The following is a summary of testimony and written comments received from the public. A copy of the written comments received are attached.

1. Summary of testimony from Rebecca S. Gasca, Public Advocate, ACLU of Nevada on April 27, 2010: Ms. Gasca commented that the proposed regulations seem to place new restrictions on individuals seeking a pardon or commutation of sentence by setting specific criteria which could delay the process. Additionally, Ms. Gasca expressed concern for the powers of the Governor set forth in Section 12.
2. Summary of Rebecca S. Gasca, Public Advocate, ACLU of Nevada on July 14, 2010: Ms. Gasca reiterated the ACLU's concern as specified at the April 27, 2010 hearing.

3. A description of how comment was solicited from public and affected businesses:

Comments were solicited from the public through a scheduled workshop to solicit public comment and during the hearings to adopt the proposed regulations. The summary may be obtained as instructed in the response to question #1.

4. If the regulation was adopted without changing any part of the proposed regulation, a summary of the reasons for adopting the regulation without change.

The initial wording of this proposed regulation was submitted to the Legislative Counsel Bureau (LCB) on July 22, 2009. The proposed regulation was returned as LCB File No. R085-09 on December 18, 2009. Following review by Pardons Board staff, it was revised on February 5, 2010 by LCB to: Clarify the procedures for objections received from victims pertaining to reviewing pardons requests without holding a meeting in Section 17, indicating eligibility for applications of prisoners who are eligible for parole to the community in Section 25, and clarify the retroactive application of NRS 213.085 contained in Section 28.

On April 27, 2010, the Board reviewed and discussed the proposed change suggested at the workshop held March 22, 2010 as well as all written comments submitted thereafter, and scheduled a meeting to take place on July 14, 2010 for further discussion concerning the following amendments:
