OF THE

ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

SEVENTY-FIRST SESSION

THE FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 5, 2001

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and Statutes, the Assembly was called to order by Secretary of State Dean Heller at 12 noon.

Musical rendition by the Basic High School Madrigal Choir, under the direction of Miss Holly Peterson.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Bishop Robert Campbell of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Henderson, Nevada.

Father in Heaven, we come before Thee on this historic occasion, with humility in our hearts for the opportunity we have of living in this great country. This country, which allows us to vote for those who we want to lead us, vote for those who we feel best represent our point of view. Father we ask that thy spirit might dwell, at all times, in the meetings that are held by this Assembly. That each and every member might be touched by Thy spirit, that minds might be clear, that hearts might be softened and compromise might be a way of life. We pray that Thy spirit will be here at all times. In this we do in the name of Thy son, Jesus Christ.

AMEN

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Mr. Secretary of State, I move that Assemblyman Richard D. Perkins be Speaker of the Assembly.

As the 71st Nevada Legislature begins in this new millennium, we face important issues. How do we improve our schools so our children and grandchildren have the same or better opportunities than we did? How do we help all people to have access to health insurance and prescription drugs? How do we ensure that Nevada is a healthy, safe place to live? To find answers to these and the many other issues facing our state, we count on our elected representatives to provide leadership and vision. Rich Perkins is one of those leaders.

My colleague is bright, caring, compassionate, and hard-working. In his five terms in the Nevada Legislature, my colleague from Henderson has sponsored legislation to improve the lives of Nevadans in education, consumer protection, and public safety. He sees ways to help our state and puts his thoughts into action. In politics today, we see many dividers—my colleague is a bridge-builder, between both parties, both houses, and all people.

My colleague's thoughtfulness will serve us well this 71st Session. When people express concern about speakership moving south, my colleague is quick to point out that he will be Speaker of the Nevada Assembly, not the "Clark County Assembly." He believes pitting one part of the state against the other hurts our efforts to improve the whole state.

We are grateful to Speaker Joseph E. Dini, Jr., from Yerington, Nevada, for so many things. His length of service, his work ethic, and his leadership in our state will always be legendary. But unlike many, our Speaker from Yerington also believes in mentoring young leaders and giving them opportunities. He gave my colleague from Henderson the opportunity to become Majority Floor Leader in 1995 and the opportunity to become Speaker. The reason for his selection is clear to all who know Richard Perkins and have the honor to serve with him. It is for these reasons that I nominate Richard D. Perkins to be Speaker of the Assembly.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Secretary of State Heller. It is my pleasure to second Assemblywoman Buckley's nomination of Richard Perkins of Henderson for the position of Speaker of the 71st Session of the Nevada State Assembly.

Richard is a long-time officer in the Henderson Police Department. Just as he has worked into positions of leadership there, where today he serves as Deputy Chief, so too has he earned positions of leadership here in the Assembly where most recently he served as Majority Floor Leader.

I remember vividly first meeting Richard in 1992 when he was a candidate for the State Assembly. He stopped into the club and we spoke. I was impressed with his enthusiasm and how he carried himself. I was still more impressed with his familiarity with the issues and his desire to tackle them—to make a difference. I believe in first impressions. I saw he was a combination of Jack Jeffrey and Hal Smith, two of the best representatives that I served with from Henderson.

In the years since then I have seen first-hand how Richard became a viable part of my leadership team here in the Assembly. I have seen how he works with his fellow leaders from all parts of the state and from both political persuasions here in this chamber. As importantly, I have watched how he works with his fellow lawmakers and how he builds consensus. In these many contacts Rich has demonstrated a “feel” for leadership that will serve this Assembly well.

A moment ago, I mentioned how Richard became part of this house's leadership team. In seconding him for Speaker, I am pleased to note Richard has assembled a solid leadership team with the ability to do an outstanding job this session.

That is a good thing. There is no shortage of challenges that we will face this session, each and every one of us entrusted with the title of assemblyman or assemblywoman. Our mission is not merely to scratch the surface, but to get to the core of the issue. Doing so will demand our attention and be enhanced by a Speaker who himself has rolled up his sleeves and learned the ropes.

Albert Pike spoke many years ago, and as a word of advice to Richard, I would say, quoting Pike:

“Be faithful to your friends; for true friendship is of a nature not only to survive through all the vicissitudes of life, but to continue through an endless duration. Be faithful to your country, and prefer its dignity and honor to any degree of popularity and honor for yourself. Be faithful to the best interest of mankind.”

Historically, this Assembly has been known as the People's House. Since I was first elected to serve here in 1966 it has been that way. This year the Assembly will indeed be the House of the People.

Rich is a people person. Knowing a little about the challenges ahead of him, I believe his people skills will serve him well, along with his sense of fairness, commitment to hard work and dedication to Nevada. I am as proud of you as I would be if you were my own son.

Thank you, Terri Jo, for sharing him with us in this important assignment before him.

It gives me great pleasure to second the nomination of Richard Perkins for the position of Speaker of the 71st Session of the Nevada Legislature.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Secretary of State declared Assemblyman Perkins to be Speaker of the Assembly.

Mr. Secretary of State appointed Assemblyman Goldwater and Assemblyman de Braga as a committee to escort the Speaker to the rostrum.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Assemblywoman Leslie moved that Secretary of State Heller be given a unanimous vote of thanks for his services to the Assembly.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblyman Neighbors and Assemblywoman Cegavske as a committee to escort the Secretary of State to the bar of the Assembly.

The appointed committee escorted Secretary of State Heller to the bar of the Assembly.

Remarks by Mr. Speaker.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

MR. SPEAKER:

Speaker Dini, Majority Floor Leader Buckley, Minority Floor Leader Hettrick, members of the Nevada Assembly, legislative staff, my dear family, friends and guests.

As we begin our journey through another session of the Nevada Legislature, I want to congratulate my veteran colleagues for again earning the public's confidence and for again having been bestowed the awesome responsibility of working for the people of Nevada.

I would also like to welcome to "the people's house" three new members—Debbie Smith, John Ocegueda and David Brown. Will you please stand. Today the three of you may be wondering how you got here—but be assured that by the time we adjourn, you'll be wondering how all of the rest of us got here! We welcome you and look forward to working with you. Thank you for your service.

Before we start anew, there is cause for reflection. We are no doubt a diminished House due to the loss of our moral compass, a person who never gave up on helping those who needed it most. Indeed, Jan Evans was a rare public servant—a special kind of legislator who refused to bow to the political pressure of the moment. Instead, her vision and purpose often provided the guidance to get us through some trying times. Let's please take a moment to reflect on and honor our friend, our conscience, Jan Evans. Thank you.

Before I continue I'm going to ask my family to stand, and ask that you extend to them the privilege of the floor. As I introduce them, I would ask that they stand. At my desk I have my mother-in-law, Irene; my mother, Shirley; my wife, Terri; and our oldest daughter, Nicole. In the gallery is my father-in-law, Bob Campbell, who offered us our opening prayer; my sister-in-law, Dawn; my sister, Cheryl; my brother-in-law, Dennis; little Ricki Jo; my nephew, Chad; my father, Ken; my sister, Danielle and her husband, Rhett; my nieces, Crystal and Jessica; and my daughters, Ashley and Stephanie. Please welcome them. I would also like to ask the Henderson Police Department Color Guard to stand again and let us offer our thanks to them once more.

Other than my wife, my parents and my children, few if any had the impact on my life that a man from the small town of Yerington has had. I've had mentors in the police department and people in Henderson whom I have used as role models, but no one has affected my life the way Joe Dini has. I am a better husband, father and friend because I have Joe in my life.

From a political standpoint, I've had the good fortune to have learned at the foot of the master. The political guidance he has given me has been invaluable and I hope that, given the chance, I can impart to you the thoroughness, fairness and compassion of the man who is largely responsible for everything Nevada has achieved in the past 35 years.

It is also befitting that we complete the succession of the speakership under Joe's careful watch. I've probably already made a mistake or two today, but I take comfort in knowing Joe will be there to help. That is exactly what I expect him to do—be there with me every step of the way. Besides, I've always wanted an Italian consigliere. Joe is a living Nevada legend and I ask that you all rise and give unanimous consent to recognize him as Speaker Emeritus of the Nevada Assembly. Joe, thank you for everything you have done for Nevada.

Creating the Speaker Emeritus is merely one indication of a new generation of leadership in Nevada. For the first time in our state's history, we have a female majority floor leader and an African-American Speaker pro Tempore. Our leadership looks more like Nevada than ever before and, needless to say, I am very proud of this leadership team and the collective potential.

I reach out to our Republican friends on the other side of the aisle and ask that we engage in spirited debate that centers on intellectually honest arguments. It is not just our right, but our duty to question our government in this state and in this country. The people who elected us demand no less. More importantly, the public wants us to challenge each other, not destroy each other. Fortunately, Nevada has been a place where people have agreed to disagree, without allowing differences to forge divisions. But I fear more and more partisanship from both sides is creeping into our legislative process. So I ask you to join me in rejecting it—it does not belong here and it should not prevail.

Additionally, in an effort to rid ourselves of unnecessary partisan bickering, I will ask Minority Floor Leader Hettrick to join in establishing formal meetings of Republican and Democrat leadership that will enable us to better understand one another and to focus our attention on agreement—instead of animosity.

As Speaker of this great institution, I look forward to favorably resolving many challenges that confront us—redistricting, our energy crisis, and in a tight budget year, providing for our senior citizens and for those who are less fortunate.

Let us never ascend to arrogance, but always remain humble public servants. Let us always remember the real people behind each of our decisions. These are real people with real needs. Let us always remember why we are here.

Ensuring that the students in our public education system receive every possible opportunity for success is what I desire most. Everyone knows the shocking statistics regarding the condition of our education system—simply repeating them does no public good. Striving to change those rankings is precisely what I intend to do. I will ask no more of you than I ask of myself when it comes to helping our educators, our administrators and our school children.

As a reminder, I would like to introduce a new legislative standard upon which our work should be judged. A mantra, if you will, to remind us why we're here. You will hear me say it over and over again so we can avoid the worst law there is—the law of mediocrity. Especially when we think of children, we must ask ourselves—did we do the very best we could? Did we do the very best we could for our children?

When we're finished with the people's business in early June, we must answer this overriding question only one way. Yes, we argued; yes we disagreed; yes, we compromised; yes, we sacrificed; and yes, we did the very best we could.

Let's go to work.

Thank you and God bless.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

CARSON CITY, NEVADA , February 5, 2001

THE HONORABLE SENATOR WILLIAM J. RAGGIO, THE HONORABLE ASSEMBLYMAN RICHARD D. PERKINS, Nevada Legislature, Legislative Building, Carson City, Nevada 89701

DEAR MAJORITY LEADER RAGGIO AND SPEAKER PERKINS:

Attached herewith is my message to the 71st Session of the Nevada Legislature, as required by Article 5, Section 10, of the Nevada Constitution. As you know, I delivered the message earlier to a gathering of your colleagues and other guests on January 22, 2001, in the Assembly Chambers in Carson City.

Allow me to extend my sincere wishes for a productive legislative session. My staff and I look forward to working with all of you.

Respectfully,

KENNY C. GUINN

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the Governor's State of the State Address as presented to the Legislative Commission's Special Committee to Receive the Governor's State of the State Address of January 22, 2001 be entered in the Journal.

Mr. Speaker, Madam Lieutenant Governor, members of the Senate and Assembly, honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, distinguished guests, and fellow Nevadans—I would like to say good evening, and to you Colton and Hanna, thank you for coming.

I am proud to say the state of the state is strong. It is strong despite unique and unprecedented changes and challenges. Our economy is healthy and prosperous. More Nevadans are at work than ever before, and our personal income growth is well above the national average. Nevada's welfare rolls have declined by 60 percent in the past six years. Nevadans have gone back to work in record numbers, earning the state a federal financial award as one of the top ten states in the nation for welfare reform for the second year in a row. Indeed, Nevada has much to be proud of.

For a decade now, we have led the nation in growth. As a result of this tremendous growth, we will be given a third seat to amplify our voice and enhance our position in Congress. We have communities that have been made stronger by diversity and new ideas, but growth also brings its share of challenges. Nevada's school enrollment is increasing at three times the national average. We lead the nation in growth of our senior citizens. Our transportation system must constantly improve to avoid gridlock, and our health care system is strained by ever-increasing demands placed upon it on a day-by-day basis.

Two years ago, I stood before you in this chamber and declared we would have to cut funding for many programs even though the state's revenues were growing. Social services, education, and prisons had steadily consumed our revenues until every other facet of our state suffered and sacrificed to pay for this growth. I knew, without change, we would soon reach a point where the needs of an exploding population would outstrip the growth in revenue. We had to change the way we did business in Nevada, and change we did!

I directed the most comprehensive review of Nevada state government in our history, and we identified numerous ways we could cut costs and become more efficient and responsive in delivering services to our citizens. Through those efforts we have saved millions of dollars, and we did not stop there.

I formed an Internal Audit Division for the Executive Branch to identify potential problems in state government before, rather than after, they occur. This agency has also identified hundreds of thousands of dollars of savings for the state.

We were the first state in the country to privatize our state's worker's compensation program, removing more than a thousand positions from the state payroll and taking off a $2.2 billion liability from the state's ledger in this great state of Nevada. We will now save over $3 million more, every year, by self-insuring.

We maintained a hiring freeze for the past two years, streamlining government and leaving more than 1500 positions unfilled or eliminated.

We also reformed our state's group health insurance plan, for thousands of state employees, so that it is once again healthy and solvent.

We have fixed a long-running problem with NOMADS, the state's welfare computer system, which will save us millions of dollars in federal penalties. In fact, the Federal Government has indicated it will return $3.6 million to the state as early as this legislative session. This could not have been done without the help of you as a legislative body two years ago when we brought the problem before you and you had to face the executive branch and our staff. Thank you very much.

We also removed the barriers to higher education for all our children when we enacted the Millennium Scholarship. Tonight we have six Millennium scholars with us, one from each university and community college in the state. I invite them to stand. They are just 6 of 4,200 high achieving young Nevadans who have taken advantage of this historic opportunity. We wish all of you a successful academic and professional career right here in Nevada, where you belong. There are over 45 Millennium Scholarship winners in the Senate, who could not get a ticket to be in the well of the Assembly, and I want to thank them to for their attendance. The Millennium Scholarship program serves as a reminder of what determination, creativity, and cooperation can produce.

I look out here this evening and see the faces of many friends, hardworking legislators, and true Nevada leaders. We are fortunate to have the steady leadership of Bill Raggio, Joe Dini, Dina Titus, Lynn Hettrick, and Nevada's newest Speaker, Richard Perkins. Certainly, we have disagreed on some issues and differed in our solutions to some of the problems we face here in our state, but we have always agreed on the importance of seeking those solutions together. I welcome your continued cooperation, your friendship, and your advice—sometimes.

I truly appreciate your hard work and tremendous sacrifices. Nevada owes each of you a great debt of gratitude, but sadly, one of our hardest working lawmakers is not with us tonight, our friend and colleague, Assemblywoman Jan Evans. I would like to take a moment to acknowledge her commitment and friendship to so many of you and to me. In this quiet moment, when we think about the future, I am sure we ponder many of the same things Jan did—providing for our families, educating our children, protecting our homes, and caring for our seniors.

And although the state of Nevada is strong and vibrant today, the challenges ahead will test our resolve and our commitment to work together for tomorrow. Aggressive competition from tribal gaming and the prospect of punitive federal regulations endanger our travel and tourism industry. Far-reaching public land acquisitions and regulations jeopardize other important industries such as mining and agriculture. Skyrocketing energy prices threaten us all.

During this past year, I have made no secret of my belief that Nevada must explore new revenue streams and establish a broader economic base, so we can provide a good education to our children, adequate health care to our families and seniors, and safety for all our citizens. As a result, many speculated that I would be forced to raise taxes. Indeed, the state's expenditure and long-range revenue projections show that, without changes, Nevada will face a tremendous shortfall within eight years.

I believe, however, that, with the potential slowing of the national economy, now is not a time for new taxes, and my budget does not contain a single tax increase. Now is a time for moderation and restraint. I have long believed state government cannot and should not be all things to all people. There are some things, however, that only the state can do—educate our children, care for our seniors, and protect the disadvantaged.

Tonight, I am pleased I do not come to you with a budget full of painful reductions as I did two years ago. Instead, we are in a position to consider new programs, as well as live up to many of our responsibilities to our state employees, university professors, teachers, and school support staff. Tonight we will fulfill the responsibilities that have to be met for the good of all Nevadans—our children, the disabled, and senior citizens. This is our obligation. Our past budgetary discipline and restructuring of our financial resources has afforded us this opportunity—to fund programs that have been too long neglected. Let me share with you my vision.

Since we last met, we have heard a great deal of discussion about our state's commitment to education. Some say we are not doing enough, and I agree. The solution is not as simple as raising taxes, as some have proposed, and earmarking the proceeds strictly for the purposes of education without consideration of other programs in need of revenue.

I was taught by my father, who could not read, that reading is the basis of all education. I learned this painful lesson as I watched him suffer through those simple tasks all of us who can read take for granted. His inability to read affected every aspect of his life, and mine.

As many of you know, twenty-five years ago I was superintendent of Clark County schools. I am proud of many of the programs we implemented. However, I always considered my greatest accomplishment to be the placement of a reading specialist in every elementary school. Before it was popular to talk about getting back to the basics, these reading teachers knew there was nothing more basic or important than the ability to read. We saw tremendous results with the program, and in fact, the reading improvement teachers are still in our schools today.

Tonight, I am going back to the basics just as I did when I was superintendent. I am establishing a new statewide goal—that all Nevada children be able to read by the end of the third grade. To initiate a fast start toward this goal, I am allocating $10 million for a teacher-training program that focuses on reading techniques which have proven successful in early grades.

Last session, we created four regional centers for teacher training. These centers also focused on reading. This year, I propose to increase funding for these centers by $4 million, for additional training in reading instruction.

I will also allocate $20 million to education technology and the purchase of textbooks for our schools. After all, Nevada students cannot be expected to achieve more and work harder when they cannot even take their schoolbooks home. I am also allocating another $8 million for early childhood education—let's get a good start—and a $7 million increase for remediation in under-performing schools. Finally, my budget includes another $20 million to maintain class-size ratios at the first, second, and third grades.

With your help, our children will be better prepared, focused on the basics, and will achieve more. We owe this to our children. We owe this to our future.

This evening, you will find my education agenda focuses on the basics: textbooks, teacher training, and reading. We must go further. We must also address our growing teacher shortage. Tonight, I am pleased to endorse a project that addresses this shortage—the proposed state college in Henderson. This new institution will enable us to train more teachers than ever before. Therefore, this budget includes $16 million for capital construction, $1 million in start-up costs, and another $5.8 million to fund the first year's enrollment of a projected 1000 students. With your support, the state college in Henderson will become a reality, go a long way toward ending the teacher shortage in Nevada, and create an institution of learning that produces Nevada teachers for Nevada children. Building new colleges takes vision, patience, and financial resources.

Make no mistake about it—next to parents and families, teachers are the most important influence in our children's lives. Over the past five years, we have raised the academic bar for our children. In doing so, we have also raised the bar for our teachers. We have demanded accountability, as we should, but we have not given them the tools they need to perform at the level we demand—the training, the technology, and the textbooks.

In Nevada, we have not made a sufficient commitment to teachers for a livable salary that matches the vital role they play in our society. As a result, we are losing an unacceptable number of teachers to other states and professions. So, in addition to the money allocated for more training, new textbooks, and technology, I am asking the Nevada Legislature to provide a cash bonus to all Nevada teachers and school support staff equal to 5 percent of their annual salary. My budget includes a one-time allocation of $58 million to meet Nevada's commitment to our teachers. For a teacher making $40,000 a year, this will amount to $2,000—just a small way of saying “thank you” for having met every challenge we have given them, often without additional resources and, in some cases, even having to pay for supplies out of their own pockets.

These are the planks of my education plan for the coming year: a firm commitment for long overdue resources for our teachers; a basic but bold reading program; and the creation of a new college.

In total, my general fund budget includes an increase of $98 million for K-12 education and $134 million for higher education. In addition, we are allocating over $75 million of our one-time funding to K-12 education. Altogether, this represents a 13 percent increase over last biennium, and the largest allocation for education in our great state's history. As a former teacher, superintendent, and university president—and now as your Governor—my first priority will always be to our children and their education.

There is another group of dedicated public employees who deserve recognition this evening—the loyal employees who work hard to serve the state's citizens and who are often the best guardians of taxpayer dollars—Nevada's state workers. Two years ago, I challenged state employees to find new and innovative ways to save money and make the state more efficient. They responded, and for that, I say thank you.

I would like to ask George Simecek to stand. George is a plumber at University of Nevada, Reno, who has been with the state since 1978. George identified a retrofitting need on the campus, and he recently completed the project—providing the state with a one-time savings of $310,000 plus saving additional, ongoing maintenance costs. George is not the only employee who has used his knowledge, experience, and dedication to save our state money. There are many more, whose efforts will never be known by the general public. These are good people, whose talents we simply cannot afford to lose.

Over the past decade, state employees have gone without adequate pay increases. The result has been escalating turnover in almost every department. As a result, we have a steady stream of good state workers leaving for more lucrative jobs with cities, counties, and the private sector. We lose their valuable experience and abilities, and then we spend more money recruiting and training their replacements. And the costly cycle continues.

We cannot afford to lose these employees. For example, the dramatic turnaround at the Department of Motor Vehicles was prompted by employees who created new programs, such as Internet registration. Try it, you'll like it! They also worked long hours to improve service and reduce waiting lines to less than an hour.

Tonight I am proposing a responsible cost of living allowance for our state employees, an 8 percent increase over the biennium, 4 percent in the first year and 4 percent in the second year. I no longer want them to choose between serving the state or protecting their families' financial future. State employment is a privilege, but it should not be a sacrifice.

It is not enough to invest in our employees, however. We must invest in the health and welfare of all our people, all Nevadans.

As your Governor, I believe we must measure success by how we are able to care for the most fragile of our citizens—our children, our elderly, and those who are disabled. We cannot afford to do everything, but there are some things we cannot afford not to do.

Therefore, I am proposing to double the funding that helps physically disabled Nevadans stay in their homes—stay in their homes with their families. In addition, my proposed increases in services to the developmentally disabled will eliminate all waiting lists for community-based services for these citizens.

Furthermore, I am urging the creation of the Office of Disability Resources, which will combine several existing services in one location. The office will be responsible for creating a long-range plan to better provide services to individuals of all ages with disabilities.

Finally, we will use federal grant money to develop policies and infrastructure that will allow the disabled to go to work without risking the loss of Medicaid or Medicare health coverage.

With the fastest growing senior population in the nation, Nevada must plan ahead. Therefore, I am requesting funding to study alternative living support, long-term care, and other programs to address our seniors' needs effectively and efficiently in the future. For those seniors who need our help today, I propose to increase Medicaid waivers by 40 percent to allow seniors to live in their communities and homes rather than hospitals. We need our seniors at home!

I am also asking the Legislature to approve a $6 million allowance for cervical and breast cancer coverage for uninsured women which we do not have at this time. We will include in this budget $10 million to eliminate the assets test for the Medicaid Child Health Assurance Program and streamline Medicaid benefits for pregnant women. It is simple, we have been embarrassingly behind in these crucial health services for too long. It is time to change, and change we will.

My budget also includes a substantial increase in funding for Nevada Check-Up, our health insurance program for children of low-income families. Our outreach efforts in the past two years have been extremely successful, just 2 years ago we had less than 2000 young people in our program and now we expect to enroll 24,000 children by the end of the next biennium. In addition, I am establishing a $5 million fund to help working, uninsured families obtain basic health care coverage, because access to affordable health care is crucial to all Nevada families.

This budget is one that works to support our Nevada families because we must encourage programs that keep our families together and healthy. In many cases, a child is removed from his or her natural family. It is a traumatic experience with far-reaching consequences to the health and welfare of that child. In Nevada, the situation is made even more difficult because the child welfare system is confusing and bogged down in bureaucracy between the state and the counties.

Overall, my budget includes $86 million to support improvement of our statewide child welfare programs and to provide service at the local level—where it should be. I believe the best service to the child is the service closest to the child, and children who are victims of neglect, abuse, or abandonment must not also be victims of bureaucracy. They deserve our devoted attention, not our divided attention. We will work with the counties and legislative body to transfer this money and these programs to the local level so our children will have the best chance, the chance they need in their young lives.

Finally, with the Legislature's help, I will expand Senior Rx, a program that addresses one of the most compelling needs faced by Nevada's senior citizens—prescription drug coverage.

Two years ago, the Nevada Legislature voted unanimously to provide a subsidized prescription drug insurance plan for the state's neediest seniors. Senior Rx was enacted while others argued about the issue. While Congress bickered, we acted.

I am proud to say that as of this month, we have received 1400 applications for Senior Rx. Some of those who are already enrolled in the program are with us tonight. I would like to ask them to stand. Please join me in giving them a warm welcome.

Some seniors in this program will save hundreds of dollars a month. For others, this program is not about savings—it is about the difference between receiving needed medicine or doing without. I am proud to say tonight that Senior Rx is working, and we must expand it. It is time to offer these life-saving benefits to more Nevadans in need.

Another challenge that faces Nevada's senior citizens and, in fact, all of us, is the soaring cost of energy. Electric utility restructuring in California is, in the words of Governor Gray Davis, a "colossal and dangerous failure." Electricity rates have risen more than 300 percent, and in some areas, there have been power shortages and blackouts. We must learn from the mistakes in California, so we never repeat their mistakes.

In 1997 and again in 1999, our Legislature approved deregulation for Nevada. Last session, however, the Legislature recognized there were problems on the horizon, and they gave me the authority to delay deregulation. Twice I have looked at the situation, twice considered the consequences, and twice said "no" to implementing deregulation.

Last October, I appointed a 17-member, bipartisan committee to examine the state's energy situation. This group recently issued its recommendations and findings, which clearly indicate there are serious problems with deregulation in Nevada.

Over the next few weeks, I will be reviewing those recommendations and any new proposals from the Legislature. But let me be very clear—I cannot and will not support deregulation until I am assured power supplies are secure and those who would be hardest hit by rate increases are protected.

Even without deregulation, consumer energy bills will continue to rise because of short supply, increased demand, and high prices for natural gas and oil. This will impact all of us to some degree, but for those Nevadans who live on low or fixed incomes, it will be catastrophic.

So tonight, I am proposing a $5 million fund to help those who will be hit hardest by rising energy costs. This emergency Energy Assistance Fund will create a safety net for low-income Nevadans, so they can afford to pay utility bills without undue hardship.

We have covered a lot of issues tonight—education, health care, and senior services. However, there is one issue that looms over all of them.

I am talking about the single greatest threat to the health and safety of the people of this state—the prospect of Nevada becoming the nation's nuclear waste dumping ground. It is an issue that unites Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives, urban and rural counties, and all of us who care about the future of Nevada. We have fought this battle together, for many years and on many fronts. Yet, the nuclear power industry is as determined as ever to target our state.

Tonight, I am announcing we will match that determination with an unprecedented dedication of funds. For the first time in our long fight against nuclear waste, we will dedicate $5 million to fight the Department of Energy and those in Congress who are determined to make Nevada the nation's nuclear waste dump.

I will also ask each city and county, as well as the private sector, to contribute money to this vital endeavor. Although much has been done individually throughout our state by citizens and communities, I believe we will only succeed by uniting our efforts. We must make that united front.

We can no longer be dependent upon federal dollars—dollars that can be taken away from us, jerked away from us, when we do not play by the nuclear industry's rules. With this $5 million, we will launch a media campaign to rally our neighboring states. The transportation of nuclear waste is a danger to everyone, and we must have those other states join us in this great fight for our survival. We will continue to pursue all legal avenues. We will expose the unprincipled tactics used by the industry in their attempt to force us to accept this deadly waste.

We will join with our neighbor state, Utah, in a coordinated stand against nuclear waste transportation. I have asked Utah's governor, Mike Leavitt, to join me in fighting to leave nuclear waste where it was created, not ship it to us. He agreed, and he has already included more than one million dollars in his budget to join us in this ongoing battle. We will leave no fight abandoned, and we will prevail.

As we all know, the nation has just emerged from an unforgettable campaign season that represented both the best and the worst of politics. One lesson we have learned is that we must work together, in a bipartisan spirit, to accomplish the public's business and to maintain the public's trust.

I do not agree with those who contend that we are a nation and a state that stands divided. While we disagree on some of the solutions to the many challenges we face, we certainly agree on what those challenges are and how important it is that we find solutions together.

We have a vibrant and beautiful state that in many ways is the envy of our neighbors. We enjoy an independent lifestyle, moderate taxes, a bustling business sector, abundant wide-open spaces, and opportunities limited only by the depth of our ingenuity. As your Governor, nothing is more important to me than protecting our way of life, expanding our opportunities, and meeting our obligations.

After two years, Dema and I remain honored that I was elected to this office. I am proud to be your Governor, and Dema is proud to be called the First Lady.

In 137 years, Nevada has changed a great deal. However, I marvel at how much the state has stayed the same, and how much our new citizens, who come to us from every state in the nation, are much like Nevadans of old.

One of our state's most accomplished writers, Robert Laxalt, compared the spirit of Nevadans to the state flower, the sagebrush, when he said: "They are hardy and resilient, stubborn and independent, restrained by environment, and yet able to grow free." So tonight we come to you with a firm resolve to protect Nevada's needs; a resolve to create an historic fund to fight deadly nuclear waste; a resolve to achieve financial stability in an unpredictable economy without new taxes; a resolve to pay our state employees a livable wage; a resolve to protect our citizens from escalating energy costs; a resolve to provide adequate health care and peace of mind to our Nevada seniors; and a resolve to put more money in education for students and teachers than ever before in this state's history. I am confident that these great goals will be reached together as one people, step by step, always moving forward and always gaining ground.

I want to thank you and say good evening to you and have a safe trip home.

DEAR SPEAKER PERKINS AND MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY:

It gives me great pleasure to join with the citizens of Carson City to extend to you and all of the members of the Nevada State Legislature our official greetings and warm welcome as we prepare for the start of the 2001 Legislative Session.

Our community, like so many areas of Nevada, is rich in history and famous for its colorful past. However, Carson City is unique. No other community in our state can boast the prestigious title of "Capital City." This is a designation of which we are very proud. Whether you are a first time visitor or a veteran who has first-hand knowledge of Carson City's distinctive qualities, we hope our "down home, Nevada-style" hospitality will amaze and delight you.

We would like to invite you to attend a "welcome" reception on February 6, 2001, between 5:00-6:30 p.m. to be held at City Hall, 201 North Carson Street. I want to assure you we are planning a relatively low key and casual event. Our objectives are to say hello and welcome you to Carson City, provide an opportunity to introduce you to other elected officials and city staff and provide several displays which show our pride in a number of our recent projects. We are easy to find as we are located next to and just north of the Capitol and its silver dome which can be seen for miles, representative of government for the citizens of the Great State of Nevada.

Again, it is our pleasure to have you in our community, and we look forward to seeing you on February 6TH. If there is any way we may be of assistance to you, please do not hesitate to call on me or any member of our city's staff. Best wishes for a successful session and thank you for allowing us to be your host these next four months.

Sincerely,
RAY MASAYKO

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the secretary of state before beginning circulation and not earlier than ~~{January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the~~ legislature is held.] 1 year before the date on which the Legislature to which the petition will be transmitted commences its regular session. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the secretary of state or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. 5. If two or more measures which affect the same section of a statute or of the constitution are finally approved pursuant to this section, or an amendment to the constitution is finally so approved and an amendment proposed by the legislature is ratified which affect the same section, by the voters at the same election:

(a) If all can be given effect without contradiction in substance, each shall be given effect.

(b) If one or more contradict in substance the other or others, the measure which received the largest favorable vote, and any other approved measure compatible with it, shall be given effect. If the one or more measures that contradict in substance the other or others receive the same number of favorable votes, none of the measures that contradict another shall be given effect.

6. If, at the same election as the first approval of a constitutional amendment pursuant to this section, another amendment is finally approved pursuant to this section, or an amendment proposed by the legislature is ratified, which affects the same section of the constitution but is compatible with the amendment given first approval, the secretary of state shall publish and resubmit at the next general election the amendment given first approval as a further amendment to the section as amended by the amendment given final approval or ratified. SPECIAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

The hour of 11:15 a.m. having arrived, vetoed Assembly Bill No. 332 of the 70th Session was considered.

Vetoed Assembly Bill No. 332 of the 70th Session.

Governor's message stating his objections read.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

June 11, 1999

THE HONORABLE DEAN HELLER, Secretary of State, CAPITOL COMPLEX, Carson City, Nevada

DEAR SECRETARY HELLER:

Attached herewith is Assembly Bill No. 332 of the 1999 legislative session, which I am returning to you within the constitutional limit without my signature and without approval. I am vetoing the bill because it inhibits the removal of poor teachers from the classroom and places and undue and potentially substantial burden on school administrators.

Assembly Bill 332 makes various changes concerning the evaluation of teachers. Among other provisions, the bill requires the evaluation of probationary and post-probationary teachers include a description of the actions that will be taken to assist the teacher in correcting any deficiencies reported in the evaluation. Upon request, the administration must assist the teacher to correct those deficiencies. Similarly, the measure requires that an admonition given to a licensed employee must include a description of the action that will be taken to assist the employee in correcting the deficiencies.

Although these requirements may appear to be commendable, in fact the bill makes the school district and the administrator responsible for the employee's success or failure—not the employee. A probationary or licensed teacher with a poor evaluation might demand assistance to correct deficiencies, and the bill does not limit that assistance. Requested help might include books, classes, professional development seminars, and unlimited mentoring on listed deficiencies.

Certainly, all of us—state and local officials, administrators, and parents—want to see our teachers, and with them our students, succeed. We believe that helping teachers through meaningful evaluation and reasonable support is appropriate and requisite. Employee evaluations are an invaluable tool to improve the quality of instruction in our schools. Assembly Bill 332, however, imposes unreasonable requirements on administrators, which will make administrators reluctant to offer constructive criticism and serve only to protect probationary employees who simply do not show instructional skills. What is more, the bill will make the removal of a poor teacher from a classroom virtually impossible.

The 1999 Nevada Legislature made many positive changes related to the improvement of education in Nevada. In particular, the funding of teacher centers in certain areas of the state will go far in improving instructional quality. Nevertheless, no one wants to see a poor teacher continue teaching because of a technicality in the evaluation law, and Assembly Bill 332 would allow that to happen.

Sincerely,
Kenny C. Guinn
Governor

Bill read.

The question was put: “Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?”

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson, Hettrick and Parnell.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal:

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

During the 1999 Session of this esteemed body AB 332 was introduced, heard, deliberated, amended and passed. This bill received substantial bi-partisan support with only nine votes against it in the Assembly and one “no” vote in the Senate.

Why did AB 332 receive the overwhelming support of the Nevada Legislature? The answer is simple. AB 332 is an education accountability bill that deals with the very important subject of teacher evaluation. In all of the discussions about education accountability going back to the 1997 Session, there was no discussion about the role of administrators and their importance in the evaluation process.

During testimony on AB 332 teachers came forward and talked about their experiences with administrators who somehow managed to write evaluations of their performance without ever having been in their classrooms. AB 332 requires that those charged with the responsibility of conducting evaluations personally observe the performance of the teacher in the classroom for at least one hour during each evaluation period.

Given the criticism from some about bad teachers in the classroom and the call for more accountability, we brought this bill forward to the Legislature and said, "Come in and evaluate us. Please!" Let administrators do the very important work that they are supposed to do—evaluate the performance of teachers after direct observation in the classroom. Let's stop the practice of "drive by" evaluations. The Nevada Legislature agreed.

First, let me clear up the continuing myth about teacher tenure in Nevada that does not now exist—nor would it exist if this bill had become law. Some are now saying that AB 332 would make it impossible to get rid of bad teachers. Were those of us who voted for this bill in 1999—the 33 of us who voted for it in the Assembly and the 19 who voted for it in the Senate—misinformed about the content of this bill? No. We voted for the bill because it was a good piece of legislation.

As a classroom teacher with 29 years of experience, I know the task of teaching is not easy. I know that the burden of being the educational leader of a school—a mantle that an administrator has—is equally daunting.

By voting to allow AB 332 to pass notwithstanding the Governor's veto, you will be ensuring that administrators perform one of their most important duties—observing teachers in their classrooms and writing evaluations that are meaningful and productive which will benefit those teachers and the students they serve.

A newly elected member of the United States Senate wrote a book several years ago which she titled—after an old African statement—"It takes a village to raise a child.". This bill made that statement for the children of Nevada.

I urge your support for AB 332.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of sustaining the Governor's veto. We're fortunate in Nevada to have a governor who understands education, who was a teacher, and a superintendent of schools. He understands education. We have a governor who vetoed this bill because he was concerned about what its language does. We were contacted by the two largest school districts in this state, Clark County and Washoe County, and they also expressed concern about what this language does. We are in session; we are here. The Governor has indicated a willingness to work on the good content of this bill and the good intent of this bill, so it can alleviate the concern that he has and that the school districts have. Since we are here, since we have the opportunity to fix this, I believe it is the appropriate thing to do to sustain the Governor's veto and work on passing the good things that are contained within this bill. Therefore I ask all of you to vote "no" and sustain the Governor's veto.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PARNELL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I wish to echo all of the comments of Assemblyman Anderson with particular regard to statements made that AB 332 would make it more difficult for a principal to remove an unsatisfactory teacher from the classroom. That is not what the language in this bill would do. Under no circumstances have I ever, or would ever, support any such attempt. I have had the highest of expectations for myself as a classroom teacher as well as for others in my profession. Had it not been for these expectations, I doubt that I would have been selected as the Nevada Teacher of the Year. What this bill does address is a much-needed component for administrative accountability, a much needed addition for school reform efforts in this state. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

The roll was called, and the Assembly sustained the veto of the Governor by the following vote:

YEAS—Anderson, Arberry, Bache, Buckley, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Freeman, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Ocegüera, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Price, Smith and Williams—26.

NAYS—Angle, Beers, Berman, Brower, Brown, Carpenter, Cegavske, Gibbons, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Marvel, Nolan, Tiffany and Von Tobel—15.

EXCUSED—Ohrenschall.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Quorum present.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I did want to make a remark relative to the offer that my distinguished colleague from Assembly District 39 made, concerning working on the merits of the piece of legislation, AB 332. I believe it is a good faith offer and I take it as such. I believe education remains the most important aspect that this body can do. It is the thing of the future; it is tomorrow. We must be ever vigilant of what we do for the children.

I believe that we will come out of this with a responsibility. I hope to continue to work in this area and I want to thank those people who supported me, and those who have had to deal with the "onion" as it exists—the nature of politics being as it is. I understand that we will work through this, because kids come first.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-FIRST SESSION, 2001

Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Leader, members of the Assembly, Senate, and guests: Every time I come to the Nevada State Legislature waves of nostalgia fill my soul. It was here my legislative career started. I think of the many accomplishments of many different legislators over the years, those who I served with, and those who have served in the past. Would you join me today in recognizing one of the great legislators in the history of the State of Nevada with a moment of silence, Jan Evans. Of course, there are those who are now serving and those who will yet serve. My legislative career started here. The first time I served I had the good fortune of meeting in the Capitol. What has happened in Nevada since 1864 has revolved around what takes place in these legislative halls.

Last Monday night I went to Senator Kennedy's home to celebrate the release of a new book containing the letters of his father. Landra and I got there a bit early and Ted asked us to go upstairs and look around. It is like a little museum, with all kinds of things on the walls, letters from Jackie Kennedy, his dad, and his brothers. One thing that struck me was the framed notes his brother John had written prior to addressing the Nevada State Legislature in 1960. I went downstairs and asked Senator Kennedy if he remembered that.

Important things happen every time this legislature meets. A president won't address the legislature this session, but the destiny of our state will be determined by what happens in these halls over the next 115 days. A century ago, my birthplace, Searchlight, was the fastest growing community in Nevada. Gold had been discovered, miners and others came, the future looked bright. Searchlight was one of the first modern towns of western America. It had electricity, telephones, and telegraph, even a modern water system. Only a few years later, the gold became scarce—the mines slowed down—miners and others began to leave. Those few who stayed faced hard times and social upheaval. Those who remained did so because Searchlight was their home. Though I was born in Searchlight, today I spend much of my time three thousand miles from Searchlight, in Washington, D.C. But, Nevada is my home, and like any home, I want it to be the cleanest, safest, most prosperous place it can be—a place to rest one's head, raise one's children, a refuge for the spirit, a place to return when the day is done. All of us share this dream—because Nevada is our home.

We in government ought to make decisions that affect the state in the same way families make decisions that affect their own home. There is no higher calling than public service. I thank each of you for your service to the people of the Silver State.

We share in our accomplishments and our failures—when a road is built, it's our road—when a lake is polluted, it's our lake—when a community is in distress, it's our community—when deadly nuclear waste threatens to be transported, it affects each and every one of us—because Nevada is our home.

We have our own interests and ideals, our separate lives, but when times of trouble and turmoil arise, we all come together, we come together as one—not as Democrats or Republicans, liberals or conservatives, not as federal or state officials—but as Nevadans. Because our challenges are not exclusively federal, state or local—therefore, neither can our solutions.

We have in the past worked together. For example, we did it with the Truckee-Carson water settlement. We did it again with the Lake Tahoe Summit, working to restore, as Mark Twain said, “the fairest place in all the earth.” This historic agreement brought together federal, state, and local governments, as well as residents, businesses, environmentalists, and community leaders. This can be used to set a model for what can be achieved when we work as one. We did it with the school in Schurz; we did it when we cleaned up the Helms Pit, which is now the Sparks Marina. These are a few examples of the many times we have worked together.

From the past we learn that together we must meet the challenges of Nevada’s tomorrows.

Nevadans’ health must be our priority. Some communities are afraid—eleven new leukemia cases discovered in Fallon, which is more than forty times the national average. The Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe has experienced a five-fold increase in cancer cases, possibly resulting from the Sierra Army Depot’s open munitions burning. These and other health questions must have answers—because Nevada is our home.

We have women in our state who are frequently diagnosed with breast cancer. It is estimated that 1200 Nevada women will be diagnosed for the first time and 200 women will die from this dread disease this year. Why? We don’t know. These women are our mothers, our wives, our sisters, and our daughters. Last year, I obtained nearly two million dollars in federal funding for the UNLV Cancer Research Center, to expand its research efforts. Your support here has been essential. I am now working to establish national breast cancer research centers to focus on eradicating this disease.

Some of us need assistance in our golden years but can’t afford it. Assemblywoman Barbara Buckley has proposed a unique, pilot project—funded by private donations and state funding, with land from the federal government—to create affordable assisted living facilities for low-income Nevadans. Together, we can do this.

Some among us have been prescribed drugs by their physicians, but cannot afford to buy them because they are not covered by Medicare or other health plans. Here is a letter that I received from Barbara Keefer of Sun Valley: “I am 60 years old and on Social Security Disability. I get $585 a month and have osteoporosis. I have many broken bones and need medication for this, along with a variety of other prescriptions. The medications that I have to take cost more than $100 a month, and it is a hardship to get them every month. I really hope you will fight to help people like me.”

I say to Barbara Keefer that we must reply “yes.” We will fight to help her. Congress and this legislature, the Nevada Legislature, must strengthen our legislative partnership—because they are our parents, and because Nevada is our home.

Nevada’s children must be educated. In Nevada, we have one of the highest dropout rates in the nation—we have the fifth worst student-to-teacher ratio in the entire country. Our schools need 300 million dollars in repair and renovation. A few months ago, I received a letter jointly signed by seven parents who had first graders at Dayton Elementary School. They said, among other things, that their children go to school every day in classrooms that are overcrowded and where teachers are overworked. They wrote: “Mr. Reid, we look to you, to give us the direction we need to ensure that all of our children receive the best education available.”

I say to these parents that we in Congress can do better. You, in this legislature, can do better. We need to give young Nevadans a better education, because these are our children—and because Nevada is our home.

Nevadans must have economic security. Not every Nevadan has shared in the boom of these last seven years. Unemployment rates are at record lows—but those numbers don’t tell us the difficulty of living on minimum wage with few or no benefits. All Nevadans must share in our prosperity—from the young father who works two jobs at two different casinos, to the single mother who leaves for work before her children get up in the morning and returns home after they’ve gone to bed—because they are our neighbors, and because Nevada is our home.

We need to open the democratic process to more—to all. Too many Nevadans don't vote because they don't believe the system will help them. They in effect, have been turned off. We need to make it easier for them to register and easier for them to vote. Secretary of State Dean Heller has become a national leader in reforming the electoral process. He has done this in the State of Nevada and nationally, as well. We need to listen, in Washington, D.C. and Carson City, to his advice and counsel.

Our state must remain clean and livable. We have natural resources that are polluted and energy sources which are being pressed to their limits. A few days ago, among other restrictions, California ordered a 50 percent reduction in the use of power for outdoor lighting. Nevada is the neon capital of the world—bright lights are what we're known for the world over—and we need to make sure that we have enough affordable power to keep our state growing, and our neon glowing.

Ron Feldstein of Carson City wrote: "I was horrified to read that Southwest Gas was increasing our gas bills 35 percent. Last month my Southwest gas bill was over $100. The only way a senior can afford such a huge increase means they have to give up something, or in other words, lower their standard of living. That usually means giving up a certain prescription or lowering their food bill." To Mr. Feldstein, I say that you should not have to choose between being able to afford electricity and being able to afford food and prescription drugs. To Congress and this legislature, I say, we need to explore alternative energy sources.

The Nevada Test Site Development Corporation, with the help of the federal government, has recently let a contract to do work at the Nevada Test Site. They will create up to 265 megawatts of electricity, enough to supply electricity to 250,000 homes. This is one example of what we can do when we work together. Earlier this week, I introduced a bill in Congress to renew the federal wind power production tax, and expand it to cover all renewable technologies. This will help states and businesses develop solutions. This legislature also needs to review deregulation legislation and the actions of the Public Utilities Commission to determine what needs to be done, and with your suggestions, what I can do on a national level, to help.

We need to improve our transportation system all over the State of Nevada. Ten years ago, I held my first transportation summits here in Nevada. These summits were successful for many reasons—not the least of which was—because this legislature provided counties with ways to raise revenue to build the infrastructure to sustain the growth of the last ten years. Today, a decade later, we see we need to do more.

This summer I will have a new summit—to explore ways that government in Nevada, in conjunction with Congress and Nevada business leaders, can accommodate the 75,000 to 85,000 new people who arrive every year, with a system of transportation that will preserve our unique beauty, protect our air, our water, our neighborhoods, and our sense of community. Good fortune has put me in a position in the Senate—as ranking member of the Public Works Committee, the Transportation Appropriations Subcommittee, and my role as Assistant Leader—to help address Nevada's problems at the federal level. I accept this obligation and I ask you to help me have a successful term.

Our challenge today is to ensure that all parts of Nevada—from Ely to Elko, from Las Vegas to Lake Tahoe, from Sparks to Searchlight, from Reno to Rhyolite—remain the kind of places that engage not only our minds and bodies, but touch our hearts and souls. We need to ensure that Nevada remains the kind of place where people come not only to visit, but to live, work, and raise their families—because Nevada is our home.

I began today speaking about Searchlight, because it is like so many towns and cities in Nevada and America—one can see and feel significant change. We must plan for the future—for change will come. Las Vegas will change. Reno will change. Winnemucca will change. Fallon, Yerington, Ely, and Elko—all will evolve. I call Searchlight home. I call Nevada home.

We all care, or we wouldn't be here. Let's work together. Let's plan together. Let's legislate together. Because Nevada is our home.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Price requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal:

ASSEMBLYMAN NOLAN:

At the very least...we should recognize this man, Ronald Reagan, as an American citizen who has lived nearly a century and whose 90th birthday was February 6, 2001;

At the very least...We should recognize this man as a senior citizen who has succumbed to a broken hip, an injury which afflicts and incapacitates our nation's parents and grandparents on an “hourly” basis, but even as he was in excruciating pain, had the presence of mind to be lighthearted with the paramedics treating him;

At the very least...We should recognize this man as a brilliant, talented person who has a lifetime of extraordinary experiences and accomplishments and probably will not be able to, in the autumn of his life, remember or reflect upon these, let alone recognize the people who love him and who are closest to him because he suffers from Alzheimer's...a disease which undoubtedly affects or will affect someone we love;

At the very least...We should recognize this man as a person who, in the course of human history, has achieved what only a few amongst millions of people have achieved—becoming the leader of the greatest nation on the earth;

At the very least...We should recognize this man as the 40th President of the United States of America—being elected by three fifths of the nation's voters, winning the electoral votes of 49 states—a record that shows bipartisan popularity that has not been surpassed either before or since;

At the very least...We should recognize this man as the one person who catalyzed the elimination of the immediate threat of nuclear holocaust to the world by communicating face-to-face with a communist ruler, Mikhail Gorbachev, in a way only he could, and by standing in front of the very icon for human rights indignation and deprivation and demanding to that same dictator, "Mr. Gorbachev, tear down this wall!" And down it came;

At the very least...We should recognize this man as a cancer survivor, being diagnosed not only once but twice with colon cancer and then prostate cancer and being among those few who survive these terrible diseases;

At the very least...We should recognize this man as a man who made good on his God given ability to naturally express himself and make others laugh, by providing others enjoyment through lost mediums like "the squawk box," "the tube," "the silver screen," and even the endangered species "the stage"—a gift, which later earned him worldwide and historic recognition as the "Great Communicator."

At the very least...We should recognize this man as a person who, like so many of our citizens, was the victim of violence, being gunned down on a public street, a bullet puncturing a lung and lodging within an inch of his heart. But even as dozens scurried to save his life, he had the uncommon ability to make light of the gravity of the moment by looking at the chief surgeon and saying, "Please tell me you're a Republican."

At the very least...We should recognize this man as a husband to a wonderful and talented woman in her own right to who, even in the contemplation of worldwide disasters, wars and other overwhelming daily events, took the time to write romantic poetry, send flowers and publicly praise;

At the very least...We should recognize this man as a little boy, who once only wanted to grow up to be a cowboy; and

At the very least, We should recognize this man, Ronald Reagan, as a human being born to this earth with all the same human frailties and imperfections as are all of God's children, but when he leaves this place he will leave it the same way he himself would ask of any of his fellow human beings, and that is to leave the world a better place than when he arrived.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROWER:

I remind this body that this is the birthday of our 16th president, Abraham Lincoln, who watches over this chamber every day. I thought I would share with the body a brief quote from the speech Abraham Lincoln made in 1860, which I think is appropriate to our efforts here. President Lincoln said, "Let us have the faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty, as we understand it."

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

President Lincoln was very studious of the law though he did not go to law school; however, he did pass the bar exam for Illinois because they required someone to be of good character. I thought this was an interesting note to share with this body.

United States Senator John Ensign delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA SEVENTY-FIRST SESSION, 2001

Good evening and thank you, Mr. Speaker, Governor, Lieutenant. Governor, Mr. Majority Leader and other distinguished leaders:

I would be remiss if I did not say hello to Senator McGinness. The Senator's son, Ryan, works for me back in Washington, D.C. I am very fortunate because I have many Nevadans working for me; I am especially happy, Senator, to have your son; he is doing a great job.

I was reminded again today as I drove down from Reno how much Nevada has changed, and how much Nevadans have not. As a teenager living in northern Nevada, I made that drive many times. Slide Mountain and Washoe Lake look a little different from Highway 395 than they did from Old Washoe Valley Road, but the Nevadans having breakfast at Heidi's or a late lunch at Adele's haven't changed much at all. They are still talking about family weekends and Nevada values.

I am proud to speak to you today as a fourth generation Nevadan, as well as the 24th person elected from this state to serve in the United States Senate. I would like to acknowledge the man I replaced, a gifted leader in the Nevada Legislature, the state house and in the U.S. Senate, Dick Bryan. I will endeavor to serve Nevada as honorably as he did.

I have been in the Senate for a little more than a month. The first time I walked on the Senate floor, I felt—I suspect—much like many of you when you entered this hall for the first time after you were elected – exhilarated, yet humbled. I felt a sense of intense obligation and responsibility to my state, and to my nation.

It is this responsibility we share, federal and state legislators alike, which necessitates our working together first as Nevadans, above political party, above legislative body, above special interests. My message today is simple.

First, I want you to know that I am working for you in Washington, D.C. I need your input and ideas to be an effective leader for Nevada. My door is always open to those of you with issues and concerns.

Secondly, bipartisanship may be the cliché in Washington D.C., but I intend to work with people of all political persuasions to find and advance solutions to Nevada's and our country's challenges. An example of that bipartisanship can be found in the relationship Senator Harry Reid and I have developed. It started from the moment I was elected to office. We met and made a commitment to keep the lines of communication open and to work together. We talk on the phone several times a week and often have face-to-face meetings to discuss issues. The effort to work together extends to our staffs as well. Once a week Harry and I join our staffs for an informal breakfast to welcome Nevadans to Washington D.C. The gathering also gives us a chance to meet our constituents and listen to their concerns.

