OF THE

ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

SEVENTY-EIGHTH SESSION

THE FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 2, 2015

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and Statutes, the Assembly was called to order by Secretary of State Barbara Cegavske at 11:20 a.m.

Prayer by the Bishop Randolph R. Calvo, Diocese of Reno, Roman Catholic Church, Reno, Nevada.

As the State Assembly convenes for this legislative session, we call upon you, God, creator and source of life and goodness, and ask for Your blessing upon this body as it undertakes the work entrusted to it by the people of Nevada.

Each day You give us the opportunity to start anew, to do good, to set things right, and to make a positive difference in our communities and in our world.

Inspire our minds and hearts so that we may look upon this legislative session as such an opportunity for the people we serve, not only our constituents, but all the people of our state.

Guide us with the light of Your wisdom so that all our decisions may seek the common good of all citizens, protect the dignity of every human being, and provide a future for our children.

May a spirit of cooperation prevail in the deliberations of this assembly and may this session be a model of how citizens with different opinions and worldviews can work together for a shared purpose: the common good.

We pray this, O God, confident in Your love and mercy, as we say, Amen!

Amen.

ASSEMBLYMAN PAUL ANDERSON:

I would be remiss, in light of recent events, if I did not take the opportunity to publicly thank a few folks this afternoon. As you all may know, my wife and kids were involved in a major car accident this weekend as they traveled up for today's events.

My sincere thanks go out to the first responders from Lyon County—sheriffs, firefighters, paramedics, the Nevada Highway Patrol, and the amazing team of professionals at Renown Hospital. They were there to protect and serve my family when I could not. I will eternally be grateful for their service.

Mr. Speaker, congratulations. Your election as Speaker of this illustrious body adds yet another chapter to a biography that is as expansive and diverse as anyone who has sat in the Speaker's chair. You are a retired Secret Service officer and a loving husband and father. You've survived cancer and helped your loved ones survive it, too. In your legislative fights against human trafficking, you have stood up for some of the least fortunate in all of Nevada.

You are a great example of a public servant, and I am proud to serve by your side. The 77th Legislative Session was my first, and as I watched Speaker Kirkpatrick put policy before politics well beyond the 120 days of session, I believe she set a new high bar for us to achieve in the Nevada Assembly. In the months ahead, I am confident that we will appreciate the experience and warm heart of our new Speaker as we work together again to take on the tough issues of the day.

Today we officially turn our attention to the people's business. While hard campaigning and partisan politics may have won us our jobs, they do little to help us do our jobs. The Nevada Constitution gives us our direction—we have a finite number of days to complete an ever-growing list of tasks. Much has changed since this Legislature was last in session. We have new leadership and many new faces.

As the chair of Ways and Means, learning to see all things through numbers and data, I thought it appropriate to consider some of our membership statistics. Approximately 40 percent of our members are freshmen. I welcome you—I know how you feel. Most of us were freshmen ourselves not that long ago. In fact, 35 of the 42 members of this Assembly have been elected since 2010. Only seven members, or 12 percent, served in the Assembly during the 2009 Session when we first began to tackle the Great Recession. Speaker Hambrick and former Speaker Kirkpatrick were among those seven. We will continue to lean on their wisdom and leadership. Given how much Nevada and this Assembly have transformed in the last few years, I am not concerned with our ability to handle change. I am concerned about our ability to develop new solutions to longstanding challenges. As the wise man whose portrait hangs above us said, "You cannot escape the responsibility of tomorrow by evading it today."

This session, we should embrace the responsibilities of tomorrow, finding great opportunity in the challenges before us. Let us find solutions any way we can and in places we may have been afraid to look before. Let us bring our whole effort and our diverse perspectives to the task at hand. Let us agree where we can, disagree where we must, while never forgetting our duty. Finally, although we may share different goals for this session, I hope we are united in our desire to work as hard as we can in pursuit of what we hold dear. We have all made too many sacrifices to be here to squander any moment. Now is the time to get to work. I am proud and humbled to serve by your side.

I am proud to be a Nevadan. May God bless us in our endeavor. May God bless our new Speaker and the great state of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

Good afternoon, Mr. Speaker, and congratulations. I'm going to try to be quick because we all have a lot of two-year olds who want to have their turn on the microphone. First and foremost, I definitely want to congratulate you and welcome you in that position. There are a lot of things that I know about folks, being here for five sessions, and I can tell you the one thing I do know is your family is most important, and your love for your beautiful wife Nancy is a top priority. That tells me a lot about the core man that you are, and I look forward to working with that person in your position.

What I will also say is, this institution is amazing. It is an amazing place where we are, and it's a true honor that we all get to be in here. But we have a job to do. We have a job to represent our constituents, we have a job to represent our families, and we have a job to ensure that we treat our staff with respect. I hope that each and every legislator in this body will do that, and I believe under your leadership, I trust that you will hold folks to that because that is key to building our state for the future. Let's be clear: We're going to have some tough discussions, and that's okay. I've been here five sessions and many others have been here. We look forward to it—that's the job we were given to do. But let's work on the things that we can agree to do together. Let's move our state forward. Let's talk about a revenue structure that will be great for my little two-year old and six-month old grandchildren when they are standing in this same seat hopefully someday. Let's talk about moving education forward. As the Governor said, we need to do this for all Nevadans and to make Nevada better. I wish you all the luck. I will be there to work with you and to work with all of my colleagues to ensure that in 120 days, we stand together and we can stand and be proud of what we did and how we moved our state forward. Congratulations.

MR. SPEAKER:

For those of you who have known me for a few years, there's a very simple down home saying, "Who'd a thunk?" I'm honored to be here. So many of you will become friends and colleagues. We have a tough job ahead of us. We have heard the Governor's call. We are going to have to sit down in our committees and have a lot of heavy discussions, but I sincerely hope we can do it in a spirit of congeniality.

Ladies and gentlemen, we are here for one purpose and one purpose only—to serve the people of this great state. They expect it and they truly deserve it. I sincerely hope that as the days and weeks wear on, we will not forget that. We may come from different political backgrounds, but as I just said, there's a single purpose in our mission. Those that put you in these seats—we do not own these seats, we only occupy them—the people own these seats. As former Speaker Pro Tempore and leader of the opposition Bernie Anderson said, "This is the People's House and we work for the people." Never forget that.

To let you know how things go in these ceremonies, I was supposed to have a 19 page dialogue. Well, it's not here, so you're only going to get five pages. But we have work to do in this Chamber this afternoon. The members will break in a few moments to allow family and loved ones to leave, particularly those who have young children. They have been great so far—amazingly great. They have been quieter than I have been in my seat. We need to allow the families with small ones to get out and stretch their legs and maybe their lungs, but I would ask that the members remain.

We will take a recess for about 10 or 15 minutes, but I want the members to remain. As soon as family have departed, we will get back to work.

Assemblywoman Woodbury nominated Assemblyman Ellison for Speaker pro Tempore.

Assemblyman Stewart moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker declared Assemblyman Ellison to be Speaker pro Tempore of the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker declared that nominations were in order for Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Assemblyman Stewart nominated Ms. Susan Furlong for Chief Clerk.

Assemblywoman Bustamante Adams moved that nominations be closed.

Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Speaker declared Ms. Susan Furlong to be Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Kirner, Trowbridge, and Munford as a committee to inform the Senate that the Assembly is organized and ready for business.

Mr. Speaker appointed Assemblymen Paul Anderson, Ellison, and Kirkpatrick as a committee to inform the Governor that the Assembly is organized and ready for business.

Assemblyman Paul Anderson reported that his committee had informed the Governor that the Assembly was organized and ready for business.

A committee from the Senate composed of Senators Gustavson, Hardy, and Manendo appeared before the bar of the Assembly and announced that the Senate was organized and ready for business.

Assemblyman Kirner reported that his committee had informed the Senate that the Assembly was organized and ready for business.

Mr. Speaker announced that if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Paul Anderson requested that the Governor's State of the State Address as presented to the Legislative Commission's Special Committee to Receive the Governor's State of the State Address of January 15, 2015, be entered in the Journal.

GOVERNOR BRIAN SANDOVAL:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, distinguished members of the Legislature, Honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, Constitutional Officers, my fellow Nevadans:

I'm incredibly grateful and honored that I have the privilege of serving as your governor.

Tonight I wish to speak with you, not just about the state of our state, but about a plan to modernize and transform Nevada for its next 50 years of success.

Before I begin, let me take a moment to recognize Nevada's First Lady, the most amazing First Lady in the United States of America, as well as my daughters Maddy and Marisa. Also with me tonight are my parents, Ron and Teri Sandoval, and my sister Lauri.

Tonight we welcome 20 freshmen legislators. It brings back great memories for me because it was 20 years ago when I was first a member of this body.

Will all the new legislators please stand up and be recognized.

Sadly, since we last met, a great many former legislators have departed. We lost a Nevada giant in Speaker Joe Dini. A total of 19 legislators will long be remembered for their service. If you'd all please join me in a moment of silence in their honor. Thank you.

One month ago today at the final event of the Nevada Sesquicentennial, I helped seal a time capsule that is now buried at the Capitol. The contents capture a snapshot of the Nevada family today, to be presented to a 200-year-old Nevada in 2064. I wrote a letter to Nevada's bicentennial governor. As I wrote, I realized that the success or failure of the governor and people of Nevada in 2064 will largely depend upon our decisions today.

Ladies and gentlemen, we stand at a unique moment in time. Having just completed our Sesquicentennial, we have proudly celebrated our state's history. Tonight we begin writing the next chapter of that story. We must decide if that chapter is about getting through the next two years or about creating a new Nevada for the generations to come.

The most recent chapter of our story required strength and perseverance as we weathered one of the worst economic storms in our history. These times were even more challenging because they coincided with two long and difficult wars. And even though they said it couldn't be done, we laid the foundation for a new Nevada. Nevada became one of only six national training sites for unmanned aerial vehicles. We attracted Tesla in one of the most competitive site selections in our nation's history. We became home to dozens of other national brands who now employ Nevadans in industries of the future—cyber security, medicine, aviation, renewable energy, manufacturing, data storage, and more.

During my first State of the State Message in 2011, Nevada led the nation in unemployment. We set a goal of 50,000 new jobs; we have almost doubled that. Today, Nevada's job growth is third strongest in the country, we have cut our unemployment rate in half, and we have the second fastest growing population in the United States of America. We are adding good jobs in almost every sector, with business services, manufacturing, health services, gaming, and tourism leading the way.

And yet, the success of our state is inextricably linked to the well-being of our most vulnerable citizens. I believe we have made significant progress in this regard. Two years ago, 23 percent of Nevadans lacked health insurance, the second worst ranking in the nation. Today that number has been reduced by more than half, to 11 percent, and we are the fourth most improved state in the country.

Even better, the uninsured rate for our children has dropped from 15 percent to 2 percent. Nearly three-fourths of our Medicaid and Nevada Check-Up populations are covered by care management, which saves the state $13 million and ensures that Nevadans receive timely, cost-effective, and appropriate health care.

In 2013, our behavioral health system was in a crisis. Individuals waited days to access inpatient psychiatric treatment, and emergency rooms were overflowing. Through the work of the Department of Health and Human Services, the specially-created Behavioral Health and Wellness Council, and many others, there have been dramatic improvements. And for all of you that have been associated with that, I thank you.

We also focused on education. We expanded full-day kindergarten. We created new programs for English language learners. We increased funding for special education, supported school choice through the creation of a Charter School Authority, and dedicated ourselves to college and career-ready standards and assessments. Our colleges and universities modernized their funding formula, rewarding performance and success. We accomplished much in the worst economic crisis since the Great Depression.

Because of our collective effort, I believe that we stand at the threshold of a new Nevada—a Nevada prepared to take its place among the most innovative, visionary, and well-educated states in the nation.

Although we can never lose our focus on job creation and the economy, we must now turn our attention to Nevada's generations to come—the youth of our state. I featured them at my inaugural for a reason; they are incredibly talented, hard-working, and determined, and it is they who will live with the decisions we make during this legislative session. I know this view is shared by all of you assembled. I am relying on the four leaders of this institution—Senator Roberson, Speaker Hambrick, Senator Ford, Assemblywoman Kirkpatrick—to work with me on what must be done. We have already started, and I thank them for their leadership.

It's no mystery. Nevada's new companies will need a highly skilled workforce. Our historic industries will as well. Improving our public education system must therefore begin with modernization, and modernization requires investment. But our investment cannot be buying more of the same. We have to own the fact that our K-12 system doesn't need to improve—it must improve.

Today's public education system was largely established in the 1950s, when public leaders responded to challenges similar to what we confront today. Rapid enrollment growth spurred voters to implement the first state sales tax in 1955. Governor Russell, with the assistance of the Legislature, went even further, consolidating over 150 school districts into the current 17, based on county lines. This made sense in 1955. Nevada's entire population at that time was just 237,000 people—roughly two-thirds the number of students in the Clark County School District.

In 1967, educational needs again required leadership, and the Legislature enacted the Nevada Plan for School Finance. This plan sought to stabilize state funding to local school districts. In that year, Nevada's entire population was roughly 450,000—less than today's total enrollment in all public schools.

Not only was the Silver State less populated 50 years ago, Nevadans were financially better off. From the end of World War II until the late 1960s, Nevada's per capita income was among the highest in the West. In contrast, today almost one out of four children in Nevada lives in poverty.

Our population is also much more diverse. Nevada is a different place. America is a different place. The world is a different place. Yet we rely upon the same public education governance and financing models established 50 years ago.

I submit to you this evening that an education system for this century requires bold new ideas to meet the reality of our time. I am asking the Legislature to join me in beginning the work of comprehensive modernization of our education system to meet the needs of today's students and the new Nevada.

This work begins with our youngest learners. Nevada has the lowest preschool attendance of any state in the nation. Thanks to a recent federal grant and matching funds provided in my budget, we will improve this worst-in-the-country statistic by doubling the number of seats for those children. My budget also finishes what we started two years ago—the expansion of all-day kindergarten to every school in the state of Nevada. These two efforts provide a foundation for the future success of all our children.

But we also must improve our students' reading skills. Studies show that a child's chances of graduating from high school are cut in half if they are not reading at grade level by third grade. I will therefore work with Senator Becky Harris and the Senate Committee on Education to introduce a "Read by Three" bill to help ensure every student is reading by third grade. My budget includes nearly $30 million to support this literacy effort.

My budget also begins modernizing our classrooms through instructional technology. Today we invest less than $4 million over the biennium in school technology. My budget will launch the Nevada Ready 21 Plan. This plan will put digital devices in the hands of middle school students throughout Nevada and ensure teachers have the necessary training for this new environment. Nearly $50 million will be invested. As we expand technology, we must take steps to protect privacy. I encourage this Legislature to work with the various stakeholders to enact legislation protecting student data.

Our most troubling education statistic is Nevada's worst-in-the-nation high school graduation rate. We have to do better. My budget includes a new grants program designed to ensure students are college and career ready by graduation—as well as a significant expansion of career and technical education, Jobs for America's Graduates, and STEM education. In total, this effort will make over $20 million available to our high schools.

We must remember that the new Nevada will be different in other ways from 50 years ago. Our students are different and their needs are different. The 40-year-old Nevada Plan for School Finance must be modernized to consider the needs of individual students. A better alternative uses weighted formulas where students with differing needs would receive additional dollars based on a percentage of the base amount. In the second year of the coming biennium, my budget will establish the first of these funding categories in Special Education and then work toward a final weighted formula. Other categories will follow in subsequent years.

Last session we introduced, for the first time, additional resources for Nevada's English language learners. We created the Zoom Schools, and early indicators point to the kind of success that we expected. My budget doubles our original investment, and we will put a total of $100 million in the Zoom Schools.

But English language learners are not the only school population with differing needs. My budget includes $50 million for students in the most impoverished parts of our state. These schools require a solution to win the struggles their students face every day. I propose calling them "Victory Schools," signifying our commitment to helping these students overcome adversity.

We have also historically neglected our gifted and talented learners, allocating less than $200,000 per year for these students. My recommended budget provides $10 million to establish a true Gifted and Talented Learner allocation. These initiatives represent a down payment on total modernization of the Nevada Plan.

Legislation this session will also adjust when we count student enrollment, increase transparency in the funding model, ensure money reaches the classroom, and modernize equity allocation. A hard reality of Nevada schools today is that they are simply overcrowded and need maintenance. Imagine sitting in a high school class in Las Vegas with over 40 students and no air conditioning. The need is real. Therefore, I will support legislation to approve a temporary rollover of bonding authority for the construction and maintenance of our local schools, with state oversight.

While some must recognize the hard truth that our education system will not improve without more funding, others must accept the reality that improvements will not be made without accountability measures, collective bargaining reform, and school choice. Our new investments must come with performance measures and accountability. We will only pay for programs that make a difference in the lives of students. I will again support Opportunity Scholarships, giving tax credits to businesses that provide tuition-based scholarships for at-risk students to attend private schools. Through the leadership of Assemblywoman Melissa Woodbury, the Assembly Committee on Education will introduce this legislation. And I will sign it when it reaches my desk.

I support legislation that increases the quality of public charter schools. My budget provides $20 million in matching funding to encourage successful, proven charter school organizations to open more charter schools in Nevada.

And based on recent events, I have concluded that local school boards should be appointed, not elected. Although well intended, some of these boards have become disconnected from their communities. I will therefore support legislation to provide for the appointment of members of local school boards.

We must also recognize that Nevada's school districts may be too large or too small. Today, they range in size from 74 students in Esmeralda County to over 318,000 students in Clark County. I will introduce legislation that allows local governments to create smaller school districts in our urban counties and consolidate school districts in our rural counties.

I will also support legislation to enact true collective bargaining reform in our school system. In 2011, I asked the Legislature for a more balanced approach to contract negotiations. Most bills never received a hearing. I again stand ready to work with you to ensure that employee compensation is fair, but also recognizes the need for reform.

We cannot expect that governance and financing models alone will address the underlying issues that prevent many students from learning. Achieving meaningful public school reform also means addressing the environment in which our children learn. Our First Lady has long been a champion for our youth and in recent months, she has focused her abundant energies on hunger in our schools. Responding to the recommendations from the Food Security Task Force, my budget includes $2 million to expand breakfast in the classroom, and legislation will be introduced to leverage federal spending in this area.

The onset of the Internet, texting, Twitter, Snapchat, Facebook, and other technologies has introduced new stressors in the lives of our youth, without necessary coping skills. Many have nowhere to turn, resulting in lower grades, school absence, and in the worst cases, violence and tragedy. The price paid by some is staggering. With us tonight from Las Vegas are Mary Bryan, Aimee Hairr, and Jason Lamberth, whose children were the victims of school bullying. Unfortunately, these parents are not alone. Over 4,000 incidents of bullying and cyberbullying were reported in Nevada during the last school year. I will work with Senator Parks and Assemblywoman Spiegel, champions of school safety and anti-bullying efforts, to propose legislation this session to reform Nevada's anti-bullying laws. In addition, a new Office for Safe and Respectful Learning will administer $36 million in grants for social workers in our schools, as recommended by the Behavioral Health and Wellness Council.

Teachers and principals who lead our schools also deserve our support through investment and accountability. We must empower them. That is why I am introducing legislation to strengthen the current pay-for-performance laws. We will require districts to set aside money to reward the very best teachers and principals and attract them to teach at underperforming schools.

I have also substantially increased the state's commitment to professional development through a Great Teaching and Leading Fund. These funds will be used to improve the teaching profession, attract new teachers, and train the kind of school leaders that we need.

Finally, we must acknowledge that far too many of our schools are persistently failing. Tomorrow, our Department of Education will release a list of underperforming schools. The list includes 10 percent of the schools in our state. Many have been failing for more than a decade. We must draw a line in the sand and say No more. I am therefore requesting the creation of an "Achievement School District." This unique school district will manage failing schools without regard to location. I have asked former Washoe County Superintendent Pedro Martinez to help with this initiative as a Superintendent in Residence in the Nevada Department of Education. Pedro, I thank you for your leadership on this issue.

Ladies and gentlemen, this is my plan to improve education in the state of Nevada. We will make investments from early learning through high school graduation. We will support enhancements in technology, students at risk, gifted students, teachers and principals, school choice, and construction. We will tie those investments to performance, with targeted grants wherever possible. There will be no blank check. We will revise collective bargaining laws. We will also modernize and transform the system. And we will ensure that all of our students are ready for success in college and careers, every single one of them.

Today only one out of three Nevadans have the benefit of education or training after high school. Yet we know the jobs of the future will require two-thirds of us to have post high school credentials. The new Nevada will need more scientists, machinists, engineers, computer programmers, welders, and other STEM workers to grow our new industries. Our colleges and universities are the key. Last session we took steps to introduce performance funding to the Nevada System of Higher Education. The institutions responded, and tonight I am pleased to announce additional investments in our colleges and universities.

My budget includes new operating funds in the amount of $76 million for higher education plus $24 million in bond funding for capital construction. The Nevada System of Higher Education sees a growth of over 8 percent in state support over the next budget cycle. A UNLV hotel school is funded with $24 million. There is no reason why the best hotel school in the nation shouldn't be in the greatest city in the nation, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Las Vegas also needs a medical school. It is the largest metropolitan area in the nation without one. The Board of Regents has recognized this need, and I am pleased to provide the first $9.3 million for the initial costs of establishing the new UNLV Medical School.

Although we will establish a medical school at UNLV, Nevada needs more doctors now. My budget includes $10 million in new funding for graduate medical education to attract and retain the best new doctors in America to train and stay in Nevada.

All in—from preschool through graduate school—the proposals I have outlined tonight will invest $882 million in education in our state over the next two years. Ladies and gentlemen, I do not make these proposals lightly. I know that they change the way that we approach education. But I also know that our system must improve and that every child deserves a chance to succeed.

The investment in our children and transformation of our education system is absolutely necessary, and so tonight, I ask for your help in creating the funding base to pay for it. For four years, we have held the line on spending. Temporary revenue measures, cuts, and efficiencies were necessary. We sought to get Nevada working again, and we did it. Businesses were able to get back on their feet and plan for the future. We also cut red tape and improved state government. Yet caseload growth, school enrollment, and infrastructure needs place new pressures on state spending every single day.

In the current fiscal year, despite an improving economy and record job growth, we would be unable to pay our bills without significant adjustments to the approved spending plan. This year alone we are $150 million below forecasts—and this is in a time of economic recovery. Our current revenue structures do not keep up with growth. The Economic Forum set available General Fund revenues for the next biennium at approximately $6.3 billion. Our current biennial budget is $6.6 billion. For the coming budget cycle, the Forum projects General Fund revenues will only be slightly more than the 2005-2007 budget—ten years ago. By contrast, during that past ten years our population has increased by 335,000 people, K-12 enrollment has increased by over 55,000 students, and the number of Nevadans in many social service programs has more than doubled.

The budget I am proposing includes $7.3 billion in General Fund spending—significantly less than agency requests. But it begins the strategic investment in the education that we require. I believe that this is necessary, even critical, for our future.

We must also consider sensible reform to the Public Employees' Retirement System and the way we pay state employees. My budget will no longer require state employees to take furloughs. State employees have made great sacrifices, and I want to personally thank them for their service to the people of the state of Nevada.

Tonight I am asking this legislature to work with me to ensure that Nevada moves forward. To close the gap between proposed revenue and projected spending, I am offering a two-part solution. Like so many of these new proposals, it provides an opportunity for modernization.

First, the so-called "sunset taxes" must be continued to cover basic expenditures. They provide revenue not only for the General Fund, but also, the Distributive School Account. It's time that we be honest with ourselves —these revenues are now part of our comprehensive budget.

Second, we must identify new sources of revenue. One-hundred thirty-two million dollars can be found through changes to existing state law, and this will help some of the structural issues. But we must fully fund the education initiatives I have outlined. I am therefore proposing a broad-based solution that asks Nevada business to invest in our education system. By modifying the existing business license fee to a graduated scale, we will generate over $430 million in the next two years—funding equal to the investment in Pre-K through twelfth grade that I am proposing in the budget.

I realize that these decisions are difficult. I know I am asking a lot from the business community. But I have explored every option and find this to be the broadest, least complicated, and fairest solution. Business license fees will be immediately available, something that is critical for our budget and this revenue will grow as the economy grows in the years ahead.

I know this approach will cause debate. You will all find that there is no perfect solution. But what we must all agree on is that another generation of young Nevadans cannot move through our schools without more resources, choice, and reform—and that we must modernize our revenue system. Together we must establish a plan to continually improve the Silver State. We have an opportunity to show that Nevada leads.

Nevada is poised to lead the nation in the technology sector. My budget includes funding to reignite the Governor's Office of Science, Innovation and Technology. It will bring focus to our STEM strategy and coordinate broadband connectivity so that our schools, telemedicine, and communities have the necessary access to fiber technology. The office will also administer STEM Workforce Challenge Grants as envisioned by the recent Brookings Institute report.

And tonight I am pleased to announce the expansion of one of southern Nevada's homegrown technology companies. Switch, the world's largest data center, is poised to expand to northern Nevada, bringing $1 billion of investment with it. Switch also plans 1 million square feet of new data center space in Las Vegas, for a total investment of $2 billion. This will make Nevada the most digitally connected state in the United States of America.

The list of companies wanting to do business in Nevada keeps growing, but Nevada's unemployment rate is still too high. Much of the persistent unemployment can be attributed to construction jobs, which were cut in half in the last recession. Getting housing construction back to prerecession levels would create thousands of new jobs. I am calling on the Legislature to pass reasonable construction defect reforms to revive our housing market and bring jobs back to Nevadans. We can lead by spurring construction in other areas as well. The Department of Transportation's Project NEON will invest $250 million to improve southern Nevada's I-15, reduce congestion, and create construction jobs. Other statewide projects will use another $230 million for construction, maintenance, and future planning.

In Las Vegas, the Convention and Visitors Authority is helping us remain competitive with the proposed Global Business District. This District will add crucial new technology that conventions demand, and it will add new trade show space that could generate $700 million in new revenue every year. This project is critical to maintaining Las Vegas as the entertainment and convention capital of the world.

Threats to the sagebrush ecosystem and the resulting potential impacts to Nevada's wildlife, agriculture, and mining offer another area where Nevada can lead. I will continue to support Nevada's cutting-edge plan to protect our habitats and avoid a listing of the greater sage grouse.

Our long history of cultural preservation provides another opportunity for Nevada to lead. My budget includes funding to begin planning for the Stewart Native American Historic Experience. This project will restore the Stewart Indian School in Carson City and create a one-of-a-kind Cultural Welcome Center focusing upon our Nevada tribes. Tribal leaders are with us this evening, and I thank and welcome these heads of state to these chambers.

I am keenly aware that Autism Spectrum Disorder impacts 1 in every 68 children. Estimated projections indicate nearly 6,000 children in Nevada have autism spectrum disorder. We must meet the needs of these children as early diagnosis and treatment have life-changing consequences. Through increased state support and better use of federal resources, funding will increase from $1.8 million when I took office to $73 million.

My administration is also proposing to centralize 11 agencies within the Department of Business and Industry into a convenient one-stop shop—the Nevada State Business Center. This Las Vegas complex will reduce costs and provide better service to our business community.

Nevada also leads through service. I proclaimed 2014 to be the "Year of the Veteran." This was part of the Green Zone Initiative, Nevada's nationally recognized veterans' services effort. Over the last two years, our veterans' cemeteries have received millions of dollars in grants to continue to provide dignity, honor, and respect for our fallen heroes. We doubled the number of veterans' service officers, and as a result, Nevada veterans have received an additional $50 million annually, tripling the amount from three years ago.

Unfortunately, our Southern Nevada Veterans Home is at capacity, and northern Nevadans have no veterans' home of their own. My budget includes $14 million in bond funds to build the Northern Nevada Veterans Home. Our veterans deserve nothing less.

Seated among us tonight are six veterans, each representing a different conflict from our nation's history, and they embody the spirit of how Nevada leads:

Radioman 1st class Bill Parsons of Sparks served in the U.S. Navy's submarine service during World War II.

Retired First Sergeant Chuck Harton of Reno served in World War II and Korea.

Erwin "Moe" McQueen of Ely served as an Army Infantryman in Vietnam.

Air Force Master Sergeant B.J. Jefferson of Las Vegas served during the Gulf War, Iraq, and Afghanistan.

Amy Wallin of Reno served in the Coast Guard during the Global War on Terrorism.

National Guard Captain Denisse Ramos of Las Vegas deployed three times—twice to Iraq and once to Afghanistan.

Ladies and gentlemen, let's give one more Nevada thank you for these Nevada heroes.

Ladies and gentlemen, Nevada stands at a threshold. We live in a state that is transforming before our eyes—with twenty-first century companies, jobs, and technologies that place us at the forefront of innovation and the new economy. Yet we still operate with decades-old funding systems and an education structure that will eventually grind us to an inevitable halt. I know that we have the ability, willingness, and determination to do what is necessary. We all want to tell our grandchildren that we were the architects of the new Nevada—that we were here when Nevada needed us most.

Those before us rose to the challenges of their time and built the foundation of the state we all love. The sesquicentennial celebration highlighted those achievements. But tonight, as we close the chapter on 150 years of history, this is our time, and we must resolve to make our own history.

I am a son of the Silver State. I love our people, I'm proud of who we are, and I'm optimistic about what we can become. I truly believe that Nevada's best days are yet to come. I know that you all feel the same way. We may stand for different causes. We may even wear different political jerseys. We may have different beliefs. But we are united in our desire to move Nevada forward with a transformed educational system; a healthy citizenry; safe and livable communities; a vibrant economy; and an efficient and responsive state government.

With our spirit of perseverance and courage, we must dare to write the next chapter of the Nevada story—a story that Nevadans in 2064 will look back on and say They got it right. I ask us all to rise above that which seems easy. I ask us to lead. I ask us to lead, so that Nevada can lead.

God bless you, and God bless our great state of Nevada.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS

Initiative Petition No. 1—AN ACT relating to marijuana; requiring the Department of Taxation to adopt regulations relating to the license to operate and operation of a marijuana establishment; providing for disciplinary action against a marijuana establishment which violates laws regulating the establishment; authorizing the possession, use, consumption, purchase, processing and transportation of certain quantities of marijuana by certain persons in this State; authorizing the possession, use, transportation and purchase of marijuana paraphernalia by certain persons in this State; authorizing certain other acts relating to marijuana; making contracts relating to the operation of marijuana establishments enforceable; providing for the licensure of marijuana distributors; providing for licensure of marijuana establishments; providing a fee for the application for a license to operate a marijuana establishment and for an annual licensing fee; establishing certain requirements for marijuana establishments; imposing an excise tax on wholesale sales of marijuana by a marijuana cultivation facility; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

In the interest of the public health and public safety, and in order to better focus state and local law enforcement resources on crimes involving violence and personal property, the People of the State of Nevada find and declare that the use of marijuana should be legal for persons 21 years of age or older, and its cultivation and sale should be regulated similar to other legal businesses.

The People of the State of Nevada declare that the cultivation and sale of marijuana should be taken from the domain of criminals and be regulated under a controlled system, where businesses will be taxed and the revenue will be dedicated to public education and to the enforcement of the regulations in this act.

The People of the State of Nevada proclaim that marijuana should be regulated in a manner similar to alcohol so that:

Initiative Petition No. 2—AN ACT relating to public safety; requiring certain persons to request a background check before selling or transferring a firearm to another person; making certain exceptions to that requirement; providing for a licensed dealer to conduct such a background check; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Section 1. Short Title. Sections 1 to 9, inclusive, of this act may be cited as The Background Check Act.

Sec. 2. Preamble. The people of Nevada do hereby find and declare that:

1. To promote public safety, federal law currently prohibits felons, domestic abusers, the severely mentally ill, and other dangerous people from buying or possessing firearms;

2. Federally licensed firearms dealers are required to run background checks on their prospective buyers to ensure they are not prohibited from buying or possessing firearms;

3. Criminals and other dangerous people can avoid background checks by buying guns from unlicensed firearms sellers, whom they can easily meet online or at gun shows and who are not legally required to run background checks before selling or transferring firearms;

4. Due to this loophole, millions of guns exchange hands each year in the United States without a background check;

5. The background check process is quick and convenient: Over 90% of federal background checks are completed instantaneously and over 97% of Nevadans live within 10 miles of a licensed gun dealer;

6. We have the right to bear arms, but with rights come responsibilities, including the responsibility to keep guns out of the hands of convicted felons and domestic abusers;

7. To promote public safety and protect our communities, and to create a fair, level playing field for all gun sellers, the people of Nevada find it necessary to more effectively enforce current law prohibiting dangerous persons from purchasing and possessing firearms by requiring background checks on all firearms sales and transfers, with reasonable exceptions, including for immediate family members, hunting, and self-defense.

Sec. 3. Chapter 202 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections Through inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 4. Definitions. As used in NRS 202.254 and sections 5 to7, inclusive, of this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Hunting" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 501.050.

2. "Licensed dealer" means a person who holds a license as a dealer in firearms issued pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 923(a).

3. "National Instant Criminal Background Check System" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 179A.062.

4. "Unlicensed person" means a person who does not hold a license as a dealer, importer, or manufacturer in firearms issued pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 923(a).

5. "Transferee" means an unlicensed person who wishes or intends to receive a firearm from another unlicensed person.

6. "Transferor" means an unlicensed person who wishes or intends to transfer a firearm to another unlicensed person.

7. "Trapping" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 501.090.

8. "Central Repository" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 179A.045.

Sec. 5. NRS 202.254 is hereby amended to read as follows:

1. Except as otherwise provided in section 6 of this act, an unlicensed person shall not sell or transfer a firearm to another unlicensed person unless a licensed dealer first conducts a background check on the buyer or transferee in compliance with this section. ~~[A private person who wishes to transfer a firearm to another person may, before transferring the firearm, request that the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History perform a background check on the person who wishes to acquire the firearm.]~~

2. The seller or transferor and buyer or transferee shall appear jointly with the firearm and request that a licensed dealer conduct a background check on the buyer or transferee. ~~[The person who requests the information pursuant to subsection 1 shall provide the Central Repository with identifying information about the person who wishes to acquire the firearm.]~~

3. A licensed dealer who agrees to conduct a background check pursuant to this section shall take possession of the firearm and comply with all requirements of federal and state law as though the licensed dealer were selling or transferring the firearm from his or her own inventory to the buyer or transferee, including, but not limited to, all recordkeeping requirements, except that:

(a) the licensed dealer must contact the National Instant Criminal Background Check System, as described in 18 U.S.C. 922(t), and not the Central Repository, to determine whether the buyer or transferee is eligible to purchase and possess firearms under state and federal law; and

(b) the seller or transferor may remove the firearm from the business premises while the background check is being conducted, provided that before the seller or transferor sells or transfers the firearm to the buyer or transferee, the seller or transferor and the buyer or transferee shall return to the licensed dealer who shall again take possession of the firearm prior to the completion of the sale or transfer.

~~[Upon receiving a request from a private person pursuant to subsection 1 and the identifying information required pursuant to subsection 2, the Central Repository shall within 5 business days after receiving the request:~~

~~(a) Perform a background check on the person who wishes to acquire the firearm; and~~

~~(b) Notify the person who requests the information whether the information available to the Central Repository indicates that the receipt of a firearm by the person who wishes to acquire the firearm would violate a state or federal law.]~~

4. A licensed dealer who agrees to conduct a background check pursuant to this section shall inform the seller or transferor and the buyer or transferee of the response from the National Instant Criminal Background Check System. If the response indicates that the buyer or transferee is ineligible to purchase or possess the firearm, the licensed dealer shall return the firearm to the seller or transferor and the seller or transferor shall not sell or transfer the firearm to the buyer or transferee. ~~[If the person who requests the information does not receive notification from the Central Repository regarding the request within 5 business days after making the request, the person may presume that the receipt of a firearm by the person who wishes to acquire the firearm would not violate a state or federal law.]~~

5. ~~[The Central Repository]~~ A licensed dealer may charge a reasonable fee for ~~[performing]~~ conducting a background check and facilitating a firearm transfer between unlicensed persons ~~[and notifying a person of the results of the background check]~~ pursuant to this section.

~~[6. The failure of a person to request the Central Repository to perform a background check pursuant to this section before transferring a firearm to another person does not give rise to any civil cause of action.]~~

Sec. 6. The provisions of NRS 202.254 do not apply to:

1. The sale or transfer of a firearm by or to any law enforcement agency and, to the extent he or she is acting within the course and scope of his or her employment and official duties, any peace officer, security guard entitled to carry a firearm under NAC 648.345, member of the armed forces, or federal official.

2. The sale or transfer of an antique firearm, as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 921(16).

3. The sale or transfer of a firearm between immediate family members, which for the purposes of this chapter means spouses and domestic partners and any of the following relations, whether by whole or half blood, adoption, or step-relation: parents, children, siblings, grandparents, grandchildren, aunts, uncles, nieces and nephews.

4. The transfer of a firearm to an executor, administrator, trustee, or personal representative of an estate or a trust that occurs by operation of law upon the death of the former owner of the firearm.

5. A temporary transfer of a firearm to a person who is not prohibited from buying or possessing firearms under state or federal law if such transfer:

(a) is necessary to prevent imminent death or great bodily harm; and

(b) lasts only as long as immediately necessary to prevent such imminent death or great bodily harm.

6. A temporary transfer of a firearm if

(a) the transferor has no reason to believe that the transferee is prohibited from buying or possessing firearms under state or federal law;

(b) the transferor has no reason to believe that the transferee will use or intends to use the firearm in the commission of a crime; and

(c) such transfer occurs and the transferee's possession of the firearm following the transfer is exclusively:

Sec. 7. Penalty.

1. An unlicensed person who sells or voluntarily transfers one or more firearms to another unlicensed person in violation of NRS 202.254:

(b) For a second or subsequent conviction involving the sale or transfer of one or more firearms, is guilty of a category C felony and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130(2)(c).

Sec. 8. Severability. If any provision of this act, or the application thereof to any person, thing, or circumstance is held invalid or unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity or constitutionality of this act as a whole or any provision or application of this act which can be given effect without the invalid or unconstitutional provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable.

4. A member of the Committee is disqualified to serve during the consideration of a specific question if:

(a) The member is the requester of advice concerning the question of ethics or conflict of interest, or the member is the subject of the complaint concerning the specific question; or

(b) A reasonable person in the member's situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.

10. In determining whether a Legislator has a conflict of interest, the Legislator should consider whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his or her situation upon the matter in question would be materially affected by the Legislator's:

(a) Acceptance of a gift or loan;

(b) Private economic interest; or

(c) Commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family.

➥ In interpreting and applying the provisions of this subsection, it must be presumed that the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in the Legislator's situation would not be materially affected by the Legislator's private economic interest or the Legislator's commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family where the resulting benefit or detriment accruing to the Legislator, or if the Legislator has a commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family, accruing to those other persons, is not greater than that accruing to any other member of the general business, profession, occupation or group that is affected by the matter.

13. In determining whether to abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which a Legislator has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10, the Legislator should consider whether:

(a) The conflict impedes his or her independence of judgment; and

(b) His or her interest is greater than the interests of an entire class of persons similarly situated.

14. The provisions of this Rule do not under any circumstances and regardless of any conflict of interest:

(a) Prohibit a Legislator from requesting or introducing a legislative measure; or

(b) Require a Legislator to take any particular action before or while requesting or introducing a legislative measure.

15. If a Legislator who is a member of a committee declares on the record when a vote is to be taken by the committee that he or she will abstain from voting because of the requirements of this Rule, the necessary quorum to act upon and the number of votes necessary to act upon the matter is reduced as though the Legislator abstaining were not a member of the committee.

16. The standards and procedures set forth in this Rule which govern whether and to what extent a member of the Assembly has a conflict of interest, should disclose a conflict of interest or should abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which the member has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10:

(a) Are exclusive and are the only standards and procedures that apply to members of the Assembly with regard to such matters; and

ANTI-HARASSMENT POLICY

Rule No. 20. Maintenance of Working Environment; Procedure for Filing, Investigating and Taking Remedial Action on Complaints.

1. The Legislature hereby declares that it is the policy of the Legislature to prohibit any conduct, whether intentional or unintentional, which results in sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment based upon any other protected category. The Legislature intends to maintain a working environment which is free from sexual harassment and other unlawful harassment. Each Legislator is responsible to conduct himself or herself in a manner which will ensure that others are able to work in such an environment.

2. In accordance with Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. §§ 2000e et seq., for the purposes of this Rule, "sexual harassment" means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

(a) Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of a person's employment;

(b) Submission to or rejection of such conduct by a person is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting the person; or

(c) Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with a person's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment.

3. Each Legislator must exercise his or her own good judgment to avoid engaging in conduct that may be perceived by others as sexual harassment. The following noninclusive list provides illustrations of conduct that the Legislature deems to be inappropriate:

(a) Verbal conduct such as epithets, derogatory comments, slurs or unwanted sexual advances, invitations or comments;

(b) Visual conduct such as derogatory posters, photography, cartoons, drawings or gestures;

(c) Physical conduct such as unwanted touching, blocking normal movement or interfering with the work directed at a person because of his or her sex; and

(d) Threats and demands to submit to sexual requests to keep a person's job or avoid some other loss, and offers of employment benefits in return for sexual favors.

4. Retaliation against a person for engaging in protected activity is prohibited. Retaliation occurs when an adverse action is taken against a person which is reasonably likely to deter the person from engaging in the protected activity. Protected activity includes, without limitation:

(a) Opposing conduct that the person reasonably believes constitutes sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment;

(b) Filing a complaint about the conduct; or

(c) Testifying, assisting or participating in any manner in an investigation or other proceeding related to a complaint of sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment.

(b) The Majority Leader of the Senate; or

(c) The Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, if the complaint involves the conduct of the Speaker of the Assembly or the Majority Leader of the Senate.

➥ The complaint must include the details of the incident or incidents, the names of the persons involved and the names of any witnesses.

6. The Speaker of the Assembly, the Majority Leader of the Senate or the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, as appropriate, shall cause a discreet and impartial investigation to be conducted and may, when deemed necessary and appropriate, assign the complaint to a committee consisting of Legislators of the appropriate House.

7. If the investigation reveals that sexual harassment, other unlawful harassment, retaliation or other conduct in violation of this policy has occurred, appropriate disciplinary or remedial action, or both, will be taken. The appropriate persons will be informed when any such action is taken. The Legislature will also take any action necessary to deter any future harassment.

8. The Legislature encourages a Legislator to report any incident of sexual harassment, other unlawful harassment, retaliation or other conduct inconsistent with this policy immediately so that the complaint can be quickly and fairly resolved.

9. All Legislators are responsible for adhering to the provisions of this policy. The prohibitions against engaging in sexual harassment and other unlawful harassment which are set forth in this Rule apply to employees, Legislators, lobbyists, vendors, contractors, customers and any other visitors to the Legislature.

10. This policy does not create any enforceable legal rights in any person.

THE HONORABLE ROSS MILLER, SECRETARY OF STATE, CAPITOL BUILDING, 101 South Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89701

RE: Assembly Bill No. 126 of the 77th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 126, which is entitled:

AN ACT relating to food; requiring certain restaurants or similar retail food establishments to disclose certain nutritional information about the food offered for sale by those restaurants or establishments; providing for a civil penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

This bill requires any restaurant or similar retail establishment with 15 or more locations in Nevada to disclose nutritional information prominently on a menu. Any owner of a restaurant who violates the provisions is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of up to $2,500.

Assembly Bill 126 is patterned after regulations being formulated by the Federal Drug Administration under The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, which requires nutritional information be disclosed at restaurants with 20 or more locations nationwide. As such, the bill is redundant and an unnecessary additional burden on affected restaurants.

Because the requirements in Assembly Bill 126 are unnecessary and duplicative, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature and without my approval.

Sincere regards,
BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

June 13, 2013

THE HONORABLE ROSS MILLER, SECRETARY OF STATE, CAPITOL BUILDING, 101 South Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89701

RE: Assembly Bill No. 150 of the 77th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 150, which is entitled:

AN ACT relating to legislative affairs; creating the Legislative Committee on Governmental Oversight and Accountability; prescribing the powers and duties of the Committee; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill 150 creates the Legislative Committee on Governmental Oversight and Accountability. The measure authorizes this new Committee to study and comment upon issues relating to the operations and accountability of "any agency, office, board, commission, department, division, bureau, authority, institution, district, or other unit of the State or a political subdivision of the State," and to conduct investigations related thereto. Finally, it authorizes the Committee to provide for the administration of oaths, the deposition of witnesses, and the issuance of subpoenas in connection with those investigations and hearings.

The Legislature, through its existing 12-member Legislative Commission, currently has the ability to investigate and comment upon issues related to any area within the competence of the Legislature, important issues of public policy, or questions of statewide interest. This existing Commission holds hearings, conducts studies and investigations, receives and makes recommendations, and has subpoena power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents for the discharge of its duties.

Additionally, the Legislative Commission has fourteen standing subcommittees which deal with topics ranging from budget, education and health care to veterans, public lands and natural resources. These various committees are in addition to the Legislature's Interim Finance Committee and associated subcommittees, which administer contingency funds for the State and also review early intervention services and public works matters.

The new Committee proposed by Assembly Bill 150 is duplicative of the numerous existing interim committees. Moreover, the Nevada Constitution mandates that there must be a separation of powers between the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial branches of government, and further declares that the supreme executive power of the State shall be vested in the Governor. Assembly Bill 150 seeks to establish yet another entity dedicated to extending the powers of the Legislature into matters of which it is not constitutionally authorized.

Because of these concerns, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature and without my approval.

Sincere regards,
BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

RE: Assembly Bill No. 209 of the 77th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 209, which is entitled:

> AN ACT relating to dairy products; providing that raw milk certified by the county milk commission of the county in which the raw milk is produced may be sold anywhere in this State; making various other changes to provisions governing county milk commissions; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Existing law allows certified raw milk to be sold only in the county where it is produced. This bill allows raw milk that has been certified by a county milk commission to be sold anywhere in the state.

While the bill makes some efforts to address the safety concerns of "certified raw milk," the proposed regulations will not mitigate the health risks associated with consumption of unpasteurized milk. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, consumption of raw milk is 150 times more likely to cause food-borne illness than pasteurized milk. The Food and Drug Administration, the American Medical Association, and our own State Health Officer agree that Assembly Bill 209 presents significant public health risks. Based on these concerns, I cannot support the bill; I veto it and return it to you without my signature, and without my approval.

Sincere regards,

RE: Assembly Bill No. 218 of the 77th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 218, which is entitled:

> AN ACT relating to public works; defining the term "bona fide fringe benefit" for certain provisions applicable to the payment of wages for public works; revising the requirements pursuant to which a contractor or subcontractor engaged on a public work may discharge his or her obligation to pay prevailing wages to workers; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill 218 refines the definition of "bona fide fringe benefit," enhances administrative and possible criminal sanctions for violations, and caps benefit contributions at 25 percent of the hourly rate of pay and requires such benefit payments to be annualized.

Assembly Bill 218 has merit. Providing a consistent and clear definition of "bona fide fringe benefit" is good for Nevada workers and would help prevent the abuse of these benefits. In fact, much of the bill is consistent with the Labor Commissioner's application of NRS 338.035 and federal labor law.

However, section 4, subsection 5 of the bill provides for an exemption from this more protective definition, stating "(t)he provisions of this section do not apply with regard to a worker whose benefits are determined pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement." This provision entirely exempts union contracts from the fringe benefit definition.

All workers in Nevada deserve to be paid fairly, just as all contractors in Nevada deserve to be treated fairly. By exempting benefits determined pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement, the law would hold union contractors to a less restrictive standard than non-union contractors.

Defining bona fide fringe benefits and creating a penalty system for violations is a worthy cause. Unfortunately, Assembly Bill 218 only targets non-union contractors and therefore creates an unfair distinction among Nevada workers. Because of these concerns, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature and without my approval.

BRIAN SANDOVAL

RE: Assembly Bill No. 240 of the 77th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 240, which is entitled:

AN ACT relating to civil actions; revising provisions governing comparative negligence; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

This bill revises longstanding Nevada law related to liability in actions to recover damages for death or injury to persons or for injury to property. Under current law, the doctrine of several liability applies to such actions if defendants assert a comparative negligence defense. This doctrine ensures that a negligent defendant's liability is limited to his or her proportionate share of fault. Assembly Bill 240 removes current language that permits comparative negligence to be asserted as a defense, and replaces it with language that would apply comparative negligence only to actions in which comparative negligence is a "bona fide issue." The bill states that comparative negligence is not a bona fide issue if the trier of fact finds no comparative negligence on the part of the plaintiff or the plaintiff's decedent.

The effect of Assembly Bill 240 is to reinstate joint and several liability for defendants as the general rule in negligence actions, except in cases where the plaintiff or plaintiff's decedent were contributorily negligent. This radical change alters the landscape of tort litigation in Nevada and undermines the thirty-year trend in Nevada and other states to move away from the doctrine of joint and several liability, which unfairly exposes defendants to liability based upon their ability to pay and not their share of fault.

Moreover, the Nevada Supreme Court, in Donahue Schriber Realty Group vs. Tyrin Salinas, is currently considering this very issue of comparative negligence and the liability of multiple defendants in civil actions, and will be able to provide clarity for all litigants.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature and without my approval.

BRIAN SANDOVAL

RE: Assembly Bill No. 345 of the 77th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 345, which is entitled:

AN ACT relating to wildlife; requiring that the wildlife in this State be managed according to the best science available; revising provisions relating to the authorized use of certain money in the Wildlife Fund Account in the State General Fund; requiring the Board of Wildlife Commissioners to establish policies for certain programs, activities, and research relating to predatory wildlife; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill 345 revises a legislative declaration regarding wildlife to require that wildlife in this State be managed according to the best science available. It also establishes a requirement that the Department of Wildlife spend at least 50 percent of certain monies credited to the Wildlife Fund for purposes of management and control of injurious wildlife. Finally, the bill requires the Wildlife Commission to establish a policy specifying reporting requirements for predator control activities or research.

Nevada Revised Statute 501.181 currently specifies that the Wildlife Commission shall establish policies for the protection, propagation, restoration, transplanting, introduction, and management of wildlife in this State, and further requires that they consider input from county advisory boards and the general public, as well as, recommendations and scientific information provided by the Department of Wildlife.

Moreover, the Department of Wildlife and the Wildlife Commission are currently revising their policies to include many of the reporting requirements for predator control, management, and research programs as specified in Assembly Bill 345.

Finally, the Department of Wildlife and the Wildlife Commission have a long history of guiding and directing the expenditure of public dollars for the betterment of Nevada's wildlife. Specifying in statute a percentage of funds to be allocated towards predator control programs unnecessarily restricts the Wildlife Commission and could very well inhibit them from carrying out their duties as effectively as possible.

Assembly Bill 345 is duplicative of the current process established and could inhibit the effective management and protection of Nevada's wildlife. Because of these concerns, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature and without my approval.

BRIAN SANDOVAL

RE: Assembly Bill No. 391 of the 77th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 391, which is entitled:

AN ACT relating to energy; providing that the amount of certain incentives issued by a utility for the installation of certain renewable energy systems on property owned or occupied by a public body may not be used to reduce the cost of the project so as to exempt the project from provisions governing competitive bidding for public works projects; requiring contractors who enter into contracts pursuant to the Green Jobs Initiative to make certain certifications to the Labor Commissioner concerning wages paid to employees who work on such projects; providing that certain utilities which are generally subject only to limited jurisdiction, control, and regulation of the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada become subject to the full jurisdiction, control, and regulation of the Commission under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill 391 specifies that a cooperative association, nonprofit corporation or association, any other utility, or any entity controlled by such an organization, is subject to the full jurisdiction, control, and regulation of the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada ("PUCN") if it meets certain criteria. The bill also revises provisions relating to the installation of certain renewable energy systems on property owned or occupied by a public body to ensure competitive bidding requirements are followed. It further requires contractors or subcontractors who enter into a contract under the Green Jobs Initiative to pay prevailing wages.

A cooperative electric association is an entity run for and by its members. Cooperative electric associations are largely exempt from PUCN jurisdiction because it is presumed these entities will make decisions for the benefit of their members. Section 12(3) of Assembly Bill 391 would expand the scope of the PUCN's jurisdiction over cooperative electric associations. Adding additional PUCN regulation over an entity that is owned by its members and serves only its members is unnecessary.

Moreover, the provisions of the bill do not adequately define a process by which this additional PUCN regulation would be enacted, presenting the potential for costly regulation and legal battles that would jeopardize many rural economies and the viability of rural electric cooperative associations.

Because of these concerns, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature and without my approval.

RE: Assembly Bill No. 440 of the 77th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 440, which is entitled:

AN ACT relating to elections; extending the period during which an elector can register to vote in person or by computer; requiring county and city clerks to distribute sample ballots by electronic mail under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill 440 extends voting registration deadlines for primary, primary city, general, and general city elections until the last day of early voting, which is the Friday before the election. Under existing law, registration closes three weeks before an election, on the third Tuesday before the election. The bill also allows a person to register to vote online after the fifth Sunday before a primary, primary city, general, or general city election. Currently, a person must register in person after the fifth Sunday before these elections.

Nevada offers more voter registration options than most states. Eligible voters may register by mail and in person at any Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles office, a county clerk or registrar's office, at various social service agencies, and on college campuses. Furthermore, Nevada is amongst a small number of states that offer online voter registration, which has been available in Nevada for all eligible voters since September 2012.

Current Nevada law does not restrict or limit when or where a person can register to vote. Voter registration can be accomplished at any time of the year by mail, in person, or online. The registration deadlines currently in place apply only to registration that occurs immediately prior to a particular election day. There is no indication that these deadlines are detrimental to Nevada's voting process or need to be changed. Indeed, legislative testimony indicated that out of one million eligible voters in Nevada's last election, only 0.002 percent of those voters complained about missing the registration deadline for the election. Moreover, the current registration deadlines allow for the county and city clerks to sufficiently prepare for the casting of ballots.

For these reasons, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature and without my approval.

Sincere regards,
BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

June 3, 2013

THE HONORABLE ROSS MILLER, SECRETARY OF STATE, CAPITOL BUILDING, 101 South Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89701

RE: Assembly Bill No. 441 of the 77th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY MILLER:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Assembly Bill 441, which is entitled:

> AN ACT relating to voting; authorizing a county or city clerk to establish polling places where any registered voter of the county or city, respectively, may vote in person; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill 441 authorizes county and, when applicable, city clerks to establish one or more polling places in the county where any person entitled to vote in the county by personal appearance may do so. The bill sets forth the procedure for county and city clerks to establish those polling places.

Under existing law, precinct-based polling sites are established based on the boundaries of election precincts or districts in which voters reside. Supporters of Assembly Bill 441 argue that voter participation will increase because polling sites that are not precinct-based are more convenient and provide voters with more flexibility because they would no longer be required to vote in their precinct on Election Day.

However, Nevada voters are afforded a great deal of flexibility and opportunity to exercise their constitutional right to vote through options such as early voting, absentee voting by mail and Election Day voting. Early voting is available to every voter, and Nevada is amongst the minority of early voting states that require permanent polling places identified for early voting to be open on at least one Saturday during the early voting period. Additionally, Nevada's procedures for absentee voting are more liberal than many states that offer absentee voting. Specifically, Nevada offers "no-excuse" absentee voting, allowing any registered voter to request an absentee ballot without stating a reason for his or her desire to vote absentee. Other states permit voters to vote absentee only under a limited set of circumstances. In addition, Nevada allows any registered voter who is unable to go to the polls because of an illness, disability or sudden hospitalization or absence after the time has elapsed for requesting an absentee ballot to submit a request for an absentee ballot at any time before 5 p.m. on the day of an election.

Finally, Assembly Bill 441 does not contain sufficient parameters to establish the location of new polling places that would ensure the integrity and non-partisan nature of the voting process. Because of these concerns, I veto this bill and return it to you without my signature and without my approval.

Sincere regards,
BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

Assembly called to order at 11:39 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Bruce Henderson.

Father, I was reading the other day in the Bible and was intrigued by the priestly garments of Aaron and his sons. Their vests were laden with 12 stones, each engraved with a name of one of the tribes of Israel. That had to be a heavy garment! It reminded them of who they were representing before You. I don't see many vests here today, Lord, but please remind us of the importance of representing our people.

I pray in Your Holy Name.

AMEN.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Nick Emery.

To all those gathered here, we ask of You, Lord, for strength and wisdom as they conduct the business of our great state, Nevada.

To those who are filled with joy and celebration this day, we pray Father God for Your blessings of happiness and fulfillment to continue to flood their souls.

And for those who are hurting, who are struggling with health issues, we pray, Lord, for the blessings of Your mercy and healing upon their lives.

Unite the hearts of these leaders this day. Give them direction and discretion. Give them favor and boldness. Give them passion and give to them purpose.

And may they all hold onto Your truth from Psalm 103:

Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless His Holy Name.
Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget none of His benefits;
Who pardons all your iniquities, who heals all your diseases;
Who redeems your life from the pit, who crowns you with loving kindness and compassion;
Who satisfies your years with good things, so that your youth is renewed the eagle.

May the words of our mouth, may the meditations of our heart bless You, Father, and bring You glory and fame, and we pray as we declare today our love for You and as we pray these things, in the mighty name of Jesus—our hope, our joy, and our salvation.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, before an owner of a residence or appurtenance or certain other persons may commence a civil action against a contractor, subcontractor, supplier or design professional for certain defects in the residence or appurtenance, the claimant must provide notice of the defect to the contractor. Not later than 30 days after the date on which the contractor receives the notice, the contractor must forward a copy of the notice to each subcontractor, supplier or design professional whom the contractor reasonably believes is responsible for a defect specified in the notice. The subcontractor, supplier or design professional who receives the notice must inspect the alleged constructional defect and may elect to repair the defect. (NRS 40.645, 40.646, 40.647)

Section 2 of this bill establishes the circumstances under which a provision in a residential construction contract requiring a subcontractor to indemnify, defend or otherwise hold harmless a controlling party for the negligence or intentional acts or omissions of the controlling party is void and unenforceable.

Section 2 also enacts provisions governing: (1) when a subcontractor's duty to defend a controlling party arises; (2) the manner in which a controlling party may pursue indemnification from a subcontractor when the controlling party is named as an additional insured in the commercial general liability insurance policy of the subcontractor; and (3) wrap-up insurance policies or consolidated insurance programs that cover two or more contractors or subcontractors who perform work on residential construction for risks associated with the construction.

Existing law establishes a procedure by which the parties in a civil action may agree to have a judgment entered in the action in accordance with the terms and conditions of an offer of judgment. A court is prohibited from awarding costs or attorney's fees to a party who rejects such an offer of judgment and fails to obtain a more favorable judgment at trial. (NRS 17.115; N.R.C.P. 68) Section 3 of this bill establishes a similar procedure under which a person who has given notice of a constructional defect and a contractor, subcontractor, supplier or design professional who has received such a notice may agree to have a judgment entered before a civil action for the constructional defect is commenced.

Section 6 of this bill amends the existing definition of "constructional defect" to provide that a constructional defect is a defect: (1) which presents an unreasonable risk of injury to a person or property; or (2) which is not completed in a good and workmanlike manner and proximately causes physical damage to the residence or appurtenance.

Section 8 of this bill amends the provision of existing law requiring certain information to be included in a notice of constructional defect to require the notice to: (1) state in specific detail, rather than in reasonable detail, each defect, damage and injury to each residence or appurtenance that is subject to the notice; (2) state the exact location of each defect, damage and injury, rather than describe in reasonable detail the location of the defect; and (3) include a statement signed ~~[under penalty of perjury]~~ by the owner of the residence or appurtenance in the notice that the owner verifies that each defect, damage and injury exists in the residence or appurtenance.

Sections 5, 8-13 and 22 of this bill remove a provision of existing law which authorizes one notice to be sent concerning similarly situated owners of residences or appurtenances within a single development that allegedly have common constructional defects.

Section 11 of this bill requires a claimant and an expert who provided an opinion concerning an alleged constructional defect, or a representative of the expert who has knowledge of the alleged defect, to: (1) be present when a contractor, subcontractor, supplier or design professional conducts the required inspection of the alleged defect; and (2) identify the exact location of the alleged defect.

Under existing law, if a residence or appurtenance is covered by a homeowner's warranty that is purchased by or on behalf of the claimant, the claimant must diligently pursue a claim under the contract. (NRS 40.650)

Section 14 of this bill: (1) prohibits a claimant from filing a notice of constructional defect or pursuing a claim for a constructional defect unless the claimant has submitted a claim under the homeowner's warranty and the insurer has denied the claim; and (2) provides that a claim for a constructional defect may include only the claims that have been denied under the homeowner's warranty. Section 14 further provides that statutes of limitation or repose are tolled from the time the claimant submits a claim under the homeowner's warranty until 30 days after the insurer denies the claim, in whole or in part.

Section 15 of this bill removes the provision of existing law that provides that a claimant may recover reasonable attorney's fees as part of the claimant's damages in a cause of action for constructional defects. Section 15 also provides that certain costs recoverable as damages must have been incurred for constructional defects proven by the claimant.

Existing law provides that the statutes of limitation and repose applicable to a claim for constructional defects are tolled from the time that a claimant gives notice of a claim for constructional defects until 30 days after the mediation required by existing law is concluded or waived. (NRS 40.695) Section 16 of this bill provides that the period for which the statutes of limitation and repose are tolled may not exceed 1 year. Section 16 further authorizes a court to extend the tolling period if the claimant demonstrates good cause for such an extension.

Existing law generally limits the period in which an action for damages caused by a deficiency in construction of improvements to real property may be commenced after substantial completion of the improvement. These periods of limitation are known as statutes of repose, and the period set forth in each statute of repose during which an action must be commenced is: (1) for a known deficiency, 10 years after substantial completion of the improvement; (2) for a latent deficiency, 8 years after substantial completion of the improvement; and (3) for a patent deficiency, 6 years after substantial completion of the improvement. However, if a deficiency was a result of willful misconduct or was fraudulently concealed, an action may be commenced at any time after substantial completion of the improvement. (NRS 11.202-11.205) Sections 17-19 and 22 of this bill provide that the statute of repose for all actions for damages caused by a deficiency in construction of improvement to real property is 6 years after substantial completion of the improvement. Sections 17-19 and 22 also eliminate existing provisions of law that allow such actions to be commenced within 2 years after the date of an injury which occurs during the final year of the particular period of limitation. Section 21 of this bill: (1) provides that the revised statutes of repose set forth in sections 17-19 apply retroactively under certain circumstances; and (2) establishes a 1-year grace period during which a person may commence an action under the existing statutes of repose, if the action accrued before the effective date of this bill.

Existing law authorizes a homeowners' association to institute, defend or intervene in litigation or in arbitration, mediation or administrative proceedings in its own name on behalf of itself or two or more units' owners on matters affecting the common-interest community. (NRS 116.3102) In D.R. Horton, Inc. v. Eighth Judicial District Court, 125 Nev. 449 (2009), the Nevada Supreme Court held that existing law grants standing to a homeowners' association to pursue constructional defect claims on behalf of units' owners with respect to constructional defects in individual units. Sections 5 and 20 of this bill provide that an association may not pursue a constructional defect claim on behalf of itself or units' owners, unless the claim pertains exclusively to the common elements of the association.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 40 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 and 3 of this act.

Sec. 2. 1. In any action or other proceeding involving a constructional defect asserted by a claimant and governed by NRS 40.600 to 40.695, inclusive, and sections 2 and 3 of this act:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b), any provision in a contract entered into on or after the effective date of this act for residential construction that requires a subcontractor to indemnify, defend or otherwise hold harmless a controlling party from any liability, claim, action or cause of action resulting from a constructional defect caused by the negligence, whether active or passive, or intentional act or omission of the controlling party is against public policy and is void and unenforceable.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c), a provision in a contract entered into on or after the effective date of this act for residential construction is not against public policy and is not void and unenforceable under paragraph (a) to the extent that the provision requires a subcontractor to indemnify, defend or otherwise hold harmless a controlling party from any liability, claim, action or cause of action resulting from a constructional defect arising out of, related to or connected with the subcontractor's scope of work, negligence, or intentional act or omission.

(c) A provision in a contract entered into on or after the effective date of this act for residential construction is against public policy and is void and unenforceable under paragraph (a) to the extent that it requires a subcontractor to defend, indemnify or otherwise hold harmless a controlling party from any liability, claim, action or cause of action resulting from a constructional defect arising out of, related to or connected with that portion of the subcontractor's work which has been altered or modified by another trade or the controlling party.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (e), if a provision of a contract entered into on or after the effective date of this act for residential construction that requires a subcontractor to indemnify, defend or otherwise hold harmless a controlling party is not against public policy and is not void and unenforceable under this subsection, the duty of the subcontractor to defend the controlling party arises upon presentment of a notice pursuant to subsection 1 of NRS 40.646 containing a particular claim, action or cause of action from which it can be reasonably inferred that an alleged constructional defect was caused by or attributable to the subcontractor's work, negligence, or wrongful act or omission.

(e) If a controlling party gives a notice to a subcontractor pursuant to NRS 40.646 that contains a claim, action or cause of action from which it can be reasonably inferred that an alleged constructional defect was caused by or attributable to the subcontractor's work, negligence, or wrongful act or omission, the claim, action or cause of action is covered by the subcontractor's commercial general liability policy of insurance issued by an insurer, and the controlling party is named as an additional insured under that policy of insurance:

(1) The controlling party, as an additional insured, must pursue available means of recovery of its defense fees and costs under the policy before the controlling party is entitled to pursue a claim against the subcontractor.

(2) Upon the final settlement of or issuance of a final judgment in an action involving a claim for a constructional defect, if the insurer has not assumed the controlling party's defense and reimbursed the controlling party for the defense obligation of the subcontractor, or if the defense obligation is not otherwise resolved by the settlement or final judgment, the controlling party has the right to pursue a claim against the subcontractor for reimbursement of that portion of the attorney's fees and costs incurred by the controlling party which are attributable to the claims, actions or causes of action arising out of, related to or connected with the subcontractor's scope of work, negligence, or intentional act or omission.

(3) The provisions of subparagraphs (1) and (2) do not prohibit a controlling party from:

(I) Following the requirements of NRS 40.600 to 40.695, inclusive, and sections 2 and 3 of this act relating to providing notice of an alleged constructional defect or any other procedures set forth in those provisions; or

(II) Filing a third-party complaint against the subcontractor if a claimant commences an action or amends a complaint to add a cause of action for a constructional defect against a controlling party which arises out of, relates to or is otherwise connected with the subcontractor's scope of work, negligence, or wrongful act or omission.

2. For any wrap-up insurance policy or other consolidated insurance program that covers a subcontractor who performs work on residential construction for which a contract is entered into on or after the effective date of this act, for claims, actions or causes of action for a constructional defect governed by NRS 40.600 to 40.695, inclusive, and sections 2 and 3 of this act:

(a) The controlling party obtaining the wrap-up insurance policy or other consolidated insurance program shall disclose the total amount or method of calculation of any credit or compensation for the premium required from a subcontractor or other participant for that wrap-up insurance policy in the contract documents.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (c), the contract documents must disclose, if and to the extent known:

(1) The policy limits;

(2) The scope of policy coverage;

(3) The policy term;

(4) The basis upon which the deductible or occurrence is triggered by the insurer;

(5) If the policy covers more than one work of improvement, the number of units, if any, indicated on the application for the insurance policy; and

(6) A good faith estimate of the amount of available limits remaining under the policy as of a date indicated in the disclosure obtained from the insurer.

(c) The disclosure requirements of subparagraphs (1) to (4), inclusive, of paragraph (b) may be satisfied by providing the participant with a copy of the binder or declaration.

(d) The disclosures made pursuant to subparagraphs (5) and (6) of paragraph (b):

(1) May be based upon information available at the time the disclosure is made and are not inaccurate or made in bad faith solely because the disclosures do not accurately reflect the actual number of units covered by the policy or the amount of insurance available, if any, when a later claim is made.

(2) Are presumptively made in good faith if:

(I) The disclosure pursuant to subparagraph (5) of paragraph (b) is the same as that contained in the application to the wrap-up insurance policy insurer; and

(II) The disclosure pursuant to subparagraph (6) of paragraph (b) was obtained from the wrap-up insurance policy insurer or broker.

➥ The presumptions stated in subparagraph (2) may be overcome only by a showing that the insurer, broker or controlling party intentionally misrepresented the facts identified in subparagraph (5) or (6) of paragraph (b).

(e) Upon the written request of any participant in the wrap-up insurance policy or consolidated insurance program, a copy of the insurance policy must be provided, if available, that shows the coverage terms and items in subparagraphs (1) to (5), inclusive, of paragraph (b). If the policy is not available at the time of the request, a copy of the insurance binder or declaration of coverage may be provided in lieu of the actual policy.

(f) Any party receiving a copy of the policy, binder or declaration shall not disclose it to third parties other than the participant's insurance broker or attorney unless required to do so by law. The participant's insurance broker or attorney may not disclose the policy, binder or declaration to any third party unless required to do so by law.

(g) If the controlling party obtaining the wrap-up insurance policy or other consolidated insurance program does not disclose the total amount or method of calculation of the premium credit or compensation to be charged to the participant before the time the participant submits its bid, the participant is not legally bound by the bid unless that participant has the right to increase the bid up to the amount equal to the difference between the amount the participant included, if any, for insurance in the original bid and the amount of the actual bid credit required by the controlling party obtaining the wrap-up insurance policy or other consolidated insurance program. This paragraph does not apply if the controlling party obtaining the wrap-up insurance policy or other consolidated insurance program did not require the subcontractor to offset the original bid amount with a deduction for the wrap-up insurance policy or program.

(h) The subcontractor's monetary obligation for enrollment in the wrap-up insurance policy or consolidated insurance program ceases upon the subcontractor's satisfaction of its agreed contribution percentage, which may have been paid either as a lump sum or on a pro rata basis throughout the subcontractor's performance of the work.

(i) In the event of an occurrence, the dollar amount required to be paid by a subcontractor as a self-insured retention or deductible must not be greater than the amount that the subcontractor would have otherwise been required to pay as a self-insured retention or deductible under a commercial general liability policy of comparable insurance in force during the relevant period for that particular subcontractor and within the specific market at the time the subcontract is entered into.

3. As used in this section:

(a) "Controlling party" means a person who owns real property involved in residential construction, a contractor or any other person who is to be indemnified by a provision in a contract entered into on or after the effective date of this act for residential construction.

(b) "Residential construction" means the construction of a new residence, of an alteration of or addition to an existing residence, or of an appurtenance.

(c) "Wrap-up insurance policy" is an insurance policy, or series of policies, written to cover risks associated with the construction, repair or landscaping of a new residence, of an alteration of or addition to an existing residence, or of an appurtenance, and covering two or more of the contractors or subcontractors that work on that construction, repair or landscaping.

Sec. 3. 1. At any time after a claimant has given notice pursuant to NRS 40.645 and before the claimant commences an action or amends a complaint to add a cause of action for a constructional defect against a contractor, subcontractor, supplier or design professional, the claimant or any contractor, subcontractor, supplier or design professional who has received notice pursuant to NRS 40.645 or 40.646 may serve upon one or more other parties a written offer to allow judgment to be entered without action in accordance with the terms and conditions of the offer of judgment.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, if, within 10 days after the date of service of an offer of judgment, the party to whom the offer was made serves written notice that the offer is accepted, the party who made the offer or the party who accepted the offer may file the offer, the notice of acceptance and proof of service with the clerk of the district court. Upon receipt by the clerk, the clerk shall enter a judgment according to the terms of the offer. Any judgment entered pursuant to this section shall be deemed a compromise settlement. The judgment, the offer, the notice of acceptance and proof of service, with the judgment endorsed, become the judgment roll.

3. If the offer of judgment is not accepted pursuant to subsection 2 within 10 days after the date of service, the offer shall be deemed rejected by the party to whom it was made and withdrawn by the party who made it. The rejection of an offer does not preclude any party from making another offer pursuant to this section. Evidence of a rejected offer is not admissible in any proceeding other than a proceeding to determine costs and fees.

4. Except as otherwise provided in this section, if a party who rejects an offer of judgment fails to obtain a more favorable judgment in an action for a constructional defect, the court:

(a) May not award to the party any costs or attorney's fees;

(b) May not award to the party any interest on the judgment for the period from the date of service of the offer to the date of entry of the judgment;

(c) Shall order the party to pay the taxable costs incurred by the party who made the offer; and

(d) May order the party to pay to the party who made the offer any or all of the following:

(1) A reasonable sum to cover any costs incurred by the party who made the offer for each expert witness whose services were reasonably necessary to prepare for and conduct the trial of the case.

(2) Any applicable interest on the judgment for the period from the date of service of the offer to the date of entry of the judgment.

(3) Reasonable attorney's fees incurred by the party who made the offer for the period from the date of service of the offer to the date of entry of the judgment. If the attorney of the party who made the offer is collecting a contingent fee, the amount of any attorney's fees awarded to the party pursuant to this subparagraph must be deducted from that contingent fee.

5. To determine whether a party who rejected an offer of judgment failed to obtain a more favorable judgment:

(a) If the offer provided that the court would award costs, the court must compare the amount of the offer with the principal amount of the judgment, without inclusion of costs.

(b) If the offer precluded a separate award of costs, the court must compare the amount of the offer with the sum of:

(1) The principal amount of the judgment; and

(2) The amount of taxable costs that the claimant who obtained the judgment incurred before the date of service of the offer.

6. Multiple parties may make a joint offer of judgment pursuant to this section.

7. A party may make to two or more other parties pursuant to this section an apportioned offer of judgment that is conditioned upon acceptance by all the parties to whom the apportioned offer is made. Each party to whom such an offer is made may serve upon the party who made the offer a separate written notice of acceptance of the offer. If any party rejects the apportioned offer:

(a) The action must proceed as to all parties to whom the apportioned offer was made, whether or not the other parties accepted or rejected the offer; and

(b) The sanctions set forth in subsection 4:

(1) Apply to each party who rejected the apportioned offer.

(2) Do not apply to any party who accepted the apportioned offer.

8. The sanctions set forth in subsection 4 do not apply to:

(a) An offer of judgment made to multiple parties who received a notice pursuant to NRS 40.645 or 40.646 unless the same person is authorized to decide whether to settle the claims against all the parties to whom the offer is made and:

(1) There is a single common theory of liability against all the parties to whom the offer is made;

(2) The liability of one or more of the parties to whom the offer is made is entirely derivative of the liability of the remaining parties to whom the offer is made; or

(3) The liability of all the parties to whom the offer is made is entirely derivative of a common act or omission by another person.

(b) An offer of judgment made to multiple claimants unless the same person is authorized to decide whether to settle the claims of all the claimants to whom the offer is made and:

(1) There is a single common theory of liability claimed by all the claimants to whom the offer is made;

(2) The damages claimed by one or more of the claimants to whom the offer is made are entirely derivative of an injury to the remaining claimants to whom the offer is made; or

(3) The damages claimed by all the claimants to whom the offer is made are entirely derivative of an injury to another person.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 125.
Bill read third time.
Remarks by Assemblymen Nelson, Neal, Spiegel, Joiner, Diaz, Ohrenschall, Kirkpatrick, Wheeler and Hansen.

ASSEMBLYMAN NELSON:

Assembly Bill 125 makes various changes to the constructional defect laws as set forth in Chapter 40 of Nevada Revised Statutes. Specifically, this measure revises the definition of "constructional defect" to mean a defect that presents an unreasonable risk of injury to a person or property, or is not completed in a good and workmanlike manner and proximately causes physical damage to the residence or appurtenance. The measure provides that a construction contract is considered void and unenforceable if the contract requires a subcontractor to indemnify, defend, or hold harmless the controlling party for the negligence or omissions of the controlling party; enacts provisions governing the manner in which the controlling party may pursue indemnification from a subcontractor; includes provisions governing consolidated insurance programs covering certain claims for constructional defects; revises various provisions relating to the damages a claimant may recover in a constructional defect action including costs or attorney fees to parties in certain circumstances; amends certain notice requirements concerning claims of constructional defects, including requiring that the notice: (1) state in specific detail each defect, (2) state the exact location of the defect, and (3) include a statement signed by the owner verifying that each defect exists in the residence or appurtenance; removes a provision of existing law that authorizes one notice to be sent concerning similarly situated owners of residences or appurtenances within a single development that allegedly have common constructional defects; requires that a claimant and an expert who provided an opinion concerning an alleged constructional defect: (1) be present when the required inspection of the alleged defect is conducted, and (2) identify the exact location of the alleged defect; provides that an association may not pursue a constructional defect claim on behalf of itself or units' owners unless the claim pertains exclusively to the common elements of the association; prohibits a claimant from pursuing a claim unless the claimant has submitted a claim under the homeowner's warranty and the insurer has denied the claim; and revises various provisions concerning the statutes of limitations and repose applicable to a claim for constructional defects.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN NEAL:

I have a question on A. B. 125. It is related to section 8, subsection 2(b), lines 3 through 6. This is more of a constituent issue, and I guess my question would be to my colleague from Assembly District 5. There was a switch in terms of the deletion of the "reasonable detail"; it changed to "specific detail." I need clarification on what that would mean for constituents, because there is a limitation in terms of knowledge. With that added provision of perjury, how is a regular homeowner supposed to be able to cite specific detail and not the reasonable standard?

ASSEMBLYMAN NELSON:

In response to my colleague, the language regarding perjury has been taken out by the amendment. Now they just have to provide a written statement. I think that the rationale behind that was to make sure the individual homeowner is aware of the defect and is not just getting caught up in a tide of maybe hundreds of other homeowners who are making claims. The bill originally said that the homeowner had to sign under the penalty of perjury. Amendment 7, which we adopted earlier, basically says they just have to sign a statement.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SPIEGEL:
I also have a few questions for my colleague from Assembly District 5 about this bill. In section 20, subsection 1, paragraph (d), I was wondering if you could explain the significance of the term "exclusively to common elements" in the section on the HOA [homeowners' associations] standing to sue. What claims can the HOAs bring?

ASSEMBLYMAN NELSON:
In response to my colleague's question about "exclusively," my understanding is that the homeowners' association would be allowed to bring a claim that deals with something that is exclusively within the purview of the homeowners' association. For example, common areas is a specific one. I think the rationale behind this was to remove the incentive for a homeowners' association to pursue claims that really should be brought by the homeowners themselves, for example, an alleged defect that is not in a common area but is in a specific homeowner's residence, something behind a wall, behind drywall, something that really has nothing to do with the HOA.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SPIEGEL:
I have two more follow-ups. For example, if there is something like a common utility that starts in a common area and goes into the units through the wall, it is behind the drywall—whether it be electric lines, power lines, water lines—and it affects multiple units but it begins in the common area, would the HOA be able to get involved in that?

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:
Those kind of questions are probably something that will end up being discussed. The intent, though, is obviously to avoid litigation. The situation you described where every single home had the exact same thing, that may be something that could be brought up in class action, but we are trying to avoid that. The biggest problem with the HOA situation has been, as you know, that the HOA boards were actually infiltrated by people from the outside, and then they would have the HOA boards actually vote to hire specific law firms. It was quite a racket that was going on. To prevent that kind of abuse of the system, this provision of the law exists. It does not preclude the potentiality of the homeowners who have the exact same sort of problem in their homes bringing forth a class action. My understanding of the law is that it would preclude the homeowners' association independently doing that.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SPIEGEL:
One more final question. I'm sorry, I'm not on that committee so I did not have the ability to ask questions in the hearing. What happens if problem affects multiple homeowners but not all homeowners? For example, I live in a community in an HOA that is made up of several attached patio homes. There could be a problem with common elements that starts in the common area and comes inside into this one structure that is ostensibly shared by five or six different units. However, there are 130 or so units in the entire HOA, and only maybe 6 or 8 are affected. Would the homeowners there be allowed to share information? It was not really clear in the law. And could they go to the HOA for some assistance?

ASSEMBLYMAN NELSON:
In response to my colleague, there is nothing that I recall in the bill precluding anyone from sharing information. They could share information. They could band together either as five plaintiffs in a lawsuit or they could seek certification as a class.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN JOINER:
My question is also directed to my colleague in District 5. Within the context of us here in northern Nevada where more homes are going to be built because of our economic development opportunities that are coming our way, we are going to have more folks sinking their hard-earned life savings into their dream homes. My question is related to them and what this bill would mean for them. I specifically have a question about section 17. My understanding of the current law is that if a new homeowner discovered that there was a substantial defect in their home, such as a crack in the foundation or if their home began to sink because of a code violation, that at any time that they discovered such a substantial defect, they could then take action and have recourse. My understanding of section 17, and I'd like to verify that this is correct, is that no action may be taken after six years. So my question is, what is the public benefit of so substantially narrowing that provision to six years, and more importantly, what happens to those homeowners after six years? I'm particularly concerned about defects that are covered up or that are not visible to the eye. For example, at six years and one day, if I pull up my carpet and I have a substantial crack in my foundation, what happens to that homeowner? What is their recourse if this bill passes?

ASSEMBLYMAN NELSON:

My understanding is that this was a compromise to shorten the statute of limitation and the statute of repose, and there is a six-year limitation. You have to draw the line somewhere, and the testimony I have heard is that most of these things will occur within two, three, four years. Another remedy in the situation you described; if someone were to discover a defect after six years and a day, they could still go to the State Contractor's Board and pursue remedies that way.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

In committee we had the conversation about the rights of consumers being protected and their access to justice. It seems to me that A. B. 125 places most of the burden of construction defects onto the shoulders of Nevada homeowners, when they have to pay, out of their own pocket, substantial dollars for something that they were not at fault for to begin with. My question to my colleague who represents Assembly District 5 is why does section 15 remove all attorney fees for the consumer but keeps them in for the homebuilder? Furthermore, what protections exist for the homeowner if they are forced out of their home due to a construction defect and have to live in a hotel or, even potentially worse, it is so bad that they have to go and rent something besides paying their mortgage?

ASSEMBLYMAN NELSON:

Part of the rationale behind this bill is to provide incentives for homebuilders to build more homes, particularly condominiums, townhouses, and things that many first-time homeowners want to purchase. Right now the reality in the state, right now, is that is not being done for a number of reasons, one of which is the attorney's fees provision in the current law, which makes attorney's fees a damage; it is part of the damages that can be awarded. That has a number of implications, one of which is that interest runs on the attorney's fees. As soon as a judgment is ordered—or sometimes in case of prejudgment, damages if they are awarded by the judge, but particularly when a judgment is given—the interest runs not just on the cost of repairing the constructional defect but also on the damages. This has led to damages which are 10, 20, 30, who knows how many times more than the actual value of the defects, and it has had a chilling effect on homebuilders building anything.

As you know, there was a lot of testimony in the hearing about contractors and subcontractors who just got out of the market of building these types of multifamily homes and went to build commercial instead. I have also heard testimony from people who have said what I would have to do is build, for example, what otherwise would be a condominium complex, and I will call it an apartment. I will rent out the apartments for ten years, and then once the ten years has expired, then I'll condominiumize them and sell them as condominiums. That is the reason that this attorney's fees provision was changed. The problem that I understand—and I have seen it in my practice and a number of the other lawyers talked about it at the hearing—is that in effect the tail has been wagging the dog. The attorney's fees provision in the law, as it currently stands, is what has been causing all of these problems and causing the market to basically dry up in this type of housing.

I hope that answers your question.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I rise in opposition to Assembly Bill 125.

Mr. Speaker, the rights of all Nevadans to seek redress in the form of a civil jury trial has its roots dating back to Magna Carta and to ancient Greece. I did not think I would get a chance to pull out my pocket Constitution this early in the session, but the rights that this bill addresses were very important to the framers of our federal Constitution. The Seventh Amendment states, "In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by jury, shall be otherwise reexamined in any court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law."

These rights were also important to the framers of our Nevada Constitution, Mr. Speaker. Article 1, section 3 of the Nevada Constitution states that "The right of trial by Jury shall be secured to all and remain inviolate forever . . . ."

Clearly an important right, both in our federal Constitution and in our state Constitution. Those constitutional provisions require that our citizens be heard by their peers, not by an arbitrary, capricious, or even worse, a biased forum. While it may be that rules of law from time to time have sought to change the process of civil jury trials, limiting access to such would be a clear violation of such rights.

Mr. Speaker, as my colleague from northern Nevada has stated earlier, times may have changed but home ownership is still the American dream. I argue that Assembly Bill 125, as written, puts road blocks in the paths of homeowners who have been harmed in terms of being made whole again. The whole goal of tort law is to make someone who is injured whole. Ideally, that remedy will come outside of the court house, but unfortunately, in terms of the weight on judicial resources, for some that path will only come at the court house. And I argue by passing this, by putting road blocks in front of our homeowners who have been injured, we do a disservice to our constituents. I urge a no vote.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

I rise in opposition because, in a bipartisan spirit with support of my Democratic colleagues, we worked tirelessly for the last 18 months with homebuilders, attorneys, constituents, and subcontractors so that we could come up with what we believe has been a long heated debate on who is in when there is a lawsuit and who is not in. My colleague from Sparks knows that we worked together last session to pass a bill out of this very house that passed 37 to 4, only to have the Senate not give it a fair hearing or an opportunity to be voted on. We worked knowing that was a prime issue; unfortunately, all of that bill is encompassed in section 2 of this current bill. It is with a heavy heart that I vote against it, because I did work for the constituents and my bigger concern is for the long term. We really did not get to have that same discussion on many of these other issues. We told many of the lobbyists in this building that we had bigger priorities, that was to focus on education, but we made a huge dent. Now, here we are passing this bill without the same discussion that we spent on the other. I would ask my colleagues to support me in opposing this bill for those very reasons.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHEELER:

I rise in support of A. B. 125. Today, Mr. Speaker, we are taking an important step in fixing our construction defect laws. My colleague from District 12 says we are dismantling construction defect protection and, indeed, even the Seventh Amendment protection for our homeowners. I do not believe this is true. No one disputes the need for access to courts when there is a legitimate, serious defect in the construction of a home. This bill will continue to allow that access, but the defect will have to be real. It will have to be described with specificity and not just vague accusations. We know something is wrong in Nevada when housing starts dropped by 86 percent over the past 12 years and construction defect claims rose by 355 percent. When these lawsuits get started, they often turn into a nightmare for innocent contractors and their subcontractors who had nothing to do with the defect. Let us not forget how many of the defendants in these actions are small businesses struggling to stay afloat in our struggling economy. During the hearing we heard from builders and contractors how construction defect litigation has raised insurance costs, and at times, even put some out of business. Nevada was hard hit by our recession, and our economy is slowly improving. This bill keeps us moving in the right direction, and it makes it harder to file frivolous lawsuits against contractors and their subs, while at the same time allowing construction defect to go to court.

Fewer lawsuits will mean reduced insurance costs and tort costs, and those savings will be passed on to the homeowners in the form of lower housing costs. Lower housing costs will mean more people can afford to buy and that will result in more construction jobs. If we can accelerate the job recovery back to just pre boom levels—not during boom levels but pre boom levels—that would add nearly 40,000 jobs to our economy.

I urge you to support this bill to help our small businesses, to create more jobs, and to allow more people to buy homes, especially first time homebuyers.

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

First, I want to apologize for the delay of yesterday's floor session because of the tragedy in my family. I want to thank all of you who reached out to me in this troubling time. However, the business of the state does need to go forward, and I rise in support of Assembly Bill 125.

I have been actively involved in this in many, many ways. I have reached out to all people on all sides. A little brief history: Senate Bill 349 of the 2009 Legislative Session was introduced by [former] Senator Terry Care. I have personally contacted Senator Care to find out his feelings on this bill. He is completely delighted with this bill. In fact, I have invited him, if this makes it all the way to the Governor's desk, to be there at the signing. He has informed me that he would love that. I also reached out to former Senator Allison Copening, another member on the Democratic side of the aisle who is no longer in the Senate, to get her opinion on the bill. She was 100 percent in favor of the bill as well.

So when you look at these and you look at the history of the legislation that it is actually a conglomerate of A.B. 125, you will see it is almost entirely completely bipartisan effort. In fact, Senator Care's bill also dealt with definition, the attorney's fees issue, indemnification, virtually all the same things that are in this bill as well. So this is, in fact, a piece of bipartisan legislation composed of various pieces from several past legislative sessions. On the issue of homeowners, what this bill finally does, really, is provide equity for homeowners and contractors. Having been in the trades—I got my contractor's license 29 years ago this month, and I have been in a whole series of these. Interestingly enough, out of at least 25 of these, I have never been asked to do a single warranty or repair.

I am the chair of Judiciary, as everyone knows. In the hearing we had on this, one person in opposition to the bill. This one person represented a trial lawyer firm that by his acknowledgement has grossed $740 million. He also acknowledged that he took at least $200 million from the construction defect efforts he had been involved in.

This is about homeowners? Where were the homeowners? There were none. I'm a homeowner, and I think most people in this room are or know people who are. We certainly represent a great deal of homeowners. Let me tell you, in this whole process, the homeowners are the ones that get a tiny sliver of it, and a tiny handful of trial lawyer firms have made literally—literally hundreds of millions of dollars. That is not equity. That is not protecting homeowners. That is not doing what is right for the citizens of the state of Nevada.

This bill provides the equity that we need in the law to make it fair, so homeowners who have legitimate defects will be protected, but the people that built those homes have an opportunity to repair those things. When you buy a lawnmower at Home Depot and it does not work, you do not sue Home Depot; you give them an opportunity to fix it. That is what this bill does. And if after all that process, you do not get it fixed right, you can still go to the law if you want. Although, this does have an attempt to keep us out of litigation. Do we want to make lawyers rich or do we want to fix homes legitimately? That is what this bill is all about.

So, Mr. Speaker, thank you for all of the efforts you made on behalf of my family to harmonize this whole situation. I, again, apologize to my colleagues for having this delay. I would urge everyone here to support this. This is not something we are trying to sneak through. This, in fact, is years and years and years of efforts finally placed into a bill getting a full hearing and a vote. All these ones that I have mentioned, in some cases they were at least granted a hearing. Senator Care's bill was actually passed by a Democratic majority in the Senate, but then it died in this house. It was never even granted a hearing in the Assembly Judiciary Committee. This is about time we do it right. This about equity and fairness right here. This is what A. B. 125 will do—finally make things right after two decades of dealing with this sort of thing. Mr. Speaker, I again rise in strong support of Assembly Bill 125, and I urge all my colleagues to vote strongly yes on this measure.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3

Resolution read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Edwards and Sprinkle.

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWARDS:

Assembly Joint Resolution 3 urges the United States Congress to facilitate the payments to Nevadan contractors who completed work on hazardous fuels treatment projects in the Lake Tahoe Basin in connection with the contracts from the Nevada Fire Safe Council.

After the Angora Fire in the Lake Tahoe Basin in the summer of 2007, the Nevada Fire Safe Council was awarded over $21 million in federal reimbursement grants to pay for the rehabilitation and treatment of hazardous fuels in order to prevent future fires. In 2011, the U.S. Inspector General conducted an audit and discovered irregularities. As a result $3 million in payments for Nevadan contractors were frozen. This resolution urges the Congress to free up the $3 million so that our Nevadan contractors can be paid for the work that they performed seven years ago. I ask the members to support this resolution.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPRINKLE:

I rise in support of Assembly Joint Resolution 3. I just wanted to let the body know that I was the chairperson of the interim committee where this joint resolution came from. It was a bipartisan committee and was passed out of our committee unanimously after multiple months of testimony from individuals and businesses, some of which have gone out of business since they have not received payment for the work that they did. I strongly request this body to support Assembly Joint Resolution 3.

THE EIGHTEENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), February 19, 2015

Assembly called to order at 11:52 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Nick Emery.

To all those gathered here today, we continue to seek the Lord, for His strength and for His wisdom, as you conduct the business of our great state, Nevada.

Lord, You are our shepherd—our leader, our protector, and our sure foundation. Apart from You, we do not need a thing. Help us, Lord, to understand this truth in more meaningful and personal ways today. Help us, God, to draw close to You. Let us not be too consumed with the things of this day and forget to pursue You.

Your beauty and love chase after us every day of our lives, and we can be home in Your presence. May we walk in Your truth from Psalm 23:6 that says: "Surely goodness and loving-kindness will follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

We love You Lord and it is in Your name we pray.

God bless you and may God bless Nevada.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 15.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Spiegel, Joiner, and Ellison.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SPIEGEL:

Assembly Bill 15 creates the Account for the Protection and Rehabilitation of the Stewart Indian School in the State General Fund. The Account is to be administered by the Director of the State Department of Conservation and Natural Resources for the purposes of repairing and maintaining the historic state buildings and grounds of the Stewart Indian School. The bill authorizes the Administrator of the Division of State Lands to make a direct sale of two parcels of state land for the purpose of funding the Account. The bill is effective upon passage and approval.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN JOINER:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 15, because I believe that the Stewart Indian School is an extremely important cultural and heritage site in Nevada. However, I would like to express my continued concern, which I raised in committee, that the way this project is being funded is incredibly short-sighted. This bill, in section 5, would sell off a piece of state land and provide a pot of money for a very limited amount of time for the maintenance and repair of this school. It is my hope that as a body, we would fund important projects such as this under our normal means such as the budget and our CIP [Capital Improvement Program] process. I would hope that selling off our public land to private developers is not a precedent that we fall into time and again every time we need a pot of money. That being said, I do plan to vote for this bill because of the extreme importance of this particular project.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLISON:

I stand in support of Assembly Bill 15. The presentation of the Director regarding the Stewart Indian School expressed their feeling that disposal of the two parcels was the best use for maintaining that facility. That was brought through their committees so I stand in support. Thank you.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 15:

YEAS—41.

NAYS—Carlton.

Assembly Bill No. 15 having received a constitutional majority, Mr. Speaker declared it passed.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblywoman Fiore, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Nick Emery.

As these servant leaders go about conducting the business of our great state, Nevada, we continue to seek You, God, for Your strength and for Your wisdom.

Thank You for the sacrifice that each man and woman of the Nevada Assembly has made to be a voice of truth for the people they represent. Thank You for those who support them in their leadership roles. Their service draws them away from their own homes and communities to come and seek, at our capital, solutions to the needs of the people they represent. This pulls them away from their own family and friends, so thank You, Father, for their sacrifice to serve others.

And we pray, Lord, that You would keep them safe, that You bless their travel and protect them. Give them good health and time to rest and to be restored. And Father, we pray that You would grant them the desires of their hearts for those they serve.

We love You, Lord, and it is in Your name we pray.

ASSEMBLYMAN HICKEY:

I rise in memory of Ed Vogel. Ed reported on this body for the Las Vegas Review Journal for 27 years, since 1985. A long-time colleague of Ed's said this about him: A true professional, Ed wrote balanced stories which contained accurate quotes. He had a great sense of humor, a passion for open government, and compassion for those in pain. He enjoyed exposing hypocrites and unethical behavior. He was a reporter.

Ed adored his wife Carol and cherished his children. Maybe the greatest kudo given Ed Vogel was given by former editor of the *Review Journa*l Michael Hengel who said this: "Ed was a great journalist and among the best state house reporters Nevada has ever produced." Ed Vogel was elected to the Nevada Newspaper Hall of Fame in 2012. Thank you Mr. Speaker as we remember Ed on this day.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

It is my honor today to introduce all the guests that we have in the room. Grass Roots Lobby Day has gone on in this state since 1991, and I have had the honor and pleasure of working with this group, as it has evolved, ever since 1999. They are here in Carson City to observe and learn about our legislative process and learn to advocate for the issues that are all important to them. Yesterday 200 people attended workshops and training sessions, and today they are here in the Legislature to put that training into practice. They have been attending committee meetings this morning where bills are heard on their issues, and they are doing meetings with all the different legislators. This event is sponsored by the Nevada Women's Lobby and a number of their partnering organizations. Grass Roots Lobby Day has encouraged many citizens to become actively involved in the legislative process. In fact, over the years several Grass Roots Lobby Day participants have successfully run for office and served in this body, either in this august room or the room down the hall. Today's participants include many students and others for whom this is their first visit to the Legislature, and I think it is remarkable that this is their first visit here. Please welcome them today. My remarks will be in the journal, and we will make sure that their names are included the journal. Thank you all for being here. There are good days in this building and this is one of them.

By Assemblymen Silberkraus, Dickman, Gardner, O'Neill, Seaman and Titus:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 5—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to authorize the Governor to reduce or veto appropriations or authorizations to expend money.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That section 35 of article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

~~[Sec.:]~~ Sec. 35. 1. Every bill which may have passed the Legislature, shall, before it becomes a law be presented to the Governor. If he approve it, he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it with his objections, to the House in which it originated, which House shall cause such objections to be entered upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider it; If after such reconsideration it again pass both Houses by yeas and nays, by a vote of two thirds of the members elected to each House it shall become a law notwithstanding the Governors objections. ~~[If]~~ Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 and 3, if any bill shall not be returned within five days after it shall have been presented to him (Sunday excepted) exclusive of the day on which he received it, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature by its final adjournment, prevent such return, in which case it shall be a law, unless the Governor within ten days next after the adjournment (Sundays excepted) shall file such bill with his objections thereto, in the office of the Secretary of State, who shall lay the same before the Legislature at its next Session, in like manner as if it had been returned by the Governor, and if the same shall receive the vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the Legislature, upon a vote taken by yeas and nays to be entered upon the journals of each house, it shall become a law.

2. If any bill so presented to the Governor contains one or more appropriations of money from the State Treasury or authorizations to expend money drawn from another source, the Governor may reduce or strike from the bill any or all of these items without objecting to the bill as a whole. If the Governor so reduces or strikes out, the Governor shall:

(a) Append to the bill a statement of the items reduced or stricken out and the reasons for the reduction or striking out; and

(b) Within 48 hours after the bill is presented to the Governor and before the Legislature finally adjourns, transmit a copy of the statement to the House in which the bill originated. Each appropriation or authorization not reduced or stricken out becomes law in the same manner as a bill to which the Governor does not object. If the Governor fails to transmit a copy of the statement to the House in which the bill originated within the time allowed or before the Legislature finally adjourns, each appropriation or authorization reduced or stricken out likewise becomes law.

3. The Legislature may, by the same vote as for bills to which the Governor objects:

(a) Cause any one or more of the individual appropriations or authorizations to become law notwithstanding the Governor striking it out; or

(b) Restore the original amount appropriated or authorized, or insert any other amount not less than that approved by the Governor or more than that originally appropriated or authorized, notwithstanding the Governor reducing it. If the Legislature does not so act, any appropriation or authorization stricken from the bill by the Governor shall be deemed not appropriated or authorized and any amount to which an appropriation or authorization was reduced by the Governor shall be deemed so appropriated or authorized.

Our God and God of our ancestors: We ask for Your blessings for our country, for its government, for its leader and advisors, and for all who exercise just and rightful authority. Teach them insights of Your Torah, that they may administer all affairs of state fairly, that peace and security, happiness and prosperity, justice and freedom may forever abide in our midst.

Creator of all flesh, bless all the inhabitants of our country with Your spirit. May citizens of all races and creeds forge a common bond in true harmony to banish all hatred and bigotry and to safeguard the ideals and free institutions which are the pride and glory of our country.

May this land under Your Providence be an influence for good throughout the world, uniting all people in peace and freedom and helping them to fulfill the vision of Your prophet: "Nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they experience war anymore." And let us say: Amen.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Senate Bill No. 207.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Paul Anderson, Spiegel, Stewart, Joiner, Titus, Hickey, Moore, Trowbridge, and Silberkraus.

ASSEMBLYMAN PAUL ANDERSON:

Yesterday our colleagues in the Senate used an emergency bill to pass an emergency measure, Senate Bill 207. Today we in the Assembly act with the same sense of urgency. Our children need schools, and they need them as soon as possible. This is a statewide need; north and south, urban and suburban, Democrat and Republican. For these reasons, I am pleased to urge support for this bill today, and I am grateful for the bipartisan support that I believe we will receive. This bill presented some of the first real tests of this session, and I am proud of the way we have responded to the stress and challenges of the office. I am honored with the way we have exercised our duties.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SPIEGEL:

I stand in support of Senate Bill 207. This bill is great for our students and it is good for our middle class families. I urge your support.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

I, too, rise in support of Senate Bill 207. I have had the opportunity of visiting many schools in Clark County. I have been in a Spanish class with 40 students, a band class with 65 students, and a P.E. class with over 90 students. So this bill is very badly needed. Also, this is the best time to get a bond rollover for the interest rate, and I strongly urge your support.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN JOINER:

I rise in support of this measure. I am very pleased to see that the provisions in Senate Bill 207 are consistent with the amendment I proposed during the work session yesterday in Government Affairs on Senate Bill 119. I think this is a very important first step to address the infrastructure problems we have in our schools. It is the right thing to do for our children and it is the right thing to do for our middle class families.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TITUS:

I rise in opposition to Senate Bill 207. I feel that it circumvents the voters' right to vote on a tax. I believe that rollover bonds are indeed that. In my district the voters overwhelmingly rejected the bond rollover, so I stand opposed to this.

ASSEMBLYMAN HICKEY:

I rise in support of Senate Bill 207. While I respect the sentiments of my colleague from Lyon County, my understanding of this bill is that it is not a new tax. It is addressing a need that we have witnessed first-hand for this session and last in Washoe County. It, in fact, does not raise taxes. It will extend the bonding authority for schools. That bonding authority would have been picked up by someone else. I think it is prudent of us. It is important for us to make that investment in our schools. After all, that is what we have said—all of us; many of us campaigned on it. That is why we are here this session—to make a difference in our schools—I proudly support this. I would also add that there are other elements in another bill, S.B. 119, that I think will be addressed by this body. I look forward to those being part of not only revenues, but reforms that this body can be proud to take part in.

ASSEMBLYMAN MOORE:

I rise in opposition. I support my colleague in that I agree that we need new schools, and we need to get our kids educated. However, I feel that this does go around the will of the voters by extending the bond rollover for an additional ten years. I would oppose this.

ASSEMBLYMAN TROWBRIDGE:

I also stand in opposition to S.B. 207. It is not that I don't support the construction of schools; I oppose the rollover of the bonds to 2026 without a vote of the people.

ASSEMBLYMAN SILBERKRAUS:

I rise in support of S.B. 207. A few months ago, we all sat in this Chamber as the Governor spoke to all of Nevada about building for our future. Today we in this body, here in the people's house, are looking to lay the first brick. I gladly stand in support and look forward to building a better future for all of our children.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Paul Anderson moved that Senate Bill No. 82 and Assembly Bill No. 78 be taken from the Chief Clerk's desk and placed at the bottom of the General File.

Motion carried.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 110.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman Hansen, Araujo, Ohrenschall, Nelson, and Gardner.

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

Assembly Bill 110 requires, if the court finds that an unrepresented party engages in certain frivolous or vexatious claims and defenses, then the unrepresented party must pay resulting additional costs, expenses, and attorney fees reasonably incurred by an opposing party. In addition, the bill specifically provides that the intent of the Legislature for the court to award costs, expenses, and attorney's fees and impose sanctions pursuant to Rule 11 of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure in all appropriate situations extends to situations involving persons not represented by an attorney who engage in certain frivolous or vexatious claims and defenses.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARAUJO:

I have a question for my colleague from Assembly District 32. Under line 10 in page 2, what do "unreasonably and vexatiously" mean?

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

In reply to my colleague, that would be left up to a judge to determine. I am sure there are very clear rules that a judge would follow. But because those are semi-vague terms, we have to have a little bit of confidence that the judges we elect in the state of Nevada will very wisely determine if, in fact, somebody who is not an attorney is intentionally being vexatious and simply filing lawsuits to try to get some settlements or other things like that. So while it is not perfectly defined,

I think you will find that if you have any confidence at all in the judges that we elect in this state, those individuals do a fine job making sure that parties who are not attorneys will, in fact, have a reasonable opportunity to present whatever their side may be. But if, in fact, they abuse the system in an attempt to force settlements and things like that, they will find that they have to pay some costs rather than, as the current law is, be allowed to file multiple lawsuits with absolutely no consequences.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARAUJO:

I would just like to clarify that I do stand in opposition because this bill hurts the everyday constituent in my district who may not be able to afford an attorney and is now going to be held to the same standards as one.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I rise in opposition to Assembly Bill 110. While I have the greatest admiration for my colleague from Washoe County, my concerns with this bill have to do with holding our constituents to the same standard that the rules of professional conduct hold members of the bar to. For those of us who are practicing attorneys, we know the standards we have to live up to. But for our constituents—and there are tens of thousands of them—you can go to any courthouse in this state and see self-help centers and see our constituents who cannot afford to be represented by counsel. They have no choice but to represent themselves. Unfortunately, what Assembly Bill 110 does is change the policies we have now. Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 11 allows judges discretion now to penalize a vexatious litigant: a litigant who is just trying to drag things out, trying to hurt the opposing party. In fact, the word is "may", but A.B. 110 changes that to a "shall". It takes away discretion from our elected judges, the very discretion that your Chairman of Judiciary was talking about, Mr. Speaker. The other point I want to bring up is that our state does not have a pro bono requirement, and while we wish that there were adequate numbers of attorneys out there who could take the time to represent the unrepresented constituents, we don't have them, and often times our citizens have to represent themselves. My fear is that this bill is going to have a chilling effect on citizens who want to protect their rights in court but cannot afford an attorney, and I urge its defeat.

ASSEMBLYMAN NELSON:

I rise in support of this bill. The judges will still have the discretion because they have to find that it is a vexatious lawsuit—that is being used to clog up the courts and cause different problems. I will say that I have served as a law clerk to two judges, one a state judge, one a federal judge, and I have practiced law for over 30 years. My experience is that judges bend over backwards to help pro se litigants, and they do not fine them unless their patience has been exhausted to the nth degree. I think this will close a loophole in the law which we need closed.

ASSEMBLYMAN GARDNER:

I also rise in support of this bill. I would disagree respectfully with the other opponents of this bill that this sets pro bono people at the same standard as an attorney. I have also been in court for several years. I have dealt with this from the judge's level and also through other levels, and judges will do anything they can to make it worthwhile and helpful to pro bono people—the exact opposite of what happens to us attorneys. We are held to a much higher standard, and this will just reinforce that standard.

Assembly Bill No. 78.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman Wheeler and Ellison.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHEELER:

Assembly Bill 78 authorizes the Board of Wildlife Commissioners to increase the maximum fee that may be collected and used for the prevention and mitigation of damage caused by elk or game mammals not native to Nevada. The bill authorizes the Wildlife Commissioners, through adoption of a regulation, to increase the fee used for damage prevention and mitigation from $5 up to a maximum of $10. And I am sure there will be questions.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLISON:

I stand in support of Assembly Bill 78. The reason I am standing before you today is a lot of people are getting this confused with a tax. It is not a tax. It is a user's fee, and in my district where hay fields are being destroyed by elk, this money will go back in to help pay for that. So I stand in support.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHEELER:

I also stand in support of Assembly Bill 78. I want to make sure that it is very clear that this is not a fee on the hunting license but only on the elk tag, and the Department of Wildlife is not actually required to raise the fee. It would only be used to mitigate damage for non-native herds such as elk that we brought in for these hunters to use.

THE THIRTY-SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Thursday), March 5, 2015

Assembly called to order at 12:30 p.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Ben Fleming.

Heavenly Father, thank You for today. Your servants need Your help. The apostle Paul wrote to Your servants in the city of Ephesus and told them to walk in a manner worthy of the calling to which they have been called. They were to walk with all humility, gentleness, patience, and above all, they were to bear with one another in love. Today I ask that You help these, Your servants, to be humble with each other; gentle, patient with each other; and bear with each other in love. I ask You, oh God, to help them today.

I pray this in the name of Your Son Jesus.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Paul Anderson moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Amendment No. 44.

SUMMARY—Establishes "Nevada ~~[Modernist]~~ Mid-Century Architecture Day" as a day of observance. (BDR 19-538)

AN ACT relating to days of observance; establishing "Nevada ~~[Modernist]~~ Mid-Century Architecture Day" as a day of observance; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law sets forth certain days of observance in this State to commemorate certain persons or occasions or to publicize information regarding certain important topics. (Chapter 236 of NRS) This bill establishes May 20 of each year as "Nevada ~~[Modernist]~~ Mid-Century Architecture Day," which is a day of observance and not a legal holiday.

WHEREAS, In 1972, authors Robert Venturi, Denise Scott Brown and Steven Izenour published an acclaimed treatise on mid-20th century architecture entitled Learning from Las Vegas, which described the pivotal role Nevada played in shaping that era's architectural design across the country; and

WHEREAS, Nevada has many classic examples of mid-20th century architecture which are listed in the National Register of Historic Places, including the Fleischmann Atmospherium Planetarium and the Pioneer Theater-Auditorium in Reno, and the Morelli House, the John S. Park Historic District and the Berkley Square neighborhood, located in Las Vegas; and

WHEREAS, The "Welcome to Fabulous Las Vegas" sign is widely recognized throughout the world as an important icon and is listed in the National Register of Historic Places; and

WHEREAS, The Las Vegas Strip is internationally famous as a mid-20th century architectural resource and has been designated by the United States Department of Transportation as an "All-American Road"; and

WHEREAS, The La Concha Motel Lobby, once viewed as outdated, has been restored and is located at the Neon Museum, has been listed in the City of Las Vegas Historic Property Register and is now recognized as a classic example of mid-20th century design, demonstrating the need to preserve such architectural treasures; now, therefore,

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 236 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

May 20 of each year is designated as Nevada ~~[Modernist]~~ Mid-Century Architecture Day in celebration of the unique and important examples of mid-20th century architecture in this State and in recognition of the need to preserve these historically significant places that are a central part of the rich cultural history of this State.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective ~~[on July 1, 2015.]~~ upon passage and approval.

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Paul Anderson moved that Senate Bill No. 119 be taken from the Chief Clerk's desk and placed on the General File.

Motion carried.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Senate Bill No. 119.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Kirkpatrick, Benitez-Thompson, Carlton, Jones, Gardner, Wheeler, and Hickey.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

I rise in opposition Mr. Speaker. Yesterday we were able to pass a very clean bond bill that helped many children who are currently in overcrowded classrooms. Let us remember the Governor's stats; over 600 kids came to Clark County in just three weeks and there is no room for them. We passed that bill in a bipartisan effort, and for me this is really personal.

I worked in this building to bring bipartisanship and to have real debate on real issues. If you pass this bill the way it currently stands, the prevailing wage will cut wages on our middle class folks. It will cut wages on people who have been out of work for over five years in our state. It will take away from those contractors who have had to travel out of the state to feed their families. There is nothing that we talked about yesterday that put in protections to ensure that Nevada workers get those school jobs. There is nothing that we have talked about today that ensures that Nevada workers—our middle class people that each and every one of us in this room represent—will be protected, that they will get those jobs. The school districts are moving quickly; they are ready to go, shovels in the ground as we asked them to do. You can tell me that there is a trailer bill coming, you can tell me that we will have this debate later, but there is nothing in this bill that protects Nevada workers.

Every one of us in here has always tried to protect Nevada workers. There is nothing that says there is a minimum of Nevada workers that will be on the job; there's nothing that says that they should have health care benefits; there is nothing that says they should have a basic wage. This is about lowering wages for the middle class folks who are struggling to get back on top, and this is a true disappointment to me. I have been in this building and I have worked with many of you to protect the very people that we are supposed to protect in Nevada. Middle class workers will take it on the chin, and any trailer bill that you all want to talk about or any deal that anyone has cut will not change these facts if any of those jobs go out to bid tomorrow.

I am disappointed that this is the tone that is set; that middle class workers no longer have a voice in this building. That is very disappointing to me as a Nevadan that this is the discussion.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BENITEZ-THOMPSON:

I rise in opposition of S.B. 119. This bill came out of Government Affairs absolutely saturated in controversy, so much so that the bill was sent out without recommendation by the committee. As a former chair of Government Affairs, I cannot imagine asking this body to vote on a bill which could not gain support coming out of its committee of origin. It could not gain support, it lacked support, because it is a far reaching policy that is predicated upon a fight against—and an assault against—our middle class and working families.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I rise in opposition to Senate Bill 119. There has always been a myth that labor and management do not work well together. I think this bill proved that the contractors and the union folks have a real stake in this state and really care about what happens in this state. They worked together on this issue—and we are talking about some pretty powerful contractors in this state working with the guys that are on the ground building these schools and making sure they have a decent wage. You get both ends of the spectrum that have serious concerns about what is going to happen to an industry that is barely getting off of their knees in this state. Do I need to remind this body of all the cuts we had to make in 2009 because the construction industry fell down on itself through no fault of its own? We are going to go right back there. You think the Medicaid costs right now are high? You think taking care of children and families costs us a lot now? Just wait until these guys are making maybe 8 or 9 dollars an hour instead of the money they truly deserve. And what kind of schools are we going to get? Out-of-state contractors who have no stake in what happens to our kids? How safe are our kids really going to be when the guy comes in, builds the school, leaves the state, changes the name of his LLC, and beats feet and we need somebody to help fix that school? Mr. Speaker, this is a bad bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN JONES:

Now that the funding has been approved and signed into law by our great Governor yesterday, I am enthusiastically in support of Senate Bill 119. In these trying times where we have limited resources in our government, now we can apply free market principles to the building of our schools and have efficient markets to create and stretch that tax dollar to the utmost, to get the most bang for our buck and have the most schools created for our children because we know they need them.

ASSEMBLYMAN GARDNER:

I rise in support of this commonsense bill. This bill is about helping all middle class families, not some who we have decided in the past to give a premium as much as double or triple the amount of money as they have been getting under the current law. This is giving everybody a fair shot. This is about opening it up to the free market, which has been proven to better all of us. This is not about one small group. This is about helping all middle class families, helping everybody in the state, and I support this bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHEELER:

I rise in support of S.B. 119. We heard a lot in the last few minutes about helping middle class families, especially in an industry that has been hard hit, and I agree with my colleagues on that. We do need to do that. We do need to help these people. One of the best ways we can help these people is to make sure they get back to work. When we pass this bill in a few moments, I hope, we will actually be able to build more schools than we have ever built before, for the same dollar. That is what is going to put these people back to work. We are going to look, in future bills, for in-state preference to raise that level, to make sure that we use in-state employees, and we are going to protect Nevada taxpayers. That is what we really came here to do.

ASSEMBLYMAN HICKEY:

I rise in support of Senate Bill 119. To my colleagues, I stand in support as a middle class contractor who has worked in the private sector and on public sector jobs. I was a proud supporter of the bill that we passed yesterday in order to both build more of the schools that we know we need in Clark County, and to repair the schools in Washoe County, and I am proud of the opportunities that we have given to our rural counties to take advantage of the growth, thankfully, that Nevada is finally experiencing again. Now, some concerns have been raised about whether the quality will go down on these projects with private sector folks.

I would remind you that in Ohio, they passed a similar bill. They did a two-year study. They exempted prevailing wages only on schools, as we are doing here, not on other public projects, and at the conclusion of the study, they found the quality was fine, it came in on time, there were no safety concerns, and it was deemed a success.

Now, we can come back two years later—because one legislature cannot tie the hands of the next—and revisit how well we have done in building these new schools in Clark County and repairing the ones in my district, and we can review that process again. As it was said earlier, we in a bipartisan manner supported the children of this state in the passage of Senate Bill 207 yesterday. I believe we are also helping the taxpayers today. This session is about education, it is about reforms, and yes, it is going to be about revenues. The one thing that this bill does for me; it saves revenues, it saves taxpayer dollars, and that gives me the confidence to know that if we raise revenues, we are doing it in such a way that those taxpayer dollars are spent wisely.

Roll call on Senate Bill No. 119:

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Paul Anderson moved that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

Motion carried.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLIOT ANDERSON:

I rise today, the fifth of March in our year 6020, to recognize an ancient and honorable order, dedicated to the protection of widows and orphans, especially the widows, an order that shares its history with that of our state and the spirit of those intrepid pioneers who braved the wilds of the Great Basin and the high Sierra. I, of course, am referring to E Clampus Vitus, the members of which can be easily spotted in their red regalia. Some may call E Clampus Vitus a rowdy, fraternal, drinking organization, though we whole-heartedly reject any implication that we are organized. In truth, this fraternal body is dedicated to the study and preservation of western American history, particularly that of the Comstock Lode. Across this state, Clampers voluntarily maintain historical markers and help preserve the rich tapestry of Nevada's heritage. In fact, E Clampus Vitus does this more than any other organization in the state. Many members of this revered body are Clampers, including several past Speakers, and I take pride in being part of such an upstanding group.

They say that E Clampus Vitus is ancient, but did you know that Julius Caesar himself was a Clamper? Who can forget his famous quote? Veni, Vidi, Clampi. Translated into English that means, I came, I saw, I Clamped. Certainly the Clampers are unquestionably honorable, or so they tell me. Most importantly, the Clampers are bipartisan. Mr. Speaker, please do not think that our members wearing red today are all yours.

There may be some in this Chamber who would rise against this great and benevolent order. There may be some who claim our practices are outdated, backward, or even crude. But the Clampers' impact on this state is undeniable. Our rules prevent me from saying what I would think about those who would seek out fault in our organization that would count among our members notable Americans like J. P. Morgan, Horace Greeley, and even John Oceguera. It is said that the great George Washington, father of this country, was a member and if he wasn't, I challenge him to come here to this Chamber and say otherwise.

Mr. Speaker, in all seriousness, thank you for indulging me today. I am grateful, at a time in my life where I spend more time with politicians than normal folk, that there is something to remind us all not to take ourselves too seriously. I would like all of my brother Clampers with us today in the Chamber to rise and I ask that we make them feel welcome today.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

To this honorable body, I join many of the members of the Nevada Assembly Women's Caucus, who sadly must rise in opposition. To reminisce about Assemblywoman Marcia DeBraga's legacy, she had an amazing sense of humor which I will share with you in a minute. She was a writer, she always championed women's issues, she was an outstanding member of this body, and she served from 1993 through 2001. So, in continuing this proud tradition, I found no better words than hers to speak to my colleague from Assembly District 15.

> Every odd-numbered year, a resolution supporting E Clampus Vitus comes before the Assembly. It asks us to endorse an ancient and mystical order that has at its philosophical core the Goldwater Theorum regarding God-given rights. We have looked for some redeeming social value in the Clampers' resolution that would enable us to support it. But we were not successful. Instead, we have come to the conclusion, Mr. Speaker, that their reality check bounced.
> Proponents would try to make us believe their compassion, education, and the preservation of history are the principles this society was founded on and upholds. We submit to you that the facts are these:
> E Clampus Vitus was started prior to 1800 and has existed in some form or other ever since, allegedly for the purpose of protecting "widders and orphans," but, preferably, widders.
> Clampers' interest in education seldom goes beyond periodic research on why "lite" beer weighs the same as regular beer.
> They are patrons of sports, literature and the arts, favoring anything with one ball, two folds, or three stooges.
> All members have standing of equal indignity, but obviously, some members are more equal and/or indignant than others. Those who have achieved mediocrity, and therefore leadership, are reverently referred to as Clampatriarchal Humbugs.

Within their own organization is a strong support group to help Clampers in times of severe difficulty. This is vital to their safety because, following the regular meetings, very few of them can remember the number for 911.

The history of E Clampus Vitus is shrouded in mystery. Is it a historical drinking society or a drinking historical society? No one knows; the debate continues.

To preserve their surreptitious activities, they developed their own secret language which can be deciphered easily by anyone with an IQ higher than celery. For example, their motto translates to "Never let the fact that the widders do not want to be protected deter you," and their creed means, "Beer: It isn't just for breakfast, any more."

Although E Clampus Vitus has existed for more than 200 years, almost none of the history of the order has been recorded. And two theories exist to explain this:

Most Clampers prefer to do their protecting anonymously. In the thousands of meetings held by chapters of ECV, seldom, if ever, has anyone remained functional long enough to take intelligible minutes. In fact, the only meeting notes ever found are now in the Smithsonian or some other institution. They were written by the Utmost High Extremely Illustrious Exalted Supreme Grand Secretarial Humbug, who may have been more than a little squiffed, himself, at the time he wrote, "The roll was called and the members were asked to respond present or not present, as best befitted their circumstances. And many of them appeared to have been stricken with some sort of mental confusion. And they answered with unintelligible remarks."

The very name of their club may also have been incorrectly recorded. E Clampus Vitus sounds like a disease—a combination, if you will, of the word for a form of dementia coupled with the word for a form of instability, with which many of its members are, from time to time, afflicted. No one knows how the disease is spread. And, Mr. Speaker, no one wants to know how the disease is spread.

In opposing this resolution, we do so not because we wish to be equal to men—that would show a lack of ambition. However, in the interest of fairness, we have tried our best to understand men. Like so many other women before us, we failed in that endeavor.

Since time immemorial, there has only ever been one woman who actually figured men out. But, Mr. Speaker, she died laughing before she could tell anyone.

We were going to move that all rules be suspended, that reading so far be considered more than enough, that there be no further consideration of this measure, and that the proclamation be immediately concurrently referred to Health and Human Resources, NATRAM, Government Affairs, and the Ways and Means Committees in some other state.

So, instead, we are discussing forming our own counter-organization of E Clampus, whose members will be known as the "Lady Bugs" as soon as we decide what we want to protect.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Ben Fleming.

Heavenly Father, we lift up our eyes to the hills. From where does our help come? Our help comes from the Lord, who made heaven and earth. He will not let our foot be moved; he who keeps your servants in this Assembly will not slumber. Behold, he who keeps Israel will neither slumber nor sleep. The Lord is your keeper; the Lord is your shade on your right hand. The sun shall not strike you by day, nor the moon by night. The Lord will keep you from all evil; he will keep your life. The Lord will keep your going out, and your coming in, from this time forth and forevermore. I pray this in the Name of Your Son Jesus.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 122.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Swank and Wheeler.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SWANK:

Assembly Bill 122 does not create a legal holiday but establishes May 20—which I might add is the birthday of Betty Willis, who designed the Fabulous Las Vegas sign and lives in Overton, Nevada—as "Nevada Mid-Century Architecture Day." It will be a day of observance in celebration of the unique and important examples of mid-20th century architecture in this state and in recognition of the need to preserve these historically significant places that are a rich part of our cultural history. I would also like to add that on May 20, 2014, the Neon Museum along with the Nevada Preservation Foundation held a panel discussion on the Mid-century Home, that honored architect Hugh Taylor, who designed over a thousand residences in Nevada. This May 20, the Neon Museum, the Nevada Preservation Foundation, and the City of Las Vegas will hold a panel discussion on mid-century motels.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHEELER:

I rise in reluctant support of Assembly Bill 122. You see, Mr. Speaker, before the amendment, the bill was just fine. But when we add the word mid-century and I look around this room, I see so many people, like me, who were actually born in the mid-century. We are now being equated with an historical monument. I must ask my colleague, why did she do this to us?

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SWANK:

I would like to reply to my esteemed colleague. I, too, am from the mid-century. Being in historic preservation—maybe that is something that would benefit my esteemed colleague also, so that all of us can be well preserved.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 122:

YEAS—42.

NAYS—None.

Assembly Bill No. 122 having received a constitutional majority, Mr. Speaker declared it passed, as amended.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

SIGNING OF BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

There being no objections, the Speaker and Chief Clerk signed Senate Bill No. 90.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Paul Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLISON:

My colleague from District 22 implemented a tan hump-day during the last couple of weeks. We feel that we have been discriminated against. Therefore, we would like to recommend that once in a while we have a blue, Levi Jeans Day. I know I have my colleague from District 22 who probably would like to debate this, but, sir, I would like to make sure that that goes on the record.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

As one who likes to include everyone, I would not oppose the Levi Day. In fact, I remember when Levi Straus first came to San Francisco and sewed the first pair of Levis. The miners were very relaxed and felt much more comfortable in them. I would strongly support a Levi Day, and by the way, sometime this year Levi Straus will have another birthday.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHEELER:

I, too, rise in support of Levi Day, obviously. Being from the Rodeo State and having a license plate on my car that says Rodeo State, once in a while we just ought to do it. Looking back two years ago, I know that the former Speaker was very much in support of this since she gave us denim day about six times if I remember correctly. We just ask that you carry on with the tradition

ASSEMBLYMAN OSCARSON:

I could not help but weigh in on this important matter. I believe that it would be prudent to compromise and perhaps wear Levis with a brown jacket and just combine the two days. Also, for the record, I will not be in support of a license plate for Levis.

GUESTS EXTENDED PRIVILEGE OF ASSEMBLY FLOOR

NELSON ARAUJO
Nevada State Assemblyman

Assemblywoman Carlton requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

Motion carried.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

Yesterday was International Women's Day and I would like to put a few comments on the record recognizing that. On March 8 in the early 1900s, 15,000 women marched down the street in New York City to proclaim it Women's Day. They were fighting against some of the unfair labor practices that were happening at the time and fighting to protect children. They were one of the impetuses to our child labor laws. I think it would be a good day today to recognize that fact and to congratulate them. One of the sayings that came through that movement was With respect comes peace.

Assemblyman Hansen moved that the Assembly recess until 4:45 p.m.

Motion carried.

Representative Amodei delivered his message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-EIGHTH SESSION, 2015

Thank you Mr. Speaker, Mr. Lt. Governor, Mr. Chief Justice, Governor. You all humble me with the fact that you actually come to these things that I routinely left right after roll call. It is my recollection there were just four of them when I first started out in this business. It was Harry Reid, John Ensign, Shelley Berkley, and Jim Gibbons. Sometimes some of them would bring in props, and it was always a bad sign when they walked in with papers. I want to let you know that nobody is going to be late for dinner tonight. We will get moving pretty quick, but I did want to talk to you about a couple of things.

First of all, I want to put all of your minds at ease. I know that as the session started out, there was some media coverage—there might even be some media people in the room tonight—about things being contentious and things like that, and running smooth, not running smooth, and things of that nature. I want to assure you that the United States House Republican Conference is doing everything it can to make sure you folks look like everything is running absolutely smoothly, just like an ice cream social. At the end of a particularly contentious two weeks last week, our last vote was scheduled to be on Thursday night. Things went so well Tuesday that the Majority Leader said to the Speaker, "I think we need to send these folks home a couple of days early because if we keep them here two more days, they are probably going to kill each other." They didn't need to tell us twice. It's good to be home.

It is good to see all of you. I only want to talk with you about a couple of things. We live in a state where we are blessed, but it is also a unique state in all of the 50 because of the fact that the vast majority of our state is federally owned. That creates challenges for everybody, whether it is economic development, resources, you name it; whether you are talking about how drones are going to fly between here and there; whether you are going to talk about where they are going to get a mining project in Yerington; whether you are talking about whether sage hens are going to be okay or not okay. That requires unprecedented collaboration with our federal land management folks.

As part of the privilege you extended to me tonight, I made the point of inviting some folks that I have had the privilege of working with in the federal process. Please give a warm Nevada Legislature welcome to BLM Nevada Director Amy Lueders; Fish and Wildlife Director for Nevada Ted Koch; and also your very own Leo Drozdoff, Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, and Vice-Chairman Chris MacKenzie of the Nevada Sagebrush Ecosystem Council, the outfit that the Governor has done such a great job of putting all the stakeholders together and staying on top of this issue, following in a process that Kenny Guinn started 12 years ago.

In this business, urban myths are pretty plentiful. And in this business, whether it is at your level or the level that I am at, the one thing that is free all day, every day, in unlimited quantities is drama. I wanted to alert you to a couple of things because they have direct impact, and you are, obviously as you should be, major players in those. There is going to be a discussion in this Congress, in the House side, about federal land ownership. It is not a surprise to anybody in this room because you had an interim committee that did a lot of work on that. That discussion is going to take a formal bent for the first time in a long time under the leadership of Rob Bishop, who is the Chairman of the House Natural Resources Committee and former Speaker of the Utah Assembly. I expect the work you folks did will be something that is looked at. With the speed that the Congress moves, I am sure something will be done in a month or two at the latest—I just identified who was listening. Before all the balloons go up—and it is America, it is okay to discuss issues—I expect we will discuss that and see where it goes.

The other issue I want to talk with you about briefly is the sage hen. Some of you are wondering What is a sage hen? We know sage grouse. If they are all sage hens, how do they repopulate and things like that? There are people in this room who have sage hen blood on their hands. We will deal with that later in a little less formal fashion. There is a lot of urban myth, and I thought I would give you an update from the perspective of somebody whose district is kind of the sage hen crossroads of the West. And by the way, it is not "NevAHda" and it is not sage grouse. Grouse are something that live east of here somewhere probably on the other side of the Rockies or something like that. Sage hen, or if you are in a hurry, chickens.

This has been going on since Kenny Guinn was Governor. It has heated up, and it has cooled down, and it has done this and that, but it is in full focus now. What are we doing? The Governor's Sagebrush Ecosystem Council has done phenomenal work in terms of bringing all parties to the table and identifying the issues. No Nevadan likes to be told what to think. Nobody leave the room and say Amodei came here and told me what to think, but I would like to remind you of some facts.

Under the guidance of this Governor and the Sagebrush Ecosystem Council, we have done some phenomenal work in terms of mapping the resource. Remember, this is first and foremost a habitat issue. It is not numbers of birds; it is fragmented habitat and loss of habitat. If you don't believe me, we still have a hunting season around here. It is a habitat issue. So you say We are losing habitat. I don't care if you are a Democrat or a Republican, if you are high altitude or low altitude, you are an easterner, you are a westerner. You look at Nevada and you say Over the last 20 years, what has happened to our habitat? Over the last 20 years, please feel free to talk to Mrs. Lueders and her folks. You can find out that BLM district managers permitted about 150,000 acres in mining operations in 20 years. In that same 20-year time period, we lost between 6 million and 7 million acres to catastrophic wildland fire. There are those of you who are much better in the hard sciences than I am, but that is just a fraction.

So if it is really about the habitat, then what are we going to do about the primary cause of the loss? The Sagebrush Ecosystem Council has been talking about that. Fish and Wildlife has been involved, BLM has been involved, and folks at the University have been involved, and we have this map that they have come up with. It is called the Coates Map. We started out with, Where are the darn things and where is the habitat? We have identified that—and thank you very much because it was the Nevada Legislature, pursuant to the Governor's suggestion, that put up almost a million dollars to take the Nevada Department of Wildlife map and give it to the USGS to further define where that habitat is left. So we have a pretty good idea.

So you sit there and you think What are we going to do? How are we going to protect that? How are we going to bring it back? And there are skirmishes back and forth in terms of can you restore it? Can't you restore it? Will the birds come back? Will they not come back? You know what? In last year's appropriations bill, some people—certainly would not be anybody in this room—were criticized for saying we need to put this process on hold for a year. The reason we need to put it on hold for a year is because throughout all this, when you are in a state where the major landowner is the federal government, mostly in the form of the Department of the Interior, there has not been even a request for resources to do stuff on the ground. And by the way, the federal government—rightfully so as the Governor can tell you and as Chris MacKenzie and his colleagues can tell you—is like What are you going to do state? What are you going to do private people? What are you going to do mining companies? What are you going to do for all that? Absolutely fair questions, but when you own the vast majority of the habitat, it is like What are you going to do?

I am happy to tell you Secretary of the Interior Sally Jewell has submitted a budget which asks for $60 million for the Department of the Interior to start doing their part in the those states with sage hen habitat for purposes of the habitat, using words like "unprecedented," talking about restoration, talking about fuels management—all the magic words if fire is the threat to this particular habitat. And so you say Okay that is nice, Mark. Why are you telling us this? I am telling you this because we have come a heck of a long way in Nevada from where we started ten years ago to where we were four years ago to where we are now where you have no less than the Secretary of the Interior saying We need to do something about fuels. We need to do something about restoration. We need money through the appropriations process to uphold our obligation.

The reason I am telling you this is because that puts you in an excellent position to then go finish up this process through the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service decision-making process to say Hey, we have checked this box, we have checked this box, we have checked this box, we have checked this box. We have everybody's attention; we have got ag people, we have miners, we have got energy folks; here you go. Not that the problem goes away, because it does not. It is a continuing thing that will need to be worked. To go forward under the stigma of a listing when you have responded in a way which, using the Secretary of the Interior's word, is unprecedented, with all parties at the table—I think you are in an excellent position.

I have one request. As we sit here in this excellent position getting ready to run the final lap of that process—you may have already done it, and if you have not, I want you to think about it—you ought to invite these people in to your appropriate committees and say We want a briefing on where you are at and where you are at on this, this, and that. And you say Why is that? Because we need to start a new era where it is not the feds and us; it is, whether you like it or not, we are brother and sister and we are going to be that way if it kills us. If you need any help from the bottom of the totem pole, please call me. I will call up out of the basement to that bottom level and see if I can help you out.

Other than that, I just want to let you know that it is humbling to be given the responsibility of saying you represent the state of Nevada back there. It is an incredible time. Everybody loves everybody in Washington. Everybody who goes back there gets rich, their health care is paid for, they get to pick their own number for their retirement. By the way, the commute each way changes your whole cultural view on the people who ride in middle seats. For people who are not as strong as me, it would break them down emotionally at times and cause them to do things.

With that, I want to say thank you for your hospitality. Thank you for your willingness to work with the handicapped. It is great to see some colleagues from back a million years ago. I do want to say one thing, though. I do know for a fact, because I have checked around quietly, that the happiest person in the Nevada Legislature right now is Pat Hickey. Keep that smiley face on, big guy. I hope the painting business is going good, because I am going to need a job pretty quick.

Enjoy your beautiful spring evening. Thank you very much for your hospitality, and God bless Nevada.

WHEREAS, A society is judged by the manner in which it treats its most vulnerable citizens; and

WHEREAS, The children of the State of Nevada are the future of this State and the public education of those children is vitally important to the future success of this State; and

WHEREAS, The system of public education extending from kindergarten through grade 12 is often not funded sufficiently; and

WHEREAS, Proceeds from a lottery may not be sufficiently reliable or stable to rely upon such proceeds to pay entirely for programs that benefit children and senior citizens; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature will determine how best to apply proceeds from a lottery to benefit children and senior citizens by accounting for such proceeds separately and by using such proceeds to supplement and enhance existing, permanently funded programs; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 24 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

(a) Determine the appropriate manner of operation for the lottery.

(b) Account separately for the proceeds of the lottery for expenditure in the same manner as other noncontinuing sources of revenue.

(2) The health and welfare of senior citizens within this State.

(d) Ensure that the proceeds from the lottery, other than expenses directly related to the operation of the lottery, may only be used to supplement and not supplant money that the State would otherwise have expended for the programs and services described in paragraph (c).

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Paul Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ROBERT A. NYLEN, CURATOR OF HISTORY, NEVADA STATE MUSEUM:

It is really quite an honor for me to be here today. I was thinking as I was coming over here, I wish my parents could be here to see their son speak to the state Legislature. Thank you for inviting me.

What I wanted to talk about—actually I was going to play the part of William Stewart, and that is why I am dressed this way. But it did not work out that way so I will just tell you a little bit about William Stewart. It is maybe a name that some of you recognize. He was our first U.S. Senator, selected by the Legislature back in 1865. Prior to that, he played a significant role in making Carson City the state territorial capital which eventually gave it the opportunity to become the state capital of our state, as it still is today.

It all started when William Stewart came West. Like many, he was caught by the excitement of the cry of gold to come to California. He came in 1850, coming through the Panama area. Once he got to San Francisco, California, he got terribly sick with Panama fever as it was called. Because he was young and because he was strong, he survived. He actually had some teamsters take him in a wagon for a three-day journey to the gold fields. Then he spent another nine days on the verge of death. But he survived. He said in his reminiscences that he had $10 and a watch. That was all he had when he got better.

Stewart went into mining and became very successful at that in the gold fields of California, but then he became a lawyer, too. He read law during the day whenever he had a chance and at night. He passed the bar and, incredibly, at age 27, he became the Attorney General of California. He became an expert in mining law and later, when he was a U.S. Senator from Nevada, he became known as the Father of National Mining Law because of his experiences.

Eventually he got excited like many others when this area known to Californians as Washoe started to boom. He also wanted that opportunity and came here, first by himself, and then he brought his family in 1860. In 1861, he was in the Carson City area. After we became a territory, he was selected, with others, to serve in the first Territorial Legislature which opened in October of 1861. He was selected to represent Carson City and Ormsby County, and was in what was known as the Territorial Council, which would be the Senate, and there was the House, which would be the Assembly. He was elected and he knew his mission was to make Carson City the capital. He set out right away, meeting the different legislators and delegates coming to Carson City. The first Territorial Legislature met at the Warm Springs Hotel, today the site of our old historic prison, just a short distance from here.

He met with the different legislators that came. He asked them What did they want? How did they want their county drawn up? Where did they want their county seat? Eventually, late in the session, he drafted a bill. He introduced it towards the end; the session only lasted about two months. Many believed it would be Virginia City because it was the prominent, booming, largest population. All the wealth was there coming from the mines, and many of their delegates who came down thought that it was, so to speak in today's language, a slam-dunk. They would be the territorial capital. But William Stewart went behind the scenes, worked out the arrangements, worked out the deals, and when it came time for the vote, he won by three. He knew he would win by those three votes and he did.

It was a very emotional thing. There was an incident where two delegates got into a terrible fight in a bar in the Carson City area. One of them picked up a piece of wood and hit the other to such a degree that he was not able to attend the following session. It was a very strong point and a very important point. But Carson City was selected. There was a lot of excitement and entertainment that day. William Stewart would become our first U.S. Senator a few years later in 1865.

Stewart did regret, later in his reminiscences, that to make those arrangements he had to agree to, or got the delegates to agree to very small counties with county seats very close to the capital. Those small county seats were Washoe City, which would be about half way between here and Reno today; Dayton which was Lyon County; Douglas County with Genoa; and then Storey County with Virginia City. They were only a short buggy trip away from the capital. The smaller counties put stress, he thought, on the taxpayers to pay for that additional government for these small areas of the state.

He did, interestingly enough, build a beautiful home here in Carson City, but he left after just a couple of years because his great love and his way of making his living was in mining. So he went up to Virginia City, built a huge mansion up there, and was one of the most successful mining attorneys with all the litigation that took place.

Eventually, in 1865, he was selected by the Legislature to be our first U.S. Senator. The second to be picked was our former Territorial Governor who also served a brief time as Governor, James Nye. They immediately went off to Washington to participate. He arrived on February 1 and took the oath of office with James Nye to be able to vote and participate in Congress.

What I want to finish up on is Stewart's dealings with Abraham Lincoln. We have the original great portrait over where you see it every day. When Stewart went to see Lincoln, he said that Lincoln greeted him so friendly. He grabbed him by both hands and said, It is so good to see you. It is good to see you here representing a loyal state. And also the fact that your gold and silver has helped us to finance this terrible war.

In the next two months, before Lincoln's assassination—which we are coming up on the 150th anniversary of that—he developed a very close bond with him. Stewart had some interesting comments about his meeting with Lincoln. He was invited to dinner several times, and Lincoln was very much open to legislators coming from the Congress and the Senate, but also the public. He was amazed how fast Lincoln could go through meeting all these Congressional figures. He had a real method to it. He was able to hear them out, hear what they were interested in, and then provide some of his thoughts on what they were after.

One story I want to tell that I thought was interesting is, just before the end of the Civil War, Stewart went out to General Grant's camp, the Union headquarters and had an opportunity again to run into Lincoln. Lincoln was there, and they were asked to and prepared to go and review the Union troops. Now, to do that, they would need horses. As they prepared to mount, one of the Union orderlies came up to him and said, Are you a good horse rider? Stewart was kind of offended by that. He was used to riding just about any kind of animal you could ride, and he said, I am capable of staying on anything. The orderly said, I did not mean to offend you, but I just want to warn you that this horse that we are going to provide for you was just captured from the Confederates, not that long ago. Stewart said, I think I can handle it, so he got on the horse and they rode over to see the Union troops. Lincoln was there and he was quite a horseman in his own right. Just as they were getting ready to come back, this horse he had perked up his ears, snorted from his nostrils, and took off at full speed for the Confederate lines, or for Richmond as he said. He was very embarrassed. Stewart tried to pull back on the reins and get him to stop but he lost his hat, and his coat was flapping in the breeze. The closer and closer he got to the Confederate lines, he could actually see the Confederates and they were looking at him, just stunned about him coming at them full speed. Finally, he mentions in his reminiscences, that the bit in the horse's mouth got back in place and he was able to, with one hand, turn the horse and get him to circle. Other Union Calvary that were following in desperation got him and got him back to the safety of the Union lines.

Well that night after dinner, Lincoln was sitting there and so was Senator Stewart. Senator Stewart said that Lincoln seemed kind of in deep contemplation and maybe even had a depressed look on his face. He turned to Stewart and said, Senator, today when I saw you heading for the Confederate lines I was very concerned. I was trying to figure out how I was going to trade a Union Senator since we did not have any Confederate Senators. Stewart said he had this twinkle in his eye. Later, Stewart also heard that while this whole incident was going on, Abraham Lincoln was watching through binoculars and kind of laughing at the whole situation. It turned out for the best and showed their friendship.

It is also interesting, to finish up here, with a story about the last day that Lincoln would be alive. On that April 15, 1865, Senator William Stewart and friend of his, a California friend who had come out and wanted to meet Lincoln, came to the White House that night at seven o'clock. Lincoln would meet people in the morning and at night. They came and sent a note up to Lincoln through one of his aides and asked if they could meet with him. Shortly they got a note handwritten back saying, No, I have made this arrangement with my wife, and I will not break it. I plan to go tonight to the theater, but I will see you tomorrow at ten o'clock sharp in my office. And it was on a handwritten note. It is sad that later, as Stewart and his friend left, he just dropped that note; he lost that, such a valuable note. He contended in his reminiscences this was the last thing that Lincoln would ever write before he would be assassinated a few hours later. And, in fact, as they were leaving, they were outside and all of a sudden, Lincoln and Mary Lincoln came out. They were going into their buggy to head for Ford's Theater, and he saw Stewart again and his friend. Lincoln came over, shook the man's hand, and thanked both Stewart and the friend and said I will see you tomorrow at ten. Then he got in the buggy and left.

I think it is so great that our state has such a connection with Abraham Lincoln. I was born in Illinois, the Land of Lincoln, and it has been a special part of my life. I think it is so special that each day while you are doing your service to our great state of Nevada, that you have a chance to look up at that wonderful and beautiful portrait that was purchased to honor our relationship with the President of the United States, Abraham Lincoln.

Just to finish up on William Stewart, he served 29 years in the U.S. Senate. He actually had a brief period when he left but then he came back. When he finally decided not to run, he said it was not to retire but to go back to what he loved the best, his litigation in mining and law, and so he came back to Nevada. He went to southern Nevada, went down to Rhyolite and Bullfrog. There are some great pictures showing him on a mule riding around and also in his office down there, and I was just wondering if he ever did get to visit the new community of Las Vegas.

William Stewart was a great and interesting figure. Again, thank you for having me today. It is a great honor. I hope I have shared a little bit about how William Stewart played a part in bringing the capital, here and it has been here ever since.

Assemblywoman Kirkpatrick requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

Mr. Speaker, first I would like to thank our staff because it really does put a lot of work on Broadcasting, our front desk, as well as our legislative police to make this happen. If we could give them a round of applause.

Secondly, I would like to thank the special guest we had today. This is an historic building, and his talk gave us perspective on where we are, where we came from, and what made our state so great. If I could ask you, Mr. Nylen, to stay and help us as we unveil our little piece of history, that would be great.

I want to tell you that this will probably be the last time that this Chamber will actually be used for a floor session. My understanding, and the way I heard it in the Governor's inaugural speech, is he would like to preserve this room and make it more of a museum so that all Nevada folks can be a part of it. It really is a big day for all of us to be in here for the last time. I have been fortunate; this is my sixth time in here, and there is never a dull moment when we have this.

This is the first time Guy Rocha is not with us. For your fourth graders who have Nevada history as part of their curriculum, there is an amazing link that Mr. Rocha put together on our State Library's website that has 151 Nevada myths. It can tell you amazing stories of how people jumped out the window so they didn't have to vote, and how people had to be brought here handcuffed by the police so they could take their turn at voting. We have all grown up since then and we do not do that, but we still are the wild, wild west.

So with that thought in mind, I do have prepared remarks today because I want to be sure I get this right. I tend to speak from the heart. There are a lot of things in my remarks that need to be said so that people remember what the institution is about, why our folks sent us here. Whether we agree or disagree, we still have a job to do.

Winston Churchill once said, "Democracy is the worst form of government, except for all those other forms that have been tried from time to time." Many of us know that—we try it time and time again.

The legislative institution takes a lot of criticism. Where is Mr. Ralston? He is the first to give it to us. It is true. We do take a lot of criticism. With the negativity we tend to forget that representative democracy is still the envy of many people around the world. We are very fortunate in the United States to have that. As legislators it is important that we take time to recognize the contributions of our predecessors. Many of our predecessors, as we heard today, have paved the road for us, and we really do need to realize how we got here and why. We need to educate the public. That is our number one job is to ensure that the public knows what the Legislature is, what we do, and why we support the institution.

There is no question about it; lawmaking is messy. That is why they refer to it as sausage making. But we all represent diverse constituencies and diverse communities across the state—rural, urban, south, north, east, west—all kinds of folks across the state. We have a job to do—to bring it all together for the entire state. Each of us is very passionate about making Nevada a better place. Many of you who know me and have served with me, even these 30 days, you have seen my passion. That is the passion that people want in this building. That is the passion that helps us do better for our state for the long term.

Sometimes we disagree, and it is okay to disagree. You disagree at your household. You disagree with your family members, but we have to rise above that, and we have to do what is best for our state. We have to have those real conversations. Everybody brings a different point of view in this building, in this state, and we have to rise above it to do what is best. It is our job to engage in that conflict, to have real conversations, to bring points out from all sides of the state, and then to turn around and find a solution that is better so that the state does better, so that my children, my grandchildren, your children, your grandchildren know why we have been here. That is the point of this building and there is a lot of history that has gone into it.

As legislators, we have to continue that education with folks. We are the very first branch of government. We have a responsibility to educate and listen to the people. When we give away our responsibility as legislators, it doesn't do anybody any good. We are the People's House and we are no longer hearing the people's voice. I always remind folks to keep the Legislature independent and to make sure the people are heard.

In celebration of 150 years of statehood, we had one big party all year long in different places across the state. The Assembly Democrats said Let's put together some legislative history. Nothing is worse than watching all these school kids come through the building and still not know what we do. They need to know the laws that have been passed, and they need to know the fights that we have had to get there.

We have put together these history panels with the help of some amazing folks. We have a lot of great staff. First, I want to thank Susan Furlong. Thank you Susan, because without you this would not be possible. I would also like to thank Cindy Southerland; she has done an amazing job to help us.

Nevada has always been ahead of the rest of the world because we are the wild, wild west; because we can have those hard conversations; and because we were thinking a hundred years out as other states were catching up to us. Over the next several weeks, we will unveil ten panels which will be hung on the third and fourth floors. I encourage everybody to sponsor one. They will tell the history of our state so as people walk through the hallways, they will learn. People who were here last session know that we did the 150-year mural that hangs on the wall, and a lot of people liked it. A lot of people stopped, and it made us believe that we needed to do more.

This is my last session. This is my last time here but there are a lot of things I still want to do, and with the help of the Speaker, we can still do those things. We are in this together. We are one state. We will bicker. We will agree to disagree, but at the end of the day, we will bring real solutions because that is our job.

So today we are unveiling the Judiciary piece. It will talk about things from gaming law to the lemon car law. There are amazing things we have done over time, and our predecessors really put a lot of work into it. One day you will be somebody's predecessor. Any good thing that you do will come forward. Of course, any bad thing you do, too, will be remembered. This is a start of building a legislative building with a little bit of legislative history so that folks who come from around the world to see us, know who we are.

Thank you for being a part of this history. I look forward to seeing the next nine panels to come. We will do one at some point on the Legal Division The Legal Division no longer has to cut and paste things out of a typewriter and put them on a bill, but we want to show that history because it is amazing how far they have come and some of the things they still do. We will do one on the Chief Clerk's office and why they exist.

Now we will unveil the Judicial piece of it. I encourage everyone to be a part of it. It is a nonpartisan piece, as always, as we are a nonpartisan body when it comes time to doing what is best for our state.

Please enjoy the history, and thank you for letting me give a piece of it back to Nevada.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 11.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Gardner, Ohrenschall, and Hansen.

ASSEMBLYMAN GARDNER:

Assembly Bill 11 revises the time frame the Division of Parole and Probation of the Department of Public Safety must disclose the factual content of any presentence investigation report and the recommendations of the Division to the prosecuting attorney, the counsel for the defendant, the defendant, and the court. The bill changes the time frame from not later than 21 working days to not later than 14 calendar days before the defendant will be sentenced, unless the defendant waives this minimum period.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I rise in opposition to Assembly Bill 11. There was a lot of testimony and a lot of good questions in your Committee on Judiciary, but I have to urge the body to defeat this bill. My concern with this bill is that by shortening the time that someone has to go over the presentence investigation report with their defense attorney, we really are putting a lot of things in jeopardy. The Nevada Supreme Court opined in the Stockmeier decision that once a defendant is sentenced, that presentence investigation report cannot be corrected, and there are all sorts of collateral consequences when there is an error in a presentence investigation report. A defendant may be incorrectly alleged to have been part of a gang when that is not true. A weapon may have been alleged to have been carried when that may not be true. Unfortunately, what the Supreme Court has told us is that, after that sentencing, there is no fixing it, and that may jeopardize the time a person may be able to get on parole, return to their family, get back to being a productive citizen, and no longer have us supporting them at one of our NDOC [Nevada Department of Corrections] facilities.

Mr. Speaker, we try to pass bills that achieve efficiency, but sometimes we pass bills that have unintended consequences, and I fear that this bill will have many unintended consequences on the poorest of our defendants: those who are indigent, those whose attorneys have very high caseloads, and those who oftentimes must be contacted by their attorney at a county jail. There are often a lot of hurdles that arise; jails can be on lockdown, phones can be inoperative, and it is difficult for that public defender or appointed counsel for the indigent client to be able to reach their attorney. Mr. Speaker, I cannot urge this body enough to defeat this measure.

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 11. We did hear it in our committee. It was thoroughly vetted. Perhaps the most interesting piece of information was the discovery that the public defenders typically—after having a survey of over 300 people who had been serviced by them—typically meet with them less than 48 hours prior to the actual hearing. That was probably the most critical piece of information that we had. After hearing from Parole and Probation and everyone else, this is a very reasonable compromise. We went from having 21 working days to 14 days. That will save the state money and will actually improve the performance of the Parole and Probation people as they try to address some of these concerns. We are absolutely and totally interested in protecting the most poor and those who may not be served as efficiently as possible.

We want to make sure that those folks are properly cared for within a reasonable amount of time. This bill, in fact, does that.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TITUS:

Assembly Bill 28 requires the State Long-Term Care Ombudsman to develop a training course that encourages long-term care facilities to allow residents to follow their own routines and make their own decisions concerning the daily activities in which they participate. The training course is to be made available to officers, directors, and employees of long-term care facilities. The bill also requires the Ombudsman to provide this training to advocates who assist the Ombudsman.

As the Chief of Staff of South Lyon Medical Center and also the medical director for our long-term care facility, we have already started being patient advocates and making sure that patients can follow their daily activities, as they did when they were in their home. What this bill does is give an avenue and assistance to other facilities who perhaps do not know how to do that. It is a partnership of those facilities for the patients in the state, so I am in strong support of this bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Assembly Bill 45 eliminates the current requirement that an assessment of the risk of a prisoner who has been convicted of a sexual offense to reoffend in a sexual manner return a risk level of either low, moderate, or high. Instead, the bill requires that the assessment include a determination of the prisoner's level of risk to reoffend in a sexual manner, including, without limitation, whether the prisoner is a high risk to reoffend in a sexual manner.

ASSEMBLYMAN TROWBRIDGE:

Assembly Bill 70 provides for administrative and enforcement provisions related to the excise taxes on the sale of marijuana, edible marijuana products, and marijuana-infused products by medical marijuana establishments that were originally approved by the Legislature in Senate Bill 374 of the 2013 Session. The administrative provisions contained within this bill are similar to currently existing provisions used by the Department of Taxation for other taxes and fees currently administered by the Department.

Assembly Bill 70 additionally removes provisions requiring the Department of Taxation to periodically review the excise tax rate and to provide recommendations to the Legislature relating to adjustments to the rate. This act becomes effective July 1, 2015.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I need to make a disclosure related to A.B. 70. Because we are considering Assembly Bill 70, which makes changes related to the taxation of marijuana through the marijuana dispensaries, I would like to advise the body that my spouse is employed lobbying on behalf of a marijuana dispensary association. Although Assembly Bill 70 does not affect her clients any differently than any other dispensary owners, I am making this disclosure, and I am abstaining from voting on A.B. 70 out of an abundance of caution.

Senate Bill No. 21.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Neal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN NEAL:

Senate Bill 21 revises the reporting requirements to the Department of Motor Vehicles for special fuel users who are subject to the multistate International Fuel Tax Agreement and who also pay any of the indexed special fuel taxes imposed in Clark and Washoe Counties pursuant to NRS 373.066 or 373.0663.

Senate Bill 21 provides that these special fuel users are authorized rather than required to file a request for reimbursement with the Department.

The bill removes provisions requiring the Department to determine whether a special fuel user may owe any additional amounts as a result of the International Fuel Tax Agreement and additional special fuel taxes imposed in Clark and Washoe Counties. Therefore, these provisions apply only to a request for reimbursement of any special fuel taxes imposed on special fuel. While it may impact the highway fund, it is nominal. Representative Titus delivered her message as follows:

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-EIGHTH SESSION, 2015

Governor Sandoval, Speaker Hambrick, Majority Leader Roberson, Leaders Kirkpatrick and Ford, distinguished guests, old friends—and you are not mutually exclusive—and new members. It is my pleasure to be back here in Carson City. I'm sorry that Debbie Smith is not with us, but I understand that she is doing better and will be here soon, so please give her my regards.

Thank you so much for letting me join you here this evening. I was a little apprehensive when writing this speech because I heard some of you might be packing, and that made me a little nervous.

Nonetheless, it is always good to come back to the Nevada Legislature. I spent 20 years here serving the good people of District 7, and I worked with many dedicated public servants, just like you, who give so much of their time and effort for the people of Nevada in making this a better place.

I have a lot of memories about my time here, so I hope you'll indulge me while I reminisce a little bit. Some of you may know these stories, but some of you are new and do not have much institutional memory, so I hope you will appreciate hearing about some of your former colleagues. I remember, for instance, when Senator Bob Coffin went on a hunger strike because he could not get his bill passed. He didn't seem to be losing much weight, but we didn't call him on it. Then one day he pretended to swoon down in the well of the Senate, and Senator Nolan, who was an EMT, leapt over the bar to try to revive him. Now, when he turned him over to give him CPR, Bob was outed because a banana fell out of his pocket.

I don't know if some of you knew this or not, but smoking used to be allowed on the floor. In one very fiery speech when the inimitable Marvin Sedway was railing against the mining industry, he caught his own beard on fire. See, that is how it used to be around here.

Then there was one time, late one night, when the Republicans got mad about something. They stormed off the floor of the Senate floor, and they forgot to adjourn. Senator Neal, who was a master of the rules, said, "Just hold tight for a few minutes." So we did, and then after everybody had left the building, he called for a quorum. The Sergeant at Arms had to run out there and arrest all the Republicans, find them to bring them back. A lot of them had already left to go to Reno. We got Ann O'Connell back in her pajamas—she came back—but in the meanwhile, we "ran the board." So even though you are in the minority, you can still do things if you know the rules, so remember that.

Then one time—this was after I had left the Senate—you all were kind enough to induct me into the Senate Hall of Fame. There was a very nice ceremony and people were talking about how I had been their mentor. Now, you say that when someone has been around a long time like my student Scott. At the end, Senator Raggio stood up and said, "Well, you may have been their mentor, but for 20 years you were my tormentor." So Senator Ford, this is your new role, at least for now, so remember that.

Over the years, I worked with some of the best legislators: Barbara Buckley, who was such a champion for children, and I understand this is Children's Week here at the Legislature, so that is a tribute to her work; Randolph Townsend, who was a real pioneer in pushing renewable energy for Nevada; Maggie Carlton, who brought Payday candy bars and put them on all our desks and advocated equal pay for equal work long before we knew about Lily Ledbetter; and then Dean Rhoads, who is a real cowboy, a true cowboy, and he hated federal intervention, whether it was on the rangeland or in the bedroom, and I had to appreciate that.

And of course, through all of that time, you had Ed Vogel, who recorded it and witnessed it all, and we certainly miss him around here.

Then there were the giants—you had Jack Vergiels, Joe Dini, Bill Raggio—all of them gone now. But they left us with a legacy, and they taught me one of the most valuable lessons I have learned in public life, and that is that the interests of the people should always trump politics. They were able to accomplish all that they did because they worked across the aisle to further the common good. Whether here in Carson City or 2,500 miles to the east in Washington, we should carry on that legacy.

The staff, too, was amazing. Brenda Erdoes, Don Williams, Dennis Neilander, the Governor's father, Mr. Ron Sandoval—all of them were so kind, so qualified, so talented, and so patient. Every day you should thank LCB for making you look good.

My colleagues in Washington, knowing how hard that Nevada was hit by the recession, always come up to me and ask me the same thing. They say, "Dina, how are things going in Nevada?" I am proud to tell them we are coming back. I am very optimistic. Unemployment is down by half, the cranes are working on the Strip again, and we are going to welcome more visitors to Las Vegas this year than ever. The housing market is ticking up, and companies like Tesla are relocating here. I tell them that our Battle Born spirit, while shaken, was never broken, and we're very excited about that. But we all in this room know that we have a ways to go, and as the Governor said, we've got to work together to create a "New Nevada."

Toward that end, I am trying to do what I can in Washington, focusing on ways that the federal government can complement what you all are doing here in the state.

First, we all know that businesses seeking to expand or to relocate look for a state with a well-trained workforce. Today, that well trained workforce means those who are qualified in the STEM fields. In Nevada, unfortunately, we fall short. There was a Brookings Institute study that recently came out that concluded, and I quote, "Too few Nevadans are ready to participate in the state's emerging STEM economy."

Towards that end, I have introduced two bills that are both bipartisan to try to boost STEM education nationally as well as here in Nevada. One would allow veterans to get additional GI Bill benefits so they could major in the STEM fields. Those majors usually take longer and are more expensive because of the lab classes, and they need those additional resources. Veterans have training and background that make them really good candidates for STEM subjects.

The other bill would increase federal investment in STEM programs at universities and colleges that serve minority students. These would also create scholarships for minorities and women, who are less likely to study the STEM fields. We want to encourage them because they are no less qualified to do so.

But we have got to start earlier, and not just with STEM investment. We are failing our children all across the education spectrum, from art to zoology. There was a phrase that I coined when I was in the Legislature, and I hear it used often still today. Unfortunately, Nevada is on the top of every bad list and the bottom of every good list. That was meant to be a clarion call for change and reform, but I'm afraid it has become a motto of sorts that is used often by the pundits, and it is especially true in the area of education.

I congratulate you all for passing the school bond rollover. Thank you for doing that. Now you have an opportunity to make real improvements in our education system here in Nevada, and I encourage you not to miss that chance. Funding for education should be considered an investment, not an expenditure, so thank you for what you do.

We have also got to make investments in infrastructure, and that is the backbone of commerce throughout our state. Whether it is trucks on America's loneliest highway or limousines on the Las Vegas Strip, we have got to be able to move people and products around efficiently and effectively. That is the only way we are going to be able to compete in global markets.

I began my third term on the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee. I sought that out because I think it is so important for Nevada's economy, and I pledge to work with you all as we try to strengthen Nevada's infrastructure. One of the most critical infrastructure projects and one of my priorities is the development of Interstate 11 from Phoenix to Las Vegas and beyond as part of the CanaMex Corridor. I am proud to be the Co-Chair of the Congressional I-11 Caucus, and this is a bipartisan group of legislators from Nevada and Arizona. We are trying to convince our colleagues, as we look at the highway reauthorization bill, that this is a critical part of our national transportation plan, not just something that affects Nevada.

I am also a member of the Aviation Subcommittee, and I am doing what I can to complement the work you all are doing here on unmanned aerial systems. I have a hard time saying that, so for now I will just call them drones. I lobbied FAA Administrator Huerta to pick Nevada as one of the six drone test sites, and I am very excited about the potential there. We worked hard to get the FAA to finally issue those rules for the sky that have come out recently to deal with some of the commercial use of these drones. Now comes the comment period, and we are again trying to get the Secretary to pick Nevada as a place to hold one of the public hearings. I think there is an expertise and excitement here that will be able to create very informative and informed testimony in those hearings. Hopefully we can do that.

Another way that we can work together is on behalf of Nevada's veterans. I am honored to serve our veterans on the House [Veterans Affairs] Committee, and one of my goals is to ensure that Nevada's veterans get the benefits and the health care that they deserve and have earned.

Unfortunately, the brand new VA hospital in Las Vegas is struggling to recruit and retain doctors, so our veterans often face unacceptably long wait periods. To address this, I introduced successful legislation to create more residency programs at VA hospitals in places that are underserved by doctors, like Las Vegas and like rural Nevada. Now, the challenge is finding ways to support the educational programs for these new residents. As you continue your discussions on the much needed UNLV Medical School, remember that when you are helping the school, you are also supporting our nation's heroes. Thank you for doing that.

We have also got to make the VA more relevant for ALL—and I say that with capital letters—ALL twenty-first century veterans. Senator Spearman, I am going to need your help with this. The population of women veterans is growing, yet the VA struggles to provide the most basic health care that women need. In addition, outdated federal law means that LGBT veterans do not get the benefits they deserve in states that don't recognize marriage equality. That is not true in Nevada, thanks to the leadership of Senator Parks, but in some states, one day you are in the service, in uniform, and you get the benefits, and the next day you are a veteran and you lose it. That is just not fair. Furthermore, our youngest, post-9/11 veterans, especially women, often have childcare needs that prevent them from taking advantage of both education and employment training programs, like Nevada's Green Zone Initiative, so they can then go into the workplace and more successfully provide for their families. We need to work together to promote all of these issues, and that is coming.

As Senator Segerblom knows, another way to roll the VA into the modern world is by changing some of the outdated policies on medicinal marijuana. We need to allow more scientific testing of the drug for potential use in the treatment of PTSD and pain management.

While we are on the subject, following the actions of the last legislative session involving medical marijuana, it became very clear to me that Nevada needed a strong voice in the Congress to do several things: one, to ensure that our state's rights and our state's interests are respected; two, to be sure that this burgeoning new industry can operate like the legitimate business that it is; and most importantly, that patients can get the medical care they need. I am cosponsoring several bills to that effect in Washington as well.

Finally, two other issues of importance to Nevada that are being considered in Washington are comprehensive immigration reform and protection of our public lands for future generations. Thanks to the leadership of Harry Reid, these are both moving forward in the Senate, and I am committed to pressing for them in the House because I believe that not only is it the morally right thing to do, but it is also the economically wise course of action to take.

Before I conclude—I do not want to go too much longer than Mark Amodei did, even though I am not quite as casual as that—I want ask you a favor. I want you to send one of those resolutions that you all pass from the Legislature back to Congress. I want this resolution to be in support of repealing the sports betting handle tax. This is something you can all do that is bipartisan—even the Review-Journal is in favor of this, so you don't have to worry about it. Nevada is the only state that pays this handle tax on sports betting. It was supposed to go at the federal level to fight illegal betting but it does not; it just goes into the general fund. It does not mean much for the federal general fund, but it is $9 million to $12 million that we could better keep here in the state to create jobs, grow businesses, and help our own economy, so please send me that resolution.

Let me end by saying, as you conduct your important work here over the next couple of months on that "Blueprint for Nevada," please consider me an advocate, a resource, and a partner. And as we continue our journey to putting Nevada on the top of the good lists, let us remember the working men and women without whose efforts we would not have gotten as far as we have. Let us remember those who laid the railroads and built the Boulder Dam; who dug the mines and won the Cold War; who wait the tables and teach our children. Those are the unsung heroes whose stories make Nevada such a special place. Thank you organized labor.

It has been a real pleasure visiting with you tonight. It is truly an honor to serve as your colleague, representing District 1 in Washington and all of Nevada in Congress. One of the best parts of the job is welcoming people who come not only from District 1, but also from all over the Silver State. So if you get back there and are looking for my office, it's real easy to find. Just ask anybody; they'll tell you it's the one with the cutout of Liberace standing by the front door. Thank you very much.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Senate Bill No. 115.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Stewart, Kirkpatrick, and Elliot Anderson:

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Senate Bill 115 allows the outlying areas in Clark County to elect their own advisory town boards. If no one runs for the office, then the County Commission can still make the appointment. I recommend this bill be passed.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

I rise in support of Senate Bill 115. However, I thought a better amendment would have been to make it take the advisory piece out; just make it a regular board so that they actually have to file like everybody else. But I supported this in the past, and I will support it again today

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLIOT ANDERSON:

I just want to ask my colleague from the double-deuce a quick question to clarify the record on S.B. 115. He said that it applied to Clark County. Did he mean to say this it was just the rural town advisory boards, so we can keep the record clear?

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

In Clark County, those unincorporated towns 25 miles or more from Las Vegas. It applies only to the counties of 700,000 or more, which would be Clark County.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman O'Neill requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN O'NEILL:

I would like to have it read into the record that Carson High School senior government affairs classes will be visiting us during the day. They were here earlier and had to leave. They are on a tighter schedule.

I also have today the honor of introducing Jim Shirk, who represents District 4 in the Carson City Board of Supervisors. He is also a member of the Carson City Leadership Institute which is one of the premier programs operated in Carson City by the Chamber of Commerce. The first class graduated in 1989; the program has been successful ever since. When looking through a roster of graduates, you will see familiar faces and names, many of whom have gone on to public office or have taken jobs as leaders in the community. The program is designed to provide a detailed understanding of the inner workings of the various public and private elements that make Carson City a unique place to live, work, and have your family.

They were here a little while ago and unfortunately had to leave. I would ask that we all give them and Supervisor Shirk a warm Assembly welcome.

The bill removes certain limitations on agreements entered into by the Board of Trustees of the Fund for Hospital Care to Indigent Persons. The Supplemental Account for Medical Assistance to Indigent Persons is replaced with the Fund for Hospital Care to Indigent Persons, allowing each board of county commissioners to remit the amount previously reverted to the Supplemental Account directly to the Fund. Assembly Bill 41 also repeals provisions authorizing the Board to require certain hospitals to pay an assessment thereby preventing a reduction in federal participation for Nevada Medicaid. Lastly, the bill repeals the inactive Fund for the Institutional Care of the Medically Indigent.

Almighty God, You have placed before us and the Legislature as a whole, a large number of bills for consideration, discussion, and decision. In this process, guide and help us keep our minds open and directed to the good of one group of people, the citizens of Nevada.

As we look at each bill, may we critically and carefully decide what would be the best for the citizens of this state. May we also put aside our own political leaning and work together across the aisle to forward bills that would advance the state and its people in the eyes of the nation.

May the work we do together today in this Assembly session set a pattern that will improve the lives of all Nevadans. All these things we bring to You, trusting in Your grace and mercy, in the Name of Your Son, Jesus Christ.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to require that an initiative petition which creates, generates or increases any public revenue be approved by the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the voters voting on the question.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 18 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 18. 1. Every bill, except a bill placed on a consent calendar adopted as provided in subsection 4, must be read by sections on three several days, in each House, unless in case of emergency, two thirds of the House where such bill is pending shall deem it expedient to dispense with this rule. The reading of a bill by sections, on its final passage, shall in no case be dispensed with, and the vote on the final passage of every bill or joint resolution shall be taken by yeas and nays to be entered on the journals of each House. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a majority of all the members elected to each House is necessary to pass every bill or joint resolution, and all bills or joint resolutions so passed, shall be signed by the presiding officers of the respective Houses and by the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the Assembly.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, an affirmative vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the members elected to each House is necessary to pass a bill or joint resolution which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates.

3. A majority of all of the members elected to each House may refer any measure which creates, generates, or increases any revenue in any form to the people of the State at the next general election ~~[,]~~ and , except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of Article 19, the measure shall become effective and enforced only if it has been approved by a majority of the votes cast on the measure at such election.

4. Each House may provide by rule for the creation of a consent calendar and establish the procedure for the passage of uncontested bills.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That a new section, designated Section 7, be added to Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 7. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, if an initiative petition proposes a statute, an amendment to a statute, the repeal of a statute or an amendment to the Constitution and the initiative, if approved, would create, generate or increase any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates, an affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the voters voting on the question is necessary to approve the petition at each election required for the petition. If more than one-third of the voters voting on the question at any such election votes disapproval of the petition, no further action may be taken on the petition.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1 of Article 4 of this Constitution, but subject to the limitations of ~~[Section]~~ Sections 6 and 7 of this Article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes and amendments to statutes and amendments to this Constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition shall be in the form required by Section 3 of this Article and shall be proposed by a number of registered voters equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in not less than 75 percent of the counties in the State, but the total number of registered voters signing the initiative petition shall be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire State at the last preceding general election.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the Legislature is held. After its circulation, it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 30 days prior to any regular session of the Legislature. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall transmit such petition to the Legislature as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes. The petition shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby shall be enacted or rejected by the Legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. The petition shall be subject to the provisions of Section 18 of Article 4 if the petition creates, generates or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, such statute or amendment to a statute shall become law, but shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in Section 1 of this Article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the Legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the Secretary of State shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. ~~[~~If~~]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of such statute or amendment to a statute, it shall become law and take effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the Legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If the Legislature rejects such proposed statute or amendment, the Governor may recommend to the Legislature and the Legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after such different measure has been approved by the Governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure shall be submitted by the Secretary of State to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. ~~[~~If~~]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters are both approved by a majority of the voters voting on such measures, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes shall thereupon become law. If at the session of the Legislature to which an initiative petition proposing an amendment to a statute is presented which the Legislature rejects or upon which it takes no action, the Legislature amends the statute which the petition proposes to amend in a respect which does not conflict in substance with the proposed amendment, the Secretary of State in submitting the statute to the voters for approval or disapproval of the proposed amendment shall include the amendment made by the Legislature.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the Constitution, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than September 1 of the year before the year in which the election is to be held. After its circulation it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 90 days before any regular general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire State. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the State, together with any explanatory matter which shall be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on the petition. ~~[~~If~~]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as such question was originally submitted. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on such petition. ~~[~~If~~]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, it shall, unless precluded by subsection 5 or 6, become a part of this Constitution upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court.

5. If two or more measures which affect the same section of a statute or of the Constitution are finally approved pursuant to this Section ~~[~~,~~]~~ and Section 7 of this Article, or an amendment to the Constitution is finally so approved and an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified which affect the same section, by the voters at the same election:

(a) If all can be given effect without contradiction in substance, each shall be given effect.

(b) If one or more contradict in substance the other or others, the measure which received the largest favorable vote, and any other approved measure compatible with it, shall be given effect. If the one or more measures that contradict in substance the other or others receive the same number of favorable votes, none of the measures that contradict another shall be given effect.

6. If, at the same election as the first approval of a constitutional amendment pursuant to this Section, another amendment is finally approved pursuant to this Section, or an amendment proposed by the Legislature is ratified, which affects the same section of the Constitution but is compatible with the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit at the next general election the amendment given first approval as a further amendment to the section as amended by the amendment given final approval or ratified. If the amendment finally approved or ratified contradicts in substance the amendment given first approval, the Secretary of State shall not submit the amendment given first approval to the voters again.

Assemblywoman Dickman moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections.

Motion carried.

By Assemblymen Moore and Jones:

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 76.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Education:

Amendment No. 121.

AN ACT relating to education; requiring the Department of Education to share certain aggregate data concerning certain pupils with the Interagency Council on Veterans Affairs; revising provisions concerning the assessment of tuition charges against veterans of the Armed Forces of the United States who were honorably discharged within a certain period; requiring the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada to submit certain reports to the Legislature; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the Department of Education to establish and maintain an automated system of accountability information for Nevada. In part, existing law requires the system, to the extent money is available for this purpose, to include a unique identifier for each pupil whose parent or guardian is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States, a reserve component thereof or the National Guard. (NRS 386.650) Section 1 of this bill requires the Department to share with the Interagency Council on Veterans Affairs, on an annual basis, aggregate data collected under the system concerning those pupils.

Section 2 of this bill requires the Board of Regents to submit ~~[a biennial]~~ an annual report to the Legislature , or to the Legislative Committee on Education when the Legislature is not in regular session, which includes: (1) the number of students who are veterans or who are receiving payments or benefits from the United States Department of Veterans Affairs; (2) information about how policy changes may have affected the number of students who are veterans enrolled in the Nevada System of Higher Education; (3) the number of students who are veterans who graduated during ~~[each of the]~~ the immediately preceding academic ~~[years covered by the report;]~~ year; and (4) the efforts undertaken by each institution within the System to retain and graduate students who are veterans.

Under existing law, any provision of state legislation enacted on or after July 1, 2013, which adds or revises a requirement to submit a report to the Legislature must: (1) expire by limitation 5 years after the effective date of the addition or revision; or (2) contain a statement justifying the extension of the requirement for more than 5 years. (NRS 218D.380) Pursuant to that requirement, section 5 of this act expires section 2 by limitation on July 1, 2020.

Existing law encourages the Board of Regents to implement measures pursuant to which the educational needs of students and prospective students will be met. (NRS 396.504) Section 3 of this bill encourages the Board of Regents to implement measures pursuant to which the educational needs of students and prospective students who are veterans will be met by fostering a culture that recognizes the unique challenges of those students.

Existing law authorizes the Board of Regents to assess charges against students who are not residents of Nevada at all campuses of the System. The charges are in addition to registration fees and other fees assessed against students who are residents of Nevada. Existing law also provides that a veteran of the Armed Forces of the United States who has been honorably discharged within the 2 years immediately preceding the date of the veteran's matriculation is eligible for free tuition at a university, state college or community college within the System. (NRS 396.540) Section 4 of this bill extends that period from 2 years to ~~[3]~~ 5 years. (NRS 396.540)

(i) Provide for the analysis and reporting of the data in the automated system of information.

4. The Department shall establish, to the extent authorized by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, 20 U.S.C. § 1232g, and any regulations adopted pursuant thereto, a mechanism by which persons or entities, including, without limitation, state officers who are members of the Executive or Legislative Branch, administrators of public schools and school districts, teachers and other educational personnel, and parents and guardians, will have different types of access to the accountability information contained within the automated system to the extent that such information is necessary for the performance of a duty or to the extent that such information may be made available to the general public without posing a threat to the confidentiality of an individual pupil.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN WOODBURY:

Amendment 121 makes two changes to the bill. First, it requires annual reporting by the Board of Regents to the Legislature on or before November 30, versus February 1, of each year. Second, the amendment increases from three years to five years the time period a veteran who has been honorably discharged is eligible for in-state tuition.

Assembly Bill No. 58.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Woodbury, Carlton, Ellison, and Kirkpatrick.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN WOODBURY:

Assembly Bill 58 expands the category of personnel of the Department of Public Safety upon whom the powers of a peace officer are conferred.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

Just for the body's clarification, I want to make sure that this bill in no way extends any benefits not currently given under the heart and lung statutes to any new officers under DPS [Department of Public Safety]. A yes or no would be great.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLISON:

The discussion we had said all heart and lung would be already existing. There would be no new at all.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

I just want to put on the record that this is the fifth session that we have had to try and fix this. For all those DPS people who are listening, hopefully this is it: no new benefits, no new nothing, and it should be fixed for life.

Assembly Bill No. 150.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman Stewart.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Assembly Bill 150 provides an alternate method of eligibility for the Governor Guinn Millennium Scholarship for those students who do not achieve a minimum grade point average, which is now 3.25, but who pass all the other requirements for the scholarship and achieve on a college entrance exam the minimum score set by the Board of Regents of the University of Nevada.

Some students are late bloomers, some have problems at home which keep them from applying themselves to their studies, but they are very bright. This bill would provide a method for them to receive the Governor Guinn Millennium Scholarship if they pass the high score on the college entrance exam selected by the Board of Regents. I urge passage of this bill.

Remarks by Assemblyman Elliot Anderson.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLIOT ANDERSON:

Senate Bill 101 authorizes school district boards of trustees to extend, in odd-numbered years, deadlines related to the reemployment status of certain employees. The deadline for notifying employees of their reemployment status may be extended from May 1 to May 15, and the deadline for employees to advise the board of their acceptance of reemployment may be extended from May 10 to May 25.

For those members that have been here for a few sessions, you remember this. We always have to extend the date for all of our teachers because of the fiscal concerns; we do not know how much revenue we will have. This will allow us to not keep coming back and having to pass a bill each session. We have to pass it quickly in order for the school districts to meet the April 1 initial deadline under the provisions of this new bill.

Motion carried.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 76.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Diaz.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

Assembly Bill 76 requires that the Department of Education shares with the Interagency Council on Veterans Affairs aggregate data collected concerning each pupil whose parent or guardian is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States, a reserve component thereof, or the National Guard. The bill also encourages the Board of Regents of the Nevada System of Higher Education to foster a culture that recognizes and supports veterans, and extends from two years to five years the time period a veteran who has been honorably discharged is eligible for resident or in-state fee charges.

Finally, A.B. 76 requires that the Board of Regents submit, on or before November 30 of each year, a report to the Legislature, or the Legislative Committee on Education when the Legislature is not in regular session, concerning the participation of students who are veterans in the Nevada System of Higher Education. This bill is effective on July 1, 2015.

I just want to clarify that the net effect of this bill is that veterans will be treated in the same manner as residents who do not pay tuition but who do pay fees.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 70.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Armstrong and Carlton.

Potential conflict of interest declared by Assemblyman Ohrenschall.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARMSTRONG:

Assembly Bill 70 provides for administration enforcement provisions related to the excise taxes on the sale of marijuana, edible marijuana products, and marijuana infused products by medical marijuana establishments that were originally approved by the Legislature in Senate Bill 374 of the 2013 Session. The administrative provisions contained within this bill are similar to the currently existing provisions used by the Department of Taxation for other taxes and fees currently administered by the Department. Assembly Bill 70 additionally removes provisions requiring the Department of Taxation to periodically review the excise tax rate and to provide recommendations to the Legislature relating to adjustments to the rate.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I need to make a disclosure to the body regarding Assembly Bill 70. Because we are considering Assembly Bill 70, which makes changes related to medical marijuana and its taxation, I would like to advise this body that my spouse lobbies on behalf of an association of marijuana dispensary owners. Although Assembly Bill 70 does not affect her clients any differently than any other dispensary owners or associations, I am making this disclosure and am abstaining from voting on Assembly Bill 70 out of an abundance of caution.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I rise in opposition to Assembly Bill 70. This body, a long time ago, decided that we would not tax medicine. Here we are making a huge sea change and actually taxing medicine in this state, and I am absolutely opposed to it. I feel it is the wrong path to go. If you want to tax this particular product, there are a number of bills out there that would allow us to do it in a legal, regulated way, and we could recognize it as we do other legal drugs and substances in this state. But to actually tax what is being classified as a medicine, I believe is absolutely wrong for the path of this state.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 70:

YEAS—34.

NAYS—Carlton, Ellison, Flores, Jones, Seaman, Titus, Wheeler—7.

DATED this 2nd day of February, 2015.

MICHELE FIORE
Nevada State Assemblywoman

Assemblyman Hansen moved that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

Motion carried.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FIORE:

Today I would like to take a few minutes to recognize a native Nevadan who dedicated his life to serving our country and our state, the late Aaron Grant Gerber. Grant, as he was known to those close to him, was from Elko, where he grew up, married, and raised a family. He was a veteran, an attorney, a county commissioner, and a man who was always involved with organizations to serve the people of the state he loved. He was dedicated to efforts and organizations to help protect private land rights, public land access, and constitutional principles. He is described as a freedom fighter, dependable and always available when there was a need to serve others. He faithfully served his church, and above all he was a family man who loved all the members of his immediate and extended family. With me today are his wife Lenore, his son Josiah, and grandchildren Quincy and Ava.

His favorite quote was, "Make no small plans. They have no magic to stir men's souls." The accomplishments achieved by Grant, and the causes he supported, show that he did not think small but thought about how his efforts could affect others and the future of our state. We lost Grant on October 25, 2014, during his participation in the Grass March Cowboy Express Ride across the nation to Washington D.C. to protest the reduction of ranchers' grazing rights. On the return ride, his horse, Gandhi stumbled and fell in a groundhog hole and Grant was seriously injured. Today we remember this dedicated individual and his unrelenting pursuit of liberty.

At this time I am going to present a proclamation to his family. Thank you all and please make them feel welcome.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLISON:

Mr. Gerber was a veteran, he was an attorney, he was a county commissioner, and most of all, he was my friend. My heart went out to the Gerber family with this loss. I have never seen a family stand so strong and so united through a loss. I am very proud of them and I am proud to call them my friends.

Mr. Gerber should go down in the Cowboy Hall of Fame because he never stopped being a cowboy. I want you to give the family a big round of applause.

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

Mr. Gerber was truly a great American. He served his country in Vietnam. He was one of the most dedicated public servants that Nevada has ever seen. He actually was the one that put together that Grass March. He had done things like that repeatedly in his life. He was one of the great champions of this state in our endless struggle to try and preserve our rights with the federal government. He literally died with his boots on doing what he believed in the most, and that was preserving the Constitution of the United States and protecting our rights as Nevadans.

It was a great privilege to get to know the man. I rode with him a little way on the Grass March. I watched when he brought the chuck wagon all the way from Elko County right up to the front lawn and then went in and met with the Governor and the Governor's people. This was an effort to get that petition going to protect the people of Battle Mountain, my district, in the struggles they were having with some BLM people. He wished to bring to the state's attention and to the country's attention the struggles that rural Nevada is having as we see this constant growth in government.

I just wanted to take just a minute to say a sincere thank you to Grant Gerber and to his lovely wife and family. They have five boys and one daughter and they have 27 grandchildren. They are heart and soul of what Nevada represents. Thank you to the Gerber family.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Paul Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLIOT ANDERSON:

At the floor session held in the historic Assembly Chamber a couple of weeks ago, my colleague from Assembly District 1 announced the donation of a series of historical panels to celebrate the 150th anniversary of Nevada's statehood. Collectively, these panels tell the story of the Legislature's role in shaping the history of our state. The first panel was donated by former Assembly Judiciary Chairman Jason Frierson and highlighted select legislation that has gone through the Judiciary Committee.

Today it is my pleasure to donate the second panel in the series, this one highlighting the Education Committee. Among other things, you might be surprised to learn that Nevada was years ahead of Brown vs. Board of Education in ending school segregation. In 1871, attorney T.W.W. Davies II—who was later elected to represent Ormsby County (Carson City) in the Assembly—successfully argued before the Nevada Supreme Court that it was unconstitutional to exclude children from attending public school due to race or color.

When you have a minute, please take some time to learn a little bit about the contributions of legislators who served before us and enjoy the Education panel. It will be posted outside of the Education Committee room.

WHEREAS, Since the launching of the Global War on Terrorism in response to attacks on the United States on September 11, 2001, through Operation Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom, Operation New Dawn, Operation Inherent Resolve and Operation Freedom's Sentinel, 6,832 Americans have lost their lives, including 56 Nevadans; and Assemblyman Elliot Anderson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Elliot Anderson, Hansen, Edwards, Kirkpatrick, and Mr. Speaker.

Assemblyman Elliot Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLIOT ANDERSON:

I rise today in support Assembly Concurrent Resolution 3.

Mr. Speaker, this morning across the quad, Governor Sandoval stated that today is a great Nevada day. And it truly is. I believe the Governor was referring to the lovely weather and the ceremony, but I have a little bit of a different spin on it.

Today is a great Nevada day because our prayers have been answered. Please allow me to explain. This is now the fourth session that I have had the high honor of participating in Veterans and Military Day at the Legislature, and at every session we prayed for the day when no more Nevadans would be added to the list of the fallen. We have prayed for this day, and finally our prayers have been answered. I am overjoyed to speak these words, and I will not tire of saying, No Nevadans have fallen since last session.

Just because we are not adding new names to the list does not mean that we face no challenges. In fact, we have many to tackle. We have to ensure that as the news reports of conflicts end and relative peace time begins, we take extra steps to ensure that we do not forget the veterans that come home.

In particular, we need to ensure that we do not forget to take care of the families of our fallen heroes. Their loss is eternal but our memory is not. It needs to be. We can never allow our veterans and our Gold Star families to fall through the cracks as our country and our state move on. They are truly the ones who bear the cost of war. And make no mistake, their burdens are costs of war. We should treat them as such. We should spare no expense in taking care of them. If we are willing to spend unlimited amounts on bombers and bullets, so too, we should spend unlimited amounts to help those who have borne the battle, and of course, their widows and families.

Mr. Speaker, I do have a suggestion for how we can tackle that challenge. I will not make a pitch for any particular type of legislation. In fact, my suggestion is actually to all of our guests today, our honored veterans and military family members, and our military members. We need you to serve in a different capacity. We need you involved in government. You have selflessly served your country. You have eaten dirt, slept on lava rocks, and spent days, if not weeks, getting rained on. The last two I have personal experience with, by the way, Mr. Speaker. Lava rocks hurt.

You bring a perspective to public service that people in government and politics need. Whether you run for office or not—and if you do, please don't run against me—we need you involved in some capacity, to ensure that policymakers do not forget the burdens and costs of war that our veterans, military, and family members continue to bear. Do not hope we remember—make us remember.

Speaking as a veteran, a neighbor, a citizen, a policymaker, and an officer of the state of Nevada, I don't just want your help. I need your help. Nevada and the rest of the country need your help. I bet when everyone came here today, they were not expecting another recruiting pitch, were they?

With that, Mr. Speaker, I respectfully ask my colleagues to join me in supporting Assembly Concurrent Resolution 3. Thank you

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

I have an announcement for the veterans who have been working so diligently on Assembly Bill 140. We were trying to get it done today for you; we did not quite get it done, but it will be. We worked out all the amendments. Mr. Harris has worked very diligently on your behalf, and we will be voting that out of our committee in the not too distant future. I cannot help but bring to the veterans' attention that my son is in the second year at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. You guys will be led by some good officers.

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWARDS:

Today we are honored to have amongst us 155 very fine Junior ROTC guests from six southern Nevada high schools: Bonanza, Cheyenne, Las Vegas, Mojave, Pahrump and Valley.

Nevada's Junior ROTC program numbers 8, 450 cadets this year. They come from all walks of life, from all parts of our state. In a time when we hear so much bad news about our schools and our students, these cadets stand out and offer proof that the next generation has greatness within it. And it is greatness that comes from every demographic. If a young man or woman has the drive to better themselves, the Junior ROTC gives them the pathway to success.

Whereas too many students don't show up for school, these cadets do. Whereas other students get themselves into trouble, these cadets do not. Whereas too many others do not measure up, these cadets excel and set the bar higher for everyone. And whereas so many others tragically do not graduate from schools, these cadets and the thousands of other cadets like them across our great state earn that walk across the stage to receive the high school diploma they have achieved.

The Junior ROTC program is not just about wearing uniforms, cutting your hair, and doing physical training—as motivational as those things are. It is one of the best programs that a young person in high school can enter. They learn to incorporate important life skills and values such as leadership, teamwork, honesty, integrity, and the perseverance to overcome life's obstacles. It is a shining example of what our young men and women can achieve when given challenging goals, proper direction, guidance, and a real chance to succeed. This is made possible by the exemplary efforts of the outstanding instructors and leaders who show them the way. These instructors are not just teachers; they are mentors, counselors, and sometimes surrogate parents who set stellar examples for their cadets to emulate. Please welcome them with a round of applause.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KIRKPATRICK:

Traditionally on Veterans Day in the Legislature, we try to show the impact that veterans have on our everyday lives. This session is unique when we see how many more women are in the service and serving our country. I do not want that to be forgotten, because these are very different times. Women are leaving their families and their husbands and going out into the field and fighting for our freedom. If you will indulge me, I would like to show how veterans really impact our lives. Will all the veterans within this chamber please stand? Now, if all the spouses of a veteran will please stand. Now, I ask anyone who has a family member who is in the service to please stand. And lastly, will those who have a friend or someone close to them in the service please stand. When you see all of those who are standing, you can see that veterans impact our lives every single day, and we do know someone who is out there fighting. I think it is important that people recognize that each and every one of us are affected in some way.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I want to take this opportunity to recognize this group of men and women to whom this entire body owes a debt of gratitude that we will never be able to repay—the men and women who have served us in our armed services. I would ask that the veterans stand and that the members of this body give them the appropriate greeting. Ladies and gentlemen, please understand that that applause was not just for you. That applause was for your wives, your children, your grandchildren, your parents. They all supported you and we are very, very, very grateful. As we all know, freedom is not free.

Resolution adopted unanimously and ordered transmitted to the Senate.

Mr. Speaker announced if there were no objections, the Assembly would recess subject to the call of the Chair.

Assembly Bill No. 27.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Education:

Amendment No. 27.

AN ACT relating to education; revising provisions governing the licensure of certain teachers who are not citizens or lawful permanent residents of the United States; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Upon request of a school district, existing law authorizes the Superintendent of Public Instruction to issue a license to teach to a person who is not a citizen or lawful permanent resident of the United States but who is otherwise entitled to work in the United States pursuant to federal laws and regulations if: (1) the school district has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Superintendent that a shortage of teachers exists in the subject area for which the person is qualified; (2) the person is otherwise qualified to teach in the subject area for which there is a shortage of teachers; and (3) the school district agrees to employ the person to teach in the subject area for which there is a shortage of teachers. (NRS 391.060) This bill removes the requirement that a school district demonstrate that a shortage of teachers exists in a particular subject area as a condition to licensure and instead allows such a person to be ~~[hired]~~ licensed to teach if: (1) the school district can demonstrate that any shortage of teachers exists ~~[.]~~ or that the school district has not been able to employ a person possessing the skills, experience or abilities of the person to be licensed and such skills, experience or abilities are needed to address an area of concern for the school district; (2) the person is otherwise qualified to teach; and (3) the school district agrees to employ the person. This bill also authorizes the governing body of a charter school to request the Superintendent to issue a license to such a person and employ such a person in the same circumstances as a school district.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 391.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

391.060 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section and NRS 391.070, it is unlawful for:

(a) The Superintendent of Public Instruction to issue a license to, or a board of trustees of a school district or a governing body of a charter school to employ, any teacher, instructor, principal or superintendent of schools who is not a citizen of the United States or a person who has filed a valid declaration to become a citizen or valid petition for naturalization, or who is not a lawful permanent resident of the United States.

(b) The State Controller or any county auditor to issue any warrant to any teacher, instructor, principal or superintendent of schools who is not a citizen of the United States or a person who has filed a valid declaration to become a citizen or valid petition for naturalization, or who is not a lawful permanent resident of the United States.

2. Upon the request of a school district ~~[,]~~ or the governing body of the charter school, as applicable, the Superintendent of Public Instruction may issue a license to a person who does not meet the requirements of subsection 1 but is otherwise entitled to work in the United States pursuant to federal laws and regulations if:

(a) The school district or the governing body of the charter school, as applicable, has demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction that ~~[a]~~ ***:

Assembly Bill No. 165.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Education:

Amendment No. 90.

AN ACT relating to education; establishing a credit against the modified business tax for taxpayers who donate money to a scholarship organization; setting forth certain requirements for a scholarship organization and for schools that receive grants from a scholarship organization; requiring a scholarship organization to submit an annual report to the Department of Education; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, financial institutions and other employers are required to pay an excise tax (the modified business tax) on wages paid by them. (NRS 363A.130, 363B.110) With respect to that tax, section 4 of this bill establishes a tax credit equal to an amount approved by the Department of Taxation, which must not exceed the amount of any donation of money made by a taxpayer to a scholarship organization. To claim the tax credit, section 4 requires a scholarship organization to apply to the Department for approval of the credit for a taxpayer who intends to make a donation to the scholarship organization. If the Department approves the application, the scholarship organization must provide notice to the prospective donor, who must make the donation within ~~[10]~~ 30 days after receiving the notice. If the donor does not make the donation within the requisite period, the donor forfeits eligibility for the credit. The Department: (1) must approve or deny applications for the tax credit in the order in which the applications are received by the Department; and (2) is authorized to approve applications for each fiscal year until the amount of the tax credits approved for the fiscal year is the amount authorized by statute for that fiscal year. For Fiscal Year 2015-2016, the amount authorized is ~~[$10]~~ $5 million. The amount authorized for each succeeding fiscal year is 110 percent of the amount authorized for the immediately preceding fiscal year.

Section 5 of this bill provides that a scholarship organization: (1) must be exempt from taxation pursuant to section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. § 501 (c)(3)); (2) must not own or operate any school that receives grants pursuant to sections 2-6 of this bill; (3) must accept donations and may also solicit and accept gifts and grants in addition to donations; (4) must not expend for administrative expenses more than 5 percent of the money it receives; (5) must provide grants on behalf of pupils who are members of a household with a household income which is not more than 300 percent of the federally designated level signifying poverty to attend schools in this State, including private schools, chosen by the parents or legal guardians of those pupils; (6) must not limit to a single school the schools for which it provides grants; and (7) must not limit grants to specific pupils. Section 5 also requires the maximum amount of a grant provided by the scholarship organization to be adjusted each fiscal year in an amount corresponding to the percentage of increase in the Consumer Price Index published by the United States Department of Labor for the preceding calendar year. With respect to donations, gifts and grants governed by this bill, section 5 also requires the organization to provide each person who makes a donation, gift or grant with an affidavit attesting to certain information. For each pupil who is a beneficiary of a grant, section 5 requires that the school in which the pupil is enrolled maintain a record of the pupil's academic progress in such a manner that the information may be aggregated for all such pupils enrolled in the school.

Section 6 requires a scholarship organization to submit an annual report to the Department of Education concerning the donations, gifts and grants received by the organization and the grants made by it during the preceding year. Sections 7 and 8 of this bill provide specifically for application of the credit against the taxes affected by this bill.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 385 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 to 6, inclusive, of this act.

Sec. 2. Sections 2 to 6, inclusive, of this act may be cited as the Nevada Educational Choice Scholarship Program.

Sec. 3. As used in sections 2 to 6, inclusive, of this act, unless the context otherwise requires, "scholarship organization" means an organization in this State that meets the requirements set forth in section 5 of this act.

Sec. 4. 1. Any taxpayer who is required to pay a tax pursuant to NRS 363A.130 or 363B.110 may receive a credit against the tax otherwise due for any donation of money made by the taxpayer to a scholarship organization in the manner provided by this section.

2. To receive the credit authorized by subsection 1, a taxpayer who intends to make a donation of money to a scholarship organization must, before making such a donation, notify the scholarship organization of the taxpayer's intent to make the donation and to seek the credit authorized by subsection 1. A scholarship organization shall, before accepting any such donation, apply to the Department of Taxation for approval of the credit authorized by subsection 1 for the donation. The Department of Taxation shall, within 20 days after receiving the application, approve or deny the application and provide to the scholarship organization notice of the decision and, if the application is approved, the amount of the credit authorized. Upon receipt of notice that the application has been approved, the scholarship organization shall provide notice of the approval to the taxpayer who must, not later than ~~[10]~~ 30 days after receiving the notice, make the donation of money to the scholarship organization. If the taxpayer does not make the donation of money to the scholarship organization within ~~[10]~~ 30 days after receiving the notice, the scholarship organization shall provide notice of the failure to the Department of Taxation and the taxpayer forfeits any claim to the credit authorized by subsection 1.

3. The Department of Taxation shall approve or deny applications for the credit authorized by subsection 1 in the order in which the applications are received. The Department of Taxation may, for each fiscal year, approve applications for the credit authorized by subsection 1 until the total amount of the credits authorized by subsection 1 and approved by the Department of Taxation is:

(a) For Fiscal Year 2015-2016, ~~[$10,000,000;]~~ $5,000,000;

(b) For Fiscal Year 2016-2017, ~~[$11,000,000;]~~ $5,500,000; and

(c) For each succeeding fiscal year, an amount equal to 110 percent of the amount authorized for the immediately preceding fiscal year.

➥ The amount of any credit which is forfeited pursuant to subsection 2 must not be considered in calculating the amount of credits authorized for any fiscal year.

4. If a taxpayer applies to and is approved by the Department of Taxation for the credit authorized by subsection 1, the amount of the credit provided by this section is equal to the amount approved by the Department of Taxation pursuant to subsection 2, which must not exceed the amount of the donation made by the taxpayer to a scholarship organization. The total amount of the credit applied against the taxes described in subsection 1 and otherwise due from a taxpayer must not exceed the amount of the donation.

5. If the amount of the tax described in subsection 1 and otherwise due from a taxpayer is less than the credit to which the taxpayer is entitled pursuant to this section, the taxpayer may, after applying the credit to the extent of the tax otherwise due, carry the balance of the credit forward for not more than 5 years after the end of the calendar year in which the donation is made or until the balance of the credit is applied, whichever is earlier.

SUMMARY—Urges the United States Congress and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service to take certain actions to reduce the impact of common ravens on the greater sage grouse ~~[population]~~ and desert tortoise populations in this State. (BDR R-33)

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION—Urging the United States Congress and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service to take certain actions to reduce the impact of common ravens on the greater sage grouse ~~[population]~~ and desert tortoise populations in this State.

WHEREAS, The greater sage grouse (Centrocercus urophasianus) is a species of bird that inhabits much of the sagebrush habitat in Nevada as well as other western states; and

WHEREAS, The United States Fish and Wildlife Service has determined that the greater sage grouse is warranted for listing as endangered or threatened under the Endangered Species Act of 1973, 16 U.S.C. §§ 1531 et seq.; and

WHEREAS, Through the enactment of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 15, File Number 48, Statutes of Nevada 2005, at page 3022, the members of the 73rd Session of the Nevada Legislature found that the listing of the greater sage grouse as an endangered or threatened species would have a devastatingly negative impact on Nevada's land development, land use, water use, mining, recreational activities and local economies; and

WHEREAS, The desert tortoise (Gopherus agassizii) is a species of tortoise that inhabits the desert habitat of the southwestern United States, including the Mojave desert region of southern Nevada; and

WHEREAS, The desert tortoise is listed as a threatened species under the Endangered Species Act of 1973, 16 U.S.C. §§ 1531 et seq.; and

WHEREAS, The common raven (Corvus corax) is a species of bird that inhabits Nevada and much of the western United States, Mexico, Canada, Europe and Asia; and

WHEREAS, The International Union for Conservation of Nature estimates the global population of the common raven as greater than 16 million and trending upwards, thus classifying it as a species of least concern; and

WHEREAS, A known cause of decline in the sage grouse population is egg depredation by the common raven, and research conducted at Idaho State University has suggested that reductions in the raven population significantly increase sage grouse nest success; and

WHEREAS, The United States Fish and Wildlife Service has identified the common raven as the most highly visible predator of hatchling and juvenile desert tortoises, and research published by the Western Ecological Research Center of the United States Geological Survey recommends controlling certain raven populations to assist in the recovery of desert tortoise populations; and

WHEREAS, The common raven is a protected species under regulations adopted pursuant to the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of 1918, 16 U.S.C. §§ 703 et seq., which drastically curtails the ability of this State to manage the population of the common raven in order to protect sage grouse nests [.] and desert tortoises; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That the members of the 78th Session of the Nevada Legislature urge the United States Congress to amend the Migratory Bird Treaty Act or take any other appropriate action to ensure that the common raven is not a protected species under that Act; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the members of the 78th Session of the Nevada Legislature urge the United States Fish and Wildlife Service to:

1. Work with the Nevada Department of Wildlife to decrease common raven populations in this State; and

2. Adopt regulations allowing the State of Nevada to manage the common raven population and reduce the number of common ravens in this State; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Vice President of the United States as the presiding officer of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, each member of the Nevada Congressional Delegation, [and] the Director of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service [.] , the President of the Nevada Cattlemen's Association, the President of the Nevada Farm Bureau Federation, the Chair of the Sagebrush Ecosystem Council and the Executive Director of the Western Governors' Association; and be it further

Governor Sandoval, Lieutenant Governor Hutchison, Speaker Hambrick, Minority Leader Kirkpatrick, Majority Leader Roberson, Minority Leader Ford, constitutional officers, honorable members of the Judiciary, family, friends, distinguished guests. Thank you for being here this evening, thank you for your service to the great state of Nevada, and thank you for allowing me the opportunity to speak with you about our shared goal: a better Nevada.

Before I begin, I want to take a moment to recognize my wife of 20 years, Lisa, who is here with me tonight. As a congressional and military spouse, Lisa puts up with a lot. But she never—okay, rarely—complains. She has supported me every step of the way, and I would not be standing here tonight if not for her love and her blessing to allow me to do what I do. I am sure the same can be said for everyone gathered here tonight who serves in public office. The life of an elected official is far from glamorous; while not as Machivellian as House of Cards or as inane as Alpha House, it can be hard on families. I thank all of the family members here tonight and all those not in the chamber for the sacrifices they make as we pursue our goal of a better Nevada.

It is a great honor and my distinct pleasure to address you tonight as the representative for Nevada's Third Congressional District. The Third District is home to well-known landmarks like the Hoover Dam, the Red Rock and Lake Mead National Recreation Areas, and lesser known but just as important gems like the Pioneer Saloon in Goodsprings. Innovative small businesses, cutting edge health care providers, institutions of higher learning, and high-performing schools dot our communities and line our streets. Living in cities as large as Henderson and towns as small as Sandy Valley are hard-working teachers, retail and hospitality workers, healthcare professionals, business owners, construction workers, active duty military, and veterans from every conflict from World War II through the present. And the Third District is growing.

Downtown Summerlin is realizing its full potential and it seems like every time I am home working in the district it is time to cut another ribbon at another business opening. The Third District is a vibrant, diverse, thriving community, and it is my honor to represent it in Washington.

But it was not all that long ago that I was sitting where you are as State Senator for District 5. When I think back on my time here in Carson City, my memories are of the concerted effort made by this body to do our part to create a better Nevada. I enjoyed the committee work and knowing the laws and policies we enacted had a real impact on the lives of Nevadans. Doing work that close to the people was extremely fulfilling.

Moving from Carson City to Washington—going from a Senate of 21 to a House of 435—was quite a change and is not without its challenges. It is frustrating at times working amongst so many other members, all with their own priorities. But I assure you that while I may be serving in D.C., I am always working on behalf of Nevada. The legislation I introduce and the policies I champion are designed to work in partnership with your priorities here in Carson City and around the state. Every vote I take is viewed through a lens of how it will impact Nevada. Every policy decision I make is with Nevadans in mind. Some of the legislation I have introduced has secured our states's share of power from Hoover Dam for 50 years, makes it easier for volunteer organizations like Red Rock Search & Rescue to access federal lands, provided services to runaway and homeless youth at risk of human trafficking, and decreased veterans' homelessness.

