Existing law requires the Department of Corrections to assess each prisoner who has been convicted of a sexual offense to determine the prisoner's risk to reoffend in a sexual manner. The State Board of Parole Commissioners must consider the assessment before determining whether to grant or revoke the parole of a person convicted of a sexual offense. (NRS 213.1214) Section 13 of this bill adds to the list of sexual offenses which require such an assessment: (1) an offense involving sexual conduct between certain employees of or volunteers at a school and certain pupils; and (2) an offense involving sexual conduct between certain employees of a college or university and certain students.

Existing law generally provides that a person who: (1) is 21 years of age or older; (2) is or was employed in a position of authority by or is or was volunteering in a position of authority at a public or private school; and (3) engages in sexual conduct with a pupil, is guilty of a category C felony if the pupil is 16 or 17 years of age or a category B felony if the pupil is 14 or 15 years of age. (NRS 201.540) Section 10 of this bill: (1) removes the requirement that such a person be employed or volunteer in a position of authority; and (2) prohibits such a person from engaging in sexual conduct with a pupil who is ~~[18]~~ 16 years of age ~~[.]~~ or older and who has not received a high school diploma, a general educational development certificate or an equivalent document. Similarly, existing law generally provides that a person who: (1) is 21 years of age or older; (2) is employed in a position of authority by a college or university; and (3) engages in sexual conduct with a student who is 16 or 17 years of age and enrolled in or attending the college or university, is guilty of a category C felony. (NRS 201.550) Section 11 of this bill prohibits such a person from engaging in sexual conduct with a student who is ~~[18]~~ 16 years of age ~~[. Section 11 additionally provides that such a prohibition on engaging in sexual conduct with a student only applies if the student]~~ or older and who is enrolled in or attending the college or university but has not received a high school diploma, a general educational development certificate or an equivalent document.

AN ACT relating to public safety; requiring a court to transmit within 5 business days certain records of adjudication concerning a person's mental health to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History for certain purposes relating to the purchase or possession of a firearm; authorizing the inclusion, correction and removal of the information in such records in each appropriate database of the National Crime Information Center; requiring each agency of criminal justice to submit information relating to records of criminal history within 60 days after the date of the conviction; requiring the Central Repository, upon request, to conduct a background check without charge on a person who wishes to acquire a firearm; prohibiting certain persons from having possession, custody or control of a firearm; prohibiting certain persons from selling a firearm under certain circumstances; revising the functions of the Department of Health and Human Services; requiring a mental health professional to apply for the emergency admission of a patient to a mental health facility or notify certain persons when a patient makes certain explicit threats of imminent serious physical harm or death; revising the applicability of certain provisions pertaining to the regulation of firearms by local governments; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires a court to transmit to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History a record of any court order, judgment, plea or verdict concerning the involuntary admission of a person to a mental health facility, the appointment of a guardian for a person with a mental defect, a finding that a person is incompetent to stand trial, a verdict acquitting a defendant by reason of insanity or a plea or finding of guilty but mentally ill, along with a statement that the record is being transmitted for inclusion in all appropriate databases of the National Instant Criminal Background Check System. (NRS 159.0593, 174.035, 175.533, 175.539, 178.425, 433A.310) Sections 1-4, 13 and 17 of this bill require such records to be transmitted to the Central Repository within 5 business days.

Existing law requires the inclusion, correction and removal of information in records of criminal history in each appropriate database of the National Instant Criminal Background Check System. (NRS 179A.163, 179A.165, 179A.167, 433A.310) Sections 8-10 ~~[and 17]~~ of this bill also authorize or require, as appropriate, the inclusion, correction and removal of such information in each appropriate database of the National Crime Information Center. Section 5 of this bill defines "National Crime Information Center" to mean the computerized information system created and maintained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 534.

Existing law requires each agency of criminal justice to submit information relating to records of criminal history within the period described by the Director of the Department of Public Safety. (NRS 179A.075) Section 7 of this bill requires the submission of such information within 60 days after the date of the conviction.

Existing law authorizes a private person who wishes to transfer a firearm to another person to request the Central Repository to perform a background check on the person who wishes to acquire the firearm. (NRS 202.254) Section 14 of this bill prohibits the Central Repository from charging a fee to perform a background check for such a transfer. Section 14 further provides immunity from civil and criminal liability to a person who does not request a background check or who requests a background check for any act or omission that was taken in good faith and without malicious intent. Finally, section 14 allows the Director of the Department of Public Safety to request an allocation from the Contingency Account in the State General Fund if necessary to cover the cost of providing background checks without the imposition of a fee.

Existing law prohibits a person who has been adjudicated as mentally ill, has been committed to any mental health facility or is illegally or unlawfully in the United States from possessing or having custody or control of a firearm. (NRS 202.360) Section 15 of this bill also prohibits a person who has entered a plea of guilty but mentally ill, has been found guilty but mentally ill or has been acquitted by reason of insanity from possessing or having custody or control of a firearm.

Existing law prohibits a person from selling or otherwise disposing of any firearm or ammunition to another person if he or she has actual knowledge that the other person: (1) is under indictment for, or has been convicted of, a felony; (2) is a fugitive from justice; (3) has been adjudicated as mentally ill or has been committed to a mental health facility; or (4) is illegally or unlawfully in the United States. (NRS 202.362) Section 16 of this bill prohibits a person from selling, transferring or otherwise disposing of any firearm or ammunition to another person or purchasing a firearm on behalf of or for another person with the intent to transfer the firearm to that person if he or she has reasonable cause to believe that the other person meets any of those listed conditions, if the other person is otherwise prohibited from possessing a firearm or if the other person is a member of a criminal gang.

Existing law provides that, except as otherwise provided by specific statute, the Legislature reserves for itself such rights and powers as are necessary to regulate the transfer, sale, purchase, possession, ownership, transportation, registration and licensing of firearms and ammunition in this State, and further provides that no county, city or town may infringe upon those rights and powers. (NRS 244.364, 268.418, 269.222) Sections 16.3-16.7 of this bill expand such rights and powers of the Legislature to include those necessary to: (1) regulate the carrying and storage of firearms, firearm accessories and ammunition; and (2) define all such terms. Sections 16.3-16.7 provide that certain ordinances or regulations which are inconsistent with these rights and powers of the Legislature are null and void and require the governing bodies of certain political subdivisions of this State to repeal any such ordinance or regulation. Sections 16.3-16.7 also authorize any person who is adversely affected by the enforcement of any such ordinance or regulation on or after the effective date of these sections to file suit in the appropriate court for declarative and injunctive relief and damages. Such a person is entitled to certain damages depending on whether and when the relevant governing body of a political subdivision repeals such an ordinance or a regulation.

Existing law also requires certain political subdivisions of this State in a county whose population is 700,000 or more (currently Clark County), which adopted ordinances or regulations before June 13, 1989, that require the registration of firearms capable of being concealed, to make certain amendments to such registration provisions. (NRS 244.364, 268.418, 269.222) Sections 16.3-16.7 additionally delete the provisions requiring certain political subdivisions of this State to make such amendments.

Existing law provides that a patient has a privilege to refuse to disclose and to prevent any other person from disclosing confidential communications between the patient and the patient's psychologist or doctor. (NRS 49.209, 49.225) Sections 11 and 12 of this bill provide exceptions to the privilege for certain determinations which are now required pursuant to this bill.

Existing law: (1) designates the Department of Health and Human Services as the official state agency for developing and administering outpatient mental health services; and (2) requires the Department to perform certain functions relating to mental health. (NRS 433C.130) Section 18 of this bill requires the Department to also assist and consult with local governments and all local law enforcement agencies in this State in providing community mental health services.

Existing law imposes various requirements and duties on certain health care professionals. (Chapter 629 of NRS) Section 19 of this bill provides that if a patient of a mental health professional makes an explicit threat of imminent serious physical harm or death to a person, and the mental health professional believes the patient has the intent and ability to carry out the threat, the mental health professional must : (1) apply for the emergency admission of the patient to a mental health facility; or (2) notify the threatened person and the appropriate law enforcement agency. A mental health professional who exercises reasonable care in determining whether or not to provide notice of such a threat is not subject to civil or criminal liability or disciplinary action by a professional licensing board for disclosing confidential or privileged information or for any damages caused by the actions of a patient.

Assembly Bill No. 147 of the 1989 Legislative Session (A.B. 147) reserved for the Legislature the rights and powers necessary to regulate the transfer, sale, purchase, possession, ownership, transportation, registration and licensing of firearms and ammunition in this State. (Chapter 308, Statutes of Nevada 1989, p. 652) However, section 5 of A.B. 147 provided that the preemptive effect of the bill applied only to ordinances or regulations adopted by certain political subdivisions on or after June 13, 1989. Section 20 of this bill amends section 5 of A.B. 147 to include and preempt ordinances or regulations adopted by certain political subdivisions before June 13, 1989.

2. Except as otherwise provided by specific statute, a defendant who is found guilty but mentally ill is subject to the same criminal, civil and administrative penalties and procedures as a defendant who is found guilty.

5. If the court issues an order involuntarily admitting a person to a public or private mental health facility or to a program of community-based or outpatient services pursuant to this section, the court shall, notwithstanding the provisions of NRS 433A.715, cause, within 5 business days after ~~[issuing]~~ the order ~~[,]~~ becomes final pursuant to this section, on a form prescribed by the Department of Public Safety, a record of ~~[such]~~ the order to be transmitted to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History, along with a statement indicating that the record is being transmitted for inclusion in each appropriate database of the National Instant Criminal Background Check System.

Assemblyman Kirner moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblyman Kirner.

ASSEMBLYMAN KIRNER:

This amendment deletes provisions to the bill requiring an increase in certain fees for licensed escrow agents and branches. It also removes sections relating to the licensure of mortgage servicers, instead requiring the Commissioner of the Division of Mortgage Lending to prescribe by regulation the requirements for licensure, regulation, and discipline of servicers. The amendment also creates a new definition of "wholesale lender" and provides for the regulation of out-of-state wholesale lenders by the Division. Additionally, it allows the Commissioner to examine a licensee's record electronically.

The bill excludes from registration any trap, snare, or similar device if the device is used exclusively on private property by the owner or occupant of the property or with his or her permission if that property is posted or fenced in accordance with Nevada law; for the control of rodents by an institution of the Nevada System of Higher Education; by any governmental agency; or for the taking of wild mammals for scientific or educational purposes under a permit issued by the Department. The bill also removes the requirement that an owner or occupant of property obtain a permit from the Department prior to taking or killing a fur-bearing mammal injuring that property.

Finally, the measure transfers responsibility for the regulation of the taking of shed antlers from the Board of Wildlife Commissioners to the boards of county commissioners and limits that authority to the regulation of taking shed antlers for commercial purposes.

Remarks by Assemblymen Trowbridge and Ohrenschall.

ASSEMBLYMAN TROWBRIDGE:

Senate Bill 5 provides that a candidate for nonpartisan office who receives a majority of the votes cast in a primary election must be declared the winner and his or her name not placed on the general election ballot. The measure clarifies this requirement for certain city elections and adds this provision to the Charter of Carson City.

If no more than twice the number of candidates file for a nonpartisan office, the candidates must be declared the nominees. Their names must be omitted from the primary election ballot and placed on the ballot for the general election. This provision also applies in judicial elections.

In addition, if one of the candidates in a judicial primary election receives a majority of the votes cast in the primary election, the candidate must be declared the nominee and only that person's name must be placed on the general election ballot.

The bill is effective on October 1, 2015.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I reluctantly rise in opposition to Senate Bill 5. I voted against this bill in your Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections. We know that many of our constituents sit out the primary. They do not turn out, unfortunately, but get more excited in the general election. That is when they come out to vote. This bill will have an effect on our judges. In Nevada, we elect our judges. As it stands now, if three people file for district court judgeship, Court of Appeals, or Nevada Supreme Court and one of the candidates gets 50 percent plus one vote, they have a runoff in November with whomever is the second-highest vote-getter. A lot more voters then get to pick who that member of the judiciary will be.

The effect of Senate Bill 5 for nonpartisan offices and all these judgeships will be that the winner in the primary will take all. We will have a very small group of voters picking our judiciary, and I do not think that is a good recipe. Ideally, we would get more people to turn out in the primary but, unfortunately, that has not happened up until now. I am, regrettably, going to be a no.

Senate Bill 50 deletes the requirement of the State Contractors' Board to establish an advisory committee concerning the classification of licensure of persons who install and maintain building shell or thermal system installation. The bill authorizes the Board to use additional information to consider whether an applicant or licensee is qualified on behalf of another for more than one active license. The Board is allowed to inquire into and consider the financial responsibility and good character of such persons. The bill adds certain international building codes to the list of workmanship standards that, in the absence of a locally adopted building or construction code, a licensee must achieve or else be subject to disciplinary action.

Finally, the measure clarifies that an injured person or personal representative of the licensee who is cohabitating with the licensee, is married to the licensee, or is related to the licensee by blood within the first or second degree of consanguinity is not eligible for recovery of damages from the Recovery Fund maintained by the Board.

ASSEMBLYMAN TROWBRIDGE:

Senate Bill 74 makes various changes to the eligibility requirements and the administration of the economic development abatements administered by the Office of Economic Development.

First, the bill limits the amount of partial abatements that may be granted if the business pays less than the statewide average wage. An abatement of the local school support tax is prohibited if the business pays its new employees less than 100 percent of the statewide average wage.

Second, the bill provides for certain employment requirements to be met within a two-year period, rather than a one-year period, following the effective date of the abatement. An applicant is also required to provide an estimate of the total number of new employees anticipated to be hired within that two-year period.

Third, the bill requires the agreement between the Office and the applicant to state the effective date of the abatement, as agreed to by the Office and the applicant.

Finally, the bill clarifies that only wages paid to new employees in this state are considered when determining whether an applicant satisfies the average hourly wage requirement.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Dickman.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DICKMAN:

Senate Bill 88 authorizes employees of the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services [DHHS] to access information in the Statewide Central Registry for the Collection of Information Concerning the Abuse or Neglect of a Child. An employee may only access information in the registry when conducting a background investigation of holders of licenses, employees, and certain residents of child care facilities.

In addition, the measure authorizes the Administrator of the Division of Child and Family Services, DHHS, to grant access to the registry to employees or contractors of any other state or local government agency responsible for the welfare of children who demonstrate a bona fide need to access the registry. This measure is effective on July 1, 2015.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN NEAL:

Senate Bill 94 makes various changes regarding the administration and eligibility criteria for the transferrable film tax credit program administered by the Office of Economic Development.

The bill eliminates the June 30, 2023, expiration date for the program, thus making the program permanent rather than a pilot program. The bill also removes the $10 million limitation on the total amount of tax credits that may be approved and instead limits the total amount of tax credits to the amount appropriated for or authorized for each fiscal year by the Legislature.

The bill changes the definition of "qualified expenditures and production costs" that may serve as the basis for transferrable tax credits to reflect "qualified direct production expenditures" and further clarifies the types of expenditures and productions that may qualify for a tax credit. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2015.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SPIEGEL:

Senate Bill 144 makes various changes to traffic laws with regard to pedestrian safety. The bill authorizes the Department of Transportation or the governing body of a local government to designate pedestrian safety zones, and it provides the court with the discretion to double the penalty for violating certain traffic laws within such zones. A sign must be placed before a pedestrian safety zone to warn that higher fines may apply, and additional signs must identify the beginning and end of each zone. A person is not subject to a double penalty if such signs are not erected.

In the case where there is a flashing yellow turn arrow, Senate Bill 144 requires a vehicle to yield the right-of-way to other traffic or pedestrians lawfully in the intersection. Senate Bill 144 also prohibits a vehicle from passing another vehicle or making a U-turn in an active designated school zone. This bill is effective on October 1, 2015.

Remarks by Assemblyman Armstrong.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARMSTRONG:

Senate Bill 155 authorizes a farmer or rancher to claim a refund of 80 percent of the taxes paid by the farmer or rancher on bulk purchases of special fuel, which is consistent with provisions of current law that provide for a similar refund on bulk purchases of motor vehicle fuel. The bill defines "bulk purchases" as purchases of more than 50 gallons of special fuel which are not placed directly into the tanks of motor vehicles.

The bill consolidates into the term "implement of husbandry" the vehicles and agricultural equipment that are described in various provisions of existing law as "farm equipment," "farm tractors," and "implements of husbandry." The bill requires a person who engages in the operation, towing, and transportation of implements of husbandry on the highways of this state to apply for and obtain a farm license plate which must be displayed on the implement of husbandry and pay the Department of Motor Vehicles a nonrefundable fee of $100.

The bill additionally provides that, instead of a farm license plate, a reflective placard for slow-moving vehicles approved by the United States Department of Transportation may be displayed on certain implements of husbandry that are operated or transported on the highways of this state.

Instead, this bill requires a veteran to submit satisfactory evidence of an honorable discharge or other document of honorable separation to Nevada's Department of Motor Vehicles.

The measure reduces to one year the statute of limitations period applicable to commencing an action against a prime contractor for the recovery of wages or benefits due to an employee of a subcontractor. Senate Bill 254 requires a public body undertaking a public work to withhold 5 percent, instead of at least 5 percent, from any progress payment to a contractor until 50 percent of the work required by the contract has been completed. Additionally, after 50 percent of the project is completed, any retainage may be paid in certain situations, including when the contractor has determined that any subcontractor has made satisfactory progress on the work under the subcontract.

The bill reduces the retention amount allowed in private construction projects from 10 percent to 5 percent from the progress payments made to the contractor. Retained funds must be paid upon the issuance of a temporary certificate of occupancy. Finally, the bill repeals the expiration of certain provisions of existing law pertaining to retainage in public works, which are set to expire on July 1, 2015.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DOOLING:

Senate Bill 285 revises provisions relating to the powers and duties of constables and deputy constables. The bill allows the process, writs, or warrants of courts of justice, judicial officers, and coroners to be delivered directly to a constable who then must execute the orders. Certain fees to which constables are entitled for their services are increased, and a board of county commissioners is authorized to provide by ordinance for the fee to which a constable is entitled for providing a service authorized by law for which no fee is established by statute. A constable is authorized to accept payment of fees by credit card, debit card, or the electronic transfer of money and to charge and collect a convenience fee for the acceptance of such forms of payment under certain circumstances.

A board of county commissioners is authorized to appoint a reasonable number of clerks for the constable of a township and to set their salaries. The bill exempts from the licensure requirements in state law, relevant to intoxicating liquors, a sheriff or constable who sells or offers for sale liquor at a sale under execution and further allows a person licensed under state law to purchase liquor at such a sale under execution. This measure is effective upon passage and approval.

The bill also provides that a former public officer who has any unspent campaign contributions as of October 1, 2015, shall, on or before September 30, 2017: (1) file a declaration or acceptance of candidacy; (2) appear on a ballot at any election; or (3) dispose of his or her unspent contributions as set forth in Nevada law. ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

Senate Bill 377 specifically provides that any appeal to a county board of equalization filed by mail is deemed to be filed based on the date the envelope is postmarked by the post office. If the postmark date is omitted or illegible, the appeal is deemed to be filed on the day the appeal is received. Any postmark not provided directly by the post office does not establish that an appeal is timely filed.

The bill also specifies that the methodology provided in current law for equally allocating the taxable value of common elements within a common-interest community to each of the units within the community may be used only if the community association provides the county assessor with the information necessary to identify the units to which the taxable value of the common elements must be allocated. If the community association does not provide such information to the county assessor, the property taxes on common elements must be paid by the person or association who is the owner of the common elements. This is effective July 1, 2015.

This clarifies our current law to ensure that we are equally implementing it across the state.

Amendment No. 909.

AN ACT relating to children; revising provisions relating to guardians ad litem for a child in certain circumstances; requiring the instruction of pupils in personal safety; providing for the reallocation of a portion of certain fees to compensate guardians ad litem for a child; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes certain courts to appoint an attorney to serve as a guardian ad litem to represent a child in certain matters concerning child welfare, and further provides that an attorney may not receive any compensation for services as a guardian ad litem. (NRS 432B.420) Existing law also requires certain courts to appoint a guardian ad litem, who must be a volunteer and who has had certain training, to represent a child in a proceeding to determine if a child is in need of protection, and provides that no compensation may be allowed a person serving as such a guardian ad litem. (NRS 432B.500, 432B.505) Sections 11 and 12 of this bill remove the prohibition on such a guardian ad litem receiving compensation, and section 13 of this bill removes the requirement that such a guardian ad litem be a volunteer. Existing law authorizes a board of county commissioners in certain counties to impose filing fees on certain motions filed in justice court or district court. Such fees must be remitted to an organization that provides legal services without charge to indigent or elderly persons through a program of organized legal aid. (NRS 4.071, 19.0312) Sections 19 and 20 of this bill require a portion of such fees to instead be used to compensate such guardians ad litem.

Sections 15 and 16 of this bill require pupils in public schools to be provided with age-appropriate instruction in personal safety. Section 15 requires the Department of Education, in consultation with persons and organizations who possess knowledge and expertise in the personal safety of children, to develop age-appropriate curriculum standards for teaching personal safety to children. The Department must also develop recommendations to assist a school district or a charter school to develop and implement various programs related to the personal safety of children. Section 16 requires the board of trustees of each school district and the governing body of each charter school to ensure that instruction on the personal safety of children be carried out as part of a course of study in health and based on the standards developed by the Department. The school district or charter school is required to determine the appropriate grade levels, course content and materials for such instruction, and the instruction must be provided by: (1) a licensed teacher; (2) an employee of the school district with special knowledge or training in the teaching of personal safety to children; (3) an employee of an agency which has as its primary purpose the teaching of personal safety to children; (4) an employee of a law enforcement agency; or (5) a volunteer of an agency which has as its primary purpose the teaching of personal safety to children who has undergone a background investigation and has special training in the teaching of personal safety. Section 16 also provides that the parent or guardian of each pupil to whom such instruction will be provided must be notified of such instruction and provided with an opportunity to review the instructional materials to be used and to submit a written request that the pupil be excused from the instruction, unless the course in which the instruction is provided is required for graduation.

Finally, section 19 of this bill gives the Department until July 1, 2016, to develop the age-appropriate curriculum standards, and gives the board of trustees of each school district and the governing board of each charter school until July 1, 2020, to begin providing instruction in the personal safety of children.

Sec. 3. Chapter 681A of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 4 to 12, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 4. Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer that has been certified by the Commissioner as a reinsurer in this State and secures its obligations in accordance with the requirements of this chapter.

Sec. 5. To be eligible for certification, an assuming insurer must:

1. Be domiciled and licensed to transact insurance or reinsurance in a qualified jurisdiction, as determined by the Commissioner pursuant to section 7 of this act;

2. Maintain minimum capital and surplus, or its equivalent, in an amount to be determined by the Commissioner;

3. Maintain financial strength ratings from two or more rating agencies deemed acceptable by the Commissioner;

4. Agree to submit to the jurisdiction of this State, appoint the Commissioner as its agent for service of process in this State and agree to provide security for 100 percent of the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to reinsurance ceded by ceding insurers in the United States for use if the assuming insurer resists enforcement of a final judgment rendered by any court of competent jurisdiction in the United States;

5. Agree to meet applicable information filing requirements as determined by the Commissioner, both with respect to an initial application for certification and on an ongoing basis; and

6. Satisfy any other requirements for certification deemed relevant by the Commissioner.

Sec. 6. An association that includes incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters may be a certified reinsurer. In addition to satisfying the requirements of section 5 of this act, to be eligible for certification:

1. The association must satisfy its minimum capital and surplus requirements through the capital and surplus equivalents, net of liabilities, of the association and its members, which must include a joint central fund that may be applied to any unsatisfied obligation of the association or any of its members, in an amount determined by the Commissioner to provide adequate protection;

2. The incorporated members of the association must not engage in any business other than underwriting as a member of the association and are subject to the same level of regulation and solvency control by the association's domiciliary regulator as are the unincorporated members; and

3. Within 90 days after its financial statements are due to be filed with the association's domiciliary regulator, the association must provide to the Commissioner an annual certification by the association's domiciliary regulator of the solvency of each underwriter member or, if a certification is unavailable, financial statements prepared by independent public accountants of each underwriter member.

Sec. 7. 1. The Commissioner shall create and publish a list of qualified jurisdictions, pursuant to which an assuming insurer licensed and domiciled in such jurisdiction is eligible to be considered for certification by the Commissioner as a certified reinsurer.

2. In order to determine whether the domiciliary jurisdiction of an alien assuming insurer is eligible to be recognized as a qualified jurisdiction, the Commissioner shall evaluate the appropriateness and effectiveness of the reinsurance supervisory system of the jurisdiction, both initially and on an ongoing basis, and consider the rights, benefits and extent of reciprocal recognition afforded by the alien jurisdiction to reinsurers licensed and domiciled in the United States. A qualified jurisdiction must agree to share information and cooperate with the Commissioner with respect to all certified reinsurers domiciled within that jurisdiction. A jurisdiction may not be recognized as a qualified jurisdiction if the Commissioner has determined that the jurisdiction does not adequately and promptly enforce final judgments rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction in the United States. Additional factors may be considered at the discretion of the Commissioner.

3. The Commissioner may consider the list of qualified jurisdictions maintained by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners in determining qualified jurisdictions.

4. Any jurisdictions that meet the requirements for accreditation pursuant to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' financial standards and accreditation program must be recognized as qualified jurisdictions.

5. If a certified reinsurer's domiciliary jurisdiction ceases to be a qualified jurisdiction, the Commissioner may suspend or revoke the reinsurer's certification.

Sec. 7.5. The Commissioner shall:

1. Assign a rating to each certified reinsurer, giving due consideration to the financial strength ratings which have been assigned to certified reinsurers by rating agencies that the Commissioner deems acceptable pursuant to regulations adopted by the Commissioner; and

2. Publish a list of all certified reinsurers and the ratings that he or she has assigned to those certified reinsurers.

Sec. 8. 1. For a domestic ceding insurer to qualify for full financial statement credit for reinsurance ceded to a certified reinsurer, the certified reinsurer shall maintain security in a form acceptable to the Commissioner and consistent with the provisions of NRS 681A.240 or, in a multi-beneficiary trust, pursuant to NRS 681A.180 and 681A.190, except as otherwise provided in sections 4 to 10, inclusive, of this act.

2. If a certified reinsurer maintains a trust to fully secure its obligations subject to NRS 681A.180 and 681A.190, and chooses to secure its obligations incurred as a certified reinsurer in the form of a multi-beneficiary trust, the certified reinsurer shall maintain separate trust accounts for its obligations incurred under reinsurance agreements issued or renewed as a certified reinsurer with reduced security as permitted by this section or comparable laws of other jurisdictions in the United States and for its obligations subject to NRS 681A.180 and 681A.190. It is a condition of the grant of certification pursuant to sections 4 to 10, inclusive, of this act that the certified reinsurer shall have bound itself, by the language of the trust and agreement with the commissioner of insurance of the state with principal regulatory authority over each trust account, to fund, upon termination of any such trust account, out of the remaining surplus of such trust any deficiency of any other such trust account.

3. The minimum trusteed surplus requirements provided in NRS 681A.180 and 681A.190 are not applicable with respect to a multi-beneficiary trust maintained by a certified reinsurer for the purpose of securing obligations incurred pursuant to sections 4 to 10, inclusive, of this act, except that the trust shall maintain a minimum trusteed surplus of $10,000,000.

4. With respect to obligations incurred by a certified reinsurer pursuant to sections 4 to 10, inclusive, of this act, if the security is insufficient, the Commissioner shall reduce the allowable credit by an amount proportionate to the deficiency and may impose further reductions in allowable credit upon finding that there is a material risk that the certified reinsurer's obligations will not be paid in full when due.

5. For the purposes of sections 4 to 10, inclusive, of this act, a certified reinsurer whose certification has been terminated for any reason shall be treated as a certified reinsurer required to secure 100 percent of its obligations.

6. If the Commissioner continues to assign a higher rating as permitted by other provisions of NRS 681A.150 to 681A.190, inclusive, and sections 4 to 10, inclusive, of this act, this requirement does not apply to a certified reinsurer in inactive status or to a reinsurer whose certification has been suspended.

7. A certified reinsurer shall secure obligations assumed from ceding insurers in the United States under this section at a level consistent with the rating of the certified reinsurer, as specified in regulations adopted by the Commissioner.

8. As used in this section, "terminated" means the revocation, suspension, voluntary surrender or inactive status of a reinsurer's certification.

Sec. 9. If an applicant for certification has been certified as a reinsurer in a National Association of Insurance Commissioners accredited jurisdiction, the Commissioner has the discretion to defer to that jurisdiction's certification, and has the discretion to defer to the rating assigned by that jurisdiction, and such assuming insurer shall be considered to be certified in this State.

Sec. 10. A certified reinsurer that ceases to assume new business in this State may request to maintain its certification in inactive status to continue to qualify for a reduction in security for its in-force business. An inactive certified reinsurer must continue to comply with all applicable requirements of NRS 681A.150 to 681A.190, inclusive, and sections 4 to 10, inclusive, of this act, and the Commissioner shall assign a rating that takes into account, if relevant, the reasons why the reinsurer is not assuming new business.

Sec. 11. Credit must be allowed when the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer not meeting the requirements of NRS 681A.150 to 681A.190, inclusive, and sections 4 to 10, inclusive, of this act, but only as to the insurance of risks located in jurisdictions where the reinsurance is required by applicable law or regulation of that jurisdiction.

Sec. 12. 1. A ceding insurer shall take steps to manage its reinsurance recoverables proportionate to its own book of business. A domestic ceding insurer shall notify the Commissioner within 30 days after reinsurance recoverables from any single assuming insurer, or group of affiliated assuming insurers, exceeds 50 percent of the domestic ceding insurer's last reported surplus to policyholders, or after it is determined that reinsurance recoverables from any single assuming insurer, or group of affiliated assuming insurers, is likely to exceed this limit. The notification must demonstrate that the exposure is safely managed by the domestic ceding insurer.

2. A ceding insurer shall take steps to diversify its reinsurance program. A domestic ceding insurer shall notify the Commissioner within 30 days after ceding to any single assuming insurer, or group of affiliated assuming insurers, more than 20 percent of the ceding insurer's gross written premium in the preceding calendar year, or after it has determined that the reinsurance ceded to any single assuming insurer, or group of affiliated assuming insurers, is likely to exceed this limit. The notification must demonstrate that the exposure is safely managed by the domestic ceding insurer.

Sec. 15. NRS 681A.150 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) The reinsurer waives its right to a hearing;

(b) The Commissioner's order is based upon regulatory action taken by the reinsurer's domiciliary jurisdiction or the voluntary surrender or termination of the reinsurer's eligibility to transact insurance or reinsurance business in its domiciliary jurisdiction or in the primary certifying state of the reinsurer; or

(c) The Commissioner finds that an emergency requires immediate action and a court of competent jurisdiction has not stayed the Commissioner's action.

4. During the period in which a reinsurer's accreditation or certification is suspended, no reinsurance contract issued or renewed after the effective date of the suspension qualifies for credit except to the extent that the reinsurer's obligations under the contract are secured pursuant to NRS 681A.240. If the reinsurer's accreditation or certification is revoked, no credit for reinsurance may be granted after the effective date of the revocation except to the extent that the reinsurer's obligations under the contract are secured pursuant to NRS 681A.240.

Sec. 17. NRS 681A.170 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681A.170 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, credit must be allowed if reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which is domiciled and licensed in, or in the case of a branch in the United States of an alien assuming insurer is entered through, a state which employs standards regarding credit for reinsurance substantially similar to those applicable under this chapter and the assuming insurer or branch in the United States of an alien assuming insurer:

Sec. 18. NRS 681A.180 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681A.180 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection ~~[4,]~~ 5, credit must be allowed if reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which maintains a trust fund in a qualified financial institution in the United States for the payment of the valid claims of its policyholders and ceding insurers in the United States, their assigns and successors in interest. The assuming insurer shall:

(a) Report annually to the Commissioner information substantially the same as that required to be reported on the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' form of annual statement by licensed insurers to enable the Commissioner to determine the sufficiency of the trust fund; and

(b) Submit to the authority of the Commissioner to examine its books and records.

2. In the case of a single assuming insurer ~~[, the]~~ ***:

(a) The trust must consist of an account in trust equal to the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to business written in the United States and the assuming insurer shall maintain a surplus in trust of not less than $20,000,000.

(b) Three years after the assuming insurer has permanently discontinued underwriting new business secured by the trust, the commissioner of insurance of the state with principal regulatory authority over the trust may, at any time, authorize a reduction in the required trustee surplus, but only after finding, based on the assessment of the risk, that the new required surplus level is adequate for the protection of ceding insurers, policyholders and claimants in the United States in light of a reasonably adverse loss development. The risk assessment may involve an actuarial review, including an independent analysis of reserves and cash flows, and must consider all material risk factors, including, as applicable, the lines of business involved, the stability of the incurred loss estimates and the effect of the surplus requirements on the assuming insurer's liquidity or solvency. The minimum required trustee surplus may not be reduced to an amount less than 30 percent of the assuming insurer's liabilities attributable to reinsurance ceded by ceding insurers domiciled in the United States and covered by the trust.

3. In the case of a group of incorporated and individual unincorporated underwriters:

(a) The trust must consist of an account in trust equal to the group's liabilities attributable to business written in the United States.

(b) The group shall:

(1) Maintain a surplus in trust of which $100,000,000 must be held jointly for the benefit of ceding insurers in the United States to any member of the group; and

(2) Make available to the Commissioner an annual certification of the solvency of each underwriter by the group's domiciliary regulator and its independent public accountants.

(c) The incorporated members of the group:

(1) Shall not engage in any business other than underwriting as a member of the group; and

(2) Must be subject to the same level of regulation and solvency control by the applicable regulatory agency of the state in which the group is domiciled as the individual unincorporated members of the group.