I have learned nurturing one-on-one relationships are a key to success in politics. I have spent the first few weeks in Washington D.C. meeting individually with members of the Senate. I do this because you can't expect someone to vote with you or support your issues if they do not know who you are or what you stand for.

During the campaign I promised to be a strong voice while fighting for issues Nevadans care about most—issues like making our schools the best in the nation—and our nation's schools the best in the world; making health care more affordable and accessible. I will fight to pass a National Patient Bill of Rights providing our seniors, throughout the country and here at home, with prescription drugs.

With the Nevada delegation I reaffirm my commitment to keep deadly nuclear waste out of our state.

President Bush has made education a top priority for the country and Governor Guinn has deemed it a top priority for our state. For me education is not only my top priority, it is my passion. Education has also become an economic issue. For our young people to compete in a global economy, they must have a great education.

Earlier today I met with a group of children and parents at Mendive Middle School. I was there to help honor more than 300 students for achieving excellence in citizenship. I applauded the students, their parents and their teachers for making character development as an important part of education.

I know that leaders of both parties in this hall share education as a top priority. Our teachers should be paid more, but also be held accountable. And one of the most important things we must do for education is to allow our teachers and administrators to put discipline back in the classroom. In addition, for the first time, we must fully fund the federal share of special education.

Within a few weeks, the U.S. Senate will debate and vote on the Bush Education Plan, which incorporates these principals. During this debate I will fight to change the federal formula the government uses to disperse money to the states so Nevada students receive their fair share. In addition, this funding must come back to Nevada with drastically fewer federal mandates. Years ago, Kenny Guinn signed my high school diploma. I trust Kenny, the Nevada Legislature, and local school districts to have the needed flexibility to spend this money in ways that best help our children.

As an example, I want to allow federal dollars to complement programs like the Governor Guinn's initiative to ensure elementary students are reading at grade level by the end of the third grade. This mirrors the reading goals set by the President Bush's education plan. I also believe we need to make Head Start an early reading program instead of a daycare program.

When I talk about accountability, I want to be very clear that this debate will not rise or fall on vouchers. President Bush's plan does include vouchers. It works by allowing parents to control Title I funding if schools fail them three years in a row.

Recently I met with a group of Nevada educators in Washington D.C. We had a frank discussion about school vouchers. Some told me they are not in favor of voucher programs. I, in turn, challenged them – come up with a better system that accomplishes these two things: hold the school accountable for the failure to educate our children and come up with a plan that actually helps the students that fail.

Our state's motto is "Battle Born." In addition, we face an uphill "battle" in Washington D.C. in our fight against nuclear waste and in our effort to ban legal college sports betting, a move that would hurt our state's economy. We in the Congress, State Legislature, and Nevadans as a whole are facing legislative fights that are tantamount to the biblical battle between David and Goliath.

Working closely with our senior Senator, Harry Reid, I will continue to take our fight to every senator and directly to the new administration. As we say, there's a new sheriff in town in Washington, D.C. who will certainly impact these Nevada issues.

During the presidential campaign then-Governor Bush made certain promises. We intend to hold the Bush Administration to those promises. The good news is it appears the temporary nuclear waste dump is dead and that's great for Nevada. Now we must give 31 other states an alternative to storing their nuclear waste at Yucca Mountain.

Last week funding for new nuclear waste recycling technology, known as transmutation, was kicked off with a $34 million grant at one of our national labs in New Mexico. This is good, but it's only a start.

For the first time ever, our Governor—in a bipartisan spirit—is committing substantial resources to educating other states on the dangers of nuclear waste. This $5 million investment together with local and private funds will assist our efforts in Washington D.C. to educate communities across the country. The battle on nuclear waste is a battle we cannot afford to lose.

Another threat to our state is the effort to ban legal sports betting. Last week our Congressional Delegation introduced legislation to combat illegal sports betting. Our bill attacks the problem instead of just being a cosmetic fix. It gives money and personnel to the Justice Department to fight organized crime and illegal sports betting. It also holds colleges and universities accountable for educating students on the problems of illegal gambling. Let's keep legal sports gambling legal, well-regulated, and go after the real problem—illegal sports betting.

I have the honor of serving on several committees crucial to Nevada interests in the Senate: Commerce, Banking, the Special Committee on Aging, and the Small Business Committee. The Commerce Committee, and in particular, the Subcommittee on Aviation is an important position as we try to get more flights into Nevada. Our country needs several new airports. These new airports can provide for new direct flights into Nevada. From the Banking Committee's jurisdiction on mass transit, I'll be working to help ensure the funding for the monorail in southern Nevada that is so desperately needed.

I will also continue my focus on health issues. Medicare is especially important to us because of Nevada's aging population. Today many seniors are forced to choose between buying their next meal or prescription medication. No one should have to make that choice. I am proud that while Congress was gridlocked, Nevada acted as one and led the nation in trying to solve the problem. I have worked closely with the Governor's Office and will work to ensure whatever we do at the federal level fits well with what you have already done. I fully expect a bill adding a prescription drug benefit to Medicare will be signed into law this year.

I can remember when places like Fernley and Pahrump were truly considered part of rural Nevada. Now they are becoming bedroom communities for Reno and Las Vegas. With these changes, issues such as transportation funding, air quality, and school construction become more important to more Nevadans. We must not forget, however, that throughout rural Nevada communities are losing ground and losing jobs. The mining industry is defending itself from onerous regulations and the shrinking of the tax base is crushing rural schools.

Education, nuclear waste alternatives, prescription drug coverage for our seniors, the NCAA betting ban, and protecting our unique environment, are issues upon which we can come together. We must also remember we all have a responsibility to listen and fight for our fellow Nevadans—we can't afford to get lost in the shuffle of self-interest. Now is the time to focus and work together for our children, our parents, and our fellow Nevadans.

Thank you for your time. God Bless Nevada and God Bless America.

United States Representative Jim Gibbons delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-FIRST SESSION, 2001

Thank you very much. Governor Guinn, Speaker Perkins, Lieutenant Governor Hunt, Senate Leaders Raggio and Titus and Assembly Leaders Buckley and Hettrick and Speaker Emeritus Dini; and my good friend Bernie Anderson, of course. I get to call him Bernie because he and I grew up in Sparks together two blocks apart. Members of the Legislature, Supreme Court Justices, Constitutional Officers and my fellow Nevadans:

I'm truly honored to be here this evening to speak to you, especially since I know the hour is late and you have all had a very long day. I want to also thank you for arranging a vehicle and a driver for me, to ensure that I made it to the State Capitol today. I must say, the vehicle and driver arrived at my door very promptly, right on time. But we were a little delayed in getting here. You see, the gas tank was empty. And so was the wallet of the driver. Now, don't get me wrong, please, I'm not talking about Bill Raggio, but the driver made a demand I pay the tab. I recall the words specifically, "It is either my way or the highway, Congressman." So I paid promptly. And yes, I got the message. We do need to do something about those high fuel costs.

So, thank you, Dawn, for driving me to the Capitol today. It is always a momentous event. And I want to thank you also for leading me into the Chambers with my good friend Senator McGinness to make sure that I'm here to talk to your esteemed colleagues.

To all of you who serve our great state, I want to say thank you. Thank you for your commitment that you continue to show your constituents, that you show our state, you show your friends, and you show your families.

Having just entered my third term in the House of Representatives, I would like to take this opportunity to address what is on the national agenda and how it will affect Nevada. Let me also say that our bi-partisan delegation is firmly committed to finding new and creative ways to target the war on any nuclear waste legislation that targets Nevada. We are also fighting against federal efforts to regulate and ban portions of our gaming industry as well as protecting Nevada's important mining industry from being regulated out of business, out of the state, and out of existence. Clearly, our small delegation has its work cut out for it, but as I look out on this chamber this evening, I cannot think of more dedicated individuals to work with than you in solving these issues. When it comes to the many, yet unseen, challenges that Nevada faces, working together is an extreme pleasure. Challenges we all face—challenges like reapportionment and redistricting that are necessary for all of us to give the citizens of this great state fair and responsive representation. Challenges of the ongoing energy crisis and finding solutions to protect the rate payers of this state from a crisis like that in California. I have every faith that you will do everything in your power to protect the residential customer and the utility industry.

Nationally, Congress has its own challenges on a broad basis and on a broad scale. Last year, Nevada implemented a program to offer affordable drug prescriptions to our seniors: Senior Rx. I know you will continue to improve upon it, but now Congress must follow Nevada's lead and do it on a national basis. We must look at the future of our retirement programs, as well, ensuring for our working families that they have a viable retirement program. Today we have a workforce whose jobs are at stake because the downward national trends in our economy and who, as recent polls would indicate, are becoming less and less optimistic that a viable Social Security system will even be there for them when they retire. These are challenges. Challenges which neither you nor I can afford to ignore.

Our nation and indeed our state's greatest challenge and highest priority is, and always will be, education. Friends, in my previous address to this body, I began by talking about education. This evening, I will continue that trend. I will continue to stress that education is first, last and always about our children and not about an organization.

As lawmakers, each new session presents us with a new list of priorities. During the 1999 Legislative Session, Governor Guinn and this body made great education success prioritizing education and passing and creating what is known as the Millennium Scholarship program. I congratulate you. Every child, regardless of economic income, should have the right to a quality education. I would also like to take a moment, at this time, to congratulate Assemblywoman Debbie Smith on her efforts in education. Her legislation which encourages parents to take a more active role in education of their children. Congratulations to you.

Assemblywoman Smith is correct. We need to increase the role of parents in the day to day education of their children. We need parents, teachers, and local school boards to make the decisions about what their children need. Yes, we must increase our investment in education. We need to get those dollars down into the classrooms and the Washington, D.C. mandates out. We must also increase our investment in special education and fully fund the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA).

During the four years I have been in Congress, we have increased education spending by nearly ten percent each and every year. We will continue to do so. With that increased investment comes a call for accountability. Accountability that helps us plan and improve our education system and our schools. Now, please, this evening, join with me for a moment and envision an America where all children receive a world-class education; an opportunity to achieve their dreams in a safe school, in every community. Envision, if you will, an America where the best and brightest teach our children and every child can read by the third grade. Envision an America where every child graduates from high school and every high school graduate has access to a college or university and can go on to higher education. That vision, ladies and gentlemen, our vision, must become a reality for every child.

In order to fulfill that reality—a reality that offers hope and opportunity for every child—we must give schools and teachers greater flexibility to decide what the educational needs are of each child. Then give them the flexibility to apply local solutions to those needs. We must require that our schools offer a few, clear measurable goals—not thirty or forty—focused on basic skills and essential knowledge. It has been said that education is about results, not theories; it is about knowledge, not intentions; it is about children, not institutions. As the great Yogi Berra once said, “If you don’t know where you are going, chances are you will end up someplace else.”

We need to know where we are going with the education of our children. Children must have teachers, schools and programs that not only demand but meet higher standards. For example, I applaud the Washoe County School Board’s recent decision to make the seventh grade honors level math class the norm for all seventh graders. That is a step in the right direction. Local decisions like that will help our children not only be prepared for a college education, but better prepared for the technological world of challenges in the 21st Century. We do not need Washington, D.C. based mandates placed on our local schools. Nevada simply has higher standards. I stand here tonight committed to working with each of you for that Nevada vision becoming a Nevada reality for every Nevada child.

I must applaud each and every one of you in this chamber. You remain actively involved in the education and the prosperity of our children. By working together, we will not let them down, nor will we allow or permit their hopes to fade.

As much as we owe our children the brightest possible future, we also owe our seniors the security of a bright tomorrow. All seniors have earned the right and deserve a secure retirement. Congress and the White House are working together on a plan to secure the retirement of every American by locking away the trust funds intended for Social Security and Medicare. My friends, what may seem like a very sensible idea has actually been an uphill struggle. An uphill fight that we are just now beginning to see major progress on. Factually, it is interesting to note that we have nearly 76 million “baby boomers.” This is one third of the United States population. Seventy six million “baby boomers” of my generation marching towards retirement, creating the greatest demographic challenge that this nation has ever faced. Our government is currently not prepared to meet their needs. If we let rhetoric get in the way, and just do nothing, Medicare could be insolvent in the near future. In just a few years, Social Security could be in the “red.” Clearly, the implications are frightening.

Currently, many seniors rely on Social Security for nearly one-half of their income. Medicare provides a staggering amount of our elderly seniors with basic health insurance coverage. I do not believe either of those facts will change in the near future. The stability of that retirement system is critical to the future of all seniors. That is why this Congress has stopped the 30 year raid on the Social Security Trust Fund.

The concept we used to accomplish that is a “lockbox.” In essence, it is a safety deposit box to ensure no politician dips into our senior’s retirement security. The latest Congressional Budget Office estimate indicates your federal government will accrue a $5.6 trillion budget surplus over the next ten years. The “lockbox” bill, passed last week by the House of Representatives and sent to the United States Senate, essentially locks away $2.9 trillion of the surplus coming from Social Security and the Medicare trust funds.

Now Congress must always apply 100 percent of the Social Security and Medicare surpluses to only those retirement programs. The bill will prohibit all future Congresses from ever dipping into or borrowing from your retirement funds. Tampering with the retirement of people who have contributed and worked so hard is just simply unconscionable and unacceptable. I look forward to making the “lockbox” a standard practice in the retirement security of all taxpayers, guaranteeing the retirement of all taxpaying Americans.

While we are securing the future of our seniors, let us not forget to keep our promises that we made to our Veterans. Nevada has one of the fastest growing veteran populations in the nation.

Let each of us take just a moment and pause to consider what we owe every son and daughter who ever served our nation. Consider whatever way they sacrificed to protect our freedoms. My friends, it is simply more than just a new Veteran's home in Boulder City, or a new outpatient clinic in Douglas County. While we are clearly very proud of those wonderful accomplishments, our veterans deserve our greatest and deepest gratitude.

They deserve that gratitude not only on Veterans' Day, but every day. During the last session of Congress, we increased Veterans' health care funding by more than 3 billion dollars, which was the largest increase in veterans health care in recent history. In addition, Congress mandated long-term health care for disabled veterans. We created a pilot program to test "Medicare subvention," where Medicare will reimburse the Veterans Administration for the cost of treating Medicare-eligible veterans. To make sure we could deliver this health care we gave nearly 35,000 VA nurses and other health care professionals a much needed pay raise. In a special outreach program, Congress authorized 240 million dollars in assistance to our homeless veterans. Homeless veterans are a crime and a shame for this nation. No veteran should ever be homeless. I have included this information to show our veterans here in the audience tonight, like Senator Lawrence Jacobsen, that your country cares and appreciates what you have done and continue to do for us and our great nation, that the spirit that made this country great hasn't been extinguished. We will continue to expand on our care of veterans, in keeping with the promises we made to them—for their sacrifice.

Ladies and gentlemen, we must also ensure our nation's military is prepared and ready to meet the challenges ahead. Tonight, I would like to welcome a good friend to this chamber. Captain Dave Rogers, Commanding Officer of the Naval Air Station at Fallon. Captain, we are happy to have you here. All of us appreciate the sacrifices you make every day in the protection of our nation. Over the last several years, our military budget has been dangerously cut. The result has been a lack of military readiness and a diminished ability to defend our national interests both at home and abroad. Our military has been overstretched, overcommitted and with more than 265,000 troops spread across 135 countries around the world you can understand how dangerously thin our military has been stretched. Already this year, our military services have identified a total of nearly 10 billion dollars in additional needs for critical, high priority programs such as personnel, readiness, and modernization. Ten billion dollars just to stop the further decline of our military.

Overarching our national military strength is the daunting fact that the ballistic missile threat to the United States is broader, more mature and evolving more rapidly than even our intelligence community had first thought. This has been highlighted by the recent missile flight tests in North Korea and Iran. Furthermore, recent terrorist attacks on our embassies in Africa, the USS Cole, and several civilian kidnappings show that both civilian and military personnel around the world, as well as our structures and our infrastructure are at a higher risk than ever before. As a nation, we must commit to training, rebuilding, re-equipping, modernizing, and expanding our investment in our training facilities—such as the Naval Air Station in Fallon and Nellis Air Force Base in Las Vegas, the two Ph.D. schools where our military aviators learn to fly and learn to fight. We must continue developing, and eventually deploying, a national missile defense system. We must put the necessary resources into our intelligence community and agencies in order to ensure the safety and security of America, both at home and abroad.

As a corollary to all of this, the security of America rests as much with our ability to provide the mineral and metal resources to fuel our economy as it does with providing our metal and mineral resources in rebuilding and modernizing our military. Nevada's contribution to our nation's economic and military security has been threatened, threatened by extensive land withdrawals which prohibit mineral development and threatened by federal management policies and regulations that prevent exploration and development of existing mining operations. During the past several years, administrative decisions made 2,000 miles away in Washington D.C. have left Nevada's number two industry unable to provide the needs of our growing economy. Rather than federal agencies working with our mining and other public land use interests to develop our national resources in a scientific, environmental, and common sense approach, we get—thousands upon thousands of pages of burdensome rules and regulations designed primarily to kick mining out of Nevada and to prevent any future public activity on our public lands. Indeed, our mining industry faces an uncertain future in Nevada and all across America. That is difficult news to accept as mining is a very important part of our economy.

The average person consumes 44,000 pounds of mined minerals and metals each year. The products of mining are everywhere in our lives, and are a critical part of every American's quality of life. Even down to the little white filling in an Oreo cookie. The white in that Oreo cookie includes titanium. Without that mined mineral, we would not have Oreo cookies. You know the old saying, "If it isn't grown, it has to be mined." The most extensive federal regulations applicable to mining are known as the 3809 Regulations. Draconian changes to these regulations were promulgated in the 11th hour of the last administration. These, now punitive rules are expected to cost over 3,200 hard-working Nevadans their jobs and negatively impact the State of Nevada's economy by approximately 300 million dollars. If mining in the United States is regulated to the point of extinction, making the United States dependent on foreign-mined minerals and metals, as we currently are dependant on oil and gas supplies, we will have an economic nightmare on our hands. A crisis that will seriously affect not only every person in this room and across America, but will affect our national security as well. I cannot say with more passion and conviction that we must do whatever we can, individually and collectively, to support not only our mining industry, but the mining employees and their families as well.

I know there are members of the legislature here tonight, like Assemblymen Lynn Hettrick, my good friend Roy Neighbors, John Carpenter, John Marvel, Assemblywoman Marcia de Braga, and Senators Dean Rhoads, and Mike McGinness, just to name a few, who know all too well and understand that "mining works for Nevada." As the newly appointed vice-chairman of the Subcommittee on Energy and Mineral Resources, I will continue to support this important industry, as well as the families who are such an important part of our great state. I will work with this administration to develop common sense reforms to this regulatory nightmare so that 3,200 Nevada families never have to bear the burden of a "pink slip."

Folks, there is more to mining than just mining. One of my proudest accomplishments was passing legislation that will build a coalition of groups like the University of Nevada, the Corps of Engineers, private companies and individuals working together to help clean up Nevada's abandoned mines. Proudly, this legislation was backed and supported by industry leaders as well as most environmental and land management groups. Once in place, it will help demonstrate that we can work with, and protect and preserve our environment without excluding the public from our public lands.

There are also concerns in our state about our water resources. Carson City, Fallon, and rural Nevada communities are facing the daunting task of reducing the high levels of dangerous minerals, like arsenic, in their water. I applaud the strong efforts of Assemblywoman Marcia de Braga for her leadership in investigating the tragic incidents in Fallon with childhood leukemia. We applaud you for your hard work. This is an area which I firmly believe the federal government must participate in and it must pony up its share of necessary resources to help our rural communities fund this effort.

This past year, we were finally able, I am proud to say, to deliver on the three year old promise to commit federal funds toward the clean-up and protection of Lake Tahoe. May I say it was about time! As General Lee Butler once said, "The worst mistake is to have the best ladder up against the wrong wall." It was nice to see that after all the letter writing from our delegation, the efforts of the Nevada Legislature, and the contributions of the State of Nevada, the federal government is finally stepping up to help preserve and protect Lake Tahoe.

You know, after 2002, I am going to miss representing 99.8 percent of the State of Nevada. It will take some major adjustments on my part to go from 99.8 percent to—well—probably 89.8 percent. I will try my best to get through it, realizing that many ideas have been floated about as to how the congressional districts should be drawn. I remain adamant that this process must remain open and fair. We must do what is in the best interests of Nevada—and not the sole interest of an individual or individual politician. It has been my experience that representing both urban and rural issues in Nevada doesn't weaken us as a delegation—it makes us stronger. Let me assure you, representing the farmer in Fallon requires the same diligence as obtaining vital and critical transportation funding for Las Vegas. It is the same passion required to help the miner in Eureka that is required to fight for the rancher in Amargosa Valley. The same enthusiasm is required to push for a new elementary school in Incline Village as is required to provide for a new airport in Clark County. I am also pleased to be joined tonight by Incline Elementary School Principal, Harry Haaser. Principal Haaser was a critical and key component in getting a new school for Incline Village, a school that required the process of congressional legislation. It was a struggle and principal Haaser was an incredible part of that moving force. We look forward to the opening of your new school in the near future; we will be there for that. It has been an honor and privilege for me to represent such a wide variety of interests over the past four years. Whether those interests have been urban or rural, we have put up a tough fight and we have done a lot of good on behalf of all Nevadans.

In closing my remarks this evening, I would like to dedicate this evening to a dear friend, and former colleague who is no longer with us—someone who many of us shared this very chamber with, and who we all came to admire, respect and love—our friend—Jan Evan. Jan Evans could envision an America where all children could receive a world-class education and an opportunity to achieve their dreams in a safe school in every community—an America where every child graduates from high school, and where every high school graduate has access to a college or university education. Jan Evans envisioned an America where all seniors enjoy a secure retirement, and where all seniors have access to affordable, high quality health care—including prescription drug benefits. Jan Evans envisioned a strong America where every person is at peace with themselves, at peace with their neighbors, and—at peace with their God. Jan—we miss you.

Thank you for allowing me to speak to you this evening, and may God bless each and every one of you. Good night.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Reverend Albert Tilstra.

Our Father, we come before You today and we would not want to come to weary You with our constant begging. We thank You for lessons to learn and for work to do. May we apply ourselves to both. As Your servants here sincerely seek to do right, make it plain to them. Knowing that criticism will come, help them to take from it what is helpful and to forgive what is unjust and unkind. In the middle of all the pressures brought on them, may they ever hear Your still small voice and follow Your guidance for the good of all the people, that Your will may be done in this state, through these Your servants. In Your Name we pray.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 21, 2001

To the Honorable the Assembly:

Chief Justice Maupin delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-FIRST SESSION, 2001

Governor Guinn, Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker, Constitutional Officers, members of the Nevada State Senate, and members of the Nevada State Assembly:

It is my privilege to address you tonight on the State of the Nevada Judiciary and I thank you for this opportunity. In this I speak on behalf of my colleagues on the State Supreme Court, our 56 colleagues around the state who serve in our district courts, our 97 colleagues around this state who serve as municipal court judges and justices of the peace, and our colleagues who serve in the capacity of administrative law judges.

As many of you know, certainly those of you with whom I campaigned in two consecutive elections, the entirety of my adult life has been devoted to the Nevada legal system, either as a practicing lawyer or as a member of the judiciary. Never have I been more proud of the men and women who serve the people of this state as judges and lawyers than I am at this moment. When you hear what these dedicated public servants have accomplished since Chief Justice Bob Rose spoke to you two years ago, I am quite confident you will join me in that sense of pride.

Also, as I intend to make quite clear, the vast majority of these accomplishments could not have occurred without the partnership that I believe the Nevada judiciary has formed with the legislature, the executive branch, and with the various county and city governments in this state. These partnerships have served this state well and I can now say without reservation that the people working in your judicial system have made every effort to maximize available resources to improve the delivery of formal dispute resolution to our citizens.

In terms of general administration of the court system I would point out the following:

In December, we published the judiciary's first-ever annual report containing uniform caseload statistics for every district, justice, and municipal court in Nevada. This report contains information that you have requested, information that we are happy to provide, and information that is important in management at every level of the Nevada court system; Last year, we established the strong chief judge requirement in the urban districts. Working with local judges, we also adopted comprehensive case management rules in the large districts, which have already paid great dividends in increased productivity and accountability to the people of Nevada;

We have upgraded the Nevada Judicial Council by developing uniform standards for judicial administrative performance, court security, and court facilities;

The Supreme Court formed a committee of judges, law enforcement representatives and family advocates to develop standards, including forms, to be used in domestic violence cases, and we have ordered all courts to use the new forms;

We developed a manual for trial courts to improve collections on all levels;

With the help of the private bar, we are now nearing completion of an Appellate Practice Manual to aid lawyers and their clients with the complex process of appellate litigation;

We also created a blue ribbon committee to revise and modernize the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure so that litigation in our trial courts will become more user-friendly;

We have enacted rules to implement the Short Trial Program passed as part of the Nevada Arbitration Act by the 1999 Legislature; and

We continue to review and improve the Court Annexed Arbitration System in place since July 1, 1992. This program regularly diverts a substantial percentage of the litigated damage cases out of the district courts of Washoe, Clark and Douglas counties, and Carson City.

In the Supreme Court itself, we are managing our caseload to maintain quality and to reduce one of the most serious backlogs of any appellate court in the country. That backlog developed as a result of a tremendous increase in case filings during the early and middle 1990s. Because Nevada has no intermediate appellate court and was comprised of only five justices with a relatively modest support staff of lawyers, the 1997 session allowed us to expand the court to seven justices and provided us with generous increases in our staff. I believe that our statistics, since then, demonstrate excellent use of these resources.

At the close of calendar year 1997, our pending case inventory was 2521 cases, certainly one of the five largest inventories in the country. Three years later, at the end of calendar year 2000, 1720 cases remained pending, a reduction of 801 cases. In non-governmental accounting terms, this is a reduction of 32 percent. Our own internal case management measures have contributed to this as well. The Civil Settlement Program, which you have also funded, is still resolving between fifty and sixty percent of the civil appeals lodged with the court. The Fast-track Program for processing criminal appeals has substantially increased the speed with which we are disposing of those cases. Finally, with the resources provided to us by you, we have made significant headway in the reduction of the backlog of prisoner litigation.