Tonight I would like to tell you about four important policy areas I am working on in Washington that I think are a major part of achieving our shared goal of a better Nevada. Those are graduate medical education and access to health care, career and technical education as one of the keys to a twenty-first century workforce, unmanned aerial systems' potential to take Nevada's economy to new heights, and increased international travel and tourism as a way to boost the economy while preserving national security.

First, graduate medical education. I think everyone in the Chamber tonight agrees that a healthier Nevada is a better Nevada. While the Affordable Care Act allowed more people access to health insurance, we all know that access to health insurance does not necessarily mean access to health care. Unfortunately, here in Nevada, we know that all too well. A recent study found that we rank 45th in the country in the number of physicians per 100,000 residents. The fewer doctors serving a community, the more difficult it is for people to improve their overall health and recover from injury or illness. There are several reasons for this doctor shortage. Certainly another medical school could help and I know you will be looking closely at that project during this legislative session.

I want to focus on one of the other major reasons for our doctor shortage, which is our scarcity of medical residency positions. The Association of American Medical Colleges found that in 2011, there were about 37 medical residents and fellows per 100,000 people across the U.S. In Nevada, there were just ten. And since medical residents tend to stay in the area where they do their residency to practice, increasing those graduate medical education slots will help boost our physician numbers. I commend Governor Sandoval for his leadership and vision to boost the state's commitment to residency programs by $10 million. That amount of funding will make a major improvement in access to care. I know that you all will face many difficult choices in the days and weeks ahead, especially when it comes to the budget, but if you can find a way to get this done at the state level, I am going to do everything in my power to give the state a shot at even more residency program money. Here's how.

The federal government is primarily responsible for funding graduate medical education, through Medicare funds and the Veterans Adminstration. So I have teamed with Representative Kathy Castor of Florida—another state suffering from a doctor shortage—to introduce bipartisan legislation that will help close our doctor shortage gap. Our bill is called the Creating Access to Residency Education Act—or CARE—and it creates a federal grant program for states to develop new residency programs or expand existing ones, which will directly assist under-served states like ours. An eligible state would receive a two-thirds match for starting or expanding a residency in primary care specialty and a 50 percent match for residencies in other specialties. I think that given the current conditions in our state combined with a state-level financial commitment, we would have a strong case to make for that grant funding.

No longer should the answer to the question Where do you go for health care in Nevada? be the airport. Expanding graduate medical education will keep more doctors in Nevada, improve access to care for our residents, and be a big step towards a better Nevada.

The second issue is career and technical education and the key role it plays in building a twenty-first century workforce and a better Nevada. The life stories of people like Steve Jobs and Mark Zuckerberg show us that there are many ways to success other than the traditional route of high school to a four-year college. In certain fields—law, medicine, and education—college prep high school courses and four-year schools will always be required. But in critical industries like information and computer technology, allied health professions, agriculture and natural resources, and public safety, a more career-focused approach to education can be more beneficial.

Career and technical education programs are effective for several reasons. They are flexible and can keep pace with industry trends and real world conditions to give students an education that will actually be relevant when they leave the program, and they allow students to pursue their passion, which keeps them energized, engaged, and in the classroom. That is why we need to work together at both the state and federal level to support our CTE programs and ensure they are adequately funded. Governor Sandoval recognizes the importance of career and technical education, proposing a major increase to CTE funding in his two-year budget plan. As a member of the House Committee on Education and the Workforce, I am committed to ensuring Nevada receives its fair allocation of federal CTE dollars.

There are proposals out there that would change or alter the amount of funds states receive for CTE. In fact, one current proposal would take $100 million from the current CTE budget to start a new grant program. But the problem is, taking that $100 million out of the CTE budget changes the overall CTE budget and would cause us, the state of Nevada, to lose 50 percent of our federal CTE dollars, including more than $4 million from the Clark County School District alone.

So I am working with my colleagues in the Committee to ensure that funding for CTE remains a priority and that proposals to make cuts to critical CTE funding are rejected. I partnered with Raul Grijalva of Arizona to introduce a bill that updates the CTE funding formula and hold-harmless provisions so that no state would ever see more than a 10 percent reduction in the CTE funds allocated the previous year.

During my visits to the Career and Technical Academies in my district and talking with students who participate in DECA, SkillsUSA, and HOSA Allied Health Professions programs, it is clear to me that maintaining a robust CTE program here in Nevada is critical to educating a twenty-first century workforce. Workers qualified for the in-demand jobs of the future are part of building a better Nevada.

Next, I want to talk about the potential for unmanned systems to take Nevada's economy to new heights. Governor Sandoval, the Office of Economic Development, and all of you are working to diversify Nevada's economy because you realize, as I do, that a more innovative Nevada is a better Nevada. One area that I am particularly excited about and engaged in is unmanned systems, especially the aerial systems. This week I will speak with federal and state representatives meeting in southern Nevada about Nevada's role as one of the six FAA unmanned aerial systems test sites. Tonight my message to you is the same as it will be to them. The sites currently lack the proper guidance to utilize this research program to its fullest potential, and the FAA, in conjunction with Congress, needs to develop a more actionable strategy for states like ours to implement. We must continue to educate policymakers and the public about the wide array of uses of unmanned systems and the benefits those systems will provide in the future. And we must be wary of enacting overbearing regulations that will stifle innovation in this burgeoning industry. That final point may be the most critical at this time. Imagine if when the Internet was in its infancy, the federal government had rushed to create all sorts of regulations, rules, and oversight boards. The technology that so many of us depend upon every day may not have advanced in quite the same way. Likewise, now is not the time to overregulate the unmanned systems industry; it must be allowed to grow and flourish so we can find out what these systems can do and the benefits they can provide. Should we make sure public safety is protected as this industry develops? Certainly. Do we need to be careful not to erode privacy and civil liberties in the name of advancement? Of course. But when I think about the prospects of unmanned systems helping find lost hikers on Mount Charleston, locating a stranded climber in the Red Rocks, or assessing wildfires in the northern counties, I realize we must give the industry the support and resources it needs at this critical time.

That is why this Congress, I am co-chairing the Congressional Unmanned Systems Caucus with my colleague Dan Lipinski of Illinois. Our mission is simple: be a bipartisan forum to educate members on commercial applications of unmanned systems, current industry trends, and regulatory issues associated with air, land, and sea-based systems.

In the weeks and months ahead we will take additional steps to keep the development of these systems at the forefront of Washington's policy debates. Nevada took an important first step in securing a role as an FAA test site, and I was pleased to assist in that effort. But that is just the beginning. We must combine our efforts at the state and federal level to incubate unmanned systems development, limited only by our imagination, and together we will be able to build a more innovative, better Nevada.

Lastly, I want to update you on a policy I continue to pursue: updating and expediting the visa interview process so more international travelers and tourists can visit the United States, and hopefully, Nevada. Innovation and diversification is important to our future as I have outlined, but we cannot turn our back on the stalwart industries like hospitality that buoy our economy.

The numbers cannot be clearer. According to the U.S. Travel Association, direct travel spending in the United States totaled $888 billion in 2013, generating $2.1 trillion in economic output and $134 billion in tax revenue. Travel was among the top ten employers in 49 U.S. states and the District of Columbia. Overseas travelers represent the largest segment of this sector, averaging 17.5 nights per trip and nearly $4,700 in spending per trip. But over the last decade, the U.S. share of international travel has fallen due to cumbersome visa process.

So I once again introduced the Jobs Originating through Launching Travel or JOLT Act, a bipartisan solution to expand international tourism and increase national security. The bill does this in two straightforward ways. First, we expedite the visa interview process and convert the current Visa Waiver Program into the Secured Travel Partnership Program. Second, we make mandatory security requirements for participating countries that are now considered discretionary and mandate the use of the more secure e-passports. Boosting our economy and improving national security are two challenges we face as a nation, and the JOLT Act addresses them both.

Achieving our shared goal of a better Nevada is my daily focus as a member of the House of Representatives. In the 114th Session of Congress, addressing our state's doctor shortage, prioritizing federal support for career and technical education, supporting the development of unmanned systems, and boosting international travel and tourism are among my top priorities.

In the House Chamber in Washington, members vote under the watchful eye of George Washington and the Marquis de Lafayette, the first foreign leader to address a joint session of Congress. Here in the Assembly Chamber, we are joined by President Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln will always have a special place in the hearts and minds of Nevadans as he admitted us to the Union in 1864. Over the past year, we celebrated the remarkable developments, achievements, and successes we experienced as a state in the 150 years since we were born by Lincoln's signature. Lincoln led the nation through a time in our nation's history that none of us can ever fully appreciate in terms of the challenges he faced and the grave difficulties he encountered. Now our biggest policy challenges are about how much to spend or not spend, how much to tax or not tax; for Lincoln it was preserving the Union, ending the practice of slavery, and eventually, the reconstruction of the Union after four years of Civil War. It is fair to wonder how Lincoln was able to steel himself during his darkest days, faced with those seemingly insurmountable tasks. We need look no further than Lincoln's own words for the answer. He said, "You cannot escape the responsibility of tomorrow by evading it today."

You cannot escape the responsibility of tomorrow by evading it today.

All of us share common bonds. We are lawmakers and representatives of our communities, but more importantly we are Nevadans some by birth, some by choice, and the responsibilities we are charged to address today are to Nevada first and foremost. We must act today because tomorrow someone may have a hard time accessing medical care due to our lack of doctors. In some distant tomorrow, a student may be denied access to career and technical education because it wasn't made a priority. Tomorrow an engineer or entrepreneur may be discouraged to advance their idea for an unmanned system technology because we failed to provide an environment that fosters innovation and discovery due to strangling regulations. And tomorrow we may miss an opportunity to welcome even more international travelers to destinations across the state because we did not grasp the opportunity to improve and expedite our visa interview process.

So in closing tonight, I want extend an offer to each of you—Republican or Democrat, northern Nevadan or southern Nevadan—to work with me and my staff on the issues I have discussed tonight. Come meet with us in Washington or in our local offices and share with us your priorities for your communities. We know from our storied past that if we can work together we can give this state we love a much brighter tomorrow and build a better Nevada.

I thank you for your time tonight and for your service, dedication, and commitment to the Silver State. May God bless each of you and provide you with wisdom, discernment, and guidance as you serve our great State.

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), April 1, 2015

Assembly called to order at 11:45 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

O Lord, let us never be afraid of a new idea or unreceptive to a new thought, lest we pull down the shades of our minds and exclude Your holy light. When confronted by mystery, help us to remember that we do not have to explain all we know or understand all we believe. But give us the grace of humility and the spirit of the open mind, the courage to persist in face of difficulties in the power of truth.

Help us all to learn something this day, that we shall be wise at its close and more ready for our eternal home when we are one step nearer.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblyman Paul Anderson moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Amendment No. 73.

AN ACT relating to education; revising provisions concerning the submission of a plan to improve the achievement of pupils enrolled in public school in this State; requiring the State Board to review each plan submitted by the principal of a school and make certain recommendations to the Department of Education; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the principal of each school to prepare and submit a plan to improve the achievement of the pupils enrolled in the school to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Governor, the State Board of Education, the Department of Education, the Legislative Committee on Education, the Legislative Bureau of Educational Accountability and Program Evaluation and the board of trustees of the school district in which the school is located or, if the school is a charter school, the sponsor of the charter school and the governing body of the charter school. Existing law requires the State Board to prepare and submit a plan to improve the achievement of pupils in this State to various entities. (NRS 385.3593) Section 2 requires this plan to include: (1) certain information regarding the manner in which remediation will be provided to pupils who require remediation based on the results of an end-of-course examination or the results of the college and career readiness assessment; ~~[and]~~ (2) strategies to improve the literacy skills of pupils ~~[.]~~ ; and (3) strategies to improve the development of English language skills and the academic achievement of pupils who are limited English proficient. Section 2 also revises the date on which the State Board is required to submit the plan or revised plan.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services to issue a certificate of authorization for a radiation machine for mammography if certain requirements are met. (NRS 457.184) Section 1 of this bill removes the requirement that such a machine be used exclusively for mammography ~~[so that the machine may be used to perform other procedures.]~~ and additionally authorizes the use of such a machine for screening, diagnostic or therapeutic purposes.

Existing law requires certain facilities that provide screening, diagnostic or therapeutic services with respect to cancer and physicians who diagnose or provide treatment for cancer to report incidences of cancer pursuant to a system established by the Chief Medical Officer. (NRS 457.230, 457.240) Sections 2-4 of this bill authorize the State Board of Health to require the reporting of incidences of other neoplasms to the system as well. Additionally, section 2 requires any provider of health care who diagnoses or provides treatment for cancer or other neoplasms to report such information.

Existing law requires: (1) the chief administrative officer of each health care facility to make available to the Chief Medical Officer or the Chief Medical Officer's representative the records of the health care facility for each case of neoplasm which is required to be reported; (2) the Division to abstract or require the facility to abstract certain information from such records; and (3) the Board to impose a fee on a health care facility from whose records such information is abstracted. (NRS 457.250) Section 4 removes the fee imposed on a health care facility that abstracts information from its own records at the request of the Division. Section 4 removes the criminal penalty for violating these provisions and instead provides for an administrative penalty to be prescribed by the Board.

Existing law requires the Division to make certain data relating to cancer available to any qualified researcher who complies with certain conditions. (NRS 457.260) Section 5 of this bill requires a qualified researcher who wishes to obtain such data to be conducting valid scientific research.

Section 6 of this bill repeals a provision that designates the Nevada Cancer Institute as the official cancer institute for this State because that entity no longer exists.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 36.

AN ACT relating to judgments; revising provisions governing judgments by confession in justice courts; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes judgments upon confession to be entered in any justice court specified in the confession. (NRS 68.050) This bill requires a written statement, signed by the defendant, to accompany such a judgment. The statement must include the facts on which the confession is based and the amount of debt due or contingent liability for which the judgment will be entered. This bill further provides that the written statement must be filed with the clerk of the court, and that the judgment may not be amended to include additional costs or attorney's fees incurred after the date of entry of the judgment.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 68.050 is hereby amended to read as follows:

68.050 ~~[Judgments upon]~~

1. Except as otherwise provided by law, a judgment by confession may be entered ~~[up]~~ without action, either for money due or to become due or to secure any person against contingent liability on behalf of the defendant, or both, in any justice court specified in the confession.

2. A judgment by confession entered pursuant to subsection 1 must be accompanied by a statement in writing, signed by the defendant and verified by the defendant's oath. The statement must:

(a) Authorize the entry of judgment for a specified sum, inclusive of costs and attorney's fees;

(b) If it authorizes the entry of judgment for money that is due or will become due, state concisely the facts on which the confession is based, and show that the sum confessed therefor is justly due or will become due; and

(c) If it authorizes the entry of judgment for the purpose of securing the plaintiff against a contingent liability, state concisely the facts constituting the liability, and show that the sum confessed therefor does not exceed such liability.

3. The statement described in subsection 2 must be filed with the clerk of the court in which the judgment is to be entered. The clerk shall endorse the statement and enter judgment for the amount confessed, at which time the judgment and statement, with the judgment endorsed, become the judgment roll.

4. A judgment by confession entered pursuant to this section may not be subsequently amended to include additional costs or attorney's fees incurred after the date of entry of judgment. This limitation does not prohibit parties from entering into stipulations for payment plans or stipulations for judgments with specific amounts due.

Assembly Bill No. 46.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 37.

AN ACT relating to juvenile justice; revising provisions relating to the enforcement of certain civil judgments entered by a juvenile court for unpaid fines, administrative assessments, fees or restitution; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes a juvenile court that orders a child or a parent or guardian of a child to pay a fine, administrative assessment, fee or restitution or to make any other payment to enter a civil judgment for the amount due if the administrative assessment, fee, restitution or other payment or any part of it remains unpaid after the time established by the juvenile court for its payment. Such a judgment may be entered against: (1) the child, if the child meets certain requirements; or (2) the parent or guardian of the child. If the juvenile court enters such a civil judgment and the child or the parent or guardian of the child is convicted of a crime before he or she satisfies the civil judgment, the court sentencing the child or the parent or guardian of the child for that crime is required by existing law to include in the sentence the civil judgment or portion thereof that remains unpaid. (NRS 62B.420) This bill removes that requirement.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 62B.420 is hereby amended to read as follows:

62B.420 1. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, if, pursuant to this title, a child or a parent or guardian of a child is ordered by the juvenile court to pay a fine, administrative assessment, fee or restitution or to make any other payment and the fine, administrative assessment, fee, restitution or other payment or any part of it remains unpaid after the time established by the juvenile court for its payment, the juvenile court may enter a civil judgment against the child or the parent or guardian of the child for the amount due in favor of the victim, the state or local entity to whom the amount is owed or both. The juvenile court may not enter a civil judgment against a person who is a child unless the person has attained the age of 18 years, the person is a child who is determined to be outside the jurisdiction of the juvenile court pursuant to NRS 62B.330 or 62B.335 or the person is a child who is certified for proper criminal proceedings as an adult pursuant to NRS 62B.390.

2. Notwithstanding the termination of the jurisdiction of the juvenile court pursuant to NRS 62B.410 or the termination of any period of supervision or probation ordered by the juvenile court, the juvenile court retains jurisdiction over any civil judgment entered pursuant to subsection 1 and retains jurisdiction over the person against whom a civil judgment is entered pursuant to subsection 1. The juvenile court may supervise the civil judgment and take any of the actions authorized by the laws of this State.

3. A civil judgment entered pursuant to subsection 1 may be enforced and renewed in the manner provided by law for the enforcement and renewal of a judgment for money rendered in a civil action.

4. If the juvenile court enters a civil judgment pursuant to subsection 1, the person or persons against whom the judgment is issued is liable for a collection fee, to be imposed by the juvenile court at the time the civil judgment is issued, of:

(a) Not more than $100, if the amount of the judgment is less than $2,000.

(b) Not more than $500, if the amount of the judgment is $2,000 or greater, but is less than $5,000.

(c) Ten percent of the amount of the judgment, if the amount of the judgment is $5,000 or greater.

5. In addition to attempting to collect the judgment through any other lawful means, a victim, a representative of the victim or a state or local entity that is responsible for collecting a civil judgment entered pursuant to subsection 1 may take any or all of the following actions:

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this paragraph, report the judgment to reporting agencies that assemble or evaluate information concerning credit. If the judgment was entered against a person who was less than 21 years of age at the time the judgment was entered, the judgment cannot be reported pursuant to this paragraph until the person reaches 21 years of age.

(b) Request that the juvenile court take appropriate action pursuant to subsection 6.

(c) Contract with a collection agency licensed pursuant to NRS 649.075 to collect the judgment and the collection fee. The collection agency must be paid as compensation for its services an amount not greater than the amount of the collection fee imposed pursuant to subsection 4, in accordance with the provisions of the contract.

6. If the juvenile court determines that a child or the parent or guardian of a child against whom a civil judgment has been entered pursuant to subsection 1 has failed to make reasonable efforts to satisfy the civil judgment, the juvenile court may take any of the following actions:

(a) Order the suspension of the driver's license of a child for a period not to exceed 1 year. If the child is already the subject of a court order suspending the driver's license of the child, the juvenile court may order the additional suspension to apply consecutively with the previous order. At the time the juvenile court issues an order suspending the driver's license of a child pursuant to this paragraph, the juvenile court shall require the child to surrender to the juvenile court all driver's licenses then held by the child. The juvenile court shall, within 5 days after issuing the order, forward to the Department of Motor Vehicles the licenses, together with a copy of the order.

The Department of Motor Vehicles shall report a suspension pursuant to this paragraph to an insurance company or its agent inquiring about the driving record of a child, but such a suspension must not be considered for the purpose of rating or underwriting.

(b) If a child does not possess a driver's license, prohibit the child from applying for a driver's license for a period not to exceed 1 year. If the child is already the subject of a court order delaying the issuance of a license to drive, the juvenile court may order any additional delay in the ability of the child to apply for a driver's license to apply consecutively with the previous order. At the time the juvenile court issues an order pursuant to this paragraph delaying the ability of a child to apply for a driver's license, the juvenile court shall, within 5 days after issuing the order, forward to the Department of Motor Vehicles a copy of the order.

(c) If the civil judgment was issued for a delinquent fine or administrative assessment, order the confinement of the person in the appropriate prison, jail or detention facility, as provided in NRS 176.065 and 176.075.

(d) Enter a finding of contempt against a child or the parent or guardian of a child and punish the child or the parent or guardian for contempt in the manner provided in NRS 62E.040. A person who is indigent may not be punished for contempt pursuant to this subsection.

7. Money collected from a collection fee imposed pursuant to subsection 4 must be deposited and used in the manner set forth in subsection 4 of NRS 176.064.

~~[8. If the juvenile court enters a civil judgment pursuant to subsection 1 and the person against whom the judgment is entered is convicted of a crime before he or she satisfies the civil judgment, the court sentencing the person for that crime shall include in the sentence the civil judgment or such portion of the civil judgment that remains unpaid.]~~

Assemblywoman Woodbury moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblymen Woodbury, Carlton, and Kirner.

Assemblyman Paul Anderson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN WOODBURY:

Amendment 129 makes one change to the bill. It deletes all of section 2 that would have required the Millennium Scholarship eligibility for community college students increased from 9 to 12 credits.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I know it is just section 2, but there are a lot of purple lines in here, so it seems to be eliminating a lot more than just those credits. I just want to understand the discussion the committee had on literally a hundred lines of deleted language.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN WOODBURY:

Sections 1 and 2 are parallel sections so they have the same wording, only section 1 increases the credit hours from six to nine that a student enrolled in a community college would be eligible for the Millennium Scholarship. That would start July 1, 2015. Section 2 would increase it from 9 to 12 beginning July 1, 2016, and thereafter. We removed section 2. We are stopping with the 12 credits.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I have concerns that with these proposed changes under the amendment, the scholarship program will be adversely affected and will be depleted sooner than we had originally planned. Was that discussed in the committee?

ASSEMBLYMAN KIRNER:

If I understand your question, you were making a statement that the Millennium Scholarship would be depleted sooner if we change the credit hours, is that correct? Yes, it would. What we are trying to align is NSHE's [Nevada System of Higher Education] thought process in terms of graduating within four years. We know statistically that if students take full-time loads or higher credit loads, there is a substantially larger percentage that will graduate. It is all about graduation, and with our state moving toward more diverse needs, this is part of the strategy to get them there.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

If I understand this correctly, just to make sure I have it on the record, the students will be mandated to take more classes. The cap is $10,000 on students right now. They will be taking more classes, they will go through their allotment sooner.

ASSEMBLYMAN KIRNER:

What we are trying now is if a student takes 12 credits and they only get reimbursed for 12, we are moving that to 15. But a student who takes fewer credits than 15 gets fully reimbursed for those credits. So it is up to 15. It provides an additional incentive for those who do want to graduate in four years to move through the system. But if a student is working and cannot take a full load and wants to take 12 credits, they are still reimbursed for the full 12 credits.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I have concerns that this amendment will have a fiscal impact on the Millennium Scholarship which this body will have to address in the future.

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblyman Hansen moved that Assembly Bill No. 148 be taken from the Second Reading File and placed on the Chief Clerk's desk.

Motion carried.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 156.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 126.

AN ACT relating to public welfare; revising the manner in which the Director of the Department of Health and Human Services determines whether a community is at-risk for purposes of provisions relating to family resource centers; requiring a family resource center to obtain input from certain elected officials when creating an action plan; requiring a case manager at a family resource center to collect and analyze data to monitor the performance of certain responsibilities by members of families receiving services from the family resource center; ~~[expanding the information included in the annual report prepared by family resource centers;]~~ and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law defines the term "family resource center" as a facility within an at-risk community where families may obtain: (1) an assessment of their eligibility for social services; (2) social services; and (3) referrals to obtain social services from other service agencies or organizations. (NRS 430A.040) Section 1 of this bill revises the definition of "at-risk community" to require the Director of the Department of Health and Human Services to use data and demographic analyses to determine whether a community is "at-risk." In addition, section 1 requires the Director, when making such a determination, to consider the number of families in the community who: (1) have incomes that are less than ~~[133]~~ 200 percent of the federally designated level signifying poverty instead of the number of families in the community who have low incomes; and (2) are at imminent risk of homelessness in addition to the number of families in the community who are transient. Section 2 of this bill clarifies that a family resource center is a facility where families may obtain social services directly from the center.

Before a family resource center may obtain a grant from the Director, existing law requires the family resource center to create an action plan which must be approved by the Director. Such an action plan must be developed with input from members of the family resource center council, an organization of community members who assist and advise the family resource center. (NRS 430A.045, 430A.120, 430A.140) Sections 3 and 4 of this bill require the family resource center also to develop the plan with input from local and state elected officials who represent the geographic area in which the family resource center is located when creating the action plan.

Existing law requires a case manager to develop a plan with each family that seeks services from a family resource center and requires that the plan specify the responsibilities the family members must fulfill to remain eligible for services. (NRS 430A.170) Section 5 of this bill requires the case manager to collect and analyze data to monitor the performance of these responsibilities by the family members. ~~[Section 6 of this bill requires the annual report submitted to the Director by each family resource center to include, for each family to which the family resource center provides services, a summary of the performance of these responsibilities.]~~

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Assembly Bill No. 27.
Bill read third time.
Remarks by Assemblywoman Diaz.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

Assembly Bill 27 deletes the requirement that a school district demonstrate a shortage of teachers for a particular subject area before the Superintendent of Public Instruction may issue a license to a person who is not a citizen or lawful permanent resident of the United States but who is otherwise entitled to work in the United States in accordance with federal laws and regulations. In place of that requirement, this bill allows such a person to be licensed to teach if, among other existing requirements, the school district can demonstrate that any shortage of teachers exists or that the school district has not been able to employ a person possessing the skills, experience, or abilities of the person to be licensed and such skills, experience, or abilities are needed to address an area of concern for the school district. The provisions of this bill apply to public and charter schools.

It is no secret that our state is in dire need of teachers. There is a big shortage for us to adequately staff our schools and have our schools ready to go on day one when classes open. We need to get our teachers any way we can. If we can find highly qualified, talented individuals to fill those roles and they have all the schooling behind them, they have all the credentials, and they are in compliance with federal laws, I say we need to take advantage of it.

Assembly Bill No. 165.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Gardner, Carlton, Diaz, Fiore and Dickman.

ASSEMBLYMAN GARDNER:

Assembly Bill 165 establishes the Nevada Educational Choice Scholarship Program. The measure authorizes the formation of scholarship organizations to provide grants for pupils of low-income families for attendance at schools of their choice in Nevada, including private schools. The organization may not own or operate any school, and it must be exempt from taxation pursuant to Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The organization must not spend more than 5 percent of the money it receives for administrative costs, nor may it limit grants to a single school or to specific pupils. The sources of scholarship funds collected by the organization may come from gifts, grants, and donations. The grant provided on behalf of a pupil must not exceed $7,755 for Fiscal Year (FY) 2015–2016, and the maximum grant amount must be adjusted each year in accordance with changes to the Consumer Price Index. Schools receiving such grants must maintain records of each pupil's academic progress in such a manner that the information may be aggregated and reported to Nevada's Department of Education.

The bill provides for a tax credit against the modified business tax and establishes a process for a taxpayer who intends to donate to a scholarship to request approval for the credit from the Department of Taxation. In addition, A.B. 165 establishes a process that the Department of Taxation must follow to approve or deny applications for the tax credit. The total credits approved may not exceed $5 million for FY 2015–2016, $5.5 million for FY 2016–2017, and for each fiscal year thereafter, 110 percent of the amount authorized for the immediately preceding fiscal year. The bill is effective upon passage and approval.

I rise in support of this bill. It is a bill that has proven itself year after year in a lot of different states around this country. In some of the states—especially in Florida, for example—it has been used primarily by the minority students and by the impoverished students, and it actually improved student outcomes by drastic levels. This bill will give the students who are in failing schools another option. That is the point of this bill, and I urge your support.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I rise in opposition to Assembly Bill 165. This would take money away from public schools to subsidize parents that can, and in a lot of cases already are, sending their children to private or parochial schools. At a time when we cannot adequately fund education in our state for every child, we should not be sending money to private schools at the expense of public education. This bill has a $10 million hit.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

I, too, rise in opposition to Assembly Bill 165. As a representative of some of the state's most economically disadvantaged children, I do not see choice for students in my district in this bill. When this bill has a threshold at the rate above poverty as it currently does, what it acts as is essentially a tax break for wealthier families rather than who the bill purports to help. If we wanted to effectively target low income families with this bill, we would have crafted it more in line with the poverty threshold and not expanded it so widely that well off families are getting a tax break at the expense of my kids to send their kids to private schools at the expense of public education.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FIORE:

I rise in support of Assembly 165. For those of us who were here last session, we know that the time for opportunity scholarships is now. This bill does more than just simply reform our educational system. It provides new and desperately needed scholarships for disadvantaged students and families. The chance to attend a private school of choice will no longer be limited to the wealthy few. Nevada's current one-size-fits-all approach to education has proven to be a poor fit for our diverse student body and this bill will help fix the problem. I applaud all those who have made this day possible and I look forward to voting yes and sending this bill to the Senate.

ASSEMBLYMAN DICKMAN:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 165. We will be pushing a lot of education reforms this session that will make education better in this state. Some of those reforms take time, but this bill will have an immediate impact on our students with the largest need in Nevada. I applaud the Governor and Chair Woodbury for their leadership on this issue, and I cannot wait to see the positive results.

Assembly Bill 251 authorizes a used vehicle dealer to sell a new vehicle if the vehicle has been substantially modified by the used vehicle dealer or a third party for the benefit of a person with a disability. This measure is effective on July 1, 2015.

Some background information on the bill is that "substantially modified" is defined as equipped or adapted to aid or allow a person with a disability to operate, travel in, enter, exit, or load a vehicle. The term includes, without limitation, mechanical or structural changes to a vehicle that allow a person with a disability to safely drive or ride as a passenger. It also includes a device or mechanism that is used for loading or unloading a wheelchair or scooter and is mounted on the roof, in the passenger area, in the trunk, or other storage area of a vehicle. In addition are included mechanical or electrical adaptive control devices that are installed in a vehicle to enable a person with mobility restrictions to control, without limitation, the accelerator, foot brake, turn signals, dimmer switch, steering wheel, or parking brake of a vehicle.

Remarks by Assemblymen Edwards, Stewart, Hansen, and Wheeler.

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWARDS:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 4 urges the United States Congress to enact legislation to authorize individual states to establish daylight saving time as the standard time of their respective states throughout the calendar year. We are all intimately familiar with the effects of daylight saving time and changing our clocks. As we may recall from a mere three weeks ago, many of us enjoyed the unenjoyable consequences of doing that. We also recognize that in about five months, we are going to go through that again, and six months thereafter, we will go through that again, and then six months later, and so on. This has been one of the most incredibly popular notions, desires, goals of the people of District 19. From what I hear from many of you, it is incredibly popular with your voters as well. Therefore, I strongly urge everyone to vote in favor of this bill for yourselves, for your voters, the children, and the future of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

I rise in opposition to this well-meaning piece of legislation. As many of you know, time differences between bordering states cause confusion in scheduling and in various other things. Right now we have different schedules between Arizona and Utah. Those do not matter to us too much because we do not have a lot of visitors from Arizona and Utah. But if in the future we had a time difference between California and Nevada, that would be disastrous to our economy. If someone made an airline reservation or a reservation for a hotel room or floor show on the strip, or another event like a boxing event, there would be confusion about what time it started. I think this will cause a considerable problem with our tourists and I do not want to make it any more difficult for them to come than it already is.

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

I actually would like a clarification. This does not change the time at all for the state. Is that not correct? All we are doing here is asking Congress to allow each state the opportunity to determine on its own whether or not they want to have daylight saving time or reject it. Is my understanding correct?

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWARDS:

That is correct. This is a resolution to the Congress that would allow us to do so in the future.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Since this is hump day and this is camel day, I feel that this would be the camel's nose under the tent to disaster.

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Assembly Bill No. 7.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 154.

AN ACT relating to civil actions; limiting the recovery of damages arising from a civil action relating to a motor vehicle accident under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires every owner of a motor vehicle registered or required to be registered in this State to maintain certain amounts of insurance coverage for the payment of tort liabilities arising from the maintenance or use of the motor vehicle. (NRS 485.185) Existing law authorizes certain persons to satisfy such a requirement by obtaining an operator's policy of liability insurance instead of an owner's policy of liability insurance. (NRS 485.186) Existing law also provides that a person in whose name more than 10 motor vehicles are registered in this State may qualify as a self-insurer. (NRS 485.380) This bill limits, under certain circumstances, the amount of damages a plaintiff or claimant may recover in a civil action arising from a motor vehicle accident if he or she was not in compliance with such provisions of existing law, as applicable, at the time of the accident.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 42 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, in any civil action to recover damages arising from an accident involving the operation of a motor vehicle or for any claim against the motor vehicle liability policy of another party, if the plaintiff or claimant was not in compliance with the requirements of NRS 485.185, 485.186 or 485.380, as applicable, at the time of the accident, the maximum amount that may be awarded to the plaintiff or claimant must:

(a) Be limited to medical costs, property damage and lost income incurred as a result of the accident; and

(b) Not include any damages for pain and suffering.

2. The provisions of subsection 1 do not apply to:

(a) A plaintiff or claimant injured by a motorist who, at the time of the accident, was operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance or engaging in any other conduct prohibited by NRS 484C.110, 484C.120, 484C.130 or 484C.430, and:

(1) Was convicted of, or entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere to, the offense; or

(2) Died as a result of the accident, if it is proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the motorist was operating the motor vehicle while committing any of the offenses described in this paragraph.

(b) A plaintiff or claimant who was a passenger in a motor vehicle involved in the accident, unless the plaintiff or claimant is an owner of the vehicle.

(c) A plaintiff or claimant who was not the operator of or a passenger in a motor vehicle involved in the accident.

(d) A plaintiff or claimant if the motorist who caused the accident:

(1) Intentionally caused the accident;

(2) Left the scene of the accident; or

(3) At the time of the accident, was acting in furtherance of the commission of a felony.

(e) A plaintiff or claimant who, at the time of the accident, was claimed as a dependent on the federal income tax return of one or both of his or her parents, and the parent or parents were not in compliance with the requirements of NRS 485.185, 485.186 or 485.380, as applicable.

(f) A plaintiff or claimant who, at the time of the accident, previously had been covered by an insurance policy which satisfied the requirements of NRS 485.185, 485.186 or 485.380, as applicable, that was cancelled or terminated for failure to pay the premium unless, at least ~~[30]~~ 45 days before the accident, a notice of cancellation or termination was mailed to the last known address of the policyholder.

(g) Wrongful death claims.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the limitations of subsection 1 upon the amount and nature of damages which may be awarded may be asserted by:

(a) Any person who is involved in the accident which is the basis of the action or claim; and

(b) The insurer of motor vehicle liability for any person asserting a limitation set forth in subsection 1.

Assemblyman Hansen moved the adoption of the amendment.

Assembly Bill No. 13.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 72.

AN ACT relating to support; revising provisions of the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act; revising the effective date of certain provisions of the Act relating to foreign support orders, foreign tribunals and certain persons residing in foreign countries; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

In 1997, Nevada enacted the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act to establish the procedures and jurisdictional requirements regarding the issuance, enforcement and modification of interstate child-support and spousal-support orders. (Chapter 489, Statutes of Nevada 1997, pp. 2311-29) In 2009, Nevada enacted certain amendments to the Act to provide that the provisions of the Act apply to foreign support orders, foreign tribunals, and obligees, obligors and children residing in foreign countries. (NRS 130.0902-130.802; chapter 47, Statutes of Nevada 2009, pp. 119-40) The effective date of these amendments is the date on which The Hague Convention on the International Recovery of Child Support and Other Forms of Family Maintenance is ratified by the President and the United States deposits its instrument of ratification. (Chapter 47, Statutes of Nevada 2009, p. 140) Sections 3 and 4 of this bill make these amendments effective on July 1, 2015, to comply with the federal law requiring that the Act, as amended in 2008, be in effect in this State not later than that date as a condition for the receipt of certain federal funds for support enforcement efforts. (42 U.S.C. § 654(20)(A), 42 U.S.C. § 666(f); Pub. L. No. 113-183, 128 Stat. 1919) Sections ~~[1 and 2]~~ 1-2.7 of this bill make certain amendments to existing law to match the language of the Act.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 130.10107 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.10107 "Child-support order" means a support order for a child, including a child who has attained the age of majority under the law of the issuing state ~~[.]~~ or foreign country.

Sec. 1.1. NRS 130.10127 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.10127 "Income-withholding order" means an order or other legal process directed to an obligor's employer ~~[of an obligor]~~ , as defined in NRS 130.10115, to withhold support from the income of the obligor.

Sec. 1.2. NRS 130.103 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.103 1. Remedies provided by this chapter are cumulative and do not affect the availability of remedies under other law or the recognition of a foreign support order on the basis of comity.

2. This chapter does not:

(a) Provide the exclusive method of establishing or enforcing a support order under the law of this State; or

(b) Grant a tribunal of this State jurisdiction to render judgment or issue an order relating to child custody or visitation in a proceeding under this chapter.

Sec. 1.3. NRS 130.2025 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.2025 A tribunal of this State exercising personal jurisdiction over a nonresident in a proceeding under this chapter or under other law of this State relating to a support order or in a proceeding recognizing a foreign support order may receive evidence from outside this State pursuant to NRS 130.316, communicate with a tribunal outside this State pursuant to NRS 130.317 and obtain discovery through a tribunal outside this State pursuant to NRS 130.318. In all other respects, NRS 130.301 to ~~[130.713,]~~ 130.614, inclusive, do not apply and the tribunal shall apply the procedural and substantive law of this State.

Sec. 1.4. NRS 130.304 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.304 1. Upon the filing of a petition authorized by this chapter, an initiating tribunal of this State shall forward the petition and its accompanying documents:

(a) To the responding tribunal or appropriate support-enforcement agency in the responding state; or

(b) If the identity of the responding tribunal is unknown, to the state information agency of the responding state with a request that they be forwarded to the appropriate tribunal and that receipt be acknowledged.

2. If requested by the responding tribunal, a tribunal of this State shall issue a certificate or other document and make findings required by the law of the responding state. If the responding tribunal is in a foreign country, upon request the tribunal of this State shall specify the amount of support sought, convert that amount into the equivalent amount in the foreign currency under the applicable official or market exchange rate as publicly reported and provide any other documents necessary to satisfy the requirements of the responding foreign tribunal.

Sec. 1.5. NRS 130.313 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.313 1. Except as otherwise required pursuant to Section 16 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution, a petitioner must not be required to pay a filing fee or other costs.

2. If an obligee prevails, a responding tribunal of this State may assess against an obligor filing fees, reasonable attorney's fees and other costs, expenses for necessary travel and other reasonable expenses incurred by the obligee and the witnesses of the obligee. The tribunal may not assess fees, costs or expenses against the obligee or the support-enforcement agency of either the initiating or the responding state or foreign country, except as otherwise provided by other law. Attorney's fees may be taxed as costs and may be ordered to be paid directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in his or her own name. Payment of support owed to the obligee has priority over fees, costs and expenses.

3. The tribunal shall order the payment of costs and reasonable attorney's fees if it determines that a hearing was requested primarily for delay. In a proceeding pursuant to NRS 130.601 to ~~[130.713,]~~ 130.614, inclusive, a hearing is presumed to have been requested primarily for delay if a registered support order is confirmed or enforced without change. This presumption is subject to rebuttal.

4. All attorney's fees and other costs and expenses awarded to and collected by a district attorney pursuant to this section must be deposited in the general fund of the county and an equivalent amount must be allocated to augment the county's program for the enforcement of support obligations.

Sec. 1.6. NRS 130.316 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.316 1. The physical presence of a nonresident party who is a natural person in a tribunal of this State is not required for the establishment, enforcement or modification of a support order or the rendition of a judgment determining parentage of a child.

2. An affidavit, a document substantially complying with federally mandated forms or a document incorporated by reference in any of them, which would not be excluded under the hearsay rule in NRS 51.065 if given in person, is admissible in evidence if given under penalty of perjury by a party or witness residing outside this State.

3. A copy of the record of child-support payments certified as a true copy of the original by the custodian of the record may be forwarded to a responding tribunal. The copy is evidence of facts asserted therein and is admissible to show whether payments were made.

4. Copies of bills for testing for parentage of a child, and for prenatal and postnatal health care of the mother and child, furnished to the adverse party at least 20 days before trial are admissible in evidence to prove the amount of the charges billed and that the charges were reasonable, necessary and customary.

