OF THE

ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

SEVENTY-FOURTH SESSION

THE FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 5, 2007

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and Statutes, the Assembly was called to order by Secretary of State Ross Miller at 12:12 p.m.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Deacon Bonnie Polley, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Almighty and ever living God, source of all wisdom and understanding, we give You thanks and praise for Your presence among us at the opening of the 74th Legislature of the State of Nevada.

We commend this state to Your merciful care, that, being guided by Your Providence, we may dwell secure in Your peace. Grant to our governor, and to all in authority, wisdom and strength to know and to do Your will. Fill them with the love of truth and righteousness and make them ever mindful of their calling to serve the people.

We beseech You, O Lord, to guide and bless our Senators and those in the Assembly, that they may enact such laws as shall please You; give each of them courage, wisdom, and foresight to provide for the needs of all our people and to fulfill our obligations in all of our communities.

We commend to Your gracious care and keeping all the men and women of our armed forces at home and abroad. Surround them with Your loving care, protect them from every danger, and bring them home safely.

Grant, O God, that Your holy and life-giving Spirit may so move every human heart, and especially the hearts of the people of this great state of Nevada, that barriers which divide us may crumble, suspicions disappear, and hatreds cease; that our divisions being healed, we may live in justice and peace.

Let us be reminded of the words of the Prophet Amos, “Let justice roll down like waters and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream.” For the Kingdom and the power and the glory are Yours, forever.

AMEN.

Remarks by Assemblyman Oceguera.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN OCEGUERA:

Thank you, Mr. Secretary of State. Since 1864, there have been 59 members of the Nevada Legislature who have earned the title "Speaker of the Assembly." Some were Democrats; some were Republicans. Some were ranchers, attorneys, or business owners. Some were from the north and some were from the south. Some—including one who held the gavel for more than a few years—hailed from rural Nevada. And, in one historic legislative session, two members of this body shared the title, and honor, of Speaker of the Assembly.

Some of these speakers later went on to constitutional office or became United States Senators, members of Congress, or federal judges. These 59 Speakers were certainly different in many ways: their profession, their length of service, perhaps their style of leadership. But we all know they shared one fundamental characteristic: They were all men.

Until today.

And on this historic occasion, we have with us seven who previously held the title of Assembly Speaker. Mr. Secretary of State, my colleagues—allow me the honor of recognizing our distinguished guests.

First, please welcome the honorable Mel Close. Mel Close was a member of the people's house for five years before going on to serve his constituents as state Senator for another 11 years. Mel served as Speaker of the Assembly in the 1967 Regular Session and the 1968 Special Session.

Next, please welcome the honorable Bob Barengo. Bob served nine years in this body, from 1973 to 1982. He was Speaker pro Tempore in 1979 before being elected Speaker in 1981.

Our next guest was also elected to both houses of the Nevada Legislature, the honorable Jack Vergiels. Jack served 11 years in the Assembly and another seven in the Senate. While in the Assembly, Jack earned the title of Speaker for the 1983 Regular and 1984 Special Session.

We are also pleased to have with us the honorable Bill Bilyeu. Bill served two regular sessions and one special session. In 1985, Bill was chosen by his colleagues to preside over this body.

Most of us in this chamber have had the privilege of working with the honorable Lynn Hettrick. First elected in 1992, Assemblyman Hettrick served in the Assembly for seven regular and five special sessions. Lynn was elected Co-Speaker during the historic 1995 Session, when the Assembly was evenly divided between the two parties.

Our next guest is the first I ever called Speaker, and he probably needs no introduction. Ladies and gentleman, my friends and colleagues, please welcome the honorable Joe Dini. Joe Dini was first elected in 1966, and he continued to serve with distinction for another 35 years. During his many years of service to Nevada, Joe was chosen by his colleagues as Speaker of the Assembly for a record eight regular sessions and one special session. Joe eventually earned the title of Speaker Emeritus.

Finally, please join me in recognizing the honorable Richard Perkins. Rich was first elected to the Assembly in 1992. He rose to leadership in only his second session, when he was elected Democratic Floor Leader. Rich Perkins held the title of Speaker during the most recent three sessions and some of the most difficult special sessions this State has ever seen. Through it all, Rich led with that quiet conviction that gave rise to the nickname, the "Gentle Giant."

As an aside, the honorable Bill Swackhamer, who served as Speaker during the 1965 regular session and the 11th and 12th Special Sessions, could not attend today. He sends his best wishes.

I'd now like to ask our former Speakers to stand together. Let's show them our appreciation for their past public service and for being here today.

Mr. Secretary of State, these seven Speakers, and a long line before them, shared more than just the title. They were all committed to public service and to doing what was right, not only for their own constituents, but for the entire state. These seven Speakers and that long line before them had one other, common characteristic. They were all men. Until today.

Like the first Speaker of the Nevada Assembly, Barbara Buckley was not born in Nevada, and like the most recent Speaker of the Nevada Assembly, she was mentored by the man who held the gavel longer than anyone else. But unlike the first and last Speakers, she is the first woman chosen by her colleagues to lead the work of this Chamber.

I now live in Las Vegas, but I was born in Fallon and grew up in northern Nevada. Living near our state's capital made it possible for me to know a great many public servants. These were the best of the best, like Grant Sawyer, Richard Bryan, Alan Bible, Lawrence Jacobsen, Virgil Getto, Carl Dodge, Bill Raggio, and, of course, Joe Dini. When I was growing up, these men were larger than life to me. I counted myself fortunate when I was later able to serve with some of them.

I feel the same way about Barbara Buckley. I've known Barbara as a friend, as a mentor, and as a colleague. But more than anything else, I've known her as one of the smartest, hardest working, and most dedicated legislators this Chamber has ever seen.

We've talked a lot about the past today but today is really about the future. And one day in the future, I don't believe Barbara Buckley will be known as the first woman Speaker of the Nevada Assembly. Instead, I believe she will be known as the Speaker who improved health care for Nevada's working families. She will be known as the Speaker who did more for child welfare in this state than anyone had before her. She will be known as the Speaker who stopped predatory lending practices—the Speaker who helped senior citizens obtain prescription drugs at a price they could afford. And I am sure Barbara Buckley will be known as the Speaker who worked across the aisle and down the hall with all branches of government, with Nevadans from every corner of this state, to tackle issues like affordable housing, renewable energy, substance abuse, and education funding.

I won't speculate about whether Barbara will be also known as yet another distinguished Speaker who went on to constitutional office, Congress, or a federal judgeship, but you can bet I won't be surprised.

Mr. Secretary of State, my friends and colleagues, it is for these reasons and more that I am proud and privileged to nominate Barbara Buckley as the next Speaker of the Nevada Assembly.

Assemblyman Mabey seconded the nomination.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

I rise in support of the nomination of Assemblywoman Barbara E. Buckley as Speaker of the Assembly.

Mr. Oceguera has already mentioned Assemblywoman Buckley's many accomplishments in her profession and in her public life. When I first came to this body in 2003, Ms. Buckley was already a veteran legislator. I soon became conscious of the important role that she played, and I have come to recognize the value of her acute intelligence, her sense of justice, and her iron determination.

Over the years, we have disagreed about some things; when we disagreed, I was always certain of her sincerity and her genuine concern for the people of Nevada. In her private life as a lawyer and in her public life as a legislator, Ms. Buckley has endeavored to represent the interests of the poor, of those who are on the margins of society, and those whose voices are not often heard in these halls of power. I feel confident that she will listen to all of our voices.

That is why I am proud to second the motion and support the nomination of my friend and colleague, Barbara E. Buckley, as Speaker of the Assembly.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Mr. Secretary of State, for recognizing me. I know it is not customary, but I am grateful for this opportunity and for this breach of protocol today. I rise in strong support of the nomination of Barbara Buckley as the next Speaker of the State Assembly.

I think it's appropriate that we pause for just a moment to consider the historical and societal implications of what we are about to do: Elect the first woman Speaker of the State Assembly in the history of our great state.

We pause to reflect on 142 years of the Silver State's history, a history that is rich in the tradition of a frontier state. A history of personal responsibility and independence, of a people tough enough to live under the desert sun and the winter snows. We celebrate that history while noting that it also reflects 142 years of our state government being led by men.

There are many women, of course, who have served in these halls with great distinction, and many of them are here today. We are deeply grateful for their service. There have been women of both parties, who struggled through obstacles of class and gender to sit as equals on legislative committees and help shape our laws. However, over the years, many of these women have spoken or written of their frustration of not being invited into the inner circle where the most important decisions were being made by men. Other women insisted that their gender made no difference, and they were able to achieve their goals without needing to govern from the top position.

Nevadans have shown over the years that they are willing to elect women who reflect their political views, who work hard, and who remember their roots. That is evident by the excellent rankings Nevada has enjoyed in recent decades in terms of the percentage of women who serve in our Legislature. Women have also slowly risen through the leadership ranks, having been chosen in the past as Majority Leader of this House and Minority Leader of the other House.

Yet, until today, no woman has been elected by her peers as the Speaker of the People's House.

Until today.

And it is so fitting that a woman of the caliber of Barbara Buckley be the one designated to receive this incredible honor. Those of us who serve with her know very well she possesses tremendous attributes of political skills and personal integrity. Her intelligence, her work ethic, and her collaborative leadership style are without question. Her compassion, her negotiating skills, and her patience with the legislative process, and with all of us, are legendary. She has earned the position of Speaker through hard work and perseverance, and she has earned our respect for her many years of public service in this very House.

As we take this moment to reflect on our past, let us celebrate the present by honoring our new Speaker. While men and women alike will applaud this nomination, this moment holds a special joy for the women in this Chamber today, for the women watching these proceedings on television all over the building, for the women listening in on the Internet, and for those who will see it on the late news tonight.

For this nomination recognizes the achievements of one very special woman, but it also recognizes the contributions of all Nevada women.

And when we pause this session and in later years to look at the Speakers Wall, containing pictures of all the men who have served as Speaker for the last 142 years, we will smile when we look upon the visage of Barbara Buckley and tell our daughters, our granddaughters, and our great granddaughters of this very day when we voted upon her nomination as Speaker, and a Nevada woman finally claimed the top mantle of leadership as her very own.

Thank you, Mr. Secretary of State.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

In closing this, my Irish heart sings with joy and pride. I fully recognize the historic precedent that is about to be set and the many voices that would add to my song. The voice of support is clearly there. As representatives of our state and districts, we anxiously await the opening remarks and the high level of expectation that is going to be set by our new Speaker. As representatives of our state and our districts, we have the right to expect that high level that she will demand of us. We have seen how capable and caring she is. We are confident that the people of our state and districts will be well served.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried.

Mr. Secretary of State declared Assemblywoman Buckley to be Speaker of the Assembly.

Mr. Secretary of State appointed Assemblyman Anderson and Assemblywoman Leslie as a committee to escort the Speaker to the rostrum.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Assemblyman Mortenson moved that Secretary of State Miller be given a unanimous vote of thanks for his services to the Assembly.

Motion carried unanimously.

Madam Speaker appointed Assemblyman Carpenter and Assemblywoman Koivisto as a committee to escort the Secretary of State to the Bar of the Assembly.

The appointed committee escorted Secretary of State Miller to the Bar of the Assembly.

Remarks by Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

MADAM SPEAKER:

I am honored to be standing here as Nevada's 57th Speaker. I appreciate your faith in me, I am humbled by the opportunity, and I am excited at the possibilities of what we can accomplish together this session.

I am also honored to become Nevada's first woman to be elected Speaker and to join the three other female speakers we have across the United States from Vermont, New Hampshire, and Minnesota, as well as our first female Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States of America, Miss Nancy Pelosi.

Nevada has been a leader when it comes to women serving in the Legislature, ranking near the top, now at 33 percent.

While women have made significant progress, I think we all look forward to the day when we are not celebrating any more "firsts"—the day when women and all people of color are as evenly represented in public office as they are in our communities, and when no child is surprised at the thought that they too could one day be President.

Under Order of Business 15 later, I will be honored to introduce my husband, children, mother, sisters, longtime friends, and mentors to whom I am so grateful.

However, at this point, I would like to thank all of our Speakers for making the journey to come today. Too all of you, it is inspiring to be here with so many who created Nevada's history. I would also, especially, like to thank the three Speakers that I had the pleasure to serve with.

Speaker Dini, I learned so much from you about patience and leadership. I now give the same speeches to freshman that you gave to me. I note it with a great deal of irony every time I do it.

Speaker Hettrick, from you I learned to be out fighting for the things that you believe in and how to work across the aisle to get things done.

Speaker Perkins, I owe you my greatest debt. For your leadership, for your intelligence, for your grace under pressure, for all that you taught me, for including me in your leadership team, and for giving me the opportunity to stand here today, I thank you.

I would also like to thank the most senior members of our body: Assemblyman John Marvel, Assemblyman John Carpenter, Assemblyman Morse Arberry, and Assemblyman Bernie Anderson, who, among them, have 86 years of service. We thank you.

To the members who were elected after me and from whom I have learned so much, I thank you. There is never a session when there is nothing that a legislator can learn. The process has been made better by all of you.

There are a great many things about Nevada, but nothing is greater than the opportunities it presents. In Nevada, we have casino moguls who started by managing small pieces of their business. We have small business owners who parlayed their opportunities into huge operations and are now leaders in our community. We have children who are the first in their family to go to college. We have hard working men and women who have realized the dream of homeownership and didn't stop until their children's lives could be better than theirs.

And I have had opportunities. It is hard to believe that I arrived here in Nevada 26 years ago, without a job, without a college education, and with $800 in my pocket, but that is what Nevada is all about. And that is what America has always been about: if you work hard, if you don't give up, you can live the American dream.

And so we are fortunate to live in a state with so much opportunity and this session, each one of us is fortunate enough to have won the honor and opportunity to represent his or her district and this state—to take up the challenge to make this state a better place.

I would like to welcome and congratulate all of our new members: Assemblyman Bob Beers, Assemblyman David Bobzien, Assemblyman Ty Cobb, Assemblyman Ed Goedhart, Assemblyman Ruben Kihuen, Assemblyman James Ohrenschall, Assemblyman Tick Segerblom, Assemblyman James Settelmeyer, Assemblyman Lynn Stewart, and Assemblywoman RoseMary Womack.

As we look ahead to this upcoming session, our state faces challenges along with opportunity. We have talented children, bright and dedicated teachers, committed principals and staff. Yet we have serious problems. Our state's schools continue to rank in the bottom ten percent of the nation. A study just released in January ranks Nevada as 44th in K-12 achievement and 43rd in the Chance-for-Success Index.

We all know that the best predictor of student achievement is a qualified teacher.

But we cannot attract enough quality teachers to our state because we simply don't pay them enough to keep up with our state's cost of living. Many of our most qualified teachers are leaving the state or the profession for the same reason. We must fix this. We must pay every teacher more and we must reward the best and brightest with a "pay for performance" compensation system to reward extraordinary results.

We also need to reform high school. Too many teenagers are dropping out or tuning out because they get lost in our large high schools or tune out on an irrelevant curriculum. We need reform by creating smaller learning communities at our high schools, "school within a school" programs, and career and technical education to motivate students and prepare them for the work force.

We also need to continue incentives for teachers who teach math and science and who teach at at-risk schools—areas where we have the highest shortages.

And, we need full-day kindergarten. National studies show it works and our own studies show it works. The national trend is toward full-day kindergarten. In 1979, only 25 percent of our children attended full-day kindergarten nationwide. By 2000, it had increased to 63 percent.

The school boards and all school superintendents of all 17 regions have determined that full-day kindergarten is "imperative . . . to improve student achievement."

It seems pretty clear that a child who receives all day instruction will learn more than a child who receives two hours of instruction. Children need to begin first grade at the same level—a higher level. We need to raise our standards, not lower them.

It boils down to this: We need to decide whether we are satisfied with the status quo when it comes to education.

For the sake of our children, for the sake of our state, I hope the answer is a resounding "no" and that we move to recruit and retain excellent teachers, undertake high school reform, and implement full-day kindergarten this session.

We also have many challenges with our health care system. According to the latest census, Nevada ranks 44th in the nation in the number of its citizens who are insured, and that one in five Nevadans go without health insurance. Only 39 percent of Nevada's small businesses, under 50 [employees], offer health insurance. This year, we will have almost a thousand pregnant working women delivering their babies without health insurance, which means without prenatal care in most cases.

Many of our uninsured are crushed under medical debt. Our health care system becomes more and more complex, with consumers and employers left in the dark about the cost and quality of their health care system.

We have an opportunity this session to improve the health care status quo by giving more citizens the healthcare they deserve, by helping small businesses provide their employees with insurance, by helping pregnant women also become insured, by helping Nevadans deal with crushing medical debt, by outlawing abusive debt collection practices, by establishing programs to help Nevadans learn about the quality and cost of their healthcare, and by allowing Nevadans to comparison shop for the best prescription drug prices. Let's not let this session go by without improving health care for everybody in our state.

We also have the opportunity to help Nevada deal with the rising cost of energy. Nevada is a leader in renewable energy efforts, but we can do more. Why would we not when we have an abundance of resources—sun, wind, geothermal? This legislative session's energy agenda should do just that by allowing Nevadans to generate their own energy and sell the excess back to the rest of us. And we should encourage and provide incentives to schools and businesses to use their rooftops to generate electricity. This session, we can do more to be a leader in renewable energy, and we should do more to be a leader in renewable energy.

Lastly, there is nothing more important than the manner in which elected officials conduct themselves. This past year was a year of scandal, shame, indictments, and dishonor. How do we restore the public's trust in government and in elected officials?

First, let's take a vow to lead the way—to conduct ourselves in the most ethical manner and to look at every action we take in an effort to win back the public's trust. Second, let's adopt ethics reform: no campaign work done by taxpayer-funded staff; no more hidden money in politics by requiring LLCs to reveal their backers by filing with the Secretary of State; for ethics violations, a three-strikes-and-you're-out rule; and by requiring lobbyists to report on efforts to secure contracts and change governmental actions. We can do more to improve the public's trust. We start by looking at ourselves and by adopting serious reform. Let's not let this be another status quo session on ethics.

There are many other issues we will deal with this session, everything from transportation, affordable housing, consumer protection, and budget issues, but one thing is clear: It is time to take action on the pressing issues facing our state. It is time for practical solutions to Nevada's problems. This is our opportunity—the opportunity that each one of us has worked so hard for.

As President Lyndon B. Johnson once said, "Our duty is to appeal to the forces that unite us, and to channel the forces that divide us into paths where a democratic solution is possible. It is our obligation to resolve issues—not to create them."

The campaigns are behind us, and now is the time to come together and find solutions to our state's problems. Now is the time to serve the people who put us here. May we embark upon this session, working with honor and integrity–the honor and integrity that our citizens deserve.

Thank you very much for this honor.

COMMUNICATIONS

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

THE HONORABLE WILLIAM J. RAGGIO, THE HONORABLE BARBARA BUCKLEY, NEVADA LEGISLATURE, 401 S. CARSON STREET, CARSON CITY, NEVADA 89701

DEAR SENATOR RAGGIO AND SPEAKER BUCKLEY:

Please find enclosed my message to the 74th Session of the Nevada Legislature. As you know, I delivered the message, as required by Article 5, Section 10, of the Nevada Constitution, earlier to a gathering of your colleagues and other guests on Monday, January 22nd, 2007, in the Assembly Chambers in Carson City.

My staff and I look forward to working with all of you towards progressing our Great State of Nevada.

Sincerely,
GOVERNOR JIM GIBBONS

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the Governor's State of the State Address as presented to the Legislative Commission's Special Committee to Receive the Governor's State of the State Address of January 22, 2007, be entered in the Journal.

Speaker Buckley, Majority Leader Raggio, Lieutenant Governor Krolicki, members of the Senate and Assembly, honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, constitutional officers, distinguished guests, and my fellow citizens–It is indeed my pleasure to be here. As the 29th Governor of the State of Nevada, I am humbled and privileged to be before you tonight and excited to share my vision with you for the future of our great state of Nevada.

Before I do, I would like to thank my wife, Dawn, for her love, insight, guidance and support. As a former member of this Assembly, she is no stranger to its process, and, as First Lady she has already shown her effectiveness, particularly in raising public awareness of the dangers of methamphetamine use. I also want to extend my heartfelt gratitude to my entire family for their many sacrifices and total dedication throughout my entire 18 years of public life. Thank you so much.

On this historic occasion, I would like to recognize a remarkable Nevadan who has persevered every day since she arrived in Las Vegas in 1980. Please join me in saluting Barbara Buckley as the first female Speaker in Nevada history. She and I have proven we can effectively work together, as we did in suspending the nurses' strike in Las Vegas last month; and I am confident we can build upon our past success by mutually rejecting the counterproductive tug and pull of partisan politics. Please rise as I become the first Nevada Governor to say these words: Madam Speaker, I congratulate you and look forward to working with you to create long-term, meaningful results for all Nevadans.

I was first elected to the Nevada Assembly in 1989, and I am especially delighted to work again in this Chamber. Tonight I would like to recognize my colleagues from that 1989 Assembly, who continue to devote countless hours of work for the citizens of Nevada. John Marvel, John Carpenter, "Moose" Arberry, and my friend Senator Mike McGinness–it is a pleasure to work with you again.

But I also want to welcome incoming freshmen legislators: Senator Joyce Woodhouse and Assembly members Bob Beers, David Bobzien, Ty Cobb, Ed Goedhart, Ruben Kihuen, James Ohrenschall, Tick Segerblom, James Settelmeyer, Lynn Stewart, and RoseMary Womack. Welcome, and I look forward to working with you as well.

Lastly, I want to thank all of those people who agreed to serve on my transition team, especially former Governors List and Bryan and Lieutenant Governor Hunt. I value your input and support. Oh, yes, and, as my friends in the media have pointed out to me, for the handful of you who are not on my transition team, I value your input, too.

As many of you know, I grew up in the railroad town of Sparks, Nevada, where I was raised by hard working parents, Matilda and Leonard Gibbons. My parents instilled in me the core values that have contributed greatly to my ability to fly a jet, become a lawyer, serve in Congress, and now be a governor. They taught me at an early age about the power of partnership and the can-do pioneer attitude that makes us Nevadans different.

Nevada has changed so much since my childhood years in Sparks. I remember as a kid, we would joke that there is just one person for each of our 110,000 square miles in Nevada. Today, that ratio would be 22 times greater. When I graduated from Sparks High School, Washoe County had a population of 85,000 people, Clark County had 127,000, and Ormsby County had 8,000.

By the year 2010, Clark County will have nearly two million residents and 170,000 hotel rooms--nearly as many rooms as in the combined cities of New York and Chicago. In that same period, Washoe County will grow to 500,000 residents and Carson City will have nearly 65,000.

It is hard to believe that, in less than 50 years, our state has grown tenfold and Clark County 15-fold. These statistics force us to think differently, to adjust our mindset and become more innovative, especially when it applies to government. We simply cannot run the government the same way we have been doing it.

As I said in my inaugural speech, we now have a unique opportunity and challenge – to take the 143 years of growth and progress that has created the Nevada of today, and set a course for the future: A future that brings together the diverse communities and citizens of this great state into a common cause – One Nevada.

As a fighter pilot in Vietnam and the Persian Gulf War, and former Vice Commander of the Nevada Air National Guard, I want to salute the men and women serving in our military around the globe. You know, Nevada has one of the highest percentages of National Guard members serving in foreign lands, and a large number of them are engaged in the fight on terror in Iraq today. On behalf of a profoundly grateful State, we appreciate everything they do to continue to defend our liberty.

At this time, ladies and gentlemen, I would ask for a moment of silence for the 48 fallen Nevadans who, since 2001, have given their lives to protect ours. Thank you.

On March 23, 2003, Nevada lost Marine Lance Corporal Donald J. Cline in Iraq, but his memory continues to live on through his family who join us this evening. We must always remember those who have fallen for our freedom, and we express our gratitude by recognizing Lance Corporal Cline's two sons, Dillon and Dakota, and his loving wife, Tina. Please rise. Thank you so much for being here. You inspire us all. I also want to thank the Nevada Patriot Fund for raising private funds to support families like the Clines who have lost loved ones in war.

Because I have such confidence in the Guard and the lessons associated with military service, I am including in this budget $1.7 million to the Nevada National Guard Youth Challenge Program, where troubled youth can be educated and given the ability to start over.

My fellow Nevadans, our economy is robust, our workforce is teeming, our job growth is healthy, and unemployment rate is low; and for the first time as Governor, I am proud to announce that the state of our state is strong.

Over the past biennium, Nevada has once again exceeded the nation in economic growth. While Arizona has moved ahead of Nevada as the fastest growing state in the U.S., we have added more than 100,000 residents annually since 2004. Both personal income and employment have continued to grow at rates far above the national average.

While our state economy has greatly diversified over the past decade, gaming remains a driving force behind our revenue base. Several large, new gaming projects are underway in Clark County and promise to further strengthen Nevada's economic status. In this 75th year of legalized gaming in Nevada, optimism in the tourism market remains high. It is estimated more than 41 million visitors will come to Las Vegas in 2009 – that is up from 35 million at the beginning of the decade.

The total number of jobs in Nevada grew by 58,000 between November 2005 and 2006, and job gains in Nevada continue to outpace the nation as a whole.

In order to sustain this economic strength, I firmly believe we need to form a new kind of government: one that is leaner, more responsive, a combine, if you will, for new ideas, and, most of all, a government that gives Nevadans the tools they need to make the most of their lives. This is my vision for Nevada.

I have submitted to you a $7 billion budget that does not include new or increased taxes, but squarely focuses attention on innovation and new thinking. During the campaign, I met with thousands and thousands of Nevadans, who think as I do, that we must streamline our government and make it more responsive –all while living within our means. I respectfully submit a budget to you that meets those goals.

Additionally, this budget is $158 million below the spending cap that was first enacted in 1979, but has not affected the budget process until now. For the first time in our state's history, a spending cap will govern how we build budgets and how we spend money. This is the new budget reality in Nevada, and I believe we should embrace it.

My budget also includes one-time appropriations to support vital areas of statewide community interest, including Opportunity Village in Las Vegas for $12 million; $10 million for the Nevada Cancer Institute; $10 million for the Lou Ruvo Brain Institute in Las Vegas; $6.5 million for a courthouse improvement in White Pine County; $3.5 million for the Institute for Neuro-Immune Disease at the School of Medicine; and $2 million for the Nevada Discovery Museum in Reno. These are critical Nevada assets, and I urge your approval.

Exercising fiscal discipline demands more than a promise of no new taxes; it requires having the willpower to save in good times for those downturns and unexpected hardships that will inevitably come.

We all recall the financial impacts our state absorbed after 9/11. To protect ourselves from man-made or natural catastrophes in the future, we must set aside money to shield our citizens from harm. My budget includes an additional $36 million to the Rainy Day Fund, for a total of $303 million. Yes, some will argue it is not enough or too much, but nary a person can say this is not prudent planning.

The 9/11 Commission made many recommendations to promote the security of the nation. One of its findings concluded that the nation and the states are vulnerable because public safety responders cannot communicate as one entity in a time of crisis. We need to address our lack of radio capability among all first responders. I will work with the Legislature to find the necessary funds to construct the Nevada Four Core Public Safety Radio Network. The security of Nevadans, our tourists, and our economy demand this action.

During the campaign I promised Nevadans I would save them money, and I will stand by my word. Tonight, I am proud to announce that I will be seeking a 4.6 percent decrease in the modified business tax, from .65 to .62 percent, resulting in a $28 million tax relief for 55,748 Nevada businesses. In addition, I am proposing to eliminate the $1,750 per branch, quarterly excise tax for banks.

Key among the Nevada workforce are dedicated public employees, including state employees, university employees and teachers. We must continue to invest in this important group of workers, and I am proposing a six percent increase in pay for these hardworking individuals. I propose a two percent increase in the first year and a four percent increase in the second year, which will free up an additional $31 million in funds, which I will re-allocate to cover future pension and health care costs for retired public employees.

If we do not address the multi billion dollar health care liability today, we will be sticking our heads in the sand and pretending this serious issue does not exist. As Nevada government leaders, we cannot afford to pretend.

Hand in hand with paying down the four-billion-dollar health care liability, I will be urging you to pass legislation to reconstitute the nine member Public Employees' Benefit Program Board in order to establish a new panel of experts and professionals who have the appropriate skill set to lead our state through what is a looming financial storm. Send me this legislation, and I will sign it immediately.

Sadly, Nevada has one of the highest methamphetamine addiction rates in the country and the highest rate for people 12 years and older…and everyone--I repeat, everyone--is at risk. The addiction has had devastating effects on families, schools, the criminal justice system and the economy. However, with the right balance of awareness, treatment and prevention, this seemingly untamed demon drug can be overcome. Please join me in applauding Kendra Furlong, who appeared in the recent TV documentary Crystal Darkness, for her courage and honesty in talking publicly about meth addiction. Kendra, you and others like you who are conquering the addiction, are an inspiration to us all. Thank you for being here tonight.

Earlier today, by Executive Order, I established a meth working group to be chaired by Attorney General Catherine Cortez-Masto and to consist of law enforcement, state agencies, legislators, the First Lady, and others who are on the front lines fighting this epidemic. I have asked the working group to make recommendations to the Legislature on or before April 1, so that the Legislature can swiftly authorize the appropriate action and funding to strike a decisive blow against the traffickers of meth, while also helping those hooked on meth to break free.

Ladies and gentlemen, this is the colossal struggle of our times. It will require uncommon collaboration, compassion and coordination. Additionally, I have placed in this budget ten new public safety officers to fight the rise of meth and the distribution in our communities, particularly in our rural communities, where the problem appears to be most acute. I have also included $2 million for the Department of Health and Human Services for meth education and treatment for a grand total of $17 million in this budget directed toward fighting the scourge of methamphetamine.

A top priority of my Administration will be to develop more affordable housing in Nevada. How often do we hear that workforce housing is not available for new hires or that a teacher or nurse cannot find an affordable home so they decide not to relocate here? It is, in my opinion, far too frequent, and we must do something about it. I am directing that we establish a program to support the housing needs of teachers, nurses and other first-time homebuyers through the sale of tax-exempt bonds. It will be modeled after the California Housing Finance Agency and be self-supporting by selling bonds repaid by revenues generated through mortgage loans, not by tax dollars.

Let's start a similar program so that we can help all Nevadans achieve the American dream of home ownership.

I am also proposing a major improvement to the Homestead Act by raising the amount of protection for property from $350,000 to $550,000. Nevada's escalating home prices require such a change. In our larger counties, I am proposing to do away with the fee for filing a homestead exemption for your primary property, and, instead, allowing homesteading for second residences or vacation homes with a voluntary fee of 1/10 of 1 percent. This will stimulate real estate investment in Nevada and potentially create new revenue to be shared between the counties that collect it and the state.

No matter what you think, no natural resource in the State of Nevada is as critical or as controversial as water. We have the driest state in the nation and one of the highest rates of growth – a combination that places tremendous stress on our precious water resources.

I will be asking that the Desert Research Institute conduct water inventories for Nevada. Two key collaborators, the State Engineer's Office and the Desert Research Institute, will identify priority needs and collect information to reduce potential future conflicts. The initial two-year phase of this program will be funded with an appropriation of two million dollars. One clear way to enhance the current process is to ensure that the best scientific information is available for making decisions. There is no question that water data requires updating and expansion to ensure our economy grows and the quality of life is maintained in our rural counties.

This much needed updating is essential for future planning purposes, but must not be allowed to interfere with pending decision making in the State Engineer's Office.

And, as the demand for water continues to increase, water conservation measures become critical in managing and extending our water resources. Conservation programs do not require the public necessarily to give up certain water uses; rather they encourage the public to engage in those uses more efficiently. We must become more water aware, and I urge all Nevadans to participate in using this resource more wisely.

I call upon the Legislature to pass a bill to prohibit the government from taking private property without the consent of the owner, and then conveying it to another person or entity for redevelopment purposes.

I also respectfully request that the Legislature pass a constitutional amendment as an alternative to Question 2 on last year's ballot. This amendment should contain most of the provisions of Question 2 to protect property owners, but should modify some of the language that could cause significant delays and cost increases for our state and local transportation projects. Through the legislative hearing process, we should be able to find the proper way to balance the rights of property owners, taxpayers, and the motorists.

The Guinn Millennium Scholarship is one of the most important tools we have to enable the best and the brightest Nevada students to remain in Nevada for their higher education. The reality is that, if we did nothing to save the program, it would be insolvent by 2013. I am directing an additional $5.6 million from unclaimed property receipts to shore up the scholarship fund and secure it for Nevada students far into the future. Part and parcel to stabilizing the Millennium Scholarship is acknowledgement that it must be streamlined in terms of eligibility standards, with greater emphases placed on nursing, math, science, and teaching degrees. I urge you to strengthen scholarship guidelines so Millennium Scholarships are available for our children's children.

We have opened the doors to higher education through Millennium Scholarships, so we must be equally dedicated to raising standards, expectations, and accountability in kindergarten through 12th grade.

Although full-day kindergarten has been labeled a top priority by the state's superintendents and others, I respect their opinion; but I believe the fiscally responsible approach is to continue to support the existing pilot program at current funding levels in at-risk schools. Therefore, I have committed $50 million to do so and I strongly support maintaining this pilot program. I look forward to utilizing the next 24 months to assess its benefits, to measure how effective the program is, and to gauge the infrastructure demands of introducing full-day kindergarten throughout the state. If the results are positive, we will pursue it next session. If they are not, we will have exercised good fiscal policy.

Today the institution of public education needs bold and decisive leadership to better respond to the challenges that confront us. Our current standings in education on a national and worldwide front are simply unacceptable.

I propose an innovative yet proven education plan known as Empowerment that will directly address the majority of the long-standing challenges in public education today: challenges like falling graduation rates, parental participation, teacher recruitment, funding inequities, and lack of resources in the classroom. Parents will be empowered with school choice for their children, while principals and teachers will be able to decide at the individual school level how best and most effectively to teach their own unique populations of students. Through this powerful program, we will empower our educators to be more responsive to their schools' individual circumstances and the diversity of their student populations. And, teachers will be equitably paid for a job well done, based on tangible measures, and rewarded for results in student achievement.

Sitting with us tonight is the architect and father of the Edmonton Empowerment Program, Michael Strembitsky, who, for the better part of his adult life, has worked to change the education system one parent at a time, teacher by teacher, and student by student. We are so honored to have him here with us tonight. Michael, please stand. As Mr. Strembitsky can attest, in addition to raising achievement, the education empowerment model is fundamentally designed to increase both teacher pay and the prestige of becoming a teacher.

I will, therefore, be redirecting $60 million in the budget for an extensive Empowerment pilot program initially involving 100 schools that will be converting their operations to this bold new approach--an approach started in Canada 30 years ago and successfully working in New York City, Houston and San Francisco. In San Francisco, after five years, that school district has shown steady growth and is now the top performing urban school district in California.

Join me in changing our education system with a single bold stroke.

Two weeks ago, an incident in Las Vegas served us with yet another stark reminder of the constant danger gun violence presents on or near our school campuses. I will work with the Legislature to increase funding for school security throughout the state. If children do not feel safe at school, we cannot expect them to feel secure enough to learn.

Our higher education system has eight institutions – two universities, one state college, four community colleges and one research institute. One has a medical school, one a dental school, seven have nursing colleges, and there are at least 200 programs spread throughout all eight institutions that are directly related to health sciences. Not only have these programs never been coordinated under one administrative structure, but they have competed against each other to the detriment of the entire System.

We need to centralize these health science programs under one coherent management plan, and to do it, I am providing $110 million for the University of Nevada Health Sciences System, while another $47 million in matching funds will be raised through private donors across the state. This model of public-private partnership will set a valuable precedent for the future of higher education for Nevada.

Ladies and gentlemen, there are too many highways becoming gridlocked, and transportation issues are increasingly central to the quality of life we enjoy. A well-functioning highway system is vital to Nevada's economy and will be a major factor in how we move forward in the future.

My administration will aggressively pursue opportunities created through public-private cooperative efforts. To facilitate this, I have directed the Department of Transportation to create an Advisory Panel on Public-Private Initiatives to explore new opportunities for transportation improvements. Moreover, I have asked NDOT Director Susan Martinovich to make southern Nevada needs a priority for her department, including spending a considerable amount of her own time in Las Vegas; and, let me say, she has agreed with great enthusiasm.

I am committing $170 million for highway projects that will be dedicated to help widen I-15 from the Spaghetti Bowl to the Apex Interchange, build new ramps at the I-15/215 Beltway interchange and an I-15 Freeway Management System, including message signs and closed-circuit television cameras. And in northern Nevada, we will be working toward widening I-80 from Robb to Vista and US 395 from the Spaghetti Bowl, yes we have one in the north, to Stead Boulevard.

An effort to fast-track proposed transportation projects must become the rule instead of the exception because bureaucratic delays dramatically increase the cost of each project, create job losses, and, ultimately, we all suffer.

The Blue Ribbon Task Force evaluated Nevada's growing transportation crisis and concluded that projects planned for the years 2008 through 2015 require at least an additional $3.8 billion in revenue. The Task Force's "Roads to the Future" report was particularly useful and we will rely on it as a guideline going forward.

But let me say tonight, and I wish to restate here, however, that I will not support raising the gas tax.

No budget discussion is complete without working through the thicket of Medicaid and healthcare issues. Nevada's Medicaid program provides essential health care services to low-income families, as well as the frail, elderly, and disabled. However, this entitlement program is increasingly consuming a larger share of the state budget. It is essential we reform Medicaid to assure it continues to provide health care services to so many in our community.

Many Nevadans in our Medicaid program find it increasingly difficult to access physician services they need. Fewer physicians are taking on new Medicaid patients. Declining access is directly tied to how much Medicaid pays its physicians. On the national level, Congress recognized that reductions to Medicare physician fees would result in fewer doctors seeing patients.

Therefore, I am proposing to increase Nevada Medicaid physician payments up to the most recent federal Medicare fee schedule, while also holding physicians responsible for the care they provide. At the same time, we need to encourage quality healthcare professionals and private healthcare providers to move to and stay in Nevada.

My budget proposes that individuals have access to a professional health care coordinator who would help them sort out our confusing health care system. Coordinating health care services in Medicaid is a key part of controlling Medicaid spending. However, we also need to explore alternatives for better managing what consumes almost 70 percent of the Medicaid budget. I propose we give Nevadans on Medicaid a choice in how they access their health care.

Clark County emergency rooms continue to have large numbers of mental health patients occupying beds in spite of significant service improvements, including the opening of the new Rawson Neal Psychiatric Hospital and the use of a state Mobile Crisis Assessment Team to service local hospitals.

I am providing $7.5 million to assist in alleviating the ER crisis by opening an additional 22 acute-care beds, bringing the total state funded beds in Clark County to 238.

My budget also provides for continued funding of $2.8 million for triage centers in northern and southern Nevada. Triage centers reduce overcrowding and provide more efficient use of public and private resources.

My budget also provides six million dollars for funding of the mental health courts in Las Vegas, Reno, and Carson City. These programs have contributed to reduced criminal activity and hospitalization of the severely mentally ill.

I am also providing ongoing funding for the 90 community residential beds in Las Vegas that were temporarily funded by the 2005 Legislature. The availability of these community beds allows for reduced inpatient stays in psychiatric hospitals, saves tax dollars, and reduces overcrowding of local emergency rooms.

Nevada continues to stand out as having the fastest growing senior population in the nation. I want to enhance the availability of community-based services to allow seniors to live in their homes and communities, rather than staying in nursing homes. I propose an increase to the three Medicaid waivers serving Nevadans, age 60 plus, by 15 percent to allow seniors more options for community living.

I agree with U.S. Health and Human Services Secretary Mike Leavitt, who said, "Every American should have access to a full range of information about the quality and cost of their health care options." I believe everyone deserves to know both the quality and cost of his or her health care. Our communities, health care leaders, and partners can join together to define and establish benchmarks for measuring quality care, understanding healthcare price, and the cost for care.

The 2005 Legislative Session passed Senate Bill 357 to fund treatment and prevention programs for problem gambling. Treatment programs previously available only in Las Vegas or Reno are now available in Elko, Ely, Fallon, Hawthorne, Lovelock, Pioche, and Stateline.

My budget includes funding to continue state-supported initiatives with full-time administrative staff to move Nevada from the back seat to the driver's seat in responsible gambling.

Two strategic areas that will receive special attention in my administration are the needs for greater economic development and energy independence.

I have included in the Executive Budget $10 million in unclaimed property receipts to create a dynamic new economic development program, modeled after the hugely successful program in Georgia. Working with Lieutenant Governor Brian Krolicki, we will launch this new program to work with the best of Nevada's research facilities in creating new high-tech, biotech and, renewable energy types of industries. Funds will be used to hire world-class researchers who will bring their work to Nevada. Ladies and gentlemen, this will provide high-end jobs for Nevadans and is ideally suited for the current 38,000 millennium scholars graduating in the coming years.

Rural Nevada businesses are often the engines for economic development and tourism in their rural communities, and my administration is examining creative ways to provide an economic stimulus in rural Nevada. We need to look for more ways to increase energy independence because Nevada offers one of the best opportunities for development of renewable energy. I applaud the actions the Legislature took last session to ramp up the incentives for greater production of solar, wind, biomass and geothermal energy, but we must also increase the diversity and supply of all fuels and not allow ourselves to become too reliant on one fuel source.

After visiting with Wyoming Governor Freudenthal and seeing what his state is doing, I will encourage the creation of a coal-to-liquids fuel plant in Nevada, similar to the successful plant in Wyoming. It would use existing rail to transport coal to the plant to convert that coal to diesel and jet fuel for use at our airports. It could also create natural gas to be injected into a natural gas pipeline for our domestic use.

I will recommend continuing to provide incentives to the utilities to improve the environment, reduce greenhouse gases, stimulate job growth, hedge against fossil fuel volatility, and help guarantee availability. Additionally, through the Executive Order, I will direct State Purchasing to do more performance-based contracting on all state buildings for energy and water conservation retrofits. These efforts will be financed through the savings generated by conservation and require no additional state funds. And to accomplish these energy goals, we will need a stronger state energy office.

This year marks the tenth anniversary of the first Lake Tahoe Summit, where our delegation, along with California, recognized the national treasure of Lake Tahoe and collectively made a $908 million commitment to protecting and enhancing this wonder of the Sierra.

I am pleased to report that Nevada has made good on that promise. To date, we have committed $72 million to environmental improvement projects in the Lake Tahoe Basin, and the Lake is cleaner and clearer as a result. I support the final installment for the Lake Tahoe Environmental Improvement Program and, this summer, at the annual summer summit, we will reaffirm Nevada's commitment to the protection of Lake Tahoe.

I will also be working with our delegation and the BLM toward preserving wildlife habitat after wildfires blackened more than 1.3 million acres across Nevada last year, primarily in Elko County, where most of that habitat damage occurred.

