OF THE

ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

SEVENTY-NINTH SESSION

THE FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 6, 2017

Pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution and Statutes, the Assembly was called to order by Secretary of State Barbara Cegavske at 11:15 a.m.

Prayer by Dr. Robert Fowler, Senior Pastor of the Victory Missionary Baptist Church, Las Vegas, Nevada.

Eternal God and heavenly Father, today as all days we give praise to You, and to who You are. We thank You for the beautiful state that we live in and the colorful way you have arrayed its land and people.

We are blessed by You to have the privilege of dwelling in a state with members of government who appreciate the high responsibility that You have allowed to be assigned to their hands.

The responsibilities are as diverse as the people of this great state. Bringing about both peace and prosperity in our state of varied people and issues is a task that requires that our leaders listen to the people and listen carefully to You.

Today I pray that You would grant them the strategies needed that would cause us to excel among our state and categorize us as a people blessed among the nations we are surrounded by.

I pray that You would grant them the strength to withstand the enemies of governing for peace and prosperity for all people. Shore them up as warriors who have been trained for the battle and are willing to make the right sacrifices for the battles of the people of this state.

After You have given strategies and strength, grant them stamina for both the short and the long battles that will be fought on Your behalf and the behalf of the people of Nevada.

Give special blessings to their families who they leave for state responsibility. Give them peace, and cover them with protection from on high.

May every vote this Assembly makes be a brick in heaven that builds a great state for Nevada.

Amen.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BENITEZ-THOMPSON:

Thank you, Madam Secretary of State. I rise with the purpose and distinct honor of nominating Assemblyman Jason Frierson to be Speaker of the Nevada State Assembly. This nomination is more than just a procedural motion. Today it marks a historic event. The Declaration of Independence said that we are endowed by our Creator with certain unalienable rights, and that government's purpose is to secure those rights. For many communities and many persons in Nevada, representative democracy has felt, at times, distant and at arms-length. I believe with this nomination we, as a government, move one step closer to the pursuit of a perfect, more inclusive union. I nominate Assemblyman Jason Frierson as Speaker.

Assemblyman Paul Anderson seconded the motion.

Remarks by Assemblymen Benitez-Thompson, Paul Anderson, and Mr. Speaker.

Assemblywoman Benitez-Thompson requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BENITEZ-THOMPSON:

It is an honor to formally address this body the first time that we are here, setting the session in motion. We assemble today having been elected by the good people of Nevada. We are a body steeped in tradition and in ceremony. It is no secret that with the public policy process, oftentimes come boisterous, loud, sometimes even messy interactions. It is no secret that, in fact, our Constitution may have been forged with heated conversation, heated discourse that left many of our founding fathers at odds with each other until their dying days.

As we set out on this 79th Legislative Session, we have a choice to make—a choice about which path we are going to walk and how we, as a body, will be remembered. I ask all members to hold in their heads the words of Nelson Mandela who said, "What counts in life is not the mere fact that we have lived. It is what difference we have made in the lives of others that will determine the significance of the life we lead." I resolve that we be remembered for our significance, that we be remembered for creating good public policy for all the people of Nevada in the decorum and fashion that this institution deserves.

ASSEMBLYMAN PAUL ANDERSON:

I was reviewing my remarks last night during the great football game that was on. I thought maybe I could poke some fun today and call out some of those that were rooting for some team or another. But I thought that might start this session in a little bit of a controversial, divisive way. So I will stick to partisan politics.

Mr. Speaker, it is my great honor to stand here with you today having been returned to this body by the voters of Assembly District 13. I am also honored by my colleagues to once again serve as the Assembly leader for my party.

I want to acknowledge my good friend, Jason Frierson, and congratulate you on this election today. I particularly want to acknowledge the special significance your election has for the African-American community as well as for the diversity of Nevada that makes us so strong. Congratulations to the Nevada Assembly as a whole on this historic occasion. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate your friendship and look forward to the next few months working together.

For my family—my wife April; our four children; my parents who are joining me here today; my sister and brother-in-law, who surprised me and joined us here today from Utah—they have been gracious enough to put up with this unusual job and the absences that public service sometimes requires. They have blessed me beyond any measure of which I am worthy; I thank them for being here today and supporting us all.

As many of you might remember, two years ago my family was on their way to Carson City and was involved in a potentially tragic car accident just outside of Dayton. We flew the family up this year, just to be safe. I want to take this opportunity again to thank Nevada's first responders who work so hard every day to keep us safe. We owe them all a debt of gratitude.

I would be remiss if I did not mention the incredibly talented and hard-working people who work here in the Assembly building: our Chief Clerk Susan Furlong, her staff, our caucus staff upstairs, our attachés, and all of the support staff that work in the building who keep the Assembly running, keep us on track, and ensure that the people's work gets done. The Assembly is a team effort, and I certainly speak for all of our caucus when I say that we could not do it without you.

To our new members—welcome to the Assembly. The voters who sent you here did so with certain expectations. Regardless of your party affiliation, and after sometimes bruising campaigns, we are now required to put aside our partisan differences and do what is best for all Nevadans. The decision-making authority your constituents have placed in you dictates that you are no longer accountable to just your family and friends or those who voted for you. You are now accountable to all of your constituents and all of Nevada, irrespective of party affiliation. I urge you, when you cast your vote in this Chamber, to recognize that and to remember that the eyes of the state are upon you. I urge you to consider the weight of that decision-making authority. Your votes here will oftentimes be difficult to make. To do the right thing might mean letting someone else down. Giving to one group often means taking from another.

The great statesman and orator Edmund Burke once said, "When the leaders choose to make themselves bidders at an auction of popularity, their talents, in the construction of the state, will be of no service. They will become flatterers instead of legislators; the instruments, not the guides of the people."

While it is my belief that we set a foundational precedent of policy in the 2015 Session, it is my fervent hope that during this session, we will raise the bar for good policy and prove a model for future sessions and future legislators. Let this Chamber, this year, provide a road map for our future through our actions.

Finally, to my friends and colleagues in this Assembly Chamber, while we may disagree, I believe that all of us elected here come because of a love of community. We have that in common. There will be times where we disagree, perhaps more than most. My door will always be open. I do not assume to have all the answers; I do not assume that my path to success is the only path. May we maintain the courage to defy the consensus, and may we choose the harder right rather than the easier wrong.

Mr. Speaker, again, thank you and congratulations. May God watch over us and bless us in our endeavors this session, and may God bless the great state of Nevada.

MR. SPEAKER:

Thank you for such a warm and kind introduction on this historic day. Words do not do my feelings justice in expressing how honored I am to join all of you on this journey, and I am truly humbled by your confidence in me to lead you into and through this 79th Session of the Nevada Legislature.

While we all ended up here on different journeys with unique experiences, we are united by our common desire to serve the people of Nevada. My story began in Compton, California, in a 900-square-foot home. My parents worked hard to provide me with a good education and a sense of security, even if there were gunshots and violence outside our doors. In order for me to be standing before you today, I was fortunate to have family and others in my life committed to helping provide me with a fighting chance. Under Order of Business 15, I will be able to fully introduce some of them who are here today, including my wife and children, my mother, brother, best friend, and family.

We have much to be proud of in Nevada. We stand in this body today as the most diverse legislative body in the entire country. I stand on the legacy of many to get to lead such a body. Ten years ago yesterday, the Nevada Assembly selected Nevada's first woman Speaker, Speaker Barbara Buckley. In 2007, there were 13 female members of the Nevada Assembly and we, as a state, were richer because of their leadership and contributions. Speaker Buckley, from the bottom of my heart, thank you for your leadership throughout the years, for your support and encouragement, and for being my friend. I learned so much from your example, including at the very least, your commitment to the often overlooked skill of listening—listening to our colleagues, listening to our loved ones who know us so well, and even listening to those with whom we disagree. You have and continue to leave your mark on this state, and your legacy will live on through the many you have mentored. Today, we can see the fruit of that labor. Today, we have 17 women serving in the Nevada Assembly, and I am confident that this number will continue to grow as we continue to embrace the rich contributions that women bring in all facets of leadership. Not only have we added record numbers of women to our ranks, today we also have seven Latino members of the Assembly and six African-American members of the Assembly. Never has the Nevada Legislature been more representative of the wonderful diversity of our Silver State.

I would be remiss if I did not thank a handful of leaders who helped me grow along the way. To Speaker Marilyn Kirkpatrick, thank you for the opportunity to serve as Assistant Majority Leader. Speaker John Oceguera and Majority Leader Marcus Conklin, thank you for encouraging me to take on more on responsibility for the team. Majority Leader William Horne, you have, at every step of the way, been my friend and supporter. You provided me with what every leader needs: consistent, steady, honest, and tough love. It will never be lost upon me that your becoming Nevada's first African-American Majority Leader paved the way for me to be here today.

I would also like to thank my current colleagues: Assemblywoman Maggie Carlton, for the institutional knowledge you so generously share with me as I grow; Assemblywoman Irene Bustamante Adams, for your steady prayers throughout the years; and Assemblywoman Teresa Benitez-Thompson, for your unwavering friendship. Minority Leader Paul Anderson, thank you for your statesmanship and the love that we share for this great state. I am looking forward to working with you to leave this institution better off than when we found it.

Let me also congratulate our 14 new members of the Nevada Assembly and welcome them along with a few who, like me, took a little bit of time off in between serving. I am excited to join you in this cause of moving Nevada forward together. We are truly one Nevada, and together, we can accomplish great things. I believe that through collaboration, open minds, and respect for the legislative institution, we can find the common ground.

It is with this foundation that I am blessed to become the first African-American Speaker of the Nevada State Assembly. I embrace this opportunity and responsibility with the recognition that, by breaking this ceiling, there is one less "first" still to be achieved in Nevada's history. I do not take this role in Nevada's history lightly; I fully recognize that in selecting me as Speaker, our contribution to the richness of Nevada's history means we send a message that Nevada embraces all who are committed to serving. This is about a journey to today rather than about me personally. Booker T. Washington once said, "Success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles which he has had to overcome while trying to succeed." This milestone reflects the obstacles that have been overcome, but it also reflects the preparation for those obstacles we still have ahead of us.

I think we can all agree that there is simply no state like Nevada. I arrived here almost 30 years ago from that small house in Compton, with a scholarship in my hands to play football and ambition to use the opportunities my mom and dad worked so hard to give me. I came to Nevada, like many of you, in search of a fighting chance. I am fortunate to have spent significant time throughout our entire state and have enjoyed the richness that Nevada offers. From Reno to Ely, from Elko to North Las Vegas, I have developed an appreciation for Nevada's people and Nevada's precious landscape. From the mining towns of Elko to the Red Rock Canyon landscapes of southern Nevada and the crystal blue of Lake Tahoe, I love Nevada.

Nevada has a diverse culture and lifestyle, with our gaming industry as well as the opportunity for small businesses to flourish. We have the excitement and promise of the urban spirit, but we also have the feel of the new frontier. This, my friends, is the richness of Nevada. It is this broad range of experiences that we all bring to this building in service of the state we love and the citizens we represent.

We are fortunate that we are picking up where leaders left off in 2015, when we took steps to diversify our tax structure so that, above all else, we could restore funding for our children in public schools. Despite that significant bipartisan effort, our work is not done. We still have kids falling behind, test scores that need improving, and accountability in the classroom that must be part of the solution. We still have underpaid and overworked teachers dipping into their pockets to provide supplies and resources for the classroom. We still struggle to recruit and retain the best teachers and struggle to provide adequate incentives for teachers to take on the most challenging at-risk schools. We, as Nevadans, have to make it a priority to pay our teachers competitively so that the best are attracted to Nevada. We must invest in an educational system that provides broad opportunities for all of Nevada's children, not just a select few. It is the right thing to do for our children, and it is the right thing to do for Nevada. We may not always agree on how to get there, but I believe we agree on where we would like to be, and that is a promising future for all of Nevada's children.

Yet, providing students and teachers with the tools they need to be successful is only a part of the equation. If there is not economic security for Nevada families, this effort will be for naught. We have to create that economic security for families by addressing the need for a living wage, paid family leave, and a continuation of the efforts to diversify our economic opportunities with new high tech and clean energy jobs.

We still have to work to create a workplace environment that embraces equal pay and is free from discrimination against minorities, women, and members of the LGBTQ community.

I am passionate about our commitment to removing barriers to good paying jobs by reforming our criminal justice system. We can protect our community from the most violent offenders and still allow for those who are not a danger to society to reenter the workforce and become full contributors to society. I know we can do that.

We also have a tremendous opportunity—no, an obligation—to be an example not only for Nevadans, but for the nation, when it comes to restoring faith and confidence in our government. We need to make government work for Nevadans, improving efficiency, accountability, and inclusiveness in government. This means looking at the expansion of early voting, restoring the voting rights of those who have paid their debt to society, and improving transparency in government.

All of this and more I know we can accomplish, united in one cause, moving our state forward. At a time when political rhetoric and hyper-partisanship have defined politics in D.C., we have an opportunity to show the country what a citizen legislature and bipartisan government is capable of accomplishing, setting aside our differences for the good of the state in a way Nevadans can be proud of.

Nevada is my home all these years later, and I am here standing in front of you because I did not give up, and neither should we, on making sure our kids and families have the tools they need to succeed. I am here because I see the promise and opportunity in the faces of Nevada's children, and I see that in my own childhood, but we need to fight for it. Now more than ever, we need to fight for our kids and for Nevada's future. Just like those who were committed to giving me a fighting chance, I want to help Nevadans rise to the occasion. I invite you all to join me in this endeavor. Join me and let us show our citizens and the country why we love Nevada. Again, thank you so very much and may God bless you.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEES

Rule No. 1. Procedure Concerning.

1. In every case of an amendment of a bill, or joint or concurrent resolution, agreed to in one House, dissented from in the other, and not receded from by the one making the amendment, each House may appoint a committee to confer with a like committee to be appointed by the other; and, if appointed, the committee shall meet publicly at a convenient hour to be agreed upon by their respective chairs and announced publicly, and shall confer upon the differences between the two Houses as indicated by the amendments made in one and rejected in the other and report as early as convenient the result of their conference to their respective Houses.

2. The report shall be made available to all members of both Houses. The whole subject matter embraced in the bill or resolution shall be considered by the committee, and it may recommend recession by either House, new amendments, a new bill or resolution, or other changes as it sees fit. A new bill or resolution so reported shall be treated as amendments unless the bill or resolution is composed entirely of original matter, in which case it shall receive the treatment required in the respective Houses for original bills, or resolutions, as the case may be. A conference committee shall not recommend any action which would cause the creation of more than one reprint or more than one bill or resolution.

3. The report of a conference committee may be adopted by acclamation. The report is not subject to amendment.

4. There shall be but one conference committee on any bill or resolution. A majority of the members of a conference committee from each House must be members who voted for the passage of the bill or resolution.

They shall, after an announcement of their intention to do so is made in open session, sign the bill or joint resolution and their signatures shall be followed by those of the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly.

Rule No. 5. Joint Sponsorship.

1. A bill or resolution introduced by a standing committee of the Senate or Assembly may, at the direction of the chair of the committee, set forth the name of a standing committee of the other House as a joint sponsor, if a majority of all members appointed to the committee of the other House votes in favor of becoming a joint sponsor of the bill or resolution. The name of the committee joint sponsor must be set forth on the face of the bill or resolution immediately below the date on which the bill or resolution is introduced.

2. A bill or resolution introduced by one or more Legislators elected to one House may, at the direction of the Legislator who brings the bill or resolution forward for introduction, set forth the names of one or more Legislators who are members elected to the other House and who wish to be primary joint sponsors or non-primary joint sponsors of the bill or resolution. Not more than five Legislators from each House may be set forth on the face of a bill or resolution as primary joint sponsors. The Legislative Counsel shall not cause to be printed the name of a Legislator as a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor on the face of a bill or resolution unless the Legislator has signed the colored back of the introductory copy of the bill or resolution that was submitted to the front desk of the House of origin or the statement required by subsection 5.

4. Upon introduction, any bill or resolution that sets forth the names of primary joint sponsors or non-primary joint sponsors, or both, must be numbered in the same numerical sequence as other bills and resolutions of the same House of origin are numbered.

5. Once a bill or resolution has been introduced, a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor may only be added or removed by amendment of the bill or resolution. An amendment which proposes to add or remove a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor must not be considered by the House of origin of the amendment unless a statement requesting the addition or removal is attached to the copy of the amendment submitted to the front desk of the House of origin of the amendment. If the amendment proposes to add or remove a Legislator as a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor, the statement must be signed by that Legislator. If the amendment proposes to add or remove a standing committee as a joint sponsor, the statement must be signed by the chair of the committee. A copy of the statement must be transmitted to the Legislative Counsel if the amendment is adopted.

6. An amendment that proposes to add or remove a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor may include additional proposals to change the substantive provisions of the bill or resolution or may be limited only to the proposal to add or remove a primary joint sponsor or non-primary joint sponsor.

Each Senator is entitled to the free distribution of four copies of each bill introduced in each House, and each Assemblyman and Assemblywoman to such a distribution of two copies. Additional copies of such bills may be distributed at a charge to the person to whom they are addressed. The amount charged for distribution of the additional copies must be determined by the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau to approximate the cost of handling and postage for the entire session.

(a) One, if such membership is less than one-fifth of the total number elected to that House.

(b) Two, if such membership is at least one-fifth but not more than one-third of the total number elected to that House.

➥ If the members of the minority party in the Senate or in the Assembly comprise more than one-third of the total number elected to that House, minority party membership for that House on the Commission must be three, being equal to the membership of the majority party.

2. Each House shall select one or more alternate members for each member from that House, designating them according to party or according to the individual member whom the alternate would replace.

3. A vacancy in the regular Senate or Assembly membership created by death or by resignation or by the Legislator's ceasing to be a member of the Legislature shall be filled by the proper alternate member as designated by that House. If there is no proper alternate member, the Legislative Commission shall fill the vacancy by appointing a Senator or Assemblyman or Assemblywoman of the same party.

4. If for any reason a member is or will be absent from a meeting and there are no alternates available, the Chair of the Commission may appoint a member of the same House and political party to attend the meeting as an alternate.

5. The members shall serve until their successors are appointed by resolution as provided in NRS 218E.150, except that the membership of any member who does not become a candidate for reelection or who is defeated for reelection shall terminate on the day next after the election and the vacancy shall be filled as provided in this Rule.

6. The Chair shall be selected at the first meeting of the newly formed Legislative Commission and shall serve until his or her successor is appointed following the formation of the next Legislative Commission.

REAPPORTIONMENT AND REDISTRICTING

Rule No. 13. Responsibility for Measures.

The Majority Leader of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly may appoint a Select Committee on Redistricting for their respective Houses, which are respectively responsible for measures which primarily affect the designation of the districts from which members are elected to the Legislature. These committees are hereby designated as the "redistricting committees" for the purposes of this Rule and Joint Standing Rules Nos. 13.3, 13.4, 13.6 and 14.6.

Rule No. 13.1. Reserved.

Rule No. 13.2. Reserved.

Rule No. 13.3. Bill Draft Requests; Exemptions.

1. Except for emergency requests submitted pursuant to Joint Standing Rule No. 14.4, bill draft requests, including bills in skeletal form, setting forth specific boundaries of districts and amendments thereto may only be requested by the chairs of the redistricting committees.

2. All bill drafts and measures requested by a redistricting committee pursuant to subsection 1 are exempt pursuant to subsection 4 of Joint Standing Rule No. 14.6.

Rule No. 13.4. Compliance with the Voting Rights Act.

1. A redistricting committee will not consider a plan that the redistricting committee determines is a violation of section 2 of the Voting Rights Act, 52 U.S.C. § 10301, which prohibits any state from imposing any voting qualification, standard, practice or procedure that results in the denial or abridgment of any United States citizen's right to vote on account of race, color or status as a member of a language minority group.

2. A redistricting committee will not consider a plan that the redistricting committee determines is racially packing or cracking.

3. Racial packing exists when:

(a) Race is the dominant and controlling rationale in drawing district lines; and

(b) The district lines are drawn to concentrate members of a group into a single district, thereby diminishing their impact as individual voters.

4. Racial cracking exists when:

(a) Race is the dominant and controlling rationale in drawing district lines; and

(b) District lines are drawn to split members of a group among multiple districts, so as to dilute their impact and to prevent them from constituting a majority.

5. For the purpose of analyzing the 2010 census data, the redistricting committees shall adopt the method set forth in the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Bulletin No. 00-02 for aggregating and allocating the 63 categories of race data that was reported to Nevada in 2011 by the United States Census Bureau as part of the federal decennial census.

Rule No. 13.6. Public Participation.

1. The redistricting committees shall seek and encourage:

(a) Public participation in all aspects of the reapportionment and redistricting activities; and

(b) The widest range of public input into the deliberations relating to those activities.

2. Notices of all meetings of the redistricting committees must be transmitted to any member of the public who so requests, without charge.

3. All interested persons are encouraged to appear before the redistricting committees and to provide their input regarding the reapportionment and redistricting activities. The redistricting committees shall afford a reasonable opportunity to any interested persons to present plans for redistricting, or amendments to plans for redistricting, unless such plans demonstrably fail to meet the minimally acceptable criteria set forth in this Rule and Joint Standing Rules Nos. 13, 13.3 and 13.4.

4. Each of the redistricting committees shall fully utilize available videoconferencing capabilities and shall, either jointly or separately, hold at least one hearing in the southern portion of the State and at least one hearing in a rural portion of the State to allow residents throughout the State an opportunity to participate in the deliberations relating to the reapportionment and redistricting activities.

5. The Legislative Counsel Bureau shall make available to the public copies of the validated 2010 census database for the cost of reproducing the database.

6. The redistricting committees shall make available for review by the public, copies of all maps prepared at the direction of the committees.

LIMITATIONS ON INTRODUCTION AND REQUESTS FOR DRAFTING OF LEGISLATIVE MEASURES

Rule No. 14. Limitations on Drafting and Requirements for Introduction; Indication of Requester on Committee Introductions.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 and Joint Standing Rules Nos. 14.4, 14.5 and 14.6, after a regular legislative session has convened, the Legislative Counsel shall honor, if submitted before 5 p.m. on the 15th calendar day of the legislative session, not more than 60 requests, in total, from each House for the drafting of a bill or joint resolution. 1. The Legislature hereby declares that it is the policy of the Legislature to prohibit any conduct, whether intentional or unintentional, which results in sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment based upon any other protected category. The Legislature intends to maintain a working environment which is free from sexual harassment and other unlawful harassment. Each Legislator is responsible to conduct himself or herself in a manner which will ensure that others are able to work in such an environment.

2. In accordance with Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 U.S.C. §§ 2000e et seq., for the purposes of this Rule, "sexual harassment" means unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

(d) Threats and demands to submit to sexual requests to keep a person's job or avoid some other loss, and offers of employment benefits in return for sexual favors.

4. Retaliation against a person for engaging in protected activity is prohibited. Retaliation occurs when an adverse action is taken against a person which is reasonably likely to deter the person from engaging in the protected activity. Protected activity includes, without limitation:

(a) Opposing conduct that the person reasonably believes constitutes sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment;

(b) Filing a complaint about the conduct; or

(c) Testifying, assisting or participating in any manner in an investigation or other proceeding related to a complaint of sexual harassment or other unlawful harassment.

6. The Speaker of the Assembly, the Majority Leader of the Senate or the Director of the Legislative Counsel Bureau, as appropriate, shall cause a discreet and impartial investigation to be conducted and may, when deemed necessary and appropriate, assign the complaint to a committee consisting of Legislators of the appropriate House.

7. If the investigation reveals that sexual harassment, other unlawful harassment, retaliation or other conduct in violation of this policy has occurred, appropriate disciplinary or remedial action, or both, will be taken. The appropriate persons will be informed when any such action is taken. The Legislature will also take any action necessary to deter any future harassment.

8. The Legislature encourages a Legislator to report any incident of sexual harassment, other unlawful harassment, retaliation or other conduct inconsistent with this policy immediately so that the complaint can be quickly and fairly resolved.

9. All Legislators are responsible for adhering to the provisions of this policy. MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

THE HONORABLE AARON FORD, MAJORITY LEADER, NEVADA STATE SENATE, THE HONORABLE JASON FRIERSON, SPEAKER, NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY, 401 S. Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89701

DEAR MAJORITY LEADER FORD AND SPEAKER FRIERSON:

Please find enclosed the text of my State of the State message to the 79th Session of the Nevada Legislature. As you know, I delivered this message on Tuesday, January 17, 2017, to a joint gathering of the Legislature, including your colleagues, constitutional officers, and invited guests, in the Assembly Chambers in Carson City. This message outlines what I believe to be important proposals supporting a stronger future for our great state, and I thank you in advance for your careful consideration and deliberation over the coming months. I and my staff look forward to working with you once again during the Legislative Session as we continue to seek solutions that will enhance the quality of life for those whom we are privileged to serve.

Sincere regards,
BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

Assemblywoman Benitez-Thompson requested that the Governor's State of the State Address as presented to the Legislative Commission's Special Committee to Receive the Governor's State of the State Address of January 17, 2017, be entered in the Journal.

GOVERNOR BRIAN SANDOVAL:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, distinguished members of the Legislature, honorable Justices of the Supreme Court, constitutional officers, honored guests, my fellow Nevadans:

This occasion marks my fourth and final State of the State Address, and I stand before you with a deep, deep sense of humility and pride. In all sincerity, I'm just as overwhelmed by this responsibility as I was six years ago, when, for the first time as Governor, I addressed a joint session of the Nevada Legislature.

Please allow me to take a moment to recognize Nevada's First Lady, Kathleen Sandoval; my children Maddy, Marisa, and James; my parents Ron and Teri Sandoval; my sister Lauri; and my brother Ron.

Kathleen has been my wife of 26 years, an amazing mother, my best friend, and my partner through it all. And, as First Lady, she has been as fierce an advocate for children as this state has ever seen.

For my children, I know it hasn't always been easy for you, but you've always been there for me, and I thank you for that. I am the proudest father you can ever imagine.

Twenty-two years ago, I was a freshman assemblyman seated right over there, listening with anticipation to Governor Miller's message. Tonight, we welcome 17 incoming freshmen legislators, and I wonder 20 years from now, which one of you freshmen might be standing here. It could happen, and I hope it does.

I also want to welcome back the five legislators who have served in previous sessions. Would the freshmen and returning legislators please stand and be recognized?

I would like to draw your attention to a first in our state's extraordinary history. I am honored to recognize the first African-American Speaker of the Nevada State Assembly, Jason Frierson. Words cannot express how full of pride I am for Jason, his family, his colleagues, and for our state. I consider myself blessed to witness this historic moment. Speaker Frierson, I salute you.

In another noteworthy Nevada first, Senator Aaron Ford and Speaker Frierson will be the first African Americans to concurrently lead both majorities in both houses. I congratulate you and I look forward to working with you.

Likewise, I look forward to my continued relationship with Assemblyman Paul Anderson and Senator Michael Roberson and trust that the four caucus leaders will work together, and with me, in the spirit of bipartisanship to make the right choices for our state.

Sadly, since we last gathered, six former legislators have departed, including the recent loss of my friend and colleague John Carpenter, a champion of rural Nevada. I want to also take a moment to invoke the memory of our good friend Senator Debbie Smith. Her example of dedication to the people of Nevada is all around us. We should all aspire to be as honest and hard working as she was.

And, I would like to recognize the absence of two special Nevadans. We will miss the warmth and the humanity of former First Lady Bonnie Bryan as well as the sage guidance of former Congressman, State Senator, and Supreme Court Justice Cliff Young. Please join me in a moment of silence in all of their honor.

One of the great privileges of being Governor is serving as Commander-in-Chief of our Nevada National Guard. Having attended every deployment and demobilization ceremony since taking office, I have personally witnessed hundreds of brave Nevadans leave their homes, families, and jobs to protect and defend our great country. Their courage is an inspiration, and I try to live up to their example every day. Last month, I visited our Nevada troops serving on the frontlines in Kuwait, Afghanistan, and the United Arab Emirates. Tonight, Mr. Speaker, in honor of the heroes who have answered the call to duty, I'm proud to present you with this gift from the 485th Military Police Company stationed in Kuwait, affectionately known as the Law Dawgs. During Operation Spartan Shield, these Nevada guardsmen and women flew this flag over five Middle Eastern countries in honor of all Nevadans. I offer it to your House as a steady reminder of the more than 600 members of the Guard currently serving in harm's way. It's my hope that it inspires this Legislature with the same pride and optimism I found in the hearts and minds of our warriors abroad.

In January of 1963, the year I was born, President John F. Kennedy said in his State of the Union speech, " I congratulate you on your selected role in history. For you and I are privileged to serve [the Republic] in what could be the most decisive decade in its long history. The choices we make, for good or ill, will shape future generations."

My fellow Nevadans, the spirit of President Kennedy's foretelling words still echo today. We know the sixties were, as he correctly predicted, a decisive decade.

Now, you and I are the ones he spoke of as "privileged to serve" in what I'm confident historians will proclaim as the most transformational decade in Nevada history. The choices JFK spoke of then are our choices now. We must realize, here in front of us, are anchored the hopes, dreams, and the fundamental trust of the people of Nevada. We must not fail them. We cannot fail them.

As a cornerstone of this evening's message, I stand before you, beneath a portrait of Abraham Lincoln, a man who resisted the calls for a house divided, and ask you, Republicans and Democrats, members of the Senate and the Assembly, to join me in rejecting the counterproductive divisiveness of partisan politics, and instead to embrace the tradition of bridging our differences in honorable Nevada fashion, so we can make the wise choices and deliver the sound decisions needed to secure a more prosperous Nevada for generations to come. The choices we make this session, "for good or ill," are ours alone. President Lincoln said, "we cannot escape history." Indeed, we cannot. What we can do, however, is accept that this is our time to write it.

Ladies and gentlemen, I am proud to report that the state of our state has dramatically improved, and we are growing stronger every day. Six years ago, many will recall, the situation was quite different. The unemployment rate was a staggering 14 percent, and a record number of Nevadans were out of work. Fortunately, Nevadans dared to hope, and most of the bad news was swept away by extreme sacrifice combined with the sheer force of our tenacity.

By December of 2016, Nevada's economy experienced an unprecedented rebound. The unemployment rate has fallen to 5.1 percent, with Nevada's economy adding more than 198,000 jobs between 2011 and 2016. We have closed the books on six straight years of job growth. We have seen job growth every single month since January of 2011, bringing the total to an all-time high of 1.31 million jobs. Wages are up, home values have risen, and more people have health insurance than ever before.

Nevada is enjoying record visitor volume, higher hotel occupancy rates, and casinos across the state reported a combined positive net income for the first time since 2008. Our diverse economy has helped us add jobs across the board, with many industries either exceeding or nearing prerecession levels. Advanced manufacturing facilities and technology companies have been catalysts for new growth in higher-wage industries. However, without a skilled workforce, which I will discuss in a moment, new companies will struggle to find qualified workers.

I am submitting to you a biennial budget of $8.1 billion that does not call for any new revenue other than an excise tax I will discuss later. This two-year budget is 10 percent larger than the last budget, due primarily to needed investment in workforce development, education, infrastructure, and Medicaid caseload growth, but is considerably below the statutory spending cap formula established in 1979.

At the beginning of 2008, Nevada had $267 million in our Rainy Day Fund. During the Great Recession, we made difficult choices to balance the budget. By the end of 2015, we had withdrawn money six different times and drained every single penny from the fund. Tonight, I am pleased to report that my budget will return $200 million to the Rainy Day Fund. We owe it to the people of Nevada to make sure that we have substantial savings for the next rainy day.

Similarly, six years ago we owed the federal government $900 million for money borrowed to pay unemployment benefits. Today, we have a positive balance of $700 million in the fund, and by the end of the year, the loan will be repaid in full.

From 2010 through 2015, state employees endured furloughs, pay cuts, benefit reductions, and loss of merit and longevity pay. For some, these reductions have been the equivalent of a 30 percent loss of wages and benefits. Tonight, I want to recognize the enormous contributions our state employees have made to help get the state back on track and acknowledge the dedicated work they have performed for the people of Nevada during this demanding economic period. Last session we were able to eliminate furloughs, restore merit pay, and provide a modest cost-of-living adjustment. This session, my budget includes a 4 percent cost-of-living adjustment and increased funding for health benefits to recognize the shared sacrifice and dedication of our state employees.

While our economy is unquestionably growing stronger, we must focus our attention on making certain all Nevadans have access to high-quality employment. The bottom line is that an unprepared workforce inhibits our economic growth and prevents too many of our citizens from obtaining the jobs they deserve. By 2025, roughly 60 percent of all jobs in Nevada will require some form of post-secondary degree or other credential. Today, only 30 percent of Nevadans between the ages of 25 and 34 have completed some level of post-secondary education.

My vision for our state is to put all Nevadans, regardless of age or circumstance, on a career pathway toward success. We can make that vision a reality by investing in higher education, closing the college attainment gap, expanding dual enrollment, and growing career opportunities. While many of these programs have been available for some, they are not yet accessible to all due to financial barriers or other factors. My workforce agenda proposes removing those barriers, so that every student in every classroom has every opportunity to succeed.

Our effort to prepare a modern workforce begins with our post-secondary institutions. First, I will continue our commitment to Nevada's students by keeping the promise of the Millennium Scholarship with a contribution of $20 million to this legacy program. My budget includes an increase of $115 million in new investments for higher education. Academic programs offered by our higher education institutions, particularly our community colleges, must be closely aligned with our economic development strategy. This is why my budget includes $21 million to enhance career and technical education programs at our four community colleges. My budget adds $10 million in new funding for capacity-building initiatives at each of Nevada's seven post-secondary institutions and the Desert Research Institute. This investment focuses on preparing students for careers in advanced manufacturing, nursing, autonomous systems, teaching, and others.

Our universities continue to experience accelerated growth. To accommodate these new students, my budget includes $58 million for new student enrollment at UNR and UNLV. Last session, you will recall, we approved $27 million for a new medical school at UNLV. This fall, the inaugural class of 80 future medical professionals will begin instruction, and my budget includes $53 million to sustain this important addition to our higher education system. By 2019, we will have invested $80 million to establish UNLV's medical school.

Nevada has emerged as an international center for innovation in technology, transportation, and autonomous systems and has attracted cutting-edge industries making incredible strides in science and engineering. To build on these successes, I'm proposing the construction of a new college of engineering at UNR, an $83 million project, half of which will be paid for by the state. This school will develop the best and the brightest in the engineering sciences and help to achieve Nevada's objective to be a global leader in innovation.

My budget also includes permanent funding for the Office of Workforce Innovation. This commitment represents yet another important step in our effort to adapt workforce training programs to the specific needs and realities of the new Nevada economy. My workforce development agenda incorporates proven strategies and targeted investments. When implemented, we will meet or exceed the goal that 60 percent of Nevadans between the ages of 25 and 34 will have earned some form of post-secondary degree or credential by 2025. It's ambitious, yes, but we've never shied away from making the bold choices.

When it comes to public education, my commitment is to always put Nevada's children first. Last session, we made historic investments in public education and enacted sweeping reforms that changed our top-down approach to education and laid the foundation for improved learning with financial accountability. In 2015, we doubled our investment in Zoom schools and devoted $100 million to support our growing English language learner population. We invested $50 million in Victory schools to serve our students living in the most impoverished areas of our state. And, we created the Teach Nevada Scholarship Program for students who agree to teach in our state upon graduation.

Our work also ensures children are reading at grade level by the third grade, places technology in our students' hands, and provides full day kindergarten for every child in Nevada. We have a nationally recognized charter school system which now serves nearly 10 percent of our student population. We also redesigned the way we approach funding our schools, from an outdated system to a "student-first" model. We must acknowledge that students come from diverse backgrounds and have different needs, whether they are at-risk or gifted and talented. No two students are alike, and no two children learn the same way. That's why tonight I am announcing my plan to continue to invest in a weighted student funding formula that works for every child.

My budget includes $107 million in additional funds to reach this goal, including: $42 million to expand successful Zoom school programs; $30 million to increase Victory school resources for students living in poverty; $30 million more in per-pupil funding for special education students; and $5 million for gifted and talented programs.

I also understand that technology is a critical component of learning; accordingly, we must act to ensure our students have access to broadband at school. That's why I'm announcing the Nevada Connect Kids Initiative, an investment of $2 million in matching funds to ensure our schools have access to high speed broadband, particularly in our rural areas.

And, as promised, my budget includes $60 million to fund Nevada Education Savings Accounts. I'm asking you to work with Senator Scott Hammond and me to modernize our education system with the implementation of ESAs. We've heard from thousands of Nevada families about how crucial it is that we give them freedom of choice in the education of their children. I look forward to building a bipartisan solution to get this done. It's time to give Nevada families more choice.

From an economic development perspective, Nevada enters 2017 with momentum. Allow me to quickly recap our economic development successes. Since 2011, we have recruited 204 companies that have made $14.5 billion in capital investment and accounted for 15,000 initial jobs, growing to 38,000 jobs within five years. We have added renewable energy projects worth $6.5 billion across the state, creating 4,500 new jobs. We have added names like Apple, Tesla, eBay, and Hyperloop One to our roster of businesses, and others like Switch and Amazon have undergone significant expansions.

Ladies and gentlemen, the evidence is undeniable. We're on the right track, because we've made the right decisions. In addition to companies expanding and relocating to Nevada, we've increased investment in our school buildings, roads, highways, and bridges, positioning Nevada for a vibrant economy for years to come. We have also taken an international leadership role in the development of unmanned aerial systems, autonomous vehicles, and water technology through our economic development efforts.

Tonight, I have more good economic news. I'd like to introduce J. B. Straubel, Chief Technology Officer of Tesla Motors, who is with us this evening. As you all know, Tesla's Gigafactory project has impressively contributed to our economic growth story. Currently, Tesla has more than 1,000 full-time employees and 2,000 construction workers on site, and 5 million square feet of the Gigafactory is already built. They asked me to remind everybody that when it is completed, it will be the largest building on planet Earth.

It's a project that has hit its marks and continues to build speed. In 2014, when announcing Nevada as the location of the factory, Elon Musk called Nevada the "get it done" state. Production of Tesla's next car, the Model 3, has filled the company's California facility. Tonight, I am pleased to announce that Tesla will expand its investment in Nevada by producing the electric motors and gearboxes for the Model 3 at the Gigafactory. This project will yield more than $350 million in additional investment and add 550 skilled jobs to Nevada's new economy. I want to thank J. B. and Tesla for the decision to double down on the "get it done" state.

As our economy continues to grow and transform in new and unprecedented ways, it is imperative that we guard against new and unprecedented threats. In our country, there are now five battlefields in our never-ending fight for safety and security: land, sea, air, space, and cyberspace. I have allocated $3.5 million for the creation of Nevada's first Cyber Defense Center run by Nevada's first Cyber Defense Coordinator. The Cyber Defense Center will help Nevada detect, prevent, and respond to cyberattacks and stand ready to partner with local governments and the private sector to minimize cyber risks. We must remain vigilant and stay ahead of those who seek to steal our private information and endanger our resources.

With the dedicated leadership of the First Lady and former Supreme Court Justice Nancy Saitta, and after being the only state to receive a grant from the Council of State Governments, a group of legislators, judges, and policymakers studied our juvenile justice system and concluded it is in need of reform. They found that state and county agencies spent $95 million on the supervision of justice-involved youth, yet across our state there is no standardized method to track outcomes or ensure that evidence-based practices are being utilized. We know that some youth have multiple encounters with the courts, often leading to long-term supervision and incarceration. We can do better.

That's why I'm introducing the Juvenile Justice System Reform Act, which streamlines and standardizes criteria to match youth with the most effective services. To that end, my budget includes $1.5 million to implement a statewide risk assessment program. These changes should result in reduced recidivism rates and improved outcomes for youth involved in the juvenile justice system.

While there are many forms of public service, tonight I want to pay special attention to the servicemen and women who have devoted their strength, talent, and lives to defending our freedom. Nevada is home to 300,000 veterans, and we are a state where their service is honored. With us tonight is Staff Sergeant Phyllis Bendure, a 97-year-old veteran of World War II. I thank all veterans and Mrs. Bendure for their service to our country. I am determined, like all of you, to make Nevada the most veteran- and military-friendly state in the nation. So, included in my budget is $43 million to build and open a veterans home in northern Nevada. It's time to stop talking and get this done in tribute to our nation's heroes.

For Gold Star families in the United States, I have submitted legislation which permanently removes the out-of-state tuition fees that a Gold Star student is required to pay to attend a

Nevada university or community college. And, for servicemen and women who answer the call to serve, I am requesting legislation that provides foreclosure protection while they are deployed and for a period of time after they return. Our servicemen and women have given us their all, and we will do nothing less for them.

An important piece of Nevada that holds a special place in our state's and nation's history is the Stewart Indian School in Carson City. The campus, only a few miles away, was opened in 1890 and closed in 1980. It was home and school to thousands of Native Americans from throughout the American Southwest and is a reminder of a different era. The Nevada Indian Commission has applied to the National Park Service for the school to be designated a National Historic Landmark. If designated, it will be one of only two Indian schools in America on the landmark list. My budget includes $4.5 million to restore two buildings on the campus which will be used as welcome and cultural centers. We will also invest $1.2 million to begin restoration of the old gym, preserving it for cultural events. Time has taken its toll on this historic campus, and we must, we must protect it for the sake of our tribes and the history of the American West. With us tonight is Darlene Imus, a 1968 graduate of Stewart Indian School and member of the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe.

Tragically, we lose one Nevadan every day to opioid overdose—a mother, father, son, daughter, grandparent, or close friend. This has been a growing problem for over a decade and has now reached levels of epidemic proportion. One of the major achievements of the last legislative session was the passage of the Good Samaritan Overdose Act. This legislation increased enrollment in the prescription drug monitoring program from 16 percent to 81 percent, and has expanded access to lifesaving overdose-reversal medication. While we have made progress, prescription drug abuse is tearing at the fabric of our families and communities. For this reason, last summer I convened a statewide Prescription Drug Summit with participation from over 500 stakeholders that included legislators, health care professionals, law enforcement, judges, and victims. Based on recommendations from the Summit, I will introduce the Controlled Substance Abuse Prevention Act, which provides more training and reporting and heightened protocols for medical professionals. Working with Assemblyman Michael Sprinkle, I look forward to ridding the state of the scourge of opioid abuse.

With the overwhelming passage of Question 3 last year, it is likely Nevadans will have energy choice in the future. Therefore, I will create by executive order the Governor's Committee on Energy Choice. This committee will help prepare us for the complicated changes that lay ahead if Nevadans approve energy choice. This committee will include members of the Legislature, major customers, organized labor, renewable energy experts, senior citizen representatives, and others. I will ask that they prepare a transition plan enabling us to enter the new markets by 2023.

Speaking of seniors, I want to say a few words about what we're doing to aid our most valuable, and sometimes our most vulnerable, citizens. My budget includes $11.5 million in new funding to expand the Nevada Home and Community Based Waiver for the Frail Elderly, which helps seniors stay in their homes with quality care. Also in my budget is $1.5 million in new funding for the successful Meals on Wheels program. Helping our senior citizens lead independent, meaningful, and dignified lives needs to be a priority for all of us.

Last November, voters also approved Question 2, which legalized recreational use of marijuana. While I did not support it, I respect the will of the voters who did. As I mentioned earlier, my budget includes one new source of revenue, a 10 percent excise tax on all retail sales of recreational marijuana. The proceeds of this tax will be invested exclusively in education. This new tax is in addition to the existing 15 percent excise tax on wholesale marijuana transactions. I will also create by executive order the Task Force on the Implementation of Question 2. It will include stakeholders committed to fulfilling the requirements of Question 2 without compromising Nevada's commitment to public safety. Additionally, I will ask regulators to limit the sale of marijuana products and packaging that appeal to children or may be mistaken for candy. Let's work together to make sure Nevada's market for legal marijuana is restricted, responsible, and respected.

During the past year, I set out on a personal journey to visit every state park in Nevada. I discovered pristine mountains, lakes, and trails that moved me to share what I saw with the world. There is nothing quite like watching a child catch her first fish, hiking an aspen-filled grove, or taking in the solitude of Nevada's vast plateaus. That's why I am bringing forward the Explore Your Nevada Initiative to enhance our outdoor experiences in Nevada.

The centerpiece of the initiative is the addition to the state park system of three historic ranch properties located along the East Walker River in Lyon County. Last year a nonprofit organization approached us with a once-in-a-generation opportunity to transfer these ranches, valued at $8 million, to the state for free. This land, to be known as the Walker River Recreation Area, unlocks an unprecedented 12,000 acres of ranch land and opens access to 28 miles of the East Walker River to all of us. In my budget, there is funding to provide for the first phase of facilities at the park for camping, fishing, rafting, hiking, and cabin rentals.

My desire to see improvements in the park system doesn't end there. I am also proposing the creation of the new Tule Springs State Park, located adjacent to the Tule Springs Fossil Beds National Monument in North Las Vegas. Our State Parks team has worked closely with UNLV to document mammoth and other Ice Age fossils. Together we can develop Tule Springs State Park into a special destination for all ages to learn about Nevada's unique prehistoric habitat.

Lake Tahoe also deserves our attention. We must continue the effort to preserve what Mark Twain called "surely . . . the fairest picture the whole earth affords." My budget includes funding to fight aquatic invasive species, reduce the threat of wildfire, and improve storm water drainage. I don't have to remind anyone about the duty we have to protect this awesome natural treasure and its world-famous clarity.

Regarding nuclear waste, let me make my position clear. For the remainder of my term, I will vigorously fight the storage of high-level nuclear waste in Nevada. Any attempt to resurrect the ill-conceived Yucca Mountain Project will be met with relentless opposition and maximum resources. Let's face it. Continuing down a path that seeks to force this unsafe and unwanted project on Nevada is a waste of time and money and only gets the country farther away from solving its nuclear waste problem.

All of us understand and appreciate that the strength of Nevada is tied to the health of our tourism economy and a strong mining industry. With gaming legalized around the globe, we can never relinquish our position as the gaming and entertainment capital of the world. Competition is tough, so we must always be open to new ideas and new opportunities. Since last session, the state embarked upon a number of changes to gaming regulations, including the development of skill-based games. The landscape of gaming is shifting, and a new generation is growing up in a rapidly changing technology environment. As technology evolves, so must we. Recently, the Gaming Policy Committee met and among other items visited the issue of eSports. Through the efforts of the Policy Committee and gaming regulators, I am proud to report that Nevada is the first and only state to allow wagers on eSports. We must ensure that the gaming industry is free to innovate and compete, while closely adhering to two ironclad rules: player protection and safeguarding Nevada's reputation as the gold standard in gaming regulation.

If Nevada were a country, it would be the fourth largest gold producer in the world. In addition to gold-mining activity, there has been much attention on another mineral found in Nevada—lithium. We are home to the only lithium mine in the United States, and the second largest lithium deposit in North America is located in Humboldt County. We all know the significance of lithium to our emerging sectors in advanced manufacturing and renewable energy, and we know that mining is critical to the future of the new Nevada economy. The key to growing our mining industry is the continued opposition to restrictive federal rules related to public lands. Join me in urging the Trump Administration and Congress to allow Nevada to capitalize on our wealth of mineral deposits that are central to the success of our rural and state economies.

With Nevada's rapid growth comes infrastructure needs. We have begun construction of the first phase of Interstate 11, the Boulder City Bypass, expected to be completed by 2018. But it can't stop there. We are completing preliminary work that will continue the Interstate 11 project from Las Vegas to Reno, and we must work with our federal delegation to pursue the funding necessary to complete this important infrastructure project.

In Washoe County, the spaghetti bowl is another interchange that is beyond capacity, resulting in too many accidents and extended commuter delays. We are working with local and regional agencies to finalize a traffic study by the end of this year, and once finalized, we will commence plans to build an interchange that allows residents and visitors to move more efficiently through the Truckee Meadows.

Most of you know that one of my top infrastructure priorities has been Project Neon in Las Vegas, the largest public works venture in Nevada history. It expands the state's busiest stretch of highway, and once completed, Project Neon will improve the daily commute for our residents and enhance the travel experience for the millions of visitors who come to Las Vegas. We've made great progress on this project, and I look forward to working with our legislative and local leaders to complete it by 2019, on time and on budget.

My fellow Nevadans, in my first State of the State message, I said "If Nevada were a stock, I'd buy it now." I'm even more confident now than I was then. There's no disguising it—Nevada is once again on the move. Our commitment to the new Nevada economy is fueled by the pioneering spirit of the men and women who established the Silver State in 1864.

One hundred fifty-three years ago, our state constitution began with the following words: "We the people of the State of Nevada Grateful to Almighty God for our freedom in order to secure its blessings, insure domestic tranquility, and form a more perfect Government, do establish this Constitution,"

Our founders' words instill in us the fortitude to command our destiny and the courage to accept that it is our time to write our history. With high hopes for the future, I am dedicated to the proposition that, together, we will not fail.

In my final appearance before you, I would like to express to all of you, to the state of Nevada, that this job has been the honor of my life and that every day I am profoundly humbled to serve as your Governor.

As I close this address, I ask for your indulgence. On a personal level I'd like to recite a few lines of a hymn summarizing how grateful my family and I are feeling tonight.

Whenever the sun at the close of day,
Colors all the western sky,
Oh my heart returns to the desert grey
And the mountains tow'ring high.
There is the land that I love the best,
Fairer than all I can see.
Right in the heart of the golden west
Home means Nevada to me.

Thank you. God bless.

Sec. 9. NRS 293.1277 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.1277 1. If the Secretary of State finds that the total number of signatures submitted to all the county clerks is 100 percent or more of the number of registered voters needed to declare the petition sufficient, the Secretary of State shall immediately so notify the county clerks. After the notification, each of the county clerks shall determine the number of registered voters who have signed the documents submitted in the county clerk's county and, in the case of a petition for initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or statewide measure, shall tally the number of signatures for each petition district contained or fully contained within the county clerk's county. This determination must be completed within 9 days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after the notification pursuant to this subsection regarding a petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to NRS 293.128, 295.056, 298.109, 306.035 or 306.110, and within 3 days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after the notification pursuant to this subsection regarding a petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to NRS 293.172 or 293.200. If documents were submitted to the county clerk for more than one petition district wholly contained within that county, a separate random sample must be performed for each petition district.

4. In determining from the records of registration the number of registered voters who signed the documents, the county clerk may use the signatures contained in the file of applications to register to vote. If the county clerk uses that file, the county clerk shall ensure that every application in the file is examined, including any application in his or her possession which may not yet be entered into the county clerk's records. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, the county clerk shall rely only on the appearance of the signature and the address and date included with each signature in making his or her determination.

7. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 9, upon completing the examination, the county clerk shall immediately attach to the documents a certificate properly dated, showing the result of the examination, including the tally of signatures by petition district, if required, and transmit the documents with the certificate to the Secretary of State. In the case of a petition for initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or statewide measure, if a petition district comprises more than one county, the appropriate county clerks shall comply with the regulations adopted by the Secretary of State pursuant to this section to complete the certificate. II. SESSIONS AND MEETINGS

Rule No. 10. Time of Meeting.

The Assembly shall meet each day at 11:30 a.m., unless the Assembly adjourns to some other hour.

Rule No. 11. Open Meetings.

All meetings of the Assembly and its committees must be open to the public.

Rule No. 12. Convening of the Assembly between Legislative Sessions.

1. The Assembly may be convened at any time between sessions of the Legislature upon a petition signed by a majority of the members elected to the Assembly to consider and take action on any matter that is solely and exclusively within the constitutional or inherent powers of the Assembly, including, without limitation, any matter that may be considered and acted on by the Assembly pursuant to its plenary and exclusive constitutional powers under Article 4, Section 6 of the Nevada Constitution or pursuant to its inherent powers of institutional self-protection and self-preservation to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management.

2. A petition convening the Assembly pursuant to this Rule must specify the matter that will be considered or acted on by the Assembly, indicate a date for the Assembly to convene and be transmitted to the Chief Clerk of the Assembly. Upon receipt of one or more substantially similar petitions signed, in the aggregate, by a majority of the members elected to the Assembly, the Chief Clerk shall notify all members of the Assembly that the Assembly will be convened pursuant to this Rule and the date on which the Assembly will be convened.

3. The Assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) The Nevada Constitution invests each House of the Legislature with certain plenary and exclusive constitutional powers which may be exercised only by that House and which cannot be usurped, infringed or impaired by the other House or by any other branch of Nevada's State Government. (Heller v. Legislature, 120 Nev. 456 (2004); Commission on Ethics v. Hardy, 125 Nev. 285 (2009); Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure §§ 2-3 & 560-564 (2010) (Mason's Manual))

(b) Article 4, Section 6 of the Nevada Constitution invests each House with plenary and exclusive constitutional powers to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management, expressly providing that: "Each House shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its own members, choose its own officers (except the President of the Senate), determine the rules of its proceedings and may punish its members for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two thirds of all the members elected, expel a member."

(c) In addition to its plenary and exclusive constitutional powers, each House possesses certain inherent powers of institutional self-protection and self-preservation to govern, control and regulate its membership and its internal organization, affairs and management. (In re Chapman, 166 U.S. 661, 668 (1897); Mason's Manual § 2; Luther S. Cushing, Elements of the Law & Practice of Legislative Assemblies § 533 (1856) (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies))

(d) The inherent powers of each House are considered "so essential to the authority of a legislative assembly, that it cannot well exist without them; and they are consequently entitled to be regarded as belonging to every such assembly as a necessary incident." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 533)

(e) The inherent powers of each House authorize it to take all necessary and proper institutional actions that are "recognized by the common parliamentary law." (Cushing's Legislative Assemblies § 684)

(f) Thus, it is well established that each House is "vested with all the powers and privileges which are necessary and incidental to a free and unobstructed exercise of its appropriate functions. These powers and privileges are derived not from the Constitution; on the contrary, they arise from the very creation of a legislative body, and are founded upon the principle of self-preservation." (Ex parte McCarthy, 29 Cal. 395, 403 (1866))

The next rule is 20.

III. DECORUM AND DEBATE

Rule No. 20. Points of Order.

If any member, in speaking or otherwise, transgresses the rules of the Assembly, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call to order, in which case the member so called to order shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain; and if called to order by a member, such member shall immediately state the point of order. If the point of order be sustained by the presiding officer, the member shall not be allowed to proceed; but if it be not sustained, then the member shall be permitted to go on. Every such decision from the presiding officer shall be subject to an appeal to the House; but no discussion of the question of order shall be allowed unless an appeal be taken from the decision of the presiding officer.

Rule No. 21. Portable Electronic Communication Devices.

1. A person who is within the Assembly Chambers shall not engage in a telephone conversation via the use of a portable telephone.

2. Before entering the Assembly Chambers, any person who possesses a portable electronic communication device, such as a pager or telephone, that emits an audible alert, such as a ringing or beeping sound, to signal an incoming message or call, shall turn the audible alert off. A device that contains a nonaudible alert, such as a silent vibration, may be operated in a nonaudible manner within the Assembly Chambers.

Rule No. 22. Reserved.

Rule No. 23. Select Committee on Ethics; Legislative Ethics.

1. The Select Committee on Ethics consists of:

(a) Two members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker from the majority political party;

(b) One member of the Assembly appointed by the Minority Leader from the minority political party; and

(c) Three qualified electors of the State, two of whom are appointed by the Speaker and one who is appointed by the Minority Leader, and none of whom is a present member of the Legislature or employed by the State of Nevada.

2. The Speaker shall appoint the Chair and Vice Chair of the Committee. The Vice Chair shall serve as the acting Chair if the Chair is unable to serve for any reason during the consideration of a specific question.

3. The Speaker shall appoint an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (a) of subsection 1 and an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1. The Minority Leader shall appoint an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (b) of subsection 1 and an alternate member with the qualifications set forth in paragraph (c) of subsection 1. If a member of the Committee is unable to serve for any reason during the consideration of a specific question, the alternate appointed with the qualifications from the same paragraph in subsection 1 shall serve as a member of the Committee during the consideration of the specific question.

4. A member of the Committee is disqualified to serve during the consideration of a specific question if:

(a) The member is the requester of advice concerning the question of ethics or conflict of interest, or the member is the subject of the complaint concerning the specific question; or

(b) A reasonable person in the member's situation could not exercise independent judgment on the matter in question.

5. The members of the Committee shall perform any duty required in the period between the time of their appointment after the general election and the organization of the next succeeding regular session, or until the Speaker or the Speaker Designate or the Minority Leader or Minority Leader Designate appoint new members to the Committee, whichever occurs first.

6. The tenure of the members of the Committee shall extend during the interim between regular sessions of the Legislature.

7. The Committee:

(a) May hear requests brought by members of the Assembly for advice on specific questions of potential breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest; and

(b) Shall hear complaints brought by members of the Assembly and others on specific questions of alleged breaches of ethics and conflicts of interest.

8. All proceedings held to consider the character, alleged misconduct, professional competence or physical or mental health of any person by the Committee on matters of ethics or conflicts of interest are confidential unless a Legislator:

(a) Against whom a complaint is brought requests a public hearing;

(b) Discloses the content of an opinion of the Committee at any time after his or her hearing; or

(c) Discloses the content of an advisory opinion issued to him or her by the Committee.

9. A complaint which alleges a breach of ethics or a conflict of interest must be:

(a) Made in writing on a form provided by the Chief Clerk of the Assembly;

(b) Signed and verified under penalty of perjury by the person making the allegation; and

(c) Filed with the Chair of the Committee or, if the Chair is the subject of the complaint, with the Vice Chair. The Chair or Vice Chair, as appropriate, shall send a copy of the complaint, within 24 hours after receiving it, to the Legislator against whom the complaint is brought.

10. In determining whether a Legislator has a conflict of interest, the Legislator should consider whether the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in his or her situation upon the matter in question would be materially affected by the Legislator's:

(a) Acceptance of a gift or loan;

(b) Private economic interest; or

(c) Commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family.

➥ In interpreting and applying the provisions of this subsection, it must be presumed that the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in the Legislator's situation would not be materially affected by the Legislator's private economic interest or the Legislator's commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family where the resulting benefit or detriment accruing to the Legislator, or if the Legislator has a commitment to a member of his or her household or immediate family, accruing to those other persons, is not greater than that accruing to any other member of the general business, profession, occupation or group that is affected by the matter.

11. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 12, if a Legislator knows he or she has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10, the Legislator shall make a general disclosure of the conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Assembly, as applicable. Such a disclosure must be entered:

(a) If the Legislator makes the disclosure in a meeting of a committee, in the minutes for that meeting.

(b) If the Legislator makes the disclosure on the floor of the Assembly, in the Journal.

12. If, on one or more prior occasions during the current session of the Legislature, a Legislator has made a general disclosure of a conflict of interest on the record in a meeting of a committee or on the floor of the Assembly, the Legislator is not required to make that general disclosure at length again regarding the same conflict of interest if, when the matter in question arises on subsequent occasions, the Legislator makes a reference on the record to the previous disclosure.

13. In determining whether to abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which a Legislator has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10, the Legislator should consider whether:

(a) The conflict impedes his or her independence of judgment; and

(b) His or her interest is greater than the interests of an entire class of persons similarly situated.

14. The provisions of this Rule do not under any circumstances and regardless of any conflict of interest:

(a) Prohibit a Legislator from requesting or introducing a legislative measure; or

(b) Require a Legislator to take any particular action before or while requesting or introducing a legislative measure.

15. If a Legislator who is a member of a committee declares on the record when a vote is to be taken by the committee that he or she will abstain from voting because of the requirements of this Rule, the necessary quorum to act upon and the number of votes necessary to act upon the matter is reduced as though the Legislator abstaining were not a member of the committee.

16. The standards and procedures set forth in this Rule which govern whether and to what extent a member of the Assembly has a conflict of interest, should disclose a conflict of interest or should abstain from voting upon, advocating or opposing a matter concerning which the member has a conflict of interest pursuant to subsection 10:

(a) Are exclusive and are the only standards and procedures that apply to members of the Assembly with regard to such matters; and

(b) Supersede and preempt all other standards and procedures with regard to such matters.

17. For purposes of this Rule, "immediate family" means a person who is related to the Legislator by blood, adoption or marriage within the first degree of consanguinity or affinity.

The next rule is 30.

2. The presiding officer shall call for yeas and nays by a division or by a roll call, either electronic or oral.

3. When taking the yeas and nays on any question, the electronic roll call system may be used, and when so used shall have the force and effect of any roll call under these rules.

4. When taking the yeas and nays by oral roll call, the Chief Clerk shall take the names of members alphabetically, except that the Speaker's name must be called last.

5. The electronic roll call system may be used to determine the presence of a quorum.

6. The yeas and nays must not be taken with the electronic roll call system until all members present are at their desks. The presiding officer may vote at the rostrum.

7. Only a member who:

(a) Has been certified by the Committee on Legislative Operations and Elections or a special committee of the Assembly; and

(b) Is physically present within the Assembly Chambers,

➥ may cast a vote in the Assembly.

Rule No. 33. Voting by Division.

The next rule is 40.

Any party to a contest may take the deposition of any witness at any time after the statement of contest is filed with the Secretary of State and before the contest is finally decided. If oral statements are made at any hearing before the Assembly or a committee thereof which purport to establish matters of fact, they must be made under oath. Strict rules of evidence do not apply.

4. Absent approval by the Speaker or unanimous consent to waive the waiting period, a committee may not take final action on a bill or resolution until at least 24 hours after the close of the hearing on the bill or resolution.

5. Definite action on a bill or resolution will require a majority of the entire committee. A member shall vote on all questions that come before the committee unless the member:

(b) Makes a full and complete disclosure of a conflict pursuant to Assembly Standing Rule No. 23.

6. A majority of the entire committee is required to reconsider action on a bill or resolution.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8 of the 78th Session—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to require that an initiative petition which creates, generates or increases any public revenue be approved by the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the voters voting on the question.

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 18 of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 18. 1. Every bill, except a bill placed on a consent calendar adopted as provided in subsection 4, must be read by sections on three several days, in each House, unless in case of emergency, two thirds of the House where such bill is pending shall deem it expedient to dispense with this rule. The reading of a bill by sections, on its final passage, shall in no case be dispensed with, and the vote on the final passage of every bill or joint resolution shall be taken by yeas and nays to be entered on the journals of each House. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a majority of all the members elected to each House is necessary to pass every bill or joint resolution, and all bills or joint resolutions so passed, shall be signed by the presiding officers of the respective Houses and by the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the Assembly.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, an affirmative vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the members elected to each House is necessary to pass a bill or joint resolution which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates.

3. A majority of all of the members elected to each House may refer any measure which creates, generates, or increases any revenue in any form to the people of the State at the next general election ~~[.]~~ and , except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of Article 19, the measure shall become effective and enforced only if it has been approved by a majority of the votes cast on the measure at such election.

4. Each House may provide by rule for the creation of a consent calendar and establish the procedure for the passage of uncontested bills.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That a new section, designated Section 7, be added to Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution to read as follows:

Sec. 7. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, if an initiative petition proposes a statute, an amendment to a statute, the repeal of a statute or an amendment to the Constitution and the initiative, if approved, would create, generate or increase any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates, an affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the voters voting on the question is necessary to approve the petition at each election required for the petition. If more than one-third of the voters voting on the question at any such election votes disapproval of the petition, no further action may be taken on the petition.

And be it further

RESOLVED, That Section 2 of Article 19 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. 1. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1 of Article 4 of this Constitution, but subject to the limitations of ~~[Section]~~ Sections 6 and 7 of this Article, the people reserve to themselves the power to propose, by initiative petition, statutes and amendments to statutes and amendments to this Constitution, and to enact or reject them at the polls.

2. An initiative petition shall be in the form required by Section 3 of this Article and shall be proposed by a number of registered voters equal to 10 percent or more of the number of voters who voted at the last preceding general election in not less than 75 percent of the counties in the State, but the total number of registered voters signing the initiative petition shall be equal to 10 percent or more of the voters who voted in the entire State at the last preceding general election.

3. If the initiative petition proposes a statute or an amendment to a statute, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than January 1 of the year preceding the year in which a regular session of the Legislature is held. After its circulation, it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 30 days prior to any regular session of the Legislature. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall transmit such petition to the Legislature as soon as the Legislature convenes and organizes. The petition shall take precedence over all other measures except appropriation bills, and the statute or amendment to a statute proposed thereby shall be enacted or rejected by the Legislature without change or amendment within 40 days. The petition shall be subject to the provisions of Section 18 of Article 4 if the petition creates, generates or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates. If the proposed statute or amendment to a statute is enacted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in the same manner as other statutes are enacted, such statute or amendment to a statute shall become law, but shall be subject to referendum petition as provided in Section 1 of this Article. If the statute or amendment to a statute is rejected by the Legislature, or if no action is taken thereon within 40 days, the Secretary of State shall submit the question of approval or disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. ~~[If]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes approval of such statute or amendment to a statute, it shall become law and take effect upon completion of the canvass of votes by the Supreme Court. An initiative measure so approved by the voters shall not be amended, annulled, repealed, set aside or suspended by the Legislature within 3 years from the date it takes effect. If a majority of such voters votes disapproval of such statute or amendment to a statute, no further action shall be taken on such petition. If the Legislature rejects such proposed statute or amendment, the Governor may recommend to the Legislature and the Legislature may propose a different measure on the same subject, in which event, after such different measure has been approved by the Governor, the question of approval or disapproval of each measure shall be submitted by the Secretary of State to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election. ~~[If]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if the conflicting provisions submitted to the voters are both approved by a majority of the voters voting on such measures, the measure which receives the largest number of affirmative votes shall thereupon become law. If at the session of the Legislature to which an initiative petition proposing an amendment to a statute is presented which the Legislature rejects or upon which it takes no action, the Legislature amends the statute which the petition proposes to amend in a respect which does not conflict in substance with the proposed amendment, the Secretary of State in submitting the statute to the voters for approval or disapproval of the proposed amendment shall include the amendment made by the Legislature.

4. If the initiative petition proposes an amendment to the Constitution, the person who intends to circulate it shall file a copy with the Secretary of State before beginning circulation and not earlier than September 1 of the year before the year in which the election is to be held. After its circulation it shall be filed with the Secretary of State not less than 90 days before any regular general election at which the question of approval or disapproval of such amendment may be voted upon by the voters of the entire State. The circulation of the petition shall cease on the day the petition is filed with the Secretary of State or such other date as may be prescribed for the verification of the number of signatures affixed to the petition, whichever is earliest. The Secretary of State shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, on three separate occasions, in each county in the State, together with any explanatory matter which shall be placed upon the ballot, the entire text of the proposed amendment. If a majority of the voters voting on such question at such election votes disapproval of such amendment, no further action shall be taken on the petition. ~~[~~If~~]~~ Except as otherwise provided in Section 7 of this Article, if a majority of such voters votes approval of such amendment, the Secretary of State shall publish and resubmit the question of approval or disapproval to a vote of the voters at the next succeeding general election in the same manner as such question was originally submitted. Sec. 18. 1. Every bill, except a bill placed on a consent calendar adopted as provided in subsection 4, must be read by sections on three several days, in each House, unless in case of emergency, two thirds of the House where such bill is pending shall deem it expedient to dispense with this rule. The reading of a bill by sections, on its final passage, shall in no case be dispensed with, and the vote on the final passage of every bill or joint resolution shall be taken by yeas and nays to be entered on the journals of each House. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, a majority of all the members elected to each House is necessary to pass every bill or joint resolution, and all bills or joint resolutions so passed, shall be signed by the presiding officers of the respective Houses and by the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the Assembly.

3. A majority of all of the members elected to each House may refer any measure which creates, generates, or increases any revenue in any form to the people of the State at the next general election, and shall become effective and enforced only if it has been approved by a majority of the votes cast on the measure at such election.

2. Shares of stock, bonds, mortgages, notes, bank deposits, book accounts and credits, and securities and choses in action of like character are deemed to represent interest in property already assessed and taxed, either in Nevada or elsewhere, and shall be exempt.

3. Such property shall not be deprived of such exemption because while in the warehouse the property is assembled, bound, joined, processed, disassembled, divided, cut, broken in bulk, relabeled or repackaged.

5. The Legislature may exempt motor vehicles from the provisions of the tax required by this Section, and in lieu thereof, if such exemption is granted, shall provide for a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation of motor vehicles, which rate shall not exceed five cents on one dollar of assessed valuation.

6. OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

June 11, 2015

THE HONORABLE BARBARA CEGAVSKE, NEVADA SECRETARY OF STATE, 101 South Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89701

RE: Assembly Bill 326 of the 78th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE CEGAVSKE:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 326, which is entitled:

> AN ACT relating to motor vehicle registration; revising provisions relating to the requirements for certain special license plates; prohibiting the Department of Motor Vehicles from issuing certain special license plates for a certain period; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Assembly Bill 326 revises requirements for the issuance of special license plates inscribed with the words "Old Timer," "Street Rod," "Classic Rod," or "Classic Vehicle," and further prohibits the issuance of those same plates from July 1, 2015, until July 1, 2017.

Although the bill has merit in that it attempts to curb the abuse of these special plates by individuals purely seeking to avoid emissions testing and fees, issuing a two-year moratorium on these plates unnecessarily penalizes true Nevada car enthusiasts who might seek one of these plates for proper reasons. This heavy-handed approach is opposed by the Specialty Equipment Market Association, known for its annual trade show in Las Vegas, as well as Hot August Nights, whose members and affiliates would be unfairly punished by this measure.

Assembly Bill 146, passed by the Nevada Legislature this Session and signed into law on June 8, 2015, allows for the State Environmental Commission to review alleged abuses of these special license plates, study and make recommendations regarding Nevada's emissions testing program. This approach is appropriate and commensurate with the problem at hand; the approach of Assembly Bill 326 is not. Therefore, I veto this bill and return it without my signature or approval.

Sincere regards,
BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

Assemblywoman Benitez-Thompson moved that Assembly Bill No. 326 of the 78th Session be placed on the Chief Clerk's desk.

Motion carried.

Vetoed Assembly Bill No. 472 of the 78th Session.

Bill read.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

June 8, 2015

THE HONORABLE BARBARA CEGAVSKE, NEVADA SECRETARY OF STATE, 401 South Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89701

RE: Assembly Bill 472 of the 78th Legislative Session

DEAR SECRETARY OF STATE CEGAVSKE:

I am forwarding to you, for filing within the time limit set forth in the Nevada Constitution and without my approval, Assembly Bill 472, which is entitled:

> AN ACT relating to the Nevada National Guard; revising provisions governing the use of money in the Patriot Relief Account; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Under existing law, active members of the Nevada National Guard are able to seek reimbursement from the Patriot Relief Account for service members' group life insurance premiums. Assembly Bill 472 sought to eliminate this important benefit, which would place a greater financial hardship on members of the Nevada National Guard. At a time when our military members are still being deployed in support of global military operations, it is critical that we ensure that that their families have access to this coverage in the event of a tragedy. Therefore, I veto this bill and return it without my signature or approval.

Sincere regards,
BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 3—Memorializing fallen North Las Vegas Police Detective Chad Parque.

WHEREAS, With great sorrow, we note that on January 7, 2017, the State of Nevada lost Police Detective Chad Parque, a man who dedicated his life to serving and protecting his state and community and who, as a veteran Police Officer and Police Detective, was on the front lines in the unremitting battle for the preservation of law and order; and

WHEREAS, Chad was born on March 7, 1984, in Merced, California, and was raised and lived the rest of his life in Las Vegas, Nevada; and

WHEREAS, Chad attended Cheyenne High School where he lettered in baseball and football and graduated in less than 4 years in 2002; and

WHEREAS, While in high school, Chad met the love of his life Jessica, and on February 2, 2001, Chad summoned the courage to ask her out on a date which she accepted, and 12 days later on Valentine's Day, Jessica gave Chad a necklace with a key pendant symbolizing that he had the key to her heart and, without knowing about her gift, Chad gave Jessica a necklace with a heart pendant; and

WHEREAS, To further his childhood dream of becoming a police officer, Chad enrolled in the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department's Law Enforcement Explorer Program, receiving early training on police practices and procedures and being handpicked by the program managers to serve as a squad leader based on his consistent demonstration of maturity, discipline and intelligence; and

WHEREAS, Soon after completing the Explorer Program, Chad accepted a civilian position with the North Las Vegas Police Department at the Northwest Area Command, helping members of the public complete police reports; and

WHEREAS, Chad's dedication and tenacity paid off when, in 2006, he was hired by the City of North Las Vegas, completed the Police Academy and the Police Department's Field Training Program and, finally, served as a Police Officer, patrolling the streets of his community, helping those in need and combating crime; and

WHEREAS, Chad married his high school sweetheart Jessica on March 28, 2009, who 4 years later gave birth to the second love of Chad's life, their beautiful daughter Riley; and

WHEREAS, Chad's hard work in the Patrol Division was recognized by the Command Staff of the North Las Vegas Police Department and, in 2013, he was assigned to an elite team known as the Problem Solving Unit, where Chad specialized in investigating, confronting, apprehending and neutralizing gang activity in North Las Vegas; and

WHEREAS, Chad was promoted to Police Detective on July 23, 2016, and assigned to the Property Crimes Division, where he quickly gained a reputation for having a strong work ethic and for being a team player, volunteering to accept additional cases above and beyond his regular rotation in order to lessen the burden on his fellow Detectives; and

WHEREAS, On the afternoon of January 6, 2017, while leaving the North Las Vegas Justice Court in connection with his regular work duties, Chad was involved in a car crash in which he sustained critical injuries that, notwithstanding Chad's tenacious spirit and the monumental effort of nearly a dozen trauma surgeons at the University Medical Center, ultimately claimed Chad's life far too soon; and

WHEREAS, These are tumultuous times in which the law enforcement profession is under great scrutiny and subject to extensive debate as to the scope and timing of force that ought to be employed in the apprehension of criminal misconduct, yet peace officers like Chad are needed now as much as ever; and

WHEREAS, Chad was a consummate professional, a guardian of the community, a zealous enforcer of laws and a protector of the weak whose conduct was above reproach and whose actions were righteous and based on sound judgment and a pure heart; and

WHEREAS, Chad leaves behind the two great loves of his life, his wife Jessica and his daughter Riley, as well as his mother Mary, his father Kevin and his sister Nicole, and a legion of brothers and sisters in blue in the North Las Vegas Police Department and the law enforcement community everywhere; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 79th Session of the Nevada Legislature hereby extend their deepest condolences to Chad's beloved family, to all of his friends and to all of those whose lives were touched by Chad and whose hearts are made heavy by his passing; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the family of Detective Chad Parque.

Assemblywoman Monroe-Moreno moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Monroe-Moreno.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MONROE-MORENO:

In my twenty-seven-and-a-half-year career, I had the distinct honor of being assigned as a background investigator with the North Las Vegas Police Department. Of the many men and women who wanted to embark on a career with the North Las Vegas Police, I had the honor of assisting with the background check of Chad Parque. He was an officer, a man, a brother that you would all want to work with. I urge this Assembly to recognize not the day that we lost him, but instead to recognize his service in our community. I urge you to support and adopt this resolution.

Resolution adopted and ordered transmitted to the Senate.

Heavenly Father, as we gather today to serve the men and women of this great state, let us remember Your creation. You're the author of the mountains that captivate our hearts, the planner of the rivers and lakes that provide us water and enjoyment, the sustainer of the land that gives us sustenance, and the artist of this beautiful desert we call home.

But more than this, you're the Creator of those in our charge, the people of Nevada who've entrusted us with the power to lead and care for them. As we set out, give us a high view of our constituents who are made in Your image as well as a high view of fellow Assembly Members who share that same honor. Help us serve the creation entrusted to us, knowing we, too, are among that creation.

Would You gather our thoughts, our words, our emotions and helps us to be present in the Assembly today. Help us to entrust our families and work back home to You, and give us grace to lead Nevada from the highest level during the session. MOTIONS, RESOLUTIONS AND NOTICES

By Assemblyman Elliot Anderson:

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 6—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to abolish the Office of State Controller and the Office of State Treasurer and transfer their duties to the Executive Branch of State Government.

WHEREAS, The State Controller and State Treasurer in this State manage many of the accounts, investments, payments and fiscal administration of the State of Nevada; and

WHEREAS, These duties are essential to the stewardship of taxpayer resources and the general welfare of this State; and

WHEREAS, The duties of the State Controller and State Treasurer are ministerial and technical in nature, generally lacking the discretionary responsibilities customarily exercised by elected officials; and

WHEREAS, The functions performed by the State Controller and State Treasurer are similar to those currently performed by the Department of Administration and the Office of Finance in the Office of the Governor; and

WHEREAS, Abolishing the Office of State Controller and the Office of State Treasurer and allowing the duties of those positions to be carried out by others within the Executive Branch of State Government will improve the efficiency of the fiscal management of the State, reduce costs to taxpayers and reduce the overall size of State Government; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That Section 33A of Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution, if that section is agreed to and passed by the 2017 Legislature and approved and ratified by the voters at the 2018 General Election, be amended to read as follows:

4. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the term of office of each member of the Commission is 4 years. The Governor shall appoint three of the members first appointed by him or her for initial terms of 2 years. If a vacancy occurs, the Governor shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term in the same manner as the original appointment,

5. The Governor may remove a member of the Commission only for cause of incapacity, incompetence, neglect of duty, malfeasance in office or failure to meet a qualification set forth in subsection 3.

6. The Commission shall elect a Chair from among its members. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the Commission shall adopt rules of procedure for the conduct of its hearings and any other procedural rules it deems necessary to carry out its duties. The affirmative vote of a majority of all the members appointed to the Commission is required to take action.

7. Members of the Commission are entitled to:

(a) The compensation provided by law for members of the Commission on Judicial Discipline who are not judicial officers; and

8. The Commission shall:

(e) Carry out any duties provided by the Legislature.

9. The Commission may increase, but not diminish, the salary and benefits of an elected officer set forth in paragraph (a) of subsection 8 during his or her term of office. Except for the initial schedule of salaries and benefits for elected officers filed pursuant to subsection 10, the Commission may not increase or decrease the salary of any elected officer by more than 15 percent of the salary of that elected officer provided in the immediately preceding schedule of salaries for elected officers. The Commission may exercise any powers conferred by the Legislature.

10. The Commission shall file its initial schedule of salaries and benefits for elected officers with the Secretary of State not later than January 1, 2019, and shall file a schedule of salaries and benefits not later than January 1 of each odd-numbered year thereafter. All meetings of the Commission are subject to the provisions of any open meeting laws made applicable generally to other public bodies.

12. The Legislative Counsel Bureau shall include in the Nevada Revised Statutes a copy of the most recent schedule of salaries and benefits established by the Commission and filed with the Secretary of State.

Assembly called to order at 12:07 p.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Ellison, who was excused.

Prayer by Tribal Elder Reynelda James.

Thank you for inviting me to say this prayer and blessings for you today. The prayer is for thanksgiving for all that surrounds us, from the rising of the sun to the setting of sun, to the south and to the north. We give thanks for many things. Accept, oh Lord, our thanks and praise for all that You have done for us. We thank You for the splendor of the whole creation, for the beauty of this world, for the wonder of life, and for the mystery of love.

We thank You for blessings to family and friends, and for the loving care which surrounds us on every side. We thank You for setting us at tasks which demand our best efforts and for leading us to the accomplishments which satisfy and delight us. We thank You for all those disappointments and failures that lead us to acknowledge our dependence on You alone.

Above all, we thank You for Your Son Jesus Christ; for the truth of the Word and the example of its life. Grant us the gift of Your spirit, that we may know Him and make Him known.

We give thanks for this place, for this Assembly. Oh God, the Fountain of Wisdom, whose will is good and gracious, and whose law is truth. We beseech Thee, so to guide and bless our Senators and Representatives in this Assembly, in the Legislature of this state, that they may enact such laws as shall please Thee to the glory of Thy name and the welfare of the people.

We ask blessings upon this house, where leaders meet and speak, and for their dedication to serve our people, to serve others, day by day.

We give thanks for our Nevada Indian Commission, and Sherry Rupert, who leads us, and for our Governor Sandoval, who is doing great things for us. We give thanks for allowing us to come and speak our language.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assemblywoman Benitez-Thompson moved that further reading of the Journal be dispensed with and the Speaker and Chief Clerk be authorized to make the necessary corrections and additions.

Heavenly Father, as we set or minds on the work before us, help us remember Your wisdom. You've planned the end from the beginning and have given us insight into what's most true about the world. And it's this wisdom we seek today as we serve the men and women of our districts, knowing what's true and best is not always evident.

Through this, let us serve the people of Nevada best as those who function in wisdom and trust, seeing what is true and working together to make it real.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Carlton requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN FUMO:

Mr. Speaker, today I rise to bring attention to the protests happening across this great country against Trump's divisive and hateful rhetoric toward our country's immigrants. Today is A Day Without Immigrants. Our country was founded and built by immigrants. As the son of two immigrants—my father born in Naples, Italy, and my mother born in London, England—I stand in solidarity with the protests occurring throughout our great country today.

Additionally, I am proud to have my attaché, Latoya Kent, an immigrant from Australia, join me on the floor today. Please make her feel welcome.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARAUJO:

Mr. Speaker and my colleagues here today, over 30 years ago, a beautiful woman fled her native country of El Salvador amidst a civil war, in search of a better life. She came to this land and built a family. For more than 30 years, that beautiful woman who sacrificed everything that she loved, everything she aspired to be—for more than 30 years she has been cleaning hotel rooms in the same hotel, working long days to make sure that her family had every possible opportunity to succeed in this great country, to fulfill that promise that we could be anything that we wanted to be so long as we had love, support, and the audacity to believe that we could be better. That woman was an immigrant. That woman was my mother. She still has those fears for families to come. Her story is a story of many that we hear in the state of Nevada and across the country, of folks crying, right now, eager to hear from someone who is actually going to fight for them, who is actually going to stand up and preserve the values that our country was founded upon.

So today is A Day Without Immigrants, and I personally would not be here if it were not for that immigrant. I am very grateful for that immigrant, and I am here to tell everyone, and to urge everyone, to turn to those who are currently living in fear, to the Dreamers, to the families, to the children who are really looking for answers, and let them know that we have their back. They are one of ours and we are not going to let them down. This is our moment to really take a stand for something that is right. I know that, personally, I refuse to let up on that fight.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPRINKLE:

I rise today to speak in regard for our children that are immigrants to this country. Several years ago, my sister, my amazing sister, and my brother-in-law went to Ethiopia and they adopted two children. These children were very young and had severe medical issues and my sister brought them back to this country. She and her husband have raised them as their own. My niece and nephew are my niece and nephew, and they have the promise ahead of them of what this country has to offer. And now, all of a sudden, they have to live in fear that that might come to an end. We are all immigrants, and it is wrong for us to even think that that is not what we are. That is not something I want to ever have to tell my niece and nephew—and certainly my sister. So I rise today in support of the protests that are going on and to remind everybody that our future lies in our past and our future really is our children. Our future is my amazing niece and nephew.

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWARDS:

I had no idea we were going to be talking about immigration today, but I am absolutely compelled to correct something that was said regarding President Trump's executive order. It is not a ban. It is about national security. It is absolutely about national security. There is no banning of people; it is a temporary halt. I think there has been a lot of misinformation, a lot of fearmongering going on, and it is wrong. The ban that people talk about simply says that for a 90-day window, we are going to vet people from countries that are simply dangerous to us. I have been to some of those countries; we better be careful. Even President Obama could see that these specific countries were dangerous to the United States and we should see that too.

I think it is also important to realize that this month there will be about 100,000 immigrants allowed to come to the United States. Next month another 100,000 will come, and the month after that another 100,000. This is still a nation of immigrants. They are still coming and they will continue to come. That is great. But for the sake of the national security—and that means your security and mine, as well as that of your constituents, our families, and friends—the executive order makes a lot of sense.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

I, too, rise in support of A Day Without Immigrants. I do want to say to my colleague who just spoke that there are unintended consequences in these types of measures. What you are doing is incrementally increasing the level of intolerance instead of teaching our future generations of Americans to embrace one another and to love diversity. We are strong when we embrace diverse people from different backgrounds.

I say again, for some of the members here, that there are unintended consequences of this executive order. There are people who are legally residing in our state that are going to be harassed because they look like they could be a person who fits this executive order, and that is not fair. That already happened here in Washoe Valley; someone got questioned by immigration authorities. That is probably going to happen in my home of Las Vegas, and that is completely unacceptable. Because my skin complexion is different from others, you are going to question whether I am a citizen, or a resident, or undocumented. It is absolutely unfounded. We all look different. We all come with different strengths and abilities, and we bring different and wonderful gifts to make America greater. I think that is what we need to be concentrating on and embracing to move our country forward.

ASSEMBLYMAN ANDERSON:

I, like my colleagues, rise in support of A Day Without Immigrants. Many of the points that I would have liked to cover have already been covered, so for the sake of brevity, I will just respond to my colleague from District 19. This is about even more than immigrants; it is also about our state. We are a state that thrives on visitation, on international travel, and when we look to the world as though we are unwelcoming, people do not apply for visas. They do not apply to come and spend money in our state and power our economy. It has already been reported that there has been a 17 percent drop in international searches for travel into Nevada. Being that this state runs on gaming and this Legislature cares about jobs, we ought to also consider how this image we portray looks to the world. I would ask everyone to also keep that in mind: it is not simply about ideological battles; it is about dollars and cents. Considering that gaming funds approximately 52 percent of our General Fund, as someone who used to work for tips on the Strip, you should be cognizant of how our actions portray us to the world and how it affects even people who are U.S. citizens.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Marchant requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN MARCHANT:

I stand before you today with a heavy heart. Recently, a dear friend and a legend in Nevada passed. On January 12, Casey Folks passed away.

In 1968 Casey founded the Motorcycle Racing Association of Nevada, and in 1984 he founded Best in the Desert Racing Association, the largest race sanctioning body for off-road competition in America. Through Best in the Desert, Casey promoted off-road races in Nevada. Many of you have probably heard of some of these famous races: the Mint 400; Las Vegas 400; Silver State 300; and the granddaddy of them all, Vegas to Reno, the longest off-road race in America. I have actually raced that race three times myself. In 2000, to celebrate the turn of the century, he held the Nevada 2000, a seven-day, 2000-mile, off-road race here in Nevada. It was one of his crowning achievements. These races are world famous and they attract the top off-road racers from all over the world that come to Nevada to race their off-road vehicles. Casey has enabled grown men like myself to continue playing in the dirt like we did when we were little boys.

Because of Casey, hundreds of millions of dollars have been realized in the economy of Nevada, $25 million for just Vegas to Reno alone. It has also positively affected rural communities like Alamo, Caliente, Ely, Tonopah, Hawthorne, Elko, Beatty, and Goldfield. Casey's positive impact on Nevada cannot be overstated.

Just this past Sunday, we celebrated Casey's life at the Orleans Arena in Las Vegas and approximately 2,000 friends showed up there while another 1,500 viewed the celebration online.

In 2005, I moved to Las Vegas and did not know one person here. I had heard of Casey, and being an avid off-road racer myself, I figured he could introduce me to other off-road racers, and I could begin to meet some people out here in the West. I am from Florida originally. Not only did he introduce me to other off-road racers, he welcomed me into his family with open arms, and for that I am eternally grateful.

Mr. Speaker, thank you for allowing me to pay tribute to my dear friend and one of Nevada's greatest citizens.

THE SIXTEENTH DAY

CARSON CITY (Tuesday), February 21, 2017

Assembly called to order at 11:52 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Josh Teis.

Father, we thank You for the moment before us. We thank You for this legislative session. We praise You, for You are the Sovereign Lord who has given us this beautiful state of Nevada and placed us in this grand union. You are a good God, merciful, and full of grace. We are unworthy of Your love for we, each of us, are sinners. Our pride has divided us. Our lust has consumed us. Our anger has enslaved us. Our greed has endangered us. You saw us in our sin and had compassion upon our plight. You sent Your only Son to teach us the truth, reveal Your nature, and die upon the cross. Your Son's death was a payment for our sins, an atonement for our transgressions. But You did not leave Him in the grave. You brought Him from the tomb, out of the clutches of death, and raised Him back to life. This miracle of the resurrection was Your sign that Jesus truly was the Savior of the World. And now You offer salvation and forgiveness to all of us who would simply repent of our sin and believe in Your Son–Jesus Christ.

Now I pray for a blessing upon these Assemblymen and Assemblywomen. They are, each of them, Your ministers. You have given them passions, passions that are unique to their specific calling, passion for life and the protection of the weak, a passion for conservation and caring for this world, a passion for business and the advancement of our society, a passion for equality and fairness under the law. Each of these men and women are uniquely gifted by You so that they, together, can advance our society and glorify the God of Heaven. Therefore, I pray that You would bless them with wisdom, patience, empathy, boldness, and above all, divine guidance.

Enlarge Nevada and bless this state, our economy, industry, and population. Let Your hand of protection be upon us. Keep us safe from war and terrorism. Keep evil from our land and from our hearts. And we ask that everything that we accomplish in this session would bring honor and glory to You. In the name of Jesus we pray.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Carlton requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPRINKLE:

I want to bring to the attention of this body that a year ago today, former Assemblywoman and Senator Debbie Smith passed away. I thank you for allowing me to take this time to think about, first and foremost, my friend. I represent the district that she represented as an assemblywoman. I could go on and on about how she made me a better legislator or how not a day goes by that I do not have a question for her. But instead, I think back to a New Year's Eve with her and her husband and my wife and I sitting around playing Pictionary as we rang in the new year. I think about the person that truly was my friend and how much I miss her every day.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BENITEZ-THOMPSON:

I rise to make comments regarding our former Speaker pro Tempore, member of this body for ten years, and a former Chairwoman of Ways and Means. I will affectionately refer to her by the title that we last knew her by, which was Speaker pro Tem, Assemblywoman Debbie Smith.

She was a native Nevadan to the core—you did not go very long before she made sure that you knew she was from Battle Mountain, Nevada, and that great things can come from such a little place in such a big state. I will always remember her legislative accomplishments, including her being a champion for education and her guidance in helping me to establish the Office of Parental Involvement and Family Engagement. At her core, she was an advocate for families being involved in education—coming straight out of her background of having served with the Nevada P.T.A. [Parent Teacher Association] for so long. I will remember her in the same way that my colleague from the north does, as a friend and a source of constant support and guidance.

I remember as a freshman, every day is tenuous. You feel like you could make a mistake in this body, you feel like there is a lot of decorum to follow and a lot of eyes watching. She always provided a warm, safe place for me in my first year; to have a confidant, to have a friend, to know that ultimately if you run for office and you put yourself out there, in so many ways you are serving the public, regardless of the success or lack of success of your legislation. I am so grateful that we are able to acknowledge her and remember her on this day.

ASSEMBLYMAN DALY:

I rise today to remember a friend. I had a long relationship with Debbie Smith—on campaigns, surrounding activities in this building, at the Legislature. It is hard to believe it has been a year; I miss her. I think we should all try to remember the times when she helped probably everyone in this building.

I first started working with Debbie when she first ran for office when Jan Evans, her predecessor in Assembly District 30, passed away from cancer. We worked on a lot of campaigns. I suffered through her 32-vote loss the second time she ran and worked with her when she ran again and was reelected. We were so successful in that campaign that she was unopposed the next term, and the rest is history. She transitioned to the Senate. When I was a freshman, she was assigned to be my mentor and to make sure I did not get in trouble. I do not know if she was successful. I thank everybody for taking a minute to remember Debbie and the things she did.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I rise to recognize the work of our former colleague on a national level. Debbie Smith worked her way up through NCSL, the National Conference of State Legislatures, and was president of that body when she was ill. She still did her job, still worked very hard. Not only did she help other legislators in this body and in this state, but she set an example to all legislators across the country. Her passion was the legislative process and making sure that we all knew it, understood it, and lived it.

During my first session with Debbie, I sat in front of her in Ways and Means as a 12-year freshman. When you sit in front of Debbie in Ways and Means, you have to be prepared for a lot of things that could possibly happen to you. Between her and the testimony table, there were a lot of things going on. So I learned a lot sitting there and experiencing how she managed that committee, and I work very hard every day to carry that tradition on, making sure that that committee gets its job done for the state. I just wanted to share all of that with you and recognize how important she was, not just to us but to the whole country.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TOLLES:

In October of 2010, I was invited to a Stand Up for Education event. I had never been to an event like that before, but a neighbor and a friend asked me to come along. There at the Sparks Nugget was our then-Washoe County School District Superintendent Heath Morrison and Assemblywoman Debbie Smith. She gave such a compelling story about being involved with the P.T.A., being a mom and a grandma, and how that led her to advocate at the state level for all of our kids and our education system. It was a big tent moment for me as I heard her speak because I thought, She is just like me; she is just like our friends here at this event, parents who care about the future of our state and our kids. It was because of that night that I joined a bipartisan organization to advocate for education in which she was very much involved as a mentor. With that organization, in 2011 I came to this building for the first time as a parent to advocate. It was her inspiration that led to that first step, that led to many other steps, that led to me standing here today. It is in her honor that I want to recognize the impact that she has had on many in this state.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

I rise to honor this wonderful woman who I was able to call my colleague. As a freshman, I came to this body pregnant and could not have met a more kind, genuine person. She embraced her family first—her husband was her amazing best friend, her daughters, and all her grandchildren. She held them dearly and did this work so passionately because she cared about her family. She always put everyone else's needs before hers, and that is why she was such a staunch advocate in the arenas of education and economic development for our state. It seems surreal that last session we were sending her strength, and I hope she continues to channel strength to all of us so that we can continue this work for Nevadans.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

I will take a point of privilege at this point to also acknowledge Assemblywoman Debbie Smith. I want to acknowledge that she was a family woman and she loved her family. She loved this institution, but the lesson that many of us learned from her was to always put our families first. She loved this institution. She was there for anybody who needed it. She was not afraid to tell you like it is, but it was with love and support. She loved to have fun. I also want to point out that Assemblywoman Debbie Smith would be proud today. I miss her; we all miss her, but she would be proud.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BUSTAMANTE ADAMS:

I want to let the freshmen know that when I was a freshman, term limits had been enacted so we were the largest group of freshmen that had ever entered this body. Debbie Smith was one of the individuals who was responsible for recruiting us and helping us get elected. It was a good thing and a bad thing because we were a rowdy bunch. You guys think you are rowdy? We came in thinking that we knew everything and that they were in the way. She gently reminded us who we were and how to act within this body as freshman. I appreciated that because she opened the door for so many of us. I was talking about Shelley Berkley, who did the same thing. Debbie Smith pulled us aside, gave us guidance, and reminded us of the power that we had as state legislators. She did that on a national level, like my colleague from the south mentioned. She not only had a local, but a national presence and made sure that Nevada, as small as we are, was known throughout the United States. I appreciate her and want to say never forget who opens the door for you and do not take your health for granted.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I rise to remember my good friend, former Assemblywoman, former State Senator Debbie Smith. As a freshman, I cannot tell the body how much she welcomed me, even though I was from southern Nevada, a different part of the state. I could tell she cared about what was good for the entire state, whether it was Washoe County, Clark County, or any of the other counties. A couple of stories come to mind.

Debbie gave me my first chance to chair a committee. It was during one of the interims and she was chairing the Legislative Commission. I was appointed to a committee that I later found out alternates the chairmanship during the interim between the Senate member and the Assembly member. The first meeting I did not know that. The Senate member, who shall not be named and was from my own party, told me that he chaired the committee last interim and he may as well chair it this time around. I got a text from Debbie that said Tell him you are chairing this committee this interim. I got to chair. I had my first chance to learn how to run a committee, and later I found out that we alternate between the Senate and the Assembly.

I have a wonderful memory of a very controversial bill I carried regarding breast cancer screening and Debbie was the key vote in the Senate Health and Human Services Committee. She was getting a lot of pressure from a lot of groups who did not want to see this go through. In the end, she helped me, like she always did. I miss her and I know she would be very proud of this body today.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Initiative Petition No. 1.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Ohrenschall, Paul Anderson, and Diaz.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Initiative Petition 1 requires the Department of Motor Vehicles [DMV], the Secretary of State, and the county election officials to establish cooperatively a system that enables a person who is obtaining or updating a driver's license or Nevada identification card to register to vote or to revise his or her existing voter registration information at that time.

A person has the option to opt out in writing from automatic voter registration or from updating his or her existing voter registration information. If the person does not opt out, certain personal information will be transmitted to the appropriate county election official, who will determine if the application to vote is complete. The county election official must notify the person whose application is incomplete that additional information is required. The voter registration information also will be transmitted to the Secretary of State for inclusion on the statewide rolls. A person who does not indicate a political party affiliation will be listed as nonpartisan on the rolls and may revise that affiliation at any time.

The DMV must inform the person that the decision of whether to participate in or opt out of automatic voter registration will not affect the person's transactions with the DMV or the DMV's services, the person's decision cannot legally be disclosed to any member of the public, and any information collected by the DMV for automatic voter registration cannot legally be used for any purpose other than voter registration.

The Secretary of State must adopt regulations to carry out the program. However, the Secretary of State cannot require additional documentation that is not otherwise required by this petition or federal law.

This measure is effective upon passage and approval for the purpose of adopting regulations and performing other preparatory administrative tasks. It is effective on January 1, 2018, for all other purposes.

ASSEMBLYMAN PAUL ANDERSON:

I stand in opposition to Initiative Petition 1. We all support expanding opportunities and removing barriers to voter registration and voting. However, the opt-out mechanism of I.P.1 forces people into a system they might not want to participate in and opens individuals to serious privacy concerns. There are a number of reasons why a person might not want to register to vote. Some just lack the interest in politics; others do not want their personal information to become public to candidates, political parties, or even individual citizens.

I believe that I.P.1 risks the integrity of our election process by shifting the responsibility of registration from individuals to the government. It is for that reason and others that I have mentioned that I oppose I.P. 1 and would encourage my colleagues to do the same.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

I rise in support of Initiative Petition 1. Nevadans agree that we should have a voting system that protects the fundamental right of every eligible voter—Democrat, Republican, nonpartisan, or others—to have their vote counted. This Initiative Petition on automatic voter registration is a common-sense modernization to our state's voter registration process that will help replace our outdated paper-based system, thereby reducing costs; increasing security; protecting the integrity of our elections; reducing clerical errors; and ensuring every eligible voter has an opportunity to have their voice heard through voting. This modernized system will automatically register eligible voters and update voter registration information when eligible voters apply for or renew their driver's licenses due to a name change from marriage or divorce or update their address in the most transient state in the nation. This seamless process is more convenient for eligible voters and will make it simpler to register and vote.

Automatic voter registration will protect the fundamental right of Nevada citizens, like those in the military who are asked to move jurisdictions frequently and are penalized by an antiquated system. By modernizing an outdated system, automatic voter registration will make sure that election officials maintain accurate lists and will make it easier to ensure that only eligible citizens are able to cast ballots. I urge this body to pass this important and necessary measure.

Assemblymen Carlton, Araujo, and Benitez-Thompson moved the previous question.

The question being the passage of Initiative Petition No. 1.

Roll call on Initiative Petition No. 1:

NAYS—Paul Anderson, Edwards, Ellison, Hambrick, Hansen, Kramer, Krasner, Marchant, McArthur, Oscarson, Pickard, Titus, Tolles, Wheeler, Woodbury—15.

Initiative Petition No. 1 having received a constitutional majority, Mr. Speaker declared it passed.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Edwards requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWARDS:

There is an old saying that everyone is expendable. I propose that we have an exception to that rule, and today we celebrate his 285th birthday. That indispensable man was none other than George Washington. So much can be said about this amazing guy, but I know I have less than ten minutes to do it.

The story of George Washington actually began in Virginia on Feb 11, 1732. You might say February 11, why not the twenty-second? The fact of the matter is, when he was born Virginia used the Julian calendar. But in 1752 they changed to the Gregorian and by doing that changed his birthday to February 22.

Most people do not know that he had five siblings, his father died when he was 11, and his beloved older brother Lawrence inherited everything and had to raise George. The two of them actually had a fantastic relationship, but around 1750, Lawrence became ill. The doctors thought he might recover if he went to a different climate like the Caribbean. So off they went. This was the only time that George Washington ever left the United States, to escort his brother down to Barbados. Unfortunately George returned alone.

During the French and Indian War, George Washington was a colonial colonel. While patrolling the frontier with the British, they were ambushed, the British general was fatally wounded, and Washington had to take charge. He quickly built a fort that he dubbed Fort Necessary and literally saved the remnants of the patrol. He emerged from the war a bit of a heroic figure.

He was introduced to the widow Martha Custis and, as you know, they courted, married, and had a lifetime together. The two of them truly loved one another and most people miss this. Most historians do not do their relationship justice. They genuinely enjoyed each other's company their entire lives. It is a story that is overlooked, probably because of all the other things that George Washington did. Martha did not seek the limelight. She was very dedicated and dutiful throughout her life. I guess the other part is that Martha burned all his love letters to her when he died, so WikiLeaks could not get them.

George Washington was not just a farmer. He was a land surveyor in the wilderness, an amateur scientist, a very successful businessman, community leader, justice of the peace, and one of the best equestrians in all of the colonies.

As we know, the British imposed a lot of taxes on us, we got into a revolutionary mode and when the Congress decided that they needed a general to lead the Continental Army, there was George Washington standing in front of them, six-foot-three, in uniform. So they commissioned him the General of the Continental Army, and he had to forge it from nothing. At first, he really was not a very good general; but he was always a spectacular leader. The army faced multiple defeats throughout 1776, but General Washington never blamed anyone else for the losses. He always took responsibility for that. But he also learned from his mistakes and did become a great general. By ingenuity, he developed the attacks on Trenton and Princeton around Christmas, which save the army because they were about to disband.

An interesting tidbit that I learned about the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War is that it practiced a rather unique form of environmentalism. At Fort Miller there were 450 soldiers who were tasked with stopping the advance of British ships up the river. The problem was that they had no cannonballs. So, what they did was wait for the British to fire on them, and then they chased all the cannonballs, put them back in their own cannons and shot them back at the British. It seemed to work pretty well and this may be the army's earliest recycling effort and superfund cleanup.

After five years of fighting, the world superpower under Lord Cornwallis finally admitted that they were defeated. The Congress had made many promises to the army and they did not live up to them, many times because they simply could not. It caused great consternation in the ranks. Many do not know that George Washington personally stopped two attempted coups, including one that offered to make him king. But he had fought for liberty. The bottom line is that without George Washington we would never have won the Revolutionary War.

After the Treaty of Paris was signed, the nation was independent, General Washington surrendered to Congress his sword, which was the symbolic tool of his power and his authority. This was never done in those days. To hand over power to the civilian authority and just go away to retirement was an amazing feat.

General Washington returned to Mt. Vernon to retire, but he saw that the nation was floundering under the Articles of Confederation. When called upon to serve as the President of the Constitutional Convention, he of course said yes. A lot of people do not realize that in the Constitutional Convention he used his influence thoroughly in order to keep the discussions on track, and to come up with the compromises that made the Constitution possible. I guess we can say that without George Washington, we also would not have such a great constitution.

After the Constitutional Convention, he returned to Mt. Vernon again hoping to retire. But shortly thereafter, he got the call to serve as President. He did not want to serve as president, he wanted to stay retired. George Washington was elected and left Mt. Vernon, went up to New York City for the inauguration. One of the things he was very happy about was that his mother Mary Ball Washington was still alive to see her son become President.

Though he never earned a college degree, George Washington spent his life constantly learning. He established many of the most important, wisest, and enduring presidential precedents. Some of them are: humbly using the simple title of Mr. President; creating the cabinet system that we still use today; being the first president to lead troops as the Commander in Chief; and serving only two terms. Frankly, he wanted to only serve one term, because, as you remember, the press was rather vicious toward him and he endured a lot of criticism. I guess some things never change. He established the Farewell Address tradition, and the other thing that most people do not realize is that George Washington traveled around the entire country when Congress was not in session. He felt it his obligation to bring the national government all the way down to the ordinary person, and he did that from Georgia all the way up to Maine. The bottom line is that we would never have had such a great model of presidential leadership without George Washington.

After his presidency, George Washington retired to Mt. Vernon again and for the last time. After inspecting the grounds of Mt. Vernon in a rainstorm, Washington caught a cold and within a fortnight he died. Rarely in human history has any nation enjoyed the selfless public service of such a great leader. Rarely has a leader accomplished so much for so many. Today we remember George Washington and the lesson of his life; public servants can achieve greatness just by doing their duties faithfully and courageously.

THE TWENTY-SECOND DAY

CARSON CITY (Monday), February 27, 2017

Assembly called to order at 11:47 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Wheeler, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Chuck Durante.

Today is the birth of John Steinbeck, born in Salinas in 1902. So I thought it appropriate to center ourselves for prayer with this lovely quote from his novel, Tortilla Flat:

> It is a time of quiet joy, the sunny morning. When the glittery dew is on the mallow weeds, each leaf holds a jewel which is beautiful if not valuable. This is no time for hurry or for bustle. Thoughts are slow and deep and golden in the morning.

Let us pray.

O God of sunny mornings and of cold, snowy days, we thank You for the simple, profound gift of another day. As we begin a new week, and as this Assembly begins its fourth week, slow us all down so that we can hear those who speak to us and speak to those who want to hear us. Slow us all down so that our thoughts are deep and golden. Remove the darkness of fear or confusion or self-centeredness, that all conversations had and discussions shared may be productive for the good of all.

Bless the members of the Nevada Assembly, thanking them for their willingness to serve others. Send Your Spirit of Wisdom to guide and monitor all they do, keeping the common good for all at the forefront of their words, actions, deliberations, and decisions.

We make this prayer as Your humble and grateful people.

AMEN.

Assembly called to order at 11:58 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present except Assemblyman Wheeler, who was excused.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Chuck Durante.

Happy Mardi Gras! Today many people of all faiths join in this celebration on the Christian calendar, Fat Tuesday before Ash Wednesday.

In that awareness and Spirit, let us pray:

O God of Abundance, we thank You for the gift of another day and for the many joys and pleasures of all You have created in this life.

As many in our land and in our world celebrate abundance today, help all of us to be aware of the call to share the abundance, more than we need, with those who exist in constant need, that the fat of abundance may lighten the load of those who live in the despair of ashes.

Send Your Spirit to guide us in sharing Your abundant love in our words and actions without care for race or creed or gender or language. Help us to reach out especially to those with whom we struggle, to mend fences, to work together, and to bring about lasting goodness in our homes, our neighborhoods, our cities, and our state.

Bless and guide the good work of the Nevada Legislature today in all things.

We make this prayer as a people of thanksgiving.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman Daly.

ASSEMBLYMAN DALY:

Assembly Bill 2 expands benefit eligibility provided by the Patriot Relief Account to all members of the Nevada National Guard who experience economic hardship, by removing the requirement that monetary relief may only be paid to active service members. The bill also limits the payment of benefits from the Patriot Relief Account to the extent money is available in the Account.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

Assembly Bill No. 9.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman Kramer.

ASSEMBLYMAN KRAMER:

Assembly Bill 9 seeks to revise the position of the Administrator of Securities to Deputy of Securities. This bill does not change the scope of the position but merely amends the title and gives the person holding this position the authority to work in the stead of the Secretary of State. Assembly Bill 9 would allow the Las Vegas office to have additional deputy coverage to help serve southern Nevada. I would like to add that this is not a new position. It is a net zero position by making the Securities Administrator a Deputy of Securities. This act becomes effective on July 1, 2017.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 9:

Assembly Bill No. 19.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman McCurdy.

ASSEMBLYMAN MCCURDY:

Assembly Bill 19 requires the Department of Veterans Services to submit to the Interagency Council on Veterans Affairs certain statistical information concerning veterans' services and requires that certain regulatory bodies collect and report to the Interagency Council statistical information concerning the number of veterans and service members who have applied for, have been issued, or have been denied a license. The measure reduces from annually to biennially the frequency with which the Interagency Council must submit to the Governor and the Legislative Commission a report of its activities, including the statistical information required to be provided by various state agencies and regulatory bodies.

Finally, the bill changes from annually to biennially the frequency with which certain reports of activities must be submitted by the Nevada Veterans Services Commission and the Women Veterans Advisory Committee; provides that both reports must be submitted to the Governor, the Interagency Council, and the Legislative Commission; and changes the deadline by which the Nevada Veterans Services Commission must submit its report to coincide with the reporting deadline for the Interagency Council and the Advisory Committee. This bill is effective on July 1, 2017.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Carlton requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Today is the last day of Black History Month, and I personally am acutely aware of the enormous meaning of that for this 79th Legislative Session. When I got here six years ago, there were just a handful of African-American legislators working hard just to be heard. Today Nevada enjoys a rich, diverse legislature: black, white, Latino, male, female, gay, and lesbian. Today I am serving as Nevada's first African-American Speaker alongside Majority Leader Aaron Ford in the Senate.

Today the Majority Leader and I work not just to be heard, but to represent all of Nevada so that everyone we serve can be heard. This year there are also four African-American chairpersons of committees and a more diverse group of advocates appearing before those committees. We have a burgeoning Nevada Black Legislative Caucus striving to bring a valuable perspective to the legislative process. With all of that progress, I cannot forget that we have this opportunity and the obligation to handle it responsibly, not just for our own sakes, but for the sake of breaking down barriers for tomorrow. Today I could not be more proud, yet I could not be more humble.

ASSEMBLYMAN MCCURDY:

Assemblyman Woodrow Wilson was the first African American elected to the Nevada State Legislature in 1966. He served as director of the Las Vegas Chapter of the NAACP [National Association for the Advancement of Colored People] from 1955 to 1956. Later he served on the Clark County Commission and remained an active figure in the black community until his passing in 1999.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MONROE-MORENO:

I am excited to share the firsts of African-American women in our body. Our very own Assemblywoman Dina Neal was the first African-American woman elected to the Nevada State Assembly in 2010. This is her fourth full session with the Nevada Legislature, and she is currently the chairwoman of the Assembly Committee on Taxation. She is the daughter of former state Senator Joe Neal from North Las Vegas. She is a native Nevadan and proud to be a product of our Clark County School District. She earned her bachelor's degree in political science from Southern University and her juris doctorate from Southern University Law Center. I am very proud to serve with her.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN MILLER:

I am honored to acknowledge another first for women in the Nevada State Legislature. Senator Bernice Mathews was the first African-American woman elected to the Nevada State Senate in 1994. She served six regular sessions and five special sessions. She was a registered nurse, a former Reno City Councilwoman, a member of numerous associations in the community, and a recipient of several prestigious awards, including Business Woman of the Year.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON:

I am honored to share with our body African-American firsts in leadership. Steven Horsford was elected by his peers to serve as the first African-American Majority Leader in 2008. He then went on to be the first African-American Congressman in Nevada, representing the 4th Congressional District.

I also want to mention Senator Aaron Ford, our second Majority Leader who is in his second term as a state Senator. He received his undergraduate degree from Texas A&M University in 1990 and then earned a master's degree from George Washington University. He went on to earn a master's as well as his law degree and Ph.D. from The Ohio State University. Ford is a member of the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity.

Assemblyman Jason Frierson is the first African American elected as Speaker of the Nevada State Assembly. He was the student body president at UNR, where he also played football. He was a member of the charter class and first graduating class of the UNLV Boyd School of Law, where he also served as the student body president. He has served as a Deputy Attorney General and as a Deputy Public Defender, helping the most vulnerable in our community.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN NEAL:

I am honored to serve as the Chairwoman of the Nevada Black Legislative Caucus. We have nine members, which is awesome, and we have a very unique bond. We formed our official status last year; we launched our website on January 18. If you want to write this down it is www.nvblc.org. Check us out.

It has been an interesting journey to be in this building and to be a part of Black History Month because of my dad. I have had the privilege of being in this service while my dad is still alive. He was the first African American elected to the Senate in 1972, the year I was born. To have the benefit of having him still in my presence at age 83 has been significant. This building is like déjà vu. I want to give a shout out to him because he watches us every day. Literally, I get a call every day.

In closing, we have much to be proud of in this state and especially to be in such a diverse state legislature. We thank you for your indulgence as we have shared some of the highlights of black history in the Nevada State Legislature.

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), March 1, 2017

Assembly called to order at 11:57 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Chuck Durante.

Let us pray.

God of grace and mercy, we are aware of Your constant love. You demonstrate that love by entrusting us with this great and beautiful world. You equip us with all that we need to care for all that You have created and to care for one another.

Grant us the time and insight to reflect upon Your desire for true and lasting justice, that all people may be lifted up by a new hope that each can become what You created her or him to be. Help all Your people to grow in the discipline that moves beyond self-centeredness and makes room for the needs and rights of all, especially the weakest and most vulnerable among us.

Bless this body of the Nevada Assembly today in their work. May they know the gratitude of the people of Nevada for their service and be always guided by what is good for all the people and lands of this great state.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 4—Celebrating the life of former Assemblyman Bernie Anderson.

WHEREAS, The members of the Nevada Legislature on this day remember and celebrate the life of an esteemed colleague and dedicated public servant, former State Assemblyman Bernie Anderson; and

WHEREAS, Bernard J. Anderson Jr. was born on May 15, 1942, to proud Irish Catholics Bernard and Beatrice Anderson, of Sparks, Nevada; and

WHEREAS, After graduating from Bishop Manogue Catholic High School and the University of Nevada, Bernie Anderson began teaching government and history in the Reno/Sparks area, a career to which he dedicated more than 30 years of his life; and

WHEREAS, Teaching was not just a job, it was a passion for Bernie Anderson and he devoted great effort to ensure his students understood the importance of democracy and to share with them his love for this country; and

WHEREAS, In 1990, Bernie Anderson began his political career, being elected to serve in the Nevada State Assembly, thereafter representing the people of the City of Sparks, Nevada, in Assembly District No. 31 for more than 20 years in the Nevada Legislature, most notably as Chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee and serving honorably in various other leadership positions, including Majority Whip and Speaker Pro Tempore; and

WHEREAS, Although as Chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, Bernie Anderson was a stickler for decorum and known for the efficiency with which he led his committee, as it routinely considered and processed more bills than any other legislative committee he always ensured that the voices of all Nevadans were heard; and

WHEREAS, The "Woodshed" located in the offices of Chairman Anderson became infamous to those working with the Judiciary Committee as a place where they would be called upon to answer for their actions or to participate in the mediation of difficult issues, an effective tool which others continue to try to emulate today; and

WHEREAS, Bernie Anderson's knowledge of the legislative process was unparalleled and he took great delight in teaching and mentoring other Legislators; and

WHEREAS, Bernie Anderson's concerted effort to wear a tie each day to match the subjects or occasions being considered at the Legislature was more than a fashion statement, it was subtle notice that he was aware of the legislative agenda for the day and was willing to meet those challenges; and

WHEREAS, Even though Bernie Anderson's first loyalty was to his constituents in the City of Sparks, he believed that as a public servant he was responsible to work toward the good of all Nevadans and always considered the impact of legislation as a whole; and

WHEREAS, Of the many issues Bernie worked on as a Legislator, he was proudest of his work in creating Nevada's first Drug Courts and combating domestic violence; and

WHEREAS, This longtime educator brought life to his curriculum by such actions as dressing up as historic characters to interact with his high school students, and peppering his legislative floor speeches with examples of courage shown by the Founding Fathers during the Revolutionary War; and

WHEREAS, Bernie Anderson had an incomparable ability to combine humor with public policy, as illustrated most notably when he would wear the hat from Cat in the Hat around the halls of the Legislature on March 2nd, the birthdate of Dr. Seuss, and read excerpts of the books on the floor of the Assembly to honor the author and emphasize the importance and joy of reading; and

WHEREAS, In addition to serving the citizens of Nevada as an educator and Legislator, Bernie was also a Staff Sergeant E-6 in the Nevada Army National Guard from 1960 to 1967, and in 2007 was honored with the Charles Dick Medal of Merit in recognition of his service to the National Guard; and

WHEREAS, Even above his love of teaching, legislative service, trains and the City of Sparks, was his love for and respect of his wife Clyda and their two daughters, Cairn and Natha Clyde—the mere mention of their names would light up his face; and

WHEREAS, Bernard J. Anderson Jr. will long be remembered as a devoted husband, father and grandfather, an outstanding public servant and one of the greatest advocates for Sparks and Washoe County; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, THE SENATE CONCURRING, That the members of the 79th Session of the Nevada Legislature remember and celebrate the life of Bernard J. Anderson Jr. on this day and extend their deepest condolences to Bernie's cherished wife Clyda, and daughters Cairn and Natha; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly prepare and transmit copies of this resolution to Assemblyman Anderson's beloved wife and daughters.

Assemblyman Thompson moved the adoption of the resolution.

Remarks by Assemblymen Thompson, Elliot Anderson, Hambrick, Daly, Ohrenschall, Diaz, and Mr. Speaker.

ASSEMBLYMAN THOMPSON:

I am truly honored to be able to share some words about a man I never met. To read his story, for us to have heard his story today, makes me want to be a better legislator. I hope everyone in this body felt that. I hope you felt a part of that when you heard Ms. Furlong speak that into the record.

I also want to share one thing that is in his bio in the alumni book offered to all of us. Bernie Anderson was a true public servant. Those words mean a lot; they were not just written there. He was a true public servant who lived and breathed it every day. For eight of his ten sessions in the Assembly, Mr. Anderson was a non-lawyer who served as the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee. I heard he made things happen. As a resident of the "Railroad City" of Sparks, Mr. Anderson created legislation to make railroads safer. His admirable record of legislative achievement illustrates his passions in life. He fought for laws concerning education, adoption, welfare reform, gaming, domestic violence, drug courts, and public employees. Bernie Anderson took seriously the responsibilities and ideals of a Nevada legislator. What a great man.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLIOT ANDERSON:

I also wanted to talk about the ultimate senior Anderson's practical sense of humor. He was a fun-loving person; I will never forget in the 2009 Session when he took a Brian Urlacher bobblehead doll from the committee manager for the Commerce and Labor Committee and hid it. He created a session-long controversy about who stole the doll. It was the funniest thing ever because then someone else decided to get another Brian Urlacher doll that was identical and started breaking it up and shipping in pieces to the committee manager of Commerce and Labor. Meanwhile, this person created a "Where is your doll@yahoo.com" and started emailing everyone in the Legislature, and it was all because Assemblyman Anderson decided to take that doll one day as a practical joke. He played right into it and it was amazing; it made everybody's life a lot more fun that session. I thought that as we talk about all the important things that he did for the process and for Sparks, he should also get credit for never being afraid to make a good joke and to have a little fun.

ASSEMBLYMAN HAMBRICK:

My freshman session was in 2009 and my colleague from Assembly District 4 and I were both assigned to Judiciary. Mr. Anderson and Mr. Carpenter sat next to each other and ruled that committee with iron fists. We had a committee party down at the spa south of town. My colleague from District 4 and I made a phone call to the Douglas County Sheriff and whispered in his ear. He and his deputy showed up at the committee party with a warrant for Mr. Anderson's arrest. He thought it was for real. He was speechless until my colleague from District 4 and I started laughing. He never let us forget. He, I believe, is the one who coined the phrase This is the People's House. I am not sure how he referred to the body at the other end of the building, but it was never very kind. He was a formidable individual with strength of character, and he loved this body immensely.

ASSEMBLYMAN DALY:

I did not get a chance to serve with Assemblyman Anderson, but I did know him very well. We were good friends. In fact I was lucky enough to succeed him—or follow him because no one could replace him—in Assembly District 31. Unlike some of the other stories, I always got along fine with Assemblyman Anderson. There were never any issues. I just remembered one thing: You always follow the rules. I always followed the rules, and you always had to remember who was making the rules. Bernie was making the rules. You follow his rules—I do not know what you are talking about, I always got along with him just fine and I never had any issues—so the rest of you were doing it wrong and not following the rules.

Mr. Speaker requested the privilege of the Chair for the purpose of making the following remarks:

Anybody who appeared before the Judiciary Committee knew the glare from the Chairman; I experienced that glare for two sessions. I remember feeling like Chairman Anderson was the gatekeeper for the Legislature. Most of us lobbyists had to appear before Judiciary at some point in time, and most of us had to go to the Woodshed at some time. I remember seeing him at the end of the hall as we were walking toward each other. For whatever reason, it felt like there was no one else in the hall; I was probably just petrified of Chairman Anderson. But we were walking toward each other and we got to the middle and I said "Mr. Chairman." He growled and turned around and walked away, and I knew I had arrived. That was a term of endearment from Chairman Anderson. He could have written me up; I messed up plenty of times those first couple of sessions. That was his way of welcoming me into the fold. He had that way about him where he did not have to say words to get his point across. It was almost always either a sense of humor or an embrace in an effort to try and help and mentor a new legislator or advocate in this building. He is sorely missed, but his spirit certainly lives on in this body.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I had the privilege of meeting Assemblyman Anderson back in 1995 when this house was evenly divided. During that session Assemblyman Anderson was co-chairing the Judiciary Committee. The way it worked was he would chair one day and his Republican counterpart would chair the other day. I think he really got to learn a lot about the give and take that session.

I did not spend a ton of time with him after that. I got to visit him during that session when my mom came up and served as a freshman. When I was elected in 2006 and came up in 2007, I was very excited, bright-eyed and bushy-tailed to come and to serve on the Judiciary Committee with Chairman Anderson. I had not realized that Chairman Anderson had decided that I was going to be his project. That meant that I was going to learn some special things. At the time I thought Why is he being so hard on me? Why is he being so mean to me?

There was a particularly controversial bill that I had that was not supported by all my colleagues on my side of the aisle and probably not supported by any on the Republican side. I thought I had enough votes to get it passed so I asked Chairman Anderson if he would please call the bill for a vote. He asked if I was sure I had enough votes to get it to pass in Judiciary Committee. I said Chairman, I am sure. So he called the vote. Lo and behold, a good friend and colleague of mine from Las Vegas, a Democrat, had decided to vote against the bill and it failed. I did the unthinkable. I asked the Chairman if I could work on it some and try to get the votes. He said Sure, absolutely, I will definitely have a second vote on that, but this time you have to make sure you have at least one Republican vote. I sat down there, where I think my colleague from Nye County sits, and my neighbor was a Republican legislator from Las Vegas. We had become pretty good friends. We both served on the Judiciary Committee together, and I begged her to please vote for this bill. The chairman will call it for a vote if I can get one Republican vote. She said she really did not like the bill but would vote for it in committee. She would not promise what she would do on the floor. We called the vote, she voted for it in committee, and I had a passing bill. I was thrilled. I proved to Chairman Anderson that I could do it. I had a majority; the Democrat who had voted against it voted for the bill, and I had one Republican. Lo and behold, my Republican friend let the chairman know that she had voted for it in committee but she was not sure she was going to vote for it on the floor. Chairman Anderson was not happy about that, not happy at all. That is when I learned that just like there are 50 ways to leave your lover, there are 50 ways to kill a bill. I learned that a chairman never has to report a bill out to the floor. At the time I was pretty devastated. Now I can laugh. It was a good way to learn about the process. The world is not a particularly worse place because that bill did not pass, but it gave me a lot of affection for Bernie.

The next session we had a lot of talks, and he let me know that he thought he had been too hard on me that session. He actually wished he could have handled it differently. He became such a mentor to me. I called him the night I got my bar exam results. I let him know I had passed, and he cried on the phone. He was so happy for me. In 2013 when I first chaired a standing committee when your predecessor, Speaker Kirkpatrick, had me chair the Legislative Operations and Elections Committee, he gave me some of his old committee manuals. During that session, he was here lobbying for retired teachers. It was great getting to serve with him.

In terms of his legislative accomplishments, some of the things that were not mentioned—I remember the bills that were sponsored on equality, LGBTQ community. He was a very strong advocate in that area. He was a strong advocate on environmental issues; drug court and domestic violence were already mentioned. He was very devoted to education and the union movement and trying to make sure that workers would have the right to organize. He really respected Nevada history; he respected the history of the courts. As anyone knows who worked with Bernie, in the Woodshed he had pictures of all the 17 county seats and their courthouses. He was one-of-a-kind and someone that if you got to serve with him, you were very lucky. I always tell my colleague here from Assembly District 9, Bernie would have done it like this. I still like how you did this, but Bernie would have done that. Do not worry; you are still doing a great job. He was someone that I think continues to shape our process, and he cared about making good policy. He was a truly wonderful human being, and I am honored to support this resolution.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

I am so excited to continue a tradition in this body that former Assemblyman Bernie Anderson started. Every session on Dr. Seuss's birthday, Bernie would read a Dr. Seuss book, whether it was The Cat in the Hat or Hop on Pop. Today I have chosen The Sneetches which Dr. Seuss wrote in 1961 to teach children about diversity and inclusion. He wrote the book to address how different groups of people did not like each other during World War II. A number of the Dr. Seuss books do teach children to be fair and to treat people equally. The family of Theodor Geisel, also known as Dr. Seuss, were German immigrants and were often targets for insults about their heritage. I thought this would be a timely book to read. [Assemblywoman Diaz read aloud The Sneetches by Dr. Seuss.]

Prayer by the Chaplain, Father Chuck Durante.

God of all goodness, as we pray today we lift up all women, especially those marginalized, abused, or living in abject poverty. You call all of us to be people of justice and love. May all people respect the equal dignity of women. Guide all leaders throughout the world, whether of homes, corporations, or countries, to make changes that respect and uphold that dignity, so to bring true and lasting change for all women.

And as we move toward the close of this week, look with favor on our Nevada Assembly and their good staff. Mercifully pour out upon them the spirit of you wisdom, that they may decide everything for the well-being and peace of all and may never turn aside from your will.

We make this prayer as your holy and humble people.

Assembly Bill No. 184.

Remarks by Assemblyman Ohrenschall.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Assembly Bill 184 provides that a motion to withdraw a plea of guilty, guilty but mentally ill, or nolo contendere that is made after sentence is imposed or imposition of sentence is suspended is a remedy that is incident to the proceedings in the trial court. The bill applies to such pleas pending on or after June 12, 2014.

Assembly Bill 184 seeks to clarify that the motion to withdraw a guilty plea to correct a manifest injustice is still a remedy that will be available to persons who were not adequately represented when they took a plea. Many of these people have moved on in their lives and have finished whatever orders the court had given them, but at the time they took a plea, either they might not have had an attorney appointed or the attorney who was appointed for them did not give them the proper advice. They have suffered collateral consequences such as losing a potential career in law enforcement or the right to own a firearm, that shock the conscience and are considered a manifest injustice.

There was no opposition in your Judiciary Committee, Mr. Speaker, and this came out unanimously. This is an extraordinary remedy meant to correct the limited number of situations where someone really was done wrong by the justice system and, unfortunately, probably by their attorney.

Potential conflict of interest declared by Assemblywoman Swank.

ASSEMBLYMAN FUMO:

Assembly Bill 219 revises the boundaries of a gaming enterprise district known as the Las Vegas Boulevard gaming corridor to remove the area commonly known as the Beverly Green residential neighborhood. The designation of this area as a gaming enterprise district expires on October 1, 2017.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SWANK:

Many of you know that I am passionate about historic preservation. I have sponsored Assembly Bill 219 as a result of the historic preservation plan that was in place when I moved into my current neighborhood. I spoke with the Legislative Counsel concerning whether there was any conflict of interest in my sponsoring this legislation and participating in the debate over its passage. I was assured that I would not have a conflict of interest under Assembly Standing Rule No. 23 if I would not be affected differently than other owners of homes in the affected area. However, for the sake of transparency, I would like to inform this body that I own a home in the area that is being removed from the boundaries of the Las Vegas Boulevard gaming corridor by Assembly Bill 219. My husband and I also own two other properties in the Beverly Green neighborhood, but the provisions of the bill do not include those properties.

This bill will not affect me any differently than the other owners of homes in the area being removed from the corridor. Therefore, the independence of judgment of a reasonable person in my position would not be materially affected by my interest. Thus, I am not required under Rule No. 23 to make a disclosure and will be voting on this bill.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Carlton requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPRINKLE:

Defeating cancer is as much a matter of public policy as scientific discovery. Lawmakers play a critical role in determining how much progress we make as a country in defeating cancer. The American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network [ASC CAN] gives a voice to those impacted by cancer as they encourage lawmakers at all levels of government to join the fight to make cancer a national priority. By raising issues of importance, raising funds, educating voters, and rallying others to the fight against cancer, the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network unites and empowers you to make a difference and help save lives.

The American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network is the advocacy affiliate of the American Cancer Society [ACS]. Together, the ACS CAN and ACS work to save lives and diminish the suffering cancer causes.

Today is Cancer Awareness Day at the capital, and volunteer cancer advocates from around the state are meeting with their lawmakers to ask for their support on critical cancer and public health policies.

ASSEMBLYMAN WATKINS:

Today is National Colon Cancer Awareness Day, and on each of your desks you will find a blue pin, which is the color for colon cancer awareness. I hope that you will join me in wearing that pin today to help raise awareness for colorectal cancer. As part of that awareness, I would like to share a couple of things with you. First, there is a troubling study from the American Cancer Society that was published on Monday which found that colorectal cancer in no longer an illness that plagues only the elderly. In fact, they found that three in ten cases now occur among people aged 55 and younger. I know there are some members of the body that are pleased to hear that 55 and younger is young, and I was too. This study further found that people born around 1990 have double the risk of colon cancer and quadruple the risk of rectal cancer compared to people born in 1950. Screening is the key. If you have any family history of colorectal cancer, you should be screened by age 40; if not, no later than 50.

I think this is a good time to talk about the other pin I wear every day. This is our Battle Born pin, and I wear it in honor of my best friend, my business partner, and my personal hero, Troy Atkinson. Troy was born on August 1, 1977, in Las Vegas. He was a 1995 graduate of Western High School, a 2001 graduate of UNLV, and a 2004 graduate of University of San Diego School of Law. He was licensed to practice law that same year.

Troy was a brilliant practitioner and a brilliant man. I was fortunate to be partnered with him as we formed our firm in 2010. We named it Battle Born because we were both born in this state and we love it; our firm was our family. I would be remiss if I failed to mention that people tolerated working for me so they would get the chance to work with him. He was simply a joy to be around. In a rarity for a lawyer, Troy did not judge or criticize. He celebrated everyone for who they were, and he was universally beloved by his friends, family, colleagues, and his opponents.

On May 3, 2010, Troy was diagnosed with colon cancer, an illness he fought with such grit, determination, and bravery that he inspired everyone else around him. Troy passed away on December 28 of this past year. He was 39. Troy would be pleased if today's story inspired anyone in this room or anyone listening at home to get screened. If you previously thought that this was an illness for somebody older than 40, think again. Please go get screened.

I am very proud to be able to talk about my friend today and I appreciate everyone's indulgence in letting me do so. I am also pleased to remember that for part of election night, I was able to sit in the hospital room with Troy as the results came in and he saw me get elected to this body. He was quite excited for me, and that is part of the reason I wear this pin every day. I certainly would not be here without his love and support over all these years. That is why today, I donated my legislative salary to Stand Up to Cancer. Stand Up to Cancer is an organization that contributes money toward research and finding solutions to all the very different cancers that plague us. I am sure everyone in this room has been touched by some story of cancer.

I would like to close with a quote that Troy found particularly inspiring as he sat in his chair getting his chemotherapy. It is from Stuart Scott, an ESPN commentator who also passed away from cancer. "When you die, it does not mean that you lose to cancer. You beat cancer by how you live, why you live, and the manner in which you live."

ASSEMBLYWOMAN COHEN:

I rise today to honor Cancer Awareness Day at the Legislature and to honor my sister Aileen Cohen. During the 2013 Session, my sister was diagnosed with breast cancer and underwent a bilateral mastectomy and chemotherapy. My sister was fortunate enough to have quality health insurance under the current health care system at the time of her diagnosis and treatment. She was able to fight off the cancer, and I am happy to say she has been disease-free for the past four years.

I would also like to say that without our current health insurance system, my sister and our mother and our first cousin and our second cousin, because this runs in our family, could have been dropped from their health insurance. They would have had to live without treatment, and my sister in particular would not be sitting here today and could have been saddled with mounds of debt.

With the uncertainty in the federal level at this time, especially regarding insurance, I am urging our congressional representatives to do everything they can do to stop the repeal of our health insurance system. I am also urging my colleagues in the Assembly, for the sake of our families here in Nevada, to consider supporting legislation that will ensure that Nevadans can continue to get the affordable, quality health care we need, regardless of what the federal government does.

Assemblywoman Joiner requested that the following proclamation be entered in the Journal.

YVANNA CANCELA
Nevada State Senator

NICOLE CANNIZZARO

ASSEMBLYWOMAN JOINER:

Some of you may have seen on your calendar that today is Speech and Debate Day at the Legislature. In honor of that, I have two Senators with me, Senator Cancela and Senator Cannizzaro. The Senate was not in session today, so with their help I would like to read a proclamation that we have both on the Assembly side and what would have also been on the Senate side.

In honor of this proclamation, we have a lot of guests here in the audience. First of all we have Dr. Jacob Thompson, who is the UNLV Speech and Debate coach, and we have some of his students here from UNLV. We also invited the UNR team but they are out at a debate tournament. They are out doing the good work that we are celebrating here today. We also have a lot of high school students, high school coaches, some middle schoolers perhaps.

One of the reasons we are celebrating this today is because many of us as legislators have been speech and debate participants. I was and it was a really formative part of my life, and I know the Senators were also and that is why they are here today.

Assemblywoman Benitez-Thompson requested that the following proclamation be entered in the Journal.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Sue Vaughn was born in Riverton, Wyoming, and lived throughout the country during her childhood as her family followed her father's business career; and

WHEREAS, Sue received an undergraduate degree in English and speech education from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1978 and, a year later, graduated from Pennsylvania State University with a Master of Arts degree in speech communications; and

WHEREAS, After moving to Reno to teach Speech Communications at the University of Nevada, Reno for five years, Sue began her decades-long career with the Washoe County School District (WCSD) in 1987 as a teacher at Robert McQueen High School; and

WHEREAS, Sue, a two-diamond coach with the National Speech & Debate Association, taught numerous high school classes including English, Career English, advanced placement classes, Sociology, We the People, Public Speaking, and Speech and Debate; and

WHEREAS, Offering a list of "Books you'll like even if you don't like to read," Sue encouraged students to read by developing the curriculum for and teaching the Reading for Pleasure class at McQueen High School; and

WHEREAS, Touching the lives of approximately 15,000 students over the course of her career, Sue led many district, State, and national champions as the speech and debate coach, including Assemblywoman Teresa Benitez-Thompson, Assemblywoman Amber Joiner, and Devon Reese, former student and current speech and debate co-coach; and

WHEREAS, Serving as the Fine Arts Department chair for 10 years, Sue was instrumental in raising hundreds of thousands of dollars for student scholarships; and

WHEREAS, Sue is a devoted family woman, who, along with her husband Rick of over 30 years, has raised two children, Alex and Tenney, and is now the proud grandmother of Audrey, born last year; and

WHEREAS, After working for WCSD for 30 years, Sue is now retiring for some well-earned rest and relaxation; now, therefore, be it

PROCLAIMED, That Sue Vaughn is honored for her distinguished career as an educator, opening the minds and hearts of so many students, and touching many lives; and be it further PROCLAIMED, That Sue Vaughn is entitled to our esteem, our congratulations, and our best wishes for a long, healthy, and prosperous retirement.

DATED this 3rd day of March, 2017.

TERESA BENITEZ-THOMPSON
Majority Floor Leader
Nevada State Assemblywoman

AMBER JOINER

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BENITEZ-THOMPSON:

As part of Speech and Debate Day, I have a guest with me here. This is Mrs. Sue Vaughn. I refer to her as Mrs. Vaughn because she was my debate coach through high school at McQueen; I was a Lancer as was my colleague from Assembly District 24. Mrs. Vaughn was so much more than a coach. She was one of those teachers who came into my life and absolutely set me on a different trajectory and path. But for this woman standing next to me, I do not know that I really would have made it out of high school. I do not know that I would have made it to college. I certainly know that I would never have believed I was capable of very much. For kids coming from backgrounds like mine where things may have been a little disorganized at home, it really mattered to have a teacher who was paying attention to what you were doing and to have a person that really believed in you. She is going to be retiring soon so I have a proclamation honoring her.

ASSEMBLYMAN YEAGER:

I would like to introduce two student doctors, Graham Lambert and Charles Cullison. They are medical students at Touro University, Nevada in Henderson and are both members of the United States military. They flew up here last night to present research they did on Assembly Bill 135, which we heard this morning in the Judiciary Committee. I think I can speak for the other members of the committee when I say they did a fantastic job. They were very prepared. So as Nevada residents, members of the military, and future doctors, we can certainly be proud.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TOLLES:

I am very excited to introduce my colleagues at the National Judicial College [NJC]. To my right is Katheryn Yetter, the Academic Director at the National Judicial College, where she oversees the core tuition-based curriculum for judges. She has been with the NJC since 2012.

William Brunson is the Director of Special Projects, where he oversees the custom courses in international programming. He has been with the NJC since 1992.

I am very pleased to introduce my teaching partner, Joseph Sawyer. We teach collaborative decision making to Supreme Court Justices and to appellate court judges. He is the Director of Technology and Distance Learning and when he oversees the web-based programs for judges, he also teaches classes on implicit bias. He has been with the NJC since 1982.

These three individuals share over 75 years of combined experience in the field of judicial education and contribute to NJC's educational outreach to more than 7,000 judges each year. The National Judicial College is the only institution of its kind in the country and brings judges from all around the world to the great state of Nevada for top tier judicial education programs.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN SWANK:

I want to introduce everyone to my fabulous intern. This is Lynn Sartre. She is a double major in prelaw and biochemistry. That in and of itself is pretty impressive. She will be graduating from UNR this spring, and this fall she will be starting at the William and Mary Law School. She hopes to be a very successful lawyer and maybe come back here and run for office. She is in my office every Friday, so feel free to come by any time and say hi.

THE THIRTY-FIRST DAY

CARSON CITY (Wednesday), March 8, 2017

Assembly called to order at 11:56 a.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Reverend Jedidiah Mashke.

O Lord, Almighty God, we thank You for the precious blessings of liberty, that with Your help, were won for us by our ancestors. Give us a new appreciation of the life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness we enjoy in this land of the free, and a greater readiness to serve our state and nation with our talents. Teach us to treasure the precious freedom of conscience and worship, without which other liberties would not long survive. May we never contribute to the loss of those dearly won blessings by our own selfishness, ambition, or indifference.

Teach us furthermore, O Lord, that the enjoyment of freedom brings with it the responsibility to serve. To that end, make us willing to respect the laws of our country and state, to serve our fellow citizens well in any office of trust in which we serve, to exercise faithfully our privilege to vote, and to give our loyal support to all public institutions.

Bless all those in authority, especially those serving in our assembly today. Give wisdom and faithfulness to those in positions of leadership, especially our Assemblywomen and men. Preserve them from becoming the prey of those who would seek only their own good, and set their eyes and hearts on serving the interests of the public.

Grant enduring peace to our country and its institutions, so all people may know the freedom won by the blood of our precious Redeemer, in whose name and for whose sake we ask this.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Like many in this Chamber, about six months ago when I read of Pat Cashill's passing, I was very saddened. I come from a different background than most, in that both of my parents are practicing attorneys in Nevada. Both were admitted back in the late sixties and early seventies.

Growing up in a family of attorneys, you hear a lot about attorneys that are well respected, that are legends, the kind of attorneys that your parents aspire to be and that maybe you aspire to be if you end up practicing law. Some of those names I would hear about include Richard "Racehorse" Haynes from Texas and Alan Dershowitz—great attorneys, the kind of attorneys who turn the practice of law into an art.

As I got older, I started to hear about some Nevada attorneys who fit that bill and were the kind of legendary attorneys who could turn the practice of law into an art. Pat Cashill's name was a name I heard about quite a bit growing up. I did not get to meet him until the 1990s when my mother decided to run for the State Legislature. He was of great assistance to her, both in her pursuit of the Legislature and also in pursuit of legislation. He would come to the Legislature and testify about the experiences he had representing injured victims and trying to make sure they had access to justice, through his own practice of law and through his involvement with the Nevada Justice Association. Back then it was called Nevada Trial Lawyers Association.

I had the pleasure of getting to work with Pat during my service in the Assembly. As recently as last session, he was a familiar face in my office, working the halls, testifying on bills, and being an advocate for justice. It is hard in Nevada when we lose someone like that, but his contributions will stay with us. They have helped injured victims throughout our state, and they will continue to help them through the case law he has helped craft in his practice, the statutes that he has his fingerprints on, and this organization that has done so much to fight for justice.

Mr. Speaker, I have with me today Pat's widow, Johnna Cashill; Bill Bradley, who worked very closely with Pat at the Nevada Justice Association and the Nevada Trial Lawyers Association; and Jason Mills, who also got to work with Pat at the Nevada Justice Association. I know there are many other trial lawyers here in the Chamber today who knew Pat and got to work with him. I hope the body will pass this resolution and extend our condolences to Johnna and to everyone else who got to work with him.

Resolution adopted.

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION—Proposing to amend the Nevada Constitution to require the recognition of all marriages regardless of gender.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Section 21 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution provides that only a marriage between a male and a female person may be recognized and given effect in this State. The United States Supreme Court, however, held in 2015 that the right to marry is guaranteed by the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution and that same-sex couples may not be deprived of that right. See Obergefell v. Hodges, 135 S. Ct. 2584 (2015). Under the Supremacy Clause of the United States Constitution, federal constitutional law supersedes state constitutional law in most cases. (U.S. Const. Art. VI, cl. 2) As a result, Section 21 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution is not enforceable.

This resolution amends Section 21 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution to require the State of Nevada and its political subdivisions to recognize all marriages regardless of gender. This resolution further provides that all legally valid marriages must be treated equally under the law.

Resolved by the Assembly and Senate of the State of Nevada, Jointly, That Section 21 of Article 1 of the Nevada Constitution be amended to read as follows:

~~[~~Sec:~~]~~ Sec. 21. ~~[~~Limitation on recognition~~]~~ Recognition of marriage. ~~[~~Only a marriage between a male and female person shall be recognized and given effect in this state.~~]~~

1. The State of Nevada and its political subdivisions shall recognize marriages and issue marriage licenses to couples regardless of gender.

2. All legally valid marriages must be treated equally under the law.

Assembly Bill No. 36.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblywoman Joiner.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN JOINER:

Assembly Bill 36 amends the Charter of the City of Reno. The bill increases the number of wards in the city from five to six and replaces the single existing at-large Council member with a Council member to represent the newly created sixth ward. The City Council must establish boundaries for the newly created ward and alter the boundaries of the existing five wards accordingly.

The bill also provides that all candidates for City Council representing a particular ward must be elected in a general election only by the registered voters of that ward. If a special election is held to fill the vacancy of a Council member who represents a ward, only registered voters of that ward may vote at the special election. In addition to existing reports required of candidates for public office, the Reno City Council must adopt an ordinance requiring the Mayor and each Council member to report the campaign contributions received during every year other than the year in which the general election for that office is held.

Finally, the bill prohibits the City Council or its members from dictating the appointment, suspension, or removal of any employee unless specifically authorized in the Charter, and requires the City Council to deal directly with the City Manager and not give any order to any subordinate of the City Manager.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblywoman Carlton requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN BENITEZ-THOMPSON:

I want to read today, in honor of national A Day Without a Woman, from The Woman's Manual of Parliamentary Law. In legislative bodies there was a time when there were many days without women elected to office and serving in state legislatures. This was written in 1896, and in its preface it gives comments for women to consider should they decide to engage in public discourse.

> There are at present a great many women, perfectly well fitted, so far as intelligence and interest go, to share in the deliberations of any assembly, but who, through lack of knowing the technique of parliamentary law, are kept from taking active part in the many meetings that they constantly attend. Eager as listeners, wishing they dared to speak, reproaching themselves afterward for not speaking, they need only the confidence which comes from "knowing how," in order to become active, vital forces. They want to know when to rise and when to sit, how to begin to speak and how to close, how to frame a motion or a remark, how to open and close a > meeting, how to meet an adverse motion,—all the minute details of presiding, of debating, of making motions, of conducting meetings.

> Unlike the men, who almost from childhood have practised these little details till they have become as second nature, the majority of women spring full-grown into the arena of public debate, and must offset the lack of an early and natural training by the more laborious, but by no means impracticable, effort of middle life or even of old age. The honorable exceptions of women who do know how, as well as or better than most men, only prove the rule. This book, therefore, is written for women; for use in their clubs, unions, societies,—any organizations where it is important to know how to conduct a formal meeting.

I know that the author Harriette R. Shattuck would be proud of the fact that it has very practical implications in the modern day.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN NEAL:

Today is International Women's Day. On this day, we celebrate the achievement of women around the globe, and we stand in support for equality for all women.

Women have persisted despite the many barriers they have faced over the centuries. Women have held public office, led global organizations, pioneered medical advances, and served in our military. They have been innovators in technology, excelled in sports, and have soared into space, soared in the world and in industries dominated by men.

Today is also A Day Without a Woman, a day when some women have elected to take off from work or wear red to stand in solidarity and demonstrate the impact women have in this world. That is why I wear red today and why so many of my other colleagues are wearing red as well. Look around you. This legislature would not be functioning without the work of our women: legislators, clerks, sergeants at arms, legislative police, and support staff.

So here's to strong women; may we know them, may we be them, may we raise them.

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE OF NEVADA
SEVENTY-NINTH SESSION, 2017

Governor Sandoval, Lieutenant Governor Hutchison, constitutional officers, Leader Ford, Speaker Frierson, Senator Roberson, Assemblyman Anderson, distinguished members of the Senate and Assembly, honored guests, ladies and gentlemen, my son David, dear Cheryl, here we go. The state of the Nevada Judiciary is strong, professional, and independent.

It is a great honor for this transplant from Missouri, the "Show-Me" state, to stand before you as Chief Justice of the Nevada Supreme Court to deliver this State of the Judiciary address. It is always a privilege for the Nevada Judiciary to join with the leadership of our Executive and Legislative Branches at the Nevada statehouse. The justices and judges of Nevada renew our pledge as the Judicial Branch to work together for the benefit of every Nevadan.

When I came to Nevada from St. Louis 47 years ago, right out of Washington University Law School, there were 18 district court judges, a 5-member Supreme Court, and no Court of Appeals in our state. Today I am very proud to say that the Nevada Judiciary is composed of a 7-member Supreme Court, a 3-member Court of Appeals, 82 district court judges, some 26 senior judges and justices, and 97 limited jurisdiction judges, which include our justices of the peace and our municipal court judges. I want to tell everybody in this assembly, we could not have grown into this outstanding Judiciary without the backing of the members, past and present, of the Nevada State Legislature. For this vote of confidence, all my colleagues in our Judiciary thank each and every one of you. Furthermore, there exists a mutual respect between the three branches of our state government: the Executive, the Legislative, and the Judiciary. This fantastic working relationship is the envy of our sister states.

Let me now acknowledge and introduce my colleagues who serve with me on the Nevada Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals. First of all, we have Michael Douglas, who will be Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in 2018. He is very active in the Access to Justice [Commission] and also was, of course, the first African-American Chief Justice. James Hardesty, who has done everything; you have seen him time and time again, and you are going to see him some more: the Guardianship Commission [Commission to Study the Administration of Guardianships in Nevada's Courts]; the pretrial release program; and many other functions, some of which I will cover in my address. Ron Parraguirre, my Basque cowboy poet, is my go-to guy whenever I need something. He assists me with the Supreme Court's Settlement Program so that we can resolve some cases without litigation and further appellate work. Unfortunately, Mark Gibbons is not here today. He is in Las Vegas as is Jerry Tao, who is in the Court of Appeals. I am going to skip you, Kris, and I am going to skip you, Lidia and Abbi; I am going to come back to you. And also we have Michael Gibbons, brother of Mark Gibbons. In his own right, he was the Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals, the inaugural Court of Appeals. He served Douglas County as the district attorney, was a district judge for a number of years, and now is a member of the Court of Appeals.

Today, March 8, is International Women's Day. I need not tell this assembly about Women's Day. This is a global day celebrating the social, economic, cultural, and political achievements of women. This day also marks a call to action for accelerating gender parity. And boy, do we have gender parity in the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals. My good friend Kris Pickering, a fantastic trial lawyer, with her husband Steve Morris, an expert in civil litigation—and everybody knows my love of the criminal law—a fast learner of criminal law; what a great job she does each and every day for the citizens of Nevada. Lidia Stiglich, the newest member of our Supreme Court, is a former public defender, private practitioner, district court judge in Washoe County, and a tremendous guide for work in the Supreme Court. My good friend Abbi Silver, listen to this resume: district attorney, headed up the SVU. As if that was not enough, she was a municipal court judge, justice of the peace, district court judge, and has now been appointed by me for a four-year term as Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals. I just want to say this about my counterparts here: what an example to the females, young students, female students, and the whole state of Nevada. What a splendid example of brilliant judges and tremendous achievements by these three jurists. To all the young ladies of our state, I am so proud to call these three my colleagues. They are certainly the dynamic trio of the state of Nevada. Will you three stand and let's give them a round of applause please.

I also wish to take this opportunity to thank and acknowledge Elizabeth Brown, the Clerk of the Supreme Court; Harriet Cummings, the Deputy Clerk of the Supreme Court; Tom Harris, the Clerk of the Court of Appeals; Robin Sweet, the State Court Administrator, and her two magnificent Court Administrators, Assistant Court Administrators John McCormick, who is a champion of the rural Nevada, and Rick Stefani, who is the only one who can understand what Senator Mo Denis is saying about IT; Phaedra Kalicki, who is the Supervisor of our Supreme Court Legal Staff; Brandee Mooneyhan, the Reporter of Decisions; and last but not least my judicial assistant, my chamber assistant Jan Luevano, who has been with me for over ten years. But never last and least are the hardworking and loyal employees of the appellate courts and Administrative Office of the Courts. Could you stand as a group and we can acknowledge you.

I worked for the county, I was an alternate municipal judge for over 20 years for the city, and I was in private practice for over 20 years. I had lots of employees over those years that I either supervised or worked with. But I have never seen such a group of dedicated, hardworking, and loyal employees as the folks who work with us in the appellate courts. You guys are great. Thank you so much for everything you do.

I also wish to acknowledge and thank Betsy Gonzales, Chief Judge of the Eighth Judicial District, and Patrick Flanagan, Chief Judge of the Second Judicial District for their commitment and excellence in leadership of the two urban judicial districts. You talk about herding cats. The Eighth has 52 judges and the Second has 15 judges. I would also like to ask any of the members of the Nevada Judiciary in the audience to rise and be acknowledged. Your work for all Nevadans is outstanding.

I also wish to report to you on our appellate court. In total, Nevada, with a population of nearly 3 million people, has seven Supreme Court Justices and three Court of Appeals judges. I want to compare this to two states similar in population, Mississippi and Iowa. Both of these states use the push-down method. The push-down method means that all the cases come to the Supreme Court and then we push down certain cases to the Court of Appeals. Now again, remember what I said: We have three Court of Appeals judges. Mississippi has nine Supreme Court justices and ten judges on its Court of Appeals. Likewise, the state of Iowa, with a similar population as Nevada and the same push-down model that we have, has a seven-member Supreme Court, nine Court of Appeals judges, and four senior Court of Appeals judges. Now, Nevada still has roughly 1,600 pending cases before our appellate courts. Mississippi has approximately 100, and that is because of the number of Court of Appeals judges that they have assisting the Supreme Court. We're not going to be here this year asking, but I know that

Jim Hardesty is going to be around in ’19 or ’21 to be saying that we need a northern panel of the Court of Appeals, so I just put that in your hat, and keep it.

We are thankful that the Court of Appeals was approved by the Nevadans because it has assisted us in reducing our caseload. Combined, Nevada’s appellate courts were able to decrease the pending appellate caseload by 12 percent in 2016, an overall 18 percent decrease from two years ago. But compared to Mississippi, you can see how many more cases could be disposed of if we had additional Court of Appeals judges.

I can tell you we take our responsibility to provide justice very seriously, and we work hard to be innovative. I am proud to say we listen to those who use our services, and we look for ways to provide enhanced access to justice.

Last year I had the privilege of meeting Supreme Court Justice Elena Kagan. She said something that epitomizes what we have been doing as the third branch of government: listening and then leading. She said, “[W]hat I’ve learned most is that no one has a monopoly on truth or wisdom. I’ve learned that we make progress by listening to each other, across every apparent political or ideological divide.”

Listening to concerns and suggestions has led to many improvements in the Judiciary statewide. We have to listen and lead. Nevada’s courts see all of society’s ills and problems. Not only do we provide resolution to criminal, civil, family, and juvenile matters, we also aid people with substance abuse, mental health issues, housing foreclosures, and family crises. The Nevada Judiciary is on the front lines directly serving Nevadans.

Nevada’s Judiciary has a long history of providing exceptional service to the citizens of our state. In fact, following statehood in 1864 when we had three Supreme Court Justices, they traveled the state hearing cases, providing the access to justice and considering the needs of our citizens. The traditions established by those Justices 153 years ago continue today as Nevada’s Judiciary continues to protect the rights and liberties of individuals, impartially interpreting our laws and disposing of cases in a timely manner.

The fiscal realities of the past few years have required the Supreme Court to utilize new ways to sustain Nevada’s third branch of government. Reduced resources have led the Judiciary to discover alternative ways to deliver justice and maintain existing services. I am proud of our careful fiscal stewardship of the people’s money.

The complexity of the issues reaching the Supreme Court continues to increase as the Nevada matures into a mixture of metropolitan cities, urban counties, and rural regions. Throughout its history, the Supreme Court has always met the challenge of providing timely resolution of cases to all Nevadans.

The Nevada Constitution grants authority to the Chief Justice, as the administrative head of the Nevada court system, to “Recall to active service any retired justice or judge of the court system who consents to such recall and who has not been removed or retired for cause or defeated for retention in office, and may assign him [or her] to appropriate temporary duty within the court system.”

Our Senior Justice and Judge Program has proven to be a cost effective way to ensure that court cases can be heard in a timely fashion, even if the assigned judge is unavailable. Nevada is fortunate to have a number of senior justices and judges available whose experience is unmatched and who can step in, no matter what type of case is involved and where the need arises. I am looking forward to the addition of the district judges who are retiring in the future to become senior judges. These men and women will be a great asset to the Judiciary and in state of Nevada.

The Administrative Office of the Courts assigns senior justices and judges. Requests for assignment direct a specific senior justice or judge to a particular court for several reasons. They may be assigned for a durational amount of time; whenever a judicial vacancy occurs, such as when Stiglich left the bench in Washoe County; or if there is illness, any type of vacancy, mandatory judicial education, or retirement. Senior justices and judges may also hear specific cases due to recusal or disqualification or if a sitting judge has an unusually heavy caseload or congested docket.

The senior justices and judges hear civil and medical malpractice settlement conferences on a regular basis. On average, they hear between three and eight settlement conferences per week. Currently, settlement conferences are heard in the urban Second and Eighth Judicial Districts.

Thanks to Jim Hardesty, settlement conferences have been expanded to the rural jurisdictions. Additionally, senior justices and judges hear short trials and settlement conferences every two weeks in the Eighth Judicial District Family Court.

Senior justices and judges also conduct specialty court programs in the district courts in the Second, Third, Fifth, Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh [Judicial] Districts. Senior judges and justices conduct the drug and mental health courts in these rural areas. These programs succeed in providing alternatives to jail time for certain offenders and in assisting these offenders to become productive members of society. There are senior justices or judges actively serving the district courts. Their combined efforts provided assistance almost equivalent to six full-time judges for Nevada.

When I ran for the Supreme Court in 2006 when Justice Rose decided to retire, I ran unopposed except for a tough race against None of the Above. When I was elected, my mentor, Justice Mark Gibbons, suggested that our northern panel, which I was the presiding justice of, hold court in the rurals as well as Las Vegas and Reno so that I would get to know and love the entire state. We decided to hold court in various high schools and other venues. We heard actual cases, usually in front of high school government or social studies classes. Needless to say, the lawyers who participated in these cases loved the idea, since most lawyers are frustrated actors, and they liked the idea of displaying their talents to students. The presiding justice would allow the lawyers to let the audience know the facts of the case before arguments commenced, so that meant that the lawyers could use their entire argument time of 30 minutes arguing the law. When the court appeared at high schools, we would have in attendance not only students, but also local public officials and other dignitaries. After argument concluded, the panel or full court—sometimes the en banc court would go to high schools or other venues—they would have a Q and A, question and answer session, that included the participating lawyers. When I was the presiding justice, I made them stay. You have to stay and answer questions. The audience would love this portion of the session, although we could not discuss the case that was just argued. We have done these road shows all over the state, including but not limited to Ely, Elko, Panaca, Tonopah, Douglas County, Yerington, Winnemucca, Pahrump, Fallon, Sparks, West Wendover, The National Judicial College, Boyd Law School, and numerous high schools in Las Vegas and Reno. It sounds like a Johnny Cash song. Needless to say, the publicity and good will gained during these road shows was overwhelming and was able to illustrate to the public the dynamics of our Judiciary.

The Access to Justice Commission—Justice Douglas and Justice Hardesty—assists us in providing legal services to everyone in the state. The Commission took on a task last year to develop a consistent set of legal forms for all rural counties. I would like to thank Judge Tod Young of Minden for heading up this effort. With the help of other members of that committee, Judge Young has completed a set of forms that self-represented litigants may use throughout the state. This fits into one of our goals: to support people who cannot afford an attorney so they can still access our courts. Access to Justice is comprised of 22 members from various legal and nonlegal backgrounds. It is one of our largest standing commissions. The goal is to promote equal justice for all Nevadans, regardless of their economic standing. The Commission encourages pro bono services by attorneys. I am pleased to report that 2,177 attorneys provided over 100,000 hours of no-fee, direct legal services to low-income clients. This is an excellent reflection on the high caliber of Nevada's attorneys. We are lucky to be surrounded by professionals who labor to build up our communities. Every December, we have a pro bono luncheon in Las Vegas, and we have lunch with 800 of our best friends. These are the attorneys who supply pro bono services, and we help give out the awards, and it is just a great thing. It is heartwarming to see the attorneys who do this. We are lucky to have the State Bar that we have.

Nevada has a long history of helping its residents get their day in court. This is incredible but in 1879, Nevada became the first state in the nation to authorize the appointment of attorneys in all criminal matters, including misdemeanors, and also provide payment for the attorneys' services. Thanks to the Nevada Legislature and the Nevada Supreme Court, we have a good history on our side. However, we still have work to do.

In our urban counties, a defendant can count on a public defender to provide prompt representation or a contract attorney. However, in the rural parts of our state, indigent defendants may sit in jail for an extended period of time waiting to speak to an attorney while witnesses' memories fade and investigative leads go cold. Even after that defendant is appointed an attorney, he or she may be one of several hundred clients, all vying at the same time for the attention of that single attorney. Nevada's rural attorneys simply cannot shoulder the state's obligations under the Sixth Amendment of the United States Constitution any longer. The financial burden increases as the U.S. Supreme Court continually clarifies and expands the obligations an attorney owes the indigent accused. We must do better at providing representation to rural defendants. Rural persons are just as deserving of representation as their urban neighbors. I encourage you to provide equal justice to rural individuals too. I head up the Indigent Defense Commission in the Supreme Court. Chief Justice Maupin had appointed me in 2007. We established professional standards, and we're looking at caseload standards throughout the state. But now the time has come, ladies and gentlemen of this Legislature, for an independent indigent defense commission. We will be presenting a bill to you to try and establish an independent indigent defense commission.

As I said, Nevada's courts see much of society's ills from the front lines and specialty courts are one area where we have met social needs head on. We are grateful for the Legislature's support in expanding these courts with a special appropriation of $3 million in new funding, and we hope to get it again. The legislative money from the last session created four new DUI courts in Elko, Las Vegas, Winnemucca, and for those individuals living in Fallon, Yerington, and northern Mineral County. In addition, new drug, habitual offender, and veterans' courts were established in Boulder City, Carson City, East Fork, Henderson, Laughlin, Las Vegas, Mesquite, North Las Vegas, Reno, Sparks, and Winnemucca. This means more people have the chance at breaking the revolving door cycle of addiction and recidivism. Success of specialty courts means one thing—more funds for education. The overreaching goal of a specialty court is to support participants to achieve total abstinence from drugs or alcohol. These courts promote responsibility and accountability and teach people how to become productive law-abiding citizens. This, in return, reduces criminal recidivism and provides for better, healthier communities. So, we are addressing a real need, and we appreciate your funding to expand those programs. Expanding specialty courts serves Nevadans, and I encourage you to continue providing support for these programs. We can keep people out of jails, give them a second chance, and improve our communities. Again, success in this area means more funds available for education.

Many of our courts are reaching out to our youth to provide them with support and inspiration. This is a heartwarming story. Just last month, the Las Vegas Youthful Offender Program celebrated its fortieth graduate. It is called the YO Program. This is a problem-solving court for participants between the ages of 18 and 24 who suffer with substance abuse dependency. It is the only court in the nation that requires family members to participate with their adult children in order for the addict to be accepted into the program. The court focuses on making the whole family healthy, not just the addicts who found their way into the criminal justice system. The participants learn how to maintain their sobriety. They are given tools to help them. To graduate, the participants must have a high school diploma or GED, and they must have successfully completed appropriate counseling; be employed; have established healthy, independent living; and have a savings account. Family members, as mandatory participants, learn about enabling and codependency and are armed with knowledge that "No" can be a complete sentence. Addiction is a family disease, and YO Court's focus is on treating the family. With opioid deaths surpassing automobile accidents for the first time last year, there could be no time more crucial than now for courts like YO Court. I am so proud to say that present today, we have Chief Judge Cedric Kerns of the Las Vegas Municipal Court and his fortieth graduate of the YO Program, Nicholas C.

Last year, at-risk fifth graders in North Las Vegas joined Judge Natalie Tyrrell in celebrating the 15th anniversary of the Kids in the Court program. Judge Tyrell created the program in 2002 to educate students about the judicial system, law-related careers, and the importance of staying in school. The court had partnered with C. P. Squires, an at-risk school in North Las Vegas, to help students set new goals for themselves. With programs like this one, the Judiciary is doing much to lend a hand in civics education across the state. You know, not everybody can be successful in drug court or AA or any 12-step program, and thanks to the Governor and his program for opioid abuse and Justice Stiglich, who made a presentation there, judges across the state are now accepting medication-assisted treatment programs such as methadone. I am so proud today to have with us two people who have done so much in the Las Vegas community for those who are using methadone on a regular basis. I have been to some of their programs, and these people stand up and say I couldn't make it in drug court, couldn't make it on probation, but now I have made it on methadone. I have my family together, I have employment, and I haven't been arrested or committed any type of crime. And with me today is the founder of the Adelson methadone clinic, Dr. Miriam Adelson, and the director of that clinic, Dr. Shirley Linzy. Miriam and Shirley, will you please stand, and let's say hello to them. That's some happy news. Now I have a little bit of sad news for you.

While we have been listening to those who use the Judiciary, we heard the frustrations of many Nevadans. For instance, the Commission to Study the Administration of Guardianships in Nevada's Courts spent 16 months listening to the concerns of persons subject to guardianship, experts on reform, guardians, and judges. Some of the testimony was alarming and some of it heartbreaking. Thanks go out to Justice James Hardesty, Judge David Barker, and Judge David Hardy for bringing this matter to our attention. And thanks to many individuals in the Administrative Office of the Courts who assisted in this effort, particularly Stephanie Heying, who assembled the final report. The result of this Commission is a 236-page report with dozens of recommendations for changes in guardianship law, policy, and court rules. This list of recommendations now goes before this assembly, including a bill of rights for individuals subject to guardianship and other protections aimed at reform. To put the focus where it should be, on the protection of the individual, 16 state law and 14 judicial rule changes are proposed. We provide these as suggestions based on our listening to those involved. These recommendations will go a long way to improve Nevada's guardianship system, and we encourage you to support these changes.

Another area where we have listened is the question of how do judges handle pretrial release. Frankly, our judges have been setting bail or releasing individuals in the blind. Let me explain. An individual comes to the court on a charge. Bail is set, and too often the person sits in jail waiting for their court date. Our judges do not know if the person is a risk to the community, and too many people have lost their jobs or their homes because they've had to wait in jail. In short, for the poor, bail means jail. Since the middle of 2015, we have been listening to people in the system to examine alternatives and improvements to Nevada's pretrial release system. I am pleased to say that a pilot program has been underway for nearly seven months in Clark, Washoe, and White Pine Counties. Judges are evaluating pretrial release based on evidence-based practices and risk assessment tools, and they are no longer in the dark. The pilot program has shown that risk assessment identifies the higher and lower risk defendants. This is a major reform that eventually may be expanded to all of Nevada. Again, I would like to thank staff from the Administrative Office of the Courts, particularly Jamie Gradick, and Justice Hardesty for chairing the study group. I think they deserve a round of applause.

On a happier note—finally, we took an active role in assisting persons in Clark County using the child welfare system. In conjunction with a mandate from the Supreme Court's Blue Ribbon for Kids Commission, the Eighth and Second Judicial [District] Courts implemented a one judge/one family case assignment model in the abuse and neglect case type. The Commission, chaired by my good friend who has left me—but at least we got Lidia in exchange—Nancy Saitta, who chairs this committee and showcases another example of the Judiciary listening to the concerns of people who work and participate in the child welfare system. This woman is the queen of adoptions and everything that has to do with foster care. And Nancy, what a job you've done. I know even though you retired and you are one of my senior judges and justices, you're still doing kids' work, and I know the Governor has appointed you and his own wife to handle some of these matters. Nancy, stand up and take a bow.

We are one of the few remaining western states to have judges ride a circuit. My good friend Judge Jim Shirley is the type of judge, covering the Eleventh Judicial District Court and traveling between Battle Mountain, Hawthorne, and Lovelock. In fact, he may be one of those people sprinting across our basins and ranges, and hopefully one who does not get tickets.

For long-term vacancies, we use senior judges to provide uninterrupted access to justice. However, sometimes an emergency takes place, keeping a judge from the bench too quickly for a senior judge appointment. So what has Judge Shirley done? He has been talking to Judge Tom Stockard of Fallon, and this will allow each judge to cover for each other in an emergency. It is another example of how our judges work together and find ways to provide services to their communities.

Judge Shirley also has been working—and this is incredible. This guy was a tough DA [district attorney], and I thought, Oh boy, let's see how he does as a district court judge. Listen to this. Judge Shirley also has been working with the prison system on developing resources to allow prisoners to type their pleadings, in lieu of the handwritten pleadings, and then efile them. That should help tremendously. The efiling system should help in the appeals process, similar to the helpful changes in the appellate cases from Washoe and Clark Counties as a result of their efiling systems. Jim, you are a beautiful person. Thank you for what you do.

This number shows our workload continues to grow. This is our Court, the Supreme Court. In 2016, 2,452 cases were filed in the Supreme Court, almost 2,500 cases. It goes on and on, and I have a feeling we are going to get an influx of people from California who can't take it anymore, and they are going to come to northern Nevada and southern Nevada, and we're going to have a lot more people. We will be well over 3 million pretty soon. In 2016, we had 2,500 cases that were filed in the Supreme Court. With the addition of the Nevada Court of Appeals, we were able to assign 637 cases to the Court of Appeals. Now, I am the Chief Justice and the Court has been in effect since 2015, and they had '16 to do a bunch of cases. They did almost 700 cases in '16. And now I am assigning cases. And Abbi Silver, Chief Judge Abbi Silver, that former DA, that former municipal court judge, justice of the peace, district court judge—has promised me that if I give Mike and Abbi and Jerry a thousand cases, that they will be able to reduce our backlog so that justice will be swift in the state of Nevada. Good luck, Abbi. And Michael, I know you can do it.

Our trial courts also have been working hard to assure access to justice. Criminal filings increased by nearly 7 percent last year, with the primary cause a 13 percent increase in justice court criminal filings. Recent improvements in capturing data on civil matters have given the Judiciary a clearer picture of the types of civil cases impacting our courts. In particular, the district courts have improved the accuracy of assigning civil cases. This has led to speedier justice.

All of these developments are the result of efforts by the employees of the Nevada Judiciary who have worked hard to keep the judicial system up to date and accessible to Nevadans, and our success has been recognized by others. The Conference of State Court Administrators and the National Center for State Courts awarded the Administrative Office of the Courts with the Court Statistics Project Reporting Excellence Award in 2016. The award recognizes the Nevada Judiciary's work to improve caseload data reported to the National Center for State Courts. The Nevada statewide data model resulted in providing 92 percent publishable court statistics for the state's courts. This placed Nevada sixth in the nation for providing caseload statistics to the National Center for State Courts' national database. Publishable data is used for analysis by the Judiciary in learning how we can do a better job of providing access to justice.

The Nevada Association of Court Executives awarded the Administrative Office of the Courts with its 2015 Court of the Year Award. The award recognized the Judiciary for creating the Nevada Court of Appeals in less than two months and allowing the court to hear cases in January 2015. The Nevada Court of Appeals signified the start of a new era in Nevada justice, and one person really helped to usher this through in 2011 and 2013 so that the voters in 2014, after many tries and failures, were able to get a Court of Appeals. And of course, I am talking about no one other than the cookie man, Ben Graham. Now, in two short months, the staff of the Supreme Court implemented a brand new court, including but not limited to, setting up offices, computers, a case management system, budgets, court rules, filing procedures, and the investitures of the new judges. The completion of these tasks and many more enabled the Court of Appeals to commence operations on time and within budget. And again, the Nevada Supreme Court assigns cases to the Court of Appeals in a deflective model. This was invented by Justice Hardesty and Justice Gibbons and then followed by Justice Parraguirre, and it is also being followed by me. And I tell my colleagues Gee, I thought maybe I could do something different. Jim, maybe it wasn't the best thing. Ron, maybe it wasn't the best thing. But what they've come up with, the way we were able to assign cases, is a magnificent thought and just works perfectly, as far as I'm concerned, and will reduce the caseload substantially over the next few years. The goal of the Court is to reduce the sizeable backlog in appellate cases and eventually shortening the time for resolution of all appeals in Nevada. I want to say something else about my good friend Ben. He got everything through in 2011 so that then it could come to 2013—it was Michael in 2011 that ushered it through, Kris Pickering in 2013. But the person who was most responsible in 2013, of course, was Ben Graham. How many Republicans voted for the Court of Appeals? All of you. How many Democrats voted for the Court of Appeals? All of you. In other words, there was no gridlock when it came to the Court of Appeals to go to the voters. One hundred percent of those in the Senate and the Assembly voted for the Court of Appeals, and we thank you, thank you, thank you.

Now, two weeks ago, the Nevada Supreme Court and the Nevada Court of Appeals moved to a new courthouse in Las Vegas. We just couldn't take going to the seventeenth floor in elevators that didn't work or that would fall down. The building looks like a courthouse, from the statue of Lady Justice on the copper dome to the courtroom modeled after the first U.S. Supreme Courtroom. The new courthouse also features modern heating and cooling technology good enough for a Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design gold certification. The move from the Regional Justice Center will also save, Governor, you will like hearing this—approximately $500,000 over the coming years in lease costs. Overall, the new courthouse will provide additional space in a modern building. It is an impressive courthouse, and we invite you to visit. Jim Hardesty worked day and night to make sure that everything got taken care of with the Governor, with the county, with the Court, with the RJC, to make sure we could leave, and we did a couple of weeks ago. He did a magnificent job. This is a magnificent courthouse, and we are having a grand opening on March 27 at 1 o'clock in the afternoon—that's a Monday—and we're hoping the Speaker can be there and Leader can be there, and all of the assistants and everybody else to come and see this beautiful edifice. And we've got a landlord, and he's more than a landlord. Well, we've got a developer, and he's more than a developer—the guy who made sure that we have this courthouse—and he and his right hand are here today. I want to present to you an artist, Yohan Lowie, and his right hand, Brett Harrison.

The Nevada Judiciary is blessed with many extraordinary people who work diligently with honor and integrity. The people and programs we have highlighted this evening showcase just a fraction of the many accomplishments and efforts of the Judiciary to improve access to justice. Without these dedicated members of the Legislative and Executive Branches, the Judiciary would be unable to meet our responsibility to Nevada. As the Chief Justice and the representative of the Judiciary, I thank you for your assistance in supporting our vision for providing fair and effective justice to all Nevadans. This is a wonderful state. I have been here 47 years and never regretted moving from Missouri and being in Las Vegas until 2006 and then living here in Carson since 2007. There are many opportunities and great people here in southern Nevada and northern Nevada. And when I talk about the road show, I encourage all of my friends in the Assembly and the Senate from southern Nevada to take a ride in rural Nevada. It is fantastic. It is gorgeous. It is God's gift to our state. I was so happy that Mark Gibbons encouraged me to go from place to place. And whenever we wanted to rest, we never went to a gas station; we always went to a courthouse. We'd go and meet everybody in the courthouse in rural Nevada, and it was just a wonderful experience. Nevada's Judiciary is a reflection of what you want it to be. This is your Judiciary and your system of justice. Many of you have taken the time to visit the courthouses in your communities. You have seen firsthand how the Judiciary works to improve the lives of Nevadans. We invite you to continue visiting and helping us to improve the services so important to our state. We also invite you to a reception at the Court, the Supreme Court rotunda, after this address.

In conclusion, I again wish to thank the Legislature for the privilege and honor of delivering this State of the Judiciary address. This thank you comes from all my colleagues in our Judiciary, who deeply appreciate your dedication and service to our state. I know what a sacrifice it is to leave your family for the 120 days, and hopefully maybe not a special session, and we certainly appreciate the work you do. As members of this Battle Born State government, I want to end it by recalling the words of Senator Edward Kennedy. People ask when you look at your duties and responsibilities, How do you feel? And this is what I want to leave you with, what Kennedy said: "[The] work goes on, the cause endures, the hope still lives, and the dream shall never die." God bless all of you.

Now I always have to do something different. My mother, may she rest in peace, always called me a rebel. I am honored at this time to introduce Christina Bourne to you. Christina is a 15-year veteran educator and currently teaches music and band at Mark Twain Elementary School. She is also a former Miss Nevada, and at my request, Christina will perform "God Bless America." Christina.

Assembly Bill No. 99.
Bill read third time.
Remarks by Assemblymen Araujo and Sprinkle.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARAUJO:

Assembly Bill 99 requires a private or public institution or agency authorized to care for children to treat a child consistent with his or her gender identity or expression. Employees of such facilities, including foster homes, foster care agencies, child care facilities, mental health facilities, juvenile justice detention centers, and emergency shelters, must receive training on working with lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and questioning—otherwise known as LGBTQ—children within 90 days of employment and annually thereafter. Such training must be approved by the licensing agency of the facility or the Division of Child and Family Services in the Department of Health and Human Services.

The Division must adopt regulations that a court, including a juvenile court, must consider before placing a child in a child care or detention facility or in a mental health or treatment facility. The bill also requires the Division to adopt regulations for establishing protocols to ensure that children in the custody of child welfare agencies are placed appropriately given their gender identity or expression. These regulations shall be developed in consultation with LGBTQ children in the custody of child welfare agencies or the courts; representatives of child welfare agencies; and facilities, courts, and LGBTQ organizations, in addition to advocates for children and other persons deemed appropriate by the Division.

Finally, the bill revises the way in which foster children are notified of their rights and requires the Division to establish a process for resolving grievances filed by children in the custody of child welfare agencies. This bill is effective upon passage and approval for the purpose of adopting regulations and performing preparatory administrative tasks and on October 1, 2017, for all other purposes.

According to the "National Coming Out Day Youth Report," 7 percent of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and questioning, also referred to as LGBTQ, youth who are out to their families indicated that their families are "not at all accepting" of their sexual identify. For some of these young people, the lack of acceptance they face results in abuse and/or neglect from their parents, resulting in LGBTQ young people being overrepresented in foster care. The lack of acceptance also places these youth at an increased risk of homelessness.

Even though LGBTQ youth are overrepresented in foster care, only 14 states have foster care laws inclusive of sexual orientation and gender identity. While Nevada does have comprehensive antidiscrimination policies and laws, they do not specifically address child welfare. Without these types of laws, policies, and trainings in place, Nevada's LGBTQ youth face the prospect of neglect, discrimination, and abuse within the very institutions charged to protect them. Inappropriate placements and a lack of understanding of the needs of LGBTQ youth also endanger their health and safety as they are at increased risk of physical violence, homelessness, and unfortunately, suicide.

Assembly Bill 99 is a critical piece of legislation that will ensure we are taking the right steps forward towards protecting our most vulnerable youth. I urge this body to please support Assembly Bill 99.

ASSEMBLYMAN SPRINKLE:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 99. I think what is most important here is that we think about whom it is this bill is addressing. We are talking about kids; we are talking about scared and vulnerable kids who have had their lives turned upside-down. They have been taken from their families, from their homes, and they have been placed in institutions or homes or other places that are unfamiliar to them. While they are struggling with the day-to-day life, we need to assure that the people that are now charged with looking after them and taking care of them fully understand where these kids are coming from.

I think it is also important to point out that with this bill, there was good discussion in my committee. I believe the sponsor heard the concerns and the comments that were raised during the committee hearing, and he has been unbelievably open and willing to talk to anybody, which is how a rather lengthy amendment came off of this floor yesterday. I think that it is really valuable and important to point that out—that while this bill moves forward, there has been a lot of effort to appease those people who had concerns with it.

So for that reason and for many others, I would just say ultimately this bill is about acceptance and a level of understanding of our kids who are very fearful and at a time in their lives where things have been completely turned upside down. For all of those reasons, I hope this body will support Assembly Bill 99.

EXCUSED—Brooks.

Assembly Bill No. 99 having received a constitutional majority, Mr. Speaker declared it passed, as amended.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 2.

Resolution read third time.

ASSEMBLYMAN ARAUJO:

Assembly Joint Resolution 2 proposes to amend the Nevada Constitution to provide that the state of Nevada and its political subdivisions shall recognize marriages of and issue licenses to couples, regardless of gender. All legally valid marriages shall be treated equally under the law. The resolution also proposes to repeal existing provisions that only a marriage between a male person and female person may be recognized and given effect in Nevada.

A few years ago, our United States Supreme Court ruled that marriage equality was the law of the land. Since then, more than 10,000 same-sex couples in Nevada have formed a legal union, a union embedded in love. Yet, Nevada's Constitution still defines marriage as a union between a man and a woman.

During our committee hearing, we heard from Karen Vibe and Karen Goody, the first same-sex couple married in Washoe County. During their testimony, Karen Vibe said the following: "Nothing pleases me more than to be able to introduce Karen as my wife." "Our wedding day was one of the happiest days of our lives, and it would be horrifying to think that our marriage could be considered invalid or illegal. . . . We feel that marriage serves a higher purpose. . . . [N]o matter what you believe or who you are . . . we were all created equal."

We also heard from children of same-sex couples like Pam and Gretchen's son, Zachary Roberts, who is 18 years old. He said the following: "I am so proud to be a Nevada resident. I take so much pride in it, and it is all I talk about. . . . I just hope . . . our state keeps progressing and we keep doing the right thing in bringing these bills to the table. It makes me so happy to see our state . . . moving forward. If our state passes this bill . . . in 2020 . . . [and] the Supreme Court's decision were overturned, nothing would make me more proud than to be a part of a state that still recognizes my parents' marriage."

Mr. Speaker, it is time for Nevada's Constitution to recognize all marriages, regardless of gender. We, as a state, must do everything we can to protect love.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN JAUREGUI:

It is time for Nevada's Constitution to reflect what the majority of Nevadans already recognize—that no matter who you love, you are welcomed, loved, and valued here in our state. I cannot think of any better way to honor Nevada's culture of freedom and personal liberty than by protecting Nevadans of all backgrounds from discrimination. This is Nevada's heritage, one of equality.

ASSEMBLYMAN PAUL ANDERSON:

I first want to thank my friend and bill sponsor for bringing this bill forward and leading the discussion. This is a difficult vote for me, as it was in 2013 when this body brought a very similar resolution. I did not run for the Assembly to deny anyone rights. I do not believe in any type of discrimination, nor do I believe that LGBT couples are any less entitled than I am. This body has previously spoken on the issue, as has the Supreme Court.

I understand the arguments on both sides of the issue. I know the arguments of my religion, of my political party, of those who feel passionately on both sides. I respect both sides of this argument and congratulate those who have fought so long and hard for equality. That being said, I also think it is important to acknowledge those that worked so hard to pass a traditional marriage amendment into the Constitution in 2000 and 2002. They put a lot of time, talent, and treasure in that fight, and they won it fairly and by an overwhelming majority. Whether you disagree or agree, the people brought this amendment to the Constitution, and I think it should be the people who bring an amendment to overturn that.

I will be voting no on A.J.R. 2, because this already settled law. There is only so long that we can vote on the same issue and continually take this up. I do want to take a moment, though, to thank my family members and friends that are in the LGBTQ community and are in my life. I love and support them. This vote is not an effort to say anything other than I believe it is time to move on from the issue and that if there is a grassroots movement of people that feel passionate about taking this out of the Constitution, I think it should be removed the same way it was put in.

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWARDS:

I know this is kind of a sensitive issue for a lot of people and it is kind of a hard decision in many cases. I think we do need to look to the people of our state and realize that not so long ago, they really decided this issue. They decided where they stood. They were so firm about it; they actually put it in the Constitution. I think that demands our respect and a whole lot of credibility.

Now, I understand that the U.S. Supreme Court decision of a couple of years ago changes that. But the decision was five to four, and quite honestly, I find the legal reasoning of the four to be more credible. I think it is more consistent with our Constitution; I think it is more consistent with our federal system of government. I stand with the four.

I find that the question should have been left to the state level as well. Too many things get sent up to the Supreme Court that should have been left to the state. This is one of them. The Supreme Court decision does not require the Congress or the state legislatures to rewrite their constitutions or to rewrite their laws. That is one of the great things about our federal system and the separation of powers. When the judiciary rules on something, the legislative branch, at every level, does not have to rewrite and revisit everything that they look at. Otherwise, ladies and gentlemen, we would spend 120 days every other year just changing the laws in accordance with the judicial decisions that have happened since sine die.

If this issue does go back to the Supreme Court, frankly the arguments of the four may become the arguments of the five. Then are we to revisit this again and spend our time changing the laws when we do not need to? Because our form of government does not require it. My constituents have written to me overwhelmingly that they oppose this. Their voices are in the Constitution, and they want me to protect their voices. I agree with them and I will protect their voice.

ASSEMBLYMAN ELLIOT ANDERSON:

I rise in support of A.J.R. 2. I want to respond briefly to a few points because we have been here before and we have heard the arguments of letting the people choose. I think it is important to note that the people will get to choose. This gets to go to the ballot. I do not need to tell anyone here that a lot has changed since 2000 and 2002. We have seen polling on this issue go dramatically the other way. There is nothing to be afraid of by asking the people what they think.

While it is true that the decision does not require us to rewrite our Constitution, it is not enforceable the way that it is. We should make it clear to the people who visit Las Vegas from all over the world that they are welcome here. This is one of those things that makes us look inhospitable and is something that we might regret if we leave it in too long into the future. We do not want to come back here in 50 years and say, Why did we ever have this in here. Opinions have changed, and I urge this body to support this and give the people a chance to change their minds as well.

ASSEMBLYMAN HAMBRICK:

I want to echo the words of the Minority Leader. I do not believe in any kind of discrimination. However, I am a person of deep faith and truly believe that marriage is a religious sacrament between one man and one woman. I will be respectfully voting no on A.J.R. 2.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN KRASNER:

I understand that this is a difficult issue for many and that this conversation can be hard for some. I am a straight woman and I am married to a man. I am also a law school graduate and a college instructor who teaches courses on the United States Constitution. So when these tough issues are brought up here in the Assembly, I look for the logical answer and I look to the U.S. Constitution.

The United States Supreme Court has spoken on this issue. In Obergefell v. Hodges in 2015, the United States Supreme Court held that the fundamental right to marry is guaranteed to same-sex couples by both the due process clause and the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution, which I will read. Section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution:

> All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

You see, the United States Constitution applies to all U.S. citizens: male or female, black or white, rich or poor, gay or straight. Mr. Speaker, I will be voting yes on A.J.R. 2.

Representative Amodei delivered his message as follows:

SEVENTY-NINTH SESSION, 2017

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President pro Tem, Governor, cabinet officials, Mr. Chief Justice and your colleagues, members of the Nevada Legislature, thank you very much for the opportunity to come kick off the federal address season. You may know that back in the day, I was not a big fan of this particular thing when I was a member. I used to sit over in that part of the room, and when whoever it was—and I was very bipartisan about it—would come in this door, I would exit through the back door there. To let you know that I have not completely forgotten about that, I intend to be, as were some of the judges that I practiced in front of in my earlier days, crisp and not take up much of your beautiful spring evening. So hang on, here we go.

I want to talk about just two things and then the third part involves this bag, but I will be crisp nonetheless. The first one is a pretty complex topic: What are you going to do? The second one is a tribute to Harry Reid. What are your questions?

What are you going to do? As the person given the responsibility of representing Nevada's original congressional district, I can tell you there is not much going on in D.C. right now. Everybody loves everybody, there are no issues which are contentious, the Executive Branch is getting along well with the Legislative Branch, and of course the Supreme Court is having a great time with things looking like four-four and somebody is set to do whatever. Nonetheless, when you say What are you going to do, let us talk about the most smooth topic of What are you going to do, especially in view of today, and that is the subject of health care.

Do not worry; nobody's eyes need to roll back in their head. As a person who has spent almost 20 years, his entire political life, in the Legislative Branch, I can tell you that I am a process guy. It does not mean that you always get things the way you want it. It does not mean people always testify at those meetings in accordance with what you may think your thoughts are. I am an absolute true, complete believer in the legislative process, as I originally learned it in this building, and the damnedest things happen when you have a hearing with witnesses. And so as we march down this health care road—no disrespect to anybody on either side of the aisle or my colleagues back in the swamp—I will tell you that when there are references to regular order which talk about a markup, I think that is an opportunity for everybody to practice their partisan floor speeches. The problem is, there are not any witnesses—you know, folks who are sometimes considered shareholders, people who have views, whether they are with yours or against yours. As some of you may already know, it is incredibly frustrating, as one of the folks with one of those 435 votes on the south end of the building. Interestingly enough, the south end of the building is the House of Representatives in D.C., and here we are at the south end of the building in the Assembly where I started my go-around. I will try to avoid those references to the north end of the building here that I often refer to back there because sometimes they are less than flattering, but they are, in fact, bipartisan since we still have a bipartisan delegation there.

Let me just say this: We will continue, during this health care debate, to study the issues, to do things like say How will it affect Nevada. I understand how the budget is affected by Medicaid. So one of the basic questions we have for all of those people back there practicing those floor speeches is how much Nevada gets for Medicaid now and how much it would get under your proposal. That is a good place to start because, quite frankly, we do not have the luxury—or the curse, depending on what your view is—of not having a balanced budget in this state. So when you talk about how that works, when you talk about the effect on Nevada when you have an access problem—we have access problems in southern Nevada, much less the Truckee Meadows and rural Nevada—you need to know those sorts of facts.

Therefore, when you ask What is this going to do to improve access, remember this started out seven years ago, as we need reform. Another question that comes up is, How is this going to reduce costs. Because if it is not, what about pharma? What about insurance company regulations? What about all those things? Not all of them can be done in reconciliation. The challenge, as you folks well know, is you have to keep your head on a swivel and you have to look at that stuff. So it is very much a jury that is out, if you will, in terms of what is going on. Ultimately, my vote will be based on the impact on Nevada. What does our budget do with this? Is it the right thing to do?

I will end the health care discussion with this: I remember seven years ago, Nancy Pelosi came under some criticism for passing the Affordable Care Act at two o'clock in the morning. Bad things were said. Just as an observer, here is a casual observation. If that was a real bad thing to do seven years ago, you probably should not have run the committee all night long and voted at o-dark-thirty in the morning, past two o'clock this time. Quite frankly, right now it looks as if Nancy Pelosi was more efficient—maybe not right, but much more efficient with her people's time. Not a great start.

Let me go to topic number two. It may come as a surprise to some people in this room that Amodei wants to say thank you to Senator Harry Reid. I do. Do you know why? Lately there have been some people that have got some minor concerns—some of them might even be within a hundred or two hundred feet of where I stand now—about public lands. I think it is worth having a little lesson about our history in public lands for a minute, before we get to the best part. Once again, let us take a look at the facts and see what makes sense. Here is some food for thought: The single most successful piece of public lands legislation in the history of the nation is the Southern Nevada Public Lands Management Act, a piece of legislation that was bipartisan and is about 20 years old. It has done what for the folks in Clark County—not just Clark County, though? It has given people in places like the Clark County Commission, the Las Vegas City Council, the North Las Vegas City Council, the Henderson City Council, and the Boulder City Council the ability to have local control over if, when, and how they grow, by a process which is completely transparent and sells at public auction federal land surrounding the most vibrant commercial area in our state, directly to developers. What do we do with those proceeds? You folks know the list. There is an education component, there is a natural resources component, and some of it goes back to the federal government. Quite frankly, it was a visionary piece of legislation that is still working well. It even dealt with endangered species issues on the desert tortoise. So there it is.

In the five and a half years that I have had the responsibility of representing the state, and specifically this part of the state, we have passed a couple of more bills. I want to make it real clear: They would not have passed without Harry Reid's support. The Nevada Native Nations Land Act transferred 60,000 to 70,000 acres, and the McDermitt tribe up in northern Nevada that had checkerboard throughout its Indian reservation received about 19,000 of those acres. As those in the judicial business know, if you are chasing a suspect and you are on tribal land, then you are on federal land, then you are on tribal land, it makes jurisdictional issues kind of tough.

I have to tell you about the speed at which public lands legislation moves. When I went up to meet with them originally, they said We need a little help on this lands thing. We have this checkerboard and we would like to get that. I said We do not keep the gate. If you have a county commission resolution or something from your tribal council or whatever, we will introduce it and we will see how it goes. They said We had a bill. Really? Have you got a copy of it? Yes, we do. So somebody went back into the tribal offices and came back out with a Senate bill that was introduced in 1972 by Alan Bible and Howard Cannon on behalf of the McDermitt tribe. They get the patience award. Nonetheless, finally we got that done.

The other one is the Northern Nevada Land Conservation and Economic Development Act, a bill that created 75,000 acres of wilderness. It never would have happened without United States Senator Harry Reid. We had some problems. It was a Lyon County-centric thing. For five years, there were some folks up in Humboldt County fighting for the Pine Forest Range Wilderness. They did everything from the bottom up—landowners, conservation groups, the whole nine yards. They came together and said Here is what we want. They had been working on it for five years, and it had not gone anywhere. So this bill started to move and they say We are going to do this new wilderness—50,000 acres, Wavoka. Here you go. But those folks up in Winnemucca had been doing the right thing for five years. I am not going back up to Winnemucca and saying Guess what, the newest wilderness area in the state is one that, quite frankly, started real fast and finished in front of you folks. So we added that in, but we came down to a final snag on an issue. There were some folks who said We do not want you to be able to put mechanized equipment in a wilderness area to fight wildland fires. Well, we have had it in bills before. Would you rather see it burn up? We do not want that. It was Harry Reid who said It is going. We put, under those circumstances, mechanized equipment in wilderness areas to try to fight the fires. So I want to say this because it is a controversial time in terms of public land bills in some minds. Let me just give you a federal report before we move on.

As we speak, 25 percent of the counties in Nevada have either requested, through their county commissions, public lands bills to be introduced or are starting to draft some. Those four counties represent, with their combined population through their county commissioners, about 90 percent of the population of the state. You can guess who two of the four are, and so I say this: As long as I am given the responsibility of representing this state—and by the way, that has changed a little bit after the election, as the only guy in the elephant pasture in the house—you are riding for the brand of the state, at least I think you should. When we talk about public lands bills, regardless of where they are in the state, and when looking at that history where over eight out of every ten acres in the state is federal, that is part of existence, we will continue to listen to people. I have gotten a lot of feedback on House Resolution 1484. The bill will change. I think, quite frankly, if somebody went to the Governor and said We are going to give you 10 million acres and you get to manage it, those of you who sit on the budget committees, as well as the Governor, would probably say Do not call me, I will call you. We have heard that. The issue here, right where I started with public lands, is local control—local control that gave local officials, elected officials in Clark County, some key power to decide how they wanted to grow. We are going to continue to look for ways to increase local control in the 115th Congress, and if it is not through ownership, then that is fine. There are other ways. When the bill comes out, you will see it. We will take more input. Remember, I am a process guy. We will see where that ends up. I am looking forward to continuing that discussion and moving along down that road.

That is probably enough. I see the light is starting to fade outside, so I want to get to the most important part of the evening and what will hopefully set the standard for other people. I was in Elko about three years ago. I notice that Judge Parraguirre is missing, so he cannot represent the sheepherder nation, but Pete Goicoechea was nice enough to stay so he can represent part of it, and I know there are other folks of Basque heritage in here. I was up in Elko going over the schedule for the next day, talking to my rural representative up there. I said I have this meeting with the coffee klatch in the morning. She said No, it is the P.I.C.O.N. club. I said, "Oh, okay, the drink; I get it." I am not masculine enough to drink them without going into vapor lock but most of you are. I see Mr. Ellison over there smiling. I know he has never had one, but bear with me. She said, "No, P.I.C.O.N.—P.I.C.O.N., People in Charge of Nevada. That is what they call themselves."

Now, most of you know I am not a very clever guy, but I thought that was very clever. Let's do a logo and have chapters all over the state, in different cities and towns so everyone can have their own chapter of People in Charge of Nevada. It has been going on for a couple of years, and I must apologize. We have a D.C. chapter; we have Las Vegas, Mesquite, Ely, and Winnemucca chapters. Elko got to be chapter number one—sorry, they thought of it. So we have all these chapters. I thought about this being scheduled for tonight, and I thought, We do not have a state P.I.C.O.N chapter. I apologize for that. I am here tonight to remedy that situation. I have had state chapter P.I.C.O.N Club hats made for each member of the Assembly and the Senate so that you can all be People in Charge of Nevada. The Sergeant at Arms will distribute those to members. Knowing that there were other people here, I would also like to distribute, for the state chapter, the first hat to you, Governor Sandoval, with your name on the back. Secretary Cegavske, since you are in charge of paperwork and filing and stuff like that, your hat is in here. Would you please see that these are distributed to the Controller, the Attorney General, and the other officials whose names are on the back? I would very much appreciate it.

Even though I am an inactive member of the State Bar, forgetting the Supreme Court is never a good idea, active or inactive. Mr. Chief Justice, I have seven hats here for the members of the Supreme Court. Welcome to the state chapter of People in Charge of Nevada.

And with that, Mr. President pro Tem, Mr. Speaker, thank you for your kindness and indulgence. Those conclude my remarks, and good luck in the rest of your session.

Assembly Bill No. 141.
Bill read second time and ordered to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 162.
Bill read second time and ordered to third reading.

Assembly Bill No. 142.
Bill read third time.
Remarks by Assemblymen Ohrenschall, Pickard, Flores, and Edwards.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Assembly Bill 142 authorizes the district court to make the factual findings necessary to enable a child to apply for federal status as a special immigrant juvenile. The findings may be made by the district court at any time during a proceeding held in the district court or a division of the district court having jurisdiction to make judicial determinations regarding the custody and care of juveniles. A person may file a petition with the court requesting that the court make these findings to enable a child to apply for status as a special immigrant juvenile. If the court determines there is evidence to support these findings, the court is required to issue an order setting forth the findings. This measure also provides that any records containing information concerning the immigration status of such a child that are not otherwise confidential must be sealed and made available for inspection only by certain persons. Lastly, the Supreme Court is required to adopt any rules and procedures necessary to implement the provisions of this bill.

ASSEMBLYMAN PICKARD:

I rise in support of this bill. I think it is important to understand that this is intended to protect the most vulnerable among us, however they may have arrived in our country. We have a duty to protect them, and this is a small step in ensuring that they achieve the protections that they need.

ASSEMBLYMAN FLORES:

I rise in support. I just want to let my colleagues know that this entire conversation that wraps around this bill is about federalism. The idea is very simple. Federal law dictates what the definition is and what the law is under special immigrant juvenile, procedurally how that works. Federal law dictates that it is up to the state to grant this guardianship and/or custody because federal law recognizes that every single state has different laws pertaining to guardianship and custody. The differences that we have in the states mandate that we give the flexibility to each individual jurisdiction to say how that is going to work. But it is federal law mandating, telling us that we have to do it. The reason we had to bring this bill forward is that there is no parity right now between federal law and state law. Federal law is mandating that we do this and the state law has no guidance. All this bill does is take the federal language, we put it in the NRS [Nevada Revised Statutes], and we create guidance so that the courts know what they are supposed to do per federal mandate, and then it goes through the vetting process at the Department of Homeland Security level. We are not giving any more authority than federal law mandates that we give. I urge all of my colleagues to vote in support of this measure.

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWARDS:

This bill has been a little bit back and forth in my mind as far as the federalism issues, the judicial issues, and so on. I can understand the comments of my colleague from the south. I think it clarified a couple of things for me, and I would say this: As we move forward with this kind of legislation, we need to be very mindful of just what a contentious issue this could be. I want to make sure that we make sure the state does what the state is supposed to do, and the feds do what they are supposed to do, and we never intermingle the two. I will be supporting the measure, but I do so while issuing some caution that we do it right.

Roll call on Assembly Bill No. 142:

Assembly Bill 85 removes a condition that requires instruction in cardiopulmonary resuscitation techniques and the use of an automated external defibrillator be provided as part of a course of study in health taught to pupils in public and private secondary schools only to the extent money is available for that purpose, thereby making such instruction mandatory. This bill is effective on July 1, 2017.

This is a bill that was brought to ensure that our younger students in school are able to have just the basic understanding of the things that I mentioned in the summary. This personally affected me when I was in high school because I was able to assist in resuscitating my own mom when I was in high school. I know how important this would be to help our younger students that may come across this. We had testimony to that effect, somebody that saved their father. I would really ask the body to pass this bill.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

Assemblyman Wheeler requested that the following remarks be entered in the Journal.

ASSEMBLYMAN EDWARDS:

America was born in revolution. Through the amazing patriotism of the colonial soldier and sailor, these United States were created. For 240 years, patriots of every generation have heeded the call for military service in defense of our republic—240 years of dedication, sacrifice, and unswerving commitment to the ideals of this great nation. In times of war and of peace, those we call veterans rose to face dangers known and unknown, protected our citizens, and preserved our way of life.

Only 10 percent of Americans today can claim the title of veteran. Since the horrific terrorist attacks of September 11, only 1 percent of our population has worn the country's uniform. Currently, less than 1 percent of our citizens are defending us in the Global War on Terrorism. To paraphrase Winston Churchill, never have so many owed so much to so few.

It is perhaps very fitting that today, as we celebrate Veterans and Military Day at the Nevada Legislature, we remember our state nickname, Battle Born. For like America, the Silver State was born in war, indeed the bloodiest and most horrific in our history. Our veterans have lived up to the state motto All for Our Country ever since, serving around the world in every conflict. Indeed, 894 have made the ultimate sacrifice for our country, their families, this state, and for us.

What we rarely hear about are the sacrifices made by the families of military service members and veterans. While those on active duty carry out their responsibilities during their deployments, families must soldier on during holidays, anniversaries, school plays, and all those invaluable moments, absent their loved ones. Most will tell you that their families are their heroes. As we honor our veterans and military service members today, let us take a moment to say thank you to those loved ones who are so left behind.

While we express our appreciation for the service and sacrifices freely given by our soldiers, sailors, airmen, marines, and veterans, let us make sure that this Legislature provides them the means to take care of themselves and their loved ones. Let us dedicate our time here in the legislative session to doing the right things for those who have done so much right for us. We owe that to Nevada's 300,000 service members and veterans.

Please join me in thanking the military service members and veterans here today, those around the Battle Born State, and especially those stationed or deployed on foreign shores for their service, sacrifice, dedication, and love of country.

ASSEMBLYMAN OSCARSON:

It is my distinct honor and privilege to have with me today Mr. Gil Hernandez, Mr. Frank Reynolds, and Brigadier General William Burks. Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Hernandez are both Purple Heart recipients.

With your permission, Mr. Speaker, I would like to give some brief remarks. This Proclamation of the Nevada Legislature designates the state of Nevada as a Purple Heart State. It strongly encourages Nevadans to honor Purple Heart recipients and honors the service and sacrifice of the nation's men and women in uniform wounded or killed by the enemy while serving to protect our freedoms.

The Purple Heart is awarded to members of the armed forces who are wounded or killed in action as a result of enemy activity. The Purple Heart is the oldest known military decoration in the United States that continues to be used and was created as the badge of Military Merit by General George Washington. To honor combat-wounded veterans for their service and sacrifice, several states have designated their states as Purple Heart States. Today we honor Purple Heart veterans by designating Nevada as a Purple Heart State.

Gentlemen, it is one of my most distinct honors and privileges to present this to you.

ASSEMBLYMAN KRAMER:

I am a veteran of the United States Army. I volunteered at a time when many were leaving the country to avoid being drafted. While I was trained for and expected to serve in Vietnam, I served in the United States and Korea. I believe that the United States military is by far the most prejudice-free, merit-based organization on earth. It used to be that the Army would take someone who was given the choice of jail or military service—not any more. Today you have to be a high school graduate and actually have references. The Army wants trainable recruits who can learn to work a high-tech job. The Army is also a place where an economically disadvantaged person can go to learn a skill and, perhaps more important, save money for college. I am proud of my service and will encourage my grandchildren to serve. Please join me in giving thanks to our veterans and I ask you to remember that all gave some, but some gave all.

Assemblyman Wheeler requested that the following proclamation be entered in the Journal.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The residents of the State of Nevada have great admiration and the utmost gratitude for the men and women who have served our country and this State in the Armed Forces of the United States, selflessly making personal sacrifices to defend our freedom, leaving their families and homes, and placing themselves in harm's way for the good of all; and

WHEREAS, The courage of these men and women who have served in the Armed Forces has been fundamental to maintaining the freedom and quality of life enjoyed by our citizens; and

WHEREAS, The Purple Heart is the oldest known military decoration in the United States that continues to be used and was created as the Badge of Military Merit by General George Washington on August 7, 1782; and

WHEREAS, The Purple Heart is specifically a combat decoration, awarded to members of the Armed Forces of the United States who are wounded by an instrument in the hands of the enemy, and posthumously to the family members of those who were killed in action, who died of wounds received in action or who died as prisoners of war while in captivity; and

WHEREAS, Since 1864, there have been 894 residents of this State awarded the Purple Heart for giving their lives in armed combat, and many more who have been awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in combat; now, therefore, be it

PROCLAIMED, That the members of the 79th Session of the Nevada State Legislature do hereby designate the State of Nevada to be a Purple Heart State; and be it further

PROCLAIMED, That the members of the 79th Session of the Nevada Legislature hereby acknowledge with gratitude the service of and sacrifices made by the men and women in uniform who have been wounded or killed by the enemy while serving to protect our freedom; and be it further

SECOND READING AND AMENDMENT

Senate Joint Resolution No. 2.

Resolution read second time.

