4. *A person who obtains lawful physical custody of a child for whom an order for support has been issued shall be deemed to be the person entitled to receive the payments ordered for the support of the child. 8. A person who fails to comply with the requirements of subsection 6 does not lose the right to receive payments ordered for the support of the child but such failure may be considered by a court in determining the amount of arrears owed by an obligor to the person.

9. “IF THE COMMON-INTEREST COMMUNITY SELLS YOUR HOME IN A NONJUDICIAL FORECLOSURE SALE, YOU MAY EXERCISE THE RIGHT OF REDEMPTION TO REPURCHASE YOUR HOME?”

If the association sells your property in a nonjudicial foreclosure sale, you may be able to redeem your property by following certain procedures. To redeem the property, you or your successor in interest must pay the purchaser of the property the price that he paid for the property and interest on the purchase price and pay to any applicable governmental entities, lienholders and creditors the amount of any outstanding assessments, taxes and liens which were placed on the property before the date on which the property was sold and interest on those assessments, taxes and liens. You are also required to serve upon the association and the purchaser, if the purchaser is not the association, a notice of redemption accompanied by proof of payment of the amounts required to be paid.

If you follow all of the procedures and comply with all of the requirements, the purchaser is required to execute and deliver to you a certificate of redemption and the deed to the property.

If the purchaser fails to deliver the certificate of redemption and the deed, you may file a cause of action against him and you may recover reasonable attorney’s fees and costs if you prevail in the lawsuit.

To complete the redemption of the property, you must, upon receiving the certificate of redemption and the deed to the property, record the certificate and the deed in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property is situated, accompanied by an affidavit attesting to and describing the completion of all the required payments and duties.

If you redeem your property and are subsequently evicted because of irregularities in the redemption proceedings, you may recover from the purchaser or other appropriate parties all of the money paid for the redemption. For more information regarding these requirements, see section 1 of this act.

Assembly Bill No. 195.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Buckley, Mabey, Hardy, Leslie, Conklin, and Horne.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 195. There are many reasons to support the bill before you, which is designed to protect the health of the people we represent.

Let us start with the most important issue, and that is price. On average, Americans pay five times more to fill their prescriptions than consumers in other countries. In the country with the largest market for pharmaceuticals in the world, American consumers pay the highest prices for brand-named pharmaceuticals in the world. In 2003, Americans spent more than $163 billion in retail pharmacies. Nevadans alone spent more than $930 million. Nationally, the average price of retail prescriptions in 2003 was $52.97, a 6.7% increase from the previous year. Just across our northern border in Canada, drug prices are anywhere from 25% to 50% lower. Lipitor, the number-one drug issued to senior citizens, as an example: the lowest price of a 10mg dose of Lipitor under the Medicare card is $64.67; in Canada, the price is $35.04. Another prescription, Prevacid, is at the high end. Compare the price of Prevacid: $110.30 is the low price under the Medicare card in the United States, yet it is available in Canada for $43.79. It is hard enough for people with insurance to pay these prices. With Nevada ranking the fifth-highest uninsured state in our nation, prescription drugs are now beyond the reach of many of the people we represent.

Safety concerns. Americans, including Nevadans, right now are buying their necessary medications at more affordable prices through foreign markets. Recently, the Executive Director of the Canadian International Pharmacy Association estimated that the Canadian industry is now serving approximately 1.8 million Americans. Yet, people who turn blindly to the Internet thinking they are getting safe Canadian drugs may think they are ordering from a Canadian operation, but may be sent to Web sites in different countries such as Pakistan, Sri Lanka, or other countries getting involved in this market.

We have many safety concerns about what is going on the Internet today, issues such as quality assurance, counterfeit medication, drugs that are not approved by foreign governments, labeling, language issues, and credit card fraud. We have all those issues today with buying prescription drugs on the Internet. These safety concerns do not exist when a person purchases medication from a licensed Canadian pharmacy that sells drugs approved by Canada Health, the equivalent to the USFDA. In fact, a 2004 federal GAO study found that of the eleven drugs purchased through the Internet from the United States, Canada, and other foreign countries, the United States and Canada consistently had the strongest standards, and in some cases the Canadian pharmacies were more restrictive than the United States pharmacies. Just yesterday during a hearing before the Senate Health Education Labor and Pensions Committee on a bill sponsored by both parties, the former FDA Commissioner, David Kessler, confirmed that many United States residents currently re-import prescription drugs without the safety provisions also being proposed in the federal bill.

By passing this legislation, we are not alone. Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri North Dakota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, and Vermont already allow importation of Canadian drugs and have links to Canadian pharmacies that meet the state standards for local state pharmacies. More than eleven cities and counties have created programs whereby their employees can buy less expensive drugs from Canada. The municipality then waives the co-pay if they buy their drugs from Canada. Legislation is pending throughout the country to expand this program.

Assembly Bill 195 builds on the experience of these other states and municipalities and uses existing Nevada law to license Canadian pharmacies. The state is not a participant. We merely ensure that the state licenses Canadian pharmacies. Then that information is made available to our constituents so they can choose a safer alternative. Under this bill, our State Board of Pharmacy will actually license the Canadian pharmacies so the same standards that are now in effect for licensing of pharmacies in the United States would apply to the Canadian pharmacies. The bill also includes additional consumer protection measures. It ensures that controlled substances cannot be imported, that prescription drugs must have been approved by the FDA or Canada Health, and it limits it to a three-month supply.

The last part of the bill then uses the Office of Consumer Health Assistance to create the links, and that will be anyone that will be licensed by the State Board of Pharmacy.

As I said earlier, Assembly Bill 195 is not designed to be a long-term fix for prescription drug prices. The bill simply offers a reasonable, viable option for Nevadans who choose to buy more affordable drugs from Canada and ensure that they can do so safely. As the former Federal Drug Administration (FDA) Commissioner, David Kessler, said yesterday, "The question is not whether we chose imports or no imports. We already have a system. It is importation of drugs that jeopardizes public health." The American public will be safer; Nevada will be safer with a regulated system rather than the current system of uncontrollable risk.

It is time to stand up for the rights of our citizens to buy more affordable drugs even in the onslaught of national and Nevada lobbying by the pharmaceutical industry to the contrary to stand up for the people we represent and say yes to more affordable drugs.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

First, I have a confession. I currently perform clinical research for pharmaceutical companies. For this reason and others, I have been trying to sneak out early on Friday afternoons. Unfortunately, the eagle-eyed press never misses even a small Republican mouse scurrying out of these chambers and caught me with razor-sharp hands. Second, some concerns. The cost of pharmaceutical medicine is way too high. Many in our state simply cannot afford to purchase their medications.

Due to this outcry, our federal government passed the Medicare Prescription Benefit Drug Plan. I opposed it before, it passed, and I oppose it now. I am proud to say that both of our United States senators voted against it. This measure proposes to allow us to purchase medications from Canada. It needs to be noted that the Canadian government sets the price of medications. If every country in the world set prices that were artificially low, there would be no financial incentive to develop newer medications that improve and prolong our lives.

A Columbia University economist estimated that every dollar shifted from older to newer drugs saves about $7.00 in other health care costs. I cannot think of one medication discovered or developed in Canada. Even the Canadian government has concerns regarding the re-importation. Canada simply does not have enough medications for their own citizens if widespread importation occurs. Canada will be forced to obtain drugs from other sources other than the United States, which may not be safe.

The Congressional Budget Office issued a report that concluded that widespread drug importation would force prices up. Eleven former federal Food and Drug Administration commissioners sent a letter to Congress opposing importation because of concerns for public health.

I applaud the Majority Leader's efforts to help all of us improve our lives and our health. This time, we disagree on the method. I am confident that we will find unanimity on other important issues in the future, especially on issues regarding our health. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

I concur with the intent of this bill. In fact, I would go so far to say that this particular iteration has come closer than any I have seen or been aware of that gets at the heart protection of the consumers, and be able to pass on the cost. I like the intent of being able to license a pharmacy in that way, and as I said to the Majority Leader before, it almost puts us in a 51st state condition, meaning Canada. I feel like King Agrippa probably did with Paul: "Thou almost persuadest me." I appreciate the direction we are trying to go. One of the things we are up against is the concept that the Secretary of Health and Human Services has, so far, declined to allow these to be imported because of an issue relating to the additional risk to the public's health and safety—and whether or not it would reduce the cost of the covered products to the American consumer. I think we have heard evidence that it would improve the costs.

I will disclose that I am a doctor and that I will not benefit one way or the other on this, but pretend I am not. Pretend I am a just a regular person who reads Time magazine, April 18, 2005. I flip it over on the back and I see recently the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) ordered three medicines from Canada. When they arrived, one thing was clear: they were not from Canada.

1. After receiving a spam email from a Web site looking at generic drugs, the FDA ordered Ambien, Lipitor, and Viagra.
2. The medicines arrived postmarked from Dallas, but with a return address in Miami.
3. The FDA called the Web site company twice to find out where they are based. The first time they were told the United States. The second time they were told Belize.
4. The FDA checked the computer server for the Web site and discovered it is in China.
5. The FDA checked with the credit card company and was told a company in St. Kitts received the payment.
6. The FDA tested the products and found significant quality problems. The fake Ambien had too much medicine. The fake Lipitor and Viagra had too little medicine and had too many impurities.

So we are dealing with a lot of conflicting information. Even though I would like to be supportive of this, I will be voting against the bill. I appreciate the direction. I think that we need to look at phrasing the bill that would be enabling so that when the Secretary of HHS allows this, we have something in place and we can actually act on the legislation. Thank you, Madam Speaker Pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in strong support of AB 195. When this bill was first reported at the beginning of the session, my elderly neighbor, who lives two doors down, came and knocked on my door. You all have had that experience, I am sure, with your neighbors. He was carrying a bag and he asked to come in and sat at my kitchen table. He took his prescriptions out and lined them up. He said, "Don't make me a criminal." He informed me that he had been importing drugs from Canada for more than ten years at a savings of hundreds of dollars a month. If we close off access to the loophole that allows him to purchase the drugs from Canada (he thought we were going to close the loophole allowing him to buy drugs from Canada) and he is not able to purchase drugs from Canada, he will have to choose which medications he can afford to take because he cannot afford all his prescriptions at United States prices on his fixed income.

I guess my point today is that some of our constituents are already doing this. This man has been doing this for ten years because he cannot afford his medications any other way. Let us not forget what the Majority Leader said. We are not talking 5 percent higher; we are talking 5 times higher. Do the math—no wonder people cannot afford prescription drugs. The pharmaceutical companies want it both ways. They do not want us to have price controls here in the United States. That is what they have in Canada. That is why the prices are reasonable. They have a lock on Congress; we are not going to get price controls in the United States. I ask you why my elderly constituent should have to choose which medication he is not going to take. If he lived in Toronto, Canada, it is not a problem, but because he lives in Reno, we are going to force him to choose. I urge your support of this bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN CONKLIN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I thought my colleague from Reno summed it up well, but I rise in support of Assembly Bill 195.

I have to agree with my colleague, the Assistant Minority Leader, when he says the price of prescription drugs in the United States is very, very high; drugs are very expensive. There are countries around the world, many in fact, that have price controls on pharmaceuticals; the exact same pharmaceuticals we have here in the United States. As a matter of fact, many of those companies are United States-based companies. They are pharmaceutical companies whose profits come here. I will tell you something I learned a long time ago when I was getting my degree in economics: the price of products is set based on your consumer base as a total. So, if I am a company and I have consumers around the world, but I have small markets here and there that will pay open market prices and I have some with closed market prices—in other words, price controls—I take whatever profit I lose from the price controls and I spread it out to those who have no price controls. So from that point of reasoning, the citizens of the United States are subsidizing the cost of pharmaceuticals for other countries that have price controls. I refuse to believe that the citizens of the State of Nevada should pay a higher price, not because they can afford to, but simply because they live here in the United States. For that reason and that reason alone, I rise in support of Assembly Bill 195, and I urge my colleagues to do the same.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker Pro Tempore. I rise in support of Assembly Bill 195.

At first I was not going to say anything, and then I felt a need to. My colleague from District 37 touched on part of why we should subsidize prescription drugs for Canada and the rest of the world; they are benefiting. I understand that research and development has to be done for these drugs. They are life-saving drugs and we all need them, but just because we live in America does not mean that we are the ones who have to pay the higher prices for them when the rest of the world has benefited from them.

I have a second question. We have addressed the problem of those on a fixed income who could not afford or were afraid that they could not stay in their homes anymore because of property taxes. We addressed that earlier in the session, so why would we not address the problem of the very same people on a fixed income who cannot afford their prescription drugs here in America and they want to get them elsewhere? All we are doing is providing them with a safe way to do that. Why would we not do that? I urge your support.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise today to remember our former colleague and friend, Jan Evans, who was the Speaker pro Tempore and Assemblywoman from Assembly District 30, and who passed away five years ago this Sunday, April 24. When we honored Jan in the 2001 Session, I read these words: "Some people come into our lives and quickly go. Some people move our souls to dance. They awaken us to new understanding with the passing whisper of their wisdom. Some people make the sky more beautiful to gaze upon. They stay in our lives for awhile, leave footprints on our hearts, and we are never, ever the same." In fact, Mr. Speaker, when you gave remarks to this Body, in your first session as Speaker of this Assembly, after Jan's passing, you told us that we had lost our moral compass. In honoring her in a resolution on this Floor in 2001, one of the things in the resolution said, "In the political arena, where the ability to unite those with diverse opinions looms awesome, this great lady was recognized as a builder of bridges toward consensus and as a 'power-sharer' who often did most of the work on a project but was the first to offer thanks to everyone who helped."

I wanted to remember Jan today because I think it is so important for us to remember those who came before us and the great work that they did. Jan was an extraordinary legislator. She always remained true to her vision and to her ideals, but she always reached out to others to find compromise and to build consensus. Jan found the first dedicated source of funding for domestic violence victims, and she also championed funding for School-to-Careers.

Jan was a staunch Democrat, but one of her best friends and political allies was our former Republican Lieutenant Governor, Sue Wagner. Jan was always a role model for women and fought on women's issues. She distinguished herself by attaining the highest level of a woman in this Body. At the same time, she was a great friend and political ally of Speaker Emeritus Joe Dini.

As we head into the last 40-something days of this session, I encourage my colleagues to consider these traits as we do our work. Remember our friends and families at home and, of utmost importance, guard our physical and mental health. Jan left a great legacy in those who worked with her and spent time with her, both when she was a lobbyist and activist, and when she served in this Body. She left behind a loving family and many friends, some of whom are in the gallery today, also honoring Jan.

I will close with this, also in the resolution in 2001: "That the name Jan Evans has become and will always remain synonymous with compassion, courage, and integrity, and that the person, Jan Evans, will always be alive in our hearts and minds."

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for allowing this moment of personal privilege.

3. The Commissioner shall adopt any other regulations as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 29. 1. A person, including, without limitation, a person licensed pursuant to chapter 675 of NRS, shall not operate a check-cashing service, deferred deposit loan service, short-term loan service or title loan service unless the person is licensed with the Commissioner pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

shall, as appropriate to the location or method for making the loan, post in a conspicuous place where customers will see it before they enter into a loan, or disclose in an open and obvious manner to customers before they enter into a loan, a notice that states:

(a) The types of loans the licensee offers and the fees he charges for making each type of loan; and

(b) A list of the states where the licensee is licensed or authorized to conduct business from outside this State with customers located in this State.

3. A licensee who provides check-cashing services shall give written notice to each customer of the fees he charges for cashing checks. The customer must sign the notice before the licensee provides the check-cashing service.

2. If a licensee initiates a civil action against a customer to collect a debt, the court may award:

(a) Court costs;

(b) Costs of service of process, except that the costs must not exceed the amount of the fees charged by the sheriff or constable for service of process

in the county where the action was brought or, if the customer is not served in that county, in the county where the customer was served; and

(c) Reasonable attorney's fees. In determining the amount of the attorney's fees and whether they are reasonable, the court shall consider the complexity of the case, the amount of the debt and whether the licensee could have used less costly means to collect the debt.

Sec. 33. 1. If a customer is called to active duty in the military, a licensee shall:

(a) Defer for the duration of the active duty all collection activity against the customer and his property, including, without limitation, any community property in which the customer has an interest; and

2. When collecting any defaulted loan, a licensee shall not:

(a) Garnish any wages or salary paid to a customer for active service in the military; or

(b) Contact the military chain of command of a customer in an effort to collect the defaulted loan.

3. As used in this section, "military" means the Armed Forces of the United States, a reserve component thereof or the National Guard.

Sec. 34. A licensee shall not:

1. Make a loan that exceeds 25 percent of the expected gross monthly income of the customer during the term of the loan unless justified by particular circumstances. A licensee is not in violation of the provisions of this subsection if the customer presents evidence of his gross monthly income to the licensee and represents to the licensee in writing that the loan does not exceed 25 percent of the expected gross monthly income of the customer during the term of the loan.

2. Make more than one loan to the same customer at one time or before any outstanding balance is paid in full on an existing loan made by that licensee to the customer unless:

(a) The customer is seeking multiple loans that do not exceed the limit set forth in subsection 1;

(b) The licensee charges the same rate of interest for any additional loans as he charged for the initial loan;

(c) Except for the interest charged pursuant to paragraph (b), the licensee does not impose any other charge or fee to initiate any additional loans; and

Sec. 35. A licensee shall not:

1. Accept:

(a) Collateral as security for a loan, except that a title to a motor vehicle may be accepted as security for a title loan.

2. Take any note or promise to pay which does not disclose the date and amount of the loan, a schedule or description of the payments to be made thereon and the rate or aggregate amount of the interest, charges and fees negotiated and agreed to by the licensee and customer. Compliance with the federal Truth in Lending Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 1601 et seq., constitutes compliance with this subsection.

3. Take any instrument, including a check or written authorization for the electronic transfer of money, in which blanks are left to be filled in after the loan is made.

4. Make any transaction contingent on the purchase of insurance or any other goods or services or sell any insurance to the customer with the loan.

5. Fail to comply with a payment plan which is negotiated and agreed to by the licensee and customer.

6. Charge any fee to cash a check representing the proceeds of a loan made by the licensee or any agent, affiliate or subsidiary of the licensee.

Sec. 36. A licensee shall not:

1. Use or threaten to use the criminal process in this State or any other state, or any civil process not available to creditors generally, to collect on a loan made to a customer.

(c) An assignment or order for payment of wages or other compensation due the customer; or

5. Engage in any deceptive trade practice, as defined in chapter 598 of NRS, including, without limitation, making a false representation.

6. Advertise or permit to be advertised in any manner any false, misleading or deceptive statement or representation with regard to the rates, terms or conditions for loans.

7. Use or attempt to use any agent, affiliate or subsidiary to avoid the requirements or prohibitions of this chapter.

Sec. 37. A licensee who makes title loans shall not:

1. Make a title loan that exceeds the fair market value of the motor vehicle securing the title loan.

2. Make a title loan without regard to the ability of the customer seeking the title loan to repay the title loan, including the customer's current and expected income, obligations and employment.

3. Make a title loan without requiring the customer to sign an affidavit which states that:

(a) The customer has provided the licensee with true and correct information concerning the customer's income, obligations and employment; and

(b) The customer has the ability to repay the title loan.

Sec. 38. 1. Except where in conflict with the provisions of this chapter, the provisions of chapter 104 of NRS apply to any title loan between a licensee and a customer.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this section, if a customer defaults on a title loan, or on any extension or repayment plan relating to the title loan, the sole remedy of the licensee who made the title loan is to commence a legal action to seek repossession and sale of the motor vehicle which the customer used to secure the title loan. The licensee may not pursue the customer personally for:

(a) Payment of the loan, unless the licensee proves the customer prevented the repossession and sale of the motor vehicle by any means, including, without limitation, hiding the motor vehicle; or

(b) Any deficiency after repossession and sale of the motor vehicle which the customer used to secure the title loan, unless the licensee proves the customer damaged or otherwise committed or permitted waste on the motor vehicle. For the purposes of this paragraph, it shall not be deemed waste for the customer to continue to use the motor vehicle in the same manner it was used before he entered into the title loan or to make necessary repairs to the motor vehicle.

3. After repossession and sale of the motor vehicle securing the title loan, the licensee shall return to the customer any proceeds from the sale of the motor vehicle which exceed the amount owed on the title loan.

4. If a customer uses fraud to secure a title loan, the licensee may bring a civil action against the customer for any or all of the following relief:

(a) The amount of the loan obligation, including, without limitation, the aggregate amount of the interest, charges and fees negotiated and agreed to by the licensee and customer;

(b) Reasonable attorney's fees and costs; and

(c) Any other legal or equitable relief that the court deems appropriate.

5. As used in this section, "fraud" means an intentional misrepresentation, deception or concealment of a material fact known to the customer with the intent to deprive the licensee of his rights or property or to otherwise injure the licensee. The term includes, without limitation, giving to a licensee as security for a title loan the title to a motor vehicle which does not belong to the customer.

Sec. 39. 1. A customer may rescind a loan on or before the close of business on the next day of business at the location where the loan was initiated. To rescind the loan, the customer must deliver to the licensee:

(a) A sum of money equal to the face value of the loan, less any fee charged to the customer to initiate the loan: or

(b) The original check, if any, which the licensee gave to the customer pursuant to the loan. Upon receipt of the original check, the licensee shall refund any fee charged to the customer to initiate the loan.

2. If a customer rescinds a loan pursuant to this section, the licensee:

(a) Shall not charge the customer any fee for rescinding the loan; and

(b) Upon receipt of the sum of money or check pursuant to subsection 1, shall give to the customer a receipt showing the account paid in full and:

(3) If the customer gave to the licensee a title to a motor vehicle to initiate the title loan, the title.

Sec. 40. 1. A customer may pay a loan, or any extension thereof, in full at any time, without an additional charge or fee, before the date his final payment on the loan, or any extension thereof, is due.

2. If a customer pays the loan in full, including all interest, charges and fees negotiated and agreed to by the licensee and customer, the licensee shall:

Sec. 41. 1. A customer may make a partial payment on a loan, or any extension thereof, at any time without an additional charge or fee.

2. If a customer makes such a partial payment, the licensee shall give to the customer a receipt with the following information:

(a) The name and address of the licensee;

(g) If more than one loan made by the licensee to the customer was outstanding at the time the payment was made, a statement indicating to which loan the payment was applied.

Sec. 42. 1. The licensee and customer may enter into a repayment plan if:

(a) The customer defaults on the original loan, or any extension thereof; or

(b) Before such a default, the customer indicates that he is unable to pay the original loan in full pursuant to the terms set forth in the original loan agreement, or any extension thereof.

2. If the customer defaults on the original loan or any extension thereof, or indicates that he is unable to pay in full the original loan or any extension thereof, the licensee:

(a) Shall provide written notice in English, if the initial transaction was conducted in English, or in Spanish, if the initial transaction was conducted in Spanish, to the customer of his right to enter into a repayment plan; and

(b) Shall not commence any civil action to collect on the outstanding loan unless:

(1) Such a notice has been sent to the customer; and

(2) The customer fails to exercise his right to enter into a repayment plan within 15 days after receipt of the notice.

3. If the licensee and customer enter into a repayment plan pursuant to this section, the customer may pay the remaining balance on the outstanding loan:

(f) If more than one loan made by the licensee to the customer was outstanding at the time the payment was made, a statement indicating to which loan the payment was applied.

Sec. 43. If a customer agrees to establish or extend the period for the repayment, renewal, refinancing or consolidation of an outstanding loan by using the proceeds of a new loan to pay the balance of the outstanding loan, the licensee shall not establish or extend such a period beyond 8 weeks after the expiration of the initial loan period.

3. If the account of the customer has been closed, the licensee may collect only one fee of $25 regardless of the number of times the check is presented for payment.

4. A customer is not liable for damages pursuant to NRS 41.620 or to criminal prosecution for a violation of chapter 205 of NRS unless the customer acted with criminal intent.

Sec. 51. 1. A person may apply for a license for an office or other place of business located outside this State from which the applicant will conduct business in this State if the applicant or a subsidiary or affiliate of the applicant has a license issued pursuant to this chapter for an office or other place of business located in this State and if the applicant submits with the application for a license a statement signed by the applicant which states that the applicant agrees to:

This section applies, without limitation, to any office or other place of business located outside this State from which the applicant will conduct business in this State at a kiosk, through the Internet, through any telephone, facsimile machine or other telecommunication device or through any other machine, network, system, device or means.

Sec. 52. 1. Upon the filing of the application and the payment of the fees required pursuant to section 48 of this act, the Commissioner shall investigate the facts concerning the application and the requirements provided for in section 54 of this act.

2. The Commissioner may hold a hearing on the application at a time not less than 30 days after the date the application was filed or not more than 60 days after that date. The hearing must be held in the Office of the Commissioner or such other place as he may designate. Notice in writing of the hearing must be sent to the applicant and to any licensee to which a notice of the application has been given and to such other persons as the Commissioner may see fit, at least 10 days before the date set for the hearing.

3. The Commissioner shall make his order granting or denying the application within 10 days after the date of the closing of the hearing, unless the period is extended by written agreement between the applicant and the Commissioner.

Sec. 53. If the Commissioner finds that any applicant does not possess the requirements specified in this chapter, he shall:

1. Enter an order denying the application and notify the applicant of the denial.

2. Within 10 days after the entry of such an order, file his findings and a summary of the evidence supporting those findings and deliver a copy thereof to the applicant.

Sec. 54. 1. The Commissioner shall enter an order granting an application if he finds that the financial responsibility, experience, character and general fitness of the applicant are such as to command the confidence of the public and to warrant belief that the business will be operated lawfully, honestly, fairly and efficiently.

2. If the Commissioner grants an application, the Commissioner shall:

(a) File his findings of fact together with the transcript of any hearing held pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; and

2. A licensee who fails to renew his license within the time required by this section is not licensed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

3. The Commissioner may reinstate an expired license upon receipt of the renewal fee and a fee for reinstatement.

4. The Commissioner shall adopt regulations establishing the amount of the fees required pursuant to this section.

Sec. 56. 1. A licensee shall immediately notify the Commissioner of any change of control of the licensee.

2. A person who acquires stock, partnership or member interests resulting in a change of control of the licensee shall apply to the Commissioner for approval of the transfer. The application must contain information which shows that the requirements for obtaining a license pursuant to the provisions of this chapter will be satisfied after the change of control. If the Commissioner determines that those requirements will not be satisfied, he may deny the application and forbid the applicant from participating in the business of the licensee.

3. As used in this section, "change of control" means:

(a) A transfer of voting stock, partnership or member interests which results in giving a person, directly or indirectly, the power to direct the management and policy of a licensee; or

(b) A transfer of at least 25 percent of the outstanding voting stock, partnership or member interests of the licensee.

Sec. 57. A licensee shall not conduct the business of making loans under any name, at any place or by any method, including, without limitation, at a kiosk, through the Internet, through any telephone, facsimile machine or other telecommunication device or through any other machine, network, system, device or means, except as permitted in the license or branch license issued to the licensee.

Sec. 58. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a licensee may not conduct the business of making loans within any office, suite, room or place of business in which any other lending business is solicited or engaged in, except an insurance agency or notary public, or in association or conjunction with any other business, unless authority to do so is given by the Commissioner.

2. A licensee may conduct the business of making loans in the same office or place of business as:

(1) The licensee and the mortgage broker:

(I) Maintain separate accounts, books and records;

(II) Are subsidiaries of the same parent corporation; and

3. If a pawnbroker is licensed to operate a check-cashing service, deferred deposit loan service, short-term loan service or title loan service, the pawnbroker may operate that service at the same office or place of business from which he conducts business as a pawnbroker pursuant to chapter 646 of NRS.

Sec. 59. 1. A licensee who wishes to change the address of an office or other place of business for which he has a license pursuant to the provisions of this chapter must, at least 10 days before changing the address, give written notice of the proposed change to the Commissioner.

2. Upon receipt of the proposed change of address pursuant to subsection 1, the Commissioner shall provide written approval of the change and the date of the approval.

3. If a licensee fails to provide notice as required pursuant to subsection 1, the Commissioner may impose a fine in an amount not to exceed $500.

4. This section applies, without limitation, to any office or other place of business at which the licensee intends to operate a kiosk, through the Internet, through any telephone, facsimile machine or other telecommunication device or through any other machine, network, system, device or means.

Sec. 60. 1. Each licensee shall keep and use in his business such books and accounting records as are in accord with generally accepted accounting practices.

2. Each licensee shall maintain a separate record or ledger card for the account of each customer and shall set forth separately the amount of cash advance and the total amount of interest and charges, but such a record may set forth precomputed declining balances based on the scheduled payments, without a separation of principal and charges.

3. Each licensee shall preserve all such books and accounting records for at least 2 years after making the final entry therein.

4. Each licensee who operates outside this State an office or other place of business that is licensed pursuant to provisions of this chapter shall:

(a) Make available at a location within this State the books, accounts, papers, records and files of the office or place of business located outside this State to the Commissioner or a representative of the Commissioner; or

(b) Pay the reasonable expenses for travel, meals and lodging of the Commissioner or a representative of the Commissioner incurred during any investigation or examination made at the office or place of business located outside this State.

The licensee must be allowed to choose between the provisions of paragraph (a) or (b) in complying with this subsection.

5. As used in this section, "amount of cash advance" means the amount of cash or its equivalent actually received by a customer or paid out at his direction or in his behalf.

Sec. 61. 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, an officer or employee of the Division of Financial Institutions of the Department of Business and Industry shall not:

- (a) Be directly or indirectly interested in or act on behalf of any licensee;

2. An employee of the Division of Financial Institutions in the unclassified service of the State shall not obtain new extensions of credit from a licensee while in office.

3. Any officer or employee of the Division of Financial Institutions may be indebted to a licensee on the same terms as are available to the public generally.

4. If an officer or employee of the Division of Financial Institutions has a service, a preferred consideration, an interest or a relationship prohibited by this section at the time of his appointment or employment, or obtains it during his employment, he shall terminate it within 120 days after the date of his appointment or employment or the discovery of the prohibited act.

Sec. 62. 1. For the purpose of discovering violations of this chapter or of securing information lawfully required under this chapter, the Commissioner or his duly authorized representatives may at any time investigate the business and examine the books, accounts, papers and records used therein of:

- (a) Any licensee;
- (b) Any other person engaged in the business of making loans or participating in such business as principal, agent, broker or otherwise; and
- (c) Any person who the Commissioner has reasonable cause to believe is violating or is about to violate any provision of this chapter, whether or not the person claims to be within the authority or beyond the scope of this chapter.

2. For the purpose of examination, the Commissioner or his authorized representatives shall have and be given free access to the offices and places of business, and the files, safes and vaults of such persons.

3. For the purposes of this section, any person who advertises for, solicits or holds himself out as willing to make any deferred deposit loan, short-term loan or title loan is presumed to be engaged in the business of making loans.

Sec. 63. 1. The Commissioner may require the attendance of any person and examine him under oath regarding:

(a) Any check-cashing service or loan service regulated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; or

(b) The subject matter of any audit, examination, investigation or hearing.

2. The Commissioner may require the production of books, accounts, papers and records for any audit, examination, investigation or hearing.

Sec. 64. At least once each year, the Commissioner or his authorized representatives shall make an examination of the place of business of each licensee and of the loans, transactions, books, accounts, papers and records of the licensee so far as they pertain to the business for which he is licensed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 65. 1. The Commissioner shall charge and collect from each licensee a fee of $40 per hour for any supervision, audit, examination, investigation or hearing conducted pursuant to this chapter or any regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

2. The Commissioner shall bill each licensee upon the completion of the activity for the fee established pursuant to subsection 1. The licensee shall pay the fee within 30 days after the date the bill is received. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, any payment received after the date due must include a penalty of 10 percent of the fee plus an additional 1 percent of the fee for each month, or portion of a month, that the fee is not paid. The Commissioner may waive the penalty for good cause.

3. The failure of a licensee to pay the fee required pursuant to subsection 1 as provided in this section constitutes grounds for revocation of the license of the licensee.

Sec. 66. If the Commissioner finds that probable cause for revocation of any license exists and that enforcement of the provisions of this chapter requires immediate suspension of a license pending investigation, he may, upon 5 days' written notice and a hearing, enter an order suspending a license for a period not exceeding 20 days, pending a hearing upon the revocation.

Sec. 67. 1. Whenever the Commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that any person is violating or is threatening to or intends to violate any provision of this chapter, he may, in addition to all actions provided for in this chapter and without prejudice thereto, enter an order requiring the person to desist or to refrain from such violation.

2. The Attorney General or the Commissioner may bring an action to enjoin a person from engaging in or continuing a violation or from doing any act or acts in furtherance thereof. In any such action, an order or judgment may be entered awarding a preliminary or final injunction as may be deemed proper.

3. In addition to all other means provided by law for the enforcement of a restraining order or injunction, the court in which an action is brought may impound, and appoint a receiver for, the property and business of the defendant, including books, papers, documents and records pertaining thereto, or so much thereof as the court may deem reasonably necessary to prevent violations of this chapter through or by means of the use of property and business. A receiver, when appointed and qualified, has such powers and duties as to custody, collection, administration, winding up and liquidation of such property and business as may from time to time be conferred upon him by the court.

Sec. 68. 1. If the Commissioner has reason to believe that grounds for revocation or suspension of a license exist, he shall give 20 days' written notice to the licensee stating the contemplated action and, in general, the grounds therefor and set a date for a hearing.

2. At the conclusion of a hearing, the Commissioner shall:

(a) Enter a written order either dismissing the charges, revoking the license or suspending the license for a period of not more than 60 days, which period must include any prior temporary suspension. The Commissioner shall send a copy of the order to the licensee by registered or certified mail.

(b) Impose upon the licensee a fine of $500 for each violation by the licensee of any provision of this chapter or any regulation adopted pursuant thereto.

(c) If a fine is imposed pursuant to this section, enter such order as is necessary to recover the costs of the proceeding, including his investigative costs and attorney's fees.

3. The grounds for revocation or suspension of a license are that:

(a) The licensee has failed to pay the annual license fee;

(b) The licensee, either knowingly or without any exercise of due care to prevent it, has violated any provision of this chapter or any lawful regulation adopted pursuant thereto;

(c) The licensee has failed to pay a tax as required pursuant to the provisions of chapter 363A of NRS;

(d) Any fact or condition exists which would have justified the Commissioner in denying the licensee's original application for a license pursuant to the provisions of this chapter; or

(e) The licensee:

(1) Failed to open an office for the conduct of the business authorized by his license within 180 days after the date his license was issued; or

(2) Has failed to remain open for the conduct of the business for a period of 180 days without good cause therefor.

4. Any revocation or suspension applies only to the license granted to a person for the particular office for which grounds for revocation or suspension exist.

5. An order suspending or revoking a license becomes effective 5 days after being entered unless the order specifies otherwise or a stay is granted.

Sec. 69. A licensee may surrender any license issued pursuant to the provisions of this chapter by delivering it to the Commissioner with written notice of its surrender, but a surrender does not affect his civil or criminal liability for acts committed prior thereto.

Sec. 70. A revocation, suspension, expiration or surrender of any license does not impair or affect the obligation of any preexisting lawful loan agreement between the licensee and any customer. Such a loan agreement and all lawful charges thereon may be collected by the licensee, its successors or assigns.

Sec. 71. 1. Annually, on or before April 15, each licensee shall file with the Commissioner a report of operations of the licensed business for the preceding calendar year.

2. The licensee shall make the report under oath and on a form prescribed by the Commissioner.

3. If any person or affiliated group holds more than one license in this State, it may file a composite annual report.

Sec. 72. 1. A court of this State may exercise jurisdiction over a party to a civil action arising under the provisions of this chapter on any basis not inconsistent with the Constitution of the State of Nevada or the Constitution of the United States.

2. Personal service of summons upon a party outside this State is sufficient to confer upon a court of this State jurisdiction over the party so served if the service is made by delivering a copy of the summons, together with a copy of the complaint, to the party served in the manner provided by statute or rule of court for service upon a person of like kind within this State.

3. In all cases of such service, the defendant has 40 days, exclusive of the day of service, within which to answer or plead.

4. This section provides an additional manner of serving process and does not invalidate any other service.

Sec. 73. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, if a licensee willfully:

(a) Enters into a loan agreement for an amount of interest or any other charge or fee that violates the provisions of this chapter or any regulation adopted pursuant thereto;

(b) Demands, collects or receives an amount of interest or any other charge or fee that violates the provisions of this chapter or any regulation adopted pursuant thereto; or

(c) Commits any other act or omission that violates the provisions of this chapter or any regulation adopted pursuant thereto, the loan is void and the licensee is not entitled to collect, receive or retain any principal, interest or other charges or fees with respect to the loan.

2. The provisions of this section do not apply if:

(a) A licensee shows by a preponderance of the evidence that the violation was not intentional and resulted from a bona fide error of computation, notwithstanding the maintenance of procedures reasonably adapted to avoid that error; and

(b) Within 60 days after discovering the error, the licensee notifies the customer of the error and makes whatever adjustments in the account are necessary to correct the error.

Sec. 74. In addition to any other remedy or penalty, if a licensee violates any provision of section 29, 31 to 47, inclusive, 49, 50, 57 or 58 of this act or any regulation adopted pursuant thereto, the customer may bring a civil action against the licensee for any or all of the following relief:

1. Actual and consequential damages;
2. An additional amount, as statutory damages, which is equal to $1,000 for each violation;
3. Punitive damages, which are subject to the provisions of NRS 42.005;
4. Reasonable attorney's fees and costs; and

704.773 1. ~~{A}~~ Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a utility shall offer net metering, as set forth in NRS 704.775, to the customer-generators operating within its service area.

2. A utility ~~{-}~~ is not required to provide net metering to additional customer-generators operating within its service area if the combined total peak demand of all customer-generators served by the utility equals or exceeds 1 percent of the peak customer demand of the utility.

3. For net metering systems with a generating capacity of 30 kilowatts or less, a utility:

(a) Shall offer to make available to each of its customer-generators who has accepted its offer for net metering an energy meter that is capable of registering the flow of electricity in two directions.

(b) May, at its own expense and with the written consent of the customer-generator, install one or more additional meters to monitor the flow of electricity in each direction.

(c) Shall not charge a customer-generator any fee or charge that would increase the customer-generator’s minimum monthly charge to an amount greater than that of other customers of the utility in the same rate class as the customer-generator.

4. For net metering systems with a generating capacity of more than 30 kilowatts, a utility:

(a) May require that a customer-generator install one or more meters capable of separately measuring the flow of electricity in both directions. All meters must provide time-of-use measurements of the flow of electricity and the customer-generator must take service on a time-of-use schedule. If the existing meter of the customer-generator is not a time-of-use meter or is not capable of measuring the total flow of electricity in both directions, the customer-generator is responsible for all expenses involved in purchasing and installing a time-of-use meter that is able to measure the total flow of electricity in both directions.

(b) Shall charge the customer-generator for the consumption of electricity from the utility at a price consistent with the tariffed rate that would be charged to the customer-generator if the customer-generator did not use a net metering system. The generation of electricity provided to the utility must result in a credit to the customer-generator and must be priced in accordance with the generation component that is established under the applicable rate structure to which the customer would be assigned if the customer did not use a net metering system. The customer-generator shall pay all other fees and charges, including, without limitation, the customer, demand and facility charges that are charged to the other customers of the utility in the same rate class as the customer-generator.

Sec. 18.4. NRS 704.775 is hereby amended to read as follows:

704.775 1. The billing period for net metering ~~{may be either}~~ must be a monthly period . {or, with the written consent of the customer-generator, an annual period.}

2. The net energy measurement must be measured in kilowatt hours and calculated in the following manner:

(a) The utility shall measure the net electricity produced or consumed during the billing period, in accordance with normal metering practices.

(b) If the electricity supplied by the utility exceeds the electricity generated by the customer-generator which is fed back to the utility during the billing period, the customer-generator must be billed for the net electricity supplied by the utility ~~{-}~~ with such charges for energy due and payable with each monthly bill.

(c) If the electricity generated by the customer-generator which is fed back to the utility exceeds the electricity supplied by the utility during the billing period:

(1) Neither the utility nor the customer-generator is entitled to compensation for electricity provided to the other during the billing period; and

(2) The ~~{excess}~~ electricity which is fed back to the utility ~~{shall be deemed to be electricity that the utility generated or acquired from a renewable energy system for the purposes of complying with its portfolio standard pursuant to NRS 704.7801 to 704.7828, inclusive.}~~ that exceeds the electricity supplied by the utility during the billing period must be carried forward and treated as a credit in the next billing period in addition to the kilowatt hours generated by the customer-generator. If the customer-generator is provided service by the utility pursuant to a rate schedule that employs a time-of-use period for billing purposes, the electricity carried forward must be applied to the same time-of-use period for the next billing period in which it is generated. If no comparable time-of-use period exists in the next billing period, the electricity carried forward must be evenly apportioned between the time-of-use periods in the next billing period. The excess electrical energy for each month is carried forward to the next month unless:

(I) The net metering system is no longer operating;

(II) The net metering system is no longer connected to the utility's electric system;

(III) The customer-generator ceases to take electric service from the utility at that location; or

(IV) The customer-generator assigns the net metering system to another party.

Potential conflict of interest declared by Assemblyman Perkins.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I apologize for the lengthy floor statement, especially after I have already admonished everybody, but I think it is going to be important for our record.

Assembly Bill 418 authorizes and enables the Board of County Commissioners of Clark County to increase sales and use taxes for the purpose of employing and equipping additional police officers for the police departments in Boulder City, Henderson, Mesquite, and North Las Vegas, and for the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department. The findings and declarations of Assembly Bill 418 state the intent of the Legislature—that 80 percent of the additional police officers shall be assigned to uniformed operations for patrol, and further, that certain community involvement programs must be developed. The bill provides that the first one-quarter-cent sales tax increase shall be imposed on July 1, 2005, through an ordinance adopted by the County commission. The second one-quarter cent sales tax increase may only be imposed with the consent of the Legislature and may not be imposed earlier than July 1, 2009.

Allocation of the increased sales tax revenues shall be based on the populations served by the participating police departments. Further, Assembly Bill 418 requires that the sales tax revenue generated shall be deposited in a special revenue fund. Before asking the Legislature to approve any change in the use of the sales tax revenues, the County Commission must first seek voter approval of the proposed change.

This, as many of you recall, was the advisory question that was on the ballot in November of last year in Clark County. It passed, albeit by a very tight margin. When you talk about the need for infrastructure, none of the rest matters if our citizens are not safe. The public recognized the need for more police officers in the fastest-growing city and valley in America by voting in favor of the question. There is no greater deterrent to crime than a police officer in a police car by our schools, in our neighborhoods, and by our businesses. As an example, this year Clark County is on a record-breaking pace for traffic fatalities. I know that more police officers on our streets and our highways would make a difference. Since 9/11, police have taken on the incredible burden of not just being the first responders, but oftentimes, the first identifiers of potential terrorist threats. While that new obligation is clearly paramount, we expect our investigative officers to continue to battle gang activity, drugs, and other organized crime activities.

I want to thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore, for tightening up the bill by taking the provision for bonding out and creating separate accounting. You and the chairman of Government Affairs were instrumental in that, and the language that says this will supplement and not supplant the current funding for law enforcement.

It allows the Clark County Commission, after working with their constituents, our constituents, the opportunity to do this. That body is closer to the people, as we are 400-and-some miles away from Clark County, and I am sure they will get an earful, in both directions, before they have the opportunity to levy this tax.

I am not an alarmist. I have never been. Those of you who know me understand that. I can tell you we have one of the lowest ratios of officers per 1,000 population in the entire western region. In my own jurisdiction, there is just barely more than 1 officer per 1,000 population and I think in the others, 1.3 or 1.6. per 1,000, while the national average in the western states is well above 2 officers per 1,000 population.

Lastly, Madam Speaker pro Tempore, I need to make the disclosure that I have been advised by legal counsel to disclose that I am the deputy chief of police and a law enforcement officer in Henderson, Nevada. Passage of this bill will authorize the Board of County Commissioners to increase the sales and use tax to employ and equip additional police officers for the Boulder City, Henderson, Las Vegas Metropolitan, Mesquite, and North Las Vegas Police Departments. I have also been advised that because the resulting benefit of this bill to the Henderson Police Department is not greater than that accruing to the Boulder City, Las Vegas Metropolitan, Mesquite, or North Las Vegas Police Departments, I am required to make this disclosure, but am not required to abstain from voting on the bill.

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore.

The insurer shall bill the policyholder separately for the fee or include the fee as a separate charge on the policy. The Administrator may reduce the amount of the assessment that an insurer must pay to the Uninsured Employers' Claim Account pursuant to NRS 616A.430 by the amount assessed by the Administrator to the insurer pursuant to this section.

4. The Administrator shall adopt regulations establishing a method for the equitable distribution of the money collected from the assessment pursuant to this section. The regulations must provide for payments that result in the largest proportional share of the money collected from the assessment being paid to claimants and dependents who receive the lowest amount of compensation pursuant to chapters 616A to 617, inclusive, of NRS for the permanent total disability. The Administrator may adopt any other regulations that are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

5. The Administrator shall make the payment required by this section to each claimant and dependent of the claimant who is entitled to the payment not later than October 1 of each year. MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Ocegueda, Allen, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Atkinson, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Giunchigliani, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hettrick, Hogan, Holcomb, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, McCleary, Mortenson, Munford, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Pierce, Seale, Sherer, Sibley, Smith, and Weber; Senators Titus, Amodei, Beers, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Tiffany, Townsend, Washington, and Wiener:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 23—Urging public and private entities to work together to establish a statewide system of care for patients suffering from strokes.