Long term, we will continue to advocate for an intermediate appellate court. Although recognizing we now operate both as an intermediate appeals court and a court of final appeal, and recognizing that we can justify an intermediate court system based upon the sheer size of our caseload, we have determined not to press for the second leg of the legislative process that would lead to the intermediate appellate court being placed on the general election ballot in 2002. This is reflective of the fact that, as of now, we continue to reduce the backlog. I must emphasize, however, that this trend cannot continue indefinitely given the growth picture of this state, particularly in southern Nevada. Thus, we will be asking you to again re-submit the resolution for creation of the intermediate appeals court in a form that would, if passed by two consecutive legislative sessions, result in the new court being placed on the ballot for approval by the voters in the year 2004.

Turning to the Eighth Judicial District, our largest district court system: Last year, over 62,000 civil, criminal, family, and juvenile matters were filed in the Eighth Judicial District. Of these matters 17,489 were civil cases, 8,266 were criminal cases, and 36,584 were family and juvenile cases. Thus the upward trend in filings across the board continues in that district;

In calendar year 2000, 7657 civil filings in Clark County were routed through the court annexed arbitration program. Of these, 2268 cases were settled prior to an arbitration hearing; 2510 resulted in formal awards; and 1242 cases proceeded into district court on requests for trial de novo. Since this program was enacted in 1992, over 30,200 cases have gone through the program. Less than one percent of these have actually gone to trial. We are therefore very satisfied with the enormous success of the program. And most recently, we conducted training of over seventy-five additional arbitrators statewide.

Turning to the Family Division of the Eighth Judicial District: In the calendar year 1999, the Family Division of the Eighth Judicial District closed almost 17,000 matters. Further, the Clark County family court partnered with Clark County Commissioner Myma Williams, Assembly Majority Floor Leader Barbara Buckley and Clark County Legal Services in the implementation of the Children's Attorney's Project. This innovative new program provides legal representation to children in the court system, giving priority to abused and neglected children. According to the first annual report on this project, some 1400 children per year are taken from their parents in Clark County due to abuse and neglect. District Judge Gerry Hardcastle, who played a pivotal role in obtaining grant funding and in the implementation of the program, advises that some 70 private attorneys have already volunteered to participate in the representation of these children. Some 9300 hearings were conducted in fiscal year 1999-2000, on 6543 child support cases. The Clark County District Court Administrator advises me that over $100,000,000 in child support payments were collected over a two-year period through the combined efforts of the family court, the district attorney, and the Nevada State Welfare Division. The Clark County Family Mediation Center provided mediation services to 3275 families with a success rate of 78.4 percent in child custody matters. The Clark County Family Court processed over 14,500 new applications for protective orders against domestic violence; issued 4200 emergency orders; implemented use of new forms approved by the Administrative Office of the Courts for statewide use; and made possible electronic transfer of protective order information to the state and criminal records repository through the use of Department of Motor Vehicles and Public Safety grant funding. Finally, the Family Division of the Eighth Judicial District has drafted a comprehensive set of local case management rules. Since our approval of these measures last year, the productivity and quality of resolutions at the Family Division continues to improve. I think that presiding Judge Dianne Steel and her colleagues have done everything possible to maximize the resources provided to them. I note that Judge Steele is in the audience tonight, a former colleague of yours, and I think that a round of applause for the efforts of this court is in order.

Like their counterparts in Las Vegas, our Washoe County district judges of the Second Judicial District have taken aggressive measures to improve the management of their very serious criminal, civil and domestic caseloads.

Since your last session, the Second Judicial District, as part of its Strong Chief Judge System, has adopted a no-continuance policy in civil cases. This means that no trials are being cancelled or postponed due to court calendar congestion. This, of course, has increased the number of settled cases and maintains the local practice of having a vast majority of matters resolved within one year of the commencement of the civil litigation process. In a prime example of this, Judge Jim Hardesty advises that a complex medical products case with multiple defendants and thirty-five plaintiffs was resolved within ten months of filing under the new case management regimen adopted in Washoe County.

In criminal cases, the Second Judicial District Court is currently working on new local rules for processing cases and has adopted a policy that allows the parties to agree to short postponements in pre-trial motions up to the end of business hours the day before hearings to save costs and avoid unnecessary security problems of transporting inmates from the county jail.

Turning to the Family Division of the Second Judicial District, presiding Family Division Judge Scott Jordan has instituted the SAFE program, which stands for special Advocate For Elders. This program—a collaborative effort of the District Court, the Nevada Division for Aging and others—is designed to recruit community volunteers to work with elderly persons who may have court appointed guardians. Volunteers assist in gathering information to assist the court in making decisions on the welfare of elderly clients of the program.

Along with every other judicial district in the state, the Second Judicial District is in the process of improving automation technology and improving its transmission of statistics to the Supreme Court and ultimately to you through the Uniform System for Judicial Records.

Moving to the statewide picture we are working with interim committees of the legislature and local district judges, instituting business court dockets in Clark and Washoe counties on an experimental basis. We believe this new docket management technique will enable us to more ably handle sophisticated business matters at no sacrifice to the management of other cases. Incidentally, Nevada is the first state west of the Mississippi River to do this.

The family divisions of the Eighth and Second Judicial Districts are in the process of implementing the one judge, one family legislation; including the current ongoing development of sophisticated software to accommodate the legislative mandate. This has made the system much more efficient and has significantly reduced the fragmentation of services and internal conflict in court orders. This is again a prime example of how the partnership formed between the legislature and the court system has successfully served the citizens of this state.

Courts in Carson City, Storey, Churchill, and Lyon counties have, with assistance from the administrative office of the courts, implemented a multi-county justice information system to streamline the collection and sharing of information in criminal cases. The Administrative Office of the Courts has also been coordinating with other rural courts to acquire a case management system for more than thirty of the smaller courts with insufficient resources to implement computer technology on their own.

The experiment with adult, family, and juvenile drug court programs continues to flourish and expand. Without question, our drug court judges throughout the state are demonstrating national leadership in this area. Judges Jack Lehman, Dianne Steel, and Jessie Walsh in Las Vegas and Judges Peter Breen, Chuck McGee and Deborah Schumacher in Reno continue to excel in these endeavors. I am now advised that Judge Mike Griffin, Carson City, and Judge Archie Blake, Yerington, are in the process of instituting drug court dockets in Carson City, Storey County, Lyon County, and Douglas County. There is also another important experiment with alcohol and drug related offenses going on in Judge Larry Sage's courtroom in Sparks. In this connection, I would like to additionally mention that District Judge Deborah Schumacher recently received a national award for her work in this area, and that one of her graduates received the Youth of the Year Award from the National Association of Drug Court Professionals. Going further, the Second District and several of our rural judges are now exploring the creation of mental health courts.

Last but not least in my incomplete list of the accomplishments of my colleagues, during the fiscal year 1999-2000, our justices of the peace and municipal judges have with great success wrestled with caseloads totaling over 890,000 criminal, civil and traffic related matters.

One last comment about our family court judges. I would like to express our appreciation for each and every one of these judges because, without question, they have the toughest assignments that exist in our state judicial system.

An important component of many of the accomplishments mentioned is volunteer service by members of the Nevada State Bar. These include pro bono representation of disadvantaged citizens, representation of children in the Family Court Child Representation Project, participation in the Habitat for Humanity project, committee work to revise procedural rules at all levels of the court system, service as mediators and arbitrators, and other roles too numerous to mention. Certainly, our Nevada lawyers have responded overwhelmingly to the call to participate in public service without expectation of compensation. Thus, I can state here tonight that our public is being well served by the Nevada legal profession.

I believe that the true state of the judiciary statewide is capsulized in a paragraph from a letter I recently received from Chief Judge Gene Porter of the Eighth Judicial District:

“While striving to maintain the highest standard of justice, the court is committed to finding creative and responsible solutions that improve public access and speedier dispute resolution for citizens. In pursuit of its vision and the healthy development of the court in the longer term, the judiciary, court administration, and staff hold fast to a steady course of meeting these needs through hard work, dedication, and innovation. This evolution is formed by an ever-growing public need and is served by creation of special courts and calendars, changes to local court rules, and development of special programs and enhanced services. Other on-going projects are gaining momentum that find solutions by merging technology with creative thought, resulting in the court's ability to better manage existing workloads, report performance, and achieve the ultimate goal of speedier justice for our citizens."

Interestingly ladies and gentlemen, until about five years ago, the court system was simply trying to deal with day-to-day survival. Now, it is clear to me that all your Supreme Court justices, district court judges, municipal court judges, justices of the peace and our administrative tribunals are thinking in terms of systems to manage and not simply reacting to the problems of burgeoning caseloads.

Before I conclude, let me say that our lawyers and judges continue every day to work together to provide access to the justice system for our people. Let me also say that our attorneys and judges, almost without statistical exception take pride in the fact that our democracy depends on lawyers and judges to make sure rights of redress are speedy, fair, and competent. But we cannot do that vital work without your assistance. In this, over the last several years, the members of this Legislature have stepped up to the plate and given us the essential tools to do this important work. On behalf of my colleagues, I thank you for this. Again, I say, the great strides of our judiciary I have enumerated here tonight could not have happened without the partnership formed between you and us.

I ask that you continue to embrace this very important partnership. In that partnership we will make this great state a much better and safer place for our fellow citizens.

Save these men and women, the chosen of the people, from the tyranny of the nonessential, from the weary round of that which saps strength, frays nerves, shortens life, and adds nothing to their usefulness to You and to the work they must do for this State. Help them to give themselves to the important and to recognize the trivial when they see it. Give them the courage to say “No” to everything that makes it more difficult to say “Yes” to You. In Your Holy Name we pray.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 27, 2001

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 13.

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 13.

Assemblyman Hettrick moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Hettrick, Anderson, Dini, Parnell, Marvel and Neighbors.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I was honored when I was asked to speak to this resolution. I really didn't know Archie Pozzi very well, but what I did know of him is depicted very well in this resolution. The first thing I remember about Archie was his sense of humor and a quick smile. Every time I saw him he was always quick to engage you in conversation. It was a pleasure to be around him and talk to him. I was impressed. I had no idea, frankly, of his diverse interests and the many things he did for the State of Nevada, particularly this area. It is with great honor I rise in support of this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the resolution. As a young man in high school I had the opportunity to be the manager on a basketball team, which played extensively in the state and frequently ran across the refereeing techniques of Mr. Pozzi, particularly at the state basketball tournaments. I oftentimes wished him ill, but then took great pride and joy in those magnificent calls he made for my teams. When I came here to the Legislature, I again had the opportunity to meet Mr. Pozzi and reminded him of the great anxiety I had whenever I would see him with that black and white shirt on, not knowing which way he was going to rule. I recognized the great warmth, the great idealism, and the great belief in children that he always possessed and his great vision for our great strong state—which all of his actions reflected. I had the opportunity to serve with him on the Cemetery Board of Northern Nevada, where he again espoused the views of the veterans and stood there to make sure that the veterans' cemetery rights were looked after and that that program went forward. He was a true man of vision, a man that cared for the people of our state, young and old, to make the game happen. I support the resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

I rise in support of the resolution. Archie and I go back a long way. I was, like my colleague from Sparks, in the basketball arena. Archie and Cardinale were two referees that refereed when I was in high school. They were the most hated referees in Yerington, because it was almost a cinch to lose the game if you were from Yerington and they were refereeing. At least that is the reputation they had—I hate to say that to his family.

In 1967, after reapportionment, I came into the Assembly and he went down to the Senate. I belonged to a group of gentlemen from the Assembly, who were all Republicans except me. Archie would come in every night when we were shooting pool in a local establishment. He gave us lessons on what we should do as legislators, especially if it was for Carson. He was always very devout to Carson, but was very strong with the rural counties, also. We had a lot of great times together: Bode Howard, Virgil Getto, and Roy Young from Elko. There were a whole group of old legislators here; I was just a freshman, along with Getto. We received a lot of instruction from Archie on how to handle bills that involved Carson City.

You could always bet he would be here real early to make a date for the National Commander of the American Legion to show up. He would hound me until he got a date confirmed. I would say, "Go down and see Raggio, the Senate is holding it up." I would harass him a little bit, but we always had that date set early because Archie was here beating us up to be sure we got that date. He became a great friend of mine and I enjoyed his knowledge and his care for the State of Nevada and the veterans of this state. We were working on the veterans' cemetery, the two cemeteries we have in the state; he was really interested in both. He came to me more than once because there was a battle going on about having one cemetery or two, and his support probably had more to do with us getting that bill out of the Senate. A congressman from southern Nevada opened his mouth and said we could only have one cemetery in the state. I think I was Speaker that year. We went down to the Senate with Archie, with a gun loaded with about 100 veterans from the State. We got two cemeteries. He was mostly responsible for getting both. He was a great friend and the State of Nevada is going miss to Archie Pozzi because of what he contributed to this state.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PARNELL:

I rise to support SCR 13. I am saddened because I really see that Carson City has lost a piece of history with the passing of Archie. I moved here in 1976 and there weren't many places you didn't see the name Pozzi. Driving down South 395 was Pozzi Motors. I used to drive up by the Governor's Mansion and one of my favorite houses still, particularly because of the wonderful job they used to do on the trees, was the Pozzi Mansion on Robinson Street. I was really very fortunate to meet Archie in about 1980. I stand today, as a Democrat with the reference in SCR 13 that Archie was a staunch Republican. I take great pride in calling Archi Pozzi a friend and hope that in return he would have called me one as well. A couple of things I would like to highlight. As a legislator, I think one of his greatest pieces of legislation was the one that gave the land that is now Western Nevada Community College. That certainly has been a great addition to this community. When I was at Archie's service I was just amazed when I heard that for 56 years Archie served in a leadership position for the American Legion. As a schoolteacher at the middle school, I was there when Archie came every June—until just this past one. He was always so proud to hand a deserving eighth grader that American Legion Award. I was able to share that with him for a number of years at the middle school. I see Archie Pozzi as someone who served his community, his state, and our great nation with a great sense of style. He will certainly be missed.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of SCR 13. I go back a long way knowing Archie. My original knowledge of him was from refereeing games. If you had children playing basketball you didn't swear at a referee. You used to say, "The referee has no father." Over the years, serving in the Legislature, I used to see Archie every session. I have a picture of Archie sitting with me. As a veteran, I really appreciate what Archie did for the veterans of not only the State of Nevada, but for the United States. Certainly we wish our condolences to all the members of the family and I want you to know I am certainly going to miss Archie.

ASSEMBLYMAN NEIGHBORS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I certainly rise in support of SCR 13. I first had the opportunity of meeting Archie in the early '60s. He had observed at the Nevada Test Site, in regard to vehicles, that every time they had a bomb go off or a major operation, hundreds of privately owned cars would be on the site. In an effort to get some taxes for the state and the area, he introduced AB 361, AB 157, and AB 159. These had to do with exempt property when it was used by a business conducted for profit. I was working for Nye County at the time and we looked at the bills and said "Wow, there is all kinds of property at the test site that is being used." Talking to Archie years later, it actually meant about $26 million to Nye County, the school districts, and everyone else when he went after the vehicles at the test site. I also had the privilege of working with Archie as I represented the Assembly on the Veterans' Service Commission where he was one of the members. He worked real hard. Very shortly we will be opening the new nursing home in Boulder City. He was instrumental in working with us to put that together.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 28, 2001

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 14.

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 14.

Assemblyman Brown moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Brown, Buckley and Humke.

Assemblyman Parks requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROWN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocate) is a program that helps abused children. Currently, there are over one million reported cases of child abuse each year in the United States. We have over 700 children in Nevada who are helped by CASA annually. There are 225 volunteer advocates in this program. Michelle and John Laws are two of those 225. They are an exemplary husband and wife team who have dedicated themselves to helping these abused and neglected children. The Laws, who are affiliated with the Clark County CASA program, have helped rescue abused children and given them the care they need for the past ten years. Michelle and John had to go through personal background checks and also were required to take up to 40 hours of training. As stated, Michelle takes care of one to two cases at any given time. She is required to do extensive research on each of the cases and makes appearances on their behalf in court as to what is in the best interests of each child. Of particular note, Michelle and John were awarded the 1997 Judges Award for Foster Parents in Clark County. Unfortunately, the Laws cannot be here with us today. Senator John Porter will be presenting them with the Senate Concurrent Resolution at a later date. I hope we will all join together in honoring Michelle and John Laws for their excellent work with so many needy children in this state.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 14. In the last two years, I have had the opportunity to work on issues regarding child welfare and abused and neglected children, first, starting in these chambers—through a bill sponsored by our colleague from Yerington. This led to the ACR 53 Subcommittee. Second, in my work outside of this body with Clark County Legal Services in adopting a Children's Attorneys Project for abused and neglected children. I became aware of the Laws' work through both of those efforts. They came to our ACR 53 hearings to offer a first hand account from foster parents about what the system was doing to children. I also had an opportunity to see their work firsthand. We were made aware of a young boy who was troubled and needed serious therapeutic help and probably couldn't be saved. He went to the Laws and flourished. It is amazing what the love of a family can do. We label children; they save them. For those reasons I rise in support of SCR 14.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 14 as well. I don't know Mr. and Mrs. Laws, but they appear to be an exemplary example of all of the CASAs I have known in this state. They also serve as foster parents, so as far as I am concerned, they doubly deserve sainthood for the work they do in this state. I have worked on several cases where CASAs have been involved, and I know many of them. They truly make the difference, often times in court, for a child who has no other advocates; children who are abused in the most terrible, ugly ways imaginable. I do not think we can say enough about people like this who voluntarily give of their time. We owe them a tremendous debt of gratitude.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 8—Recognizing March 2, 2001, as “Read Across America” Day in Nevada in commemoration of Dr. Seuss’ birthday.

WHEREAS, Theodor Seuss Geisel was born on March 2, 1904, in Springfield, Massachusetts; and

WHEREAS, Theodor Seuss Geisel graduated from Dartmouth College in 1925 and was pursuing a doctorate in English literature at Oxford University when he returned from Europe in 1927 and began writing humorous articles and creating cartoons for various magazines; and

WHEREAS, The first children’s book written by Theodor Seuss Geisel, And to Think That I Saw It on Mulberry Street, was rejected by 43 publishers until, in 1937, a friend published the book for him, the first step in a career that would change the world of children’s literature forever; and

WHEREAS, In May of 1954, Life magazine published a report concerning illiteracy among school children, stating that, among other things, children were having trouble learning to read because the books were boring; and

WHEREAS, This comment inspired Theodor Seuss Geisel’s publisher, Bennett Cerf, to compile a list of 400 words that he felt were important, and he asked Mr. Geisel to cut the list to 250 words and use only those words to write a book that would excite children; and

WHEREAS, Using 220 of the words given to him, Mr. Geisel wrote The Cat in the Hat, which became the prototype for Beginner Books, the popular Random House series that combines engaging stories with outrageous illustrations and playful sounds to teach basic reading skills; and

WHEREAS, A few years later, Bennett Cerf bet Mr. Geisel $50 that he couldn’t write an entire book using only 50 words, and from that challenge came the famous children’s book Green Eggs and Ham, which is familiar to almost everyone who has ever had contact with a child; and

WHEREAS, From that point on, Theodor Seuss Geisel became known as “Dr. Seuss,” and his philosophy that “Children want the same things we want: To laugh, to be challenged, to be entertained, and delighted” was the inspiration that would make him the best-selling author of children’s books in the world; and

WHEREAS, Brilliant, playful and always respectful of children, Dr. Seuss received the Pulitzer Prize in 1984 for his lifetime contribution to the education and enjoyment of America’s children and their parents; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Seuss died on September 24, 1991, but his legacy of children’s books will live forever as an inspiration to children everywhere to learn to read and to share in the laughter, enjoyment and knowledge that a book can provide; and

WHEREAS, In honor of Dr. Seuss and the joy of reading, the National Education Association has designated March 2, 2001, as “Read Across America” Day and has called upon every child to read with a caring adult on this day in honor of what would have been Dr. Seuss’s 97th birthday; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That March 2, 2001, is hereby recognized as “Read Across America” Day in Nevada in commemoration of Dr. Seuss’s birthday; and be it further

RESOLVED, That children and adults are encouraged to read a favorite book together on this date to share the joy of reading; and be it further

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 8, 2001

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 19.

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 19.

Assemblyman Dini moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Dini, Gibbons and Neighbors.

Assemblyman Collins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Mr. Speaker, it certainly is an honor to be able to speak on this resolution. Jack McCloskey was a friend of mine for many, many years. I first met Jack about 1945, when I was an altar boy in Yerington. Now, how did we end up in Hawthorne? Well, Hawthorne didn't have a priest during the war, it only had a mission from the Yerington church. On Saturday nights, the priest from Yerington and two altar boys would go to Hawthorne and spend the night at Jack McCloskey's. Pauline would cook us a nice dinner and we would hear Jack pontificate a little bit about world politics with the priest. That was my first encounter with him. We did that for a couple of years—going over there and putting on the 6:00 mass in Hawthorne. That was pretty tough on a 13-year old high school kid. Those visits began a long friendship that lasted until now.

If you look through the statutes, look up the statutes having anything to do with printing and the protection of the printing industry and small printers. Chances are Jack had a hand in them. The small newspapers were for many years the lifeblood of rural Nevada. They were in a place where the politicians wanted to go to, all in order to discuss the political world with the editors of these small newspapers.

If anyone introduced a bill to repeal one of those protective laws—like public printing—soon Jack McCloskey and Walter Cox would be on their way. They were two old timers, Walter being from the Mason Valley News in Yerington. They would show up on the scene immediately. Sometimes I think people introduced bills on purpose to bring Jack and Walter here. When I first served—I was the chair of Government Affairs for about 10 years—I think we introduced a lot of those bills on purpose. They would come, “Well, Joe, what is going on with this bill? You know, we’ve got to kill it.” There was no saving the bill or working on it, the main idea was to just kill it. Those were the orders from those two old timers. They were a pair of characters.

There are a thousand stories that you could tell about Jack. He had that column called “Jasper” in the “Mineral County Independent.” Of course, that forced me to purchase that newspaper about 20 years ago. I needed one more newspaper like I needed a hole in the head, but I had to buy “Jasper” because I had to see what he was saying about me, especially on the war over water for Walker Lake.

We always had a nice, friendly relationship. We would visit him. My close friend Marty Bibb, who used to do campaigns for me, would go with me to see Jack. We had a ritual: we’d talk to Jack and then we would go over to the El Cap’ for lunch, and then to Joe’s Tavern for a glass of wine. That was the usual ritual and sometimes the glass of wine at Joe’s ended up to be a little later than two or three in the afternoon if we stayed for dinner there.

Jack’s family is wonderful. His wife, Pauline, is a wonderful lady. Unfortunately, she can’t be here today. There are so many fond memories of Jack, a man who was a real honest person, who did a lot of things for the State of Nevada and whose counsel was sought by every politician that ever ran statewide. I think we’ve lost a real true Nevadan with a lot of history. I would love to have his memory on a tape and the stories that he could tell. You could talk to him and he would say, “Well in 1933, this person was the governor.” You know, I couldn’t even remember who the governor was in 1933, but he would know. He’d be able to recollect that “this incident happened and that incident happened.” It was a world of knowledge that we’ve lost with his demise. Our state is a lot better off because of this fine gentleman and what he did to keep the politics straight in this state and what he did to help all the residents of our state.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support in honoring Jack McCloskey’s life. He was a wonderful guy, a wonderful friend, someone I talked to quite often. I remember the first time I met him. I had heard about this big, powerful newspaper guy and all of a sudden he comes out and he is in these overalls and blue jeans. He was a very simple man, but I’ll tell you what, he had a very caring and compassionate heart for Nevada and Nevadans and for making sure that those in political office did the right thing. He would expose people if they didn’t. I know his partner was named Scoop and I think in the old days he was probably named Snoop. Every time he would write an article and it didn’t make sense to me, I would call him up and tell him what I thought. He would go, “I’m a boy from Tonopah, there I lived with Ma and Pa, high up on a hill somewhere, but their making moonshine still, and I’m just Jack McCloskey.”

ASSEMBLYMAN NEIGHBORS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of SCR 19 and echo the comments that have been made on the floor. I had the long time pleasure of knowing Jack for many, many years. Usually, when he came through Hawthorne, we would always sit down and have coffee and kind of go through the same ritual that my colleague from District 38 described. What I remember the most about Jack was his fantastic memory. You would mention something and he would say, “Let’s see, that happened in the summer of 1938 . . .,” and he would name who it was. It was just absolutely something.

He was never bashful about calling if he had a bill that he either supported or didn’t support. You had to be careful, too, because anything you said was liable to end up in the paper. He was really great that way.

Before we went to the 120-day session, one of the things he would say was, “If you would knock off all those resolutions you are passing up here all the time, you would get out of there before all those days.” Well, two years ago my colleague from District 38 and I were able to get a resolution through the Assembly. I think it was on his birthday at the time. We went down to Hawthorne with Marty Bibb and we all ended up with our pictures in the paper. All that stuff about “boy you are wasting all your time with those resolutions” was forgotten. He was very proud to get that resolution. In closing I will say I have lost a great friend and so has Nevada.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to mention, as many of you probably know, the State Department of Education recently announced the tenth grade Terra Nova scores from this past fall. I am proud to report that three high schools in the state were given a high achievement rating. All three were from Washoe County. In fact, one, Incline High School, was in my district. I want to recognize Incline for its efforts. As we all know, a lot of hard work goes into achieving that kind of rating—hard work on the part of students, staff, teachers, parents, and the K-16 Council. I simply want to recognize their efforts on the floor today.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Reverend Albert Tilstra.

With all the resources of an infinite God available to us, we ask forgiveness for our lack of faith that begs for pennies when we could write checks for millions, that strikes a match when we could have the sun. Give to us the faith to believe that there is no problem before us that Your wisdom cannot solve. As You have guided men in the past, so guide these members of this Assembly today. At every desk may there be a whisper of Your counsel. Help our leaders to weigh their words, that their words may carry weight and, what is more, the echo of Your will. We ask these favors in Your Almighty Name.

AMEN.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Several years ago I served on a national education board. During that time, a report dealing with a nation at risk first came out. It took public education to task for not meeting the needs of our society.

In 1986, the Carnegie Task Force on Teaching as a Profession asserted that world-class schools required a world-class teaching force and the assurance of a quality teacher in every classroom. It noted that while many excellent teachers were working in schools, their efforts often went unrecognized and unrewarded, and even worse; their knowledge and skills were underutilized.

The following year a National Board for Professional Teaching Standards was created to meet the task of defining outstanding teaching. Its founding chair was North Carolina Governor, James B. Hunt. He asserted that the mission of this board would be:

To establish high and rigorous standards for what accomplished teachers should know and be able to do, to develop and operate a national voluntary system to assess and certify teachers who meet those standards, and to advance related educational reforms for the purpose of improving student learning in American Schools.