SENATORS SPEARMAN, CANCELA, CANNIZZARO, RATTI, WOODHOUSE; ATKINSON, DENIS, FARLEY, FORD, MANENDO, PARKS AND SEGERBLOM

ASSEMBLYMEN ARAUJO, BILBRAY-AXELROD, BROOKS, BUSTAMANTE ADAMS, CARLTON, CARRILLO, COHEN, DIAZ, FRIERSON, JAUREGUI, JOINER, MILLER ~~[AND]~~ , MONROE-MORENO, OHRENSCHALL, SPIEGEL, SPRINKLE AND YEAGER

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION—Ratifying the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States providing that equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under Article V of the United States Constitution, Congress has the power to propose an amendment to the federal Constitution and to determine the mode of ratification. (U.S. Const. Art. V) In 1972, Congress passed the Equal Rights Amendment and sent it to the states for ratification, imposing a 7-year time limit for ratification in the resolving clause of the Amendment, but later extended this time limit to June 30, 1982. The Equal Rights Amendment was ratified by 35 states before the deadline. Under Coleman v. Miller, 307 U.S. 433, 450, 456 (1939), the United States Supreme Court held that, as a political question, Congress may determine whether an amendment is valid because ratifications of the amendment are made within a reasonable period of time, even after the deadline. This resolution ratifies the Equal Rights Amendment, which provides for equality of rights under the law regardless of sex.

WHEREAS, Both houses of the 92nd Congress of the United States of America, by a constitutional majority of two-thirds, adopted the following resolution proposing to amend the United States Constitution:

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED (TWO-THIRDS OF EACH HOUSE CONCURRING THEREIN), That the following article is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which shall be valid to all intents and purposes as part of the Constitution when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States within seven years from the date of its submission by the Congress:

ARTICLE.....

Section 1. Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.

Section 2. The Congress shall have the power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

Section 3. This amendment shall take effect two years after the date of ratification; and

WHEREAS, The 95th Congress of the United States amended the resolution of the 92nd Congress to extend the time for ratification to June 30, 1982, thereby indicating its continued support of the amendment; and

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States adopted the 27th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which was proposed in 1789 by our First Congress but not ratified by three-fourths of the States until May 7, 1992, and, on May 18, 1992, certified as the 27th Amendment; and

WHEREAS, The restricting time limit for ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment is in the resolving clause and is not part of the amendment which was proposed by Congress and which has already been ratified by 35 states; and

WHEREAS, Having passed a time extension for the Equal Rights Amendment on October 20, 1978, Congress demonstrated that a time limit in a resolving clause may be disregarded if it is not part of the proposed amendment; and

WHEREAS, The United States Supreme Court in Coleman v. Miller, 307 U.S. 433 (1939), recognized that Congress is in a unique position to judge the tenor of the nation, to be aware of the political, social and economic factors affecting the nation and to be aware of the importance to the nation of the proposed amendment; and

WHEREAS, If an amendment to the Constitution of the United States has been proposed by two-thirds of both houses of Congress and ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures, it is for Congress, under the principles of Coleman v. Miller, to determine the validity of the state ratifications occurring after a time limit in the resolving clause, but not in the amendment itself; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of Nevada finds that the proposed amendment is meaningful and needed as part of the Constitution of the United States and that the present political, social and economic conditions demonstrate that constitutional equality for women and men continues to be a timely issue in the United States; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, JOINTLY, That the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America is hereby ratified by the Legislature of the State of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate shall prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of State ~~[for her certification and transmittal]~~ who shall keep it as a true record of the official acts of the Legislative Department of the State Government pursuant to Section 20 of Article 5 of the Nevada Constitution; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate shall prepare and transmit a certified copy of this resolution, duly authenticated, to the Archivist of the United States at the National Archives and Records Administration pursuant to 1 U.S.C. §§ 106b and 112 ~~[.]~~ , which shall serve as official notice that the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States of America is hereby ratified by the Legislature of the State of Nevada; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Secretary of the Senate shall prepare and transmit a copy of this resolution to the Vice President of the United States as the presiding officer of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and each member of the Nevada Congressional Delegation; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this resolution becomes effective upon passage.

Assembly Bill No. 17.

Bill read third time.

Remarks by Assemblyman Carrillo.

ASSEMBLYMAN CARRILLO:

Assembly Bill 17 requires the driver of a vehicle who approaches an authorized vehicle of the Department of Transportation that is stopped and is displaying a flashing amber light or a blue light that is located at the rear of the vehicle to take the same precautions that currently apply when approaching an emergency vehicle or a tow truck that is stopped and is displaying flashing lights. The effective date is July 1, 2017.

Existing law requires a driver who is approaching an emergency vehicle or a tow truck that is stopped and is displaying flashing lights to decrease his or her speed, proceed with caution, be prepared to stop, and if possible, drive in a lane that is not adjacent to the lane in which the vehicle or tow car is stopped. Existing law also provides that a violation of these requirements is a misdemeanor.

On March 30, 2015, Ron Raiche, Jr., a highway maintenance worker for Nevada's Department of Transportation [NDOT] was working on crucial repairs to Interstate 80 just west of Battle Mountain. Around 9:30 that morning, the driver of a commercial truck drifted onto the right shoulder and struck Ron, who was pronounced dead at the scene. Ron, who was from Battle Mountain, was just 47 years old when he passed away. He had worked just over one year at NDOT. He is missed by all those who had the opportunity to know and work with him.

Since 1948, 24 NDOT employees have tragically lost their lives in the line of service. In 2015, there were 12 fatal vehicle crashes in work zones on Nevada roads. Nationwide, work zone crashes claim three lives every day. It is crucial that we protect the men and women that build and maintain roads that we will all use every day. Assembly Bill 17 will go a long way to ensure that they receive that protection. For their own safety and for the safety of everyone working on our roads, it is critical for motorists to drive safely, slow down, and pay special attention to roadwork zones. Therefore, I urge the body to pass A.B. 17.

A person who willfully violates the provisions governing document preparation services is guilty of a gross misdemeanor unless the offense results in irreparable harm to a client, in which case the person is guilty of a category D felony.

Assembly Bill 239 enacts the Revised Uniform Fiduciary Access to Digital Assets Act to establish provisions to give certain fiduciaries and other designated persons the legal authority to manage the digital assets and electronic communications of deceased or incapacitated persons. The measure also gives custodians of digital assets and electronic communications the legal authority to deal with a fiduciary or designated recipient of a person holding an account with the custodian.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

I rise in support of Assembly Bill 239. A lot of us do not like to talk about what will happen when we leave this mortal realm, but Assembly Bill 239 actually helps people deal with that in our modern technological era. Many of us, most of us, have email; a lot of us are on social media, Facebook, Instagram, and all those other accounts. A lot of us have not made plans as to what will happen to that account after we pass. Assembly Bill 239, the Revised Uniform Fiduciary Access to Digital Assets Act, will bring Nevada law into conformance with 23 other jurisdictions that have passed it, and it allows us to basically make a choice on that social media account, for Facebook and for Google Gmail, and decide whether you want someone to have that authority and have your account. Maybe there are family pictures; there are mementos, things you want your relatives to have. Maybe you want the account deleted upon your death; that is an option too.

If this passes, Nevada will become the 24th jurisdiction in the country to pass this. It will allow your testamentary wishes to be applicable, basically, online. It will not have to be part of the will or trust if you do not want it to be. This will really help our constituents. It is being considered in 17 other state legislatures right now. There was no opposition this year from any of the social media companies. It unanimously passed your Judiciary Committee. I urge its support.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 7.

Resolution read third time.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

Assembly Joint Resolution 7 expresses the opposition of the Nevada Legislature to certain proposed changes to Medicare and the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act of 1935. The resolution urges Congress to work toward a bipartisan solution to preserve fully these benefits and to avoid privatization of the provisions.

Your committee on Legislative Operations and Elections heard your resolution to ensure that Americans receive those benefits that they were promised way early in their work careers. As elected representatives, we need to strive and work in a bipartisan manner to ensure that these promises are upheld and that we are going to continue to ensure that the program to take care of folks is there and augmented versus scaled back significantly. We are just trying to make a statement that what was promised to people is what we continue to provide for people.

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

I rise in opposition to Assembly Joint Resolution 7. In our hearing in Legislative Operations, I presented my great-grandfather's Social Security Card from 1936, so I want to make it very clear, I am not against Social Security or against Medicare. However, there are some important points I think we need to resolve in this thing. First, we have included the so-called Affordable Care Act, which has been anything but affordable. In fact, anybody that has anything to do with it in the state of Nevada knows the premiums are going through the roof at the same time the deductibles are also rising. I think we are down to one insurance company in the state that is willing to cover anybody under it. So I object to that in the bill, first of all. That should not have been included in it.

The other thing that I think it is important to note from a historical perspective is that the federal government, starting in the Lyndon Baines Johnson Administration in the 1960s, began to take all of the money that was sent into the so-called Social Security Trust Fund and diverted it into the federal government's general fund and replaced it with IOUs that they called bonds. If that had been done by a private company, it would have been the crimes of embezzlement and defalcation. One of the number one reasons that we are having problems today with Social Security, when it is compared in an actuarial table, is because the government for many, many years has essentially been robbing the cash that we are all putting into it, which we think is going into accounts for us, and spending it in the general fund.

Those are some reasons that I think we need to keep in mind here. Another thing this bill does is demonize anybody that suggests any solutions to the potential problem. Anybody who actually studies the issue knows that we have a big problem coming with these things because we, frankly, do not have the money set aside to pay off all the people in it. Yet the bill actually demonizes anybody who has any suggestions other than maintaining the status quo. So I urge my colleagues to vote no on this. I am certainly in favor of Social Security and Medicare, but I think the idea that we are going to pass a resolution demanding that we keep the status quo, including the Affordable Care Act, is a huge mistake.

GENERAL FILE AND THIRD READING

Senate Joint Resolution No. 2.

Resolution read third time.

Remarks by Assemblymen Ohrenschall, Diaz, Titus, Hansen, Tolles, and Carlton.

ASSEMBLYMAN OHRENSCHALL:

Senate Joint Resolution 2 ratifies the Equal Rights Amendment [ERA] to the United States Constitution. This resolution provides that the Secretary of the Senate must prepare and transmit a copy of S.J.R. 2 to the Secretary of State, who shall keep it as a record of acts of the Legislature. The Secretary of the Senate shall also transmit a certified copy to the Archivist of the United States and a copy of S.J.R. 2 to the Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and each member of Nevada's Congressional Delegation.

I think what we are doing today is one of our most awesome responsibilities. We are proposing to amend the U.S. Constitution. This is something that spans more than 40 years, and it is a historic moment for us. When I was trying to decide what to say today under Order of Business 15, I really thought that we have to ask ourselves one question: When is a woman equal to a man? Many of us here were raised by single moms—I grew up knowing when the rent was due. The landlord does not care if it is a woman or a man who has to pay the family's rent. The landlord believes the woman is equal to a man. When the light bill is due, the light company believes a woman is equal to a man when they want that payment. When groceries need to be bought for the family, the supermarket does not care if it is a man or a woman. They are every bit as equal as long as they can buy those groceries. The Equal Rights Amendment will enshrine in our Constitution that there is no question that women are equal to men and able to enjoy the same rights that all of us enjoy. I urge this body to pass Senate Joint Resolution 2.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN DIAZ:

I rise today in strong support of Senate Joint Resolution 2, a resolution that ratifies Nevada's support for the Equal Rights Amendment. Opponents of this resolution argue that the time for ratification has passed and that the protections that this ratification would provide are already covered in the Constitution. If these are the only two arguments against the resolution, then I do not see how it does not pass out of this body 42 to 0. As we have discussed in our Legislative Operations and Elections Committee and as others have mentioned before, it is up to Congress to decide whether or not the ratification deadline has effectively ended the chance of ERA passage nationwide. If the protections are already piecemeal in the Constitution, then why not enshrine them there to ensure all of these equality measures are in place and we are all truly covered?

Mr. Speaker and colleagues, 97 years after women gained the right to vote, we still do not have equality in our state or in our country. We still do not have equal representation in government, and women earn less on the dollar than men. This is why we need the passage of this resolution. There are forces out there that want to stand in the way of progress and stand in the way of equality instead of simply doing the right thing—voting for passage of this resolution and showing the nation and citizens of our state that we stand for equality.

We need passage of this resolution for every constituent of ours who currently earns less than a male counterpart in her office, 79 cents on each dollar. We need passage of this bill for women of color. We live in a nation that somehow still sees Hispanic or Latina women make 54 cents on the dollar compared to a white man, and black women make 64 cents on the dollar compared to a white man.

This resolution is symbolic and not in a bad way. It is not being used purely for symbolism. This resolution is a symbol to our constituents and state that enshrines in our Constitution, with so many other inalienable rights, that being a woman is not less than or more than a man, but is equal to a man. And beyond symbolism, Mr. Speaker, if this resolution spurs the adoption of the ERA nationwide, we will see some very practical implications. The ERA would provide a judicial standard when it comes to cases of sex discrimination, and it would strengthen the 14th Amendment to allow us to see that amendment grant equal rights on the basis of sex. Lastly, the ERA would provide attorneys a stronger legal defense against the attempted rollback of women's rights that we are seeing in other states in our nation and ensure that does not happen here in Nevada.

Mr. Speaker, for every woman, and more so for every Nevadan, I rise in full support of S.J.R. 2 and hope to see my colleagues support it wholeheartedly as well. This vote is for the former Honorable Jean Ford, Sue Wagner, and the men and women who have been fighting for equal rights for what seems like forever.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TITUS:

I rise today deeply disturbed by the political theatrics that this body is seemingly always engaged in. Hardly a week goes by that this Assembly is not casting some symbolic vote or a vote on some piece of long-settled social legislation. As for myself, I abhor any kind of discrimination, be it gender, skin color, or sexual orientation. I believe that most Nevadans feel the same way I do.

After an election cycle where we saw a female for the first time with the nomination of a major party for President and then saw a record number of women elected to this body, let there be no doubt that the role of women in America is settled in 2017. It is settled as law; it is settled in the values we hold dear as Nevadans.

I will be voting no, not because I do not believe that the ERA should have been passed 30 years ago, but because I do not believe that my constituents sent me here to cast symbolic votes with no promise of success. They sent me here to create an environment that fosters high-quality and high-paying jobs, safer streets, better education, and a government accountable to the people. For those reasons and many more, I urge my fellow members to vote no.

ASSEMBLYMAN HANSEN:

I rise in opposition to Senate Joint Resolution 2. I would like to give the body an explanation of what my amendment was actually about, because as most of you already know, this is a pretty old issue. In 1978, this exact question was on the Nevada ballot and the citizens of our state voted overwhelmingly, 2-to-1, against passage of the Equal Rights Amendment. What my amendment, which was just voted down on a party-line vote, did was to, once again, take this proposed amendment and place it before the voters of the state of Nevada to see if, in fact, as the proponents of this have suggested, Nevada has changed so much. Why exactly we would want to not allow the citizens of our state an opportunity to vote on such a critical issue, I do not quite understand.

Just a little, quick background on the actual historical facts behind this—in 1982, June 30, 1982, the deadline for the ERA passed. It did not pass at that time. The National Organization for Women sued the state of Idaho over this, and the United State Supreme Court ruled that the Equal Rights Amendment was dead. It was moot at that point in time. So if we want to, in fact, resurrect the Equal Rights Amendment, what we are doing here is purely symbolic because the courts have already ruled that this amendment is dead. The process to have an amendment has to start in the United States Congress, or we as a body have to call for a state convention to actually propose an amendment to the Constitution. So I think we need to understand that. The proponents will say What about the fact that some people claim there is a legal doctrine that would allow it to be resurrected. That is found in Coleman v. Miller, a 1939 Supreme Court case. In that court case, the United States Supreme Court did, in fact, say that when there is an amendment proposed to the Constitution, there is no cap on the time-frame unless Congress had specified that there was. In this case, Congress clearly did. The original deadline of the Equal Rights Amendment was 1979, and they extended it to 1982 and it still failed.

So while I appreciate the symbolism, the reality is this: The Equal Rights Amendment is a tremendous transfer of power from the states to the United States federal government—the last thing we need in Nevada. Virtually every single issue that has been addressed as far as inequality and sexual discrimination is now found in statute in the state of Nevada. All of the issues that have been addressed in front of the Legislative Operations and Elections Committee and so forth are already in statute. If you are being discriminated against in your pay and you are a female and your employer is deliberately paying a male more than you with the same amounts of seniority and so forth, you have a fantastic legal case under Nevada's existing law.

Mr. Speaker, thank you for indulging me. I would urge all my colleagues who really love the process and believe that an amendment to the United States Constitution is something extremely serious, and that we should follow the procedures that our Founding Fathers laid out in the Constitution—I would urge all of those folks to vote no on Senate Joint Resolution 2.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN TOLLES:

Thank you Mr. Speaker. I rise in support of Senate Joint Resolution 2. In November of 1916, 100 years before every legislator in this body was elected for this term of office, Republican Jeannette Rankin was elected as the first female to Congress. Just three years later in 1920 women around the United States won the right to vote. There were two primary arguments behind the movement for women's suffrage. One group claimed that there were no differences between men and women and they should be treated exactly alike. Another group advocated that although men and women were similar in many ways, there were inherent differences and that what was missing in American politics was the female voice to help the country focus on issues that would otherwise be ignored. These were two vastly different perspectives and approaches. You might say that one was liberal and one was conservative, but they were both able to come together around the common goal of fighting for a woman's right to use her voice and her vote.

Fast forward to the 1970s and a new conversation began about whether or not women were of equal worth in the workplace. In the 1970s my mom was a single mom working hard during the day for my brother and I. She worked hard at night studying for her Series 7, and eventually she became one of the first female stockbrokers in the male-dominated industry in a large national firm. A few years ago when the popular TV show Mad Men came out, people would ask her if she watched it and she said, "I don't have to. I lived it."

We have come a long way since then. In fact, Nevada was at the forefront of the fight for women's rights in many regards, passing over two dozen antidiscrimination laws, essentially fulfilling the goals of the Equal Rights Amendment at the statutory level. But as of today, in 2017, there is a still a gap. Nevada is one of only nine, yes nine, states that has not voted for an equal rights amendment either on the federal or state level. Over the past 45 years, 35 states voted for the ERA to be ratified into the U.S. Constitution and 24 states went further to pass a version of their own into their state constitutions.

I will confess to you that I hesitated on this vote today. I am conservative; I am cautious about overly cumbersome burdens on business, and most importantly, I am committed to fighting for the rights of unborn future women and men. I know there are strong convictions and feelings about these topics, and I hope we can continue to have those debates in respectful and factual ways. But as I surveyed the past 45 years after 41 states have voted for some form of ERA, I am convinced that many of the fearful consequences that have been presented over these past few weeks by and large have not nor will they occur. In fact, there have been over 300 pro-life laws passed in the last eight years alone, most in states that voted for the ERA.

The second reason I hesitated was because the deadline for the ERA passed over 35 years ago, as has been pointed out, and according to a 1982 U.S. Supreme Court order, it has been deemed moot. So why vote for something that some would argue is purely symbolic? I would argue this Chamber is full of symbolism. On my left hand I wear a ring that symbolizes my promise to love, respect, and stay faithful to one man for the rest of my life. We stand underneath a seal that reminds us we are a Battle Born State and that Home Means Nevada, and we pledge allegiance to a flag every single day to celebrate the freedom that was so hard fought for.

Forty-four years ago my predecessor, Sue Wagner, who is here with us today—served in Assembly District 25, then Senate District 15, and then went on to be the first female Lieutenant Governor in Nevada—fought hard for the Equal Rights Amendment. Out of gratitude and respect for her and the countless others who have fought for women to have an equal voice and equal value, and for my daughters and the generations to come, I stand in support of the declaration that the state of Nevada values both men and women equally. Thank you.

ASSEMBLYWOMAN CARLTON:

I rise today in support of Senate Joint Resolution 2. I started my political career on the Equal Rights Amendment. Back in the early '70s I was in high school—you know you do not worry about telling people your age once you get elected to office because it becomes part of history, so you do not even bother to try and hide it anymore. Mr. Speaker, I came from a mixed family at home. My mother was a Democrat, my father was a Republican. We were Irish-German so the dinner table was always a very lively place to be, and my friends would always want to come and listen to the debate we had. I remember wearing my ERA button to the dinner table one night. It was not a real smart move on my part. So we had a real long conversation about that, and I remember my mother wrapping up the conversation after everybody had had their say. She told the story and reminded my father about how she had to take her wedding ring off to go to work because married women could not keep their jobs. She had a very good job in south St. Louis working for a very well-known company, but once you got married, you were asked to leave because you were probably going to have a baby. They did not want married women. At that time, my mother made more than my father, so they made the decision, and every day on the streetcar when she went to work, she took her wedding ring off, she put it in a tissue, and she put it in her coin purse. That ring of symbolism she had to remove in order to keep her job because she wanted a house for her children, and that is how they were going to get a house.

Time went by and eventually my mother became pregnant with me. I am the oldest of five. It was time to tell her employer that she had to go. Her employer felt bad about it, did not want it to happen. It did not stop them from firing her though. There is no reason why someone who is perfectly capable of doing a job, very good at it, very dedicated, should be asked to leave their employment and should not be allowed to wear that symbol every day to show the love that she and my father had.

I vote for this today in honor of my mother, my grandmother, and my two daughters. I got elected to this body so that this will not happen any longer. Symbolism or not, it is time to send the message.

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

March 21, 2017

THE HONORABLE JASON FRIERSON, SPEAKER OF THE NEVADA STATE ASSEMBLY, The Nevada Legislature, 401 South Carson Street, Carson City, NV 89701

RE: Initiative Petition No. 1 of the 79th Legislative Session

DEAR SPEAKER FRIERSON:

I am herewith forwarding to you, for filing within the constitutional time limit and without my approval, Initiative Petition No. 1, which is entitled:

> AN ACT relating to elections; establishing procedures by which the Department of Motor Vehicles must, under certain circumstances, transmit certain information to register a person to vote or update a person's voter registration information; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

INTRODUCTION

Initiative Petition No. 1 ("IP1"), The Automatic Voter Registration Initiative, proposes "an amendment to the Nevada Code to provide for automatic voter registration of citizens qualified to vote when they obtain services from the Department of Motor Vehicles ("DMV"), such as applying for a driver's license." (See Attachment "A", pp. 1, 21) (emphasis added). IP1 also states "[t]hose who do not want the DMV to facilitate their voter registration may affirmatively decline this assistance." Id.

IP1 advances a worthy goal by encouraging more eligible Nevadans to register to vote. However, such a result must partner with sound policy. IP1 fails this test because it extinguishes a fundamental, individual choice—the right of eligible voters to decide for themselves whether they desire to apply to register to vote—forfeiting this basic decision to state government.

Supporters of IP1 argue that the government's provision of an "opt-out" from the automatic application process substitutes for the decision by the individual to apply to register to vote. However, the core freedom of deciding whether one wishes to initiate voter registration belongs to the individual, not the government.

Moreover, if IP1 became law, it would create an unnecessary risk that people who are not qualified voters may unintentionally apply to vote, subjecting them to possible criminal prosecution, fines, and other legal action.

DISCUSSION

IP1 transforms Nevada's current registration system from an "opt-in" to an "opt-out" system, thereby compelling automatic application for voter registration for many (if not most) visitors to the Department of Motor Vehicles ("DMV"). Every DMV customer who applies for any type of driving privilege or identification card will automatically have an application for voter registration transmitted to a voter registrar or clerk, unless he or she affirmatively declines in writing.

Today, when customers request DMV forms to obtain a driver's license, instructional permit, driver authorization card, or identification card (Real ID or standard), they also receive a Nevada voter registration application. This is required pursuant to Nevada's "motor voter" law.

The application warns applicants in bold, all-caps language that providing false information is a felony that carries a civil penalty of up to $20,000. It then seeks answers to questions regarding the applicant's citizenship, age, reason for the application, and party affiliation (if any). Finally, applicants must swear or affirm under penalty of perjury that they are eligible to vote. (See Attachment "B", at 3.)

Nevada's existing "motor voter" process works; it is a good system that will improve through the recent (March 2017) adoption of a Memorandum of Understanding between the DMV and voting rights groups that makes it even easier for DMV customers to apply to register to vote—if they choose or are eligible to do so. Allowing DMV customers to voluntarily apply to register to vote while applying for driving privileges and identification cards has helped countless Nevadans. IP1 will not enhance this process.

IP1 fails to account for substantial differences between the qualifications to vote and the qualifications to obtain driving privileges or identification cards. For instance, one must be 18 years old to be eligible to vote, but one can be 16 years old to drive (and even younger to drive with an instructional permit). Non-citizens, some ex-felons and others may obtain driving privileges and identification cards, even though they cannot apply to register to vote.

To be candid, the proposed law does require the DMV to notify persons "of the qualifications to vote in this state." However, a person is "deemed to have consented" to the transmission of information unless the person "affirmatively declines in writing to apply to register to vote." Such a scenario does not protect against inadvertent application for registration and potential violation of law.

It is important to note that under Nevada law, the DMV does not determine an individual's eligibility to vote. Indeed, Nevada law prohibits DMV employees from making "any statement or [taking] any action to discourage an applicant from registering to vote." NRS 293.5045(1)(c). These same prohibitions may apply if IP1 becomes law, thus preventing DMV staff from discouraging likely ineligible individuals from applying for voter registration. Customers may, as a result, be subject to criminal prosecution simply through their inattention, misunderstanding, or ignorance of the process.

CONCLUSION

The current DMV voter registration process provides the necessary balance for voluntary and informed voter registration. IP1 upsets that balance, removing the element of allowing an individual to initiate the voter registration process, and increasing the possibility of improper registration.

Nevadans have many other opportunities to apply to register to vote outside of the DMV. Eligible voters can register by mail, online or in person at various public offices. It is also common, especially during election years, for various groups to offer voter registration at multiple locations. With all of these registration options, Nevadans have a multitude of voluntary voter registration opportunities.

Finally, I am mindful that my veto does not foreclose the debate on IP1. During the 2018 general election, Nevada voters will have the final say on compulsory application for voter registration at the Nevada DMV. The Nevada Constitution makes the people of Nevada the final arbiters of petitions, and they can, if they so choose, effectively overturn this veto at the ballot box. The decision to mandate compulsory application for voter registration by the government is better left with the public, who will be subject to its requirements.

For these reasons, I veto Initiative Petition 1.

Sincere regards,
BRIAN SANDOVAL
Governor

293.12757 A person may sign a petition required under the election laws of this State on or after the date the person is deemed to be registered to vote pursuant to NRS 293.517 , ~~[or]~~ subsection 7 of NRS 293.5235 ~~[.]~~ or section 6 of this act.

Sec. 9. NRS 293.1277 is hereby amended to read as follows:

293.1277 1. If the Secretary of State finds that the total number of signatures submitted to all the county clerks is 100 percent or more of the number of registered voters needed to declare the petition sufficient, the Secretary of State shall immediately so notify the county clerks. After the notification, each of the county clerks shall determine the number of registered voters who have signed the documents submitted in the county clerk's county and, in the case of a petition for initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or statewide measure, shall tally the number of signatures for each petition district contained or fully contained within the county clerk's county. This determination must be completed within 9 days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after the notification pursuant to this subsection regarding a petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to NRS 293.128, 295.056, 298.109, 306.035 or 306.110, and within 3 days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, after the notification pursuant to this subsection regarding a petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to NRS 293.172 or 293.200. For the purpose of verification pursuant to this section, the county clerk shall not include in his or her tally of total signatures any signature included in the incorrect petition district.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, if more than 500 names have been signed on the documents submitted to a county clerk, the county clerk shall examine the signatures by sampling them at random for verification. The random sample of signatures to be verified must be drawn in such a manner that every signature which has been submitted to the county clerk is given an equal opportunity to be included in the sample. The sample must include an examination of at least 500 or 5 percent of the signatures, whichever is greater. If documents were submitted to the county clerk for more than one petition district wholly contained within that county, a separate random sample must be performed for each petition district.

3. If a petition district comprises more than one county and the petition is for an initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or a statewide measure, and if more than 500 names have been signed on the documents submitted for that petition district, the appropriate county clerks shall examine the signatures by sampling them at random for verification. The random sample of signatures to be verified must be drawn in such a manner that every signature which has been submitted to the county clerks within the petition district is given an equal opportunity to be included in the sample. The sample must include an examination of at least 500 or 5 percent of the signatures presented in the petition district, whichever is greater. The Secretary of State shall determine the number of signatures that must be verified by each county clerk within the petition district.

4. In determining from the records of registration the number of registered voters who signed the documents, the county clerk may use the signatures contained in the file of applications to register to vote. If the county clerk uses that file, the county clerk shall ensure that every application in the file is examined, including any application in his or her possession which may not yet be entered into the county clerk's records. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 5, the county clerk shall rely only on the appearance of the signature and the address and date included with each signature in making his or her determination.

5. If:

(a) Pursuant to NRS 293.506, a county clerk establishes a system to allow persons to register to vote by computer; ~~[or]~~;

(b) A person registers to vote pursuant to NRS 293D.230 and signs his or her application to register to vote using a digital signature or an electronic signature ~~[.]~~ ; or

(c) A person registers to vote pursuant to section 4 of this act, the county clerk may rely on such other indicia as prescribed by the Secretary of State in making his or her determination.

6. In the case of a petition for initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or statewide measure, when the county clerk is determining the number of registered voters who signed the documents from each petition district contained fully or partially within the county clerk's county, he or she must use the statewide voter registration list available pursuant to NRS 293.675.

7. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 9, upon completing the examination, the county clerk shall immediately attach to the documents a certificate properly dated, showing the result of the examination, including the tally of signatures by petition district, if required, and transmit the documents with the certificate to the Secretary of State. In the case of a petition for initiative or referendum proposing a constitutional amendment or statewide measure, if a petition district comprises more than one county, the appropriate county clerks shall comply with the regulations adopted by the Secretary of State pursuant to this section to complete the certificate. A copy of this certificate must be filed in the clerk's office. When the county clerk transmits the certificate to the Secretary of State, the county clerk shall notify the Secretary of State of the number of requests to remove a name received by the county clerk pursuant to NRS 295.055 or 306.015.

8. A person who submits a petition to the county clerk which is required to be verified pursuant to NRS 293.128, 293.172, 293.200, 295.056, 298.109, 306.035 or 306.110 must be allowed to witness the verification of the signatures. A public officer who is the subject of a recall petition must also be allowed to witness the verification of the signatures on the petition.

9. For any petition containing signatures which are required to be verified pursuant to the provisions of NRS 293.200, 306.035 or 306.110 for any county, district or municipal office within one county, the county clerk shall not transmit to the Secretary of State the documents containing the signatures of the registered voters.

10. The Secretary of State shall by regulation establish further procedures for carrying out the provisions of this section.

DESCRIPTION OF EFFECT

This initiative proposes an amendment to the Nevada Code to provide for automatic voter registration of citizens qualified to vote when they obtain services from the Department of Motor Vehicles ("DMV"), such as applying for a driver's license. The amendment will make it more convenient for qualified citizens to register and update their registration information by requiring the DMV to transmit qualified citizens' information to the Secretary of State ("Secretary") to register them to vote or update their registration information. It is designed to increase the accuracy of registration rolls by ensuring that qualified citizens who move within Nevada and update their contact information at the DMV will have their voter registration information automatically updated. The amendment directs the DMV to securely handle voter information. It also directs the Secretary and DMV to use electronic forms where possible to reduce costs and waste, and prohibits the use of information provided to the DMV to assist it in voter registration services for purposes other than for voter registration. The amendment will not change voter eligibility requirements or the services provided by the DMV. Those who do not want the DMV to facilitate their voter registration may affirmatively decline this assistance.

REMARKS FROM THE FLOOR

ASSEMBLY MEDIA CLERK MICHELE BURKE:

I would like to thank the Speaker and the Chief Clerk for inviting me to talk to the members this morning. Today would have been my father's 93rd birthday. Since he is the one who taught me to love history, it is especially appropriate that I share my research on this day.

Before this building was completed in 1871, the State Legislature met on the second floor of the first Ormsby County Courthouse, which was formerly Abe Curry's Great Basin Hotel at the southwest corner of Musser and Carson Streets. The picture of that building can be found on the front cover of today's bill books. I would like to share with you about one of the members who met there.

When you enter the Nevada Legislative Building, on the wall lining the right side of the foyer are the photos of those who have held the position of Speaker of the Nevada Assembly dating back to our first State Legislature in 1864. The one exception is James A. Banks, who was the Speaker of the Assembly in 1866, our Second Legislative Session. He is represented by a framed silhouette. As soon as I noticed this, I began researching, trying to find a picture to fill that frame. I quickly found a picture of his father, as well as one of his brother. The more I searched for his picture, the more I became caught up in his remarkable achievements.

James Andrew Banks was born in Fermanagh Township, Juniata County, Pennsylvania, on January 17, 1828. He was the oldest son of David and Jane McAllister Banks, who were affluent estate owners. His maternal grandfather went from camp to camp to help George Washington rally the disheartened troops in the Revolutionary War. Two of his brothers became doctors, one a lawyer, and the youngest remained to help his father run the estate. With a desire to make his own way in the world, Mr. Banks left home at the age of 21, and after living for short periods in various places teaching school or working at carpentering, he caught gold fever and headed for California. An early California newspaper reported:

> The excitement which followed the discovery of gold in California found him among the early immigrants to these shores. Upon landing here he engaged in business at his trade which he followed for several years until he won the confidence not only of his fellow mechanics but of his fellow citizens.

From 1848 to 1849, the San Francisco population went from 1,000 to 25,000 and continued to grow rapidly throughout the 1850s. Recognizing a need among his fellow tradesmen, in 1854 Mr. Banks helped to found the Mechanics Institute of San Francisco to serve the educational and social needs of mechanics, artisans, craftsmen, and inventors and their families. While not still solely dedicated to mechanical arts, this institute is still in existence today. For this achievement: no pictures of our Mr. Banks.

While in San Francisco, he continued membership in the Presbyterian Church and was elected president of the Young Men's Christian Association [YMCA] in 1858. Accounts of the time report that during his tenure he did much to bring the society to notice and put the group on firm financial ground. None of the accounts have a picture of Mr. Banks.

> Mr. Banks was elected a member of the [California] State Legislature … in which he distinguished himself by a strict adherence to the interest of his constituents and the honest discharge of his duty.

While in the California Legislature he was known as a strong advocate of education and helped draft legislation establishing a California university. A great story of his dedication to his job can be found in the legislative report from The Sacramento Daily Union, April 27, 1861.

After a particularly heated debate during a floor session over an appropriation for the Reform School,

". . . some expressions were used in consequence of which a member was ordered under arrest by the chair."

Some witness accounts say that Mr. Banks had stopped at the Chief Clerk's desk at the end of the floor session and was intently studying something when Mr. Hahn came from behind and struck him severely over the head with his cane. This account was countered with the argument that the bruising on Mr. Banks' forehead clearly demonstrated the blow was leveled from the front when he was in deep concentration and did not see it coming. While Mr. Banks' supporters called for Mr. Hahn's expulsion from the Assembly, they were overridden, citing precedence of a similar occurrence in the United States Congress which resulted in all charges dropped.

After serving four sessions in the California Assembly and one in the California Senate, still no picture of Mr. Banks.

Shortly after this incident Mr. Banks left California, joining friends' mining ventures in Paradise Valley, Humboldt County, Nevada.

He was elected to be a delegate for Nevada's Second Constitutional Convention in 1864. Delegates ranged in age from 26 to 64. Three were foreign born, 11 were lawyers, 33 had come to Nevada from California, and all but one were registered as Unionists. The president of the convention was J. Neely Johnson, a former Governor of California and future justice of the Nevada Supreme Court. The 1863 Constitution which was turned down by voters provided for taxation of mines and mining claims, whether producing or not. Mr. Banks, who was a mine superintendent in Humboldt County, helped write the change in the 1864 document which specified that only the proceeds of mines and claims could be taxed. With the modifications, the proposed constitution passed, was sent by telegraph to Washington D.C., and President Lincoln declared Nevada a state on October 31.

Mr. Banks returned to his mining career in Humboldt County and was highly regarded in his field. He was known as a young man of irreproachable character, great industry and full of enthusiasm. There was a large influx of settlers into the region, and the Native American population who at first had been tolerant of the newcomers was beginning to fight against the widespread takeover of their lands. Mr. Banks wrote letters to the Governor highly critical of how the military was handling the situation. He felt they were escalating the situation rather than calming it down. His constant advocacy on behalf of the citizens of Humboldt County gained him the reputation as a leader, and he was elected to represent them in the Second Session of the Nevada Legislature, where he was elected Speaker.

The June 1866 edition of the Harrisburg Telegraph, a newspaper from his home state, reported that Mr. Banks was going to run against James Nye for the United States Senate. This was a dream that never was given a chance.

In August of 1867, Mr. Banks met some friends who were staying at Camp Winfield Scott, the camp of whose commander he had been so critical in letters to the Governor. The Marysville Daily Appeal reported:

> Banks and two others were fishing about one mile from Camp Winfield Scott. Banks started up the creek and as he did not return search was made for him. He was found about three hundred yards above the fishing grounds, with a bullet hole through his breast and his bowels cut out.

His body was taken back to camp and buried in the cemetery there.

Marysville Daily Appeal September 1867:

> The Sacramento Union of August 31 contains a series of resolutions adopted by the citizens of Unionville, Humboldt County, Nevada calling upon the civil and military authorities . . . to avenge the death of James A. Banks who it is said was shot by an Indian . . . There is the possibility that James A. Banks was not shot by an Indian, as it is quite common for robberies and murders to be committed by white savages dressed as Indians for which Indians have been butchered wholesale . . .

Who actually killed Mr. Banks was never determined or further investigated. In 1869 the Young Men's Christian Association took his body back to San Francisco, buried him in the Masonic Cemetery, where they erected a monument to honor him. At his funeral his dear friend, Judge Sawyer said, "In the workshop he was a gentleman, in the parlor a companion and in the legislative halls he was more than a politician."

The story of Mr. Banks was not quite over. In 1901, the growing city of San Francisco needed more land. The City passed an ordinance outlawing cemeteries inside city limits, and the bodies from the Masonic Cemetery were moved to cemeteries in Colma, California. The tombstones and monuments were ground up and used as fill on the approaches of the Golden Gate Bridge.

James Andrew Banks was 39 years old when he died. For all of his accomplishments, we have yet to locate a portrait of him, but I hope from my story today you will have a better picture of who he was.

Assembly called to order at 12:24 p.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Dr. William Stomsky.

Gracious God and Creator of all things, You are the source of all life and wisdom. You made us in Your image that we may be a living presence and a manifestation of the love and care You have for all people, creatures, and nature.

As we offer thanksgiving for this new day and for the opportunities before us to be an extension of Your loving will, help us to discover goodness and growth in all things, as we seek Your light to enlighten our hearts and our minds. May our decisions and the business we are to resolve this day be done with compassion and care as we seek the common good.

God, enable these individuals—these men and women—to be conduits of Your love as hearts and minds are opened to wrestle with justice and equity. May each individual that is called and gifted and voted upon as a public servant be just that—a servant, humble and eager to promote and support that which will serve the common good.

Keep our government safe, our leaders strong, and may we strive to be a blessing to our children and those who come after us that this world may be a better place because of what we did today and each day during our earthly pilgrimage. In God's most Holy Name we pray.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Judiciary:

Amendment No. 2.

AN ACT relating to gaming; revising certain definitions relating to gaming; exempting manufacturers, distributors and independent contractors associated with gaming from certain licensing requirements; revising provisions governing the regulation of trustees of an employee stock ownership plan by the Nevada Gaming Commission; authorizing the Commission to reject an application for a license, registration, finding of suitability or approval; making various other changes related to the regulation of gaming; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the Nevada Gaming Commission and the Nevada Gaming Control Board to administer state gaming licenses and manufacturers', sellers' and distributors' licenses, and to perform various acts relating to the regulation and control of gaming. (NRS 463.140) Section 1 of this bill revises the definition of "manufacture" for the purposes of the statutory provisions governing the licensing and control of gaming to include the act of assuming responsibility for certain actions.

Existing law makes it unlawful to deliver or furnish any equipment, services or property in exchange for any interest or revenue derived from a gambling game without procuring and maintaining the required state gaming license. (NRS 463.162) Section 2 of this bill exempts persons who are already licensed as a manufacturer or distributor of certain gaming devices or systems from this licensing requirement.

Existing law authorizes the Commission to exempt a bank acting as a fiduciary from certain requirements for licensing and regulation related to gaming. (NRS 463.175) Section 3 of this bill similarly authorizes the Commission to exempt a trustee of an employee stock ownership plan from such requirements.

Existing law provides that after a final order of the Board recommending denial of an application for a license, registration, finding of suitability or approval, the Commission may: (1) deny the application; (2) remand the matter to the Board for further investigation and reconsideration; or (3) by unanimous vote of the members present, grant the application. (NRS 463.220) Section 3.5 of this act: (1) authorizes the Commission to reject the application; and (2) provides that a rejection of the application does not constitute a determination of the suitability of the applicant or a denial of the application.

