint Standing Rules set forth herein shall remain in full force and effect throughout the interim between regular sessions of the Legislature and until new Joint Standing Rules of the Senate and Assembly are adopted as part of the organization of a newly-constituted Legislature at the commencement of a session, unless a conflict exists with a rule adopted by the Senate and Assembly for a special session occurring between regular sessions.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That this resolution becomes effective upon adoption, except that any persons who were issued press identification badges for the 83rd Session of the Legislature before February 3, 2025, and whose names are read or entered into the Journals of the Senate and Assembly as accredited press representatives on that date shall be deemed to be accredited members of a bona fide news medium for the purposes of Joint Standing Rule No. 25.

Assemblymember Jauregui moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymembers Jauregui and Gallant.

ASSEMBLYMEMBER JAUREGUI:

This resolution sets out the Joint Standing Rules of the Senate and Assembly for the 83rd Session of the Nevada Legislature. (1) The Joint Standing Rules are amended throughout to use the term "Assemblymember" rather than "Assemblyman" or "Assemblywoman" for members of the Assembly. (2) Rule No. 4 is amended to eliminate the requirement that the presiding officer of each house announce in open session their intention to sign enrolled bills and joint resolutions before signing such bills and resolutions. (3) A new Rule No. 25 is added to clarify the press accreditation process for the Legislature and ensure the process is consistent with current case law. (4) Rule 39 is amended to authorize the Speaker and the Majority Leader to require Legislators to attend training relating to the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards.

ASSEMBLYMEMBER GALLANT:

I would like to address the Legislature with our concerns of being called "Assemblymember." We fought very hard for the title of "Assemblywoman" back in the nineties, as well as being celebrated for having the first female majority Legislature, and we continue to. I will be voting "no" on these resolutions for that reason.

Resolution adopted and ordered immediately transmitted to the Senate.

By the Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 2—Authorizing additional reimbursement for travel in certain circumstances.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That to offset the increased cost of flights, a legislator may apply for reimbursement for travel of 50 miles or more between the legislator's home and Carson City, Nevada, to serve during the 83rd (2025) Session of the Nevada Legislature by submitting a claim for the reimbursement of any amount the legislator is required to pay for such travel which exceeds the amount authorized to be provided pursuant to NRS 218A.645, up to a maximum amount of $10,000 per legislator; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the amount of any such claim that is approved be verified, processed and paid in the same manner as claims pursuant to NRS 218A.645; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this resolution becomes effective upon adoption.

Assemblymember Jauregui moved the adoption of the resolution.

2. A petition convening the Assembly pursuant to this Rule must specify the matter that will be considered or acted on by the Assembly, indicate a date for the Assembly to convene and be transmitted to the Chief Clerk of the Assembly. Upon receipt of one or more substantially similar petitions signed, in the aggregate, by a majority of the members elected to the Assembly, the Chief Clerk shall notify all members of the Assembly that the Assembly will be convened pursuant to this Rule and the date on which the Assembly will be convened.

(Heller v. Legislature, 120 Nev. 456 (2004); Commission on Ethics v. Hardy, 125 Nev. 285 (2009); Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure §§ 2-3 & 560-564 (2010) (Mason's Manual))

(c) In addition to its plenary and exclusive constitutional powers, each House possesses certain inherent powers of institutional self-protection and self-preservation to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management. (In re Chapman, 166 U.S. 661, 668 (1897); Mason's Manual § 2; Luther S. Cushing, Elements of the Law & Practice of Legislative Assemblies § 533 (1856) (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies))

(d) The inherent powers of each House are considered "so essential to the authority of a legislative assembly, that it cannot well exist without them; and they are consequently entitled to be regarded as belonging to every such assembly as a necessary incident." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 533)

(e) The inherent powers of each House authorize it to take all necessary and proper institutional actions that are "recognized by the common parliamentary law." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 684)

(f) Thus, it is well established that each House is "vested with all the powers and privileges which are necessary and incidental to a free and unobstructed exercise of its appropriate functions. These powers and privileges are derived not from the Constitution; on the contrary, they arise from the very creation of a legislative body, and are founded upon the principle of self-preservation." (Ex parte McCarthy, 29 Cal. 395, 403 (1866))

The next rule is 20.

III. DECORUM AND DEBATE

Rule No. 20. Points of Order.

If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the Assembly, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain; and if called to order by a member, such member shall immediately state the point of order. If the point of order be sustained by the presiding officer, the member shall not be allowed to proceed; but if it be not sustained, then the member shall be permitted to go on. Every such decision from the presiding officer shall be subject to an appeal to the House; but no discussion of the question of order shall be allowed unless an appeal be taken from the decision of the presiding officer.

Rule No. 21. Portable Electronic Communication Devices.

1. A person who is within the Assembly Chambers shall not engage in a telephone conversation via the use of a portable telephone.

2. Before entering the Assembly Chambers, any person who possesses a portable electronic communication device, such as a pager or telephone, that emits an audible alert, such as a ringing or beeping sound, to signal an incoming message or call, shall turn the audible alert off. A device that contains a nonaudible alert, such as a silent vibration, may be operated in a nonaudible manner within the Assembly Chambers.

Rule No. 22. Reserved.

Rule No. 23. Select Committee on Ethics; Legislative Ethics.

1. The Select Committee on Ethics consists of:

(a) Two members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker from the majority political party;

(b) One member of the Assembly appointed by the Minority Leader from the minority political party; and

(c) Three qualified electors of the State, two of whom are appointed by the Speaker and one who is appointed by the Minority Leader, and none of whom is a present member of the Legislature or employed by the State of Nevada.

2. The Speaker shall appoint the Chair and Vice Chair of the Committee. The Vice Chair shall serve as the acting Chair if the Chair is unable to serve for any reason during the consideration of a specific question.

3. The Speaker shall appoint an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (a) of subsection 1 and an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1. The Minority Leader shall appoint an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (b) of subsection 1 and an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1. If a member of the Committee is unable to serve for any reason during the consideration of a specific question, the alternate appointed with the qualifications from the same paragraph in subsection 1 shall serve as a member of the Committee during the consideration of the specific question.

4. A member of the Committee is disqualified to serve during the consideration of a specific question if:

(a) The member is the requester of advice concerning the question of ethics or conflict of interest, or the member is the subject of the complaint concerning the specific question; or

(b) A reasonable person in the member's situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.

5. The members of the Committee shall perform any duty required in the period between the time of their appointment after the general election and the organization of the next succeeding regular session, or until the Speaker or the Speaker Designate or the Minority Leader or Minority Leader Designate appoint new members to the Committee, whichever occurs first.

6. The tenure of the members of the Committee shall extend during the interim between regular sessions of the Legislature.

7. The Committee:

(a) May hear requests brought by members of the Assembly for advice on specific questions of potential breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest; and

(b) Shall hear complaints brought by members of the Assembly and others on specific questions of alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest, including, without limitation, alleged breaches of the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules.

8. All proceedings held by the Committee to consider the character, alleged misconduct, professional competence or physical or mental health of any person on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest and all materials related to those proceedings are confidential, unless the person who is the subject of the proceedings requests a public hearing or discloses the content of the proceedings or materials.

9. An individual may file a complaint which alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest, including, without limitation, an alleged breach of the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules. If the alleged breach of ethics or conflict of interest involves the conduct of more than one person, separate complaints must be filed regarding each person. A complaint must be:

(a) Made in writing on a form provided by the Legislative Counsel;

(b) Signed and verified under penalty of perjury by the individual making the allegation; and

(c) Filed with the Legislative Counsel who shall review the complaint and any other relevant information and consult with the Chair of the Committee or, if the Chair is the subject of the complaint, with the Vice Chair, to evaluate whether the Committee has jurisdiction and whether an investigation is warranted in the matter. If it is determined that the Committee:

(1) Does not have jurisdiction or that an investigation is not warranted in the matter, the Legislative Counsel shall send written notice of the determination to the individual who filed the complaint.

(2) Has jurisdiction and an investigation is warranted in the matter, the Legislative Counsel shall send written notice of the determination and a copy of the complaint to the person who is the subject of the complaint.

10. Each Legislator is subject, at all times, to the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules and, in addition, must determine whether he or she has a conflict of interest upon any matter in question before the Legislator. In determining whether the Legislator has such a conflict of interest, the Legislator should consider whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his or her situation upon the matter in question would be materially affected by the Legislator's:

(a) Acceptance of a gift or loan;

(b) Private economic interest; or

(c) Commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family.

➥ In interpreting and applying the provisions of this subsection, it must be presumed that the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in the Legislator's situation would not be materially affected by the Legislator's private economic interest or the Legislator's commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family where the resulting benefit or detriment accruing to the Legislator, or if the Legislator has a commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family, accruing to those other persons, is not greater than that accruing to any other member of the general business, profession, occupation or group that is affected by the matter.

11. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 12, if a Legislator knows he or she has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10, the Legislator shall make a general disclosure of the conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Assembly, as applicable. Such a disclosure must be entered:

(a) If the Legislator makes the disclosure in a meeting of a committee, in the minutes for that meeting.

(b) If the Legislator makes the disclosure on the floor of the Assembly, in the Journal.

12. If, on one or more prior occasions during the current session of the Legislature, a Legislator has made a general disclosure of a conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Assembly, the Legislator is not required to make that general disclosure at length again regarding the same conflict of interest if, when the matter in question arises on subsequent occasions, the Legislator makes a reference on the record to the previous disclosure.

13. In determining whether to abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which a Legislator has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10, the Legislator should consider whether:

(a) The conflict impedes his or her independence of judgment; and

(b) His or her interest is greater than the interests of an entire class of persons similarly situated.

14. The provisions of this Rule do not under any circumstances and regardless of any conflict of interest:

(a) Prohibit a Legislator from requesting or introducing a legislative measure; or

(b) Require a Legislator to take any particular action before or while requesting or introducing a legislative measure.

15. If a Legislator who is a member of a committee declares on the record when a vote is to be taken by the committee that he or she will abstain from voting because of the requirements of this Rule, the necessary quorum to act upon and the number of votes necessary to act upon the matter is reduced as though the Legislator abstaining were not a member of the committee.

16. The standards and procedures set forth in this Rule which govern whether and to what extent a member of the Assembly has a conflict of interest, should disclose a conflict of interest or should abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which the member has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10:

(a) Are exclusive and are the only standards and procedures that apply to members of the Assembly with regard to such matters; and

(b) Supersede and preempt all other standards and procedures with regard to such matters,

➥ except that this subsection does not exempt any members of the Assembly from the Legislative Code of Ethical Standards in the Joint Standing Rules.

17. For purposes of this Rule, "immediate family" means a person who is related to the Legislator by blood, adoption or marriage within the first degree of consanguinity or affinity.

The next rule is 30.

IV. QUORUM, VOTING, ELECTIONS

Rule No. 30. Manner of Voting.

1. The presiding officer shall declare all votes, but the yeas and nays must be taken when called for by three members present, and the names of those calling for the yeas and nays must be entered in the Journal by the Chief Clerk.

2. The presiding officer shall call for yeas and nays by a division or by a roll call, either electronic or oral.

3. When taking the yeas and nays on any proposal, the electronic roll call system may be used, and when so used shall have the force and effect of any roll call under these rules.

4. When taking the yeas and nays by oral roll call, the Chief Clerk shall take the names of members alphabetically, except that the Speaker's name must be called last.

5. The electronic roll call system may be used to determine the presence of a quorum.

6. The yeas and nays must not be taken with the electronic roll call system until all members present are at their desks. The presiding officer may vote at the rostrum.

7. Only a member who:

(a) Has been certified by the Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections or a special committee of the Assembly; and

(b) Is physically present within the Assembly Chambers,

➥ may cast a vote in the Assembly.

8. A member shall not vote for another member on any roll call, either electronic or oral. Any member who votes for another member may be punished in any manner deemed appropriate by the Assembly.

Rule No. 31. Requirement of Voting.

1. A member shall vote on all proposals that come before the body unless the member:

(a) Is excused; or

(b) Makes a full and complete disclosure of a conflict pursuant to Assembly Standing Rule No. 23.

2. A member found guilty by the House of a breach of this Rule shall not vote or speak on the floor, except to explain and apologize for the breach, until the member has made satisfaction to the House for the breach.

Rule No. 32. Announcement of the Vote.

1. A member may change his or her vote at any time before the announcement of the vote if the voting is by voice, or at any time before the votes are electronically recorded if the voting is conducted electronically.

2. The announcement of the result of any vote shall not be postponed.

Rule No. 33. Voting by Division.

Upon a division and count of the Assembly on any question, no person without the bar shall be counted.

The next rule is 40.

2. To facilitate the full participation of the members during an adjournment called pursuant to Joint Standing Rule No. 9 of the Senate and Assembly, the Speaker may temporarily appoint a member to a committee that is scheduled to meet during the adjournment if none of the committees to which the member is regularly assigned will be meeting during the adjournment.

2. Subcommittee meetings will be scheduled by the subcommittee chair after consulting with the committee chair.

3. Members of a subcommittee are required to attend meetings of the subcommittee.

4. Subcommittees of standing committees shall follow the same rules as standing committees.

Rule No. 43. Concurrent Referrals.

When a bill or resolution is referred to two committees, the bill or resolution must go to the first committee named. If the first committee votes to amend the bill or resolution, it must be reprinted with amendments and then returned to the first committee or sent immediately to the next committee. If there is no amendment proposed by the first committee, or if the first committee acts upon the bill or resolution after amendment, the bill or resolution must be sent with the committee recommendation to the Chief Clerk for transmittal to the second committee.

Rule No. 44. Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections.

The Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections has jurisdiction over matters relating to personnel. It shall recommend by resolution the appointment of all attaches and employees of the Assembly not otherwise provided for by law.

1. The Speaker shall preside as Chair of the Committee or name a Chair to preside.

2. A member of the Committee may speak not more than twice during the consideration of any one proposal, on the same day, and at the same stage of proceedings, without leave. Members who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) to the exclusion of others who have not spoken.

3. The Chair may require any vote of the Committee to be recorded in the manner designated by the Chair.

4. All amendments proposed by the Committee:

(a) Must first be approved by the Committee.

(b) Must be reported by the Chair to the Assembly.

5. Insofar as they are applicable and not in conflict with this Rule, a Committee will observe the committee rules set forth in Section V(A) of the Assembly Standing Rules and such other uniform committee rules as determined by the Speaker and published on the Nevada Legislature's Internet website.

6. A quorum of the Committee is the same as a quorum of the House, and in case a quorum is not present or other defect is observed, the Committee can take no other action than to rise.

7. It is permissible to limit debate to a certain length of time, to close at a time certain, to limit the length of speeches, or to otherwise limit debate.

8. When a fixed duration is established for a Committee, the time may be extended with consent of a majority of the members.

12. The minutes of the meetings of the Committee must be entered in the Assembly's final journal.

Rule No. 46. Procedure for Election Contests.

1. If the Secretary of State delivers a statement of contest of the general election for the legislative office of any member pursuant to NRS 293.427, the Speaker shall appoint a committee to review the contest and designate the chair and vice chair of the committee. The committee must consist of three members who are not parties to the contest.

2. The parties to the contest must be designated as the contestant and the defendant, and the parties may be represented in the contest by attorneys who are licensed to practice law in this State.

3. The chair may take, direct or require any reasonable actions to facilitate or carry out the contest, including, without limitation, issuing and enforcing any orders or other directives to the parties and any attorneys representing the parties.

4. The committee shall not review the merits of the contest unless the committee first determines that the contestant complied with all requirements to bring and maintain the contest. To assist the committee in making its determination, the chair shall take, direct or require any reasonable actions to provide the parties with notice and an opportunity to submit written arguments to the committee limited to the issue of whether the contestant complied with all requirements to bring and maintain the contest.

5. If the committee determines that the contestant complied with all requirements to bring and maintain the contest, the committee shall review the merits of the contest pursuant to this Rule. If the committee determines that the contestant did not comply with all requirements to bring and maintain the contest, the committee shall report to the Assembly its recommendation that the Assembly should not take further action on the contest and that the Assembly should dismiss the contest with prejudice. As soon as practicable after receiving the committee's report, the Assembly shall vote on whether to accept or reject the committee's recommendation without amendment. If the Assembly accepts the committee's recommendation, the Speaker shall declare that the Assembly shall not take further action on the contest and that the Assembly dismisses the contest with prejudice. If the Assembly rejects the committee's recommendation, the Speaker shall declare that the Assembly returns the contest to the committee with directions to review the merits of the contest pursuant to this Rule.

6. If the committee reviews the merits of the contest pursuant to this Rule, the committee may conduct any reasonable hearings or other proceedings to receive any evidence and arguments from the parties regarding the merits of the contest. The committee shall keep written minutes of any hearings that are conducted.

7. To the extent possible, the merits of the contest must be presented and submitted to the committee upon depositions and any written or oral arguments as the chair may order. If, at any hearings or other proceedings, any oral statements are made that purport to establish matters of fact, the statements must be made under oath. Strict rules of evidence do not apply in any hearings or other proceedings, but the chair may admit or exclude any evidence based on the rules of evidence.

8. A party may take the deposition of any witness at any time after the statement of contest is filed with the Secretary of State, but the chair may establish reasonable limitations and deadlines regarding any depositions. Before taking a deposition, a party must provide at least 5 days' notice to the prospective deponent and the other party.

9. To prevail on the merits of the contest, the contestant has the burden of proving that, based on one or more of the grounds set forth in NRS 293.410, there were sufficient irregularities in the election of such a substantial nature as to establish that the result of the election was changed thereby.

10. If the committee reviews the merits of the contest pursuant to this Rule, the committee shall report to the Assembly its findings and its recommendation on which party should be declared elected, unless the committee declines to make such a recommendation in its report. As soon as practicable after receiving the committee's report, the Assembly shall vote on whether to accept or reject the committee's recommendation without amendment, if such a recommendation is made. If the Assembly accepts the committee's recommendation, the Speaker shall declare the recommended party elected. If the Assembly rejects the committee's recommendation or if the committee did not make such a recommendation, the Assembly shall vote on which party should be declared elected, and the Speaker shall declare the party elected after the vote.

11. If the contestant is declared elected and seated as a member of the Assembly as a result of the contest, the Speaker shall inform the Governor of the Assembly's actions.

3. A person may obtain a recording of a meeting by paying a fee determined by the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau to cover the cost of the recording. Minutes of joint meetings prepared by non-Assembly staff are not official records of the Assembly. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the official record of the committee is the minutes of the committee meeting approved by the chair pursuant to paragraph (m) of subsection 3 of Assembly Standing Rule No. 47. If the chair does not approve the minutes pursuant to paragraph (m) of subsection 3 of Assembly Standing Rule No. 47 within 60 days after the minutes are submitted to the chair for review, such minutes shall be deemed to be the official record of the committee without requiring the approval or signature of the chair.

Rule No. 122. Reserved.

Rule No. 123. Reserved.

Rule No. 124. Reserved.

Rule No. 125. Reserved.

Rule No. 126. Authorized Use of Remote-Technology Systems in Exceptional Circumstances.

1. As used in this Rule, "remote-technology system" means any system or other means of communication that is:

(a) Approved by the Speaker and uses any electronic, digital or other similar technology to enable a member of the Assembly from a remote location to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings of the Assembly or the Committee of the Whole even though the member is not physically present within the Assembly Chambers or at a meeting of the Committee of the Whole.

(b) Approved by the chair of a committee, other than the Committee of the Whole, and uses any electronic, digital or other similar technology to enable a member of the Assembly from a remote location to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings of the committee even though the member is not physically present at a meeting of the committee.

2. Upon request by a member of the Assembly:

(a) The Speaker may authorize the member to use a remote-technology system to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings of the Assembly or the Committee of the Whole if the Speaker determines that exceptional circumstances warrant such use by the member. If the Speaker grants such authorization, it must be entered in the Journal of the Assembly.

(b) The chair of a committee, other than the Committee of the Whole, with the approval of the Speaker, may authorize the member to use a remote-technology system to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings of the committee if the chair and the Speaker determine that exceptional circumstances warrant such use by the member. If the chair grants such authorization, it must be entered in the records of the committee.

3. If a member of the Assembly uses a remote-technology system to attend, participate, vote and take any other action in any proceedings pursuant to this Rule, the member shall be deemed to be present and in attendance at the proceedings for all purposes.

4. For the purposes of voting in proceedings of:

(a) The Assembly or the Committee of the Whole, the Chief Clerk of the Assembly, or an authorized assistant, shall call the roll of each member who is authorized to use a remote-technology system for the proceedings and, in accordance with the procedures of the Assembly, cause the member's vote to be entered into the record for the purposes of the Journal of the Assembly or the records of the Committee of the Whole, as applicable.

(b) A committee, other than the Committee of the Whole, the committee secretary shall call the roll of each member who is authorized to use a remote-technology system for the proceedings and, in accordance with the procedures of the committee, cause the member's vote to be entered into the record for the purposes of the records of the committee.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7 of Assembly Standing Rule No. 55, this Rule supersedes, takes precedence and controls over any other rule, provision or principle of law to the extent of any conflict with this Rule.

6. The Assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) The Nevada Constitution invests each House of the Legislature with certain plenary and exclusive constitutional powers which may be exercised only by that House and which cannot be usurped, infringed or impaired by the other House or by any other branch of Nevada's State Government. (Heller v. Legislature, 120 Nev. 456 (2004); Commission on Ethics v. Hardy, 125 Nev. 285 (2009); Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure §§ 2-3 & 560-564 (2010) (Mason's Manual))

(b) Section 6 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution invests each House with plenary and exclusive constitutional powers to determine the rules of its proceedings and to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management, expressly providing that: "Each House shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its own members, choose its own officers (except the President of the Senate), determine the rules of its proceedings and may punish its members for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two thirds of all the members elected, expel a member."

(c) In addition to its plenary and exclusive constitutional powers, each House possesses certain inherent powers of institutional self-protection and self-preservation to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management. (In re Chapman, 166 U.S. 661, 668 (1897); Mason's Manual § 2; Luther S. Cushing, Elements of the Law & Practice of Legislative Assemblies § 533 (1856) (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies))

(d) The inherent powers of each House are considered "so essential to the authority of a legislative assembly, that it cannot well exist without them; and they are consequently entitled to be regarded as belonging to every such assembly as a necessary incident." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 533)

(e) The inherent powers of each House authorize it to take all necessary and proper institutional actions that are "recognized by the common parliamentary law." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 684)

(f) Thus, it is well established that each House is "vested with all the powers and privileges which are necessary and incidental to a free and unobstructed exercise of its appropriate functions. These powers and privileges are derived not from the Constitution; on the contrary, they arise from the very creation of a legislative body, and are founded upon the principle of self-preservation." (Ex parte McCarthy, 29 Cal. 395, 403 (1866))

(g) Under the Nevada Constitution, there are no constitutional provisions establishing a particular method for determining whether a member of either House is present at legislative proceedings.

(h) The United States Supreme Court has held that when there are no constitutional provisions establishing a particular method for determining whether a member of a legislative house is present at legislative proceedings, "it is therefore within the competency of the house to prescribe any method which shall be reasonably certain to ascertain the fact." (United States v. Ballin, 144 U.S. 1, 6 (1892))

(i) The United States Supreme Court has also held that when a legislative house adopts a rule establishing a reasonable method for determining whether a member is present at legislative proceedings, that rule must be given great deference by the courts because:

> Neither do the advantages or disadvantages, the wisdom or folly, of such a rule present any matters for judicial consideration. With the courts the question is only one of power. The constitution empowers each house to determine its rules of proceedings. It may not by its rules ignore constitutional restraints or violate fundamental rights, and there should be a reasonable relation between the mode or method of proceeding established by the rule and the result which is sought to be attained. But within these limitations all matters of method are open to the determination of the house, and it is no impeachment of the rule to say that some other way would be better, more accurate, or even more just. It is no objection to the validity of a rule that a different one has been prescribed and in force for a length of time. The power to make rules is not one which once exercised is exhausted. It is a continuous power, always subject to be exercised by the house, and, within the limitations suggested, absolute and beyond the challenge of any other body or tribunal.

(United States v. Ballin, 144 U.S. 1, 5 (1892))

7. The Assembly hereby exercises its constitutional and inherent powers and privileges and adopts this Rule to:

(a) Govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management;

(b) Ensure its institutional self-protection and self-preservation; and

(c) Establish a reasonable method for determining whether a member of the Assembly is present at legislative proceedings during exceptional circumstances.

FEBRUARY 3, 2025

THE HONORABLE NICOLE CANNIZZARO, MAJORITY LEADER, NEVADA STATE SENATE, THE HONORABLE STEVE YEAGER, SPEAKER, NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY, 401 S. Carson Street, Carson City, Nevada 89701

DEAR MAJORITY LEADER CANNIZZARO AND SPEAKER YEAGER:

Please find enclosed the text of my State of the State address to the 83rd Session of the Nevada Legislature. I was honored to join you both alongside your fellow legislators, Supreme Court justices, constitutional officers, and honored guests for this important evening for all Nevadans. I was proud to outline my plans to move Nevada forward, and deliver on our commitment to support, create opportunities for and relieve the burden on working families across our great state.

Nevada is entering a crucial phase, confronting challenges that demand serious comprehensive and forward thinking solutions. From housing affordability and healthcare access, to educational outcomes, public safety, and economic policy. To address these critical needs, I am introducing five priority pieces of legislation that reflect my administration's vision for Nevada's future. Each of these proposals represents a comprehensive and strategic approach to addressing the challenges we face and are designed to deliver tangible results, improve government efficiency, and provide financial relief to taxpayers.