4. Credit for reinsurance must not be granted unless the form of the trust and any amendments to the trust have been approved by the commissioner of insurance of the state in which the trust is domiciled or the commissioner of insurance of another state that, under the terms of the trust instrument, has accepted responsibility for regulatory authority over the trust. The form of the trust and any amendments to the trust must also be filed with each state in which the ceding insurer beneficiaries are domiciled or located. The trust instrument must provide that:

(a) Contested claims become valid and enforceable from money held in the trust to the extent such claims remain unsatisfied within 30 days after the entry of the final order of any court of competent jurisdiction in the United States;

(b) Legal title to the assets of the trust must be vested in the trustees for the benefit of the grantor's ceding insurers in the United States, their assigns and successors in interest;

(c) The trust is subject to examination as determined by the Commissioner;

(d) The trust must remain in effect for as long as the assuming insurers or any member or former member of a group of insurers has outstanding obligations due under the agreements for reinsurance subject to the trust; and

(e) Not later than February 28 of each year, the trustees of the trust shall report to the Commissioner in writing setting forth the balance of the trust and listing the trust's investments at the end of the preceding year and shall certify the date of termination of the trust or certify that the trust will not expire before the next following December 31.

5. If the assuming insurer does not meet the requirements of NRS 681A.110, 681A.160 or 681A.170, credit must not be allowed unless the assuming insurer has agreed to the following conditions set forth in the trust agreement:

(a) Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in the trust instrument, if the trust fund consists of an amount that is less than the amount required pursuant to this section, or if the grantor of the trust fund is declared to be insolvent or placed into receivership, rehabilitation, liquidation or a similar proceeding in accordance with the laws of the grantor's state or country of domicile, the trustee of the trust fund must comply with an order of the commissioner of insurance or other appropriate person with regulatory authority over the trust fund in that state or country or a court of competent jurisdiction requiring the trustee to transfer to that commissioner or person all the assets of the trust fund;

(b) The assets of the trust fund must be distributed by and claims filed with and valued by the commissioner of insurance or other appropriate person with regulatory authority over the trust fund in accordance with the laws of the state in which the trust fund is domiciled that are applicable to the liquidation of domestic insurers in that state;

(c) If the commissioner of insurance or other appropriate person with regulatory authority over the trust fund determines that the assets of the trust fund or any portion of the trust fund are not required to satisfy any claim of any ceding insurer of the grantor of the trust fund in the United States, the assets must be returned by that commissioner or person to the trustee of the trust fund for distribution in accordance with the trust agreement; and

(d) The grantor of the trust must waive any right that:

(1) Is otherwise available to the grantor under the laws of the United States; and

(2) Is inconsistent with the provisions of this subsection.

Sec. 19. NRS 681A.210 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681A.210 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, if the assuming insurer is not licensed or accredited to transact insurance or reinsurance in this State, the credit permitted by NRS 681A.170 or 681A.180 must not be allowed unless the assuming insurer agrees in the agreements for reinsurance:

(a) That in the event of the failure of the assuming insurer to perform its obligations under the terms of the agreement, the assuming insurer, at the request of the ceding insurer, will submit to the jurisdiction of any court of competent jurisdiction in any state of the United States, will comply with all requirements necessary to give the court jurisdiction, and will abide by the final decision of the court or of any appellate court in the event of an appeal;

(b) To designate the Commissioner or a designated attorney as its true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served any lawful process in an action, suit or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the ceding company; and

(c) To comply with the conditions set forth in subsection ~~[4]~~ 5 of NRS 681A.180.

2. This section does not conflict with or override the obligation of the parties to an agreement for reinsurance to arbitrate their disputes if such an obligation is created in the agreement.

Sec. 20. NRS 681A.220 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681A.220 Credit must be allowed if reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer not meeting the requirements of NRS 681A.110 ~~[,]~~ and 681A.150 ~~[, 681A.160, 681A.170, 681A.180 or]~~ to 681A.190, inclusive, and sections 4 to 10, inclusive, of this act, but only with respect to the insurance of risks located in jurisdictions where such reinsurance is required by applicable law or regulation of that jurisdiction.

Sec. 21. NRS 681A.230 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Except as otherwise provided in NRS 686C.223, those payments must be made directly to the ceding insurer or to its domiciliary liquidator unless:

(a) The contract of reinsurance or other written contract specifically designates another payee of the payments in the event of the insolvency of the ceding insurer; or

(b) The assuming insurer, with the consent of the persons directly insured, has assumed the obligations from the policies issued by the ceding insurer as direct obligations of the assuming insurer, and in substitution for the obligations of the ceding insurer, to the payees under those policies.

2. The domiciliary liquidator of an insolvent ceding insurer shall give written notice to the assuming insurer of the pendency of any claim against the ceding insurer on any contract reinsured within a reasonable time after such a claim is filed in the liquidation proceeding. During the pendency of the claim, the assuming insurer may investigate the claim and, at its own expense, interpose in the proceeding in which the claim is to be adjudicated any defense that the assuming insurer deems available to the ceding insurer or its liquidator.

4. Unless a change in the Valuation Manual specifies a later effective date, changes to the Valuation Manual are effective on January 1 following the date when the change to the Valuation Manual is adopted by the NAIC by an affirmative vote representing:

(a) At least three-fourths of the members of the NAIC voting, but not less than a majority of the total membership; and

7. The Commissioner may engage a qualified actuary, at the expense of the company, to perform an actuarial examination of the company and opine on the appropriateness of any reserve assumption or method used by the company, or to review and opine on a company's compliance with any requirement set forth in sections 23 to 39.5, inclusive, of this act, and NRS 681B.110 to 681B.150, inclusive, and 681B.200 to 681B.270, inclusive. or territory of the United States. As used in this subsection, "engage" includes employment and contracting.

8. The Commissioner may require a company to change any assumption or method that, in the opinion of the Commissioner, is necessary in order to comply with the requirements of the Valuation Manual or sections 23 to 39.5, inclusive, of this act, and NRS 681B.110 to 681B.150, inclusive, and 681B.200 to 681B.270, inclusive, and the company shall adjust the reserves as required by the Commissioner. Sec. 34. 1. An applicable company using a principle-based valuation must establish reserves that:

For policies or contracts with significant tail risk, the valuation must reflect conditions appropriately adverse to quantify the tail risk.

(b) Incorporate assumptions, risk analysis methods and financial models and management techniques that are consistent with, but not necessarily identical to, those utilized within the company's overall risk assessment process while recognizing potential differences in financial reporting structures and any prescribed assumptions or methods.

Sec. 35. 1. An applicable company using a principle-based valuation for one or more policies or contracts subject to this chapter, and as specified in the Valuation Manual, shall:

(a) Establish procedures for corporate governance and oversight of the actuarial valuation function consistent with those described in the Valuation Manual.

(b) Provide to the Commissioner, and the company's board of directors, an annual certification of the effectiveness of the internal controls with respect to the principle-based valuation. Such controls must be designed to ensure that all material risks inherent in the liabilities and associated assets subject to such valuation are included in the valuation, and that valuations are made pursuant to the Valuation Manual. The certification must be based on the controls in place as of the end of the preceding calendar year.

(c) Develop and, upon request, provide to the Commissioner a principle-based valuation report that complies with the standards prescribed in the Valuation Manual.

3. To assist in the performance of the Commissioner's duties, the Commissioner may share confidential information with other state, federal and international regulatory agencies and the NAIC, provided that the recipient agrees, and has the legal authority to agree, to maintain the confidentiality and privileged status of such confidential information in the same manner and to the same extent as required of the Commissioner.

Sec. 40.15. NRS 681B.110 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.110 1. The Commissioner shall, in the manner provided by NRS 681B.110 to 681B.150, inclusive, annually value, or cause to be valued, the reserve liabilities (hereinafter called reserves) for all outstanding life insurance policies and annuity and pure endowment contracts of every life insurer doing business in this state, issued on or after January 1, 1972, and before the operative date of the Valuation Manual, except that in the case of an alien insurer, the valuation must be limited to its United States business.

(b) Use approximate averages for fractions of a year or other period to calculate the reserves.

(c) In lieu of the valuation of the reserves required of any foreign or alien company, accept any valuation made, or caused to be made, by an insurance supervisory officer of any other state or jurisdiction if the valuation by the insurance supervisory officer complies with the minimum standard required by NRS 681B.110 to 681B.150, inclusive. ~~[~~, and if the insurance officer of the other state or jurisdiction accepts as sufficient and valid for all legal purposes

3. The provisions set forth in NRS 681B.110 to 681B.150, inclusive, and 681B.270 apply to all policies and contracts, as appropriate, issued on or after January 1, 1972, and before the operative date of the Valuation Manual. The provisions set forth in sections 33.7 to 36, inclusive, of this act do not apply to any such policies and contracts.

5. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only to, or in connection with, policies and contracts issued on or after January 1, 1972, and before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.2. NRS 681B.120 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.120 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 and in NRS 681B.125, the minimum standards for the valuation of all policies and contracts issued before January 1, 1972, are as follows:

(a) The legal minimum standard for valuation of contracts issued before January 1, 1942, is a basis not lower than that used for the annual statement of the year during which the policies were issued, and for contracts issued on and after January 1, 1942, is the American Experience Table of Mortality with either Craig's or Buttolph's Extension for ages under 10, with interest at not more than 3.5 percent per annum. Annuities and pure endowments purchased under group annuity and pure endowment contracts must be valued in the same manner, with interest at not more than 5 percent. Such policies may provide for not more than 1-year preliminary term insurance by incorporating therein a clause plainly showing that the first year's insurance under the contract is term insurance purchased by the whole or part of the premiums to be received during the first year of the contract.

(b) The legal minimum standard for the valuation of group life insurance policies under which the premium rates are not guaranteed for more than 5 years is the American Men Ultimate Table of Mortality with interest at not more than 3.5 percent per annum.

(c) The legal minimum standard for the valuation of industrial policies is the American Experience Table of Mortality or the Standard Industrial Mortality Table or the Substandard Industrial Mortality Table with interest at not more than 3.5 percent per annum by the net level premium method, or in accordance with their terms by the modified preliminary term method described in this section.

(d) Reserves for all such policies and contracts may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves than the minimum reserves required by this subsection.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 and in NRS 681B.125, the minimum standards for the valuation of all policies and contracts issued on or after January 1, 1972, are the Commissioners reserve valuation methods defined in NRS 681B.130 and 681B.150, 5 percent interest for group annuity and pure endowment contracts and 3.5 percent interest for all other such policies and contracts or, in the case of policies and contracts other than annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after July 1, 1973, 4 percent interest for such policies issued before July 1, 1977, 5.5 percent interest for single premium life insurance policies and 4.5 percent for all other such policies issued on and after July 1, 1977, and the following tables:

(a) For all ordinary policies of life insurance issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies, the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table until the operative date of NRS 688A.340, and, for all such policies issued on and after the operative date of NRS 688A.340 and before the operative date of NRS 688A.325, the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, except that for any category of such policies issued on female risks all modified net premiums and present values referred to in NRS 681B.110 to 681B.150, inclusive, may be calculated according to an age not more than 6 years younger than the actual age of the insured. For policies issued on or after the operative date of NRS 688A.325:

(1) The Commissioners 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table;

(2) At the election of the insurer for any one or more specified plans of life insurance, the Commissioners 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors; or

(3) Any ordinary mortality table which is adopted after 1980 by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC and is approved by a regulation adopted by the Commissioner,

➥ may be used in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such policies.

(b) For all industrial life insurance policies issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies, the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table for such policies issued before the operative date of NRS 688A.330, and for such policies issued on or after that date, the Commissioners 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table or any industrial mortality table which is adopted after 1980 by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC and is approved by a regulation adopted by the Commissioner for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such policies.

(c) For individual annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies, the 1937 Standard Annuity Mortality Table, or, at the option of the insurer, the Annuity Mortality Table for 1949, Ultimate, or any modification of either of these tables approved by the Commissioner.

(d) For group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies, the Group Annuity Mortality Table for 1951, any modification of that table approved by the Commissioner, or, at the option of the insurer, any of the tables or modifications of tables specified for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(e) For total and permanent disability benefits in or supplementary to ordinary policies or contracts, for policies or contracts issued on or after January 1, 1966, the tables of Period 2 disablement rates and the 1930 to 1950 termination rates of the 1952 Disability Study of the Society of Actuaries, with due regard to the type of benefit, or any tables of disablement rates and termination rates which are adopted after 1980 by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC and are approved by a regulation adopted by the Commissioner for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such policies; and for policies or contracts issued on or after January 1, 1961, and before January 1, 1966, either such tables or, at the option of the insurer, the Class (3) Disability Table (1926).

(f) Benefits for accidental death in or supplementary to policies, for policies issued on or after January 1, 1966, the 1959 Accidental Death Benefits Table, or any accidental death benefits table which is adopted after 1980 by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC and is approved by a regulation adopted by the Commissioner for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such policies; and for policies issued on or after January 1, 1961, and before January 1, 1966, either such table or, at the option of the insurer, the Inter-Company Double Indemnity Mortality Table. Either table must be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies.

(g) For group life insurance, for life insurance issued on the substandard basis and for special benefits, such tables as may be approved by the Commissioner.

3. Except as provided in NRS 681B.125, the minimum standards for the valuation of all individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after the valuation operative date defined in subsection 4 and for all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after that date, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, are the Commissioners reserve valuation methods defined in NRS 681B.130 and the following tables and interest rates:

(a) For individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued before July 1, 1977, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 Individual Annuity Mortality Table, or any modification of the table approved by the Commissioner, and 6 percent interest for single premium immediate annuity contracts, and 4 percent interest for all other individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(b) For individual single premium immediate annuity contracts issued on or after July 1, 1977, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 Individual Annuity Mortality Table, or any individual annuity mortality table which is adopted after 1980 by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC and is approved by a regulation adopted by the Commissioner for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such contracts, or any modification of those tables approved by the Commissioner, and 7.5 percent interest.

(c) For individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued on or after July 1, 1977, other than single premium immediate annuity contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such contracts, the 1971 Individual Annuity Mortality Table or any individual annuity mortality table which is adopted after 1980 by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC and is approved by a regulation adopted by the Commissioner for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such contracts, or any modification of those tables approved by the Commissioner, and 5.5 percent interest for single premium deferred annuity and pure endowment contracts and 4.5 percent interest for all other such individual annuity and pure endowment contracts.

(d) For all annuities and pure endowments purchased before July 1, 1977, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts, the 1971 Group Annuity Mortality Table, or any modification of that table approved by the Commissioner, and 6 percent interest.

(e) For all annuities and pure endowments purchased on or after July 1, 1977, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits purchased under such contracts, the 1971 Group Annuity Mortality Table, or any group annuity mortality table which is adopted after 1980 by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC and is approved by a regulation adopted by the Commissioner for use in determining the minimum standard of valuation for such annuities and pure endowments, or any modification of those tables approved by the Commissioner, and 7.5 percent interest.

4. After July 1, 1973, any insurer may file with the Commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of subsection 3 after a specified date before January 1, 1979, which then becomes the valuation operative date for the insurer, but an insurer may elect a different valuation operative date for individual annuity and pure endowment contracts from that elected for group annuity and pure endowment contracts. If an insurer makes no such election, the valuation operative date for the insurer is January 1, 1979.

5. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only to, or in connection with, policies and contracts issued before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.25. NRS 681B.125 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.125 1. This section sets forth the interest rates used in determining the minimum standard for valuation of:

(a) All life insurance policies issued in a particular calendar year on or after the operative date of NRS 688A.325;

(b) All individual annuity and pure endowment contracts issued in a particular calendar year on or after January 1, 1984;

(c) All annuities and pure endowments purchased in a particular calendar year on or after January 1, 1984, under group annuity and pure endowment contracts; and

(d) The net increase, if any, in a particular calendar year after January 1, 1984, in amounts held under contract which have guaranteed interest.

2. The interest rates for valuation must be determined as follows, and the results rounded to the nearer one-quarter of 1 percent:

(a) For life insurance:

$$I = .03 + W (R_1 - .03) + W/2 (R_2 - .09)$$

(b) For single-premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with options for cash settlement and from contracts which have guaranteed interest with options for cash settlement:

$$I = .03 + W (R - .03)$$

R_1 is the lesser of R and .09,
R_2 is the greater of R and .09,
R is the reference interest rate defined in this section, and W is the weighting factor defined in this section.

(c) For other annuities with options for cash settlement and contracts which have guaranteed interest with options for cash settlement, valued on the basis of the year issued, except as stated in paragraph (b), the formula for life insurance set forth in paragraph (a) applies to annuities and contracts which have guaranteed interest with a guaranteed duration in excess of 10 years, and the formula for single-premium immediate annuities stated in paragraph (b) applies to annuities and contracts which have guaranteed interest with guaranteed durations of 10 years or less.

(d) For other annuities with no options for cash settlement and for contracts which have guaranteed interest with no options for cash settlement, the formula for single-premium immediate annuities set forth in paragraph (b) applies.

(e) For other annuities with options for cash settlement and contracts which have guaranteed interest with no options for cash settlement which are valued on the basis of a change in its fund the formula for single-premium immediate annuities stated in paragraph (b) applies.

(f) If the interest rate for valuation for any life insurance policies issued in any calendar year determined without reference to this sentence differs from the corresponding actual rate for similar policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year by less than one-half of 1 percent, the interest rate for the valuation of such life insurance policies is equal to the corresponding actual rate for the immediately preceding calendar year. The interest rate for the valuation of life insurance policies issued in a calendar year must be determined for 1980 using the reference interest rate defined for 1979 and must be determined for each subsequent calendar year regardless of when NRS 688A.325 becomes operative with respect to the insurer.

3. The weighting factors referred to in the formulas set forth in subsection 2 are given in the following tables:

(a) Weighting Factors for Life Insurance:

Guarantee Duration (Years)	Weighting Factors
10 or less	.50
More than 10 but not more than 20	.45
More than 20	.35

For life insurance, the duration of the guarantee is the maximum number of years the life insurance can remain in force on a basis guaranteed in the policy or under options to convert to plans of life insurance with premium rates or nonforfeiture values, or both, which are guaranteed in the original policy;

(b) The weighting factor for single-premium immediate annuities and for annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with options for cash settlement and contracts which have guaranteed interest with options for cash settlement is .80; and

(c) Weighting factors for other annuities and for contracts which have guaranteed interest except as stated in paragraph (b), are specified in the tables in subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3), according to the rules and definitions in subparagraphs (4), (5) and (6) as follows:

(1) For annuities and contracts which have guaranteed interest valued on the basis of the year issued:

Guarantee Duration (Years)	Weighting Factor for Plan Type
	A	B	C
5 or less	.80	.60	.50
More than 5, but not more than 10	.75	.60	.50

More than 10, but not more than 20	.65	.50	.45
More than 2	.45	.35	.35

(2) For annuities and contracts which have guaranteed interest valued on a change in fund basis, the factors shown in subparagraph (1):

	Weighting Factor for Plan Type
Increased by	.15	.25	.05

(3) For annuities and contracts which have guaranteed interest valued on the basis of the year issued, (other than those with no options for cash settlement) which do not guarantee interest on considerations received more than 1 year after issue or purchase and for annuities and contracts which have guaranteed interest valued on a change in fund basis which do not guarantee interest rates on considerations received more than 12 months beyond the valuation date, the factors shown in subparagraph (1) or derived in subparagraph (2) increased by .05.

(4) For other annuities with options for cash settlement and contracts which have guaranteed interest with options for cash settlement, the guaranteed duration is the number of years for which the contract guarantees interest rates in excess of the interest rate for the valuation of life insurance policies with a guaranteed duration in excess of 20 years. For other annuities with no options for cash settlement and for contracts which have guaranteed interest with no options for cash settlement, the guaranteed duration is the number of years from the date of issue or date of purchase to the date on which the annuity benefits are scheduled to commence.

(5) The types of plans listed in this subsection have the following characteristics:

Plan Type A

Under this plan the policyholder:

(I) May withdraw money only with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or the value of assets since the insurer's receipt of the money, or without such an adjustment but in installments payable over 5 years or more;

(II) May withdraw money as an immediate life annuity; or

(III) Is not permitted to withdraw money.

Plan Type B

Under this plan, before expiration of the guaranteed interest rate, the policyholder:

(I) May withdraw money only with an adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or the value of assets since the insurer's receipt of the money, or without such an adjustment but in installments payable over 5 years or more; or

(II) Is not permitted to withdraw money.

➥ At the end of the guaranteed interest rate, the policyholder may withdraw money without such an adjustment in a single sum or in installments over a period of less than 5 years.

Plan Type C

Under this plan the policyholder may withdraw money before expiration of the guaranteed interest rate in a single sum or in installments over a period of less than 5 years:

(I) Without any adjustment to reflect changes in interest rates or the value of assets since the insurer's receipt of the money; or

(II) Subject only to a fixed charge for surrender which is stipulated in the contract as a percentage of the fund.

(6) An insurer may elect to value contracts which have guaranteed interest with options for cash settlement and annuities with options for cash settlement on the basis of the year issued or a change in fund basis. Contracts which have guaranteed interest but no options for cash settlement and annuities with no options for cash settlement must be valued on the basis of the year issued. As used in this section, "valuation on the basis of the year issued" means a basis of valuation under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum standard of valuation for the entire duration of an annuity or contract with guaranteed interest is the interest rate of valuation for the year of issue or the year of purchase of the annuity or contract, and "change in fund basis of valuation" means a basis of valuation under which the interest rate used to determine the minimum standard of valuation applicable to each change in the fund held under the annuity or contract is the interest rate for valuation for the year of the change in the fund.

4. For purposes of subsection 2, "reference interest rate" means:

(a) For all life insurance, the lesser of the average over 36 months and the average over 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year next preceding the year of issue, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(b) For single-premium immediate annuities, annuity benefits involving life contingencies arising from other annuities with options for cash settlement and contracts which have guaranteed interest with options for cash settlement, the average over 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or year of purchase, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(c) For other annuities with options for cash settlement and contracts which have guaranteed interest with options for cash settlement, valued on the basis of the year issued, except as stated in paragraph (b), with a guaranteed duration of more than 10 years, the lesser of the average over 36 months and the average over 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of issue or purchase, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(d) For other annuities with options for cash settlement and guaranteed interest with options for cash settlement, valued on the basis of the year issued, except as stated in paragraph (b), with a guaranteed duration of 10 years or less, the average over 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year issued or purchased, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(e) For other annuities with no options for cash settlement and for contracts which have guaranteed interest with no option for cash settlement, the average over 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year issued or purchased, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

(f) For other annuities with options for cash settlement and contracts which have guaranteed interest with options for cash settlement valued on a change in fund basis, except as stated in paragraph (b), the average over 12 months, ending on June 30 of the calendar year of the change in the fund, of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates, as published by Moody's Investors Service, Inc.

5. If the publication of Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates by Moody's Investors Service, Inc., ends or the National Association of Insurance Commissioners determines that Moody's Corporate Bond Yield Average—Monthly Average Corporates is no longer appropriate for determination of the reference interest rate, an alternative method for determination of the reference interest rate which is adopted by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC and approved by regulation of the Commissioner may be substituted.

6. The minimum standard for the valuation of policies and contracts issued before January 1, 1972, must be that provided by the laws in effect immediately preceding that date.

7. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only to, or in connection with, policies and contracts issued on or after January 1, 1972, and before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.3. NRS 681B.130 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.130 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4 and in NRS 681B.150, reserves, according to the Commissioners' reserve valuation method, for the life insurance and endowment benefits of policies providing for a uniform amount of insurance and requiring the payment of uniform premiums must be the excess, if any, of the present value, at the date of valuation, of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policies over the then present value of any future modified net premiums therefor. The modified net premiums for the policy must be such a uniform percentage of the respective contract premiums for those benefits that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all the modified net premiums are equal to the sum of the then present value of the benefits provided for by the policy and the excess of the premium set forth in paragraph (a) over that set forth in paragraph (b), as follows:

(a) A net level annual premium equal to the present value, at the date of issue, of such benefits provided for after the first policy year, divided by the present value, at the date of issue, of an annuity of one per annum payable on the first and each subsequent anniversary of such policy on which a premium falls due. The net level annual premium must not exceed the net level annual premium on the 19-year premium whole life plan for insurance of the same amount at an age 1 year higher than the age at the time the policy is issued.

(b) A net 1-year term premium for such benefits provided for in the first policy year.

2. If any life insurance policy issued on or after January 1, 1987, for which the contract premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year, and for which no comparable additional benefit is provided in the first year in return for the excess premium and which provides an endowment benefit or a cash surrender value or a combination thereof in an amount greater than the excess premium, the reserve according to the Commissioners' reserve valuation method as of any policy anniversary occurring on or before the assumed ending date, which is the first policy anniversary on which the sum of any endowment benefit and any cash surrender value then available is greater than the excess premium, must, except as otherwise provided in NRS 681B.150, be the greater of:

(a) The reserve as of the policy anniversary calculated as described in subsection 1; and

(b) The reserve as of the policy anniversary calculated as described in subsection 1, but with:

(1) The value defined in paragraph (a) of subsection 1 being reduced by 15 percent of the amount of the excess first-year premium;

(2) All present values of benefits and premiums being determined without reference to premiums or benefits provided for by the policy after the assumed ending date;

(3) The policy being assumed to mature on such date as an endowment; and

(4) The cash surrender value provided on that date being considered as an endowment benefit. In making the above comparison, the mortality and interest bases stated in NRS 681B.120 and 681B.125 must be used.

3. Reserves according to the Commissioners' reserve valuation method for:

(a) Life insurance policies providing for a varying amount of insurance or requiring the payment of varying premiums;

(b) Group annuity and pure endowment contracts purchased under a retirement plan or plan of deferred compensation, established or maintained by an employer (including a partnership or sole proprietorship), by an employee organization or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended;

(c) Disability and accidental death benefits in all policies and contracts; and

(d) All other benefits, except life insurance and endowment benefits in life insurance policies and benefits provided by all other annuity and pure endowment contracts,

➥ must be calculated by a method consistent with the principles of subsection 1 and this subsection, except that any extra premiums charged because of impairments or special hazards must be disregarded in the determination of modified net premiums.

4. This subsection applies to all annuity and pure endowment contracts except those group annuity and pure endowment contracts for which reserves according to the Commissioners' reserve valuation method are to be calculated by a method consistent with the principles of subsections 1, 2 and 3. Reserves according to the Commissioners' annuity reserve method for benefits under annuity or pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in those contracts must be the greatest of the respective excesses of the present values, at the date of valuation, of the future guaranteed benefits, including guaranteed nonforfeiture benefits, provided for by those contracts at the end of each respective contract year, over the present value, at the date of valuation, of any future valuation considerations derived from future gross considerations, required by the terms of the contract, which become payable before the end of such respective contract year. The future guaranteed benefits must be determined by using the mortality table, if any, and the interest rate or rates specified in such contracts for determining guaranteed benefits. The valuation considerations are the portions of the respective gross considerations applied under the terms of the contracts to determine nonforfeiture values.

5. An insurer's aggregate reserves for all life insurance policies, excluding disability and accidental death benefits, issued on or after January 1, 1972, must not be less than the aggregate reserves calculated in accordance with the methods set forth in this section, NRS 681B.145 and 681B.150, and the mortality table or tables and rate or rates of interest used in calculating nonforfeiture benefits for those policies.

6. An insurer's aggregate reserves for all policies, contracts and benefits must not be less than the aggregate reserves determined by a qualified actuary to be necessary for a favorable opinion under NRS 681B.210 and 681B.220.

7. The minimum standard for the valuation of policies and contracts issued before January 1, 1972, must be that provided by the laws in effect immediately preceding that date.

8. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only to, or in connection with, policies and contracts issued on or after January 1, 1972, and before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.35. NRS 681B.140 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.140 1. Reserves for any category of policies, contracts or benefits as established by the Commissioner, issued on or after January 1, 1972, may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for the category than those calculated according to the minimum standards provided by subsections 2 and 3 of NRS 681B.120 and 681B.125, but the rate or rates of interest used for policies and contracts other than the annuity and pure endowment contracts must not be higher than the corresponding rate or rates of interest used in calculating any nonforfeiture benefits provided for in such policies.

2. Any insurer which has adopted a standard of valuation producing greater aggregate reserves as described in subsection 1 may, with the approval of the Commissioner, adopt a lower standard of valuation, but not lower than the minimum described in subsection 1.

3. The minimum standard for the valuation of policies and contracts issued before January 1, 1972, must be that provided by the laws in effect immediately preceding that date.

4. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only to, or in connection with, policies and contracts issued on or after January 1, 1972, and before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.4. NRS 681B.145 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.145 1. For any plan of life insurance which provides for the determination of a future premium, the amounts of which are to be determined by the insurer based on estimates of future experience, or for any plan of life insurance or annuity which is of such a nature that the minimum reserves cannot be determined by the methods described in NRS 681B.130 and 681B.150, the reserves which are held under the plan must be:

~~[1.]~~ (a) Appropriate in relation to the benefits and the pattern of premiums for the plan; and

~~[2.]~~ (b) Computed by a method which is consistent with the principles of standard valuation contained in this chapter.

2. The minimum standard for the valuation of policies and contracts issued before January 1, 1972, must be that provided by the laws in effect immediately preceding that date.

3. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only to, or in connection with, policies and contracts issued on or after January 1, 1972, and before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.43. NRS 681B.150 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.150 1. If in any contract year the gross premium charged by any life insurer on any policy or contract issued on or after January 1, 1972, is less than the valuation net premium for the policy or contract calculated by the method used in calculating the reserve thereon but using the minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest, the minimum reserve required for the policy or contract is the greater of:

~~[1.]~~ (a) The reserve calculated according to the mortality table, rate of interest and method actually used for the policy or contract; or

~~[2.]~~ (b) The reserve calculated by the method actually used for the policy or contract, but using the minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest, and replacing the valuation net premium by the actual gross premium in each contract year for which the valuation net premium exceeds the actual gross premium. The minimum valuation standards of mortality and rate of interest referred to in this ~~[section]~~ subsection are the standards stated in NRS 681B.120 and 681B.125.

~~[3.]~~ 2. If any life insurance policy is issued on or after January 1, 1987, for which the gross premium in the first policy year exceeds that of the second year and no comparable additional benefit is provided in the first year in return for the excess premium, and which provides an endowment benefit or a cash surrender value, or a combination thereof, in an amount greater than the excess premium, the provisions of this section must be applied as if the method actually used in calculating the reserve for the policy were the method described in NRS 681B.130 other than in subsection 2 of that section. The minimum reserve required at each policy anniversary of such a policy is the greater of the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with NRS 681B.130, including subsection 2 of that section, and the minimum reserve calculated in accordance with this ~~[section.]~~ subsection and subsection 1.

3. The minimum standard for the valuation of policies and contracts issued before January 1, 1972, must be that provided by the laws in effect immediately preceding that date.

4. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only to, or in connection with, policies and contracts issued on or after January 1, 1972, and before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.45. NRS 681B.160 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.160 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, all bonds or other evidences of debt having a fixed term and rate of interest held by an insurer may, if amply secured and not in default as to principal or interest, be valued as follows:

(a) If purchased at par, at the par value.

(b) If purchased above or below par, on the basis of the purchase price adjusted so as to bring the value to par at maturity and so as to yield in the meantime the effective rate of interest at which the purchase was made or, in lieu of that method, according to an accepted method of valuation that is approved by the Commissioner.

2. The purchase price must not be taken at a higher figure than the actual market value at the time of purchase, plus actual brokerage, transfer, postage or express charges paid in the acquisition of such securities.

3. Unless otherwise provided by a valuation established or approved by the Commissioner, the security must not be carried at above the call price for the entire issue during any period within which the security may be so called.

4. The Commissioner has full discretion in determining the method of calculating values pursuant to this section.

5. A valuation determined pursuant to this section must not be inconsistent with any applicable valuation or method then currently formulated or approved by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners or its successor organization.]~~ NAIC.

Sec. 40.47. NRS 681B.170 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.170 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, securities, other than those specified in NRS 681B.160, held by an insurer must be valued, in the discretion of the Commissioner, at their market value, or at their appraised value, or at prices determined by the Commissioner as representing their fair market value.

2. Preferred or guaranteed stocks or shares while paying full dividends may be carried at a fixed value in lieu of market value, at the discretion of the Commissioner and in accordance with a method of computation approved by the Commissioner.

3. The stock of a subsidiary of an insurer must be valued on the basis of the value of only those assets of the subsidiary as would constitute lawful investments of the insurer if acquired or held directly by the insurer.

4. A valuation determined pursuant to this section must not be inconsistent with any applicable valuation or method then currently formulated or approved by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners or its successor organization.]~~ NAIC.

Sec. 40.5. NRS 681B.200 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.200 1. As used in NRS 681B.200 to 681B.260, inclusive, "qualified actuary" means a natural person who is qualified to sign the applicable statement of actuarial opinion in accordance with the qualification standards set by the American Academy of Actuaries for an actuary signing such a statement.

2. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.55. NRS 681B.210 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.210 1. Every insurer doing business in this state shall annually submit the opinion of a qualified actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified by the Commissioner by regulation are computed appropriately, are based on assumptions which satisfy contractual provisions, are consistent with prior reported amounts, and comply with applicable laws of this state. The Commissioner by regulation may further define or enlarge the scope of this opinion.

2. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.6. NRS 681B.220 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.220 1. Every such insurer, unless exempted by or pursuant to regulation, shall also annually submit an opinion of the same qualified actuary as to whether the reserves and related actuarial items held in support of the policies and contracts specified by the Commissioner by regulation, when considered in light of the assets held by the insurer with respect to the reserves and related actuarial items, including the earnings on the assets invested and the considerations anticipated to be received and retained under the policies and contracts, make adequate provision for the insurer's obligations under the policies and contracts, including the benefits under and expenses associated with the policies and contracts.

2. The Commissioner may provide by regulation for a period of transition for establishing any higher reserves which the qualified actuary may deem necessary in order to render the opinion required by this section and NRS 681B.210.

3. The holding of additional reserves determined by a qualified actuary to be necessary to render the opinion required by this section or NRS 681B.210, shall not be deemed to be the adoption of a higher standard of valuation for the purposes of NRS 681B.120 or 681B.140.

4. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.65. NRS 681B.230 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.230 1. Each opinion required by NRS 681B.220 must be supported by memorandum, in form and substance acceptable to the Commissioner as specified by regulation.

2. If an insurer fails to provide a supporting memorandum at the request of the Commissioner within a period specified by regulation, or the Commissioner determines that the supporting memorandum provided by the insurer fails to meet the standards prescribed by the regulations or is otherwise unacceptable to the Commissioner, the Commissioner may engage a qualified actuary at the expense of the insurer to review the opinion and the basis for the opinion and prepare such supporting memorandum as is required by the Commissioner.

3. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.7. NRS 681B.240 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(c) Be based on standards adopted from time to time by the Actuarial Standards Board or a successor organization approved by the Commissioner and on such additional standards as the Commissioner may by regulation prescribe.

2. In the case of an opinion required to be submitted by a foreign or alien company, the Commissioner may accept the opinion filed by that company with the commissioner of insurance of another state if the Commissioner determines that the opinion reasonably meets the requirements applicable to an insurer domiciled in this state.

3. Except as otherwise provided in section 39.5 of this act, the provisions of this section apply only before the operative date of the Valuation Manual.

Sec. 40.75. NRS 681B.250 is hereby amended to read as follows:

681B.250 1. 2. Disciplinary action by the Commissioner against an actuary must be prescribed by regulation by the Commissioner.

The report must be in such form and contain such information as required by the regulations adopted by the Commissioner pursuant to this section.

2. (3) Has a negative rate of return at the time of acquisition if a prepayment threshold assumption is used. As used in this subsection, "prepayment threshold assumption" includes:

(I) Two times the prepayment expectation reported by a recognized, publicly available source as being the median of expectations contributed by broker dealers or other entities, except insurers, engaged in the business of selling or evaluating such securities or assets. The prepayment expectation used in this calculation is, at the insurer's election, the prepayment expectation for pass-through securities of the Federal National Mortgage Association, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation or the Government National Mortgage Association, or, for other assets of the same type as the assets that underlie the asset-backed security, in either case with a gross weighted average coupon of the assets that underlie the asset-backed security.

(II) Another prepayment threshold assumption specified by the Commissioner by regulation adopted pursuant to section 158 of this act.

2. For the purposes of paragraph (b) of subsection 1, if the asset-backed security is purchased in combination with one or more other asset-backed securities that are supported by identical underlying collateral, the insurer may calculate the rate of return for these specific combined asset-backed securities in combination. The insurer shall maintain documentation demonstrating that such securities were acquired and are continuing to be held in combination.

Sec. 137. Subject to the provisions of section 138 of this act, an insurer shall not acquire or hold an investment as an admitted asset unless at the time of acquisition the investment is:

1. Eligible for the payment or accrual of interest or a discount, whether in cash or securities, eligible to receive dividends or other distributions or is otherwise income producing; or

2. Acquired in accordance with sections 168, 170, 176 to 180, inclusive, 182 to 185, inclusive, 208, 210, 216 to 220, inclusive, or 221 and 222 of this act or pursuant to the authority of this title, other than this chapter.

Sec. 138. An insurer may acquire or hold as admitted assets investments that do not otherwise qualify as provided in this chapter if:

1. The insurer has not acquired them for the purpose of circumventing any limitations contained in this chapter;

2. The insurer complies with the provisions of sections 154 and 157 of this act as to the investments; and

3. The insurer acquires the investments in the following circumstances:

(a) As payment on account of existing indebtedness or in connection with the refinancing, restructuring or workout of existing indebtedness, if taken to protect the insurer's interest in that investment;

(b) As realization on collateral for an obligation;

(c) In connection with an otherwise qualified investment or investment practice, as interest on, or a dividend or other distribution related to, the investment or investment practice, or in connection with the refinancing of the investment, in each case for no additional or only nominal consideration;

(d) Under a lawful and bona fide agreement of recapitalization or voluntary or involuntary reorganization in connection with an investment held by the insurer; or

(e) Under a bulk reinsurance, merger or consolidation transaction approved by the Commissioner if the assets constitute admissible investments for the ceding, merged or consolidated companies.

Sec. 139. 1. An investment, or portion of an investment, acquired by an insurer in accordance with section 138 of this act becomes a nonadmitted asset 3 years, or 5 years in the case of mortgage loans and real estate, after the date of its acquisition, unless within that period the investment has become a qualified investment in accordance with a provision of this chapter, other than section 138 of this act, but an investment acquired in accordance with an agreement of bulk reinsurance, merger or consolidation may be qualified for a longer period if so provided in the plan for reinsurance, merger or consolidation as approved by the Commissioner.

2. Upon application by the insurer, and a showing that the nonadmission of an asset held in accordance with section 138 of this act would materially injure the interests of the insurer, the Commissioner may extend the period of admissibility for an additional reasonable period of time.

Sec. 140. Except as otherwise provided in sections 141 and 143 of this act, an investment shall be deemed to qualify pursuant to this chapter if, on the date the insurer committed to acquire the investment or on the date of its acquisition, it would have qualified pursuant to this chapter. For the purposes of determining limitations contained in this chapter, an insurer shall give appropriate recognition to any commitments to acquire investments.

Sec. 141. 1. An investment, held as an admitted asset by an insurer on July 1, 2015, which qualified pursuant to this chapter before July 1, 2015, shall be deemed to remain qualified as an admitted asset pursuant to this chapter.

2. Each specific transaction constituting an investment practice of the type described in this chapter that was lawfully entered into by an insurer, and was in effect on July 1, 2015, must continue to be allowed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter until its expiration or termination in accordance with its terms.

Sec. 142. Unless otherwise specified, an investment limitation computed on the basis of an insurer's admitted assets or capital and surplus shall relate to the amount required to be shown on the statutory balance sheet of the insurer most recently required to be filed with the Commissioner. For purposes of computing any limitation based on admitted assets, the insurer shall deduct from the amount of its admitted assets the amount of the liability recorded on its statutory balance sheet for:

1. The return of acceptable collateral received in a reverse repurchase transaction or a securities lending transaction;

2. Cash received in a dollar roll transaction; and

3. The amount reported as borrowed money in the most recently filed financial statement to the extent not included in subsections 1 and 2.

Sec. 143. An investment qualified, in whole or in part, for acquisition or holding as an admitted asset may be qualified or prequalified at the time of acquisition or a later date, in whole or in part, in accordance with any section of this chapter if the relevant conditions contained in that section are satisfied at the time of qualification or requalification.

Sec. 144. An insurer shall maintain documentation demonstrating that investments were acquired in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and specifying the section of this chapter pursuant to which they were acquired.

Sec. 145. An insurer shall not enter into an agreement to purchase securities in advance of their issuance for resale to the public as part of a distribution of the securities by the issuer, or otherwise guarantee the distribution, except that an insurer may acquire privately placed securities with registration rights.

Sec. 146. Notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter, the Commissioner, for good cause, may, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 233B of NRS, order an insurer to nonadmit, limit, dispose of, withdraw from or discontinue an investment or investment practice. The authority of the Commissioner pursuant to this section is in addition to any other authority of the Commissioner.

Sec. 147. Insurance futures and insurance future options are not considered investments or investment practices for the purposes of this chapter.

Sec. 148. An insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan for acquiring and holding investments and for engaging in investment practices that specifies guidelines as to the quality, maturity and diversification of investments and other specifications, including, without limitation, investment strategies intended to ensure that the investments and investment practices are appropriate for the business conducted by the insurer, its liquidity needs and its capital and surplus. The board of directors shall review and assess the insurer's technical investment and administrative capabilities and expertise before adopting a written plan concerning an investment strategy or practice.

Sec. 149. Investments acquired and held pursuant to this chapter must be acquired and held under the supervision and direction of the board of directors of the insurer. The board of directors shall evidence by formal resolution, at least annually, that it has determined whether all investments have been made in accordance with delegations, standards, limitations and investment objectives prescribed by the board or a committee of the board charged with the responsibility to direct the insurer's investments.

Sec. 150. On no less than a quarterly basis, and more often if deemed appropriate, an insurer's board of directors or a committee of the board shall:

1. Receive and review a summary report on the insurer's investment portfolio, its investment activities and practices engaged in pursuant to delegated authority, in order to determine whether the investment activity or practice of the insurer is consistent with its written plan; and

2. Review and revise, as appropriate, the written plan.

Sec. 151. In discharging its duties pursuant to sections 148 to 153, inclusive, of this act, the board of directors shall require that the records of

Sec. 152. In discharging its duties pursuant to sections 148 to 153, inclusive, of this act, the board of directors of an insurer shall perform its duties in good faith and with that degree of care that ordinarily prudent individuals in like positions would use under similar circumstances.

Sec. 153. If an insurer does not have a board of directors, all references to the board of directors in this chapter shall be deemed to be references to the governing body of the insurer having authority equivalent to that of a board of directors.

Sec. 154. 1. An insurer shall not, directly or indirectly:

(3) In accordance with any other plan approved by the Commissioner.

2. Nothing contained in paragraph (d) of subsection 1 shall be construed to prohibit a subsidiary or other affiliate of the insurer from becoming a general partner.

3. Any investment or loan made by an insurer in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (e) of subsection 1 must not be an admitted asset of the insurer.

Sec. 155. 1. Except as otherwise provided in section 156 of this act, an insurer shall not, without the prior written approval of the Commissioner, directly or indirectly:

2. For the purposes of this section, an officer or director shall not be deemed to have a financial interest by reason of an interest that is held directly or indirectly through the ownership of equity interests representing less than 2 percent of all outstanding equity interests issued by a person that is a party to the transaction, or solely by reason of that individual's position as a director or officer of a person that is a party to the transaction.

3. This section does not allow an investment that is prohibited by section 154 of this act.

4. This section does not apply to a transaction between an insurer and any of its subsidiaries or affiliates that is entered into in compliance with the provisions of chapter 692C of NRS, other than a transaction between an insurer and its officer or director.

Sec. 173. Nothing in sections 169 to 173, inclusive, of this act applies to tangible personal property lease arrangements between an insurer and its subsidiaries and affiliates in accordance with a cost-sharing arrangement or agreement permitted in accordance with the provisions of chapter 692C of NRS.

Sec. 174. 1. Subject to the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act, an insurer may acquire, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by paragraph (d) of subsection 1 of section 154 of this act, joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary or membership interests in a limited-liability company, trust certificates or other similar instruments, obligations secured by mortgages on real estate situated within a domestic jurisdiction.

2. A mortgage loan which is secured by other than a first lien must not be acquired unless the insurer is the holder of the first lien.

3. The obligations held by the insurer and any obligations with an equal lien priority shall not, at the time of acquisition of the obligation, exceed:

(a) Ninety percent of the fair market value of the real estate, if the mortgage loan is secured by a purchase money mortgage or like security received by the insurer upon disposition of the real estate.

(b) Eighty percent of the fair market value of the real estate, if the mortgage loan requires immediate scheduled payment in periodic installments of principal and interest, has an amortization period of not more than 30 years and periodic payments made not less frequently than annually. Each periodic payment must be sufficient to ensure that at all times the outstanding principal balance of the mortgage loan is not greater than the outstanding principal balance that would be outstanding under a mortgage loan with the same original principal balance, with the same interest rate and requiring equal payments of principal and interest with the same frequency over the same amortization period. Mortgage loans allowed in accordance with this section are allowed notwithstanding the fact that they provide for a payment of the principal balance before the end of the period of amortization of the loan. For residential mortgage loans, the 80-percent limitation may be increased to 97 percent if acceptable private mortgage insurance has been obtained.

(c) Seventy-five percent of the fair market values of the real estate for mortgage loans that do not meet the requirements of paragraph (a) or (b).

4. For purposes of subsections 1, 2 and 3, the amount of an obligation required to be included in the calculation of the loan-to-value ratio may be reduced to the extent the obligation is insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, or their successors.

5. A mortgage loan that is held by an insurer pursuant to section 141 of this act or acquired in accordance with the provisions of sections 174 to 177, inclusive, of this act, and is restructured in a manner that meets the requirements of a restructured mortgage loan in conformance with the Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual adopted by the NAIC will continue to qualify as a mortgage loan in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

6. Subject to the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act, credit lease transactions that do not qualify for investment pursuant to section 163 of this act are exempt from the provisions of subsections 1, 2 and 3 if they meet the following criteria:

(a) The loan amortizes over the initial fixed lease term at least in an amount sufficient so that the loan balance at the end of the lease term does not exceed the original appraised value of the real estate;

(b) The lease payments cover or exceed the total debt service over the life of the loan;

(c) A tenant or its affiliated entity whose rated credit instruments have an SVO rating of 1 or 2, or a comparable rating from a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO, has a full faith and credit obligation to make the lease payments;

(d) The insurer holds or is the beneficial holder of a first lien mortgage on the real estate;

(e) The expenses of the real estate are passed through to the tenant, excluding exterior, structural, parking and heating, ventilation and air conditioning replacement expenses, unless annual escrow contributions, from cash flows derived from the lease payments, cover the expense shortfall; and

(f) There is a perfected assignment of the rents due pursuant to the lease to, or for the benefit of, the insurer.

Sec. 175. 1. An insurer may acquire, manage and dispose of real estate situated in a domestic jurisdiction either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by paragraph (d) of subsection 1 of section 154 of this act, joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary or membership interests in a limited-liability company, trust certificates or other similar instruments. The real estate must be income producing or intended for improvement or development for investment purposes under an existing program, in which case the real estate shall be deemed to be income producing.

2. The real estate may be subject to mortgages, liens or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsections 2 and 3 of section 177 of this act.

Sec. 176. 1. An insurer may acquire, manage and dispose of real estate for the convenient accommodation of the insurer's, and its affiliates, business operations, including home office, branch office and filed office operations.

2. Real estate acquired as described in this section may include excess space for rent to others, if the excess space, valued at its fair market value, would otherwise be an allowed investment in accordance with the provisions of section 175 of this act and is so qualified by the insurer.

3. The real estate acquired as described in this section may be subject to one or more mortgages, liens or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsection 4 of section 177 of this act.

4. For the purposes of this section, business operations must not include that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an accident and health insurer for its insureds. An insurer may acquire real estate used for these purposes under section 175 of this act.

Sec. 177. 1. An insurer shall not acquire an investment in accordance with the provisions of section 174 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments held by the insurer pursuant to that section would exceed:

(a) One percent of its admitted assets in mortgage loans covering any one secured location;

(b) One-quarter of one percent of its admitted assets in construction loans covering any one secured location; or

(c) Two percent of its admitted assets in construction loans in the aggregate.

2. An insurer shall not acquire an investment under section 175 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of investments held by the insurer under section 175 of this act plus the guarantees outstanding would exceed:

(a) One percent of its admitted assets in one parcel or group of contiguous parcels of real estate, except that this limitation does not apply to that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an accident and health insurer for its insureds, such as hospitals, medical clinics, medical professional buildings or other health facilities used for the purpose of providing health services; or

(b) Fifteen percent of its admitted assets in the aggregate, but not more than 5 percent of its admitted assets as to properties that are to be improved or developed.

3. An insurer shall not acquire an investment pursuant to sections 174 and 175 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments held by the insurer in accordance with those sections plus the guarantees outstanding would exceed 45 percent of the insurer's admitted assets. An insurer may exceed this limitation by not more than 30 percent of the insurer's admitted assets if:

(a) This increased amount is invested only in residential mortgage loans;

(b) The insurer has not more than 10 percent of the insurer's admitted assets invested in mortgage loans other than residential mortgage loans;

(c) The loan-to-value ratio of each residential mortgage loan does not exceed 60 percent at the time the mortgage loan is qualified pursuant to this increased authority, and the fair market value is supported by an appraisal that is not more than 2 years old and prepared by an independent appraiser;

(d) A single mortgage loan qualified pursuant to this increased authority does not exceed 0.5 percent of the insurer's admitted assets;

(e) The insurer files with the Commissioner, and receives approval from the Commissioner for, a plan that is designed to result in a portfolio of residential mortgage loans that is sufficiently geographically diversified; and

(f) The insurer agrees to file annually with the Commissioner records which demonstrate that the insurer's portfolio of residential mortgage loans is geographically diversified in accordance with the plan.

4. The limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act do not apply to an insurer's acquisition of real estate under section 175 of this act. An insurer shall not acquire real estate under section 175 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the acquisition, the aggregate amount of real estate held by the insurer in accordance with that section would exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets. With the approval of the Commissioner, additional amounts of real estate may be acquired under section 175 of this act.

Sec. 178. An insurer may enter into securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase and dollar roll transactions with business entities, subject to the following requirements:

1. The insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan that is consistent with the requirements of the written plan in section 148 of this act which specifies the guidelines and objectives to be followed, including, without limitation:

(a) A description of how cash received will be invested or used for general corporate purposes of the insurer;

(b) Operational procedures to manage interest rate risk, counterparty default risk, the conditions under which proceeds from reverse repurchase transactions may be used in the ordinary course of business and the use of acceptable collateral in a manner that reflects the liquidity needs of the transactions; and

(c) The extent to which the insurer may engage in these transactions.

2. The insurer shall enter into a written agreement for all transactions authorized by this section other than dollar roll transactions. The written agreement must require that each transaction terminate not more than 1 year after its inception or upon the earlier demand of the insurer. The agreement must be with the business entity counterparty, but for securities lending transactions, the agreement may be with an agent acting on behalf of the insurer, if the agent is a qualified business entity and if the agreement:

(a) Requires the agent to enter into separate agreements with each counterparty that are consistent with the requirements of this section; and

(b) Prohibits securities lending transactions under the agreement with the agent or its affiliates.

3. Cash received in a transaction as described in this section must be invested in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and in a manner that recognizes the liquidity needs of the transaction or used by the insurer for its general corporate purposes. For so long as the transaction remains outstanding, the insurer, its agent or custodian shall maintain, as to acceptable collateral received in a transaction in accordance with this section, either physically or through book entry systems of the Federal Reserve, the Depository Trust Company, the Participants Trust Company or any other securities depositories approved by the Commissioner:

(a) Possession of the acceptable collateral;

(b) A perfected security interest in the acceptable collateral; or

(c) In the case of a jurisdiction outside of the United States, title to, or rights of a secured creditor to, the acceptable collateral.

4. The limitations of sections 160, 161, 162 and 179 to 183, inclusive, of this act do not apply to the business entity counterparty exposure created by transactions entered into under this section. For purposes of calculations made to determine compliance with this subsection, no effect will be given to the insurer's future obligation to resell securities, in the case of a repurchase transaction, or to repurchase securities, in the case of a reverse repurchase transaction. An insurer shall not enter into a transaction under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(a) The aggregate amount of securities loaned, sold or purchased from any one business entity counterparty under this section would exceed 5 percent of its admitted assets. In calculating the amount sold to or purchased from a business entity counterparty in accordance with repurchase or reverse purchase transactions, effect may be given to netting provisions under a master written agreement.

(b) The aggregate amount of all securities loaned, sold to or purchased from all business entities under this section would exceed 40 percent of its admitted assets.

5. In a securities lending transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value on the transaction date equal to 102 percent or more of the market value of the securities loaned by the insurer in the transaction on that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than the market value of the loaned securities, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral held in connection with the transaction, equals 102 percent or more of the market value of the loaned securities.

6. In a reverse repurchase transaction, other than a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value on the transaction date equal to 95 percent or more of the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction on that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 95 percent of the market value of the securities so transferred, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral held in connection with the transaction, equals 95 percent or more of the market value of the transferred securities.

7. In a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive cash in an amount equal to at least the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction on the transaction date.

8. In a repurchase transaction, the insurer shall receive as acceptable collateral transferred securities having a market value equal to 102 percent or more of the purchase price paid by the insurer for the securities. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 100 percent of the purchase price paid by the insurer, the business entity counterparty is obligated to provide additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral held in connection with the transaction, equals 102 percent or more of the purchase price. Securities acquired by an insurer in a repurchase transaction may not be sold in a reverse repurchase transaction, loaned in a securities lending transaction or otherwise pledged.

9. To constitute acceptable collateral for the purposes of this section, a letter of credit must have an expiration date beyond the term of the subject transaction.

Sec. 179. Subject to the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act, an insurer may acquire foreign investments, or engage in investment practices with persons of or in foreign jurisdictions, of substantially the same type as those that an insurer is allowed to acquire pursuant to this chapter, other than of the type allowed under section 164 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investments:

1. The aggregate amount of foreign investments held by the insurer in accordance with this section does not exceed 20 percent of its admitted assets; and

2. The aggregate amount of foreign investments held by the insurer in accordance with this section in a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 3 percent of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

Sec. 180. 1. Subject to the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act, an insurer may acquire investments, or engage in investment practices denominated in foreign currencies, whether or not they are foreign investments acquired as described in section 179 of this act, or additional foreign currency exposure as a result of the termination or expiration of a hedging transaction with respect to investments denominated in a foreign currency if:

(a) The aggregate amount of investments held by the insurer in accordance with this section denominated in foreign currencies does not exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets; and

(b) The aggregate amount of investments held by the insurer in accordance with this section denominated in the foreign currency of a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 3 percent of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

2. An investment must not be considered denominated in a foreign currency if the acquiring insurer enters into one or more contracts in transactions allowed under sections 184 to 188, inclusive, of this act and the business entity counterparty agrees in the contract or contracts to exchange all payments made on the foreign currency denominated investment for United States currency at a rate which effectively insulates the investment cash flows against future changes in currency exchange rates during the period the contract or contracts are in effect.

Sec. 181. In addition to investments allowed under sections 179 and 180 of this act, an insurer that is authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction, and that has outstanding insurance, annuity or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in a foreign currency of that jurisdiction, may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction, and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction, subject to the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act. Investments made in accordance with this section in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer in accordance with this section must not exceed the greater of:

1. The amount the insurer is required by the law of the foreign jurisdiction to invest in the foreign jurisdiction; or

2. One hundred fifteen percent of the amount of the insurer's reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on lives or risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

Sec. 182. In addition to investments allowed under sections 179 and 180 of this act, an insurer that is not authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction, but which has outstanding insurance, annuity or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction, may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction, and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act. Investments made in accordance with this section in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer in accordance with this section must not exceed 105 percent of the amount of the insurer's reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on lives or risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

Sec. 183. Investments acquired in conformance with sections 179 to 183, inclusive, of this act must be aggregated with investments of the same types made under this chapter, and in a similar manner, for purposes of determining compliance with the limitations, if any, contained in this chapter. Investments in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions and government-sponsored enterprises of these persons, except for those exempted by sections 181 and 182 of this act, are subject to the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act.

Sec. 184. An insurer may, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, engage in derivative transactions as described in sections 184 to 188, inclusive, of this act pursuant to the following conditions:

1. An insurer may use derivative instruments under sections 184 to 188, inclusive, of this act to engage in hedging transactions and certain income generation transactions, as these terms may be further defined in regulations adopted by the Commissioner pursuant to section 158 of this act; and

2. An insurer must be able to demonstrate to the Commissioner the intended hedging characteristics and the ongoing effectiveness of the derivative transaction or combination of the transactions through cash flow testing or other appropriate analyses.

Sec. 185. An insurer may enter into hedging transactions under sections 184 to 188, inclusive, of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

1. The aggregate statement value of options, caps, floors and warrants not attached to another financial instrument purchased and used in hedging transactions does not exceed 7.5 percent of its admitted assets;

2. The aggregate statement value of options, caps and floors written in hedging transactions does not exceed 3 percent of its admitted assets; and

3. The aggregate potential exposure of collars, swaps, forwards and futures used in hedging transactions does not exceed 6.5 percent of its admitted assets.

Sec. 186. An insurer may only enter into the following types of income generation transactions if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transactions, the aggregate statement value of the fixed income assets that are subject to call or which generate the cash flows for payments under the caps or floors, plus the face value of fixed income securities underlying a derivative instrument subject to call, plus the amount of the purchase obligations under the puts, does not exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets:

1. Sales of covered call options on noncallable fixed income securities, callable fixed income securities if the option expires by its terms before the end of the noncallable period or derivative instruments based on fixed income securities;

2. Sales of covered call options on equity securities, if the insurer holds in its portfolio, or can immediately acquire through the exercise of options, warrants or conversion rights already owned, the equity securities subject to call during the complete term of the call option sold;

3. Sales of covered puts on investments that the insurer is allowed to acquire pursuant to this chapter, if the insurer has escrowed, or entered into a custodian agreement segregating, cash or cash equivalents with a market value equal to the amount of its purchase obligations under the put during the complete term of the put option sold; or

4. Sales of covered caps or floors, if the insurer holds in its portfolio the investments generating the cash flow to make the required payments under the caps or floors during the complete term that the cap or floor is outstanding.

Sec. 187. An insurer shall include all counterparty exposure amounts in determining compliance with the limitations of sections 160, 161 and 162 of this act.

Sec. 188. In accordance with the regulations adopted pursuant to section 158 of this act, the Commissioner may approve additional transactions involving the use of derivative instruments in excess of the limits of section 185 of this act for other risk-management purposes, but replication transactions must not be allowed for other than risk-management purposes.

Sec. 189. A life insurer may lend to a policyholder on the security of the cash surrender value of the policyholder's policy a sum not exceeding the legal reserve that the insurer is required to maintain on the policy.

Sec. 190. Solely for the purpose of acquiring investments that exceed the quantitative limitations of sections 160 to 183, inclusive, of this act, an insurer may acquire in accordance with this section an investment, or engage in investment practices described in section 178 of this act, but an insurer shall not acquire an investment or engage in investment practices described in section 178 of this act in accordance with this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

1. The aggregate amount of investments held by the insurer would exceed 3 percent of its admitted assets; or

2. The aggregate amount of investments as to one limitation in sections 160 to 183, inclusive, of this act held by the insurer would exceed 1 percent of its admitted assets.

Sec. 191. 1. In addition to the authority provided in section 190 of this act, an insurer may acquire in accordance with this section an investment of any kind, or engage in investment practices described in section 178 of this act that are not specifically prohibited by the provisions of this chapter, without regard to the categories, conditions, standards or other limitations of sections 160 to 183, inclusive, of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of investments held would not exceed the lesser of:

(a) Ten percent of its admitted assets; or

(b) Seventy-five percent of its capital and surplus.

2. An insurer shall not acquire any investment or engage in any investment practice in accordance with this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of all investments in any one person held by the insurer would exceed 3 percent of its admitted assets.

Sec. 192. In addition to the investments acquired as described in sections 190 and 191 of this act, an insurer may acquire in accordance with this section an investment of any kind, or engage in investment practices described in section 178 of this act, that are not specifically prohibited by the provisions of this chapter, without regard to any limitations of sections 160 to 183, inclusive, of this act if:

1. The Commissioner grants prior approval;

2. The insurer demonstrates that its investments are being made in a prudent manner and that the additional amounts will be invested in a prudent manner; and

3. As a result of and after giving effect to the transaction the aggregate amount of investments held by the insurer is not greater than:

(a) Twenty-five percent of its capital and surplus; or

(b) One hundred percent of capital and surplus less 10 percent of its admitted assets.

Sec. 193. An investment prohibited by section 154 of this act, not allowed by sections 184 to 188, inclusive, of this act or additional derivative instruments acquired under sections 184 to 188, inclusive, of this act must not be acquired pursuant to sections 190 to 193, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 194. Sections 194 to 230, inclusive, of this act apply to the investments and investment practices of property and casualty, financial guaranty and mortgage guarantee insurers.

Sec. 195. Subject to all other limitations and requirements of this chapter, a property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty or accident and health insurer shall maintain an amount not less than 100 percent of adjusted loss reserves and loss adjustment expense reserves, 100 percent of adjusted unearned premium reserves and 100 percent of statutorily required policy and contract reserves in:

1. Cash and cash equivalents;

2. High and medium grade investments that qualify pursuant to sections 203 and 204 of this act;

3. Equity interests that qualify pursuant to sections 205 to 208, inclusive, of this act and which are traded on a qualified exchange;

4. Investments of the type set forth in sections 219 to 223, inclusive, of this act, if the investments are rated in the highest generic rating category by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO for rating foreign jurisdictions and if any foreign currency exposure is effectively hedged through the maturity date of the investments;

5. Qualifying investments of the type set forth in subsections 2, 3 and 4 that are acquired pursuant to sections 229 and 230 of this act;

6. Interest and dividends receivable on qualifying investments of the type set forth in subsections 1 to 5, inclusive; or

7. Reinsurance recoverable on paid losses.

Sec. 196. 1. For the purposes of determining the amount of assets to be maintained in accordance with this section, the calculation of adjusted loss reserves and loss adjustment expense reserves, adjusted unearned premium reserves and statutorily required policy and contract reserves must be based on the amounts reported as of the most recent annual or quarterly statement date.

2. Adjusted loss reserves and loss adjustment expense reserves must be, for each individual line of business, equal to the sum derived by multiplying the amount obtained pursuant to paragraph (a) by the amount obtained pursuant to paragraph (b), and subtracting from the product obtained by way of that multiplication the amount obtained pursuant to paragraph (c), as follows:

(a) The result of each amount reported by the insurer as losses and loss adjustment expenses unpaid for each accident year for each individual line of business.

(b) The discount factor that is applicable to the line of business and accident year published by the Internal Revenue Service in accordance with the provisions of section 846 of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. § 846, as amended, for the calendar year that corresponds to the most recent annual statement of the insurer.

(c) Accrued retrospective premiums discounted by an average discount factor. The discount factor used in this paragraph must be calculated by dividing the losses and loss adjustment expenses unpaid after discounting by loss and loss adjustment expense reserves before discounting the amount obtained pursuant to paragraph (a).

3. For purposes of the calculations required pursuant to subsection 2, the losses and loss adjustment expenses unpaid must be determined net of anticipated salvage and subrogation, and gross of any discount for the time value of money or tabular discount.

4. Adjusted unearned premium reserves must be equal to the sum derived by subtracting the amount obtained pursuant to paragraph (b) from the amount obtained pursuant to paragraph (a), as follows:

(a) The amount reported by the insurer as unearned premium reserves.

(b) The admitted asset amounts reported by the insurer as:

(1) Premiums in and agent's balances in the course of collection, accident and health premiums due and unpaid and uncollected premiums for accident and health premiums;

(2) Premiums, agent's balances and installments booked but deferred and not yet due; and

(3) Bills receivable, taken for premium.

5. Statutorily required policy and contract reserves also must include, without limitation, any required contingency reserves, including, without limitation, in the case of a mortgage guaranty insurer, the amounts required by NRS 681B.100.

Sec. 197. A property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty or accident and health insurer shall supplement its annual statement with a reconciliation and summary of its assets and reserve requirements as required in sections 195 and 196 of this act. A reconciliation and summary showing that an insurer's assets as required in sections 195 and 196 of this act are greater than or equal to its undiscounted reserves referred to in sections 195 and 196 of this act is sufficient to satisfy this requirement. Upon prior notification, the Commissioner may require an insurer to submit such a reconciliation and summary with any quarterly statement filed during the calendar year.

Sec. 198. If a property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty or accident and health insurer's assets and reserves do not comply with sections 195 and 196 of this act, the insurer shall notify the Commissioner immediately of the amount by which the reserve requirements exceed the annual statement value of the qualifying assets, explain why the deficiency exists and, within 30 days after the date of the notice, propose a plan of action to remedy the deficiency.

Sec. 199. 1. If the Commissioner determines that an insurer is not in compliance with sections 195 and 196 of this act, the Commissioner shall require the insurer to eliminate the condition causing the noncompliance within a specified time after the date on which the notice of the Commissioner's requirements is mailed or delivered to the insurer.

2. If an insurer fails to comply with the Commissioner's requirements that are imposed pursuant to subsection 1, the insurer is deemed to be in hazardous financial condition and the Commissioner shall take one or more of the actions authorized by law as to insurers in hazardous financial condition.

Sec. 200. 1. Except as otherwise specified in this chapter, an insurer shall not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment in accordance with the provisions of this chapter if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the insurer would hold more than 5 percent of its admitted assets in investments of all kinds issued, assumed, accepted, insured or guaranteed by a single person.

2. The limitation in subsection 1 does not apply to the aggregate amounts insured by a single financial guaranty insurer with the highest generic rating issued by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization.

3. Asset-backed securities are not subject to the limitation in subsection 1. However, an insurer shall not acquire an asset-backed security if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of asset-backed securities secured by, or evidencing an interest in, a single asset or single pool of assets held by a trust or other business entity held by the insurer would exceed 5 percent of its admitted assets.

Sec. 201. 1. An insurer shall not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment in accordance with the provisions of sections 203, 209 to 213, inclusive, or 219 to 223, inclusive, of this act or counterparty exposure in accordance with the provisions of section 227 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(a) The aggregate amount of all medium and lower grade investments held by the insurer would exceed 20 percent of its admitted assets;

(b) The aggregate amount of lower grade investments held by the insurer would exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets;

(c) The aggregate amount of investments rated 5 or 6 by the SVO held by the insurer would exceed 5 percent of its admitted assets;

(d) The aggregate amount of investments rated 6 by the SVO held by the insurer would exceed 1 percent of its admitted assets; or

(e) The aggregate amount of medium and lower grade investments held by the insurer that receive as cash income less than the equivalent yield for United States Treasury issues with a comparative average life, would exceed 1 percent of its admitted assets.

2. An insurer shall not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment in accordance with the provisions of sections 203, 209 to 213, inclusive, or 219 to 223, inclusive, of this act or counterparty exposure in accordance with the provisions of section 227 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(a) The aggregate amount of medium and lower grade investments issued, assumed, guaranteed, accepted or insured by any one person or, as to asset-backed securities by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or pool of assets, held by the insurer, would exceed 1 percent of its admitted assets; or

(a) In any one investment pool would exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets;

(b) In all investment pools investing in investments permitted in accordance with paragraph (d) of subsection 1 would exceed 25 percent of its admitted assets; or

(c) Compile and maintain detailed accounting records setting forth:

(1) The cash receipts and disbursements reflecting each participant's proportionate investments in the investment pool;

(2) A complete description of all underlying assets of the investment pool, including, without limitation, amount, interest rate, maturity date, if any, and other appropriate designations; and

(3) Other records which, on a daily basis, allow third parties to verify each participant's investment in the investment pool; and

Distributions in accordance with this paragraph must be calculated in each case net of all applicable fees and expenses of the investment pool. The pooling agreement must provide that the pool manager shall distribute to a participant at the discretion of the pool manager:

(1) In cash, the then fair market value of the participant's pro rata share of each underlying asset of the investment pool;

(2) In kind, a pro rata share of each underlying asset; or

Sec. 205. Subject to the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act, an insurer may acquire equity interests in business entities organized in accordance with the laws of any domestic jurisdiction.