The last two years have seen significant tactical victories in our long and tough battle to keep Nevada from becoming the nation's nuclear waste dump. That effort, with the leadership of our delegation, must continue, which is why I have doubled Nevada's legal effort. As Senator Reid has said, now is not the time to claim victory, but rather to finish the job and end this unwise, unscientific, and politically punitive program.

The voting public is concerned that there is not enough transparency in Nevada's election process. These concerns often frustrate voters to a point where they choose not to participate in the political process altogether.

I intend to work with the Legislature and Secretary of State Ross Miller to develop an on-line system in which contributions are reported more frequently. Current state law requires disclosure of contributions only in excess of $100 three times annually.

That is not good enough. I will ask the Legislature to require that state candidates show their full Contributions and Expenses Report before early voting starts. Voters do have the right to know who is financing campaigns before they cast that ballot.

During last year's campaign, I met with many concerned Nevadans regarding legislation protecting our families from sex offenders. I will ask the Legislature to require out-of-state sex offenders to submit DNA samples, require registration prior to release from prison, 30-day re-registration for transient offenders, and expansion of the global positioning system program that forces pedophiles and sex offenders to wear bracelets so that they do not go undetected in our communities. As it should be, these offenders would pick up the cost of the GPS bracelet as a condition of their parole. I ask for your support in aggressively tracking these sexual predators who live among us.

The surplus revenue that we have today came about because Nevada remains one of the best places in the world to relocate and grow a business. I believe it is my job to foster a business climate that encourages investment in our state, to have government help when necessary, and to get out of the way where possible.

Changing the way we view and fund education, creating fresh alternatives for affordable housing, broadening the Homestead Act, cracking down on sex offenders, strengthening the importance of public-private partnerships in government planning, reforming Medicaid, prioritizing transportation funding, and doing it all without raising tax–some have reported this as radical; I consider it responsible.

There is much to do, and tomorrow the budget committees begin their work. It will require a valiant effort by each of us, and a willingness to believe in our capacity to perform great deeds; to believe that together, as one Nevada, we can do anything.

We will not always agree, but I give you my solemn word, that when we do disagree, it will be with honor, respect and civility. Nevadans deserve no less.

In closing, I can assure you that I have not forgotten my early life lessons about the power of partnership and the importance of the pioneer, can-do attitude that makes us Nevadans different.

I am proud to be your Governor. God bless America. And God bless the Great State of Nevada. Thank you.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that vetoed Assembly Bill No. 505 of the 73rd Session be made a Special Order of Business for Thursday, February 8, 2007, at 11:15 a.m.

Motion carried.

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8 of the 73rd Session—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to specify that the number of signatures required on a petition for referendum or a petition for initiative is to be determined when, before circulating the petition for signatures, a copy of the petition is filed with the Secretary of State.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 1 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 1. 1. A person who intends to circulate a petition that a statute or resolution or part thereof enacted by the Legislature be submitted to a vote of the people, before circulating the petition for signatures, shall file a copy thereof with the Secretary of State. He shall file the copy not earlier than August 1 of the year before the year in which the election will be held.

2. Whenever a number of registered voters of this State equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election shall express their wish by filing with the Secretary of State, not less than 120 days before the next general election, a petition in the form provided for in Section 3 of this Article that any statute or resolution or any part thereof enacted by the Legislature be submitted to a vote of the people, the officers charged with the duties of announcing and proclaiming elections and of certifying nominations or questions to be voted upon shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding election at which such question may be voted upon by the registered voters of the entire state. The number of registered voters required to file the petition must be determined at the time the copy of the petition is filed with the Secretary of State pursuant to this Section. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest.

3. If a majority of the voters voting upon the proposal submitted at such election votes approval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof, such statute or resolution or any part thereof shall stand as the law of the State and shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside, suspended or in any way made inoperative except by the direct vote of the people. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof, such statute or resolution or any part thereof shall be void and of no effect.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1 of Article 4 of this Constitution, but subject to the limitations of Section 6 of this Article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes and amendments to statutes and amendments to this Constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition shall be in the form required by Section 3 of this Article and shall be proposed by a number of registered voters equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in not less than 75 percent of the counties in the State, but the total number of registered voters signing the initiative petition shall be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire state at the last preceding general election. The number of registered voters required to file the petition must be determined at the time the copy of the petition is filed with the Secretary of State pursuant to this Section.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the Legislature is held. After its circulation, it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 30 days prior to any regular session of the Legislature. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall transmit such petition to the Legislature as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes. The petition shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby shall be enacted or rejected by the Legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, such statute or amendment to a statute shall become law, but shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in Section 1 of this Article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the Legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the Secretary of State shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of such statute or amendment to a statute, it shall become law and take effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the Legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If the Legislature rejects such proposed statute or amendment, the Governor may recommend to the Legislature and the Legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after such different measure has been approved by the Governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure shall be submitted by the Secretary of State to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters are both approved by a majority of the voters voting on such measures, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes shall thereupon become law. If at the session of the Legislature to which an initiative petition proposing an amendment to a statute is presented which the Legislature rejects or upon which it takes no action, the Legislature amends the statute which the petition proposes to amend in a respect which does not conflict in substance with the proposed amendment, the Secretary of State in submitting the statute to the voters for approval or disapproval of the proposed amendment shall include the amendment made by the Legislature.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the Constitution, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than September 1 of the year before the year in which the election is to be held. After its circulation it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 90 days before any regular general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire state. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the State, together with any explanatory matter which shall be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on the petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as such question was originally submitted. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, it shall, unless precluded by subsection 5 or 6, become a part of this Constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court.

5. If two or more measures which affect the same section of a statute or of the Constitution are finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment to the Constitution is finally so approved and an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified which affect the same section, by the voters at the same election:

(b) If one or more contradict in substance the other or others, the measure which received the largest favorable vote, and any other approved measure compatible with it, shall be given effect. If the one or more measures that contradict in substance the other or others receive the same number of favorable votes, none of the measures that contradict another shall be given effect.

6. If, at the same election as the first approval of a constitutional amendment pursuant to this Section, another amendment is finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified, which affects the same section of the Constitution but is compatible with the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit at the next general election the amendment given first approval as a further amendment to the section as amended by the amendment given final approval or ratified. If the amendment finally approved or ratified contradicts in substance the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall not submit the amendment given first approval to the voters again.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 16 of the 73rd Session—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to provide requirements for the enactment of property and sales tax exemptions.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section, designated Section 6, be added to Article 10 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 6. 1. The Legislature shall not enact an exemption from any ad valorem tax on property or excise tax on the sale, storage, use or consumption of tangible personal property sold at retail unless the Legislature finds that the exemption:

(a) Will achieve a bona fide social or economic purpose and the benefits of the exemption are expected to exceed any adverse effect of the exemption on the provision of services to the public by the State or a local government that would otherwise receive revenue from the tax from which the exemption would be granted; and

(b) Will not impair adversely the ability of the State or a local government to pay, when due, all interest and principal on any outstanding bonds or any other obligations for which revenue from the tax from which the exemption would be granted was pledged.

2. In enacting an exemption from any ad valorem tax on property or excise tax on the sale, storage, use or consumption of tangible personal property sold at retail, the Legislature shall:

(a) Ensure that the requirements for claiming the exemption are as similar as practicable for similar classes of taxpayers; and

(b) Provide a specific date on which the exemption will cease to be effective.

The report shall be made available to all members of both Houses. The whole subject matter embraced in the bill or resolution shall be considered by the committee, and it may recommend recession by either House, new amendments, new bills or resolutions, or other changes as it sees fit. The report of a conference committee may be adopted by acclamation, and such action may be considered equivalent to the adoption of amendments embodied therein. The report is not subject to amendment. If either House refuses to adopt the report, or if the first conference committee has so recommended, a second conference committee may be appointed. No member who served on the first committee may be appointed to the second.

There shall be but two conference committees on any bill or resolution. A majority of the members of a conference committee from each House must be members who voted for the passage of the bill or resolution.

Each enrolled bill or joint resolution shall be presented to the presiding officers of both Houses for signature. They shall, after an announcement of their intention to do so is made in open session, sign the bill or joint resolution and their signatures shall be followed by those of the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Rule No. 5. Joint Sponsorship.

1. A bill or resolution introduced by a standing committee of the Senate or Assembly may, at the direction of the chairman of the committee, set forth the name of a standing committee of the other House as a joint sponsor, if a majority of all members appointed to the committee of the other House votes in favor of becoming a joint sponsor of the bill or resolution. The name of the committee joint sponsor must be set forth on the face of the bill or resolution immediately below the date on which the bill or resolution is introduced.

2. A bill or resolution introduced by one or more Legislators elected to one House may, at the direction of the Legislator who brings the bill or resolution forward for introduction, set forth the names of one or more Legislators who are members elected to the other House and who wish to be primary joint sponsors or non-primary joint sponsors of the bill or resolution. Not more than five Legislators from each House may be set forth on the face of a bill or resolution as primary joint sponsors. The names of each primary joint sponsor and non-primary joint sponsor must be set forth on the face of the bill or resolution in the following order immediately below the date on which the bill or resolution is introduced:

(a) The name of each primary joint sponsor, in the order indicated on the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution; and

3. The Legislative Counsel shall not cause to be printed the name of a standing committee as a joint sponsor on the face of a bill or resolution unless the chairman of the committee has signed his name next to the name of the committee on the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution that was submitted to the front desk of the House of origin or the statement required by subsection 5. The Legislative Counsel shall not cause to be printed the name of a Legislator as a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor on the face of a bill or resolution unless the Legislator has signed the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution that was submitted to the front desk of the House of origin or the statement required by subsection 5.

When the message is received, or (if made a special order) when the special order is called, the said message or statement must be read together with the bill or bills so disapproved or vetoed. The message and bill must be read by the Chief Clerk without interruption, consecutively, one following the other, and not upon separate occasions. No such bill or message may be referred to any committee, or otherwise acted upon save as provided by law and custom; that is to say, that immediately following such reading the only question (except as hereinafter stated) which may be put by the Speaker is, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" It shall not be in order, at any time, to vote upon such a vetoed bill unless the same shall first have been read, from the first word of its title to and including the last word of its final section. No motion may be entertained after the Speaker has stated the question, save a motion to adjourn or a motion for the previous question, but the merits of the bill itself may be debated. The message or statement containing the objections of the Governor to the bill must be entered in the Journal of the Assembly. ASSEMBLYWOMAN ALLEN:

I am very proud to have my family here today. First, I'd like to introduce my grandmother, Dilly Allen. We've begun the month-long celebration of her ninetieth birthday. If you see her in the hallways, please tell her happy birthday. She is the matriarch of our family and I'm so glad she's been able to join us, despite some recent health problems. In addition to that, I have my aunt Erin Allen Camden, who worked very diligently during the campaign cycle to help run an always hectic and somewhat combative campaign cycle. Also, I have with me here my uncle, Yun Shik Oh, who has traveled from Seoul, Korea, representing my family in South Korea. I thank him for making the long trip and for my family's support, as always. My little brother, Harry Allen, is not so little anymore. After a tour of duty in the United States Army, he went to school on the G.I. Bill. He graduated and is now pursuing the American dream as a small business owner in southern California.

Lastly, my mother, who I'm eternally grateful for—both my parents—for their long-term support in any endeavor I've chosen to pursue. I'm grateful.

In addition to that, my family taught me several things, including responsibility, discipline, and the value of hard work. I hope these principles guide us throughout the next 120 days. We have to be responsible, keeping in mind the people who sent us here, always remembering that I could not be here without the help of my family. We wouldn't be here without the people we represent back at home. We are responsible for being stewards of their money and ensuring that every tax dollar spent benefits as many people as possible. We must be disciplined. This year we have more money to spend than in the history of our state. We have to remember that this money is not to be played with or to find every little pet project that all our members champion. We have to be stewards of the people's trust and must act accordingly.

To be responsible and disciplined requires our sweat equity. Ensuring a successful investment in our state's future will demand hard work, long hours, and undoubtedly many sleepless nights. I look forward to tackling the challenges of this state. Let's get to work, together. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

The last hold out, the one that stuck to the very end, is my student aide from UNR, John Ward. I had earlier with me, of course, my grandson, Conner Lindloff, and his mother and father; my daughter, Cairn; and my son-in-law, Eric. My wife, of course, Clyda, who is the most important support that keeps me doing anything in life. I think I would have stayed in bed many, many days and not faced the reality of life without her. She is the most important part of my life—there are no two ways—and she continues to be. My daughter, Natha Clyde, who was my campaign manager this time—and you can imagine anyone trying to manage me, even for a family member, it is a difficult task at best. My niece, Kelly Gardner, and Rick Gardner, her husband, and two of their children were with me this time as they have been for every session but my first. My brother, Eddie, and his wife, Lani, who is, of course, one of the great heroes in our family because of a wide series of tragedies.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I want to first of all thank you for your friendship, your guidance, and your leadership through the years. I want to thank the voters in my district for bestowing this honor on me. It is really humbling. I'm really lucky to have four guests today who care a lot about me. Two of them have set quite an example of public service for me. My mother graduated law school in 1968 and came out to Nevada in 1969. One of her first jobs was as a law clerk here at the Legislative Counsel Bureau. She worked under the tutelage of one of our state's greatest attorneys, Mr. Frank Daykin, who was the assistant legislative counsel at that time. Later, he went on to serve our state as the Legislative Counsel for the State of Nevada.

My mother would return to the state of Nevada capital as an Assemblywoman from District 12 in 1994, when you were first elected, Madam Speaker. She served for 12 years, passing some landmark legislation in the areas of domestic violence, strategic lawsuits against public participation, and protection of free speech. My mother and stepdad continue to serve the state, representing Nevada at the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws. I'm really proud that they are here. They have been wonderful parents to my sister and I.

My friend, Milton Wagner, flew up from Phoenix. He and I went to the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. We both studied economics. Milton graduated magna cum laude with a B.S. in economics. He was the Outstanding Economics Student from UNLV. He went on to law school at George Washington University, where he was managing editor of the Law Review. This summer, he sat for the Arizona bar exam. When he was done, he had the option of going on a long hiking trip in Arizona, through the Grand Canyon. He decided to come and do some hiking over in District 12 of Clark County. He helped me go door to door campaigning. He's a really wonderful friend to give up a vacation.

The last person I would like to thank is a really special lady in my life, my sister, Katie Ross. She managed my campaign. I was no picnic as a candidate. Katie did not inherit the political junky thing that runs in our family. It was really a labor of love for her, just wanting to see her brother not be heartbroken after the election. I really owe a lot to my sister.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

You know that I am thrilled that you are up there, Madam Speaker. I'm thrilled to be a part of this historic day. I'm glad my family could be here to share with me. They've had to make their way out. I had with me today my lovely wife, Brenda, and our son, William Henry Horne II, who many of you got to meet. He was born right in the middle of my first session in 2003. Chloe, my daughter, was born in July right after our last session in 2005. I had my in-laws with me; Brenda's mother, Evelyn Guigon; and Hugo Raffone. They made the trip up here. This was the first time they were able to come. I'm glad they were here.

I had my mother, Mary Horne Jackson, here with me. She's been on the floor with me at the start of session each time I've been here. Today I wanted to share with everyone here that she told me how proud she was of me. My father passed away when I was 12 years old—just before my twelfth birthday—after his second tour of Vietnam. He came home and was ill. She gave me his star sapphire ring. She said, "This is the last thing I have of his." She gave it to me today. She was pleased to see me here with my son in my lap, who was named after him, William Henry Horne. That is why I named him that. It reminds me on this historic day—and your speech, Madam Speaker—on how we want to make Nevada much better. A lot of us in here who have children, we watch them grow up, and we want them to go on and do wonderful things in their lives and be wonderful people and meet wonderful people. My mother has gotten to see me sit in this body, with my son in my lap, who was named after my father. He gets to see this. He was born during this. Now, I do not know how long I will be doing this, but one day he will be able to walk the halls, he and sisters, and be able to say, "That's my dad. I met these people. This state is this way because of them." And this is why I enjoy it.

I want to thank everyone here for this opportunity to be here again on this historic day. To those freshmen who are here, enjoy it. Have a wonderful time while you are doing it. Keep sight of why you are doing this. All of us are doing it for the same reason. We want Nevada to be a wonderful state to live in, and we want Nevada to be a wonderful state for our children and our grandchildren to live in.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

I was holding off a bit until my son got home from school. He's watching this on the Internet, I hope. He's my IT specialist, and I appreciate him. I appreciate the opportunity to serve. I was moved by your speech when you mentioned to honor this office and to never do anything to disgrace it. I hope that I always live my life that way so that my parents and grandparents and those that follow will feel proud of me. I pledge to you and everyone here that I will work hard to represent our side of the aisle and will work well with you, on your side, to make this state a better place. Thank you.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 5, 2007

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 1.

SHERRY RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee of the Whole:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1 of the 22nd Special Session—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to revise the provisions governing a petition for initiative or referendum.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 1 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. 1. A person who intends to circulate a petition that a statute or resolution or part thereof enacted by the Legislature be submitted to a vote of the people, before circulating the petition for signatures, shall file a copy thereof with the Secretary of State. He shall file the copy not earlier than August 1 of the year before the year in which the election will be held.

2. Whenever a number of registered voters of this State equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election shall express their wish by filing with the Secretary of State, not less than 120 days before the next general election, a petition in the form provided for in Section 3 of this Article that any statute or resolution or any part thereof enacted by the Legislature be submitted to a vote of the people, the officers charged with the duties of announcing and proclaiming elections and of certifying nominations or questions to be voted upon shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding election at which such question may be voted upon by the registered voters of the entire State. The number of registered voters required to file the petition must be determined at the time the copy of the petition is filed with the Secretary of State pursuant to this Section. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest.

3. If a majority of the voters voting upon the proposal submitted at such election votes approval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof, such statute or resolution or any part thereof shall stand as the law of the State and shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside, suspended or in any way made inoperative except by the direct vote of the people. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof, such statute or resolution or any part thereof shall be void and of no effect.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1 of Article 4 of this Constitution, but subject to the limitations of Section 6 of this Article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes and amendments to statutes and amendments to this Constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition shall be in the form required by Section 3 of this Article and shall be proposed by a number of registered voters from each congressional district in this State equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in ~~[not less than 75 percent of the counties in the State, but the total number of registered voters signing the initiative petition shall be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire State at the last preceding general election.]~~ the congressional district. The number of registered voters required to file the initiative petition must be determined at the time the copy of the initiative petition is filed with the Secretary of State pursuant to this Section.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the Legislature is held. After its circulation, it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 30 days prior to any regular session of the Legislature. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall transmit such petition to the Legislature as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes. The petition shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby shall be enacted or rejected by the Legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, such statute or amendment to a statute shall become law, but shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in Section 1 of this Article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the Legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the Secretary of State shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of such statute or amendment to a statute, it shall become law and take effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the Legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If the Legislature rejects such proposed statute or amendment, the Governor may recommend to the Legislature and the Legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after such different measure has been approved by the Governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure shall be submitted by the Secretary of State to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters are both approved by a majority of the voters voting on such measures, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes shall thereupon become law. If at the session of the Legislature to which an initiative petition proposing an amendment to a statute is presented which the Legislature rejects or upon which it takes no action, the Legislature amends the statute which the petition proposes to amend in a respect which does not conflict in substance with the proposed amendment, the Secretary of State in submitting the statute to the voters for approval or disapproval of the proposed amendment shall include the amendment made by the Legislature.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the Constitution, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than September 1 of the year before the year in which the election is to be held. After its circulation it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 90 days before any regular general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire State. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the State, together with any explanatory matter which shall be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on the petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as such question was originally submitted. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, it shall, unless precluded by subsection 5 or 6, become a part of this Constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court.

5. If two or more measures which affect the same section of a statute or of the Constitution are finally approved pursuant to this section, or an amendment to the Constitution is finally so approved and an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified which affect the same section, by the voters at the same election:

(a) If all can be given effect without contradiction in substance, each shall be given effect.

(b) If one or more contradict in substance the other or others, the measure which received the largest favorable vote, and any other approved measure compatible with it, shall be given effect. If the one or more measures that contradict in substance the other or others receive the same number of favorable votes, none of the measures that contradict another shall be given effect.

6. If, at the same election as the first approval of a constitutional amendment pursuant to this Section, another amendment is finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified, which affects the same section of the Constitution but is compatible with the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit at the next general election the amendment given first approval as a further amendment to the section as amended by the amendment given final approval or ratified. If the amendment finally approved or ratified contradicts in substance the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall not submit the amendment given first approval to the voters again.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 6, 2007

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1.

SHERRY RODRIGUEZ

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1.

Assemblyman Mabey moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Mabey, Marvel, Carpenter, Horne, Mortenson, Settelmeyer, and Beers.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I feel humbled and inadequate to properly honor our past President, Ronald Reagan. As a university student I remember those days very well, and I remember Mr. Reagan and what he did for our country. I thought I would share a few quotes that I found from him that express some of my views and express how he felt about our country.

As he spoke about government he said, "It is not my intention to do away with government. It is rather to make it work; work with us, not over us; stand by our side, not right on our backs. Government can and must provide opportunity, not smother it; foster productivity, not stifle it. This administration's objective will be a healthy, vigorous, growing economy."

He also said in his first inaugural address, "No arsenal or no weapon in the arsenals of the world is so formidable as the will and moral courage of free men and women."

I was also struck by his sense of humor. We all remember when he was shot and when he got to the hospital he said two things that touched me. One, he told his wife, "Honey, I forgot to duck." And then, as he met the surgeons that were going to operate on him, he said, "I hope you are all Republicans."

He had great optimism and confidence in our country. He said, "The years ahead will be great ones for our country, for the cause of freedom, and the spread of civilization. The West will not contain communism, it will transcend communism. We will not bother to denounce it; we will dismiss it as a sad, bizarre chapter in human history whose last pages are even now being written."

And so as we remember Ronald Reagan on the ninety sixth anniversary of his birth, from him, perhaps, we as the elected representatives of the people in this great state of Nevada can draw new inspiration and gain a new understanding of the importance of the duties that have been placed upon us. As he so eloquently expressed, "You and I have a rendezvous with destiny. We will preserve for our children this, the last best hope of man on Earth, or we will sentence them to take the first step into a thousand years of darkness. If we fail, at least let our children and our children's children say of us, we justified our brief moment here. We did all that could be done."

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1. I first became aware of Ronald Reagan in, of all places, Las Vegas, in the early 1960s. He spoke to the National Cattlemen's Convention. I'll tell you one thing: I have never seen such a rousing applause as Ronald Reagan received that day. You just knew that he was going to be headed off to greater things. I think we all owe him a debt for what he did in bringing the Cold War to an end. In my humble opinion, I think he will go down in the annals as one of the greatest presidents in the history of the United States.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. The first time I really listened to Ronald Reagan, he was speaking at the Latter Day Saint temple in Salt Lake City. Of course, at that time, Elko didn't have any radio or television stations out of Reno. We listened to Salt Lake when Ronald Reagan spoke. And I thought, "Wow, what a great man."

Later on, Ronald Reagan actually came to Elko. At that time, I was a county commissioner. All of us dignitaries, if you could call us that, were supposed to go down and meet Ronald Reagan. There were the four Assemblymen from Elko County and the Senators. We all went down to the airport and we were standing at the bottom of the steps of the plane when Ronald Reagan came off. He went past us like we were nobody. And I think we really were no one. What he wanted to do was to talk to the people that worked at the airport. He wanted to make the connection with the common man. That always impressed me that he would do that. Of course, later on, he came back and shook our hands. We appreciated that.

I think because of his friendship with Senator Paul Laxalt, who we all knew very well, I think we felt a special connection to Ronald Reagan. I want to stand in support of this resolution. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1. My first exposure to President Ronald Reagan was in Las Vegas, as a young college student. He set aside a place in the convention center for those of us who were members of the fraternity Tau Kappa Epsilon. I am a member, as is the good Senator from Senate District No. 9. We were both in there together. The one striking thing to me, at that time, also being in ROTC at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, was how President Reagan, regardless of your political affiliations, took a nation with his manner, his leadership, and brought us all together to carry the load, to stand together to the world and say, "We are Americans. We stand up for the things that are important to people in the world. We protect those who are less fortunate than we are. Despite our differences, when it comes to adversity, we will stand together." That is something which today we should remember. The adversities we see in the world, the conflicts we have in our own nation, that is something which President Reagan was able to overcome. He was able to reach across the aisle, reach across the nation, and despite our differences, we were able to come together as a nation. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Not only did he reach across parties and so on, but he reached across the age gap. I guess he was one of the oldest candidates for President, if not the oldest in this country. Again, he had a great wit. When someone asked him when he was running against a much younger candidate, "Is your age going to be a factor?" he said, "Well, I promise you I will not take advantage of the youth and inexperience of my opponent." No one ever bothered him with his age after that. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN SETTELMEYER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I tend to rely on the words of people far more intelligent than me. In that respect, I would like to quote Mr. Reagan when he announced his Alzheimer's disease: "In closing, let me thank you, the American people, for giving me the great honor of allowing me to serve as your President. When the Lord calls me home, whenever that day may come, I will leave with the greatest love for this country of ours and eternal optimism for its future. I now begin the journey that will lead me into the sunset of my life. I know that for America there will always be a bright dawn ahead."

With that, I would like to lend my support to this resolution. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN BEERS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. My memory of President Reagan is as an extremely obscure artist in northern California. After his election, I sent him a piece of art commemorating his first day in the White House. He responded with a personal letter. I've never forgotten that, and I, too, stand in support of this resolution.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Yesterday, I did not take the opportunity to congratulate you on becoming the first woman Speaker in Nevada. I want to, today.

I believe all of us were elected to vote individual agendas but to promote good public policy for our state. We are "One Nevada." Whether you are from the north, the south, a man, a woman, Democrat or Republican, our charge is to do what is right for the state. As a fellow female legislator, a wife, and a mother, I recognize your commitment to public service and the personal sacrifices you have made. To be successful in this body, you must earn respect. Madam Speaker, you have my respect.

The election of Nevada's first female Speaker is historic. Again, I congratulate you.

SPECIAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

The hour of 11:15 a.m. having arrived, vetoed Assembly Bill No. 505 of the 73rd Session was considered.

Vetoed Assembly Bill No. 505 of the 73rd Session.

Bill read.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

THE HONORABLE RICHARD D. PERKINS, Speaker of the Assembly, NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY, LEGISLATIVE BUILDING, 401 S. Carson Street, Carson City, Nevada 89701

TO THE HONORABLE MEMBERS OF THE NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 505, which is entitled:

> AN ACT relating to transportation; revising provisions governing the registration of motor vehicles with a declared gross weight in excess of 26,000 pounds; abolishing the Transportation Services Authority; transferring the duties and responsibilities related to motor carriers and the storage of household goods and effects to the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada; revising provisions governing regulation of certain taxicab drivers; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

I would be in support of Assembly Bill 505 and would sign this legislation into law if it were not for Section 133 of this legislation. Section 133 provides that:

> [A] taxicab driver shall not accept a tip, gift, gratuity, money, fee or any other valuable consideration of any kind from a person who has been issued a license by a board of county commissioners, a county liquor board, a county licensing board or the city council or other governing body of an incorporated city for the conveyance of a passenger to the location of the person who holds the license.

Section 133 was quietly amended into Assembly Bill 505 at the very end of the Legislative Session. The proponents of Section 133 should have provided taxicab drivers with an opportunity to testify at a public hearing regarding this provision so they could describe the impact it would have on their livelihoods. A public hearing would have also allowed the proponents of Section 133 to identify the resources either needed or available to enforce Section 133, and it would have allowed them to provide an explanation as to why limo drivers, doormen, bellhops, and other professions were left out of this section of the bill. Further, if a public hearing had been provided, local governments could have identified their responsibilities with respect to curtailing the behavior of persons who have been "issued a license by a board of county commissioners, a county liquor board, a county licensing board or the city council or other governing body of an incorporated city."

Taxicab drivers contribute greatly to the economy of this state. I cannot support Section 133 of AB 505 because it singles out and hurts the financial well-being of taxicab drivers. Additionally, I know all of the legislators serving in the Legislature, and I do not believe a majority of them would have supported Section 133 had it been fully and fairly debated in an open public forum. Therefore, I am exercising my right to veto this legislation.

Sincerely,
Kenny C. Guinn
Governor

The question was put: "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Remarks by Assemblymen Oceguera, Denis, and Beers.

Potential conflict of interest declared by Assemblyman Denis.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN OCEGUERA:

We passed this legislation last session because we had reports that there were instances of unfair practices that needed to be addressed. It was certainly not our intent to harm taxicab drivers who contribute to our community and our economy. We certainly value them.

The problems this bill attempted to solve, such as the 26,000-pound registration and the TSA abolishment, will be addressed again this session. I am recommending that we not override the Governor's veto. While I think we need to continue to monitor this situation, I recommend a "no" vote on the matter before us.

ASSEMBLYMAN DENIS:

Because this bill deals with the Public Utilities Commission, I need to make the following disclosure. While I am on leave without pay during the Legislative Session, I am employed by the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada, which is a state agency. I hold the position in the classified service of Computer IT Tech II. In that capacity, I am responsible for the maintenance and operation of the hardware and software of all computers in the Las Vegas office of the Public Utilities Commission and the videoconferencing system. As a public employee, I participate in the Public Employees' Retirement System and all other benefit programs available to public employees generally. Therefore, I will be watchful for bills, resolutions, and amendments regarding the Public Utilities Commission, state employees, and public employee benefits. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN BEERS:

I had a chance to look over the history of this bill prior to session. And this amendment, from what I've learned, was put into the bill after a broad, unanimous, bipartisan support had been achieved and was done without comment being available. This is an example of a good bill being made bad, and I definitely support the veto.

The roll was called, and the Assembly sustained the veto of the Governor by the following vote:

Yeas—None.

Nays—Allen, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Beers, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Stewart, Weber, Womack—42.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Carpenter requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

On the thirty-sixth day of this year, which was February 6, we had what is called Food Check-Out Day. I think that we need to realize the fact that in this nation, we have a great supply of nutritious food. I recognize that we do have hunger in this country. I have a restaurant, and the food that is wasted would feed everyone that is hungry in this nation. But I think that we also need to recognize that the farmers and ranchers of our country supply us with a great supply of healthful food. Right here in Nevada, we have great ranches raising cattle and sheep in Elko, White Pine, Lander, Eureka, and Humboldt Counties. We have the greatest potatoes in the world in Winnemucca; in Fallon, they raise cantaloupes that are the envy of the world; and in Smith Valley, down where one of our colleagues comes from, they have great garlic and onions to flavor our food. Further south, down in Amargosa Valley, we have great dairy, so we should recognize our farmers and ranchers and the great part they play in our food supply.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Over the interim, we had a subcommittee consisting of leadership which came up with some recommendations for conference committees. It is always our goal to allow the opportunity of this body, with a 120-day session every other year, to consider matters up to the very end of session. Our leadership team has developed, jointly, I think, some better procedures that will require notice on the web of all matters to be considered that are not contained in the original bill. I think this will do two things. It will preserve our flexibility to consider matters up until sine die. It will also allow more notice to be given to individuals, which I think is the intent of this body and certainly our leadership team and myself—to make sure full notice is going to the public. We have already implemented and developed those recommendations, and I think it will lead to healthier debate, healthier consideration, and better service of the public. For the freshman, that has already been developed.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to provide for forfeiture of public office for three or more violations of ethical duties.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 6 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec . ~~[: 6. Each]~~ 6.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, each House shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its own members, choose its own officers (except the President of the Senate), determine the rules of its proceedings and may punish its members for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two thirds of all the members elected, expel a member.

2. The provisions of this Section do not prohibit the forfeiture of office of a member pursuant to Section 5 of Article 7 of this Constitution.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 21 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 21. 1. A justice of the Supreme Court, a district judge, a justice of the peace or a municipal judge may, in addition to the provision of Article 7 for impeachment, be censured, retired, removed or otherwise disciplined by the Commission on Judicial Discipline. Pursuant to rules governing appeals adopted by the Supreme Court, a justice or judge may appeal from the action of the Commission to the Supreme Court, which may reverse such action or take any alternative action provided in this subsection.

2. The Commission is composed of:

(a) Two justices or judges appointed by the Supreme Court;

(b) Two members of the State Bar of Nevada, a public corporation created by statute, appointed by its Board of Governors; and

(c) Three persons, not members of the legal profession, appointed by the Governor.

The Commission shall elect a Chairman from among its three lay members.

3. If at any time the State Bar of Nevada ceases to exist as a public corporation or ceases to include all attorneys admitted to practice before the courts of this State, the Legislature shall provide by law, or if it fails to do so the Court shall provide by rule, for the appointment of attorneys at law to the positions designated in this Section to be occupied by members of the State Bar of Nevada.

4. The term of office of each appointive member of the Commission, except the first members, is 4 years. Each appointing authority shall appoint one of the members first appointed for a term of 2 years. If a vacancy occurs, the appointing authority shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. An appointing authority shall not appoint more than one resident of any county. The Governor shall not appoint more than two members of the same political party. No member may be a member of a commission on judicial selection.

5. The Legislature shall establish:

(a) In addition to censure, retirement and removal, the other forms of disciplinary action that the Commission may impose;

(b) The grounds for censure and other disciplinary action that the Commission may impose, including, but not limited to, violations of the provisions of the Code of Judicial Conduct;

(c) The standards for the investigation of matters relating to the fitness of a justice or judge; and

6. The Supreme Court shall adopt a Code of Judicial Conduct.

7. The Commission shall adopt rules of procedure for the conduct of its hearings and any other procedural rules it deems necessary to carry out its duties.

8. No justice or judge may by virtue of this Section be:

(a) Removed except for willful misconduct, willful or persistent failure to perform the duties of his office or habitual intemperance; or

(b) Retired except for advanced age which interferes with the proper performance of his judicial duties, or for mental or physical disability which prevents the proper performance of his judicial duties and which is likely to be permanent in nature.

9. Any matter relating to the fitness of a justice or judge may be brought to the attention of the Commission by any person or on the motion of the Commission. The Commission shall, after preliminary investigation, dismiss the matter or order a hearing to be held before it. If a hearing is ordered, a statement of the matter shall be served upon the justice or judge against whom the proceeding is brought. The Commission in its discretion may suspend a justice or judge from the exercise of his office pending the determination of the proceedings before the Commission. Any justice or judge whose removal is sought is liable to indictment and punishment according to law. A justice or judge retired for disability in accordance with this Section is entitled thereafter to receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide.

10. If a proceeding is brought against a justice of the Supreme Court, no justice of the Supreme Court may sit on the Commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a district judge, no district judge from the same judicial district may sit on the Commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a justice of the peace, no justice of the peace from the same township may sit on the Commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a municipal judge, no municipal judge from the same city may sit on the Commission for that proceeding. If an appeal is taken from an action of the Commission to the Supreme Court, any justice who sat on the Commission for that proceeding is disqualified from participating in the consideration or decision of the appeal. (b) Summon witnesses to appear and testify under oath and compel the production of books, papers, documents and records;

(d) Exercise such further powers as the Legislature may from time to time confer upon it.

12. The provisions of this Section do not prohibit the forfeiture of office of a justice or judge pursuant to Section 5 of Article 7 of this Constitution.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That a new section, designated Section 5, be added to Article 7 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 5. 1. If a public officer commits three or more violations of his ethical duties while holding the same office, whether or not the violations are committed at the same time or during the same term, that public officer forfeits his office.

(1) For a public officer who is a member of the Judicial Department, the Commission on Judicial Discipline; or

(2) For all other public officers, the Commission on Ethics or any successor public agency created by statute and empowered to render opinions interpreting the statutory ethical standards applicable to public officers. The Legislature shall provide by law for such a public agency if the Commission on Ethics ceases to exist.

(b) A public officer who is determined to have committed one or more violations of his ethical duties must be given a reasonable opportunity to appeal that determination to a court of competent jurisdiction.

(c) A determination that a public officer has committed one or more violations of his ethical duties must not be deemed to be final until the public officer has exhausted his judicial remedies at the state level.

(d) If a public officer admits or stipulates in writing that he has committed one or more violations of his ethical duties, such admission or stipulation, as applicable, shall be deemed to be a determination by the relevant body that the public officer has committed one or more violations of his ethical duties.

(e) Each act or omission of a public officer that is part of a continuing course of conduct or arises out of the same occurrence, transaction, event or scheme constitutes a separate violation in determining whether the public officer has committed one or more violations of his ethical duties.

3. The process of forfeiture described in this Section is in addition to and not mutually exclusive as to any other method by which a public officer may be removed from office, including, without limitation:

(a) Impeachment of the Governor and other state and judicial officers pursuant to Sections 1 and 2 of this Article;

(b) Removal of civil officers as provided by law pursuant to Section 4 of this Article;

(1) The Commission on Judicial Discipline, as described in Section 21 of Article 6 of this Constitution; or

(2) The Legislature, as described in Section 3 of this Article.

4. A public officer who forfeits his office pursuant to this Section is liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law.

5. The Legislature shall enact such laws and procedures as it determines to be necessary to facilitate the operation of this Section.

6. The provisions of this Section do not apply with respect to acts or omissions that are committed by a public officer before this Section becomes law and takes effect.

7. As used in this Section:

(a) "Public officer" means a person elected or appointed to a position in the Legislative, Executive or Judicial Department of State Government or to a position with any political subdivision of this State if the position:

(1) Is established by this Constitution or a statute of this State or by a charter or ordinance of a political subdivision of this State; and

(2) Involves the continuous exercise, as part of the regular and permanent administration of the government, of a public power, trust or duty.

(b) "Violation of an ethical duty" means an act or omission committed by a public officer, which act or omission:

(1) Is of a serious nature, including, without limitation, acts or omissions that constitute felonies in this State; and

(2) Indicates the public officer behaved knowingly or willfully in a manner inimical to the nature of a public office as a public trust to be held for the sole benefit of the people.

And be it further

By Assemblymen Gansert, Allen, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Beers, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Gerhardt, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Stewart, Weber, and Womack; Senators Raggio, Amodei, Beers, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Rhoads, Schneider, Titus, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 3—Designating February 14, 2007, as Tissue and Organ Donor Day in Nevada.

WHEREAS, According to recent statistics, almost 95,000 people in the United States are currently on the waiting list for organ transplants, and each day approximately 77 people receive the transplant that gives them a second chance at life, but 19 others die because not enough organs are available to meet our needs; and

WHEREAS, One donor can save up to eight lives by donating organs, and that same donor can greatly enhance the lives of an additional 50 people by donating tissue to be used to restore sight, cover burns, repair hearts, replace veins, and mend damaged connective tissue and cartilage in recipients; and

WHEREAS, As a result of the growing need for organs, living donation has become a common alternative, with almost a quarter of all organs coming from living donors; and

WHEREAS, Unbeknownst to many, a living donor may donate part of the pancreas, part of a lung, part of the liver, part of the intestine and, most commonly, a kidney; and

WHEREAS, People of all ages and medical histories should consider themselves potential donors, as people on the waiting list may need to be transplanted with an organ that is less than ideal if there is no other suitable organ available to save their lives; and

WHEREAS, The State of Nevada has simplified the process of signing up as a donor by giving Nevadans the option of specifying their wishes on their driver's licenses or state identification cards and by making available on-line a Donor Registration Form for the Donor Registry for the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The State has also made available an Organ Donor specialty license plate, from which a portion of the fees support the Gift of Life Education Fund which provides for the production and dissemination of educational materials regarding the importance of tissue and organ donation; and

WHEREAS, Giving the "Gift of Life" not only brings hope and healing to the recipients and their families, but also may help ease the grief of the donor's own family by knowing that their tragic loss has helped so many other people; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the Nevada Legislature hereby designates February 14, 2007, as Tissue and Organ Donor Day in Nevada to raise public awareness regarding tissue and organ donation and the effect it can have on so many people; and be it further

RESOLVED, That, by designating this day, the residents of Nevada are encouraged to take steps to obtain donor cards and to ensure that their wishes concerning tissue and organ donations are made known to their families; and be it further Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 5—Designating February 20, 2007, as Homeless Youth Awareness Day in Nevada.

WHEREAS, Thousands of children in this State are reported as runaways each year and often join the homeless population on the streets, eating out of dumpsters, sleeping in alleys and feeling cold, unloved and alone; and

WHEREAS, Many of these runaway children prefer to chance the dangers of life on the street to remaining in their homes where they often experience abuse, violence and other dysfunction; and

WHEREAS, Although the "Right to Shelter Law" which provided for separate shelters for certain runaway children was passed by the Nevada Legislature in 2001, there are no long-term residential facilities which allow children to seek assistance on a voluntary basis in this State; and

WHEREAS, There is a lack of available statistics concerning the number of homeless children that reside in this State and their need for such long-term residential facilities and other services; and

WHEREAS, Children who are homeless are unable to support themselves financially, causing them to become desperate, hungry and vulnerable; and

WHEREAS, Homeless children often become sexually active, are at risk of becoming pregnant, engaging in prostitution and contracting sexually transmitted diseases, suffer from poor nutrition and dehydration, become suicidal and suffer various other harms which affect their overall health, well-being and ability to become productive members of society; and

WHEREAS, To properly address the needs of this often forgotten population, it is important to raise public awareness of the serious issues concerning homeless children in this State and to encourage public support for programs designed to assist those children; and

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature recognize the outstanding efforts of the state and local governmental agencies and nonprofit entities dedicated to fighting the problem of homeless children in the State of Nevada; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That February 20, 2007, is hereby designated as Homeless Youth Awareness Day in Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the members of the 74th Session of the Nevada Legislature hereby express their commitment to creating a greater public awareness of the problem of homeless children in Nevada and to continue to work cooperatively to solve this problem; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Michael Dayton, Chief of Staff to Governor Jim Gibbons, and to the Board of Directors of the Nevada Partnership for Homeless Youth.

Assemblyman Conklin moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Conklin, Parks, Mabey, Leslie, Horne, and Christensen.

Assemblyman Conklin requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN CONKLIN:

We have talked over the past couple of days, at least yesterday and today, about homelessness. We had a wonderful "Tent City" out in the courtyard over the night of the eighteenth. Many of our colleagues were there, many supporters were there, and it was a very spiritual and uplifting event or, at least, I found it as such. What moves me today on ACR 5 is this: When I got up on Monday morning and I was very cold and I had to walk to my house, which was very warm, I took a nice hot shower and looked at my bed and realized that I get to get into it tomorrow. I was moved by the fact that I spent one day out, and the folks that we have talked about over the last two days spend every day out. They have no home to go to; they have no nice, comfortable pillow-top bed. What makes me even more moved is the fact that the folks we are talking about in this resolution can range anywhere from the age of ten and up. They do not belong on the streets; they belong in our hearts. They belong at the forefront of our minds as we move through the session and recognize the needs of all of our population of the state of Nevada. I urge your support for ACR 5.