As I said in my State of the State address, I remain committed to working with you and I know we all feel a profound and abiding sense of duty and honor to the people we serve. I appreciate your thoughtful consideration and deliberation over the coming months. My staff and I stand ready to work with you this Session to find solutions and improve the quality of life for all Nevadans.

Sincerely,
JOE LOMBARDO
Governor

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

Assemblymember Jauregui moved that the Governor's State of the State Address as presented to the Legislative Commission's Special Committee to Receive the Governor's State of the State Address of January 15, 2025, be entered into the Journal.

GOVERNOR JOE LOMBARDO:

Welcome everybody: Speaker Yeager, Majority Leader Cannizzaro, Lieutenant Governor Anthony, members of the Senate and Assembly, honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, welcome; constitutional officers, welcome, welcome; distinguished guests, my fellow Nevadans, good evening.

I want to acknowledge that all of us have friends and family who have been affected by the devastating wildfires in southern California. Our hearts go out to those who are dealing with the fire's aftermath, and I ask that we all keep the good people of Los Angeles and the first responders who are working to keep them safe, in our thoughts and prayers.

I appear before you two weeks into the new year and two weeks away from the start of a new legislative session. I know all of you feel a profound and abiding sense of duty and honor to serve the people. Every day we are entrusted with the distinct privilege of working for the citizens of this great state.

It is no secret that in the coming months we will not always see eye to eye on everything, and that is ok. What I do know, however, is that there will be absolutely no disagreement among us on two essential mandates, fulfilling the people's trust and giving them nothing less than our very best. Tonight, let us take a look at where our state is headed. I will highlight my executive budget, summarize the state of our state, and outline where I believe our state's resources should be prioritized. Beforehand, I want to talk about who we are and where we have been.

One hundred years ago, almost to the day, Nevada Governor James Scrugham, wrote to the Nevada Legislature in his State of the State message that economic progress should not be restrained "by burdensome legislation, excessive taxation, or unnecessary interferences." In 1925, Nevada's population was 85,000; today, we are over 3.2 million. Governor Scrugham was spot on 100 years ago, and I would bet what he wrote in 1925 will be true 100 years from now. It is that kind of disciplined leadership that has enabled Nevadans to march through decades of unexpected downturns and rise again and again with a renewed spirit of hope and optimism.

I also believe that by embracing the Nevada Way, a concept that as Nevadans, if we believe in ourselves sufficiently enough and trust one another to overcome adversity no matter the order of magnitude, we shall never fail.

We emerged from a brutal pandemic stronger and healthier; we instituted thoughtful changes in the way we operate; and we exercised our vested authority to substantially limit the growth of government. It is not about doing less; it is about doing better.

To give you a sense of what I am talking about, when I took over as Governor, the IT [Information Technology] project to replace our HR [Human Resources] and financial operations systems had spent more than $100 million but was no closer to implementation than when it started in 2017. I am proud to announce that the first phase of the financial system went live on January 2, and now Nevada is paying its bills. The HR system is on track to be fully implemented this summer on time and within budget. We made clear that our vision for Nevada's future is bracketed by the twin principles of physical discipline and decisive leadership. To put it simply, we are getting stuff done.

Without hesitation, I can confidently say after 24 months in office, we are running government, government is not running us. Meaning, in my administration results are more important than process. I strongly agree with President Reagan's idea, "Government can and must provide opportunity, not smother it;" it must "foster productivity, not stifle it." In two years, we have reduced an employee vacancy rate from 25 percent to half of that. Morale and working conditions have improved dramatically. State employee productivity is significantly higher, employees are back in the office, and we are back in business. During that same period, we welcomed a record number of visitors to the Silver State, and we are experiencing robust job creation. Nearly 1.6 million Nevadans are working, marking the highest number in our state's 160-year history. This remarkable achievement reflects the resilience and determination of our citizens and the progress we made in building an economy that delivers results. But in an unusual twist, Nevada's unemployment rate stands at 5.7 percent; a number that reminds us there is still a lot of work to be done. My administration is committed to ensuring that every Nevadan, no matter their circumstances, has access to meaningful opportunities to contribute and participate in our state's success.

In my inaugural address, I spoke about unleashing the roar of Nevada's economy, and we are well on our way. I attribute it to the fact that the world wants to share in our rich entertainment and sporting event experiences. At the same time, business leaders around the globe have heard and answered the call that Nevada is open for business. These are good signs, no doubt, but as leaders, it is our responsibility to be on the lookout for early warning signs of change. While we can look forward with cautious optimism that our economy is stable, we must stay alert to sudden economic turns. To that end, my budget includes a record high reserve in the Rainy Day Fund of $1.3 billion. Just imagine, 10 years ago, the Rainy Day Fund had a balance of $330 million. Four years ago, due to the pandemic, it was drained to zero. We made smart fiscal decisions, and we instituted prudent policies to protect ourselves. We should pause and note, those of us who were here two years ago can be gratified knowing we are responsible for being responsible. It is safe to say, we Nevadans are no strangers to hardship. It is the nature of our story, so we must act accordingly.

Let me provide you with another example we have accomplished since taking office, this time in education—remember I said we have accomplished. Last session, we added over $2 billion in new funding for Nevada students and schools—the largest education investment in our state's history. Hand in hand with that historic achievement, we worked last session to make our schools safer and more accessible to Nevada families in all 17 counties. We heard the urgent voices of students, parents, and teachers that said the safety of our schools was under threat. They asked us to step up to reempower teachers and to give students the reinforcement they need to grow academically while also learning the value of respect and responsibility. I was proud to collaborate with the Legislature last session to pass two bills that reestablish control and accountability in our schools. Together, we also made major new commitments to state-funded pre-K through building out additional capacity for our youngest learners. We created transportation options for students who choose to attend charter schools, and we supported our teacher workforce by creating new professional pathways and scholarships. That level of cooperation, the willingness to come together and find common ground, is what I hope for in this session as we work to solve the needs of our students, parents, and educators. I will share more in a few moments of what we propose to do this session to improve public education.

First, I am proud to present you a $12.7 billion executive budget that meets the commitments we made last session on pay raises for public employees and teachers and I am pleased to announce tonight, my budget will make teacher pay raises permanent. I am also announcing that I will be extending pay raises to all charter school teachers.

Additionally, my budget introduces important changes in how we conduct state business. It bolsters our purchasing power to save taxpayer dollars, and it is a budget that is transparent in addressing inescapable realities like program roll ups amid the growing scarcity of federal dollars. Let us face it, as we get ready for the 120-day session, we all know working families need to catch a break. I can assure you that every single one of my budget decisions was focused on delivering on that commitment. Most important, this is a budget that is centered and balanced on the promise of not raising taxes on our hardworking Nevada families.

My fellow Nevadans, I stand before you to tell you that the state of our state is steadily improving. We are certainly headed in the right direction and the outlook is positive; but for it to remain sustainable, we must, we must, sharpen our discipline and focus. Prices are higher because of the compounding effects of inflation and the cost of living continues to weigh on our families. Housing costs are stretching budgets thin, health care costs remain a heavy burden, and access to health care is too limited for too many. With these concerns in mind, I will share something with you. Last month, I declined to include millions of dollars in state agency requests for more funding in this budget. Many of the proposed program enhancements were thoughtful, but now is exactly the wrong time to strap more burden on the backs of hardworking Nevada families. So, I held the line.

Considering the added financial pressures Nevada families are feeling, I instructed my cabinet to lock in the resolve to say no to more spending; and yes, to more accountability and resourcefulness. Among my top budget priorities—I want to mention one in particular, it is one I expect will be met with bipartisan support—I am announcing that we will be splitting up the Department of Health and Human Services. I will stand up to Nevada Health Authority, which will be assigned the critical responsibilities of managing Medicaid, the Health Exchange, employee benefits, mental health funding, and other services. This new authority will capitalize on the broad and strong purchasing power of the State when it comes to health insurance. Leveraging that power enables us to cut a better deal for taxpayers while offering better insurance options for Medicaid members; those Nevadans enrolled in the exchange; and state employees. To lead this new agency, I am proud to announce, I have asked one of Nevada's hardest working and most effective public employees to take on this assignment. Please join me in recognizing Stacie Weeks. Making this significant adjustment in the way we address health care is an essential step in helping all Nevadans, and I urge your support for this critical shift in health care management.

Nevada is entering a crucial phase, confronting challenges that demand serious comprehensive and forward-thinking solutions, from housing affordability and health care, access to educational outcomes, public safety, and economic policy. To address these critical needs, I am introducing five priority pieces of legislation that reflect my administration's vision for Nevada's future. Each of these proposals represents a comprehensive and strategic approach to addressing the challenges we face, designed to deliver tangible results, improve government efficiency, and provide financial relief to taxpayers. I would ask that before some of you say no, work with me. Collaborate with my agency heads, ask questions, give input, offer alternatives, and set aside partisan politics. The stubborn reality is that if we do nothing, these challenges only become more difficult.

Let me say this plainly, Donna and I are grandparents, and we feel firsthand the struggle young families are having with housing costs. We know too many Nevadans are seriously questioning if they will ever have the chance to own a home. Everyone watching and listening tonight has been affected by this crisis. No one is untouched. Finding sensible solutions requires leadership, partnership, and bipartisanship. I know we can do this if we set our minds to it.

The root cause of our crisis is that Nevada families and builders are being held back by the federal government's reluctance to release the land we need for housing. With over 80 percent of our state under federal control, bureaucratic delays have driven up costs and shut down opportunities. My administration has fought hard to change that, pushing Washington to make land available for the people who need it most. I have spoken with President Trump on multiple occasions to let him know how important it is that more federal land be released so we can relieve the mounting pressure on our housing inventory. I have great confidence that President Trump understands and will help. I have also been in constant contact with our congressional delegation, who are working closely with us to cut through the D.C. [District of Columbia] bureaucratic red tape, but while we press for federal action—we are not waiting. We bear an important responsibility to protect the natural splendor of Nevada while solving our housing crisis. That means supporting what works and shedding outdated practices that slow progress or drive up costs. By streamlining permits, prioritizing the use of every buildable acre of land for Nevadans—not out of state investors looking to cash in—we are creating a route for housing attainability for all. The Nevada Attainable Housing Act is our action plan to get this done. This comprehensive legislation tackles housing needs on multiple fronts: fostering innovation, incentivizing development, and creating public-private partnerships. The bill prioritizes state funding that will support $1 billion in new attainable housing units across Nevada. This investment empowers Nevada builders to create homes for the people who live and work here: helping families secure stable housing; creating pathways to homeownership for essential workers like teachers, nurses, and first responders; and supporting transitional housing for those starting over by focusing on solutions that expand housing supply through collaboration, not heavy-handed mandates that choke growth. This plan is about partnerships—builders, governments, and communities working together to create housing by Nevadans, for Nevadans.

We also need to continue the great work our fire agencies and stakeholders are doing to protect us from the growing risk of wildfires. If fires do occur, despite our best efforts, we need to ensure our homeowners and residents can have adequate insurance in place to help recover from loss and to stay in their homes. We know a house is not just four walls and a roof; it is the foundation for a better life. Whether you are renting, saving for your first home, or starting over, know this: we see you, we hear you, and we are in this together.

Just this week, the [Governor's] Office of Economic Development formally approved the Campus for Hope, a $200 million initiative that embodies the power of public-private partnership funded by the state and the private sector through the Campus for Hope Foundation. This groundbreaking project will provide life-changing resources for those experiencing homelessness by bringing together the state, local governments, and business community partners, the Campus for Hope exemplifies Nevada's commitment to innovative results-driven solutions. More than just a building, the campus represents the promise of a better future. Combining the collective will of the 63 of you—and me—we can build more than houses. We can convert Nevada's promise into reality: a place where every family can thrive, every community can grow, and every dream can find a home. That is the Nevada way.

Nevada is home to some of the best doctors, nurses, and hospitals in the country, but we have a significant challenge, we need more of them. With some of the lowest provider-to-patient ratios in the nation, far too many Nevadans are left waiting for care, or worse, going without it. This session, we are confronting this issue with a bold plan to modernize and strengthen our health care system. We are also removing barriers that prevent providers from focusing on what matters most: delivering high quality care. By 2028, all health insurance plans in Nevada will be required to adopt standardized and digitized prior authorization plans, thus reducing delays for patients and providers.

Concurrently, we are investing in partnerships that address both health care and economic development challenges. We are doubling our investment in graduate medical education, incentivizing providers to serve in underserved areas, and leveraging telemedicine. We are creating new career opportunities and ensuring that quality care reaches every corner of the state. These initiatives are grounded in a simple but profound belief that the strength of Nevada's communities begins with the health of it is people. As I mentioned earlier, at the heart of this effort is the creation of Nevada Health Authority, a streamlined agency designed to address our state's most pressing health care needs. This agency will include the Office of Mental Health to expand access to behavioral health services and ensure better coordination of care for Nevada's most vulnerable residents. We are building a system where families can trust they will find the care they need closer to home; where providers want to practice; and where every investment enhances the health and prosperity of our state because healthcare is more than just a service, it is a lifeline. It is an equalizer. It is a promise that no Nevadan, no matter where they live, will be left behind.

In 2023, we delivered the largest investment in K through 12 education in Nevada's history. We did it because we believe every Nevada child deserves an education that prepares them for careers, college, and life. We have invested the money—a lot of it—and we made a solid commitment to students, families, and educators. Together, we ensure that students facing the greatest challenges, those learning English, or those at risk of falling behind, or those with exceptional talents, receive the support they need and deserve. I am proud of what we have done, but folks, we can no longer accept the lack of funding as an excuse for chronic underperformance. I am a big believer in school choice. Some of you are too, and I recognize some of you are not. When it comes to our education system, let us ask ourselves two direct questions. One, are we satisfied with the status quo that results in our education system year after year, bouncing near the bottom of national metrics? I know I am not. And two, should we not collaborate more to close the achievement gaps plaguing our schools and challenge ourselves to try something different? To change the outcome, we must be willing to change the model. My view is—other states around the country are adopting similar views—no child should be trapped in a failing school because of their zip code or held down because of how much their parents or grandparents earn.

The Nevada Accountability and Education Act sets out four specific areas of how we intend to impose accountability, accelerate improvement, and give every student a legitimate shot at success. First, we are advancing policies that demand stricter accountability, equity, and excellence across every level of our education system. We are raising the bar for our schools, our school districts, and school boards. Second, we are expanding open enrollment policies to break down geographic barriers and provide transportation support to make choice available for all families. Every parent deserves the freedom to find the best educational setting for their child, no exceptions. Third, we are doubling down on teaching excellence. The Excellence in Education Fund will reward Nevada's highest performing teachers and administrators. Finally, we are addressing one of the most fundamental issues in education: early literacy. For those schools that are struggling, we will dedicate targeted resources to drive improvement while holding everyone accountable for results. If a school is found to be consistently underperforming, make no mistake, my bill proposes decisive action. We have done good work together. We must do better. Let us make a permanent difference in our schools.

The safety of our citizens continues to rank as a top priority, and in 2022 Nevada voters elected a sheriff to be their governor. Several years ago, laws were put on the books that softened criminal penalties, weakened judicial discretion in sentencing, tied the hands of prosecutors, and restricted justice for the victims of crime. In 2023, we set out to change that. I sponsored, and you passed, legislation strengthening certain elements of the Nevada's criminal code, but we must do more. As a part of my commitment to protecting Nevada families, I will be forwarding, for your consideration, the Safe Streets and Neighborhoods Act. This legislation supports victims of crimes, holds repeat and violent offenders accountable for their actions, and invests in curbing the abuse of drugs, which are often the central cause of criminal activity. Imagine a world where California is tougher on criminals than Nevada. That is the reality we face today. California voters recently approved stricter measures to address smash-and-grab crimes, lowering the threshold for felony prosecution and imposing enhanced penalties for repeat offenders. To restore a sense of law and order, my proposed legislation reduces the felony theft threshold and implements enhanced penalties for repeat offenders, regardless of the value involved. Let us make it harder for these career criminals to victimize Nevadans.

My bill also addresses a broad range of other public safety issues, including DUI [Driving Under the Influence] laws, domestic violence, bail policies, stalking, and cyberstalking. Perhaps most notable is that the Safe Streets and Neighborhoods Act prohibits the use of diversion courts for offenders who commit crimes against the most vulnerable amongst us: our children and the elderly. We cannot understate the role drug traffickers play in fueling a vicious cycle of addiction and crime. My bill takes direct aim at this crisis by reducing trafficking thresholds to stop illegal drugs and the criminals who push them. I know everyone here tonight believes strongly in the importance of public safety. Last session we made noteworthy progress and helped make our communities safer. Let us build on that momentum.

Our state is at a pivotal moment, emerging from the challenges of recent years and poised to reshape the economic future. To foster growth, we are rethinking economic development to focus on strategies that directly benefit businesses, workers, and families already established in our state.

By modernizing incentives, we are ensuring that industries that create high quality jobs, advance clean energy, and address essential needs like health care and childcare, are encouraged and rewarded. By embracing innovation and sustainability we will be able to empower a diverse economy and strengthen local businesses. Targeted tax credits for childcare facilities, for example, help working families, but also support businesses in building a stronger, more inclusive workforce. Economic development is about more than dollars in deals, it is about creating opportunities that benefit every Nevadan. This effort is grounded in the principle that economic growth must uplift communities and improve lives. Through investments in infrastructure and strategic partnerships, we are closing gaps that have long held us back from meeting the needs of underserved rural areas and emerging industries. Nevada will not simply follow the future; we will define it.

In our state government, we have over 300 boards and commissions. Thanks to the Legislature's passage of Senate Bill 431 last session, we made early strides in centralizing oversight, improving transparency, and implementing uniform standards for these boards and commissions. But it has become clear to me that our system of boards lacks the organization, the efficiency, and accountability that our citizens expect. That is why I asked my Director of Business and Industry, Doctor Kris Sanchez, to take a hard look at the functionality of the system and to evaluate the purpose of every board. He was tasked with finding ways to streamline, to consolidate, and to ensure these panels are performing to their maximum potential. We know many of these boards are necessary. They provide technical expertise, safeguard public interest, and help keep our community safe and strong. But we must ask ourselves, are these boards efficiently fulfilling their mission? Are they making the best use of your hard-earned tax dollars, or had they outlived their usefulness? Together, let us expand on what we did last session and finish the good work that Director Sanchez has already begun. We need an effective system of boards and commissions that reflects the needs and values of Nevada. A system that is smart, lean, and productive—smart, lean, and productive. Just a little color to that statement, I asked the Legislature not to get nervous when he plops that bill down on the table—I saw it, it is big, but we will get through it.

Two years ago, I said to you the right to vote is one of the most fundamental rights in American society. I also said that for our election system to function properly, it is vitally important to: (1) verify the identity of our voters, (2) ensure that all mail-in ballots are received by the time the polls close on Election Day.

On the first point, I argued that while we require people to have a valid form of ID for many daily functions, but not an ID to vote makes no sense. I vowed that if we could not reach an agreement that I would put it before the people and ask them to get it done. You know what happened? Nevada voters agreed with me, and Voter ID received more total votes than any candidate or any question on the 2024 ballot. And I expect it to pass overwhelmingly again in 2026.

On the second point, it makes zero sense to keep counting ballots four days after an election. We can be proud that Nevada is one of the easiest places to cast a vote, but it is time we make sure the votes are in and counted by Election Day. I have no doubt we can get this done. Working together with Secretary of State, Cisco [Francisco] Aguilar, we can enact a simple bipartisan fix to finish our elections on time. I would hope that this is one of the first bipartisan bills I signed. Honestly, I prefer not to go to the ballot on this issue, but if the Legislature chooses not to pass it, I will again lead an effort to take it to the voters and ask them to decide.

The fun part of the speech—the First Lady. Before I conclude tonight, I would like to recognize the First Lady, who does so much for our state. It is amazing how humble she is. The truth is, I could not effectively do this job without the First Lady by my side. She keeps me grounded and she is a steady and reliable voice of reason. She has her own full-time job and still has enough energy at the end of the day to listen to me and to give me sound advice—sometimes. She is an excellent role model, a terrific mother and grandmother, and the best friend a Governor could have. Donna Lombardo, thank you. Thank you for everything you do for me, our family, and for the Nevada families across the state.

In closing, I want to invoke the genius of Lincoln and Jefferson. To let us reaffirm that in this chamber tonight, there are no Republicans, no Democrats, just regular Nevadans who are bonded by our shared history that teaches us again and again, there are no challenges we cannot overcome if we summon the will to work together. The voters of Nevada hired us and tasked us with conducting their business efficiently and ethically.

Before you adjourn this session and return home, let us strike a solemn pledge to the people we represent, to do something remarkable that is worthy of being remembered in the areas of housing, health care, education, public safety and economic diversification. My fellow Nevadans, to succeed, we must focus on what unites us. We must set our sights on shared goals and rise above the harsh political rhetoric. In five months, we will be judged, you and me, by the results we achieve together.

In my first State of the State, I stood before you and said my administration will govern with transparency, candor, and integrity and we have kept that promise. Tonight, I stand ready to renew that commitment with equal resolve and enthusiasm. A century from now, let us enable our grandchildren's grandchildren to look back to 2025 as a time when Nevada's elected leaders were unrestrained by unnecessary interferences and followed the Nevada way. God bless our Nevada military service members deployed around the world, God bless Nevada, God bless you, and God bless America. Thank you.

Father, as we gather and settle into the rhythms of another session, help us to remember who we serve. Help us to remember why we serve. Help us respect those who serve with us, sometimes as allies and sometimes as opponents. May the spirit of peace that you provide prevail in moments of tension or friction. Help us to remember that you are a God of order, not disorder. And in all things help us to remember to thank you for your Son in whose name we pray.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 3, 2025

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 1.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

By Assemblymember Anderson:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to revise provisions relating to the assessment and taxation of real property which is sold or transferred and to require the Legislature to enact a program to provide property tax assistance to senior citizens and persons with disabilities.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 1 of Article 10 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. 1. The Legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims, which shall be assessed and taxed only as provided in Section 5 of this Article.

2. Shares of stock, bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The Legislature may constitute agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used, as a separate class for taxation purposes and may provide a separate uniform plan for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such plan is provided, the Legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The Legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this Section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The Legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The Legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

7. No inheritance tax shall ever be levied.

8. The Legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

9. No income tax shall be levied upon the wages or personal income of natural persons. Notwithstanding the foregoing provision, and except as otherwise provided in subsection 1 of this Section, taxes may be levied upon the income or revenue of any business in whatever form it may be conducted for profit in the State.

10. The Legislature may provide by law for an abatement of the tax upon or an exemption of part of the assessed value of a single-family residence occupied by the owner to the extent necessary to avoid severe economic hardship to the owner of the residence.

11. For purposes of assessment and taxation of property:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, for the first fiscal year after the sale or transfer of real property, the real property sold or transferred shall not be eligible for any adjustment provided by the Legislature by law based on the age of improvements to the real property, any abatement of the tax upon the real property provided by the Legislature by law pursuant to subsection 8 or any abatement or exemption provided by the Legislature by law pursuant to subsection 10. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to real property for which the Legislature has provided by law for an exemption of the tax on property.

(b) For any fiscal year following the first fiscal year after the sale or transfer of real property to which the provisions of paragraph (a) apply, any adjustment provided by the Legislature by law based on the age of improvements to the real property must be determined as if the improvements were new improvements on the date of the sale or transfer.

(c) The Legislature shall provide by law for definitions of the terms "sale" and "transfer" as necessary to carry out the provisions of this subsection.

12. The Legislature shall provide by law for a program to provide for the payment of refunds of the taxes imposed on the primary residence of a person domiciled in this State who is 62 years of age or older or a person with a disability. If such a person rents his or her primary residence, the amount of the refund for which the person is eligible must not exceed the portion of the rent which is deemed to constitute accrued property tax. The Legislature shall establish by law:

(a) The criteria which a person must satisfy to be eligible for such a refund; and

(b) The amount of the refund to be paid to a person eligible for such a refund, which may consist of a graduated refund based on the household income of such a person.

CARSON CITY (Thursday), February 6, 2025

Assembly called to order at 11:53 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymembers Dalia, Kasama, and Monroe-Moreno, who were excused.

Prayer by Father Thomas Babu.

Almighty and eternal Light of the World, You are the true Fount of Peace. You made it self-evident to us that all human beings are created equal. Through Your goodness, open our eyes to see the dignity, beauty, and worth of every human being. Open our minds to understand that all Your children are brothers and sisters in the same human family. We come before You today as leaders and representatives of the state with grateful hearts, seeking Your wisdom and guidance as we gather in this assembly to serve the people of Nevada. You have entrusted us with the responsibility to govern with justice, integrity, and compassion. May we always remember that leadership is a calling to serve, not to be served.

Grant us clarity of thought, unity of purpose, and a spirit of cooperation. Help us to listen with open hearts, speak with kindness, and act with fairness. May the laws and decisions made in this chamber reflect the values of truth, dignity, and the common good.

Bless our state, its leaders, and its people. May Nevada continue to be a land of opportunity, prosperity, and peace for all who call it home. In all that we do today, may we honor You and uplift the lives of those we represent.

Open our ears to hear the cries of those wounded by racial discrimination, and their passionate appeals for change. We pray for all who fight for justice and equality, who give voice to the voiceless and hope to the hopeless.