Existing law: (1) establishes the Nevada Gaming Control Board Revolving Account in order to facilitate the confidential investigation of certain violations relating to gaming; and (2) provides that expenditures from the Revolving Account may not exceed the amount authorized by the Legislature in any fiscal year. (NRS 463.330) Section 4 of this bill provides that such expenditures may only exceed the amount authorized by the Legislature if the expenses are incurred by the Board for confidential investigations concerning the enforcement of existing law governing gaming and the money for payment of the expenses is ~~[not]~~ derived from ~~[the State General Fund.]~~ state or federal forfeiture funds.

Existing law makes it unlawful to manufacture, sell or distribute any gaming device, cashless wagering system, mobile gaming system or interactive gaming system for use or play in Nevada without first procuring and maintaining the required licensure. (NRS 463.650) Section 5 of this bill exempts certain persons from the required licensure if a person who is already licensed as a manufacturer assumes responsibility for the underlying actions.

Existing law requires the Commission, with the advice and assistance of the Board, to adopt regulations relating to the approval of associated equipment by the Board. (NRS 463.665) Section 6 of this bill transfers certain duties required to be included in those regulations from the Commission to the Board.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

463.162 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 2 and 3, it is unlawful for any person to:

(a) Lend, let, lease or otherwise deliver or furnish any equipment of any gambling game, including any slot machine, for any interest, percentage or share of the money or property played, under guise of any agreement whatever, without having first procured a state gaming license.

(b) Lend, let, lease or otherwise deliver or furnish, except by a bona fide sale or capital lease, any slot machine under guise of any agreement whereby any consideration is paid or is payable for the right to possess or use that slot machine, whether the consideration is measured by a percentage of the revenue derived from the machine or by a fixed fee or otherwise, without having first procured a state gaming license for the slot machine.

(c) Furnish services or property, real or personal, on the basis of a contract, lease or license, pursuant to which that person receives payments based on earnings or profits from any gambling game, including any slot machine, without having first procured a state gaming license.

Receipts of rentals or charges based on percentage between a corporate licensee or a licensee who is a limited partnership or limited-liability company and the entities enumerated in paragraph (c) are permitted under this subsection.

Any other agreement between the licensee and that person must be terminated upon receipt of notice of the action by the Commission. Any agreement between a licensee and a person described in subsection 5 shall be deemed to include a provision for its termination without liability on the part of the licensee upon a finding by the Commission that the person is unsuitable. Failure expressly to include that condition in the agreement is not a defense in any action brought pursuant to this section to terminate the agreement. If the application is not presented to the Board within 30 days after demand, the Commission may pursue any remedy or combination of remedies provided in this chapter.

Sec. 3. NRS 463.175 is hereby amended to read as follows:

2. The Commission may, after considering the recommendation of the Board, issue to the applicant named, as a natural person, and to the licensed gaming establishment, as a business entity, under the name or style therein designated, a state gaming license, or deny the same. The Commission may limit the license or place such conditions thereon as it may deem necessary in the public interest. The Commission may, if it considers necessary, issue a probationary license. No state gaming license may be assigned either in whole or in part.

6. If the Commission desires further investigation be made or to conduct any hearings, it shall, within 30 days after presentation of the recommendation of the Board so notify the applicant and set a date for hearing, if a hearing is requested by the applicant. Final action by the Commission must be taken within 120 days after the recommendation of the Board has been presented to the Commission. Failure of the Commission to take action within 120 days shall be deemed to constitute approval of the applicant by the Commission, and a license must be issued forthwith upon compliance by the applicant with the provisions of NRS 463.225.

7. The Commission has full and absolute power and authority to deny any application for any cause it deems reasonable. If an application is denied, the Commission shall prepare and file its written decision upon which its order denying the application is based.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under existing law, certain common carriers or contract carriers of passengers or household goods are subject to supervision and regulation as fully regulated carriers by the Nevada Transportation Authority. (NRS 706.072, 706.166) An exemption from that supervision and regulation is provided for an owner or operator of a motor vehicle used for the transportation of passengers or property if the owner or operator: (1) holds a nonrestricted license and is a resort hotel; (2) is not in the business of and does not charge a fee for transporting passengers or property; (3) provides transportation only to its customers, guests, casino hosts, key employees, officers and directors; (4) marks the vehicle with the owner's or operator's name or logo; and (5) uses the motor vehicle only in relation to the business of the resort hotel for which the nonrestricted license was issued. The owner or operator is required to inspect the motor vehicle regularly, maintain a record of the inspections for at least 3 years and make the records available for inspection or audit by the Authority or its designee. Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law sets forth the requirements for a petition by which a natural person may request a change of name. (NRS 41.270) Section 1 of this bill requires such a petition to be accompanied by a complete set of the person's fingerprints if the person has a criminal record.

Existing law requires a court which grants a change of name to a person who has a criminal record or which rescinds its order granting a change of name of a person who falsely denied having been convicted of a felony to transmit a copy of the applicable order to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History for inclusion in that person's record of criminal history. (NRS 41.290) Section ~~[1]~~ 1.5 of this bill requires the applicable order to be accompanied by a complete set of the person's fingerprints.

Existing law requires a peace officer who detains and cites a person for a violation of an ordinance or state law that is punishable as a misdemeanor and constitutes domestic violence to obtain not less than one fingerprint from the person and forward any fingerprint taken to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History. (NRS 171.1229) Section 2 of this bill requires that a complete set of the person's fingerprints be sent to the Central Repository.

If, within the period an objection is filed, the court shall appoint a day for hearing the proofs, respectively, of the applicant and the objection, upon reasonable notice. Upon that day, the court shall hear the proofs, and grant or refuse the prayer of the petitioner, according to whether the proofs show satisfactory reasons for making the change. Before issuing its order, the court shall specifically take into consideration the applicant's criminal record, if any, which is stated in the petition.

2. Upon the making of an order either granting or denying the prayer of the applicant, the order must be recorded as a judgment of the court. If the petition is granted, the name of the applicant must thereupon be as stated in the order and the clerk shall transmit a certified copy of the order to the State Registrar of Vital Statistics.

ASSEMBLYMAN YEAGER:

Assembly Bill 75 makes various changes related to the regulation of gaming. First, the bill revises the definition of the term "manufacture" to include assuming responsibility for certain actions concerning the design, development, manufacture, and assembly of gaming devices, equipment, or systems either through acquisition or acceptance of legal responsibility for the performance of another manufacturer or independent contractor.

Second, the measure exempts persons who are already licensed as a manufacturer or distributor of gaming devices or systems from certain licensing requirements.

Third, the Nevada Gaming Commission is allowed to reject a gaming application in certain circumstances and provides that such a rejection does not constitute a finding of suitability or a denial of the application.

Fourth, the measure authorizes the Commission to exempt a trustee of an employee stock ownership plan from certain requirements for gaming licensing and regulation.

Fifth, the bill allows for the expenditures from the Nevada Gaming Control Board Revolving Account to exceed the authorized amount only if the Account is used to pass through expenses incurred by the Nevada Gaming Control Board for confidential investigations and the money for payment of the expenses is derived from state or federal forfeiture funds.

Lastly, the bill transfers certain duties from the Commission to the Board.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law authorizes a court to place a child in a public or private institution or agency authorized to care for children. (NRS 62E.110) Such institutions include juvenile detention facilities, foster homes, child care facilities and mental health facilities. (NRS 62B.200, 63.400, 432A.1757, 432B.550, 433B.310) Existing law also provides for the licensure and regulation of foster care agencies, which are business entities that recruit and enter into contracts with foster homes to assist an agency which provides child welfare services and juvenile courts in the placement of children in foster homes. (NRS 424.0135, 424.093-424.270) Additionally, existing law designates as the agency which provides child welfare services: (1) in a county whose population is less than 100,000, the Division of Child and Family Services of the Department of Health and Human Services; and (2) in a county whose population is 100,000 or more, the agency of the county which provides or arranges for necessary child welfare services. (NRS 432B.030)

Sections 3, 4, 23, 28, 29, 37, 41 and 46 of this bill require each of those institutions and agencies to treat a child for whom the institution or agency is responsible in accordance with the child's gender identity or expression.

Existing law requires an employee of such an institution or agency to receive certain training. (NRS 62B.250, 63.190, 424.0365, 424.135, 432A.177, 432B.195, 433B.175) Sections 4, 6, 10, 24, 29, 31, 38, 43 and 47 of this bill require that training to: (1) be approved by the licensing authority or the Division; and (2) include instruction on working with lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and questioning children.

Sections 23, 37, 41 and 46 require the Division to prescribe regulations that a court must consider before placing a child in a child care facility, a facility for the detention of children or a mental health or treatment facility [.] and protocols that such a facility must follow when placing a child within the facility. Section 28 of this bill requires the Division to adopt protocols ~~[that]~~ to ensure that each child in the custody of an agency which provides child welfare services is placed in a manner that is appropriate for the gender identity or expression of the child. Section 28 also requires an agency which provides child welfare services ~~[must]~~ to: (1) follow such protocols when placing a child in an out-of-home placement [.] ; and (2) ensure that an out-of-home placement follows such protocols when placing a child within the placement. Sections 3, 4 and 29 require a foster home, foster care agency or facility into which a child alleged to be a child with emotional disturbance who is in the custody of an agency which provides child welfare services is committed to follow such protocols.

Section 14 of this bill requires the Division to establish a procedure for filing and resolving a grievance concerning a placement, a foster care agency, an agency which provides child welfare services or an agency or institution to which a child is committed by a court.

Existing law requires a provider of foster care to provide a foster child with a written copy of his or her rights. (NRS 432.540) Section 20 of this bill requires a provider of foster care to provide a foster child with a written summary of those rights.

The Prison Rape Elimination Act provides for the collection of data, the award of grants and the adoption of standards to prevent rape in correctional institutions. (42 U.S.C. §§ 15601 et seq.) Sections 37 and 41 require certain facilities to which a juvenile court commits a child to adhere to the Prison Rape Elimination Act and any standards adopted pursuant to that federal law.

CARSON CITY (Monday), April 10, 2017

Assembly called to order at 12:23 p.m.

Mr. Speaker presiding.

Roll called.

All present.

Prayer by the Chaplain, Pastor Nick Emery.

We thank You for this week that is before us. We ask for Your favor to be poured out upon our state leadership this day and this week. Give Your leaders Your wisdom, strength, and unity as they conduct the business of our great state, Nevada.

Father God, be with each conversation and each meeting Your leaders have throughout this day. Give them clarity of mind and help them to be courageous in speech and action. Let them be people who seek truth in all their pursuits and enable them to be people of peace, representing hope in all they say and do. Allow them to sense Your presence in special and unique ways this week—guiding them, protecting them, and keeping their families safe while they are away attending to the work of our state.

Now, may the Lord richly bless this gathering of servant leaders, and may God bless Nevada. It is in His Name that we pray.

AMEN.

Pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Assembly Bill No. 20.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 27.

AN ACT relating to persons with disabilities; revising provisions concerning the duties and employees of the Bureau of Services to Persons Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired and the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Rehabilitation Division of the Department of Employment, Training and Rehabilitation; prohibiting, under certain circumstances, the solicitation, disclosure, receipt or use of information concerning persons receiving services from the Division; authorizing the Division to adopt, amend and repeal certain policies; authorizing the denial of services to persons who are blind under certain circumstances; removing the designation of the Division as the designated state unit for the purpose of certain federal regulations governing vocational rehabilitation; prescribing the purposes for which certain money may be used; providing penalties; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law establishes programs under which: (1) the Bureau of Services to Persons Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired of the Rehabilitation Division of the Department of Employment, Training and Rehabilitation provides services to assist persons who are blind in obtaining employment; and (2) the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Division provides similar services to individuals with disabilities. (NRS 426.518-426.610, chapter 615 of NRS) Sections 2 and 24 of this bill revise the purposes of those programs.

Existing federal law defines the term "competitive integrated employment" to mean full-time or part-time work, including self-employment: (1) for which a person receives certain minimum compensation; (2) that allows the employee to interact with persons who are not disabled; and (3) that provides opportunities for advancement similar to those provided to employees who are not disabled. (29 U.S.C. § 705) Sections 3 and 21 of this bill define that term to have the same meaning in state law. Sections 5 , ~~[and]~~ 29 and 41 of this bill define the term "vocational rehabilitation services" to mean any goods and services necessary to prepare a person who is blind or an individual with a disability, as appropriate, to engage in competitive integrated employment or to determine the rehabilitation potential of such a person. Sections 8 and 26-28 of this bill amend the definitions of certain related terms. Sections 9 and 33-35 of this bill revise which entities perform certain duties relating to vocational rehabilitation services.

Federal regulations require the state unit responsible for administering vocational rehabilitation services to develop and maintain written policies covering the nature and scope of each such service and the criteria under which each service is provided. (34 C.F.R. § 361.50) Sections 6 and 22 of this bill authorize the Division to adopt, amend and repeal such policies at a public meeting. Section 17 of this bill provides that the adoption, amendment and repeal of such policies is not subject to the standard rulemaking process.

Section 10 of this bill requires the Bureau of Services to Persons Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired to provide vocational rehabilitation services to any person who is blind, including any such person who is eligible to receive such services under an agreement with the Federal Government, another state, certain territories or an Indian tribe. Sections 30-32 of this bill make similar revisions concerning the duties of the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation.

Existing law requires the Division to direct the Bureau of Services to Persons Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired to adopt administrative regulations to enforce provisions of law concerning the provision of services for persons who are blind. (NRS 426.560) Section 11 of this bill makes slight revisions concerning those regulations.

Sections 12 and 23 of this bill require the Bureau of Services to Persons Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired and the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation to employ persons skilled in the vocational rehabilitation of persons who are blind or individuals with disabilities, as appropriate, to allow such persons or individuals to engage in competitive integrated employment.

Sections 13 and 40 of this bill: (1) expressly provide that the unauthorized receipt, use or disclosure of information concerning persons who apply for or receive services for persons who are blind or individuals with disabilities is a misdemeanor; and (2) revise the circumstances under which the receipt, use or disclosure of such information is authorized.

Section 14 of this bill allows the denial of services for persons who are blind to persons who are ineligible to receive those services under federal law or for which the person is required by federal regulations to use comparable services and benefits paid for by another public or private entity. Sections 15 and 39 of this bill make nonsubstantive revisions concerning appeals of actions, determinations or omissions made by the Bureau of Services to Persons Who Are Blind or Visually Impaired and the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation. Section 16 of this bill removes the designation of the Division as the state unit for carrying out certain programs for independent living prescribed in federal law.

Sections 19, 32, 36, 37, 42 and 43 of this bill remove the authority of the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation to: (1) establish or construct rehabilitation facilities and workshops; and (2) provide for the establishment, supervision, management and control of small business enterprises to be operated by persons with severe disabilities. Section 38 of this bill expands the purposes for which money in the Rehabilitation Gift Account in the Department of Employment, Training and Rehabilitation's Gift Fund may be used.

Existing law requires the State Department of Agriculture, on or before August 1 of each year, to fix an annual special assessment not to exceed $10 per acre to be levied upon all garlic and onions grown and harvested in this State for commercial use and not to exceed 50 cents per hundred weight of alfalfa seed to be levied upon all alfalfa seed grown in this State. (NRS 556.070, 587.155) Sections 11 and 36 of this bill authorize, rather than require, the Department to fix the annual special assessment. Sections 12-15, 37 and 38 of this bill make conforming changes.

6 also clarifies that the provisions of law governing the administration of public health do not modify or alter the authority of the State Department of Agriculture to test products to ensure appropriate food safety.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Corrections, Parole, and Probation:

Amendment No. 34.

AN ACT relating to records of criminal history; revising provisions governing requirements for the submission of information to the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History; reducing the period in which the Central Repository may not charge a fee for providing certain information relating to an applicant for professional licensure; revising provisions relating to the Revolving Account to Investigate the Background of Volunteers Who Work With Children; revising the information which must be included within the record of the Repository for Information Concerning Crimes Against Older Persons; revising and repealing certain provisions regarding the dissemination of certain information from the Central Repository; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law establishes the Central Repository for Nevada Records of Criminal History for the collection and maintenance of certain information relating to records of criminal history. Under existing law, the General Services Division of the Department of Public Safety is authorized to request of and receive from the Federal Bureau of Investigation the background and personal history of a person by submitting to the Federal Bureau of Investigation a complete set of fingerprints of the person which was received by the Central Repository. (NRS 179A.075) Section 4 of this bill revises the definition of the term "record of criminal history" to include "biometric identifiers," which is defined in section 2 of this bill as a fingerprint, palm print, scar, bodily mark, tattoo, voiceprint, facial image, retina image or iris image of a person.

Existing law requires each agency of criminal justice and any other agency dealing with crime or delinquency of children to collect, maintain and submit certain information to the Central Repository. (NRS 179A.075) Section 5 of this bill eliminates those duties as they pertain to agencies dealing with delinquency of children and establishes certain reporting requirements for compliance with the policies, procedures and definitions prescribed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the submission of information to the Uniform Crime Reporting Program. ~~[and information relating to the use of force by law enforcement.]~~

Existing law sets forth a list of persons and governmental entities to whom records of criminal history must be disseminated by an agency of criminal justice upon request. (NRS 179A.100) Section 8 of this bill ~~[removes certain persons and governmental entities from that list, as provisions governing dissemination of records to those persons and entities are included in other state and federal laws and regulations.]~~ adds to that list a county coroner or medical examiner, as needed to conduct an investigation of the death of a person.

Existing law prohibits the Central Repository from charging a fee for information relating to records of criminal history relating to a person regarding whom the Central Repository provided a similar report within the immediately preceding 6 months in conjunction with an application by the person for professional licensure. (NRS 179A.140) Section 10 of this bill reduces the period in which the fee may not be charged to 90 days.

Existing law establishes the Revolving Account to Investigate the Background of Volunteers Who Work With Children. Money in the Account is to be used to pay the costs to process requests from nonprofit agencies to determine whether a volunteer or prospective volunteer of such an agency who works, or will work, directly with children has committed certain offenses. (NRS 179A.310) Section 12 of this bill: (1) clarifies that the Central Repository processes requests from the agencies for information on the background of such volunteers; and (2) changes the name of the Account to the Revolving Account to Process Requests for Information on the Background of Volunteers Who Work With Children.

Existing law establishes the Repository for Information Concerning Crimes Against Older Persons within the Central Repository. (NRS 179A.450) Section 14 of this bill revises the information which must be included within the record of the Repository for Information Concerning Crimes Against Older Persons.

Existing law governs the dissemination of information relating to certain offenses as that information relates to persons who work with children. (NRS 179A.180-179A.240) Section 21 of this bill repeals those provisions, as provisions governing dissemination of that information are included in federal laws and regulations.

AN ACT relating to property; revising procedures governing the disposal of certain property in the custody of certain governmental agencies; authorizing a board of county commissioners or its authorized representative to donate property pursuant to a district court order to certain organizations or entities for certain purposes; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law sets forth certain procedures governing the disposition of stolen or embezzled property which is in the custody of certain governmental agencies. (NRS 179.165) Section 1 of this bill: (1) expands the scope of these provisions to include property other than that which is stolen or embezzled; (2) authorizes a sheriff of a metropolitan police department to dispose of the property without the requirement of delivering the property to the county treasurer to petition the district court for an order authorizing the disposal or destruction; (3) provides that before disposing of the property, a metropolitan police department must file a sworn affidavit with the district court; and ~~[(3)]~~ (4) requires the metropolitan police department to perform an annual audit of the disposition of property and present a report of that audit to the metropolitan police committee on fiscal affairs.

Existing law authorizes a board of county commissioners or its authorized representative to, pursuant to a district court order, donate stolen or embezzled property to a nonprofit organization created for religious, charitable or educational purposes or to another governmental entity to provide a substantial benefit to county inhabitants. (NRS 244.1505) Section 2 of this bill authorizes a board of county commissioners or its authorized representative to donate any property previously in the custody of a law enforcement agency to such organizations or entities to provide a substantial benefit to county inhabitants.

AN ACT relating to domestic relations; authorizing the marriage of two persons of any gender under certain circumstances; revising provisions relating to the division of community property and liabilities in certain domestic relations actions; revising certain provisions governing domestic relations; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Under the Nevada Constitution, only marriage between one man and one woman is recognized. (Nev. Const. Art. 1, § 21) Existing law currently provides that one man and one woman may be joined in marriage. (NRS 122.020) On June 26, 2015, the Supreme Court of the United States held that under the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution: (1) same-sex couples may exercise the fundamental right to marry; (2) state laws that exclude same-sex couples from civil marriage on the same terms and conditions as opposite-sex couples are invalid; and (3) states may not refuse to recognize a same-sex marriage that was lawfully licensed and performed in another state. Obergefell v. Hodges, 135 S.Ct. 2584 (2015) Section 1 of this bill authorizes two persons, regardless of gender, to be joined in marriage. Sections 2-90 of this bill make conforming changes related to same-sex couples and parents.

8. An agreement entered into or decree entered pursuant to this section may not be binding on the Division of Welfare and Supportive Services of the Department of Health and Human Services in making determinations under the State Plan for Medicaid.

9. As used in this section, "community spouse" and "institutionalized spouse" have the meanings respectively ascribed to them in 42 U.S.C. § 1396r-5(h).

125.010 Divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be obtained for any of the following causes:

1. Insanity existing for 2 years prior to the commencement of the action. Upon this cause of action the court, before granting a divorce, shall require corroborative evidence of the insanity of the defendant at that time, and a decree granted on this ground shall not relieve the successful party from contributing to the support and maintenance of the defendant, and the court may require the plaintiff in such action to give bond therefor in an amount to be fixed by the court.

2. When the ~~[husband and wife]~~ spouses have lived separate and apart for 1 year without cohabitation the court may, in its discretion, grant an absolute decree of divorce at the suit of either party.

3. Incompatibility.

Sec. 26. NRS 125.130 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.130 1. A judgment or decree of divorce granted pursuant to the provisions of this chapter is a final decree.

2. Whenever a decree of divorce from the bonds of matrimony is granted in this State by a court of competent authority, the decree fully and completely dissolves the marriage contract as to both parties.

3. A court that grants a decree of divorce pursuant to the provisions of this section shall ensure that the social security numbers of both parties are placed in the records relating to the matter and, except as otherwise required to carry out a specific statute, maintained in a confidential manner.

4. In all suits for divorce, if a divorce is granted, the court may, for just and reasonable cause and by an appropriate order embodied in its decree, change the name of ~~[~~the wife~~]~~ either party to any former name which he or she has legally borne.

Sec. 27. NRS 125.150 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.150 Except as otherwise provided in NRS 125.155 and 125.165, and unless the action is contrary to a premarital agreement between the parties which is enforceable pursuant to chapter 123A of NRS:

1. In granting a divorce, the court:

(a) May award such alimony to ~~[~~the wife or to the husband,~~]~~ either spouse, in a specified principal sum or as specified periodic payments, as appears just and equitable; and

(b) Shall, to the extent practicable, make an equal disposition of the community property of the parties, except that the court may make an unequal disposition of the community property in such proportions as it deems just if the court finds a compelling reason to do so and sets forth in writing the reasons for making the unequal disposition.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, in granting a divorce, the court shall dispose of any property held in joint tenancy in the manner set forth in subsection 1 for the disposition of community property. If a party has made a contribution of separate property to the acquisition or improvement of property held in joint tenancy, the court may provide for the reimbursement of that party for his or her contribution. The amount of reimbursement must not exceed the amount of the contribution of separate property that can be traced to the acquisition or improvement of property held in joint tenancy, without interest or any adjustment because of an increase in the value of the property held in joint tenancy. The amount of reimbursement must not exceed the value, at the time of the disposition, of the property held in joint tenancy for which the contribution of separate property was made. In determining whether to provide for the reimbursement, in whole or in part, of a party who has contributed separate property, the court shall consider:

(a) The intention of the parties in placing the property in joint tenancy;

(b) The length of the marriage; and

(c) Any other factor which the court deems relevant in making a just and equitable disposition of that property.

➥ As used in this subsection, "contribution" includes, without limitation, a down payment, a payment for the acquisition or improvement of property, and a payment reducing the principal of a loan used to finance the purchase or improvement of property. The term does not include a payment of interest on a loan used to finance the purchase or improvement of property, or a payment made for maintenance, insurance or taxes on property.

3. A party may file a postjudgment motion in any action for divorce, annulment or separate maintenance to obtain adjudication of any community property or liability omitted from the decree or judgment as the result of fraud or mistake. A motion pursuant to this subsection must be filed within 3 years after the discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts constituting the fraud or mistake. The court has continuing jurisdiction to hear such a motion and shall equally divide the omitted community property or liability between the parties unless the court finds that:

(a) The community property or liability was included in a prior equal disposition of the community property of the parties or in an unequal disposition of the community property of the parties which was made pursuant to written findings of a compelling reason for making that unequal disposition; or

(b) The court determines a compelling reason in the interests of justice to make an unequal disposition of the community property or liability and sets forth in writing the reasons for making the unequal disposition.

➥ If a motion pursuant to this subsection results in a judgment dividing a defined benefit pension plan, the judgment may not be enforced against an installment payment made by the plan more than 6 years after the installment payment.

4. Except as otherwise provided in NRS 125.141, whether or not application for suit money has been made under the provisions of NRS 125.040, the court may award a reasonable attorney's fee to either party to an action for divorce.

5. In granting a divorce, the court may also set apart such portion of the ~~[~~husband's~~]~~ separate property of either spouse for the ~~[~~wife's~~]~~ other spouse's support ~~[~~, the wife's separate property for the husband's support~~]~~ or the separate property of either spouse for the support of their children as is deemed just and equitable.

6. In the event of the death of either party or the subsequent remarriage of the spouse to whom specified periodic payments were to be made, all the payments required by the decree must cease, unless it was otherwise ordered by the court.

7. If the court adjudicates the property rights of the parties, or an agreement by the parties settling their property rights has been approved by the court, whether or not the court has retained jurisdiction to modify them, the adjudication of property rights, and the agreements settling property rights, may nevertheless at any time thereafter be modified by the court upon written stipulation signed and acknowledged by the parties to the action, and in accordance with the terms thereof.

8. If a decree of divorce, or an agreement between the parties which was ratified, adopted or approved in a decree of divorce, provides for specified periodic payments of alimony, the decree or agreement is not subject to modification by the court as to accrued payments. Payments pursuant to a decree entered on or after July 1, 1975, which have not accrued at the time a motion for modification is filed may be modified upon a showing of changed circumstances, whether or not the court has expressly retained jurisdiction for the modification. In addition to any other factors the court considers relevant in determining whether to modify the order, the court shall consider whether the income of the spouse who is ordered to pay alimony, as indicated on the spouse's federal income tax return for the preceding calendar year, has been reduced to such a level that the spouse is financially unable to pay the amount of alimony the spouse has been ordered to pay.

9. In addition to any other factors the court considers relevant in determining whether to award alimony and the amount of such an award, the court shall consider:

(a) The financial condition of each spouse;

(b) The nature and value of the respective property of each spouse;

(c) The contribution of each spouse to any property held by the spouses pursuant to NRS 123.030;

(d) The duration of the marriage;

(e) The income, earning capacity, age and health of each spouse;

(f) The standard of living during the marriage;

(g) The career before the marriage of the spouse who would receive the alimony;

(h) The existence of specialized education or training or the level of marketable skills attained by each spouse during the marriage;

(i) The contribution of either spouse as homemaker;

(j) The award of property granted by the court in the divorce, other than child support and alimony, to the spouse who would receive the alimony; and

(k) The physical and mental condition of each party as it relates to the financial condition, health and ability to work of that spouse.

10. In granting a divorce, the court shall consider the need to grant alimony to a spouse for the purpose of obtaining training or education relating to a job, career or profession. In addition to any other factors the court considers relevant in determining whether such alimony should be granted, the court shall consider:

(a) Whether the spouse who would pay such alimony has obtained greater job skills or education during the marriage; and

(b) Whether the spouse who would receive such alimony provided financial support while the other spouse obtained job skills or education.

11. If the court determines that alimony should be awarded pursuant to the provisions of subsection 10:

(a) The court, in its order, shall provide for the time within which the spouse who is the recipient of the alimony must commence the training or education relating to a job, career or profession.

(b) The spouse who is ordered to pay the alimony may, upon changed circumstances, file a motion to modify the order.

(c) The spouse who is the recipient of the alimony may be granted, in addition to any other alimony granted by the court, money to provide for:

(1) Testing of the recipient's skills relating to a job, career or profession;

(2) Evaluation of the recipient's abilities and goals relating to a job, career or profession;

(3) Guidance for the recipient in establishing a specific plan for training or education relating to a job, career or profession;

(4) Subsidization of an employer's costs incurred in training the recipient;

(5) Assisting the recipient to search for a job; or

(6) Payment of the costs of tuition, books and fees for:

(I) The equivalent of a high school diploma;

(II) College courses which are directly applicable to the recipient's goals for his or her career; or

(III) Courses of training in skills desirable for employment.

12. For the purposes of this section, a change of 20 percent or more in the gross monthly income of a spouse who is ordered to pay alimony shall be deemed to constitute changed circumstances requiring a review for modification of the payments of alimony. As used in this subsection, "gross monthly income" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 125B.070.

Sec. 28. NRS 125.181 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.181 A marriage may be dissolved by the summary procedure for divorce set forth in NRS 125.181 to 125.184, inclusive, when all of the following conditions exist at the time the proceeding is commenced:

1. Either party has met the jurisdictional requirements of NRS 125.020.

2. The [~~husband and wife~~] spouses have lived separate and apart for 1 year without cohabitation or they are incompatible.

3. There are no minor children of the relationship of the parties born before or during the marriage or adopted by the parties during the marriage and [~~the~~] a wife, to her knowledge, is not pregnant, or the parties have executed an agreement as to the custody of any children and setting forth the amount and manner of their support.

4. There is no community or joint property or the parties have executed an agreement setting forth the division of community property and the assumption of liabilities of the community, if any, and have executed any deeds, certificates of title, bills of sale or other evidence of transfer necessary to effectuate the agreement.

5. The parties waive any rights to spousal support or the parties have executed an agreement setting forth the amount and manner of spousal support.

6. The parties waive their respective rights to written notice of entry of the decree of divorce, to appeal, to request findings of fact and conclusions of law and to move for a new trial.

7. The parties desire that the court enter a decree of divorce.

Sec. 29. NRS 125.182 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.182 1. A summary proceeding for divorce may be commenced by filing in any district court a joint petition, signed under oath by both ~~[the husband and the wife,]~~ spouses, stating that as of the date of filing, every condition set forth in NRS 125.181 has been met and specifying the:

(a) Facts which support the jurisdictional requirements of NRS 125.020; and

(b) Grounds for the divorce.

2. The petition must also state:

(a) The date and the place of the marriage.

(b) The mailing address of both ~~[the husband and the wife.]~~ spouses.

(c) Whether there are minor children of the relationship of the parties born before or during the marriage or adopted by the parties during the marriage, or ~~[the]~~ a wife, to her knowledge, is pregnant.

(d) Whether ~~[the wife]~~ either spouse elects to have his or her ~~[maiden or]~~ former name restored and, if so, the name to be restored.

3. An affidavit of corroboration of residency which complies with the provisions of subsections 1, 2 and 4 of NRS 125.123 must accompany the petition. If there is a marital settlement agreement which the parties wish the court to approve or make a part of the decree, it must be identified and attached to the petition as an exhibit.

Sec. 30. NRS 125.210 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.210 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, in any action brought pursuant to NRS 125.190, the court may:

(a) Assign and decree to either spouse the possession of any real or personal property of the other spouse;

(b) Order or decree the payment of a fixed sum of money for the support of the other spouse and their children;

(c) Provide that the payment of that money be secured upon real estate or other security, or make any other suitable provision; and

(d) Determine the time and manner in which the payments must be made.

2. The court may not:

(a) Assign and decree to either spouse the possession of any real or personal property of the other spouse; or

(b) Order or decree the payment of a fixed sum of money for the support of the other spouse,

➥ if it is contrary to a premarital agreement between the spouses which is enforceable pursuant to chapter 123A of NRS.

3. Unless the action is contrary to a premarital agreement between the parties which is enforceable pursuant to chapter 123A of NRS, in determining whether to award money for the support of a spouse or the amount of any award of money for the support of a spouse, the court shall not attach, levy or seize by or under any legal or equitable process, either before or after receipt by a veteran, any federal disability benefits awarded to a veteran for a service-connected disability pursuant to 38 U.S.C. §§ 1101 to 1151, inclusive.

4. Except as otherwise provided in chapter 130 of NRS, the court may change, modify or revoke its orders and decrees from time to time.

5. No order or decree is effective beyond the joint lives of the ~~[husband and wife.]~~ spouses.

Sec. 31. NRS 125.290 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.290 All marriages which are prohibited by law because of:

1. Consanguinity between the parties; or

2. Either of the parties having a former ~~[husband or wife]~~ spouse then living, if solemnized within this State,

➥ are void without any decree of divorce or annulment or other legal proceedings. A marriage void under this section shall not bar prosecution for the crime of bigamy pursuant to NRS 201.160.

Sec. 32. NRS 125.320 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.320 1. When the consent of ~~[the father, mother,]~~ a parent, guardian or district court, as required by NRS 122.020 or 122.025, has not been obtained, the marriage is void from the time its nullity is declared by a court of competent jurisdiction.

2. If the consent required by NRS 122.020 or 122.025 is not first obtained, the marriage contracted without the consent of ~~[the father, mother,]~~ a parent, guardian or district court may be annulled upon application by or on behalf of the person who fails to obtain such consent, unless such person after reaching the age of 18 years freely cohabits for any time with the other party to the marriage as ~~[husband and wife.]~~ a married couple. Any such annulment proceedings must be brought within 1 year after such person reaches the age of 18 years.

125.330 1. When either of the parties to a marriage for want of understanding shall be incapable of assenting thereto, the marriage shall be void from the time its nullity shall be declared by a court of competent authority.

2. The marriage of any insane person shall not be adjudged void, after his or her restoration to reason, if it shall appear that the parties freely cohabited together as ~~[husband and wife]~~ a married couple after such insane person was restored to a sound mind.

Sec. 34. NRS 125.340 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125.340 1. If the consent of either party was obtained by fraud and fraud has been proved, the marriage shall be void from the time its nullity shall be declared by a court of competent authority.

2. No marriage may be annulled for fraud if the parties to the marriage voluntarily cohabit as ~~[husband and wife]~~ a married couple having received knowledge of such fraud.

Sec. 35. NRS 125A.515 is hereby amended to read as follows:

125A.515 1. Unless the court issues a temporary emergency order pursuant to NRS 125A.335, upon a finding that a petitioner is entitled to immediate physical custody of the child, the court shall order that the petitioner may take immediate physical custody of the child unless the respondent establishes that:

(a) The child custody determination has not been registered and confirmed pursuant to NRS 125A.465 and that:

(1) The issuing court did not have jurisdiction pursuant to NRS 125A.305 to 125A.395, inclusive;

(2) The child custody determination for which enforcement is sought has been vacated, stayed or modified by a court of a state having jurisdiction to do so pursuant to NRS 125A.305 to 125A.395, inclusive; or

(3) The respondent was entitled to notice, but notice was not given in accordance with the standards of NRS 125A.255, in the proceedings before the court that issued the order for which enforcement is sought; or

(b) The child custody determination for which enforcement is sought was registered and confirmed pursuant to NRS 125A.465, but has been vacated, stayed or modified by a court of a state having jurisdiction to do so pursuant to NRS 125A.305 to 125A.395, inclusive.

2. The court shall award the fees, costs and expenses authorized pursuant to NRS 125A.535 and may grant additional relief, including a request for the assistance of law enforcement officers, and set a further hearing to determine whether additional relief is appropriate.

3. If a party called to testify refuses to answer on the ground that the testimony may be self-incriminating, the court may draw an adverse inference from the refusal.

4. A privilege against disclosure of communications between spouses and a defense of immunity based on the relationship of ~~[husband and wife]~~ a married couple or parent and child may not be invoked in a proceeding conducted pursuant to NRS 125A.405 to 125A.585, inclusive.

Sec. 36. NRS 128.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

128.060 1. After a petition has been filed, unless the party or parties to be served voluntarily appear and consent to the hearing, the court shall direct the clerk to issue a notice, reciting briefly the substance of the petition and stating the date set for the hearing thereof, and requiring the person served therewith to appear before the court at the time and place if that person desires to oppose the petition.

2. The following persons must be personally served with the notice:

(a) ~~[~~The father or mother~~]~~ Either parent of the minor person, if residing within this State, and if his or her place of residence is known to the petitioner, or, if there is no parent so residing, or if the place of residence of ~~[~~the father or mother~~]~~ either parent is not known to the petitioner, then the nearest known relative of that person, if there is any residing within the State, and if his or her residence and relationship are known to the petitioner; and

(b) The minor's legal custodian or guardian, if residing within this State and if his or her place of residence is known to the petitioner.

3. If the petitioner or the child is receiving public assistance, the petitioner shall mail a copy of the notice of hearing and a copy of the petition to the Chief of the Child Support Enforcement Program of the Division of Welfare and Supportive Services of the Department of Health and Human Services by registered or certified mail return receipt requested at least 45 days before the hearing.

Sec. 37. NRS 128.070 is hereby amended to read as follows:

128.070 1. When ~~[~~the father or mother~~]~~ either parent of a minor child or the child's legal custodian or guardian resides out of the State, has departed from the State, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the State, or conceals himself or herself to avoid the service of the notice of hearing, and the fact appears, by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the court thereof, and it appears, either by affidavit or by a verified petition on file, that the named ~~[~~father or mother~~]~~ parent or custodian or guardian is a necessary or proper party to the proceedings, the court may grant an order that the service be made by the publication of the notice of hearing. When the affidavit is based on the fact that the ~~[~~father or mother~~]~~ parent or custodian or guardian resides out of the State, and his or her present address is unknown, it is a sufficient showing of that fact if the affiant states generally in the affidavit that:

(a) At a previous time the person resided out of this State in a certain place (naming the place and stating the latest date known to the affiant when the person so resided there);

(b) That place is the last place in which the person resided to the knowledge of the affiant;

(c) The person no longer resides at that place;

(d) The affiant does not know the present place of residence of the person or where the person can be found; and

(e) The affiant does not know and has never been informed and has no reason to believe that the person now resides in this State.

➥ In such case, it shall be presumed that the person still resides and remains out of the State, and the affidavit shall be deemed to be a sufficient showing of due diligence to find ~~[~~the father or mother~~]~~ either parent or the custodian or guardian.

2. The order must direct the publication to be made in a newspaper, to be designated by the court, for a period of 4 weeks, and at least once a week during that time. In case of publication, where the residence of a nonresident or absent ~~[father or mother]~~ parent or custodian or guardian is known, the court shall also direct a copy of the notice of hearing and petition to be deposited in the post office, directed to the person to be served at his or her place of residence. When publication is ordered, personal service of a copy of the notice of hearing and petition, out of the State, is equivalent to completed service by publication and deposit in the post office, and the person so served has 20 days after the service to appear and answer or otherwise plead. The service of the notice of hearing shall be deemed complete in cases of publication at the expiration of 4 weeks from the first publication, and in cases when a deposit of a copy of the notice of hearing and petition in the post office is also required, at the expiration of 4 weeks from the deposit.

3. Personal service outside the State upon a ~~[father or mother]~~ parent over the age of 18 years or upon the minor's legal custodian or guardian may be made in any action where the person served is a resident of this State. When the facts appear, by affidavit, to the satisfaction of the court, and it appears, either by affidavit or by a verified petition on file, that the person in respect to whom the service is to be made is a necessary or proper party to the proceedings, the court may grant an order that the service be made by personal service outside the State. The service must be made by delivering a copy of the notice of hearing together with a copy of the petition in person to the person served. The methods of service are cumulative, and may be utilized with, after or independently of other methods of service.

4. Whenever personal service cannot be made, the court may require, before ordering service by publication or by publication and mailing, such further and additional search to determine the whereabouts of the person to be served as may be warranted by the facts stated in the affidavit of the petitioner to the end that actual notice be given whenever possible.

5. If one or both of the parents of the minor is unknown, or if the name of either or both of the parents of the minor is uncertain, then those facts must be set forth in the affidavit and the court shall order the notice to be directed and addressed to either ~~[the father or the mother]~~ parent of the person, and to all persons claiming to be the ~~[father or mother]~~ parent of the person. The notice, after the caption, must be addressed substantially as follows: "To the ~~[father and mother]~~ parents of the above-named person, and to all persons claiming to be the ~~[father or mother]~~ parent of that person."

Sec. 44. NRS 12.080 is hereby amended to read as follows:

12.080 The ~~[father and mother]~~ parents jointly, or ~~[the father or the mother,]~~ either parent, without preference to either, may maintain an action for the injury of a minor child who has not been emancipated, if the injury is caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another. A guardian may maintain an action for the injury of his or her unemancipated ward, if the injury is caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another, the action by the guardian to be prosecuted for the benefit of the ward. Any such action may be maintained against the person causing the injury, or, if the person is employed by another person who is responsible for his or her conduct, also against that other person.