Those standards have been adopted in wide areas over the years. This year 4,494 teachers earned this recognition. Seated here today are 24 of my colleagues from the State of Nevada who meet this requirement. I find it emotional because my profession has been under attack for a long time. These teachers, these 24—two of which are from the math department in my own school—are the best. The year of hard work these teachers have put in, the testing they’ve undergone, holds a beacon up to those in my profession, one for others to follow. They signify and capture the best practices and indicators of accomplished teaching—other teachers benefit from their experience, as well as our students, who benefit the most of all.

I would like to recognize the 24 teachers that are here today and have their names entered in the record as guests. They are seated here among us today, if you will welcome them. They are representative of the 24 National Standard Board certified teachers in the State of Nevada, the first ever in our state. Their accomplishments, as I said previously, hold a beacon for others to follow and capture the best practice and indications of accomplished teaching. While these teachers benefited from their experience, it is our students who benefit the most.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson and Dini.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

As the resolution clearly states, Orsie Graves' life was full of promise and hope, hope and promise that fulfilled the society in which he lived. I first had the opportunity of meeting Mr. Graves when he was coaching Sparks High School teams and I was managing a basketball team that opposed him. Later, when I first bought a home in Sparks, he lived just around the corner from me. I remember when his wife had finished digging the garden and moving dirt, I had the golden opportunity of taking the dirt and moving it to my house, where it was needed.

Orsie Graves was one of those people that you couldn't say no to. He would call me at school and mention there was a new project that the Heritage Foundation needed, he wanted to make sure there were yearbooks from every high school at the Sparks Heritage Foundation. He made sure that took place. We searched until every yearbook from Reed was there and we set up a project so they would continue to be there. The Heritage Foundation was falling into disrepair and it looked like we might lose the golden opportunity to pick up the old library in downtown Sparks that the county was about to abandon. It was Orsie, along with other members of the Sparks Heritage Foundation, that made sure that that transfer was made to the City of Sparks. All so that it ultimately could become the Heritage Foundation. It was Orsie and his wife, Lois, who made sure that the proper people were contacted to keep it going. It was Orsie who called me and said, "Bernie, you've got to find some money and fix this."

Orsie never wanted to take the bow, he just wanted it done and done now. This resolution goes a long way to recognize the kind of person who doesn't want to take the credit, just wants to get things done. That was what Orsie was all about.

He died while playing golf, his favorite pastime. At his memorial service, they told an old joke. I won't repeat it again because some of you might be offended by it, but it was a great joke. If you stop me in the hallway, I will be happy to share it with you even if it is St. Patrick's Day and Irishmen have a tendency to run. I don't want to run too long on this, and I know there are others who may wish to speak.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I had the privilege of meeting Orsie Graves in October of 1946, when Jake Lawlor selected me to be the basketball manager on the team for the '46-'47 season.

Orsie was an outstanding member of the team that year. He was quite a gentleman and quite a hustler. If you have ever seen a guy that goes into a game and just sparkplugs the team and makes it go, that was Orsie Graves. I could tell you a lot of stories about being on those trips with Jake Lawlor as a coach—and me having to stay with Jake, and having to cuss out the players. I was the first line of defense with the players, but I won't go into that. We followed each other for a good number of years and we weren't very close after we got out of school. Even so, he had a reputation for being a leader, for being a disciplinarian, for being a guy that really hustled. He hustled in life. He left a memory in Sparks that will never be equaled. He was a man that I'm very proud to have known.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 12 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Assemblyman Dini moved that Assembly Bill No. 47 be taken from the General File and placed on the Chief Clerk's desk.

MARY JO MONGELLI

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Perkins, Gibbons, Parks, Brown, de Braga, Anderson, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Brower, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, Dini, Freeman, Goldwater, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ocegüera, Ohrenschall, Price, Smith, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams; Senators Neal, O'Connell, Rhoads, Amodei, Rawson, Care, Carlton, Coffin, James, Mathews, McGinness, O'Donnell, Porter, Raggio, Shaffer, Townsend, Washington and Wiener:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 7—Expressing the support of the Nevada Legislature for the overturn of the new federal regulations on surface mining.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Natural Resources, Agriculture and Mining.

Motion carried.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 21.

Assemblyman Dini moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Dini, Gibbons, Anderson, Brower, Carpenter and Cegavske.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I certainly had the pleasure of meeting one of the finest gentlemen that I have ever known in the state's history—Pete Echeverria. He was of Basque descent, and it showed in his hard work and determination to help the State of Nevada. He was a great orator, as it says in this resolution. I tell you this, you've never heard anyone speak so well in a courtroom or in front of a legislative committee than when Pete Echeverria spoke on a bill.

I had the pleasure of meeting him personally when Governor Mike O'Callaghan introduced him to me, or vice versa, back in 1973. The Governor said, "I need the toughest guy I can get to head the Gaming Commission. I'm going to bring this Basque in here and straighten this thing out." That he did. He wasn't afraid to stand up to undesirable elements that crept into Nevada gaming. He was strong and determined that we would have a good, clean, gaming industry in the State of Nevada. I have to say that he probably had the most influence of anyone for getting us in the right direction, to be sure that Nevada stayed clean and didn't allow corrupt forces to enter our state.

He was involved in all kinds of these things throughout his career. He left a great legacy in the Reno area and throughout the State of Nevada. We certainly lost a great man when we lost Pete Echeverria.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of SCR 21, memorializing the life of Peter Echeverria. I know his family, his children, his grandchildren and they are all great public servants in their way. They make a difference in the community by serving the public and their schools. I'm thankful for his life and his contributions that he made to our great state. I'm so very happy this body has chosen to honor him in this way.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also want to rise in support of the resolution. In my wallet I carry a saying of Mr. Echeverria, which I think reflects not just on what he is, but indeed on his son John, with whom I had an opportunity to go to college. If I may, Mr. Speaker, I'd like to read the quote. Many of you are probably familiar with it. I think it does reflect what Mr. Echeverria was all about. I hesitate to quote from a Republican, in this case Theodore Roosevelt, but I feel it appropriate: "The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is mired in the dust, sweat, and blood; who knows the great enthusiasm and devotion and spends himself in worthy cause; who at best, if he wins, knows the thrill of his high achievement and if he fails, at least fails with dignity while daring greatly so that his place should never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat." Mr. Echeverria was that kind of man. One who always pushed the envelope so that he need not fear and could take relish in victory and defeat. This resolution speaks to the power of a person who is willing to face the toughest of odds. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROWER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of SCR 21. I do so for several reasons. I never had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Echeverria, but I rise in support of this resolution. First of all, to remind my colleagues, as I have on this floor in the past, that with the passing of Mr. Echeverria, we've lost yet another World War II hero. We lose thousands every month in this country. For that reason, alone, I think Mr. Echeverria is worthy of our honor today. I should also mention that I know Pete's son, John, who is with us today. As you can tell from the resolution, Pete was a lawyer of legendary proportions in this state. John is also a lawyer. I can tell you from firsthand knowledge, John has more than filled the shoes of his father in that regard. It is a pleasure to have him here today. I've also met Pete's daughter, Chris, who is a constituent. I met Chris as I was going door to door, during my first campaign; she didn't know me from anyone. She was one of those people you rarely encounter when you knock on doors, who invites you in, offers you something to drink, is interested in hearing what you have to say and has questions for you. What I most remember about that visit with Chris is she told me how much her father enjoyed serving in the state legislature and how she had fond memories of his stories and his experiences in Carson City. As I said, Pete is truly a legend in legal circles in this state. I'm sure he always will be. Despite the fact that he is a graduate of that dreaded school somewhere to the south of Berkeley, I urge your support of this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of SCR 21. I knew Pete Echeverria for many years, from Ely, when our families were friends. Pete was so proud of his Basque heritage that he came to Elko and was the master of ceremonies at our Basque Festival, for many years. I think he was the driving force that helped Elko become home of the National Basque Festival. I just want to offer my support for the resolution. His son John is here and I think he's carrying on in his father's footsteps. I just want to say, from one shepherd to another, I really enjoyed Pete Echeverria.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also stand in support of SCR 21. I, along with my colleague from the north, did not have the pleasure of knowing Mr. Echeverria, but I did know his daughter very well, Teresa Maloney. She was a fellow 7-11 franchisee, and we went through many battles together. Listening to all the things I had heard from her, over the years, about her father I was thinking how much of him was passed on to his daughter, and, in listening to my colleague, also his other children. I just wanted to make sure that she knew how much we do think of her and what her father has done for the State of Nevada. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Senate Joint Resolution No. 9.

Resolution read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman Brown.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROWN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. SJR 9 urges Congress to declare the Mt. Charleston crash site as a National Monument to the "Silent Heroes of the Cold War." It's an emergency measure because we're attempting to transmit it to the Nevada Congressional delegation in a timely fashion. There's hope to secure some federal funding to establish and erect the monument on the mountain. This would also honor those who gave their lives for our national security during the Cold War.

It is a pleasure for me to make a few comments regarding SJR 9. My family has a little bit of personal history or connection with this and we also have known Steve Ririe for some time and it's a pleasure to have him here. Our esteemed Senator from District 6 in Clark County prepared a Powerpoint presentation and has permitted me to use the photographs, a copy of which has been placed on your desks. I would just like to roll through them quickly and explain the genesis of this and inform you of some of the compelling human interest stories behind this.

This really came about through the secret development of the U2 spy plane back in the early 1950s, the proliferation of the nuclear arsenal of Russia was beginning. We learned of that and felt that for United States security interests we needed to be able to monitor that development. From that came the development of the U2 spy plane. In the early 1950s, flights from "Skunk Works" in Burbank, California began whereby the military secretly shuttled scientists and technicians and members of the CIA from "Skunk Works" up to Area 51, which, at that time, was codenamed "Watertown." On November 17th, 1955, a C-53 left Burbank, California. It carried nine passengers, and five crewmembers. They, again, were headed to Watertown, Nevada, on what was called a business trip.

These flights were to be by sight and instrument only due to the secrecy of the matter. The flight pattern brought them up from southern California. This was a new flight path. They intended to save ten minutes. They would fly west of the Spring Mountain Range, west of Mt. Charleston; however, that morning they had a tailwind blowing from the southwest to the northeast. When they arrived at Goodsprings, they changed their course, and at that time, the tailwind became a crosswind and began blowing them eastward. They entered a snowstorm at the time, and of course, flying by sight and instrument is complicated when flying in a snowstorm. They were not able to view the mountains and were unaware they had blown to the east of Mt. Charleston. In an effort to maintain safety, they thought to move further west of the mountain range, so they turned west and, unbeknownst to them, were flying straight into the mountain. They entered the box canyon of Kyle Canyon and flew upward and found themselves trapped in the canyon and immediately began to execute a spiral climb in order to get out. As you are aware, they did not make it. They impacted 50 feet from the ridge, which is just a short distance from the top of Mt. Charleston.

It was quite a tragedy. If anyone has climbed to the site, there is a sobering feeling that you experience to be there. You can see the ridge, which is the crash site of the plane, and the impact site. The plane immediately broke up on impact. It was not anticipated there was any suffering by these individuals—either unconsciousness or death probably resulted immediately. The crash site could be seen by the military, on and off, throughout the day after. The military dropped some snowshoe teams in there and a snow jeep, but that was rendered totally ineffective. The military contacted the Clark County Sheriff's Posse, who had a horse posse, to go up to the mountain. This is where it becomes a little personal for me. My grandfather is Merle Franer, and he was a member of that posse. It took about 24 hours to get to the site. They went without food and sleep. Upon return, my grandfather was briefed and told this was classified information, that the public would be told it was just a business flight to Indian Springs. The only thing he could say was that it was the most difficult 24 hours he ever experienced in his life.

There is a photograph of the mountain ridge, with my grandfather and Vernon Bunker, who is a former legislator, up there on what is known as the East-West Ridge, which is close to the crash site. They were familiar with the mountain and were able to make that difficult and treacherous trip up the mountain. There was so much snow at times they could not remain in their saddles. They had to get off their animals and hold on to the tails and were literally dragged through the snow.

Merle Franer, interestingly enough, helped form the first scout troop in Las Vegas and the Boulder Dam Area Council. That becomes important, because many, many scouts, most of them in southern Nevada, have made the trip—the climb up Mt. Charleston. Many scouts and many families have made their way up the mountain and have been profoundly affected when they arrived at the crash site.

Steve Ririe is a scoutmaster, he is sitting to the right of me. He made this trip with some of his scouts and was profoundly influenced by it. He thought about the families of these men who had perished on the mountain and wondered what they knew about this. It's a tragedy that many died in their youth. They were committed to the United States and the national protection. Part of the other tragedy is that many of these family members did not know the circumstances of their father's or their son's or their brother's death. Actually, many of them had the understanding that there was significant flight error or negligence or even gross negligence. It's commendable to Mr. Ririe, who took the initiative to go out and find descendants of these deceased military and scientists, and apprise them of the true facts surrounding the crash. For many of them, it has been a healing balm to them to know that there was a snowstorm, with severe conditions, and that there wasn't gross negligence on behalf of the pilots. We express our appreciation to Mr. Ririe for having undertaken that effort and bringing solace to many of those who have suffered.

The monument is meant to honor those who suffered through the Cold War. For whatever reason. There were many covert operations. People died. It wasn't necessarily a war of bullets and bombs, but it was a silent and cold war. And there are many who died, many families who suffered from that. They are who this monument is intended to honor. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Roll call on Senate Joint Resolution No. 9:

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblyman Hettrick:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8—Proposing to amend the Constitution of the State of Nevada to authorize the Nevada legislature to provide for the separate taxation of property whose development is restricted by an interstate compact for environmental purposes.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 1 of article 10 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. 1. The legislature shall provide by law for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal and possessory, except mines and mining claims, which shall be assessed and taxed only as provided in section 5 of this article.

2. Shares of stock, bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. The legislature may constitute ~~[agricultural]~~ :

(a) Agricultural and open-space real property having a greater value for another use than that for which it is being used ~~[as a separate class]~~; and

(b) Property the development of which is restricted pursuant to an interstate compact for the preservation and restoration of the natural environment of the region in which the property is located,

as separate classes for taxation purposes and may provide ~~[a]~~ separate uniform ~~[plan]~~ plans for appraisal and valuation of such property for assessment purposes. If such a plan is provided, the legislature shall also provide for retroactive assessment for a period of not less than 7 years when the agricultural and open-space real property is converted to a higher use conforming to the use for which other nearby property is used ~~[]~~, or the property the development of which is restricted is subsequently developed.

4. Personal property which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of the State of Nevada, or which was consigned to a warehouse, public or private, within the State of Nevada from outside the State of Nevada for storage in transit to a final destination outside the State of Nevada, whether specified when transportation begins or afterward, shall be deemed to have acquired no situs in Nevada for purposes of taxation and shall be exempt from taxation. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. The legislature shall provide by law for a progressive reduction in the tax upon business inventories by 20 percent in each year following the adoption of this provision, and after the expiration of the 4th year such inventories are exempt from taxation. The legislature may exempt any other personal property, including livestock.

7. No inheritance tax shall ever be levied.

8. The legislature may exempt by law property used for municipal, educational, literary, scientific or other charitable purposes, or to encourage the conservation of energy or the substitution of other sources for fossil sources of energy.

9. No income tax shall be levied upon the wages or personal income of natural persons. Notwithstanding the foregoing provision, and except as otherwise provided in subsection 1 of this section, taxes may be levied upon the income or revenue of any business in whatever form it may be conducted for profit in the state.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Remarks by de Braga, Cegavske and Price.

Assemblyman Parks requested that the following remarks be entered into the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Mr. Speaker, this is a nice day we've always celebrated. This is the fourteenth anniversary of our Legislative Day for the Noble Order of the Clampers. It is a grand organization that really specializes in protecting "widders and orphans" and descendants thereof. I think we do a good job. Some of you ladies are not widows yet, but you might be, so you might be wanting us around. This is a great organization. It's a lot of fun. We always have this meeting during the legislative sessions so that everyone here can understand the enjoyable time we have together, the celebration of our noble organization's causes. We've had some great people represent the organization over a good number of years.

I'm not the only Clamper here, you know. You don't have to look at me like that. There are other members of this organization that have gone through this, including the Speaker himself. We hope that tonight, several of the younger gentleman here that have just joined our group will be going in. I'm not sure that the distinguished member from Boulder City and Henderson has signed up yet, but I understand that Mr. Nolan was going to pay for his application and bring him along. I know the other distinguished gentleman from Las Vegas in front of me has given me his check, so he's locked in.

We always have a good time. We do great things. I'll never forget when they came to Yerington and put the plaque on my building at the club. Then they did a plaque and donated money to the Jeanne Dini Cultural Center in Yerington and the Mason Valley News building. We can go on and on. In every little community in the state they have participated in these activities. It's been a good thing for us and it has been a good thing for the communities. I respectfully submit to you that the Clampers are a good organization. We want you to know it's not all just fun and games. They do many great things, especially in preserving the history of our state. I want to welcome all their members to the Chambers and to this great day. I know tomorrow morning we will all feel much better because we participated.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I picked this shirt specifically with this day in mind and brought it with me to Carson City, recognizing that indeed this particular group would be in front of us; recognizing that it crosses party lines when we're always willing to help one another. We can always pull our load and reach down and go just a little bit further because that's what the Clampers do. Some of the historical markers they have placed have led others to recognize the importance of the historical accomplishments. The Beckworth Trail, in particular; their monument was the first on the Beckworth Trail. Their monument was the first on the summit of the Carson Pass. I think the Clampers, while "widders and orphans" are clearly to be worried after, and we have to look out for the good of the brotherhood, we recognize the historical importance of the committee clearly overcomes. As the chairman of the Most Important Committee, I feel confident in saying that.

ASSEMBLYMAN COLLINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 13, as well. The Clampers were started over a 150 years ago and that was before we even allowed women the right to vote. I think we have come a long way. We still support you, even more. We continue to lend that support. I'm very proud of the accomplishments of the Clampers and I thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FREEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. When my colleague from Sparks said that he was wearing his shirt, today, in honor of the group, I remember that Mr. Riggs always wore clothes that were very colorful. I used to tell him that I worried that he was too shy and retiring. At this moment, Mr. Speaker, may ask for a brief recess for the women legislator's to meet in the caucus room and I'm also inviting any women reporters who are in the Chamber or the building to join us.

ASSEMBLYMAN DE BRAGA:

Mr. Speaker, to you and through you to this honorable body. I join many of the members of the Nevada Assembly Women's Caucus who sadly must rise in opposition to ACR 13. Every odd numbered year, a resolution supporting E Clampus Vitus, comes before the Assembly. It asks us to endorse an ancient and mystical order that has at its philosophical core the Goldwater Theorum regarding God-given rights. We have looked for some redeeming social value in the Clampers' resolution that would enable us to support it. But, we were not successful. Instead, we have come to the conclusion, Mr. Speaker, that their reality check bounced.

Proponents would try to make us believe that compassion, education and the preservation of history are the principles this society was founded on and upholds. We submit to you that the facts are these:

E Clampus Vitus was started prior to 1800 and has existed in some form or other ever since allegedly for the purpose of protecting "widders and orphans," but, preferably, widders.

Clampers interest in education seldom goes beyond periodic research on why "lite" beer weighs the same as regular beer.

They are patrons of sports, literature and the arts, favoring anything with one ball, two folds or three stooges.

All members have standing of equal indignity, but, obviously, some members are more equal and/or indignant than others. Those who have achieved mediocrity, and therefore, leadership, are reverently referred to as Clampatriarchal Humbugs.

Within their own organization is a strong support group to help Clampers in times of severe difficulty. This is vital to their safety because, following the regular meetings, very few of them can remember the number for 911.

The history of E Clampus Vitus is shrouded in mystery. Is it a historical drinking society or a drinking historical society? No one knows; the debate continues.

To preserve their surreptitious activities, they developed their own secret language which can be deciphered easily by anyone with an IQ higher than celery. For example, their motto: "Per Caritate Viduaribus Orphibusque Sed Prime Viduaribus" translates to "Never let the fact that the widders do not want to be protected deter you," and their creed "Quia Absurdum" means "Beer: it isn't just for breakfast, any more."

Although E Clampus Vitus has existed for more than 200 years, almost none of the history of the order has been recorded. Two theories exist to explain this:

Most Clampers prefer to do their protecting anonymously. In the thousands of meetings held by chapters of ECV, seldom, if ever, has anyone remained functional long enough to take intelligible minutes. In fact the only meeting notes ever found are now in the Smithsonian or some other institution. They were written by an Utmost High Extremely Illustrious Exalted Supreme Grand Secretarial Humbug, who may have been more than a little squiffed, himself, at the time. He wrote, "The roll was called and the members were asked to respond present or not present, as best befitted their circumstance. Many of them appeared to have been stricken with some sort of mental confusion. They were diffonable and romultuatory and I weedle volcranitude understand them."

The very name of their club may also have been incorrectly recorded. E Clampus Vitus sounds like a disease—a combination, if you will, of the word for a form of dementia coupled with the word for a form of instability, with which many of its members are, from time to time, afflicted. No one knows how the disease is spread. And, Mr. Speaker, no one wants to know how the disease is spread.

In opposing this resolution we do so not because we wish to be equal to men—that would show a lack of ambition. However, in the interest of fairness, we have tried our best to understand men. Like so many other women before us, we failed in that endeavor.

Since time immemorial there has only ever been one woman who actually figured men out, Mr. Speaker, but she died laughing before she could tell anyone.

We were going to move that all rules be suspended, that reading so far be considered more than enough, that there be no further consideration of this measure and that ACR 13 be immediately concurrently referred to Health and Human Resources, NATRAM, Government Affairs and the Ways and Means Committees in some other state; however, on further reflection, we're certain the bill will pass notwithstanding our objection. So, instead, we are discussing forming our own counter-organization of E Clampus Superioritus whose members will be known as “Lady Bugs.” And, as soon as we decide what it is we want to protect, we will pursue that.

Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I can’t top that. I did want to ask for some clarification as to what the age requirement is. I’ve looked through the resolution and haven’t found any language that would stipulate what the age is. The reason I’m asking Mr. Speaker, is as a mother of two sons, I happen to have one son that is up here and has been lobbied heavily to participate. Of course, as a mother who knows the law, you have to be at least 21 to partake in these type of shenanigans. Just for the Speaker to ask, if he would be more than happy to answer that question—what the age limit is, to see if any of our colleagues are old enough to attend.

Also, we wanted to make sure that you knew that our colleague from District 1 is to blame for the Women’s Caucus today and we are deciding consequences. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would move that the remarks from our colleague from District 35 be entered into the Ladies Home Journal.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Dini moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 13 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 21, 2001

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 22.

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 22.

Assemblyman Dini moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Dini, Anderson, Carpenter, Buckley, Giunchigliani and Collins.

Assemblyman Parks moved that the following remarks be entered into the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Mr. Speaker, I became acquainted with John Riggs a few years back, working on various projects. It was mostly through his affiliation with the Rifle and Pistol Association and his membership in the National Rifle Association. We worked on several bills over the course of our years here in the Assembly. He was in my office a week before he passed away and we had one of our frank discussions. One thing about John and I, we could talk about things, call each other a few names, express ourselves accordingly and then walk out as friends. We talked about the recent election and the dispute between the State Pistol Association and the National Rifle Association on their recent endorsements. I said, "John, before the next election would you mind coming up for a one on one in Political Science so I can give you a little lesson and you can avoid the embarrassment of endorsing the wrong candidates." I dealt with him on a lot of different legislation and in various organizations and found he was always an honest man. I was proud to be with him in the Masonic Order and Kerak Temple and the Knights Templar. He had a wonderful Knights Templar outfit, a full dress with all the old hats and heavy uniforms he wore. He was at the cornerstone laying of the addition to this building in full regalia. He was a very dedicated Nevadan, a good honest man, and someone we are going to miss around here because he was a good man for the State of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

I also rise in support of the resolution. Mr. Riggs and I, obviously because of his railroad background, found common topics to discuss. In terms of one of my hobbies of collecting railroad memorabilia, we often found ourselves at auctions bidding on the same items. The thing about John, to which I think the Speaker Emeritus has already alluded, was his passionate belief in his causes. You have to admire anybody who believes so passionately in what they do that they will take on whoever it is to further their cause, yet later be able to pass you in the hallway and not have a grudge he would carry forever. I think that quality speaks to what a real Nevadan is all about and what this Legislature is all about. While he and I could disagree about more things than we agreed on, I always enjoyed the discussions with him and always found him to be an honest, straightforward person. I mourn his passing and support the resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I too rise in support of SCR 22. John Riggs was always here, and he and I used to have great discussions. We were usually on the same side on issues. He really was a great defender of our Second Amendment rights, and we are going to miss him.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I too rise in support of SCR 22. Mr. Riggs was quite an individual. He brought life to our process by his colorful presence and his keen understanding of issues that were very important to him and this state. We missed him on the previous resolution, and the state will miss him as well.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIUNCHIGLIANI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I too rise in support of SCR 22. As my colleague from Sparks noted, Mr. Riggs and I agreed to disagree on many issues, but he was always a delightful character, both through dress and his ability to never hold a grudge. He had always offered to teach me how to use a gun and how to shoot. I told him my husband still had not given me the key to the gun cabinet so it wouldn't do any good. I suspect that is still in the law the Speaker and former majority leader put into a bill. He always did this teasing, knowing that I took the opposing position. It never colored or affected our relationship and I support this legislation.

ASSEMBLYMAN COLLINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I too rise in support of SCR 22. I knew John Riggs and during the time spent with him in my office or in the halls, we worked for many of the same issues. It was fun to hear him discuss railroads and old fire trucks and some of the other things he enjoyed. It is sad that he is not here, the example he left in the halls for legislators, lobbyists, and others left this a nicer place. It would be a better place for all if more of the folks in the halls followed his example. The honesty and commitment that he carried and demonstrated in this building make me grateful we are recognizing him.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

By Assemblymen Price, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Brower, Brown, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Freeman, Gibbons, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ocegüera, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Smith, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams; Senators Jacobsen, Amodei, Care, Carlton, Coffin, James, Mathews, McGinness, Neal, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Porter, Raggio, Rawson, Rhoads, Schneider, Shaffer, Titus, Townsend, Washington and Wiener:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 14—Commending all Nevada firefighters who fought the wildland fires in Nevada and other western states during the 2000 fire season.