As for the leaders of this great state, help them to be just leaders. Fill them with courage to make choices that are right and just. Help them to heal wounds, build bridges, and establish peace and equality for all in our communities. Help us to be people who can be instruments in bringing peace, equality and justice for those who are less fortunate around us. In the holy name of our Creator God, we pray.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblymember Jauregui moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Governor's message stating his objections as follows.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR JOE LOMBARDO

June 16, 2023

THE HONORABLE FRANCISCO AGUILAR, NEVADA SECRETARY OF STATE, 101 North Carson Street, Carson City, Nevada 89701

RE: Assembly Bill 74 of the 82nd Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 74 ("AB 74"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to public bodies; authorizing the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada to enter into an agreement to affiliate with a public or private entity for certain purposes; authorizing a public body to enter into a public-private partnership in connection with certain facilities; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

AB 74 would present a burdensome expansion regarding the requirement of prevailing wages on certain projects. Currently, the Nevada System of Higher Education (the "System") is required to pay prevailing wages when the estimated cost of a project is greater than $100,000. AB 74, however, would require the payment of prevailing wages on any construction project undertaken by the System and would additionally require prevailing wages on partnerships between the System and private entities.

Since AB 74 would lead to higher costs and increase the chances for delays, even on the System's smaller-scale construction projects, I cannot support it.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it without my signature or approval.

Respectfully submitted,
JOE LOMBARDO
Governor of Nevada

RE: Assembly Bill 160 of the 82nd Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 160 ("AB 160"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to criminal records; providing for the automatic sealing of criminal records relating to certain convictions of a person and certain charges against a person; authorizing the Records, Communications and Compliance Division of the Department of Public Safety and the Administrative Office of the Courts to adopt any rules or regulations, as applicable, necessary for the automatic sealing of criminal records; requiring the Administrative Office of the Courts to submit annual reports to the Legislature and adopt certain other rules; creating the Advisory Task Force on Automatic Record Sealing and establishing the duties of the Task Force; requiring the Task Force to submit certain reports to the Administrative Office of the Courts and the Legislature; expanding the circumstances in which there is a rebuttable presumption that criminal records should be sealed; revising provisions relating to a petition to seal criminal records relating to certain charges brought against a person; applying provisions relating to records that have been sealed pursuant to certain provisions of law to records that are sealed after a court finds that a person was wrongfully convicted of a felony and enters a certificate of innocence; authorizing the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History and its employees to inquire into and inspect certain sealed records relating to a violation or alleged violation of the prohibition against certain persons owning or possessing a firearm; making appropriations; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Currently, the Nevada Supreme Court has recognized criminal record sealing as an act of judicial grace that is only appropriate when the offender demonstrates rehabilitation. This requires an offender to submit: 1) a petition for sealing; and 2) a copy of their criminal history from the FBI. The waiting periods for processing sealing documents were drastically shortened in 2019 and it is already a heavy burden for prosecutor's offices to review and evaluate these petitions.

Instead of petitioning for sealing, this bill would require the Department of Public Safety to provide an auto-generated list containing the names of anyone convicted of a misdemeanor or certain felony drug offenses. This would, again, dramatically increase the workload on prosecuting offices which generally have a select group of staff dedicated to the time-intensive task of processing these requests. Finally, the bill removes the requirement that a hearing be conducted if the prosecuting office does not stipulate to the record-sealing, effectively making any opportunity to object to sealing functionally meaningless.

Since this bill increases the likelihood that offenders will have their records sealed even if they shouldn't be, I cannot support this bill.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

Respectfully submitted,
JOE LOMBARDO
Governor of Nevada

THE HONORABLE FRANCISCO AGUILAR, NEVADA SECRETARY OF STATE, 101 North Carson Street, Carson City, Nevada 89701

RE: Assembly Bill 172 of the 82nd Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 172 ("AB 172"), which is titled as follows:

AN ACT relating to collective bargaining; requiring, with certain exceptions, each school district to semiannually provide each employee organization recognized by the school district certain information relating to each employee of the bargaining unit represented by the employee organization; requiring collective bargaining between the Executive Department of State Government and classified employees to include matters relating to parking and transportation; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

AB 172 creates onerous requirements related to mandatory subjects of bargaining which would place certain employees on uneven footing with their counterparts. Additionally, though the bill attempted to address privacy concerns by allowing employees to opt-out of disclosing their private information to various employee-organizations, this measure is insufficient in its actual addressal of those privacy issues. Employees should have the right to affirmatively confirm their choice to opt-in to such an organization rather than the other way around.

Since this bill is inappropriately expansive in its approach to addressing certain collective bargaining issues, I cannot support it.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

THE HONORABLE FRANCISCO AGUILAR, NEVADA SECRETARY OF STATE, 101 North Carson Street, Carson City, Nevada 89701

RE: Assembly Bill 201 of the 82nd Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 201 ("AB 201"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to behavioral health; requiring the Department of Health and Human Services to provide certain oversight and make certain recommendations concerning the children's behavioral health system of care; adding certain members to the subcommittee on the mental health of children of the Commission on Behavioral Health; prescribing certain duties of a regional behavioral health policy board; requiring a mental health consortium to submit certain documents to the Administrator of the Division of Child and Family Services of the Department; clarifying the authority of the State Board of Health to require the licensing of certain facilities; requiring the Legislative Committee on Senior Citizens, Veterans and Adults With Special Needs to conduct a study of the feasibility of formulating and operating a comprehensive state plan to provide behavioral health services; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

AB 201 requires the Department of Health and Human Services to track spending and quantify cost avoidance based on that spending over time, and to report projected savings for the upcoming two years along with recommendations for the reinvestment of those savings to the Joint Interim Standing Committee on Health and Human Services on a biennial basis.

Cost avoidance is taking an action to avoid having to incur future costs. Unfortunately, these savings are not easily verifiable, especially when it comes to healthcare. Providing some medical intervention now to prevent potential future medical costs is extremely difficult because of the assumptions that those interventions indeed do prevent the future condition from occurring. Providing a report of projected savings that may occur with recommendations to spend dollars that will certainly occur only results in additional spending without assurances that savings to cover those additional costs will materialize.

This bill also adds this work without providing additional resources to the Department, making the existing employees absorb the work as "other duties as assigned".

Lastly, the bill requires a legislative study, something that can be done without legislation.

Due to the additional work and the lack of evidence that cost avoidance estimates are reliable, I cannot support this bill.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

RE: Assembly Bill 218 of the 82nd Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 218 ("AB 218"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to real property; requiring a landlord or his or her agent to provide a tenant at least one method of paying rent or any other fee or charge that meets certain requirements; authorizing a tenant to bring a civil action against a landlord who has committed certain violations; prohibiting a landlord from charging a tenant a fee to make a payment through an Internet website or online portal that exceeds the amount of any fee charged by the operator of the Internet website or online portal for the use of such service; requiring a written rental agreement to separately identify such a fee under certain circumstances; requiring a landlord or his or her agent to provide, upon request, a copy of a written rental agreement to a prospective tenant; requiring certain references to the amount of rent due under a rental agreement to be set forth in a certain manner; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

AB 218 as drafted would initiate a mandatory court award of treble damages to a tenant if a landlord is found to be in violation of certain provisions of NRS 118A200. It would be impossible for a landlord to comply with this bill without amending the original lease, which would require agreement from both parties. In practice, it would create an incentive for a tenant to choose not to agree to such an amendment and instead pursue legal action against a landlord. Existing leases must have been considered in this legislation for it to be remotely sensical.

Since this bill would needlessly increase the difficulties associated with renting residential properties, I cannot support it.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it without my signature or approval.

RE: Assembly Bill 224 of the 82nd Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 224 ("AB 224"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to collective bargaining; authorizing collective bargaining for certain state employees; providing for the recognition of professional organizations; providing for the establishment of bargaining units and the designation of exclusive representatives; establishing certain rights for professional organizations and professional employees; establishing procedures for collective bargaining and for making collective bargaining agreements; authorizing the Government Employee-Management Relations Board to collect certain fees; prohibiting certain practices relating to collective bargaining; authorizing a state professional employer to use the services of the Division of Human Resource Management of the Department of Administration and the Attorney General for certain purposes; authorizing the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada to conduct collective bargaining negotiations and enter into collective bargaining agreements with certain employees; providing a civil penalty; making appropriations; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

The Board of Regents of the Nevada System of Higher Education already has the ability to collectively bargain, and in fact has multiple executed collective bargaining agreements currently. The provisions of Assembly Bill 224 constitute a significant expansion of the system the Board has already created for itself, and as a Constitutionally created body to oversee the system, the Board should be given deference in its policies and procedures for bargaining with its employees.

AB 224 expands collective bargaining for professional employees within NSHE, including primarily unclassified employees. I have vetoed other legislation from this session expanding collective bargaining to unclassified state employees, and AB 224 takes this expansion even further by including in the definition of professional employee part time and seasonal faculty who work at least 90 days a year. This expansion would capture employees currently considered at-will, teaching as few as one course per semester.

This bill also does not recognize important management rights that are reserved for other employers under NRS 288, such as the right to determine appropriate staffing levels and work performance standards, except for safety considerations. The right to determine means and methods of providing services to the public is also subject to bargaining in this legislation, however that is the core mission of the system and should be reserved for management.

Management dynamics of a complex institution are also undermined through AB 224's requirement for arbitration of grievances, rather than utilizing the long-standing process developed through the shared-governance system that incorporates the voices of faculty senates throughout the system.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 242 ("AB 242"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to elections; requiring ballots and votes be counted using a mechanical voting system; revising provisions relating to accommodations for certain voters who are elderly or have a disability; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

AB 242 is well intended in that it aims to clarify and provide uniformity to the systems jurisdictions are permitted to use for casting, registering, and recording votes. However, the bill's prohibition against any hand-counting of ballots is an impermissible transgression upon the right and, indeed, duty, of duly elected county officials to ensure their vote counting procedures are best-aligned with the needs of their electorate.

Since this bill needlessly restricts the autonomy provided to county officials to conduct the functions necessary to their elected position, I cannot support it.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

relating to Joint Interim Standing Committees; revising the deadline to submit an application to the Joint Interim Standing Committee on Education to serve on the Nevada State Teacher Recruitment and Retention Advisory Task Force; repealing the requirement that the Joint Interim Standing Committee on Health and Human Services review certain regulations; revising provisions relating to legislative committee members and staff regulated by the Nevada Lobbying Disclosure and Regulation Act and Nevada Financial Disclosure Act; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Since there is broad disagreement amongst legislators over management of their own branch of government, this change is inappropriate at this time.

RE: Assembly Bill 246 of the 82nd Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 246 ("AB 246"), which is titled as follows:

AN ACT relating to elections; requiring, under certain circumstances, the Secretary of State, county clerks and city clerks to ensure that voting materials and certain other elections information are posted on certain Internet websites and made available in certain languages; requiring the Secretary of State to establish a toll free telephone number which may be used for a person to receive language interpretation or translation assistance relating to an election; requiring such telephone number to be posted at each polling place and on certain Internet websites and included on sample ballots; requiring the Secretary of State to include certain information related to a registered voter's preferred language on an application to register to vote; requiring county and city clerks to make a good faith effort to appoint election board officers who are bilingual; revising the information relating to registered voters that is required to be included on the statewide voter registration list; requiring, under certain circumstances, a mechanical voting system to list offices, candidates and ballot measures in a voter's preferred language; creating and setting forth the membership and duties of the Language Access Advisory Committee; making an appropriation to the Office of the Secretary of State for certain expenses relating to language access and the establishment of a toll-free telephone number; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

AB 246 is well intended inasmuch as it is critical that individuals are not intimidated by a language barrier on election day. That said, Nevada's current laws sufficiently accomplish the goal of ensuring language accessibility in accordance with Federal law. Moreover, existing Nevada law also grants county and city clerks the authority to provide voting materials in languages even above the Federal requirement if the clerk "determines there is a significant and substantial need for [such additional] voting materials[.]" NRS 293.2699.

Since Nevada is compliant with federal law and local officers are already empowered to provide election materials in additional languages at their discretion, I cannot support this bill.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

RE: Assembly Bill 258 of the 82nd Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 258 ("AB 258") which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to governmental administration; requiring, with certain exceptions, a governmental entity to keep confidential certain personal information regarding donors, members or volunteers of a nonprofit organization; prohibiting, with certain exceptions, a governmental entity from requesting or releasing certain personal information regarding donors, members or volunteers of a nonprofit organization; making an appropriation to the Interim Finance Committee for allocation to the Office of the Attorney General to fund certain positions; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Though it is an admirable goal for the government to keep the type of information in AB 258 confidential, this bill goes too far in attempting to ensure this end is accomplished. The bill stipulates a $2,500 minimum and a $7,500 maximum damage award for those who allege the government violated the provisions of Section 2, subsections 1 or 2. This is problematic because there is not necessarily any rational relation between the "damages" mandated in the bill and the harm suffered by the complainant. Moreover, and most critically, the bill contains no requirement that the claimant, his or herself, has suffered any actual harm as a result of the government's alleged failure to comply with those provisions.

Since this bill stipulates arbitrary damages awards and allows virtually anybody to pursue a claim under its provisions, I cannot support it.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 281 ("AB 281"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to health care; requiring the administrator of a senior living facility to ensure a senior living facility is equipped with functional ventilation and filtration systems; establishing requirements for the assessment of and any improvement to such ventilation and filtration systems; requiring certain personnel to complete an assessment report on such a ventilation or filtration system; requiring the administrator of a senior living facility to prepare a report on such a ventilation or filtration system; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

It is important to ensure senior living facilities have good indoor air quality and functioning heating, ventilation, and air conditioning systems. It is incumbent upon operators of these facilities to ensure these systems are working properly and that resident comfort and safety issues are timely addressed.

However, nothing currently prohibits this work from being done in the absence of this bill's passage. The Nevada Division of Public and Behavioral Health ("DPBH") can currently grant federal funding available for this work to the operators of these facilities. Having the bill sunset when federal funding is no longer available recognizes the unsustainability of this language.

Requiring that this work be completed only by certain personnel and having the report be reviewed by a mechanical engineer in accordance with the latest standards may result in significant upgrade costs to the operators of certain facilities which may not meet new standards that were adopted after the subject facility was built. While the intent is to have these projects funded with grants, the process to apply for and receive such grants by the operators is not addressed.

Further, allowing new standards to automatically go into effect only 60 days after publication does not allow sufficient time to review any changes and determine their potential impact on the operators.

Lastly, the fiscal note submitted by DPBH was not funded. Not funding the implementation costs would result in the work being added to existing-already overworked-staff as "other duties as assigned."

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

AB 305 is well intended insofar as we should encourage women to work and build careers in trade industries. That said, this bill, at present, is impracticable. There are less than 250 female apprentices statewide, and many essential trades have zero enrolled female apprentices. After reviewing the benchmarks provided in this bill, it would be nearly impossible to reach certain of the provided employment targets. Nevada should not be in the business of creating laws with which compliance is virtually impossible.

RE: Assembly Bill 319 of the 82nd Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 319 ("AB 319"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT [sic] making an appropriation to the State Department of Agriculture for the purpose of awarding grants of money to Nevada school districts to provide universal free breakfast and lunch for Nevada pupils; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Ensuring students have proper nutrition in order to facilitate learning is an important goal. So, too, is reducing the stigma sometimes associated with students who receive free or reduced price school lunches. However, subsidizing those who can afford to provide their children with lunch and addressing food waste in school cafeterias are also good policies.

Studies have shown that up to 73 percent of food provided through school lunch programs ends up in the trash. Based on the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) nutrition guidelines, certain foods purchased are things kids are not likely to eat. Providing universal-free lunch will increase the amount of food purchased and, unfortunately, ultimately thrown away.

Prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, free school meals were available only to students meeting income requirements for free or reduced-price lunches or attending schools that qualified under an alternative school-specific exception. During the first two full school years of the pandemic, the USDA issued waivers allowing schools to be reimbursed for meals to all students. This waiver expired at the start of the 2022-2023 school year. As the pandemic has ended, most states have reverted to pre-pandemic school breakfast and lunch programs where those who can afford to pay for their children's meals while those who qualify for free and reduced-price meals submit applications to the school districts.

Of the almost 490,000 students enrolled in Nevada schools during the 2022-2023 school year, more than 201,000 students are eligible to enroll in the free or reduced lunch program through the USDA - Food and Nutrition Service's National School Lunch Program. If a school district meets the criteria under the USDA's Community Eligibility Program, up to 100% of their schools within a district will have access to free and reduced-price meals for students - approximately 660 schools statewide meet the USDA's criteria for free meals for all their students.

This is also a responsibility that should be determined at a district level to properly recognize the differences amongst the school districts throughout the state. Districts have access to a record amount of resources, including the funding available through SB 231, to implement the school food programs that are right for them in the upcoming biennium while they work with parents and the community to design a permanent, sustainable program for following biennium.

Districts also need to ensure annual applications are submitted by eligible students to maximize federal funding under the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Programs. Districts should also look to the U.S. Department of Education Community Eligibility Program to determine if additional federal funding may be available through that program.

Universal free lunch programs were subsidized while responding to the impacts of COVID-19, and were always paid through federal funding sources. These funding sources are no longer available, and district officials should build programs appropriate to their needs. With COVID-19 behind us, it is time to return to the normalcy of pre-pandemic operations.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 322 ("AB 322"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to public health; prohibiting a person from selling or offering to sell a kratom product to an end user unless the kratom product has been registered with the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services; setting forth requirements for the registration of a kratom product with the Division; requiring a person who registers a kratom product to pay certain expenses and report certain information relating to the kratom product to the Division; authorizing the Division to adopt certain regulations governing kratom products; revising provisions establishing certain prohibited acts relating to kratom products; exempting a person who engages in certain acts relating to kratom products from certain criminal or legal penalties if certain substances in those products are designated as controlled substances; providing penalties; making an appropriation; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Though this bill is partially well-intended in its aim to provide regulatory clarity for an existing market, this bill is fundamentally flawed. There are no approved uses of kratom by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. Moreover, there is significant concern regarding the psychiatric, cardiovascular, gastrointestinal, and respiratory issues this substance is known to cause. Kratom is unsafe. Though an outright ban on this readily available product would be appropriate, that is not what this legislation does. Instead, it creates a regulatory structure for this product, suggesting that the state approves of its use. I cannot support that suggestion.

There is simply not enough evidence to support standing up a kratom regulatory structure that cannot ensure user safety when purchasing and consuming products regulated through the provisions in this bill.

Due to the considerable safety concerns associated with kratom and its lack of any federally approved therapeutic use, I cannot support this bill.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 334 ("AB 334"), which is titled as follows:

AN ACT relating to insurance; requiring, under certain circumstances, an insurer that requires the inspection or further inspection of a motor vehicle for repair relating to a claim to conduct the inspection or further inspection within a certain period of time; providing an administrative penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

AB 334 would attempt to expedite the timeline for repairs of Nevadans' automobiles. Unfortunately, this good intention is not met, and this bill has significant potential to create unintended consequences.

At its most basic, the inspection process timeline established by AB 334 conflicts with and undermines the claims resolution process and would make Nevada's among the most restrictive timelines in the nation. The claims resolution process for insurers is set out at NAC 686A.600 through NAC 686A.680. AB 334 ignores the entirety of liability determination in a third-party claim in favor of a single unworkable timeline.

This one-size-fits-all approach to a dynamic and complicated issue is likely to exacerbate problems rather than solve them.

At a time when Nevadans are already paying some of the highest insurance rates in the United States and the highest among the western states[1], additional, extreme constraints could raise rates even further - a hidden tax working Nevadans can ill afford.

Additionally, the enactment of restrictive timelines on inspection could compromise the quality and cost effectiveness of auto repairs for consumers, further prolonging an already difficult situation for Nevadans. Further, modern vehicles are comprised of multiple, complicated systems-ensuring that repairs are necessary and done expertly cannot be constrained into such a short window.

The bill does not address concerns surrounding work force shortages and supply chain constraints in both the body shop and insurance industries - a result of the pandemic that continues to reverberate.

Restrictive timelines create the potential for fraud in claims handling by withdrawing the ability for thoughtful consideration of claims and necessary repairs from the equation in favor of speed. And the bill would leave out the costs of rental cars, other transportation costs, and storage should the short time frame be missed.

The Nevada Division of Insurance has both the capability and the authority to review any complaints regarding the insurance industry.

Since AB 334 could lead to higher costs for Nevadans and creates an unworkable timeline for complex processes, I cannot support it.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature or approval.

AB 340 would restructure Nevada's summary eviction process in a manner that would impose additional and unnecessary delays and costs on those seeking to remove individuals who unlawfully remain on their property after the termination of their lease. This bill would make our summary eviction process more time-consuming than our peer states and would create ambiguous threshold standards which could be ruled upon by a judge without any formal hearing, providing insufficient protections for Nevada property owners.

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE AGUILAR:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 371 ("AB 371"), which is titled as follows:

> AN ACT relating to parentage; adopting provisions of the Uniform Parentage Act; revising provisions relating to the establishment of a parent and child relationship and the presumption of parentage; establishing provisions concerning the voluntary acknowledgment of parentage and denial of parentage by certain persons; authorizing the State Board of Health to adopt regulations relating to an acknowledgment of parentage or denial of parentage; establishing provisions governing genetic testing in proceedings to adjudicate parentage; establishing and revising various provisions relating to proceedings to adjudicate parentage; authorizing a person who claims to be a de facto parent of a child to be adjudicated as a parent of the child in certain circumstances; authorizing a court to adjudicate a child to have more than two parents in certain circumstances; establishing and revising provisions relating to assisted reproduction and gestational agreements; providing for the right of a gestational carrier to make all health care decisions regarding the gestational carrier and the pregnancy of the gestational carrier; repealing various provisions relating to parentage; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

AB 371 is aimed at the admirable goal of streamlining certain decisions related to parentage. That said, this bill would codify a uniform set of laws that have only been implemented in a significant minority of states. Moreover, the changes contained in this bill would inevitably hamstring judges in making certain case-by-case determinations related to parentage which, by their very nature, will likely be more focused on finding the best solution possible for the family or families before their court.

Since AB 371 would unavoidably decrease judicial discretion regarding critical issues to Nevadan families, I cannot support it.

> AN ACT relating to health care; prohibiting a governmental entity from substantially burdening certain activity relating to reproductive health services under certain circumstances; authorizing a person whose engagement in such activity has been so burdened to assert the violation as a claim or defense in a judicial proceeding; authorizing a court to award damages against a governmental entity that substantially burdens such activity in certain circumstances; expanding required coverage of contraception under the State Plan for Medicaid; making appropriations to and authorizing expenditures by the Division of Health Care Financing and Policy of the Department of Health and Human Services; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

This bill restricts any government agency from limiting, in any way, reproductive health services.

Based on definitions in the bill and existing statute, that would prohibit, for example, a local school district from creating a policy restricting a school nurse from providing abortion counseling and referral services.

Critically, this bill would effectively place any control over decisions related to reproductive care, financing, and education in the hands of today's state policy-makers instead of tomorrow's local officials. Additionally, through Section 6.2, this bill attempts to restrict the activities of future legislatures in their ability to set policy for the state. Local officials should be empowered to make decisions on any lawful subject before them.

Notwithstanding the stated policy concerns, AB 383 would likely lead to increased litigation for both government agencies and for healthcare providers as Section 7 authorizes legal claims to be made for purported violations, including the automatic awarding of costs and attorney's fees.

Since this bill would unnecessarily restrict local officials' autonomy and expose government agencies to costly litigation, potentially including exorbitant and unpredictable attorneys' fees, I cannot support it.

arbitration in a contract for health insurance; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

The Federal Arbitration Act ("FAA") has been effective since 1926 and was enacted, in part, to streamline adjudicative services so plaintiffs could avoid the sluggish, costly process of litigation. Since then, the United States Supreme Court has repeatedly held that state rules that burden the formation of arbitration agreements stand as an obstacle to the FAA. Recently, in Kindred Nursing Centers Ltd. Partnership v. Clark, the Court determined that when a rule "singles out arbitration agreements for disfavored treatment" then it violates the FAA. 581 U.S. 246, 248 (2017). I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 498 ("AB 498"), which is titled as follows:

AN ACT relating to public employees' retirement; revising the calculation of contribution rates to the Public Employees' Retirement System from state employees and employers; revising the contribution rates for the separate retirement program provided by the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada; making appropriations; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

While it is important to properly compensate our State employees, AB 498 marks a dramatic departure from the existing law regarding the split of retirement contributions between the employer and the employee. As a result, the additional costs to the State budget associated with this change are unknown and present a permanent and potentially unsustainable increase that could result in the inability to fund other important programs going forward.

I signed AB 522, the employee-pay bill ("Unclassified Pay Bill"), which included a 7% cost of living adjust in Fiscal Year 2025 if AB 498 is not approved. That increase is on top of the 10% to 13% increase in Fiscal Year 2024 and the 4% increase I initially included in my budget for Fiscal Year 2025. Those increases, along with the other benefit changes made in the Unclassified Pay Bill, will go a long way in making State employee compensation competitive with local governments and the private sector.

Given the uncertainty around the costs associated with AB 498 and the pay increases included in AB 522, I cannot support this bill.

> AN ACT relating to state financial administration; revising requirements relating to the preparation of the state budget; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

This bill requires the Governor to consider appropriations to the budgets of the Legislative and Judicial branches as well as those of the Public Employees' Retirement System and the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency in the calculation of the five percent minimum ending fund balance for purposes of submitting the Governor's Recommended Budget to the Legislature.

While these are currently considered, the large increase in the Legislative budget for the upcoming biennium and the inability of the Governor to have any control over amounts when considering the priorities of State government, especially during the times of an economic downturn, would potentially put the Governor in the position of having to cut programs or personnel to balance a budget. Further, the Legislature is not bound to the five percent minimum ending fund balance so their merit can be decided during the Legislative session.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

ASSEMBLYMEMBER KOENIG:

On Sunday, February 9, 2025, one of the Nevada Legislature's longest-serving Legislators, who served in both houses of the Legislature for a combined total of 24 years of service, passed away. Senator Joseph "Mike" McGinness was born and raised and lived most of his 77 years in Fallon, Nevada. The main exceptions were when he spent five years in Schurz as a child; when he lived in Reno while obtaining his bachelor's degree from the University of Nevada, Reno; when he was away on duty with the Nevada Air National Guard; or when he used to stay in Carson City during legislative sessions. He attended Churchill County High School, where he edited the school newspaper, the beginning of a long career in media and journalism, and participated in Boys State, where he got his first taste of politics.