ASSEMBLYMAN PARKS:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 5. Having a district that does seem to attract a fair number of homeless individuals, I think that this has certainly been an area that has been of concern to me. They say that 3 percent of the homeless population is made up of unaccompanied youth, and that is certainly a very large number. As for the causes of homeless youth, primarily it is family problems, economic problems, and residential instability, although most of the time these are all consolidated. They are interrelated as far as that goes. Perhaps the other statistic that is very important is that more than half of the youth report that their parents did not care that they left home, which shows a lack of parental involvement.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

I, also, rise in support of ACR 5. I have had the personal opportunity to be with some of these youth. As a physician, I have volunteered my services and I have seen these young ladies come into my office, and they truly are in need of help. I was reminded by one of my constituents here that the first Monday of every month, my church goes to a church in Henderson where we serve food to the homeless. My wife and other women prepare the food during the day and that evening around five o'clock, we have a caravan and we all drive to Henderson with our families, including our children, to help serve the homeless, which includes the youth. I think that it is important that we all work together to help these people who are truly in need.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, too, rise in support of this resolution. I commend my colleagues for bringing it forward. Yesterday in your Health and Human Services Committee, we had a wonderful hearing on homelessness, which sounds like an odd thing to say. It was wonderful because we heard the voices of so many people whose voices are not normally heard in this building. Some of the most poignant moments of the hearing came from the homeless youth. I see at least one is here today with us. They shared with us their very personal stories about what caused them to be homeless. As the Minority Leader referenced, these reasons are complicated. It is not just one thing. It is many different things that cause youth homelessness. There could be nothing more important than making sure our youth receive the resources that they need for a path into the future.

I think the most important moment of the meeting yesterday was hearing from two youths from Las Vegas who had been helped by a community agency there. One has been accepted into a major university, and another one's life is now on a better track. To hear, in their words, what they had to say about where they would be without the help of this agency was very moving. So I especially want to thank the youth and the advocates who are here today with the youth organizations for helping us bring this resolution forward and bring this issue to the forefront for our Legislature.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 5. I would like to ask everyone to think about the homeless youth who are in our schools. Can you imagine going to school and having to focus on your lessons for the day when you have been cold that night for lack of a place to sleep—when you do not have the stability of knowing where you may be sleeping from night to night—when you are old enough to look at your parents and see the angst in their faces because they are having trouble providing a stable home environment for you? And yet you are charged with going to school every day and learning the lessons the teachers give that day. Keep that in mind. These are burdens which our youth, unfortunately, have to bear—those youth who are homeless. Again, I urge your support.

ASSEMBLYMAN CHRISTENSEN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 5. I do not know if there are many here in this body who have actually spent time or stayed any length of time in a homeless shelter. I can say that I have. Fortunately, not for any length of time, but just for a little mishap that I had. I was working in Germany and went to a job interview in Switzerland. I left all my money behind. I was a young man at the time and did not know anyone where I was going. I got to the train station two days before my interview was to take place. There were some Swiss people who I was able to meet and talk to. They said, "Let us take you over here." They took me in like family. It was not at all like a dump where this place was. It was very organized. I was just really surprised.

As we have been talking about this topic, I was amazed, as my colleague from Reno had mentioned, that there were a number of bright people there who just fell on hard times or certain circumstances which put them there, kind of like my own situation. It was only an overnight experience for myself, but just to be with them and to get to know of them and their stories will always have a particular place in my heart, as well as all of you who go out and serve them, as the Minority Leader mentioned. I respect you for that. I think this is one of the greatest resolutions we have taken a look at. Thank you.

Motion carried unanimously.

United States Senator Harry Reid delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-FOURTH SESSION, 2007

Governor, members of the Supreme Court, Majority Leader Raggio, and especially you, Madam Speaker. It seems like only yesterday that I left my home and my children to drive to Carson City to attend my first session of the Legislature as a legislator. I had been here, of course, as city attorney and as a member of the Board of Trustees of the hospital. It was really a scary occasion for me as I am sure it is for the freshmen here today. The lawyers that I worked with wanted me to live in splendor, so they rented a house up at Lake Tahoe because they liked to ski. I spent one night there. I checked out of that place quick and moved into the Frontier Motel.

In 1969, things were different, and I want to give you a little snapshot of what it was like here in Carson City 38 years ago. First of all— there was no Legislative Building. We met in the State Capitol. Of course, we had no offices or places to hold committee meetings, but we got by. At that time, there were a hundred thousand students in the whole state of Nevada. Four women were in the Assembly. Howard Hughes had recently come to the state of Nevada, and during the year 1969, he opened the Landmark Hotel, which was the largest, tallest building in the state at the time—31 stories. Kirk Kerkorian was in the process of building the largest hotel in America, the International Hotel—less than a thousand rooms. The University of Nevada School of Medicine was formed in 1969. We had ten thousand people working at the Nevada Test Site. During the first three months of that year, three detonations took place at the Test Site. UNLV was still just getting started. Paul Laxalt was the Governor. North Las Vegas and Henderson were separated from Las Vegas—you could really tell the difference.

On or about that year, the Carlin gold trend was discovered, which has led, of course, to you know what—that great mining operation in the state of Nevada. We spent a lot of our time in 1969 talking about arsenic in the water in Fallon, and in Reno you boarded the planes in the open spaces. If it was raining, you walked through the rain. If it was snowing, you walked through the snow. There were no terminals.

There was a water war raging between the State of Nevada and the State of California dealing with the Truckee and Carson Rivers. Pyramid Lake was drying up, and as you came into Reno, approaching Sparks, the Helms pit was pretty big then—a big hole in the ground with trucks coming in and out of it. In Las Vegas, the Foley Building had been built just a few years before 1969, as was the Cliff Young Building—the two courthouses. That is just a general snapshot of what was going on in 1969 in the State of Nevada.

So now, let us look at a photograph of what is going on in Nevada today. No one knows for sure, but there are about 2.8 million people in the state of Nevada as we speak. The Clark County School District alone has well over 300,000 students. The ten largest hotels in the world are in Las Vegas. The largest at the present time is the MGM with 5,005 rooms, but under construction are two hotels that will now have over 7,000 rooms. Nevada is now the most urban state in the union, more urban than New Jersey, New York, Georgia, or California. Twenty-two million people boarded airplanes in Las Vegas last year—McCarran Field. We now have a new, modern terminal in Reno and, of course, in Las Vegas at McCarran.

We have 13 women in the Assembly. We have had as many as 18 in the past. We have our first woman Speaker in the Nevada State Assembly, our friend, Barbara Buckley. Las Vegas has 140,000 hotel rooms, but more are under construction. National TV—Wolf Blitzer, Chris Matthews, tomorrow Stephanopolous. I know this is hard for all of you to believe, but they have come to Searchlight and they have broadcast from my home in Searchlight—ABC, NBC, CBS, Christian Broadcasting, and CNN.

Fallon—38 years after we knew that there was a lot of Arsenic in the water, the people of Fallon are drinking pure, fresh water as a result of work that we did. A negotiated settlement is completed—what does that mean? It means that after 20 years that I have been working on this, the water war between the state of California is over. That was difficult because it involved two endangered species, two Indian tribes, and wetlands that had gone from 30,000 acres to a thousand very putrid acres. It involved the cities of Reno and Sparks and the irrigation district and, of course, it involved Pyramid Lake. That is all over with; the negotiated settlement is finished. Pyramid Lake has been saved, but as we speak about this, looking at this photograph of Nevada, Walker Lake is in distress. We are going to work to make it as successful as we have with the situation with Pyramid Lake.

Nellis and Fallon are two of the greatest air bases in the world. If you want to be the best pilot for the Navy, you have to come to Fallon. If you want to be the best pilot for the Air Force, you have to be trained at Nellis. Yucca Mountain—after 25 years folks, it is history. They can keep spending money there, but Yucca Mountain is not going to happen. This has been a total bipartisan effort. It is great because not only are we not going to have Yucca Mountain, but I think we are going to be able to do something about all the fossil fuels we use. Because if people recognize—and they are beginning to realize—that if you store the waste onsite, maybe we can move to some reasonable nuclear power now that will help stop the global warming that is taking place.

What else is going on that is interesting in Nevada? In Fernley—a thousand jobs or more with Amazon. Microsoft is big time in Reno. People do not realize what is going on with defense contractors in Nevada. Look at this picture we have in Nevada today. Some of you know Fatih and Eren Ozmen. This is a couple, a graduate of the University of Nevada and an electrical engineer, who started a company called Sierra Nevada Corporation. They came to see me many years ago, and I put a line item in an appropriation bill. This year they will gross well over half a billion dollars. They employ a thousand people in Sparks doing some of the most important stuff of any company in the world for the war on terror. Peter Guilfoyle—I do not know if any of you know him—but OptiComp is doing great things with software for the defense industry. Dr. William Torch, who is a neurologist in Reno, came to me with an idea. That idea has now borne fruit. The Pentagon now thinks the guy is one of the best. He has a company called Eye-Com, which does some amazing things dealing with what happens to people's eyes. The Pentagon loves this man. Allan Gotcher of Altair Nanotechnologies is developing small batteries in Sparks. Dave Moorehouse and a company called Raytech are developing huge radar domes that the Defense Department likes. These are things going on in northern Nevada with the defense industry.

Of course, one of my favorite topics is the Sparks Marina. Today when you drive into Sparks, coming in from Fernley, you do not see the Helm's pit; you see one of the finest recreation facilities in all of Nevada.

The courthouses that I talked about in Reno and Las Vegas have been replaced by taxpayer monies of $150 million. The Bruce R. Thompson Courthouse and Federal Building in Reno and the Lloyd D. George Federal Courthouse in Las Vegas—they are wonderful additions to the state of Nevada.

I mention a number of these things in giving a little picture of the state of Nevada as I see it prefatory to talking about what I think should be the vision of the future of Nevada. We are told in Proverbs, in the Old Testament, "Where there is no vision, the people perish." I really believe that. We as legislators, we as members of government, must understand that we need a vision for the future. It is easy to talk about what went on 38 years ago. It is fairly easy to talk about what is going on now. It is more difficult to talk about what the future holds for Nevada and our country.

Ten years ago, I announced here at a speech I gave that I was going to have a summit at Lake Tahoe. I did that because I was desperate. I had talked and tried to do things with the Federal Government to prevent the deterioration of Lake Tahoe, and I simply was not able to do that. I invited President Clinton and Vice President Gore to come to Lake Tahoe and do a summit. I thought it would be a photo opportunity for these men, but it was not. It was more than that. It received international attention for three days. The President came, but prior to his coming, prior to the Vice President coming, eight cabinet officers came and spent time meeting with hundreds and hundreds of people who cared. I spoke to President Clinton, inviting him to the tenth anniversary celebration we are going to have in August. He remembered this. He said, "This is how all problems in the world should be solved, like we solved the problems at Lake Tahoe." We really have. That lake is now regaining its clarity. It has cost a lot of money, but it has been worth it. Lake Tahoe is a gem. As Mark Twain said, "the fairest place in all the Earth." This is something we have done together. It was my idea. But this gives me an opportunity to talk about my partnership with John Ensign.

Everyone knows about the 1998 race. It was a bitter, vicious political contest. Who would ever think that John Ensign would come to the United States Senate? But he did when Senator Bryan unexpectedly announced his retirement. And after that, who would think that Harry Reid and John Ensign would do more than speak to each other? But we have. We have worked out a partnership that I do not think Nevada has ever seen before, with a proud Republican and a proud Democrat. John Ensign and I do not criticize each other privately or publicly. We work together for the betterment of this state as we see it. And even though, as I say, it was my idea to save Lake Tahoe, he has worked with me hand in hand for the last six years, helping attain money for that great lake.

Yesterday's political enemies, I tell every one of you here, should be tomorrow's political friends. There is no better example of that than Senator Ensign and myself.

The California Interpretive Trail—Senator Rhoads and I have worked on this project together. It is wonderful for the state of Nevada and what it is going to be in the future. Like Lake Tahoe, it is going to better than it is today. This California Interpretive Trail Center is going to be one of the best things for the state of Nevada. It is going to be completed this year. It cost taxpayers money but it is going to be something people will stop and see, especially tourists driving that lonely road, and people from Nevada will see it. Dean, I appreciated being able to work with you on this. You have been a great partner.

The universities that we have are great universities. I have worked with a number of you in this audience. The University of Nevada, Reno's Great Basin Biodiversity Initiative is some of the greatest science that has taken place in this country in the last 20 years. It is really good. It not only has created an interest all over the country but has done things all over the West. A biology department has been developed at the University of Nevada that is very significant. The earthquake center we have at the University of Nevada, Reno, is also tremendous—finding out what can be done to alleviate problems when earthquakes occur. There are other things that the University of Nevada, Reno does. It is a great university and I enjoyed working with a number of you on this.

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas' School of Hotel Administration is the best in the world. The supercomputer we have there has led to a great engineering department. There are other good things at UNLV as well, of course.

John Lee, it has been a pleasure working with you on developing the greatest shooting range in the world, not just the country. It is under construction. They have started some of the work there. It is out to bid and has been paid for. It is going to be on 3000 acres. It will be, literally, the best in the world.

I have appreciated the advocacy of the Speaker. Assemblywoman Buckley, before she became Speaker, was tremendously interested in doing something about affordable housing for people. We have a token of what you can do when federal government and state government work together—the Silver Sky facility. It is really wonderful. We need a lot more, certainly, but it is there.

I recognize that we need to do a lot more with renewable energy. Senator Townsend, you have been a real leader in this. I appreciate your advocacy. We have to do a lot in this legislative session—the legislative session in Washington, D.C. and the legislative session in Carson City—to make sure people understand that Nevada can be the center for renewable energy. There are unlimited amounts of sunshine and wind, as we all know. And, of course, there is geothermal power that can be created here.

I want everyone here to understand that all of us who are so fortunate to be able to serve in legislative bodies have obligations to meet. I think the best example of that is the example that I was given by Bill Swackhammer. I spoke to the former Speaker today. He is still alive. I cannot imagine how old he must be because when I came here in 1969, he was old. He was the dean of the 1969 Nevada State Legislature. He had more tenure than anyone else in the State Legislature in 1969. Here is what he told me: "Never forget who you are. Never forget from where you come. Never forget who sent you here. And never forget why they sent you here." So, my message to each of you legislators here today is that I want to be your partner. I want to work with you. There are things we can do together. My message to each of you, also, is to work on a bipartisan basis to get things done for the people of the state of Nevada.

Nevada voters send us to places like Carson City and Washington, D.C. to work for them. So, let us work for them. Let us do it together, as partners in the government of this great nation. Thank you very much.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 8 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. 1. No person shall be tried for a capital or other infamous crime (except in cases of impeachment, and in cases of the militia when in actual service and the land and naval forces in time of war, or which this State may keep, with the consent of Congress, in time of peace, and in cases of petit larceny, under the regulation of the Legislature) except on presentment or indictment of the grand jury, or upon information duly filed by a district attorney, or Attorney General of the State, and in any trial, in any court whatever, the party accused shall be allowed to appear and defend in person, and with counsel, as in civil actions. No person shall be subject to be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense; nor shall he be compelled, in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself.

Assemblywoman Leslie moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Leslie.

Assemblywoman Leslie requested that her remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Everyone knows that homelessness is a huge problem in our country and in our state. The Urban Institute estimates that between 2.3 million and 3.5 million people per year in the United States experience homelessness. Of those, 23 percent are chronically homeless, which means that they are homeless for long periods of time and often have a disability of mental illness or substance abuse or a physical disability. The other 77 percent of those who are homeless at any one time are considered nonchronic. Approximately 59 percent of the homeless population counted in January 2005 were individuals, while 41 percent were people in families with children.

In Nevada, we have the dubious distinction of having the highest percentage of homeless individuals of any state—6.68 percent of every 100,000 of our population in Nevada is homeless. The only area that exceeds Nevada is Washington, D.C.

A statewide survey conducted in 2005 revealed that over 19,000 people in Nevada are homeless. About 13,000 of those live in Clark County, about 2,500 of those live in the Reno-Sparks area, and 3,500 are spread throughout the rest of the state.

The most common factors of homelessness in our state include domestic violence; the inability to find an affordable house or apartment; unemployment; a sudden illness in the family; or an unforeseen medical expense, car repair, or anything out of the ordinary.

Most disturbing of all is families with children are among the fastest growing segment of the homeless population in our state. Housing, an adequate income, health care, and mental health services and/or drug treatment are some of the answers to this problem of homelessness.

Under Order of Business 15, later, we will have some additional information for you, but as far as the members on this ACR, I hope you will join me in voting "aye."

Resolution adopted.

Assemblywoman Leslie moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 4 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Many of you knew of or perhaps even saw when you came to work today a lot of the tents and soggy boxes outside between our building and the Capitol. I am really pleased to report that we had over 100 people spend the night. At one point yesterday afternoon, as part of our "Tent City," we had more than 250 people here, many of them from Las Vegas. Those of you who have served here for a long time know how rare it is and how wonderful it is to see your constituents make the long trip. Many of them took a very long bus ride yesterday to get here. They will be taking a long bus ride to get back home. So, first of all, I would like to thank all our constituents who participated in the Tent City event yesterday and last night, which was cold and snowy here in northern Nevada. Please stand up and be recognized.

Thank you. Madam Speaker, if I may continue. Some of them look a little ragged, but some of them look a lot better than they did at 11 p.m. when the snow and sleet were coming down. I don not know how you cleaned up, but you did a good job. I especially want to recognize the Assembly members who braved the cold and were there, crawling out at various times this morning from their boxes and tents. The Assembly members from Districts 3, 34, 37, and 41—my Las Vegas colleagues—thank you very much; also, my colleague from Reno in District 24. We even had a Senator there from District 4. We really appreciated that.

There were quite a few other Assembly members who stopped by, like the Majority Leader. I am trying to adhere to protocol but I will just give up on that. Ms. Womack was there, Mrs. Smith was there, Ms. Parnell was there. Lots of Assembly members came by, even if they did not spend the night.

I think that for those of us who did spend the night—and I will speak for myself—it really was a wonderful experience for us. I have never had the opportunity of smelling wet cardboard all night. It was different. We chose that night, as we are reminded repeatedly. We chose to be homeless last night. Most homeless people in our state do not get to choose to be homeless. I think for many of us, and certainly for me, spending the night outside helped to reflect on what it is like for the residents of our state who do not have a home to go to, and who have to sleep like that every day, regardless of whether the weather is balmy or it is snowy or it is cold—and probably without the kind of sleeping bags many of us had last night. It was a mind-opening experience. I think it really brought home the need for our state to do better so that two years from now, we are not standing here saying we have the worst record of any state in the nation. Thank you very much to my colleagues for spending the night. Maybe two years from now some of the rest of you will want to take that action yourselves.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I would just like to add my thanks to all of you who made the journey here to support public awareness for the homeless. I cannot imagine anything worse than being alienated from your family and sleeping on the street. I think this is probably one of the toughest things to advocate for. I see so many of you that I have worked with over the years. You advocate day in, day out, working so well in your communities across the state, trying for our society to not turn its back on our brothers and sisters. As we give our recognition to this important resolution, I also want to recognize each one of you for everything that you do to make our state a better place. Thank you.

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments:

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 19, 2007

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 5.

SHERRY RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 5.

Assemblyman Grady moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Grady and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

I think that the resolution expresses how totally involved and committed Don McBride was as a husband, father, uncle, businessman, and community leader.

Virginia City, being a small community on the Comstock, has families that just connect and associate with one another. The McBrides are one of those families. You can talk history, the Virginia City Muckers basketball, business, the Fourth Ward School, or the Bucket of Blood Saloon, and the McBride family will always be mentioned in conversations.

As the old saying goes, “If you want to get the job done, appoint the busiest person.” That applied to Don McBride. Virginia City can be proud that the McBride sons, Marshall and Steve, are carrying on the business interests while Don is the construction foreman for another well-known Comstock family, Hess Construction. I am very proud to be able to stand here today and support this resolution.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I was a young, freshman legislator from Las Vegas in 1995 when I came to Carson City. Speaker Joe Dini said, "You know, you need to see a little bit more of the state. I will meet you at the back of the building at 6:30 p.m. We are going on a runner." When the Speaker asks you to do something, if you are a smart freshman, you do it. I was at the building at 6:30 p.m. and I got in the car with Speaker Dini and we went to the Bucket of Blood, where we stayed for many hours munching on popcorn and visiting with many of the locals. That was one of my many times that Speaker Dini introduced me to Nevada's traditions, something that makes our state so great. I, too, would like to join in the resolution and offer our support to the family and our thanks for doing so much for our state and making us who we are. Thank you.

Resolution adopted.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

I think we would be remiss today if we didn't pause on Presidents' Day to remember some of the great Presidents who have led our nation. I would like to mention a few quickly: John Adams, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman, and Ronald Reagan.

I would like to mention, in my opinion, our greatest President, whom we often times seem to forget, George Washington. He led us for six years through the Revolutionary War. He was, indeed, first in war. Then, he did a remarkable thing; he walked away from power. At the urging of his countrymen, he came back to lead us for eight more years. He was first in peace, as nearly everything he did for eight years set a standard for those who followed him. George Washington—first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 8 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. 1. No person shall be tried for a capital or other infamous crime (except in cases of impeachment, and in cases of the militia when in actual service and the land and naval forces in time of war, or which this State may keep, with the consent of Congress, in time of peace, and in cases of petit larceny, under the regulation of the Legislature) except on presentment or indictment of the grand jury, or upon information duly filed by a district attorney, or Attorney General of the State, and in any trial, in any court whatever, the party accused shall be allowed to appear and defend in person, and with counsel, as in civil actions. No person shall be subject to be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense; nor shall he be compelled, in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself.

2. The Legislature shall provide by law for the rights of victims of crime, personally or through a representative, to be:

(a) Informed, upon written request, of the status or disposition of a criminal proceeding at any stage of the proceeding;

(b) Present at all public hearings involving the critical stages of a criminal proceeding; and

(c) Heard at all proceedings for the sentencing or release of a convicted person after trial.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, no person may maintain an action against the State or any public officer or employee for damages or injunctive, declaratory or other legal or equitable relief on behalf of a victim of a crime as a result of a violation of any statute enacted by the Legislature pursuant to subsection 2. No such violation authorizes setting aside a conviction or sentence or continuing or postponing a criminal proceeding.

4. A person may maintain an action to compel a public officer or employee to carry out any duty required by the Legislature pursuant to subsection 2.

5. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law.

6. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation having been first made, or secured, except in cases of war, riot, fire, or great public peril, in which case compensation shall be afterward made.

7. Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (a) to (d), inclusive, the public uses for which private property may be taken do not include the direct or indirect transfer of any interest in the property to another private person or entity. A transfer of property taken by the exercise of eminent domain to another private person or entity is a public use in the following circumstances:

(a) The entity that took the property transfers the property to a private person or entity and the private person or entity uses the property primarily to benefit a public service, including, without limitation, a utility, railroad, public transportation project, pipeline, road, bridge or public facility.

(b) The entity that took the property leases the property to a private person or entity that occupies an incidental part of a public facility and, before leasing the property:

(1) Uses its best efforts to notify the person from whom the property was taken that the property will be leased to a private person or entity that will occupy an incidental part of a public facility; and

(2) Provides the person from whom the property was taken with an opportunity to bid or propose on an equal basis with others.

(c) The entity:

(1) Took the property in order to acquire property that was abandoned by the owner, abate an immediate threat to the safety of the public or remediate hazardous waste; and

(2) Grants a right of first refusal to the person from whom the property was taken that allows that person to reacquire the property on the same terms and conditions that are offered to the other private person or entity.

(d) The entity that took the property transfers an interest in the property to a private person or entity in exchange for an interest in the property that was taken, or is being taken, by the exercise of eminent domain or under the threat of the exercise of eminent domain for the purpose of a road or highway, the relocation of public or private structures or to facilitate or avoid payment of excessive compensation or damages.

8. In all actions in eminent domain:

(a) Before the entity that is taking property obtains possession of the property, the entity shall give to the owner of the property a copy of all appraisals of the property obtained by the entity.

(b) At the occupancy hearing, the owner of the property that is the subject of the action is entitled, at the property owner's election, to a separate and distinct determination as to whether the property is being taken for a public use.

(c) The entity that is taking property has the burden of proving that the taking is for a public use.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, neither the entity that is taking property nor the owner of the property is liable for the attorney's fees of the other party. This paragraph does not apply in an inverse condemnation action if the owner of the property that is the subject of the action makes a request for attorney's fees from the other party to the action.

9. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, if a court determines that a taking of property is for public use, the taken or damaged property must be valued at its highest and best use without considering any future dedication requirements imposed by the entity that is taking the property. If property is taken primarily for a profit-making purpose, the property must be valued at the use to which the entity that is taking the property intends to put the property, if such use results in a higher value for the property.

10. In all actions in eminent domain, fair market value is the highest price, on the date of valuation, that would be agreed to by a seller, who is willing to sell on the open market and has reasonable time to find a purchaser, and a buyer, who is ready, willing and able to buy, if both the seller and the buyer had full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available.

11. In all actions in eminent domain, just compensation is that sum of money necessary to place the property owner in the same position monetarily as if the property had never been taken, excluding any governmental offsets except special benefits. Special benefits may only offset severance damages and may not offset the value for the property. Just compensation for the property taken by the exercise of eminent domain must include, without limitation, interest and reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the owner of the property that is the subject of the action. The district court shall determine, in a posttrial hearing, the award of interest and award as interest the amount of money which will put the person from whom the property is taken in as good a position monetarily as if the property had not been taken. The district court shall enter an order concerning:

(a) The date on which the computation of interest will commence;

(b) The rate of interest to be used to compute the award of interest, which must not be less than the prime rate of interest plus 2 percent; and

(c) Whether the interest will be compounded annually.

12. Property taken by the exercise of eminent domain must be offered to and reverts to the person from whom the property was taken upon repayment of the original purchase price if, within 15 years after obtaining possession of the property, the entity that took the property:

(a) Fails to use the property for the public use for which the property was taken or for any public use reasonably related to the public use for which the property was taken; or

(b) Seeks to convey any right, title or interest in all or part of the property to any other person and the conveyance is not occurring pursuant to subsection 7.

The entity that has taken the property does not fail to use the property under paragraph (a) if the entity has begun active planning for or design of the public use, the assembling of land in furtherance of planning for or design of the public use or construction related to the public use.

13. If any provision of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the provisions or application of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, are declared to be severable.

14. The provisions of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, apply to an action in eminent domain that is filed on or after January 1, 2011.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 22 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution, commonly known as the "People's Initiative to Stop the Taking of Our Land," if that section is approved and ratified by the voters at the 2008 General Election, is hereby repealed.

Assemblyman Hardy moved that the resolution be referred to the Concurrent Committees on Judiciary and Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 21, 2007

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6.

SHERRY RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6.

Assemblyman Grady moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Grady and Anderson.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Every two years, a resolution comes before this body to recognize the Clampers. There are Clampers from Virginia City, Silver City, Gold Hill, Dayton, Reno-Sparks, southern Nevada, eastern Nevada and in both houses of this Nevada Legislature.

As the resolution says, they have survived the test of time. Madam Speaker, we are proud to have you, as many Speakers have before you, welcome the "Frolicking Friars" as they visit our Chamber today and prepare for another fun-filled event of protecting the widders of this great state. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

This organization has existed from the earliest days of Nevada mining history. As clearly explained, "taking care of the 'widders' and orphans, especially the 'widders'," of course, is not just a small remark because it was not unusual that the actual rescue of families who were left destitute was left to groups such as their fellow miners. That is exactly where this organization came from, helping their fellow miners and leaving anonymous gifts for their families.

Today, E. Clampus Vitus is engaged in another kind of charitable work, and that is rescuing from oblivion the early history of the state. If any of you have wandered the back roads of this state as I have had the great privilege to do, you know that you will come across a mining camp, and the only sign that it was once there is the markers that have been erected by the Clampers. Some of you may disagree about some of the locations that they have selected, but those are the sites that were common at the time where people frequented. Taverns were important places in those communities and therefore should be recognized. I am particularly mindful of one of the locations in my Assembly district—falls right on the edge of it as it happens—and that is the marker placed for James Beckwith. Beckwith was a black frontiersman who blazed the trail across the Sierras, over the lowest passage of the Sierras, whose history might otherwise be forgotten had it not been for the hard work of the Clampers to make sure that the knowledge of his achievement and his accomplishments here in the West were verified. They spend painstaking hours making sure the historical record is accurately portrayed, and they have produced books that are often available in a narrow circle of individuals, but still it is their painstaking travel and time that erects those markers. Thank you.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the Assembly recess until 4:45 p.m.

Motion carried.

United States Senator John Ensign delivered his message as follows:

SEVENTY-FOURTH SESSION, 2007

Speaker Buckley, Majority Leader Raggio, members of the Senate and Assembly, Governor Gibbons and other constitutional officers, distinguished guests, and my fellow Nevadans:

I am honored to be here with you today at this moment of great opportunity and promise. In Nevada and Washington, D.C., we face the challenge of reaching out to members of the opposite party to make progress and improve the quality of life for all Americans. Throughout time, men and women have nobly answered this call and changed history.

Two hundred years ago this week, the struggle of a leader in Great Britain finally resulted in victory with a vote by the House of Commons to abolish the horrific slave trade. William Wilberforce had been the voice of the antislavery movement for more than two decades. He introduced his antislavery legislation every single session of Parliament, worked every possible angle, and was ridiculed and targeted for his commitment to the cause. His health deteriorated during the course of his advocacy, but his passion did not.

William Wilberforce was admired for his ability to work with philosophical opponents for the greater good. One of his favorite sayings was, "Measures, not men." In this capitol, and in our nation's capitol, we must commit ourselves to crossing the great political divide for the greater good.

I want to start off by congratulating our senior Senator, Harry Reid, now the Majority Leader of the United States Senate. I am very proud of my good friend for what he has accomplished. My Republican colleagues have entrusted me with the chairmanship of the National Republican Senatorial Committee, and we have two members now on the House Ways and Means Committee. Nevada has truly never known such political influence in its history. Senator Reid and I have worked together on many Nevada initiatives over the years to improve the quality of life for our constituents. We have been so successful because we have been willing—along with the rest of the Nevada delegation—to put aside our philosophical differences and party loyalties and do what is best for Nevada.

Our delegation is well positioned to continue that work. In fact, Nevada is in the best position ever to put the brakes on the Yucca Mountain project and finally shut down that money pit of deceitful management and bad science.

I feel very blessed to have been exposed to so much of our state throughout my life. My childhood memories are of growing up in Reno, Carson, Lake Tahoe, and later in Las Vegas. This state has been home to my family for more than 100 years. There is no place like it in the world. All the things that I love about Nevada are the same reasons that thousands continue to move to our state each month. It is the quality of life that we all cherish so deeply.

The lands bills that Senator Reid and I, along with then-Congressman Gibbons, have written over the past six years were born out of the desire to protect and enhance the quality of life throughout Nevada. Our most recent bill, the White Pine County Lands bill, is a perfect example.

The White Pine County Lands bill, like the other laws, was crafted in cooperation with citizens holding many different views. The bill designates 550,000 acres of wilderness, but it also allows 45,000 acres of BLM land to be privatized. Land sale proceeds will go to funding White Pine County law enforcement, fire protection, transportation, and natural resource planning. So far, with all of the lands bills that we have done, the general education fund for the state has received $150 million to this point.

The quality-of-life benefits extend to every corner of the state. The White Pine measure also includes a ten-year authorization for a comprehensive hazardous fuels reduction program at Lake Tahoe, throughout the eastern Sierras, and the Spring Mountains in southern Nevada. It also has funds to acquire and protect portions of the Ballardini Ranch in Washoe County, the acceleration of over a billion dollars in parks and trails in southern Nevada, and the construction of a new reservoir to conserve 3 million acre-feet of water from the Colorado River.

These projects will make a tremendous difference in the lives of generations of Nevadans to come. They ensure that our natural resources are protected and that we are prepared for continued growth.

The innovative thinking that has made these bills so successful is the same kind of thinking we need to tackle other challenges facing our state—namely traffic congestion. The gridlock haunting many of our daily commutes puts our families in danger, stifles businesses, and harms our air quality.

State, county, and local legislators can no longer look to Washington, D.C., for a blank check to fix these problems. The Highway Trust Fund is now paying out 100 percent of what it brings in. It is time to be open to finding innovative solutions. While the federal government will remain a partner, our state must explore every option to reduce gridlock as we look to improve the quality of life for all our constituents.

Innovation, entrepreneurship, and competitiveness have been the cornerstones of our state's progress and popularity for many decades. Today, we need to inspire a new generation of young people to be innovative and to be competitive. Our students and businesses are no longer competing with just California and Arizona. They are up against people in China, India, and across the globe. And we must prepare them to meet that challenge.

I have spent a great deal of time over the past two years on legislation promoting competitiveness and innovation, which impact Nevada's future economic strength and how we can prepare students for the twenty-first century workforce.

Working together, we must do all we can to attract more high-tech companies and scientific researchers to our state. Last year, I convened high tech summits in Las Vegas and Reno in order to bring technology leaders together with educators, elected officials, chambers of commerce, and business development leaders.

These businesses and researchers foster innovation and the new ideas, technologies, and processes that lead to better jobs, higher wages, and a higher standard of living. Unfortunately, in the fields responsible for innovation in the twenty-first century—science, technology, engineering, and mathematics—America is steadily losing its global edge.

Last Congress, I introduced the bipartisan National Competitiveness Investment Act to address innovation and competitiveness challenges faced by our country. It focuses on three primary areas: increasing research investment; fostering science, technology, engineering, and mathematics talent; and developing an innovation infrastructure.

All of you know, I think, that I am a fiscal conservative. But every dollar we invest at the federal level in basic research is a dollar that will come back to us in spades in terms of stimulating economic activity and helping to keep the United States and Nevada at the forefront of global innovation.

The National Competitiveness Investment Act also addresses the need to encourage more American students from elementary school through graduate school to pursue careers in science, engineering, and mathematics, like we see at the Davidson Academy at UNR. The bill strengthens the skills of thousands of math and science teachers by establishing new undergraduate and graduate training programs.

Just this afternoon, I met with Dr. Benjamin Tayahi. He has his Ph.D. in electrical engineering and is an assistant professor at UNR. He has recognized the important need to engage students and inspire them in the areas of math, science, and engineering—especially for minority students. His Saturday Engineering Academy is fueled, 100 percent, by volunteers. Students have access to cutting-edge technology at UNR and receive hands-on experience. It is really important that all of us focus on changing our educational system to meet the needs of the twenty-first century. Other countries have scientists and mathematicians teaching science and math. In the United States, we mostly have education majors teaching science and math. If your passion is in science and math, you have a better chance of translating that passion to your students. I have talked to the presidents of UNR and UNLV and our community colleges about trying to transform the way we teach our teachers. The University of Texas at Austin has a program called "You Teach." It is innovative. They are actually taking science majors and teaching them to be teachers. The results, so far, have been very promising. The University of California system is going along with this same kind of model. It is time for Nevada to take the lead in the country to try to change the way we are teaching science and math teachers so that we can inspire the next generation of Nevadans.

Let me mention another issue being debated in Washington, D.C. that has a tremendous potential to increase our global competitiveness. When it comes to broadband deployment, we are falling behind the rest of the world.

The country that invented the Internet should not be sixteenth in the world when it comes to broadband deployment. Here in the State Legislature, you have a unique chance to help improve this situation and at the same time bring consumers more choices in video service.

Advances in technology now allow traditional cable or phone companies to get into each other's lines of business. This brings consumers another option for local phone service, and by introducing new competition, it creates better service, more features, and better prices.

And technology now makes it possible for telephone companies to get into the video business. However, our outdated laws make it a very cumbersome, expensive, and lengthy process.

The federal legislation seems to be stalled at this point, so I would encourage you all to join the nine states that have passed legislation to streamline video franchising rules to encourage the deployment of video services. Video competition will be great for consumers and result in exciting new services.

The opportunity to compete with cable and satellite in the video market is the key to spurring the investment in these broadband networks. The fiber optic networks that will bring Nevadans video services will mean dramatically increased broadband speeds that are critical to keeping us competitive globally.

While I will continue to push for legislation at the federal level, I urge you to work together this year to bring competition and investment to our state.

We have also taken great strides in improving the quality of life for our honorable veterans. I was proud to be at the groundbreaking ceremony in southern Nevada for the new VA medical center and hospital in North Las Vegas last year and look forward, with great anticipation, to the grand opening in 2011. We are also preparing for a community-based outpatient clinic in Fallon in the fall and continued improvements in health care for veterans in Elko.

I also believe that we must provide for our veterans' healthcare needs because without their sacrifice and service, very simply, none of us would have the freedoms that we cherish. But there is still much more work to be done, however. We need a state veterans nursing home in northern Nevada to complement the one in southern Nevada. As fast as our state is growing, we need to expand the state veterans cemeteries in Boulder City and Fernley. I know these are ambitious goals, but they are the very least we can do for the champions of our democracy.

A brave, new generation of future veterans is defending our freedom and fighting for our security every day, across the world. They, and their families, have made unbelievable sacrifices for our families and for our future. And there is no shortage of heroes or heroic efforts from this great state.

As I stand before you tonight, 376 men and women of the Nevada National Guard are serving around the world in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation Enduring Freedom, including one of my staff members who I am very proud of, Mark Sprinkle. Along with countless Nevadans in other branches of the military, they are the great defenders of democracy and freedom. They have answered the call to protect and defend our nation, and we are so proud of their commitment to this noble cause.

Roughly 100 soldiers from Fallon, Yerington, Reno, Las Vegas, and Carson City are performing escort security duty in Iraq right now. These soldiers were all previously deployed to Fort Irwin, California. Not one of these soldiers had to go to Iraq, but every single one of them volunteered to go. There are many other Nevadans who have volunteered as well.

At Nellis Air Force Base, Air Force active duty and reserve airmen, as well as Nevada Air guardsmen, are working together to play a critical role in fighting this war against radical, Islamic extremists. They are piloting the unmanned, armed Predator spy planes. The Predators have been vital to finding and killing terrorists in Iraq and Afghanistan. Last year, this Nevada team of active, reserve, and guard members participated in 470 raids, surveyed almost 16,000 targets, logged more than 40,000 flying hours, and completed more than 2,000 sorties.

And the actions of our Nevada servicemen and women are nothing short of heroic. Next week, four airmen from Nellis will be awarded the Bronze Star Medal, and four will receive the Army Commendation Medal for their service in Iraq. As members of the Explosive Ordnance Disposal Flight, they engaged in more than 700 combat missions, destroyed almost 400,000 pieces of unexploded ordnance, and cleared tens of thousands of miles of strategic highway.

Technical Sergeant Michael Bibb manually cleared a vital road of Improvised Explosive Devices, or IEDs, with a battle raging only 500 meters from his location. Staff Sergeant David Fitzpatrick manually cleared a landing zone in minutes so that a MEDEVAC helicopter could land and transport the wounded. And Staff Sergeant Krumlinde evacuated an innocent Iraqi family, defeated a timed IED that had been placed next to their home, and saved their lives and their home.

This is the courage we have seen time and again from Nevada's men and women in uniform. But they do not serve alone. Their families have also shown great bravery and commitment in the face of worried days and sleepless nights. I have been awestruck by the support these families provide for their loved ones and for the entire military community.

Unfortunately, 50 men with ties to Nevada have made the ultimate sacrifice. They are more than numbers, though. They are fathers, sons, brothers, husbands, and friends. They left behind families who will never be able to fill the void left by their deaths.

One-year-old Ethan Garrigus' only memories of his father will be from pictures and the teddy bear he left behind with a special recorded message. Ethan's father turned down assignments on American soil in order to serve a second tour in Iraq. He believed in his mission and he wanted to protect his son and his wife and our way of life.

I want Ethan to know that we are so proud of his father and his unwavering commitment to freedom. Sergeant Garrigus gave his life for a cause greater than all of us. It is in his honor and in the name of the men and women who have died defending freedom throughout our history that we should pledge to work together for the good of Nevada and the good of this nation.

God bless all of them, God bless you, and God speed. Thank you.

Senator Heck moved that the Senate and Assembly in Joint Session extend a vote of thanks to Senator Ensign for his timely, able, and constructive message.

Seconded by Assemblyman Parks.

Motion carried unanimously.

SEVENTY-FOURTH SESSION, 2007

Good evening everybody. It seems as though I picked a Washington, D.C. weather day here in Carson City to join you. I am very delighted that any of you showed up, so I thank you very, very much. It is always a pleasure being back here with you.

When I come into this Chamber, I recall when I served in 1983. And for those of you old timers that were serving here back then, you know that I had a seven-month-old son with me, my son Max. I never feel older than when I come back and realize that he is now a first-year law student at the Boyd School of Law and is 24 years old. So it has been 24 years since I served in this very esteemed Chamber, and it is always a pleasure to come back and visit with all of you.

In less than two months, I have been a witness to history twice. The first time was when I cast my vote on the floor of the House of Representatives for the first woman Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, Nancy Pelosi. And it gives me extraordinary pleasure to have been introduced by Nevada's first female Speaker of the House, my dear friend Barbara Buckley.

Madam Speaker; members of the esteemed Nevada Assembly; Senator Raggio; Senator Titus; members of our esteemed State Senate; Madam Controller, Kim Wallin, it is lovely to see you; and our very esteemed members of our Nevada Supreme Court, it is a great pleasure to have you here, and I am delighted that you came. I know how difficult it is out there. I know we have a representative of our Governor—thank you very much and extend my appreciation that he made you go out in the snow storm to come here.

I want to talk to you tonight about a number of issues, and I promise that it will be as brief as I can possibly make it, but I want to convey and share some thoughts with you. Our nation is at war. There are more than 1,900 brave Nevadans currently serving our country in Afghanistan and Iraq, nearly two-thirds of the Nevada Army Guard units have been deployed since 2001, and more than 50 percent of Nevada's Army Guard soldiers have taken part in Operations Iraqi Freedom and Enduring Freedom. One in three Nevada National guardsmen has served in Iraq over the last few years. Thirty-four Nevadans have lost their lives in Iraq and Afghanistan, and I have a poster in my office in Washington D.C. with the names of 43 Nevadans who have lost their lives due to terrorism since 9/11.

I want to acknowledge the loved ones they left behind, and may we always honor our commitments to the families of the fallen and keep our promises to care for those who are injured as a result of their military service.

