OF THE

ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

SEVENTY-FIFTH SESSION

THE FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 2, 2009

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and Statutes, the Assembly was called to order by Speaker Barbara E. Buckley at 12:01 p.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.
Roll called.
All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Tom Beck, Faith Lutheran Church, Reno, Nevada.

Hear my prayer, O God. Generous God, we have received as gifts every resource for our lives and even our lives themselves. Gracious One, You seek to work Your purpose and surround us with Your presence. In the beginning, You gave the first man, Adam, and the first woman, Eve, all they needed for life. You made for them a garden. You gave them work. You walked with them in the Garden. You gave them to each other. Gracious God, You have given us, also, a garden—the world around us, with fields, ranchlands, forests, and mines with their minerals, towns and cities that are webbed with roadways and railways. Generous God, you have given us, also, to each other. There is industry and commerce, arts, and learning—all that we need for daily life. You have ordained government so that justice and mercy may be preserved. Gracious God, we are the people of Your creation, who prosper by these means. For all Your rich gifts we give You thanks, Generous God.

In our garden, You have made us to be stewards and caretakers. The first man and woman in the Garden were given the responsibility to care for Your creation and delight in harvesting its produce. Give to us a keen sense of our responsibility to tend to Your garden well. Grant to each person who lives in Your creation the grace to receive Your blessings and to use Your blessings well. Especially this day we pray for Your blessing upon all the elected officials of this state.

These Assemblymen, Assemblywomen, Senators, this House, this Governor—all who labor for justice in Your garden. Grant to them Your gifts of wisdom and understanding, a spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and fear of the Lord, the spirit of joy in Your presence.

Holy One, our days are not easy. Care of our garden is difficult. The way ahead is confused. When we look ahead, we do not see a straight path before us; we see crossroads. We struggle to choose the best way. In such anxious times when fear is close at hand, we pray You will grant to us a calm of peace. Enable us to make such decisions and take such actions that are pleasing to You, according to Your will. In a time when there are no easy solutions, guide us to make intelligent choices. Make us ever mindful of the blessings You give to Your creatures, that we, who are Your stewards, may take proper care of the gifts You send us.

Compassionate God, we grieve for the losses and hurt suffered by many. Grant us Your spirit of mercy as we labor for justice. Grant us wisdom that is informed by compassion. Gracious God, You have entrusted us to care for one another. Send Your spirit upon us that we may wisely use Your good gift of government to protect the weak and provide for the poor with justice and mercy. Breathe into this Legislature, the House, the Senate, and the Governor of this state, Your spirit, that in all our labors we toil together with mutual respect. Guide our labors with Your good purpose, that our works are in accord with Your good will.

Almighty God, You are not absent. We are not deserted. Be our strength and might. Compassionate and Holy One, remain among us that there will be justice and mercy for all of Your people. This is my prayer, Lord Jesus.

AMEN.

Joining Pastor Beck in prayer were Father Chuck Durante, representing Bishop Randolph Calvo, Diocese of Reno, Roman Catholic Church; District Supervisor Jerry Smith, representing Bishop Warner Brown, California-Nevada Conference of the United Methodist Church; Bishop Dan Edwards, Episcopal Diocese of Nevada; Bishop Mark Holmerud, Sierra Pacific Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America; Bishop Stephen S. Talmage, Grand Canyon Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America; Chris Rhodes, Vice Moderator, Presbytery of Nevada, Presbyterian Church, representing Rev. Carol Wood, Moderator; District Superintendent Reverend Candace Lansberry, representing Bishop Minerva Carcano, Desert Southwest Conference of the United Methodist Church; and Tim O'Callaghan, representing Bishop Anthony Pepe, Las Vegas Diocese, Roman Catholic Church.

Remarks by Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

MADAM SPEAKER:

I am pleased to thank the bishops and leaders of these faith communities which have formed this historic religious alliance in Nevada. This is the first time the heads of these five denominations, either in person or through their designated representatives, have come together in one location for the common purpose of supporting advocacy ministry in search of social justice, compassion, and fair treatment for all Nevadans. These leaders are the voices of the social conscience, representing thousands of people with faith, living in every community in our state. We appreciate their prayers and welcome their words of hope and support as we begin the task of serving the common good of the people of the State of Nevada.

Presentation of the Colors by the North Las Vegas Fire Department Honor Guard.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Special musical rendition of the Star Spangled Banner, The Waking, and Home Means Nevada by the University of Nevada Reno's Chamber Chorale, conducted by Jennifer Tibben-Lemke.

Madam Speaker appointed as a committee Assemblymen Horne and Carpenter to escort Chief Justice James Hardesty of the Supreme Court of the State of Nevada to the rostrum to readminister the oaths of office to the Assemblymen.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Assembly in recess at 12:26 p.m.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS, AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Conklin reported that his committee had informed the Senate that the Assembly was ready for business.

Assemblyman Oceguera reported that his committee had informed the Governor that the Assembly was ready for business.

Remarks by Madam Speaker, Assemblyman Oceguera, and Assemblywoman Gansert.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

MADAM SPEAKER:

Welcome to the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature. We recently completed our 25th Special Session, so you are now here for the 100th session of the Nevada Legislature.

Congratulations to our new legislators and your families: Assemblyman Paul Aizley, Assemblywoman Marilyn Dondero Loop, Assemblyman Don Gustavson, Assemblyman John Hambrick, Assemblywoman April Mastroluca, Assemblyman Richard McArthur, Assemblywoman Ellen Spiegel, and Assemblywoman Melissa Woodbury. You worked so hard to get here—knocking on doors, meeting with people, learning about things you never thought you would ever know a thing about or would want to know a thing about.

Campaigns are very difficult. Things are said about you that are not true or are half true, but you survived and you now have an opportunity to represent your districts and represent the state. What an honor.

To our returning legislators, welcome back. I have learned so much from all of you throughout the years. Your expertise is needed more than ever with the challenges which are facing us. The state needs the best of all of us in these very difficult times.

This session will be about what kind of state we want to be. While there are so many economic issues outside of our control, there are things that we can do, that we must do, immediately. We have opportunities to lead our state in the right direction. We have an opportunity to try to stabilize our housing market. Continued foreclosures are wrecking our economy. We were not in session when this foreclosure crisis started, but we can take action now. Right now 47,000 Nevadans are 30 days or more delinquent on their mortgages. One out of every 11 families faces foreclosure, and the rest of us face plummeting housing values as a result. We have seen residential construction come to a standstill. We see mounting job losses, and we see our budget figures affected as a result.

If we are to get our state on the road to economic recovery, we must do all that we can to stem the hemorrhaging in our housing market with meaningful measures to prevent foreclosures. This session we will have an opportunity to institute mediation for homeowners who wish to remain in their homes and who are desperate for a workout agreement but cannot get anyone to respond to their phone call. The program would operate statewide and would use senior judges and the judiciary to administer it. We are very fortunate to have a Nevada Supreme Court and a court system who have already pledged their full support towards making a program effective immediately. Lenders would be required to participate with owner-occupied homeowners and to work in good faith towards resolutions.

This Legislature will also examine recommendations issued by our interim committee that would allow renters to not be surprised when the home they are renting is in foreclosure before they know it and to crack down on some lenders who are still engaging in predatory lending practices. I find it ironic that we now have foreclosure consultants promising to help refinance people when they were the same people engaging in the predatory lending to begin with. We can do something about that. We must do something about that.

This legislative session, job creation will also be a priority. We all know, as we have gone across the state campaigning or talking to people, folks are terrified about the mounting job losses. In better times when we clung to the illusion that Nevada was recession proof, we never worried about coping with a 9 percent, and soon to be 10 percent, unemployment rate. Job creation has to be one of our top priorities. While there is discussion across the nation about renewable energy, we in Nevada are uniquely poised to do something about it because of our vast, valuable resources. That is why the Legislature must consider a green jobs initiative. We will be receiving stimulus money to support this program. If we jump on this opportunity and train individuals for the jobs of the future, not only do we create jobs, but we diversify our economy and our state's budget to be less reliant on gaming and sales taxes.

Another serious problem facing us this session is the public's loss of confidence in our health care system that resulted from the Hepatitis C crisis in southern Nevada. We were all horrified by the news reports that more than 40,000 patients received letters in the mail telling them to be tested for Hepatitis C and AIDS because an endoscopy center in southern Nevada used unsafe medical practices. Many of us knew someone who was affected by that crisis personally. This session, we will make it a priority to enact new patient safeguards to ensure that a situation like this will never happen again.

During this session, we must address the state's financial structure and our state's budget. I have said this a dozen times but this explains it the best, to me: in good times, we spend a little bit of money on a lot of things and get good at nothing, and in bad times, we destroy everything we just built. Who thinks that makes sense? What can we do differently?

Well, we start by looking at three things. First, budgeting. What we must do this session is comb through every budget. The three big ones: Education, Health and Human Services, and Public Safety. We have to work together.

We have to decide what we can cut, what we can reform, and what we must save.

We create a budget stabilization fund. We take 1.5 cents of every new dollar and put it into a fund so that when we have economic downturns, we are not forced to make cuts, only to rebuild programs when times get better. It means less money when times are good but less pain when times are bad. It also means that in the long run, we will save money because we will not be dismantling a program only to rebuild it again when times are good.

We set short-term and long-term spending priorities. We didn't get to last in the states' rankings in a day—we won't be first in a day. But if we do not chart a course of how we want to change the kind of state we are to improve, to make the state we love so much become better, we must engage in long term-planning.

We have to consider revenues to meet our state's priorities.

We should examine everything: uncollected taxes, how revenue is distributed between state and local government. Could consolidation of local governments yield more revenue for all? Gaps in revenues, how to address them. As I have gone across the state, I think one thing that so many people said that struck me is, "I do not know where my tax dollar goes. I do not know what goes to the city, what goes to the county, what goes to the state. I just want it all to work." That is our charge this legislative session. We have to make sure we do not lose money in the long run by implementing cuts of 36 percent overall to our state's higher education system, with both UNR and UNLV losing 50 percent.

When we face a crisis, it brings people together. Maybe that's a silver lining in today's crisis. If we focus on stabilizing the housing market, taking advantage of the stimulus money to prepare for the new green energy economy, make some cuts—but avoid draconian ones that will cost more in the long run—and overhaul our financial system, we will have done the best that we can do in this time of economic crisis.

We will come out of this economic downturn; it is just a matter of when. In the meantime, we must do all we can to focus on solutions that make sense for our state. That is what we were elected to do and that is what our state and constituents deserve. I am honored to once again serve as the Speaker of this body and pledge to each and every one of you that I will do my best to work with every single member on all the issues facing the state and collectively help us all do the best that we can in these very challenging times. Thank you for the honor of serving as your Speaker for this legislative session.

ASSEMBLYMAN OCEGUERA:

Madam Speaker, esteemed colleagues, honored guests and friends, thank you for the opportunity and privilege to make a few comments before we get down to the people's business.

Accomplishing that business in 120 days will not be an easy task. Our state and national economies are in crisis. Nevada's tourist-based revenue structure is unable to keep up with the state's basic needs. We have made severe cuts to our state. Now, additional deep cuts have been proposed which would risk the public's health and safety. I could offer up the usual list of clichés as we begin our work. I could tell you that Nevada is at a crossroads, and it is time for everyone to come to the table. But Madam Speaker and my colleagues, every time we use those clichés, we distance ourselves from the people and the real problems that they face.

Last week, during some budget hearings, a struggling father and two of his children, one in a wheelchair, shared their story of how budget cuts were making it impossible for the children to get care under the state's Medicaid program. Physicians are no longer willing or able to take new patients because of the state's appallingly low reimbursement rate. When the family was leaving the hearing room, one of the children turned and smiled and said goodbye. She may not have understood the gravity of the discussion we were having, but I think we did. We have an obligation to her and so many like her. We have an obligation to our teachers and to the children in their classrooms. We have an obligation to our college students, to our seniors, and yes, we have an obligation to businesses, large and small, that employ our citizens. We have an obligation to everyone who pays taxes when they make a purchase, when they register a car, or when they buy a home. We are not forgetting them or the difficult times in which Nevadans find themselves. The most important obligation we have—I think that any policy maker has—is to consider how our decisions affect others.

I believe, Madam Speaker, that we have reasonable people in this state. Not just in this chamber, but also our businesses and communities. They understand we cannot let political dogma and tired clichés dictate Nevada's course. That does not mean we will always agree about the solutions to the problems, but we cannot let the objections of a few keep us from making tough decisions that we are expected to make. Everyone has to compromise and be willing to give a little. That is the price of democracy. We know it will not be easy. In addition to the immediate problem of crafting a budget that at a minimum reinstates basic public service needs, we need measures that spur economic recovery, create jobs, and stabilize our neighborhoods. And if Congress does provide us with the much-needed revenue to restore the worst of the budget reductions, we cannot afford to then wipe our brows in relief and say the budget is balanced and that we can go home. If we do that, if we make no provision for the future and instead rely on the economic stimulus to bail us out, we will be back here in the next legislative session, maybe in special session, addressing the same problems and offering up the same, old clichés about tough questions and tough decisions. Yes, the decisions are tough, so let us make them and be done with it.

If we listen to one another, if we accept that we may not get everything exactly as we want, if we maintain civility even when we disagree, we can do the job. It is what we were elected to do, and that is our obligation to Nevada. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Madam Speaker, Majority Leader Oceguera, my distinguished colleagues, assembled friends and family, I will not recount what we already know and what has been foreshadowed by the speeches we have heard today as far as the state of our state.

I trust that we can all agree that the conditions are severe, the challenges daunting, the pressure mounting, and answers elusive.

Today the Democrats have majorities in both the Senate and Assembly and will be controlling the legislation in both houses.

In our chamber, we hold one-third of the seats. We are 14. Now some may suggest that given our numbers, we will not have a significant impact on legislation. But emphatically, I say not. Our caucus is diverse and we represent portions of every county in this state. We must take into account the impact of our decisions on all citizens of Nevada, from the working families of Green Valley to the retirees of Carson Valley. It is for the Nevadans of every county that we took our oath—not for the special interest groups, not for the lobbyists, and not for the partisan factions.

The challenges we face today are historic in size and scope. It is time to remember what the people of this state require of us—they want us to work for them. They want us to be good stewards of their money, and they want us to work together throughout this process.

On many decisions in the ensuing 75th Session, I can assure you that more often than not the final tally will be something other than 28-14. We Republicans are ready to support sensible legislation and will strive to put our mark on the new laws as long as they do not hurt our state. We want to be at the table, not on the sidelines.

There is a marked difference between flatly saying "no" and participating in healthy debate. It is the latter approach that we choose.

During this session, you can expect this Republican caucus and this Minority Leader to present stiff resistance to proposals that we do not believe are in the right direction for our state. However, we pledge today to work in a constructive manner with every member of this Legislature.

Now is the time to reform the way our state does business. We must define a new path that leads our state back to prosperity.

The Republican Assembly Caucus is dedicated to this task—to strengthen the future of our home, Nevada. Thank you.

COMMUNICATIONS

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

January 30, 2009

THE HONORABLE STEVEN HORSFORD, THE HONORABLE BARBARA BUCKLEY, NEVADA LEGISLATURE, 401 S. CARSON STREET, CARSON CITY, NEVADA 89701

DEAR MAJORITY LEADER HORSFORD AND SPEAKER BUCKLEY:

Enclosed please find my message to the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature. As you know, I delivered the message, as required by Article 5, Section 10 of the Nevada Constitution, on Thursday, January 15, 2009, to a gathering of your colleagues and other guests in the Assembly Chamber in Carson City.

My staff and I look forward to working with all of you during the 75th Legislative Session.

Sincerely,
JIM GIBBONS
Governor

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the Governor's State of the State Address as presented to the Legislative Commission's Special Committee to Receive the Governor's State of the State Address of January 15, 2009, be entered in the Journal.

Speaker Buckley, Majority Leader Horsford, Lt. Governor Krolicki, members of the Senate and the Assembly, Honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, Constitutional Officers, distinguished guests, and my fellow citizens: I stand here before you today, resolved to uphold the responsibility you entrusted to me to lead Nevada through good times and turbulent times. I am here to discuss the state of our state and our plan to address the challenges we are facing. But first, I would like to recognize some very special Nevadans. We have ten newly elected members of the Assembly and the Senate with us, and I would like to welcome: Shirley Breeden, Allison Copening, Paul Aizley, Marilyn Dondero Loop, Don Gustavson, John Hambrick, April Mastroluca, Richard McArthur, Ellen Spiegel, and Melissa Woodbury.

I look forward to working with each of you in this session. And to Senator Parks, I wish you the best in your new role as well.

For 17 of you, this will be your last session, as term limits will require your retirement from your current positions. Nevada has benefited tremendously from your service, and I look forward to working with you to ensure that your final session is also your finest one.

We also have with us tonight Charles Hansen, Director of Nevada State Friends for K-9. Nevada State Friends for K-9 obtained private donations from corporations and individuals to allow the Nevada Department of Public Safety to purchase its only specially trained dogs that are used to halt the flow of drugs and drug money on our highways, a vital step in our ongoing efforts to keep meth and other drugs out of the hands of our children. Since the program's inception last month, the Nevada Department of Public Safety has reported it already seized more than 6 pounds of meth, 20 pounds of marijuana, 7 pounds of ecstasy, 2 pounds of cocaine, and $450,000 in cash. This money is being deposited into a state seizure account that, over time, will allow the K-9 program to be self-funded and to become a revenue source for the state. Please join me in thanking Charles Hansen and the Nevada Friends for K-9 for their great work.

I would also like to take a moment to recognize the fine work done by the members of the California-Nevada Tahoe Basin Fire Commission over the past year and a half. That Commission was formed in response to the devastating Angora fire at Lake Tahoe during the summer of 2007. The Commission made 90 detailed recommendations, and I will be promoting legislation during the upcoming session to implement them. Several of the Commissioners—Allen Biaggi, Bud Hicks, Pete Anderson, and Leo Drozdoff—are with us tonight; thank you. So on behalf of Nevada, I do thank them and Commission Co-chair Sig Rogich and all the other Commissioners and their staff for their efforts to help preserve and protect our Lake Tahoe Basin.

We have also with us Lieutenant Colonel Daniel Waters of the Nevada Army Guard, who has served in Panama, Kosovo, and Afghanistan. Colonel, thank you for a job well done. Our country has been safer because of you and thousands of other brave members of our military forces. I, sir, salute you.

I would like now to take a moment to ask that all our veterans in the audience please stand and be recognized. As a veteran myself of two wars, I thank you on behalf of a grateful state and a grateful nation.

I also want to take a moment to acknowledge the sacrifices of those who cannot be with us here tonight—Nevada military service personnel overseas fighting the war on terror. These members of our armed forces and their families endure great hardships to protect our country and deserve our respect and thanks as well.

I also want to take this time to express our thanks to the members of the Nevada Army Guard, 1st Squadron, 221st Cavalry. This armored reconnaissance squadron, led by Lieutenant Colonel John Cunningham, is in the process of preparing for deployment to Afghanistan in late April. This deployment of 600 soldiers will be the Nevada Army Guard's largest international deployment of one unit since World War II and the fourth major mission for the 221st since 2001. In addition, about 140 soldiers from the Las Vegas-based 1864th Transportation Company will also be deploying to Iraq and Kuwait in April. Our prayers go with all of you.

Finally, I want us all to take a moment to remember our injured and fallen heroes. Many Nevadans—many of our finest— have suffered greatly while serving our country, and some have made the ultimate sacrifice for our freedom. We cannot and do not forget their sacrifices for our nation. Thank you.

Today, Nevada faces historic challenges. Every day, people in our communities are seeing their work hours cut, their benefits and retirement programs reduced or eliminated, their tip and commission income shrinking, or their jobs eliminated altogether.

Many of our fellow citizens are losing their homes, losing their retirement savings, and losing their ability to continue to work and prosper in our state.

For years, Nevada led the nation in population growth, led the nation in small business growth, and led the nation in job creation. Economic expansion brought prosperity to every sector of the economy, and our state was the envy of many.

We have been that beacon on the hill of hope for those who wanted to work hard and prosper. While right now our beacon may not be as easy to see, it is our responsibility to ensure that we can help bring back the bright light of success to shine all across this state.

As we struggle through these tough times, we need to ensure that we are positioned to regain those lofty heights that we came to take for granted for so many years.

For many years, people believed that our state was recession proof. Unfortunately, this economic downturn has shown that this simply is not the case. When the nation, and indeed the world, are in economic turmoil, Nevada is also shaken by the tremors.

In fact, Nevada has actually fared worse in this national and worldwide economic crisis than many other states. The combination of tight credit markets, sharp declines in discretionary spending, and record low consumer confidence has caused our two major industries, construction and tourism, to suffer drastic reductions. Folks, the numbers are daunting.

The visitor count to our state normally increases every year. Instead, the past 12 months, our visitor count to Las Vegas has declined by over one million people, or 3.5 percent. To visualize that number, just look at the news clips of New Year's Eve on the Strip. Officials estimate that over 290,000 people visited Las Vegas to bring in the New Year. Now just imagine it empty, and you will have a good notion of how much our visitor count deteriorated just in November alone.

Our tourism destinations in other parts of the state have also seen similar or worse declines. The Reno-Sparks area, for example, saw declines of nearly 10 percent during the past year.

The fact is that when we have declining numbers of visitors and they are spending less money when they are here, that impacts the incomes of those who work in the tourist industry as well as those who sell goods and services to those workers. It is a snowball effect that continues to impact the entire economy.

The national credit crisis has also had a huge impact on Nevada's economy. For a long time, the joke was the state bird of Nevada was the construction crane. Now, many construction projects have been scaled back or deferred because credit has dried up. Again, the loss of those construction projects has rippled through our economy.

Even our mining industry has slowed down following worldwide decreases in the price of minerals, such as copper, molybdenum, and lithium. Copper, for example, has fallen from $4.10 per pound to less than $1.50 per pound in just six months, and some Nevada mines have slowed production and laid off workers.

With major declines in our premier industries, our state's unemployment rate has nearly doubled in the last year alone. While normally we enjoy an unemployment rate that is lower than the national average, our unemployment rate at the end of November was 8 percent and significantly higher than the national average. Every 1 percent increase in unemployment means another 14,000 Nevadans have lost their jobs. Last year alone, more than 42,000 of our fellow citizens lost their livelihoods, and many of those who kept their jobs only did so with reduced hours, lower wages and fewer benefits.

Reduced income for our residents has compounded our economic downturn. Business in our local restaurants is down significantly as is business in many of our retail establishments and service industries. Some companies and casinos that have been here for decades are closing their doors or scaling back their operations. We have even seen some of our state banks file for bankruptcy or be taken over by federal regulators.

The simple fact is that for most of the last year, our residents have paid more for gas, paid more for food, paid more to heat and cool their homes, and paid more for nearly every necessity of life. When you need to use every dollar to provide the basic necessities for your family, you do not have money for the extras in life. Too many do not even have money for the basics and are making decisions between heating their homes and buying needed medications.

I was particularly struck by a recent story in the Wall Street Journal about pawnshops and about how good business was for them. It came as little surprise that the story talked about people selling or pawning items for short-term loans to pay their bills. What was a big surprise was that businesses were doing the very same thing—in some cases, pawning large and expensive equipment in order to obtain the funds needed to cover their payroll and other expenses.

Folks, these are extraordinary times. As Governor, I must, first and foremost, look at the economic situation of our people in order to determine that our state government does not "pile on" and make our citizens' problems worse.

Nevada government should meet the needs of the people; people should not meet the needs of Nevada government.

Many of Nevada's families and businesses are being stretched to their breaking point and making remarkable sacrifices in the face of the most difficult economic downturn in our lifetimes. Ladies and gentlemen, I will not ask these businesses and I will not ask these individuals to pay more when they have less.

Make no mistake about it: higher taxes will cost more Nevadans their jobs. It is not the role of state government to put people out of work. Because when all is said and done, the prosperity of our state can only be truly measured by the prosperity of our people.

This does not mean we can turn a blind eye to our challenges or our responsibilities. State revenues are down 30 percent, and we must determine how best to live within our means, just like Nevada's families and its small and large businesses are doing all across this state.

We are not the only state facing tough times, and I am not the only Governor who is balancing a tough budget. Governors across this nation are coping with declining revenues. Some Governors are looking to raise income taxes, gas taxes, property taxes, sales taxes—taxes on nearly everything that people need, buy, or own. Others are recommending that school days be limited, releasing thousands of prisoners early, drastically cutting state workforces, or saddling future generations with significant debt.

Folks, these are solutions that I just cannot accept and that Nevadans should not accept. You know, in our state, tough times mean we work harder to stretch our resources.

We showed that resourcefulness with transportation projects during the past two years. In 2007, the Legislature agreed with my proposal to increase transportation funding by reallocating existing tax revenues, instead of imposing higher fuel taxes. The widening of I-15 in Las Vegas is well underway using those revenues. Future revenues from the 2007 transportation plan will also allow expansions on U.S. 95 and Highway 395.

In the upcoming session, I will also ask the Legislature to endorse other creative and innovative ways to build critical infrastructures without raising taxes, such as public-private partnerships to add much needed traffic reduction programs throughout the state, and particularly in southern Nevada where traffic problems are the most severe.

Folks, tough times always require tough choices, and we are definitely making tough choices in this Legislative session.

Recently, the Economic Forum met and forecasted General Fund revenues for the next biennium of $5.7 billion. Now by law, as Governor I am required to use those numbers in setting a budget for submission to the Legislature.

The budget that I submit today reflects our current economic realities. It is $2.2 billion smaller than the one we submitted just two years ago. It is also a budget based on the money we have, without taking more from residents and businesses that are already making do with less. Yes, it is also a budget that requires us to live within our means.

I take no joy in submitting a budget that eliminates, reduces, or changes many things that we have grown to expect in Nevada—many things that we have taken for granted when times have been good and many programs we have added when times have been great.

Many of these decisions have been agonizingly difficult. We have spent hundreds of hours working on these numbers to create a fiscally responsible budget that sustains us through the next two years and positions the state to regain our economic footing when the national and international economy rebounds.

We also worked to ensure that we gain the greatest possible efficiencies in government, prioritizing services and making certain that each available dollar is spent wisely. And for the first time in Nevada history, all the people of our state can view this budget themselves. The entire budget has been posted online at www.NevadaSpending.com.

I promised to bring transparency to your state government, and this is one of many steps we are taking to keep that promise. I encourage all Nevadans to look at this budget and offer your suggestions to your Legislators and to my office. Folks, this is your tax money and you deserve a voice in how it is spent.

This budget does not rely on creating any entirely new tax system for our state. Our existing tax system brought us record job growth and prosperity for decades. And, quite frankly, I have yet to see an example of any state that has a tax system that brings growth during good times and remains stable during downturns.

For those who suggest that we need a new tax system, I would ask them to show me a state that has what some call a more dependable, diversified tax system and that is not having the same kinds of revenue problems that we have today.

I do propose that we establish a new spending system in our state, one that requires a stronger cap on our budget increases in good times so that we have the additional reserves needed to get us through the inevitable tough times without raising taxes.

I think it is clear; the simple fact is that higher taxes kill economic growth and job creation. And I will not raise taxes today on people and businesses that are already struggling to get through these times, jeopardizing our state's growth and our prosperity for tomorrow. Higher taxes will just fuel the downward spiral, leading to more business closings, more job losses, and more foreclosures. Nor will I support a tax that targets only our profitable companies and industries. We need to retain and we need to attract companies that offer stable, high-paying jobs, not send them to other states. I will not do it.

When I ran for Governor, I told the people of this state my views on taxes. I am honored that they elected me and trusted me to keep my promise to them.

Likewise, I will not unfairly balance this budget on the backs of those in our society who can least afford to shoulder the burden, either. We have an obligation to preserve needed services for our children, our families, our seniors, and our veterans.

For example, our Health and Human Services budget preserves benefits for those who need state services. In fact, our Health and Human Services expenditures now encompass 34 percent of our General Fund expenditures—that's compared to 28 percent in the prior budget.

We have maintained Nevada Check-Up so low-income children can receive the health care they need and deserve. We have protected the eligibility limits for our long-term care program to ensure elderly Nevadans are cared for with the respect and dignity they have earned. We have sustained our Medicaid pharmacy program to ensure people can receive the prescription drugs they need to manage their health according to their doctor's orders. And while we have had to reduce the intensity of service, our budget also recognizes the value of personal care attendants who assist our elderly and disabled citizens so they can live in their homes instead of institutions.

And we protected the Senior Property Tax Rebate Program, because so many of our most economically vulnerable seniors rely on this benefit.

We have also protected juvenile justice programs and child welfare programs. For example, Nevada's Early Intervention Services provides care for children up to age three who have developmental delays and disabilities. Unfortunately, growth in this program has exceeded its funding, and we have hundreds of children waiting to receive needed services. So I have included in my budget an additional $9 million over the biennium to absorb this waiting list and accommodate the increased caseload that we expect to see in each of the next two years.

This is difficult to add to some programs while we are taking from others, but without Early Intervention Services, many of these children would never be able to achieve their full potential. Nevada's children are our most precious resource, and I will not allow those who need our help to go without those essential services. I will not allow these children to fall through the cracks.

This budget also maintains funding for the state's Child Care Assistance Program, which helps pay a portion of the cost of child care for low-income workers.

This budget also preserves programs for mentally challenged children and adults, health programs for women, benefits for seniors, and programs for our state's veterans, to whom we all owe a great debt of gratitude. I also insisted that we protect the all-day kindergarten programs that we have in place in at-risk schools.

These programs are expensive, but we cannot responsibly cut them, either. We have an obligation to ensure that we take care of those who must depend on such vital state services.

We also have an obligation to make the best use of every tax dollar we spend. One prime example of stretching our dollars is how we have managed medications for the state's mental health programs. To this end, we are utilizing a better process for identifying clients with Medicaid, Medicare Part D, and private insurance options that will help pay for prescription drugs instead of the state bearing the burden of those costs.

We also negotiated for more free medications from pharmaceutical companies, and we are working with our doctors and physicians to ensure that they are prescribing the most economical and effective medications.

These and other measures let us save $11.4 million during the current fiscal year, and I have budgeted similar savings for each of the next two years, as well. Finding savings this way has helped us avoid major service cuts in mental health.

Our budget also recognizes that the weak economy will result in caseload increases for core services from the state. As I noted earlier, we estimate that for every 1 percent our state unemployment rate climbs, another 14,000 Nevadans will have lost their jobs. Aside from the stark effect the loss of work has on these individuals and families, there is a tremendous impact on the state's programs. For example, for that same each 1 percent of growth in unemployment, we expect nearly 17,000 new enrollees in Medicaid.

Folks, this budget projects that the number of Medicaid enrollees will climb by more than 43,000 between today and the end of the next biennium, and we expect Temporary Assistance for Needy Families to increase its enrollees by nearly one-third during that very same period. Ladies and gentlemen, all increases, all caseloads, are fully funded in this budget. I am proud that we have been able to protect and preserve core health and human services.

This budget also reflects my belief that public safety must remain a top priority, and we did not reduce funding that keeps Nevadans safe. In some cases, this meant that we had to restore some program funding, like funding for parole and probation officers, or we would be jeopardizing the safety of our citizens.

In order to be able to maintain funding for K-12 education and health and human services at viable levels, and to maintain public safety, we've had to make spending reductions in other areas.

For example, we had to reduce state funding for Nevada State Higher Education, but we kept intact our Millennium Scholarship program. While higher education reductions will bring challenges to the system, I want to note that we are still spending 13.7 percent of our total General Fund budget on higher education—now that's as compared to the national average of just 11.2 percent.

We also had to make funding reductions to our state parks and museums. However, our state and our people would lose too much if we closed these places completely, so we kept at least partial funding for these facilities so that our families and schools can still access our parks and museums.

Ladies and gentlemen, the largest budget item in our state is personnel costs, and we simply cannot afford to keep payroll costs at their current level, much less increase them.

Private businesses across the nation are laying off workers that they cannot afford to retain with their reduced revenues. I want to keep our state employees working for the people of our state. In just the last six months, our nation has escalated from an annual job loss figure of 8,000 workers to an annual job loss figure of 2.6 million workers. There are now more displaced workers today than at any point in modern history, surpassing the losses reported in every recession since 1950. Some private companies are also reducing wages and salaries by as much as 20 percent. Companies just do not have the money to maintain existing payroll costs.

Likewise, our state government also does not have the revenue to maintain its current payroll costs. But instead of massive layoffs, I want to keep our people working and minimize the financial impact as much as possible.

We really have only two choices: we can either lay people off—thousands of people—or we can keep Nevadans working. My philosophy as Governor has been and continues to be that we are served best by keeping Nevadans working. This is why we instituted a hiring freeze in the fall of 2007, when the first indications of our revenue shortfall materialized. That hiring freeze and other budget-reduction methods allowed us to preserve state jobs and minimize lay offs of our valued state workers and save money. I believed then, and I still believe now, that this approach is best for our state workers and for our people.

Today, to balance our need to reduce personnel costs with our goal of saving jobs, our budget includes a temporary 6 percent pay reduction for state employees instead of widespread layoffs.

I take no joy in asking state employees to work just as hard for the people of Nevada but for less money. And I make this pledge to our state employees and teachers: I will restore salary levels as soon as we can.

Let me tell you, I am also taking the same 6 percent reduction in my own salary, and I am asking the other constitutional officers and other branches of government do the very same.

We are also forced to freeze step increases and longevity pay. We cannot give raises with money we do not have. These increases, too, will be reinstated when we have the revenue to do so.

Only by taking these steps now can we preserve vital state services, take care of our most vulnerable citizens, and protect jobs. If we do not take the measures proposed in this budget, we will need to lay off thousands of state workers. I do not want to do that. We must keep Nevada working.

We are also going to reduce state government expenditures and expenses through agency consolidations and by elimination of duplicate service providers, for example, redundancy, and provide better services for our citizens. We can eliminate that redundancy by bringing all the various consumer affairs offices into one agency and by combining government agencies, such as Tourism and Economic Development, and the Division of Housing with the Division of Manufactured Housing.

Quite frankly, these consolidations work in the best interests of our state and should be undertaken regardless of our state's current economic condition. In good times or in tough times, wasting taxpayer money is simply wrong.

That is why I am also proposing legislation creating a Sunset Commission—to systematically review agencies, boards, and commissions to ensure that their ongoing operations and budgets are justified. The Sunset Commission will also review existing tax exemptions and abatement programs. Accountability and transparency in government is always needed, and the Sunset Commission will ensure that the SAGE Commission's work continues even after the SAGE Commission expires.

But we also need creative solutions to protect the State General Fund in the short term. That is why I am also proposing a temporary reallocation of some revenues from our most populous counties to the State General Fund to help us through these challenging times. Our state employees and teachers are being asked to do their part to help the state through this recession, and it would simply not be fair to ask them to shoulder that responsibility alone.

However, we must also remember that many of our local governments have invested significant sums in the local government investment pool, and in December the Legislature and I agreed to use that pool as collateral for a line of credit to get us, and to get this state, through the first part of 2009. It is imperative that we stand by our commitment to preserve the integrity and solvency of that pool, and that is why I have included in my budget sufficient funds to repay half of that line of credit, with the understanding that the other half will be repaid in the 2012-2013 biennium.

At the beginning of this budget process, I stated, "Everything is on the table." We had a responsibility to look at the needs of our state and the effectiveness of each and every program in order to determine how we could get where we needed to be and still provide needed services. And, folks, we did that.

Last year, I also established the SAGE Commission to look in detail at how we could save money, streamline programs, and make our state more efficient. To date, this bipartisan group of people have made outstanding savings recommendations, and I am proud to announce that this budget has benefited greatly from those recommendations.

By adopting SAGE Commission recommendations, the taxpayers of Nevada will save approximately $269 million in this budget and in excess of $600 million over the next five years. We save $157 million over the biennium just in changes to our benefits packages and also dramatically decrease our unfunded liabilities.

Folks, these are real savings for Nevada, and they allow us to ensure that our vital public services continue. I look forward to further recommendations from the SAGE Commission and will work to implement further cost savings during the next two years.

When I selected the members of the SAGE Commission, I admit that I expected such a stellar group to produce wonderful results. They are surpassing even my high expectations. This bipartisan group is volunteering their time and significant expertise for the betterment of our state. They are earning thanks from every Nevadan, and I want to make sure that my thanks are added now, tonight.

I chose the members of the SAGE Commission based on recommendations from the leaders of both parties, and we ensured that the Commission's membership included people from various political and professional backgrounds. Consequently, the SAGE Commission is an excellent example of how a bipartisan, diverse group of people can work together to solve problems and identify creative solutions. I hope that we can follow that example during the upcoming legislative session.

We needed two special sessions in the past year to address revenue shortfalls from the last budget. Many said we could not account for nearly $1.5 billion in shortfalls without raising taxes or harming state services, but folks, we did it.

We started by making across-the-board reductions, and our government agencies absorbed those reductions. We also worked on raising revenues through existing taxes.

Our tax amnesty program brought in over $40 million. Of those funds, almost $9 million of delinquent local school support taxes were collected, providing much needed relief to education funding.

But as the national and state economy continued to deteriorate, even those steps were not enough. We needed to take additional measures to balance our budget, as required by our Constitution, which is when I asked the Legislature to work with me. I reached across the aisle to work with leaders of both parties to ensure that the solutions we implemented were the best possible for our state. I pledge to do the same now, and I ask that members of the Legislature look at this budget with an open mind and in good faith. As we proved in December's special session, Nevada is served best by cooperation among her elected leaders. Grandstanding and partisan bickering helps no one in this state, and Nevadans deserve better.

I believe this budget provides a fair and responsible solution that balances the need to provide vital services with the need to reduce our spending to the level our state can afford.

I also want to let the people of our state know that we are looking beyond our borders for ways to jump-start our economy. For example, Governor Schwarzenegger and I have discussed working together on obtaining federal assistance to build a high-speed train to connect our states, which we all agree would be mutually beneficial to our citizens.

I am also reaching out to our federal representatives for help. Along with other governors of other states, I met with President-elect Obama to discuss how the federal government can best help ensure that the country recovers quickly from the economic downturn. During that meeting, I stressed that federal spending on important infrastructure projects is needed to get people back to work quickly. I also stressed that time is of the essence and that this is no time for the red tape that can delay needed action.

I would also like to take this opportunity to wish President-elect Obama every success. Folks, he will be dealing with an economic environment that is at best challenging, and we will all benefit when our nation's economy turns around.

I have also had numerous communications with members of our federal delegation concerning how federal aid and Medicaid reimbursement increases can help our state, and I am encouraged by those discussions.

While we built this budget assuming certain levels of federal funding, we are hopeful that we can obtain increased federal funding to defray some of our expenses, particularly given the severe impact of the national downturn on Nevada's economy. If this funding materializes, we can put back into our budget funding for many educational and other programs that we simply cannot afford with existing revenues.

I also pledge to you that if our economy turns around during this budget cycle, I will restore funding to programs and salary levels to our state personnel. Folks, special sessions can be called in good times as well.

I would like to take a moment to thank all of the agency heads, department heads, and cabinet members who worked so hard with me during the past few months to create this budget. I also want to single out Budget Director Andrew Clinger and his entire staff for their tireless work putting budgets together and balancing that budget under very-very trying circumstances. We have had to make some very tough decisions, and I thank Andrew, for all your hard work. We remain resolved to do our best to serve the needs of the people of our state, and I commend each person who worked with me to find these solutions.

I'm also commending the Legislature for your efforts to reduce the cost of government. Initially, the budget for this upcoming Legislative session was set at $20.5 million. But you agreed to reduce the amount appropriated in Senate Bill 1 for legislative session costs to $15 million, and I commend and thank you for that.

Now, I resolve to work with each and every one of you to meet our common goal: to ensure that Nevada provides vital services for our people while regaining positive levels of economic growth, job creation, and prosperity.

I ask that each and every one of us remember that we are all in this fiscal crisis together, and we will find the solutions together. I also want to remind everyone that this is not the first time that Nevada has faced major economic challenges. For example, Nevada faced worse problems during the mining depression of the 1880-1890s and during the Great Depression. We pulled out of the mining depression in large part based on reclamation projects that allowed agricultural development. We pulled out of the Great Depression with a combination of federal assistance, legalized gaming, and the "One Sound State" campaign, which focused on attracting businesses to Nevada by publicizing our business-friendly climate.

We also weathered the downturns in the 1980s, early 1990s, and survived the aftermath of September 11, 2001. Historically, we have emerged from economic challenges stronger through diversification. We can do the same now by focusing on developing our bountiful renewable energy resources and becoming an energy exporting state. Nevada has the talent, the expertise, the resources and creativity within its borders to not just meet our own power demands, but to export clean electricity to our neighbors.

Northern Nevada is our geothermal capital and southern Nevada is our solar capital and everywhere in between we can harness our wind resources. Our opportunities in this area are endless.

What we must do, and what I am focused on, is bridging the gap between our current capabilities and our renewable-powered future while economically meeting our current power needs.

To move to this future, we need to overcome the challenges caused by long permitting processes, inadequate transmission infrastructure, and limited incentives. We need to overcome those challenges now, or folks, in ten years, Nevada's powerful energy future will still be just talk here in our state, but reality in other states.

I spoke two years ago about making Nevada an energy-producing state, and we have not been idle since then. We are making progress in all of our major challenge areas, and my energy bill will bring us even closer to our goal. We have already streamlined Nevada's permitting process for the development of renewable energy. We also created the Renewable Energy Transmission Access Advisory Committee to identify renewable energy zones, review our current transmission capabilities, and identify ways to ensure that our renewable resources are brought efficiently and cost effectively to the market. Additionally, my 2009 energy bill is designed to push us to the leading edge of this growth industry. It includes provisions to further streamline the permitting process, particularly for small projects.

Over the years, we have learned that incentives work to help foster renewable energy investments. Therefore, as part of my energy bill, I propose to increase our renewable portfolio standards requirements and to extend our renewable energy tax credits by five more years.

I also propose that we implement other much-needed incentives to bring renewable energy development to Nevada, including economic incentives such as tax abatements for renewable energy manufacturers, renewable energy research and development, and for companies that actually build the much needed transmission lines.

Finally, we are currently in the process of creating a public-private partnership to pursue funding to build needed transmission lines. That partnership will include voices from the Executive Branch, the Legislative Branch, local government and private industry, working together to ensure that renewable energy transmission lines are built and built soon.

These kinds of economic incentives for diversification have helped Nevada pull out of recessions in the past, and I have no doubt they will bring businesses and jobs to our state now.

Considering the importance of renewable energy to our economic future and to job creation in our state, I am hoping that legislative leaders and private industry will work with me to make

Nevada a world leader in producing clean and renewable energy. We always do our best for the people of this state when a united government works with business leaders to create growth industries. Ladies and gentlemen, energy is an essential element of Nevada's future.

Even in the most trying times, I see a future filled with promise. I see a future filled with possibilities. I see a future in which we build for a better tomorrow, but never forget about the good work and endless sacrifices that provide our solid foundation.

I see a future in which pro-business and pro-resident tax structure keeps Nevadans working and a future where a smaller government means a more efficient government. I see a future in which a resilient and resourceful Nevada—a Battle Born Nevada—proves once again that her prosperity has been no accident. Her prosperity is a result of creative spirit of her people.

I am not going to stand before you this evening and tell you that the road ahead is easy or that we will all agree about how to address the very real challenges that confront us. What I will tell you is that I believe in Nevada and I believe in its people, and I am willing to work for you and with you to preserve what we all hold dear.

While no one knows exactly when this economic downturn will end, I assure you it will end. Growth, investment, and renewed consumer confidence are not going to come from my office or this chamber. They will come from you, the people of Nevada, and businesses that also believe in our state.

My pledge to you this evening is simple. I will take down whatever barriers I can, I will keep as many people working as I can, and I will do everything in my power to make tomorrow better than today.

Two years ago, I stood before you and spoke of one Nevada—a Nevada united, not one divided by regional or partisan differences.

I stand here tonight and ask again that we work together as one Nevada for our common good because only together can we ensure that our state weathers the economic storm and moves quickly to economic recovery and prosperity for all Nevada.

Thank you, God bless you, God bless Nevada, and good night.

SUPPORT OUR SCHOOLS

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Purpose. This measure provides by statute for the imposition of an additional tax on the gross receipts from the rental of transient lodging in certain counties, and for the manner in which the proceeds of the tax must be used.

Sec. 2. Chapter 244 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set fort as sections 3 and 4 of this measure.

Sec. 3. 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, in any county whose population is 300,000 or more, the board of county commissioners shall impose a tax at the rate of 3 percent of the gross receipts from the rental of transient lodging in that county. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the tax must be imposed throughout the county, including its incorporated cities, upon all persons in the business of providing lodging. The ordinance imposing the tax must include a schedule for the payment of the tax and the provisions of subsection 4.

2. If the sum of the rates of all other taxes existing on July 31,2008, and imposed by the State of Nevada or any unit of local government on the gross receipts from the rental of transient lodging in any area of the county exceeds 10 percent, the tax imposed pursuant to this section in that area must be imposed at a rate equal to the difference between 13 percent and the sum of the rates of the existing taxes. If the sum of the rates of the existing taxes in any area of the county is equal to or greater than 13 percent, no additional tax may be imposed in that area pursuant to this section. For the purposes of this section, the sum of the rates of any existing taxes must be determined as of July 31, 2008, and any increase in the rate of an existing tax after that date does not reduce the rate of the tax imposed pursuant to this section.

3. The tax imposed pursuant to this section must be collected with and in the same manner as any other tax imposed by the county on the gross receipts from the rental of transient lodging. The tax may be shown as an addition to the charge for the rental of transient lodging. The person providing the transient lodging is liable to the county for the tax whether or not it is actually collected from a paying guest.

4. If the tax imposed pursuant to this section is not paid within the time set forth in the schedule for payment, the county shall charge and collect in addition to the tax:

(a) A penalty of not more than 10 percent of the amount due, exclusive of interest, or an administrative fee established by the board of county commissioners, whichever is greater; and

(b) Interest on the amount due at the rate of not more than 1.5 percent per month or fraction thereof from the date on which the tax became due until the date of payment.

Sec. 4. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the proceeds of the tax imposed pursuant to section 3 of this measure and any applicable penalty or interest must be paid by the county treasurer to the State Treasurer for credit to the State General Fund. The county treasurer may retain from the proceeds an amount sufficient to reimburse the county for the actual cost of collecting and administering the tax, to the extent that the county incurs any cost it would not have incurred but for the enactment of this section or section 3 of this measure, but in no case exceeding the amount authorized by statute for this purpose.

Sec. 5. NRS 244.3359 is hereby amended to read as follows:

244.3359 1. A county whose population is 400,000 or more shall not impose a new tax on the rental of transient lodging or increase the rate of an existing tax on the rental of transient lodging after March 25, 1991, except pursuant to NRS 244.3351 [~~and 244.3352.~~] , 244.3352 and section 3 of this measure.

2. A county whose population is 100,000 or more but less than 400,000 shall not impose a new tax on the rental of transient lodging or increase the rate of an existig tax on the rental of transient lodging after March 25, 1991 [.] , except pursuant to section 3 of this measure.

3 . [~~The~~] Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 and sections 4 and 6 of this measure, the Legislature hereby declares that the limitation imposed by subsection 2 will not be repealed or amended except to allow the imposition of an increase in such a tax for the promotion of tourism or for the construction or operation of tourism facilities by a convention and visitors authority.

Sec. 6. Chapter 387 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the proceeds of the tax imposed pursuant to section 3 of this measure and any applicable penalty or interest must be paid by the county treasurer to the State Treasurer for credit to the State Supplemental School Support Fund, which is hereby created in the State Treasury as a special revenue fund. The county treasurer may retain from the proceeds an amount sufficient to reimburse the county for the actual cost of collecting and administering the tax, to the extent that the county incurs any cost it would not have incurred but for the enactment of this section or section 3 of this measure, but in no case exceeding the amount authorized by statute for this purpose. Any interest or other income earned on the money in the State Supplemental School Support Fund must be credited to the Fund.

2. The money in the State Supplemental School Support Fund is hereby appropriated for the operation of the school districts and charter schools of the state, as provided in this section. The money so appropriated is intended to supplement and not replace any other money appropriated, approved or authorized for expenditure to fund the operation of the public schools for kindergarten through grade 12. Any money that remains in the State Supplemental School Support Fund at the end of the fiscal year does not revert to the State General Fund, and the balance in the State Supplemental School Support Fund must be carried forward to the next fiscal year.

3. On or before February 1, May 1, August 1 and November 1 of each year, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall transfer from the State Supplemental School Support Fund all the proceeds of the tax imposed pursuant to section 3 of this measure, including any interest or other income earned thereon, and distribute the proceeds proportionally among the school districts and charter schools of the state. The proportionate amount of money distributed to each school district or charter school must be determined by dividing the number of students enrolled in the school district or charter school by the number of students enrolled in all the school districts and charter schools of the state. For the purposes of this subsection, the enrollment in each school district and the number of students who reside in the district and are enrolled in a charter school must be determined as of the last day of the first school month of the school district for the school year. This determination governs the distribution of money pursuant to this subsection until the next annual determination of enrollment is made. The Superintendent may retain from the proceeds of the tax an amount sufficient to reimburse the Superintendent for the actual cost of administering the provisions of this section, to the extent that the Superintendent incurs any cost he would not have incurred but for the enactment of this section, but in no case exceeding the amount authorized by statute for this purpose.

4. The money received by a school district or charter school from the State Supplemental School Support Fund pursuant to this section must be used to improve the achievement of students and for the payment of salaries to attract and retain qualified teachers and other employees, except administrative employees, of the school district or charter school. Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to impair or restrict the right of employees of the school district or charter school to engage in collective bargaining as provided by Chapter 288 of NRS.

5. On or before November 10 of each year, the board of trustees of each school district and the governing body of each charter school shall prepare a report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in the form prescribed by the Superintendent. The report must provide an accounting of the expenditures by the school district or charter school of the money it received from the State Supplemental School Support Fund during the preceding fiscal year.

6. As used in this section, "administrative employee" means any person who holds a license as an administrator, issued by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and is employed in that capacity by a school district or charter school.

Sec. 7. NRS 387.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.030 All money derived from interest on the State Permanent School Fund, together with all money derived from other sources provided by law, must:

1. [~~Be~~] Except as otherwise provided in section 6 of this measure, be placed in the State Distributive School Account which is hereby created in the State General Fund; and

2. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 387.528, be apportioned among the several school districts and charter schools of this State at the times and in the manner provided by law.

Sec. 8. Transitory provision.

1. Notwithstanding the expiration of section 4 of this measure on June 30,2011, any tax and any interest or penalty owing and unpaid as of that date and collected on or before October 1, 201 1, must be paid, deposited and credited to the State General Fund as provided in that section.

2. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall make the initial transfer from the State Supplemental School Support Fund, as required by section 6 of this measure, on or before February 1, 2012.

3. The board of trustees of each school district and the governing body of each charter school shall prepare their initial reports to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, as required by section 6 of this measure, on or before November 10, 2012.

Sec. 9. Effective dates; expiration of certain provisions.

1. This section and sections 1 and 10 of this measure become effective:

(a) For the purposes of any challenge to the validity or legal sufficiency of this measure or any part of it, on July 31, 2008; and

(b) For all other purposes:

(1) If subsection 2 is applicable, upon passage and approval; or

(2) If subsection 3 is applicable, upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court.

2. If this measure is enacted by the 75th Session of the Legislature and approved by the Governor as provided in subsection 3 of Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution:

(a) Sections 2 to 5, inclusive, and section 8 of this measure become effective:

(1) Upon passage and approval, for the purposes of adopting the ordinance imposing the tax; and

(2) On July 1, 2009, for all other purposes.

(b) Section 4 of this measure expires by limitation on June 30, 2011.

(c) Sections 6 and 7 of this measure become effective on July 1, 2011.

3. If this measure is not enacted and approved as provided in subsection 2, but is approved by the voters after the measure has been referred or submitted to the voters pursuant to subsection 3 of Section 18 of Article 4 or subsection 3 of Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution:

(a) Sections 2 and 3 and sections 5 to 8, inclusive, of this measure become effective:

(1) Upon the completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court, for the purposes of adopting the ordinance imposing the tax; and

(2) On January 1, 2011, for all other purposes.

(b) Section 4 of this measure shall not become effective.

Sec. 10. Severability. If any provision of this measure or its application to any person or circumstance is held to be invalid or ineffective, the invalidity or ineffectiveness must be given the narrowest possible construction and shall not affect any other provision or application of this measure.

CARSON CITY, NEVADA
CONSOLIDATED MUNICIPALITY AND STATE CAPITAL

February 2, 2009

DEAR SPEAKER BUCKLEY AND MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY:

It gives me great pleasure to join with the citizens of Carson City to extend to you and all of the members of the Nevada State Legislature our official greetings and warm welcome as we prepare for the start of the 2009 Legislative Session.

Our community, like so many areas of Nevada, is rich in history and famous for its colorful past. We are extremely proud to carry the designation "Capital City." We understand that you have many difficult issues to tackle this session and we want to ensure that your work is complemented by an enjoyable stay in our City.

We would like to invite you to attend a "welcome" reception on February 3, 2009, between 5:30 - 7:00 p.m. to be held at City Hall, 201 North Carson Street. I want to assure you we are planning a relatively low key and casual event. Our objectives are to say hello and welcome you to Carson City, and also provide an opportunity to introduce you to other elected officials and city staff - there will be no complaining! We are easy to find as we are located next to and just north of the Capitol and its silver dome which can be seen for miles, representative of government for the citizens of the Great State of Nevada.

Again, it is our pleasure to have you in our community, and we look forward to seeing you on February 3rd. If there is any way we may be of assistance to you, please do not hesitate to call on me or any member of our city's staff. Best wishes for a successful session and thank you for allowing us to be your host these next few months.

Sincerely,
ROBERT L. CROWELL
Mayor

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS

Initiative Petition No. 1—AN ACT relating to taxation; imposing an additional tax on the gross receipts from the rental of transient lodging in certain counties; providing for the use of the proceeds; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the petition be referred to the Committee on Taxation.

Motion carried.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that vetoed Assembly Bill No. 396 of the 74th Session be made a Special Order of Business for Tuesday, February 3, 2009, at 11:10 a.m.

Motion carried.

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 1—Adopting the Joint Standing Rules of the Senate and Assembly for the 75th Session of the Legislature.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly for the 75th Session of the Legislature are hereby adopted as follows:

CONFERENCE COMMITTEES

Rule No. 1. Procedure Concerning.

1. In every case of an amendment of a bill, or joint or concurrent resolution, agreed to in one House, dissented from in the other, and not receded from by the one making the amendment, each House shall appoint a committee to confer with a like committee to be appointed by the other; and the committee so appointed shall meet publicly at a convenient hour to be agreed upon by their respective chairmen and announced publicly, and shall confer upon the differences between the two Houses as indicated by the amendments made in one and rejected in the other and report as early as convenient the result of their conference to their respective Houses.

2. The report shall be made available to all members of both Houses. The whole subject matter embraced in the bill or resolution shall be considered by the committee, and it may recommend recession by either House, new amendments, new bills or resolutions, or other changes as it sees fit. New bills or resolutions so reported shall be treated as amendments unless the bills or resolutions are composed entirely of original matter, in which case they shall receive the treatment required in the respective Houses for original bills, or resolutions, as the case may be.

3. The report of a conference committee may be adopted by acclamation. The report is not subject to amendment.

4. There shall be but one conference committee on any bill or resolution. A majority of the members of a conference committee from each House must be members who voted for the passage of the bill or resolution.

MESSAGES

Rule No. 2. Biennial Message of the Governor.

Upon motion, the biennial message of the Governor must be received and read and entered in full in the Journal of proceedings.

Rule No. 2.2. Other Messages From the Governor.

Whenever a message from the Governor is received, it shall be read and entered in full in the Journal of proceedings.

Rule No. 2.4. Proclamation by the Governor Convening Special Session.

Proclamations by the Governor convening the Legislature in special session must, by direction of the presiding officer of each House, be read immediately after the convening of the special session, and must be filed and entered in the Journal of proceedings.

Rule No. 2.6. Messages Between Houses.

Messages from the Senate to the Assembly shall be delivered by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary, and messages from the Assembly to the Senate shall be delivered by the Chief Clerk or Assistant Chief Clerk.

NOTICE OF FINAL ACTION

Rule No. 3. Communications.

Each House shall communicate its final action on any bill or resolution, or matter in which the other may be interested, by written notice. Each such notice sent by the Senate must be signed by the Secretary of the Senate, or a person designated by the Secretary. Each such notice sent by the Assembly must be signed by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly, or a person designated by the Chief Clerk.

BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

Rule No. 4. Signature.

Each enrolled bill or joint resolution shall be presented to the presiding officers of both Houses for signature. They shall, after an announcement of their intention to do so is made in open session, sign the bill or joint resolution and their signatures shall be followed by those of the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Rule No. 5. Joint Sponsorship.

1. A bill or resolution introduced by a standing committee of the Senate or Assembly may, at the direction of the chairman of the committee, set forth the name of a standing committee of the other House as a joint sponsor, if a majority of all members appointed to the committee of the other House votes in favor of becoming a joint sponsor of the bill or resolution. The name of the committee joint sponsor must be set forth on the face of the bill or resolution immediately below the date on which the bill or resolution is introduced.

2. A bill or resolution introduced by one or more Legislators elected to one House may, at the direction of the Legislator who brings the bill or resolution forward for introduction, set forth the names of one or more Legislators who are members elected to the other House and who wish to be primary joint sponsors or non-primary joint sponsors of the bill or resolution. Not more than five Legislators from each House may be set forth on the face of a bill or resolution as primary joint sponsors. The names of each primary joint sponsor and non-primary joint sponsor must be set forth on the face of the bill or resolution in the following order immediately below the date on which the bill or resolution is introduced:

(a) The name of each primary joint sponsor, in the order indicated on the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution; and

(b) The name of each non-primary joint sponsor, in alphabetical order.

3. The Legislative Counsel shall not cause to be printed the name of a standing committee as a joint sponsor on the face of a bill or resolution unless the chairman of the committee has signed his name next to the name of the committee on the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution that was submitted to the front desk of the House of origin or the statement required by subsection 5. The Legislative Counsel shall not cause to be printed the name of a Legislator as a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor on the face of a bill or resolution unless the Legislator has signed the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution that was submitted to the front desk of the House of origin or the statement required by subsection 5.

4. Upon introduction, any bill or resolution that sets forth the names of primary joint sponsors or non-primary joint sponsors, or both, must be numbered in the same numerical sequence as other bills and resolutions of the same House of origin are numbered.

5. Once a bill or resolution has been introduced, a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor may only be added or removed by amendment of the bill or resolution. An amendment which proposes to add or remove a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor must not be considered by the House of origin of the amendment unless a statement requesting the addition or removal is attached to the copy of the amendment submitted to the front desk of the House of origin of the amendment. If the amendment proposes to add or remove a Legislator as a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor, the statement must be signed by that Legislator. If the amendment proposes to add or remove a standing committee as a joint sponsor, the statement must be signed by the chairman of the committee.

A copy of the statement must be transmitted to the Legislative Counsel if the amendment is adopted.

6. An amendment that proposes to add or remove a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor may include additional proposals to change the substantive provisions of the bill or resolution or may be limited only to the proposal to add or remove a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor.

PRINTING

Rule No. 6. Ordering and Distribution.

Each House may order the printing of bills introduced, reports of its own committees, and other matter pertaining to that House only; but no other printing may be ordered except by a concurrent resolution passed by both Houses. Each Senator is entitled to the free distribution of four copies of each bill introduced in each House, and each Assemblyman to such a distribution of two copies. Additional copies of such bills may be distributed at a charge to the person to whom they are addressed. The amount charged for distribution of the additional copies must be determined by the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau to approximate the cost of handling and postage for the entire session.

RESOLUTIONS

Rule No. 7. Types, Usage and Approval.

1. A joint resolution must be used to:

(a) Propose an amendment to the Nevada Constitution.

(b) Ratify a proposed amendment to the United States Constitution.

(c) Address the President of the United States, Congress, either House or any committee or member of Congress, any department or agency of the Federal Government, or any other state of the Union.

2. A concurrent resolution must be used to:

(a) Amend these Joint Rules.

(b) Request the return from the Governor of an enrolled bill for further consideration.

(c) Request the return from the Secretary of State of an enrolled joint or concurrent resolution for further consideration.

(d) Resolve that the return of a bill from one House to the other House is necessary and appropriate.

(e) Express facts, principles, opinion and purposes of the Senate and Assembly.

(f) Establish a joint committee of the two Houses.

(g) Direct the Legislative Commission to conduct an interim study.

3. A concurrent resolution or a resolution of one House may be used to:

(a) Memorialize a former member of the Legislature or other notable or distinguished person upon his death.

(b) Congratulate or commend any person or organization for a significant and meritorious accomplishment, but any request for drafting the resolution must be approved by the Senate Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections or the Assembly Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments before submission to the Legislative Counsel.

4. A resolution of one House may be used to request the return from the Secretary of State of an enrolled resolution of the same House for further consideration.

VETOES

Rule No. 8. Special Order.

1. Bills which have passed the Legislature, and which are returned after the Governor's disapproval, or veto of the same, shall:

(a) Be taken up and considered immediately upon the coming in of the message transmitting the same; or

(b) Become the subject of a special order.

2. When the message is received or, if made a special order, when the special order for their consideration is reached and called, the said message or statement shall be read, together with the bill or bills so disposed or vetoed; and the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly shall, without interruption, read the message and the bill consecutively, the bill following the message; and the message and the bill must not be read upon separate occasions; and no such bill or message shall be referred to any committee, or otherwise acted upon, save as provided by law and custom; that is to say, that immediately following such reading the only question (except as hereinafter stated) which shall be put by the Chair is, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

3. It shall not be in order, at any time, to vote upon such vetoed bill without the same shall have first been read; and no motion shall be entertained after the Chair has stated the question save a motion for "The previous question," but the merits of the bill itself may be debated.

ADJOURNMENT

Rule No. 9. Limitations and Calculation of Duration.

1. In calculating the permissible duration of an adjournment for 3 days or less, the day of adjournment must not be counted but the day of the next meeting must be counted, and Sunday must not be counted.

2. The Legislature may adjourn for more than 3 days by motion based on mutual consent of the Houses or by concurrent resolution. One or more such adjournments, for a total of not more than 20 days during any regular session, may be taken to permit standing committees, select committees or the Legislative Counsel Bureau to prepare the matters respectively entrusted to them for the consideration of the Legislature as a whole.

Rule No. 9.5. Adjournment Sine Die.

1. The Legislature shall not take any action on a bill or resolution after midnight Pacific Daylight Time on the 120th calendar day of session.

2. A Legislator shall not take any action to impede the progress of the Legislature in completing its business by the time specified in subsection 1.

3. Any action taken in violation of subsection 2 shall be deemed out of order.

EXPENDITURES FROM THE LEGISLATIVE FUND

Rule No. 10. Manner of Authorization.

Except for routine salary, travel, equipment and operating expenses, no expenditures shall be made from the Legislative Fund without the authority of a concurrent resolution regularly adopted by the Senate and Assembly.

LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION

Rule No. 11. Membership and Organization.

1. When members of the minority party in the Senate or in the Assembly comprise one-third or less of the total number elected to that House, minority party membership for that House on the Legislative Commission must be:

(a) One, if such membership is less than one-fifth of the total number elected to that House.

(b) Two, if such membership is at least one-fifth but not more than one-third of the total number elected to that House. If the members of the minority party in the Senate or in the Assembly comprise more than one-third of the total number elected to that House, minority party membership for that House on the Commission must be three, being equal to the membership of the majority party.

2. Each House shall select one or more alternate members for each member from that House, designating them according to party or according to the individual member whom the alternate would replace.

3. A vacancy in the regular Senate or Assembly membership created by death or by resignation or by the Legislator's ceasing to be a member of the Legislature shall be filled by the proper alternate member as designated by that House. If there is no proper alternate member, the Legislative Commission shall fill the vacancy by appointing a Senator or Assemblyman of the same party.

4. If for any reason a member is or will be absent from a meeting and there are no alternates available, the Chairman of the Commission may appoint a member of the same House and political party to attend the meeting as an alternate.

5. The members shall serve until their successors are appointed by resolution as provided in NRS 218.660, except that the membership of any member who does not become a candidate for reelection or who is defeated for reelection shall terminate on the day next after the election and the vacancy shall be filled as provided in this Rule.

6. The Chairman shall be selected at the first meeting of the newly formed Legislative Commission and shall serve until his successor is appointed following the formation of the next Legislative Commission.

RECORDS OF COMMITTEE PROCEEDINGS

Rule No. 12. Duties of Secretary of Committee and Director.

1. Each standing committee of the Legislature shall cause a record to be made of the proceedings of its meetings.

2. The secretary of a standing committee shall:

(a) Label each record with the date, time and place of the meeting and also indicate on the label the numerical sequence in which the record was made;

(b) Keep the records in chronological order; and

(c) Deposit the records upon completion with the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau.

3. The Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau shall:

(a) Make the records available for accessing by any person during office hours under such reasonable conditions as he may deem necessary;

(b) Retain the records for two bienniums and at the end of that period keep some form or copy of the record in any manner he deems reasonable to ensure access to the record in the foreseeable future.

LIMITATIONS ON INTRODUCTION AND REQUESTS FOR DRAFTING OF LEGISLATIVE MEASURES

Rule No. 14. Limitations on Drafting and Requirements for Introduction; Duplicative Measures; Indication of Requester on Committee Introductions.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5 and Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14.4, 14.5 and 14.6, after a regular legislative session has convened, the Legislative Counsel shall honor, if submitted before 5 p.m. on the 8th calendar day of the legislative session, not more than:

(a) Two requests from each Assemblyman; and

(b) Four requests from each Senator,

➥ for the drafting of a bill or resolution.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 4 and 5 and Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14.4, 14.5 and 14.6, after a regular legislative session has convened, the Legislative Counsel shall honor, if submitted before 5 p.m. on the 19th calendar day of the legislative session, not more than 50 requests, in total, from the standing committees of each House for the drafting of a bill or joint resolution. The Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly shall, not later than the 1st calendar day of the legislative session, determine and provide the Legislative Counsel with a written list of the number of requests for the drafting of a bill that may be submitted by each standing committee of their respective Houses, within the limit provided by this subsection. The lists may be revised any time before the 19th day of the legislative session to reallocate any unused requests or requests which were withdrawn before drafting began on the request.

3. A request for the drafting of a bill or resolution that is submitted by a standing committee pursuant to this section must be approved by a majority of all of the members appointed to the committee before the request is submitted to the Legislative Counsel.

4. A standing committee may only request the drafting of a bill or resolution or introduce a bill or resolution that is within the jurisdiction of the standing committee.

5. The Legislative Counsel shall not honor a request for the drafting of a bill or resolution submitted by a member or standing committee of the Senate or Assembly unless such information as is required to draft the measure is submitted to the Legislative Counsel with the request.

6. A measure introduced by a standing committee at the request of a Legislator or organization must indicate the Legislator or organization at whose request the measure was drafted.

7. The following measures must be introduced by a standing committee:

(a) Measures drafted at the request of agencies and officers of the Executive Branch of State Government, local governments, the courts and other authorized nonlegislative requesters.

(b) Measures requested by statutory committees and interim legislative studies.

(c) Bills requested by a standing committee, or by persons designated to request measures on behalf of a standing committee during the interim. Bills requested by or on behalf of a standing committee must be introduced by that committee.

8. Resolutions requested by or on behalf of a standing committee may be introduced by an individual member.

9. If two or more measures are being considered in the same House which are substantively duplicative, only the measure which has been assigned the lowest number for the purpose of establishing its priority in drafting may be considered, unless the measure with the lowest number is not introduced within 5 days after introduction of a measure with a higher number.

10. A Legislator may not change the subject matter of a request for a legislative measure after it has been submitted for drafting.

Rule No. 14.2. Limitations on Time for Introduction of Legislation.

1. Except as otherwise provided in Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14.4, 14.5 and 14.6:

(a) Unless the provisions of paragraph (b) or (c) are applicable, a bill or joint resolution may only be introduced on or before:

(1) The 10th calendar day following delivery of the introductory copy of the bill or joint resolution; or

(2) The last day for introduction of the bill or joint resolution as required by paragraph (d),

➥ whichever is earlier.

(b) If a bill or joint resolution requires revision after the introductory copy has been delivered, such information as is required to draft the revision must be submitted to the Legislative Counsel before the 10th calendar day following delivery of the introductory copy of the bill or joint resolution. The revised bill or joint resolution may only be introduced on or before:

(1) The 15th calendar day following delivery of the original introductory copy of the bill or joint resolution; or

(2) The last day for introduction of the bill or joint resolution as required by paragraph (d),

➥ whichever is earlier.

(c) If the bill or joint resolution requires a second or subsequent revision, such information as is required to draft the revision must be submitted to the Legislative Counsel before the 15th calendar day following delivery of the original introductory copy of the bill or joint resolution. A bill or joint resolution revised pursuant to this subsection may only be introduced on or before:

(1) The 20th calendar day following delivery of the original introductory copy of the bill or joint resolution; or

(2) The last day for introduction of the bill or joint resolution as required by paragraph (d),

➥ whichever is earlier.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, the last day for introduction of a bill or joint resolution that was requested by:

(1) A Legislator is the 43rd calendar day of the legislative session.

(2) A standing or interim committee or other requester is the 50th calendar day of the legislative session.

2. The Legislative Counsel shall indicate on the face of the introductory copy of each bill or joint resolution the final date on which the bill or joint resolution may be introduced.

3. If the final date on which the bill or joint resolution may be introduced falls upon a day on which the House in which the bill or joint resolution is to be introduced is not in session, the bill or joint resolution may be introduced on the next day that the House is in session.

SCHEDULE FOR ENACTMENT OF BILLS

Rule No. 14.3. Final Dates for Action by Standing Committees and Houses.

Except as otherwise provided in Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14.4, 14.5 and 14.6:

1. The final standing committee to which a bill or joint resolution is referred in its House of origin may only take action on the bill or joint resolution on or before the 68th calendar day of the legislative session. A bill may be re-referred after that date only to the Committee on Finance or the Committee on Ways and Means and only if the bill is exempt pursuant to subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.6.

2. Final action on a bill or joint resolution may only be taken by the House of origin on or before the 79th calendar day of the legislative session.

3. The final standing committee to which a bill or joint resolution is referred in the second House may only take action on the bill or joint resolution on or before the 103rd calendar day of the legislative session. A bill may be re-referred after that date only to the Committee on Finance or the Committee on Ways and Means and only if the bill is exempt pursuant to subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.6.

4. Final action on a bill or joint resolution may only be taken by the second House on or before the 110th calendar day of the legislative session.

➥ No notice of reconsideration of any final vote on a bill or joint resolution is in order on the last day on which final action is allowed.

Rule No. 14.4. Emergency Requests.

1. After a legislative session has convened:

(a) The Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly may each submit to the Legislative Counsel, on his own behalf or on the behalf of another Legislator or a standing committee of the Senate or Assembly, not more than five requests for the drafting of a bill or resolution.

(b) The Minority Leader of the Senate and the Minority Leader of the Assembly may each submit to the Legislative Counsel, on his own behalf or on the behalf of another Legislator or a standing committee of the Senate or Assembly, not more than two requests for the drafting of a bill or resolution.

2. A request submitted pursuant to subsection 1:

(a) May be submitted at any time during the legislative session and is not subject to any of the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14, subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.2 and Joint Standing Rule No. 14.3.

(b) Is in addition to, and not in lieu of, any other requests for the drafting of a bill or resolution that are authorized to be submitted to the Legislative Counsel by the Majority Leader of the Senate, Speaker of the Assembly, Minority Leader of the Senate or Minority Leader of the Assembly.

3. The list of requests for the preparation of legislative measures prepared pursuant to NRS 218.2475 must include the phrase "EMERGENCY REQUEST OF" and state the title of the person who requested each bill or resolution pursuant to this Rule. If the request was made on behalf of another Legislator or a standing committee, the list must also include the name of the Legislator or standing committee on whose behalf the bill or resolution was requested.

4. The Legislative Counsel shall cause to be printed on the face of the introductory copy of all reprints of each bill or resolution requested pursuant to this Rule the phrase "EMERGENCY REQUEST OF" and state the title of the person who requested the bill or resolution.

Rule No. 14.5. Waivers.

1. At the request of a Legislator or a standing or select committee of the Senate or Assembly, subsection 1 or 2 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14, subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.2 or any of the provisions of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.3, or any combination thereof, may be waived by the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly, acting jointly, at any time during a legislative session. A request for a waiver submitted by a committee must be approved by a majority of all members appointed to the committee before the request is submitted to the Majority Leader and the Speaker.

2. A waiver granted pursuant to subsection 1:

(a) Must be in writing, executed on a form provided by the Legislative Counsel, and signed by the Majority Leader and the Speaker.

(b) Must indicate the date on which the waiver is granted.

(c) Must indicate the Legislator or committee on whose behalf the waiver is being granted.

(d) Must include the bill number for which the waiver is granted or indicate that the Legislative Counsel is authorized to accept and honor a request for a new bill or resolution.

(e) Must indicate the provisions to which the waiver applies.

(f) May include the conditions under which the bill for which the waiver is being granted must be introduced and processed.

3. The Legislative Counsel shall not honor a request for the drafting of a new bill or resolution for which a waiver is granted pursuant to this Rule unless such information as is required to draft the bill or resolution is submitted to the Legislative Counsel within 2 calendar days after the date on which the waiver is granted.

4. Upon the receipt of a written waiver granted pursuant to this Rule, the Legislative Counsel shall transmit a copy of the waiver to the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly. The notice that a waiver has been granted for an existing bill must be read on the floor and entered in the Journal, and a notation that the waiver was granted must be included as a part of the history of the bill on the next practicable legislative day. A notation that a waiver was granted authorizing a new bill or resolution must be included as a part of the history of the bill or resolution after introduction.

5. The Legislative Counsel shall secure the original copy of the waiver to the official cover of the bill or resolution.

6. No notice of reconsideration of any final vote on a bill is in order on the last day on which final action is allowed by a waiver.

Rule No. 14.6. Exemptions.

1. Upon request of the draft by or referral to the Senate Finance Committee or the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means, a bill which:

(a) Contains an appropriation; or

(b) Has been determined by the Fiscal Analysis Division to:

(1) Authorize the expenditure by a state agency of sums not appropriated from the State General Fund or the State Highway Fund;

(2) Create or increase any significant fiscal liability of the State;

(3) Implement a budget decision; or

(4) Significantly decrease any revenue of the State,

➥ is exempt from the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14, subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.2 and Joint Standing Rule No. 14.3. The Fiscal Analysis Division shall give notice to the Legislative Counsel to cause to be printed on the face of the bill the term "exempt" for any bills requested by the Senate Finance Committee or Assembly Committee on Ways and Means that have been determined to be exempt and shall give written notice to the Legislative Counsel, Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly of any bill which is determined to be exempt or eligible for exemption after it is printed. When a bill is determined to be exempt or eligible for an exemption after the bill was printed a notation must be included as a part of the history of the bill on the next practicable legislative day. The term "exempt" must be printed on the face of all reprints of the bill after the bill becomes exempt.

2. Unless exempt pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection 1, all of the provisions of Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14, 14.2 and 14.3 apply to a bill until the bill becomes exempt pursuant to subsection 1. A bill that has become exempt does not lose the exemption regardless of subsequent actions taken by the Legislature.

3. A cumulative list of all bills determined by the Fiscal Analysis Division pursuant to subsection 1 to be exempt or eligible for exemption after being printed must be maintained and printed in the back of the list of requests for the preparation of legislative measures prepared pursuant to NRS 218.2475.

4. The provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14, subsection 1 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.2 and Joint Standing Rule No. 14.3 do not apply to:

(a) A measure that primarily relates to carrying out the business of the Legislature.

(b) A bill returned from enrollment for a technical correction.

(c) A bill that was previously enrolled but, upon request of the Legislature, has been returned from the Governor for further consideration.

Rule No. 14.7. Amendments.

1. The Legislative Counsel shall not honor a request for the drafting of an amendment to a bill or resolution if the subject matter of the amendment is independent of, and not specifically related and properly connected to, the subject that is expressed in the title of the bill or resolution.

2. For the purposes of this Rule, an amendment is independent of, and not specifically related and properly connected to, the subject that is expressed in the title of a bill or resolution if the amendment relates only to the general, single subject that is expressed in that title and not to the specific whole subject matter embraced in the bill or resolution.

3. This Rule must be narrowly construed to carry out the purposes for which it was adopted which is to ensure the effectiveness of the limitations set forth in Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14, 14.2 and 14.3.

CONTINUATION OF LEADERSHIP OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY DURING THE INTERIM BETWEEN SESSIONS

Rule No. 15. Tenure and Performance of Statutory Duties.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 2 and 3, the tenure of the President Pro Tem, Majority Leader and Minority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker, Speaker Pro Tem, Majority Floor Leader and Minority Floor Leader of the Assembly extends during the interim between regular sessions of the Legislature.

2. The Senators designated to be the President Pro Tem, Majority Leader and Minority Leader for the next succeeding regular session shall perform any statutory duty required in the period between the time of their designation after the general election and the organization of the next succeeding regular session of the Legislature if the Senator formerly holding the respective position is no longer a Legislator.

3. The Assemblymen designated to be the Speaker, Speaker Pro Tem, Majority Floor Leader and Minority Floor Leader for the next succeeding regular session shall perform any statutory duty required in the period between the time of their designation after the general election and the organization of the next succeeding regular session.

Rule No. 16. Reserved.

DATE OF FIRST JOINT BUDGET HEARING

Rule No. 17. Requirement.

The first joint meeting of the Senate Standing Committee on Finance and the Assembly Standing Committee on Ways and Means to consider the budgets of the agencies of the State must be held on or before the 92nd calendar day of the regular session.

CRITERIA FOR REVIEWING BILLS THAT REQUIRE POLICIES OF HEALTH INSURANCE TO PROVIDE COVERAGE FOR CERTAIN TREATMENT OR SERVICES

Rule No. 18. Topics of Consideration.

Any standing committee of the Senate or Assembly to which a bill is referred requiring a policy of health insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this State to provide coverage for any treatment or service shall review the bill giving consideration to:

1. The level of public demand for the treatment or service for which coverage is required and the extent to which such coverage is needed in this State;

2. The extent to which coverage for the treatment or service is currently available;

3. The extent to which the required coverage may increase or decrease the cost of the treatment or service;

4. The effect the required coverage will have on the cost of obtaining policies of health insurance in this State;

5. The effect the required coverage will have on the cost of health care provided in this State; and

6. Such other considerations as are necessary to determine the fiscal and social impact of requiring coverage for the treatment or service.

INTERIM FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS OF LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEES

Rule No. 19. Date for Reporting.

Each legislative committee that adopted any findings or recommendations during the interim since the last regular session of the Legislature shall, no later than the 14th calendar day of the regular session, inform interested members of the Senate and Assembly of those findings and recommendations.

POLICY AND PROCEDURES REGARDING SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Rule No. 20. Maintenance of Working Environment; Procedure for Filing, Investigating and Taking Remedial Action on Complaints.

1. The Legislature hereby declares its intention to maintain a working environment which is free from sexual harassment. This policy applies to all Legislators and lobbyists. Each member and lobbyist is responsible to conduct himself or herself in a manner which will ensure that others are able to work in such an environment.

2. In accordance with Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, for the purposes of this Rule, "sexual harassment" means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

(a) Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of a person's employment;

(b) Submission to or rejection of such conduct by a person is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the person; or

(c) Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with a person's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

3. Each person subject to these Rules must exercise his own good judgment to avoid engaging in conduct that may be perceived by others as sexual harassment. The following noninclusive list provides illustrations of conduct that the Legislature deems to be inappropriate:

(a) Verbal conduct such as epithets, derogatory comments, slurs or unwanted sexual advances, invitations or comments;

(b) Visual conduct such as derogatory posters, photography, cartoons, drawings or gestures;

(c) Physical conduct such as unwanted touching, blocking normal movement or interfering with the work directed at a person because of his sex;

(d) Threats and demands to submit to sexual requests to keep a person's job or avoid some other loss, and offers of employment benefits in return for sexual favors; and

(e) Retaliation for opposing, reporting or threatening to report sexual harassment, or for participating in an investigation, proceeding or hearing conducted by the Legislature or the Nevada Equal Rights Commission or the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission,

➥ when submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of a person's employment or submission to or rejection of such conduct by a person is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the person or such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with a person's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

4. A person may have a claim of sexual harassment even if he has not lost a job or some other economic benefit. Conduct that impairs a person's ability to work or his emotional well-being at work constitutes sexual harassment.

5. If a Legislator believes he is being sexually harassed on the job, he may file a written complaint with:

(a) The Speaker of the Assembly;

(b) The Majority Leader of the Senate; or

(c) The Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, if the complaint involves the conduct of the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate.

➥ The complaint must include the details of the incident or incidents, the names of the persons involved and the names of any witnesses.

6. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate, as appropriate, shall refer a complaint received pursuant to subsection 5 to a committee consisting of Legislators of the same House. A complaint against a lobbyist may be referred to a committee in either House.

7. If the complaint involves the conduct of the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate, the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau shall refer the complaint to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments of the Assembly or the Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections of the Senate, as appropriate. If the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate is a member of one of these committees, the Speaker or the Majority Leader, as the case may be, shall not participate in the investigation and resolution of the complaint.

8. The committee to which the complaint is referred shall immediately conduct a confidential and discreet investigation of the complaint. As a part of the investigation, the committee shall notify the accused of the allegations. The committee shall facilitate a meeting between the complainant and the accused to allow a discussion of the matter, if both agree. If the parties do not agree to such a meeting, the committee shall request statements regarding the complaint from each of the parties. Either party may request a hearing before the committee. The committee shall make its determination and inform the complainant and the accused of its determination as soon as practicable after it has completed its investigation.

9. If the investigation reveals that sexual harassment has occurred, the Legislature will take appropriate disciplinary or remedial action, or both. The committee shall inform the complainant of any action taken. The Legislature will also take any action necessary to deter any future harassment.

10. The Legislature will not retaliate against a person who files a complaint and will not knowingly permit any retaliation by the person's supervisors or coworkers.

11. The Legislature encourages a person to report any incident of sexual harassment immediately so that the complaint can be quickly and fairly resolved.

12. Action taken by a complainant pursuant to this Rule does not prohibit the complainant from also filing a complaint of sexual harassment with the Nevada Equal Rights Commission or the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

13. All Legislators and lobbyists are responsible for adhering to the provisions of this policy. The prohibitions against engaging in sexual harassment and the protections against becoming a victim of sexual harassment set forth in this policy apply to employees, Legislators, lobbyists, vendors, contractors, customers and visitors to the Legislature.

14. This policy does not create any enforceable legal rights in any person.

VOTE ON GENERAL APPROPRIATION BILL

Rule No. 21. Waiting Period Between Introduction and Final Passage.

A period of at least 24 hours must elapse between the introduction of the general appropriation bill and a vote on its final passage by its House of origin.

USE OF LOCK BOXES BY STATE AGENCIES

Rule No. 22. Duties of Senate Standing Committee on Finance and Assembly Standing Committee on Ways and Means.

To expedite the deposit of state revenue, the Senate Standing Committee on Finance and the Assembly Standing Committee on Ways and Means shall, when reviewing the proposed budget of a state agency which collects state revenue, require if practicable, the agency to deposit revenue that it has received within 24 hours after receipt. The Committees shall allow such agencies to deposit the revenue directly or contract with a service to deposit the revenue within the specified period.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 1 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Resolution No. 1—Adopting the Standing Rules of the Assembly for the 75th Session of the Legislature.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That the Assembly Standing Rules are hereby adopted for the 75th Session of the Legislature as follows:

I. OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Duties of Officers

Rule No. 1. Speaker of the Assembly.

1. All officers of the Assembly are subordinate to the Speaker in all that relates to the prompt, efficient and correct discharge of their official duties under the Speaker's supervision.

2. Possessing the powers and performing the duties described in this Rule, the Speaker shall:

(a) Take the chair at the hour to which the Assembly stands adjourned, call the members to order, and upon the appearance of a quorum, proceed to business.

(b) Preserve order and decorum and have general direction of the Chamber of the Assembly and the approaches thereto. In the event of any disturbance or disorderly conduct therein, order the same to be cleared.

(c) Decide all questions of order, subject to a member's right to appeal to the Assembly. On appeal from such decisions, the Speaker has the right, in the Speaker's place, to assign the reason for the decision.

(d) Have the right to name any member to perform the duties of the Chair, but such substitution must not extend beyond one legislative day.

(e) Have the power to accredit the persons who act as representatives of the news media and assign them seats.

(f) Sign all bills and resolutions passed by the Legislature as provided by law.

(g) Sign all subpoenas issued by the Assembly.

(h) Receive all messages and communications from other departments of the government and announce them to the Assembly.

(i) Represent the Assembly, declare its will and in all things obey its commands.

(j) Vote on final passage of a bill or resolution, but the Speaker shall not be required to vote in ordinary legislative proceedings except where the Speaker's vote would be decisive. In all yea and nay votes, the Speaker's name must be called last.

3. If a vacancy occurs in the office of Speaker, through death, resignation or disability of the Speaker, the Speaker Pro Tempore shall temporarily and for the period of vacancy or disability conduct the necessary business of the Assembly.

4. If a permanent vacancy occurs in the office of Speaker, the Assembly shall select a new Speaker.

Rule No. 2. Reserved.

Rule No. 3. Chief Clerk.

1. The Chief Clerk is elected by the Assembly and is responsible to the Speaker.

2. The Chief Clerk shall recruit, select, train and supervise all attaches employed to assist with the work of the Assembly.

3. The Chief Clerk shall administer the daily business of the Assembly.

4. The Chief Clerk shall adopt such administrative policies as she deems necessary to carry out the business of the Assembly.

Rule No. 4. Reserved.

Rule No. 5. Reserved.

Rule No. 6. Reserved.

The next rule is 10.

II. SESSIONS AND MEETINGS

Rule No. 10. Time of Meeting.

The Assembly shall meet each day at 11 a.m., unless the Assembly adjourns to some other hour.

Rule No. 11. Open Meetings.

All meetings of the Assembly and its committees must be open to the public.

Rule No. 12. Reserved.

The next rule is 20.

III. DECORUM AND DEBATE

Rule No. 20. Points of Order.

If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the Assembly, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain; and if called to order by a member, such member shall immediately state the point of order. If the point of order be sustained by the presiding officer, the member shall not be allowed to proceed; but if it be not sustained, then he shall be permitted to go on. Every such decision from the presiding officer shall be subject to an appeal to the House; but no discussion of the question of order shall be allowed unless an appeal be taken from the decision of the presiding officer.

Rule No. 21. Portable Electronic Communication Devices.

1. A person who is within the Assembly Chambers or within an Assembly committee room shall not engage in a telephone conversation via the use of a portable telephone.

2. Before entering the Assembly Chambers or an Assembly committee room, any person who possesses a portable electronic communication device, such as a pager or telephone, that emits an audible alert, such as a ringing or beeping sound, to signal an incoming message or call, shall turn the audible alert off. A device that contains a nonaudible alert, such as a silent vibration, may be operated in a nonaudible manner within the Assembly Chambers or within an Assembly committee room.

Rule No. 22. Reserved.

Rule No. 23. Select Committee on Ethics; Legislative Ethics.

1. The Select Committee on Ethics consists of:

(a) Two members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker from the majority political party;

(b) One member of the Assembly appointed by the Minority Leader from the minority political party; and

(c) Three qualified electors of the State, two of whom are appointed by the Speaker and one who is appointed by the Minority Leader, and none of whom is a present member of the Legislature or employed by the State of Nevada.

2. The Speaker shall appoint the Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Committee. The Vice Chairman shall serve as the acting Chairman if the Chairman is unable to serve for any reason during the consideration of a specific question.

3. The Speaker shall appoint an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (a) of subsection 1 and an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1. The Minority Leader shall appoint an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (b) of subsection 1 and an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1. If a member of the Committee is unable to serve for any reason during the consideration of a specific question, the alternate appointed with the qualifications from the same paragraph in subsection 1 shall serve as a member of the Committee during the consideration of the specific question.

4. A member of the Committee is disqualified to serve during the consideration of a specific question if:

(a) The member is the requester of advice concerning the question of ethics or conflict of interest, or the member is the subject of the complaint concerning the specific question; or

(b) A reasonable person in the member's situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.

5. The Committee:

(a) May hear requests brought by members of the Assembly for advice on specific questions of potential breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest; and

(b) Shall hear complaints brought by members of the Assembly and others on specific questions of alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest.

6. All proceedings held to consider the character, alleged misconduct, professional competence or physical or mental health of any person by the Committee on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest are confidential unless a Legislator:

(a) Against whom a complaint is brought requests a public hearing;

(b) Discloses the content of an opinion of the Committee at any time after his hearing; or

(c) Discloses the content of an advisory opinion issued to him by the Committee.

7. A complaint which alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest must be:

(a) Made in writing on a form provided by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly;

(b) Signed and verified under penalty of perjury by the person making the allegation; and

(c) Filed with the Chairman of the Committee or, if the Chairman is the subject of the complaint, with the Vice Chairman. The Chairman or Vice Chairman, as appropriate, shall send a copy of the complaint, within 24 hours after receiving it, to the Legislator against whom the complaint is brought.