Mike married his high school sweetheart, Dee [Deanna] Pierce and they had three children—Ryan, Brett, and Shannon; along with six grandchildren. When Mike and Dee were dating, her parents owned the radio station in Fallon. Dee's father liked to tell Mike that if he married his daughter, he would give him a job at the radio station, which he did. Mike was manager of the radio station KVLV AM-FM in Fallon for many years.

Mike McGinness was an ideal example of the type of person who serves and represents the public well in our "citizen legislature." He was a family man, a businessman, and a statesman. His first four years, 1988 to 1992, were in the Assembly. His last 20 years, 1992 through 2012, he served in the Senate. In his last legislative session in 2011, Mike was selected by his caucus to serve as Senate Minority Floor Leader. His longtime legislative assistant, Ricka Benum, retired after his final session, but she and her husband remained close friends with Dee and Mike.

Senator Mike McGinness chaired the Senate Committee on Legislative Affairs and Operations during the 1993 and 1995 sessions, but he is probably best remembered as Chair of the Senate Committee on Taxation for six regular sessions from 1997 to 2007. The other two committees that Mike was most associated with in both houses were the Judiciary, 11 regular sessions, and Natural Resources, 9 regular sessions.

Mike authored many excellent pieces of legislation over the years. Two of his most memorable bills dealt with the safety and welfare of children. These were Senate Bill 122 of the 1997 session which prohibits a person employed by a school district from engaging in sexual contact with a student, and Senate Bill 142 of the 2009 session which established the crime of criminal gang recruitment. As a good representative of rural Nevada and some of it is ranching, farming, mining, and military communities, Mike sponsored a number of bills over the years on rural topics. These bills covered subjects such as cleaning out river channels, farm products, farm vehicles, geothermal resources, grazing leases, hunting and fishing licenses, irrigation districts, livestock management, military installation, off road vehicles, organic produce, water rights, and wildlife management.

Over the years, Senator McGinness represented all or part of 11 of Nevada's 17 counties: Churchill Clark, Douglas, Esmeralda, Eureka, Lander, Lincoln, Lyon, Mineral, Nye, and White Pine. Mike's senatorial district included the Fallon Naval Air Station, Creech Air Force Base in Clark County, NELIS Air Force Range, and the Nevada Test Site.

Mike was active in state and local civic affairs, serving as president of the Nevada State Board of Directors and chairing the Churchill County Parks and Recreation Commission and the Churchill County School Board. Mike was a long-standing member of the Kiwanis Club. He sponsored many legislative resolutions to designate a specific day in the spring as Kiwanis Day in Nevada.

In 2017, the Nevada Senate inducted Mike McGinness into the Senate Hall of Fame. Twenty of his 24 years of legislative service were in the Senate. I am grateful that he was recognized during his lifetime for the many years of service he dedicated to the Nevada Legislature, and I hope his family and friends will find comfort in knowing that he will long be remembered in these halls.

I want to take a couple of sentences of personal privilege where I knew Mike personally. He was a friend of my dad's growing up. In fact, I think they went to college together. Mike was an inspiration for me. When I first got elected to the school board, he approached me and let me know that he started on the school board and ended up here, in these halls. He kind of inspired me to do the same. If possible, Speaker, if we could have a moment of silence to remember Mike McGinness.

Prayer by Chaplain Craig Swope.

Father, if this were a perfect world, we would have no reason to meet. As we deal with imperfections, may we never forget that we are imperfect as well, so we need each other. It is that recognition of mutual need that brings us together. While our efforts may stop short of the perfect standard, we know that when we work together, we get closer to the mark that we strive for—a state that considers everyone to be of value, a state that celebrates the gifts that we have been blessed with, and a state that is familiar with struggles that were battle born. Help us to honor the best and improve on what we can. As we pray in the name of the perfect life of Your son.

RESOLVED, That this resolution becomes effective upon adoption.

Assemblymember Mosca moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymembers Anderson and Monroe-Moreno and Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMEMBER ANDERSON:

Neena Laxalt was a friend of mine and although we did not always agree with each other, we were able to disagree in a way that showed that we had a shared love of Nevada. One thing, or many things, about Neena: she loved a good joke, that laugh, those of us that know that laugh, and she was quick with it—oh my gosh, so quick with that laugh. The other thing that was quick was her temper. I think that shows her Basque and Irish background and her ability to have a long memory. She would remember something that happened 10 years ago and be like, "Wait, wait, wait, you did this." And you are just thinking that was a random Wednesday, but okay.

One of the strongest things about Neena that was mentioned, and I think one reason why some people are so emotional about this today, is she took interns, and she took other females that were not always as welcome in these halls as they are today. She took them under her wing, and she would show us the ropes, and she would tell us even if you are not in agreement with me, this is how you get things done. She respected and loved these halls, both our house and the other house, because she recognized that this is where Nevadans came in to talk with each other. She loved that, and she protected it, and she celebrated it. The other thing that she celebrated was her love of Marlette Lake and Nevada, and I think that her dedication to this area continues to serve as an inspiration to all of us. Finally, as one of her friends stated, although she is no longer with us, her spirit and belief in us will continue to live on.

ASSEMBLYMEMBER MONROE-MORENO:

I rise today in honor of a remarkable woman that graced hallways and I was able to call friend, Neena Laxalt. Her willingness to work with anyone for the betterment of Nevada was a memorable attribute that she had. Neena was unique and always had a different insight on issues and she often did that through humor. Like she did with so many in our state, she took me under her wing. Before I was even a freshman legislator, we had a chance meeting at a social event—and if you have ever been in Neena's car, it smells of tobacco and it is definitely a mobile office—but at that event, we talked and we realized we were not on the same side of the political lines, but we were aligned on so many things about making Nevada a better place to live in. And on that night, we became friends.

When she called me and let me know that she had had a diagnosis, I tried to remain strong during that call for her while selfishly crying inside because I knew that we were going to lose someone that understands what it means to serve Nevadans and to work across political aisles to make sure that we build friendships, have conversations, have dialogues, even when we do not get along, that was Neena. When I learned of her passing, I cried again because I knew we had freshmen legislators that would never have that opportunity to meet this amazing woman.

For her family, she was honest, to a fault, even when it hurt and she, like me, believed: tell me the truth, even if it hurts because I will respect you for doing that. These halls will be empty without Neena. I will miss her. Our thoughts and our prayers are with her family and her friends and for all the legislators that she has mentored over the years. I feel very fortunate and blessed to have known her, to have been able to call her one of my mentors, and a friend.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

SPEAKER YEAGER:

I want to thank the family for sharing Neena with us. Many of you know I lobbied in this building in the 2013 and 2015 Sessions, and it probably is an understatement to say that I had no idea what I was doing. It was hard to know who to trust, but Neena very quickly became somebody who I could trust, to tell it like it was, to always speak her mind, and to be on the right side of issues. I just want to echo that I did not get personally mentored by Neena, but she was a force in this building and her moral compass was just extraordinarily strong to stand up for causes and people that she believed in.

I think her legacy, of course, is demonstrated by everyone still in this building, whether they are lobbyists, whether they are legislators, whether they are staff members, everybody that she touched by the way that she conducted herself. So, while it is certainly a sad day because we have lost her, her legacy is going to live on and lives on in this building as we speak. I just wanted to express that I really appreciate her for who she was as a person and for always looking out for other people. There are certainly lessons there that we can all take in our own lives and just want to remember her for the extraordinary, extraordinary Nevadan that she was.

Resolution adopted.

Assembly called to order at 11:40 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by Reverend Augustin Jorquez.

Dear God, Creator of all creation, we invoke Your great and mighty spirit to dwell among us. We realize the fragility of our existence. In these trying times of uncertainty, let us give thanks for all of God's provision and protection. We give our gratitude for clean air, clean water, the fresh breath of life within us, and the land that sustains us. We are grateful for the relatives among us. We give thanks with a joyful heart for peace and comfort. Our admission of thanksgiving that we may, in turn, be able to give to others' hope in their time of distress. We thank You for the Holy Spirit—our Comforter. Your blessings extend through us toward others in every way: physically, emotionally, mentally, spiritually. Allow us to be image bearers of Your graces, mercies, and understanding.

We humble ourselves before Your sight, we speak healing and restoration. We extend a petition of prayers spread as a woven blanket over humanity. We lift prayers to individuals as well as communities. We pray for leaders in high positions and servants in meek service. Open our eyes that each are equal in giftings and talents essential for tasks set before us. As we grow closer to You, allow us to grow closer to one another.

Entrusted to the Almighty, Your Kingdom come, Your will be done on earth as it is in Heaven. In Jesus' name. All Benevolent Father, Son, and Holy Ghost-Divine Trinity.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

A nominee selected by the Commission must, as determined in the reasonable discretion of the Commission, have substantial experience as a practitioner or judge in one or more areas of law within the jurisdiction of the business court.

5. A business court judge must, for matters with the jurisdiction of the business court, have the same powers and duties and be subject to the same limitations and restrictions that are applicable to a district judge.

Sec. 15. The justices of the Supreme Court, the judges of the court of appeals, the business court judges, if the Legislature establishes a business court pursuant to Section 3B of this Article, and the district judges are each entitled to receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law and paid in the manner provided by law, which must not be increased or diminished during the term for which they have been elected ~~[.]~~ or appointed, unless a vacancy occurs, in which case the successor of the former incumbent is entitled to receive only such salary as may be provided by law at the time of his election or appointment. (c) A resident of such judicial district, not a member of the legal profession, appointed by the Governor.

5. If at any time the State Bar of Nevada ceases to exist as a public corporation or ceases to include all attorneys admitted to practice before the courts of this State, the Legislature shall provide by law, or if it fails to do so the Supreme Court shall provide by rule, for the appointment of attorneys at law to the positions designated in this Section to be occupied by members of the State Bar of Nevada.

6. The term of office of each appointive member of the permanent Commission, except the first members, is 4 years. Each appointing authority shall appoint one of the members first appointed for a term of 2 years. If a vacancy occurs, the appointing authority shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
EIGHTY-THIRD SESSION, 2025

Good evening, everyone. It is great to be back in Carson City and to see so many familiar faces. It is my honor to address this 83rd Legislative Session of the Nevada State Legislature. Before I begin, I want to thank Speaker Yeager, Senate Majority Leader Cannizzaro, Lieutenant Governor Stavros Anthony for the opportunity, as well as, Attorney General Aaron Ford, who is working hard to protect our constitutional rights for all Nevadans, as well as, our Secretary of State Cisco [Francisco] Aguilar, and the Nevada Supreme Court Justices, who are here, and to all of you, for taking the time this evening. Now look, I spent eight years serving in these halls. I know exactly how excited lawmakers are to pause your very important work to hear from some federal elected officials. You can be polite, but you cannot fool me. So, I will jump right in, but not before sending my thoughts to Senator Dina Neal and her family. I was able to visit with her and her family this morning before coming to Carson City. I am wishing her a strong and full recovery and I am grateful to the medical professionals who made sure that her surgery overnight was a success.

Tonight, I am not here to list accomplishments; I am here with a warning for our state and a path forward that puts every Nevadan first. I am going to draw on the lessons I learned from my grandmother, Grace Dorothy. This April is 25 years since her passing, but I feel her presence now more than ever. Grace Dorothy had a severe stroke when I was just three weeks old. She fell into a coma and when she emerged months later, the left side of her body was completely paralyzed. For my entire life, the grandmother that I knew and cared for and who cared deeply for me, could not walk by my side, could not walk at all, could not hug me with her left arm, she could barely speak. When she wanted to say something to me, "Good morning" or "It is cold in here; can we turn on the heat" or simply "I love you," she had to write the words out with her finger. While she could speak, the pain sometimes was just too difficult. Complications from the stroke forced my grandmother to live in a nursing home for 27 years until she passed away in 2000. My visits to her were at her bedside, in nursing homes, as I grew from child to adult.

From that experience I learned what quality care looks like, what it sounds like, and what it smells like. I know what bed sores are, whether a patient is cared for properly, and whether a facility is clean or not. My grandmother did not have private insurance, so when they moved her from Southern Nevada Memorial, now UMC [University Medical Center], they placed her in a convalescent home on Maryland Parkway in Las Vegas. After that, the moves were to wherever beds were available. In the [19]80's, she was even moved 100 miles out of Nevada to St. George, Utah because of state budget cuts. I did not understand it at the time, but I later learned that the only reason she had the care that she did was thanks to government support—thanks to Medicaid. When there were cutbacks or reductions to the program, it affected her health. It determined the number of nurses that cared for her and the quality of care that she received. It caused tremendous stress and guilt for my mother. I share all of this for one simple reason, right now, there are some 811,000 Grace Dorothy's in Nevada—811,000 people in our state who depend on Medicaid. And right now, they are counting on their elected officials to have the courage to keep their coverage safe. Now look, I get it; government spending needs to come down, but it matters how we do it. I am one of only two Democrats in Congress, on the DOGE [Department of Government Efficiency] Caucus because I believe that we can root out waste, fraud, and abuse. I believe we should work together to make government work for our constituents, but I am also on the Caucus because I want Nevada to have a say whenever talks come up about cutting anything. Whether it is Medicare or nutrition assistance, privatizing the VA [Veteran Affairs], or changing the eligibility for Social Security. What is the old phrase? If you do not have a seat at the table, you are on the menu. I am not about to leave Nevadans on the menu. And I have the firsthand experience to back that up.

In 2011, our state faced one of the worst budget challenges in our history. To right our ship, the governor at the time proposed across-the-board cuts to health and human services, mental health services, and Medicaid—including nursing homes. I remember one of the budget hearings was about cutting diapers for seniors and other essential services—diapers. I was the Senate Majority Leader at the time, and I knew we could not cut the state budget on the backs of the most vulnerable people in our state. We had to work together to do better—and we did. We passed a bipartisan alternative state budget, overriding the Governor's veto at the time. It did not eliminate all of the proposed cuts, but we kept the fabric of the state together without denying seniors on Medicaid dignified care—including those hotly contested diapers.

Nevada has a history of bipartisan work when it comes to protecting and expanding access to Medicaid, but right now that is under real threat from the current House Republican budget proposal in Washington. The proposal adds $4.5 trillion to the deficit. To do what? To pay for corporate tax cuts. And to cover that cost, they want to slash federal funding for Medicaid, nutrition programs, the VA, and other critical services. These cuts have nothing to do with bringing down the costs that President Trump promised he would address. Eggs will not get cheaper, gas will not flow faster, and housing will not become more affordable. Make no mistake, these cuts are purely to fund tax cuts for big corporations, tech tycoons, and billionaires. Here is why this is a problem that we have to take on together: if the proposal passes, it will strip Nevada of the 90 percent federal funding match for Medicaid created by the Affordable Care Act. It will cost our state at least $700 million a year over the next decade. We cannot afford the capital costs and we cannot even afford the human toll that that would cost.

Remember, 811,000 Grace Dorothy's are counting on us in Nevada. Nearly 40 percent of all Nevada children, some 274,000 children—rely on Medicaid. Forty-two percent of moms giving birth and their newborn babies—rely on Medicaid. That is more than 13,200 births in 2023 alone. More than 35 percent of working-age adults with disabilities, nearly 65,000 people—rely on Medicaid. Sixty percent of people living in nursing homes, just like my grandmother—rely on Medicaid. A recent study found as many as 320,000 Nevadans, more than 40 percent of all enrollees in our state, would lose coverage if the congressional Republican budget proposal gets enacted. The choices leaders like us make affect real people. So, it is important we center the stories of those that we represent. Those closest to the pain should be at the center of shaping policy. That is the only way the changes that we all seek can actually take hold and get implemented. That is why I am listening and engaging my constituents from across the district to share what these cuts would mean to them. Nurses and care coordinators in Pahrump at Nevada Health Center shared with me, just yesterday, that they have no birth center in their community and limited OB/GYN [obstetrics-gynecology] services. At Hope Christian Center in North Las Vegas, another FQHC [Federally Qualified Health Center], who is meeting the needs of thousands of patients who have diabetes and high blood pressure, without proper coverage; these costs will continue to rise because you are not addressing the problem if you shift the burden to the states and do not have any way to fund it. Tribal leaders at Walker River Paiute, are struggling to get care from Indian Health Services and depend on the Medicaid services for their tribal members. These are the people who will be affected and so many more like them if the House Republican budget passes and these cuts take effect. And it all comes down to one simple word—priorities. The hospital building that houses the Walker River Paiute Tribe is nearly 100 years old. It has structural issues from a recent earthquake that Indian Health Services must address. We should be protecting the Affordable Care Act. Instead, President Trump and Elon Musk are focused on cutting the care that tribal leaders depend on. Those are not my values, and they are not Nevadan values either.

What is the alternative? Like we showed here in Nevada, a group of bipartisan members can lead the way. It only takes three, three Republicans, to reject this chaotic and cruel approach and join in a bipartisan coalition to keep the fabric of our country together—three. And it can be done. Nevada was the first state with a Republican Governor, then Governor Brian Sandoval, to implement Medicaid expansion after the Affordable Care Act passed. It reduced the uninsured rate in Nevada by a third—563,000 children who were previously uninsured suddenly had coverage.

As I return to Washington next week, I will be thinking about the hundreds of thousands of Nevadans who could see their lives turned upside down by the Republican budget. I understand that the world is moving fast right now—horrific cuts to the federal workforce, the largest data breach in U.S. history taking place at this administration's direction, federal funding freezes undermining nonprofits and the people they serve, tariff disputes threatening to raise prices across the board, but above all else, the Medicaid cuts will hit Nevada and Nevadans the hardest. I hear from hundreds of constituents calling and messaging my office every week. I will bring their voices, their concerns, and yes, their stories, with me to Capitol Hill. I know who I am fighting for, and I know why I am fighting for them. Grace Dorothy, my grandmother, is no longer here with me to fight for her, but countless others are. They are receiving care in nursing homes, they are seeking health services at community health centers, they are pregnant women in need of maternity care, and newborn babies just getting their start in this world. They are all of us, regardless of party or whether they belong to a party at all. I am proud to fight for them and I am proud to have each one of you as colleagues in this work. None of you would run for office, or spend 120 days, in this sometimes-maddening process if you did not fundamentally believe you could improve the lives of your constituents. The issues before you are serious, and your leadership is needed more now than ever. But we are battle born and battle tested. We will look back on this moment in history and I have no doubt it will be one that dictates the future of our state. If we stand united and center the lives of Nevadans, we may be able to avoid some of the worst budget challenges in our history. But, if we fall to partisan politics, you may see yourselves in special session, after special session, talking about things like diapers for seniors and prenatal care for mothers. I am ready to fight, and I hope you will join me. Thank you very much for allowing me to be with you. I look forward to the work we have to do together and the days, months, and years to come. God Bless you and God Bless the people of the state of Nevada, our troops, and the United States of America.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

ASSEMBLYMEMBER HANSEN:

I wanted to take a moment to honor and recognize an incredible constituent, 105-year-old Navy veteran, Mercedes Starr. The Department of Veterans Services will be honoring her with a ceremony in Pershing County, in Lovelock, on Monday morning, which I cannot attend. [The Department of Veterans Services will] be issuing a proclamation from the State of Nevada for our gratitude for her service in World War II. A little bit about Mercedes, she was a telegraph operator during World War II, and she is currently in a skilled nursing care center as a resident at Pershing General Hospital, located in Lovelock.

I would also like to pay tribute to the Nevada Department of Veterans Services for their veterans and care program. This program ensures that veterans or their spouses, who are receiving care within one of Nevada's community-based assisted living or skilled nursing care facilities, is recognized and honored for their military service. The recognition also provides an opportunity to connect the veterans to the benefit resources and services earned through their U.S. military service. Since the program's launch in 2016, the program has recognized more than 500 veterans across the Silver State.

ASSEMBLYMEMBER LA RUE HATCH:

I am excited to welcome 50 talented social studies students from Billinghurst Middle School, which is part of Assembly District 25, to the gallery today. These bright young minds are here to explore and deepen their understanding of state government as part of their curriculum. Our hope is that today's experience sparks a passion for civic engagement and empowers them to realize the profound impact they can have on their communities.

ASSEMBLYMEMBER MILLER:

I would like to welcome to the floor, A'Esha Goins, the vice president of our Las Vegas chapter of the NAACP [The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People] as we well as the other voting rights partners that are here today. If you could please stand up.

March 25, 2025, marks the 60th anniversary of the culmination of three historic marches in support of the voting rights movement that contributed to the passage of the Federal Voting Rights Act of 1965. On March 7, 1965, approximately 600 civil rights marchers led by John Lewis, the former United States House of Representatives Rep [Representative], and Reverend Hosea Williams of the Southern Christian Leadership [Conference]—they led 600 people on a march toward the state capitol in Montgomery, Alabama. These civil rights activists were nonviolently protesting discriminatory voter registration practices and the shooting of Jimmie Lee Jackson. When the nonviolent marchers were met and attacked with clubs, whips, police dogs, [and] tear gas by state troopers, local law enforcement officers, and townspeople at the Edmund Pettus Bridge—they were met there while they were leaving Selma. The resulting images that appeared on television and in print led March 7, 1965, to be remembered as "Bloody Sunday," galvanizing a generation of nonviolent civil rights activists and heightening support for an awareness of the civil rights movement.

After Reverend Martin Luther King Jr. led some 2,500 nonviolent protesters across the Edmund Pettus Bridge on March 9, 1965, United States District Court Judge Frank Johnson Jr., issued an injunction on March 15, 1965, that overturned Governor George Wallace's prohibition of the protest and allowed it to continue.

On March 21, 1965, protected by U.S. Army troops, the Alabama National Guard, under federal command, the FBI, and federal marshals led more than 3,000 people led by Reverend Martin Luther King Jr., they set out from Selma to Montgomery once more. By the time they reached the state capitol building on March 25, their numbers had grown to 25,000, including many religious and community leaders of all denominations, races, religions, and backgrounds.

Now, therefore, be proclaimed that because of the courage and conviction displayed by the civil rights marchers and activists, the U.S. Congress passed, and President Lyndon B. Johnson signed into law the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Today, we celebrate the 60th anniversary and we continue to fight to uphold our voting rights for all United States citizens. I would also like it to be mentioned that a fact—that I just learned by being in this body a few sessions ago—that on March 1, 1869, Nevada became the first state to ratify the 15th Amendment, allowing Black men to vote in the United States.

Her work with the Carson City Chamber Leadership Institute, Carson City Parks and Recreation, and her volunteer efforts with Friends in Service Helping reflects her deep commitment to give back to our community and improve the lives of those around her.

Molly Walt, Executive Director, Retired and Senior Volunteer Program [RSVP]. Under her leadership, RSVP has provided countless essential services to seniors and veterans, particularly those who are isolated or homebound in rural communities. Ms. Walt also serves on the Nevada Commission on Aging and Nevada Volunteers, which further demonstrates her commitment to improving the lives of Nevada's seniors and veterans.

And last, but not least, Stacy Woodbury, Manager of Public Affairs, Southwest Gas. Assembly called to order at 11:44 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymember Kasama, who was excused.

Prayer by Rabbi Levi Sputz.

Almighty G-d, we stand before You today, seeking Your blessing upon this esteemed Assembly. Grant wisdom, clarity, and strength to its members as they deliberate and make decisions for the good of the people of Nevada. Guide them to govern with integrity, justice, and compassion, ensuring peace and prosperity for all.

As we mark the holiday of Purim tonight, we recall how the Book of Esther concludes with Mordechai joining public service, and as a result, the kingdom flourished. This reminds us that when righteous individuals take on leadership with a sense of duty and moral clarity, the entire society benefits. May the members of this Assembly be inspired by Mordechai's example to uphold truth and justice, following the universal principles You gave at Mount Sinai for all people, especially the seventh—the foundation of ethical governance.

Bless their efforts to uphold fairness, righteousness, and harmony in the great state of Nevada. May their work be a source of blessing for all.

AMEN.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
EIGHTY-THIRD SESSION, 2025

Thank you to Governor Lombardo, Lieutenant Governor Anthony, Attorney General Ford, Leader Cannizzaro, Speaker Yeager, our distinguished Supreme Court Justices, and all members of the Senate and Assembly.

I want to begin by thanking you for your work on behalf of Nevadans and your partnership as we collaborate on the federal, state, and local levels. The most important thing we can do to support Nevadans is work together to deliver for our families and businesses. Democrat, Republican, urban, rural—when we are here, our collective focus is how we can make Nevadans' lives better. It is imperative that as we hear from the people of Nevada, we continue to exchange information and ensure we are meeting their needs.

I love this state. I love our people. One of my favorite things to do is travel around our state and just talk to Nevadans. I will tell you, in my conversations with the people of this state, one of the top concerns I am hearing about, over and over again, is the need to lower costs; groceries, utilities, housing, and health care. You all know this. You are doing your part to lower those costs.

I also know that health care is a major priority for the Nevada Legislature. I know I am not the first to address this before this body, but with all the uncertainty surrounding costs with this administration, that is what I want to focus on today.

First, I want to talk about where we are with the continuing resolution [Full-Year Continuing Appropriations and Extensions Act, 2025] that just passed a few days ago. The reality is that it was an extremely difficult vote between two bad options. However, shutting down the government and forcing tens of thousands of Nevadans to work without pay, with no clear end in sight, would be devastating for Nevada.