WHEREAS, With weather conditions throughout the 2000 fire season both hotter and drier than normal, causing fuels such as grasses, leaves and pine needles to be extremely flammable, Nevada and other western states suffered great losses because of wildland fires; and

WHEREAS, The normal weather pattern was affected by La Nina, leaving in her wake the potential for a devastating fire season, with high winds and lightning adding fuel to the already hazardous fire conditions; and

WHEREAS, In the 2000 fire season, Nevada had over 1,000 fires that burned 635,715 acres of land, with over 7 million acres burned nationwide, almost double the 10-year average, causing some to declare that fire season one of the most severe in the nation's history; and

WHEREAS, The ruthless wildland fires had a critical impact on the residents of our state, with the lives of many people endangered and their homes destroyed, the destruction of forests and vegetation, and the devastation of wildlife and their habitats; and

WHEREAS, With many of the western states burning at the same time, these ferocious fires were contained through the heroic efforts of our firefighters, struggling to control existing fires while new ones were reported every day; and

WHEREAS, With temperatures sometimes nearing 100 degrees and erratic winds increasing the danger of fighting the fires, the courageous firefighters worked to stop the spread of the fires; and

WHEREAS, Under the most difficult conditions, with manpower, aircraft, supplies, equipment and other resources spread very thin, our firefighters managed to quell the fires after a long, exhausting fight; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That it is important to recognize the firefighters from the Nevada Division of Forestry of the State Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, State Fire Marshal Division of the Department of Motor Vehicles and Public Safety, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management, Fish and Wildlife Service, National Park Service and Forest Service, as well as the professional firefighters from various other local, state and federal agencies and the countless volunteers, who joined together to fight these fires; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the residents of the State of Nevada will be forever grateful to all the brave men and women who put their lives on the line in the most difficult of circumstances, working in unison with firefighters from other states and nations to contain the fires in all the western states; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the chief officers of the Nevada Division of Forestry of the State Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, State Fire Marshal Division of the Department of Motor Vehicles and Public Safety, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Land Management, Fish and Wildlife Service, National Park Service and Forest Service.

Assemblyman Price moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Price, Gibbons, Ocegüera, Marvel, Carpenter, Chowning, Angle and Dini.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is an honor to be able to recognize all of the efforts, work, and danger that face our firefighters throughout this nation and in the West, particularly after last year. As you know, they fought fires across many millions of acres, not only in Nevada, but in other states as well. Some of the fires were very close to home here. I had to drive towards Elko and we drove by some of the many thousands of acres that were burned in that area. It's just wonderful that they were able to protect so much of our lives and property. I think that our recognition of these fine Nevadans and people, the fine firefighters from all over the United States is long overdue. I would encourage everyone to please support this resolution.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the resolution. Many of the constituents I'm pleased to represent, many close friends, and myself, saw the heroic efforts that the firemen made last year during the August fire. In fact, they rescued my three dogs. Unfortunately, they were unable to rescue the big dump truck that ended up demolishing my garage. I'm very honored to have them protecting us. They literally risk their lives in their efforts.

The homes were surrounded by flames and they were able to save them and the families and pets and animals and horses. They really put forth an excellent effort in saving lives at great risk to themselves. I thank them for their efforts, and I salute them.

ASSEMBLYMAN OCEGUERA:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 14. As many of you know, in my daytime job I'm a firefighter. It compares nothing to the forest firefighters and wildland firefighters. These men and women carry packs of up to 100 pounds up steep mountain terrain. They basically use a shovel to put out these fires. What we do is nothing compared to them. I would just like to add my support.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 14. So many of these devastating fires were in my district. I certainly appreciate the efforts our firefighters and all the teams and the cooperative effort they put forth in trying to extinguish those fires. I think we've learned some lessons from these fires. I think we're going to be looking at having our state agencies work with the federal agencies, and have a better plan for range management so we can avoid these devastating fires in the future. Again, thank you gentlemen and ladies who were involved in the firefighting.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, want to support ACR 14. I especially want to recognize those volunteers who were out on those fire lines. I don't know whether you could really classify ranchers who were trying to save their range and their livestock as volunteers but they were the people out there right along with the other firefighters and agencies. I've done that many times, myself. It is a harrying experience. I do know what dangers they face. I want to echo the sentiments of my colleague from Battle Mountain that we need to get a better handle on how we manage the lands. If we don't, these fires will continue for many generations.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 14. Along with some of my colleagues, I had the privilege this past year to participate in NACO's rural Nevada tour. As we traveled along the roads, it was devastating and heartbreaking to see the thousands and thousands and thousands of acres of land that was scarred in our state. Our state did not receive the national attention from the media that the state to our west did, and we had far more damage. As we traveled along, I was able to see, not only our personnel, but also personnel from many other states that were here trying to help solve our problems. I would like to say thank you on behalf of all Nevadans to the other states for providing their personnel. I would like to thank the families of our firefighter personnel for all of the sacrifices that they give for us every day.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN ANGLE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 14 as well. My husband was a BLM firefighter, and for over 10 years he fought many range fires in Nevada. I am glad that Assemblywoman Chowning mentioned the families of these firefighters. From the time fire season begins in the early spring until it is over, we see our family members go off to very dangerous situations. We don't know about them and are not in communication during that time. I know my husband carried a pack and a pulaske, dug up sagebrush, made fire rings, and was in the line during the dropping of retardants. There is a lot of danger in firefighting, and the families of firefighters make a lot of sacrifices. I am glad we are finally recognizing the peril these men put themselves in and the sacrifices of the men and their families.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of the resolution. I was involved in volunteer firefighting for about 13 years in my hometown of Yerington. I know what these firefighters go through and I especially commend the volunteers for the work they do throughout this state. I think there are about 5000 members of the Nevada State Firemen's Association in our state who are ready to go wherever a fire happens. We had one of these fires last summer in my district that went from Storey County clear to Fernley, about 20 miles. It burned across the top and burned the best feed they had for the wild horses. Our firefighters, both paid and volunteer, do a great job. They are excellent supporters for our communities. You shouldn't be a fireman when you get old because walking around with one of those pumps on your back and hitting those spot fires is a tough job. You have to be in shape and you have to be young, aggressive, and alert like my distinguished colleague from southern Nevada. He is the right age to be out there fighting fires, but not us old men. I want to commend the fire service throughout this state, professional and volunteers, for the outstanding job they do. We hope we can support them from a legislative standpoint to see that they are ready, have the equipment and manpower to do the job.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 22, 2001

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 23.

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 23.

Assemblywoman Freeman moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Freeman, Goldwater, Cegavske, Chowning, Marvel, Gibbons, Buckley, Humke, Dini, Price, Carpenter and Mr. Speaker.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FREEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It's with great pleasure that I introduce to the Assembly today, Dr. Joseph Crowley and his wife Joy. I first met Dr. Crowley in the late 1970s, although I see here he moved to Reno about the same time I did. Their children went to school with my children. They have lived in my district for many years. One of the things that I think really struck me about Joe and Joy Crowley, from the very beginning, was they did not move into the big mansion over in southwest Reno, as all the other presidents had done; they chose to stay in their house next to the university. They always have been very much a part of the community.

Their children are very much a part of our community, as well. Their son Tim is a lobbyist for the Mining Association. They have daughters who are teachers. They have always been part of our community and they have always been very helpful to those who live in our area. They work with the university, whether it was with the softball program for the women at the university, or when fraternity boys were acting up around the campus. Whatever it was, Joe was always there for us. I will stand aside so others may compliment Joe as well. We'll miss you, Joe.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOLDWATER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in strong support of SCR 23. Dr. Crowley has become the University of Nevada, Reno, almost. When we look at our institutions, they are just people and they are made up of people. Dr. Crowley has made the University of Nevada, Reno and all its alumni proud—proud to be supportive of the university; proud to be a product of the university; proud to be from the State of Nevada; proud to be a part of any program he has ever been associated with. He's done it in a humble fashion. I think any of us whose family is from Reno, who are supportive of the university, take pride, not only in Dr. Crowley and his family, but in his accomplishments. I look forward to supporting this resolution.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CEGAVSKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support of SCR 23. I also want to commend Dr. Crowley for all the things that he has done. I've enjoyed working with and getting to know him since I've been in session and from working in higher education. Also, I want to thank him for his guidance in helping me as a mom, with my son, who is in his second year at UNR. When I went to the parent orientation, he was quick to tell me that I could not start a PTA, I could not be a room mother or a dorm mother. He does allow me on the campus now, however.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in strong support, also, of SCR 23. I am a graduate of the University of Nevada at Reno. When I graduated, however, it was known as the University of Nevada. I was part of a study abroad program. I would like to congratulate and thank Dr. Crowley for making ours one of the largest in the nation. That means our students are ambassadors for our state, in other countries all across the world. So, I would like to thank him for that. I would also like to thank Dr. Crowley for being a wonderful ambassador for our state. He honors us every day—as he has for all these many, many years—with his service and with all his wonderful fundraising efforts to enhance education for our students. I join with everyone else in saying, "Thank you, Ambassador Crowley."

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It's a pleasure to support SCR 23. I've had an opportunity to work with Dr. Crowley for the last 20 years on the money committee. I will say one thing about Joe: when he testified for the committees, we knew very well that he was telling the gospel truth. Joe, we are sorry to see you step down as president, but it is going to be a pleasure working with you in your new role as a lobbyist for the whole system. I think it shouldn't go unnoticed, the fact that Joe has made the University of Nevada a premier school of education. Thank you very much for your dedicated service.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 23 honoring Dr. Joe Crowley and the brains and the work behind Dr. Crowley, his wife, Joy Crowley. They came here in 1967. The University of Nevada was a great university and it's even a greater university because of his leadership. I do want to remind this body that it still is the University of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of SCR 23. It's rare when you have an individual able to do all that Dr. Crowley has done for the institution and for our state. He's done a tremendous job and has really put the University of Nevada, Reno on the map and it's a tribute, to not only the community in Reno, but to the entire state. Over the last several years, sometimes you hear some sniping in southern Nevada about all that Dr. Crowley has been able to accomplish. I feel that I'm able to say here today that, in part, that sniping was due to jealousy of his skills and of his leadership. Even when those comments were made, everyone who said them wanted Dr. Crowley to be running their own institution—because of his leadership and everything he has been able to do. We will miss you. We are still glad we have you in our halls.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise to support SCR 23 and to honor this outstanding individual. I am just proud to say that I am a fellow Iowan and also proud to say that I followed Joe to the University of Iowa. I'm happy to say I joined him out here. It has been a pleasure to know the entire family. We thank you for your service. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is certainly my pleasure to rise in support of this resolution. I think in 1979, when he was selected to be the president of UNR, that I took one look at him and said, "This guy is going to be like when I was going to school there. About a two-year tenure and he's gone." He outlasted me. It's because of his hard work and his dedication to the whole university system. It was just a few years ago that our sister institution down in southern Nevada had a few problems. I remember him being here that year, lobbying for both institutions, equally. He took care of the problems that had to be taken care of at both ends of the state. It's really fitting that he is now, while retired as president, lobbying for the entire university system. I think he can be credited with helping develop a real fine university system—not only UNR, but the entire system. This because of his hard work and his honesty and dedication. He has the most credibility of any university official that I have ever seen appear before the money committees in this august body. I wish him and Joy a good retirement. It's always nice to see him working the halls still. Congratulations on a good tenure as president of UNR.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It's also an honor to rise in support of SCR 23. Dr. Crowley, we all appreciate and recognize the wonderful job you have done over the years. I did not go to the university of Nevada; in fact, I didn't go to any. I have gotten somewhat of an education around here, over the years. I have to say that everyone recognizes the wonderful, outstanding job you have done for Nevada and the university over the years. As I think back, I have observed that you used your wonderful influence and your ability to great effect. You are probably the only person that I can think of that ever was able to keep a handle on that group called the Board of Regents. I have to tell you, I think that's a really good job for a guy who had to spend a few years down there in Fresno—we know about those Fresno people. We have one of those over in the Governor's mansion, don't we? In all seriousness, it's just wonderful. This is long overdue. Thank you so much.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I want to rise in support of the resolution. I want to thank Joe for all he's done for rural Nevada and especially his support of our community college in Elko. Thank you again, Joe.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I offer my support for the resolution as well, Dr. Crowley. This is not about northern Nevada or southern Nevada—it's about Nevada. His efforts will long be remembered. You can often tell a person by their friends and their colleagues, and the support they have. This resolution speaks directly to that. I thank you for your service.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblyman Dini moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Dini.

Assemblyman Parks requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, John Giomi was a legend in our community. He grew up in Mason Valley and attended Yerington High School and graduated from UNR in 1941 with a degree in Agriculture. I think his brother Joe and he played some football at UNR, too. I shouldn't say UNR. I think it was UN, then, the University of Nevada.

John was a war hero in World War II. He fought in the Battle of the Bulge and was taken prisoner. He was released by the English after being imprisoned for six months in a war camp. He and his brother Joe purchased the Central Mercantile in Smith Valley, upon the end of the war. They had a John Deere dealership for many years, there, as well. The Giomi operations have always been one of a family, working together. John told me many times that he could not have served in the Assembly for those seven terms, had it not been for his brother and his wife, Jere. They would take over for him, so he could leave and serve in these hallowed chambers we have here.

Since his retirement from politics, he operated the Ace Hardware in Yerington, also with his wife, his son and his daughter. John and Jere were very big fans of the San Francisco Giants. They always attended spring training. I imagine Jere's missing this year down in Tucson. I know he had been in Rotary a long, long time. I'd say it was close to 50 years that he was a Rotarian. Forty-eight years in the Smith Valley/Yerington Rotary clubs. He was very devoted to his community. He was a strong member of the Veterans organizations in the state. He was a 52-year member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Nevada.

When he was serving in the Assembly, he was a strong leader for Veterans Affairs, in these Chambers. A lot of legislation is on the books today because of his efforts to help the Veterans in our state. He served as chairman of the Agriculture and Irrigation committees five times. He also served once as Speaker pro Tempore. He's championed legislation dealing with agricultural chemical regulation, livestock issues, water rights. He knew water rights backwards and forwards. He was a leader in education and funding.

I remember in 1966, when he announced he wasn't going to run again for his seat, I dashed to see him and asked him if he meant that. I didn't think he would ever quit. He assured me he wasn't going to run. I certainly wasn't going to run against him; I'd still be at the starting gate if I had done that. That launched me into my political career, when he retired. I'm proud of the fact I followed him. He had 14 years; when I get done with this term I'll have 36 years. A couple of old Democrats have had that district for 50 years. That is a long time for one party to control one district. I don't think John ever thought I was a good Democrat, though. He kind of thought I was a Republican in disguise. He was a true Democrat. He had a great reputation on people issues. I learned from him. He educated me as we went along.

When I got to be Speaker pro Tempore in 1973, he saw me one day and handed me his Mason's Manual that he had when he was Speaker pro Tempore. I still have it and I cherish that, I really do.

He was a man of great compassion. He was a great family man, deeply devoted to his wife Jere and his family. He loved his country. He loved this state. He loved Lyon County. Mostly, he loved his family. We'll never forget John, for he was a wonderful person. He meant a lot to everyone that knew him and everyone that touched him. He was really, truly, a great American and a great Nevadan. Thank you.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblyman Dini moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 15 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 17—Designating March 27, 2001, as Nevada Diabetes Awareness Day.

WHEREAS, Diabetes is a serious and debilitating disease that poses a major health problem to the residents of the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, Diabetes is the seventh leading cause of death in the United States, with almost 16 million people having been diagnosed with the disease; and

WHEREAS, While 2,200 people are diagnosed with diabetes each day in the United States, many go undiagnosed because of lack of education and information regarding this disease; and

WHEREAS, In addition to the high mortality rate, diabetes has such life-threatening complications as blindness, kidney disease, nerve disease which may lead to lower limb amputations, heart disease and stroke; and

WHEREAS, Many people are unaware that there is an increased risk factor because of age, obesity and a sedentary lifestyle and that risk may be averted through known preventive measures; and

WHEREAS, Diabetes is one of the most costly health problems in the United States, running $98 billion annually for lost productivity and costs directly related to the disease; and

WHEREAS, It is estimated that the population of this state will double in the next 20 years, causing a great economic burden on the state and its residents, in addition to the human suffering, if this disease goes unchecked; and

WHEREAS, The cooperative efforts in the production of the “Nevada Diabetes Resource Directory” and the “Guidelines for Children with Diabetes in School” and statewide distribution of “Diabetes Patient Management and Physician Clinical Practice Cards” will have a great impact in reducing the incidence of diabetes by promoting community awareness; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That March 27, 2001, is hereby designated as Nevada Diabetes Awareness Day; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Nevada Legislature hereby commends the Nevada Diabetes Council and the Nevada Diabetes Association for Children and Adults for their efforts to reduce the effects of diabetes on the residents of this state by supplying them with resources and information; and be it further

Assemblyman Dini moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Dini, Perkins, Nolan, Manendo and Price.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. Diabetes Awareness Day is a very important day for us at the Legislature. This is a disease that has affected millions of people in our country and thousands of people in our state. As a person who fights the disease every day, I am well aware of the problems of people plagued with this disease. My mother had diabetes and in the descendant line my sister and I became diabetics. It is a serious problem, one we must recognize at our universities, in research, and in the funding we provide for people with this tragic disease. There is nothing worse than sticking yourself in the finger three or four times a day and giving yourself a shot or taking pills. It is a necessary part of controlling this disease. People who realize they have this disease and control it are able to continue living. It is something you live with every day of your life. If you don't get it controlled you have the problems of kidney failure, blindness and nerve disease. I know Assemblyman Price has been plagued with some of these ailments the past few years. All of us must recognize that we must do more. We have to call on Congress and ourselves to combat this disease and to do the research necessary to bring a more successful conclusion to our efforts. Mr. Speaker pro Tempore, I urge your support of this resolution and call on this house to increase its awareness and support to solve this problem.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of ACR 17. I would like to echo the remarks of the Speaker Emeritus. My father was diagnosed with diabetes some 40 years ago and has been living with that disease since. It's hard to imagine, unless you are dealing with it on a daily basis, either personally or within your family. I think that is what this resolution speaks to—for more folks to be aware of the debilitating effects of that disease; the additional burdens on a family; having to be insulin dependent and take a shot every day. It speaks to even those who aren't insulin dependent. The education and efforts to learn about this are going to be very important as we move into the future. We can only hope that some time in the near future that this disease will be eradicated and many folks won't have that burden to live with. I like to urge the body to support this resolution. Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN NOLAN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of this resolution. I grew up with two friends of mine that were twins. Both were born with childhood diabetes. One of them is still with us while the other is not. They had a lifetime of struggles associated with this particular disease. Later on in life, my father, too, contracted diabetes, became insulin dependent and later passed away from complications associated with the disease. I think that the real issue is that we owe ourselves to commit to further—to whatever degree we can—treatment. We will find eventually, hopefully the cure for diabetes, especially for little kids, like Christopher Meehan who is sitting here with me today. He showed off his insulin pump, which he carries around his waist with a small needle inserted into his abdomen. It's these little fellows and little girls that we really have to strive to help in whatever way we can, including passing resolutions like this one, to eventually finding a cure for diabetes. Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN MANENDO:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of ACR 17. Actually, I just wanted to mention and thank one of our colleagues from Assembly District 19. He has worked really hard and was really instrumental in recruiting a lot of the members in this body to go out on the streets on D.A.D.'s (Dollar's and Diabetes) day. I personally wanted to say, from my own standpoint, that I appreciate you involving me in this process. We go out on the street corners and we have our shirts and our hats and we raise money for this worthy cause. I just wanted to rise in support of the resolution. I also wanted to make the body aware that our colleague from Assembly District 19 is working very hard and we appreciate all that you do. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 17 and certainly appreciate the work the Council and Association has done in the past. As was indicated, I have diabetes type II. I always remember a story from when I first became aware I was diabetic; it was back in the days when people didn't like to tell anyone they had diabetes. People were ashamed of being diabetic and I never told anyone, other than my doctor and my immediate family. One of the side effects is that you have to visit the restroom on a frequent basis. A good friend from the press, who didn't know of the problem, did a story about me, questioning why I was getting up and leaving meetings all the time and coming back. For the first time, I acknowledged the problem and my friend from the press felt quite bad about the story. Now we are fortunate that more research is being done throughout the country. We hope that one of these days a permanent relief from this disease will be found. I would like to thank the makers and supporters of this resolution.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblyman Dini moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 17 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

By Assemblymen Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Brower, Brown, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Chowning, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Freeman, Gibbons, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ocegüera, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Price, Smith, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams; Senators Raggio, Titus, Amodei, Care, Carlton, Coffin, Jacobsen, James, Mathews, McGinness, Neal, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Porter, Rawson, Rhoads, Schneider, Shaffer, Townsend, Washington and Wiener:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 18—Memorializing former Assemblywoman Jan Evans.

WHEREAS, On April 24, 2000, flags throughout the State of Nevada were lowered to half-mast in honor of the passing of one of this state's most beloved and accomplished legislators, Jan Evans; and

WHEREAS, If ever there was a time when a person's passing initiated a celebration of life, in addition to creating a cause to mourn an irreplaceable loss, the passing of Jan Evans was such a time; and

WHEREAS, Although few were aware of it, after her birth in Cleveland, Ohio, Jan grew up in foster homes, where her closest family and best friends were the animals in the barn, a circumstance that in no way embittered her, but rather caused her to work passionately on issues such as child abuse, domestic violence, education and juvenile justice to protect the rights of children; and

WHEREAS, After putting herself through the University of Northern Colorado, Jan taught in the Denver public schools until she moved to Reno in 1969, where she extended her education by earning a master's degree in sociology from the University of Nevada, Reno; and

WHEREAS, After moving to Reno, Jan performed volunteer work in the community, and even before she began her career as a public servant upon being elected in 1986 to represent the residents of Sparks District 30 in the Assembly, she influenced the legislative process in the State of Nevada by spending time as a volunteer lobbyist; and

WHEREAS, During her tenure as an Assemblywoman, Jan distinguished herself by attaining the distinction of highest-ranking woman in the Assembly while serving as a member of the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means and the Interim Finance Committee each session, as Vice Chair of the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means for three sessions, as Committee Chair of the Health and Human Services Committee and Assistant Majority Floor Leader during the 1991 session, as Cospeaker pro Tempore during the 1995 session and as Speaker pro Tempore during the 1997 and 1999 sessions; and

WHEREAS, As the primary sponsor of many important pieces of legislation that will touch lives far into the future, Jan Evans built a legacy which can never die as she worked diligently to secure the passage of bills to increase money for victims of domestic violence, for protective services for children, for libraries, for treatment of AIDS and for programs for adult literacy; and

WHEREAS, Jan also sponsored bills to help equip pupils with the necessary skills for transition from school to work, to upgrade services relating to substance abuse and mental health, to accomplish long-term financial analysis and planning for our state, and to facilitate the use of money from federal tobacco settlements; and

WHEREAS, Jan will be especially remembered and admired for her courage and diligence in working for issues relating to women and children because, as one of her legislative colleagues recalled, "She cared about those issues at a time when they were not popular" and "to take on things like domestic violence was very unpopular, but she was very brave"; and

WHEREAS, Colleagues also remember Jan as one who was always prepared and had her facts at hand, and they fondly recall the image of her slowly lowering her head and looking over her colorful glasses to "scold" anyone who came unprepared for a meeting of her committee; and

WHEREAS, In the political arena where the ability to unite those with diverse opinions looms awesome, this great lady was recognized as a builder of bridges toward consensus and as a "power-sharer" who often did most of the work on a project but was the first to offer thanks to everyone who helped; and

WHEREAS, Throughout the seven terms Jan served in the Assembly, her dedication to the residents of the State of Nevada never waned, even during her struggle with cancer, as evidenced by the calls she made from her hospital bed after surgery to determine the progress of legislation that was important to her; and

WHEREAS, Proving herself to be a powerful force not only as a legislator, Jan revealed her strength of character and devotion to others through the massive amount of time she spent helping such organizations as the Advisory Council of the Committee to Aid Abused Women, Nevada Women's Fund, Women's Health Initiative, KNPB TV, Sparks Heritage Foundation and Sparks Community Chamber of Commerce, in addition to her role as the Director of Development for the University of Nevada School of Medicine; and

WHEREAS, The receipt of such awards as the Thornton Peace Prize from the University of Nevada, Reno, the Women Helping Women Award from the Soroptimist International of Truckee Meadows, the Hannah Humanitarian Award from the Committee to Aid Abused Women, the National Merit Award from the State Democratic Leaders Association, the Governor's Mental Health Leadership Award, the Toll Fellowship from the Council of State Governments, the Mike O'Callaghan Humanitarian Award from the Truckee Meadows Human Services Association, the People's Guardian Award, the Women's Role Model Award and posthumous induction into the Hall of Fame of the Nevada Women's Fund cannot express the gratitude she deserves; and

WHEREAS, In spite of her long hours of serious work, Jan also had a lighter side, as evidenced by the recollection of her close friend Sue Wagner, former Lieutenant Governor of Nevada, when she smiled about times she and Jan, as two of the few Cleveland Indian fans in this area, would pretend they were announcers and broadcast games to each other over the telephone; and

WHEREAS, Jan Evans, said the Reverend John Ruby, who conducted her funeral service, "lived not only with passion for issues, but compassion for people"; and

WHEREAS, Perhaps Dr. Robert Daugherty, Dean of the University of Nevada School of Medicine best summed up our feelings when he eulogized, "What do you say when an angel goes to heaven? Nevada has lost part of its soul and those of us left can only hope to show each other the respect and provide the help that Jan provided every day. In the office or in the Legislature, she was always looking after someone other than herself. Her behind-the-scenes work on behalf of all of us is indestructible, and the results will live for a long time."; and

WHEREAS, Jan's presence will be sorely missed, both in the Legislature and in all the places she touched, because as everyone who knew her acknowledges, Jan was a completely selfless champion of those who were unable to fight for themselves; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 71st legislative session offer their sincerest condolences and heartfelt sympathy to the family and friends of Jan Evans, a woman who endeared herself to everyone she knew, especially to those of us with whom she served; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the name Jan Evans has become, and will always remain, synonymous with compassion, courage and integrity, and the person Jan Evans will always be alive in our hearts and minds; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Jan's son, Robert Evans, and her daughter, Tracey Heath.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson, Chowning, de Braga, Leslie, Dini, Gibbons, Giunchigliani, Perkins, Smith, Goldwater, Carpenter, Arberry, Marvel, Price, Buckley and Ohrenschall.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. It's a long resolution, and yet for those of us who served with Jan, we know that it could not possibly touch to the depth of how it feels for the many accomplishments that Jan did here in this room and in this building and for the people of this state. Being from the same community as Jan, and watching her work, I knew from the very, very beginning that much was to be expected. However, it was her support for each of us in our own individual efforts to try and achieve what was best for the citizens of the State of Nevada that made Jan Evans stand shoulders above. There are many fine legislators here. Few will ever rise to the level of that Jan Evans has set as a mark. It is a mark for all of us to aim for. That is the best we can all hope for. She is the best of us.