Sec. 206. An insurer shall not acquire an investment in accordance with the provisions of sections 205 to 208, inclusive, of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments held by the insurer in accordance with the provisions of those sections would exceed the greater of 25 percent of the insurer's admitted assets or 100 percent of the insurer's surplus as regards policyholders.

Sec. 207. An insurer shall not acquire in accordance with the provisions of sections 205 to 208, inclusive, of this act any investments that the insurer may acquire in accordance with the provisions of sections 214 to 217, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 208. An insurer shall not short sell equity investments unless the insurer covers the short sale by owning the equity investment or an unrestricted right to the equity instrument exercisable within 6 months after the short sale.

Sec. 209. 1. Subject to the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act, an insurer may acquire tangible personal property or equity interests therein located or used wholly or in part within a domestic jurisdiction either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by paragraph (d) of subsection 1 of section 154 of this act, joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary or membership interests in a limited-liability company, trust certificates or other similar instruments.

2. Investments acquired as described in subsection 1 are eligible only if:

(a) The property is subject to a lease or other agreement with a person whose rated credit instruments in the amount of the purchase price of the personal property the insurer could acquire in accordance with the provisions of section 203 of this act; and

(b) The lease or other agreement provides the insurer the right to receive rental, purchase or other fixed payments for the use or purchase of the property, and the aggregate value of the payments, together with the estimated residual value of the property at the end of its useful life and the estimated tax benefits to the insurer resulting from ownership of the property, must be adequate to return the cost of the insurer's investment in the property, plus a return deemed adequate by the insurer.

Sec. 210. The insurer shall compute the amount of each investment entered into in accordance with the provisions of sections 209 to 213, inclusive, of this act on the basis of the out-of-pocket purchase price and applicable related expenses paid by the insurer for the investment, net of each borrowing made to finance the purchase price and expenses, to the extent the borrowing is without recourse to the insurer.

Sec. 211. An insurer shall not acquire an investment in accordance with the provisions of sections 209 to 213, inclusive, of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments held by the insurer in accordance with the provisions of sections 209 to 213, inclusive, of this act would exceed:

1. Two percent of its admitted assets; or

2. One half of one percent of its admitted assets as to any single item of tangible personal property.

Sec. 212. For the purposes of determining compliance with the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act, investments acquired by an insurer in accordance with the provisions of sections 209 to 213, inclusive, of this act must be aggregated with those acquired in accordance with the provisions of section 203 of this act, and each lessee of the property in accordance with a lease referred to in sections 209 to 213, inclusive, of this act shall be deemed the issuer of an obligation in the amount of the investment of the insurer in the property determined as provided in section 210 of this act.

Sec. 213. Nothing in sections 209 to 213, inclusive, of this act applies to tangible personal property lease arrangements between an insurer and its subsidiaries and affiliates in accordance with a cost-sharing arrangement or agreement permitted in accordance with the provisions of chapter 692C of NRS.

Sec. 214. 1. Subject to the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act, an insurer may acquire, either directly, or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by paragraph (d) of subsection 1 of section 154 of this act, joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary or membership interests in a limited-liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments, obligations secured by mortgages on real estate situated within a domestic jurisdiction. A mortgage loan which is secured by other than a first lien must not be acquired unless the insurer is the holder of the first lien.

2. The obligations held by the insurer and any obligations with an equal lien priority must not, at the time of acquisition of the obligation, exceed:

(a) Ninety percent of the fair market value of the real estate, if the mortgage loan is secured by a purchase money mortgage or like security received by the insurer upon disposition of the real estate.

(b) Eighty percent of the fair market value of the real estate, if the mortgage loan requires immediate scheduled payment in periodic installments of principal and interest, has an amortization period of 30 years or less and periodic payments made not less frequently than annually. Each periodic payment must be sufficient to ensure that at all times the outstanding principal balance of the mortgage loan is not greater than the outstanding principal balance that would be outstanding under a mortgage loan with the same original principal balance, the same interest rate and requiring equal payments of principal and interest with the same frequency over the same amortization period. Mortgage loans allowed in accordance with this section are allowed notwithstanding the fact that they provide for a payment of the principal balance before the end of the period of amortization of the loan. For residential mortgage loans, the 80-percent limitation may be increased to 97 percent if acceptable private mortgage insurance has been obtained.

(c) Seventy-five percent of the fair market value of the real estate for mortgage loans that do not meet the requirements of paragraph (a) or (b).

3. For the purposes of subsection 2, the amount of an obligation required to be included in the calculation of the loan-to-value ratio may be reduced to the extent the obligation is insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, or their successors.

4. A mortgage loan that is held by an insurer pursuant to section 141 of this act or acquired in accordance with the provisions of sections 214 to 217, inclusive, of this act and is restructured in a manner that meets the requirements of a restructured mortgage loan in conformance with the Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual adopted by the NAIC, will continue to qualify as a mortgage loan in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

5. Subject to the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act, credit lease transactions that do not qualify for investment pursuant to section 203 of this act are exempt from the provisions of subsections 1, 2 and 3 if they meet the following criteria:

(a) The loan amortizes over the initial fixed lease term at least in an amount sufficient so that the loan balance at the end of the lease term does not exceed the original appraised value of the real estate;

(b) The lease payments cover or exceed the total debt service over the life of the loan;

(c) A tenant or its affiliated entity whose rated credit instruments have an SVO 1 or 2 rating or a comparable rating from a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO, has a full faith and credit obligation to make the lease payments;

(d) The insurer holds or is the beneficial holder of a first lien mortgage on the real estate;

(e) The expenses of the real estate are passed through to the tenant excluding exterior, structural, parking and heating, ventilation and air conditioning replacement expenses, unless annual escrow contributions, from cash flows derived from the lease payments, cover the expense shortfall; and

(f) There is a perfected assignment of the rents due pursuant to the lease to, or for the benefit of, the insurer.

Sec. 215. 1. An insurer may acquire, manage and dispose of real estate situated in a domestic jurisdiction either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by paragraph (d) of subsection 1 of section 154 of this act, joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary or membership interests in a limited-liability company, trust certificates or other similar interests. The real estate must be income producing or intended for improvement or development for investment purposes under an existing program, in which case the real estate shall be deemed to be income producing.

2. The real estate may be subject to mortgages, liens or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsections 2 and 3 of section 217 of this act.

Sec. 216. 1. An insurer may acquire, manage and dispose of real estate for the convenient accommodation of the insurer's, and its affiliates, business operations, including home office, branch office and filed office operations.

2. Real estate acquired as described in this section may include excess space for rent to others, if the excess space, valued at its fair market value, would otherwise be an allowed investment in accordance with the provisions of section 215 of this act and is so qualified by the insurer.

3. The real estate acquired as described in this section may be subject to one or more mortgages, liens or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsection 4 of section 217 of this act.

4. For purposes of this section, business operations must not include that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95 percent of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively. An insurer may acquire real estate used for these purposes under section 215 of this act.

Sec. 217. 1. An insurer shall not acquire an investment in accordance with the provisions of section 214 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments held by the insurer pursuant to that section would exceed:

(a) One percent of its admitted assets in mortgage loans covering any one secured location;

(b) One-quarter of one percent of its admitted assets in construction loans covering any one secured location; or

(c) One percent of its admitted assets in construction loans in the aggregate.

2. An insurer shall not acquire an investment under section 215 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of investments held by the insurer under section 215 of this act plus the guarantees outstanding would exceed:

(a) One percent of its admitted assets in any one parcel or group of contiguous parcels of real estate, except that this limitation does not apply to that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95 percent of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively, including, without limitation, hospitals, medical clinics, medical professional buildings or other health facilities used for the purpose of providing health services; or

(b) The lesser of 10 percent of its admitted assets or 40 percent of its surplus as regards policyholders in the aggregate, except for an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95 percent of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively, this limitation must be increased to 15 percent of its admitted assets in the aggregate.

3. An insurer shall not acquire an investment pursuant to sections 214 and 215 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any guarantees it has made in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments held by the insurer in accordance with the provisions of those sections plus the guarantees outstanding would exceed 25 percent of the insurer's admitted assets.

4. The limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act do not apply to an insurer's acquisition of real estate under section 216 of this act. An insurer shall not acquire real estate under section 216 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the acquisition, the aggregate amount of real estate held by the insurer in accordance with that section would exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets. With the permission of the Commissioner, additional amounts of real estate may be acquired under section 216 of this act.

Sec. 218. An insurer may enter into securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase and dollar roll transactions with business entities, subject to the following requirements:

1. The insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan that is consistent with the requirements of the written plan in section 148 of this act which specifies the guidelines and objectives to be followed, including, without limitation:

(a) A description of how cash received will be invested or used for general corporate purposes of the insurer;

(b) Operational procedures to manage interest rate risk, counterparty default risk, the conditions under which proceeds from reverse repurchase transactions may be used in the ordinary course of business and the use of acceptable collateral in a manner that reflects the liquidity needs of the transaction; and

(c) The extent to which the insurer may engage in these transactions.

2. The insurer shall enter into a written agreement for all transactions authorized in this section other than dollar roll transactions. The written agreement must require that each transaction terminate not more than 1 year after its inception or upon the earlier demand of the insurer. The agreement must be with the business entity counterparty, but for securities lending transactions, the agreement may be with an agent acting on behalf of the insurer, if the agent is a qualified business entity and if the agreement:

(a) Requires the agent to enter into separate agreements with each counterparty that are consistent with the requirements of this section; and

(b) Prohibits securities lending transactions under the agreement with the agent or its affiliates.

3. Cash received in a transaction entered into as described in this section must be invested in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and in a manner that recognizes the liquidity needs of the transaction or used by the insurer for its general corporate purposes. For so long as the transaction remains outstanding, the insurer, its agent or custodian shall maintain, as to acceptable collateral received in a transaction entered into in accordance with this section, either physically or through the book entry systems of the Federal Reserve, the Depository Trust Company, the Participants Trust Company or any other securities depositories approved by the Commissioner:

(a) Possession of the acceptable collateral;

(b) A perfected security interest in the acceptable collateral; or

(c) In the case of a jurisdiction outside of the United States, title to, or rights of a secured creditor to, the acceptable collateral.

4. The limitations of sections 200, 201, 202 and 219 to 223, inclusive, of this act do not apply to the business entity counterparty exposure created by transactions entered into under this section. For purposes of calculations made to determine compliance with this subsection, no effect will be given to the insurer's future obligation to resell securities, in the case of a repurchase transaction, or to repurchase securities, in the case of a reverse repurchase transaction. An insurer shall not enter into a transaction under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(a) The aggregate amount of securities loaned, sold to or purchased from any one business entity counterparty under this section would exceed 5 percent of its admitted assets. In calculating the amount sold to or purchased from a business entity counterparty under repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions, effect may be given to netting provisions contained within a master written agreement.

(b) The aggregate amount of all securities loaned, sold to or purchased from all business entities under this section would exceed 40 percent of its admitted assets.

➥ The limitation in this subsection does not apply to reverse repurchase transactions for so long as the borrowing is used to meet operational liquidity requirements resulting from an officially declared catastrophe and subject to a plan approved by the Commissioner.

5. In a securities lending transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value on the transaction date, equal to 102 percent or more of the market value of the securities loaned by the insurer in the transaction on that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than the market value of the loaned securities, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral held in connection with the transaction, equals 102 percent or more of the market value of the loaned securities.

6. In a reverse repurchase transaction, other than a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value on the transaction date equal to 95 percent or more of the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction on that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 95 percent of the market value of the securities so transferred, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral held in connection with the transaction, equals 95 percent or more of the market value of the transferred securities.

7. In a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive cash in an amount equal to at least the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction on the transaction date.

8. In a repurchase transaction, the insurer shall receive as acceptable collateral transferred securities having a market value equal to 102 percent or more of the purchase price paid by the insurer for the securities. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 100 percent of the purchase price paid by the insurer, the business entity counterparty is obligated to provide additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral held in connection with the transaction, equals 102 percent or more of the purchase price. Securities acquired by an insurer in a repurchase transaction must not be sold in a reverse repurchase transaction, loaned in a securities lending transaction or otherwise pledged.

9. To constitute acceptable collateral for the purposes of this section, a letter of credit must have an expiration date beyond the term of the subject transaction.

Sec. 219. Subject to the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act, an insurer may acquire foreign investments, or engage in investment practices with persons of, or in, foreign jurisdictions, of substantially the same types as those that an insurer is allowed to acquire pursuant to this chapter, other than of the type allowed under section 204 of this act if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

1. The aggregate amount of foreign investments held by the insurer in accordance with this section does not exceed 20 percent of its admitted assets; and

2. The aggregate amount of foreign investments held by the insurer in accordance with this section in a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 5 percent of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

Sec. 220. 1. Subject to the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act, an insurer may acquire investments, or engage in investment practices denominated in foreign currencies, whether or not they are foreign investments acquired as described in section 219 of this act, or additional foreign currency exposure as a result of the termination or expiration of a hedging transaction with respect to investments denominated in a foreign currency if:

(a) The aggregate amount of investments held by the insurer in accordance with this section denominated in foreign currencies does not exceed 15 percent of its admitted assets; and

(b) The aggregate amount of investments held by the insurer in accordance with this section denominated in the foreign currency of a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10 percent of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 5 percent of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

2. An investment must not be considered denominated in a foreign currency if the acquiring insurer enters into one or more contracts in transactions allowed under sections 224 to 228, inclusive, of this act and the business entity counterparty agrees, in accordance with the contract or contracts, to exchange all payments made on the foreign currency denominated investment for United States currency at a rate which effectively insulates the investment cash flows against future changes in currency exchange rates during the period the contract or contracts are in effect.

Sec. 221. In addition to investments allowed under sections 219 and 220 of this act, an insurer that is authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction, and that has outstanding insurance, annuity or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction, may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction, and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction, subject to the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act. Investments made in accordance with this section in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer in accordance with this section must not exceed the greater of:

1. The amount the insurer is required by law to invest in the foreign jurisdiction; or

2. One hundred twenty-five percent of the amount if the insurer's reserves, net of reinsurance and other obligations under the contracts.

Sec. 222. In addition to investments allowed under sections 219 and 220 of this act, an insurer that is not authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction but which has outstanding insurance, annuity or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in a foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction, may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction, and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations set forth in sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act. Investments made in accordance with this section in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of sections 200, 201 and 202 of this act if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer in accordance with this section must not exceed 105 percent of the amount of the insurer's reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

Sec. 240. Chapter 686C of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 241 to 246, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 241. 1. At any time within 180 days after the date of an order of liquidation, the Association may elect to succeed to the rights and obligations of the ceding member insurer that relate to policies or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, in each case under any one or more reinsurance contracts entered into by the insolvent insurer and its reinsurers and selected by the Association. Any such assumption must be effective on the date of the order of liquidation. The election must be carried out by the Association sending written notice, return receipt requested, to the affected reinsurers.

2. To facilitate the earliest practicable decision about whether to assume any of the contracts of reinsurance, and to protect the financial position of the estate, the receiver and each reinsurer of the ceding insurer shall make available upon request to the Association as soon as possible after commencement of formal delinquency proceedings:

(a) Copies of in-force contracts of reinsurance and all related files and records relevant to the determination of whether such contracts should be assumed; and

(b) Notices of any defaults under the reinsurance contracts or any known event or condition which with the passage of time could become a default under the reinsurance contracts.

3. The following apply to reinsurance contracts assumed by the Association:

(a) The Association is responsible for all unpaid premiums due pursuant to the reinsurance contracts for periods both before and after the date of the order of liquidation, and is responsible for the performance of all other obligations to be performed after the date of the order of liquidation, in each case which relates to policies or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association. The Association may charge policies or annuities covered in part by the Association, through reasonable allocation methods, the costs for reinsurance in excess of the obligations of the Association and shall provide notice and an accounting of these changes to the liquidator.

(b) The Association may be entitled to any amounts payable by the reinsurer pursuant to the reinsurance contracts with respect to losses or events that occur in periods after the date of the order of liquidation and which relate to policies or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, provided that, upon receipt of any such amounts, the Association is obligated to pay to the beneficiary, under the policy or annuity on account of which the amounts were paid, a portion of the amount equal to the lesser of:

(1) The amount received by the Association; or

(2) The excess of the amount received by the Association over the amount equal to the benefits paid by the Association on account of the policy or annuity, less the retention of the insurer applicable to the loss or event.

(c) Within 30 days after the Association's election, the Association and each reinsurer under the contracts assumed by the Association shall calculate the net balance due to or from the Association pursuant to each reinsurance contract on the election date with respect to policies or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, which calculation must give full credit to all items paid by either the insurer or its receiver or the reinsurer before the election date. The reinsurer shall pay the receiver any amounts due for losses or events before the date of the order of liquidation, subject to any set-off for premiums unpaid for periods before the date, and the Association or reinsurer shall pay any remaining balance due to the other, in each case within 5 days after the completion of the aforementioned calculation. Any disputes over the amounts due to either the Association or the reinsurer must be resolved by arbitration pursuant to the terms of the affected reinsurance contracts or, if the contracts contain no arbitration clause, as otherwise prescribed by law. If the receiver has received any amounts due to the Association under paragraph (d), the receiver shall remit the same to the Association as promptly as practicable.

(d) If the Association or receiver, on the Association's behalf, within 60 days after the election date, pays the unpaid premiums due for periods both before and after the election date that relate to policies or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, the reinsurer is not entitled to terminate the reinsurance contracts for failure to pay premiums insofar as the reinsurance contracts relate to policies or annuities covered, in whole or in part, by the Association, and is not entitled to set off any unpaid amounts due pursuant to the other contracts, or unpaid amounts due from parties other than the Association, against amounts due to the Association.

Sec. 242. 1. During the period after the date of an order of liquidation until the election date, or, if the election date does not occur, until 180 days after the date of the order of liquidation:

(a) Neither the Association nor the reinsurer shall have any rights or obligations under reinsurance contracts that the Association has the right to assume under section 241 of this act, whether for periods before or after the date of the order of liquidation.

(b) The reinsurer, the receiver and the Association shall, to the extent practicable, provide each other data and records as reasonably requested.

2. Once the Association has elected to assume a reinsurance contract, the parties' rights and obligations are governed by the provisions of section 241 of this act.

Sec. 243. If the Association does not elect to assume a reinsurance contract by the election date under section 241 of this act, the Association has no rights or obligations, in each case for periods both before and after the date of the order of liquidation, with respect to the reinsurance contract.

Sec. 244. When policies or annuities, or covered obligations with respect thereto, are transferred to an assuming insurer, reinsurance on the policies or annuities may also be transferred by the Association, in the case of contracts assumed under section 241 of this act, subject to the following:

1. Unless the reinsurer and the assuming insurer agree otherwise, the reinsurance contract transferred must not cover any new policies of insurance or annuities in addition to those transferred.

2. The obligations described in section 241 of this act no longer apply with respect to matters arising after the effective date of the transfer.

3. Notice must be given in writing, return receipt requested, by the transferring party to the affected reinsurer not less than 30 days before the effective date of the transfer.

Sec. 245. The provisions of sections 241 to 246, inclusive, of this act supersede the provisions of any state law or of any affected reinsurance contract that provides for or requires any payment of reinsurance proceeds, on account of losses or events that occur in periods after the date of an order of liquidation, to the receiver of the insolvent insurer or any other person. The receiver shall remain entitled to any amounts payable by the reinsurer pursuant to the reinsurance contracts with respect to losses or events that occur in periods before the date of the order of liquidation, subject to applicable set-off provisions.

Sec. 246. 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 686C.130 to 686C.226, inclusive, nothing in sections 241 to 246, inclusive, of this act shall alter or modify the terms and conditions of any reinsurance contract.

2. Nothing in this section shall:

(a) Abrogate or limit any rights of any reinsurer to claim that it is entitled to rescind a reinsurance contract;

(b) Give a policyholder or beneficiary an independent cause of action against a reinsurer that is not otherwise set forth in the reinsurance contract;

(c) Limit or affect the Association's rights as a creditor of the estate against the assets of the estate; or

(d) Apply to reinsurance agreements covering property or casualty risks.

Sec. 247. NRS 686C.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

686C.030 1. This chapter provides coverage for the policies or contracts described in subsection 4 to persons who are:

(a) Owners of or certificate holders under such policies or contracts, other than structured settlement annuities, and who:

(1) Are residents of this state; or

(2) Are not residents, but only if:

(I) The insurer that issued the policies or contracts is domiciled in this state;

(II) The states in which the persons reside have associations similar to the Association created by this chapter; and

(III) The persons are not eligible for coverage by an association in another state because the insurer was not authorized in the other state at the time specified in that state's law governing guaranty associations; and

(b) Beneficiaries, assignees or payees of the persons covered under paragraph (a), wherever they reside, except for nonresident certificate holders under group policies or contracts.

2. For structured settlement annuities, except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, this chapter provides coverage to a payee under the annuity, or beneficiary of a payee if the payee is deceased, if the payee or beneficiary:

(a) Is a resident of this state, regardless of the residence of the owner of the annuity; or

(b) Is not a resident of this state, but:

(1) The owner of the annuity is a resident of this state, or the issuer of the annuity is domiciled in this state and the state in which the owner resides has an association similar to the Association created by this chapter; and

(2) Neither the payee or beneficiary nor the owner of the annuity is eligible for coverage by the association of the state in which the payee, beneficiary or owner resides.

3. This chapter does not provide coverage for a payee or beneficiary of a structured settlement annuity if the owner of the annuity is a resident of this state and the payee or beneficiary is afforded any coverage by the association of another state. In determining the application of the provisions of this chapter to a situation where a person could be covered by the association of more than one state, this chapter must be construed in conjunction with the laws of other states to result in coverage by only one association.

4. This chapter provides coverage to the persons described in subsections 1 and 2 for direct, nongroup life, health and ~~[~~supplemental~~]~~ annuity policies or contracts, ~~[~~and annuities, and~~]~~ for certificates under direct group policies and contracts, and ~~[~~annuities,~~]~~ for supplemental contracts to any of these, in each case issued by member insurers, except as limited by this chapter.

Sec. 248. NRS 686C.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

686C.090 "Impaired insurer" means ~~[~~an~~]~~ a member insurer which is not an insolvent insurer and is placed under an order of rehabilitation or conservation by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Sec. 249. NRS 686C.095 is hereby amended to read as follows:

686C.095 "Insolvent insurer" means ~~[an]~~ a member insurer which is ordered to liquidate by a court of competent jurisdiction after a finding of insolvency.

Sec. 250. (Deleted by amendment.)

Sec. 251. NRS 686C.110 is hereby amended to read as follows:

686C.110 "Premiums" means amounts received in any calendar year on covered policies or contracts less premiums, considerations and deposits returned thereon, and less dividends and credits for experience thereon. The term does not include:

1. Any amounts received for policies or contracts or for the portions of policies or contracts for which coverage is not provided under NRS 686C.030 except that the assessable premium is not reduced on account of paragraph (c) of subsection 1 of NRS 686C.035 relating to limitations on interest and subsection 2 or paragraph (b) of subsection 1 of NRS 686C.210 relating to limitations with respect to any one life.

2. Premiums for an unallocated annuity contract ~~[.]~~ , except those issued in accordance with the provisions of a governmental retirement plan, established under section 401, 403(b) or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. §§ 401, 403(b) and 457, respectively, or the trustees of such a plan.

3. Premiums that exceed $5,000,000 for several nongroup policies of life insurance owned by one owner, regardless of:

(a) Whether the owner is a natural person, firm, corporation or other person;

(b) Whether any person insured under the policies is an officer, manager, employee or other person; or

(c) The number of policies or contracts held by the owner.

Sec. 252. NRS 686C.120 is hereby amended to read as follows:

686C.120 "Resident" means any person to whom a contractual obligation is owed and who resides in this state on the date of entry of a court order that determines a member insurer to be impaired or insolvent . ~~[, whichever determination is first made.]~~ A person may be a resident of but one state, which in the case of a person other than a natural person is its principal place of business. A citizen of the United States who is a resident of a foreign country or of a territory or insular possession subject to the jurisdiction of the United States which does not have an association similar to the Association created by this chapter shall be deemed to be a resident of the state of domicile of the insurer that issued the policy or contract.

Sec. 253. NRS 686C.240 is hereby amended to read as follows:

686C.240 1. The Board of Directors of the Association shall determine the amount of each assessment in Class A and may, but need not, prorate it. If an assessment is prorated, the Board may provide that any surplus be credited against future assessments in Class B. An assessment which is not prorated must not exceed ~~[$300]~~ $500 for each member insurer for any 1 calendar year.

2. The Board may allocate any assessment in Class B among the accounts according to the premiums or reserves of the impaired or insolvent insurer or any other standard which it considers fair and reasonable under the circumstances.

3. Assessments in Class B against member insurers for each account and subaccount must be in the proportion that the premiums received on business in this State by each assessed member insurer on policies or contracts covered by each account or subaccount for the 3 most recent calendar years for which information is available preceding the year in which the insurer became impaired or insolvent bears to premiums received on business in this State for those calendar years by all assessed member insurers.

4. Assessments for money to meet the requirements of the Association with respect to an impaired or insolvent insurer must not be authorized or called until necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter. Classification of assessments under subsection 2 of NRS 686C.230 and computation of assessments under this section must be made with a reasonable degree of accuracy, recognizing that exact determinations may not always be possible. The Association shall notify each member insurer of its anticipated prorated share of an assessment authorized but not yet called within 180 days after it is authorized.

Sec. 254. Chapter 687A of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

"Assumed claims transaction" includes:

1. A policy obligation that has been assumed by an insolvent insurer, before the entry of a final order of liquidation, through a merger between the insolvent insurer and another entity obligated under the policy.

2. An assumption reinsurance transaction in which:

(a) The insolvent insurer assumed, before the entry of a final order of liquidation, the claim or policy obligations of another insurer or entity obligated under a claim or policy;

(b) The assumption of the claim or policy obligations has been approved by the Commissioner, if such approval is required; and

(c) As a result of the assumption, the claim or policy obligation became the direct obligation of the insolvent insurer through a novation of the claim or policy.

Sec. 255. NRS 687A.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

687A.030 As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 687A.031 to 687A.039, inclusive, and section 254 of this act have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 256. NRS 687A.033 is hereby amended to read as follows:

687A.033 1. "Covered claim" means an unpaid claim or judgment, including a claim for unearned premiums, which arises out of and is within the coverage of an insurance policy to which this chapter applies ~~[issued by an insurer which]~~ if the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer, ~~[if]~~ the policy was issued by the insurer or assumed by the insurer in an assumed claims transaction, and one of the following conditions exists:

(a) The claimant or insured, if a natural person, is a resident of this State at the time of the insured event.

(b) The claimant or insured, if other than a natural person, maintains its principal place of business in this State at the time of the insured event.

(c) The property from which the first party property damage claim arises is permanently located in this State.

(d) The claim is not a covered claim pursuant to the laws of any other state and the premium tax imposed on the insurance policy is payable in this State pursuant to NRS 680B.027.

2. The term does not include:

(a) An amount that is directly or indirectly due a reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool or underwriting association, as recovered by subrogation, indemnity or contribution, or otherwise.

(b) That part of a loss which would not be payable because of a provision for a deductible or a self-insured retention specified in the policy.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, any claim filed with the Association:

(1) More than 18 months after the date of the order of liquidation; or

(2) After the final date set by the court for the filing of claims against the liquidator or receiver of the insolvent insurer,

➥ whichever is earlier. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to a claim for workers' compensation that is reopened pursuant to the provisions of NRS 616C.390 or 616C.392.

(d) A claim filed with the Association for a loss that is incurred but is not reported to the Association before the expiration of the period specified in subparagraph (1) or (2) of paragraph (c).

(e) An obligation to make a supplementary payment for adjustment or attorney's fees and expenses, court costs or interest and bond premiums incurred by the insolvent insurer before the appointment of a liquidator, unless the expenses would also be a valid claim against the insured.

(f) A first party or third party claim brought by or against an insured, if the aggregate net worth of the insured and any affiliate of the insured, as determined on a consolidated basis, is more than $25,000,000 on December 31 of the year immediately preceding the date the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to a claim for workers' compensation. As used in this paragraph, "affiliate" means a person who directly or indirectly owns or controls, is owned or controlled by, or is under common ownership or control with, another person. For the purpose of this definition, the terms "owns," "is owned" and "ownership" mean ownership of an equity interest, or the equivalent thereof, of 10 percent or more.

Sec. 257. NRS 687B.420 is hereby amended to read as follows:

687B.420 ~~[An]~~

1. An insurer shall not cancel, fail to renew or renew with altered terms a policy or contract issued pursuant to chapter 688B, 689A, 689B, 689C, 695A, 695B, 695C, 695D or 695F of NRS unless notice in writing of the proposal is given to the insured at least 60 days before the date the proposed action becomes effective. The notice must include, without limitation, any changes in specific rates by line of coverage.

2. An insurer shall not cancel, fail to renew or renew with altered terms an individual health benefit plan that is not grandfathered pursuant to applicable law unless notice in writing of the proposal is given to the insured at least 30 days before the beginning of the open enrollment period described in NRS 686B.080. The notice must include the specific changes in terms or rates, as applicable.

Sec. 258. NRS 688A.305 is hereby amended to read as follows:

688A.305 1. This section applies to all policies issued on or after January 1, 1987. Any cash surrender value available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary must be in an amount which does not differ by more than two-tenths of 1 percent of the amount of insurance, if the insurance is uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years, from the sum of:

(a) The greater of zero and the basic cash value specified in this section; and

(b) The present value of any existing paid-up additions less the amount of any indebtedness to the ~~[insurer]~~ company under the policy.

2. The basic cash value must be equal to the present value, on the anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits which would have been provided by the policy, excluding any existing paid-up additions and before deduction of any indebtedness to the ~~[insurer,]~~ company, if there had been no default, less the present value of the nonforfeiture factors, ~~[corresponding to premiums which would have fallen due on and after the anniversary.]~~ as defined in NRS 688A.290 to 688A.360, inclusive. The effects on the basic cash value of supplemental life insurance or annuity benefits or of family coverage, as described in this section or NRS 688A.300 or 688A.320, whichever is applicable, must be the same as the effects specified in this section or NRS 688A.300 or 688A.320, on the cash surrender values defined in ~~[that]~~ the applicable section.

3. The nonforfeiture factor for each policy year must be an amount equal to a percentage of the adjusted premium for the policy year, as defined in NRS 688A.320 or 688A.325, whichever is applicable. Except as is required in this subsection, the percentage must be:

(a) The same for each policy year between the second policy anniversary and the later of:

(1) The fifth policy anniversary; and

(2) The first policy anniversary at which there is available under the policy a cash surrender value in an amount, before including any paid-up additions and before deducting any indebtedness, of at least two-tenths of 1 percent of the amount of insurance, if the insurance is uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years; and

(b) Such that no percentage after the later of the two policy anniversaries specified in paragraph (a) may apply to fewer than 5 consecutive policy years.

➥ No basic cash value may be less than the value which would be obtained if the adjusted premiums for the policy, as defined in NRS 688A.320 or 688A.325, whichever is applicable, were substituted for the nonforfeiture factors in the calculation of the basic cash value.

4. All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section for a particular policy must be calculated on the same mortality and interest bases as are used in demonstrating the policy's compliance with NRS 688A.290 to 688A.360, inclusive. The cash surrender values referred to in this section must include any endowment benefits provided for by the policy.

5. Any cash surrender value available other than in the event of default in a premium payment due on a policy anniversary, and the amount of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment must be determined by methods consistent with those specified for determining the analogous minimum amounts in NRS 688A.290, 688A.300, 688A.310, 688A.325 and 688A.350. The amounts of any cash surrender values and of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits granted in connection with additional benefits such as those listed in paragraphs (a) to (f), inclusive, of subsection 4 of NRS 688A.350, must conform with the principles of this section.

Sec. 259. (Deleted by amendment.)

Sec. 259.5. NRS 688A.325 is hereby amended to read as follows:

688A.325 1. This section applies to all policies issued by an insurer on or after the operative date of this section as it relates to that insurer. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, the adjusted premiums for any policy must be calculated on an annual basis and be the uniform percentage of the respective premium specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding amounts payable as extra premiums to cover impairments or special hazards and any uniform annual contract charge or policy fee specified in the policy in a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits. The present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all adjusted premiums must be equal to the sum of:

(a) The value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy;

(b) One percent of the amount of insurance, if the insurance is uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years; and

(c) One hundred twenty-five percent of the nonforfeiture net level premium.

In applying the percentage specified in paragraph (c), no nonforfeiture net level premium may be deemed to exceed 4 percent of the amount of insurance, if the insurance is uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years. The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this section must be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined.

2. The nonforfeiture net level premium must be equal to the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of the guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy divided by the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of an annuity of one per annum payable on the date of issue of the policy and on each anniversary of the policy on which a premium falls due.

3. In the case of policies which cause unscheduled changes in benefits or premiums on a basis guaranteed in the policy, or which provide an option for changes in benefits or premiums other than a change to a new policy, the adjusted premiums and present values must initially be calculated on the assumption that future benefits and premiums do not change from those stipulated at the date of issue of the policy. At the time of any change in the benefits or premiums, the future adjusted premiums, nonforfeiture net level premiums and present values must be recalculated on the assumption that future benefits and premiums do not change from those stipulated by the policy immediately after the change.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, the recalculated future adjusted premiums for any such policy must be a uniform percentage of the respective future premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding amounts payable as extra premiums to cover impairments and special hazards and any uniform annual contract charge or policy fee specified in the policy in a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, which results in the present value, at the time of change to the newly defined benefits or premiums, of all future adjusted premiums being equal to the excess of the sum of the present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy and the additional expense allowance, if any, over the cash surrender value, if any, or present value of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit under the policy.