WHEREAS, The American Stroke Association, a division of the American Heart Association, is promoting the message “Time Lost = Brain Lost” to offer advocates for stroke awareness an opportunity to educate the public and policymakers about the devastating effects of a stroke; and

WHEREAS, Statistics reveal that every 45 seconds on average, someone in the United States suffers a stroke, which means that each year, about 700,000 persons in this country are victims of a new or recurrent stroke, and there are approximately 4.8 million stroke survivors in our nation today; and

WHEREAS, Strokes are a leading cause of serious, long-term disability and can result in both physical and emotional devastation, leaving many victims struggling with activities of daily living and 15 to 30 percent of victims permanently disabled; and

WHEREAS, Strokes are the third leading cause of death in the United States, with one death occurring every 3.3 minutes, and in Nevada last year, strokes accounted for over 1,000 deaths; and

WHEREAS, In 2004, the estimated direct and indirect costs of strokes in this nation totaled about $53.6 billion; and

WHEREAS, The Institute of Medicine of the National Academies has concluded that the fragmentation of the delivery of health care services for stroke victims frequently results in suboptimal treatment, safety concerns, and inefficient use of health care resources; and

WHEREAS, The Institute of Medicine has recommended the establishment of coordinated systems of care that integrate services for prevention and treatment of strokes and promote access by each patient to care that is based on the best evidence available at the time of treatment; and

WHEREAS, The Health Division of the Department of Human Resources and the American Stroke Association are working on a systems approach that is necessary to effectuate true change in the way strokes are treated statewide so that patients have access to the most advanced treatment in centers that are best designed and equipped to deal with the critical and time-sensitive needs of stroke patients; and

WHEREAS, The main purpose of such a statewide system of care is to establish a systems approach for assisting stroke patients that includes the development and recognition of primary stroke centers, emergency medical services, protocols and field triage, transfer of stroke victims between facilities, and collection of data relating to strokes; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the Legislature of the State of Nevada recognizes the importance of proper care for victims of strokes and calls upon public and private entities to work together to establish a cohesive statewide system of care for all residents of this state who suffer from strokes; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Director of the Department of Human Resources and to the Vice President of the American Stroke Association.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 23—Memorializing Tony Armstrong, beloved Mayor of the City of Sparks.

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature wish to express their condolences and deep sorrow on the passing of Tony Armstrong, the beloved Mayor of the City of Sparks, on January 29, 2005; and

WHEREAS, Tony Armstrong was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on September 3, 1945, and moved to Sparks when he was 4 years of age, with his mother and younger brothers, attending local schools including graduating from Sparks High School; and

WHEREAS, Growing up in humble circumstances, Tony was a self-professed troublemaker until, at the age of 14 years, he got caught skipping school and had to spend several hours in a jail cell alone, an experience which he said made him a different person and changed the path of his life, otherwise the people of Sparks may never have experienced the pleasure of having Tony Armstrong as their Mayor; and

WHEREAS, Tony Armstrong, a licensed general contractor, had a strong work ethic, starting his own successful construction inspection business; and

WHEREAS, In 1989, Tony Armstrong was elected as a Councilman for the City of Sparks, now Nevada's fifth largest city with a population of almost 80,000, and was reelected twice; and

WHEREAS, Tony was elected Mayor of the City of Sparks in 1999 and was serving his second term at his passing, successfully steering the Rail City to healthy growth with thriving businesses and expanding neighborhoods, while still keeping that small hometown feeling; and

WHEREAS, As a public official, Tony Armstrong is largely credited with such successful developments as Victorian Square and the Sparks Marina, while taking time to attend school functions, grand openings, dedications, parades and other special events; and

WHEREAS, Under the watchful eye of Tony Armstrong, Sparks became known for its special events that include the entire family, such as the Star Spangled Sparks fireworks extravaganza, the Sparks Hometowne Farmers' Market, the Sparks Hometowne Christmas gala, the Big Easy, Hot August Nights, and the Best in the West Nugget Rib Cook-Off; and

WHEREAS, Geno Martini, former Councilman who was recently named Mayor of the City of Sparks and a friend of Tony Armstrong's since the third grade, said, "What made him stand out as a politician was a passion for his job of Mayor, his honesty and his connection with the people"; and

WHEREAS, Preferring to be called "Tony," rather than "Mr. Mayor," he was known for his willingness to always give a hand to anyone in need and for his friendliness, making everyone who met him feel they had a personal relationship with him; and

WHEREAS, Because Tony Armstrong disliked suits and ties, people were asked to wear casual attire to the service to celebrate his life, with about 2,000 people wearing such clothing as blue jeans, khaki pants, golf shirts and cowboy boots to show their respect for "the people's Mayor," and even Governor Kenny Guinn and Pastor Randy Siever of Sparks Christian Fellowship Church got in the spirit by wearing Hawaiian shirts; and

WHEREAS, His daughter Misti remembers Tony as a perfect father who always made time for his family, no matter how busy his schedule; and

WHEREAS, Upon learning that her grandfather had passed away, 7-year-old Madison consoled her parents by writing "Dear Mom and Dad, I'm sorry that Papa died. Hopefully, God has a Mayor up in the sky."; and

WHEREAS, Tony Armstrong is survived by Debby, his loving wife of 22 years, sons Richard and Keith Armstrong, daughter Misti Franco, and grandchildren Kierra, Madison, Kole, and James; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE ASSEMBLY CONCURRING, That Tony Armstrong will be remembered for attaining many great successes on behalf of the people and the city that he loved so much, while maintaining the friendliness and caring attributes that made the residents of Sparks return that affection; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the people of the City of Sparks will surely feel the presence of Tony Armstrong as they celebrate the Sparks Centennial because he will be watching over the city that he treasured and of which he was so proud; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Debby Armstrong, cherished wife of Tony.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, April 27, 2005

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 23.

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Anderson, Allen, Angle, Arberry, Atkinson, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Giunchigliani, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hettrick, Hogan, Holcomb, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, McCleary, Mortenson, Munford, Ocegura, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Pierce, Seale, Sherer, Sibley, Smith, and Weber; Senators Mathews, Amodei, Beers, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, McGinness, Nolan, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Tiffany, Titus, Townsend, Washington, and Wiener:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 24—Memorializing lifelong humanitarian Thomas Eugene Swart.

WHEREAS, Tears of sadness were mingled with warm-hearted memories of, and with love and appreciation for, Thomas Eugene Swart upon his death on November 10, 2004; and

WHEREAS, Thomas Swart, a lifelong resident of Nevada, passed away in his home at the age of 92; and

WHEREAS, Tom was born in Sparks on October 29, 1912, to Elizabeth and Clarence Swart, and a neighbor from his “growing-up years” fondly recalls the neighborhood games played under the street lamps during their high school days; and

WHEREAS, Following his graduation as a “Railroader” from Sparks High School in 1930, Tom began working in the shops for the Southern Pacific Railroad and later became a salesman at Harry’s Business Machines, where he worked for 5 years selling typewriters and calculators; and

WHEREAS, Tom continued his career as a salesman by taking a job with Moore Business Forms, during the course of which he traveled his beloved state for 37 years until his retirement in 1974; and

WHEREAS, An untold number of lives were touched and enriched by Tom Swart as he became a pillar of humanitarianism in his community; and

WHEREAS, As the youngest Master, Scottish Rite, in the history of DeMolay’s Wadsworth Lodge No. 25 Free and Accepted Masons, Tom unselfishly dedicated time to help prepare young men to lead successful, happy and productive lives; and

WHEREAS, The years spent serving on the Board of the Shriners Hospital for Children that was located in San Francisco represented another aspect of Tom’s benevolent spirit toward others; and

WHEREAS, Tom further demonstrated his concern for the betterment of his fellow man through his participation in community service projects and programs with the Reno Kiwanis Club during the years he worked for Moore Business Forms; and

WHEREAS, Because of Tom’s enthusiasm about the history of the state of Nevada, and Sparks in particular, he was instrumental in the founding of the Sparks Heritage Foundation and Museum, and he spent many years volunteering there; and

WHEREAS, The installation of a proper monument at the Masonic Memorial Gardens Cemetery in Reno for former Governor Emmet Boyle, the first Nevada-born Governor, constitutes another community project for which Tom Swart’s involvement was critical; and

WHEREAS, In addition to the wonderful humanitarian efforts Tom performed for the state of Nevada, his legacy of warmth and friendliness lives through his family and the lives of those to whom he so generously gave; and

WHEREAS, Whenever the name of Tom Swart is mentioned, everyone who knew him will recall with great affection his tremendous memory and the engaging stories he loved to tell about his life; and

WHEREAS, One story that will probably be repeated often is a tale which proves that his love of life and adventure never grew old, as at the age of 80, Tom decided to ride the Giant Dipper, a monstrous, wooden rollercoaster in Santa Cruz, California, and the ride was great, but the hat was lost; and

WHEREAS, Tom was preceded in death by his beloved wife, Freda Fremd Swart of Susanville, California, and a marriage of 54 years speaks for his devotion to her and his family; and

WHEREAS, The admiration and appreciation for Thomas Swart from his community and the residents of Nevada is superseded only by the love of his family for this caring, giving, supportive husband, father, grandfather and great-grandfather; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 73rd Session of the Nevada Legislature do hereby express their admiration and appreciation for the contributions made to the community of Reno-Sparks and to the state of Nevada by Thomas Eugene Swart; and be it further

RESOLVED, That each Legislator conveys sincere condolences to the family and friends of this model of the philanthropic spirit; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Thomas Swart's daughters, Barbara Courtney of Reno, Nevada, and Diane Johnson of Ashland, Oregon.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Anderson.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. For me, it is always hard to speak of people like Tom Swart, or his brother Hank, who clearly had a huge impact upon the community in which I live. Tom was a model native Nevadan. He was born in 1912 in the city and spent all of his life there, growing up along with the city. He graduated from Sparks High School in 1930, clearly a time period in the middle of the Great Depression. Imagine him going out and moving and selling product with Harry's Business Machines. His movement about the state put him in direct contact with every business and every store. He learned the inner workings of each one of those stores and the people in the stores, because Tom Swart was a people person. Everything he did was a relationship and your word was what it was. His involvement in life was constantly filled with what was good for the community as a whole. His knowledge of the inner workings of most businesses and where they were helped make him successful. Also, his activity within the Sparks Historical Society caused him to be in the center of what was happening.

However, that really doesn't carry the essence of who Tom Swart was. It was that "I am always up for the adventure," the riding of the roller coaster, the dapper dresser who made everybody think, "Gee, why is he here?" He was there to make sure things happened. He was the kind of person we all wanted to be. As a child, I looked to Tom as the kind of person you could be in a community to be effective, to hear and listen to your neighbors, to care about people.

So, when I was at his memorial service I wanted to make sure that I could share his memory and tell his family, once again, how important he was to all of us. He has always been active. The memorial for Emmet Boyle is a great example of that. He talked to me in 1999, saying we had ignored the first native-born governor of the state of Nevada and the youngest man ever to be the governor of the state, and he felt that was wrong. He felt something had to be done and when we reapportioned in 2001, lo and behold, he became part of my reapportioned district. He made it clear that he expected to see something done. In the last session, he was here, at 90 years of age, to make sure that we asked the State Historian, Mr. James, to work and get a memorial in place. Last Memorial Day that stone was placed because Tom Swart wanted to make sure that we didn't forget about the giants who we stand on and are with. The giants, in fact, are people like Tom Swart. In honoring him today I believe we step forward to honor the kind of citizens who make our state what it is; the people with the heart and mind of Tom Swart, who brings the humor of life, the richness of life to all of us.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 24 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

The place would not run without the folks who are here sitting with us on the Floor today. They all make us look so good. People do not realize that we have these incredible staffs, sitting behind us, that take care of every need. Mr. Speaker, I just think that if the members of the Assembly could stand and give all these people a great big applause, I think it would be in order.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

With the permission of the Body, I would like to add my thanks as well. We are the folks that get elected, we are the names in the newspaper, for better or worse, usually for worse. And we're the folks who actually sponsor the bills and that sort of thing, but none of that could happen—whether it is funding for education or correcting one of the social ills in our state, or making a new criminal law—without all of your help. You have not only our undying gratitude, but that of the entire state of Nevada and all the citizens we serve. This is the democratic laboratory that is closest to the people, as we learn from Mr. Anderson on an every-session basis. It is all of you who make this work and really do the things for the state of Nevada. You help us make this to be the greatest state in the greatest country in the world. We do appreciate everything you do.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Mr. Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Vetoed Assembly Bill No. 135 of the 73rd Session.

Governor's message stating his objections read.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

CARSON CITY, NEVADA, April 7, 2005

THE HONORABLE RICHARD D. PERKINS, Speaker of the Assembly, Nevada State Assembly, Legislative Building, 401 S. Carson Street, Carson City, Nevada 89701-4947

DEAR SPEAKER PERKINS:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 135, which is entitled:

AN ACT relating to insurance; increasing the maximum annual amounts that may be assessed against certain insurers for purposes relating to investigation of insurance fraud; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

The Legislature has established the Special Investigative Account within the State General Fund. This special account supports the programs established by the Commissioner of Insurance and the Attorney General's Insurance Fraud Control Unit to investigate and prosecute insurance fraud in our state.

Each year, both insurance and reinsurance companies transacting business in Nevada pay an assessment into the Special Investigative Account that is based upon the total amount of premiums charged to its policyholders. The fraud assessment constitutes good public policy. The policy supporting the assessment is that insurance fraud damages the industry and that, therefore, the industry has an investment in aggressively prosecuting fraud as a deterrent.

The Office of the Attorney General has requested two new investigators for the Insurance Fraud Control Unit in its proposed budget. Assembly Bill 135 was intended to provide funding for these new positions by increasing the annual fraud assessment levels. While it is always good to provide state agencies with needed resources, Assembly Bill 135 does not serve that purpose.

Deposits into the Special Investigative Account from current fraud assessment levels will grow during the next two years and this account has a healthy reserve should a shortfall in deposits occur during the upcoming biennium. The annual fraud assessment levels do not need to be increased. I am informed by our State Budget Division that the current fraud assessment levels will produce sufficient revenue to fund the existing services being provided and will also allow the Office of the Attorney General to hire the two insurance fraud investigators that have been requested by that office.

It does not constitute good public policy to pass along increased costs to our citizens when it is not necessary to do so. Further, no state agency should be provided with more funding than is needed to carry out its duties, even if state government is experiencing a substantial surplus in its revenues. Therefore, I must exercise my constitutional grant of authority to veto Assembly Bill 135.

Sincerely,
Kenny C. Guinn
Governor

Bill read.

The question was put: "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Remarks by Assemblywomen Buckley and Angle.

Assemblywoman Buckley requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I urge that this Body vote no and sustain the Governor's veto. For those of you who do not have the opportunity to serve in the Assembly Commerce and Labor Committee, I would like to give a little background on this bill and on this fund.

Nevada has one of the highest insurance rates in the nation. One of the contributing causes to this high insurance rate has been the issue of fraud, so in 1999 the Legislature established a fraud control unit in the Office of the Attorney General. The office's purpose was to look at all kinds of frauds: frauds by consumers, by businesses, by companies themselves, anything that might be driving up the cost of insurance in the state. The office, by all accounts, has been successful in doing a good job.

The bill that came before us, Assembly Bill 135, sought to raise the amount the insurance companies pay into this fund. This is one of those ironic areas where the creation of this office was always funded by an assessment against insurance companies and they begged us to be able to pay it, saying if they could reduce fraud it would ease their workload and make their business more competitive by eliminating insurance fraud. They came to our committee again this session and asked that the assessment be increased by $250, and that is what this bill did.

I would note that the bill was offered by the Department of Administration, that is the Governor's Office, so it is the Governor's bill to fund the Attorney General and was supported by every insurance company with no opposition. That is why this bill was passed unanimously by the Legislature and received our full assent. If we had known that the Governor did not want the bill, if we had known that the Attorney General's Office did not think that they needed the funds, we certainly would not have processed the bill. So, with those remarks, I urge this Body to sustain the veto by voting no.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN ANGLE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just want to make a small correction to my colleague's statement. There was one "No" vote. Thank you.

The roll was called, and the Assembly sustained the veto of the Governor by the following vote:

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 135:

YEAS—None.

NAYS—Allen, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Atkinson, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Giunchigliani, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hettrick, Hogan, Holcomb, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, McCleary, Mortenson, Munford, Ocegüera, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Pierce, Seale, Sherer, Sibley, Smith, Weber—42.

Assembly Bill No. 135 having failed to received a two-thirds majority, Mr. Speaker declared the veto sustained.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 27—Memorializing eminent educator and coach Bud Beasley.

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature note with profound sorrow the passing of eminent educator and coach Bud Beasley on July 17, 2004, at the age of 93; and

WHEREAS, Born December 8, 1910, in Melrose, New Mexico, and raised in Santa Cruz, California, Bud Beasley became a star athlete at Santa Cruz High School and was encouraged by his football coach, former Nevada All-American James “Rabbit” Bradshaw, to attend the University of Nevada, Reno; and

WHEREAS, Bud Beasley began his career as an educator in 1934 as a student teacher, and he has received commendations from four Presidents of the United States and two Nevada Governors, been named Phi Delta Kappa Nevada Teacher of the Year and been recognized by the Nevada-California-Hawaii District of Kiwanis International as Educator of the Year; and

WHEREAS, Bud Beasley taught over 11,000 students in his 70-year career as a coach and educator, mentoring future judges, coaches, businessmen, legislators, attorneys, doctors, athletes and educators, many of whom say he was one of the biggest influences in their lives; and

WHEREAS, State Senator William Raggio, Reno High School class of 1944, indicated that Bud Beasley was an inspiring man who stood for integrity and what was right and that he will be missed; and

WHEREAS, Known for his good humor, dynamic storytelling, and genuine affection for his students, Bud Beasley loved children and loved to teach, with a special knack for those students who were in difficult circumstances, and his positive outlook on life motivated many students who may have given up on their education were it not for his influence; and

WHEREAS, After leaving Reno High School in 1974, Bud Beasley taught adaptive physical education to children with special needs at several schools and taught history and American government at Washoe High School, an alternative school with mostly at-risk students, where one of his students recalled that if a student did not know the answer to a question on the daily quiz, he could write in “The cardinal sin of mankind is ignorance” and get full credit, which only served to further motivate them to learn; and

WHEREAS, While an outstanding athlete and coach in many sports, Bud Beasley had a special sparkle in his eyes when he talked about baseball, having pitched professionally for the Sacramento Solons and the Seattle Pilots of the Pacific Coast League during his summers off from teaching, and was especially known for reciting his version of the classic poem “Casey at the Bat” at speaking engagements; and

WHEREAS, Having followed the careers of many of his students, collecting vast amounts of news clippings over the years, even sending a constant stream of letters to his former students overseas in World War II, Bud Beasley attended every class reunion and cofounded the Reno High School Alumni Association, in part to keep track of his beloved students by maintaining a database with up-to-date information on them and in part to enhance the recognition of Reno High School and to provide scholarships for its students; and

WHEREAS, When Reno High School was moved from its old building to a new one in 1951, Bud Beasley saw precious memorabilia being tossed away, motivating him to begin plans to preserve Reno High history in what is now the Link Piazza Alumni Center, named after a former student of Bud Beasley and built on the Reno High campus, a virtual museum filled with Re-Wa-Ne yearbooks dating from 1906, band uniforms from 1950, a letter sweater from 1921, a diploma from 1905, class rings and trophies and, the pride and joy of the Association, the bell from the building that housed Reno High School in 1879; and

WHEREAS, The entryway of Bud Beasley Elementary School in Sparks bears a dedication plaque which quotes the school's namesake: "May this school become not a shrine to me, but an opportunity for all who enter herein," echoing his selfless philosophy of serving the children of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, Bud Beasley and his wife of 67 years, Nellie, cared for dozens of foster children through the years and adopted 17 children; and

WHEREAS, Bud Beasley is survived by his beloved wife Nellie and his brother Oral "Tex" Beasley of Pacific Grove, California; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE ASSEMBLY CONCURRING, That Bud Beasley will long be remembered and greatly missed by his many thousands of students as a teacher and coach who truly cared about them and their futures; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Bud Beasley set the standard that all educators and coaches should strive to meet; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Bud's loving wife Nellie and to his brother Tex.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson, Angle, and Marvel.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Mr. Speaker, it is with both fear and pleasure that I attempt to honor this outstanding man in front of this distinguished Body. I think it is important to know, in describing who Bud Beasley was, it is equally important to you who he is. Mr. Beasley, through his teaching style and everyday interaction, instilled small parts of his wisdom, personality, and good humor into people throughout Nevada, the United States, and, possibly, the world. In both the classroom and on the ball field, Bud always treated his students with the utmost respect regardless of their ability. There have been over 1,000 lives affected by Mr. Beasley during his 70-year teaching career.

When Senator Raggio approached me about presenting this Resolution on the floor, I tried to formulate some thoughts about this outstanding, beloved Nevadan, but struggled immensely. There are so many things to be said about Bud that for the first time I was unable to formulate my thoughts and I actually became speechless. Anybody who has met Bud knows both a funny and remarkable story about him. Regardless of what occupation I name, all would say they attribute some of what they are doing to their acquaintance with Bud Beasley.

As a teacher and coach, Bud inspired self-confidence in his students, to know the value of self-worth and responsibility for their actions. After teaching at Reno High School for more than 38 years, he went on to teach at-risk students at Washoe High School.

His real life experiences, as described in the Resolution, can be best illustrated with countless stories, but I will only share a few with you. The first story that comes to mind is about his teaching style and his ability to obtain a free milkshake from his students. He would often wager milkshakes when arguments about the rules of baseball came up. Having an unfair advantage, due to his professional playing of baseball and later, teaching, Bud always won and cashed in for his milkshakes. This type of interaction is what he had with all his students. His teaching and coaching styles were anything but conventional. Several years ago, while Bud was teaching the evening alternative education program, he was hospitalized. He missed one class, and the next evening he arranged to be driven to class so his students would know that he was both all right and he was there to make sure all went well in class.

Some of you may have seen a movie about women's baseball in World War II called, A League of Their Own. The second baseman on one of those teams was interviewed about her experiences on the field and with the coaches. She told a story about being moved from second base to the center field by the coach and how she was unhappy with the change. When asked how she got back at the coach, Nellie Beasley replied, "I married him."

These few stories and small, descriptive words about Bud are mere mortal words trying to describe an immortal person. The people in Bud's life know how incredibly hard it is for one simple Floor speech to give the proper justification to this man's phenomenal life. Bud is a kind, brilliant teacher whose love for the game could only be surpassed by his love for his family, and I ask you to help me honor him today.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN ANGLE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 27. Nellie and Bud Beasley are my constituents, and it is one of those pleasures that you look forward to when you are walking door-to-door. You look forward to walking their neighborhood because you know you are going to get a fun thing that day, meeting with them. I guess the thing I remember most about them is they were such good friends to my parents, so I would ask you to support this Resolution. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I also rise in support of SCR 27. I go back a long ways with Bud Beasley, but I think his first teaching job was in Battle Mountain. Bud, at that time, was just a prolific baseball player. He started the town baseball team, but you only needed the pitcher and the catcher because Bud would strike out about everybody that he faced. He had quite a brilliant career in the Pacific Coast League and it was a pleasure to watch his career develop. Incidentally, his wife, Nellie, taught my wife in high school bowling. Bud was small in stature, but a giant of a man. I hadn't seen Bud for maybe 30 years and we were on a tour in Reno, looking through the schools, and I walked in and Bud knew me right then. Bud was a role model for all people. He is going to be sorely missed. Certainly you should be proud of Bud Beasley.

Resolution adopted.