8. In determining whether a Legislator has a conflict of interest, the Legislator should consider whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his position upon the matter in question would be materially affected by:

(a) His acceptance of a gift or loan;

(b) His private economic interest; or

(c) His commitment to a member of his household or his immediate family.

9. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 10, if a Legislator knows he has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 8, the Legislator shall make a general disclosure of the conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Assembly, as applicable. Such a disclosure must be entered:

(a) If the Legislator makes the disclosure in a meeting of a committee, in the minutes for that meeting.

(b) If the Legislator makes the disclosure on the floor of the Assembly, in the Journal.

10. If, on one or more prior occasions during the current session of the Legislature, a Legislator has made a general disclosure of a conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Assembly, the Legislator is not required to make that general disclosure at length again regarding the same conflict of interest if, when the matter in question arises on subsequent occasions, the Legislator makes a reference on the record to the previous disclosure.

11. In determining whether to abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which a Legislator has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 8, the Legislator should consider whether:

(a) The conflict impedes his independence of judgment; and

(b) His interest is greater than the interests of an entire class of persons similarly situated.

12. The provisions of this Rule do not under any circumstances and regardless of any conflict of interest:

(a) Prohibit a Legislator from requesting or introducing a legislative measure; or

(b) Require a Legislator to take any particular action before or while requesting or introducing a legislative measure.

13. If a Legislator who is a member of a committee declares on the record when a vote is to be taken by the committee that he will abstain from voting because of the requirements of this Rule, the necessary quorum to act upon and the number of votes necessary to act upon the matter is reduced as though the Legislator abstaining were not a member of the committee.

14. Except as otherwise provided in the Joint Standing Rules, the standards and procedures set forth in this Rule which govern whether and to what extent a member of the Assembly has a conflict of interest, should disclose a conflict of interest or should abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which the member has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 8:

(a) Are exclusive and are the only standards and procedures that apply to members of the Assembly with regard to such matters; and

(b) Supersede and preempt all other standards and procedures with regard to such matters.

The next rule is 30.

IV. QUORUM, VOTING, ELECTIONS

Rule No. 30. Manner of Voting.

1. The presiding officer shall declare all votes, but the yeas and nays must be taken when called for by three members present, and the names of those calling for the yeas and nays must be entered in the Journal by the Chief Clerk.

2. The presiding officer shall call for yeas and nays by a division or by a roll call, either electronic or oral.

3. When taking the yeas and nays on any question, the electronic roll call system may be used, and when so used shall have the force and effect of any roll call under these rules.

4. When taking the yeas and nays by oral roll call, the Chief Clerk shall take the names of members alphabetically, except that the Speaker's name must be called last.

5. The electronic roll call system may be used to determine the presence of a quorum.

6. The yeas and nays must not be taken with the electronic roll call system until all members present are at their desks. The presiding officer may vote at the rostrum.

7. Only a member who:

(a) Has been certified by the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments or a special committee of the Assembly; and

(b) Is physically present within the Assembly Chambers,

➥ may cast a vote in the Assembly.

8. A member shall not vote for another member on any roll call, either electronic or oral. Any member who votes for another member may be punished in any manner deemed appropriate by the Assembly.

Rule No. 31. Reserved.

Rule No. 32. Announcement of the Vote.

1. A member may change his vote at any time before the announcement of the vote if the voting is by voice, or at any time before the votes are electronically recorded if the voting is conducted electronically.

2. The announcement of the result of any vote shall not be postponed.

Rule No. 33. Voting by Division.

Upon a division and count of the Assembly on any question, no person without the bar shall be counted.

The next rule is 40.

V. LEGISLATIVE BODIES

Rule No. 40. Standing Committees.

The standing committees of the Assembly are as follows:

1. Ways and Means, fourteen members.
2. Judiciary, fourteen members.
3. Taxation, thirteen members.
4. Education, eleven members.
5. Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments, thirteen members.
6. Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Mining, eleven members.
7. Transportation, eleven members.
8. Commerce and Labor, fourteen members.
9. Health and Human Services, eleven members.
10. Government Affairs, fourteen members.
11. Corrections, Parole, and Probation, fourteen members.

Rule No. 41. Appointment of Committees.

1. Except as otherwise provided in Assembly Standing Rule No. 23, all committees must be appointed by the Speaker, unless otherwise directed by the Assembly. The Speaker shall designate the chairman and vice chairman of each committee.

2. To facilitate the full participation of the members during an adjournment called pursuant to Joint Standing Rule No. 9 of the Senate and Assembly, the Speaker may temporarily appoint a member to a standing committee that is scheduled to meet during the adjournment if none of the committees to which the member is regularly assigned will be meeting during the adjournment.

Rule No. 42. Committee Action.

1. The committee shall have regular meetings scheduled by the Assembly leadership. A quorum of the committee is a majority of its members and may transact business except as limited by this Rule.

2. Except as limited by this Rule, a simple majority of those present may move, second and pass a motion by voice vote.

3. Definite action on a bill or resolution will require a majority of the entire committee.

4. A two-thirds majority of the entire committee is required to reconsider action on a bill or resolution.

5. Committee introduction of legislative measures which are not prefiled requires concurrence of a majority of the entire committee and does not imply commitment to support final passage.

6. The chairman must be present when the committee votes to take any final action regarding bills or resolutions, but the chairman is not required to vote.

7. No member of the committee may vote by proxy under any circumstances.

8. A committee shall not take a vote on the question of whether to exercise its statutory authority to issue a legislative subpoena unless the chairman has informed the Speaker of the intention of the committee to consider such a question.

Rule No. 43. Subcommittees.

Subcommittees made up of committee members may be appointed by the chairman to consider and report back on specific subjects or bills.

Rule No. 44. Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

The Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments has jurisdiction over matters relating to personnel. It shall recommend by resolution the appointment of all attaches and employees of the Assembly not otherwise provided for by law. It shall function as the Committee on Rules and as the Committee on Credentials of the Assembly.

Rule No. 44.5. Committee of the Whole.

If a Committee of the Whole is convened:

1. The Speaker shall preside as Chair of the Committee or name a Chair to preside.

2. A member of the Committee may speak not more than twice during the consideration of any one question, on the same day, and at the same stage of proceedings, without leave. Members who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) to the exclusion of others who have not spoken.

3. The Chair may require any vote of the Committee to be recorded in the manner designated by the Chair.

4. All amendments proposed by the Committee:

(a) Must first be approved by the Committee.

(b) Must be reported by the Chair to the Assembly.

Rule No. 45. Procedure for Election Contests.

1. Upon receipt of a statement of contest from the Secretary of State pursuant to NRS 293.427, the Speaker shall, as soon as practicable, appoint a special committee to hear the contest or refer the contest to the Standing Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments. The committee shall conduct a hearing to consider the contest. The committee shall keep written minutes of the hearing. The contestant has the burden of proving that any irregularities shown were of such a nature as to establish that the result of the election was changed thereby.

2. The contest must be submitted so far as may be possible upon depositions or by written or oral arguments as the Assembly may order. Any party to a contest may take the deposition of any witness at any time after the statement of contest is filed with the Secretary of State and before the contest is finally decided. At least 3 days' notice must be given to the prospective deponent and to the other party. If oral statements are made at any hearing before the Assembly or a committee thereof which purport to establish matters of fact, they must be made under oath. Strict rules of evidence do not apply.

3. The committee shall, not later than 5 calendar days after the contest was referred to the committee, report to the Assembly its findings on whether the contestant has met the burden of proving that any irregularities shown were of such a nature as to establish that the result of the election was changed thereby. The committee shall then report to the Assembly its recommendation on which person should be declared elected or report that it has no recommendation. The Assembly shall, as soon as practicable thereafter but not later than 7 calendar days after the Speaker received the statement of contest, vote whether to accept or reject the committee's recommendation without amendment, if a recommendation is made. If the recommendation is accepted, the Speaker shall declare the recommended person elected. If the recommendation is rejected or the committee did not make a recommendation, the Assembly shall consider immediately which person should be declared elected. The Speaker shall not adjourn the Assembly until it has declared a person to be elected.

4. If a person other than the person initially seated as a member of the Assembly pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 293.427 is declared to be elected by the Assembly as a result of the contest, the Speaker shall inform the Governor of the identity of the person declared to be elected by the Assembly.

Rule No. 46. Committee Action.

Every committee vote on a matter pertaining to a bill or resolution must be recorded. The vote may be taken by roll call at the discretion of the chairman.

Rule No. 47. Committee Records.

The chairman of each committee shall keep, or cause to be kept, a complete record of the committee proceedings in which there must be entered:

1. The time and place of each meeting;

2. The attendance and absence of members;

3. The names of all persons appearing before the committee, with the names of persons, firms, corporations or associations in whose behalf such appearance is made; and

4. The subjects or measures considered and action taken.

Rule No. 48. Disposition of Committee Records.

All minutes, records and documents in the possession of committees and their chairmen must be filed in the offices of the Legislative Counsel Bureau upon their completion.

Rule No. 49. Committee Hearings.

1. The presence of a quorum of the committee is desirable but not required to conduct a public hearing. At the discretion of the chairman, members of the committee may attend, participate in and, if applicable, vote during the hearing via simultaneous telephone or video conference.

2. Public hearings are opened by the chairman who announces the subject under consideration and provides for those wishing to address the committee to be heard. These persons shall rise in an order determined by the chairman, address the chair and furnish their names, addresses and firms or other organizations represented. Committee members may address the chairman for permission to question the witness.

Rule No. 50. Reserved.

Rule No. 51. Reserved.

Rule No. 52. Concurrent Referrals.

When a bill or resolution is referred to two committees, the bill or resolution must go to the first committee named. If the first committee votes to amend the bill or resolution, it must be reprinted with amendments and then returned to the first committee or sent immediately to the next committee. If there is no amendment proposed by the first committee, or if the first committee acts upon the bill or resolution after amendment, the bill or resolution must be sent with the committee recommendation to the Chief Clerk for transmittal to the second committee.

The next rule is 60.

VI. RULES GOVERNING MOTIONS

Rule No. 60. Entertaining.

No motion may be debated until it is distinctly announced by the presiding officer. The presiding officer, upon his own motion or at the request of a member, may direct that the motion be reduced to writing and be read by the Chief Clerk before the motion is debated. A motion may be withdrawn by the maker at any time before amendment or before the motion is put to vote.

Rule No. 61. Reserved.

Rule No. 62. Reserved.

Particular Motions

Rule No. 63. Reserved.

Rule No. 64. Reserved.

Rule No. 65. Indefinite Postponement.

When a question is postponed indefinitely, the same question must not be considered again during the session and the question is not subject to a motion for reconsideration.

Rule No. 66. To Strike Enacting Clause.

A motion to strike out the enacting clause of a bill or resolution does not take precedence over any other subsidiary motion. If the motion is carried, it shall be considered equivalent to the rejection of such bill or resolution.

Rule No. 67. Division of Question.

Any member may call for a division of the question, which shall be divided, if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Assembly. A motion to strike out being lost shall preclude neither amendment nor a motion to strike out and insert. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible.

Rule No. 68. To Reconsider—Precedence of.

A motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion, except a motion to adjourn, or to fix the time to which to adjourn; and when the Assembly adjourns, while a motion to reconsider is pending, or before passing the order of business of Motions, Resolutions and Notices, the right to move a reconsideration shall continue to the next day of sitting. No notice of reconsideration of any final vote shall be in order on the:

1. Last day on which final action is allowed; or
2. Day preceding the last day of the session.

The next rule is 80.

VII. DEBATE

Rule No. 80. Speaking on Question.

No member shall speak more than twice during the consideration of any one question, on the same day, and at the same stage of proceedings, without leave. Members who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor (except for explanation) to the exclusion of others who have not spoken.

Rule No. 81. Previous Question.

The previous question shall be put only when demanded by three members. The previous question shall not be moved by the member last speaking on the question.

Rule No. 82. Privilege of Closing Debate.

The author of a bill, a resolution or a main question shall have the privilege of closing the debate, unless the previous question has been sustained.

The next rule is 91.

VIII. CONDUCT OF BUSINESS

A. Rules and Procedure

Rule No. 91. Rescission, Change or Suspension of Rule.

No standing rule or order of the Assembly shall be rescinded or changed without a vote of two-thirds of the members elected, and one day's notice being given of the motion therefor; but a rule or order may be suspended temporarily by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

Rule No. 92. Notices of Bills, Topics and Public Hearings.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, all committees shall provide adequate notice of public hearings on bills, resolutions or other topics which are to come before the committees. The notice must include the date, time, place and agenda to be covered. The notice must be posted conspicuously in the legislative building, appear in the Daily History and be made available to the news media. The Daily History must include the most current version of the notice that is available at the time the Daily History is created and an informational statement informing the public where more current information, if any, regarding such notices may be found.

2. The noticing requirements of this Rule may be suspended for emergency situations but only after approval by a majority vote of a committee.

3. Subsection 1 does not apply to:

(a) Committee meetings held on the floor of the Assembly during a recess; or

(b) Conference committee meetings.

Rule No. 93. Reserved.

Rule No. 94. Privilege of the Floor and Lobbying.

No person, except Senators, former Assemblymen and state officers, may be admitted at the bar of the Assembly, except by special invitation on the part of some member; but a majority may authorize the Speaker to have the Assembly cleared of all such persons. No person may do any lobbying upon the floor of the Assembly at any time, and it is the duty of the Sergeant at Arms to remove any person violating any of the provisions of this Rule.

Rule No. 95. Material Placed on Legislators' Desks.

All papers, letters, notes, pamphlets and other written material placed upon an Assemblyman's desk shall contain the signature of the Legislator requesting the placement of such material on the desk or shall contain a designation of the origin of such material. This Rule does not apply to books containing the legislative bills and resolutions, the legislative Daily Histories, the legislative Daily Journals or Legislative Counsel Bureau material.

Rule No. 96. Peddling, Begging and Soliciting.

1. Peddling, begging and soliciting are strictly forbidden in the Assembly Chambers, and in the lobby, gallery and halls adjacent thereto.

2. No part of the Assembly Chambers may be used for, or occupied by signs or other devices for any kind of advertising.

3. No part of the hallways adjacent to the Assembly Chambers may be used for or occupied by signs or other devices for any kind of advertising for commercial or personal gain. Notices for nonprofit, nonpartisan, civic or special legislative events may be posted in a designated area of the hallways adjacent to the Assembly Chambers with the approval of the Chief Clerk.

Rule No. 97. Petitions and Memorials.

Petitions, memorials and other papers addressed to the Assembly, shall be presented by the Speaker, or by a member in the Speaker's place. A brief statement of the contents thereof shall be made by the introducer. They shall not be debated on the day of their being presented, but shall be on the table, or be referred, as the Assembly shall determine.

Rule No. 98. Request of Purpose.

A member may request the purpose of a bill or joint resolution upon its introduction.

Rule No. 99. Remarks.

It shall be in order for members to make remarks and to have such remarks entered in the Journal.

Rule No. 100. Precedence of Parliamentary Authority.

The precedence of parliamentary authority in the Assembly is:

1. The Constitution of the State of Nevada and judicial decisions thereon.

2. The Standing Rules of the Assembly and the Joint Standing Rules of the Senate and Assembly.

3. Custom, usage and precedence.

4. The Statutes of the State of Nevada.

5. Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure.

Rule No. 101. Reserved.

Rule No. 102. Privileged Questions.

Privileged questions have precedence over all others in the following order:

1. Motions to fix the time to which the Assembly shall adjourn.
2. Motions to adjourn.
3. Questions relating to the rights and privileges of the Assembly or any of its members.
4. A call of the House.
5. Motions for special orders.

Rule No. 103. Reserved.

B. Bills

Rule No. 104. Reserved.

Rule No. 105. Reserved.

Rule No. 106. Skeleton Bills.

The introduction of skeleton bills is authorized when, in the opinion of the sponsor and the Legislative Counsel, the full drafting of the bill would entail extensive research or be of considerable length. A skeleton bill will be provided for purposes of introduction and committee referral. Such a bill will be a presentation of ideas or statements of purpose, sufficient in style and expression to enable the Legislature and the committee to which the bill may be referred to consider the substantive merits of the legislation proposed.

Rule No. 107. Reserved.

Rule No. 108. Reserved.

Rule No. 109. Reading of Bills.

The presiding officer shall announce at each reading of a bill whether it be the first, second or third reading. The first reading of a bill shall be for information. If there is objection, the question shall be, "Shall the bill be rejected?" If the question to reject fails to receive a majority vote by the members present, or if there is no objection, the bill shall take the proper course. No bill shall be referred to a committee until after the first reading, nor amended until after the second reading.

Rule No. 110. Second Reading and Amendment of Bills.

1. All bills must be read the second time on the first legislative day after which they are reported by committee, unless a different day is designated by motion. Upon second reading, Assembly bills reported without amendments shall be placed on the General File and Senate bills reported without amendments shall be placed on the General File. Committee amendments reported with bills shall be considered upon their second reading or third reading, as appropriate, and such amendments may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present. Any amendment which is numbered, copied and made available to all members must be moved and voted upon by number. Assembly bills so amended must be reprinted, engrossed, and placed on the General File. Senate bills so amended must be reprinted, then engrossed or reengrossed, as applicable, and placed on the General File.

2. Any member may move to amend a bill during its second or third reading, and such a motion to amend may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present. Bills so amended on second reading must be treated the same as bills with committee amendments. Any bill so amended upon the General File must be reprinted and then engrossed or reengrossed, as applicable.

3. The reprinting of amended bills may be dispensed with only in accordance with the provisions of law.

Rule No. 111. Consent Calendar.

1. A standing committee may by unanimous vote of the members present report a bill with the recommendation that it be placed on the Consent Calendar. The question of recommending a bill for the Consent Calendar may be voted upon in committee only after the bill has been recommended for passage and only if no amendment is recommended.

2. The Chief Clerk shall maintain a list of bills recommended for the Consent Calendar. The list must be printed in the Daily History and must include the summary of each bill, and the date the bill is scheduled for consideration on final passage.

3. At any time before the presiding officer calls for a vote on the passage of the Consent Calendar, a member may give written notice to the Chief Clerk or state orally from the floor of the Assembly in session that he requests the removal of a particular bill from the Consent Calendar. If a member so requests, the Chief Clerk shall remove the bill from the Consent Calendar and transfer it to the Second Reading File. A bill removed from the Consent Calendar may not be restored to that Calendar.

4. During floor consideration of the Consent Calendar, members may ask questions and offer explanations relating to the respective bills.

5. When the Consent Calendar is brought to a vote, the bills remaining on the Consent Calendar must be read by number and summary and the vote must be taken on their final passage as a group.

Rule No. 112. Reserved.

Rule No. 113. General File.

All bills reported to the Assembly, by either standing or special committees, after receiving their second readings must be placed upon a General File, to be kept by the Chief Clerk. The Chief Clerk shall post a daily statement of the bills on the General File. The Chief Clerk shall likewise post notices of special orders as made.

Rule No. 114. Reserved.

Rule No. 115. Reconsideration of Vote on Bill.

On the first legislative day that the Assembly is in session succeeding that on which a final vote on any bill or resolution has been taken, a vote may be reconsidered on the motion of any member. Notice of intention to move such reconsideration must be given on the day on which the final vote was taken by a member voting with the prevailing party. It is not in order for any member to move a reconsideration on the day on which the final vote was taken, except by a majority of the members elected. There may be no reconsideration of a vote on a motion to indefinitely postpone. Motions to reconsider a vote upon amendments to any pending question may be made at once.

Rule No. 116. Vetoed Bills.

1. Bills that have passed both Houses of the Legislature and are transmitted to the Assembly accompanied by a message or statement of the Governor's disapproval or veto of the same must:

(a) Be taken up and considered immediately upon the coming in of the message transmitting the same; or

(b) Become the subject of a special order.

2. When the message is received, or if made a special order, when the special order is called, the said message or statement must be read together with the bill or bills so disapproved or vetoed. The message and bill must be read by the Chief Clerk without interruption, consecutively, one following the other, and not upon separate occasions. No such bill or message may be referred to any committee, or otherwise acted upon save as provided by law and custom; that is to say, that immediately following such reading the only question, except as hereinafter stated, which may be put by the Speaker is, "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?" It shall not be in order, at any time, to vote upon such a vetoed bill unless the same shall first have been read, from the first word of its title to and including the last word of its final section. No motion may be entertained after the Speaker has stated the question, save a motion to adjourn or a motion for the previous question, but the merits of the bill itself may be debated. The message or statement containing the objections of the Governor to the bill must be entered in the Journal of the Assembly. The consideration of a vetoed bill, and the objections of the Governor thereto, shall be a privileged question, and shall take precedence over all others.

Rule No. 117. Reserved.

C. Resolutions

Rule No. 118. Treated as Bills—Joint Resolutions.

The procedure of enacting joint resolutions must be identical to that of enacting bills, except that:

1. Joint resolutions, upon enrollment, must be delivered to the Secretary of State; and

2. Joint resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution must be entered in the Journal in their entirety.

Rule No. 119. Return from the Secretary of State.

An Assembly resolution may be used to request the return from the Secretary of State of an enrolled Assembly resolution for further consideration.

D. Order of Business

Rule No. 120. Order of Business.

The Order of Business must be as follows:

1. Call to Order.
2. Reading and Approval of Journal.
3. Presentation of Petitions.
4. Reports of Standing Committees.
5. Reports of Select Committees.
6. Communications.
7. Messages from the Senate.
8. Motions, Resolutions and Notices.
9. Introduction, First Reading and Reference.
10. Consent Calendar.
11. Second Reading and Amendment.
12. General File and Third Reading.
13. Unfinished Business of Preceding Day.
14. Special Orders of the Day.
15. Remarks from the Floor, limited to 10 minutes.

IX. LEGISLATIVE INVESTIGATIONS AND MISCELLANEOUS

Rule No. 140. Compensation of Witnesses.

Witnesses summoned to appear before the Assembly or any of its committees must be compensated as provided by law for witnesses required to attend in the courts of the State of Nevada.

Rule No. 141. Use of the Assembly Chamber.

The Assembly Chamber shall not be used for any public or private business other than legislative, except by permission of the Assembly.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved the adoption of the resolution.

Resolution adopted.

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Resolution No. 2—Providing for the appointment of Assembly attaches.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Hardy, Buckley, Ohrenschall, Horne, Gansert, Allen, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Beers, Bobzien, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Hogan, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Mabey, Manendo, Marvel, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Parks, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Stewart, Weber, and Womack; Senators Care, Heck, Cegavske, Hardy, Raggio, Beers, Coffin, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3 of the 74th Session—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to revise provisions relating to the taking of private property by eminent domain.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 8 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. 1. No person shall be tried for a capital or other infamous crime (except in cases of impeachment, and in cases of the militia when in actual service and the land and naval forces in time of war, or which this State may keep, with the consent of Congress, in time of peace, and in cases of petit larceny, under the regulation of the Legislature) except on presentment or indictment of the grand jury, or upon information duly filed by a district attorney, or Attorney General of the State, and in any trial, in any court whatever, the party accused shall be allowed to appear and defend in person, and with counsel, as in civil actions. No person shall be subject to be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense; nor shall he be compelled, in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself.

2. The Legislature shall provide by law for the rights of victims of crime, personally or through a representative, to be:

(a) Informed, upon written request, of the status or disposition of a criminal proceeding at any stage of the proceeding;

(b) Present at all public hearings involving the critical stages of a criminal proceeding; and

(c) Heard at all proceedings for the sentencing or release of a convicted person after trial.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, no person may maintain an action against the State or any public officer or employee for damages or injunctive, declaratory or other legal or equitable relief on behalf of a victim of a crime as a result of a violation of any statute enacted by the Legislature pursuant to subsection 2. No such violation authorizes setting aside a conviction or sentence or continuing or postponing a criminal proceeding.

4. A person may maintain an action to compel a public officer or employee to carry out any duty required by the Legislature pursuant to subsection 2.

5. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law.

6. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation having been first made, or secured, except in cases of war, riot, fire, or great public peril, in which case compensation shall be afterward made.

7. Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (a) to (e), inclusive, the public uses for which private property may be taken do not include the direct or indirect transfer of any interest in the property to another private person or entity. A transfer of property taken by the exercise of eminent domain to another private person or entity is a public use in the following circumstances:

(a) The entity that took the property transfers the property to a private person or entity and the private person or entity uses the property primarily to benefit a public service, including, without limitation, a utility, railroad, public transportation project, pipeline, road, bridge, airport or facility that is owned by a governmental entity.

(b) The entity that took the property leases the property to a private person or entity that occupies an incidental part of an airport or a facility that is owned by a governmental entity and, before leasing the property:

(1) Uses its best efforts to notify the person from whom the property was taken that the property will be leased to a private person or entity that will occupy an incidental part of an airport or a facility that is owned by a governmental entity; and

(2) Provides the person from whom the property was taken with an opportunity to bid or propose on any such lease.

(c) The entity:

(1) Took the property in order to acquire property that was abandoned by the owner, abate an immediate threat to the safety of the public or remediate hazardous waste; and

(2) Grants a right of first refusal to the person from whom the property was taken that allows that person to reacquire the property on the same terms and conditions that are offered to the other private person or entity.

(d) The entity that took the property exchanges it for other property acquired or being acquired by eminent domain or under the threat of eminent domain for roadway or highway purposes, to relocate public or private structures or to avoid payment of excessive compensation or damages.

(e) The person from whom the property is taken consents to the taking.

8. In all actions in eminent domain:

(a) Before the entity that is taking property obtains possession of the property, the entity shall give to the owner of the property a copy of all appraisals of the property obtained by the entity.

(b) At the occupancy hearing, the owner of the property that is the subject of the action is entitled, at the property owner's election, to a separate and distinct determination as to whether the property is being taken for a public use.

(c) The entity that is taking property has the burden of proving that the taking is for a public use.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, neither the entity that is taking property nor the owner of the property is liable for the attorney's fees of the other party. This paragraph does not apply in an inverse condemnation action if the owner of the property that is the subject of the action makes a request for attorney's fees from the other party to the action.

9. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, if a court determines that a taking of property is for public use, the taken or damaged property must be valued at its highest and best use without considering any future dedication requirements imposed by the entity that is taking the property. If property is taken primarily for a profit-making purpose, the property must be valued at the use to which the entity that is taking the property intends to put the property, if such use results in a higher value for the property.

10. In all actions in eminent domain, fair market value is the highest price, on the date of valuation, that would be agreed to by a seller, who is willing to sell on the open market and has reasonable time to find a purchaser, and a buyer, who is ready, willing and able to buy, if both the seller and the buyer had full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available.

11. In all actions in eminent domain, just compensation is that sum of money necessary to place the property owner in the same position monetarily as if the property had never been taken, excluding any governmental offsets except special benefits. Special benefits may only offset severance damages and may not offset the value for the property. Just compensation for the property taken by the exercise of eminent domain must include, without limitation, interest and reasonable costs and expenses, except attorney's fees, incurred by the owner of the property that is the subject of the action. The district court shall determine, in a posttrial hearing, the award of interest and award as interest the amount of money which will put the person from whom the property is taken in as good a position monetarily as if the property had not been taken. The district court shall enter an order concerning:

(a) The date on which the computation of interest will commence;

(b) The rate of interest to be used to compute the award of interest, which must not be less than the prime rate of interest plus 2 percent; and

(c) Whether the interest will be compounded annually.

12. Property taken by the exercise of eminent domain must be offered to and reverts to the person from whom the property was taken upon repayment of the original purchase price if, within 15 years after obtaining possession of the property, the entity that took the property:

(a) Fails to use the property for the public use for which the property was taken or for any public use reasonably related to the public use for which the property was taken; or

(b) Seeks to convey any right, title or interest in all or part of the property to any other person and the conveyance is not occurring pursuant to subsection 7.

➥ The entity that has taken the property does not fail to use the property under paragraph (a) if the entity has begun active planning for or design of the public use, the assembling of land in furtherance of planning for or design of the public use or construction related to the public use.

13. If any provision of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the provisions or application of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, are declared to be severable.

14. The provisions of subsections 7 to 12, inclusive, apply to an action in eminent domain that is filed on or after January 1, 2011.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 22 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution, commonly known as the "People's Initiative to Stop the Taking of Our Land," if that section is approved and ratified by the voters at the 2008 General Election, is hereby repealed.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

THE SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), February 3, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:06 a.m.
Madam Speaker presiding.
Roll called.
All present.
Prayer by the Chaplain, Reverend Bruce Henderson.

Lord, we thank You for yet another day and these legislators who have come from near and from far. Today is our first Tuesday. Mother Goose taught us that Tuesday's child is full of grace. Well, that's indeed what we need to serve our people this year. With the current situations around us, we need nothing less than Your grace and mercy and favor to do our job. Please bless us with such. We pray gratefully in the Name of the Giver of all Good Gifts.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Bill read.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
JIM GIBBONS

The Honorable Ross Miller, SECRETARY OF STATE, CAPITOL BUILDING, 101 NORTH CARSON STREET, CARSON CITY, NEVADA 89701

RE: Assembly Bill 396 of the 74th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER,

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 396 of the 74th Legislative Session, which is entitled:

AN ACT relating to common-interest communities; revising provisions governing restrictions on the use of systems for obtaining solar or wind energy; requiring a member of an executive board who stands to profit personally from a matter before the board to disclose and abstain from voting on the matter; revising the provisions governing the regulation of certain streets in common-interest communities; revising provisions concerning voting rights exercised by delegates or representatives; prohibiting an association in a common-interest community from imposing an assessment against the owners of certain tax-exempt property; providing that a foreclosure on a unit is subject to an equity or right of redemption; providing that official publications related to issues of official interest must provide equal space for opposing views and opinions; requiring applicants for a certificate for the management of a common-interest community to post certain bonds; making various other changes to the provisions governing common-interest communities; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

This bill makes a variety of sweeping changes to common-interest communities.

Some aspects of this bill represent good public policy. Other aspects, however, could have unintended and unanticipated impacts on common-interest communities and those who live within those communities, including the possibility of increased assessments and the possibility of dramatic changes to common-areas without an opportunity for homeowners to participate. Furthermore, the concerning aspects of this bill were the result of substantive amendments at the close of session. The late date of the amendments prevented any opportunity for full hearings on the final version of this bill. I encourage the Legislature to hold such hearings during the next regular session in 2009, and to carefully consider the full impact of all aspects of this bill. For all of these reasons, I hereby exercise my constitutional grant of authority and veto Assembly Bill 396.

Sincerely
JIM GIBBONS
Governor

The question was put: "Shall the bill pass, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?"

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson, Gansert and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Assembly Bill 396, which is a product of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, was overridden by the Governor. As already indicated, the bill draft contained various issues related to common-interest communities and was amended several times during the session. There are numerous bill drafts from members of this body already, some of which I consider to be very, very important, which the Judiciary Committee will take up. I will consider them, and they will be in front of this body. Therefore, the Assembly does not need to override the Governor's veto. I believe the Governor's veto should be sustained.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Just a clarification. To sustain the veto, we vote "no," which is the red button our desks. There was some confusion earlier.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

"No" is red. An "aye" vote overrides and a "no" vote sustains the veto. Okay? Any questions or further comments?

The roll was called, and the Assembly sustained the veto of the Governor by the following vote:

YEAS—None.

NAYS—Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart, Woodbury—42.

GUESTS EXTENDED PRIVILEGE OF ASSEMBLY FLOOR

On request of Assemblyman Carpenter, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Gene Segerblom.

On request of Assemblyman Denis, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Armando Denis.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the Assembly adjourn until Wednesday, February 4, 2009, at 11 a.m.

Motion carried.

Assembly adjourned at 11:16 a.m.

Approved: BARBARA E. BUCKLEY
Speaker of the Assembly

Attest: SUSAN FURLONG REIL
Chief Clerk of the Assembly

THE THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), February 4, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:17 a.m.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Segerblom, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Reverend Bruce Henderson.

Father, Wednesday's child may be full of woe, but we ask to be filled with joy and hope. May the problems around us be solvable. We ask for Your wisdom. We ask for Your presence. We pray confidently in the name of the One who said, "I am with you always."

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Stewart requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Oftentimes, we hear of the poor educational system we have in the State of Nevada. It was my privilege this Saturday morning to be a state judge for the "We the People: The Citizen and the Constitution" competition, which was held in the Lloyd George U.S. Courthouse Building in Las Vegas under the direction of Judge Philip M. Pro and the "We the People" state director, Marsha Ellis. Five outstanding high schools participated in this: Gorman High School, West High School, Basic High School, Incline Village, and Reed High School. These students demonstrated outstanding ability in their knowledge of the Constitution and the cases. They made great quotes. They discussed various issues and had great experiences.

Reed High School, from Sparks, was the winner of this competition. They just did a marvelous job. As a judge, it was a very difficult job for me and the rest of the judges to try to discern which was the best out of these five schools. They did a marvelous job. I would just like to enter it into the record that we do have a lot of brilliant, outstanding students from the great State of Nevada. Thank you.

THE NINTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), February 10, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:05 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

Almighty God, help of the ages past, hope for the years to come, today, give our legislators in this house special gifts of wisdom and understanding that they may uphold what is right and follow what is true. As they pursue Your purposes, make them instruments of justice and peace who foster mutual understanding and cooperative endeavors. Lord, help them to remember that our times are in Your Hands, for You are the light that never fails and the life that never ends. In all their relationships, private and public, lead them in the paths of righteousness, for Your Name's sake.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

THE TENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), February 11, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:17 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

O Lord, keep our faith in the power of prayer as we unite our petitions in this sacred moment. We have asked for Your guidance in difficult decisions many times, yet it has not always been answered in the way we thought it should. Many of the situations and relationships which we have asked You to change have remained the same.

Forgive us for thinking, therefore, that You are unwilling to help us in our dilemmas or that there is nothing You can do. Remind us, O God, that when we plug in an electric iron and it fails to work, we do not conclude that electricity has lost its power, nor do we plead with the iron. We look at once to the wiring to find what has broken or blocked the connection with the source of power. May we do the same with ourselves, that You can work though us to do Your will. This we ask in the Name of our Lord.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

ELLEN M. KOIVISTO, Chair

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Gansert, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart, and Woodbury; Senators Nolan, Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 3—Designating February 11, 2009, as Tissue and Organ Donor Day in Nevada.

WHEREAS, According to recent statistics, more than 100,000 people in the United States are currently on the waiting list for organ transplants, and each day approximately 77 people receive the transplant that gives them a second chance at life, but 19 others die because not enough organs are available to meet our needs; and

WHEREAS, One donor can save up to eight lives by donating organs, and that same donor can greatly enhance the lives of an additional 50 people by donating tissue to be used to restore sight, cover burns, repair hearts, replace veins, and mend damaged connective tissue and cartilage in recipients; and

WHEREAS, As a result of the growing need for organs, living donation has become a common alternative, with almost a quarter of all organs coming from living donors; and

WHEREAS, Unbeknownst to many, a living donor may donate part of the pancreas, part of a lung, part of the liver, part of the intestine and, most commonly, a kidney; and

WHEREAS, People of all ages and medical histories should consider themselves potential donors, as people on the waiting list may need to be transplanted with an organ that is less than ideal if there is no other suitable organ available to save their lives; and

WHEREAS, The State of Nevada has simplified the process of signing up as a donor by giving Nevadans the option of specifying their wishes on their drivers' licenses or state identification cards and by making available on-line a Donor Registration Form for the Donor Registry for the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The State has also made available an Organ Donor specialty license plate, from which a portion of the fees support the Gift of Life Education Fund that provides for the production and dissemination of educational materials regarding the importance of tissue and organ donation; and

WHEREAS, Giving the "Gift of Life" not only brings hope and healing to the recipients and their families but also may help ease the grief of the donor's own family by knowing that their tragic loss has helped so many other people; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the Nevada Legislature hereby designates February 11, 2009, as Tissue and Organ Donor Day in Nevada to raise public awareness regarding tissue and organ donation and the effect it can have on so many people; and be it further

RESOLVED, That, by designating this day, the residents of Nevada are encouraged to take steps to obtain donor cards and to ensure that their wishes concerning tissue and organ donations are made known to their families; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Nevada Donor Network and The Transplant Network.

Assemblywoman Gansert moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Gansert and Manendo.

THE ELEVENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), February 12, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:18 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

Forbid it, Lord, that we should walk through Your beautiful world with unseeing eyes. Forgive us for taking our good things for granted so that we are in danger of losing the fine art of appreciation. With such dire need in every other part of the world, make us so grateful for the bounties we enjoy, that we shall try, by Your help, to deserve them more. Where we are wrong, make us willing to change, and where we are right, make us easy to live with.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 11, 2009

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 3.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Parnell, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart, and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 4—Commemorating the 100th anniversary of the organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Nevada.

WHEREAS, On February 12, 1910, the Montezuma Chapter of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) was organized in Goldfield, Nevada, and February 12, 2010, marks the 100th anniversary of that event; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Sagebrush Chapter DAR worked with Governor James Scrugham, Senator Tasker Oddie and Congressman Samuel Arentz to enact federal legislation transferring ownership of Fort Churchill to the State of Nevada, allowing the 1931 Nevada Legislature to pass Assembly Bill No. 148 which transferred ownership to a trust administered by the Nevada Sagebrush Chapter, and ownership was transferred back to the State in 1961 so that Fort Churchill might become a state historical monument; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada State Society DAR has been instrumental in the placement of numerous historical markers in Nevada, establishment of Nevada's State Park System, collection of early relics of Nevada, acquisition of the Carson City Mint for use as the Nevada State Museum, and purchase and restoration of Bowers Mansion as a Washoe County Regional Park; and

WHEREAS, Members of the Nevada State Society DAR planted an elm tree in 1932, still standing today, on the State Capitol grounds, to commemorate the bicentennial of George Washington's birth, purchased a replica colonial silver tea service, still in use today, for the Governor's Mansion in 1968, and raised more than $7,000 for the Sarah Winnemucca statue which stands in the National Statuary Hall Collection in the United States Capitol; and

WHEREAS, During World War II, members of the Nevada State Society DAR contributed thousands of hours of volunteer work and purchased substantial amounts of war bonds, and they continue to support our veterans and our troops overseas today; and

WHEREAS, Members of the Nevada State Society DAR have fostered a sense of patriotism and history in Nevada residents for the last 100 years through participation in naturalization ceremonies, historical essay contests, good citizenship programs, flag ceremonies and dedications, literacy programs, Constitution Week celebrations and residency-based scholarships; and

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada State Society DAR have worked for a number of years to compile a 100-year written history of the works of the DAR in Nevada that they might be preserved for posterity as a part of the history of our great State; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature recognize the 100th anniversary of the organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Nevada and applaud the efforts of the women, past and present, who work in support of the DAR tenets to promote patriotism, preserve American history and secure America's future through better education for children; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Nevada State Regent Anita Ruth Kirk Sheard.

Assemblywoman Parnell moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Parnell, Anderson, Segerblom, and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PARNELL:

I was thinking this morning how ironic it is that we are here today, on February 12, 2009, as Daughters of the American Revolution enters into its 100th year in Nevada, forming nearly a hundred years ago in Goldfield, Nevada. It is so important that this anniversary happens, leading into this very important President's Day weekend. As we all know, we look up at the man who watches over us. It is the 200th birthday today of our 16th President, Abraham Lincoln. I think what this resolution does is give us pause to just really cherish our history and so honor these Daughters of the American Revolution, who are working every day to preserve that history, not only for us but for generations to come. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I wish to rise in support of the resolution. Having a family member who received a scholarship from the Daughters of the American Revolution upon her graduation from high school, to continue her education, I know it's very, very important.

One particular part of my family just got off the boat yesterday, but the other side arrived here at Plymouth Colony and participated in the American Revolution and has a long history in both the eastern part of the United States and in the West. The Daughters of the American Revolution have done a remarkable job in furthering the education of many, many young people, and they have done this consistently, at least in the school district in which I had the pleasure to teach. Their scholarships for young people and their encouragement of participation are beyond reproach. I know there are other kinds of events that have taken place in their past, that sometimes we wish were not there, but that is often true of many groups that have a long history that reflects the unique nature of American history.

ASSEMBLYMAN SEGERBLOM:

I want to point out that 100 years ago the Daughters could not vote and yet today we have a female Speaker of the State Assembly. So, brag about that. Thank you.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

With the permission of the body, I was able to take my nine-year-old son to see the statuary collection and see the Sarah Winnemucca statue. I was proud to be a Nevadan. Thank you for all your work on that project, as well.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblywoman Parnell moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 4 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

INTRODUCTION, FIRST READING AND REFERENCE

By Assemblymen Aizley, Ohrenschall, Claborn, Kihuen, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, and Segerblom; Senators Coffin and Parks:

Assemblyman Horne moved that the bill be referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Motion carried.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 103.

Bill read second time and ordered to third reading.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise today to recognize, as my colleague from Assembly District 40 has done, the 200th anniversary of the birth of one of our greatest Americans, Abraham Lincoln. Abraham Lincoln was born in little more than a hut in Kentucky. He moved with his family to Indiana, where his mother died and where his father deserted him, along with his sister, for a period of several months. When his father finally came back, he came back with a new wife. This new wife had a great influence on Abraham Lincoln. She brought him newspapers and encouraged him to read. When he moved to Illinois, Mr. Lincoln became a soldier, a member of the state legislature, and a United States Congressman.

He then moved to Washington, D.C., where he became the first Republican President. But more than that, he was a President of all the people. Lincoln was known as the "Great Emancipator." He was a victorious commander-in-chief, the man who kept the Union together, and the man who preserved liberty for all of us. In recent years, he has come under condemnation by revisionist historians as being a tyrant, a henpecked husband, and a dictator. For many years, he was first in almost all polls. Recently in a USA Today poll, he came in third behind President Reagan and President Kennedy. It is my hope, as a great fan of Lincoln, that this 200th anniversary will bring him back to his rightful position as number one.

I have included on your desks some of the great quotes that Abraham Lincoln made throughout his career. I hope you will take a moment today to look that over and to reflect upon some of the great things and great deeds that Abraham Lincoln did.

In spite of the fact that Lincoln never lived in Nevada, he has a very special relationship with this great state. The State of Nevada became a state on October 31, 1864. Just a week later, Abraham Lincoln was elected to his second term as President. Lincoln, of course, gave his life for his country, being assassinated in April of 1865. The great Battle Born State of Nevada, in March of 1915, commemorated the great relationship we have with this great man by commissioning this picture that now looks down upon us. This picture was commissioned with Charles M. Sheehan. We paid a mere $1,300 for that picture. As Lincoln daily looks down upon us, I think he gives us a great message—the message of opportunity for all of us. It is possible, partly because of Lincoln, for one of the twins of David Bobzien, the daughter of Ty Cobb, or the son or daughter of William Horne to some day become President of this great nation.

In closing, I would like to quote from the second inaugural address of this great man, with advice, perhaps, to all of us. "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with a firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds" and to work together for the benefit of this great nation and this great state.

Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

There is probably no more appropriate day than today to speak about uniting. Being united is to live united. Sitting with me is the chairman of the board of the United Way of Southern Nevada, Larry Seedig. Hopefully you will be able to recognize him because today he is worth $50 million to you. And I will get there to explain.

The United Way of Southern Nevada is represented by multiple people behind me. They are going to stand and be recognized. It is important that you recognize them, too, not by clapping, but by what they look like. And I will get there, also.

Their mission for United Way at this point, in southern Nevada, is to consider health—particularly looking at increasing the number of immunized Nevada children, particularly in the age group of 0 to 3, with the goal of an 80 percent immunization rate by 2010. They are interested in education, they are interested in financial stability, and they are interested in making sure that people have a financial literacy education.

And now I have gotten there.

There is $50 million left on the table, of earned income tax credits that exist right now in the coffers of Washington, D.C., that belong to citizens in the State of Nevada. If you want to talk about stimulus, imagine what is going to happen when you have your constituents talk with these people. Within ten days of filing your taxes electronically or six weeks filing with hard copy, assisted for free by these people, which includes any of you if you want, you can have your income tax filing done free, and for those people who have an annual income of under $4,200, they will get back 10 percent of their income. That means a $50 million stimulus in this year. Now there is another caveat that this goes back three years, so it is potential stimulus of $150 million, so that is a stimulus that you can have your constituents get very quickly. It is real. The money is there and waiting for the people to file that particular form.

I think it only appropriate to welcome the people from United Way on this day. I am wearing my T-shirt proudly. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I believe that it was on this date—and I could be wrong because I did not look it up—that the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People came in to existence 100 years ago, as the result of an unusual event in Springfield, Illinois, which of course was in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's birth. Of course, Springfield has had major events occur there.

I note in my colleague from District 22's handout that a key to Lincoln's greatness is the phase in the Gettysburg address that "All men are created equal." I think this is the essence of the spirit of who the 16th President of the United States was. While he looks down on us I would feel remiss if I did not bring to the body's attention the importance of the quantum leap that has taken place in 100 years and the quantum leap that has yet to be made in order to bring Lincoln's dream to reality.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I just wanted to thank my colleague from southern Nevada for his comments about United Way and also remind everyone and thank them for their contribution to the 2-1-1 line in Nevada. The United Way has been a great partner for 2-1-1, especially in our times of budget problems. They continue to help keep those lines open, so I would like to acknowledge their work in that regard, as well.

THE TWELFTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), February 13, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:14 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Hardy, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

Two weeks in a row we are wearing red in honor of our hearts. Last Friday, we were reminded of the need to take good care of our physical hearts. This week we celebrate our emotional heart. We call it love. Three little words will be used this weekend, "I love you." May all of us be reminded of the source and the meaning of those words. One writer counsels us: "Dear friends, let us love one another, for love comes from God . . . . . since God so loved us, we also ought to love one another."

When we open our mouths to speak eloquently about love, but don't act lovingly, we would only be making meaningless noise like a loud gong or clanging cymbal. If I give everything I have to the poor and even sacrifice my body, I could boast about it; but if I did not love others, I would be of no value whatsoever.

Love is patient and kind. Love is not jealous or boastful or proud or rude. Love does not demand its own way. Love is not irritable, and it keeps no record of when it has been wronged. It is never glad about injustice but rejoices whenever the truth wins out. Love never gives up, never loses faith, is always hopeful, and endures through every circumstance.

There are three things that will endure—faith, hope, love—and the greatest of these is love.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 103.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Leslie, Gansert, Anderson, and Carpenter.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Madam Speaker, Assembly Bill 103 requires the legislative auditor to conduct performance audits of governmental and private facilities for children to determine whether these facilities adequately protect the health, safety, and welfare and civil rights for the children in their care. The measure also requires any governmental or private facility for children to cooperate with the legislative auditor in the performance of his duties and to forward to the legislative auditor any complaint filed by a child or any other person on his behalf concerning the child's welfare.

Many in this body will remember the CRIPA investigation back in 2001, when it started the Civil Rights of Institutionalized Persons Act. That complaint was initiated by many youth and adults in relationship to one of our state institutions, the Youth Training Center, out in Elko.

These complaints were forwarded to the Department of Justice, and they began an investigation that thankfully has been resolved without additional federal intervention.

The CRIPA investigation contained many disturbing complaints from the youths that were substantiated by the investigators. These included reports of our staff using excessive force against these youths, punching youths in the chest; kicking their legs; grabbing shirts; shoving youths against lockers and walls; dipping, which means throwing youths to the floor; slapping them in the face; smashing youths' heads against doors; and pulling youths from their beds to the floor. The investigators found that typically the triggers for the use of force were youths disobeying or failing to follow directions, rather than posing an immediate harm or threat of harm to themselves or others. They were also subjected to verbal abuse in which their race, their family, their physical appearance and stature, their intelligence, or their perceived sexual orientation was aggressively attacked. It was very clear to the CRIPA investigators that staff used verbal abuse to provoke these youths into physical confrontations to provide a pretext for the use of force.

Thankfully, the situation has greatly improved out in Elko. We instituted a great training program and we put more mental health counselors out there. A number of us visited the institution and have been following it very closely over the years.

As a result of the CRIPA investigation, we are very concerned that the Legislature had not known that any of these problems existed, not only in our state institutions but also in our county detention facilities and other private institutions where youths are placed. So we had a bill last session where we set aside a little money and asked the legislative auditor to conduct a performance audit of every place where these children go under our authority. That audit is out if you want to pick up a copy. It's called the Review of Governmental and Private Facilities for Children, 2008. It has some very interesting findings; they reviewed thirteen of the facilities and their detailed findings and responses by the different placement agencies are contained in this audit. What A.B.103 does is institutionalize these kinds of audits in our legislative auditor, and we put it there because we wanted it to be an independent audit, not the Executive Branch investigating itself. We have very good results from the audit, lots of good information coming out, lots of recommendations for how we can improve these facilities. I urge your support of this bill and commend ourselves as a collective body, which was a bipartisan effort, to make sure that the youth placed in our care that their civil rights are protected, their physical rights are protected, and we can make sure that the kids in our care are getting the very best care that they can. I urge your support.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of A.B. 103. I was on the Committee of Elections, Procedures, and Ethics when the auditors came in and talked about this. They did an outstanding job of going over the material and I think that this check on the system is very important for our youth. I appreciate the efforts on their behalf.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

I, too, rise in support of this piece of legislation. As you know, Madam Speaker, our colleague from Assembly District 33—as well as yourself and several others of us—were involved in a study over this particular issue, over some time. The former representative from Assembly District 9, who is no longer a member of this body but is now a Clark County Commissioner, took an early trip to Elko when the first FBI reports came in relative to the practices out there. We have, as a legislative body, been concerned about this particular issue. I do not believe that this particular problem, unfortunately, is going to come to an end, but we are now going to take yet another important step. I applaud my colleague for continuing to follow-up on this particular issue and think that it is a very, very important first step. I am pleased to see it as the first step of legislation that this body will take.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. As we have heard, we have had some problems, mainly in Elko. These problems have been pretty well resolved and I think our facilities for children out there now are doing quite well. I think we need to keep an eye on these facilities because you never know what might happen. I believe putting it in the hands of our auditor gives us more control. I ask for your support of A.B. 103.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 103:

YEAS—41.

NAYS—None.

EXCUSED—Hardy.

Assembly Bill No. 103 having received a constitutional majority, Madam Speaker declared it passed.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to revise the provisions governing a petition for a state initiative or a referendum.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Pursuant to Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution, the people of the State of Nevada have reserved to themselves the power to propose statutes, amendments to statutes and amendments to the Nevada Constitution by initiative petition. If the petition meets certain criteria, it is placed on the general election ballot where the people of the State of Nevada are then given the right to vote to enact or reject such proposals. In 2006, however, a portion of this provision of the Nevada Constitution was held unconstitutional by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. ACLU of Nev. v. Lomax, 471 F.3d 1010 (9th Cir. 2006). The Ninth Circuit Court found that the requirement that an initiative petition contain a certain number of signatures gathered from 75 percent of the counties in this State in order to qualify for the ballot (the "13 Counties Rule") violated the equal protection principle of "one man, one vote" by diluting the votes of residents of densely populated counties and was not narrowly tailored. Id. at 1013. Thus, the Ninth Circuit Court held that Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution violated the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S.

Constitution. Id. The Court further indicated that if a certain number of voters were required from state legislative districts rather than counties, it would alleviate the equal protection concerns.

This resolution proposes to amend Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution to remove the unconstitutional provisions and instead require that an initiative petition be signed by a number of the registered voters from each congressional district in this State which equals 10 percent of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in the congressional district. This resolution further provides that the number of registered voters required to file an initiative petition must be determined at the time the copy of the petition is filed with the Secretary of State.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 1 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. 1. A person who intends to circulate a petition that a statute or resolution or part thereof enacted by the legislature be submitted to a vote of the people, before circulating the petition for signatures, shall file a copy thereof with the secretary of state. He shall file the copy not earlier than August 1 of the year before the year in which the election will be held.

2. Whenever a number of registered voters of this state equal to 10 percent ~~[or more]~~ of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election shall express their wish by filing with the secretary of state, not less than 120 days before the next general election, a petition in the form provided for in Section 3 of this Article that any statute or resolution or any part thereof enacted by the legislature be submitted to a vote of the people, the officers charged with the duties of announcing and proclaiming elections and of certifying nominations or questions to be voted upon shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding election at which such question may be voted upon by the registered voters of the entire State. The number of registered voters required to file the petition must be determined at the time the copy of the petition is filed with the secretary of state pursuant to this Section. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the secretary of state or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest.

3. If a majority of the voters voting upon the proposal submitted at such election votes approval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof, such statute or resolution or any part thereof shall stand as the law of the state and shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside, suspended or in any way made inoperative except by the direct vote of the people. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof, such statute or resolution or any part thereof shall be void and of no effect.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1 of Article 4 of this Constitution, but subject to the limitations of Section 6 of this Article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes and amendments to statutes and amendments to this Constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition shall be in the form required by Section 3 of this Article and shall be proposed by a number of registered voters from each congressional district in this State equal to 10 percent ~~[or more]~~ of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in ~~[not less than 75 percent of the counties in the State, but the total number of registered voters signing the initiative petition shall be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire State at the last preceding general election.]~~ the congressional district. The number of registered voters required to file the initiative petition must be determined at the time the copy of the initiative petition is filed with the Secretary of State pursuant to this Section.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the Legislature is held. After its circulation, it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 30 days prior to any regular session of the Legislature. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall transmit such petition to the Legislature as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes. The petition shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby shall be enacted or rejected by the Legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, such statute or amendment to a statute shall become law, but shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in Section 1 of this Article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the Legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the Secretary of State shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of such statute or amendment to a statute, it shall become law and take effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the Legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If the Legislature rejects such proposed statute or amendment, the Governor may recommend to the Legislature and the Legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after such different measure has been approved by the Governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure shall be submitted by the Secretary of State to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters are both approved by a majority of the voters voting on such measures, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes shall thereupon become law. If at the session of the Legislature to which an initiative petition proposing an amendment to a statute is presented which the Legislature rejects or upon which it takes no action, the Legislature amends the statute which the petition proposes to amend in a respect which does not conflict in substance with the proposed amendment, the Secretary of State in submitting the statute to the voters for approval or disapproval of the proposed amendment shall include the amendment made by the Legislature.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the Constitution, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than September 1 of the year before the year in which the election is to be held. After its circulation it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 90 days before any regular general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire State. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the State, together with any explanatory matter which shall be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on the petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as such question was originally submitted. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, it shall, unless precluded by subsection 5 or 6, become a part of this Constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court.

5. If two or more measures which affect the same section of a statute or of the Constitution are finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment to the Constitution is finally so approved and an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified which affect the same section, by the voters at the same election:

(a) If all can be given effect without contradiction in substance, each shall be given effect.

(b) If one or more contradict in substance the other or others, the measure which received the largest favorable vote, and any other approved measure compatible with it, shall be given effect. If the one or more measures that contradict in substance the other or others receive the same number of favorable votes, none of the measures that contradict another shall be given effect.

6. If, at the same election as the first approval of a constitutional amendment pursuant to this Section, another amendment is finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified, which affects the same section of the Constitution but is compatible with the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit at the next general election the amendment given first approval as a further amendment to the section as amended by the amendment given final approval or ratified. If the amendment finally approved or ratified contradicts in substance the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall not submit the amendment given first approval to the voters again.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Anderson, Aizley, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart, and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 6—Memorializing banking pioneer and lifelong Nevadan Gino Del Carlo.

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature note with sorrow the passing of Gino Del Carlo on October 6, 2007, at the age of 61; and

WHEREAS, Gino Del Carlo was born in Virginia City on March 23, 1946, attended schools in his historic birthplace and graduated from the University of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, This honorable Nevadan heroically served his country as a captain in the United States Army, earning two Bronze Stars and two Purple Hearts as a helicopter pilot in the Vietnam War; and

WHEREAS, As a civilian, Gino Del Carlo continued to lead by example, working for the betterment of his community with allegiance and pride as a member of several organizations, including the Rotary Club of Reno, for which he served as President from 1983 to 1984; and

WHEREAS, The impressive career of this strong advocate of credit unions and firm believer in the power of grassroots advocacy spanned 35 years in Nevada banking, the last 13 of which he spent as the Chief Executive Officer of the Great Basin Federal Credit Union, where he left a legacy of a supportive culture in which both employees and members continue to grow, learn and succeed; and

WHEREAS, This adventurous spirit's love for the majestic Sierra Nevada beauty of his home state led him to become the 380th conqueror of the 165-mile Tahoe Rim Trail at the age of 59 alongside his son, Gino Joseph; and

WHEREAS, Always having a pleasant greeting and something upbeat to say, Gino Del Carlo was a friend and an inspiration to the community at large as well as anyone fortunate enough to have been acquainted with him; and

WHEREAS, This dedicated husband, father and grandfather left behind his best friend and loving wife Sara, his son and outdoor adventure partner Gino Joseph and his wife Nicole, his daughter Elizabeth and grandson Leo Lucca, as well as his mother Lora and seven brothers; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature do hereby extend their earnest condolences to the family of Gino Del Carlo, whose infectious grin will be missed by his colleagues and countless friends; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Gino Del Carlo will be remembered by all who knew him as a tremendous leader, visionary and friend; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Gino's wife Sara, son Gino Joseph, daughter Elizabeth and mother Lora.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson and Cobb.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

I think the Chief Clerk has done a marvelous job of reflecting on paper a great humanitarian and a good friend of mine. It is hard to describe Gino in a way that you might accurately perceive him. For my colleagues, I want to make them understand. He loved Virginia City. He loved Nevada beyond all belief. When I met him, we both were in college. He always reflected that love of Virginia City and that spirit that came from being from there. Now, those of you who have been up to Virginia City know that it is on the side of the hill. It is hard to imagine that Gino was a track star who held a Virginia City track record for up to ten years, I think. It may still be standing today. He took personal pride in his physical fitness. He played golf and had a love of the outdoors. Gino most cared about people, though, and that was where his focus was. I would urge my colleagues for the adoption of this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN COBB:

I rise in support of ACR 6. I am glad to see this resolution today because, for those of you who did not know Gino Del Carlo, it really does encapsulate a gentleman who I knew very well. He was a member of my Rotary Club in downtown Reno. He was a great member of our community and a person who came from a great family, from Virginia City, just like my family did. So, I am glad to see this come forward today. I urge your support. Thank you.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 6 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Stewart, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 7—Designating the month of September 2009 as National Indoor Toxic Mold Awareness Month.

WHEREAS, People of all ages and backgrounds throughout the world have developed illnesses because of exposure to indoor toxic mold, and it is estimated that 500,000 deaths occur annually in the United States as a result of such exposure; and

WHEREAS, Most molds produce mycotoxins, which are toxic vapors created by mold spores, that are poisonous to humans and animals, and have even been used as biological weapons in war; and

WHEREAS, Aflatoxins are mycotoxins that are among the most carcinogenic substances known, and the United States Food and Drug Administration has enforced regulatory limits on aflatoxin concentrations in foods and feeds since 1965; and

WHEREAS, Mycotoxins enter the body through inhalation, ingestion or contact with the skin and can result in a multitude of symptoms, including, but not limited to, dermatitis, cough, rhinitis, nosebleeds, cold- and flu-like symptoms, headache, general malaise and fever; and

WHEREAS, Mycotoxin exposure can lead to toxic injury that may include multiple potentially life-threatening illnesses, affecting the skin and the nervous, vascular, respiratory, digestive, reproductive, urinary and immune systems, as well as forming cancers within the body; and

WHEREAS, Certain species of molds, referred to as "body temperature molds," can live and grow inside the human body, causing recurring infections and numerous other health problems as well as death; and

WHEREAS, Mycotoxin Toxic Exposure Injury is a chronic, debilitating condition causing serious economic, employment, housing, health, social and other consequences, including death; and

WHEREAS, While there is no practical way to eliminate all molds and mold spores in the indoor environment, indoor mold growth can be curtailed by controlling moisture and ensuring that any damp or wet building materials and furnishings are cleaned and dried within 24 to 48 hours to prevent mold growth; and

WHEREAS, National Indoor Toxic Mold Awareness Month is an opportunity to bring greater attention to the need for further education and consumer awareness about molds and mycotoxins; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the 75th Nevada Legislature designates September 2009 as National Indoor Toxic Mold Awareness Month; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Legislature recognizes that by increasing awareness about indoor toxic mold, we can prevent needless hazardous conditions that take the lives of thousands every year and adversely affect the health and well-being of many more.

Assemblyman Stewart moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Stewart.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I appreciate the Chief Clerk for the fine job she did in reading that resolution with all the technical terms.

Madam Speaker, the purpose of this resolution is to make the people of Nevada more aware of the potential dangers of toxic mold. It is difficult to determine the extent of cases caused by toxic mold because it is often hard to detect, and its harm is sometimes attributed to other sources and diseases. Mold has learned to survive for years in cramped dark spaces, lying dormant. Eventually, either water or air will activate the mold; it thrives on cellulose building materials dampened by rain from leaky roofs or pipes. Of the thousand species of mold, two types, aspergillus and stachybotrys, have evolved as some of the most common deadly types of mold. These two potential killers lie in walls beneath ceiling tiles or near sewage pipes and air vents ready to be activated by drips from leaky air conditioners or roofs. As the host colony is triggered by water, they send out millions of spores which look like dust and eventually become their own colonies. These colonies can thrive in houses, apartments, or commercial buildings, where they can become an extreme health hazard to the residents or occupants. This proclamation is patterned after one from the great State of Georgia where the mold awareness campaign has been very extensive. It is my hope that this proclamation will have the effect of warning the people of Nevada of the great potential dangers of toxic mold. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Stewart moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 7 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that ASSOCIATED PRESS: Rachelle Gines; LAS VEGAS REVIEW-JOURNAL: Ed Vogel; LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL TV: Daniel Joseph; MRJERZ.ORG: Ryan Jerz; RENO GAZETTE-JOURNAL: Tammy Krikorian; YE OLDE MORGUE: Robert W. The Committee on Escort in company with The Honorable Harry Reid, United States Senator from Nevada, appeared before the Bar of the Assembly.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Senator to the rostrum.

Madam Speaker welcomed Senator Reid and invited him to deliver his message.

United States Senator Harry Reid delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-FIFTH SESSION, 2009

This past Thursday, America celebrated the 200th birthday of its greatest president, Abraham Lincoln. The day before, I attended a ceremony at Ford's Theater, the site of his assassination at the hands of John Wilkes Booth. The next day, Thursday, I joined President Obama at a ceremony honoring Lincoln in the Capitol Rotunda.

The week's ceremonies afforded us the opportunity to think about the many special qualities of Abraham Lincoln that have captured our national imagination for these many years. I think the trait that I most admire about Lincoln is his unsurpassed ability to bring people together.

Days after he won re-election in 1864 to a second term, a term that would last about a month before his assassination, President Lincoln delivered an informal victory speech. With the Civil War nearly over and the Union's victory secure, Lincoln spoke of the task that was ahead, that must have seemed nearly as daunting as the war itself: how to restitch the broken bonds of our war-torn country. He said, “Now that the election is over, may not all, having a common interest, reunite in a common effort to save our common country.” President Lincoln died before the Union would be fully secured, but he left our nation a legacy that we must never forget—that in our darkest hours, when the challenges we face seem the most difficult, a vigorous pursuit of common ground will always light our path back home.

I have had the pleasure of addressing the Nevada Legislature many times throughout the course of my career. When I was a member of the Assembly, our sessions were held in the Capitol. Today, as always when I return, thoughts flood my mind of my six years as part of the Nevada State Legislature. For example, my vote was one that helped create this beautiful Legislative Building where we now gather. My years as President of the Senate cause me to reflect and be reminded of the best friend I ever had, the late and legendary Governor Mike O'Callaghan.

So in short, I look forward to today and every opportunity to visit old friends and share my thoughts on the legislative issues that confront our state and our country. We have met in prosperous times, some more so than others. In recent years, Nevada's economic growth has been so dramatic that our state's future seemed to be rolling along on the wheels of destiny. Today we are not so fortunate. A national economic collapse beyond our state's control has brought our progress to a dramatic halt. A triple punch of corporate greed, consumer debt, and lax government oversight has left Nevada and our country facing the worst financial crisis since the Great Depression. This vicious cycle of job loss, home foreclosures and declining tourism has left our state with plunging revenues, forcing you, our state legislature, to make difficult choices that threaten the progress we have made in years past. These are difficult facts to face. I wish I could come to you in better times with better news. I know you would prefer to be legislating for prosperity rather than recovery. But the people of Nevada deserve to know what is at stake. Every Nevadan should see the need for bold action and become engaged in the pursuit of near and long-term solutions. On the day he was elected President of our great nation, Barack Obama began working on a plan to address the economic crisis he inherited: spiraling unemployment, plummeting home values, and unchecked greed on Wall Street.

Last week, Congress completed action on the President's recovery plan. Despite our affection for President Obama and the strong Democratic majorities in Congress, we did not simply rubber stamp the President's plan. Democrats and Republicans engaged in a serious and vigorous debate, and ideas from both parties were adopted to improve this historic legislation. This bill had broad bipartisan support, especially from Republican governors from California to Florida and the states in between. In fact, we would not have passed the bill without the courage of three independent-minded Republicans. We have 58 Democrats in the Senate, soon to be 59, but we need 60 votes to end a filibuster. After marathon negotiations, Republican Senators Olympia Snowe, Susan Collins, and Arlen Specter joined Democrats to enable this clearly-needed legislation to pass the Congress so it can make its way to the President, who turned it into law with his signature in Denver yesterday.

Since this bill passed on Friday, there have been numerous accounts of the positive impact on our country. I am now going to spend some time talking about what it does for Nevada.

For Nevada, the bill we passed has three main components. It will protect and create 3.5 million jobs across our country, with tens of thousands of jobs right here in Nevada, with 90 percent of these jobs created in the private sector; this legislation will provide tax relief for Nevada's middle-class families struggling to make one paycheck last until the next one arrives; and it makes critical investments in education, transportation, renewable energy, and workforce training to pave the road for long-term recovery.

The total cost of this plan is significant, but economic experts from both sides of the aisle agree that bold action is needed and was needed. At a recent meeting in the Capitol, Mark Zandi, John McCain's chief economic advisor; Alan Blinder, a Clinton economic guru; and Martin Feldstein from prior Republican administrations, all told us that a bill such as the one we passed was essential to the country's economic recovery.

This legislation invests our tax dollars. But unlike the fiscal policies of the past decade, this plan recognizes that every dollar spent belongs to the American people. That is why it ensures accountability, transparency and oversight. It is not meant to line the pockets of the corporate CEOs who helped create this mess. Here at the state level, it is not meant to plug every budget hole to let leaders at the state and local levels avoid their responsibilities.

This important plan has one meaning for Nevada and our country: jobs, jobs, jobs, and more jobs. We invest hundreds of millions of dollars for highways, roads, bridges and another $50 million for mass transit here in Nevada. This will put people to work immediately. It will cause money to flow into Nevada for water and sewer projects that could approach $100 million. We empower the private sector to put thousands of people to work turning the sun, the wind, and geothermal energy into the electricity that will help curb our use of fossil fuels and make us more energy independent. We help businesses grow and create jobs with new forms of tax relief, including a provision that allows half the cost of capital investments to be deducted and a 100 percent deduction for small businesses. We invest nearly half a billion dollars in schools—technology in those schools, classrooms, labs, and other education programs to ensure that Nevada has a competitive workforce to attract new and innovative businesses.

The economic recovery plan also provides immediate assistance to Nevadans who are struggling to pay the bills, find a job, and in fact keep their heads above water. That means tens of millions of new dollars and benefits. It will mean that 200,000 Nevadans who have lost their jobs in this recession will receive $100 more per month to help make ends meet. And we help return our unemployed to the workforce by investing millions more in worker training and placement programs.

We provide new funding for school lunches, food stamps, child care services, and meals for senior citizens. We make a nearly half billion dollar investment in FMAP (Federal Medical Assistance Percentages) which will alleviate the pressure state Medicaid and county indigent care have and others areas of our state that have desperate budget needs. This is the largest percentage increase in FMAP funding for any state in the country.

We address the housing crisis by providing an $8,000 tax credit for first-time homebuyers and a program to help state and local governments, in partnership with community-based organizations, to purchase, build, and rehabilitate affordable housing.

And nearly all Nevadans will receive tax relief, with almost one million of our state's workers and their families receiving a $400 tax cut for individuals and $800 for married couples, and a $2,500 tax credit to help 32,000 Nevada families afford the cost of a college education.

Economists are confident that this plan will work. But we must remember that it is just the first leg of a three-legged stool. The second leg will be a comprehensive response to our housing crisis, as outlined in significant detail today by President Obama in Mesa, Arizona. The third leg will reform our broken banking system to get money flowing again with new accountability. We need regulation, but always remember what we do in government. We have to regulate just right because too much regulation is just as bad as not as not enough regulation.

We cannot expect our economy to turn around overnight. The people of Nevada understand that you cannot dig out of an eight-year ditch in eight weeks or even eight months. Nevadans have patience for the long road that lies ahead. But they do not have patience for more politics of finger pointing, foot dragging, or blame-shifting. As of yesterday, with the bill signing and new help for housing, the climb out of the big ditch has begun.

In the short time since President Obama took office, we have already seen a shift in the tone of Washington, D. C. No one expects Democrats and Republicans to suddenly agree on everything, but we have been engaging in serious pursuit of common ground, and that's a welcome change for all Americans. In just the first few weeks of this, the 111th Congress, we have not only passed the economic recovery plan, but also a lands bill that will protect Nevada's great outdoors, help the Reno economy through ReTRAC, enhance private development in Henderson. It even provides land for the expansion of the Nevada Cancer Institute, one of the country's premier treatment facilities for cancer. I am also happy to report the Carson City Land's Act that balances development and preservation in Carson City, which is part of this bill. In addition to what this legislation does for Nevada, it creates wilderness areas throughout the country, preserves our national parks, and as pundits and editorial writers all over this country have said, it is the most important environmental legislation to pass Congress in more than a quarter of a century. We passed the Lily Ledbetter Fair Pay Act to ensure pay equity in the workplace—legislation leading toward equal pay for men and women.

We also passed, on a bipartisan basis, a new Children's Health Insurance Program to provide quality coverage for kids who are sick. This is for millions of children, including tens of thousands here in Nevada. This includes regular doctor's care and the medicine they need to stay healthy.

One thing is also certain: that because of a provision I forced into a bill late last year, for the first time Nevada counties will receive full funding for county payments and Payments In Lieu of Taxes, which translates into millions of dollars for our state. So whatever problems we face today have been greatly lessened as a result of that legislative victory. This is especially so in rural Nevada. None of these major accomplishments would have been possible without serious-minded people from both parties working as partners.

The winds may be shifting in Washington, but bipartisanship is nothing new in Nevada. I am confident Speaker Buckley and Minority Leader Gansert are working together for the betterment of Nevada. In the Senate, young, talented Majority Leader Horsford will work in tandem with one of Nevada's historical figures, Minority Leader Raggio.

The winds have definitely shifted in one area for Nevada with this new administration, and that is the fight on Yucca Mountain. Now instead of fighting against the storm, Nevada has the wind at its back. In partnership with the other delegation members and state constitutional officers, we should finally see the Yucca project come to a close. I am doing everything that I can to stop the dump, but I am not the only one involved in this fight. This is not the time for the state to back off by cutting funding for the legal battles that are still being fought. We are in the last lap of the race, and Nevada needs every weapon to finally win this 20-year-plus battle.

I know that there is already debate on the best way to invest some portions of our state's recovery funds. The top consideration must be how we can put the most people back to work and rebuild Nevada's economy the most quickly. Any legislation is imperfect. As you know, legislation is the art of compromise. Legislation is the art of consensus building. Parts of this legislation will prove to be even better than we anticipate, but other parts of it may not meet our expectations. Together, this plan will work for Nevada.

In the words of President Lincoln, "I do the very best I know how, the very best I can. And I mean to keep on doing it to the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me will not amount to anything. If the end brings me out all wrong, ten angels swearing I was right would make no difference."

The scope of this crisis may be unprecedented in our lifetimes, but we have faced our share of challenges before and risen to the occasion each time.

We may not know exactly when this crisis will end, but I am confident, with the signing of the economic recovery package and today's announcement in Phoenix by President Obama, that history will record yesterday—and yes, today—as the time when recovery began. Thank you all very much.

THE EIGHTEENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), February 19, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:49 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Hambrick, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Dr. Ken Haskins.

O Lord, our Lord, how majestic is Your Name in all the Earth. We marvel at Your creative genius and at the work of Your hands: the star-filled sky, the snow-capped mountains, the painted deserts, and the mighty oceans. These and more sing Your praises. Lord, bless our creative efforts in order that the work of our hands may enrich the lives of those whom we serve for years to come. In Jesus' Name I pray.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 8—Designating February 19, 2009, as E Clampus Vitus Day at the Nevada Legislature.

WHEREAS, It has come to the attention of the Nevada Legislature that the Ancient and Honorable Order of E Clampus Vitus has maintained its honorable status throughout the known world and especially in this great State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The Ancient and Honorable and Exceedingly Humble Order of E Clampus Vitus has survived the test of time to become one of the longest surviving brotherhoods of men that continue to fulfill a fundamental need in providing protection and kindness while advancing the noble cause of Clamperdom to residents of the Silver State, especially all the "widders" and orphans, and descendants of the Argonauts; and

WHEREAS, The Honorable Order of E Clampus Vitus was founded in West Virginia in 1845 by Ephram Bee, owner of a tavern on the National Road, and shortly thereafter the warmhearted brothers affectionately became known as the "Clampin Vipers"; and

WHEREAS, In 1860, William Stewart founded the first Ancient and Honorable Order of E Clampus Vitus, Winnemucca Lodge #1, in the Utah Territory, in the unsuspecting peaceful town known as Carson City; and

WHEREAS, The creed of the Clamproctors, yesterday, as well as today, is "to protect the 'widders' and orphans, and MAINLY the 'widders' "; and

WHEREAS, The State of Nevada is proud to continue the tradition of 164 years of devoted service with the Nevada chapters, which now include the Snowshoe Thompson Chapter of Douglas County, the Julia C. Bulette Chapter of the Comstock, the Lucinda Jane Saunders Chapter of Elko County and the Queho Chapter of Clark County; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature, of whom many are proud members of E Clampus Vitus, do hereby declare February 19, 2009, as E Clampus Vitus Day at the Nevada Legislature, a day to be marked by appropriate revelry and thanksgiving; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Ancient and Honorable Order of E Clampus Vitus is praised and commended for its contributions to mankind and others, and recognized as an illustrious group of Clampers, Clampatrious, Vituscans and Frolicking Friars who must continue to serve and protect the residents of the Silver State; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Patriarchs of E Clampus Vitus.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Anderson.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

For me, one of the highlights of each legislative session is when we have the opportunity to honor the order of E Clampus Vitus, and since the "doin" this evening will be in recognition of the former Speaker, Joe Dini, this is of particular significance to me.

This fraternal organization, as we heard the Chief Clerk explain in the resolution, is now generally associated with the western mining camps in California and Nevada, but it had its origins elsewhere. Ephraim Bee, the founder of E Clampus Vitus, was a tavern owner in Lewisport, West Virginia. He was also an agent of the Underground Railroad. Ephraim Bee hid escaped slaves in caves near Lewisport. Sometimes he would give the townsfolk a raucous party to keep them occupied while the slaves moved on to the next station.

In 1845, Ephraim Bee announced that he had received a special commission from the Emperor of China to establish the ancient and honorable order of E Clampus Vitus. From there, the order spread far and wide, being carried west by the soldiers in the Mexican War and the miners in the California gold rush.

It is not hard to understand why E Clampus Vitus became so popular. The nineteenth century was the heyday of the fraternal orders—the Masons, the Odd Fellows, the ancient order of the Hibernians, and a score of others.

E Clampus Vitus was a thoroughly democratic organization and a conscious parody of these exclusive and pretentious orders. To poke fun at the pomp and ceremony of the fraternal organizations, with their fancy sashes, jeweled vests, and other elaborate headgear, the Clampers cut tin can lids into odd shapes and pinned them to their hats and their characteristic red shirts. This practice is still called "wearing your tin." You will note that many of these gentlemen have such items on their vests.

In the place of pretentious titles and orders, the Clampers elected officers with names like "The Noble Grand Humbug," "The Roisterous Iscutis," or "The Grand Imperturbable Hangman." Finally, in place of the elaborate initiation ceremonies, the Clampers admitted new members with a rowdy drinking party.

Today, the Clampers are best known for preserving the history of the western mining districts. When you visit one of Nevada's old mining camps, you will see bronze plaques marking the sites of taverns, bordellos, and other places that were important to the miners of the nineteenth century but would be forgotten today if it were not for the Clampers. After placing one of these historic markers, the Clampers revert to their origins as a "historic drinking society," holding a boisterous party known as the "doin's," of which we'll have one this evening.

So today we salute the contributions of one of Nevada's oldest, largest, and most disreputable fraternal organizations, the ancient and honorable order of E Clampus Vitus.

I want to thank you and I want to thank them for their contribution to our society and for the reminder that is possible to have a fun day regardless of where you are at. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 8 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 19, 2009

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8.

Assemblywoman Dondero Loop moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Dondero Loop, Munford, Christensen, Pierce, Leslie, Parnell, Anderson, Bobzien, Grady, and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DONDERO LOOP:

I would like to introduce my dear friend, Guy Rocha. Guy and I go way back. We were John S. Park Elementary School Panthers together, I think, in the second grade. Then we were Lancers at John C. Fremont Middle School. Then he decided not to be a Wildcat and went to Clark High School and left us all, but we stayed friends. He is a true product of public education in the State of Nevada and is a native Nevadan. I followed his work and we reconnected at a dinner recently when I realized he did not know he had made my best friend, Amy, cry throughout the entire third grade because he teased her about being Polish. We have straightened all that out. Amy has gotten her dozen red roses. We have found out that Guy was Polish and that is why he was telling those jokes to her. So all these years later we have found that out and it is now all laid to rest. I applaud him for everything he has done. We forgive you for crying every day. Thank you for the red roses to Amy. She is very happy and living in Boulder City now. Thank you for all your hard work, and thank you for being such a dear friend.

ASSEMBLYMAN MUNFORD:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I would also would like to extend my congratulations and strong support for Guy Rocha. He was, at one time, one of my students at Clark High School. I am very impressed with his success, and I just wish him all good luck. I hope he gets what he's been looking for in the future. Thanks a lot for being part of my life.

ASSEMBLYMAN CHRISTENSEN:

Thank you for recognizing me, Madam Speaker. I stand in strong support of this measure to recognize our honoree. I am in strong protest, however, of his retiring. You will be greatly missed. I have heard that great things come out of Clark High School, and I admit, for full disclosure, that I graduated from Clark, as well. I didn't want that disclosure issue to come back on me. But, I just wanted to tell you that—and I am sure that I speak for many of us here in this body—some of my most fond memories in the three sessions that have been leading up to this one, is sitting over in the old Assembly Chamber and hearing those stories of knife wielding Assembly members and Senators, going through their brawls and passing laws. Those stories helped us feel so civil, here. Really, there are just some great memories of watching you speak and represent history in Nevada. I will truly miss you. Again, I want to recognize you for all the great things you have done for the state. Thank you.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks.

I would note that Guy was the first and only state archivist in our state's history to make presentations to the full Assembly at the old Assembly Chamber, and it is one of our best days each session. We did that in 2003, 2005, 2007, and I am pleased to let all the freshman know that he has agreed to present again this time, in 2009. We will look forward to that day, one of our most special floor sessions each session.

Guy, we so appreciate all you have done in your service to our state. We recognize that we have to preserve what you have built up over the years. We will do that. Thank you for all you have done for us.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PIERCE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of this resolution. I reiterate what everyone else has said. I am a history buff, and I just really always look forward to when we go to the old Capitol and you tell us about days gone by. I just wanted to thank you very much for your service to this state.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of this resolution. I just have a little request for Mr. Rocha since he will be addressing us next month or whenever we have our old Assembly Chamber floor session scheduled. I would like to hear the story of the Mesquite mosquito in regards to the old Assembly Chamber. Senator Reid told a story yesterday. It will be quite interesting, I think, for Mr. Rocha to research that for us. I think the Assembly will greatly benefit from hearing about the Mesquite mosquito. It is a challenge.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PARNELL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 8. As a friend of Guy's and he being one of my constituents, I wanted to just say, on behalf of the Capital City, and on behalf of all former history teachers, we just think you are a gem. We are glad you will at least be staying in Carson City, so hopefully you will continue to come to the State Library and do what you do so well. We wish you happiness and health in your retirement. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, too, rise in support of the resolution. As a history teacher and one who likes to believe they understand a little bit about Nevada history, I cannot emphasize enough the remarkable contribution, truly remarkable contribution of Mr. Rocha in breaking the myths that surround the oral history of the state as compared to that which is actually supported by records that are keenly kept. Without his strong endeavor, those myths would live forever. I look forward to both his written and televised presentations continuing in the tradition of making sure the historical record of our state is kept accurately.

We now have almost enough time to say we have a historic past, but we are still working on it. I thank you for your service. I regret his departure from state service and recognize, in part, it is because of the deep economic troubles facing his department and the area where he works. His retiring, being at the top end of the food ladder, means others might be able to stay and carry on the work that he has started. That kind of dedication is rare in any society. I think we should all recognize it. Thank you, Mr. Rocha.

ASSEMBLYMAN BOBZIEN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of the resolution. I just would like to start on a personal note and thank Guy for the time I have spent with him and getting to know him and the friendship that he has with members of my family. I think it is important to note—and I want to thank you on a broader level as one of many people in this body who is not a native Nevadan—that ever since I have been here, I have been aware of his work and the things he has done to interpret our past and to help us to define ourselves as Nevadans, once we got here. I think it is also important to note—as you're concluding your service in your professional position—that we not lose sight, as Nevadans, of the importance of what it was and what it is that you do for our state as we hurtle into our very uncertain future. We always know where we came from. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I do stand in support of this resolution. I think it is appropriate since this past weekend we just finished the state wrestling championships around the state. A very important part of history is that Guy was a state championship wrestler. Not only that, he has helped many of the local high schools produce championship wrestlers, and for that we really appreciate him. Also, from a local government person, over the years, Guy has gone around to all the smaller communities. When I was mayor in Yerington, he was down there quite often helping us put our records together. If it had not been for Guy, many of the records for the smaller communities around the state would have been lost, and for that, I thank you and wish you happy retirement.

Resolution adopted.

INTRODUCTION, FIRST READING AND REFERENCE

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 19, 2009

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 9.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 9.
Assemblyman Carpenter moved the adoption of the resolution.
Remarks by Assemblyman Carpenter.
Resolution adopted.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Assembly in recess at 12:32 p.m.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 12:35 p.m.
Madam Speaker presiding.
Quorum present.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Hardy requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Today, I have two guests sitting with me who are going to stand with me; and I would invite the group coming from Clark County predominantly to also stand at this point. Sitting with me are Kelly Thomas Boyers and her son, Alec Thomas. In light of the fact that I am probably going to wax eloquent, I think it is probably appropriate to welcome them to the floor of the Assembly and recognize that they are budding lobbyists and they will probably be talking to each and every one of us. So, if you can welcome them to the floor of the Assembly.

If you will indulge me, Madam Speaker. Kelly is the mother of Adam Thomas; Alec is the brother of Adam Thomas. Adam Thomas, as you may recollect, almost one year ago was serving as the intern for Senator Michael Schneider when he was involved in a one-car accident, swerving to avoid a pedestrian. He was not safety belted in, was ejected from the vehicle, and subsequently died. Because Alec, being the brother, is attending a high school of religious origin, I thought it only fair to ask him about the concept of giving one's life. I would preface that by saying that when my Savior was asked, "Who is my neighbor?" he used the parable of the Good Samaritan to illustrate that each and every one of us has a neighbor. So that would lead me to the quote of the scripture in John 15:13, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." I asked Alec, "Who were his friends?" and he appropriately answered, "Everyone".

His brother, Adam, who gave his life for a friend that he did not know, truly made a sacrifice. He may not have understood the sacrifice that was going to happen, but it is my testimony that the resurrection is real, and Adam has done something for someone he did not know. What a privilege it is for us to have a wonderful mother, a wonderful brother, here representing their son, their brother, to us and with us on the floor of the Assembly. May we all appreciate our children, our siblings, our spouses, and may we remember the sacrifices that so many people have given for us, would be my humble prayer.

Thank you, Madam Speaker.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Aizley and Arberry, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Dr. Ken Haskins.

Our Loving Heavenly Father, You have taught us that it is more blessed to give than to receive and that it is better to serve than to be served. Bless these servants of Yours, who give so much in service to the citizens of this great State of Nevada. I pray in the Name of our Savior, who gave His all in service to others.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Madam Speaker:

Your Committee on Transportation, to which was referred Assembly Bill No. 172, has had the same under consideration, and begs leave to report the same back with the recommendation: Do pass.

COMMUNICATIONS

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20515-2801

February 18, 2009

THE HONORABLE STEVEN HORSFORD, Senate Majority Leader, THE HONORABLE BARBARA BUCKLEY, Speaker, Nevada Legislature, 401 S. Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89701-4747

DEAR SENATOR HORSFORD AND SPEAKER BUCKLEY:

I am writing to express my desire to address both Houses of the Legislature during the 2009 legislative session. I would enjoy the opportunity to address the Legislature about the recent American Recovery and Reinvestment Act and other national economic challenges that confront the Congress and the country. These issues affect Nevada citizens directly and the perspectives of the members of the Nevada Legislature are paramount to my decision making as we work to solve these issues to the benefit of our citizens.

I understand that March 30, 2009, at 11:00 AM, is available and if you could confirm the details regarding my address to the Legislature I would appreciate it. Please direct any communications to my District Director, Tod Story. He can be reached at 702-220-9823. Thank you and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
SHELLEY BERKLEY
Member of Congress

By Assemblymen Goedhart, Christensen, Cobb, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Settelmeyer, and Stewart:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 2—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to require that an initiative petition which would create, generate or increase any public revenue in any form receive not less than a certain percentage of affirmative votes for approval at an election.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

The Nevada Constitution currently provides that an initiative petition which proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute must, after verification by the Secretary of State of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, be transmitted to the Legislature, which may enact or reject the statute or amendment or take no action thereon. If the statute or amendment is rejected by the Legislature or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the Secretary of State is required to submit the question of approval or disapproval of the statute or amendment to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If a majority of the voters voting on the question at the election votes to approve the statute or amendment, it becomes law and takes effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court. (Nev. Const. Art. 19, § 2)

This resolution proposes an amendment to the Nevada Constitution to provide that if an initiative petition proposes a statute, an amendment to a statute, the repeal of a statute or an amendment to the Nevada Constitution which would create, generate or increase any public revenue in any form, including, but not limited to, taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or increases in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates, the approval of the petition requires the affirmative vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the voters voting on the question at each election required for the petition. If greater than one-third of the voters voting on the question at any such election vote to disapprove the petition, no further action may be taken on the petition.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section, designated Section 7, be added to Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 7. If an initiative petition proposes a statute, an amendment to a statute, the repeal of a statute or an amendment to this Constitution which would create, generate or increase any public revenue in any form, including, but not limited to, taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or increases in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates, the petition requires an affirmative vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the voters voting on the question to approve the petition at each election required for the petition. If greater than one-third of the voters voting on the question at any such election vote disapproval of the petition, no further action shall be taken on the petition.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1 of Article 4 of this Constitution, but subject to the limitations of ~~[Section 6]~~ Sections 6 and 7 of this Article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes and amendments to statutes and amendments to this Constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition shall be in the form required by Section 3 of this Article and shall be proposed by a number of registered voters equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in not less than 75 percent of the counties in the State, but the total number of registered voters signing the initiative petition shall be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire State at the last preceding general election.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the Legislature is held. After its circulation, it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 30 days prior to any regular session of the Legislature. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall transmit such petition to the Legislature as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes. The petition shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby shall be enacted or rejected by the Legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, such statute or amendment to a statute shall become law, but shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in Section 1 of this Article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the Legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the Secretary of State shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. ~~[If]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of such statute or amendment to a statute, it shall become law and take effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the Legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. ~~[If]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If the Legislature rejects such proposed statute or amendment, the Governor may recommend to the Legislature and the Legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after such different measure has been approved by the Governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure shall be submitted by the Secretary of State to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If each of the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters ~~[are both]~~ is approved by ~~[a majority of]~~ the number of voters voting on ~~[such measures,]~~ the measure as required by this Constitution, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes shall thereupon become law. If at the session of the Legislature to which an initiative petition proposing an amendment to a statute is presented which the Legislature rejects or upon which it takes no action, the Legislature amends the statute which the petition proposes to amend in a respect which does not conflict in substance with the proposed amendment, the Secretary of State in submitting the statute to the voters for approval or disapproval of the proposed amendment shall include the amendment made by the Legislature.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the Constitution, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than September 1 of the year before the year in which the election is to be held. After its circulation it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 90 days before any regular general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire State. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the State, together with any explanatory matter which shall be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. ~~[If]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on the petition. ~~[If]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as such question was originally submitted. ~~[If]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on such petition. ~~[If]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, it shall, unless precluded by subsection 5 or 6, become a part of this Constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court.

5. If two or more measures which affect the same section of a statute or of the Constitution are finally approved pursuant to this Section ~~[,]~~ and Section 7 of this Article, or an amendment to the Constitution is finally so approved and an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified which affect the same section, by the voters at the same election:

(a) If all can be given effect without contradiction in substance, each shall be given effect.