At the end of the day, my first priority is to Nevadans, and I could not let the people of this state get caught in the middle of the turmoil in Washington. That is why I chose to keep the government open. Now, we can continue the fight for critical federal support for health care in Nevada.

Here are the facts. Congressional Republicans' number one goal for this year is to pass a $4.5 trillion bill that would extend tax cuts that mostly benefit billionaires. This would add $2 trillion to our national debt, and they are looking for $2 trillion in pay-fors. A good bulk of it—$880 billion—targets Medicaid funding.

Nevadans are being told that these cuts are going to come from cracking down on waste, fraud, and abuse in Medicaid. It would be great if that were true. I am all for getting rid of waste, fraud, and abuse within government programs, but the simple truth is this; we are not going to find $880 billion in pay-fors by only cutting waste, fraud, and abuse in Medicaid. To shrink this essential program down by nearly a trillion dollars, Medicaid would have to be gutted. There is no other way around it.

That is not just a talking point—the nonpartisan Congressional Budget Office analysis confirmed that Republicans would have to make the largest cuts in Medicaid history to meet their budget's $880 billion target. We all know federal Medicaid cuts will hit Nevada hard. Medicaid is the largest part of our state budget.

Federal cuts are going to lead to this body being forced to either increase taxes or cut health care spending to make up for that loss. Governor Lombardo has said in the past that he is not going to raise taxes. So, that leaves cuts in health care spending for the Legislature. That is not going to work for Nevadans. Medicaid supports every facet of our health care system in Nevada.

Let us start with mental health care. Our behavioral health infrastructure in Nevada relies on Medicaid payment—for care for both children and adults. We need to be investing more in mental health, not less. But Medicaid cuts would decimate our behavioral health services, and it would diminish our state's ability to comply with the recent agreement made with DOJ [United States Department of Justice] to improve services for children with behavioral health needs.

We cannot talk about the harm of Medicaid cuts without talking about the Affordable Care Act's [ACA] Medicaid expansion. I want to put that into perspective. Before the ACA, if you were an adult with no dependents, even if you were low-income, you had no access to Medicaid. Unless your employer provided health insurance, you had limited access to affordable health care. That changed thanks to the Affordable Care Act.

Since Nevada expanded Medicaid in 2014, the rate of uninsured Nevadans has dropped from 22% in 2012 to under 11% in 2023. Nevadans who had chronic illnesses that kept them out of a stable job are now able to join the workforce and contribute to our economy. If this administration does away with Medicaid expansion, it would devastate our workforce, our small businesses, and our economy.

That is just the tip of the iceberg. One of the areas where Medicaid cuts would hit the hardest is in rural Nevada, which, as we all know, is already underserved in terms of health care. I do not have to tell you that quality health care is hard to access in rural Nevada. Wherever a provider is located, whether it is 30 minutes away or 4 hours, that is where you have to go to be seen by a doctor.

Some of those providers work at Community Health Centers. These clinics rely on Medicaid to provide affordable, quality health care to underserved communities and vulnerable populations. Without Medicaid dollars, some of these Community Health Centers will be forced to close. The reality is, we do not have enough providers in our Medicaid program.

I know expanding our number of health care providers is a big priority for the Nevada Legislature. It was emphasized in Governor Lombardo's budget proposal for 2025-2027. It is a priority for me, too. I am leading legislation in the United States Senate to support Graduate Medical Education [GME] programs that help more health care providers train and stay in Nevada. Right now, we are using critical funding from Medicaid to strengthen our state's health care infrastructure.

If Medicaid is cut, the State of Nevada will have to make some difficult decisions about how we continue to support our providers. One of the proposals we are seeing in Washington for cutting Medicaid includes either lowering the hospital provider tax or eliminating it altogether. I think everyone in this room knows that hospital provider tax revenue is vital to financing our state's share of Medicaid. Lowering funding through hospital provider taxes would jeopardize access to behavioral health services and wreak havoc on our health care economy.

It is a zero-sum game: if Medicaid expansion is rolled back or hospital provider taxes are eliminated, Medicaid funds are cut. Then, payment rates for health care providers are cut, benefits are reduced, and facilities that treat the most vulnerable Nevadans close. Nevadans do not want this. It would not just affect Nevadans with Medicaid and their families. Earlier this month, I spoke with some of our firefighters who are trained as advanced Emergency Medical Technicians [EMTs] in Northern Nevada. Aside from being concerned about cuts to their own programs because of Elon Musk and DOGE [Department of Government Oversight], they are concerned about cuts to Medicaid. If Nevadans on Medicaid can no longer afford to go to the doctor or to the hospital when they get sick, they are going to be more reliant on emergency care. That means more 9-1-1 calls, more paramedics and EMTs being spread too thin, and more beds filling up in our emergency rooms. It does not make sense, and it does not work for our state. Everything I have just talked about has only been under the umbrella of Medicaid. I want to be clear that funding for other health care programs is being threatened in D.C. as well.

We have two incredible medical schools in Nevada at UNR [University of Nevada, Reno] and at UNLV [University of Nevada, Las Vegas]. Both universities are top schools for medical research in the country and both receive essential funding from the National Institutes of Health [NIH] to support their research. Now, we are seeing NIH funding being frozen or cut, and UNR and UNLV are at risk of losing millions of dollars that have been going toward innovations in cancer research, cardiovascular science, and more.

We have to be paying attention because what happens in Washington is going to have a direct impact on Nevadans here at home and our health care system. I will always work with any administration on policy that is good for our families. I will work with them to identify real fraud and abuse where it exists, but I will not agree to dismantling critical federal programs to pay for tax cuts for the wealthiest Americans. It is not going to trickle down to hardworking Nevadans. We know it, and Nevadans know it. That is why it is so critical that we keep working together at the local, state, and federal levels to ensure we are getting Nevadans the resources they need.

Now is the time for all of us to come together in a bipartisan way and show Nevadans that they can trust their elected leaders to stand up for them. As we work with each other, we must also communicate with our constituents. We have a responsibility to represent Nevadans, and that means keeping them informed about the ways their lives are changing under this administration.

When I got to Washington, I promised I would always put Nevada first and I would never forget why I was there—to fight for Nevadans. I know so many of you feel that same way, and we must continue to fulfill our oaths to this state and work together to deliver for the people of Nevada.

I have faith in you, and I have faith that together we can make that happen. Thank you for the opportunity to talk with you tonight, and I thank you every day for what you're doing on behalf of the people of this great state. God bless you, and God Bless America.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

At the direction of Mr. Speaker, the following remarks were entered in the Journal:

MR. MCAVOY LAYNE AS MARK TWAIN:

How ‘bout our Suffragists! Thanks to you ladies, Nevada leads the nation! We’re proud of you! Now you might be wonderin’ how Mark Twain got all the way from the Mississippi River to Carson City. Well, I’m going to tell you, if I can remember…

As good fortune would have it, thanks to Mr. Lincoln's inauguration, my brother was appointed Secretary to the silver territory...Nevada. So, I fancied myself to be secretary to the secretary, and I purchased the $150 fare each on the Overland Stagecoach out of St. Joe, and out we came, at a spanking gate; with our six shooters, a deck of cards, and a six-pound unabridged Webster's dictionary. We should have left it behind. It wasn't a good dictionary. It didn't have any modern words in it, only obsolete words that Noah Webster used when he was a child. For example, it defined a "carbuncle" as a kind of a rare jewel. Humor has no place in a dictionary.

We entertained ourselves by playing 7-Up with a deck of cards that was so old and worn and greasy, you could read the back side better'n you could read the front side.

I carried a Smith & Wesson seven-shooter, my brother had a Navy Colt six-shooter, but Mr. Bemis carried the original pepper-box, an Allen; all six chambers discharged at the same time. When that happened, the only safe place in all the region was behind it, because if she didn't get what she went after, she would fetch something else. But now if you want to see a "jackass rabbit" get up and hump himself -that's the weapon you want, is the Allen.

Well, 20 days on the Overland; once we heard the thunder of hooves, we stuck our heads out of the flap and there was the Pony Express galloping past, like the belated fragment of a storm. So sudden was it all, and so like a flash of unreal fancy, that were it not for the flake of white foam left quivering and perishing on the mail sack, we might have been left in doubt as to whether we had seen a pony and a rider at all, they were so fast.

But imagine with me if you will, we'd climb up on top of the box at dawn in our long johns, smoke our pipes and cigars, and watch the sun rise on the prairie. Even to this day, it thrills me to think of the wild sense of freedom that used to make the blood dance in our veins on those fine overland mornings!

At last, we disembarked in the Silver-Land. This was in August of 1861, and back then, Carson City was the most uninhabitable place on earth. Nothing grew here; even the birds, when they flew over, carried their own provisions.

But we climbed into the foothills and looked back on Carson City nestled in this flat sandy desert, and surrounded by such prodigious mountains that they seemed to expand your soul, until you felt yourself spreading into a colossus, and in that instant, you were seized with a burning desire to stretch forth your hand, put Carson in your pocket, and walk off with it.

I could see that I was going to need some transportation while in Carson City, so I attended an auction and bought a genuine Mexican plug. I didn't know what a genuine Mexican plug was, but I bought it on the advice of a man, I later found out, who was the auctioneer's brother. Well, his tail had been chopped off or else he had sat down on it too hard, some time or to'ther, and he was proud of it, and so too, he was left to fight off the flies with his heels. Well, with the help of some who held his head, and others who held his tail, I was able to climb onto that steed, but my feet slipped through the stirrups...on the inside, so I was handcuffed at the ankles, and he knew it. So, he put his feet together . . . all of them . . . in a bunch; lowered his back and fired me five feet into the air and somebody shouted, "Whoa, don't he buck!"

Well, I came back down in the saddle, but the laughter this provoked, he took for applause and fired me back up again. This time I came down on the high pommel, which was too much variety for me. So, I decided to get off, but now he was standing up on his hind legs, walking around like a member of Congress. You might think that I was afraid, but I wasn't, I knew I could stay on him so long as his ears did not pull out. Suddenly, I was in the air again, and when I came down, that genuine Mexican plug . . . was gone. So, I dug myself out of the ground and made up my mind; that if that auctioneer's brother's funeral was held while I was here in Carson City, I would cancel all other recreations—and attend it.

Well, I tried my hand at prospecting, yes, but I didn't have any luck. I soon enough discovered a silver mine is nothin' but a hole in the ground with a fool at the bottom and a liar at the top. But I did one thing right, I wrote a letter to the editor of the Territorial Enterprise in Virginia City. It was a burlesque of a Fourth of July speech that George Turner made. Turner was our Chief Justice and he was out stumping the territory at the time, and his speech began, "I was sired by the great American Eagle!" We'll draw a curtain of charity over the rest of the speech. I concluded my article by stating, "I cannot complete this essay, for the type-cases will have run out of capital "I's." And I signed that letter, "Josh." Yes, Josh, I was looking for a nom de guerre, a cognomen. Once before I had used W. Epaminondas Adrastus Blab, and sometime later, Thomas Jefferson Snodgrass, but they didn't sound right. Yet on the strength of that letter, "Professor Personal Pronoun," signed Josh, I was offered a job as a reporter for the Territorial Enterprise at $25 a week, and Joe Goodman, the publisher, told me when I signed on, "Sam, you have but one responsibility here. Get your facts straight. Then you can distort them as much as you like." No, I learned in Virginia City, a good lie can travel twice around the globe before the truth gets its boots on . . . I should distinguish here that we were not trying to foist an untruth off on an unsuspecting public, our 'quaints' were obvious sagebrush humor, and Nevada was built on tall tales. We had three kinds of tall tales back then: "Stretchers," that stretched the truth beyond the horizon of fact, "Lifters," that actually lifted the furniture, and "Powder Burners." Here lately I have stopped lying altogether since the amateurs have taken over the field.

Now, $25 a week might not sound like a lot of money today, I understand, but you must remember, back then, twenty cents would buy you a complete meal at the Delta Saloon, and that included your sarsaparilla or your Tarantula Juice! We had a drink back then called a Tarantula Juice. No one knew all that went into the Tarantula Juice, but the last thing they did to it, to give it dignity, was to strain it through a cane-bottom chair. Two Tarantula Juices would turn a man's skin to white fish scales that were so tough a dog might bite him and he would not know it 'till he read about it in the papers. Brought on premature decrepitude.

No, you can set it down as a maxim, a diet of whiskey produces rowdyism as naturally as turtle soup puts fat on an alderman. The Teamsters used to trade punches continuously as if for exercise! Fifty-two saloons we had in that town in my day and no town drunk! No, we took turns. Well, I could see that this was no place for a good Presbyterian, so I didn't remain one very long.

I covered the Legislature for the Enterprise. Never have I seen a body of men with tongues so handy and information so uncertain. They could talk for a week without ever getting rid of an idea. If any one of them had been on hand when the Creator was at the point of sayin', "Let there be light," we never would have got it. No, the Nevada Legislature meets every two years for sixty days, when they ought rightly meet every sixty years for two days.

Now you might be wondering about this watch…I know you are. It's engraved, "Governor of the Third House." The Third House was a loose comingling of legislators, lawyers, and journalists who would gather together at a groggery following a session of the Constitutional Convention and burlesque that day's lawmaking. I so enjoyed lampooning the legislators themselves that they made me Governor of the Third House and asked me to give a public talk to raise money for a new roof on the First Presbyterian Church. So, I cobbled together my first public talk and made up a flyer that I handed out in Virginia City & Carson City…

> The man lecturing has a very large nose. Anyone whose nose exceeds its measurement will be admitted free. All other noses must pay one dollar.

Well, two or three noses did get in free, but we raised $200 and put a new roof on the First Presbyterian Church. One of the parishioners suggested that because it was Mark Twain who put a roof on their church, it would cave in and mash the congregation. But it never did…

Now I might have told you how I took my name on the river; two fathoms being safe water, "twain," being the biblical term for "two." I stuck to that story all my life, to protect my wife. I didn't want her to know how we carried on back then here in Nevada, but I can tell you the truth…

We would put the paper to bed at the Enterprise and go over to the Corner Saloon for a restorative to sweeten the bilge waters a little. Old John Piper had the Corner Saloon at the time, a very gracious proprietor. He had a board behind the bar, it was a chalkboard, and on occasion he would mark a credit for his favorite customers. Oh, these were days before the Internal Revenue Service or record keeping of any consequence, or even currency; we dealt in coin, silver mostly, some gold. It got to be such a good thing, that no sooner would I walk through those swinging doors of the Corner Saloon with one of my drinking companions, than a regular would shout out, "Mark Twain!" and John Piper would mark two on the board behind the bar. So, now you know the truth, the petrified truth.

I might have stayed longer than my twenty-two months at the Enterprise, but for a fellow by the name of Laird, James Laird; he was editor for the competition, the Daily Union. This fellow Laird, perhaps you've known someone like him in your lifetime; he was endowed with a stupidity that with the slightest stretch, could wrap twice around the globe and tie. He slandered my good name in his newspaper. Well, if you must know, he called me a liar, a poltroon, and a puppy.

Well, I slandered him back in the Enterprise, and this went back and forth for two or three days, until I had to call him a coward, and challenge him to a duel, which was imprudent. Oh, I wore a side arm, yes, but that was only so as not to be conspicuous. I didn't know how to shoot one. Even if I did, I couldn't hit a tent from the inside. But my friend Gillis knew how to fire; so, Gillis and I went out to the appointed spot at Six Mile Canyon a half-hour early to practice. Gillis was such a good shot, that he took the head off a mud hen just as Laird came riding up on his pony. Gillis was quick enough to hand me that smoking side arm and say, "Nice shot, Sam! Don't kill him, just shoot his nasty face off."

Well, Laird heard that, and he went twice around on his pony and off he went. But I was not far behind; because Governor Nye issued a warrant for my arrest, for dueling, which had just been made illegal in Nevada. So, I decamped for San Francisco-to be unemployed. But when I laid down my pen at the Enterprise I had four horse whippings and two duels owing to me. But when I said goodbye to Virginia City, Carson City, I knew I was saying goodbye to the most vigorous enjoyment of life I would ever be afforded. Those days were full to the brim with the wine of life, and there have been no others like them…

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

ASSEMBLYMEMBER NADEEM:

Mr. Speaker, honorable colleagues, I rise today to recognize Bleeding Disorders Awareness Month, this March, and to bring attention to an important health issue affecting as many as 1,000 Nevadans and thousands across the country. Bleeding disorders, including hemophilia and Von Willebrand disease, prevent proper blood clotting, leading to prolonged bleeding after injury, surgery, or even spontaneously. These conditions can cause joint damage, chronic pain, and mobility issues.

Treatment for severe hemophilia is costly, averaging $300,000 per year and exceeding $1 million if complications arise. Access to lifelong care is critical for those affected, and many Nevadans rely on the Hemostasis and Thrombosis Center of Nevada in Reno and Las Vegas for specialized treatment.

This month, we honor those living with bleeding disorders, their families, and the dedicated healthcare providers who support them. By raising awareness, we can improve understanding, promote research, and ensure that individuals with these conditions receive the care they need.

Therefore, I am proud to recognize March 2025 as Bleeding Disorders Awareness Month in Nevada and encourage all Nevadans to support efforts to improve the lives of those impacted. Mr. Speaker, I ask that my colleagues join me in recognizing the Nevada Chapter of the National Bleeding Disorders Foundation for their dedication and advocacy on behalf of individuals with bleeding disorders.

Assemblymember Jauregui moved that the Assembly recess until 4:45 p.m.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
EIGHTY-THIRD SESSION, 2025

Thank you very much Speaker, and good evening, Governor Lombardo, Lieutenant Governor Anthony, Speaker Yeager, Majority Leader Cannizzaro, Minority Leader Hafen, Minority Leader Dr. Titus, Attorney General Ford, distinguished members of the Nevada Assembly, the Nevada Senate, Constitutional Officers, and honored guests. Thank you very much for allowing me to appear before you this evening to talk about something I love dearly—the Nevada Judiciary. I think one of the things in our life that we try to do when we become adults is find an occupation or profession that we truly feel is meaningful in our life that we enjoy doing. Hopefully, you find a group of people to do it with, that you genuinely care about, and it is a pleasure to go to work every day. I am certainly blessed in that regard, as the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, to work with some incredible individuals which I would like to acknowledge now; Justice Ron Parraguirre, Justice Kristina Pickering, Justice Lidia Stiglich, Justice Elissa Cadish, Justice Linda Bell and Justice Patty Lee. I am also blessed to have with us tonight, the judges of our Court of Appeals: Chief Judge Bonnie Bulla, Judge Michael Gibbons, and Judge Deborah Westbrook. You may not have noticed; 10 years can go by pretty quickly. In January of this year, we celebrated the 10th year of the Court of Appeals being in business for our state. The Court of Appeals does a tremendous job in conjunction with the Supreme Court and has been a much-needed addition to our appellate court system. So, thank you all. I would also like to recognize and thank our clerk of court, Elizabeth Brown. We hit 90,000 case filings in the Supreme Court recently. Elizabeth tells me she will stay until 100,000. Not that I want attorneys to file more cases, but we will be lucky to keep her around. Our chief legal counsel, Phaedra Kalicki and the tremendous legal staff that we are privileged to work with every day. Our [state] court administrator, Katherine Stocks, our assistant court administrator, John McCormick, our law librarian, Ann Walsh Long, and Jim Wright, the chief of our Marshal Division; to all of you, and to the hundreds of other people that work within our appellate court system, please know, that you have our deep gratitude for all you do to make our Court as excellent as it.

Now, I am going to tell you a little story. Those of you that know me are not surprised, but it does have purpose to what I am trying to talk about tonight. So, if you will indulge me. Back in 2019, I wanted to take my daughters with me to work one day. It was January, I was still a district court judge. My youngest, Emily, was back in school and was unavailable to come with me. My oldest, Kate, was home from college for winter break, so she came down to my office with me and later that morning we walked down to the Supreme Court to hear the first oral arguments that were going to be held that year. If you have ever been to a Supreme Court oral argument, you are probably the only person at the Supreme Court oral argument. Generally, it is the seven of us and the three or four attorneys arguing the case. Occasionally, we might have something of more interest to the general public and other people in the legal community, but not that day. The Court was packed that day, as it should have been. That was the first time the Nevada Supreme Court, in its history, assembled with a female majority. I wanted my daughter not to hear about it or read about it, but to see it and to feel it in the room—and you could feel it in that room, the importance of it.; not just for the four women on that Court, not just for the Court itself, not just for the legal community, but for what it meant to our state; a state that embraces progress that I am proud every day to live in.

Hopefully, this next part will be better because I am very excited. If there is anything redeeming about me that you like, please meet my wife Carrie and my daughters Kaitlyn and Emily, at some point today. If there is nothing about me that you like, well, I will wear the responsibility for that. But I am excited to have them here today. With that story as a backdrop because during Women's History Month, I get to address a female majority Nevada Assembly, a female majority Nevada Senate, as a member of an even larger now female majority Nevada Supreme Court, and as a representative of a female majority court of appeals, a female majority statewide district court bench of judges, and a female majority statewide justice court bench of judges, which from where I stand—is awesome. It is awesome. Again, it is a testament to the people of this state. During Women's History Month, we often focus maybe too solely on those that came before, who are incredibly important women that carved paths that did not exist and broke down barriers that were incredibly difficult to make it easier for you all, in this generation of women. But everybody in this room knows that the past becomes meaningless, and progress stops if you just take the torch. You cannot just take the torch, you have to move it forward. Every woman in this room—judges, legislators, public alike—you have done that and I congratulate you on everything you have achieved individually, within your organizations, and as public servants in this state. More than that, I thank you because on behalf of my daughters and all the other young women of this state, many of whose names you will never even know, they will know you. They will know what you did and they will achieve greatness because of you. They will take the torch and they will move it forward and Nevada [will] continue to progress and be a beacon for states across the country.

I have been a member of the legal community of Nevada for almost 35 years now and I have been a judge for over 20 years. I have had, during that time period, the opportunity to appear in front of, and work alongside, tremendous judges; people that I consider mentors and very influential in my life. So, it is deeply humbling to be here today as a representative of our judiciary: seven Supreme Court justices, three Court of Appeals judges, 90 District Court judges, 68 justices of the peace, 32 municipal court judges, and over 2,000 people that work in our court systems around the state every day; with one goal in mind that we are united on—provide justice to Nevada citizens, make sure people are heard, that legal standards are met, and that people's issues and cases are decided fairly and impartially and timely. And I am very proud of the fact that we get to do that in conjunction with you, the Nevada Legislature. I would be remiss if I did not thank you again for everything you did for the judiciary during the last legislative session. Regardless of the diversity of our backgrounds, philosophies, approaches, missions of our branches—it did not matter—we collaborated together in the interest of creating the best justice system we could in this state. I think we did a pretty good job. Your passage of S.B. [Senate Bill] 58, the judicial reform bill, was a landmark achievement. It affirmed, if you will, the independence of our two branches, while maintaining the very vital checks and balances necessary to a good functioning democracy. You eliminated administrative assessment revenue as a source of our funding, which was huge. You made sure that justice in Nevada moving forward would be beyond reproach. Senate Bill 58 provided sustainable funding for us and the ability to manage ourselves in ways that we never had been able to before; and we are incredibly grateful for that. You took our nonjudicial personnel budget and put it into one account and codified it to be like that of the Office of [the] Governor, which was a critical shift in our ability to retain the very talented and tremendous individuals that we work with every day and to attract equally talented and tremendous individuals, on the what is now, happily, a very rare occasion that we need to open up a position. But we are incredibly grateful to you all, to the Governor's Office of Finance, [and] to the staff of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, for working with our AOC [Administrative Office of the Courts] members to streamline those budget accounts and give us the operational flexibility to be able to continue to innovate and be excellent. So, thank you and we look forward to collaborating with you as we move forward into the future as well.

I would also like to point out that I think we have at least tried to be very good stewards of the appropriations granted to us by the Legislature. Last session, in particular, there were a couple of projects that we had discussed needing funding for and you granted that to us—creating an AOC facility in Las Vegas to partner with our appellate court building and the staff down in southern Nevada, as well as, a build out of our Carson City law library facilities to create training facilities, so that we could bring in judges from around the state for Nevada specific training. I am happy to tell you, both of those projects were completed on time and in budget. We can be trusted.

So, now to talk about some of the achievements that we have had; the remarkable progress that we have made over the last couple of years in terms of innovation, in terms of access to justice issues, judicial education issues, I want to comment about our Specialty Courts, and a number of other things. I want to lead with this because it is tied into what you did for us in the last legislative session, and I found this out last night, that the Nevada Supreme Court is going to be awarded one of the spring 2025 top workplace designations by Energage. Energage, for those of you that do not know, is a platform that does workplace surveys for thousands and thousands of entities, and collates all that data, and based upon the positive feedback from within organizations, they designate certain organizations as top workplaces. We are not only a top workplace, but we are a top workplace in every category they grade. So again, thank you very much for creating such a wonderful place for the people in the appellate court system to work. So, let us talk about some of those achievements. We created a statewide self-help center that utilizes guided interviews to help mainly pro se litigants of limited financial resources create legally sufficient pleading forms that they can use in representing themselves. Currently, that system can translate those forms for them into four languages and we are looking to expand that. Right now it is Spanish, Mandarin, Vietnamese, and Tagalog. We did a soft launch of that program in March of last year and did a more broad advertisement of it beginning in September. Since that time, we have done 3,000 guided interviews with Nevada citizens. Right now, we are doing about 300 eligibility reviews out of those interviews every month and we are doing 350 completed pleading packets every month. That is 350 people that now have—in an unknown and sometimes daunting forum—the ability to take legally sufficient documents to court and get their issues in front of a judge to be heard and decided so they can go on with their lives. I think that is tremendous. Our guardianship investigations office, as you know, that office protects Nevada's most vulnerable citizens. Last year, we audited estates worth $24.5 million; troublingly, in a third of those—$8.1 million—that office identified a risk of loss. The good news is because of the office's efforts, the courts can step in earlier to protect those assets and prevent loss. I am very proud of the fact that we will be the third judiciary in the country to implement and deploy a guardianship reporting portal. We will be the first in the country that has a portal that is designed to allow financial institutions to import, directly, financial information. Which gets information in the hands of the courts very quickly, so that they can identify potential risk of loss, protect assets, and protect people.