By Senators Nolan, Amodei, Beers, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Tiffany, Titus, Townsend, Washington, and Wiener; Ocegueda, Allen, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Atkinson, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Giunchigliani, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hettrick, Hogan, Holcomb, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, McCleary, Mortenson, Munford, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Pierce, Seale, Sherer, Sibley, Smith, and Weber:

WHEREAS, The California/Nevada Automotive Wholesalers' Association was established in August 1955 with a mission to provide communications, education, legislative and regulatory advocacy, and group purchasing of services for its members, while promoting the automotive aftermarket industry, which provides products and services for the maintenance of motor vehicles; and

WHEREAS, Each year, neglected maintenance of motor vehicles leads to more than 2,600 deaths, nearly 100,000 disabling injuries and more than $2 billion in lost wages, medical expenses and property damage; and

WHEREAS, Because disabled vehicles are a major cause of highway congestion and are hazards on the highways, proper maintenance of motor vehicles is a major concern for the safety of the public; and

WHEREAS, According to the United States Environmental Protection Agency, 30 percent of motor vehicles are responsible for the majority of vehicular pollution as a result of improper maintenance; and

WHEREAS, Proper maintenance of a motor vehicle will reduce fuel usage, saving not only money, but also valuable natural resources; and

WHEREAS, To educate motorists regarding the importance of the proper maintenance of their motor vehicles, the Association has initiated the “Be Car Care Aware” campaign; and

WHEREAS, In its long history of service to its members, the Association established the Multiple Employer Welfare Association in the mid-1980s to provide its members a self-insured, affordable medical and dental insurance package and established an Automotive Parts Association Federal Credit Union, which offers its member employees and families a member-owned financial institution; and

WHEREAS, The Association has also been committed to innovative and aggressive public affairs activities, including sponsorship of legislation to eliminate unnecessary state regulation of auto parts distributorships with affiliated machine shops and legislation to guarantee motorists the right to choose independent motor vehicle repair options in this state; and

WHEREAS, Activities celebrating this momentous anniversary of the Association will occur throughout the 2005 calendar year, culminating with the annual meeting during Industry Week in November 2005 in Las Vegas, to serve as a reminder of the valuable benefits that the Association provides to its members, public policymakers, and motorists in this state and of the Association’s service to the industry; and

WHEREAS, The Association continues today as one of the nation’s premiere automotive parts trade associations; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE ASSEMBLY CONCURRING, That the 73rd Session of the Nevada Legislature takes great pride in commending the members and leadership of the California/Nevada Automotive Wholesalers’ Association on its distinguished history and exemplary record of service to the people of the state of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Nevada Legislature applauds the California/Nevada Automotive Wholesalers’ Association for its advocacy on behalf of the automotive aftermarket industry and motorists in general and extends best wishes for continued success in its next 50 years; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the California/Nevada Automotive Wholesalers’ Association.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

By Assemblyman Perkins and Senator Raggio:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 27—Recognizing May 4, 2005, as Peace Officers' Memorial Day and May 15 through 21, 2005, as Peace Officers' Memorial Week in Nevada.

WHEREAS, Of all the promises America offers, none is more precious or more elusive than the right to be free from crime and violence; and

WHEREAS, The dedicated men and women who have chosen law enforcement as a career face extraordinary risk and danger in preserving our freedom and security; and

WHEREAS, Seeing a need to honor those who died trying to make a safer life for American citizens, on October 1, 1962, President John F. Kennedy signed Public Law 87-726 designating National Peace Officers' Memorial Day and National Police Week; and

WHEREAS, In 1994, the United States Congress and President William J. Clinton approved Public Law 103-322 directing that the flag of the United States be displayed at half-staff on all government buildings on May 15 each year as a special tribute to the brave men and women who died upholding our laws and preserving public safety; and

WHEREAS, This year marks the 17th annual candlelight vigil held at the site of the National Law Enforcement Officers' Memorial in Washington, D.C., where, since 1989, thousands have gathered to salute all of America's law enforcement heroes, both past and present; and

WHEREAS, During the week of May 15 through May 21, 2005, National Police Week will be observed throughout the nation to increase public awareness of the hazardous work, serious responsibilities, strong commitment and sacrifices of our nation's peace officers and to provide the opportunity to appreciate the heroic men and women who have dedicated their lives to preserving public safety; and

WHEREAS, In conjunction with this important observance, May 4, 2005, will be observed as Peace Officers' Memorial Day and May 15 through 21, 2005, will be observed as Peace Officers' Memorial Week in Nevada in commemoration of those noble officers who have tragically sacrificed their lives in the line of duty; and

WHEREAS, These special observances provide all Nevadans with the opportunity to appreciate the heroic men and women who have dedicated their lives to preserving public safety; and

WHEREAS, The tragic loss felt when a peace officer is killed in the line of duty is expressed in these poignant words from a poem by Harry Koch:

Yes, somebody killed a policeman today,
It happened in your town or mine.
While we slept in comfort behind our locked doors,
A cop put his life on the line.
Now, his ghost walks a beat on a dark city street,
and he stands at each new rookie's side.
He answered the call and gave us his all,
And a part of America died;
now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 73rd Session of the Nevada Legislature do hereby recognize May 4, 2005, as Peace Officers' Memorial Day and May 15 through 21, 2005, as Peace Officers' Memorial Week in the state of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Legislature urges all residents of this state to remember those who have given their lives while preserving our safety, to attend the special ceremonies held in their honor and to express appreciation to those who continue to face death every day in their dedication to making Nevada a safer place in which to live.

Assemblyman Perkins moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Perkins.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. It is my honor, not just to put forward, but to stand here in support of Assembly Concurrent Resolution 27. As the son of a police officer and as a police officer my entire adult life, I can remember where I was each and every time that I heard about the loss of an officer in our state. It is one of those stark realities that you know come with the job when you put yourself in harm's way for the safety of others.

We have lost more than 100 police officers in our state over the course of our state's history in the last 140 years, over 20 in my short law enforcement career, but I can tell you, we have a safer Nevada today because of their sacrifice. Our communities are safer and our state is a better place to live. For these reasons and many others, Madam Speaker pro Tempore, I rise in support of the resolution and I encourage our colleagues to support it as well.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Perkins moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 27 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

To the Honorable the Assembly:

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

By Senators Raggio, Amodei, Beers, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Rhoads, Schneider, Tiffany, Titus, Townsend, Washington, and Wiener; Assemblymen Perkins, Allen, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Atkinson, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Giunchigliani, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hettrick, Hogan, Holcomb, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, McCleary, Mortenson, Munford, Ocegüera, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Pierce, Seale, Sherer, Sibley, Smith, and Weber:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 30—Memorializing former First Lady Carolyn O’Callaghan.

WHEREAS, Fulfilling the demands and expectations placed on the First Lady of Nevada is a uniquely challenging responsibility; and

WHEREAS, Carolyn Randall O’Callaghan quietly and graciously took charge of the role with the greatest dignity, serving Nevadans in such a way as to evoke the admiration of everyone who knew her, as well as those who will imitate her as a model and guidepost in the future; and

WHEREAS, Carolyn Randall, the daughter of Claude and Marjorie Randall, was born on December 15, 1935, in Twin Falls, Idaho, where she spent many happy childhood hours playing in the greenhouses behind her family’s flower shop, and is remembered as a nature lover and a tomboy who enjoyed riding stick horses in the fields; and

WHEREAS, In spite of her tomboyish propensities, this young lady early revealed her maternal instincts, as her sister Harriet recalls that Carolyn “on her own as a teenager took on the responsibility of looking after me” and “took me everywhere with her”; and

WHEREAS, Carolyn attended the University of Idaho in Moscow, where she met Mike O’Callaghan, and the two were married on August 25, 1954, and remained devoted to each other during the almost 50 years they were together; and

WHEREAS, In 1971, when Mike became Governor and Carolyn assumed her position as First Lady of Nevada, she set a standard for hospitality that is unequalled by maintaining the proper sophistication while truly making the Governor’s Mansion the house of the people of Nevada, as seen in her custom of rising early each morning to serve coffee at the kitchen table and discuss the issues of the day with the mailman, milkman, and whoever else might be passing by and in her joy of “spooking-up” the Mansion at Halloween and making hundreds of bags of popcorn to hand to trick-or-treaters; and

WHEREAS, One favorite story about this very special First Lady involves the time when the Governor received word that picketers from Las Vegas had gathered at the Governor’s Mansion to protest his support of the motorcycle helmet law, but on arriving to evaluate the situation, he discovered only dozens of picket signs on the porch and lawn because Carolyn, explaining that those people had come all the way from Las Vegas and it was cold outside, had everyone in the kitchen being served coffee, hot chocolate and lunch; and

WHEREAS, In her private life, Carolyn was known for athletic ability that enabled her to win numerous bowling tournaments and pro-am golf championships, and as a person who could do anything she set her mind to, she even included the driving of school buses and moving vans as well as the building of an addition to the family home in her repertoire of skills; and

WHEREAS, In addition to athleticism, keen driving abilities and carpentry, Carolyn excelled as a guitar player, gourmet cook, crack shot, and masterful angler who, in fact, just 3 weeks before her death, had taken several of her grandchildren on a fishing expedition to Lake Mead; and

WHEREAS, As a wife, Carolyn's love and support for her husband knew no limits, and even though she disagreed with him on many issues, she knew they thought alike regarding all the most important subjects including their children, their family, and their home; and

WHEREAS, Her children remember Carolyn as a "class lady" and a mom who created a tight-knit family in a home filled with love, living intensely her belief that family came before politics; and

WHEREAS, Underneath all the external qualities making her such a remarkable woman, lay the vivaciousness and inner beauty that created the magnetic charisma of this First Lady whom friends remember as a generous benefactor completely consumed with doing good for others and as a mentor who taught them how to be better people; and

WHEREAS, Carolyn Randall O'Callaghan slipped away on August 7, 2004, only a few months after losing the love of her life, and those who knew her well find comfort in believing that she and Mike are together in a better place and that they did indeed celebrate that 50th wedding anniversary together; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE ASSEMBLY CONCURRING, That the members of the 73rd Session of the Nevada Legislature express their respect and admiration for Carolyn Randall O'Callaghan as a loving, compassionate, dedicated wife and mother who served the people of Nevada as their First Lady with the honor and dignity befitting that position, and they offer their sincerest condolences to Carolyn's beloved family and to the friends whose love and respect she earned through the quality of the life she lived; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Carolyn O'Callaghan will always be remembered fondly in the annals of great personages of the State of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Carolyn's treasures on Earth, her children Michael, Brian, Tim, Colleen, and Teresa.

Assemblyman Perkins moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Perkins.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

By Senators Raggio, Amodei, Beers, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Rhoads, Schneider, Tiffany, Titus, Townsend, Washington, and Wiener; Assemblymen Perkins, Allen, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Atkinson, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Giunchigliani, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hettrick, Hogan, Holcomb, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, McCleary, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguela, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Pierce, Seale, Sherer, Sibley, Smith, and Weber:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 31—Memorializing former Governor Mike O'Callaghan.

WHEREAS, Tracing the journey of a son born in Lacrosse, Wisconsin, into a poor family that lost its farm during the Great Depression, to become the man who is one of the most prominent, beloved figures in the history of the state of Nevada encompasses a story of extreme courage and remarkable character; and

WHEREAS, The leading actor in that story, Donal Neil "Mike" O'Callaghan, affectionately known as "Big Mike," approached each role throughout his life in such a way that endeared him to all he knew, and his imprint will forever be stamped upon this state; and

WHEREAS, Former Governor Mike O'Callaghan grew up on his family's farm and helped earn a living by raising cows and selling cream until, at the age of 16, he joined the Marine Corps and served in the U.S. Pacific Fleet as an anti-aircraft gunner, earning the rank of sergeant, and after his discharge in 1948, served in the Marine Corps Reserves until 1950; and

WHEREAS, As a young man, the former Governor was employed as an ironworker and participated in amateur boxing until he continued his military service by joining the Air Force as an intelligence officer, but because he wanted to see action, he transferred to the Army as an infantryman in 1952 and served in the Korean War, during which he lost the lower half of one leg after courageously rescuing soldiers who were cut off from the trenches by enemy action; and

WHEREAS, Following his military service, Mike graduated from the University of Idaho in Moscow, where he not only earned a master's degree and graduated in the top 10 of his class, but also won the heart of Carolyn Randall, and the two were married on August 25, 1954, and dedicated themselves to each other and their children during their marriage of almost 50 years; and

WHEREAS, Heeding his new wife's advice, Mike chose to accept a job as a teacher at Basic High School in Henderson, rather than a position as a principal in Idaho, and the family moved to Nevada in 1956; and

WHEREAS, Upon completion of 5 years of teaching, Mike continued his public service in municipal, state, and federal positions from 1961 to 1969; and

WHEREAS, O'Callaghan was elected Governor of the State of Nevada in 1970 after waging a campaign in which he sought to get in touch literally with the "average man on the street" by greeting motorists on the corners of busy intersections in Las Vegas during blistering heat; and

WHEREAS, As Governor of this State for two terms, O'Callaghan continually fought for the "little man" and accomplished his goal of creating a government that was responsive to the needs of its people by promoting the welfare of disadvantaged children and the mentally ill, creating new agencies to assist senior citizens, consumers and the poor, actively working to preserve the beauty of Lake Tahoe, ensuring affordable housing for all, providing assistance to workers injured on the job and advocating for prison reform, rights for women and laws requiring motorcycle helmets; and

WHEREAS, There is little doubt that he could have won a third term as Governor, but instead he accepted an executive position with the Las Vegas Sun, where he became a popular columnist and an important voice in Nevada, and as Executive Editor, he acted as the conscience of the newspaper; and

WHEREAS, For his extraordinary courage, he was awarded multiple military medals, and a few of the other honors he attained include membership in the Hall of Fame at the University of Idaho, an award from the Nevada Judges Association, the selection by Time Magazine in 1974 as one of 200 promising young Americans, induction into the Nevada Newspaper Hall of Fame, the David L. Simon Bridge Builder for Peace Award and the honor of being nominated shortly before his death to serve on the federal Veterans' Disability Benefits Commission; and

WHEREAS, Outside of the public eye, Mike O'Callaghan conducted himself with honor and compassion, never bringing attention to his quiet acts such as arriving early in the morning at homeless shelters to serve coffee and doughnuts to the poorest of the poor and frequently visiting hospitals to encourage recent amputees; and

WHEREAS, His devotion to the youth of this state inspired the lives of innumerable young people as he actively and ardently supported children in sports throughout his life, took time as Governor to change lives of juvenile offenders by being instrumental in the building of China Spring Youth Camp in Douglas County and Spring Mountain Youth Camp in Las Vegas, and performed random acts of generosity such as graciously hosting, impromptu, in the Governor's Office, a basketball team of underprivileged boys from Hawthorne when they came to play in Carson City; and

WHEREAS, Possibly the most predominant thread intertwining the eulogies offered for former Governor Mike O'Callaghan was the mention that he never succumbed to developing an ego that could so easily have accompanied the prominence he attained, but continually dedicated himself to the service of others in every aspect of his daily life; and

WHEREAS, By the end of his journey, Mike O'Callaghan had become the epitome of the words of the novelist James Michener, who penned fictional sagas that can only rival the real-life story of this great man, a life "decently led and work well done"; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE ASSEMBLY CONCURRING, That the members of the 73rd Session of the Nevada Legislature express their admiration, respect, and veneration for Donal Neil "Mike" O'Callaghan and empathize with the members of his family and all those who feel an emptiness as the result of his loss; and be it further

RESOLVED, That former Governor Mike O'Callaghan will never be forgotten by the people of the state of Nevada, and when he is remembered, the memories will be of a man who proved himself to be an icon to which all can aspire; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Mike's beloved children, Michael O'Callaghan, Colleen O'Callaghan-Miele, Teresa Duke, Brian O'Callaghan, and Tim O'Callaghan.

Assemblyman Perkins moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Perkins, Horne, Buckley, Carpenter, Anderson, Manendo, Hardy, Ohrenschall, and Giunchigliani.

Assemblywoman Ohrenschall requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. Growing up in Henderson, Governor Mike was a figure larger than life for me. First, starting out there before I attended Basic High School, as a teacher there and then as Governor, and in so many other activities that he performed. He was a mentor to all—to me and everyone in Nevada who was willing to have those conversations with him. He always helped young people, loved youth and education, whether it was scholarship programs or just visiting schools and cheering the students on, giving them the desire to do well.

The Governor was a fighter for those who could not fight for themselves. I am sure that is one thing that we all remember about him, among others. His door was always open. It was common to find somebody just right off the street who would come visit the Governor, and as much as somebody off the street, any dignitary might be visiting.

Even though we are here to celebrate the lives of two extraordinary people, it is difficult to celebrate these wonderful folks without having a sense of sadness. I can remember in 1995 a phone rang in my apartment, just a little east of here, at 5:00 a.m. I was thinking, who the heck was calling me at 5:00 a.m.? It was Mike and the phone call went something like this, "Perkins." "Yes, Governor." "You awake?" "Uh, yeah, sure." Understand, he had already been to the gym and had something burning on his mind. How he got my phone number I couldn't tell you. I think my wife was the only other person in the world who had it, but he had his ways. He never hesitated to reach out and to explain something when he saw what he thought was something going wrong in our state.

He was known as Governor Mike because he connected with the common people in our state. That was the way he reached out. That is what he was always known for. He had a number of other names, some of which we cannot share with you on the floor, but all of them were used in a context that was, honestly, very flattering.

The Children's Home, both north and south, was a big battle for him. This Legislature changed that, I think, in the 1995 or 1997 era. He felt very strongly about that and had many disagreements with folks. It was not that the disagreements were there just because he felt differently about it; he just really felt strongly about those kids and wanted them taken care of. It was very important to him.

I remember growing up as a young boy in Henderson, the Boys' Club (it was only a Boys' Club back then), he pretty much started the Boys' Club through the boxing programs that he had. Getting youth involved in sports was a huge passion. I can remember seeing him there when I was just a very small child.

As the Resolution mentioned, he always looked out for the less fortunate. That was his way of really making sure that Nevada was truly a great state, dealing with those less fortunate in Nevada.

He was elected to do two terms. The Nevada Constitution was changed at the same time he was first elected. He could have actually run for as many terms as he wanted, but he chose not to. He did his two terms and said, "It was my time. That is enough." Most certainly he would have been reelected had he sought an additional term or more.

He never hesitated to call and chew on you if he thought you were doing wrong. And you know what, he wasn't looking for you to just roll over and accept what he had to say. In fact, he would probably be very disappointed if that was the way you operated. If you had a difference of opinion and expressed it, he really respected that and always wanted to have that debate. He wanted to make sure the right thing was happening and he wanted to be well-informed.

I remember him telling me a story once about when he used to smoke. There was a hole in his prosthesis and he had tapped the ashes in the hole. Apparently there was some lint in that hole and after tapping a few ashes, a small conflagration occurred in the prosthesis and he had to take it off and put out the fire. The funny thing about that is the fact that he was missing a part of a leg and it was never an impediment for Big Mike. I think it was one of the things that shocked me so much about his passing. He was such a robust person and unless you knew about him, you did not know that he had any sort of handicap whatsoever. In fact, he would never consider it that.

I was talking to Mike O'Callaghan, here at my desk, and he was explaining to me that apparently the loss of the family farm was because the military needed to expand and the base expanded into the area where the farm was located. In this day and age, certainly someone would be very put out by that, but the grandfather apparently thought that was just their duty to this country, allowing it to happen, felt patriotic, and moved on from that area. That is how the farm was apparently left behind.

I practically grew up with a number of the O'Callaghan clan, whether it was Mike at the D.A.'s office and a few of the cases that we dealt with together, or Tim in Henderson at the newspaper, or Colleen on a hundred different Henderson projects, and I learned a lot about both Carolyn and Mike through them. I can tell you, they were so loved by their parents, all the family was. I did not know the rest of them as well, but they were loved by their parents. I had countless conversations with Mike, not as many with Carolyn, but there was not a single conversation about a single topic that the conversation did not turn to the kids and how proud they were of those other children and what they were doing in life. Mike talked to me a lot about Brian and his police service, what Mike was doing at the D.A.'s office, the newspaper was always coming up, and the challenges of a home-town newspaper.

He was always volunteering to do various things, always tapped by the administrations out of Washington, D.C., to do a lot of things having to do with veterans or national and worldwide events, frankly. I know he volunteered to go to Southeast Asia and be a part of that delegation to talk about POWs and MIAs. He dealt with veterans' issues. Another thing that Mike mentioned to me just this afternoon was Big Mike was there to document the free elections that the Kurds held in 1992. But for that action, as part of a region in Iraq, we probably would have lost many more soldiers in this current conflict. It created a sense of belonging, if you will, by the Kurds in that region, and they were much less antagonistic toward our troops in this current conflict.

There are a number of monuments to Big Mike. There is the bridge over the Colorado River that will be coming soon, and I think that speaks a lot to the way he bridged a lot of gaps, whether for the less fortunate, worldwide events, or for so many things.

One other story I would like to share with you was I remember going to see him at the old office in the old Las Vegas Sun. His desk had a pile of paper on it about this high. Every corner of his desk was covered with that much paper. You would walk in and wonder, how could someone so strong in what he believes in, so organized in what he does, so passionate about all the things he believes in, have this kind of a mess on his desk? However, it was not a mess, it was a filing system. You would get into a conversation and he would bring something up asking if you had read about such-and-such, and you would answer, "No, Governor," and he would reach his hand into the middle of that pile and pull out the copy of the newspaper article or something he had read. He knew where everything was on that desk. It was truly amazing.

I spent some time with Mrs. O'Callaghan just after the Governor's passing. I was able to visit their home and have great conversations with her. It is my opinion that she died of a broken heart. They had such a bond. They had such a long relationship. It was more than just being able to complete each other's sentences. They were as one in their relationship. To see the passion that she held continually and that they had for each other was something I think we can and should all learn from. There is no way that Governor Mike could have been the extraordinary person he was without Mrs. O'Callaghan. She was truly the yin to his yang. She was the support system that he always needed, but she was not just a support system. As First Lady she was very active in many of the things that he did and was always there for him and made him a much better person.

I would be remiss if I didn't talk about the Governor's passion for religion. It is widely known that he suffered his heart attack while he was at church. He went to church every day. He was a devout Catholic, but he was also one of those people who was very interested in protecting your freedom of your choice of religion, as well. He spent a lot of time in Israel. In fact, when I met with Brian Greenspun, I asked him to give me the "Readers' Digest version" of why we don't seem to have any possible way of resolving the conflicts between Israel and Palestine, and he said, "If you want that discussion, go see Mike." He was very interested in my religion; your religion, it did not matter. He wanted you to feel comfortable.

I would also be remiss if I did not mention all the time he spent in Latin America. He took a lot of trips down there and he would organize a lot of activities. He would bring doctors and supplies to Latin America for those who were literally dying in the jungles, building shelters to put them in a place to be self-sufficient. He had passions for people all over this world and it was something he pursued forever.