(b) If one or more contradict in substance the other or others, the measure which received the largest favorable vote, and any other approved measure compatible with it, shall be given effect. If the one or more measures that contradict in substance the other or others receive the same number of favorable votes, none of the measures that contradict another shall be given effect.

6. If, at the same election as the first approval of a constitutional amendment pursuant to this Section ~~[,]~~ and Section 7 of this Article, another amendment is finally approved pursuant to this Section ~~[,]~~ and Section 7 of this Article, or an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified, which affects the same section of the Constitution but is compatible with the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit at the next general election the amendment given first approval as a further amendment to the section as amended by the amendment given final approval or ratified. If the amendment finally approved or ratified contradicts in substance the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall not submit the amendment given first approval to the voters again.

Assemblyman Goedhart moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

Adopted 19th day of February, 2009.

Board of County Commissioners
County of Elko, State of Nevada

SHERI EKLUND-BROWN, Chair — CHARLIE MYERS, Vice Chair
DEMAR DAHL — JOHN ELLISON

PROCLAMATION OF THE NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY

WHEREAS, Born in Fallon, Nevada in 1930, John C. Carpenter grew up in a rural environment of the West, learning what a sense of community really meant; and

WHEREAS, Though he says politics is a terrible disease, serving the people of his home state became his brand of passion, and he has served the people of the State in the Nevada Legislature since 1987 and is now serving his last session, totaling ten special sessions and twelve regular sessions; and

WHEREAS, Prior to serving at the State level, John C. Carpenter served on various boards of Elko County including, the Hospital Board, Recreation Board, Elko Convention and Visitors Authority, and as Chairman of the Elko County Commission; and

WHEREAS, Over the years he developed a keen sense of leadership, honesty, courage, and the "cowboy way" that served him well in rounding up his colleagues when they thought about straying from the herd; and

WHEREAS, He provided us with a chance at learning what the cowboy way is all about by conducting the Cowboy Hall of Fame ceremony during each legislative session; and

WHEREAS, He taught us that being a cowboy may or may not have anything to do with riding a horse; that being a cowboy is a state of mind and simply put, you gotta have heart; and

WHEREAS, From him we also learned the cowboy rule that, "A cowboy always sets his hat upside down to catch all of God's good luck"; and

WHEREAS, After many years of standing by the cowboy code that says to write it on your heart, our favorite cowboy known as "The Boss" completes his long dusty ride leaving his brand on all of our hearts; now, therefore, be it PROCLAIMED, That the State of Nevada recognizes the accomplishments of John C. Carpenter during his years of service and congratulates him on receiving the honor of having the Law Enforcement Center Building in Elko named after him, a building that will stand tall like our pardner in the Assembly.

Dated this 20th day of February, 2009.

BARBARA E. BUCKLEY,
Speaker of the Assembly

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I'm speechless. I asked Terry, my friend there, what all these chairs are for. He said, "Oh, we got a bunch of Girl Scouts coming." I was talking to John Ellison, and I said, "I don't know where these Girls Scouts are." Pretty soon, I saw my wife, and I didn't know what the devil to think.

Thank you so much. This is such a great surprise. I could introduce my family, but I don't know whether I can remember all their names or not. I have such a great family. Wow—they've been so supportive of me all these years. Like I said one time, it has been a great ride, and Roseann has been with me all these years. I'm going to try to introduce my family: my son,

Jett—he's over there in the red tie; my son, Scott—he has a blue tie; my granddaughter, and my son, Doug. See, I got to figure out John, what are you really? He is married to my granddaughter, and she works for the federal government. Her and I are a little bit on the different sides of the political fence because Candi, she sort of belongs to the other party that I don't, but I love her so much, and she is such a great kid. Then there is my daughter, Elizabeth, and my other grandson, John. John is a pathologist down in Tucson, so if you want to get your skin read, he'll do it. I should say something about my three sons on the end, there. Jett has a computer deal in Boise, and Scott works for Barrick up in Elko. Doug is the one who has the world by the tail; he retired from the Air Force with 20 years, and now he just flies FedEx planes all around the world, so he is one of these triple- or double-dippers we got. My daughter Lois—she moved down to Arizona where it is warm. My daughter, Susan, teaches school up in Vancouver, Washington, and my other grandson, Doug—this is really difficult, and certainly don't ask me what day they were born on—and my other granddaughter, Kayla, and the other one, Stephanie, and they both live in Elko, and they like to play ball and things like that. Then there is my grandson, who is kind of a comedian. Stand up there, Tim. I tell him he needs to be a sports announcer because he has always got smart remarks and he loves sports, so you need to go where the big bucks are, Tim. And then my daughter, Linda. I think that I need to introduce my friend, John Ellison, because he is kind of family, too, you know. Maybe he is the one that thought about all of this deal. Are you the instigator?

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Yes, he is the mastermind.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Are you the instigator? And then Cindy Ellison is John's wife, and she has worked 21 years for the justice court in Elko, so if you go through Elko and you get a ticket, she'll take your money.

Elizabeth—did I forget you? I don't think I did. I think I said Elizabeth. Well, my daughter, Elizabeth, she is the brains of the outfit. If you need any problem solved like financial or whatever, she'll help you.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

We need her.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

This is pretty tough, you know. Roseann and I have been married how long, Roseann? Fifty-six years—holy Lord! Like I said before, Roseann has stood behind me in all these political endeavors through all these years, and she runs the businesses in Elko when I'm there or not there. Though I don't know how you pulled all this off; I thought I just talked to you this morning. I don't know how you got here so fast and got all these kids here. My Lord, it is quite an accomplishment.

Oh, she said they shipped them over here FedEx. I asked Doug one time, "What do you really do with FedEx?" And he says, "Oh, we deliver all the drugs right on time." You should be around on Christmas when these kids all come home. My Lord, I love to see them come, but I am sure glad when they leave. We have a great family, and we have so much fun. I thank everyone in the Assembly because it has been a great part of my life. I think sometimes we've done pretty good things, and sometimes we've done things not so good, but as all politicians, you got to take the good with the bad. Thank you so much for all these honors. Before I thought maybe I would be kind of glad to get out of the Assembly because Roseann and I have other things to do, but after standing here today, heck, I might just change my name—I guess I won't change my name and just come back as somebody else.

Anyway, thank you so much, Madam Speaker, and I do appreciate all the time. We have some other people over here: Rob Stokes, the county manager, and Cash Minor—he's the guy with all the bucks from Elko County—and my friend, Warren Russell, another county commissioner, and then my really good friend, John Marvel. I didn't know John was going to show up today. Another thing, I invited Pat yesterday, and now she's got the habit, she's going to be here every day just like John's wife was. Did I miss anybody else? My other grandkids over there—Tyler and Rylee—and they are looking things over. We do have one great-grandchild. You'd think with all of these kids and all of these grandchildren, we'd have more than one great-grandchild—so that is kind of a hint, Candi. Even if you let her or him register in the other party, please get busy. Thank you all, and I don't know what else to say. I've probably been here spouting off too long, so thank you so much, Madam Speaker.

I just want to say one more thing: that I hope they don't expect me to pay all their hotel rooms tonight and give them a ride back home, because we'll have to go rob the bank or something.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOICOECHEA:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, like the rest of this body, rise in support and in recognition of "The Man." He is the most respected man in this building. He has always been my mentor, whether it was trailing a bunch of sheep or following a bunch of cows, John Carpenter has always been "The Man." I do want to thank Elko County for at least naming their justice facility, i.e., the jail, for John Carpenter. At least that way if he decides to return to politics, he will have a place to stay. Welcome to all the Carpenter clan. What a great man, a great father you have; you should be very proud of him. I know I am, I know Elko County is, and all of Northeastern Nevada. Thank you, John.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. The last two or three days that we have known about this it has been very difficult, as we meet at 6 A.M. in the morning to talk about what is going on during the day, to keep this from John. Like my colleague from Eureka, I'm not sure that with your many years on the Judiciary Committee why they named this building or if there are other reasons that we won't go into. We congratulate you. In the introductions, we did miss one person who has been here with the camera, and I'm so happy that yesterday John introduced my wife, Pat, and she came back a second day. We have Gladys Goicoechea, who is here all the way from Eureka for this function and to watch Eureka play in the state finals in basketball. Thank you, Madam Chair.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I wouldn't want the opportunity to pass me by to praise my good friend and colleague, Mr. Carpenter. As you may recall, when you, Madam Speaker, were the vice chair of the Judiciary Committee, John Carpenter had already set the standard for both of us in that time. The tradition within the Judiciary Committee is that if you are not in the "CAB,"— the Carpenter, Anderson, Buckley program, — the bill is not going to pass. The Carpenter exit is always there; the only way for a bill to get out of the Judiciary Committee is with John's seal of approval. I can clearly understand why the building in Elko is named for you because you left a dramatic mark on all of our hearts, here in this body, and on the community in which you serve. There isn't enough praise for all the things and contributions you have made to our citizens. Thank you, John.

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. In my first session here about a hundred years ago, I was a real rebel and I was fighting like crazy — actually there were a few of us — against the quarter cent sales tax raise. We had developed a plot where we were going to call for this to have to be a vote of the people to raise the tax. Leadership did not want that, so we knew that they would call for a voice vote and no matter which way it went, they would say it failed. So we devised a plot where Bob Price would call for a division of the house and then there would be two people to stand up in support of that, and John Carpenter volunteered to be one and I was the other one. The leadership got wind of this and called us into a caucus, both leaderships. The Republicans went into caucus and so did the Democrats, and Mr. Perkins was wailing about how could anybody stoop to such a low practice. I looked at Bob Price and his head was red as a tomato and beads of sweat were pouring down, and so I tapped him on the shoulder and I said, "Ok," I thought he was going to have a heart attack. I said, "It's over Bob, we'll capitulate, we'll just forget about this," and we did. I could not get ahold of Carpenter in the other caucus, and they were grilling him terribly. It was over an hour that he stood his ground. He would not back down. Once Carpenter gives you his word, nothing changes it. He is a great guy. He has always been my mentor, too, even though it is the other party.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I want to thank you for coordinating this with the people from Elko and the family being here. It means so much to all of us to meet your family. I want to thank John for all his years of service; he is a true statesman. When you look around in this building, there are certain people that have the respect — of everyone — it doesn't matter what party, what house, it just doesn't matter and that is John Carpenter. Thank you for being my mentor, too, and always welcoming the new people, for the respect you have in this body and the respect you show for others.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I want to say to my colleague in Elko, I have been doing the cowboy breakfast, and I try to make it at least three or four days during the week. The one thing I have learned from you, and will be with my heart for a long time, is just be fair, keep your word. I think you bring this to the building and that a lot more people need to. You'll forever be remembered with me. Thank you for all your service.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I think one of the things that will live on after John leaves us is the cowboy sayings that he has left with us. I took the opportunity last year of compiling 13 of those sayings and sending them out to many of my friends. I remember one of them was, "Never ask you barber if you need a haircut." I know that these sayings will live on long afterwards. John, we love you and thank you for your great service. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. It is a good day for Mr. Carpenter. I wanted to give you my thanks for all the teaching you have given me, especially now, going into my fourth session. I remember, even as a freshman, Mr. Carpenter asking if—when we passed bills to put people in jail—if I was going to work hard to get them out. Then later he said, "But if Mr. Horne is okay with it, I probably am." That was a great compliment. Last session, we had a vote to override a veto. I went to Mr. Carpenter to ask him for his vote and his response was, "I stood with you in committee. I will stand with you now." That just speaks volumes on the character Mr. Carpenter has. You have heard it over and over again that his word is his bond and he sticks by it. I just hope all legislators, now and in the future, will emulate that, Mr. Carpenter. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. As a member of the Cowboy Hall of Fame, I also wanted to congratulate you. It took me four sessions to become a member. Every session, I would come back and say, "Mr. Carpenter, this is my year." You would say, "Ohhh, I do not know yet. We will see. We will see." That was one of the proudest moments of my legislative career—the day I was inducted into the Cowboy Hall of Fame.

But I also remember my second session, when I had a very controversial bill and people said, "If you introduce that bill, they will use it against you. You will be a two-term Assemblywoman, and no one from the other party will vote for it. You will regret this day." Consulting with my good friend, the Judiciary chairman, I decided to go ahead and introduce the bill. My colleague from Elko was one of two people in the other party who voted for the bill, both in committee and on the floor. I asked him after the vote, "Why did you do it? Because I know there was a lot of pressure on you not to vote for this bill." And he just looked me in the eye and said, "Because you are right. We should not be doing that to this one group of people. You are absolutely right." I remember that day very clearly. I respect you so deeply. We have worked on so many things together, and like your granddaughter, I probably could not be any more different, politically speaking, than my good friend from Elko. But we have found so much common ground on so many issues. I have deeply respected your position. Even when we have disagreed you have explained why. I value our friendship and our being colleagues in the Assembly more than you will ever know. Thank you, Mr. Carpenter.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. As a girl from the other party raised just down the road from my colleague, I felt like I had to get up and acknowledge how proud we are of Mr. Carpenter. I was thinking of the same story that my colleague from Reno told, which happened during my first session. I learned right away that the bills out of Judiciary had to meet the Carpenter test. That was something that I could always judge. But, you know, I didn't know much about this cowboy from Elko County. You got up and gave a floor speech that day that has stayed with me ever since. It taught me a lot about you and also about how we look at people. We do not always know what is in their hearts.

Also, we have not mentioned the Susie Q. We have had so much fun with your sense of humor and all the antics we have had over the years with the Susie Q and other things, including the Cowboy Hall of Fame. I am honored to be in that Hall of Fame. I congratulate you on your honor today and look forward to the next three months we have to work together. Congratulations.

ASSEMBLYMAN CHRISTENSEN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. It is really an honor to stand and recognize our esteemed colleague from Elko. I was trying to think of what I would say. My heart is full, truly. A thought came to mind, something that I tried to quickly forget about, that just happened yesterday morning at the gym. I was getting ready to come into the office, and some of the gyms' patrons were also getting ready and carrying on about their absolute abhorrence for politicians. Now, of course, Madam Speaker, none of us are politicians; we are all statesmen. I do not know exactly who they were referring to, but they were carrying on and on and on. The more they spoke, I kept my head down and thought I better hurry and get out of there before they saw my Assembly license plate.

In sitting here, listening to us recognize someone who has given so much of his life, and this great family that has traveled so far to be here, too, to honor their father and grandfather and father-in-law—it is just great to be able to work with someone and to have had a mentor like our good Assemblyman. That's especially true in this day and age where people are looking for those great mentors, those political leaders like Assemblyman Carpenter, who can leave such a great mark on the state. Assemblyman, I just want to tell you I admire you very much, and as my colleagues have said, I just wanted to say thank you so much for standing your ground, for being such a true and honorable man. It has been a great honor to serve with you. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN MANENDO:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. To my cowboy friend, John Carpenter, we have been doing this rodeo for 16 years; but even before that, I used to come up here, since the 1991 Session. What everybody would say is, "You need to get to know one person." That was John Carpenter. When I came in as a freshman, having the opportunity to then serve with you, we had a little conversation early on because we had a 21-21 tie that year. Mr. Carpenter was the type of person who you could just go and you could pick his brain. You could talk to him about what you really felt inside. He said to always vote your conscience, represent your district, do what you feel is right for the people you serve, and the chips will fall into play.

I, too, will miss serving with you. We will miss the Susie Q. I am so glad I am in the Cowboy Hall of Fame. Your mark on this institution and our state will live on forever. Thank you, Mr. Carpenter.

ASSEMBLYMAN ATKINSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I think Mr. Carpenter is already laughing because he knows where I am going. What a great guy. I tell you, I have had the pleasure to serve in this house for four terms now. I have always been on a committee with Mr. Carpenter. He has always reminded me that I am a city boy. I remember talking to Mr. Carpenter and trying to find a way to get into the Cowboy Hall of Fame. He kept reminding me, "You are not ready. You are not ready."

I was vice chair of Natural Resources and I will never forget—I had on a pink necktie and a pink shirt, and I went to committee and John reminded me, "You are not ready." I knew in order to get in, I would have to tone it down a little bit. I knew I was getting closer at the end of that session. Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Goicoechea gave me a present on the committee, which is usually not done for a vice chairman. But they gave me a cowboy hat—which the Review Journal ran in the paper one time—which I did not appreciate—and I knew that the following year, I may have my opportunity to get into the Cowboy Hall of Fame. So last year, they graciously put me in.

But I would like to say that Mr. Carpenter is one of the most honest, honest men you will ever meet. I always know in committee if I have lost his vote because he says, "Well, you know . . ." I just have to go, "Aw, shoot, I have lost that one." But I have always appreciated that because I have never had to wonder where he stood. He has always, always, always been totally honest with me if he cannot vote for something. He and I, just yesterday, were the last two people to leave the Transportation Committee—which is the committee I chair. We were just talking about a bill that we had just heard. I thought for a minute he was the chair because he was telling me it wasn't going anywhere. So, I took heed. But he is a great man. I have been blessed to meet you over the last few years and I am just hopeful you will take my calls because I know you let me in last year, but I have a lot of work to do, so I want to be able to call you for these issues and hopefully you will pick up the phone. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. John, you have been a really good friend to me—a good mentor this term and my last term, as a freshman. My mother got to serve with you for 12 years. She loves you and thinks the world of you. My stepfather got to work with you when he was legislative counsel. I know he thinks the world of you. I always remember a speech you gave—I think it was the end of the 1995 Session—where you said that you might not see them again because elections happen, life happens, so try to end on good terms. I always remember that speech because it kind of taught me party labels, winning or losing elections, really are not that important to you. It is doing the right thing for the people. I value you being here and I value your friendship. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GUSTAVSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, too, would like to rise and say a few things about our colleague from Elko. It has been an honor to serve with you, John. This is my fifth term serving with you, especially on the Judiciary Committee. I think each and every one of us knows how much we all respect John. Whenever we are sitting in committee—we might be taking notes on our computer, doing our emails—but whenever John pushes that button and he starts to speak, everyone listens. We all know that when he has something to say, it is something very important. We would just like to thank you for all the good information you have given us over the years. John, we are all going to miss you very much. It has been a real honor to serve with you. You never know what he will do next year, though. Thank you.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I just wanted to add a couple of words. I received an email from the Elko Daily Press a couple of days ago asking, "So why are you helping to honor John Carpenter? Why would you do that? You are kind of a Las Vegas Democrat, and what are you doing helping surprise the Elko cowboy?" It made me reflect back to when I first met John. I was seated next to him on the Assembly Judiciary Committee. You know, when you are a young lawyer, you think you know it all. I thought, "Who is this slow speaking cowboy that I am sitting next to in the Judiciary Committee?" It did not take me very long to find out that in many areas of the law, John knew a lot more than I did. He had been working on these laws for many, many years. He knew what every word was designed to do, something you cannot do when you are picking up the law cold.

I got to know him. I grew to respect him. He would ask me for free legal advice because I am really good at giving that. He called me his "smart, lady lawyer." "What does this bill mean?" I realized pretty early on that he really already knew what the bill meant. He just wanted to make sure it was the right thing. He would bring in his dog-eared copy of the bills and he had read every one of them the night before. There are some legislators who do not read every bill. John reads every bill. He is afraid something might happen that is going to hurt someone out there in the state. He wants us to get it right so that we are not adversely affecting people's lives. I respect that so much. I respect that he does not play games with his vote. He does what is right. If he is the only one voting against a bill, so be it, because it is the right thing to do.

Of all the folks in this building, you rank at the top for me as a legislator to emulate and one to respect. I am proud to have served with you. This recognition by the Elko County Commission will ensure that your name will be associated with justice, because that is what you have brought to this body and what you live in your own life, every day. Thank you.

THE TWENTY-SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 23, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:14 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Ron Torkelsen.

Dear God, I pray this morning for the country we represent and the State of Nevada that these men and women govern. I recognize that it is no simple task given to these people. Our times are filled with economic challenge, an increase in job loss, a multitude of homeless families, and no simple solutions to the dilemma. Therefore, my pray this morning is that You will give each representative here the wisdom to know what is best for the people of Nevada and the courage to stand for what is right. I pray that they may look beyond personal preference and together work toward strengthening this state we call home.

Thank You, God, that we live in a nation of the free. I pray that these freedoms will be the motivation for the business of this day.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, February 23, 2009

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Anderson.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

I had the great honor of serving with Sergeant Major Tosolini in the National Guard. I joined it when I was in high school in September of 1960.

One of the gentlemen with us, Douglas Byington, was the commanding officer of the 221st Anti-Tank while his twin brother, Dallas, was the commanding officer of the 121st, where "Toss" was in the operations section. I was in the operations and intelligence section of the other firing battery, and thus I got the opportunity of working with someone who, to me, was already a hero and someone who cared very, very deeply about the country and the betterment of our society. When he became the first Sergeant Major in the history of the Guard—the Command Sergeant Major—he was the man in charge.

He was always the guy who cared the most for what the troops were really doing. A Command Sergeant Major is all about "the guys." It is about making sure the rank and file are there when it is cold, when water was up to our knees, when the fire was raging in front of us. As happens with guard troops, you are put on home defense against floods and fires. Toss was there to make sure the esprit de corps was always there.

He was the heart of the Guard. He was the heart of a veteran. You saw that in his actions in keeping alive the veterans' home here in Reno where we have a veterans' hospital that has been in existence since after World War II. Toss contributed to everything, to life. His great vitality and love of life was demonstrated in everything he did. There is no possible way that we can reflect in a simple statement the dedication of any veteran, but a man who fought in World War II, who carried that love into the Guard, who instilled every human being he met with a love of country—he had the purpose of sharing his life with all of us and for our own betterment.

Resolution adopted.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Assembly in recess at 11:42 a.m.

THE TWENTY-THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), February 24, 2009

Assembly called to order at 10:39 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Ron Torkelsen.

Dear God, Your scripture encourages people to "worry about nothing, pray about everything, and rejoice." The promise is that You can bring good from what appears to be chaos. The amazing truth is that You have chosen these people standing here to do just that. The evening news has reported the challenges and the decisions this body of people have been dealing with and it is no simple task. Therefore, I pray once again for the wisdom You have promised to give. Use these people today to do that which is best for this state and the people who live here.

Thank You for the success You have promised.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 11:21 a.m.
Madam Speaker presiding.
Quorum present.

The hour of 11:15 having arrived, Madam Speaker announced the Assembly would resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole for the purpose of considering Initiative Petition No. 1.

IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Chair Buckley presiding.
Quorum present.
Initiative Petition No. 1 considered.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MCCLAIN:
Thank you, Madam Chair of the Committee of the Whole. Just a brief overview of IP 1, which imposes an additional tax on the gross receipts from the rental of transient lodging in certain counties. IP 1 requires the board of county commissioners of any county whose population is 300,000 or more to enact an ordinance imposing up to an additional 3 percent rate on the gross receipts of rental of transient lodging in that county, but not to exceed the total rate of 13 percent. If the total rate imposed in a county is less than 10 percent as of July 31, 2008, the entire 3 percent rate may be imposed. If the total rate imposed in a county as of July 31, 2008, exceeds 10 percent, the rate that must be imposed is the difference between 13 percent and the rate that is in effect as of that date. However, if the sum of the existing tax rate in any areas of July 31, 2008, is 13 percent or more, then no additional rate may be imposed. The proceeds of this tax, including applicable penalties and interest, must be paid by the county treasurer to the State Treasurer for credit to the State General Fund between July 1, 2009, and June 30, 2011. Beginning on July 1, 2011, the proceeds from this tax must be transferred by the county treasurer to the State Treasurer for credit to the State Supplemental School Support Fund, a new special revenue fund created within this act for the operation of school districts and charter schools in the state. The proceeds of the State Supplemental School Support Fund are to be distributed proportionately among all school districts and charter schools in the state to improve the achievement of students and retain qualified teachers as well as nonadministrative employees and is not intended to supplant or replace any other money appropriated, approved, or authorized to fund the operation of public schools for K through 12. The effective dates—if the Initiative Petition is enacted by the Legislature and approved by Governor pursuant to Article 19, Section 2, of the Nevada Constitution, the bill becomes effective upon passage and approval, and the ordinance imposing the tax in each county would become effective July 1, 2009. The proceeds from the tax would be credited to the State General Fund between July 1, 2009, and June 30 2011, and to the State Supplemental School Support Fund beginning on July 1, 2011. If Initiative Petition 1 is not enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor pursuant to Article 19, Section 2 of the Nevada Constitution, but it is approved by voters at the November 2010 General Election, the bill becomes effective upon canvas of the vote by the Supreme Court, and the ordinance imposing the tax in each county would become effective July 1, 2011. The proceeds for the tax would be credited to the State Supplemental School Support Fund beginning July 1, 2011, and no revenue would be credited to the State General Fund.

This is the Initiative Petition that was passed by the voters in three counties in the state with overwhelming support of 60 percent of the voters. We're going to have Brenda Erdoes give us the legal details of the initiative petition and walk through the bill for us. Thank you, Madam Chair.

CHAIR BUCKLEY:
Thank you Assemblywoman McClain. Brenda?

BRENDA ERDOES, LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL:

Thank you, Madam Chair. I was going to go through briefly with you the effects and the timeline that is required for this initiative petition. Mark is going to go through the different provisions of IP 1, and Russ is going to give you some numbers. Initiative petitions, as you probably know, are controlled by Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution. In subsection 3 of that section, it provides that initiative petitions like this one that have qualified and have been presented to the Legislature shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills and shall be enacted or rejected by the Legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. If the Legislature does choose to enact this IP 1 without change, without amendment, on or before March 13, 2009, the effect will be that, effective upon signature by the Governor, the bill will authorize or actually require the boards of county commissioners to adopt this additional room tax as specified in the bill. It would begin to be collected on July 1, 2009, then, for the duration of that—July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2011—the proceeds from those taxes would actually go into the State General Fund and would be available for use to help offset the budget shortfall. Beginning on July 1, 2011—the rooms that were let after that time—the tax is applied and those would then be going into the Supplemental School Support Fund, which is created in this IP. Basically at that point, you would have the structure all set up, and it would work pursuant to this bill.

If the Legislature does not enact IP 1 without amendment or before that date, according to this provision of the Constitution, what would happen is that the measure would go to the ballot in the 2010 General Election. If approved by the voters, the provisions are a little bit different. What happens is that the first tax is imposed for July 1, 2011, and it would go directly into the School Support Fund at that point. So there would be no use of this revenue in the State General Fund to help with the budget shortfall. In addition, because the ballot measure was passed and this was approved by the voters, the Legislature would be prohibited from amending the provision for three years after it becomes effective.

If the Legislature chooses the third course of action, if the Legislature chooses to reject this Initiative Petition and do something else—in other words, enact another bill or in fact you adopt an amendment to this IP 1—what would happen is it would most likely be held by the court to create a competing measure because the Constitution says that if the Legislature comes up with another statute on this same topic, it would be put on the ballot in the 2010 General Election alongside IP 1. If both of them pass, then the one that got the most votes would actually become effective. There is a provision for the Legislature, as proposed in the Constitution, to be able to enact a nonconflicting statute concerning room tax in a way that would not be a competing measure, but the definition there of nonconflicting is along the lines of that it wouldn't be anything that had the same provisions in common—things like that. So those kinds of issues in determining what's a conflicting measure or not would have to be made as we go along.

Basically, the three concepts here are if you pass it as is, and it goes through both houses, on or before March 13, then the tax would become effective July 1. If you don't do anything, this measure will be on the 2010 ballot. If it's approved by the voters, it won't be able to be amended for three years. If you put a competing measure on the ballot, then the one that got the most votes would be effective.

CHAIR BUCKLEY:

Questions of the Committee for Ms. Erdoes? I don't see any. Mark or Russell, did you want to comment about the fiscal impact or provide any information for the Committee from our Fiscal Analysis Division?

MARK STEVENS, FISCAL ANALYSIS DIVISION:

I was going to go through the provisions of the bill. Assemblywoman McClain has already done so. I'll try to go through this very quickly. It might be somewhat repetitious in part, but IP 1 requires the county commissioners of any county whose population is 300,000 or more to impose an additional room tax of up to 3 percent. That population provision would apply currently to Clark and Washoe Counties. If an existing room rate is 10 percent or less, an additional 3 percent room tax is imposed. If existing room tax rates exceed 10 percent, a tax rate must be imposed that would not exceed 13 percent. If the current tax rate is 13 percent or more, no additional tax would be applied. Room tax must be imposed throughout the county, including its incorporated cities. The proceeds from the additional room tax imposed must be deposited into the State General Fund through June of 2011. For this biennium, the additional room tax dollars would go into the State General Fund, and those tax proceeds would not have any restriction on their use through June of 2011. Effective in July 2011, tax collections must be deposited into the State Supplemental School Support Fund to be used for operation of school districts and charter schools. These funds are intended to supplement, not replace, any other money appropriated or authorized to support the operation of public schools and K through 12. Money in the Supplemental School Support Fund would be distributed quarterly on a proportional basis among the school districts and charter schools based on student enrollment. Funds received by a school district or a charter school must be used to improve the achievement of students and for the payment of salaries to attract and retain qualified teachers and other employees, excluding administrative employees. Administrative employees are defined as any person who holds a license as an administrator issued by the Superintendent of Public Instruction and is employed in that capacity by a school district or charter school. A report on how these funds were utilized in the preceding school year must be made by each school district and charter school to the Superintendent of Public Instruction by November 10 of each year. There are different effective dates that go along with this legislation, depending on whether the Legislature and Governor approve it within the first 40 days. If they do not, Brenda has just reviewed that for you. I'd be happy to answer any questions, or Brenda could on the effective dates. That is, in short fashion, what is included in the provisions of Initiative Petition 1.

CHAIR BUCKLEY:

Thank you Mr. Stevens. Questions of the committee? I don't see any. Russell, did you have anything to add?

RUSSELL J. GUINDON, SENIOR DEPUTY FISCAL ANALYST, LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL BUREAU:

Yes, thank you, Madam Chair. The staff of the Fiscal Analysis Division has prepared a table that has been distributed to the members of the Assembly. It's entitled Table 1, and the first line is titled "Comparison of Budget Office, Fiscal Division, and Applied Analysis."

TABLE 1

COMPARISON OF BUDGET OFFICE, FISCAL DIVISION, AND APPLIED ANALYSIS ESTIMATES OF THE ROOM TAX REVENUE GENERATED IN FY 2009-10 AND FY 2010.11 FROM IMPLEMENTATION OF THE UP TO AN ADDITIONAL 3% ROOM TAX, BUT NOT TO EXCEED 13%, ROOM TAX PROPOSAL IN CLARK COUNTY AND WASHOE COUNTY

(Millions of Dollars)

	Budget Office:	Fiscal Division:	Applied Analysis:
Fiscal Year	3% Room Tax Estimate	3% Room Tax Estimate	3% Room Tax Estimate
FY 2009-10	$142.0	$111.2	$107.8
FY 2010-11	$150.0	$122.0	$123.7

NOTES:

1.) Amounts displayed for the Budget Office are the estimates included in The Executive Budget.

2.) Amounts displayed for the Fiscal Division are estimates prepared on February 24, 2009, based on information available from the Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority through December 2008.

3.) Amounts displayed for Applied Analysis are estimates provided to the Fiscal Division on February 23, 2009.

4.) In Clark County, the full 3% room tax rate can be imposed in the entire county except for a portion of the City of Las Vegas. Only 2% additional room tax rate can be imposed in City of Las Vegas for facilities with 75 rooms or more as current total combined room tax rate is 11 %.

5.) In Washoe County, only 1 % additional room tax rate can be imposed in Washoe County (unincorporated area) and Reno (excluding Downtown Area) as current total combined room tax rate is 12%. No additional room tax rate can be imposed in Sparks and Reno Downtown as current total combined room tax rate is 13.5%.

Prepared by the Fiscal Analysis Division February 24, 2009 - 7:40 AM

These are estimates that were prepared by the Budget Office, and their estimates were the estimates that were included in the Executive Budget as it was presented to you. The Fiscal Analysis Division—those are the estimates that we just ground through this morning. Then Jeremy Aguero with Applied Analysis was kind enough that he has been analyzing this issue as well as the Fiscal staff. He applied his most current estimates. So you see in Table 1, as Mr. Stevens has pointed out, that the room tax would become effective, if it's approved, July 1, 2009. Thus the rate would actually become effective then and start being imposed on rooms rented after that period. The estimates you have here are for Fiscal Year 2010 and Fiscal Year 2011. The Fiscal Analysis Division's current estimate for Fiscal Year 2010 is $111.2 million, and for Fiscal Year 2011 it's $122 million. You can see how those estimates compare to the Budget Office estimate that was included in the Executive Budget as well as the estimate that was prepared by Applied Analysis.

I think one of the critical things for staff to point out that was sort of discussed with regards to the provisions of the bill—in its actual application in the real world, you can impose up to the additional 3 percent room rate, but you cannot exceed 13 percent as a maximum rate. With regards to the mathematics of computing the additional rate, so you can see, it's spelled out here in footnotes 4 and 5 that in Clark County, you can—given the current rates that were in place July 31 2008—that you can impose the full 3 percent everywhere in Clark County, except for portions of the City of Las Vegas, and this is because in portions of the City of Las Vegas, that is those facilities with 75 or more rooms, the current combined rate is 11 percent. Thus, you can only impose up to 2 percent to get to the 13 percent maximum. In Washoe County, you can only impose an additional 1 percent room tax in the unincorporated area of Washoe County. In the Reno area, that is excluding the downtown area as the current rate there is 12 percent. Thus you can only impose the additional 1 percent to get to the 13 percent maximum. No additional room tax can be imposed in the Sparks area or the Reno downtown area, as the current combined rate in those two areas is 13.5 percent. With regards to the estimates that are there, Clark County has estimated in Fiscal Year 2010 to generate approximately $109.9 million of that $111.2 million. Washoe County would generate only approximately $1.3 million. Just to give you an idea of the breakout—and again, obviously Washoe County is the largest county—but because of the capping mechanism, the calculation, the Washoe County number is even smaller because of the rate that cannot be imposed in that county. There is one final issue that I would like to discuss with members of the Assembly, and that is the timing of the receipt of the funds.

The way the tax currently works is that there is approximately a two-month lag between when the business activity that occurs to generate the room tax collections and when it is recorded and received by the state. That is, May's business activity actually becomes July's collections. Thus, with the July 1 effective date, we won't be able to pick up and May and June's business activity. But with the way the provisions of the bill specify, the state, if it's approved, for those two years that we could get general fund money, the state will get 2 years or 24 months worth of money that would go into the general fund. Staff is still researching and looking into this issue, but it would appear that we would get 10 months worth of revenue in Fiscal Year 2010, a full 12 months worth of revenue in Fiscal Year 2011, and then those remaining two months would spill over into Fiscal Year 2012. With that, Madam Chair, that concludes my presentation and I can answer any questions that you may have.

CHAIR BUCKLEY:

Thank you for your remarks. Questions of the Committee? Assemblyman Christensen?

ASSEMBLYMAN CHRISTENSEN:
Thank you, Madam Chair. Quick question to you, sir, in regard to Table 1. I want to make sure that I heard you right. Did you say that we are looking at about $110 million from Clark County alone and $1 million from Washoe?

RUSSELL GUINDON:
Those are approximately close, rounding it—the $109.9 and $1.3 for Fiscal Year 2010.

ASSEMBLYMAN CHRISTENSEN:
I did not think that I heard that right, so I guess I did. Thank you, Madam Chair.

CHAIR BUCKLEY:
Assemblywoman Gansert?

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:
Thank you, Madam Chair. In looking at these revised numbers, just so that everybody understands, to make it clear, the budget had $292 million roughly in it, and although these estimates have changed, if we don't, we have to plug that size hole no matter what. So we will still—if this was not to pass, we would still have $292 million, not one of the lower numbers, to have to find.

RUSSELL GUINDON:
That is correct. The Executive Budget is based on receiving $142 million in the first year of the biennium Fiscal Year 2010 and $150 million in 2011 from this revenue source. If it was not passed, either budget reductions would have to be made to that extent or additional revenue would have to be generated. Or if there is a shortfall in the revenue projection that was made in the Executive Budget, that amount of money would have to be generated from another revenue source or appropriations within the budget reduced.

CHAIR BUCKLEY:
Assemblywoman Gansert?

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:
Thank you, Madam Chair. Yesterday we learned—it has been out there for a little while—that one of the bonds that we have with Lehman, we are not probably going to receive the proceeds of $50 million, and a portion of that is General Fund money, about $19 million, I think. Are there any other budget items that are outstanding or shortfalls that we may have to cover right now that we know of?

RUSSELL GUINDON:
None that immediately come to mind. As we go through the budget, there are going to be items that we run across that need to be fixed where an incorrect assumption was made or some other problem exists, but nothing that rises—that I know of right now—that rises to the level of the one that you mentioned.

CHAIR BUCKLEY:
Any other questions? Thank you very much. We appreciate your testimony.
There is a sign-in sheet for anyone who would like to testify, which is located outside those doors on a table. I have one person signed in so far to testify, Lynn Warne. Lynn, do you want to come down? Is there anyone else who would like to testify? Just state your name for the record and provide your testimony.

LYNN WARNE:
Thank you, Madam Speaker, for the opportunity to address this body on this very critical issue. For the record, my name is Lynn Warne, and I am the President of the Nevada State Education Association. I am here today representing the Committee for the Advancement of Education in Nevada and our 28,000 members statewide.
First, I would like to thank everyone involved in this process in general, and specifically our gaming partners for their understanding, foresight, and accountability in helping develop and bring this IP before you today. But most importantly, I would like to recognize you, Madam Speaker, for your leadership, guidance, and impressive determination in guiding this proposal over the sometimes rocky road that has led us here today. This partnership would not be possible without a personal and passionate interest in the beginning to address this crisis on the part of Steve and Elaine Wynn. The educators of Nevada are grateful for their ardent advancement of the cause for quality education. This initiative will eventually provide a desperately needed dedicated source of revenue for our K-12 public education system.

I am sure I do not need to tell you about the problems we face today: overcrowded classrooms, educators who cannot make their mortgage payments or rent, the number of classes that are being taught by substitutes because we are unable to recruit qualified permanent educators. The voters of Nevada have spoken and have done so with a firm and decisive voice. The IP that you are considering is before you because over 130,000 Nevadans have demanded that you do so by signing the petition. They have sent you a message that enough is enough—that it is time to determine the process in which to begin making K-12 education a priority.

In addition to our two biggest counties, voters having overwhelmingly agreed on casting their affirmative votes on advisory questions. There were over 66 percent in Clark County and 57 percent in Washoe County, that the groundswell of public opinion is so compelling that even the Governor has chosen to include the proceeds of this measure in his budget. It is a message so insistent, widespread, and resonant that only the most reckless political politician would dare to ignore it. Your affirmative action on this petition will demonstrate your commitment to begin to address the funding crisis facing our K-12 education system. Educators, parents, and constituents alike will hear your message that there is hope for education and that you as a body care about the future of our children.

As I said earlier, this is not the end of our struggle, but with your help, it can be the beginning of the end. We today can take the first step to becoming a state that demonstratively is determined about improving education and has the courage and fortitude to do something about it. The road before us is not easy, nor is it well traveled, but together we can make that journey that will ensure a better future for our children. We can reverse this destructive downward spiral of underfunding and neglect. That journey back to respectable and well-functioning public schools is a long one, but today this body can take the first step in that historic passage. Thank you.

CHAIR BUCKLEY:

Thank you for your testimony. Questions of the Committee? There are none. Thank you.

Randy Robison? Thank you for being with us in this non-intimidating setting.

RANDY ROBISON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker, members of the committee. For the record, I am Randy Robison. I am appearing here today on behalf of the Nevada Association of School Superintendents. We approach this issue not as a tax issue but as a resource issue. For us, it has never been about a particular tax of any kind but about the resources that are necessary to provide the education to the students that we are required to provide by statute and also by the Constitution. In that regard, I would like to refer quickly to this document iNVEST 2009 that is published by the Nevada Association of School Superintendants and has been each year since 2003. But in this version, specifically we talk about the base budget. School districts and their ability to improve student achievement live and die by the base, the basic per pupil support amount guaranteed by the Nevada Plan and authorized by the Legislature. The base budget includes all of the non-headline grabbing expenditures essential to keeping schools running, things like stamps, milk, bus fuel, electricity, toilet paper, classroom instruction supplies, staples, maintenance, custodial supplies, and the list goes on and on. Literally thousands of things, big and small, that are required to keep schools open, buildings clean, and classrooms ready to support learning day after day.

Again, for us this is not a tax issue; it is a resource issue. When the economy slumps, we still have to provide school. When a business closes, we still have to provide school. When someone loses their job, as unfortunate as that is, we still have to provide school for their kids. For us, this is a resource issue. Others have mentioned that this is already part of the recommended budget.

One way or the other, we have to come up with that money to provide the education that we are required and obligated to provide. Thank you, Madam Chair.

CHAIR BUCKLEY:

Thank you for your testimony. Questions of the committee? I don't see any. Thank you for your testimony.

Is there anyone else who would like to provide testimony on Initiative Petition No. 1? Seeing none, I will close the public hearing on Initiative Petition No. 1.

Chair Buckley announced if there were no objections, the Committee of the Whole would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Madam Speaker:

Your Committee of the Whole has considered Initiative Petition No. 1.

BARBARA E. BUCKLEY, Chair

SPECIAL ORDERS OF THE DAY

The Committee of the Whole having concluded, Initiative Petition No. 1 was considered.

Initiative Petition No. 1.

Initiative Petition read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Pierce, Cobb, Hambrick, Hardy, Mortenson, Stewart, Leslie, Gansert, Claborn, Arberry, Grady, and Settelmeyer.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PIERCE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of IP 1. I do not do this very often, so I am a little nervous, so bear with me. Not just for this election cycle, but going back for a couple of them, when I knock on people's doors, my constituents say over and over again, "education, education, education." They want it to be better; not just this year, but going back. I have young families in my district. They want education to be better. I have grandparents raising their grandchildren. They want education to be better. They know that we are 47th in the nation in education funding. They know that education is vitally important for the future of their families and that a good education system is absolutely crucial for a healthy community and a healthy state.

One of the things they probably do not think much about is that it is impossible to attract good businesses that have good paying jobs to a state that does not have a good education system. Those were the things that my constituents said to me before the economy went south on us. Here we are today. We have already made devastating cuts to education, to health and human services, and to infrastructure funding. We still have a $1.8 billion hole in the budget we have to put together in the next one hundred or so days. I do not think anyone here is happy about doing this. We all wish the economy hadn't gone south. We all wish we had never of AIG—but here we are. I told my constituents that I would come up here and make the decisions necessary, especially on this—my constituents voted for this. My constituents said this is the way we want the state to go. So with that, I support this wholeheartedly, and I urge my colleagues to also do that. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN COBB:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in opposition to IP 1. Our tourism-based economy here in Nevada is hemorrhaging jobs. They just closed a casino in Mesquite. They have laid off thousands of workers at MGM and thousands of workers at Harrah's. Adding a tax to the rooms, which tourists pay, is going to discourage people from coming to Nevada and helping our tourism-based economy. It is like hanging a big sign that says, "Nevada does not want your business." I urge you to reconsider voting for this. I think it is going to hurt rather than help. I hope you will join me in voting against it. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HAMBRICK:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in opposition. We live in a society, and we have for many years, in which we care for the small issues. Occasionally my sense of humor belays the fact of the seriousness of some issues—but we are worried about the snail darter and the spotted owl. We have to worry about small business. We know that outside the boundaries of this state, perception is reality. Even though some may argue more eloquently than I on both sides of this issue, what will be reported in the largest papers? That we increased the room tax by pennies? Or we just increased the room tax? The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, The Washington Post—they will all report these things. In the decision making process of those who may want to come to the state, what will affect them? Things like an unfortunate remark by the President, which he took back. But it was out there. You can't unring a bell.

We want people to come to the state. Will this be one more deciding factor that may cause them to not come to the state? It is a hard decision. All of us, no matter how we vote, should not be criticized by any outside factor. But please look at it. Just remember that perception is reality and we have to go forward, because we may suffer larger consequences in the long run than we really realize. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I actually agree with everyone. Recognizing that, I do not think there is a good solution for this issue, and so this is how I reasonably tried to approach this issue. My constituents voted for it, and I represent them. The Governor, known for his thrifty approach to taxes—this is where I smile—put it personally into this budget. The Ways and Means Committee has been approaching the budget from a virtual zero-based budgeting approach with what I admit will be deep and wide cuts which will be implemented. We are in a fiscal hole. If we do not add some fill to that hole, we are going to be in an abysmal pit. We have recognized a certain amount of ambivalence and uncertainty and certainly not a consensus amongst the affected industries, some of whom have made a farsighted deal to avoid onerous taxes in the future on that particular industry.

Although the intent of this is to fund education, we have the opportunity to be flexible in the first two years of its implementation and collection to help the General Fund, and parenthetically, almost half the General Fund goes to education traditionally. This will, hopefully, protect the industry from a more onerous tax as well as keep us at the table in a cooperative way, trying to solve this complicated problem with a simple solution for which there is none. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. For those who say this may curtail business in our state, I would like to ask, "When is the last time you called ahead to a convention city and asked what the room rate tax was and made a decision on whether to attend a convention based on the amount of the room tax?" I haven't looked recently, but a few sessions ago when I had a similar bill, there were many major convention states that had a much larger room tax than we did. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I had a long list of reasons I am reluctantly supporting this measure; however, as I listened to my colleague from Boulder City, he ticked off every single one of them, so I will echo what he said. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of IP 1. I would just like to remind our colleagues of some of the issues we have been hearing in Ways and Means this entire first month of the session. We've been hearing about how difficult it is to recruit and retain our teachers, and we're balancing that against a suggested 6 percent cut in salary and additional cuts in other benefits. We know the remediation funds had great results in the last biennium, and yet we see a zero in that column for remediation.

This coming week, we're going to hear about our higher education budgets that have been decimated, and we're facing a choice of closing one of the universities or closing all the community colleges, plus our professional schools. In health, we've been talking about an additional 5 percent cut in reimbursement to our hospitals, knowing that may mean that up three rural hospitals have to look at whether they have to close or not. We are still working on a plan to try and restore over half of the rural mental health clinics that have been cut from the budget. We are in a world of hurt. So is the industry. We absolutely know people who are losing their jobs because they are showing up on our Medicaid rolls. We are going to have to add a lot of money in caseload for those folks.

So what do we do? Today we have a chance to take a step forward and try to solve the problem and be a part of the solution. I know in Washoe County we're already over the 13 percent cap, and I've never heard that that is the reason people don't come to Reno—because we have a 13.5 percent room tax downtown. I urge you to think about the hole that this is going to create in our budget if we reject this initiative petition. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. These are some of the tough decisions that we face during the session and other sessions. I can tell you many times this week people have said, "This is why you get paid the big bucks." I believe that we were elected to make these decisions and that our constituents want us to work together to find solutions. We are the stewards of the taxpayers' money, and I can attest that in Ways and Means, we're working every day from zero-based budgets. We are trying to reform government. We're trying to make significant changes; we do have that opportunity now. This initiative petition was supported by the voters, and it was supported by a very conservative Governor in his budget. As was testified today, that amount is $292 million dollars, and after going through these budgets, I don't know where we are going to find another $292 million dollars. We have cut higher ed, the Governor's cut higher ed, he has rolled back salaries. There really aren't very many good choices we can make. That is why I agree with all the previous speakers.

Our caucus will be split. We respect each others' decisions, something that has been very important to our caucus - that everybody can make up their own mind based on the evaluation of the situation. I personally will be supporting this because, again, it is in the Governor's budget. I don't know where else we are going to find the money, and it was supported by a vast number of voters.

ASSEMBLYMAN CLABORN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of IP 1. The school system educated my children, the school system has educated my grandchildren, and I hope the school system will be here and have enough funds to support my great-grandchildren—I have two of them. I am going to use one of Wendell Williams' old clichés—our old Assembly friend in this building—it's the right thing to do. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Speaker. I rise in support of this issue. This is a hard measure, and as my colleague just mentioned, my colleague that used to be here, that retired, was a strong educated man and he was strong behind education. We have to ask ourselves, when? It's got to be now. We always want to come in here and say we can't make these tough decisions, but we have to. Today is one of those days. I applaud you, I respect your decision, we are working together. As the minority leader just stated, we are trying to do this as a group—trying to take care of Nevadans. Education—no matter where you go when people find out that you are a legislator, they want to say to you, "Education is first." Just one example: I stopped by my eye doctor's office, and he had to hold this lady off from me. When she found out that I was a legislator, she wanted to come out of the room and let me have it. She wanted to give me her opinion that education comes first, and our kids deserve it. We need to push the right button, and that is the green button, and say the time is now and it will always be better for us to educate our kids. Thank you, Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, like many of my colleagues, don't like this bill at all, but on the other hand, we have been meeting in a bipartisan manner to try and save rural mental health clinics, and I have three of them in my district that were ready to close. If we don't fill this hole, I will lose those clinics. Therefore, I feel it's an obligation to the people in my district that I will reluctantly support it. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN SETTELMEYER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I agree with all the previous speakers, this is a very difficult bill. I can see the good aspects of this bill, in the fact that it helps plug a hole, and I can see the bad aspects of the bill in relation to small businesses. Up to about two days ago, before we actually did the math and how each individual precinct and each individual assembly district voted, I was actually ready to flip a coin. It was just that close of a thing. Interesting enough, I'm probably one person in this room that can say it because I think I'm the only assembly district that actually voted this no. I will be following my constituents' vote. Thank you.

On request of Assemblywoman McClain, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Patricia Wenger.

On request of Assemblyman Mortenson, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to George Phillips.

On request of Assemblyman Oceguera, the privilege of the floor of the Assembly Chamber for this day was extended to Brian Hurlburt.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the Assembly adjourn until Wednesday, February 25, 2009, at 11 a.m.

Motion carried.

Assembly adjourned at 12:12 p.m.

Approved: BARBARA E. BUCKLEY
Speaker of the Assembly

Attest: SUSAN FURLONG REIL
Chief Clerk of the Assembly

THE TWENTY-FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), February 25, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:05 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Ron Torkelsen.

Dear God, we say in our Pledge of Allegiance to this country that we are "one nation under God." We print on our money "In God We Trust." I pray this morning that we will not forget that this country is founded on the trust in a supreme being. May we also remember that You have entrusted to us the responsibility of directing the business of this state. May we put our trust in You once again, and in return, may the wisdom You have promised be a gift to this Assembly today.

The decisions made here today and in the future will affect the lives of many people. May this not be forgotten as the business of this day is pursued, and I thank You in advance for the success You will give.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Madam Speaker:

Your Committee on Judiciary, to which was referred Assembly Bill No. 132, has had the same under consideration, and begs leave to report the same back with the recommendation: Do pass.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 9—Memorializing longtime Reno lawyer, civic leader and philanthropist William O. "Bud" Bradley.

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature are saddened by the passing of William O. "Bud" Bradley, longtime Reno lawyer, civic leader and philanthropist; and

WHEREAS, Bud Bradley, a native of White Pine County, was born on February 27, 1924, and attended Stanford University until his duty to serve his country compelled him to join the United States Navy Air Corps as a pilot and flight instructor in World War II; and

WHEREAS, Upon his return to Nevada after the war, Bud graduated from the University of Nevada, Reno, and went on to obtain a law degree at George Washington University Law School in 1950, met his future wife Joan Sheaff of Holcomb, Illinois, and opened a law office in Reno a mere five years later; and

WHEREAS, While first specializing in water rights law, Bud expanded his law firm, known today as Bradley, Drendel & Jeanney, so much so that the firm continues to be a leader in the representation of injured persons; and

WHEREAS, Bud was recognized by his colleagues as one of the top 100 lawyers in America and was inducted into The Inner Circle of Advocates in 1972; and

WHEREAS, Bud was an original trustee of the Reno Air Racing Association and the philanthropic organization, the E.L. Cord Foundation, which has distributed millions of dollars to charitable groups in northern Nevada; and

WHEREAS, Bud was honored for his civic leadership, particularly in education, when the University of Nevada, Reno, presented him with an Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws in May 1993; and

WHEREAS, Preceded in death by Joan, his wife of 50 years, Bud passed away at home on January 17, 2008, at the age of 83; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Nevada Legislature offer their deepest condolences to the surviving family members of Bud, including his beloved sons Bill and Joe Bradley, and daughter Elizabeth Thomas; and be it further

RESOLVED, That Bud will be remembered as an extremely accomplished lawyer who continually worked to improve the communities of northern Nevada, as a role model in civic leadership and philanthropy, and as a true friend to Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Bud's children, Bill, Joe and Elizabeth.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson, Carpenter and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Bud Bradley was an advocate—a term often used but in my opinion really not understood, at least not understood as I have come to understand it and as exemplified by this "champion." The oldest use of the term is a fighter for the cause of the underdog, yet someone whose integrity is never questioned.

Bud was a pilot, as you have heard in the resolution, who loved the simple freedom of flight, who when the country was in need, gave up his studies at Stanford to move to the defense of the nation and then returned with his fellow veterans of the Greatest Generation to complete his undergraduate studies at the University of Nevada—before it had an R after its name. He did not become a doctor as his father had been in Ely and follow in that honorable profession but rather turned his attention to law school. We all are the better for having his involvement in the Reno community.

Miguel de Cervantes once wrote that if you "take away the cause, [and] the effect ceases." The Chief Clerk has read a few of the many accomplishments that Bud and his wife, Joan, have provided to our community. Certain groups would be nothing without their contribution for some time. The effect of his involvement, and their involvement, together, will live on in our community forever. It is something that we will have to cherish.

It was all about his wife, his two sons and daughter—the pride of their accomplishments and the groups they put forward, groups like the Assistance League of Washoe County, where Joan spent countless hours, and Bud came up with the financial support to make it happen.

When I listen to public radio, the cause remains because of Bud and Joan's involvement. The E.L. Cord Foundation may have provided the money, but the spirit behind it was the power of those two individuals. When I go to the air races and hear the roar of the planes, I hear his voice calling to the adventures of life—the life he loved and lived to its fullest roar. That was Bud Bradley, like a knight of old entering the lists as a champion for the cause—an advocate for the rights of the underdog and the full passions of life. That is the man we would honor today. Thank you, Madam Speaker. I would urge my colleagues to support this resolution and to adopt it.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 9. The Bradley family, as the resolution said, was very prominent in the Ely area. Bud's father took care of many of my relatives in their time of need. Bud was a native of White Pine County. When he got his law degree, he did represent many ranchers in that area because he was not afraid of the Bureau of Land Management and he certainly knew water law. I always will remember a story my uncles told me because Bud represented them in a number of incidents they had. He said that when we have the law on our side, we recite the law. If we have the facts on our side, we recite the facts. If we have neither one, we just pound on the desk. Bud Bradley won many cases by just pounding on the desk. It is great to be able to remember someone who came from my hometown and my home county. Thank you very much to my colleague from Sparks for bringing this resolution forward.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I began my legal career as a legal secretary working for a great trial lawyer. I would hear stories about the best and brightest trial lawyers in Nevada. One of the first ones I heard about was Bud Bradley. I think my colleagues from Sparks and Elko really captured the spirit of the best of the legal profession and that is those who represent the underdog; those who are not afraid to stand up to the powers that be when they are on the right side; those who are not afraid to do something just because it is the right thing to do regardless of the pecuniary outcome. That just describes Bud Bradley to a tee, as well as his children who live his legacy along with their mother. I am pleased to be able to add my support to this resolution and thank again my colleague from Sparks for bringing it forward.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 9 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

NOTICE OF EXEMPTION

February 24, 2009

The Fiscal Analysis Division, pursuant to Joint Standing Rule 14.6, has determined the eligibility for exemption of: Senate Bills Nos. 53 and 135.

GARY GHIGGERI
Fiscal Analysis Division

By Committee on Judiciary:

Senate Joint Resolution No. 9 of the 74th Session—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to allow the Legislature to establish an intermediate appellate court.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

This resolution proposes an amendment to the Nevada Constitution to allow the Legislature to establish an intermediate appellate court, known as the court of appeals. If the Legislature establishes the court of appeals, the court must consist of at least three judges. The initial judges will be elected at the first general election after the creation of the court, and each judge will be elected to serve a term of 6 years.

The court will have appellate jurisdiction in civil cases arising in district court and in criminal cases within the original jurisdiction of the district courts. The Nevada Supreme Court must fix the jurisdiction of the court and provide for the review of appeals decided by the court.

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section, designated Section 3A, be added to Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 3A. 1. The Legislature may provide by law for the creation of a court of appeals.

2. If the Legislature creates a court of appeals pursuant to subsection 1, then:

(a) The court of appeals must consist of three judges or such greater number as the Legislature may provide by law. If the number of judges is so increased, the Supreme Court may provide by rule for the assignment of any appeal to a panel of three judges for decision.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c) and unless the Legislature provides for a term of fewer years pursuant to paragraph (d), each judge of the court of appeals must be elected by the qualified electors of this State at the general election for a term of 6 years beginning on the first Monday of January next after the election. The initial judges of the court of appeals must be elected by the qualified electors of this State at the first general election following the creation of the court of appeals.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (b), if, at the time that the Legislature establishes a court of appeals, this Article provides for the appointment of each justice of the Supreme Court and judge of the district court by the Governor, each judge of the court of appeals must be appointed by the Governor in the manner and for the term provided in Section 20 of this Article.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (e), if there is an increase in the number of judges of the court of appeals, each additional judge must be elected by the qualified electors of this State at the first general election following the increase for a term beginning on the first Monday of January next after the election. The Legislature shall provide for an initial term of 6 or fewer years for each additional judge so that the terms of all judges of the court of appeals expire at the same time.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (d), if, at the time that there is an increase in the number of judges of the court of appeals, this Article provides for the appointment of each justice of the Supreme Court and judge of the district court by the Governor, each additional judge must be appointed by the Governor in the manner and for the term provided in Section 20 of this Article.

(f) The Supreme Court shall appoint one of the judges of the court of appeals to be chief judge. The chief judge serves a term of 4 years and may succeed himself. The chief judge may resign his position as chief judge without resigning from the court of appeals.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 1 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. The judicial power of this State ~~[shall be]~~ is vested in a court system, comprising a Supreme Court, a court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, district courts ~~[,]~~ and justices of the peace. The Legislature may also establish, as part of the system, courts for municipal purposes only in incorporated cities and towns.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 4 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 4. 1. The Supreme Court ~~[shall]~~ and the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, have appellate jurisdiction in all civil cases arising in district courts, and also on questions of law alone in all criminal cases in which the offense charged is within the original jurisdiction of the district courts. If the Legislature establishes a court of appeals, the Supreme Court shall fix the jurisdiction of the court of appeals and provide for the review, where appropriate, of appeals decided by the court of appeals. The ~~[court shall]~~ Supreme Court and the court of appeals also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warranto ~~[,]~~ and habeas corpus and also all writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of ~~[its appellate]~~ their jurisdiction. Each ~~[of the justices shall have power to]~~ justice of the Supreme Court and judge of the court of appeals may issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the State, upon petition by, or on behalf of, any person held in actual custody ~~[,]~~ in this State and may make such writs returnable ~~[, before himself]~~ before the issuing justice or judge or the ~~[Supreme Court,]~~ court of which the justice or judge is a member, or before any district court in the State or ~~[before]~~ any judge of ~~[said courts.]~~ a district court.

2. In case of the disability or disqualification, for any cause, of ~~[the Chief Justice or one of the associate justices]~~ a justice of the Supreme Court, ~~[or any two of them,]~~ the Governor ~~[is authorized and empowered to designate any]~~ may designate a judge of the court of appeals or a district judge ~~[or judges]~~ to sit in the place ~~[or places of such]~~ of the disqualified or disabled justice . ~~[or justices, and said judge or judges so designated shall receive their]~~ The judge designated by the Governor is entitled to receive his actual expense of travel and otherwise while sitting in the Supreme Court.

3. In case of the disability or disqualification, for any cause, of a judge of the court of appeals, the Governor may designate a district judge to sit in the place of the disabled or disqualified judge. The judge that the Governor designates is entitled to receive his actual expense of travel and otherwise while sitting in the court of appeals.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 7 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. The times of holding the Supreme Court , the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, and the district courts ~~[shall]~~ must be as fixed by law. The terms of the Supreme Court ~~[shall]~~ must be held at the seat of government unless the Legislature otherwise provides by law, except that the Supreme Court may hear oral argument at other places in the State. The terms of the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, must be held at the place provided by law. The terms of the district courts ~~[shall]~~ must be held at the county seats of their respective counties unless the Legislature otherwise provides by law.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 8 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. 1. The Legislature shall determine the number of justices of the peace to be elected in each city and township of the State ~~[,]~~ and shall fix by law their qualifications, their terms of office and the limits of their civil and criminal jurisdiction, according to the amount in controversy, the nature of the case, the penalty provided ~~[,]~~ or any combination of these.

2. The provisions of this section affecting the number, qualifications, terms of office and jurisdiction of justices of the peace become effective on the first Monday of January, 1979.

3. The Legislature shall also prescribe by law the manner, and determine the cases , in which appeals may be taken from justices and other courts. The Supreme Court, the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, the district courts ~~[,]~~ and such other courts ~~[,]~~ as the Legislature shall designate ~~[, shall be]~~ are courts of record.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 11 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. The justices of the Supreme Court , the judges of the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, and the district judges ~~[shall be]~~ are ineligible to any office, other than a judicial office, during the term for which they ~~[shall]~~ have been elected or appointed . ~~[, and all]~~ All elections or appointments of any such judges by the people, Legislature ~~[,]~~ or otherwise ~~[,]~~ during said period ~~[,]~~ to any office other than judicial ~~[, shall be]~~ are void.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 15 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

~~[Sec.]~~ Sec. 15. The justices of the Supreme Court , the judges of the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, and the district judges ~~[shall]~~ are each entitled to receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law and paid in the manner provided by law, which ~~[shall]~~ must not be increased or diminished during the term for which they ~~[shall]~~ have been elected, unless a vacancy occurs, in which case the successor of the former incumbent ~~[shall]~~ is entitled to receive only such salary as may be provided by law at the time of his election or appointment . ~~[; and provision shall]~~ A provision must be made by law for setting apart from each year's revenue a sufficient amount of money ~~[,]~~ to pay such compensation.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 20 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 20. 1. When a vacancy occurs before the expiration of any term of office in the Supreme Court or the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, or among the district judges, the Governor shall appoint a justice or judge from among three nominees selected for such individual vacancy by the Commission on Judicial Selection.

2. The term of office of any justice or judge so appointed expires on the first Monday of January following the next general election.

3. Each nomination for the Supreme Court ~~[shall]~~ or the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, must be made by the permanent Commission, composed of:

(a) The Chief Justice or an associate justice designated by him;

(b) Three members of the State Bar of Nevada, a public corporation created by statute, appointed by its Board of Governors; and

(c) Three persons, not members of the legal profession, appointed by the Governor.

4. Each nomination for the district court ~~[shall]~~ must be made by a temporary commission composed of:

(a) The permanent Commission;

(b) A member of the State Bar of Nevada resident in the judicial district in which the vacancy occurs, appointed by the Board of Governors of the State Bar of Nevada; and

(c) A resident of such judicial district, not a member of the legal profession, appointed by the Governor.

5. If at any time the State Bar of Nevada ceases to exist as a public corporation or ceases to include all attorneys admitted to practice before the courts of this State, the Legislature shall provide by law, or if it fails to do so the Supreme Court shall provide by rule, for the appointment of attorneys at law to the positions designated in this section to be occupied by members of the State Bar of Nevada.

6. The term of office of each appointive member of the permanent Commission, except the first members, is 4 years. Each appointing authority shall appoint one of the members first appointed for a term of 2 years. If a vacancy occurs, the appointing authority shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. The additional members of a temporary commission ~~[shall]~~ must be appointed when a vacancy occurs, and their terms ~~[shall]~~ expire when the nominations for such vacancy have been transmitted to the Governor.

7. An appointing authority shall not appoint to the permanent Commission more than:

(a) One resident of any county.

(b) Two members of the same political party.

➥ No member of the permanent Commission may be a member of ~~[a]~~ the Commission on Judicial Discipline.

8. After the expiration of 30 days from the date on which the Commission on Judicial Selection has delivered to him its list of nominees for any vacancy, if the Governor has not made the appointment required by this Section, he shall make no other appointment to any public office until he has appointed a justice or judge from the list submitted.

~~[➥ If a commission on judicial selection is established by another section of this Constitution to nominate persons to fill vacancies on the Supreme Court, such commission shall serve as the permanent Commission established by subsection 3 of this Section.]~~

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 21 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 21. 1. A justice of the Supreme Court, a judge of the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, a district judge, a justice of the peace or a municipal judge may, in addition to the provision of Article 7 for impeachment, be censured, retired, removed or otherwise disciplined by the Commission on Judicial Discipline. Pursuant to rules governing appeals adopted by the Supreme Court, a justice or judge may appeal from the action of the Commission to the Supreme Court, which may reverse such action or take any alternative action provided in this subsection.

2. The Commission is composed of:

(a) Two justices or judges appointed by the Supreme Court;

(b) Two members of the State Bar of Nevada, a public corporation created by statute, appointed by its Board of Governors; and

(c) Three persons, not members of the legal profession, appointed by the Governor.

➥ The Commission shall elect a Chairman from among its three lay members.

3. If at any time the State Bar of Nevada ceases to exist as a public corporation or ceases to include all attorneys admitted to practice before the courts of this State, the Legislature shall provide by law, or if it fails to do so the Supreme Court shall provide by rule, for the appointment of attorneys at law to the positions designated in this Section to be occupied by members of the State Bar of Nevada.

4. The term of office of each appointive member of the Commission, except the first members, is 4 years. Each appointing authority shall appoint one of the members first appointed for a term of 2 years. If a vacancy occurs, the appointing authority shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. An appointing authority shall not appoint more than one resident of any county. The Governor shall not appoint more than two members of the same political party. No member may be a member of a commission on judicial selection.

5. The Legislature shall establish:

(a) In addition to censure, retirement and removal, the other forms of disciplinary action that the Commission may impose;

(b) The grounds for censure and other disciplinary action that the Commission may impose, including, but not limited to, violations of the provisions of the Code of Judicial Conduct;

(c) The standards for the investigation of matters relating to the fitness of a justice or judge; and

(d) The confidentiality or nonconfidentiality, as appropriate, of proceedings before the Commission, except that, in any event, a decision to censure, retire or remove a justice or judge must be made public.

6. The Supreme Court shall adopt a Code of Judicial Conduct.

7. The Commission shall adopt rules of procedure for the conduct of its hearings and any other procedural rules it deems necessary to carry out its duties.

8. No justice or judge may by virtue of this section be:

(a) Removed except for willful misconduct, willful or persistent failure to perform the duties of his office or habitual intemperance; or

(b) Retired except for advanced age which interferes with the proper performance of his judicial duties, or for mental or physical disability which prevents the proper performance of his judicial duties and which is likely to be permanent in nature.

9. Any matter relating to the fitness of a justice or judge may be brought to the attention of the Commission by any person or on the motion of the Commission. The Commission shall, after preliminary investigation, dismiss the matter or order a hearing to be held before it. If a hearing is ordered, a statement of the matter ~~[shall]~~ must be served upon the justice or judge against whom the proceeding is brought. The Commission in its discretion may suspend a justice or judge from the exercise of his office pending the determination of the proceedings before the Commission. Any justice or judge whose removal is sought is liable to indictment and punishment according to law. A justice or judge retired for disability in accordance with this Section is entitled thereafter to receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide.

10. If a proceeding is brought against a justice of the Supreme Court, no justice of the Supreme Court may sit on the Commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a judge of the court of appeals, no judge of the court of appeals may sit on the Commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a district judge, no district judge from the same judicial district may sit on the Commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a justice of the peace, no justice of the peace from the same township may sit on the Commission for that proceeding. If a proceeding is brought against a municipal judge, no municipal judge from the same city may sit on the Commission for that proceeding. If an appeal is taken from an action of the Commission to the Supreme Court, any justice who sat on the Commission for that proceeding is disqualified from participating in the consideration or decision of the appeal. When any member of the Commission is disqualified by this subsection, the Supreme Court shall appoint a substitute from among the eligible judges.

11. The Commission may:

(a) Designate for each hearing an attorney or attorneys at law to act as counsel to conduct the proceeding;

(b) Summon witnesses to appear and testify under oath and compel the production of books, papers, documents and records;

(c) Grant immunity from prosecution or punishment when the Commission deems it necessary and proper in order to compel the giving of testimony under oath and the production of books, papers, documents and records; and

(d) Exercise such further powers as the Legislature may from time to time confer upon it.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 3 of Article 7 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

~~[Sec.]~~ Sec. 3. For any reasonable cause to be entered on the journals of each House, which may ~~[,]~~ or may not be sufficient grounds for impeachment, the ~~[Chief Justice and associate]~~ justices of the Supreme Court , the judges of the court of appeals, if established by the Legislature, and the judges of the district courts ~~[shall]~~ must be removed from office on the vote of two thirds of the members elected to each branch of the Legislature . ~~[, and the]~~ The justice or judge complained of ~~[, shall]~~ must be served with a copy of the complaint against him ~~[, and shall]~~ and have an opportunity of being heard in person or by counsel in his defense . ~~[, provided, that no]~~ No member of either branch of the Legislature ~~[shall be]~~ is eligible to fill the vacancy occasioned by such removal.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 8 of Article 15 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

~~[Sec.]~~ Sec. 8. REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Ohrenschall requested that his remarks be entered in the Journal.

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I'm privileged to have a few guests today. The Nevada Commission on Autism Spectrum Disorders is hosting a luncheon here at the Legislature, and I want to thank everybody for wearing the blue pins. It means a lot to the families and everyone who is here. I would like to introduce some of my guests. From Touro University, I have Dr. Nicole Cavenagh. I have also the Associate Vice President from Touro University, Craig Seiden, and some very special guests, Megan Crandy and Alden Grant, who are young people who have benefited from evidence-based therapies. Alden's mom, Michele Tombari, is in the gallery. Michele wrote a letter that appeared in one of our Las Vegas papers last week, and I just want to read a brief excerpt:

> "In 1996, when my severely affected son was diagnosed, our insurance specifically excluded autism. We were forced into serious debt to provide a seven-year applied behavioral analysis program. My son now earns a 4.0 GPA in eighth grade, is a Life rank Boy Scout, and is a two-time Nevada Regional Robotics Champion. I was blessed to see my son recover; I was tortured by the children not given the opportunity to recover. For years many other parents and I fought for services here in Nevada. This year I'm proud to say my 14-year-old son [Alden] has joined the cause."

He recently walked the halls in Carson City at the Legislative Building, requesting Assemblymen and Senators cosponsor a bill to help families who are raising kids with autism. It was an honor to hear him speak easily and persuasively with legislators about the importance of this bill and how it would allow others to become taxpaying citizens and live up to their potential.

That letter really touched me. Michele, I really thank you for writing it, and I want to thank everybody here, and I hope everyone will attend the luncheon. Please make my guests feel welcome.

THE TWENTY-FIFTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), February 26, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:09 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblywoman Leslie, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Ron Torkelsen.

Dear God, in the Bible a promise is given that You are able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to Your power that is at work within us. As we look and listen at our surroundings we can see an incredible task before us. The people of Nevada are fearful of the future, job loss, home foreclosure, and their children's well being. These neighbors of ours are looking to this Assembly with hope that the government may be able to help stem the pain and worry of these circumstances. And yet, this is no simple task. Therefore, I pray for these men and women again today. I pray that their insight, wisdom, and compassion will be part of the solution to the pain, hurt, and hopelessness of so many they represent.

The task may not be simple but then your promise is to do more than we can possibly imagine. May your wisdom be ours. I pray that the decisions made here today will be those You can bless tomorrow.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 10—Memorializing Las Vegas pioneer, businessman, husband and father Eugene "Toby" Hoban.

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature were deeply grieved to learn of the passing of Eugene "Toby" Hoban on January 22, 2008; and

WHEREAS, Toby was born on May 10, 1929, in Chicago, to Eugene and Frances Hoban, and eventually made Las Vegas his home for 48 years of his rich and fulfilling life; and

WHEREAS, His wife's grandmother first moved to Nevada in the late 1930s, and the Hobans now span six generations of proud Nevadans; and

WHEREAS, Loving and dedicated parents, Toby and his wife Mary Ann stayed involved with their children's education, from parents' clubs, raffles and carnivals at St. Anne Elementary School to Bishop Gorman High School football games; and

WHEREAS, This exemplary entrepreneur was a general contractor, owned a sheet metal business and worked at "Area 51"; and

WHEREAS, An adventurous spirit with a desire to help others, Toby became a part of the Jeep Posse in Clark County in the late 1950s, where he participated in search and rescue missions in conjunction with the Clark County Sheriff's Department; and

WHEREAS, He took his dedication to the public safety of his community a step further as a volunteer with the City of Las Vegas Police Department in the 1960s; and

WHEREAS, In addition to his career, family life and volunteer work, Toby also devoted time to community activities as a past Exalted Ruler and lifetime member of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks 1468; and

WHEREAS, In 1975, he served as the General Chairman of the Helldorado Rodeo, a distinctively Las Vegan celebration of Nevada's western heritage since 1934; and

WHEREAS, On February 11, 2000, Eugene "Toby" Hoban and wife Mary Ann were given the key to the City of Las Vegas in celebration of their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary; and

WHEREAS, Toby was preceded in death by his daughter Sheila, and he is survived by his beloved wife Mary Ann, whom he met at the age of 16, son Robert, daughter-in-law Renee, grandchildren Jennifer, John, Joseph and his wife Ashley, and Robert Jr. and his wife Tammy, and great-grandchildren Robert III and Nathan; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature extend their sincere condolences to the family of Eugene "Toby" Hoban; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this great Nevadan be remembered by all for his devotion to his family, a long and successful career and an unyielding commitment to the betterment of his community, whether it was achieved by traversing Clark County on search and rescue missions or working together with his fellow Elks to organize a rodeo to celebrate the culture of this State; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Eugene "Toby" Hoban's wife Mary Ann and his son Robert.

Assemblyman Ohrenschall moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Ohrenschall.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. In January of 2008, I was deeply saddened when I learned Eugene Toby Hoban had passed away. He was one my most beloved constituents, and one of the most beloved constituents of the predecessor in my seat, my mother, who represented District 12. It was always a treat when we got to visit with the Hoban family. I remember visiting with Toby in the living room, sitting in his big armchair, the King of the Hoban clan. He is someone who built and managed apartments, which was affordable housing in downtown Las Vegas. He helped a lot of people throughout his life, not just his family. He was integral in all our efforts to try and preserve the Huntridge neighborhood that we all grew up in. His son, Bob, is sitting with me today. He is very active with the city and serves on a couple of different boards, trying to improve things in the area that we grew up in. It is hard to know exactly what to say when you lose someone like that. He was a great father, a great husband, and a great pioneer for the city.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Ohrenschall moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 10 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Assembly in recess at 11:22 a.m.

THE TWENTY-SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), February 27, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:43 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Carpenter, Leslie, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, and Segerblom, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Ron Torklesen.

Dear God, we often refer to politics with a negative connotation. Whereas that may be true at times, it is not necessarily so. There is value in collective reasoning, and that is the premise for which we come here today, next week, and the next several months. The Bible teaches that You have placed people in a government because of their godly reasoning. I pray that those there today will use their capabilities for just that. And when the decisions of these next weeks and months have been concluded, we will see the wisdom in our choices.

Again, I pray for the collective wisdom of this Assembly and thank You for the successes You have promised.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Koivisto, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart, and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 11—Recognizing March 2, 2009, as "Read Across America" Day in Nevada in commemoration of Dr. Seuss's birthday.

WHEREAS, Theodor Seuss Geisel was born on March 2, 1904, in Springfield, Massachusetts; and

WHEREAS, Theodor Seuss Geisel graduated from Dartmouth College in 1925 and began writing humorous articles and creating cartoons for various magazines; and

WHEREAS, His first children's book, And to Think That I Saw It on Mulberry Street, was rejected by 43 publishers until, in 1937, a friend published the book for him; and

WHEREAS, In May 1954, Life magazine published a report concerning illiteracy among school children, stating that, among other things, children were having trouble learning to read because the books were boring; and

WHEREAS, This comment inspired Theodor Seuss Geisel's publisher, Bennett Cerf, to compile a list of 400 words that he felt were important, asking Mr. Geisel to cut the list to 250 words, the number of words a first-grader could absorb, and using only those words, to write a book that would excite children; and

WHEREAS, Nine months later, Mr. Geisel, using only 220 of the words given to him, published The Cat in the Hat, which became an instant success; and

WHEREAS, In 1960, Bennett Cerf bet Mr. Geisel $50 that he could not write an entire book using only 50 words, and from that challenge came the famous children's book Green Eggs and Ham, which was also an instant success; and

WHEREAS, From that point on, Theodor Seuss Geisel became known as "Dr. Seuss," and children became enthused about reading every Dr. Seuss book available; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Seuss died on September 24, 1991, but his legacy of children's books will live forever as an inspiration to children everywhere to learn to read and to share in the laughter, enjoyment and knowledge that a book can provide; and

WHEREAS, In honor of Dr. Seuss and the joy of reading, the National Education Association has designated March 2, 2009, as a special day in their program "Read Across America," the nationwide initiative that promotes reading every day; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That March 2, 2009, is hereby recognized as "Read Across America" Day in Nevada in commemoration of Dr. Seuss's birthday; and be it further

RESOLVED, That children and adults are encouraged to read a favorite book together on this date and share the joy of reading; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Lynn Warne, President of the Nevada State Education Association, and Terry Hickman, Executive Director of the Nevada State Education Association.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Anderson.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Green Eggs and Ham is the traditional book that we think of with Dr. Seuss. I have, however, among my Dr. Seuss collection Marvin Mooney Will You Please Go Now. For the ten of us who are term-limited, this is a particularly poignant request from the people of the State. Therefore, I felt this particular book most reflected the fact that ten of us, anyway, hear the call very, very clearly.

The time has come. The time has come.
The time is now. Just go. Go. GO.
I don't care how.
You can go by foot.
You can go by cow.
Marvin K. Mooney, will you please go now!
You can go on skates.
You can go on skis.
You can go in a hat.
But please go. Please! I don't care.
You can go by bike.
You can go on a Zike-Bike if you like.
If you like you can go in an old, blue shoe.
Just go, go, Go! Please do, do, Do!
Marvin K. Mooney, I don't care how.
Marvin K. Mooney, will you please GO NOW!

You can go on stilts.
You can go by fish.
You can go in a Crunk-Car if you wish.
If you wish you may go by lion's tail.
Or stamp yourself and go by mail.
Marvin K. Mooney! Don't you know the time has come to go, go, GO!
Get on your way! Please, Marvin K.
You might like going in a Zumble-Zay.
You go by balloon—or broomstick.
OR you can go by camel in a bureau drawer.
You can go by Bumble-Boat . . . or jet. I don't care how you go. Just GET!
Get yourself a Ga-Zoom. You can go with a—BOOM.
Marvin, Marvin, Marvin! Will you leave this room!
Marvin K. Mooney! I don't care HOW.
Marvin K. Mooney! Will you please GO NOW!
I said GO and GO I meant . . .
The time had come. SO—Marvin went.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Anderson moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 11 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

THE THIRTIETH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), March 3, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:18 a.m. in the old Assembly Chamber in the historic Capitol Building.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Bruce Kochsmeier.

Gracious God, No one knows us as You do. How grateful we can be for this. Even more, we are grateful that in Your knowledge of us, You love us beyond our imagining. You delight in us as Your creation. You have created us for relationship with Yourself. You call us into relationship with one another as a reflection of this gift. You have created us for community. We are here today to care for Your community. You have entrusted the needs of the people of Nevada to these leaders. It is an awesome task. We pray that You would equip each of them today to do Your will. We ask that each of them would have a sense of Your special anointing—that they would know that You have chosen them for the work You have for them to do for You. Strengthen them, encourage them, give them conviction for the truth and openness to Your leading. Direct this session as we meet in this historic setting. Let all that takes place be pleasing in Your sight. We pray humbly and gratefully, seeking Your face.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 27

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Kihuen and Anderson.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 27:

YEAS—42.

NAYS—None.

Assembly Bill No. 27 having received a constitutional majority, Madam Speaker declared it passed.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

Assembly Bill No. 132

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Conklin, Horne, and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN CONKLIN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Assembly Bill 132 clarifies that in an action for forcible or unlawful entry or detention of real property, actual damages include damages to real property and personal property.

The esteemed Judiciary Committee heard testimony about the Supreme Court's hearing on Countrywide Home Loans v. Thitchener. This is a case in which Countrywide Home Loans took over a property in foreclosure that in fact was not in default, and in the process, accidentally sold off some personal property of the rightful owner of the home. As it went to the Supreme Court, the Supreme Court determined that it could not differentiate, by statute, between damages to real property and personal property, found the statute ambiguous, and ruled only in the case of the real property—the home, the damage to the home—and left out of the suit things like a wedding dress, wedding photos, military awards, including medals—a lot of personal property that got sold off—that the family was never able to get back. This bill fixes what I would consider a severe injustice in the law by separating out and including in the statute both real property and personal property taken either forcibly or through unlawful entry or detention. Madam Speaker, I urge passage.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I have a question. Assemblyman Conklin, by defining actual damages in this manner, we're not precluding damages for things, such as if you are illegally evicted and you incur hotel costs, or other damages? They are still included even though they are not damages to your real property or personal property?

ASSEMBLYMAN CONKLIN:

Madam Speaker, I do not believe so. I am not an attorney, and my colleague may be able to better answer this. As I understand it, this is exclusive to the taking of the property—the property itself and anything in it—and not to do with any additional damages associated with not having access to that facility. In the particular Thitchener case, as it turned out, they were away from the home at the time, so they had another place to live. They were actually out of state at the time—it is a military family—but they were intending to come back. All their belongings were in the home. In this particular case, that was not an issue, but I certainly would defer to my colleague if a better answer is necessary.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Madam Speaker, that question was not posed during the committee. However, this bill does not preclude other remedies in going forward for similar circumstances to your scenario or where a home is wrongfully taken in foreclosure and the personal property is also sold off or discarded. This bill doesn't preclude other remedies, such as you described in incurring hotel costs—let's say they are gone on vacation and they return to no home. They would still have that cause of action in a court of law.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 132:

YEAS—42.

NAYS—None.

Assembly Bill No. 132 having received a constitutional majority, Madam Speaker declared it passed.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Welcome to this historic occasion. It is with a feeling of awe, I think, that most of us walk into the Assembly Chamber every day. What an incredible honor it is to come to the seat of democracy and back to our very beginnings. I think most of us, at one time or another, is suddenly taken aback by the awe, by the responsibility, and by the opportunities we've been given by the people in our district to do the best that we can to serve them. So we step back in time to recognize that this is an honor that has been passed down, that this is the best example of representative democracy, and to think a little bit about those whose footsteps we follow.

We are very pleased today to kick off our floor session in the old Assembly Chamber with a few words by our esteemed former archivist, Mr. Guy Rocha.

FORMER NEVADA STATE ARCHIVIST GUY ROCHA:

This is an auspicious occasion. You probably do not know, but the gentleman who gave the invocation—our Presbyterian minister here in Carson City—and I went to San Diego State together. We were working on our history degrees—his Bachelor's degree, my Master's degree—in the mid-1970s. Thank you, Madam Speaker, for bringing us back together, whoever is responsible for that. We even found ourselves somewhat challenged in working together on a project that resulted in the expansion of that wonderful church. We saved the part of the church that Orion Clemens was associated with as a trustee. Samuel Clemens, or "Mark Twain," gave a speech in order to raise enough money to finish that church. It is one of the few buildings left that has an association with Mark Twain. Bruce, it is good to be together after 35 years in this setting.

I had a homework assignment from our Assembly majority whip. It has been an adventure. I want to walk over here to the east door, which used to be a window, and I am going to give my initial presentation from there.

I chose this location because the "Mesquite Mosquito" has something to do with this door, which used to be a window but is now a door because of the renovation of this building in the late 1970s and early 1980s and the seismic retrofit. The Mesquite Mosquito—how many people have heard of that, since Senator Reid brought it to everyone's attention?

The late Las Vegas Sun reporter and columnist Bryn Armstrong gave Assemblyman Bryan K. Hafen the name Mesquite Mosquito after Hafen darted out the east window of this Chamber during the 1969 Legislative Session during a call of the house. He was up here by the door someplace, which was the exit point. Now, you know, it was 40 years ago, so I decided to call Bryan K. Hafen. I found him and he is still alive. He is living in Mesquite. He did admit to the act on impulse. He wanted to get the attention of his peers by exiting this building through that open window and down the fire escape. He showed up again at the bar of the Assembly, assisted by the Sergeant-at-arms. According to Joe Dini, a call of the house found him hanging out with Paul Laxalt, who was Governor at the time.

What is interesting here is that Bryan Hafen disagrees with Harry Reid that the controversial vote was on an abortion bill. U.S. Senate Majority Leader Reid makes that particular claim in his recent book, The Good Fight. Bryan Hafen says the bill related to raising the sales tax in Clark County. "I should know," he said. "I was there and voted on the bill."

Richard H. Bryan, our former esteemed Senator, Governor, and Attorney General, and serving in this Legislature as an Assemblyman in 1969, witnessed the flight of the Mesquite Mosquito. He said it was that "greyhound dog racing bill," but he wasn't sure.

Tim Hafen, Bryan Hafen's brother, who served as a fellow member of the Assembly in 1969—Bryan Hafen sat over here by the window and Tim Hafen said he sat over there on the other side of the room—said, "Well, I recall it being an abortion bill, but I am not sure. But there was a folding chair, when that was a window." Tim Hafen said as his brother mounted that chair, it crashed, and everybody saw him trying to scramble out the window.

I looked in the book and tried to find out who else was there, who else remembers. We do have a woman here today sitting at the Front Desk who was witness to that. Don Mello, who now lives in Dayton, thought it was the abortion bill. When I talked to Joe Dini this morning, who served in the same session in 1969, he said, "That's what I think it was." So, that makes the vote four for the abortion bill, one for the dog racing bill, and one for the Clark County sales tax bill. And there's a vote for the abortion bill right here by Jeanne Douglass, who is sitting at the far left of the front table.

Unfortunately, the 1969 legislative record—let me get this in as an advertisement—is not clear as to which bill led to the flight of the Mesquite Mosquito. This happened 40 years ago, and we cannot definitively figure this out. I read all Bryn Armstrong's Sunday Las Vegas Sun columns from the 1969 Legislative Session on microfilm over at the State Library and Archives and found no mention of the incident. Presumably Bryn Armstrong gave this information in a news report and news story, but not in one of his columns. That would have taken reading every day, virtually, and I couldn't do that. Here is what this experience told me. Memory can and does fail us all with the passage of time, but I think today you all will remember that there was an Assemblyman from Nevada in 1969 who unceremoniously was called the Mesquite Mosquito. Madam Assembly Majority Whip, I have met my homework assignment.

What I wanted to share with you today, and what I thought would be appropriate is the Great Depression in Nevada. I thought, "Why not?" Let's be instructive today. Perhaps we can learn something. The one thing we seemingly learn from history is that we do not learn from history. Not that history has all the answers, but how do we know if it can be instructive until we examine the past in light of the present?

Thanks to Assembly Speakers Richard Perkins and Barbara Buckley, this will be the fourth time I have had the distinct honor of regaling you, here in the old Chamber, with stories about what happened in this State Capitol.

The Legislature met in this building from 1871 until 1969, so the Mesquite Mosquito flew out during the last session. If you think this space is small, the Assembly and Senate Chambers were about half this size, until expanded in 1913-14 and first used in the 1915 Regular Session. There were no committee rooms and they didn't have offices. It was pretty primitive. When the Legislature convened here in 1931, Nevada had by far the smallest population in the nation—91,058 residents according to the recent U.S. Census. Carson City was the smallest state capital with a population of 1, 596. Oh, yes, a very different state, let me tell you.

The country, but not Nevada, was in the throes of the Great Depression. When Republican Governor Fred Balzar's message to the Legislature was read by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly and the Senate Secretary on January 20, 1931, Nevada was not in the Depression. Governor Balzar did not make the presentation. He did not have to. It is a tradition, but off and on governors have chosen to just submit it, and the message was read to the body. Perhaps it saved money. Let me read Balzar's message, because I think you will understand where he is coming from. This is January 20, 1931, in this Chamber:

> "The existing era of economic depression and industrial unemployment obtained throughout the nation, and to a minor degree within our own state, are facts well known to you and make necessary the most careful consideration of existing conditions before legislation is attempted as a possible remedy. It will therefore be well to thoughtfully examine the reports of all the several state offices, that the exact facts as to the internal condition of our state may be known. Most fortunately, the existing nationwide condition of financial stress is but lightly felt within > our borders. When comparisons are made with conditions prevailing in other states, and this partly due to our solid financial standing and partly to the large federal expenditures which have heretofore been made within the state or those authorized to be made. Deeply as we regret conditions prevailing elsewhere, Nevadans may rejoice, notwithstanding the tremendous decline in our mining industry which approaches total extinction in some quarters, yet the future for the rare metallics as well non-metallics is very good.

> The expenditures proposed in connection with the Boulder Canyon Project in Clark County, running into many millions of dollars during the ensuing decade as well as those made at the Naval Ammunition Depot in Mineral County outside Hawthorne, are factors tending to lessen financial distress among our people. These disbursements, added to those authorized by Congress for additional highway construction, give promise that Nevadans can face the future in a most optimistic frame of mind."