As I stand here, I am very cognizant of the fact that thousands and thousands of our fellow countrymen have paid, and are paying, a huge price on behalf of our nation, and they have made great sacrifices that most us cannot even begin to imagine. As a member of the Veterans' Affairs Committee, one of my top priorities is building a state-of-the-art VA medical complex in southern Nevada. We have had challenges getting this complex done. The good news is that I was able to secure 147 acres on the corner of Highway 215 and Pecos in North Las Vegas in order to build three buildings that will be part of this medical complex—a full-service VA hospital, an outpatient clinic, and a long-term care facility for our veterans. Please be mindful that there are already 1,500 veterans of the Iraqi-Afghan conflict who are now seeking medical attention through our VA in southern Nevada. The bad news is the total cost of this project has almost doubled since Congress approved it a few years ago. The good news is, true to the administration's word, they have included in the 2008 budget the rest of the funding we will need to complete this extraordinary project. I believe in giving credit where credit is due. A full one-half of the President's VA capital budget is coming to the state of Nevada. The rest of the 49 states will share the other half of the budget. We did quite well. We have much to do. We have the fastest-growing veterans' population in the United States, and when these troops come home, whenever it is—if it is six months from now or six years from now—they are going to need the medical attention that we have promised them, and we will be able, in the state of Nevada, to provide it.

Few issues, in my mind, are more important than energy independence. Gas prices have increased by more than 50 percent in Nevada since 2001, and families continue to feel the pinch every time they fill up at the pump. The prices are not over $3 a gallon anymore, but they are not too much lower, either. Ending our addiction to foreign oil is a key step in ensuring that energy will remain affordable for America's families in the future and that our nation is not at the mercy of the Saudis, the Venezuelans, the Nigerians, and every other hostile and unstable regime across the planet.

Dependence on foreign oil is the number one, long-term threat that our nation faces, and it is incomprehensible to me that almost six years after 9/11, this nation still does not have a comprehensive energy policy that will get us away from foreign oil and start us exploring and using renewable, clean energy that we can count on for generations to come.

Despite the overwhelming need as a nation to invest and promote energy independence, the President's latest budget request for renewable energy and energy efficiency is the same in 2008 as it was in 2001. Stagnant funding will not lead us to energy independence. Legislation passed a few years ago in Congress gave billions of dollars of tax breaks to the oil, gas, and nuclear industries instead of renewable energy sources. Congress is now beginning to look first at new directions for our nation's energy supply, which puts the emphasis on renewable or alternative fuels.

The House passed a renewable energy bill called the Clean Energy Act in the first 100 hours of the new Congress. This bill repeals the subsidies to the oil and gas industries and provides that the funding be used for renewable energy incentives. The Ways and Means Committee, a committee that I sit on, will discuss exactly how this money will be spent in hearings to be held over the next few weeks. I would have preferred to see these subsidies stripped from the nuclear industry, as well, and the savings put towards renewable power and alternative fuels. That is the direction this nation needs to be going. To that end, I have reintroduced my own energy independence bill called the Freedom Through Renewable Energy Expansion Act—the FREE Act, I love it—which would repeal subsidies to the oil, gas, and nuclear industries and redirect this money to give tax incentives to other programs that promote the production of renewable energy sources, many of which can be found in Nevada. Let's harness our wind, our sun, and our geothermal resources that we have in abundance here in northern Nevada. If we are going to be the epicenter of energy in this country, there is no better state than the state of Nevada to provide clean, renewable energy to the rest of this nation. We can do it. We have got it in our power. The FREE Act would also create a federal renewable portfolio standard modeled after the one created by the Nevada State Legislature that requires at least 20 percent of our nation's energy to come from renewable sources by the year 2016, and it was such a lovely, well-written bill by the Nevada State Legislature that I stole it, and I thank you very much for that.

A very few words about Yucca Mountain, and I do not want to dwell on this, but I do want to let you know what is happening. Yucca Mountain is collapsing under the weight of a bloated budget, scientific uncertainty, mismanagement, and outright fraud. We have emails that say that sometimes we do not know the data and so we just make it up. That does not exactly give you a great feeling that this is based on sound science. There is a growing realization that the dangers of transporting nuclear waste across this country are untenable. Also, we have a Majority Leader of the United States Senate that is hell bent on eliminating the funding for Yucca Mountain. That all helps, but I would say to all of you that this battle is not over yet, and I implore you to keep the pressure on, keep up the fight, keep the information flowing until the time that Yucca Mountain truly becomes nothing but a very, very bad memory.

I want to talk to you about the President's budget that he presented to the United States Congress on February 5, and its impact on the state of Nevada, particularly on what you are doing in these hallowed halls of your Legislature. Decisions that are made and the votes that we cast in Washington have a profound effect on the work that you are doing here on behalf of all of our constituents and our fellow citizens in Nevada. I receive literally thousands of emails, phone calls, faxes, and letters every single week in my Washington and Las Vegas offices. I suspect that you are getting the exact same letters, faxes, e-mails and communications from your constituents. What are they asking us? They are asking us for affordable health care. They want lower energy prices. They want us to invest in public schools so that kids can get a good education. They want job security so they know from one month to the next that they are going to have a job so that they can take care of their families, and they want to make sure that their federal government is going to keep them safe from a future terrorist attack. I don't think that the American people are asking too much of their government at any level, and theses priorities are not reflected in the 2008 budget proposal from the President.

Let me talk to about homeland security. The President's budget slashes first responders' funding and all but eliminates funding for the COPS program, which has helped to put law enforcement officers on the beat in all of our communities. It cuts firefighters' assistance grants by over 50 percent. Year-to-year grant funding from the Department of Homeland Security to our states is an asinine way to fund antiterrorist programs throughout the United States. Last year, Nevada did not make the list. This year we did make the list. After we were cut out of the list last year, I just happened to be at a dinner at the Israeli embassy with the Secretary of Homeland Security, Michael Chertoff. I went over to him and I said, "Mr. Secretary, how could you have left Nevada off the list of most vulnerable states when it comes to a terrorist attack?" He said, "Don't worry. You can earn your way back on next year." Well, how does one earn their way back on to a terrorist list? I do not think it is a list that I really want to earn my way back on to, but I would like to know what the criteria is so that every year we could be on the list. We need that money desperately.

The other thing I want to mention to you is that I do not think any of us will ever forget 9/11. Watching that horror unfold on our television sets and seeing these brave first responders, the firefighters in New York going into those burning buildings and having no way to communicate with them to get out. We did not have at that time interoperability of first responders' communication devices. Five and a half years later, we still do not. This should be a no-brainer for all of us, and this is something that has not been funded by the President's budget ever and needs to be fast.

Medicare cuts will result in a loss of more than $100 million in funding for hospitals, skilled nursing facilities, and home health providers serving seniors and people with disabilities right here in our state of Nevada. There are nearly 300,000 Medicare beneficiaries and about 175,000 Medicaid beneficiaries in the state of Nevada. The President's budget includes more than $75 billion in Medicare and Medicaid cuts over five years and calls for billions in new premiums. These cuts are merely going to transfer to the states even more of the burden of providing care to the elderly and the poor. Let me mention Medicare reimbursement for the doctors. I cannot tell you how many telephone calls I get from my doctors in southern Nevada. They are telling me that they can no longer afford to take on more Medicare patients, and if there is another cut will not take on more Medicare patients. Why is that important? It is because we have got the fastest growing senior population right here in the state of Nevada. If our doctors start refusing to care for Medicare patients or they cannot make enough money or are not reimbursed enough to cover the cost of serving and caring for these seniors, we are going to have a senior health care crisis in this state. I am telling you that this is not something that is going to happen in the future. It is going to happen now unless we correct this problem.

There are 425,000 of our fellow Nevadans without any health insurance, and the number is rising. Today Nevada's workers are paying nearly $1,400 more to insure their families than they did just six years ago, an 80 percent increase. This increase has many unable to afford coverage, even if it is offered through an employer. Federal programs that are aimed at addressing the issue of the uninsured are being squeezed as a result of cuts in Washington. One perfect example is SCHIP program. Our Governor and the nation's governors are in Washington D.C. They just recently met with the Secretary of HHS and begged him to put more money into this program. This budget leaves the states' children's health insurance program in dire jeopardy. Underfunding SCHIP does nothing to help the more than 100,000 uninsured children in the state of Nevada. I do not have to tell anyone here SCHIP is a partnership between the feds and the State that provides health care to low-income, uninsured children whose income level is above Medicaid eligibility. It expires at the end of 2007. The Ways and Means Committee will deal with reauthorizing the program this year. The President would reauthorize SCHIP for five years, and he adds $675 million into the SCHIP program. It brings it up to $5 billion. That sounds great. The only thing is every expert tells us, and every state governor tells us, that it is going to take $12 billion to $15 billion in order to make this program whole. So that means that we are already starting with a $10 billion deficit. A cut on top of that would be absolutely outrageous. This funding level will force the states to find ways to cover children that would be denied this health insurance. I will make a promise to you, standing here before you, that as a member of the Ways and Means Committee, I will do everything in my power to make sure that we can add desperately needed funding to the SCHIP program so that the burden does not fall on you.

Let me talk to you a minute about education. Education is on everybody's minds. We all campaign on it. We are all the education Assembly, the education Senators, and I'm certainly the education congresswoman. Over the past six years, No Child Left Behind has been underfunded by $71 billion nationwide. Now, we all believe in accountability. I voted for No Child Left Behind because I liked to know that there was accountability built into the program, but what I did not vote for was underfunding it by $71 billion. Under the President's current budget, 20,000 children in the state of Nevada will go without promised help in reading and math, and over 11,000 children in Nevada will fail to receive after-school services promised and written into the No Child Left Behind Act. There is no congressional district, and many of your districts overlap with mine, your Assembly districts, your state Senate districts, fall within my district and Congressional District 3, there is no area in the country that needs those after-school programs more than we do. We have the fastest-growing school-age population. We have a lot of single-parent homes. We have a lot of divorced families, and we have a lot of children out on the streets. Those after-school programs are the thing that keeps these kids safe, gives them a little extra help on their schoolwork, and gives them an opportunity to succeed. We need to make sure that these programs are funded.

If there is one investment in education I hope you will support this legislative session, it is all-day kindergarten for our children. Providing our students with more early learning opportunities can help improve academic achievement and better prepare our kindergarteners for later grades. Every academic study I have read and the experience of other states—every one of them—has shown that the value of all-day kindergarten classes is for real. I hope that you will support this program and support our youngest students with the opportunity for increased learning at an early age. If you talk to any teacher that is doing all-day kindergarten in a predominately non-English speaking school, they will tell you that their young kindergarten kids come into their class without speaking a word of English in September, or at the end of August, by May they are speaking English fluently. Isn't that what we want to see? Yes, we do.

We have nearly 250,000 veterans in the state of Nevada. The President's budget falls short of what is needed to keep pace with growth and is inadequate in light of the badly wounded troops returning from Iraq and Afghanistan who will depend on the VA health care system to take care of their health care needs. Caring for our veterans is a cost of war, and it is a lifetime obligation for our nation. The administration is asking for a $1.9 billion increase over 2007. It sounds like a lot of money until you realize $1.4 billion of that is inflation to keep us exactly where we are today. There are 50,000 wounded American soldiers coming from the Afghanistan-Iraqi war; they are coming home, and they will be accessing our VA health care system. We had better be prepared for them.

Other things the President has proposed are dead on arrival because he has introduced them the last four years, and they have been rejected by a Republican Congress and a Republican Senate. One of them is we will never—and I will pledge to you today and I pledge to my veterans—we will never charge our veterans an enrollment fee so that they can access the VA medical system that we promised they could have for free. Not going to happen; I do not care what the President has in his budget.

It would be an impossible situation if we were to double the copays of our veterans for the prescription medications that they are currently getting from the VA. It is a disgrace that we should even be thinking about balancing the budget on these veterans' backs.

The last thing that I will talk about when it comes to veterans is anther proposal. Last year the President proposed a $13 million cut in prostheses. Twenty thousand of the 50,000 people who will be coming home from the theatre of war have lost at least one limb. Do we really want to balance the federal budget on the backs of these poor men and women? I do not think so. I do not, and you do not either. We are not going to do it.

The Speaker asked about the REAL ID Act. Let me share with you what I believe is going to happen. It is my opinion, and it was when I first voted against REAL ID, that the federal government should not throw the responsibility and costs of illegal immigration and homeland security onto the states. This is yet another unfunded mandate that you do not need. This is one of those "I voted against it before I voted for it," situations, but I voted against the REAL ID Act on February 10, 2005. On May 5, we voted for the wartime supplemental appropriation bills that fund the soldiers. Somehow, magically, the REAL ID section that we voted against three months earlier was put in the supplemental that none of us were going to vote against because we were not going to vote against funding our soldiers in the field. That is how the REAL ID was passed. The cost estimates for implementing REAL ID nationwide are as high as $11 billion. Somewhere along the line, REAL ID changed from a homeland security issue to an immigration issue. It was rushed through with no planning and no consultation with the states. According to our own Department of Motor Vehicles Director Ginny Lewis, it will cost Nevada about $66 million over the next four years to comply with REAL ID. The Maine Legislature was the first in the nation to refuse to implement and call for the full repeal of the REAL ID Act. Numerous other states—21 at this moment—have similar legislation pending. I am the cosponsor of a piece of legislation with Maine Congressman Tom Allen that repeals the REAL ID drivers' license requirements and re-establishes the Department of Transportation and the Department of Homeland Security federal rule-making process that was recommended by the 9/11 Commission. This bill would require federal agencies to consult—what an interesting idea—with the state governments and would also authorize several hundred million dollars through 2015 for grants to help the states with compliance costs. I am a cosponsor of the legislation, and I am hoping to see passage.

Three other very quick things. I know I am running long. I try my best, but I have so much to share with you. I want to acknowledge Garn Mabey. I am sorry that I did not catch your eye when I first started speaking. It is a pleasure to be speaking before you. Thank you for having me.

In Congress, I fought to bring back the state sales tax deduction. The result has been a savings for Nevadans on their tax bills. In 2004, nearly 330,000 Nevadans claimed deductions totaling more than $500 million for state and local sales tax. We need this to be a permanent option for Nevada families at tax time. I will continue to work my hardest to make the sales tax deduction a permanent deduction for all Nevadans.

We have passed an increase on the minimum wage on the federal level. The last thing I want to do is impose a burden on our small businesses, here in the state of Nevada. Between the vote that we took in November, which raised the minimum wage in the state, and an additional increase on the federal level, I know that there are many small businesses, particularly my restaurants, that are going to take a tremendous hit. Half of the people that are employed in Congressional District 1 are employed by small businesses. It became very important to me that we provide necessary tax breaks to compensate these small businesses for the amount of money it is going to cost them for the minimum wage. I am very happy to say that not only did the minimum wage increase pass in Congress, but a series of tax breaks for small businesses passed the Friday before we recessed for the Presidents' Day break, so our small businesses in the state of Nevada will be whole and our working men and women will be whole, too.

As usual, I have gone far longer than I anticipated. I promised the Speaker that I would be short. I am sorry; I didn't mean to mislead you. These are very challenging times in our nation, but what I got from the last election is the following: The people who vote for us do not care if you are elected on the local level, the state level, or the federal level. I cannot tell you how many people see me in the airport and ask me about Carson City. I am sure they ask you the same questions. They do not care if you are a Republican or a Democrat. They want us to get something done. They are disappointed with all of us that hold a trusted elected office that we cannot come together and come up with meaningful, important legislation to solve the real problems that exist in this country. You know, you can reach out to me at any time, anywhere, on any issue, and I will work with every single person in this body to make sure that we can provide a quality of life for all people in this state, that all of us—all of us who are elected by the people of the state of Nevada—can take pride in. That is our number one responsibility: to do good for the people who have trusted us with their vote.

I thank you today for giving me the opportunity to speak with all of you. I look forward to working with you for many years in the future to improve the quality of life in this state—and throughout the United States—giving every single one of our citizens an opportunity to be a part of this great nation, to enjoy all of its abundance and opportunities, and to have a piece of what is a very real American dream.

I thank you all very much.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 1, 2007

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 7.

SHERRY RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 7.

Assemblyman Mabey moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Mabey, Pierce, and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

I am honored to speak to the resolution honoring Dr. Emil Frei, III. Dr. Frei was born into a family of artists. He was expected to join the family business, a stained glass company in St. Louis, but Emil, or Tom, as he is known by everyone, was drawn to science in his early teens after reading a book called Rats, Lice, and History. He briefly studied art at Washington University but soon found medicine was his true calling. Dr. Frei received his medical degree from Yale.

In 1972, while working at the National Cancer Institute, Dr. Frei was recruited to the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute at Harvard in Boston. He became its director, a position he held for nearly 20 years. While at Dana-Farber, Dr. Frei teamed with Dr. Emil Freireich, and the pair developed a revolutionary approach to treating childhood leukemia using combinations of chemotherapy drugs. The treatment soon gained international acceptance and is viewed as the single most important advance in the past quarter century in saving the lives of cancer patients.

In 1965, the cure rate for childhood leukemia patients was 0 percent—today, it is 80 percent.

This resolution honors a man whose life work served mankind for over 50 years. He is a dedicated and compassionate physician in the field of oncology but also a man known for his irrepressible sense of humor, delight in silly jokes, and his love and devotion to his family as a beloved husband, father, and grandfather.

Las Vegas became home to Dr. Frei in 2004, and the citizens of Nevada are enriched by his presence, his caring, and his devotion.

Dr. Frei is unable to be here today. He is 83 years of age and suffers from Parkinson's disease. I ask your support and passage of SCR 7 honoring the lifetime commitment, dedication, and inspiration of Dr. Emil Frei, III.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I understand that Dr. Frei is listening to us today and I, too, would like to add my comments in support of the resolution. The son of our previous Speaker, Richard Perkins, was diagnosed with leukemia, and due to the work of Dr. Frei and others, that cure rate resulted in Speaker Perkins' son also being cured. His work has touched the lives of so many Nevadans, and we applaud him for that.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PIERCE:

I rise in support of this resolution. Most of you know that six weeks before my first election, I was diagnosed with breast cancer, and when I arrived here, I had a haircut similar to my colleague from Assembly District 34. I can attest to the fact that chemotherapy is a tremendous blessing, but not for your hair. I am very grateful for Dr. Frei's work, and I wouldn't be here today if it wasn't for chemotherapy. Thank you very much.

Resolution adopted.

WHEREAS, Theodor Seuss Geisel was born on March 2, 1904, in Springfield, Massachusetts; and

WHEREAS, Theodor Seuss Geisel graduated from Dartmouth College in 1925 and began writing humorous articles and creating cartoons for various magazines; and

WHEREAS, His first children's book, And to Think That I Saw It on Mulberry Street, was rejected by 43 publishers until, in 1937, a friend published the book for him; and

WHEREAS, In May 1954, Life magazine published a report concerning illiteracy among school children, stating that, among other things, children were having trouble learning to read because the books were boring; and

WHEREAS, This comment inspired Theodor Seuss Geisel's publisher, Bennett Cerf, to compile a list of 400 words that he felt were important, asking Mr. Geisel to cut the list to 250 words, the number of words a first-grader could absorb, and using only those words, to write a book that would excite children; and

WHEREAS, From that point on, Theodor Seuss Geisel became known as "Dr. Seuss," and children became enthused about reading every Dr. Seuss book available; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Seuss died on September 24, 1991, but his legacy of children's books will live forever as an inspiration to children everywhere to learn to read and to share in the laughter, enjoyment and knowledge that a book can provide; and Assemblywoman Koivisto moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Anderson and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

We like to hear Bernie rhyme.
We like to hear it all the time.
We like to hear it on the floor.
We like to hear it more and more.
And so, without further ado, here's Mr. Anderson to read to you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Today is especially exciting on the 107th birthday of the inventor of our guest, the Cat in the Hat. We have the Cat with us today, a good friend of mine. I'm going to read to you a Dr. Seuss "I can read it all by myself book" called, I Can Read With My Eyes Shut! It tells kids of all ages how much they can learn by reading and keeping their eyes open to the world.

I can read in red. I can read in blue.
I can read in pickle color too.
I can read in bed, and in purple, and in brown.
I can read in a circle and upside down.
I can read with my left eye.
I can read with my right.
I can read Mississippi with my eyes shut tight.
Mississippi, Indianapolis and Hallelujah, too!
I can read them with my eyes shut!
That is VERY HARD to do!
But it's bad for my hat and makes my eyebrows get red hot.
So . . . reading with my eyes shut
I don't do an awful lot.
And when I keep them open
I can read with much more speed.
You have to be a speedy reader
'cause there's so, so much to read.

You can read about trees . . . and bees . . . and knees.
And knees on trees!
And bees on threes!
You can read about anchors.
And all about ants.
You can read about ankles!
And crocodile pants!
You can read about hoses . . .

And how to smell roses . . .
And what you should do about owls on noses!

Young cat! If you keep your eyes open enough, oh the stuff you will learn!
The most wonderful stuff!
You'll learn about . . .
fishbones . . . and wishbones.
You'll learn about trombones, too!
You'll learn about Jake the Pillow Snake and all about Foo-Foo the Snoo.
You can learn about ice.
You can learn about mice.
Mice on ice.
And ice on mice.
You can learn about the price of ice.
"Nice ice for sale. Ten cents a pail."

You can learn about SAD . . .
And GLAD . . . and MAD!
There are so many things you can learn about.
BUT . . . you'll miss the best things if you keep your eyes shut.
The more that you read, the more things you will know.
The more that you learn, the more places you'll go.
You might learn a way to earn a few dollars.
Or how to make doughnuts . . . or kangaroo collars.

You can learn to read music and play a Hut-Zut if you keep your eyes open.
But not with them shut.
If you read with your eyes shut, you're likely to find
That the place where you're going is far, far behind.

And these, of course, as we all know, are beautifully illustrated as all of you would be showing your children as you read this.

So . . . that's why I tell you to keep your eyes wide.
Keep them wide open . . . at least on one side!

Thank you, Madam Speaker. In our chamber today we have a number of 4-Hers. To my colleague from southern Nevada, we let both boys and girls be in 4-H, so it is a little better program. So, would they please all stand. I think I was delegated to do this by my rural colleagues because I was the only one who still remembered the 4-H pledge, even though I learned it over 50 years ago:

I pledge my head to clearer thinking,
My heart to greater loyalty,
My hands to larger services, and
My health to better living,
For my club, my community;
my country, and my world.

It has been well over 50 years ago that I learned that. So, it is kind of scary, isn't it?

SEVENTY-FOURTH SESSION, 2007

Thank you very much for that warm reception.

Governor Gibbons, Madam Speaker, Senator Raggio, constitutional officers, members of the Nevada State Senate, and members of the Nevada State Assembly, it is my privilege to address you tonight on the state of the Nevada judiciary, and I thank you for this opportunity. I speak on behalf of my colleagues on the State Supreme Court: Justice Mark Gibbons, Justice James Hardesty, Justice Ron Parraguirre, Justice Michael Douglas, Justice Michael Cherry, and Justice Nancy Saitta. Justice Saitta is not with us tonight. She is in New York attending a national summit on children as part of her agreement to work with us on the Court Improvement Project, an important project that provides federal grant money administered by the Administrative Office of the Courts here in our state.

I also speak for our 64 colleagues around the state who serve in our district courts and our 81 colleagues around this state who serve as municipal court judges and justices of the peace.

Before I begin, I would like to dedicate this message to an individual who has, as much as any one person in recent history, added greatly to the Nevada judicial landscape—Dean Richard Morgan of the Boyd School of Law.

Dean Morgan came to us from Arizona State University after this body approved funding for a new law school to be housed on the campus of the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. With consummate skill, he gathered a top-flight faculty, effectively engaged in private fundraising, set protocols for student admissions, and set a course for full American Bar Association accreditation in record time. The law school has proved to be an important component in the improvement of the practice of law in this state and in the improvement of our judiciary. Every year the Boyd School of Law enriches the practice of law through its graduates, and every year its law review provides critical analysis of our judicial processes. Dean Morgan has now decided to retire. It is only fitting that the judiciary and Legislature join tonight in recognizing his everlasting contribution to our state.

Turning now, to the state of the Nevada judiciary, in summary and in short, the state of the judiciary is as follows:

Our municipal courts, charged primarily with hearing trials of misdemeanor offenses committed within incorporated cities, everything from petit theft to traffic violations, heard and resolved over 310,000 matters last fiscal year.

Justice courts, charged with hearing trials of misdemeanor offenses committed in the unincorporated areas of Nevada counties, hearing small civil cases, and screening major criminal cases for trial in district court, heard over 418,000 matters last year.

District courts around the state, charged with hearing trials of all major civil and criminal actions, heard and resolved over 26,000 civil cases last year and over 15,000 criminal cases. The family divisions of the two large districts resolved almost 47,000 matters.

The Supreme Court, one of the busiest appeals courts in the country charged with hearing all appeals from final decisions rendered statewide by the district court system, decided over 2,300 cases last year. In the last ten years, the court's inventory has been reduced from over 2,500 cases to less than 1,400 at year's end. But for the first time since 1998, that trend is threatened by filings in excess of 2,000 new cases in each of the last two years.

Ladies and gentlemen, in their totality, our tasks involve the quality resolution of thousands of public and private disputes that come through our court system. Your judiciary is working.

That, in the traditional sense of reports on the state of the judiciary, is the state of the judiciary. But I did not come here tonight to repeat a litany of comparative statistics and programs—programs that you have heard about before, programs that continue to prosper and grow as you intended. Rather, I want to talk with you about the joint legacy this legislature and your court system will leave behind.

Today, right now, we face a series of crises related to the judicial system that tax the fiber of our state's resolve and its resources. There are confirmed reports of children in danger in our foster care system. We have overcrowded and understaffed prisons. There is pernicious and malignant growth of addiction to modern and more powerful illicit drugs. We are now experiencing overstressed court dockets creating undesirable compromises in processing serious criminal cases. We have unacceptable delays in the resolution of civil cases of all types, including unacceptable delays in dealing with families and children. We have outdated or even antiquated court facilities in places in this state.

These challenges are here before us today, but they are not unapproachable and they are not unsolvable. They can be turned into the great opportunities of this generation if we properly apply the considerable resources at our disposal, all to the end that this state continue in its role as the greatest place in this country to live, work, and raise families.

So I say to you tonight, this is our time to fulfill our respective destinies. I believe those destinies, as I will mention later, are historically and inextricably intertwined.

As I hope to demonstrate, we in the judiciary are keeping our pledge to do our utmost to apply existing resources to these problems. We continue to ask your help in addressing them. However, to provide continued adequate justice to this state, we will need more qualified and experienced judges, appropriate incentives to keep veteran jurists on board and to entice quality lawyers into the judiciary, improved penal facilities and programs, improved and expanded noncustodial programs, and expanded programs and resources to make sure dependent children are kept safe.

If we can keep faith with our shared destinies to attack these issues, we can and we will form a shared legacy that no one now living here will ever forget.

Several current programs and new ideas come to mind.

With regard to our crowded prison system, as noted a week and a half ago in the Reno Gazette-Journal, there are a number of views as to what has caused this. Some believe that it is the advent of new and powerful street drugs such as methamphetamine; some believe that increasingly harsh punishments and lack of rehabilitation programs are the key components. Others blame a lack of commitment to noncustodial treatment programs for the mentally ill or for persons with alcohol or drug dependency problems. Others blame schools or the disintegration of the family. Others blame society as a whole, and others blame it on a growing culture of nonresponsibility for individual actions.

In my own view, the current state of our criminal justice system has resulted from a tragic and complex confluence of all these factors. But let me assure you, attacking only one facet will accomplish nothing. We need an all-out and varied approach that first and foremost continues the identification of the most dangerous defendants and separates them from the rest of society. Overcrowding works against this and works against any hope of dealing with these people beyond simply warehousing them. Over and above this primary responsibility, we would propose approaches that would give judges more independent discretion in sentencing, that would provide comprehensive alternatives to incarceration, and that would make room for the most dangerous criminals by considering highly-conditioned releases of offenders who pose minimal public safety issues. This would include inmates serving mandatory prison sentences, inmates who have recently been revoked from probation for minor violations, and inmates who would be deported to their home countries through cooperation with federal authorities.

We also recommend providing improved community reentry programs for prisoners with substance addictions and the placement of more intense counseling programs within our schools to keep children in school.

With regard to this last issue, there is one common denominator in the criminal justice system: Some 95 percent of criminal defendants have not gone beyond the eleventh grade in high school.

With regard to short-run problems of overcrowding, Justice Hardesty is currently working with the Governor's staff, legislators, prosecutors, law enforcement, prison officials, and federal authorities in studying the feasibility of paroling 400 to 700 prisoners to deportation holds for their immediate removal from the United States. During this process, federal authorities have suggested other programs using federal funds that would expand the identification of illegal aliens through varied law enforcement initiatives that would also address local gang warfare and widespread use of fraudulent identity changes and identity theft. The Supreme Court stands by Justice Hardesty's efforts in this regard.

We should also embrace experiments with younger adult offenders. As a district court judge in Clark County, I started a pilot program under which probationable adult offenders under 23 years of age were separately sentenced in individual hearings, away from the older defendants. Of the approximately 30 participants in this program, which involved agreed-to private meetings with the defendants without the presence of the attorneys, all were placed on probation; only one ever returned for revocation.

Turning now to specialty courts, which are a very important component in dealing with the problem of overcrowding and the problems with drug addiction and mental health issues of our citizens. We have been blessed by the commitment of our more senior members of the district court bench with the creation and development of specialty courts across this state. These include Judge Jack Lehman, the founder of the drug court program in Las Vegas; Judges Peter Breen, Archie Blake, John Mcgroarty, Mike Griffin, and Robert Lane; and more recently,

Judge Andrew Puccinelli in Elko and Judge Jackie Glass in Clark County. These programs diverted some 3,000 people last year out of the criminal justice system. Whether defendants are addicted to drugs, alcohol, or suffer from mental problems, specialty courts are on the front line to help rehabilitate these individuals. We should also remember that the people helped by these programs would represent a considerable portion of the current Nevada inmate population, which is approaching 12,000 as we speak here tonight.

We want to stress further that the primary burden in the specialty court area falls on our senior judges and that the larger counties absolutely depend upon the senior judge program to keep specialty courts current and effective without taking elected judges in the two largest districts from their regular caseloads. This is one of the reasons why we will be asking you to continue funding the senior judge program separate and apart from specialty court funding.

In addition to providing service as drug court judges, our senior judges fill in for judges around the state when needed, provide valuable service as settlement mediators in major cases, and help local courts with calendar congestion when caseloads become more than existing judges can handle.

Ladies and gentlemen, as we sit here tonight, a cancer is pervasively invading our state—methamphetamine. This cancer has done more to destroy lives than almost any other street drug yet invented. As a district court judge in Clark County in the mid-1990s, I first learned of the fantastic destruction this drug can wreak upon the user and others. In the three or four hostage standoff cases over which I presided, every single defendant was high on methamphetamine. Every one terrorized immediate family members, neighbors, other bystanders, and even the police that responded.

Methamphetamine is also the single most addictive street drug yet developed. In its profound totality, this drug not only creates incredibly dangerous criminal confrontations, it destroys the lives of the users, their children, and their families. In fact, this drug is killing our young people, eating away their valuable lives before they even really begin to live. So it is only right that I ask you, not only as your Chief Justice but as a resident of this state, that you do everything in your power to bring this modern plague to its knees.

This means resources for law enforcement and incarceration, particularly for manufacturers and pushers. And from our standpoint, we ask that you make a considerable General Fund commitment to our specialty courts to try and help those in the vice of this terrible addiction. In this, we laud the efforts of our First Lady, Dawn Gibbons. Society benefits greatly from these programs with reduced recidivism, taking these defendants out of the revolving door of the criminal justice system and creating citizens who contribute to our state instead of sapping valuable resources from Nevada taxpayers.

Turning now to issues related to child dependency, we have all responded with great concern over the recent reports of deaths and injuries of children in dependent and foster care situations in Clark County and elsewhere in Nevada. Judges in these matters are faced with heartbreaking situations with too little time and too little resources.

We must do all we can as judges in helping the helpless. To this end, yesterday at three o'clock, the Supreme Court issued an order, effective July 1, redeploying a judge of the Eighth Judicial District Family Division to help Judge Gerry Hardcastle with this terribly congested docket. For years I have watched this judge, with every fiber of his being, try to help these children. I want you to also know that the Family Division of the Clark County District Court has unanimously agreed to support Judge Hardcastle in this redeployment and has agreed to take on the resulting additional caseloads—caseloads that already stagger the imagination and need to be relieved with additional judicial positions at the state level and by additional masters and other support personnel at the local level.

More than that, this Court and the State Bar, through State Bar President Rew Goodenow, will seek to recruit more lawyers to provide volunteer representation of Nevada children who find themselves in dependency and foster care situations. Most will join the Children's Attorney Project in Las Vegas, where these volunteers assist lawyers at Clark County Legal Services who have taken the primary brunt of these caseloads. We pledge to you tonight that we on the Supreme Court and district judges across this state will become personally involved in this effort.

But, we also want to make clear that the current practice of placing the burden on a few dedicated staff lawyers at Clark County Legal Services and on the backs of volunteers is fundamentally irresponsible. In the long run, the state and local governments must fund more full-time attorney positions to represent these children. In its most fundamental terms, if adult offenders in the criminal justice system have a right to legal representation under the Sixth Amendment of the United States Constitution, we should create such a right for dependent children under Nevada law.

As you may have surmised, everything mentioned tonight—triage of the most dangerous criminals, increased judicial discretion, short run evaluation of the current prison population, specialty courts, and innovative sentencing alternatives—all have a common thread—more individualized justice instead of mass-produced injustice--injustice that compromises the very safety and well-being of our people.

I would like to now address one of the most dangerous locations in this state. I am not referring to some street gang location in Las Vegas, I am not referring to a crack house in northern Nevada, and I am not referring to the freeway interchanges in Reno and Las Vegas. In truth and in fact, I am referring to the White Pine County Court House. Ladies and gentlemen, Nevada's most dangerous criminal defendants, those incarcerated at the Ely State Prison, frequently appear in court in Ely and sit in a witness box that is within arm's reach of juror positions one and two. Many of you have seen the videotape of the facility I asked Judges Papez and DoBrescu to make. I defy any one of us in this room to try and quell a disturbance started by a desperate and physically imposing prisoner with nothing to lose but an opportunity to create further havoc. White Pine County needs our help. It stepped up and it volunteered to accept placement of the prison there, but it cannot now afford to solve the problems attendant to its beautiful but antiquated court facility. Now, I know our more populace counties need our help also, but please find a way to help this county. This would be an appropriate time for political altruism to help this county help itself and the state as a whole.

Needless to say, if we are to continue past successes and create new ones, considerable costs and commitments are involved. More judges, more courtrooms, and more operatives will be required, but much of this is already in place with existing infrastructures—business courts, which we created to fulfill your mandate to help Nevada become a business friendly state so as to diversify its economy; construction defect dockets; senior judge settlement programs in the district courts; mandatory arbitration programs; short jury trial programs for civil cases; specialty courts in place supported by our existing senior judges; the Children's Attorney Project in Las Vegas; the court improvement project, which provides grants for training lawyers and local personnel concerning dependency representation and other matters; grants for a new National Chief Justices Initiative for Mental Health Courts—thanks to Assemblywoman Sheila Leslie; and special efforts by individual judges, lawyers, and many others.

Not coincidentally, the prospective culling out of current inmates can save millions of dollars in new prison construction and millions of dollars in inmate housing costs.

In conclusion, I would like to make it absolutely clear that the resolution of over 750,000 court matters within the judicial system last year could not have occurred without one of the most important collaborations in the history of state government—a partnership, in fact, that has formed between and among the judiciary, the Legislature, and local governments over the last 20 years. The people in this room, working with the judiciary, have time after time, session after session, stepped to the plate and given us the necessary personnel, facilities, and technology to do our important work.

But none of our recent progress could have been made without the long-term relationship that has grown between our respective staffs. These include our department heads, the Administrative Office of the Courts led by Ron Titus; your fiscal analysts; the Legislative Counsel Bureau; and your individual staff members. So, it is only fitting that we recognize all of these dedicated public servants. They have worked tirelessly to ensure that we have been given the resources to do our jobs. All have our respect and all have our gratitude, and I applaud them tonight.

Let me close with this. As everyone in this room understands, the majesty of Nevada goes far beyond its mountains, its lakes, and its wide expanses. Nevada's true majesty is found in the hearts of its people. Nevadans want to be able to prosper, they want to live here and contribute to our great state, and ladies and gentlemen, we must create a safe environment for this to happen. Nevadans also want the protection of the judiciary as the last great barrier between themselves and the power of government. We as judges must renew our covenant to provide that protection fairly and expeditiously every time we take the bench to preside over court proceedings.

You, yourselves, renew that very same covenant every time you enter this building. So as we in the judiciary and you in the Legislature go about the people's business, it is essential that your work with us continue—continue in line with the great tradition of cooperation and good will that has been built up between us over the last 20 years. This, ladies and gentlemen, is our shared destiny. Thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

It is difficult to honor someone that you respect so much. Richard Perkins' career during his tenure in the Nevada Legislature was long and distinguished. Speaker Perkins worked extensively on bills relating to public safety, which is quite appropriate since he has dedicated his entire life to public safety through his long and distinguished career in law enforcement—sponsoring and securing passage of such major legislation as creating an Amber Alert system which notifies the public of kidnapped and missing children so they can be located and has led to children being found, identified, and reunified with their families in our state; homeland security measures designed to try to make Nevada ready and to ensure that we are prepared to deal with disasters; landmark legislation to protect juveniles in the aftermath of a tragedy where juveniles were killed on the side of a highway when they were sentenced to be there for their community service; and mandatory reporting measures seeking to ensure that everyone is reporting instances of abused children, again, to protect them. You see a theme throughout this legislation of protecting those who need it most and of championing the rights of those who do not have a voice in this legislative process.

Speaker Perkins also dedicated much of his time to the system of higher education, urging that we conduct audits to make sure that we are spending every dollar correctly and that we expand opportunities so that every child in our state has access to higher education. Speaker Perkins championed the Nevada State College and received the brunt of criticism for his work in the beginning. "Oh, why do we need another college?" Well, time has proven him correct, and Speaker Perkins follows the adage, "Do not do it because it is popular; do it because it is right." Because of him, we now have a state college that provides opportunities to folks who may not have gone to college otherwise to train to be teachers and nurses, two areas where we are critically short in our state. It is also amazing to me that when the state college became popular and when folks began to see its worth, there were a lot of politicians claiming the credit and the glory, when we know who sponsored the legislation and fought the fight in these halls. But the Speaker is like that; he never sought the limelight. He sought to improve things for our state, and that is a hallmark of a true leader.

Common sense, honor, integrity, humor, statesmanlike approach to leading—these are all words that can be used to describe the Speaker, along with the one of mentor. Speaker Perkins served as a mentor to many of us in this body. Speaking for myself, I would not be in the position that I am in today were it not for the Speaker. Many people claim they like to lead, they like to be a mentor, but you know, the proof is in the pudding. Do you let somebody fly? Do you give somebody the opportunity by saying, "I do not need to do this. Why don't you do this? Why don't you try?" The hallmark of someone who acts and not talks—that sums up Speaker Richard Perkins. So please join me, all of you, in recognizing a true leader, a true mentor, a true statesman, Speaker Richard Perkins.

ASSEMBLYMAN OCEGUERA:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 10. I think you will hear some common themes in the remarks today. Richard Perkins has been an inspiration to me on so many different levels, it is hard to know where to begin. As Speaker Buckley said, first Richard was my mentor. When I first ran for office and lost, he was there. And then he was there when he convinced me to run again the next time. When I was here as a representative and had my first bill as a freshman, he was there for me then. He was there for me when he made me a committee chair. He was there to select me as the Assistant Majority Leader. I always turned to Richard for advice. He taught me what leadership means—that it is bringing people together, it is getting people involved, it is making tough calls, and it is learning to take the heat when necessary. He always made it look so easy, but let me assure it is not.

Second, Richard and I share a passion for service in the area of public safety, he, of course, in law enforcement, while mine has been in the fire service. It was a great experience to work with Richard on issues such as developing a terrorism response plan, better coordinating our first responders, and working on laws to provide for those who protect our neighborhoods and homes and giving them the tools they needed to be the most effective.

Finally, Richard was my friend. He has always been there to share a good time and to lend an ear at the end of a bad day. Those of you in this body, I think, are similar to me in that you love public service. You love making laws that we know will really have an impact on people. We usually thrive on the fast pace and intensity of this process, but there are days when that pace, the responsibility, and the juggling of legislative service with the real world and our daily jobs seems overwhelming. Whenever I was in one of those spots, it was Richard whom I called upon. He was the one who helped me see the big picture and why we were here.

It is with great pleasure and humility that I rise in support of this resolution honoring my mentor, my colleague, and my friend, Speaker Richard Perkins.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 10 because it has just been a pleasure having known Richard and his lovely wife, Terri, for some 14 odd years. One thing I will say is that Richard was a man of his word. You did not need a contract with Richard; if he shook your hand, you could go to the bank with what he told you. Richard, I wish you well in your new role as chief of police, I hope you are wearing your vest, and I hope you are able to identify all the new license plates.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore announced that pursuant to Assembly Standing Rule No. 1, section 2, subsection (d), Assemblyman Oceguera would act as presiding officer

Assemblyman Oceguera presiding.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 10. Richard and I go back ever since he came to the Legislature and he and I sat next to each other in Judiciary. I always enjoyed his company. Sometimes we disagreed; most times we did not, though. What I want to say is I always felt that Richard was a true gentleman. I do not think he ever harbored any bad things about anyone, and he always stood up there straight and tall and was a really great Speaker. I am glad I was able to serve with you, and I wish you all the luck in the world.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

I rise in support of ACR 10. I first met Rich at UNLV. He came to some functions while I was studying criminal justice, and he would be there. We would talk, but politics never came up until I actually went to a political event one time and saw him there. I just said hello again, and then he threw it out there, "William, when are we going to get you to run?" So you can blame him for me being here.

What I found very impressive about Richard Perkins was how he handled the freshmen of the 2003 Session. He could have easily just recruited us, brought us in, and then conducted his responsibilities as Speaker and left it to others to watch and manage us, but he was hands-on. He came to our offices and checked with us regularly and asked, "How ya' doin'? You need anything? Do you have any questions?" He would direct us on the right path, and as some of you freshmen today know, it is sometimes tough to navigate here. Particularly in 2003, it really was.

As our current Speaker said, he gave an opportunity to many of us to shine. He had a homeland security bill that session, and he said, "Let William Horne handle and draft that." That is when I started to think that he was not too smart, but he allowed me to do that. Not only did he allow me to do that, but whenever I had all the parties there and I had questions and concerns and I would run to Rich and I would say, "Hey, this is going on," and he would look at me and say, "I trust you. Do what you think is necessary." I was a freshman then, but that was the kind of confidence that he had in me. He instills it in you, and that allows you to shine and excel. It gives you that confidence to walk through these halls on good days and bad days and know that you have a purpose here and that you can do well. I appreciate that to this day, and I miss you being here. It is good to see you, but I know you are doing good stuff and you are happy that you are not here. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

As you are no doubt aware, Mr. Perkins served as my colleague on the Judiciary Committee in my second session, his first. We served together in Judiciary for three sessions. One of the great strengths of a citizen legislature like we have in Nevada is that it draws members from all walks of life. As a policeman, I have always felt Mr. Perkins brought to our committee and to the Legislature a formidable body of practical knowledge about the workings of the judicial system. His father was a cop, and he followed that tradition. He had worked his way up from a cop, on the beat to the deputy chief and now the chief of Henderson's Police Department. Along the way, he learned a lot of things. He learned them by experience, by being in almost daily contact with our courts and jails. None of us, even the practicing attorneys on the Judiciary Committee, could match his intimate knowledge, his first-hand experience of how our system of justice actually works in the real world. In committee, Mr. Perkins always spoke quietly and without fanfare, but when he spoke, we all learned to listen.