5. Documentary evidence transmitted from outside this State to a tribunal of this State by telephone, telecopier or other electronic means that do not provide an original record may not be excluded from evidence on an objection based on the means of transmission.

6. In a proceeding under this chapter, a tribunal of this State shall permit a party or witness residing outside this State to be deposed or to testify under penalty of perjury by telephone, audiovisual means or other electronic means at a designated tribunal or other location. A tribunal of this State shall cooperate with other tribunals in designating an appropriate location for the deposition or testimony.

7. In a civil proceeding under this chapter, if a party called to testify refuses to answer a question on the ground that the testimony may be self-incriminating, the trier of fact may draw an adverse inference from the refusal.

8. A privilege against the disclosure of communications between husband and wife does not apply in a proceeding under this chapter.

9. The defense of immunity based on the relationship of husband and wife or parent and child does not apply in a proceeding under this chapter.

10. A voluntary acknowledgment of paternity, certified as a true copy, is admissible to establish parentage of the child.

Sec. 1.7. NRS 130.317 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.317 A tribunal of this State may communicate with a tribunal outside this State in a record, or by telephone, electronic mail or other means, to obtain information concerning the laws , ~~[of that state or foreign country or political subdivision,]~~ the legal effect of a judgment, decree or order of that tribunal, and the status of a proceeding. A tribunal of this State may furnish similar information by similar means to a tribunal outside this State.

Sec. 1.8. NRS 130.501 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.501 An income-withholding order issued in another state may be sent by or on behalf of the obligee or by a support-enforcement agency to ~~[an]~~ the person defined as the obligor's employer ~~[of an obligor in this State]~~ under NRS 130.10115 without first filing a petition or comparable pleading or registering the order with a tribunal of this State.

Sec. 1.9. NRS 130.506 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.506 1. An obligor may contest the validity or enforcement of an income-withholding order issued in another state and received directly by an employer in this State by registering the order in a tribunal of this State and filing a contest to that order as provided in NRS 130.601 to ~~[130.713,]~~ 130.614, inclusive, or otherwise contesting the order in the same manner as if the order had been issued by a tribunal of this State.

2. The obligor shall give notice of the contest to:

(a) A support-enforcement agency providing services to the obligee;

(b) Each employer that has directly received an income-withholding order relating to the obligor; and

(c) The person designated to receive payments in the income-withholding order, or if no person is designated, to the obligee.

3. ~~[The obligor has the burden of proving one or more of the following defenses:~~

~~(a) The tribunal that issued the order lacked personal jurisdiction over the obligor;~~

~~(b) The order was obtained by fraud;~~

~~(c) The order has been vacated, suspended, stayed or modified by a later order; or~~

~~(d) There is a mistake of fact as to the amount of the order or the identity of the obligor.~~

~~4. The provisions of NRS 130.604 apply to the contest. If the tribunal determines:~~

~~(a) Any of the defenses presented pursuant to subsection 3 in favor of the obligor, it shall issue an order to stay the withholding.~~

~~(b) None of the defenses presented pursuant to subsection 3 in favor of the obligor, it shall order the employer to proceed with the withholding, and may assess costs and attorney's fees against the obligor.~~

~~5.~~ The tribunal shall provide the parties and employer with notice of its decision within 45 days after the obligor received a copy of the order pursuant to NRS 130.502.

Sec. 1.95. NRS 130.602 is hereby amended to read as follows:

130.602 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 130.706, a support order or income-withholding order of another state or a foreign support order may be registered in this State by sending the following records to the appropriate tribunal of this State:

(a) A letter of transmittal requesting registration and enforcement;

(3) A description and the location of property of the obligor in this State that is not exempt from execution; and

(e) Except as otherwise provided in NRS 130.312, the name and address of the obligee and, if applicable, the person to whom support payments are to be remitted.

2. On receipt of a request for registration, the registering tribunal shall cause the order to be filed as an order of a tribunal of another state or a foreign ~~[country,]~~ support order, together with one copy of the documents and information, regardless of their form.

3. A petition or comparable pleading seeking a remedy that must be affirmatively sought under other law of this State may be filed at the same time as the request for registration or later. The pleading must specify the grounds for the remedy sought.

4. If two or more orders are in effect, the person requesting registration shall:

(a) Furnish to the tribunal a copy of every support order asserted to be in effect in addition to the documents specified in this section;

(b) Specify the order alleged to be the controlling order, if any; and

(c) Specify the amount of consolidated arrears, if any.

5. A request for a determination of which is the controlling order may be filed separately or with a request for registration and enforcement or for registration and modification. The person requesting registration shall give notice of the request to each party whose rights may be affected by the determination.

Sec. 2. NRS 130.703 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(b) A record stating that the foreign support agreement is enforceable as ~~[a decision]~~ an order of support in the issuing country.

3. A tribunal of this State may vacate the registration of a foreign support agreement only if, acting on its own motion, the tribunal finds that recognition and enforcement would be manifestly incompatible with public policy.

4. In a contest of a foreign support agreement, a tribunal of this State may refuse recognition and enforcement of the agreement if it finds:

(a) Recognition and enforcement of the agreement is manifestly incompatible with public policy;

(b) The agreement was obtained by fraud or falsification;

(d) The record submitted under subsection 2 lacks authenticity or integrity.

5. A proceeding for recognition and enforcement of a foreign support agreement must be suspended during the pendency of a challenge to or appeal of the agreement before a tribunal of another state or a foreign country.

Amendment No. 10.

AN ACT relating to courts; revising provisions governing the recycling of paper and paper products by courts; revising provisions governing the duties of court clerks and justices of the peace in relation to the fees charged by those officials; revising provisions governing the collection and reporting of certain statistical information by district courts, justice courts and municipal courts; changing the term "county clerk" to "clerk of the court" in certain statutes relating to the fees charged by clerks of the district courts; removing provisions requiring courts to provide to the Court Administrator certain orders relating to bail forfeitures; repealing the requirement that the Nevada Supreme Court decide an appeal from a judgment imposing the death penalty within a certain period; repealing provisions governing the selection of panels of jurors by boards of county commissioners; revising various other provisions relating to court administration; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires courts, the Legislative Counsel Bureau, state agencies, school districts and the Nevada System of Higher Education to recycle paper and paper products unless a waiver is granted because the cost of recycling is unreasonable or would place an undue burden on the entity. (NRS 1.115, 218F.310, 232.007, 386.4159, 396.437) To obtain such a waiver: (1) the Nevada Supreme Court must apply to the Interim Finance Committee; (2) a district court or justice court must apply to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the court is located; and (3) a municipal court must apply to the governing body of the city in which it is located. (NRS 1.115)

Section 1 of this bill removes existing provisions regarding a waiver of the requirement for courts to recycle and, instead, requires courts to recycle to the extent reasonably possible.

Existing law requires the Clerk of the Supreme Court to post in a conspicuous place in his or her office a table of the fees charged by the Clerk. (NRS 2.250) Section 2 of this bill requires the table of fees to be posted by conventional or electronic means and requires the table of fees to be posted on the Internet website of the Clerk.

Existing law requires district courts, justice courts and municipal courts to submit to the Court Administrator a report of statistical information concerning the workload of those courts. (NRS 3.243, 4.175, 5.045) Existing law further requires the clerk of a district court to obtain and file certain information concerning the nature of each criminal and civil case filed with the court. (NRS 3.275) Sections 3, 4, 8 and 10 of this bill amend these provisions to require district courts, justice courts and municipal courts to submit a report of statistical information to the Court Administrator pursuant to the uniform system for collecting and compiling statistical information concerning the State Court System which is prescribed by the Supreme Court.

Existing law requires each justice of the peace to charge and collect certain fees and to pay those fees to the county treasurer not later than the first Monday of each month. (NRS 4.063, 4.065, 4.071) Sections 4.2, 4.4 and 4.6 of this bill require that the fees be paid on or before the fifth day of the month. Under existing law, a justice of the peace is required to pay to the county treasurer the amount of each fine that is paid or bail that is forfeited within 30 days after such payment or forfeiture. (NRS 176.285) Section 35.5 of this bill requires such payments to be made on or before the fifth day of the month immediately following the month in which the fine is paid or the bail forfeited.

Existing law contains various provisions governing the fees charged by justices of the peace and clerks of the district court and imposes certain penalties for the failure to comply with these provisions. (NRS 4.080-4.140, 19.040-19.110) Sections 5 and 31 of this bill specifically authorize justices of the peace and clerks of the district courts to maintain in electronic format the fee book required by existing law. Sections 6 and 32 of this bill require justices of the peace and clerks of the district courts to submit to the county official designated by the board of county commissioners a monthly financial statement of the fees collected by them rather than a quarterly financial statement. Sections 7 and 27 of this bill require justices of the peace and clerks of the district courts to post tables of fees: (1) by conventional or electronic means in their offices; and (2) on their Internet websites. Section 9 of this bill specifically authorizes a justice of the peace to keep his or her docket in written or electronic format.

Existing law authorizes jurors to be selected by a jury commissioner designated by the district court or, in counties where there is no jury commissioner, by the board of county commissioners. (NRS 6.045-6.090)

Sections 11 and 41 of this bill remove provisions relating to the selection of jurors by a board of county commissioners.

Under existing law, county clerks are ex officio clerks of the district court in and for their counties. (Nev. Const. Art. 4, § 32; NRS 3.250, 246.060) The Nevada Supreme Court has ruled that "[a] district court may exercise control over the court clerk's office either directly, by assuming all or part of the court clerk's functions, or indirectly, by supervising the county clerk in the performance of his or her duties as the ex officio court clerk." (State ex rel. Harvey v. Second Jud. Dist. Ct., 117 Nev. 754, 772 (2001)) Sections 12-33 and 35 of this bill change the term "county clerk" to "clerk of the court" in various statutes relating to the fees charged for the filing of certain documents in the district court and other services provided by the clerk of a district court.

Under existing law, a person may register an order for protection against domestic violence issued by a court in another state by presenting a certified copy of the order to the clerk of the court in a judicial district in which the person believes that enforcement may be necessary. (NRS 33.090) Section 34 of this bill: (1) provides that such an order may be registered in a court of competent jurisdiction in the judicial district in which the person believes that enforcement may be necessary; and (2) authorizes a copy of such an order to be forwarded by conventional or electronic means to the appropriate law enforcement agency.

Existing law requires a court, upon entering an order of probation or suspension of sentence, to direct the clerk of the court to certify a copy of the records in the case and deliver a copy of the records in the case to the Chief Parole and Probation Officer. (NRS 176A.220) Section 36 of this bill removes the requirement that the clerk certify a copy of the records and authorizes the clerk to deliver the records to the Chief in writing, by electronic means or by affording the Chief access to an electronic system necessary to retrieve the records.

Sections 37-40 of this bill remove provisions of existing law which require a court to provide to the Court Administrator a copy of: (1) an order of bail forfeiture; (2) an order exonerating a surety of a bail bond; and (3) an order setting aside a bail forfeiture. (NRS 178.508, 178.509, 178.512, 178.514)

Section 41 removes certain provisions of existing law, including provisions: (1) requiring the Clerk of the Supreme Court to publish a list of certain cases in a newspaper; (2) establishing penalties for justices of the peace and county clerks who fail to perform certain duties; (3) requiring justices of the peace to keep records of certain traffic violations; and (4) requiring the Nevada Supreme Court to decide an appeal from a judgment imposing the death penalty within a certain period.

~~(c) A list of the names obtained must be made out and certified by the officers drawing the jury. The list must remain in the clerk's office subject to inspection by any officer or attorney of the court, and the clerk shall immediately issue a venire.~~

The sheriff shall make return of the venire at least the day before the day named for their appearance, after which the venire is subject to inspection by any officer or attorney of the court.

Sec. 12. NRS 6.150 is hereby amended to read as follows:

6.150 1. Each person summoned to attend as a grand juror or a trial juror in the district court or justice court is entitled to a fee of $40 for each day after the second day of jury selection that the person is in attendance in response to the venire or summons, including Sundays and holidays.

2. Each grand juror and trial juror in the district court or justice court actually sworn and serving is entitled to a fee of $40 a day as compensation for each day of service.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Commerce and Labor:

Amendment No. 19.

AN ACT relating to public utilities; extending to the landlord of a manufactured home park the applicability of provisions governing the resale of certain utility services by the landlord of a mobile home park or owner of a company town; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law imposes certain requirements on the landlord of a mobile home park or the owner of a company town who charges the tenants of the park or occupants of the dwellings for certain utility services provided to the landlord or owner by a utility or alternative seller. (NRS 704.905-704.960) This bill generally makes these provisions applicable to the landlord of a manufactured home park.

Existing law requires the landlord of a mobile home park or the owner of a company town who is subject to the provisions of NRS 704.905-704.960 to submit to the Public Utilities Commission of Nevada an annual report which contains information sufficient to determine whether the landlord or owner has complied with the applicable statutory requirements. (NRS 704.960) Section 11 of this bill extends the applicability of this requirement to include the landlord of a manufactured home park, but limits the applicability of the provision only to a landlord or owner who is billed by a ~~[gas or electric]~~ utility or an alternative seller and in turn charges the tenants of the park or occupants of the dwellings for the service provided by the utility or alternative seller.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 702.090 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(b) A landlord of a manufactured home park or mobile home park or owner of a company town who is subject to any of the provisions of NRS 704.905 to 704.960, inclusive.

(c) A landlord who pays for natural gas or electricity that is delivered through a master meter and who distributes or resells the natural gas or electricity to one or more tenants for consumption in this state.

3. The term does not include this state, a political subdivision of this state or an agency or instrumentality of this state or political subdivision of this state when it is an end-use customer that purchases natural gas or electricity for consumption in this state, including, without limitation, when it is an eligible customer that purchases electricity for consumption in this state from a provider of new electric resources pursuant to the provisions of chapter 704B of NRS.

2. The Commission shall require a public utility or an alternative seller, as appropriate, which provides utility services to a manufactured home park, mobile home park or to a company town, or an independent person who is qualified, to conduct examinations to examine and test the lines and equipment for distributing electricity and gas within the park or town at the request of the Manufactured Housing Division of the Department of Business and Industry or a city or county which has responsibility for the enforcement of the provisions of chapter 118B or 461A of NRS. 4. The owner of the manufactured home park, mobile home park or company town shall pay for the costs of the examination and testing.

5. If the landlord of a manufactured home park or mobile home park or owner of a company town refuses to allow the examination and testing to be made as provided in this section, the Commission shall deem the unexamined lines and equipment to be unsafe for service.

6. If the Commission finds:

2. Not more than 5 days after the landlord or owner of the town receives notice of a proposed increase in the rates of the utility service, give notice to the tenants or those occupants of the proposed increase.

Sec. 9. NRS 704.940 is hereby amended to read as follows:

704.940 1. ➥ The landlord or owner of a manufactured home park or mobile home park that converts from a master-metered water system to individual water meters for each mobile home lot shall not charge or receive any fee, surcharge or rent increase to recover from the landlord's or owner's tenants the costs of the conversion. The owner of a company town that is not equipped with individual water meters shall not convert from the master-metered water system to individual water meters.

3. To the extent that the cost of providing a utility service to the common area of a manufactured home park, mobile home park or company town can be identified, the landlord or owner may not recover the cost of the utility service provided to the common area by directly charging a tenant or the occupant of a dwelling for those services.

4. The landlord of a manufactured home park or mobile home park or owner of a company town may assess and collect a charge to reimburse the landlord or owner for the actual cost of the service charge the landlord or owner is required to pay to a water utility serving the park or town. If the landlord or owner collects such a charge, the landlord or owner shall prorate the actual cost of the service charge to the tenants or occupants of dwellings who use the service. The landlord or owner shall not collect more than the aggregate cost of the service to the landlord or owner.

5. The landlord may assess and collect a service charge from the tenants of the park for the provision of gas and electric utility services, but the amount of the charge must not be more than the tenants would be required to pay the utility or alternative seller providing the service. The landlord shall:

(a) Keep the money from the service charges in a separate account and expend it only for federal income taxes which must be paid as a result of the collection of the service charge, for preventive maintenance or for repairing or replacing utility lines or equipment when ordered or granted permission to do so by the Commission; and

(b) Retain for at least 3 years a complete record of all deposits and withdrawals of money from the account and file the record with the Commission on or before March 30 of each year.

6. 7. The owner of a company town who provides a utility service directly to the occupants of the town may charge the occupants their pro rata share of the owner's cost of providing that service. Where meters are available, the pro rata share must be based on meter readings. Where meters are not available, the owner shall determine a fair allocation which must be explained in detail to the Commission in the reports required by NRS 704.960. The Commission may modify the allocation in accordance with its regulations if it determines the owner's method not to be fair. The Commission shall adopt regulations governing the determination of the costs which an owner of a company town may recover for providing a utility service directly to the occupants of that town and the terms and conditions governing the provision of that service.

8. The landlord or owner shall itemize all charges for utility services on all bills for rent or occupancy. The landlord or owner may pass through to the tenant or occupant any increase in a rate for a utility service and shall pass through any decrease in a charge for a utility service as it becomes effective.

9. The landlord or owner shall retain for at least 3 years a copy of all billings for utility services made to the tenants or the occupants of the landlord's or owner's dwellings and shall make these records available upon request to the Commission for verification of charges made for utility services.

11. The Commission may at any time examine all books and records which relate to the landlord's or owner's purchase of or billing for a service provided by a utility or an alternative seller if the landlord or owner is charging the tenants of the manufactured home park or mobile home park or occupants of the dwellings for that service.

Sec. 10. NRS 704.950 is hereby amended to read as follows:

704.950 1. The tenant of a lot in a manufactured home park or mobile home park or occupant of a dwelling in a company town who believes that the landlord or owner has violated the provisions of NRS 704.930, 704.940 or 704.960 may complain to the Division of Consumer Complaint Resolution of the Commission. The Division shall receive and promptly investigate the complaint. If the Division is unable to resolve the complaint, the Division shall transmit the complaint and its recommendation to the Commission.

2. The Commission shall investigate, give notice and hold a hearing upon the complaint, applying to the extent practicable the procedures provided for complaints against public utilities in chapter 703 of NRS.

3. If the Commission finds that the landlord of the manufactured home park or mobile home park or owner of the company town has violated the provisions of NRS 704.930, 704.940 or 704.960, it shall order the landlord or owner to cease and desist from any further violation. If the violation involves an overcharge for a service, the Commission shall determine the amount of the overcharge and order the landlord or owner to return that amount to the tenant or occupant within a specified time.

4. If the landlord or owner fails or refuses to comply with its order, the Commission may compel compliance by any appropriate civil remedy available to it under this chapter. submit an annual report to the Commission. The report must contain detailed information on the collections and expenditures of the landlord's or owner's account for service charges for utilities, information necessary to determine compliance with NRS 704.940, details of any changes in ownership during the period covered by the report and such other information as the Commission deems necessary to determine whether the landlord or owner has complied with the provisions of this chapter which apply to manufactured home parks, mobile home parks and company towns. The Commission shall by regulation provide for the annual filing of the reports.

Sec. 12. This act becomes effective:

Assembly Bill No. 101.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Transportation:

Amendment No. 51.

AN ACT relating to motor carriers; exempting the transportation of workers to and from certain work sites from the definition of "charter bus transportation" ~~[.]~~ in certain counties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires drivers of charter buses, who are employed in providing charter bus transportation services, to have a driver's permit issued by the Nevada Transportation Authority. (NRS 706.462) Among other requirements, to obtain a driver's permit, an applicant must submit an application which includes the applicant's fingerprints for the purpose of conducting a Federal Bureau of Investigation criminal background check. In addition, the applicant must pay upon both initial issuance and upon renewal a fee not to exceed $50, as well as the cost for processing the fingerprints. (NRS 706.462)

This bill exempts from the definition of "charter bus transportation" buses used to transport workers to and from certain work sites, including, without limitation, construction sites, mines and renewable energy facilities, in a county whose population is less than 100,000 (currently counties other than Clark and Washoe Counties). This exemption effectively ~~[removing]~~ removes drivers of such buses from the requirement to obtain and renew a driver's permit and pay the requisite fees.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 706.462 is hereby amended to read as follows:

706.462 1. A person shall not drive a charter bus for the purposes of charter bus transportation, a motor vehicle for a fully regulated carrier of passengers or a taxicab motor carrier as an employee, independent contractor or lessee unless the person has been issued a driver's permit by the Authority pursuant to this section.

2. The Authority shall issue a driver's permit to each applicant who satisfies the requirements of this section. Before issuing a driver's permit, the Authority shall:

(a) Require the applicant to submit a complete set of his or her fingerprints, which the Authority shall forward to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History for submission to the Federal Bureau of Investigation to ascertain whether the applicant has a criminal record and the nature of any such record, and may further investigate the applicant's background; and

(b) Require proof that the applicant is employed or under a contract or lease agreement or has an offer of employment, a contract or a lease agreement that is contingent on the applicant obtaining a driver's permit pursuant to this section and:

(1) Has a valid license issued pursuant to NRS 483.340 which authorizes the applicant to drive in this State any motor vehicle that is within the scope of the employment, contract or lease; or

(2) If the driver is a resident of a state other than Nevada, has a valid license issued by the state in which he or she resides which authorizes the applicant to drive any motor vehicle that is within the scope of the employment, contract or lease.

3. The Authority may refuse to issue a driver's permit if:

(a) The applicant has been convicted of:

(1) A felony, other than a sexual offense, in this State or any other jurisdiction within the 5 years immediately preceding the date of the application;

(2) A felony involving any sexual offense in this State or any other jurisdiction at any time before the date of the application; or

(3) A violation of NRS 484C.110 or 484C.430 or a law of any other jurisdiction that prohibits the same or similar conduct within the 3 years immediately preceding the date of the application.

(b) After further investigation into the applicant's background, if any, the Authority determines that the issuance of the driver's permit would be detrimental to public health, welfare or safety.

4. A driver's permit issued pursuant to this section is valid for not longer than 3 years, but lapses if the driver ceases to be employed by the carrier identified in the application for the original or renewal permit or if the contract or lease expires and the driver enters into a contract or lease with a different carrier. A driver must notify the Authority within 10 days after the lapse of a permit and obtain a new permit pursuant to this section before driving for a different carrier.

5. An applicant shall pay to the Authority:

(a) A fee for the processing of fingerprints which is to be established by the Authority and which may not exceed the fee charged by the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History and the Federal Bureau of Investigation for processing the fingerprints.

(b) For an original driver's permit, a fee not to exceed $50.

(c) For the renewal of a driver's permit, a fee not to exceed $50.

6. As used in this section, "charter bus transportation" means transportation by bus of a group of persons who, pursuant to a common purpose and under a single contract, at a fixed charge for the motor vehicle, have acquired the exclusive use of the motor vehicle to travel together under an itinerary either specified in advance or modified after having left the place of origin. The term does not include:

(a) The transportation of passengers and their baggage in the same vehicle for a per capita charge between airports or between an airport and points and places in this State;

(b) The transportation at a per capita or an hourly rate of passengers to various points of interest for the purpose of sightseeing or visiting those points of interest where a narrated tour is presented to the passengers; ~~[or]~~

(c) The transportation of persons who have acquired the use of a vehicle for a special event between definite points of origin and destination, at a per capita rate ~~[.]~~ ; or

(d) ~~[The]~~ In a county whose population is less than 100,000, the transportation of a group of persons to and from a single job site or work site, including, without limitation, a construction site, mine or facility or project for the production of renewable energy. As used in this paragraph:

(1) "Construction site" means any location at which construction work is being commenced or in progress.

(2) "Mine" means an excavation in the earth from which ores, coal or other mineral substances are extracted, or a subterranean natural deposit of minerals located and identified as such by the staking of a claim or other method recognized by law. The term includes, without limitation, a well drilled to extract minerals.

(3) "Renewable energy" means a source of energy that occurs naturally or is regenerated naturally, including, without limitation:

(I) Biomass;

(II) Fuel cells;

(III) Geothermal energy;

(IV) Solar energy;

(V) Waterpower; and

(VI) Wind.

➥ The term does not include coal, natural gas, oil, propane or any other fossil fuel, or nuclear energy.

Sec. 2. This act becomes effective upon passage and approval.

AN ACT relating to criminal procedure; authorizing courts to allow certain victims of sex trafficking or involuntary servitude who have been convicted of ~~[trespassing]~~ certain crimes to have their judgments of conviction vacated; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law allows a court to grant a motion to vacate a judgment if the defendant was convicted of engaging in or soliciting prostitution and the defendant's participation in the offense was the result of having been a victim of sex trafficking or involuntary servitude. (b) Request that the juvenile court take appropriate action pursuant to subsection 6.

(c) Contract with a collection agency licensed pursuant to NRS 649.075 to collect the judgment and the collection fee. The collection agency must be paid as compensation for its services an amount not greater than the amount of the collection fee imposed pursuant to subsection 4, in accordance with the provisions of the contract.

If the child is already the subject of a court order suspending the driver's license of the child, the juvenile court may order the additional suspension to apply consecutively with the previous order. At the time the juvenile court issues an order suspending the driver's license of a child pursuant to this paragraph, the juvenile court shall require the child to surrender to the juvenile court all driver's licenses then held by the child. (d) Enter a finding of contempt against a child or the parent or guardian of a child and punish the child or the parent or guardian for contempt in the manner provided in NRS 62E.040. A person who is indigent may not be punished for contempt pursuant to this subsection.

7. Money collected from a collection fee imposed pursuant to subsection 4 must be deposited and used in the manner set forth in subsection 4 of NRS 176.064.

8. If the juvenile court enters a civil judgment pursuant to subsection 1 and the person against whom the judgment is entered is convicted of a crime before he or she satisfies the civil judgment, the court sentencing the person for that crime shall include in the sentence the civil judgment or such portion of the civil judgment that remains unpaid.

Sec. 6. The amendatory provisions of this act apply to any judgment which requires a defendant to pay restitution which is rendered before, on or after October 1, 2015.

Assemblyman Hansen moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblymen Hansen and Carlton.

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

This provides that a judgment requiring a child or a parent or guardian of a child to pay restitution does not expire until the judgment is satisfied and allows an independent action to enforce a judgment that requires a child or a parent or guardian of a child to pay restitution to be commenced at any time.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

To the chair of Judiciary, I want to make sure I understand this. Currently there is a six-year statute of limitations on this that will be removed under this legislation, and the responsibility will fall to the parent or child. If that is so, are there provisions for the subrogation of possible insurance payments that were made, and if so, how do we true up to make sure that the person who owes the restitution is not being double billed?

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

Frankly, I do not know the answer to that question. If you would like, we can hold the amendment and bring it back on the next legislative day. I will get the answer if that is what you would prefer.

Motion to adopt amendment withdrawn.

Bill ordered to third reading.

Amendment No. 147.

AN ACT relating to motor vehicles; authorizing an insurer who provides a contract of insurance for the operation of a motor vehicle to provide, upon the request of the insured and to the extent available, evidence of that insurance in an electronic format that can be displayed on a mobile electronic device; prohibiting a peace officer to whom such a device is presented for the purpose of showing evidence of insurance from intentionally viewing any other content on the device; providing that the person presenting such a device for the purpose of showing evidence of insurance assumes all liability for any damage to the device; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, an insurer who provides a contract of insurance for the operation of a motor vehicle must provide evidence of insurance to the insured on a form approved by the Commissioner of Insurance. (NRS 690B.023) Section 4 of this bill authorizes such an insurer to provide, upon the request of the insured and to the extent available, evidence of insurance in an electronic format that can be displayed on a mobile electronic device. The insured may also request that the insurer provide the insured with the evidence of insurance form. Section 4 also provides that a person who presents a mobile electronic device to another person to provide evidence of insurance assumes all liability for any resulting damage to the mobile electronic device.

Existing law requires that a person applying for registration of a fleet of vehicles provide the Department of Motor Vehicles with evidence of insurance for those vehicles. (NRS 482.215) Section 1 of this bill newly provides that the evidence of insurance may be provided in an electronic format.

Existing law requires a peace officer who stops a vehicle for violating certain traffic laws to demand proof of insurance. (NRS 484A.650) Section 2 of this bill newly provides that, if the evidence of insurance provided to the peace officer by the driver of the vehicle is in an electronic format displayed on a mobile electronic device, the peace officer shall not intentionally view any other content on the mobile electronic device. A violation of this prohibition would be punished as a misdemeanor under existing law. (NRS 484A.900)

Amendment No. 84.

AN ACT relating to motor vehicle registration; revising provisions governing the pro rata refund of registration fees and governmental services tax paid on a vehicle that is due when the registration is cancelled under certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, if a person cancels his or her registration for a vehicle and surrenders to the Department of Motor Vehicles the license plates for the vehicle, the Department is required, under certain circumstances, to refund to the person the portion of the registration fee and governmental services tax paid on the vehicle attributable to the remainder of the current calendar year or registration period on a pro rata basis. The Department is only required to provide such a refund if: (1) the request is made at the time the registration is cancelled and the license plates are surrendered; (2) the person requesting the refund is a resident of Nevada; (3) the amount eligible for refund exceeds $100; and (4) evidence satisfactory to the Department is submitted that reasonably proves the existence of extenuating circumstances. The term "extenuating circumstances" is defined to mean circumstances wherein: (1) the person has recently relinquished his or her driver's license and has sold or otherwise disposed of his or her vehicle; (2) the vehicle has been determined to be inoperable and the person does not transfer the registration to a different vehicle; (3) the owner of the vehicle is seriously ill or has died and the guardians or survivors have sold or otherwise disposed of the vehicle; or (4) any other event occurs which the Department, by regulation, has defined to constitute an extenuating circumstance. (NRS 482.399)

This bill revises that provision to ~~[provide]~~ set forth that, in the case where the owner of a vehicle is seriously ill or has died and the guardians or survivors have sold or otherwise disposed of the vehicle, the Department is required to refund to the guardians or survivors the portion of the registration fee and governmental services tax paid on the vehicle attributable to the remainder of the current calendar year or registration period on a pro rata basis regardless of the residency of the person requesting the refund or the amount eligible for refund, ~~[provided that]~~ but only if the person : (1) cancels the registration and surrenders the license plates not more than 60 days after the vehicle is sold or otherwise disposed of ~~[, and]~~ ; (2) requests the refund at the time the registration is cancelled and the license plates are surrendered ~~[.]~~ ; and (3) the amount eligible for refund exceeds $100.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

If any person transfers ownership or interest in two or more vehicles, the Department or the registered dealer shall credit the portion of the tax paid on all of the vehicles attributable to the remainder of the current registration period or calendar year on a pro rata monthly basis against the tax due on the vehicle to which the registration is transferred or on any other vehicle of which the person is the registered owner. The certificates of registration and unused license plates of the vehicles from which a person transfers ownership or interest must be submitted before credit is given against the tax due on the vehicle to which the registration is transferred or on any other vehicle of which the person is the registered owner.

4. 5. If the amount owed on the registration fee or governmental services tax on the vehicle to which registration is transferred is less than the credit on the total registration fee or governmental services tax paid on all vehicles from

(b) The vehicle has been determined to be inoperable and the person does not transfer the registration to a different vehicle.

(c) ~~[The owner of the vehicle is seriously ill or has died and the guardians or survivors have sold or otherwise disposed of the vehicle.~~

~~(d)]~~ Any other event occurs which the Department, by regulation, has defined to constitute an "extenuating circumstance" for the purposes of this subsection.

Assembly Bill No. 175.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Transportation:

Amendment No. 118.

AN ACT relating to motor vehicles; revising provisions relating to the use of safety belts in taxicabs; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, with certain exceptions, each adult passenger who rides in a taxicab in this State is required to wear a safety belt. Existing law also provides that a violation of this requirement may not be considered: (1) as negligence or as causation in any civil action or as negligent or reckless driving; or (2) as misuse or abuse of a product or as causation in any action brought to recover damages for injury to a person or property resulting from the manufacture, distribution, sale or use of a product. (NRS 484D.500) This bill removes the preceding legal limitations ~~[, thus allowing]~~ and expressly allows a violation of the requirement to wear a safety belt while riding in a taxicab to be considered for those purposes.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 484D.500 is hereby amended to read as follows:

484D.500 1. Any passenger 18 years of age or older who rides in the front or back seat of any taxicab on any highway, road or street in this State shall wear a safety belt if one is available for the seating position of the passenger, except that this subsection does not apply:

(a) To a passenger who possesses a written statement by a physician certifying that the passenger is unable to wear a safety belt for medical or physical reasons; or

(b) If the taxicab was not required by federal law at the time of initial sale to be equipped with safety belts.

2. A citation must be issued to any passenger who violates the provisions of subsection 1. A citation may be issued pursuant to this subsection only if the violation is discovered when the vehicle is halted or its driver arrested for another alleged violation or offense. Any person who violates the provisions of subsection 1 shall be punished by a fine of not more than $25 or by a sentence to perform a certain number of hours of community service.

3. A violation of subsection 1:

(a) Is ~~[is]~~ not a moving traffic violation under NRS 483.473.

(b) May ~~[not]~~ be considered as negligence or as causation in any civil action or as negligent or reckless driving under NRS 484B.653.

(c) May ~~[not]~~ be considered as misuse or abuse of a product or as causation in any action brought to recover damages for injury to a person or property resulting from the manufacture, distribution, sale or use of a product.

4. An owner or operator of a taxicab shall post a sign within each of his or her taxicabs advising passengers that they must wear safety belts while being transported by the taxicab. Such a sign must be placed within the taxicab so as to be visible to and easily readable by passengers, except that this subsection does not apply if the taxicab was not required by federal law at the time of initial sale to be equipped with safety belts.

Assemblyman Wheeler moved the adoption of the amendment.

Remarks by Assemblyman Wheeler.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHEELER:

Amendment 118 revises the provisions of Assembly Bill 175 to retain most of the language proposed to be deleted in the original bill and would only remove the word "not" in subsections (b) and (c). This amendment expressly provides that failure by a passenger in a taxicab to wear a safety belt may be considered as causation in certain actions.

Amendment adopted.

Assembly Bill No. 248.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 166.

AN ACT relating to public health; authorizing physicians, under certain circumstances, to report to the Department of Motor Vehicles certain information regarding patients who have epilepsy; abolishing certain duties of physicians to report certain patient information; requiring physicians to inform certain patients with epilepsy of the dangers of operating a motor vehicle; providing that certain reports and statements provided to the Department concerning patients with epilepsy are not subject to the doctor-patient privilege under certain circumstances; providing that a cause of action may not be brought against a physician for failing to report such information to the Department; providing that a cause of action may not be brought against a physician for reporting certain information regarding patients who have epilepsy to the Department except in certain circumstances; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires: (1) a physician to report immediately to the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department of Health and Human Services, in writing, the name, age and address of every person diagnosed as a case of epilepsy ~~[,]~~ , as defined by the State Board of Health; and (2) the Division to report this information to the Department of Motor Vehicles. (NRS 439.270) Section 1 of this bill abolishes these duties and ~~[instead]~~ the requirement that the State Board define the term "epilepsy." Instead, section 1 requires a physician who determines that a patient's epilepsy severely impairs the ability of a patient to safely operate a motor vehicle to notify such a patient of this determination and obtain from the patient a signed statement acknowledging the notification. If the patient refuses to sign an acknowledgment, section 1 requires the physician to sign a written statement verifying that the physician provided the required notification. Section 1 authorizes a physician, upon the request of the Department of Motor Vehicles, to provide a copy of the acknowledgment or statement to the Department.

Section 4 of this bill prohibits a person with epilepsy from operating a motor vehicle if the person has been informed by a physician that his or her condition would severely impair his or her ability to safely operate a motor vehicle. Section 4 authorizes a physician who is aware that a person with epilepsy has violated this provision to submit, without the person's consent, a written report to the Department of Motor Vehicles that includes the name, address and age of the person.

Section 2 of this bill provides that a person who has been informed by a physician that his or her condition would severely impair his or her ability to safely operate a motor vehicle has no privilege to prevent a physician from disclosing this information to the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Sections 1 and 4 provide that the Department of Motor Vehicles may only use such information to determine whether a person is eligible to operate a motor vehicle in this State. Sections 1 and 4 also provide that no cause of action may be brought against a physician: (1) for failing to provide such information to the Department; or (2) for providing such information to the Department, unless the physician acted with malice, intentional misconduct, gross negligence or intentional or knowing violation of the law.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Assembly Bill No. 250.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Transportation:

Amendment No. 117.

AN ACT relating to special license plates; revising provisions relating to disabled veterans who are entitled to special license plates; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes the issuance of special license plates to veterans of the Armed Forces of the United States who survived the attack on Pearl Harbor, or who were awarded the Purple Heart or the Congressional Medal of Honor. (NRS 482.3765, 482.3775, 482.378) Existing law also authorizes the issuance of special license plates to a veteran who has been captured and held as a prisoner of war or who, as a result of his or her service, has suffered a 100-percent service-connected disability and receives compensation from the United States for the disability. Special license plates issued to a veteran with a qualifying disability must be inscribed with the international symbol of access, which is a diagram of a figure that resembles a wheelchair. A vehicle on which such ex prisoner of war or disabled veteran special license plates are displayed is exempt from the payment of parking fees charged by the State or any political subdivision or other public body within the State, other than the United States. (NRS 482.377)

Sections 1, 3 and 4 of this bill provide that a veteran who is eligible for Pearl Harbor, Purple Heart or Congressional Medal of Honor special license plates and who, as a result of his or her service, has suffered a 100-percent service-connected disability and receives compensation from the United States for the disability may have the international symbol of access inscribed on his or her special license plates, and that a vehicle on which such plates are displayed is exempt from the payment of parking fees charged by the State or any political subdivision or other public body within the State, other than the United States. Section 2 of this bill provides that a veteran who is eligible for ex prisoner of war special license plates and who, as a result of his or her service, has suffered a 100-percent service-connected disability and receives compensation from the United States for the disability may have the international symbol of access inscribed on his or her special license plates.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Government Affairs:

Amendment No. 176.

AN ACT relating to county-owned telephone systems; authorizing a board of county commissioners to sell or lease such a system without acceptance or rejection by the registered voters of the county under certain circumstances; revising the manner in which the sale or lease of such a system is conducted; requiring the board to consider certain factors in accepting or rejecting an offer to purchase or lease such a system; exempting from open meeting requirements certain meetings of the board regarding the sale or lease of such a system; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes the board of county commissioners of a county which owns a telephone system to initiate proceedings to sell or lease the system by adopting a resolution proposing the sale or lease of the system. If the board adopts the resolution, the board is required to place the issue on a ballot for approval by the registered voters of the county. (NRS 710.151)

Existing law also provides that, if approved by the voters, the telephone system must be advertised for sale or lease in a newspaper with countywide distribution. (NRS 710.159) Section 1 of this bill authorizes a board of county commissioners to initiate proceedings to sell or lease a county-owned telephone system by adopting a resolution to evaluate the propriety of receiving offers for the sale or lease of the system and without the requirement of holding a primary or general election or obtaining approval of the registered voters of the county. Section 4 of this bill requires a board of county commissioners that adopts a resolution to receive offers to sell a county-owned telephone system to contract with an expert to market and sell or lease the telephone system in a commercially reasonable manner, removing the requirement for newspaper advertisements. Section 4 also provides that the board is not required to accept the highest bid, but must consider other factors, including the preservation of jobs, future revenue and local control of the telephone system. Finally, section 4 requires that, at least 3 days before the board votes to accept or reject a proposed sale or lease, a notice must be published at least once in a local newspaper. Section 5 of this bill repeals certain provisions concerning the holding of a special election for the sale or lease of the telephone system and the consolidation of voting precincts.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

~~[Section 1 of this bill authorizes the sheriff of a county to provide to persons who hold a permit to carry a concealed firearm information concerning instructors and organizations that offer courses in firearm safety which focus on issues relating to firearm safety in an educational environment.]~~

Existing law generally makes it a gross misdemeanor to carry or possess certain weapons while on the property of the Nevada System of Higher Education, a private or public school or a child care facility, or while in a vehicle of a private or public school or a child care facility except in certain circumstances. (NRS 202.265) Section 3 of this bill adds an exception so that a person who holds a permit to carry a concealed firearm is not prohibited from possessing a firearm capable of being concealed upon the person on the property of the Nevada System of Higher Education, a private or public school or a child care facility, if the firearm remains out of public view and if the firearm is: (1) inside a motor vehicle that is occupied or, if the motor vehicle is unoccupied, the motor vehicle is locked; or (2) stored in a locked container that is affixed securely to the motor vehicle.