Recently, the Court hosted a Legal Deserts Summit—we were very grateful to Assemblymember Considine and the State Bar for participating in that event—and the idea of that was to look at the areas around our state, quite frankly, where there are no attorneys, or very few attorneys, to handle the legal issues that those communities have. The summit was great in terms of being able to round table issues and we are very hopeful moving forward that we will be able to provide more and more answers to help out in those areas. One of those comes from the work that we did previously and is ongoing with our virtual advocacy commission. What we learned during COVID—all of us learned—we could do remote hearings, we could do them efficiently and effectively, and in many cases, preferably to end in-court appearances by both attorneys and the public. From the criminal law side of things, oftentimes, members of the public that do not have tremendous financial resources, struggle to make it to court, to pay for transportation, to miss work, and lose jobs. Creating presumptive hearings, that would be done in person, has been an incredible benefit. That commission finished up its work in late 2023, and we put the guidelines into place for last year. In two or three months or so, I am guessing, we are going to bring people back to invite public comment to see how it has been working in the various courts, and what, if anything, we need to tweak moving forward. I am very proud of that commission's work.

Additionally, last year, we created a pilot program for informal family court trials. That is also designed to pro se litigants, of which there are a tremendous amount, in the family court system. That program is designed to create an ease of self-representation for those individuals. Again, so it is not such a daunting environment for them to appear in and get their issues heard by a judge. It also somewhat relaxes the rules of evidence for them to get evidence that they think is relevant to their case before the judge. While we trust the judge to be able to decide what it is, that is something that they can utilize in their decision making. It gets cases to the judge quicker, it gets litigants in front of the judge quicker, it gets resolution of their issues quicker, and we are very proud of this. I look forward to the results we will get from that pilot project to figure out how we can continue that on into the future.

Additionally, a couple of years ago, you may recall, we started a water law commission headed by my friend, Justice Parraguirre. The idea of that, and what it ultimately did, was created something we affectionately refer to as Water Court. Water Court was designed to designate and certify a judge in every judicial district in the state to be able to handle the very complex issues and water law cases and to do so in a consistent way. These cases pop up all over the state with our state engineer and we wanted consistency on how they are being handled and how we develop the law in that area. I am very pleased to tell you that, as of today, we have 13 district court judges who are certified as water law judges. We have also asked for an appropriation from the Legislature this session that would allow us to join the Western State Water Law Consortium through the National Judicial College so that we can continue our proactive efforts to address this critical issue in our state and within our region.

In December of 2024, we held our first new judge academy with 18 limited jurisdiction judges from around the state. As you all know, in a lot of areas of our state limited jurisdiction judges are not attorneys. So, we thought it was critical to get these people together and we assembled them in Las Vegas with our AOC facilities and we created an education curriculum and an everyday in-person court curriculum with sitting judges. I think we gave these individuals an incredible amount of practical knowledge to utilize when they started on the bench, but maybe more importantly, we created mentorships and networking opportunities for them to meet and engage with other judges. In a lot of our jurisdictions, the judge is the only judge, and as judges, we rely on each other. We cannot just go solicit information anywhere we want to, so creating those opportunities for them to develop relationships with people they could rely on was tremendous. As you probably know, within our budget, we are also requesting an expenditure for a continuous learning plan that would allow us to continue our judicial education efforts. I believe our next new judge academy would be scheduled for December of 2026 following the election that involves all 90 district court judge seats in the state. We anticipate that there will probably be at least a handful of new judges at that time, and we think this training program would be incredibly valuable to them, as well. We would also like to return court employee training. We paired that back during the recession. I realize not all court employees are state employees, and we are generally talking about the state Judiciary and state courts right now, but whether you are a municipal county or state court employee, you have the same function. Those employees are the front line of case management and ensuring the accurate record in the courts in this state, and that is critically important. So, we want to provide training to them that assists them in assisting their judges, to help us maintain neutrality and procedural integrity within those court systems. We appreciate any consideration that you all can give us in regard to that.

My favorite topic, I get to talk about specialty courts. Why do we love specialty courts? Nevada has long been a national leader in problem-solving courts. Whether it is our drug court, mental health courts, DUI [Driving Under the Influence] court, veterans court, gambling courts; we love specialty courts because in the criminal law arena there are not a lot of things that you can look at and say, If I do this every time, this person will be successful and they will never come back to the criminal justice system. If we knew that magic formula, we would do it every time. But we know it in specialty courts because specialty courts provide specific team-oriented training for people; to rebuild their lives and reintegrate into their communities and not be repeat customers of the justice system. Last year in Nevada, 1,320 people graduated from our specialty court programs. That number, in and of itself, is significant. What the statistics tell us about that, and we usually look at three years post-graduation, what the statistics tell us is that 90 percent of those people will not be back in the criminal justice system. Just as importantly for people that enter those programs, but do not graduate, but nonetheless spend significant time there—they also develop the tools to rebuild their lives and do not come back into the criminal justice system, as high as 70 to 80 percent, sometimes. That is tremendous, but probably most important in my mind: every trial court judge, every limited jurisdiction judge, can tell you of the heartache of dealing with cases with pregnant mothers suffering through drug and alcohol addiction. You worry not just about the case and the defendant, you worry about the unborn child being born with the physical, mental, and behavioral deficits that come from being exposed to drug or alcohol use by the pregnant mother. In a specialty court program, if one baby can be born drug free, that has that increased chance of success in life as one of our citizens, that is worth every penny we spend on specialty courts. Last year, 36 babies were born drug free to participants in our specialty court programs. Thirty-six, three children every month, with that increased risk success. I know that the Legislature understands the value of Specialty Court. You have always been very good. So, I thank you for that. Again, I ask for your consideration this session in regard to our request for the specialty courts. They are tremendous and they work so, so well for our citizens.

Now I cannot, sadly, talk about the state of our Judiciary without mentioning judicial safety. Everybody in this room, I am sure, is aware of what happened in Las Vegas early last year when one of our judges, Mary Kay Holthus—good judge, working hard, doing her job—sentences a gentleman who becomes displeased, rushes the bench, jumps over the bench, and begins to physically assault the judge before her law clerk and court martials could intervene. It was incredibly scary. Unpredictable? I think most people would say yes. On the other hand, in our society, people are increasingly prone to violence on things and issues and in ways that we did not deal with in the past, including threats and conduct directed at the Judiciary. We did a survey recently, which I will mention a little further in a moment, the judicial participants in that survey, this was the pressing issue. I went to the Conference of Chief Justices with all the other chief justices around the country in February. This was the main presentation topic, including testimonials from judges who had been harassed, stalked, physically assaulted, and shot by people whose cases they we are presiding over. It is a problem. We started a judicial security commission, headed by Justice [Linda Marie] Bell, that is seeking, proactively, to gather information and centralize it from around the state to understand more about the depth and breadth of this problem. But we do not need that to know it is a problem. It is one of the reasons we have requested an enhancement this session to add two marshal positions to our staff, one North and one South, to provide protection, not just to us, but to everybody that comes in and uses our buildings, the appellate court buildings, around the state. Again, we appreciate your consideration in that regard.

Looking ahead, 2025 will be the end of our current strategic plan and we are excited to continue checking off boxes of the things that we are accomplishing while we also put together our '26-'28 [2026-28] strategic plan, which should be released later this year. That is where the survey came from; there were about 300 participants in that, with 75 focus group members. We are collating and going through that data to gain good insights into what we can do to be very forward thinking in our next strategic plan. As we look to the next biennium, we know we have a lot of work to do and we are grateful for the ARPA [American Recue Plan Act] funds we got that allowed us to start some transformative projects, but we are going to need your help and support to continue those moving forward to complete them and maintain them. That includes our statewide e-filing system. It has been deployed in nine courts and we are working to expand that. We are trying to develop a modernized cloud-based case management system that would provide tremendous flexibility to our court systems around the state and alleviate the very real burden that local courts have in not having the resources for the type of IT [Information Technology] needed. We are also seeking to create a central data repository around the state for court information that would allow, not only for a more robust set of data for judges to make better decisions, but it would allow for better policy development too—surrounding the judicial branch and the state's justice system. So, we appreciate in advance your consideration for those matters.

The successes and achievements that we have made that I have discussed with you briefly this evening and the ambitions we have for the future, they are not just held by the Judicial Branch, right? Whether it is the Legislative Branch, the Governor and the Executive Branch, or the Judicial Branch, we are all united in one thing: do our very level best on behalf of the people of this state to improve their lives, improve their government, and improve the things that they have access to and need. There is so much honor, not just in being a public servant, but being a public servant in this state, in the state of Nevada. With regard to the Judiciary, in the last two-and-a-half months, I have had occasion to travel to a lot of places and I have met a lot of judges that I did not know before from a lot of areas. We have really good judges in this state, good people, that embrace the idea of what being a judge is. That being said, I have always been the first to admit that sometimes the Judiciary is its own worst enemy. Not every judge is built the same, not every Supreme Court is built the same. But what I can tell you about the Nevada Supreme Court, every person on this Court that runs the State Judiciary, understands the privilege of what it means to be a judge.

I am going to tell you one more quick story; 151 years ago, a gentleman wrote a letter about his law partner. In that letter he wrote,"[he]was a kind, tender, and sympathetic man, feeling deeply in the presence of [suffering] pain, wrong, or oppression in any shape; he was the very essence and substance of truth . . . He was just to men, he loved the right, the good and true, with all his soul . . . I have never known [I never knew] so true a man, so [good a one], so just a one, so incorrupted and incorruptible a one . . . His work was [the highest] and grandest religion, noble duty nobly done." It is those last four words that have always stuck with me. Those words were written about Abraham Lincoln. They were written by his last law partner, a gentleman that worked with him for 16 years, before Lincoln became president, and was his friend until Lincoln was assassinated. That gentleman's name was William Herndon. He was my eighth cousin, once removed. I came upon this letter about eight or nine years ago, and Lord knows, I wish I would have found it sooner because it has been very impactful to me since then. The idea of judges and noble duty always performed nobly. Every judge in this state in our Judiciary should appreciate that and think about that every day. I can tell you this Court will do our level best to make sure we continue to keep that fresh in the minds of Nevada's Judiciary moving forward. So, thank you. I just wanted to say, we have a reception and the Supreme Court rotunda and I am hopeful that you can all join us, but before I step away, please know on behalf of me and my family and the entirety of Nevada's Judiciary, how grateful we are for each of you: the Governor and the Nevada Legislature. We know, as public servants as well, the tremendous commitment it takes to do these jobs. Many of us are walking around the halls of the Legislature during the session. We see you, we see your efforts, we see the deliberation, we know how many people are out there asking enormous things of you, and we greatly appreciate you. God bless you and your families. Thank you again, for having me this evening to speak on behalf of the Nevada Judiciary.

THE FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), March 31, 2025

Assembly called to order at 11:44 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by Pastor Luis Gonzalo Oliva Cortez.

Para todos, soy Luis Oliva, pastor principal de Iglesia Evangélica Amigos en Las Vegas, Nevada. Mi país de origen es la hermosa Guatemala. Muchas gracias por la invitación, es un honor para mí. Con reverencia haremos la solemne oración de invocación a Dios.

Amado Dios, eres digno de invitarte a esta reunión tan importante, eres el creador del universo, y de nuestras vidas, eres perfecto en todo y a ti debemos nuestra existencia, te damos gloria y honor.

Tú, oh Dios, a través de tu palabra nos mandas acompañar a nuestras autoridades tal como lo dice la Biblia en 1 Timoteo 2: "Ante todo, recomiendo que se hagan peticiones, oraciones, súplicas y acciones de gracias a Dios por toda la humanidad. Se debe orar por los que gobiernan y por todas las autoridades, para que podamos gozar de una vida tranquila y pacífica, con toda piedad y dignidad."

Necesitamos de ti en todo, y especialmente en esta reunión, te pedimos que des a cada uno y cada una, sabiduría de lo alto, eres la fuente de sabiduría, y la necesitamos para ser correctos, justos, para respetarnos y para honrarnos unos a otros. Deseamos ser portadores de paz, que busquemos vivir en quietud, a respetarnos unos a otros, como seres humanos dignos.

Ahora deseo pedirte por cada asambleísta, que todo lo que hagan a favor del bien de toda la sociedad, pueda ser retribuido para cada uno y sus amadas familias. Oro por mucha fortaleza, por el ánimo, por su buenas emociones mientras permanecen en la presente Asamblea.

Oramos a favor de nuestro estado de Nevada, de seguro un estado con grandes desafíos, pero también un estado con múltiples oportunidades. Oramos por las personas más vulnerables de este estado, por muchas oportunidades para quienes son menos afortunados en la actualidad. Tú eres un dios de toda bondad, has rodeado nuestras vidas de favores y misericordias.

Invocamos tu presencia en este lugar, pidiendo tu bendición para esta ciudad, para este estado, y para la nación de los Estados Unidos de América, y lo hacemos en el nombre de nuestro señor y salvador.

AMEN.

(The following is the English translation of the invocation.)

Blessings to all. I am Luis Oliva, Senior Pastor of Evangelical Friends Church in Las Vegas, Nevada. My country of origin is beautiful Guatemala. Thank you very much for the invitation—it is an honor for me. With reverence, we will now make the solemn invocation prayer to God.

Beloved God, You are worthy to be invited to this important gathering. You are the Creator of the universe and of our lives. You are perfect in all things, and to You we owe our existence. We give You glory and honor.

You, oh God, through Your Word, command us to stand with our authorities, as it says in the Bible in 1 Timothy 2: "First of all, I urge that petitions, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgiving be made for all people—for kings and all those in authority, that we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness."

We need You in everything, and especially in this meeting. We ask that You grant each and every person wisdom from above. You are the source of wisdom, and we need it to be righteous and just, to respect and honor one another. We wish to be peacemakers, to strive to live in quietness, and to respect each other as worthy human beings.

Now, I wish to pray for every Assemblymember—that everything they do for the good of society may be returned in blessings to them and their beloved families. I pray for great strength, encouragement, and good emotional well-being as they remain in this Assembly.

We pray for our state of Nevada—a state with great challenges, but also one with many opportunities. We pray for the most vulnerable people in this state, for greater opportunity for those who are currently less fortunate. You are a God full of goodness, who surrounds our lives with favor and mercy.

We invoke Your presence in this place, asking for Your blessing over this city, this state, and the nation of the United States of America. We do so in the name of our Lord and Savior.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 26.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Natural Resources:

Amendment No. 52.

AN ACT relating to water; exempting the State Engineer from liability for certain damages resulting from the performance of certain duties; revising provisions relating to the construction, reconstruction or alteration of a dam; exempting certain works under the jurisdiction of the United States Bureau of Reclamation or the United States Army Corps of Engineers from certain requirements relating to dams; requiring that certain applications relating to dams be made available to the Department of Wildlife; authorizing the State Engineer to enter certain parcels of land to access a dam or other obstruction; revising provisions relating to the removal of any dam, diversion works or obstruction; revising provisions relating to the removal of certain animals interfering with the flow of water; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, the State Engineer is authorized to regulate the construction, reconstruction, alteration and operation of dams and other obstructions of waterways in the State of Nevada. (NRS 532.110, 532.120, chapter 535 of NRS) Section 1 of this bill exempts the State Engineer and any assistant ~~[or authorized agent]~~ of the State Engineer from liability for damages caused by certain failures of a dam or reservoir that may occur as a result of an inspection, emergency response or enforcement of an order or regulation by the State Engineer or his or her assistant. ~~[or authorized agent.]~~

Under existing law, any person proposing to construct a dam in this State must obtain a permit from the State Engineer to appropriate, store and use the water impounded or diverted by the proposed dam before beginning construction and, upon obtaining or possessing such a permit, must submit, in triplicate, to the State Engineer for approval plans and specifications for certain dams. Existing law further: (1) authorizes the State Engineer to inspect the construction of a dam at any time for compliance with the approved plans and specifications; (2) prohibits the construction and use of any dam, under certain circumstances, before the approval of plans and specifications by the State Engineer; and (3) makes it a misdemeanor to construct or use a dam without first obtaining such approval. (NRS 535.010) Section 2 of this bill makes these provisions applicable to the reconstruction or alteration of a dam. Section 2 also removes the requirement that any person proposing to construct a dam in this State obtain a permit to appropriate, store and use water impounded or diverted by the proposed dam before beginning construction of the dam and instead requires any person proposing to construct, reconstruct or alter a dam to obtain approval from the State Engineer before beginning construction, reconstruction or alteration of the dam. Section 2 further: (1) requires a person to submit plans and specifications to the State Engineer for approval if the dam is classified by the State Engineer as a high hazard or significant hazard dam; and (2) removes the requirement that such plans and specifications be submitted in triplicate.

Under existing law, the State Engineer is authorized to impose certain administrative fines for, or may seek injunctive relief upon, the violation of any permit issued by the State Engineer relating to the construction, reconstruction or alteration of a dam. (NRS 535.200, 535.210) Sections 8 and 9 of this bill authorize the imposition of certain administrative fines or the seeking of injunctive relief upon the violation of any approval issued by the State Engineer in conformity with the removal of the requirement to obtain a permit made in section 2.

Under existing law, the State Engineer is required to file with the Board of Wildlife Commissioners a copy of applications for approval of plans and specifications for a new dam or for the alteration and enlargement of any dam in a stream. (NRS 535.020) Section 3 of this bill instead requires the State Engineer to notify the Department of Wildlife when an application for decommissioning a dam is filed or a request for approval of plans and specifications of a new dam or for the alteration and enlargement of any dam in a stream is submitted and to make the application or plans and specifications available to the Department.

Under existing law, works constructed by the United States Bureau of Reclamation or the United States Army Corps of Engineers are exempt from certain requirements relating to dams, including requirements for the approval of plans and specifications and inspections and safety and repair requirements. (NRS 535.010, 535.030) Sections 2 and 4 of this bill exempt any works under the jurisdiction of the United States Bureau of Reclamation or the United States Army Corps of Engineers from such requirements.

Under existing law, the State Engineer or any assistant or authorized agent of the State Engineer is authorized to enter any land, at a reasonable hour, where a dam or obstruction is situated to investigate and carry out the duties of the State Engineer. (NRS 535.035) Section 5 of this bill further authorizes the State Engineer or any assistant or authorized agent of the State Engineer to enter the land of any parcel adjacent to where a dam or other obstruction is located as is necessary to access the dam or other obstruction.

Under existing law, the State Engineer is authorized to order the removal of any dam, diversion works or obstruction that has not been legally established by certain means. If such a dam, diversion works or obstruction is ordered removed by the State Engineer and is not removed after the service of a 30-day notice upon the owner or person controlling the dam, diversion works or obstruction, or an appeal of the removal order has not been filed, the State Engineer may remove the dam, diversion works or obstruction. (NRS 535.050) Section 6 of this bill authorizes the State Engineer to remove a dam, diversion works or obstruction not legally established after providing a written, not served, copy of the 30-day notice to the owner of the dam, diversion works or obstruction.

Under existing law, the State Engineer is authorized to remove a beaver on privately owned land if it is determined the beaver is interfering with the flow of water to the detriment of water users and after service of a written notice on the owner of the private land. (NRS 535.060) Section 7 of this bill requires that the written notice be provided to the landowner and need not be served.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 535 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

2. In the construction of a dam, or the alteration or enlargement of a dam, the owner shall conform with the provisions of law for the installation of fishways over or around dams and for the protection and preservation of fish in streams obstructed by dams.

Sec. 4. NRS 535.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

535.030 1. The State Engineer from time to time shall:

(a) Make inspections of dams at state expense for the purpose of determining their safety; and

2. The owners shall perform at their expense any other work necessary to maintenance and operation which will safeguard life and property.

3. If at any time the condition of any dam becomes so dangerous to the safety of life or property as not to permit sufficient time for the issuance and enforcement of an order relative to the maintenance or operation thereof, the State Engineer may, if he or she deems it necessary, immediately employ the following remedial measures to protect either life or property:

(a) Lower the water level by releasing water from the reservoir.

(b) Completely empty the reservoir.

(c) Take such other steps as may be essential to safeguard life and property.

Sec. 6. NRS 535.050 is hereby amended to read as follows:

535.050 1. The State Engineer has the right, power and authority to order the removal of any dam, diversion works or obstruction that ~~[has been placed in any stream channel or watercourse when the dam, diversion works or obstruction]~~ has not been legally established and recognized through a valid claim of vested right, by decree of court or ~~[by a permit issued]~~ approved by the State of Nevada ~~[.]~~ in accordance with the provisions of this section.

2. Nothing in this section is to be construed as giving the State Engineer any right or authority to remove any dam or diversion works that has been so legally recognized and established.

3. If the dam, diversion works or obstruction has not been removed after 30 days' notice in writing given by the State Engineer ~~[and served upon]~~ to the owner ~~[or person controlling]~~ of the dam, diversion works or obstruction, or if no appeal has been taken from the order of the State Engineer as is provided for in NRS 533.450, then the State Engineer may remove the dam, diversion works or obstruction.

4. The State Engineer shall charge the actual cost of ~~[that]~~ the removal of the dam, diversion works or obstruction to the water distribution account and thereafter present an itemized statement of the charge to the board of county commissioners of the county wherein those expenses were incurred. The board of county commissioners shall thereupon present a bill for the expenses to the person liable therefor under this section, and if that person neglects for 30 days thereafter to pay it, the bill and costs become a lien upon the lands and property of the person so liable for the payment of the bill, and must be collected as delinquent taxes against the lands and property are collected.

Sec. 7. NRS 535.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

535.060 1. On any stream system and its tributaries in this state the distribution of the waters of which are vested in the State Engineer by law or the final decree of court, where beaver, by the construction of dams or otherwise, are found to be interfering with the lawful and necessary distribution of water to the proper users thereof, the State Engineer, upon complaint of any interested water user, shall investigate or cause the investigation of the matter.

2. The State Engineer and his or her assistants and water commissioners and the Department of Wildlife and its agents may enter upon privately owned lands for the purposes of investigating the conditions complained of and the removal and trapping of beaver.

3. If satisfied that such beaver are interfering with the flow of water to the detriment of water users, the State Engineer shall ~~[serve]~~ provide a written notice ~~[on]~~ to the owner of the land, if it is privately owned, stating:

(a) That the beaver thereon are interfering with or stopping the flow of water necessary for the proper serving of water rights; and

(b) That unless, within 10 days from receipt of the notice, written objection to the removal of such beaver is filed with the State Engineer by the landowner, the Department of Wildlife will remove such beaver or as many thereof as will rectify the existing conditions.

4. Failure of the landowner to file such written objections shall be deemed a waiver thereof. Upon receipt of written objections, the State Engineer may make further investigation and may sustain or overrule the objections as the facts warrant. Upon the overruling of the objections, the landowner may have them reviewed by the district court having jurisdiction of the land by filing therein a petition for review within 10 days from the receipt of the order of the State Engineer overruling the objections. The proceedings on the petition must be informal and heard by the court at the earliest possible moment.

5. Upon the landowner's waiver of objections to the removal of beaver from his or her land, or upon final determination by the court that the beaver should be removed, the State Engineer shall immediately notify the Department of Wildlife of the waiver or determination and the Department or its agents shall enter upon the land from which the beaver are to be removed and remove them or as many as may be necessary to prevent the improper flow of water as directed by the State Engineer.

6. The State Engineer may remove or cause the removal of any beaver dam found to be obstructing the proper and necessary flow of water to the detriment of water users.

Sec. 8. NRS 535.200 is hereby amended to read as follows:

535.200 1. not to exceed $10,000 per day for each violation as determined by the State Engineer.

2. If an administrative fine is imposed against a person pursuant to subsection 1, the State Engineer may require the person to pay the costs of the proceeding, including investigative costs and attorney's fees.

3. An order imposing an administrative fine or requiring the payment of costs or fees pursuant to this section may be reviewed by a district court pursuant to NRS 533.450.

Sec. 9. NRS 535.210 is hereby amended to read as follows:

535.210 1. The State Engineer may seek injunctive relief in the appropriate court to prevent the continuance or occurrence of any act or practice which violates any provision of this chapter, any ~~[permit,]~~ approval, order or decision issued by the State Engineer pursuant to this chapter or any regulation adopted by the State Engineer pursuant to NRS 532.120.

2. On a showing by the State Engineer that a person is engaged, or is about to engage, in any act or practice which violates or will violate any provision of this chapter, any ~~[permit,]~~ approval, order or decision issued by the State Engineer pursuant to this chapter or any regulation adopted by the State Engineer pursuant to NRS 532.120, the court may issue, without a bond, any prohibitory or mandatory injunction that the facts may warrant, including a temporary restraining order issued ex parte or, after notice and hearing, a preliminary or permanent injunction.

3. Failure to establish lack of an adequate remedy at law or irreparable harm is not a ground for denying a request for a temporary restraining order or injunction.

4. The court may require the posting of a sufficient performance bond or other security to ensure compliance with the court order within the period prescribed.

5. Any proceeding conducted or injunction or order issued pursuant to this section is in addition to, and not in lieu of, any other penalty or remedy available for a violation of this chapter.

Amendment No. 37.