As all of you know, there is no school where we can go to learn how to be legislators. There is not any book that can teach us the subtleties and complex nuances of legislative behavior. We learn by watching others. To be really successful, every new legislator needs a mentor, a model, a sounding board, someone he can trust and turn to for advice and counsel. Richard Perkins was a mentor for many freshmen and even for those of us who had been here for awhile, particularly the members of our caucus when he became the caucus leader and then Speaker. He could teach a new Assemblyman how to swallow his disappointment when his pet bill was killed. He could teach him how to work with a chairman to get a bill out of committee. He could teach us to be tolerant, who we could trust, and who we could not trust. He could also, when the occasion called for it, administer a sharp rebuke to those who needed it, to try to keep them in line so that we were not embarrassed.

Perhaps because of his work as a policeman, Richard Perkins had a finely tuned insight into human nature. He was sensitive to the social and personal aspects of legislative behavior as well as its more formal, legal aspects. Yet, I always liked to believe it was because he is a caring human being and cares deeply and personally about each human being.

Finally, let me say a few words about his service as Speaker. As you know, the Speaker is probably the most powerful single forum here in the Legislature. The Speaker is the formal person who represents the entire legislative body. His influence extends far beyond the walls of this Chamber. He is the leader of the majority party as well as the presiding officer of this house. Mr. Perkins fulfilled that office in a formidable manner. But outside the walls, he never embarrassed us. He never did anything to bring shame to this house, nor could he; it is not in his nature. He cares about each of us deeply and personally, regardless of gender or party. Our state faced many challenges—challenges with health care, education, and criminal justice. In each of those, he excelled and made sure we all excelled. Our success in meeting those challenges can be attributed to the firm guidance and farsighted leadership of Speaker Perkins.

This resolution could never reach the level of tribute that I would like to pay to this individual for what he has done for us. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN WEBER:

I have had the opportunity to know Richard Perkins for ten years, and it began before I came to this body. We were both members of the class of 1998 in Leadership Las Vegas through the Chamber of Commerce in southern Nevada. I remember being one of about 42 members in that particular class, and I thought, "Oh, my gosh, there is Richard Perkins. He is in the Assembly." So I got to learn of his leadership from afar before having an opportunity to come to this body and actually serve with him. His leadership was known to all of us in southern Nevada even though we are far away from this body when we are not part of it. I just wanted to let you know that your leadership has inspired me, and I am very grateful that I was able to serve two terms with you. I urge support of the passage of ACR 10.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

Thank you. I rise in support of ACR 10. I would like to very briefly thank Speaker Perkins for the leadership and support he has given to me. I had not thought about what my colleagues and the Majority Leader and I have in common, as far as this win-loss thing. Mr. Perkins was responsible for that, asking me to run for office one more time for the team. It was strong leadership that brought us forward the first time and then brought us forward the second time. The opportunities that we have been given, under your leadership, have helped us to grow and learn. Sometimes, under difficult circumstances, we grow the best.

As a freshman, I was given an exciting opportunity to serve on a special committee, thanks to the Speaker. Last interim, when I was assigned to chair the adequacy study—which was not the easiest assignment to be given–I was very nervous. The Speaker was going to be serving on my committee. I could not imagine how that would go, chairing the committee with the Speaker on it. He was nothing but supportive and encouraging and never made me uncomfortable. So, I thank you for that opportunity and for you giving me the other opportunities that you did. I wish you and your family the best. That totally relaxed look that you have has us all very jealous.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KOIVISTO:

Thank you, Mr. Majority Leader. I am going to offer a different perspective of Mr. Perkins. I have known Mr. Perkins since before he was elected Speaker. I remember one night my husband was walking our dogs and he found a little lost boy. He took the boy to Richard's house. Richard was a police officer then. Well, you can imagine a little boy and Richard, who is so tall. Richard did not frighten the child at all. He found out where he needed to go and took him home. Another time, Richard helped my daughter mount bugs for a biology project. She couldn't tolerate the crunching when the pins went through them. That is the kind of person Richard is.

It was a real honor for me to be elected and serve in the Legislature with Richard. So, I just want to stand in support of this resolution. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Mr. Majority Leader. I rise in support of ACR 10. I have never had the privilege of serving with Speaker Perkins, but I have had the privilege of being his friend. I first met him 13 years ago when a freshman Assemblywoman from Clark County moved up here to Carson City, along with her son, her daughter, and her mother—my grandmother. That was an interesting session because the Legislature was evenly divided, and Speaker Dini looked to Speaker Perkins to be Majority Leader that session and to lead the Assembly. That was a historic, never-before-seen session. Over the 12 years my mother served my district, I learned what a good friend and mentor Speaker Perkins could be and how kind, just, and fair he could be. He stands by his friends. I do appreciate that and support this resolution. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN WOMACK:

Thank you, Mr. Majority Leader. I have never served with Richard Perkins in this house. His district, District 23, is our district now. I appreciate Richard's help throughout my campaign, but more than that, I appreciate the legacy that he has brought to this chamber. Those he has mentored are now mentoring me. On behalf of District 23, I say thank you. I wish you well in what you do from here forward. I hope that you know that I am here, representing our district and the legacy that you left behind. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOICOECHEA:

Thank you, Mr. Majority Leader. Well, coming from the class of 2003, I have to say that maybe it was not pretty, but if it had not of been for Speaker Perkins, it would have been downright ugly. In the end, Speaker Perkins never stopped negotiating. He continued to work and work as we went through the process. Like I said, it was not pretty, but it was not ugly. The other thing I really respect about Speaker Perkins is that it did not matter if you met him in Winnemucca or McCarran Airport in Las Vegas, you could expect a handshake, a smile, and you could talk. I count him as one of my friends. I do thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

Thank you, Mr. Majority Leader. I also rise in support of ACR 10. I remember the first night I came here, the night before we started, we went to Red's. Speaker Perkins was there with his family, and he was kind enough to come over and introduce himself. He tried to help me out and make me feel welcome. He was always fair. He always had a smile. I agree with my colleague from Eureka.

The thing I remember most and will not ever forget was one of those last days of the 2003 Session before the Special Session. He held the roll open for 15 or 20 minutes. He eventually closed the roll, and it was time to adjourn. He put the gavel down, and my eardrums are still vibrating from that experience. I will never forget it. Mr. Perkins, you are a friend, and I will always think of you as my Speaker and mentor. I hope and wish you well. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ATKINSON:

Thank you, Mr. Majority Leader. I do not know what else to say that others have not said. I only know you as Mr. Speaker. I remember the very first day I was in this chamber. It was the day we were being sworn in. One thing you said while you were up there was when you walk into this room, you are always overwhelmed. You mentioned the chills you got from walking into the chamber every single day. I have those same chills every single day I walk in, even on days when no one else is in here. I walk in here and I get chills. You spoke later about respecting the institution and that we were here for more important reasons than the name on our desk, the name on our letterhead. The institution was bigger than any of us. I learned something valuable that day when you said that. I stopped looking at my name, and I paid more attention to the institution. Mr. Perkins, you gave me alot of opportunities to shine in this institution. I am glad our new Speaker saw the talents you allowed me to display. I think I am better for it.

One other thing you talked about—and it is funny that my colleague from District 2 mentioned it—was the roll being open that day for 15 or so minutes. I have to say that was the most excruciating day of my career here. I remember the gavel hit, and I walked out of here and I started crying. I think you caught me just as I walked out of the door. You told me, "It is going to be okay, but it shows that you care." I had a constituent from my colleague's office from Assembly District No. 1 who was visiting with me yesterday. The gentleman told me he was always watching me. He does not live in my district. He supports me and he likes me because he gets the impression that I care. He said he would always support me as long as I appeared to care. I told him that I would do him one better. The moment I stopped caring, I would not run anymore. Thank you for your leadership, Mr. Speaker. I am happy to see you back here. I am happy to see that we are honoring you in this way. I appreciate you. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

Thank you, Mr. Majority Leader. I guess I am one of the few, if not the only one here, that has seen Mr. Perkins from both sides. I spent ten years with a blue badge on then came here as an elected official. So I got to work with Speaker Perkins on both sides. Wearing that blue badge, I can remember the trips to Yerington with Speaker Dini. I do not think in all the time Richard served here that he ever missed coming to Yerington to address the Rotary Club or a joint meeting of the Rotary and Lion's Club, to meet with us, to share with us what was going on in the state of Nevada from the legislative perspective. I think that tradition is still being carried on. Richard, any time you come through Yerington, we want you to stop. If Speaker Dini is not there, I will be. Thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

Thank you, Mr. Majority Leader. Sometimes I have off-the-wall bills. I admit it. So I had a teaching moment which occurred to me. Speaker Perkins gave me a hearing for one of my bills. Afterwards, he said to me, "You know your bill?" And I said, "Yes." He said, "It is . . . ," and he made a cutting motion with his hand. I asked him if that was good or not. He said, "No." If I may lapse into first person. Thank you for the dignity and fairness with which you treated me, Richard.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you very much. I am truly honored to stand up and speak on behalf of ACR 10. I get to speak about someone who became a very close friend. When Richard and I and his wife first met, he shook my hand. His wife gave me a hug. Sometimes when you meet someone, you can feel a vibration, knowing that you have a special bond. That was day one. Ever since that day, we have always had a special bond where we could talk about things which were personal, like our families and everything that was going on in our lives.

After Richard was in Ways and Means, I could tell in his face that he did not like Ways and Means. I was honored to have him on the committee—he and now Congressman Dean Heller. They were sitting in the row right below me. Sometimes in that committee you feel like a quarterback, and you have got your line in front of you. I knew if anyone tried to get to me, I had a hell of a line. When he was there and Dean was there, I knew I was covered. When I needed something done in the committee, Richard was always there. I knew he was going to go far.

At the end of the session—after he was here and I realized he was a police officer—I told him I drove a Corvette. We were all going home. I told Richard, "This is what we are going to do. You are going to lead the way. Because if the cops pull us over, they are not going to give you a ticket. I am going to tell them that I am with you." So we ran all the way through until we got to Tonopah. The next thing I know, these red lights come on behind us. I thought, "Uh oh, we are going to jail. They are going to take the black guy first." I said, "Richard, please do not let them take me to jail in Tonopah." So, they pulled us over. He got out. He talked to the officer. He came back to my car. He said, "My brother." And he always called me that, and we have been that way for years.

One more quick story. I am not making light of 9/11. When 9/11 happened, we had to fly up here right after that. You know, everyone was paranoid about getting on a plane. You never knew or could think of what might happen. Well, myself, David Goldwater, and Richard were getting ready to get on a plane. Well, most of you don't know that since he is an officer, he gets to carry his gun on the plane. So, I did not feel nervous. I told him, "This is going to be the plan. Richard, you go sit at the back of the plane. David will sit over the wing. I am going to sit at the front of the plane. If someone jumps up and thinks they are going to take over the plane, this is the plan. David and I are going to rush him and stand him up. You shoot him." So, making light of that, I really miss you, Mr. Speaker. We have had some fun over the years. I love your lovely wife. She would call me and ask, "Where is Richard at right now?" I would say, "He is sitting right here." We get together and have dinner and have fun.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Buckley, Allen, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Beers, Bobzien, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Gansert, Gerhardt, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parks, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Stewart, Weber, and Womack; Senators Titus, Amodei, Beers, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Hardy, Heck, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 11—Commemorating philanthropist and social justice activist Maya Miller.

WHEREAS, The members of the 74th Session of the Nevada Legislature are saddened by the loss of Maya Miller, a philanthropist and social justice activist, who passed away on May 31, 2006, at 90 years of age; and

WHEREAS, A woman of independent means, Maya could have been satisfied to live the lavish life of a socialite in a mansion, but preferred her ranch in Washoe Valley, where she served her homemade bread and soup to friends and family, along with conversation concerning solutions to the social problems of the world, where she inspired others to take up the fight for those who could not stand up for themselves; and

WHEREAS, An adamant feminist, Maya Miller knew that the way out of poverty for women and children was to provide women with child care, job training and housing so they could become self-sufficient, and she fought for welfare reform to give dignity and respect to those on welfare; and

WHEREAS, Maya ran, though unsuccessfully, for the United States Senate in Nevada to bring attention to women in politics, changing the face of state politics both literally and figuratively by funding campaigns for women, and was instrumental in founding the national Women's Campaign Fund, which sponsors female candidates seeking political office, and the Nevada Women's Fund, which addresses critical social needs of women in Nevada; and

WHEREAS, Not satisfied to donate only money, Maya was a warrior in the fight against poverty, racism, injustice and war, proving her moxie at the age of 75 by driving a truck with infant formula, food and medical supplies from Jordan to Baghdad, Iraq, during the Persian Gulf War, despite the embargo; and

WHEREAS, Maya looked beyond the borders of Nevada and the United States by working for peace and human rights in such places as Guatemala, Nicaragua and Iraq; and

WHEREAS, Concerned with the environment, Maya testified against storage of nuclear waste in Nevada, a stance which was unheard of at the time, cofounded the Foresta Institute for Ocean and Mountain Studies and helped to create the Lake Tahoe-Nevada State Park which includes Sand Harbor; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the Nevada Legislature extend condolences to the family of Maya Miller, who will be missed for her generosity of spirit and her passion for and commitment to the social issues that she spent her life fighting for; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Maya is survived by her daughter and three grandchildren; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Maya's daughter Kit Miller.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Buckley, Leslie, Ohrenschall, and Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

I think they threw out the mold when Maya Miller was created. What a tremendous person and activist Maya Miller was in our state, throughout the country, and throughout the world.

Anybody who met Maya was struck by her serenity, her peace, her vision, and her willingness to just shake things up. Whether it was her campaigns for economic justice—I see my colleague from Assembly District 6 where Maya was so influential in trying to improve the conditions in west Las Vegas—or marches on the strip by mothers who were cut off from welfare because the bureaucracy decided they probably could not survive without cheating if they were on welfare; ergo, they must all be cheats, and cut off welfare, Maya Miller stood up against that. The marches on the strip and the welfare mothers taking over Caesar's Palace—if you see the pictures of the kids playing in the fountains—it is not a sight that will be forgotten soon.

Maya continued her work after the press was gone and the publicity was gone by quietly funding Operation Life, which grew out of the aftermath of those strikes, but that was Maya. She did not do things just when the press was around; she did them every single day of her life.

Whether it was standing up against nuclear waste or her environmental work at Tahoe, she made a difference. She gave of her time and her means freely because she believed that Nevada could be made a better place through activism, the country could be a better place, and the world could be a better place.

I love the story about delivering infant formula and food at the age of 75. The other part of that story was she was the one who drove the truck at age 75 because she was the only one who knew how to drive a stick shift. That adventure nearly did not take place but for Maya's well-roundedness.

The other thing I think is pretty ironic about this day and this moment and which gives me great pleasure is that I think Maya had a love-hate relationship with politics sometimes. She ran against our Senator, Harry Reid, at a time when no woman threw her hat in the ring for such an office. There is a legendary story about her being kicked out of this building because she just did not feel like people were being treated fairly. She was always one to stand up against injustice, and the irony is that she hated proclamations—hated them. She received many proclamations and awards. She kept them all in the basement covered up with dust and never looked at them. I think it is important for us to honor Maya, not through this resolution but through the way we live our lives and the way we say "no" to injustice here in our state or in our country or in world, because that is the only true tribute to Maya

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I, too, rise in support of this resolution. I've known Maya for over 30 years. Like many of us in the room, I can't believe she is not here, still. She is here in spirit.

I first knew Maya through her work in Central America. We shared a great love for the Latin American countries, especially Guatemala. We also shared a great sense of solidarity about the injustice in Central America. You know, I think of myself as somewhat of an adventurer. I speak Spanish. I go to lots of different countries. I was in the Peace Corp. Compared to the courage that Maya has shown throughout her life—including her living in the Peace House in Nicaragua during the war and the work she did in Central America—I always felt that my exploits paled in comparison to hers.

She so cared about the political process. She cared about women candidates. Many of the women in this body and down the hall were supported by her, especially in their early campaigns, through Maya's generosity. More than her money and her generosity, it was about her belief in the process and her belief that women, especially, belonged in the process.

In later years, a member of my extended family owned the ranch next to hers in Washoe Valley. I was often out there during family holidays. Usually, there would come a time during the family dinners where we just wanted to get away. So, we would always use the excuse of visiting Maya. Several of us would go out into the pasture and climb through the barbed wire fence between the two properties and hike across the fields to see Maya. Either in the snow or during the summertime, we would take a detour up the mountain by the stream, coming down through her ranch. We would always just appear on her porch unannounced. She would welcome us in and feed us whatever was cooking on the stove in her great room. There was great glass in her great room at the ranch. She could look out to Washoe Valley. It was one of the most beautiful sights in Nevada. You could bring your dog. You could do anything you wanted there. A fire would be going in the corner in the great room, and you could sit with Maya. She always wanted to know, from me especially, every detail of every little political infight, everything that was going on in the Legislature. No detail was too small. She wanted to hear about it. She wanted to talk about it. She would offer advice in a way where it didn't feel like somebody was telling you what to do. It wasn't really advice. It was more a thought which you might not have considered. Something outfitted into the bigger picture. It always left me with a great inspiration of somebody I wanted to grow up to be. To see her with her daughter and her granddaughters and the members of her extended family, passing down that tradition was really something that warms my heart, even thinking about it.

She will be missed greatly by everyone in this state. She was a true pioneer. She was a role model. She was someone I deeply admired and respected. I will never forget her. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Maya was one of those unusual characters you think you are going to meet one day, and you think it is going to be an important bridge when you meet them because you have heard so much about them. When you met Maya, you realized there was more than just a bridge. She was a telling of what society was all about. She fostered an understanding of human beings that cannot be matched. She made every person feel comfortable with who they were and where they were going. She offered that insight into life that only a person who truly cares about every human being can do. She will be greatly missed. She has raised the standard for all of us to be better human beings. For that, I, too, stand and salute.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 11. I have had the privilege of meeting Maya and spending time with her over the last 14 years.

Recently, I was told by Ms. Gilbert that in Maya's campaign brochure when she ran for U.S. Senate is a picture of a young woman and her 18-month old baby; it happened to be me and my mother.

I also want to recognize what Maya did to help the female candidates. Back in the 1970s and 1980s, it was not easy to run for office if you were a woman down in Clark County—probably throughout the country. My mother had run for city attorney of Las Vegas, justice of the peace, and district court judge four times—and four times unsuccessfully. Back in 1994, she decided to run for the Nevada Assembly, and a lot of people said to her, "Genie, wow, you're such a dreamer." Maya was one of the people who believed in her early and gave her one of her largest contributions and basically stood by her. The fifth time was a charm, and my mother was privileged enough to serve in this body and got to spend time with Maya working on a lot of important legislation.

As a freshman Assemblyman, I dearly wish she were here to help us all with legislation, but I know she is here in spirit, and I think through our actions we can carry on a lot of what she believed in. Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I urge adoption.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 13—Honoring the accomplishments of United States Air Force Major Nicole Malachowski.

WHEREAS, Every year as millions of spectators experience the thrill of watching the precision aerial acrobatics of the United States Air Force Air Demonstration Squadron, known as the Thunderbirds, the skill and teamwork of the pilots who provide the excitement are readily recognized and appreciated; and

WHEREAS, The Thunderbirds, who have proudly represented the men and women wearing Air Force blue since 1953, turned a new page in history in March 2006, when Nicole Malachowski made her public debut as the team's first female pilot; and

WHEREAS, After being mesmerized by an air show as a young girl at 5 years of age, Nicole decided that she would one day be a fighter pilot, and despite being told by some that "girls can't be fighter pilots" and growing up with the reality that indeed women were, at that time, not allowed to fly fighter planes, Nicole never wavered from her goal; and

WHEREAS, While her peers were focused on getting their driver's licenses, Nicole was taking flight lessons at the North Las Vegas Airport and made her first solo flight there, and after graduating from Western High School in Las Vegas, she was chosen to enter the United States Air Force Academy and was commissioned in 1996; and

WHEREAS, Upon the completion of a lengthy process of letter submission, interviews and a flight test at Nellis Air Force Base, then Captain Malachowski was one of three pilots selected to become members of the Thunderbirds; and

WHEREAS, Major Malachowski, call sign "Fifi," has, since her selection, attained a summit in fulfilling her lifetime dream as she expertly guides her F-16 Fighting Falcon in the right-wing position of the famous Thunderbird diamond formation; and

WHEREAS, In addition to the time spent on training and performing as a pilot, Major Malachowski dedicates many hours to community outreach and often speaks to children, emphasizing teamwork and encouraging them to pursue something they are passionate about and to pursue excellence in that endeavor; and

WHEREAS, Nicole Malachowski is the epitome of what she teaches and has not only become a role model for all young women but also an inspiration for everyone who hears her remarkable story; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 74th Session of the Nevada Legislature do hereby honor Major Nicole Malachowski for her extraordinary accomplishments as a pilot and as an exemplary representative of our country and the United States Air Force; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the members of this Legislature and the residents of the State of Nevada praise Nicole Malachowski for her dedication to her country and to her dreams and extol her as a role model for all young Americans; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Major Nicole Malachowski.

Assemblyman Horne moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Horne and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you for the opportunity to honor Major Malachowski. Let me take a moment to walk this body through this remarkable and overachieving woman's accomplishments.

At the age of 12, she had an assignment in school to give an oral report on what she wanted to be in her life. Confidently, Nicole rose and proclaimed that she would be an Air Force fighter pilot. This was at a time when women were not permitted to fly fighter aircraft in the military.

After some ridicule from her classmates and even her teacher—this would fall under the title "You're not the boss of me"—she said, "Nobody can tell me what I can or cannot be when I grow up."

In 1989, Nicole joined the Civil Air Patrol and enrolled in her sophomore year at Western High School in Las Vegas. At Western, she joined the Air Force Junior ROTC program and then rose to the position of Corp Commander, the rank of Cadet Lieutenant Colonel. Nicole also achieved the national honor of the United States Air Force Junior ROTC Top Cadet and was promoted to Cadet Colonel, the only cadet in the nation to receive that honor.

Recognizing Nicole's obvious talents, she received full military scholarships to the Air Force Academy and Annapolis—I think she made the right choice in choosing the Air Force Academy. At the Academy, she became the first female to become commander of the Cadet Soaring Program.

Nicole graduated from the Air Force Academy in 1996 and in 1997 received her wings, which were proudly pinned on her by her father, Mr. Ellingwood, who is sitting here with us today. Her father was probably so proud because he was watching his daughter continue a tradition set by her grandfathers James Gist and Robert Ellingwood, both veterans of World War II and the Korean War.

Because Major Malachowski graduated near the top of her flight class, she was able to choose the only allotment slot to the class for the F-15E Strike Eagle. Major Malachowski has since logged over 1,900 flight hours; more than 188 of those are combat hours. Some of those combat hours were logged while leading a two-ship air cover over Baghdad on their historic election day.

Major Malachowski continued to make history when on June 16, 2005—her father's birthday, by the way—she was named to the Air Force Thunderbirds Performance Team, the first woman to do so.

Please join me in honoring Major Nicole Malachowski for her remarkable military career thus far.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I would like to join the tribute given by Assemblyman Horne and congratulate you for your daughter's accomplishments. We know what a great role you must have played, and we hope that one day, no young woman will be told that she cannot do something because of her gender. As the first woman Speaker in the history of the state of Nevada, I want to give my special congratulations to your daughter.

Resolution adopted.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

I would like to say that when I first read about Major Malachowski making the Air Force Thurderbird's Team, I was thrilled, not just because I, also, attended Western High School and not because I, also, was in the Air Force Junior ROTC department there. I was thrilled because she had done something which was remarkable in and of itself, whether you are a man or a woman. She made this elite team. She did it as a woman. She set a goal to become a fighter pilot at a time when it was not thought of. It just wasn't going to happen for women. She was told as much. I have been there. When I first said I wanted to be a fighter pilot, I was told by a teacher I had to go to college, as if that wasn't possible.

Nicole didn't let anything stand in her way. I thought back to the comments of people saying Nevadans need to step up. They need to be good Americans. Nevadans have been stepping up since we were brought into the union.

Nicole didn't let anyone tell her no. She didn't let her gender stand in the way. With the guidance of her wonderful parents, she achieved her dream. I hope that many other boys and girls who have high aspirations don't let anyone else try to hold them down. I hope they reach for those stars, as Major Malachowski did. She honors Nevadans and she honors boys and girls who have lofty dreams. That is why I was so proud to bring this resolution, and I want to thank her parents for making the trip up. It's too bad the Major couldn't be here, but her duties called her elsewhere. I thank this body for recognizing her, Madam Speaker.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 14—Commemorating the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of the City of Yerington.

WHEREAS, On March 14, 1907, Governor John Sparks signed into law a bill that incorporated Yerington as a city, defined its boundaries and established its governmental structure, and March 14, 2007, marks the 100th anniversary of that event; and

WHEREAS, The origins of Yerington can be traced back to the 1850s when N. H. A. "Hock" Mason settled in the valley that now bears his name, and in 1871, the Mason Valley Post Office was established in the town near the Walker River; and

WHEREAS, The town was referred to by many as "Pizen Switch," which folklore traces to the inferior grade of whiskey (tasted like poison or "pizen") sold in a local saloon that was constructed of willow branches ("switches"), and in 1879, the town was rechristened "Greenfield," but the name of the local post office was not officially changed; and

WHEREAS, In 1880, Henry Marvin Yerington, the General Superintendent of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad, founded the Carson and Colorado Railroad that soon extended from Mound House through Dayton, Fort Churchill, Wabuska in northern Mason Valley and Schurz to places farther south in both Nevada and California; and

WHEREAS, By 1894, the residents officially changed the names of the town and its post office to Yerington, in an unsuccessful effort to flatter Henry Yerington so that he would extend his rail line 12 miles south of Wabuska through the town named after him; and

WHEREAS, The county seat of Lyon County was moved from Dayton to the thriving and growing City of Yerington in 1911; and

WHEREAS, Joseph E. Dini, Jr., the longest serving Assemblyman and Assembly Speaker in Nevada history and the State's first and only Speaker Emeritus, is a Yerington native who continues to reside in his hometown and is just one of many prominent Nevada residents from Yerington; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 74th Session of the Nevada Legislature recognize the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of the City of Yerington and applaud the efforts of those men, women and children who helped shape Yerington into a vibrant city of over 3,000 residents in the heart of a valley of 9,000 proud Nevadans; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the residents of Yerington, Mason Valley, Lyon County and the State of Nevada are urged to join together in the celebrations to commemorate the colorful and rich history of Yerington, one of Nevada's truly special places; and be it further

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 5 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. 1. Senators and members of the Assembly shall be duly qualified electors in the respective counties and districts which they represent, and the number of Senators shall not be less than one-third nor more than one-half of that of the members of the Assembly.

2. It shall be the mandatory duty of the Legislature at its first session after the taking of the decennial census of the United States in the year 1950, and after each subsequent decennial census, and any other federal census, to fix by law the number of Senators and Assemblymen . ~~[, and apportion them among the several counties of the State, or among legislative districts which may be established by law, according to the number of inhabitants in them, respectively.]~~

3. Whenever there is reason to reapportion the Legislature into new legislative districts or to provide new congressional district boundaries, or both, because of a new federal census or because of a decision of a court of competent jurisdiction, the Secretary of State shall order the formation of a commission for reapportionment.

4. The commission must be composed of six members. The leaders of the two largest political parties of each House of the Legislature shall each designate one member, and the state chairmen of the two largest political parties, determined by the vote cast for Governor in the last gubernatorial election, shall each designate one member. In the event any appointing authority does not select the members within 15 calendar days following the order of the Secretary of State to form the commission, the Supreme Court shall appoint such members. No member of the commission may be an elected or appointed official in the State of Nevada at the time of designation or selection.

5. The Legislature shall enact laws providing for the implementation of the provisions of this section, including, without limitation, terms of commission members, the method of filling vacancies on the commission, additional qualifications for commissioners and additional standards to govern the commission. The Legislature shall appropriate funds to enable the commission to carry out its duties.

6. Within 90 days after the Legislature has fixed the number of Senators and Assemblymen pursuant to subsection 2, the commission shall file a proposed plan for apportioning the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature with the Office of the Secretary of State. At the same time, and with the same effect, the commission shall prepare and file a plan for congressional districts. Any final action of the commission on a proposed plan must be approved by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the commission. All deliberations of the commission must be open to the public.

7. The legislative districts created by the commission are in effect for all elections held after the plan is filed and until a new plan is required and filed unless amended by court order. The Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction over actions involving challenges to legislative apportionment.

8. A member of the commission may not serve in either House of the Legislature for 5 years following the service of such member on the commission.

Assemblyman Munford moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 5.

Resolution read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Mortenson, Mabey, Gansert, Kihuen, Settelmeyer, Anderson, and Conklin.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

Assembly Joint Resolution 5 relates to a statewide lottery. Assembly Joint Resolution 5 proposes to amend the Nevada Constitution to authorize the Legislature to provide for a statewide lottery. The net proceeds from the lottery must be dispersed to school districts to supplement—supplement, not supplant or replace—the money that the school districts already receive from the state for instructional equipment, materials, and supplies including textbooks, computers, software, and other educational media. If approved in identical form by both the 2007 and 2009 Sessions of the Legislature, the proposal will be submitted to the voters in the 2010 election.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

I rise in opposition to AJR 5. I recognize that the lottery, if it passes and becomes a part of our Constitution, would fund a part of Nevada's education system, but I feel it is a bad idea to promote something like the lottery, which takes a toll on our society. People play the lottery because they hope to win a large amount of money.

According to Savings Advice.com, the odds of winning the Powerball Lottery are 1 in 146.1 million. Those who play the lottery are often those who can least afford it. Since the odds are so poor, perhaps the state should set up a voluntary fund where Nevadans who would have played the lottery could donate those monies to the education fund. Thank you for this opportunity to speak against AJR 5.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

I, too, rise in opposition to AJR 5. During testimony, material was provided to me that told us what other states had done. Pretty much all of the states on the list brought the lottery to their state through an initiative process. Also, we heard testimony about the limited scope of this bill. Last session we had another bill that was much broader as far as what was going to go towards education. When we change the Nevada Constitution—because it is so significant—we should have broader terms versus a very narrow scope. Given that it is a change to our Constitution and the narrowness of its scope, I will oppose this bill. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN KIHUEN:

I stand in support of AJR 5. I stand here representing not only myself and District 11, but I stand here representing 73 percent of the population that support a lottery. For those of you who do not know, this lottery would generate anywhere from $50 million to $200 million for education for our kids.

While touring the schools in my district, I came to realize how badly we need this money. I saw a lot of books that were torn apart, pages that were missing, and books that were tagged on. So ask yourselves this, dear colleagues: How is a child supposed to learn when he can't even read a whole book or a whole chapter? I know there are people saying that this takes a toll on poor people, but there was a study that said that 60 percent of the people who play the lottery have an income of $35,000 to $75,000. These are not poor people to me. Madam Speaker and dear colleagues, I urge your support for this bill, AJR 5. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN SETTELMEYER:

I urge opposition of this bill. To me, it is a question of choice of vices. My dad always told me, "Whether a person decides to gamble, smoke, drink, whatever it may be, it's their choice, but whatever you do, son, don't enable them." In that respect, I look at the constitutional amendment as something that has stood for 20 years, and I don't believe in enabling people to do something that could be a detriment to them such as a vice. That was echoed to me by an individual by the name of Janet who is one of my constituents, who is a member of Gamblers Anonymous and who agreed that this is not a good way because it will encourage a bad habit. Therefore, I urge opposition to this bill, and I hope we look for other ways to fund education.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

The question is should we place in front of the population the need for this lottery? For those of us who believe in the people, who will trust in the people, who believe this is a fair question for them to decide, their dedication to public education has to be tested in some meaningful way. This is a meaningful question. Books and those very tools of education are at stake. Should we do this? Gambling, to be sure, is a question we will long debate as to the right or wrongness of it—its moral obligation and how it does put the fortunes of some at risk who cannot control that habit. We have put legislation in place to try to help them. We have tried numerous times to make the public aware. We need additional dollars. We need to ask the public, "Should we move in this direction?" They are the best judge of the standards to be placed. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN CONKLIN:

I rise in support of this bill. It is only fitting today, when we sit in the house that has had a great many debates, that we look upon the lottery, and I submit to you, are we or are we not the Battleborn State? Our people are smart. They have been dealing with gambling for many years. They understand the odds. They know the odds. They participate every day, and whether the odds are 1,000 to 1 or 100 million to 1, it is a choice that every citizen makes. Our people are smart, they know, and this is their choice. It is truly voluntary. Your vote for this bill allows the public to decide if they want a lottery for education. I urge support.

Assemblymen Oceguera, Arberry, and Leslie moved the previous question.

Motion carried.

The question being the passage of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 5.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal:

NEVADA STATE ARCHIVIST GUY ROCHA:

Thank you, Madam Speaker, for your invitation to have me back for a second encore performance. I know of no other State Archivist in the nation that has been extended the courtesy to speak at a legislative floor session. Madam Speaker, you also know what it feels like to be the first. Congratulations; it's been a long time coming.

I am dedicating this presentation in tribute to Nevada historian Mary Ellen Glass, Reno native and founder of the University of Nevada Oral History Program in 1964. She died last Thursday, March 15, at the age of 79. Part of the story I will share with you today comes from Mary Ellen's pioneering history of Nevada's Silver Party.

In 2003, I regaled the Assembly with a story of how a law was passed in 1895 at the behest of the Women's Christian Temperance Union to prohibit the sale, gift, or disposal of liquor in the State Capitol building. After years of effort, the reformers were finally able to ban the Capitol's alcohol concession known as "The Well." This was to reduce the prodigious amount of alcohol consumption while legislating and presumably enhance the legislative process.

In 2005, I told you of the last day in the 1875 session when guns and knives were displayed in the Assembly chamber, angry words exchanged, and objects were thrown by Assemblymen at each other. I suggested that March 4, 1875, despite the rancor displayed in the 2003 legislative session, had the dubious distinction of being the worst legislative day in Nevada history.

In 2005, I also briefly mentioned the 1899 session. A long-time Nevada U.S. Senator, William M. Stewart, vying for the votes of legislators—when legislators chose our U.S. Senators—had hired a notorious gunman and another colorful character skilled in the use of a Bowie knife as his bodyguards. I want to share this story in greater detail because it is one of many glaring examples of why Congress proposed the 17th Amendment providing for the direct election of U.S. Senators, which the states ratified in 1913.

William Stewart was Nevada's first U.S. Senator. He had served in Congress from 1864 until 1875 and again beginning in 1887. Biographer and Nevada historian, the late Professor Russell Elliott, called him a "Servant of Power." Stewart was indeed a powerful politician, serving mining and railroad interests in Nevada. Perhaps his greatest political legacy is the National Mining Law. Stewart had a major challenger for his office in 1898-1899, Congressman Francis G. Newlands. Newlands, the son-in-law of former Nevada U.S. Senator William Sharon, was considered a political upstart who was no friend to the Southern Pacific Railroad, Stewart's principal supporter. The costly campaign to elect legislators partial to Stewart or Newlands was an ugly one laced with character assassination. The newspapers were full of vitriol and demeaning cartoons. The Stewart forces easily outspent the Newlands supporters and the assumption was the Senator had "fixed things" on the State Senate side. However, Stewart needed a majority of votes in the State Assembly, and that had not been assured.

Stewart's headquarters was the Ormsby House, catty-corner to the State Capitol, while Newlands' headquarters was the Arlington House, just south of the U.S. Mint. Stewart's entourage included controversial lobbyists, Southern Pacific Railroad employees, and two strong-arm men named Colonel Jack Chinn and David Neagle. Mr. Neagle was famous, or infamous, as a deputy U.S. Marshal. He acquired his reputation when he shot and killed former California Supreme Court Chief Justice David S. Terry, while defending U.S. Supreme Court Justice Stephen J. Field. The matter—In re Neagle—went before the U.S. Supreme Court. The hot-tempered former Justice Terry was well known for having previously killed California U.S. Senator David C. Broderick in a duel.

Beautiful Sarah Althea Hall, scorned by her lover, former U.S. Senator William Sharon, who she claimed was her husband (remember that Sharon was Francis Newlands' father-in-law) played a major role in instigating the events that led to Neagle's reputation. Sarah's lawyer, former California Justice David Terry—whom she married following Sharon's death during the litigation—claimed that Sarah had been William Sharon's lawful wife. Sarah went berserk upon hearing the adverse ruling, and Terry attacked a court officer and brandished a Bowie knife following efforts to escort his wife out of the court room. Shortly thereafter, the U.S. Attorney assigned Deputy U.S. Marshal David Neagle to protect the presiding federal circuit judge, Supreme Court Justice Stephen Field. Subsequent to the wild courtroom outburst, Sarah, who had been pregnant with Justice Terry's child, had a miscarriage.

Sarah and David Terry and Justice Field and his court-appointed bodyguard, Deputy Marshal Neagle, came together in an explosive confrontation on August 14, 1889, in the Lathrop railway station outside Stockton. Having served their sentence for contempt, Sarah and former justice Terry boarded the train in Fresno on which Justice Field and Deputy Neagle were returning to San Francisco. The next morning at Lathrop Station, the passengers detrained to take breakfast. Ignoring Neagle's protest, Field went to the dining room. The result was a dead husband, a wife committed to the Stockton Insane Asylum, a deputy marshal charged with murder, and a landmark U.S. Supreme Court decision—Justice Field abstaining—that substantially expanded the powers of the federal government and affirmed the authority for U.S. marshals and their deputies to use force in the performance of their lawful duties.

Some ten years later, the notorious former U.S. Deputy Marshal David Neagle walked the halls of the Nevada State Capitol in the interests of U.S. Senator William Stewart and the Southern Pacific Railroad. In addition, although both Stewart and Newlands belonged to the Silver Party, the Stewart backers were able to get Newlands kicked out of the party in time for the 1899 Session. Everything looked like a done deal, and Newlands did not allow his name to be submitted to the Legislature. On January 24, the State Senate chose Stewart over three other candidates by a vote of 9 to 6. However, the State Assembly was confronted with a missing member for the afternoon U.S. Senate vote who had been present in the morning session. Prior to the vote, 15 Assemblyman were pledged for Stewart and 15 for other candidates. With Storey County Assemblyman William A. Gillespie nowhere to be found by the Sergeant of Arms, the vote ended up 15 for Stewart, 14 for the others. Stewart, with a majority of the Assembly vote, was reelected to the U.S. Senate.

According to Newlands biographer, UNR Professor Bill Rowley, "The absence of Assemblyman Gillespie was no accident since his vote against Stewart could have tied the Assembly. He was spirited away either voluntarily or involuntarily to a home in Carson Valley for two days. Many speculated on how much he received for his absence, but within two months he held an office job with the Southern Pacific Railroad in Oakland."

A newspaper wire service story after the legislative session noted Jack Chinn and David Neagle's role in the 1899 Legislative Session: "Chinn's most dramatic use of his big Bowie knife was a short time ago when he sharpened it up and started for Nevada to help re-elect Senator Stewart, whom he admired. Chinn claimed that he was quicker with the knife than anyone else engaged in the campaign. David Neagle, the man who killed ex-Judge David S. Terry, went there as the man who used his revolver most rapidly, and as he was for Stewart, too, the combination looked irresistible."

Chinn and Neagle were perhaps much too irresistible for Assemblyman William Gillespie. Historian Mary Ellen Glass candidly summed up one of the state's most controversial legislative sessions: "The Nevada legislature was bought and paid for in 1899 by the railroad forces to assure William Stewart's election. Thus it was demonstrated again that the Southern Pacific Corporation would use any means, including bribery and intimidation to elect a man who would be compliant to its needs. Only the strongest could have stood against the pressure. As the legislators prepared to settle other questions of state importance, they might have observed that other states had had similar experiences in electing United States senators. Many displayed in greater or lesser intensity the graft, bribery, and corruption that led to the increasing demands for direct, popular election of senators."

Forty-five deadlocks occurred in 22 states between 1891 and 1905, resulting in numerous delays in seating senators. Beginning in 1899, Delaware did not send a senator to Washington, D.C. for four years.

And you thought political campaigns today are dirty and low-down.

Thank you for letting me remind you that politics has not changed all that much in the last 100 years.

And remember, "The truth does matter."

PROCLAMATION OF THE NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit thirty-five copies of this resolution to Tim Tetz, Executive Director, Office of Veterans' Services, for transmittal to each of the families of those being honored.

Assemblywoman McClain moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen McClain, Womack, Anderson, Bobzien, Carpenter, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Hardy, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Marvel, Munford, Parks, Pierce, Settelmeyer, Smith, Stewart, and Horne.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MCCLAIN:

Two hundred thirty years ago, our forefathers established a nation founded on liberty and the ideal that all people are created equal. On September 11th, 2001, an enemy, resolved to overthrow those ideals, attacked our country killing over 2,800 of our fellow citizens.

In the midst of those attacks, we were reminded; the great strength of America is found in the hearts and souls of our citizens. We saw our country united in compassion as Americans came together to provide relief and bring hope to others.

That day served as reveille for a new generation. A new era of young men and women would stand up, enlist, and serve our military to protect our American ideals.

All across America, and throughout Nevada, thousands would heed the call to service. The call to duty for a Nevadan is natural and is reflected in our state's motto—"All For Our Country."

These Nevadans were star athletes, church lay leaders, or policemen, but they soon became our protectors, our guardians, and our sentinels of freedom.

The names we read today are those sentinels of freedom. Those Nevadans who made the ultimate sacrifice to preserve our ideals, our country, and our way of life.

These brave Nevadans heeded the call to service for their country and set aside their dreams, their lives, and their futures. They represented the small towns and the large cities throughout our state. They were our neighbors, our sons, our daughters. They were our teachers, our mothers, our brothers.

Most importantly, they are our heroes. Those who gave so much that we could remain here, living in a free and prosperous country.

Ask any veteran why he served and he may say for our country, our freedoms, and our ideals. Ask another one and she may say my family, my father, and my neighbors. Ultimately, all veterans will agree they were called to duty by the love of their country.

This spring marks the beginning of the fifth year of the Global War on Terrorism—Operation Enduring Freedom in Afghanistan and Operation Iraqi Freedom in Iraq. From February of 2002 to now we have lost 35 Nevadans in those conflicts.