5. The additional expense allowance, at the time of the change to the newly defined benefits or premiums, must be the sum of:

(a) One percent of the excess, if positive, of the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years after the change, over the average amount of insurance before the change at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years after the most recent previous change, or, if there has been no previous change, the date of issue of the policy; and

(b) One hundred twenty-five percent of the increase, if positive, in the nonforfeiture net level premium.

6. The recalculated nonforfeiture net level premium must be equal to the result obtained by dividing amount "A" by amount "B" where:

(a) "A" equals the sum of:

(1) The nonforfeiture net level premium applicable before the change, multiplied by the present value of an annuity of one per annum payable on each anniversary of the policy on or after the date of the change on which a premium would have fallen due if the change had not occurred; and

(2) The present value of the increase in future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy.

(b) "B" equals the present value of an annuity of one per annum payable on each anniversary of the policy on or after the date of change on which a premium falls due.

7. In the case of a policy issued on a substandard basis which provides reduced graded amounts of insurance so that, in each policy year, the policy has the same tabular mortality cost as an otherwise similar policy issued on the standard basis which provides higher uniform amounts of insurance, adjusted premiums and present values for the substandard policy may be calculated as if it were issued to provide the higher uniform amounts of insurance on the standard basis.

8. All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in NRS 688A.290 to 688A.360, inclusive, must be calculated for all policies of ordinary insurance on the basis of the Commissioners 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table or, at the election of the insurer for any one or more specified plans of life insurance, the Commissioners 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors; all policies of industrial insurance must be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table; and all policies issued in a particular calendar year must be calculated on the basis of a rate of interest not exceeding the nonforfeiture interest rate established in this section for policies issued in that calendar year, except as follows:

(a) At the option of the insurer, calculations for all policies issued in a particular calendar year may be made on the basis of a rate of interest not exceeding the nonforfeiture interest rate, established in this section, for policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year.

(b) Under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, including any paid-up dividend additions, any cash surrender value available, whether or not required by NRS 688A.290, must be calculated on the basis of the mortality table and rate of interest used in determining the amount of the paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and paid-up dividend additions, if any.

(c) An insurer may calculate the amount of any guaranteed paid-up nonforfeiture benefit including any paid-up additions under the policy on the basis of an interest rate which is not lower than that specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values.

(d) In calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioners 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table for policies of ordinary insurance and not more than the Commissioners 1961 Industrial Extended Term Insurance Table for policies of industrial insurance.

(e) For insurance issued on a substandard basis or a special underwriting basis, the calculation of any adjusted premiums and present values may be based on appropriate modifications of the tables specified in this subsection.

(f) ~~[~~Any~~]~~ For policies issued:

(1) Before the operative date of the Valuation Manual, as determined pursuant to section 33.7 of this act, any Commissioners Standard ordinary mortality tables which are adopted after 1980 by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and are approved by a regulation adopted by the Commissioner for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard may be substituted for the Commissioners 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with or without Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors or for the Commissioners 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table.

(2) On or after the operative date of the Valuation Manual, as determined pursuant to section 33.7 of this act, the Valuation Manual must set forth the Commissioners Standard mortality table for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard that may be substituted for the Commissioners 1980 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table with or without Ten-Year Select Mortality Factors or for the Commissioners 1980 Extended Term Insurance Table. If the Commissioner approves by regulation any Commissioners Standard ordinary mortality table adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard for policies issued on or after the operative date of the Valuation Manual, then that minimum nonforfeiture standard supersedes the minimum nonforfeiture standard specified in the Valuation Manual.

(g) ~~[~~Any~~]~~ For policies issued:

(1) Before the operative date of the Valuation Manual, as determined pursuant to section 33.7 of this act, any Commissioners Standard industrial mortality tables which are adopted after 1980 by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and are approved by a regulation adopted by the Commissioner for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard may be substituted for the Commissioners 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table or the Commissioners 1961 Industrial Extended Term Insurance Table.

(2) On or after the operative date of the Valuation Manual, as determined pursuant to section 33.7 of this act, the Valuation Manual must set forth the Commissioners Standard industrial mortality table for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard that may be substituted for the Commissioners 1961 Standard Industrial Mortality Table or the Commissioners 1961 Industrial Extended Term Insurance Table. If the Commissioner approves by regulation any Commissioners Standard industrial mortality table adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard for policies issued on or after the operative date of the Valuation Manual, then that minimum nonforfeiture standard supersedes the minimum nonforfeiture standard specified in the Valuation Manual.

9. ~~[~~The~~]~~ For the purposes of this section:

(a) For policies issued before the operative date of the Valuation Manual, as determined pursuant to section 33.7 of this act, the nonforfeiture interest rate for any policy issued in a particular calendar year must be equal to ~~[~~125~~]~~ the greater of:

(1) One hundred twenty-five percent of the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for the policy as defined in the Standard Valuation Law, rounded to the nearer one-fourth of 1 percent ~~[~~.~~]~~ ; or

(2) Four percent.

(b) For policies issued on or after the operative date of the Valuation Manual, as determined pursuant to section 33.7 of this act, the nonforfeiture interest rate per annum for any policy issued in a particular calendar year must be as specified in the Valuation Manual.

10. Any refiling of nonforfeiture values or their methods of computation for any previously approved policy form which involves only a change in the interest rate or mortality table used to compute nonforfeiture values does not require refiling of any other provisions of that policy form.

11. After July 1, 1983, any insurer may file with the Commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provision of this section after a specified date before January 1, 1989. A date so specified is the operative date of this section for that insurer. If an insurer makes no election, the operative date of this section for that insurer is January 1, 1989.

12. As used in this section, "Valuation Manual" has the meaning ascribed to it in section 32 of this act.

Sec. 260. NRS 688A.390 is hereby amended to read as follows:

688A.390 1. A domestic life insurer may establish one or more separate accounts, and may allocate thereto amounts (including without limitation proceeds applied under optional modes of settlement or under dividend options) to provide for life insurance or annuities (and benefits incidental thereto), payable in fixed or variable amounts or both, subject to the following:

(a) The income, gains and losses, realized or unrealized, from assets allocated to a separate account shall be credited to or charged against the account, without regard to other income, gains or losses of the company.

(b) Except as may be provided with respect to reserves for guaranteed benefits and funds referred to in paragraph (c):

(1) Amounts allocated to any separate account and accumulations thereon may be invested and reinvested without regard to any requirements or limitations prescribed by the laws of this state governing the investments of life insurance companies; and

(2) The investments in such separate account or accounts shall not be taken into account in applying the investment limitations otherwise applicable to the investments of the company.

(c) Except with the approval of the Commissioner and under such conditions as to investments and other matters as the Commissioner may prescribe, which shall recognize the guaranteed nature of the benefits provided, reserves for:

(1) Benefits guaranteed as to dollar amount and duration; and

(2) Funds guaranteed as to principal amount or stated rate of interest, ➥ shall not be maintained in a separate account.

(d) Unless otherwise approved by the Commissioner, assets allocated to a separate account shall be valued at their market value on the date of valuation, or if there is no readily available market, then as provided under the terms of the contract or the rules or other written agreement applicable to such separate account; but unless otherwise approved by the Commissioner, the portion if any of the assets of such separate account equal to the company's reserve liability with regard to the guaranteed benefits and funds referred to in paragraph (c) shall be valued in accordance with the rules otherwise applicable to the company's assets.

(e) Amounts allocated to a separate account in the exercise of the power granted by this section shall be owned by the company, and the company shall not be, nor hold itself out to be, a trustee with respect to such amounts. If and to the extent so provided under the applicable contracts, that portion of the assets of any such separate account equal to the reserves and other contract liabilities with respect to such account shall not be chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other business the company may conduct.

(f) No sale, exchange or other transfer of assets may be made by a company between any of its separate accounts or between any other investment account and one or more of its separate accounts unless, in case of a transfer into a separate account, such transfer is made solely to establish the account pursuant to subsection 6 or to support the operation of the contracts with respect to the separate account to which the transfer is made, and unless such transfer, whether into or from a separate account, is made:

(1) By a transfer of cash; or

(2) By a transfer of securities having a readily determinable market value, provided that such transfer of securities is approved by the Commissioner.

➥ The Commissioner may approve other transfers among such accounts if, in the opinion of the Commissioner, such transfers would not be inequitable.

(b) The effect of the merger or other acquisition of control would be substantially to lessen competition in insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly;

(c) The financial condition of any acquiring party may jeopardize the financial stability of the insurer, or prejudice the interest of its policyholders or the interests of any remaining security holders who are unaffiliated with the acquiring party;

(d) The terms of the offer, request, invitation, agreement or acquisition referred to in subsection 1 of NRS 692C.180 are unfair and unreasonable to the security holders of the insurer;

(e) The plans or proposals which the acquiring party has to liquidate the insurer, sell its assets or consolidate or merge it with any person, or to make any other material change in its business or corporate structure or management, are unfair and unreasonable to policyholders of the insurer or not in the public interest;

(f) The competence, experience and integrity of those persons who would control the operation of the insurer are such that it would not be in the interest of policyholders of the insurer or of the public to permit the merger or other acquisition of control;

(g) If approved, the merger or acquisition of control would likely be harmful or prejudicial to the members of the public who purchase insurance; or

(h) The practices of the applicant in managing claims have evidenced a pattern in which the applicant has knowingly committed, or performed with such frequency as to indicate a general business practice of:

(1) Misrepresentation of pertinent facts or provisions of policies of insurance as they relate to coverages at issue;

(2) Failure to affirm or deny coverage of claims within a reasonable time after written proofs of loss have been furnished; or

(3) Failure to pay claims in a timely manner.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, the public hearing specified in subsection 1 must be held within 30 days after the pre-acquisition statement required by subsection 1 of NRS 692C.180 has been filed, and at least 20 days' notice thereof must be given by the Commissioner to the person filing the statement. Not less than 7 days' notice of the public hearing must be given by the person filing the statement to the insurer and to any other person designated by the Commissioner. The insurer shall give such notice to its security holders. The Commissioner shall make a determination within 60 days after the conclusion of the hearing. If the Commissioner determines that an infusion of capital to restore capital in connection with the change in control is required, the requirement must be met within 60 days after notification is given of the determination. At the hearing, the person filing the statement, the insurer, any person to whom notice of hearing was sent and any other person whose interests may be affected thereby may present evidence, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and offer oral and written arguments and, in connection therewith, may conduct discovery proceedings in the same manner as is presently allowed in the district court of this state. All discovery proceedings must be concluded not later than 3 days before the commencement of the public hearing.

3. The Commissioner may retain at the acquiring party's expense attorneys, actuaries, accountants and other experts not otherwise a part of the staff of the Commissioner as may be reasonably necessary to assist the Commissioner in reviewing the proposed acquisition of control.

4. The period for review by the Commissioner must not exceed the 60 days allowed between the filing of the notice of intent to acquire required pursuant to subsection 5 of NRS 692C.180 and the date of the proposed acquisition if the proposed affiliation or change of control involves a financial institution, or an affiliate of a financial institution, and an insured.

5. When making a determination pursuant to paragraph (b) of subsection 1, the Commissioner:

(a) Shall require the submission of the information specified in subsection 2 of NRS 692C.254;

(b) Shall ~~[~~consider:

~~(1) The standards set forth in the Horizontal Merger Guidelines issued by the United States Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission and in effect at the time the Commissioner receives the statement required pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 692C.180; and~~

~~(2) The~~] not disapprove the merger or other acquisition upon a finding that any of the factors described in subsection ~~[3]~~ 6 of NRS 692C.256 ~~[.]~~ exist; and

(c) May condition approval of the merger or acquisition of control in the manner provided in subsection 4 of NRS 692C.258.

6. If, in connection with a change of control of a domestic insurer, the Commissioner determines that the person who is acquiring control of the domestic insurer must maintain or restore the capital of the domestic insurer in an amount that is required by the laws and regulations of this state, the Commissioner shall make the determination not later than 60 days after the notice of intent to acquire required pursuant to subsection 5 of NRS 692C.180 is filed with the Commissioner.

7. If the proposed merger or other acquisition of control referred to in subsection 1 of NRS 692C.180 requires the approval of the commissioner of more than one state, the public hearing required pursuant to subsection 1 may, upon the request of the person who filed the pre-acquisition statement required pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 692C.180, be consolidated with the hearings required in other states. Not more than 5 days after receiving such a request, the Commissioner shall file with the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC a copy of the pre-acquisition statement that was filed with the Commissioner pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 692C.180 by the person requesting a consolidated hearing. The Commissioner may opt out of a consolidated hearing and, if the Commissioner elects to do so, he or she shall provide notice to the person requesting the consolidated hearing not more than 10 days after receiving the pre-acquisition statement filed pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 692C.180. A consolidated hearing must be public and must be held within the United States before participating commissioners of the states in which the insurers are domiciled. Participating commissioners may hear and receive evidence at the hearing.

Sec. 295. NRS 692C.254 is hereby amended to read as follows:

692C.254 1. An acquisition to which the provisions of NRS 692C.252 apply is subject to an order issued pursuant to NRS 692C.258 unless:

(a) The acquiring person files a notice of acquisition pursuant to this section; and

(b) The waiting period specified in subsection 4 has expired.

2. The Commissioner shall prescribe the form of the notice required pursuant to subsection 1. A notice of acquisition filed pursuant to this section must include:

(a) The information required by the ~~[National Association of Insurance Commissioners]~~ NAIC relating to any market that, pursuant to subsection 5 of

NRS 692C.252, causes the acquisition not to be exempted from the provisions of this section; and

(b) Any other material or information required by the Commissioner to determine whether or not the proposed acquisition, if consummated, would violate the provisions of NRS 692C.256.

3. The information required pursuant to subsection 2 may include the opinion of an economist relating to the competitive effect of the acquisition on the business of insurance in this state if the opinion is accompanied by a summary of the education and experience of the economist and a statement indicating the ability of the economist to provide an informed opinion.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, the waiting period for an acquisition required pursuant to subsection 1 begins on the date the Commissioner receives the notice filed pursuant to subsection 1 and ends on the expiration of 30 days after that date or on the expiration of a shorter period prescribed by the Commissioner, whichever is earlier.

5. Before the expiration of the waiting period specified in subsection 4, the Commissioner may, not more than once, require a person to submit additional information relating to the proposed acquisition. If the Commissioner requires the submission of additional information, the waiting period for the acquisition ends upon the expiration of 30 days after the Commissioner receives the additional information or upon the expiration of a shorter period prescribed by the Commissioner, whichever is earlier.

Sec. 296. NRS 692C.256 is hereby amended to read as follows:

692C.256 1. The Commissioner may issue an order pursuant to NRS 692C.258 relating to an acquisition if:

(a) The effect of the acquisition may substantially lessen competition in any line of insurance in this state or tend to create a monopoly; or

(b) The acquiring person fails to file sufficient materials or information pursuant to NRS 692C.254.

2. In determining whether ~~[to issue an order pursuant to subsection 1,]~~ a proposed acquisition would violate the competitive standard, the Commissioner shall consider the ~~[standards set forth in the Horizontal Merger Guidelines issued by the United States Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission and in effect at the time the Commissioner receives the notice required pursuant to NRS 692C.254.~~

~~3.]~~ following:

(a) Any acquisition to which the provisions of NRS 692C.252 apply involving two or more insurers competing in the same market is prima facie evidence of a violation of the competitive standard if:

(1) The market is highly concentrated and the involved insurers possess the following shares of the market:

Insurer A	Insurer B
4 percent	4 percent or more
10 percent	2 percent or more
15 percent	1 percent or more

(2) The market is not highly concentrated and the involved insurers possess the following shares of the market:

Insurer A	Insurer B
5 percent	5 percent or more
10 percent	4 percent or more
15 percent	3 percent or more
19 percent	1 percent or more

(b) There is a significant trend toward increased concentration when the aggregate market share of any grouping of the largest insurers in the market, from the two largest to the eight largest, has increased by 7 percent or more of the total market over a period of time extending from any base year 5 to 10 years before the acquisition up to the time of the acquisition. Any acquisition to which the provisions of NRS 692C.252 apply, involving two or more insurers competing in the same market is prima facie evidence of a violation of the competitive standard if:

(1) There is a significant trend toward increased concentration in the market;

(2) One of the insurers involved is one of the insurers in a grouping of large insurers showing the requisite increase in the market share; and

(3) Another involved insurer's market share is 2 percent or more.

3. Percentages not shown in the tables in paragraph (a) of subsection 2 must be interpolated proportionately to the percentages that are shown.

4. If more than two insurers are involved in an acquisition, exceeding the total of the two columns in the relevant table of paragraph (a) of subsection 2 is prima facie evidence of a violation of the competitive standard. For the purposes of this subsection, the insurer with the largest market share shall be deemed to be Insurer A.

5. Irrespective of whether an acquisition constitutes a prima facie violation of the competitive standard set forth in this section, the Commissioner, or a party to the acquisition, may establish the presence or absence of the requisite anticompetitive effect based upon other substantial evidence, including, without limitation, market shares, volatility of ranking market leaders, the number of competitors, concentrations, trend concentration in the industry and ease of entry and exit in the market.

6. The Commissioner shall, before issuing an order specified in subsection 1, consider:

(a) If:

(1) The acquisition creates substantial economies of scale or economies in the use of resources that may not be created in any other manner; and

(2) The public benefit received from those economies exceeds the public benefit received from not lessening competition; or

(b) If:

(1) The acquisition substantially increases the availability of insurance; and

(2) The public benefit received by that increase exceeds the public benefit received from not lessening competition.

~~[4.]~~ 7. The public benefits set forth in subparagraph 2 of paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection ~~[3]~~ 6 may be considered together, as applicable, in assessing whether the public benefits received from the acquisition exceed any benefit to competition that would arise from disapproving the acquisition.

~~[5.]~~ 8. The Commissioner has the burden of establishing that the acquisition will result in a violation of the competitive standard set forth in subsection 1.

9. An order may not be entered in accordance with NRS 692C.258 if:

(a) The acquisition will yield substantial economies of scale or economies in resource utilization that cannot be feasibly achieved in any other way, and the public benefits which would arise from such economies exceed the public benefits which would not arise from lessening competition; or

(b) The acquisition will substantially increase the availability of insurance, and the public benefits of the increase exceed the public benefits which would arise from not lessening competition.

10. As used in this section:

(a) "Highly concentrated market" means a market in which the combined market share of the four largest insurers totals 75 percent or more of the total market.

(b) "Insurer" includes any company or group of companies under common management, ownership or control.

(c) "Market" means the relevant product and geographical markets. In the absence of sufficient information to the contrary, the relevant product market is assumed to be the direct written insurance premium for a line of business, such line being that used in the annual statement required to be filed by an insurer doing business in this State and the relevant geographical market is assumed to be this State.

Sec. 297. NRS 692C.260 is hereby amended to read as follows:

692C.260 1. information filed by the insurance company with the insurance regulatory authority of domiciliary jurisdiction.

3. Any person within an insurance holding company system subject to registration shall, upon request by an insurer, provide complete and accurate information to the insurer if the information is reasonably necessary to enable the insurer to comply with the provisions of this section.

(5) All management and service contracts and all cost-sharing arrangements, other than cost allocation arrangements based upon generally accepted accounting principles.

(6) Reinsurance agreements covering all or substantially all of one or more lines of insurance of the ceding company.

(7) Any dividend or other distribution made to a shareholder.

(e) Any other matters concerning transactions between registered insurers and any affiliates as may be included from time to time in any registration forms adopted or approved by the Commissioner.

2. A statement verifying that:

(a) The board of directors of the insurer oversees the corporate governance and internal controls of the insurer; and

(b) Officers or senior management of the insurer have approved, implemented and continue to maintain and monitor the corporate governance and internal controls of the insurer.

3. Financial statements of the insurance holding company system and all affiliates, if requested by the Commissioner. This requirement may be satisfied by providing the most recent statement filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commissioner pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, 15 U.S.C. 78a et seq., by the insurance holding company system or its parent corporation.

Sec. 299. NRS 692C.290 is hereby amended to read as follows:

692C.290 1. Each registered insurer shall keep current the information required to be disclosed in its registration statement by reporting all material changes or additions on forms provided by the Commissioner within 15 days after the end of the month in which it learns of each such change or addition, and not less often than annually, except that, subject to the provisions of NRS 692C.390, each registered insurer shall report all dividends and other distributions to shareholders within 5 business days following the declaration and 10 days before payment.

The principal shall include in the report the material risks within the insurance holding company system that, to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, may pose enterprise risk to the registered insurer.

3. Whenever it appears to the Commissioner that any person has committed a violation of subsection 2 which prevents the full understanding of the enterprise risk to the insurer by affiliates or by the insurance holding company system, the violation may serve as an independent basis for disapproving dividends or distributions and for conducting an examination of the insurer pursuant to NRS 679B.230 to 679B.287, inclusive.

Sec. 300. NRS 692C.330 is hereby amended to read as follows:

692C.330 1. Any person may file with the Commissioner:

(a) A disclaimer of affiliation with any authorized insurer specified in the disclaimer; or

(b) A request for a termination of registration on the basis that the person does not, or will not after taking an action specified in the request for termination, control another person specified in the request.

2. A disclaimer of affiliation or request for a termination of registration specified in subsection 1 may be filed by the authorized insurer or any member of an insurance holding company system. (d) An explanation of why the person who is disclaiming control does not control the person specified in the disclaimer of affiliation or request for a termination of registration.

3. A request for a termination of registration filed pursuant to subsection 1 shall be deemed granted upon filing unless the Commissioner, within 30 days after receipt of the request for a termination of registration, notifies the person, authorized insurer or member of an insurance holding company system that the request is denied.

4. ~~[After a disclaimer of affiliation has been filed, the insurer is relieved of any duty to register or report under NRS 692C.260 to 692C.350, inclusive, which may arise out of the insurer's relationship with the person unless the Commissioner disallows the disclaimer. The Commissioner may disallow the disclaimer only after furnishing all parties in interest with a notice and opportunity to be heard and after making specific findings of fact to support the disallowance.]~~ A disclaimer of affiliation filed pursuant to subsection 1 shall be deemed granted unless the Commissioner, within 30 days after receipt of a complete disclaimer of affiliation, notifies the filing party that the disclaimer of affiliation is disallowed. In the event of disallowance, the disclaiming party may request an administrative hearing, which shall be granted. The disclaiming party is relieved of its duty to register pursuant to NRS 692C.260 to 692C.350, inclusive, if approval of the disclaimer of affiliation has been granted by the Commissioner, or if the disclaimer of affiliation is deemed approved.

The civil penalty may be recovered in a civil action brought by the Commissioner. Any civil penalty paid pursuant to this subsection must be deposited in the State General Fund.

3. The maximum civil penalty that may be imposed pursuant to subsection 2 is $20,000. The Commissioner may reduce the amount of the civil penalty if the insurer demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the payment of the civil penalty would impose a financial hardship on the insurer.

4. Any officer, director or employee of an insurance holding company system who willfully and knowingly subscribes to or makes or causes to be made any false statement, false report or false filing with the intent to deceive the Commissioner in the performance of his or her duties pursuant to NRS 692C.260 to 692C.350, inclusive, is guilty of a category D felony and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130. 2. The Commissioner or any person who receives any documents, materials or other information while acting under the authority of the Commissioner must not be permitted or required to testify in a private civil action concerning any information, document or copy thereof specified in subsection 1.

3. The Commissioner may share or receive any information, document or copy thereof specified in subsection 1 in accordance with NRS 679B.122. (d) Require the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries to consent to intervention by an insurer in any judicial or administrative action in which the NAIC and its affiliates or subsidiaries may be required to disclose confidential information about the insurer shared with the NAIC and its affiliates and subsidiaries.

(b) Any revisions to a plan of operation submitted to the Commissioner pursuant to subsection 3.

Sec. 309. 1. The board of directors of a risk retention group must have a majority of independent directors. If the risk retention group is a reciprocal risk retention group, the attorney-in-fact is required to adhere to the same standards regarding independence of operation and governance as imposed on the risk retention group's board of directors or subscribers advisory committee under this section, and, to the extent permissible by state law, service providers of a reciprocal risk retention group must contract with the risk retention group and not the attorney-in-fact.

2. No director qualifies as independent unless the board of directors affirmatively determines that the director has no material relationship with the risk retention group. Each risk retention group shall disclose these determinations to its domestic regulator at least annually. For the purposes of this subsection, any person that is a direct or indirect owner of or subscriber in the risk retention group, or is an officer, director or employee of such an owner or insured, unless some other position of such officer, director or employee constitutes a material relationship, as contemplated by 15 U.S.C. 3901(a)(4)(E)(ii), is considered to be independent.

3. The term of any material service provider contract with a risk retention group must not exceed 5 years. Any such contract, or its renewal, must require the approval of the majority of the risk retention group's independent directors. The risk retention group's board of directors shall have the right to terminate any service provider, audit or actuarial contracts at any time for cause after providing adequate notice as defined in the contract. The service provider contract is deemed material if the amount to be paid for such contract is greater than, or equal to, 5 percent of the risk retention group's annual gross written premium or 2 percent of its surplus, whichever is greater. No service provider contract which creates a material relationship may be entered into unless the risk retention group has notified the Commissioner, in writing, of its intention to enter into such a transaction at least 30 days before and the Commissioner has not disapproved it within such period. For the purposes of this subsection:

(a) "Lawyer" does not include defense counsel retained by the risk retention group to defend claims, unless the amount of fees paid to such lawyer creates a material relationship.

(b) "Service provider" includes, without limitation, a captive manager, auditor, accountant, actuary, investment advisor, lawyer, managing general underwriter or other party responsible for underwriting, determination of rates, collection of premium, adjusting and settling claims or the preparation of financial statements.

4. The board of directors shall adopt a written policy in the plan of operation as approved by the board that requires the board to:

(a) Ensure that all owners and insureds of the risk retention group receive evidence of ownership interest;

(b) Develop a set of governance standards applicable to the risk retention group;

(c) Oversee the evaluation of the risk retention group's management, including, without limitation, the performance of the captive manager, managing general underwriter or other party or parties responsible for underwriting, determination of rates, collection of premium, adjusting or settling claims or the preparation of financial statements;

(d) Review and approve the amount to be paid for all material service providers; and

(e) At least annually, review and approve:

(1) The risk retention group's goals and objectives relevant to the compensation of officers and service providers;

(2) The officer's and service provider's performance in light of those goals and objectives; and

(3) The continued engagement of the officers and material service providers.

5. A risk retention group must have an audit committee composed of at least three independent board members. A board member that is not independent may participate in the activities of the audit committee if invited by the members, but cannot be a member of such committee.

6. An audit committee established pursuant to subsection 5 must have a written charter that defines the committee's purpose, which must include, without limitation:

(a) Assisting the board of directors with oversight of:

(1) The integrity of financial statements;

(2) Compliance with legal and regulatory requirements; and

(3) The qualifications, independence and performance of the independent auditor and actuary;

(b) Discussing the annual audited financial statements and quarterly financial statements with management;

(c) Discussing the annual audited financial statements and, if advisable, its quarterly financial statements with its independent auditor;

(d) Discussing policies with respect to risk assessment and risk management;

(e) Meeting separately and periodically, either directly or through a designated representative of the committee, with management and independent auditors;

(f) Reviewing with the independent auditor any audit problems or difficulties and management's response;

(g) Setting clear hiring policies of the risk retention group as to the hiring of employees or former employees of the independent auditor;

(h) Requiring the external auditor to rotate the lead, or coordinating, audit partner having primary responsibility for the risk retention group's audit as well as the audit partner responsible for reviewing that audit so that one such person does not perform audit services for more than 5 consecutive fiscal years; and

(i) Reporting regularly to the board of directors.

7. The domestic regulator may waive the requirement to establish an audit committee composed of independent board members if the risk retention group is able to demonstrate to the domestic regulator that it is impracticable to do so and the board of directors itself is otherwise able to accomplish the purposes of the audit committee.

8. The board of directors shall adopt and disclose governance standards which must include:

(a) A process by which the directors are elected by the owners and insureds;

(b) Qualification standards;

(c) Responsibilities;

(d) Access to management and, as necessary and appropriate, independent advisors;

(e) Compensation;

(f) Orientation and continuing education;

(g) The policies and procedures to be followed for management succession; and

(h) The policies and procedures to be followed for annual performance evaluation of the board.

➥ As used in this subsection, "disclose" means making information available through electronic or other means, including, without limitation, posting such information on the risk retention group's Internet website and providing such information to its members and insureds upon request.

9. The board of directors shall adopt and disclose a code of business conduct and ethics for directors, officers and employees which must include, without limitation:

(a) Conflicts of interest;

(b) Matters covered under the corporate opportunities doctrine within the state of domicile;

(c) Confidentiality;

(d) Fair dealing;

(e) Protection and proper use of assets of the risk retention group;

(f) Compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations; and

(g) Requiring the reporting of any illegal or unethical behavior which affects the operation of the risk retention group.

➥ The board shall promptly disclose any waivers of the code for directors or executive officers.

10. The captive manager, president or chief executive officer of a risk retention group shall promptly notify the domestic regulator, in writing, if he or she becomes aware of any material noncompliance with this section.

11. As used in this section:

(a) "Board of directors" or "board" means the governing body of a risk retention group elected by the shareholders or members to establish policy, elect or appoint officers and committees and make other governing decisions.

(b) "Director" means a natural person designated in the articles of the risk retention group, or designated, elected or appointed by any other manner, name or title to act on the board.

(c) "Material relationship," of a person with a risk retention group, includes, without limitation:

(1) The receipt in any one 12-month period of compensation or payment of any other item of value by such person, a member of such person's immediate family or any business with which such person is affiliated from the risk retention group or a consultant or service provider to the risk retention group that is greater than or equal to 5 percent of the risk retention group's gross written premium for such 12-month period or 2 percent of its surplus, whichever is greater, as measured at the end of any fiscal quarter falling in such a 12-month period. Such person or immediate family member of such a person is not considered to be independent until 1 year after his or her compensation or payment from the risk retention group falls below the threshold set forth in this paragraph;

(2) A director or an immediate family member of a director who is affiliated with or employed in a professional capacity by a present or former internal or external auditor of the risk retention group is not considered to be independent until 1 year after the end of the affiliation, employment or auditing relationship.

(3) A director or immediate family member of a director who is employed as an executive officer of another company where any of the risk retention group's present executives serve on that company's board of directors is not considered to be independent until 1 year after the end of such service or the employment relationship.

Assemblywoman Carlton moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblywomen Carlton and Spiegel.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

The amendment addresses wholly owned subsidiaries of a parent company. It amends section 233 to address the Insurance Commissioner's concerns in his omnibus bill.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SPIEGEL:

Because we are considering Senate Bill 67, which includes some amendments to the statutes governing the Nevada Insurance Guaranty Association in NRS [Nevada Revised Statutes] Chapter 687A, I would like to disclose that my business is considering doing some work for the Association. Therefore, I am making this disclosure and abstaining from voting on anything to do with this bill out of an abundance of caution.

Amendment adopted.

Senate Bill No. 95.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 814.

AN ACT relating to property tax; revising provisions governing the publication of property tax rolls; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, a county assessor is required to prepare and publish in a newspaper of general circulation in the county a list of all the taxpayers on the secured roll in the county and the total value of the property on which they pay taxes or print and deliver or mail such a list and valuations to each taxpayer in the county. (NRS 361.300) This bill requires a board of county commissioners to direct the county assessor to publish this list and valuations on an Internet website maintained by the county assessor or the county. This bill also requires a board of county commissioners to direct the county assessor in a county whose population is less than 100,000 (currently counties other than Clark and Washoe Counties) to make not fewer than 10 copies of this list and valuations available to the public free of charge.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 361.300 is hereby amended to read as follows:

361.300 1. On or before January 1 of each year, the county assessor shall transmit to the county clerk, post at the front door of the courthouse and publish in a newspaper published in the county a notice to the effect that the secured tax roll is completed and open for inspection by interested persons of the county. A notice issued pursuant to this subsection must include a statement that the secured tax roll is available for inspection as specified in paragraph (b) of subsection 3. The statement published in the newspaper must be displayed in the format used for advertisements and printed in at least 10-point bold type or font.

2. If the county assessor fails to complete the assessment roll in the manner and at the time specified in this section, the board of county commissioners shall not allow the county assessor a salary or other compensation for any day after January 1 during which the roll is not completed, unless excused by the board of county commissioners.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, each board of county commissioners shall by resolution, before December 1 of any fiscal year in which assessment is made, require the county assessor to prepare a list of all the taxpayers on the secured roll in the county and the total valuation of property on which they severally pay taxes and direct the county assessor:

(a) To cause , on or before January 1 of the fiscal year in which assessment is made, such list and valuations to be:

(1) Printed and delivered by the county assessor or mailed by him or her ~~[on or before January 1 of the fiscal year in which assessment is made]~~ to each taxpayer in the county; ~~[or]~~

(2) Published once ~~[on or before January 1 of the fiscal year in which assessment is made]~~ in a newspaper of general circulation in the county; or

2. Section 1.5 of this act becomes effective on July 1, 2017.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARMSTRONG:

Amendment 814 to Senate Bill 95 requires a county who publishes its property tax roll on the Internet instead of in a newspaper to provide notice of that publication in a newspaper of general circulation four times each year. The notice must additionally contain other information relating to the assessment and taxation of property, as specified in the amendment.

The amendment specifies that this requirement to publish the notice in a newspaper four times per year exists only until July 1, 2017. After that date, a county that publishes its property tax roll on the Internet must only provide notice of that publication in a newspaper of general circulation on or before January 1, rather than four times per year.