As I finish, Madam Speaker pro Tempore, may I suggest that Nevada lost its two finest public servants it has ever known, and they are people I am proud to call my friends. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of Senate Concurrent Resolution 31. I had one meeting with the Governor. It was before I was elected. I think the meeting lasted maybe two or three minutes. After I took the bar exam and failed, the phone rang at home and it was him. He said, "Sorry you didn't pass the bar. Keep your head up. You'll tackle it." Out of the blue like that. Something like that you will never forget. I thought, "Wow." I had met him months ago that one time, for about two minutes. That was the kind of man he was. He reached out and patted me on the back and said, "Go on, you'll be all right." That was it, and I will always remember.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of SCR 30 and SCR 31. Governor Mike encouraged me to run for office for the first time. I will never forget, after I won and I was in, the phone calls started. I think the first one was right when we were doing the Patient Bill of Rights, and it was much like the Speaker described: "Buckley. Don't let these HMOs win. Keep going. You are right. You'll win. Keep your head up." After the bill passed and he had reported on it he called me up and said, "We have a problem. I got a call from this woman this morning and she has cancer and she was denied surgery. It doesn't make any sense. Will you fix it?" I said, "Absolutely, Governor." He said, "Will you call me today? Will it be done today?" I said, "You know it." Every time Governor Mike called it was my first priority, whether it was calling an HMO executive on my lunch hour or helping someone with a legal problem, because every person he met, every person he touched, he cared about. Whether it was calling a colleague to pat him on the back when they were down, or helping the waitress he met at a restaurant, it did not matter who had a problem, Governor Mike was there to solve it. In all my years of politics if, there is any politician I would like to be and have tried to emulate, it is Governor Mike.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of SCR 30 and 31. I first met Mike O'Callaghan when I was a county commissioner from Elko. I'm sure Mike, being the farm boy that he was, understood the needs of rural Nevada. He was a guy that you just couldn't help but like. He was a compassionate man, but he did not want to waste money either, you know. You helped your fellow man, but you did it in a way that made you proud and made him proud. He was a hands-on Governor and he did not take anything and he would not stand any nonsense from federal agencies.

The thing I remember most is that my children really loved Mike O'Callaghan. My boys were state presidents of the Future Farmers of America and my daughters were presidents of the Future Business Leaders of America. So they got to meet Mike O'Callaghan. In our home we have a series of pictures that depict the lives of our children and my wife and I, and all our friends. There are two or three pictures there of Mike O'Callaghan, when he was Governor, when he invited my boys and my daughters into his office. Every once in a while we get together and look at those pictures and my kids will say, "There's Governor Mike. He invited us in and he treated us just like family." They were so proud to think he had invited them and would talk to them. He was such a great guy.

I think the last time I saw him, and I hadn't seen him for a long time, my wife and I were in Las Vegas going to one of the shows. Mike O'Callaghan was over there in the line and he still remembered me. He got out of the line and we talked. It was great to renew the friendships we had so many years ago. I just want to say something else, as well. In this Resolution, about Mrs. O'Callaghan, it talks about people who are married for a long time and it says something, basically, like we can disagree and we probably do disagree with each other, but when it comes to family, and homes, and the things that are most important, we do not disagree. So, thank you very much, Madam Speaker pro Tempore.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I had really kind of thought to keep quiet. It is against my nature, I guess the Irishman in me just won't let it happen. Many of you are probably aware that I once worked extensively with teachers' organizations and teachers' rights issues. I was once involved in a teacher dismissal case that was of interest to the Governor. The nature of what I had been doing for some time had often required telephone calls to my home. My wife had become somewhat upset about the interruption of dinner and had spoken to me about the fact that dinnertime was important to the kids. My two daughters were very young at the time. She had explained to me that there would be no more telephone calls interrupting dinner, that it just wouldn't happen. I, like any good, bright young man, understood what that meant and readily agreed. The telephone rang a few minutes after dinner began and my wife answered it. She said, "Yes, he'll call you back right after dinner." The person said, "Fine." She took the message and her face turned absolutely dead-white. I thought, "Oh my goodness, there must be something terribly wrong." She hung up the telephone, after having taken the telephone number and message. Clyda, my wife, looked at me and said, "That was the Governor and he wants you to call him right away. You'll call him right away, but you have to finish your dinner first. So, hurry up and eat." I can't believe the size of the portion on my plate went to where it was to half that real quickly. I called the Governor back in a few minutes. He went, "Bernie, it's Governor Mike, and did you finish dinner?" I said, "Yes." And he said, "Are you still in trouble with your wife?"

I guess he recognized, as all of us that are bright enough to recognize do, that you don't want your wife upset with you for too long. Carolyn, clearly, had spoken to Mike about not only his early morning call but those that might be interrupting dinner. Mike O'Callaghan was the kind of caring individual that we wish all of us could be. We all loved him dearly. And those kinds of memories are a lasting memory in my family. It is the kind of question that I think, as my attaché from the university has reminded me of, that highlights the telling line that makes Mike O'Callaghan an "is" and not a "was." He will always be a living person within the hearts of us who knew him. His legacy will be one that we all care about.

ASSEMBLYMAN MANENDO:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of the two Resolutions. Talking about a popular columnist, everyone read Big Mike's column. My father was a hundred percent disabled veteran. My dad couldn't do a whole lot. I never knew my father to be healthy. But my father loved to read Governor Callaghan's articles. He loved them. When I first ran for office and I put in a bill for a veterans' home, Nevada's first veterans' home, the Governor called me up and said, "Why are you doing this? Where do you want to put it, in your district?" And I said, "No. There are several locations, but probably in Boulder City." He already knew the answer. He said, "Okay." The bill actually failed. The next session, however, I brought it forward again and we started having a conversation again. He called and said, "I'm going to help you. I'm going to write a column about it." I said, "I really appreciate that." So we got into a conversation about my father and how he served in the Korean War and how he was disabled. I shared those conversations with my father and it was really touching to me, as the average guy on the street running for office, having such a historic, popular, and beloved individual calling me up and wanting me to come in and see him and talk to him about the issues that were most important to him and the people of the state of Nevada. I was just absolutely awestruck. I just want the family to know that my family and I loved your father, very much. We are sorry for the passing of your mother and father. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. In 1971, I was 21 years old. I was in charge of publicity for a development organization that helped start the Meals on Wheels program, and a program called IUDA for the people in Guatemala. And in that publicity capacity I interacted with Governor O'Callaghan and organized a walk and pledged how much money we would do if we walked. He not only came, but he literally went the extra mile and walked a mile, albeit on his peg leg, with us. It was a great experience to watch how he not only cared, but he walked. He walked, literally, the walk. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of the two Resolutions. Of course we all remember Governor O'Callaghan, First Lady O'Callaghan, and so on, but the recollections that are the strongest and dear are when they retired. They lived not too far from us in southern Nevada, and they were great neighbors. You'd run into Carolyn in the grocery store, doing her own shopping. Mike and Carolyn would give out candy on Halloween. My children, when they were young, loved to go trick-or-treating on Halloween. It was known that the O'Callaghan house gave out very good candy and really looked at the costumes and so on. And Governor Mike, driving by our house every morning on his way to work at the newspaper, would give a friendly wave as he came by. It was just nice to know that you had neighbors like that who cared about the community, were there and interacted with the neighborhood. It was wonderful. It was a real inspiration to everybody in the neighborhood, certainly to my children as they were growing up. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIUNCHIGLIANI:

I had the privilege of trying to represent your mom and dad as the Assemblyperson from their area. I have quite a few stories. My first term as president of the teachers association, I thought I should go meet the right people and your dad was one of the ones I called. He said for me to come on down. I went and we had a very interesting discussion. The Speaker said it correctly; piles were everywhere. We were having a debate already and I was scared to death because I was brand new at all this. After I left the office, he commented to my husband, who I didn't know at the time, "I don't know how she is going to do, but at least she ain't no sissy." I guess that is probably the best compliment I have ever received, especially from Mike. Over the years I relied a great deal on his passion and his knowledge.

Eileen Brookman was your neighbor. After Mike passed away, Carolyn would come by and lie on the bed next to Eileen and they just would sit there and talk back and forth. I think it was comforting for them both at that time. What I always appreciated was, while I was going door to door one day, your dad came out, answering the bell, and said, "I am mad at you." I said, "Okay, do you want to talk about it?" And he said, "Get in the house." He was there with the German Shepherd, I forget the dog's name, and he said, "Bite her." I said, "You must be really mad." The dog came up and started licking me instead, which didn't help matters. We went into the living room and I think, Michael, you came by that day and George Brookman came by to smoke a cigar, and we got into a huge discussion about St. Jude's Children's home. It was six years after we had voted on it and he was still upset with me. We had a great time. You could sit and argue and make your case and as long as you were up front with him that is all he looked for. I think that is what is so key in a public servant. Mike had great expectations for everyone in this Body whether he knew you or not. It was, "Are you going to do the best job that you can? Don't worry about what the polling says, do what is best in your heart, and make it go forward, whether you win or you lose."

All I can say is, between your dad's passion and your mother's compassion, what a wonderful one whole person they made. They gave us a great gift. Thank you, and I also support both Resolutions.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

On the first day of this week, we meet again in this Assembly Chamber. We ask that You hold us steady lest we lose our poise. Blunt our speech lest by cutting words and careless deeds we hurt our colleagues and the cause for which we speak.

Where we differ in approaches to a problem, may we ever be open to consider another and a better way, guided not by whether it's popular, or expedient, or practical, but always whether it be right. Hear our prayer, O Lord, and help us achieve the reason for our coming here at all.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

Save this moment, O God, from being merely a gesture to custom or convenience, and make it a real experience for each one of us in this place, as we call on You for guidance and help. You have admonished us: "When you stand praying, forgive, if you have aught against any." Give us the grace to lay aside all bitterness or resentment we may be nursing in our hearts, lest their acid eat into our peace and corrode our spirits. You have said: "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Give us the grace today to think not of what we can get but of what we can give, that a new spirit may come into our work here, with a new vision and a new purpose, that You will delight and bless. These things we leave in Your hands knowing that You will give us what is best.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 31—Recognizing May as Older Americans Month in Nevada.

WHEREAS, In 1963, President John F. Kennedy established the month of May as “Senior Citizens Month,” which was renamed “Older Americans Month” in 1980, and for the past 42 years, May has been designated as the month during which we acknowledge, as a nation, the extraordinary and varied contributions of older Americans living in the United States; and

WHEREAS, Older Americans are among our greatest treasures and provide us with invaluable links to the past as well as counsel for the future as these vital citizens continue to make significant contributions to our communities, through civic leadership and mentoring, and in our homes, by sharing their wisdom and experience; and

WHEREAS, Today, one in six Americans is 60 years of age or older and, of those 44 million people, almost 400,000 reside in Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The United States is in the midst of a boom in the aging population with people living longer and staying healthier and more active much later in life, and this expanding elder population requires our continued commitment to the goal of ensuring that our senior citizens enjoy active, productive and healthy lives, and do so independently, safely and with dignity; and

WHEREAS, This year marks the 40th anniversary of the passage of the Older Americans Act by the United States Congress, and the Administration on Aging, which was established by that Act, has chosen the theme “Celebrate Long-Term Living” to recognize that people are not only adding years to their lives but life to their years; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the 73rd Session of the Legislature hereby recognizes May as Older Americans Month in Nevada and pays tribute to the older residents of this state for their many contributions to our country, our state, our communities and our families; and be it further

RESOLVED, That all Nevadans are urged to treat older Americans with the respect they deserve and to recognize the responsibility of each of us to ensure that our senior citizens enjoy active, productive and healthy lives as we celebrate and honor the richness and beauty of their many years lived in service to others.

Assemblywoman McClain moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen McClain, Carpenter, and Grady.

Assemblywoman Ohrenschall requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MCCLAIN:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This month marks the 40th anniversary of the Older Americans Act. I would like to relate a few statistics to everybody, and it will hit home to a lot of us.

On July 1, 2004, there were 36.3 million people aged 65 and older in the United States; 4.9 million of these were age 85 and over, and almost 65,000 were over 100 years old. In Nevada, there are nearly 400,000 people 65 and over, and that age group accounts for approximately 21 percent of Nevada's population. By the year 2050, an estimated 86.7 million will be age 65 or over in the United States. This age group will comprise 21 percent of the total population at that time, which translates to a 147 percent increase in the 65 and over population between 2000 and 2050. By comparison, the population of the whole population would have increased by only 49 percent over the same period of time. As you can see, the Baby Boomers are making their impact on the nation and on our state.

A couple of tidbits on baby boomers: by 2015, all Baby Boomers will be 50 and over. The Baby Boom generation runs through births in 1964, which is including a lot of us. Every seven seconds another Baby Boomer turns 50; that is more than 12,000 people each day. In 2011, the Baby Boomer generation will begin turning 65, and by 2030, it is projected that one in five will be 65 or older. The size of the older population is projected to double over the next 30 years to 70 million by 2030. As you can see, it is appropriate that we honor these people in this category. They have given a lot to us over the years. We owe our parents and our veterans a great deal of thanks for the way that they have helped us and raised us.

I am kind of shaking right now, because we did the PEBS budget and I am so glad it is over. I think we fixed that, too, for our Medicare retirees.

In honor of Older Americans Month, and at the request of the Division on Aging, we put together this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

I don't know whether I am really in favor of this resolution or not. When I was 25 I thought, "Boy, those guys who are 75 are sure old." Now that I am darn near 75 I don't feel old at all, so maybe I am going make it to 100. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

I just really like the last part of this, and now I hope that some of us who fit this category will be treated with a little respect. Thank you.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblywoman McClain moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 31 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

By Assemblymen Ohrenschall, Allen, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Atkinson, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Giunchigliani, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hettrick, Hogan, Holcomb, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, McCleary, Mortenson, Munford, Ocegueda, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Pierce, Seale, Sherer, Sibley, Smith, and Weber; Senators Care, Amodei, Beers, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Tiffany, Titus, Townsend, Washington, and Wiener:

Assemblywoman Ohrenschall moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywomen Ohrenschall and Buckley.

Assemblywoman Ohrenschall requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Today we honor in ACR 32 not only a judge, but a man of character, honesty, and dedication. In nearly five decades of public service, Myron Leavitt did just that—he served. He served the public every day, around the clock. He was concerned. There is not anyone I know of who called him who did not get a response or get an opportunity to get to speak with him. He began his public service in 1961 when he was elected Justice of the Peace in Las Vegas. From there, he continued to serve the public as a Clark County Commissioner in Las Vegas, City Councilman, Lieutenant Governor, Las Vegas District Court Judge, and Justice of the Supreme Court.

His professional accomplishments include establishing the first medical coroner system in Clark County, establishing the first night court for small claims, leading the drive to build the Dula Senior Citizen's Center, and establishing a sheriff's substation in the southeastern part of the valley in Clark County. Tributes from his friends and family reveal the personal side of Justice Myron Leavitt. A boyhood friend described him as an honest, caring young man with integrity. Others have echoed the same tributes, describing him as generous, kind, dedicated, a role model with quick wit and sense of humor, a true friend. I connect with that when I think of Myron Leavitt. I think of a wonderful friend and a wonderful neighborhood, someone who always had the time to discuss my problems, whether they were with my family or whether they concerned an upcoming election cycle. He was there to give advice and he never said no.

As for his family, I know he was a beacon for his family. He was Shirley's husband for 49 years, a father to 11 children, and a grandfather to 34. He enjoyed sports. In high school, he won the Nevada state championship in the 100- and 220-yard dashes, forever claiming he was the fastest man in the state. He was competitive, but compassionate. He continued his involvement in sports by coaching children, including his own, in Little League baseball, junior football, and Bobby Sox softball. Following his footsteps, five of his children became lawyers. He guided his family with loving advice. He advised his daughters, "Don't marry a lawyer, be a lawyer." His daughter Debbie did both. His daughter Michelle, a district judge now, sits in the district court her father had previously served in.

Myron was the greatest example in the world of helping others. When you think about the tremendous sacrifice that his own son made for him, his son was following the example his father had set. He was a loving husband, guiding father, a true steward of the community. The people he served and cared for will forever benefit from his personal and professional legacy. So will the entire state of Nevada. This legacy that began with honesty and integrity will carry on through the state, through his children, and what they are giving to the state.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I just wanted to add the rest of the Assembly's thanks to the Leavitt family. We loved Myron Leavitt. We loved what he stood for, his decision, and how much compassion he had for everyday Nevadans. The thousands of people who came to the memorial service showed how much of an impact he had on all our lives. So, we thank you for sharing Myron with us. He has left a legacy we will never forget.

Assemblywoman Giunchigliani moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Giunchigliani and Arberry.

Assemblywoman Ohrenschall requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GIUNCHIGLIANI:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This resolution does not really capture the individual who was described. For those of you who did not know Eileen Brookman, she was feisty, kind, compassionate, said it just the way she felt it, and was just a tremendous asset to this state.

Unfortunately, the last paragraph here, we cannot forward it to George because we lost George three weeks ago, unfortunately. So Deborah is the family member who is left, and I will take this down to her.

A little bit about Eileen: Besides what was in here, she was my mentor. When she decided, after Michael, her son, was declared having to have a heart transplant, she made the decision to not seek reelection, even though she had already filed. She called me and said, "Listen, you've been going door to door for me, more than I have. I think it is time for you to run for office." She gave me all the support and encouragement. I was privileged to follow a very strong woman who did all the things that were talked about here, and more. Too often we forget that there are pioneers, no matter what. You have to break certain barriers that come about. I still remember Eileen telling me this story. I think at the time Senator Jacobsen was Speaker, and he refused to allow her on the floor because she had pants on. She said, "Listen, my husband doesn't tell me what to wear; you're not going to tell me what to wear." She led a protest, and the women began to be able to wear pantsuits. And that was not that long ago. That was in the 1960s, as far as that was concerned.

Another one that she gets tagged with that we laugh about, but which is absolutely key, is that we do not pay to go to the bathroom in the state of Nevada. There had been a piece of legislation that had passed one year that you had to pay in public restrooms. Eileen had landed at the airport and was in the restroom talking to a mom with two kids who was pregnant. The kids were scared and the mom was telling them to crawl under the door because she did not have any change. The little girl was crying. And the mother said she could not get under the door. Eileen said, "Oh, my god." She got the door open for the woman, but she came back after that weekend and introduced a bill to repeal the law that made you pay in public restrooms. You do not pay in public restrooms anymore. She said, "How can you do that to a family?" It kind of just woke her up, and she said, "Oh my heavens. Look at what we did that we thought didn't have any impact." They repealed that.

Those are the type of things that affect lives every day, that we sometimes forget, that we all do. All of you in here do those little things that make a difference in someone's life. Eileen Brookman did that. She became a dear, dear friend. I had gone to her bedside within a week of her passing, actually. We were sitting there and Carolyn O'Callaghan was lying on the bed and Brian came in. It was just kind of everyone chatting away and talking. George was hanging in there and he was not feeling real well himself. Eileen was still, "Hey, where's my lavender pillow?" "What lavender pillow?" She would say, "Didn't I call you and tell you to go and buy me one?" Eileen was famous for that. She said say, "Oh, you're going to the grocery store? While you're going, buy me some bananas and drop them by." That was Eileen Brookman. She always did that. And everyone would do that for her. You didn't even question it when you got the phone message.

That day, Eileen was just reminiscing about life with the O'Callaghans. She and George really were the O'Callaghans' neighbors, best friends, and I think allowed Mike O'Callaghan to be as successful as he was because they took the family into their home when he was Governor, because he did not have enough money for housing at that time. They put them up. People do not realize how much support the Brookmans actually gave to the O'Callaghans. Their closeness was just incredible.

Finally, the pleasure and opportunity that I had to meet her was greatly felt. She never left this Body. She watched everything that was going on. During the second special session last session, I came into my office. It had been a grinding day. We all know what that was like. And I found a phone message and it just said, "Chris, hang in there. You're doing the right thing." That is the type of person she was. I honor her. She was thrilled to have a school named after her. We were just as excited in the neighborhood to put that together for her. Her legacy will live on in that way. Eileen Brookman was truly a queen, in her own little way.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

I just wanted to say a few words to this Body about Eileen Brookman. I had the honor to serve with her for quite a few sessions. She used to sit on the left side, third seat. Before we all had this modern technology, when you needed to get the Speaker's attention, you had to hold your microphone up in the air. As you know, Eileen was a very little lady, and one day

Mr. Speaker did not see her and did not recognize her, so Mrs. Brookman got on the top of her desk and yelled at the Speaker, and said, "Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker, you better let me speak." I tell you, she was always a little character.

I will share a couple of more things before I sit down, Mr. Speaker. When we were trying to get the Martin Luther King holiday approved for this state, Eileen Brookman saw Senator Raggio coming down the hall. She saw him, walked up to him, fell down on her knees and said, "Senator, would you please, please, when the bill comes over from our House, pass the bill on the Dr. Martin Luther King holiday." He was so moved, as you see, it is a holiday today.

The last thing, Mr. Speaker. As a new person chairing the committee on Health and Human Services back in the day, Eileen Brookman was on my committee. Back then you were allowed to smoke in the Chambers and in the committee rooms. Well, I did not smoke. That was before the cigars. But I did not smoke. I was sitting in committee and I was the only committee chair that did not allow smoking in the committee hearing room. Well, Mrs. Brookman was a strong smoker, worse than Marvin Sedway. So, one day, I was sitting in a hearing, and Mrs. Brookman got up and walked out to the audience and fired up a cigarette. She looked at me and said, "Mr. Chairman, I don't care what you say, I'm smoking." I said, "Mrs. Brookman, put that cigarette out. Put that cigarette out." She did not put the cigarette out. I adjourned the meeting. That is how feisty she was.

She was a great, great lady. When she had a belief, she fought it to the end. I will always miss her because I was one of her little babies even though I am what I am. She will always be missed. I have a lot of respect for her and just wanted to share this with this Body. There were fun times here and some great things, and she was part of that.

Resolution adopted.

By Senators Amodei, Beers, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Tiffany, Titus, Townsend, Washington, and Wiener; Assemblymen Grady, Allen, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Atkinson, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Giunchigliani, Goicoechea, Hardy, Hettrick, Hogan, Holcomb, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, McCleary, Mortenson, Munford, Ocegueda, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Perkins, Pierce, Seale, Sherer, Sibley, Smith, and Weber:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 37—Congratulating the Virginia City High School boys' basketball team for winning the 2005 Nevada Interscholastic Activities Association 1A State Basketball Championship.

WHEREAS, Excitement and tension were at their peak on Saturday, February 26, 2005, as Mich McDowell of the Virginia City Muckers made the game-winning shot in the last 5 seconds of play to lift the Muckers to a 63 to 61 victory over the Lake Mead Eagles in the Nevada Interscholastic Activities Association (NIAA) 1A boys state basketball championship game at the Orleans Arena in Las Vegas; and

WHEREAS, Virginia City has a strong tradition of basketball, and teams through the years have won 17 state titles, by far the most in the history of Nevada, with 6 state titles between 1962 and 1967, and an amazing winning streak of 93 games and five state championships between 1982 and 1986; and

WHEREAS, Individual members of this year's winning team were presented with awards for First Team All-Division, Second Team All-Division and Honorable Mention, as well as two sportsmanship awards; and

WHEREAS, The championship team, consisting of Nathan Adaki, Cory Dacha, Zack Dotson, Miles Lugo, Kevin Lynch, Mich McDowell, Chad Sprong, Sam Turman and Andy Wilson, not only proved its excellence on the basketball court, but also won the 1A State Academic title with a 3.72 team grade point average; and

WHEREAS, The Muckers have consistently been supported, inspired and cheered on by the people of the historic mining town of Virginia City and, with the aid of manager Skyler Jones, were led to this year's victory by Coach Hector Buchianeri, who was awarded Coach of the Year, and Assistant Coach, Deny Dotson; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE ASSEMBLY CONCURRING, That the members of the 73rd Session of the Nevada Legislature do hereby extend their congratulations to the Virginia City High School boys' basketball team for winning the NIAA 1A State Basketball Championship; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the achievements of the members of the Muckers basketball team in the areas of academics and athletics are recognized as an example for their schoolmates and all young people of Nevada as they strive for excellence in their lives; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Todd Hess, Principal and Athletic Director of Virginia City High School, and to Coach Hector Buchianeri.