Today we pause to honor those we knew and loved; those Nevadans who heeded the call to service and forfeited all.

To the families that have a name listed today, our debt can never be repaid. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

We stand dedicated to remember the struggle, resolve, and sacrifice these Nevada heroes made. We must forever demonstrate they have not died in vain, as we honor their commitment as soldiers from the great "Battle Born" state of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN WOMACK:

District 23 has five great soldiers who gave their lives for our freedom. Army National Guard Specialist Anthony Cometa loved music and wanted to go to college. Army Sergeant John Griffith rejoined the Army in 2003 because it was his duty to serve. Captain Jesse Jaime joined his twin brother Joel who had already joined the Marines. Lance Corporal Richard Perez had just ten days left of his tour in Iraq and wanted to come home and play baseball for UNLV.

Army Specialist Ignacio Ramirez was an artist who drew his fellow soldiers. These brave men are the faces of the names on the list of soldiers whose sense of duty keep us safe. I urge all of my colleagues to support ACR 15.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Army Captain Joshua T. Byers of Sparks, age 29, graduated from Reed High School and in 1996 from West Point. He was a Southern Baptist lay leader serving as a pastor and church planner. His brother stated, "He worked hard to be the best at whatever he was interested in."

Marine Lance Corporal Donald J. Cline, Jr. of Sparks, age 21, married his high school sweetheart from Reed High School and had two sons, Dakota and Dylan. He would carve objects out of wood and send them to his sons. There is a memorial plaque dedicated to Donald at the Sparks Marina Park.

Army National Guard Chief Warrant Officer John M. Flynn of Sparks, age 36, was a military veteran who believed that the job he was doing would make the world a better place. He died on September 25, 2005, with his friend and comrade, Sergeant Patrick Stewart, of Fernley.

Army Sergeant Gordon F. Misner, II of Sparks High School, age 23, was a good friend, wonderful husband, and father. He loved his family and his country.

Army Private Joshua M. Morberg of Reed High School, age 20, learned to play the violin as a child and learned to speak Japanese in high school.

Army Sergeant Eric W. Morris of Reed High School, age 31—you could always count on him to get the job done. He was all about his family and taking care of his soldiers.

ASSEMBLYMAN BOBZIEN:

Army Corporal Shawn Thomas Lasswell, Jr. was a 21-year-old Reno resident, a resident of District 24. He was killed outside Baghdad last April by an improvised explosive device that detonated near his Humvee. He leaves behind his wife, whom he married just days before leaving for Iraq, and his parents. I want to thank him for his service, and my thoughts go out to his family and friends.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

I rise in support of ACR 15. U.S. Marine Corp Lance Corporal Raul Bravo, Jr. was the first Elko resident killed in the Iraq war, and he is the latest casualty from Nevada. Raul Bravo moved to Elko in 1993 and graduated from Elko High School in 2004. He enlisted in the Marines immediately after graduation and was on his second tour of duty. He had spent seven months in Iraq in 2005.

I know his family in Elko. His father works for the City of Elko in the Water Department. Raul was buried in Las Vegas where his mother lives. His sister, Rachel, said, "Everyone needs to support our troops regardless of how you feel." War has a way of touching everyone; Nevada is no exception. From north to south, Las Vegas to Elko, our prayers are with Raul and his family.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

I have two soldiers from my district. Marine Second Lieutenant James Cathey was a six-foot Marine who knew how to knit better than his wife could. His steel-cable arms were covered in tattoos that hid a lot of charm and tenderness. His mother said, "You could drive across Nevada with him, and he could tell you about every Indian battle, where it took place, why it happened, and what the result was."

The other person who has fallen from my district is Marine First Lieutenant Nathan Krissoff. Nathan was born in Truckee, California, and his family moved to Reno in 1990. He attended public school and later went to the Stevenson School in Pebble Beach. He was the ultimate scholar-athlete, excelling in water polo, swimming, piano, and graduating at the top of his class. He was also the student body president. During that time, he also earned a spot on the U.S. Junior National Wildwater Kayak Team and represented his country at two world championships in Europe. He attended Williams College in Williamstown, Massachusetts, where he earned a degree in political science and captained the men's swim team. Following graduation, he worked in Washington, D.C. for the Monterey Institute of International Studies. His passion and his commitment were truly inspirational to the people who knew him, and he is survived by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. William Krissoff of Reno, and his brother, who is also in the armed forces, Second Lieutenant Austin Krissoff.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOEDHART:

I would like to pay special tribute to two servicemen who gave the ultimate sacrifice. Army Sergeant Kenneth E. Bostic was born in Reno and was a resident of Hawthorne. He was a quiet leader with impeccable character who loved Hawthorne and proudly visited the community while serving in the Army. He had plans to pursue a career in law enforcement.

We also had Marine Second Lieutenant Frederick E. Pokorney, Jr., a resident of Tonopah. He was described by his mother a gentle giant who was passionate about his career and his daughter. His father is also laid to rest in Arlington National Cemetery. Our thoughts and prayers go out to family and friends.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOICOECHEA:

I rise in support of ACR 15. Two servicemen from Assembly District 35 were killed. Army Specialist Jason A. Disney died February 13 at Bagram Airbase in Afghanistan. He was assigned to the Army Seventh Transportation battalion. He left behind a three-year-old son at the time of his death. He excelled in the military structure and looked forward to being a career Army man.

The second was Army Private First Class Thomas C. Siekert. He was 20 years old and died December 6, 2005, in Baghdad, Iraq. He was assigned to the 101st Airborne Division. He had only spent ten months in the Army; the last three months of his service and life were spent in Iraq. My only regret is that I did not know either of these two young gentlemen personally, and I can only thank them.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

I proudly stand in support of ACR 15. I unfortunately had one young gentleman from Fernley who lost his life in Afghanistan, Sergeant Patrick Stewart, age 34. Patrick had a strong belief that what he was doing in Afghanistan was the right thing, and his trust in and support of his comrades was extraordinary. He died on September 25, 2005, with his comrade, Chief Warrant Officer John Flynn of Sparks.

I would like to add that I am very proud of our Nevada Veterans' Services and our Governor. While the Sergeant's wife was having a difficult time getting a religious designation on his crypt at the Veterans' Cemetery in Fernley, the Veterans' Services and the Governor stepped up and basically overrode what the federal government was doing and assisted his wife and children in getting that crypt properly inscribed with the religious symbol that they had requested.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

I rise in support of ACR 15. I will use the first names of these people who are very special to Boulder City. Shane Patton died while conducting combat operations when the MH-47 helicopter that he was aboard crashed in the vicinity of Asadabad, Afghanistan in the Kumar Providence. He was assigned to SEAL Delivery Vehicle Team One, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. He died on June 28, 2005. Shane graduated from Boulder City High School in 2000. When you enter the Coffee Cup restaurant in Boulder City, Shane's picture is proudly displayed. The caption on his photo says, "Our hero." Looking at his handsome, smiling face, you feel as if he might walk through the door any minute. His presence is profound.

Matt Commons died March 4, 2002. He had volunteered to join a rescue operation of a Navy SEAL. He was the youngest of seven soldiers to die in that effort at age 21. He was a giving person. Matt Commons, a vibrant student filled with hope, was described by his government teacher, Lynn Stewart. "He was a good, solid kid. He loved his country and was willing to put his life on the line." Matt continues to serve his country although he lies in rest in the Arlington National Cemetery. He is still serving to remind us of his hope and encourages us to have hope.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

I, too, rise in support of ACR 15. Today I rise to pay tribute to Army First Sergeant Carlos Saenz, who was a constituent of Assembly District 1. You wish you knew these folks who served our country personally. I did not, so I took the opportunity to call his wife and his son and have a little chat. I asked if there is anything that could be said today that we could remember him by, and she said that the last time they saw him was November of 2005. One of the things she said, too, was that her husband was a gentle giant as well. He was very tall and very big and loved to play with the kids out in the neighborhood. She said that her husband challenged our young teens today to be everything they could and to continue on with the dreams that they pursue. Today, his son, Juan, who is at Rancho High School, has done everything that his father has asked and three of the neighborhood kids are now enlisting to go and do their part because they believe it is so important. With that, I urge your support as well.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KOIVISTO:

I also support the adoption of Assembly Concurrent Resolution 15. Corporal William Salazar was born in Las Vegas and raised in southern California. In 2001, he returned to live with his aunt and uncle, Lou and Cecilia Salazar. Some of you from southern Nevada may know Lou Salazar. He is an active member of Local 525 and plays Santa Claus at the 525 Christmas party every year. William was the apple of his eye. He played the trombone in a jazz band and was interested in graphic design and the film industry. He was a photographer for the Marines and was proud to record footage of the war.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARVEL:

I also support ACR 15. I would like to recognize Private First Class David N. Crombie from Winnemucca, who made the supreme sacrifice for his family. Prior to his demise, he was in the Army Medics, and he saved the life of an Iraqi soldier. As a matter of fact, there was a little footnote we had from his family that said he thought so much of the Army that he painted his bedroom green. We certainly all admire the people who have sacrificed for all of us.

ASSEMBLYMAN MUNFORD:

Thank you, Madam Speaker, I rise in support of ACR 15. I have two young men who made the ultimate sacrifice from District 6. They were both graduates of Durango High School. Marine PFC John Lukac was 19 years old. His parents immigrated to the United States after escaping Austria from Czechoslovakia during World War II. He dreamed of being in the military since the age of 12 years. His mother, Helena, said that he was motivated to join the Marines after 9/11. He wanted to make a difference, no matter what it took. The second young man is Army Corporal Joseph L. Martinez. He was 21 years old. He was on his second tour of duty and told his family and friends that he wanted to protect his country and help the Iraqi people on their path to democracy. My heart and sympathy goes out to his family.

ASSEMBLYMAN PARKS:

I proudly and patriotically stand in support of ACR 15. I rise to recognize the heroism of Army Staff Sergeant Emmanuel L. Legaspi, who was 38 years old when he died on May 7, 2006, from injuries sustained from enemy small arms fire in Tal Afar, Iraq. Sergeant Legaspi was born in the Philippines, but was every bit an American patriot. He was a champion boxer in his native country, and he also boxed for South Korea. He worked as a lifeguard and a slot technician. Sergeant Legaspi's daughter was only six months old when he died.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PIERCE:

There were two soldiers who gave their last full measure from Assembly District 3. Army PFC Daniel Guastaferro was a racing enthusiast. He was a shy and compassionate man who was determined to make the world a better place. He died in Ramadi. Marine Corporal Nicholas H. Anderson was a gung ho member of Bonanza's Junior R.O.T.C. at Bonanza High, and he played varsity football. He graduated in 2003, and I was told that he was quite a jokester. He was a medic in the Marines, and he lost his life in Al Anbar Province. My prayers go out to his family.

ASSEMBLYMAN SETTELMEYER:

A gentleman from my region, Army PFC Phillip Williams, was part of the Fourth Brigade Troop Battalion, Fourth Brigade Combat Team and 101st Airborne Division out of Kentucky. He was a 21-year-old from Gardnerville, and he graduated from Douglas High. He died on October 9, 2006, in Baghdad. He died while protecting other soldiers when he was manning a gun-top. His father, who is a sergeant at the South Lake Tahoe Police Department, said that he wanted to be a combat military policeman, and he knew the risk. He grew up watching his father go to work and try to make people safe who he did not even know. I wish to honor his memory and his sacrifice. I regret that I did not know him.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

I am honored today to stand in remembrance of Marine Lance Corporal Jeremy Z. Long, who was just 18 years old, lived in my district in Sun Valley, and went to Spanish Springs High School. He played football, he wrestled, and he was a member of the swim team. At his funeral, we heard his coaches talk about how he played with such determination, and while he was never the biggest kid out there, he always played like he was, and he had such heart and passion for what he did. His family talked about how he had an amazing sense of humor and kept the family in stitches all the time, but he was also the rock in his family. He apparently, by all accounts, carried all of those qualities to the Marines. In a sad turn of events, shortly after his death, his family lost their home and his childhood memorabilia in a fire.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Assemblyman Grady has mentioned Sergeant Patrick Stewart and Chief Warrant Officer John Flynn, who were killed when their Chinook helicopter was shot down in Afghanistan during Operation Enduring Freedom. I have the honor to have sitting with me today their commander, General Kirkland, the commander of the Nevada National Guard. On my left is the wife of Sergeant Patrick Stewart, Roberta Stewart; his mother, Sandy Stewart; the wife of Officer John Flynn, Christine Flynn; and his parents, John and Joyce Flynn. We thank you so much for giving your sons and husbands for our country.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

I am so extremely proud of our fallen sons. I would like to take this opportunity to say that while we honor these brave men, please remember all of those who put on the uniform to serve our country in peace and in war. Whether they be cooks, special forces, nurses, doctors, mechanics, or clerical, it does not matter. When you ask the question, "Who will go?", if you stop and listen you will hear the sound of one step forward, all in unison. You will hear them all say, "I will go." We have to remember to not only honor them when they are gone. I would like to take this opportunity to thank these members in service who are in uniform today. Let us thank them as well, while they can hear us. Thank you for saying, "I will go."

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MCCLAIN:

We have three other young men who were killed in action. I have to tell you that we have done so much research on this. We have spent months on this. We know that one of our young men, Army Specialist Teodoro Torres, is from Las Vegas, and that is about all we know, but we honor him as well. Also, Army Sergeant Robert P. Kassin is from Las Vegas. His father stated that before he was gunned down in a bombed-out region of Afghanistan, he built a school where none had ever stood before. Army Corporal Stanley J. Lapinski was also from Las Vegas. He declined an offer to attend officer's school. He wanted to serve as a foot soldier and not behind a desk. With that, Madam Speaker, that concludes our tribute to the 35 fallen Nevadans.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Assemblywoman McClain moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 15 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

SHERRY RODRIGUEZ

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 16.

Assemblyman Ohrenschall moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Ohrenschall, McClain, Beers, Parks, and Mabey.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I'm privileged to have known Aggie Roberts. She was a personal friend of my family. I first knew of her as a small child, at about the age of her grandsons now, who are sitting here on the floor with me today. I was a big fan of Saturday morning cartoons. I always got up early to watch them. Sometimes on Sunday mornings, there would be cartoons, but they would come on a little bit later, and you would have to watch this local program about real estate. They always had a special bit about horticulture. There was a lady on there named Aggie Roberts. I wasn't that interested in horticulture, but I figured I'd sit and keep the television on until the cartoons came on. So I grew up as a child knowing Aggie from television.

In 1994, my mother decided to run for the Assembly. We were walking door to door out in a part of Las Vegas called the Vegas Manor, which is a really beautiful area. It's still a little bit rural, up between Lamb and Nellis, in the shadow of Frenchman Mountain. We were walking on Boston Avenue, and I see the name Agatha Roberts on the walking list. I asked my mom, "Can this be the Aggie Roberts, the radio/television personality?" The first thing I told my mother was that I wasn't knocking on that door. I was just too scared and intimidated and in awe of such a big personality like her. There was no way she was going to like my mom. Somehow we knocked on the door, and Aggie became a very good friend ever since.

Aggie was very active with her diocese, she did so much as a conservationist and horticulturalist. Back in the 1970s, she was promoting water-smart agriculture when it wasn't really in vogue and people were being encouraged in Las Vegas to make the desert bloom with green lawns and make things look like back East. She was telling us that we could make things beautiful without having alot of water to spend.

Aggie was very active in public service. She was secretary of the Sunrise Manor Town Advisory Board for many years. Very few of our constituents make it up here to visit us. Many of our constituents do make it to the town boards. Those of us who represent unincorporated Clark County know there are issues, whether it's a zoning variance that gets people very upset or a bar being opened in a neighborhood near a school. So alot of people deal with the town board. I had an opportunity to attend Sunrise Town Board meetings quite a few times. Aggie always went out of her way to make sure everyone felt comfortable and wasn't intimidated by the process, which for many people is their first contact with government. Aggie always made sure everyone got the minutes, who wanted them. She took them by hand, which was a little bit before the modern age, which many of us couldn't do.

She was a very good friend of the family. Throughout Las Vegas, Aggie would visit schools to teach horticulture. Many times it was called "Aggieculture." Another interesting story I have to share is that there is a school in Henderson named after Aggie Roberts. At the time of the naming of the school, my family and I were good friends of another long-time schoolteacher who was also campaigning to have a school named after her. At that time, there was a school named after Aggie, and our friend was not successful. The first thing Aggie did was not to invite us to the dedication of her school. She was more concerned with helping our friend because she felt she was so much more deserving than herself. She was that kind of person. After the school in Henderson was named after her, she didn't just hang a picture in the lobby of the school to show people it was named after her. She went there weekly to talk to the kids, to read to them, and spend time there. It's really wonderful. I don't think you find that very often in too many of the schools.

I know there are things I'm probably missing. She was a dear friend. I'm lucky to have known her personally. I was asked by the principal of Aggie Roberts Elementary School to mention that it was an honor to have known Aggie and call her friend. A second grader said, "Mrs. Aggie Roberts was one of my confidantes. She was the one who made us think harder and in different ways. That's what made her special."

I urge adoption and appreciate this resolution from the Senate.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MCCLAIN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support also for SCR 16. I knew Aggie Roberts really well. When I was liaison in the county manager's office, I was assigned to the Sunrise Manor Town Board. Aggie was dynamite, this little pistol of a woman already in her 70s then as the town board secretary. I was always so impressed with her. She was so efficient and on top of everything. She also helped us with another group, the Friends of the Winchester Park, where we did some landscaping and other things at Winchester Park on our side of town.

She was a dynamite gardener. The one thing that made the most impression on me—I can't even imagine this to this day—she grew tomatoes year round, outside, in her garden in Las Vegas. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN BEERS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I didn't have the privilege of knowing Aggie Roberts at all. But I do know her school. It is in my district. It is 227 Charter Oak, right near the intersection of Pecos and Windmill. In the Iowa Standard Tests, it is one of the highest-rated elementary schools in the Las Vegas Valley. The national average is around 50 percent. The last 2006 testing scores, every area, every class, was well over 60 percent. I think that is a fine testament to this woman. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN PARKS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, too, rise in support of SCR 16. In addition to everything that has been said—and like my colleague from Assembly District 15, I also worked with Aggie Roberts several decades ago—the one thing I remember the most dealing with Aggie is that whenever I called Aggie on the phone, I would usually get her voicemail. Her voicemail always had one of her house plants answering the phone for her, as a message. These were absolutely superb messages. I think she changed them every month. That was the kind of wonderful individual she was.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I also rise in support of SCR 16. I never had the opportunity of knowing Mrs. Roberts personally, but I had the opportunity of knowing her daughter, who was my patient. I delivered two of her grandsons. I remember Aggie's distinctive voice on the radio. I always knew it was her. I admired her because I bought a greenhouse and put it in my backyard, and although it doesn't grow very well, I think of people like Aggie and how they can make things grow in our desert climate. Pam would always speak highly of her mother. It was fun to know Aggie's daughter and later, when I got to know her and her grandsons. So I rise in support of SCR 16.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

4. All money collected by the Commission as an administrative fine pursuant to this section must be deposited in the State General Fund.

5. The Commission may bring an appropriate action in its own name for the collection of any administrative fine that is assessed pursuant to this section. A court shall award costs and reasonable attorney's fees to the prevailing party in an action brought pursuant to this subsection.

6. The administrative fine prescribed by this section is in addition to any other remedies, other than a monetary fine, provided by law, including, without limitation, the authority of the Commission to revoke a certificate of public convenience and necessity, license or permit pursuant to NRS 703.377.

Sec. 3. NRS 704.035 is hereby amended to read as follows:

704.035 1. On or before June 15 of each year, the Commission shall mail revenue report forms to all public utilities, providers of discretionary natural gas service and alternative sellers under its jurisdiction, to the address of those utilities, providers of discretionary natural gas service and alternative sellers on file with the Commission. The revenue report form serves as notice of the Commission's intent to assess such entities, but failure to notify any such entity does not invalidate the assessment with respect thereto.

2. Each public utility, provider of discretionary natural gas service and alternative seller subject to the provisions of NRS 704.033 shall complete the revenue report referred to in subsection 1, compute the assessment and return the completed revenue report to the Commission accompanied by payment of the assessment and any ~~[penalty]~~ fee due, pursuant to the provisions of subsection 5.

3. The assessment is due on July 1 of each year, but may, at the option of the public utility, provider of discretionary natural gas service and alternative seller, be paid quarterly on July 1, October 1, January 1 and April 1.

4. The assessment computed by the public utility, provider of discretionary natural gas service or alternative seller is subject to review and audit by the Commission, and the amount of the assessment may be adjusted by the Commission as a result of the audit and review.

6. When a public utility, provider of discretionary natural gas service or alternative seller sells, transfers or conveys substantially all of its assets or, if applicable, its certificate of public convenience and necessity, the Commission shall determine, levy and collect the accrued assessment for the current year not later than 30 days after the sale, transfer or conveyance, unless the transferee has assumed liability for the assessment. For purposes of this subsection, the jurisdiction of the Commission over the selling, transferring or conveying public utility, provider of discretionary natural gas service or alternative seller continues until it has paid the assessment.

7. The Commission may bring an appropriate action in its own name for the collection of any assessment and ~~[penalty]~~ fee which is not paid as provided in this section.

8. The Commission shall, upon collection, transfer to the Account for the Consumer's Advocate that portion of the assessments collected which belongs to the Consumer's Advocate.

that transports cargo into, out of or through this State to support the activities of the Commission relating to railroad safety.

2. The annual assessment levied on railroads:

(a) Must be equal to the costs incurred by the Commission that are not offset by the fees paid pursuant to NRS 459.512.

(b) Must be not more than 1 cent per ton of cargo transported by the railroads into, out of or through this State during the immediately preceding calendar year.

3. On or before September 1 of each year, the Commission shall:

(a) Calculate the amount of the assessment to be levied pursuant to this section for the previous fiscal year; and

(b) Mail to each railroad subject to the provisions of this section to the current address of the railroad on file with the Commission a notice indicating the amount of the assessment. The failure of the Commission to so notify a railroad does not invalidate the assessment.

4. An assessment levied pursuant to this section is due on or before November 1 of each year. Each railroad that is subject to the provisions of this section which fails to pay the assessment on or before December 1, shall pay, in addition to the assessment, a ~~[penalty]~~ fee of 1 percent of the total unpaid balance for each month or portion thereof that the assessment is delinquent ~~[.]~~ or $10, whichever is greater, except that no ~~[penalty]~~ fee may exceed $1,000 for each delinquent payment.

5. If a railroad sells or transfers its certificate of public convenience and necessity or sells or transfers substantially all of its assets, the Commission shall calculate, levy and collect the accrued assessment for the current year not later than 30 days after the sale or transfer, unless the purchaser or transferee has assumed liability for the assessment. For the purposes of this subsection, the jurisdiction of the Commission over the sale or transfer of a railroad continues until the assessment of the railroad has been paid.

6. The Commission may bring an appropriate action in its own name for the collection of any assessment and ~~[penalty]~~ fee that is not paid pursuant to this section.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following proclamation be entered in the Journal.

PROCLAMATION OF THE NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY

WHEREAS, Deanna Jensen was born in Elko and raised in Clover Valley on a cattle ranch. She graduated from Wells High School and eventually earned a master's degree in speech pathology-audiology at the University of Nevada, Reno; and

WHEREAS, Deanna Jensen passed away on January 7, 2007, after a long but heroic battle with breast cancer; and

WHEREAS, Deanna was a tireless activist for breast cancer research. For example, Deanna worked with United States Senator Harry Reid on the Breast Cancer and Environmental Research Act, bipartisan legislation that proposes a national strategy to study the links between the environment and breast cancer; and

WHEREAS, The American Cancer Society estimates that a woman in the United States has a 1 in 7 chance of developing invasive breast cancer during her lifetime—this risk was 1 in 11 in 1975; and

WHEREAS, All women are at risk of developing breast cancer. About 90 percent of women who are diagnosed with breast cancer do not have a family history of the disease; and

WHEREAS, Approximately three million women in the U.S. are currently living with breast cancer—two million who have been diagnosed and an estimated one million who do not yet know they have the disease; now, therefore, be it

PROCLAIMED, That Deanna Jensen was a loving wife and mother, a cherished friend, and a respected member of the community; and be it further PROCLAIMED, That Deanna Jensen used her own battle with breast cancer to better the lives of those faced with this devastating disease.

DATED this 21st day of March, 2007.

Ty Cobb,
Nevada State Assemblyman

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN COBB:

For those who knew Deanna Jensen, they knew she was an incredibly wonderful woman. They knew that she was outgoing, caring, and she was a wonderful friend and loving person. In fact, she was a good friend of both my wife and me. When she passed away, we felt the need to write in the note that we sent to her husband, Don, a thank you to him for allowing us to spend time with her and get to know her and to share her life with us, especially because he knew how precious time was and he was still willing to do that.

Obviously, we are not the only people he shared Deanna with. Senator Reid was gracious enough to work with her on breast cancer issues, as did Senator Ensign. She spent alot of time working on these issues, as the proclamation mentions, not because it was going to help her, but because she believed in the cause of helping other women who were stricken with this disease. She wanted to better their lives.

I would like to end by reading this line on the proclamation: "Deanna Jensen was most importantly a loving wife and mother, a cherished friend, and a respected member of the community." Thank you.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

We thank you for being with us today. We are proud to take a moment to honor Deanna and her activism and her work for all women so this disease can be eradicated. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all.

THE FORTY-SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), March 22, 2007

Assembly called to order at 11:19 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Gerhardt and Mabey, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father George Wolf.

Lord God, our Father in Heaven, we thank You for Your many graces and blessings. We ask a special blessing today on the men and women of this Assembly who serve the people of Nevada. As they craft the laws of this state, may they do so under your guidance with special concern for the most needy and least of our citizens. Give them the light and the courage to stand always for justice and the peaceful resolution of our concerns. May we take our inspiration this morning from the words of the Psalmist: "We wait in hope and keep God's way. The Lord will give you power. He will have your land and watch the wicked fall. Observe the honest and upright. The future belongs to peacemakers, but the violent will be destroyed. The just are saved by God, their refuge in troubled times. They seek help from God who saves and rescues them, who saves and frees them." We make our prayer in God's name.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 17—Designating March 28, 2007, as Kick Butts Day in Nevada.

WHEREAS, The youth of Nevada are concerned about their futures and believe substance abuse, including alcohol, tobacco, and prescription and illegal drugs, is one of the most critical problems facing the families and communities in this State; and

WHEREAS, Substance abuse is linked to crime, domestic violence, child abuse and neglect, the breakdown of families, homelessness, decreased performance at school and work, and an increase in health care costs; and

WHEREAS, Nationally, more than half of young people have tried illegal drugs by the time they graduate from high school, and three million adolescents between 14 and 17 years of age have an alcohol problem; and

WHEREAS, Statistics show that, among the youth of Nevada, 52 percent have tried cigarettes, 74.1 percent have tried alcohol, 39.3 percent have used marijuana and 11.1 percent have used methamphetamine by the time they have finished high school; and

WHEREAS, Research indicates that young people who avoid the early use of alcohol, tobacco and marijuana are less likely to engage in other harmful behaviors such as crime, delinquency and the use of other illegal drugs; and

WHEREAS, With early intervention and increased funding for education and for outreach programs, substance abuse is a preventable disease, and according to Daphne Bugental, a psychology professor at the University of California, Santa Barbara, for “every dollar invested in prevention, there is a cost savings of four dollars to public agencies later on”; now, therefore, be it

Assemblyman Mabey requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN BEERS:

This is spring break so we have some students with us, but we also have a teacher of one of those students—me. She also happens to be a published writer, an award-winning quilter, spinner, and textile artist. She was a Girl Scout and still considers herself to be a Girl Scout. Soon she will be graduating from UNLV at the top of her class and entering the world of teaching. She passed the PRAXIS test by achieving the highest score in the history of that test by 15 percent. I am a little emotional. Please welcome my wife Julie—my reason for living.

ASSEMBLYMAN MABEY:

I would like to introduce the boss. If you remember, last session I gave her the best supporting wife award during the session. I cannot think of any other award that I could give her but to tell her and everybody here and in the state of Nevada what a great woman I have and a great wife and to acknowledge her and tell her I love her. I would also like to introduce three of my children—two are at BYU and I wish they could be here—Sarah Marie, Camille, and Jacob, who was the honorary chairman of the Judiciary Committee. Hopefully he might get to do that. I would like to publicly thank them for letting me serve, and I am a grateful man for having such a wonderful family.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA

Thank you, Madam Speaker. It is certainly a thrill and a pleasure to be here today. It is an honor to have the opportunity to address this body where I started my political career many years ago. Having been on the receiving end of a few of these speeches myself, I understand what all of you are going through. I appreciate your hard work and your effort of behalf of the people of Nevada—they are truly well-served.

It is my understanding that the Nevada Consular Corps is here today, I want to welcome all of them. I want to welcome all of the students that are here today. I hope they are enjoying their spring break. It is probably not the place they want to be on their spring break, but welcome anyway. It is a thrill to have you. I want to take a moment to thank Governor Gibbons for being here, Lieutenant Governor Brian Krolicki, Senator Raggio, obviously the Speaker, members of both houses, and also those Justices who may be here. I want to thank the constitutional officers, especially Ross Miller—congratulations and good luck.

I want to take a minute to recognize Assemblyman Bernie Anderson. He is the last member standing from our freshman class of 1991. My hat is off to you—congratulations. A few of our freshman class are still wandering around these halls including my good friend, Senator Warren Hardy.

As many of you know, I grew up right here in northern Nevada. My wife, Lynn, and I raised our four children here. My father's automotive shop was located directly across the street in that now empty lot. I spent much of my youth working in that garage sweeping floors, repairing cars, fixing transmissions. I should probably emphasize sweeping floors—at least my father would remind me of that. The rule at home was that if you were not playing sports or didn't have another job, you had to be working at the shop—so I played a lot of sports. In that shop, my parents taught me the value of hard work, responsibility, and with my five brothers and sisters, the importance, of course, of family. My mother; my sister; my wife, Lynne; and our daughter, Emmy, are here with us today, and I want to thank them for their tremendous support over the years.

My first job outside the family business was delivering one of the local newspapers. For those of you who remember the Reno Evening Gazette, that just goes to show you how old you are. The Capitol Building was on my paper route where I delivered to then-Governor Mike O'Callaghan. Ironically enough, I also delivered the paper to the Secretary of State's office, then-Secretary Johnny Koontz, not knowing that I would hold that same position 25 years later. I spent most of my time as a child outdoors. Some of my fondest memories as a child are jumping on my bike and riding it to the Carson River to go fishing. Later in life, it was elk hunting near Pioche or deer hunting in the Ruby Mountains. These western values were instilled in me by my family, and in turn I have tried to pass along these same values to my children. I know many here today share similar experiences.

One of my first impressions in Congress was how well our Nevada delegation works together. The Nevada delegation as a whole tries to meet once a month. The House delegation meets once a week at our constituent breakfast, and while we do not see eye to eye on all issues in Congress, when it comes to Nevada issues, we all work very well together. This is not common in Washington, D.C.—few states have this working relationship. It is important that Senators Reid and Ensign; my House colleagues, Berkley and Porter; and I sit down and talk about what is important to our state—placing politics aside so we can get things done. This is something that is all too uncommon in Washington, and I am proud to be a part of this team.

It is not just our federal legislators that work well together, but also our state and local officials. I appreciate the many visits to my office by our public officials. Mayors Cashell, Martini, Gibson, Tedford, and Franzoia just to name a few; county commissioners; city council members; NACO; and the League of Cities all make an exceptional effort to keep us aware of current issues.

I met with the Nevada Cattlemen's Association in Elko and saw them again in Washington in committee hearings. I was the keynote speaker yesterday for the National Mining Association's spring conference. I spoke on issues concerning mining law changes and global warming legislation, both of which could have a profound effect on their global competitiveness. I did a flyover of White Pine County with Assemblyman Pete Goicoechea and Governor Gibbons to see firsthand the potential effects of water depletion in Snake Valley. I met with Family TIES in Reno to learn about the personal struggles of parents raising children with autism and individuals who live with disabilities. Their information has been critical for me on these issues when they come before Congress. All told, I have had over 200 meetings in my office since I have been sworn in. It is truly an honor to have this opportunity to meet with so many Nevadans, to learn about their concerns, and to represent them in Congress.

I have been appointed to three House committees; Natural Resources, Education and Labor, and Small Business. On Small Business, I have been appointed ranking member of the Subcommittee on Finance and Taxation. I have also been elected by my colleagues to a leadership post in the Congressional Western Caucus to promote western issues in Congress. I have worked to place myself in a position where, even as a freshman, I can be an effective advocate for western issues and those issues facing Nevada.

The disconnect in Washington, D.C. when it comes to western issues is very apparent. Few understand our water issues, mining regulations, or federal land management. Only some understand the methamphetamine epidemic in our state. Many do not understand the impact of federal actions on our rural communities. When I talk about the loss of 1.2 million acres of land to wildfires in just one county, I watch their amazement when I explain this is bigger than some eastern states.

This Congress faces difficult choices which will affect the safety and global competitiveness of our nation. We are in engaged in a war in Iraq that is arduous for the American people. Everyone wants to make sure our troops have the resources and reinforcement they need to succeed in their missions. I believe the Congress has two responsibilities under the Constitution of the United States: first, to declare war, which it did; secondly, to decide whether or not to fund that war. What Congress should not do is try to manage this war by setting arbitrary timelines and reckless dates for withdrawal that accomplish nothing but enhance and empower the enemy. What our soldiers do not need are 535 generals who were boldly for the war before they were boldly against it. I stand proudly with 173 House colleagues in signing a discharge petition which would force floor consideration of a bill to fully fund all troops in harm's way. That bill and petition was put forward by Representative Sam Johnson, a decorated Vietnam veteran, who spent nearly seven years as a prisoner of war.

Nevada is home to approximately 300,000 veterans. That number accounts for approximately 16 percent of our population. We owe a great debt of gratitude to our nation's veterans. They deserve nothing less than the best care possible. With the news of the conditions at Walter Reed Army Medical Center's outpatient facilities, I toured the hospital to see the conditions firsthand. I sent a letter, along with my freshman colleagues, to the President requesting a meeting with Veterans Affairs Secretary Jim Nicholson to hear his plans for improving veterans' care. I directed my staff to tour or contact all Veterans Affairs medical facilities in Nevada to ensure similar conditions did not exist here at home. Our veterans deserve our full time and attention.

I have cosponsored legislation which would make the deduction of sales tax from federal tax returns permanent and to promote small business growth. Nevada incorporated almost 90,000 new businesses last year alone. I want to see them grow and prosper. However, my efforts in Congress go beyond this legislation. Last week I voted against the proposed federal budget. These are the reasons why.

It included the largest tax increase in American history, $400 billion over the next five years.

It increased the marginal tax rates to a tune of $182 billion, including those who can least afford to pay taxes. If you are in the lowest tax bracket, your taxes would be increased by 50 percent.

It includes the reinstatement of the death tax.

It reduces the child tax credit from $1,000 to $500 per child. Last week, I offered an amendment to protect the child tax credit beyond its current expiration date in 2011, but the amendment was rejected. My argument was a child was not going to cost less after 2011 than a child costs today.

It increases the capital gains and dividend taxes to a tune of $32.5 billion. It also includes a reinstatement of the marriage penalty tax.

I'm concerned with the impact this legislation will have on middle income America and their ability to save and invest. These tax increases will increase the tax burden on every Nevada family of four by nearly $3,000 a year. Nevadans deserve better.

I have become a cosponsor of the Social Security Fairness Act. This legislation would repeal Social Security's offset requirements for an individual's pensions and benefits, helping Nevada's seniors to have a better quality of life. In addition, this benefits our public employees such as police and schoolteachers.

Finally, on healthcare this body and Congress continue to struggle on finding ways to help 46 million uninsured Americans. Sixty percent of those uninsured are employed by small businesses. Their health insurance premiums should be 100 percent tax deductible. Additionally, more Americans should have access to health savings accounts, which would inject some competition into our healthcare industry. I have signed on to the Small Business Health Fairness Act, which would allow for the establishment of association health plans. These plans would create a multistate standard available through professional organizations so small businesses could group together and offer affordable health insurance to their employees. This practice is what large corporations and labor unions do all the time. These steps are the first to start lowering the number of uninsured in our country.

There are many other issues which should be discussed. Congress is due to reauthorize the No Child Left Behind Act this year. I will have a key part in that debate as a member of the Education and Labor Committee. The reauthorization of the Nevada Check-Up program is also due this year. This program has provided services to impoverished children in Nevada since 1998. I look forward to working with this body on these key issues as legislation moves forward.

I appreciate all the hard work and effort you put forward on behalf of all Nevadans. I appreciate the longstanding relationship I have with many who are in this body, and I look forward to expanding those relationships as we work together to solve these issues facing Nevada. Thank you very much. May God bless you and this great state.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA

Thank you, and to all of my friends I had a chance to say hello to in the hallways, I tell you it is really great to be back. It is an honor for me to be a member of Congress, but more importantly, it is an honor for me to be here today with all of you who are making so many difficult decisions for our great state.

President Krolicki, it is a pleasure to see you again and, of course, our Speaker, Barbara Buckley. The Governor, we appreciate you being here. My good friend Bill Raggio—I could talk about Bill all morning, but I won't. I did light a candle under your statue at the airport when I came into town, but I have not seen many other candles since I left so I think there must be a problem. Good to see you and Minority Leader Titus, it is good to see you. Thank you all very much and Dr. Mabey, we appreciate your leadership. To all the leaders, thank you for all that you do.

I would also like to congratulate my latest and newest colleague, Mr. Heller. I know he was here this week, and I think you should all be very proud of Dean. He is doing an outstanding job representing Nevada. He is truly a quick study. He has done a tremendous job in very short time—in a very contentious time—and I applaud Mr. Heller for his hard work.

Also, my daughter Nicole is here—welcome. As you know, I served here for eight years, and Nicole was here almost every free moment she had, so thank you for coming, Nicole.

I would like to just take a moment to recognize all the Nevadans that have lost their lives to fight the war on terror, to all the families and their loved ones who share in that sacrifice, and to all the rest of the folks of this great country who have given their lives to protect our freedom. I would like to just have a moment of silence.

There are a couple of students here today, Ryan Hendessa and Brandon Jones from Sage Ridge School in Reno. They just got back from Luxemburg and have taken on as a mission the Darfur genocides in Sudan. I am frequently asked by my colleagues and constituents what can be done about the genocide that is happening today as we speak. I am going to use these gentlemen as an example. They have raised monies for charities to help the families in Darfur. They believe in putting their energy to work to try and make a difference in the world. To you gentlemen, thank you. They just got back from a trip to Luxemburg where they had an opportunity to speak on behalf of Nevada and also for all those families that are in harms way in Sudan and Darfur. Thank you.

Another gentleman that really needs no introduction, but I'm going to anyway, is Bob Ferraro, Mayor of Boulder City. Bob has been a friend of mine for almost 30 years, and Bob is retiring as a public servant in Boulder City. For over 31 years, Mayor Ferraro has served our great state and the community of Boulder City. Bob is the one who convinced me to run for office so for those who want to blame someone, this is the guy, and for those who are happy, this is the guy as well. Bob, as a leader of our community of Boulder City and of Nevada, approaches things like I think we all should—he has a very bipartisan, nonpartisan approach to finding solutions to problems. Bob sets the standard for what it is like to negotiate, to work with his council, to work with his community, and I believe he is now the happiest mayor in the country since he is retiring soon. The mayor has set a real standard that I think we all could and should learn from, as I try to every day that I have been in public service. Mayor, I have a congressional recognition for you and I have entered your history into the congressional record as members of Congress have been doing for over 200 years. Also, the Governor had declared today as Robert Ferraro Day, so congratulations, and on behalf of the Governor, I would like to present a proclamation that this is Robert "Bob" Ferraro Day. We are honored as a state to recognize this as a very special day.

We have faced a lot of challenges as a community, as a state, and as a country. We have built bridges to nowhere in Alaska and seemingly we are building a bridge to nowhere here in Carson City. Is there something we can do to help with that project? We have experience with building those types of projects—I had to pick on Bill Raggio one more time.

We have so much to be proud of and yet face so many challenges that we need to continue moving forward. If we look where we have been as a country in the past six years since 9/11, and if we look where we have been as a country in the last 30 years, but more importantly where we have been as a state—many of you have served in the Legislature for a long time and I applaud all of you and your families for the sacrifices that you have made to the great state of Nevada—but if you look back through the years, I remember 30 years ago when we were told that we were not going to exist as a state. Gaming and the resort industry was only temporary—Wall Street said we were not going to survive. Well guess what? We have come back stronger each time we have had challenges. When we had a major fire in the early 1980s at the MGM Grand, from that point forward we have had the safest hotels in the world because we worked together. We have faced serious economic challenges—ebbs and flows—and have fought Wall Street many times, but each time, as a state, we have come back stronger than ever because we worked together as a team.

We have 40,000 new hotel rooms online in southern Nevada. We are still building two and a half schools a month; we are hiring 2,500 teachers a year and 5,000 support staff in southern Nevada. We have the fastest growing senior community and the fastest growing veteran community. We have challenges, but I will tell you that when I meet a person around the world or in this country, they are all very envious of what we have here in Nevada. Each challenge that we face—whether it is education, health care, transportation, growth, or the economy, this body in Carson City, working with local governments, is up to the challenge, and you will be successful as you have been in the past.

We talk about the challenges that are unique to Nevada, and I think one that we are dealing with today is health care. I want to applaud all of you and touch on a few areas like health care, transportation, and education that I think we in Washington, D.C. are working on as partners with you. Quality and accessibility of health care continues to be a primary concern for all of you. We are short a thousand nurses today as we speak. Nationwide, we are short about 800,000 nurses. We have a crisis happening. I applaud Nevada State College, the leadership, and this body for starting that school. They now have an accelerated nursing program, which I helped create. It has been very successful in trying to resolve the challenge of the nursing shortage. We have a Veterans Affairs hospital that is online. I applaud the whole Nevada delegation and all of you. Soon, we are going to have a 300-bed Veterans Affairs hospital which is state of the art. It will be one of the first built in the country in years. It will be in Las Vegas to serve our veterans, to make sure they are given the treatment which they deserve.

This body, and as I know, Congress, is trying to find solutions to problems. We still have problems. Medicare is a challenge financially. The one thing I have done in Congress to help the state of Nevada and other fast-growing states is making close to $30 million available for Medicare challenges as we and they transition into health information technologies. This way the least among us who have the largest financial challenges will have the same benefits as those in our community who have the best.

We are also working on a project with the Nevada hospitals called the Graduate Medical Education Program. Currently in Nevada, training for new doctors has a cap which is based on equations and formulas that cause a lot of our challenges. Because of our massive growth, we are capped. We need to expand those caps in Washington, D.C. I am working with Nevada doctors and hospitals to expand the cap so we can train more doctors in our university system. We can train more doctors in the hospitals. We are rated 47th in the United States when it comes to doctors who graduate medical programs. That is something we are working on together so we eliminate that cap.