(Chapters 686C, 689A, 689B, 689C, 695A, 695B, 695C and 695D of NRS) This bill defines a "stand-alone dental benefit" to mean any policy of insurance which only pays for or reimburses the costs of certain dental care and which is ~~[not embedded in or included as part of]~~ offered or issued separately from any other policy of health insurance. This bill also requires that for an insurance claim for a procedure provided by ~~[a dentist]~~ an oral and maxillofacial surgeon which may be covered by both the patient's stand-alone dental benefit and policy of health insurance, the stand-alone dental benefit must provide primary coverage. This bill also prohibits a health insurer from ~~[: (1)]~~ denying certain claims for which it has liability on the basis that another health insurer has liability . ~~[; or (2) requiring a separate claim be filed with the other health insurer.]~~ Finally, this bill ~~[requires]~~ authorizes the Commissioner of Insurance to adopt regulations necessary to carry out the provisions of this bill.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 686A of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. The following provisions apply to a claim for payment submitted for services provided by ~~[a dentist]~~ an oral and maxillofacial surgeon which may be covered, in whole or in part, by a stand-alone dental benefit and a policy of health insurance:

(a) If a claimant is covered by a stand-alone dental benefit and a policy of health insurance, the stand-alone dental benefit is the primary policy and the claim must be first submitted to the health insurer that issued the stand-alone dental benefit. The issuer of the secondary policy may not reduce benefits based upon payments under the primary policy, except to avoid overpayment to the ~~[dentist.]~~ oral and maxillofacial surgeon.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (a), a health insurer may not deny a claim for which it has liability solely on the basis that another health insurer has liability to pay the claim.

~~[(c) A health insurer with partial liability for paying a claim may not require the claimant to file a separate claim directly with a secondary health insurer.]~~

2. The Commissioner ~~[shall]~~ may adopt regulations necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

3. As used in this section:

(a) ~~[“Health insurer” means a person who is the holder of a certificate of authority issued pursuant to chapter 680A, 695C, 695D or 695F of NRS or a corporation that is the holder of a certificate of authority issued pursuant to chapter 695B of NRS.]~~ “Oral and maxillofacial surgeon” means a dentist who has been issued a specialist’s license to practice oral and maxillofacial surgery pursuant to NRS 631.250 and who provides any of the services described in paragraph (c) of subsection 1 of NRS 631.215.

(b) “Stand-alone dental benefit” means any policy which only pays for or reimburses any part of the cost of dental care, as defined in NRS 695D.030 ~~[. Sec. 3.5. ~~[The Commissioner of Insurance shall, on or before January 1, 2016, adopt regulations to carry out the amendatory provisions of this act.]~~ (Deleted by amendment.)

Sec. 4. This act becomes effective:

1. Upon passage and approval for the purpose of adopting any regulations and performing any other preparatory administrative tasks necessary to carry out the provisions of this act; and

2. On January 1, 2016, for all other purposes.

Remarks by Assemblyman Kirner.

ASSEMBLYMAN KIRNER:

Amendment 760 changes the procedures required to be covered to those performed by oral and maxillofacial surgeons. It also specifies that a stand-alone dental benefit is one that is offered or

Amendment No. 846.

AN ACT relating to child welfare; revising requirements concerning service of a summons to a hearing on a petition that a child is in need of protection; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires a court to hold an adjudicatory hearing within 30 days of the filing of a petition that a child who was removed from his or her home is in need of protection. (NRS 432B.530) As a result of such a hearing, the court may return the child to the custody of his or her parent or guardian or place the child in the temporary custody of a relative, a fictive kin, another suitable person or certain public or private agencies or institutions. (NRS 432B.550) Before such a hearing, the court is required to issue a summons to the person who has custody or control of the child. If this person is not the parent or guardian of the child, the summons must also be issued to the parent or guardian of the child. If the person summoned resides in this State, the summons must be served personally. If the person cannot be found in this State or does not reside in this State, the summons must be served by registered or certified mail. If the child is a newborn and was delivered to a provider of emergency services and the location of the parent is unknown, the summons must be served by publication. (NRS 432B.520) Except when a newborn child is delivered to a provider of emergency services and the location of the parent is unknown, this bill requires the summons to be served personally ~~[,]~~ or by registered or certified mail , ~~[or by posting a written notice on the door of the residence of the person served,]~~ regardless of whether the person resides within or outside of this State.

If the person so summoned is other than a parent or guardian of the child, then the parent or guardian, or both, must also be notified by a similar summons of the pendency of the hearing and of the time and place appointed.

2. Summons may be issued requiring the appearance of any other person whose presence, in the opinion of the court, is necessary.

3. Each summons must include notice of the right of parties to counsel at the adjudicatory hearing. A copy of the petition must be attached to each summons.

~~(c) Child~~ ~~Posting a written notice on the door of the residence of the person.]~~

5. If the child was delivered to a provider of emergency services pursuant to NRS 432B.630 and the location of the parent is unknown, the summons must be served on the parent by publication at least once a week for 3 consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the county and if no such newspaper is published, then a newspaper published in this state that has a general circulation in the county. The failure of the parent to appear in the action after the service of summons on the parent pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to constitute a waiver by the parent of any further notice of the proceedings that would otherwise be required pursuant to this chapter.

~~[5.]~~ 6. If it appears that the child is in such condition or surroundings that the welfare of the child requires that custody be immediately assumed by the court, the court may order, by endorsement upon the summons, that the person serving it shall at once deliver the child to an agency which provides child welfare services in whose custody the child must remain until the further order of the court.

~~[6.]~~ 7. If the summons cannot be served or the person who has custody or control of the child fails to obey it, or:

2. An agency acting as the custodian of the child shall, before any hearing for review of the placement of a child, submit a report to the court, or to the panel if it has been designated to review the matter, which includes:

If the child was delivered to a provider of emergency services pursuant to NRS 432B.630 and the parent has not appeared in the action, the report need not be sent to that parent.

4. After a plan for visitation between a child and the siblings of the child submitted pursuant to subparagraph (4) of paragraph (b) of subsection 2 has been approved by the court, the agency which provides child welfare services must request the court to issue an order requiring the visitation set forth in the plan for visitation. If a person refuses to comply with or disobeys an order issued pursuant to this subsection, the person may be punished as for a contempt of court.

5. The court or the panel shall hold a hearing to review the placement, unless the parent, guardian or custodian files a motion with the court to dispense with the hearing. If the motion is granted, the court or panel may make its determination from any report, statement or other information submitted to it.

8. The court or panel may require the presence of the child at the hearing and shall provide to each person to whom notice was given pursuant to subsection 6 a right to be heard at the hearing.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce and Labor:

Amendment No. 723.

AN ACT relating to occupational diseases; revising the circumstances under which certain occupational diseases are conclusively presumed to arise out of and in the course of employment; limiting the compensation to which a person is entitled to receive for certain occupational diseases; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides that certain diseases of the lungs or heart contracted by certain police officers, firefighters or other employees are, for purposes of industrial insurance claims, conclusively presumed to be occupationally related if the employee has served a certain number of years in the profession before contracting the disease. (NRS 617.455, 617.457) Sections 2 and 3 of this bill limit the period in which certain employees may claim these presumptions. Sections 2 and 3 also provide that a person who files a claim for the disease after he or she retires from employment as a police officer, firefighter or arson investigator is not entitled to receive any compensation for that disease other than medical benefits. Sections 2.5 and 3.5 of this bill prevent certain persons who use tobacco products or fail to follow a physician's prescribed plan of care from claiming these presumptions.

Amendment No. 854.

AN ACT relating to public safety; revising provisions governing justifiable homicide; authorizing the possession of a firearm in a motor vehicle that is on the property of certain educational entities or child care facilities in certain circumstances; prohibiting a person convicted in this State or any other state of a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence from owning or having in his or her possession or under his or her custody or control any firearm; authorizing a person who holds a permit to carry a concealed firearm to do so on the property of the Nevada System of Higher Education under certain circumstances; requiring the Department of Public Safety to make certain determinations before issuing a list of states for purposes of reciprocity; prohibiting a person against whom an extended order for protection against domestic violence is issued from subsequently purchasing or otherwise acquiring any firearm during the period the extended order is in effect; revising provisions governing civil liability in actions involving the use of force; expanding the rights and powers reserved for the Legislature relating to the regulation of firearms and ammunition; requiring the governing bodies of certain political subdivisions of this State to repeal certain ordinances and regulations; authorizing a person adversely affected by the enforcement of such an ordinance or regulation to seek declarative and injunctive relief and damages; providing that such a person is entitled to certain damages; deleting certain provisions relating to the registration of firearms capable of being concealed; revising the applicability of certain provisions pertaining to the regulation of firearms by local governments; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides that justifiable homicide is the killing of a human being in necessary self-defense, or in defense of habitation, property or person against a person who manifestly intends or endeavors to commit a felony or to enter the habitation of another for the purpose of assaulting a person who is in the habitation. (NRS 200.120) Section 1 of this bill revises the definition of "justifiable homicide" to include specifically the killing of a person in defense of an occupied motor vehicle or in defense against any person who manifestly intends and endeavors to enter the occupied motor vehicle of another for the purpose of assaulting a person who is in the motor vehicle.

Existing law also provides that a killing is justifiable if the circumstances were sufficient to excite the fears of a reasonable person and the person killing really acted under the influence of those fears and not in a spirit of revenge. (NRS 200.130) Section 2 of this bill establishes a rebuttable presumption that a killing is justifiable under the standard set forth in NRS 200.130 if the person killing: (1) knew or reasonably believed that the person who was killed was entering unlawfully and with force, or attempting to enter unlawfully and with force, the habitation or property of another; (2) knew or reasonably believed that the person who was killed was committing or attempting to commit a crime of violence; and (3) did not provoke the person who was killed.

Existing law prohibits a person from carrying a concealed firearm while on the property of the Nevada System of Higher Education, a private or public school or a child care facility, unless the person holds a permit to carry a concealed firearm and has written permission from the president of a branch or facility of the System, the principal of the school or the person designated by the child care facility to give permission to carry or possess a weapon to carry the concealed firearm. (NRS 202.265, 202.3673) Sections 2.5 and 3.5 of this bill authorize a person who holds such a permit to carry a concealed firearm while on the property of the System.

Existing law generally makes it a gross misdemeanor to carry or possess certain weapons while on the property of the Nevada System of Higher Education, a private or public school or a child care facility, or while in a vehicle of a private or public school or a child care facility except in certain circumstances. (NRS 202.265) Section 2.5 of this bill adds an exception so that a person who holds a permit to carry a concealed firearm is not prohibited from possessing a firearm capable of being concealed upon the person on the property of the Nevada System of Higher Education, a private or public school or a child care facility, if the firearm remains out of public view and if the firearm is: (1) inside a motor vehicle that is occupied or, if the motor vehicle is unoccupied, the motor vehicle is locked; or (2) stored in a locked container that is affixed securely to the motor vehicle.

Existing law prohibits certain persons from owning or having in their possession or under their custody or control any firearm. A person who violates such a provision is guilty of a category B felony. (NRS 202.360) Section 3 of this bill adds to such a list of persons a person who has been convicted in this State or any other state of a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence as defined in federal law.

Existing law authorizes a court to issue an extended order for protection against domestic violence. (NRS 33.030) Section 5 of this bill provides that if such an extended order is issued, the adverse party is prohibited from purchasing or otherwise acquiring any firearm during the period that the extended order is in effect. A person who violates such a provision is guilty of a category B felony.

Existing law provides that in a civil action brought by or on behalf of a person against whom force which is intended or likely to cause death or bodily injury was used: (1) there is a presumption that the person who used such force had a reasonable fear of imminent death or bodily injury to himself or herself or another person if the person against whom such force was used was committing burglary or invasion of the home; and (2) that presumption must be overcome by clear and convincing evidence to the contrary for the civil action to be maintained. (NRS 41.095) Section 7 of this bill extends that presumption to circumstances in which the person who used such force was in his or her motor vehicle and the other person was committing grand larceny of the motor vehicle with the use or threatened use of a deadly weapon. Section 7 also enacts a provision, based upon Texas law, which provides that a person is immune to civil liability for using force which is intended or likely to cause death or bodily injury if the person was justified in using such force under the applicable provisions of Nevada criminal law. (Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code 83.001)

Existing law requires the Department of Public Safety to prepare annually a list of states that have: (1) requirements for the issuance of a permit to carry a concealed firearm that are substantially similar to or more stringent than the requirements set forth in this State; and (2) an electronic database which identifies each individual who possesses a valid permit to carry a concealed firearm by that state and which a law enforcement officer in this State may access at all times. Additionally, a state may only be included in the list if the Nevada Sheriffs' and Chiefs' Association agrees with the Department's inclusion of the state. (NRS 202.3689) Existing law also authorizes a person who possesses a permit to carry a concealed firearm that was issued by a state included in the list to carry a concealed firearm in this State in accordance with the laws of this State unless the person: (1) becomes a resident of this State; and (2) has not been issued a permit from the sheriff of the county in which he or she resides within 60 days after becoming a resident of this State. (NRS 202.3688) Section 4.5 of this bill : (1) requires the Department to determine whether each state requires a person to complete any training, class or program for purposes of preparing the list ; and (2) removes the requirement that the Nevada Sheriffs' and Chiefs' Association must agree with the Department's inclusion of a state in the list.

Existing law provides that, except as otherwise provided by specific statute, the Legislature reserves for itself such rights and powers as are necessary to regulate the transfer, sale, purchase, possession, ownership, transportation, registration and licensing of firearms and ammunition in this State, and further provides that no county, city or town may infringe upon those rights and powers. (NRS 244.364, 268.418, 269.222) Sections 8-10 of this bill expand such rights and powers of the Legislature to include those necessary to: (1) regulate the carrying and storage of firearms, firearm accessories and ammunition; and (2) define all such terms. Sections 8-10 provide that certain ordinances or regulations which are inconsistent with these rights and powers of the Legislature are null and void and require the governing bodies of certain political subdivisions of this State to repeal any such ordinance or regulation. Sections 8-10 also authorize any person who is adversely affected by the enforcement of any such ordinance or regulation on or after ~~[October 1, 2015,]~~ the effective date of this bill to file suit in the appropriate court for declarative and injunctive relief and damages. Such a person is entitled to certain damages depending on whether and when the relevant governing body of a political subdivision repeals such an ordinance or a regulation.

Existing law also requires certain political subdivisions of this State in a county whose population is 700,000 or more (currently Clark County), which adopted ordinances or regulations before June 13, 1989, that require the registration of firearms capable of being concealed, to make certain amendments to such registration provisions. (NRS 244.364, 268.418, 269.222) Sections 8-10 additionally delete the provisions requiring certain political subdivisions of this State to make such amendments.

Assembly Bill No. 147 of the 1989 Legislative Session (A.B. 147) reserved for the Legislature the rights and powers necessary to regulate the transfer, sale, purchase, possession, ownership, transportation, registration and licensing of firearms and ammunition in this State. (Chapter 308, Statutes of Nevada 1989, p. 652) However, section 5 of A.B. 147 provided that the preemptive effect of the bill applied only to ordinances or regulations adopted by certain political subdivisions on or after June 13, 1989. Section 11 of this bill amends section 5 of A.B. 147 to include and preempt ordinances or regulations adopted by certain political subdivisions before June 13, 1989.

AN ACT relating to employment; revising provisions governing the payment of ~~[minimum wage and]~~ compensation for overtime; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

~~[Existing law requires the Labor Commissioner, in accordance with federal law, to establish by regulation the minimum wage which may be paid to an employee in private employment in this State. (NRS 608.250) Section 1 of this bill requires the Labor Commissioner, in adopting those regulations, to ensure that the minimum wage for the employee is $9 per hour, if the employer of the employee does not offer health insurance for the employee in accordance with regulations adopted by the Labor Commissioner.]~~

The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 requires that compensation for overtime be paid to certain employees for hours worked in excess of 40 hours in any week of work. (29 U.S.C. 207) Under existing Nevada law, certain employees, including certain classified employees of this State, certain employees of contractors working on public works projects and certain other employees of private employers, are entitled to compensation for overtime at a rate of 1 1/2 times an employee's regular wage rate for any hours worked in excess of 8 hours in any workday or in excess of 40 hours in any week of work. (NRS 284.180, 338.020, 608.018) Sections 2-4 of this bill remove the provisions which require payment of compensation for overtime for hours

284.180 1. The Legislature declares that since uniform salary and wage rates and classifications are necessary for an effective and efficient personnel system, the pay plan must set the official rates applicable to all positions in the classified service, but the establishment of the pay plan in no way limits the authority of the Legislature relative to budgeted appropriations for salary and wage expenditures.

2. Credit for overtime work directed or approved by the head of an agency or the representative of the head of the agency must be earned at the rate of time and one-half, except for those employees described in NRS 284.148.

(a) Twenty-four hours in one scheduled shift; or

(b) Fifty-three hours average per week during one work period for those hours worked or on paid leave.

➥ The appointing authority shall designate annually the length of the work period to be used in determining the work schedules for such firefighters. In addition to the regular amount paid such a firefighter for the deemed average of 56 hours per week, the firefighter is entitled to payment for the hours which comprise the difference between the 56-hour average and the overtime threshold of 53 hours average at a rate which will result in the equivalent of overtime payment for those hours.

The Budget Division shall report quarterly to the State Board of Examiners the amount of overtime worked in the quarter within the various agencies of the State.

~~[12.]~~ 11. A state employee is entitled to his or her normal rate of pay for working on a legal holiday unless the employee is entitled to payment for overtime pursuant to this section and the regulations adopted pursuant thereto. This payment is in addition to any payment provided for by regulation for a legal holiday.

Sec. 4. NRS 338.020 is hereby amended to read as follows:

338.020 1. Every contract to which a public body of this State is a party, requiring the employment of skilled mechanics, skilled workers, semiskilled mechanics, semiskilled workers or unskilled labor in the performance of public work, must contain in express terms the hourly and daily rate of wages to be paid each of the classes of mechanics and workers. The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce and Labor:

Amendment No. 759.

AN ACT relating to industrial insurance; revising the threshold cost of a construction project at which a private company, public entity or utility may establish a consolidated insurance program; requiring the owner or principal contractor of a construction project that is covered by a consolidated insurance program to provide access to the site of the construction project and to documents relating to claims under certain circumstances; revising certain requirements for the issuance of a policy or contract of insurance providing coverage for a consolidated insurance program; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law allows a private company, public entity or utility to establish and administer or to require participation in a consolidated insurance program for industrial insurance on a construction project which meets a minimum threshold amount established by the Commissioner of Insurance, which must initially be set at $150,000,000. (NRS 616B.710) Section 1 of this bill fixes this threshold cost for a construction project or series of projects at $50,000,000.

~~[Existing law requires a private company, public entity or utility that enters into a contract with a private carrier for the provision of industrial insurance coverage for a consolidated insurance program to file a copy of the contract with the Commissioner. Section 2 of this bill deletes that requirement for a private company.]~~

Existing law requires that each consolidated insurance program have a designated administrator of claims. Existing law also prohibits the administrator from serving as administrator for more than one consolidated insurance program. (NRS 616B.727) Section 3 of this bill removes this prohibition, allowing an administrator of claims to serve as the administrator of claims for the consolidated insurance program of more than one construction project. Section 3 also requires that any policy or contract of insurance required by a consolidated insurance program be issued by an insurer meeting certain requirements.

Section 2.5 of this bill requires the owner or primary contractor of a construction project to allow the contractor, employer or subcontractor who employs an employee who is engaged in the construction project to have access to the site of the construction project and to any documents relating to claims filed by or on behalf of their injured workers.

(a) Establishes and administers a consolidated insurance program; and

(b) Pursuant to the contract for the construction of the project ~~[,]~~ or series of projects, owes a periodic payment to a contractor or subcontractor whose employees are covered under the consolidated insurance program,

➥ the private company, public entity or utility shall not withhold such a periodic payment on the basis that the contractor or subcontractor has not signed an employer's report of industrial injury or occupational disease as required pursuant to NRS 616C.045.

3. ~~[~~The Commissioner shall establish the threshold amount that the estimated total cost of a construction project must be equal to or greater than before a consolidated insurance program may be established and administered for that project pursuant to this section. The base amount for the threshold must initially be $150,000,000 and thereafter must be an amount equal to $150,000,000 as adjusted by the Commissioner on June 30 of each year to reflect the present value of that amount with respect to the construction cost index.

~~4.~~~~]~~ As used in this section:

(a) ~~[~~"Construction cost index" means the construction cost index published by the Engineering News-Record as a measure of inflation.

~~(b)~~~~]~~ "Estimated total cost" means the estimated cost to complete all parts of a construction project ~~[,]~~ or series of projects, including, without limitation, the cost of:

(1) Designing the project ~~[,]~~ or series of projects;

(2) Acquiring the real property on which the project or series of projects will be constructed;

Amendment No. 865.

AN ACT relating to employment; establishing a conclusive presumption that a person is an independent contractor if certain conditions are met; excluding the relationship between a principal and an independent contractor from certain provisions governing the payment of minimum wage to an employee; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 16 of Article 15 of the Nevada Constitution defines the term "employee" and requires each employer to pay a certain minimum wage to each employee. Existing law imposes certain additional requirements relating to compensation, wages and hours of employees. (Chapter 608 of NRS) Section 1 of this bill establishes a conclusive presumption that a person is an independent contractor, rather than an employee, if certain conditions are met. Section 5 of this bill excludes the relationship between a principal and an independent contractor from those relationships that constitute employment relationships for the purpose of requiring the payment of a minimum wage. Section 7 of this bill applies the provisions of this bill to any action or proceeding to recover unpaid wages pursuant to a requirement to pay a minimum wage in which a final decision has not been rendered as of the effective date of this bill.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 608 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. For the purposes of this chapter, a person is conclusively presumed to be an independent contractor if:

(a) Unless the person is a foreign national who is legally present in the United States, the person possesses or has applied for an employer identification number or social security number or has filed an income tax return for a business or earnings from self-employment with the Internal Revenue Service in the previous year;

(b) The person is required by the contract with the principal to hold any necessary state or local business license and to maintain any necessary occupational license, insurance or bonding ; [that may be required by law

~~for the trade or profession in which the person engages pursuant to the contract;]~~ and

(c) The person satisfies three or more of the following criteria:

(1) Notwithstanding the exercise of any control necessary to comply with any statutory, regulatory or contractual obligations, the person has control and discretion over the means and manner of the performance of any work and the result of the work, rather than the means or manner by which the work is performed, is the primary element bargained for by the principal in the contract.

(3) The person is not required to work exclusively for one principal unless:

(I) A law, regulation or ordinance prohibits the person from providing services to more than one principal; or

(II) The person has entered into a written contract to provide services to only one principal for a limited period.

(4) The person is free to hire employees to assist with the work.

➥ The determination of whether an investment of capital is substantial for the purpose of this ~~[paragraph]~~ subparagraph must be made on the basis of the amount of income the person receives , [and] the equipment commonly used and the expenses commonly incurred in the trade or profession in which the person engages.

2. The fact that a person is not conclusively presumed to be an independent contractor for failure to satisfy three or more of the criteria set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1 does not automatically create a presumption that the person is an employee.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 783.

AN ACT relating to public health; providing for the expenditure of certain application fees; prohibiting certain expenditures for new construction by or on behalf of a health facility in certain less populated areas without the approval of the Director of the Department of Health and Human Services; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes the Department of Health and Human Services to collect an application fee from persons who apply for approval of certain projects and services. (NRS 439A.081) Section 1 of this bill provides for the deposit of those fees and requires those fees to be used to administer the state administrative program relating to health planning and development. Section 1 also provides that the fees revert to the State General Fund if the money received from the fees collected is not spent 2 fiscal years after the fees were originally paid.

Existing law prohibits a person from spending more than $2,000,000 or an amount specified by the Department for new construction by or on behalf of a health facility in a county whose population is less than 100,000 (currently all counties other than Clark and Washoe Counties) without the approval of the Director of the Department. This requirement does not apply to construction for purposes unrelated to the provision of health services, renovation and maintenance, a project approved by the Legislature or the construction of a hospital in certain large unincorporated towns that do not already have a hospital. (NRS 439A.100) A person who violates this prohibition is subject to a civil penalty and the rejection of an application for a license to operate a medical facility or the suspension or revocation of such a license. (NRS 439A.310, 449.080, 449.087, 449.089, 449.160) Section 2 of this bill ~~[deletes the restriction concerning counties whose population is less than 100,000 and]~~ also prohibits any such expenditure, without the approval of the Director, for new construction by or on behalf of a health facility ~~[unless the construction]~~ that will occur in an incorporated city or unincorporated town whose population is ~~[60,000 or more (currently the Cities of Henderson, Las Vegas, North Las Vegas, Reno and Sparks) or meets one of the other currently listed exceptions. Section 2 also deletes the exception from this requirement for the construction of a hospital in certain large unincorporated towns that do not have a hospital.]~~ less than 25,000 that is located in a county whose population is 100,000 or more. Finally, section 2 requires the Director to consider certain criteria when deciding whether to approve a project.

Section 1. NRS 439A.081 is hereby amended to read as follows:

4. Any application fees collected pursuant to subsection 3 are not refundable and must be deposited in the State Treasury and accounted for separately in the State General Fund. Any interest and income earned on the money in the account, after deducting any applicable charges, must be credited to the account. Any money remaining in the account at the end of a fiscal year does not revert to the State General Fund and the balance in the account must be carried forward to the next fiscal year. Any money remaining in the account that is not committed for expenditure after 2 fiscal years following the date on which the money is paid as a fee reverts to the State General Fund. All claims against the account must be paid as other claims against the State are paid. The money in the account must be used to pay the costs of administering the state administrative program.

5. Section 11 also requires such a third party to maintain a website or toll-free telephone number for dentists to obtain contact information for the person used by the third party to reimburse the dentist for covered services. Section 11 also prohibits the assignment or sale of a contract which includes a dentist that would hinder the ability of the dentist to manage his or her practice. Sections 1 and 2 of this bill apply similar provisions to an insurer who offers a policy of individual health insurance. Sections 4 and 5 of this bill apply similar provisions to an insurer who offers a policy of group health insurance. Sections 6 and 7 of this bill apply similar provisions to a nonprofit corporation for dental service. Sections 8 and 9 of this bill apply similar provisions to a health maintenance organization.]~~ offer, market, sell or engage in business as a medical discount plan in this State must be registered with the Commissioner of Insurance. Remarks by Assemblyman Hickey.

ASSEMBLYMAN HICKEY:

Amendment 841 to Senate Bill 341 requires a medical discount plan that contracts directly with a dentist to notify the dentist whether the contract may be assigned to a third party and maintain a toll-free telephone number for the dentist to obtain information about the medical discount plan. The amendment also allows a contract between a medical discount plan and a dentist to be assigned only if expressly authorized by the contract; a dentist must be notified of inclusion in any contract that has been assigned.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 1 of this bill requires the State Barbers' Health and Sanitation Board to oversee the examination for a license as an instructor of the practice of barbering but prohibits the Board from administering any aspect of the examination. Section 1 also provides that the examination for a license as an instructor must include a practical demonstration and a written test. Sections 2.5, 5.5 and 6 of this bill require, on or after July 1, 2017, an applicant for a license to operate a barber school to submit information to the Board demonstrating that the barber school will be owned and operated by at least two instructors.

Existing law requires an applicant for a license as an instructor who fails to pass the examination for licensure to complete not more than 250 hours of further study before he or she is authorized to retake the examination. (NRS 643.110) Section 2 of this bill ~~[provides that such]~~ authorizes an applicant ~~[may fail]~~ who fails to pass the examination ~~[two times before he or~~

Section 2 further provides that such an applicant: (1) is not required to complete further study in a barber school as a prerequisite to retaking the examination if the applicant retakes the examination not later than 1 year after taking the initial examination; and (2) is required to complete 250 hours of further study ~~[.]~~ in a barber school before retaking the examination if the applicant retakes the examination later than 1 year after taking the initial examination.

Section 4 of this bill: (1) revises the ratio of students enrolled in a barber school to instructors required to be on the premises of the barber school; and (2) requires a barber school to have at least one barber's chair for each student present during instruction in the barber school.

SUMMARY—Revises provisions ~~[governing domestic relations.]~~ relating to marriage. (BDR 11-530)

AN ACT relating to ~~[domestic relations;]~~ marriage; revising provisions relating to fees charged and collected for the issuance of a marriage license; authorizing a board of county commissioners to adopt an ordinance imposing an additional fee for the issuance of a marriage license which must be used to promote marriage tourism in the county; authorizing a county to provide a space at certain county clerk offices for the display of informational brochures of certain persons who perform weddings; ~~[revising provisions relating to the~~ ~~division of community property and liabilities in certain domestic relations actions;]~~ and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 1 of this bill authorizes a county whose population is 100,000 or more (currently Clark and Washoe Counties) to provide a space outside each office and branch office of the county clerk in which a commercial wedding chapel, a licensed business which operates principally for the performance of weddings in the county or a church or religious organization incorporated, organized or established in this State may place informational brochures for display.

~~[Under existing law, in granting a divorce, a court must, to the extent practicable, make an equal disposition of the community property of the parties, unless the action is contrary to a valid premarital agreement between the parties or the court makes written findings setting forth a compelling reason for making an unequal disposition of the community property. (NRS 125.150) The Nevada Supreme Court has held that under Rule 60(b) of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure, relief from a divorce decree dividing community property between the parties may be obtained by: (1) filing within 6 months after the final decree a motion for relief or modification from the decree because of mistake, newly discovered evidence or fraud; or (2) showing exceptional circumstances justifying equitable relief in an independent civil action. (Kramer v. Kramer, 96 Nev. 759, 762 (1980); Amic v. Amic, 106 Nev. 541, 542 (1990)) In Doan v. Wilkerson, 130 Nev. Adv. Op. 48 (2014), the Nevada Supreme Court held that exceptional circumstances justifying equitable relief do not exist when a particular item of community property was disclosed and considered in a divorce action but omitted from the divorce decree. Section 27 of this bill provides that at any time, a party in an action for divorce, separate maintenance or annulment may file a postjudgment motion to obtain an adjudication of any community property or liability that was omitted from the final decree. Section 27 further provides that the court has continuing jurisdiction to hear such a motion and must make an equal disposition of the omitted community property or liability unless the court finds that certain exceptions apply.]~~

Under existing law, the county clerk is required to collect certain fees for the issuance of a marriage license. Sections 4 and 56 of this bill authorize a board of county commissioners in a county whose population is 700,000 or more (currently Clark County) to adopt an ordinance imposing an additional fee of not more than $14 for the issuance of a marriage license. Under section 56, if a board of county commissioners adopts such an ordinance, the fee must be deposited in a special revenue fund designated as the fund for the promotion of marriage tourism, and money in the fund must be used by the county clerk to promote marriage tourism in the county. Section 4 also specifically states that any administrative fee charged and collected by a county clerk's office, including, without limitation, a fee for providing a copy of a marriage license, is separate from any fee charged and collected for the issuance of a marriage license.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 122 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

In each county whose population is 100,000 or more, the county may provide a space outside each office and branch office of the county clerk in which a commercial wedding chapel, a licensed business which operates principally for the performance of weddings in the county or a church or religious organization incorporated, organized or established in this State may place informational brochures for display.

Sec. 2. (Deleted by amendment.)

Sec. 3. (Deleted by amendment.)

Sec. 4. NRS 122.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

122.060 1. The county clerk is entitled to receive as his or her fee for issuing a marriage license the sum of $21.

2. The county clerk shall also at the time of issuing the marriage license:

(a) Collect the sum of $10 and:

(1) If the board of county commissioners has adopted an ordinance pursuant to NRS 246.100, deposit the sum into the county general fund pursuant to NRS 246.180 for filing the originally signed certificate of marriage described in NRS 122.120.

(2) If the board of county commissioners has not adopted an ordinance pursuant to NRS 246.100, pay it over to the county recorder as his or her fee for recording the originally signed certificate of marriage described in NRS 122.120.

(b) Collect the additional fee described in subsection 2 of NRS 246.180, if the board of county commissioners has adopted an ordinance authorizing the collection of such fee, and deposit the fee pursuant to NRS 246.190.

(c) Collect the additional fee imposed pursuant to section 56 of this act, if the board of county commissioners has adopted an ordinance imposing the fee.

3. The county clerk shall also at the time of issuing the marriage license collect the additional sum of $4 for the State of Nevada. The fees collected for the State must be paid over to the county treasurer by the county clerk on or before the fifth day of each month for the preceding calendar month, and must be placed to the credit of the State General Fund. The county treasurer shall remit quarterly all such fees deposited by the county clerk to the State Controller for credit to the State General Fund.

4. The county clerk shall also at the time of issuing the marriage license collect the additional sum of $25 for the Account for Aid for Victims of Domestic Violence in the State General Fund. The fees collected for this purpose must be paid over to the county treasurer by the county clerk on or before the fifth day of each month for the preceding calendar month, and must be placed to the credit of that Account. The county treasurer shall, on or before the 15th day of each month, remit those fees deposited by the county clerk to the State Controller for credit to that Account.

5. Any fee charged and collected pursuant to this section is separate and distinct from any administrative fee charged and collected by a county clerk's office, including, without limitation, a fee for certifying a copy of a marriage license.

~~125.150 Except as otherwise provided in NRS 125.155 and unless the action is contrary to a premarital agreement between the parties which is enforceable pursuant to chapter 123A of NRS:~~

~~(b) Shall, to the extent practicable, make an equal disposition of the community property of the parties, except that the court may make an unequal disposition of the community property in such proportions as it deems just if the court finds a compelling reason to do so and sets forth in writing the reasons for making the unequal disposition.~~

~~2. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, in granting a divorce, the court shall dispose of any property held in joint tenancy in the manner set~~

~~forth in subsection 1 for the disposition of community property. If a party has made a contribution of separate property to the acquisition or improvement of property held in joint tenancy, the court may provide for the reimbursement of that party for his or her contribution. The amount of reimbursement must not exceed the value, at the time of the disposition, of the property held in joint tenancy for which the contribution of separate property was made. In determining whether to provide for the reimbursement, in whole or in part, of a party who has contributed separate property, the court shall consider:~~

The term does not include a payment of interest on a loan used to finance the purchase or improvement of property, or a payment made for maintenance, insurance or taxes on property.~~

~~3.~~ A party may file a postjudgment motion in any action for divorce, annulment or separate maintenance to obtain adjudication of any community property or liability omitted from the decree or judgment. There is no limitation on the time in which a motion pursuant to this subsection may be filed. The court has continuing jurisdiction to hear such a motion and shall equally divide the omitted community property or liability between the parties unless the court finds that:

(a) The community property or liability was included in a prior equal disposition of the community property of the parties or in an unequal disposition of the community property of the parties which was made pursuant to written findings of a compelling reason for making that unequal disposition; or

(b) The court determines a compelling reason in the interests of justice to make an unequal disposition of the community property or liability and sets forth in writing the reasons for making the unequal disposition.