Assemblyman Grady moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Grady, Anderson, and Hardy.

Assemblywoman Ohrenschall requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

As stated in the Resolution, there is a rich history and pride on the Comstock for high school basketball. These young men were not born when the last state title game came to the Comstock. The tradition of state championship is not only dreamed of in Virginia City, it is expected. Back in the days of the great Jake Lawlor and Hugh Gallagher Sr. and winning streaks of 93 games, 55 games, 45 games, are past legends that these young men hear about all year long. Family names like Coach Lyle Damon, the Andreasens, the Gallaghers, the Gladdings, the Hesses, and the McBrides, have all brought pride to the Comstock during these past 17 state championships.

When Fred Gladding was coach, there was a 93-game winning streak, and the now-principal, Todd Hess, was part of the long tradition. All 17 autographed basketballs on the shelf at the Ponderosa are now joined by number 18. As important as bringing the state championship trophy home is the fact that this team also won the 1A state academic title with a 3.72 grade point average.

Mr. Speaker, I had the pleasure and the honor to referee some of those earlier games in history-making places, like the Gabbs Tarantulas, the Fernley Vaqueros, the Smith Valley Bulldogs, and many others, and I can tell you, whenever you went to a Virginia City game, there was a very high intensity, but these young men were always taught that they had to be gentlemen, because they not only represented their team, their school, and their city, most importantly, they represented their families. It is truly my honor to welcome the team here today for this Resolution. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

I wish to rise in support of the Resolution. Clearly the long tradition of the Muckers is one that anyone who lives here in the northern part of the state has had an opportunity to observe. I am always thankful that they are in the 1A so that I don't have to worry about my Raiders at Reed having to face the onslaught of the backboard from such a distinguished team. The Railroaders at Sparks are happy that you are not in their league, and I know the Hawks at Hug are equally concerned. We are happy that you are in the 1A and we hope you stay there because, like the Hoosiers from Indiana, we know you are capable of taking the State. I rise in support of the Virginia City Muckers.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

Likewise, I rise in support of SCR 37. I grew up in the Reno area during the legend of Virginia City High School basketball. One of the highlights of my life, in basketball, was when the Virginia City Muckers came to Sparks High School and taught us how to play basketball. They did not do it during a game, they did it during practice. I was always grateful that they never played us, but I was thrilled that they always beat Reno High and the other high schools that liked to try and beat us, too. It is an honor to be in this Body and be able to recognize such a tradition of truly the best sport in the world.

Resolution adopted.

CARSON CITY (Thursday), May 12, 2005

Assembly called to order at 11:10 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

O God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come, our shelter from the stormy blast, and our eternal home. In this day that You have made, help us to appreciate its beauty and to use its opportunities rightly. Deliver us, we pray, from the tyranny of trifles. May we give our best thought and attention to what is important, that we may accomplish something worthwhile. Teach us how to listen to Your promptings, and save us from floundering in indecision that wastes time, subtracts from our peace, divides our efficiency, and multiplies our troubles. These things we ask from Him who delights to answer prayers.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, May 12, 2005

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolutions Nos. 38, 39, and 40.

MARY JO MONGELLI

Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

By Senators Titus, Amodei, Beers, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Tiffany, Townsend, Washington, and Wiener; Assemblymen Parks, Allen, Anderson, Angle, Arberry, Atkinson, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Giunchigliani, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hettrick, Hogan, Holcomb, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, McCleary, Mortenson, Munford, Ocegüera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Perkins, Pierce, Seale, Sherer, Sibley, Smith, and Weber:

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 38—Expressing support for international education and foreign exchange student programs.

WHEREAS, International education is a crucial component of higher education in Nevada which contributes to the economy of the State and to a diverse college environment, and enhances both academic and cocurricular programs; and

WHEREAS, Because tourism and foreign trade are key sectors projected to improve Nevada's economic future in the next decade, it is critical that this State promote mutual understanding between Nevadans and citizens of other countries through international education programs at its colleges and universities; and

WHEREAS, The foundation of international education is the exchange of students and scholars from other countries, and proof that Nevada is committed to encouraging students from other countries to study in this State is evidenced by the fact that in the 2002-2003 academic year Nevada ranked third among the "Mountain States" region, consisting of Colorado, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, in numbers of international students, with 2,702 such students enrolled in its colleges and universities; and

WHEREAS, Because, as the fastest-growing State in the nation, Nevada draws many new immigrants who bring with them their diverse talents and perspectives, Nevada's institutions of higher learning must provide the necessary skills, knowledge and training for them to be successful citizens, as well as provide all students with the opportunity to acquire the intercultural skills to interact effectively within a multicultural context; and

WHEREAS, International education includes curricular offerings that teach foreign languages, address global issues and provide in-depth understanding of other cultures, utilizes citizens of other countries in formal and informal settings as teaching resources, and recognizes that the development of new knowledge, the best research and technological breakthroughs require international collaboration; and

WHEREAS, With today's increasingly complex international trade relations, concern for the preservation of our global ecology and the constant goal of world peace, the promotion and support of international education becomes increasingly important to our national security, foreign policy, economic competitiveness and capacity for tolerance; and

WHEREAS, Former President Clinton issued an Executive Memorandum on International Education on April 19, 2000, in which he called upon educational institutions, state and local governments, nongovernmental organizations and the business community to contribute to a coherent and coordinated international education strategy that "will help us meet the twin challenges of preparing our citizens for a global environment while continuing to attract and educate future leaders from abroad"; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE ASSEMBLY CONCURRING, That the Nevada Legislature hereby recognizes that the international students and scholars of this State contribute significantly to the cultural diversity of Nevada's educational institutions and, through their representation, they enhance the educational experience of all students while making important contributions, and thereby supports the participation of Nevada's students, teachers, administrators and educational policymakers in international studies, international exchange programs and other activities that advance cultural awareness and promote mutual understanding and respect for the citizens of other countries; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Nevada's colleges and universities are encouraged to:

1. Develop courses of study in as many fields as possible to increase students' understanding of global issues and cultural differences;
2. Further develop courses in foreign languages to prepare students to seek careers in a global marketplace and enhance their understanding of other nations' values;
3. Provide opportunities for students in all majors to participate in programs to study abroad to enrich their academic training, intercultural perspectives and personal development;
4. Provide opportunities for domestic and international students to interact effectively and routinely to share their views, perceptions and experiences; and
5. Develop innovative public educational forums and venues to explore global issues and showcase world cultures; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the importance of international education and foreign exchange student programs can be summed up in a statement made by former Secretary of State Colin Powell on November 11, 2003, in commemoration of International Education Week, sponsored by the United States Department of State and Department of Education to celebrate the benefits of international education and exchange worldwide: "International education, learning about other cultures and languages through study, living overseas, and interacting with people of other countries, promotes the free exchange of ideas, allows us to seek joint solutions to problems, and helps create lasting partnerships to meet our shared concerns"; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Chancellor of the University and Community College System and each member of the Board of Regents.

Assemblyman Parks moved the adoption of the resolution.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson and Grady.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

I first heard of Mr. Nelson when I took a job as a keno writer to put myself through college. I worked for a guy called Reginald “Arkie” Parker and he had worked for Mr. Nelson at the Palace. The opportunity to meet Mr. Nelson was very important to us. At the time, keno cards had to be handwritten. I still have a callus on my hand from holding a keno brush and the India ink that had to be used to handwrite every one. The opportunity to copy accurately was an important part of the game. Warren set the standard that keno writers tended to be college kids from the University and he preferred to hire college kids for two simple reasons: 1. He believed that they had a future and were trying to get through college and therefore their reputation was something of value to them and they were less likely to steal from the casino; and 2. He wanted to further their education. He wanted to make sure they could get through school and it was not unusual for him to make sure, at his casino, and the people who learned the keno game from him, would look for those kids. I have great memories of working with those students. There are members of the State Supreme Court who came through this system and many teachers and attorneys who benefited from this good-hearted style of employment and gaming.

I always admired how much effort Warren put into the betterment of higher education in Nevada. Not only did he serve on the Board of Regents for the University System, he also worked to open a law school at the University of Nevada, Reno. We had one at one time called Old College Law School. It later closed, as we moved to a better college in the south. Warren also donated $2.2 million to Carroll College in Helena, Montana, funding an endowment for 50 scholarships to the Catholic school. As much as he loved to donate time and money, he also spent energy trying to get young people to attend college. One young person worked at Warren’s ranch. This young man happened to be dyslexic and had to be persuaded quite extensively. Eventually he enrolled at the University of Nevada, Reno, and it was because of Warren’s continued encouragement that he eventually graduated.

When Warren Nelson came to Nevada in 1936 to run keno, it looked a lot different from the community in which we now live. Many of the changes that came about in this community are because of the personal worth and time that Warren Nelson put into his community and the encouragement of people to become involved in this community. I want to be among the first to say that as well as being a gaming pioneer, he was big-hearted with his community giving, reaching into his own pocket and taking the dime out to encourage people. A dime and a dollar was never far from his heart. He is one of those gaming pioneers that unfortunately do not seem to exist anymore. So, I encourage my colleagues to join me in adopting this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

I also had the privilege of working for Mr. Nelson. He was a very kind gentleman, and a gentleman in every sense of the word. When I started my banking career, he would always come into the bank and make it a point to speak to everyone in the bank, not as a person who was above them, but as a person who was with them and truly wanted to know how you were doing. He would always discuss his love of hunting with many of us. I would like to personally offer my condolences to the family.

Resolution adopted.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Perkins, Buckley, and Hettrick:

Assembly Resolution No. 6—Establishing an Assembly Wall of Distinction.

WHEREAS, Certain past members of the Assembly have distinguished themselves with their exemplary contributions to the State of Nevada in their public service to its residents and in their professional and private lives; and

WHEREAS, Public service in our “citizen legislature” is a noble calling and the demands of legislative responsibilities often require giving beyond the call of duty with long hours dedicated to the study, discernment and enactment of laws which will ensure security and justice for all Nevadans; and

WHEREAS, Those members of the Assembly whose ability, virtue and dedication have been exceptional deserve the acknowledgment of their colleagues, as well as the appreciation of those they represent; and

WHEREAS, The Assembly of the Legislature of the State of Nevada wishes to recognize the contributions of those past members of the Assembly who served with great distinction, and whose vision, leadership and accomplishments are exceptional models for service in the Nevada Legislature; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That there is hereby established an Assembly Wall of Distinction to honor those past members of the Assembly whose service has been exceptional and who are selected by the Assembly leadership to be acknowledged for their exemplary contributions to the State of Nevada.

Assemblyman Perkins moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Perkins and Hettrick.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I think, as you see what goes on down the hall with the Senate’s recognition of those members who have served with great honor and distinction, it is long overdue that we have a similar type of recognition in this House, although I think we would all agree that most of the members of the People’s House have served with greater humility than they do down the hall. It is still with great honor that I think we should recognize our own, those who have truly led this state for many, many years and have served the state well.

Oftentimes, I’ve had conversations with new members about walking into these Chambers and having Abraham Lincoln oversee the proceedings and how, after my tenure here, I am still in great awe, every time we walk into these Chambers, about the responsibility we bear and the responsibility we owe to the citizens of this state. So, it is truly my belief that it is long overdue and appropriate to create our own wall, to recognize these who came before us and have served this state with great pride and in appropriate ways, people we have looked to for many, many years for guidance, and hopefully we will continue to have that tradition for many, many years. For those reasons, I urge your support of Assembly Resolution No. 6.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of Assembly Resolution No. 6. First, I do want to thank the Speaker for asking that we participate together and do this. I thought it was very appropriate and I thank him for that. I do think it is important for us to recognize the folks who have served here, with distinction. To recognize them by putting them out there for all to see is an appropriate thing. I am proud to rise in support of this resolution and urge my colleagues' support.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

By Assemblymen Perkins, Buckley, and Hettrick:

Assembly Resolution No. 7—Adding Joseph E. Dini, Jr., to the Assembly Wall of Distinction.

WHEREAS, The Assembly of the Legislature of the State of Nevada has established an Assembly Wall of Distinction for those past members selected by leadership who served with great distinction and who made exemplary contributions to the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, Joseph E. Dini, Jr., served the Nevada Assembly, the “people’s house” of the Legislature, with great skill, integrity, leadership and fairness as its Speaker for an unprecedented 16 years, from 1977 to 1978 and 1987 to 2000, and as a member for a record 36 years; and

WHEREAS, Joe Dini’s record-setting service in the Assembly is a legacy that will endure over future years, decades and centuries and that rightly earned him the ongoing designations of “Speaker Emeritus” and “State Assemblyman 1”; and

WHEREAS, Joe Dini represented the very fabric of the legislative institution and will forever be remembered for his diligent efforts to guide Nevada in its transition from a small western state to the most vibrant and rapidly growing state in the nation; and

WHEREAS, Joe Dini was a recognized expert on numerous issues important to both rural and urban areas of the State, including the management of Nevada’s precious water resources, public education, arts, cultural affairs and historic preservation, and the protection of the clear waters of Lake Tahoe through an Interstate Compact between Nevada and California; and

WHEREAS, The people and government of the State of Nevada were incredibly fortunate to have been served faithfully and led with great vision by “Mr. Speaker” Joseph E. Dini, Jr.; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That Speaker Joseph E. Dini, Jr., who dedicated much of his life to the service of the people of the State of Nevada as the longest serving Speaker and member of the Nevada Assembly, is hereby added to the Assembly Wall of Distinction.

Assemblyman Perkins moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Perkins, Buckley, Hettrick, Grady, Marvel, Anderson, Arberry, Leslie, and Ohrenschall.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making remarks.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Certainly, as we create this Wall of Distinction, there is no greater person to be the first inductee than Joseph E. Dini, Jr. The resolution speaks in small part of some of the things Speaker Dini did and accomplished and all the reasons why we are so respectful of his service. I thought it would be interesting as well to share a little bit of his biography with this Body.

Joseph E. Dini, Jr., was born in Yerington, Nevada. His parents were Giuseppe and Elvira Costaloni Dini, immigrants to America in the early 1900s from an area in Tuscany in Italy. Joe obviously attended schools in Yerington and went on to the University of Nevada, graduating from there. There was long service to the family business at Dini's Lucky Club. Joe was first elected to public office in 1966, when he won election to this very House, serving in the Old Chambers. Some of you may remember our sojourn over there earlier this year.

Joe was a legislative leader on many fronts. In 1973, he was selected to serve as the Speaker pro Tempore under then-Speaker Keith Ashworth. In 1975, he was elevated to Majority Floor Leader. In 1977, he was elected to his first term as Speaker in the Assembly. Speaker Dini served as Minority Leader in 1985, and in 1987 was again elected Speaker of the Assembly and remained in that role through the 1999 Session. In 1995, Speaker Dini was co-Speaker with Assemblyman Hettrick. It was an interesting time for those of you who remember. In fact, as much as that session was doomed for failure because of the evenly split House, I attribute largely to Joe and to Lynn the success of that session that many remember.

Joe was a leader on many issues affecting Nevada. He helped draft the Nevada Plan in 1967, an education revenue equity formula, dozens of water bills, chaired two legislative studies, served on the Western States Water Council, chaired the Water Policy Committee for the Council of State Governments for about a decade, worked with other Nevada and California legislators to hammer out the redrafting of the bi-state Tahoe Regional Planning Compact. I could go on, and on, and on. The accomplishments of Joe Dini are very distinguished and very well known. There are probably others that I have missed that he would like to be recognized for because they were such a big part of his life, as he served 36 years in this House.

When I first got elected, before I came to Carson City, I had actually been here a couple of times to visit and watch the legislation that was ongoing then. I was always in awe of Joe. He was always so quiet and walked around these halls with such dignity. He was the epitome of a statesman. In 1995, he made me his Floor Leader. There was a quip by a southern Nevada political pundit about how Joe Dini could pluck this obscure cop from Henderson and thrust him into the role of Floor Leader. I will always be indebted and grateful for that opportunity. When I came here, my first session working with Joe, I knew I was working with history. He was setting history every day he was here. I think as we look back at that, as the history books are written about the State of Nevada, they will always include the work of Joe Dini.

No one could ask for a better mentor. His teaching style, his steady hand, his approach to life, and his approach to implementing his love of this great state could not have been better. I also attribute, for those of you who have watched the evolution of the Assembly Democrats from the mid-1980s until the 1990s and the successes that were seen there, a lot of that to Joe. He was able to balance the business community, the labor community, northern Nevada, southern Nevada, rural Nevada in a way I have never seen anyone else accomplish. He taught me and prepared me for the job I now hold. He created the transition on his own accord in 2001. If I could sum up my relationship with Joe, it would be tell you, without equivocation, that I consider him a surrogate father to me. Joe, we miss your steady hand, your institutional knowledge, and so much more that you provided for this House. You are obviously the longest-serving member.

One little story I can share. We were having a tribute to Speaker Dini in Reno once and there was a great, big map of Nevada, with Yerington right smack in the middle. Every road in Nevada led to Yerington. That was symbolic of Joe's service here and basically getting every road in Yerington paved. It created this aura that Nevada kind of revolved around Yerington because of Joe's service and his efforts.

I hope that when I leave this Legislature, I am thought of as someone who contributed in a positive way to this process, that I was a good Speaker. I know that the only thing I have to do to accomplish that is to emulate just a small part of what you meant to this Body and what you mean to our great state. I will always be thankful for what I have learned from you and our relationship we have always had. You will always be known in Nevada as Mr. Speaker. Thank you for your service to the state.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of this resolution. Speaker Dini knew so much about so many issues: water, insurance, education. He knew every bill, he knew the history of every bill, he knew the story behind every bill, he knew what bills were good, which bills were not, who wanted what and why, and whether it was good for the state of Nevada. He oversaw a transition. I do not know if I can imagine what this Body was like 36 or 34 or 30 years ago. But the stories I hear—business being done in Jack's Bar, smoking—it just conjures up kind of a good ol' boy, rough and tumble Nevada. He oversaw the transition to what we are today. In those days, women did not have a powerful role in running the Assembly. Under Speaker Dini, we had women chairing committees, having a leadership role. When I came in 1995, it was a historic time, being tied. Right before Speaker Dini and Minority Leader Hettrick patched things up, it was not so smooth. The Assembly Republicans had a caucus and declared themselves in the majority because there were two election challenges, one against Jan Evans and one against the current Speaker pro Tempore. So, Speaker Dini called me up and said, "Hey, you are a lawyer, right?" I said yes. "Well, we have got our first job for you." So I worked with Bob Sader, who was the outgoing chair of Judiciary, and the Speaker. We made an argument that you cannot take someone's seats away from them without due process by saying they don't have their seats. Secretary of State Heller caved, issued the certificates of election, and Lynn and Joe went on to run one of the smoothest sessions in history.

My point to that story is that Speaker Dini did not know me, gave me a chance to work on something exciting, and promoted me to Leadership with Speaker Perkins. He gave me every chance that I have. Of all the people I have learned things from during my ten years in the Assembly, I learned from Joe Dini more than anyone else. Here is a couple of things I learned. You do not have to talk loudly to get your point across. Joe sometimes would not say anything for six committee meetings, and then he would speak and everyone would listen, because he spoke when he had something to say, and he spoke with such authority and conviction that it carried the day. Whether or not you were with him or not, it carried the day. He taught me that you can be a Democrat and appreciate the business community. What is ironic is the speeches he gave me my first two sessions about calming down and working with people more. I now give those speeches to freshmen. I find it quite ironic to be giving those speeches, especially when I see the faces of some freshmen, like, "What are you talking about? I am right." They are all ready to go. I feel like Speaker Dini when he was giving those speeches. The irony is not lost on me whatsoever. He once said to me, "The best thing you can do in this building is to be a mechanic. Know what is in a bill, know how to take it apart, and know how to put it together again so it will run." That sums up Joe Dini. He knew this process backwards and forwards. He will have forgotten more than most of us will learn. I hope for the freshmen and sophomores who did not have an experience with working with Joe Dini, give him a call. You probably could learn more from that phone call than you could your whole first session. We miss you. We thank you. We do not know how you did 36 years, but the state is so much more the better for it, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of Assembly Resolution No. 7. It would simply be totally remiss of me not to stand up here and tell Speaker Dini what a true honor it was to serve with him and has been to serve with him in this House, both as an Assemblyman and as a co-Speaker. He was always fair. He always treated me absolutely equally to everyone else. It was something I always appreciated about him, that he was fair. I remember going to him one time and talking to him about a bill I had. He said, "I really do not like that bill very much." And I said, "Well, I have the votes." He said, "If you have the votes, you have got the bill, but I am going to fight it." And indeed, I had the votes. He took the vote and the bill passed, but he was fair. He treated me the same as everyone else. I truly appreciated that. I think I would be totally remiss if I did not say that a great deal of his success—and, I know, of mine—when we had that 1995 co-Speaker session, has to be attributed to Mouryne, who was the Chief Clerk. She made us look good and has always made this Body, through her service here, look good. Another person with many, many years of service to this House, all of that to the benefit of the state of Nevada. I am proud to rise in support of this.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, also, rise in support of Assembly Resolution No. 7. First off, I would like to really thank his leadership. If you talk to anyone from District 38, and I do not care where you go, if it's to Virginia City, or Gold Hill, or Yerington, or Silver Springs, you mention Joe Dini and it is like a ticket to the Super Bowl. You are respected because you know Joe Dini. Some of the things that were mentioned here, the Speaker mentioned the paved roads in Yerington, I think one of the things we are most proud of is the Six Mile Canyon paved road. Everyone remembers that. Joe has the distinction of having four sons; two of them are in business with him. One of them, his son George, probably runs one of the finest restaurants in Yerington, if not all of Lyon County. It is named after Joe's father, Giuseppe's. I would encourage you to stop by Dini's Lucky Club. It is a great place. I served as mayor in Yerington and used to go to Joe quite often and ask his advice. When I decided I would run for this office and I was elected, the first person I went to was Joe. "What should I do?" He said, "Remember one thing: God gave you one mouth and two ears. And there's a reason for that." Joe, I thank you. The people of District 38 thank you. Mouryne, thank you, too. We just appreciate what you two have done for Nevada. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of the resolution. It was just such a pleasure sitting with Joe all those years, from 1979 to the time he elected not to run again. He certainly has been sorely missed. But if you can say one thing about Joe, he is Mr. Nevada. I think he has done everything. I think he was fair. As the resolution says and the Speaker said, he was fair to everybody. It did not make a difference what party you were from or what your interest was, Joe took it and sorted out all the facts. If something was good, he went for it, regardless of what the partisanship was.

