(a) His individualized educational program otherwise provides; and

(b) The nature or severity of his disability is such that, even with the use of supplementary aids and services, he cannot be educated satisfactorily in the regular educational environment.

A pupil with a disability, including a pupil in a public or private institution or other care facility, must be educated with pupils who are not disabled to the maximum extent appropriate.

2. A public agency shall provide a continuum of alternative placements to meet the needs of any pupil with a disability for special education and related services necessary to implement the individualized educational program for each pupil with a disability. This continuum must include, as appropriate:

The committee shall provide for the placement of the pupil in a regular class unless the committee determines that the pupil cannot receive an appropriate education in a regular class, even with special aids and services. The basis for any such determination must be clearly set forth in the individualized educational program of the pupil.

5. Unless his needs or performance preclude such participation, a pupil with a disability must be allowed to participate with pupils who are not disabled at mealtime, recess, or any other nonacademic or extracurricular activity occurring at school for the maximum extent appropriate. If a pupil with a disability is excluded from such participation because of his needs or performance, the basis for the exclusion must be clearly set forth in the individualized educational program of the pupil.

6. The placement of a pupil with a disability must be determined at least annually. A pupil must be placed in the school he would normally attend if possible, or in the school closest to his home which is capable of providing the services required by his individualized educational program.

[The multidisciplinary] This team shall determine whether the disciplinary problems of the pupil are associated with his disability and prepare a report containing its findings and conclusions.

[3. After the meeting of the multidisciplinary team, the public agency shall convene a meeting of the committee responsible for developing the pupil's individualized educational program. 8. If the individualized educational program includes transition services and a representative of the participating agency does not attend the meeting, the public agency shall consult with the participating agency regarding the planning of such services. If the pupil for whom the individualized educational program is being developed does not attend the meeting and the program includes transition services, the public agency shall document the alternative methods that were used to ascertain the preferences and interests of the pupil at the meeting.

- (a) An impairment exists;
- (b) The pupil has demonstrated the ability to profit from speech and language therapy; and
- (c) The pupil requires a program of instruction, due to the nature or severity of his impairment, which is not feasible in his current educational setting because:
  - (1) Intensive remedial techniques or strategies, which can only be implemented in a clinical or therapeutic setting, are required to improve his communication skills;
  - (2) The nature of his impairment requires that the pupil receive the services of a teacher of the speech and language impaired; or
  - (3) His impairment is of such severity or multiplicity that individual or small group management, available only in a speech and language program, is required.

2. For the purposes of this section, an impairment exists if the pupil suffers from a deficit or disorder with respect to:

  - (2) The communicative ability of the pupil is interfered with by his lack of intelligibility;
  - (3) The pupil cannot adequately discriminate, imitate or sequence sound patterns;

(4) The ability of the pupil to articulate is significantly less than that which is expected in view of his cognitive abilities and level of development; or

(5) The deficit or disorder has an adverse social, emotional or academic effect upon the pupil;

(b) The use and comprehension of language, as indicated by the presence of two or more of the following conditions:

(1) The ability of the pupil to comprehend language is significantly less than that which is expected in view of his cognitive abilities and level of development;

[7.16]. The conclusions of the multidisciplinary team concerning the eligibility of the pupil for the special services and programs of instruction referred to in this section must be based upon an assessment of the pupil. The assessment must include an evaluation of:

- (a) The performance of the pupil relating to language, articulation, fluency or voice, as relevant to his impairment;
- (b) The health of the pupil; and
- (c) If relevant to his eligibility for the special services and programs of instruction referred to in this section, the cognitive abilities, academic achievement and social and emotional condition of the pupil.

- (g) The conclusion of the team concerning the effect upon the pupil of any environmental, cultural or economic disadvantage; and
- (h) A certification by each member of the team that the report reflects his conclusions or, if the report does not reflect the conclusions of a member, a statement of the conclusions of that member.

A reassessment must be conducted more frequently if conditions warrant or if a reassessment is requested, based upon a reasonable belief that a change in the condition of the pupil has occurred, by the parent or teacher of the pupil or any other member of the committee responsible for developing the pupil's individualized educational program. The public agency shall obtain informed parental consent prior to conducting any reassessment of a pupil with a disability, except such consent need not be obtained if the agency can demonstrate that it has taken reasonable measures to obtain such consent and the pupil's parent has failed to respond. If the IEP team and other qualified professionals, as appropriate, determine that no additional data are needed to determine whether the pupil continues to be a pupil with a disability, the public agency shall notify the pupil's parents of that determination and the reasons for it; and the right of such parents to request an assessment to determine whether the pupil continues to be a pupil with a disability. The public agency shall not be required to conduct such an assessment unless requested by the pupil's parents. A public agency shall evaluate a pupil with a disability in accordance with this section before determining that the child is no longer a pupil with a disability.

2. In the case of a pupil with a disability who is placed in a program of early childhood education, the reassessment required by subsection 1 must occur on an ongoing basis. At least every 6 months, the parents of such a pupil must be given the opportunity to participate in a review of his progress.

The public agency may request a hearing pursuant to NAC 388.300 if it believes that its assessment of the pupil is appropriate.

2. If at such a hearing the hearing officer decides that an additional, independent assessment is appropriate, the public agency shall pay for it. If the hearing officer decides that the assessment is not appropriate, the parent may obtain the additional assessment at his own expense.

3. If the parent so requests, the public agency shall provide him with information as to where an independent assessment may be obtained.

4. If the parent obtains an independent assessment at his personal expense, the public agency shall consider the results of the assessment in any decision made with respect to the provision of a free appropriate public education. The results may be presented as evidence at a hearing regarding that pupil.

5. If a hearing officer requests an independent assessment as part of a hearing, the cost of the assessment must be paid by the public agency.

6. Whenever an independent assessment is obtained at the public agency's expense, the circumstances under which the assessment is obtained, including the location of the assessment and the qualifications of the examiner must be the same as the public agency uses when it initiates an assessment.