~~4.~~ Except as otherwise provided in NRS 125.141, whether or not application for suit money has been made under the provisions of NRS 125.040, the court may award a reasonable attorney's fee to either party to an action for divorce.

~~[4.]~~ 5. In granting a divorce, the court may also set apart such portion of the husband's separate property for the wife's support, the wife's separate property for the husband's support or the separate property of either spouse for the support of their children as is deemed just and equitable.

~~[5.] 6. In the event of the death of either party or the subsequent remarriage of the spouse to whom specified periodic payments were to be made, all the payments required by the decree must cease, unless it was otherwise ordered by the court.~~

~~[6.] 7. If the court adjudicates the property rights of the parties, or an agreement by the parties settling their property rights has been approved by the court, whether or not the court has retained jurisdiction to modify them, the adjudication of property rights, and the agreements settling property rights, may nevertheless at any time thereafter be modified by the court upon written stipulation signed and acknowledged by the parties to the action, and in accordance with the terms thereof.~~

~~[7.] 8. If a decree of divorce, or an agreement between the parties which was ratified, adopted or approved in a decree of divorce, provides for specified periodic payments of alimony, the decree or agreement is not subject to modification by the court as to accrued payments. Payments pursuant to a decree entered on or after July 1, 1975, which have not accrued at the time a motion for modification is filed may be modified upon a showing of changed circumstances, whether or not the court has expressly retained jurisdiction for the modification. In addition to any other factors the court considers relevant in determining whether to modify the order, the court shall consider whether the income of the spouse who is ordered to pay alimony, as indicated on the spouse's federal income tax return for the preceding calendar year, has been reduced to such a level that the spouse is financially unable to pay the amount of alimony the spouse has been ordered to pay.~~

~~[8.] 9. In addition to any other factors the court considers relevant in determining whether to award alimony and the amount of such an award, the court shall consider:~~

~~(b) The nature and value of the respective property of each spouse;~~

~~(c) The contribution of each spouse to any property held by the spouses pursuant to NRS 123.030;~~

~~(d) The duration of the marriage;~~

~~(f) The standard of living during the marriage;~~

~~(g) The career before the marriage of the spouse who would receive the alimony;~~

~~(h) The existence of specialized education or training or the level of marketable skills attained by each spouse during the marriage;~~

~~(i) The contribution of either spouse as homemaker;~~

~~(j) The award of property granted by the court in the divorce, other than child support and alimony, to the spouse who would receive the alimony; and~~

~~(k) The physical and mental condition of each party as it relates to the financial condition, health and ability to work of that spouse.~~

~~[9.] 10. In granting a divorce, the court shall consider the need to grant alimony to a spouse for the purpose of obtaining training or education relating~~

~~to a job, career or profession. In addition to any other factors the court considers relevant in determining whether such alimony should be granted, the court shall consider:~~

~~(a) Whether the spouse who would pay such alimony has obtained greater job skills or education during the marriage; and~~

~~(b) Whether the spouse who would receive such alimony provided financial support while the other spouse obtained job skills or education.~~

~~[10.]~~ 11. ~~If the court determines that alimony should be awarded pursuant to the provisions of subsection [9.]~~ 10:

~~(a) The court, in its order, shall provide for the time within which the spouse who is the recipient of the alimony must commence the training or education relating to a job, career or profession.~~

~~(b) The spouse who is ordered to pay the alimony may, upon changed circumstances, file a motion to modify the order.~~

~~(c) The spouse who is the recipient of the alimony may be granted, in addition to any other alimony granted by the court, money to provide for:~~

~~(3) Guidance for the recipient in establishing a specific plan for training or education relating to a job, career or profession;~~

Amendment No. 866.
AN ACT relating to mammography; revising the language of certain notices provided to patients who undergo mammography; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.
Legislative Counsel's Digest:
Existing law requires that a patient who undergoes mammography must be given a notice which includes a report of the patient's breast density and which may include, without limitation, a statement regarding the relationship between breast density, breast cancer and the impact of breast density on the effectiveness of mammography. (NRS 457.1857) Pursuant to existing law, the State Board of Health adopted a regulation prescribing the language of such a notification. (LCB File No. R100-13 which became effective on January 1, 2014) This bill provides new language which must be used in such notification ~~[.]~~ if the report indicates that the breast tissue is dense.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 457.1857 is hereby amended to read as follows:

457.1857 1. If a patient undergoes mammography, the owner, lessee or other person responsible for the radiation machine for mammography that was used to perform the mammography must ensure that each report provided to the patient pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 263b(f)(1)(G)(ii)(IV) includes, without limitation, a statement of the category of the patient's breast density which is determined based on the Breast Imaging Reporting and ~~[~~Database~~]~~ Data System or such other guidelines as required by the State Board of Health by regulation, and , ~~[as necessary,]~~ if applicable, the notice ~~[~~prescribed by the State Board of Health pursuant to~~]~~ provided in subsection 2.

2. ~~[~~The State Board of Health shall prescribe by regulation the notice to be included in a report~~]~~ If the statement of the category of the patient's breast density which is provided pursuant to subsection 1 indicates that the breast tissue is dense, the report described in subsection 1 must also include a notice ~~[~~provided~~]~~ pursuant to subsection 1. The notice must include:

~~(a) A statement regarding the benefits, risks and limitations of mammograms;~~

~~(b) A description of factors that may affect the accuracy of a mammogram, including, without limitation, the density of breast tissue or the presence of breast implants;~~

~~(c) A statement that encourages the patient to discuss with his or her provider of health care the patient's specific risk factors for developing breast cancer; and~~

~~(d) A statement that encourages the patient to discuss with his or her provider of health care whether the patient should adjust his or her schedule for mammograms or consider other appropriate screening options as a result of the patient's breast density.~~

~~3. The notice prescribed by regulation pursuant to subsection 2 may include, without limitation:~~

~~(a) A statement regarding the prevalence of dense breast tissue, the relationship between breast density and breast cancer and the manner in which breast density may change over time; and~~

> Your mammogram shows that your breast tissue is dense. Dense breast tissue is common and is not abnormal. However, dense breast tissue can make it harder to evaluate the results of your mammogram and may also be associated with a modestly increased risk of breast cancer. This information about the results of your mammogram is given to you to raise your awareness and to inform your conversations with your physician. Together, you can decide which screening options are right for you. A report of your results was sent to your physician.

3. Nothing in this section shall be construed to:

(a) Create a duty of care or other legal obligation beyond the duty to provide the notice as set forth in this section.

(b) Require a notice to be provided to a patient that is inconsistent with the notice required by the provisions of 42 U.S.C. § 263b or any regulations promulgated pursuant thereto.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2015.

ASSEMBLYMAN HICKEY:

I rise in support of Senate Bill 394. It requires the Department of Education, in consultation with persons and organizations who possess knowledge and expertise in the personal safety of children, to develop age-appropriate curriculum standards for teaching personal safety to children. The Department must also develop recommendations to assist the school district or a charter school and to develop and implement various programs related to the personal safety of children. The board of trustees of each school district and the governing body of each charter school are required to ensure that instruction on the personal safety of children is carried out as part of a course of study in health and is based on the standards developed by the Department.

The Department of Education has already been planning and is scheduled to revise their health studies curriculum. This bill was endorsed by the Superintendent and passed unanimously by your Committee on Education. I urge your support.

The following amendment was proposed by Assemblywoman Titus:

Amendment No. 893.

AN ACT relating to public health; defining the term "obesity" ; ~~[as a chronic disease;]~~ requiring the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services to prepare an annual report on obesity; requiring certain school districts to collect data concerning the height and weight of pupils; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law uses the term "obesity" in listing the benefits of breast-feeding, mandating training for child care providers and mandating public information and prevention programs of the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services. (NRS 201.232, 432A.1775, 439.517, 439.521) Section 1 of this bill defines the term "obesity" in the preliminary chapter of NRS ~~[as a chronic disease having certain characteristics.]~~ as an abnormal and unhealthy accumulation of body fat which is statistically correlated with certain conditions. Sections 2, 3, 4 and 5 of this bill define the term "obesity" as used in those provisions of existing law. Section 5 also requires the Division to prepare an annual report on obesity statistics in this State and the efforts to reduce obesity.

Existing law requires the board of trustees of each school district in a county whose population is 100,000 or more (currently Clark and Washoe Counties), through June 30, 2015, to: (1) conduct examinations of the height and weight of certain pupils in the schools within the school district; (2) provide notice of such examinations to the parent or guardian of a child before performing the examination; and (3) report the results of such examinations to the Chief Medical Officer. (NRS 392.420) Section 2.5 of this bill: (1) requires the board of trustees of each such school district to use school nurses, health personnel and certain teachers and other personnel to conduct such examinations on and after July 1, 2015; and (2) provides that, under certain circumstances, the school authorities are not required to provide notice to the parent or guardian of a child before conducting such an examination. Section 2.5 also requires the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services to: (1) compile a report of the results of such examinations specific to each region of this State for which such information is collected; and (2) publish and disseminate the reports.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The preliminary chapter of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

~~[1.]~~ Except as otherwise provided by specific statute or required by the context, "obesity" means ~~[a chronic disease characterized by]~~ an abnormal and unhealthy accumulation of body fat which is statistically correlated with premature mortality, hypertension, heart disease, diabetes, cancer and other health conditions, and may be indicated by:

~~[(a)]~~ 1. A body mass index of 30 or higher in adults;

~~[(b)]~~ 2. A body mass index that is greater than two standard deviations above the World Health Organization's growth standard for children who are at least 5 but less than 19 years of age, or greater than three standard deviations above the standard for children who are less than 5 years of age;

~~[(c)]~~ 3. A body fat percentage greater than 25 percent for men or 32 percent for women; or

[(d)] 4. A waist size of 40 inches or more for men or 35 inches or more for women.

[2. As used in this section, "chronic disease" means a health condition or disease which presents for a period of 3 months or more or is persistent, indefinite or incurable.]

Sec. 2. NRS 201.232 is hereby amended to read as follows:

201.232 1. The Legislature finds and declares that:

(a) The medical profession in the United States recommends that children from birth to the age of 1 year should be breast fed, unless under particular circumstances it is medically inadvisable.

(b) Despite the recommendation of the medical profession, statistics reveal a declining percentage of mothers who are choosing to breast feed their babies.

(c) Many new mothers are now choosing to use formula rather than to breast feed even before they leave the hospital, and only a small percentage of all mothers are still breast feeding when their babies are 6 months old.

(d) In addition to the benefit of improving bonding between mothers and their babies, breast feeding offers better nutrition, digestion and immunity for babies than does formula feeding, and it may increase the intelligence quotient of a child. Babies who are breast fed have lower rates of death, meningitis, childhood leukemia and other cancers, diabetes, respiratory illnesses, bacterial and viral infections, diarrheal diseases, otitis media, allergies, obesity and developmental delays.

(e) Breast feeding also provides significant benefits to the health of the mother, including protection against breast cancer and other cancers, osteoporosis and infections of the urinary tract. The incidence of breast cancer in the United States might be reduced by 25 percent if every woman breast fed all her children until they reached the age of 2 years.

(f) The World Health Organization and the United Nations Children's Fund have established as one of their major goals for the decade the encouragement of breast feeding.

(g) The social constraints of modern society weigh against the choice of breast feeding and lead new mothers with demanding time schedules to opt for formula feeding to avoid embarrassment, social ostracism or criminal prosecution.

(h) Any genuine promotion of family values should encourage public acceptance of this most basic act of nurture between a mother and her baby, and no mother should be made to feel incriminated or socially ostracized for breast feeding her child.

2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a mother may breast feed her child in any public or private location where the mother is otherwise authorized to be, irrespective of whether the nipple of the mother's breast is uncovered during or incidental to the breast feeding.

3. As used in this section [:

(a) "Obesity"] , "obesity" means [a chronic disease characterized by] an abnormal and unhealthy accumulation of body fat which is statistically correlated with premature mortality, hypertension, heart disease, diabetes, cancer and other health conditions, and may be indicated by:

~~[(1)]~~ (a) A body mass index of 30 or higher in adults;

~~[(2)]~~ (b) A body mass index that is greater than two standard deviations above the World Health Organization's growth standard for children who are at least 5 but less than 19 years of age, or greater than three standard deviations above the standard for children who are less than 5 years of age;

~~[(3)]~~ (c) A body fat percentage greater than 25 percent for men or 32 percent for women; or

~~[(4)]~~ (d) A waist size of 40 inches or more for men or 35 inches or more for women.

~~[(b) "Chronic disease" means a health condition or disease which presents for a period of 3 months or more or is persistent, indefinite or incurable.]~~

The grades in which the observations and examinations must be carried out are as follows:

(a) For visual and auditory problems:

(1) Before the completion of the first year of initial enrollment in elementary school;

The Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services shall determine the number of pupils necessary to include in the representative sample.

3. If any child is attending school in a grade above one of the specified grades and has not previously received such an observation and examination, the child must be included in the current schedule for observation and examination. Any child who is newly enrolled in the district must be examined for any medical condition for which children in a lower grade are examined.

8. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the school authorities shall provide notice to the parent or guardian of a child before performing on the child the examinations required by this section. The notice must inform the parent or guardian of the right to exempt the child from all or part of the examinations. Any child must be exempted from an examination if the child's parent or guardian files with the teacher a written statement objecting to the examination.

~~[8.]~~ The school authorities are not required to provide notice to the parent or guardian of a child before measuring the child's height or weight pursuant to subsection 2 if it is not practicable to do so.

9. Each school nurse or a designee of a school nurse, including, without limitation, a person employed at a school to provide basic first aid and health services to pupils, shall report the results of the examinations conducted pursuant to this section in each school at which he or she is responsible for providing services to the Chief Medical Officer in the format prescribed by the Chief Medical Officer. Each such report must exclude any identifying information relating to a particular child. The Chief Medical Officer shall compile all such information the Officer receives to monitor the health status of children and shall retain the information.

10. The Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services shall:

Sec. 3. NRS 432A.1775 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Assemblywoman Titus moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblywomen Titus and Carlton.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TITUS:

Amendment 893 to Senate Bill 402 changes the language and the definition of "obesity" to an "accumulation of body fat" but does not define it as a chronic disease.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I have a question for the proponent of the amendment. I know with a designation of chronic disease, doors are opened to different resources from the federal government. I know that definition is recognized at the federal level and through the CDC [Centers for Disease Control and Prevention], so I just want to make sure that by changing this we do not eliminate any options for any funding to deal with this chronic disease.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TITUS:

Thank you to my esteemed colleague from the south. It can be chronic if you allow it to be and there are forces that prevent you from losing it, but it is not chronic by the nature of the disease itself. I have worked extensively with the initial author of this bill as well as our state health officer to make sure that we do not impair the application of any grants that we get and that it still includes the studies so that we can know where the problem is. Also, there is no other state in the nation that has passed this type of wording or law and so we are not going to be behind on anything. I am working closely with our state health officer to look at what possible grants may be out there. If this, indeed, were to impair that, I would be willing to change it in the future. It is something that we are working closely on because I am for the health of this state and for improving the overall life of not only the youth but adults of all ages, categories, and backgrounds in this state.

Amendment adopted.

ASSEMBLYMAN MUNFORD:

Assembly Bill 234 requires the Council to Establish Academic Standards for Public Schools to establish standards of content and performance for social studies to include multicultural education. A licensed teacher who is initially licensed on or after July 1, 2015, must submit proof of the completion of a course in multicultural education along with the first application for renewal of his or her license to teach.

This bill has been a passion for me because I presented this bill for five sessions and it finally made it to the floor for a vote. I am so grateful to, elated by, and appreciative of those who made it possible by supporting me in this particular legislation. I would like to single you out personally: Assemblyman Pat Hickey; Assemblyman Oscarson; Assemblyman Paul Anderson, who is the Chairman of Ways and Means and got it out of Ways and Means; all the members of the Democratic Caucus who supported me, like Assemblywoman Dina Neal, Assemblyman Thompson, Assemblywoman Swank, Assemblywoman Benitez-Thompson, and even my neighbor here, Assemblywoman Olivia Diaz, Assemblywoman Irene Bustamante Adams, Assemblyman Araujo, Assemblyman Flores—all of them. I cannot even find the words to express how I appreciate their support in getting this bill through for me because it has been a long journey starting way back in 2005. Now it is finally going to get some legs and go where it is supposed to go. Thank you very much.

ASSEMBLYMAN HICKEY:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 234. I think I speak on behalf of all of my colleagues and schoolteacher colleagues. I say that as a proud description. Not only has our colleague brought this piece of legislation for five sessions, but we passed this in honor of his accomplishments in the classroom. We in the Committee on Education have heard on countless occasions from former students of our colleague who have come and are a testimony and a legacy to his accomplishments in the classroom and in this building. For that reason, I proudly stand in support of this bill and urge yours as well.

Amendment No. 799.

AN ACT relating to education; establishing the Achievement School District within the Department of Education; authorizing certain underperforming schools to be converted to achievement charter schools sponsored by the Achievement School District; prescribing requirements for the conversion of a public school to an achievement charter school and the operation of an achievement charter school; providing for the use of certain school buildings by an achievement charter school without compensation; authorizing a school district to provide services to an achievement charter school under certain circumstances; prescribing certain conditions of employment for a teacher at an achievement charter school; authorizing the conversion of an achievement charter school to a public school in a school district or a charter school; revising provisions governing the use of school buildings owned by the board of trustees of the school district by a charter school; making reassignment of the employees of an achievement charter school outside the scope of collective bargaining; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 17 of this bill creates the Achievement School District within the Department of Education, and section 18 of this bill requires the Superintendent of Public Instruction to appoint an Executive Director as the chief of the Achievement School District. Section 19 of this bill establishes the Account for the Achievement School District in the State General Fund.

Existing law establishes the statewide system of accountability for public schools. (NRS 385.3455-385.391) The statewide system of accountability provides for each public school to be rated based on the performance of the school and whether each public school meets the annual measurable objectives and performance targets. (NRS 385.3594) Section 20 of this bill requires the Executive Director to make a list of public schools that demonstrate unsatisfactory pupil achievement and school performance for consideration for conversion to achievement charter schools and submit the list to the State Board of Education for approval. The list must include 20 percent of schools that meet certain criteria, and the State Board must approve for consideration at least 50 percent of the schools on the list. Section 20 authorizes the Executive Director to select ~~[any school]~~ up to six of the schools approved by the State Board for conversion to an achievement charter ~~[school]~~ schools after: (1) considering data concerning pupil achievement and school performance for the school; (2) considering input from parents of pupils enrolled at the school and other members of the community in which the school is located; and (3) consulting with the board of trustees of the school district in which the school is located.

Existing law prohibits the conversion of an existing public school to a charter school. (NRS 386.505, 386.506) Sections 11 and 23 of this bill provide that these provisions do not apply to an achievement charter school, thereby allowing the conversion of an existing public school to an achievement charter school.

Section 21 of this bill requires the Executive Director of the Achievement School District to evaluate applications and enter into a contract with a charter management organization, educational management organization or other person to operate an achievement charter school. Section 21 also requires the Department to adopt regulations prescribing the process for applying to operate an achievement charter school, which must allow for certain applicants to submit one application to operate more than one achievement charter school. Section 21.5 of this bill provides that the Achievement School District is deemed the sponsor of an achievement charter school and requires the operator of an achievement charter school to appoint a governing body of the achievement charter school. Section 21.5 provides that the governing body may consist of any persons chosen by the operator of the achievement charter school, with certain restrictions. Section 22 of this bill requires the principal of an achievement charter school to determine whether to offer employment at the achievement charter school to the former employees of the public school. Any such employees who are not offered employment at the achievement charter school must be reassigned to another public school in the district. Section 22 also requires the board of trustees of a school district to allow an achievement charter school to operate in the building in which the school was located before conversion to an achievement charter school without compensation and continue to pay capital expenses for the building. The achievement charter school is required to pay for maintenance and operation of the building. Section 22: (1) provides that the board of trustees of a school district is not required to give priority to a capital project at a school that is selected for conversion to an achievement charter school; and (2) prohibits the board of trustees of a school district from reducing the priority of any such capital project that existed before the school was selected for conversion. Section 22 also provides that any pupil who was enrolled in a school before conversion to an achievement charter school must be enrolled in the achievement charter school ~~[upon request.]~~ unless the parent or guardian of the pupil submits written notice that the pupil will not continue to be enrolled at the school. Finally, section 22 limits the amount of loans, advances or other monetary charges that the governing body of an achievement charter school may authorize to be paid to the operator of the achievement charter school. Section 61 of this bill makes the right of a school district to reassign employees who are not retained by an achievement charter school outside the scope of collective bargaining.

Section 22.5 of this bill enacts provisions necessary for an achievement charter school to be able to receive money available from federal and state categorical grant programs.

Sections 3-8 and 23 of this bill require an achievement charter school to participate in the statewide system of accountability for public schools.

Existing law: (1) establishes requirements concerning the availability of certain information concerning charter schools and the operation of a charter school; (2) prohibits a member of the board of trustees of a school district or employee of a school district to solicit gifts or payments from a governing body or employee of a charter school; (3) prohibits the board of trustees of a school district from interfering with the operation of a charter school; (4) prescribes the manner in which money will be apportioned to and paid by a charter school; (5) establishes requirements concerning hiring of personnel at a charter school; (6) requires certain information to be reported by the governing body and sponsor of a charter school; and (7) authorizes a charter school to finance improvements through the issuance of bonds. (NRS 386.545, 386.547, 386.550, 386.553, 386.555, 386.563-386.573, 386.582-386.593 and 386.598-386.649) Section 23 of this bill makes these provisions applicable to an achievement charter school. Section 23 also allows the governing body of an achievement charter school to obtain a waiver of certain requirements concerning the school calendar, testing, curriculum, enrollment, distance education and staffing.

Existing law authorizes: (1) a charter school that meets certain requirements to apply to the Department for money for facilities; (2) a charter school to take certain actions to expand its facilities; and (3) a pupil at a charter school to participate in classes or extracurricular activities at a public school in a school district. (NRS 386.5515, 386.560, 386.595) Sections 24-26 of this bill enacts similar provisions applicable to achievement charter schools. Section 25 also requires the board of trustees of a school district in which an achievement charter school is located to provide facilities, other than the school building in which the achievement charter school operates, to the achievement charter school or perform certain services to an achievement charter school for compensation upon the request of the Executive Director.

Sections 27, 31 and 32 of this bill prescribe conditions for employment at an achievement charter school. Sections 28, 30 and 31 of this bill require the board of trustees of a school district to grant a leave of absence of 6 years to a teacher who wishes to accept or continue employment at an achievement charter school and prescribe requirements concerning benefits and tenure of a teacher who takes such a leave of absence.

Section 33 of this bill allows an achievement charter school that has demonstrated adequate improvement in pupil achievement and school performance to: (1) convert back to a public school under the governance of the board of trustees of the school district in which the school is located; (2) apply to an entity for sponsorship as a charter school and become a charter school outside the Achievement School District; or (3) remain an achievement charter school for at least 6 more years. Section 33 requires an achievement charter school that has not demonstrated adequate improvement to remain an achievement charter school for at least 6 more years, subject to review at least every 3 years thereafter. Section 33 provides that if an achievement charter school converts back to a public school in a school district, the board of trustees of the school district must employ any teacher, administrator or paraprofessional who wishes to continue at the school. Section 34 of this bill requires the Department to adopt regulations to carry out the provisions governing achievement charter schools. Sections 36-38 of this bill exempt an achievement charter school from certain prohibitions on converting an existing public school into a charter school.

Existing law authorizes a charter school to use school buildings owned by the school district in which the charter school is located only upon approval of the board of trustees of the school district and during times that are not regular school hours. (NRS 386.560) Section 39.5 of this bill removes the limitation on the use of such buildings during regular school hours, but still requires such use to be approved by the board of trustees of the school district.

Sections 1, 2, 9, 11-16, 35, 39-60, 62-64 and 69 of this bill make conforming changes.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 470.

Bill read second time and ordered to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 486.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 801.

AN ACT relating to insurance; abolishing the Insurance Examination Account; requiring fees currently paid into the Account to be paid into the Fund for Insurance Administration and Enforcement; abolishing certain fees paid into the Insurance Recovery Account; authorizing the Commissioner of Insurance to impose a fee on certain licensees if the balance of the Account is less than a certain amount at the end of a fiscal year; revising initial and annual fees paid by certain insurers; abolishing the Stabilization of Insurance Costs Account and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Account and certain fees paid into them; repealing certain other fees; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the Commissioner of Insurance to examine, at least once every 5 years, the affairs, transactions, accounts, records and assets of each authorized insurer, and of any person as to any matter relevant to the financial affairs of the insurer or to the examination. (NRS 679B.230) An insurer that is examined is required to pay the cost of the examination. (NRS 679B.290) The money paid by insurers for such examinations is deposited in the Insurance Examination Account, and the money in the Account is used to pay for the expenses incurred by examiners and other representatives of the Division of Insurance of the Department of Business and Industry when examining insurers. (NRS 679B.300) Section 1 of this bill abolishes the Account and instead requires money paid by insurers for such examinations to be deposited in the Fund for Insurance Administration and Enforcement. Section 1 also requires the expenses for such examinations to be paid from the Fund.

Existing law requires : (1) certain annual fees to be paid on or before March 1 of every year; and (2) eligible surplus line insurers, fraternal benefit societies, corporations that operate a hospital, medical or dental service plan, health maintenance organizations, organizations for dental care, prepaid limited health service organizations and certain other insurers to pay to the Commissioner an initial fee of $1,300 and an annual fee of $1,300. (NRS 680C.110) Section 4 of this bill instead requires: (1) certain annual fees to be paid on or before the date established by regulation of the Commissioner; (2) each insurer authorized to transact casualty insurance, health insurance, life insurance or property insurance and each title insurer, fraternal benefit society, corporation that operates a hospital, medical or dental service plan, health maintenance organization, organization for dental care and prepaid limited health service organization to pay to the Commissioner an initial fee of $1,000 and an annual fee determined by the Commissioner; and ~~[(2)]~~ (3) certain other insurers to pay to the Commissioner an initial fee of $1,300 and an annual fee of $1,300.

Existing law creates the Insurance Recovery Account in the Fund for Insurance Administration and Enforcement and requires an applicant for the issuance or renewal of certain licenses and certificates to practice certain professions relating to insurance to pay a fee of not more than $15 for deposit in the Insurance Recovery Account. (NRS 679B.305, 683A.251, 683A.261, 683A.271, 683C.030, 683C.035, 683C.040, 685A.120, 695J.110, 695J.140, 696A.300) Sections 5-17 of this bill abolish the licensing fees paid into the Account. Instead, section 2 of this bill authorizes the Commissioner to impose a fee of not more than $10 on each producer of insurance, insurance adjuster, surplus lines broker, title agent, title insurer and escrow officer in this State if the balance of the Account is below $40,000 at the end of any fiscal year.

Existing law requires an insurer authorized to transact casualty or property insurance to pay a fee of not more than $500 to the Division. The fee is deposited in the Stabilization of Insurance Costs Account and used to pay the expenses of the Commissioner in carrying out certain requirements relating to the stabilization of insurance costs. (NRS 679B.450) Section 17 repeals this fee and the Account.

Existing law requires each authorized insurer, fraternal benefit society, health maintenance organization, organization for dental care, prepaid limited health service organization and motor club to pay to the Commissioner an annual amount of not more than $30 to cover an assessment levied upon this State by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners. The money is deposited in the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Account. (NRS 680B.070) Section 17 repeals this annual amount and the Account.

A producer of insurance may qualify for a license in one or more of the lines of authority permitted by statute or regulation, including:

A license as a producer of insurance expires if the Commissioner receives a request for a renewal of the license more than 30 days after the date specified on the license for the renewal. ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

As amended, this abolishes the Insurance Examination Account and requires fees paid by insurers for examinations to be deposited in the Fund for Insurance Administration and Enforcement. This bill also reduces the initial licensing fee from $1,300 to $1,000 and revises the annual license fee from $1,300 to a fee determined by the Commissioner of Insurance for most insurer types.

This bill also abolishes the licensing fees paid into the Insurance Recovery Account and authorizes the Commissioner of Insurance to impose a fee of not more than $10 on certain licenses if the balance of the Insurance Recovery Account is below $40,000 at the end of a fiscal year.

Lastly, this bill abolishes the Stabilization of Insurance Cost Account and the National Association of Insurance Commissioners Account and their associated fees. This bill becomes effective on July 1, 2015.

This is one of the final steps in taking our Division of Insurance into a total enterprise fund and allowing them to realign their accounts to do their jobs the best way they can.

Assemblywoman Seaman moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Seaman.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SEAMAN:

Amendment 756 to Senate Bill 68 addresses malpractice as well as specialties certified by the American Osteopathic Association. It ensures physicians who have been investigated but not disciplined are not precluded from licensure by endorsement. The amendment requires the Nevada State Board of Optometry to issue a license by endorsement to practice optometry under certain circumstances. Additionally, it revises section 11 of the bill to provide the State Board of Podiatry with additional time to process an application for license by endorsement based on the submission of an applicant's fingerprints.

Finally, the amendment allows the Board of Examiners for Social Workers to ensure applicants for a license by endorsement and to collect fees for issuance of such a license.

Amendment adopted.

The following amendment was proposed by Assemblyman Kirner.

Amendment No. 874.

AN ACT relating to professions; authorizing certain qualified professionals who hold a license in the District of Columbia or another state or territory of the United States to apply for the issuance of an expedited license by endorsement to practice in this State; revising provisions relating to certain limited licenses to practice medicine as a resident physician; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Specifically, an expedited license by endorsement may be obtained from the Board of Medical Examiners, the State Board of Nursing, the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine, the State Board of Podiatry, the Board of Hearing Aid Specialists, the Board of Examiners for Audiology and Speech Pathology, the State Board of Pharmacy, the State Board of Physical Therapy Examiners, the Board of Occupational Therapy, the Board of Massage Therapists, the Board of Psychological Examiners, the Board of Examiners for Marriage and Family Therapists and Clinical Professional Counselors, the Board of Examiners for Social Workers and the Board of Examiners for Alcohol, Drug and Gambling Counselors. Sections 1.3 and 8.5 require a physician or osteopathic physician to be certified in a specialty recognized by the American Board of Medical Specialties or the American Osteopathic Association, as applicable, to obtain such an expedited license by endorsement.

Existing law authorizes the Board of Medical Examiners and the State Board of Osteopathic Medicine to issue a limited license to practice medicine as a resident physician to an applicant who meets certain requirements. Assemblywoman Seaman moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblywomen Seaman and Carlton.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SEAMAN:

Amendment 874 to Senate Bill 68 allows the Board of Hearing Aid Specialists to issue a license by endorsement to practice as a hearing aid specialist to an applicant licensed in good standing in another jurisdiction.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I rise in opposition to Amendment 874 to Senate Bill 68. I apologize to the Vice Chair of the Committee on Commerce and Labor. I had discussed this with the Chair before he left for the day, so I do not want the Assemblywoman from District 34 to think that I am trying to put her in an awkward position.

This amendment adds hearing aid specialists to the bill. It was discussed in the committee. We did not process it that day; it was the last day of bill passage. There are four different types of licensure for hearing aid specialists and with the proposal of the two boards joining together and being able to work forward, I think adding another burden on that board at this time is inappropriate and could cause problems. The whole idea behind the work that we have done with these two boards is to solve the problems. There is not an outcry of a shortage of hearing aid specialists. It does not seem to be a big issue in this state right now. This board is having issues. They have not even submitted their report from March and here we are at the end of May. I have real concerns about this amendment.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SEAMAN:

I would like to withdraw my motion to adopt Amendment 874 to Senate Bill 68 until the Chair can speak to my colleague from the south.

Assemblywoman Seaman withdrew the motion to adopt Amendment No. 874 to Senate Bill No. 68.

Amendment No. 840.

AN ACT relating to wages; authorizing certain employers and employees to enter into a written agreement to exclude from an employee's wages payment for certain specified periods; exempting certain employees from the requirement that an employer pay the employee overtime; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires an employer to pay an employee wages for each hour the employee works. (NRS 608.016) Existing federal regulations allow employees who work shifts of 24 hours or more to agree to not be paid for a sleeping period not to exceed 8 hours under certain circumstances. (29 C.F.R. § 785.22) ~~[This]~~ Section 1.3 of this bill provides that an employee who is employed in a certain residential facility and who works for 24 hours or more may agree to not be paid for a sleeping period not to exceed 8 hours if adequate sleeping facilities are provided by the employer.

Existing federal regulations authorize an employer and a domestic service employee who resides in the household of the employer for which he or she works to enter into an agreement to exclude certain periods from the calculation of the hours for which the employee is entitled to receive wages. (29 C.F.R. § 552.102) Section 1.7 of this bill authorizes an employer and a domestic service employee to enter into such an agreement consistent with federal law.

Existing state and federal laws provide certain exceptions to the requirement that an employer pay an employee overtime. (29 U.S.C. § 213(b)(21), NRS 608.018) Section 2.5 of this bill provides an exemption under state law from these requirements for a domestic service employee who resides in the household in which he or she works.