The point is, you were taught the Great Depression affected every place the same. Nevada got into it late. Just like the great recession today—you wouldn't know it in northeastern Nevada. There are four jurisdictions—Elko, Eureka, Lander, and Humboldt Counties—that are not feeling it in the way the other 13 counties are. It is much more nuanced than you might think, even in the Great Depression. But we are going to feel it.

The 1931 Nevada State Legislature legalized casino gambling after it had been made illegal 21 years earlier, then lowered the residency period for migratory divorces to six weeks to outmaneuver states that had reduced their residency periods to three months. They were trying to get the business—just like legalizing casino gaming and getting the business that Nevada used to have a monopoly on.

With improved highways linking Nevada to neighboring states, the quickie wedding business—with no waiting period as in other states—also grew significantly. In addition, tolerated female prostitution thrived in most communities in Nevada, particularly in the two largest cities, Reno and Las Vegas. Senator Coffin, it was a different era. In can be argued that Nevada's long-time dependence on taxes derived from its legislated tourist businesses can be traced to the 1930s. What you have inherited as a tax dynamic and an economic dynamic starts here in the 1930s. The Nevada prior to that is the "old" Nevada, the frontier Nevada.

With the continued decline of the mining industry and the state's agricultural interests in deep debt due to extensive loans, many local banks, particularly in northern Nevada, failed in late 1932. A banking holiday was declared on November 1, 1932, after a run on the banks. Nevada clearly understood what the depths of the Great Depression were when Governor Balzar's message was read to the Legislature on January 17, 1933, again, in this Chamber:

> "In my message to the Legislature of 1927 and again in 1929, stress was placed upon the following statement: 'The people of Nevada do not want an increase but, on the contrary, expect a reduction in their tax burden.' Conditions existing at that time justified my comment. During the past three years, economic conditions throughout the nation have grown steadily worse until we have reached the point, in spite of all our efforts, with economical administration of the several departments of state, where it is now apparent that drastic reductions in expenditures must be had if we are to continue to stay on a cash basis, only to the causes which you are all familiar with. The state, our several counties, and many of our cities have been confronted with a serious decline in tax and other revenues, which in some instances almost approach the vanishing point. This diminution of receipts make necessary the careful and serious scrutiny of all appropriations proposed to be made for the State's purposes during the next two fiscal years. At the very onset of your session, you will be well to consider a material reduction in your number of attachés of your respective bodies below that obtained in the > last legislature and also whether or not it will be possible to complete the work of the session in not to exceed 40 days, thus setting the example for all other departments of an enforced and drastic reduction in the public expenses.

> In the budget to be submitted to your honorable bodies in the near future, mark down the revisions of appropriations as will be recommended and wherever possible, all standing appropriations should be wholly eliminated or greatly reduced."

That is Fred Balzar, from January 17, 1933.

Well, the Legislature did not comply with a material reduction of attachés, and the session lasted the constitutional limit of 60 days—you know that constitutional separation of powers issue.

The 1933 Legislature passed an insurance premium tax but cut the ad valorem tax on taxable property, and dramatic cuts were made to the state's budget.

Arguably the worst years for Nevada during the Great Depression were 1932 through 1934.

Now I want to read Richard Kirman, who was the new governor. He was a Democrat while Balzar was a Republican. On January 22, 1935, once again the Senate Secretary and Assembly Clerk read the Governor's message to the Legislature.

> "It is almost unnecessary to state that for the past several years our state and the nation have been suffering from the most terrible depression in our history. Never since the establishment of the government of the United States have so many citizens been unemployed and dependent upon what would be termed "organized public charity." In industry throughout the nation, there's been practically a standstill, and only the drastic action taken by Congress and the President during the past two years has prevented a complete collapse of this form of government. This depression and financial industrial stagnation exists not only in America but throughout the world. Many and varied are the causes assigned, but I believe the consensus of considered and best opinion is that the natural letdown from the abnormal condition induced by the World War as well as post-war inflation, staggering unpaid war debts, and the loose practices indulged by the great financial powers of the world are the primary reasons for our present condition. The various relief agencies proposed by Franklin D. Roosevelt and sanctioned by Congress alone have saved America, and the sincere and grateful thanks of our people and our posterity will be recorded due to them, for the courageous manner in which vital problems have been and are being solved. Measures already enacted, as well as others to be proposed, will, it is hoped, prevent a return of such conditions."

Now, this is where the story gets interesting, and I will tell you why.

Although Nevada received the highest per capita federal dollars associated with New Deal programs and extensive highway construction among the 48 states at the time, the 1935 State Legislature decided some taxes had to be raised.

Following the end of the federal prohibition on alcohol manufacturing and consumption on December 5, 1933, the 1935 Legislature created a liquor tax and licensing fees. The Motor Vehicle Fuel Excise Tax and dealer licensing fees were increased. The ad valorem tax on taxable property increased. With the new tax revenues and the growing income from casino gambling, migratory divorce, quickie weddings, an upturn in the mining industry, and the continued infusion of federal dollars, Nevada had a surplus in 1936. Did you know that? That is why you called me here today.

At the same time, Governor Kirman, a long-time banker and conservative Democrat, joined business leaders from across the state in a "One Sound State" campaign. The intent was to draw millionaires from across the country to Nevada because of its low taxes. California millionaires were particularly targeted because their state income tax had been increased by their Legislature in 1935. The extensive national marketing campaign advertised Nevada as a state with "no income tax, no inheritance tax, no sales tax, no tax on intangibles, but with a balanced budget and a surplus."

Literally scores of millionaires—among them Max Fleishmann, George Whittell, Jr., LaVere Redfield, and E. L. Cord—established residency in Nevada. The taxes on all the property purchased at Lake Tahoe, in and around Reno and Las Vegas, and throughout Nevada helped fill the state's coffers.

Although the ad valorem tax on taxable property was raised by the 1937 Legislature, by 1939 the state surplus was so large that the property tax rate was cut by 20 percent. I thought this was the Great Depression! Didn't it happen all the same way, everywhere? Let me continue.

A March 20, 1939, San Francisco Chronicle article entitled "Nevada Fires on Fort Taxation" playfully asked:

> "What is Nevada doing? Getting ready to secede from the Union? The Nevada Legislature wound up Saturday after cutting the state's taxes by 20 percent. That is unfair to organized taxers. And nobody in this session of the Legislature proposed any such levies. This marks Nevada as a community with no proper place in the American commonwealth of states. South Carolina achieved secession by firing on Fort Sumter. Nevada puts herself out alone by firing on Fort Taxation. Nevada has no need for the fancy taxes other states have been dolling themselves up with. The simple taxes she has produced too much money. Surplus has been piling up. The Legislature thought the surplus was getting too big, so it handed out a dividend to taxpayers by cutting taxes one-fifth. Unbelievable, but it is true. These people just do not belong in the United States."

Actually, the 1939 Legislature did impose a state gas tax for the first time at 5 cents a gallon. However, an effort to pass a 1937 legislative resolution a second time in 1939 to amend the state constitution to allow for a state lottery, with proceeds earmarked for old-age pensions, and send the measure to the voters in 1940, passed in the Senate but died in the Assembly due to the gaming lobby. My goodness, that was 70 years ago.

The Great Depression was clearly over in 1939 while the rest of the nation continued to struggle until the onset of World War II. Nevada's population had grown to 110,247 in 1940, the largest growth the state had seen since the resurgent mining booms in the first decade of the twentieth century.

Let me read Edward Peter Carville's 1941 message, which he read. He came to this Chamber and read it to the body. I have it here—January 21, 1941.

> "I am pleased to report that the financial condition of the state's various departments is sound. Each department is considering its affairs within the limits of the amounts set forth in the budget made during the 39th Session of the Legislature, and in several instances, reversion of funds will be made at the end of the biennium. Throughout the state, economic conditions are fundamentally sound. There has been a marked increase in revenues from gasoline and diesel taxes, liquor taxes, bullion taxes, plate taxes, and common carrier taxes."

We were no longer in a depression.

Today's "Great Recession" ranks as Nevada's third worst economic crisis, after the state's 20-plus year mining depression—which began in the late 1870s and lasted through 1900—and Nevada's six-year Great Depression in the 1930s.

The Nevada Legislature is facing a challenge of a magnitude it has not seen for more than 70 years. May you have the wisdom and leadership to lead our state out of the economic wilderness. Nevada must be reconfigured in order to thrive in the rest of the twenty-first century in ways much different than in the twentieth century when we relied so heavily on the tourism industry to fund the operations of our state.

We clearly know now that no state, especially Nevada, is recession-proof.

I wish you well and success in this political and economic challenge of a political lifetime. Thank you.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following proclamation be entered in the Journal:

PROCLAMATION OF THE NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY

WHEREAS, On March 3, 2009, the Nevada Assembly honors its history by holding its floor session in the former Assembly Chamber located in Nevada's monument to democracy, the State Capitol Building; and

WHEREAS, The earliest sessions of Nevada's Territorial and State Legislatures, from 1861 through 1869, were conducted in various rented facilities and the original Ormsby County Courthouse; and

WHEREAS, In 1869 the State Capitol Fund was created upon the passage of Assembly Bill 36, which called for the erection of the State Capitol Building at a cost not to exceed $100,000, using sandstone obtained from the Nevada State Prison quarry, located just outside of Carson City; and

WHEREAS, Construction on the State Capitol Building began on April 21, 1870, and the building was completed on May 1, 1871. Robert E. Lowery presided as the first Speaker of the Assembly to officiate in the new Chamber; and

WHEREAS, The State Capitol Building was designed by San Francisco architect Joseph Gosling and built by Carson City building contractor Peter Cavanaugh. Its architecture reflects Classical and Renaissance Revival and Italianate elements; and

WHEREAS, Nevada's government evolved in this historic landmark, where the Senate and Assembly convened until April 24, 1969, when the Legislature adjourned sine die, ending nearly a hundred years of tradition of the Nevada Legislature meeting in the State Capitol Building; and

WHEREAS, The number of Assembly members who met in this Chamber, which was originally called the Assembly Hall, ranged from a high of 53 in the sessions of 1913 and 1915, to a low of 30 members in the sessions of 1893 through 1899; and

WHEREAS, Near the end of the 1969 Legislative Session, an appropriation of $3.4 million was approved for the construction of Nevada's Legislative Building. The Senate and the Assembly moved to the Legislative Building in 1971; and

WHEREAS, It was with feelings of gratitude and respect for the past and hope for the future that Assembly Speaker Howard F. McKissick, Jr. bid farewell to this Chamber on the last night of the 55th Nevada Legislative Session by stating, "Let us then hold fast to the memory of those who went before us and, grateful that we have had an opportunity to participate in events that have taken place here, let us go forward with confidence to our new duties in our new Assembly Chamber in the soon-to-be-completed Legislative Building . . . [and] let us take with us the same pioneer spirit of all the Assemblymen of the State of Nevada who have helped shape our destiny, the willingness to enforce what is just, and the courage to change what is wrong"; now, therefore, be it

PROCLAIMED, That members of the Assembly of the 75th Regular Session of the Nevada Legislature look back with deep pride and appreciation on the hard work, courage, and vision of all who served in the State Capitol Building as members of the Nevada Assembly; and be it further

PROCLAIMED, That Nevada's political history and heritage must be preserved and brought back to life periodically through celebrations such as today's floor session in the former Chamber of the Nevada Assembly; and be it further PROCLAIMED, That by conducting today's floor session in the former Assembly Chamber in the State Capitol Building, members of the Nevada Assembly reaffirm that the State Capitol Building is a treasured landmark and a symbol of the Silver State's rich and diverse history and people.

DATED this 3rd day of March, 2009.

BARBARA E. BUCKLEY
Speaker of the Assembly

Chief Clerk of the Assembly

THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), March 4, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:10 a.m.
Madam Speaker presiding.
Roll called.
All present.
Prayer by the Chaplain, Elder Carl Dahlen.

Let us pray. Hear me, our Lord and our God, as I pray on behalf of those gathered here today. Thank You, for Your many blessings. Thank You for the challenges You have laid before us. Thank You, that we can depend on You to provide the wisdom and the courage to meet those challenges. Lord, we ask that You would be with us as we have gathered. Be with us, Lord, not only in this Chamber but also in the committee rooms and the offices where the business of legislation is taking place. We ask Your blessing on all of those You have chosen to lead, in our state, in our counties and cities and towns, and in our nation. We look to You to show how You would have us act on behalf of the people of Nevada.

Help us to do what is right and not what is expedient. Help us to focus on issues and not on personalities. Help us to discern the path You would have us follow in these trying times. Let our efforts be to the benefit of all of the citizens of our state. Let all that we do and all that we say be to Your glory. You are our Lord and we are Your servants. You are our God and we are Your people. Bless us, our Lord and our God. Bless this Assembly. Bless this legislative session. Bless our Governor and his administration. Bless our state and our nation. Walk with us not only today but throughout the days ahead that Your will shall be done. Thank You, again, for all that You do for each and every one of us.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

Staff Sergeant Michael L. Townes, Las Vegas; Army Private First Class Alejandro R. Varela, Fernley; and Army Specialist Travis M. Virgadamo, Las Vegas; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature honor these brave Nevadans who made the ultimate sacrifice through their service, dedication and commitment to this country and their fellow man; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit 11 copies of this resolution to Tim Tetz, Executive Director of the Office of Veterans' Services, for transmittal to the family of each of those being honored.

Assemblywoman McClain moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywoman McClain.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MCCLAIN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Fellow members of the Assembly and distinguished guests, today is an important day. As Americans, we live in a secure and comfortable environment while somewhere around the world, a member of our military is sacrificing on our behalf. On September 11, 2001, our country's attack by an enemy intent on disrupting our security and our ideals saw our country unite as Americans and have a resurgence of patriotism not seen for many years. Thousands of young people across our nation and throughout Nevada answered the call to duty. The names we read today are fellow Nevadans who heeded the call to duty and made the ultimate sacrifice to preserve our ideals, our country, and our way of life. These brave Nevadans set aside their dreams, their lives, and their futures. They came from all across the state, from small towns and large cities. They are our neighbors, our students, our sons, and our daughters. They were our teachers, our mothers, and our brothers. Since the last legislative session, 11 more Nevadans have embarked on the eternal patrol. They came from all corners of our state—Las Vegas, Reno, Pahrump, Fernley, and Carson City. They came from all stripes, representing officers and enlisted. They came from all trades—infantry, armor, mechanics, and pilots. Today we pause to honor those we knew and loved, those Nevadans who heeded the call to service and forfeited all. We stand dedicated to remember the struggle, the resolve, and the sacrifice these Nevada heroes made. We must forever demonstrate they have not died in vain as we honor their commitment as soldiers from the great Battle Born State of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYMAN COBB:

Sergeant David J. Drakulich was 22 years of age. He graduated from Hug High School in 2003 and spent two semesters at Truckee Meadows Community College before enlisting in the Army. He loved his country and joined in order to serve. Sergeant Drakulich was a forward observer, rifleman, and parachutist for the 1st Battalion, 508th Parachute Infantry Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division, based out of Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He completed three tours in Iraq and Afghanistan. For his heroic efforts and sacrifice for our country, Sergeant Drakulich was awarded the Bronze Star. In his civilian life, David was an emerging and talented artist. His family has established the David Drakulich Memorial Art Foundation for Freedom of Expression, in his honor, to provide scholarships for students pursuing art as a vocation or hobby and as therapy for soldiers and students.

In the words of David's father, Joseph, who is joining me here today, "He was a Nevadan and an American." Sergeant Drakulich is part of a well known and prominent family in northern Nevada. Many of you know this. Personally, I did not know Sergeant Drakulich, but his life story is a common one. When I was in Iraq with the Department of Defense, I was amazed at the dedication of these soldiers, marines, airmen, and sailors. Many worked 12 hours on and 12 hours off, with up to 16-month tours. Sergeant Drakulich himself volunteered for three such tours. I agree with Mr. Drakulich. Your son was an outstanding Nevadan and American. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PIERCE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. From District 3 in Las Vegas, Sergeant Alfred Paredez was a Las Vegas native. At the age of 32, on November 20, 2007, he made the ultimate sacrifice for our nation in Baghdad. He is survived by his wife, his mother, and his step-father. Also from District 3, Sergeant Ezra Dawson, who was 31, also made the ultimate sacrifice in Konar Province, Afghanistan, on January 17, 2009. Sergeant Dawson was a member of the Nevada National Guard. He received many awards, including the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart. He is survived by his wife, Starlia. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Alejandro Varela was born January 29, 1988, in Roseville, California, where he lived most of his life. While living with his father, Roger, in Fernley, he enlisted in the Army on January 29, 2006, which was his eighteenth birthday. He graduated Basic Training at Fort Benning, Georgia, on August 11, 2006, and was assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division at Fort Hood, Texas. He was deployed to Iraq at the end of October of 2006. Alejandro was killed May 19, 2007, in Baghdad when an IED blew up under the tank he was driving. All aboard were killed. His favorite things to do were to ride his quad in the Nevada desert and play paintball with his buddies. Today, I am honored to have Roger Varela, Alejandro's father, sitting with me. He has helped found the Gold Star Families in northern Nevada, a support group for grieving families. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOEDHART:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. On Thursday, August 30, 2007, Nevada lost one of its own. Army Specialist Travis M. Virgadamo died from noncombat injuries just outside of Baghdad in Iraq. He was the fifty-fourth member of the United States military with ties to Nevada to have died while serving in the nation's wars overseas since September 11, 2001. He was just 19 years old. Travis is survived by his mother, Jackie Juliano, of Pahrump; father Robert M. Virgadamo and stepmother Mary Jean Virgadamo of the Philippines; sister Katie Juliano of Pahrump; Nicole Virgadamo of the Phillipines; grandparents Katie and Bill O'Brian of Pahrump; and an aunt and uncle, Ann and John Glover of Minden. He was a young man with a lot of dreams and a lot of plans. We offer our heartfelt sympathy and condolences to his family and friends who have suffered this loss.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PARNELL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Like so many other young men, following the attacks on September 11, 2001, 17-year-old Anthony Schober told his dad he wanted to join the Army. He wanted to do something for his country. On May 12, 2007, during his third tour of duty, Anthony lost his life in an ambush south of Baghdad. He received the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star. His family continues to grieve their loss, mostly especially when they see Hostess Ho-Ho's or a Dr. Pepper, two of his favorite junk foods that he was so famous for. Thank you, Anthony, for your service.

ASSEMBLYMAN SETTELMEYER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I admit I do not know the two gentlemen as well as I wish I could have. I was fortunate to talk to the family and I was also fortunate that the Arlington Cemetery has an outstanding website on the soldiers and the Patriot Guard Riders also had a lot of information on the two gentlemen that I speak of today. I thank them all for honoring their services.

I am very honored and humbled to talk about the two soldiers today. Deciding to serve one's country by joining the military is a personal commitment that requires courage and fortitude, traits that belonged to the two men that I humbly talk about today.

Chief Warrant Officer Joshua Rodgers was a member of the 3rd General Support Aviation Battalion, 82nd Brigade Combat Team stationed in Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He lived there with his wife, Casey G. Rodgers of Gardnerville, and their three daughters, ages 2, 3, and 7. Just like me, he is a graduate of Douglas High School, graduating in 1997. Joshua and his wife were married in Trinity Lutheran Church in Gardnerville in 1997. He joined the Army right after high school. He served four years. He then returned to Nevada to serve as a Nevada correctional officer. Then, like many people, after September 11, 2001, he re-upped. He went into the Army and became a Warrant Officer. I can't say anything better than what his mom said. Joshua was a wonderful husband and son and he was their hero. He was faithful to his family, he was an American, he was devoted to his family—family was everything to Joshua. I am grateful that she is here with us today.

I also want to talk about someone who was not necessarily, when he passed away, a Nevada resident, but his mother is one of my constituents. Army Staff Sergeant Sean Diamond, who we closed in honor of a couple of days ago, was a heavy construction equipment operator with the 610th Engineering Support Company, 14th Engineering Battalion, 55th Engineer Brigade based in Fort Lewis, Washington. He was serving his third tour of duty, participating in Operation Iraqi Freedom in As-Salam, Iraq. He first served in the military beginning in 1987. He left for a short break and then rejoined in 2000. He volunteered to go to Iraq when the war started and was most recently deployed in March 2008. During his military service, he received many awards, including the Bronze Star, the Army Achievement Medal with four-leaf cluster, the Presidential Unit Citation, the Combat Action and Expert Infantry Badges. Support for his family service was provided by his mother, Sally Wiley, of Gardnerville. She has membership in the local chapter of the Blue Star Moms of Northern Nevada, an organization whose purpose is to support the sons and daughters who serve in the military. Our thoughts go out to their families and friends who are truly in need of our prayers and our help.

Army Staff Sergeant Sean Diamond and Chief Warrant Officer Joshua Rodgers have fulfilled their duties. We thank them for their loyalty and their courage. They bring honor to our nation and knowing their memory will always be bright stars in the lives of all Americans. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN BOBZIEN:

I rise in honor of Staff Sergeant Sean Gaul of Reno who gave his life on January 9, 2008, in Iraq when a makeshift bomb detonated during combat operations. Staff Sergeant Gaul, who was 29 years old, was killed in Iraq in the Diyala province while serving his fifth tour in Iraq and Afghanistan. Staff Sergeant Gaul moved to the Reno area when he was a child. He was a member of the Junior ROTC at Reed High School. Staff Sergeant Gaul studied marshal arts, participated in triathlons, biked, hiked, loved fly fishing, and being outdoors. Staff Sergeant Gaul left behind his wife, Jessica, a daughter, parents, and four sisters, as well as many other family members. He will be remembered as a devoted soldier, husband, and father. It is my privilege today to honor and thank Staff Sergeant Sean Gaul for his service, dedication, and sacrifice to our country.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MASTROLUCA:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I stand in honor of two young men who died serving their country, in doing something that so many of us want to do, wish we could do, but is hard for us to stand up and do. That is why we are remembering them today.

Twenty-two-year-old Army Private First Class Joshua S. Modgling was killed on June 19, 2007, in Iraq. Joshua grew up in southern Nevada, and he loved to play soccer, baseball, and football. His mom says she was so proud when he decided to join the Army because he needed some direction and he wanted to go to college. He was going to come home and go to college and start an automotive business with his brother. He paid the ultimate sacrifice in protecting our country.

On May 5, 2007, 25-year-old Army Staff Sergeant Coby G. Schwab was killed on his second tour of duty. He went back to Iraq a second time because his family said he did not want his buddies to fight the country's freedom-wrecking militants alone. He spent most of his life in Henderson and joined the Army in 2000 after graduating with honors in architecture. His mother said he sought adventure. He just wanted to jump out of airplanes and climb mountains.

We are so grateful for the sacrifice that these two young men made, and we must remember them always.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. Marine Lance Corporal Raul S. Bravo, from Elko, is a hero of our community. Luckily, he is the only young man from Elko to die in Iraq. In order that Raul will live forever in Elko, we planted a tree in his honor.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the action whereby Assembly Bill No. 235 was referred to the Committee on Taxation be rescinded.

Motion carried.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that Assembly Bill No. 235 be referred to the Committee on Transportation.

Motion carried.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. When the veterans were being honored, I know many of you spoke about individual veterans that you had some knowledge of. I was a little bit emotional. As I have mentioned before, my former students are all over the place. Two of them were in dangerous places. Petty Officer 2nd Class Eric S. Patton and Army Corporal Matthew A. Commons, two graduates of Boulder City High School, were killed. I do not know the circumstances of Eric's death, but Matthew Commons was a Special Forces young man and was heroically killed in a fire fight in Afghanistan. I rise to honor them. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

THE THIRTY-SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), March 5, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11 a.m.
Madam Speaker presiding.
Roll called.
All present.
Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Bruce Kochsmeier.

Faithful Lord, thank You for the invitation to this life. Thank You for being our rock and salvation in every day. We praise You for Your unwavering care in all that we face. As this Assembly undertakes the work You have set before them, we pray that You would set the tone and tempo. Show each person here how to serve in the ways You give them. Give each servant ears to hear and words to speak. Give them minds that understand the issues. Fill them with imagination that leads beyond deadlocks. Use their creativity to lead the people of this state through these difficult days. Open them to being of one mind for Your purpose. Grant them energy and focus. Take away distractions and let Your peace reign in this Chamber and in all our lives as You lead us this and every day. We pray with confidence in the promises You have made to us to be our God as we seek You today and tomorrow and forever.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections the Assembly would recess for the purpose of hearing a musical presentation of the National Anthem by the Carson High School Choir, under the direction of Susan Sonnemaker.

Assembly in recess at 11:17 a.m.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Arberry, Aizley, Anderson, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart, and Woodbury; Senators Horsford, Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 13—Memorializing Doris Adair McDonald.

WHEREAS, The residents of the State of Nevada were deeply saddened to learn of the passing of Doris Adair McDonald, an exemplary citizen, loving wife, dedicated family woman and "Mom" to many, on October 14, 2008; and

WHEREAS, Doris was born in Butte, Montana, on August 16, 1926, to Maurice and Irene Lynch; and

WHEREAS, Her lifelong friendship with her beloved husband John began when they met at a dance in 1944, and continued as they were married on January 11, 1952, and eventually left Montana to make Las Vegas their home in August of 1960; and

WHEREAS, Doris was a devoted homemaker who loved spending time in her beautiful rose garden, which was her pride and joy, and taking care of her animals; and

WHEREAS, The McDonalds' home was where all of the neighborhood kids could feel safe and welcome, and Doris greatly enjoyed being "Mom" to all who came to visit; and

WHEREAS, Hospitable with her compassionate heart as well as her home, Doris touched the lives of many people in Las Vegas, from elected officials to those who grew up in her neighborhood, who still call her "Mom" to this day; and

WHEREAS, Sharing the traditions of the holiday season of Christmas and New Year's Eve, her favorite time of the year, and watching Notre Dame football with those she loved brought this exceptional woman great happiness; and

WHEREAS, Doris was a thoughtful and kind neighbor, loving wife and dedicated mother to her children as well as to those in her community; and

WHEREAS, Doris is survived by her loving husband of 56 years, John J. McDonald, daughters Jacquelyn Lavin and Kerry Lee McDonald, son Michael J. McDonald, grandson TJ Lavin, granddaughter Brooke Newton and grandson-in-law David, and great-granddaughter Justice Newton; and

WHEREAS, She was preceded in death by her sons-in-law Terry Pinter and Tommy Lavin; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature extend their sincerest condolences to the family and friends of Doris Adair McDonald; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this caring neighbor will be remembered fondly by all who had the good fortune of knowing her for her warmth, hospitality and devotion to her family, which extended beyond bloodlines far into her community; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Doris' husband, John J. McDonald, and her children, Jacquelyn, Kerry Lee and Michael.

Assemblyman Arberry moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Arberry.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I have some prepared remarks because this is a very moving issue for me. Councilman McDonald—I still give him that respect as councilman because he was my councilman when we first met, and we have been friends ever since. I wanted these remarks to be prepared so I wouldn't lose sight of what I really want to say to him, his family, and to this body.

The resolution certainly does a wonderful job of capturing some of the life of Doris Adair McDonald, who passed away last October. She was a special kind of person and mother who not only nurtured and loved her own children, but also their friends and all the kids in the neighborhood. Doris and her husband, John, lived in their home on Carmen Boulevard in Las Vegas for many years. I am very familiar with that neighborhood because I grew up not far from there.

I go way back with the councilman and his family, including our common ties to Western High School and my friendship with their son, Michael. When we first met, that was the first thing we bonded with because when you are a Western Warrior, you are always a Western Warrior.

"Mom" McDonald, as she was called by so many, touched so many lives in such a positive way for the nearly 50 years she lived in Las Vegas. It is my great honor and privilege to have known "Mom," and it is an honor to have her family here with us today. I would like to extend my most sincere condolences to her family and friends on their loss. But most of all, we are all here to celebrate and rejoice in the life of a woman who exemplified all the best qualities of a mother and a friend.

Musician Stevie Wonder once wrote a few lines about his own mother. He wrote, "Mama was my greatest teacher, a teacher of compassion, love, and fearlessness. If love is sweet as a flower, then my mother was a sweet flower of love." Doris "Mom" McDonald was just that kind of mother. She was a true blessing in our lives and the lives of so many, and she will be missed.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Arberry moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 13 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 5, 2009

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 14.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 14.

Assemblyman Kihuen moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Kihuen, McClain, Carpenter, Christensen, Mortenson, Atkinson, Ohrenschall, and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN KIHUEN:

The resolution certainly does a wonderful job of capturing some of the highlights of the personal and professional life of Thalia Dondero, who, as most of us know, is one of the most popular and distinguished public servants in the history of Nevada—not to mention that she is the mother of one of our esteemed colleagues who represents Assembly District 5 in the south. You all can see the apple does not fall too far from the tree. There is so much more, however. Let me just share a few things with you here today.

As a mother of five, Thalia was active for many years in organizations that focused on the well-being of children. As the resolution notes, she was twice elected as Homemaker of the Year for Nevada by McCall's Magazine. She was a leader in both the PTA and Scouting.

There are certain events in each of our lives that forever change the direction where we are headed. For Thalia, one such event occurred in 1972 when she ran for elective office for the first time. She did not win the race. If she had won, Thalia would have been a member of our body, here in the Nevada State Assembly. For all we know, she would still have been a member of the Legislature today. Rather than accept defeat and walk away from ever holding elective office, Thalia gave it another try in 1974 when she ran for the Clark County Commission. She was victorious that year. Over the following 20 years as a county commissioner, she demonstrated her remarkable abilities, leadership, vision, and strong sense of commitment to serving others. Just two years after Thalia left the county commission, she started another chapter in her remarkable life. In 1996 she ran unopposed for a seat on the University Board of Regents. She worked tirelessly over the following 12 years to promote higher education in Nevada. If it were not for the Nevada Supreme Court ruling on term limits last summer, Thalia would still be a member and an enlightening voice on the Board of Regents.

When I think of Thalia, so many words come to mind—advocate, public servant, leader, conservationist, icon, and friend. Thalia, what a blessing you have been to so many Nevadans. We are going to miss you. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MCCLAIN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I first met Thalia Dondero when I was a brand new employee in the 1990s in the Clark County Manager's Office. I have to tell you, the word was she was "District G" because it stood for "Grand Lady." One of the occasions that I remember was that we had the national NACO conference that year and there were lots of events and I got to accompany Thalia to a concert, which was one of the events at night. I sat in the front row with Thalia at a Wayne Newton concert and he was clearly flirting with her.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I stand in support of SCR 14. I first met Thalia when I was a county commissioner for Elko. It always amazed me how well prepared she was. She was not only a county commissioner from Clark County, but she really supported all of Nevada, and I always did really appreciate her service. I want to congratulate you on your success, and may you go on to do bigger and better things. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN CHRISTENSEN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. As a boy, I grew up right in the neighborhood of Dondero Elementary School. While I did not have the opportunity to meet Mrs. Dondero until I became a legislator, we were able to spend some time together on the day of Governor Guinn's second inauguration, where I really got to know her. I just wanted to stand to share a thought. I know that for my own campaigns—as a father, I've got kids and a wife—each campaign I go through, there is a lot of work that goes into it. I have only been doing it a couple of times, and it just always seems like a lot. To hear of your history and the mark—truly the mark with a capital M—that you have made on this state, I just wanted to rise and say that I am in staunch support of this resolution. I just wanted to say it is truly an honor to be in the presence of such a great Nevadan. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I first met Thalia when she was a commissioner. I was often fighting for various zoning things and I thought Thalia was always one of the fairest commissioners. I did not know her very well at that time, but in the last couple of years I have gotten to know Thalia very well because we are involved in a bunch of things together with my wife. I have to tell you this lady is the most un-fatiguing, most energetic lady you can imagine. If she sees an injustice somewhere, she is going to dive in and she is going to work to try and fix it. She is a wonderful lady, and I thoroughly support this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN ATKINSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 14. I met Mrs. Dondero years and years ago, like my colleague from District 15, when she was a county commissioner. I remember that I used to run around the building kind of lost. I used to go by her office every once in a while and just talk to her. I would sit down and talk to her. I think we all get inspirations to do what we do or run for office or do some of the things we do for other people without them even knowing it. And I remember trying to figure out the difference between a politician and a public servant. When I look at Mrs. Dondero, I definitely understand what being a public servant really, really means.

I don't know if she will remember this, but I remember the day she lost her county commission seat, and I just had to go up to her office. Someone said, "Well, maybe she is not going to be here today." I said, "No. I am sure she will be here." I went up to see her, and she was visibly upset. I do not think she was upset because she lost, I think she was upset because she felt she was not going to be able to serve people. That really meant a lot to me. It kind of inspired me. I just wanted to let her know that and to thank her for the inspiration. We really enjoy you. Someone said earlier they were going to miss you, but I do not think you are going anywhere. We will see you around.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. It is an honor to rise here and to speak to this resolution for Thalia. You have taught a lot to us as you have run for office. I know growing up in the Democratic Party, there is always a saying that if there are three people together on a sidewalk, Thalia would be there talking to them. You taught us, really, how to run fierce campaigns and how to work hard. I was talking to my mother today and chatting with her about what are the important things to say and what you mean to our family. She mentioned what good friends you and your late husband Harvey were and how much he meant to us. She mentioned a television commercial she saw back in 1972 when you and Gene Ford were both running for the Assembly, inviting people to come and hear you both talk. I think that is something else you have done. You really trailblazed the path for women in politics because those were the years that we fought for the Equal Rights Amendment and came so close in the 1970s. I just appreciate your service. It is an honor to get to speak to this resolution today, Thalia.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I want to also add my remarks in support of the resolution. You have meant so much to so many people, whether it is at the county commission level, the university level, or the state level. My colleague from Assembly District 12 spoke about trailblazing. I want to say—on behalf of women—we thank you for paving that way. I would not be the first woman Speaker in the State of Nevada but for the pioneering women who blazed that trail for all of us. We appreciate all you have done for women, all you have done for Nevadans, and all you will continue to do. I can attest to the fact that I do not believe you will be stopping your advocacy any time soon. Just last week I had the privilege of watching you and Senator Raggio share a few words about UNLV. As I watched that exchange, I thought, "Well, that is the secret to her success." No one cows you, because you know that you are right. That is what you fight for. We are so privileged to have you. I do not think that your advocacy will stop any time soon.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DONDERO LOOP:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of SCR 14. First of all, with all due respect to my colleague from District 7, it is a great day for Wildcats today, and there are a lot of them in the building. I decided to share a little story with you. I know my family behind me knows what a great mom we have and that we are all so fortunate. I thought it might be just kind of nice to quickly recap, and I appreciate your indulgence with the family today. I direct your attention to a book called A Hero Named Thalia.

Born in Greeley, Colorado,
Then on to Bakersfield.
Her early years were really tough,
But Thalia wouldn't yield.

Elementary years were meager,
Bills were oft' overdue.
'Til one bright day a spark of hope,
Her teacher bought her shoes.

She remembers the Great Depression,
The dinner table bare.
Along the way they all picked fruit,
Love was the feast they shared.

Her next home was Las Vegas
Where one man changed her life.
His name — Harvey Dondero,
Soon she became his wife.

While Harvey was a teacher,
Thalia often volunteered.
"Someone has to do it!"
Was the motto that she cheered.

Early years with Frontier Council,
Green uniforms worn with pride.
Camps forever at Calico Basin,
Thalia did it all in stride.

She volunteered with Boy Scouts,
Girl Scouts and the PTA.
Junior League, high school booster clubs,
Stay out of Thalia's way.

A life dedicated to giving,
And rearing a family of five.
She mothered, tutored and counseled,
While home and community thrived.

With all her work outside the home
'Twas her family she held most dear.
Back in nineteen fifty eight,
They were voted "Family of the Year!"

Her kids grew and became successful,
She'd always done her best.
"It's time for something bigger," she thought,
"Politics — A brand new test!"

After executive director of Girl Scouts,
She wanted to do more.
Why not first female commissioner?
She did it — in seventy-four.

A county commissioner for 20 years,
Thalia could not stop giving.
Helping Las Vegas become a better place,
For education and family living.

Thalia stands for many things —
Courage, wisdom and allegiance.
In 1996 she was elected to the Nevada Board of Regents.

A friend of the outdoors,
With a lifelong love of art.
A gourmet cook, her friends will say,
"The lady with the great big heart!"

Without means to go to college,
She taught thousands about living.
While earning her "PhD"
In the art of insatiable giving.

A mentor, a leader, a hero,
A woman beyond compare.
Las Vegas is a better place,
Thalia Dondero resided there.

I just want to tell you that we have a mother who really came from very, very meager means. She made our clothes. She cut our hair and she took care of and fed everyone in the neighborhood. She showed us what the art of giving and returning back to the community really was. I thank you for that, Mom. I thank you for being a great mother and a great role model. Thank you.

THE THIRTY-THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), March 6, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:24 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman McArthur, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Bruce Kochsmeier.

Eternal God, before any of us were a glimmer in someone's eye, You knew us and had plans for us. You knew this day would bring us to the tasks before us. As we face the events that unfold here, give us hearts to follow Your lead. Make each of these leaders mindful of Your indwelling Holy Spirit. Where there may be weariness, bring Your rest. Where there is anxiety, bring Your peace. Where there are differences, bring Your healing grace that these leaders may see and do Your will.

We are grateful, our Father, that we live in this free land where ordinary people like all of us are called to speak and act for the good of all. It is a huge and daunting honor. Let Your voice speak into the life of each person here today. Equip each of them to serve Your people. Fill them with a sense of Your directing hand. Give them joy that comes from letting You lead within us. Bless our State of Nevada for Your glory. With gratitude for Your provisions and confident of Your promise to heal the land of those who seek You in prayer, we offer our lives and this session up to You today.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

THE THIRTY-SIXTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), March 9, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:04 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblywoman Mastroluca, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Brother Orey Crounk.

Our Father in Heaven, we gather ourselves this day that we might give thanks for the many blessings which Thou hast bestowed upon this great nation. We are grateful for the divinely appointed liberties of this land. We thank Thee for our countless freedoms and for the agency and independence to act of our own will and choice.

We accept that we live in a perilous age. We thank Thee for these difficult times, Father, for we know that the seeds of strength, of courage, and of resolve can only be planted through our collective struggles and our individual efforts. We know that the fruits of these times are beyond contestation or measure.

Will Thou bless all who do labor here this day? Bless them with a full remembrance of their call to this sacred duty that they might know of Thy boundless love for them. Bless them with power and with optimism. Sustain their courage, their health, and their determination. We ask that Thou would bless their families, each and all, that they, too, might find joy and not be found wanting.

We do ask, Father, that Thou would continue to pour out upon this nation a vast and infinite blessing that we might stand as a light and a hope unto this earth. We acknowledge Thy hand in all things and give thanks unto Thee for that which we cannot fully see.

We do humbly show our gratitude unto Thee for these things, Father, and ask these favors in accordance to Thy will and in the name of Thy son, who is Christ eternal.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen McClain, Pierce, Parnell, Koivisto, Spiegel, Anderson, Buckley, Claborn, Conklin, Dondero Loop, Hogan, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, Munford, Segerblom, and Smith; Senators Parks, Carlton, Copening, Breeden, Horsford, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3—Ratifying a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States providing that equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under Article V of the United States Constitution, Congress has the power to propose an amendment to the federal Constitution and to determine the mode of ratification. (U.S. Const. art. V) In 1972, Congress passed the Equal Rights Amendment and sent it to the states for ratification, imposing a 7-year time limit for ratification, but later extended this time limit to June 30, 1982. The Equal Rights Amendment was ratified by 35 states before the deadline. Under Coleman v. Miller, 307 U.S. 433, at 450, 456 (1939), the United States Supreme Court held that, as a political question, Congress may determine whether an amendment is valid because ratifications of the amendment are made in a reasonable period of time, even after the deadline. This resolution ratifies the Equal Rights Amendment, which provides for equality of rights under the law regardless of sex.

WHEREAS, Both houses of the 92nd Congress of the United States of America, by a constitutional majority of two-thirds thereof, adopted the following resolution proposing to amend the Constitution of the United States of America:

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED (TWO-THIRDS OF EACH HOUSE CONCURRING THEREIN), That the following article is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which shall be valid to all intents and purposes as part of the Constitution when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission by the Congress:

ARTICLE .....

Section 1. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Section 2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

Section 3. This amendment shall take effect two years after the date of ratification; and

WHEREAS, The 95th Congress of the United States purported to amend the resolution of the 92nd Congress to extend the time for ratification to June 30, 1982, thereby indicating its continued support of the amendment; and

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States has adopted the 27th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which was proposed in 1789 by our First Congress, only recently ratified by three-fourths of the States and, on May 18, 1992, certified as the 27th Amendment; and

WHEREAS, The restricting time limit for the Equal Rights Amendment ratification is in the resolving clause and is not part of the amendment which was proposed by Congress and which has already been ratified by 35 states; and

WHEREAS, Having passed a time extension for the Equal Rights Amendment on October 20, 1978, Congress has demonstrated that a time limit in a resolving clause can be disregarded if it is not part of the proposed amendment; and

WHEREAS, The United States Supreme Court in Coleman v. Miller, 307 U.S. 433 (1939), recognized that Congress is in a unique position to judge the tenor of the nation, to be aware of the political, social and economic factors affecting the nation and to be aware of the importance to the nation of the proposed amendment; and

WHEREAS, If an amendment to the Constitution of the United States has been proposed by two-thirds of both houses of Congress and ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures, it is for Congress, under the principles of Coleman v. Miller, to determine the validity of the state ratifications occurring after a time limit in the resolving clause, but not in the amendment itself; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of Nevada finds that the proposed amendment is meaningful and needed as part of the Constitution of the United States and that the present political, social and economic conditions demonstrate that constitutional equality for women and men continues to be a timely issue in the United States; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America is hereby ratified by the Legislature of the State of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of State for his certification and transmittal to the Archivist of the United States pursuant to 1 U.S.C. §§ 106b and 112; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Vice President of the United States as the presiding officer of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and each member of the Nevada Congressional Delegation; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this resolution becomes effective upon passage.

Assemblywoman McClain moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Assembly in recess at 11:09 a.m.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 11:10 a.m.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Quorum present.

By Assemblymen Buckley, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 14—Commending the Nevada Women's Lobby on their 20th anniversary.

WHEREAS, The Nevada Women’s Lobby is a statewide, nonpartisan coalition of organizations and individual women and men who advocate on behalf of women, children and families; and

WHEREAS, Founded in 1988 by a dedicated group of women to improve the status of women and children in this State, the Nevada Women’s Lobby held their first public meeting on January 17, 1989, to introduce the organization to the community; and

WHEREAS, The original Steering Committee consisted of Sarah Chvilicek, Beth Elliot, Elaine Enarson, former State Senator Diana Glomb-Rogan, Helen Jones, Diane Loper, Nancy Moore, Elizabeth Pope and Diane Williams, and the current Steering Committee reflects a diverse demographic from across the State to champion their causes; and

WHEREAS, The primary work of the Nevada Women's Lobby focuses on lobbying public officials and lawmakers by working with other organizations for maximum effect; and

WHEREAS, The top legislative issues have included child support enforcement, domestic violence awareness and prevention, child care, education, child welfare, the treatment of incarcerated women, civil rights and women's health, including reproductive health; and

WHEREAS, Since 1989, the Nevada Women's Lobby has joined with other organizations and individuals during each legislative session for Grassroots Lobby Days, which is 3 days of training, inspiration and lobbying to learn how to more effectively work with the Nevada Legislature to serve the women, children and families of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Women's Lobby sponsors the Nevada Women's Summit, a statewide conference held in Las Vegas, and other workshops to increase awareness and participation in the political process, and the Nevada Women's Agenda, an affiliate of the Nevada Women's Lobby, concentrates its efforts on educating members and the public on the issues; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Nevada Legislature commend the Nevada Women's Lobby on their 20th anniversary of service and dedication to the women, children and families of our State; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Nevada Women's Lobby.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Buckley.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. It is a privilege to be able to sponsor this resolution and to welcome the Nevada Women's Lobby to what appears will be another successful Grassroots Lobby Day.

I am proud to stand here because I once came to lobby with the Nevada Women's Lobby on issues pertaining to children, women, child support, and you name it over the years. I was pleased to come up to the Nevada Legislature, but I was a little intimidated. I took workshops to learn how to lobby. Actually, I was sitting on the floor with a legislator who said, "Why don't you consider running for office?" I said I didn't know if I could do that. Well 16 years later, I am pleased with the training the Nevada Women's Lobby gave me, the confidence that it instilled in me, and for the work that they have done over the years.

Most of these women who are with us have full-time jobs. They are mothers and full-time employees but still say, "I need to devote some part of my time towards promoting issues relating to women and children, promoting civil rights issues, and basically making our state a better place." I applaud them for their twentieth anniversary. I have to recognize Bobbie Gang, their lobbyist for many, many years until Julianna Ormsby took over. I'm sure Bobby is listening to us via the Internet. I would like to thank the stalwarts of the organization, those who have been involved for years and years—our unsung heroes or unsung volunteers—for all that you have done. I would like to welcome the newest of the ranks that are coming to learn. We need you to be part of the process. We welcome you. We have had a number of colleagues who have either come from your ranks or have benefited from your work, as we have as a state. Thank you for being involved. We look forward to many, many more years of a successful partnership.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 15—Proclaiming March 2009 as Women's History Month.

WHEREAS, American women of every culture, class and ethnic background have participated in the founding and building of our nation and our State, have made historic contributions to the growth and strength of our nation and our State, and have played a critical role in shaping the economic, cultural and social fabric of our society, not in the least of ways through their participation in the labor force, working inside and outside the home, as well as through their participation in our nation's military forces; and

WHEREAS, In addition to securing their own rights of suffrage and equal opportunity, women have served as early leaders in the forefront of every major progressive social change movement, including the abolitionist, industrial labor and civil rights movements; and

WHEREAS, Despite these contributions, the role of women in the history of our nation and our State has been consistently overlooked and undervalued; and

WHEREAS, Various efforts and programs have been instituted in Nevada to reverse this trend and provide deserved recognition of the contributions of women; and

WHEREAS, Envisioned almost 30 years ago by Professor Anne Howard and Dr. Elaine Enarson, the major of Women's Studies was developed at the University of Nevada, Reno, in 1997 by Professor Jennifer Ring, and a master's degree and graduate certificate in Gender, Race and Identity was subsequently created by the current Director of the Women's Studies Program, Dr. Mary Stewart; and

WHEREAS, With its origins over 30 years ago as an interdisciplinary committee, subsequently a program and finally a department with Ellen Rose as its first director, the Women's Studies Department at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, offers an undergraduate degree and graduate certificate in Women's Studies; and

WHEREAS, In addition to satisfying core curriculum requirements, the diverse course offerings in these academic programs at our state universities prepare students for a multitude of future careers and provide the students with insights into the ways in which such factors as gender, race, ethnicity, class, sexuality and age shape their lives; and

WHEREAS, Created in 1999 by Dr. Joanne Goodwin and Caryll Dziedziak, the Women's Research Institute of Nevada at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, is a statewide research and policy center dedicated to improving the lives of women in Nevada through research and education, including through its publication of the Status of Women in Nevada Report and the creation of the Las Vegas Women Oral History Project; and

WHEREAS, Sponsored by the Women's Research Institute of Nevada and graduating its first class in 2003, the National Education for Women's (NEW) Leadership Nevada is an award-winning program open to all college students in Nevada which encourages students to take on public leadership and policymaking roles; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature proclaim March 2009 as Women's History Month in celebration of the tremendous contributions that women have made to this nation and this State.

Assemblywoman McClain moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywoman McClain.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MCCLAIN:

March of each year is designated as National Women's History month, with resolutions passed by Congress and many states to honor achievements of women from all walks of life. It is important to our state to recognize women in our history who have contributed to the strength of our state. Famous women leaders in Nevada—from Sarah Winnemucca to our first female Speaker of the State Assembly and the hundreds of Nevada women leaders who helped shape the Nevada culture—are recognized in this resolution.

Nevada women obtained the right to vote in 1914, six years before the U.S. Constitution was amended. In addition to political involvement as voters and elected officials, countless women have served and continue to serve as grassroots organizers. One of our early pioneers was Ann Martin, who ran for the U.S. Senate in 1918. Another one of our early leaders was our beloved Maya Miller, who ran for the U.S. Senate in 1974. While these two brave women were not successful in their congressional bids, they laid the groundwork for many of us who have successfully been elected to political offices across the state in the past 50-plus years. Nevada ranked second in the nation in 1999 for the number of women in the Legislature, with the first, Assemblywoman Sadie Hurst, being elected in 1918.

Today during National Women's History Month, we are highlighting two programs that have emerged from that history: the Women's Studies programs at UNR and UNLV. We honor the pioneers of those programs and can only imagine the opposition they must have faced in establishing degree programs around the study of women's accomplishments and awareness of gender issues in our society. These two highly successful programs provide statewide research and support for the Oral History Project, the New Leadership Program, and diverse courses in academic programs that prepare students for many careers in leadership roles in our state.

It is my honor to support National Women's History Month for our great State of Nevada. Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 165.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Ways and Means:

Amendment No. 27.

AN ACT relating to state financial administration; revising the provisions governing the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

The Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government, also known as the Rainy Day Fund, is a special revenue fund into which surplus state revenues are deposited to be used in case of fiscal emergencies. Under existing law, the State Controller is required to deposit to the credit of the Fund 40 percent of the unrestricted balance of the State General Fund, as of the end of the previous fiscal year, that remains after subtracting an amount equal to 10 percent of all appropriations made from the State General Fund during that fiscal year for the operation of the State Government and the funding of schools. (NRS 353.288) Section 2 of this bill reduces from 10 percent to 7 percent the amount of the appropriations subtracted in calculating the current ~~[deposit into]~~ transfer to the Fund each biennium that is set forth in existing law. ~~[Section]~~ Commencing with the fiscal year that begins on July 1, 2011, section 2 also requires the State Controller to ~~[place an additional deposit in]~~ transfer from the State General Fund to the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government at the beginning of each fiscal year ~~[of]~~ 1 percent of the total anticipated revenue projected for that fiscal year by the Economic Forum in May of odd-numbered years, as adjusted by any legislation enacted by the Legislature that affects state revenue ~~[during]~~ for that fiscal year. Existing law requires that all projections of revenue and any other information concerning future state revenue contained in the proposed budget for the Executive Department of the State Government be based upon the projections and estimates prepared by the Economic Forum. (NRS 353.228, 353.230)

Section 2 of this bill also increases the maximum balance allowed in the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government from 15 percent to 20 percent of the total of all appropriations from the State General Fund for the operation of the State Government and the funding of schools and authorized expenditures from the State General Fund for the regulation of gaming for ~~[that]~~ the fiscal year ~~[.]~~ in which that revenue will be transferred to the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government.

Finally, section 2 of this bill provides that the money transferred to the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government is a continuing appropriation solely for the purpose of authorizing the expenditure of the transferred money to offset a budget shortfall or fiscal emergency in certain specified circumstances and clarifies the responsibility for determining whether the specified circumstances exist. Section 2 sets forth the procedure for the transfer of money in the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government to the State General Fund by the Interim Finance Committee after a determination or declaration of such a budget shortfall or fiscal emergency.

Under existing law, the proposed budget for the Executive Department of the State Government for each fiscal year of a biennium is required to include a reserve of not less than 5 percent or more than 10 percent of the total of all proposed appropriations from the State General Fund for the operation of the State Government and authorized expenditures from the State General Fund for the regulation of gaming for that fiscal year. (NRS 353.213) Section 1 of this bill requires an additional reservation in the proposed biennial budget of an amount equal to 1 percent of the total anticipated revenue projected for each fiscal year of the biennium by the Economic Forum in December of even-numbered years, as adjusted by any changes or adjustments to state revenue recommended in the proposed budget for that biennium. This reserved money, as further adjusted by the Economic Forum in May of odd-numbered years and by any applicable legislation, is the money that will be ~~[deposited]~~ transferred by the State Controller ~~[in]~~ from the State General Fund to the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government at the beginning of each fiscal year of the biennium pursuant to section 2 ~~[.]~~ of this bill. The proposed budget for the period that begins on July 1, 2011, and ends on June 30, 2013, is the first biennial budget for which such a reservation is required.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 353.213 is hereby amended to read as follows:

353.213 1. In preparing the proposed budget for the Executive Department of the State Government for each biennium, the Chief shall not exceed the limit upon total proposed expenditures for purposes other than construction and reducing any unfunded accrued liability of the State Retirees' Health and Welfare Benefits Fund created by NRS 287.0436 from the State General Fund calculated pursuant to this section. The base for each biennium is the total expenditure, for the purposes limited, from the State General Fund appropriated and authorized by the Legislature for the biennium beginning on July 1, 1975.

2. The limit for each biennium is calculated as follows:

(a) The amount of expenditure constituting the base is multiplied by the percentage of change in population for the current biennium from the population on July 1, 1974, and this product is added to or subtracted from the amount of expenditure constituting the base.

(b) The amount calculated pursuant to paragraph (a) is multiplied by the percentage of inflation or deflation, and this product is added to or subtracted from the amount calculated pursuant to paragraph (a).

(c) Subject to the limitations of this paragraph:

(1) If the amount resulting from the calculations pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) represents a net increase over the base biennium, the Chief may increase the proposed expenditure accordingly.

(2) If the amount represents a net decrease, the Chief shall decrease the proposed expenditure accordingly.

(3) If the amount is the same as in the base biennium, that amount is the limit of permissible proposed expenditure.

3. The proposed budget for each fiscal year of the biennium must provide for a reserve of ~~[not]~~ :

(a) Not less than 5 percent ~~[nor]~~ or more than 10 percent of the total of all proposed appropriations from the State General Fund for the operation of all departments, institutions and agencies of the State Government and authorized expenditures from the State General Fund for the regulation of gaming for that fiscal year ~~[.~~

~~3.]~~ ; and

(b) ~~[One]~~ Commencing with the proposed budget for the period that begins on July 1, 2011, and ends on June 30, 2013, 1 percent of the total anticipated revenue for each of the two fiscal years of the biennium for which the budget is proposed, as projected by the Economic Forum for each of those fiscal years pursuant to paragraph (d) of subsection 1 of NRS 353.228 and as adjusted by any changes or adjustments to state revenue that are recommended in the proposed budget for those fiscal years.

4. The revised estimate of population for the State issued by the United States Department of Commerce as of July 1, 1974, must be used, and the Governor shall certify the percentage of increase or decrease in population for each succeeding biennium. The Consumer Price Index published by the United States Department of Labor for July preceding each biennium must be used in determining the percentage of inflation or deflation.

~~[4.]~~ 5. The Chief may exceed the limit to the extent necessary to meet situations in which there is a threat to life or property.

~~[5.]~~ 6. As used in this section, "unfunded accrued liability" means a liability with an actuarially determined value which exceeds the value of the assets in the fund from which payments are made to discharge the liability.

Sec. 2. NRS 353.288 is hereby amended to read as follows:

353.288 1. The Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government is hereby created as a special revenue fund. Except as otherwise provided in subsections ~~[2]~~ 3 and ~~[3,]~~ 4, each year after the close of the previous fiscal year and before the issuance of the State Controller's annual report, the State Controller shall ~~[deposit to the credit of]~~ transfer from the State General Fund to the Fund ~~[40]~~ to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government*:*

(a) Forty percent of the unrestricted balance of the State General Fund, as of the close of the previous fiscal year, which remains after subtracting an amount equal to ~~[10]~~ 7 percent of all appropriations made from the State

General Fund during that previous fiscal year for the operation of all departments, institutions and agencies of State Government and for the funding of schools [.] ; and

(b) [One] Commencing with the fiscal year that begins on July 1, 2011, 1 percent of the total anticipated revenue for the fiscal year in which the [deposit] transfer will be made, as projected by the Economic Forum for that fiscal year pursuant to paragraph (e) of subsection 1 of NRS 353.228 and as adjusted by any legislation enacted by the Legislature that affects state revenue for that fiscal year.

2. Money transferred pursuant to subsection 1 to the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government is a continuing appropriation solely for the purpose of authorizing the expenditure of the transferred money for the purposes set forth in this section.

3. The balance in the Fund [,] to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government, excluding the aggregate balance in the Disaster Relief Account and the Emergency Assistance Subaccount, must not exceed [15] 20 percent of the total of all appropriations from the State General Fund for the operation of all departments, institutions and agencies of the State Government and for the funding of schools and authorized expenditures from the State General Fund for the regulation of gaming for the fiscal year in which that revenue will be [deposited in] transferred to the Fund [.]

[3.] to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government.

4. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection and NRS 353.2735, beginning with the fiscal year that begins on July 1, 2003, the State Controller shall, at the end of each quarter of a fiscal year, transfer from the State General Fund to the Disaster Relief Account created pursuant to NRS 353.2735 an amount equal to not more than 10 percent of the aggregate balance in the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government during the previous quarter, excluding the aggregate balance in the Disaster Relief Account and the Emergency Assistance Subaccount created pursuant to NRS 414.135. The State Controller shall not transfer more than $500,000 for any quarter pursuant to this subsection.

[4. Money]

5. The Chief of the Budget Division of the Department of Administration may submit a request to the State Board of Examiners to transfer money from the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government [may be appropriated only:] to the State General Fund:

(a) If the total actual revenue of the State falls short by 5 percent or more of the total anticipated revenue for the biennium in which the [appropriation is] transfer will be made [,] , as determined by the Legislature, or the Interim Finance Committee if the Legislature is not in session; or

(b) If the Legislature , or the Interim Finance Committee if the Legislature is not in session, and the Governor declare that a fiscal emergency exists.

6. The State Board of Examiners shall consider a request made pursuant to subsection 5 and shall, if it finds that a transfer should be made, recommend the amount of the transfer to the Interim Finance Committee for its independent evaluation and action. The Interim Finance Committee is not bound to follow the recommendation of the State Board of Examiners.

7. If the Interim Finance Committee finds that a transfer recommended by the State Board of Examiners should and may lawfully be made, the Committee shall by resolution establish the amount and direct the State Controller to transfer that amount to the State General Fund. The State Controller shall thereupon make the transfer.

Sec. 2.5. NRS 218.6827 is hereby amended to read as follows:

218.6827 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the Interim Finance Committee may exercise the powers conferred upon it by law only when the Legislature is not in regular or special session.

2. During a regular or special session, the Interim Finance Committee may also perform the duties imposed on it by subsection 5 of NRS 284.115, subsection 2 of NRS 321.335, NRS 322.007, subsection 2 of NRS 323.020, NRS 323.050, subsection 1 of NRS 323.100, subsection 3 of NRS 341.090, NRS 341.142, subsection 6 of NRS 341.145, NRS 353.220, 353.224, 353.2705 to 353.2771, inclusive, 353.288 and 353.335, paragraph (b) of subsection 4 of NRS 407.0762, NRS 428.375, 439.620, 439.630, 445B.830 and 538.650. In performing those duties, the Senate Standing Committee on Finance and the Assembly Standing Committee on Ways and Means may meet separately and transmit the results of their respective votes to the Chairman of the Interim Finance Committee to determine the action of the Interim Finance Committee as a whole.

3. The Chairman of the Interim Finance Committee may appoint a subcommittee consisting of six members of the Committee to review and make recommendations to the Committee on matters of the State Public Works Board that require prior approval of the Interim Finance Committee pursuant to subsection 3 of NRS 341.090, NRS 341.142 and subsection 6 of NRS 341.145. If the Chairman appoints such a subcommittee:

(a) The Chairman shall designate one of the members of the subcommittee to serve as the chairman of the subcommittee;

(b) The subcommittee shall meet throughout the year at the times and places specified by the call of the chairman of the subcommittee; and

(c) The Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau or his designee shall act as the nonvoting recording secretary of the subcommittee.

Sec. 3. ~~[The provisions of NRS 353.213 and 353.288, as amended by sections 1 and 2 of this act, apply initially to Fiscal Year 2011-2012.]~~

1. The Governor shall provide initially for the reserve required pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection 3 of NRS 353.213, as amended by section 1 of this act, in the proposed biennial budget for the period that begins on July 1, 2011, and ends on June 30, 2013.

2. The fiscal year that begins on July 1, 2011, is the initial fiscal year in which a transfer of money must be made from the State General Fund to the Fund to Stabilize the Operation of the State Government pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection 1 of NRS 353.288, as amended by section 2 of this act.

Sec. 4. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2009.

Assembly called to order at 11:19 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Denis and Mastroluca, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, President William Brewer.

Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the opportunity to gather in this free land as a public body to discuss the business of the people of Nevada. We thank Thee for the freedoms we enjoy, and for this blessing of being able to govern ourselves. We ask Thee to bless these men and women who sacrifice much to do this work. We ask Thee to bless them that they may be guided in their efforts and that they would make decisions that will be for the greatest good of our people. Bless them that they would take care to maintain liberty, honor, virtue, and protect the families of Nevada. Bless them with joy in their work, and bless us as citizens, to be engaged with them in this process. We thank Thee and ask for these blessings in the name of Jesus Christ. AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 9, 2009

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed Assembly Bill No. 78; Senate Bills Nos. 38, 39, 109, 139, 142; Senate Joint Resolution No. 4.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Goedhart, Cobb, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Settelmeyer, and Stewart:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 4—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to provide for tax rebates for certain eligible pupils who attend private schools.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

The Nevada Constitution provides for a uniform system of common schools and provides for their support and maintenance by direct legislative appropriation from the general fund. (Nev. Const. Art. 11, §§ 2, 6) This resolution proposes to amend the Nevada Constitution to provide education tax rebates to parents or legal guardians of pupils enrolled in private schools of their choice in certain circumstances.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 2 of Article 11 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

~~[Section]~~ Sec. 2. 1. The legislature shall provide for a uniform system of common schools, by which a school shall be established and maintained in each school district at least six months in every year, and any school district which shall allow instruction of a sectarian character therein may be deprived of its proportion of the interest of the public school fund during such neglect or infraction, and the legislature may pass such laws as will tend to secure a general attendance of the children in each school district upon said public schools.

2. In addition to establishing and maintaining common schools, the legislature shall establish a companion program of per pupil funding which provides an education tax rebate to parents or legal guardians of eligible pupils enrolled in the private school of their choice using a portion of the money that would otherwise be paid to a school district on behalf of that pupil. A parent or legal guardian may be eligible for an education tax rebate if the following criteria are satisfied:

(a) The pupil is a resident of this State;

(b) The pupil has not graduated from high school or otherwise received a high school diploma;

(c) The pupil has not attained the age of 21 years before the beginning of the school year or during the school year for which the education tax rebate is requested; and

(d) The private school in which the pupil is enrolled must be located in this State and licensed in accordance with applicable state law.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution or state statute to the contrary, the education tax rebate must, except as otherwise provided in this subsection, be equal to 75 percent of the basic support guarantee per pupil, as established by law for the current fiscal year for public schools for pupils in grades 1 to 12, inclusive. If the actual direct costs of attending the private school chosen by the parents or legal guardian of the pupil are less than the amount of the education tax rebate specified in this subsection, the amount of the education tax rebate must be reduced accordingly.

4. The education tax rebate is provided to the parents or legal guardians of eligible pupils for the purpose of enrolling the pupil in the private school of their choice. If the parents or legal guardian enroll the pupil in a licensed private sectarian school, the education tax rebate shall not be deemed to violate the provisions of sections 2 and 10 of this Article regarding sectarian instruction or purpose.

5. Except as the legislature may otherwise provide by law, the school district in which the pupil participating in the education tax rebate program attends school or the school district in which the pupil resides is not required to provide transportation for the pupil to attend the private school.

6. The provisions of this article are self-executing, but the legislature may provide by law for procedures to facilitate the operation thereof, including, without limitation, procedures:

(a) Establishing the process for submitting an application for an education tax rebate, including proof of the age of the pupil; and

(b) Establishing appropriate safeguards to ensure that the education tax rebates which are provided are spent only as authorized by this section.

7. If any of the provisions of subsections 2 to 6, inclusive, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity does not affect the provisions or application of subsections 2 to 6, inclusive, which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of subsections 2 to 6, inclusive, are declared to be severable.

Assemblyman Goedhart moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 10, 2009

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed Initiative Petition No. 1.

Also, I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 14.

Also, I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed Senate Bill No. 34.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Mortenson, Ohrenschall, Horne, Kihuen, and Segerblom:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 5—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to limit the duration of special sessions of the Legislature to 20 days, limit matters which may be considered during a special session and provide that a special session may be convened by a petition signed by two-thirds of the Legislators of each house.

Under the Nevada Constitution, only the Governor may convene a special session of the Nevada Legislature. (Nev. Const. Art. 5 § 9) This resolution proposes to amend the Nevada Constitution to authorize the Legislature to convene a special session by signed petition of two-thirds of the members of each House of the Legislature. The resolution also provides that the bills introduced during the special session must relate to the purpose of the session, except that bills necessary to provide for the expenses of the session may also be introduced. Finally, the resolution limits the duration of any special session of the Legislature to 20 calendar days.

If this proposed resolution is passed by the 2009 Legislature, it must also be passed by the next Legislature and then approved and ratified by the people in an election, before the proposed amendments to the Nevada Constitution become effective.

WHEREAS, There are currently 32 state legislatures that have the ability to call a special legislative session when deemed necessary; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Legislature is 1 of only 18 state legislative bodies in the nation that may not call a special session, and 1 of only 11 Legislatures that may not determine any of the subject matter to be considered at a special session; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Constitution is grounded on the principle of three equal branches of State Government, with the ultimate authority and responsibility to enact necessary legislation being vested in the Legislative Branch, subject to final approval by the Governor; and

WHEREAS, Nevada's current constitutional language, which allows only the Governor to call the Legislature into special session, impedes and is contrary to the constitutional provision that vests the legislative authority of the State of Nevada in its elected Legislature; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Legislature should be authorized to operate with a reasonable degree of independence from the Executive and Judicial Branches as is consistent with the separation of powers principle, and should be empowered to identify those topics that may require the Legislature to call a limited special session deemed in the best interest of the people of the State of Nevada; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new section, designated Section 2A, be added to Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 2A. 1. The Legislature may be convened, on extraordinary occasions, upon petition signed by two-thirds of the members of each House of the Legislature. A petition must specify the business to be transacted during the special session, indicate a date on or before which the Legislature is to convene and be transmitted to the Secretary of State. Upon receipt of one or more substantially similar petitions signed, in the aggregate, by the required number of members, calling for a special session, the Secretary of State shall notify all members of the Legislature and the Governor that a special session will be convened pursuant to this section.

2. No bills, except those related to the business specified in the petition and those necessary to provide for the expenses of the session, may be introduced at a special session convened pursuant to this section.

3. A special session convened pursuant to this section takes precedence over a special session called by the Governor pursuant to Section 9 of Article 5 of this Constitution, unless otherwise provided in the petition calling for the special session.

4. The Legislature may provide by law for the procedure for convening a special session pursuant to this section.

5. The Legislature shall adjourn sine die a special session convened pursuant to this section not later than midnight Pacific standard time of the 20th calendar day of that session. Any legislative action taken after midnight Pacific standard time on the 20th calendar day is void.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 2 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. The sessions of the Legislature shall be biennial, and shall commence on the 1st Monday of February following the election of members of the Assembly, unless the Governor of the State or the members of the Legislature shall, in the interim, convene the Legislature by proclamation ~~[.]~~ or petition.

2. The Legislature shall adjourn sine die each regular session not later than midnight Pacific standard time 120 calendar days following its commencement. Any legislative action taken after midnight Pacific standard time on the 120th calendar day is void, unless the legislative action is conducted during a special session . ~~[convened by the Governor.]~~

3. The Governor shall submit the proposed executive budget to the Legislature not later than 14 calendar days before the commencement of each regular session.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 33 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec . ~~[.]~~ 33. The members of the Legislature shall receive for their services ~~[,]~~ a compensation to be fixed by law and paid out of the public treasury, for not to exceed 60 days during any regular session of the legislature and not to exceed 20 days during any special session ; ~~[convened by the governor;]~~ but no increase of such compensation shall take effect during the term for which the members of either house shall have been elected Provided, that an appropriation may be made for the payment of such actual expenses as members of the Legislature may incur for postage, express charges, newspapers and stationery not exceeding the sum of Sixty dollars for any general or special session to each member; and Furthermore Provided, that the Speaker of the Assembly, and Lieutenant Governor, as President of the Senate, shall each, during the time of their actual attendance as such presiding officers receive an additional allowance of two dollars per diem.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 9 of Article 5 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

~~[Sec. 9. The]~~ Sec. 9. 1. Except as otherwise provided in Section 2A of Article 4 of this Constitution, the Governor may , on extraordinary occasions, convene the Legislature by Proclamation and shall state to both houses when organized, the purpose for which they have been convened . ~~[, and the Legislature shall transact no legislative business, except that for which they were specially convened, or such other legislative business as the Governor may call to the attention of the Legislature while in Session.]~~

2. No bills, except those related to the purpose for which the Legislature has been specially convened and those necessary to provide for the expenses of the session, may be introduced at a special session convened pursuant to this section.

3. The Legislature shall adjourn sine die a special session convened pursuant to this section not later than midnight Pacific standard time of the 20th calendar day of that session.

Any legislative action taken after midnight Pacific standard time on the 20th calendar day is void.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 11:43 a.m.
Mr. Speaker pro Tempore presiding.
Quorum present.

Assembly Bill No. 165.
Bill read third time.
Remarks by Assemblywomen Buckley and Gansert.
Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Last year, I had the opportunity to offer a counterpoint to the Governor's address on the state of our state. I thought long and hard about what I would say, and I decided to stick to the basics—and that is, as a state, we can do better. Let's look at our rankings.

- K-12, forty-seventh in the nation in per-pupil spending.
- Forty-fifth in fourth grade reading proficiency.
- Forty-fourth in fourth grade math proficiency.
- Forty-ninth in per capita state and local spending for higher education.
- Public health, forty-sixth in the nation in number of physicians per 100,000.
- Forty-ninth in the nation for nurses per 100,000.
- Thirty-fifth in the nation for those lacking access to primary health care.
- Third in the nation of children without health insurance.
- First in the nation for women not receiving prenatal care.
- Fiftieth in the number of eligible children covered by Medicaid.
- Fiftieth in the number of infants and toddlers fully immunized.
- Fiftieth for the number of children who see a doctor or a dentist once a year.
- First in suicide rate for our elderly, age 65 and above.
- Fortieth in per capita spending for mental health.

Then let's look at our financial structure. Ninety-three percent of our funds go three places: education, health and human services, and public safety. More than 60 percent of our revenue is received from sales and gaming taxes, so when times are tough and discretionary income goes down, we have a financial crisis. We do not have a rainy day fund that works when times are tough. We need to take a look at how we are operating as a state and change the way we operate.

I decided to travel around the state and ask for input. Spending priorities—how do we, as a state, improve in critical areas? How do we get out of last place in so many rankings? How do we stabilize and diversify our revenue? How do we create a business portal so folks aren't skating by while most Nevada businesses pay their fair share in what they owe? Should we re-examine tax breaks? How do we stop relying so heavily on gaming and sales taxes when we clearly know now that gaming is not recession-proof? Finally, how do we stop our boom-and-bust cycle, which causes us to build programs in good times only to destroy them when times are bad? In this budget alone, the Governor is proposing:

- Closing the teachers' training center, which was identified as crucial in meeting No Child Left Behind and training our teachers—we need this center.
- Closing almost every rural mental health clinic after we finally spent a decade building up the infrastructure.
- Starting an autism treatment program last session, only to stop in the middle of the children receiving treatment now.
- Closing facilities for juvenile delinquents when we finally established some capacity. Juvenile crime—the kids are still going to be committing crimes.

It makes no sense to build programs in good times only to destroy them when times are bad if you still need the services. And we do this every ten years.

Assembly Bill 165 addresses this by revamping the way we run our Rainy Day Fund. Right now, our Rainy Day Fund relies chiefly on voluntary appropriations. At the outset, let us be clear—we are experiencing the Great Recession. No rainy day fund is going to insulate us from times like these, but we are so unprepared compared to any other state. Our Rainy Day Fund does not do the job in a small economic downturn, much less give us any cushion in times like these, so while this memory is fresh in our minds, we can take a step to change the way we do business. Assembly Bill 165 operates like this: first, it lets our Rainy Day Fund accumulate to 20 percent of our annual General Fund budget, the largest in the country as a percentage of our annual General Fund revenue. The next highest is Massachusetts at 15 percent. Why so large? Again, right now 61 percent of our revenue comes from discretionary dollars—gaming and sales. As soon as there is a general economic downturn in the country people stop traveling. It is pretty elementary. How does the Rainy Day Fund work? There are two parts. First is a front-end contribution—1 percent of projected General Fund revenue. On the back end, there is 40 percent of all of the year-end General Fund surplus over 7 percent. Why 7 percent? Five percent has to go to the mandatory ending fund balance. Two percent is to give us some cushion because we will have bills incurred not yet payable.

The Rainy Day Fund will start us down the road towards fiscal responsibility and reduce the number of priority cuts that are required during an economic downturn. During my many town hall meetings on the Nevada 2020 endeavor, I asked for input, and I was amazed at how many people wanted to talk about the state of our state—who are committed to making our state a better place and better prepared to move up in the rankings and to be better prepared for economic downturns. Working together, we could achieve that. Assembly Bill 165 is one step towards achieving just that. I urge your support.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of A.B. 165. I think we all agree that we need to save more money. While we may not agree on budget and policies all the time, we do agree that we have not put enough into our savings account for hard times like this. I appreciate the efforts of the Speaker and also of the Assemblyman from Boulder City, who has worked on this effort for quite some time. I urge support of this legislation.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Brother Shane Jenkins.

Our Father in Heaven, we thank Thee for the opportunity to be gathered as Thy children in this great Assembly. We thank Thee for the men and women who give of their time and talents in order to serve the people of Nevada. We are thankful, Father, that we live in this great land and thank Thee for the blessings that Thou hast given unto us and for the leadership of those who have been elected by the people. We ask Thee to be with and bless the Assembly that they may be led in the decisions that they will make this day. Bless them that Thy spirit will be with them to provide insight and inspiration that they may act upon those items that will provide the most benefit and security to those they serve. Bless their families that they will be watched over and protected while they are engaged in this great work. We thank Thee, Father, for the opportunities and freedoms we enjoy while living in this, the United States of America. In the name of Jesus Christ.

AMEN.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, Carson City, March 11, 2009

To the Honorable the Assembly:

I have the honor to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day adopted Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 15.

SHERRY L. RODRIGUEZ
Assistant Secretary of the Senate

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Segerblom, Ohrenschall, Koivisto, Buckley, McClain, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Claborn, Denis, Goicoechea, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Manendo, Mastroluca, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Pierce, Settelmeyer, and Smith; Senators Horsford, Coffin, Schneider, Breeden, Hardy, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 6—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to provide for annual legislative sessions and to provide that members of the Legislature be compensated for each day of a regular legislative session.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing provisions of the Nevada Constitution provide for biennial legislative sessions of 120 days and authorize members of the Legislature to receive compensation for the first 60 days of each regular session. This resolution proposes to amend the Nevada Constitution to provide for annual legislative sessions of 120 days in each odd-numbered year and of 60 days in each even-numbered year. (Nev. Const. Art. 4, § 2) The resolution further proposes to amend the Nevada Constitution to provide compensation for Legislators for each day of service during regular sessions. (Nev. Const. Art. 4, § 33)

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 2 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. The sessions of the Legislature shall be ~~[biennial,]~~ annual, and shall commence on the 1st Monday of February , ~~[following the election of members of the Assembly,]~~ unless the Governor of the State shall, in the interim, convene the Legislature by proclamation.

2. The Legislature shall adjourn sine die each regular session held in an odd-numbered year not later than midnight Pacific standard time 120 calendar days following its commencement. Any legislative action taken after midnight Pacific standard time on the 120th calendar day is void, unless the legislative action is conducted during a special session convened by the Governor.

3. The Legislature shall adjourn sine die each regular session held in an even-numbered year not later than midnight Pacific standard time 60 calendar days following its commencement. Any legislative action taken after midnight Pacific standard time on the 60th calendar day is void, unless the legislative action is conducted during a special session convened by the Governor.

4. The Governor shall submit ***:

(a) In odd-numbered years, the proposed executive budget ; and

(b) In even-numbered years, any proposed appropriations or proposed revisions to the executive budget,

➥ to the Legislature not later than 14 calendar days before the commencement of each regular session.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 33 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. ~~[1]~~ 33. The members of the Legislature shall receive for their services, a compensation to be fixed by law and paid out of the public treasury, for not to exceed ~~[60]~~ 120 days during any regular session of the legislature conducted during an odd-numbered year, not to exceed 60 days during any regular session of the Legislature conducted during an even-numbered year, and not to exceed 20 days during any special session convened by the governor; but no increase of such compensation shall take effect during the term for which the members of either house shall have been elected Provided, that an appropriation may be made for the payment of such actual expenses as members of the Legislature may incur for postage, express charges, newspapers and stationery not exceeding the sum of Sixty dollars for any general or special session to each member; and Furthermore Provided, that the Speaker of the Assembly, and Lieutenant Governor, as President of the Senate, shall each, during the time of their actual attendance as such presiding officers receive an additional allowance of two dollars per diem.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 12 of Article 17 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 12. The first regular session of the Legislature shall commence on the second Monday of December A.D. Eighteen hundred and Sixty Four, and the second regular session of the same shall commence on the first Monday of January A.D. Eighteen hundred and Sixty Six; and the third regular session of the Legislature shall be the first of the biennial sessions, and shall commence on the first Monday of January A.D. Eighteen hundred and Sixty Seven; and the regular sessions of the Legislature shall be held thereafter ~~[biennially.]~~

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1 of Article 4 of this Constitution, but subject to the limitations of Section 6 of this Article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes and amendments to statutes and amendments to this Constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition shall be in the form required by Section 3 of this Article and shall be proposed by a number of registered voters equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in not less than 75 percent of the counties in the State, but the total number of registered voters signing the initiative petition shall be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire State at the last preceding general election.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than ~~[January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the Legislature is held.]~~ 1 year before the date on which the Legislature to which the petition will be transmitted commences its regular session. After its circulation, it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 30 days prior to any regular session of the Legislature. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall transmit such petition to the Legislature as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes. The petition shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby shall be enacted or rejected by the Legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, such statute or amendment to a statute shall become law, but shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in Section 1 of this Article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the Legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the Secretary of State shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of such statute or amendment to a statute, it shall become law and take effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the Legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If the Legislature rejects such proposed statute or amendment, the Governor may recommend to the Legislature and the Legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after such different measure has been approved by the Governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure shall be submitted by the Secretary of State to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters are both approved by a majority of the voters voting on such measures, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes shall thereupon become law. If at the session of the Legislature to which an initiative petition proposing an amendment to a statute is presented which the Legislature rejects or upon which it takes no action, the Legislature amends the statute which the petition proposes to amend in a respect which does not conflict in substance with the proposed amendment, the Secretary of State in submitting the statute to the voters for approval or disapproval of the proposed amendment shall include the amendment made by the Legislature.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the Constitution, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than September 1 of the year before the year in which the election is to be held. After its circulation it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 90 days before any regular general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire State. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the State, together with any explanatory matter which shall be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on the petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as such question was originally submitted. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, it shall, unless precluded by subsection 5 or 6, become a part of this Constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court.

5. If two or more measures which affect the same section of a statute or of the Constitution are finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment to the Constitution is finally so approved and an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified which affect the same section, by the voters at the same election:

(a) If all can be given effect without contradiction in substance, each shall be given effect.

(b) If one or more contradict in substance the other or others, the measure which received the largest favorable vote, and any other approved measure compatible with it, shall be given effect. If the one or more measures that contradict in substance the other or others receive the same number of favorable votes, none of the measures that contradict another shall be given effect.

6. If, at the same election as the first approval of a constitutional amendment pursuant to this Section, another amendment is finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified, which affects the same section of the Constitution but is compatible with the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit at the next general election the amendment given first approval as a further amendment to the section as amended by the amendment given final approval or ratified. If the amendment finally approved or ratified contradicts in substance the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall not submit the amendment given first approval to the voters again.

Assemblyman Segerblom moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

THE FORTIETH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), March 13, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:30 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblymen Hardy and Mastroluca, who were excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, President David Johnson.

Our dear, kind Heavenly Father, we pause this morning before the start of today's legislative session to remember Thee and recognize Thy hand in our lives and give thanks for the many blessings and strengths that we daily enjoy.

We thank Thee this day for this great nation, the beautiful land in which we live and for the men and women who have sacrificed so very much that we might have the peace and security that we enjoy, even the members of our armed forces, past and present. We pray for their strength and safety.

We thank Thee, Father, for the men and women of this Legislature and their families who sacrifice so very much of their time, talents, convenience, and resources in our behalf. We pray that they will be blessed with all they need, even strength, endurance, perseverance, clarity of thought, judgment, and discernment to make righteous decisions and achieve lasting benefit for the people of this great state. We pray that we, the people of this state, will recognize and appreciate the desires and efforts of legislators expend in our behalf and that we may support them and their work in bringing about a better, kinder, stronger, and safer community and state.

We pray, Father, in Thy wisdom that Thou will bless this Legislature and the people of this great state and nation with the knowledge and wisdom Thou seeth we need, that after all we can do we may learn to depend on Thee to provide that which we lack and as a result, that honor and righteousness will triumph and peace, plenty, security, and brotherly love will be our goal and result.

We love Thee, dear Father, and we offer this prayer in the name of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

THE FORTY-THIRD DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), March 16, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:46 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Alan Dorway.

Gracious God, thank You for another day to serve You and our neighbors. We pray today for all serving here in the Assembly. We seek Your presence as we deal with colleagues and staff and as we struggle to solve the complex issues of our state. Help us to always look beyond ourselves and our needs to the needs of those often overlooked or on the margins of society. Lord, we ask for You to lead us this week. In Jesus' name we pray.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Madam Speaker:

Your Committee on Judiciary, to which was referred Assembly Bill No. 250, has had the same under consideration, and begs leave to report the same back with the recommendation: Do pass.

BERNIE ANDERSON, Chairman

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

NOTICE OF EXEMPTION

March 16, 2009

The Fiscal Analysis Division, pursuant to Joint Standing Rule 14.6, has determined the exemption of: Assembly Bills Nos. 87, 170, 179, 203, 213, 214, 221, 222, 229, 235, 238, 245, 246, 254, 275, 282, 302, 303, 310, 317, 328, 331, 334, 337, 338, 342 and 345.

MARK STEVENS
Fiscal Analysis Division

March 16, 2009

The Fiscal Analysis Division, pursuant to Joint Standing Rule 14.6, has determined the exemption of: Senate Bills Nos. 44, 52, 80, 85, 143 and 150.

GARY GHIGGERI
Fiscal Analysis Division

By Assemblymen Aizley, McClain, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Buckley, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Claborn, Conklin, Dondero Loop, Goicoechea, Grady, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Mortenson, Munford, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, and Smith:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 7—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution by repealing provisions relating to lotteries.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 24 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution prohibits the State or any political subdivision thereof from conducting a lottery. The provision allows, however, charitable or nonprofit organizations to conduct certain lotteries, provided that the proceeds benefit charitable and nonprofit activities in Nevada. This resolution repeals that provision of the Nevada Constitution, thereby removing the prohibition on conducting a lottery in this State.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 24 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution is hereby repealed.

TEXT OF REPEALED SECTION

Sec: 24. Lotteries.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, no lottery may be authorized by this State, nor may lottery tickets be sold.

2. The State and the political subdivisions thereof shall not operate a lottery. The Legislature may authorize persons engaged in charitable activities or activities not for profit to operate a lottery in the form of a raffle or drawing on their own behalf. All proceeds of the lottery, less expenses directly related to the operation of the lottery, must be used only to benefit charitable or nonprofit activities in this State. A charitable or nonprofit organization shall not employ or otherwise engage any person to organize or operate its lottery for compensation. The Legislature may provide by law for the regulation of such lotteries.

Assemblyman Aizley moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

By Assemblyman McArthur:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8—Urging Congress to repeal certain provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Assemblyman McArthur moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

By Assemblyman McArthur:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 9—Requesting that the Nevada Congressional Delegation oppose legislation which disenfranchises workers by removing their right to a private ballot union election.

Assemblyman McArthur moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

By Assemblywoman Buckley:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 10—Urging Congress to enact legislation requiring the Secretary of the Interior to convey ownership of certain land to the State of Nevada for the development of projects for renewable energy.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

By Assemblywomen Koivisto, Arberry, and Munford:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 11—Urging Congress to implement the Homeowners and Bank Protection Act of 2007.

Assemblywoman Koivisto moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Cobb, Goedhart, Gustavson, Grady, McArthur and Settelmeyer:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 12—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution by adding the provisions of the Tax and Spending Control for Nevada initiative.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

This bill proposes to amend the Nevada Constitution by adding the provisions of the Tax and Spending Control for Nevada initiative (TASC). The provisions of this bill are substantially similar to versions of that initiative which were filed with the Secretary of State in conjunction with the 2006 General Election. The Legislative Counsel has not revised the language for clarity or consistency with the style and contents of the Nevada Constitution or the Nevada Revised Statutes. The initiative as submitted to the Legislative Counsel states that:

"If enacted, TASC for Nevada will add a new article to the Nevada Constitution:

Preventing state and local tax increases and new multi-year indebtedness except when referred to voters by 2/3 of the Nevada Legislature or of the local governing board, and passed by a majority of voters casting ballots at a general election (§ 2);

Limiting spending increases by the state, and by cities and counties chartered by the state, to inflation plus percentage change in population; allowing increases of these limits by the amount of voter-approved tax increases (§§ 4, 8);

If state or city revenues exceed spending limits, requiring the deposit of part of these revenues into a state Emergency Reserve Fund and Budget Stabilization ('Rainy Day') Fund, or a local Budget Reserve Fund;

Rebating any additional excess revenues to certain taxpayers;

Changing rules on the use of money in the existing state Rainy Day Fund, including requiring that 3/4 of the Legislature, rather than the Governor, declare any emergency (§§ 5, 6, 8);

Barring the state from imposing 'unfunded mandates' on cities and counties or 'shifting' costs to local governments (§ 7);

Providing for certain other important substantive changes to the Constitution (§§ 1, 9, 10);

Allowing suit for enforcement (§ 11)."

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That a new article, designated Article 10A, be added to the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

ARTICLE. 10A. TAX AND SPENDING CONTROL FOR NEVADA

Sec. 1. General.

WHEREAS, A Nevada Supreme Court decision, Guinn v. Legislature, 119 Nev. 277 (2003), held that the amendment twice passed by the voters of Nevada and incorporated in Section 18 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution requiring Legislative supermajorities for the passage of bills or resolutions increasing public taxes was a mere "procedural" requirement, to be effectively negated by a purportedly "substantive" provision of the Constitution; and

WHEREAS, The supermajority requirement was intended by the sovereign People of Nevada to be a fundamental governing principle of this State; and

WHEREAS, Limitation on the growth of Government remains the intent of the sovereign People of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, Limitation on the amounts that may be appropriated or authorized for expenditure will restrain the growth of Government; now, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE PEOPLE OF NEVADA that this new Article, entitled Tax and Spending Control for Nevada, be added to the Nevada Constitution, reading as follows:

Sec. 2. The People's Right to Vote.

1. For any fiscal year that commences on or after January 1, 2013, state and local governments, excluding government enterprises and improvement districts, must receive voter approval for any new tax or rate increase above that of the prior year, or extension of an expiring tax, or a tax policy change directly causing a tax revenue gain to any such government. Voter approval is also required for the creation of any multi-fiscal year direct or indirect debt or other financial obligation after January 1, 2013, in order for the debt service payments of such debt or obligation to be exempted from Biennial Spending under Section 3, subsection 4 of this Article. Notwithstanding, debts or obligations with adequate present cash reserves, pledged irrevocably and held for payments in all future years, refinancing government bonded debt at a lower interest rate and adding new employees to existing pension plans shall not require a public vote under this Section.

2. Any election held to seek voter approval under subsection 1, must occur at an election conducted on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November and must have been referred by at least a two-thirds affirmative vote of the members elected to each house for a state referral and two thirds of the governing board of a referring local government for a local referral. Passage of any such ballot question shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the eligible voters casting a ballot at that election.

3. Every ballot question to determine voter approval under this Section by subsection 1 shall offer voters the options of "YES" or "NO" and shall include, in addition to normal descriptive language, the following statements in bolded capital letters:

(a) For any revenue approval question proposed to increase the amount of the State Spending Limit under Section 4 of this Article, the maximum dollar amount of the proposed increase in the State Spending Limit must be predetermined legislatively and the ballot and sample ballot must state in bold type immediately below the measure's title: "A 'YES' VOTE ON THIS MEASURE WILL AUTHORIZE THE STATE TO RAISE TAXES AND EXCEED STATE CONSTITUTIONAL LIMITS ON GOVERNMENT SPENDING BY [insert proposed spending limit increase]."

(b) For any revenue approval question proposed to increase the amount of the Local Government Spending Limit under Section 8 of this Article, the maximum dollar amount of the Local Government Spending Limit under Section 8 must be predetermined and the ballot and sample ballot must state in bold type immediately below the measure's title: "A 'YES'

VOTE ON THIS MEASURE WILL AUTHORIZE [insert appropriate local government] TO RAISE TAXES AND INCREASE LOCAL GOVERNMENT SPENDING BY [insert maximum projected revenue increase].”