I remember my first session here. I was on Government Affairs when Joe was Chairman. We had one of the other honorees on that committee, Lou Bergevin. Lou sat at one end of the table, and I sat at the other. He were are, two Republicans, and Joe the Democrat, and if he wanted a vote killed he would nod at either one of us. We took on that responsibility. One thing I would like to say, Joe, is that you did a tremendous job in picking your mate there. I might say if we ever have a Wall of Distinction for Chief Clerks, I certainly would nominate Mouryne. Joe, it is great to have you here today, and wish you all the luck and health in the world.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I am really at a loss to say something about Speaker Emeritus Dini. The first time that I came down to Carson City to lobby on an education bill, I spent a day and a half trying to figure out what Joe Dini's first name was, because in the Italian neighborhood I grew up in, people had names like Romaciotti and Cicarelli. I naturally thought that Joe Dini was his last name. The reality is that we honor the Speaker for many different reasons, but for me, it is the integrity of the man that he is, and has always been that he stands for. It is not his longevity as Speaker or the length of time that he has been here, but the integrity with which he served while he was here. It was his vision and his foresight that makes him the distinctive person that he is. His caring nature, his willingness to listen and to work out whatever problem you have and his advice to me, besides, "You ought to sit and shut up," has always been important. There are many funny stories I think we, all of us, can tell about Speaker Dini, but probably the one for me that has always been the most important when he told me it would be a good idea to visit the museum, rather than go back to my office and listen to three or four lobbyists push me around on a particular piece of legislation. Strangely enough, when I came back from visiting the museum, they had worked out their problem by themselves. They did not need me. His advice was sage advice, if we had the courage to listen and follow. It was always helpful. For that, I am most greatly grateful, Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I was not going to say anything, because I knew there were going to be a quite a few who have served with the Speaker, but I thought I would say something and share with this Body a couple of stories about the Speaker and myself. There was a time when everyone, like the Speaker, said that all roads lead to Yerington. As a fresh person, being Chair of Ways and Means, Joe had a bill to put in a road to go somewhere. I do not have a clue today. It was very hard for me to be the chair of Ways and Means and tell the Speaker no. He would come to me and say, "You going to pass my bill?" I would say no. He would come back and I would say, "No." So then, one day I had to line up the votes to kill the Speaker's bill. So we killed his bill. He said, "That is okay." Then he went over to the Senate. This was when I really started learning. He was testing me, and I knew that was what it was about. He put the road in a bill in the Senate. And he hid it way in the back of the bill. Chris and I, we were going through the bills one day and said, "The Speaker has gone and hid that road in the back of this bill." He was determined to get this road to Yerington. I tell you, Mr. Speaker, I appreciate and respect you making me do my homework and making sure we read the bills.

That was one of the issues. His passion is that in our community we had some sinking homes one time. Everybody in that development, all the homes were sinking. I went to the Speaker and went to the chairman at the time, Marvin Sedway. I spoke to them about the issue because the people living in this area were elderly or retired. They could not afford to just get up and move and go somewhere else. Between the Speaker and Marvin, they called the Governor's Office and requested the State jet. We were going to go down there and take a look. I thought that was really, really admirable. We left here and flew down. They walked around in these folks' home. This gentleman was in his bed and we walked up this hallway, and we had to walk sideways because it was slanted. The Speaker and Marvin spoke to the man, who was on his deathbed, and he said, "Is there anything you can do for these homeowners and my family? I might not see it, but can you do something?" Before we walked out of that house, the Speaker and Marvin Sedway said, "Get them the money and get it now." I owe you, Joe. I really do.

The other part of it is that you have to have served with a gentleman like Joe, to serve with someone who really cares about Nevada. I used to say he was not fair sometimes, because I felt that because he was from Yerington, he had no clue what went on in southern Nevada. But he was in Las Vegas more than I was. I would see Joe and he would say, "You coming out to have breakfast with me?" We are glad that you were there. God put you there for a reason and brought you to the state of Nevada. I am glad I had the honor to serve with you, and I will always respect you as Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support. I just have one short story to tell. I served my first session under Speaker Dini. I was a Dini Democrat. Some people still ask what that is. All you have to do is listen to what people have said today about Speaker Dini to know what he stands for, for Democrats in particular. In my first session, he told me privately what I think he told Ms. Buckley, and, I would guess, our Speaker pro Tempore as well: "Freshmen should be seen and not heard." Over the years, I have come to really understand what that means and what good advice that was. So, today he walked in and said, "You know, you are doing a good job. Getting in the paper too much, but you are doing a good job." I said, "Well, Speaker Dini, you wouldn't be too proud of me this morning, because I lost my temper in committee and I do not like to do that, and did." I told him what it was over. He said, "Sometimes you have to slap down your hand." He told me a story, one I will not repeat, about something that happened with Senator Raggio, and it made me feel so much better. Speaker Dini, we all look up to you so much. I am so proud to have served here under you. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of this resolution. What can I say? Joe Dini not only taught all of us here everything that we know about the legislative process, the legislative history of Nevada, but he also taught us how to understand people and how to value them, something that is absolutely necessary in running any type of government. He always had an ear to listen to anyone's problem, no matter how big or how small. He seemed to be here 24 hours a day, because I never remember being in the building when he was not in the building while he was Speaker. And it was a just a great education for every one of us. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Joe Dini.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I was a freshman, and the Speaker gave me the opportunity to chair Labor and Management at that time. I scared him to death, I think. It was an honor and it was an opportunity, as a freshman and as a woman, to come into a different role. Many of the comments that were made today do not sum up the person. I do not think the words I have can do that either. I think he brought a balance to this state. You helped us from the urban parts to understand the rural needs, and vice versa. You took the time to come to southern Nevada. You knew northern Nevada. You balanced that. That is what this whole institution is about. I think that sometimes we forget it is not about us, but it's about the institution, and it's about the constituents that the institution serves. I think that pride that you have has penetrated these halls. You are truly a statesman, but you are also Italian. Through that Italianess there is a family link, a friendship, an ethic that you bring to that as well. So, as a fellow "paisano," I just want to thank you for giving me the opportunities you did, but also all the people in these halls. You broke some trends that were there. I don't think people realize that part of it. Thank you for your openness and understanding, Mr. Speaker.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That Assemblywoman Jan Evans, who dedicated much of her life to the service of the people of the State of Nevada as a member of the Assembly and in a number of other capacities, is hereby added to the Assembly Wall of Distinction.

Assemblywoman Smith moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Smith, Buckley, Anderson, Arberry, Perkins, and Leslie.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making remarks.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

I would like, first of all, on behalf of Jan's family and many friends who are gathered here today, to thank Mr. Speaker, Madam Majority Leader, and the Speaker pro Tempore for including Jan in this honor today. Jan Evans is the perfect person to be selected to the inaugural group for the Wall of Distinction. We recently memorialized Jan on the anniversary of her death, so I know that we all remember why Jan is included in this special category of former legislators.

Jan led a life of distinction: as a child in the foster system, striving to overcome that disadvantage; as a student who put herself through college; as a tireless advocate whose life experiences caused her to work passionately on family-related issues such as child abuse, domestic violence, education, and juvenile justice; and as a legislator who was a role model for all with whom she served. She was a champion for those, like myself, whom she represented. In fact, the last few years of her life, Jan lived two doors down from me. I would always see her leaving very early in the morning and coming home very late at night. I was always amazed at her stamina when she was campaigning. She was out there herself, pounding signs in the ground and always walking door to door, and being involved with her constituents year-round.

When she realized her health had declined to the point that she could not run again, she called and asked me if I would consider running in her seat. After what I had witnessed and what job I knew I had to do, it may have been a miracle that I said yes. She was truly a wonderful role model, and I heard story after story about her time as a member of the Ways and Means Committee and how she would bring those budget books home at night and plow through them and find money that she could use to help fund the programs that she held so near and dear. I have a feeling that Madam Speaker pro Tempore learned a few of those tricks because I see the same kind of talent. I worry about being able to have that ability in that Committee. She just had such an innate talent for it, and I keep hoping for divine intervention that she will rain down upon me some of that experience and ability to do such a fabulous job of representing those people whom she cared so much about.

Serving with distinction is defined as serving with merit and making a difference, and that, Madam Speaker pro Tempore, is Jan Evans. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. Anybody who served with Jan Evans loved Jan Evans. She had compassion, dignity, and her work ethic was unparalleled. She spoke with such precision. Her speaking style was that she would be deliberate and thoughtful, and when she spoke it was like E. F. Hutton: everybody listened, because it always came from the heart. She worked so hard with my colleague, the Chairman of Ways and Means, and our fiscal staff. She was a tireless worker. The folks who got most of her energy were those who really had no lobbyists or someone to stick up for them, the kids in the juvenile justice system, kids in foster care, and victims of domestic violence. She, through her legislation and through the budget, made all of these issues her priority.

I think we were all just amazed that she worked while she knew she had cancer. None of us knew because the budget was not done and all of her priorities for women, health care, and children, were not done yet. I think it almost takes someone who serves in this Body to understand what that would be like, when you fight so hard for a bill and an issue and it is all-consuming, and you will follow it through to get it done. There were few champions like Jan Evans. We thank all of the friends and family for sharing her with us. We love her. I think our best tribute to Jan is that we can keep fighting for the people she fought for.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. My colleague, Jan Evans, took me under her wing, being from Sparks, to make sure that the Sparks kid did not get into any more trouble than he has a tendency to get into. I worked in her first political campaign, where she advocated for education and was a strong advocate on those issues. I came to know her as a person who cared deeply, as the Majority Leader indicated, about the issues that are near and dear to all of us in education and child welfare. I saw her push for bills in Judiciary dealing with juvenile justice, where kids would be treated fairly and equitably. I remember her being upset with me when a bill seemed to be overly reaching relative to juveniles and the cost of those juvenile crimes. It was difficult when we did things that she would prefer we did not.

Most of all, Jan Evans clearly represented a part of my community that needed an advocate. She stepped into a seat that had been held by a noted Assemblyman for some time. When she picked up those reins, she demonstrated that you could lead without bullying, showed you could be a person who cared without wincing. She was not apologetic about her issues. The women's issues that she advocated for are ones that were right for all of us. By championing those causes, we raised the standards of this State ever higher. I can hardly imagine that my colleague and friend, Jan Evans, would not be included in such a distinctive wall.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I would be remorseful if I did not say something about Jan. Most every time you are the third speaker, someone has already covered a lot of the great things a person has accomplished. However, I can take you back in time when Jan was a lobbyist. I remember like it was yesterday when I was Chairman of Welfare and Human Services. I would walk out the door and she would stalk that door waiting for me to come out, and, in a soft way but with a big stick, she would beat me down for issues dealing with Welfare. I would think, "Where does this little lady come from every day?" She was very strong about those issues, just as the Chair of Judiciary spoke about. Then there came the time when she was elected. I was honored to be able to serve with her on the Ways and Means Committee under Marvin Sedway. Then we both moved to the leadership position where I became the Chair and she was my Vice Chair. She did not say much, but when she did, it was to the point, to the key issue. I very seldom saw her get upset, but when she did get upset, you knew it because she would almost come out of her seat. When it was dealing with kids and families, it would upset her when you would try and take it in a wrong direction. I was honored to work with her and sit next to her.

I knew we had to keep things moving because she always had a trip planned at the end of session to go to Hawaii. That was every session, going to Hawaii. There came a time when I thought I was Michael Jordan coming out of retirement and the fellows asked me to come play basketball with them one morning. I stole the ball from Greg Ferraro and got ready to dunk the ball on David Goldwater and it did not happen that way. I split my knee, tearing a ligament, and I was out for about a month. Jan took over while I was gone, while I recuperated in Vegas, and when I came back it was like the Committee never missed a beat. When I sat down, she gave me back the gavel and we kept moving. I can say that when you have someone working for you like that, I am honored to have had two: Madam Speaker pro Tempore and her. To serve with those kind of ladies is an honor. I will always miss her. I never imagined that she would get ill and not be with us. A lot of the strong legislation for families and kids that you see today was because of Jan.

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of the resolution. Jan was a liberal, but she made the term "liberal" a positive thing. One of her best friends in the world was a Republican State Senator and then-Lieutenant Governor, Sue Wagner. They got along very well. They talked about a lot of things, but you always knew where Jan stood. Her issues would be defined, for all intents and purposes, by our society as "liberal." But that was not a bad thing because she never asked for anything for herself. She was always selfless. She always looked out for those who could not help themselves. That is what she did, and she did it with such grace and such fortitude that it was always a strong and positive thing.

She loved the support role, as the Chairman of Ways and Means just discussed. Would she have loved to chair various committees? Sure, and she did chair a couple, but she loved that support role because she liked working behind the scenes and getting things done. She was the epitome of a work horse, not a show horse.

I can tell you, she is really mad right now because she is the last person that would have wanted anything like this to happen. She did not want the accolades. She did not want the recognition. All she wanted to do was do her work, and she took pride in what she did. The only accolades Jan ever wanted was to know that she had done something good for someone else.

In her last session, toward the end of the session, I had an opportunity to talk to Jan about a number of things. I think we all knew she was ill, but she would not discuss that with us. She would not tell us how ill she was. We knew she had to miss a few meetings and was not feeling well. I can tell you, without a doubt, she knew what was wrong with her health, and she sacrificed herself for others. She could've taken the last half of the session off, received better treatment, and been under less stress, and it is my firm belief that Jan Evans sacrificed herself for others.

As I mentioned once before, we truly miss Jan, because when Jan Evans left this Body and left our world, we lost our moral compass. She was that guiding light for us and kept us centered as a Body. For those reasons and others, Madam Speaker pro Tempore, I support the resolution.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I, also, rise to support the resolution. Not a day goes by that I do not sit down in this particular seat in the Chambers that I do not think of Jan. This is where Jan sat for many years when she served in our Body as Speaker pro Tempore. My freshman year I was placed right next to her, as my friend from Las Vegas is placed next to me. She guided me through that session and helped me out a great deal. I, too, did not know she was ill. I remember when she left and somebody came to me in Leadership and said I needed to do this, this, and this now. I said, "What about Jan? When is she coming back?" and they said, "Well, she is not coming back." I will never forget that day. It was such a shock. Yet, during that last month of the session, I do not think a day went by when I did not get a phone call from Jan saying, "Where is my health bill? I do not like this amendment. You have to watch out for this. You have to watch out for that." She cared so deeply about the work that she left behind.

For those of us involved in Democratic politics in Reno, Jan still is our role model. During the campaign season, I remember she called me up and said, "You know, your biggest enemy is not a Republican, not your Republican opponent, and when you win your election, it will not be the Republicans that you serve with. Your biggest enemy is time." Over the years I have come to see that Jan was right. Time to get things done, time to read all the budget documents, time to think about things, and time to talk to your colleagues, is really the biggest enemy. I try to remind myself of that as well.

I think one of Jan's biggest legacies, for people who did not know her, to take out of the Chambers today, is the work that she did on domestic violence. Nevada's fine network of domestic violence programs and shelters would not have happened without Jan Evans working closely with her Republican friend, Senator Wagner. We have so much to thank Jan for, and even though she would be tremendously embarrassed to have us talking about her, I know her family and friends, many of whom are here today in our Chambers, do value this opportunity for us all to reflect on somebody who has meant a great deal to those of us who knew her, and also, I hope, will serve as a role model for those who here who did not, as what a truly great legislator is.

Madam Speaker pro Tempore requested the privilege of the chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Jan put a face to just about every issue that we tend to just read on paper. They are words, but Jan was able to crystallize and put a face on it and a voice to it. It was those who did not have an advocate that she was out there advocating for. If nothing else, if you did not have the opportunity to serve with Jan, remember that she felt that if it was good enough to have happen, it was worth a fight. It was not necessarily whether you won, but if you never had the discussion you never would win anything, you would never educate anybody, you would never change anybody's minds. That is how Jan tried to approach much of the legislation that she dealt with. I can sum it up saying that Jan Evans will never be forgotten. You can tell that by her friends that are here who were her family, as well as her real family. I am sorry that I missed the memorial. Jan lives on in their hearts. Every day in these halls, when we are trying to deal with things that are, maybe, not the glossiest issues – foster care, domestic violence, all of those things that people did not want to ever talk about – now they are out in the open and we have the responsibility to do something about them, not just talk about them. I think that is how Jan tried to approach it. She will be missed. She would be terribly embarrassed, you are absolutely correct, but she was a dynamo in a compact little package. I had the pleasure of serving with her. I know she's watching us. She and Marvin are up there going, "Oh, my God." Thank you, very much.

Assemblyman Hettrick moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Hettrick, Marvel, Arberry, Anderson, and Carpenter.

Assemblyman Perkins requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HETTRICK:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I had the privilege of serving with Speaker Dini and with Jan Evans. I did not have the privilege of serving with Lou Bergevin. I know him by reputation more than anything else. I will say that Jan is by far the prettiest of the three.

Lou Bergevin had a tremendous reputation in this building. He was a very straightforward man. He did not mince many words. He moved to get things done, and he knew what he wanted to do. He was totally regarded as one of Nevada's finest tax experts. He understood the tax code in Nevada better than I think anyone in this building ever has. Interesting enough, one of his sessions, he dealt with changing Nevada's tax code, in regard to the fact that property taxes were rising too quickly. There had to be a change, and we did the tax shift over to sales taxes and transferred a great deal of the burden to tourists and others who visit this state and people who spent money. He was an interesting man in that regard. You heard from the Resolution that he was an expert in many things. He was obviously a heavyweight in the ranching industry and a part of our economy for many years. He was very active in ranching. I often envied him. I knew he went down to a ranch in Bridgeport, which I think is one of the most beautiful areas, and worked there. I would hear him talk, the time or two that I met with him, about having to go to the ranch in Bridgeport.

One of the stories that I know about Lou when he was here, while he was the Minority Leader, he was served by a young rural caucus director. Of course, in those days, all of Nevada was rural and everybody was a rural Nevadan. The young rural caucus director told me you could always tell when Lou was getting mad. He would try to explain things once or twice, and if it was not going real well and people were not understanding, he said Lou would start getting red from the shirt collar and it would start going up his face. You could see it and you would know you were in trouble. His son just said to me, "That, and his finger would come out. He would start pointing. Then you knew you were in trouble and Lou was going to set you straight in a big hurry." By the way, that young rural caucus director was somebody most all of you know; his name was Pete Ernaut.

Few people, four or five, in this building had the opportunity to serve with Lou Bergevin. He retired from these Chambers in 1992, and almost everyone in here began their career after that time. While many of us had the opportunity to serve with the first two inductees, few did with Lou, so any lack of people rising to give remarks is not because he does not deserve a great many remarks, but because he is not known as well as the other two inductees. It truly is my pleasure to rise in support of AR 9 and to support the addition of Lou Bergevin to the Wall of Distinction. He truly earned it.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. It is really a pleasure to be able to support AR 9. Lou and I were both elected at the same time. He was a little bit smarter than I was because he quit when he was ahead.

Lou and I had pretty much parallel lives. Both of us were ranchers, we were both past presidents of the Nevada Cattlemen's Association, we served together on the Tax Commission, and as I said, we were elected at the same time. Lou was an outstanding legislator. As the Minority Leader stated, he probably knew as much about taxation as anyone in this whole building. He was excellent. Lou was kind of responsible for getting the local governments back on an even keel by keeping the State out of the ad valorem tax.

One thing about Lou was, when he gave you his word, you could go to the bank with it. As I said when I spoke at his services, Lou was outspoken. I used to kid him and say, "Lou, what did you really mean?" But you knew very well from the very beginning what Lou meant, because he was that direct.

I think it is only fitting that we are going to induct Lou Bergevin today.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. As Mr. Marvel and the Minority Leader mentioned, a lot of us have not had the opportunity to serve with some of these folks. When I was a freshman here, he reminded me of President Nixon because when he would get really excited, he would start flapping his jaws just like President Nixon. I said, "Boy, I had better stay away from this guy."

As the Minority Leader mentioned, Lou was very dedicated. When you saw him marching down the hall between the two houses and staying up late at night trying to get the tax issues together, you could have nothing but respect for him. I did not know him that well for two sessions, because I was afraid to say anything to Lou. Lou finally came over to me one day and said he had watched me for two sessions. I said, "You know, the only thing you ever say to me is 'hi.' He said, "I wanted to make sure you were serious about this House." I could not say a word, because that was true. You have some people come here, and they realize it is not as easy as it appears. Back in the day they knew how much hard work was required.

Recognizing Lou and the other inductees today is an honor. Lou's heart was into it, as my colleague "number two," Mr. Marvel, mentioned. He was dedicated, and he deserves it because he was a man of this House.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. Lou Bergevin was an interesting man. I agree with the previous speaker; clearly, he was intimidating. As a freshman, I knew I definitely wanted to try and stay out of his sight. I did not have the opportunity to serve on a committee with him; however, I did hear him and was with him a couple of times on some issues and I heard his advice to several freshmen. In my first session and the Speaker pro Tempore's first session, there were more freshmen in the Body than there were senior members. Mr. Bergevin made it very clear to the freshmen that there was nothing more important than your word, not just to your colleagues, but to the lobbyists. You should not commit yourself to a bill unless you really believed that you were going to support that bill. With the same regard, lobbyists treated members with the distinction that if they heard a commitment from you, either against or for a bill, they did not turn you around on it. Unfortunately, some of those qualities have been lost and I am sorry to see that. It was because of Lou making it very clear on one side of the aisle, and Joe making it very clear on the other side of the aisle, that personal integrity and who you were, were not going to be violated by one side or the other. Lou epitomized that, and I am happy that he never lost his temper at me personally, although it came pretty close a couple of times. As one of the people who served with him, I definitely want to rise in support of this resolution. He was a great gentleman and a great asset to our State.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of AR 9. I did have the pleasure to serve with Lou. Sometimes, if he did not agree with you on a bill you wanted to get through, it was not such a pleasure at that time. He was a great guy, and you always knew where you stood. As a member of the ranching industry we always had a lot of things to share in common. As other people have said, he knew more about taxes than most of us forget. I remember when I was on the County Commission and they were doing the tax shift. We had to come down and argue with Lou. I thought maybe some of us got the tax shaft. Anyway, we always knew where he stood, so I did enjoy serving with him.

While I am up here, I think I ought to say a couple things about the other people that everyone has been talking about.

Jan Evans and I came in with the freshman class of 1987. As far as I know, I am the only one remaining. Jan Evans was such a hard worker and such a lady. If it had not been for her, I would have never gotten the class size reduction for Elko through, and I will always remember and thank Jan Evans for that.

As far as Joe Dini is concerned, I think everybody has pretty much said how great a Speaker he was. It has always been my honor and privilege to have served with Joe. I think the greatest thing I will always remember about Joe is he was always my friend and he would always try to help me. Thank you, Joe, for being my friend.

THE ONE-HUNDRED AND FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), May 18, 2005

Assembly called to order at 11:17 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Assemblyman Richard Perkins.