SENATORS DENIS; HAMMOND AND MANENDO

JOINT SPONSORS: ASSEMBLYMEN O'NEILL AND SILBERKRAUS

AN ACT relating to motor vehicles; providing for the registration of mopeds; requiring a fee for such registration; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, certain motor-driven cycles and scooters are considered mopeds if the engine produces not more than 2 gross brake horsepower, has a displacement of not more than 50 cubic centimeters or produces not more than 1500 watts final output, and is not capable of exceeding 30 miles per hour on a flat surface. (NRS 482.069) Such a moped is not required to be registered with the Department of Motor Vehicles and the owner or operator is not required to provide liability insurance. (NRS 482.210, 485.185) Section 1 of this bill requires the owner of a moped to register the moped once with the Department. The owner must bring the moped to the Department or, in a county where no office of the Department is located, to either the sheriff of that county or a location of the Department in another county, for an inspection to verify that the moped meets the definition of a moped. The fee for registration is $33, the same as that for a motorcycle. There is also a license plate fee and an inspection fee, and the owner must pay for 1 year of the governmental services tax based on the value of the moped at the time of registration. A moped registration is valid until the owner transfers the ownership of the moped or cancels the registration and surrenders the license plate to the Department. Section 3 of this bill removes the exemption of mopeds from the requirement to register a motor vehicle, trailer or semitrailer intended to be operated upon any highway in this State. Existing law requires the owner or operator of any motor vehicle which is registered or required to be registered to maintain liability insurance. (NRS 485.185) Section 14 of this bill exempts mopeds from the requirement to maintain liability insurance. Existing law makes failure to register a vehicle which is required to be registered a misdemeanor. (NRS 482.555)

Section 5 of this bill requires the Department to issue a license plate to the owner of a moped upon registration of the moped. Section 6 of this bill requires that the license plate for a moped be distinct in appearance from the license plate for a motorcycle. Sections 9 and 13 of this bill make provisions that allow disabled vehicle owners to obtain and use special license plates and parking stickers applicable to mopeds. (NRS 482.384, 484B.467) Sections 15.2-15.6 of this bill provide for the calculation and imposition of the 1 year of governmental services tax that must be paid upon the registration of a moped. (NRS 371.040, 371.060, 371.070) Section 15.8 of this bill exempts mopeds from the requirements for emissions testing of certain vehicles. (NRS 445B.760)

It provides that in a county where the Department of Motor Vehicles [DMV] does not have an office, the owner of a moped may take the moped to the sheriff of that county or to a DMV location in another county for an inspection. Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Retired public employees receive retirement allowances through membership in and contributions to the Public Employees' Retirement System. (Chapter 286 of NRS) ~~[Retired]~~ With certain exceptions, retired justices of the Supreme Court, judges of the Court of Appeals, district judges, justices of the peace and municipal judges receive retirement allowances through membership in and contributions to the Judicial Retirement Plan. (Chapter 1A of NRS) With certain exceptions, Legislators receive retirement allowances through membership in and contributions to the Legislators' Retirement System. (Chapter 218C of NRS) This bill makes a number of changes to these public retirement systems.

Sections 2, 17 and 26 of this bill provide that if a person becomes a member of the Public Employees' Retirement System, Judicial Retirement Plan or Legislators' Retirement System, respectively, on or after July 1, 2015, and that member is convicted of or pleads guilty or nolo contendere to certain felonies, the member forfeits, with limited exceptions, all rights and benefits under the relevant retirement system.

Existing law provides for postretirement increases for members of the Public Employees' Retirement System, Judicial Retirement Plan and Legislators' Retirement System. (NRS 1A.240, 286.571, 218C.510) Section 3 of this bill reduces the postretirement increases for retirees who become members of the retirement systems on or after July 1, 2015.

Existing law sets forth several benefit options for surviving spouses of deceased members of the Public Employees' Retirement System, the Judicial Retirement Plan and the Legislators' Retirement System. (NRS 1A.590-1A.610, 218C.580, 286.674-286.6766) Existing law also sets forth several benefit options for survivor beneficiaries of deceased members of the Public Employees' Retirement System, the Judicial Retirement Plan and the Legislators' Retirement System if a member is unmarried on the date of the member's death. (NRS 1A.620-1A.650, 218C.580, 286.6767-286.6769) Sections 4, 16 and 27 of this bill provide an additional benefit option for the spouse of a member who is killed in the line of duty, the course of employment, the course of judicial service or the course of legislative service, as applicable ~~[.]~~ , on or after July 1, 2013. This additional option authorizes the surviving spouse to receive a benefit that is equivalent to the greater of: (1) fifty percent of the salary of the member on the date of the member's death; or (2) one hundred percent of the retirement allowance that the member was eligible to receive based on the member's years of service obtained before the member's death without any reduction for age for the deceased member. Sections 4.5, 16.5 and 27.5 of this bill provide that this additional benefit option is available to a survivor beneficiary if the deceased member is unmarried on the date of the member's death. Section 29.7 of this bill provides a method for the spouse or survivor beneficiary of a member who was killed in the line of duty, the course of employment, the course of judicial service or the course of legislative service during the period beginning on July 1, 2013, and ending on June 30, 2015, to select the additional benefit option set forth in section 4, 4.5, 16, 16.5, 27 or 27.5, as applicable.

Under existing law, a person who becomes a member of the Public Employees' Retirement System on or after January 1, 2010, other than a police officer or firefighter, is eligible to retire at 65 years of age if he or she has at least 5 years of service, at 62 years of age if he or she has at least 10 years of service and at any age if he or she has at least 30 years of service. (NRS 286.510) Section 5 of this bill provides that a person who becomes a member of the System on or after July 1, 2015, other than a police officer or firefighter, is eligible to retire at 65 years of age if he or she has at least 5 years of service, at 62 years of age if he or she has at least 10 years of service, at 55 years of age if he or she has at least 30 years of service, and at any age if he or she has at least 33 1/3 years of service. Section 20 of this bill makes the eligibility requirements for retirement relating to age and service consistent between public employees and justices of the Supreme Court, judges of the Court of Appeals, district judges, justices of the peace and municipal judges.

Sections 5, 20 and 28 of this bill provide, respectively, that for a member of the Public Employees' Retirement System, Judicial Retirement Plan or Legislators' Retirement System, the calculation of the member's years of service for the purpose of determining the age at which the member may retire with an unreduced benefit must not include any year or part of a year of service credit purchased by the member or , in certain circumstances, on behalf of the member. Sections 5, 20 and 28 provide a limited exception if the member has a family medical emergency.

Under existing law, the amount of a member's monthly retirement benefit is based on the member's compensation while employed, subject to certain limitations. (NRS 1A.390, 1A.400, 1A.410, 286.535, 286.537, 286.551, 218C.520, 218C.530) Sections 6, 21 and 29 of this bill limit the amount of compensation used to determine the retirement benefit of a person who becomes a member of a public retirement system on or after July 1, 2015, to $200,000, plus certain adjustments based on changes in the Consumer Price Index.

Under existing law, the monthly retirement allowance for a person who became a member of the Public Employees' Retirement System on or after January 1, 2010, is calculated by multiplying a member's average compensation, over the member's 36 consecutive months of highest compensation, by 2.5 percent for every year of service earned. (NRS 286.551) Section 7 of this bill provides that the monthly retirement allowance for each person who has an effective date of membership on or after July 1, 2015, other than a police officer or firefighter, will be determined by multiplying the member's average compensation by 2.25 percent for every year of service with the member's eligibility for service credit ceasing at 33 1/3 years of service.

Under existing law, members of the Judicial Retirement Plan do not pay contributions into the Plan. (NRS 1A.180) Section 15 of this bill requires members of the Plan who have an effective date of membership on or after July 1, 2015, to pay 50 percent of the required contributions to the Plan.

Under existing law, the monthly retirement allowance for a member of the Judicial Retirement Plan is calculated by multiplying a member's average compensation, over the member's 36 consecutive months of highest compensation, by 3.4091 percent for every year of service earned. (NRS 1A.440) Section 22 of this bill provides that the monthly retirement allowance for each person who has an effective date of membership on or after July 1, 2015, will be determined by multiplying the member's average compensation by 3.1591 percent for every year of service.

Sections 10, 14, 24 and 27 of this bill clarify that the term "spouse" includes a domestic partner for purposes of determining eligibility to receive survivor benefits from a public retirement system.

Existing law provides that a retired public employee who accepts employment or an independent contract with a public employer under the Public Employees' Retirement System is disqualified under certain circumstances from receiving allowances under the System for the duration of that employment or contract. (NRS 286.520) Existing law also provides an exception to this disqualification if the retired public employee fills a position for which there is a critical labor shortage. (NRS 286.523) This exception is scheduled to expire on June 30, 2015. (Chapter 346, Statutes of Nevada 2009, p. 1550) Sections 29.6 and 29.8 of this bill remove the expiration date of this exception.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2:

(a) For a member who has an effective date of membership before January 1, 2010, a monthly service retirement allowance must be determined by multiplying ~~[a]~~ the member's average compensation by 2.5 percent for each year of service earned before July 1, 2001, and 2.67 percent for each year of service earned on or after July 1, 2001.

(b) For a member who is a police officer or firefighter and who has an effective date of membership on or after January 1, 2010, a monthly service retirement allowance must be determined by multiplying the member's average compensation by 2.5 percent for each year of service earned.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLISON:

Amendment adopted.

Senate Bill No. 444.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 861.

AN ACT relating to civil actions; ~~[revising provisions governing the dismissal of certain claims based on the right to petition and the right to free speech under certain circumstances;]~~ revising provisions relating to special motions to dismiss ~~[such claims; repealing provisions authorizing]~~ certain ~~[monetary awards in proceedings related to special motions to dismiss such]~~ claims ~~[.]~~ based upon the right to petition and the right to free speech under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law establishes certain provisions to deter frivolous or vexatious lawsuits (Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation, commonly known as "SLAPP lawsuits"). (Chapter 387, Statutes of Nevada 1997, p. 1363; NRS 41.635-41.670) A SLAPP lawsuit is characterized as a meritless suit filed primarily to discourage the named defendant's exercise of First Amendment rights. "The hallmark of a SLAPP lawsuit is that it is filed to obtain a financial advantage over one's adversary by increasing litigation costs until the adversary's case is weakened or abandoned." (Metabolic Research, Inc. v. Ferrel, 693 F.3d 795, 796 n.1 (9th Cir. 2012))

Existing law provides that a person who engages in good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern is immune from civil liability for claims based upon that communication. (NRS 41.650) ~~[Section 4 of this bill defines, for the purposes of statutory provisions concerning SLAPP lawsuits, an issue of public concern as any topic that concerns the general public beyond a mere curiosity or general interest. Section 12 of this bill provides that any cause of action arising from a communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern is subject to a special motion to dismiss.~~

~~Section 5 of this bill requires a special motion to dismiss to be filed within 20 days after service of the complaint, and to be limited to the issue of whether the claim arises from a communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern. If the court determines that such a claim does not arise from a communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern, section 6 of this bill requires the court to deny the special motion to dismiss. If the court determines that the claim does arise from a communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern, section 7 of this bill requires the plaintiff to establish prima facie evidence supporting each and every element of the claim other than elements requiring proof of the subjective intent or knowledge of the defendant. Section 7 further requires the court to determine whether the plaintiff has established such prima facie evidence within 20 judicial days after the plaintiff's filing of briefs and supporting evidence.~~

~~Section 8 of this bill provides that, if a court determines that the plaintiff established prima facie evidence of each and every element of its claim other than elements requiring proof of the subjective intent or knowledge of the defendant, the court must deny the special motion to dismiss. If the court determines that the defendant filed the special motion to dismiss in bad faith, section 8 requires the court to award the plaintiff reasonable attorney's fees and costs. If a court determines that the plaintiff has not established the required prima facie evidence, section 9 of this bill requires the court to dismiss the claim and award the defendant reasonable attorney's fees and costs.~~

~~Section 15 of this bill repeals provisions authorizing additional awards of compensation when a court dismisses a claim arising from a communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern.]~~ Existing law also provides that if an action is brought against a person based upon such good faith

communication, the person may file a special motion to dismiss the claim. If a special motion to dismiss is filed, the court must first determine whether the moving party has established, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the claim is based upon a good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern. If the court determines that the moving party has met this burden, the court must then determine whether the person who brought the claim has established by clear and convincing evidence a probability of prevailing on the claim. While the court's ruling on the special motion to dismiss is pending and while the disposition of any appeal from that ruling is pending, the court must stay discovery. (NRS 41.660)

Section 13 of this bill revises provisions governing a special motion to dismiss a claim that is based upon a good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern. Section 13 increases from 7 days to 20 judicial days the time within which a court must rule on a special motion to dismiss. Section 13 also authorizes limited discovery for the purposes of allowing a party to obtain certain information necessary to meet or oppose the burden of the party who brought the claim to establish by clear and convincing evidence a probability of prevailing on the claim. Finally, section 13 authorizes the court to modify certain deadlines upon a finding that such a modification would serve the interests of justice.

Remarks by Assemblyman Wheeler.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHEELER:

Amendment 807 makes two changes to Senate Bill 110. It allows the Department of Motor Vehicles to charge and collect the established fee for a certificate of title to an abandoned recreational vehicle [RV]. It removes all references authorizing an occupant of the private property from processing the request for an abandoned RV title. This provides that only a property owner may request a title and dispose of an abandoned RV.

Existing law further requires the owner of a retail establishment to display a notice containing information relating to the prohibition against selling cigarettes and other tobacco products to minors whenever any product made or derived from tobacco is being sold or offered for sale at the establishment. A person who violates such a provision must pay a fine of not more than $100. (NRS 202.2493) Section 2 requires the owner of a retail establishment to display a notice containing information relating to the prohibition against selling vapor products and alternative nicotine products to minors whenever vapor products or alternative nicotine products are being sold or offered for sale at the establishment, and requires a person who violates such a provision to pay the same fine.

Existing law generally prohibits a retailer from selling cigarettes through the use of any type of display: (1) which contains cigarettes and is located in any area to which customers are allowed access; and (2) from which cigarettes are readily accessible to a customer without the assistance of the retailer. A person who violates such a provision must pay a fine of not more than $500. (NRS 202.2493) Section 2 additionally prohibits a retailer from selling vapor products and alternative nicotine products through the use of any such type of display which contains vapor products or alternative nicotine products, and requires a person who violates such a provision to pay the same fine.

Additionally, existing law requires the Attorney General, as necessary to comply with applicable federal law, to conduct random, unannounced inspections at locations where tobacco and products made or derived from tobacco are sold, distributed or offered for sale to inspect for and enforce compliance with certain provisions of law, including the prohibition against selling such products to a child under the age of 18 years. (NRS 202.2493, 202.2496) Section 3 of this bill requires the Attorney General, as necessary to comply with any applicable federal law, to conduct such an inspection at locations where vapor products or alternative nicotine products are sold, distributed or offered for sale to inspect for and enforce compliance with certain provisions of law relating to the prohibition against selling vapor products and alternative nicotine products to a child under the age of 18 years, as set forth in section 2.

Assemblywoman Titus moved the adoption of the amendment.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TITUS:

Amendment 735 to Senate Bill 172 allows physicians that are in an underserved area to have medical students that may be foreign medical students rotate with them under their direct supervision as long as they are directly supervised and they are in a shortage area.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BENITEZ-THOMPSON:

I have a question for the proponent of the amendment. As I read it and look at the language that is being added, American students have to meet the standard and the requirement of being in good standing and being from a medical school that is accredited by the American Medical Association, the Liason Committee on Medical Education, or the Association of American Medical Colleges. So American students have to meet those two standards before they can be placed and be laying their hands and practicing. They have to be from an accredited institution and they have to be in good standing. The way I read this amendment, it is saying that international students do not have to be held to that same standard. If that is true, then we are holding our American medical students to a higher standard by allowing international students to come into our rural areas and not have to meet those same qualifications.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TITUS:

Thank you for that question, my noted Assembly colleague from northern Nevada. To clarify that so that everyone understands what the real issue is, we have medical students from foreign medical schools come to America all the time. We have doctors from foreign medical schools come to America all the time. They have to pass certain tests to get here and then they are mainstreamed into the accredited programs. What this bill would prohibit and did not intend to—which is why the sponsor of this bill has allowed me to bring forward this amendment and will accept it on the other side—is recognize that there are many Nevada students who do not get accepted into Nevada medical schools who then do their training in Caribbean schools and in foreign schools. They want to come back here to Nevada and to the United States, and many do if there is an opening in the program. But many do not know what schools they want to go to when they finish perhaps their first two years. What this bill allows, and what has already happened, is students who are Nevada kids or kids from America can come back and rotate with us to see what my rural practice is like and what other rural practices are like. They may want to set up a practice or set up a residency here. We do now have residents from many foreign medical schools in this state.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Senate Bill 39 Senate Bill 39 requires that a state business license contain a business identification number assigned by the Secretary of State and that the Secretary of State assign an identification number in certain instances. In addition, the measure requires certain persons who are exempt from obtaining a state business license to obtain a certificate of exemption from the Secretary of State each year. The measure provides that the penalty for conducting business without obtaining a license be assessed for each year in which the business was conducted without a license and applies the penalty for not renewing a license until the person cancels his or her business license. If the person has not conducted business during the period in question, the Secretary of State shall waive any fees or penalties that have accrued.

The bill expands a resident agent's responsibility to receive and forward any service of process, notice, or demand and to maintain certain documents for a represented entity. It also provides that process may be served on a business by serving the business's resident agent and that the service is valid, regardless of whether the business is in default or revoked status or if there are any debts or disputes between the business and the resident agent.

Senate Bill 39 also allows the Secretary of State to halt the accrual of fees for a domestic or foreign business whose charter or certificate has been revoked. Similarly, the bill expands provisions concerning the renewal of a charter or certificate to additional domestic and foreign entities. Finally, the bill exempts from the annual state business license fee certain nonprofit unit-owners' associations.

Senate Bill 39 was presented by the Secretary of State. It is about 50 pages long. I could speak for about 50 minutes as to how great it is and how wonderful it is. I plan on doing that. Page 1—it is a great bill. I hope that everyone will support it.

The following amendment was proposed by Assemblyman Ohrenschall:

Amendment No. 904.

SUMMARY—Revises provisions relating to ~~[certain postconviction petitions for writs of habeas corpus.]~~ criminal procedure. (BDR 3-156)

AN ACT relating to criminal procedure; requiring an incarcerated person to exhaust all available administrative remedies before filing a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus challenging the computation of time the person has served pursuant to a judgment of conviction; revising provisions concerning the withdrawal of certain pleas after sentence is imposed or imposition of sentence is suspended; requiring a court to dismiss ~~[such]~~ a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus upon determining that the petitioner has not exhausted all available administrative remedies; requiring the Department of Corrections to establish procedures for the expedited resolution of a challenge to the computation of time that an offender has served under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes a person convicted of a crime and under sentence of death or imprisonment who claims that the time the person has served pursuant to the judgment of conviction has been improperly computed to file a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus to challenge the computation of time that the person has served. (NRS 34.724) Section 1 of this bill requires a person to exhaust all administrative remedies available for resolving a challenge to the computation of time that he or she has served as set forth in regulations adopted by the Department of Corrections before the person may file such a petition. Section 2 of this bill requires a court to dismiss such a petition if the court determines that the petitioner has not exhausted all available administrative remedies. Section 2.5 of this bill requires the Department to establish procedures for the expedited resolution of a challenge to the computation of time that an offender has served that is brought by the offender within 180 days before the offender's projected discharge date as determined by the Department. Section 3 of this bill provides that the amendatory provisions of this bill do not apply to a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus which challenges the computation of time that a petitioner has served that is filed on or before the effective date of this bill.

Existing law also authorizes a person convicted of a crime and under sentence of death or imprisonment to file a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus to challenge the conviction or sentence as having been obtained or imposed in violation of state law or a constitutional right. Existing law provides that, with the exception of a direct appeal or a remedy which is incident to the proceedings in the trial court, the petition for a writ of habeas corpus replaces all other common law, statutory or other remedies which have been available for challenging the validity of the conviction or sentence and must be used exclusively in place of them. (NRS 34.724) Existing law also authorizes a criminal defendant to withdraw a plea of guilty, guilty but mentally ill or nolo contendere at any time before sentencing, and also permits the withdrawal of such a plea after sentencing, but only to correct a manifest injustice. (NRS 176.165)

In 2000, the Nevada Supreme Court held that a postconviction motion to withdraw a guilty plea to correct a manifest injustice was a remedy incident to the proceedings in the trial court. Accordingly, the motion had not been replaced by the petition for a writ of habeas corpus and was not subject to the various procedural requirements that govern such petitions. (Hart v. State, 116 Nev. 558 (2000)) The Nevada Supreme Court recently overruled Hart. The Court held that a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus provides the exclusive remedy for a challenge to the validity of a guilty plea made after sentencing for persons in custody on the conviction being challenged and overruled Hart to the extent that it concluded otherwise. (Harris v. State, 130 Nev. Adv. Op. 47, 329 P.3d 619 (2014))

Section 1 expressly provides that a motion to withdraw a plea of guilty, guilty but mentally ill or nolo contendere pursuant to NRS 176.165 that is made after sentence is imposed or imposition of sentence is suspended is a remedy which is incident to the proceedings in the trial court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 34.724 is hereby amended to read as follows:

34.724 1. ~~[Any]~~ Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, any person convicted of a crime and under sentence of death or imprisonment who claims that the conviction was obtained, or that the sentence was imposed, in violation of the Constitution of the United States or the Constitution or laws of this State, or who claims that the time the person has served pursuant to the judgment of conviction has been improperly computed, may, without paying a filing fee, file a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus to obtain relief from the conviction or sentence or to challenge the computation of time that the person has served.

2. Such a petition:

(a) Is not a substitute for and does not affect any remedies which are incident to the proceedings in the trial court or the remedy of direct review of the sentence or conviction.

(b) Comprehends and takes the place of all other common-law, statutory or other remedies which have been available for challenging the validity of the conviction or sentence, and must be used exclusively in place of them.

3. Before a person may file a petition pursuant to this section that challenges the computation of time that the person has served pursuant to a judgment of conviction ~~[.]~~ , the person must exhaust all administrative remedies available for resolving a challenge to the computation of time that the person has served as set forth in regulations adopted by the Department of Corrections.

4. For the purposes of this section, a motion to withdraw a plea of guilty, guilty but mentally ill or nolo contendere pursuant to NRS 176.165 that is made after sentence is imposed or imposition of sentence is suspended is a remedy which is incident to the proceedings in the trial court.

Sec. 2. NRS 34.810 is hereby amended to read as follows:

34.810 1. The court shall dismiss a petition if the court determines that:

(a) The petitioner's conviction was upon a plea of guilty or guilty but mentally ill and the petition is not based upon an allegation that the plea was involuntarily or unknowingly entered or that the plea was entered without effective assistance of counsel.

(b) The petitioner's conviction was the result of a trial and the grounds for the petition could have been:

(1) Presented to the trial court;

(2) Raised in a direct appeal or a prior petition for a writ of habeas corpus or postconviction relief; or

(3) Raised in any other proceeding that the petitioner has taken to secure relief from the petitioner's conviction and sentence,

➥ unless the court finds both cause for the failure to present the grounds and actual prejudice to the petitioner.

2. A second or successive petition must be dismissed if the judge or justice determines that it fails to allege new or different grounds for relief and that the prior determination was on the merits or, if new and different grounds are alleged, the judge or justice finds that the failure of the petitioner to assert those grounds in a prior petition constituted an abuse of the writ.

3. Pursuant to subsections 1 and 2, the petitioner has the burden of pleading and proving specific facts that demonstrate:

(a) Good cause for the petitioner's failure to present the claim or for presenting the claim again; and

(b) Actual prejudice to the petitioner.

➥ The petitioner shall include in the petition all prior proceedings in which the petitioner challenged the same conviction or sentence.

4. The court shall dismiss a petition that challenges the computation of time which a petitioner has served pursuant to a judgment of conviction if the court determines that the petitioner has not exhausted all administrative remedies available for resolving a challenge to the computation of time which the petitioner has served as required pursuant to subsection 3 of NRS 34.724.

5. The court may dismiss a petition that fails to include any prior proceedings of which the court has knowledge through the record of the court or through the pleadings submitted by the respondent.

Sec. 2.5. Chapter 209 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

The Department shall adopt regulations to establish procedures for the expedited resolution of a challenge to the computation of time that an offender has served that is brought by the offender within 180 days before the offender's projected discharge date as determined by the Department.

Sec. 2.7. NRS 209.432 is hereby amended to read as follows:

209.432 As used in NRS 209.432 to 209.451, inclusive, and section 2.5 of this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Offender" includes:

(a) A person who is convicted of a felony under the laws of this State and sentenced, ordered or otherwise assigned to serve a term of residential confinement.

(b) A person who is convicted of a felony under the laws of this State and assigned to the custody of the Division of Parole and Probation of the Department of Public Safety pursuant to NRS 209.4886 or 209.4888.

2. "Residential confinement" means the confinement of a person convicted of a felony to his or her place of residence under the terms and conditions established pursuant to specific statute. The term does not include any confinement ordered pursuant to NRS 176A.530 to 176A.560, inclusive, 176A.660 to 176A.690, inclusive, 213.15105, 213.15193 or 213.152 to 213.1528, inclusive.

Sec. 3. 1. The amendatory provisions of this act do not apply to a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus that challenges the computation of time which a petitioner has served pursuant to a judgment of conviction that is filed on or before the effective date of this act.

Sec. 4. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval.

Remarks by Assemblyman Ohrenschall.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Amendment 904 to Senate Bill 53 incorporates the language of Assembly Bill 262 that passed out of your Committee on Judiciary unanimously earlier this spring and passed out of this house unanimously. The amendment will allow a person to petition the court to request to withdraw a guilty plea if and only if they are able to establish that there was a violation of a constitutional right in their case, that that violation resulted in a manifest injustice, and that the withdrawal of the plea does not unduly prejudice the prosecutors.

In the committee, we heard testimony of examples in which a person did not learn of serious negative consequences until years after they had entered a plea. There was testimony about people who had entered a guilty plea without proper advice from an attorney or perhaps an attorney had not been appointed for them. Years later, they found out they may not be able to own a firearm or remain a member of the military due to loss of an important right like that. In a case such as that where the defendant does not learn of the consequences until years later and they can establish that their constitutional rights were violated during this process, the current remedies available in statute, habeas corpus and coram nobis, are not going to address their issue and are not going to provide a remedy. I urge the body to adopt the amendment.

Senate Bill No. 54.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Diaz.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

Senate Bill 54 provides that for all category A felonies—except murder or sexual assault—and for certain category B felonies, if a comprehensive risk assessment conducted by the Division of Public and Behavioral Health indicates that the offender does not require the level of security provided by a forensic facility, a prosecuting attorney's request for a hearing on whether the offender should be committed to the custody of the Division must be dismissed. The bill also removes the requirement that a court find by clear and convincing evidence that a person no longer has a mental disorder to be eligible for discharge from conditional release. The bill is effective upon passage and approval.

ASSEMBLYMAN TROWBRIDGE:

Senate Bill 59 requires the Secretary of State to establish common business registration information that is used by state and local agencies and health districts and to cause the state business portal to make that information available to these same entities that conduct necessary transactions with businesses in the state. It also allows these entities, to the extent practicable, to integrate their electronic application systems with the state business portal; to use the portal to accept and disseminate information necessary for the issuance of business licenses, registrations, permits, or similar authorizations; to make related applications available on the Internet; and to integrate those applications with the business portal. The bill clarifies that any information that is deemed confidential under state or federal law need not be disseminated and, similarly, that records and files collected as common business registration information are confidential unless an exception applies. It also does all kinds of really good stuff that will become effective on July 1, 2015.

ASSEMBLYMAN JONES:

Senate Bill 129 provides immunity from civil liability to a sponsor, veterinarian, equine professional, or any other person for the injury or death of a participant resulting from risks inherent in certain equine activities. The bill also specifies both the behavior necessary on the part of a participant in an equine activity and instances in which a sponsor or other equine professional is not immune from civil liability, including if a person fails to act responsibly while conducting an equine activity or maintaining an equine.

Remarks by Assemblyman O'Neill.

ASSEMBLYMAN O'NEILL:

Senate Bill 138 provides that each law enforcement agency in the state must report annually to the Attorney General specific information about each seizure and forfeiture it conducts. The Office of the Attorney General is to develop standardized forms for law enforcement agencies to use for the reports and is to make the reports available on its website by April 1 of each year along with an aggregate report of all forfeitures in the state.

The measure requires a plaintiff to file a complaint for forfeiture within 120 days after property has been seized if the property was seized without process. In addition, the forfeiture of property seized by a law enforcement agency is prohibited under certain circumstances. If a criminal trial is pending, an order staying a proceeding for forfeiture remains in effect until the completion of the criminal trial. Seized property is required to be returned within seven business days under certain circumstances.

Lastly, if a court accepts a plea or a stipulated agreement is reached between the claimant and the plaintiff to forfeit property, the court must order the forfeiture.

Senate Bill 162 repeals current Nevada law governing the provision of medical records by a claimant or a claimant's attorney upon the request of an insurer or other party who is the subject of a personal injury claim brought under a policy of motor vehicle insurance covering a passenger car.

This has been a negotiated deal in both houses, and I would request that everyone vote for it.

Senate Bill No. 168.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Silberkraus, Kirkpatrick, Fiore, and Seaman.

ASSEMBLYMAN SILBERKRAUS:

Senate Bill 168 authorizes a local government to reopen a collective bargaining agreement during a fiscal emergency and sets forth the circumstances under which such an emergency shall be deemed to exist. Negotiations must begin no later than 21 days after the local government employer notifies the employee organization that a fiscal emergency exists. The bill provides, for certain funds of any local government other than a school district, that a budgeted ending fund balance of not more than 25 percent of the total budgeted expenditures for a general fund, less capital outlay, is not subject to negotiation and cannot be considered by a fact finder or arbitrator in determining ability to pay compensation or monetary benefits. This bill is effective upon passage and approval.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

I have been in this building a really long time and every single time, public employees are asked to come to the table to make changes to things in order to make this building—which truly is not even affected by the job they do—run better. They have been at the table in 2009, they have been at the table in 2011, they have been at the table this time, and guess what? They have been at the table back home while the rest of us are sitting in this room and asking them to do this.

My point is, 25 percent of the ending fund balance was addressed in Assembly Bill 54 which was heard and passed on the Senate side. It addressed when we should open up contracts and how that works. We have addressed how we reopen contracts since 2009 and here, once again, it is never enough. It is not good enough. But to exempt one group from the 25 percent ending fund balance? I do not know how we do that, especially in this building. We all sit here and each and every one of you remind me that local government employees get paid too much, local government employees have too much, but when it comes to bills to make sure that local governments pay their fair share on sales tax, I get pushback. When it comes to making sure that local governments play fair, I get pushback for trying to do that. At the same time, we are hindering them while giving them all the money and the home rule, which we have passed for the first time in 30 years in this building, and yet it is not enough for them.

I do not understand how any one of us can single out one group and think they are better than anybody else when it comes to an ending fund balance. I get opening contracts. Many of our public employees have been doing that for a really long time, but at what point is it too much? The local government finance board are the people who really know what monies they have. That is their responsibility. We, the Legislature, give these independent people who are all about local government the ability to do that, yet we will not let them do their job.

What I say to this body is, Let us start getting rid of this stuff in statute. If we want to put a law in place and we do not want all these quasi-public agencies to do the work that we allow them to do because they are better at it, get rid of them. I will put in a bill tomorrow as an emergency measure that gets rid of 2,168 quasi-public agencies so we can do our job because we are not letting them do it. I have a problem—I offered an amendment in committee; it was not even considered. Yet here we are allowing one group to be out and one group to do something different.

For my folks who live in the rural counties, guess what? You are going to be back here next session fixing this because your people are never ever going to get a raise. They are never ever going to get better benefits because you are limiting them to 25 percent. I can speak to this because I live in the city of North Las Vegas, which was in financial trouble because people kept moving dollars around. I agreed to work with the Department of Taxation to fix that issue. I get it. But this was not discussed. It was a very short hearing on a day when we were told only five questions and we are moving on.

This is going to have long-term effects, and I will not support anything that is not good policy. For all of you in the rural counties, 25 percent—just wait until you cannot recruit employees, just like the state cannot recruit. Do you know why? Because we keep taking everything away from folks because we do not want to pay them and we do not want them to have benefits. At the same time, here are the ramifications. I will say it for the 150th time: We pay for them. The state pays for them. Do you know why? We pay for them on Medicaid, we pay for them on social services, and we pay for them on food stamps. So if we cannot agree to let people have a decent wage with fair benefits, then the state should do its part and live up to it. I rise in opposition, and I encourage each and every one of you to think about what you are doing today.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FIORE:
I have a question for the Assemblywoman from District 1. Is this not a kumbaya bill?

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:
This is not a kumbaya bill in my words.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FIORE:
I suggest we oppose it until this whole body gets together and figures it out. So I stand in opposition with the Assemblywoman from District 1 and I urge my colleagues to oppose it as well.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SEAMAN:
I rise in support of Senate Bill 168, and I would like to remind this body that this bill is for a fiscal emergency. Over the last few years, our local government revenues have been declining and some were not able to meet their obligations. With this bill, local governments will have a better opportunity to avoid layoffs and continue a balanced budgeting approach for our shared constituents. I urge each and every one of you to support Senate Bill 168 and remind you, once again, that this bill is for a fiscal emergency.

Senate Bill No. 174.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman Nelson.

ASSEMBLYMAN NELSON:

Senate Bill 174 excludes a person, other than one appointed by a declarant, from being a candidate for or a member of the executive board of a unit-owners' association if the person resides with, is married to, is a domestic partner of, or is related within the third degree of consanguinity to a board member or the person stands to gain any personal profit or compensation from a matter before the board.

The exclusions do not apply to a candidate for the executive board or a person who owns 75 percent or more of the units in an association so long as doing so will not mean that two persons who meet any of the conditions described above and who serve on a board together will constitute a majority of the board membership.

Lastly, this bill provides that if a person is not eligible to be a candidate for or member of the executive board or an officer of an association, the association must not place the person's name on the ballot and must prohibit such a person from serving as a member of the executive board or an officer of the association.