(c) For all multi-fiscal year debt approval questions required by this section, the maximum dollar amount of the amount borrowed and the cost of debt service must be predetermined and the ballot and sample ballot must state in bold type immediately below the measure’s title: “A ‘YES’ VOTE ON THIS MEASURE WILL AUTHORIZE [insert ‘THE STATE’ or name of the appropriate local government] TO BORROW UP TO [insert maximum dollar amount financed under the measure] AT A TOTAL REPAYMENT COST OF [insert anticipated maximum total dollar amount of completed debt service].”

Sec. 3. Definitions.

1. “Inflation” means the change expressed as a percentage in the consumer price index for the Western States, U.S. city average, all goods, all urban consumers, as calculated by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor, or its successor index, or a similar federal index more specific to Nevada, when established.

2. “Population” means the number of people residing in the state as determined by the annual estimates as calculated according to the procedures established as of fiscal year July 1, 2007, or substantially similar successor procedures, and such number shall be adjusted to match the Federal Decennial Census. If a court of competent jurisdiction in a final order shall adjudge successor procedures to not be substantially similar, “Population” shall mean the number of people residing in the state as determined by the annual Federal Census estimates.

3. “Biennial budget cycle” means the two year period of consecutive state fiscal years commencing upon the first day of July during a year in which a regular session of the legislature is held.

4. “Biennial spending” means the total amount of moneys to be spent during a biennial budget cycle, whether by appropriation, authorization or other means, except:

(a) Moneys received from the federal government, or from any person or entity in the form of a gift or grant;

(b) Appropriations funded by multi-fiscal year indebtedness, or payment and interest on multi-fiscal year indebtedness if created before January 1, 2013, or otherwise established pursuant to Section 2, subsection 1 of this Article;

(c) Appropriations funded by unemployment and disability insurance funds, permanent endowment funds, trust funds including the highway trust fund of Article 9, Section 5, and the public education trust fund of Article 11, Section 3, or pension funds;

(d) Appropriations funded from proceeds from the sale of government property to non-governmental entities at full cash value;

(e) Moneys appropriated for declared emergencies pursuant to Section 5 of this Article, moneys appropriated for refunds to taxpayers pursuant to Section 6 of this Article, and appropriations funded by the voter-approved release of a Refundable Surplus pursuant to Section 6, subsection 3 of this Article; or

(f) Moneys expended by government enterprises to provide goods or services to the public where the purchase of such good or service is discretionary.

5. “Local government spending” means the total amount of moneys appropriated by a local government to be spent during a fiscal year, except:

(a) Moneys or appropriations described in this Section by subsection 4, paragraphs (a) through (f); or

(b) Moneys appropriated for refunds or credits to taxpayers pursuant to Section 8 of this Article, and appropriations funded by the voter-approved spending of a Refundable Local Tax Surplus pursuant to Section 8, subsection 4 of this Article.

6. “State” means the state government including all branches, state offices, authorities, agencies, boards, commissions, institutions, instrumentalities and any division or unit of state government which are directly supported, in whole or in part, with tax funds.

7. “Multi-year indebtedness” means any evidence of indebtedness that is entered into or establishes a debt obligation of the State or a local government for longer than one fiscal year, and includes, but is not limited to, bonds, notes, certificates, and lease-purchase agreements.

8. "Emergency" means an extraordinary event or occurrence that could not have been reasonably foreseen or prevented and that requires immediate expenditure to preserve the health and safety of the people.

9. "Total state revenue" means all moneys received by the state from any source except any of the following:

(a) Moneys received from the federal government, or from any person or entity in the form of a gift or grant;

(b) Moneys received from multi-year indebtedness;

(c) Moneys which are income earned on moneys in permanent endowment funds or segregated trust funds under Article 9, Section 2, subsection 2 of this constitution, or moneys from sources designated for public highways trust fund pursuant to Article 9, Section 5 or the public education trust fund pursuant to Article 11, Section 3 of this constitution;

(d) Proceeds from the sale of government property to non-governmental entities at full cash value;

(e) Moneys appropriated for declared emergencies pursuant to Section 5 of this Article, moneys appropriated for refunds to taxpayers pursuant to Section 6 of this Article, and appropriations funded by the voter-approved release of a Refundable Surplus pursuant to Section 6, subsection 3 of this Article; and

(f) Moneys received by government enterprises.

10. "Local Tax Revenue" as used in Section 8 of this Article, means all moneys received by a local government excluding those categories described in this Section by subsection 9, paragraphs (a) through (f), and in Section 8, subsections 3 and 4.

11. "State Spending Limit" means the State Spending Limit specified pursuant to Section 4 of this Article.

12. "Local Government Spending Limit" means the Local Government Spending Limits specified pursuant to Section 8 of this Article.

13. "Local government population" means the number of people residing within a local jurisdiction as determined by a substantially accurate system of population measurement for local governments that is uniformly administered by the state and designated for that purpose. Should no such qualifying measurement system be established, the measure of state population pursuant to subsection 2 of this Section shall be employed to determine the Local Government Spending Limit in Section 8 of this Article.

14. "Government enterprise" is a government-owned business, government board or commission that lacks authority to tax and receives less than 10 percent of its annual revenue in the form of grants, transfers or appropriations from all Nevada state and local government entities combined.

15. "Tax policy change" means any policy change directly altering the formula, method of calculation, qualifications, exemptions, terms or scope of an assessed tax.

16. "Improvement district" pursuant to Section 2, subsection 1 of this Article does not include county commissioners sitting as the ex officio board of a General Improvement District under Chapter 318 of the Nevada Revised Statutes.

Sec. 4. State Spending Limits.

1. For any state biennial budget cycle that commences on or after January 1, 2013, increases in biennial spending shall be subject to a State Spending Limit calculated as follows: (i) the total amount of biennial spending in the preceding biennial budget cycle increased or decreased by the percentage change in the consumer price index pursuant to Section 3, subsection 1, for the two preceding calendar years ending during the preceding state biennial budget cycle, plus the percentage change in state population during the two preceding calendar years ending during the preceding state biennial budget cycle, or (ii) the State Spending Limit for the previous biennial budget cycle, whichever amount is greater.

2. Notwithstanding subsection 1 of this Section, the State Spending Limit may be adjusted to incorporate revenue changes approved by voters pursuant to Section 2 of this Article.

3. The proposed biennial budget prepared by the executive department of the state government shall not exceed the State Spending Limit.

4. For the initial state biennial budget cycle of 2013-2015, the base biennium for the calculation of the State Spending Limit under subsection 1 shall be the 2007-2009 biennium, adjusted for the average biennial change in population and inflation occurring between January 1, 2009, and January 1, 2013.

Sec. 5. Emergency Reserve Fund.

1. For any state biennial budget cycle that commences after January 1, 2013, and in which total state revenue exceeds the State Spending Limit determined pursuant to Section 4 of this Article, and before making any transfers to the Budget Stabilization Fund or any refunds or credits as required by Section 6 of this Article, the state Controller shall, prior to the end of the state biennial budget cycle, transfer total state revenue collected in excess of the State Spending Limit to the Emergency Reserve Fund, which fund is hereby created in the state treasury, to the extent necessary to ensure that the balance of the fund at the end of the biennial budget cycle is an amount equal to 3 percent of the total State Spending Limit for the ensuing state biennial budget cycle. The state shall not be required to transfer to the Fund any moneys other than revenue in excess of the total State Spending Limit. Unused revenues remaining in the Emergency Reserve Fund apply to the Fund for the ensuing biennium. The Fund shall be in addition to, and shall not be used to meet, any other reserve requirement of this Constitution or of law.

2. Moneys in the Emergency Reserve Fund may be expended only for an emergency declared by law that meets the definition within this Article. "Emergency" does not mean a revenue shortfall or budget shortfall. Appropriation from the fund may occur only upon a three-fourths approval vote of all elected members of each house of the legislature. Interest or other income earned on the Emergency Reserve Fund shall accrue to the fund. If any transfers from the Emergency Reserve Fund are determined in a legal proceeding to have been illegal, such transfers must be replaced, with interest, from total state revenue in the ensuing fiscal year and shall be included in the calculation of biennial spending under Section 3, subsection 4 of this Article.

Sec. 6. Budget Stabilization Fund.

1. For any state biennial budget cycle that commences on or after January 1, 2013, if total state revenue as defined in Section 3 of this Article exceeds the State Spending Limit for that biennial budget cycle the excess shall be reserved or refunded as follows:

(a) The Legislature shall provide by law for the creation, as a special revenue fund, of a fund to stabilize the operation of the state government and to be known as the Budget Stabilization Fund. After any amount required to be transferred to the Emergency Reserve Fund of the state pursuant to Section 5 of this Article has been transferred, an amount of any remaining excess amount of total state revenue shall be transferred in the manner prescribed by the legislature by law to the Budget Stabilization Fund.

(b) The amount transferred to the Budget Stabilization Fund in accordance with this subsection shall be equal to the lesser of: (i) an amount equal to 50 percent of any such remaining excess amount of total state revenue, or (ii) the amount necessary to ensure that the balance in the Fund at the end of the biennium is an amount equal to 5 percent of the total State Spending Limit for the ensuing biennial budget. Interest or other income earned on moneys in the Fund shall accrue to the Fund.

(c) In no case shall additional moneys be transferred into the Fund if the balance in the fund is equal to or more than 5 percent of the total State Spending Limit for the ensuing biennial budget cycle.

(d) This fund shall constitute constitutional protection for the State of Nevada's current Fund to Stabilize Operation of State Government and for its purpose, and shall receive any moneys currently therein, with the exception of funds in the disaster relief account, which shall be placed within the Emergency Reserve Fund.

2. The State Controller shall transfer money from the Budget Stabilization Fund to the general fund in the minimum amount necessary to offset a shortfall in total state revenue below the State Spending Limit. Under no other circumstances shall the State Controller transfer moneys from the Budget Stabilization Fund.

3. After transfers are made to the Emergency Reserve and Budget Stabilization funds pursuant to Section 5 or Section 6 of this Article, an excess amount of total state tax revenue for a biennial budget cycle may remain. In such an event:

(a) Should the excess tax revenue be a sum equal to or greater than 0.5 percent of the State Spending Limit, it shall be deemed "Refundable Tax Surplus." By a two-thirds vote of each chamber, the Legislature may ask voters for approval, pursuant to Section 2, subsection 2 of this Article, to spend all or part of a Refundable Tax Surplus. Absent approval of the voters to spend the Refundable Tax Surplus, half of that Surplus shall be refunded or credited to taxpayers during the next ensuing fiscal year in proportionate relief of all state motor vehicle taxes and fees paid during the previous biennium, and the remaining half of that Surplus shall be refunded or credited to taxpayers during the next ensuing fiscal year in proportionate relief of state excise taxes paid by employers upon employee wages during the previous biennium. If any portion of the Surplus remains after fully satisfying either tax rebate category, that portion shall be refunded or credited proportionately to taxpayers against taxes paid in a manner determined by majority action of the Legislature.

(b) Should the excess tax revenue be a sum less than 0.5 percent of the State Spending Limit, it shall be deemed a "Saved State Tax Surplus" and shall constitute an obligation of the state government to be repaid to state taxpayers at such time as a subsequent Refundable Tax Surplus, in combination with that Saved Tax Surplus, exceeds 0.5 percent of the State Spending Limit.

Sec. 7. Mandated and Shifted Costs.

The Nevada Legislature shall not, directly or indirectly, enact laws or authorize the adoption of regulations, requiring the counties and cities of the State to provide new services, expand existing services or conduct new or additional governmental function without appropriating or designating state funding sources to fully support said new services, expansion of existing services and new or additional governmental functions. The proportion of state revenue paid to all local units of government, taken as a group, shall not be reduced below that proportion in effect at the adoption of this Article unless the state has relieved local governments of an obligation or expense. Where state laws or regulations directly or indirectly reduce the expenses of local governments, the proportion of state revenue paid to all local units of government may be reduced by up to the amount of the reduced expenses. Where costs are transferred from one unit of government to another unit of government, either by law, court order or agreement, the limitation imposed by Sections 4 and 8 of this Article shall be adjusted and transferred accordingly so that total costs of the transferred services are not increased as a result of such transfer.

Sec. 8. Local Government Spending Limits.

1. All local government spending by cities and counties chartered by the state for three or more years shall be subject to a Local Government Spending Limit. This limit shall apply to the first fiscal year for each city and county that commences on or after January 1, 2013, and shall limit city or county fiscal-year spending to the greater of:

(a) The total amount of local government spending in the preceding fiscal year increased by a percentage amount equal to the result obtained by adding the rate of inflation for the preceding calendar year, plus the percentage change in local government population during the preceding calendar year; or

(b) The Local Government Spending Limit for the previous fiscal year.

2. Notwithstanding subsection 1, the Local Government Spending Limit may be adjusted to incorporate revenue changes approved by voters pursuant to Section 2 of this Article.

3. When local tax revenue exceeds the Local Government Spending Limit, counties and cities may retain up to half of the budget surplus in any fiscal year for a Budget Reserve Fund. The purpose of the Fund shall be limited to offsetting a shortfall of revenue below the Local Government Spending Limit or addressing declared emergencies. The Budget Reserve Fund is limited to 5 percent of the Local Government Spending Limit.

4. After transfers are made to a county or city Budget Reserve Fund pursuant to subsection 3 of this section, an excess amount of local tax revenue for a fiscal year may remain. In that event:

(a) Should the excess tax revenue be equal to or greater than 1 percent of the Local Government Spending Limit, it shall be deemed "Refundable Local Tax Surplus." By a two-thirds vote of the local governing body, the local government may ask voters for approval, pursuant to Section 2, subsection 2 of this Article, to spend all or part of a Refundable Local Tax Surplus. Absent approval of the voters to spend the Refundable Local Tax Surplus, that Surplus shall be held and credited to the next year's property tax bill for each private parcel in the jurisdiction of the local government, in proportion to each parcel's contribution to total property tax proceeds. If any portion of the Surplus remains thereafter, that portion shall be refunded or credited proportionately to taxpayers against taxes paid in a manner determined by majority action of the local government's governing board.

(b) Should the excess tax revenue be less than 1 percent of the Local Government Spending Limit, it shall be deemed a "Saved Local Tax Surplus," and shall constitute an obligation of the local government to be repaid to local government taxpayers at such time as a subsequent Refundable Local Tax Surplus, in combination with that Saved Local Tax Surplus, exceeds 1 percent of the Local Government Spending Limit.

Sec. 9. Amendment.

Any proposed amendment to this Constitution mandating specific state appropriations for projects or services, or establishing a minimum formula for state appropriations, for any purpose, that does not also establish a specific source of additional state revenue dedicated to fully funding those appropriations, must include the following voter advisory displayed in bolded capital letters above the ballot question on the ballot and the sample ballot:

Sec. 10. Implementation.

All provisions of this Article are self-executing and severable and supersede conflicting state constitutional, state statutory, charter, or other state or local provisions. The legislature may enact such legislation as may be necessary to implement and enforce the provisions of this Article and repeal or amend all laws inconsistent with the provisions of this Article to conform to the provisions of this Article. In any circumstances where two or more reasonable interpretations of a provision of this Article exist, the correct interpretation shall be that which better restrains growth in government spending. In any circumstances where another provision of this Constitution is deemed to conflict with this Article, such other provision shall be superseded by this Article. If a court of competent jurisdiction in a final order shall adjudge any expenditure category, or revenue source, exempt from this section, the process of computing the State Spending Limit shall be adjusted accordingly and remaining provisions shall be in full force and effect.

Sec. 11. Enforcement.

Any Nevada taxpayer or class of Nevada taxpayers shall have standing to commence an action to enforce this Article. A court of record shall award successful plaintiffs costs and reasonable attorney fees in the suit. Should the Court determine that the action was frivolous, the Court may award reasonable expenses to the prevailing party.

Sec. 12. Effective Date.

This Article shall become effective on January 1, 2013.

Assemblyman Cobb moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Gansert, Hardy, Stewart, Grady, and Hambrick:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 13—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to authorize the Legislature to reapportion the legislative districts when a certain percentage of the districts have experienced changes in population.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

The Nevada Constitution requires the Legislature to determine the number of Senators and Assemblymen and to apportion them among the several counties or among legislative districts every 10 years based on the data from the decennial census of the United States. (Nev. Const. Art. 4, § 5)

This bill proposes to amend the Nevada Constitution to authorize the Legislature to conduct a reapportionment of legislative districts in between the decennial censuses if the population in 15 percent of Assembly or Senate districts is greater than or less than, by more than 10 percent, the average population of the Assembly or Senate districts, respectively.

If this proposed resolution is passed by the 2009 Legislature, it must also be passed by the next Legislature and approved and ratified by the people in an election before the proposed amendment to the Nevada Constitution becomes effective.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 5 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

1. Senators and members of the Assembly shall be duly qualified electors in the respective counties and districts which they represent, and the number of Senators shall not be less than one-third nor more than one-half of that of the members of the Assembly.

2. It shall be the mandatory duty of the Legislature at its first session after the taking of the decennial census of the United States in the year 1950, and after each subsequent decennial census, to fix by law the number of Senators and Assemblymen, and apportion them among the several counties of the State, or among legislative districts which may be established by law, according to the number of inhabitants in them, respectively.

3. The Legislature may fix by law the number of Senators and Assemblymen and apportion them among the legislative districts and revise the legislative districts during a legislative session that falls during the period between decennial censuses whenever the population in:

(a) Fifteen percent or more of the assembly districts is greater or less than, by more than 10 percent, the average population of the assembly districts; or

(b) Fifteen percent or more of the senate districts is greater or less than, by more than 10 percent, the average population of the senate districts,

➥ using any measure of population that is found to be reliable by the Legislature. The Legislature may provide by law for procedures to facilitate the operation of this subsection.

Assemblywoman Gansert moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 11:31 a.m.
Mr. Speaker pro Tempore presiding.
Quorum present.

Assembly Bill No. 187.
Bill read third time.
Remarks by Assemblymen Buckley and Cobb.
Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. Two weeks ago we paid tribute to 47 Nevadans who have died since our last legislative session in either Operation Enduring Freedom or Operation Iraqi Freedom. This bill provides an opportunity to recognize the needs of those veterans who are returning from battle scarred from combat experiences. Physical wounds are sometimes easily identified, but scars are often not physical. Combat exposure damages mental, emotional, and cognitive faculties. Studies of returning vets and service members show histories of depression, Post Traumatic Stress Disorder, and traumatic brain injury. Often these diagnoses lead to a former service member becoming homeless.

The National Coalition for Homeless Veterans estimates that 4,715 of Nevada's veterans are homeless. Homeless veterans find themselves in court on nonviolent, quality of—life offenses: panhandling, loitering, and trespassing. Seventy-six percent of homeless veterans also experience alcohol, drug, and mental health problems and behaviors associated with these disorders land them in court. Research shows that integrated treatment programs through a court process are more successful than mental health substance abuse programs singly.

Assembly Bill 187 authorizes the district court to create an integrated, court-monitored treatment program for eligible veterans charged with a nonviolent crime. Veterans will have access to mental health counseling, Veterans Affairs services, substance abuse treatment, job training, family counseling, and mentoring programs. It allows the criminal judge to suspend the proceedings without entering a judgment of conviction and with the consent of an eligible veteran, place him or her on probation with terms that include successful treatment and completion of a drug treatment program. The court can then seal the record upon successful completion of the rehabilitative treatment ordered by the court. It is similar to other successful specialty courts that this Legislature has approved of over the last 10 to 15 years. Both the Second and Eighth Judicial District Courts are moving ahead to create such courts. This measure is based on a successful court operating in Buffalo, New York. By creating a court to meet the special needs of our returning veterans we will fulfill our unspoken commitment to them that their sacrifice and courage in defense of our country has not gone unnoticed or unappreciated. There have been a couple of critics of this bill who say our veterans don't deserve special treatment. I couldn't disagree more. They put their lives on the line for us and our country and come back, often to federally given care that is grossly deficient. I think this is the least we can do as a state, and I urge your support.

ASSEMBLYMAN COBB:

Thank you. There was discussion in committee about this bill and what we do for our veterans. I just want to rise in support of it. I hope everyone understands that oftentimes it is tough for those who have served our country to ask for help. It is hard to describe some of the issues that they may face when they return from a war zone. I think this would go a long way to helping those individuals, by allowing us to reach out and support those people who have served our country. Thank you.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 12:01 p.m.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Quorum present.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I am going to exercise the prerogative of the Chair to show why Danny Boy is so special to me. On this day in 1953, my cousin, who had lived with my family for about five years, joined the United States Army. He was in Korea and on this day, St. Patrick's Day, he was killed in action in Korea. It was a particularly difficult time, as a result, for my family. I am happy to report five years ago they made him a citizen of the United States. For those of you who may not realize it, immigrants to this country, by joining the military, do not immediately become a citizen even though they give their life for the country. That is the reason why immigrants are so important to us, always, but it also speaks to the heritage of the Irish in this country. I wanted to indicate why Senator Nolan always picks that particular tune. St. Patrick's Day is always so important to me, personally besides, being Irish and having the right to both smile and cry at the same time.

GUESTS EXTENDED PRIVILEGE OF ASSEMBLY FLOOR

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), March 18, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:10 a.m.
Madam Speaker presiding.
Roll called.
All present.
Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Jeff Paul.

Gracious God, we give thanks for all the blessings of this life, especially for the leadership of Kim Morgan, Bill Swackhamer, and John Marvel, inducted today into the Nevada Assembly Wall of Distinction. As these three have exemplified the spirit of wisdom, charity, and justice, imbue us with that same spirit. Take away any arrogance or hatred which infects our hearts. Break down the walls that separate us. Unite us in bonds of love and work through our struggle and confusion to accomplish Your purposes on Earth, that with steadfast purpose we may follow the example of Kim and Swack and John to faithfully promote the wellbeing of all people so that all nations and races may serve You in harmony. In Your Name we pray.

AMEN.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Buckley, Oceguera, and Gansert:

Assembly Resolution No. 5—Adding William D. Swackhamer to the Assembly Wall of Distinction.

WHEREAS, The Assembly of the Legislature of the State of Nevada has established an Assembly Wall of Distinction for those past members selected by leadership who served with great distinction and who made exemplary contributions to the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature are saddened by the loss of one of their own, former Assemblyman and Secretary of State William D. Swackhamer; and

WHEREAS, Born in Winnemucca, Nevada, and raised in Battle Mountain, Bill "Swack" Swackhamer joined the U.S. Army Corps in 1943 and fought in Italy during World War II, returning in 1946 to run his family's general store in Battle Mountain; and

WHEREAS, Swack was a shy, modest and unassuming man who enjoyed baseball and books and working in his general store in Battle Mountain; and

WHEREAS, Swack was handpicked by party officials in Lander County to run for the State Assembly and won his first term in 1946, representing the residents of Eureka, Lander and Pershing Counties as Assemblyman from 1946 to 1972, as Speaker of the Assembly for two regular sessions in 1957 and 1965 and for three special sessions in 1958, 1965 and 1966, and as Majority Floor Leader in the 1967 Regular Session and 1968 Special Session of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Swack's tenure in the Assembly included 14 regular and seven special legislative sessions, and as Assemblyman, he supported rural interests, including building hospitals, schools and other facilities in rural Nevada, securing funds for the improvement of county roads throughout the State and fighting government waste throughout his political career; and

WHEREAS, Swack made protecting the health and beauty of Lake Tahoe a focus of his career in public service, along with spearheading the effort to institute a gaming tax to create the Capital Construction Fund for Higher Education; and

WHEREAS, Former Speaker Swackhamer was appointed Nevada's Secretary of State in 1973 and won three successive elections, leaving office in 1987 after overseeing the computerization of that office's operations, a remarkable 40 years after his first election to the Assembly; and

WHEREAS, Swack had a wonderfully dry sense of humor and was known to advise other politicians who might be tempted to take themselves too seriously to first look across the aisle and remember, that person too was elected to public office; and

WHEREAS, Bill passed away while staying with his daughter Becky in Idaho on July 10, 2008, at the age of 93 and was buried alongside his beloved wife Joyce in his chosen resting place of Battle Mountain; now, therefore be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That Assemblyman and Secretary of State William D. Swackhamer, who gave 40 years of his life to steadfastly serving all Nevadans with intelligence, candor and determination, is hereby added to the Assembly Wall of Distinction.

Assemblywoman Smith moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Smith and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of Assembly Resolution 5. Thank you for giving me this opportunity to say a few words about Bill Swackhamer. He is simply one of the finest public servants this state has ever seen, who like me, I am proud to say, hailed from Battle Mountain. I was not nervous until I walked in this morning and saw so many of my best friends from childhood and adulthood here today.

I didn't have the pleasure of personally knowing Swack, but growing up in Battle Mountain with other members of his family, I can say he was legendary. I certainly feel like I knew him. One thing that everyone who did know him will tell you is that he was a very funny man. When Beverly Harrell, a local madam in Nye County, ran for the Assembly and won her primary, her potential election to this hallowed body apparently worried someone enough that they stole the ballot box from the precinct in the general election. When Miss Harrell called Swack, who was then Secretary of State, to complain, she reportedly said, "Swack, I've been screwed," to which he simply replied, "I've no doubt you have." Sadly for Ms. Harrell, the ballot box was never recovered. While he was clearly an effective, well-respected legislator and Secretary of State, Swack was also an unassuming, friendly man who avoided self-promotion and grandstanding and never thought himself better than others.

One of Swack's deputies at the Secretary of State's office recently remembered the statement that you heard in the resolution—something he told them he thought was good advice for all of us—when he said, "If you ever start taking yourself too seriously, just look at the person seated across the aisle from you and remind yourself that he was also elected by the public." Swack never bragged about being a legislator, even though his accomplishments in this building impacted the lives of virtually every Nevadan for the better. In the early years of his service when he would return home from the Legislature, not everyone knew what he did. He would go back to work in the store, and his customers would sometimes say, "Hey, Swack, where have you been? I haven't seen you for awhile." In fact his wife Joyce said that he did not even tell her that he was an Assemblyman until after they were engaged because he didn't think it was important.

Swack was a veteran of World War II, a devoted husband and father, an exemplary public servant, and a man of grace, charm, wit, and modesty. Can you imagine—he served this state for virtually all of his public life? Again, displaying his wry sense of humor, he said at his retirement lunch in 1987, "You'll never really know how wonderful life is until you run for public office and then get out of it." I am proud to follow in Swack's footsteps from Battle Mountain to the state capital. Like so many in this room, when I look up at the portrait of Abraham Lincoln—that he had installed here—I hope we are all inspired as Swack was to work hard for the people of Nevada and to try every day to do so with humor, kindness, modesty, and integrity. Swack knew a great leader when he saw one, and today in honoring William Swackhamer, I believe that we, too, are recognizing one of Nevada's great leaders. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

With the permission of the body, I want to add a few words. When we were making the decision of whom to induct into the Assembly Wall of Distinction, I interviewed a lot of people who have been participating in this democracy and who have followed the work in these halls for many, many years. I heard so much about Swack's contributions, not only here, but as Secretary of State. So many of the comments that my colleagues made were the same ones that I heard—he cared about the state intensely, yet he was so modest and yet so funny. When some of us feel like we have served a long time, we can look at his record of service, and ours pale in comparison. There are so many contributions that we owe to his incredible service, whether creating the higher education funding or the Lake Tahoe funding. We thank you for sharing him with us and with the state.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

By Assemblymen Buckley, Oceguera, and Gansert:

Assembly Resolution No. 6—Adding John W. Marvel to the Assembly Wall of Distinction.

WHEREAS, The Assembly of the Legislature of the State of Nevada has established an Assembly Wall of Distinction for those past members selected by leadership who served with great distinction and who made exemplary contributions to the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, A native of this State, John W. Marvel was born in Battle Mountain, Nevada, and graduated from the University of Nevada, Reno; and

WHEREAS, At the urging of Norman Glaser and Dean Rhoads, Mr. Marvel ran for the Nevada Assembly and was first elected in 1978, serving for 30 years, which included 15 regular sessions and 11 special sessions; and

WHEREAS, During his service in the Nevada Legislature, this dedicated public servant was recognized as a leader of utmost integrity, resulting in his party's selecting him for service as Minority Floor Leader in 1993; and

WHEREAS, Assemblyman Marvel contributed in forming policy affecting the people of the State of Nevada by steadfastly working to protect the interests of Nevada's rural counties and successfully sponsoring legislation on a wide variety of subjects, though he is proudest of his legislative efforts to reform the prison system, tax structure and water laws of this State; and

WHEREAS, As an extension of his dedication to our State, this revered Legislator represented Nevada by casting one of its five electoral college votes for the 2004 presidential election; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Marvel earned distinction during his service in the Nevada Legislature through his contributions to national and regional legislative organizations, including the American Legislative Exchange Council and the Western Legislative Conference; and

WHEREAS, This longtime rancher with deep-rooted ties to rural Nevada served as President of the Nevada Cattlemen's Association; and

WHEREAS, A recognized expert in many fields, this distinguished Nevadan served as Chairman of the Nevada Tax Commission and the Lander County Planning Commission and as a member of the Advisory Council to the National Public Land Law Review Commission; and

WHEREAS, His expertise led Assemblyman Marvel to serve as an invaluable member and leader of many legislative committees, including as Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee during the 1985 regular session and Cochairman during the 1995 regular session; and

WHEREAS, Those who have had the good fortune to work with John have exceptionally high opinions of him and fondly regard him as a thoughtful, caring, down-to-earth, responsible man with a great sense of humor, who always thinks of others' needs first; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That Assemblyman John W. Marvel, who dedicated 30 years of his life to representing the interests of all Nevadans in the State Assembly with diligence, integrity and fairness, is hereby added to the Assembly Wall of Distinction.

Assemblyman Carpenter moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Carpenter, Smith, Hambrick, Arberry, Grady, Ohrenschall, Christensen, Anderson, Leslie, Oceguera, Gansert, Stewart, and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

It is a great honor and privilege for me to honor my friend, John Marvel. John sat in this seat next to me for a number of years, and he was such a great friend. I think you are going to hear a lot of stories about what John did in the Assembly, but I would like to get back to his roots. His roots were really in the ranching business. John's grandfather, W.T. Jenkins, came here from Wales. He went into the sheep business and made a little money and then went back to Wales and married John's grandmother, Edith. W.T. passed away at an early age, and so Edith had to take over the business. Later on, John's mother Louise and his father Cap Marvel also had to run the business.

We have a story that says that the W.T. Jenkins Company had a permit to run 50,000 head of sheep on the national forest. The rumor was, though, that they had 100,000 sheep. I do not know whether that is true or not. Later on, along with his brothers Dick and Tom, they took over the family business. At that time, they only had about 35, 000 sheep but they had added about 8,000 mother cows, and in those days, they kept the steers until they were two or three years old, so in reality, they had about 15,000 cattle and they had to run two wagons. The wagons went out onto the range and they gathered the cattle up and ran the calves and all those kinds of things. John probably could tell you some stories about his days on the wagon.

John was a heck of a bronco rider. The story is that if a horse wanted to buck with John, he would just throw the reins away and let him try to buck him off. John was a real rancher. I think the way to sum this up and give other people a chance to talk is that John Marvel is a rancher's rancher and a legislator's legislator. Thank you very much, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of AR 6. I would be remiss as a Battle Mountain girl if I didn't rise in support of this resolution. Our lives have intertwined since I was a young girl. As I said, many of my best friends are sitting here today. When I arrived in the Legislature, John welcomed me as a colleague. It didn't matter that we were from different parties and didn't matter that we were from different generations. He is a consummate gentleman and teacher and mentor. I appreciate the time I have had to serve with him. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN HAMBRICK:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of AR 6. It seems that one day in the 2005 Legislative Session, Mr. Marvel was walking down the hall and had a very worried expression on his face, with his wife being ill at the time. He ran into my attaché, Sheree Rosevear. She was wearing the hat she has on today. John's face lit up. What happened after that? Sheree was so impressed with it that the attachés' Happy Hat Day Contest was begun. They want to continue the tradition this year, and they sincerely hope that John will come back and be a judge at that contest. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARBERRY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of this resolution. As you know, I am probably the oldest of the bunch here. I go way back with Mr. Marvel and came in 1985. At that time, the Republicans were controlling this house. They took me under their wing and showed me my way. I have learned a lot, and Mr. Marvel and I became friends over the years. I am proud to say that he is not only a friend, but he is like a brother to me. Not too long ago, Mr. Marvel was under the weather a little bit, and we were having a hearing here in town. Mark Stevens, from Fiscal said, "Did you know Mr. Marvel is in the hospital?" I said, "No." I immediately left the meeting and went over to see Mr. Marvel. When I got to the hospital, he was in Intensive Care. The nurse asked me, "Well, how do you know Mr. Marvel?" I said, "He is my brother." And they let me in.

Well, they had Mr. Marvel hooked up to all these gadgets and he looked like Dr. Frankenstein. He put a smile on his face and his son told me that he was glad I stopped by to see him. He hadn't had a chance to see his dad smile. That meant so much to me. Over the years, as you know, John and I sat next to each other. I would lean over to the rancher and I would ask, "Mr. Marvel, what is your opinion?" You know he has that gravelly voice and would say, "Well, you know, Moose, I think we need to go this way." I would say, "Mr. Marvel, we are going to go that way."

We served together when Speaker Dini was here, and we had a tied house. It was an honor serving with Mr. Marvel. When Speaker Dini said we would serve as co-chairs, I was honored to serve with him as a co-chair because it was a lot of fun. We still got a lot of things done. The bottom line was what we could do for education. His heart was strong for higher education and educating the kids in the State of Nevada. Mr. Marvel, I miss you, my brother. I miss you every day so take care of yourself.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I stand in support of A.R. 6. Before I started here, I happened to work for the Nevada League of Cities. I asked Mr. Dini, our Speaker Emeritus, who I should get to know in this building. He said, "Besides me, Mr. Carpenter and Mr. Marvel. We in the rurals have to stay together." Then I found out that John was a banker. My previous life was in banking also, so we hit it off. I think one of my proudest moments is today when I can say, "John, you can have your seat back—but only for today."

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of the resolution. I am a sophomore legislator, and I consider myself really lucky that I got to serve with former Assemblyman Marvel. Last session I was a freshman on the Taxation Committee. I figured I would learn pretty fast and it would be no problem at all. I just can't tell you how impressed I was with John Marvel's encyclopedic knowledge of the budget and tax policy. I was really proud one time, last session, on the Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Mining Committee when me, the city slicker, got to vote with my rural colleagues in a little block. The bill didn't pass, but I remember I got to vote with Mr. Marvel and my rural colleagues. I want to thank him for the friendship he has shown to my family. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN CHRISTENSEN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of A.R. 6. It is such an honor to be able to rise and address these comments to you, Mr. Marvel. A handful of us who are still in this body were elected in 2002. I, too, asked who I should be close to and who really knows what is going on. I don't know that I was smart enough to ask about legislation and who I should go to for that—it was more regarding how do I get around this big building. I was definitely forwarded to you. You and I became very close immediately in that session. What was amazing, looking at the quality of our former colleague, is that even when he was sick—I know he wasn't feeling well, and I'm sure many of us would echo the same comment—his first question whenever he would see me was how my kids were doing, how my wife was doing, how my family was doing, and how I was doing. Again, at a time when I knew he wasn't really feeling well, it just goes to show where his heart was and that he really cared about the people that he served with. He was always putting our needs first. It will always be an honor to be able to say I served with him, a man who has made such a great positive dent on this state.

I just really honor you for all your sacrifice and hard work, both to you and your family. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I also rise in support of the resolution. I had the opportunity to first meet John in 1987 when an organization that I belonged to and actively worked with at the time was down here, concerned about finding additional dollars for education. They asked me to go by and speak with Mr. Marvel. It was my pleasure, having gone to college with members of his family and knowing the Marvel reputation and seeing some of his family in rodeos and various places. I thought it would be a great adventure not realizing what a great person I was going to come to know and to respect and to admire for his integrity and his undying love for children and his unwavering affection for his spouse. There is not a moment in the last 10 to 15 years that he has not been concerned about her and has treated each of us as if we were part of that same family. You can look at that long row of guests in the front row and recognize he treats us all with that same level of respect. I would feel remiss if I did not rise and support such a resolution.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of this resolution as well. When I first got assigned to the Audit Subcommittee three interims ago, I thought I was being punished. I really did. I went and Mr. Marvel was serving as the vice-chair when the Democrats were in control—but he was the chair for many years before that, off and on. He quickly made it clear to me that I was not being punished and that it actually was one of the best assignments in the building. We served for a long time on that Audit Subcommittee, which is really where you find out where the bodies are buried in state government. You find out what is working well and what's working not so well, who is doing a good job or who could do a better job. One interim I was chairing, and we asked the state bureaucrats some questions—and I am a bureaucrat, so I recognize a little bull when I hear it, as one bureaucrat to another. The best bull detector on that Audit Subcommittee, though, was John Marvel. Even when he wasn't chairing, he would hear something. You know how you get lulled sometimes in those long hearings, with people going on and on and on? He would cut right to the chase, and he would mumble something into my ear, and I would perk up and think I should pay closer attention to that.

And to tell you about his dedication to that Audit Subcommittee, at our last meeting when we met right before session, our audit staff actually honored Mr. Marvel. I have never seen that done before, where the Audit staff felt so compelled, that they gave him a plaque and made a statement to honor all his years of his work on that subcommittee. I know he takes great pride in that. I learned a lot from you, Mr. Marvel. He always told me to call him John, but I could never do that. I learned a lot from you, and I sincerely appreciate what you taught me and appreciate your service to our state. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN OCEGUERA:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of A.R. 6. You know, growing up in northern Nevada, there were names that were synonymous with service: Dini, Getto, Carpenter, Jacobsen, and Dodge. Another one of those names for sure was Marvel. When someone like John Marvel would come to town, it was like President Obama coming to town. It was always neat to see.

It was an honor and privilege to be able to serve with Mr. Marvel. I sat in the front row of the Assembly for a few sessions, and I must have learned to speak "Marvel." They would always have someone sitting next to me that was a freshman, and they would say, "What did he say?" So I would translate. Over the years I think I have taught that language to a few freshmen. It was a privilege to do that as well. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, too, rise in support of A.R. 6. I have been very honored to serve with Mr. Marvel, and I appreciate all the work he has done. When I first came, I sat at the end of the row in Ways and Means. I sit in his chair now. I am on the cliff. I'm on the edge and have to stand up right. I learned so much. Mr. Marvel was always quite quiet, but every now and then he and Mr. Hettrick would start talking behind me, and I knew something important was coming up. I appreciate your work, and I also appreciate the example. You were never one to grandstand or make a lot of noise or be out front, but you always got to the point and stepped up when you needed to. I appreciate that mentoring you have provided me.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, too, am very honored to have served with John Marvel. He is always such a humble, knowledgeable, great individual. He is a Republican treasure, but more importantly, he's a Nevada treasure.

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

With the permission of the body, I, too, would like to thank John for his 30 years of service. John never was partisan. He always looked out first for the interests of the state and always looked out for the interests of the rural communities. He taught us folks from southern Nevada a thing or two about what it was really like in the rural communities. My colleague, the Majority Leader, talked about learning to speak "Marvel." I think what that really meant for me was that when John would speak in a committee—and he would be a few persons down from me on the row—it was always because someone wasn't speaking straight. He would set them right. The whole committee would notice when John would speak. That is a true sign that he had something to say. He did that time and time again. John, thank you for your dedication, your leadership, and for your service.

By Assemblymen Buckley, Oceguera, and Gansert:

Assembly Resolution No. 7—Adding Kimberly Ann Morgan to the Assembly Wall of Distinction.

WHEREAS, The Assembly of the Legislature of the State of Nevada has established an Assembly Wall of Distinction for those past members selected by leadership who served with great distinction and who made exemplary contributions to the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The Assembly wishes to add to its Wall of Distinction those past staff members who are selected by leadership to be acknowledged for their exemplary service to the Assembly; and

WHEREAS, Kimberly Ann Morgan was born in Washington, D.C., on October 1, 1956, and came to Nevada with her family in 1972; and

WHEREAS, Kim is the daughter of the esteemed Richard Linn Morgan, who dedicated many years of his professional life to improving public policy and education in Nevada through his work as a legislative advocate; and

WHEREAS, Ms. Morgan joined early in her father's steadfast commitment to public service by going to work with the Nevada State Library as a high school student in January of 1973; and

WHEREAS, Kim began her career with the Legislative Counsel Bureau as a typist in that same year and worked her way up through the organization, becoming a committee secretary in January of 1975; and

WHEREAS, Kim left Nevada in 1977 to attend the University of Oklahoma College of Law only to return to the Legislative Counsel Bureau in 1980 to take a position as Deputy Legislative Counsel; and

WHEREAS, Quickly rising to the positions of Assembly Bill Drafting Adviser and Chief Deputy Legislative Counsel, Kim tutored every new legislator in the Assembly for over 20 years in how to read the law and taught many young bill drafters how to write it; and

WHEREAS, Kim's intelligence, kindness, diligence and devotion to this institution were second to none and were in no small part responsible for many of the legislative successes celebrated in the Assembly; and

WHEREAS, Kim's concern for and generosity toward others have always extended beyond this institution to her community and church, as is evidenced by Kim's commitment to entering the priesthood through St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Carson City; and

WHEREAS, Kim's husband John Slider, her mother Barbara Morgan, her brother Randy Morgan and her late father Dick Morgan no doubt share in the Assembly's pride at being able to call Kim one of their own; and

WHEREAS, Kim's ongoing dedication to the State of Nevada, her community, her church and her family are an example to which we all can aspire; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, That in recognition of her exemplary service to the Legislature, through which she ensured the skillful, timely production of legislation and helped us all learn what craft, dedication and compassion really look like, Kimberly Ann Morgan is hereby added to the Assembly Wall of Distinction.

Assemblyman Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Anderson, Oceguera, Carpenter, Leslie, Hardy, Ohrenschall, Horne, Conklin, and Madam Speaker.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of Assembly Resolution 7. To keep myself on track so I don't ramble all over the place, I have prepared written remarks. It is a difficult topic for me when it is someone as special as Kim Morgan.

Many of our new colleagues here in the Assembly have undoubtedly noticed with awe, as all of us do, the hard work of our professional staff this last couple of weeks—in fact it is ongoing. Those of us who have been here for a while recognize that this high mark was set, to a very large extent, by the individual we honor today, Kim Morgan, who dedicated over 25 years of her life to this institution.

I met Kim as a beginning legislator, not realizing at the time that we shared a common bond. Early on, I was won over by Kim's patience in explaining the bills to me as I asked questions time and time again only to see that sparkle in her eye when she finally hit the mark and I could give it back to her. When the chair of the Judiciary Committee assigned me to explain a complex technical element of the floor amendments that appeared, that is, place text flush to the left, it was Kim who provided me with the explanation of what "flush to the left" really meant.

In those early days, indeed, Kim was a filter who helped simplify and clarify the legislative process for me, and interacting with her was, and is, one of the rarest privileges I have enjoyed as a member of this body. As our system grew more complex, so did Kim's responsibilities, and when we transitioned from the bill books to computers, Kim was critical and crucial in helping the system developer maintain the integrity of the drafting system so the process still worked.

Kim was dedicated to helping legislators craft good laws. She made it her business to ensure that we made the most of the opportunity our constituents had granted us.

Our common bond turned out to be Kim's father, Dick Morgan. He was my good friend and mentor. In my first year of teaching, he had encouraged me to become involved in the professional organization of teaching. His advocacy for education left a lasting impression on me, and it raised the quality of programs available to students and teachers alike throughout our state. Dick Morgan was an advocate for opportunity. But Kim is indeed a reflection of both her parents. Barbara Morgan, whom I met in 1991, has that patient, quiet determination so common among the "steel magnolias" from the South. Like her mother, Kim is patient and determined. She will get the job done, no matter how difficult.

Like her father, who spent most of his adult life in public policy roles, Kim believes in the process. She believes that working within the process and patiently improving it are the means by which we both take advantage of the opportunities we have been offered and help others by providing opportunities to them.

I owe a personal debt of gratitude to Kim for her assistance to me, first as a member, then as co-chair, and finally as chair of the Judiciary Committee. Kim was always available to explain, to share ideas, to point out pitfalls—and to draft, and to draft, and to redraft, and to redraft and to draft yet again bills and amendments until we got it right. Many of my legislative successes I owe in great measure to Kim Morgan, but she shares in none of my legislative missteps. I have managed to do those missteps all by myself.

Having known Kim and her parents now for over a quarter of a century, I can say that they are linked by the common qualities of patience and determination, by the belief that we all must take part in the process if we are to improve it, and by the goal of providing opportunities for us all.

With that, Madam Speaker, I would urge adoption of the resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN OCEGUERA:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I stand in support of A.R. 7. When I first came to the Legislature, I had one and a half years of law school under my belt. You know, after the first year of law school, you kind of think you are pretty smart and know what you are doing, but you really don't know anything. Ms. Morgan was gracious enough to tell me that I did not know anything, without me knowing it. That was pleasant.

I see her as one of the shining examples of a public employee. She was here at all hours of the night, like our current counsel, and whether you were here at 8 a.m. or 2 a.m., you could call her office and talk about issues. That is amazing to me—the hours, time, and dedication. The Speaker and I were standing in the office just a moment ago when Kim came in and the Speaker said, "Boy, you look wonderful." Kim said, "It is sleep." Kim, congratulations and thank you for all you have done for the State of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of A.R. 7. Kim really helped me out a lot. Sometimes I have a hard time saying what I want to really say. Kim could always straighten it out and make sure that I was saying what I really meant. Kim, thank you for all the help that you have given during the time we were such great friends. As my friend from Sparks said, your father was a great guy, and he and I really got along well. I just want to say we had great times, and you were a great mentor. Thank you for making all those stupid bills I had look okay. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN LESLIE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of this resolution. The first time I walked into Kim's office when I was a freshman, I think she called for me. I didn't know where Legal was but I found her and I walked in and immediately felt comfortable. It was the first time I had ever met anyone who had a messier desk than me. She's a piler. I am a piler, too, but she is really a piler. I was telling her today that I was always amazed at how any time I was there and I would ask her something, she would dig through her piles and she would come up with a paper. It always gave me hope that I could do that, too.

My best story is a late night I was reminded of. It was one of the special sessions, after my second session, the one on health care and medical malpractice. It was the first time I had been given a huge responsibility to be the one who decided in the middle of the night if an amendment was good enough. For you freshmen who haven't done an all-nighter yet, just wait. I was tired. It was 4 a.m. They sent me down the hall with this amendment and I was standing in that little hallway outside of Legal and some lobbyist rushed by and said, "The Majority Leader of the Senate is sending the Legislative Police after you." I was like, "What?" I was just standing there reading an amendment. Kim happened to walk by, and I'm sure she doesn't remember this, but she was so calm. "Come into my office. Come into my office. Let's sit down. Let's go through the amendment." She sat there so patiently. We went through the amendment and I could decide. The Legislative Police had no idea where I was, and I am sure she would never have given me up until I was comfortable with the amendment and could then walk down the hall and confidently say I was comfortable with the amendment and that we could end the session and go home. Thank you for that. Thank you for all the kindness you showed all of us and the patience you that you showed us when we didn't understand the first time, the tenth time, the twentieth time. We miss you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HARDY:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of A.R. 7. There is a limit to Kim Morgan's patience. I know someone who tested it. And it wasn't until this resolution that I understood what it was, something about "currently pursuing ordination as a priest." Now, I do not know what you call a woman priest in the Episcopal Church, but it is the appropriate place for this saint. I was in the 2003 Session, which some of you remember with various feelings. Kim—when I was trying to do a bill and get some amendment—emailed me something to the effect of "You are allowed three miracles. You have used two." I don't know if I ever had to use the third one, but knowing that you are entering an avocation now, may God bless you as you bless others. Thank you, Kim.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of AR 7. Kim, it is an honor to get to speak to this resolution today honoring you. I think one of the best decisions my stepfather ever made as legislative counsel was to hire a brilliant, young attorney back in 1980. I know my mother got to work with you for 12 years and what a great support you were to her and all her legislation. I am sorry I did not have the privilege to get to work with you on any bills, but I did in a way when I assisted my mother up here. We talked about fine public servants earlier, and I think Kim really is one of the finest public servants who have ever worked in this building. I am proud to speak to this resolution. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of A.R. 7. Similar to the Majority Leader, I came to this body right out of law school and was eager to get started and utilize my newfound education. Kim actually paid me a compliment on how organized my BDR request was and what I wanted to do. Eagerly I asked, "Can I get access to Westlaw or Lexus so I can further research and understand what some of this stuff is?" She politely said, "No." I later found out that those types of things you leave to the experts and you let the rest of use muddle through the way we do with your help. I really appreciate that. It is true that she was so patient, and the rest of her staff reflected that. I'll never forget that, it was so funny. At that point when you enter as freshman, you are used to everybody telling you yes, yes, absolutely, and she was no-no we're not going to go there. So thank you, congratulations, and we do miss you.

ASSEMBLYMAN CONKLIN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of Assembly Resolution 7. I probably won't get this opportunity any other time, so I am going to use it to say thank you to Miss Morgan. Her last session was my first but the Chinese have a philosophical saying, which is "Always remember the well from which you first drank." We have heard a lot of some of the legal help that Kim always gave, but some of the best advice she ever gave me was actually political, which you wouldn't expect to come from LCB. One day in Natural Resources we heard a bill, and there was a fight on the bill between the Attorney General's office and the Wildlife Division. I forget the full name because I have long since removed myself from the Natural Resources Committee. A bill changed one word from "shall" to "must" and I was a freshman and not an attorney, but I was fairly certain that "shall" meant "must." If you look it up in the dictionary, "shall," right on down the line, says "must." I listened, listened, and listened, and I got frustrated and there was a debate—it was like an hour and a half long hearing—and finally when it was all over, I was frustrated and I went down to Ms. Morgan's office and I said, "I don't get it, I didn't come up here to waste my time debating the meaning of the word 'shall' or 'must.' It means the same thing." I was probably looking for an argument. We talked through it and she said, "No, you are right." We went on for a little while and I just didn't get it. I was frustrated. I was completely exhausted and I had no resolution and I was about ready to get up and leave when she leaned over her desk and said, "You know, Mr. Conklin, sometimes we have to tell people we really mean it."

Madam Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

With permission of the body, I would like to add a couple of comments. We get spoiled here. We are used to exceptional employees, and there are some whose service ranks the highest—the most exceptional people who give their lives because they support what we do. Kim is one of those. She brought intelligence, compassion, patience of a saint is right—to my good friend the doctor. She would try to impart a lesson without making any of us feel stupid. I remember another aha moment such as the one she taught my good friend, the assistant majority leader. There was a debate between an insurance lobbyist and car lobbyist. I was working with them and it was difficult and it was contentious and they finally reached a resolution. I went to her and I said, "I'm on this subcommittee, and here is the resolution." She said, "That sounds really good, but don't forget the legislative process is not a negotiation between two parties. It is about what is right for the state. Is this right for the state?" "I think so, but maybe I'll come back tomorrow and I will think about it a little bit more." It was those pearls of wisdom that she would hand down that made Kim so remarkable. The good news is that Kim is now moving on to another chapter after giving us her entire life for so long. Your lessons are still here. What you have taught the other bill drafters, the other employees, and us we carry on toserve the state we all love. Thank you.

Resolution adopted unanimously.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DONDERO LOOP:

C is for Charlotte Hill who showed Nevada that she cares
United Way, EOB, she was literally everywhere.

H is the Help she gave to the Help Center and more
She volunteered and assisted, never finding it a chore.

A is for the Applause she received while serving on committees
From Girl Scouts to UNLV; she was certainly serving our city.
R is for Raising funds for children to go to Summer Camp.
For all of those kids, she was a certainly an amazing champ.

L is for this Lady who assisted KLVX raise money
She really has become the Channel 10 honey.

O is for the Obligation she showed her family and community
She made sure all she touched had an equal opportunity.

T is for the Time she spent as a volunteer
The Realtors even made her the Citizen of the Year.

Another T in her name stands tall for Tennis court
Can you believe that she found time to play games of this fun sport?

E is for Education where she showed compassion and goodwill
Students now learn and thrive at a school named after Charlotte Hill.

After all of that, she keeps going and never stops
Now serving on the State Board of Education, she's the cream of the crop.

Now that we know what Charlotte stands for
We present her with this Resolution,
Join with me in honoring her
For all her fine Nevada contributions.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Cobb, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Robert Jennings-Teats.

O Wisdom on High, by You the humble are guided in judgment, and light rises up in the darkness for the righteous. Grant us, in all doubts and uncertainties, the grace to ask what You would have us do, that we may be saved from all false choices, and that in Your light we may see the light, and in Your straight path may not stumble. With a love for Your people in our hearts, a firm commitment to the best interest of Nevada in our thoughts, and with mutual respect even for our adversaries in our actions, we seek Your blessing. Give us Your light and Your truth, let them guides us; in Your Holy and Precious Name.

AMEN.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with, and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Motion carried.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 16—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to revise the provisions governing a petition for a state initiative or referendum.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Pursuant to Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution, the people of the State of Nevada have reserved to themselves the power to propose statutes, amendments to statutes and amendments to the Nevada Constitution by initiative petition. If the petition meets certain criteria, it is placed on the general election ballot, where the people of the State of Nevada are then given the right to vote to enact or reject such proposals. In 2006, however, a portion of this provision of the Nevada Constitution was held unconstitutional by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. ACLU of Nev. v. Lomax, 471 F.3d 1010 (9th Cir. 2006). The Ninth Circuit Court found that the requirement that an initiative petition contain a certain number of signatures gathered from 75 percent of the counties in this State in order to qualify for the ballot, the "13 Counties Rule," violated the equal protection principle of "one man, one vote" by diluting the votes of residents of densely populated counties and was not narrowly tailored. Id. at 1013. Thus, the Ninth Circuit Court held that Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution violated the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. Id. The Court further indicated that if a certain number of voters were required from state legislative districts rather than counties, it would alleviate the equal protection concerns. This resolution proposes to amend Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution to remove the unconstitutional provisions and instead require that an initiative petition be signed by a number of the registered voters from each congressional district in this State which equals 10 percent of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in the congressional district. This resolution further provides that the number of registered voters required to file an initiative or referendum petition must be determined by the Secretary of State not later than January 1 of the year before the year in which the election will be held.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 1 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Section 1. 1. A person who intends to circulate a petition that a statute or resolution or part thereof enacted by the legislature be submitted to a vote of the people, before circulating the petition for signatures, shall file a copy thereof with the secretary of state. He shall file the copy not earlier than August 1 of the year before the year in which the election will be held.

2. Whenever a number of registered voters of this state equal to 10 percent ~~[or more]~~ of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election shall express their wish by filing with the secretary of state, not less than 120 days before the next general election, a petition in the form provided for in Section 3 of this Article that any statute or resolution or any part thereof enacted by the legislature be submitted to a vote of the people, the officers charged with the duties of announcing and proclaiming elections and of certifying nominations or questions to be voted upon shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding election at which such question may be voted upon by the registered voters of the entire State. The number of registered voters required to file the petition must be determined by the secretary of state not later than January 1 of the year before the year in which the election will be held. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the secretary of state or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest.

3. If a majority of the voters voting upon the proposal submitted at such election votes approval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof, such statute or resolution or any part thereof shall stand as the law of the state and shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside, suspended or in any way made inoperative except by the direct vote of the people. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or resolution or any part thereof, such statute or resolution or any part thereof shall be void and of no effect.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1 of Article 4 of this Constitution, but subject to the limitations of Section 6 of this Article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes and amendments to statutes and amendments to this Constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition shall be in the form required by Section 3 of this Article and shall be proposed by a number of registered voters from each congressional district in this State equal to 10 percent ~~[or more]~~ of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in ~~[not less than 75 percent of the counties in the State, but the total number of~~ ~~registered voters signing the initiative petition shall be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire State at the last preceding general election.~~] the congressional district. The number of registered voters required to file the initiative petition must be determined by the Secretary of State not later than January 1 of the year before the year in which the election will be held.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the Legislature is held. After its circulation, it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 30 days prior to any regular session of the Legislature. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall transmit such petition to the Legislature as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes. The petition shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby shall be enacted or rejected by the Legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, such statute or amendment to a statute shall become law, but shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in Section 1 of this Article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the Legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the Secretary of State shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of such statute or amendment to a statute, it shall become law and take effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the Legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If the Legislature rejects such proposed statute or amendment, the Governor may recommend to the Legislature and the Legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after such different measure has been approved by the Governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure shall be submitted by the Secretary of State to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. If the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters are both approved by a majority of the voters voting on such measures, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes shall thereupon become law. If at the session of the Legislature to which an initiative petition proposing an amendment to a statute is presented which the Legislature rejects or upon which it takes no action, the Legislature amends the statute which the petition proposes to amend in a respect which does not conflict in substance with the proposed amendment, the Secretary of State in submitting the statute to the voters for approval or disapproval of the proposed amendment shall include the amendment made by the Legislature.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the Constitution, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than September 1 of the year before the year in which the election is to be held. After its circulation it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 90 days before any regular general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire State. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the State, together with any explanatory matter which shall be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on the petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as such question was originally submitted. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, it shall, unless precluded by subsection 5 or 6, become a part of this Constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court.

5. If two or more measures which affect the same section of a statute or of the Constitution are finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment to the Constitution is finally so approved and an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified which affect the same section, by the voters at the same election:

(a) If all can be given effect without contradiction in substance, each shall be given effect.

(b) If one or more contradict in substance the other or others, the measure which received the largest favorable vote, and any other approved measure compatible with it, shall be given effect. If the one or more measures that contradict in substance the other or others receive the same number of favorable votes, none of the measures that contradict another shall be given effect.

6. If, at the same election as the first approval of a constitutional amendment pursuant to this Section, another amendment is finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified, which affects the same section of the Constitution but is compatible with the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit at the next general election the amendment given first approval as a further amendment to the section as amended by the amendment given final approval or ratified. If the amendment finally approved or ratified contradicts in substance the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall not submit the amendment given first approval to the voters again.

Assemblyman Conklin moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments.

Motion carried.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that the Assembly recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Robert Jennings-Teats.

O Creator and Mighty God, You have promised strength for the weak, rest for the laborers, light for the way, grace for the trials, help from above, unfailing sympathy, undying love. Bless these servants with a renewed energy for the work to be done, and with an inner peace to face the major challenges that still lay ahead. O Creator and Mighty God, help us to run the race and press ahead to the finish in the grace of Your promise.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Oceguera moved that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 17 be taken from the Resolution File and placed on the Resolution File for the next legislative day.
Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Buckley, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart, and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 20—Commending Justice A. William Maupin for his extraordinary service to the State of Nevada.

WHEREAS, William Maupin was born into a medical family, his father serving for 30 years in the United States Army Medical Corps and his mother being an accomplished surgical nurse, and he was set to be the fourth generation of physicians in his family; and

WHEREAS, Fortunately for the justice system in Nevada, this young man considered becoming involved with the law and, upon hearing an attorney speak during Career Day at Western High School in Las Vegas, was inspired to pursue a judicial career; and

WHEREAS, Maupin attended the University of Nevada, Reno, and the University of Arizona College of Law, and after graduating ninth in his law class, began his professional legal career as a law clerk for the Attorney General's Office in Carson City; and

WHEREAS, Subsequent to working in several Nevada law firms and in the Public Defender's Office, where he developed a reputation as an excellent trial attorney, Maupin was appointed to the Eighth Judicial District Court in 1993, was elected to the Nevada Supreme Court in 1996, became Chief Justice in 2001, was elected again in 2002 and again served as Chief Justice in 2008; and

WHEREAS, Among this judicial scholar's accomplishments are the establishment of seminars to support paraprofessionals, impetus for Nevada's Court Annexed Arbitration Program, service on the Board of Governors of the State Bar of Nevada for 4 years and chairmanship of a Supreme Court committee tasked with reviewing judicial elections; and

WHEREAS, During his two terms on the Supreme Court, Justice Maupin created a Nevada legacy as he addressed overcrowded prisons and increasing drug habits in the State, helped assure adequate legal representation for the indigent and made great strides in fostering a better, more qualified judiciary of which all Nevadans can be proud; and

WHEREAS, Justice Maupin was the recipient of the Roger D. Foley Professionalism Award in 1997, and his name appears in Who's Who in America; and

WHEREAS, In addition to his judicial career and his family activities, William Maupin has demonstrated his great humanitarianism and stamina by learning to do eye exams and devoting a week in every year since 2002 to assisting a medical team in Haiti; and

WHEREAS, After serving 37 years in Nevada's legal community, Justice Maupin retired from the bench of the Nevada Supreme Court, and his service to Nevada, its residents and society in general embodies the words of Aristotle, "With regard to excellence, it is not enough to know, but we must try to have and use it"; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Nevada Legislature commend the Honorable Justice A. William Maupin for his extraordinary service to this State; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Legislature expresses its profound respect and gratitude for his efforts to improve the judicial system in the State of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Justice A. William Maupin.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Buckley, Carpenter, and Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. It is my honor and privilege to be the sponsor of this resolution and to speak to the resolution today commending Justice Maupin for his many years of distinguished service to our Supreme Court, to our judiciary, and to our state.

The role of a Supreme Court Justice, if one throws himself into the position, is a difficult one. They have to hear complex and heated controversies, to inject scholarship, and to follow those endeavors that establish a body of law that can then guide those in our state. They have to champion reforms in making the justice system work more efficiently and work for the good of the people for whom it serves. Justice Maupin managed all of these tasks and did so with honor and distinction. Whether it was his level of scholarship in interpreting the law, whether it was his work in furthering the judiciary, expanding and truly championing the Court Annexed Arbitration Program, or championing the short trial system and alternative dispute mechanisms that would help the public, help the bar, and help resolve disputes quicker—Justice Maupin was at the forefront of all of them.

We pause to thank him for his many years of service and to thank that attorney who spoke at Career Day at Western High School so many years ago, who changed his path from the medical one to the legal one, because we are all the beneficiaries of that day and we thank that attorney and we thank Justice Maupin for all of those years of sacrifice, for all of the years when he set the example of what it is like to be a fine lawyer and a fine jurist and the best that our profession has to offer. Thank you, Justice Maupin.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARPENTER:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I stand in support of ACR 20. It seems to me that before Justice Maupin came to the Supreme Court, we were having all kind of problems. I have always looked to him for straightening things out. What I have always enjoyed about Justice Maupin is that he was always a gentleman, he always smiled, and sometimes he even came out to Elko. That was great. I congratulate you. I'm not sure what you are doing now, but I congratulate you on your service to the state and thank you very much.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I, too, wish to support the resolution. I have had the pleasure of dealing with the Judiciary for the last 18 years. During that time I have come into contact with many outstanding jurists, among them was the one who we honor today. I appreciated his sense of humor, his ability to walk with the common man, and his foresight in dealing with the difficult loads of the Supreme Court. I think that in transition, he was an important bridge between the entire court and when it went to en banc hearing. His leadership proved insurmountable in trying to get us into the twenty-first century from the nineteenth. I believe it is a very commendable record, and I have always stood in awe of his ability to deal with his tremendous responsibilities and his great sense of humor. I believe he well deserves to be so recognized.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 20 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

Chief Justice Hardesty delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-FIFTH SESSION, 2009

Thank you for the warm reception for the Judicial Branch of Nevada's government. Governor Gibbons, Lt. Governor Krolicki, Speaker Buckley, Senator Horsford, Senator Raggio, Assemblywoman Gansert, distinguished members of the Senate and the Assembly, honorable Constitutional officers and honored guests.

I have been looking forward to today with great anticipation. I would like to thank you for the opportunity to spend the next four or five hours talking about the State of the Judiciary in Nevada. I will try to keep my remarks shorter as admonished earlier by the Governor.

It is my privilege to speak on behalf of my friends and colleagues on the state Supreme Court—Associate Chief Justice Ron Parraguirre, Justice Michael Douglas, Justice Michael Cherry, Justice Nancy Saitta, Justice Mark Gibbons, and Justice Kris Pickering. I am also privileged to speak for our 72 district court judges, our 65 justices of the peace, our 21 municipal court judges, and the nearly 2,000 court staff throughout the state that serve in Nevada's judiciary. Together we work to provide fair and accessible justice, protect the rights of individuals, and preserve community welfare and safety. I am proud to serve with these dedicated public servants, and I offer my profound thanks for their service to all Nevadans and those who visit and do business in our state.

With us today are several of the state's judges including the chief judges from our two urban judicial district courts—Chief Judge Arthur Ritchie and Las Vegas Justice Court Chief Judge Ann Zimmerman. I also want to take this opportunity to recognize and thank Supreme Court Clerk Tracie Lindeman, state Court Administrator Ron Titus, the staff of the Administrative Office of the Courts and the Supreme Court's legal staff for their tireless work on behalf of the Judicial Branch of this state.

I would particularly like to thank the Legislature for your recognition today of former Justice Bill Maupin. As you noted in the proceedings this morning, he has made a lasting contribution to the rule of law and to the remarkable progress the Judiciary has experienced during his years on the bench. I spoke with Bill prior to today's ceremonies. He was so excited to receive this recognition that he offered to buy all of the legislators lunch if you would stay for my speech.

Today, I will offer a vision for the future of Nevada's Judiciary, describe a handful of the many accomplishments of Nevada's courts, and conclude by commenting on the impact that decisions made in this 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature might have on the face of justice in Nevada.

The core function of the judiciary is to resolve cases brought before the courts in a fair, impartial, and timely fashion—simple dispute resolution. But the Judiciary is now being called upon to do so much more.

A judge's duty is to do the right thing for the right reasons. That is the hallmark of justice. As Mark Twain commented in 1868, ". . . judges have the Constitution for their guidance. They have no right to any politics save the politics of rigid right and justice when they are sitting in judgment upon the great matters that come before them." Of course, a few years later Twain would say with a wry wit, "Do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest."

In today's environment, though, what is the right role for Nevada's judiciary?

Over the years, and more so in recent times, the responsibilities of the judiciary have increased in ways we would not have imagined just two decades ago. Increasingly, our citizens are turning to the courts to secure assistance in a variety of complex civil and even social problems. The population growth in Nevada certainly has added pressure to our judicial system, as it has to state and local governments. Who among us could have seen 15 years ago that the courts would be inundated with construction defect cases that can tie up judges for months at a time? Or envisioned a single medical malpractice case that can affect the lives of thousands of our citizens in Clark County? During that same period, we have witnessed family court dockets grow to nearly 50 percent of all civil filings in district court. In 65 percent of those cases, both parties are self-represented, inevitably requiring more hearings and more judicial time. Our criminal courts are seeing a growing number of defendants who are committing increasingly serious crimes. The result is that during the past 13 years, our prison population grew almost 60 percent, adding 5,000 inmates to Nevada's prisons.

To paraphrase the chief judge for the State of New York, "Whether we like it or not, the state courts are in the eye of the storm; we have become the emergency room for society's worst ailments—substance abuse, family violence, mental illness, mortgage foreclosures, and so many more." This reality has forced the courts to approach cases in entirely new ways.

For many citizens, the only contact they have with government is through the courts. They may get a traffic ticket, be asked to serve as a juror, be called as a witness, or get a divorce. The courts should always remember, though, that each case involves someone's rights, someone's children, someone's property, or in some cases, someone's freedom. In criminal cases, the Judicial Branch protects a defendant's constitutional right to a fair trial and preserves the victim's interest in the outcome of the case.

But I wish to remind everyone—our duty to hear and resolve all of these cases are not optional. The courts are required by our constitution and statutes to decide such matters, often within legally mandated deadlines—and always timely, fairly, and efficiently.

Therefore, in my view, the vision for Nevada's Judicial Branch, today, is to be proactive in the management of its cases, innovative in its approach to dispute resolution, creative in its efforts to provide access to our courts, sensitive to the needs of people who come before us, accountable for our behavior and our decisions, fiscally responsible and transparent in all that we do. If we can meet these goals, modern day courts will continue to earn the public's trust and confidence.

Despite our challenges, I would maintain that the State of the Judiciary in Nevada is sound. Let me report on some of the many accomplishments of Nevada's courts since you last convened.

Our courts continue to labor under escalating caseloads, but for the first time in some years, district court criminal case filings have declined marginally. However, we have seen an increase in civil case filings in district and justice courts. These civil filings and the criminal case filings in justice courts and most urban municipal courts continue to overwhelm the system. And at the Supreme Court, filings set new records every year. The most recent Annual Report of the Nevada Judiciary adequately summarizes these statistics. But what do these statistics mean to the lives of real people and Nevada businesses? Let me give you one example. If you have an average civil case in the district court in Clark County, you will have to wait three years and six months for your case to come to trial. Is that acceptable? The answer is a resounding "no." Nevertheless, you should know, and I am very impressed, that our district courts disposed of over 103,000 cases. The justice courts resolved 235,000 nontraffic cases. The municipal courts concluded 60,000 nontraffic misdemeanor cases, and the Supreme Court decided nearly 2,000 matters. That is a total of more than 400,000 cases resolved by Nevada's judiciary in the last fiscal year.

Throughout the state, judges are using technology and innovative case management techniques to keep our most complex cases from being lost in a sea of uncertainty and expense. At the Complex Litigation Center in the Eighth Judicial District, Judges Alan Earl, Susan Johnson, and Timothy Williams supervise 291 construction defect cases affecting thousands of Clark County residents and hundreds of construction companies and developers. The work of these judges brings order to chaos, has promoted settlements in many cases, and assured the parties that an ultimate resolution of their case will occur.

The judiciary is facing at another case management crisis in Clark County—the well publicized endoscopy litigation. Through February of this year, 446 cases involving thousands of individuals have been filed, presenting a significant challenge to the judicial system. Proactively, the judges of the Eighth Judicial District have consolidated these cases for management purposes under the able supervision of Judge Alan Earl. I feel it is important for the Legislature to understand exactly what the court is dealing with here. Millions of pages of documents are being filed with the court, hundreds of motions are being presented, and weekly tracking is necessary to keep the cases progressing. Like the construction defect cases, all of these matters involve Nevadans—their lives, their families, their businesses and their futures. We cannot afford to delay justice in these cases—or any other case.

And while we are on the subject of medical malpractice cases, you should also know that more than 400 such cases are pending today in Clark County. While the courts would like to have taken these cases to trial within the time frames established by the Supreme Court and the Legislature, that simply could not be accomplished in nearly a quarter of these cases because there are not enough judges or courtrooms to do so. One of my favorite success stories are business courts. These courts are there to expedite the resolution of legal disputes that might increase the cost of doing business in Nevada or force a business to close. In short, business courts keep companies in business and Nevadans working. Two years ago, the Supreme Court made a number of changes governing business court. Through the very capable efforts of Judges Elizabeth Gonzalez, Mark Denton, and Brent Adams, the business courts in Nevada are no longer an experiment. We can all be truly proud of their success. Clark County's Business Court docket has grown from 226 cases on June 30, 2006, to 543 cases on June 30, 2008. Recently, a Las Vegas attorney told me about a complex corporate and insurance regulatory issue she handled last year. The Nevada Insurance Commissioner ordered the parties to resolve the dispute by a date certain, and through the stewardship of Judge Gonzalez, the parties were able to settle the case well before the Commissioner's deadline. Your Legislative Commission subcommittee found that Nevada's business courts are preferable to the creation of a chancery court. The subcommittee also recommended some additional improvements in the business court. Assuming adequate resources can be provided, the Nevada Supreme Court is prepared to enact rules addressing the recommendations of your subcommittee.

Nevada's drug courts and other specialty courts continue their incredible journey, begun in 1992 when Nevada launched the nation's fifth drug court. It is a journey that saves lives and families and even the futures of unborn babies. The Legislature's continued support of these courts has enabled dedicated specialty court judges and staff to achieve successes that no one thought possible. The efforts of you in this room today have now extended the benefits of specialty courts to our rural communities.

Last fiscal year, the specialty court judges around the state served more than 2,200 participants and witnessed 1,235 graduates. Seventy-six drug free babies were born to participants—that is 76 babies who now have a chance to grow up without the limitations imposed on them prenatally by drug-addicted mothers. The success of these courts is illustrated by two stories, one out of Elko and one out of White Pine County. In Elko, Judge Andrew Puccinelli supervised a young woman I shall call Samantha. An abusive relationship followed by the death of her husband left Samantha alone with three children. She turned to drugs and lost her three children to the system. Ultimately and predictably, she ended up in the criminal justice system. After 32 months in drug court, Samantha is a changed woman—vibrant and exuberant. She is an employed, taxpaying, productive member of society and has regained her custody rights. The second story demonstrates the imagination and dedication of Judges Steve Dobrescu and Dan Papez in White Pine County. The story involves a young couple whose two children were taken away by the Division of Child and Family Services because the parents could not overcome their frequent use of marijuana and methamphetamine. The parents loved their children but repeatedly violated the case plans for reunification with their children because of their continuing drug addictions. Even though no criminal charges were pending, Judges Dobrescu and Papez ordered the parents to participate in drug court as part of the most recent case plan. Last June, the children were returned to their parents, and in December, mom and dad both graduated from drug court. Now I must emphasize that these are but two of the hundreds of similar stories made possible by the specialty courts of our state. And I must also emphasize that were it not for the drug courts, many of these success stories would otherwise be passing through that revolving door in and out of prison at a considerable cost to society.

And then there is District Judge Jackie Glass, who supervises Clark County's Mental Health Court and the relatively new Competency Court. The Competency Court manages cases pretrial of defendants who may lack competency to go to trial. The expense and delay to the system caused by such cases is enormous. The success of Judge Glass's efforts is underscored by the case of former NFL football player Cole Ford. He came to the district court after being on the streets for some time, was talking nonsense, uncooperative, and clearly mentally ill. Through the concerted efforts of Judge Glass, doctors at Lake's Crossing, and both attorneys in the criminal case, Mr. Ford regained competency and was reunited with his family as a productive member of society.

In Las Vegas Municipal Court, Judges Bert Brown and Cedric Kerns and their colleagues continue to make history. Judge Brown supervised the Court's Women in Need, or WIN, program. A 21-year-old woman I shall call Laura had a history of arrests for solicitation, two felony convictions, and a drug abuse problem. She came to Las Vegas and for two years walked the streets selling herself to pay for her drugs. She was brutally beaten and frequently fell into abusive relationships. At age 23, Laura was arrested for solicitation and placed into the WIN court program which requires that participants abstain from drugs and alcohol, get drug tested regularly, and stay out of legal trouble. Under Judge Brown's supervision, Laura graduated from the program, is employed, and attending school where she is maintaining a 4.0 GPA. Judge Kerns supervises the HOPE Court, which deals with those who—because of homelessness or for other personal problems—find themselves repeatedly in the criminal justice system. HOPE stands for Habitual Offender Prevention and Education. Bernard is a 52-year-old man with an extensive criminal history who has served three prison terms. From 1998 to 2007, he was arrested 65 times and served a total of 656 days in jail. He was doing a life sentence on the installment plan. He had no hope. When he entered the HOPE Court as a result of yet another misdemeanor arrest, he had been homeless for over ten years. Under Judge Kerns' supervision, Bernard graduated from HOPE Court on January 15, 2009. By that time, he had been clean and sober and off the streets for two-and-a-half years with no arrests.

I thought this Legislature would be particularly interested in the results of your efforts to codify the DUI Court program. This specialty court deals with serious and chronic DUI offenders who have failed to appreciate their actions after prior jail or prison terms. These are the offenders I would expect will eventually kill or injure themselves or someone else while driving drunk. The DUI Court has been remarkably successful in breaking the destructive cycle of these offenders. As you know, the Nevada Supreme Court recently upheld the constitutionality of the legislation creating these courts. We also ordered that the opportunities of DUI Courts be extended to our rural communities Because of your legislation and the judiciary's implementation of DUI Courts, we can all be proud that we are making a difference in this troubling area.

All of us recognize that crime prevention starts with our young people. I would like to highlight three efforts in this area. Judge Ken Howard operates Kids Court in the Reno Municipal Court. Every month 30 fifth graders and their parents visit his court to see how justice is done at that level. There is a mock trial in the case of "BB Wolf vs. Curly Pig." There is an "Ask the Inmate" program and a discussion on issues from drug or alcohol abuse, to peer pressure, to choices young people must make, and of course, the value of staying in school. I also want to commend Judge William Voy's efforts to create the Nevada Safe House for Sexually Exploited Children. Judge Voy sees 150 girls each year come through the juvenile detention center in Clark County who are victims of sexual exploitation. Judge Voy's vision will work to intercept these girls and restore their lives.

Over the last four years, the judiciary has improved juvenile justice court practices and services for youth while protecting public safety through the application of the Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI) funded by the Anne E. Casey Foundation. Judge William Voy in Clark County and Judge Frances Doherty in Washoe County have, along with many others, developed alternatives to the overreliance on secure detention facilities for many juvenile offenders. Instead, healthy alternatives targeting the needs of individual children and families have been created. Using these alternatives, in Clark County the average daily population of detained juveniles has decreased by 31 percent. In Washoe County, the average daily detention population has decreased by 28 percent. Judge David Gamble in Douglas County and Judge Puccinelli in Elko County, operating with limited resources, have also applied JDAI principles and practices to create detention alternatives in their jurisdictions. Together, these collective efforts have taken the pressure off the need to construct new juvenile detention centers throughout the state.

The family mediation programs in Clark and Washoe Counties have provided an alternative avenue for families to resolve their domestic disputes. These families get an opportunity to work out their own differences and take control of their own lives with the assistance of trained mediators. In the process, families can avoid the expense, delays, and animosity that often accompany prolonged litigation in family courts. Since 2003, over 21,000 cases went through Clark County's Family Mediation Center. During the same time, Washoe County's Family Mediation Program accepted over 3,400 cases. More than three-quarters of all of these mediation cases were resolved to the mutual benefit of mothers, fathers, and their children.

I am particularly proud of the Supreme Court's continuing efforts to open the doors of the justice system to the eyes and ears of all Nevadans. The Nevada Supreme Court recently enacted rules prohibiting the sealing of files in civil cases. We have made our oral arguments available to the entire state via webcasts and podcasts. We have also successfully implemented electronic filing in all criminal cases, which will allow easier access to those records. On March 1, 2009, a Supreme Court rule went into effect that I believe will have a profound impact on the ability of litigants and lawyers to access our courts. The rule, which allows parties to appear in court telephonically or via video connections, should have its most dramatic impact on the civil legal needs of litigants in our rural communities. On March 29, the Court will launch a redesigned and expanded user-friendly website offering increased information about the court, its committees and commissions, its schedule, arguments, and decisions.

One of the roles of the Supreme Court is to establish commissions to study the justice system and make recommendations about how we can do our jobs better. The work of three commissions stands out. The Indigent Defense Commission chaired by Justice Cherry has been recognized nationally for its sweeping recommendations to improve indigent defense in criminal cases in Nevada. The Article 6 Commission, cochaired by William Dressel and Paula Gentile, has made substantial recommendations to improve the judicial discipline system and the speed with which the Commission on Judicial Discipline processes complaints against judges. And finally, the Access to Justice Commission, which I cochair with Justice Douglas, has recently issued a report concluding that the serious civil legal needs of the underprivileged in Nevada are not being met. We were stunned to learn that there is only one legal aid attorney for every 5,000 eligible persons in Nevada with civil legal needs. The Access to Justice Commission is pursuing increased funding and a statewide approach to address this serious crisis. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the 15 banking institutions in this state that, in the past five months, have increased their interest rates that they pay on lawyer trust accounts which help fund legal aid services in Nevada.

And I cannot conclude a discussion of the judiciary's accomplishments without mentioning the efforts of the courts to offer some help in the state's budgetary struggles. On this subject, two areas are particularly noteworthy. The Las Vegas Township Justice Court has completed a Traffic Amnesty Program which gave individuals the opportunity to resolve their unpaid traffic citations and avoid late fees and penalties. When the program ended on February 13, 2009, nearly 10,000 individuals had paid outstanding fines, bringing in $5.4 million for Clark County and the State of Nevada. An additional 9,600 individuals established payment plans to pay $5.8 million in outstanding fees and fines. Another 10,000 individuals, apparently fearing the Justice Court was headed their way, have requested traffic court dates to deal with their outstanding tickets. The Justice Court has contracted with a collection agency and has issued arrest warrants in pursuit of millions of additional dollars that are owed. I want to congratulate and recognize Chief Judge Zimmerman, her colleagues, and Court Administrator Ed Friedland. They deserve recognition for this effort.

At the state level, the Nevada Supreme Court reverted almost $2 million to the General Fund for Fiscal Year 2008. That was 23 percent of the General Fund appropriation to the Court excluding statutorily set judicial compensation. We are projecting that we could revert another $2.2 million for Fiscal Year 2009. That would amount to 24 percent of the Court's General Fund.

The list of these accomplishments is by no means exhaustive and cannot include our many other achievements. I believe, however, that it provides a substantial illustration of the invaluable work being performed every day by judges and staff throughout Nevada.

In all of these programs, I see an important partnership among the Judicial, Legislative, and Executive Branches. The Judiciary's ability to carry these programs forward is dependent, of course, upon the resources this Legislature can provide. I would like, therefore, to discuss the impact that decisions of the 75th Legislature may have on the future of the Judicial Branch and our ability to meet the growing needs of our citizens.

As you know, the judiciary has proposed a plan to help address the crucial need for additional judicial resources in Nevada. The complexity and volume of the caseload clearly demonstrates the need for new judges in Clark and Washoe Counties. In our rural courts, the need for technology, support staff, facilities, and other judicial resources cannot be questioned. This is why we have urged you to consider increasing the fees on civil case filings in district court. Nevada has not revised many of these fees since 1993, and in these harsh economic times, this is a logical alternative. Those who use the courts should rightfully take a greater role in funding those courts. We have taken great care to calibrate the increases in the filing fees to distribute the burdens as fairly as possible. The fees, as proposed, would be comparable to or below those charged by surrounding states. This measure has received broad-based support from county officials, trial lawyers, and members of the State Bar, all of whom recognize the pressing need for increased judicial services in civil cases. The sad reality, as I noted earlier, is that the Judicial Branch cannot effectively and timely respond to the needs of citizens and businesses without the added resources our plan will provide. Neither can we adopt the legislative recommendations for rule changes to our business courts without your help. I urge your support for measures pending in the Legislature to implement this plan.

The Senior Judge Program has become essential to the delivery of judicial services in Nevada. During Fiscal Year 2008 our senior judges spent more than 12,000 hours conducting settlement conferences, running specialty courts, and handling the calendars of district judges so that trials could proceed unabated. I would like to introduce two of our Senior District Judges—Peter Breen and Archie Blake. These two judges continue to manage the drug and mental health courts in Washoe County and ride the circuit to bring the benefits of the drug courts to the rural communities in western Nevada. We could not do it without them. I would urge your continued funding of the Senior Judge Program.

I would like to thank the Legislature for its continued support of SJR 9, which hopefully will result in the creation of an intermediate appellate court to meet the growing needs of litigants in our state. The State Senate has passed SJR 9 for a second time, and I would urge the Assembly to follow suit. The Supreme Court currently is responsible for all appellate matters, and we are one of the busiest appellate courts in the country. Nevada is by far the largest of the 11 states without an intermediate appellate court. I believe it is time for this state to take this step.

We are all concerned about the financial health of our state. I would urge the Legislature to consider two proposals that could have a significant impact on our fiscal needs. First, as many of you know, I have asked United States Senators Harry Reid and John Ensign to support federal legislation that would allow Nevada to intercept federal tax refunds of people who have not paid their financial obligations ordered by the courts. The State of Oregon estimated that a federal tax intercept program in that state would generate up to $61 million. I submit that we are not far off with that number in our state. I ask you to adopt a resolution calling upon our federal delegation to support the federal tax intercept bill proposed during the 110th Congress.

Second, the Advisory Commission on the Administration of Justice has suggested that the responsibility for the collection of court-ordered fees, fines, and victim restitution be centralized under the Administrative Office of the Courts. In this plan, the courts would partner with State Controller Kim Wallin, who has increased her efforts to collect much of the debt owed to our state. These initiatives would not only pay for themselves, but provide badly needed resources to the entire state.

Ladies and gentlemen of the Legislature, I am excited about the future of the Judicial Branch in Nevada. I am proud that our courts continue to meet the challenges placed before us and are providing real solutions for today's problems. Nevada's judges and court staff are motivated, enthusiastic, innovative, and engaged in making this branch of government the best that it can be.

Our duty as judges is to deliver fair, impartial, principled, scholastic justice, and to do so with character and integrity. Our citizens should expect nothing less. But we in the judiciary can, and should, expect of ourselves much more.

Thank you.

THE FIFTY-FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Friday), March 27, 2009

Assembly called to order at 11:32 a.m.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Munford, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Dixie Jennings-Teats.

Gracious and Most Merciful One, we gather today in Your presence, trusting in Your manifold blessings. Help each one here as we struggle with difficult decisions in a difficult time. Place each one of us in the center of your compassion, to be able to respond compassionately in the decisions that are made. Place each of one of us in the center of your creativity, allowing us to see with new ideas and new approaches solutions we have not seen before. Place us in the center of Your unlimited insight, where we might understand the work each committee, each legislator does in the light of Your wholeness, learning from approaches that work from many places.

Lead us into Your new day, where we might learn to live simply, seeing blessing in each day, making the work of this body to aid those most in need. In the Name of Hope and Love in our world we pray.

AMEN.

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION

At 11:45 a.m.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore presiding.

Quorum present.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Buckley.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 17 accepts the unemployment compensation stimulus money which is available to our state under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. The federal stimulus act will bring in approximately $270 million to Nevada, through the federal government agreeing to pay for a portion of the benefits that the state would pay for, were the feds not willing to do so, as well as expanding the eligibility for those benefits.

This is a companion measure to a bill on General File with regard to specific statutory changes that are necessary in order to obtain the unemployment stimulus funds. I will go more into the details of that when that bill appears on General File. At the present time, we have one of the highest unemployment rates in the nation. The latest figures show, for example, Carson City at 11.3 percent; Washoe County at 11.2 percent; Storey County at 12.6 percent; Nye County at 12.9 percent; Lyon County at 15.6 percent; Clark County at 10.1 percent. There is no doubt that Nevadans are out of work, and they cannot find jobs. This is the least we can do to help ease their trouble at this time as well as stimulate our economy, because this money in their pockets will be spent. I urge your support.

Resolution adopted and ordered transmitted to the Senate.

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments:

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. Assembly Bill 469 enacts the statutory changes required in order for Nevada to accept the additional benefits that are available to our citizens under the federal stimulus act. The measure does two things. First, it adds an additional seven weeks—or more if the federal government decides to extend the provision—of state extended benefits for claimants who remain unemployed beyond the current 72-week eligibility. Under the provisions of the federal stimulus, 100 percent of the additional costs of the claims of these extended weeks are paid by the federal government. This provision would remain in place in our state law as long as the federal government agrees to pay 100 percent of these claims. The second provision provides for an alternative base period for purposes of qualifying for unemployment compensation. Basically, right now, in order to qualify for unemployment, you look at the five quarters that preceded the claim. Eligibility is calculated if you have enough time in the first four quarters. What this statute does is it allows you to look at the last four quarters out of the five. This provision allows additional people to qualify who wouldn't have qualified under the old test. The old test was developed because, before the advent of computerized records, you needed the 30 days to get the paper in the mail in order to calculate eligibility. Since those days are long gone and we are able to calculate eligibility quicker because of electronic recordkeeping, this alternative base period is possible, and it would qualify approximately 4,000 additional Nevadans for unemployment coverage.

The federal government will give us $77 million—money that will go into our trust fund if we do this. It is estimated that the cost of doing this—it depends on the actual numbers that are utilized—but basically it would finance this for anywhere from four to ten years. Our unemployment fund is scheduled to be $750 million in the hole by the end of this year. When that happens, the federal government, under the federal unemployment compensation scheme, allows the state to borrow funds from the federal government at a 5 percent interest rate. If we accept this $77 million, it obviously lessens the deficit and perhaps puts off for another fiscal year whether we will have to borrow money from the federal government. If our economy recovers sooner rather than later—and we know it will recover, it's just a matter of when—these additional resources may give greater solvency to our fund and put off the need of having to borrow as much, thereby ultimately saving employers costs in the long run.

This bill provides benefits to those in need. It is basically a way to inject additional dollars into the economy. The economic multiplier for every dollar of unemployment funds—it injects $2.15 into the economy. So it helps our economy, helps those who are unemployed, and allows us to return Nevada taxpayer dollars to Nevada by taking greatest advantage of the stimulus funds. I urge your support.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. Our caucus had some questions. One was about the funds. When the funds run out, our funding of these additional benefits would terminated, is that correct?