SUMMARY ~~[Makes various changes]~~ Revises provisions relating to public mass transportation. (BDR 22-1066)

AN ACT relating to transportation; requiring a regional transportation commission in certain counties to take certain actions to mitigate safety risks to transit operators; ~~[authorizing a governmental entity that operates a public mass transportation system to obtain a public transportation trespass order under certain circumstances; providing a penalty for the violation of such an order;]~~ and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides that in any county for all or part of which a streets and highways plan has been adopted as a part of the master plan by the county or regional planning commission, the board of county commissioners may by ordinance create a regional transportation commission. A commission may perform certain duties prescribed by law, such as operating a system of public transportation within its area of jurisdiction and using streets, roads, highways and other public rights-of-way for public transportation. (NRS 277A.170, 277A.270) Section 1 of this bill requires a regional transportation commission in a county whose population is 100,000 or more (currently Clark and Washoe Counties) to: (1) take certain actions to mitigate safety risks to transit operators, including, without limitation, installing and maintaining appropriate infrastructure and technology designed to mitigate safety risks to transit operators such as the use of barriers, panic buttons and other technology; and (2) install and maintain appropriate signage informing the public about the criminal penalties for certain crimes committed against transit operators or the public.

~~[Existing law establishes an increased penalty for assault or battery committed upon a transit operator, which is defined as a person who operates a bus or other vehicle as part of a public mass transportation system, if the transit operator is performing his or her duty and the person charged knew or should have known that the victim was a transit operator. (NRS 200.471, 200.481) Section 2 of this bill: (1) authorizes a governmental entity that operates a public mass transportation system to petition the district court for a public transportation trespass order against a person who has been convicted of assault or battery against a transit operator; (2) sets forth requirements for the issuance, modification and termination of such an order; and (3) provides that violation of such an order is a misdemeanor.]~~

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 277A of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. In a county whose population is 100,000 or more, a commission shall:

(a) Install and maintain appropriate infrastructure and technology designed to mitigate safety risks to transit operators, including, without limitation, the use of:

(1) Barriers to restrict the unwanted entry of passengers and unauthorized persons and objects into the workstation of a transit operator; and

(2) Panic buttons and other technology designed to mitigate safety risks to transit operators.

(b) Install and maintain appropriate signage informing the public about the criminal penalties for crimes committed against transit operators or the public, including, without limitation, the criminal penalties for:

(1) Assault of a transit operator pursuant to NRS 200.471; and

(2) Battery of a transit operator pursuant to NRS 200.481 . ~~[; and~~

~~(3) Violation of a public transportation trespass order pursuant to section 2 of this act.]~~

2. As used in this section, "transit operator" ~~[has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 200.471.]~~ means a person who holds a commercial driver's license issued pursuant to NRS 483.900 to 483.940, inclusive, and who operates a bus or other vehicle:

(a) As part of a public mass transportation system; and

(b) For which the person is required to hold a commercial driver's license issued pursuant to NRS 483.900 to 483.940, inclusive, to operate the bus or other vehicle.

Sec. 2. ~~[Chapter 200 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:~~

~~1. If a person is convicted of a violation of NRS 200.471 or 200.481 committed upon a transit operator, the governmental entity operating the public mass transportation system for which the transit operator was performing his or her duties may petition the district court in the county in which the violation occurred for the issuance of a public transportation trespass order pursuant to this section.~~

~~2. A petition for the issuance of a public transportation trespass order filed pursuant to this section must include all of the following information:~~

~~(a) Evidence of the conviction of the person against whom the order is sought for a violation of NRS 200.471 or 200.481.~~

~~(b) A detailed statement of facts demonstrating that the order is necessary to protect public safety and transit operations.~~

~~(c) The proposed duration and scope of the order, which must not exceed 18 months.~~

~~3. Within 30 days after a petition for the issuance of a public transportation trespass order is filed pursuant to this section, the court shall hold a hearing to determine whether to issue the order. The person against whom the order is sought is entitled to notice of the hearing and an opportunity to be heard at the hearing.~~

~~4. The court may issue a public transportation trespass order pursuant to this section if the court finds, by a preponderance of the evidence, that:~~

~~(a) The person against whom the order is sought poses a continuing threat to public safety or transit operations; and~~

~~(b) The order is necessary to protect public safety or to prevent future disruptions to transit operations.~~

~~5. A public transportation trespass order issued pursuant to this section may, with respect to the person against whom the order is issued, do any or all of the following:~~

~~(a) Prohibit the person from entering onto the property of the public mass transportation system for a specified period not to exceed 18 months;~~

~~(c) Impose any other appropriate restrictions or prohibitions on the person with respect to entering the property of the public mass transportation system or using the transit services offered by the public mass transportation system.~~

~~6. A public transportation trespass order issued pursuant to this section must be consistent with all other applicable federal, state or local laws that~~

~~protect civil rights and ensure public access to a public mass transportation system.~~

~~7. A person who is subject to a public transportation trespass order issued pursuant to this section and who violates such an order is guilty of a misdemeanor.~~

~~8. A person against whom a public transportation trespass order has been issued pursuant to this section may, at any time after issuance of the order, file a petition with the court that issued the order requesting modification or termination of the order. Within 30 days after a petition for modification or termination of an order is filed pursuant to this section, the court shall hold a hearing to determine whether to modify or terminate the order. The governmental entity that filed the petition for the order is entitled to notice of the hearing and an opportunity to be heard at the hearing. If the court finds, by a preponderance of the evidence, that modification or termination of the order is warranted and would not jeopardize public safety or transit operations, the court may modify or terminate the order.~~

~~9. A governmental entity that operates a public mass transportation system shall:~~

~~(a) Maintain records of any public transportation trespass order issued pursuant to this section; and~~

~~(b) Periodically review those records to ensure proportionality and fairness.~~

~~10. A governmental entity that operates a public mass transportation system which has obtained a public transportation trespass order pursuant to this section may file a petition to terminate or modify the order. Upon the filing of such a petition, the court shall modify or terminate the order as requested in the petition.]~~ (Deleted by amendment.)

Amendment No. 49.

SUMMARY—Revises provisions ~~[governing the temporary conversion of agricultural]~~ relating to water. (BDR 48-391)

AN ACT relating to water; revising the duration of time in which agricultural water rights may be temporarily converted for certain purposes; providing an exception to provisions relating to the forfeiture and abandonment of a water right; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, a person or entity may apply to temporarily convert agricultural water rights for wildlife purposes or to improve the quality or flow of water for a duration not to exceed 3 years and a temporary conversion may be extended in increments not to exceed 3 years in duration each. (NRS 533.0243) ~~[This]~~ Section 1 of this bill instead provides that a temporary conversion of agricultural water rights may not exceed ~~[10]~~ 5 years in duration and may be extended in increments that may not exceed 5 years in duration each. Section 1: (1) authorizes the State Engineer to deny an application to temporarily convert an agricultural water right or limit the duration of a temporary conversion or an extension of a temporary conversion; and (2) prohibits the State Engineer from approving an application for a temporary conversion under certain circumstances. Section 1 further provides that upon the expiration of a temporary conversion, the agricultural water right must revert to the previous beneficial use.

Existing law requires, under certain circumstances, the State Engineer to notify the owner of a water right that the owner has 1 year after the date of the notice to: (1) use the water right beneficially and provide proof of such use to the State Engineer; or (2) apply to the State Engineer for an extension of time to work a forfeiture of the water right. If, after 1 year of the date of the notice, the owner fails to act, the State Engineer is required to declare the right forfeited. Existing law also provides that a right to use underground water may be lost by abandonment under certain circumstances. (NRS 534.090) Section 2 of this bill provides that these provisions relating to forfeiture and abandonment do not apply to water rights which are subject to certain federal or state programs.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 533.0243 is hereby amended to read as follows:

533.0243 1. ~~[The Legislature hereby finds and declares that it is the policy of this State to allow]~~ Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, the State Engineer may authorize the temporary conversion of agricultural water rights for wildlife purposes or to improve the quality , quantity or flow of water ~~[.]~~ in accordance with the provisions of this section.

2. If a person or entity proposes to temporarily convert agricultural water rights ~~[for wildlife purposes or to improve the quality or flow of water,]~~ pursuant to this section, such temporary conversion:

(a) Must not be carried out unless the person or entity first applies for and receives from the State Engineer any necessary permits or approvals required pursuant to:

(1) The provisions of this chapter; and

(2) Any applicable decisions, orders, procedures and regulations of the State Engineer.

(b) ~~[Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, must]~~ Must not exceed ~~[3 10]~~ 5 years in duration ~~[. A temporary conversion of agricultural water rights for wildlife purposes or to improve the quality or flow of water]~~ and may be extended in increments not to exceed ~~[3]~~ 5 years in duration each, provided that the person or entity seeking the extension first applies for and receives from the State Engineer any necessary permits or approvals, as described in paragraph (a).

3. The State Engineer:

(a) May deny an application to temporarily convert an agricultural water right received pursuant to subsection 2 or limit the temporary conversion or extension of the temporary conversion to any duration of less than 5 years if the State Engineer determines that the temporary conversion or duration of the temporary conversion would not meet the purposes set forth in subsection 1 or would not otherwise be in the public interest; and

(b) Shall not approve an application to temporarily convert an agricultural water right if the water right is a groundwater right and the owner has received notice from the State Engineer pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 534.090 indicating 4 or more consecutive years of nonuse.

4. If the State Engineer authorizes the temporary conversion of an agricultural water right pursuant to this section, the temporarily converted water right:

(a) Must not be considered a beneficial use for the purpose of perfecting the water right or proving that beneficial use of the water right has resumed;

(b) Must not be claimed or considered a consumptive use for the purposes of NRS 533.3703;

(c) Remains subject to the provisions of NRS 534.037 and any groundwater management plan or modification thereto; and

(d) Remains subject to any order of the State Engineer requiring that withdrawals be restricted to conform to priority rights.

5. Upon the expiration of the temporary conversion and any extension granted pursuant to subsection 2, an agricultural water right that is temporarily converted must revert to the existing beneficial use of the agricultural water right before the water right was temporarily converted.

Sec. 2. NRS 534.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

534.090 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, failure for 5 successive years after April 15, 1967, on the part of the holder of any right, whether it is an adjudicated right, an unadjudicated right or a right for which a certificate has been issued pursuant to NRS 533.425, and further whether the right is initiated after or before March 25, 1939, to use beneficially all or any part of the underground water for the purpose for which the right is acquired or claimed, works a forfeiture of both undetermined rights and determined rights to the use of that water to the extent of the nonuse.

2. If the records of the State Engineer or any other documents obtained by or provided to the State Engineer indicate 4 or more consecutive years of nonuse of all or any part of a water right which is governed by this chapter:

(a) The State Engineer shall notify the owner of the water right, as determined in the records of the Office of the State Engineer, by registered or certified mail of the nonuse and that the owner has 1 year after the date of the notice of nonuse in which to use the water right beneficially and to provide proof of such use to the State Engineer or apply for relief pursuant to subsection 3 to avoid forfeiting the water right.

(b) If, after 1 year after the date of the notice of nonuse pursuant to paragraph (a), proof of resumption of beneficial use is not filed in the Office of the State Engineer, the State Engineer shall, unless the State Engineer has granted a request to extend the time necessary to work a forfeiture of the water right, send a final notice to the owner of the water right, as determined in the records of the Office of the State Engineer, by registered or certified mail, that the water right is held for forfeiture. If the owner of the water right, within 30 days after the date of such final notice, fails to file the required proof of resumption of beneficial use or an application for an extension of time to prevent forfeiture, the State Engineer shall declare the right, or the portion of the right not returned to beneficial use, forfeited. The State Engineer shall send notice of the declaration of forfeiture, by registered or certified mail, to the owner of record, as determined in the records of the Office of the State Engineer, of the water right that has been declared forfeited.

(c) If, after receipt of a notice of the declaration of forfeiture pursuant to paragraph (b), the owner of record of the water right fails to appeal the ruling in the manner provided for in NRS 533.450, and within the time provided for therein, the forfeiture becomes final. Upon the forfeiture of the water right, the water reverts to the public and is available for further appropriation, subject to existing rights.

3. The State Engineer may, upon the request of the holder of any right described in subsection 1, extend the time necessary to work a forfeiture under subsection 2 if the request is made before the expiration of the time necessary to work a forfeiture. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, the State Engineer may grant, upon request and for good cause shown, any number of extensions, but a single extension must not exceed 1 year. In determining whether to grant or deny a request, the State Engineer shall, among other reasons, consider:

(a) Whether the holder has submitted proof and evidence that the holder is proceeding in good faith and with reasonable diligence to resume use of the water beneficially for the purpose for which the holder's right is acquired or claimed;

(b) The number of years during which the water has not been put to the beneficial use for which the right is acquired or claimed;

(c) Any economic conditions or natural disasters which made the holder unable to put the water to that use;

(d) Whether the water right is located in a basin within a county under a declaration of drought by the Governor, United States Secretary of Agriculture or the President of the United States;

(e) Whether the holder has demonstrated efforts to conserve water which have resulted in a reduction in water consumption;

(f) Whether the water right is located in a basin that has been designated as a critical management area by the State Engineer pursuant to subsection 7 of NRS 534.110;

(g) The date of priority of the water right as it relates to the potential curtailment of water use in the basin;

(h) The availability of water in the basin, including, without limitation, whether withdrawals of water consistently exceed the perennial yield of the basin; and

(i) Any orders restricting use or appropriation of water in the basin.

➥ The State Engineer shall notify, by registered or certified mail, the owner of the water right, as determined in the records of the Office of the State Engineer, of whether the State Engineer has granted or denied the holder's request for an extension pursuant to this subsection. If the State Engineer grants an extension pursuant to this subsection and, before the expiration of that extension, proof of resumption of beneficial use or another request for an extension is not filed in the Office of the State Engineer, the State Engineer shall send a final notice to the owner of the water right, by registered or certified mail, that the water right will be declared forfeited if the owner of the water right fails to file the required proof of resumption of beneficial use or an application for an extension of time to prevent forfeiture within 30 days after the date of the final notice. If the owner of the water right fails to file the required proof of resumption of beneficial use or an application for an extension of time to prevent forfeiture within 30 days after the date of such final notice, the State Engineer shall declare the water right, or the portion of the right not returned to beneficial use, forfeited.

4. If the State Engineer grants an extension pursuant to subsection 1 in a basin:

(a) Where withdrawals of groundwater consistently exceed the perennial yield of the basin; or

(b) That has been designated as a critical management area by the State Engineer pursuant to subsection 7 of NRS 534.110,

➥ a single extension must not exceed 3 years, but any number of extensions may be granted to the holder of such a right.

5. The failure to receive a notice pursuant to subsection 2 or 3 does not nullify the forfeiture or extend the time necessary to work the forfeiture of a water right.

6. A right to use underground water whether it is vested or otherwise may be lost by abandonment. If the State Engineer, in investigating a groundwater source, upon which there has been a prior right, for the purpose of acting upon an application to appropriate water from the same source, is of the belief from his or her examination that an abandonment has taken place, the State Engineer shall so state in the ruling approving the application. If, upon notice by registered or certified mail to the owner of record who had the prior right, the owner of record of the prior right fails to appeal the ruling in the manner provided for in NRS 533.450, and within the time provided for therein, the alleged abandonment declaration as set forth by the State Engineer becomes final.

7. The provisions of this section do not apply to a water right which is subject to:

(a) A contract or agreement entered into in accordance with an official federal program for the conservation of land or water; or

(b) An official program for the conservation of water that is administered by an agency of this State.

Existing law requires the Department of Corrections to provide a woman who is incarcerated access to certain necessary medical and behavioral health care services ~~[.~~ ~~(NRS 209.3817) Section 1 of this bill requires that any such access be provided in accordance with community standards of care and national guidelines for the provision of such services. Section 1 also removes specific language requiring this access to include~~] , including an annual pelvic examination and mammography ~~[, thereby requiring]~~ . (NRS 209.3817) Section 1 of this bill narrows the applicability of this requirement by requiring the Department to provide a woman who is incarcerated access to ~~[a]~~ an annual pelvic examination and mammography ~~[in accordance with community standards of care and national guidelines for the provision of pelvic examinations and mammography, rather than on an annual basis.]~~ only if: (1) the woman is over a certain age; or (2) a provider of health care recommends that the woman receive such services based solely on the personal or family medical history of the woman or certain other risk factors.

Existing law contains the Uniform Law on Notarial Acts, which provides the manner in which notarial acts must be performed, including that a notarial officer determine, from personal knowledge or satisfactory evidence, that a person is the person whose signature is on a document. (NRS 240.161-240.169, 240.1655) Section 5 of this bill provides that a notarial officer has satisfactory evidence that a person who is incarcerated in the state prison is the person whose signature is on a document if the person is identified upon the basis of: (1) an inmate identification card that is issued by the Department in accordance with regulations adopted by the Department and includes the name and a picture of the person; or (2) a declaration signed by the person under penalty of perjury attesting to his or her identity.

Existing law: (1) requires the Director of the Department to establish and administer a program of regimental discipline to be used as an alternative to incarceration; and (2) authorizes a court to order certain defendants to undergo the program as an alternative to incarceration. (NRS 176A.630, 176A.770, 176A.780, 209.356) Sections 4 and 6 of this bill repeal this requirement and authorization. Sections 2 and 3 of this bill make conforming changes by removing references to a provision repealed by section 6.

1. If a defendant:

(a) Is male;

(c) Is at least 18 years of age;

(d) Has not been incarcerated in jail during his lifetime for a cumulative total of more than 365 days;

(e) Has never been incarcerated in prison; and

(f) Is otherwise eligible for probation,

➥ the court may order the defendant satisfactorily to complete a program of regimental discipline for 150 days before sentencing the defendant or in lieu of causing the sentence imposed to be executed upon violation of a condition of probation or suspension of sentence.

2. If the court orders the defendant to undergo a program of regimental discipline, it:

(a) Shall place the defendant under the supervision of the Director of the Department of Corrections for not more than 190 days, not more than the first 30 days of which must be used to determine the defendant's eligibility to participate in the program. In determining the defendant's eligibility to participate in the program, the Director shall:

The Director shall certify either that the defendant satisfactorily completed the program or that the defendant did not, and shall report the results of the Director's evaluation, including any recommendations which will be helpful in determining the proper sentence. Upon receiving the report, the court shall sentence the defendant.

4. If the defendant is ordered to complete the program in lieu of causing the sentence imposed to be executed upon the violation of a condition of probation and the defendant satisfactorily completes the program, the Director of the Department of Corrections shall, not later than 150 days after the defendant began the program, return the defendant to the court with certification that the defendant satisfactorily completed the program. The court shall direct that:

(a) The defendant be placed under the supervision of the Chief Parole and Probation Officer; and

(b) The Director of the Department of Corrections cause a copy of the records concerning the defendant's participation in the program to be provided to the Chief Parole and Probation Officer.

If a defendant is ordered to complete the program of regimental discipline in lieu of causing the sentence imposed to be executed upon the violation of a condition of probation, a failure by the defendant satisfactorily to complete the program constitutes a violation of that condition of probation and the Director of the Department of Corrections shall return the defendant to the court.

6. Time spent in the program must be deducted from any sentence which may thereafter be imposed.

209.356 Director to establish program of regimental discipline. The Director, with the approval of the Board, shall establish and administer a program of regimental discipline for persons who are ordered to undergo such a program pursuant to NRS 176A.780. The program must include:

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 62.

AN ACT relating to offenders; revising the definition of the term "violent or sexual offense" for the purpose of certain provisions of existing law; requiring certain defendants to be certified as not representing a high risk to reoffend before the court may grant probation to or suspend the sentence of the defendant; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law prohibits a court from deferring judgment on a case if the defendant has been convicted of a violent or sexual offense. (NRS 176.211) Existing law also: (1) sets the maximum period of probation or suspension of sentence for a violent or sexual offense at 60 months; and (2) requires the Division of Parole and Probation of the Department of Public Safety to petition the court to recommend the early discharge of a person from probation if the person has not been convicted of a violent or sexual offense and satisfies certain other requirements. (NRS 176A.500, 176A.840) Finally, existing law requires a person to report certain violent or sexual offenses against a child to a law enforcement agency under certain circumstances. (NRS 202.882) Section 1 of this bill expands the list of offenses which are deemed to be violent or sexual offenses for the purposes of these provisions.

Existing law prohibits a court from granting probation to or suspending the sentence of a person convicted of certain offenses unless the person is certified as not representing a high risk to reoffend. (NRS 176A.110) Section 2 of this bill adds attempted lewdness with a child to the list of offenses which require a certification that the person convicted does not represent a high risk to reoffend.

AN ACT relating to crimes; ~~[prohibiting a person from receiving, distributing, producing, possessing or accessing any obscene item or material which contains a depiction of a purported child engaging in sexual conduct; providing that a violation of this prohibition constitutes a sexual offense or a violent or sexual offense for the purposes of various statutes;]~~ establishing the preferred manner of referring to items or materials that depict or describe a minor engaging in certain sexual conduct; ~~[providing a penalty;]~~ and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

~~[In general, existing law prohibits a person from committing certain acts regarding pornography involving minors. (NRS 200.700-200.760) Section 1 of this bill: (1) prohibits a person from receiving, distributing, producing, possessing or accessing any obscene item or material which the person knows or reasonably should know contains a depiction of a purported child engaging in sexual conduct; and (2) provides that a person who violates this prohibition is guilty of a category B felony. Section 1 also defines: (1) the term "depiction of a purported child" for purposes of this prohibition to mean a visual representation that appears to depict an actual child but may or may not depict an actual child; and (2) certain other terms relating to the prohibition. Sections 2-5 of this bill make certain definitions, exemptions and authorizations, which, under existing law, are generally applicable to provisions concerning pornography involving minors, applicable to section 1.~~

~~— Existing law: (1) prohibits a court from deferring judgment on a case if the defendant has been convicted of a violent or sexual offense; (2) sets the maximum period of probation or suspension of sentence for a violent or sexual offense at 60 months; and (3) prohibits the early discharge from probation of a person convicted of a violent or sexual offense. (NRS 176.211, 176A.500, 176A.840, 202.876) Existing law also requires a person to report certain violent or sexual offenses against a child to a law enforcement agency under certain circumstances. (NRS 202.882) Section 6 of this bill makes a violation of section 1 a violent or sexual offense for purposes of these provisions.~~

~~— Existing law prohibits a court from ordering a victim of or a witness to certain sexual offenses to take or submit to a psychological or psychiatric examination. (NRS 50.700) Section 7 of this bill applies this prohibition to a victim of or a witness to a violation of section 1.~~

~~— Existing law defines the term "sexual offense" for the purposes of certain provisions which prohibit a person convicted of a sexual offense from obtaining certain licenses or employment or receiving certain services to include an offense involving pornography and a minor. (NRS 62B.270, 62G.223, 424.031, 424.145, 432A.170, 432A.1755, 432B.198, 432B.199, 433B.183) Sections 8, 12, 13 and 32-37 of this bill revise the list of sexual offenses to which these statutory provisions apply to include a violation of section 1.~~

~~— Section 9 of this bill requires a district attorney to provide certain documentation to a victim of a violation of section 1 and, if the victim is less than 18 years of age, to his or her parent or guardian. (NRS 62C.120)~~

~~— Section 10 of this bill makes certain restrictions concerning attendance in school which are applicable to juveniles who are adjudicated delinquent for committing sexual offenses applicable to a juvenile who is adjudicated delinquent for committing a violation of section 1. (NRS 62F.100-62F.150) Section 11 of this bill makes certain registration and community notification requirements which are applicable to juveniles who are adjudicated delinquent for committing sexual offenses applicable to a juvenile who is adjudicated delinquent for committing a violation of section 1. (NRS 62F.205-62F.360)~~

~~— Under existing law, the fingerprints of a child who is taken into custody for an unlawful act that, if committed by an adult, would have been a sexual offense, must be taken, retained locally and submitted to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History under certain circumstances. (NRS 62H.010) Section 14 of this bill makes these requirements applicable to a child who is taken into custody for a violation of section 1.~~

~~— Existing law requires the Director of the Department of Health and Human Services to establish a program to compile and analyze data concerning juvenile sex offenders. (NRS 62H.320) Existing law also requires the Division of Child and Family Services of the Department to: (1) collect certain information concerning each child adjudicated delinquent for committing a sexual offense; and (2) provide the information collected by the Division to~~

~~the Director for use in the program. (NRS 62H.210, 62H.220, 62H.320) Sections 15 and 16 of this bill add a violation of section 1 to the list of sexual offenses to which these requirements apply. Sections 15 and 16 thereby require the Division to collect and provide to the Department certain information concerning a child who is adjudicated delinquent for a violation of section 1.~~

~~Existing law: (1) requires that a person convicted of certain sexual offenses undergo a psychosexual evaluation as part of the presentence investigation report prepared by the Division of Parole and Probation of the Department of Public Safety; and (2) prohibits a court from granting probation to or suspending the sentence of a person convicted of certain sexual offenses, unless the person who conducts the psychosexual evaluation certifies that the person convicted of the sexual offense does not represent a high risk to reoffend. (NRS 176.135, 176A.110) Sections 18 and 19 of this bill add a violation of section 1 to the list of sexual offenses that require a psychosexual evaluation to be conducted and for which a court is prohibited from granting probation to or suspending the sentence of a person, unless the person who conducts the psychosexual evaluation certifies that the person does not represent a high risk to reoffend.~~

~~Existing law requires a court that grants probation to or suspends the sentence of certain persons convicted of an offense that involved pornography and a minor to order, as a condition of probation or suspension, that the person not own or use a computer. (NRS 176A.413) Section 20 of this bill adds a violation of section 1 to the list of offenses for which a court is required to issue such an order. Existing law similarly requires the State Board of Parole Commissioners to require that certain persons convicted of an offense that involved pornography and a minor not own or use a computer. (NRS 213.1258) Section 26 of this bill adds a violation of section 1 to the list of offenses for which the Board is required to impose this condition of parole.~~

~~Existing law requires a court to provide certain documentation to certain persons if an offender is convicted of certain sexual offenses. (NRS 178.5698) Section 21 of this bill requires that such documentation be provided to such persons if an offender is convicted of a violation of section 1. Section 22 of this bill makes the provisions of law which prohibit a person convicted of a sexual offense from petitioning a court to seal the records relating to such a conviction applicable to a person convicted of a violation of section 1. (NRS 179.245)~~

~~Existing law authorizes the Central Repository and its employees to inquire into and inspect certain sealed records that constitute information relating to sexual offenses and to notify employers of the information in accordance with federal laws and regulations. (NRS 179.301) Section 23 of this bill revises the list of sexual offenses to which this provision applies to include a violation of section 1.~~

~~Existing law defines the term "sexual offense" for the purpose of requiring persons convicted of certain sexual offenses to be prohibited from certain employment, to register as a sex offender, to comply with certain mandatory~~

~~conditions of probation or parole and to fulfill certain other requirements. (NRS 118A.335, 176.0913, 176A.410, 179D.095, 179D.097, 179D.441, 213.1099, 213.1245) Section 24 of this bill revises the list of sexual offenses to which these statutory provisions apply to include a violation of section 1. Section 25 of this bill designates an offender convicted of a violation of section 1 a Tier II offender for the purpose of certain requirements relating to registration as a sex offender.~~

~~Sections 27-29 of this bill make a minor who was the victim of a violation of section 1 or a parent or guardian of any such minor eligible to apply for compensation from the Fund for the Compensation of Victims of Crime for certain expenses and losses. (NRS 217.010-217.270)~~]

Sections 30 and 31 of this bill establish the preferred manner of referring to items or materials that depict or describe a minor as the subject of a sexual portrayal or engaging in or simulating, or assisting others to engage in or simulate, sexual conduct in the Nevada Revised Statutes and the Nevada Administrative Code. Sections 6-29 and 32-37 of this bill make conforming changes to replace words and terms that are not preferred for use in the Nevada Revised Statutes, including the term "child pornography" and various related terms, with the term "child sexual abuse material" in accordance with section 30.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 64.