I look around this room and I see many, many of our leaders who are in the education field and who have a passion to do everything they can to help our kids, especially with 20,000 new kids in southern Nevada every year, give or take. We need to find a way so we are able to hire the best and the brightest. This past session in Congress, we passed for the first time legislation—my legislation—to make sure another 26 states can do F.B.I. background checks on their teachers. Believe or not, not all states were doing it like Nevada. That is 24 million kids. This idea came to me because of an idea of George Ann Rice of the Clark County School District. It is an example of why Nevada is on the cutting edge. We talked about the formula changes. Senator Reid and I have worked on those to help. In the past, federal funding has taken two to three years to follow the child. If the kid is from Iowa or California or wherever they are from, it may stay there. Because of Senator Ensign and myself, we have helped fix that formula. But, probably the greatest accomplishment that I can look back on, for my career, and the one

I'm most proud of, is the building of schools. We collectively—Chris Giunchigliani, Dina Titus, Barbara Buckley, Maurice Washington—we worked together in building schools. That bond issue was for 88 new schools. It passed this body. It has been very successful. We have built close to 100 schools, if not a little bit more. That bond issue, that funding source, is running out next year. I encourage all of you to support the districts around the state, but specifically southern Nevada, where we are going to need to keep building 2.5 schools a month. If we don't build schools, none of these other challenges will really matter. That funding source, as I said, expires next year, so I look forward to working with all of you and Clark County to do what we can to renew that.

I picked on my friend Bill, but I tell you, everyone in Nevada is touched by transportation. I know with 40,000 hotel rooms coming online, we have new employees moving to our communities, we have families moving, we have folks sitting in traffic around the state. My understanding is somewhere between $4 billion to $8 billion dollars is going to be needed over the next ten years. I know you are up for the challenge and know you spend a lot of time looking for solutions. I am going to speak today before the Transportation Committee in the Senate to one more time encourage all of you to look closely at public-private partnerships, which are a funding source for building highways and byways. The United States Congress, with the help of the Governor, two years ago passed legislation to allow for demonstration projects across the country to build dedicated lanes on the interstate system. It is new. It has not been done before. I spoke to then-Governor Guinn and Jeff Fontaine in the fall of last year and told them we had to at least get our name into the queue so we could build or possibly be considered for these dedicated lanes.

Now, I know we have challenges in every community. My goal is to focus on three different corridors with this public-private partnership. One of them is the I-15 corridor south of Las Vegas. The demonstration projects provided under the congressional act provide that we can negotiate with the private sector but also with other states. I met with California legislators. Imagine for a moment if we could build a parallel, two- to four-lane highway on I-15 South to Barstow or Victorville, where our visitors and our residents could have a choice. They could take the free lanes or they could take a toll road, which would be purely optional, targeted south of Las Vegas. As you know, our airports and our byways and our streets and highways are the conduit to our economy. If we don't do something about those byways, we are going to be out of business. So, I am encouraging you to give it your consideration. I know there are challenges, and I encourage the debate. Why not allow those visitors who are coming to Nevada help pay for that road south of Las Vegas from Victorville to Barstow? Why not allow our visitors to help share in that expense? The same thing with Boulder City—the mayor is here today—the same with the Boulder City bypass. There are currently 20,000 cars a day that go through Boulder City. Two to three thousand trucks will soon be coming into Boulder City. I would say we should do the same thing for Boulder City and its bypass. Visitors have a choice. They can take the free route, through Boulder City, or they can choose to take a toll around Boulder City.

The third corridor is the I-80 corridor over the Sierra Mountains. Why not also look at that as an opportunity for the private sector to help invest in a parallel set of lanes between Reno and California? The private sector helps invest in that project. Again, our visitors to northern Nevada have a choice. They can take the free lane or they can pay, which will be faster and more efficient. I appreciate the opportunity to speak in the Senate today with Senator Nolan. We are going to talk about the project. I know you had some experts visiting the session, here. Some know far more than I do. I think it is something we should give strong consideration to. If I can help give you some tools, you will make the right choice and decide what is right for Nevada, but something must be done.

All of you spend a lot of time taking care of your constituents. I applaud all of you. It is not like you have a lot of staff. The staff you have is tremendous and does a great job. I know that during the interim, it is difficult at times. I'm blessed to have a staff that works year round, sometimes 24 hours a day. I know some of them are here today. I keep them pretty busy. Since January, we have touched about 90,000 people with town hall meetings, direct mail, and surveys.

I am hearing a lot of great things about Nevada. I want to share with you not only what I'm hearing from Nevadans, but what I hear from around the world. As I visit the troops in Iraq in Baghdad, in Kuwait, or a sailor at Bethesda Naval Hospital, or a soldier at Walter Reed, or other members of Congress. Every time I say I am from the state of Nevada, to a person, there is a twinkle in their eye. There is a twinkle. They say they have been to Las Vegas or they want to go to Las Vegas or they want to go to Reno or they have been to Tonopah. I have been to Mesquite. I have been to Elko. I can go on and on. To a person, there is a twinkle, especially from the military. We are doing them a great service because they want to come and join our community. People are very envious of who we are, what we are, and what we have accomplished. That is because we have worked together quite successfully.

I know there are many challenges yet before us, but I truly believe our best days are yet to come if in fact we follow the lead of Mayor Ferraro in working together with a bipartisan team approach in finding solutions to problems.

The United States Congress has its challenges as do you, but know that the delegation stands ready and able to serve you. We don't always agree with each other, but when it comes to Nevada, we do work very closely and in lockstep to serve our communities the best we can. So, I want to say thank you.

As a side note, if you are looking for something to do tonight, Terry Murphy, Senator Bob Beers, Chris Ferrari, and myself are going to try to play a little music at Glen Eagles. It will be bipartisan, no politics, just rock and roll. So please come out and join us and have a good time. I am honored to be here. Thank you all very much for allowing me to be here today. Thank you.

CARSON CITY (Monday), April 9, 2007

Assembly called to order at 11:10 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Reverend Marie Hanson.

Please join with me now, taking a moment to go within, connecting with your breath and the Universal Power and Presence that permeates each of us. May we now let go of all that it took to be here today. Distractions, projects, phone calls, meetings—all dissolve in this moment as we accept and know each and every need is met, easily and effortlessly. Let us join our hearts and minds as One. All things are enveloped in Your Love, Father/Mother/Sister/Brother. Our Essential Nature is Love. Being One with It, we lovingly express our thoughts, activities, and words today. We let Joy guide us and inspire us to do that which You would have us accomplish, Great Spirit. There is nothing, no thing, that we cannot do without You. We invite You into our minds, now. Your Peace radiates out into this room, this building, this city, this state, this country, this planet, and beyond. Your wisdom allows us to be that which You are: Peace, Love, and Joy. It is with this intention we move into all our moments today, letting go and letting God, for He exceeds what we can do alone. And so it is.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 75.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to revise provisions relating to the taking of private property by eminent domain.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 8 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution and the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution provide that private property cannot be taken for a public use without just compensation. In Kelo v. City of New London, 125 S.Ct. 2655 (2005), the United States Supreme Court ruled that the use of eminent domain to acquire property and transfer it to another private party for the purpose of economic development does not violate the Takings Clause of the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

This resolution proposes an amendment to the Nevada Constitution to prohibit, except in certain circumstances, the taking of private property if the purpose of the taking is to transfer an interest in that property to another private party.

In addition, the amendment proposed by this resolution requires an entity which is taking property by the exercise of eminent domain to provide the owner of the property with all appraisals of the property obtained by the entity before the entity is allowed to occupy the property. Furthermore, in all eminent domain actions, the owner of the property that is being taken is entitled to a determination of whether the taking is for a public use and the entity that is taking the property has the burden of proving that the taking is for a public use.

The amendment proposed by this resolution provides for the manner of computing the just compensation owed to a person whose property is taken by the exercise of eminent domain. Also, the amendment provides that neither a property owner nor an entity which is taking property by the exercise of eminent domain is liable for the attorney's fees of the other party, except in a certain circumstance. Under the amendment, the owner of property taken by the exercise of eminent domain, or his successor in interest, has the right to reacquire the property for the price paid by the entity which took the property under certain circumstances.

This resolution also proposes to repeal the "People's Initiative to Stop the Taking of Our Land" if that initiative is approved by the voters at the 2008 General Election.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 8 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. 1. No person shall be tried for a capital or other infamous crime (except in cases of impeachment, and in cases of the militia when in actual service and the land and naval forces in time of war, or which this State may keep, with the consent of Congress, in time of peace, and in cases of petit larceny, under the regulation of the Legislature) except on presentment or indictment of the grand jury, or upon information duly filed by a district attorney, or Attorney General of the State, and in any trial, in any court whatever, the party accused shall be allowed to appear and defend in person, and with counsel, as in civil actions. No person shall be subject to be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense; nor shall he be compelled, in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself.

2. The Legislature shall provide by law for the rights of victims of crime, personally or through a representative, to be:

(a) Informed, upon written request, of the status or disposition of a criminal proceeding at any stage of the proceeding;

(b) Present at all public hearings involving the critical stages of a criminal proceeding; and

(c) Heard at all proceedings for the sentencing or release of a convicted person after trial.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, no person may maintain an action against the State or any public officer or employee for damages or injunctive, declaratory or other legal or equitable relief on behalf of a victim of a crime as a result of a violation of any statute enacted by the Legislature pursuant to subsection 2. No such violation authorizes setting aside a conviction or sentence or continuing or postponing a criminal proceeding.

4. A person may maintain an action to compel a public officer or employee to carry out any duty required by the Legislature pursuant to subsection 2.

5. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law.

6. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation having been first made, or secured, except in cases of war, riot, fire, or great public peril, in which case compensation shall be afterward made.

7. Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (a) to ~~[(d),]~~ (e), inclusive, the public uses for which private property may be taken do not include the direct or indirect transfer of any interest in the property to another private person or entity. A transfer of property taken by the exercise of eminent domain to another private person or entity is a public use in the following circumstances:

(a) The entity that took the property transfers the property to a private person or entity and the private person or entity uses the property primarily to benefit a public service, including, without limitation, a utility, railroad, public transportation project, pipeline, road, bridge ~~[or public]~~ , airport or facility ~~[,]~~ that is owned by a governmental entity.

(b) The entity that took the property leases the property to a private person or entity that occupies an incidental part of ~~[a public]~~ an airport or a facility that is owned by a governmental entity and, before leasing the property:

(1) Uses its best efforts to notify the person from whom the property was taken that the property will be leased to a private person or entity that will occupy an incidental part of ~~[a public]~~ an airport or a facility ~~[;]~~ that is owned by a governmental entity; and

(2) Provides the person from whom the property was taken with an opportunity to bid or propose on an equal basis with others.

(c) The entity:

(1) Took the property in order to acquire property that was abandoned by the owner, abate an immediate threat to the safety of the public or remediate hazardous waste; and

(2) Grants a right of first refusal to the person from whom the property was taken that allows that person to reacquire the property on the same terms and conditions that are offered to the other private person or entity.

(d) The entity that took the property transfers an interest in the property to a private person or entity in exchange for an interest in the property that was taken, or is being taken, by the exercise of eminent domain or under the threat of the exercise of eminent domain for the purpose of a road or highway, the relocation of public or private structures or to facilitate or avoid payment of excessive compensation or damages.

8. In all actions in eminent domain:

(a) Before the entity that is taking property obtains possession of the property, the entity shall give to the owner of the property a copy of all appraisals of the property obtained by the entity.

(b) At the occupancy hearing, the owner of the property that is the subject of the action is entitled, at the property owner's election, to a separate and distinct determination as to whether the property is being taken for a public use.

(c) The entity that is taking property has the burden of proving that the taking is for a public use.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, neither the entity that is taking property nor the owner of the property is liable for the attorney's fees of the other party. This paragraph does not apply in an inverse condemnation action if the owner of the property that is the subject of the action makes a request for attorney's fees from the other party to the action.

9. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, if a court determines that a taking of property is for public use, the taken or damaged property must be valued at its highest and best use without considering any future dedication requirements imposed by the entity that is taking the property. If property is taken primarily for a profit-making purpose, the property must be valued at the use to which the entity that is taking the property intends to put the property, if such use results in a higher value for the property.

10. In all actions in eminent domain, fair market value is the highest price, on the date of valuation, that would be agreed to by a seller, who is willing to sell on the open market and has reasonable time to find a purchaser, and a buyer, who is ready, willing and able to buy, if both the seller and the buyer had full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available.

11. In all actions in eminent domain, just compensation is that sum of money necessary to place the property owner in the same position monetarily as if the property had never been taken, excluding any governmental offsets except special benefits. Special benefits may only offset severance damages and may not offset the value for the property. Just compensation for the property taken by the exercise of eminent domain must include, without limitation, interest and reasonable costs and expenses , except attorney's fees, incurred by the owner of the property that is the subject of the action. The district court shall determine, in a posttrial hearing, the award of interest and award as interest the amount of money which will put the person from whom the property is taken in as good a position monetarily as if the property had not been taken. The district court shall enter an order concerning:

(a) The date on which the computation of interest will commence;

(b) The rate of interest to be used to compute the award of interest, which must not be less than the prime rate of interest plus 2 percent; and

(c) Whether the interest will be compounded annually.

12. Property taken by the exercise of eminent domain must be offered to and reverts to the person from whom the property was taken upon repayment of the original purchase price if, within 15 years after obtaining possession of the property, the entity that took the property:

(a) Fails to use the property for the public use for which the property was taken or for any public use reasonably related to the public use for which the property was taken; or

(b) Seeks to convey any right, title or interest in all or part of the property to any other person and the conveyance is not occurring pursuant to subsection 7.

➥ The entity that has taken the property does not fail to use the property under paragraph (a) if the entity has begun active planning for or design of the public use, the assembling of land in furtherance of planning for or design of the public use or construction related to the public use.

13. If any provision of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the provisions or application of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, are declared to be severable.

14. The provisions of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, apply to an action in eminent domain that is filed on or after January 1, 2011.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 22 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution, commonly known as the "People's Initiative to Stop the Taking of Our Land," if that section is approved and ratified by the voters at the 2008 General Election, is hereby repealed.

Amendment No. 45.

SUMMARY—~~[Provides for the use of voice writing by]~~ Makes various changes concerning court reporters. (BDR 54-765)

AN ACT relating to court reporting; expanding the definition of "practice of court reporting" to include reporting by the use of voice writing; expanding the definition of "stenographic notes" to include certain records produced by voice writing; revising the circumstances under which a person ~~[who has received a passing grade on an examination for certified verbatim reporters]~~ may be admitted for examination in this State for a certified court reporter's certificate; establishing designations for certain court reporters; authorizing the use of certain abbreviations by certain court reporters; prohibiting certified court reporters-voice writers from practicing court reporting by using any method of court reporting other than voice writing; requiring an official reporter to make a record of certain proceedings; exempting certain persons who operate sound recording equipment or transcribe sound recordings from the requirement to be a certified court reporter; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides for the certification of court reporters. (Chapter 656 of NRS) Section 1 of this bill expands the definition of "practice of court reporting" to include the making of a verbatim record of a court proceeding by speaking into a device that either digitally translates the words into text or makes a tape or digital recording of the words. Section 1 also expands the definition of "stenographic notes" to include such a record. Existing law requires applicants for certification as court reporters to have fulfilled one of a number of specified obligations before being permitted to take the certification test. (NRS 656.170) Section 2 of this bill allows a person ~~[who]~~ to take the certification test if the person has passed an examination administered by the National Verbatim Reporters Association ~~[to take the certification test.]~~ or the National Court Reporters Association or has received a certificate from either association, and the examination or certificate has been approved by the Certified Court Reporters' Board of Nevada.

Current law requires a person who has been issued a certificate of registration as a certified court reporter to be designated a "certified court reporter" and authorizes such a person to use the abbreviation "C.C.R." in connection with the practice of court reporting. (NRS 656.310) Section 3 of this bill provides that a person who only used voice writing technology to pass the court reporter test be designated a "certified court reporter-voice writer," and that such a person may use the abbreviation "C.C.R.-V.," may not use the abbreviation "C.C.R.," and may only use voice writing in the practice of court reporting.

Existing law authorizes a court or judge to appoint or designate certain persons to operate sound recording equipment used to record certain civil and criminal proceedings and certain persons to read and transcribe the recording. (NRS 3.380) Section 5 of this bill provides that each such person appointed or designated to operate sound recording equipment or to transcribe a recording is not required to be a certified court reporter.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 47.

SUMMARY— ~~[Prohibits use of eminent domain to acquire property for economic development.]~~ Makes various changes to provisions relating to eminent domain. (BDR 3-38)

AN ACT relating to eminent domain; prohibiting the use of eminent domain to acquire property for the purpose of ~~[economic development;]~~ transferring an interest in the property to a private person or entity except in certain circumstances; making various other changes relating to eminent domain; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law lists the purposes for which the power of eminent domain may be exercised. (NRS 37.010) In Kelo v. City of New London, 125 S.Ct. 2655 (2005), the United States Supreme Court ruled that private property may be acquired by eminent domain and transferred to a private party for the purpose of obtaining the benefits of economic development. Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3 proposes an amendment to the Nevada Constitution concerning eminent domain. This bill enacts into statute the provisions of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3.

Section 4 of this bill prohibits , except in certain circumstances, the exercise of eminent domain to acquire property if the entity acquiring the property ~~[plans to]~~ will transfer any interest in the property to a private person or entity . ~~[and the primary public benefit of the acquisition is economic development.]~~ In addition, section 4 of this bill provides that the entity that is taking the property has the burden of proving that the taking is for a public use.

Existing law allows an entity which is taking property by the exercise of eminent domain to move the court for an order allowing the entity to occupy the property, pending a final judgment in the action. (NRS 37.100) Section 5 of this bill requires an entity which is taking property by the exercise of eminent domain to provide the owner of the property with all appraisals of the property obtained by the entity before the entity is allowed to occupy the property. Furthermore, section 5 of this bill requires the court to determine at the occupancy hearing whether the taking is for a public use, if the owner of the property that is the subject of the action requests such a determination.

Sections 2, 6 and 7 of this bill provide for the manner of computing the just compensation owed to the person whose property is taken by the exercise of eminent domain. Section 1 of this bill provides that neither the property owner nor an entity which is taking property by the exercise of eminent domain is liable for the attorney's fees of the other party, except in certain circumstances. Section 9 of this bill provides that the owner of property taken by the exercise of eminent domain, or his successor in interest, has the right to reacquire the property for the price paid by the entity which took the property under certain circumstances.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 37 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in this section, in all actions in eminent domain, neither the entity that is taking property nor the owner of the property is liable for the attorney's fees of the other party. This section does not apply in an inverse condemnation action if the owner of the property that is the subject of the action makes a request for attorney's fees from the other party to the action.

Sec. 2. NRS 37.009 is hereby amended to read as follows:

37.009 As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Date of valuation" means the date on which the value of the property actually taken, and the damages, if any, to the remaining property, must be determined.

2. "Final judgment" means a judgment which cannot be directly attacked by appeal, motion for new trial or motion to vacate the judgment.

3. "Judgment" means the judgment determining the right to condemn property and fixing the amount of compensation to be paid by the plaintiff.

4. "Partnership" includes a limited partnership.

5. "Person" includes a government, governmental agency or political subdivision of a government.

6. "Value" means the ~~[most probable price which a property would bring in a competitive and open market under the conditions of a fair sale, without the price being affected by undue stimulus, whereby the sale is consummated on a specified date and the title to the property is passed from the seller to the buyer under the following conditions:~~

~~(c) The buyer and seller are well informed or well advised and acting in what they consider are their own best interests;~~

~~(d) A reasonable time is allowed to expose the property for sale on the open market;~~

~~(e) Payment is made with United States dollars in cash or pursuant to another financial arrangement comparable thereto; and~~

~~(f) The sale price represents the normal consideration for the property and is unaffected by special or creative financing or sales concessions granted by any person associated with the sale.]~~ highest price, on the date of valuation, that would be agreed to by a seller, who is willing to sell on the open market and has reasonable time to find a purchaser, and a buyer, who is ready, willing and able to buy, if both the seller and the buyer had full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available. In determining value, except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the property sought to be condemned must be valued at its highest and best use without considering any future dedication requirements imposed by the entity that is taking the property. If the property is condemned primarily for a profit-making purpose, the property sought to be condemned must be valued at the use to which the entity that is condemning the property intends to put the property, if such use results in a higher value for the property.

Sec. 3. NRS 37.0095 is hereby amended to read as follows:

37.0095 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, only a public agency may exercise the power of eminent domain pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

2. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 37.0097, the power of eminent domain may be exercised by a person who is not a public agency pursuant to NRS 37.230 and ~~[subsections 6, 8, 10, 13 and 16]~~ paragraphs (f), (h), (j), (m) and (p) of subsection 1 of NRS 37.010.

3. As used in this section, "public agency" means an agency or political subdivision of this State or the United States.

Sec. 4. NRS 37.010 is hereby amended to read as follows:

37.010 1. Subject to the provisions of this chapter ~~[,]~~ and the ~~[limitation]~~ limitations in ~~[subsection]~~ subsections 2 and 3, the right of eminent domain may be exercised in behalf of the following public ~~[purposes:]~~ uses:

~~(b) The sole or primary benefit to the public from the acquisition of the property is economic development that increases the tax base, tax revenues, the level of employment or the general economic health of a community.] and except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the public uses for which private property may be taken by the exercise of eminent domain do not include the direct or indirect transfer of any interest in the property to another private person or entity. Property taken by the exercise of eminent domain may be transferred to another private person or entity in the following circumstances:

(a) The entity that took the property transfers the property to a private person or entity and the private person or entity uses the property primarily to benefit a public service, including, without limitation, a utility, railroad, public transportation project, pipeline, road, bridge, airport or facility that is owned by a governmental entity.

(b) The entity that took the property leases the property to a private person or entity that occupies an incidental part of an airport or a facility that is owned by a governmental entity and, before leasing the property:

(1) Uses its best efforts to notify the person from whom the property was taken that the property will be leased to a private person or entity that will occupy an incidental part of an airport or facility that is owned by a governmental entity; and

(2) Provides the person from whom the property was taken with an opportunity to bid or propose on an equal basis with others.

(c) The entity that took the property:

(1) Took the property in order to acquire property that was abandoned by the owner, abate an immediate threat to the safety of the public or remediate hazardous waste; and

(2) Grants a right of first refusal to the person from whom the property was taken that allows that person to reacquire the property on the same terms and conditions that are offered to the other private person or entity.

(d) The entity that took the property transfers an interest in the property to a private person or entity in exchange for an interest in the property that was taken, or is being taken, by the exercise of eminent domain or under the threat of the exercise of eminent domain for the purpose of a road or highway, the relocation of public or private structures or to facilitate or avoid payment of excessive compensation or damages.

3. The entity that is taking property by the exercise of eminent domain has the burden of proving that the taking is for a public use.

4. For the purposes of this section, an airport authority or any public airport is not a private person or entity.

Sec. 5. NRS 37.100 is hereby amended to read as follows:

37.100 1. Before the plaintiff obtains possession of the property, the plaintiff shall give to the owner of the property a copy of all appraisals of the property obtained by the plaintiff.

2. The plaintiff may move the court or a judge thereof at any time after the commencement of suit, on notice for such time as the court or judge may direct to the defendant if he is a resident of the county or has appeared in the action, otherwise by serving a notice directed to him on the clerk of the court, for an order permitting the plaintiff to occupy the premises sought to be condemned, pending the entry of judgment, and to do such work thereon as may be required for the easement, fee, or property rights sought, according to its nature.

3. At the occupancy hearing, the court shall make a separate and distinct determination as to whether the property is being taken for a public use pursuant to NRS 37.010, if the defendant requests such a determination.

4. If the defendant does not request a determination pursuant to subsection 3 or if the court determines that the property is being taken for a public use pursuant to NRS 37.010, the court or judge shall take proof, by affidavit or otherwise, of the value of the premises sought to be condemned, the damages which will accrue from the condemnation and the reasons for requiring a speedy occupation, and shall grant or refuse the motion according to the equity of the case and the relative damages which may accrue to the parties.

~~[3.]~~ 5. If the motion is granted, the court or judge shall require the plaintiff to execute and file in court a bond to the defendant, with sureties, to be approved by the court or judge in a penal sum to be fixed by the court or judge, not less than double the value of the premises sought to be condemned and the damages which will ensue from condemnation and occupation, as the value and damages may appear to the court or judge on the hearing, and conditioned to pay the adjudged value of the premises and all damages if the property is condemned, and to pay all damages arising from occupation before judgment if the premises are not condemned, and all costs adjudged to the defendant in the action. The sureties shall justify before the court or judge, after a reasonable notice to the defendant of the time and place of justification.

~~[4.]~~ 6. In lieu of a bond the plaintiff, with the consent of the court, may deposit with the clerk of the court a sum equal to the value of the premises plus damages, as appraised by the plaintiff. Upon application of the defendant and upon notice to all parties, the court or judge may order the money deposited with the clerk of the court or any part thereof to be paid to the defendant. If the amount of the compensation awarded upon judgment is less than the sum deposited and paid to the defendant, the court shall enter judgment in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant for the amount of the excess. Application by the defendant to the court for withdrawal of part or all of the money deposited and the payment of that money to the defendant does not prejudice the right of the defendant to contest the amount of compensation to be finally awarded. The receipt by the defendant of a part or all of the money deposited must be conditioned upon the waiver of all defenses except those relating to the amount of compensation.

~~[5.]~~ 7. The amount of the penal bond or the deposit is for the purpose of the motion only and is not admissible in evidence on final hearing.

~~[6.]~~ 8. The court or judge may also restrain the defendant from hindering or interfering with the occupation of the premises and the doing thereon of the work required for the easement, fee, or property rights.

~~[7.]~~ 9. The provisions of this section requiring the execution and filing of a bond do not apply in any action or proceeding in which the State of Nevada is the plaintiff, but the public faith and credit of the State of Nevada, is hereby pledged as security in lieu of the bond. The provisions of this subsection do not prevent the State of Nevada from depositing, in lieu of a pledge of the public faith and credit, with the clerk of the court a sum equal to the value of the premises plus any damages as appraised by the State.

Sec. 6. NRS 37.120 is hereby amended to read as follows:

37.120 1. To assess compensation and damages as provided in NRS 37.110, the date of the first service of the summons is the date of valuation, except that, if the action is not tried within 2 years after the date of the first service of the summons, and the court makes a written finding that the delay is caused primarily by the plaintiff or is caused by congestion or backlog in the calendar of the court, the date of valuation is the date of the actual commencement of the trial. If a new trial is ordered by a court, the date of valuation used in the new trial must be the date of valuation used in the original trial.

2. No improvements put upon the property after the date of the service of the summons may be included in the assessment of compensation or damages, regardless of the date of valuation.

3. In all actions in eminent domain, the court shall award just compensation to the owner of the property that is being taken. Just compensation is that sum of money necessary to place the property owner in the same position monetarily as if the property had never been taken, excluding any governmental offsets except special benefits. Special benefits may only offset severance damages and may not offset the value for the property. Just compensation for the property taken by the exercise of eminent domain must include, without limitation, interest computed pursuant to NRS 37.175 and reasonable costs and expenses, except attorney's fees, incurred by the owner of the property that is the subject of the action.

4. As used in this section, "primarily" means the greater amount, quantity or quality of acts of the plaintiff or the defendant or, if there is more than one defendant, the total delay caused by all the defendants, that would cause the date of the trial to be continued past 2 years after the date of the first service of the summons.

Sec. 7. NRS 37.175 is hereby amended to read as follows:

37.175 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the plaintiff shall pay interest on the final judgment ~~[on the difference between the amount deposited pursuant to NRS 37.100 or 37.170 and the sum of the amount awarded for the taking]~~ and any damages awarded for the severance of the property, excluding costs and attorney's fees, from the date ~~[of the first~~

2. The ~~[plaintiff is not required to pay interest on any amount deposited pursuant to the provisions of NRS 37.100 or 37.170.~~

~~3. No interest is required to be paid for the period from the date of a trial which is continued past 2 years after the date of the first service of the summons, until the date of entry of judgment, if the continuance was caused primarily by the defendant or, if there is more than one defendant, the total delay caused by all the defendants. As used in this subsection, "primarily" means the greater amount, quantity or quality of acts of the plaintiff or the defendant or, if there is more than one defendant, the total delay caused by all defendants, that would cause the trial to be continued past 2 years after the date of the first service of the summons.]~~ court shall determine, in a posttrial hearing, the award of interest and award as interest the amount of money which will put the person from whom the property is taken in as good a position monetarily as if the property had not been taken. The district court shall enter an order concerning:

(a) The date on which the computation of interest will commence;

(b) The rate of interest to be used to compute the award of interest, which must not be less than the prime rate of interest plus 2 percent; and

(c) Whether the interest will be compounded annually.

Sec. 8. NRS 37.260 is hereby amended to read as follows:

37.260 1. ~~[Any]~~ Except as otherwise provided in NRS 37.270, any real property, interest therein or improvement thereon which has been acquired in accordance with the provisions of this chapter or purchased under the threat of eminent domain proceedings by an association, commission, corporation, partnership or political subdivision other than a county or incorporated city may be disposed of as surplus by that entity only in accordance with the provisions of this section.

2. The governing body of the entity desiring to dispose of the property pursuant to this section must first adopt a resolution declaring that the property is no longer required for the purposes for which it was acquired or for other reasonable public use.

3. The property, interest or improvement disposed of pursuant to this section must be sold by the entity to the highest bidder bidding for the property, either at public auction or by sealed bids, the notice and terms of which must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the property is situated at least once not less than 15 nor more than 45 days before the sale. When, in the opinion of the governing body of the entity, the property cannot be sold by means of public auction or sealed bids without working an undue hardship upon a property owner either as a result of a severance of that owner's property or a denial of access to a public street or highway, the governing body may first offer the property to that owner at a price determined by the governing body to be in the best interest of the corporation, partnership, association, commission or political subdivision.

4. ~~[It]~~ If property is disposed of pursuant to this section, it is conclusively presumed in favor of any purchaser for value and without notice of any such real property, interest therein or improvement thereon conveyed pursuant to this section that the entity disposing of it acted within its lawful authority in acquiring and disposing of the property, and that the officers thereof acted within their lawful authority in executing any conveyance vesting title in the purchaser. All such conveyances must be quitclaim in nature and must not carry any warranty of title.

Sec. 9. NRS 37.270 is hereby amended to read as follows:

37.270 Notwithstanding any other provision of law, ~~[if the State of Nevada, any political subdivision of the State or other governmental entity that has acquired property]~~ property taken pursuant to the provisions of this chapter~~[,]~~ must be offered to and reverts to the person from whom the property was taken upon repayment of the original purchase price if, within 15 years after obtaining possession of the property, the entity that took the property:

2. Seeks to convey the right, title or interest in all or part of that property to any person ~~[,~~

~~➥ within 15 years after the property is acquired, the person from whom the property was acquired or his successor in interest must be granted the right of first refusal to purchase the right, title or interest in the property sought to be conveyed for fair market value which shall be deemed to be an amount which does not exceed the proportional amount paid by the State, political subdivision or other governmental entity for the acquisition of the property.]~~ and the conveyance is not occurring pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 37.010.

➥ The entity that has taken the property does not fail to use the property under subsection 1 if the entity has begun active planning for or design of the public use, the assembling of land in furtherance of planning for or design of the public use or construction related to the public use.

Sec. 10. NRS 279.471 is hereby amended to read as follows:

279.471 1. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, an agency may exercise the power of eminent domain to acquire property for a redevelopment project only if the agency adopts a resolution that includes a written finding by the agency that a condition of blight exists for each individual parcel of property to be acquired by eminent domain. An agency may exercise the power of eminent domain to acquire a parcel of property that is not blighted for a redevelopment project if the agency adopts a resolution that includes a written finding by the agency that a condition of blight exists for at least two-thirds of the property within the redevelopment area at the time the redevelopment area was created.

2. In addition to the requirement set forth in subsection 1, an agency may exercise the power of eminent domain to acquire property for a redevelopment project only if:

(a) The property sought to be acquired is necessary to carry out the redevelopment plan;

(b) The agency has adopted a resolution of necessity that complies with the requirements set forth in subsection 3; and

(c) The agency has complied with the provisions of NRS 279.4712.

3. A resolution of necessity required pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection 2 must set forth:

(a) A statement that the property will be acquired for purposes of redevelopment as authorized pursuant to ~~[subsection 17]~~ paragraph (q) of subsection 1 of NRS 37.010 and subsection 2 of NRS 279.470;

(b) A reasonably detailed description of the property to be acquired;

(c) A finding by the agency that the public interest and necessity require the acquisition of the property;

(d) A finding by the agency that acquisition of the property will be the option for redevelopment that is most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury; and

(e) A finding by the agency that acquisition of the property is necessary for purposes of redevelopment.

4. After an agency adopts a resolution pursuant to subsection 1 or 2, the resolution so adopted and the findings set forth in the resolution are final and conclusive and are not subject to judicial review unless credible evidence is adduced to suggest that the resolution or the findings set forth therein were procured through bribery or fraud.

Sec. 11. NRS 37.112 and 37.190 are hereby repealed.

Sec. 12. The amendatory provisions of this act apply to an action in eminent domain that is filed on or after October 1, 2007.

TEXT OF REPEALED SECTIONS

37.112 Valuation of property subject to condemnation as result of public work or project.

AN ACT relating to education; revising the requirements relating to emergency drills for pupils in private elementary and secondary educational institutions; revising provisions relating to the inspection of such institutions; revising the provision governing the fees relating to such institutions; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires every private school to provide emergency drills for pupils at least twice each month during the school year. (NRS 394.170) Section 1 of this bill reduces the minimum number of required emergency drills each month to one drill.

The Private Elementary and Secondary Education Authorization Act governs the operation of private elementary and secondary educational institutions in this State. (NRS 394.201-394.351) Certain institutions are exempt from the Act, including institutions offering religious or sectarian instruction. (NRS 394.211) Section 2 of this bill exempts institutions maintained by another state or the District of Columbia and supported by public money.

To obtain and maintain their exempt status, eligible institutions must initially file an exemption with the State Board of Education and file a renewal of the exemption with the Board every 2 years. Section 2 of this bill requires the Superintendent of Public Instruction, upon receipt of an exemption or renewal of an exemption for an institution, to cause an inspection of the exempt institution to be conducted to ensure compliance with all applicable laws, including laws relating to health and safety.

Under existing law, a license other than a provisional license to operate a nonexempt private elementary or secondary educational institution is effective for a term of not more than 2 years unless authorization is given in certain circumstances for a term of not more than 4 years. (NRS 394.251) Existing law requires the Superintendent of Public Instruction to cause an inspection of each licensed institution to be conducted at least every 2 years. (NRS 394.245) Section 3 of this bill eliminates the 2-year requirement for inspections and requires the Superintendent of Public Instruction to cause an inspection to be conducted upon receipt of an application for a license or renewal of a license to operate. Section 4 of this bill also specifically authorizes the Superintendent to cause an inspection of a licensed institution to be conducted upon receipt of a verified complaint against the institution.

~~[Under existing law, a person who represents a private elementary or secondary educational institution must obtain an agent's permit from the State Board of Education. (NRS 394.261) Section 5 of this bill increases the fee for the initial issuance and for the renewal of an agent's permit from $50 to $100. (NRS 394.331)]~~

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 394.170 is hereby amended to read as follows:

394.170 1. The authorities in charge of every private school within this State shall provide drills for the pupils in the schools at least ~~[twice]~~ once in each month during the school year to instruct those pupils in the appropriate procedures to be followed in the event of a fire or other emergency, except a crisis governed by NRS 394.168 to 394.1699, inclusive. Not more than ~~[three]~~ two of those drills may include instruction in the appropriate procedures to be followed in the event of a chemical explosion, related emergencies and other natural disasters.

2. In all cities or towns which have regularly organized, paid fire departments or voluntary fire departments, the drills required by subsection 1 must be conducted under the supervision of the chief of the fire department of the city or town.

3. The State Fire Marshal shall prescribe general regulations governing the drills required by subsection 1 and shall, with the cooperation of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, arrange for the supervision of drills in schools where the drills are not supervised pursuant to subsection 2.

The complaint ~~[shall]~~ must set forth the alleged violation and contain other information as required by regulations of the Board. A complaint may also be filed by the Superintendent on his own motion or by the Attorney General.

2. Section 3 of this bill requires the board of trustees of a school district located in a county whose population is 100,000 or more (currently Clark and Washoe Counties) to establish a school attendance council. A board of trustees of a school district located in a county whose population is less than 100,000 (currently counties other than Clark and Washoe Counties) is authorized to establish a school attendance council. A school attendance council is required to implement a program to reduce the truancy of pupils and to monitor incidents of truancy of pupils within the district.

those programs to include the coordination of community services that provide assistance for pupils who are truant from school.

Section 6 of this bill requires the board of trustees of each school district to establish procedures to monitor the attendance and truancy of pupils within the school district.

Existing law makes it unlawful for a person to induce or attempt to induce a child to be unlawfully absent from school. (NRS 392.220) Section 7 of this bill makes the inducement or attempt unlawful if the person knowingly induces or attempts to induce the child to be unlawfully absent from school. Section 7 of this bill also clarifies that a parent or guardian may be in violation of this law if the parent knowingly induces or attempts to induce a child to be unlawfully absent from school.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 4.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 198.

AN ACT relating to civil actions; revising certain provisions providing immunity from civil liability for certain medical facilities and certain medical professionals who render certain emergency ~~[obstetrical]~~ care or assistance under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides immunity from civil liability to certain medical professionals who provide certain services at the scene of an emergency or during the transportation of a person from the scene of an emergency. (Subsection 1 of NRS 41.505) Sections 2 and 5 of this bill move that immunity into a new separate section.

~~[Under existing law,]~~ Existing law provides immunity from civil liability to certain medical professionals who provide emergency obstetrical care or assistance to a pregnant woman during the birth of a child and the medical facilities in which such care or assistance is rendered ~~[are immune from civil liability]~~ for damages caused by the care or assistance if certain conditions are satisfied. ~~[One of the required conditions is that the damages must be reasonably related to or primarily caused by a lack of prenatal care received by the woman. (NRS 41.505) This bill eliminates that condition as a~~ ~~requirement to obtaining immunity from civil liability.~~] (Subsection 3 of NRS 41.505) Sections 3 and 5 of this bill move that immunity into a new separate section.

Existing law provides immunity from civil liability to physicians and nurses who render emergency care or assistance gratuitously and in good faith in an emergency in certain circumstances. An exception is included in that provision so that it does not apply if the provision concerning immunity to physicians who provide obstetrical care or assistance to a pregnant woman during labor or the delivery of a child applies. Section 5 of this bill removes that exception and specifies that the immunity applies to emergency obstetrical care or assistance which is provided gratuitously and in good faith.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 41 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 and 3 of this act.

Sec. 2. 1. Any physician or registered nurse who in good faith gives instruction or provides supervision to an emergency medical attendant or registered nurse, at the scene of an emergency or while transporting an ill or injured person from the scene of an emergency, is not liable for any civil damages as a result of any act or omission, not amounting to gross negligence, in giving that instruction or providing that supervision.

2. An emergency medical attendant, registered nurse or licensed practical nurse who obeys an instruction given by a physician, registered nurse or licensed practical nurse and thereby renders emergency care, at the scene of an emergency or while transporting an ill or injured person from the scene of an emergency, is not liable for any civil damages as a result of any act or omission, not amounting to gross negligence, in rendering that emergency care.

Sec. 3. 1. 5. A person arrested for a violation of NRS 484.379, 484.3795, 484.37955, 488.410, 488.420 or 488.425 who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor must not be admitted to bail or released on his own recognizance unless he has a concentration of alcohol of less than 0.04 in his breath. A test of the person's breath pursuant to this subsection to determine the concentration of alcohol in his breath as a condition of admission to bail or release is not admissible as evidence against the person.

6. A person arrested for a violation of NRS 484.379, 484.3795, 484.37955, 488.410, 488.420 or 488.425 who is under the influence of a controlled substance, is under the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, or inhales, ingests, applies or otherwise uses any chemical, poison or organic solvent, or any compound or combination of any of these, to a degree which renders him incapable of safely driving or exercising actual physical control of a vehicle or vessel under power or sail must not be admitted to bail or released on his own recognizance sooner than 12 hours after his arrest.

~~[6.]~~ 7. A person arrested for a battery that constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018 must not be admitted to bail sooner than 12 hours after his arrest. If the person is admitted to bail more than 12 hours after his arrest, pursuant to subsection 5 of NRS 171.178, without appearing personally before a magistrate, or without the amount of bail having been otherwise set by a magistrate or a court, the amount of bail must be:

(a) Three thousand dollars, if the person has no previous convictions of battery that constitute domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018 and there is no reason to believe that the battery for which he has been arrested resulted in substantial bodily harm;

(b) Five thousand dollars, if the person has:

(1) No previous convictions of battery that constitute domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018, but there is reason to believe that the battery for which he has been arrested resulted in substantial bodily harm; or

The provisions of this subsection do not affect the authority of a magistrate or a court to set the amount of bail when the person personally appears before the magistrate or the court, or when a magistrate or a court has otherwise been contacted to set the amount of bail. For the purposes of this subsection, a person shall be deemed to have a previous conviction of battery that constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018 if the person has been convicted of such an offense in this State or has been convicted of violating a law of any other jurisdiction that prohibits the same or similar conduct.

~~[6.]~~ ~~[7.]~~ 8. A person arrested for violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive, or for violating a restraining order or injunction that is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued in an action or proceeding brought pursuant to title 11 of NRS must not be admitted to bail sooner than 12 hours after his arrest if the arresting officer determines that such a violation is accompanied by a direct or indirect threat of harm. If the person is admitted to bail more than 12 hours after his arrest, pursuant to subsection 5 of NRS 171.178, without appearing personally before a magistrate, or without the amount of bail having been otherwise set by a magistrate or a court, the amount of bail must be:

(a) Three thousand dollars, if the person has no previous convictions of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive, or of violating a restraining order or injunction that is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued in an action or proceeding brought pursuant to title 11 of NRS;

(b) Five thousand dollars, if the person has one previous conviction of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive, or of violating a restraining order or injunction that is in the nature of a temporary or

The provisions of this subsection do not affect the authority of a magistrate or a court to set the amount of bail when the person personally appears before the magistrate or the court, or when a magistrate or a court has otherwise been contacted to set the amount of bail. For the purposes of this subsection, a person shall be deemed to have a previous conviction of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive, or of violating a restraining order or injunction that is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued in an action or proceeding brought pursuant to title 11 of NRS if the person has been convicted of such an offense in this State or has been convicted of violating a law of any other jurisdiction that prohibits the same or similar conduct.