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. There are two separate provisions. First, on the extended benefit trigger, that sunsets so when the feds stop paying 100 percent, it goes away. We do not have the extended period of eligibility. With regard to the 4,000 workers who would now qualify under the alternative base period, we obviously will get anywhere from four to ten years worth of benefits out of that before it breaks even. A future Legislature could decide whether or not to then repeal that. We received a letter from the [U.S.] Department of Labor which was distributed to our Ways and Mean Committee confirming that a state could repeal the provision at any time without any federal penalty. It really depends on our future legislators whether we decide this makes sense or not. There are a number of states that have this enacted already, even before the stimulus money came out. We heard from at least two employers in the testimony that this would benefit them because many of the folks who qualify under this second provision are construction workers and minimum wage workers. They want that workforce available when their work comes back. They do not want these workers to leave, so they thought it was an additional benefit to them. Those are the two kinds of "How long do they last? When do they expire?"—two different answers for the two different sets of claimants.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN GANSERT:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. Could I ask one more question? Regarding the interest, it is my understanding of the interest—and I just want to confirm this—is that if we were to borrow from the federal government at the 5 percent rate—that's $77 million roughly, that would be about $4 million a year—that interest cannot be paid out of the Unemployment Insurance Trust; it has to be paid out of General Fund or other dollars. So this really could be potentially a General Fund-type savings in the future in that it could delay or reduce the amount we have to borrow.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Through you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore, to the Assembly Minority Leader, that is correct.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOICOECHEA:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. My concerns have been pretty much answered, but I do rise in support of the legislation. I think it does provide funding that is sorely needed at this time. They say, "Don't look a gift horse in the mouth." The teeth are a little long, but it's still a gift horse. Thank you.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. We are at the halfway mark, and I just want to take a moment and thank our staff for all that they do. The Fiscal Analysis Division—we've asked them basically to do the impossible, to begin now getting a sense of the Senate, the Assembly, our spending priorities. The documents they have prepared for our consideration are just amazing. They have worked so hard. The Governor had put forth a proposal to possibly furlough every DMV employee in the state and close office hours, which would have made the long lines of the past return again. A couple of our analysts in the past ten days were able to identify $3 million dollars in nonpersonnel savings, and because of their great work, we were able to avoid the cap issue. We have the Legal Division—my goodness, the amount of bills they produced for us, the amendments. We ask the impossible, and they say yes. The Research Division—so many individuals in this body have asked Research for talking points, for testimony, for help with constituent responses, and the answer is always yes. The Administrative Division, whether it is the Broadcast Unit that is videoconferencing meetings—"No, we need this, no this"—five hearings at the same time, trying to juggle it to serve our constituents in other parts of the state. They want to testify by remote means. General Services—we always need something else, please help, supplies, you name it. Buildings and Grounds—the number of people, the classes that come in, and the tours. You look at our grounds outside—they are the best kept in the city. We should be so proud of all of them. The Legislative Police, again, always a presence. If ever there is trouble, they are there looking out for us. So whether it is Broadcast, Buildings and Grounds, General Services, Accounting, IT, Janitorial, Police, our Las Vegas office trying to answer our constituent requests in that part of the state, you name it. Accounting, Auditing—some of the best folks in the world giving us the tools we need to ask questions to demand accountability. Our Front Desk staff, individual secretaries, committee secretaries, Sergeant at Arms, Bill Services—you walk by the bill office and they are already leaving for the day; our books are updated like magic every day. Proofreaders, document processing, and I am sure I left some out. You all have been doing such a great job for us. Please know how much all of us appreciate all of you. Thank you.

Assembly called to order at 11:06 a.m.

Madam Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Horne, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplains, Bishops Randolph Calvo and Joseph Anthony Pepe.

Almighty and Everlasting God, from the abundance of Your mercy, enrich and safeguard Your civil servants. Strengthen them by Your blessings. May they always be thankful to You and bless You with unending joy. Lord, let the effect of your blessings remain with Your faithful servants, to give them new life and strength of spirit so that the power of Your love will enable them to accomplish what is right and good.

Almighty God, You have given all people one common origin and Your will is to gather them into one family. Fill the hearts of these legislators here present with the desire to ensure justice for all the citizens of this state. By their prudent deliberations and decisions, may they secure justice, equality for every man and woman; end all division; and build a human society of peace and love. We ask this in His Name.

AMEN.

Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 21—Commending the extraordinary work of the Angel Kiss Foundation in helping families of children with cancer.

WHEREAS, The Angel Kiss Foundation was originally created in Virginia in 1990 by David and Barbara Rosin, in memory of five-year-old Jarryd, their grandson, who was diagnosed in 1987 with leukemia, and after they relocated to Reno, they saw the need for an organization to help families in Nevada, and they established the Angel Kiss Foundation in 1997; and

WHEREAS, Frequently, families with children in Northern Nevada who have cancer must travel out of state to access treatment, which often results in an additional burden on families who are already facing the challenges of maintaining a household, caring for other children, making medical decisions and paying the astronomical costs associated with cancer; and

WHEREAS, Since its inception, the Foundation has provided more than $587,000 in direct assistance to more than 205 families in northern Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The Foundation serves northern Nevada as well as parts of central Nevada and the eastern Sierras in California; and

WHEREAS, In addition to financial assistance, the Foundation provides emotional support to children and families through its Connecting Families program, available to all families affected by pediatric cancer at no charge, with the goal of providing a safe social environment where children and families bond and parents keep abreast of all available resources through sharing experiences, ideas and information; and

WHEREAS, The Kids Club, one of the two subprograms of Connecting Families, allows children affected by pediatric cancer and their siblings to participate in activities such as pizza parties, art projects, cooking nights, pool tournaments, outings and games, while providing parents with some downtime without the need to pay child care costs; and

WHEREAS, Courage Together, the other subprogram, is a collaborative effort with the Keaton Raphael Memorial Foundation and provides peer support groups for children with cancer and their families in a safe, professionally supervised environment; and

WHEREAS, In addition to the core programs, which provide financial assistance and emotional support, the Angel Kiss Foundation offers many more services to children affected by cancer and their families, including professional referral services and an on-line community forum, and also hosts social events such as holiday parties; and

WHEREAS, The Angel Kiss Foundation's commendable work generously provides invaluable financial assistance and emotional support to cancer-stricken children and their families in times of their greatest need, ensuring that children in northern Nevada have access to treatment, regardless of their families' financial situations; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature hereby express their sincere gratitude to the Angel Kiss Foundation; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Rosin Family and to Julie Tholl DeJan, Executive Director of the Angel Kiss Foundation.

Assemblywoman Smith moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Smith, Bobzien, and Gansert.

Resolution adopted and ordered transmitted to the Senate.

The President of the Senate and members of the Senate appeared before the Bar of the Assembly.

Madam Speaker invited the President of the Senate to the Speaker's rostrum.

The Chief Clerk of the Assembly called the Assembly roll.
All present except Assemblyman Horne, who was excused.

The President of the Senate appointed a Committee on Escort consisting of Senator Woodhouse and Assemblywoman Pierce to wait upon Representative Berkley and escort her to the Assembly Chamber.

The Committee on Escort in company with The Honorable Shelley Berkley, United States Representative from Nevada, appeared before the Bar of the Assembly.

The Committee on Escort escorted the Representative to the rostrum.

Madam Speaker welcomed Representative Berkley and invited her to deliver her message.

Shelley Berkley, United States Representative, delivered her message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-FIFTH SESSION, 2009

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I have to say what a pleasure it is to be here with all of you. It was awfully wonderful walking around the halls and seeing everyone and having an opportunity to talk, and to kiss, and to get reacquainted. I think it is just wonderful that today was "Matzo ball Monday" at your lunch in my honor. I appreciated that very, very much. I wanted to acknowledge and thank all of you for giving me the opportunity to speak with you. You know we have this lovely tradition, here in Nevada, where your federal officials come during your legislative session and speak with you. It was much easier when there were only three of us. Our numbers are growing, which is a good thing. I know how busy you all are, and I know how much time this takes. I will do my best not to take up too much of your time.

A special thank you goes to Speaker Buckley for opening up her House to me. I appreciate it. Of course, Majority Leader Horsford, it was lovely to see you. Senator Raggio, a pleasure always. Assembly Minority Leader Heidi Gansert, it's a pleasure to see you, as well. And, of course, Lt. Governor Krolicki, thank you for being here. Attorney General Catherine Cortez Masto, thank you again. Treasurer Kate Marshall, it is always a pleasure to see you. Controller Kim Wallin, it is lovely to see you and thank you for coming. Justices Hardesty and Cherry, thank you so much for taking time out of your busy schedules to be here.

There are a couple of other people I would love to acknowledge, if you would give me the opportunity. One is Bishop Pepe from Las Vegas. He is here and he and I have worked very, very closely together. He is accompanied by Bishop Calvo, as well. It is lovely to have spoken to them. I understand that this is Canada Day, and the Consul General from Canada is here with a delegation. It is always a pleasure to see our neighbors and good friends from the north. I thank them very much for being here, as well.

I served in this body 26 years ago. It is very easy for me to know the number of years because I had just had my son Max. Max is now 26 years old and has one more semester left at the Boyd School of Law. So I actually see a paycheck in his future, which makes me very happy. I am now serving in my sixth term as a member of the House of Representatives. Just like for you, the years go by very quickly. It means that this is the sixth time that I have had an opportunity to speak with all of you here in this body.

There is no question that these are very challenging times in our nation—difficult times for our constituents and our fellow citizens. Nevada has been particularly hard hit. We have the highest mortgage foreclosure rate in the country. One out of every 76 people have received foreclosure notices in Nevada. Over 14,000 of our fellow Nevadans have received foreclosure notices in January alone. We have one of the highest unemployment rates in the country. Officially, it is 10.1 percent, but I would argue with anyone that it is substantially higher. For the first time in decades, we are actually losing population in this state. Everything I do in Congress, every vote I cast, is cast with what's happening here at home paramount in my mind. My congressional district is one of the hardest hit in the country. It is my job to do everything I can to help create jobs, stimulate the economy, protect jobs here that people already have, and provide a safety net for those families who have lost their jobs and their homes. They have also lost hope in themselves and faith in the country. Because the mortgage foreclosure rate is so high, I have met both publicly and privately on numerous occasions with our new Housing Secretary, Secretary Donovan, to share with him what is going on in the State of Nevada. Our federal officials need to know what is happening on the ground.

Congress recently passed legislation to help homeowners stay in their homes. There were two components to the legislation that we passed. It will help a number of our fellow citizens. It will not be a panacea for everybody losing their homes. For those people that have loans that are held by Freddie Mac or Fannie Mae, if the mortgage is 105 percent of the value of the home, they are going to be able to refinance. For others that are significantly underwater, we are going to bring those mortgage payments down to 31 percent of their gross income. While we are helping, we need to make sure that people can actually afford the homes that they are living in.

The stimulus bill contained $2 billion for neighborhood stabilization programs. That allows municipalities to buy up and rehabilitate these foreclosed homes and either sell or rent them. It is very important to do this because we are losing neighborhood after neighborhood. The values of the homes which are remaining are going down, and the revenue to the municipalities is going down, as well, so I think this is a very important program. It is incomprehensible to me that lending institutions will not willingly renegotiate these loans. It seems that if you can afford to stay in your home and pay a mortgage of $1,100 a month and the mortgage is $1,400 a month that the lending institution should want to keep you in your home and renegotiate that loan. We have had a dickens of a time encouraging the lending institutions, nationally, to do just that. They keep telling us that they do not want to cram down, which means that if you are in bankruptcy, the bankruptcy attorney can lower the principal and the interest rates to keep you in your home. A little help from our lending institutions to help these people stay in their homes would make it easier for us to figure how we are going to help our fellow citizens.

Because the unemployment rate is so high, providing extended and expanded unemployment benefits was very important to me—making sure families had money coming in every month so they could put food on the table. An additional $100 a month is going to come to 195,000 of our fellow Americans, and as you well know, extended unemployment benefits are going to be given to an additional 40,000 laid off workers. Now, somebody said to me, "Congresswoman, it is only $100 a month. Is it going to make a big difference?" If you have zero, a hundred dollars a month is a big deal. If you are trying to take care of your kids, and pay your rent, and pay your electric bill, and keep a roof over your head, that extra $100 is important and is going to be a bridge that is going to help our fellow citizens that are unemployed get from here to there when there is an economic recovery in this country and in this state. And there will be.

Several weeks ago, Las Vegas became the target of every politician who had an axe to grind in Washington, D.C. The result of this barrage of anti-Las Vegas sentiment had a profoundly negative impact on the Las Vegas economy and, quite candidly, on our state's economy as well. The Las Vegas Valley lost 341 conventions and conferences since the beginning of the year. That has devastating consequences to our economy, and it means people get laid off because those hotel rooms are not full. I finally had had enough of the attacks and of the reprehensible comments about my hometown and the district that I represent that encompasses Las Vegas. I went down to the floor of the House and I answered our critics, rather sharply, again and again and again. I grabbed ahold of people in the elevator and I grabbed ahold of people in the ladies room and any place that I found somebody that had said something negative about our state or the city of Las Vegas. I grabbed ahold of them and I told them how wrong they were.

Unfortunately, they are now avoiding me like the plague, but that is okay. The miracle of miracles it that after I started fighting back, the attacks stopped. Then we took to the floor last week—Congresswoman Dina Titus and a number of other people that come from tourist-based economy districts. We went down to the floor of the House to talk about the importance of tourism on this nation's economy. Nevada is still the best bang for the buck. Business travel must come back. They are not going to do better anyplace else but in the great State of Nevada. I am going to continue to promote our state and our largest industry. Why? It creates jobs and it keeps people working. It creates jobs and keeps those people that are still working, working some more. Until we stop the hemorrhaging and visitors start coming back to Nevada and businesses return to holding their conventions and conferences here in Nevada, I will continue to speak out on behalf of the people I represent—and on behalf of the Nevada State Legislature as well. You would expect nothing less from me.

I believe our nation has a remarkable opportunity to take this challenging time in our history and use it to implement long overdue changes that will enable us to come out of this recession stronger, more unified, healthier, better positioned to expand our economy and excel in the twenty-first century.

I am going to speak of three issues because each one of these will not only have a profound effect on our nation, they will have a profound effect on the State of Nevada and the people that we represent.

The first issue is health care. The way we do health care in this country, in my opinion, is "bass ackwards." We spend a majority of our health care dollars on end-of-life care, taking care of people in the last six months of their lives. What we ought to be doing is shifting the paradigm so that we are putting our health care dollars at the beginning, frontloading the system so we can have early detection and prevention of diseases that are killing us. To me, it not only will keep people healthier and living longer, it will also save billions of taxpayer dollars if we change the way we deliver health care services to our fellow citizens.

Let me speak about an issue that has a profound impact on all of us and that is the 47 million Americans that are currently uninsured. Eighteen percent of the people we represent here in Nevada have no health insurance. If you back out our senior citizens, 33 percent of those people under the age of 65 have no health insurance in the State of Nevada. Now, we are going to provide some sort of baseline health insurance because people that do not have health insurance still get sick. They need to see a doctor. What ultimately happens is that they go to the emergency room. It takes twice as much effort and ten times as much money, and it takes a bed away from someone who truly does need the emergency room. The cost of uninsured citizens in this country is costing all of us that have health insurance billions of dollars more. We cannot continue like this. I am hoping that we will be able to provide something. I am not talking about single payer, but some sort of baseline health insurance for every American. We need to do this. We need to do this for ourselves as well as for our fellow citizens that do not have insurance.

I was so pleased that I was able to vote for the State Children's Health Insurance Program (SCHIP), which is Nevada Check Up here. We have provided enough money to insure 4 million more children in this country. We will be able, because of the SCHIP program, to enable 37,000 more Nevada children to be part of our Nevada Check Up program. Right now, the State of Nevada has 70,000 children that are currently eligible for the program. We only provide funding for 22,500, and there is a cap at 25,000. The federal government passed this law. We are going to be providing the resources. If you could look at lifting the cap, to be able to accommodate the funding for the 37,000 more children that would be covered under SCHIP, I think we are going to keep these kids a lot healthier and give their parents a little peace of mind that when their children get sick, even if they do not have health insurance, they are going to be able to see a doctor, and I cannot imagine not doing that.

Quickly, there are a couple of issues that we are grappling with in Congress. We will have a comprehensive health care bill before the August recess. We have about 90 days to craft this. The Sustainable Growth Rate, SGR, is the rate that doctors are reimbursed in providing care for Medicare patients. The SGR is not sustainable, and we have been kicking this can down the road and there is no more road. If Congress doesn't act in January, there will be a 21 percent cut in Medicare reimbursement to doctors. I believe in extending and expanding health care to our fellow Americans. We are not going to be able to do this if we do not have doctors to take care of these patients, so we are going to change the Sustainable Growth Rate. There has to be a better way of reimbursing these doctors and making sure that we can continue to provide for older Americans. Why is this important? We have the fastest growing senior population in the United States in Nevada Congressional District 1. Short of me going to medical school so that when I go home on weekends I could start examining my senior citizens, we better figure out a way of saving Medicare and providing for reimbursement to the doctors so they will continue to take care of Medicare patients—it is that important.

In primary care versus specialties, I think we can all agree that Nevada does not have enough doctors, period. Now, there is an issue in Congress that we are working on. Let me give full disclosure that my step-daughter is a primary care physician, and my husband is a kidney specialist. What Congress wants to do, and the administration proposed, is providing more reimbursement for primary care doctors to encourage doctors to go into primary care. That is a wonderful thing. I am sure that my step-daughter can use more money. Frankly, we are tired of supporting her. I am all for that. The only thing that I am concerned about is the method by which the proposal works. The proposal says that we are going to help primary care physicians by taking it away from the specialties. In a state like Nevada where we don't have enough endocrinologists, we don't have enough nephrologists, we obviously don't have enough gastro guys and enough surgeons, the idea that we are going to be taking money, robbing Peter to pay Paul, doesn't make any sense to me. These are both important—primary care and specialists. We need to adequately fund them both.

In regards to health information technology, the stimulus package contained funding to computerize health care in this country within the next five years. It is going to reduce medical errors. If you have ever seen a doctor's handwriting, this is going to be nirvana and it is going to end up savings billions of dollars. I was a great proponent of that and I'm glad that we were finally able to pass it.

Let me talk about another issue that I think is very important to our nation and certainly to Nevada and that is energy. This nation must become energy independent, and we need to do it as quickly as possible. In my mind, energy independence is not only an environmental necessity—we are choking on the fossil fuels that we are contaminating our air with—it is an economic necessity. We can create an entire green economy that would be wonderful for the State of Nevada. This is a national security imperative. The United States of America as a superpower cannot continue to rely on unstable and dangerous dictators and terrorist regimes—like the Saudis, like the Venezuelans, like the Nigerians—to satisfy our energy needs. It is foolish. We should have started doing these 20 years ago, but we didn't, and it is not too late now. That is why these energy issues and initiatives are so important to me. Harnessing sun, wind, and geothermal in northern Nevada—Nevada can be the epicenter of renewable energy and a net exploiter to the other western states. What we need to do in addition to developing these resources, these renewable resources, is create the transmission lines that will carry the energy, not only to our fellow citizens here in Nevada but throughout the western United States. In the 1950s we developed a transportation highway system. My family came to Las Vegas on Route 66, which was one of those transcontinental highways that moved people from the East Coast to the West Coast. In the 1990s, we did a communications and information technology system. All of us are wired, and online, BlackBerry'd, and blueberried. For this decade, what we need to do is develop an energy transmission system, and we can do it. American ingenuity and technology are there; we just have to have the will to do it.

In the stimulus package, we provided enough resources to double renewable energy generating capacity in three years and to be able to power 6 million American homes with renewable energy. I am not saying that this is the panacea that we are going to use to stop using all oil and fossil fuel. That foolish I'm not. Ought we not to be moving in this direction and as quickly as possible? Renewable energy initiatives are what this Congress is going to be concentrating on in the later part of this year. We will be coming up with a comprehensive piece of legislation that will move us further along. I don't know the details now, but I know it is going to be big and it is going to be for the future of this great country.

Let me mention briefly Yucca Mountain. President Obama campaigned in Nevada and elsewhere that if he was elected President, Yucca Mountain would not be the national repository for nuclear waste. He is our elected President, and he stated there will be no nuclear waste stored at Yucca Mountain, Nevada. For those that keep talking about an amazing payday from the federal government, I invite you—when you are not looking at your budget's red ink—to look at the federal government's budget red ink. There is no money. If you have to have the federal government pay you for doing something, like storing this nation's nuclear waste, then there's got to be something wrong with it or we would dying to get this stuff for nothing. I think Yucca Mountain is dead. We have a commission that is being formed that is going to come up with alternatives to Yucca Mountain. If we are going to continue to generate nuclear energy, we simply must figure out what we do with the radioactive toxic byproduct. It is not coming to Yucca Mountain, Nevada.

The last of the three issues I wanted to talk to you about is education. Like many of you, I am a product of the Nevada education system. For me, personally, it was the Clark County school system. I graduated from John C. Fremont Jr. High School and Valley High School. I am the first person in my family to go to college. I started at Nevada Southern University, which is now the University of Nevada Las Vegas. My boys both graduated from Bonanza High School. Max, as I mentioned, has one more semester left at the Boyd School of Law, and my son Sam is in the school of hotel administration. I talk to you not only as your colleague and a Congresswoman, but as a mother who has two generations invested in this state and in our school system. There are thousands of our fellow Nevadans just like my family, like my dad, who was a waiter when I was growing up. He was sending his daughters to college. It was the biggest thing in my parents' lives the day that I started at UNLV. Thousands of our fellow Nevadans depend on our system of higher education to educate them, to upgrade their own skills. Our university and community college system is the very center and core of academics in this state, our cultural activities, and athletic activities. It is the very essence of our social life. Now we've been talking about quality education and adequate funding of our education system since I was sitting where all of you are. We can't keep talking about it; we've got to do something, and we've got to do it fast.

Our nation is in serious peril of losing its competitive and qualitative edge in science and technology. We are not only competing with Georgia, Montana, and New York, we are competing with China and India. They are outpacing us in a most profoundly frightening way. Our children are falling behind academically. The dropout rate is unacceptable. We are graduating kids that are have trouble doing addition, doing math, can't make change, can't read full sentences, and don't have good comprehensive skills. We can't continue to underfund our own state's education system and pretend that an undereducated population will have no impact on our future. It does and it will. If we don't do something now, it is going to take us decades to recover from this. Congress voted to provide a hundred billion dollars in this stimulus package for education. We are providing money for Head Start, tax credits for college, money for early childhood education, school renovation, elementary and secondary school education. Nevada has to do its fair share. We need to step up and support funding for our state's education system. Our democracy is depending on a well educated electorate that makes informed decisions. This is more than just helping a kid go to school and getting a good education. It is more than the future of our state. Our very democracy depends on educating our children in the United States.

I am hesitant to say this because I know you are faced with a huge hole in our state budget. I am sensitive to it, believe me. I am grappling with the same things in Washington, D.C. I implore you to do whatever you can. I know you will. You are all in the same position I'm in. We all know how important education is. I think we have put it on the back burner for far too long and did not make the tough decisions when we had the money to do it. Let's not make that mistake again.

I acknowledge and appreciate the challenges that we have in this state and the challenges you have as elected officials. We have a lot of tough choices to make and a lot of tough decisions to make. I want you to consider me, as you always have, as a partner and as a resource to you. We are in this thing together, and we are going to need to work out of this thing together, as well. Many times our nation has faced adversity in our history. We have managed to pick ourselves up and dust ourselves off and come back stronger and better than ever. We will survive this financial crisis and be better for it. Recovery will require sacrifice on all of our parts, careful planning, enforcement of existing regulations, implementation of new regulations, the elimination of others that have been counterproductive, and a vision for the future—a vision that includes revamping our health care system, our energy system, our education system, and our transportation system. We need to prepare this nation, ourselves, and our fellow citizens to conquer and excel in a world that is far different than the one that all of us were born into. I have no doubt in my mind that we will, but I appreciate the challenges on a day-to-day basis, as you sit here, and try to figure out how you are going to manage and move this state into a brighter future and a brighter tomorrow. It is going to take us awhile. We are going to get there. I can't thank all of you enough for the extraordinary effort and the time that you spend working on behalf of our fellow citizens. It is not easy. I want to thank all of you for your kind attention. Thank you very much.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Arberry moved that Assembly Bill No. 214 be taken from the Second Reading File and rereferred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Motion carried.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 109.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Transportation:

Amendment No. 2.

AN ACT relating to motor vehicles; authorizing the Department of Motor Vehicles to issue certain special license plates for use on motorcycles; prescribing the fees for special license plates for use on vehicles other than passenger cars and light commercial vehicles; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, if the Department of Motor Vehicles issues special license plates for use on a passenger car or light commercial vehicle and if those special license plates generate financial support for a charitable organization, the Department is authorized to issue the special license plates for use on a trailer or other type of vehicle that is not a passenger car or light commercial vehicle, but is prohibited from issuing the special license plates for use on a motorcycle or heavy commercial vehicle. (NRS 482.3824) ~~[This]~~ Effective July 1, 2010, this bill removes the prohibition against the Department issuing such special license plates for use on motorcycles and provides further that the fees for special license plates issued for use on vehicles other than passenger cars or light commercial vehicles must be the same as if the special license plates were issued for use on a passenger car or light commercial vehicle.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 482.3824 is hereby amended to read as follows:

482.3824 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 482.38279, with respect to any special license plate that is issued pursuant to NRS 482.3667 to 482.3825, inclusive, and for which ~~[an additional fee is]~~ additional fees are imposed for the issuance of the special license plate to generate financial support for a charitable organization:

(a) The Director shall, at the request of the charitable organization that is benefited by the particular special license plate:

(1) Order the design and preparation of souvenir license plates, the design of which must be substantially similar to the particular special license plate; and

(2) Issue such souvenir license plates, for a fee established pursuant to NRS 482.3825, only to the charitable organization that is benefited by the particular special license plate. The charitable organization may resell such souvenir license plates at a price determined by the charitable organization.

(b) The Department may, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph and after the particular special license plate is approved for issuance, issue the special license plate for a trailer , motorcycle or other type of vehicle that is not a passenger car or light commercial vehicle, excluding ~~[motorcycles and]~~ vehicles required to be registered with the Department pursuant to NRS 706.801 to 706.861, inclusive, upon application by a person who is entitled to license plates pursuant to NRS 482.265 or 482.272 and who otherwise complies with the requirements for registration and licensing pursuant to this chapter ~~[.]~~ or chapter 486 of NRS. The Department may not issue a special license plate for such other types of vehicles if the Department determines that the design or manufacture of the plate for those other types of vehicles would not be feasible. In addition, if the Department incurs additional costs to manufacture a special license plate for such other types of vehicles, including, without limitation, costs associated with the purchase, manufacture or modification of dies or other equipment necessary to manufacture the special license plate for such other types of vehicles, those additional costs must be paid from private sources without any expense to the State of Nevada.

2. If, as authorized pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection 1, the Department issues a special license plate for a trailer, motorcycle or other type of vehicle that is not a passenger car or light commercial vehicle, the Department shall charge and collect for the issuance and renewal of such a plate the same fees that the Department would charge and collect if the other type of vehicle was a passenger car or light commercial vehicle. As used in this subsection, "fees" does not include any applicable registration or license fees or governmental services taxes.

3. As used in this section ~~[, "charitable]~~ ***:

(a) "Additional fees" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 482.38273.

(b) "Charitable organization" means a particular cause, charity or other entity that receives money from the imposition of ~~[an additional fee]~~ additional fees in connection with the issuance of a special license plate pursuant to NRS 482.3667 to 482.3825, inclusive. The term includes the successor, if any, of a charitable organization.

Sec. 2. NRS 482.38274 is hereby amended to read as follows:

482.38274 "Charitable organization" has the meaning ascribed to it in ~~[~~subsection 2 of~~]~~ NRS 482.3824.

Sec. 3. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2010.

The following amendment was proposed by Assemblywoman Pierce:

Amendment No. 31.

SUMMARY—Requires the State Forester Firewarden to submit annual reports concerning fire prevention and forest health in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin to ~~[~~the Governor, the Legislature, the Nevada Congressional Delegation and the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency.~~]~~ certain persons and entities. (BDR 47-439)

AN ACT relating to forestry; requiring the State Forester Firewarden to submit an annual report concerning fire prevention and forest health in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin to ~~[the Governor, the Legislature, the Nevada Congressional Delegation and the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency;]~~ certain persons and entities; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

This bill requires the State Forester Firewarden, who is the executive head of the Division of Forestry of the State Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, in coordination and cooperation with the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency and the fire chiefs within the Lake Tahoe Basin, to report annually to the Governor, the Legislature, the Legislative Committee for the Review and Oversight of the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency and the Marlette Lake Water System, the Nevada Congressional Delegation and the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency regarding plans and activities relating to fire prevention and forest health in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 528 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. On or before January 1 of each year, the State Forester Firewarden shall, in coordination and cooperation with the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency and the fire chiefs within the Lake Tahoe Basin, submit a report concerning fire prevention and forest health in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin to:

(a) The Legislative Committee for the Review and Oversight of the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency and Marlette Lake Water System created by NRS 218.53871 and to the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau for transmittal to the Legislature;

(b) The Governor;

(c) The Tahoe Regional Planning Agency; and

(d) Each United States Senator and Representative in Congress who is elected to represent the State of Nevada.

2. The report submitted by the State Forester Firewarden pursuant to subsection 1 must address, without limitation:

(a) The status of:

(1) The implementation of plans for the prevention of fires in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin, including, without limitation, plans relating to the reduction of fuel for fires;

(2) Efforts concerning forest restoration in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin; and

(3) Efforts concerning rehabilitation of vegetation, if any, as a result of fire in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin.

(b) Compliance with:

(1) The goals and policies for fire prevention and forest health in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin; and

(2) Any recommendations concerning fire prevention or public safety made by any fire department or fire protection district in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin.

(c) Any efforts to:

(1) Increase public awareness in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin regarding fire prevention and public safety; and

(2) Coordinate with other federal, state, local and private entities with regard to projects to reduce fire hazards in the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Claborn, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart, and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 22—Designating March 31, 2009, to honor the Kerak Shrine Temple and the Zelzah Shrine Temple.

WHEREAS, What was to become the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine for North America, an international fraternity based on fun, fellowship and the Masonic principles of brotherly love, relief and truth, was formed in New York City in 1872 and now has approximately 400,000 Shriners who are members of 191 temples throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and the Republic of Panama; and

WHEREAS, While many associate the Shriners with the guys in parades wearing wild costumes who drive funny little cars or with circuses, clowns and, their distinctive symbol, the red fez with a black tassel, they are better known as the "World's Greatest Fraternity" that is responsible for funding and operating the "World's Greatest Philanthropy," the Shriners Hospitals for Children; and

WHEREAS, While formed primarily as a social organization, the Shriners, always involved in philanthropic work, wanted to do more for humanity, leading to the opening of 22 Shriners Hospitals for Children, often called the "heart and soul of the Shrine"; and

WHEREAS, Since 1922, Shriners Hospitals have helped approximately 865,000 children, at no charge to the families, regardless of financial need, and have a three-fold mission of expert treatment, cutting-edge research and outstanding teaching programs; and

WHEREAS, More than 8,000 physicians have received training at Shriners Hospitals over the past 20 years, and since beginning a formal research program more than 40 years ago, more than $515 million has been invested in research projects; and

WHEREAS, Children with orthopedic conditions, severe burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate are eligible for medical treatment and, in addition, receive psychosocial, nutritional and recreational care; and

WHEREAS, The Shriners Hospitals are supported by a $5 annual assessment from each Shriner, contributions, bequests and various fundraisers, one of the largest of which is the annual Shrine Circus, first performed in Detroit, Michigan, in 1906; and

WHEREAS, Fundraisers for the Kerak Shrine Temple, the Northern Nevada chapter, include such annual events as the Capitol Shrine Bowl in Sacramento, California, which funds the transportation of children to out-of-state Shriners Hospitals, and the Kerak Shrine Circus, in which some of the Shriners perform as the Kerak Klowns; and

WHEREAS, Fundraisers for the Zelzah Shrine Temple, the Southern Nevada chapter, include such annual events as the Justin Timberlake Shriners Hospitals for Children Open, the "Lance Burton & Friends" benefit and the Vidalia onion sale; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That March 31, 2009, is hereby designated to honor the Kerak Shrine Temple and the Zelzah Shrine Temple for their philanthropic work and dedication to the children of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Art Cline, Potentate of the Kerak Shrine Temple, and to Thomas D. Welsh, Potentate of the Zelzah Shrine Temple.

Assemblyman Claborn moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Claborn, Mortenson, and Carpenter.

Resolution adopted and ordered transmitted to the Senate.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN CLABORN:

It would be remiss of me if I did not take this opportunity to honor a Shriner and a great mentor to so many people in this building. I am speaking of Speaker Emeritus Joe Dini. Mr. Dini, we are here today to thank you for not only taking care of our Shriner children, but to honor you for all the wonderful things that you have done for all the children in this great state, be it funding for schools, health care, or so many other worthwhile causes. You have always answered the call because you were willing to step up to the plate so many times. You have touched thousands of hearts in Nevada. Mr. Dini, you will never be forgotten. We love you. We thank you for honoring us here today with your presence. Thank you, Mr. Dini.

By the Committee on Elections, Procedures, Ethics, and Constitutional Amendments:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 23—Expressing support for the 2010 Census.

WHEREAS, The decennial Census is required by Article 1, Section 2 of the Constitution of the United States of America; and

WHEREAS, The Census presents a once-in-a-decade snapshot of the population and changing demographics of every state in the union; and

WHEREAS, The State of Nevada has a tremendous amount to gain through the Census process, given the remarkable growth this State has experienced over the last several decades; and

WHEREAS, This growth means more representation in Congress and more per capita dollars, ensuring that Nevada collects an equitable share of federal funding; and

WHEREAS, A recent analysis by the Nevada State Data Center and the Legislative Counsel Bureau indicated that every person missed by the Census reflects $917 in lost per capita federal funding per year; and

WHEREAS, Businesses, community groups and local governments throughout the State are coming together over the next 12 months to form "Complete Count Committees" and educate their fellow Nevadans on the importance of participation and the thousands of job opportunities the Census represents; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature do hereby express their support for the 2010 Census; and be it further

RESOLVED, That April 1, 2009, to April 1, 2010, be proclaimed the "Year of the Census" as a means of demonstrating support for the Census in Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Jeff Hardcastle, Nevada State Demographer.

Assemblywoman Koivisto moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Koivisto.

Resolution adopted.

By Assemblymen Denis, Kihuen, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart, and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener, and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 24—Encouraging the celebration of America's immigrant roots.

WHEREAS, Walt Whitman wrote of America, "Here is not merely a nation but a teeming nation of nations," and if we could be transported back to any street in America in the 19th century, we would be surrounded by the sounds of the many languages being spoken by the masses of people coming to this country looking for a better life; and

WHEREAS, Many immigrants came to America to escape famine, war, religious oppression and political turmoil in their native lands, as well as to seek economic opportunity and the freedoms that the world equates with our country; and

WHEREAS, In 1870, Nevada had more foreign-born residents per capita than any other state, mainly Irish, Chinese, English, Canadians, Germans and Italians, with many hoping to make their fortunes in the mining boom and return home with their riches; and

WHEREAS, Whether they were working as farmers, ranchers, cowboys, sheepherders, miners, railroad workers or any number of other jobs, the immigrants to Nevada seemed to abide by the German proverb "If I rest, I rust," setting a work ethic that prevails today; and

WHEREAS, No one embodied the successful immigrant more than Irishman John Mackay who started out as a miner and, through hard work and sound investments, became one of the world's richest and most respected men, memorialized by a statue of him as a miner holding a pick axe with his sleeves rolled up, which stands in front of the Mackay School of Mines building on the University of Nevada, Reno, campus; and

WHEREAS, While women immigrated in fewer numbers, those that braved the journey made their own contributions by bringing the arts, education, health care and religion, while others ventured into business, mining and ranching and became entrepreneurs in the land of opportunity; and

WHEREAS, Some notable immigrants are German-born Albert Einstein who won the Nobel Prize in Physics and spent his life working for peace, Spanish-born Severo Ochoa who is best known for being the first to synthesize RNA outside the cell for which he won the 1959 Nobel Prize in Medicine, Czechoslovakian-born Madeleine Albright who became the first female Secretary of State, Russian-born Irving Berlin who wrote some of America's most beloved songs, Taiwanese-born Dr. David Ho who is a leading researcher in the field of AIDS, Mexican-born Mario Molina who was the most prominent precursor to discovering the Antarctic ozone hole and a Nobel Prize winner in Chemistry for his role in clarifying the threat of chlorofluorocarbon gases to the Earth's ozone layer, and Italian-born Saint Frances X. Cabrini, the first American saint, who founded 67 schools, hospitals and orphanages, one for each year of her life, as well as world-famous athletes, artists, politicians and businessmen; and

WHEREAS, More than 65,000 immigrants, 11,000 of them women, are presently serving on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States, and historically immigrants have served in great numbers to show their dedication to and love for their adopted country; and

WHEREAS, Hispanics are now the largest minority in the United States, two-thirds of whom are immigrants or the children of immigrants, and are recognized as having a positive impact on the social, cultural and economic development of America; and

WHEREAS, Cultural diversity brings richness to our lives and is one of America's strengths, whether it is the cuisine, the colorful fashions, the arts or the many celebrations such as St. Patrick's Day, Chinese New Year, Cinco de Mayo, Octoberfest or Halloween, all of which give Nevada an international, cosmopolitan feel that celebrates the coming together of people with different languages and backgrounds; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Nevada Legislature recognize the great contributions that immigrants have made to the vitality and growth of Nevada and America; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Legislature urges the residents of Nevada to celebrate the ethnic and cultural diversity of its people and their traditions which have added to our wealth of great music, art, education, science and intellect.

Assemblyman Denis moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Denis, Spiegel, Anderson, Stewart, Kihuen, Cobb, Horne, Goedhart, Pierce, Munford, Mortenson, Ohrenschall, and Goicoechea.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DENIS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. As I was preparing for session this time, I thought many different things. One of the first thoughts that came to me was the story of a young Cuban man looking for a better life. He came to New York looking for something better, for work, and to get out of an oppressive situation where he was coming from. At the same time, a young woman, also from Cuba, was also looking for something better. She came to New England, to the New York area, to work as a nanny. She was coming from a situation where she had only finished the fourth grade and needed to work to be able to send money back for her family. Of course, I am talking about my parents who came and, ultimately, met here. They were married and returned to Cuba only to come back a few years later to make America their home. They have never returned to Cuba.

I thought about the great blessing of having that culture in our family as I was growing up, to have the language, but not only the language, the food, the dancing, and all of those things, the wonderful things that we get from immigrants. And then I remember my Nevada history teacher in high school, Mr. Walker. He talked about the immigrants that came to Nevada—whether it was for mining or for farming, for gaming—all the different things that they have contributed. I brought this resolution forward so that we might be able to think of the positive things. I know these days there is a lot of debate about immigration, and I think we need to take the opportunity to appreciate those that have come and have made Nevada and the United States what it is. I urge your support.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SPIEGEL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 24. This resolution, in supporting America's immigrant roots and Nevada's immigrant roots, is something that is important, not just for those of us who are here today but for future generations. Speaking as someone who is a second and third generation American, one of the things that has happened, in my family, at least, is that the traditions and history have not been passed down. I contacted one of my cousins last night and was talking to her about our family history, and we cannot get straight the story of where my grandfather's family came from, how they left Eastern Europe, whether they were from Romania, Moldova, or Russia—we do not know. Our history is lost. Our family, going back generations, has spoken Yiddish in the home. Yiddish is lost, other than a few words most of us know. The language is lost. It is important for our children that we celebrate our culture, our heritage, and that we pass along those traditions and those stories. We owe it to ourselves. We owe it to our kids. I strongly urge your support of this resolution. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. It is not surprising that I would rise for such an important resolution. I am mindful of my 1995 Session, when the house was evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans. The two vice chairs of Judiciary presented me with a picture of the Statue of Liberty, which now hangs in my study. They did so, I think, in part, because of the strong feelings I have about immigration and immigrants. I do not know why I become so emotional about this topic, but I do. I guess it is the pleasure of being Irish. I can cry and laugh at the same time.

Some of you may have heard me speak before of my father. I am very, very touched by my colleague from Assembly District 22 and his statement about his father coming here and meeting his mother, because my family story is much the same. While my parents both came from Ireland, they met here in the United States. I have a very, very large family on my mother's side that came here, but not a very large family that came here on my father's side. My father laid track. He was a "gandy dancer," as they are called. And at that time, immigrants were not allowed to have jobs on the railroad. They could lay track and work in track gangs but could not have positions that were higher than that.

He came here as a relatively young man because of problems in Ireland that had been going on for centuries, and rather than stay in that oppressive place, he immigrated here and took a job in Hazen. For those of you that have been to Hazen, Nevada, you know it is halfway between Fernley and Fallon. He went to work on the railroad laying track. His crew selected him to be—because he was a relatively large man at over six feet tall—to be their boxing champion. As a result, he went to Tonopah to box with the rest of the gandy dancers. He got to the semifinals and was eliminated. The head of the railroad was in Tonopah at the time and indicated to him that he should come by his office and that he might find him another job on the railroad. Thus, he became a brakeman and, ultimately, the senior brakeman on the entire Southern Pacific, between the Wharf in San Francisco and Salt Lake City. He met my mother, who came here as a governess for a doctor's family who had been touring in Europe and had stopped in Ireland. They decided she would be the appropriate governess for their children and brought her back to San Francisco. There is a large Irish population in San Francisco and they met there. As a result, they appreciated the culture of staying here in the United States rather than going back to Ireland.

Next month I will have some cousins who will be visiting me from Ireland. Again, my father finished, I think, sixth grade, and my mother, maybe, the fourth. It was very, very clear to me, from a very, very early age and to my brothers, that the most important thing was education, and that education was an opportunity to have a choice in life. They saw America as a choice that they made and the opportunity to keep open the choice. The Statue of Liberty is about choice and keeping open opportunities. I think we see that in education—that promise of tomorrow—all the time. They valued it. I value it. I think the resolution speaks to that basic value. If you listen to the immigrants today, they tell their children to get an education because it opens choices for them. That is what has made this country, I believe, what it is—that strong opportunity of choices, the right choices. Immigrants have made those right choices for hundreds and hundreds of years. That is what brought us democracy in the first place. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 24. I come from an immigrant family. My great grandfather William Stewart came from Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1855. He came across the Atlantic, up the Mississippi, to St. Louis with his family and two children. One of their sons died and another one was born. They were Mormon pioneers and they were about to embark on a journey across the Great Plains with Brigham Young. The little boy that died—they did not want to leave him behind so they put him in a tin box and put him on the back of their covered wagon. They joined a handcart company in 1857, and my great, great grandmother Elizabeth Stewart was pregnant on the journey. In a snowstorm, she gave birth to her namesake, Elizabeth. The child lived just a few days and died, and then my great, great grandmother died just a short time later. Both of them were buried on the Plains.

Unlike my colleague from District 21, my great, great grandfather kept quite a detailed journal of what transpired and the difficulties they went through like snowstorms and climbing the Rocky Ridge and so forth. Finally, they arrived in Salt Lake City about a month behind schedule. He came with his two remaining children, one of them being my great grandfather, James Murdock Stewart. They came for religious freedom, for their beliefs, and economic prosperity. When I have a bad day and start whining about my plight or long, difficult times, I think back to them and the great sacrifices they made. I am so grateful for William and Elizabeth Stewart for the sacrifices that they made for me. I am very pleased to speak to this resolution.

Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN KIHUEN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 24. I find it fitting, as the only immigrant serving here in this body currently, to say a few words. I would like to thank my colleague from District 28 for bringing this resolution forth. I think the resolution did an excellent job in illustrating the important role that immigrants have played in our country and the development of our country.

My family, like millions of families, came here 20 years ago. We came here from Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico, with only a couple of bucks in our pocket and a lot of hopes and a lot of dreams. But what is important for all of us to understand, I think, is that most of us are descendants of immigrants, unless some of us here are 100 percent Native Americans. I think my background is a perfect example. I have a Lebanese great grandfather, a British great grandmother, and Spanish great grandparents. I'm Mexican born and American raised.

I think, like me, most of us here have very diverse backgrounds. Many of those who came to America generations ago, regardless of their country of origin, were running from poverty, from political, religious, and social oppression, or from lack of opportunities in their homeland. They, one way or another, were discriminated against and struggled to make ends meet. They felt lonely and desperate. They overcame all of these things and worked their way up, achieving success, independently of how it was measured. Most of you are living proof that all their efforts were not in vain. Germans, British, French, Irish, Scottish, Italians, Swedes, Hebrews, Australians, Norwegians, Spaniards, Dutch, Mexicans, Portuguese, Africans—all shaped America into what it is today. They all came with a dream, with a hunger for freedom, craving for a shot at the opportunities that only this great country has to offer. As my colleague from Armargosa Valley once told me not too long ago, "I believe that the diversity of our population contributes to our strength as Americans." I could not have said it better than him.

All of our immigrant roots have contributed to the diverse country we live in today. Only in this country, Madam Speaker, can an African American man, son of an immigrant father, be the leader of the Free World. And only in this country can a poor, skinny Mexican immigrant become a member of such an important body as the State Assembly. And for this, Madam Speaker, I urge your support.

ASSEMBLYMAN COBB:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 24. As the grandson of an immigrant and the great-great-great, grandson several times removed of an immigrant from Ireland named Mary O'Mahoney—which, of course, became Mahoney when she landed on our shores on the Pacific side of our country—I understand the value of our immigration system in America and how it has affected Nevada. I have with me today Paul Jackson, who many of you may have met. Paul is an immigrant from England. Besides the difficulty of having to learn American, which he has not mastered yet—but because of mistakes with the INS, it took him, instead of the normal 6 to 7 years to become a U.S. citizen, almost 20 years. This included a process of standing in line for one to three days at the INS offices in dealing with a lot of mistakes under the federal system. He said it was worthwhile. It was very important to him that he not only be a legal resident but a legal citizen of the United States. I am glad he eventually did, and I'm glad to call him my friend and glad that he's a fellow United States citizen. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 24. Just briefly, my two youngest children, Henry and Chloe, their mother and her family emigrated here from Argentina. What a very rich and large Argentinean community we have down in Clark County, to my surprise. It is so enjoyable watching the two of them grow up in both cultures—mine and their mother's. In particular, they grow up bilingual. We are really forcing that upon them. If only you could be a fly on the wall when Chloe or Henry bring me a school book to read to them in Spanish. If anyone is familiar with the Argentines, they believe that they speak Spanish and everyone else speaks something else. They just giggle, giggle, and giggle, with me butchering it to death, as I read their books to them. When I watch them interact between the families, I just think it is good.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOEDHART:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support to ACR 24 as well. Most of you, some of you may not know, but I am a first generation American. My father was born and raised in Indonesia and spent four years in a concentration camp before emigrating to Holland. He missed high school. In four years he got a master's degree in economics from the University of Amsterdam. He met my mom there and they decided to leave. My mother really had an affection for America. She considered America as her liberators in Holland. They had been overtaken by the Nazis. She always had eternal gratefulness for the wonderful, heroic efforts that we had done as America to free them. So they emigrated in 1958 with a one-way plane ticket from the country of Holland. The deal was that the government paid the plane ticket but if they came back within two years, they had to pay the government back the cost of the plane ticket. He started a job milking cows and got a job as a bank teller. They said that degree does not mean too much in America, but you have to have another job because we know you cannot support yourself on that one income. So my mother washed clothes, she did people's laundry, she cleaned houses. Lo and behold, after about 35 years, my dad was on the top of the Atlantic Richfield tower for Bank of America and he was still bringing that same brown paper bag to lunch every day.

They have always told me every day growing up that they sacrificed a lot to bring me to the greatest country on the planet. They imbued in me a sense of public service and giving back to the community that I very much appreciate. Only in this country can you have these stories we have here in this chamber, of first and second generation Americans that have been allowed to contribute to the degree we have been able to. This is a very personal resolution to me, and I applaud my colleague from Assembly District 28 for bringing it forth. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PIERCE:

I thank my colleague from the south for bringing forth this resolution. The richness of our country has everything to do with the waves of immigration that have come up on our shores. As a music lover, I am especially appreciative. American music is incomparable, largely because of the infusion of music from all over the world. When I was a kid other kids would ask, "What are you?" meaning what is your nationality. I was one of the kids who would say, "I am Heinz 57. I have a little bit of everything." I had ancestors who were here before the Revolution and one of my grandfather's grandfathers came from Germany as a tailor in the middle of the nineteenth century. One of my grandmother's grandmothers was a Moran who came from Ireland at the time of the potato famine. I am, indeed, a mixture, as so many Americans are, and I celebrate that today and again thank my colleague from the south.

ASSEMBLYMAN MUNFORD:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 24. I speak on behalf of the only immigrated group that came against their will, the African Americans. Once they were here in America, against all odds and opposition against them, they were able to rise above the struggle. They made numerous contributions to this country in the field of music, literature, sports, and so on. I think that we sometimes forget the role that they played. I personally have a great-grandmother who was born in 1855, and I was able to visit with her, speak with her, and she shared some of her past with me. I have a grandfather who was born in 1876, ten years after slavery, and I saw him throughout a lot of my childhood days. Today, my mother is the matriarch of the family. She lives today and she is 92. We have a good heritage and family tree that has contributed a great deal to me. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN MORTENSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 24. I appreciate my colleague for bringing this ACR before us. My father was born in Norway and my mother was born in Russia. They met in Germany, where my dad was a stockbroker and my mother was going to school. Black Friday hit and wiped my dad out financially, and he decided to come to the United States to try and seek his fortune. He advised my mom to keep going to school, and he would send for her when he was established. Eventually he established, and by that time my mother was back in Russia. He asked her to come to the United States where they would get married. My mother was from a fairly affluent family and was having problems with the Communists which, of course, then was called the Bolsheviks, and she needed to get out of Russia. The safest way out was a steamer, and she headed for the Odessa in the Black Sea, again dodging the Bolsheviks on the way. She got there and found out that the quota for Russians was filled; so she bought a Turkish passport. She bought her way onto a mysterious steamer that was leaving Odessa and purportedly had a lot of relatives of the Czar on it. Eventually she made her way to Ellis Island. When she got to Ellis Island, she found out that the quota for Turks was filled. She called my dad. My dad had made friends with a gentleman who had a position in the State Department, who lived right next door. He went over and explained the problem, and they both took off for New York. The guy from the State Department, which Washingtonians call Foggy Bottom people, he managed to spirit my dad, himself, and a minister over to Ellis Island. Twelve o'clock that night, the minister married my dad and my mom. My dad had gotten his citizenship in between time. The next morning, the State Department guy insisted that my mother was a citizen and they should release her to go into the country—which they did. I am told that the next day the New York Times had blazing headlines about this story. Eventually my father, who started as a cabinetmaker, moved up to become the premier contractor that built gas stations in Washington, D.C. He built them for all the oil companies, Standard Oil, Sinclair. It is just wonderful how this country does allow someone who came in penniless to rise up and be what he eventually became. That is my story.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 24. I am very humbled by all the comments I have heard today. I am proud of my roots. I want to mention my grandmother who came from Greece after the end of World War II; she went through Ellis Island. She really loved this country. Her mother and her sister kept on trying to get her to move back to Greece; she always refused. I am extremely fortunate that she lived into her eighties. One of proudest moments in her life was seeing her daughter elected to this body and able to give back to the country she loved so much. I wished she lived long enough to see her grandson elected. There is a big Greek Orthodox Church in Ely. It is really big. I remember asking my mother why is there this huge, grand Greek Orthodox Church in, of all places, Ely. Later I learned that in the nineteenth century when the mines needed workers, Greeks came to Utah and Nevada and helped mine the mines and helped give us a lot of the prosperity that built our state. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYMAN GOICOECHEA:

I guess I have to rise in support of ACR 24 and defend the Basques. I am going to make it very brief, very short. The Basque language being completely different from any other language—it most closely resembles, I believe, some words in Chinese. It is a difficult language. Most of those did come through Ellis Island. I think a story that has been reflected through the years, especially in northern Nevada and it has been told by different families, is that you got a tag pinned on you when you came through Ellis Island, and it said Elko, Nevada, on it—you were just a shipping crate. They put them on the railroad and they told them, "Order roast beef." They started across the country; about the third day of roast beef, a man watched his neighbor order ham and eggs. The waitress came by and he said, "Hamanyeggs." She said, "Fine, how would you like your eggs?" He said, "Hamanyeggs." She said, "Yes, but how would like them cooked?" His response was, "Oh, hell, a roasta beef." Again, the Basque, my grandfather immigrated with six other brothers into northern Elko County. My grandmother, who was a church bride—he did not know her in the old country—she was sent over, had three sons, and then she died in childbirth with the fourth. It was a hard time. For a wedding present, most of these brides got a new tent with a camp stove so they could be with the sheep. Thank you.

Resolution adopted and ordered transmitted to the Senate.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 96.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Education:

Amendment No. 29.

AN ACT relating to education; clarifying eligibility for and the administration of Millennium Scholarships for students who are enrolled in more than one eligible institution; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides that to be eligible for a Governor Guinn Millennium Scholarship a student must be enrolled in at least 6 semester credit hours in a community college or 12 semester credit hours in another eligible institution. (NRS 396.930) The law does not specify whether enrollment in more than one eligible institution affects a student's eligibility for a Scholarship or how to administer the Scholarship for such a student.

This bill clarifies that a student who is enrolled in more than one eligible institution is eligible for a Millennium Scholarship if the student meets certain requirements, and that the Scholarship must be administered by the eligible institution at which the student is enrolled in a program of study leading to a recognized degree or certificate. This bill also directs the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada to establish procedures and guidelines for the administration of Millennium Scholarships for students who are enrolled in more than one eligible institution. (NRS 396.930, 396.934)

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 396.930 is hereby amended to read as follows:

396.930 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 2 and 3, a student may apply to the Board of Regents for a Millennium Scholarship if he:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (e) of subsection 2, has been a resident of this State for at least 2 years before he applies for the Millennium Scholarship;

(b) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c), graduated from a public or private high school in this State:

(1) After May 1, 2000, but not later than May 1, 2003; or

(2) After May 1, 2003, and, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c) of subsection 2, not more than 6 years before he applies for the Millennium Scholarship;

(c) Does not satisfy the requirements of paragraph (b) and:

(1) Was enrolled as a pupil in a public or private high school in this State with a class of pupils who were regularly scheduled to graduate after May 1, 2000;

(2) Received his high school diploma within 4 years after he was regularly scheduled to graduate; and

(3) Applies for the Millennium Scholarship not more than 6 years after he was regularly scheduled to graduate from high school;

(d) Maintained in high school in the courses designated by the Board of Regents pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection 2, at least:

(1) A 3.00 grade point average on a 4.0 grading scale, if he was a member of the graduating class of 2003 or 2004;

(2) A 3.10 grade point average on a 4.0 grading scale, if he was a member of the graduating class of 2005 or 2006; or

(3) A 3.25 grade point average on a 4.0 grading scale, if he was a member of the graduating class of 2007 or a later graduating class; and

(e) Is enrolled in at least:

(1) Six semester credit hours in a community college within the System; ~~[or]~~

(2) Twelve semester credit hours in another eligible institution ~~[.]~~ ; or

(3) A total of 12 or more semester credit hours in eligible institutions if the student is enrolled in more than one eligible institution.

2. The Board of Regents:

(a) Shall define the core curriculum that a student must complete in high school to be eligible for a Millennium Scholarship.

(b) Shall designate the courses in which a student must earn the minimum grade point averages set forth in paragraph (d) of subsection 1.

(c) May establish criteria with respect to students who have been on active duty serving in the Armed Forces of the United States to exempt such students from the 6-year limitation on applications ~~[that is]~~ set forth in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of subsection 1.

(d) Shall establish criteria with respect to students who have a documented physical or mental disability or who were previously subject to an individualized education program under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 20 U.S.C. §§ 1400 et seq., or a plan under Title V of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, 29 U.S.C. §§ 791 et seq. The criteria must provide an exemption for those students from:

(1) The 6-year limitation on applications ~~[that is]~~ set forth in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of subsection 1 and subparagraph (3) of paragraph (c) of subsection 1 and any limitation applicable to students who are eligible pursuant to subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) of subsection 1.

(2) The minimum number of credits prescribed in paragraph (e) of subsection 1.

(e) Shall establish criteria with respect to students who have a parent or legal guardian on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States to exempt such students from the residency requirement set forth in paragraph (a) of subsection 1 or subsection 3.

3. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c) of subsection 1, for students who did not graduate from a public or private high school in this State and who, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (e) of subsection 2, have been residents of this State for at least 2 years, the Board of Regents shall establish:

(a) The minimum score on a standardized test that such students must receive; or

(b) Other criteria that students must meet,

➥ to be eligible for Millennium Scholarships.

4. In awarding Millennium Scholarships, the Board of Regents shall enhance its outreach to students who:

(a) Are pursuing a career in education or health care;

(b) Come from families who lack sufficient financial resources to pay for the costs of sending their children to an eligible institution; or

(c) Substantially participated in an antismoking, antidrug or antialcohol program during high school.

5. The Board of Regents shall establish a procedure by which an applicant for a Millennium Scholarship is required to execute an affidavit declaring his eligibility for a Millennium Scholarship pursuant to the requirements of this section. The affidavit must include a declaration that the applicant is a citizen of the United States or has lawful immigration status, or that the applicant has filed an application to legalize his immigration status or will file an application to legalize his immigration status as soon as he is eligible to do so.

Sec. 2. NRS 396.934 is hereby amended to read as follows:

396.934 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, within the limits of money available in the Trust Fund, a student who is eligible for a Millennium Scholarship is entitled to receive:

(a) If he is enrolled in a community college within the System, including, without limitation, a summer academic term, $40 per credit for each lower division course and $60 per credit for each upper division course in which the student is enrolled, or the amount of money that is necessary for the student to pay the costs of attending the community college that are not otherwise satisfied by other grants or scholarships, whichever is less. The Board of Regents shall provide for the designation of upper and lower division courses for the purposes of this paragraph. ~~[In no event may a student who is eligible for a Millennium Scholarship receive more than the cost of 12 semester credits per semester pursuant to this paragraph.]~~

(b) If he is enrolled in a state college within the System, including, without limitation, a summer academic term, $60 per credit for which the student is enrolled, or the amount of money that is necessary for the student to pay the costs of attending the state college that are not otherwise satisfied by other grants or scholarships, whichever is less. ~~[In no event may a student who is eligible for a Millennium Scholarship receive more than the cost of 12 semester credits per semester pursuant to this paragraph.]~~

(c) If he is enrolled in another eligible institution, including, without limitation, a summer academic term, $80 per credit for which the student is enrolled, or the amount of money that is necessary for the student to pay the costs of attending the university that are not otherwise satisfied by other grants or scholarships, whichever is less.

(d) If he is enrolled in more than one eligible institution, including, without limitation, a summer academic term, the amount authorized pursuant to paragraph (a), (b) or (c), or a combination thereof, in accordance with procedures and guidelines established by the Board of Regents.

➥ In no event may a student who is eligible for a Millennium Scholarship receive more than the cost of 12 semester credits per semester pursuant to this ~~[paragraph.]~~ subsection.

2. No student may be awarded a Millennium Scholarship:

(a) To pay for remedial courses.

(b) For a total amount in excess of $10,000.

3. A student who receives a Millennium Scholarship shall:

(a) Make satisfactory academic progress toward a recognized degree or certificate, as determined by the Board of Regents pursuant to subsection 7; and

(b) If the student graduated from high school after May 1, 2003, maintain:

(1) At least a 2.60 grade point average on a 4.0 grading scale for each semester during the first year of enrollment in the Governor Guinn Millennium Scholarship Program.

(2) At least a 2.75 grade point average on a 4.0 grading scale for each semester during the second year of enrollment in the Governor Guinn Millennium Scholarship Program and for each semester during each year of enrollment thereafter.

~~[~~ ~~If a student is enrolled in more than one eligible institution, the student must maintain a combined grade point average that meets the requirements of this subsection.]~~

4. If a student does not satisfy the requirements of subsection 3 during one semester of enrollment, excluding a summer academic term, he is not eligible for the Millennium Scholarship for the succeeding semester of enrollment. If such a student:

(a) Subsequently satisfies the requirements of subsection 3 in a semester in which he is not eligible for the Millennium Scholarship, he is eligible for the Millennium Scholarship for his next semester of enrollment.

(b) Fails a second time to satisfy the requirements of subsection 3 during any subsequent semester, excluding a summer academic term, he is no longer eligible for a Millennium Scholarship.

5. A Millennium Scholarship must be used only:

(a) For the payment of registration fees and laboratory fees and expenses;

(b) To purchase required textbooks and course materials; and

(c) For other costs related to the attendance of the student at the eligible institution.

6. The Board of Regents shall certify a list of eligible students to the State Treasurer. The State Treasurer shall disburse a Millennium Scholarship for each semester on behalf of an eligible student directly to the eligible institution in which the student is enrolled, upon certification from the eligible institution of the number of credits for which the student is enrolled, which must meet or exceed the minimum number of credits required for eligibility and certification that the student is in good standing and making satisfactory academic progress toward a recognized degree or certificate, as determined by the Board of Regents pursuant to subsection 7. The Millennium Scholarship must be administered by the eligible institution as other similar scholarships are administered and may be used only for the expenditures authorized pursuant to subsection 5. If a student is enrolled in more than one eligible institution, the Millennium Scholarship must be administered by the eligible institution at which the student is enrolled in a program of study leading to a recognized degree or certificate.

7. The Board of Regents shall establish ~~[~~criteria~~]~~ ***:

(a) Criteria for determining whether a student is making satisfactory academic progress toward a recognized degree or certificate for purposes of subsection 6.

~~[~~8. The Board of Regents shall establish procedures~~]~~

(b) Procedures to ensure that all money from a Millennium Scholarship awarded to a student that is refunded in whole or in part for any reason is refunded to the Trust Fund and not the student.

(c) Procedures and guidelines for the administration of a Millennium Scholarship for students who are enrolled in more than one eligible institution.

Sec. 3. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2009.

Assemblywoman Parnell moved the adoption of the amendment.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 164.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 51.

AN ACT relating to crimes; providing certain penalties for a battery that is committed by strangulation; increasing the penalty for a battery which constitutes domestic violence if the battery is committed by strangulation; increasing the penalty for a battery under other circumstances if the battery is committed by strangulation; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 3 of this bill revises provisions governing the crime of battery to provide the same penalties for a battery which is committed by strangulation as are imposed for a battery which results in substantial bodily harm. (NRS 200.481) Section 3 also defines the term "strangulation" similarly to the manner in which the term is defined in a similar Minnesota law. (Minn. Stat. § 609.2247(1)(c))

Sections 4 and 5 of this bill revise provisions governing the crime of battery which constitutes domestic violence to impose a category C felony with a maximum fine of $15,000 upon any person who is convicted of a battery which constitutes domestic violence if the battery is committed by strangulation. (NRS 200.485)

Sections 1, 2, 6 and 7 of this bill amend certain provisions regarding additional penalties, battery with the intent to commit sexual assault, the reporting of certain crimes committed against a child and bail so that those provisions will apply in the same manner to a battery which resulted in substantial bodily harm and a battery which was committed by strangulation. (NRS 193.166, 200.400, 202.876, 178.484)

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 193.166 is hereby amended to read as follows:

193.166 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 193.169, a person who commits a crime that is punishable as a felony, other than a crime that is punishable as a felony pursuant to subsection 6 of NRS 33.400 or subsection 5 of NRS 200.591, in violation of:

(a) A temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.020;

(b) An order for protection against harassment in the workplace issued pursuant to NRS 33.270;

(c) A temporary or extended order for the protection of a child issued pursuant to NRS 33.400;

(d) An order for protection against domestic violence issued in an action or proceeding brought pursuant to title 11 of NRS; or

(e) A temporary or extended order issued pursuant to NRS 200.591,

➥ shall, in addition to the term of imprisonment prescribed by statute for the crime, be punished by imprisonment in the state prison, except as otherwise provided in this subsection, for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 20 years. If the crime committed by the person is punishable as a category A felony or category B felony, in addition to the term of imprisonment prescribed by statute for that crime, the person shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 5 years.

2. In determining the length of the additional penalty imposed pursuant to this section, the court shall consider the following information:

(a) The facts and circumstances of the crime;

(b) The criminal history of the person;

(c) The impact of the crime on any victim;

(d) Any mitigating factors presented by the person; and

(e) Any other relevant information.

➥ The court shall state on the record that it has considered the information described in paragraphs (a) to (e), inclusive, in determining the length of the additional penalty imposed.

3. The sentence prescribed by this section:

(a) Must not exceed the sentence imposed for the crime; and

(b) Runs concurrently or consecutively with the sentence prescribed by statute for the crime, as ordered by the court.

4. The court shall not grant probation to or suspend the sentence of any person convicted of attempted murder, battery which involves the use of a deadly weapon, ~~[or]~~ battery which results in substantial bodily harm or battery which is committed by strangulation as described in NRS 200.481 or 200.485 if an additional term of imprisonment may be imposed for that primary offense pursuant to this section.

5. This section does not create a separate offense but provides an additional penalty for the primary offense, whose imposition is contingent upon the finding of the prescribed fact.

Sec. 2. NRS 200.400 is hereby amended to read as follows:

200.400 1. As used in this section ~~[, "battery"]~~ ***:

(a) "Battery" means any willful and unlawful use of force or violence upon the person of another.

(b) "Strangulation" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 200.481.

2. A person who is convicted of battery with the intent to commit mayhem, robbery or grand larceny is guilty of a category B felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 2 years and a maximum term of not more than 10 years, and may be further punished by a fine of not more than $10,000.

3. A person who is convicted of battery with the intent to kill is guilty of a category B felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 2 years and a maximum term of not more than 20 years.

4. A person who is convicted of battery with the intent to commit sexual assault shall be punished:

(a) If the crime results in substantial bodily harm to the victim ~~[,]~~ or is committed by strangulation, for a category A felony by imprisonment in the state prison:

(1) For life without the possibility of parole; or

(2) For life with the possibility of parole, with eligibility for parole beginning when a minimum of 10 years has been served,

➥ as determined by the verdict of the jury, or the judgment of the court if there is no jury.

(b) If the crime does not result in substantial bodily harm to the victim and the victim is 16 years of age or older, for a category A felony by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 2 years and a maximum term of life with the possibility of parole.

(c) If the crime does not result in substantial bodily harm to the victim and the victim is a child under the age of 16, for a category A felony by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 5 years and a maximum term of life with the possibility of parole.

➥ In addition to any other penalty, a person convicted pursuant to this subsection may be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000.

Sec. 3. NRS 200.481 is hereby amended to read as follows:

200.481 1. As used in this section:

(a) "Battery" means any willful and unlawful use of force or violence upon the person of another.

(i) "Taxicab" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 706.8816.

~~[(i)]~~ (j) "Taxicab driver" means a person who operates a taxicab.

~~[(j)]~~ (k) "Transit operator" means a person who operates a bus or other vehicle as part of a public mass transportation system.

2. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 200.485, a person convicted of a battery, other than a battery committed by an adult upon a child which constitutes child abuse, shall be punished:

(a) If the battery is not committed with a deadly weapon, and no substantial bodily harm to the victim results, except under circumstances where a greater penalty is provided in ~~[paragraph (d)]~~ this section or ~~[in]~~ NRS 197.090, for a misdemeanor.

(b) If the battery is not committed with a deadly weapon, and either substantial bodily harm to the victim results ~~[,]~~ or the battery is committed by strangulation, for a category C felony as provided in NRS 193.130.

(c) If ~~[the]~~ ***:

(1) The battery is committed ~~[:~~

~~(1) Upon]~~ upon an officer, provider of health care, school employee, taxicab driver or transit operator who was performing his duty or upon a sports official based on the performance of his duties at a sporting event;

(2) The officer, provider of health care, school employee, taxicab driver, transit operator or sports official suffers substantial bodily harm ~~[;]~~ or the battery is committed by strangulation; and

(3) The person charged knew or should have known that the victim was an officer, provider of health care, school employee, taxicab driver, transit operator or sports official,

➥ for a category B felony by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 2 years and a maximum term of not more than 10 years, or by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by both fine and imprisonment.

(d) If the battery is committed upon an officer, provider of health care, school employee, taxicab driver or transit operator who is performing his duty or upon a sports official based on the performance of his duties at a sporting event and the person charged knew or should have known that the victim was an officer, provider of health care, school employee, taxicab driver, transit operator or sports official, for a gross misdemeanor, except under circumstances where a greater penalty is provided in this section.

(e) If the battery is committed with the use of a deadly weapon, and:

(1) No substantial bodily harm to the victim results, for a category B felony by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 2 years and a maximum term of not more than 10 years, and may be further punished by a fine of not more than $10,000.

(2) Substantial bodily harm to the victim results ~~[,]~~ or the battery is committed by strangulation, for a category B felony by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 2 years and a maximum term of not more than 15 years, and may be further punished by a fine of not more than $10,000.

(f) If the battery is committed by a probationer, a prisoner who is in lawful custody or confinement or a parolee, without the use of a deadly weapon, whether or not substantial bodily harm results ~~[,]~~ and whether or not the battery is committed by strangulation, for a category B felony by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 6 years.

(g) If the battery is committed by a probationer, a prisoner who is in lawful custody or confinement or a parolee, with the use of a deadly weapon, and:

(1) No substantial bodily harm to the victim results, for a category B felony by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 2 years and a maximum term of not more than 10 years.

(2) Substantial bodily harm to the victim results ~~[,]~~ or the battery is committed by strangulation, for a category B felony by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 2 years and a maximum term of not more than 15 years.

Sec. 4. NRS 200.485 is hereby amended to read as follows:

200.485 1. Unless a greater penalty is provided pursuant to subsection 2 or NRS 200.481, a person convicted of a battery which constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018:

(a) For the first offense within 7 years, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be sentenced to:

(1) Imprisonment in the city or county jail or detention facility for not less than 2 days, but not more than 6 months; and

(2) Perform not less than 48 hours, but not more than 120 hours, of community service.

➥ The person shall be further punished by a fine of not less than $200, but not more than $1,000. A term of imprisonment imposed pursuant to this paragraph may be served intermittently at the discretion of the judge or justice of the peace, except that each period of confinement must be not less than 4 consecutive hours and must occur at a time when the person is not required to be at his place of employment or on a weekend.

(b) For the second offense within 7 years, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be sentenced to:

(1) Imprisonment in the city or county jail or detention facility for not less than 10 days, but not more than 6 months; and

(2) Perform not less than 100 hours, but not more than 200 hours, of community service.

➥ The person shall be further punished by a fine of not less than $500, but not more than $1,000.

(c) For the third and any subsequent offense within 7 years, is guilty of a category C felony and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130.

2. Unless a greater penalty is provided pursuant to NRS 200.481, a person convicted of a battery which constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018, if the battery is committed by strangulation as described in NRS 200.481, is guilty of a category C felony and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130 and by a fine of not more than $15,000.

3. In addition to any other penalty, if a person is convicted of a battery which constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018, the court shall:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, for the first offense within 7 years, require him to participate in weekly counseling sessions of not less than 1 1/2 hours per week for not less than 6 months, but not more than 12 months, at his expense, in a program for the treatment of persons who commit domestic violence that has been certified pursuant to NRS 228.470.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, for the second offense within 7 years, require him to participate in weekly counseling sessions of not less than 1 1/2 hours per week for 12 months, at his expense, in a program for the treatment of persons who commit domestic violence that has been certified pursuant to NRS 228.470.

➥ If the person resides more than 70 miles from the nearest location at which counseling services are available, the court may allow the person to participate in counseling sessions in a program for the treatment of persons who commit domestic violence that has been certified pursuant to NRS 228.470 every other week for the number of months required pursuant to paragraph (a) or (b) so long as the number of hours of counseling is not less than 6 hours per month. If the person resides in this State but the nearest location at which counseling services are available is in another state, the court may allow the person to participate in counseling in the other state in a program for the treatment of persons who commit domestic violence that has been certified pursuant to NRS 228.470.

~~[3.]~~ 4. An offense that occurred within 7 years immediately preceding the date of the principal offense or after the principal offense constitutes a prior offense for the purposes of this section when evidenced by a conviction, without regard to the sequence of the offenses and convictions. The facts concerning a prior offense must be alleged in the complaint, indictment or information, must not be read to the jury or proved at trial but must be proved at the time of sentencing and, if the principal offense is alleged to be a felony, must also be shown at the preliminary examination or presented to the grand jury.

~~[4.]~~ 5. In addition to any other fine or penalty, the court shall order such a person to pay an administrative assessment of $35. Any money so collected must be paid by the clerk of the court to the State Controller on or before the fifth day of each month for the preceding month for credit to the Account for Programs Related to Domestic Violence established pursuant to NRS 228.460.

~~[5.]~~ 6. In addition to any other penalty, the court may require such a person to participate, at his expense, in a program of treatment for the abuse of alcohol or drugs that has been certified by the Health Division of the Department of Health and Human Services.

~~[6.]~~ 7. If it appears from information presented to the court that a child under the age of 18 years may need counseling as a result of the commission of a battery which constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018, the court may refer the child to an agency which provides child welfare services. If the court refers a child to an agency which provides child welfare services, the court shall require the person convicted of a battery which constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018 to reimburse the agency for the costs of any services provided, to the extent of his ability to pay.

~~[7.]~~ 8. If a person is charged with committing a battery which constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018, a prosecuting attorney shall not dismiss such a charge in exchange for a plea of guilty, guilty but mentally ill or nolo contendere to a lesser charge or for any other reason unless he knows, or it is obvious, that the charge is not supported by probable cause or cannot be proved at the time of trial. A court shall not grant probation to and, except as otherwise provided in NRS 4.373 and 5.055, a court shall not suspend the sentence of such a person.

12. An offense involving pornography and a minor pursuant to NRS 200.710 or 200.720.

13. Solicitation of a minor to engage in acts constituting the infamous crime against nature pursuant to NRS 201.195.

14. Intentional transmission of the human immunodeficiency virus pursuant to NRS 201.205.

15. Open or gross lewdness pursuant to NRS 201.210.

16. Lewdness with a child pursuant to NRS 201.230.

17. An offense involving pandering or prostitution in violation of NRS 201.300, 201.320 or 201.340.

18. Coercion pursuant to NRS 207.190, if the coercion involves the use or threatened use of force or violence against the victim or the use or threatened use of a firearm or a deadly weapon.

19. An attempt, conspiracy or solicitation to commit an offense listed in subsections 1 to 18, inclusive.

Sec. 7. NRS 178.484 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.484 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person arrested for an offense other than murder of the first degree must be admitted to bail.

2. A person arrested for a felony who has been released on probation or parole for a different offense must not be admitted to bail unless:

(a) A court issues an order directing that the person be admitted to bail;

(b) The State Board of Parole Commissioners directs the detention facility to admit the person to bail; or

(c) The Division of Parole and Probation of the Department of Public Safety directs the detention facility to admit the person to bail.

3. A person arrested for a felony whose sentence has been suspended pursuant to NRS 4.373 or 5.055 for a different offense or who has been sentenced to a term of residential confinement pursuant to NRS 4.3762 or 5.076 for a different offense must not be admitted to bail unless:

(a) A court issues an order directing that the person be admitted to bail; or

(b) A department of alternative sentencing directs the detention facility to admit the person to bail.

4. A person arrested for murder of the first degree may be admitted to bail unless the proof is evident or the presumption great by any competent court or magistrate authorized by law to do so in the exercise of discretion, giving due weight to the evidence and to the nature and circumstances of the offense.

5. A person arrested for a violation of NRS 484.379, 484.3795, 484.37955, 484.379778, 488.410, 488.420 or 488.425 who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor must not be admitted to bail or released on his own recognizance unless he has a concentration of alcohol of less than 0.04 in his breath. A test of the person's breath pursuant to this subsection to determine the concentration of alcohol in his breath as a condition of admission to bail or release is not admissible as evidence against the person.

6. A person arrested for a violation of NRS 484.379, 484.3795, 484.37955, 484.379778, 488.410, 488.420 or 488.425 who is under the influence of a controlled substance, is under the combined influence of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, or inhales, ingests, applies or otherwise uses any chemical, poison or organic solvent, or any compound or combination of any of these, to a degree which renders him incapable of safely driving or exercising actual physical control of a vehicle or vessel under power or sail must not be admitted to bail or released on his own recognizance sooner than 12 hours after his arrest.

7. A person arrested for a battery that constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018 must not be admitted to bail sooner than 12 hours after his arrest. If the person is admitted to bail more than 12 hours after his arrest, without appearing personally before a magistrate ~~[,]~~ or without the amount of bail having been otherwise set by a magistrate or a court, the amount of bail must be:

(a) Three thousand dollars, if the person has no previous convictions of battery that constitute domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018 and there is no reason to believe that the battery for which he has been arrested resulted in substantial bodily harm ~~[,]~~ or was committed by strangulation;

(b) Five thousand dollars, if the person has:

(1) No previous convictions of battery that constitute domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018, but there is reason to believe that the battery for which he has been arrested resulted in substantial bodily harm ~~[,]~~ or was committed by strangulation; or

(2) One previous conviction of battery that constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018, but there is no reason to believe that the battery for which he has been arrested resulted in substantial bodily harm ~~[,]~~ or was committed by strangulation; or

(c) Fifteen thousand dollars, if the person has:

(1) One previous conviction of battery that constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018 and there is reason to believe that the battery for which he has been arrested resulted in substantial bodily harm ~~[,]~~ or was committed by strangulation; or

(2) Two or more previous convictions of battery that constitute domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018.

➥ The provisions of this subsection do not affect the authority of a magistrate or a court to set the amount of bail when the person personally appears before the magistrate or the court, or when a magistrate or a court has otherwise been contacted to set the amount of bail. For the purposes of this subsection, a person shall be deemed to have a previous conviction of battery that constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018 if the person has been convicted of such an offense in this State or has been convicted of violating a law of any other jurisdiction that prohibits the same or similar conduct.

8. A person arrested for violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive, or for violating a restraining order or injunction that is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued in an action or proceeding brought pursuant to title 11 of NRS, or for violating a temporary or extended order for protection against stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment issued pursuant to NRS 200.591 must not be admitted to bail sooner than 12 hours after his arrest if:

(a) The arresting officer determines that such a violation is accompanied by a direct or indirect threat of harm;

(b) The person has previously violated a temporary or extended order for protection of the type for which he has been arrested; or

(c) At the time of the violation or within 2 hours after the violation, the person has:

(1) A concentration of alcohol of 0.08 or more in his blood or breath; or

(2) An amount of a prohibited substance in his blood or urine that is equal to or greater than the amount set forth in subsection 3 of NRS 484.379.

9. If a person is admitted to bail more than 12 hours after his arrest, pursuant to subsection 8, without appearing personally before a magistrate ~~[,]~~ or without the amount of bail having been otherwise set by a magistrate or a court, the amount of bail must be:

(a) Three thousand dollars, if the person has no previous convictions of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive, or of violating a restraining order or injunction that is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued in an action or proceeding brought pursuant to title 11 of NRS, or of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment issued pursuant to NRS 200.591;

(b) Five thousand dollars, if the person has one previous conviction of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive, or of violating a restraining order or injunction that is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued in an action or proceeding brought pursuant to title 11 of NRS, or of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment issued pursuant to NRS 200.591; or

(c) Fifteen thousand dollars, if the person has two or more previous convictions of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive, or of violating a restraining order or injunction that is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued in an action or proceeding brought pursuant to title 11 of NRS, or of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment issued pursuant to NRS 200.591.

➥ The provisions of this subsection do not affect the authority of a magistrate or a court to set the amount of bail when the person personally appears before the magistrate or the court ~~[.]~~ or when a magistrate or a court has otherwise been contacted to set the amount of bail. For the purposes of this subsection, a person shall be deemed to have a previous conviction of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive, or of violating a restraining order or injunction that is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence issued in an action or proceeding brought pursuant to title 11 of NRS, or of violating a temporary or extended order for protection against stalking, aggravated stalking or harassment issued pursuant to NRS 200.591 if the person has been convicted of such an offense in this State or has been convicted of violating a law of any other jurisdiction that prohibits the same or similar conduct.

10. The court may, before releasing a person arrested for an offense punishable as a felony, require the surrender to the court of any passport the person possesses.

11. Before releasing a person arrested for any crime, the court may impose such reasonable conditions on the person as it deems necessary to protect the health, safety and welfare of the community and to ensure that the person will appear at all times and places ordered by the court, including, without limitation:

(a) Requiring the person to remain in this State or a certain county within this State;

(b) Prohibiting the person from contacting or attempting to contact a specific person or from causing or attempting to cause another person to contact that person on his behalf;

(c) Prohibiting the person from entering a certain geographic area; or

(d) Prohibiting the person from engaging in specific conduct that may be harmful to his own health, safety or welfare, or the health, safety or welfare of another person.

➥ In determining whether a condition is reasonable, the court shall consider the factors listed in NRS 178.4853.

12. If a person fails to comply with a condition imposed pursuant to subsection 11, the court may, after providing the person with reasonable notice and an opportunity for a hearing:

(a) Deem such conduct a contempt pursuant to NRS 22.010; or

(b) Increase the amount of bail pursuant to NRS 178.499.

13. An order issued pursuant to this section that imposes a condition on a person admitted to bail must include a provision ordering any law enforcement officer to arrest the person if he has probable cause to believe that the person has violated a condition of his bail.

14. Before a person may be admitted to bail, he must sign a document stating that:

(a) He will appear at all times and places as ordered by the court releasing him and as ordered by any court before which the charge is subsequently heard;

(b) He will comply with the other conditions which have been imposed by the court and are stated in the document; and

(c) If he fails to appear when so ordered and is taken into custody outside of this State, he waives all his rights relating to extradition proceedings.

➥ The signed document must be filed with the clerk of the court of competent jurisdiction as soon as practicable, but in no event later than the next business day.

15. If a person admitted to bail fails to appear as ordered by a court and the jurisdiction incurs any cost in returning the person to the jurisdiction to stand trial, the person who failed to appear is responsible for paying those costs as restitution.

16. For the purposes of subsections 8 and 9, an order or injunction is in the nature of a temporary or extended order for protection against domestic violence if it grants relief that might be given in a temporary or extended order issued pursuant to NRS 33.017 to 33.100, inclusive.

17. As used in this section, "strangulation" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 200.481.

Sec. 8. NRS 432B.640 is hereby amended to read as follows:

432B.640 1. Upon receiving a referral from a court pursuant to subsection ~~[6]~~ 7 of NRS 200.485, an agency which provides child welfare services may, as appropriate, conduct an assessment to determine whether a psychological evaluation or counseling is needed by a child.

2. If an agency which provides child welfare services conducts an assessment pursuant to subsection 1 and determines that a psychological evaluation or counseling would benefit the child, the agency may, with the approval of the parent or legal guardian of the child:

(a) Conduct the evaluation or counseling; or

(b) Refer the child to a person that has entered into an agreement with the agency to provide those services.

Sec. 9. 1. This section and sections 1 to 4, inclusive, 6, 7 and 8 of this act become effective upon passage and approval.

2. Section 4 of this act expires by limitation on June 30, 2009.

3. Section 5 of this act becomes effective on July 1, 2009.

Assembly Bill No. 180.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Government Affairs:

Amendment No. 40.

SUMMARY—Designates Engine No. 40 of the Nevada Northern Railway as ~~[the]~~ an official state locomotive of the State of Nevada. (BDR 19-734)

AN ACT relating to state emblems; designating Engine No. 40 of the Nevada Northern Railway as ~~[the]~~ an official state locomotive; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law designates various emblems of the State of Nevada, including a state tartan, a state artifact and a state fossil. This bill designates Engine No. 40 of the Nevada Northern Railway as ~~[the]~~ an official state locomotive of the State of Nevada.

WHEREAS, The Nevada Northern Railway East Ely yard complex in Ely, Nevada is designated a National Historic Landmark by the United States Secretary of the Interior; and

WHEREAS, Engine No. 40, a ten-wheeler built by Baldwin Locomotive Works in July of 1910, which operated daily between Ely and Cobre until the last regularly scheduled passenger run in July of 1941, is one of the most historically significant steam locomotives still in existence; and

WHEREAS, The Nevada Northern Railway and Engine No. 40 were integral in the development of the State of Nevada and are part of the history of the State of Nevada; now, therefore,

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 235 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

The steam locomotive of the Nevada Northern Railway known as Engine No. 40, built in 1910, is hereby designated as ~~[the]~~ an official state locomotive of the State of Nevada.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Buckley, Horne, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart and Woodbury; Senators Horsford, Wiener, Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 25—Honoring Andre Agassi for his philanthropic vision and congratulating the first graduating class of the Andre Agassi College Preparatory Academy.

WHEREAS, In 1994, at the young age of 24 years and while still a professional tennis athlete, Andre Agassi founded the Andre Agassi Foundation to serve the needs of children within the community, including the opening of the Andre Agassi Boys and Girls Club; and

WHEREAS, While this work of the Foundation was vitally important, Andre Agassi realized that to give children real hope for a successful future, education would be the best vehicle; and

WHEREAS, In 2001, the Foundation opened the Andre Agassi College Preparatory Academy as a charter school in a socio-economically disadvantaged neighborhood in Las Vegas with the mission to enhance each student's character, motivation, self-discipline, self-respect and individualized learning to ensure that each of those students is adequately and fully prepared for college; and

WHEREAS, The Andre Agassi College Preparatory Academy currently enrolls 600 students in grades K-12 and has a waiting list of students each year; and

WHEREAS, The Andre Agassi College Preparatory Academy operates on the fundamental premise that if a child has the proper support, encouragement and respect, then a child may dare to dream of a successful future; and

WHEREAS, On June 12, 2009, 34 students will participate in the commencement ceremony of the first graduating class of the Andre Agassi College Preparatory Academy, and half of those students have already been accepted to 4-year colleges and universities; and

WHEREAS, Andre Agassi has expressed the belief that his professional work as a tennis player has enabled him to accomplish his real life's work, which is to help children and provide support to overcome obstacles, and Mr. Agassi is quoted as saying "through this support, thousands of children have the knowledge, confidence and skills to be successful. But most of all, they have hope"; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature hereby honor Mr. Andre Agassi for his dedicated philanthropic work and vision on behalf of children; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the members of the 75th Session of the Nevada Legislature hereby congratulate the first graduating class of the Andre Agassi College Preparatory Academy for their hard work and accomplishments and hereby express support for a successful future for each of those students; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Mr. Andre Agassi, to Mr. Steve Miller, the Chief Executive Officer of the Andre Agassi Foundation, and to Ms. Marsha Irvin, the Chancellor for the Andre Agassi College Preparatory Academy.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Buckley and Horne.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUCKLEY:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. Andre Agassi is a product of Las Vegas. He is a superstar and was the best in tennis in the world for so many years. What does he choose to do with his time and the wealth that he accumulated? He decides to help children. He created a landmark charter school in Las Vegas and decided to put it in the heart of the most economically disadvantaged, traditionally segregated community in Las Vegas—to appeal to the students that there is nothing they can't achieve. He chose to visit the school, to spend his blood, sweat, and tears; to invest in a longer school day and more resources to prove that with the proper resources, any child can soar to the top. What an inspiration to us and what a treasure to have. We want to take this opportunity to thank Andre Agassi, Steffi, the family, the dedicated professionals at that school, and the kids for achieving their remarkable accomplishments through hard work. On this occasion, to celebrate the first graduating class, our congratulations go to all of those students. We know they are our future leaders. We applaud them and we applaud everyone involved in this amazing Nevada experiment.

Mr. Agassi will be with the Education Committee later and at the Boys and Girls Club later—something that our esteemed Assemblywoman from Carson City has arranged. We look forward to seeing him in our halls. It is with great pleasure that the Assembly supports Assembly Concurrent Resolution 25.

ASSEMBLYMAN HORNE:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore. I rise in support of Assembly Concurrent Resolution 25. I would like to say, being from Las Vegas and growing up there, it is absolutely wonderful that we have an example like Andre Agassi to do what he has done in the community. When he first retired from tennis, it would have been so easy for him to sit back on those athletic laurels and enjoy the rest of his life. I send out to the countless number of professional athletes that Las Vegas and Reno have generated over the years, that if they could do half of what Andre Agassi has done, the youth, particularly in our state, would benefit greatly. Thank you, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblywoman Buckley moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 25 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

Mr. Speaker pro Tempore Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

By Assemblymen Grady, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Denis, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, Mastroluca, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Parnell, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Smith, Spiegel, Stewart and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 26—Memorializing native Nevadan and public servant David H. Fulstone II.

WHEREAS, David H. "Davey" Fulstone II, whose Lyon County family roots can be traced back to the 1800s, was born in Yerington on December 23, 1950, to David and Angelina Fulstone and lived in Yerington for his entire life; and

WHEREAS, This native Nevadan spent over 40 years farming with his father and was a staunch activist for agricultural issues and matters related to the Walker River as he kept abreast of current issues and tried to preserve the local heritage and way of life; and

WHEREAS, On September 10, 1977, David married his beloved wife Diane Reynolds, whose lifelong support, including accompanying him to Israel to study water conservation techniques and different methods of farming, was invaluable in every aspect of his life; and

WHEREAS, Because of his devotion to issues that were important to Mason Valley, this mentor and leader was actively involved in public service, serving on the Lyon County Board of Commissioners for 8 years, on the National Commission on Agricultural Finance as an appointee of President Reagan, on the Board of Directors of the Walker River Irrigation District and as President of the Nevada Farm Bureau for 10 years, during which he traveled to five European countries and to Japan on trade missions; and

WHEREAS, His community service also included membership in and two terms as President of the Rotary Club of Yerington, by which he was recognized as a Paul Harris Fellow, service on the Board of the Mason Valley Fire Protection District, membership in the Walker Basin Project Stakeholders Group and the establishment of a popular, local radio talk show; and

WHEREAS, In an effort to improve people's lives in our State and throughout the world, this dedicated Nevadan served on the Desert Research Institute Research Foundation Board; and

WHEREAS, One of the greatest attestations to a life well-lived is the praise of those who know a person best, and Davey's friends, neighbors and those with whom he worked offer the highest praise for him and express the hole his absence leaves in their hearts and in all of Lyon County because of his unique place in the community; and

WHEREAS, David Fulstone is survived by his wife Diane, his two sons Joshua and Jeffrey, his father David, his sister DeeAnn and innumerable friends; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 75th Nevada Legislature wish to express their sincerest condolences to the family and friends of Davey Fulstone; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the best way to honor this dedicated public servant is for each individual Nevadan to follow his example of service to the community and the State and continually strive to advance the causes in which he believes; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to Davey's loving wife Diane and his sons Joshua and Jeffrey.