Her sense of humor, I think was most important, and I am always reminded by her final words. Her final words to me, when she asked me to receive an honor for her in the closing days of her life. She said, "Please, Bernie. Don't get carried away with it." All of us can best remember Jan Evans by doing the best job we can. That is what I am going to do. I hope many of you will, too.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. It is indeed a great honor to stand today in support of this resolution, ACR 18. When we lose one of our colleagues, it hits us hard. When we lost this colleague, it hit us extremely hard. There are so many people out here that would like to say something. We have the privilege to address everyone with the microphone. When I first came as a proud member of this body, I received a very lovely china cup and saucer filled with flowers. I did not know from whom it came. Jan did not even know me. I did not know her. But that was the way she was. She was a mentor to the nth degree. We all say we would like to make a difference. Jan made a difference.

I think of her smile and her thin body. It always seemed as though she had a spirit that was like a whirlwind. Every where she was she had consummate energy. When she was ill, so many of us didn't even know that she was. That energy just kept on going. She kept it a secret from so many of us. So it is with great honor and privilege today that I rise and thank her for her mentorship and hope that all of us can continue to be mentors to other people in her honor. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN DE BRAGA:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of ACR 18, as well. Jan was the first legislator I met when I first decided to run for office. She came to interview me to see if I might be worthy of Democratic support. She instantly became a wonderful friend. When I think of her, and I think of her often, I do so with such a sense of loss because she's gone. But also such a sense of great good fortune that I had the privilege of knowing and working with her.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. Jan, for me, was one of the best role models I've ever had in my life. I don't think I would have run for office if had not been for Jan. I walked in her many campaigns. You all know how our campaigns are. You have your volunteers; you never know who is going to show; you have all your literature all over your room; and you're lucky if you even made a pot of coffee and had some donuts. Well, Jan's campaigns were never like that, let me tell you. She always had everything organized. When you showed up to walk for Jan, she was ready for you and appreciated it. When I was thinking of running for office, she called me and encouraged me to do it and told me that my biggest enemy was going to be time—finding the time to manage everything. I found that piece of advice to be very true. As every piece of advice she ever gave me was very true. Mr. Speaker pro Tempore, I have enjoyed sitting next to you this session, but sitting next to her last session was the best thing that could have happened to me as a freshman. She taught me so much. Since we come from the same area and we care about the same issues, people have said to me many times, "You have some big shoes to fill." I can tell you, her shoes are impossible to fill and you all know that.

When Rob was here, when we were cleaning out her office, I went through her files. I kept a bunch of them. Some I sent to some of you, because they had meticulous notes on them, on different issues she was working on, things we are working on this session. One of my colleagues from Las Vegas knows of what I speak. She kept things she knew we would be moving towards. That was the kind of visionary she was. I have those files up in my office and from time to time I will look at the things she wrote and I find inspiration there. I can tell you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore, we have lost the finest legislator I think we'll ever see. Rob, I miss your mother every day I'm here. Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I must arise in support of this resolution. You know, Jan was my right hand person, as my Speaker pro Tempore those three sessions. Our friendship started many years ago, before she became a legislator and she was lobbying for the women and children in our state. I guess, in those days, it was uncommon for a woman to be a lobbyist. I was one of the few people on the second floor that would talk to her. She came to my office quite often and we developed a friendship that lasted all those years. I tell you, her honesty and her loyalty to me were something I will forever cherish. I can't forget it. We worked together. She was always in my office telling me what was going on. There were no secrets. I will never forget that honesty and loyalty she showed to me. She was probably one of the reasons I was able to be Speaker eight times: because of that honesty and loyalty and dedication that we were both working for. I certainly extend my feelings to the family again and we certainly miss Jan.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of this wonderful legislator, wonderful person; I rise in support of ACR 18. I knew Jan before she was in politics. I actually met her when she was interning for Sue Wagner. They began the crusade to raise money for domestic violence. I really have felt her spirit this session and I know my colleague from Sparks, who is currently in her seat, has felt that way as well. I know that we don't have the fights that Jan and Sue had, but we have had a few. Just go out there and preach the gospel; the gospel of goodness, the gospel of Jan Evans, the gospel of Sue Wagner. I hope that I'm going to be that kind of legislator. I strive to be that kind of legislator, someone who cares about people and just always does the right thing. I guess where I want to differ from her is the part, "only the good die young." One thing she left was a wonderful legacy, a wonderful legacy in Robert and Tracy. So, I'm thankful to have them and I think Robert and his wife have moved to this area. We look for good things for them and good memories.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIUNCHIGLIANI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of ACR 18. I think every woman legislator and lobbyist in this building owes a debt of gratitude to Jan for paving the way for many of us. She did it with grace. I had two role models: Marvin Sedway and Jan Evans. Some of you probably would say I modeled myself more after Marvin Sedway. In reality, I have to say that I learned a great deal from Jan Evans. I think you have seen a little bit of a change as far as that is concerned because sometimes you can do things quietly and still carry a big stick and get your message across. When I was given the privilege of being Vice-Chairman, it almost scared me, even though I wanted it. It scared me because Jan was awesome. She was always prepared. She did everything. I don't intend to try and fill her shoes; it can not happen. All I want to do is make sure her compassion and her conscience is not forgotten in these hallowed halls. To the family, I didn't know you, but God bless you for having brought us a wonderful mom. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of the resolution. The funny thing for me is that Jan would take us all to task for even doing this today. She wouldn't have approved of this by any stretch of the imagination. Spending any time on a resolution in her memory would have just been a waste of time as far as she was concerned. I can tell you that the half hour or so that we're going to spend on this—doesn't do her justice.

I look back on my remarks on Opening Day and those were really remarks that meant a lot to me as it relates to Jan. I talked about her being our moral compass, a person who never, ever gave up on helping those who needed it the most. Being a rare public servant who refused to bow to the political pressure of the moment. She was often our conscience. In many ways, that fit hand and glove with some of the remarks in the resolution. She was described as compassionate, courageous and with integrity. Jan took me under her wing in my freshman year on Ways and Means and taught me the ropes, if you will, on the money committee. She did it in such a way, that she led by example. It was her humility and her work ethic that really allowed you to be drawn in to that.

She was the ultimate team player to accomplish those things for those who needed it most. Many adjectives can be used to describe her. She was the consummate work horse—not the show horse. She didn't care about any of the accolades. The resolution, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore, also speaks to "power-sharer." I see it a little differently than that. I thought she was more of an empowerer. In fact, by the time she got done talking to you and by the time she got done leading by example, there became a burden on yourself to do something. You did not want to let her down. You did not want to disappoint her because the causes she fought for were so very, very important. They just envelop you. She didn't specifically ask for your help. You were just naturally drawn into it by her aura, the way she carried herself. Without question, Nevada is a better place today because of Jan and years from now when I tell stories to my grandchildren, the stories I will tell them will be of how proud I was to serve with Jan Evans. Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. You have no idea how pleased I am to be here, to be able to rise in support of ACR 18. I first met Jan on her first campaign, a long time ago. Over the years, I worked with her on education issues. She was one of those people who would always talk to me, who would always welcome me into her world when I wanted to talk to her about an issue that PTA was concerned about. I still remember one time when we were having our day at the Legislature, and I was here on the floor. We had pins on that day, and I didn't have a pin—I had given it away. She didn't have one, either. She had me go and find a pin for her to wear and that touched me and stayed with me.

Unfortunately, probably for Jan, I became her neighbor about six years ago. Unfortunate because that meant some sidewalk conversations that she had to have with me about a particular issue or two. She was always very kind and spent whatever time it took for me to be able to express some concern to her. It was probably the biggest honor in my life the day she called me last January and told me she would not be able to run for reelection and asked if I would consider running in her seat. I put the phone down, sat and had a good cry. I could not believe both things were happening. She has left behind a legion of women and men who are supportive of me and have been helpful to me and I know that she watches out over each and every one of us. I, too, on days where I'm wondering if I'm doing something right will picture her looking down at me over her glasses and try to keep her spirit and her compassion alive in my heart, all the time.

I have her picture hanging in my office and I was searching and searching for something to put next to it, that reminded me of Jan. So I want to read to you the poster that I did find and when I found it, I thought "Oh my gosh. This is it." It's called "Some People" and it says, "Some people come into our lives and quickly go. Some people move our souls to dance. They awaken us to new understanding with the passing whisper of their wisdom. Some people make the sky more beautiful to gaze upon. They stay in our lives for awhile, leave footprints on our hearts and we are never, ever the same." Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOLDWATER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. The Speaker is right. Jan would not have wanted to a resolution on her life. If you recall, Jan who came to work early and stayed late and worked voraciously, during any resolution, put down her pen, put on her glasses, fold her hands, look up and listen to the resolution intently. Why? Why do we do these resolutions? Do we do them for ourselves? For the families? Do we do them for the person? I think it is a little of everything.

I will always believe, the voracious worker, didn't feel well at the start of the session. I will always believe that she delayed her medical care and her diagnosis because of her work in this Assembly and her commitment to the things she believed in. I will always believe that because of that, her life was hastened. I think that we need to recognize that and we need to recognize it for what it is—no less a commitment to her State or her beliefs than a soldier dying on a battlefield; no less a commitment to her state, her country or her family than someone who would put themselves in harm's way for what they believe. I came to this Assembly at the age of 23. I spent a good deal of my life in here. The people in this Chamber have become and are my family. It is tough to lose a family member. It is one of the hardest things you can do. You get a lot of cards, where everyone tells you what it is like to lose a family member and all the things you can accomplish and what's left. There are a lot more questions than answers given in how your heart aches and the questions you ask. What are we left with but our family? We have all lost our family member and the family she has left behind will make her proud always. The people who sit in these chairs will always be Jan's family—let's hope that she'll always be proud of her family.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of ACR 18. I came to this legislature as one of those freshman members with Jan. There were 13 of us then. There are only three left now. What I always admired most about Jan was how well she was prepared. You didn't go up against Jan, because she would always be better prepared than you were. The thing I want to say is to thank Jan Evans, the person most responsible for enabling Elko to have a class size reduction of 22 to 1. I think that she would be proud of that. She came to me and said "You know, you have to get those Republicans in the Senate to get off their duff if you want to get 22 to 1." So, that's what happened. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. Just sitting here, listening to everyone's remarks, it seemed just like yesterday that I met Jan. It has been 18 years. I was walking down the hall, headed to the Senate, and I saw this little lady coming down the hall, storming. She was pounding away. She came straight up to me and said "You don't know me but I know you." I had just become chair of the Health Committee. She said, "My concerns are women and children. And I know you are a member of Ways and Means this session. So you will see a lot of me."

As time passed, and she decided she wanted to run for office, I said, "Gosh, this lady is going to be a ball of fire." She came to this legislature, turning and swirling and getting close to all of us. I got close to her. I had to share her with the Speaker from Yerington. She was right there. She was my rock. She kept me in line. Sometimes she would call me on the phone and say, "I need to talk to you." I would say, "Okay. Who is going to come to who?" She would say, "I'll try this time to go out in the hallway and see if I can make it to your office." She was so loved by so many, she would be stopped in the hallway. She would get to my office two hours later and say, "I just got here." I knew that she was pulled in all directions because she was loved by so many.

When it came to the point she was my vice-chair, when you look on your table, and this is not a racist comment, but you have the salt and pepper. I was the salt and she was the pepper because she kept me in line. Ways and Means functioned very well. As you know, as the sessions close, you come to negotiations with the Senate. I would sit down and talk with Senator Raggio and I would say to him, "Do you really want me to go get Jan?" He would say, "Nope. We can come to some conclusion today."

In saying all this, I really miss her. She was really the glue. She made us all function very well and it was nice to hear what all you have said. I had the blessing of having her as my vice-chair. We cut a hole in the wall so we could just go and visit each other. When I heard about what was happening with her I felt very bad and I knew I was losing someone that was very close to me. So, to the family, we regret, but we always will remember and never forget her. She was the rock.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of ACR 18. I had the pleasure of working with Jan before she was a legislator. Everything that has been said here today has been absolutely true. Jan was a fine person and a great legislator. What is going to stand out mostly, however, in my memory of Jan, was the fact she was a great lady and always a lady.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I would first like to extend my thanks and appreciation to whoever actually wrote this resolution. It certainly goes a long way in telling how those of us who were fortunate enough to know and work with Jan felt about her and her accomplishments. For those of you who did not have the honor of meeting this lady, you have heard how all of us that worked with her and knew her felt. I have to say, in my opinion, the highest goal any of us should want to reach as a legislator and a person should be doing the right things on behalf of our community as she did. She was just wonderful.

For those of us attended her services, you know of the love and memories and the things she had to go through in her life were incredible. We as a legislature and us as a body, were so fortunate to have Jan to look forward to each day. I used to watch Jan. She was just amazing to me. Of course, I was learning like all of us do. To watch how she operated and how she was always on top of everything and was really a good person to work with was something to appreciate. I had fully expected in those days that she would end up being the first woman Speaker of the Assembly. I think if it had not been for the unfortunate circumstance that might have happened. I was wondering, if it is appropriate: are we going to hang a copy of this resolution in the halls of this building? I think it would be great for those who come after us. She was special.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of ACR 18. When I was a volunteer lobbyist, before I ran for office, I had the opportunity to come to the legislature. For the first time, I went back to the gallery and I was watching the proceedings, and I watched Jan get up and make an argument on the floor. Jan had her own style. She was a great orator. When I saw her rise and pause and make every word count, I said, "Wow. This is what I aspire to."

Then, I think Jan really made a mark for herself because of her passion for issues. It's not just that she cared about domestic violence and women and children. It was the passion to which she engaged in fines for them. I recall Jan's reaction when we had a bill last session on spanking of children. We marched out to the Women's Caucus. We started talking about the bill. Sometimes I think passion is not involved in enough of our arguments. With Jan, everything she cared about became passionate, whether it was people, whether it was issues, she was there. She was a fighter. She left her mark. If we can do anything for her today I think what she would appreciate is not this resolution, which she would be furious we are still talking about her, but to get out there and not let people forget what she fought for and to fight for the issues that she held dear.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of ACR 18. Everything which has been said about Jan Evans is true and more so. One aspect really hasn't been touched on. Jan was a builder of consensus. She knew how to talk to people and make them see the issues that she was seeing, the way she felt about them. We used to have a bi-partisan Women's Caucus as the Majority Leader mentioned. In that caucus, she gave unstinting advice, not just to women of her own party, but also to the women of the opposition party. I think that often helped to get legislation through. She exuded a feeling of family that won't ever be replaced. Thank you.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 18 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 25.

Assemblyman Dini moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Dini and Gibbons.

Assemblywoman Koivisto requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. We are honored today to be able to recognize Professor John Seinfeld. He is the 14th scientist to receive the Desert Research Institute Nevada Medal. I thank Nevada Bell for recognizing the need to support and reward national scientific achievement. I appreciate Nevada Bell's role in providing a substantial cash award and for collaborating with the Desert Research Institute to create the unique Nevada Medal. Dr. Seinfeld is highly regarded for his pioneer work, and he is widely considered responsible for establishing the field of air quality research as a true science. In 1967, while pursuing a Ph.D. in Chemical Engineering at Princeton, Professor Seinfeld joined the California Institute of Technology, where he holds the Louis H. Nohl endowed chair in California Institute of Technology's Chemical Engineering Department. Until recently he served as the Engineering School's chairman, equivalent to a Dean in our university system. He is also a member of the National Academy of Engineering and a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. Shortly after joining the California Institute of Technology, Professor Seinfeld began applying advanced analytical methods of the chemical industry to the description of air quality. In 1972 Professor Seinfeld introduced the first mathematical models that would allow scientists and air quality managers to simulate the chemical process of air pollution in the atmosphere. This enabled managers to try out possible solutions on computers and predict what might happen under various circumstances. This fundamental advancement in the battle for clean air gave air quality managers around the world the basic strategic tool for dealing effectively with the causes of pollution. Several of the Desert Research Institute's own senior air quality scientists, entering the field a few years behind John Seinfeld, have taken his models and applied them to new air quality tools. Dr. Seinfeld was also one of the first scientists to describe the chemical process leading to the formation of urban ozone. He has been a leading figure in scientific advances toward understanding the formation and chemistry of aerosols, the microscopic particles and droplets that are the primary chemical components in the air. He is now involved in research examining the influence of these particles in the world's climate. Yesterday afternoon, he presented the Nevada Medal lecture on that topic at the Desert Research Institute. Professor Seinfeld has published more than 400 papers and four critically acclaimed books. One of those books was considered by the University to be the basic worldwide textbook in atmospheric science, chemistry, and physics, from air pollution to climate change. We are honored to bring before the legislature one of the world's foremost environmental scientists. I express our appreciation to Professor Seinfeld for his contributions. I thank Desert Research Institute and Nevada Bell for sponsoring the Nevada Medal program and bringing Professor Seinfeld to Nevada to share his ideas.

I urge your support of the Resolution.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of SCR 25 honoring Dr. John Seinfeld, professor, scientist, and author. I applaud his efforts in the battle—the battle for clean air; air we can breathe; air we can live in. After reading his book, "Atmospheric Chemistry and Physics: From Pollution to Climate Change," cover-to-cover, I am convinced that Dr. John Seinfeld would do justice to this body if he would investigate the pollutant problems on the fourth floor. Thank you for all you have done, and with the kidding aside we do applaud all your efforts. You have made this a safer place to live.

Remarks by Assemblymen Gibbons, Angle, Giunchigliani, Humke, Goldwater, Carpenter, Williams, Brower, Ohrenschall, Hettrick, Dini, Anderson and Price.

Assemblyman Gustavson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I am very honored and pleased to share with you this young man, Mr. Jim Wood, who was a State Assemblyman for the area I am pleased and honored to also represent. He actually served this area when I was born; that was a long time ago. It wasn't so long ago that we don't have some remembrance of him. He served as a freshman with our own Speaker pro Tempore of the Senate. A little bit of history to share with you: he served here 14 years and was here when our Speaker Emeritus was a freshman—a very young freshman; he was here after Lake County was changed to Roop County, then changed to Washoe. Thirty-seven people served in these chambers in Mr. Wood's freshman year and about a third of them, or twelve, were from Clark County.

Mr. Wood served with the first African American member of the State Assembly, Mr. Woodrow Wilson. He came into office the year after the oldest male state legislator retired, Cada Castolas Boak, who served until the age of 82. Mr. Wood served with the oldest female state legislator, Maude Frazier, who served until her retirement at 82. He served with Helen Herr, who is in the history books as having the longest service of a female legislator. He served in two special sessions. They were record breakers because they were the longest special sessions in our state's history. He served with two young freshmen legislators known as the "Gold Dust Twins," who later became U.S. Senators. He served with the former U.S. Senator Chic Hecht, Ninth Circuit Court Judge Procter Hug, former Secretary of State William Swackhamer and Judge Bill Beko.

He also served with many notables, such as Carl Dodge, Eileen Brookman, Keith Ashworth, Margie Foote, Virgil Getto, Don Mello, Ed Fike, Bart Schouweiler, Melvin Close, Mary Frazzini, Archie Pozzi, Coe Swobe, Vernon Bunker, George Von Tobel, Les Lerude and Randy Capurro.

I am honored to share with you this wonderful public servant, who kept the seat warm for me before I was born. I have been honored to use in my office his original desk and chair that we placed outside the Speaker's office today. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. It allows everyone to see how they did business back then. The only thing missing was a brass spittoon that used to sit by the desk in the days gone by. That is okay I guess.

I do want to share with Mr. Wood a little history. We are in the 21st Century and in this session, Mr. Wood, we have had the first African American to serve as Speaker pro Tempore, who is from Assembly District No. 6. The Assemblywoman from District No. 8 is the first woman to serve as Majority Leader. The Assemblyman from district No. 39 is the first Minority Leader to be able to do all the heavy lifting with only one arm. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN ANGLE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support of ACR 19. I want to thank Mr. Wood for taking such good care of my district. It seems that he knew Reno when it was small, a small town. We now have three or four or maybe even five members that have to do the same job that he did then. He was the father of enabling legislation. I was reading that he was the one that was responsible for the Centennial Coliseum. Not too many people call it that anymore. You have to be an old time Reno resident to understand that the Reno/Sparks Convention Center was built in the year of the Centennial, 1964, and was therefore named the Centennial Coliseum. It just so happens that building started out in an onion field where I played as a child. It was right in the back of my home and we played there. When they built the Coliseum, it had a huge parking lot. My dad taught me to drive there, so I have some very fond memories of that. I want to thank Mr. Wood in getting us that building and promoting Reno. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIUNCHIGLIANI:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 19. I think it is rather apropos that we honor a gentleman, who I have not had the privilege of meeting, but did serve with my former Assemblywoman, Eileen Brookman. I will assure everyone that she still likes orange. I think, as a teacher, I want to say thank you, maybe rather belatedly. I was reading through your history background and it is rather ironic, we seem to be revisiting a great deal of that right now: a teacher shortage; teachers leaving the state to go work someplace else; problems with higher education funding. Through your efforts, the two percent statewide sales tax came into play to help, not only districts, but other programs much needed in the state. We are grappling with the same issues this year, so hopefully we will apply your same insight and sensitivity to the issue when taxes are needed; that we step up to the plate if that is what we need to make a decision on. Thank you very much. It is a privilege to finally meet you from long distance.

ASSEMBLYMAN HUMKE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 19. It has been my pleasure today to meet Mr. Wood. I would note for the record that he served with my friend, former Assemblyman Randy Capurro, who is still around and does visit these halls from time to time. It is nice to have this ability to touch the somewhat distant past. I would like to say a few words about some of Mr. Wood's accomplishments. He had a former boss, Wesley Elgin Travis, who had a colorful history. That individual was born in a mining camp and rose to the level of becoming a surface transportation leader. He was the person responsible for the establishment of the first transcontinental passenger bus system in the United States. As I stated, Mr. Wood formerly worked for him in his company. Mr. Travis made a donation which resulted in the trust fund, which did establish the Jot Travis Student Union building at the University of Nevada campus, which is still there and has been expanded recently and is a wonderful building for the students of that institution. Perhaps, even more importantly, is that Mr. Wood is the person who was responsible, in large part, for the establishment of the University of Nevada Medical School. During his service, he worked with Governor Laxalt. He worked somewhat behind the scenes, engaging in phone calls with the illustrious Howard Hughes essentially brokered the initial funding for the medical school. It has been so important for this state. I think we should additionally honor him for those activities. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOLDWATER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Having gone through a unique marriage situation, and it has been wonderful for me, I thought with the indulgence of the body and would rise in support of ACR 19 and, with the indulgence of the Chief Clerk, read a resolution from February 23, 1967:

“WHEREAS, It has come to the attention of the members of this body during these hectic Legislative days that our Minority Floor Leader, James E. Wood, by connivance and fortitude, and without the advantage of a handsome physiognomy—has induced one Gwen Moore to become his bride on the morrow; and

WHEREAS, Observing age-old traditions and customs in anticipation of the honeymoon days ahead, our hearty Minority Leader has requested to be excused from his Legislative endeavors on the morrow, Friday, February 24, at which time he and the beautiful Gwen will be bound together by marital ties the mutual promises of which will sustain them throughout their lives together; and

WHEREAS, The felicitations and genuine best wishes of this body can best be displayed and manifested by our open declaration contained in this document; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That the very best wishes and congratulations are tendered to our noble Minority Leader upon his approaching nuptials to the charming Gwen Moore, who has so graciously lightened our burdens by her personal appearance in these chambers today.”

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 19. I note that Mr. Wood had his early education in Elko. Anyone that had done that just had to do great things. I'm sure Mr. Wood served with other cowboys from Elko, Roy Young and Norm Glaser and maybe a few others. What I think is unique about this resolution, and we should probably do it more, is that it honors those who are still alive. I just want to add my congratulations and wish you many more years.

ASSEMBLYMAN WILLIAMS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 19. I was one of the legislators here today who had not known Mr. Wood. One of the things that I did when I first got elected to this body eight sessions ago, was to sit at the knee of Woodrow Wilson and talk to him about the legislature back at the time he and Mr. Wood served. Quite often, Mr. Wilson, who passed away last year, talked about the legislature in those years, speaking of individuals such as our Speaker Emeritus and other great legislators. Almost every single occasion that we had a chance to chat, Mr. Wood's name would come up. I know how fond that Woodrow Wilson was of Mr. Wood. Now that he is no longer with us, I would be remiss and pretentious, as well, not to stand in support of this resolution, supporting Mr. Wood and honoring his present community service to our State of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYMAN BROWER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of ACR 19. I think Mr. Wood represented a large part of the district that I currently represent. It is great to see him here today. I simply would echo the remarks made by my colleague from Elko and appreciate the remarks from my colleague from Clark County. I thank my colleague from Reno for bringing this resolution to us today. It is good to see you here, Mr. Wood and Mrs. Wood. May you enjoy many more years together. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, have not had the opportunity of meeting Mr. Wood personally but I rise in support of ACR 19. For a long time I headed the legal clinic for the Westside Federal Credit Unit and this was a prize project of the late Woodrow Wilson. We used to work together for hours every evening. I heard many, many tales and reminiscences about his time in the Nevada State Legislature. He always spoke very, very highly of you. I just wanted you to know. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 19. I, too, don't know Mr. Wood or his wife. I welcome them here. In reading the resolution, I figured that anyone who enjoys Elko County as I do, and have property up there, who is involved in Rotary, as I am, and is the Minority Leader, he obviously has to be a great guy. So, I just wanted to rise and say that we thank you for your service and your dedication to the State of Nevada and all the people you served when you were part of this body. We welcome you here.

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I must rise in support of the resolution. When I came here as a freshman in 1967 Jim was already here. He brought a different level of representation to these chambers. We started out in the old building over there where the Governor's Office is now—that's where we were then. Jim was just a hard rock Republican businessman. He brought that attitude into these chambers. I remember in 1968 there was a special session. Governor Laxalt called a special session. One of the reasons was Lake Tahoe and the other was to bring in Medicaid. At that time it was 90 percent federal money and 10 percent state money. I remember we put up $10 million and got $90 million from the Feds. Jim was the only person who voted against it. He gave an outstanding speech. I'll never forget it. He blasted off and he said "You guys will rue the day that you take this $90 million from the federal government because next year it will be 80/20, and then it will 70/30." Now it is 50/50. He predicted that. He was the only person in the Assembly who voted against it. I'll never forget that speech, one of those rousing speeches, blasting the program.