~~[7.]~~ ~~[8.]~~ 9. The court may, before releasing a person arrested for an offense punishable as a felony, require the surrender to the court of any passport the person possesses.

~~[8.]~~ ~~[9.]~~ 10. Before releasing a person arrested for any crime, the court may impose such reasonable conditions on the person as it deems necessary to protect the health, safety and welfare of the community and to ensure that the person will appear at all times and places ordered by the court, including, without limitation:

(a) Requiring the person to remain in this State or a certain county within this State;

(b) Prohibiting the person from contacting or attempting to contact a specific person or from causing or attempting to cause another person to contact that person on his behalf;

(c) Prohibiting the person from entering a certain geographic area; or

(d) Prohibiting the person from engaging in specific conduct that may be harmful to his own health, safety or welfare, or the health, safety or welfare of another person.

In determining whether a condition is reasonable, the court shall consider the factors listed in NRS 178.4853.

~~[9.]~~ ~~[10.]~~ 11. If a person fails to comply with a condition imposed pursuant to subsection ~~[8,]~~ ~~[9,]~~ 10, the court may, after providing the person with reasonable notice and an opportunity for a hearing:

(a) Deem such conduct a contempt pursuant to NRS 22.010; or

(b) Increase the amount of bail pursuant to NRS 178.499.

~~[10.]~~ ~~[11.]~~ 12. An order issued pursuant to this section that imposes a condition on a person admitted to bail must include a provision ordering any law enforcement officer to arrest the person if he has probable cause to believe that the person has violated a condition of his bail.

~~[11.]~~ ~~[12.]~~ 13. Before a person may be admitted to bail, he must sign a document stating that:

(a) He will appear at all times and places as ordered by the court releasing him and as ordered by any court before which the charge is subsequently heard;

(b) He will comply with the other conditions which have been imposed by the court and are stated in the document; and

(c) If he fails to appear when so ordered and is taken into custody outside of this State, he waives all his rights relating to extradition proceedings.

The signed document must be filed with the clerk of the court of competent jurisdiction as soon as practicable, but in no event later than the next business day.

~~[12.]~~ ~~[13.]~~ 14. If a person admitted to bail fails to appear as ordered by a court and the jurisdiction incurs any cost in returning the person to the jurisdiction to stand trial, the person who failed to appear is responsible for paying those costs as restitution.

~~[13.]~~ ~~[14.]~~ 15. For the purposes of subsection ~~[6,]~~ ~~[7,]~~ 8, an order or injunction is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence if it grants relief that might be given in a temporary or extended order issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive.

Sec. 2. NRS 178.4851 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.4851 1. (d) He understands that any court of competent jurisdiction may revoke the order of release without bail and may order him into custody or require him to furnish bail or otherwise ensure the protection of the health, safety and welfare of the community or his appearance.

5. If a jurisdiction incurs any costs in returning a person to the jurisdiction to stand trial, the person failing to appear is responsible for paying those costs as restitution.

6. An order issued pursuant to this section that imposes a condition on a person who is released without bail must include a provision ordering a law enforcement officer to arrest the person if he has probable cause to believe that the person has violated a condition of his release.

Amendment No. 46.

SUMMARY—Makes various changes relating to domestic relations. (BDR 11-421)

ACT relating to domestic relations; codifying certain common law factors that a court must consider when determining alimony; requiring the ~~[Court Administrator to collect and compile certain statistical information from the clerks of courts concerning temporary and extended orders for protection against domestic violence and]~~ Director of the Department of Public Safety to submit ~~[a biennial]~~ an annual report concerning temporary and extended orders for protection against domestic violence to the Legislature; and providing other matters properly relating thereto."

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing case law in Nevada, a court determining whether alimony should be awarded and the appropriate amount of alimony is required to consider several relevant factors including: (1) the financial condition of the parties; (2) the nature and value of their respective property; (3) the contribution of each party to any property held by both parties as tenants by the entirety; (4) the duration of the marriage; and (5) the income, earning capacity, age and health of each party. (Buchanan v. Buchanan, 90 Nev. 209, 215 (1974)) Section 1 of this bill codifies those factors as well as factors from subsequent case law so that a court must consider those factors when determining alimony. (Buchanan, 90 Nev. at 215; Sprenger v. Sprenger, 110 Nev. 855, 859 (1994); Rodriguez v. Rodriguez, 116 Nev. 993, 999 (2000))

~~[Sections 2 and 3]~~ Section 5 of this bill ~~[require the Court Administrator]~~ requires the Director of the Department of Public Safety to submit a written report ~~[from information received by clerks of courts]~~ concerning the ~~[total number of]~~ temporary and extended orders for protection against domestic violence issued in this State to the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau ~~[for transmittal to each regular session of the Legislature. The report must also address]~~ which includes the total number of temporary and extended orders granted, the number of grants of temporary custody that are included in such temporary and extended orders, the number of such orders that are issued to women and the number of such orders that are issued to men.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 125.150 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.150 Except as otherwise provided in NRS 125.155 and unless the action is contrary to a premarital agreement between the parties which is enforceable pursuant to chapter 123A of NRS:

1. In granting a divorce, the court:

(a) May award such alimony to the wife or to the husband, in a specified principal sum or as specified periodic payments, as appears just and equitable; and

(b) Shall, to the extent practicable, make an equal disposition of the community property of the parties, except that the court may make an unequal disposition of the community property in such proportions as it deems just if the court finds a compelling reason to do so and sets forth in writing the reasons for making the unequal disposition.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, in granting a divorce, the court shall dispose of any property held in joint tenancy in the manner set forth in subsection 1 for the disposition of community property. If a party has made a contribution of separate property to the acquisition or improvement of property held in joint tenancy, the court may provide for the reimbursement of that party for his contribution. The amount of reimbursement must not exceed the amount of the contribution of separate property that can be traced to the acquisition or improvement of property held in joint tenancy, without interest or any adjustment because of an increase in the value of the property held in joint tenancy. The amount of reimbursement must not exceed the value, at the time of the disposition, of the property held in joint tenancy for which the contribution of separate property was made. In determining whether to provide for the reimbursement, in whole or in part, of a party who has contributed separate property, the court shall consider:

(a) The intention of the parties in placing the property in joint tenancy;

(b) The length of the marriage; and

(c) Any other factor which the court deems relevant in making a just and equitable disposition of that property.

As used in this subsection, "contribution" includes , without limitation, a down payment, a payment for the acquisition or improvement of property, and a payment reducing the principal of a loan used to finance the purchase or improvement of property. The term does not include a payment of interest on a loan used to finance the purchase or improvement of property, or a payment made for maintenance, insurance or taxes on property.

3. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 125.141, whether or not application for suit money has been made under the provisions of NRS 125.040, the court may award a reasonable attorney's fee to either party to an action for divorce if those fees are in issue under the pleadings.

4. In granting a divorce, the court may also set apart such portion of the husband's separate property for the wife's support, the wife's separate property for the husband's support or the separate property of either spouse for the support of their children as is deemed just and equitable.

5. In the event of the death of either party or the subsequent remarriage of the spouse to whom specified periodic payments were to be made, all the payments required by the decree must cease, unless it was otherwise ordered by the court.

6. If the court adjudicates the property rights of the parties, or an agreement by the parties settling their property rights has been approved by the court, whether or not the court has retained jurisdiction to modify them, the adjudication of property rights, and the agreements settling property rights, may nevertheless at any time thereafter be modified by the court upon written stipulation signed and acknowledged by the parties to the action, and in accordance with the terms thereof.

7. If a decree of divorce, or an agreement between the parties which was ratified, adopted or approved in a decree of divorce, provides for specified periodic payments of alimony, the decree or agreement is not subject to modification by the court as to accrued payments. Payments pursuant to a decree entered on or after July 1, 1975, which have not accrued at the time a motion for modification is filed may be modified upon a showing of changed circumstances, whether or not the court has expressly retained jurisdiction for the modification. In addition to any other factors the court considers relevant in determining whether to modify the order, the court shall consider whether the income of the spouse who is ordered to pay alimony, as indicated on the spouse's federal income tax return for the preceding calendar year, has been reduced to such a level that the spouse is financially unable to pay the amount of alimony he has been ordered to pay.

8. In addition to any other factors the court considers relevant in determining whether to award alimony and the amount of such an award, the court shall consider:

(a) The financial condition of each spouse;

(b) The nature and value of the respective property of each spouse;

(c) The contribution of each spouse to any property held by the spouses pursuant to NRS 123.030;

(d) The duration of the marriage;

(e) The income, earning capacity, age and health of each spouse;

(f) The standard of living during the marriage;

(g) The career before the marriage of the spouse who would receive the alimony;

(h) The existence of specialized education or training or the level of marketable skills attained by each spouse during the marriage;

(i) The contribution of either spouse as homemaker;

(j) The award ~~[,]~~ of property granted by the court in the divorce, other than child support and alimony, ~~[of]~~ to the spouse who would receive the alimony; and

(k) The physical and mental condition of each party as it relates to the financial condition, health and ability to work of that spouse.

9. In granting a divorce , the court shall consider the need to grant alimony to a spouse for the purpose of obtaining training or education relating to a job, career or profession. In addition to any other factors the court considers relevant in determining whether such alimony should be granted, the court shall consider:

(a) Whether the spouse who would pay such alimony has obtained greater job skills or education during the marriage; and

(b) Whether the spouse who would receive such alimony provided financial support while the other spouse obtained job skills or education.

~~[9.]~~ 10. If the court determines that alimony should be awarded pursuant to the provisions of subsection ~~[8.]~~ 9:

(a) The court, in its order, shall provide for the time within which the spouse who is the recipient of the alimony must commence the training or education relating to a job, career or profession.

(b) The spouse who is ordered to pay the alimony may, upon changed circumstances, file a motion to modify the order.

(c) The spouse who is the recipient of the alimony may be granted, in addition to any other alimony granted by the court, money to provide for:

(1) Testing of the recipient's skills relating to a job, career or profession;

(2) Evaluation of the recipient's abilities and goals relating to a job, career or profession;

(3) Guidance for the recipient in establishing a specific plan for training or education relating to a job, career or profession;

(4) Subsidization of an employer's costs incurred in training the recipient;

(5) Assisting the recipient to search for a job; or

(6) Payment of the costs of tuition, books and fees for:

(I) The equivalent of a high school diploma;

(II) College courses which are directly applicable to the recipient's goals for his career; or

(III) Courses of training in skills desirable for employment.

~~[10.]~~ 11. For the purposes of this section, a change of 20 percent or more in the gross monthly income of a spouse who is ordered to pay alimony shall be deemed to constitute changed circumstances requiring a review for modification of the payments of alimony. As used in this subsection, "gross monthly income" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 125B.070.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Education:

Amendment No. 84.

AN ACT relating to education; requiring the boards of trustees of school districts to prescribe a policy for the development of 4-year academic plans for pupils enrolled in high school; requiring the principals of certain larger high schools to provide for a program of a ninth grade school within a school; requiring the State Board of Education to prescribe a uniform grading scale for high schools; requiring each school district to adopt a policy setting forth the duties of school counselors; expanding the age for compulsory school attendance from 17 years to 18 years; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law establishes the system of public instruction for this State and defines the different kinds of public schools in this State. (Chapter 388 of NRS) A high school is a public school in which subjects above the eighth grade are taught. (NRS 388.020)

Section 2 of this bill requires the board of trustees of each school district to adopt a policy for each public school of the school district in which ninth grade pupils are enrolled, to develop a 4-year academic plan for each of those pupils. The academic plan must be developed in consultation with the pupil, the pupil's parent or legal guardian and a school counselor. The plan must include the specific educational goals that the pupil intends to complete before graduation from high school. If the pupil does not satisfy all the goals contained in the plan, the pupil is still eligible for a diploma if he otherwise satisfies the requirements for receipt of a diploma.

Section 3 of this bill requires the board of trustees of each school district that includes at least one high school in which 1,200 pupils or more are enrolled, including ninth grade pupils, to adopt a policy for each of those high schools to provide a program of a ninth grade school within a school. The principal of each such high school must carry out the program. The program consists of the designation of a separate geographic location within the high school in which ninth grade pupils attend ~~[their]~~ classes, the identification of any special needs for counseling or remediation for a ninth grade pupil and the assignment of certain personnel at the high school specifically for the ninth grade pupils.

Section 4 of this bill requires the State Board of Education to prescribe a uniform grading policy for all public high schools. The board of trustees of each school district and the governing body of each charter school that operates as a high school shall comply with the policy.

Section 5 of this bill requires the board of trustees of each school district to adopt a policy that sets forth the duties, roles and responsibilities of school counselors. The policy must be designed to ensure that school counselors are allotted sufficient time in each school year to carry out school counseling and to limit the amount of time school counselors are required to assist with the administration and coordination of tests.

Existing law establishes the ages for compulsory public school attendance at 7 to 17 years of age. (NRS 392.040) Section 6 of this bill expands the age to 18 years unless the child has graduated from high school.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law sets forth certain unlawful acts which constitute domestic violence when committed against certain specified persons. (NRS 33.018) This provision is used for purposes of determining who may obtain a temporary order for protection against domestic violence and for various other purposes. (NRS 4.373, 5.055, 33.017-33.100, 41.134, 171.227, 171.229, 228.423-228.490, 432B.157, 432B.330, 458.300) Section 1 of this bill expands the unlawful acts which constitute domestic violence to include knowingly, purposefully or recklessly injuring or killing ~~[a domestic]~~ an animal with the intent to harass the victim. ~~[domestic]~~ animal that is owned or kept by the applicant ~~[for the protection order]~~ or a minor child. Section 2 also authorizes the court, in an extended order for protection against domestic violence, to specify arrangements for the possession and care of any ~~[domestic]~~ animal owned or kept by the adverse party, the applicant for the extended order or a minor child. (NRS 33.030)

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Sec. 2. NRS 33.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

33.030 1. The court by a temporary order may:

(c) Prohibit the adverse party from entering the residence, school or place of employment of the applicant or minor child and order him to stay away from any specified place frequented regularly by them;

3. If an extended order is issued by a justice court, an interlocutory appeal lies to the district court, which may affirm, modify or vacate the order in question. The appeal may be taken without bond, but its taking does not stay the effect or enforcement of the order.

4. A temporary or extended order must specify, as applicable, the county and city, if any, in which the residence, school, child care facility or other provider of child care, and place of employment of the applicant or minor child are located.

Amendment No. 192.

AN ACT relating to parental rights; providing for the restoration of parental rights in certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides for the termination of parental rights in certain circumstances. (NRS 128.010-128.160) Existing law further provides that a court cannot change, modify or set aside an order terminating parental rights. (NRS 128.120) ~~[Section 1 of this bill authorizes a court, upon its own motion or upon the petition of a child who has not been adopted or the natural parent or parents of the child, to order that the parental rights of the natural parent or parents be restored in certain circumstances if the court determines by a preponderance of the evidence that the child is not likely to be adopted and that restoration of parental rights is in the best interest of the child.]~~ Existing law also provides for the voluntary relinquishment of parental rights. (NRS 127.040)

Section 2 of this bill authorizes a child who has not been adopted and whose natural parent has had his parental rights terminated or has relinquished his parental rights to petition a court for the restoration of parental rights. In addition, the legal custodian or legal guardian of such a child may petition for the restoration of parental rights. The natural parent must consent to the petition. Section 3 of this bill provides for the notice that must be given before a hearing is held on the petition and requires that certain persons be afforded an opportunity to present evidence and testify during the hearing. Section 4 of this bill provides for the court to hold a hearing when a valid petition is filed and specifies certain findings that must be made for the court to grant the petition, including that the child is not likely to be adopted and that the restoration of parental rights is in the best interests of the child.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 128 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto ~~[a new section to read as follows:~~

~~(c) The court determines that adoption is no longer the plan for the child.~~

~~2. The court may order a hearing to determine whether the parental rights of the natural parent or parents of the child should be restored:~~

~~(a) Upon its own motion; or~~

~~(b) Upon petition by the child or the natural parent or parents of the child.~~

~~3. A child who is less than 17 years of age may file a petition to restore the parental rights of the natural parent or parents before the expiration of the 3-year period described in subsection 1 if the custodial agency that is responsible for custody and supervision of the child and the child stipulate that the child is not likely to be adopted.~~

~~4. A child over 12 years of age shall sign the petition in the absence of a showing of good cause as to why the child could not do so.~~

~~5. If it appears that the best interests of the child may be promoted by the restoration of the parental rights of the natural parent or parents, the court shall order:~~

~~(a) That a hearing be held;~~

~~(b) That notice of the hearing be given to the legal custodian or guardian of the child and the child's attorney of record or, if there is no attorney of record for the child, to the child; and~~

~~(c) That the child or legal custodian or guardian of the child provide notice of the hearing to the natural parent or parents whose parental rights were terminated.~~

~~6. The court shall order the restoration of parental rights pursuant to this section if after the hearing the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that:~~

~~(b) Restoration of the parental rights of the natural parent or parents is in the best interest of the child.~~

~~7. If the court restores the parental rights of the natural parent or parents of a child who is less than 12 years of age and for whom the new plan will not be reunification with a parent or legal guardian, the court shall specify the factual basis for its findings that it is in the best interest of the child to restore the parental rights of the natural parent or parents.~~] the provisions set forth as sections 2, 3 and 4 of this act.

Sec. 2. 1. A child who has not been adopted and whose natural parent or parents have had their parental rights terminated or have relinquished their parental rights, or the legal custodian or guardian of such a child, may petition a court for the restoration of the parental rights of the natural parent or parents of the child.

2. The natural parent or parents for whom restoration of parental rights is sought to be restored must consent in writing to the petition.

Sec. 3. 1. Before a hearing is held on a petition that is filed pursuant to section 2 of this act, the court shall direct the clerk to issue a notice, reciting briefly the substance of the petition and stating the date set for the hearing thereof, and requiring the person served therewith to appear before the court at the time and place if that person desires to provide testimony or evidence concerning the petition.

2. The following persons must be personally served with the notice:

(b) The legal custodian and the legal guardian of the child who is the subject of the petition;

(c) If the parental rights of the natural parent or parents for whom parental rights are sought to be restored were terminated, the person or governmental entity that petitioned for the termination if different from the persons notified pursuant to paragraph (b); and

3. The persons who are served with notice pursuant to subsection 2 must be provided an opportunity to present testimony and evidence during the hearing.

Sec. 4. 1. If a valid petition is filed pursuant to section 2 of this act, the court shall hold a hearing to determine whether to restore the parental rights of the natural parent or parents.

2. Before granting a petition for the restoration of parental rights, the court must find that:

(a) If any child who is the subject of the petition is 14 years of age or older, the child consents to the restoration of parental rights.

(b) The natural parent or parents for whom restoration of parental rights is sought have been informed of the legal obligations, rights and consequences of the restoration of parental rights and that the natural parent or parents are willing and able to accept such obligations, rights and consequences.

3. If the court finds the necessary facts pursuant to subsection 2, the court shall order the restoration of parental rights if the court further finds by a preponderance of the evidence that:

(a) The child is not likely to be adopted; and

(b) Restoration of parental rights of the natural parent or parents is in the best interests of the child.

4. If the court restores the parental rights of the natural parent or parents of a child who is less than 14 years of age, the court shall specify in its order the factual basis for its findings that it is in the best interests of the child to restore the parental rights of the natural parent or parents.

5. Upon the entry of an order for the restoration of parental rights issued pursuant to this section, any child who is the subject of the petition becomes the legal child of the natural parent or parents whose rights have been restored, and they shall become his legal parents on that date with all the rights and duties of parents.

If the child is represented by an attorney, the attorney has the same authority and rights as an attorney representing a party to the proceedings.

2. If the parent or parents of the child desire to be represented by counsel, but are indigent, the court may appoint an attorney for them.

Amendment No. 177.

AN ACT relating to education; requiring the board of trustees of a school district to employ certain student teachers as substitute teachers in certain schools and in certain subject areas under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes a school district to enter into an agreement for the assignment of student teachers within the school district for training purposes. (NRS 391.095) This bill requires a school district which has entered into such an agreement to employ certain student teachers as substitutes in at-risk schools and in hard to fill subject areas when licensed teachers are not available to fill those positions.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 391 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. A board of trustees of a school district that has entered into an agreement pursuant to NRS 391.095 shall, before assigning a long-term substitute who is not a licensed teacher, assign a student teacher who satisfies the requirements of subsection 2 as a substitute teacher to fill positions:

(a) At schools in which 65 percent or more of the pupils who are enrolled in the school are children who are at risk; or

2. A student teacher who has completed not less than 4 weeks of student teaching in a school district pursuant to NRS 391.095 may apply to the board of trustees of that school district for employment as a substitute teacher. The application must include the written approval of:

(a) The teacher who supervises the student teacher through the Nevada System of Higher Education or accredited postsecondary educational institution, as applicable; and

3. If a school district employs a student teacher as a substitute teacher pursuant to this section, the school district shall ensure that the student teacher is ~~[directly]~~ supervised by a licensed teacher. A licensed teacher so assigned must:

(a) Be available to assist the student teacher ~~[during the school day;~~

~~[(c)]~~ (b) Oversee the management of the classroom, instructional duties and administrative duties of the student teacher.

4. A student teacher who is employed as a substitute teacher pursuant to this section is entitled to the rate of pay otherwise payable to substitute teachers employed by the school district for each day the student teacher works as a substitute teacher. Nothing in this section entitles a student teacher to be paid for time spent completing his student teaching.

5. The board of trustees of a school district that employs a student teacher as a substitute teacher pursuant to this section shall, in consultation with the employee organization representing licensed teachers in the school district, provide for compensation of the licensed teacher who supervises the student teacher pursuant to subsection 3 that is in addition to the regular salary of the licensed teacher.

6. As used in this section, "student teacher" means a student of a branch of the Nevada System of Higher Education or an accredited postsecondary educational institution who is assigned to teach for training purposes pursuant to NRS 391.095.

Sec. 2. NRS 391.273 is hereby amended to read as follows:

391.273 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 4 and 10 ~~[,]~~ and except for persons who are supervised pursuant to section 1 of this act, the unlicensed personnel of a school district must be directly supervised by licensed personnel in all duties which are instructional in nature. To the extent practicable, the direct supervision must be such that the unlicensed personnel are in the immediate location of the licensed personnel and are readily available during such times when supervision is required.

2. Unlicensed personnel who are exempted pursuant to subsection 4 must be under administrative supervision when performing duties which are instructional in nature.

3. Unlicensed personnel may temporarily perform duties under administrative supervision which are not primarily instructional in nature.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, upon application by a superintendent of schools, the Superintendent of Public Instruction may grant an exemption from the provisions of subsection 1. The Superintendent shall not grant an exemption unless:

(a) The duties are within the employee's special expertise or training;

(b) The duties relate to the humanities or an elective course of study, or are supplemental to the basic curriculum of a school;

(c) The performance of the duties does not result in the replacement of a licensed employee or prevent the employment of a licensed person willing to perform those duties;

(d) The secondary or combined school in which the duties will be performed has less than 100 pupils enrolled and is at least 30 miles from a school in which the duties are performed by licensed personnel; and

5. The exemption authorized by subsection 4 does not apply to a paraprofessional if the provisions of 20 U.S.C. § 6319 and the regulations adopted pursuant thereto require the paraprofessional to be directly supervised by a licensed teacher.

6. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall file a record of all exempt personnel with the clerk of the board of trustees of each local school district, and advise the clerk of any changes therein. The record must contain:

(a) The name of the exempt employee;

(b) The specific instructional duties he may perform;

(c) Any terms or conditions of the exemption deemed appropriate by the Superintendent of Public Instruction; and

(d) The date the exemption expires or a statement that the exemption is valid as long as the employee remains in the same position at the same school.

7. The Superintendent of Public Instruction may adopt regulations prescribing the procedure to apply for an exemption pursuant to this section and the criteria for the granting of such exemptions.

8. Except in an emergency, it is unlawful for the board of trustees of a school district to allow a person employed as a teacher's aide to serve as a teacher unless the person is a legally qualified teacher licensed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. As used in this subsection, "emergency" means an unforeseen circumstance which requires immediate action and includes the fact that a licensed teacher or substitute teacher is not immediately available.

9. If the Superintendent of Public Instruction determines that the board of trustees of a school district has violated the provisions of subsection 8, he shall take such actions as are necessary to reduce the amount of money received by the district pursuant to NRS 387.124 by an amount equal to the product when the following numbers are multiplied together:

(a) The number of days on which the violation occurred;

(b) The number of pupils in the classroom taught by the teacher's aide; and

(c) The number of dollars of basic support apportioned to the district per pupil per day pursuant to NRS 387.1233.

10. The provisions of this section do not apply to unlicensed personnel who are employed by the governing body of a charter school, unless a paraprofessional employed by the governing body is required to be directly supervised by a licensed teacher pursuant to the provisions of 20 U.S.C. § 6319 and the regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

Assembly Bill No. 7.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 134.

AN ACT relating to public utilities; providing that certain electric and natural gas utilities applying to the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada to clear deferred accounts or to recover costs for purchased fuel and power have the burden of proving reasonableness and prudence in such applications; prohibiting the Commission from allowing natural gas utilities to recover costs for purchases made imprudently; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes certain electric utilities to use deferred accounting to account for increases in the costs of power or fuel purchased by the electric utility. (NRS 704.110, 704.187) An electric utility is only allowed to recover increases in the costs of power or fuel purchased by the electric utility if the costs were not the result of practices or transactions that were imprudently undertaken by the electric utility. (NRS 704.110) The Nevada Supreme Court has ruled, in the absence of a statute to the contrary, that in a deferred accounting proceeding there is a presumption that the practices and transactions of an electric utility were reasonable and prudent. (Nevada Power Company v. Public Utilities Commission of Nevada, 122 Nev. Adv. Op. 72 (2006)) Section ~~[1]~~ 2 of this bill provides by specific statute that there is no presumption that the practices and transactions of an electric utility were undertaken prudently and that the burden is on the electric utility to prove that its practices and transactions were prudent.

Existing law authorizes certain natural gas utilities to use deferred accounting to account for increases in the costs of natural gas purchased by the utility. (NRS 704.185) Section ~~[2]~~ 3 of this bill provides that a natural gas utility is only allowed to recover increases in the costs of natural gas purchased by the natural gas utility if the costs were not the result of practices or transactions that were imprudently undertaken by the natural gas utility. Section ~~[2]~~ 3 also provides that there is no presumption that the practices and transactions of a natural gas utility were undertaken prudently and that the burden is on the natural gas utility to prove that its practices and transactions were prudent.

Section 4 of this bill provides that the changes made by this bill apply to all applications of a public utility seeking to clear its deferred accounts pursuant to NRS 704.185 or 704.187 that are: (1) pending before the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada on or after the effective date of this act; (2) pending on appeal in a district court or the Supreme Court pursuant to NRS 703.373 to 703.376, inclusive, on or after the effective date of this act; or (3) filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada on or after the effective date of this act.

Section 1 of this bill provides that the Legislature in enacting this bill determined that: (1) a public utility should have the burden of proving that its practices and transactions were reasonable and prudent; and (2) the holding in Nevada Power Company v. Public Utilities Commission of Nevada should be superseded. Additionally, the Legislature indicates in section 1 that this bill is not intended to abrogate or change any rule of evidence or procedure other than the presumption of reasonableness that the Nevada Supreme Court established.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that:

1. In proceedings involving deferred energy accounting where a public utility seeks to recover from its ratepayers costs recorded in its deferred accounts pursuant to NRS 704.185 or 704.187, it is just and reasonable to require a public utility to prove that the costs recorded in its deferred accounts were incurred prudently. Therefore, to ensure that ratepayers do not pay for costs incurred as a result of any practices or transactions that were undertaken, managed or performed imprudently, the public utility should have the burden of proving that its practices and transactions were reasonable and prudent.

2. In Nevada Power Company v. Public Utilities Commission of Nevada, 122 Nev. Adv. Op. 72 (2006), the Nevada Supreme Court held that, in the absence of a statute to the contrary, the controlling procedure in proceedings involving deferred energy accounting is the rebuttable presumption of prudence adopted by the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada in the 1986 rate case of Re Nevada Power Company, 74 Pub. Util. Rep. 4th 703 (Nev. Pub. Serv. Comm'n May 30, 1986).

3. The provisions of this act are intended to supersede the holding of the Nevada Supreme Court in Nevada Power Company v. Public Utilities Commission of Nevada, 122 Nev. Adv. Op. 72 (2006), to the extent that the Court determined that the rebuttable presumption of prudence is the controlling procedure in proceedings involving deferred energy accounting.

4. Because the rebuttable presumption of prudence is a rule of procedure, this act applies to all applications of a public utility seeking to clear its deferred accounts that are:

(a) Pending before the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada on or after the effective date of this act;

(b) Pending on appeal in a district court or the Supreme Court pursuant to NRS 703.373 to 703.376, inclusive, on or after the effective date of this act; or

(c) Filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada on or after the effective date of this act.

5. The provisions of this act are not intended to abrogate or change any other rule of procedure or evidence followed by the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada in proceedings involving deferred energy accounting. Therefore, the provisions of this act do not abrogate or change the Commission's regulations which provide that:

(a) A public utility must comply with certain minimum filing requirements when it files an application seeking to clear its deferred accounts; and

(b) If the public utility meets those requirements, the public utility has established a prima facie case in support of its application.

6. Under the provisions of this act, in proceedings involving deferred energy accounting, if any party challenges the prudence of particular costs incurred by a public utility based on evidence entered into the record, the public utility is required to answer such challenge, and no presumption of prudence applies. However, if no party challenges the prudence of particular costs and the public utility has established a prima facie case regarding those costs, the Commission has the authority to approve those costs for recovery by the public utility in its rates.

~~[Section 1.]~~ Sec. 2. NRS 704.110 is hereby amended to read as follows:

704.110 Except as otherwise provided in NRS 704.075 and 704.68904 to 704.68984, inclusive, or as may otherwise be provided by the Commission pursuant to NRS 704.095 or 704.097 or pursuant to the regulations adopted by the Commission in accordance with subsection 4 of NRS 704.040:

1. If a public utility files with the Commission an application to make changes in any schedule, including, without limitation, changes that will result in a discontinuance, modification or restriction of service, the Commission shall investigate the propriety of the proposed changes to determine whether to approve or disapprove the proposed changes. If an electric utility files such an application and the application is a general rate application or an application to clear its deferred accounts, the Consumer's Advocate shall be deemed a party of record.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 3 and 13, if a public utility files with the Commission an application to make changes in any schedule, the Commission shall issue a written order approving or disapproving, in whole or in part, the proposed changes:

(a) For a public utility that is a PAR carrier, not later than 180 days after the date on which the application is filed; and

(b) For all other public utilities, not later than 210 days after the date on which the application is filed.

3. If a public utility files with the Commission a general rate application, the public utility shall submit with its application a statement showing the recorded results of revenues, expenses, investments and costs of capital for its most recent 12 months for which data were available when the application was prepared. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, in determining whether to approve or disapprove any increased rates, the Commission shall consider evidence in support of the increased rates based upon actual recorded results of operations for the same 12 months, adjusted for increased revenues, any increased investment in facilities, increased expenses for depreciation, certain other operating expenses as approved by the Commission and changes in the costs of securities which are known and are measurable with reasonable accuracy at the time of filing and which will become effective within 6 months after the last month of those 12 months, but the public utility shall not place into effect any increased rates until the changes have been experienced and certified by the public utility to the Commission and the Commission has approved the increased rates. The Commission shall also consider evidence supporting expenses for depreciation, calculated on an annual basis, applicable to major components of the public utility's plant placed into service during the recorded test period or the period for certification as set forth in the application. Adjustments to revenues, operating expenses and costs of securities must be calculated on an annual basis. Within 90 days after the date on which the certification required by this subsection is filed with the Commission, or within the period set forth in subsection 2, whichever time is longer, the Commission shall make such order in reference to the increased rates as is required by this chapter. An electric utility shall file a general rate application pursuant to this subsection at least once every 24 months based on the following schedule:

(a) An electric utility that primarily serves less densely populated counties shall file a general rate application on or before October 3, 2005, and at least once every 24 months thereafter.

(b) An electric utility that primarily serves densely populated counties shall file a general rate application on or before November 15, 2006, and at least once every 24 months thereafter.

4. In addition to submitting the statement required pursuant to subsection 3, a public utility which purchases natural gas for resale may submit with its general rate application a statement showing the effects, on an annualized basis, of all expected changes in circumstances. If such a statement is filed, it must include all increases and decreases in revenue and expenses which may occur within 210 days after the date on which its general rate application is filed with the Commission if such expected changes in circumstances are reasonably known and are measurable with reasonable accuracy. If a public utility submits such a statement, the public utility has the burden of proving that the expected changes in circumstances set forth in the statement are reasonably known and are measurable with reasonable accuracy. If the Commission determines that the public utility has met its burden of proof:

(a) The Commission shall consider the statement submitted pursuant to this subsection and evidence relevant to the statement in addition to the statement required pursuant to subsection 3 as evidence in establishing just and reasonable rates for the public utility; and

(b) The public utility is not required to file with the Commission the certification that would otherwise be required pursuant to subsection 3.

5. If a public utility files with the Commission an application to make changes in any schedule and the Commission does not issue a final written order regarding the proposed changes within the time required by this section, the proposed changes shall be deemed to be approved by the Commission.

6. If a public utility files with the Commission a general rate application, the public utility shall not file with the Commission another general rate application until all pending general rate applications filed by that public utility have been decided by the Commission unless, after application and hearing, the Commission determines that a substantial financial emergency would exist if the public utility is not permitted to file another general rate application sooner. The provisions of this subsection do not prohibit the public utility from filing with the Commission, while a general rate application is pending, an application to recover the increased cost of purchased fuel, purchased power, or natural gas purchased for resale pursuant to subsection 7 or an application to clear its deferred accounts pursuant to subsection 9, if the public utility is otherwise authorized by those provisions to file such an application.

7. A public utility may file an application to recover the increased cost of purchased fuel, purchased power, or natural gas purchased for resale once every 30 days. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to:

(a) An electric utility using deferred accounting pursuant to NRS 704.187; or

(b) A public utility which purchases natural gas for resale and which adjusts its rates on a quarterly basis between annual rate adjustment applications pursuant to subsection 8.

8. A public utility which purchases natural gas for resale must request approval from the Commission to adjust its rates on a quarterly basis between annual rate adjustment applications based on changes in the public utility's recorded costs of natural gas purchased for resale. If the Commission approves such a request:

(a) The public utility shall file written notice with the Commission before the public utility makes a quarterly rate adjustment between annual rate adjustment applications. A quarterly rate adjustment is not subject to the requirements for notice and a hearing pursuant to NRS 703.320 or the requirements for a consumer session pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 704.069.

(b) The public utility shall provide written notice of each quarterly rate adjustment to its customers by including the written notice with a customer's regular monthly bill. The public utility shall begin providing such written notice to its customers not later than 30 days after the date on which the public utility files its written notice with the Commission pursuant to paragraph (a). The written notice that is included with a customer's regular monthly bill:

(1) Must be printed separately on fluorescent-colored paper and must not be attached to the pages of the bill; and

(2) Must include the following:

(I) The total amount of the increase or decrease in the public utility's revenues from the rate adjustment, stated in dollars and as a percentage;

(II) The amount of the monthly increase or decrease in charges for each class of customer or class of service, stated in dollars and as a percentage;

(III) A statement that customers may send written comments or protests regarding the rate adjustment to the Commission; and

(IV) Any other information required by the Commission.

(c) The public utility shall file an annual rate adjustment application with the Commission. The annual rate adjustment application is subject to the requirements for notice and a hearing pursuant to NRS 703.320 and the requirements for a consumer session pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 704.069.

(d) The proceeding regarding the annual rate adjustment application must include a review of each quarterly rate adjustment and a review of the transactions and recorded costs of natural gas included in each quarterly rate adjustment and the annual rate adjustment application. There is no presumption of reasonableness or prudence for any quarterly rate adjustment or for any transactions or recorded costs of natural gas included in any quarterly rate adjustment or the annual rate adjustment application, and the public utility has the burden of proving reasonableness and prudence in the proceeding.

(e) The Commission shall not allow the public utility to recover any recorded costs of natural gas which were the result of any practice or transaction that was unreasonable or was undertaken, managed or performed imprudently by the public utility, and the Commission shall order the public utility to adjust its rates if the Commission determines that any recorded costs of natural gas included in any quarterly rate adjustment or the annual rate adjustment application were not reasonable or prudent.

9. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 10 and subsection 5 of NRS 704.100, if an electric utility using deferred accounting pursuant to NRS 704.187 files an application to clear its deferred accounts and to change one or more of its rates based upon changes in the costs for purchased fuel or purchased power, the Commission, after a public hearing and by an appropriate order:

(a) Shall allow the electric utility to clear its deferred accounts by refunding any credit balance or recovering any debit balance over a period not to exceed 3 years, as determined by the Commission.

(b) Shall not allow the electric utility to recover any debit balance, or portion thereof, in an amount that would result in a rate of return during the period of recovery that exceeds the rate of return authorized by the Commission in the most recently completed rate proceeding for the electric utility.

10. Before allowing an electric utility to clear its deferred accounts pursuant to subsection 9, the Commission shall determine whether the costs for purchased fuel and purchased power that the electric utility recorded in its deferred accounts are recoverable and whether the revenues that the electric utility collected from customers in this State for purchased fuel and purchased power are properly recorded and credited in its deferred accounts. The Commission shall not allow the electric utility to recover any costs for purchased fuel and purchased power that were the result of any practice or transaction that was undertaken, managed or performed imprudently by the electric utility. There is no presumption that any practice or transaction was undertaken, managed or performed prudently by an electric utility applying to the Commission to clear its deferred accounts or to recover costs for purchased fuel and purchased power, and the electric utility has the burden of proving that the practices and transactions of the electric utility were reasonable and prudent.

11. If an electric utility files an application to clear its deferred accounts pursuant to subsection 9 while a general rate application is pending, the electric utility shall:

(a) Submit with its application to clear its deferred accounts information relating to the cost of service and rate design; and

(b) Supplement its general rate application with the same information, if such information was not submitted with the general rate application.

12. A utility facility identified in a 3-year plan submitted pursuant to NRS 704.741 and accepted by the Commission for acquisition or construction pursuant to NRS 704.751 and the regulations adopted pursuant thereto shall be deemed to be a prudent investment. The utility may recover all just and reasonable costs of planning and constructing such a facility.

13. A PAR carrier may, in accordance with this section and NRS 704.100, file with the Commission a request to approve or change any schedule to provide volume or duration discounts to rates for telecommunication service for an offering made to all or any class of business customers. The Commission may conduct a hearing relating to the request, which must occur within 45 days after the date the request is filed with the Commission. The request and schedule shall be deemed approved if the request and schedule are not disapproved by the Commission within 60 days after the date the Commission receives the request.

14. As used in this section:

(a) "Electric utility" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 704.187.

(b) "Electric utility that primarily serves densely populated counties" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 704.187.

(c) "Electric utility that primarily serves less densely populated counties" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 704.187.

(d) "PAR carrier" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 704.68942.

~~[Sec. 2.]~~ Sec. 3. NRS 704.185 is hereby amended to read as follows:

704.185 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 8 of NRS 704.110, a public utility which purchases natural gas for resale may record upon its books and records in deferred accounts all cost increases or decreases in the natural gas purchased for resale. Any public utility which uses deferred accounting to reflect changes in costs of natural gas purchased for resale shall include in its annual report to the Commission a statement showing the allocated rate of return for each of its operating departments in Nevada which uses deferred accounting.

2. If the rate of return for any department using deferred accounting pursuant to subsection 1 is greater than the rate of return allowed by the Commission in the last rate proceeding, the Commission shall order the utility which recovered any costs of natural gas purchased for resale through rates during the reported period to transfer to the next energy adjustment period that portion of such recovered amounts which exceeds the authorized rate of return.

3. A public utility which purchases natural gas for resale may request approval from the Commission to record upon its books and records in deferred accounts any other cost or revenue which the Commission deems appropriate for deferred accounting and which is not otherwise subject to the provisions of subsections 1 and 2. If the Commission approves such a request, the Commission shall determine the appropriate requirements for reporting and recovery that the public utility must follow with regard to each such deferred account.

~~[4. The Commission shall not allow a public utility which purchases natural gas for resale to clear its deferred accounts or to recover any costs for purchased natural gas that were the result of any practice or transaction that was undertaken, managed or performed imprudently by the public utility. There is no presumption that any practice or transaction was undertaken, managed or performed prudently by a public utility applying to the Commission to recover costs for purchased natural gas, and the public utility has the burden of proving that the practices and transactions of the public utility were reasonable and prudent.]~~

4. When a public utility which purchases natural gas for resale files an application to clear its deferred accounts, the proceeding regarding the application must include a review of the transactions and recorded costs of natural gas included in the application. There is no presumption of reasonableness or prudence for any transactions or recorded costs of natural gas included in the application, and the public utility has the burden of proving reasonableness and prudence in the proceeding.

Sec. 4. This act applies to all applications of a public utility seeking to clear its deferred accounts pursuant to NRS 704.185 or 704.187 that are:

1. Pending before the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada on or after the effective date of this act;

AN ACT relating to crimes; specifying that the crime of luring a child includes luring a person believed to be a child; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law prohibits a person from luring a child who is less than 16 years of age and who is at least 5 years younger than the person. (NRS 201.560) This bill amends existing law to specify that a person violates this provision when he knowingly contacts or communicates with or attempts to contact or communicate with someone whom he believes to be a child less than 16 years of age and at least 5 years younger than the person.

A violation of the amendatory provisions of this bill constitutes the crime of luring a child and is considered a "sexual offense" or "sexual offense against a child" in certain circumstances for the purposes of several provisions of existing law. Such provisions include, without limitation, provisions requiring registration of sex offenders, community notification of sex offenders, lifetime supervision of sex offenders and special restrictions and conditions concerning parole of sex offenders as well as provisions specifically authorizing disciplinary action against a teacher or other licensed employee of a school convicted of the crime of luring a child. (NRS 62C.120, 62F.100, 62H.010, 62H.220, 176.0931, 176.133, 178.5698, 179.245, 179.460, 179A.073, 179A.280, 179D.410, 179D.620, 200.366, 213.107, 213.1214, 213.1245, 213.1255, 213.1258, 391.311, 391.314, 391.330) Thus, for example, NRS 176.0931 would require a court to impose lifetime supervision upon a person convicted of luring or attempting to lure a person whom he believed to be a child. Further, NRS 213.1258 would provide that if the State Board of Parole Commissioners grants parole to a person convicted of luring or attempting to lure a person whom he believed to be a child through the use of a computer, system or network, the Board, under certain circumstances, must impose as a condition of the parole that the parolee not own or use a computer. In addition, NRS 391.330 would provide that a conviction for luring or attempting to lure a person believed to be a child constitutes grounds for the State Board of Education to suspend or revoke the license of a teacher, administrator or any other licensed employee.