Assemblyman Grady moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblyman Grady.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN GRADY:

This resolution addresses many of Davey's accomplishments and activities during his short time with us. You cannot know of his compassion unless you knew Davey—he gave 100 percent to everything he tackled: his family, his ranching, and his involvement with DRI or the Farm Bureau. His last adventure was his radio show where he loved to do "Water Wednesday" where he talked about our local water issues.

Politics was his passion, either his own politics or helping others. He assisted in my campaigns along with his sister DeAnn. Davey loved to go to Washington, D.C. to help Senator Laxalt with his "D.C. Rocky Mountain Oyster Feed" each year.

Davey was at home with world leaders or with his ranch crew. Everyone was equal and important.

Madam Speaker, there was only one Davey Fulstone, and we were very fortunate to have him. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Grady moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 26 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 137.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 70.

AN ACT relating to public health; designating the State Hygienic Laboratory as the State Public Health Laboratory; authorizing the University of Nevada School of Medicine to designate certain branch laboratories of the State [~~Hygienic~~] Public Health Laboratory; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the University of Nevada School of Medicine to maintain the State Hygienic Laboratory. The purpose of the State Hygienic Laboratory is to make available proper laboratory facilities to diagnose communicable diseases, make certain examinations, conduct certain research and undertake other technical and laboratory duties as are in the interest of the health of the general public. This bill designates the State Hygienic Laboratory as the State Public Health Laboratory.

Existing law also authorizes the University of Nevada School of Medicine to establish and maintain such branch laboratories of the State Hygienic Laboratory as may be necessary. (NRS 439.240) This bill authorizes the University of Nevada School of Medicine to designate, establish or maintain those branch laboratories. This bill also requires a public agency that operates or controls such a branch laboratory to enter into a cooperative agreement concerning the branch laboratory.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 439.240 is hereby amended to read as follows:

439.240 1. The University of Nevada School of Medicine shall maintain the State ~~[Hygienic]~~ Public Health Laboratory, ~~[heretofore established pursuant to the provisions of chapter 230, Statutes of Nevada 1909,]~~ and may designate, establish ~~[and]~~ or maintain such branch laboratories as may be necessary.

2. The purpose of the State ~~[Hygienic]~~ Public Health Laboratory is:

(a) To make available, at such charges as may be established, to health officials, the State Dairy Commission and licensed physicians of the State, proper laboratory facilities for the prompt diagnosis of communicable diseases.

(b) To make necessary examinations and analyses of water, natural ice, sewage, milk, food and clinical material.

(c) To conduct research into the nature, cause, diagnosis and control of diseases.

(d) To undertake such other technical and laboratory duties as are in the interest of the health of the general public.

3. The person in charge of the State ~~[Hygienic]~~ Public Health Laboratory, or his designee, must be a skilled bacteriologist.

4. The person in charge of the State ~~[Hygienic]~~ Public Health Laboratory may have such technical assistants as that person, in cooperation with the University of Nevada School of Medicine, considers necessary.

5. Reports of investigations conducted at the State ~~[Hygienic]~~ Public Health Laboratory may be published from time to time in bulletins and circulars.

6. If the University of Nevada School of Medicine designates a branch laboratory pursuant to subsection 1 that is operated or controlled by a public agency other than the University of Nevada School of Medicine, the public agency and the University of Nevada School of Medicine shall enter into a cooperative agreement pursuant to NRS 277.080 to 277.180, inclusive, concerning the branch laboratory. The cooperative agreement must include, without limitation, provisions setting forth the powers and duties of each party to the cooperative agreement.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2009.

Assemblywoman Smith moved the adoption of the amendment.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 149.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce and Labor:

Amendment No. 93.

AN ACT relating to real property; revising provisions governing foreclosures on property; providing for mediation under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law sets forth procedures governing foreclosures on real property upon default. A trustee under a deed of trust has the power to sell the property to which the deed of trust applies, subject to certain restrictions. (NRS 107.080, 107.085) ~~[This]~~ Section 1 of this bill establishes additional restrictions on the trustee's power of sale with respect to owner-occupied housing by providing a homeowner with the right to request mediation under which he may receive a loan modification. Once a homeowner requests mediation, no further action may be taken to exercise the power of sale until the completion of the mediation. Each mediation must be conducted by a senior justice, judge, hearing master or other designee pursuant to rules adopted by the Nevada Supreme Court or an entity designated by the Nevada Supreme Court. In addition, section 4 of this bill authorizes the Nevada Supreme Court to adopt rules providing for voluntary mediation with respect to a homeowner who is not in default but is at risk of default.

~~THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:~~

Section 1. Chapter 107 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. In addition to the requirements of NRS 107.085, the exercise of the power of sale pursuant to NRS 107.080 with respect to any trust agreement ~~[to which NRS 107.085 applies and]~~ which concerns owner-occupied housing is subject to the provisions of this section.

2. The trustee shall not exercise a power of sale pursuant to NRS 107.080 unless the trustee ~~[includes]~~ **:

(a) Includes in the notice required by subsection 2 of NRS 107.085:

~~[(a)]~~ (1) Contact information which the grantor may use to reach a person with authority to negotiate a loan modification on behalf of the ~~[trustee;~~

~~(b)]~~ beneficiary of the deed of trust;

(2) Contact information for at least one local housing counseling agency approved by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development; and

~~[(c)]~~ (3) A form upon which the grantor may indicate his election to enter into mediation or to waive mediation and one envelope addressed to the trustee and one envelope addressed to the ~~[Administrative Office of the Courts,]~~ Mediation Administrator, which the grantor may use to comply with the provisions of subsection 3 ~~[.]~~ **;

(b) Serves a copy of the notice upon the Mediation Administrator; and

(c) Causes to be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the trust property, or some part thereof, is situated:

(1) The certificate provided to the trustee by the Mediation Administrator pursuant to subsection 3 or 6 which provides that no mediation is required in the matter; or

(2) The certificate provided to the trustee by the Mediation Administrator pursuant to subsection 7 which provides that mediation has been completed in the matter.

3. The grantor shall, not later than 30 days after service of the notice upon him in the manner required by NRS 107.085, complete the form required by ~~[paragraph (c)]~~ subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a) of subsection 2 and return the form to the trustee by certified mail, return receipt requested. If the grantor indicates on the form his election to enter into mediation, the trustee shall notify the beneficiary of the deed of trust and every other person with an interest as defined in NRS 107.090, by certified mail, return receipt requested, of the election of the grantor to enter into mediation and file a copy of the form with the [Administrative Office of the Courts, which] Mediation Administrator, who shall assign the matter to a senior justice, judge, hearing master or other designee and schedule the matter for mediation. No further action may be taken to exercise the power of sale until the completion of the mediation. If the grantor indicates on the form his election to waive mediation or fails to return the form to the trustee as required by this [paragraph,] subsection, the trustee shall execute an affidavit attesting to that fact under penalty of perjury and serve a copy of the affidavit, together with the waiver of mediation by the grantor or proof of service on the grantor of the notice required by subsection 2 of this section and subsection 2 of NRS 107.080, upon the Mediation Administrator. Upon receipt of the affidavit and the waiver or proof of service, the Mediation Administrator shall provide to the trustee a certificate which provides that no mediation is required [.] in the matter.

4. Each mediation required by this section must be conducted by a senior justice, judge, hearing master or other designee pursuant to the rules adopted pursuant to subsection [7.] 8. The [trustee] beneficiary of the deed of trust or his representative and the grantor or his representative shall each attend the mediation. The [trustee] beneficiary of the deed of trust shall bring to the mediation the original or a certified copy of the deed of trust , [and] the mortgage note [to the mediation.] and each assignment of the deed of trust or mortgage note. If the [trustee] beneficiary of the deed of trust is represented at the mediation by another person, that person must have authority to negotiate a loan modification on behalf of the [trustee] beneficiary of the deed of trust or have access at all times during the mediation to a person with such authority.

5. If the [trustee] beneficiary of the deed of trust or his representative fails to attend the mediation, does not bring to the mediation each document required by subsection 4 or does not have the authority or access to a person with the authority required by subsection 4, the district court of the county in which the trust property, or some part thereof, is situated may issue an order requiring a loan modification in the manner determined proper by the court.

6. If the grantor fails to attend the mediation, the Mediation Administrator shall provide to the trustee a certificate which states that no mediation is required in the matter.

7. If the mediator determines that the parties, while acting in good faith, are not able to agree to a loan modification, the district court of the county in which the trust property, or some part thereof, is situated shall [dismiss] issue an order dismissing the matter and the [mediation shall be deemed] Mediation Administrator shall provide to the trustee a certificate which provides that the mediation required by this section has been completed [for the purposes of this section.] in the matter.

8. The Supreme Court or an entity designated by the Supreme Court shall adopt rules necessary to carry out the provisions of this section. The rules must, without limitation, include provisions:

(a) Designating an entity to serve as the Mediation Administrator pursuant to this section. The entities that may be so designated include, without limitation, the Administrative Office of the Courts, the District Court of the county in which the property is situated or any other judicial entity.

(b) Ensuring that mediations occur in an orderly and timely manner.

(c) Requiring each party to a mediation to provide such information as the mediator determines necessary.

(d) Establishing procedures to protect the mediation process from abuse and to ensure that each party to the mediation acts in good faith.

9. The provisions of this section do not apply if:

(a) The grantor has surrendered the property, as evidenced by a letter confirming the surrender or delivery of the keys to the property to the trustee, the beneficiary of the deed of trust or the mortgagee, or an authorized agent thereof; or

(b) A petition in bankruptcy has been filed with respect to the grantor under chapter 7, 11, 12 or 13 of Title 11 of the United States Code and the bankruptcy court has not entered an order closing or dismissing the case or granting relief from a stay of foreclosure.

10. A noncommercial lender is not excluded from the application of this section.

11. As used in this section:

(a) "Mediation Administrator" means the entity so designated pursuant to subsection 8.

(b) "Noncommercial lender" means a lender which makes a loan secured by a deed of trust on owner-occupied housing and which is not a bank, financial institution or other entity regulated pursuant to title 55 or 56 of NRS.

(c) "Owner-occupied housing" means housing that is occupied by the owner as his primary residence. The term does not include any time share or other property regulated under chapter 119A of NRS.

Sec. 2. NRS 107.080 is hereby amended to read as follows:

107.080 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 107.085, and section 1 of this act, if any transfer in trust of any estate in real property is made after March 29, 1927, to secure the performance of an obligation or the payment of any debt, a power of sale is hereby conferred upon the trustee to be exercised after a breach of the obligation for which the transfer is security.

2. The power of sale must not be exercised, however, until:

(a) In the case of any trust agreement coming into force:

(1) On or after July 1, 1949, and before July 1, 1957, the grantor, or his successor in interest, a beneficiary under a subordinate deed of trust or any other person who has a subordinate lien or encumbrance of record on the property, has for a period of 15 days, computed as prescribed in subsection 3, failed to make good the deficiency in performance or payment; or

(2) On or after July 1, 1957, the grantor, or his successor in interest, a beneficiary under a subordinate deed of trust or any other person who has a subordinate lien or encumbrance of record on the property, has for a period of 35 days, computed as prescribed in subsection 3, failed to make good the deficiency in performance or payment;

(b) The beneficiary, the successor in interest of the beneficiary or the trustee first executes and causes to be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county wherein the trust property, or some part thereof, is situated a notice of the breach and of his election to sell or cause to be sold the property to satisfy the obligation; and

(c) Not less than 3 months have elapsed after the recording of the notice.

3. The 15- or 35-day period provided in paragraph (a) of subsection 2 commences on the first day following the day upon which the notice of default and election to sell is recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is located and a copy of the notice of default and election to sell is mailed by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested and with postage prepaid to the grantor, and to the person who holds the title of record on the date the notice of default and election to sell is recorded, at their respective addresses, if known, otherwise to the address of the trust property. The notice of default and election to sell must describe the deficiency in performance or payment and may contain a notice of intent to declare the entire unpaid balance due if acceleration is permitted by the obligation secured by the deed of trust, but acceleration must not occur if the deficiency in performance or payment is made good and any costs, fees and expenses incident to the preparation or recordation of the notice and incident to the making good of the deficiency in performance or payment are paid within the time specified in subsection 2.

4. The trustee, or other person authorized to make the sale under the terms of the trust deed or transfer in trust, shall, after expiration of the 3-month period following the recording of the notice of breach and election to sell, and before the making of the sale, give notice of the time and place thereof by recording the notice of sale and by:

(a) Providing the notice to each trustor and any other person entitled to notice pursuant to this section by personal service or by mailing the notice by registered or certified mail to the last known address of the trustor and any other person entitled to such notice pursuant to this section;

(b) Posting a similar notice particularly describing the property, for 20 days successively, in three public places of the township or city where the property is situated and where the property is to be sold; and

(c) Publishing a copy of the notice three times, once each week for 3 consecutive weeks, in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the property is situated.

5. Every sale made under the provisions of this section and other sections of this chapter vests in the purchaser the title of the grantor and his successors in interest without equity or right of redemption. A sale made pursuant to this section may be declared void by any court of competent jurisdiction in the county where the sale took place if:

(a) The trustee or other person authorized to make the sale does not substantially comply with the provisions of this section;

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, an action is commenced in the county where the sale took place within 90 days after the date of the sale; and

(c) A notice of lis pendens providing notice of the pendency of the action is recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county where the sale took place within 30 days after commencement of the action.

6. If proper notice is not provided pursuant to subsection 3 or paragraph (a) of subsection 4 to the grantor, to the person who holds the title of record on the date the notice of default and election to sell is recorded, to each trustor or to any other person entitled to such notice, the person who did not receive such proper notice may commence an action pursuant to subsection 5 within 120 days after the date on which the person received actual notice of the sale.

7. The sale of a lease of a dwelling unit of a cooperative housing corporation vests in the purchaser title to the shares in the corporation which accompany the lease.

Sec. 3. NRS 107.085 is hereby amended to read as follows:

107.085 1. With regard to a transfer in trust of an estate in real property to secure the performance of an obligation or the payment of a debt, the provisions of this section apply to the exercise of a power of sale pursuant to NRS 107.080 only if:

(a) The trust agreement becomes effective on or after October 1, 2003 ~~[;~~ ~~and~~

~~(b) On]~~ , and, on the date the trust agreement is made, the trust agreement is subject to the provisions of § 152 of the Home Ownership and Equity Protection Act of 1994, 15 U.S.C. § 1602(aa), and the regulations adopted by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pursuant thereto, including, without limitation, 12 C.F.R. § 226.32 ~~[.]~~ ; or

(b) The trust agreement concerns owner-occupied housing as defined in section 1 of this act.

2. The trustee shall not exercise a power of sale pursuant to NRS 107.080 unless:

(a) In the manner required by subsection 3, not later than 60 days before the date of the sale, the trustee causes to be served upon the grantor a notice in the form described in subsection 3; and

(b) If an action is filed in a court of competent jurisdiction claiming an unfair lending practice in connection with the trust agreement, the date of the sale is not less than 30 days after the date the most recent such action is filed.

3. The notice described in subsection 2 must be:

(a) Served upon the grantor by personal service or, if personal service cannot be timely effected, in such other manner as a court determines is reasonably calculated to afford notice to the grantor; and

(b) In substantially the following form, with the applicable telephone numbers and mailing addresses provided on the notice and a copy of the promissory note attached to the notice:

4. This section does not prohibit a judicial foreclosure.

5. As used in this section, "unfair lending practice" means an unfair lending practice described in NRS 598D.010 to 598D.150, inclusive.

Sec. 4. Chapter 2 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

The Supreme Court may adopt rules providing for voluntary mediation with respect to a homeowner who is not in default but is at risk of default.

Sec. 5. NRS 459.646 is hereby amended to read as follows:

459.646 1. A person who, without participating in the management of a parcel of real property, holds or is the beneficiary of evidence of title to the property primarily to protect a security interest in the property is not a responsible party with respect to a release of a hazardous substance on the property if:

(a) The owner of the property is relieved from liability under NRS 459.610 to 459.658, inclusive, with respect to the release;

(b) The owner or holder of evidence of title did not cause the release; and

(c) The owner or holder of evidence of title does not participate actively in decisions concerning hazardous substances on the property.

2. A lender to a prospective purchaser who has filed an application to participate in the program pursuant to NRS 459.634 or a lender who forecloses his security interest in property pursuant to NRS 40.430 to 40.450, inclusive, or 107.080 to 107.100, inclusive, and section 1 of this act, and within a reasonable period after the foreclosure, not to exceed 2 years, sells, transfers or conveys the property to a prospective purchaser who has filed an application to participate in the program pursuant to NRS 459.634 is not a responsible party solely as a result of:

(a) Foreclosing a security interest in the property; or

(b) Making a loan to the prospective purchaser if the loan:

(1) Is to be used for acquiring property or removing or remediating hazardous substances on property; and

(2) Is secured by the property that is to be acquired or on which is located the hazardous substances that are to be removed or remediated.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Conklin moved that upon return from the printer Assembly Bill No. 149 be rereferred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Motion carried.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 264.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 115.

AN ACT relating to criminal procedure; revising provisions relating to procedures for the commitment to and conditional release from the custody of the Administrator of the Division of Mental Health and Developmental Services of the Department of Health and Human Services of certain criminal defendants whom the court finds to be incompetent; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides that if a court dismisses the proceedings against a defendant who is charged with a category A or category B felony because the court finds that the defendant is incompetent with no substantial probability of attaining competence in the foreseeable future, the prosecuting attorney is authorized to file a motion with the court for a hearing to determine whether to commit the person to the custody of the Administrator of the Division of Mental Health and Developmental Services of the Department of Health and Human Services. Section 4 of this bill amends existing law to provide that a prosecuting attorney may file such a motion if a court dismisses the proceedings against a defendant who is charged with any category A felony or certain listed category B felonies, rather than a defendant who is charged with any category A or any category B felony. Section 4 also ~~[provides that such a motion is required to include a comprehensive risk assessment completed by the Division]~~ : (1) requires a prosecuting attorney who files such a motion to request the Division to provide a comprehensive risk assessment which indicates whether the person requires the level of security provided by a forensic facility ~~[.]~~ ; and (2) requires the Division to provide the comprehensive risk assessment to the court, the prosecuting attorney and the person's counsel. (NRS 178.461)

Existing law also provides that if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the person has a mental disorder and is a danger to himself or others, the court is required to order that the person be committed to the custody of the Administrator until he is eligible for conditional release or after 10 years have passed, whichever period is shorter. Section 4 of this bill amends existing law to: (1) add that the person's dangerousness is required to be at a level that requires placement of the person at a forensic facility as a prerequisite to the court committing the person to the custody of the Administrator; and (2) authorize, rather than require, the court to commit a person to the custody of the Administrator in those circumstances. (NRS 178.461) Section 1 of this bill defines the term "forensic facility" for the purposes of those provisions.

Existing law provides the manner for determining eligibility for conditional release of a person committed to the custody of the Administrator pursuant to section 4 of this bill. Section 5 of this bill authorizes the Division or a person who is committed to the custody of the Administrator to petition the court which committed the person for conditional release. (NRS 178.463)

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. "Forensic facility" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 175.539.

Sec. 2. NRS 178.3981 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.3981 As used in NRS 178.3981 to 178.471, inclusive, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 178.3982 to 178.399, inclusive, and section 1 of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 3. NRS 178.460 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.460 1. If requested by the district attorney or counsel for the defendant within 10 days after the report by the Administrator or his designee is sent to them, the judge shall hold a hearing within 10 days after the request at which the district attorney and the defense counsel may examine the members of the treatment team on their report.

2. If the judge orders the appointment of a licensed psychiatrist or psychologist who is not employed by the Division to perform an additional evaluation and report concerning the defendant, the cost of the additional evaluation and report is a charge against the county.

3. Within 10 days after the hearing or 10 days after the report is sent, if no hearing is requested, the judge shall make and enter his finding of competence or incompetence, and if he finds the defendant to be incompetent:

(a) Whether there is substantial probability that the defendant can receive treatment to competency and will attain competency to stand trial or receive pronouncement of judgment in the foreseeable future; and

(b) Whether the defendant is at that time a danger to himself or to society.

4. If the judge finds the defendant:

(a) Competent, the judge shall, within 10 days, forward his finding to the prosecuting attorney and counsel for the defendant. Upon receipt thereof, the prosecuting attorney shall notify the sheriff of the county or chief of police of the city that the defendant has been found competent and prearrange with the facility for the return of the defendant to that county or city for trial upon the offense there charged or the pronouncement of judgment, as the case may be.

(b) Incompetent, but there is a substantial probability that he can receive treatment to competency and will attain competency to stand trial or receive pronouncement of judgment in the foreseeable future and finds that he is dangerous to himself or to society, the judge shall recommit the defendant and may order the involuntary administration of medication for the purpose of treatment to competency.

(c) Incompetent, but there is a substantial probability that he can receive treatment to competency and will attain competency to stand trial or receive pronouncement of judgment in the foreseeable future and finds that he is not dangerous to himself or to society, the judge shall order that the defendant remain an outpatient or be transferred to the status of an outpatient under the provisions of NRS 178.425.

(d) Incompetent, with no substantial probability of attaining competency in the foreseeable future, the judge shall order the defendant released from custody or, if the defendant is an outpatient, released from his obligations as an outpatient if, within 10 judicial days, the prosecuting attorney has not filed a motion pursuant to NRS 178.461 or if, within 10 judicial days, a petition is not filed to commit the person pursuant to NRS 433A.200. After the initial 10 judicial days, the person may remain an outpatient or in custody under the provisions of this chapter only as long as the motion or petition is pending unless the person is committed to the custody of the Administrator pursuant to NRS 178.461 or involuntarily committed pursuant to chapter 433A of NRS.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsection ~~[3]~~ 4 of NRS 178.461, no person who is committed under the provisions of this chapter may be held in the custody of the Administrator or his designee longer than the longest period of incarceration provided for the crime or crimes with which he is charged or 10 years, whichever period is shorter. Upon expiration of the applicable period provided in this section, subsection ~~[3]~~ 4 of NRS 178.461 or subsection ~~[3]~~ 4 of NRS 178.463, the person must be returned to the committing court for a determination as to whether or not involuntary commitment pursuant to chapter 433A of NRS is required.

Sec. 4. NRS 178.461 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.461 1. If the proceedings against a defendant who is charged with ~~[a]~~ any category A felony or a category B felony listed in subsection 6 are dismissed pursuant to subsection 5 of NRS 178.425, the prosecuting attorney may, within 10 judicial days after the dismissal, file a motion with the court for a hearing to determine whether to commit the person to the custody of the Administrator pursuant to subsection ~~[2.]~~ 3. The court shall hold the hearing within 10 judicial days after the motion is filed with the court.

2. ~~[A motion filed pursuant to subsection 1 must include, without limitation,]~~ If the prosecuting attorney files a motion pursuant to subsection 1, the prosecuting attorney shall, not later than the date on which he files the motion, request from the Division a comprehensive risk assessment ~~[completed by the Division]~~ which indicates whether the person requires the level of security provided by a forensic facility. The Division shall provide the requested comprehensive risk assessment to the court, the prosecuting attorney and counsel for the person not later than three judicial days before the hearing.

3. At a hearing held pursuant to subsection 1, if the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the person has a mental disorder , ~~[and]~~ that ~~[he]~~ the person is a danger to himself or others ~~[,]~~ and that the person's dangerousness is such that he requires placement at a forensic facility, the court ~~[must]~~ may order:

(a) The sheriff to take the person into protective custody and transport him to a ~~[division facility that is secure;]~~ forensic facility; and

(b) That the person be committed to the custody of the Administrator and kept under observation until the person is eligible for conditional release pursuant to NRS 178.463 or until the maximum length of commitment described in subsection ~~[3]~~ 4 has expired.

~~[3.]~~ 4. The length of commitment of a person pursuant to subsection ~~[2]~~ 3 must not exceed 10 years, including any time that the person has been on conditional release pursuant to NRS 178.463.

~~[4.]~~ 5. At least once every 12 months, the court shall review the eligibility of the defendant for conditional release.

6. The provisions of subsection 1 apply to any of the following category B felonies:

(a) Voluntary manslaughter pursuant to NRS 200.050;

(b) Mayhem pursuant to NRS 200.280;

(c) Kidnapping in the second degree pursuant to NRS 200.330;

(d) Assault with a deadly weapon pursuant to NRS 200.471;

(e) Battery with a deadly weapon pursuant to NRS 200.481;

(f) Aggravated stalking pursuant to NRS 200.575; ~~[and]~~

(g) First degree arson pursuant to NRS 205.010 ~~[.]~~ ***;

(h) Burglary with a deadly weapon pursuant to NRS 205.060;

(i) Invasion of the home with a deadly weapon pursuant to NRS 205.067;

(j) Any category B felony involving the use of a firearm; and

(k) Any attempt to commit a category A felony.

Sec. 5. NRS 178.463 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.463 1. The Division or a person who is committed to the custody of the Administrator pursuant to NRS 178.461 may petition the court which committed the person for conditional release.

2. A person who is committed to the custody of the Administrator pursuant to NRS 178.461 is eligible for conditional release only after:

(a) The Division has completed a comprehensive risk assessment concerning the person;

(b) A decision to release the person from commitment with conditions imposed by the court in consultation with the Division has been made based on input from the person's treatment team, the prosecuting attorney, the counsel for the person and the team that will supervise the person in the community; and

(c) The court which committed the person has approved the conditional release.

~~[~~2.~~]~~ 3. If a person is serving a period of conditional release pursuant to this section, the court must, at least once every 12 months, review the eligibility of the defendant for discharge from conditional release. If, at the conclusion of the review required by this subsection, the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that the person no longer has a mental disorder and that he is not a danger to himself or others, the court must discharge the person from conditional release.

~~[~~3.~~]~~ 4. The length of the period of conditional release must not exceed 10 years, including any time that the person has been committed to the custody of the Administrator pursuant to NRS 178.461 and 178.464.

Sec. 6. NRS 178.464 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.464 1. The Division shall notify the court which ordered the commitment of the person pursuant to NRS 178.461 if the person violates a condition of his release from commitment.

2. If the court is notified pursuant to subsection 1 of a violation, the court shall consult with the Division, the counsel for the person and the prosecuting attorney concerning the potential risk to the community that is posed by the noncompliance of the person with the conditions of release from commitment.

3. After consulting with the persons required by subsection 2 and considering the risks to the community, the court may issue a temporary order of detention to commit the person to custody ~~[~~,~~]~~ for evaluation, pending the hearing described in subsection 4. If the court issues such an order, the court must:

(a) Order the sheriff to take the person:

(1) Into protective custody and transport him to a forensic facility ; ~~[~~operated by the Division;~~]~~ or

(2) To a jail where the person must remain in protective custody; and

(b) Provide a copy of the order to the counsel for the person and the prosecuting attorney.

4. Within 10 days after a person has been committed to the custody of the Administrator for evaluation pursuant to subsection 3, the court shall hold a hearing to determine whether to continue, modify or terminate the conditional release of the defendant.

~~[~~5. As used in this section, "forensic facility" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 175.539.~~]~~

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblymen Denis, Smith, Parnell, Mastroluca, Aizley, Anderson, Arberry, Atkinson, Bobzien, Buckley, Carpenter, Christensen, Claborn, Cobb, Conklin, Dondero Loop, Gansert, Goedhart, Goicoechea, Grady, Gustavson, Hambrick, Hardy, Hogan, Horne, Kihuen, Kirkpatrick, Koivisto, Leslie, Manendo, McArthur, McClain, Mortenson, Munford, Oceguera, Ohrenschall, Pierce, Segerblom, Settelmeyer, Spiegel, Stewart and Woodbury; Senators Amodei, Breeden, Care, Carlton, Cegavske, Coffin, Copening, Hardy, Horsford, Lee, Mathews, McGinness, Nolan, Parks, Raggio, Rhoads, Schneider, Townsend, Washington, Wiener and Woodhouse:

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 27—Honoring the Nevada Parent Teacher Association for its dedicated service in Nevada.

WHEREAS, The Nevada Parent Teacher Association was founded in 1940 and serves our State as the largest volunteer advocacy group for children, families and teachers, placing emphasis on promoting active family involvement in the schools throughout our State; and

WHEREAS, The membership of the Nevada PTA is open to everyone and is as inclusive and diverse as the children for whom the members advocate, with representation from different economic, ethnic, religious, political and cultural backgrounds; and

WHEREAS, The organizational scheme of the Nevada PTA begins with volunteers who form local units that may join together to form councils, which compose PTA regions, and membership in the statewide unit, the Battle Born PTA, is open to everyone; and

WHEREAS, Each higher tier of the organization provides support for the groups of which it is composed, with the councils providing training, support, materials and expertise to the local units, the regions establishing close working relationships with councils and units to furnish service, training and networking opportunities, and the state level assisting in whatever way it is needed to achieve *one*voice for *every*child; and

WHEREAS, The mission of the Nevada PTA is threefold, first, to support and speak on behalf of children in our schools, in the community and before governmental bodies and organizations that make decisions affecting them, second, to assist parents in developing the skills they need to raise and protect their children, and third, to encourage parent and public involvement with the teachers of our schools, all at no cost to the State; and

WHEREAS, Throughout the 68 years since its inception, the Nevada PTA has contributed money needed to foster education in Nevada and has served our State through a multitude of programs, such as the Carry the Card program by which businesses offer discounts to PTA members, a website for booking vacations with discounted prices, contests for promotion of the arts, training programs for parents that encourage partnership with teachers and community members to build the future together, leadership programs and myriad other projects to foster the well-being of the young people in this State; and

WHEREAS, To achieve one of the most significant objectives of the Nevada PTA, the advocacy of legislation that enhances the health, education and welfare of our children, the Nevada PTA outlines positions, brings them to the forefront during legislative sessions and encourages the commitment to a quality education for all children; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the Nevada Legislature honor the Nevada Parent Teacher

Association for the dedicated service of its volunteers and express profound gratitude for the contributions they make to Nevada's children, parents and teachers.

Assemblyman Denis moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Denis, Smith, Mastroluca, Christensen, Parnell, Anderson, and Hambrick.

Assemblyman Oceguera requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN DENIS:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 27. We had a discussion a couple of days ago about some immigrants in the 1890s—two women from Washington, D.C., Freebie A. Hurst and Alice M. Burney. They were greatly concerned about the nation's children. The United States was feeling the enormous impact of the Industrial Revolution, and an immense wave of immigration was flowing into the country. Children worked in factories, in mines, and in the streets of the cities. Some could not attend school or obtain enough food to eat. What could be done? They decided that the children of America needed a voice. They sent out a call to action and anticipated that maybe 200 mothers would respond. However, on February 17, 1897, more than 2,000 mothers, fathers, teachers, workers, and politicians gathered for the very first PTA meeting.

After setting bylaws and marking out areas that needed to be addressed, the group began its quest for children's safety, health, and productive futures. By the early 1900s, the PTA had grown in numbers and in strength. Their hard work and perseverance led to the creation of kindergarten classes, juvenile justice systems, and child labor laws. Other things that the founders helped create and get done throughout the years have been the hot lunch program, public health programs, mandatory immunizations for school, physical education classes in public schools, sex education for preteens, and increased wages for teachers. The television content ratings you see on the television today are things that the PTA has advocated for.

In 1940, concerned parents in Nevada created the Nevada PTA. It has continued to function so that today, it is the largest and oldest child advocacy group in Nevada. The Nevada PTA is beginning its seventieth year of advocating for Nevada's children. For almost 70 years, the Nevada PTA has promoted the education, health, and safety of children, youth, and families. They have advocated for education and health all of these years.

As the challenges have changed, the Nevada PTA has also evolved. Today the Nevada PTA continues its fight for children. PTA members help parents learn skills that they need to raise happy, confident children. There are local PTA programs in every level of the public school system, including elementary schools, middle schools, high schools, as well as special education schools and programs, and all of them work tirelessly to bring the home and school closer together so that parents can take an active role in their children's education and future. In addition, many of Nevada's leaders have been trained by Nevada PTA. It is with great honor that I bring the resolution before you today, and I urge your support of the resolution.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SMITH:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 27. I could not support this resolution more. It may make some of my colleagues change their minds about supporting it when I say that I probably wouldn't be here if it wasn't for the PTA. It is really the truth. I started out as a mom of a kindergartener that went to a meeting one day, and you know how it goes—the next thing I knew I was the treasurer.

I have been involved with this organization for 20 years and have served on the National Board and actually was involved with writing the parent involvement book that the National PTA wrote. I have learned so much. I have watched so many of my friends and colleagues, many in this house, have amazing opportunities for leadership development and learn about the many issues that affect our children, both in school and in our communities. Education policy is hard to learn and ever evolving, and this organization does such an amazing job of teaching its advocates and volunteers. I am so honored to be a lifetime member of the organization and urge my colleagues to support the resolution. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MASTROLUCA:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 27. My story is very similar to that of my colleague from the north—the only difference is I wasn't smart enough to say, "No, thank you!" when they asked me to be president at the first meeting. So the first meeting I ever went to was the meeting I chaired as president. I just kind of got sucked in after that and moved up in to the Nevada PTA Board. It was a wonderful experience and has been a life-changing experience for me. I, too, would not be standing here today if it wasn't for the experience I had in being part of this organization that has made such a positive impact on so many people's lives—not just the people that you see, not just the people who are visible in the community, but on the children—that is really what it is about. This organization makes an impact on the lives of every single child, whether that child belongs to PTA or whether that child goes to a school that has a PTA. They still care about every single child. I am so proud to be a part of such a wonderful organization.

ASSEMBLYMAN CHRISTENSEN:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of ACR 27. I really appreciate the remarks from my colleagues who spoke before me. In this day and age, in this state and here in this building, we work so hard to see our children achieve and to do well and to see academic excellence. I have, from the committees that I have been able to serve on, related to education in the last few years. It has become my firm opinion that the best way to get there is to evaluate policy and to do everything we can to help education. It is parents caring, getting involved, volunteering, and going to those meetings and getting sucked into serving.

I will have to give my wife a heads up; she is engaged in the PTA in our school. I think it is great that you are all here today—those parents who are there serving and this organization being put together with that mission in mind—and I support the resolution. I appreciate the opportunity to speak.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN PARNELL:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise to support ACR 27. I joined the PTA Board of Directors 30 years ago. I would have to say that probably today, more than ever, we need you. We need parent involvement. Parent involvement is something that crosses party lines. It is not geographic. We all need to come together and to continue to do what is best, not only for your children, but for all the children. I just stand to thank you for all that you do.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I, too, rise in support of ACR 27. As we heard in the resolution, it has been an evolutionary organization. When I look at the changes that have taken place in education, I see at the forefront of every one of those fights, whether it was bringing new technology into the modern age or expanding for physical education programs, the PTA. The continual activity of the PTA extends way beyond just "my child" and that little time period when they are in the educational institution. The PTA has left a lasting mark. It has raised the boat of education for all, evolving from an elite group to one that broadened to every level of our society without that requirement of "my child has to be included." Every child, every day, is the most important—the parent brings that focus. When the child knows that the parent is involved, they are also involved. That communication line is open. The PTA provides that, and therefore, the PTA is absolutely essential. Their hard work can't be complimented enough.

ASSEMBLYMAN HAMBRICK:

Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in support of the resolution. Like my colleague from District 29, I was not smart enough to say no. I left the room and came back in and was president of the PTA.

It is a good day to recognize them because April is Child Abuse Awareness Month. The PTA I was involved with in Dumfries, Virginia, was focused on that for almost a year and brought this issue to the forefront in suburban D.C. and in northern Virginia. Without the PTA in that area, untold harm would have been done to our youngsters. They brought this issue countywide. I will never forget that. I have been involved in other youth issues, but the PTA was the start of my involvement. I am very, very grateful.

Resolution adopted.

Assemblyman Denis moved that all rules be suspended and that Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 27 be immediately transmitted to the Senate.

Motion carried unanimously.

Madam Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 10.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 56.

AN ACT relating to health care; prohibiting certain retaliation or discrimination against registered nurses, licensed practical nurses and nursing assistants who report certain information, refuse to engage in certain conduct or participate in certain investigations or proceedings relating to the safety of patients; providing civil remedies and civil penalties for violations; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law prohibits a medical facility, physician or osteopathic physician from retaliating or discriminating against an employee who reports information concerning the conduct of a physician or osteopathic physician to the Board of Medical Examiners or the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine, reports a sentinel event to the Health Division of the Department of Health and Human Services or cooperates or participates in an investigation or proceeding conducted by the Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine or another governmental entity concerning the conduct or sentinel event. Existing law also prohibits such retaliation or discrimination against a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who refuses to provide nursing services that he does not have the knowledge, skill or experience to provide. (NRS 449.205, 630.293, 633.505)

Sections 1, 3 and 5 of this bill provide additional protection against retaliation or discrimination for a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who: (1) reports certain information or concerns regarding the safety of patients; or (2) refuses to engage in conduct which would violate his duty to protect patients from actual or potential harm or which would subject him to disciplinary action by the State Board of Nursing.

Existing law provides that an employee of a medical facility, physician or osteopathic physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility, physician or osteopathic physician may file an action in court based on retaliation or discrimination. (NRS 449.207, 630.296, 633.507) Sections 2, 4 and 6 of this bill expand these provisions by authorizing the court in such an action to award compensatory damages, reimbursement of lost wages and benefits, attorney's fees and punitive damages and to grant any equitable relief it considers appropriate. Sections 2, 4 and 6 also provide that the Attorney General or any district attorney of this State may bring a civil action in the name of the State of Nevada to recover a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for each such act of retaliation or discrimination.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 449.205 is hereby amended to read as follows:

449.205 1. A medical facility or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against:

(a) An employee of the medical facility or a person acting on behalf of the employee who in good faith:

(1) Reports to the Board of Medical Examiners or the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine, as applicable, information relating to the conduct of a physician which may constitute grounds for initiating disciplinary action against the physician or which otherwise raises a reasonable question regarding the competence of the physician to practice medicine with reasonable skill and safety to patients;

(2) Reports a sentinel event to the Health Division pursuant to NRS 439.835; or

(3) Cooperates or otherwise participates in an investigation or proceeding conducted by the Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine or another governmental entity relating to conduct described in subparagraph (1) or (2) ~~[.]~~ ; or

(b) A registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility and who ~~[, in]~~ ***:

(1) In accordance with the policy, if any, established by the medical facility:

~~[(1)]~~ (I) Reports to his immediate supervisor, in writing, that he does not possess the knowledge, skill or experience to comply with an assignment to provide nursing services to a patient; and

~~[(2)]~~ (II) Refuses to provide to a patient nursing services for which, as verified by documentation in the personnel file of the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant concerning his competence to provide various nursing services, he does not possess the knowledge, skill or experience to comply with the assignment to provide nursing services to the patient, unless ~~[such]~~ the refusal constitutes unprofessional conduct as set forth in chapter 632 of NRS or any regulations adopted pursuant thereto ~~[.]~~ ***;

(2) Reports to the medical facility, the Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine, the State Board of Nursing, the Legislature or any committee thereof or any other governmental entity:

(I) Any information concerning the willful conduct of another registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant which violates any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which is required to be reported to the State Board of Nursing;

(II) Any concerns regarding patients who may be exposed to a substantial risk of harm as a result of the failure of the medical facility or any agent or employee thereof to comply with minimum professional or accreditation standards or applicable statutory or regulatory requirements; or

(III) Any other concerns regarding the medical facility, the agents and employees thereof or any situation that reasonably could result in harm to patients; or

(3) Refuses to engage in conduct that would violate the duty of the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to protect patients from actual or potential harm, including, without limitation, conduct which would violate any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which would subject the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to disciplinary action by the State Board of Nursing.

2. A medical facility or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against an employee of the medical facility or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility because the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant has taken an action described in subsection 1.

3. A medical facility or any agent or employee thereof shall not prohibit, restrict or attempt to prohibit or restrict by contract, policy, procedure or any other manner the right of an employee of the medical facility or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility to take an action described in subsection 1.

4. As used in this section:

(a) "Physician" means a person licensed to practice medicine pursuant to chapter 630 or 633 of NRS.

(b) "Retaliate or discriminate":

(1) Includes, without limitation, any of the following ~~[action if such action is]~~ actions if taken solely because the employee , ~~[or the]~~ registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant took an action described in subsection 1:

(I) Frequent or undesirable changes in the location where the ~~[~~employee~~]~~ person works;

(II) Frequent or undesirable transfers or reassignments;

(III) The issuance of letters of reprimand, letters of admonition or evaluations of poor performance;

(IV) A demotion;

(V) A reduction in pay;

(VI) The denial of a promotion;

(VII) A suspension;

(VIII) A dismissal;

(IX) A transfer; or

(X) Frequent changes in working hours or workdays.

(2) Does not include an action described in sub-subparagraphs (I) to (X), inclusive, of subparagraph (1) if the action is taken in the normal course of employment or as a form of discipline.

Sec. 2. NRS 449.207 is hereby amended to read as follows:

449.207 1. An employee of a medical facility or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility and who believes that he has been retaliated or discriminated against in violation of NRS 449.205 may file an action in a court of competent jurisdiction . ~~[~~for such relief as may be appropriate under the law.~~]~~

2. If a court determines that a violation of NRS 449.205 has occurred, the court may award such damages as it determines to have resulted from the violation, including, without limitation:

(a) Compensatory damages;

(b) Reimbursement of any wages, salary, employment benefits or other compensation denied to or lost by the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant as a result of the violation;

(c) Attorney's fees and costs, including, without limitation, fees for expert witnesses; and

(d) Punitive damages, if the facts warrant.

3. The court shall award interest on the amount of damages at a rate determined pursuant to NRS 17.130.

4. The court may grant any equitable relief it considers appropriate, including, without limitation, reinstatement of the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant and any temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief.

5. If any action ~~[described in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) of subsection 4 of NRS 449.205]~~ to retaliate or discriminate is taken against an employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant within 60 days after the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant takes any action described in subsection 1 of NRS 449.205, there is a rebuttable presumption that the action taken against the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant constitutes retaliation or discrimination in violation of NRS 449.205.

6. A medical facility or any agent or employee thereof that violates the provisions of NRS 449.205 is subject to a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for each violation. The Attorney General or any district attorney of this State may recover the penalty in a civil action brought in the name of the State of Nevada in any court of competent jurisdiction.

7. Any action under this section must be brought not later than 2 years after the date of the last event constituting the alleged violation for which the action is brought.

8. As used in this section, "retaliate or discriminate" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 449.205.

Sec. 3. NRS 630.293 is hereby amended to read as follows:

630.293 1. A physician or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against ~~[an]~~ ***:

(a) An employee of the physician or a person acting on behalf of the employee who in good faith:

~~[(a)]~~ (1) Reports to the Board of Medical Examiners information relating to the conduct of the physician which may constitute grounds for initiating disciplinary action against the physician or which otherwise raises a reasonable question regarding the competence of the physician to practice medicine with reasonable skill and safety to patients;

~~[(b)]~~ or

(2) Reports a sentinel event to the Health Division of the Department of Health and Human Services pursuant to NRS 439.835;

(b) A registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the physician and who:

(1) Reports to the physician, the Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of Nursing, the Legislature or any committee thereof or any other governmental entity:

(I) Any information concerning the willful conduct of another registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant which violates any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which is required to be reported to the State Board of Nursing;

(II) Any concerns regarding patients who may be exposed to a substantial risk of harm as a result of the failure of the physician or any agent or employee thereof to comply with minimum professional or accreditation standards or applicable statutory or regulatory requirements; or

(III) Any other concerns regarding the physician, the agents and employees thereof or any situation that reasonably could result in harm to patients; or

(2) Refuses to engage in conduct that would violate the duty of the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to protect patients from actual or potential harm, including, without limitation, conduct which would violate any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which would subject the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to disciplinary action by the State Board of Nursing; or

(c) ~~[~~Cooperates~~]~~ An employee of the physician, a person acting on behalf of the employee or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the physician and who cooperates or otherwise participates in an investigation or proceeding conducted by the Board of Medical Examiners or another governmental entity relating to conduct described in paragraph (a) or (b).

2. A physician or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against an employee of the physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the physician because the employee , registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant has taken an action described in subsection 1.

3. A physician or any agent or employee thereof shall not prohibit, restrict or attempt to prohibit or restrict by contract, policy, procedure or any other manner the right of an employee of the physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the physician to take an action described in subsection 1.

4. As used in this section, "retaliate or discriminate":

(a) Includes, without limitation, any of the following ~~[~~action if such action is~~]~~ actions if taken solely because the employee , registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant took an action described in subsection 1:

(1) Frequent or undesirable changes in the location where the ~~[~~employee~~]~~ person works;

(2) Frequent or undesirable transfers or reassignments;

(3) The issuance of letters of reprimand, letters of admonition or evaluations of poor performance;

(4) A demotion;

(5) A reduction in pay;

(6) The denial of a promotion;

(7) A suspension;

(8) A dismissal;

(9) A transfer; or

(10) Frequent changes in working hours or workdays.

(b) Does not include an action described in subparagraphs (1) to (10), inclusive, of paragraph (a) if the action is taken in the normal course of employment or as a form of discipline.

Sec. 4. NRS 630.296 is hereby amended to read as follows:

630.296 1. An employee of a physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the physician and who believes that he has been retaliated or discriminated against in violation of NRS 630.293 may file an action in a court of competent jurisdiction . ~~[for such relief as may be appropriate.]~~

2. If a court determines that a violation of NRS 630.293 has occurred, the court may award such damages as it determines to have resulted from the violation, including, without limitation:

(a) Compensatory damages;

(b) Reimbursement of any wages, salary, employment benefits or other compensation denied to or lost by the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant as a result of the violation;

(c) Attorney's fees and costs, including, without limitation, fees for expert witnesses; and

(d) Punitive damages, if the facts warrant.

3. The court shall award interest on the amount of damages at a rate determined pursuant to NRS 17.130.

4. The court may grant any equitable relief it considers appropriate, including, without limitation, reinstatement of the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant and any temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief.

5. If any action ~~[described in paragraph (a) of subsection 4 of NRS 630.293]~~ to retaliate or discriminate is taken against an employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant within 60 days after the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant takes any action described in subsection 1 of NRS 630.293, there is a rebuttable presumption that the action taken against the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant constitutes retaliation or discrimination in violation of NRS 630.293.

6. A physician or any agent or employee thereof that violates the provisions of NRS 630.293 is subject to a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for each violation. The Attorney General or any district attorney of this State may recover the penalty in a civil action brought in the name of the State of Nevada in any court of competent jurisdiction.

7. Any action under this section must be brought not later than 2 years after the date of the last event constituting the alleged violation for which the action is brought.

8. As used in this section, "retaliate or discriminate" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 630.293.

Sec. 5. NRS 633.505 is hereby amended to read as follows:

633.505 1. An osteopathic physician or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against ~~[an]~~ ***:

(a) An employee of the osteopathic physician or a person acting on behalf of the employee who in good faith:

~~[(a)]~~ (1) Reports to the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine information relating to the conduct of the osteopathic physician which may constitute grounds for initiating disciplinary action against the osteopathic physician or which otherwise raises a reasonable question regarding the competence of the osteopathic physician to practice medicine with reasonable skill and safety to patients;

(2) Reports a sentinel event to the Health Division of the Department of Health and Human Services pursuant to NRS 439.835;

(b) A registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the osteopathic physician and who:

(1) Reports to the osteopathic physician, the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine, the State Board of Nursing, the Legislature or any committee thereof or any other governmental entity:

(I) Any information concerning the willful conduct of another registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant which violates any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which is required to be reported to the State Board of Nursing;

(II) Any concerns regarding patients who may be exposed to a substantial risk of harm as a result of the failure of the osteopathic physician or any agent or employee thereof to comply with minimum professional or accreditation standards or applicable statutory or regulatory requirements; or

(III) Any other concerns regarding the osteopathic physician, the agents and employees thereof or any situation that reasonably could result in harm to patients; or

(2) Refuses to engage in conduct that would violate the duty of the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to protect patients from actual or potential harm, including, without limitation, conduct which would violate any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which would subject the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to disciplinary action by the State Board of Nursing; or

(c) ~~[Cooperates]~~ An employee of the osteopathic physician, a person acting on behalf of the employee or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the osteopathic physician and who cooperates or otherwise participates in an investigation or proceeding conducted by the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine or another governmental entity relating to conduct described in paragraph (a) or (b).

2. An osteopathic physician or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against an employee of the osteopathic physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the osteopathic physician because the employee , registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant has taken an action described in subsection 1.

3. An osteopathic physician or any agent or employee thereof shall not prohibit, restrict or attempt to prohibit or restrict by contract, policy, procedure or any other manner the right of an employee of the osteopathic physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the osteopathic physician to take an action described in subsection 1.

4. As used in this section, "retaliate or discriminate":

(a) Includes, without limitation, any of the following ~~[~~action if such action is~~]~~ actions if taken solely because the employee , registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant took an action described in subsection 1:

(1) Frequent or undesirable changes in the location where the ~~[~~employee~~]~~ person works;

(2) Frequent or undesirable transfers or reassignments;

(3) The issuance of letters of reprimand, letters of admonition or evaluations of poor performance;

(4) A demotion;

(5) A reduction in pay;

(6) The denial of a promotion;

(7) A suspension;

(8) A dismissal;

(9) A transfer; or

(10) Frequent changes in working hours or workdays.

(b) Does not include an action described in subparagraphs (1) to (10), inclusive, of paragraph (a) if the action is taken in the normal course of employment or as a form of discipline.

Sec. 6. NRS 633.507 is hereby amended to read as follows:

633.507 1. An employee of an osteopathic physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the osteopathic physician and who believes that he has been retaliated or discriminated against in violation of NRS 633.505 may file an action in a court of competent jurisdiction . ~~[~~for such relief as may be appropriate under the law.~~]~~

2. If a court determines that a violation of NRS 633.505 has occurred, the court may award such damages as it determines to have resulted from the violation, including, without limitation:

(a) Compensatory damages;

(b) Reimbursement of any wages, salary, employment benefits or other compensation denied to or lost by the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant as a result of the violation;

(c) Attorney's fees and costs, including, without limitation, fees for expert witnesses; and

(d) Punitive damages, if the facts warrant.

3. The court shall award interest on the amount of damages at a rate determined pursuant to NRS 17.130.

4. The court may grant any equitable relief it considers appropriate, including, without limitation, reinstatement of the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant and any temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief.

5. If any action ~~[described in paragraph (a) of subsection 4 of NRS 633.505]~~ to retaliate or discriminate is taken against an employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant within 60 days after the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant takes any action described in subsection 1 of NRS 633.505, there is a rebuttable presumption that the action taken against the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant constitutes retaliation or discrimination in violation of NRS 633.505.

6. An osteopathic physician or any agent or employee thereof that violates the provisions of NRS 633.505 is subject to a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for each violation. The Attorney General or any district attorney of this State may recover the penalty in a civil action brought in the name of the State of Nevada in any court of competent jurisdiction.

7. Any action under this section must be brought not later than 2 years after the date of the last event constituting the alleged violation for which the action is brought.

8. As used in this section, "retaliate or discriminate" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 633.505.

Sec. 7. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2009.

Assemblywoman Smith moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Smith.

Amendment adopted.

The following amendment was proposed by Assemblyman Hardy:

Amendment No. 104.

AN ACT relating to health care; prohibiting certain retaliation or discrimination against registered nurses, licensed practical nurses and nursing assistants who report certain information, refuse to engage in certain conduct or participate in certain investigations or proceedings relating to the safety of patients; providing civil remedies and civil penalties for violations; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law prohibits a medical facility, physician or osteopathic physician from retaliating or discriminating against an employee who reports in good faith information concerning the conduct of a physician or osteopathic physician to the Board of Medical Examiners or the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine, reports a sentinel event to the Health Division of the Department of Health and Human Services or cooperates or participates in an investigation or proceeding conducted by the Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine or another governmental entity concerning the conduct or sentinel event. Existing law also prohibits such retaliation or discrimination against a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who refuses to provide nursing services that he does not have the knowledge, skill or experience to provide. (NRS 449.205, 630.293, 633.505)

Sections 1, 3 and 5 of this bill provide additional protection against retaliation or discrimination for a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who: (1) reports in good faith certain information or concerns regarding the safety of patients; or (2) refuses to engage in conduct which would violate his duty to protect patients from actual or potential harm or which would subject him to disciplinary action by the State Board of Nursing. Sections 1, 3 and 5 also add a definition of "good faith" for purposes of the reporting.

Existing law provides that an employee of a medical facility, physician or osteopathic physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility, physician or osteopathic physician may file an action in court based on retaliation or discrimination. (NRS 449.207, 630.296, 633.507) Sections 2, 4 and 6 of this bill expand these provisions by authorizing the court in such an action to award compensatory damages, reimbursement of lost wages and benefits, attorney's fees and punitive damages and to grant any equitable relief it considers appropriate. Sections 2, 4 and 6 also provide that the Attorney General or any district attorney of this State may bring a civil action in the name of the State of Nevada to recover a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for each such act of retaliation or discrimination.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 449.205 is hereby amended to read as follows:

449.205 1. A medical facility or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against:

(a) An employee of the medical facility or a person acting on behalf of the employee who in good faith:

(1) Reports to the Board of Medical Examiners or the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine, as applicable, information relating to the conduct of a physician which may constitute grounds for initiating disciplinary action against the physician or which otherwise raises a reasonable question regarding the competence of the physician to practice medicine with reasonable skill and safety to patients;

(2) Reports a sentinel event to the Health Division pursuant to NRS 439.835; or

(3) Cooperates or otherwise participates in an investigation or proceeding conducted by the Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of

Osteopathic Medicine or another governmental entity relating to conduct described in subparagraph (1) or (2) ~~[.]~~ ; or

(b) A registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility and who ~~[, in]~~ ***:

(1) In accordance with the policy, if any, established by the medical facility:

~~[(1)]~~ (I) Reports to his immediate supervisor, in writing, that he does not possess the knowledge, skill or experience to comply with an assignment to provide nursing services to a patient; and

~~[(2)]~~ (II) Refuses to provide to a patient nursing services for which, as verified by documentation in the personnel file of the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant concerning his competence to provide various nursing services, he does not possess the knowledge, skill or experience to comply with the assignment to provide nursing services to the patient, unless ~~[such]~~ the refusal constitutes unprofessional conduct as set forth in chapter 632 of NRS or any regulations adopted pursuant thereto ~~[.]~~ ***;

(2) Reports to the medical facility, the Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine, the State Board of Nursing, the Legislature or any committee thereof or any other governmental entity:

(I) Any information concerning the conduct of another registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant which violates any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which is required to be reported to the State Board of Nursing;

(II) Any concerns regarding patients who may be exposed to a substantial risk of harm as a result of the failure of the medical facility or any agent or employee thereof to comply with minimum professional or accreditation standards or applicable statutory or regulatory requirements; or

(III) Any other concerns regarding the medical facility, the agents and employees thereof or any situation that reasonably could result in harm to patients; or

(3) Refuses to engage in conduct that would violate the duty of the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to protect patients from actual or potential harm, including, without limitation, conduct which would violate any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which would subject the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to disciplinary action by the State Board of Nursing.

2. A medical facility or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against an employee of the medical facility or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility because the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant has taken an action described in subsection 1.

3. A medical facility or any agent or employee thereof shall not prohibit, restrict or attempt to prohibit or restrict by contract, policy, procedure or any other manner the right of an employee of the medical facility or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility to take an action described in subsection 1.

4. As used in this section:

(a) An employee or other person makes a report in "good faith" pursuant to this section if he provides the information or report of improper activity with a reasonable basis in fact for reporting or providing the information. An employee or other person who knowingly provides or reports, or who reasonably ought to know he is providing or reporting, malicious, false or frivolous information, or information that is provided in reckless disregard for the truth, or who knowingly omits relevant information is not acting in good faith.

(b) "Physician" means a person licensed to practice medicine pursuant to chapter 630 or 633 of NRS.

~~[(b)]~~ (c) "Retaliate or discriminate":

(1) Includes, without limitation, any of the following ~~[action if such action is]~~ actions if taken solely because the employee , ~~[or the]~~ registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant took an action described in subsection 1:

(I) Frequent or undesirable changes in the location where the ~~[employee]~~ person works;

(II) Frequent or undesirable transfers or reassignments;

(III) The issuance of letters of reprimand, letters of admonition or evaluations of poor performance;

(IV) A demotion;

(V) A reduction in pay;

(VI) The denial of a promotion;

(VII) A suspension;

(VIII) A dismissal;

(IX) A transfer; or

(X) Frequent changes in working hours or workdays.

(2) Does not include an action described in sub-subparagraphs (I) to (X), inclusive, of subparagraph (1) if the action is taken in the normal course of employment or as a form of discipline.

Sec. 2. NRS 449.207 is hereby amended to read as follows:

449.207 1. An employee of a medical facility or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the medical facility and who believes that he has been retaliated or discriminated against in violation of NRS 449.205 may file an action in a court of competent jurisdiction . ~~[for such relief as may be appropriate under the law.]~~

2. If a court determines that a violation of NRS 449.205 has occurred, the court may award such damages as it determines to have resulted from the violation, including, without limitation:

(a) Compensatory damages;

(b) Reimbursement of any wages, salary, employment benefits or other compensation denied to or lost by the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant as a result of the violation;

(c) Attorney's fees and costs, including, without limitation, fees for expert witnesses; and

(d) Punitive damages, if the facts warrant.

3. The court shall award interest on the amount of damages at a rate determined pursuant to NRS 17.130.

4. The court may grant any equitable relief it considers appropriate, including, without limitation, reinstatement of the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant and any temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief.

5. If any action described in subparagraph (1) of paragraph ~~[(b)]~~ (c) of subsection 4 of NRS 449.205 is taken against an employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant within 60 days after the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant takes any action described in subsection 1 of NRS 449.205, there is a rebuttable presumption that the action taken against the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant constitutes retaliation or discrimination in violation of NRS 449.205.

6. A medical facility or any agent or employee thereof that violates the provisions of NRS 449.205 is subject to a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for each violation. The Attorney General or any district attorney of this State may recover the penalty in a civil action brought in the name of the State of Nevada in any court of competent jurisdiction.

7. Any action under this section must be brought not later than 2 years after the date of the last event constituting the alleged violation for which the action is brought.

Sec. 3. NRS 630.293 is hereby amended to read as follows:

630.293 1. A physician or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against ~~[an]~~ ***:

(a) An employee of the physician or a person acting on behalf of the employee who in good faith:

~~[(a)]~~ (1) Reports to the Board of Medical Examiners information relating to the conduct of the physician which may constitute grounds for initiating disciplinary action against the physician or which otherwise raises a reasonable question regarding the competence of the physician to practice medicine with reasonable skill and safety to patients;

~~[(b)]~~ or

(2) Reports a sentinel event to the Health Division of the Department of Health and Human Services pursuant to NRS 439.835;

(b) A registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the physician and who:

(1) Reports to the physician, the Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of Nursing, the Legislature or any committee thereof or any other governmental entity:

(I) Any information concerning the conduct of another registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant which violates any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which is required to be reported to the State Board of Nursing;

(II) Any concerns regarding patients who may be exposed to a substantial risk of harm as a result of the failure of the physician or any agent or employee thereof to comply with minimum professional or accreditation standards or applicable statutory or regulatory requirements; or

(III) Any other concerns regarding the physician, the agents and employees thereof or any situation that reasonably could result in harm to patients; or

(2) Refuses to engage in conduct that would violate the duty of the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to protect patients from actual or potential harm, including, without limitation, conduct which would violate any provision of chapter 632 of NRS or which would subject the registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant to disciplinary action by the State Board of Nursing; or

(c) ~~[~~Cooperates~~]~~ An employee of the physician, a person acting on behalf of the employee or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the physician and who cooperates or otherwise participates in an investigation or proceeding conducted by the Board of Medical Examiners or another governmental entity relating to conduct described in paragraph (a) or (b).

2. A physician or any agent or employee thereof shall not retaliate or discriminate unfairly against an employee of the physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the physician because the employee , registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant has taken an action described in subsection 1.

3. A physician or any agent or employee thereof shall not prohibit, restrict or attempt to prohibit or restrict by contract, policy, procedure or any other manner the right of an employee of the physician or a registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant who is employed by or contracts to provide nursing services for the physician to take an action described in subsection 1.

4. As used in this section : ~~[, "retaliate or discriminate".]~~

(b) Reimbursement of any wages, salary, employment benefits or other compensation denied to or lost by the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant as a result of the violation;

(c) Attorney's fees and costs, including, without limitation, fees for expert witnesses; and

(d) Punitive damages, if the facts warrant.

3. The court shall award interest on the amount of damages at a rate determined pursuant to NRS 17.130.

4. The court may grant any equitable relief it considers appropriate, including, without limitation, reinstatement of the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant and any temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief.

5. If any action described in paragraph ~~[(a)]~~ (b) of subsection 4 of NRS 633.505 is taken against an employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant within 60 days after the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant takes any action described in subsection 1 of NRS 633.505, there is a rebuttable presumption that the action taken against the employee, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse or nursing assistant constitutes retaliation or discrimination in violation of NRS 633.505.

6. An osteopathic physician or any agent or employee thereof that violates the provisions of NRS 633.505 is subject to a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 for each violation. The Attorney General or any district attorney of this State may recover the penalty in a civil action brought in the name of the State of Nevada in any court of competent jurisdiction.

7. Any action under this section must be brought not later than 2 years after the date of the last event constituting the alleged violation for which the action is brought.

Assemblywoman Smith moved that upon return from the printer, Assembly Bill No. 10 be placed on the Chief Clerk's desk.

Motion carried.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 16.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 86.

AN ACT relating to emergency medical services; providing for the disclosure of certain information to an emergency response employee concerning possible exposure to an infectious disease; requiring certain notifications concerning such an exposure; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 6 of this bill requires each employer of emergency response employees in this State to designate ~~[an]~~ at least one employee to serve as ~~[the]~~ a designated officer to act on behalf of its emergency response employees with regard to their possible exposure to infectious diseases.

Section 7 of this bill requires a medical facility to notify ~~[the]~~ a designated officer of an emergency response employee who transported a victim of an emergency who the medical facility determines has an airborne infectious disease. Section 8 of this bill authorizes an emergency response employee to request that his designated officer make an initial determination of the employee's possible exposure to an infectious disease. Section 9 of this bill requires a medical facility to respond to a request from a designated officer of an emergency response employee regarding whether the employee may have been exposed to an infectious disease once the medical facility makes such a determination. Section 10 of this bill provides that if information was insufficient for a medical facility to determine whether an emergency response employee was exposed to an infectious disease, the health officer in whose jurisdiction the medical facility is located shall evaluate the request and the response of the medical facility. Section 11 of this bill requires a designated officer to notify each emergency response employee who responded to an emergency and may have been exposed to an infectious disease of the determination of the medical facility. Section 12 of this bill provides limitations on the liability of a medical facility or designated officer and clarifies that the provisions of this bill do not authorize an emergency response employee to fail to respond or deny services to a victim of an emergency. Section 12 further provides that this bill does not authorize or require a medical facility to test any victim of an emergency for the presence of an infectious disease and does not authorize or require certain persons to disclose the identity of such a victim or an emergency response employee.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 450B of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 to 12, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 2. "Designated officer" means a person designated by an employer to serve as ~~[the]~~ a designated officer for its emergency response employees pursuant to section 6 of this act.

Sec. 3. "Emergency response employee" means a firefighter, attendant, volunteer attendant, emergency medical technician, intermediate emergency medical technician, advanced emergency medical technician or other person who, in the course of his professional duties, responds to emergencies in this State.

Sec. 4. "Exposed" or "exposure" means any circumstances which create a significant risk of a person becoming infected with an infectious disease.

Sec. 5. "Infectious disease" means a disease caused by a living organism or other pathogen, including, without limitation, a fungus, bacillus, parasite, protozoan or virus.

Sec. 6. Each employer of emergency response employees in this State shall designate ~~[an]~~ at least one employee to serve as ~~[the]~~ a designated officer to receive notifications and responses and make requests on behalf of its emergency response employees pursuant to sections 2 to 12, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 7. 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 441A.195, if a victim of an emergency is transported by emergency response employees to a medical facility and the medical facility determines that the victim has an airborne infectious disease, the medical facility shall notify ~~[the]~~ a designated officer of the emergency response employees of that determination.

2. If a victim of an emergency is transported by emergency response employees to a medical facility, the victim dies at or before reaching the medical facility and the medical facility determines the cause of death of the victim, the medical facility shall notify ~~[the]~~ a designated officer of the emergency response employees of any determination by the medical facility that the victim had an airborne infectious disease.

3. The medical facility to which the victim is transported shall cause the notification required by subsection 1 or 2 to be made as soon as practicable, but not later than 48 hours after the determination is made.

4. The notification must include, without limitation:

(a) The name of the airborne infectious disease to which the emergency response employees may have been exposed; and

(b) The date on which the victim of the emergency was transported by the emergency response employees to the medical facility.

5. As used in this section, "airborne infectious disease" means an infectious disease transmitted from person to person by an aerosol, including, without limitation, tuberculosis.

Sec. 8. 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 441A.195, if an emergency response employee believes that he may have been exposed to an infectious disease by a victim of an emergency who was transported, attended, treated or assisted by the emergency response employee, ~~[the]~~ a designated officer of the employee shall, upon the request of the employee, make an initial determination of the possible exposure of the employee to an infectious disease by:

(a) Collecting the facts relating to the circumstances under which the employee may have been exposed to an infectious disease; and

(b) Evaluating the facts to determine whether the victim had an infectious disease and whether the employee may have been exposed to the disease.

2. If ~~[the]~~ a designated officer determines that ~~[the]~~ an emergency response employee may have been exposed to an infectious disease, the designated officer shall submit to the medical facility to which the victim was transported a written request for a response.

Sec. 9. 1. If a medical facility receives a written request for a response pursuant to subsection 2 of section 8 of this act, the medical facility shall, as soon as practicable but not later than 48 hours after receiving the request, evaluate the facts submitted in the request and determine whether the emergency response employee was exposed to an infectious disease.

2. If the medical facility determines that the emergency response employee may have been exposed or was not exposed to an infectious disease or that insufficient information exists for it to make a determination, the medical facility shall notify, in writing, the designated officer who submitted the request.

3. If a victim dies at or before reaching the medical facility and the medical facility receives a written request for a response pursuant to subsection 2 of section 8 of this act, the medical facility shall provide a copy of the request to any other medical facility that is ascertaining the cause of death of the victim.

Sec. 10. 1. If a designated officer receives a notice from a medical facility pursuant to subsection 2 of section 9 of this act that insufficient information exists for the medical facility to make a determination of whether an emergency response employee was exposed to an infectious disease, the designated officer may submit a request for further evaluation to the health officer in whose jurisdiction the medical facility is located. A request submitted pursuant to this subsection must include the original request for a written response submitted by the designated officer pursuant to subsection 2 of section 8 of this act.

2. If a health officer receives a request for further evaluation pursuant to subsection 1, the health officer shall evaluate the request and the request for a written response submitted by the designated officer pursuant to subsection 2 of section 8 of this act. An evaluation conducted pursuant to this subsection must be completed as soon as practicable but not later than 48 hours after the request for further evaluation is received.

3. If an evaluation conducted pursuant to subsection 2 indicates that the facts provided to the medical facility were:

(a) Sufficient to determine that an emergency response employee was exposed to an infectious disease, the health officer shall, on behalf of the designated officer, resubmit the request to the medical facility; or

(b) Insufficient to determine that an emergency response employee was exposed to an infectious disease, the health officer shall advise the designated officer in writing regarding the collection and description of additional facts for further evaluation by the medical facility pursuant to section 9 of this act.

Sec. 11. 1. If a designated officer receives a notice from a medical facility pursuant to section 9 of this act that an emergency response employee may have been exposed to an infectious disease, the designated officer shall, as soon as is practicable after receiving the notice, notify each emergency response employee who responded to the emergency and may have been exposed to an infectious disease.

2. The notification must include, without limitation:

(a) A statement indicating that the emergency response employee may have been exposed to an infectious disease;

(b) The name of the infectious disease;

(c) The date on which the victim of the emergency was transported by the emergency response employee to the medical facility; and

(d) Any action that is medically appropriate for the emergency response employee to take.

Sec. 12. The provisions of sections 2 to 12, inclusive, of this act must not be construed to:

1. Authorize any cause of action for damages or any civil penalty against a medical facility or designated officer that fails to comply with any requirement of those provisions.

2. Require or authorize a medical facility to test a victim of an emergency for the presence of an infectious disease.

3. Require or authorize a medical facility, designated officer or emergency response employee to disclose the identity of or identifying information about a victim of an emergency or an emergency response employee.

4. Authorize an emergency response employee to fail to respond or deny services to a victim of an emergency.

Sec. 13. NRS 450B.020 is hereby amended to read as follows:

450B.020 As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 450B.025 to 450B.110, inclusive, and sections 2 to 5, inclusive, of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 14. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2009.

Assemblywoman Smith moved the adoption of the amendment.

Assembly Bill No. 21.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Transportation:

Amendment No. 71.

AN ACT relating to motor vehicle insurance; revising provisions governing the verification of motor vehicle liability insurance policies by the Department of Motor Vehicles; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires every owner of a motor vehicle which is registered or required to be registered in this State to continuously provide insurance for the payment of tort liabilities arising from the maintenance or use of the motor vehicle. (NRS 485.185) Existing law provides that an owner of certain motor vehicles who provides proof of liability insurance provided by an insurance company that is not approved to do business in this State may register the motor vehicle and have 7 calendar days to provide proof of liability by an insurance company that is licensed and approved to do business in this State. (NRS 482.215) Section 1.5 of this bill removes the provision allowing an owner 7 calendar days to provide proof of liability insurance by an insurance company that is licensed and approved to do business in this State. Existing law further provides that the owner of a fleet of motor vehicles and certain other motor vehicles must provide evidence of liability insurance on a form that is satisfactory to the Department. (NRS 482.215) Section 1.5 specifies that such liability insurance must be provided by an insurance company licensed and approved to do business in this State. Existing law requires the Department of Motor Vehicles to create a system to verify that owners of motor vehicles, other than golf carts and larger motortrucks, truck tractors and buses, maintain the required liability insurance. (NRS 485.130, 485.313) Section 3 of this bill adds provisions: (1) requiring the Department to work in cooperation with insurers to develop the system; (2) requiring that the verification be conducted through the secure transmission and receipt of information necessary to verify that owners of motor vehicles maintain the required liability insurance; (3) authorizing the Department to contract with any person to provide services relating to the system; and (4) making the system applicable to all motortrucks, truck tractors and buses.

Section 4 of this bill deletes provisions of existing law that prescribe the specific form and content of the records of motor vehicle liability policies which insurers must provide to the Department. (NRS 485.314) ~~[Sections 2 and 6 of this bill delete existing provisions which authorize the reinstatement of the registration of a motor vehicle if the owner establishes that his failure to have the required insurance was due to extenuating circumstances. (NRS 482.480, 485.317)]~~

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 481.063 is hereby amended to read as follows:

481.063 1. The Director may charge and collect reasonable fees for official publications of the Department and from persons making use of files and records of the Department or its various divisions for a private purpose. All money so collected must be deposited in the State Treasury for credit to the Motor Vehicle Fund.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, the Director may release personal information, except a photograph, from a file or record relating to the driver's license, identification card, or title or registration of a vehicle of a person if the requester submits a written release from the person who holds a lien on the vehicle, or an agent of that person, or the person about whom the information is requested which is dated not more than 90 days before the date of the request. The written release must be in a form required by the Director.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the Director shall not release to any person who is not a representative of the Division of Welfare and Supportive Services of the Department of Health and Human Services or an officer, employee or agent of a law enforcement agency, an agent of the public defender's office or an agency of a local government which collects fines imposed for parking violations, who is not conducting an investigation pursuant to NRS 253.0415, 253.044 or 253.220, who is not authorized to transact insurance pursuant to chapter 680A of NRS or who is not licensed as a private investigator pursuant to chapter 648 of NRS and conducting an investigation of an insurance claim:

(a) A list which includes license plate numbers combined with any other information in the records or files of the Department;

(b) The social security number of any person, if it is requested to facilitate the solicitation of that person to purchase a product or service; or

(c) The name, address, telephone number or any other personally identifiable information if the information is requested by the presentation of a license plate number.

➥ When such personally identifiable information is requested of a law enforcement agency by the presentation of a license plate number, the law enforcement agency shall conduct an investigation regarding the person about whom information is being requested or, as soon as practicable, provide the requester with the requested information if the requester officially reports that the motor vehicle bearing that license plate was used in a violation of NRS 205.240, 205.345, 205.380 or 205.445.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 2 and 5, the Director shall not release any personal information from a file or record relating to a driver's license, identification card, or title or registration of a vehicle.

5. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (a) and subsection 6, if a person or governmental entity provides a description of the information requested and its proposed use and signs an affidavit to that effect, the Director may release any personal information, except a photograph, from a file or record relating to a driver's license, identification card, or title or registration of a vehicle for use:

(a) By any governmental entity, including, but not limited to, any court or law enforcement agency, in carrying out its functions, or any person acting on behalf of a federal, state or local governmental agency in carrying out its functions. The personal information may include a photograph from a file or record relating to a driver's license, identification card, or title or registration of a vehicle.

(b) In connection with any civil, criminal, administrative or arbitration proceeding before any federal or state court, regulatory body, board, commission or agency, including, but not limited to, use for service of process, investigation in anticipation of litigation, and execution or enforcement of judgments and orders, or pursuant to an order of a federal or state court.

(c) In connection with matters relating to:

(1) The safety of drivers of motor vehicles;

(2) Safety and thefts of motor vehicles;

(3) Emissions from motor vehicles;

(4) Alterations of products related to motor vehicles;

(5) An advisory notice relating to a motor vehicle or the recall of a motor vehicle;

(6) Monitoring the performance of motor vehicles;

(7) Parts or accessories of motor vehicles;

(8) Dealers of motor vehicles; or

(9) Removal of nonowner records from the original records of motor vehicle manufacturers.

(d) By any insurer, self-insurer or organization that provides assistance or support to an insurer or self-insurer or its agents, employees or contractors, in connection with activities relating to the rating, underwriting or investigation of claims or the prevention of fraud.

(e) In providing notice to the owners of vehicles that have been towed, repossessed or impounded.

(f) By an employer or its agent or insurer to obtain or verify information relating to a holder of a commercial driver's license who is employed by or has applied for employment with the employer.

(g) By a private investigator, private patrolman or security consultant who is licensed pursuant to chapter 648 of NRS, for any use permitted pursuant to this section.

(h) By a reporter or editorial employee who is employed by or affiliated with any newspaper, press association or commercially operated, federally licensed radio or television station for a journalistic purpose. The Department may not make any inquiries regarding the use of or reason for the information requested other than whether the information will be used for a journalistic purpose.

(i) In connection with an investigation conducted pursuant to NRS 253.0415, 253.044 or 253.220.

(j) In activities relating to research and the production of statistical reports, if the personal information will not be published or otherwise redisclosed, or used to contact any person.

(k) In the bulk distribution of surveys, marketing material or solicitations, if the Director has adopted policies and procedures to ensure that:

(1) The information will be used or sold only for use in the bulk distribution of surveys, marketing material or solicitations;

(2) Each person about whom the information is requested has clearly been provided with an opportunity to authorize such a use; and

(3) If the person about whom the information is requested does not authorize such a use, the bulk distribution will not be directed toward that person.

6. Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (j) of subsection 5, a person who requests and receives personal information may sell or disclose that information only for a use permitted pursuant to subsection 5. Such a person shall keep and maintain for 5 years a record of:

(a) Each person to whom the information is provided; and

(b) The purpose for which that person will use the information.

➥ The record must be made available for examination by the Department at all reasonable times upon request.

7. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the Director may deny any use of the files and records if he reasonably believes that the information taken may be used for an unwarranted invasion of a particular person's privacy.

8. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 485.316, the Director shall not allow any person to make use of information retrieved from the ~~[~~database~~]~~ system created pursuant to NRS 485.313 for a private purpose and shall not in any other way release any information retrieved from that ~~[~~database.~~]~~ system.

9. The Director shall adopt such regulations as he deems necessary to carry out the purposes of this section. In addition, the Director shall, by regulation, establish a procedure whereby a person who is requesting personal information may establish an account with the Department to facilitate his ability to request information electronically or by written request if he has submitted to the Department proof of his employment or licensure, as applicable, and a signed and notarized affidavit acknowledging:

(a) That he has read and fully understands the current laws and regulations regarding the manner in which information from the Department's files and records may be obtained and the limited uses which are permitted;

(b) That he understands that any sale or disclosure of information so obtained must be in accordance with the provisions of this section;

(c) That he understands that a record will be maintained by the Department of any information he requests; and

(d) That he understands that a violation of the provisions of this section is a criminal offense.

10. It is unlawful for any person to:

(a) Make a false representation to obtain any information from the files or records of the Department.

(b) Knowingly obtain or disclose any information from the files or records of the Department for any use not permitted by the provisions of this chapter.

11. As used in this section, "personal information" means information that reveals the identity of a person, including, without limitation, his photograph, social security number, driver's license number, identification card number, name, address, telephone number or information regarding a medical condition or disability. The term does not include the zip code of a person when separate from his full address, information regarding vehicular accidents or driving violations in which he has been involved or other information otherwise affecting his status as a driver.

Sec. 1.5. NRS 482.215 is hereby amended to read as follows:

482.215 1. All applications for registration, except applications for renewal of registration, must be made as provided in this section.

2. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 482.294, applications for all registrations, except renewals of registration, must be made in person, if practicable, to any office or agent of the Department or to a registered dealer.

3. Each application must be made upon the appropriate form furnished by the Department and contain:

(a) The signature of the owner, except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 of NRS 482.294, if applicable.

(b) His residential address.

(c) His declaration of the county where he intends the vehicle to be based, unless the vehicle is deemed to have no base. The Department shall use this declaration to determine the county to which the governmental services tax is to be paid.

(d) A brief description of the vehicle to be registered, including the name of the maker, the engine, identification or serial number, whether new or used, and the last license number, if known, and the state in which it was issued, and upon the registration of a new vehicle, the date of sale by the manufacturer or franchised and licensed dealer in this State for the make to be registered to the person first purchasing or operating the vehicle.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, if the applicant is not an owner of a fleet of vehicles or a person described in subsection 5:

(1) Proof satisfactory to the Department or registered dealer that the applicant carries insurance on the vehicle [~~, and if the insurance is not~~] provided by an insurance company licensed by the Division of Insurance of the Department of Business and Industry and approved to do business in this State as required by NRS 485.185 ; [~~, the applicant must meet the requirements of NRS 485.185 within 7 calendar days;~~] and

(2) A declaration signed by the applicant that he will maintain the insurance required by NRS 485.185 during the period of registration. If the application is submitted by electronic means pursuant to NRS 482.294, the applicant is not required to sign the declaration required by this paragraph.

(f) If the applicant is an owner of a fleet of vehicles or a person described in subsection 5, evidence of insurance ~~[:]~~ provided by an insurance company licensed by the Division of Insurance of the Department of Business and Industry and approved to do business in this State as required by NRS 485.185:

(1) In the form of a certificate of insurance on a form approved by the Commissioner of Insurance;

(2) In the form of a card issued pursuant to NRS 690B.023 which identifies the vehicle ~~;~~ ~~[and indicates, at the time of application for registration, coverage which meets the requirements of NRS 485.185;]~~ or

(3) In another form satisfactory to the Department.

➥ The Department may file that evidence, return it to the applicant or otherwise dispose of it.

(g) If required, evidence of the applicant's compliance with controls over emission.

4. The application must contain such other information as is required by the Department or registered dealer and must be accompanied by proof of ownership satisfactory to the Department.

5. For purposes of the evidence required by paragraph (f) of subsection 3:

(a) Vehicles which are subject to the fee for a license and the requirements of registration of the Interstate Highway User Fee Apportionment Act, and which are based in this State, may be declared as a fleet by the registered owner thereof on his original application for or application for renewal of a proportional registration. The owner may file a single certificate of insurance covering that fleet.

(b) Other fleets composed of 10 or more vehicles based in this State or vehicles insured under a blanket policy which does not identify individual vehicles may each be declared annually as a fleet by the registered owner thereof for the purposes of an application for his original or any renewed registration. The owner may file a single certificate of insurance covering that fleet.

(c) A person who qualifies as a self-insurer pursuant to the provisions of NRS 485.380 may file a copy of his certificate of self-insurance.

(d) A person who qualifies for an operator's policy of liability insurance pursuant to the provisions of NRS 485.186 and 485.3091 may file evidence of that insurance.

Sec. 2. NRS 482.480 is hereby amended to read as follows:

482.480 There must be paid to the Department for the registration or the transfer or reinstatement of the registration of motor vehicles, trailers and semitrailers, fees according to the following schedule:

1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, for each stock passenger car and each reconstructed or specially constructed passenger car registered to a person, regardless of weight or number of passenger capacity, a fee for registration of $33.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3:

(a) For each of the fifth and sixth such cars registered to a person, a fee for registration of $16.50.

(b) For each of the seventh and eighth such cars registered to a person, a fee for registration of $12.

(c) For each of the ninth or more such cars registered to a person, a fee for registration of $8.

3. The fees specified in subsection 2 do not apply:

(a) Unless the person registering the cars presents to the Department at the time of registration the registrations of all ~~[of]~~ the cars registered to him.

(b) To cars that are part of a fleet.

4. For every motorcycle, a fee for registration of $33 and for each motorcycle other than a trimobile, an additional fee of $6 for motorcycle safety. The additional fee must be deposited in the State Highway Fund for credit to the Account for the Program for the Education of Motorcycle Riders.

5. For each transfer of registration, a fee of $6 in addition to any other fees.

6. Except as otherwise provided in subsection ~~[9]~~ 7 of NRS 485.317, to ~~[To]~~ reinstate the registration of a motor vehicle that is suspended pursuant to that section: ~~[NRS 485.317:]~~

(b) A fee of $50 for a registered owner of a dormant vehicle who cancelled the insurance coverage for that vehicle or allowed the insurance coverage for that vehicle to expire without first cancelling the registration for the vehicle in accordance with subsection 3 of NRS 485.320,

➥ both of which must be deposited in the Account for Verification of Insurance which is hereby created in the State Highway Fund. The money in the Account must be used to carry out the provisions of NRS 485.313 to 485.318, inclusive.

7. For every travel trailer, a fee for registration of $27.

8. For every permit for the operation of a golf cart, an annual fee of $10.

9. For every low-speed vehicle, as that term is defined in NRS 484.527, a fee for registration of $33.

10. To reinstate the registration of a motor vehicle that is suspended pursuant to NRS 482.451, a fee of $33.

Sec. 3. NRS 485.313 is hereby amended to read as follows:

485.313 1. The Department ~~[shall]~~ ***:

(a) Shall, in cooperation with insurers, create a system for verifying through the secure transmission and receipt of information that the owners of motor vehicles maintain the insurance required by NRS 485.185 ~~[.]~~ ; and

(b) May enter into a contract with any person to provide services relating to the system.

2. As used in this section, "motor vehicle" does not include ~~[~~:

Amendment No. 64.

AN ACT relating to sexual offenses; establishing a civil remedy for a person who was a victim of a sexual offense which was used to promote child pornography; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 1 of this bill establishes a civil cause of action for a person who, as a minor, was a victim of a sexual offense where any sexual portrayal of the offense was used to promote child pornography. A victim who prevails in such an action may recover his actual damages, which are deemed to be at least $150,000, plus attorney's fees and costs. ~~[Upon the victim's request, the~~ ~~Attorney General may bring or maintain an action on behalf of the victim.]~~ Section 3 of this bill establishes the statute of limitations for such an action.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 200 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. Any person who, while a minor, was a victim of a sexual offense of which any sexual portrayal of such offense was used to promote child pornography and who suffered personal or psychological injury as a result may bring an action against any person who promoted or possessed the child pornography, regardless of whether the victim is now an adult.

2. A victim who prevails in an action brought pursuant to this section may recover his actual damages, which shall be deemed to be at least $150,000, plus attorney's fees and costs.

3. A victim may request to use a pseudonym instead of his name in all court proceedings and records related to an action brought pursuant to this section. Upon notification that a victim has requested to use a pseudonym, the court shall ensure that the pseudonym is used in all court proceedings and records.

4. It is not a defense to a cause of action under this section that a defendant did not know the victim or did not personally engage in the sexual conduct which involved the victim and which is depicted in the child pornography.

~~[5. Upon the request of the victim the Attorney General may bring or maintain an action on behalf of any victim pursuant to this section. All damages awarded in any action brought pursuant to this section belong to the victim, but the Attorney General may seek and recover from the defendant reasonable attorney's fees and costs.~~

~~6.]~~ 5. An action may be brought pursuant to this section regardless of whether any person has been prosecuted or convicted of a sexual offense involving the victim.

~~[7.]~~ 6. As used in this section:

(a) "Child pornography" means a violation of NRS 200.710 to 200.730, inclusive.

(b) "Sexual offense" means a violation of NRS 200.366, 200.710 to 200.730, inclusive, or 201.230.

Sec. 2. NRS 200.700 is hereby amended to read as follows:

200.700 As used in NRS 200.700 to 200.760, inclusive, and section 1 of this act, unless the context otherwise ~~[provides:]~~ requires:

1. "Performance" means any play, film, photograph, computer-generated image, electronic representation, dance or other visual presentation.

2. "Promote" means to produce, direct, procure, manufacture, sell, give, lend, publish, distribute, exhibit, advertise or possess for the purpose of distribution.

3. "Sexual conduct" means sexual intercourse, lewd exhibition of the genitals, fellatio, cunnilingus, bestiality, anal intercourse, excretion, sado-masochistic abuse, masturbation, or the penetration of any part of a person's body or of any object manipulated or inserted by a person into the genital or anal opening of the body of another.

4. "Sexual portrayal" means the depiction of a person in a manner which appeals to the prurient interest in sex and which does not have serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value.

Sec. 3. NRS 11.215 is hereby amended to read as follows:

11.215 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 and NRS 217.007, an action to recover damages for an injury to a person arising from the sexual abuse of the plaintiff which occurred when the plaintiff was less than 18 years of age must be commenced within 10 years after the plaintiff:

(a) Reaches 18 years of age; or

(b) Discovers or reasonably should have discovered that his injury was caused by the sexual abuse, ➥ whichever occurs later.

2. An action to recover damages pursuant to section 1 of this act must be commenced within 3 years after the occurrence of the following, whichever is later:

(a) The court enters a verdict in a related criminal case; or

(b) The victim reaches the age of 18 years.

3. As used in this section, "sexual abuse" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 432B.100.

Assembly Bill No. 100.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Education:

Amendment No. 148.

AN ACT relating to education; revising the duties of the Deputy Superintendent for Administrative and Fiscal Services in the Department of Education relating to charter schools; revising provisions governing charter schools and university schools for profoundly gifted pupils; revising provisions governing the annual reports of school districts and charter schools; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

The Deputy Superintendent for Administrative and Fiscal Services in the Department of Education investigates, inspects and reports on the funds and accounts of school districts. (NRS 385.315) Section 1 of this bill requires the Deputy Superintendent to perform similar duties for the funds and accounts of charter schools and university schools for profoundly gifted pupils.

The governing body of a charter school is required to appoint a trustee upon closure of the school. (NRS 386.536) Section 2 of this bill provides that the trustee appointed by the governing body is subject to the approval of the sponsor and requires the sponsor to make the appointment if the governing body is not able to do so. Section 2 also provides that if the sponsor of a charter school provides financial compensation to the administrator or person appointed by the governing body, the sponsor may receive reimbursement from the charter school for the costs incurred by the sponsor in providing the financial compensation for a period not to exceed 6 months.

A charter school that meets certain requirements, including certain financial and performance standards, is eligible for an exemption from an annual performance audit and must instead undergo a performance audit every 3 years. (NRS 386.5515) Section 3 of this bill provides that if such a charter school no longer satisfies the requirements for an exemption or if ~~[good cause]~~ reasonable evidence of noncompliance concerning the educational progress exists, the charter school shall submit to an annual performance audit.