He is a good man and after all these years we have kept our friendship. It has been a real privilege to know him and to see him occasionally and he looks wonderful and I hope his health continues and he comes back to visit us again.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

I also rise in support of ACR 19. I have had the opportunity of meeting Mr. Wood on several occasions. I'm more familiar with his son Larry, who I went to college with. The point I think that the resolution really speaks to is a lifetime of accomplishment. As a young man growing up in Washoe County I have had the opportunity of benefiting from the projects that he has supported: the Jot Travis Student Union when it was first opened; and the Centennial Coliseum, as I still think of it, even as we talk about the RSCVA today. I think Mr. Wood is a visionary and his vision is not the least slowed down by the few years since he last sat in these seats.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Through you and to you. It is my pleasure, although we have never met, to support ACR 19. Over the years, from different times, I have heard good stories and very fine things about Assemblyman Wood and his day. We are very fortunate to have had folks like him working and taking care of our state, ensuring it would still be here for us. It was so nice hearing the resolution about you getting married—that was great. We thank you so much for joining us today and we hope that you will join us at another time. As I was reading the very fine background that Mrs. Gibbons put together for us, it occurred to me that you would have also enjoyed Nevada's only annual session. We thank you so much for being with us today.

Father, Your divine direction and guiding hand is needed, and welcomed here this day, as well as the ones to follow. Assemblyman Dini moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Dini, Marvel, Gibbons, Gustavson and Carpenter.

Assemblyman Collins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal:

ASSEMBLYMAN DINI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I had the privilege of serving with Norman in the 1967 Session, when I first got here. We were over in the old building then, where the Governor's office resides now. We served together on some committees. Actually, I had him buffaloed for several sessions because I was chairman of the Agriculture Committee in 1967—he thought I was a farmer. Little did he know I was a saloon keeper in Yerington.

One of his greatest accomplishments was the "Green Belt" law. Had he not been able to take that to the voters in this state, we probably wouldn't have much agriculture left in the State of Nevada. That has helped preserve the family-owned farms that have been a tradition all these years since we became a state and even before. My wife, Mouryne, actually should be down here speaking, because she was Norman's secretary in the 1965 Session, in the old building. We didn't have offices back then. You had to come down to the floor and dictate your letters. She was in the secretarial pool.

She got well acquainted with Norman, as his corresponding secretary in 1965. They had little stories between them because, at that time, Mouryne and her family were raising goats and kids, at the same time. So they talked about raising goats.

Norman was really a witty guy. He could whip out a line in a second. He would throw something at you and catch you off guard. Mouryne and he established a really close relationship and a friendship that lasted many, many years. In fact, Mouryne says she visited Nelda, Norman's wife, who is sitting with me. She was postmistress of Halleck. Mouryne went up there several times and visited the family and visited Nelda at the post office. So, there are some close family bindings between Mouryne and the family.

He was a good legislator. He had vision and he really exemplified what a good legislator should be. It is indeed my privilege to have served with him in this House and with him when he was in the Senate, where he served for two terms. We have lost a great Nevadan, a person that contributed immensely to our history and to the laws we operate under today. My condolences to the family who are all here joining us today. I know my other colleagues have some things to say also. I thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of AR 7. It is indeed a pleasure today to see so many of the Glaser family here and friends from Elko I recognize back in the gallery. I've known the Glaser family from time immemorial. I first started cowboying when I was about eleven or twelve years old. That was when I first met Norman's father.

As the resolution states, Norman truly was a Nevadan. He was involved in so many areas, so many different things. He was active in the Nevada Farm Bureau, serving as president for many years. I was president of the Nevada Cattlemen's Association and we were able to work together.

I think Norman was my senator when I was first elected in 1978. For the first four years, Norman and I always made it a point to get together and visit the many county commissions. Rural legislators know they are responsive to several county commissions, several school boards. We made a point to get around. Norman was never partisan. We were here to do a job for the State of Nevada. I think one of the things which isn't mentioned in the resolution, is Norman was instrumental in the development and building of the South Fork Dam, which is truly one of the finest recreational areas in the State of Nevada. I think that will always be a tribute to Norman's efforts—and of course all the people we have from Elko here today. It's been really great to see you here, Nelda; we are certainly going to miss Norman. It's nice that we had this tribute for such a great man.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of AR 7, in honor of this cowboy from Halleck, Nevada. I am sure he is up there just pleased as punch, "yippee kay yaying" over all of us for talking about his enormous accomplishments. So much, that he has probably gotten a brigade of shovelers up there, going after these remarks. He was a great Nevadan. His family members are all great Nevadans and I'm very pleased that this body has chosen to honor him. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GUSTAVSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This may surprise a few of you, but I actually met the Glaser family back in the early 1950's. So, even though I'm from southern California myself, my father, who is with me this afternoon, was in the Navy with Norm's brother, Art. So we visited the ranch out there in Halleck many times. I got to know the Glasers somewhat as a youngster. In fact, the first time I ever fired a shotgun was on their ranch. After I picked myself up off the ground, I was taught, again, how to fire a shotgun. So, I rise in support of AR 7. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It's indeed an honor to support AR 7. Norman was a great friend of mine. We were neighbors in the ranching business. For many years I purchased their cattle. Norman and Arthur's word was like gold. When you arrived at a price, that was it.

It is pretty amazing one man can do so many things in his lifetime, as this resolution says. He was always busy—always thinking, always looking for things to do.

Nelda and my wife were what they called in Elko, the "Pink Ladies." That was the Auxiliary for the hospital. I'll never forget all those pink signs Norman and I had to paint for Nelda and my wife.

The one thing I remember most about Norman is that he was a great rancher and a real conservationist. Norman and his brother were always improving the ranch. In this day and age, to go rehabilitate a meadow isn't a simple thing to do. You have to make sure you have a place for the ducks and other animals and wildlife. Norman was so proud he was able to increase the production on that ranch and still take care of the wildlife. When he was developing his land, they would buy lots of private land so they could better compete in this world that we ranchers have. It is really a great honor to have known Norman.

I'll always remember he was a real staunch democrat, probably the most conservative democrat. He would come around when we were holding these town hall meetings. Maybe there was a democrat who was running in Elko County that maybe was not too popular and didn't have a chance. But Norman Glaser always stood up and spoke highly of the candidate. I always admired him for doing that, because it would have been very easy not to even show up. I always remember how great a man he was and how great his integrity was. He was my neighbor and one my most valued friends. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Chowning, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Bache, Beers, Berman, Brower, Brown, Buckley, Carpenter, Cegavske, Claborn, Collins, de Braga, Dini, Freeman, Gibbons, Giunchigliani, Goldwater, Gustavson, Hettrick, Humke, Koivisto, Lee, Leslie, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Neighbors, Nolan, Ocegüera, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Price, Smith, Tiffany, Von Tobel and Williams; Senators Mathews, Amodei, Care, Carlton, Coffin, Jacobsen, James, McGinness, Neal, O'Connell, O'Donnell, Porter, Raggio, Rawson, Rhoads, Schneider, Shaffer, Titus, Townsend, Washington and Wiener:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 20—Declaring April 3, 2001, as Equal Pay Day in Nevada.

WHEREAS, In 1999, nearly four decades after the passage of the Equal Pay Act of 1963, which requires employers to pay all employees equally for equal work, regardless of their gender, and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which prohibits discrimination in compensation because of race, color, religion, national origin or sex, the United States Census Bureau of the Department of Commerce estimated that women working full time still earned an overall average of only 72 cents for every dollar earned by men, while African-American women earned on average only 65 cents for every dollar earned by a Caucasian man, and while Hispanic women on average earned merely 52 cents for every dollar earned by a Caucasian man; and

WHEREAS, The disparity in compensation based on differing genders, races or national origins of employees has contributed to depressed wages for women and minorities and, although part of the wage gap results from differences in education and experience, a significant portion cannot be explained by differences in qualifications; and

WHEREAS, Educating women for better career paths, opening traditionally male jobs to women and reducing the segregation by gender found in some occupations increases earnings for women; and

WHEREAS, Eliminating such disparities in compensation raises self-respect in the workplace, strengthens the security of families and enhances retirement for hardworking citizens; and

WHEREAS, Each year, the National Committee on Pay Equity, founded in 1979, organizes the national observance of Equal Pay Day to raise awareness about unfair pay practices in America; and

WHEREAS, Tuesday, April 3, 2001, has been designated by the National Committee on Pay Equity as Equal Pay Day; and

WHEREAS, This date is significant because Tuesday is symbolic of the day of the week when women's wages catch up with men's wages from the previous week and April is the time of year when women's wages catch up with men's wages from the previous year; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the Legislature of the State of Nevada do hereby declare April 3, 2001, as Equal Pay Day in Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That state and local governments and private employers are urged to compensate all employees fairly, based on an objective evaluation of their jobs, considering factors such as the skill, effort, responsibility and working conditions required for each job; and be it further

RESOLVED, That public and private employers in this state that promote and support policies to ensure fairness and equity for their employees deserve to be recognized for their leadership in this effort; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Governor Kenny Guinn, each member of the Nevada Congressional Delegation and to Linda Chavez-Thompson, the Chair of the National Committee on Pay Equity.

Assemblywoman Chowning moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Chowning, Giunchigliani, Gibbons, Collins, Ohrenschall, Freeman, Price and Anderson.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker and my fellow colleagues. Today is Equal Pay Day, which was designated by the National Coalition On Pay Equity. Today unequal pay is a real and persistent problem. It has been almost 40 years ago that passage of the Equal Pay Act was passed in 1963. The ban on workplace discrimination was passed in 1964. Yet today, in 2001, women and minority workers still are victims of wage discrimination. This unequal pay practice hurts our families. If the wages of women and minority workers were raised, this would increase family income and help cut poverty rates. If pay discrimination was erased, we could have an average of an increase in a family's earnings, here in Nevada, by $3000 per year. So, today, I ask the Nevada Legislature to honor Equal Pay Day by urging employers, all employers, both public and private, to compensate all their employees fairly. I also want us to give recognition to the wonderful Nevada employers that have already adopted policies to end pay disparities in their companies for all their workers. I urge the passage of this resolution. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIUNCHIGLIANI:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 20. I appreciate my colleague for bringing this to us. I don't normally speak on resolutions, but this is one that I think it's time we take a look at. The issue is not only in salary. This session we are dealing with the issue of teacher's salary. I would submit to you that the reason those salaries are still way below professional levels, as compared to other professions, is because it is a primarily female workforce. In fact, it was not that long ago, 30 years ago, they used to pay unequal salary schedules for minorities versus Caucasians and women versus men in education. So, as we debate this issue of salaries, let's recognize that it is also a pay equity issue. In addition to that, for the women that run for political office, I think you need to realize that we still raise less than men, on the dollar, as far as our campaign contributions. So, that is another area we need to take a look at. Finally, I would remind you, there is a study in the other House, by a senator from North Las Vegas, dealing with pay equity as it regards state employees. I hope we don't forget that piece of legislation is still out there and warrants our discussion and hopefully some study.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 20. In particular, I rise in support of our future, of the young women, like the one standing next to me, who shouldn't have to worry about pay equity. So, instead of taking a bite out of crime, in the future we shall take the bite out of pay inequity.

ASSEMBLYMAN COLLINS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I, too, rise in support of this resolution. As the minority owner of a company of which my wife is the major holder—maybe some day she will pay me more. In the meantime, I'm going to have to keep paying my union dues and stay organized.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I speak in support of ACR 20. I was going to speak, as a woman and the mother of a daughter—but when I look at it all the way around, simply as a human being, until equality is there for all of us, it won't be there for any of us. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FREEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of this resolution as well. One of the things that really caught my eye, when I looked at the material on our desk, is the red purse. Even an old warhorse like myself didn't recognize that this happened years ago. You can be sure in the next few days you will see me sporting a red purse.

ASSEMBLYMAN PRICE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It is with great pleasure that I rise in support of ACR 20. Those of you who have to listen to me all the time have heard some of my stories. I have been a member of the Electricians Union since 1954. I have seen the wonderful growth of women into the construction industry. I have mentioned this before but it is a fact that in the construction industry, a lot of the employers are happier having women handling their heavy equipment because they have turned out to be a lot better with the equipment. They don't hot dog around.

We have many women electricians now. I recall working with the very first one when she was an apprentice and we were at the convention center. We were working in the ceiling and we had to get to something on the other side. She walked across a beam that I was afraid to go across. I had to go around. In all sincerity, it is wonderful we can be having this celebration and this recognition today. I want to thank my colleagues for getting the resolution and having all of you here with us today.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of the resolution. As a historian, it has always amazed me that it is the women who have sacrificed for civil rights throughout the history of this country. It is they who first looked for children's rights in the workplace; it is they who first made sure that the questions of race were addressed; it was they who have moved our society forward into a more humane view. Yet, they continue to lag behind. I have to say the resolution doesn't go far enough in terms of trying to bring about what surely should be an equal question. Belonging to a profession dominated by women, I have often felt that is probably the reason why the pay inequity exists in that particular profession. It is a real shame that we have fallen to these particular questions.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblywoman Chowning moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 20 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that Assembly Bill No. 105 be taken from the Chief Clerk's desk and be re-referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Motion carried.

Assemblyman Williams moved that Assembly Bill No. 318 be taken from the General File and be placed on the Chief Clerk's desk.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, April 3, 2001

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 27.

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 27.

Assemblywoman Leslie moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Leslie, Anderson, Chowning, Gibbons and Williams.

Assemblyman Williams requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. The resolution is very eloquent about why we are here today to honor Mrs. Bertha Woodard. She was a true heroine in leading the civil rights movement in Nevada and a very kind woman, known for her generosity and spiritual grounding and conviction. She was a woman of great courage. Her leadership is especially noteworthy when taken in the historical context you have heard about in the resolution, at a time when Reno was known as the "Mississippi of the West." I've discussed the great personal risk she took with my teenager, who can not imagine the situations Mrs. Woodard protested. Imagine the only restaurant in Hawthorne, located in a casino, that did not allow persons of color to eat there; or the signs in Reno stores that read "No Indians, Negroes or dogs." How about the general ban on allowing minorities into our Reno casinos as recently as 1959? I was born then. Unless they were entertainers, they couldn't enter.

Mrs. Woodard was known as the matriarch of the Reno/Sparks chapter of the NAACP. Many of our leaders from the African-American community routinely went to her house, to consult Mrs. Woodard before moving forward with any protest, program or picket line. I worked at the Community Services Agency in the early 1980's and I met Mrs. Woodard and she was always ready to talk to me: a young Caucasian know-nothing woman working in the heart of northeast Reno. Many times I needed to find the executive director, Cloyde Phillips, when something was happening in northeast Reno. Always I was told, "He's down the street visiting Mrs. Woodard."

Her legacy will live on through a comprehensive history of the civil rights movement in Nevada being compiled by students from UNR and other leaders of the African-American community. In behalf of the Assembly, I urge your support of this resolution to express our condolences to her family and, indeed, to the entire community concerned with justice and liberty in our state. She was our guiding light and we must continue to heed her spirit in the years ahead. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 27. Mrs. Woodard's contribution to my community can not be underestimated. My first teaching assignment was a school in Reno that had, what was considered to be, a large minority population. The pride that the students took from the example set by Mrs. Woodard is an example I will always remember. Her courage in fostering black pride in an age when it was just barely becoming fashionable to be in that group. Her leadership in stating to the community that you had to treat everyone on an equal basis is one I think we can all take great pride in. It demonstrated her fairness in action, her view towards humanity, that no one should be left behind. Her leadership is something all of us can salute. My condolences to her family and friends for this great loss to us all.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CHOWNING:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I stand in support of SCR 27. I would like to share with the family that when I was going to college in the 1960's, I was ashamed persons of color were not able to stay in the motels and hotels. Even the entertainers could not. Yes, they could enter, but they were not allowed to stay there. They were allowed to entertain and bring joy to everyone, but they were not allowed to spend the night there. I was very ashamed of that time and glad to have seen the change with the civil rights movement. I thank the family and thank Mrs. Woodard even though I did not know her personally. I thank her for her grace and dignity and for paving the way for equal treatment for all. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIBBONS:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 27 in honor of Mrs. Bertha Woodard's life. The African proverb says, "Each time an elder passes, a library dies." With the passing of Mrs. Woodard, let us not forget the pain and suffering she endured in her young life. Let us not forget how people can react and discriminate. And now, of course, we see it in many other ways, even today. Let us remember to always be aware and not allow for any type of discrimination in our lives. Let us do it in memory of Bertha Woodard. Let us do it in the memory of her ancestors who never saw the benefit of freedom or the privilege of living a free life, such as going to public schools with other children or even being able to vote. Many served their country and fought in war and never came home, knowing they would never be free. So, let us not forget those sacrifices that she lived through and the people before her lived through. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN WILLIAMS:

I rise in support of SCR 27. We honor many people in Nevada who deserve it. Some we know and some we don't. Today I have the thrilling pleasure to say I had a chance to meet Bertha Woodard and to know her, as many people have in Nevada. Mr. Speaker, in 1985 I made a trip to Carson City at the request of then governor Richard Bryan, as he established the first Martin Luther King holiday. I had a chance to meet one of our former colleagues, Courtney Swain. It was sort of a setup, I think; I found out later. We had lunch during that meeting and Ms. Swain took me across the street to the Ormsby House and we were joined by a gentleman who I later became to know as Bob Sader.

At that time, it appeared the democrats were actively seeking candidates to run for the Legislature. I was here for a King meeting and had no idea what the Legislature was about. They talked to me about possibly running as a candidate for the Legislature and I had no interest.

The setup continued even more so. They put me in a car and drove me to the home of Bertha Woodard. When I met this lady, I could see the obvious dignity and courage. She said, "It appears you have done some community service and may have something to give. I think you need to listen to these people." As a result, I guess the rest is history. We talk about what happens when a person dies. I think in this particular case, when this person died, many of us really began to live. Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to support the resolution.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

WHEREAS, After being transferred from to the Division of Child and Family Services, a child and his parents are typically assigned a new case manager, the child is placed in a new foster home that is willing to accept the foster care rates paid by the Division and the child is transferred to a new therapist who is a Medicaid provider; and

WHEREAS, Under this bifurcated system, the transfer of custody to the Division of Child and Family Services may result in a delay of up to 6 months in the commencement of a permanent plan for the care and treatment of a child and may cause the child to remain in the system for a longer period; and

WHEREAS, The Federal Adoption and Safe Families Act of 1997 requires the agency which provides child welfare services to pursue termination of parental rights for any child who remains in out-of-home care for 15 months out of the immediately preceding 22 months; and

WHEREAS, The bifurcated system also creates disparities in the rates of reimbursement for providers of foster care and the compensation paid to employees of the county and the state; and

WHEREAS, The duplication of efforts inherent in a bifurcated system is inefficient; and

WHEREAS, Integration of the child welfare system in this state will begin to eliminate the inefficiencies of the current system by reducing the number of placements of children in foster homes, decreasing the length of time that children remain in out-of-home care and ensuring that children are placed in permanent homes as soon as possible; and

WHEREAS, Caseload standards must be established by regulation to ensure that agencies which provide child welfare services have sufficient staff to provide best practices for the provision of child welfare services in this state; and

WHEREAS, The rates for foster care reimbursement should be established at a level that enables a provider of foster care to care for a child adequately and the rates should be standardized within each county and structured in a manner that avoids any unnecessary interruptions in foster home placements because of changing levels of reimbursements; and

WHEREAS, Fairness to employees affected by the integration of the child welfare system is a priority; and

WHEREAS, The Division of Child and Family Services and counties whose population is 100,000 or more have a shared fiscal responsibility for the costs of providing child welfare services and must be committed to ensuring future maintenance of their efforts in providing those services and to equitably sharing future costs for providing those services; and

WHEREAS, Integration of the child welfare system in this state will allow the placement of children in a child welfare system that is adequately funded and structured to avoid unnecessary interruptions in placement and will ensure that permanency is achieved for children in accordance with federal and state laws; now, therefore,".

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TIFFANY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Stan Fuke has been in the field of education for nearly four decades. He has been a teacher, a librarian, a library administrator and he has been employed by the Clark County School District since 1976. Stan is a vocal voice for public school libraries and librarians. He is also a leader in the promotion of technology for the administration of the libraries and for the information resources they contain. Stan Fuke has helped rejuvenate the Library Science program at UNLV, as well as establishing a good working relationship with the public libraries. In 1995, Stan received the James McPhee Memorial Intellectual Freedom reward, presented by the Clark County School Librarians Association. This reward is given only for the recognition of the dedication to the cause of preserving freedom of expression and inquiry. In 1997, Stan Fuke was inducted into the Clark County School District's Hall of Fame. This honor recognizes people who have made extraordinary and lasting contributions to the education in the community.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I want to stand in support of SCR 28. When I was a county commissioner, I felt that one of my greatest responsibilities was to make sure the county libraries were funded and funded properly. Out in the rural areas, we have what they call "bookmobiles." The bookmobile is a big bus with a lot of books on it. They go around and visit all the cowboys and miners and the people out there who do not get a chance to have the latest in literature. I want to congratulate our honored guest for all his hard work in the library field and hopefully, we will all continue to read good books. Thank you.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Patrick Propster.

Almighty God, enlighten us today with Your full understanding of the words which You spoke to King Solomon recorded in Second Chronicles 7:14. The Lord said, "If My people, who are called by My name, shall humble themselves and pray and seek My face and turn from their wicked ways; then I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land." Heavenly Father, we humbly call out to You today and seek Your face and ask that You would magnify Your ways through this Assembly. May all the decisions that will be required of them this day glorify Your name. Lord, we also pray that as we turn from ways not of You, that You forgive us and heal our land. We ask this in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord.

AMEN.

THE SIXTY-FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), April 9, 2001

Assembly called to order at 11:17 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Reverend Richard Campbell.

Mighty God, the earth is Yours and all that is in it: the beasts of the field, the birds of the air and the fish of the sea. You have made us temporary custodians of Your creation. We thank You for Your trust. Judge and forgive us when we turn away from You. Deliver us from brassy patriotism and a blind trust in power; from deceptions that weaken trust; from self-seeking; from divisions of class and race; from wealth that will not share and from poverty that feeds on bitterness; from overlooking the hurt and the needy. Eternal God, give us a glimpse of the world You would have for us and the courage and strength to strive for it. Be with us and bless this legislative body as they deliberate today. Hear our prayer as we give it in Your Holy Name and to Your glory.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

"Section 1. NRS 293.1277 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.1277 1. If the secretary of state finds that the total number of signatures submitted to all the county clerks is 100 percent or more of the number of registered voters needed to declare the petition sufficient, he shall immediately so notify the county clerks. Within 9 days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after notification, each of the county clerks shall determine the number of registered voters who have signed the documents submitted in his county.

2. If more than 500 names have been signed on the documents submitted to him, a county clerk shall examine the signatures by sampling them at random for verification. The random sample of signatures to be verified must be drawn in such a manner that every signature which has been submitted to the county clerk is given an equal opportunity to be included in the sample. The sample must include an examination of at least 500 or 5 percent of the signatures, whichever is greater.

3. In determining from the records of registration the number of registered voters who signed the documents, the county clerk may use the signatures contained in the file of applications to register to vote. If the county clerk uses that file, he shall ensure that every application in the file is examined, including any application in his possession which may not yet be entered into his records. The county clerk shall rely only on the appearance of the signature and the address and date included with each signature in making his determination.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, upon completing the examination, the county clerk shall immediately attach to the documents a certificate properly dated, showing the result of his examination and transmit the documents with the certificate to the secretary of state. 2. If those certificates establish that the ~~[petitioners have]~~ number of valid signatures is equal to or more than the sum of 100 percent of the number of registered voters needed to make the petition sufficient ~~[+]~~ plus the total number of requests to remove a name received by the county clerks pursuant to NRS 295.055 or 306.015, the petition shall be deemed to qualify as of the date of receipt by the secretary of state of those certificates ,

If the amended certificates establish that the petitioners have 100 percent or more of the number of registered voters needed to make the petition sufficient, the petition shall be deemed to qualify as of the date of receipt by the secretary of state of the amended certificates, and the secretary of state shall immediately so notify the petitioners and the county clerks.*

Sec. 3. NRS 293.1279 is hereby amended to read as follows:

necessary, the board of county commissioners shall allow the county clerk additional assistants for examining the signatures and provide for their compensation. In determining from the records of registration what number of registered voters have signed the petition, the clerk may use any file or list of registered voters maintained by his office or facsimiles of voters' signatures. The county clerk may rely on the appearance of the signature and the address and date included with each signature in determining the number of registered voters that signed the petition.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, upon completing the examination, the county clerk shall immediately attach to the documents of the petition an amended certificate properly dated, showing the result of the examination and shall immediately forward the documents with the amended certificate to the secretary of state. REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Ohrenschall requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. It's my special privilege to introduce Renee Duffy. She is the Employee of the Year for the Nevada Department of Transportation. Renee first started her career with NDOT at Battle Mountain. Now she is working in Wells. She is a heavy equipment operator. In the winter time she plows snow, in the summer she runs a motor patrol, drives a grader and a truck. As if that is not enough, she lives south of Wells on an alfalfa farm and is the operator. It should be noted, Mr. Speaker, NDOT has over 1500 employees. It is quite an honor to be chosen by your peers to be employee of the year. She was originally nominated for this recognition by the training manager, Bill Timmish. Renee served as a member of NDOT's New Employee Orientation Committee. In this assignment, Renee gave very unselfishly of her time. She produced a set of written drafts for employee's work performance, an essential part of the orientation program. Her work was professional, well thought out and exemplary. Because of her efforts, the committee saved dozens of hours of research and editing time. Mr. Timmish went on to say that Renee was a professional and a pleasure to work with. She is a great example of what makes working at NDOT so special and rewarding. Mr. Speaker, please give Renee a warm Assembly welcome.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Reverend Ruth Hanusa.

O God, today we pray for all those who work in this place: for those who write bills, crafting the words with care; for those who conduct hearings, and for those who listen, and for those who speak, that they may do so with fairness, thoroughness and truthfulness; for those who lobby, that they might represent their special interests also mindful of the common good; for those who photocopy and those who process words; for those who deliver the messages and answer phones; for gate keepers, chair-fetchers, go-fers and photographers; for those who make coffee and pastries, and for those who clean and make repairs; for those who record the proceedings; for presiders and deciders; for the articulate and the rambles; and for those whose humor daily refreshes the whole body. For all these we pray, O God. May they never weary in well-doing. Guide them, bless them, sustain them, by Your Grace.

AMEN.