“We Pray for Children” by Ina J. Hughes

We pray for children
who put chocolate fingers everywhere,
who like to be tickled,
who stomp in puddles and ruin their new pants,
who sneak Popsicles before supper,
who erase holes in math workbooks,
who can never find their shoes.

And we pray for those who stare at photographers from behind barbed wire, who can’t bound down the street in a new pair of sneakers, who never “counted potatoes,”

who are born in places we wouldn’t be caught dead, who never go to the circus and who live in an X-rated world.

We pray for children

who bring us sticky kisses and fistfuls of dandelions, who sleep with the dog and bury the goldfish,
who hug us in a hurry and forget their lunch money,
who cover themselves with Band-Aids and sing off key, who squeeze toothpaste all over the sink and who slurp their soup.

And we pray for those who never get dessert,

who have no safe blanket to drag behind them,
who watch their parents watch them die,
who can’t find any bread to steal,
who don’t have any rooms to clean up,
whose pictures aren’t on anybody’s dresser,
whose monsters are real.

We pray for children

who spend all their allowance before Tuesday, who throw tantrums in the grocery store and pick at their food,
who like ghost stories,
who shove dirty clothes under the bed and never rinse out the tub, who get visits from the tooth fairy,
who don’t like to be kissed in front of their friends,
who squirm in church or temple and scream in the phone,
whose tears we sometimes laugh at and whose smiles can make us cry.

We pray for those whose nightmares come in the daytime, who will eat anything,

who have never seen a dentist,
who aren't spoiled by anybody,
who go to bed hungry and cry themselves to sleep,
who live and move, but have no being.

We pray for children who want to be carried and for those who must,

for those we never give up on and for those who don't get a second chance.

For those we smother and for those who will grab the hand of anybody kind enough to offer it.

AMEN.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Assembly Bill No. 518.

The following Senate amendment was read:

Amendment No. 704.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 1 through 3 as sections 2 through 4 and adding a new section designated section 1, following the enacting clause, to read as follows:

“Section 1. NRS 388.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

388.090 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, boards of trustees of school districts shall schedule and provide a minimum of 180 days of free school in the districts under their charge.

2. Except for an alternative schedule described in subsection 3, the Superintendent of Public Instruction may, upon application by the board of trustees of a school district, authorize the school district to provide a program of instruction based on an alternative schedule if the number of minutes of instruction to be provided is equal to or greater than the number of minutes of instruction that would be provided in a program of instruction consisting of 180 school days. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall notify the board of trustees of the school district of the approval or denial of the application not later than 30 days after the Superintendent of Public Instruction receives the application. An alternative schedule proposed pursuant to this subsection must be developed in accordance with chapter 288 of NRS. If a school district is located in a county whose population is 100,000 or more, the school district may not submit an application pursuant to this subsection unless the proposed alternative schedule of the school district will apply only to a rural portion or a remote portion of the county in which the school district is located, as defined by the State Board pursuant to subsection ~~{8.}~~ 9.

3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may, upon application by the board of trustees of a school district, authorize a reduction of not more than 15 school days in that particular district to establish or maintain an alternative schedule consisting of a 12-month school program if the board of trustees demonstrates that the proposed alternative schedule for the program provides for a number of minutes of instruction that is equal to or greater than that which would be provided under a program consisting of 180 school days. Before authorizing a reduction in the number of required school days pursuant to this subsection, the Superintendent of Public Instruction must find that the proposed alternative schedule will be used to alleviate problems associated with a growth in enrollment or overcrowding.

4. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may, upon application by a board of trustees, authorize the addition of minutes of instruction to any scheduled day of free school if days of free school are lost because of any interscholastic activity. Not more than 5 days of free school so lost may be rescheduled in this manner. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to an alternative schedule approved pursuant to subsection 2.

5. The number of minutes of instruction required for a particular group of pupils in a program of instruction based on an alternative schedule approved pursuant to this section must be determined by multiplying the appropriate minimum daily period of instruction established by the State Board by regulation for that particular group of pupils by 180.

6. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may, upon application by the board of trustees of a school district, authorize additional days or minutes of instruction for a program of remedial education that is fully paid for through the school district, including, without limitation, the provision of transportation. If the Superintendent of Public Instruction authorizes such additional days or minutes, the board of trustees may adopt a policy prescribing the minimum number of days of attendance or the minimum number of minutes of attendance for a pupil who is determined to need such remedial education. If the board of trustees adopts such a policy, the policy must include, without limitation, the criteria for determining that a pupil be enrolled in the program of remedial education, the procedure pursuant to which parents and guardians will be notified of the pupil's progress throughout the school year and a process for appealing a determination regarding a pupil's need for remedial education.

7. Each school district shall schedule at least 3 contingent days of school, or its equivalent if the school district operates under an alternative schedule authorized pursuant to this section, in addition to the number of days required by this section, which must be used if a natural disaster, inclement weather or an accident necessitates the closing of a majority of the facilities within the district.

~~{7-}~~ 8. If more than 3 days of free school, or its equivalent if the school district operates under an alternative schedule authorized pursuant to this section, are lost because a natural disaster, inclement weather or an accident necessitates the closing of a majority of the facilities within a school district, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, upon application by the school district, may permit the additional days lost to be counted as school days in session. The application must be submitted in the manner prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

~~{8-}~~ 9. The State Board shall adopt regulations:

(a) Providing procedures for changing schedules of instruction to be used if a natural disaster, inclement weather or an accident necessitates the closing of a particular school within a school district.

(b) Defining a rural portion of a county and a remote portion of a county for the purposes of subsection 2.”.

Amend section 1, page 2, by deleting lines 28 through 31 and inserting: “adopted a policy prescribing a minimum number of days of attendance for pupils enrolled in kindergarten or first grade pursuant to NRS 392.122, the school district shall provide to each parent and legal guardian of a pupil who elects to enroll his child in kindergarten or first grade a written document containing a copy of that policy and a copy of the policy of the school district concerning the withdrawal of pupils from kindergarten or first grade. Before the child's first day of attendance at a school, the parent or legal guardian shall sign a statement on a form provided by the school district acknowledging that he has read and understands the policy concerning attendance and the policy concerning withdrawal of pupils from kindergarten or first grade. The parent or legal guardian shall comply with the”.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Weber requested that the following remarks be placed in the Journal:

ASSEMBLYMAN PERKINS:

On Friday we are having a special occasion on the Capitol Mall for Armed Services Day to show appreciation to our troops throughout the world. With that message in mind, I have something I received through the e-mail tree that I thought was touching, relating to a particular serviceman. I wanted to share that with you. I will warn you first that it talks a little bit about the activities that occurred that this particular Marine was involved in and the very difficult times his unit was under. I do not know who to attribute the statement to, so I apologize in advance.

Maybe you'd like to hear about a real American, somebody who honored the uniform he wears. Meet Brian Chontosh. Churchville-Chili Central School class of 1991. Proud graduate of the Rochester Institute of Technology. Husband and about-to-be father. First Lieutenant (now Captain) in the United States Marine Corps. And a genuine hero.

The Secretary of the Navy said so yesterday. At Twenty Nine Palms in California, Brian Chontosh was presented with the Navy Cross, the second-highest award for combat bravery the United States can bestow. That's a big deal. But you won't see it on the network news tonight, and all you read in Brian's hometown newspaper was two paragraphs of nothing. The odd fact about the American media in this war is that it's not covering the American military. The most plugged-in nation in the world is receiving virtually no true information about what its warriors are doing.

Oh, sure, there's a body count. We know how many Americans have fallen. And we see those same casket pictures day in and day out. And we're almost on a first-name basis with the jerks who abused the Iraqi prisoners. And we know all about improvised explosive devices and how we lost Fallujah and what Arab public opinion polls say about us and how the world hates us.

We get a non-stop feed of gloom and doom. But we don't hear about the heroes. The incredibly brave GIs who honorably do their duty. The ones our grandparents would have carried on their shoulders down Fifth Avenue. The ones we completely ignore. Like Brian Chontosh.

It was a year ago on the march into Baghdad. Brian Chontosh was a platoon leader rolling up Highway 1 in a Humvee, when all hell broke loose. Ambush City. The young Marines were being cut to ribbons. Mortars, machine guns, rocket-propelled grenades. And the kid out of Churchville was in charge. It was do or die and it was up to him. So he moved to the side of his column looking for a way to lead his men to safety. As he tried to poke a hole through the Iraqi line, his Humvee came under direct enemy machine gun fire. It was fish in a barrel and the Marines were the fish. And Brian Chontosh gave the order to attack. He told his driver to floor the Humvee directly at the machine gun emplacement that was firing at them, and he had the guy on top with the .50 cal unload on them. Within moments, there were Iraqis slumped across the machine gun and Chontosh was still advancing, ordering his driver now to take the Humvee directly into the Iraqi trench that was attacking his Marines. Over into the battlement the Humvee went and out the door Brian Chontosh bailed, carrying an M16 and a Beretta and 228 years of Marine Corps pride. And he ran down the trench, with its mortars and riflemen, machine guns and grenadiers, and he killed them all. He fought with the M16 until it was out of ammo. Then he fought with the Beretta until it was out of ammo. Then he picked up a dead man's AK47 and fought with that until it was out of ammo. Then he picked up another dead man's AK47 and fought with that until it was out of ammo. At one point he even fired a discarded Iraqi RPG into an enemy cluster, sending attackers flying with its grenade explosion.

When he was done, Brian Chontosh had cleared 200 yards of entrenched Iraqis from his platoon's flank. He had killed more than 20 and wounded at least as many more.

But that's probably not how he would tell it. He would probably merely say that his Marines were in trouble, and he got them out of trouble.

Hoo-ah, and drive on.

"By his outstanding display of decisive leadership, unlimited courage in the face of heavy enemy fire, and utmost devotion to duty, 1st Lt. Chontosh reflected great credit upon himself and upheld the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service." That's what the citation says. And that's what nobody will hear. That's what doesn't seem to be making the evening news. Accounts of American valor are dismissed by the press as propaganda, yet accounts of American difficulties are heralded as objectivity. It makes you wonder if the role of the media is to inform or to depress – to report or to deride. To tell the truth, or to feed us lies. But I guess it doesn't matter. We're going to turn out all right as long as men like Brian Chontosh wear our uniform.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

There is nothing anyone can say after that. I would note that recently Steve Watson shared an e-mail from his son with many of us. If you see him in the hall you might thank him for the service of his son who stands in harm's way on a day-to-day basis and for the people of our Guard units who are doing the same.

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Remarks by Assemblymen Hardy, Angle, and Buckley.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making remarks.

Assemblywoman Angle requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

S.B. 193 concerns dead bodies used for medical science. The Committee on Anatomical Dissection would adopt regulations concerning persons and entities eligible to receive dead bodies. The measure prohibits a person or entity from receiving a dead body for medical science unless the Committee has determined their eligibility to do so and makes a violation of this provision a gross misdemeanor. It also adds an osteopathic physician to the membership, requires a fee if a dead body is allocated to a given institution, and that fee is revenue neutral to cover the costs.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I have been asked by a member about the 2/3 majority issue and it is my belief that a bill increasing public revenue by raising fees or taxes requires a 2/3 majority vote pursuant to the Nevada Constitution. These bills are generally marked for us by our Legislative Counsel. Ms. Angle, did I cover what you needed me to cover?

ASSEMBLYWOMAN ANGLE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. That is what I needed to hear—that you would confirm that a 2/3 vote is required for the approval of any bill or joint resolution which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form as required by Article 4, Section 18, of our Constitution.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for recognizing me a second time. We received testimony in that particular way, that this was going to be revenue neutral, taking from inside the system, so no new fees were technically assessed other than for covering the costs of the body.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Thank you. It just shows that Section 6 requires a 2/3 vote.

If the board of trustees of the school district in which the charter school is located has established zones of attendance pursuant to NRS 388.040, the charter school shall, if practicable, ensure that the racial composition of pupils enrolled in the charter school does not differ by more than 10 percent from the racial composition of pupils who attend public schools in the zone in which the charter school is located. If more pupils who are eligible for enrollment apply for enrollment in the charter school than the number of spaces which are available, the charter school shall determine which applicants to enroll on the basis of a lottery system.

A producer of insurance may submit a request for a renewal of his license within 30 days after the date specified on the license for the renewal if the producer of insurance otherwise complies with the provisions of this subsection and pays, in addition to any fee paid pursuant to this subsection, a penalty of 50 percent of the renewal fee. A license as a producer of insurance expires if the Commissioner receives a request for a renewal of the license more than 30 days after the date specified on the license for the renewal. A fee paid pursuant to this subsection is nonrefundable.

3. A natural person who allows his license as a producer of insurance to expire may reapply for the same license within 12 months after the date specified on the license for a renewal without passing a written examination or completing a course of study required by paragraph (c) of subsection 1 of NRS 683A.251, but a penalty of twice the renewal fee is required for any request for a renewal of the license that is received after the date specified on the license for the renewal.

The mailing of a letter by certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the licensee at his last mailing address appearing on the records of the Division, and the return of the letter undelivered, constitutes a diligent effort by the Commissioner.

county may reconvey all the right, title and interest of the county in and to any land donated, dedicated, acquired in accordance with chapter 37 of NRS, or purchased under the threat of an eminent domain proceeding for a public park, public square, public landing, agricultural fairground, aviation field, automobile parking ground or facility for the accommodation of the traveling public, or land held in trust for the public for any other public use or uses, or any part thereof, to the person:

(a) By whom the land was donated or dedicated or to his heirs, assigns or successors, upon such terms as may be prescribed by a resolution of the board; or

(b) From whom the land was acquired in accordance with the provisions of chapter 37 of NRS, or purchased under the threat of an eminent domain proceeding, or to his heirs, assigns or successors, except as otherwise provided in section 3 of this act, for an amount equal to the appraised value of the land at the time of the reconveyance.

The reconveyance may be made whether the land is held by the county solely or as tenant in common with any municipality or other political subdivision of this State under the dedication.

2. If the county has a planning commission, the board shall refer the proposal for reconveyance to the planning commission which shall consider the proposal and submit its recommendation to the board.

3. The board shall hold at least one public hearing upon the proposal for reconveyance. Notice of the time and place of the hearing must be:

(a) Published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county;

(b) Mailed to all owners of record of real property located within 300 feet of the land proposed for reconveyance; and

(c) Posted in a conspicuous place on the property and, in this case, must set forth additionally the extent of the proposal for reconveyance.

The hearing must be held not less than 10 days nor more than 40 days after the notice is so published, mailed and posted.

4. If the board, after the hearing, determines that maintenance of the property by the county solely or with a co-owner is unnecessarily burdensome or that reconveyance would be otherwise advantageous to the county and its citizens, the board shall formally adopt a resolution stating that determination. Upon the adoption of the resolution, the chairman of the board shall execute a deed of reconveyance on behalf of the county and the county clerk shall attest the deed under the seal of the county.

5. The board may sell land which has been donated, dedicated, acquired in accordance with chapter 37 of NRS, or purchased under the threat of an eminent domain proceeding, for a public purpose described in subsection 1, or may exchange that land for other land of equal value, if:

(a) The person from whom the land was received or acquired or his successor in interest refuses to accept the reconveyance or states in writing that he is unable to accept the reconveyance; or

(b) The land has been combined with other land owned by the county and improved in such manner as would reasonably preclude the division of the land, together with the land with which it has been combined, into separate parcels.

Sec. 6. NRS 268.050 is hereby amended to read as follows:

268.050 1. The governing body of any incorporated city in this State may reconvey all the right, title and interest of the city in and to any land donated, dedicated, acquired in accordance with chapter 37 of NRS, or purchased under the threat of an eminent domain proceeding, for a public park, public square, public landing, agricultural fairground, aviation field, automobile parking ground or facility for the accommodation of the traveling public, or land held in trust for the public for any other public use or uses, or any part thereof, to the person:

(a) By whom the land was donated or dedicated or to his heirs, assigns or successors, upon such terms as may be prescribed by a resolution of the governing body; or

(b) From whom the land was acquired in accordance with chapter 37 of NRS, or purchased under the threat of an eminent domain proceeding, or to his heirs, assigns or successors, except as otherwise provided in section 3 of this act, for an amount equal to the appraised value of the land at the time of the reconveyance.

The reconveyance may be made whether the land is held by the city solely or as tenant in common with any other municipality or other political subdivision of this State under the dedication.

2. If the city has a planning commission, the governing body shall refer the proposal for reconveyance to the planning commission which shall consider the proposal and submit its recommendation to the governing body.

3. The governing body shall hold at least one public hearing upon the proposal for reconveyance. Notice of the time and place of the hearing must be:

(a) Published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or county;

(b) Mailed to all owners of record of real property located within 300 feet of the land proposed for reconveyance; and

(c) Posted in a conspicuous place on the property and, in this case, must set forth additionally the extent of the proposal for reconveyance.

The hearing must be held not less than 10 days nor more than 40 days after the notice is so published, mailed and posted.

4. If the governing body, after the hearing, determines that maintenance of the property by the city solely or with a co-owner is unnecessarily burdensome or that reconveyance would be otherwise advantageous to the city and its citizens, the governing body shall formally adopt a resolution stating that determination. Upon the adoption of the resolution, the presiding officer of the governing body shall execute a deed of reconveyance on behalf of the city and the city clerk shall attest the deed under the seal of the city.

5. The governing body may sell land which has been donated, dedicated, acquired in accordance with chapter 37 of NRS, or purchased under the threat of an eminent domain proceeding, for a public purpose described in subsection 1, or may exchange that land for other land of equal value, if:

(a) The person from whom the land was received or acquired or his successor in interest refuses to accept the reconveyance or states in writing that he is unable to accept the reconveyance; or

(b) The land has been combined with other land owned by the city and improved in such a manner as would reasonably preclude the division of the land, together with the land with which it has been combined, into separate parcels.”.

Amend sec. 2, page 2, by deleting lines 12 through 16 and inserting: “within the redevelopment area at the time the redevelopment area was created.”.

Amend the bill as a whole by renumbering sections 3 and 4 as sections 9 and 10 and adding a new section designated sec. 8, following sec. 2, to read as follows:

“Sec. 8. NRS 408.533 is hereby amended to read as follows:

408.533 1. ~~[All]~~ Except as otherwise provided in section 3 of this act, all real property, interests therein or improvements thereon and personal property acquired before, on or after April 1, 1957, in accordance with the provisions of NRS 408.487 and 408.489 must, after approval by the Board and if no longer needed for highway purposes, be disposed of by the Director in accordance with the provisions of subsection 2, except that:

(a) When the property was originally donated to the State, no charge may be made if it is returned to the original owner or to the holder of the reversionary right.

(b) When the property has been wholly or partially paid for by towns, cities or counties, disposal of the property and of money received therefor must be agreed upon by the governing bodies of the towns, cities and counties and the Department.

(c) When the title to the real property has been acquired in fee pursuant to NRS 408.487 and 408.489 and, in the opinion of the Board, a sale by means of a public auction or sealed bids is uneconomical or impractical because:

(1) There is no access to the property;

(2) The property has value or an increased value only to a single adjoining property owner; or

(3) Such a sale would work an undue hardship upon a property owner as a result of a severance of the property of that owner or a denial of access to a public highway, the Board may enter into a direct sale of the property with such an owner or any other person for its fair market value.

(d) When the property has been acquired and the property or any portion of the property is no longer needed for highway purposes, the Department shall give notice of its intention to dispose of the property by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the property is situated. The notice must include the Department's appraisal of the fair market value of the property. Any person from whom the property was purchased or his heir or grantee may purchase the property at its fair market value by direct sale from the Department within 60 days after the notice is published. If more than one person qualified to purchase the property by direct sale pursuant to this paragraph so requests, the person with the superior claim, as determined by the Department in its sole discretion, is entitled to purchase the property by direct sale. If a person who is entitled to purchase the property by direct sale pursuant to this paragraph reasonably believes that the Department's appraisal of the property is greater than the fair market value of the property, the person may file an objection to the appraisal with the Department. The Department shall set forth the procedure for filing an objection and the process under which a final determination will be made of the fair market value of the property for which an objection is filed. The Department shall sell the property in the manner provided in subsection 2 if:

(1) No person requests to purchase the property by direct sale within 60 days after the notice is published pursuant to this paragraph; or

(2) A person who files an objection pursuant to this paragraph fails, within 10 business days after he receives a written notice of the final determination of the fair market value of the property, to notify the Department in writing that he wishes to purchase the property at the fair market value set forth in the notice.

(e) When the property is sought by another public agency for a reasonable public use, the Department may first offer the property to the public agency at its fair market value.

2. All property, interests or improvements not included within the provisions of subsection 1 must first be offered for sale by the Department singly or in combination at public auction or by sealed bids. If the highest bid received is 90 percent or more of the Department's appraisal of the fair market value of the property, the property may be sold to the highest bidder. The notice and the terms of the sale must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the property is situated. The auctions and openings of bids must be conducted by the Department. If the property cannot be sold for 90 percent or more of its fair market value, the Department may enter into a written listing agreement with a person licensed pursuant to chapter 645 of NRS to sell or lease the property for 90 percent or more of its fair market value.

3. It is conclusively presumed in favor of the Department and any purchaser for value that the Department acted within its lawful authority in acquiring and disposing of the property, and that the Director acted within his lawful authority in executing any conveyance vesting title in the purchaser. All such conveyances must be quitclaim in nature and the Department shall not warrant title, furnish title insurance or pay the tax on transfer of real property.

4. No person has a right of action against the Department or its employees for a violation of this section. This subsection does not prevent an action by the Attorney General on behalf of the State of Nevada or any aggrieved person.

5. All sums of money received by the Department for the sale of real and personal property must be deposited with the State Treasurer to be credited to the State Highway Fund, unless the Federal Highway Administration participated in acquisition of the property, in which case a pro rata share of the money obtained by disposal of the property must be paid to the Federal Highway Administration.

6. The Department may reserve and except easements, rights or interests from the conveyance of any real property disposed of in accordance with this section or exchanged pursuant to subsection 5 of NRS 408.489. The easements, rights or interests include, but are not limited to:

(a) Abutter's rights of light, view or air.

(b) Easements of access to and from abutting land.

(c) Covenants prohibiting the use of signs, structures or devices advertising activities not conducted, services not rendered or goods not produced or available on the real property.”.

Amend sec. 3, page 3, by deleting lines 3 through 9 and inserting:

“Sec. 9. The provisions of this act apply to an action in eminent domain that is filed on or after the effective date of this act.”.

Amend sec. 4, page 3, line 10, by deleting: “on July 1, 2005.” and inserting: “upon passage and approval.”.

Amend the title of the bill by deleting the fourth and fifth lines and inserting: “acquire real property by eminent domain; limiting the use and reconveyance of real property acquired by eminent domain; requiring an agency that acquires real property on”.

Senate Bill 318 creates an account for maintenance of state parks facilities and grounds within the General Fund Account. The interest and income is used to repair and maintain state parks. Mr. Speaker, if I might have a very short Order of Business 15 to establish a Legislative intent.

Mr. Speaker, I was assured on the other side, during committee hearings, that with this bill it was always intended that this would be money that would supplement and not supplant the budget of the state parks. I wish to establish that here on the Floor of the Assembly. I know that in the committee hearing here there also was an emphasis on supplement and not supplant, so, Mr. Speaker, that is what I wish to do. Thank you, Sir.