41.200 1. If an unemancipated minor has a disputed claim for money against a third person, either parent, or if the parents of the minor are living separate and apart, then the custodial parent, or if no custody award has been made, the parent with whom the minor is living, or if a general guardian or guardian of the estate of the minor has been appointed, then that guardian, has the right to compromise the claim. Such a compromise is not effective until it is approved by the district court of the county where the minor resides, or if the minor is not a resident of the State of Nevada, then by the district court of the county where the claim was incurred, upon a verified petition in writing, regularly filed with the court.

2. The petition must set forth:

(a) The name, age and residence of the minor;

(b) The facts which bring the minor within the purview of this section, including:

(1) The circumstances which make it a disputed claim for money;

(2) The name of the third person against whom the claim is made; and

(3) If the claim is the result of an accident or motor vehicle crash, the date, place and facts of the accident or motor vehicle crash;

(c) The names and residence of the parents or the legal guardian of the minor;

(d) The name and residence of the person or persons having physical custody or control of the minor;

(e) The name and residence of the petitioner and the relationship of the petitioner to the minor;

(f) The total amount of the proceeds of the proposed compromise and the apportionment of those proceeds, including the amount to be used for:

(1) Attorney's fees and whether the attorney's fees are fixed or contingent fees, and if the attorney's fees are contingent fees the percentage of the proceeds to be paid as attorney's fees;

(2) Medical expenses; and

(3) Other expenses,

➥ and whether these fees and expenses are to be deducted before or after the calculation of any contingency fee;

(g) Whether the petitioner believes the acceptance of this compromise is in the best interest of the minor; and

(h) That the petitioner has been advised and understands that acceptance of the compromise will bar the minor from seeking further relief from the third person offering the compromise.

3. If the claim involves a personal injury suffered by the minor, the petitioner must submit all relevant medical and health care records to the court at the compromise hearing. The records must include documentation of:

(a) The injury, prognosis, treatment and progress of recovery of the minor; and

(b) The amount of medical expenses incurred to date, the nature and amount of medical expenses which have been paid and by whom, any amount owing for medical expenses and an estimate of the amount of medical expenses which may be incurred in the future.

4. If the court approves the compromise of the claim of the minor, the court must direct the money to be paid to ~~[the father, mother]~~ a parent or guardian of the minor, with or without the filing of any bond, or it must require a general guardian or guardian ad litem to be appointed and the money to be paid to the guardian or guardian ad litem, with or without a bond, as the court, in its discretion, deems to be in the best interests of the minor.

5. Upon receiving the proceeds of the compromise, the parent or guardian to whom the proceeds of the compromise are ordered to be paid, shall establish a blocked financial investment for the benefit of the minor with the proceeds of the compromise. Money may be obtained from the blocked financial investment only pursuant to subsection 6. Within 30 days after receiving the proceeds of the compromise, the parent or guardian shall file with the court proof that the blocked financial investment has been established. If the balance of the investment is more than $10,000, the parent, guardian or person in charge of managing the investment shall annually file with the court a verified report detailing the activities of the investment during the previous 12 months. If the balance of the investment is $10,000 or less, the court may order the parent, guardian or person in charge of managing the investment to file such periodic verified reports as the court deems appropriate. The court may hold a hearing on a verified report only if it deems a hearing necessary to receive an explanation of the activities of the investment.

6. The beneficiary of a block financial investment may obtain control of or money from the investment:

(a) By an order of the court which held the compromise hearing; or

(b) By certification of the court which held the compromise hearing that the beneficiary has reached the age of 18 years, at which time control of the investment must be transferred to the beneficiary or the investment must be closed and the money distributed to the beneficiary.

7. The clerk of the district court shall not charge any fee for filing a petition for leave to compromise or for placing the petition upon the calendar to be heard by the court.

8. As used in this section, the term "blocked financial investment" means a savings account established in a depository institution in this state, a certificate of deposit, a United States savings bond, a fixed or variable annuity contract, or another reliable investment that is approved by the court.

Sec. 46. NRS 41.440 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 47. NRS 49.295 is hereby amended to read as follows:

49.295 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 2 and 3 and NRS 49.305:

(b) ~~[Neither a husband nor a wife]~~ No spouse can be examined, during the marriage or afterwards, without the consent of the other ~~[,]~~ spouse, as to any communication made by one to the other during marriage.

2. The provisions of subsection 1 do not apply to a:

(a) Civil proceeding brought by or on behalf of one spouse against the other spouse;

(b) Proceeding to commit or otherwise place a spouse, the property of the spouse or both the spouse and the property of the spouse under the control of another because of the alleged mental or physical condition of the spouse;

(c) Proceeding brought by or on behalf of a spouse to establish his or her competence;

(d) Proceeding in the juvenile court or family court pursuant to title 5 of NRS or NRS 432B.410 to 432B.590, inclusive; or

(2) Bigamy or incest.

(3) A crime related to abandonment of a child or nonsupport of the other spouse or child.

3. The provisions of subsection 1 do not apply in any criminal proceeding to events which took place before the ~~[husband and wife]~~ spouses were married.

Sec. 48. NRS 49.305 is hereby amended to read as follows:

49.305 When a ~~[husband or wife]~~ married person is insane, and has been so declared by a court of competent jurisdiction, the other spouse shall be a competent witness to testify as to any fact which transpired before or during such insanity, but the privilege of so testifying shall cease when the party declared insane has been found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be of sound mind, and the ~~[husband and wife]~~ spouses shall then have the testimonial limitations and privileges provided in NRS 49.295.

Sec. 49. NRS 111.063 is hereby amended to read as follows:

111.063 Tenancy in common in real or personal property may be created by a single conveyance from a ~~[husband and wife]~~ married couple holding title as joint tenants to themselves, or to themselves and others, or to one of them and others, when such conveyance expressly declares that the grantees thereunder are tenants in common.

Sec. 50. NRS 111.064 is hereby amended to read as follows:

111.064 1. Estates as tenants in common or estates in community property may be created by conveyance from ~~[husband and wife]~~ a married couple to themselves or to themselves and others or from a sole owner to himself or herself and others in the same manner as a joint tenancy may be created.

2. A right of survivorship does not arise when an estate in community property is created in a ~~[husband and wife,]~~ married couple, as such, unless the instrument creating the estate expressly declares that the ~~[husband and wife]~~ married couple take the property as community property with a right of survivorship. This right of survivorship is extinguished whenever either spouse, during the marriage, transfers the spouse's interest in the community property.

Sec. 51. NRS 111.065 is hereby amended to read as follows:

111.065 1. Joint tenancy in real property may be created by a single will or transfer when expressly declared in the will or transfer to be a joint tenancy, or by transfer from a sole owner to himself or herself and others, or from tenants in common to themselves, or to themselves and others, or to one of them and others, or from a ~~[husband and wife]~~ married couple when holding title as community property or otherwise to themselves, or to themselves and others, or to one of them and others, when expressly declared in the transfer to be a joint tenancy, or when granted or devised to executors or trustees as joint tenants.

2. A joint tenancy in personal property may be created by a written transfer, agreement or instrument.

Sec. 52. NRS 111.673 is hereby amended to read as follows:

111.673 The owner of an interest in property who creates a deed upon death may designate in the deed:

1. Multiple beneficiaries who will take title to the property upon his or her death as joint tenants with right of survivorship, tenants in common, ~~[husband and wife]~~ a married couple as community property, community property with right of survivorship or any other tenancy that is recognized in this State.

2. The beneficiary or beneficiaries who will take title to the property upon his or her death as the sole and separate property of the beneficiary or beneficiaries without the necessity of the filing of a quitclaim deed or disclaimer by the spouse of any beneficiary.

Sec. 53. NRS 111.781 is hereby amended to read as follows:

111.781 1. Except as otherwise provided by the express terms of a governing instrument, a court order or a contract relating to the division of the marital estate made between the divorced persons before or after the marriage, divorce or annulment, the divorce or annulment of a marriage:

(a) Revokes any revocable:

(1) Disposition or appointment of property made by a divorced person to his or her former spouse in a governing instrument and any disposition or appointment created by law or in a governing instrument to a relative of the divorced person's former spouse;

(2) Provision in a governing instrument conferring a general or nongeneral power of appointment on the divorced person's former spouse or on a relative of the divorced person's former spouse; and

(3) Nomination in a governing instrument that nominates a divorced person's former spouse or a relative of the divorced person's former spouse to serve in any fiduciary or representative capacity, including a personal representative capacity, including a personal representative, executor, trustee, conservator, agent or guardian; and

(b) Severs the interest of the former spouses in property held by them at the time of the divorce or annulment as joint tenants with the right of survivorship or as community property with a right of survivorship and transforms the interests of the former spouses into equal tenancies in common.

2. A severance under paragraph (b) of subsection 1 does not affect any third-party interest in property acquired for value and in good faith reliance on an apparent title by survivorship in the survivor of the former spouses unless a writing declaring the severance has been noted, registered, filed or recorded in records appropriate to the kind and location of the property which records are relied upon, in the ordinary course of transactions involving such property, as evidence of ownership.

3. The provisions of a governing instrument are given effect as if the former spouse and relatives of the former spouse disclaimed all provisions revoked by this section or, in the case of a revoked nomination in a fiduciary or representative capacity, as if the former spouse and relatives of the former spouse died immediately before the divorce or annulment.

4. Any provisions revoked solely by this section are revived by the divorced person's remarriage to the former spouse or by a nullification of the divorce or annulment.

5. Unless a court in an action commenced pursuant to chapter 125 of NRS specifically orders otherwise, a restraining order entered pursuant to NRS 125.050 does not preclude a party to such an action from making or changing beneficiary designations that specify who will receive the party's assets upon the party's death.

6. A payor or other third party is not liable for having made a payment or transferred an item of property or any other benefit to a beneficiary designated in a governing instrument affected by the provisions of this section or for having taken any other action in good faith reliance on the validity of the governing instrument before the payor or other third party received written or actual notice of any event affecting a beneficiary designation. A payor or other third party is liable for a payment made or other action taken after the payor or other third party received written or actual notice of a claimed forfeiture or revocation under this section.

7. Written notice of the divorce, annulment or remarriage or written notice of a complaint or petition for divorce or annulment must be mailed to the payor's or other third party's main office or home by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, or served upon the payor or other third party in the same manner as a summons in a civil action. Upon receipt of written notice of the divorce, annulment or remarriage, a payor or other third party may pay any amount owed or transfer or deposit any item of property held by it to or with the court having jurisdiction of the probate proceedings relating to the decedent's estate or, if no proceedings have been commenced, to or with the court having jurisdiction of probate proceedings relating to decedents' estates located in the county of the decedent's residence. The court shall hold the funds or item of property and, upon its determination under this section, shall order disbursement or transfer in accordance with the determination. Payments, transfers or deposits made to or with the court discharge the payor or other third party from all claims for the value of amounts paid to or items of property transferred to or deposited with the court.

8. A person who purchases property from a former spouse, relative of a former spouse or any other person for value and without notice, or who receives from a former spouse, relative of a former spouse or any other person a payment or other item of property in partial or full satisfaction of a legally enforceable obligation, is neither obligated under this section to return the payment, item of property or benefit nor is liable under this section for the amount of the payment or the value of the item of property or benefit. A former spouse, relative of a former spouse or other person who, not for value, received a payment, item of property or any other benefit to which that person is not entitled under this section is obligated to return the payment, item of property or benefit or is personally liable for the amount of the payment or the value of the item of property or benefit to the person who is entitled to it under this section.

9. If this section or any part of this section is preempted by federal law with respect to a payment, an item of property or any other benefit covered by this section, a former spouse, relative of the former spouse or any other person who, not for value, received a payment, item of property or any other benefit to which that person is not entitled under this section is obligated to return that payment, item of property or benefit or is personally liable for the amount of the payment or the value of the item of property or benefit to the person who would have been entitled to it were this section or part of this section not preempted.

10. This section applies only to nonprobate transfers which become effective because of the death of a person on or after October 1, 2011, regardless of when the divorce or annulment occurred.

11. As used in this section:

(a) "Disposition or appointment of property" includes a transfer of an item of property or any other benefit to a beneficiary designated in a governing instrument.

(b) "Divorce or annulment" means any divorce or annulment or any dissolution or declaration of invalidity of a marriage. A decree of separation that does not terminate the status of ~~[husband and wife]~~ a married couple is not a divorce for purposes of this section.

(c) "Divorced person" includes a person whose marriage has been annulled.

(d) "Governing instrument" means a governing instrument executed by a divorced person before the divorce or annulment of the person's marriage to the person's former spouse.

(e) "Relative of the divorced person's former spouse" means a person who is related to the divorced person's former spouse by blood, adoption or affinity and who, after the divorce or annulment, is not related to the divorced person by blood, adoption or affinity.

(f) "Revocable," with respect to a disposition, appointment, provision or nomination, means one under which the divorced person, at the time of the divorce or annulment, was alone empowered, by law or under the governing instrument, to cancel the designation in favor of the person's former spouse or former spouse's relative, whether or not the divorced person was then empowered to designate himself or herself in place of his or her former spouse or in place of his or her former spouse's relative and whether or not the divorced person then had the capacity to exercise the power.

115.005 As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Equity" means the amount that is determined by subtracting from the fair market value of the property the value of any liens excepted from the homestead exemption pursuant to subsection 3 of NRS 115.010 or NRS 115.090.

2. "Homestead" means the property consisting of:

(a) A quantity of land, together with the dwelling house thereon and its appurtenances;

(b) A mobile home whether or not the underlying land is owned by the claimant; or

(c) A unit, whether real or personal property, existing pursuant to chapter 116 or 117 of NRS, with any appurtenant limited common elements and its interest in the common elements of the common-interest community,

➥ to be selected by ~~[the husband and wife,]~~ both spouses, or either of them, or a single person claiming the homestead.

Sec. 55. NRS 115.010 is hereby amended to read as follows:

115.010 1. The homestead is not subject to forced sale on execution or any final process from any court, except as otherwise provided by subsections 2, 3 and 5, and NRS 115.090 and except as otherwise required by federal law.

2. The exemption provided in subsection 1 extends only to that amount of equity in the property held by the claimant which does not exceed $550,000 in value, unless allodial title has been established and not relinquished, in which case the exemption provided in subsection 1 extends to all equity in the dwelling, its appurtenances and the land on which it is located.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, the exemption provided in subsection 1 does not extend to process to enforce the payment of obligations contracted for the purchase of the property, or for improvements made thereon, including any mechanic's lien lawfully obtained, or for legal taxes, or for:

(a) Any mortgage or deed of trust thereon executed and given, including, without limitation, any second or subsequent mortgage, mortgage obtained through refinancing, line of credit taken against the property and a home equity loan; or

(b) Any lien to which prior consent has been given through the acceptance of property subject to any recorded declaration of restrictions, deed restriction, restrictive covenant or equitable servitude, specifically including any lien in favor of an association pursuant to NRS 116.3116 or 117.070,

➥ by both ~~[husband and wife,]~~ spouses, when that relation exists.

4. If allodial title has been established and not relinquished, the exemption provided in subsection 1 extends to process to enforce the payment of obligations contracted for the purchase of the property, and for improvements made thereon, including any mechanic's lien lawfully obtained, and for legal taxes levied by a state or local government, and for:

(a) Any mortgage or deed of trust thereon; and

(b) Any lien even if prior consent has been given through the acceptance of property subject to any recorded declaration of restrictions, deed restriction, restrictive covenant or equitable servitude, specifically including any lien in favor of an association pursuant to NRS 116.3116 or 117.070,

➥ unless a waiver for the specific obligation to which the judgment relates has been executed by all allodial titleholders of the property.

5. Establishment of allodial title does not exempt the property from forfeiture pursuant to NRS 179.1156 to 179.121, inclusive, 179.1211 to 179.1235, inclusive, or 207.350 to 207.520, inclusive.

6. Any declaration of homestead which has been filed before July 1, 2007, shall be deemed to have been amended on that date by extending the homestead exemption commensurate with any increase in the amount of equity held by the claimant in the property selected and claimed for the exemption up to the amount permitted by law on that date, but the increase does not impair the right of any creditor to execute upon the property when that right existed before July 1, 2007.

Sec. 56. NRS 115.020 is hereby amended to read as follows:

115.020 1. The selection must be made by either ~~[the husband or wife,]~~ spouse, or both of them, or the single person, declaring an intention in writing to claim the property as a homestead. The selection may be made on the form prescribed by the Real Estate Division of the Department of Business and Industry pursuant to NRS 115.025.

2. The declaration must state:

(a) When made by a married person or persons, that they or either of them are married, or if not married, that he or she is a householder.

(b) When made by a married person or persons, that they or either of them, as the case may be, are, at the time of making the declaration, residing with their family, or with the person or persons under their care and maintenance, on the premises, particularly describing the premises.

(c) When made by any claimant under this section, that it is their or his or her intention to use and claim the property as a homestead.

3. The declaration must be signed by the person or persons making it and acknowledged and recorded as conveyances affecting real property are required to be acknowledged and recorded. If the property declared upon as a homestead is the separate property of either spouse, both must join in the execution and acknowledgment of the declaration.

4. If a person solicits another person to allow the soliciting person to file a declaration of homestead on behalf of the other person and charges or accepts a fee or other valuable consideration for recording the declaration of homestead for the other person, the soliciting person shall, before the declaration is recorded or before the fee or other valuable consideration is charged to or accepted from the other person, provide that person with a notice written in bold type which states that:

(a) Except for the fee which may be charged by the county recorder for recording a declaration of homestead, a declaration of homestead may be recorded in the county in which the property is located without the payment of a fee; and

(b) The person may record the declaration of homestead on his or her own behalf.

➥ The notice must clearly indicate the amount of the fee which may be charged by the county recorder for recording a declaration of homestead.

5. The rights acquired by declaring a homestead are not extinguished by the conveyance of the underlying property in trust for the benefit of the person or persons who declared it. A trustee may by similar declaration claim property, held by the trustee, as a homestead for the settlor or for one or more beneficiaries of the trust, or both, if the person or persons for whom the claim is made reside on or in the property.

6. A person who violates the provisions of subsection 4 is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 57. NRS 115.040 is hereby amended to read as follows:

115.040 1. A mortgage or alienation of any kind, made for the purpose of securing a loan or indebtedness upon the homestead property, is not valid for any purpose, unless the signature of ~~[the husband and wife,]~~ both spouses, when that relationship exists, is obtained to the mortgage or alienation and their signatures are properly acknowledged.

2. The homestead property shall not be deemed to be abandoned without a declaration thereof in writing, signed and acknowledged by both ~~[husband and wife,]~~ spouses, or the single person claiming the homestead, and recorded in the same office and in the same manner as the declaration of claim to the homestead is required to be recorded.

3. If either spouse is not a resident of this State, the signature of the spouse and the acknowledgment thereof is not necessary to the validity of any mortgage or alienation of the homestead before it becomes the homestead of the debtor.

Sec. 58. NRS 115.050 is hereby amended to read as follows:

115.050 1. Whenever execution has been issued against the property of a party claiming the property as a homestead, and the creditor in the judgment makes an oath before the judge of the district court of the county in which the property is situated that the amount of equity held by the claimant in the property exceeds, to the best of the creditor's information and belief, the sum of $550,000, the judge shall, upon notice to the debtor, appoint three disinterested and competent persons as appraisers to estimate and report as to the amount of equity held by the claimant in the property and, if the amount of equity exceeds the sum of $550,000, determine whether the property can be divided so as to leave the property subject to the homestead exemption without material injury.

2. If it appears, upon the report, to the satisfaction of the judge that the property can be thus divided, the judge shall order the excess to be sold under execution. If it appears that the property cannot be thus divided, and the amount of equity held by the claimant in the property exceeds the exemption allowed by this chapter, the judge shall order the entire property to be sold, and out of the proceeds the sum of $550,000 to be paid to the defendant in execution, and the excess to be applied to the satisfaction on the execution. No bid under $550,000 may be received by the officer making the sale.

3. When the execution is against a ~~[husband or wife,]~~ spouse, the judge may direct the $550,000 to be deposited in court, to be paid out only upon the joint receipt of ~~[the husband and wife,]~~ both spouses, and the deposit possesses all the protection against legal process and voluntary disposition by either spouse as did the original homestead.

Sec. 59. NRS 115.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

115.060 Except as otherwise provided in a premarital agreement between ~~[the husband and wife]~~ a married couple which is enforceable pursuant to chapter 123A of NRS:

1. If the property declared upon as a homestead is community property, the ~~[husband and wife]~~ married couple shall be deemed to hold the homestead as community property with a right of survivorship. Upon the death of either spouse:

(a) The exemption of the homestead from execution continues, without further filing, as to any debt or liability existing against the spouses, or either of them, until the death of the survivor and thereafter as to any debt or liability existing against the survivor at the time of the survivor's death.

(b) The property vests absolutely in the survivor.

2. If the property declared upon as a homestead is the separate property of either spouse, the ~~[husband and wife]~~ married couple shall be deemed to hold the right to exemption of the homestead from execution jointly while both spouses are living. If the property retains its character as separate property until the death of one or the other of the spouses:

(a) If it is the separate property of the survivor, the exemption of the homestead continues.

(b) If it was the separate property of the decedent, the exemption of the homestead from execution continues as to any debt or liability existing against the spouses, or either of them, at the time of death of the decedent but ceases as to any subsequent debt or liability of the survivor.

(c) The property belongs to the person, or his or her heirs, to whom it belonged when filed upon as a homestead.

3. If the property declared upon as a homestead is the property of a single person, upon the death of the single person:

(a) The exemption of the homestead from execution continues, without further filing, as to any debt or liability existing against the person at the time of his or her death and as to any subsequent debt or liability against a person who was living in his or her house at the time of his or her death, if that person continues to reside on the homestead property and is related to him or her by consanguinity or affinity, even if the person through whom the relation by affinity was created predeceased the declarant.

(b) The right of enjoyment of the property belongs to each person described in paragraph (a) until that person no longer qualifies under that paragraph.

4. If two or more persons who are not related by consanguinity or affinity have claimed as a homestead their respective undivided interests in a single parcel of land or a mobile home, upon the death of one the exemption of the entire property from execution continues as to any debt or liability of the decedent and the other declarants until the death of the last declarant to die, but only for the benefit of a declarant who continues to reside on or in the property.

134.050 1. If the decedent leaves no issue, the estate goes one-half to the surviving spouse, one-fourth to ~~[the father]~~ one parent of the decedent and one-fourth to the ~~[mother]~~ other parent of the decedent, if both are living. If both parents are not living, one-half to ~~[either]~~ the ~~[father or the mother]~~ parent then living.

2. If the decedent leaves no issue ~~[,]~~ or ~~[father or mother,]~~ parent, one-half of the separate property of the decedent goes to the surviving spouse and the other one-half goes in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent.

3. If the decedent leaves no issue or surviving spouse, the estate goes one-half to ~~[the father]~~ one parent of the decedent and one-half to the ~~[mother]~~ other parent of the decedent, if both are living. If both parents are not living, the whole estate goes to ~~[either]~~ the ~~[father or the mother]~~ parent then living.

4. If the decedent leaves no issue, ~~[father, mother,]~~ parent, brother or sister, or children of any issue, all of the separate property of the decedent goes to the surviving spouse.

Sec. 61. NRS 134.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

134.060 If there is no issue, surviving spouse ~~[,]~~ or ~~[father or mother,]~~ parent, then the estate goes in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent and to the lawful issue of any deceased brother or sister by right of representation as follows:

1. To the brothers and sisters, each a share; and

2. To the lawful issue of each deceased brother and sister, by right of representation, the same share that the parent would have received if the parent had been living at the time of the death of the decedent.

Sec. 62. NRS 134.070 is hereby amended to read as follows:

134.070 If the decedent leaves no issue, surviving spouse, ~~[or father or mother,]~~ parent, ~~[and no]~~ brother or sister living at the time of death, the estate goes to the next of kin in equal degree, except that if there are two or more collateral kindred in equal degree, but claiming through different ancestors, those who claim through the nearest ancestors are preferred to those who claim through ancestors more remote.

Sec. 63. NRS 139.040 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 87. NRS 616C.505 is hereby amended to read as follows:

616C.505 If an injury by accident arising out of and in the course of employment causes the death of an employee in the employ of an employer, within the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive, of NRS, the compensation is known as a death benefit and is payable as follows:

1. In addition to any other compensation payable pursuant to chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive, of NRS, burial expenses are payable in an amount not to exceed $10,000, plus the cost of transporting the remains of the deceased employee. When the remains of the deceased employee and the person accompanying the remains are to be transported to a mortuary or mortuaries, the charge of transportation must be borne by the insurer.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, to the surviving spouse of the deceased employee, 66 2/3 percent of the average monthly wage is payable until the death of the surviving spouse.

3. If there is a surviving spouse and any surviving children of the deceased employee who are not the children of the surviving spouse, the compensation otherwise payable pursuant to subsection 2 must be paid as follows until the entitlement of all children of the deceased employee to receive compensation pursuant to this subsection ceases:

(a) To the surviving spouse, 50 percent of the death benefit is payable until the death of the surviving spouse; and

(b) To each child of the deceased employee, regardless of whether the child is the child of the surviving spouse, the child's proportionate share of 50 percent of the death benefit and, except as otherwise provided in subsection 11, if the child has a guardian, the compensation the child is entitled to receive may be paid to the guardian.

4. In the event of the subsequent death of the surviving spouse:

(a) Each surviving child of the deceased employee, in addition to any amount the child may be entitled to pursuant to subsection 3, must share equally the compensation theretofore paid to the surviving spouse but not in excess thereof, and it is payable until the youngest child reaches the age of 18 years.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection 11, if the children have a guardian, the compensation they are entitled to receive may be paid to the guardian.

5. If there are any surviving children of the deceased employee under the age of 18 years, but no surviving spouse, then each such child is entitled to his or her proportionate share of 66 2/3 percent of the average monthly wage for the support of the child.

6. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, if there is no surviving spouse or child under the age of 18 years, there must be paid:

(a) To a parent, if wholly dependent for support upon the deceased employee at the time of the injury causing the death of the deceased employee, 33 1/3 percent of the average monthly wage.

(b) To both parents, if wholly dependent for support upon the deceased employee at the time of the injury causing the death of the deceased employee, 66 2/3 percent of the average monthly wage.

(c) To each brother or sister until he or she reaches the age of 18 years, if wholly dependent for support upon the deceased employee at the time of the injury causing the death of the deceased employee, his or her proportionate share of 66 2/3 percent of the average monthly wage.

7. The aggregate compensation payable pursuant to subsection 6 must not exceed 66 2/3 percent of the average monthly wage.

8. In all other cases involving a question of total or partial dependency:

(a) The extent of the dependency must be determined in accordance with the facts existing at the time of the injury.

(b) If the deceased employee leaves dependents only partially dependent upon the earnings of the deceased employee for support at the time of the injury causing his or her death, the monthly compensation to be paid must be equal to the same proportion of the monthly payments for the benefit of persons totally dependent as the amount contributed by the deceased employee to the partial dependents bears to the average monthly wage of the deceased employee at the time of the injury resulting in his or her death.

(c) The duration of compensation to partial dependents must be fixed in accordance with the facts shown, but may not exceed compensation for 100 months.

9. Compensation payable to a surviving spouse is for the use and benefit of the surviving spouse and the dependent children, and the insurer may, from time to time, apportion such compensation between them in such a way as it deems best for the interest of all dependents.

10. In the event of the death of any dependent specified in this section before the expiration of the time during which compensation is payable to the dependent, funeral expenses are payable in an amount not to exceed $10,000.

11. If a dependent is entitled to receive a death benefit pursuant to this section and is less than 18 years of age or incompetent, the legal representative of the dependent shall petition for a guardian to be appointed for that dependent pursuant to NRS 159.044. An insurer shall not pay any compensation in excess of $3,000, other than burial expenses, to the dependent until a guardian is appointed and legally qualified. Upon receipt of a certified letter of guardianship, the insurer shall make all payments required by this section to the guardian of the dependent until the dependent is emancipated, the guardianship terminates or the dependent reaches the age of 18 years, whichever occurs first, unless paragraph (a) of subsection 12 is applicable. The fees and costs related to the guardianship must be paid from the estate of the dependent. A guardianship established pursuant to this subsection must be administered in accordance with chapter 159 of NRS, except that after the first annual review required pursuant to NRS 159.176, a court may elect not to review the guardianship annually. The court shall review the guardianship at least once every 3 years. As used in this subsection, "incompetent" has the meaning ascribed to it in NRS 159.019.

12. Except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (a) and (b), the entitlement of any child to receive his or her proportionate share of compensation pursuant to this section ceases when the child dies, marries or reaches the age of 18 years. A child is entitled to continue to receive compensation pursuant to this section if the child is:

(a) Over 18 years of age and incapable of supporting himself or herself, until such time as the child becomes capable of supporting himself or herself; or

(b) Over 18 years of age and enrolled as a full-time student in an accredited vocational or educational institution, until the child reaches the age of 22 years.

13. As used in this section, "surviving spouse" means a surviving ~~[husband or wife]~~ person who was married to the employee at the time of the employee's death.

Our Father, Who art in Heaven,

Hallowed be Thy Name.

Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread.

And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

The Fiscal Analysis Division, pursuant to Joint Standing Rule 14.6, has determined the eligibility for exemption of: Assembly Bill No. 187.

Assembly Bill No. 22.

Bill read second time.

Amendment No. 68.

AN ACT relating to veterans; revising provisions relating to the position of deputy director of the Department of Veterans Services; requiring the Director of the Department to create and maintain a statewide database of information relating to veterans and a registry of certain entities that provide services and resources to veterans; requiring the Director to ensure that each generation of veterans is recognized annually; removing provisions relating to the provision of guardianship services by the Director; removing the requirement that certain offices of the Department be located in certain cities; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law requires the Director of the Department of Veterans Services to appoint one Deputy Director of the Department, who must be a resident of Nevada, possess an honorable discharge from some branch of the military or naval service and have at least 4 years of management or administration experience. (NRS 417.030) Section 2 of this bill: (1) authorizes the Director to appoint additional deputy directors as needed to assist the Director in performing his or her duties ~~[.]~~ , including a Deputy Director for Programs and Services and a Deputy Director for Health and Wellness; and (2)

~~[removes the requirement that a deputy director be a resident of Nevada, possess an honorable discharge and have at least 4 years of management or administration experience.]~~ prescribes the qualifications of the Deputy Director for Programs and Services and the Deputy Director for Health and Wellness. Sections 1, 3 and 5 of this bill make conforming changes to account for the appointment of additional deputy directors. Sections 4, 6, 7 and 11 of this bill eliminate references in existing law to certain powers and duties of the Deputy Director, thereby leaving the Director with the discretion to assign those powers and duties to a deputy director.

Section 4 of this bill requires the Director to: (1) create and maintain a database containing information on veterans residing in Nevada; (2) ensure that each generation of veterans receives recognition annually; and (3) create and maintain a registry of organizations that provide services and resources to veterans, service members and their families and publish the registry on the Department's Internet website.

In 2011, the Legislature eliminated the provision of guardianship services by the Office of Veterans Services, which is now known as the Department of Veterans Services. (Section 29 of chapter 372, Statutes of Nevada 2011, p. 2194) Sections 9, 10 and 12 of this bill remove provisions inadvertently remaining in existing law related to the previous role of the Director as guardian of the estates of certain veterans and their dependents.

Section 12 of this bill removes the requirement in existing law that the office of the Deputy Director be maintained in Las Vegas and the office of the Director be maintained in the same city as the state regional office of the United States Department of Veterans Affairs. (NRS 417.070)

Sec. 9. NRS 160.040 is hereby amended to read as follows:

160.040 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, it is unlawful for any person to accept appointment as guardian of any ward if the proposed guardian is at that time acting as guardian for five wards. In any case, upon presentation of a petition by an attorney of the Department of Veterans Affairs pursuant to this section alleging that a guardian is acting in a fiduciary capacity for more than five wards and requesting his or her discharge for that reason, the court, upon proof substantiating the petition, shall require a final accounting from the guardian and shall discharge the guardian in the case.

The bond must be in the form and be conditioned as required of guardians appointed pursuant to the provisions of chapter 159 of NRS. The premiums on all such bonds must be paid from the estate.

3. If a banking corporation as defined in NRS 657.016, or a trust company, as defined by NRS 669.070, doing business in this state is appointed guardian of the estate of a ward, no bond is required of the guardian unless the court by specific order requires a bond. ~~[If the Director of the Department of Veterans Services is appointed guardian, no bond is required.]~~

5. Where a bond is tendered by a guardian with personal sureties, the sureties shall file with the court a certificate under oath which describes the property owned, both real and personal, and contains a statement that they are each worth the sum named in the bond as the penalty thereof over and above all their debts and liabilities and exclusive of property exempt from execution.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 178 of NRS is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to read as follows:

As used in NRS 178.484 to 178.548, inclusive, and this section, unless the context otherwise requires, "electronic transmission," "electronically transmit" or "electronically transmitted" means any form or process of communication not directly involving the physical transfer of paper or another tangible medium which:

1. Is suitable for the retention, retrieval and reproduction of information by the recipient; and

2. Is retrievable and reproducible in paper form by the recipient through an automated process used in conventional commercial practice.

Sec. 2. NRS 178.502 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.502 1. A person required or permitted to give bail shall execute a bond for the person's appearance. The magistrate or court or judge or justice, having regard to the considerations set forth in NRS 178.498, may require one or more sureties or may authorize the acceptance of cash or bonds or notes of the United States in an amount equal to or less than the face amount of the bond.

2. Any bond or undertaking for bail must provide that the bond or undertaking:

(a) Extends to any action or proceeding in a Justice Court, municipal court or district court:

(1) Arising from the charge on which bail was first given in any of these courts; and

(2) Arising from a later charge, filed before the expiration of the periods provided in subsection 4, which is substantially similar to the charge upon which bail was first given and is based upon the same act or omission as that charge; and

(b) Remains in effect until exonerated by the court.

➥ This subsection does not require that any bond or undertaking extend to proceedings on appeal.

3. If an action or proceeding against a defendant who has been admitted to bail is transferred to another trial court, the bond or undertaking must be transferred to the clerk of the court to which the action or proceeding has been transferred.

4. If the action or proceeding against a defendant who has been admitted to bail is dismissed, the bail must not be exonerated until a period of 30 days has elapsed from the entry of the order of dismissal unless the defendant requests that bail be exonerated before the expiration of the 30-day period. If no formal action or proceeding is instituted against a defendant who has been admitted to bail, the bail must not be exonerated until a period of 30 days has elapsed from the day the bond or undertaking is posted unless the defendant requests that bail be exonerated before the expiration of the 30-day period.

5. If, within the periods provided in subsection 4, the defendant is charged with a public offense arising out of the same act or omission supporting the charge upon which bail was first given, the prosecuting attorney shall forthwith notify the clerk of the court where the bond was posted, the bail must be applied to the public offense later charged, and the bond or undertaking must be transferred to the clerk of the appropriate court. Within 10 days after its receipt, the clerk of the court to whom the bail is transferred shall mail or electronically transmit notice of the transfer to the surety on the bond and the bail agent who executed the bond. ~~[In the case of electronic transmission, notice shall be deemed to have been given when the electronic transmission of such notice is successfully initiated.]~~

6. Bail given originally on appeal must be deposited with the magistrate or the clerk of the court from which the appeal is taken.

Sec. 3. NRS 178.508 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) Enter upon its minutes that the defendant failed to appear;

(b) Not later than ~~[45]~~ 14 judicial days after the date on which the defendant failed to appear, order the issuance of a warrant for the arrest of the defendant; and

(c) If the undertaking exceeds $50 or money deposited instead of bail bond exceeds $500, direct that each surety and the local agent of each surety, or the depositor if the depositor is not the defendant, be given notice that the defendant has failed to appear, by certified mail or electronic transmission , receipt of delivery requested, within 20 days after the date on which the defendant failed to appear. The court shall execute an affidavit of such mailing or electronic transmission to be kept as an official public record of the court and shall direct that a copy of the notice be transmitted to the prosecuting attorney at the same time that notice is given to each surety or the depositor. ~~[In the case of electronic transmission, notice shall be deemed to have been given when the electronic transmission of such notice is successfully initiated.]~~

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 and NRS 178.509, an order of forfeiture of any undertaking or money deposited instead of bail bond must be prepared by the clerk of the court and signed by the court. An order of forfeiture must include the date on which the forfeiture becomes effective. The undertaking or money deposited instead of bail bond is forfeited 180 days after the date on which the notice is mailed or electronically transmitted pursuant to subsection 1.

3. The court may extend the date of the forfeiture for any reasonable period set by the court if the surety or depositor submits to the court:

(a) An application for an extension and the court determines that the surety or the depositor is making reasonable and ongoing efforts to bring the defendant before the court.

(b) An application for an extension on the ground that the defendant is temporarily prevented from appearing before the court because the defendant:

(1) Is ill;

(2) Is insane; or

(3) Is being detained by civil or military authorities,

➥ and the court, upon hearing the matter, determines that one or more of the grounds described in this paragraph exist and that the surety or depositor did not in any way cause or aid the absence of the defendant.

Sec. 4. NRS 178.514 is hereby amended to read as follows:

178.514 1. When a forfeiture has not been set aside, the court shall on motion enter a judgment of default and execution may issue thereon.

2. If an order setting aside a forfeiture has not been entered within 180 days after the issuance of the order of forfeiture, the court shall enter judgment by default and commence execution proceedings therein.

3. By entering into a bond the obligors submit to the jurisdiction of the court and irrevocably appoint the clerk of the court as their agent upon whom any papers affecting their liability may be served. Their liability may be enforced on motion and such notice of the motion as the court prescribes may be served on the clerk of the court, who shall forthwith mail or electronically transmit copies to the obligors to their last known addresses ~~[.]~~ or by means that have been designated by the obligors for the purpose of receiving electronic transmissions. ~~[In the case of electronic transmission, notice shall be deemed to have been given when the electronic transmission of such notice is successfully initiated.]~~

Assembly Bill No. 46.

Bill read second time.

The following amendment was proposed by the Committee on Health and Human Services:

Amendment No. 171.

AN ACT relating to mental health; providing for the certification and regulation of providers of community-based living arrangement services; clarifying that providers of community-based living arrangement services, supported living arrangement services and temporary respite services are not subject to certain licensing and regulatory requirements; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law: (1) imposes certain requirements relating to supported living arrangement services provided to persons with intellectual disabilities and related conditions; and (2) authorizes the Aging and Disability Services Division of the Department of Health and Human Services to take certain actions to regulate the provision of such services. (NRS 435.3305-435.339) Sections 2-12 of this bill enact similar provisions that apply to community-based living arrangement services. Section 4 defines "community-based living arrangement services" to mean flexible, individualized services provided in the home to persons with mental illness or persons with related conditions that are designed to help such persons maximize their independence.

Section 5 requires a person or entity to be certified by the Division of Public and Behavioral Health of the Department or be a natural person who is employed by the holder of a certificate before providing community-based living arrangement services. Section 6: (1) requires the State Board of Health to adopt regulations governing community-based living arrangement services; and (2) authorizes the Board to impose a fee for the issuance or renewal of a certificate. Section 7: (1) requires an applicant for renewal of a certificate who has a state business registration to provide his or her business identification number in the application; and (2) prohibits the renewal of a certificate if the applicant fails to provide such information or is delinquent on a debt to a state agency.

Section 8 authorizes the Division to investigate an applicant for the issuance or renewal of a certificate or a provider of community-based living arrangement services against whom a complaint has been filed. Section 8 also authorizes the Division to employ such persons and enter into such agreements as are necessary to carry out provisions of law governing community-based living arrangement services. Section 9 authorizes the Division to bring an action to enjoin any person or entity who provides community-based living arrangement services without a certificate or after a certificate has been revoked or suspended.

Existing federal law requires each state to adopt procedures to ensure that applicants for certain licenses and certificates comply with child support obligations. (42 U.S.C. § 666) Sections 10-12 enact such procedures applicable to applicants for certificates in order to comply with federal law.

Certain providers of nursing services are subject to regulation under existing law as medical facilities. (NRS 449.0015, 449.0151, 449.0153) Sections 16 and 19 of this bill exempt providers of community-based living arrangement services from those provisions. Existing law defines "supported living arrangement services" to mean flexible, individualized services provided in the home, for compensation, to a person with an intellectual disability or a person with a related condition that are designed and coordinated to assist the person in maximizing the person's independence. (NRS 435.3315) Sections 18 and 20 of this bill clarify that a home in which community-based living arrangement services or supported living arrangement services are provided does not constitute a residential facility for groups or a home for individual residential care subject to regulation under chapter 449 of NRS. Section 17 of this bill provides that an agency that contracts with the Aging and Disability Services Division of the Department to provide temporary respite services, which are services provided to a natural person periodically to provide a respite to the person's regular caregiver, is not an agency to provide personal care services in the home subject to regulation under chapter 449 of NRS.