Existing law provides that upon the request of a parent or legal guardian of a pupil enrolled in a charter school, the board of trustees of the school district in which the charter school is located shall authorize the pupil to participate in a class, extracurricular activity and sports within the school district under certain circumstances. Section 4 of this bill amends existing law to provide for such participation in the school district in which the pupil resides rather than the school district in which the charter school is located. (NRS 386.560)

The sponsor of a charter school may request, upon completion of each school year, reimbursement from the governing body of the school for the administrative costs associated with sponsorship. The total amount of such administrative costs must not exceed a specified percentage of the total amount of money apportioned to the charter school during the year. (NRS 386.570) Section ~~[4]~~ 5 of this bill revises the schedule of payments for reimbursement of administrative costs from yearly to quarterly. Section ~~[4]~~ also provides that to determine the maximum amount of administrative costs, the total amount apportioned to the charter school during the year must be adjusted by the final computation of apportionment for the school.

Sections ~~[5]~~ 6 and ~~[7]~~ 9 of this bill revise provisions governing the annual reports of charter schools and school districts. (NRS 386.600, 387.303)

The Department of Education is required to develop a formula for determining the minimum amount of money that each school district is required to expend each fiscal year for textbooks, instructional supplies and instructional hardware. (NRS 387.206) Section ~~[6]~~ 8 of this bill requires the development of such a formula and minimum expenditures for charter schools.

Existing law requires the board of trustees of a school district and a college or university within the Nevada System of Higher Education which sponsors a charter school to submit an annual report to the State Board of Education on the evaluation of the progress made by the charter school in achieving its educational goals and objectives. (NRS 386.610) Section 7 of this bill requires an annual report to be made by the Department for each charter school sponsored by the State Board.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 385.315 is hereby amended to read as follows:

385.315 In addition to his other duties, the Deputy Superintendent for Administrative and Fiscal Services, under the direction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall:

1. Investigate any claim against any school fund or ~~[separate]~~ an account established under NRS 354.603 , 386.570 or 392A.083, as applicable, whenever a written protest against the drawing of a warrant, check or order in payment of the claim is filed with the county auditor ~~[.]~~ , the sponsor of the charter school or the Department. If, upon investigation, the Deputy Superintendent finds that any such claim is unearned, illegal or unreasonably excessive, he shall notify the county auditor and the clerk of the board of trustees , the governing body of the charter school or the governing body of the university school for profoundly gifted pupils who drew or authorized the order for the claim, stating the reasons in writing why the order is unearned, illegal or excessive. If so notified, the county auditor shall not draw his warrant in payment of the claim nor shall the board of trustees , governing body of the charter school or governing body of the university school for profoundly gifted pupils draw a check or order in payment of the claim from ~~[a separate]~~ an account established under NRS 354.603 ~~[.]~~ , 386.570 or 392A.083, as applicable. If the Deputy Superintendent finds that any protested claim is legal and actually due the claimant, he shall authorize the county auditor , ~~[or]~~ the board of trustees , the governing body of the charter school or the governing body of the university school for profoundly gifted pupils, as applicable, to draw his warrant or its check or order on an account established under NRS 354.603 , 386.570 or 392A.083, as applicable, for the claim, and the county auditor , ~~[or]~~ the board of trustees or the appropriate governing body shall immediately draw his warrant or its check or order in payment of the claim.

2. Inspect the record books and accounts of boards of trustees, governing bodies of charter schools and governing bodies of university schools for profoundly gifted pupils and enforce the uniform method of keeping the financial records and accounts of school districts ~~[.]~~ , charter schools and university schools for profoundly gifted pupils.

3. Inspect the school fund accounts of the county auditors of the several counties ~~[,]~~ and report the condition of the funds of any school district to the board of trustees thereof.

4. Inspect the ~~[separate]~~ accounts established by ***:

(a) The boards of trustees under NRS 354.603 ~~[,]~~ and report the condition of the accounts to the respective boards of county commissioners and county treasurers.

(b) The governing bodies of charter schools under NRS 386.570 and report the condition of the accounts to the respective sponsors of the charter schools and governing bodies of the charter schools.

(c) The governing bodies of university schools for profoundly gifted pupils under NRS 392A.083 and report the condition of the accounts to the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada and the respective governing bodies of the university schools.

Sec. 2. NRS 386.536 is hereby amended to read as follows:

386.536 1. Except as otherwise provided in ~~[subsection 2,]~~ subsections 2 and 3, if a charter school ceases to operate voluntarily or upon revocation of its written charter, the governing body of the charter school shall appoint an administrator of the charter school , subject to the approval of the sponsor of the charter school, to act as a trustee during the process of the closure of the charter school and for 1 year after the date of closure. The administrator shall assume the responsibility for the records of the:

(a) Charter school;

(b) Employees of the charter school; and

(c) Pupils enrolled in the charter school.

2. If an administrator for the charter school is no longer available to carry out the duties set forth in subsection 1, the governing body of the charter school shall appoint a qualified person to assume those duties.

3. If the governing body of the charter school ceases to exist or is otherwise unable to appoint an administrator pursuant to subsection 1 or a qualified person pursuant to subsection 2, the sponsor of the charter school shall appoint an administrator or a qualified person to carry out the duties set forth in subsection 1.

4. The governing body of the charter school or the sponsor of the charter school may, to the extent practicable, provide financial compensation to the administrator or person appointed ~~[pursuant to subsection 2]~~ to carry out the provisions of this section. If the sponsor of the charter school provides such financial compensation, the sponsor is entitled to receive reimbursement from the charter school for the costs incurred by the sponsor in providing the financial compensation. Such reimbursement must not exceed costs incurred for a period longer than 6 months.

Sec. 3. NRS 386.5515 is hereby amended to read as follows:

386.5515 1. To the extent money is available from legislative appropriation or otherwise, a charter school may apply to the Department for money for facilities if:

(a) The charter school has been operating in this State for at least 5 consecutive years and is in good financial standing;

(b) Each financial audit and each performance audit of the charter school required by the Department contains no major notations, corrections or errors concerning the charter school for at least 5 consecutive years;

(c) The charter school has met or exceeded adequate yearly progress as determined pursuant to NRS 385.3613 or has demonstrated improvement in the achievement of pupils enrolled in the charter school, as indicated by annual measurable objectives determined by the State Board, for the majority of the years of its operation;

(d) The charter school offers instruction on a daily basis during the school week of the charter school on the campus of the charter school; and

(e) At least 75 percent of the pupils enrolled in the charter school who are required to take the high school proficiency examination have passed that examination, if the charter school enrolls pupils at a high school grade level.

2. A charter school that satisfies the requirements of subsection 1 shall submit to a performance audit as required by the Department one time every 3 years. The sponsor of the charter school and the Department shall not request a performance audit of the charter school more frequently than every 3 years without ~~[showing good cause for such a request.]~~ reasonable evidence of noncompliance concerning the educational progress of the charter school based upon the annual report submitted to the State Board pursuant to NRS 386.610. If the charter school no longer satisfies the requirements of subsection 1 or ~~[good cause]~~ if reasonable evidence of noncompliance concerning the educational progress of the charter school exists based upon the annual report, ~~[for an annual performance audit,]~~ the charter school shall, upon written notice from the sponsor, submit to an annual performance audit. Such a charter school:

(a) May, after undergoing the annual performance audit, reapply to the sponsor to determine whether the charter school satisfies the requirements of subsection 1.

(b) Is not eligible for any available money pursuant to subsection 1 until the sponsor determines that the charter school satisfies the requirements of that subsection.

3. A charter school that does not satisfy the requirements of subsection 1 shall submit a quarterly report of the financial status of the charter school if requested by the sponsor of the charter school.

Sec. 4. NRS 386.560 is hereby amended to read as follows:

386.560 1. The governing body of a charter school may contract with the board of trustees of the school district in which the charter school is located or the Nevada System of Higher Education for the provision of facilities to operate the charter school or to perform any service relating to the operation of the charter school, including, without limitation, transportation, the provision of health services for the pupils who are enrolled in the charter school and the provision of school police officers.

2. A charter school may use any public facility located within the school district in which the charter school is located. A charter school may use school buildings owned by the school district only upon approval of the board of trustees of the school district and during times that are not regular school hours.

3. The board of trustees of a school district may donate surplus personal property of the school district to a charter school that is located within the school district.

4. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, upon the request of a parent or legal guardian of a pupil who is enrolled in a charter school, the board of trustees of the school district in which the ~~[charter school is located]~~ pupil resides shall authorize the pupil to participate in a class that is not available to the pupil at the charter school or participate in an extracurricular activity, excluding sports, at a public school within the school district if:

(a) Space for the pupil in the class or extracurricular activity is available; and

(b) The parent or legal guardian demonstrates to the satisfaction of the board of trustees that the pupil is qualified to participate in the class or extracurricular activity.

➥ If the board of trustees of a school district authorizes a pupil to participate in a class or extracurricular activity, excluding sports, pursuant to this subsection, the board of trustees is not required to provide transportation for the pupil to attend the class or activity. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to a pupil who is enrolled in a charter school and who desires to participate on a part-time basis in a program of distance education provided by the board of trustees of a school district pursuant to NRS 388.820 to 388.874, inclusive. Such a pupil must comply with NRS 388.858.

5. Upon the request of a parent or legal guardian of a pupil who is enrolled in a charter school, the board of trustees of the school district in which the ~~[charter school is located]~~ pupil resides shall authorize the pupil to participate in sports at the public school that he would otherwise be required to attend within the school district, or upon approval of the board of trustees, any public school within the same zone of attendance as the charter school if:

(a) Space is available for the pupil to participate; and

(b) The parent or legal guardian demonstrates to the satisfaction of the board of trustees that the pupil is qualified to participate.

➥ If the board of trustees of a school district authorizes a pupil to participate in sports pursuant to this subsection, the board of trustees is not required to provide transportation for the pupil to participate.

6. The board of trustees of a school district may revoke its approval for a pupil to participate in a class, extracurricular activity or sports at a public school pursuant to subsections 4 and 5 if the board of trustees or the public school determines that the pupil has failed to comply with applicable statutes, or applicable rules and regulations of the board of trustees, the public school or the Nevada Interscholastic Activities Association. If the board of trustees so revokes its approval, neither the board of trustees nor the public school is liable for any damages relating to the denial of services to the pupil.

~~[Sec. 4.]~~ Sec. 5. NRS 386.570 is hereby amended to read as follows:

386.570 1. Each pupil who is enrolled in a charter school, including, without limitation, a pupil who is enrolled in a program of special education in a charter school, must be included in the count of pupils in the school district for the purposes of apportionments and allowances from the State Distributive School Account pursuant to NRS 387.121 to 387.126, inclusive, unless the pupil is exempt from compulsory attendance pursuant to NRS 392.070. A charter school is entitled to receive its proportionate share of any other money available from federal, state or local sources that the school or the pupils who are enrolled in the school are eligible to receive. If a charter school receives special education program units directly from this State, the amount of money for special education that the school district pays to the charter school may be reduced proportionately by the amount of money the charter school received from this State for that purpose.

2. All money received by the charter school from this State or from the board of trustees of a school district must be deposited in an account with a bank, credit union or other financial institution in this State. The governing body of a charter school may negotiate with the board of trustees of the school district and the State Board for additional money to pay for services which the governing body wishes to offer.

3. Upon completion of ~~[a]~~ each school ~~[year,]~~ quarter, the sponsor of a charter school may request reimbursement from the governing body of the charter school for the administrative costs associated with sponsorship for that school ~~[year]~~ quarter if the sponsor provided administrative services during that school ~~[year.]~~ quarter. The request must include an itemized list of those costs. Upon receipt of such a request, the governing body shall pay the reimbursement to the board of trustees of the school district if the board of trustees sponsors the charter school, to the Department if the State Board sponsors the charter school or to the college or university within the Nevada System of Higher Education if that institution sponsors the charter school. If a governing body fails to pay the reimbursement, the charter school shall be deemed to have violated its written charter and the sponsor may take such action to revoke the written charter pursuant to NRS 386.535 as it deems necessary. If the board of trustees of a school district is the sponsor of a charter school, the amount of money that may be paid to the sponsor pursuant to this subsection for administrative expenses in 1 school year must not exceed:

(a) For the first year of operation of the charter school, 2 percent of the total amount of money apportioned to the charter school during the year pursuant to NRS 387.124 ~~[.]~~ , as adjusted by the final computation of apportionment pursuant to subsection 4 of NRS 387.1243.

(b) For any year after the first year of operation of the charter school, 1 percent of the total amount of money apportioned to the charter school during the year pursuant to NRS 387.124 ~~[.]~~ , as adjusted by the final computation of apportionment pursuant to subsection 4 of NRS 387.1243.

4. If the State Board or a college or university within the Nevada System of Higher Education is the sponsor of a charter school, the amount of money that may be paid to the Department or to the institution, as applicable, pursuant to subsection 3 for administrative expenses in 1 school year must not exceed:

(a) For the first year of operation of the charter school, 2 percent of the total amount of money apportioned to the charter school during the year pursuant to NRS 387.124 ~~[.]~~ , as adjusted by the final computation of apportionment pursuant to subsection 4 of NRS 387.1243.

(b) For any year after the first year of operation of the charter school, 1.5 percent of the total amount of money apportioned to the charter school during the year pursuant to NRS 387.124 ~~[.]~~ , as adjusted by the final computation of apportionment pursuant to subsection 4 of NRS 387.1243.

5. To determine the amount of money for distribution to a charter school in its first year of operation, the count of pupils who are enrolled in the charter school must initially be determined 30 days before the beginning of the school year of the school district, based on the number of pupils whose applications for enrollment have been approved by the charter school. The count of pupils who are enrolled in the charter school must be revised on the last day of the first school month of the school district in which the charter school is located for the school year, based on the actual number of pupils who are enrolled in the charter school. Pursuant to subsection 5 of NRS 387.124, the governing body of a charter school may request that the apportionments made to the charter school in its first year of operation be paid to the charter school 30 days before the apportionments are otherwise required to be made.

6. If a charter school ceases to operate as a charter school during a school year, the remaining apportionments that would have been made to the charter school pursuant to NRS 387.124 for that year must be paid on a proportionate basis to the school districts where the pupils who were enrolled in the charter school reside.

7. The governing body of a charter school may solicit and accept donations, money, grants, property, loans, personal services or other assistance for purposes relating to education from members of the general public, corporations or agencies. The governing body may comply with applicable federal laws and regulations governing the provision of federal grants for charter schools. The State Board may assist a charter school that operates exclusively for the enrollment of pupils who receive special education in identifying sources of money that may be available from the Federal Government or this State for the provision of educational programs and services to such pupils.

8. If a charter school uses money received from this State to purchase real property, buildings, equipment or facilities, the governing body of the charter school shall assign a security interest in the property, buildings, equipment and facilities to the State of Nevada.

~~[Sec. 5.]~~ Sec. 6. NRS 386.600 is hereby amended to read as follows:

386.600 1. On or before November 15 of each year, the governing body of each charter school shall submit to the sponsor of the charter school, the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau for transmission to the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly a report that includes:

(a) A written description of the progress of the charter school in achieving the mission and goals of the charter school set forth in its application.

(b) ~~[~~For each licensed employee and nonlicensed teacher employed by the charter school on October 1 of that year:

~~(1) The amount of salary of the employee; and~~

~~(2) The designated assignment, as that term is defined by the Department, of the employee.~~

~~(c)]~~ For each fund maintained by the charter school, including, without limitation, the general fund of the charter school and any special revenue fund which receives state money, the total number and salaries of licensed and nonlicensed persons whose salaries are paid from the fund and who are employed by the governing body in full-time positions or in part-time positions added together to represent full-time positions. Information must be provided for the current school year based upon the final budget of the charter school, including any amendments and augmentations thereto, and for the preceding school year. An employee must be categorized as filling an instructional, administrative, instructional support or other position.

~~[~~(d) The count of pupils who are enrolled in a charter school in:

~~(1) Kindergarten;~~

~~(2) Grades 1 to 12, inclusive; and~~

~~(3) Special education pursuant to NRS 388.440 to 388.520, inclusive.~~

~~(e)]~~ (c) The actual expenditures of the charter school in the fiscal year immediately preceding the report.

~~[(f)]~~ (d) The proposed expenditures of the charter school for the current fiscal year.

~~[(g)]~~ (e) The salary schedule for licensed employees and nonlicensed teachers in the current school year and a statement of whether salary negotiations for the current school year have been completed. If salary negotiations have not been completed at the time the salary schedule is submitted, the governing body shall submit a supplemental report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction upon completion of negotiations.

~~[(h)]~~ (f) The number of employees eligible for health insurance within the charter school for the current and preceding fiscal years and the amount paid for health insurance for each such employee during those years.

~~[(i)]~~ (g) The rates for fringe benefits, excluding health insurance, paid by the charter school for its licensed employees in the preceding and current fiscal years.

~~[(j)]~~ (h) The amount paid for extra duties, supervision of extracurricular activities and supplemental pay ~~[,]~~ and the number of employees receiving that pay in the preceding and current fiscal years.

2. On or before November 25 of each year, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall submit to the Department of Administration and the Fiscal Analysis Division of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, in a format approved by the Director of the Department of Administration, a compilation of the reports made by each governing body pursuant to subsection 1.

3. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, in the compilation required by subsection 2, reconcile the revenues and expenditures of the charter schools with the apportionment received by those schools from the State Distributive School Account for the preceding year.

Sec. 7. NRS 386.610 is hereby amended to read as follows:

386.610 1. On or before August 15 of each year, if the State Board, board of trustees of a school district or a college or university within the Nevada System of Higher Education sponsors a charter school, the Department, the board of trustees or the institution, as applicable, shall submit a written report to the State Board. The written report must include:

(a) An evaluation of the progress of each charter school sponsored by the State Board, the board of trustees or the institution, as applicable, in achieving its educational goals and objectives.

(b) A description of all administrative support and services provided by the Department, the school district or the institution, as applicable, to the charter school.

2. The governing body of a charter school shall, after 3 years of operation under its initial charter, submit a written report to the sponsor of the charter school. The written report must include a description of the progress of the charter school in achieving its educational goals and objectives. If the charter school submits an application for renewal in accordance with the regulations of the Department, the sponsor may renew the written charter of the school pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 386.530.

~~[Sec. 6.]~~ Sec. 8. NRS 387.206 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.206 1. On or before July 1 of each year, the Department, in consultation with the Budget Division of the Department of Administration and the Fiscal Analysis Division of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, shall develop or revise, as applicable, a formula for each school district and a formula for each charter school for determining the minimum amount of money that each school district and each charter school is required to expend each fiscal year for textbooks, instructional supplies and instructional hardware. The formula must be used only to develop expenditure requirements and must not be used to alter the distribution of money for basic support to school districts ~~[.]~~ and charter schools.

2. Upon approval of the formula pursuant to subsection 1, the Department shall provide written notice to each school district and each charter school within the first 30 days of each fiscal year that sets forth the required minimum combined amount of money that the school district or charter school must expend for textbooks, instructional supplies and instructional hardware for that fiscal year.

3. On or before January 1 of each year, the Department shall determine whether each school district and each charter school has expended, during the immediately preceding fiscal year, the required minimum amount of money set forth in the notice provided pursuant to subsection 2. In making this determination, the Department shall use the report submitted by the school district pursuant to NRS 387.303 ~~[.]~~ and the charter school pursuant to NRS 386.600.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, if the Department determines that a school district or charter school has not expended the required minimum amount of money set forth in the notice provided pursuant to subsection 2, a reduction must be made from the basic support allocation otherwise payable to that school district or charter school in an amount that is equal to the difference between the actual combined expenditure for textbooks, instructional supplies and instructional hardware and the minimum required combined expenditure set forth in the notice provided pursuant to subsection 2. A reduction in the amount of the basic support allocation pursuant to this subsection:

(a) Does not reduce the amount that the school district or charter school is required to expend on textbooks, instructional supplies and instructional hardware in the current fiscal year; and

(b) Must not exceed the amount of basic support that was provided to the school district or charter school for the fiscal year in which the minimum expenditure amount was not satisfied.

5. If the actual enrollment of pupils in a school district is less than the enrollment included in the projections used in the school district's biennial budget submitted pursuant to NRS 387.303, the required expenditure for textbooks, instructional supplies and instructional hardware pursuant to this section must be reduced proportionately.

6. If the actual enrollment of pupils in a charter school is less than the enrollment included in the projections used in the charter school's final budget required pursuant to NRS 386.550, the required expenditure for textbooks, instructional supplies and instructional hardware pursuant to this section must be reduced proportionately.

~~[Sec. 7.]~~ Sec. 9. NRS 387.303 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.303 1. Not later than November 10 of each year, the board of trustees of each school district shall submit to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the Department of Taxation a report which includes the following information:

(a) For each fund within the school district, including, without limitation, the school district's general fund and any special revenue fund which receives state money, the total number and salaries of licensed and nonlicensed persons whose salaries are paid from the fund and who are employed by the school district in full-time positions or in part-time positions added together to represent full-time positions. Information must be provided for the current school year based upon the school district's final budget, including any amendments and augmentations thereto, and for the preceding school year. An employee must be categorized as filling an instructional, administrative, instructional support or other position.

(b) ~~[The count of pupils computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection 1 of NRS 387.1233.~~

~~(c)]~~ The school district's actual expenditures in the fiscal year immediately preceding the report.

~~[(d)]~~ (c) The school district's proposed expenditures for the current fiscal year.

~~[(e)]~~ (d) The schedule of salaries for licensed employees in the current school year and a statement of whether the negotiations regarding salaries for the current school year have been completed. If the negotiations have not been completed at the time the schedule of salaries is submitted, the board of trustees shall submit a supplemental report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction upon completion of negotiations or the determination of an arbitrator concerning the negotiations that includes the schedule of salaries agreed to or required by the arbitrator.

~~[(f)]~~ (e) The number of employees who received an increase in salary pursuant to subsection 2, 3 or 4 of NRS 391.160 for the current and preceding fiscal years. If the board of trustees is required to pay an increase in salary retroactively pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 391.160, the board of trustees shall submit a supplemental report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction not later than February 15 of the year in which the retroactive payment was made that includes the number of teachers to whom an increase in salary was paid retroactively.

~~[(g)]~~ (f) The number of employees eligible for health insurance within the school district for the current and preceding fiscal years and the amount paid for health insurance for each such employee during those years.

~~[(h)]~~ (g) The rates for fringe benefits, excluding health insurance, paid by the school district for its licensed employees in the preceding and current fiscal years.

~~[(i)]~~ (h) The amount paid for extra duties, supervision of extracurricular activities and supplemental pay and the number of employees receiving that pay in the preceding and current fiscal years.

~~[(j)]~~ (i) The expenditures from the account created pursuant to subsection ~~[3]~~ 4 of NRS 179.1187. The report must indicate the total amount received by the district in the preceding fiscal year ~~[,]~~ and the specific amount spent on books and computer hardware and software for each grade level in the district.

2. On or before November 25 of each year, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall submit to the Department of Administration and the Fiscal Analysis Division of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, in a format approved by the Director of the Department of Administration, a compilation of the reports made by each school district pursuant to subsection 1.

3. In preparing the agency biennial budget request for the State Distributive School Account for submission to the Department of Administration, the Superintendent of Public Instruction:

(a) Shall compile the information from the most recent compilation of reports submitted pursuant to subsection 2;

(b) May increase the line items of expenditures or revenues based on merit salary increases and cost of living adjustments or inflation, as deemed credible and reliable based upon published indexes and research relevant to the specific line item of expenditure or revenue;

(c) May adjust expenditures and revenues pursuant to paragraph (b) for any year remaining before the biennium for which the budget is being prepared and for the 2 years of the biennium covered by the biennial budget request to project the cost of expenditures or the receipt of revenues for the specific line items;

(d) May consider the cost of enhancements to existing programs or the projected cost of proposed new educational programs, regardless of whether those enhancements or new programs are included in the per pupil basic support guarantee for inclusion in the biennial budget request to the Department of Administration; and

(e) Shall obtain approval from the State Board for any inflationary increase, enhancement to an existing program or addition of a new program included in the agency biennial budget request.

4. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, in the compilation required by subsection 2, reconcile the revenues of the school districts with the apportionment received by those districts from the State Distributive School Account for the preceding year.

5. The request prepared pursuant to subsection 3 must:

(a) Be presented by the Superintendent of Public Instruction to such standing committees of the Legislature as requested by the standing committees for the purposes of developing educational programs and providing appropriations for those programs; and

(b) Provide for a direct comparison of appropriations to the proposed budget of the Governor submitted pursuant to subsection 4 of NRS 353.230.

2. A university school for profoundly gifted pupils is entitled to receive its proportionate share of any other money available from federal, state or local sources that the school or the pupils who are enrolled in the school are eligible to receive.

3. If a university school for profoundly gifted pupils receives money for special education program units directly from this State, the amount of money for special education that the school district pays to the university school for profoundly gifted pupils may be reduced proportionately by the amount of money the university school received from this State for that purpose.

4. All money received by a university school for profoundly gifted pupils from this State or from the board of trustees of a school district must be deposited in an account with a bank, credit union or other financial institution in this State.

5. The governing body of a university school for profoundly gifted pupils may negotiate with the board of trustees of the school district in which the school is located or the State Board for additional money to pay for services that the governing body wishes to offer.

6. To determine the amount of money for distribution to a university school for profoundly gifted pupils in its first year of operation in which state funding is provided, the count of pupils who are enrolled in the university school must initially be determined 30 days before the beginning of the school year of the school district in which the university school is located, based upon the number of pupils whose applications for enrollment have been approved by the university school. The count of pupils who are enrolled in a university school for profoundly gifted pupils must be revised on the last day of the first school month of the school district in which the university school is located for the school year, based upon the actual number of pupils who are enrolled in the university school.

7. Pursuant to subsection 6 of NRS 387.124, the governing body of a university school for profoundly gifted pupils may request that the apportionments made to the university school in its first year of operation be paid to the university school 30 days before the apportionments are otherwise required to be made.

8. If a university school for profoundly gifted pupils ceases to operate pursuant to this chapter during a school year, the remaining apportionments that would have been made to the university school pursuant to NRS 387.124 for that school year must be paid on a proportionate basis to the school districts where the pupils who were enrolled in the university school reside.

9. If the governing body of a university school for profoundly gifted pupils uses money received from this State to purchase real property, buildings, equipment or facilities, the governing body of the university school shall assign a security interest in the property, buildings, equipment and facilities to the State of Nevada.

(2) Associations of medical professionals;

(3) Hospitals;

(4) The Health Division;

(5) The Board of Medical Examiners and other boards responsible for issuing a license to a provider of health care; and

(6) Other persons with interests relating to vascular health as deemed necessary by the Committee.

2. In making the recommendations required by paragraph (c) of subsection 1, the Committee shall not consider or address any issue concerning the transfer of a patient.

3. A majority of the members of the Committee constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business, and a majority of a quorum present at any meeting is sufficient for any official action taken by the Committee.

Sec. 10. 1. The Health Division may:

(a) Enter into contracts for any service necessary to carry out the provisions of sections 2 to 10, inclusive, of this act; and

(b) Apply for and accept gifts, grants, donations and bequests from any source to carry out the provisions of sections 2 to 10, inclusive, of this act.

2. Any money collected pursuant to subsection 1 and any money appropriated to carry out the provisions of sections 2 to 10, inclusive, of this act:

(a) Must be deposited in the State Treasury and accounted for separately in the State General Fund; and

(b) Except as otherwise provided by the terms of a specific gift, grant, donation or bequest, must only be expended to carry out the provisions of sections 2 to 10, inclusive, of this act.

3. The Administrator shall administer the account. Any interest or income earned on the money in the account must be credited to the account.

4. Any claims against the account must be paid as other claims against the State are paid.

Sec. 11. On or before July 1, 2010:

1. The Administrator of the Health Division of the Department of Health and Human Services shall appoint the following members to the Advisory Committee for the Prevention and Treatment of Stroke and Heart Disease created by section 8 of this act:

(a) One member each pursuant to paragraphs (a) to ~~[(g),]~~ (f), inclusive, of subsection 2 of section 8 of this act to initial terms commencing on July 1, 2010, and expiring on June 30, 2011.

Amendment No. 26.

SUMMARY—Authorizes the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada to waive certain fees and tuition for ~~[a child, widow or widower of a person who was killed while serving in the Nevada National Guard.]~~ certain persons. (BDR 34-915)

AN ACT relating to education; authorizing the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada to waive certain fees and tuition for a child, widow or widower of a person who was killed while serving in the Nevada National Guard; authorizing the waiver of certain fees and tuition for the spouse or child of a person who is identified as a prisoner of war or missing in action while serving in the Armed Forces of the United States; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada to waive certain fees for a member of the Nevada National Guard or a recruit for the Nevada National Guard. (NRS 396.544) Additionally, existing law requires the Board of Regents to pay certain fees and expenses for the dependent child of a police officer, firefighter, officer of the Nevada Highway Patrol or volunteer ambulance driver or attendant who was killed while performing his duties. (NRS 396.545) ~~[This]~~ Section 2 of this bill authorizes the Board of Regents to waive certain fees for a child, widow or widower of a person who was killed while performing his duties as a member of the Nevada National Guard. Section 3 of this bill authorizes the Board of Regents to waive certain fees for the spouse or child of a person who is identified as a prisoner of war or missing in action while performing his duties as a member of the Armed Forces of the United States.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 396 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto ~~[a new section to read as follows:]~~ the provisions set forth as sections 2 and 3 of this act.

Sec. 2. 1. The Board of Regents may grant a waiver of registration fees and laboratory fees for a child, widow or widower of a person who was killed while performing his duties as a member of the Nevada National Guard. For the purpose of assessing fees and charges against a person to whom such a waiver is granted, including, without limitation, tuition charges pursuant to NRS 396.540, the person shall be deemed to be a bona fide resident of this State.

2. A person is eligible for a waiver pursuant to subsection 1 if he maintains at least a 2.0 grade point average, on a 4.0 grading scale, each semester or the equivalent of a 2.0 grade point average if a different scale is used.

3. A child may use a waiver granted pursuant to this section for 10 years after he attains the age of 18 years or, if he enrolls in the System before the age of 18 years, for 10 years after the date of such enrollment. A widow or widower may use a waiver granted pursuant to this section for 10 years after the date of the death of the member.

4. The Board of Regents may request the Adjutant General to verify that a person is the child, widow or widower of a person who was killed while performing his duties as a member of the Nevada National Guard. The Adjutant General shall, upon receiving such a request, notify the Board of Regents in writing concerning the status of that person.

Sec. 3. 1. The Board of Regents may grant a waiver of registration fees and laboratory fees for a spouse or child of a person who is identified as a prisoner of war or missing in action while performing his duties as a member of the Armed Forces of the United States. For the purpose of assessing fees and charges against a person to whom such a waiver is granted, including, without limitation, tuition charges pursuant to NRS 396.540, the person shall be deemed to be a bona fide resident of this State.

2. A person is eligible for a waiver pursuant to subsection 1 if he maintains at least a 2.0 grade point average, on a 4.0 grading scale, each semester or the equivalent of a 2.0 grade point average if a different scale is used.

3. A spouse may use a waiver granted pursuant to this section for 10 years after the date on which the member of the Armed Forces was identified as a prisoner of war or missing in action. A child may use a waiver granted pursuant to this section for 10 years after he attains the age of 18 years or, if he enrolls in the System before the age of 18 years, for 10 years after the date of such enrollment.

4. The Board of Regents may request such documentation as it deems necessary to verify that a person is the spouse or child of a member of the Armed Forces of the United States who is identified as a prisoner of war or missing in action while performing his duties as a member of the Armed Forces.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 114.

AN ACT relating to juveniles; revising the provisions governing the certification of certain juveniles as adults for criminal proceedings; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides for the certification of a child as an adult for criminal proceedings under certain circumstances. (NRS 62B.390) ~~[If a child is charged with an offense that would have been a felony if committed by an adult and the child was 14 years of age or older at the time of allegedly committing the offense, the juvenile court may, but is not required to, certify the child as an adult, which is commonly referred to as "discretionary~~ ~~certification." Section 1 of this bill raises the threshold age at which a child may be certified as an adult under such discretionary certification from 14 years of age to 16 years of age.~~

~~Existing law also provides for~~ Under the concept that is commonly referred to as "presumptive certification," ~~[which requires]~~ the juvenile court is required to certify a child for criminal proceedings as an adult if the child is charged with certain offenses and was 14 years of age or older at the time of allegedly committing the offense, unless an exception applies. (NRS 62B.390) One such exception to presumptive certification is when the juvenile court specifically finds by clear and convincing evidence that the actions of the child were substantially the result of the substance abuse or emotional or behavioral problems of the child. The Nevada Supreme Court recently ruled that this exception to presumptive certification violates a child's right against self-incrimination under the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution by requiring the child to admit to criminal conduct to challenge certification. (In re William M., 124 Nev. Adv. Op. No. 95 (2008)) ~~[Section 1 of this]~~ This bill eliminates the exception to presumptive certification that was found unconstitutional by the Nevada Supreme Court and provides instead that the juvenile court is not required to certify the child as an adult if the child has substance abuse or emotional or behavioral problems that may be appropriately treated through the jurisdiction of the juvenile court. ~~[Section 1]~~ This bill also raises the threshold age at which a child may be certified as an adult under presumptive certification from 14 years of age to 16 years of age.

~~[Finally, existing law provides for discretionary certification of a child who escapes or attempts to escape from a public or private facility for the detention or correctional care of children and who was 14 years of age or older at the time of escaping or attempting to escape. (NRS 62B.400) Section 2 of this bill raises the threshold age at which a child may be certified as an adult under such discretionary certification from 14 years of age to 16 years of age.]~~

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 62B.390 is hereby amended to read as follows:

62B.390 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 and NRS 62B.400, upon a motion by the district attorney and after a full investigation, the juvenile court may certify a child for proper criminal proceedings as an adult to any court that would have jurisdiction to try the offense if committed by an adult, if the child:

(a) Is charged with an offense that would have been a felony if committed by an adult; and

(b) Was 14 ~~[16]~~ years of age or older at the time the child allegedly committed the offense.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, upon a motion by the district attorney and after a full investigation, the juvenile court shall certify a child for proper criminal proceedings as an adult to any court that would have jurisdiction to try the offense if committed by an adult, if the child:

(a) Is charged with:

(1) A sexual assault involving the use or threatened use of force or violence against the victim; or

(2) An offense or attempted offense involving the use or threatened use of a firearm; and

(b) Was ~~[14]~~ 16 years of age or older at the time the child allegedly committed the offense.

3. The juvenile court shall not certify a child for criminal proceedings as an adult pursuant to subsection 2 if the juvenile court specifically finds by clear and convincing evidence that:

(a) The child is developmentally or mentally incompetent to understand his situation and the proceedings of the court or to aid his attorney in those proceedings; or

(b) ~~[The actions of the child were substantially the result of the substance abuse or emotional or behavioral problems of the child]~~ The child has substance abuse or emotional or behavioral problems and the substance abuse or emotional or behavioral problems may be appropriately treated through the jurisdiction of the juvenile court.

4. If a child is certified for criminal proceedings as an adult pursuant to subsection 1 or 2, the juvenile court shall also certify the child for criminal proceedings as an adult for any other related offense arising out of the same facts as the offense for which the child was certified, regardless of the nature of the related offense.

5. If a child has been certified for criminal proceedings as an adult pursuant to subsection 1 or 2 and the child's case has been transferred out of the juvenile court:

(a) The court to which the case has been transferred has original jurisdiction over the child;

(b) The child may petition for transfer of the case back to the juvenile court only upon a showing of exceptional circumstances; and

(c) If the child's case is transferred back to the juvenile court, the juvenile court shall determine whether the exceptional circumstances warrant accepting jurisdiction.

Sec. 2. ~~[NRS 62B.400 is hereby amended to read as follows:~~

~~62B.400 1. A child shall be deemed to be a prisoner who has escaped or attempted to escape from lawful custody in violation of NRS 212.090, and proceedings may be brought against the child pursuant to the provisions of this section, if the child:~~

~~(a) Is committed to or otherwise is placed in a public or private facility for the detention or correctional care of children, including, but not limited to, all state, regional and local facilities for the detention of children; and~~

~~(b) Escapes or attempts to escape from such a facility.~~

~~2. Upon a motion by the district attorney and after a full investigation, the juvenile court may certify the child for criminal proceedings as an adult pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 62B.390 if the child was~~ [14] 16 ~~years of age or older at the time of the escape or attempted escape and:~~

~~(a) The child was committed to or placed in the facility from which the child escaped or attempted to escape because the child had been charged with or had been adjudicated delinquent for an unlawful act that would have been a felony if committed by an adult; or~~

~~(b) The child or another person aiding the child used a dangerous weapon to facilitate the escape or attempted escape.~~

~~3. If the child is certified for criminal proceedings as an adult pursuant to subsection 2, the juvenile court shall also certify the child for criminal proceedings as an adult for any other related offense arising out of the same facts as the escape or attempted escape, regardless of the nature of the related offense.~~

~~4. If the child is not certified for criminal proceedings as an adult pursuant to subsection 2 or otherwise is not subject to the provisions of subsection 2, the escape or attempted escape shall be deemed to be a delinquent act, and proceedings may be brought against the child pursuant to the provisions of this title.~~] (Deleted by amendment.)

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 3 of this bill creates the Grant Fund for the Training and Education of Personnel Who Work With Pupils With Autism to provide grants of money to school districts and charter schools for programs of training of certain personnel.

Section ~~[2]~~ 4 of this bill requires the board of trustees of each school district and the governing body of each charter school , to the extent money is available from the Grant Fund, to ensure that the personnel employed by the school district or charter school who work with pupils with autism receive the appropriate preparation and training necessary to serve those pupils. Section ~~[3]~~ 5 of this bill ~~[prescribes the requirements for personnel]~~ requires the board of trustees of each school ~~[districts]~~ district and the governing body of each charter ~~[schools]~~ school, to the extent money is available from the Grant Fund, to ensure that the licensed educational personnel employed by the school district or charter school who are assigned to assist a parent or legal guardian of a pupil with autism in making decisions about the services and programs available for the pupil ~~[.]~~ receive the appropriate preparation and training necessary to assist those persons. ~~[Section 4 of this bill requires that the parent or legal guardian of a pupil who is identified as being at risk for a diagnosis of autism be notified in a timely manner and referred to appropriate professionals for evaluation and treatment.]~~ Section ~~[5]~~ 7 of this bill ~~[prescribes the qualifications for a paraprofessional employed by a]~~ requires the board of trustees of each school district ~~[or]~~ and the governing body of each charter school , to the extent money is available from the Grant Fund, to ensure that a paraprofessional who is employed by the school district or charter school who is assigned to work with a pupil with autism ~~[.]~~ receives the appropriate preparation and training necessary to serve those pupils.

Section ~~[6]~~ 8 of this bill requires the personnel of the Health Division of the Department of Health and Human Services who provide early intervention services to possess the knowledge and skills necessary to provide services to children with autism and their families.

Section 9 of this bill requires that any money received by this State pursuant to the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, Public Law 111-5, to assist school districts with the training of personnel to assist pupils with autism be deposited in the Grant Fund.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 391 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 to ~~[5,]~~ 7, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 2. As used in sections 2 to 7, inclusive, of this act, unless the context otherwise requires, "Grant Fund" means the Grant Fund for the Training and Education of Personnel Who Work With Pupils With Autism.

Sec. 3. 1. There is hereby created the Grant Fund for the Training and Education of Personnel Who Work With Pupils With Autism to be administered by the Department. The Department may accept gifts, grants and donations from any source for deposit in the Grant Fund.

2. The money in the Grant Fund must be used only for the distribution of money to school districts and charter schools for programs of training as set forth in sections 4, 5 and 7 of this act and to provide assistance to licensed educational personnel who work with pupils with autism in obtaining an appropriate endorsement to teach those pupils.

3. The board of trustees of a school district or the governing body of a charter school may apply to the Department on a form prescribed by the Department for a grant of money from the Grant Fund. The application must include a description of the program of training for which the grant of money will be used.

~~[~~Sec. 2.~~]~~ Sec. 4. ~~[The]~~ 1. SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 3.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Government Affairs:

Amendment No. 42.

SUMMARY—Requires each plot in each veterans' cemetery in this State to be landscaped with natural turf grass. (BDR 37-197)

AN ACT relating to veterans' cemeteries; requiring the area immediately surrounding each plot in each veterans' cemetery in this State to be landscaped with natural turf grass; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the Executive Director for Veterans' Services to establish, operate and maintain a veterans' cemetery in northern Nevada and a veterans' cemetery in southern Nevada and requires a cemetery superintendent to operate and maintain each cemetery. (NRS 417.200) This bill requires the cemetery superintendent to ensure that the area immediately surrounding each plot in each veterans' cemetery is landscaped with natural turf grass.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 417.200 is hereby amended to read as follows:

417.200 1. The Executive Director shall establish, operate and maintain a veterans' cemetery in northern Nevada and a veterans' cemetery in southern Nevada, and may, within the limits of legislative authorization, employ personnel and purchase equipment and supplies necessary for the operation and maintenance of the cemeteries. The Executive Director shall employ a cemetery superintendent to operate and maintain each cemetery.

2. The cemetery superintendent shall ensure that the area immediately surrounding each plot in each veterans' cemetery is landscaped with natural turf grass.

3. A person desiring to provide voluntary services to further the establishment, maintenance or operation of either of the cemeteries shall submit a written offer to the cemetery superintendent which describes the nature of the services. The cemetery superintendent shall consider all such offers and approve those he deems appropriate. The cemetery superintendent shall coordinate the provision of all services so approved.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval.

Assembly Bill No. 35.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Corrections, Parole, and Probation:

Amendment No. 25.

AN ACT relating to offenders; revising the procedures for determining whether to grant a petition by an offender for release from lifetime supervision; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

This bill revises the circumstances under which a sentencing court or the State Board of Parole Commissioners must grant a petition by certain sex offenders for release from lifetime supervision. (NRS 176.0931) Specifically, this bill requires the court or Board to: (1) consider any reports submitted by the Division of Parole and Probation of the Department of Public Safety; and (2) ~~[grant the petition if, after considering such a report, the court or Board determines that the offender's conduct during his lifetime supervision indicates his release from supervision is appropriate and the offender satisfies the other criteria for release from supervision.]~~ consider whether the person has been convicted of certain offenses within the past 7 years, rather than the past 10 years, after his last conviction or release from incarceration.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 176.0931 is hereby amended to read as follows:

176.0931 1. If a defendant is convicted of a sexual offense, the court shall include in sentencing, in addition to any other penalties provided by law, a special sentence of lifetime supervision.

2. The special sentence of lifetime supervision commences after any period of probation or any term of imprisonment and any period of release on parole.

3. A person sentenced to lifetime supervision may petition the sentencing court or the State Board of Parole Commissioners for release from lifetime supervision. The sentencing court or the Board shall consider any report submitted by the Division concerning the person and grant a petition for release from a special sentence of lifetime supervision if:

(a) The person has complied with the requirements of the provisions of NRS 179D.010 to 179D.550, inclusive;

(b) The person has not been convicted of an offense that poses a threat to the safety or well-being of others for an interval of at least ~~[10]~~ 7 consecutive years after his last conviction or release from incarceration, whichever occurs later; and

(c) The person is not likely to pose a threat to the safety of others, as determined by a person professionally qualified to conduct psychosexual evaluations, if released from lifetime supervision . ~~[; and~~

~~(d) The person's conduct during his term of lifetime supervision indicates that release from lifetime supervision is appropriate, as determined by the sentencing court or Board after considering any report submitted by the Division.]~~

4. A person who is released from lifetime supervision pursuant to the provisions of subsection 3 remains subject to the provisions for registration as a sex offender and to the provisions for community notification, unless he is otherwise relieved from the operation of those provisions pursuant to the provisions of NRS 179D.010 to 179D.550, inclusive.

5. As used in this section:

(a) "Offense that poses a threat to the safety or well-being of others" includes, without limitation:

(1) An offense that involves:

(I) A victim less than 18 years of age;

(II) A crime against a child as defined in NRS 179D.0357;

(III) A sexual offense as defined in NRS 179D.097;

(IV) A deadly weapon, explosives or a firearm;

(V) The use or threatened use of force or violence;

(VI) Physical or mental abuse;

(VII) Death or bodily injury;

(VIII) An act of domestic violence;

(IX) Harassment, stalking, threats of any kind or other similar acts;

(X) The forcible or unlawful entry of a home, building, structure, vehicle or other real or personal property; or

(XI) The infliction or threatened infliction of damage or injury, in whole or in part, to real or personal property.

(2) Any offense listed in subparagraph (1) that is committed in this State or another jurisdiction, including, without limitation, an offense prosecuted in:

(I) A tribal court.

(II) A court of the United States or the Armed Forces of the United States.

(b) "Person professionally qualified to conduct psychosexual evaluations" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 176.133.

(c) "Sexual offense" means:

(1) A violation of NRS 200.366, subsection 4 of NRS 200.400, NRS 200.710, 200.720, subsection 2 of NRS 200.730, NRS 201.180, paragraph (a) or subparagraph (2) of paragraph (b) of subsection 1 of NRS 201.195, NRS 201.230 or 201.450 or paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection 4 or paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection 5 of NRS 201.560;

(2) An attempt to commit an offense listed in subparagraph (1); or

(3) An act of murder in the first or second degree, kidnapping in the first or second degree, false imprisonment, burglary or invasion of the home if the act is determined to be sexually motivated at a hearing conducted pursuant to NRS 175.547.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2009.

Assemblyman Horne moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblyman Horne.

Amendment adopted.

Assembly Bill No. 124.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce and Labor:

Amendment No. 88.

AN ACT relating to unemployment compensation; revising provisions relating to certain agricultural labor as employment; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

In compliance with federal requirements, existing state law exempts from the Federal Unemployment Tax Act certain services performed by an alien admitted to the United States. To maintain compliance in the event of applicable changes in federal law, section 1 of this bill provides that the existing exemption, as reflected under state law, must be eliminated if the federal exemption is eliminated. (NRS 612.090)

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 612.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

612.090 1. "Employment" includes agricultural labor if:

(a) The services are performed in the employ of a person who:

(1) Paid cash wages of $20,000 or more during any calendar quarter of the current calendar year or preceding calendar year to persons employed in agricultural labor ~~[;]~~ , including, without limitation, an alien described in subsection 4 without regard to whether the alien or the services performed by the alien are required to be covered by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act; or

(2) Employed 10 or more persons in agricultural labor , including, without limitation, an alien described in subsection 4 without regard to whether the alien or the services performed by the alien are required to be covered by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act, some portion of the day for at least 20 days, each day being in a different calendar week, during the current calendar year or preceding calendar year whether or not the weeks were consecutive or the persons were employed at the same moment of time; and

(b) The services are performed:

(1) On a farm, in the employ of any person, in connection with cultivating the soil, or in connection with raising or harvesting any agricultural or horticultural commodity, including the raising, shearing, feeding, caring for, training and management of livestock, bees, poultry and fur-bearing animals and wildlife.

(2) In the employ of the owner or tenant or other operator of a farm, in connection with the operation, management, conservation, improvement or maintenance of the farm and its tools and equipment, or in salvaging timber or clearing land of brush and other debris left by a hurricane, if the major part of the service is performed on a farm.

(3) In connection with the production or harvesting of any commodity defined as an agricultural commodity in section 15(g) of the Agricultural Marketing Act, 12 U.S.C. § 1141j, or in connection with the ginning of cotton, or in connection with the operation or maintenance of ditches, canals, reservoirs or waterways, not owned or operated for profit, used exclusively for supplying and storing water for farming purposes.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, in the employ of the operator of a farm in handling, planting, drying, packing, packaging, processing, freezing, grading, storing or delivering to storage or to market, or to a carrier for transportation to market, in its unmanufactured state, any agricultural or horticultural commodity, but only if the operator produced more than one-half of the commodity with respect to which such service is performed.

(5) Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, in the employ of a group of operators of farms, or a cooperative organization of which such operators are members, in the performance of service described in subparagraph (4), but only if such operators produced more than one-half of the commodity with respect to which such service is performed.

(6) On a farm operated for profit although the service is not in the course of the employer's trade or business.

2. The provisions of subparagraphs (4) and (5) of paragraph (b) of subsection 1 do not apply to service performed in connection with commercial canning or commercial freezing or in connection with any agricultural or horticultural commodity after its delivery to a terminal market for distribution for consumption.

3. As used in this section, the term "farm" includes stock, dairy, poultry, fruit, fur-bearing animal and truck farms, plantations, ranches, nurseries, ranges, greenhouses or other similar structures used primarily for raising agricultural or horticultural commodities, and orchards.

4. The provisions of ~~[this section]~~ paragraph (b) of subsection 1 do not apply to services performed ~~[before January 1, 1980,]~~ by an alien admitted to the United States to perform agricultural labor pursuant to sections 214(c) and 101(a)(15)(H) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. §§ 1184(c) and ~~[1101(a)(15)(H)]~~ 1101(a)(15)(H)(ii)(a), respectively ~~[.]~~ , unless the alien or the services are required to be covered by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2009.

Assembly Bill No. 193.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Government Affairs:

Amendment No. 119.

AN ACT relating to state financial administration; requiring certain governmental entities to report periodically to the Interim Finance Committee concerning the collection and abatement of fees and taxes; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

This bill requires certain governmental entities of this State, beginning with the fourth quarter of Fiscal Year 2008-2009 and concluding with the third quarter of Fiscal Year 2010-2011, to report to the Interim Finance Committee within ~~[15]~~ 60 days after the end of the immediately preceding fiscal quarter regarding the taxes and fees that: (1) were legally due to be paid to the entity; (2) the entity was able to collect; and (3) the entity did not collect or was otherwise unable to collect ~~[.]~~ , to the extent that such information is available to the entity. This bill also requires the Commission on Economic Development to report to the Interim Finance Committee on the same time schedule regarding each tax or fee that the Commission abated, exempted or otherwise waived and the duration of the applicable abatement, exemption or waiver. All reports required to be filed pursuant to this bill are required to be submitted on a form provided by the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. 1. Beginning on July 1, 2009, and extending through April 15, 2011, the following governmental entities shall, within ~~[15]~~ 60 days after the end of the immediately preceding fiscal quarter, file with the Interim Finance Committee a report that complies with the requirements of subsection 2:

(a) The Department of Taxation.

(b) The State Gaming Control Board.

(c) The Department of Motor Vehicles.

(d) The Department of Employment, Training and Rehabilitation.

(e) The Department of Business and Industry.

(f) The Office of the State Controller.

(g) The Office of the Secretary of State.

2. Each report required to be filed pursuant to subsection 1 must be submitted on a form provided by the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau and include the following components:

(a) A statement of all taxes and fees that were legally due to be paid to the particular governmental entity in the immediately preceding fiscal quarter;

(b) A statement of the total of all taxes and fees that the particular governmental entity actually collected in the immediately preceding fiscal quarter;

(c) A statement of all taxes and fees that the particular governmental entity, in the immediately preceding fiscal quarter, failed to collect or otherwise did not collect as the result of an abatement, exemption or another reason [~~; and~~] , to the extent that such information is available to the governmental entity;

(d) A statement of the total amount of all taxes and fees that remain legally due to be paid to the particular governmental entity for any past fiscal years up to and including the immediately preceding fiscal quarter of the current fiscal year[~~.~~] ; and

(e) Such other information relating to the provisions of this section as may be requested by the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau.

Sec. 2. 1. Beginning on July 1, 2009, and extending through April 15, 2011, the Commission on Economic Development shall, within [~~15~~] 60 days after the end of the immediately preceding fiscal quarter, file with the Interim Finance Committee a report that complies with the requirements of subsection 2.

2. Each report required to be filed pursuant to subsection 1 must be submitted on a form provided by the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau and include a description of every abatement, exemption or other type of waiver that the Commission on Economic Development granted with respect to a tax or fee during the immediately preceding fiscal quarter. The description must include, without limitation:

(a) An estimate of the total amount of money the payment of which was abated, exempted or otherwise waived; [~~and~~]

(b) The duration of the abatement, exemption or other type of waiver[~~.~~] ; and

(c) Such other information relating to the provisions of this section as may be requested by the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau.

Sec. 3. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval.

Assemblywoman Kirkpatrick moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Kirkpatrick.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 194.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Natural Resources, Agriculture, and Mining:

Amendment No. 120.

AN ACT relating to wildlife; [~~expanding~~] revising the system of assessing demerit points for wildlife convictions to [~~include~~] exclude certain convictions concerning master guides and subguides; prohibiting a person from providing compensation to a person acting as a master guide or subguide without proof of licensure; ~~[requiring a master guide or subguide to report certain violations relating to wildlife; increasing]~~ revising the penalty for acting as a master guide or subguide without a license issued by the Department of Wildlife; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the Board of Wildlife Commissioners to establish a system of assessing demerit points for a person who is convicted of violating certain laws and regulations in this State relating to hunting, fishing and trapping. Existing law also sets forth certain laws for which a violation is not included in the system of assessing demerit points. (NRS 501.1812-501.1818) Section 3 of this bill includes acting as a guide or subguide without a license within the group of laws for which a violation is not included in the system of assessing demerit points. (NRS 501.1812)

Existing law requires each person who provides service as a hunting or fishing guide for compensation or who provides that service as an incidental service to customers of a commercial enterprise to have a master guide license issued by the Department of Wildlife. Existing law also requires any person who assists a master guide and acts as a guide in the course of that activity to have a subguide license issued by the Department. (NRS 504.390) Existing law provides that a person who acts as a master guide or subguide without first obtaining a license from the Department is guilty of a gross misdemeanor. (NRS 504.395) Section 9 of this bill ~~[increases]~~ revises the penalty for committing such a violation ~~[from]~~ by providing that the person is guilty of a gross misdemeanor ~~[to]~~ for a first offense and guilty of a category E felony ~~[.]~~ for a second or subsequent offense. Section 9 also requires the Board of Wildlife Commissioners to revoke any hunting, fishing or trapping license, permit or privilege issued to the person and refuse to issue any new hunting, fishing or trapping license to the person for 5 years. Sections 1 and 2 of this bill conform existing references to such a violation to account for the change in the penalty. Section 5 of this bill prohibits a person from knowingly compensating a person who engages in activity for which a master guide license or subguide license is required unless the person engaging in that activity provides proof that he is the holder of such a license to the person providing the compensation. Section 5 makes a violation of that prohibition a ~~[gross]~~ misdemeanor. ~~[Section 6 of this bill requires a holder of a master guide license or subguide license to notify a game warden or other appropriate federal or state agency if the holder of the master guide license or subguide license observes or becomes aware of a violation of certain federal or state laws or regulations governing wildlife. Section 6 imposes a misdemeanor penalty against the holder of the master guide license or subguide license if he fails to report the violation promptly.]~~ Sections 7 and 8 of this bill define the word "compensation" and also revise the existing definition of "guide" for the purpose of requiring the issuance of master guide licenses and subguide licenses. (NRS 504.390)

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 501.171 is hereby amended to read as follows:

501.171 1. A county advisory board to manage wildlife shall submit written nominations for appointments to the Commission upon the request of the Governor and may submit nominations at any other time.

2. After consideration of the written nominations submitted by a county advisory board to manage wildlife and any additional candidates for appointment to the Commission, the Governor shall appoint to the Commission:

(a) One member who is actively engaged in the conservation of wildlife;

(b) One member who is actively engaged in farming;

(c) One member who is actively engaged in ranching;

(d) One member who represents the interests of the general public; and

(e) Five members who during at least 3 of the 4 years immediately preceding their appointment held a resident license to fish or hunt, or both, in Nevada.

3. The Governor shall not appoint to the Commission any person who has been convicted of:

(a) A felony or gross misdemeanor for a violation of NRS 501.376;

(b) A gross misdemeanor for a violation of NRS 502.060 ; ~~[or 504.395; or]~~

(c) A felony or gross misdemeanor for a violation of NRS 504.395; or

(d) Two or more violations of the provisions of chapters 501 to 504, inclusive, of NRS,

➥ during the previous 10 years.

4. Not more than three members may be from the same county whose population is 400,000 or more, not more than two members may be from the same county whose population is 100,000 or more but less than 400,000, and not more than one member may be from the same county whose population is less than 100,000.

5. The Commission shall annually select a Chairman and a Vice Chairman from among its members. A person shall not serve more than two consecutive terms as Chairman.

Sec. 2. NRS 501.172 is hereby amended to read as follows:

501.172 1. A member of the Commission may be removed from office for just cause.

2. A member of the Commission must be removed from office for:

(a) A conviction of a felony or gross misdemeanor for a violation of NRS 501.376;

(b) A conviction of a gross misdemeanor for a violation of NRS 502.060 ; ~~[or 504.395; or]~~

(c) A conviction of a felony or gross misdemeanor for a violation of NRS 504.395; or

(d) Two or more convictions of violating the provisions of chapters 501 to 504, inclusive, of NRS.

Sec. 3. NRS 501.1812 is hereby amended to read as follows:

501.1812 As used in NRS 501.1812 to 501.1818, inclusive, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "License" means a license or tag issued by the Department for:

(a) Recreational hunting or fishing; or

(b) Taking fur-bearing mammals, trapping unprotected mammals or selling raw furs for profit.

2. "Permit" means a permit issued by the Department for recreational hunting or fishing.

3. "Wildlife conviction" means a conviction obtained in any court of competent jurisdiction in this State, including, without limitation, a conviction obtained upon a plea of nolo contendere or upon a forfeiture of bail not vacated in any such court, for a violation of:

(a) A provision of this title or any regulation adopted pursuant to this title other than a provision of NRS 502.370, 502.390, 503.185, 503.310 or 504.295 to ~~[~~504.390,~~]~~ ~~[504.380,]~~ 504.398, inclusive; or

(b) A provision of the Lacey Act ~~[~~Amendment~~]~~ Amendments of 1981, ~~[~~Public Law 97-79,~~]~~ 16 U.S.C. §§ 3371 et seq., if the violation of that provision is based on a violation of a law or regulation of this State.

Sec. 4. ~~[~~Chapter 504 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 5 and 6 of this act.~~]~~ (Deleted by amendment.)

Sec. 5. Chapter 504 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. A person shall not, directly or indirectly, knowingly compensate a person who holds himself out as providing guide service or engaging in business as a master guide or subguide, or acting in any other capacity for which a master guide license or subguide license is required pursuant to NRS 504.390, unless the person acting in that capacity provides proof that he is a holder of such a master guide license or subguide license to the person providing the compensation.

2. A person who violates the provisions of subsection 1 is guilty of a ~~[gross]~~ misdemeanor.

Sec. 6. ~~[~~1. If a holder of a master guide license or subguide license observes or otherwise becomes aware of a violation of any provision of this title, a regulation adopted pursuant to this title or a federal law or regulation governing wildlife, the holder of the license shall promptly report the violation to a game warden or other appropriate federal or state agency.

2. In addition to any revocation of or refusal to issue a license pursuant to subsection 9 of NRS 504.390, a person who violates the ~~provisions of subsection 1 is guilty of a misdemeanor.]~~ (Deleted by amendment.)

Sec. 7. NRS 504.390 is hereby amended to read as follows:

504.390 1. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires ~~[otherwise, "guide"]~~ **:

(a) "Compensation" means any remuneration given in exchange for providing guide service which is predicated on a business relationship between the parties. The term does not include any reimbursement for shared trip expenses, including, without limitation, expenses for gasoline, food or any other costs that are generally associated with persons who are engaging in recreational hunting or fishing together.

(b) "Guide" means to assist another person for compensation in hunting wild mammals or wild birds and fishing ~~[.]~~ and includes the transporting of another person or his equipment to hunting and fishing locations within a general hunting and fishing area whether or not the guide determines the destination or course of travel.

2. Each person who provides guide service for compensation or provides guide service as an incidental service to customers of any commercial enterprise, whether a direct fee is charged for the guide service or not, must obtain a master guide license from the Department. Such a license must not be issued to any person who has not reached 21 years of age.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, each person who assists a person who is required to have a master guide license and acts as a guide in the course of that activity must obtain a subguide license from the Department. Such a license must not be issued to any person who has not reached 18 years of age. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to a person who:

(a) Is employed by or assists a person who holds a master guide license solely for the purpose of cooking, cutting wood, ~~[or]~~ caring for, grooming or saddling livestock, ~~[,]~~ or transporting a person by motor vehicle to or from a public facility for transportation, including, without limitation, a public airport.

(b) Holds a master guide license which authorizes him to provide services for the same species and in the same areas as the guide who employs him or requests his assistance and has submitted to the Department a notarized statement which indicates that he is employed by or provides assistance to the guide. The statement must be signed by both guides.

4. Fees for master guide and subguide licenses must be as provided in NRS 502.240.

5. Any person who desires a master guide license must apply for the license on a form prescribed and furnished by the Department. The application must contain the social security number of the applicant and such other information as the Commission may require by regulation. If that person was not licensed as a master guide during the previous licensing year, his application must be accompanied by a nonrefundable fee of $1,500.

6. Any person who desires a subguide license must apply for the license on a form prescribed and furnished by the Department. If that person was not licensed as a subguide during the previous licensing year, his application must be accompanied by a nonrefundable fee of $50.

7. It is unlawful for the holder of a master guide license to operate in any area where a special use permit is required without first obtaining a permit unless he is employed by or providing assistance to a guide pursuant to subsection 3.

8. The holder of a master guide license shall maintain records of the number of hunters and fishermen served, and any other information which the Department may require concerning fish and game taken by such persons. The information must be furnished to the Department on request.

9. If any licensee under this section, or person served by a licensee, is convicted of a violation of any provision of this title or chapter 488 of NRS, the Commission may revoke the license of the licensee and may refuse issuance of another license to the licensee for a period not to exceed 5 years.

10. The Commission may adopt regulations covering the conduct and operation of a guide service.

11. The Department may issue master guide and subguide licenses that are valid only in certain management areas, management units or administrative regions in such a manner as may be determined by the regulations of the Commission.

Sec. 8. NRS 504.390 is hereby amended to read as follows:

504.390 1. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires ~~[otherwise, "guide"]~~ **:

(a) "Compensation" means any remuneration given in exchange for providing guide service which is predicated on a business relationship between the parties. The term does not include any reimbursement for shared trip expenses, including, without limitation, expenses for gasoline, food or any other expenses that are generally associated with persons who are engaging in recreational hunting or fishing together.

(b) "Guide" means to assist another person for compensation in hunting wild mammals or wild birds and fishing ~~[.]~~ and includes the transporting of another person or his equipment to hunting and fishing locations within a general hunting and fishing area whether or not the guide determines the destination or course of travel.

2. Each person who provides guide service for compensation or provides guide service as an incidental service to customers of any commercial enterprise, whether a direct fee is charged for the guide service or not, must obtain a master guide license from the Department. Such a license must not be issued to any person who has not reached 21 years of age.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, each person who assists a person who is required to have a master guide license and acts as a guide in the course of that activity must obtain a subguide license from the Department. Such a license must not be issued to any person who has not reached 18 years of age. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to a person who:

(a) Is employed by or assists a person who holds a master guide license solely for the purpose of cooking, cutting wood, [or] caring for, grooming or saddling livestock, [,] or transporting a person by motor vehicle to or from a public facility for transportation, including, without limitation, a public airport.

(b) Holds a master guide license which authorizes him to provide services for the same species and in the same areas as the guide who employs him or requests his assistance and has submitted to the Department a notarized statement which indicates that he is employed by or provides assistance to the guide. The statement must be signed by both guides.

4. Fees for master guide and subguide licenses must be as provided in NRS 502.240.

5. Any person who desires a master guide license must apply for the license on a form prescribed and furnished by the Department. The application must contain such information as the Commission may require by regulation. If that person was not licensed as a master guide during the previous licensing year, his application must be accompanied by a nonrefundable fee of $1,500.

6. Any person who desires a subguide license must apply for the license on a form prescribed and furnished by the Department. If that person was not licensed as a subguide during the previous licensing year, his application must be accompanied by a nonrefundable fee of $50.

7. It is unlawful for the holder of a master guide license to operate in any area where a special use permit is required without first obtaining a permit unless he is employed by or providing assistance to a guide pursuant to subsection 3.

8. The holder of a master guide license shall maintain records of the number of hunters and fishermen served, and any other information which the Department may require concerning fish and game taken by such persons. The information must be furnished to the Department on request.

9. If any licensee under this section, or person served by a licensee, is convicted of a violation of any provision of this title or chapter 488 of NRS, the Commission may revoke the license of the licensee and may refuse issuance of another license to the licensee for a period not to exceed 5 years.

10. The Commission may adopt regulations covering the conduct and operation of a guide service.

11. The Department may issue master guide and subguide licenses that are valid only in certain management areas, management units or administrative regions in such a manner as may be determined by the regulations of the Commission.

Sec. 9. NRS 504.395 is hereby amended to read as follows:

504.395 1. Any person who purposefully or knowingly acts as a master guide or as a subguide without first obtaining a license pursuant to NRS 504.390 is guilty of ***:

(a) For a first offense, a gross misdemeanor.

(b) For a second or subsequent offense, a category E felony and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130.

2. Any vessel, vehicle, aircraft, pack or riding animal or other equipment used by a person operating in violation of subsection 1 is subject to forfeiture upon the conviction of that person of a gross misdemeanor or felony if that person knew or should have known that the vessel, vehicle, aircraft, animal or equipment would be used in violation of subsection 1.

3. In addition to any penalty imposed pursuant to subsection 1, if a person is convicted of violating a provision of that subsection, the Commission shall:

(a) Revoke any license, permit or privilege issued to that person pursuant to this title; and

(b) Refuse to issue any new license, permit or privilege to the person for 5 years after the date of the conviction.

Sec. 10. 1. This section and sections 1 to 7, inclusive, and 9 of this act become effective on October 1, 2009.

2. Section 7 of this act expires by limitation on the date on which the provisions of 42 U.S.C. § 666 requiring each state to establish procedures under which the state has authority to withhold or suspend, or to restrict the use of professional, occupational and recreational licenses of persons who:

(a) Have failed to comply with a subpoena or warrant relating to a proceeding to determine the paternity of a child or to establish or enforce an obligation for the support of a child; or

(b) Are in arrears in the payment for the support of one or more children,

➥ are repealed by the Congress of the United States.

3. Section 8 of this act becomes effective on the date on which the provisions of 42 U.S.C. § 666 requiring each state to establish procedures under which the state has authority to withhold or suspend, or to restrict the use of professional, occupational and recreational licenses of persons who:

(a) Have failed to comply with a subpoena or warrant relating to a proceeding to determine the paternity of a child or to establish or enforce an obligation for the support of a child; or

(b) Are in arrears in the payment for the support of one or more children,

➥ are repealed by the Congress of the United States.

Amendment No. 204.

SUMMARY—Revises provisions governing ~~[notice of]~~ sterilization requirements for dogs and cats. (BDR 50-203)

AN ACT relating to animals; requiring notice of any sterilization requirements for dogs and cats required by local ordinance to be posted in a public park and the office of each licensed veterinarian; requiring a retailer or dealer who sells a dog or cat to disclose to the purchaser any sterilization requirements for the animal required by local ordinance; providing that any local ordinance that requires the sterilization of dogs may not be enforced with respect to certain dogs; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law governs the sterilization of pets that are released by various releasing agencies, including societies to prevent cruelty to animals, animal shelters, nonprofit entities that provide temporary shelter for pets and organizations that take into custody pets which have been abandoned, abused or neglected. (NRS 574.600-574.660) Section 1 of this bill requires each licensed veterinarian to post in his office written notice of any sterilization requirements for dogs or cats required by local ordinance. Section 1 further requires a governmental entity with jurisdiction over a public park to post written notice in the park of any sterilization requirements for the animals required by local ordinance. Sections 2 and 3 of this bill require a retailer or dealer who sells a dog or cat to disclose to the purchaser any sterilization requirements for the animal required by local ordinance. (NRS 574.460, 574.470) A retailer or dealer who fails to comply with the disclosure requirements is subject to an administrative fine imposed by the Director of the State Department of Agriculture in an amount not to exceed $250 for the first violation, $500 for the second violation and $1,000 for each subsequent violation. (NRS 574.485) Section 3 also provides that any local ordinance which requires the sterilization of dogs may not be enforced with respect to a dog that is used primarily for hunting, purposes relating to farming or agriculture, breeding or drawing heavy loads, or as a service animal or service animal in training.

Section 4 of this bill provides that a retailer, dealer or operator must not separate a dog or cat from its mother until it is 8 weeks of age or accustomed to taking food or nourishment other than by nursing, whichever is later. (NRS 574.500)

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 574 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. A licensed veterinarian shall post written notice in a conspicuous place in his office of any sterilization requirements for dogs or cats required by local ordinance.

2. A governmental entity with jurisdiction over a public park in which dogs or cats are allowed shall post written notice in a conspicuous place in the park of any sterilization requirements for dogs or cats required by local ordinance.

3. As used in this section, "licensed veterinarian" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 638.007.

Sec. 2. NRS 574.460 is hereby amended to read as follows:

574.460 1. A retailer or dealer shall, before selling a cat, provide the purchaser of the cat with a written statement that discloses:

(a) The name, address and telephone number of the retailer or dealer.

(b) The date the cat was born, if known.

(c) The name and address of the person from whom the retailer or dealer obtained the cat and, if the person holds a license issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, the person's federal identification number.

(d) The name and address of the breeder of the cat, if any, and, if the breeder holds a license issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, the breeder's federal identification number.

(e) The registration numbers, if any, of the cat's sire and dam with the appropriate breed registry or any health certifications from a health certification organization such as the Orthopedic Foundation for Animals or its successor organization, if any.

(f) A record of any immunizations administered to the cat before the time of sale, including the type of vaccine, date of administration and name and address of the veterinarian who prescribed the vaccine.

(g) Any sterilization requirements for the cat required by local ordinance.

(h) The medical history of the cat, including, without limitation:

(1) The date that a veterinarian examined and, if applicable, reexamined the cat pursuant to subsections 1 and 2 of NRS 574.450 and determined that the cat did not have any illness, disease or other condition that is terminal or requires immediate hospitalization or immediate surgical intervention. For the purposes of this subparagraph, the presence of internal or external parasites does not constitute an illness, disease or other condition that is terminal or requires immediate hospitalization or immediate surgical intervention, unless the cat is clinically ill as a result of the parasite.

(2) Whether any treatment or medication has been administered by the veterinarian who examined or, if applicable, reexamined the cat pursuant to subsections 1 and 2 of NRS 574.450 and if such treatment or medication was administered, a statement indicating on what date it was administered and for what illness, disease or condition.

(3) The date on which the veterinarian sterilized the cat, if applicable.

(4) The name and address of the veterinarian who performed the examinations, ~~[or]~~ reexaminations or sterilization or administered any treatments or medications.

~~[(h)]~~ (i) That a copy of the veterinarian's evaluation of the health of the cat made pursuant to NRS 574.450 is available to the purchaser.

2. The written statement must be signed and dated by the retailer or dealer and contain a space for the purchaser to sign and date the statement as an attestation that he has read and understands the disclosures contained in the statement.

Sec. 3. NRS 574.470 is hereby amended to read as follows:

574.470 1. A retailer or dealer shall, before selling a dog, provide the purchaser of the dog with a written statement that discloses:

(a) The name, address and telephone number of the retailer or dealer.

(b) The date the dog was born, if known.

(c) The name and address of the person from whom the retailer or dealer obtained the dog and, if the person holds a license issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, the person's federal identification number.

(d) The name and address of the breeder of the dog, if any, and, if the breeder holds a license issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, the breeder's federal identification number.

(e) The registration numbers, if any, of the dog's sire and dam with the appropriate breed registry or any health certificates from a health certification organization such as the Orthopedic Foundation for Animals or its successor organization, if any.

(f) A record of any immunizations administered to the dog before the time of sale, including the type of vaccine, date of administration and name and address of the veterinarian who prescribed the vaccine.

(g) Any sterilization requirements for the dog required by local ordinance.

(h) The medical history of the dog, including, without limitation:

(1) The date that a veterinarian examined and, if applicable, reexamined the dog pursuant to subsections 1 and 2 of NRS 574.450 and determined that the dog did not have any illness, disease or other condition that is terminal or requires immediate hospitalization or immediate surgical intervention. For the purposes of this subparagraph, the presence of internal or external parasites does not constitute an illness, disease or other condition that is terminal or requires immediate hospitalization or immediate surgical intervention, unless the dog is clinically ill as a result of the parasite.

(2) Whether any treatment or medication has been administered by the veterinarian who examined or, if applicable, reexamined the dog pursuant to subsections 1 and 2 of NRS 574.450 and, if such treatment or medication was administered, a statement indicating on what date it was administered and for what illness, disease or condition.

(3) The date on which the veterinarian sterilized the dog, if applicable.

(4) The name and address of the veterinarian who performed the examinations , ~~[or]~~ reexaminations or sterilization or administered any treatments or medications.

~~[(h)]~~ (i) That a copy of the veterinarian's evaluation of the health of the dog performed pursuant to NRS 574.450 is available to the purchaser.

2. The written statement must be signed and dated by the retailer or dealer and contain a space for the purchaser to sign and date the statement as an attestation that he has read and understands the disclosures contained in the statement.

3. Any local ordinance that requires the sterilization of dogs may not be enforced with respect to a dog that is used primarily:

(a) For hunting;

(b) For purposes relating to farming or agriculture;

(c) For breeding;

(d) For drawing heavy loads; or

(e) As a service animal or a service animal in training, as those terms are defined in NRS 426.097 and 426.099, respectively.

Sec. 4. NRS 574.500 is hereby amended to read as follows:

574.500 A retailer, dealer or operator shall not separate a dog or cat from its mother until it is 8 weeks of age or accustomed to taking food or nourishment other than by nursing ~~[.]~~ , whichever is later.

Assembly Bill No. 26.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Education:

Amendment No. 28.

AN ACT relating to charter schools; revising the deadline for submission of an application for renewal of a written charter; revising provisions governing the exemption from annual performance audits for certain charter schools; revising certain annual reports concerning the progress made by charter schools; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 1 of this bill changes the deadline by which a charter school must submit an application for renewal of the written charter from 90 days to 120 days before the expiration of the charter. (NRS 386.530)

A charter school that meets certain requirements, including certain financial and performance standards, is eligible for an exemption from the requirement of an annual performance audit and must instead undergo a performance audit every 3 years. (NRS 386.5515) Section 2 of this bill provides that if such a charter school no longer satisfies the requirements for an exemption or if ~~[good cause]~~ reasonable evidence of noncompliance concerning the educational progress exists, the charter school will be required to submit to an annual performance audit. After undergoing the annual performance audit, the charter school may reapply for the exemption.

Existing law requires the board of trustees of a school district and a college or university within the Nevada System of Higher Education which sponsors a charter school to submit an annual report to the State Board of Education on the evaluation of the progress made by the charter school in achieving its educational goals and objectives. (NRS 386.610) Section 3 of this bill requires an annual report to be made by the Department of Education for each charter school sponsored by the State Board.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 386.530 is hereby amended to read as follows:

386.530 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, an application for renewal of a written charter may be submitted to the sponsor of the charter school not less than ~~[90]~~ 120 days before the expiration of the charter. The application must include the information prescribed by the regulations of the Department. The sponsor shall conduct an intensive review and evaluation of the charter school in accordance with the regulations of the Department. The sponsor shall renew the charter unless it finds the existence of any ground for revocation set forth in NRS 386.535. The sponsor shall provide written notice of its determination not fewer than 30 days before the expiration of the charter. If the sponsor intends not to renew the charter, the written notice must:

(a) Include a statement of the deficiencies or reasons upon which the action of the sponsor is based; and

(b) Prescribe a period of not less than 30 days during which the charter school may correct any such deficiencies.

➥ If the charter school corrects the deficiencies to the satisfaction of the sponsor within the time prescribed in paragraph (b), the sponsor shall renew the charter of the charter school.

2. A charter school may submit an application for renewal of its initial charter after 3 years of operation of the charter school. The application must include the information prescribed by the regulations of the Department. The sponsor shall conduct an intensive review and evaluation of the charter school in accordance with the regulations of the Department. The sponsor shall renew the charter unless it finds the existence of any ground for revocation set forth in NRS 386.535. The sponsor shall provide written notice of its determination. If the sponsor intends not to renew the charter, the written notice must:

(a) Include a statement of the deficiencies or reasons upon which the action of the sponsor is based; and

(b) Prescribe a period of not less than 30 days during which the charter school may correct any such deficiencies.

➥ If the charter school corrects the deficiencies to the satisfaction of the sponsor within the time prescribed in paragraph (b), the sponsor shall renew the charter of the charter school.

Sec. 2. NRS 386.5515 is hereby amended to read as follows:

386.5515 1. To the extent money is available from legislative appropriation or otherwise, a charter school may apply to the Department for money for facilities if:

(a) The charter school has been operating in this State for at least 5 consecutive years and is in good financial standing;

(b) Each financial audit and each performance audit of the charter school required by the Department contains no major notations, corrections or errors concerning the charter school for at least 5 consecutive years;

(c) The charter school has met or exceeded adequate yearly progress as determined pursuant to NRS 385.3613 or has demonstrated improvement in the achievement of pupils enrolled in the charter school, as indicated by annual measurable objectives determined by the State Board, for the majority of the years of its operation;

(d) The charter school offers instruction on a daily basis during the school week of the charter school on the campus of the charter school; and

(e) At least 75 percent of the pupils enrolled in the charter school who are required to take the high school proficiency examination have passed that examination, if the charter school enrolls pupils at a high school grade level.

2. A charter school that satisfies the requirements of subsection 1 shall submit to a performance audit as required by the Department one time every 3 years. The sponsor of the charter school and the Department shall not request a performance audit of the charter school more frequently than every 3 years without ~~[showing good cause for such a request.]~~ reasonable evidence of noncompliance concerning the educational progress of the charter school based upon the annual report submitted to the State Board pursuant to NRS 386.610. If the charter school no longer satisfies the requirements of subsection 1 or ~~[good cause exists for an annual performance audit,]~~ if reasonable evidence of noncompliance concerning the educational progress of the charter school exists based upon the annual report, the charter school shall, upon written notice from the sponsor, submit to an annual performance audit. Such a charter school:

(a) May, after undergoing the annual performance audit, reapply to the sponsor to determine whether the charter school satisfies the requirements of subsection 1.

(b) Is not eligible for any available money pursuant to subsection 1 until the sponsor determines that the charter school satisfies the requirements of that subsection.

3. A charter school that does not satisfy the requirements of subsection 1 shall submit a quarterly report of the financial status of the charter school if requested by the sponsor of the charter school.

Sec. 3. NRS 386.610 is hereby amended to read as follows:

386.610 1. On or before August 15 of each year, if the State Board, the board of trustees of a school district or a college or university within the Nevada System of Higher Education sponsors a charter school, the Department, the board of trustees or the institution, as applicable, shall submit a written report to the State Board. The written report must include:

(a) An evaluation of the progress of each charter school sponsored by the State Board, the board of trustees or the institution, as applicable, in achieving its educational goals and objectives.

(b) A description of all administrative support and services provided by the Department, the school district or the institution, as applicable, to the charter school.

2. The governing body of a charter school shall, after 3 years of operation under its initial charter, submit a written report to the sponsor of the charter school. The written report must include a description of the progress of the charter school in achieving its educational goals and objectives. If the charter school submits an application for renewal in accordance with the regulations of the Department, the sponsor may renew the written charter of the school pursuant to subsection 2 of NRS 386.530.

~~[Sec. 3.]~~ Sec. 4. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2009.

Assemblywoman Parnell moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Parnell.

Amendment adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed and to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 76.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 68.

AN ACT relating to the protection of children; exempting certain relatives from licensure as foster care providers as a condition to placing a child in their custody in certain circumstances; revising provisions governing the background check required for obtaining a license as a foster care provider ; ~~[and for placing a child who is in the custody of an agency which provides child welfare services in a home in an emergency situation;]~~ and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the licensing authority for foster homes to obtain fingerprints from applicants for a license to conduct a foster home, prospective employees of the applicant or of a licensee and from any resident of the foster home who is 18 years of age or older for the purpose of conducting a criminal background check. (NRS 424.033) Existing law similarly requires such a background check of any adult resident of a home in which an agency which provides child welfare services wishes to place a child in an emergency situation. (NRS 432B.391) In addition, the federal Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2006, Public Law 109-248, amended title IV of the Social Security Act to require fingerprint-based checks of the national crime information databases and to require checks of any state registry of child abuse and neglect before placing a child in a prospective foster home or with adoptive parents. To comply with this federal Act, section 1 of this bill requires the licensing authority for foster homes to ~~[conduct a preliminary name-based check of the records of criminal history for]~~ obtain permission from each applicant for a license to conduct a foster home, each prospective employee of the applicant or of a licensee and any resident of the foster home who is 18 years of age or older ~~[. (NRS 424.033) Section 1 further requires the licensing authority to obtain permission from each such person]~~ to conduct a child abuse and neglect screening in every state in which the person has resided during the last 5 years and then to conduct such a screening. In addition, section 1 requires ~~[each licensing authority]~~ the Division of Child and Family Services of the Department of Health and Human Services to assist the licensing authorities of other states in conducting a child abuse and neglect screening of a person who has resided in this State if the person has signed a written permission authorizing the screening ~~[. Section 3 of this bill imposes the same requirements on an agency which provides child welfare services before placing a child in a home in an emergency situation and requires such cooperation by an agency which provides child welfare services with agencies in other states that are conducting a screening of a person who has resided in this State if the person has signed a written permission authorizing~~

~~the screening. (NRS 432B.391)~~] and authorizes the Division to charge a fee for providing such information in an amount not to exceed the actual cost to the Division to provide the information.

Existing law requires each foster home to be licensed. (NRS 424.030) "Foster home" includes a family home in which one to six children under the age of 18 are cared for by a person who is not related within the first degree of consanguinity or affinity with or without compensation. (NRS 424.013, 424.014) Section 2 of this bill expands the exemptions from the provisions governing licensure of foster homes so that those provisions do not apply to a person who [~~voluntarily~~] provides care to a minor child who is in the custody of an agency which provides child welfare services if the caregiver is related to the child within the [~~third~~] fifth degree of consanguinity and the caregiver has not applied for a license. (NRS 424.090)

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 424.033 is hereby amended to read as follows:

424.033 1. Each applicant for a license to conduct a foster home, prospective employee of that applicant or of a person who is licensed to conduct a foster home, or resident of a foster home who is 18 years of age or older must submit to the licensing authority or its approved designee [~~a~~] ***:

(a) A complete set of his fingerprints and written permission authorizing the licensing authority or its approved designee to forward those fingerprints to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History for submission to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for its report to enable the licensing authority or its approved designee to conduct an investigation pursuant to NRS 424.031 [~~.~~] ; and

(b) Written permission to conduct a child abuse and neglect screening.

2. For each person who submits the documentation required pursuant to subsection 1, the licensing authority or its approved designee shall ~~[:~~

~~(a) Conduct a preliminary Federal Bureau of Investigation Interstate Identification Index name-based check of the records of criminal history; and~~

~~(b) Conduct]~~ conduct a child abuse and neglect screening of the person in every state in which the person has resided during the immediately preceding 5 years.

3. The licensing authority or its approved designee may exchange with the Central Repository or the Federal Bureau of Investigation any information respecting the fingerprints submitted.

[~~3.~~] 4. ~~[Each licensing authority in this State]~~ The Division shall assist the licensing authority of another state that is conducting a child abuse and neglect screening of a person who has resided in this State by providing information which is necessary to conduct the screening if the person who is the subject of the screening has signed a written permission authorizing the licensing authority to conduct a child abuse and neglect screening. The Division may charge a fee for providing such information in an amount which does not exceed the actual cost to the Division to provide the information.

5. When a report from the Federal Bureau of Investigation is received by the Central Repository, it shall immediately forward a copy of the report to the licensing authority or its approved designee.

Sec. 2. NRS 424.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

424.090 The provisions of this chapter do not apply to homes in which:

1. Care is provided only for a neighbor's or friend's child on an irregular or occasional basis for a brief period, not to exceed 90 days.

2. Care is provided by the legal guardian.

3. Care is provided for an exchange student.

4. Care is provided to enable a child to take advantage of educational facilities that are not available in his home community.

5. Any child or children are received, cared for and maintained pending completion of proceedings for adoption of such child or children, except as otherwise provided in regulations adopted by the Division.

6. Except as otherwise provided in regulations adopted by the Division, care is voluntarily provided to a minor child who is:

(a) Related to the ~~[~~caretaker~~]~~ caregiver by blood, adoption or marriage; and

(b) Not in the custody of an agency which provides child welfare services.

7. Care is ~~[voluntarily]~~ provided to a minor child who is in the custody of an agency which provides child welfare services pursuant to chapter 432B of NRS if:

(a) The caregiver is related to the child within the ~~[third]~~ fifth degree of consanguinity; and

(b) The caregiver ~~[has not applied for licensure]~~ is not licensed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 3. ~~[NRS 432B.391 is hereby amended to read as follows:~~

~~432B.391 1. Assembly Bill No. 90.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce and Labor:

Amendment No. 155.

AN ACT relating to deceptive trade practices; requiring that information obtained in the course of certain investigations and proceedings be kept confidential in certain circumstances; authorizing the Attorney General to share such information, and otherwise cooperate with, officials of the Federal Government and other states; ~~[allowing the Attorney General to bring a civil action against a person engaging in certain deceptive trade practices; revising definitions relating to telecommunication services;]~~ and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law allows the Attorney General to investigate suspected deceptive trade practices and to institute proceedings to seek certain remedies for such violations. (Chapter 598 of NRS)

Section 1 of this bill requires that information obtained in the course of certain investigations and proceedings be kept confidential in certain circumstances. Section 1 also authorizes the Attorney General to share such information, and otherwise cooperate with, officials of the Federal Government and other states.

~~[Section 4 of this bill authorizes the Attorney General to seek civil remedies against persons engaging in certain deceptive trade practices. (NRS 598.0963)~~

~~Sections 10 and 11 of this bill revise definitions relating to telecommunication services.]~~

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 598 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. The Attorney General, in the course of the investigation of any alleged violations of this chapter, may obtain and use any intelligence, investigative information or other information obtained as the result of a subpoena or civil investigative demand or made available to the Attorney General on a confidential or similarly restricted basis. Any such intelligence or information received must retain its confidential status under the laws of this State and is exempt from the provisions of NRS 239.010.

2. The Attorney General may withhold from public inspection or refuse to disclose to a person, for such time as the Attorney General considers necessary, any intelligence or information obtained pursuant to subsection 1 or NRS 598.0963 that, in the Attorney General's judgment, would impede or otherwise interfere with an investigation that is currently pending.

3. The Attorney General may cooperate with and coordinate the enforcement of the provisions of this chapter with officials of the Federal Government and the several states, including, but not limited to, the sharing of information and evidence obtained in accordance with subsection 1 or NRS 598.0963.

Sec. 2. NRS 598.0903 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.0903 As used in NRS 598.0903 to 598.0999, inclusive, and section 1 of this act, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 598.0905 to 598.0947, inclusive, have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 3. NRS 598.0955 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.0955 1. The provisions of NRS 598.0903 to 598.0999, inclusive, and section 1 of this act do not apply to:

(a) Conduct in compliance with the orders or rules of, or a statute administered by, a federal, state or local governmental agency.

(b) Publishers, including outdoor advertising media, advertising agencies, broadcasters or printers engaged in the dissemination of information or reproduction of printed or pictorial matter who publish, broadcast or reproduce material without knowledge of its deceptive character.

(c) Actions or appeals pending on July 1, 1973.

2. The provisions of NRS 598.0903 to 598.0999, inclusive, and section 1 of this act do not apply to the use by a person of any service mark, trademark, certification mark, collective mark, trade name or other trade identification which was used and not abandoned prior to July 1, 1973, if the use was in good faith and is otherwise lawful except for the provisions of NRS 598.0903 to 598.0999, inclusive ~~[.]~~ , and section 1 of this act.

Sec. 4. NRS 598.0963 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.0963 1. Whenever the Attorney General is requested in writing by the Commissioner or the Director to represent him in instituting a legal proceeding against a person who has engaged or is engaging in a deceptive trade practice, the Attorney General may bring an action in the name of the State of Nevada against that person on behalf of the Commissioner or Director.

2. The Attorney General may institute ~~[civil or]~~ criminal proceedings to enforce the provisions of NRS 598.0903 to 598.0999, inclusive ~~[.]~~ , and section 1 of this act. The Attorney General is not required to obtain leave of the court before instituting ~~[civil or]~~ criminal proceedings pursuant to this subsection.

3. If the Attorney General has reason to believe that a person has engaged or is engaging in a deceptive trade practice, the Attorney General may bring an action in the name of the State of Nevada against that person to obtain a temporary restraining order, a preliminary or permanent injunction, or other appropriate relief.

4. If the Attorney General has cause to believe that a person has engaged or is engaging in a deceptive trade practice, the Attorney General may issue a subpoena to require the testimony of any person or the production of any documents, and may administer an oath or affirmation to any person providing such testimony. The subpoena must be served upon the person in the manner required for service of process in this State or by certified mail with return receipt requested. An employee of the Attorney General may personally serve the subpoena.

Sec. 5. NRS 598.0967 is hereby amended to read as follows:

598.0967 1. The Commissioner and the Director, in addition to other powers conferred upon them by NRS 598.0903 to 598.0999, inclusive, and section 1 of this act, may issue subpoenas to require the attendance of witnesses or the production of documents, conduct hearings in aid of any investigation or inquiry and prescribe such forms and adopt such regulations as may be necessary to administer the provisions of NRS 598.0903 to 598.0999, inclusive ~~[.]~~ , and section 1 of this act. Such regulations may include, without limitation, provisions concerning the applicability of the provisions of NRS 598.0903 to 598.0999, inclusive, and section 1 of this act to particular persons or circumstances.