AN ACT relating to public bodies; revising provisions relating to the Victim Information Notification Everyday System in the Office of the Attorney General; renaming the Account for Programs Related to Domestic Violence; revising provisions governing the expenditures authorized from the Account; renaming the Committee on Domestic Violence; revising the membership and duties of the Committee; transferring certain duties from the Sexual Assault Kit Working Group to the Committee; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law creates in the Office of the Attorney General the Victim Information Notification Everyday System, which consists of a toll-free telephone number and an Internet website through which victims of crime and members of the public may register to receive automated information and notification concerning changes in the custody status of an offender. (NRS 228.205) Section 1 of this bill instead creates a victim notification system in the Office of the Attorney General and replaces references to the Victim Information Notification Everyday System with references to the newly created victim notification system.

Existing law creates the Committee on Domestic Violence and requires the Committee to carry out certain duties relating to domestic violence, including increasing awareness, reviewing certain programs provided to peace officers for training related to domestic violence and making recommendations regarding such training, providing financial support to certain programs for the prevention of domestic violence under certain circumstances and studying certain issues relating to domestic violence. (NRS 228.470) Section 4 of this bill requires the Committee to also perform such duties as they relate to sexual assault.

Section 4 also requires the Committee to: (1) make recommendations relating to the need for additional sexual assault victims' advocates; (2) make recommendations relating to the need for ongoing evaluation of the rights of survivors; and (3) review the effectiveness of the statewide program to track sexual assault forensic evidence kits.

Section 4 further renames the Committee on Domestic Violence to the Committee on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault to reflect the expansion of the duties of the Committee. Sections 1, 2, 7, 8 and 10-16 of this bill make conforming changes to reflect the renaming of the Committee.

Existing law sets forth the membership of the Committee, which consists of: (1) certain persons appointed by the Attorney General, including two survivors of domestic violence; and (2) one member who is a representative of the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services who has certain experience and is appointed by the Administrator of the Division. (NRS 228.470) Section 4 revises the membership of the Committee by reducing the number of survivors of domestic violence who are members of the Committee from two to one and requiring the Attorney General to additionally appoint to the Committee: (1) one staff member of a program for victims of sexual assault; (2) one survivor of sexual assault; and (3) one medical professional with experience in working with sexual assault forensic evidence kits.

Existing law requires the Attorney General to designate a department or division of the Executive Department of State Government to establish a statewide program to track sexual assault forensic evidence kits. Existing law further requires such a designation to be made pursuant to the recommendation of the Sexual Assault Kit Working Group, which is the statewide working group led by the Office of the Attorney General to create policies and procedures to address the backlog of sexual assault forensic evidence kits that have not been tested. (NRS 200.3788) Section 9 of this bill requires such a designation to instead be made pursuant to the recommendation of the Committee.

Existing law creates the Account for Programs Related to Domestic Violence and authorizes the Ombudsman for Victims of Domestic Violence, Sexual Assault and Human Trafficking to expend money in the Account for certain purposes relating to domestic violence, including training certain persons about domestic violence, assisting victims of domestic violence and educating the public on domestic violence. (NRS 228.460) Section 3 of this bill authorizes the Ombudsman to expend money in the Account for such purposes as they relate to sexual assault. Section 3 additionally renames the Account for Programs Related to Domestic Violence as the Account for Programs Related to Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault to reflect the changes made by section 3 to the scope of authorized expenditures from the Account. Sections 5 and 6 of this bill make conforming changes to reflect the renaming of the Account.

Amendment No. 87.

AN ACT relating to governmental administration; revising provisions relating to the authority of game wardens to enforce laws; revising provisions governing the prohibition against intentionally feeding certain animals; prohibiting, with certain exceptions, a person or any agent or employee of a person from knowingly bringing into or possessing in this State the excrement or bodily fluid of certain animals; revising provisions governing certain civil penalties for unlawfully killing or possessing certain big game mammals; revising provisions relating to the importation, possession and propagation of certain fallow deer or reindeer; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law creates the Department of Wildlife and requires the Department to administer the laws governing wildlife and the Nevada Boat Act under the guidance of and regulations adopted by the Board of Wildlife Commissioners. (NRS 488.015, 501.181, 501.331) Existing law requires the Director of the Department of Wildlife to designate a number of employees and, if the need exists, other persons outside of the Department as game wardens. (NRS 501.337, 501.339) Existing law provides such game wardens with the powers of a peace officer for the purposes of: (1) the service of such legal process as may be required in the enforcement of the laws governing wildlife and the Nevada Boat Act; and (2) the enforcement of all laws of the State of Nevada while they are performing their duties relating to the enforcement of laws governing wildlife and the Nevada Boat Act. (NRS 289.280) Under existing law, such game wardens have a duty to enforce laws governing wildlife and the Nevada Boat Act. (NRS 501.349) Section 4 of this bill makes enforcement of such laws a power instead of a duty. Sections 4 and 16 of this bill expand the scope of this enforcement authority and the peace officer powers of a game warden to include the enforcement of all laws of the State of Nevada regardless of whether the game wardens are enforcing the laws governing wildlife or the Nevada Boat Act. Section 16 also expands the peace officer powers of a game warden to apply to the service of any legal process. Sections 2 and 16 of this bill make conforming changes relating to the authority for designating game wardens.

Under existing law, the Board of Wildlife Commissioners is required to classify all wildlife by regulation. (NRS 501.110) Existing law also, with certain exceptions, prohibits a person from intentionally feeding a big game mammal without written authorization from the Department. For the purpose of this prohibition, "big game mammal" is defined to include a pronghorn antelope, black bear, mule deer, mountain goat, mountain lion, Rocky Mountain elk and certain subspecies of bighorn sheep. The penalties for violating this prohibition are: (1) a written warning for a first offense; (2) a fine of not more than $250 for a second offense; and (3) a fine of not more than $500 for a third or subsequent offense. (NRS 501.382) Section 7 of this bill : (1) expands this prohibition to apply to the intentional feeding of any wildlife that is classified as a wild mammal or game bird by regulations adopted by the Board of Wildlife Commissioners ~~.~~ ; and (2) provides that this prohibition does not apply to the incidental or unintentional feeding of such game birds associated with the use of a bird feeder located not more than 100 feet from a private residence. Section 1 of this bill makes a conforming change as a result of the expansion of the prohibition to additional animals.

With certain exceptions, existing law prohibits a person or the person's agent or employee from knowingly bringing into or possessing in this State the carcass or part of the carcass of certain animals. (NRS 501.3845) A person who violates this prohibition is: (1) guilty of a misdemeanor, which is punished by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 6 months, or by both fine or imprisonment; and (2) liable for certain civil penalties. (NRS 501.385, 501.3855) Section 8 of this bill also prohibits knowingly bringing into or possessing in this State the excrement or bodily fluid of such animals. Section 8 authorizes the seizure, destruction or removal from this State of such excrement or bodily fluid in the same manner as a carcass or part of a carcass.

With certain exceptions and in addition to certain authorized penalties, existing law establishes a civil penalty of not less than $5,000 nor more than $30,000 for unlawfully killing or possessing a trophy big game mammal. For the purpose of this civil penalty, a trophy big game mammal is defined as a mule deer with an outside antler measurement of at least 24 inches, a bighorn sheep of any species with at least one horn exceeding a half curl, a Rocky Mountain elk with at least six antler points on one antler, a pronghorn antelope with at least one horn which is more than 14 inches in length, a mountain goat or a black bear. Also, with certain exceptions and in addition to certain authorized penalties, existing law establishes a civil penalty of not less than $250 and not more than $5,000 for unlawfully killing or possessing certain other animals, including a moose. (NRS 501.3855) Section 9 of this bill makes unlawfully killing or possessing a moose subject to the higher civil penalty for trophy big game mammals of not less than $5,000 nor more than $30,000. For the purposes of identifying a trophy big game mammal for imposition of the higher civil penalty, existing law defines the term "antler point" to exclude the first point on the main beam, commonly known as the eye guard, on mule deer. (NRS 501.3855) Existing regulations interpret the exclusion to apply only to mule deer. (NAC 502.1175) Section 9 codifies this interpretation in the Nevada Revised Statutes.

Existing law: (1) prohibits any person without a permit from importing, possessing or propagating alternative livestock, which is defined as any species or subspecies of fallow deer or reindeer, if such animals are born and reared in captivity and raised on private property to produce meat or other by-products or for breeding stock; and (2) requires the State Board of Agriculture to adopt regulations governing the permit program for alternative livestock. In adopting such regulations, existing law requires the State Board of Agriculture to consult with the Department of Wildlife and the Board of Wildlife Commissioners concerning the provisions that are necessary to protect wildlife in this State and in certain areas of special concern. (NRS 501.003, 576.129; NAC 576.100-576.260) A person who violates this prohibition: (1) is guilty of a misdemeanor, which is punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than 6 months, or by both a fine and imprisonment; and (2) may be liable for a civil penalty of not more than $5,000 for each violation. (NRS 193.150, 576.150) Existing law, with certain exceptions, authorizes a person to bring an animal that is not under special quarantine into this State in compliance with regulations adopted by the State Quarantine Officer. (NRS 571.210) Section 25 of this bill eliminates the permit program for alternative livestock, thereby making it a misdemeanor to import, possess or propagate such fallow deer or reindeer in this State, unless pursuant to the regulations adopted by the State Quarantine Officer that authorize certain restricted entry of animals from outside this State. Sections 3, 6, 11-15, 17, 18, 20, 22-24 and 27 of this bill make conforming changes as a result of the elimination of the permit program for alternative livestock by section 25. Section 26 of this bill declares void the regulations adopted by the State Board of Agriculture governing the permit program for alternative livestock. Sections 5 and 10 of this bill make conforming changes to refer to provisions that have been renumbered in section 3. Sections 19 and 21 of this bill make conforming changes by removing references to sections defining "alternative livestock" that are repealed in section 27.

services within the district ~~[.]~~ with certain exceptions; providing that certain persons are eligible for licensure as an attendant of an ambulance or air ambulance or certification as an emergency medical technician; revising provisions governing persons who are authorized to occupy an ambulance; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Existing law sets forth the requirements to obtain a license as an attendant of an ambulance or air ambulance or certification as an emergency medical technician. (NRS 450B.160, 450B.180, 450B.1905) Sections 7 and 8 of this bill provide that a person who is at least 16 years of age is eligible for such a license or certificate if he or she meets the qualifications prescribed by law.

Existing law: (1) prohibits the owner of an ambulance from allowing a person to operate or use the ambulance if the person is not licensed as an attendant; and (2) requires an ambulance carrying a sick or injured patient to be occupied by a driver and attendant, both of whom must be licensed as attendants. (NRS 450B.260) Section 11 of this bill prohibits the State Board of Health or a district board of health from requiring that a person who is participating in a program of training for certification as an emergency medical technician, advanced emergency medical technician or paramedic be licensed as an attendant in order to occupy an ambulance that is providing care or transporting a sick or injured person so long as: (1) the ambulance is otherwise properly staffed; and (2) the person is not providing care to a sick or injured person or driving the ambulance.

Bill read second time.
The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:
Amendment No. 22.

~~[ASSEMBLYMEMBER]~~ ASSEMBLYMEMBERS BROWN-MAY; GONZÁLEZ AND GRAY.

AN ACT relating to foster care; removing the requirement that a background investigation of certain persons affiliated with a foster home include certain violations relating to controlled substances; authorizing a person who has been convicted of such a violation to operate, be employed by, reside in or be present in a foster home; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

In order to conduct a foster home, existing law requires a person to obtain a license from: (1) in a county whose population is 100,000 or more (currently Clark and Washoe Counties), the agency which provides child welfare services; or (2) in a county whose population is less than 100,000 (currently all counties other than Clark and Washoe Counties), the Division of Child and Family Services of the Department of Health and Human Services. (NRS 424.016, 424.030) Existing law requires the licensing authority or its designee, at certain times, to conduct a background investigation of each applicant for a license to conduct a foster home, person who is licensed to conduct a foster home, employee of such an applicant or licensee and certain adult residents of a foster home to determine whether the applicant, licensee, employee or resident has been arrested for, has charges pending for or has been convicted of certain crimes. Such crimes include violations of any federal or state law regulating the possession, distribution or use of any controlled substance or dangerous drug. (NRS 424.031) Existing law requires an applicant for a license to conduct a foster home or the holder of such a license to terminate the employment, residence or presence in the foster home of a person who has been convicted of such a crime. (NRS 424.0335) Existing law also authorizes a licensing authority to deny an application for a license to operate a foster home or to suspend or revoke such a license if the licensing authority determines that the applicant or licensee has: (1) been convicted of such a crime; or (2) failed to terminate the employment, residence or presence in the foster home of a person who has been convicted of such a crime. (NRS 424.033) This bill exempts from those provisions certain violations relating to the possession of controlled substances that ~~[~~: ~~(1) have been decriminalized under laws of this State; or (2)]~~ involve the unlawful possession of marijuana for a purpose other than sale if the violation did not occur within the immediately preceding ~~[7]~~ 5 years. This bill thereby authorizes a person who has been convicted of any such violation to operate, be employed by, reside in or be present in a foster home.

~~[ASSEMBLYMEMBER]~~ASSEMBLYMEMBERS TORRES-FOSSETT;AND HANSEN.

AN ACT relating to liens; revising certain requirements for the advertising of a sale of personal property to satisfy the lien of an owner of a facility for storage; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides, in general, that if the occupant of a storage space at a facility for storage defaults on the payment of rent or other charges that are due to the owner of the facility pursuant to a rental agreement, the owner has a lien on the personal property of the occupant contained in the storage space. (NRS 108.4753) Existing law authorizes an owner to sell certain personal property of the occupant to satisfy the lien after the owner has provided certain notices to the occupant. (NRS 108.476, 108.4763, 108.477) Existing law: (1) requires the owner to advertise a sale to satisfy a lien once a week for 2 consecutive weeks immediately preceding the date of the sale in a newspaper of general circulation in the judicial district where the sale is to be held; and (2) sets forth the requirements for the contents of such an advertisement. (NRS 108.477) This bill instead requires that the advertisement appear in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, rather than the judicial district, where the sale is to be held. This bill also authorizes an owner, in lieu of advertising in a newspaper of general circulation, to advertise the sale for a period of 10 consecutive days immediately preceding the date of the sale on an Internet website which is publicly accessible and which customarily advertises or conducts sales of property. This bill also revises the required contents of an advertisement for such a sale to eliminate the requirement that the advertisement contain a general description of the personal property to be sold.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 108.477 is hereby amended to read as follows:

108.477 1. If the declaration in opposition to the lien sale executed by the occupant is not received by the date of the sale specified in the notice mailed to the occupant, the owner may sell the property.

AN ACT relating to veterans; prohibiting , with certain exceptions, a person from providing certain services related to veterans' benefits under certain circumstances; ~~[~~prohibiting the Director of the Department of Veterans Services from charging a fee for the interment of the spouse of a veteran;~~]~~ requiring the Division of Human Resource Management of the Department of Administration to develop certain programs for the hiring and mentoring of veterans; requiring the Administrator of the Division to employ a Veterans Coordinator; revising the persons who are eligible to receive, free of charge, an annual permit for entering all state parks and recreational areas to include the family members of certain veterans; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing federal law prohibits a person from acting as an agent or attorney in the preparation, presentation or prosecution of certain claims relating to benefits provided to veterans and certain family members of veterans, unless the person has been recognized or accredited by the United States Department of Veterans Affairs. (38 U.S.C. § 5901; 38 C.F.R. § 14.629(b)) Section 1 of this bill prohibits a person from preparing, presenting, prosecuting, advising, consulting or assisting any other person with a claim before the United States Department of Veterans Affairs, the United States Department of Defense or the Nevada Department of Veterans Services in violation of federal law, unless the person has received such recognition or accreditation. Additionally, section 1 provides that this prohibition does not: (1) prohibit a person from performing such actions, provided that the person does not request or accept any payment or donation; and (2) apply to the extent preempted by federal law. Section 2 of this bill makes the civil penalty for a violation of existing law governing services for veterans' benefits apply to a person who violates section 1. Sections 2 and 10 of this bill authorize a person who is aggrieved by a violation of section 1 to bring an action for consumer fraud.

~~[Existing law requires the Director of the Department of Veterans Services to establish, operate and maintain veterans' cemeteries in this State. (NRS 417.210) Section 3 of this bill prohibits the Director from charging a fee for the interment of the spouse of a veteran.]~~

Section 11 of this bill requires the Administrator of the Division of Human Resource Management of the Department of Administration to employ a Veterans Coordinator and requires the Veterans Coordinator to supervise the veteran hiring program and the peer mentor program established in sections 8 and 9 of this bill, respectively. Section 7 of this bill defines the term Veterans Coordinator for the purposes of sections 5-9 of this bill.

Section 8 requires the Division of Human Resource Management, under the supervision of the Veterans Coordinator, to establish a veteran hiring program to support the recruitment and retention of employees who are veterans or the spouses of veterans or servicemembers. Section 8 further establishes certain requirements for the program and requires the Veterans Coordinator to provide to the Interagency Council on Veterans Affairs an annual report regarding the progress of the veteran hiring program.

In 2019, the Governor established by executive order a peer mentor program for veterans. The executive order required the Division of Human Resource Management, under the supervision of the Veterans Coordinator, to develop a peer mentor program for certain veterans. The executive order further required each state agency that employs a veteran to identify one employee to serve as a peer mentor. Additionally, the Veterans Coordinator is required to provide an annual report regarding the progress of the peer mentor program to the Interagency Council on Veterans Affairs. (Executive Order 2019-05 (3-20-2019)) Section 9 codifies the requirements for the peer mentor program in statute.

Existing law requires the Administrator of the Division of State Parks of the State Department of Conservation and Natural Resources to establish a program to issue, free of charge, an annual permit to enter all state parks and recreational areas in this State to any bona fide resident of this State who has been discharged, except a person who has been dishonorably discharged, from the Armed Forces of the United States. (NRS 407.0655) Section 12 of this bill requires the program to include the issuance of such annual permits to the widow, widower, parent or adult child of a person killed in the line of duty while serving on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States.

Sec. 25. 1. Each state professional employer which has recognized one or more professional organizations shall determine, in consultation with the recognized organization or organizations, which group or groups of its professional employees constitute an appropriate bargaining unit or bargaining units. The primary criterion for that determination must be the community of interest among the employees concerned. Without restricting the rights of the parties to make their determination pursuant to this subsection, for the Nevada System of Higher Education, there is a presumption that the contact, interests and working conditions of:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b), professional employees within an occupational group create a sufficient community of interest for all employees in that occupational group.

5. A professional organization which is negotiating on behalf of two or more bargaining units of the same state professional employer may, by mutual consent, select members of each unit to negotiate jointly on part or all subjects of bargaining set forth in section 32 of this act on behalf of each other, even if one of the units consists of supervisory employees and the other unit does not. Any provision of a collective bargaining agreement which is negotiated jointly pursuant to this subsection must be included in the draft or modification of a collective bargaining agreement which is submitted for a vote for ratification in accordance with section 39 of this act but is not part of the agreement unless the members of the professional organization within the relevant bargaining unit ratify the provision in accordance with the provisions of section 39 of this act.

6. If any professional organization is aggrieved by the determination of a bargaining unit, it may appeal to the Board. Subject to judicial review, the decision of the Board is binding upon the state professional employer and any professional organization involved. The Board shall apply the same criterion as specified in subsection 1.

Sec. 26. If no professional organization is designated as the exclusive representative of a bargaining unit and a recognized professional organization files with the Board a showing of interest for the professional organization by more than 50 percent of the professional employees in a bargaining unit which is verified by the Board pursuant to section 28 of this act, the Board shall designate the professional organization as the exclusive representative of the bargaining unit without ordering an election.

Sec. 27. 1. If no professional organization is designated as the exclusive representative of a bargaining unit, the Board shall order an election to be conducted within the bargaining unit if:

(a) A recognized professional organization files with the Board a written request for an election which includes a showing of interest for the professional organization by at least 30 percent but not more than 50 percent of the professional employees within the bargaining unit which is verified by the Board pursuant to section 28 of this act; and

(b) If applicable, the written request filed pursuant to paragraph (a) is filed at least 225 calendar days but not more than 270 calendar days before the date on which the current collective bargaining agreement in effect for the bargaining unit expires; and

(c) If no other election to choose, change or discontinue exclusive representation has been conducted within the bargaining unit during the immediately preceding 12 months.

Sec. 28. 1. The Board shall verify each showing of interest filed by a professional organization pursuant to section 26 or 27 of this act and the identity of each professional employee identified in a written request filed by a group of professional employees pursuant to subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of subsection 2 of section 27 of this act by comparing the name of a professional employee included in the showing of interest or written request, as applicable, with the employment records of the state professional employer.

2. A showing of interest filed by a professional organization pursuant to section 26 or 27 of this act or a written request filed by a group of professional employees pursuant to subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of subsection 2 of section 27 of this act is confidential and is not a public record.

3. The Board shall not disclose to any person the identity of any professional employee who has participated in a showing of interest filed by a professional organization pursuant to section 26 or 27 of this act or a written request filed by a group of professional employees pursuant to subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of subsection 2 of section 27 of this act.

(d) A choice for "no exclusive representation."

2. If a ballot for an election contains more than two choices and none of the choices on the ballot receives a majority of the votes cast at the initial election, the Board shall order a runoff election between the two choices on the ballot that received the highest number of votes at the initial election.

3. If the choice for "no exclusive representation" receives a majority of the votes cast at the initial election or at any runoff election, the Board shall designate the bargaining unit as being without an exclusive representative.

4. If a recognized professional organization receives a majority of the votes cast at the initial election or at any runoff election, the Board shall designate that professional organization as the exclusive representative of the bargaining unit.

Sec. 30. 1. The Board shall preside over all elections that are conducted pursuant to this section or section 27 or 29 of this act and shall determine the eligibility requirements for professional employees to vote in any such election.

The objection must be filed not later than 10 business days after the date on which the notice of the results of the election is given by the Board.

4. In response to a written objection filed pursuant to subsection 3 or upon its own motion, the Board may invalidate the results of an election and order a new election if the Board finds that any conduct or circumstances raise substantial doubt that the results of the election are reliable.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law creates the Virtual Early Childhood Family Engagement Pilot Program within the Department of Health and Human Services and requires the Department to select a nonprofit organization that is recognized as exempt from taxation by the Internal Revenue Code to administer the Program. (Virtual Early Childhood Family Engagement Pilot Program § 6) Section 3 of this bill removes this requirement.]~~

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, April 14, 2025

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4.

Assemblymember Nguyen moved that the resolution be adopted.

Remarks by Assemblymember Nguyen.

ASSEMBLYMEMBER NGUYEN:

As we celebrate Financial Literacy Month, we are reminded that financial education is not a luxury, but it is a necessity, no matter your age, your background, or your income level. Understanding how to manage money is the foundation for building a life of confidence, opportunity, and freedom. Financial literacy empowers us. It gives a young student the tools to save for their dreams, help a family navigate tough times, and allow retirees to enjoy the peace they work so hard for. When we invest in this knowledge, we invest in [a] brighter future for all. I am especially grateful to the members of the Nevada credit unions who are here today, and in particular, Rise Credit Union, for their commitment to making financial education accessible and empowering communities in our state. Your efforts are not only reaching skills, they are changing lives. Let us continue to lift each other up through knowledge; one step, one lesson, and one life at a time.

Resolution adopted and ordered transmitted to the Senate.