Existing law prohibits a person from carrying a concealed firearm while on the property of the Nevada System of Higher Education, a private or public school or a child care facility, unless the person holds a permit to carry a concealed firearm and has written permission from the president of a branch or facility of the System, the principal of the school or the person designated by the child care facility to give permission to carry or possess a weapon to carry the concealed firearm. Existing law also prohibits a person from carrying a concealed firearm: (1) while on the premises of a public building that is located on the property of a public airport; and (2) while on the premises of a public building that has a metal detector at each public entrance or a sign posted at each public entrance indicating that no firearms are allowed in the building. (NRS 202.265, 202.3673) Sections 3 and 4 of this bill authorize a person who holds such a permit to carry a concealed firearm while on the property of the System ~~[, a private or public school or a child care facility.]~~ . Section 4 also revises provisions governing the carrying of a concealed firearm to prohibit the carrying by a permittee of a concealed firearm only in a secure area of a public airport. Finally, section 4 provides that the carrying of a concealed firearm in a public building is prohibited if the building has both a metal detector and a sign at each public entrance indicating that no firearms are allowed in the building.

~~[Section 5 of this bill authorizes the Police Department for the System to provide to persons who hold a permit to carry a concealed firearm information concerning instructors and organizations that offer courses in firearm safety which focus on issues relating to firearm safety in an educational environment.]~~

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. ~~[Chapter 248 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:~~

~~— The sheriff of each county may, within the limits of available money, provide to persons who are authorized to carry a concealed firearm pursuant to the provisions of NRS 202.3653 to 202.369, inclusive, information concerning instructors and organizations that offer courses in firearm safety which focus on issues relating to firearm safety in an educational environment.]~~ (Deleted by amendment.)

Sec. 2. NRS 62C.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

62C.060 1. If a child is taken into custody for an unlawful act that involves the possession, use or threatened use of a firearm, the child must not be released before a detention hearing is held pursuant to NRS 62C.040.

2. At the detention hearing, the juvenile court shall, if the child was taken into custody for:

(a) Carrying or possessing a firearm while on the property of the Nevada System of Higher Education, a private or public school or child care facility, or while in a vehicle of a private or public school or child care facility, order the child to:

(1) Be evaluated by a qualified professional; and

(2) Submit to a test to determine whether the child is using any controlled substance.

(b) Committing an unlawful act involving a firearm other than the act described in paragraph (a), determine whether to order the child to be evaluated by a qualified professional.

3. If the juvenile court orders the child to be evaluated by a qualified professional or to submit to a test to determine whether the child is using any controlled substance, the evaluation or the results from the test must be completed not later than 14 days after the detention hearing. The provisions of this subsection do not prohibit the district attorney from proving that the child committed a delinquent act or criminal offense based upon evidence obtained from sources or by means that are independent of the statements made by the child to the qualified professional during the evaluation.

Remarks by Assemblymen Kirner, Carlton, Hickey, Armstrong, Diaz, and Fiore.

ASSEMBLYMAN KIRNER:

Assembly Bill 111 increases the number of semester credit hours that a community college student must maintain in order to be eligible for the Millennium Scholarship. This number of credit hours is increased from six credit hours to nine credit hours beginning in July 2015.

This bill also increases the amount of money the student may receive for a semester to not more than the cost of 13 credit hours per semester beginning July 2015, 14 credit hours beginning July 2016, and 15 credit hours beginning July 2017, but the total amount of money that such a student may receive remains unchanged at $10,000.

I believe, based on an inquiry made yesterday by my colleague from the south, there may be some confusion. This bill actually increases the reimbursement a student may receive. Today they can only receive up to 12 credit hours at a four-year university, and this graduates that up to 15 hours. However, if they take 12 hours, they get reimbursed for 12 hours. As it stands today, if they take 15 hours, they only get reimbursed for 12. This is an improvement and is designed to help our students graduate within four years.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I have to rise in opposition to Assembly Bill 111. As was just stated by the sponsor and the chair, this does allow the money to be drawn down more quickly. Being one of the few members left in this body who was here when this scholarship was established, I have concerns that if the money is drawn down quicker, the time value of that total pool of money will be diminished. We know it is only going to make it to 2017. If we draw that money down faster, the interest will not accumulate enough to be able to fulfill our obligations until 2017. I do not believe that was discussed in the policy committee.

I have concerns we are going to be leaving children behind, and they will be coming to us in the next legislative session saying You promised this to me, Where is the money? We will have to make up that promise to them because we have put that on the record. My concerns with this bill are not against the Millennium Scholarship. I am working toward supporting Complete College America; I am trying to get there on that policy. My concerns are purely fiscal—that there will not be enough money left at the end to take care of those kids.

ASSEMBLYMAN HICKEY:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 111. This bill is the result of studies done by our Nevada System of Higher Education [NSHE] Board and urges our students to graduate more quickly. Studies have shown that students who take a full load, where possible of 15 credits, have more of a chance of doing that. In that sense, this supports our workforce needs in the state. As has been said, this does not reduce the award to any Millennium recipient. For that reason, I urge this body's support.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARMSTRONG:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 111. I want to congratulate my colleague from District 26 for bringing forth this bill. We owe it to our kids to not only start them in college, but to ensure their completion. I feel that Assembly Bill 111 does that and ensures that more of the kids that start will become the future leaders of the state of Nevada.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

I rise in opposition to Assembly Bill 111. I do concur with the policy intent of my colleague from District 26. I know studies show that the more kids go to school full-time, the higher the likelihood they will actually graduate from our higher education institutions. However, we are penalizing some of our students, especially our low socioeconomic students. I am concerned that we are closing the door on them when they already cannot afford college.

If we want to make them go to school full time, we need to increase the 15 credits and cover those 15 credits completely, not do it in this 1-unit increment. You are defeating the purpose and the intention of the policy, because if you want kids to focus on graduation, if you want their money to go towards the end goal of graduating from college, then they should be taking classes that support that end. My fear is that with this one-credit increment at the university level, they are going to be taking classes that do not support the scope of their degree.

I am also concerned and have expressed a need for a hardship waiver. There are many kids in my community who have to help their households economically, and sometimes it is not feasible for them to go for the number of units we are establishing as law. Why are we penalizing kids that might be in a tough spot? We are just going to say We are not going to give you the money to go to school. We are not going to open the door. We are basically shutting it on them. If those two concerns were alleviated, I would most definitely support this policy decision.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN FIORE:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 111. I really think that we will be doing our students a justice if we help them speed up their education.

ASSEMBLYMAN KIRNER:

To my colleague from District 14, I believe your data is not correct. You testified that the funding available for the Millennium Scholarship would expire in 2017. We had testimony in the Education Committee that suggested these numbers would go until at least 2020. I do believe that it is important at some point we come up with a mechanism to permanently fund this.

As to my other colleague from the south, I would disagree with her. I do not believe students would be looking for one credit. I believe they will be looking for the incremental three credits. They will only get reimbursed for 13 and then reimbursed for 14. As it is now, they take 15 credits, and they do not get reimbursed for 3 of those credits. We are moving in a fiscally responsible direction. I urge the body's support of this. I do believe there is a misunderstanding, and I apologize if I have not communicated that well enough.

This bill becomes effective on July 1, 2015.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TITUS:

I would like to clarify Assembly Bill 136. The bill as originally presented had deleted some language, and then the bill was amended. Now the only thing this bill does is insert new language and provisions. Any deletion has remained current. When the Nevada Department of Wildlife sent it back to us, it was a bill they supported at the current level. A person who is not a licensed health care professional is authorized by this bill to perform certain tests for the detection of HIV if the person has received training on administration, infection control procedures, and counseling. The bill also prohibits the State Board of Health from adopting regulations that require a director of a laboratory that only performs certain tests for the detection of HIV to be a licensed physician or perform other duties.

Assembly Bill 333 authorizes a board of county commissioners of a county whose population is less than 700,000—currently all counties other than Clark County—to consolidate two or more fire protection districts if each district is contiguous to at least one other district, the territory of each district is located entirely within the county, and the rates of certain taxes relating to fire protection levied by the board of county commissioners within each district are equal at the time of consolidation.

The consolidation may be initiated by the filing of a petition with the board of county commissioners by a majority of the owners of property within each such district or the adoption of a resolution by the board of county commissioners proposing consolidation of the districts.

This bill will provide for the merger of Sierra Fire and Truckee Fire Districts in Washoe County. These districts actually merged three years ago. They have one chief, one union, and one fire board, but they have two completely separate sets of books in terms of engines, bonding, audits, meetings held by the fire boards, and so forth. So this actually completes something that was started three years ago and financially puts them together.

I might also add that this would be my third bill heard today. The first bill was [Assembly Bill] 111 and passed, the second bill was 222 and passed, and this one would be 333. THE SIXTY-FOURTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), April 6, 2015

Assembly called to order at 12:23 p.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Albert Tilstra.

In this prayer, O God, we come to You as children to a loving Father. We pray that You will help our Assembly men and women face the problems that confront them, not alone, by giving them wisdom greater than their own, also by relieving their minds of all other anxieties. May they now turn over to You loved ones who need the healing touch of the Great Physician, with every confidence that You will hear our prayers of intercession, and as we do the work that is before us, You will do Your work of healing in those whom we love. May Your help be so plain and practical in our family affairs that we shall come to believe strongly in Your ability to solve the problems we face in guiding the thinking and planning of this state.

Deliver Your servants from personal worries that they may be able to give themselves wholly to the challenges of this hour.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Special musical presentation by Robert Bledsaw, Chaplain and Society Piper, Nevada Society of Scottish Clans, in honor of Tartan Day.

Assembly Bill No. 8.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 8.

AN ACT relating to children; revising provisions concerning advertisements for the placement of children for adoption or permanent free care; prohibiting certain ~~[~~interstate~~]~~ transfers of children; ~~[~~making various changes relating to the appointment of short-term guardians of children;~~]~~ prohibiting the trafficking of children; providing a penalty; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law provides that any person or organization, other than an agency which provides child welfare services or a licensed child-placing agency, who advertises in any periodical or newspaper, or by radio or other public medium, that the person or organization will place children for adoption or accept, supply, provide or obtain children for adoption is guilty of a misdemeanor. (NRS 127.310) Section 1 of this bill specifically applies this prohibition to a person or organization who advertises through a computerized communication system, including, without limitation, electronic mail, an Internet website or an Internet account.

~~[Existing law authorizes a parent, without court approval, to appoint in writing a short-term guardianship for his or her minor child under certain circumstances. The short-term guardian appointed by the parent serves as the guardian of the minor child for not more than 6 months. (NRS 159.205) Sections 2 and 3 of this bill establish a procedure by which the appointment of the short-term guardian may remain in effect for longer than 6 months if the person who is appointed as the short-term guardian is related to the child within the third degree of consanguinity or is approved by a court of competent jurisdiction. Under sections 2 and 3, if the short-term guardian is related to the child within the third degree of consanguinity, the appointment of the short-term guardian may remain in effect for more than 6 months. In determining whether the appointment of a short-term guardian who is not related to a child within the third degree of consanguinity may remain in effect, the best interests of the child must be the prevailing factor and the court must also consider whether the short-term guardian would be fit, willing and able to exercise the guardianship, the reasons for the appointment and the amount of support that the parent is willing and able to provide to the guardian during the term of the guardianship.~~

~~Existing law enacts the Interstate Compact on the Placement of Children to govern the interstate placement of children. (NRS 127.320) Under this Compact, any person, governmental entity or court in a state who sends, brings or causes to be sent or brought into another state any child for placement in foster care or as a preliminary to a possible adoption must comply with the provisions of the Compact. (NRS 127.330)~~

Section 4 of this bill enacts provisions prohibiting the trafficking of children. Section 4 provides that a person ~~who sends a child out of this State, brings a child into this State or causes a child to be sent out of this State or brought into this State for the purpose of permanently transferring physical custody of the child to a person who is not related within the third degree of consanguinity is guilty of a misdemeanor, unless the placement of the child is authorized pursuant to the Compact or is approved by a court of competent jurisdiction in the sending or receiving state.~~ shall not recruit, transport, transfer, harbor, provide, obtain, maintain or solicit a child in furtherance of a transaction, or advertise or facilitate a transaction, pursuant to which a parent of a child or a person with custody of a child places the child in the physical custody of another person who is not related to the child, for the purpose of permanently avoiding or divesting himself or herself of responsibility for the child. Section 4 further provides that certain placements of a child are not prohibited, including, without limitation, the placement of a child with a relative or stepparent, the placement of a child with or by a licensed child-placing agency or agency which provides child welfare services and the placement of a child with a person that is approved by a court of competent jurisdiction. A person who violates section 4 is guilty of a category C felony, and section 5 of this bill requires a court to order that a person convicted of a violation of section 4 pay restitution to the victim of the crime.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 127.310 is hereby amended to read as follows:

127.310 1. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 127.240, 127.283 and 127.285, any person or organization other than an agency which provides child welfare services who, without holding a valid unrevoked license to place children for adoption issued by the Division:

(a) Places, arranges the placement of, or assists in placing or in arranging the placement of, any child for adoption or permanent free care; or

(b) Advertises ~~[~~in any periodical or newspaper, or by radio or other public medium,~~]~~ that he or she will place children for adoption ~~[,]~~ or permanent free care, or accept, supply, provide or obtain children for adoption ~~[,]~~ or permanent free care, or causes any advertisement to be ~~[~~published in or by any public medium~~]~~ disseminated soliciting, requesting or asking for any child or children for adoption ~~[,]~~ or permanent free care,

➥ is guilty of a misdemeanor.

2. Any person who places, accepts placement of, or aids, abets or counsels the placement of any child in violation of NRS 127.280, 127.2805 and 127.2815 is guilty of a misdemeanor.

3. A periodical, newspaper, radio station , Internet website or other public medium is not subject to any criminal penalty or civil liability for ~~[~~publishing or broadcasting~~]~~ disseminating an advertisement that violates the provisions of this section.

4. A child-placing agency shall include in any advertisement concerning its services ~~[~~published in any periodical or newspaper or by radio or other public medium~~]~~ a statement which:

(a) Confirms that the child-placing agency holds a valid, unrevoked license issued by the Division; and

(b) Indicates any license number issued to the child-placing agency by the Division.

5. As used in this section:

(a) "Advertise" or "advertisement" means a communication that originates within this State by any public medium, including, without limitation, a newspaper, periodical, telephone book listing, outdoor advertising, sign, radio, television or a computerized communication system, including, without limitation, electronic mail, an Internet website or an Internet account.

~~1. An appointment of a short-term guardian pursuant to NRS 159.205 may remain in effect for longer than 6 months if the person who is appointed as the short-term guardian is related to the child within the third degree of consanguinity or the appointment is approved by a court of competent jurisdiction as provided in this section.~~

~~2. A parent who wishes to extend the appointment of a short-term guardian who is not related to the child within the third degree of consanguinity must file a petition with the court requesting approval of such appointment pursuant to subsection 1. The petition must include:~~

~~(a) The name, address and date of birth of the child subject to the guardianship.~~

~~(b) The names and addresses of the parents of the child.~~

~~(c) The name and address of the person nominated as guardian and the relationship of the person to the child.~~

~~(d) A statement regarding whether the parent wishes to give the guardian full parental power regarding the care and custody of the child or partial parental power regarding the care and custody of the child and, if the parent~~

~~wishes to give partial parental power, the specific powers that the parent wishes to delegate and any limitations on those powers.~~

~~(g) If the appointment is being facilitated by an agency which provides child welfare services or a child placing agency, facts and circumstances showing that the agency which provides child welfare services or the child placing agency, as applicable, is authorized to facilitate that appointment.~~

~~3. The court shall hold a hearing on a petition filed pursuant to subsection 1 within 45 days after the filing of the petition. The petitioner shall cause the petition and notice of the time and place of the hearing to be served not later than 10 days before the hearing on:~~

~~(a) The child, if the child is 12 years of age or older;~~

~~(b) The guardian ad litem and counsel of the child, if any;~~

~~(c) The parents of the child;~~

~~(d) Any guardian, legal custodian or physical custodian of the child; and~~

If the petition is contested or if an adjournment is requested, the court shall set a date for a fact finding and dispositional hearing that allows reasonable time for the parties to prepare but is not later than 30 days after the initial hearing. At the fact finding and dispositional hearing, any party may present evidence and argument relating to the allegations in the petition.*~~

~~5. In determining the appropriate disposition of a petition filed pursuant to subsection 1, the best interests of the child must be the prevailing factor to be considered by the court. The court shall also consider whether the person nominated as the short term guardian would be fit, willing and able to exercise the guardianship, the reasons for the appointment and the amount of support that the parent is willing and able to provide to the guardian during the term of the guardianship.~~

~~6. At the conclusion of the fact finding and dispositional hearing, the court shall grant one of the following dispositions unless the court adjourns the hearing pursuant to subsection 7:~~

~~(b) A disposition approving the proposed guardianship, if the court finds that the petitioner has proved the allegations in the petition by clear and convincing evidence and determines that the proposed guardianship is in the best interests of the child. The disposition may also designate an amount of support to be paid by the child's parent to the guardian. If the court approves the proposed guardianship, the parent and the person appointed as guardian may execute a power of attorney as approved by the court.~~

~~7. If, at the conclusion of the fact-finding and dispositional hearing, the court finds that the petitioner has proved the allegations in the petition by clear and convincing evidence but that the person nominated as the short-term guardian is not fit, willing and able to serve as guardian or that appointment of that person as guardian would not be in the best interests of the child, the court may, in lieu of granting a disposition dismissing the petition pursuant to paragraph (a) of subsection 6, adjourn the hearing for not more than 30 days and request the petitioner or any other party to nominate a different person as the short-term guardian.~~

~~8. As used in this section:~~

~~(a) "Agency which provides child welfare services" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 432B.030.~~

AN ACT relating to state financial administration; revising the process for ~~[declaring]~~ designating certain debts owed to the Division of Industrial Relations of the Department of Business and Industry and to the State Gaming Control Board as bad debts; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes the State Controller to ~~[submit to]~~ request that the State Board of Examiners designate as a bad debt a debt owed to the State that has become impossible or impractical to collect. If the State Board of Examiners concurs , by affirmative majority vote, that the debt is impossible or impractical to collect, it may designate the debt as a bad debt and the State Controller may remove the debt from the books of account of the State. (NRS 353C.220) Under existing law, the Division of Industrial Relations of the Department of Business and Industry , ~~[,]~~ and the Nevada Gaming Commission , on behalf of the State Gaming Control Board, may remove bad debts from its records without action of the State Board of Examiners. THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

The Administrator shall include in the report the amount of any delinquent debt that the Division determines is impossible or impractical to collect.

2. For any amount of debt the Division determines is impossible or impractical to collect, the Council shall request the State Board of Examiners designate such amount as a bad debt. The State Board of Examiners, by an affirmative vote of the majority of the members of the Board, may designate the debt as bad debt if the Board is satisfied that the collection of the debt is impossible or impractical. If the amount of the debt is not more than $50, the State Board of Examiners may delegate to its Clerk the authority to designate the debt as a bad debt. The Council may appeal to the State Board of Examiners a denial by the Clerk of a request to designate a debt as a bad debt.

3. Upon the designation of a debt as a bad debt pursuant to this section, the State Board of Examiners or its Clerk shall immediately notify the State Controller thereof. Upon receiving the notification, the State Controller shall direct the removal of the bad debt from the books of account of the State of Nevada. A bad debt that is removed pursuant to this section remains a legal and binding obligation owed by the debtor to the State of Nevada.

4. The State Controller shall keep a master file of all debts that are designated as bad debts pursuant to this section. For each such debt, the State Controller shall record the name of the debtor, the amount of the debt, the date on which the debt was incurred and the date on which it was removed from the records and books of account of the State of Nevada, and any other information concerning the debt that the State Controller determines is necessary.

~~[3. The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections:

Amendment No. 85.

AN ACT relating to elections; ~~[clarifying the authority of]~~ revising provisions governing regulations that the Secretary of State must adopt regarding ~~[interpretations and other actions necessary for the effective administration of certain statutes and regulations;]~~ the conduct of elections; changing the date of the general city election in certain cities that hold such elections in odd-numbered years; amending provisions relating to committees for political action and independent expenditures made for the purpose of affecting the outcome of elections; revising the beginning and ending dates of the period during which certain limits apply to the amount that may be committed or contributed to a candidate or a legal defense fund; providing that a petition to recall a public officer may only be signed by a registered voter who actually voted in the election at which the public officer was elected; revising other provisions governing recall petitions and elections; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law ~~[~~authorizes~~]~~ requires the Secretary of State to ~~[~~provide interpretations and take other actions necessary for the effective administration of statutes and~~]~~ adopt regulations governing the conduct of primary, general, special and district elections. (NRS 293.247) Section 1 of this bill ~~[~~clarifies that the Secretary of State may provide interpretations and take other actions necessary for the effective administration of all of the provisions of title 24 of NRS and any regulations adopted pursuant thereto, including statutes and~~]~~ makes various changes to the types of regulations that the Secretary of State must adopt governing the conduct of elections.

Existing law provides that certain cities must hold a general city election on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June in odd-numbered years. (NRS 293C.140, 293C.145; Boulder City Charter § 96; Caliente City Charter § 5.010; Henderson City Charter § 5.020; Las Vegas City Charter § 5.020; North Las Vegas City Charter § 5.010; Yerington City Charter § 5.010) Sections 1.3, 1.5, 7-13 and 15 of this bill change the date of the general city election in those cities so that it occurs 1 week later on the second Tuesday after the first Monday in June in odd-numbered years. Sections 4-6 of this bill make the same change in the election date to the second Tuesday after the first Monday in June in odd-numbered years for certain local special elections seeking voter approval of certain local taxes and debt obligations. (NRS 350.020, 354.5982, 387.3285)

During the 77th Session of the Legislature in 2013, the Legislature enacted legislation that amended the definition of the term "committee for political action" in the campaign finance laws to include certain businesses or organizations that make expenditures of a certain amount in a calendar year for the purpose of affecting the outcome of any election or question on the ballot. (NRS 294A.0055, 294A.230; chapter 259, Statutes of Nevada 2013, pp. 1149-51) In 2013, the Legislature also enacted legislation that added a definition of the term "independent expenditure" to the campaign finance laws, but this newly defined term was not incorporated into the definition of the term "committee for political action." (NRS 294A.0077; chapter 425, Statutes of Nevada 2013, p. 2379) Sections 1.7 and 2.1 of this bill harmonize the 2013 legislation by incorporating the term "independent expenditure" into the definition of the term "committee for political action."

Under existing law, a person may not contribute or commit to contribute more than $5,000 for a primary election and $5,000 for a general election to a candidate for state, district, county or township office during the period beginning 30 days before the start of the regular session of the Legislature immediately after a general election for that office and ending 30 days before the start of the regular session of the Legislature immediately following the next general election for that office. During the same period, a person is prohibited from making or committing to make a contribution to a legal defense fund of a candidate or public officer in an amount which exceeds $10,000. Existing law also prohibits a candidate or public officer, as applicable, from accepting a contribution or commitment to make a contribution in excess of those amounts. (Nev. Const. Art. 2, § 10, NRS 294A.100, 294A.287) Section 2 of this bill changes the period to which those contribution limits apply so that the period begins on January 1 immediately after a general election for an office and ends on December 31 immediately after the next general election for that office.

Existing law provides that a violation of the contribution limits to a candidate or a legal defense fund is a category E felony. (NRS 294A.100, 294A.287) Section ~~[4]~~ 14 of this bill provides that certain contributions made or committed to be made under existing law at the end of the contribution periods in early January 2011, 2013 or 2015 shall be deemed to have been made or committed to be made on December 31, 2010, 2012 or 2014, respectively, so that no person is guilty retrospectively of committing a crime as a result of the changes made by section 2.

Existing law requires a committee for the recall of a public officer to report certain contributions received and expenditures made by the committee during its recall efforts. Existing law also requires such a committee to comply with the reporting requirements when it does not submit a legally sufficient recall petition to the filing officer before the expiration of the period for circulating the petition for signatures. (NRS 294A.270, 294A.280) Sections 2.3 and 2.5 of this bill clarify that such a committee must comply with the reporting requirements if it: (1) fails to submit the petition to the filing officer; (2) submits the petition to the filing officer without any valid signatures or with fewer than the necessary number of valid signatures; or (3) otherwise submits a legally insufficient petition or suspends or ceases its efforts to obtain the necessary number of valid signatures.

~~[In]~~ Finally, in Strickland v. Waymire, 126 Nev. 230, 240 (2010), the Nevada Supreme Court held that Section 9 of Article 2 of the Nevada Constitution provides that, "[w]hile all registered voters can vote at a special recall election, only voters who voted at the relevant baseline election can qualify a recall petition" by signing a petition for the recall. Section 3 of this bill conforms ~~[statute]~~ existing law to this ruling. (NRS 306.020)

Sec. 3. NRS 306.020 is hereby amended to read as follows:

306.020 1. Every public officer in the State of Nevada is subject to recall from office by the registered voters of the State or of the county, district or municipality that the public officer represents, as provided in this chapter and Section 9 of Article 2 of the Constitution of the State of Nevada. A public officer who is appointed to an elective office is subject to recall in the same manner as provided for an officer who is elected to that office.

2. The petition to recall a public officer may be signed by any registered voter of the State or of the county, district, municipality or portion thereof that the public officer represents ~~[, regardless of whether the registered voter cast a ballot]~~ who actually voted in the election at which the public officer was elected.

3. The petition must, in addition to setting forth the reason why the recall is demanded:

(a) Contain the residence addresses of the signers and the date that the petition was signed;

(b) Contain a statement of the minimum number of signatures necessary to the validity of the petition;

(c) Contain at the top of each page and immediately above the signature line, in at least 10-point bold type, the words “Recall Petition”;

(d) Include the date that a notice of intent was filed; and

(e) Have the designation: "Signatures of registered voters seeking the recall of ..... (name of public officer for whom recall is sought)" on each page if the petition contains more than one page.

Sec. 4. NRS 350.020 is hereby amended to read as follows:

350.020 1. Except as otherwise provided by subsections 3 and 4, if a municipality proposes to issue or incur general obligations, the proposal must be submitted to the electors of the municipality at a special election called for that purpose or the next general municipal election or general state election.

2. Such a special election may be held:

(a) At any time, including, without limitation, on the date of a primary municipal election or a primary state election, if the governing body of the municipality determines, by a unanimous vote, that an emergency exists; or

(b) On the ~~[first]~~ second Tuesday after the first Monday in June of an odd-numbered year, whether or not the municipality also holds a general municipal election on that date,

➥ except that the governing body shall not determine that an emergency exists if the special election is for the purpose of submitting to the electors a proposal to refund bonds. The determination made by the governing body is conclusive unless it is shown that the governing body acted with fraud, a gross abuse of discretion or in violation of the provisions of this subsection. An action to challenge the determination made by the governing body must be commenced within 15 days after the governing body's determination is final. As used in this subsection, "emergency" means any occurrence or combination of occurrences which requires immediate action by the governing body of the municipality to prevent or mitigate a substantial financial loss to the municipality or to enable the governing body to provide an essential service to the residents of the municipality.

3. If payment of a general obligation of the municipality is additionally secured by a pledge of gross or net revenue of a project to be financed by its issue, and the governing body determines, by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members elected to the governing body, that the pledged revenue will at least equal the amount required in each year for the payment of interest and principal, without regard to any option reserved by the municipality for early redemption, the municipality may, after a public hearing, incur this general obligation without an election unless, within 90 days after publication of a resolution of intent to issue the bonds, a petition is presented to the governing body signed by not less than 5 percent of the registered voters of the municipality. Any member elected to the governing body whose authority to vote is limited by charter, statute or otherwise may vote on the determination required to be made by the governing body pursuant to this subsection. The determination by the governing body becomes conclusive on the last day for filing the petition. For the purpose of this subsection, the number of registered voters must be determined as of the close of registration for the last preceding general election. The resolution of intent need not be published in full, but the publication must include the amount of the obligation and the purpose for which it is to be incurred. Notice of the public hearing must be published at least 10 days before the day of the hearing. The publications must be made once in a newspaper of general circulation in the municipality. When published, the notice of the public hearing must be at least as large as 5 inches high by 4 inches wide.

4. The board of trustees of a school district may issue general obligation bonds which are not expected to result in an increase in the existing property tax levy for the payment of bonds of the school district without holding an election for each issuance of the bonds if the qualified electors approve a question submitted by the board of trustees that authorizes issuance of bonds for a period of 10 years after the date of approval by the voters. If the question is approved, the board of trustees of the school district may issue the bonds for a period of 10 years after the date of approval by the voters, after obtaining the approval of the debt management commission in the county in which the school district is located and, in a county whose population is 100,000 or more, the approval of the oversight panel for school facilities established pursuant to NRS 393.092 in that county, if the board of trustees of the school district finds that the existing tax for debt service will at least equal the amount required to pay the principal and interest on the outstanding general obligations of the school district and the general obligations proposed to be issued. The finding made by the board of trustees is conclusive in the absence of fraud or gross abuse of discretion. As used in this subsection, "general obligations" does not include medium-term obligations issued pursuant to NRS 350.087 to 350.095, inclusive.

5. At the time of issuance of bonds authorized pursuant to subsection 4, the board of trustees shall establish a reserve account in its debt service fund for payment of the outstanding bonds of the school district. The reserve account must be established and maintained in an amount at least equal to the lesser of:

(a) For a school district located in a county whose population is 100,000 or more, 25 percent; and

(b) For a school district located in a county whose population is less than 100,000, 50 percent, ➥ of the amount of principal and interest payments due on all of the outstanding bonds of the school district in the next fiscal year or 10 percent of the outstanding principal amount of the outstanding bonds of the school district.

6. If the amount in the reserve account falls below the amount required by subsection 5:

(a) The board of trustees shall not issue additional bonds pursuant to subsection 4 until the reserve account is restored to the level required by subsection 5; and

(b) The board of trustees shall apply all of the taxes levied by the school district for payment of bonds of the school district that are not needed for payment of the principal and interest on bonds of the school district in the current fiscal year to restore the reserve account to the level required pursuant to subsection 5.

7. A question presented to the voters pursuant to subsection 4 may authorize all or a portion of the revenue generated by the debt rate which is in excess of the amount required:

(a) For debt service in the current fiscal year;

(b) For other purposes related to the bonds by the instrument pursuant to which the bonds were issued; and

(c) To maintain the reserve account required pursuant to subsection 5,

➥ to be transferred to the county school district's fund for capital projects established pursuant to NRS 387.328 and used to pay the cost of capital projects which can lawfully be paid from that fund. Any such transfer must not limit the ability of the school district to issue bonds during the period of voter authorization if the findings and approvals required by subsection 4 are obtained.

8. A municipality may issue special or medium-term obligations without an election.

Sec. 5. NRS 354.5982 is hereby amended to read as follows:

354.5982 1. The local government may exceed the limit imposed by NRS 354.59811 upon the calculated receipts from taxes ad valorem only if its governing body proposes to its registered voters an additional property tax, and the proposal is approved by a majority of the voters voting on the question at a general election, a general city election or a special election called for that purpose. The question submitted to the voters must contain the rate of the proposed additional property tax stated in dollars and cents per $100 assessed valuation, the purpose of the proposed additional property tax, the duration of the proposed additional property tax and an estimate established by the governing body of the increase in the amount of property taxes that an owner of a new home with a fair market value of $100,000 will pay per year as a result of the passage of the question. The duration of the levy must not exceed 30 years. The governing body may discontinue the levy before it expires and may not thereafter reimpose it in whole or in part without following the procedure required for its original imposition.

2. A special election may be held:

(a) At any time, including, without limitation, on the date of a primary city election or a primary state election, if the governing body of the local government determines, by a unanimous vote, that an emergency exists; or

(b) On the ~~[first]~~ second Tuesday after the first Monday in June of an odd-numbered year ~~[.]~~ , whether or not the local government also holds a general city election on that date.

3. The determination made by the governing body pursuant to subsection 2 that an emergency exists is conclusive unless it is shown that the governing body acted with fraud or a gross abuse of discretion. An action to challenge the determination made by the governing body must be commenced within 15 days after the governing body's determination is final. As used in this subsection, "emergency" means any unexpected occurrence or combination of occurrences which requires immediate action by the governing body of the local government to prevent or mitigate a substantial financial loss to the local government or to enable the governing body to provide an essential service to the residents of the local government.

4. To the allowed revenue from taxes ad valorem determined pursuant to NRS 354.59811 for a local government, the Executive Director of the Department of Taxation shall add any amount approved by the Legislature for the cost to that local government of any substantial program or expense required by legislative enactment.

Sec. 6. NRS 387.3285 is hereby amended to read as follows:

387.3285 1. Upon the approval of a majority of the registered voters of a county voting upon the question at a general or special election, the board of county commissioners in each county with a school district whose enrollment is fewer than 25,000 pupils may levy a tax which, when combined with any tax imposed pursuant to NRS 387.3287, is not more than 75 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation of taxable property within the county. The question submitted to the registered voters must contain the rate of the proposed additional property tax, stated in dollars and cents per $100 assessed valuation, the purpose of the proposed additional property tax, the duration of the proposed additional property tax and an estimate established by the board of trustees of the increase in the amount of property taxes that an owner of a new home with a fair market value of $100,000 will pay per year as a result of the passage of the question. The duration may not exceed 20 years.

2. Upon the approval of a majority of the registered voters of a county voting upon the question at a general or special election, the board of county commissioners in each county with a school district whose enrollment is 25,000 pupils or more may levy a tax which, when combined with any tax imposed pursuant to NRS 387.3287, is not more than 50 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation of taxable property within the county. The question submitted to the registered voters must contain the rate of the proposed additional property tax, stated in dollars and cents per $100 assessed valuation, the purpose of the proposed additional property tax, the duration of the proposed additional property tax and an estimate established by the board of trustees of the increase in the amount of property taxes that an owner of a new home with a fair market value of $100,000 will pay per year as a result of the passage of the question. The duration may not exceed 20 years.

3. Any money collected pursuant to this section must be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the fund for capital projects to be held and, except as otherwise provided in NRS 387.3287, to be expended in the same manner as other money deposited in that fund.

4. A special election may be held:

(a) At any time, including, without limitation, on the date of a primary city election or a primary state election if the board of trustees of the school district determines, by a unanimous vote, that an emergency exists; or

(b) On the ~~[first]~~ second Tuesday after the first Monday in June of an odd-numbered year ~~[.]~~ , whether or not any local government also holds a general city election on that date.

5. The determination made by the board of trustees pursuant to subsection 4 that an emergency exists is conclusive unless it is shown that the board of trustees acted with fraud or a gross abuse of discretion. An action to challenge the determination made by the board of trustees must be commenced within 15 days after the determination made by board of trustees is final. As used in this subsection, "emergency" means an unexpected occurrence or combination of occurrences that requires immediate action by the board of trustees of the school district to prevent or mitigate a substantial financial loss to the school district or to enable the board of trustees to provide an essential service.

Remarks by Assemblyman Stewart.

ASSEMBLYMAN STEWART:

Assembly Bill 23 relates to elections and campaign finance reports. Amendment 85 deletes from the regulations prescribed by the Secretary of State certain functions relating to the conduct of elections. It changes the date of the general city elections to the second Tuesday after the first Monday in June in odd-numbered years and makes conforming changes in city charters. It also incorporates the term "independent expenditure" into the definition of political action committee. It clarifies that a committee for the recall of a public officer must comply with reporting requirements under certain conditions.

Amendment No. 252.

SUMMARY—Authorizes payroll offsets to recover money related to delinquent balances on state-issued travel charge cards. (BDR 23-458)

AN ACT relating to public officers and employees; authorizing payroll offsets to recover money related to delinquent balances on state-issued travel charge cards; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law and administrative regulations, the Department of Administration may contract with a charge card provider to provide charge cards to state officers and employees for the purpose of paying travel-related expenses. (NRS 281.160-281.175; State Administrative Manual §§ 230-236) Under this program, it is the officer's or employee's responsibility to pay the balance due on the charge card. This bill allows the State to deduct from the officer's or employee's paycheck any amounts required to pay off a delinquent balance on a charge card that has not been paid by the officer or employee ~~[.]~~ or to pay an amount deducted from or offset against any rebate issued to the State by the issuer of the charge card related to the delinquent balance.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. NRS 281.1745 is hereby amended to read as follows:

281.1745 1. When an officer or employee uses a charge card issued at the request of the State for cash advances or travel expenses, or both, and the receipt of the travel reimbursement may be delayed more than 5 working days after the date of the initial submission of the travel reimbursement claim, the administrative head or the designee of the administrative head shall immediately issue to the officer or employee, for payment to the issuer of the charge card issued at the request of the State, a cash advance as described in NRS 281.172 in the amount of the total travel expenses charged on the charge card.

2. If an officer or employee who has been issued a charge card at the request of the State for cash advances or travel expenses, or both, fails timely to pay the travel expenses charged on the card, with the result that the charge card incurs a delinquent balance, the State may withhold from the officer's or employee's regular pay, or final payment received upon termination of the officer's or employee's employment, an amount that is not more than the amount required to pay the delinquent balance ~~[.]~~ or the amount deducted from or offset against any rebate issued to the State by the issuer of the charge card related to the delinquent balance. Any amount withheld from an officer's or employee's pay pursuant to this section shall, as soon as practicable, be remitted to the ~~[issuer of the charge card]~~ State as payment for the delinquent balance ~~[.]~~ or the amount deducted from or offset against any rebate issued to the State by the issuer of the charge card related to the delinquent balance.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Government Affairs:

Amendment No. 114.

AN ACT relating to administrative procedure; revising provisions governing the standard of proof in administrative hearings; making various other changes to the Nevada Administrative Procedure Act; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

The Nevada Administrative Procedure Act sets forth the minimum procedural requirements for the adjudication procedure of agencies of the Executive Department of the State Government that are subject to the Act. (NRS 233B.020) ~~[With certain exceptions, existing law allows costs to the prevailing party against any adverse party against whom judgment is rendered in certain civil actions. (NRS 18.020) Sections 3 and 12 of this bill prohibit the award of costs in any proceeding commenced by the filing of a petition for judicial review. (NRS 233B.130)]~~

Section 5 of this bill provides that ~~[an informal disposition of a contested case under the Act may include]~~ the voluntary surrender of a license ~~[and, with respect to]~~ in a contested case ~~[involving a license,]~~ will constitute disciplinary action against the licensee. Section 5 also requires a party who requests the transcription of oral proceedings to pay for the costs of the transcription.

Under the Act, applications for the grant, denial or renewal of a license are a contested case for purposes of the application of the procedural requirements of the Act only if notice and opportunity for hearing are required to be provided to the applicant before the grant, denial or renewal of the license. (NRS 233B.127) Section 8 of this bill clarifies that, to be a contested case, the provision of notice and opportunity for hearing must be required by statute or regulation.

Section 9 of this bill specifies the manner in which a petition for judicial review is required to be served. Section 10 of this bill extends from 30 days to 45 days the period after the service of a petition for judicial review in which certain records are required to be transmitted to the reviewing court and also imposes a duty on the party who filed the petition to transmit to the reviewing court an original or certified copy of the transcript of the evidence. Section 13 of this bill makes it discretionary instead of mandatory for a regulatory body that initiates disciplinary proceedings against a licensee to require the licensee to submit his or her fingerprints.

The Nevada Supreme Court recently clarified that the standard of proof that is required to be used by administrative agencies in administrative hearings is a preponderance of the evidence. (Nassiri v. Chiropractic Physicians' Board of Nevada, 130 Nev. Adv. Op. No. 27, 327 P.3d 487 (2014)) Sections ~~[1,]~~ 2, 5, 7 ~~[, 11]~~ and 14-27 of this bill revise the standard of proof for administrative hearings in existing law to conform to the preponderance-of-the-evidence standard in the Nassiri opinion. Section 11 of this bill codifies into statute the definition of "substantial evidence" in case law for purposes of the standard for judicial review. (See, e.g., State Empl't Sec. Dept. v. Hilton Hotels Corp., 102 Nev. 606 (1986))

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 233B of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto the provisions set forth as sections 2 and 3 of this act.

Sec. 2. "Preponderance of the evidence" means evidence that enables a trier of fact to determine that the existence of the contested fact is more probable than the nonexistence of the contested fact.

Sec. 3. ~~[Costs must not be allowed in any proceeding commenced by the filing of a petition for judicial review pursuant to NRS 233B.130.]~~ (Deleted by amendment.)

Sec. 4. NRS 233B.030 is hereby amended to read as follows:

233B.030 As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the words and terms defined in NRS 233B.031 to 233B.0385, inclusive, and section 2 of this act, have the meanings ascribed to them in those sections.

Sec. 5. NRS 233B.121 is hereby amended to read as follows:

233B.121 1. In a contested case, all parties must be afforded an opportunity for hearing after reasonable notice.

2. The notice must include:

(a) A statement of the time, place and nature of the hearing.

(b) A statement of the legal authority and jurisdiction under which the hearing is to be held.

(c) A reference to the particular sections of the statutes and regulations involved.
